Wayne-Westland enrollment slide pattern changes

By Susan Roalek
staff writer

Student enrollment in the Livonia and Wayne-Westland public school districts continues to drop.

In the Wayne-Westland district, the steep decline of several years ago, which was predicted to eventually cut the district's size in half, has changed to a steady downgrade.

Dan Slee of the student relations department said that this year's total enrollment for grades kindergarten through 12th totals 16,844 students. That's a drop of 642 students from last year's total of 17,486.

"The last two years we've had significantly fewer students leaving the district," said Slee.

The enrollment decline this year was expected to total 16,596, which would have brought the total decline closer to the 850 students lost last year. Previously the Wayne-Westland district had experienced enrollment declines of about 1,000 students each year.

The biggest variance from projected figures, according to Slee, was in the elementary grades which had 169 students more than were expected. Of that figure, 65 more than expected were enrolled in kindergarten. At the junior high level, there were 41 more students than expected and 38 more at the high school level.

Canton Township, considered to have a high population growth rate, sent only 18 more students to Walker Elementary School.

THE ENROLLMENT picture in the Livonia School District, which includes students from northern Westland, differs from that of surrounding districts. According to the annual statewide fourth Friday count in that district, there are 18,898 students in kindergarten through 12th-grade programs. The fourth Friday count represents a loss of more than 1,500 students, or 7.7 percent, compared to last year.

"Declining enrollment continues unabated," George Garver, Livonia superintendent of schools, told board members on Monday. "Some surrounding districts have had a sizable abatement in declining enrollment, however, that's not the case here," said Garver.

Garden City school officials report the smallest pupil decrease in the last 10 years.

In Oakland County, the Southfield Public Schools report the enrollment loss is not as great as it had been in the past. The district's student population dropped only 3.47 percent from last year. In the Birmingham School District, officials believe that increases in kindergarten enrollments indicate the enrollment decline is stabilizing.

THE LIVONIA superintendent said the district's enrollment slide will mean "a continued re-evaluation of building needs in the district."

Livonia has closed more than 21 school buildings in the last decade. A report last fall called for more closings at the elementary, middle and high school levels. Bentley has been suggested for closing by Garver because of its age and operating costs. No decision, however, has been made by school trustees.

Wayne-Westland, unlike its neighbor Livonia, is an in-formula school district and receives state funds on a per-pupil basis for education. State aid is the difference between what the state determines it costs to educate a student in the district and the amount the district can contribute. When property increases in value, the district collects more property-tax dollars based on its millage, thereby lowering the state's obligation.

SUPPLEMENTING the K-12 enrollment in the Wayne-Westland district is its continuing education enrollment, including the alternative and adult high school completion programs. Slee predicts that enrollment this year will total about 3,800 students, down from last year's total of 4,345.

Slee explained that it takes some time for continuing education enrollment to be tabulated in terms of full-time students since many attend school only part-time.

"We have one of the biggest adult education programs in the state," said Slee.

In Livonia, there are 7,563 students enrolled in the elementary grades. The middle schools (grades seven through nine) reported 2,950 students. The high school student population is 7,250. There are 1,135 pupils enrolled in special education classes in Livonia Public Schools.

At the elementary level, the smallest class is the first grade followed by second grade and kindergarten.

At THE MIDDLE school level, Frost is the largest school with 927 pupils followed by Emerson (820), Riley (765) and Holmes (689).

Franklin has the largest high school population with 2,011 students.

Columbus Day observance alters service

Due to the official observance of Columbus Day on Monday, Westland City Hall, post office and most banks will be closed. The post office lobby will be open from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. for box holders.

Garbage pickup, however, will remain on schedule that week.

Governor ponders board appointment

Deadline for filing as a candidate in the Dec. 7 special school board election in the Wayne-Westland district is 4 p.m. Thursday.

Electorors will fill four vacancies created by the recall of four school trustees.

While many petitions have been taken out, so far only two district residents — both from Westland — have filed as candidates. The two are Phyllis Runyan, 1610 S. Walton, and Dorothy Stockwell, 547 N. Byfield.

Candidates must have 1,685 signatures of registered voters. The number is three percent of the 56,183 registered voters in the Wayne-Westland district, which also includes a portion of Canton Township. Potential candidates have had only 15 days to collect the necessary signatures.

An election official said that petitions submitted by Runyan and Stockwell must be examined to determine that they contain enough valid signatures.

IT IS STILL unknown whether Gov. William Milliken will make an interim appointment to the board.

Steve Fetter, legal assistant to the governor, said that a final decision is expected by Monday.

"The governor will decide if there is a need for any appointment. If he decides there is based on the information we have received, then the next step is to figure out whom to appoint," Fetter explained.

The recall election Sept. 14 left the board with only three members, one short of the number needed to form a quorum to conduct regular district business. The trustees are Fred Warmber, who has been appointed as "presiding officer," board treasurer David Moranty and Dewey Combs, who was elected to the board in June.

The three remaining board members have recommended to Milliken that he appoint Harry L. Smith, 46, a General Motors Corporation public relations employee. Active in PTA in the district, Smith has also been a member of several board-appointed citizens committees.

While the state recall election law calls for a special election to fill the vacancies, the state school code says that appointees may serve only until the next regularly scheduled board election held each year in June.

Rats target of code enforcement

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

Westland may soon have two code enforcement officers to help combat the city's rat problem.

The City Council Monday, concurring with the city administration, passed a resolution to use $70,000 in federal community development funds for the project.

The city will have to obtain special permission to use the funds in the target areas. A public hearing, required before the funds can be transferred, is scheduled for Oct. 18 in city hall.

Council President Thomas Artley said the council approved of the administration's recommendation of attacking the rat problem through stepped-up code enforcement and education.

According to the proposal, about $60,000 would be used to pay the salaries and fringe benefits of two code-enforcement officers. The remaining $10,000 would be used to purchase traps, poisons and print and distribute educational material, Artley said.

The one-year plan to battle the rat program had been outlined by Mayor Charles Pickering, building director Robert Fritz, and community development director Gene Hudson.

THE PROBLEM areas were determined by a week-long random survey of about 1,300 yards on 49 blocks in the city selected by county and state health department officials.

Pickering said the survey was conducted to determine how serious the problem was. He said he was concerned about using the funds, in response to telephone complaints about rats without knowing if the city was hitting the major problem areas. According to the survey, rats are a serious problem (an infestation rate of at least 6 percent) in areas bounded by:

• Wayne, Newburgh, Ford and Warren roads in the central portion of the city.

Bag it! Leaf burning pollutes air

The color change is just beginning. It won't be long, though, before the beauty on the trees turns into the mess on the lawn.

A question seems to come up every year — is it permissible to burn leaves after they've been raked into a pile? In a word, no.

"It (burning) causes a lot of smoke, and in the smoke are a variety of contaminants, many health-related," said Howard Murray, a spokesman for the air pollution control division, Wayne County Health Department.

Both Wayne County and the city of Westland have ordinances prohibiting open burning of all materials, of which leaves are just a part.

"Basically, (they (burning leaves)) have a lot of hydrocarbons, sulphur oxides and nitrogen oxides," Murray said. "Especially to people with respiratory problems, (smoke) can be very irritating."

Westlanders must either pack leaves in disposable trash bags or garbage cans and put them by the curb on regular refuse pick-up days.

"They can put as many bags out as they want, and our guys will pick them up," said Lou Poteau, assistant to the superintendent of Westland's public service dept.

Residents with storm-sewer openings in front of their homes are asked to keep them clear of leaves to prevent damming and flooding.

Poteau also reminds Westlanders, who may be contemplating some heavy-duty fall cleaning of garages and basements, that the city dump site will probably remain open through the middle of November.

Hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays. The site is located next to the DPS building on Herbert Street, south of Marquette, between Wayne and Newburgh roads.

Rates range from $3 for a carload of refuse to $10 for trailers with a bed-5-by-12 feet.

Now... or never?

A controversial paving program in the area south of Ford and west of Wayne roads will be completed within the next 30 days despite a continuing lawsuit over the matter. Mayor Charles Pickering said he decided to go ahead with the project when the contractor notified him that he couldn't guarantee the same price for doing the work after that time period. City employees already have installed underground drainage systems in the area. Pickering and two other city officials hand-carried letters to all residents in the area, explaining the activity. "If we don't win the court case, that's something we'll have to contend with," said Pickering.

Hearing set on rat plan

● Farmington, Inkster, Joy, Warren and Hines Drive in the northeast corner of the community.

● Merriman, Henry Ruff, Avondale and Palmer roads in the east-central part of Westland.

● Wayne, the railroad tracks, Glenwood and Palmer roads in the south-central part of the city.

Pickering had said earlier that the city needed to have enforcement which includes a strong education program.

"An advantage of the city handling the rat problem itself rather than contracting it out is that ultimately two persons on layoff will be brought back to the job.

"This will enable the one code enforcement officer currently working to concentrate on sections of the city where rats aren't a serious problem."

THE MAYOR pointed out that inspectors have to be trained and that the city has to get clearance to use the federal funds from Housing and Urban Development.

He explained that the council is involved in the rat problem because it must approve any expenditure of public funds.

Fitz said the city would supply poisons for the bait boxes but it would be up to residents of the area to monitor the situation on a daily basis.

He said that code enforcement is a major advantage to the city conducting its own rat-control program.

"If there's a sign of rats, we'll set a box and bait it, along with code enforcement," he added.

Pickering added that the city would work with the chamber of commerce "to get the word out" to area business people that the city will be issuing code violations to them as well as homeowners for conditions that will attract rats.

Currently Westland has a backlog of 200 cases for its one code-enforcement officer. Pickering said that new calls about code problems will be placed on the list according to their severity.

Future budgets will have minimum staffing for code enforcement built in, he said.

Firm screens food for PBB

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Consumers concerned about PBB levels in food products now can subscribe to a PBB awareness report.

Jim Todaro of Livonia and Dan Timpf of Ypsilanti, have started Toxic Food Watch, a bi-monthly report on PBB (polybrominated biphenyl) levels found in foods purchased from stores.

The purpose of Toxic Food Watch is to help consumers identify foods which contain PBB, even if they fall below legally permissible levels.

"We believe people want to avoid PBB at any tolerance level," said Todaro, a 27-year-old self-employed accountant.

PBB, the fire retardant chemical which was accidentally mixed with dairy feed in the early 1970s, poisoned thousands of Michigan cattle, sheep, pigs and chickens.

The poisoning occurred when Velsicol, a mid-Michigan chemical company, mistook bags of PBB for bags of feed additive. The mistake was caught only after the PBB tainted feed had been used.

While many of the infected animals were slaughtered and buried in clay pits, traces of PBB were, and still are, being found in food.

Now, some ten years after the poisoning, health officials believe at least 97 percent of all Michigan residents have been infected with the chemical.

Michigan lawmakers restricted the amount of PBB allowed in meat products to 20 parts per billion after the chemical mix-up occurred.

However, that state law expired last month, dropping the accepted PBB level to the federal standard of 300 parts per billion.

Todaro's interest in PBB testing stems from a Sept. 12, 1982 Detroit News article on PBB levels found in foods.

"After reading the article, we thought somebody should do some testing. We waited to see. Nobody was going to do testing so we decided maybe we should," he said.

The two men plan to use subscription money ($20 for six bi-monthly issues of $5 for one) to pay for independent testing of foods found on supermarket shelves. Toxic Food Watch will use the Environmental Research Group laboratories in Ann Arbor.

"The problem with state testing is that they only check to see if foods exceed the maximum levels," said Todaro.

"I don't know if anybody will believe the state's testing anyway. That's why we decided to use an independent testing group."

PBB testing should be done on foods in the supermarkets, rather than testing of animals on farm sites, he said.

"We want to see how far down the food chain line the PBB goes.

People interested in more information about Toxic Food Watch can call Todaro at 425-9783, or write Toxic Food Watch, 340 N. Main, Suite 204, Plymouth, 48170.

Todaro hopes to publish on a regular basis.

Dancers play a big part in the musical. Here some of members of the two gangs, the Sharks and the Jets, them rehearse the Saturday night dance routine where they get together briefly for some fun.

Song and dance not routine in this musical production

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

When the curtain rises on a stage production, it's the beginning of a new experience for the audience.

For a few hours, they are carried into a different world. The audience experiences something different from its everyday life.

For the cast, however, presenting a show before an audience is the climax of hours of hard work.

Such will be the case of the Spotlight Players when they offer the popular musical "West Side Story" at 8 p.m. Oct. 8, 9, 15 and 16 in Wayne Memorial Auditorium.

The rise of the curtain culminates more than 10 weeks of auditions and rehearsals.

BACK IN THE first week of August, some 75 persons showed up for auditions, seeking one of the 27 roles in the production.

Once the cast was selected, the long hours of rehearsals began.

Over the last nine weeks, the cast has rehearsed six days a week, four to five hours per session.

For the first few weeks, the cast rehearsed without the orchestra, the music being provided by music director Liz Potter at the piano.

Dancers, singers and the lead characters rehearsed independently at first, then finally the job of putting the entire cast together began.

The producer, Mary Cobello, director Gail Mack, choreographer Mary Jo Cobello and the orchestra conductor, Rich Alder, now are beginning weaving their groups into a full production.

THE ORCHESTRA is made up of professional musicians from the surrounding area. That first day or two of working with the cast means many interruptions as dancers and singers work to synchronize their routines with the orchestra.

There is no time wasted during the strenuous rehearsals. While the principle characters go through their routines,

You don't have to go to Broadway or even Detroit's Masonic or Fisher theaters to enjoy talented actors, singers, and dancers in a live production. The Spotlight Players, formerly the Wayne-Westland Civic Theatre, will offer a popular musical, "West Side Story" over two weekends starting Friday night. In the first of two installments on community theater in the suburbs, The Observer puts the spotlight on the "West Side Story" cast in words and photos. The second installment next week will feature the Garden City Civic Theatre's upcoming production of "My Fair Lady," to open Friday, Oct. 15 for two weekends.

the dancers practice off at the side.

There is a spirit of companionship among the cast.

Dancers are applauded when they finish a routine and when the lead characters, Karen Wilcox as Maria and John Eastman as Tony, finish one of their duets, they are applauded by the rest of the cast.

"West Side Story" is not an easy show to produce. Realizing the entire production staff, the cast and the musicians are all devoting hours of their spare time, not for money but for the love of the theater, makes the final polished production even more amazing.

Acting isn't a new experience for most of the "West Side Story" group, however.

They have done other shows, some for the Spotlight Players, some with other organizations or in school.

Mary Cobello co-produced the group's production of "Cabaret" earlier this year. She also appeared in "Don't Drink the Water." She is agent promoter for the "Silent Suggestions Mime Troupe" and for "Magic and More."

DIRECTOR MACK taught speech courses at the University of Michigan and has taught theater, English and speech courses at Ferndale High School.

She had directed and acted in a number of other shows, has been stage manager as well as a set designer for various theater groups.

Choreographer Mary Jo Cobello, a student at Eastern Michigan University, has danced and acted in a number of Spotlight Players productions while Liz Potter, the music director, is a vocal music teacher for the Wayne-Westland Schools. She has worked with the Wayne-Westland Civic Theatre as well as the Wayne Summer Theatre.

Orchestra leader Adler is a music and English teacher for the Dexter Schools.

He has been involved in the orchestra pits of 40 productions at the Dearborn Civic Theatre, Wayne Summer Theatre, Musical Dinner Theatre of Detroit, and Wayne Memorial High School.

The assistant director, Jeffrey James, has previously worked with the Spotlight Players, the Summer Theatre and at Franklin Junior High and Wayne High School.

TICKETS FOR "West Side Story" are $5 for adults and $3.50 for students and senior citizens.

For ticket information, call 397-1952 or 397-6111.

Loss for Reagan Party-line vote on balanced budget

By Suzie Rollins Singer
staff writer

On a party-line vote, area congressmen supported a proposed constitutional amendment to require a balanced federal budget each year.

But the House last week soundly defeated the amendment, 236 to 187. The amendment had passed the Senate and was strongly supported by President Reagan.

Reagan warned voters not to elect representatives who wouldn't support the amendment when it is reintroduced in the spring.

REPUBLICANS Carl Pursell of Plymouth and William Broomfield of Birmingham voted in favor of the amendment.

"I was not thrilled about a constitutional amendment," said Broomfield. "But 20 of the last 21 Congresses have left the deficit growing larger each year. Political pressure by special interests is too much for them to withstand."

Prior to the vote, Pursell said he would support the amendment if the Congress couldn't balance the budget itself.

"It would be nice to see it (balanced) by statute. But that takes some responsible legislators who are ready to bite the bullet on tobacco subsidies, water subsidies and defense spending. But I'd support it by (constitutional) amendment if I have to," Pursell said recently.

DEMOCRATS blame the sea of red ink on Reagan, all saying that the President's action is merely a political ploy, and that he could easily submit a balanced budget to Congress if he wanted.

Democrats William Ford of Taylor and William Brodhead of Farmington voted against the amendment, as did U.S. Sens. Carl Levin and Don Riegler.

U.S. Rep. James Blanchard, D-Pleasant Ridge, did not vote. He is campaigning for governor.

