Kids' acts could land parents in jail

In an effort to combat juvenile delinquency and to curb gang graffiti, Westland city officials are considering new legislation aimed at making parents more responsible. Parents could face fines, or even jail, under the misdemeanor ordinances.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland parents could be held responsible for delinquent acts committed by their children under a new ordinance proposed by city police officials.

A companion piece of legislation would punish offenders who deface buildings with graffiti. Property owners would be forced to remove the graffiti, but they could seek restitution from those convicted of such acts.

The two measures will be discussed by the Westland City Council during a series of study sessions scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m. today at city hall. Debate on the graffiti and "parental responsibility" ordinances is expected to start at 7:30 p.m.

"It's a way of trying to attack a problem by getting the attention of parents," police Chief Emery Price said Friday. "We're asking parents to start being responsible, to the best of their ability, for their kids."

One council member, David Cox, has already voiced opposition to the proposed ordinances, partly because he fears they could lead to lawsuits against the city.

"I'm not interested in spending people's money to test what I think is questionable legislation," he said Friday.

Moreover, Cox said that many parents can't control their delinquent teenagers.

"There are 16-year-old children out there who are terrorizing their parents," he said, adding later, "There are people out there who are cowering in their own homes" because they fear their own children.

Cox suggested holding off on adopting new legislation until the city's new Youth Gang Task Force, in the process of being formed, has a chance

Credit union gets new home

Centennial Community Federal Credit Union will have a new home by year's end.

"The ceremonial turning over of the soil is our signal of hope," said Linda Hanson, CCFCU president and CEO, at the recent groundbreaking.

"It reminds us that nothing is firmer than the ground on which it is built and where you choose to build is as important as what you choose to build.

"We are confident that the project we are about to begin on this site will be a symbol of service to our members and the communities of Garden City, Wayne and Dearborn Heights."

The building will be located [illegible] Middlebelt and Belton roads, west of Inkster Road.

[illegible] Inc. is the general contractor for the building, expected to be completed by the end of the year, Hanson said.

Therapeutic program leads her to career

BY LEONARD POGER
EDITOR

Margretta (Peg) Bramlet has fond memories of her year working as a recreation therapist with the nationally-known Tri-City Therapeutic program which served disabled persons from Garden City, Westland and Wayne.

Being one year away from completing the requirements for earning her bachelor's degree in therapeutic recreation from Eastern Michigan University, Bramlet said the Tri-City program experience "solidified my decision to stay in the field (of health and education)."

At the time she worked with the program in 1965, Tri-City had won several national and state honors as being an outstanding effort in meeting the needs of disabled youngsters and adults from the three cities.

But Westland officials raised a question two years later on why it was spending their tax dollars for a program which served a disproportionate number of non-residents.

Initially, a fee was charged to Garden City and Wayne program patrons. Their participation dropped and eventually, the Tri-City program was scaled down to serve only Westland persons.

But Bramlet still has fond memories of working with the local youngsters and adults throughout 1965 before starting her career as a certified therapeutic recreation therapist with Madison Community Hospital in Madison Heights..

Two years later, in 1968, she held a similar position with the Margaret Montgomery Hospital, on Joy between Middlebelt and Inkster Road, Westland.

The 42-year-old Westland woman now works for Michigan Health Care Corp., a private, non-profit organization, where she has been working with

DeHart under attack from state GOP committee

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Democratic state Rep. Eileen DeHart of Westland, in the seventh month of her two-year term, is already coming under attack from the Michigan Republican State Committee.

In a mailing sent to 18th District voters, the GOP committee charges that DeHart "doesn't seem to think creating jobs is all that important."

DeHart responded that she believes her constituents are tired of "lies" and said, "I must be doing something right, or they wouldn't be going after me."

"I think the people in the district are tired of this," she said by telephone Friday, referring to the mailing that attacks her record.

Republicans attacked DeHart for missing a vote earlier this year that provided $748 million for creating new jobs over the next five years.

DeHart responded in a brief telephone interview that she missed the roll call because she had long ago pledged to attend a senior citizens housing conference.

On another bill, the mailing claims that "at a time when we should be focused on retraining Michigan's workforce for the 21st century, Eileen DeHart voted to shift millions of dollars from job training programs to funding for the arts."

DeHart responded that the mailing "failed to mention" several key facts:

■ She said a Republican bill cut unemployment benefits for laid-off workers by more than $500 million over five years. She said she voted for an alternative bill that provided more than $700 million in unemployment tax breaks to business while protecting unemployment benefits for laid-off workers.

DeHart accused Republicans of cutting unemployment benefits "when it wasn't necessary."

"While I stood up for both business and working families, the Republicans abandoned hard-working families, taking money from their pockets when it's needed most," she said in the prepared statement. "Now they play the dirty little political games my constituents — Democrats and Republicans — tell me they're fed up with."

On the outer fold of the mailing, the flier shows a Michigan Employment Security Commission office with nobody lined out the door and says, "It looks like this today."

On the inside, it shows a line of people spilling from the doorway of the MESC office and says, "If Eileen DeHart has her way, it could look like this tomorrow."

The mailing concludes: "Eileen DeHart: A poor record on jobs."

DeHart said by telephone that she believes her constituents will recognize the literature as "lies."

Until the new building is completed, the Garden City office at 6230 Middlebelt, just south of Maplewood, will remain open.

There is also an office at 23726 Joy, which is open 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday.

Both branches will be closed permanently when the new building opens its doors for business.

The Crestwood and Garden City Credit Unions announced their merger last winter.

The federally chartered financial cooperative owned and operated by its members has grown dramatically over the years. Following a merger last December between the Crestwood and Garden City Credit Unions, the operation now has 7,200 members and $17 million in assets.

The credit union in Garden City opened in the early 1960s with 79 members and assets of $3,480. When it joined the merger, it had grown to 1,500 members with assets of $1.4 million, according to John Santieu Jr., a board member who will continue to be on the board of the merged institution.

Crestwood was chartered 45 years ago to serve the members of Our Lady of Grace parish in Dearborn Heights.

CCFCU now provides financial services to the communities of Dearborn Heights and Garden City, and seven church congregations in neighboring cities. As a result of mergers and charter expansions, the membership has grown to 7,200.

Rzonca said her role is to implement board policy in the operation of the business.

Crestwood offers a variety of savings and lending products, financial planning and counseling services and several group insurance programs, she said.

Membership and assets have more than tripled during the preceding five years. This success has not come without difficulty. An aging, outdated building housing the operation is not adequate to serve the larger membership.

The main office of Crestwood was designed to accommodate the small church group of the original charter with no foresight to future growth. The main office is situated outside of the credit union's geographic boundaries.

The future success of the credit union depends upon the continued growth and profitability. Increased competition from banks, savings and loans, credit unions and other financial institutions continues to impact market share. Location is a vital determinant in solidifying Crestwood's niche in the community.

The new site on Warren Road is perfectly situated between the two communities served, Rzonca said.

chemically dependent patients for the past 5½ years.

It's no surprise that Bramlet is in a human services profession, although her first thoughts as a youngster was to be a teacher. Many of her family members are in the teaching field.

"My mother was a special education teacher in Southfield, my sister is a special education paraprofessional; my brother is a principal in Ann Arbor; another sister is a principal of an early childhood school while another sister just retired as a kindergarten teacher at the P.D. Graham Elementary School in Westland," Bramlet said.

Her father was a long-time machine repairman at the Ford Rouge complex.

"He enjoyed socialization and didn't want people left out," Bramlet recalled. "My childhood home (in the Wayne Road-Palmer area of Westland) always had visitors."

That may have encouraged her to enter a human services profession when she divorced in 1977 and was raising a daughter, Lee, now 19 and a junior at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo.

"I was always interested in education or a health career," she recalled.

"When I enrolled in therapeutic classes at Eastern, the university was just starting that curriculum and it seemed a perfect fit for me. It was new, exciting and in health care and education."

She admitted that after graduating Wayne Memorial High School in 1971, "I didn't know what I wanted to do."

She tried retailing for a short while "but still didn't know what I wanted to do."

After her divorce, she started working for a Wayne clothing store and later as a paraprofessional in the Wayne-Westland school district's program for developmentally disabled adults.

"Then I started thinking of a career in the field and I started taking one class at a time at Eastern," Bramlet recalled.

Earning her bachelor's degree nine years ago, Bramlet is now working toward her master's degree in health education, planning to complete her requirements next year.

"I want to combine my therapeutic recreation background with health education and apply it in a work-site wellness setting," she said.

Bramlet likes to talk about that aspect of her career, noting that some of her patients have stress in their jobs.

With her current employer having filed for federal bankruptcy court protection, Bramlet is considering becoming a self-employed consultant, which she said "is the wave of the future."

In her current position, Bramlet works with groups and individuals, "trying to find recreational activities and alternative ways to handle a patient's anger and stress.

"A big part of my job is to promote socialization with other patients and non-patients."

One technique is to encourage her patients to use the organization's weight room for physical fitness training, she said.

"Many of my patients wish to be fit and trim but don't know how to go about it," said Bramlet.

She also leads leisure education groups, teaching persons how to overcome problems and use leisure time to relieve stress.

In a brochure she gives patients, Bramlet points out that therapeutic recreation is important because it contributes to a healthier mind and body and enables patients to maintain a sense of wellness.

City council OKs pay raise for clerk

The Westland City Council has approved a 4.6 percent pay raise for City Clerk Diane Fritz, whose salary has increased from $58,431 to $61,160.

The salary hike is retroactive to Jan. 1, meaning Fritz will receive back pay for the last six months. She will be covered by the new salary through next June 30.

