Hospital board rejects rebate

By Leonard Poger staff writer

Don't look for any early Christmas rebates from the Peoples Community Hospital Authority.

The authority's board of directors voted more than 2-1 Thursday to reject a proposed rebate of $22 million in a reserve fund.

Board members also endorsed legal opinions from its attorney and bond attorney that the proposed rebates aren't

Local board members voted with the majority on all motions dealing with the lawyers' opinions and reserve fund rebate suggestion.

Among the 43 board members present were Westland directors Thomas Artley, Robert Wagner and James Robert Cornwell.

Absent were Dr. Francis Schmitt of Garden City, recuperating from heart surgery, and Justine Barns of Westland.

Leading the fight-for the rebate or acut in the millage levied for PCHA were board members from Dearborn Heights and several downriver communities

They have been trying unsuccessfully for four months to gain support.

THE MAJORITY agreed at the end of the two hour debate to form a committee to study the impact of any mil- serve fund and/or cut the millage levy: lage rate reduction, or elimination on the authority and its hospital opera-

The 13 board members who were outvoted feel that the reserve fund, now about $29 million, should have $22 million returned to the 23-member communities.

The millage rate of 40 cents per $1,000 of state equalized valuation means about $12 a year in property taxes on an average single-family house with an assessed valuation, as equalized, of $39,000.

But the board majority pointed out in previous meetings on the controversy that the millage levy doesn't even generate enough revenues even now to make the annual payment on a 1966 bond issue used to construct additions to Annapolis Hospital in Wayne and Outer Drive Hospital in Lincoln Park.

Funds are taken from general operating monies to make the annual bond

The reserve fund is necessary, the board majority has maintained, as a necessary source of money for maintenance of buildings and equipment and purchase of new medical equipment.

The majority said a $29, million surplus isn't out of proportion to an operating budget of more than $130 million.

B. WARD SMITH, long-time PCHA attorney, said in his seven-page opinion the authority "may not legally distribute any of its assets to member communities."

Among the books are Bibles, professional publications, encyclopedias and classical literature. Included in the collection are letters from the Civil War era, old newspapers and a stamp ration booklet.

The collection began with George Raub's donation of 62 rare volumes, newspapers and letters. Helping him organize the collection was Joanna Link, a former media specialist at John Glenn who is now teaching at Stevenson Junior High.

Students are allowed to use the collection for American historical research, although they have to be "super careful," cautioned Glenn media specialist Tom Kelly.

"One student wanted to take a look

Kelly added that community groups which meet in the media center frequently congregate around the display cases with the collections.

Raub's donation included an Aircraft Spotter's Handbook from World War II, newspapers highlighting activities of Truman, Roosevelt and the war with Japan, and the ninth edition of National Bank of Detroit's advertising promotions.

ALSO DONATING books was a former reading teacher at Glenn,. George O'Brien. That donation included an 1806 book called "A Voyage to the Eastern Part of Terra Firma," an 1838 Bible enclosed in its own case and an 1865 Latin Vulgate Bible edition with an ornately imprinted cover and metal hinges.

Kelly said that students sometimes use the fare editions to compare with modern versions in the school's regular collection. He added that care is being taken to keep the books in as controlled an atmosphere as possible to avoid their deterioration.

Indifference hinders fire prevention efforts

By Doug Funke staff writer-

Fire smokes, burns and kills.

All kinds of national statistics are available. For instance, an average of 1,500 homes have fires and 32 people dle every day in fire-related incidents.

Yet, if it weren't for Fire Prevention Week, observed annually at this time of year, chances are most people wouldn't think about the causes and effects of fire at all.

"In more cases than not, people have an indifferent attitude toward fire," said Capt. Joseph Benyo, who heads the public education office for the Westland Fire Dept.

"They take it for granted that if they have a fire, they'll call the fire department and they'll come and put it out," Benyo said. "Everyone thinks it can't happen' to 'me. That's the common' phraseology." No. one expects homeowners and renters to dwell on a gloomy subject, but a little awareness, common sense and simple effort could make a differ-"Smoke detectors would solve big problems in the United States - if peoble have smoke detectors that are operable," Benyo said. "A smoke detector won't put out a fire, but it will give you a chance to get up and get out."

A BATTERY-OPERATED detector isn't any good if the battery is bad. Replacing the battery tomorrow or next week won't matter much if a fire breaks out today.

Also, it's important to periodically check a smoke detector to make sure the unit actually detects smoke, Benyo -89ld. ·

U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, has joined U.S. Rep. Jim Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, in a dual campaign effort.

Blanchard, the Democratic nominee for governor, and Ford, who is seeking re-elelction from the Garden City, Canton, Westland area, have produced one campaign button sporting both of their pictures.

Rep. John Dingell, D-Dearborn, also has jumped on the campaign bandwagon.

"With the influence of Dingell and Ford, we'll be able to carry every municipality in the western Wayne County area," Blanchard said to group of Wayne County reporters in Wyandotte last week.

"I'm spending a lot of time campaigning in this part of the county because this is where the ticket splitters are," he added.

During a brief discussion, Blanchard talked about unemployment and local strife of blue collar resi-"Because of plant closures and the demise of the area's industrial base, this region has been expecially "I don't see the auto industry bouncing back. I have drafted the Blanchard Equalization and Jobs Program that outlines how we can keep businesses in Michigan and prospering."

Blanchard also said he will appoint a "Blue Ribbon Group" the day following the election. That group will be draft short-term suggestions to get people to locate businesses in Michigan.

"Any business that requires water, skilled labor or metal bending should look at Michigan." -

During a question-and-answer session, Blanchard touched lightly on the PBB issue.

The state's rules on selling meat and dairy products contining the toxic substance expired Oct. 1. Michigan now operates under the much more liberal federal law. It allows meat to be sold containing 300 parts per billion of PBB, rather than the prior state regulation of 20 parts per billion.

"PBB is an old issue which won't go away, but I don't want to make it a campaign issue. I favor extending the toxic control laws for four more. vears." he said.

Blanchard opposes casino gambling in Michigan because of its relation to high crime, but he said he would analyize its merits.

Blanchard joins SEMTA readies to slash service

By Suzie Rollins Singer staff writer

SEMTA will hold public hearings throughout the tri-county area next month to prepare for potentially massive service cutbacks Jan. 1.

Gary Krause, general manager of the Southeastern Michigan Teansportation Authority, said he is preparing for the worst if SEMTA loses a $21 million court case.

