Council reconsiders dual school tax

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

City council will discuss in a 7 p.m. special meeting Monday night whether to collect summer school taxes in the Westland portions of the Inkster and Livonia school districts.

They have requested that the city collect half the school taxes during the summer. The council delayed a decision until the Livonia school board held a second public hearing on the issue and outlined its plan to notify residents of the planned change.

Deadline for the council to decide whether it will collect the taxes is Monday.

State law now allows the dual tax collection; however, cities may still refuse to collect the money themselves. In that case, school districts have the option of collecting the money themselves or asking the county to do it.

For related story, see

TWO YEARS AGO, the Wayne-Westland school district and the city cooperated in a dual tax collection. Angry residents stormed city hall after private mortgage companies raised their monthly escrow payments, and the pilot program was dropped.

The Livonia school district initiated a dual tax collection last year. Livonia city Treasurer Elaine Tuttle reported to the board that the only problems experienced in that city were with private mortgage companies which use a "separate item accrual method" for calculating escrow payments.

In a letter to state Senator Robert Geake, Tuttle said that method "creates a shortage in escrows equal to six months of the new summer tax collection even though there is adequate cash in the account to pay all taxes as they come due."

According to Tuttle, the companies that residents complained about include Manufacturer's Hanover, Midland Mortgage, Capital Mortgage, Detroit Mortgage Realty and Universal Mortgage.

Tuttle said that most banks and savings and loan companies don't have escrow problems with the dual tax collection; however, Michigan National switched from a zero balance method to the separate item accrual. Tuttle said that the Supreme Court ruled that FHA and VA mortgages don't stipulate the method to be used so more financial institutions may be switching escrow accounting methods.

TUTTLE suggested that Geake seek an attorney general's ruling on the legality of the one-year increase in escrow payments.

However, Geake said that the attorney general felt it would be a conflict for him to issue an opinion at this time since he is involved in litigation against mortgage companies in Ingham County Circuit Court.

"It's (separate item accrual) a way of getting more money from homeowners. It gives them more money to loan and that's how they make a profit," said Geake. "They're anxious to increase their cash reserves."

He said that residents will have to pay the additional escrow payments with private mortgage companies unless they are able to refinance their homes with regular banks which either use a different escrow accounting method or will allow residents to pay taxes directly.

MURRAY BROWN of the Michigan Department of Commerce Financial Institutions Bureau said that legislation on escrow accounting methods was introduced last year but hasn't been reintroduced into the current session of the Legislature.

He said that his department last year had completed a study on the matter and made recommendations to then Governor William Milliken. Brown said he didn't know what the department's position would be under the administration of the new governor.

Brown said his department had gotten some complaints about escrow changes, but since the escrow hike is a one-time problem, he was unsure whether the legislation would be timely enough.

Other problems to be faced upon the passage of legislation would be the additional costs incurred by lending institutions already hit by high interest rates and whether rates for new mortgage loans would rise because of cost increases.

Fireman's dismissal exposes eligibility question

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

Former firefighter James Davis is expected to appeal his controversial firing by the Westland Civil Service Commission last Wednesday.

Davis, a firefighter with the city for more than five years, was sentenced to lifetime probation Nov. 30 by Oakland County Circuit Court Judge Robert Templin after pleading no contest to a charge of cocaine possession.

The felony charge carries a mandatory sentence of 10 to 20 years or lifetime probation.

Before reaching its decision, the civil service commission heard a motion from Davis' attorney requesting the commission to get an attorney general's opinion on whether one of its members should be disqualified.

THE ATTORNEY, Frank Kokenakes with the firm of Nicholas Smith, said he had learned that Dr. Gerald E. Ebmeyer, commission president, no longer lives in the city.

"Because of that (residency question), Dr. Ebmeyer may be disqualified and any decision reached by the commission may be rendered void," said Kokenakes in requesting the commission to adjourn the case until the issue was settled.

Public Act 78 of 1935 requires that all commission members live in the city for one year and in Wayne County for three years before being appointed.

Dr. Ebmeyer was appointed Jan. 7, 1981 to fill an unexpired term that ends July 16, 1986. A dentist with an office in Westland, Dr. Ebmeyer confirmed that about a year ago he moved from Westland to Ypsilanti.

City shares Warren repaving cost

BILL BRASLER/staff photographer

Before the year is over, motorists driving Warren between Inkster and Middlebelt won't have to dodge potholes as these drivers are doing. The Westland City Council last week approved sharing with Garden City the cost of resurfacing the road and adding a center turn lane. Construction is expected to begin this summer.

Local drivers may have wider and smoother rides when they travel sections of Warren Road later this year.

The Westland City Council, following some discussion, approved an agreement between Westland and the Wayne County Road Commission for the resurfacing and reconstruction of Warren Road between Middlebelt and Inkster.

The agreement was approved 4-1 with Councilwoman Nancy Neal voting against it. Council members Thomas Artley and Charles Griffin were absent.

The Warren improvement will cost about $2.1 million; however, Westland will share the cost with the neighboring city of Garden City. Westland's cost will be about $216,000 with Garden City paying $179,000.

The county has lowered the speed limit on Warren to 35 miles per hour in recognition of the road's poor condition.

The Warren project will improve the pothole-filled road and add a fifth lane for left turns.

Residents and merchants in the one-mile stretch of Warren have complained for a long time about the road's condition.

Merchants have said it has hurt their business because many drivers avoid using that stretch of Warren.

Local money for the project will come from the major road funds.

A federal highway grant and the county will pay the rest of the Warren improvements.

Construction is scheduled to start sometime this summer.

Officials explain need for dual school tax collection

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

About 15 residents in addition to Livonia school and Westland city officials showed up for a second hearing on a request for dual tax collections in the Westland portion of the Livonia school district.

Westland City Council had requested the second hearing after hearing a request from the Livonia school district asking the city to collect half of the school taxes during the summer.

The city must decide Monday whether it will collect the taxes. If Westland refuses to do so, the school district may collect them or ask the county to do so.

The city of Livonia began dual school tax collections last year.

DURING THE recent hearing, board member James Merner explained that collecting during the summer half the taxes do would lessen the need for the district to borrow money in the summer.

Merner said that years ago the district received $16 million in state aid but now receives nothing because of an increase in property values and a decline in student numbers.

"Four years ago when we talked about the concept, we decided that there was a right way to run the operation of the district and it wasn't by running half a year without any money," Merner said.

James Carli, Livonia assistant superintendent for operations, said the city of Westland was asked to collect the taxes because it already collects summer taxes for city services and could add another line on the bill with minimal cost.

While the dual tax collections won't mean that taxes will drop, at least it minimizes the need for an increase, according to school officials.

ONE WESTLAND resident asked if a collection fee would be assessed for the extra work.

"It's just a little disgusting. It's another way to wheedle out a little more money and it's my prime objection," he said.

Westland City Councilman Kent Herbert, who formerly was city finance director, said that he would assume the collection fee would be split in half.

The city of Livonia, which didn't collect any taxes in the summer, charged the school board for its cost in collecting summer school taxes.

Merner said the Livonia school board "wouldn't let the city take the financial burden for what we do."

Another man accused the city of "licking its chops" over the prospect of additional revenue from another tax collection fee.

Another resident asked if the city doesn't collect the taxes whether the school board or county will do it.

Merner said that the board hadn't addressed that possibility yet.

Carli said that, while the school district could have asked to collect all school taxes during the summer, the board "felt that was not prudent because the first year would be difficult for people."

THE LIVONIA school officials said that senior citizens would be able to apply for a deferral of the summer tax collection.

One resident said she would like to see tax collections split because "it's hard to get $1,300 to $1,400 together in the middle of winter."

Carli said that if dual tax collections are instituted in the Westland portions of the district, residents would be given advance notice and the board would make it clear that it wasn't a council issue but a school board one.

Livonia board benches change for athletes

By Teri Banas
staff writer

The Livonia Board of Education has benched a plan to exempt high school athletes from a term of physical education class.

The plan, proposed last school year, was intended to recognize a student's participation in high school sports and allow the student to take an academic course instead of compulsory physical education.

Trustees voted 5-2 against the plan. "It would be my hope that we could try this for a year, and get some experience," said trustee Ronald Withers, who along with trustee Charles Akey supported the plan. "How do you answer a student who wants to take another academic class and he or she can't do it (because of a full course load)."

The board's curriculum committee recommended the proposal but school administrators opposed it.

Committee members said a student's "successful" completion of a sports season should be "equated" to one semester of gym class. The benefit to the student, the committee said, was that he/she might substitute that "free" hour with another class, presumably an academic one.

The committee recommended that the gym waiver be limited to one per student. Approval would have to be granted by the high school principal. Currently, high school students are required to take three semesters of physical education and health. In both the seventh and eight grade levels, one semester is required.

School administrators objected to the proposal, saying skills acquired in one sport could not equal the broad-range skill gained in a physical education class.

In a position paper drafted by then secondary curriculum director John McDonald in April 1982, and resurrected last week, McDonald raised the argument that such a waiver could set a considerable precedent.

"The precedent for such a waiver or credit might have to be extended to other activities which are in the extracurricular portion of the school program," he noted. "Students participating in debate, forensics, play production, could justifiably seek permission for some waiver or credit for those activities." He added that cheerleaders, pom pom participants, dance club members, skaters and synchronized swimmers could "claim equal opportunity" as well.

In addition, McDonald stressed that the "emphasis on athletics and physical education is different."

In support of the physical education program, he stated: "Of the 14 different sports which we currently offer, only four have a strong cardiovascular emphasis. Our newly revised physical education program emphasizes the cardio-vascular development more than before. A student waiving such experience would not have the chance to share in that learning."

Commission cites grounds for firing

"I feel I am legitimately serving on the commission. I have been a member of the community for 15 years and have an office in the community," said Dr. Ebmeyer. "I fulfilled the requirements at the time I was appointed."