The pay increase brings Fritz in line with other department heads who are being paid top salaries under the current pay plan for city directors.

Fritz also will receive about $35,000 in fringe benefits, the same amount received by other department heads, Finance Director Michael Gorman said last week in response to a citizen's question during a Westland City Council meeting.

The council also approved pay increases for three employees in the Westland Youth Assistance Program, which helps troubled youths through such means as providing them with mentors and steering them to community services they need.

In a contract that expires next June 30, program coordinator Ronaele Bowman has received a nearly 4-percent raise. Her salary has increased from $34,278 to $35,649.

A program assistant has received a 14.5-percent pay raise, with the salary climbing from $21,840 to $25,011, according to a city council memo.

A part-time clerical assistant in the Youth Assistance Program has received an 18.9 percent raise, with the pay climbing from $4,160 to $4,950, according to the council memo.

Auditions planned

The Earth Angels, a lip-sync group of children that dance to '50s music, are looking for boys ages 10 to 16 to audition for their group. Anyone interested may call 747-7579. Auditions are continuing through the second week of July.

State purchase of trail is finalized

The state purchase of development rights on Sassafras Trails nature preserve in Westland was signed by Gov. John Engler June 30, said State Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton.

The senator, whose district includes Westland, said he was pleased with the governor's approval of House Bill 4422, which enables the state to buy the property for continued recreational use under the Farmland and Open Space Preservation Act.

"This funding will ensure that children and other residents of the Wayne-Westland school district can continue to enjoy this area which will remain natural and undeveloped," Bennett said.

The 64-acre parcel of land is owned by the Wayne-Westland School District and contains both forest and wetlands. It is on the northeast corner of Palmer and Wildwood and adjoins the nearby Wildwood Center, a former elementary school.

Bennett praised the Friends of Sassafras Trails, a local organization, for bringing the issue to his attention so that he was able to include the area in a series of recreational projects recently approved by the legislature.

"The prompt action of this dedicated group has allowed Westland to preserve a beautiful natural area in an urban setting for generations to come," Bennett said. "The Friends of Sassafras Trails have demonstrated how individual involvement in the community can provide positive impact and results for the entire area. Grass roots involvement is the single most important step to forming successful state policy."

Keith Madden, assistant Westland city attorney, said some cities already have such ordinances in place.

The parental responsibility ordinance states that parents, or legal guardians, have "a continuous responsibility to exercise reasonable control and supervision over the minor to prevent the minor from committing or participating in the commission of any delinquent act."

Parents cited for misdemeanors under the ordinances would be subject to maximum penalties of 90 days in jail and $500 fines.

In addition to holding parents responsible for juvenile delinquent acts, the measure would charge them with specific duties such as:

■ Keeping illegal drugs out of the home.

■ Keeping firearms out of the possession of minors, except those used for hunting under the supervision of parents.

■ Requiring minors to obey the city's midnight curfew.

■ Requiring children to attend school.

■ Preventing minors from stealing property or from having stolen property in their possession.

■ Seeking help from governmental authorities or private agencies to control problem minors.

■ 'It's a way of trying to attack a problem by getting the attention of parents. We're asking parents to start being responsible, to the best of their ability, for their kids.'

Emery Price
Westland police chief

Under the graffiti ordinance, anyone defacing property by actions such as spray-painting would also face misdemeanor charges.

Property owners would be required to remove the graffiti within 21 days of receiving written notice from the city building department, but they could seek restitution in an amount determined in Westland 18th District Court.

Price stressed that the proposed ordinances are intended to curb problems that have been on the increase. The measures aren't aimed at punishing responsible parents, he said.

Miniature golf course adds new attractions

BY MARY RODRIQUE
STAFF WRITER

Players visiting the Ford Road Miniature Golf Course in Garden City will notice a major face-lift this summer.

Four water attractions and new lighting have been added to the popular family attraction at 29060 Ford at Central, one block east of Middlebelt.

"It looks lovely," said owner Pat Bicknell. "I've had a lot of positive comments from golfers. There's something about the sound of running water. Everyone just loves it."

Bicknell has owned the course since 1967. The course itself has been there for 32 years.

"My son, William Bicknell, and his construction crew were the contractors," she added. "They worked during the mild winter and early spring.

"Everything is hand-crafted. It's all their original creations."

There is a multi-level rock waterfall, a single-level waterfall, a castle with water in three areas, and a volcano near the 18th hole featuring various colors.

"The holes haven't changed," Bicknell said. "The course is challenging, but not too challenging. We have a lot of children playing so we don't want the course too difficult. The additions are added attractions, they don't alter the holes."

Bicknell declined to put a dollar amount on the renovation project. But she did say her operation has managed to keep prices at last year's level. It costs $3 per player before 6 p.m. for all players — children and adults — and $4 per player after 6 p.m.

Hours of operation are 10 a.m. to midnight, seven days a week. Promotions include winning a free game for a hole in one shot on the 18th hole, and a free game for the low scorer in a foursome.

There are also several contests. Currently, two senior citizens hold the record for shooting games of 39, which is five strokes below par, she said.

Besides the water attractions, the lighting has been upgraded. Old-fashioned pipe lighting has been replaced with two different sized lights — coach lights and the brighter 25-foot lights for full illumination.

"It's more efficient lighting and it can create atmosphere," said Bicknell, whose son and grandchildren help out at the course.

Chilly weather in April delayed the opening of the course. It has been open since May and will continue through September. In October, it will scale back hours to Thursday through Sunday.

'Positive Hour' program begins

"Mr. Positive Power Hour" is a new WCAR-AM (1090) radio program hosted by Gregory Balteff.

The Westland man's program on the Garden City station is scheduled from 9-10 p.m. Saturdays.

Balteff said that the "Mr. Positive" character is developed to "provide inspiration and motivation to listeners."

He said the program includes a "mix of irony, wit and free verse that is meant to encourage listeners to take charge of their lives and their happiness. Sometimes I am dark and brooding. Often I am light and lyrical. I also try to spark debate."

He has hosted the program on other radio stations in the Detroit, Cleveland and Chicago areas.

Balteff has taken radio and TV courses at Macomb Community College in Warren and Oakland University in Rochester Hills.

Interested people may phone his voice mail number: (313) 458-7091.

Hearing scheduled in traffic fatality

A Westland man is expected to learn Wednesday whether he will have to stand trial for negligent homicide in the traffic death of a 5-year-old Westland girl.

Steven Kemp, 37, is scheduled for a preliminary hearing in Westland 18th District Court for the May 24 death of Michelle Pierce, who suffered a broken neck in a two-car accident on Wayne Road just south of Ford.

Kemp had been scheduled for a hearing Thursday, but it was postponed for six days because a Wayne County medical examiner was in another court and was unavailable to testify.

A not-guilty plea has been placed on record for Kemp, who remains free on a personal bond.

Kemp is accused of pulling in front of Michelle Pierce's mother while she was driving south of the Wayne-Ford intersection at 7:25 a.m. May 24. Kemp, leaving a convenience store, was crossing the southbound lanes in an attempt to drive north on Wayne, Westland police officer Jack McIntosh has said.

Michelle Pierce, who wasn't restrained while sitting in the front passenger seat, suffered a broken neck and died after being airlifted to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, McIntosh said.

Westland natives are House staffers

State Rep. Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, has announced the hiring of two Westland natives as legislative aides.

"When constituents call my office with concerns, I think it's important that the person answering the phone has a working knowledge of the 18th District," DeHart said.

"P.J. Petitpren and Rebecca Poger have lived in Westland all their lives. They know the community, and they know the people."

Patricia "P.J." Petitpren is a 30-year resident of Westland, where she attended John Glenn High School.

Petitpren, who received her bachelor's degree from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor, is working toward her master's degree in public administration at Wayne State University.

Petitpren has worked in various capacities for U.S. Sen. Carl Levin, D-Michigan, the National Women's Health Network and the Center for Public Policy Development in Washington, D.C.

Poger, 21, graduated from Churchill High School and Michigan State University's James Madison College, where she received her bachelor's degree with high honors two months ago.

At MSU, Poger was a page in the state House of Representatives, served an internship in Haifa, Israel, and served as an international trade assistant with the state commerce department.

"I am pleased to have both these talented women working in my office for the benefit of the people of the 18th District," DeHart said.

DeHart's Lansing office number is (517) 373-2576.

LINDA BACHRACK

You're the star behind sunglasses

There was a time when you stopped at the drugstore on the way to the beach and picked up a pair of clip-on Polaroid sunglasses or some generic little plastic frames with green-tinted lenses. They were, after all, just to keep the glare at bay while you read the latest pocket romance, stretched out in the sand under a scorching sun.

Today, thanks to the keen-eyed vision and influence of Hollywood, fashion designers and rock stars, shades have become indispensable accessories that define a sense of style. At the same time, the emphasis is on total UV protection.

Imagine Tom Cruise without his Ray-Bans or Jack Nicholson sans shades. Elton John inspired eyewear designer Oliver Peoples to name a retro-styled pair of sunglasses after him. The sales benefit the Elton John AIDS Foundation. Designers such as Armani, Jil Sander, Carolina Herrera and Gianni Versace all lend their names to cutting-edge opticals.

Frames for you

We've all seen cool sunglasses that look great on movie stars or fashion models. But, how do we select the style that's best for us? How many times have you stood in front of a tiny mirror in a department store trying on dozens of frames and rejecting every last one?

Grace Gluskin to the rescue!

Grace Gluskin

A personal eyewear consultant, Gluskin conducts free workshops at Family Eye Care, 31154 Orchard Lake Road in Farmington Hills. Her hands-on workshops impart tips on choosing the perfect pair of eyeglasses, including shape, color and size. Most importantly, Gluskin stresses 100-percent UV protection.