The state Court of Appeals is expected to rule this month whether SEMTA is entitled to more than $21 million it received from taxes on local license plates and vehicle transfers during the past two

The potential loss could mean that suburban bus service would be cut 64 percent and bus fares would go from 90 cents to $1.

"We've got to hold public hearings in Novemember and December to make sure we have a plan," Krause said in a telephone interview.

"Since we're not a governmental unit, we cannot have deficits, so we have to make provisions," he "We're talking about money that's been tied up in escrow accounts while it's been in litigation for two years," Krause said. The Appeals Court ruled in January that SEMTA was not entitled to the tax money because it had not merged with Detroit's Department of Transpor-Lation by April 1981, as the state Legislature required.

SEMTA APPEALED the ruling to the state Supreme Court, which sent it back to the Court of Appeals,

If SEMTA loses the case, the number of large buses running during peak periods would drop from 264 to 96. Commuter rail service between Pontiac and Detroit and most small-bus service would be eliminated, cutting 60 percent of the riders from the transportation system.

"We've already trimmed our services a great deal," Krause explained.

"We're not doing anyone in the region any good by cutting the transportation services and we're not helping the economy by laying off more people," he

Krause is optimistic, he says, that SEMTA will win the case and that it will end the fiscal year 1983 without cutting service.

He said SEMTA hopes to get $25 million in federal operating subsidies in the federal fiscal year ending Sept. 30, 1988. The Reagan administration proposed $17.4 million.

SEMTA also expects to collect $8 million in licese plate and vehicle title transfer fees because

The demand sounded out of this world when Tunney made it. But heinsisted that if he were to fight again, it would take that amount to get him into the ring.

MEANWHILE, the promoters began a search for an opponent who could draw fans through the turnstiles in large numbers. They finally hit upon the idea of an elimination.

They pitted Johnny Risko, the-Cleveland "Rubber Man," against Tom Heeney, from "Down Under." with the winner to get a chance at

The fight took place in the Olympia in Detroit, and Heeney, a lumber-Ing sort of fighter, eked out a decision in a grueling match.

Then came the chance at the title. Tunney agreed to the fight but only after the demand for $1 million had been met. The bout was fought in New York, and Tunney won easily. So he took the $1 million, retired and became a whiskey baron. IT WASN'T until long after Tunney's retirement that the real reason for his monetary demand came to light While training for the Dempsey brawl, Tunney had suffered a slight head injury. Fearful he might suffer a much more serious injury in his next fight, he decided to get paid for it — and paid handsomely. That's why he demanded $1 million, and got it — more than a half-century ago.

That million would have been peanuts in today's market. In each of the last two major fights at Caesar's Palace in Las Vegas, each fighter in themain event received $10 million.

And just think - Joe Louis, in 14 defenses of the heavyweight title, earned little more than $5 million.

The first of these came back in 1910 when Tex Ricard, the gambling promoter, offered a purse of $100,000 for the Jim Jeffries-Jack Johnson fight at Reno. Nev.

This brought Jeffries out of retirement, only to lose his title to Johnson, who in turn lost to Jess Willard in the sun of Havana, Cuba in 1915. This -was the famous fight in which Wil--lard shielded his eyes from the glaring sun while lying on his back and being counted out. From then on, the cry of the promoters was for a "million-dollar

Dempsey, the one-time hobo, made that possible until he met Tunney in the rain of Philadelphia.

Then came Tunney's demand for $1 million for himself.

Sheriff Lucas takes a mighty smite

THE ROCK generation will have trouble understanding this hifalutin' literary analogy, but Sheriff William Lucas may have cut the Gordian knot with the Wayne County Road Commission. In ancient legend, whoever could until the Gordian knot would rule Asia. Alexander the Great when he found himself unable to untie the knot simply "cut it asunder with his sword." What's this? A Richard column that's kind to Bill Lucas, the county executive candidate? Sure, why not? I call them the way I see them. When 73 management employees of the Wayne County Road Commission got themselves-a sweetheart contract locking them in place for six years, there was a din that could be heard to high heaven.

Everyone talked about breaking the contract in a lawsuit. One group tried, twice. I for one thought they had a case when they charged the "union" was just an evil plot to frustrate the county charter which takes effect Jan. 13

Unfortunately, both suits were dismissed, the honorable judges ruling that the plaintiffs lacked legal "standing" to sue. The merits or demerits of the contract were never ruled on.

Now, it is possible for the plaintiffs - among them, the Wayne County Charter Commission - to appeal the judges' dismissals to the Court of Appeals and the state Supreme Court. But that could take months or years, and it would be like trying to untie the Gordian knot.

MEANWHILE, state Rep. Jeffrey Padden, D-Wyandotte, was looking for help on a pair of bills he was sponsoring. The Padden bills, as finally amended, would allow voters in a home-rule county to amend their charter to abolish the road commission and deliver its functions to the county ex-

Lucas had paid little public heed to the Road Commission issue in the primary campaign. But after becoming the Democratic nominee, he began listening to Padden's plea for help. To his credit, Lucas made it his issue. And last week the Michigan Legislature passed the bills.

In other words, if you abolish the Wayne County Road Commission, there is no more contract with the management "union," and the Gordian knot has been cut. At least that's the reasoning of Lucas, who reminded me he's a lawyer.

THE MATTER still isn't settled. The county executive in 1983 must come up with a reorganization plan that involves eliminating the Road Com-through action of the Board of Commissioners (the easy way) or by getting 85,000 petition signature (the hard way, particularly in winter). And then the issue must be approved by voters.

If that seems like a long road, consider that the two lawsuits have been bouncing around in circuit courts for eight or nine months already, and the gut issues never did get decided.

Meanwhile, one must be astounded at the way the political stock of the Wayne County Road Commission has plummeted in the last year. Once the WCRC and Chairman Michael Berry were considered the most potent political forces in the state after the governor.

But the Padden bills flew through both houses of the Legislature unanimously, with some road interests frankly confessing they were embarrassed mission. Then he must get it on the ballot, either by the behavior of their brothers in Wayne County.

Monday, October 4, 1982 O&E Festive Foods Salute Fall

Fall is favored not only for its brilliant colors, comfortable days and crisp moonlit nights, but also for its bountiful harvest. Since ancient times, people have celebrated the autumn harvest with festivals featuring the fabulous foods of the season. In this country, the tradition has become known as Porkfest — a table tribute to the land that teams pork with other favorite American foods.

