Residents still upset about odor

The county environmental director said there is no public health hazard in the obnoxious odors which he concluded are not coming from the Textron Automotive Interiors plant on Newburgh north of Palmer. But area homeowners still insist there is a problem.

BY LEONARD POGER
EDITOR

Westland residents in the Palmer-Newburgh area are still mad at the problem of an obnoxious odor, they told city and county officials last week.

But county environmental officials insist that the odor is not coming from the nearby Textron Automotive Interiors plant on Newburgh, just north of Palmer.

They also noted that the problem, first raised by residents in late March, has lessened in that the odor is noticed less frequently and when it is observed it lasts a shorter period.

When pressed by several homeowners, Jim Murray, director of the county's environmental department, insisted:

"There is no health hazard in the area."

During the two-hour session held June 6 in Madison Elementary School, county officials said they took several air quality tests in the area in recent weeks, finding no evidence of odors. Tests held within the plant, which produces auto interiors, concluded the tests were well within environmental standards.

But homeowners insist that they are smelling obnoxious smells, although admitting that they are less frequent then several months ago.

Their position was bolstered when City Councilman Glenn Anderson said Tuesday that he visited the neighborhood three weeks before and smelled an odor.

Murray insisted that obnoxious

Electronics business plan wins city OK

BY DARRELL CLEM

Circuit City, a major consumer electronics business, has won approval from the Westland City Council to build a store on the northeast corner of Warren Road and Central City Parkway.

The location will put Circuit City in competition with two nearby stores, Fretter and Best Buy.

The project had been earlier blocked by council members who wanted modifications to the store's design. Developers made architectural changes, such as promising an all-brick exterior and scaling back the size from 63,000 square feet to 59,200 square feet.

"We've come full circle on these designs," John Fredrickson, corporate design administrator, told the council.

Some council members had earlier voiced concerns about Circuit City occupying what Councilman Charles "Trav" Griffin has called one of the city's most "prestigious" commercial parcels.

Even he changed his mind Monday, noting that company representatives have addressed his concerns about the building's design. Still, he said he supported the revised plans Monday only because he had no legal reason for rejecting them.

Councilwoman Sharon Scott cast the only opposition vote and said, "I have to be consistent."

On another commercial issue, the Value City furniture store on Warren Road, east of Newburgh, narrowly won council approval for a tent sale that started last week and runs through Wednesday.

Council members on two occasions had voiced concerns that the company hadn't cleared construction debris from its property.

The council voted 4-3 last Monday to approve the tent sale, after company officials promised to have the property cleaned up the next day. Building director Robert Fritz had been told by the council to check the site before allowing the tent sale to proceed.

Company officials apparently kept their word, and the tent sale is in process.

Mom, boyfriend reluctant witnesses in shooting

BY DARRELL CLEM

A Westland woman and her live-in boyfriend are reluctant to testify against the woman's son for allegedly firing a .22-gauge rifle at their residence while they were inside, a defense attorney said Thursday. No one was injured.

Now that family tensions have calmed, the mother, Kathy Brandt, appeared irritated at times when questioned by a prosecutor Thursday during a preliminary hearing for her son, John Anthony Chmura.

"This is a personal matter," Brandt told assistant Wayne County prosecutor Kellie Gleason-Groff.

Following reluctant testimony from Brandt, 43, and her boyfriend, Derrick McPherson, 25, defense attorney Denise Green asked for a reduction in a $100,000 cash bond that has kept Chmura, 23, jailed since the May 30 incident.

Green suggested that a charge of assault with intent to murder should be reduced to reckless discharge of a firearm. Chmura, who lives in the same house with Brandt and McPherson, also faces domestic violence and felony firearms charges.

But Judge C. Charles Bokos rejected Green's arguments, refusing to lower Chmura's bond and ruling that Chmura should stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court on all charges.

Bokos pointed to evidence that

PLACES & FACES

Officers sworn in

Three new Westland officers were recently sworn in after completing their training at the police academy at Schoolcraft-Radcliff center. The new officers, now on the job, are Robert Shawn Kenyon of Wayne, Ricky Hill of Westland and Deanna Jucewicz of Warren. They are the latest of 10 new police officers hired in recent months to replace retiring officers.

Farewell meeting

Tuesday night's Wayne-Westland school board meeting will be the last for Superintendent Larry Thomas, who announced Aug. 22 that he would resign when his three-year contract ends June 30. The meeting has been moved back one day before of today's (Monday) school board and millage election. The board session will start at 7 p.m. in central office, on Marquette between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

Playing for charity

The Friends of Westland Charity organization has raised about $3,800 for the Westland senior citizen Friendship Center, to help buy exercise equipment for the seniors. The money was raised during the group's recent third-annual, co-ed softball tournament. Past beneficiaries have been the Westland Youth Assistance Program and First Step, which helps battered women.

School meeting set

With Stottlemyer school closing as an elementary this year, the Friends of Stottlemyer group is planning an open house from 3-7 p.m. June 15 to give the school community a last chance to visit the school. The building is slated to be used for early childhood programs, but not for elementary classes. Stottlemyer, Titus, Fischer and Monroe elementaries are being closed, in part, as a budget-cutting measure. The closings also stem from lower elementary-level enrollments that will come as the district moves sixth-graders out of the buildings, under a new middle school structure.

Rouge River cleanup bridges the generation gap

The generation gap was bridged June 3 when teen-agers and adults painted stenciled warnings to avoid dumping wastes into drains connected to the Middle Rouge River.

The effort, done in conjunction with the annual Rouge Rescue cleanup, was part of the campaign to improve the water quality of the river.

Taking part were students in the Churchill (High School) Stand Up Environmental Group, whose adviser is Churchill teacher John Covert.

Students involved in painting "dump no waste" and "drains to Rouge River" stenciled signs next to sewer grates in the Holliday Park Townhouses, whose sewers drain into the Tonquish Creek, a tributary of the Rouge.

The townhouse development is just east of Wayne Road and south of Joy.

Students taking part were Nancy Lin, a 12th-grader; Jason Mailloux and Sarah Sherman, both 11th-graders, and Abby Humphrey and Diana Tarr, both 10th-graders.

Also involved were the Westland Civitans and Junior Civitans.

Bill Craig of the Holliday Nature Preserve Association organized the painting effort.

The painted messages next to the grates are intended to warn residents to avoid dumping of motor oil or toxic materials into the drain.

Council to act on budget

The Westland City Council will hold a special meeting at 7 tonight (Monday) to adopt a new budget for the upcoming fiscal year and set the millage rate.

The meeting will be in the City Hall's council chambers, on Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

Although the charter requires the budget and tax rate to be approved by the first Monday of June, the council delayed action last week.

The proposed budget submitted by Mayor Robert Thomas two months ago calls for $33.8 million in spending, slightly more than the fiscal year to end June 30.

The general fund tax rate will be $6.84 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation. But tax bills will go up 2.6 percent this summer to reflect the increase in property values.

Summer tax bills are expected to be mailed in early July.

Seniors fete center's 10th anniversary

How do you celebrate the anniversary of a municipal building?

The Westland Senior Resources Department did it with a day-long celebration which included food, dancing, a flag-raising ceremony and a review of the Friendship Center's 10-year history.

An estimated 400 persons jammed the center on Newburgh near Marquette to hear numerous city officials review the history of the building, which was previously a church that the city acquired with federal funds.

Specifically praised was Sylvia Kosorosky-Wiacek, seniors' department director for many years who speakers said provided the leadership for many of the programs housed in the center.

The director herself praised Mayor Robert Thomas and his predecessors for their support of the center at its start and during the past 10 years.

During the program, state Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, said the center's participants' "love and friendship" are what really hold the building together, not just the brick and mortar.

City Councilman Charles Pickering, who was Westland's mayor in the early 1980s when the center was initially proposed, admitted that was a lot of debate about the center and how it was to be paid for.

He praised the facility for providing a high quality of life for seniors.

During the ceremony, members of VFW Post 3323 and its auxiliary presented the center with an American flag — a repetition of a presentation at the center's dedication 10 years ago.

State Rep. Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, also presented the center with a new state of Michigan flag.

Later in the afternoon, Grace Brown and Merdis Simington were honored as seniors of the year.

Mrs. Brown was cited for her long-time service to the seniors' department and center while Mrs. Simington was praised for her leadership.

A Westland resident for 18 years, Mrs. Brown has been in a volunteer in the seniors' nutrition program since 1977 and a helper for programs involving seniors and elementary school children.

Mrs. Simington, also an 18-year Westland resident, has been a member of the Frienship Center Advisory Council for 10 years and a Commission on Aging member for six years.

In 1979, she was the first person to vocally urge a new center for seniors and quickly became a strong advocate.

During the anniversary, there was music by the Franklin Junior High School band with entertainment by the WACO band and Art Wyse.

Surprise gift: Seniors Resources Director Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek is surprised when she receives a cabinet during the early portion of the Friendship Center's 10th anniversary celebration Friday.

odors aren't necessarily a public health problem, adding that some persons are more susceptible to odors than others.

Resident Glenn Anderson said the odor he detected a smell coming from a dead animal and worsened as he walked closer to the Textron plant.

Another neighbor, whose home on the 1500 block of Dowling backs up to the plant, said the odor reminds him of dead fish.

Dale Hoover, who lives on Selma, added that he experienced a "dry, burning throat sensation which went through my nasal passages into my chest."

The odor, he said lasts from 10 to 30 minutes.

Steve Simcock, Textron's vice president for operations, pointed out that the company, which has run the plant for five years, has changed its procedures to cut emissions by 40 percent.

Murray commented that since the company is changing its procedures and that the odor problem has lessened, "it leads us to conclude that the odor is coming from the plant."

Taking part in the presentation of the initial environmental findings were Kay Bedenis, county director of enforcement for the air management division, Mayor Robert Thomas, Fire Chief Michael Reddy, Assistant Chief George Riley, and City Councilman David Cox, co-chair of a council committee formed several months to study the problem.

The director said the county will continue to test the air quality in the neighborhood and report back to the residents in August.

Center gets courtyard

Industrialist Jack Russo is making sure that the Burger Center for Autistic Students gets a courtyard where pupils can rest and take part in educational classes.

Russo showed off the first phase of the courtyard last week when he sponsored his second annual festival at the county special education center run by the Garden City Public Schools.

The courtyard will be finished in two years and include a greenhouse, a place where students can learn about weather, gardens and other topics.

Russo hosted his first Burger Center picnic and festival in June 1994 when a playscape which cost some $100,000 in direct and indirect costs, was dedicated.

Chmura fired four shots at the front door of the house, in the 31400 block of Fairchild, just two seconds after McPherson had stepped away from the door.

Chmura could face a maximum sentence of life in prison if convicted of assault with intent to murder. He would face a mandatory two-year term if found guilty of the felony firearms charge. Domestic violence carries a possible 90-day jail term and a $500 fine.

Brandt testified that her son was "extremely drunk" during the incident at 10:50 p.m. May 30. The violence began when Chmura threw a 2-foot-tall stool that hit her on the shoulder, she said, though she added that she didn't know if he meant to hit her.

A short time later, Chmura was outside when he got a .22-caliber rifle from his vehicle and fired four shots at the residence, police have said. McPherson testified that he didn't know whether Chmura was aiming the gun at him.

■ Judge C. Charles Bokos rejected Green's arguments, refusing to lower Chmura's bond and ruling that Chmura should stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court on all charges.

In the house at the time were Brandt, McPherson, Chumra's young son and his girlfriend's son, testimony indicated.

McPherson said he didn't see Chmura shoot the rifle at the house, but he said he saw Chmura fire two earlier shots into the air.

McPherson said he was standing four to six feet from the front door when it was struck by the bullets.