City attorney James Steffen said he believes Dr. Ebmeyer is legally a member of the commission because Public Act 78 addresses residency requirements only at the time of the appointment, not during the duration of the term.

Steffen added, however, that he expects the decision to be appealed, "especially in light of" the issue of Dr. Ebmeyer's residency.

Since the vote to terminate Davis was 2-1 with Dr. Ebmeyer and Dennis O'Neill voting yes, Davis' status with the city could be reversed if Ebmeyer was found to be an ineligible member of the commission. Voting no on Davis' firing was commission member Roy Morris.

Steffen said that other decisions reached by the commission during the last year would remain valid even if Dr. Ebmeyer was found ineligible to serve. Steffen explained that court rulings have held such decisions to be valid.

Davis' attorney was unable to be reached for further comment.

THE CIVIL service commission had been hearing arguments from both sides since early December on whether Davis should be terminated.

Sale bolsters general fund

An offer to buy a city-owned lot on the east side of Wayne Road, just south of Warren, has been accepted by the city council.

The 95-by-390-foot lot next to Malarkey's Lounge is being sold to Kasaplis Brothers Inc. for $74,000 on a three-year land contract. The buyer will pay $18,500 down, with payments made at 11 percent interest.

Money from the sale will go into the city's general fund. What the property will be used for was undetermined at this time.

Robert N. Natzo, director of the Westland Department of Assessment and Economic Development, suggested approval of the offer.

"Based on the history and knowledge that the city has received only two offers in the last five years, both under the present offer, I suggest the council accept the offer as a fair offer," Matzo said.

In August 1981, an appraiser estimated that the property was worth $71,000.

In April 1978, the city received an offer to buy from Daniel S. Klein for $60,000 cash. The offer was contingent on the purchaser acquiring five other parcels, plus other contingencies that the offer was void if the purchaser didn't obtain a signed lease with A&P within 90 days of acceptance.

Another offer was made in July 1981, the offer being $50,000 on a land contract with payment of $10,000 and remainder to be paid within a year at a 10-percent interest rate.

The property is zoned C-3 (commercial).

WHEN YOUR ARTHRITIS FLARES

As anyone who has experienced it will verify, a flare of arthritis means more than just an increase in joint discomfort. You feel additional fatigue, more muscle ache, and find it difficult to shake a mood of depression and nervousness.

Flares are not related to unusual effort or to personal stress such as a divorce or death, but seem to occur because of an unpredictable lowering of the body's defenses against inflammation. This state may last for weeks to months, but it is rare that your arthritis is changed permanently to a more crippling state. Recovery though slow, is generally the rule.

Taking more medicine to stop a flare is generally not effective. The best treatment is to increase your rest and to do so, if possible, in the form of several short pauses over the day. In addition, it is important that you don't dwell on your present circumstances, but keep in mind that improvement will occur.

If you find yourself failing to fulfill your family and personal obligations, or if you feel you are becoming a burden to others, see a physician. Taking steps to relieve your distress is his responsibility.

Dr. Weiss welcomes questions from readers, please address your inquiries to his office.

COMPOSITE FILLINGS

The kind of filling the dentist uses depends on the location of the tooth and the area to be filled. The most common filling is the silver or amalgam type. These are usually used on the flat, biting surfaces or where they will not be visible. For fillings where the material must match the color of the tooth, such as the front teeth and often for gumline fillings of back teeth, your dentist will probably use a filled resin or composite filling. It is tooth colored and the most popular material used today for this use.

Over a period of time, the composite may stain more than the natural tooth and eventually filling and tooth may not match as well as they did originally. Also, they may wear at a faster rate because the material is not as hard as the natural tooth enamel (the hardest tissue in the human body) and are not recommended for use on biting surfaces of the back teeth. Composites, however, have the great advantage of being esthetically pleasing. For most people, that far outweighs their few drawbacks.

Parents fear busing, value of property will decline

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

Fear of overcrowding, busing and declining property values were some of the major concerns of parents and neighbors of Washington Elementary which faces possible closing at the end of this school year.

The last of three public hearings held at schools under consideration for closing saw more than 75 persons pour into the Washington gym recently.

Washington, McKee and Tinkham schools have been recommended for closing by a citizen's committee and the school administration. Declining enrollment was listed as the reason.

Students from Washington Elementary will, if the school is closed, be bused to Schweitzer Elementary.

This idea concerned several parents. "Why bus? Keep the kids at home in their own school," one parent said.

"Where does the cost of busing come from?" another asked.

John Baracy, assistant superintendent for business, replied, "The transportation department decides the bus routes. They work the steps into the present system."

Some parents were concerned that, by sending Washington students to Schweitzer, the school would be overcrowded.

If the two schools are combined, there will be more than 600 students in Schweitzer.

IT WAS EXPLAINED by Dr. Georgina Cseresznye, executive assistant to the superintendent, that there are 22 rooms at the school, believed adequate to handle the students.

"What do you do in the future 100 more kids than can be accommodated move into Schweitzer?" a parent asked.

"I would be greatly surprised if this happened," Cseresznye said. "Once the economy improves, we expect more people will be moving to other areas and we will be losing students."

"Right now there are seven rooms available for Washington students and portables could be used."

Another question concerned the lunch program.

"If our 270 students move to Schweitzer, how about the lunch program. The kids can't all have lunch at the same time, there wouldn't be room," a woman said.

Administrators said there could be three lunch shifts, and, if necessary, students could eat lunch in their classrooms.

A man said, "We don't need a board-up building in our neighborhood, leave our school alone." This drew applause from the audience.

Baracy said that if the school was closed, hopefully it could be sold and made compatible to the neighborhood.

ANOTHER wanted to know why repairs had been made on the school in the past year.

"For safety," Baracy said. "If the school is closed, repairs also would enhance its sale."

"This school is the reason I bought here. Property values will fall flat if the school is closed," a man said.

Baracy said that real estate advisors said values wouldn't decline. A woman wanted to know why Washington was chosen for possible closing. "Declining enrollment," was the answer.

"Is it definite our school will be closed?" Cseresznye was asked.

"I don't know what the decision of the board will be," she answered.

PARENTS ALSO wanted to know what would happen to the teachers at Washington, the principals, as well as all the materials in the school.

"We have two principals retiring and there will be three less principal positions next year," Baracy said.

"As for the materials, it will follow the students or be used in other schools," he said.

"The teacher positions are based on seniority," Cseresznye said.

A parent was worried about the effect of children moving to another school.

"Isn't it true kids do better in familiar surroundings?"

"It's true they will be scared, but by October they will be nestled in. I've seen it happen before," Cseresznye said.

When asked if it was possible there might be other schools closed in the next few years, Cseresznye answered, "It's possible."

Parents label closing as unfair to north end of W-W school district

By Maurie Walker
staff writer

Faced with the possibility that McKee Elementary School will be closed at the end of this school year, some 100 concerned parents and neighbors flocked into the school gym recently for a public hearing on the issue.

Although there was some tension in the audience, the meeting ran smoothly with very few outbursts.

McKee is one of three elementary schools that are being considered for closing. The administration has proposed that if McKee is closed, the students be assigned to Edison Elementary.

The plan to bus McKee students to Edison appeared to be one of the prime concerns of parents.

A citizens' committee had recommended the closing of Tinkham and Washington schools at the close of the 1983-84 school year. Due to the economy, however, the administration recommended that those two schools as well as McKee be closed at the end of this school year.

CONDUCTING the meeting was McKee principal Waino Aukee along with a two-member panel consisting of Dr. Georgina Cseresznye, executive assistant to the superintendent who worked as a liaison with the building utilization committee, and John Baracy, assistant superintendent for business.

The audience was requested to submit their questions to the panel in written form. The majority of questions were handled that way; however, there were several persons who asked to be heard from the floor.

Cseresznye told the audience that the citizens' committee began its study in December 1980, taking 15 months to complete a report.

"The report was presented to the school board on Feb. 6."

"Following three public hearings at the schools involved, such as this one, there will be a large public hearing March 14 or 28 at which time the board will vote on the closing issue," she said.

She added that the 170-page committee report included school enrollment, enrollment projection, transportation, and the staffs of the schools.

"The administration agreed that McKee and Washington be closed," she said.

"The committee would not have made its recommendation regarding McKee unless it absolutely had to. This is the area where enrollment is dropping."

CSERESZNYE SAID the district realized that four months notice of closing is not reasonable, but "unfortunately it's necessary due to developments in Lansing."

One parent complained vocally that he didn't see how all the school's students could "fit into Edison."

"Besides, spreading kids out is not saving money," he said.

Frank LaSota, Edison principal, said Edison has 21 classrooms and four portable buildings which are air conditioned and have lavatories.

"Class size is limited to 28 students by our contract with the teachers' union. We have the room," he said.

Another person wanted to know what would happen with the savings in closing the three schools.

"Will our taxes decrease?" he asked. Baracy replied that he couldn't say taxes would be decreased.

"If General Motors closes a plant, are car prices lowered?" he asked rhetorically.

Another parent asked, "If enrollment is down, where did all the kids go? To private schools, which we are prepared to do if this school closes?"

Another questioner asked if the district was "sacrificing general education for adult education."

Baracy said that adult education was actually helping to support general education.

Could the McKee and other school property be sold for home construction? Baracy said that this is a bad time for the housing market.

One woman protested, "We voted for millage, then you take our school away."

"Our kids are here, our taxes are here, our school should be here," one man said.

And another parent protested, "Our junior high has been closed, now our kids are to be bused. The north side is being discriminated against."

A WOMAN said that with McKee open, kindergarten children could be walked to school.

"How do you put a 5-year-old on a bus? It's a concern."

"The board is thinking of changing the educational concept of Westland. We've taken enough. We should do all we can to change things," one man said.

Some parents said they realized there is a financial crunch, and something has to be done.