Today's on the go family will especially appreciate slowing the pace to enjoy the time-honored Porkfest custom with a hearty-and-wholesome home-style dinner. Deserving the center spotlight at any fall feast are Pecan-Stuffed Pork Chops. Thick, succulent pork rib chops are filled with a unique stuffing that's deliciously flavored with graham cracker crumbs, allspice and chopped pecans which add not only crunchy texture but also rich taste.

While the plump, golden stuffed chops are impressive in flavor and appearance, they are relatively easy to prepare. One of the secrets to success is to cut the pocket in each chop from the rib or bone side. This simple technique seals in the stuffing during cooking and eliminates the need to close the pocket by skewering or sewing.

To make the chops even more attractive, bake them in versatile Fireside tinted glass ovenware that double's as serving ware when placed in attractive decorated brass carriers. Besides adding style to the setting and the chops, the carrier holds the warm glass ovenware safely above the serving table so it won't scorch it. Pass the pecan gravy in a simple yet elegant rimmed bowl.

It's appropriate that pork and pecans are paired for a salute to American foods since both have prominent places in this country's culinary history. Pork has been popular here since pre-Colonial times and pecans, the only nut native to America, are believed to have grown wild here for thousands of years. They also contribute valuable nutrition as well as fine flavor to the American table. Pork is an outstanding source of complete protein, the B-vitamins thiamin, niacin, riboflavin, B-6 and B-12 and the minerals iron and zinc. Pecans are also nutritious, for they add protein, B-vitamins, iron, calcium, potassium, phosphorus and fiber to the diet.

For another delightful sampling of the pork and pecan partnership, try Sausage and Pecan Corn Bread Pie. Perfect for a fall supper, lunch or brunch, this quick and easy main dish pie features fresh pork sausage and chopped pecans baked in corn meal batter. Wedges of the nutritious, delicious pie are especially tasty served with maple syrup. 🛼

Pecan Stuffed Pork Chops

- 6 pork loin rib chops, cut 1-1/4
- 3/4 cup finely chopped celery
- 2 Pablespoons butter or margarine 1/4 cup water.
- I cup crushed graham cracker crumbs =
- 1 cup coarsely chopped pecans
- 1/2 cup dry bread cubes
- 3118 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons cooking fat Salt and pepper
- 2 tablespoons flour 1/2 cup water
- Make a pocket in each chop by cutting into the chop with a small, sharp knife on rib parallel to the surface of the chop. Be careful not to cut through the opposite side. Cook celery in butter or margarine in frying-pan 3 minutes. Stir in water. Combine graham cracker crumbs, 3/4 cup pecans, bread cubes, allspice and salt; stir into celery. Fill pocket in each chop with an equal amount of stuffing. Lightly brown chops in cooking fat in frying-pan. Season chops on both sides with salt and pepper. Place in 11-3/4 x 7-1/2 x 1-3/1 inch glass baking dish; cover tightly with foil. Bake in moderate oven (350°F) 45 minutes. Remove foil and fontinue baking 15 minutes or until done. To prepare gravy, combine flour with 1/2 cup water, stir into cooking liquid in small saucepan and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add reserved 1/4 cup pecans and continue cooking 3 minutes. Serve gravy with stuffed pork

- 14pound fresh pork sausage a cup yellow cornmeal
- 1 cup flour
- -144 cup sugar
- 4 teaspoons baking powder-
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1/3 cup coarsely chopped pecans Maple table syrup, if desired

Brown pork sausage; separating it into pieces. Pour off drippings. Sift together cornmeal, flour, sugar and baking powder. Add egg, milk and oil. Mix to combine thoroughly. Fold in sausage and perans. Turn batter into a greased 9-inch glass pie plate. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 30 minutes or until done. 6 servings.

More Fall Favorites

Fortunately for today's busy cooks, it's possible to create the old-fashioned goodness of a Porkfest meal with modern-day speed and convenience. Sure to please hearty cool-weather appetites is Fall Ham Medley. Strips of flavorful cooked ham, fresh sweet potatoes and peas are combined in a colorful entree that can be made conventionally or more quickly in the microwave oven. The ham and vegetable combo is deliciously glazed with an easyto-make pineapple sauce that's laced with apricot brandy and warmly spiced with nutmegfe Put your microwave oven to use, too, to help you make a layorite fall dish - baked apples - in a matter of minutes. Crunchy Pecan Apples are especially tasty, for the cored apples are cooked with a sweet 'n spicy pecan filling. Serve as a dessert or side dish at any meal.

You'll appreciate the ease with which these and other microwave dishes can be prepared and served in cookware designed to go from microwave or conventional oven to table. While the cookware is elegant enough for entertaining, it's practical enough to use every day.

- 1 to 1-1/4 pounds cooked smoked ham, cut into 3 x 1/2 x
- 1/4-inch strips 2 small sweet potatoes
- 2 tablespoons water

- 3 tablespoons flour 3/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1/8 teaspoon ground-nutmeg
  - 3 tablespoons apricot brandy 3 tablespoons water.

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

-1 small red pepper, cut into strips Pare potatoes; cut crosswise into 1/4-inch slices. Place sweet potatoes and 2.

tablespoons water in 2 or 2-1/2-quart glass-ceramic or glass baking dish. Cover with plastic wrap, venting one corner. Microwave at HIGH 5 minutes, stirring once. Add peas and continue cooking, covered, at HIGH 3 minutes, stirring once. Heat butter or margarine in 4-cup measure at HIGH 30 to 45 seconds. Stir in flour and nutmeg until smooth. Add pineapple juice, apricot brandy and 3 tablespoons water, stirring until combined. Microwave at HIGH 2-1/2 minutes, stirring after each minute. Add ham, pepper strips and sauce to baking dish, stirring gently to coat. Microwave, covered, at HIGH 5 to 7 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

Direction's for Conventional Preparation:

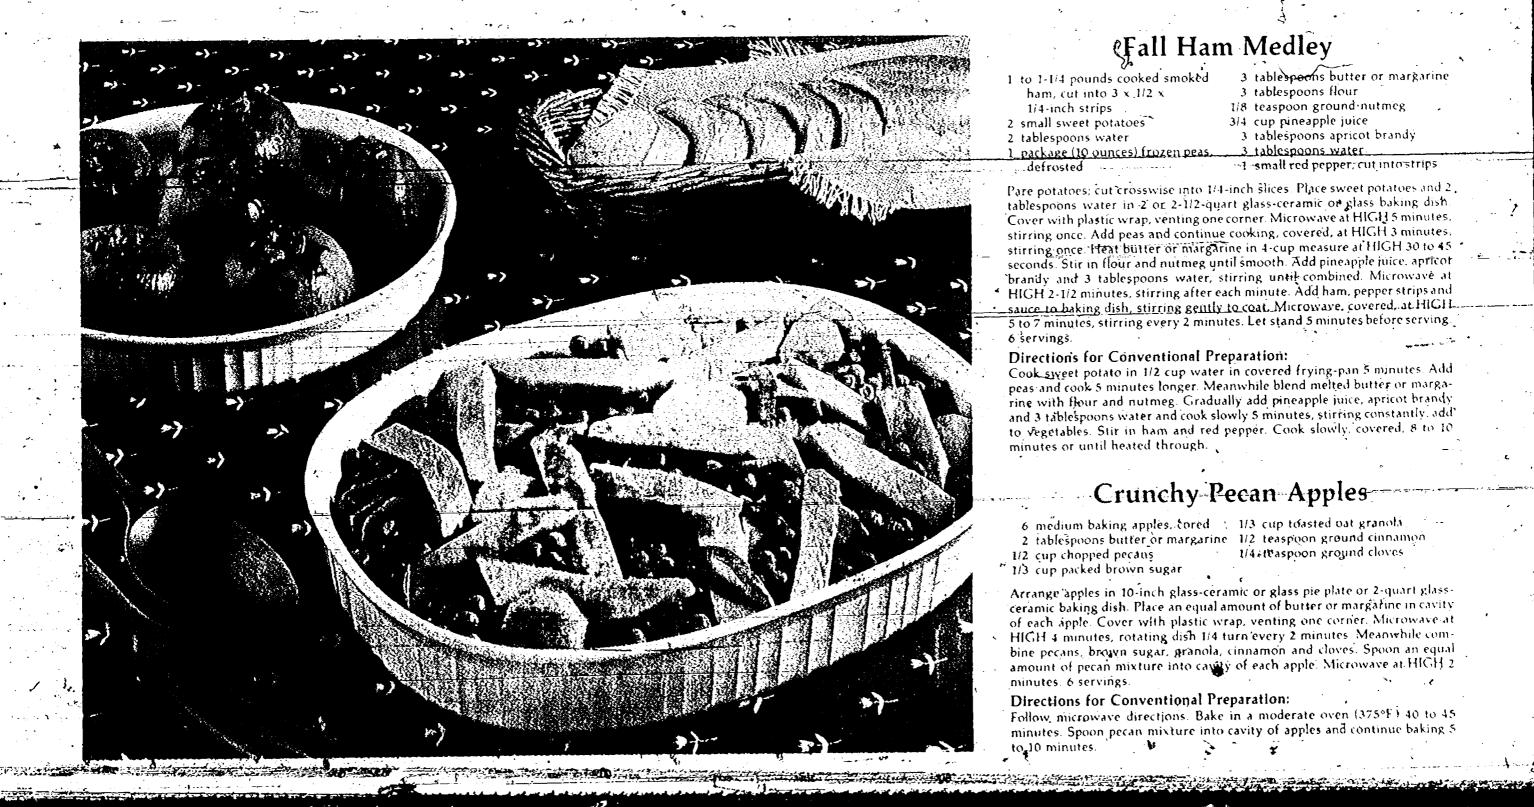

Cook sweet potato in 1/2 cup water in covered frying-pan 5 minutes. Add peas and cook 5 minutes longer. Meanwhile blend melted butter or margarine with flour and nutmeg. Gradually add pineapple juice, apricot brandy and 3 tablespoons water and cook slowly 5 minutes, stirring constantly, add' to vegetables. Stir in ham and red pepper. Cook slowly, covered, 8 to 10 minutes or until heated through.

Crunchy Pecan Apples

- 6 medium baking apples, cored : 1/3 cup toasted oat granola. 2 tablespoons butter or margarine 1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon

Charlotte Clark, a certified kitchen designer, discovered that every kitchen needed a device that would put the finishing touch of quality on her kitchen designs.

She wanted her kitchen designs to be "working" kitchens that could be enjoyed by housewives or gourmet chefs, so she selected a chantry to complete to complete her quality kitchen design that conforms to modern consumer needs.

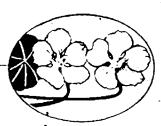

What's a chantry? A chantry is a machine that enables anyone to keep a sharp cutting edge on carbon, stainless steel or serrated knives without damage to the blades: It also performs the actions of a butcher's steel.

THE CHANTRY was originally designed for busy chefs and gourmet cooks to enable them to maintain the correct sharpening angle that a butcher's steel would provide, but do it easier and faster: A chantry is now being marketed by Charlotte Clark as an addition to today's modern kitchen ap-

Monday, October 4, 1982 O&E Plenty of beans for hearty mea

There will be more than enough navy beans for American cooks this year. Michigan acreage planted to navy (pea) beans this year is estimated at 460,000 acres, compared to 420,000 acres in 1981, according to the Michigan Agricultural Reporting

Navy bean acreage is up in Michigan because producers shifted to navy beans when the export contracts for black turtle beans and pinto beans were not renewed by Mexi-

Navy beans are the leading white bean used for canned beans in the United States. Processors prefer them because they maintain their shape during processing. About 90 percent of the navy beans consumed in the United States are processed - only 10 percent are sold as dry beans:

NIPPY FALL weather calls for beans soup and other dishes made from dry beans. Though canned beans outsell dry beans throughout the year, dry bean sales pick up in the fall and winter.

Savings and a more homemade flavor are in store for cooks who prepare bean dishes from dry beans. A survey of supermarkets reveals the going price for a pound of navy beans is about 50 cents.

The great northern variety (a white, flat bean) sells for a little less. A pound of cooked, dry beans yields seven to nine servings, so the cost per serving (not including other ingredients) is about 6 cents.

Canned beans are more convenient and also relatively inexpensive. They range from 9 cents to 20 cents per serving, depending on other ingredients and packaging.

ANYONE WISHING to make baked beans from canned beans should be aware that the jars of plain, cooked beans are nearly always the great northern variety.

This variety is fasty, but it breaks apart much more easily than navy beans and is therefore not as desirable for dishes requiring long cooking.

Dry beans and canned beans are amongthe least expensive sources of protein, iron, potassium and some B yitamins. Put another way, a one-half cup serving of cooked, dry beans yields more protein than a frankfurter; almost as much potassium as a banana, half the iron found in a like measure of raisins, and substantial amounts of thia-

The 2.0 ein found in dry beans is deficient in the essential amino acid methio-

For this reason, it is necessary to eat a small amount of meat, cheese, eggs or other animal protein in the same meal if you are to use fully the protein contained in the beans. All varieties of dry beans have about the same mutritional value.