House votes 3.4 percent hike for S'craft

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

On paper, Schoolcraft College's state aid increase of 3.4 percent looks like a big hike over the 2.8 percent recommended by Gov. John Engler.

"This only lets us stay even with inflation," said SC President Richard McDowell. "With new technology, lasers, new programs, the need for new computers, training the faculty, responding to the needs of business, we can't operate on the status quo."

The House of Representatives on June 8 passed a $255 million aid bill for community colleges, a 2.1 percent increase over the current year and a little above the $252 million recommended by the governor in February. The bill was sent to the Senate. Center of the long debate was whether to shut down Highland Park Community College; the other 28 aren't in jeopardy.

Schoolcraft's share: $9.4 million, 3.4 percent above the current year. Total budget for the two-year college is about $35 million.

Schoolcraft students will be able to take advantage of a tuition credit against income taxes this year, McDowell said. Public Act 7 of 1995, sponsored by Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, gives the credit to students at community colleges and universities that hold tuition hikes to the rate of inflation.

For Schoolcraft that would mean limiting a tuition increase to $1.25 a credit hour in the fall semester. Instead the board in April raised in-district tuition $1 (to $47) for the spring (May) semester, prior to the start of the fiscal year, with another $1 (to $48) in the winter semester of 1996.

"Our revenues are limited to the rate of inflation by three factors," McDowell said:

- PA 7's cap on tuition. (Many universities are ignoring this, raising tuitions in excess of the consumer price index, costing students an income tax break.)
- The Headlee limitation — property tax rates are rolled back whenever assessments rise faster than inflation.
- Proposal A, the 1994 school reform package passed by voters, which caps individual assessments at the rate of inflation.

After rejecting the community college aid bill once, the House passed it on a second roll call, 73-28.

Voting yes were Republicans Lyn Bankes of Redford, Jan Dolan of Farmington Hills, Gerald Law of Plymouth, James Ryan of Redford and Deborah Whyman of Canton; and Democrats Eileen DeHart of Westland and Tom Kelly of Wayne.

Dissenters, from both parties and all over the state, pleaded the case for Highland Park, one of the oldest two-year colleges in the state. The bill gives it $6.2 million in phase-out money.

Opposing passage, Rep. Tom Mathieu, D-Grand Rapids, said the bill treated community colleges unfairly compared to universities, which got a total 4.4 percent increase. "That is a substantial disparity," said Mathieu, a champion of community colleges.

Here is how neighboring community colleges fared under the House bill:

- Wayne County CC — $15 million, up 2 percent (Engler recommended 1 percent).
- Oakland CC — $18.5 million, up 2.5 percent (Engler recommended 1.1 percent).
- Henry Ford CC — $17.7 million, up 2.3 percent (Engler recommended 1 percent).

Losers were Kalamazoo Valley and Monroe Community Colleges, which the governor recommended for 10-plus percent hikes but which got 4.9 and 5.2 percent respectively after budget hearings.

Refer to House Bill 4422, community college appropriations, when writing to your state senator, State Capitol, Lansing 48909.

SC hopes to improve SC student services

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Schoolcraft College officials say a July 1 administrative reorganization is expected to improve the quality of student services and increase the number of academic scholarships available to students in the Livonia, Clarenceville, Garden City, Plymouth-Canton and Northville school districts.

The trigger for the reorganization is the retirement of Barbara Geil, the vice president of student services, after June 30.

Geil's position will be eliminated. Beginning July 1, the current director of admissions and financial aid, John Tomey, will become dean of students. Tomey will inherit all of Geil's responsibilities and retain some of his current responsibilities.

Jean Pike, the current director of counseling and career planning and placement, will work for Tomey as associate dean of students. Responsibility for health services will be added to what she already does.

Tomey will report to Vice President of Instruction Conway Jeffress, instead of President Richard McDowell, as Geil did.

Ultimately, there will be one less job in the administration, saving the college more than $60,000, which is earmarked for the Trustee Scholarship Fund.

Conway Jeffress

Jean Pike

John Tomey

The fund currently uses about $80,000 per year to provide about 80 scholarships to high school seniors in the Schoolcraft district and about 70 scholarships to students already enrolled. The addition of $60,000 would expand the program considerably.

Board of Trustees Chairman Steve Ragan said it was the board's wish that student services be improved, but administrators crafted the plan. Ragan was careful, however, not to criticize Geil's performance. "To say we can do better isn't to say we're not doing well," he said.

Said Jeffress: "It's just a little bit of consolidation, and obviously there'll be some philosophical changes. There are a lot of procedural things we do (now) that make getting into the college and getting services harder than they need to be."

Among the changes Jeffress wants is to permit students to register for classes in one visit to the campus.

Currently, applicants make three trips to Schoolcraft before beginning classes: First to apply. Second to see a counselor. And third to register. "I think one trip is enough," Jeffress said.

He would also like to follow up with phone calls to students who suddenly cease taking classes, particularly those who quit after one semester.

"There are an awful lot of little things like that that you can change when you're new," he said.

Tomey joined Schoolcraft in 1974 after 10 years as director of financial aid for the University of Detroit. The Farmington Hills resident served in the same position at Schoolcraft until 1981. He was acting vice president of student services 1981-82.

Pike came to Schoolcraft in 1964 as a business teacher. The Northville Township resident moved on to become a student activities counselor, an admissions counselor, an academic counselor and director of career planning and placement.

The Observer is very pleased to present the winner of our "Greatest Dad" contest. We asked young readers to tell us why their dads were the greatest and the entries poured in. Our panel of judges had the difficult task of selecting a single winner from all of the outstanding tributes we received from our community. We'd like to thank all those who participated and proudly announce the author of the winning entry!

Sarah Nikolich
Age 10, Westland

My dad's the greatest dad! He is very patient and understanding and he has a terrific sense of humor. He's always there to help me with my problems. Like if I don't know how to do a math problem he will teach me tricks to remember how to do it.

Mental health budget battle turns partisan

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

State Sen. Robert Geake had a bitter partisan battle on his hands as he guided the Mental Health Department budget to a 22-12 victory.

Democrats in the June 6 debate riled the normally placid Geake, himself a child psychologist, by charging his $1.6 billion budget sacrificed children and mental health workers to Gov. John Engler's tax cuts.

"This mental health budget continues the trend of downsizing state psychiatric facilities," said Geake, R-Northville. "As we purchase more beds from the private sector, we have less and less need for expensive state beds.

"I hear demagoguery on the other side of the aisle. I'm not highly partisan. But after a $20 million cut from the executive proposal (due to a predicted revenue shortage), this budget is still $76 million over the current year."

Geake, chair of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee that deals with the Mental Health Department budget, said that a late amendment to staff hospitals at 95 percent of suggested standards wouldn't harm care.

Some cuts in bed capacity at Hawthorn Center, for the emotionally disturbed in Northville Township, and Fairlawn Center, a children's division of the Clinton Valley Center in Pontiac, were made to put them "more in line with anticipated census figure for 1996," according to a Senate Fiscal Agency analysis.

Voting yes were 20 Republicans and two outstate Democrats. Voting no were 11 Democrats and one Macomb County Republican.

All area senators voted with their parties except David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield, who was absent.

Sen. Alma Wheeler Smith, D-Salem, challenged the GOP idea that private psychiatric care is as good as public. "We know the people they hire are underpaid. We know the people they hire are overworked. When those workers bail out, we're going to have to bail out. We're going to be hiring people to work at state rates, not $4.35 an hour (minimum wage)," she said.

"At $5.50 we're still not talking about a living wage. They (workers) need food stamps to supplement their budgets," Smith said.

"In five months," said freshman Sen. Gary Peters, D-Bloomfield Township, "I've seen a clear trend: tax cuts to the most privileged, expenditure cuts against the most vulnerable." He called the mental health budget "cruel and insensitive."

"Residential centers such as Hawthorn are essential," said Sen. Jim Berryman, D-Adrian. "Privatizing may cost less, but is the care as good? Yes, senator (Geake), we can do it cheaper in the private sector, but can we do it as well?"

Jumping to Geake's political aid were Senate majority leader Dick Posthumus, R-Alto, and Michael Bouchard, R-Birmingham.

The budget bill:

- Eliminates a "multicultural" line item for community mental health operations.
- Cuts staffing 11 percent, from 6,483 full-time equated employees to 5,797.
- Transfers $17.8 million from state hospitals and centers to "CMH alternatives," community-based services for former hospital patients.
- Hikes MH Director James Haveman's salary 2.9 percent instead of the 19.6 percent proposed by Engler.
- Transfers to the MH department 88 beds in the Huron Valley Center prison.
- Prohibits the MH department from closing or consolidating state facilities until community mental health boards have services in place for the patients.

Court case is 'ticking bomb' for schools

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Michigan's Supreme Court deals in law, not economics. Its chief tool is the constitution, not actuarial tables.

And so the high court has an unusually thorny problem in the request of public schools to reconsider its April decision on health benefits for retirees from public schools.

The court's decision "will blow up the system and cause widespread devastation of K-12 educational programs," warned the Michigan Association of School Boards.

Essentially, the justices decided 4-2 that Gov. John Engler erred in the 1991 recession when he decided to preserve state funds by paying future public school retirees' health benefits on a cash basis instead of pre-funding them on an insurance basis.

But if Engler was wrong, the Supreme Court admitted "we have no authority to order the governor or Legislature to appropriate funds" and denied the retirees a writ of mandamus.

4 blank years

The case is called "Musselman" for Ann Musselman and seven other retirees. Engler is the first named defendant; others include the treasurer, budget director, auditor general, Public Schools Retirement Board and the Legislature itself.

The problem, as MASB's Justin King describes it, stems from Proposal A passed by voters in May of 1994. Proposal A puts most of the monetary burden of funding schools on the state. But it also reflects Engler's budgeting philosophy that there shouldn't be a line of line-item appropriations floating around. So the state shifted the burden of paying retirees' health benefits from itself to the 560 local school districts.

In 1991-94, said MASB's King, "Funds which had been set aside for paying insurance benefits of future retirees were instead used by the state to help pay the present expenses of Michigan's K-12 school system," an action King called "pragmatic and well-intentioned but legally erroneous."

It leaves local school districts holding the bag to make up for the lack of pre-payment of those benefits in 1991-95. "The cost of correcting past actions could reach $1 billion for 1995-96," King said. Since state aid to public schools is $8.3 billion, that $1 billion obligation is "a bomb ticking which threatens funding for our schools."

Pre-funding required

Under one article of the 1963 Michigan Constitution, Engler as governor has power to cut spending when revenues fall short, with the approval of the House and Senate appropriations committees. It's a grant of legislative power to the governor. Every governor since the 1970s has used it, some several times.

But the constitution's financial article (Art. IX, Sec. 24) says: "The accrued financial benefits of each pension plan and retirement system (of state and local units) shall be a contractual obligation . . . Financial benefits arising on account of service rendered in each fiscal year shall be funded during that year . . ."

Said Justice Patricia Boyle's majority opinion:

"Michigan governmental units do not have the option, however, of not paying retirement benefits. Unlike highway construction or police protection, which a governmental unit can choose to receive less of, it is impossible to receive less service from the pensioner. The pension is payment for work already completed, or deferred compensation."

It quoted the late Richard VanDusen, Birmingham lawyer and delegate to the 1961-2 Constitutional Convention: "It is designed to prevent cities in the future from using the funds which are put into a pension fund to take care of current service benefits for any other purpose."

Said Boyle: "But the Legislature (including the governor) does not have authority to fail to prefund a pension fund, even temporarily."

Concurring were Chief Justice James Brickley and Justices Conrad Mallett Jr. and Michael Cavanagh.