"Your sunglasses are just as important as sunscreen," says Gluskin. "Serious eye conditions are linked to ultraviolet rays."

Gray, she says, is the most accommodating lens color. But, if you're a skier or a hunter, choose yellow lenses. If you're a fisherman, opt for polarized lenses. Those who play contact sports need polycarbonate, impact resistant glasses.

The hottest sunglass shape of the summer is the wrap. Though traditionally a sport-specific style, the wraparound has caught on in a big way as a fashion statement. At D.O.C. Optique in the Bloomfield Plaza, Telegraph and Maple, look for Oakley's futuristic E Wires and Bausch & Lomb's sleek Killer Loop Activ. These ultra-protection athletic styles block all ultraviolet light and curve with the shape of the head to shield eyes from weather conditions, like blowing sand. Also hip are Ray-Ban's funky Orbs.

Blasts from the past

The retro-look is still popular in small oval shapes with antique metal or vibrant-colored frames. The newest, says Nira at D.O.C., are Revo's small ovals with mirrored lenses, and the mirrors reflect more sun.

"Remember," says Gluskin, "your eyes are your most expressive feature and you want to frame them with the most flattering shape."

Where can I find?

Eureka! We found some!

Mrs. Wayne Hu of West Bloomfield wrote to Where Can I Find? seeking the classic brown-and-white cotton work socks with red heels manufactured by the Nelson Knitting Company of Rockford, Ill., since the 1940s.

Mrs. Hu said she wants to use the socks to make the stuffed monkey popularized by David Letterman during April's academy awards show. In one segment, a clip from the movie "Cabin Boy" shows Letterman selling sock monkeys on the street.

Mrs. Hu said she cannot find a phone listing for the Nelson Knitting Company in Rockford from directory assistance!

Well, our crack team of investigative journalists quickly solved the mystery after some interesting turns . . .

A spokeswoman from the Rockford Chamber of Commerce explained that the Nelson Knitting Company went out of business years ago and sold its patents to Fox River Mills, Inc. of Osage, Iowa. All inquiries about the Redheel are directed there.

A spokeswoman for Fox River Mills in Osage, Jennifer Dow, said the company bought the rights to make the sock in 1985. "The Redheel is still made and sold by distributors to craft stores and lower-end shops for outdoorsman," she said. "The Redheels cost about $4 a pair. Thanks to David Letterman, we're seeing a renewed interest in this product."

Two readers offered suggestions on where they've bought the sock locally, but one source has since gone out of business — the D&C dimestore in Waterford. Kathleen Chambers of Farmington, a caterer, explained that she once made dozens of the monkey socks and dressed them as astronauts for a client's Christmas tree. Her supply of socks came from the old D&C.

Connie Witt called to report that Sam's Clothing Store at 207 E. Liberty in Ann Arbor still carries the Redheel. Store manager Kirk Hosmann confirmed it. "We've got those monkey socks in the traditional brown and white, or the newer blue and white, two pairs in a package for $5.95. We order them from the distributor in Osage." Here's the next shopping challenge:

"I've searched for several years to find sleeping bags (adult size) made of materials for warmth without weight and bulk, to use on motorcycles or while backpacking. Surely in this world of wonder, someone has put this on the market! Please help," Sincerely, Mrs. Hame of Westland.

If you know where Mrs. Hame can buy such a sleeping bag, please give Malls & Mainstreets a call at (810) 901-2567. We'll print your responses! You can fax an answer to (810) 644-1314. Or write Where Can I Find, c/o The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, 48009. New shopping challenges are also welcome through these avenues. Thank you!

ping Centers at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn.

And in an effort to woo you to your malls and mainstreets, shopping center owners, developers, managers, marketing directors, leasing agents and individual retailers are constantly evaluating and readjusting their whole industry.

"Everything is evolving. The biggest challenge is to be more professional and be able to see what's coming next," said Cynthia Kratchman, vice president for commercial leasing at Bleznak Associates in Farmington Hills. "If you're a step behind, you're too late."

Kratchman, the elected ICSC Michigan state director, drew a thumbnail sketch of the ever-changing retail picture to kick off the idea exchange.

"Hey big spender, where did you go?" the Bloomfield Township resident quoted from the headline of a Barron's magazine piece.

Her view is that the baby boomer segment of the population — and that unique point in history when it meshed with the time women began entering the work force — produced a unique surge in spending.

"So retailers kept expanding. We'll never have that again," she said.

Kratchman said now that expansion is no longer the issue, retailers should focus on what shoppers are looking for — value and quality for their families. And the shopping center industry is following that lead in many ways already she said, offering these examples:

■ You want to shop in a safe environment — that's why more money is being spent on security.

■ Women are firmly established in the market place — that's why store hours are expanded and merchandise is placed more conveniently.

■ Customers crave a sense of community — that's why there are now more and more community-based activities such as charitable benefits and special events.

■ People are working harder and have less time for fun as businesses reduce overhead — so entertainment has been worked into the shopping experience.

"Entertainment — we're really touting entertainment," Kratchman said. "Entertainment is the new traffic generator."

Visionary theaters, fantastical restaurants, virtual reality events and creative children's venues that are both entertaining and educational are all in the works. In states where gambling is legal, she reported that gaming in malls is on the horizon.

"And retailers themselves are becoming entertainers," Kratchman said. "Disney stores are one example. The new Speedo stores have a pool on the floor and swimmers hanging from the ceiling," she described.

One of the roundtables that shopping center conventioneers could attend had to do with the role of entertainment in the retail environment. It was led by Joseph Vilsack, president of The Phoenix Partnership Ltd., Pittsburgh, a firm specializing in repositioning or refining shopping centers.

Shopping changed in 1989-90, he seconded Kratchman. Consumers became victims of the time crunch and transferred their interests to family and home.

"The amusement/entertainment issue didn't belong until the consumers made their shift," he said.

Vilsack sees entertainment, not as an end in itself, but as one piece in an extension of a shopping center's services to the family. He envisions it, for example, combined with a theater, child care, a children's shoe store and toy store.

He wants you to picture this: Driving your car up to the shopping center. A "family valet" opens your trunk and takes out the stroller. Later, all your purchases are relayed to the "family valet" who loads them in your car.

Then, picture this: Child care and a restaurant reserved for adults, complete with a monitor of the child care facility.

Unfortunately Gov. John Engler, new father of triplet girls, missed this part of the convention. He was featured luncheon speaker, stressing his administration's efforts to improve doing business in Michigan. He later met with several big chain retailers including Zany Brainy, which devotes 12,000 square feet to educational children's concepts.

Other popular roundtables, so you can spot the trends, were "The Future of Big Box Tenants," led by Joan Primo of The Strategic Edge in Southfield, and "Dealing with Restaurant Tenants," led by Bradley Rosenberg of LaKritz-Weber & Co., Southfield.

Observer employee had friendly greeting for co-workers

BY MARY RODRIQUE
STAFF WRITER

For the 350-plus workers of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, maintenance supervisor Herb Allen always had a smile and a friendly greeting for those arriving for work.

Herb Allen, a Plymouth Township resident and longtime O&E employee, died Thursday morning of a massive heart attack suffered shortly after he arrived at the Livonia plant around 7 a.m. He was 66 years old.

He is remembered by friends and colleagues as a loyal, caring, hardworking man who never turned down a request for help.

"Herb oversaw the creation of this building back in 1969," recalled Jim Jimmerson, production manager. "He did everything — the plumbing, electrical, heating and cooling, carpentry work."

Jimmerson worked with Mr. Allen since 1956.

"He taught me how to run offset presses," Jimmerson said. "He always loved the newspaper and printing.

"He always did what needed to be done to get this paper out. It was common for him to stop in on Sunday morning and check his building. His daily routine was to walk the building to see if everything was OK. He would take on any project that was asked of him. I don't think I ever saw him mad at anybody, and I never saw him without a smile."

Born in Seco, Ky., Mr. Allen moved to Wixom with his family as a young man. He married Joyce 46 years ago and settled in Plymouth Township to raise two sons and a daughter.

He began his newspaper career as a pressman at the old Plymouth Mail on Aug. 20, 1951. The Plymouth Mail was purchased by Philip Power in June 1966 to become part of what was then ONI (Observer Newspapers Inc.).

Allen's career was interrupted for a two-year stint in the U.S. Army, from January 1952 until his honorable discharge at rank of private first class in January 1954. At Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., he studied engineering and carpentry. He was also stationed in Alaska while in the service, and received medals for National Defense Service and Good Conduct.

"His temperament was amazing," said Jimmerson. "He never liked friction. He was so special. I don't know of anyone more dedicated to his job.

"He never liked the spotlight. He was kind of shy in that respect. For him, he was just doing what needed to be done."

Steve Kalder, assistant press supervisor, and a longtime colleague, described Mr. Allen as "humble and hardworking. He took his job to heart, and he never asked for anything. The man had so much knowledge about how a building runs. He was just an encyclopedia on building maintenance. He ran his department fair and would never turn down a request for help. There were 18 workers under Herb's direct control.

"When they broke ground for this building, he was involved in the planning, design, layout, heating and cooling. He had a hand in everything," Kalder said.

Mr. Allen rarely took sick leave and was always eager to learn something new.

"He was always there for everybody else, but he was a private person," Kalder said. "He never told us if he was hurting. He would still show up and work hard."

■ Herb Allen, a Plymouth Township resident and longtime O&E employee, died Thursday morning of a massive heart attack suffered shortly after he arrived at the Livonia plant around 7 a.m. He was 66 years old.

Another co-worker, Roger Owens, recalled how Mr. Allen would quietly go about collecting toys for needy children every Christmas season.