Twenty to 25 percent of the households do not have a sit-down dinner as often as five nights a week. Snacking is replacing mealtime. Some people eat as many as 11 times a day. This life style picture was presented in a recent edition of "Food Engineering."

While eating habits may be changing, it is important to realize the body's nutritional needs have not changed, points out the National Live Stock and Meat Board. A conscious effort must be made when eating irregularly to choose foods that supply the nutrients needed for a normal and healthy body.

No matter when or where you eat, meat is an important food. The highquality protein in meat is needed to build, maintain and repair tissues and help the body resist infection and disease. Also important are the many es-

If the fell has not been removed at the retail market from smaller cuts such as chops, it should be removed before cooking.

IF YOU CARRY your lunch in a brown bag, you're not alone. An estimated 31 million Americans regularly bring their lunch from home to work or school.

Saving money is the primary reason for carrying a lunch. Other major considerations include lack of other acceptable options, preference for own food and a dislike for waiting in line and wasting lunch hour time.

Carrying a lunch can be especially economical when you make good use of leftovers. Cooked beef, pork, ham, lamb and veal left over from roasts

Important consideration include the number of persons to be served at a meal and their appetites. Also, are leftovers planned? Or will a cut be divided before cooking for more than one meal? If the meat cut is on sale, you may also want to consider buying extra for later meals if freezer space is available.

As a general guide when determining serving size, allow at least 1/4 to 1/5 pound per serving if the cut is boneless. If bone-in, estimate 1/3 to 1/4 pound each. If very bony (spareribs, short ribs, etc.) allow % to 1 pound per serv-

These extended ground beef products must include a nutritional comparison of the. ground beef and the combination product, including information on the meat protein, soy protein, fat, carbohydrate, calorie and moisture content.

YOU HAVE PROBABLY noticed both pork blade steaks and blade chops in the meat case. What is the difference? Blade steaks are cut from the pork shoulder and are labeled pork shoulder blade steaks. Blade chops originate from the first five to seven ribs of the pork loin and are labeled pork loin blade chops.

Both can be identified by portions of the blade bone they contain, but the steaks are larger than the chops. Both are economical buys and can be prepared in many different ways.

Visitors on a tour of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension grounds paused on a foot bridge to see if they could spot fish in one of the 26 acres' ponds.

Extension shows what it's about

By Margaret Miller staff writer

It was show-and-tell time Friday in the offices and one the grounds of the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service.

Dr. June: Sears, extension director, and her staff showed visitors through the attractive facilities. Then they told them about the wide variety of programs that happen there and branch out from there.

Guests who were invited to a special getacquainted open house were trustees of Michigan State University, parent of the county extension, elected officials from the county and many of its cities, key community officials and leaders of organizations.

More than 200 showed up for morning and afternoon welcomes and tour.

"We sent out 1,500 invitations and had about 1,000 responses," said Sears, who had vowed when she took over the directorship the first of September to make the total community more aware of the extension facilities and programs.

"I think many were amazed at what we have here, and all understand better what we are trying to do.

"But I still have a big job ahead, because we need more community support to make our program what it could be.

Staff members distributed brochures describing extension services to visitors, and others were being mailed out.

THE OPEN HOUSE began with visits to booths in the extension headquarters at 5454 Venoy, Wayne, a year-old building on 26 acres that is shared by the extension and the Wayne County Intermediate School Dis-

After visitors had checked out the booths and had refreshments, they saw a film on MSU extension programs in the state's 84 counties and heard brief talks by the heads of varied programs that emanate from the Wayne facility.

Then there were tours of the grounds, with stops by the windmill, in the barn, by the fishpond and beside the experimental

"There is no place like this in Michigan," said F.Paul Nevel, who is with the Monroe County Extension. "It's going to be a great benefit to Wayne County, where there are so many children and adults too. There are opportunities for youngsters to-pick up skills here that will be very salable. But it needs more staff."

A number of the visitors who toured the building and grounds said they hadn't realized the facility was there.

"I've driven past it a lot of times," said Barbara Lillie of Birmingham, who came to represent the staff of Outer Drive Hospital of Detroit. "I had no idea all these grounds were back here."

Irene Hillard and Dee Haupt of Garden City had called to inquire about extension craft programs and were invited to the open

"We didn't know this was here," said Haupt. "We're just finding out about it."

AT THE INFORMATIONAL program, Sears explained that all extension programs are part of Michigan State University, operating under a mandate that the land grant school extend its services to people outside its student body.

"Wayne County's cooperative extension program is the third largest in the nation," Sears told visitors.

"We serve people of all races, ages, and national backgrounds."

The director outlined the four broad areas that are part of the extension outreach - agriculture and marketing, natural resources and public policy, family living education and 4-H - and introduced staff members who described their own pro-

Eleanor Rhinesmith, director of the family living and expanded nutrition programs, said the programs are designed "to help families meet the challenges of living to-

She noted the large numbers of study groups in the area of parent support, career planning and money management as well as special master shopping, gardening and canning programs.

"These give some intensive training in our facilities here," Rhinesmith said, "and then our students go out as volunteers to extend the knowledge."

Cheryl Kurlinoff told about a work-study program offered disadvantaged youth on the grounds of the extension.

The program, now in its third year, gives knowledge and work experience in planting, cultivating and harvesting the flowers and foods grown on the 26 acres, she said, and then the youth also work with job specialists as they seek to enter the employment mar-

"This year more than two-thirds of the trainees have been placed in jobs," she said.

4-H PROGRAMS for young people were described by four extension staffers, William Mills, Marge Leskosky, Dyle Henning and Phyllis Miller.

"4-H stands for head, heart, hand and health," said Mills, "and we are always seeking new ways to reach more youngsters, using church facilities, school rooms Henning noted that "youth education is our main focus, but we also work with adults because we are so dependent on vol-

4-H programs, Henning added, "represent a far better and more economical use of tax dollars than reform schools,"

Leskosky, whose work includes forming new 4-H clubs, called herself "basically a city person who has learned far more through the youth and adult voluteers than I am supposed to be giving." Miller described work in a special 4-H program for innercity youth.

The other staff speakers were Kendra Anderson, describing extension work in horticulture and soil conservation, and Vera Sullivan, program assistant in agriculture and marketing.