Brodhead said the amendment "detracts attention from the real problem of deficits. If it did pass, it wouldn't take effect until one year after ratification, which would be in a couple of years, and we'd still have a huge deficit problem," he added.

"It also didn't mandate a balanced budget. It said that there has to be a 60 percent vote to unbalance it," Brodhead said.

FORD CALLED the balanced budget amendment a fraud.

"Like most Americans, I believe there is little doubt that a constitutional amendment is the wrong way to go. It's a fraudulent approach to solving our economic problems," Ford said.

"The idea of an amendment seems simple, but it's ironic that it comes from a president who continues to chalk up the biggest deficits in the history of our country."

"The amendment would put us in an economic straitjacket. The government would be helpless in dealing with a recession and unemployment because it couldn't pass laws to get people back to work," he said.

Ford added that it would bring the federal courts into budget planning, because courts interpret constitutional questions.

Before the vote, the House rejected 348-77 a rival Democratic proposal that would have allowed Congress to later set guidelines for waiving the ban on deficit spending.

SC offers 4 business talks

Four seminars in small-business management will be offered during October at Schoolcraft College.

Designed for those operating a small business or planning to open one, the seminars are offered in cooperation with the Michigan Department of Commerce and the Small Business Administration. Each seminar meets from 7-9 p.m. Mondays and Thursdays. The following seminars are offered:

"Developing Your Own Business" deals with finding low-cost business opportunities, franchises, obtaining money and developing a successful, profitable venture. Course meets Oct. 4 and 6.

"Time Management" focuses on understanding the principle of successful use of time to gain control of time and increase productivity and profit. Seminar meets Oct. 11 and 13.

"Money Sources for Small Business" covers bank, private and government loans and a discussion of how to obtain venture capital. Offered on Oct. 18 and 20.

"Introduction to Record Keeping" covers the need for records, sales journals and good recordkeeping. Meets Oct. 25 and 27.

Each seminar is $30. The four are available for $100. For further information or to register call the Office of Community Services at 591-6400, extension 409.

Manufacturers seminar Oct. 7

An Oct. 7 seminar on surviving the switch to new production techniques is aimed at automotive parts manufacturers.

The session is slated for Oct. 7 at Ford World Headquarters, Dearborn. It is co-sponsored by the Economic Development Corporation of Wayne County and the Auto Industry Action Group.

For registration details call Debra Schneider at 336-3306.

JAMBOREE!

BUY A GE HEAT PUMP AND GET A FURNACE, AND UP TO A $400 FACTORY REBATE.

Beat the high cost of winter fuel bills by adding a General Electric energy-saving Weathertron® heat pump to your forced-air furnace. Do it now and take your choice of three spectacular GE Jamboree bonus offers.

JAMBOREE BONUS #1

Get a GE high-efficiency gas furnace, plus your choice of a GE 19-inch color TV (PC 3704W), or a GE microwave oven (JET 88), or a $300 factory rebate direct from General Electric when you buy a GE Weathertron WR Plus-One heat pump for your existing home.

Furnace must be installed by a participating GE dealer. Customer pays installation charges on the furnace.

JAMBOREE BONUS #2

Add any GE Weathertron heat pump to your existing gas, oil, propane or electric forced-air furnace and take your pick of a GE 19-inch TV (PC 3704W), a GE microwave oven (JET 88), or a $300 factory rebate. With a GE Weathertron heat pump you not only save on heating bills, you also get economical central air conditioning. Your house stays comfortable all year.

JAMBOREE BONUS #3

Add a GE "Thinking" Thermostat to your new GE Weathertron heat pump and get an additional $100 factory rebate. This heat pump system can cut your fuel bills from 20 percent to 54 percent (depending on locality and energy use, based on a single 8-hour, 10-degree set back).

A GE HEAT PUMP SAVES YOU ENERGY AND MONEY YEAR ROUND. A GE Weathertron heat pump cuts your heating bills because it moves natural radiant heat inside to heat your home. Your forced-air furnace doesn't have to go to work until the outdoor temperature is about 32° F or below. In summer, the Weathertron heat pump moves heat out of your home for energy-efficient central air conditioning.

Hurry! To qualify for Bonus Offers, furnace installation must be in a customer's residence by October 16, 1982 (Bonus #1). Heat pump installation by October 31, 1982 (Bonus #2, #3).

Bush sees Ruppe closing the gap

By Suzie Rollins Singer
staff writer

With four weeks until the election, Republican U.S. Senate candidate Philip Ruppe is reaching for every apple he can.

Polls show Ruppe trailing Democrat.

Jacobs loses campaign suit

Libertarian gubernatorial candidate Dick Jacobs isn't giving up his fight to block the use of $1.5 million in state campaign funds used by his major party opponents.

Jacobs lost the first battle last week when Oakland County Circuit Judge John N. O'Brien denied his request to order Democratic nominee James Blanchard and Republican nominee Richard Headlee to return taxpayers' money.

All Michigan residents can check off a $1 contribution on their state income tax forms to be used by major party candidates during elections. Minor party candidates are entitled to funds if they apply for them after securing 5 percent of the vote.

A Libertarian party spokesperson said the party expects to appeal O'Brien's decision to the Michigan Court of Appeals.

Incumbent Donald Riegle by about 12 percentage points, so Tuesday he brought in Vice President George Bush to campaign for him. Bush won the 1980 Michigan presidential primary.

"I am not here to tell my Michigan friends how to vote, but I know that Phil Ruppe is going to support fundamental policies and programs that bring us the greatness that we know America can have once again," Bush told a group of 600 Republican supporters at Detroit's Book-Cadillac hotel.

Also milling through the crowd politicking were GOP gubernatorial candidate Richard Headlee and incumbent U.S. Rep. William Broomfield of Birmingham, also up for re-election. Lame duck Lt. Gov. James Brickley also was there.

ACCORDING TO Ruppe's press secretary, Mary Mead, about 200 people paid $100-per-plate for dinner, while another 400 forked over $250 each for cocktails and dinner for an estimated gross of $120,000.

After expenses, she hoped the event would net about $60,000, making it the biggest fund-raiser in the campaign.

Although the polls are pessimistic about Ruppe's chances, Bush was optimistic. "The motivation is highly significant," Bush said.

"It's amazing the movement that's been in the polls. The lead has been cut from 25 percent to 12 percent. That's wonderful," Bush said, adding a plug for Headlee: "It's insane to elect Phil Ruppe and not keep a Republican governor in Michigan."

Before Bush spoke about the merits of President Reagan's economic policies and the "raw deal" the Democrats gave the country during the Carter era, Ruppe told supporters his goals if elected.

"If I'm elected, I would actively introduce legislation to require our trading partners to live up to the rules of fair trade. We must insist that Japan stop using currency devaluation to gain market shares. This hurts our jobs here at home and most certainly hurts our export industry farmers," Ruppe said. "I'm going to see that Michigan gets better share of its tax dollar," he added, then quoted coach Vince Lombardi: "Winning isn't everything — it's the only thing."

IN A ROUND-ABOUT way, Ruppe attacked his opponent, Riegle, for refusing to debate Ruppe during this campaign.

"If I'm successful this time, then in 1988, I want to debate my opponent in front of the voters," Ruppe said.

When Bush took the podium, he delivered a 20-minute speech urging Republicans to "resist going back to the Democratic days of tax and tax, spend and spend."

He told World War II stories and reminded his GOP supporters that a Republican-controlled Senate is essential to continue Reagan's economic programs.

"There are many new ideas and many new programs that the president has presented to Congress," Bush said.

"We have proposed a new crime package that will keep criminals off the streets. We have proposed enterprise zones to help rebuild our cities and provide jobs for the disadvantaged and unemployed.

"We want to change the Clean Air Act in a way that will not only protect the environment, but lift excessive regulations," he added.

SC offers health club membership

Schoolcraft College's physical education complex is open to the public on Sunday afternoons.

Membership to the Sunday Health Club, offered through the Physical Education and Community Services departments, provides the use of three gyms for basketball, badminton, volleyball and jogging. There are six handball, paddleball and racquetball courts, weightlifting machines, gymnastic equipment, an swimming pool.

Membership is by each 15-week semester and costs $20 per individual membership or $38 for both semesters.

To apply for membership call the Office of Community Services at 591-6400 extension 409.

John A. Roberts of Plymouth and Joyce Feurring of Franklin, as Senator and Mrs.

Norval Hedges, stop by for a social call in "Born Yesterday."

2 area performers featured in comedy

Two Detroit-area performers are appearing in the Michigan Ensemble Theatre production of Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday" at the Lydia Mendelsohn Theatre in the Michigan League, Ann Arbor.

They are John A. Roberts of Plymouth and Joyce Feurring of Franklin. He plays Senator Hedges and she plays the senator's wife.

Preview performances, which began Wednesday, continue at 8 tonight. Other evening performances will be at 8 p.m. Friday-Sunday and Oct. 14-16, with a matinee at 2 p.m. Oct. 17.

For reservations and other information call the Professional Theatre Program Ticket Office in Ann Arbor at 764-0450. Group rates for 20 or more, as well as senior discounts, are available.

THE PRODUCTION is presented by the Michigan Ensemble Theatre. It is directed by Greg Lehane, whose credits include directing several episodes of NBC's "The Doctors." Lehane also was seen in "Search for Tomorrow," for NBC.

John Roberts, who co-starred in "Little House on the Prairie" and has appeared in several Plymouth Theatre Guild presentations, discusses "Born Yesterday" most enthusiastically.

"How can one go wrong with Garson Kanin's delightfully amusing play and Greg Lehane's directing magic? It's exciting to work with a group of talented performers whose creative energies seem endless," he said.

"They're a wonderfully warm, cohesive group who know their craft which adds up to a memorable theater experience for both the audiences and the performers. I'm pleased to be a part of it."

Joyce Feurring's list of credits includes numerous appearances on television, stage and the screen. Among them are "Word of Honor" with Karl Malden, a CBS "Moyie of the Week," the title role in

"The Lady from Dubuque" and Nurse Ratched in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," as guest artist for the University of Detroit; "Night of the Iguana" and "Death of a Salesman" at Meadow Brook Theatre, and "The Shadow Box" at the Attic Theatre.

THIS IS Feurring's second appearance with Michigan Ensemble Theatre, having portrayed Mrs. Timmins in "Wings" last year.

Members of the cast, as well as the director, have appeared on Broadway, off-Broadway, in major motion pictures and on television. The role of Billie Dawn is played by Cynthia Crumlish, best known as Mrs. Chilton with Glenda Jackson in "Rose" on Broadway. The role of Paul Verrall is portrayed by Ned Schmidtke, who has established himself on the stage as both actor and director in the cinema and on TV films, most recently in "Nurse" and "Chicago Story."

The Ed Devery role is being enacted by Jack Axelrod, actor, director, lecturer and educator. Other cast members are candidates under the Master of Fine Arts Program at the University of Michigan.

World Adventure begins new series

The World Adventure Series, travel-dventure film and lecture series, will begin its 49th season at 2:30 p.m. Oct. 17 at the Auditorium/Theatre of the Detroit Institute of Arts.

The first program, "Greece from the Islands to the Mountains," was recently completed and will be presented by the producers, Sherilyn and Matthew Mentis. Matthew is the cinematographer, and Sherilyn delivers the narration live from the stage during the projection of the film.

Gurwin recreates role of Fanny Brice

The Broadway musical comedy "Funny Girl" is being presented by Nancy Gurwin Productions on Saturdays at the Mama Mia Restaurant and Lounge, 9361 Cooley Lake Road, Union Lake.

The show about the rise to stardom of the legendary Fanny Brice has music by Jule Styne, composer of "Gypsy" and "Bells Are Ringing," and lyrics by Bob Merrill, book by Isabel Lennart.

"Funny Girl" is directed by Edgar A. Guest III, with musical direction by Barbara Ann Gowans and choreography by Debbie Sekerak. Sit-down dinner is at 6:45 p.m., show at 8 p.m. every Saturday night.

The package is priced at $17.95 per person for dinner and show. For reservations call 363-1535.

"FUNNY GIRL" stars Nancy Gurwin as the great Ziegfeld Follies comedienne Fanny Brice. For the last several years, Gurwin has performed in dinner-theater musical comedies presented by her production company. These include lead roles in "I Do! I Do!" "Once Upon a Mattress," "Annie Get Your Gun" and "Guys and Dolls."

"Funny Girl" ran more than three years on Broadway and was made into a movie starring Barbra Streisand. The show contains such songs as "People," "Sadie, Sadie" and "Don't Rain on My Parade."

Fall angling fails to pan out so far

By Lem Messe outdoors writer

Anglers who frequent area lakes may have to wait until the dead of winter to get a good catch.

The Department of Natural Resources reports that ice fishing on Pontiac Lake will be excellent this winter, while autumn fishing in Lake St. Clair and lakes in Wayne County are poor.

In Lake St. Clair, walleyes are being taken any time of day or night, but the numbers are just hit and miss. A few salmon are showing up in the same area, but perch and other panfish success is very slow.

Perch are active in the Detroit River, but successful fishing days may be just about over.

The reports from squirrel hunters indicates some fair success in most areas of these counties.

There are lots of autumn activities in area parks, all open to the public. Unless otherwise indicated, the programs are free, but pre-registration is required.

Saturday, Oct. 16

• Kensington Metropark, near Milford, is having an autumn nature bike ride at 9:30 a.m., covering five miles in two hours. Beginning at the nature center, naturalist Mark Szabo will lead the tour along the paved bike trail. Bring your own bike. To register call 685-1561.

Sunday, Oct. 17

• Kensington Metropark, near Milford will have a one-hour color cruise aboard the "Island Queen" beginning at 10 a.m. Park naturalist Mark Szabo will discuss the changes in plants which create Michigan's autumn beauty. There is a $1.50 charge per person. To register call 685-1561.

• Also at Kensington, a two-mile nature walk will begin at 2 p.m. at the nature center. Naturalist Mark Szabo will discuss the plant and animal life in and around the water of Wildwing Lake. To register call 685-1561.

• Kensington's Farm Center, at the north end of the park, will feature a wool spinning demonstration at 1 p.m. Farm interpreter Lori Anderson will demonstrate the techniques involved in spinning wool and other fibers on a spinning wheel and drop spindle. Other fibers that will be spun include yak, horse hair, dog hair and silk. Persons interested should arrive at the barn. To register call 685-1561.

Regional building continues nosedive

Residential building permits issued in southeast Michigan continued their downward slide during the first six months of 1982.

According to reports compiled by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG), 1,179 permits were issued in the first half year of 1982, compared to 3,743 in the comparable 1981 period in the seven-county region.

In Wayne County, there were 87 new building permits issued, compared to 1,511 during the same period in 1981.

The decrease was 94 percent.

Regionwide, demolition permits exceeded new construction by 810 units. In Wayne County, demolitions were down compared to last year. During the first half of 1982, there were 1,759 demolitions compared to 3,406 in 1981.

The most dramatic drop came in permits issued for multiple units. During the first six months of 1981, cities and townships in Wayne County issued 1,263 multi-family unit permits compared to none in 1982.

Heyday for cruising

Ship-building boom means discounts for travelers

The Song of America sails out of Miami Dec. 5 for the first time — $140 million worth of new cruise ship headed for Nassau, San Juan and St. Thomas. Apparently, nobody told Royal Caribbean Cruise Line about the recession.

The Tropical already has taken the kinks out of its new seven-day Los Angeles-to-Mexico run. The Atlantic is in the water too, ready to sail from Port Everglades near Fort Lauderdale to the Caribbean Oct. 28. Each cost $100 million. Nobody told Carnival Cruise Lines or Home Lines about the recession either.

These are only three of the new ships participating in the biggest cruise-ship-building boom since World War II, and there are several more to come: the New Amsterdam by Holland America next spring, the Falcky by Sitmar next winter, three new Carnival ships in 1984, '84 and '88; and two unnamed little luxury liners from the equally new Norske lines in 1984 and '85.

Cruise Lines International Association, which represents 28 of the most popular cruise lines, expects four million of us to be afloat by 1990, and maybe

1-of-a-kind traveler
Iris Jones
contributing travel editor

we will be. In the meantime, if all these new cruise ships are to remain afloat, cruise lines must offer tempting discounts to keep their cabins even partially full while waiting for the economy to revive.

THAT'S GOOD news for travelers if they can find their way through all the double-talk about prices. Money-saving opportunities include free air transportation from Detroit to the departure dock; cash incentives such as rebates and money-saving certificates; flat rates for both inside and outside cabins; savings for third and fourth persons sharing a cabin with two full-fare passengers; standby fares; single-passenger discounts; and promises to keep 1983 air fares at 1982 rates.

Ask your travel agent about "free air fare" on Sitmar, Royal Caribbean, Norwegian Caribbean, Carnival, Norwegian American, Pacquet, Cunard and Home cruise lines, but be sure to compare prices. Sometimes it's cheaper to pay your own air fare and get less expensive sailing rates.

Norwegian American, Princess and Royal Viking will give you either a rebate or a certificate good for part of a future passage; Royal and Pacquet will find a single passenger a compatible roommate or give you the stateroom without a surcharge.