"He is going to be missed by a lot of people," Owens said.

"He was one of a kind. He lived and breathed the O&E and with him a big part of our history is gone," said Richard Aginian, president of Suburban Communications Corp., the company which owns the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Bob Juscino, who worked with Mr. Allen the past 13 years, called him "the most caring and concerned man I ever worked with. He always had time to sit down and listen. He could always find something good to say about everyone."

Outside of work, Mr. Allen and his wife enjoyed family vacations in Caseville and pool parties with friends, neighbors and family. They also bowled on two leagues, the Eagles and the American Legion.

Mr. Allen was a member of the American Legion Post 147 in Northville.

In addition to his wife, Joyce, he is survived by his grown children, Herbert Ray of California, Brenda (Russell) Cetter of Livonia, and Keith of Plymouth Township; brothers, Warren Allen of Florida, Wilburn Allen of Florida, Charles Allen of Florida and Paul Allen of Michigan; sisters, Arbutus Bellefeuille of Tennessee and Ruth Waits of Florida.

Funeral services were at 11 a.m. Monday at Schrader Funeral Home in downtown Plymouth. Burial was at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth.

Memorials may be sent to the American Heart Association of Michigan or the American Diabetes Association.

DEALING WITH TOOTH SENSITIVITY

Anyone who experiences pain when drinking hot or cold liquids is likely suffering from sensitive teeth. This discomfort usually arises when the tooth's outer layer of enamel erodes to the point where the underlying dentin is exposed. Channels or tubules in the dentin then enable hot and cold foods and liquids to stimulate the nerve. While tooth sensitivity can be calmed with such desensitizing products as special toothpastes, the best course of action is a preventive one. If gum erosion, malocclusion, or grinding of the teeth are at the root of the problem, they should be addressed. The use of fluoridated toothpastes and mouthwashes is also helpful because fluoride not only strengthens the enamel, it helps form calcium fluoride that plugs the tubules in the dentin.

Let us at LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES determine if it's tooth sensitivity or a different dental problem that needs attention. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we offer complete dental health services in a relaxed and friendly environment, with state of the art equipment. Smiles are our business. Meringue won't weep if you cook pie filling Bonnie Malinga of Garden City has problems with her cream pies. They become syrupy, and her meringue pies constantly "weep."

Cream pies become syrupy when the cornstarch is overcooked, or over beaten, or when there is too high a proportion of sugar in a recipe. For better success with cream pies, use only the amount of sugar called for, and dissolve cornstarch in a cold liquid called for in the recipe before adding it to the filling mixture. For best results, I recommend cooking the pie filling in a double boiler or very heavy saucepan to prevent over cooking. Liquid accumulates between meringue and a pie filling when the meringue does not reach a high enough temperature during baking to "set" the layer of meringue directly above the filling. Make sure the pie filling is very warm when the meringue is put on top, use the freshest egg whites, and a pinch of cream of tartar. Most importantly, make sure the meringue covers the pie to the crust to make a good "seal."

■ Mary Lou Fitzgerald of Westland wants a recipe for Fattoush salad. Fattoush is a Middle Eastern bread salad. Make the base in advance so that the flavors have a chance to mingle. Toss in the toasted pita bread and tomatoes just before serving.

FATTOUSH SALAD

1 small green pepper
1/2 cucumber, peeled, halved, seeded and diced
1 cup chopped scallions
3/4 cup parsley, chopped
1/4 cup mint leaves, chopped
1 cup arugula leaves
1 cup purslane, chopped
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/3 cup olive oil
1 1/2 teaspoons ground sumac
Salt and fresh ground black pepper to taste
3 medium ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded and chopped
2 large pitas, split, toasted and broken into pieces

In a large salad bowl, combine the pepper, cucumber, scallions, parsley, mint, arugula and purslane. In a small bowl, combine the garlic, lemon juice, olive oil, sumac, salt and pepper. Toss with the ingredients in the salad bowl, cover with plastic wrap and refrigerate for up to 3 hours.

Ten minutes before serving, add the tomatoes and the pita. Toss to coat. Season with additional salt and pepper. You can substitute romaine lettuce for arugula and purslane.

Recipe from: "The Cooking of The Eastern Mediterranean" by Paula Wolfert.

■ Speaking of arugula, when was the last time you ventured out to the Ann Arbor Farmer's Market on Saturday morning? Exotic foodies will go crazy over their assortment of organic greens including arugula, frisee, and edible blossoms.

If you can find the Amtrack train station on Plymouth Road, you're just two blocks away from the Ann Arbor market. While you're there, join the masses who profess Zingerman's to be "The Best Deli in the Midwest," and I couldn't agree more! Try the no. 13 - Sherman's Sure Choice for a corned beef sandwich you'll never forget!

■ Jim Mandelson of Troy really enjoys strawberry pie, but can't stand the sickening sweet red gunk from processed cartons. It took a lot of searching Jim, but here's a recipe from momma's files. She claims it's close to Big Boy's topping.

STRAWBERRY PIE TOPPING

1 small box (3 ounces) strawberry Jell O
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup strawberry jam
1/2 cup cold water
4 tablespoons cornstarch

Dissolve strawberry gelatin into 1 cup boiling water. Stir over low heat for 1 minute. Stir in strawberry jam. In a small jar with a lid, place 1/2 cup cold water and cornstarch. Shake until dissolved. Whisk into simmering strawberry filling. Whisk until mixture is thick and clear, about 4-5 minutes. Chill.

To make into a pie: spoon 1/3 of this mixture into a prebaked and cooled pie shell. Fill shell with fresh strawberries and top with remaining topping. Chill several hours or overnight.

Fruity syrups in a jar

Taking the lid off sweet success

BY CHEF LARRY JANES • SPECIAL WRITER

For the past 15 years, Virginia Sommer's friends and relatives have been telling her that her chunky applesauce and apple syrup was just too good to be true. "Bottle it!" they said. Year after year Sommer, who lives in Oak Park, would "put up" a few jars, and give them away as gifts to friends and relatives.

Then in December, 1994, she and Sam, her husband of 14 years, decided that everything friends and relatives were saying about Virginia's sauce and syrups was true and they were in the gourmet food manufacturing business.

Virginia Sommer is CEO, owner, chief cook, bottle washer, label maker, purchasing agent, recipe tester, banker and spokesperson, just to mention a few titles, of V. Victoria's, Inc. Gourmet Syrups and Apple Products.

If you want to know how it's done folks, Virginia and hubby Sam pick the raspberries and blueberries, cook syrups, prepare bottles, fill jars, label everything, box it and then take it around town doing all their own marketing. The product is made in the spotless kitchens of Mucky Duck Mustards in Sylvan Lake under the auspices of mom and pop Sommer's starched aprons, stainless steel spoons and commercial cookware.

"We do it all because we want to make the best tasting, freshest, purest product money can buy without preservatives or anything artificial," said Sommer, who had just returned from a product demonstration at Rocky Peanut Company in the Eastern Market area of Detroit.

V. Victoria's Gourmet Syrups, available in apple, apple raspberry and apple blueberry are to commercial syrups what Ben and Jerry's is to ice cream.

I bought a three pack recently at the Merchant of Vino in Birmingham and thought they were great on pancakes, waffles and French toast.

Then I talked with Sommer who informed me that the syrups make great glazes for pork, chicken, turkey and duck, not to mention as a topping for ice cream.

In addition to the Merchant of Vino, V. Victoria's is also available at Papa Joe's in Rochester, Nino Salvaggio's Strawberry Hill in Farmington Hills, Westborn Markets and even Frankenmuth.

Suggested retail is about $5.50 per jar, but trust me folks, it's worth every penny. Sommer's Gourmet Chunky Applesauce is reminiscent of homemade, rich tasting applesauce, perfectly spiced. It was like eating an apple pie from a jar. And should you enjoy the chunky applesauce au naturel, substituted in a muffin or quick bread recipe in place of half the recommended oil, and you'll think you've died and gone to heaven.

To date, Sommer has manufactured about 1,500 jars of her homemade product. Total start up costs hovered around $7,000, and although she's not seeing any profits yet, Sommer is confident that once folks try her gourmet syrups and sauces, they'll be hooked.

"Sure, the profit is a motivating factor," said Sommer, "but where else can you work along side your best friend (husband Sam) and make what you know is the best tasting product around?"

You might also find Sommer's product in some gifty gourmet baskets making their way around northern Michigan, especially in the Traverse City area.

"And the syrups and apple sauce make perfect hostess and shower gifts," said Sommer, "especially when coupled with a favorite recipe and ingredients for homemade pancakes or waffles."

One thing for sure, Sommer's marketing skills are as sweet as her syrups.

Trip to Jamaica inspires spicy chicken

BY RENEE SKOGLUND
SPECIAL WRITER

The only thing Lynn Fortin's home is missing is a banging screen door. She already has eight kids, a dog, two cats, two lizards, and a python named Jazz. "We had a hamster, but he recently passed on," she said.

To say the least, the Fortin household of Canton is a busy one. Especially in the summer. That's when her four youngest children, ages 10-13, play endless tag between the pool and the kitchen. That's also when her four oldest, ages 22 to 28, drop by with their own children hoping something good is cooking on the grill.

"Most of the time we do eat outside," said Lynn. "With the pool, lots of times the older kids will just come over for dinner, and they will bring a dish to pass. We do a lot of that."

Served outside or inside, dinner is usually casual - and vocal. "It's always loud. We're a loud family," said daughter, Jenny, 13. And, as in most true-to-life large families, dinner is not always the result of community effort.