Leelanau develops new wine country

Ask anyone moderately interested inwine if Michigan has a wine-growing region-and you will doubtless hear about Paw Paw and the lands around it, chiefly to the west in Berrien Coun-

And this is a correct response. Insofar as it goes.

But because most interested people will stop there, the answer is far from complete. Ten years ago it would have been true.

Now, however, the wine scenario in Michigan is much more complex and, by many people's standards, more promising.

WINE COUNTRY in Michigan now includes a whole new viticultural region, one set in one of the loveliest regions of the state, the Leelanau Peninsula. The growth in the area has been phenomenal. In 1972 there were no commercial wineries in the region. Today there are four, and a fifth lies across West Bay in Grand Traverse County.

Perhaps the most notable thing. about this growth, other than the fact that it has occurred at all, is the difference in the kinds of wine they are growing. In Leelanau they do not grow the common native American grapes so abundantly bottled in the south. They disdain them, as well then should.

have an earthy, harsh, almost feral only by people who have grown up with the major wine regions of the world:

The emphasis in Leelanau has been shaped since America became a bit wine crazy in the early 1970s. As such, the winegrowers there have developed yines of the French hybrid kind (a cross between European and native American grapes) and, more important, some are working toward producing Vinifera grapes, used throughout the world to produce great wines.

Vinifera, however, will not be the of producing very decent wines.

AND IN THE Leelanau Peninsula, increasingly, they are doing just that.

Native grapes, collectively called the Labrusca type, produce wines that taste. Essentially, they are enjoyed them and have not developed a taste for fine wines, such as those grown in backbone of this new industry. That will come from the use of hybrid grapes to produce wine of, at times, astonishingly high quality. Such grapes as Vignoles and Seyval Blanc among the white and Baco Noir, Chancellor and DeChaunac among the reds are capable

Two of the wineries, the newest ones, are spin-offs from family-owned farm produce outlets. Good Harbor Vineyards, just south of Leland, is placed in a new, attractive, functional winery behind the Manitou Farm Market and Bakery and produces some excellent varietal and generic wines from hybrid Owner Bruce Simpson also has brought in some West Coast Riesling.

The other, across the peninsula, is Larry Mawby's L. Mawby Winery, just south of Suttons Bay. The wines are made inland in rustic surroundings but may be purchased at the Mawby Farm Produce store on M-22. Good generics, well made.

Boskydel Vineyard is on the eastern shore of Lake Leelanau and is the veteran of the region. Bernie Rink makes good use of his hybrid grapes through judicious blending and good winemaking knowledge.

THE GIANT of the area, Leelanau Wine Cellars Ltd., grows its grapes and fruit in the Omena area but uses its attractive tasting room on M-37 south of Traverse City as an outlet.

A wide range of grape and fruit wines, in addition to some Viniferas, are made. These wines are distributed into the metropolitan area.

Finally, out on Old Mission, in Grand Traverse County, is Chateau Grand Traverse, perhaps the most unfocused winery in the state. During its few years of existence it has seemingly been in a continuing state of flux, offering fruit wines, hybrids, unusual generics and importing out-of-state grapes for crushing and fermentation.

Its pleasant tasting room serves an assortment of these wines, depending on which phases the winery is in at the time. Some of its efforts have been excellent.

Collectively small by the standards set in the Paw Paw area, these winerles and those that will surely follow represent a new focus for the Michigan industry: boutique, experimental and endeavoring to make wine to appeal to the knowledgeable few who appreciate something other than the native, foxy brews that come from the South.

Patriots 'Popp' North Farmington, 20-0

By Tom Baer staff writer

Livonia Franklin, led by quarterback Rich Popp, threw North Farmington for another football loss, 20-0, Saturday in a Northwest Suburban League contest on the Raiders' field.

The stocky (5-foot-10, 198-pound) Popp, who looks like he might be equally at home at tailback or fullback, completed seven of 20 passes for 206 yards and two touchdowns in leading the Patriots to their fourth-straight victory and their second conference win this

'He isn't the quickest, but his head's always in the game," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna of his senior sig-

On the first series of the second quarter, Popp guided the Patriots on an 87yard, eight play drive which ended with a 39-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Larry Patzsch. The clock showed 8:58 left in the half when Rich Wood's point-after kick sailed through the goal posts.

On its first series of the third quarter, the Popp-to-Patzsch combination clicked again, this time for a 53-yard scoring play. Patzsch, a 5-11, 156pound junior, fould himself all alone on the North 25 when he snagged the pass and dashed unmolested down the sideline for the score. Wood then made good on his second PAT try.

William Hurst, Franklin's 154-pound junior fullback, broke lose for a 27. yard tocuhdown run with 7:19 left in the game. Popp set up the TD with a gutsy 12-yard completion to tight end

Mark Stebbins for a first down at the North 38 on a fourth-down-and-one situation.

BOTH TEAMS muffed scoring op-

Franklin failed to capitalize on on a pass interception by linebacker Gary Staub on the North 21. On his first offensive play, Popp threw one of his two interceptions into the arms of Mark Carrier.

North blew a chance late in the first quarter. After marching from midfield to the Patriot 16, the Raiders were called for an Hlegal block and then had their quarterback sacked back on the Franklin rushed for 170 yards to North's 91. North's statistics showed Franklin with those 206 yards passing and the Raiders with 72 on six completions and five interceptions.

Ken Goss, North's workhorse tailback, carried the ball 22 times and gained 74 yards. Hurst was Franklin's leading rusher with 59 yards on eight carries. Patzsch grabbed four passes for 134 yards.

It was the 20th renewal of the North Farmington-Franklin rivalry, and each team has won 10 games.

Franklin, enjoying its best season since the 1975 Patriots won the inaugural Class A state championship, continues its NSL season at home on Saturday at 2 p.m. Redford Union will provide the opposition.

North, which has a 1-3 overall record and 1-1 conference mark, heads for-Westland John Glenn for a 7:30 p.m. game on Friday.

Archer, Wolfe lift Bulldogs to victory

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Turning points, key plays, clutch baskets — all those things usually assoclated with a Livonia Bentley-Plymouth Salem girls' basketball clash took a back seat to a single player Thursday

Kim Archer, the powerful Bentley forward, dominated at both ends of the court to lead the Bulldogs to a 52-40 victory at Salem.

Archer, a senior, poured in 17 points, 11 in the first half, nabbed 15 rebounds and passed off for seven assists to top all players in all three categories. And her contributions didn't stop there.

"Archer was just super tonight. Not just offensively but defensively and in the transition game. She just blew by people. We tried different things, but we just couldn't stop her.