The most interesting new cruise service is the car ferry that started Oct. 2 on Scandinavian World Cruises. Their new ship Scandinavia carries passengers and cars to the Bahamas; the Scandinavian Sun does the same between the Bahamas and Miami. They have "take your car one way and fly home free" packages.

The Scandinavian Sun is also a headliner in the new trend toward short cruises. You can do a one-day cruise from Florida for under $100. Costa, Western, Eastern, Pacquet and Norwegian Caribbean also offer three- and four-day cruises for those who don't want to spend the time or money for the seven-day variety. Cruises traditionally cost $150 per day per person double occupancy; some shorter cruises cost $100 a day.

THEMES ARE another new trend in cruising.

Themes are another new trend in cruising. The Cunard Princess and Cunard Countess are big on tennis and golf packages. Norwegian American offers an on-board rehabilitation program for cardiac patients.

The Cunard Princess and Cunard Countess are big on tennis and golf packages. Bahama Cruise Line has a Cruise 'n Dive package for certified divers. Norwegian Caribbean offers lectures on Mayan civilization on the Skyward to Mexico and a diving program with certified divers aboard most of its ships.

Norwegian American offers an on-board rehabilitation program for cardiac patients and their families, starting Dec. 1 on both the Sagafjord and the Vistafjord. Six 14- to 17-day sailings are available: trans-canal, trans-Atlantic, Mediterranean, Caribbean, New England/Canada and Alaska/Canada.

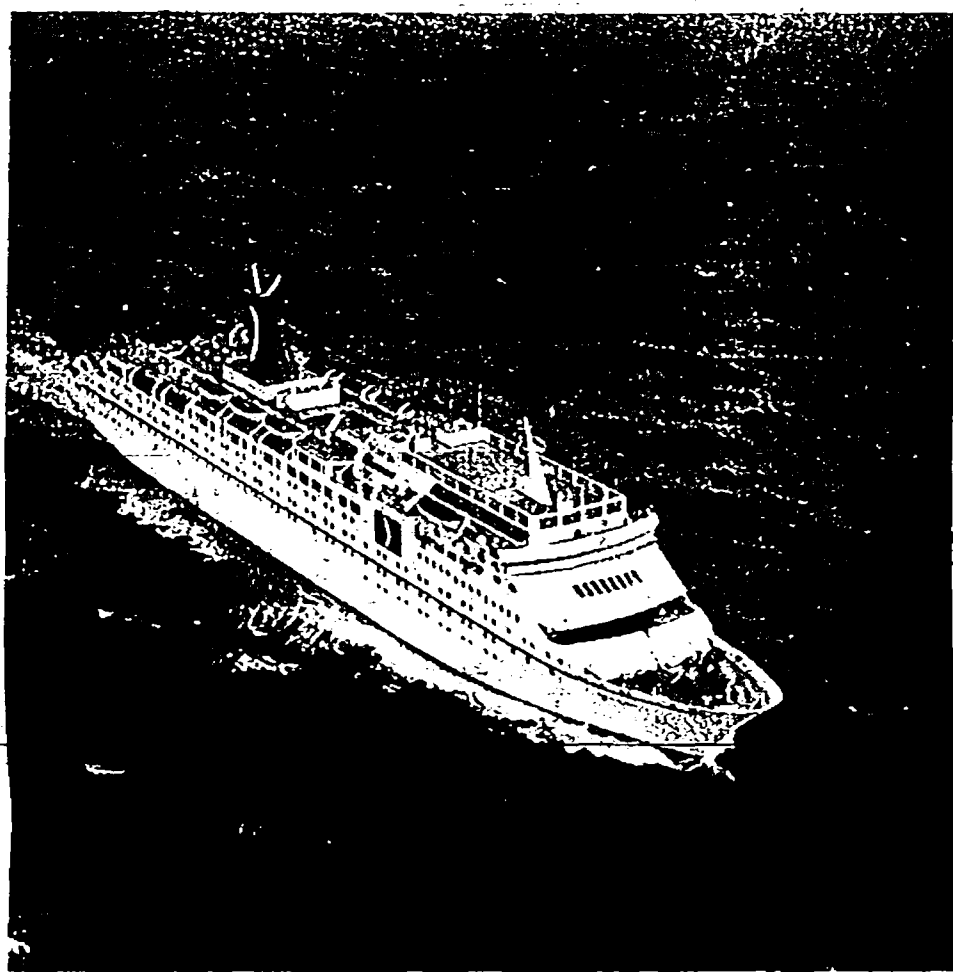

The program is offered in conjunction with an organization called Newlife, which lists as its founder Dr. Leo Rubin, senior research consultant in cardiovascular surgery at Newark Beth Israel Medical Center in New York. Call 1-914-823-8884 collect for information on this program.

The couches in this cabin aboard Royal Caribbean Cruise Lines' new Song of America fold down into a double bed.

Caribbean beaches such as the one at South Andros, Bahamas (above) are becoming more accessible than ever before, thanks to the cruise-ship-building boom of the last few years. The Tropicale (right) is one many new ships carrying travelers to warmer climes. Carnival Cruise Lines built the Tropicale for the tidy sum of $100 million. And the building boom hasn't ended yet. At least seven more cruise ships are expected to be built by various companies in the next five years.

Here's a list of new things to visit on way to Epcot

As the Disney people put it "The 21st century begins Oct. 1, 1982."

Epcot Center is a theme park twice the size of the Magic Kingdom. It stands for Experimental Prototype Community of Tomorrow. Some say it represents the theme park of the future, still fun but with more information and education thrown in.

Here you will see the technological wonders of the world, from Spaceship Earth and the Universe of Energy to the World of Motion and Journey into the Imagination.

The opening is perfect timing for the Snowbirds who regularly go south for the winter. You'll be hearing more than you care to know about Epcot in upcoming weeks, so I thought you might like to think ahead about how to enjoy yourself on the way.

These are some of the things you can explore while driving down Interstate-75.

El Greco of Toledo, an art exhibit that is the envy of museums nationwide, started Sept. 26 in Toledo, and if you are lucky you may still get tickets. So many people want to see it, however, that the Toledo Museum of Art began doling out batches of tickets Sept. 1, and will limit visitors to 250 an hour.

Echoes of the King Tut exhibit, which everybody wanted to see, but it is to be hoped, not quite so crowded. Call Ticketron at 1-216-524-0000 or write to Toledo Museum of Art, Box 1013, Toledo, Ohio 43697. Tickets are $4 each.

ANOTHER FANTASTIC exhibit, Treasures from the Tower of London, starts Saturday and runs through Jan. 9 at the Cincinnati Art Museum. It won't be so hard to get into and should be well worth diverting off I-75.

This show, exclusive in the United States, shows arms and armor from the Tower of London, the first ever loaned out by the Tower authorities. Tickets are $2 to $4.75 from Ticketron or Cincinnati Art Museum, Eden Park, Cincinnati, Ohio 45202.

Today through Saturday also is the weekend of the Eighth Air Force Reunion in Cincinnati. It will be the eighth annual stateside reunion for the group, and one that includes dedication of the Eighth Air Force Dayton Memorial Saturday at the Air Force Museum near Dayton.

Call the Eighth Air Force Historical Society at (305) 961-1410.

If you have not visited the Air Force Museum lately, I highly recommend it. Its free, but even if it wasn't you'd "get your money's worth" with the first sight of the B-36 and the XB-70 that lead you to the door.

Its the oldest and largest military aviation museum in the world, under the operational control of the Air Force Logistics Command at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base near Dayton. Exit Ohio Route 4 at Harshman Road about five miles north of Dayton.

THE KENTUCKY HORSE PARK near Lexington is the only state park of its kind in the world, always worth visiting, but it has a new program of special interest to the handicapped. The Central Kentucky Riding for the Handicapped, Inc., started programs Sept. 6 to benefit and provide a kind of therapy for the handicapped.

At the moment they only accept visually-impaired and non-wheelchair-bound adults and children, but that probably will change with time. The program includes horseback riding and study programs.

Contact Kentucky Horse Park, P.O. Box 8007 Lexington, Ky. 40533 or call Becky Howards at (606) 233-4304. The Horse Park is a 1,000-acre park with training facilities, horse-related museums, movies and track activities, highly recommended for tourists.

Horseback trails and horses will be available to Kentucky Horse Park visitors for tours of the park's 1,032 acres. The park is one of many stops that can be taken along the way to Florida and Disney's Epcot (Experimental Prototype Community of Tomorrow).

'Free' vacation offers could cost you plenty

"Free" or "low-cost" vacation certificates and package notices should be greeted cautiously, says the Better Business Bureau.

The free vacation deal is usually connected to a real estate sales or a new business opening. The offer involves a vacation trip usually at a resort area. At first blush, it appears you need pay nothing for this trip, if you are one of the first to inquire about the service or product being offered in conjunction with the trip or your name has been "drawn" for the trip.

You may be contacted by mail, telephone, or even by a door-to-door salesperson who offers all kinds of "proof" about the "valid" vacation offer. Almost always you will have to lay out a small fee or deposit ($15 to $25 or more) for a hotel reservation before the free certificate is issued to you. The seller prefers a cash deposit.

Even if the package is legitimate, observes the BBB, you can be subject to traveling woes. For example, hotel reservations may not be honored when you want to use them. Those free meals might be limited form 2-5 a.m.; discount gambling, show tickets and sports coupons may be honored only at off-hours or, more likely, be subject to a "service fee" costing as much as or more than a regular ticket.

SOMETIMES a certificate holder, after arrival at the hotel, is required to undergo a lengthy, high-pressure sales pitch for real estate or other goods and services. Always inquire about any obligations on your time if a company offers you a vacation package to promote its business. There's lots you can do to protect yourself against vacation scams without spending a penny.

First, realize that anything of vacation value probably is not free. There are probably some strings connected to it. You will pay in some way for the ride. By listening to or reading about the offer, you usually will be able to see through the rose coloring.

If the deal sounds legitimate (and it can be), spend a few minutes to find out about the promoter and the vacation being offered. You can get plenty of information about a business' reliability by simply phoning the Better Business Bureau in your community.

BE SURE you find out what the vacation package contains. Does it include transportation, hotels, food, taxicabs, tips, baggage handling, coupons for sports, gambling, side trips? Most don't include transportation to and from the resort.

Obtain the name of the hotel where you would be stopping and confirm the reservations. Mention the promoter's name. If airline tickets and rental cars are involved in the package, call these firms in advance and check out the reservations. The person on the other end of the phone line can be part of the scam. Instead, look up the numbers or ask for directory assistance. All you need are the names of the firms, which the promoter should be willing to give you.

Do not give the company making the package offer any cash, a check, or a credit card number until you are satisfied that the offer is legitimate and you want the trip. Then find out how much money you have to pay. Is this money refundable? How can you obtain a refund?

Teaching fire safety is everyone's business

LEARN NOT TO BURN. That catch phrase of a national fire prevention organization is what the Westland City Council had in mind last spring when it approved the use of federal community development funds for a fire education program...

What the Council is getting for its money is a human water-cannon intent on snuffing out potential fires in the city. Making a big splash throughout the city with his program is Battalion Chief Joe Benyo.

"It's taken off faster than I thought it would," said Benyo.

That's an understatement. A look at Benyo's pocket calendar shows it crowded with speaking engagements at public and private schools, senior citizen groups and meetings across the country.

All the activity isn't just an attempt to draw attention to National Fire Prevention Week. Westland lost seven lives to three fires in 1979-81. That's more than enough motivation to get a program started.

BENYO HAS established a learning program for children in grades kindergarten through eighth that teaches 25 key safety behaviors. He has won a "mini-grant" to bring in a fire prevention specialist to help teachers learn how to get the safety message across.

Benyo also is teaching staff members at nursing and convalescent homes how to react and what to do in a fire emergency. For babysitters and parents worried about emergencies while they're away, Benyo has written a handbook.

Parents and court officials worried about young firebugs are referring them to Benyo for counseling in his juvenile firesetter program. Benyo qualifies for that job as a result of the courses he took with the National Fire Academy on his days off. Paying for the training was the U.S. Fire Administration, a group Benyo has been a consultant for.

Other projects include a mini-documentary for WXYZ-TV, establishing a Michigan Public Fire Education Resource Network and searching for grants to buy smoke detectors for the residents in the Norway area of the city.

SOUNDS LIKE A big job for just one person, doesn't it? The two-year funding of Benyo's program adds a sense of urgency to the job, too.

But Benyo has a solution. Benyo believes that fire prevention is everyone's job, not just his. So he's intent on involving everyone in the process.

"Within two years, I think we can get our own fire awareness committee of civilians to come forth and do something," Benyo says.

In the meantime, Benyo's enthusiasm has firefighters participating in a public awareness committee and in the Westland Arson Resource Network. Firefighters are training in arson photography, are making bumper stickers while on the job and conducting school fire drills.

But there's something that community groups can help with, too. Benyo has only five sets of books on fire prevention for training youngsters. That means many youngsters will have to wait before learning fire prevention as the books are passed from school to school.

Each set costs only $67. Local civic and PTA groups can help with the fire prevention effort by buying additional sets of books for use in schools.

Remember, fire prevention through education is everyone's job.

'Nuthin' to look at!'

Where was the church when this sailor died?

CARL SAYERS is about to take on the U.S. Navy. He's hoping that other Episcopalians will help him in the effort.

Sayers is outraged over the death of a 21-year-old Michigan sailor. Unlike those of us who merely talk about injustice, Sayers wants something done about it.

"I think the crime is manslaughter, and the people responsible ought to get a jail sentence," Sayers said.

The Algonac sailor died in the correctional custody unit (CCU) of the USS Ranger, where he was being punished for a minor rules violation. A Navy report details how the sailor was abused until he died, foaming at the mouth with his skin a pale, blue-green color.

As a minister at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church in Troy, Sayers plans to appeal to Episcopalians when the church's Diocese of Michigan holds its conference Oct. 23 and 24 in Detroit.

He is asking convention delegates to pass a resolution deploring the Navy actions that led to the death of Paul Trerice in April 1981. In the resolution, Sayers also calls on Episcopalians to urge the Navy to reform its entire correctional program.

"I'm not trying to stir up trouble. This is a way to express our sorrow," he said.

SORROW QUICKLY turns to anger and frustration over unanswered questions and fear for what one's own kin may encounter in similar situations. It's time for someone to stir up a little trouble.

"Unless people speak out we won't stop the abuses that keep cropping up just when we think they're gone by way of the past," Sayers said. "What greater purpose do churches have?"

Indeed, but is there a conflict between church and state in Sayers' speaking out? Not this time.

Readers ought to thank God, their lucky stars or whatever other deity they pray to that Sayers, a retired Army chaplain from the Michigan National Guard and chairman for the Armed Forces Commission of Michigan's Episcopal diocese, is getting involved. It's apparently been all too easy for other religious officials to sit back, ignoring the important questions Sayers now raises.

"One thing that concerns me is that there was on duty (aboard the Ranger) a chaplain of each major faith — Protestant, Jewish and Roman Catholic. In my mind (I ask) where were they?" Sayers said of Trerice's three-day ordeal. "Usually when there are three assigned to a ship, one chaplain is always the correctional chaplain assigned to the brig. One must have been the correctional-unit chaplain."

BELIEVING THAT the Navy is "ashamed" of what happened, Sayers thinks that it will pay attention to organized religion and to civil law.

"Public opinion is reflected through those two institutions, and in our country, the military is under civilian control," he said, adding that he believes Trerice was denied his constitutional right to free exercise of religion.

"He (Trerice) wasn't under sentence of death," Sayers continued. "When you enter the military, you don't surrender your citizenship in the U.S. You don't surrender your right to health, welfare, safety and human dignity."

"All those things were violated (in Trerice's death). Even a police officer has to read you your rights upon arrest."

"I want to strike out against the attitude that cruelty goes on, that it always has and always will."

Sayers point is that just because cruelty is pervasive doesn't make it any less horrifying.

There may be things we can learn to watch out for that will prevent other such incidents, whether its a massacre in Lebanon, over-zealous discipline or ganging up on a youngster.

Sayers believes there are three phases to watch for. The first is discipline within strictly limited guidelines.

"I think they (CCU officers) believed that through this discipline and through this exercise and so on they felt they had a personal power over him which they really didn't have," Sayers said.

That's the second phase — when discipline becomes a personal matter. Sayers believes the third step involves a kind of lynch-mob mentality.

Sayers thinks the health and dignity of all people must be guarded. That's a ministry in which we all can participate.

Sparks fly if you say 'group home'

THE SPECTER of group homes for the mentally retarded has returned to the suburbs. Troy, Redford Township and Plymouth Township homeowner groups are protesting the start of group homes in their neighborhoods.

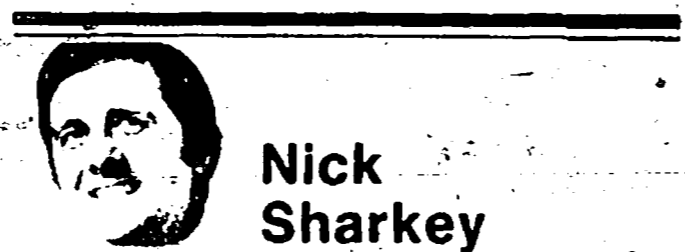

In Redford, homeowners held a meeting last week to plan strategy to stop plans for construction of a home planned for six physically handicapped and mentally retarded adults. A similar home in Plymouth Township is opposed by the Plymouth Township Board. Troy homeowners are riled up about a proposed home in their city.