Lynn describes her husband, Gary, a millwright leader at Ford's Livonia transmission plant, as a "drive-through" guy whose culinary expertise peaks at grilled cheese. As for Jenny, Justin, Josh and Jared, their cooperation "depends on what they have in mind for their cash flow for the weekend."

Lynn, who teaches prenatal, childbirth and newborn care classes at Garden City Hospital, is an efficient shopper, hunting down sales and limiting trips to the grocery store to no more than once a week. She plans a family meal at least five times a week, but occasionally takes shortcuts. "Once a week we usually do have pizza on one of the nights I'm working," she said.

Her Jerk Chicken recipe resulted from a dream vacation to Jamaica over Easter. "It was a trip after 29 years of never leaving the children other than a trip to go have a child," she said laughing. "We were in a very remote part of Jamaica, so the recipes we got were kind of hard to decipher. They said a pinch of this, a pinch of that. That's why I purchased a cookbook, and the cooks helped me. We were in a private villa."

Lynn has since made the spicy chicken dish three times. It has become a family favorite, especially with 10-year-old Jared. "It tastes good when it's spicy," he said. Jared also said his mom is considerate of those with more timid taste buds. "It isn't that spicy when we have nieces and nephews over."

Jenny also has made the Jerk Chicken, although she admits her results were far different than her mom's. At 11 p.m. one night a few weeks ago, she was faced with some hungry younger brothers. She had lost the pizza money. She removed some frozen chicken breasts from the freezer and covered them with tenderizer, believing that would help them thaw.

"The sauce was great, but the chicken didn't turn out too good," she said. She may try making Jerk Chicken again. Or she may just keep better track of the pizza money.

Ship out to sea with fixings for sailboat sailor's scampi

See Larry Janes' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

■ Marcy and Dave Darwin of West Bloomfield are searching for recipes that can be easily packed with "just the basics" for cooking on their sailboat.

Keep the shrimp frozen, and it will act like an ice block in the cooler. For a thicker sauce — dredge the defrosted shrimps with a little flour before sauteing!

SAILOR'S SCAMPI

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons olive oil
4 cloves garlic, chopped
Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
1 pound large shrimp, shelled and cleaned
Juice of 1 fresh lemon or 4 tablespoons juice
¼ cup fresh parsley (optional)

Melt butter and oil in a skillet until hot. Add garlic and shrimps and cook until shrimps are opaque and nicely firm and pink, about 3-5 minutes. Add lemon juice and parsley, toss to coat. Season with salt and pepper. Serves 2-3. Great chilled as an appetizer too!

■ If you've got basil growing in your yard, here's a recipe to use it up before it bolts and gets bitter.

BASIL PESTO

1½ cups fresh basil leaves
2 cloves garlic
¼ cup pine nuts
¾ cup fresh grated Parmesan cheese
¾ cup olive oil

Place basil, garlic and pine nuts in a blender or food processor and process until smooth. Add Parmesan cheese, and with machine running, slowly drizzle in olive oil until the consistency of soft butter is reached.

■ And if you've got basil growing in your yard, here's a recipe to use it up before it bolts and gets bitter.

Pour over fresh pasta, baked potatoes or stirred into gazpacho for a great taste. Makes about 2¼ cups pesto.

■ Low fat pesto lovers? Why should we suffer? Try this!

NON-FAT PESTO

½ cup fresh basil leaves
2 tablespoons non-fat cream cheese
2 tablespoons non-fat sour cream
1 medium clove garlic, crushed
Salt and fresh ground black pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients in a blender or food processor and process until smooth. Makes about ½ cup.

■ Monica Golden of Southfield wants to take a dessert Up-North that travels well, freezes and continues to taste great. Check out this recipe from "Bake and Freeze Desserts" by Elinor Klivans (1994) Morrow Publishers $25.

MAPLE APPLE WALNUT CRUNCH PIE

½ cup (packed) light brown sugar
¼ pound (1 stick) unsalted butter, melted
¾ cup oatmeal, (not quick cooking)
½ cup pure maple syrup
2 large eggs, lightly beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 cups peeled and grated apples (about 7)
¼ cup whipping cream
1 unbaked 10-12 inch pie crust
1½ cups walnuts, coarsely chopped

Position an oven rack in the middle of the oven. Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. Place the brown sugar, melted butter, oatmeal, syrup, eggs, vanilla, grated apples and cream in a large bowl. Stir until well combined. Pour the filling into a frozen unbaked pie shell. Sprinkle walnuts over the top. Bake for 10 minutes. Reduce the heat to 350 degrees F. and continue baking 30-35 minutes more or until the pie looks puffy. Cool thoroughly to room temperature. Serves 8. To freeze: place plastic wrap tightly onto the cooled pie and then wrap gently with foil. Can be frozen for up to one month. Defrost the pie at room temperature. Unwrap and heat in a preheated oven set at 250 degrees F. for about 15 minutes. Pie is best if served warm. Serves 8.

■ On the other end of town, lovers of Mexican town will surely enjoy the Mercado beginning this Sunday and lasting every Sunday through Labor Day. Mexican food, crafts, dance and much more. Taco lovers alert: try the new "tacolateria" right next door to the Xochimilco gift shop on Bagley. They serve authentic tacos the way they're supposed to be served, not deep fat fried. For more information on the Mercado, and for the name of this new tacolateria, call (313) 842-0986.

Sirloin salad with cherries matches summer appetite

It's summertime and the cooking is easy. At least it can be, with the help of a delicious prize-winning beef recipe that is ideal for summer dining.

Sirloin Salad with Dried Cherries is an appealing blend of sliced beef sirloin steak, blue cheese, dried cherries, salad greens and pine nuts created by Cynthia Hodges of Ann Arbor.

The recipe is one of 15 finalists in the 1995 National Beef Cook-Off. It took top honors in the Michigan Beef Cook-Off before advancing to the national competition and a chance to win $25,000.

Sirloin Salad with Dried Cherries is based on a "Martha's Vineyard" salad Hodges enjoys, which includes greens, pine nuts and blue cheese. By adding beef — a great taste combination with blue cheese — Hodges expanded the concept into an entree salad with a distinctive Michigan flair.

Sirloin Salad with Dried Cherries takes just 40 minutes to prepare. Beef top sirloin is a great cut to stir-fry. Cut into thin strips and tossed with a seasoned dressing, the beef gains full flavor with just a short marinating time. Once stir fried, the beef strips make a delicious salad topping and an ideal entree.

The next National Beef Cook-Off will take place in 1997 in Tampa, Fla. For rules, write to National Beef Cook-Off Entry Information, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60611.

Here's Hodges' winning recipe.

SIRLOIN SALAD WITH DRIED CHERRIES

Total preparation and cooking time: 30 minutes
Marinating time. — 30 minutes
1 boneless beef top sirloin steak, cut 1-inch thick (approximately 1¼ pounds)
4 small or 2 medium heads Boston lettuce, torn (approximately 8 cups)
½ cup crumbled blue cheese
½ cup dried cherries
½ cup pine nuts or coarsely chopped walnuts, toasted
Dressing:
½ cup olive oil
¼ cup red wine vinegar
2 teaspoons minced garlic
1 teaspoon salt
¾ teaspoon pepper

In medium bowl, whisk together dressing ingredients. Remove and reserve ⅓ cup; cover and refrigerate.

Trim fat from beef steak. Cut steak lengthwise in half and then crosswise into ⅛-inch thick strips. Add beef to remaining dressing; toss to coat. Cover and marinate in refrigerator 30 minutes.

Remove beef from marinade; discard marinade. Heat large non-stick skillet over medium high heat until hot. Add beef (⅓ at a time) and stir-fry 1 to 2 minutes or until outside surface is no longer pink. (Do not overcook.)

Remove from skillet with slotted spoon.

In large bowl, combine lettuce and reserved dressing; toss to coat. Place on 4 individual plates. Arrange beef over lettuce; sprinkle with cheese, cherries and nuts. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings (serving size: 3 cups).

Cook's tip: To toast pine nuts or chopped walnuts, heat oven to 350 degrees F. Arrange nuts in even layer on baking pan; bake 7 to 8 minutes or until lightly browned, stirring occasionally.

Using V. Victoria's syrup gourmet delight

See related story on Taste front.

From the kitchen of V. Victoria herself, here's Sommer's favorite way to use her Apple Raspberry Gourmet Syrup.

RASPBERRY GLAZED CHICKEN BREASTS

6 chicken breasts
½ cup apple juice
½ cup V. Victoria's apple raspberry syrup
2 teaspoons butter or margarine
¼ cup almonds, slivered

Marinate chicken in apple juice for 2 hours. Spray a glass ovenproof casserole dish with non-stick cooking spray.

Drain chicken from marinade and place in prepared dish. Bake at 350 degrees, uncovered for 40 minutes.

Cook chicken an additional 10 minutes, basting with V. Victoria's Apple Raspberry syrup. While chicken is cooking, heat butter or margarine in a heavy skillet and add almonds. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until almonds are golden, about 5 minutes. Sprinkle chicken with toasted almonds. Heat additional raspberry syrup and pass with chicken. Serves 4-6.

Recipe compliments of V. Victoria's Gourmet Syrups (Virginia Sommer, President)

Vardar III advances

West Palm Beach, Fla. is the next destination for the Vardar III Soccer Club, which recently captured the U.S. Youth Soccer Association under-18 boys regional championship.

Deren

Livonia Stevenson's Nick Deren tallied the game-winner with 12 minutes left to give Vardar III a 2-1 victory over Scott Gallagher of Missouri in the championship final June 30 in Blaine, Minn.

Vardar III, which travels later this month (July 25-30) to Florida, won the under-16 crown two years ago in Phoenix, Ariz.