Dissenting, Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley agreed the court can't mandate Engler and the Legislature to pre-fund benefits, but she disagreed on the nature of the benefits.

"It is my believe that health care benefits do not equal financial benefits," she wrote. Retirees don't spend money when they receive health care benefits, so they don't receive "a financial instrument" and no financial benefit. Riley's view, if it prevailed, would take the Legislature and the school districts off the pre-funding hook.

Justice Charles Levin concurred in her dissent. Justice Elizabeth Weaver joined the bench two months after oral arguments were heard and took no part in the decision.

Footnote: Boyle drafted her opinion Nov. 7, six days after the high court heard oral arguments. But the majority decision wasn't announced until April 25.

S'craft candidates on school election ballot

Polls are open until 8 p.m. today for the annual school election.

In adition to local candidates and millage questions, voters will choose four representatives for the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Incumbents Mary Breen of Plymouth Township, Harry Greenleaf of Livonia and Steve Ragan of Plymouth are running for three six-year terms expiring June 30, 2001.

They are challenged by Brian Broderick of Plymouth, an attorney with Leikin & Ingber of Southfield.

Trustee Carol Strom of Livonia, who was appointed in February 1994 to fill a vacancy, is running unopposed for a two-year term expiring June 30, 1997.

The college district includes the school districts of Livonia, Clarenceville, Garden City, Plymouth-Canton and Northville.

Dentistry in the 90s

DENTAL IMPLANTS
Many of nearly 40 million Americans who have lost some or all of their teeth are considering more than bridges and dentures as replacements. According to estimates by the Academy of General Dentistry, more than 500,000 dental implants are done annually in this country. Increasingly seen as more permanent solutions to dentures, implants are also regarded as more natural in terms of looks and feel. It is no wonder, because implants mimic the structure of natural teeth. Implanted beneath the gum in the jaw, the implant itself looks and acts like the root of a natural tooth. After the gum heals and the bone actually attaches itself to the implant, a porcelain tooth is screwed onto the implant. The result is a fixed prosthesis that is hard to distinguish from the tooth it replaces.
At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we stress preventive health care for the entire family. Starting your children brushing and flossing at a young age, and a healthy diet, can go a long way towards their overall health and enjoyment of life. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where our goal is to help you preserve your natural teeth for a lifetime. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. Smiles are our business. Hrs.: Mon., Tues., Thur. & Fri. 8-5, Wed. 11-9 pm.

A Father's Day to delight dad

Sometimes Dads don't get all the credit they deserve . . .

We appreciate their steadfast determination to provide for their families and their unfailing dedication to their yards and boats and golf games, but there are some Dads who deserve special recognition.

If you have an "Award Winning Dad," perhaps the following suggestions will help you to present him with the perfect gift for Father's Day. The envelope please . . .

Every block has its own self-appointed Neighborhood Grillmeister. The Dad who claims this title needs the best tools available to aid in his quest for barbecue excellence. Hats off to the chef who never fires up the pit without an extra-long wooden-handled grill brush ($5.97), oversized tongs ($4.97), a slanted sauce brush ($1.57), bamboo skewers ($1.97), stainless steel salad tongs that make great brat-turners ($3.97) and a wooden-handled spatula to flip the burgers ($5.97). Present these accessories in a hand-blown ten-gallon hat that will hold his famous salsa or guacamole ($43.97) — all from Wells Freight & Cargo, 820 S. Woodward in Birmingham.

If the Shady Acres Lawn-Of-The Month award goes to your husband, surprise him with a Solar Mower, the world's earth-friendly lawn mower. Solar Mower has all the power of a five horse power gasoline engine without the fumes or noise. An accessory socket powers specially designed string trimmers, edgers and other garden tools. This puts an end to costly filters, messy oils, and frustrating pull cords. This brand new, high tech mower is available at Solar Power International, Inc., 2000 N. Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. Call 1-800-SOLAR 02 for more information.

Can't slow down

And the Need For Speed award goes to . . . Is your Dad into fast cars and high-octane fun? If so, he probably had a front row seat at the recent Detroit Grand Prix. To provide him with a lasting memory of that renowned race, give him the 1995 edition poster that captures the feel of being at the edge of the track. The bold colors and textures are reminiscent of classic 1930s art deco lithographs. See this local work-of-art at Frames Unlimited in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington Hills, Livonia, Rochester Hills, Southfield and Troy ($15).

What do you give the man whose envious distinction is that of The Suave Host? Give him music that creates a mood. Hear Music in the Somerset Collection, Troy, releases Cafe Noir's "The Waltz King" today. The folks at this innovative music store suggest that "Cafe Noir's" delicate gypsy melodies and debonair, Sinatra-meets-Chevalier vocal styles, will have your guests under your spell from the instant they cross the threshold. It's up to him to choose the wine and the flowers. CDs are $15.99.

If Dad deserves the Couch Potato award, move him outdoors into the fresh air. His new favorite "recliner" might be a comfy quilted hammock ($149) and stand ($119) or a cypress porch swing ($159) from Crate & Barrel in the Somerset Collection, Troy.

The award for patience has to go to the Dad who spends his entire vacation snapping family photos. If the guy who gets the Just Say Cheese trophy lives in your house, make his life a little simpler with Canon's Sure Shot A—1 camera, the world's smallest and lightest underwater point and shoot camera. Just tuck this little gem into the beach bag and you're set. It even floats. Find it at Century Camera, 3017 N. Woodward, Royal Oak, for $199.95.

Happy Father's Day to all!

Farmington welcomes many new shops

Area entrepreneurs are taking a chance on downtown Farmington. The retail district is witnessing a mini boom in everything from coffee shops to custom aquariums.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

Business is booming once again in downtown Farmington with new stores and restaurants opening and several mainstays expanding their offerings and retail space.

Gone are the resale and second-hand shops. Vacant storefronts are few and far between according to Chrystyna Nykorak, director of the Farmington/Farmington Hills Chamber of Commerce membership committee.

"We have a series of stores that have opened within the past year including a large crafts mall. The T.J. Maxx has expanded, and it looks like we will be opening an art gallery in the former Century 21 building," Nykorak said.

Here's a retail wrap-up of the latest changes:

The annjon gallery will open on Grand River in September according to Kelly Horrigan-Slajus, owner. The gallery will feature all types of art including the works of Thomas Pradzynski, Aldo Luango, Joyce Schaunaman and Rae Bronzan. Horrigan-Slajus has worked in the art business on both coasts for the past 13 years.

Craftique Craft & Antique Mall opened on May 2 at 33300 Slocum, just east of Farmington Road in historic downtown Farmington. Owner Dennis Nagy of Livonia offers crafts and antiques from 250 area dealers under one roof. Craftique is billed as a giant craft and antique show open seven days a week, Monday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m Sunday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

John and Diane Kanyo opened Something Wood in April. Kanyo described the business on Grand River in the Village Mall, as "a

Candle store lights up

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

There comes a time in every life when it's time for a change; you reach a crossroads and you must choose a new path.

For designer Beverly Pierson of Pierson and Pierson Interiors in Birmingham, the revolution in the furniture and home design business forced her decision to close the service and dissolve her partnership.

"I was burn out, tired. But I knew I had to do something else," she said with a knowing smile. "And I knew it had to be something I liked, something I believed in, something that would incorporate all the feelings I have for celebrating the spirit, making a home a cozy, warm, pleasant place to be."

Her new direction?

Pierson and her daughters Rachael and Bridget, are the proud partners behind The Gypsy's Light, a candle shop at 256 S. Eton Street, in the former headquarters of her design firm.

"We sell all kinds of candles, luminaries, incense and aromatherapy," she said while pouring visitors cups of tea. (The Gypsy's Light stocks The Republic of Tea line of exotic flavored teas.) Her cat, Shadow walks by and hops up on sofa in the center of the store for an afternoon nap.

"I chose the name Gypsy's Light, because the word gypsy makes me think of wonderful color. The word light, of course, because I sell candles."

Pierson has succeeded in creating a shop with a cozy atmosphere. It's a place to linger, browse and chat. The bright color on the walls and ceiling drapery give the shop a warm glow and the candles lit throughout the premises show off the unique merchandise, flickering with friendliness.

Open since November, The Gypsy's Light has become a destination store

Schostak Brothers at the reins to manage the Bloomfield Plaza

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

The Bloomfield Plaza at Maple and Telegraph is under new management through Schostak Brothers & Co. of Southfield, following the death of long-time manager Marie Primo.

Tim Grimsky, director of property management at Schostak, said the company won a bid to manage the upscale strip center just three weeks ago.

"We'll do what's necessary to keep up the center's market share and improve it," he said, reviewing all the elements of the project. "Right now we're analyzing sales figures and meeting the tenants. There are three stores vacant at the property right now, and I understand some deals are in the works. It's important to find the right merchants for these spots."

The Bloomfield Plaza is owned by a group of investors and was first built in 1961 to house a Wrigley's Supermarket at the north end (now Kroger's).

Long-time tenant Don Thomas of Don Thomas Sporthaus said he moved into the south end when it was added in 1963.

"It's a busy plaza," Thomas said. "We have very few problems here. Many of the tenants have been here a long time."

The mini mall at the plaza is a neighborhood service center that houses a vacuum cleaner-repair shop, a barbershop, a florist, the Gallery Restaurant and a mail service.

Sauces & Tosses relocated to Grand Rapids earlier this year. The Madelaine Boutique, facing Telegraph, is also for lease after the owners chose to retire in April. Studio 330 is expanding to the storefront next door to add to its giftware and tabletop lines. Sweet Dreams is coming into the former Sandels location.

Other tenants at the center include Damman Hardware, Robert Mann Furs, Roz & Sherm, Steve's Deli, Frames Unlimited, Michigan Chandelier, Gail's Office Supply, The Workout Company, Hannah Rose Boutique, Sav-On Drugstore, The Argyle Shop, Lois Gross Cleaners, D.O.C. Optique and Concourse Photo.

"One of our best customers is a little nine-year-old who comes in to exchange the apple-cinnamom ornaments she makes for merchandise we have in store," Rachael said with smile. "We turnaround and display her creations like we do with the other artists who sell their candles and artwork at the Gypsy's Light."

All purchases — gifts or not — are elegantly wrapped because the Piersons' philosophy is "everyone is special."

Working with long-time friend and publicist Kathleen Sheridan, Pierson plans to host special evening events at the shop, patterned after the salons of Europe where people get together to discuss issues or the latest books they've read.

"Eventually, we'd like to open other Gypsy's Light stores in Royal Oak and Rochester," Rachael said. "But right now, we're concentrating on making our flagship store the best it can be."

The Gysy's Light is next door to the Eton Square Market and across the street from Norman's Eton Street Station. It's open Tuesday through Saturday 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Thursdays until 7 p.m. Sundays noon to 4 p.m.

■ BOOKPEOPLE LIQUIDATES

The Going Out of Business Sale at Bookpeople, the 21-year-old book store in the Orchard Mall in West Bloomfield is in its third week. Owners Rissa Winkleman and Sandy Nathanson said the shop's inventory has been reduced by 50-percent. They expect to close by the end of June. Winkleman said the business "hemorrhaged" less than a year after Barnes and Noble, and Borders Books opened superstores down the street.

"We anticipated some drop in sales when the competition arrived, but then we expected sales would level off," Winkleman said. "Instead, sales just kept dropping. And it didn't just happen to us, if that's any consolation . . . Independent book stores all over the country are going out of business."

The pair is considering opening a completely different enterprise in the same location in the fall, but plans are sketchy.