Group homes use a relatively new concept of getting mentally retarded adults out of sterile institutions and into residential settings. The program has been developed by the state Department of Mental Health.

IT APPEARS THAT one of the best methods of unifying a suburban neighborhood is to notify people that a group home is coming. Then the sparks start flying.

The approach in most neighborhoods is automatically to oppose a group home and then to start figuring out how to do it. Emotions rule. Little objective thinking is done about the advantages and disadvantages of group homes.

What are the "objections" that are trotted out? Group homes will lower property values. The mentally retarded will be unsupervised and will harm themselves or the property. Group homes are commercial enterprises in residential neighborhoods, thus violate zoning laws.

Nick Sharkey

Reality is different. Studies have demonstrated that group homes do not lower property values. Group homes are well-supervised, and most staffers have attended college. Most group homes are run by a non-profit agency working in the area of mental health.

State authorities have also taken many steps to lessen the negative impact of group homes in a suburban neighborhood. They give advance notice so homeowners are prepared for a group home. They also scatter homes throughout a community so there is no concentration in any area.

BUT RATIONAL arguments and advance warning don't seem to help. Proposed group homes can bring out the worst in any suburban neighborhood.

If we like to admit it or not, part of the attractiveness of suburbs is discrimination. We like to be surrounded by persons "who are just like us."

Poor persons can't afford to live in most suburbs because of the high price of housing. Minority groups are congregated in the inner city. The mentally retarded are kept in institutions in distant cities.

So far, those with a different economic background, race or culture have been effectively barred from the suburbs. When that is disturbed, suburbanites become upset.

So far, my personal experience with the retarded has been limited. When I was growing up, a retarded person was either put away in an institution or hidden by the family. Having a retarded person in a family was considered a disgrace.

Thankfully, that is changing. We all must learn more about the retarded — and all the other minority groups we have tried to keep at a distance. For the retarded are people, too. That means they have the same rights as you and me.

Is minister a nuclear expert?

To the editor: The Rev. David Strong overstepped his expertise in his Sept. 30 column supporting a nuclear freeze. Several statements are factually false or highly debatable.

He says "experts" doubt if the world could support human life after a nuclear war. Not so. Only phony experts talk that way. Real experts do worry about political/social/economic conditions after a nuclear war, but they do not think it would end human life in the U.S. or U.S.S.R., much less the whole world. New research shows "doomsday" effects, e.g., ozone depletion, have been greatly overblown.

HE IS also wrong to call Michigan's freeze proposal "non-technical." Freeze supporters know so little about military matters that they cannot even recognize their proposal's stupendous technical implications. It wouldn't be so bad if it just called for freezing warhead numbers, but it would also ban productions of delivery systems. Just defining delivery systems is a highly technical issue.

Taken literally, the proposal would stop us from replacing fighter planes that crash or cannons that wear out. It might even stop truck production, since atomic demolition charges (used for blocking tunnels, roads, passes, etc.) are "delivered" by truck.

I want to protect my children, too. But, as a student of international affairs instead of theology, I know that signals of fear and weakness like the freeze movement cause more wars than they prevent. (Ask Argentina about the price of miscalculating a foe's resolve. Let's not encourage Russia to underestimates ours.)

I AGREE "enough is enough" in deterrence. But quantity is not the real issue in this proposal. The real issue is whether we are allowed to upgrade weapon quality to match Soviet improvements.

Strong asks about quality of life, whether we can afford an arms race, whether we must sacrifice education to pay for one. But the real questions are: What kind of life would we have in a Soviet-dominated world? Can we afford to lose the arms race? The Soviets started it years ago, while we maintained a unilateral freeze.

Will education benefit if our schools are blown away by an undeterred foe, our curricula dictated by foreign tyrants and the free flow of world information blocked by a system of police states overseas?

"DID YOU KNOW that the famous Ford Model T car ultimately sold for as low as $280 without extras? Of course, most everyone wanted some extras, as they do today, so the average delivered price was a staggering $400. Stimulated by this price, Ford cars rolled off the assembly lines at the dizzy rate of a car every 10 seconds of every working day.

How to combine shutter, aperture to capture moods

On Sept. 23, I introduced you to the basic concepts of exposure and equated correct film exposure with obtaining a "perfect sun-tan".

You'll remember that proper exposure consists of allowing just enough light into your camera for a specified amount of time. The right combination of lens opening and shutter speed.

That combination is determined by your camera's meter and is crucial to correct exposure. It is important to understand that there are many combinations of aperture/shutter speed to produce proper exposure.

For example, an exposure combination of F-8 at 1/60 second is exactly the same as F-5.6 at 1/125 second because in the latter exposure, light is entering the camera through an opening twice as large but for half the time. You see, for each combination, the end result is the same — correct exposure.

WHAT DETERMINES the combination of aperture/shutter speed is the film speed (measured in ASA) and the lighting conditions under which you are shooting.

You may ask: "If any combination of aperture/shutter speed gives correct film exposure, what difference does it make which is used?" Well, it makes a big difference — not in exposure, but in the final appearance of your photograph. You can achieve different kinds of moods.

• Long shutter speeds will give your pictures a feeling of motion and sometimes a dream-like quality such as a photo of a waterfall. (Be prepared to use your tripod when using long shutter speeds).

• Fast shutter speeds will "freeze" the action.

• Large apertures will result in shallow depth-of-field, even blurring out unwanted backgrounds.

• Small apertures will increase depth-of-field sometimes making your picture sharp from front to back.

YOU BEGIN to become creative and to express yourself through your photography when you start to become the "boss" of your camera; when you select the aperture/shutter speed combination that will give you the results you want in your picture.

And give yourself the flexibility to override the camera's meter by intentionally over- or underexposing your shot. You can do this for aesthetic reasons or to correct for an extreme bright or dark background.

Don't think you're stymied if you have an automatic camera. If a certain aperture/shutter speed combination won't produce the results you want, simply make an adjustment in shutter speed, and the camera will automatically make a corresponding correction in aperture. Reverse the process if you have an aperture priority camera.

Be creative in your photography by understanding how apertures, and shutter speeds relate to each other and how you can use their relationships to improve your pictures. More on exposure on Oct. 21 when you'll learn all about light meters.

Short shots

• Twelves Oaks Mall's annual classic car photo contest will be held the week of Oct. 17. Shooting sessions conducted by columnist Monte Nagler will be held Oct. 19 and 21 from 7 to 9 p.m. and Oct. 23 from 9 to 11 a.m. Prizes will be awarded.

• The Greater West Bloomfield Photo Club will meet at 7:30 this evening in West Bloomfield United Methodist Church, 4100 Walnut Lake Road. A slide presentation on the topic of "People" is free and visitors are welcome. For information about the club, call Alvin Shapiro at 851-5877 and Tony Merlo at 363-1407 after 7 p.m.

An exposure combination favoring a very long shutter speed was used by Monte Nagler in this photo of the Duns River Falls in Jamaica.

The 30-second exposure enabled him to portray a misty, dreamlike quality to the terraced falls.

APERTURE	F-4	F-5.6	F-8	F-11	F-16
SHUTTER SPEED	1/500	1/250	1/125	1/60	1/30

Each combination of aperture and lens opening will give you film an identical "suntan." Which combination you use will determine the artistic outcome of your photo.

Lawyer F. Lee Bailey to speak at Schoolcraft

Criminal lawyer and author F. Lee Bailey will speak at Schoolcraft College this month as part of the school's series of speakers on legal issues.

Bailey's lecture, "The Defense Never Rests," begins at 8 p.m. Oct. 12 in the college gymnasium.

Advance tickets for senior citizens and students are $4. All tickets sold at the door are $5. Tickets are on sale at the college's student activities office. For further information call 591-6400 ext. 380.

Bailey's career began in 1960, shortly after he graduated from Boston University Law School. He was asked to testify as a polygraph expert in the highly publicized trial of George Elderly, accused of murdering his wife and dumping her dismembered remains in a river. When the defense attorney became ill, Bailey took over the case.

Among his current clients are the Edmonds family, whose parents Robert and Daphne died in the July 9 crash of a Pan Am jet in New Orleans. The suit, filed in Florida federal court, asks $1 billion in punitive damages and an equal amount in compensatory damages. Allegations in the case include that the plane was overloaded, and the pilots were negligent in taking off during dangerous weather conditions.

Voter interest warms up to pass freeze on ballot

By Sherry Kahan
staff writer

"A megaton thermonuclear bomb exploded on a clear day at ground level on a large east coast city would create a fire-ball nearly six miles in diameter, with temperatures of 20-30 million degrees Fahrenheit. Everything in the downtown area, the streets, the earth below, and all living things, would be vaporized, leaving a crater several hundred feet deep."
— Physicians for Social Responsibility

A local effort to stop a nuclear holocaust pulled 25 people into Newman House at Schoolcraft College recently. Those who came from Livonia, Plymouth, Westland, Northville, Belleville and Dearborn were anxious to know how to get their ideas into the mighty Pentagon.

They learned what is being done to support Proposal E on the Nov. 2 ballot in Michigan. They also learned what to do to add to the effort.

In the November election, Michigan voters will express their opinions on halting "the testing, production and further deployment of all nuclear weapons, missiles and delivery systems in a way that can be checked and verified by both."

The vote is advisory to the federal government, but proposal backers who collected some 385,000 signatures to put it on the ballot believe that approval of the issue by millions would be the most effect way to carry their collective shout of protest to the ears of political and military leaders.

AT THE SESSION, participants heard from Dwight Cendrowski, representing the Detroit area campaign on behalf of the proposal, and Johanne Fechter of Plymouth, who talked about the plan of local action.

"The freeze is a hard-headed arms proposal," declared Cendrowski.

"It would have to be mutual, both us and the Russians, not us alone. The reason it is so important is that we must stop new weapons from being deployed."

Fechter, coordinator of Region 2 for the Detroit area Nuclear Weapons Freeze Campaign, announced that there will be working meetings at 7:30 p.m. beginning today and continuing each Thursday in October in Newburg United Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia.

Workers will be needed, she told the gathering, to telephone voters and distribute leaflets at public places in the weeks before the vote.

The Rev. Jack Giguere, Newburg pastor, was present at the session.

FECHTER ALSO noted several other meetings planned in the area for those seeking a nuclear weapons freeze.

A slide show titled "The Anatomy of the Nuclear Arms Race," will be shown at a 7:30 p.m. meeting of the PTO Tuesday, Oct. 26 in Smith Elementary School, 1298 McKinley, Plymouth. The meeting is open to the public.

A special peace mass will be offered at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 13 in St. Edith Catholic Church, 15089 Newburgh, Livonia.

Others wishing to schedule a freeze meeting were invited to call Fechter, 455-2149 or Lee Riebling at 349-8243.

Following informational reports, lists of registered voters were passed out to members of the audience. When the 25 participants filed out of Newman House, many carried a sheet or two of phonenumber to be completed before Nov. 2.

AREA CHURCHES have been "a driving force" in the move toward getting the freeze issue on the Michigan ballot, noted Fechter.

"It is interdenominational," she said. "The Detroit Presbytery backed the freeze. Many Catholic churches were outstandingly helpful in obtaining signatures. We've also had the support from the United Church of Christ, Methodists, Lutherans, Presbyterians and Unitarians."

"People who are religiously oriented see nuclear weapons as immoral."

The coordinator, who grew up in a San Diego family oriented toward peace, said in an interview she was hoping for "an overwhelming vote" for the freeze in Michigan as well as in the other areas that have it on the ballot, eight more states and Washington D.C.

"Then the message will be heard by our national leaders," she said. "Wisconsin favored the freeze 4-1 in its September election."

"We feel we have more than enough nuclear weapons, and we must stop this insanity."

CENDROWSKI SAID he considers a nuclear freeze essential because he fears those involved in START (Strategic Arms Reduction Talks) will not be able to stop the nuclear arms race.

"START doesn't address the main argument, the continuing production of new nuclear weapons," he added. "A nuclear freeze would. Nor will it stop the deployment of new weapons, as a freeze would."

"The U.S. and the Soviet Union need to stop where we're at and have some breathing space. Then we can sit down and discuss the reduction of arms."

He explained that START takes a long time.

"The talks are held six weeks on and six weeks off," he said. "It is probable that they will drag on for years while both sides build new arsenals."

Cendrowski also said the freeze is verifiable by reconnaissance satellites used by both the U.S. and USSR.

"Today with high resolution photography, they can actually read individual automobile license plates numbers in Moscow," he said. "Through radar and seismic monitors, we can detect testing. Missiles need to be tested before firing."

A FREEZE would be greatly to our advantage, he said, "because if we don't have one, the Soviet Union will continue to update and make better its submarine and land-based missiles. These weapons jeopardize our security. A freeze stops them as well as us."

It is a delusion to think we can win a nuclear war, concluded Cendrowski, who remembers that as a second grader he was ordered to sit under his desk during school fall-out drills.

"Civil Defense deludes people into thinking a nuclear war is defensible."

Dwight Cendrowski of the Michigan Nuclear Weapons Freeze Detroit area campaign called the proposed freeze "a hard-headed arms proposal" when he addressed a meeting at Schoolcraft College.

Volunteers sought in 'no nukes' drive

By Suzie Rollins Singer
staff writer

The Michigan Nuclear Freeze Campaign is searching for volunteers to spread the "no nukes" philosophy before the Nov. 2 election.

"We're asking organizations and community leaders to endorse the freeze and for volunteers to step forward and help us," said staff member Linda Jackson at a recent breakfast.

"We want a big victory so we can send a clear, emphatic message to Washington that we want a freeze now," she added.

MICHIGAN IS one of 10 states with a nuclear freeze referendum, Proposal E on the Nov. 2 ballot.

"We do not have an enormous machine. We don't have forces we can instantly call up. We need help," Jackson said, asking volunteers to call 577-5053.

Bishop Thomas J. Gumbleton, auxiliary bishop of the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, said he has been to numerous schools and found children afraid of nuclear war.

"Youngsters in this country go to bed scared because they may not wake up if nuclear bombs are released," Gumbleton said.

VOLUNTEER Fred Miller said it is the right time in history to stop the buildup of nuclear arms.

"It's time for us to set a pattern for the world. Now we have ex-military men and CIA directors who are afraid," he said.

"The more technologically complex we become, the more likely we are to have computer alerts and the possibility of accidental firings become much higher," he added.

Miller contended that the "economy is being dragged down by nuclear weapon production."

"The government plans to spend $220 billion on weapons during the next six years. Our campaign calls for the transfer of nuclear funds to the civilian population," he said.

NUCLEAR WEAPONS and the economy will be the topic for the next open meeting of Physicians for Social Responsibility at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 20. Meeting place is the Purple Auditorium of Scott Hall on the Wayne State University campus.

The meeting is open to the public without charge, according to PSR spokesperson Debra Barr.

Sr. Amata Miller, PhD, an economist, will speak. A slide show entitled "Whose Budget Is This, Anyway?" will follow.

'Freeze' rewards Soviet arms buildup — U.S. aide

By Tim Richard
staff writer

If nuclear weapons are dangerous, then a "freeze" which favors the Soviet Union is even more dangerous, say two spokesmen for the Reagan Administration.

"It sends the wrong signal to the Soviets," said U.S. Rep. William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, senior Republican member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. "It undercuts our negotiating team."

Broomfield will vote against Proposal E on the Nov. 2 ballot — an advisory proposition which tells Michigan officials to write to the President asking him to propose to the Soviets "a mutual nuclear weapons freeze."

Christopher Lehman, a State Department official who is being sent around the country to explain administration policy, says the freeze doesn't go far enough.

"We all agree with the goal. There can be no winners in a nuclear war," said Lehman, director of the office of strategic nuclear policy and principal adviser on U.S. strategic weapons programs.

LEHMAN STOPS short of urging Michiganians to vote against the freeze proposal, saying he understands public "concern." He concedes the proposition will pass.

But he gives four basic arguments why a joint Soviet-American freeze on nuclear weapons production and deployment at this time would be against American interests.

1. "A freeze would be at today's high levels of weapons and instabilities." By "instability" he means the Soviets have more nuclear weapons than the U.S. because they have been building up mightily for 15 years while the U.S. actually has fewer of many weapons than in 1960. "Today's balance is not one you'd want to freeze," he said (see chart).

Christopher Lehman freeze rewards Soviets

2. "By preserving the Soviet's advantage, you eliminate their incentive to negotiate. . . . It would reward the Soviets for their massive buildup." Lehman and Broomfield cite two cases in point:

In the 1960s the U.S. proposed negotiations over anti-ballistic missiles. The Soviets declined, said Lehman, "until Congress in 1969 voted to build one. Only after that did the Soviets express a willingness to negotiate, and in 1972 we signed an ABM treaty."

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization decided to deploy the Pershing II and ground-launched cruise missiles. "Only after this did the Soviets become willing to negotiate reductions in these forces," Lehman said.