Farmington's Justin Marshall of Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day High School was voted regional MVP.

Vardar III, coached by Mike Lupenec, is a member of the Michigan Youth Soccer League.

Other Observerland players include Jeff Babinski (Livonia/Country Day), Scott Buczek (Plymouth Salem), Jeff Fliss (Plymouth Canton), Graham Wilk (Canton), Brian Collier (Redford Catholic Central), Mike Kley (Salem), Brandon Moggio (Country Day), Jeremy Harkins (Country Day) and Matt Wait (Troy).

Rounding out the squad are Steve Corder and Dan Savich, both of St. Clair Shores; Joe DiMoggio, Washington; Dave Stankovich, Harrison Township; Steve Tramontin, Ann Arbor.

This is the third straight year Vardar III has sent a representative to the U.S. Youth Soccer Association National finals.

Crusader spikers 10th

The Crusader Juniors, made up primarily of area players, finished 10th out of 44 teams in the AAU National girls volleyball championships June 24-27 at Forest Park Community College in St. Louis, Mo.

Coached by Brian McClain and Kelly McCausland, the Crusaders made the round of 16 after finishing second and first, respectively, in preliminary pool play.

In the elimination round pool play, the Crusader Juniors went 1-2, losing to the Kentucky Juniors (15-13, 15-13) and Borderline of Michigan, made up primarily of Temperance Bedford High players (10-15, 15-13, 15-12). They defeated the Capitol Juniors of Lansing (15-5, 14-16, 15-12).

In the consolation round for places 9-12, the Crusaders beat the Arkansas Juniors (12-15, 15-5, 16-14) before losing the Blue Division final (third place teams) to Tri-County of Cincinnati (15-13, 15-10).

Members of the Crusaders included Erin Gregoire (Madonna University), Jaclyn Deane (Livonia Franklin/headed for Madonna); Jen Monaghan (Livonia Stevenson/headed for Indiana); Shellye Sills and Karen Springsteen (both seniors to be at Plymouth Salem); Emily Gibson (Dearborn Divine Child), Ursula Place and Michelle Mott (both juniors at Novi); and Katie Wright (Woodhaven/headed for Youngstown State).

"We played well even though we had young, inexperienced players, many of whom never played at this level," McClain said.

Livonians fuel Sting

Greg Lechowicz, Adam Miller and Jon Spray, all of Livonia, helped the under-10 Northville Sting '85 boys soccer team finish second to the Lawrence, Ind. '84 Saints Blue Devils, 4-2, in the under-11 championship game of the Wolverine 16 Tournament, hosted by the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association, July 1-3, at Schoolcraft College.

Sting, which outscored its opponents 23-9, blanked the Fraser Thunder (8-0), Farmington Bandits (8-0) and the Novi Jaguars '84 (3-0). They lost twice to the Blue Devils, suffering a 4-2 defeat in elimination action.

Other members of the Sting, coached by Rich Azanger and Dave Sherman, include Kevin Azanger, Tim Calkins, Matt Cornelius, Andy Fielhauer, Joe Gallagher, Kevin Gardner, Gabe Ilko, Patrick Kelleher, Brian Lake, Kevin Paladino, Jarek Pereira, John Quincy, Ben Sherman, Zack Wollock and Joey Zumstein. The trainer is Kevin Tuite.

Roadrunner Classic

The 12th annual Roadrunner Classic, featuring an 8-kilometer race through downtown Northville, will start at 6 p.m. Saturday, July 22.

The event also includes a 5K race/walk, one-mile general run/walk and Junior Classic (youngsters 12 and under).

More than 1,000 runners competed in last year's event, which includes a post-race party at the Northville Community Center.

For entry fee information and registration, call Running Fit of Northville at (810) 380-3228.

Caesars' upset bid goes awry

■ First-place Hines Park Lincoln Mercury rallied from a 4-0 deficit to edge Little Caesars in a Livonia Collegiate Baseball League encounter, 6-5.

Livonia Collegiate Baseball League teams are having a hard time defeating Tom Wakefield, even when they're spotted early leads.

Livonia Little Caesars jumped to a 4-0 lead in the first inning Wednesday, only to watch Hines Park Lincoln Mercury score six unanswered runs in a 6-5 victory at Livonia's Ford Field.

Wakefield moved to 5-0 on the mound and Hines Park improved its league-leading record to 12-3. Wakefield allowed five hits, three in the first inning, and walked four in pitching the distance. He also struck out four.

"Tommy wasn't on; that was the worst game I've seen him pitch," Hines Park assistant coach Gary Pierce said. "But the guys wouldn't give up, stayed with it, and got the win."

Caesars' four-run first started when Kevin Foley reached base on a Hines Park error. Mike Fenech singled and Chris Champanois knocked the first run in with a single. Following a walk to Dan Taylor (Madonna), Dennis Madden (Livonia Franklin) delivered a two-run single.

But Hines Park scored two runs in the third and three in the fourth to go ahead for good.

Jeff Lance's (Redford Thurston/Henry Ford Community College) double and a two-run home run by Derek Besco (Westland John Glenn/University of Michigan) cut the deficit to 4-2. Juan Sanchez (Redford Catholic Central/University of Detroit) and Dave Kapla (Redford Catholic Central/Michigan State) started the fourth with singles. Sanchez came home on Brian Kalczynski's (Birmingham Brother Rice/Henry Ford) single and Lance contributed a double to drive in two runs for a 5-4 lead.

E.J. Howell was hit by a pitch, stole second base and came home on Kalczynski's double to make the score 6-4 in the sixth.

Caesars scored a run in the seventh on consecutive singles and a fielder's choice, but it wasn't enough.

Lance and Kalczynski led Hines Park with two hits each.

■ DECISION 6, HONIG'S 3: Decision Consultants Inc. won its fourth game in its last five outings with Wednesday's victory over Michigan Honig's at Ford Field.

The win put Decision at 12-5 overall. Hines Park (12-3) is considered the first-place team because it has played two fewer games due to rainouts.

Joel Hillebrand (Henry Ford College) earned the pitching victory, allowing two runs on three hits, four walks with four strikeouts in five innings.

Mike Borkowski (Eastern Michigan) pitched the final two innings, allowing one run on three hits and two strikeouts. He walked one.

Decision batters gave Hillebrand a 6-0 lead after three innings.

Aaron Jones (Madonna) was 2-for-3 with a double and two RBI. Don Dedonatis was 2-4 with an RBI. Greg Kiempisty hit into a double play in the third, but drove in a run. Craig Peterson (Madonna), who had tripled, scored on Kiempisty's ground ball after Brian Hicks (Garden City/Redford CC/Toledo) walked.

Decision has added Luke Bonner to the roster. Bonner, a graduate of Dearborn Divine Child who will attend the University of Michigan on a baseball scholarship, became available after quitting the Livonia Concealed Security team for which he played.

Bonner, a 34th-round draft pick of the Detroit Tigers, pitches and plays in the outfield.

"He hasn't pitched very well lately, but he's a kid who year in and year out has been one of the better in his age group," Decision coach Mike George said. "We hope he'll help us and be with us a couple more years."

Ex-Patriot All-Stater Warner looks forward to Belgium trip

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

■ BASKETBALL

The summer is usually time to kick back and relax, but not for Dawn Warner.

The former All-State basketball player from Livonia Franklin and starting point-guard for Western Kentucky University, is gearing up for a trip with a group of U.S. college all-stars who will play against European pro teams in a series of exhibition games set for Aug. 15-26 in Belgium.

"I'm glad to have this opportunity," said Warner, who as a junior helped lead the Lady Toppers to a 28-4 overall record and a ride to the NCAA's Sweet 16. "I'm going to find out if I can handle the environment over there. I'll also find out about the competition level, the way they treat Americans and try out the living conditions."

Warner, who averaged 10 points and close to five assists per game last season, will be traveling with the People to People Sports Committee, which is sponsoring the trip.

The select team is coached by Joanne Palombo of the University of Maine. Players from NCAA champ Connecticut and runner-up Tennessee are also scheduled to participate.

Warner has to raise nearly $2,300 to make the trip, but she believes the effort is well worth the cost.

"It's going give me good recognition," Warner said. "In the back of my mind I have to find out if I want to spend a couple of years over there and continue to play, or get right into coaching and become a graduate assistant."

Warner has spent the summer in Bowling Green, and the schedule has been hectic.

She attends morning classes, works in the pro shop of a local country club and spends many late afternoons doing conditioning, which includes shooting, running, biking and lifting weights. She also gets in an occasional game against the men.

"I want to go out in style my senior year," said Warner, who is the lone returning starter for the Lady Toppers. "I don't want to regret anything, but more importantly I want to have fun.

"My shot has improved and I've improved my range. Strength-wise I'm just a lot better. Staying here this summer has done wonders for me."

Warner will start at the point next year, but could also see action at the No. 2 guard slot. Laurie Townsend, who played last year as a freshman, will make up the two-guard tandem.

As a junior, Warner blossomed as a starter and has become an all-around player.

She hit the game-winning shot with five seconds left to beat highly touted Louisiana Tech on the Lady Techsters' home floor in the Sun Belt Conference Tournament championship game.

"That has got to be a highlight to beat a team like 'La 'Tech' on their home floor," Warner said. "It was a thrill for the whole team, just not me.

"The first time we beat them badly on our home floor before 9,000 (fans at Diddle Arena), and then they turned around and beat us soundly the second time down there.

"Winning that tournament (playoff) game was special for everyone."

Warner, who holds all the Franklin scoring records and was No. 2 in the 1991 Michigan Miss Basketball voting, will get a chance to play before family and friends this season when the Lady Toppers travel Tuesday, Dec. 19 to play at Michigan State.