Bedford Township resident Suzie Loiselle just expanded Suzanne's Bridal Gallery at 33316 Grand River in Farmington to include dresses for mothers of the bride on the second floor. Loiselle began her business one year ago selling bridal gowns and maid dresses. Her wide selection of gowns for all members of the wedding party come in sizes 6-26, priced from $600 to $2,000.

The shop is open Monday and Thursday until 8:30 p.m. and Saturday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Cafe Gourmet opened as a coffee house in March at 23310 Farmington Road south of Grand River. Owners Sam and Harry Kashat sell gourmet coffees, pastry and ice cream in a cozy space with seating for 40. The two Farmington Hills brothers are in the process of expanding their selection of food to include Coney Island hotdogs.

The Cafe Gourmet is open Monday through Saturday, 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. and Sunday 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Yellow Durban, should arrive in two weeks selling funky clothes, rock T-shirts and urbanwear in the old Huntington Cleaners building. The shop is owned by the Hosking Family with son Bradd managing the business.

Judy Downey, director of the Farmington Downtown Development Authority, said she is thrilled over the bustling new businesses in the city.

"Shoppers should also take advantage of the Kids Series beginning June 14 which features a lineup of kid-centered activities every Wednesday through August 2 at 10:30 and noon in either the Civic Theater or a tent in the shopping center parking lot," she said. "The farmer's market is open every Saturday morning in the parking lot of the Village Commons until 2 p.m."

Rouge Rescue a success despite mediocre turnout

BY RALPH R. ECHITINAW
STAFF WRITER

■ 'We've always had exceptional turnout. We're just sitting here trying to figure out what went wrong.'

Sharon Sabat
Rouge Rescue organizer

Despite lower than expected volunteer attendance, the 10th annual Rouge Rescue has been declared a success.

Organizers expected at least 3,000 volunteers at 30 sites for the cleanup Saturday, June 3, but got 2,000 to 2,500, said Jim Graham, the director of the Friends of the Rouge.

The worst case of absenteeism occurred at the Botsford Park site in Livonia where just two volunteers appeared.

"We've always had exceptional turnout," said organizer Sharon Sabat on the day of the cleanup. "We're just sitting here trying to figure out what went wrong."

Graham characterized the Livonia turnout as a "really strange occurrence," noting that Livonia usually has a good showing.

Other sites, however, drew great numbers. More than 400 volunteered to clear a two-mile stretch of the river in Westland near the corner of Warren and Newburgh, Graham said.

A site in the city of Plymouth attracted 25 volunteers. Redford Township volunteers numbered 75. In Plymouth Township the Western Wayne County Conservation Association accumulated 13 volunteers.

In Farmington Hills there were more than 100 volunteers, and there were 150 in Southfield. "Southfield did their usual excellent job," Graham said. "That's an organizational masterpiece there."

There were no cleanup sites in Garden City or Canton Township.

Although fewer "non-natural" items are pulled from the river each year, Graham said, volunteers in Dearborn found at least two automobilea in the river. "It's a convenient place to put cars that people don't want to have found," Graham said. "It's amazing some of the things people will put in the river."

In addition to cleaning the river, volunteers also planted trees, built and groomed wood-chip walking paths, stenciled storm drain inlets with a warning against dumping toxic materials like used motor oil, and built and placed nesting boxes for wood ducks, bluebirds, and brown bats.

Friends of the Rouge, a nonprofit community organization, was founded in 1986, and launched the first Rouge Rescue cleanup that year in 13 locations with about 1,500 volunteers.

"I think the river is flowing better today than it did a week ago," Graham said.

Camp creates confidence in art skills

■ 'We're bringing in papier-mache this year. Our special project is to build a rain forest using papier-mache, carpet tubes and fabrics. We're also doing tribal masks.'

Sharon Dillenbeck

Turn summer into an exploration of the arts when D & M Art Studio, in cooperation with the Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department, presents their fifth annual children's art camps beginning June 19.

The weeklong camps, this year focusing on "Art Menagerie from the Rain Forest," feature drawing, painting, cartooning, paper crafts, and wood painting.

The 11 art camp weeks for preschoolers (ages 3-6), students (ages 6-10) and teens (ages 11-16) will be held at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. The camps close out the summer with a children's art exhibition on Aug. 27 open to the public.

"We're bringing in paper mache this year. Our special project is to build a rain forest using paper mache, carpet tubes and fabrics. We're also doing tribal masks," said Sharon Dillenbeck, D & M Art Studio owner.

"Because the theme is the rain forest we're going to have the kids paint clay pots with acrylic paints and a jungle theme."

A Studio Camp for multi-ages kicks off the camp June 19-23. Regular camp begins the week of June 26.

"Studio camp teaching using a European method is real popular with the kids. The teens like working with the younger kids," said Dillenbeck.

"As with all of our camps it isn't the end product that's important. It's how they got there. It's how they achieved what they did. What's unique about the camps is, each has different subject matter, different interest levels. We have so many parents enrolling their kids in more than one session."

Last summer's camps culminated with a 300-piece children's art show, the largest-known kids art display in Michigan.

Prices for the camps range from $55-$105 per session. The cost includes all art materials and a jungle jade T-shirt. All registration can be made through D & M Studio through June 30 by calling (313) 453-3710 or dropping by 710 N. Mill in Plymouth's Old Village.

From July 1 through August register at the Plymouth Cultural Center or by calling (313) 455-6623.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Bathe foods in marinade to enhance their flavor

Now that the Janes Gang has a spiffy gas grill, we're finding ourselves on the back deck grilling during brisk fall evenings, a snowstorm, between rain showers and even more so on sunny days.

On Memorial Day weekend, yours truly visited friends in Lansing, and we got into a heated discussion over the benefits of marinating for tenderness.

Improving flavor

I distinctly remember reading somewhere that when it comes to cooking tougher cuts of meats on the grill, marinating does nothing to tenderize the meat.

Despite literally thousands of recipes that would have you believe they do, tests done by a major food magazine found that marinating meat, fish and poultry anywhere from 15 minutes to 24 hours made no discernible difference in tenderness. What they did find, however, was that marinating for several hours can greatly affect flavor.

All this talk about tenderizing came about because acids do break down the cell structure of protein. But according to Harold McGee, author of "On Food and Cooking," (Scribner's, copyright 1984) attempting to tenderize is "more like dissolving; it isn't a bad thing to do, but calling it tenderizing is stretching the truth."

McGee's study indicated that marinade doesn't penetrate more than a millimeter or so into the meat over a 24-hour period. "You're really just turning the surface proteins to mush" wrote McGee.

McGee claims we are tasting the strong flavors used in most marinades, even in fairly low concentrations. Further testing by "Cook's" magazine found that marinating meat and poultry for 15 minutes did not affect the flavor any more than brushing the food with a sauce during cooking.

And if that information isn't startling enough, additional testing indicated that after three hours of marinating, flavor was added to beef and lamb, but the taste of the marinade did nothing to affect the flavor of chicken.

Marinating overnight did wonders for the flavor of the chicken, but in that same period of time, an acidic marinade made with wine or vinegar overwhelmed the lamb. It turned the beef a purplish-brown color and camouflaged its taste.

On a recent trip to my favorite butcher shop I found a casserole of marinated chicken and shish-kebabs with a small sign indicating the chicken and kebabs were marinated in a "flavorizer" making the food "fork tender." When I politely pointed out that no liquid, short of pounding, can produce fork-tender meat or poultry, my butcher assured me that "I would be surprised" at what his flavorizer machine could accomplish. Well, I hate to say "I told you so" but ...I'll admit, the flavor was there, but its ability to tenderize? Hardly.

So what are common folk like you or I to do when looking for anything less than a rubber chicken?

Choice cuts

If you want tender beef or chicken, buy good meat or chicken. Jack Ubaldi, in his book "The Meat Book" (MacMillan, 1987) claims that when it comes to buying chicken, you need to know what kind of a chicken you want for your recipe.

Most of the chickens we buy at the grocers are called White Rocks. The smallest are squab broilers and the rest, averaging 2-3 pounds are dubbed "broilers." Needless to say, these are best broiled, fried, baked or roasted.

Roasters are 4-6 pounds and are best for roasting and braising. Any chicken more than 6 pounds, other than a capon, is best left for stewing or soup.

When it comes to choosing beef, there are more than seven grades, but Ubaldi says the first and most important grade should be the USDA stamp of approval.

The top-of-the-line beef is "prime," and less than 2 percent of beef make the "prime" cut. Supermarkets seldom carry prime, and you'll probably have to search out a "prime" butcher. The next grade is "choice," and it is usually best for grilling or roasting.

Dads really dig MEAT POTATOES

BY MARY RODRIQUE
SPECIAL WRITER

Dads are still meat-and-potatoes kinds of guys.

We learned a lot what guys cook when we recently asked them to send a favorite recipe to us in exchange for tickets to the movie "Bye, Bye, Love."

More than 50 guys mailed or faxed their favorite recipe to us, and received passes to see the Twentieth Century Fox movie about divorced dads starring Randy Quaid and Paul Reiser.

Although there was an entry for summer pasta primavera featuring eggplant, roasted peppers and shitake mushrooms, dishes like grilled lamb chops, chili and hamburger casserole were more the norm.

One man's recipe for meatloaf? Make two meatloafs – one large pan, one small pan. When the small one burns, the big one is ready. Thanks for sharing that, Steven Mondrow of West Bloomfield.

Some guys went ethnic, like Haroune Alameddine, who submitted a recipe for hummus tahini dip and Tom Hadjimarkos' Greek breakfast bogatza. Both these chefs live in Farmington Hills.

Men like big food. We had recipes for a monster sandwich and monster cookies. And we believed Jerome Weingarden of Westland, who said he made his favorite dessert recipe, chocolate peanut butter swirls, often for his kids. The well-worn cardboard recipe he sent had the stains to prove it.

Here then is a sampling of what dads out there are cooking.

David Kresky of Farmington likes to grill for his family, even in the winter.

"Cooking is a hobby," said Kresky, who prepares meals for his wife, Cyndy, and kids Chelsea, 11, and Chadwick, 10, both students at Flanders elementary.

"Cyndy and the kids prefer chicken, but I like pork. We do a lot of roasts. Marinade is the important thing."

Kresky, owner of Final Design, an industrial process control company in Royal Oak, offered a recipe for one of his favorites, bourbon pepper steak.

> One mans recipe for meatloaf? Make two meatloafs - one large pan, one small pan, when the small one burns, the big one is ready.

In Redford, project engineer Dan Sly enjoys making dinner for his family a couple of times a week.

"My mom taught me to cook when I was little," he said. Now grandma is teaching his oldest child, Alexandra, 4, how to make muffins and cookies.

"I like to make chicken stir fry, and marinate pork chops in Italian dressing to cook on the grill," he said. "I usually don't follow many recipes. I taste test everything."

His wife, Wendy, and kids Alex, 4, Zachary, 3, and Jordon, 1, enjoy his meals.

He says the recipe he faxed us, for chicken squares, is a special treat he might prepare once a month.

Jerome Weingarden of Westland says women like men who cook. While he was dating his wife, Juanita, he cooked for her.

"I started cooking when I was about 19," he said. "Cooking is fun and it's relaxing.

"I can do desserts, and I do main courses like roast beef and steaks."

His advice to other men cooks?

"Use the microwave. It's easier than the conventional oven."

Weingarden makes his chocolate peanut butter swirls with daughters Candace, 9, and Jennifer, 6, both students at Stottlemyer elementary in Westland.

Son spoils family with his cooking

JOHN STORMZAND

Royal feast: Howard Dubin (center) gets treated royally on Father's Day by his son Art, who is carving turkey, and wife Susan.