3. "A freeze isn't verifiable. You can produce nuclear weapons in a garage," said Lehman. "The president is promoting verifiability."

4. A freeze distracts from the "main event" — reduction of nuclear arms.

MICHIGAN'S ballot proposal is particularly bothersome to Lehman and Broomfield.

"As a sentiment for arms control, it's good," said Lehman. "As a specific direction for arms talks, it's not good. It's like junk food. It looks good, tastes good, but it's not very good for you."

"It's the way you word it," said Broomfield. "If people were asked to freeze weapons at a level that would put the U.S. at a disadvantage. . . ."

Broomfield, who has been in conference with the White House and senior disarmament negotiators, said the Soviet line to Europeans today is "freeze, freeze, freeze."

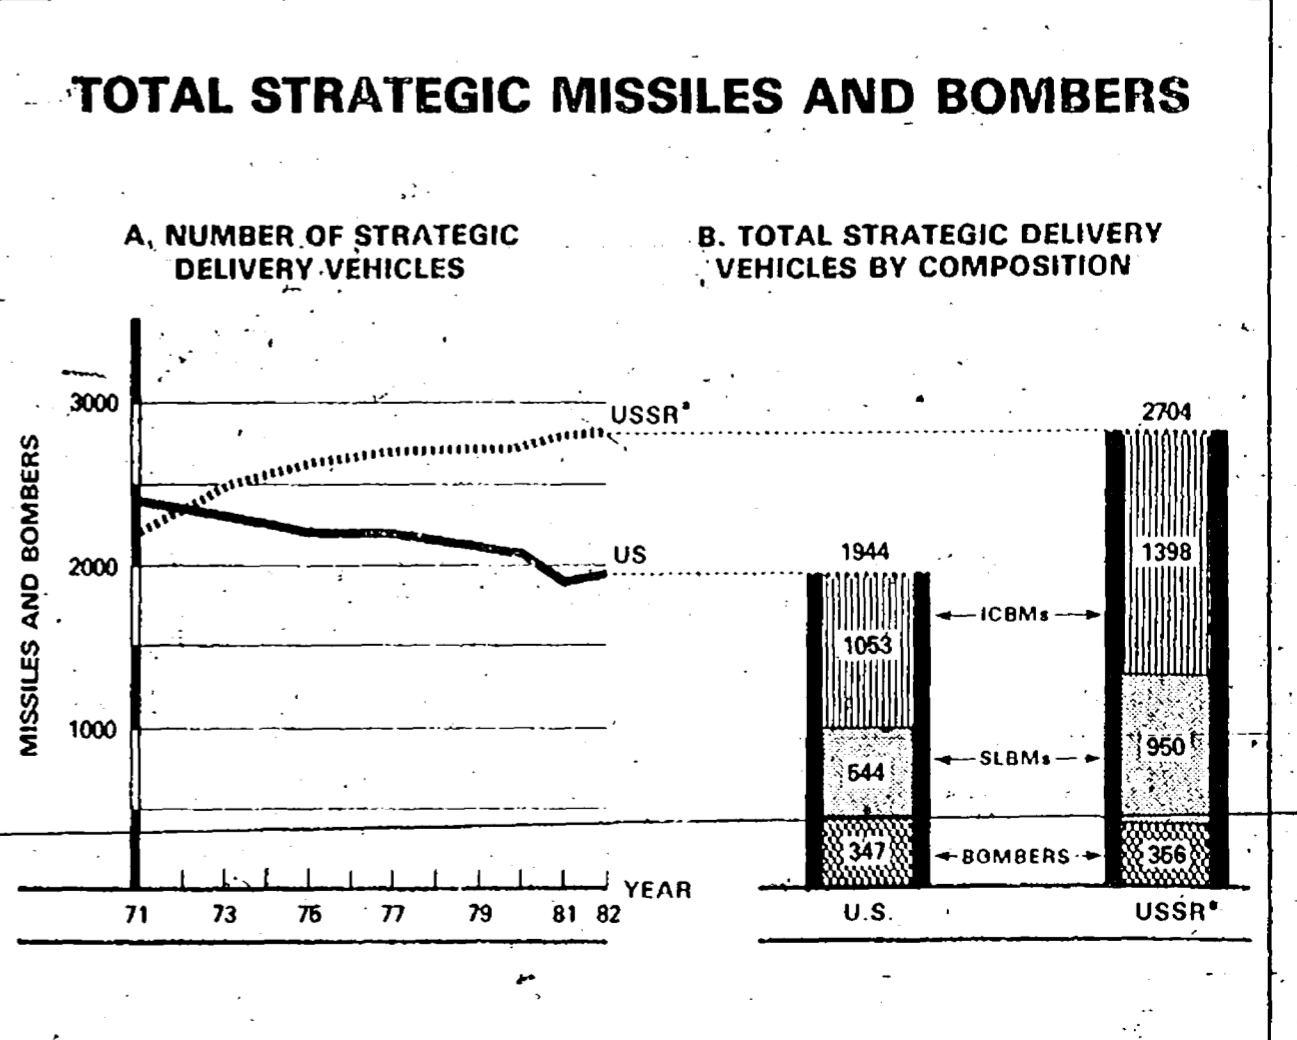

LEHMAN, who has two master of arts degrees (international relations and law and diplomacy), both from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, says the Reagan Administration is working in several areas to negotiate arms controls. Items:

- "Negotiations with the Soviets in Geneva on intermediate-range nuclear forces. The president's goal is the total elimination of land-based intermediate-range missiles."

- "Negotiations with the Soviets on reduction of strategic nuclear weapons, particularly those weapons which most threaten each side's ability to retaliate." These are the START (for Strategic Arms Reductions Talks) which began June 29.

INDEED, Lehman makes a case for building up U.S. defenses until arms reductions are negotiated.

"The policy of deterrence has been tried and true for 37 years," he said. "It has given its longest peace in two centuries. The de-

(a) USSR figures include strategic missiles and BEAR, BISON and BACKFIRE bombers; the BACKFIRE bomber has been included in this figure because it has an inherent intercontinental capability. Source: U.S. Department of State.

Madonna has Milk Run, Family Day Oct. 10

Madonna College will hold its second annual 10,000-meter Milk Run and its third annual Family Day Sunday, Oct. 10.

The Milk run will begin at 10 a.m. and a one-mile fun run also is planned for people interested in a shorter event.

The two runs provide openers for the Family Day, which also will include mass at 12:30 p.m., a variety of musical entertainment, an art exhibit and the annual Felician Sisters' boutique.

Food and beverages will be available all day.

Marrilee Hoag, athletic director at the four-year college, said she has received Milk Run registrations from throughout the southeastern Michigan area.

"We had a good crowd last year, the first time we held the race, and this year looks like it will be even larger," she said.

The race will start at the college, corner of I-96 and Levan in Livonia, and will run on and around the 49-acre area that contains the college, St. Mary Hospital, Ladywood High School and the Felician Motherhouse.

Hoag said the 6.2-mile race will be well-staffed with water stations and emergency medical personnel. Timers will be positioned along the scenic route.

Registration is 8-9:30 a.m. the day of the race and costs $8, which includes a Milk Run T-shirt and a complimentary drink after the race.

Hoag said there will be many age categories with gift certificates donated from local sporting goods stores awarded to the winners in each.

The race was named the Milk Run because the campus is on what was prime dairyland.

Chorale offers luncheon show

The Suburban Chorale of Livonia will sing a variety of songs at its fall luncheon show at 2 p.m. Oct. 17 at the Plymouth Hilton.

Guests artists will be featured along with a magic show. The event is co-sponsored by the Livonia Department of Parks and Recreation.

Tickets at $12 may be obtained by calling Lorraine Pyle at 493-1748 or Vada Matheny at 427-9563.

Adkins mark 25 years wed

Floyd and Margaret Adkins will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary at a party given for them by their children, followed by a second honeymoon in Las Vegas.

Adkins works at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia. The couple has four children, David, Karen and Janet Adkins of Livonia and Michael Adkins of St. Louis, Mo.

An Alaskan happily-ever-after

"Don't leave the wedding dress on the plane," the man of our house cautioned me as we bid goodbye at the airport.

Not a chance, I assured him. And the small suitcase with its chiffon and lace contents never was out of my sight as I flew northwest to Minneapolis, then Seattle, and finally into Anchorage for an experience I'm not likely to forget.

Our youngest daughter, the caboose of our all-girl family, was to be married before the week was out to a man we hadn't met, in a place that until recently had been only pictures in geography and travel books.

Distance and time meant I was the lone representative of the "outside," a term I soon learned is Alaskans' description of rest of the world. But I had with me a most important wedding ingredient, the bridal gown that had kept me at the sewing machine most spare moments in recent weeks.

THE DRESS fit perfectly, we were delighted to discover. But, far more important, so did the rest of the situation I flew north to meet.

I liked immediately the young man who was almost our son-in-law. I could understand our daughter's decision to marry him after an acquaintance that seems so short.

I felt completely comfortable with his family as I stayed in their home and joined in their all-out preparations to host the wedding reception. I felt deep appreciation for the way they were taking our daughter into their hearts and lives.

I enjoyed meeting the kids' friends and was grateful for that supportive community.

And without much chance to explore, I began to understand the lure of our northernmost state for these people. I could see how our youngest, after picking Alaska as the place she wanted to serve, with the Air Force, was now looking forward to making it her home. I was assenting eagerly as our new "family" told me they looked forward to welcoming their son's new in-laws for a longer visit next summer.

THE WEDDING was a beautiful moment in time. I'll always remember how lovely our daughter looked, and every minute I had spent on the dress seemed worth it. I'll remember the way her husband smiled at her, and the strong "I promise" as he spoke his vows.

The trip home seemed longer than the trip northward. I knew I'd miss these people, even while looking forward to next summer. Alaska seemed very far away.

But I came home confident our daughter and her husband are beginning a good life together. I guess there isn't much more a mother can ask.

Hendricks-Miller

Ann Frances Miller, daughter of Joe and Margaret Miller of Northville, formerly of Farmington, became the bride of John Leonard Hendricks in an afternoon ceremony Sept. 18 in Peters Creek Chapel, Peters Creek, Alaska.

The bridegroom is the son of William and Jean Knowlton of Chugiak, Alaska. Officiating for the ceremony was the Rev. Michael Finizio, pastor of Calvary Chapel of Anchorage.

Cheryl Childers was the bride's maid of honor, and the bridegroom's brother, Kenneth H. Hendricks, was best man. A reception in the home of the bridegroom's parents followed the ceremony, and the couple went to the Kenai Peninsula for a short honeymoon.

The bride is a 1979 graduate of Farmington High School and is serving in the U.S. Air Force, working as a histological technician at Elmendorf AFB Hospital. The bridegroom graduated from Chugiak High School in 1978 and is employed by EnStar Natural Gas, Anchorage.

They will make their home in Anchorage.

Nuclear freeze troubles aide

terrent balance is the best hope of preventing nuclear war."

But since the Vietnam war, he argues, the U.S. has actually cut back its defenses and weakened its deterrent abilities.

"We have fewer submarine missiles than in the '60s.

"We have fewer bombers than in the '60s.

"We slowed down in hopes of achieving arms control. Our MX missiles are 15 years old. Our B52 bombers, if they were cars, would qualify for antique license plates.

"We've built only one new missile sub in the last 15 years while the Soviets have built 60.

"A FREEZE would prevent replacement of aging and vulnerable U.S. systems. That's stupid. "Some 77 percent of Soviet nuclear delivery vehicles are under 15 years old, while 77 percent of U.S. nuclear delivery vehicles are over 15 years old."

Taking note of American rallies favoring a freeze, Lehman noted wryly: "I'm surprised we don't have people demonstrating about Soviet use of chemical and biological weapons in Southeast Asia. There were fewer demonstrations when the Soviets went into Afghanistan, Angola, Laos."

Honoring women in politics

The future of women politicians in this state may be brighter as a result of a reception last week sponsored by the Michigan Women's Political Caucus. Proceeds from the event, attended by about 350 people, will be used to start other women's caucuses throughout the state, said Alice Gundersen, Livonia councilwoman and co-chair of the Michigan caucus.

The reception, in Trappers' Alley at Greektown in Detroit, honored Martha Griffiths, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor and former U.S. congresswoman; Elly Peterson, former Republican state chairwoman, and Mildred Jeffrey, former Democratic national committee woman and a Democratic candidate for the Wayne State University Board of Governors.

Also honored but unable to attend were Gov. William and Helen Milliken.

Kathy Wilson, chair of the National Women's Political Caucus (NWPC), cited the Millikens continued support of women's issues.

The reception was the culmination of the NWPC steering committee meeting held last weekend in the Pontchartrain Hotel.

Members of the 2nd District caucus, which includes Livonia, Plymouth, Redford Township and Farmington, served as guides to the historical Trappers Alley. They were joined by members of the Western Michigan Caucus in Grand Rapids.

Hors d'oeuvres, flowers, music and the security force were supplied by women business owners. A variety of ethnic canapes were provided by Margrit Schumacher of Southfield while flowers were supplied by Laura Toy and Colleen Siembor, owners of Cardwell Florist in Livonia. Force One Security of Centerline which is owned by Suzanne Norwick provided guards. The musicians, members of the Plymouth Symphony, were led by Kim Borgert of Livonia.

Elly Peterson, former chair of the Michigan GOP, and Mildred Jeffrey, Democratic candidate for the WSU Board of Governors, were among the women leaders honored Saturday by the Michigan Women's Political Caucus.

About 75 elected officials and candidates for local, state and national office were on hand at last Saturday's reception.

Martha Griffiths, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, gets a warm welcome from Jimmy Katz, a Livonia resident and member of the League of Women Voters while Sharon Sarris, co-chair of the 2nd District Women's Political Caucus looks on.

About 350 people munched on hors d'oeuvres, sipped wine and mingled with the more than 100 candidates for political office attending Saturday's reception in Trappers' Alley.

Second runs Tom Panzenhagen

"Stagecoach" (1939), 8 p.m. today in the Fine Arts Building, Orchard Ridge Campus, Oakland Community College, phone 476-9400, $2. Running time 99 minutes.

Airplanes and luxury liners are the vehicles of misfortune in latter-day disaster films. But for director John Ford, the Stagecoach — a symbol of the burgeoning American frontier — served as the instrument of adversity. "Stagecoach," like its genre successors, brings together personalities from various walks of life and pits them against seemingly insurmountable odds, this time an Indian attack. There's an ex-con, a prostitute, a drunken doctor, a gambler, crooked banker and grizzled stagecoach driver, all of whom share the same appointment with destiny aboard the microcosmic stagecoach.

John Wayne, Claire Trevor, Andy Devine, Thomas Mitchell, John Carradine, Louise Platt and George Bancroft star. And for those who enjoy a bit of intellectual stimulation along with their amusement, think of the stagecoach, and its passengers, as symbols of contemptible modernity relentlessly winding their way across John Ford's pristine West.

Rating: $3.20.
"Stormy Weather" (1943), 7:30 and 10 p.m. Saturday at Cass City Cinema, 4605 Cass at Forest, phone 832-6309, $2. Running time 77 minutes.
The plot line, acting and directing have B-movie written all over them, but "Stormy Weather" is more of a must-see film than a B-film because of its music. Lena Horne, Fats Waller, Cab Calloway, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson and the Nicholas Brothers star, and the songs include "Stormy Weather," "Ain't Misbehavin'" and "I Can't Give You Anything But Love, Baby."

Rating: $3.15.

"National Lampoon's Animal House" (1978), 9 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 4. Originally 109 minutes.
Director John Landis, who's given us such schlock as "Schlock" (1976), "Kentucky Fried Movie" (1977) and "Animal House," more recently made headlines for another of his disasters. He was the director in charge when a helicopter killed actor Vic Morrow and two children on the set of a new Lucas-Spielberg film. If only the blades had shredded Landis' work, instead.

Rating: $1.98.

Jazz drummer gives workshop, concert

Two Detroit-area performers are appearing in the Michigan Ensemble Theatre production of Garson Kanin's "Born Yesterday" at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre in the Michigan League, Ann Arbor.

J.C. Heard

They are John A. Roberts of Plymouth and Joyce Feuring of Franklin. He plays Senator Hedges and she plays the senator's wife.

Preview performances, which began Wednesday, continue at 8 tonight. Other evening performances will be at 8 p.m. Friday-Sunday and Oct. 14-16, with a matinee at 2 p.m. Oct. 17.

For reservations and other information call the Professional Theatre Program Ticket Office in Ann Arbor at 764-0450. Group rates for 20 or more, as well as senior discounts, are available.

Vaudeville revue plays at True Grist theater

"Giggles Galore" vaudeville revue continues a four-week engagement at True Grist restaurant and dinner theater in Homer.

The show plays Thursday-Sunday evenings. Reservations may be made by calling 517-568-4151.

Spotlighting the Mercer Brothers, "Giggles" runs the gamut from soft-shoe routines to comic sketches. Pretty girls, a dancing horse routine and a patriotic finale are a sampling of the entertainment in "Giggles Galore."

