THE 31 employees of the Wayne-Westland school Rose Kennedy Respite Care Center were recalled from layoff, ending concern that the center, the only one of its kind in the area, would have to close.

That concern arose after funding problems from state and county mental health units arose during the early summer. But the district has received written confirmation that funding will continue to be provided.

The center provides a chance for families to leave handicapped relatives for up to two weeks knowing that they'll be well cared for while the family takes a brief holiday.

CASHING IN was the city of Westland recently to the tune of about $50,000. The money came from a bulk auction of coins, jewelry, silver and gold not claimed by owners. The cache was discovered during an investigation last year which also resulted in clearing up 30 breaking and entering cases.

Conducting the investigation were police officer Derek Delacourt and Assistant Fire Marshal Robert Perry. Aiding in the search and recovery of the items were sergeants Larry Squiers, Dale Hawkes, John Reddy, Hugh Carpenter, Donovan Huseman and Gerald Triltsch.

Hines Park slaying shocks neighborhood

By Margaret Neubacher
staff writer

Friends and neighbors of Rhonda Glover were shocked and saddened by the news of her murder last week.

Police began searching for the 16-year-old Garden City girl early Monday, Aug. 1, when her parents reported that she was missing.

Rhonda Glover

Her nude body was found by Garden City Police Thursday afternoon in a heavily wooded area of Hines Park in Westland. Police said she had been struck repeatedly on the head with a blunt instrument.

Her clothing and bicycle were found nearby. Family, friends and neighbors grew apprehensive during the week as police searched for the girl, but the news that she had been killed almost overwhelmed many of those who knew her.

"I've known her since she was a little girl," said a visibly shaken neighbor. "She was a quiet girl, very nice. Her family never bothers anyone. They mind their kids."

A 16-YEAR-OLD boy, who is being held in connection with Rhonda's death, led police to the body. The boy was on leave from Boys Republic in Farmington, a residential treatment center for troubled or problem youth, to visit his Garden City parents.

Police said he was an acquaintance of Rhonda. Police are attempting to have the boy tried for first-degree murder as an adult.

Although friends said they can't imagine how such a tragedy could have happened, several people close to the incident suggest she might have fallen in with the wrong crowd.

"It's the kind of thing that happens to everyone else. When it happens here, it really shakes you up," said a neighbor. Rhonda would have been a junior at Garden City High School this fall. Her former principal Mark Gutman, said that Rhonda had been in summer school and had just recently completed her driver's training course.

He said the girl was an outstanding student. "She was definitely college material. She had the potential for great success," Gutman said.

RHONDA LIVED with her family on Marquette. The family includes her parents Frank and Janet Glover, a younger brother, Todd, and a younger sister, Carrie.

The Glovers told police Rhonda was last seen leaving her house about 5:30 p.m. Sunday on her way to see a boyfriend.

Police think Rhonda may have met the 16-year-old suspect and been killed Sunday night.

Rhonda's body was badly decomposed when found, said Westland police Sgt. Emery Price. The body was identified through dental records.

Westland police, who are handling the joint investigation with Garden City police, were awaiting the results of an autopsy to determine the cause of death and whether she had been sexually molested.

The section of Hines Park where the body was found is in Westland between Merriman and Middlebelt roads. The area is just northeast of the Riverbend Apartments.

SGT. PRICE said that it may be some time — up to a year — before it is decided whether the 16-year-old can be tried as an adult.

He said the youth may have to be evaluated by psychiatrists and social workers before juvenile division of probate court will decide whether to waive authority.

Price said the boy told officials at Boys Republic that he had discovered a body and officials notified police.

Mark Sperling, director of professional services at Boys Republic, said the 16-year-old had been placed in the home by the Wayne County Department of Social Services about two years ago.

He said the boy had been granted home visits during the past two years and was on such a pass last week.

Sperling added that the youth was a status offender, which means he was disobedient or incorrigible but not delinquent. He said the boy was a management problem for his parents, but that there was no indication that he had ever been violent in the past.

During the past few weeks, it has been Kitty's thrill to visit her longtime friend in Canton. She and her husband, Peter, have been staying in the spacious Theodore home in the Pilgrim Hills subdivision off Napier in north-west Canton. (The Theodores formerly lived in Westland.)

"It's a lovely experience," Kitty said. "It has been more or less a lifetime dream to come to America."

The only other time the friends have met was during a brief visit 10 years ago at Kitty's home near London.