Belgium bound: Western Kentucky's Dawn Warner, who starred as a prep cager at Livonia Franklin, will play for a group of college all-stars.

"My coach (Paul Sanderfod) had promised me since I've been here that we would play (n my home state, and I'm excited about it," she said. "A lot of people said they're going to come."

But first there's Belgium for Warner, who is still accepting donations, which are tax deductible.

Checks can be made payable to: People to People, 15040 Shivé Lane, Apartment H-5, Bowling Green, Ky. 42103.

Wayne cagers putting AAU team on map

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

By day, Norm Oden keeps the packages moving as a supervisor for United Parcel Service.

At night, Oden coaches the Motor City Mavericks, one of the top AAU age-group boys basketball teams in the country.

And does this 16-and-under team deliver.

The past two summers, Oden's teams have finished runner-up in the nationals. Last summer, the Mavericks lost to Memphis in the 15-and-under championship game in Kingsport, Tenn.

This week, the Mavericks are seeded No. 2 in the 68-team field for 16-and-under entries. The tournament started Sunday in Oklahoma City, Okla.

"We've never won this, but I'm confident we'll do well this year," said Oden, an Oak Park resident who admitted he's never played the game, but became a studious fan over the years. "We have smart kids who are easy to teach. We have a pretty good team IQ and GPA."

Oden's 11-player roster reads like a Who's Who among the top underclassmen in the state of Michigan.

Observerland is well-represented.

Twins Lorenzo and Lavelle Guess, both of Wayne Memorial High, who stand 6-feet-6 and 5-9, respectively, are big contributors for the Mavericks.

Although Lavelle has played in the shadow of his brother the past two years at Wayne, Oden said the shorter version is starting to blossom.

"I believe Lavelle wears a size-13 shoe now," Oden said. "He has good skills. Once he gets a little taller, stronger and physically more mature, he's going to be a heck of a player."

Shane Battier, a 6-8½ do-it-all center-forward, is the most recognized of the group nationally. He led Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day to the state Class B title last March.

The guard corps includes Lorenzo Guess, who led Wayne to the state Class A quarterfinals last spring; 6-foot Kyle Jones of Orchard Lake St. Mary's; 5-10 John Borovich of Birmingham Seaholm; 5-11 Greg Grays of Southfield-Lathrup; and 6-1 Kevin Bambenek of Farmington Hills Harrison.

"Lorenzo plays some at the point, but he's usually our three man (position)," Oden said. "He plays everywhere."

And if that's not enough, throw in 6-2 Ray Pope of Ferndale, the original Maverick who started with Oden at age 12. He is the only senior-to-be with the rest being juniors.

Others include 6-6 Juan Pegues of Anchor Bay, 6-6 Greg LaPointe of Mount Pleasant and 6-3 Charlie Bell of Flint Southwestern. (Dane Fife of Clarkston is injured and cannot play this week, according to Oden.)

So with all that talent, does Oden just throw out the ball and let them play?

"Actually, we're pretty structured," he said. "We run a motion offense and use multiple defenses. We like to get out and run, but when you get down to it, you have to make plays to win tournaments."

Pitcher hangs tough for South Farmington

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

A baseball game that started badly for Nick Latra and his South Farmington teammates had a good ending Thursday.

Latra pitched a five-hit complete game to lead the host Barons to a 6-4 victory over Kensington Valley in an important Connie Mack contest.

The Farmington High senior had a rocky start, giving up a leadoff homer to Ryan Pease, but Latra had only one other tough inning and ended up having a key role in the win.

"In the first game I pitched this year, I was real wild, and when that guy hit the first pitch I thought, 'Oh, no,'" Latra said.

"I needed a good outing here; I wanted to show these guys (teammates) something, because they haven't seen me pitch that much."

The game ended in dramatic fashion with Kensington having two runners on base and Drew Henson at the plate. His two-run homer in a three-run third inning made the score 6-4.

Latra had retired the first two batters in the seventh on a groundout and a strikeout, but consecutive infield errors put Kensington runners at the corners.

With two strikes against him, Henson drove a Latra pitch out of the park, but it was left of the left-field foul pole.

"(Catcher) Nick James came out to the mound, and the first thing I said was, 'He's going to strike out now. There's no way I'm going to let him get a hit now,'" Latra said.

"He wanted me to throw a high fastball inside: 'Let's see if he's Cecil Fielder.' I said I'd throw an outside curve, but that was in the dirt. Then I threw the fastball and he K'd. We can thank Nick for that call."

Two pitches after the near homer, Henson, who also had a two-out single in the first, went down swinging.

South Farmington did all of its hitting and scoring in the second inning, quickly overcoming the early Kensington lead.

Kensington pitcher Jason Huron struck out three of the first five batters he faced, but that changed in a hurry. Farmington ripped seven hits and used three Kensington errors to take a 6-1 lead.

"We played with a lot of character," said South Farmington coach Marty Wilk Sr., subbing for Dick Miller, who was away on business. "The boys reached down and hit the ball. Latra kept us in the game, and we made the defensive plays when we had to."

South Farmington scored its runs with two out. Jamie Palazeti singled home the first run, and an error allowed Burch to score.

After Angelo Palazeti hit safely, Chris Karney hit a two-run single, and Ron Blackmore and Mike Daguanno followed with consecutive RBI doubles.

"I really needed a big lead, so I could be more relaxed on the mound," Latra said. "I didn't want to blow it. We're in second place in the league, and another loss would have knocked us out."

South Farmington, 8-2 in the Little Caesars Baseball Federation and 12-6-1 overall, is tied with Kensington, which lost a game for the second straight night.

Huron didn't allow another hit after the second inning and also pitched a complete game, striking out eight and walking three.

"It wasn't that we turned (the offense) off," Wilk said. "Their pitcher got better as the game went on. It seems we get the runs when we need them, and we don't give up a lead when we get it."

Practices, usually held two to three times per week at either River Rouge or Country Day, are often tougher than the games.

Oden's club won the state championship over Memorial Day weekend at UM-Dearborn against the Mavericks No. 2 team, which is also entered this week as the No. 37 seed in Oklahoma City.

"When we practice you're seeing some of the best (incoming) juniors in the state," Oden said.

Two other Wayne High players, 6-1 Jameel Wooden and 6-3 Richard Rashad, are members of the other Mavericks along with 6-0 Alex Knapp of Seaholm; 6-0 Trent McNeely of Ann Arbor Greenhills; 5-5 Chris McNeal and 6-2 Alvin Jones, both of Ferndale; 6-3 Josh Jansen of Mount Pleasant; 6-3 Brandon Gray of Rouge; 6-3 Marchelle Terry and 6-7 Onome Scott Omocpor, both of Lansing; and 6-6 Greg Stempin of Harper Woods Notre Dame.

The team is coached by Terry Carson.

After the AAU Nationals, Oden will take his team to Las Vegas, Nev., for the Nike Invitational where his stepson, Rodney Eddie, a senior at Berkley High, will join the team.

"I coached my stepson early-on, but then I decided it wasn't fair to him to have me around all the time so I branched out and coached other kids," said Oden, who never holds cuts or holds tryouts. "I just enjoy coaching because they're good kids. Everywhere we've gone people have complimented us on the way our kids act.

"My main goal is to see that they do well."

With a pair of runner-up finishes in the nationals, Oden appears he's on the right track.

Livonia Travel 2nd in Firecracker tilt

The Livonia travel team in the Sandy Koufax (14-and-under) League represented the area well by finishing second in the Firecracker Tournament in Sterling Heights June 30 to July 4. Thirty teams representing nine states and Canada took part.

Livonia reached the final before losing 9-1 to Steele's of Macomb. Prior to that setback, Livonia won six-straight games, including a thrilling 7-6 victory over Columbus (Ohio) in the semifinals that required a three-run rally in the top of the seventh to post the win.

The 6-1 tourney run gave Livonia a 29-5 season record.

Four Livonia players were named to the all-tournament team: Derek Fox (of Farmington Hills), who hit .521 for the tourney; Roy Rabe (Livonia), who hit .500; Casey Rogowski (Livonia/Catholic Central), .478; and Mark Mink (Livonia), .400.

Livonia posted a 9-6 win over Tennessee Sausage and 11-7 over Southgate in single-elimination play. In round-robin action, Livonia beat Cincinnati 7-0; the Toronto Mariners 11-3; and the Detroit Titans 17-0.

Concealed romps in league games

■ SANDLOT

Livonia Concealed Security on Friday defeated Garden City, 10-0, in a Connie Mack Little Caesars League game played at Riverview Gabriel Richard.

Concealed improved to 14-5 overall, 10-2 in the league.

E.J. Roman scattered three hits, struck out eight and walked three for the pitching victory. Greg Ryan (Garden City/Dearborn Divine Child) pitched one inning in relief, fanning all three of the batters he faced.

Matt Mlynarek was 2-for-2, including a home run and double, and three RBI. Brian Berryman (Redford Union) and Deandre Cooper each hit solo homers. Mike Cervenak was 1-3 with two RBI.

On Thursday, Concealed collected 12 hits and 12 walks to defeat North Farmington-West Bloomfield, 19-4, in at West Bloomfield High School.

Ryan Kelley was the winning pitcher, allowing three runs on six hits with three walks and three strikeouts over five innings. Cooper and Aaron Shrewsbury pitched one inning each.

Ryan had a grand slam in the fourth inning and was walked three times. Cooper was 3-for-3, Mlynarek went 2-4 and Shrewsbury was 1-1 with three walks.

Terry Bigham contributed a two-run homer in the sixth inning.