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Comforting smells of dinner in progress greet Susan and Howard Dubin of West Bloomfield when they walk in the door after working all day at Dubin Optometric Clinic in downtown Farmington. Their son, Matt who works at Alexander Hamilton Life in Farmington Hills, and attends Walsh College at night, follows close behind.

Son Art, a cook at Big Daddy's Parthenon, is in the kitchen preparing one of his specialties.

He works 6 a.m. to 2 p.m., and stops for groceries on the way home from work with his grandma, Clara Dubin.

"Then he comes home and makes marvelous dinners," said Susan, adding that all of her friends are jealous.

"His joy is making dinner," said Susan about her son Art. "He loves to wait on people. He's the ultimate host."

For special days, like Father's Day, Art spoils his family by preparing a feast that includes roast turkey with homemade stuffing, his famous green beans seasoned with Hoisin sauce, soy sauce and dill, acorn squash baked with honey, and salad.

"I love to make soup," said Art who doesn't use a recipe when he cooks. "Nothing ever tastes the same thing twice at our house," said Susan. "His stuffing recipe was modified from a family recipe."

Cooking comes naturally to Art who is an autistic savant. "Long before it was fashionable we bought a microwave oven so he could do things and not get hurt," said Susan. "He's been cooking since he was 7. I've always loved to cook, and Art helped me."

To fine tune his cooking skills, Arthur attended the Eton Academy in Birmingham, and studied culinary arts at Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills. During the summer he attended camp, and when he got older, started helping in the kitchen. He worked at the camp for seven summers.

Arthur, who is very slim, keeps his family healthy by preparing dishes made with natural ingredients, and in-season fruits and vegetables. They eat very little red meat, preferring fish and chicken instead. "We're not freezer, cook ahead people," said Susan.

Arthur is also generous, and cares about other people. "You can't come to my house without getting something to eat," said Susan. And after Arthur finished carving and serving the turkey, he took the carcass over to a neighbor's house so she could make soup.

Fire up your grill for shrimp or mushrooms

See related story on Taste front.

CHILLED GRILLED SHRIMP IN A CHILE MARINADE

¼ cup peanut oil
2 tablespoons lime juice
1 tablespoon lime zest
4 cloves garlic, chopped fine
1 teaspoon hot garlic chile oil
24 medium shrimps (about 1 pound) unshelled

Whisk oil, lime juice, zest, chile paste and a pinch of salt in a glass bowl. If using wooden skewers to grill, soak the skewers in water for 30 minutes.

Thread shrimp on skewers and brush with marinade; reserve remaining marinade. (Can cover and refrigerate overnight). Heat the grill and place the skewers on an oiled grill rack and cook, turning once, until shrimp are opaque, about 2 minutes. Cool slightly.

Peel and devein shrimps. Add shrimps to remaining marinade. Marinate 45 minutes. Drain, arrange shrimp on a bed of greens and toss with a small amount of additional marinade. Arrange on a plate and serve. Serves 4.

GRILLED PORTABELLO MUSHROOMS WITH BALSAMIC MARINADE

4 portabello mushrooms, stems removed
¼ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
1 clove garlic, minced fine

Place the portabello mushrooms on a lightly oiled grill rack. Place over medium coals and grill, cap side up for 10 minutes.

Turn portabellos over to expose their ribbed underside. Combine oil, balsamic vinegar and garlic and whisk until combined.

Brush the balsamic vinaigrette over the ribbed underside of the portabellos generously. Cover and cook for 5 minutes. Repeat. Remove from grill and serve. Serves 4.

Chef's secret: If you've never had portabellos before, after cooking, they taste just like steak!

Bread stuffing, seasoned green beans are sure to please

See related Super Supper on Taste front.

BREAD STUFFING

1 loaf Challah or onion bread
6 onion rolls
2 ounces (about ¼ cup) margarine
1 medium onion
3 stalks celery, chopped
3 carrots, chopped
¼ bunch fresh parsley
1½ cartons Egg Beaters
26¼ ounces Chicken broth (canned or fresh) or onion soup mix with water
2 teaspoons sage
1 tablespoon garlic, chopped
Fresh cracked black pepper to taste

Cube bread and rolls. Place in very large mixing bowl. Melt margarine add onion, celery and carrots. Saute until tender. Add to cubed bread. Add remaining ingredients. Adjust moisture. Mix well. Place in greased casserole dish. Bake in preheated 350 degree F oven for 1 hour or until desired doneness. If no crust is desired, cover loosely with foil while baking. Serves 8.

SEASONED GREEN BEANS

1 medium onion, chopped
¼ cup Canola oil
2 pounds fresh green beans
½ cup water
2 tablespoons light soy sauce
2 tablespoons Hoisin sauce
2 tablespoons fresh dill
Fresh ground black pepper to taste

Sautee onion until brown. Add beans. Toss to taste. Add remaining ingredients and cook over low heat until desired doneness. Serves 8.

WHISKEY PEPPERCORN STEAK

1 New York strip steak, ¾-inch thick

Marinade
¼ cup olive oil
2 tablespoons steak sauce
1 teaspoon Tabasco sauce
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
4 cloves garlic, chopped
2 tablespoons coarsely chopped black peppercorns

Sauce
¼ cup Dijon mustard
¼ cup steak sauce
¼ cup bourbon or whiskey
¼ cup honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Combine marinade ingredients. Marinate steak overnight in plastic bag, turning occasionally.

Combine sauce ingredients in saucepan, heat continuously, stirring until honey no longer sticks to pan.

Grill steak over medium coals for seven minutes on each side. Cover with sauce.

Recipe from David Kresky

Dan Sly, a project engineer from Redford, is a father of three who shares cooking duty with his wife, Wendy. Chicken squares is his favorite recipe.

CHICKEN SQUARES

3 ounces cream cheese
3 tablespoons melted margarine
2 cups cooked, cubed chicken
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons chopped onion
8 ounce can crescent rolls
¾ cup crushed croutons

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. Mix cream cheese and 2 tablespoons melted margarine in mixing bowl. Add chicken, salt, pepper, milk, onion and mix thoroughly.

Separate 8 crescent rolls and lay them on lightly oiled cookie sheet in shape of four rectangles. Flatten rectangles and spoon ½ cup chicken mixture into centers. Fold in the corners together enclosing chicken and pinch edges shut. Brush remaining one tablespoon margarine on top and sprinkle with crushed croutons. Bake 20 to 25 minutes until lightly browned. Serves 4.

And to end on a sweet note, here's Jerome Weingarden's kid pleasing favorite dessert recipe.

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER SWIRLS

1 cup Skippy peanut butter
½ cup powdered sugar
¼ cup shredded or flaked coconut
½ cup light corn syrup
2 cups Cheerios cereal
1 package (5.75 ounces) milk chocolate chips
2 tablespoons water

Mix peanut butter, powdered sugar, coconut and corn syrup in medium bowl. Stir in cereal. Shape mixture into 1½-inch balls, flatten slightly. Heat chocolate chips and water in a saucepan over medium heat, stirring constantly until melted. Cool. Dip tops of balls into chocolate. Place on waxed paper lined cookie sheet. Refrigerate until firm, about 30 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen cookies.

Brunch to feature noon jazz quartet

If you're looking for a way to say — "Happy Father's Day, and all that Jazz," consider brunch noon to 3 p.m. Sunday, June 18, at the Botsford Inn's Coach House.

Southeastern Michigan Jazz Association is sponsoring the brunch featuring the Jack Brokensha Quartet with Brokensha on vibes, Matt Michaels, piano, Dan Jordan, bass and Jerry McKenzie, drums. They'll be joined by George Benson, saxophone, and vocalist Judie Cochill.

A wide variety of all-you-can-eat breakfast items plus roast beef, shrimp and dessert will be served. Tickets for this SEMJA fund-raiser are $25 per person with reserved seating at tables for eight. Call (810) 474-2720 or (810) 437-9468. To order tickets by mail, make check payable to SEMJA and send to: SEMJA, 20457 Maplewood, Livonia, MI 48152. Tickets may be purchased by the table or individually.

Send or call for reservations by June 14. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Botsford Inn is at 28000 Grand River, just north of Eight Mile Road in Farmington Hills.

Make cookies for Dad's Day dessert

Reinforcing children's self esteem through an exploration of family heritage can make this Father's Day go beyond the funny card and new necktie. And when the concept is carried out in the form of delicious dessert cookies to top off a meal of his favorite dishes, the result is sure to be a hit.

An American holiday, Father's Day is traditionally observed on the third Sunday of June. The custom was started on June 10, 1919, by Mrs. John Bruce Dodd, who wanted to honor her own father. The Ministerial Association of Washington, D.C., sponsored the original celebration, and the participants were asked to wear a red rose to honor their living fathers or a white rose to commemorate a deceased father.

The hodge-podge of cultural heritages in America makes the celebration of Father's Day an ideal time to examine the family's background, and tracing family history will create a celebration that is fun for the whole family.

Here are some recipes from the Crisco Kitchens to try.

FAMILY TREE COOKIES

1 ½ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
⅔ Crisco Stick or ⅔ cup Crisco all-vegetable shortening
1 tablespoon water
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1 ½ cups all-purpose flour
⅓ cup unsweetened baking cocoa
¼ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
2 cups (12 ounce package) miniature semi-sweet chocolate chips
Icing
2 cups confectioners' sugar
3-5 tablespoons water
Decoration
Spearmint leaf-shaped gum drops (optional)

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Line cookie sheet with foil.

Combine brown sugar, shortening, water and vanilla in large bowl. Beat at medium speed of electric mixture until well blended. Beat eggs into creamed mixture.

Combine flour, cocoa, baking soda and salt. Mix into creamed mixture at low speed just until blended. Stir in chocolate chips.

Refrigerate dough at least one hour. Keep refrigerated until ready to use. Roll dough into ropes ¼-inch in diameter. Join 2 or 3 ropes to form tree trunk at bottom of cookie sheet. Shape remaining dough on foil-lined baking sheets into tree branches.

Bake at 375 degrees F. for 9-11 minutes, or until cookie is set. Do not overbake. Cool 2 minutes on baking sheet. Remove cookie with foil from baking sheet and cool completely. Peel foil from back of cookie.

For icing, combine confectioners' sugar and 3 tablespoons water. Mix to blend well. Add additional water, a little at a time, if paste is too stiff. Add additional confectioners' sugar if icing is too thin. Place icing in pastry bag fitted with small No. 3 writing tip. Alternately, place in small resealable plastic bag. Snip very small hole off one corner of bag. Pipe names onto branches of tree.

Attach spearmint leaves to branches with icing. (optional). Makes 2 tree cookies.

SUGAR SHIELD COOKIES

1 ¼ cups granulated sugar
1 Butter Flavor Crisco Stick or 1 cup Butter Flavor Crisco all-vegetable shortening
2 eggs
¼ cup light corn syrup or regular pancake syrup
1 tablespoon vanilla
3 cups all-purpose flour (plus 4 tablespoons divided)
¾ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
Icing
2 cups confectioners' sugar
3-5 tablespoons water
Food coloring

Combine sugar and shortening in large bowl. Beat at medium speed of electric mixer until well blended. Add eggs, syrup and vanilla. Beat until well blended and fluffy.

Combine 3 cups flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add gradually to creamed mixture at low speed. Mix until well blended.

Divide dough into 4 quarters. Wrap each quarter with plastic wrap. Refrigerate at least 1 hour. Keep refrigerated until ready to use.

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Place sheets of foil on countertop for cooling cookies. Cut pattern for shield from heavy paper as follows: Fold a 3-inch square paper in half to form a rectangle. Cut bottom corner off unfolded side to form rounded edge. Cut shallow arc from top of paper. Unfold.