"That's probably the best I've seen

Strong comments, especially when they come from the opposing coach — Salem's Bob Blohm.

IRONICALLY, IT appeared as if Bentley might have to play much of the game without their star. Archer was whistled for her third personal foul with 6:40 left in the second quarter. But Bulldog coach Tom Lang decided to ride it out and let Archer remain in the

"I just told her, 'You can't afford to foul," Lang explained. "'We can't afford to have you with four fouls and out of the ball game."

Lang's little talk must have worked. Archer didn't pick up another foul for the rest of the game, and that was about all the Bulldogs needed.

Salem's defense kept it close for most of the first half. The Rocks had an 8-7 advantage after one quarter, with Jacque Merrifield scoring four points.

But some sloppy play in the last halfof the second quarter cost Salem. It was a tie game (15-15) with 3:37 to playbefore the half when the Rocks lost the handle, committing nine turnovers in the time remaining. Bentley took advantage of the Salem lapse to outscore the Rocks, 7-2, for a 22-17 lead at the

SALEM NEVER recovered. Bentley outpointed the smaller Rocks, 11-4, in the first 5:07 of the third quarter to increase its lead to 12 (33-21). Salem never got closer than 10 the rest of the

That streak came at an important spot, according to Lang. "I believe the first three or four minutes after halftime are the most important," the Bentley coach said. "I stressed to them that they got to maintain control and we'll be in great shape.

"We've lost to Salem before by blowing leads at that time."

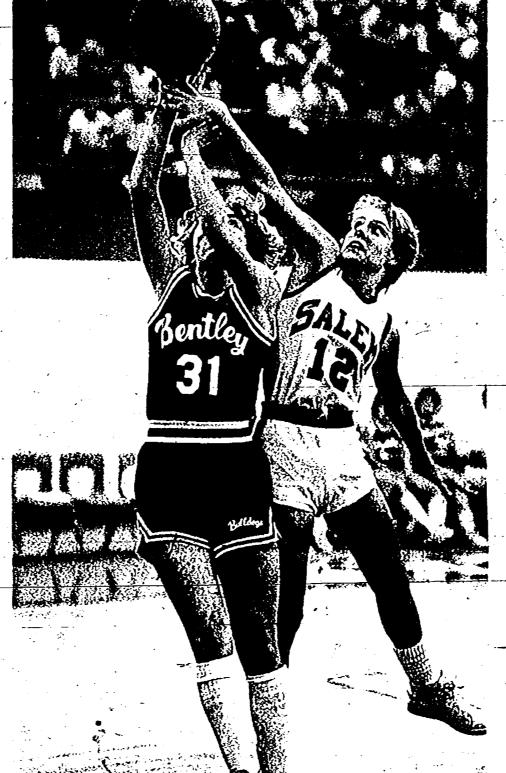

Rebounding also played a key role in the victory, as the Bulldogs held a commanding 40-20 edge.

Merrifield and Pam McBride each finished with 12 points to top Salem. Ann Glomski added seven points and led the Rocks with six rebounds.

LANG PRAISED the play of Sheri Wolfe, who scored 10 points after being sidelined for two weeks with a cut-suffered against Farmington Harrison Sept. 16. Julie Young and Laurie Day each netted eight points and Day had four assists.

"They just played better than we did," summed up Blohm, noting that his team did none of the things - "ballhandling, block out, and solid defense" he said they would have to do to win.

The Rocks also failed to stop Kim Archer, and that can be a very costly

Defense digs in for Bentley win

By Brad Emons staff writer

After two disappointing non-league showings, Livonia Bentley has come alive during the Western Lake Activities Association (WLAA) portion of the football season.

The Bulldogs made it two straight in the Lakes Division of the WLAA with a hard-fought 2-0 (not baseball) victory over rival Livonia Stevenson.

It was the first meeting between the two schools since 1970, when the outcome then was a scoreless tie.

Defense has been the key the last two weeks for the Bulldogs. They rose to the occasion last week in a 10-7 win over Walled Lake Central and again Friday night against Stevenson.

The game's only two points were scored when defensive end J.J. Chendes tackled Stevenson punter Rick Rozman in the end zone for a two-point safety in the first quarter. Rozman had to fall on sailed over his head.

Stevenson threatened on the final drive of the game. The Spartans, helped by a fourth down pass interference call, marched down to the Bentley 15-vard line when quarterback Pete Rose hit Don McGinlay with a 10-yard -sideline pass with three seconds remaining.

STEVENSON then brought on the field goal unit. Tom York's 34-yard attempt from the right hash mark hurdled wide of the left cross bar.

"Both teams played rugged football," said Bentley coach Steve Naumcheff. "Our kids played well, but give (coach) Jack Reardon and Stevenson credit. They had some big plays defensively."

Bentley's defense, however, was a shade better. The Bulldogs, spearhead-made life miserable for Stevenson's running game.

The Spartans' Mark Mueting broke through the line for a 67-yard run down to the Bentley 28 midway through the third quarter, but the Bulldog defenders stiffened.

"We thought it (the play) was whistled dead," explained Naumcheff.
"Scott LaFave made a game-saving tackle and then our defense did it again."

Bentley's five-man front of Chendes, ... Steve Tenerovich, Eric Stevenson, Marty Altounian, and Mike Pomaranski limited the Spartans to 124 yards rushing. Linebackers Sapienza, Erik. > IN THE FIRST half, Stevenson thwarted-a pair of Bentley scoring drives as defensive back Tom Hamill picked off passes near the goal line. Hamill made a 55-yard return on one interception. He had another interception at the end of the half to bring his total to three.

"We felt we would move the ball, and we did when we had field position," said Naumcheff. "We were ready to do some things in the second half, but we had bad field position."

Northville sizzles, Chargers drops 1st

By Paul King special writer

Greg Marshall's two goals carried red-hot Northville to a 3-1 boys' soccer victory over previously unbeaten Livonia Churchill Thursday night.

It was the Mustangs' sixth straight victory and Churchill's first loss in seven starts.

Marshall's two scores, came in the first half. Churchill cut the margin to 2-1 on Mike Duckworth's goal 10 minutes into the second half. Eric Hansen drew an assist.

Steve Starcevich, however, put it out of reach for Northville with a goal at the 23-minute mark.

LTVONIA STEVENSON 11 N. FARMINGTON 0

The Spartans romped to their eighth straight triumph as John Gelmisi, Eric Pence and Gary Mexicotte each scored two goals Wednesday at home.