Residents seek ways to keep school open

By Sandra Armbruster
editor

A group of about 75 parents of Tinkham students called on the board to find ways to keep the school open.

The parents had turned out for a recent public hearing on a proposal to close Tinkham, returning students from the P.D. Graham attendance area to that school. Other students east of Venoy would attend Kettering and those west of Venoy would attend Hamilton.

A building utilization committee also has recommended the closing of Washington School. In addition, the Wayne-Westland administration proposed closing McKee Elementary and moving all three closings up from the original spring of 1984 date to the fall of 1983.

Budget deficits and declining enrollment are prompting the closings.

"HAS THE BOARD checked out other ways to save money?" was a question repeatedly asked during the evening.

Georgina Cseresznye, executive assistant to the superintendent who worked as a liaison with the building utilization committee, said that the district has checked out trying to rent a wing of the school but has had no takers, adding that the schools were looked at in clusters by the committee.

A Tinkham teacher later suggested that the district look into using a portion of the building as a day-care center, giving young children a chance to become familiar with the school they would one day attend and providing an alternative to children going home alone when both parents work.

Cseresznye explained that while the district would try to sell the 17-year-old school, the property is currently zoned as public land and would have to be rezoned.

Alternative programs placed in closed buildings would have to be self-supporting, Cseresznye added.

To audience questions about busing students and lack of sidewalks in certain areas, Cseresznye said that administrators were checking into those problems. Administrators also are checking, at the board's request, into what the cost is to maintain a building until it is sold. They are seeking appraisals on the three schools.

MANY RESIDENTS asked questions about the district's financial status.

John Baracy, assistant superintendent for business, said that there is a debt of $910,000 on the building that must be paid off if the school is sold. He added that the board would decide where any remaining funds would go.

Administrators were asked "how they could possibly negotiate a teacher wage increase (six percent), when the school system is in financial trouble."

Baracy said that's why concessions were made by the teachers last fall.

Cseresznye said that the closings could have been "forestalled if the economy wasn't so bad, but there would still be closings." She added that the district has lost 3,000 students since the last round of closings in 1978.

Parents were assured that junior high attendance boundaries wouldn't change, that materials would follow the students and that both Kettering and Hamilton offer programs for academically gifted and talented students.

Asked why only schools in Westland were closed, the administrators said that schools in the Wayne portion of the district were on a list for further study.

One 11th-grade student from Tinkham pleaded with school officials to "please think twice about closing our school."

One resident questioned, "Why is the board asking our kids to move from a nice, new building when the administration did just the opposite?"

The audience was told that the new administration building was built with federal dollars and costs less to maintain than the old one did.

Rep. Ford urges U.S. aid for graduate students

"Financial assistance to graduate and professional students can be the next frontier in federal policy for post-secondary education," U.S. Rep. William D. Ford (D-Taylor) said at the national forum on financing graduate and professional education in Arlington, Va.

His district includes Garden City, Westland, Canton and half of Livonia.

Ford, ranking member of the House Subcommittee on Post-secondary Education and a member of the National Commission on Student Financial Assistance, issued "a call to action by those in the higher education community and the nation who are concerned about graduate education."

"We do not need to wait years until a grand new legislative mechanism is in place.

"The tools are at hand and with your commitment and your efforts, we can get on with the job now."

He cited several problems in graduate education related to what he believes is inadequate financial assistance for graduate and professional students:

The congressman said:

- Fewer of the best students are choosing graduate study in the arts and humanities, threatening to erode the quality of scholarship and teaching in these fields as well as denying education opportunities to those with the talent to pursue these disciplines.

- In engineering, there is a severe shortage of doctoral-level engineers leading to large numbers of unfilled faculty positions, particularly in fields such as computer engineering.

- We are losing ground in opening graduate educational opportunities to poor and minority students. We are in danger of making graduate education, particularly in the professions, once again the preserve of the rich and privileged.

- The inadequacy of federal financial assistance is highlighted by the dramatic decline in federal fellowship awards for graduate study in the last decade and the increasing reliance on loans. We have replaced what was once a balanced system loans and fellowship support for graduate education with a virtual dependence on loans alone.

FORD, CITING the administration's budget proposals for fiscal year 1983 and 1984, said this administration has met the needs and challenges of graduate student aid "not only with indifference and insensitivity, but also with proposals to further reduce and re-trench the already meager levels of financial assistance for graduate and professional students." Ford proposed a program that would be a "strong beginning in meeting our national need for adequate graduate student financial assistance."

He proposed:

- Directing the secretary of education to set higher guaranteed student loan annual limits for graduate students in "exceptionally expensive" programs.

- Repealing the 5-percent origination fee in the guaranteed student loan program.

- Continuing capital contributions for the national direct student loan program at the current level, $179 million.

- Increasing appropriations for the college work study program by $150 million.

- Spending $60 million for the new campus-based fellowship program for graduate and professional students.

- Spending enough to provide the maximum 450 fellowships of the new national graduate fellows program.

Past activities have included field trips, arts and crafts, tutoring along with other projects to help youngsters develop career awareness and social responsibility.

UCS is encouraging block clubs, church groups, parent associations and service clubs throughout the tri-county area to submit applications to obtain for summer program money.

Applications will be reviewed by volunteers to see if they meet eligibility and program criteria, a spokesman said.

Change of habit is key to Smoke NoMore plan

When Phyllis Zieve Friedman leads a session of Smoke NoMore, she gets results.

"Another dozen or so people quit the last time around. That makes a pretty hefty number since I started this," she said. She devised the classes, which are centered around changing a person's attitude towards cigarettes and behavior related to cigarettes. The classes meet at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus.

"The core of the program is change," Friedman said. "We trade in old habits for new ones and offer a raft of tools for coping."

One such tool is called "Sign-Off-the-Scene." As Friedman explained, "A habit of lighting up every time you finish dinner would be one scene that you would learn to very quickly leave instead of lingering there where the cigarette urge lingers."

Robert Donovan learned to sign-off-his-bedroom scene first thing in the morning.

"Reaching for the cigarette the minute I got up was a tough one to change in the beginning," said Donovan, who is director of Jeep and Eagle Marketing for American Motors in West Bloomfield. "But I bypass that with a cold morning shower, and it works for me."

Donovan described himself as a chain smoker who found all of his instructor's thoughts on behavior change helpful, including one "that kept a coffee stirrer in my mouth through meetings and cocktail parties for weeks as a substitute for cigarettes," he said.

FRIEDMAN holds a degree in speech and sociology from the University of Michigan. She turned to teaching smoking cessation as a group facilitator for American Cancer Society and American Health Foundation.

"I took everything I knew about the subject and put together Smoke NoMore accenting positive attitudes, teaching that there is more to be gained from not smoking," she said.

"Each person can pick his own rationale. By the end of the program many tell how distasteful cigarettes have become to them, and the majority point out the improvements they have found in their new smokeless seats in life," she said.

"I'm happy to be able to recommend the course because I feel a heck of a lot better now," said George Czarnik, accounting manager for Americoffee Corp., who attended Smoke NoMore sessions last fall.

The Farmington Hills resident said he had tried quitting before but felt that the course was "the perfect crutch for me because my desire was at the perfect pitch. The two went hand in hand."

"Wanting to quit was the key for me, so it wasn't hard. You really need the conviction of wanting to quit. Then the little things she suggests for replacing the cigarettes — like the little ball I used to carry around to squeeze in my hand — well, it makes a pattern, and it all falls into place," he said.

WIN... WITH SPORTS NUTRITION

Racquetball, tennis, jogging, walking, biking, whatever the sports choice... Americans are exercise-conscious. Whether the goal is to establish a life-long fitness plan, lose a few extra pounds or to compete just for pure pleasure, interest in sports sparks a keen interest in nutrition.

If you're searching for the special diet or "magic" food that will prepare your body for a winning performance, be cautious! All you need is a balanced diet pattern including a wide variety of foods that follows the U.S. Dietary Guidelines. It is recommended that a major source of food intake should come from carbohydrate-rich foods. They're the most efficient and readily available sources of energy. Not "simple" carbohydrates such as those found in sugar, (which offer minimum nutrition for maximum calories), but "complex" carbohydrates. They supply energy and nutrition. As the body breaks complex carbohydrates down into their simpler forms, it sends them directly to the muscles and the brain. Enriched pasta and apricots, whether fresh, canned, dried or nectar, give you the complex carbohydrates you need.

In addition to the carbohydrates, enriched pasta made from durum and/or other high quality hard wheat, provides B-vitamins thiamine, riboflavin and niacin; iron and protein. It is classified as a low fat, low sodium food. Counting calories? There are only 210-220 calories in an average entrée serving.

California apricots belong on the sports enthusiast's table. As well as a carbohydrate source, they're rich in vitamin A, essential for healthy skin, hair and eyes. Apricots contain more vitamin A than any other tree fruit. They provide vitamin C, iron and potassium. Dried apricots are especially high in potassium, an important mineral for the athlete because it guards against muscle fatigue. Eight dried apricot halves contain the same amount of potassium as a banana — a popular fruit eaten by marathon runners.

Sports Apricot-Noodle Pudding is a perfect high-energy combination. Fine egg noodles, canned California apricots, raisins and chopped apple are tossed into a light custard sauce. The sauce is made from eggs and skim milk, adding protein, calcium and vitamins A and D to the nutrients in the pasta and apricots. And there's no sugar. The pudding's sweetness is provided by the nourishing fruits. Serve as a dessert, an after-exercise snack or a luncheon or supper meal in itself.

And complement your meal with a mug of hot tea — it's the preferred beverage for topping off an athlete's meal. An excess of beverages with a high-sugar content can dull your appetite, causing you to cut down on other essential foods. Tea, hot or cold, has practically no calories, is easy to digest and serves as a mild stimulant which helps to increase exercise time and delay exhaustion. Try some variations in your tea — our healthful varieties — Apricot Spice for added vitamins A and C and potassium; Minty Milk for protein, vitamins A and D plus calcium; Orange Spice for vitamins A and C with potassium; and Hawaiian Pineapple for calcium, phosphorus and potassium. Fluids in your diet cannot be stressed enough. You should consume plenty of liquids before, during and after exercise to replenish water loss. They prevent dehydration that could lead to heat exhaustion.