A new comedian, Jim Cook, has joined the troupe since its last appearance at True Grist, and many new routines have been added to the show.

"Giggles Galore" plays in the Mill's "Warehouse" Banquet Room as cabaret theater. Dinner is not included, although patrons may dine in the Bin Room Restaurant before the show.

Ward Church to host national singles meet

More than 1000 singles from all over the country are expected in Livonia Oct. 13-17 for two gatherings to be sponsored by Single Point, a ministry of Ward Presbyterian Church.

Most will attend a national conference the weekend of Oct. 15-17. It will have workshops geared to probing the problems and joys of living as a single.

Special guests leading workshops include Jim Smoke of Hollywood Presbyterian Church, Dr. Frank Freed, clinical psychologist from Orange, Calif., Bud and Kathy Pearson, ministers at Orange Coast Community Church at Orange, and Kaaren Witte, author of the book "Great Leaps in a Single Bound."

Others are Janice Barfield, an airlines flight attendant who wrote a book titled "You Can't Fly but that Cocoon Has Got to Go" and David Diles, local telecaster.

on the way to develop a singles ministry.

Leaders for that intensified study will be Timm and Karen Jackson, Ward's staff ministry team to single adults, and Deric Johnson, founder of Re'Generation, a professional, musical ensemble and minister to single adults at Frazer Memorial United Methodist Church at Montgomery, Ala.

Also sharing in leadership of workshops for the singles conference will be Dr. Bartlett L. Hess, Edward Davis and Marjle Smith of the Ward staff, Margaret Hess, wife of the senior pastor and Bible teacher, and leaders of Single Point including Nora Schroeder, Mary Randolph and Patrick Connor.

Events will take place in Ward Church, Farmington Road and Six Mile, Livonia.

years, indicates that "a lot more people are opting for the single life," he said.

"We have between 600 and 800 singles involved in our ministry every week," Jackson noted, "and there are 3,000 on our mailing list. Since June 1, about 800 new people have signed up."

The workshops, he added, are designed to address singles concerns and "help them cope with singleness."

Smoke, he said, will lead workshops on "Building Walls or Building Bridges," and "Healing the Hurts — Blinding the Wounds." Freed's discussion groups will be titled "Becoming Your Own Best Friend" and "How to Act — Not React."

Single parenting, remarriage, dressing for success, singles newsletters, stress, career development, the "Barbie Doll" generation and money will be topics of other workshops.

Common Bond, a musical group affiliated with the local ministry, will provide a special concert.

Conference events will begin at 11 a.m. Friday and go on that day through a 10 p.m. mixer. On Saturday, the schedule runs 7:30 a.m. to evening, and on Sunday participants will begin with worship at Ward Church and finish after dinner at 2 p.m.

The leadership conference will run from registration at 10 a.m. Wednesday through luncheon at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

THE CONFERENCE is geared for singles aged 20 to 60-plus. The fee is $70 for the weekend schedule or 40 for Saturday events only. The leadership congress costs $125. Registrations should be received by Oct. 8, and questions may be addressed to Single Point Ministries, 17000 Farmington Road, Livonia, 48154.

Guest speaker Smoke is well known for divorce recovery workshops he has led around the country. His sessions offered guidance in matters like coping with practical things, putting the exposure in perspective and being a single parent.

He formerly was senior staff minister at the 9,000-member Garden Grove Community Church in Garden Grove, Calif.

Freed heads Town & Country Psychological Services at Orange and is known as a lecturer and workshop speaker.

The Pearsons have been ministers to single adults before assuming their present ministry. They are parents of a reconstructed family and frequently lead workshops on remarriage and family problems.

Timm and Karen Jackson, residents of Garden City and parents of two daughters, have served together in specialized ministries ranging from missions involvements in Puerto Rico to youth work in the Wesleyan and Nazarene denominations.

Timm Jackson joined the Ward staff several years ago, and his wife has worked with him in the Single Point program.

Vigil at St. Mary

There were tears and prayers for the souls of those killed in the Bierut massacre when several hundred gathered outside St. Mary Antiochian Orthodox Church of Livonia for a candlelight vigil last week. Prayers led by the Rev. George Shalhoub also were for those in Palestinian refugee camps and for Lebanese who have lost their lives in the Middle East fighting. "Enough, enough of bloodshed," the local priest told those who stood with candles in their hands.

church bulletin

- DIVINE SAVIOR CATHOLIC
Bishop Walter J. Schoenherr will be the principal of the co-celebrated Mass of thanksgiving to be held at 8 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9 in Divine Savior Church, 39375 Joy, Westland. It is the first of many events in honor of the 10th anniversary of the church. Among the special events scheduled for the coming year will be an anniversary dinner dance.
- Assisting Bishop Schoenherr at the ceremony will be the Rev. Alexander Kuras and Deacon Paul Pelchat.
- Divine Savior was founded in the spring of 1972 as "the Catholic community along Joy Road." The name Divine Savior was later chosen, and official recognition as a parish was granted in the summer of 1973. Kuras succeeded the Rev. Gerald Flannery as pastor in June 1980.
- ST. EDITH CATHOLIC
A special peace Mass will be held at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 13 in St. Edith Church, 15089 Newburgh, Livonia. It will be planned by St. Edith Pax Christi. The Rev. Joe Mulligan will speak during the event, with the theme of the liturgy being how much those in this country waste as contrasted with members of Third World nations. Following the Mass he will discuss the living conditions in these nations as he experienced them. A film will be incorporated into the talk.
- DETROIT LAESTADIAN CONGREGATION
Three guest speakers will participate in the annual fall services and youth days Oct. 8-10 at the Detroit Laestadian Congregation, 290 Fairground, Plymouth. On the program will be Dr. James Keplinger of Marquette, Mich. and James Frantti of Calumet, Mich., and Eric Laho of Minneapolis.
- A discussion concerning youth and children's activities is scheduled on Saturday. Services will take place at 7:30 p.m. Friday and 6 p.m. Saturday. On Sunday they will be at 2:30 and 6:30 p.m.
- CHRIST OUR SAVIOR LUTHERAN
The family education and fellowship ministry will be inaugurated Sunday at Christ Our Savior Lutheran Church, 14175 Farmington Road, Livonia. At 7:30 p.m. the Rev. Paul Faust will speak on "Joy and Partnership," a presentation on stewardship and evangelism.
- Prior to his talk, at 6:30 p.m. there will be a kraut-kielbasa supper. For the children, a movie, "Stolen Watermelon," will be shown. Baby sitting will be provided.
- ST. PAUL PRESBYTERIAN
Twenty-three teenagers from the Presbytery of Detroit will present a musical play called "Free To Be You and Me" at 6:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Paul Presbyterian Church, Five Mile at Inkster, Livonia. Using a combination of song, dance, mime, skits and visual aids, the production tries to explain adult feelings concerning sexual and racial bias, brother and sister relationships, generation gaps and the responsibilities of being a free individual.
- Serving as directors of the show are Patricia Hutchison, director of music at St. Paul, and Jeffrey Charles Vellis, a former student at Bentley High School. Jim Walters, also a Bentley graduate, is accompanist.
- Involved as actors or crew members are residents of Garden City and Livonia. From Garden City are Lisa and Lori Pressey. From Livonia are Matthew Aron, Renee Butler, Al Duncan, John Findley, Seanna Hannan, Ron Moon, Lisa Sjelski and Lisa Tomey.
- WESLEY EVANGELICAL
A film about the persecution of Christians under state atheism will be presented at 6 p.m. Sunday in Wesley Evangelical Church, 30669 Cherry Hill, Inkster. Called "To Russia With Love," the movie depicts the ministry of underground evangelism based in Los Angeles. It is a missionary outreach program to Christians in communist lands.
- According to the Rev. Joe Bass, president of the group, "Our cameraman was able to lose himself in the vast tourist crowds of Moscow, and go his way unchallenged and unmolested."
- CHRIST THE GOOD SHEPHERD LUTHERAN
The Ladies Guild of Christ the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church, 42690 Cherry Hill, Canton, have scheduled a rummage and bake sale from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 9.
- CHRISTUS VICTOR LUTHERAN
Coping with aging parents is the topic of a six-week workshop to be held starting Monday, Oct. 11 in Christus Victor Lutheran Church, 25535 Ford, between Beech Daley and Gully, Dearborn Heights. Hours are 7:30-9:30 p.m. Cost of the course is $10.
- The instructor will be Audrey Wasserman, a social worker with Well-Being Service for the Aging in Detroit.
- Dealing with parents is one of the key crisis points of middle age. This course is designed to provide support and suggestions for getting through it.
- Pre-registration is required. Call the church office at 278-8878.

Wing Jin will speak

Wing F. Jin, evangelical minister and gospel singer, will be guest speaker at the Friday, Oct. 15 dinner meeting of the Northville-Plymouth-Livonia Chapter of the Full Gospel Businessmen's Fellowship in Sweden House, Farmington.

The meeting is a 8 p.m. following dinner.

Put peaceful toys beneath yule tree

I was never permitted to have them. And I can't remember our children having them. But if the stores are going to sell Christmas toys this year, there will be more children with toys modeled after the instruments of war. That is, unless adults buy them for their own use and pleasure.

War toys have not been very popular in the recent past. There was a reaction to the whole notion of war following our experience in Vietnam. We wanted to separate ourselves from everything that reminded us of that debacle.

THE INCREASING incidence of terror has changed that. From the experience of having our nation held hostage by a sullen band of fanatics, to the prospects of terrorists operating in our cities, we have turned to the deliberate use of raw and brutalizing power.

Drawing the young and younger into the set of mind and heart that determines to meet naked violence with naked violence is most unfortunate.

Before they have fully explored the joy and meaning of acceptance and love, they are being encouraged to eliminate and obliterate.

Dressing up these instruments of violence in uniform and flag makes it very difficult for anyone to resist. Practice may improve marksmanship, but giving the young increasing opportunities to practice warfare is not the path to the enrichment of our national character.

THERE IS no doubt that we need military forces to protect our shores and national interests. But only the tempered mind and knowing heart should be enlisted in that noble cause.

In many ways we acknowledge our responsibility to the young. We see in them a way to effect the world to which we aspire. We give ourselves to educate, nurture and enrich them in the way of justice, life and love.

That's why it is so frightening to see how we jeopardize that with toys and games that violently shred the fabric of public life. Glamorizing the instruments of death before one learns the meaning of life can only hasten the day of catastrophe. The young deserve a better break than that.

Breaking away

Running back Chris Lewis of Livonia Franklin League clash. Franklin remained unbeaten with slips by a would-be North Farmington tackler a 20-0 victory. For a preview of weekend games, during last Saturday's Northwest Suburban turn to Page 4c.

Top teams duel tonight

LIVONIA BENTLEY 2 FARMINGTON 0

Pete Lomas and Dennis Patchett teamed up for both goals as Bentley raised its season mark Tuesday to 3-4-1 overall.

Lomas, on an assist from Patchett, scored midway through the first half. Lomas then scored in the second half on assist from Patchett.

Goalie Jeff Wilkinson stopped 10 shots for the shutout.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN 2 PLYMOUTH CANTON 0

The Patriots overcame a 2-0 deficit at intermission to earn its second tie of the season Tuesday afternoon.

Gerald McWilliams keyed the comeback with two goals. Dan O'Shea assisted on McWilliams' first and Mike Mood assisted on the second with 10 minutes left in the match.

Tom Wright had two goals for Canton in the first half.

Franklin goalie Bob Dickerson stopped 16 shots. Canton netminder Tim Butzow stopped 17.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 2 BIRM. BROTHER RICE 0

Steve DeMattos had a goal and an assist to propel the Shamrocks past arch-rival Rice Saturday afternoon.

CC is now 8-2-1 overall. DeMattos' goal, unassisted, came in the first half. He later assisted on Tom Cormille's second-half goal.

The Shamrocks had a 12-7 edge in shots. Goalie Bob Sinnaeve posted his fourth shutout.

DEAR, EDESEL FORD 4 GARDEN CITY 2

Jeff Fells and Gary Even's first-half goals were not enough Monday as the Cougars dropped to 3-5-1 on the season.

Host Edsel, which lost earlier in the season to Garden City, drilled 16 shots at the Cougar net.

Five Garden City starters were benched for missing practice last week.

Area marathoners impressive

By C.J. Risak and Brad Emons staff writers

Dave Hinz didn't take the day off Monday. He got up early and ran his five miles, then ran another six that evening.

A pretty heavy workout — especially since the Canton-resident raced the day before in the 26-mile, 385-yard Free Press International Marathon.

He not only raced, he won.

Hinz passed his training partner, Mike Burns, near the 19-mile mark and was never threatened afterward, finishing the course in 2 hours, 17:41. It was his first marathon victory ever and the biggest win of his career.

"I've won my share of road races," Hinz said. "But I was long overdue for this one. I was beginning to wonder if I would ever win one."

HINZ and Burns, who train together in Ann Arbor at least once a week, deliberately did not discuss strategy. Hinz said until after the marathon.

"I wanted to run easy, settle into a pace of about 5:10 per mile," Hinz said. "My object was to get to the 15-18 mile mark as comfortably as possible. Then, after about 21 or 22 miles, I was going to try to run away from him (Burns)."

It didn't quite work out that way for Hinz. The heat hit him "at about 16 or 17 miles" and he started dropping back.

He trailed Burns by 40 or 50 yards, but Burns wasn't pulling away. So Hinz decided to close the gap.

He did so, quicker than he anticipated, catching Burns after only a quarter-mile. Hinz realized that "he started to fade and I picked up the pace at virtually the same time."

HINZ THOUGHT they would run together for awhile, but Burns fell back and the race was Hinz's. Burns collapsed from dehydration before getting up to finish third in 2:22:07.

Hinz, a 29-year-old insurance salesman, has his goals. "I think I probably have a lot of improving to do. It's just a question of how long I can sustain (the training)."

The Olympic trials are first on Hinz's list. He ran in the 1980 trials and finished 35th. "It takes eight to 10 years to develop the cardiovascular system for marathoning," Hinz said, adding that he is in his sixth year of marathon training.

SEVERAL OTHER runners chugged to prominent finishes.

Tim Fox of Southfield took second in 2:17:41.

The biggest surprise was 29-year-old Don Andersen of Garden City. He finished fifth in 2:24:05.

An Allied Van Lines truck driver and mover, Andersen had been training exclusively for the triathlon until the Racquets Unlimited Etonic Racing Team of Livonia called two weeks ago and offered to sponsor his run.

"I'm on cloud nine because I did so much better than expected," said the West High School graduate. "I was really, really surprised. I expected to run at about 2:30. I was six minutes faster."

"I was doing about 60 miles a week, but the last two weeks I was doing around 90 to 100. It was a gift from God."

Andersen, who has been running for 15 years, finished second in the Motor City Marathon in 1975 and ran at Boston in 1973.

John Gores, a 32-year-old Westland resident, finished 25th (2:34:13) overall for the Racquets Unlimited team. Gores, who suffered from pneumonia most of the summer, used the marathon as a training run.

ANOTHER Racquets Unlimited teammate, Gary Wolfram of Canton, also incorporated the event as a training run and finished 63rd in the 4,300-runner field with a time of 2:41:31. Churchill High School graduate Tobin Jones was 569th in 3:11:33. It was his first marathon.

"We're more of a 10,000-meter team," said Wolfram, a UM-Dearborn economics professor, "but by spring we might be able to handle a faster marathon."

Glenn subs clip Eagle gridders

Craig Thornton and Frank Sprinkle are pretty good guys to have around. The two filled a void for the injured Todd Jennings as Westland John Glenn routed winless Redford Thurston Saturday afternoon in a Northwest Suburban League football game, 35-0.

Jennings, a standout senior tailback and kicker, was held out of the game because of a sore shoulder.

Thornton, a junior, made the most of his opportunity by scoring three touchdowns and rushing for 156 yards in 28 carries.

Sprinkle, meanwhile, was successful on all five extra point attempts.

Glenn, unbeaten in four starts, enjoyed a 28-0 halftime lead.

Sports, song strike perfect pitch

I have this theory.

I figure the day after the first athletic contest was played, the first song was written. It wasn't written to document the event that preceded it, rather, it existed as an integral part of the happening.

Although sports can live without music, and vice versa, the two complement each other very well. Some film clips of sporting events have been put together with music, and the results have been astounding.

I'm sure many NFL football fans, at one time or another, have seen the film clips of Chicago Bears running back Walton Payton. Payton slices, dodges, dances and leaps toward the end zone as Carly Simon's recording of "Nobody does it better" complements the video.

Teams have adopted songs to serve as their theme. The World Champion Pittsburgh Pirates of the 1979 baseball season made headlines with their "We Are Family" motif.

Of course, sometimes the pairing is not always harmonious, as the Detroit Lions witnessed when their 1980 theme, "Another One Bites the Dust" blew up in their face.

MY THEORY is most evident at boxing matches anywhere in this country. The main event never begins without music signaling that the festivities are about to begin.

Case in point: The Thomas Hearns-Jose Piping Cuevas World Welterweight Championship fight in Joe Louis Arena in August 1980. The hometown crowd was buzzing as they awaited the entrance of Hearns, the local hero. A simple entrance just wouldn't do.