Lu's husband, Chris, a physical education teacher in the Wayne-Westland School District, busts himself with kitchen chores while Lu and Kitty talk about their friendship with a reporter.

IT'S EVIDENT these women cherish their friendship. Why has it endured? "The love of each other, I suppose," Kitty said. "There is something special there. We have grown up together."

"We both had humble beginnings," Lu added. "My family got Goodfellow packages and hand-me-down clothes. We're both family-oriented."

Like many other English children, Kitty and her sister were evacuated to the countryside during World War II to escape bombings. Earlier plans to come to the United States were dropped when a passenger ship was torpedoed in the Atlantic.

The two women were introduced, so to speak, by a mutual acquaintance who had served in England during the war. The women — around 15 at the time — exchanged letters about boys, movies and songs.

Both married young, Lu at 18 and Kitty at 20.

"Honestly, Kitty, I was so glad to hear you were getting married, so you and Pete could be as happy as Chris and myself," exclaimed Lu in a 1951 letter.

MOTHERHOOD KEPT the women busy. Kitty worked as a seamstress. Lu, a self-described "late bloomer," obtained a teaching certificate and began teaching business courses at Kennedy High School in Taylor. Lu's letters and beautiful, hand-painted Christmas cards were full of apologies for not writing more often.

"We're going to meet, and that's all that matters," Kitty wrote in 1971, reflecting the hopes of both women.

The chance came about 10 years ago, when Lu accompanied her mother on a trip to Europe. The two friends nourished their friendship during a six-day visit at Kitty's home.

The current trip has been even better, because the pair has had more time together, visiting Lu's neighbors and friends and touring the area. Lu and her husband, Chris, threw a Hawaiian-style luau party for their British guests.

"Everyone's been so friendly," Kitty said. "It's been wonderful."

Following a trip to Disney World, Kitty and Peter will board a plane for London.

One thing is certain: The friendship between Kitty and Lu is stronger than ever.

Pen pals Kitty Morley (left), London, England, and Lu Theodore of Canton have strengthened their friendship by corresponding for 36 years. The two are enjoying only their second face-to-face visit together in Canton this month.

Through the years Pen pals' friendship spans time

By Ariene Funke
staff writer

Lu Theodore and Kitty Morley have been friends for 36 years, but they've been in each other's company only a few times.

Theodore, a Canton resident, and Morley, who lives near London, England, became "pen pals" when both were teens, just after World War II.

The friendship stuck, overcoming time, distance and change. Through their letters, they have shared the joys of love, marriage and children. They have fretted over health and economic turns.

Council to review hook-up clause in cable ordinance

A section of Westland's cable television ordinance ran into some static at last Monday's meeting of the Westland City Council.

After two members of the audience charged that a section of the ordinance dealing with universal cable connection was endangering privacy, Councilman Ben DeHart said the issue will be put on the agenda for the next council meeting.

The disputed part of the ordinance, Section 8.13, says the city "may require that all dwelling units within the franchise area shall be connected physically to the cable system . . . by means of drop cables terminating at each dwelling unit, whether or not the dwelling unit's occupants desire to subscribe to cable service."

"This is something that treads on privacy," Chuck Pickett of Ledgecliff said.

"I have no interest in cable," Julius Street resident Dorothy Smith said. "That (section of the ordinance) is nothing but 'Big Brother.' Next your telephone's going to be tapped. I don't want it."

BUT THE SECTION doesn't call for a definite mandatory hookup, City Planner Dale Farland said.

"It lets the cable companies know that we might be interested, during the 15-year franchise, that we might be doing a universal hookup," she said. "We may want to do water meter readings by cable. It doesn't mean we want mandatory hookup or that it will take place."

"Just as five years ago it was hard to imagine there would be so many computers in people's homes today, we can't imagine years from now that it may become economically feasible and practical to do water meter readings by cable," Farland added.

Other communities have similar sections in their cable ordinances, including an Oakland County cable consortium of 11-13 communities, Farland said. She said Carl Plinick, Westland's cable consultant, recommended the section.

"I wouldn't think that we would be the first ones (to have the section)," Farland said.

Westland was one of the first communities to consider cable television. A proposal for a city-owned system, however, was defeated at the polls. One of the issues at the time was whether cable TV hook-ups for such things as meter reading, health and safety provisions would be mandatory.

Cardinal will be building wood-framed modules for the new Westland apartment complex in the controlled conditions of its Columbus, Ohio factories.