Try our other high-energy recipes too. Spaghetti with Stir-Fried Vegetables, a very simple-to-prepare entrée, is sure to add pep to your step. Stir-frying vegetables and pasta means valuable nutrient retention and color.

Apricot Health Bars are packed with good-for-you foods too — dried California apricots, whole-wheat and ground oat flour.

As you hit the road, trail or court, make pasta, California apricots and tea a part of the game plan. These valuable sports foods are winners!

SPORTS APRICOT-NOODLE PUDDING

(Makes 12 servings)

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------|
| 1 quart skim milk | 1 tablespoon salt |
| 6 eggs | 3 quarts boiling water |
| 1 teaspoon ground nutmeg | 2 cans (17 ounces each) |
| 1 teaspoon almond extract | California apricot halves, |
| 1 teaspoon vanilla extract | drained and sliced |
| 1/2 cup raisins | 2 red Delicious apples, |
| 8 ounces fine egg noodles | cored and cubed |
| (about 4 cups) | |

In double boiler top, over simmering water, scald milk until bubbles appear around edge. In medium bowl, beat eggs and nutmeg with wire whisk until mixed. Slowly beat in hot milk. Return to double boiler. Cook over simmering water, stirring constantly, until mixture coats a spoon, about 15 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in almond and vanilla extracts and raisins. Pour into 3 quart bowl; chill until cool. Gradually add noodles and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally until tender. Drain in colander; cool slightly. Reserve 1/2 cup apricots and 1/2 cup noodles for garnish, if desired. Fold remaining warm noodles, apricots and apples into cooled custard. Chill until serving time.

SPAGHETTI

WITH STIR-FRIED VEGETABLES

(Makes 4 servings)

- | | |
|-----------------------------|--------------------------|
| 8 ounces spaghetti | 1/4 pound mushrooms, |
| 1 tablespoon salt | thinly sliced |
| 3 quarts boiling water | 1 tablespoon cornstarch |
| 2 tablespoons vegetable oil | 1 tablespoon soy sauce |
| 1 cup diagonally sliced | 1/8 teaspoon crushed red |
| carrots | pepper |
| 1 medium onion, sliced | 1 cup water |
| 2 cups broccoli flowerets | |

Gradually add spaghetti and salt to rapidly boiling water so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

While spaghetti is cooking, in a large skillet, heat oil. Add carrots and onion; stir-fry about 5 minutes. Add broccoli and mushrooms; stir-fry 1 minute. Cover and cook 2 minutes. In cup combine cornstarch, soy sauce, pepper and water. Stir into stir-fried vegetables. Cook until bubbly and thickened. Turn hot spaghetti into serving dish. Add vegetable mixture; toss.

APRICOT HEALTH BARS

(Makes about 3 dozen bars)

- | | |
|----------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| 1 package (6 ounces) dried | 1-1/2 cups whole wheat flour |
| California apricots, diced | 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar |
| 1/2 cup water | 3/4 cup vegetable shortening |
| 1/4 cup honey | 1/2 teaspoon salt |
| 1 teaspoon almond extract | 1/2 teaspoon baking soda |
| 1/2 cup sliced almonds | 1 carton (8 ounces) vanilla |
| 1 cup old-fashioned oats | yogurt |
| (uncooked) | 2 tablespoons old-fashioned oats |

In saucepan, heat apricots, water and honey to boiling. Cover and simmer about 15 minutes or until very tender. Stir in extract and almonds; cool to room temperature. In food processor, process 1 cup oats until ground into a fine powder. Add whole wheat flour, brown sugar, shortening, salt, baking soda and yogurt; process just until well mixed. (Without a processor, grind oats in blender and use an electric mixer to combine ingredients.) Coat a 13 x 9-inch pan with vegetable cooking spray according to directions. Spread half of batter in pan. Spread with apricot filling. Drop remaining batter on top and carefully spread evenly to cover filling. Sprinkle top with 2 tablespoons oats. Bake in 350°F. oven for 30 minutes or until top springs back when lightly touched. Cool completely on wire rack; cut into bars.

PERFECT HOT TEA

(Makes 1 quart — 6 servings)

- Rinse out a teapot with hot water and let stand a few moments to heat the pot.
- Bring freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil in a kettle.
- Place 6 teabags or 6 teaspoons of loose tea into the warmed pot.
- Pour 1 quart (4 measuring cups) boiling water over the tea.
- Cover the pot and let stand from 3 to 5 minutes.
- Serve plain or with milk (not cream) or for added nutrition and change-of-pace flavor with some of the following additions:

APRICOT SPICE: Add a 2-inch piece of cinnamon stick with loose tea or teabags. When tea has brewed, remove cinnamon. Stir in 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves and 1 cup apricot nectar. Garnish with a long cinnamon stick and lemon slice.

MINTY MILK: Bruise 2 tablespoons chopped fresh mint with 4 teaspoons sugar. Add with tea. When tea has brewed, strain. Stir in 1 cup milk. A few drops of mint extract may be used if fresh mint is not available.

ORANGE SPICE: After tea has brewed, stir in 1 teaspoon ground allspice and 1 cup orange juice.

HAWAIIAN PINEAPPLE: After tea has brewed, add 1 cup pineapple juice. Garnish with a spear of fresh or canned pineapple.

Garlic the great

Garlic, with a magnificent heritage stretching back almost 6,000 years, has been credited with supplying strength and courage, fighting heart attacks and respiratory ailments, curing or relieving symptoms of flu, ulcers, worms and snakebites.

It has been spoken of as an aphrodisiac. It has been used to ward off evil spirits. It has killed mosquitoes.

Garlic also is native to all the great cuisines, including Italian, Greek, Spanish, French and Chinese. But it does present some problems for beginning cooks.

Separating a head of garlic with the flat part of a big knife or the soft side of your fist will not work wonders - it will simply send some cloves flying. Better to cut off the stringy portion of the bulb and the cloves will almost separate by themselves.

PEELING A head of garlic is a snap if you line up four or five cloves at a time on a flat, hard surface and lightly swat them with the flat side of a chef's knife. Peelings come off easily. You may have to hit some cloves individually, such as the larger, not so uniform ones, but they still peel without effort.

One bulb may yield anywhere from 18 medium cloves and four tiny ones to 13 fairly large ones and a tiny clove.

The taste of garlic can be altered by how it is prepared or used. Cloves cooked in their skins without piercing produce a buttery flavor on the sweet side. Juice pressed from a clove has a luscious flavor. Minced or crushed garlic sauteed retains its potent flavor and aroma. But lengthy, slow cooking reduces that potency to a subtle taste.

Therefore, it is possible to get a less pungent result from two heads of garlic than from one clove. Proof that garlic is truly magnificent is best illustrated by making soup and salad dressing.

GARLIC SOUP

- 2 heads garlic
- 2 quarts clear chicken broth
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 whole cloves
- 1/4 tsp. sage
- 1/4 tsp. thyme
- 4 parsley sprigs
- 1 bay leaf
- 2 tbsp. olive oil
- 1 cup small macaroni shells
- 3 egg yolks
- 2 tbsp. sweet butter, melted
- Black pepper
- 6 slices whole wheat bread
- 1 1/2 cups grated Gruyere cheese

Separate garlic into cloves, peel and place in large pot. Add broth, stir in salt, cloves, sage, thyme, parsley, bay leaf and olive oil, bring to simmer on medium high heat, reduce to low and cook covered 1 hour. Strain and discard garlic and herbs. Raise heat to medium, add macaroni and cook uncovered until shells are tender. Beat together egg yolks and butter, slowly add to soup and stir in pepper to taste. Place slice of bread in each soup bowl, sprinkle with cheese and ladle on soup. Serves 6.

CREAMY GARLIC DRESSING

- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 1/4 cup half and half
- 1 small garlic clove, halved
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. black pepper

Place mayonnaise and half and half in blender, add garlic, salt and pepper, blend until smooth. Pour into small container, cover and refrigerate until ready to use. Yields 1/2 cup.

Potato fritatta is good with any meal

Country-Style Potato Frittata is a nourishing suggestion for a late week-end breakfast or light supper. Best of all it's made with ingredients generally kept on hand.

Cooked russet potatoes are lightly browned in bacon drippings along with green onion and green pepper. A seasoned egg mixture is poured over the potatoes. When this is nearly set, shredded Cheddar cheese is sprinkled on top, and the frittata is popped under the broiler until the cheese is hot and bubbly.

For breakfast, accompany it with fresh fruit and at supper a green salad.

Russets are rich in nutrients and stay moist and flavorful whether baked, broiled or fried. They are easily recognized by their oval shape, light netting and shallow eyes.

COUNTRY-STYLE POTATO FRITTATA

- 4 slices bacon, diced
- 3 cups (about 1 lb.) cooked, pared and diced russet potatoes
- 1/2 cup each chopped green onion and green pepper
- 1 or 2 tbsp. butter or margarine (optional)
- 6 eggs
- 2 tsp. water
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook bacon in 10-inch oven-proof skillet until crisp, remove with slotted spoon and set aside. Fry cooked potatoes in drippings until lightly browned. Add green onion and green pepper; cook, stirring frequently until crisp-tender. Stir in bacon. Add butter if necessary; heat until melted.

Beat eggs with water and pepper; stir into potato mixture. Cook over medium heat until edges are set. With wide spatula, lift cooked portions and allow uncooked egg mixture to flow underneath. Continue cooking until almost set. Sprinkle with cheese; broil until cheese melts and is lightly browned. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Aim is for variety, visibility

Dear Mrs. Green:
I am fascinated by handwriting analysis and read your column every week. I am right-handed, female and will be 32 years old next month. I am employed as a secretary in downtown Detroit.