Mexicotte also had two assists and now has 20 goals for the season. Bill Ravenna, Chris Banai, Dan Divens, John Dyer and Chris Wiegel also got into the scoring act. Goalie Ken Burt posted his fifth shutout of the year. North, which trailed 6:0 at halftime, dropped to 2-6 overall.

Ladywood, Pats net wins

Livonia Ladywood gained a measure of revenge Thursday with a 4-3 girls' tennis victory over Farmington Hills Our Lady of Mercy.

The win gives Ladywood a 5-2 Catholic League and 5-3 overall mark.

Ladywood, which lost the first outing 5-2, rebounded in the rematch by splitting four singles matches and winning two of three doubles duels. The Blazers did it without Susie Robbs, normally a No. 2 singles player, who was out of the lineup.

The score was tied at 3-all with the No. 3 singles match still in question. In that encounter, Karen Collareno outlasted Barb Button, 1-6, 6-4, 6-3, giving Ladywood the win. Ladywood's other singles winner was Janet Milczarski (No. 1), who upended Julie Caldwell, 6-3, 6-3.

In the other two singles matches, Lisa Houston (No. 2) of Mercy turned back Sandra Vincenti, 6-3, 6-3, and Lyn Viall (No. 4) beat Judy Taylor of Ladywood, 6-2; 6-2. -

Dual victories easy for harriers

It's beginning to sound like a broken 17:55. North's Craig Ragland took sixth record. Redford Union wins again in boys' and girls' cross country. The RU girls made it six straight dual victories Thursday at Oakland Community College by beating North Farmington, 17-46. The meet's top six finishers were Angie Mogielski, RU, 19:24; Kami Laird, RU, 20:02; Cathy Koski, RU, 20:15; Beth Emery, North, 21:04; Lisa Adamic, RU, 21:48, and Tina Seyuin, RU, 21:52.

RU's girls will face Livonia Stevenson Thursday at Schoolcraft College. Meawhile, John McElwee, Craig Sickmiller, Keith Schwanz and David "Our defense played well, but our Adkins all crossed the finish line together in first place with a time of plained Borgess coach Denise Zatkoff. 17:29 as the RU boys swamped North. Regina, which led 19-10 at halftime, 15-41, for their seventh consecutive Mark St. Aubin was fifth for RU in for the Churchill girls.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL out-ran Plymouth Salem in a Western Lakes Actitivities Association dual meet Thursday at Cass Benton Park.

The Churchill boys, behind Don Miller's first-place finish, scored an 18-42 victory. The girls, meanwhile, swept the first three places en route to a 17-

Miller completed the three-mile course in 16:39. He was followed by teammates Al Clemens (16:48) and Brian Boston (16:53).

Frank Brosnan took fourth for Salem with a clocking of 16:59. He was trailed by Doug Plachta, Churchill, 17:00; Brad Haertel, Salem, 17:01, and Jim Gendjar, Churchill, 17:14. Julie Recla (19:02), Kathy Curtiss (19:50) and Andrea Bowman (20:21) made it one-two-three, respectively.

Raul Julia is Kalibanos, a lecherous goat herder who tries to seduce Miranda, played by Molly Ringwald, in Paul Mazursky's "Tempest."

the movies

Louise Snider

Little bit of magic lends excitement to structured life

"We are such stuff as dreams are made on. and our little life Is rounded with a sleep! "The Tempest," Act IV, Scene i.

Architect Phillip Dimitrious (John Cassavetes) lives in a hightech Manhattan apartment. He works exclusively for a gambling czar, Alonzo (Vittorio Gassman), designing casinos and whatever else the boss wants.

He travels, mixes with colobrities and enjoys the attentions of his lovely ex-actress wife (Gena Rowlands) and his attractive teenage daughter Miranda (Molly Ringwald).

That's the reality of Phillip's life. It is cool, stable, predictable - a principality of order in an urban jungle. But where is the passion, the mystery, the magic? "Show me the magic!" Phillip shouts to the heavens. He finds it on an isolated Greek island.

Paul Mazursky, responsible for "Bob and Carol and Ted an Alice" and "An Unmarried Woman," directed and with Leon Capetanos co-wrote "Tempest" (PG). It is loosely based on Shakespear's play. Mazursky has integrated a male, mid-life crisis story within the framework of Shakespeare's energetic drama. It is an imaginative, exciting and largely successful reworking of the material.

MAZURSKY'S PHILLIP takes Miranda with him and flees from the city, his wife, his job and his boss. He goes to Greece where he meets a free-spirited, wandering American, Aretha (Susan Sarandon), and the three of them go off to a nearly deserted island whose only resident is a lecherous goat herder, Kalibanos (Raul Julia).

Mazursky's tale cuts back and forth between events of the past and the present and between the natural, rugged beauty of the island and the man-made monuments of Manhattan. Director of photography Don McAlpine ("Breaker Morant," "My Brilliant Career") catches the miracle of light and color in all the locales and settings with pictures so bright and crisp a viewer is tempted to reach for sunglasses.

Even so, the movie does stall at times, and Phillip does get on one's nerves with his lord-of-the-manner behavior. Saving it from these moments are wonderful characterizations and a script filled with wit, humor and social insights.

Newcomer Molly Ringwald makes an eyecatching debut as Miranda. In New York, she was eager to go away with her father. On the island, she suffers teenage pop-culture withdrawal symptorns and longs for a fix of TV, pizza and a Go-Gos concert.

She also would like some male companionship. The only men on the island are her overprotective father and the primitive Kali-

RAUL JULIA PROVIDES an electric core of energy to "Tempest" with his rich, earthy portrayal of Kalibanos. Whatever he says or does is captivating, whether he is trying to seduce Miranda or playing the clarinet for his goats. (In one of the movie's funniest scenes, he plays, but they don't respond until he switches from a pastoral tune to "New York, New York.")

If all this sounds kind of crazy, it is. Mazursky freely shifts between reality and fantasy, and you have to be willing to make the shift with him. The magic is there. Not the magic of the storm, although there is a whopper of a storm, but of wild, comic moments of music, people and animals.

When the storm finally strikes, late in the film, it tosses on shore all the people from whom Phillip's been escaping. The scene is set for the resolution and a tidy ending.

It's back to reality, but what an unforgettable detour.

'Class of 1984'

Twenty-two-year-old Timothy Van Patten makes his film debut as Peter Stegman, a brilliant but psychotic student who leads a gang of thugs in "Class of 1984." The movie is held over at Detroit-area theaters. Van Patten became widely known to TV audiences as the character Salami in "The White Shadow."