Ground broken for modular apartments

Ground is being broken for a unique modular apartment community on Hunter Road near Yale in Westland. The development, Ridgewood Apartments, will consist of 40 one-bedroom, eight two-bedroom, two two-bedroom/two-bath and six studio apartments.

While on site preparations are being made, Cardinal Industries Inc. is constructing the apartments in its modular housing manufacturing facility, one of the largest in the country, in Columbus, Ohio. Cardinal constructs 12-by-24 foot modules in a controlled environment, where production is standardized. By moving construction indoors, delays such as poor weather and material shortages are eliminated, construction financing time is reduced and the quality of workmanship and materials is closely monitored.

Continued refinement through the use of new technology, as well as our unique standardized manufacturing method has enabled us to construct more than 50,000 modules since 1954," said Austin Guiringer, company founder and president. "STANDARDIZED manufacturing has enabled us to channel our efforts into managing other aspects of the product. For example, we have in-house land acquisition, property management, marketing, mortgage finance, engineering and investment sales departments."

company is the largest manufacturer of multi-family housing, as well as the 14th largest builder overall. The module has several applications and is used to develop apartments, Knights Inn motels, condominiums, single family homes, Cardinal Village congregate communities and offices. The apartment management division operates more than 18,000 apartments with an occupancy rate of 96 percent overall.

Big spenders finish on top in school elections

By Robert Downes staff writer

Spending big on a political campaign is almost a guarantee of victory, as demonstrated by how much Livonia Board of Education candidates spent on the June 13 election. Three candidates who spent more than $2,000 apiece to bring their names before voters via signs, bumper stickers and advertisements were winners in the election. The two candidates who spent less than $500 each on the race finished last.

same figure, $2,083, recorded as contributions. She finished first in the race for the two four-year board seats with 2,928 votes. Cameron spent $2,025 on his campaign, with $1,990 received in contributions. He won the second four-year seat with 2,807 votes. Those who spent less than $2,000 included William Fried, who had $711 in expenses paid by $980 in contributions. The fifth place spender finished third in the race for the four-year board seats with 1,800 votes. Last place spenders included John Rarog and Rocky Suhayda. Since neither had expenses or contributions over $500, no records were required by the election commission's office. Rarog finished last in the election for the four-year seats with 1,021 votes, and Suhayda finished last in the race for the two-year seat with 233 votes.

According to campaign expense statements kept by the Wayne County Election Commission, the biggest spender in the school election was Patricia Sari, a newcomer who edged out incumbent Richard Belaire for a two-year seat on the board. Sari, who finished with 2,304 votes, spent a total of $2,643 on her campaign, backed by contributions totaling $2,674. Like most other candidates' monies, Sari's campaign funds paid for items such as signs, postage, printing, advertising and a fund-raiser party.

ON THE WHOLE, contributors to each candidate's campaign appeared to be individual friends and supporters. A notable exception was the donation of $200 apiece to three candidates from the Livonia Education Association of Administrators and Supervisors. The association supported the three incumbent candidates, Belaire, Strom and Cameron. Fund-raising cocktail parties played a substantial part in raising contributions for five candidates. Strom had the most success: Her party cost $250 and raised $1,655 in donations. Of the other candidates, Cameron's party cost $267 and raised $1,225; Belaire's party cost $192 and raised $1,115; Fried's party cost $228 and raised $830; and Sari's party cost $152 and raised $455.

Sari said she didn't set out to spend a lot on her campaign, but was forced to spend more because of minimum order requirements on items such as campaign signs. She had to pay for 250 yard signs and 100 street signs, even though she didn't use all of them. "It would have been less (of an expense), but not having run my own campaign before, I think I spent more. It was a learning experience," she said. She felt that the $500 she spent in signs and the many post cards she sent out aided her by providing greater name recognition with voters. She added that it was even more important to get out and meet voters. "I believe in meeting people on a one-to-one basis. I did a lot of knocking on doors and lots of talking," she said.

Candidate Fried, one of those who spent a moderate amount on his campaign, said he didn't believe that big spending made a substantial difference in how the election turned out. "I don't really think so," he said. "I would love to have an unlimited budget for expenses, but I have to play it close to the vest."

SPENDING A large sum of money doesn't always ensure results, however, as was the case with candidate Belaire. Although an incumbent and the second biggest spender in the race, Belaire failed to retain his board seat as he lost to Sari.