Anything you may be able to determine from my handwriting will be greatly appreciated.

P.D.
Garden City

Dear P.D.:
A busy, active young woman who enjoys variety in her life is revealed by the total picture of this handwriting. One who probably becomes a bit restless when things are too routine or mundane. And one who crowds a great deal into her day.

You enjoy being visible and there is a little showmanship here to help promote yourself. But this usually is done in good taste as the need to conform to the mores of those people who you hold in esteem is also present. And your need for security will not allow you to jeopardize it.

Caution and self-consciousness seem somewhat paradoxical but are here and probably serve as brakes.

Behind this busy, friendly, attention loving woman is a secretive side which you do not share with others.

Emotional words, images or events have you responding more quickly than do dry facts and figures. Emotions play a large part in your daily life. You probably find it difficult to conceal your feelings. In interpersonal relationships there is caring and empathy shown by you.

Responsibility is something you are willing to accept and handle. Occasionally you may take on the new task with a bit of self-doubt, but once into it your confidence and strong determination have you carrying it to success completion.

PLEASE NOTE: Some of my readers would like to hear from people who have had their handwriting analyzed through this column. If you are willing to supply me with feedback from your analysis for use in the column, please enclose a self-address envelope with your letter and I will contact you. Send your letters to Lorene C. Camp Fire candy sale under way

If your sweet tooth has been aching lately, the feeling can be filled.

Camp fire girls and boys — something like 5,000 of them — will hold their annual candy sale through March 7 throughout the tri-county area.

Proceeds from the candy sale provide 38 percent of the council's yearly budget and also go toward maintaining Camp Wathana, the 370-acre resident camp near Holly, Mich.

For further information on the candy sale, programs, camp or to discuss becoming a leader, call the Camp Fire office at 833-2670 between 8:30-4:30 p.m.

Good hair style builds confidence

Most of the magic came from the tiny, manicure-size scissors Bowers used intermittently with normal size shears. But the some of it came at the fingertips of makeup artist Linda Hay.

Here again, absolute naturalness was the benchmark.

Using a base that closely blended with Unsworth's natural coloring, Hay added highlights of blusher at high on the outer ridges of the cheekbone. Next — and probably the most dramatic touch — was the careful highlighting of the eyes — something Unsworth did only occasionally but will definitely do more of in the future.

ABSENT WAS THE heavily made-up look that is so often associated with professional makeup artists.

Bowers had some other tips to offer. Hot rollers, she said, are very damaging to the hair — especially to fine hair like Unsworth's. Better to use a curling iron, she said. And if you do use hot rollers, plan on getting the ends trimmed about every three weeks.

Watch the kind of shampoo you use. Choose one that has a water base. So many of the products on the market contain wax. "It coats the hair and weighs it down," she said. (Renaissance uses a Glemby product called Mahdeen ACV — for apple cider vinegar.)

And never mind using a brush when blow drying your hair. Use your fingertips, she advised. "You'll get more lift," she said.

Unsworth filed the advice away. At the time, she had all the lift she needed.

DR. BARMAKIAN recommends
BRAZILIAN HERBAL TEA
Pau D'Arco 100% Natural.

Highly acclaimed in Newspapers and Television

So excited were doctors and laymen in other parts of the world by this amazing Brazilian Herbal Tea, its growing widespread use has become the subject of many newspaper and television reports. Doctors in Sao Paulo, Brazil prescribe the beverage in their hospitals for conditions of gastritis, inflammation of the bladder, anemia, rheumatism, skin diseases as well as in fighting neoplasia (cancer).

The stuff of which legends are made

For over 1,000 years the natives of South America have relied on a tea obtained from the bark of the tree known as Pau D'Arco or Ipe Roxo to provide them with a curative for a host of ailments. So confident were they of its healing powers, this remarkable tea was used daily as a general therapeutic and preventative of illness and disease.

A Truly Healthful Beverage

Inasmuch as this wonderful botanical is used by physicians for many of the conditions listed above, it is not possible to state conclusively that this herb does in fact actually cure any or all of the above. It is fair to state, however, that this remarkable Brazilian Herbal Tea surely cannot be considered anything less than a truly healthful beverage for the whole family to enjoy.

Ask for Brazilian Herbal Tea at your local health food store, discount pharmacy, or supermarket chain.

Nipping and notching — The psychological edge to feeling great

By Marie McGee
staff writer

Nipping and notching and some regular cutting got rid of a lot of the curly hair around Unsworth's face, lengthening the contour.

This is what O&E copy layout artist Pam Unsworth looked like before her make-over.

A side view shows the full effect of the new technique.

A horizontal layered look is achieved by nipping the hair and notching it.

Notching involves cutting a V-shaped pattern intermittently with longer strands retaining a blunter edge.

FEELING GOOD and looking great starts at the top. It's a psychological edge that comes with a becoming haircut and style and brings an unparalleled feeling of self-confidence that not even wearing last year's fashions can diminish.

This spring that new look of beauty and confidence comes by way of nipping and notching — a new technique that results in a unique horizontal layered look.

The technique calls for separating the hair and gently nipping it in a slightly V-shaped pattern. The result is shorter hair that zigzags its way along-side longer locks, and softening the blunt edge of hair at the side and back.

It's an easy-to-care for look — just wash and blow dry. But even more important, it helps retain the natural look that prevails today.

TO LEARN ABOUT the top, the Observer visited the top — the high-style Renaissance Hair Salon in Detroit's Renaissance Center.

There, the Observer's model, Pam Unsworth, a copy layout artist, submitted to nipping and notching coupled with normal hair-cutting techniques at the hands of Renaissance stylist Pat Bowers, a former Westland resident.

The outcome was striking. One noticeable difference was that it made Unsworth's slightly round face take on a more elongated appearance that was more becoming.

Superficial drama colorfully shows life in Indonesia

There is a scene in "The Year of Living Dangerously" (PG) in which Jill Bryant (Sigourney Weaver) criticizes Guy Hamilton's reporting as being melodramatic.

Bryant is the assistant to the British military attache in Jakarta, Indonesia. Hamilton (Mel Gibson) is an Australian journalist pressing hard to make good on his first overseas assignment.

Why, he asks, does she think his article was melodramatic? She replies that describing the physical appearance of starving children once is sufficient to make one's point, three times is melodramatic.

By this standard, "The Year of Living Dangerously" is melodramatic. It shows us repeated shots of suffering and starvation. However, it is also a very sensuous, romantic and adventurous film.

SET IN INDONESIA in 1965, a year of political tumult, and filmed in Australia and the Philippines, it presents an incredibly rich and authentic-looking picture of life in this Southeast Asian hotspot under the reign of President Sukarno.

Peter Weir, Australian director of the film, is a master at establishing atmosphere. His previous films, "Picnic at Hanging Rock" and "The Last Wave," are convincing evidence of that. In "The Year of Living Dangerously," he demonstrates that mastery again.

He captures the sights and sounds, the look and feel of the place, the heat, the tensions, even the smells. They all become palpable. The result is a movie that is like a handsome oriental rug with a visually rich pattern of colors and motifs.

It is very rewarding to view because it is so ornamental, but there is no single focal point on which we concentrate. There is no depth to it, no compelling story.

Weir skims the surface. He touches on themes without pursuing them. Even the romance between Bryant and Hamilton doesn't seem to be built on anything more substantial than convenience. They are just two attractive Anglos who happen to be in Jakarta at the same time.

THE ETHICS OF Hamilton's profession as a journalist gets the same treatment. When Bryant passes secret information to him, should he respect her confidence or be the reporter who is first to break an important story? And what if just reporting the story causes an explosive political situation in an already unstable country?

Weir introduces the questions, but he doesn't present answers. He doesn't study the situation in depth, and he doesn't offer a point of view.

We get the decorative facade. We don't see what is underneath. This is certainly true of the political situation. Weir doesn't offer any help to the viewer unfamiliar with Indonesian politics (99 percent of us?).

Conveying all this non-information to us is a splendid cast. Mel Gibson (seen in "The Road Warrior" and "Gallipoli") is dark, handsome and a very strong masculine presence as the reporter. Sigourney Weaver is cool and composed in a role which doesn't make full use of her talent (her past films include "Eyewitness" and "Alien").

Michael Murphy is completely detestable as an "ugly American." He has every fault associated with that phrase and absolutely no virtues. If he were more significant in affecting events, he would be the "villain."

THE SURPRISE of the film is the character of Billy Kwan, a photographer who befriends Bryant and Hamilton. He is played by an American actress, Linda Hunt.

Hunt, made up to look Eurasian and male, is so extraordinary and the character of Billy Kwan is so much more interesting than any of the others, that she literally steals the picture.

Is "The Year of Living Dangerously" worth seeing? Absolutely, as long as the viewer is reconciled to accept surface excitement and not look for meaning or depth.

Mel Gibson as Guy Hamilton, an Australian journalist, and Sigourney Weaver as Jill Bryant, a military attache's assistant, find romance amid political turmoil in Indonesia.

Sheriff vs. sheriff — entertaining drama in 3 acts

I COULD have gone to see Anthony Quinn in "Zorba the Greek" at the Masonic Wednesday afternoon. Instead I opted for a three-act performance on the fifth floor of the old Wayne County Building, the Hon. Paul Teranes, Wayne Circuit judge, presiding.

It was the better show — Ficano vs. Pittman, the winner to be sheriff. You missed it if you watched TV news. Cameras, for illogical reasons, are forbidden in Michigan courtrooms, and TV reporters don't take notes in a courtroom or read things like legal briefs. They do corridor people for interviews to fill up 20 seconds of broadcast time.

We'll have to wait for the curtain to fall. Judge Teranes is going to take his time studying the matter and will have a "written opinion, hopefully soon."