Spread 1 tablespoon of flour on large sheet of waxed paper. Place one quarter of dough on floured paper. Flatten slightly with hands. Turn dough over and cover with another large sheet of waxed paper. Roll dough to ¼-inch thickness. Remove top sheet of waxed paper. Cut out cookies using pattern. Transfer to ungreased baking sheet with large pancake turner. Place 2 inches apart on ungreased baking sheet. Roll out and repeat with remaining dough.

Bake one baking sheet at a time at 375 degrees F. for 5-7 minutes. Do not overbake. Cool 2 minutes on baking sheet. Remove cookies to foil to cool completely.

For icing, combine confectioners' sugar and 3 tablespoons water. Mix to blend well. Add additional water, a little at a time, if paste is too stiff. Add additional confectioners sugar if icing is too thin. Divide mixture into small bowls. Add food coloring, a few drops at a time to achieve desired colors. Place icing in pastry bags fitted with small No. 3 writing tips. Alternately, place in small resealable plastic bags. Snip very small hole off one corner of each bag. Pipe icing designs onto cookies, with flat side on top and point on the bottom. Makes about 3-4 dozen cookies.

PEANUT BUTTER HANDPRINT COOKIES

1 ¼ cups firmly packed light brown sugar
¾ cup creamy peanut butter
½ Crisco stick or ½ cup Crisco all-vegetable shortening
3 tablespoons milk
1 tablespoon vanilla
1 egg
1 ¾ cups all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon baking soda
Icing:
2 cups confectioners' sguar
3-5 tablespoons water
Food coloring

Heat oven to 375 degrees F. Place sheets of foil on countertop for cooling cookies. Combine brown sugar, peanut butter, shortening, milk and vanilla in large bowl. Beat at medium speed of electric mixer until well blended. Add egg. Beat just until blended.

Combine brown sugar, peanut butter, shortening, milk and vanilla in large bowl. Beat at medium speed of electric mixer until well blended. Add egg. Beat just until blended.

Combine flour, salt and baking soda. Add to creamed mixture at low speed. Mix just until blended. Refrigerate dough 3-4 hours. Keep refrigerated until read to use.

Divide dough into eight balls. Roll each ball of dough into ¼-inch thick oval on cookie sheet. Press hand with spread fingers evenly into dough. Cut out hand print with knife. Remove excess dough from around hand print. Repeat with remaining balls. Combine scraps to form additional balls. Roll in same manner.

Bake one baking sheet at a time at 375 degrees F. for 7-9 minutes, or until set and just beginning to brown. Do not overbake. Cool 2 minutes on baking sheet. Remove cookies to foil to cool completely.

For icing: Combine confectioners' sugar and 3 tablespoons water. Mix to blend well. Add additional water, a little at a time, if paste is too stiff. Add additional confectioners' sugar if icing is too thin. Divide mixture into small bowls. Add food color, a few drops at a time, to achieve desired colors. Place icing in small resealable plastic bags. Snip very small hole off one corner of each bag. Pipe icing as desired. Decorate with rings and nails, if desired. Makes about 12 hand print cookies.

Glenn catcher picked

Westland John Glenn senior catcher Nick James has been named to the Michigan High School Baseball Coaches Association East-West All-Star game, which is scheduled for 11 a.m. Monday, June 26, at Tiger Stadium.

Pitchers Brian Berryman (Redford Union) and Jake Lawson (Farmington Hills Harrison) will also play in the game. Berryman was recently selected in the Major League Baseball Amateur Draft by the Houston Astros. Lawson, meanwhile, is headed for Oakland University.

Hornets win 1st

Todd Wilson collected three hits and Eric Yuhasz keyed a four-run sixth with two-run double, lifting the Livonia Hornets to a 6-2 Mickey Mantle Baseball League (ages 15-16) victory Thursday over the Livonia Spitfires at Ford Field.

Justin Kerr added two hits for the Hornets (1-2), who are made of up primarily of Stevenson High players. Mark Dietrich also doubled in the win.

Brent Wojtyniak, who pitched the final two innings in relief of starter Mike Anderson, was the winning pitcher.

Mark Felker suffered the loss.

Women's Select 2nd

The Michigan Women's Select soccer team recently finished second to Ohio South, falling 4-1 in the championship game of the USASA Region II tournament held Memorial Day weekend in Rockford, Ill.

Farmington High product and ex-Wisconsin player Carrie Maier scored the lone goal for Michigan in the final match.

In the semifinals, Michigan downed Wisconsin, 3-1, as Ali Lord (North Farmington) scored twice and Maier added the other goal. Schoolcraft College women's coach Nikki Johnson, formerly of Livonia Churchill High, collected an assist along with Laura Fedrigo (Livonia Stevenson).

Team Michigan opened with a 5-1 triumph over Minnesota as Lord and Sarah McDonald each tallied a pair of goals. Maier notched the other goal, while Johnson and Lord drew assists.

In a next round, Mariam Cavanaugh scored the game-winner in the 82nd minute from Amy Trunk (Farmington Hills) as Team Michigan edged Kansas, 1-0.

They also rallied to beat Ohio North, 3-1, scoring three unanswered goals in the final 30 minutes. Johnson scored twice, while Jessica Limauro added the other.

Other Team Michigan members included Julie Johnson, Kim Van Cleef, Tracy Morrell (Livonia), Marci Dart, Kristen Goff (Plymouth), Leah Hutko (Plymouth), Andrea Gerbi and Shannon Poole (Troy).

The team was coached by Tim Ernst.

Christine Lussier, Pat Mathieu and Anne Riley served as managers.

Wolves under-10 champ

Sporting a record of 7-0-1, the Livonia YMCA Michigan Wolves, an under-10 select boys team, recently captured its division in Western Suburban Soccer League.

Members of the Wolves, who outscored their opponents 31-3 (including six shutouts) are: Tim Allen, Mike Borowiak, Mike Budd, Josh Churella, Brian Clement, Brady Crosby, Jeff Ehehalt, Wesley Fan, J.T. Katikos, Keith Mullins, Matt Okopny, Brian Popeney, Mike Simons, Tony Zenn and Brian Ennis.

The team is coached by Joe Knoerl and assisted by Pat Frederick and Andy Shiner. The team manager is Edward Allen.

Soccer runner-up

Vardar III, under-11 boys soccer team, reached the finals of the under-12 age division before losing in the finals, 3-1, Sunday in Dearborn.

The under-11 girls team, coached by Terry Collins, reached the semifinals of the under-12 age bracket.

Cards an ace

Mike Stewart of Livonia recently scored his first ace in 31 years on the 160-yard, No. 16 hole at Stonehedge near Gull Lake. He used a 5-iron.

Stewart shot 90 for the round.

Madonna baseball camp

The All-Star Baseball Camp, run by Madonna University baseball coach Mike George, will be Monday through Friday, June 19-23. Cost is $150.

For more information, call (313) 591-5029.

To submit items for the Observer Sports Scene, write to Brad Emons, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150; or send via fax to (313) 591-7279.

Shamrocks cruise into quarters

Redford Catholic Central put it all together Saturday, advancing to the state Class A baseball quarterfinals with victories over Detroit Southwestern and Southgate Anderson. On Tuesday, CC will face Plymouth Salem at Milan.

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Assistant coach Ed Hamacher clutched the Class A regional baseball trophy, and then the players gathered around and touched their good luck charm — his bald head — en masse.

"We haven't done that in awhile," CC head coach John Salter said. "We only do it when we need a rally or when it's a good win."

The Shamrocks never needed any comeback magic Saturday at Monroe High School, but it was a good day for sure as CC won the regional final with a convincing 9-2 victory over Southgate Anderson.

Earlier in the day, CC eliminated Public School League runner-up Detroit Southwestern, 9-0, while Southgate toppled Taylor Center, 12-4.

CC (24-8 overall) now advances to Tuesday's quarterfinal against Plymouth Salem (26-7) in an all-Observerland matchup beginning at 4 p.m. at Milan Middle School.

It was CC's third regional title under Salter, who guided the Shamrocks to 1987 Class A crown and a semifinal berth in 1989.

"Our seniors, as a whole, will really appreciate this win," Salter said. "And we're happy overall because we beat the team (Southgate) that knocked us out last year. It was a hard-fought game until we broke it up late (with four runs in the seventh)."

The Shamrocks excelled in all phases of the game — pitching, hitting and defense. They simply played smart, fundamental baseball.

Despite giving up a homer to ninth batter Adam Alter and a pair doubles, junior right-hander Chris Karney proved to be resilient. He scattered six hits and two walks over seven innings, while fanning six, to pick up the victory.

He kept Southgate constantly off balance with a sidearm curveball.

"It's something I like to throw on a 0-2 count," said Karney, who is 4-0. "When I get ahead in the count, I like to mix things up.

"But the defense was outstanding. There were no errors (actually one) and all I had to do was throw strikes and keep it in play."

The offense was just as impressive, as CC collected a total of 11 hits, led by junior third baseman Marty Wilk, who went 4-for-4.

"Since the Madonna Tournament (Memorial Day weekend) Marty has really been coming on with the bat," Salter said. "He had only about 25 at-bats because he had been hurt a lot and had struggled somewhat defensively. But the last three weeks he's really helped us offensively."

First baseman Mike Daguanno, who collected three hits in the opener, including two doubles, added two more hits in the final, along with freshman Kevin Thomas.

Daguanno is batting close to .450 with 35 RBIs.

CC's glovework also showed. The Shamrocks turned a pair of double plays, while Southgate (17-15 overall) took itself out of a couple of potential scoring threats with poor base running.

"Our defense has been good, especially after we moved (Greg) Rogers over to second (base)," Salter said. "He and Chris Misiak (the shortstop) make all the plays. We've turned more DPs on grounders this year than I can ever remember in my 15 years."

In the semifinal, CC pounced on Southwestern starter Johnnie Rogers in the first inning, sending 10 men to the plate and scoring five runs. Senior left fielder Mike Homant keyed the uprising with a two-run double.

Junior designated hitter Garet Burch and senior right fielder Jason Couture contributed two hits apiece.

Meanwhile, starting pitcher Justin Stankewicz (7-4) threw five no-hit innings. He walked only two before giving way to James O'Connor, who finished up. In two innings, O'Connor allowed the only Southwestern hit, a scratch single by Kenny Johnson in the sixth.

"O'Connor gave us two good innings so we could save Karney for the second game, and that really helped" Salter said. "Stankewicz and Karney are not strikeout pitchers, but they're effective because they mix things up and try to get ground balls."

Southwestern, which committed a total of seven errors, bowed out at 15-9 overall.

Garden City loses heartbreaker, 1-0

■ SOFTBALL

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

For Garden City High School's girls softball team, the regional championship experience was like Knight and day.

Knight came in the form of Lincoln Park pitcher Carrie Knight, who threw a one-hit shutout to beat the Cougars in Saturday's Class A regional championship at Monroe High School, 1-0.

The day as in all day, which is how long Garden City could've played Detroit Murray-Wright in the semifinal, had it not been called in the fifth on a mercy rule. The Cougars trounced the Pilots, 12-0.

Murray-Wright (16-6) nearly forfeited when only eight players initially showed up at the park. The Pilots' senior prom was the night before, perhaps explaining part of the reason for the delay.

Tardiness wasn't a problem for Railsplitters' right fielder Elizabeth Bradley, who slapped a game-winning double in the top of seventh to put the brakes on the Cougars' state title odyssey. Bradley's drive over center fielder Colleen Wutke's head scored Shannon Perry from second.

That's all Knight needed. The 6-foot flamethrower set down the middle part of Garden City's order in the bottom of the seventh to collect her 20th win.

Lincoln Park moves into Tuesday's quarterfinal at Milan against Ann Arbor Pioneer with a 27-6 record.