Concealed is without Luke Bonner, who quit along with assistant coach Mark Falvo over a disagreement in philosophies while on a trip to Cincinnati, according to coach Lou Pirronello.

Finesse runner-up in Cincy

■ SOFTBALL

Finesse, a girls 16-and-under slow-pitch softball team, earned a runner-up finish in the Smokey Baker 18-team National Invitational Tournament, July 1-3 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

Finesse won four of six games to run its overall summer record to 19-7. Its only losses came against the eventual winner, the Boyd Chiro Kool Kats, 3-2 and 10-8 (in the championship game).

Victories came against the Taylor Mill (Ky.) Tradewind Vans, 9-2; Beechmont (Ky.), 9-4; Milford (Ohio) Eastside Stingers, 9-8; and the Louisville (Ky.) Hit 'N' Misses, 6-3.

Stephanie Volpe (Plymouth Salem) led Finesse with a .621 batting average. She also had a team-leading 11 RBI and 12 hits.

Jennifer Trott (Salem) added 10 hits and batted .526. Pitcher Kristen Zabalavicius and Kristy McDonald (Redford Thurston) each added six RBI.

Incredible fast-pitch

The Livonia Knights and the Plymouth Lightning split a doubleheader Thursday in the Incredible Girls Fast-Pitch Softball League.

Pitcher Alicia December struck out 11 and scattered eight hits over seven innings as Livonia took the opener, 11-4.

Angela Peckham, Shannon Misiak and December each collected two hits to pace the Knights' offense. Danielle Sockolosky, Stephanie Nelson and December each knocked in two runs. Reagan Tisher added a triple.

Stephanie Volpe, Sitcek and Marsella led the Lightning with two hits apiece.

In the nightcap, Jennifer Trott scored four runs to lead the Lightning to a 12-8 victory in five innings. Volpe was the winning pitcher.

The Knights made six errors in the first three innings.

Jessie Jenkins knocked in three runs in a losing cause, while Misiak added two.

In another Incredible League game Thursday at Franklin High School, the Livonia Lasers dropped a pair to the Farmington Fastastics, 6-2 and 9-8.

Pitcher Lori Jendrusik took the loss in the opener, while Alana Heikkinen (10 strikeouts in five innings) was the winner for Farmington.

Jendrusik and Melisa Thompson each collected a pair of hits for the Lasers.

Despite scoring seven runs in the fourth inning, the Lasers lost by a run in the nightcap. The game was stopped because of the one hour, 20-minute time limit.

Randi Wolfe collected two hits for the Lasers (0-4), while Mary Priebe, Kerry Sanchez, Jendrusik and Kim Rowland each added one hit and one run apiece.

Heikkinen, who scattered eight hits, was again the winning pitcher.

Jendrusik took the loss.

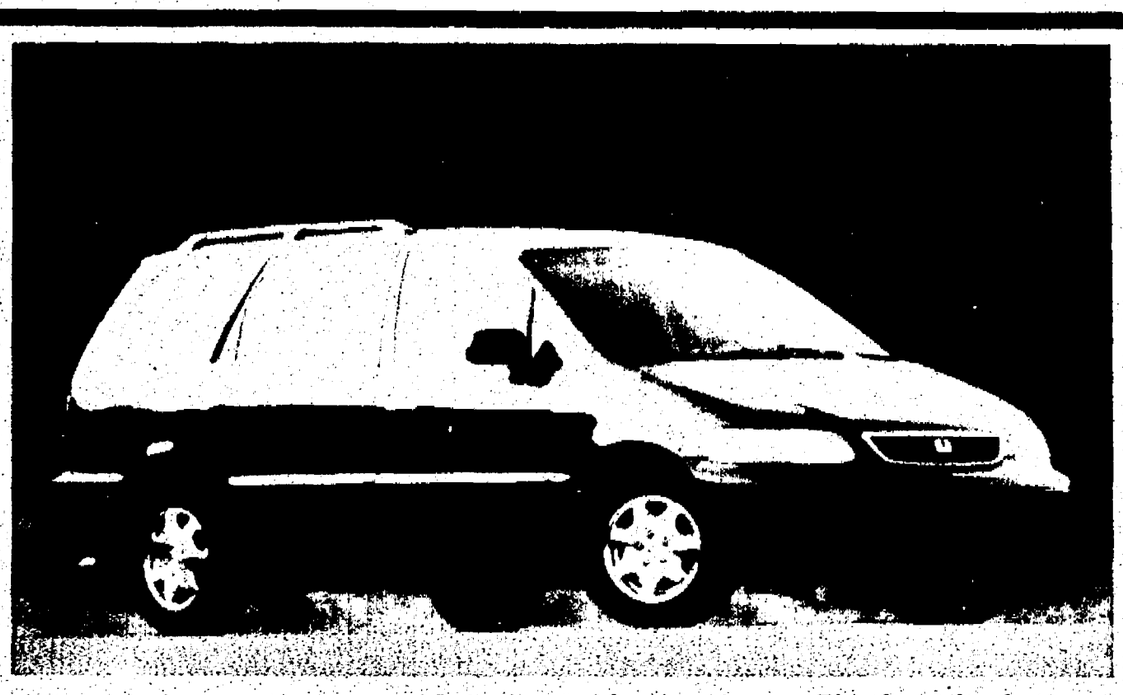
Honda Odyssey Shines as Best Minivan Available to U.S. Buyers



Road Test
By Anne Fracassa

When General Motors came up with the automatic sliding third door on its "dustbuster" minivans, I thought that was it. Thanks to the remote control on the door, I thought I had finally found a minivan that I, myself, would buy.

Aaagh.

Wrong.

Go into the corner. Hang your head. Low.

OK, now I've found the perfect minivan. Perfect. One I would buy. In a heartbeat.

It's the 1995 Honda Odyssey, and it has — tah-dah! — six cupholders.

This is Honda's first try at packaging a minivan for the American consumer and it's done its homework. The made-in-Japan Odyssey scores an "A" on its first report card.

It's got four car-like doors that swing out wide so you can get your toddler out. From your side of the car, that is. No more reaching over that other seat to pull the kid out with one arm. With them screaming, "Ow! Mooooom!"

It's just so convenient. I love the driver's-side passenger door.

I know, I'm gushing, and I hate test-drive columns that slobber all over the vehicle. But there's something here to gush about.

Because the door isn't all that makes this the perfect minivan for a family. It's low to the ground, so even grandma can get in without a fight, groan, moan or assist bar. It's got the lowest step-in height of any minivan on the market.

Interior packaging is superb.

Get this. There's a small glove box on the passenger side — just big enough for a couple of pairs of glasses and sunglasses and maybe a pair of gloves, of course. Under that is a larger storage box that can handle the Yellow Pages, your owner's manual, a couple of maps and two extra batteries for the obligatory car phone.

There's more.

Not only does it have side door pockets for miscellaneous juice boxes, toys and other miscellany, but also there's a fairly large storage container under the cupholder in front and another to the left of the steering column that can hold about 200 pennies. Not that you'd want 200 pennies in there. It's just that it can hold a lot, not just a couple of coins.

The front bucket seats are really comfy. My two toddlers loved the fact they could see out of the windows easily because the back buckets sit up high.

What I don't get is the third row of seats. It's impossible for anyone to get back there without a fight or a few scraped knees and elbows. And there isn't really enough cargo room in back of the seats with them up. We tried to get an infant's crib in the space and it just wouldn't fit.

But wait. A quick flick of the wrist and that back seat disappears into a well in the back, giving you ample cargo room to slip into a couple of subdivision garage sale events without a worry.

And even with the third seat in a passenger-carrying position, that well is ever-so-useful with the groceries. It's deep enough that it holds a couple weeks' worth of groceries, but still high enough that you won't worry about breaking your back to get them out.

The car-like ride is also classy, thanks to the 4-wheel double wishbone suspension. It's got dual airbags, 4-wheel anti-lock brakes, side impact beams that meet 1997 federal standards and 3-point seat belts at all outboard seating positions.

The only disappointment in this minivan is the power. It has none. The all-aluminum 2.2-liter 16-valve 4-cylinder engine produces only 140 horses. It's the same engine that's in the underpowered Accord. Step on the pedal and it takes a while to get up to speed. Although when it's does get past the initial first and second gear shifts, you've got enough punch to still get you on the freeway without a worry.

I guess I've driven too many V-8s lately and I'm spoiled.

The engine is also mated to Honda's own Grade Logic Control for the second, third and fourth gears. What it does, simply, is automatically adjust the transmission shifts when you're going uphill or downhill for better mileage.

Both the LX and EX models are equipped with the same engine coupled with 4-speed automatic transmissions. The Odyssey is EPA'd at 20 in the city and 24 on the highway. Not bad. Not spectacular, either.

One more complaint. The styling ain't the best. Functional, however.

The LX 7-passenger version sells for $22,985. The LX 6-passenger is $23,395. The LX's standard equipment includes effort-sensitive power rack-and-pinion steering, an adjustable steering column, front and rear air conditioning, cruise control, power mirrors, power windows, power door and tailgate locks, intermittent windshield wipers, rear washer/wipers, rear defroster, AM/FM stereo cassette and a digital clock positioned high on the instrument panel.

For $24,995, the EX version adds 15-inch alloy wheels, power sunroof, a better stereo, power seat adjustments on the driver's side, remote entry, map lights and body-colored side molding.

If anybody asks, tell them the Odyssey isn't just nice.

No, it's just about perfect.

With my schedule, there's no better way to find romance.

I can meet someone my type in no time with just one ad in the personals. Writing my ad was a snap and they even helped me record a great voice greeting. And the whole thing was totally free. But now I've got another problem. With all the responses I'm getting, how am I going to choose who's first?