OPENING ACT was Joseph Sullivan, plaintiff Ficano's lawyer, who said "we don't have to spend a lot of time beating to death a very simple issue."

That was true. The case is a question of law — who had authority to appoint a sheriff? — and was argued largely by legal briefs. Nevertheless, Sullivan rambled on for a half-hour, essentially putting on high-class, intellectual theater.

For many years, whenever there was a vacancy in the office of sheriff, it was filled by a panel of three," Sullivan began. He cited a 1923 state law, "which has not been amended or repealed," giving the appointment authority to the county clerk, the prosecutor and the presiding probate judge.

commentary

Last December that panel had selected Robert Ficano, 30, Livonia attorney and deputy county clerk, as sheriff. On Jan. 1, William Lucas vacated the office of sheriff he had held since 1969 and took the oath of county executive under the new charter. Executive Lucas' first act was to elevate Undersheriff Loren Pittman to the sheriff's position. Ficano is seeking a court order to have Pittman removed and himself installed.

The thrust of Sullivan's simple if rambling argument was that the 1923 law still applies and that there is nothing in the 1963 Michigan Constitution, the 1966 County Home Rule Act or its 1980 amendments which gave the Wayne County Charter Commission authority to transfer the appointing authority to the executive.

A simple argument but eloquently presented. Ficano got his money's worth.

DAVID OLMSTEAD, of the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock & Stone, the "thundering herd" of the legal industry in southeastern Michigan, represented Lucas in Act II. His language wasn't as overblown, his style less hammy, and his argument was more esoteric.

Far from being an "obscure matter," as Sullivan had scornfully suggested, the principle of home rule was fundamental, Olmstead began. "Because of his attitude (Sullivan's), he goes immediately off track."

He went on, "The general state law (of 1923) no longer applies." Here Olmstead launched into a history lesson about how Michigan was among the most progressive of states in adopting city home rule in 1908 and county home rule in the 1960s.

Rather than needing 1-dotting, t-crossing specific authority, a home-rule government may exercise powers "fairly implied" in the law, and its use of those powers should be "generously construed." He called the principle "Dillon's Rule" and quoted the Constitutional Convention's comment: "This means the charter county need not have specific permission from the Legislature to perform local functions."

WHILE STATE law was silent on giving a county executive power to fill a vacancy in the office of sheriff, the Charter Commission could design a method for dealing with such a local problem, said Olmstead.

At this point the going got tough. Olmstead conceded it is true the law prohibits the executive from controlling other elected officials. "But where there is a vacancy, there is no elected official," he said.

Olmstead likened the county executive appointing a sheriff to the president appointing U.S. Supreme Court justices — once they are in place, the exec has no control over them, no power to remove them.

It was one of the best political science lectures I had heard since campus days.

Robert Ficano

Loren Pittman

The question of law is: Who has the authority to appoint the county sheriff? The final curtain has not fallen.

THEN THE party got rough. Bedrosian asked Judge Teranes to take "judicial notice" of the fact that Pittman had 38 years of law enforcement experience, including five years experience as chief of police in River Rouge and 12 years experience as undersheriff.

He noted the sheriff is responsible for a $34 million budget, a jail with 1,000 prisoners, a staff of 750 and obedience to 300 court orders — the result of a 1971 lawsuit by prisoners — governing how the jail should be run.

Bedrosian sniffed that the Ficano appointment "smacked of the highest political chicanery."

Sullivan chastised his brother at the bar for "taking shots at Mr. Ficano" — quite correctly, for the comparative merits of Ficano and Pittman were irrelevant in this case.

But Sullivan was unable to resist getting in his own dig, any more than my dog can resist stealing meat on the edge of the kitchen table. Sullivan noted that some of the those court orders had held Sheriff Lucas and Undersheriff Pittman in contempt of court, implying the incumbents weren't such hot administrators.

Sullivan was at his haughty best when he said such arguments "poison the well."

Grand, grand theater. And all it cost was $2.25 for parking a block away.

Matters of justice: It's not always fair

THE POWER struggle touched off by ex-Gov. William Milliken's appointment of Dorothy Comstock Riley to the Supreme Court reflected badly on almost every person involved in the case, except ex-Justice Riley.

Her dignified deportment was the only bright spot in an otherwise dreary series of self-serving actions and evasions. She displayed what Hemingway termed "grace under pressure."

We suspect that if an election for Supreme Court Justice were held this year, Riley would win handsily. It would certainly seem that she would be a strong candidate to run for the office at the next election in two years.

FOR THE court's sake, however, let's do away with the present method of nominating justices for the Supreme Court by political party.

Partisanship displays on the high court are disquieting and unnerving to a public hoping for an appearance as well as an actuality of judicial impartiality.

The most telling points Richard Headlee has made recently in criticizing Gov. Blanchard was when Headlee said: "The great champion for equal rights for women orchestrated kicking her off (the bench)."

BLANCHARD will try to pick up the pieces by appointing another woman to the court — which now has no women — or a black, such as the distinguished Wade McCree, who so far has not shown great enthusiasm for the appointment.

Whoever is appointed may pale in comparison (no pun intended) to the ousted Riley.

If Blanchard wanted to show real judicialness, he would accept his "victory" and appoint Riley to the post.

SPEAKING OF JUSTICE: Do you still wonder why the nation's highest court at one point felt compelled to issue the Miranda ruling that says that every person arrested for a crime should be notified of his or her rights.

Police have been complaining for years about this and other rulings. But the case of Carl Fugate makes us think that the Miranda ruling came if anything, too late, rather than too soon.

HERE IS a woman who says that at 14 years old she was arrested for the capital crime of murder (based mostly on statements made by the person convicted of killing her family), questioned, told she would have to provide her own lawyer, kept in a mental institution because she was too young to be held in a jail, was not allowed to call anyone, and was not provided a court-appointed lawyer for six days. The lie detector test she recently took for a television program indicates she knew nothing about the murders she was convicted of.

SPEAKING OF JUSTICE: The figures published recently showing the typical salaries of Wayne County employees was an eye-opener even for people accustomed to thinking of Wayne county government as a bastion of salaries bloated beyond belief.

Where is the justice when services are cut, county employees are laid off and County Executive William Lucas is talking about closing a hospital when at the same time county hospital attendants, county custodial workers and county elevator operators are starting — starting, mind you — at more than $20,000 per year and higher echelon employees are starting at higher levels of pay.

Lucas may believe, appropriately, that the only way to get out from under the unreasonable wages being paid county hospital employees is by getting the county out of the hospital business and turning it over to a non-profit corporation.

SPEAKING OF JUSTICE: By questioning the motives of the U.S. attorneys in the Vista sludge-hauling case, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young is only following the adage of many a criminal lawyer — If you have the facts on your side, try the facts; if you have the witnesses on your side, try the witnesses; if you don't have the facts or witnesses on your side, try the police and the prosecutor.

roll call report

House renews committees on drugs, families

Here's how area U.S. representatives were recorded on major roll call votes during the opening weeks of the 98th Congress. The Senate had no contested votes.

DRUG PANEL: The House voted, 290 for and 77 against, to keep the Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control in existence for two more years.

The "temporary" panel was created in 1977 to last two years, but every Congress since then has kept it alive.

At issue over the years has been whether the panel does vital work or is a useless appendage of the House bureaucracy. At least 14 standing committees also have drugs jurisdiction.

This year, the committee is to get six more members (to a total of 25) and a budget of $689,000 (up from $540,000 in 1982). As a select committee, it has oversight authority but cannot legislate.

Supporter Charles Rangel, D-N.Y., the committee chairman, said, "Parents, educators, states, local and private organizations in drug abuse, as well as the law enforcement community, have urged that . . . the work of the select committee continue."

Opponent Thomas Bliley, R-Va., said the panel does "almost nothing" to combat drugs and represents "a growing bureaucracy, foreign junkets and shameless self-promotion that we should all condemn."

Members voting yes favored keeping the committee in existence.

Voting yes: William Ford, D-Taylor; Sander Levin, D-Southfield; Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit; William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Not voting: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth.

House voted, 812 for and 69 against, to create the Select Committee on Children, Youth and Families, at an annual budget of about $500,000. The panel is without legislative authority and is slated to be dissolved after two years.

Supporter Tony Hall, D-Ohio, said that jurisdiction over children's issues is scattered among 13 standing committees. He argued that this panel will provide "the much-needed mechanism to coordinate congressional action to address the problems of childhood and adolescence."

Opponent Judd Gregg, R-N.H., called the new panel a costly level of bureaucracy that will "probably come to no definitive results which would not have been reached by the 13 committees that have already addressed this issue."

Members voting yes wanted to establish the children's committee.

Voting Yes: Ford, Hertel and Levin. Not voting: Pursell and Broomfield.

RIDERS: On a party-line vote of 156 for and 250 against, the House rejected a motion dealing with legislative rules for the 98th Congress.

Failure of the motion left intact a Democratic proposal making it more difficult to attach riders to appropriations bills. In recent years, such riders have been used most frequently by conservatives seeking to advance their views on abortion, school prayer and other social issues.

Rep. David Dreier, R-Calif., supported the motion to block the rules change. He said riders on appropriations bills are necessary to control "the wasteful spending habits of this body."

Opponent Jim Wright, D-Texas, said authorization — rather than appropriations — bills are the right vehicle for making substantive changes in the law.

Members voting no favored fewer riders on appropriations bills.

Voting yes: Broomfield. Voting no: Hertel, Ford and Levin. Not voting: Pursell.

CONTRACTS: By a vote of 294 for 32 against, the House passed a bill to aid small businesses in their competition against big corporations for federal procurement contracts. The bill (HR 1043) was sent to conference with the Senate.

At issue was whether bidding procedures are fair to smaller companies seeking in a share of the $160 billion the government lets annually in military and civilian contracts.