Knight, an Eastern Michigan University signee, struck out eight and walked none.

Senior first baseman Mandee Horosko collected Garden City's lone hit, an infield single in the fifth that helped load the bases with no outs.

Right fielder Stephanie Smith and Wutke also reached base on errors.

But Knight fanned Jenny Bauer and Jenni Talbot.

Wutke was then tagged out at the plate to end the threat when she tried to score on a wild pitch.

The tag was high, but the umpire ruled her out. After three batters put the ball in play, Knight retired the next two, who went down swinging hard.

"Perhaps they tried a little too hard. . . . I don't fault any player," Garden City coach Barry Patterson. 'We far exceeded expectations."

Although some preseason prognosticators called the Cougars a .500 team, they wound up the year 27-8.

All-Area boys track team races to win

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Lutheran High Westland's Mike Unger couldn't ask for a better season from his boys track team.

Unger

The Warriors' coach watched his team win just about everything in sight, going undefeated in dual meets (13-0 record), along with titles at the Ram Relays, the 16-team Monroe-Jefferson Invitational and Metro Conference championship (third in a row).

Lutheran Westland also captured its first-ever Class C regional title.

For his efforts, Unger has been named 1995 Observerland Coach of the Year.

"We have about 50 kids on the team and that's about one-third of the boys in our school," said Unger, who has been head coach eight years and athletic director for nine. "We go around, ask, and then encourage them to come out as freshmen. But we basically let them do whatever they want.

"Anybody who has ever come here has never really run track before."

Unger, a native Detroiter, ran track/cross country, and played football at Detroit Lutheran West High. He spent two years at Henry Ford Community College before moving to Concordia Teachers College (Seward, Neb.) where he was a distance runner. Unger holds a master's degree in education from Wayne State.

"We didn't really try to win the regional, but it just happened that way," Unger said. "Our main goal was to get as many people as we could to the state meet."

Area coaches gathered recently in a meeting to select the top three performers in each event. This year's team is led by Redford Union standout Tom Kessel, who finished second in the 800-meter run at the state Class A meet.

Introducing the 1995 All-Area Boys Track Team:

FIRST TEAM

John Spotsky, Redford Catholic Central, shot put: In the Catholic League championships, Spotsky won the event with an area best toss of 51 feet, 8 inches.

The junior was also individual champion at the Observerland and Oxford Relays, as well as Region 5-A and Operation-Friendship champ.

John made good use of his exceptional strength and competitive drive to progress further than any first-year thrower I've ever seen," CC coach Tony Magni said. "He scored many big victories to lead us to an undefeated dual meet season, the Catholic League championship and the city championship."

Spolsky, a linebacker/fullback, was a first-team All-Observer choice in football. He was also Class A runner-up as a heavyweight in wrestling.

Corey McClelland, Wayne, discus: The senior uncorked the area's longest throw at the Mega Conference Red Division meet with a toss of 157-6, which was good enough for third.

"Corey is strong with very good technique," Wayne Floyd Carter said. "He made tremendous improvement over last year.

"He was excellent this year after a late start because of a question whether we were going to have a team."

McClelland was also a first-team All-Area linebacker in football.

Brent Washington, Westland Glenn, long jump: The senior, headed for Michigan on a football scholarship, posted the area's best jump of 21-10½.

He was undefeated in dual meets, while winning titles at the Elks Relays and Jackson Northwest Metric Relays. He was runner-up at Observerland and qualified for the state meet by taking third at the regional.

"Washington was also one of the area's top sprinters with a personal best 10.9 in the 100-meter dash.

"Brent is a superstar athlete that comes along too infrequently in a coach's career," Glenn's Jess Shough said. "Brent makes coaching very exciting. He was a pleasure to coach, an outstanding athlete and also a scholar-athlete."

Doug Brodoski, Farm. Harrison, high jump: The junior cleared 6-4 for an area best at the Oakland County Meet where he finished third.

Brodoski took a second in the regional to qualify for state and was third in the Western Lakes Activities Association meet.

"Doug was a consistent jumper all season," Harrison coach John Reed said. "This is only his second year in the high jump. He has the ability to dominate next year if he puts his mind to it."He's a tremendous person and a real-team leader."

Paul Terek, Liv. Franklin, pole vault: Just a sophomore, Terek was over a foot better than the rest of the competition this year.

He captured the Western Lakes meet with an area best vault of 13-8. He also cleared 13-4 to finish second in the regional, qualifying for state. Terek broke the school record (13-7) in a dual meet against Plymouth Canton.

He was undefeated in dual meets, too. Terek also ranked among the top 10 in the 400 run (52.9).

"Paul set goals at the start of the year, and he achieved every one," Franklin coach Dale Lee said. "He's a tremendous athlete, just not a pole vaulter. He's got a long way to go, but he's just starting to tap his potential."

Terek also carries close to an A average in the classroom.

Kevin Bryant, Farm. Harrison, 110-meter hurdles: The senior, also headed to Michigan on a football scholarship, finished the season strong by finishing second in the state Class A meet with a time of 14.3.

Bryant also was regional, Oakland County and Western Lakes champion.

"Kevin is a tremendous performer," Reed said. "He ran most of the end of the season with a bad hamstring muscle. He ran through a lot of pain and still did the job. He probably could have run even faster."

Kevin, a wide receiver and defensive back, was a member of Harrison's state Class A football champs.

His brother, Don, is a former state hurdles champs.

Ken Riley, Wayne, 300 hurdles: The senior posted the area's top times in both the 300 hurdles (38.4) and 110 hurdles (13.9).

Riley blistered the Observerland meet record by six-10ths with a clocking of 14.1 in the 110 highs. At the regional, Riley went 13.9 in the prelims in the 110 highs and won the title.

In the 110 highs, Riley took fifth at the state meet (14.5).

Riley was also a double winner in the Mega-Red Division and was the lead-off man in the victorious 800 relay (Mega-Red) and the 1,600 relay (Observerland) meets.

"Ken is a hard worker and a fierce competitor," Carter said. "He will be a success in whatever he chooses to do in life."

Considering the University of Detroit-Mercy and Michigan State, Riley is an honors student carrying a 3.62 grade-point average.

Jason Granger, Farm. Harrison, 100 dash: The junior speedster finished second in the state Class A meet behind Southfield-Lathrup's Jamal Allen.

Granger, who went 10.8 to lead the area, also took second at the regional, second at Oakland County and second in the Western Lakes.

"Jason is a big meet performer," Reed said. "The better the competition, the more outstanding the achievement. He was largely responsible for a lot of Harrison's team success this year."

Granger, a two-way back, was also a member of Harrison's state Class A football champ and a first-team All-Area grid performer.

Greg Knight, Redford Union, 200: Knight enjoyed a banner senior year by posting area best times in both the 200 (22.4) and 100 (10.8).

He went 22.4 twice as he was regional runner-up and Mega-White champ.

Knight was an All-Mega White Division choice in the 100, 200, 800 relay and 1,600 relay. He was also voted co-RU MVP in 1995.

"Greg has always done more than what is asked of him," RU coach Tobin Jones said. "He set the tone for many of our team's best efforts. His talents and enthusiasm will be missed."

Jason Baryiski, Ply. Salem, 400: The junior went undefeated in dual meets and posted the area's best time (50.6). His personal best clocking came against rival Canton in the Mangan Meet.

Baryiski, who took a third in the WLAA meet, was the anchor man on Salem's state qualifying 1,600 relay team.

"Jason is a hard worker, runs with a lot of heart and he's hard to beat when he's got the lead," Salem coach Geoff Baker said. "He runs with a lot of guts. He always pushed himself to do the best he could. He could run anything from the 100 to 800 very well.

Tom Kessel, Redford Union, 800: The senior was regional champ and first-team All-Observer two consecutive years in the 800. Kessel capped an outstanding year by finishing second in this year's state Class A meet with an area best time of 1:55.5.

His regional clocking was 1:56.6.

Knight also made All-Mega White the 800, 800 relay and 1,600 relay.

The 1995 co-team MVP ranked in five different Observerland top 10 listings including the 100 (11.0), 200 (22.9), 400 (51.1), 800 (1:55.5) and 1,600 (4:40.0).

"Beyond his obvious talents as a runner, Tom has a strength of character that will carry him through a lifetime of achievements," Jones said. "He is the finest runner I have ever coached."

Jared Biniecki, Ply. Salem, 1,600: The junior took a ninth in the state Class A meet with a time of 4:24.5.

Biniecki also won Western Lakes titles in the 1,600 (4:27.0) and 3,200 (9:46.2). He took a fifth at the fast RU regional with a state qualifying time of 4:26.1. His best in the 3,200 was 9:45.1.

He also helped break Salem Rock records in the 6,400 relay and distance medley.

"Jared worked hard all year; he was a dedicated distance runner and showed good leadership on the track," Baker said.

Joe Leo, Redford CC, 3,200: The junior was Catholic League champ, Operation-Friendship champ and was undefeated in dual meets. He is one of the big reasons why CC won both the Catholic and City titles this year.

Leo took a fifth in the fast RU regional (9:24.5) and was fifth in Class A (9:25.0).

Leo won the Observerland open 1,600 race two years in a row, where he posted an area best of 4:24.0.

"Joe takes nothing for granted," Magni said, "and foremost, is a dedicated and enduring athlete."

Last fall, Leo took fourth in the state Class A (team) cross country championships.

Jerrad Johnson, Ehsan Allos, Kevin Bryant and Jason Granger, Farm. Harrison, 400 relay: This quartet finished first in the West Bloomfield regional with an area best time of 43.9. They added a fourth in the WLAA (Granger did not compete) and a seventh in Oakland County (Bryant had a pulled hamstring).

"They had a real good time early in the season at the Milan Relays," Reed said. "It was will be hard to repeat next year because we lose two kids (Bryant and Allos) off that team."

Ken Riley, Richard Buford, Dwayne Jackson and Richard Johnson, Wayne, 800 relay: This foursome won the regional with a time of 1:30.3, best in Observerland. They also finished first at the Observerland Relays.

Three of the four members return next year. Johnson and Buford are juniors, while Jackson is a sophomore.

"They worked very hard on exchanges," Carter said. "As a group they worked hard on conditioning."

Ken Riley, Dwayne Jackson, Jason Blanks and Richard Johnson, Wayne, 1,600 relay: These four Zebras were Mega Conference-Red Division champs, second at Observerland and third in the regional. They posted a season best area time of 3:26.2.

"This relay team pushed each other," Carter said. "They worked hard on exchanges and conditioning."

Blanks, the fourth member, is a junior.

Dave Karmann, Scott Loewe, Andrew McDonald and Jason Baryiski, Ply. Salem, 3,200 relay: This foursome won several titles including the regional (8:08.9), WLAA, Elks Relays, Tiger Relays and Observerland. They also took seventh in Class A and fifth at the prestigious Mansfield (Ohio) Relays.

"We had four outstanding runners and their hard work showed," Baker said. "They always ran to win and they ran well. Their training in the off-season showed. They were very dedicated."

Aggie teams bounced in tourney

■ REGIONAL

Redford St. Agatha had its chances late in the game, but Taylor Baptist Park came away with a 4-1 Class D regional semifinal baseball victory Saturday at Wyandotte Memorial Field.

Taylor Baptist (13-14 overall) built a 4-0 lead before the Aggies (12-16) rallied in the top of the seventh inning as Bill Matti, who went 3-for-4 on the day, knocked in Agatha's lone run.

The Aggies, however, left the bases loaded.

"We just didn't get the hit when we needed it," Agatha coach Joe Coraci said. "They (Baptist Park) got two cheap runs in the first, but it was an even game after that. I thought our pitcher did a nice job."