The lights dimmed and the crowd roared. A spotlight hit the hallway where the Hearns' entourage began to make its way to the ring. Of course, the theme song from the movie "Rocky" echoed through the arena as the thundering applause shook the rafters.

Almost on cue, the music reached the peak of its crescendo as Hearns split the Friday night, I got a kick out of the Troy High band, which welcomed the visiting Birmingham Seaholm spectators with Pat Benatar's "Hit Me With Your Best Shot." The Seaholm football team did just that, and consequently, defeated the Colts, 19-7, to move into sole possession of first place in the Southeastern Michigan Association.

ropes of the ring and danced around the canvas. You could feel the adrenalin pumping. I was even ready to jump in there and take on Cuevas myself!

The fight lasted less than two rounds as Hearns dropped the champion face first on the canvas. Instantly, the song, "Ain't No Stoppin' Us Now" came across the sound system.

THE "ROCKY" theme has since been replaced by "Eye of the Tiger," the theme song by Survivor from Rocky III. Milton McCrory, Detroit's No. 1 ranked welterweight, has the Diana Ross song, "I'm Coming Out" playing as he makes his entrance.

I'll bet every bar with a jukebox has Queen's "We Are the Champions," on its list of selections, just to satisfy the softball teams who celebrate each divisional championship while slugging down their favorite brew.

Other examples include Kenny Loggins' song, "This is It," which NBC television adopted as its theme song for the NCAA College Basketball Championship tournament. That song has since been played by many teams prior to championship games in other sports, at all levels.

In the recent Baltimore Orioles-Milwaukee Brewers baseball series in Baltimore, the Orioles were fighting for the Eastern Division championship. Fitting enough, the song which was played during that series was "Stayin' Alive," by the Bee Gees.

SPORTS AND songs, what a combination. You have to have the right chemistry, however, to make it effective. Singers like Dan Fogelberg, who might have the appropriate score during the floor exercise in gymnastics meet, just can't cut it on the football field.

So now, with apologies to such pioneers as Abner Doubleday, James Nat Smith, John Phillip Sousa and others who may take offense, I salute the tandem of sports and song with some possible themes:

The Brother Rice football team, a powerful force for many years, is off to a 2-2 start this season. The Warriors can use Stevie Woods' recent hit, "You Just Can't Win 'em All," as their fight song.

How about Birmingham Groves and Avondale, two grind 'em out football teams who would rather rush than pass. They could shake the light poles as the bands blast out "Born to Run" by Bruce Springsteen.

My next suggestion is a natural, and probably not an original idea. For the Plymouth Salem marching band, play Simon and Garfunkle's popular tune, "I Am a Rock," as a salute to the school's moniker.

In CC-Rice football clash

Boys Bowl, league title at stake

It's that time again in the Catholic League's Central Division.

Perennial powers Detroit Catholic Central and Birmingham Brother Rice will tangle Saturday at Rynearson Stadium in Ypsilanti. The winner should go on and capture the division and a Catholic League playoff berth.

CC, now 3-1 overall and 2-0 in league play, set up the showdown with a convincing 31-7 victory over previously unbeaten Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher Saturday at Livonia Clarenceville High School.

The Shamrocks jumped out to a 24-7 halftime lead and never looked back. Jeff Gatt scored CC's first TD on a four-yard run in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Shaun Riney's interception set up a 29-yard Tom Malone field goal. Riney picked off another pass later in the game.

CC scored again before halftime on a 21-yard run by Gatt and a 20-yard TD pass from Malone to Scott Ronan.

In the fourth quarter, Gatt raced 66 yards to close out the CC scoring. The Shamrocks rolled up 319 yards rushing as Gatt accounted for 153 in 14 carries. Teammate Jeff Alcalá added 130 yards in 18 attempts.

Gallagher had only 58 yards on the ground and 156 in the air. The Lancers scored their only touchdown on a 66-yard bomb.

BIRM. BROTHER RICE 14 BISHOP BORGESS 0

The Spartans of Bishop Borgess can relate to the Spartans of Michigan State — good defense, but no offense.

Borgess was held without a first down Saturday in a 14-0 loss to Birmingham Brother Rice.

"We're just not executing offensively," said Borgess coach Gary Cook, whose team fell to 1-3 overall. "On a lot of plays we were one block away from a big play."

Rice scored on a 10-yard TD pass from Mike Baughman to John Henry. The Warriors (2-2) put the game away with five minutes to go on a five-yard TD run by Mike Boroski.

"We didn't attempt to throw that much because we had terrible field position," said Cook. "We didn't have a chance to develop anything."

Borgess played without its top tackle, Jim Bennett, who missed the game because of bronchitis. Nose guard Jim Holdscraw was also out with a knee injury.

"I'm very pleased with the defense," said Cook. "Brother Rice had 190 yards in 58 plays. That's pretty respectable." Borgess travels Sunday to meet Harper Woods Notre Dame.

"They're in the same situation we are — we're both very young," Cook said. "The important thing this week is pass defense. They throw more than they have in the past."

REDFORD ST. AGATHA 27 DET. ST. ANDREW 0

The Aggies, ranked No. 5 in Class C by the Detroit News, romped to their fourth straight victory Saturday over Detroit St. Andrew.

Agatha scored a touchdown in each period. Quarterback John Orzech's 15-yard option run in the first quarter gave Agatha a six-point lead. Tracy Tonti's two-yard TD run and the subsequent extra point increased the advantage to 14-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter, David Lewis located the end zone after a 13-yard run and Orzech capped the scoring in the final quarter with a 15-yard TD pass to Andy Robertson.

Lewis carried for 81 of Agatha's 197 yards on the ground. Tonti added 49 yards. Orzech hit three of five passes for 48 yards.

Meanwhile, Agatha's defense held St. Andrew to just one first down.

The Aggies will travel Saturday to Orchard Lake St. Mary's for a Catholic League C-D Division C-bracket showdown. Pontiac Catholic visits Agatha Oct. 16.

"I said at the beginning that one of the three of us will win it," said Agatha coach John Goddard. "We play two real good football teams the next two weeks. St. Mary's is a young team, but well-coached."

"We're starting 19 seniors. If we win it (the division), it's got to be now." The game begins at 1 p.m. Saturday.

Shamrocks, RU, Blazers stretch out

Depth continues to be the key as Detroit Catholic Central, the state's No. 1 ranked Class A cross country team, won the 17-team Haslett Invitational last weekend.

For the Shamrocks, who scored 38 points, it was their third invitational crown. Okemos was second with 96 points and Brighton was third with 112.

CC's top finishers were Steve Shaver, second place, 16:33; Paul Buchanan, third, 16:36; Tom Zakrzewski, fourth, 16:44; Marty Hegarty, 11th, 16:50, and Phil Schmitt, 18th, 17:03.

Lansing Eastern's Dennis Dobbs was first overall in 16:29.

On Monday at Cass Benton Park, CC ran its dual record to 4-0 with a 15-50 win over Redford Bishop Borgess.

CC won the its fourth straight dual meet Monday with a 15-50 triumph over Redford Bishop Borgess.

The Shamrocks captured their fourth straight dual meet Monday with a 15-50 victory over Redford Bishop Borgess at Cass Benton Park.

CC swept the first seven spots — Buchanan, 16:26; Steve Shaver, 16:27; Bob Shaver, 16:46; Mark Anderson, 16:57; Zakrzewski, 17:02; Jim Cauzillo, 17:14; and Schmitt, 17:16. Ray Brennan of Borgess was eighth in 17:19.

BORGESS' girls, meanwhile, remained unbeaten Tuesday with a 22-33 win over Harper Woods Regina at Bal-duck Park in Detroit.

Louise Shaheen crossed line first in 19:41. She was pursued by teammates Sherry Williams, third, 20:42; Barb Gross, fourth, 21:36; Kris Whise, fifth, 21:53; and Sherri Cook, ninth, 23:20.

At the Ferris State Invitational, Borgess was seventh out of 19 teams. Shaheen grabbed fifth place in 19:27 and Williams was 11th in 19:40.

REDFORD UNION'S girls were second among Class A teams Saturday at Pioneer Invitational at Buhr Park in Ann Arbor. Temperance-Bedford won the team title with 67 points followed by RU with 105. Brighton, led by Susan Clark's first place finish (17:45), was

cross country

third in the team standings.

Individually, RU's Angie Mogielski was third overall in 18:10 followed by teammates Kami Laird, 10th, 10:58; Cathy Koski, 13th, 19:06; Lisa Adamic, 37th, 20:04, and Tina Seyuin, 42nd, 20:10.

RU's boys were third at Pioneer with 147. Grosse Pointe North and Howell finished first and second, respectively, with 42 and 140 points.

The Panthers finished ahead of four other ranked teams.

4th quarter surge lifts Thurston girls

Laurie Mack registered her best game of the season as Redford Thurston downed Hazel Park Tuesday night in a non-league girls' basketball game, 55-39.

Thurston's record is now 5-4 overall. Mack, bothered by injuries at the beginning of the season, scored 19 points and hauled down 10 rebounds. She had eight points in the final period as Thurston put the game away with a 24-11 scoring outburst.

Cindy Isenegger added six points during the surge and finished with eight points. Ruth Arney contributed 14 points and 10 rebounds for the Eagles.

GARDEN CITY 61
BELLEVILLE 37

The Cougars won their seventh straight with a balanced scoring attack in the non-league victory Tuesday over the Tigers.

Angie Maggioncalda paced Garden City with 11 points and nine rebounds. Tammy Narramore had 11 points. Linda Webb and Karen Tankersley netted 10 apiece.

Garden City led 32-18 at the half. "We were much more consistent and shot the ball much better," said GC coach Jan Moore.

basketball

The Cougars' junior varsity squad also remained unbeaten with a 42-17 win.

LIVONIA-CHURCHILL 45
REDFORD UNION 40

The Chargers, who opened the season with six straight losses, won its third straight Tuesday as Amy Brow came through with four free throws and a field goal in the final 18 seconds.

Toni Richardson and Teri Evans each scored nine points for the winners. Richardson, who came off the bench, had eight points in the first half as Churchill enjoyed a 28-22 advantage.

Jeannette Marchand and Kathy Storvis combined for half of RU's points. The Panthers fell to 1-8 on the season.

"I'm really happy for the girls because they played good team basketball," said Churchill coach Don Albertson.

Athletic compositions become sweet music

SOME TEAMS are just perennial powers in certain sports, such as Farmington Our Lady of Mercy in football, Farmington Harrison in football, Salem in boys' and girls' basketball, Plymouth Canton in baseball, Livonia Stevenson in girls' swimming, Westland John Glenn, Rochester Adams and Plymouth Salem in wrestling, Detroit Country Day, Bloomfield Hills Lahser and Troy Athens in soccer.

The list goes on. But for those teams who top the charts year in and year out, the band Aerosmith has two songs which can be used to suit the team. Either "Same Old Song and Dance" or "Back in the Saddle."

For years, the Rochester Adams band could have been playing REO Speedwagon's "Ridin' the Storm Out" at football games, but this season, with the Highlander gridders off to a 4-0 start, Barry Marilow's "Could it Be Magic" may have a better impact.

There always are songs for the winners. But take note. For the optimist, REO has a song for you: "Our Time is Gonna Come."

North next for John Glenn

Other Rocket touchdowns were recorded by Tom Forchione (one-yard run) and Brian Grassell (15-yard pass from quarterback Jeff Hawley). Hawley hit seven of 15 passes for 83 yards. Glenn rushers accounted for 245 yards.

THURSTON never threatened in the game and managed only 23 yards total offense against the stern Rocket defense, which recorded its second straight shutout.

Jennings, who had over 200 yards in his first two outings, is expected to play Friday night when Glenn entertains North Farmington.

"He injured his shoulder at the Silverdome (Sept. 25) against Garden City," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon. "He doesn't know when it happened, but he should be ready to go this week."

North Farmington, which lost Saturday to Livonia Franklin, is 1-3 overall.

"North is playing very good on defense," warned Gordon. "You can count on they'll be well coached."

"Regardless of their record, they're the best team we've faced until this point."

Stevenson center sparks cage win

Sherry Evans scored 13 of her game-high 21 points to lift Livonia Stevenson to a 41-36 non-league girls' basketball victory Tuesday over Livonia Franklin.

Stevenson, the victim of some recent close defeats, raised its season mark to 4-5. Host Franklin fell to 4-3.

The Spartans trailed 20-15 at intermission but came on strong in the third period as Evans scored all but two of Stevenson's points in a 15-8 surge.

"The difference in the game was the big girl (Evans)," said Franklin coach Tim Newman.

LIVONIA BENTLEY 61
FARMINGTON 25

This game was never in doubt as the state's No. 2-ranked team jumped out to a 23-7 first quarter advantage.

Bentley, 9-0 overall, had a balanced scoring attack — Lonnie Payne and Kim Archer, 11 points each; Laurie Day, nine; Teresa Aragona and Amy Carl, seven each.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 45
REDFORD UNION 40

Amy Brow came through with four free throws and a field goal in the final 18 seconds to help the Chargers win their third straight Tuesday. The Chargers had opened the season with six straight losses.

Toni Richardson and Teri Evans each scored nine points for the winners. Richardson, who came off the bench, had eight points in the first half as Churchill enjoyed a 28-22 advantage.

Jeannette Marchand and Kathy Storvis combined for half of RU's points. The Panthers fell to 1-8.

"I'm really happy for the girls because they played good team basketball," said Churchill coach Don Albertson.

Borgess shot down

Poor free throw shooting led to Redford Bishop Borgess' undoing Tuesday night as Birmingham Marian scored a 42-33 Catholic League girls' cage win.

The Spartans connected on only three of 15 shots from the line compared with Marian's 16 of 25.

The loss drops Borgess to 4-3 overall and 0-2 in league play. Marian is 5-3 and 1-1.

Borgess was hurt by the loss of center Ann Bisoup, who injured an ankle in the second quarter and never returned. Marian went on to outscore the Spartans 26-18 in the second half.

Nancy Rzepka had 15 points in the losing cause. Carrie Harris and Julie Burton combined for 12 other Borgess points.

Kelly Freehan, daughter of ex-Detroit Tiger catcher Bill Freehan, led Marian and all scorers with 17 points.

LIVONIA LADYWOOD 81 S'GATE AQUINAS 39

The Blazers, ranked second in Class B, coasted to another easy win Tuesday night behind the scoring and rebounding of Lavetta Willis.

The 6-foot senior center had 21 points and 15 rebounds as Ladywood increased its overall mark to 7-0 overall and 5-0 in league play.

Willis had plenty of support from teammates Ann Lukens (14 points and 10 rebounds), Emily Wagner (10 points and six assists), and Char Govan (10 points).

Ladywood faces Dearborn Divine Child at home Thursday in a key divisional match-up.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA 69 DETROIT DePORRES 45

The state's No. 2 ranked Class C team won its eighth game in a row Tuesday despite a glaring 38 turnovers.

The Aggies, however, were strong on the boards, snaring 46 DePorres misses.

Senior center Mona Clor helped the winners stay unbeaten with 20 points, 16 rebounds and five blocked shots. Tia Littlejohn added 15 points and 12 boards.

Also getting into the act for Agatha were Beth Rejcha (13 points and six assists) and Mary Kellow (11 points and nine rebounds). Kellow also had a team-high seven assists.

Marjorie Creswell of DePorres (5-5 overall) paced all scorers with 23 points.

League races begin to take shape

By C.J. Risak and Brad Emons staff writer

It's the halfway mark of the prep football season, and some of the league races are starting to heat up.

The Western Lakes Activities Association (WLA) has unbeaten Plymouth Salem and Livonia Bentley on top in the Lakes Division. Farmington Harrison, the defending Class B state champion, has the inside track in the Western Division.

In the Northwest Suburban League, Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin, both undefeated in four starts, appear headed for a showdown Saturday, Oct. 16 at Franklin.

Two other area teams, Redford St. Agatha and Detroit Catholic Central, are very much in the Catholic League playoff picture.

THE RANKS of the unbeaten has shrunk to four — Salem, Glenn, Franklin and Agatha — after Clarenceville (3-1) was upended Friday by Woodhaven.

On the prediction side, Emons and Risak were correct in eight out of 10 games last week.

Emons, 30-11 for the season (73.2 percent), missed again when Livonia Bentley edged rival Stevenson, and Garden City beat Redford Union.

Risak, right behind at 29-12 (70.8 percent), was also wrong on the Bentley-Stevenson outcome, and just missed the Plymouth Canton-Northville clash (won by Northville in OT 27-26).

On point spreads last week, Risak held a 4-3 advantage.

This week has some solid match-ups, including more than a few tossups.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL vs. BIRMINGHAM BROTHER RICE, 7:30 p.m. Saturday (EMU) — This traditional match-up has lost some of its luster. But it should be a battle of running backs — Mel Farr Jr. of Rice and Jeff Gatt of CC. Rice, despite a big team, has been struggling offensively. CC likes to bang and that should be the difference. Emons likes CC by seven. Risak agrees by the same count.

grid predictions

PLYMOUTH CANTON at FARMINGTON HARRISON, 2 p.m. Saturday — The Chiefs are much improved, but Harrison's coaching staff continues to work wonders.