The bill requires a lapse of at least 45 days between the advertising of a contract and the deadline for submitting bids, along with adequate notice in the Commerce Business Daily.

Supporter Parren Mitchell, D-Md., said that "because (they) do not have lobbyists in Washington, small businesses are closed out from making any attempt to even bid on a contract."

Voting yes: Hertel, Ford, Levin and Broomfield.

New law helps

Area firms are eager to export

By Carol Azizian
staff writer

Despite the bleak economy, some local businessmen are willing to look at the bright side and even gamble with new ventures in export trading.

A handful of businessmen interviewed by the Observer & Eccentric at a recent seminar on Export Trading Companies in Southfield said they hope to diversify sales by moving into the overseas market.

"I'm used to dealing in the foreign market, but only in the service aspect. I want to diversify and form an export trading company to sell modular housing units, aircraft or whatever comes into demand in the Saudi market," said Edward Shelton, president of a Troy engineering and architectural firm.

SHELTON IS U.S. representative to the IDEA (International Design Engineering and Architecture) Center, headquartered in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia. The company — which has branches in London, Paris and Athens — builds housing (including several embassies) throughout the world.

Along with more than 100 businessmen, Shelton came to the Southfield seminar to learn how the Department of Commerce could help him start an export trading company.

"I'm here for the learning experience," he said. "I want to examine all the ins and outs. It's my first step in a long voyage."

Shelton believes the new Export Trading Company Act will encourage more businessmen to stake out a share in foreign markets.

"American businessmen have a local or national concept of marketing. Some are even afraid (to sell products and services) in Canada. This law opens up a whole new ballgame for American businesses."

ANTICIPATING THE renewed interest in export trading, J. Victor Valade recently formed his own export management company.

The company, Voyager Exports of Rochester, represents manufacturers who want to sell products overseas. Although he has only one client so far, Valade hopes business will take off once the new legislation is implemented.

"The new law will eliminate a lot of barriers," Valade said. "Now a manufacturer can go to one place (an export trading company) and have everything done for him."

Although the company he works for — Federal Mogul — already sells products overseas, John F. Misterovich hopes the new law will encourage other manufacturers to export.

"This act creates so much interest that people will come to us to discuss joint ventures," said Misterovich, director of the corporation's international aftermarket services.

"When we work with other firms, we have to convince them to export. Now they'll be more receptive to our sales presentation and more willing to alter product designs to meet the international market.

"They're changing dyed-in-the-wool attitudes of what's good for America is good for everyone else."

Misterovich believes manufacturers should look to agriculturists who have geared their attention to international markets for a number of years.

"For example, an association of cherry canners in Traverse City worked with the Japanese government to find a chemical formula that would be acceptable to the Japanese. The product may not taste different from the one sold here, but it passes government regulations in Japan."

It's Tax Time

by Charles H. Williams, C.P.A.

CHOOSING AN ACCOUNTANT

Who'll prepare your tax return this year? It's time to start choosing a professional, and to undertake the planning that may help you shelter some of your income from taxes.

If your income is fairly straightforward and deductible expenses minimal, you might satisfactorily use a short-form return and do it yourself or with the help of a tax preparer. But with more income, and more deductions, as the return becomes more complicated, you're going to want a tax professional.

Why? Because it's worth the difference to put your tax return in the hands of someone with the knowledge to find every likely loophole, and the experience to know which are acceptable. And as you reach the higher brackets, you'll get the advice you need on sheltering some income from taxes.

Some free help is available from the IRS. Revenue employees will answer your questions (but the tax court has challenged some of their answers) and prepare the simplest returns. There are also independent and chain tax preparers who pop up at tax season. Their workers may not be experienced enough to catch all legal deductions.

A certified public accountant can handle most complex returns and are familiar with shelters and investing. His or her tax know-how can save you more than the fee.

How do you choose a professional? Recommendations from satisfied clientele are one way, as are referrals from lawyers. Once a relationship is entered, the client will find his accountant helpful in making financial decisions all year round.

INCOME TAX

We're a local organization. Even though we served more than 3,000 clients last year we haven't forgotten that every client is an individual and that each individual deserves the best service we can provide.

When we sign a tax return that we've prepared, we're proud of having done the best possible job for you. When you see our signature on your tax return you can be sure that:

1. The counselor who prepared your return was competent and thoroughly experienced in tax matters.
2. You have received the maximum legal deductions and the minimum legal tax.
3. Your tax return has received all the time and attention that was necessary to do a proper job.
4. Your tax return has been double-checked for both accuracy and tax saving possibilities.
5. Your return has been handled in a confidential manner.

Call us for a free tax organizer. Our fees are often less than the highly advertised tax firms and averaged less than $50.00 last year.

Call us. We understand small businesses, personal and corporate tax returns. Computerized bookkeeping and payroll, tax planning system.

Ocelots fail to climb K'zoo Valley, 80-78

Hot-shooting Kalamazoo Valley overcame a four-point deficit late in the game Friday night to eliminate Schoolcraft from the Michigan Community College Athletic Association (MCCAA) basketball tournament at Delta, 80-78.

In the other semifinal game, Henry Ford edged Lansing, 71-68, advancing to Saturday's championship game against Kalamazoo (23-7).

Schoolcraft, using the clock with a delay offense, lost the game after being whistled on a charging foul, an elbowing foul, coupled with a turnover. Kalamazoo responded with a basket and four free throws.

Rocky Watkins, Schoolcraft's coach, called the loss "devastating" and chided the officiating. The Ocelots committed 22 fouls to Kalamazoo's seven. The winners made 17 of 20 free throws.

"We play our delay game as well as anybody and we get two 'phantom' fouls called," he said. "I hate to say it but the kids feel robbed."

"We shot 54 percent from the floor and hit 10 of 12 from the line. I don't know what else we can do."

PEDRO MOURNING, a 6-foot-2 forward, led the winners with 24 points. Curt Lemly added 22, including the two game-winning free throws. Shawn McGuire and David Gordon chipped in with 14 and 11, respectively.

Carlos Briggs topped Schoolcraft with 32 points and five steals. Livonia Stevenson grad Bill Keyes added 18 in his final game as an Ocelot.

The Ocelots were crippled by the ineffectiveness of point-guard George Merriweather, who scored only six points and fouled out. He played sparingly because of a pulled stomach muscle.

Schoolcraft, the No. 1 seed from the Eastern Conference in the 14-team tourney, bowed out with a 23-7.

The Ocelots opened tournament play Thursday with a 77-67 triumph over Macomb as Briggs tallied 26 points, grabbed eight rebounds and passed off for 11 assists.

Keyes, a 6-3 swingman, tallied 14 points, missing only one field goal. Barry Vaughn, a Stevenson grad, came off the bench to score 11 on five-for-six shooting.

For the game, Schoolcraft made 27 of 41 shots and 23 of 29 from the line.

Gary Harris led the losers with 12 points.

SCOTT CONRAD, a 6-6 center from Livonia Churchill, added 16 points, hitting five-of-seven shots from the floor and six-of-seven from the line.

Keyes, a 6-3 swingman, tallied 14 points, missing only one field goal. Barry Vaughn, a Stevenson grad, came off the bench to score 11 on five-for-six shooting.

For the game, Schoolcraft made 27 of 41 shots and 23 of 29 from the line.

Gary Harris led the losers with 12 points.

CC rally nets A B title; 'Judge' next on docket

By Brad Emons

basketball

The reward for Detroit Catholic Central after beating Southgate Aquinas yesterday (61-56) for the Catholic League's A-B Division basketball crown?

A court date Friday night at Cobo Arena before "The Judge," All-American Antoine Joubert and his No. 1 ranked Detroit Southwestern teammates in the Operation-Friendship game.

"We played them (Southwestern) in the summer league," said CC coach Bernie Holowicki, whose team is 16-2 overall. "They blitzed us, and he (Joubert) didn't play. But we're glad we're in it. It feels great."

Holowicki had reason to feel good about his team's dramatic comeback win over the Raiders before a noisy crowd of 4,557 at the University of Detroit's Calihan Hall.

The Shamrocks erased a 12-point halftime deficit with a late surge to give Holowicki his fourth Catholic League title.

Even with point-guard Stan Heath on the bench with five personal fouls late in the third quarter, CC made a rousing fourth-quarter surge behind the play of seniors Tom Malone, Mike Maleske, Bob Elwell and sophomore John McIntyre.

TRAILING BY nine points, CC finally got untracked when McIntyre hit a curbside jumper and Maleske followed with two free throws after a pushing call underneath — both scores coming with 5:42 to play.

CC then took the lead for good when Maleske added two more free throws a minute later (47-46). That was followed shortly after by Elwell's 15-foot jumper with 3:51 remaining.

The Shamrocks, although turning the ball over twice in the final minute of play, held on to win primarily because of free throw shooting. They were 10-of-10 down the stretch.

"CC made a real good adjustment in the second half," said Aquinas coach Ernie Price. "They did a good job of reversing the ball to get it into Maleske."

"We were in a valley, and they had the momentum. It came down to a couple of crucial plays."

MALESKE, A 6-6 senior, led Shamrocks with 15 points. McIntyre, despite a cold-shooting performance for three quarters, finished strong and added 14. Malone and Heath chipped in with 12 and 10, respectively.

"We used our 1-0 offense — power the ball into Mike," Holowicki said. "We got it in there three or four times and it gave us a lift."

"This is one of our best comebacks, especially for the type of game it was — a championship game. They got aroused, I thought, in the second half. This team has a lot of heart."

The Raiders, now 16-3 overall, frustrated CC in the first half by controlling the tempo with their slick ball handling, passing and shooting accuracy.

Guard Tony Goldson, a soft-shooting lefty, led Aquinas with 20 points. The Raiders' two other guards, Reggie Smith and Jeff Manolian, added 13 and 12, respectively.

"No. 11 (Smith) and No. 33 (Goldson) gave us fits," said Holowicki. "They went right through our press in the first half."