Losing pitcher Mike Simpson, a sophomore right-hander, went 5⅓ innings in suffering the loss.

Taylor Baptist outhit Agatha 9-6.

Winning pitcher Tim Bettinder went seven innings. He struck out four.

■ INTER-CITY (SOFTBALL) 14, AGATHA 1: Allen Park Inter-City Baptist (13-7) won its regional semifinal Saturday at Wyandotte against St. Agatha (15-13) in five innings (mercy rule).

Winning pitcher Cindy Claypool, who allowed just three hits, helped her own cause by going 3-for-4. Ruth Dobert also went 3-for-4.

Freshman Katy Miller scored Agatha's only run and went 2-for-3.

Starting pitcher Angie Blacburn suffered the loss.

"We started slowly this year, but we ended up having a pretty good year," Agatha coach Bob Sowden said. "We won our division and we won our district, and I thought the girls played hard."

"The chemistry was good," Patterson said. "Everyone worked hard from day one. We played some good teams. We were able to beat some of these good teams and we gained confidence."

One of those teams was, ironically, Lincoln Park during the regular season. Knight struck out 14 in a 7-2 regular-season loss.

Irony rode with the Rails in the rematch. The game-winning hit came from a substitute who replaced the starting right fielder in the fifth.

"She missed a couple of signs and pffft," said Lincoln Park coach Debbie Howell, flinging her thumb in an "out" motion.

Backed up with some excellent defensive play, Cougars' starter Angie Hudson pitched six scoreless innings. She yielded five hits.

Hudson was rested during the Murray-Wright wipeout. Instead, Jenny Woody struck out four and gave up only one hit on a bloop single to collect her ninth win.

Garden City pounded out eight hits against the Pilots. In two at-bats, shortstop Vonne Jenks smacked two doubles and drove in three runs.

In the final, Jenks had noticeable difficulty holding the bat. She was 0-for-3, though her line drive leading off the seventh nearly sailed over the right fielder's head.

Jenks' defense was immaculate. She assisted on six putouts, which included her gunning down the Rails' Agnie Ervin while on one knee in the first.

Jenks graduates along with Horosko.

Otherwise, the Cougars return several players next season.

Which is perhaps why Patterson's postgame talk nearly lasted as long as the contest itself.

Suit father with a new bowling ball

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

Let's not forget dear old dad, with Father's Day coming up Sunday.

Now if your father happens to be a bowler, your gift problems are solved by a quick trip to the local Bowling Pro Shop. There is a wide array of new products to select from; depending on your budget, you could spend as much as $200 for a new ball.

Do not expect to buy a good ball at the discount chain. They do not carry the top lines, nor offer professional service with regard to fitting and drilling. Bowling shoes are another consideration, if you know his shoes need replacement.

Here is a chance to select from a wide price range. Make sure they will exchange if the shoes do not fit properly, or if dad would like a different choice.

Accessory items might include wrist or elbow supports, and a variety of ball cleaning items specially formulated for the new reactive resins. Some of the pro shops are now carrying the "Bowling Balls" necktie by Ralph Marlin, a perfect pick.

If you cannot decide on the right item, most pro shops will be happy to issue a gift certificate in any reasonable amount. If, on the other hand, you are the father, a hint or two in the right direction ought to get you exactly what you need.

Like a new bowling towel with the same brand name as your favorite ball or a shirt with the graphics "Happy Father's Day" on it . . .

The Wayne-Westland Men's Bowling Association had it 29th annual Awards Banquet. This group was chartered by ABC in 1940 and has served it's members for 55 years.

The city tournament champs were the "Keggers" with Tony Loechli (captain), Mike Lee, Charles Singleton, Steve Blair and Dennis Radtke. The "700" Tournament champion is Larry Cillins, Jr.

Highest series in each house was Mike Mitchell at Town In Country Lanes with 846, Don Parks Jr. at Westland Bowl with 822, Kevin Bradshaw at Wayne Bowl at 801, Dave Tome and Don Potts at Super Bowl with 799s each, and Nick J. Kulka at Fiesta Lanes at 733.

The LLoyd "Bud" Mach Award went to George Ellison for dedicated service to the association. Highest average this past season: Pat Agius with 229 in the Friday Nite Invitational at Town In Country Lanes. The scholarship winners in the youth tournament were Nyla Kluska and Bradley Fuchs, $1,000 winners each, and Stacey Pucalsky and Chris Majka, $500 apiece.

The Champions of the Mixed Doubles tournament were Warren and Glenda Jenkins.

10-9 Decision to Consultants

Decision Consultants Inc. won a battle of unbeaten Livonia Collegiate Baseball League teams on Wednesday, defeating Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury, 10-9, at Livonia's Ford Field.

The game was called after six innings because of the two-hour time limit. The win moves Decision Consultants, a first-year team, to 3-0. Hines Park fell to 3-1.

■ COLLEGIATE

Hines Park was threatening in the bottom of the sixth, but DCI struck out the final batter with the bases loaded to preserve the win.

Derric Terry (Henry Ford College), the first of three Hines Park pitchers, suffered the loss. Derek Besco (Westland John Glenn/University of Michigan) pitched 1⅓ innings and Scott Kapla (Redford Catholic Central/Eastern Michigan) pitched 1⅓ innings.

DCI scored on two squeeze bunts.

Jeff Lance (Redford Thurston/Henry Ford) had a triple and two RBI for Hines Park. Teammates Dino Rovinello, Besco and E.J. Howell had two hits each.

Rovinello and Howell drove in two runs each. Besco had one RBI.

■ ADRAY 7, LITTLE CAESARS 5: If Livonia Little Caesars coach John Moraitis ever gets a full complement of players, he thinks his team has a chance.

Little Caesars, playing without three key players, outhit Adray, 7-4. The loss dropped Caesars to 2-3. Adray won for the first time in five games.

Caesars was without shortstop Phil Pieper for the third time this season. Pieper lives near Monroe and has transportation problems, according to Moraitis.

Mark Rutherford (Livonia Churchill/BMU) was playing on his team in a Wooden Bat League, and second baseman Mike Fenech (Macomb Community College) was out of town.

Brian Cotner suffered the pitching defeat in four innings of work. After striking out the side in the first inning, Cotner experienced wildness.

J.R. Taylor (Henry Ford) had a solo homer for Caesars. Dave Sussalla (Redford CC/University of Detroit-Mercy) had two hits and an RBI and Craig Bower had two hits and drove in two runs.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Items for the Sports Roundup must be submitted by noon Tuesday (for Thursday edition) and noon Friday (for Monday edition). Items run once only.

Neon making its mark with tough twentysomething crowd

Road Test
By Anne Fracassa

Chrysler Corp. President Robert Lutz borrowed an adage from ex-Chairman Lee Iacocca to introduce the carmaker's first all-new subcompact since 1978: "If this car doesn't excite you, you had better check your pulse because you're dead."

Chrysler is aiming the "no sacrifices" 1995 Neon at the twentysomething crowd, betting value for the dollar is more important than the price tag.

To make a point, Lutz reminds: "Value is more important than price. Yugo proved that."

The new-for-'95 Dodge- and Plymouth-badged Neons, which can go up to 125 mph at top speed, come with an $8,975 price tag. But the carmaker's real goal is to penetrate the lucrative overseas market, so Chrysler-badged Neons are being exported to 18 European markets via the carmaker's 18,000 European dealers.

Theodor R. Cunningham, executive vice president of sales and marketing, says Neon sales are booming. In April, a record 17,941 Neons were bought nationwide.

And last month in New York, Chrysler accepted the American Marketing Association's 1994 Grand Edison New Product Marketer of the Year award for innovative excellence for its work on the Neon and Chrysler Cirrus. The two cars won individual Gold Edison Best New Product awards.

The awards were established eight years ago to recognize American marketing excellence and innovation.

Hours after Lutz introduced the new cab-forward-designed Neon to thousands of auto executives and journalists in Frankfurt, Germany, last year, he and Chairman Robert Eaton conducted what amounted to live fireside chats via satellite with U.S. journalists in eight major cities, including Detroit and Washington.

It marked the first time a member of the Big Three automakers had introduced a U.S.-made car abroad.

Eaton was candid about the importance of the Neon to Chrysler's future.

"It is important to make a profit" with the Neon, said Eaton, who took over as Chrysler chairman when Iacocca retired. "We do not expect to lose money on this car."

"The Neon will dispel the myth that America can't build exciting cars," added Lutz, whose 700-member platform team brought the Neon to market in 31 months at a development cost of $1.3 billion — about half what it cost to develop the 1996 minivans. "Even though the Neon is being built in North America, it is designed for markets around the world.

"The Neon is a different kind of American small car. It will not be a car of sacrifices. It'll have performance, be environmentally responsible, fuel efficient, stylish ... a car with personality and character. We want it to be a car people want to own, not a car they buy because that's all they can afford. It's a car that goes beyond expectations. It's more than just transportation."

Lutz expects a good response to the Neon in Europe.

"Chrysler is showing a commitment to the European market," he said. "When we returned to Europe in 1987, some people said American carmakers couldn't innovate without a Japanese or European partner. ... For too many years, American companies were behind the curve. But Chrysler wants to prove with the Neon that it's a whole new game."

Four-door Neons are made in Belvidere, Ill. Coupes are manufactured in Toluca, Mexico. Belvidere can make up to 300,000 Neons a year and Toluca another 75,000.

The 2,320-pound Neon offers a 2.0-liter, 16-valve, single overhead cam 4-cylinder engine and is available in 5-speed manual transaxle or 3-speed automatic transaxle. It comes equipped with dual front-seat air bags, available anti-lock brakes and an integrated child safety seat.

Lutz said the Neon's flashy look could make all the difference to the discerning buyer.

"The young Germans I've met here are particularly taken with the two-door coupe," he said. "They really like the different headlights."

If you'd like to see a particular model tested or if you have a car question, send Anne Fracassa a message at AVANTI1054, Avanti's America Online mailbox. Or comment through the Internet at AVANTI1054@aol.com.

Winter Is Over, but Don't Neglect Your Wiper Blades

The passing of another cold, dreary winter means that you, as a driver, no longer have to contend with icy driving conditions that can make roads dangerous.

However, you're not in the clear yet. The effects of all that winter driving have probably taken their toll on the rubber edge of your car's wiper blades, says Lee Reighart of ANCO Wiper Blades, a division of Cooper Automotive.

Do you remember those times when you waited impatiently for the wipers to clear the frost from your windshield while the car was warming up? Imagine scraping your knuckles across that same frosted windshield, and you can understand the abuse your wiper blades sustained.

"Road film, dirt, salt, petroleum products and the additional pollution in the air all contribute to the deterioration of the rubber wiping edge of wiper blades," Reighart says.

Here are some wiper-blade tips from the experts at ANCO:

- Windshields contaminated with waxes and oils will not allow windshield wipers to perform properly, causing poor visibility.
- Many types of windshield wipers actually will lift off the windshield at highway speeds. Use wipers designed with aerodynamic features to improve wiper performance at high speeds for clearer driving vision.
- Improperly performing windshield wipers that skip across windshields create annoyances and distractions that interfere with safe driving conditions.
- Inspect wiper blades every six months. Replace when worn, damaged or malformed.
- Ninety percent of all driving decisions behind the wheel are based on vision. Properly operating windshield wipers can improve driving vision for safer vehicle operation.

Personal Scene Ads in The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers allow you to record a message in your own voice over the phone. That way when people see your ad in the paper, they can dial your code, hear your message, and leave a message of their own. You can call, day or night, to get your messages. It's fast, it's easy, and it helps people find out more about each other. Look in today's classifieds or call and place your own ad.
Who knows? Your mysterious beauty could be just a phone call away!