Harrison has won 15 straight and is led by "Mr. Everything," Dave Blackmer, and sophomore running back John Miller. Blackmer kicked field goals of 47 and 46 yards last week in a win over Walled Lake Western.

Canton quarterback Pat Murphy was 15 of 27 for 214 yards and three TDs in a one-point loss to Northville. Harrison's defense, meanwhile, choked off Western and 215-pound fullback Paul Imms. Emons says Harrison keeps rolling by 12 points. Risak concurs, but by 18 points.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA at ORCHARD LAKE ST. MARY'S, 1 p.m. Saturday — The winner of this game should go on and capture the Catholic League's C Bracket in the C-D Division.

Both teams are 2-0 in league play, each posting shutouts last week. The home-field advantage means a lot for OLSM and coach Al Dicken. Emons predicts another overtime win for Agatha. Risak feels more comfortable — Agatha by six.

N. FARMINGTON at WESTLAND JOHN GLENN, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Star running back Todd Jennings was rested last week in a romp over Thurston. Bothered by a sore shoulder, he will be back this week.

North (1-3) managed just 132 yards total offense against Franklin. Running back Ken Goss of the Raiders is explosive, but faces another stern defense in Glenn. The Rockets play well at home. The prognosticators virtually agree — Emons says Glenn by 14, Risak by 15.

NORTHVILLE at LIVONIA BENTLEY, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Can the Bulldogs defense raise to the occasion for the third straight week?

This is a crossover game. Bentley is 2-0 in the Lakes Division. Northville (1-1) is spearhead by running back Andy Dimitroff, who gained 189 yards last week against Canton.

Bentley's offense must produce. The defense, led by linebacker Steve Sapienza, can't do it every week. Emons is leary but picks Bentley to prevail by seven. Risak is also going out on a limb, too. Northville, by four. (Footnote: Northville coach Dennis Colligan uses these picks to motivate his team. Clippings have been spotted in the team locker room.)

REDFORD UNION at LIVONIA FRANKLIN, 2 p.m. Saturday — The young RU team posted its first win last week over Garden City on a TD pass by quarterback Tim Sopha.

Franklin, meanwhile, hopes to stay unbeaten and pay back a defeat at the hands of the Panthers last season.

The Patriot defense, led by John Chmielewski, Gary Staub and Chris Lewis, has three shutouts so far. Quarterback Rich Popp has eight TD passes. He was 7-for-20 last week for 106 yards in a win over North. Another agreement here: Risak likes Franklin by 12. Emons is more conservative — Pats by 10.

ROMULUS at LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE, 7 p.m. Friday — The Trojans may be hurting without the services of running back Walter O'Dowd, injured in Friday's 34-7 loss at Woodhaven. He is doubtful for tomorrow.

The Trojans don't have much depth. Romulus, meanwhile, is a puzzling team. A loser last week to Detroit Murray-Wright, but a victor in the second week of the season against Garden City. A disagreement! Emons sticks with Romulus by eight. Risak goes with the home team by one.

FARMINGTON at PLYMOUTH SALEM, 7:30 p.m. Friday — The Falcons are winless in four starts. They scored their first 11 points of the year and had a chance to win last Saturday against Walled Lake Central, but couldn't hold on Salem, meanwhile, destroyed Livonia Churchill last week, 42-7.

It's Salem's homecoming and Farmington will "wishbone" it wasn't there. Emons sees a crusher for the Rocks (24 points). Risak also projects an avalanche (21 points).

LIVONIA STEVENSON at WALLED LAKE CENTRAL, 7:30 p.m. Friday — Stevenson (1-3) had Central's number for a number of years when the two teams were in the Inter-Lakes League.

The Spartan defense is sound, but the offense has yet to get on track. Look for Stevenson quarterback Pete Rose to throw even more this week. He passed 33 times last Friday in a 2-0 loss to Bentley. Running backs Tom Hamill and Mark Muetting were injured in the defeat.

Central (3-1) is off to one of its best starts in years. Risak likes Stevenson by six points while Emons disagrees, Central in overtime.

REDFORD THURSTON at GARDEN CITY, 7:30 p.m. Friday — The Cougars have lost three straight since beating Melvindale in their opener.

Thurston has yet to score in four games. GC has the numbers and junior quarterback John Romano has the potential for a big game. Both agree that Garden City will win. Emons likes an 18-point difference, Risak goes with 12.

WALLED LAKE WESTERN at LIVONIA CHURCHILL, 7:30 p.m. Friday — The Chargers are looking for their first win. Western is 2-1-1 overall with a loss to Harrison and a scoreless tie against Brighton.

Paul Imms, a 6-foot-3, 215-pound linebacker-fullback, is a big-time college prospect for the visitors. Emons and Risak back Western by 14-point and 10-point margins, respectively.

BISHOP BORGESS at HARPER WOODS NOTRE DAME, 2:30 p.m. Sunday — Borgess (1-3) was respectable Saturday despite a 14-point loss to Brother Rice. Notre Dame is winless in four starts, the latest a 20-14 loss against Southgate Aquinas.

Risak likes Borgess by six. Emons agrees, but by only three.

Plymouth Symphony opening 19th season

The Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will open its 1982-83 season at 4 p.m. Oct. 17 at Plymouth-Salem High School Auditorium, Joy Road, west of Canton Center Road.

The Plymouth Symphony Society will present Steven de Groot as featured soloist in the concert season opener. Johan van der Merwe will conduct the orchestra.

The program will begin with the Overture to "The Barber of Seville," followed by the Beethoven Piano Concerto No. 5. After intermission, conductor van der Merwe and the orchestra will perform the Berceuse and Finale from Suite No. 2 of "The Firebird."

The concert will conclude with a reading of Elgar's "Enigma Variations," his most popular large orchestral work.

tion in 1977. Prior to this honor, de Groot studied with Eduardo del Pueyo at the Royal Conservatory of Music in Brussels, from which he graduated in 1971 with First Prize in Piano, with "Highest Distinction."

FROM 1972-75 he studied with Rudolf Serkin and Mieczyslaw Horszowski at the Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia.

Since 1977, de Groot has performed throughout the United States, both in recital and as soloist with such orchestras as those of Boston, Detroit, Philadelphia and Cleveland. During the 1978-79 season, he completed an extensive tour of Europe that included performances in Belgium, Germany, the Netherlands, Norway, Spain and England, where he made his London recital debut at Queen Elizabeth Hall.

In addition to numerous orchestral and recital appearances in the United States and Canada during the 1980-81 season, he made two separate tours of Europe as well as a tour of the Far East. The 1981-82 season included tours of Europe, as well as South America and South Africa.

There will be free baby-sitting for preschoolers during the concert. Free transportation for senior citizens is provided from Tonquish Creek Manor the afternoon of each concert.

The concert is made possible by a grant from the State of Michigan through the Michigan Council for the Arts, the City of Plymouth and the Plymouth Symphony League.

Oakway features cellist

Cellist Samuel Mayes plays Schumann with the Oakway Symphony Orchestra at 3 p.m. Oct. 17 at Harrison High School.

Celebrating its 10th anniversary as a community orchestra, Oakway Symphony will present its second concert of the 1982-83 season at 3 p.m. Oct. 17 at Harrison High School on 12 Mile Road west of Middlebelt in Farmington Hills.

Cellist Samuel Mayes will be soloist with the symphony. Mayes is former principal cellist with the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Boston Symphony. He has appeared with such conductors as Toscanini, Stokowski, Walter, Ormandy and Mehta. He last appeared with the Oakway Orchestra in 1979, performing Beethoven's Triple Concerto.

Conductor and Musical Director Francesco Di Biasi will lead the orchestra in a varied program, including Mayes playing the Schumann Concerto for Cello and the symphony performing selections from Mozart, "A Little Night Music," Barber's "Intermezzo" from "Vanessa," Wagner's Prelude to Act III of "Lohengrin" and selections from Lowe's "Carnelot."

Single tickets are $6 and $3 for senior citizens and students. Tickets may be purchased at the door or at Madonna College, Hammell Music, Botford Inn, Southfield Cultural Arts Division or by calling Oakway's office at 478-6544.

Young artists to vie for 3 cash awards

A Young Artist Competition for musicians interested in solo performance is being offered by the Plymouth Symphony Society.

Prizes include a first and a second place award given in member of Oliver H. Wagner, a former Plymouth Symphony Society board member. Two first-place winners will each receive a $1,000 award. One of the first-place awards will be given by the Michigan Foundation for the Arts.

Second-place winner will receive a $500 award. The three winners will perform with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra on Feb. 8.

Orchestral and piano contestants must be high school graduates under 26 years of age as of Dec. 31. Voice contestants should be high school graduates under 31 as of Dec. 31.

ALL APPLICANTS should be permanent residents of, or have parents who are permanent residents of, Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Livingston or Washtenaw counties.

The contest is open to musicians in private study or enrolled in a degree program at a college, university or conservatory. The intent of this competition is to encourage young musicians who are not yet seasoned solo performers.

Preliminary auditions will be done by tapes. Live auditions for finalists will be held Nov. 27. For an application and further information contact: Mrs. Ralph R. Bozell, 45897 Denise Drive, Plymouth 48170.

Orchestra again sponsors competition

For the fifth consecutive year the Oakway Symphony is sponsoring a Young Artists Competition for musicians interested in solo performance.

The 1983 Competition is for orchestral instrumentalists and pianists (under 25 years of age before Feb. 20, 1983) and vocalists (under 30 years of age prior to Feb. 20, 1983).

Prizes are awarded by the Michigan Foundation for the Arts as follows: First prize: $1,000; second and third prizes: $750; fourth prize: $500. The J.L. Hudson Co. assists in making this competition possible by a grant, which helps to cover the many expenses involved.

Competition is open to residents and students of Oakland, Wayne, Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, St. Clair and Washtenaw Counties. Auditions will be held at Madonna College, Livonia, on Jan. 2 and 8-9. Winners will appear as soloists with the Oakway Symphony on Feb. 20.

To obtain rules of competition and application forms, write to Oakway Symphony, P.O. Box 171, Farmington 48024 or call 478-6544, 522-7846 or 478-7436.

- STATELY DINNERS
 Meadow Brook Hall's annual series of Stately Dinners begins at 7:30 p.m. Friday on the campus of Oakland University near Rochester. Select wines complement an eight-course meal. First course is served in the majestic Great Hall. Dinner guests may informally tour the 100-room mansion at this time. Formal dining begins at 8 p.m. in the classically ornate Christopher Wren Dining Room, a setting copied from historic English architecture. Other dates for this year's series of Stately Dinners, all Friday nights, are Nov. 12, Jan. 14, Feb. 18, March 18, April 22 and May 20. Dinner at $55 per person includes all wine courses, gratuities and valet parking. Limousine service, arranged by request, is an additional charge. For more information, call 377-3140.

Lithuanian folk dancers to give area performance

The Grandinele Lithuanian folk dancers will be presented in concert at 7 p.m. Oct. 17 at the Crestwood High School Auditorium, 1501 N. Beech Daly, Dearborn Heights. Tickets at $10 are available at the door. For ticket information, call Kazys Gogelis, president of the American Lithuanian Voice, Inc., at 535-6683. Founded by Liudas Sagys in 1953, the Grandinele ensemble performs traditional and choreographed folk dances revealing moments of Lithuanian heritage and traditions. These performances are enhanced by hand-woven, richly colored national costumes.

The group has appeared in many cities in the United States and Canada and has toured Europe, South America and Australia. Kent State University Television Services filmed a performance by Grandinele for showings on PBS stations. Grandinele is a nonprofessional, non-profit organization consisting mostly of high school and college students. Its founder and lifelong director, Liudas Sagys, began his studies in the folk dance field as a member of the National Folk Ensemble in Lithuania. Sagys is assisted by Rita Kilforys, a young musician.

A PARTY FOR TWO.

$18.95

When the best beef and the best seafood restaurants in town offer dinner for two at just $18.95, it's time to bring a friend and celebrate. Do it right now. Because right now, Mountain Jack's and J. Ross Browne's will let you and your guest choose two of your favorites from our tantalizing menus, for just what we said: $18.95.

At Mountain Jack's, you can enjoy delicious selection like Prime Rib, Mushroom Stuffed Filet Mignon, our new Strawberry Duck, Crab Stuffed New York Strip or 10 cuts of steak.

And at J. Ross Browne's, it's festive entrees like Gourmet Stuffed Shrimp, Deep Fried Seafood Platter, Lobster Stir Fry, Prime Rib or Shrimp Crowned Halibut. The choice is yours. The price is only $18.95.

That's for two complete dinners, mind you. The preliminaries, like salad with all kinds of toppings. Plus hot bread and baked potato. Surrounded with so much attention, you'll feel like the two most important people around. So, get your party together. You don't need an excuse to celebrate. The price is reason enough.

MOUNTAIN JACK'S Warren 5702 Twelve Mile Rd. 574-1046 Dearborn Heights 26207 W. Warren 562-9000 Farmington Hills 24275 Sincola Ct. 476-5333 Troy 2360 Rochester Ct. 689-7920 Lansing 5800 W. Saginaw Highway 321-2770 Ann Arbor 300 South Maple 665-1133

DINNER FOR TWO $18.95.

Offer good through November 27, 1982, during regular dinner hours, for the following:
Mountain Jack's: Good for any selection from the House Specialties, Steak Market or Prime Rib (excluding Full Cut sections).
J. Ross Browne's: Any selection from Deep Fried, Sautéed, Broiled Seafood sections, House Specialties (excluding Alaskan King Crab, Lobster Tail, and Platter For Two), or Petite and Standard Cut Prime Rib.
Does not include tax, tip, or any items not normally included with entrees. Not valid in conjunction with any other special offers or redeemable for cash. Not available on Thanksgiving Day. Coupon must be presented when ordering.

WORTH LEAVING HOME FOR.

David Regal and Lisa McMillan star as Macbeth and Lady Macbeth in the Meadow Brook Theatre production of Shakespeare's tragedy "Macbeth," opening tonight on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

Meadow Brook opens season

"Macbeth," William Shakespeare's towering tragedy of witchcraft, treachery and remorse, opens Meadow Brook Theatre's 17th season at 8:30 tonight on the Oakland University campus near Rochester.

The two equally commanding central roles of Macbeth and Lady Macbeth will be played by David Regal and Lisa McMillan.

More than 30 actors will appear in the cast of "Macbeth." Featured roles will be played by Philip Locker as the ill-fated Banquo; Richard Bradshaw as the trusting king; Richard Hilger as the equally doomed Macduff; Jane MacIver, Sara Morrison and Zdzislaw Gumul as the witches who set the play's plot spinning; and Andrew Barnicle and Kevin Zeese as Malcolm and Donalbain, the king's sons.

theater

Others in the large Meadow Brook cast will include Wil Love, Carl Schurr, Jeffrey Jena, Todd Hissong, Matthew Gray, Wayne David Parker, Tom Mabard, Glen Allen Pruett, Dennis Wroscch, Henson Keys, Linda Ann Gebringer, Joshua Dawson, J.C. Howe and Judi Amar-Parker.

Staged by Arif Hasnain, "Macbeth" also will feature a unit set by Peter W. Hicks, costumes by Mary-Lynn Crum and lighting by Barry Griffith.

Tickets for all performances may be ordered by calling the box office at 377-3300.

Director Hasnain returns for opener

Arif Hasnain, who directed last season's production of Shakespeare's "Othello" for the Meadow Brook Theatre, has returned to direct the Bard's "Macbeth."

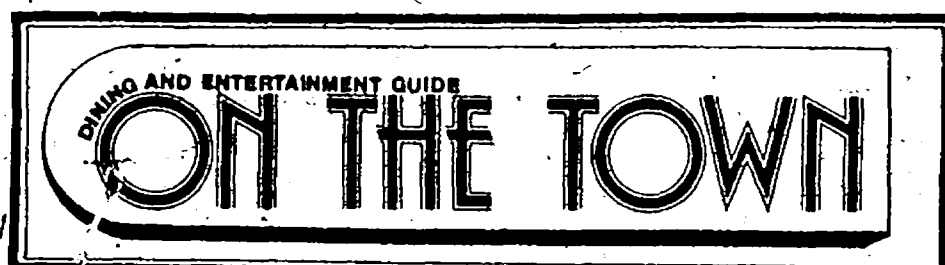

Hasnain was associate director of the Stratford Shakespeare Festival during the 1977-78 seasons. Stratford theatergoers may remember his production of Ibsen's "Ghosts," which starred Margaret Tyzak and Nicholas Pennell.

As artistic director of the Manitoba Theatre Center from 1976-80, Hasnain staged Shakespeare's "Measure for Measure" and "A Midsummer Night's Dream," as well as many other classical and modern plays including "The Sea Gull" and "The Crucible."

He also has directed at the Vancouver Playhouse, the Performing Theatre Company of Toronto and at the Cricket Theatre of Minneapolis, where he staged a production of "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder?" in 1976.

Most recently, he directed "The Gin Game" at the Merrimack Regional Theatre of Massachusetts. Tickets for all performances of "Macbeth" may be ordered by calling the box office at 377-3000.