ON THURSDAY, CC was a slight underdog in its semifinal test against East Catholic but came away with an impressive 66-53 win behind McIntyre's 26 points, mostly from long range.

"We thought we might get blown out because we were afraid of their quickness and shooters," said Holowicki. "But we were able to control the boards and 'Maz' was really hot for us."

Maleske, who rebounded with authority, added 14 points. Heath, who played a fine floor game, and Kevin Kral, contributed 12 and 10, respectively.

Chargers end swim streak

Livonia Churchill's swimmers broke a hex last Thursday. And it couldn't have come at a better time.

The Chargers churned to a 75-52 victory over visiting Plymouth Canton, beating the Chiefs for the first time ever in dual meet competition and sewing up the Western Lakes Activities Association's (WLA) Western Division title at the same time.

Churchill (4-3 in the WLA) turned the trick by getting six first place finishes in individual events from three swimmers and by setting two school records. In all, the Chargers won eight events to three for Canton.

Eric Hutchison won a pair for the winners, lowering his own one-year-old school record of 1:04.6 in the 100-yard breaststroke to 1:03.9. Hutchison also captured the 100 butterfly (59.9) and swam on the school record-setting 200 medley relay team.

He teamed with the Baird brothers, Drew and Eric, and Vince Forment to take the medley relay in 1:46.5, breaking the old mark of 1:48.4 set in 1974.

THE BAIRD BROTHERS also won two events each for Churchill. Drew was first in the 200 individual medley (2:09.7) and 100 backstroke (59.9), while Eric was tops in the 50 (22.9) and 100 (50.6) freestyles.

Canton's John Simone dominated the distance freestyle events, winning both the 200 (1:51.6) and 500 (5:14.0). The Chiefs' only other winner was Craig Vanderburg in the diving (189.95 points).

Churchill's team of Scott Sabin, Brian Comstock, Vic Valente and Russ Bergendahl nipped the Canton foursome of Simone, John Aherns, Matt Krawzak and Jim Casler in the 400 free relay. The Churchill team was clocked in 3:40.4 to 3:40.5 for the Canton squad.

Churchill's Comstock took second twice to Simone in the 200 (1:59.4) and 500 (5:27.6) freestyles. Valente also had two seconds for the Chargers, losing narrowly in diving to Vanderburg (189.25 points) and helping Churchill gain a 1-2 sweep in the 50 free (24.1). John Hutchison had the Chargers only other second in a 1-2 sweep of the 100 back (1:00.5).

Joe McBratnie had two seconds for Canton in the 200 IM (2:13.3) and 100 breast (1:04.6). Others to take seconds for the Chiefs were Krawzak in the 100 fly (1:00.8), Glenn Plagens in the 100 free (55.1) and the team of Bob Lewelling, Jim Luce, Krawzak and Plagens in the 200 medley relay (1:49.3).

Next for both teams is the WLA conference championship meet at Plymouth Salem. Preliminaries start at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday, with finals slated to begin at 7 p.m. Friday.

Hunter shoots down playoff foe

Livonia Churchill displayed a balanced attack Friday night to beat host Walled Lake Central in the first round of the WLA basketball playoffs, 63-53.

The Chargers (11-7), who broke a three-game losing streak, met Livonia Stevenson Tuesday at home in a semifinal game.

Craig Hunter, a junior forward, paced the Chargers with 19 points. Three of his teammates were also in double figures — John Merner (17), John Grzybek (12) and Dave Riley (11).

Clark Bock notched 14 to lead Central. Tom Menard contributed 12 and Jim Kreutzer netted 10, all in the first quarter.

Steve Juodawikis threw in a 25-foot shot at the buzzer to end the first quarter, giving Churchill a 17-10 first-quarter advantage. The Chargers then stretched their halftime lead to 12 and rode home for the victory.

"This gets us back on the winning track," said Churchill coach Don Albertson. "It was a good time to get our intensity back."

"We started out in a man-to-man (defense) and it got the team popping around."

Bentley trips Spartans

By Paul King
special writer

Junior right-winger Paul Maderosian scored two goals and added one assist as Livonia Bentley surprised rival Livonia Stevenson, 5-3, in a Suburban Prep Hockey League (SPHL) finale before 750 fans Friday at Edgar Arena. Stevenson enters regional play 15-6-1 overall and 12-4 in the SPHL. Bentley is now 11-9-2 and 9-6-1. The Bulldogs carried a 2-0 lead through periods. Each team scored three goals in the final period, the last coming from Maderosian into an empty net. John LaDuke, Dave Lentz and Tom Anderson collect the other Bentley goals. Dave Cox countered with two power-play goals and an assist for Stevenson. John Phillips had the other Spartan goal.

CATHOLIC CENTRAL 5
TRENTON 4
Dave Morse left one of his skates at home, so his parents had to make the long drive to Trenton to complete the pair, and the trip was worthwhile Wednesday as they watched their son tally two goals in CC's victory. Trailing 4-2 going into the final period, CC closed the gap to 4-3 on a goal

hockey

by Scott Summers and tied the game on Morse's goal. Joe Hamway then scored the game-winner on a power play with 3:13 remaining, ruining Parent's night before 1,000 Trojan fans. Scott Bozyk (his first of the year) and Morse had the other CC goals. The win gives CC a 9-4-2 record in the West Division of Michigan Metro Hockey League. Trenton, meanwhile, dropped to 7-5-3. The Shamrocks and Trenton are 13-5-1 and 12-6-2, respectively, overall.

LIVONIA STEVENSON 2
ANN ARBOR PIONEER 2
Dave Cox scored twice as the Spartans earned a tie Wednesday at Michigan's Yost Arena. Stevenson goalies Darin Phillips and Phil Bryant combined to stop 24 Pioneer shots.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL 6
WYANDOTTE ROOSEVELT 4
The Chargers scored four times in the opening period and went on to register their third SPHL win of the season Wednesday in the first game of a double-header at Livonia's Edgar Arena. Chris Hanson, Todd Bollick, Kevin Gagnon, John Bartle, Rick Robitaille and John Jardine scored for the winners. Jardine also added two assists. Kevin Golovic and Craig Sawicki scored two goals each for Roosevelt. Churchill is now 3-11-2 and 5-15-2. Roosevelt's record fell to 6-8-2 and 10-9-2.

SOUTHFIELD 7
LIVONIA FRANKLIN 3
The Blue Jays wrapped up third place in the SPHL Wednesday at Edgar behind two goals and one assist from Rob Sarge. The win gives third-place Southfield its best record in seven years — 11-4-1 and 12-7-3. Franklin fell to 4-10-2 and 4-16-2. Southfield led only 2-1 after one period as Franklin goalie Mike Vasileo stopped 17 of 19 shots. The Patriots were still within a goal at the end of the second period, but Southfield exploded for four goals in the final period to put the game away. Rick Klimec, Ed Zajdel and John Chmielewski scored goals for Franklin. Scott Williams added two assists.

RU 2nd in NSL volleyball race

North Farmington captured the Northwest Suburban League (NSL) volleyball crown Thursday with a 15-4, 15-10 victory over Westland John Glenn. On Wednesday, the Raiders posted a 15-11, 15-4 win over host Redford Thurston. The victories by North, which finished 9-1 in NSL play, terminated Redford Union's hopes of gaining a tie for the league title.

RU, sparked by a solid defense, scored a 15-3, 18-16 triumph over Garden City to conclude NSL play Wednesday with an 8-2 ledger. RU coach Jim Gibbons turned to seniors Julie Barden, Amy Livsey, Kathy Storvis, Cathy Koski, Kim Warman and Janet Lowham for the win. Barden provided the major impetus in the first game, serving six points. Livsey came through with some strong hitting.

In the second game, junior Kellie Szabo came off the bench and served the final three points for the match.

"My whole team played real well in the first game," said Thurston coach Chris Wandyg, whose squad is 3-7 and 6-9 overall. "It's the best I've seen them play all season. We were good offensively, but we never got it going in the second game."

Despite the loss, Wandyg singled out the play of Carolyn Moran, who tossed out some effective serves in the opening game.

LIVONIA STEVENSON closed out play in the Western Lakes Athletic Association (WLA) with a 15-10, 15-7 triumph Thursday over host Walled Lake Central.

The Spartans, champs of the Lakes Division with a 12-1 record (20-5 overall), begin pre-district play Wednesday at Redford Thurston. The match begins at 7 p.m. Against Walled Lake, Stevenson's Bev Irwin served nine points, including the final two of the first game, then reeled off six straight in the second game to give Stevenson the easy win. Lisa Bokovoy, a 6-foot sophomore, played a key part in the win by hitting eight non-returnable spikes.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL clinched the Western Division of the WLA Wednesday with a 15-5, 15-10 win over Northville. The Chargers, 11-1 and 22-6-3 overall, close out their regular season Wednesday at home against Farmington Huron.

Coach Mike Hughes said an "excellent team defense" was the determining factor in the victory. "And both Teri Evans and Beth Wesman continued their fine hitting," Hughes said.

LIVONIA BENTLEY, sparked by a strong defense, defeated Plymouth Canton Thursday in a WLA match, 15-12, 4-15, 15-10.

The Bulldogs, 7-5 in WLA play, got rolling behind the play of setters Sue Pozan and Angela Porter.

"Our setters did a good job of controlling the offense," said Bentley coach Dana Hardwidge. "And Angela played one of the best games I've seen. She was all over the court."

Hardwidge was also pleased with the play of Debbie Siterlet, "who is really coming on as a hitter and is developing an aggressive back-court game."

$420 a month including heat and trees.
Some people move to Knob in the Woods for the location. Some come for the Olympic pool and the club house (complete with steam room and showers). Some come for the security, or the fact that we pay the heating bill. Some come for the reasonable rents (one-bedroom apartments start at just $420 a month). Come and see what you've found - set in this unique in-town forest.