A man who has run twice for school board posts, Fried said that extra money may help in boosting name recognition for candidates, but felt the real secret to winning is to court the relatively few voters who turn out for school board elections.

Overall, Belaire spent $2,144 on his campaign, with $2,227 taken in as contributions. He garnered 2,030 votes in the election.

DRIFTING TEETH
After you've had a tooth extracted, you may think your other teeth will stay right where they are, but that's not likely to happen. As soon as a gap is created in your mouth, the other teeth are prone to drifting, especially the teeth closest to the gap. This can cause some serious dental problems, including eventual loss of teeth.
When you have a missing tooth, there is a natural tendency for the teeth on either side of the gap to drift toward each other. This may happen so slowly and imperceptibly that you don't realize it's happening at first. With the drifting, open contact areas are created where food will collect, causing tooth decay. This can also cause gum infection and bone loss problems.
The drifting also throws your other teeth out of alignment, resulting in malocclusion or improper bite. This will decrease your chewing efficiency and put abnormal strain on your remaining teeth. Sometimes this results in jaw joint pain. If you have a missing tooth, you should ask your dentist what he would recommend to replace it.

Board names first woman as principal at secondary school

Susan E. Johnson will be the first woman to be a secondary school principal in the Wayne-Westland district. The board last Monday approved her appointment to the post at Franklin Junior High School, 33555 Annapolis in Wayne.

There were six applicants for the position. Superintendent Timothy Dyer noted that other women had been offered jobs as secondary school principals, but Johnson was the first to accept. In recommending her appointment to the board, Dyer said that Johnson would bring to the job "qualities of intellect, interpersonal relations and curriculum leadership."

Johnson, 36, replaces Douglas Pretty who was named executive director of employee relations. She has been an assistant principal at Franklin since July 1980.

Johnson served as a science and math teacher at Franklin for seven years after she joined the district in 1970. She later served dual roles as counselor and science teacher.

A summa cum laude graduate of Western Michigan University where she majored in biology and earth science, Johnson also holds a master's degree from Eastern Michigan University.

In other action, the board approved the sale of 6.44 acres of land south and west of Edison Elementary School for $150,000.

Housing and Finance Associates Inc. purchased the land to build another senior citizen high rise apartment similar to Westgate Towers south of the school.

The project will require a mortgage loan from the Michigan State Housing Development Authority which is expected to take about a year to obtain.

District officials are getting an opinion as to whether the purchase proceeds must be applied to the debt still owed on Edison School. Board members also have asked for a review of policy as to whether any money from the sale of property is placed in the general fund.

Judge denies immunity in trial

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Former Westland resident Louis Perry, charged with giving false testimony to a grand jury, is expected to testify for the defense Monday as the trial of 18th District Judge Evan Callanan Sr., his son and two other men resumes in U.S. District Court.

Nick Smith, Callanan Sr.'s defense attorney, will continue his presentation Monday. The judge, his son, Evan Callanan Jr., Richard Debs, president of UAW Local 1776, and Sam Qaoud, a Dearborn Heights businessman, are charged with case-fixing in the 18th District Court.

Government attorneys rested their case last Friday, after five weeks of testimony. Much of the prosecution's evidence consisted of recordings of conversations between the defendants and FBI agents or government informant Hanna Judeh.

Judeh was charged with third degree criminal sexual conduct in a case involving a mentally retarded 14-year-old girl and sentenced to three years probation by Judge Callanan in 1981. The government contends that Judeh's case was one of those fixed by the defendants.

U.S. DISTRICT Judge Horace Gilmore ruled last Friday that he has no power to grant Perry immunity from prosecution on a motion from the defense. Gilmore said he could only rule on such a motion if it came from the U.S. attorney's office, with previous approval from the assistant attorney general in the criminal division.

Also last Friday, Gilmore denied motions from defense attorneys for a directed verdict of acquittal on some of the charges against the four defendants.

The first of eight counts in the case charges that the four conspired with criminal intent and can be found guilty under a federal Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations (RICO) statute. A second count charges that the four men were involved in a scheme to fix criminal cases in the court in return for money.

The third through sixth counts charge the defendants with mail fraud. Debs and the younger Callanan are charged with obstruction of justice in the seventh count. Callanan Jr. is charged with giving false testimony in the final count.

CONCERNING the false testimony charge against Callanan Jr., his attorney, Deday Larene, argued that some of the questions asked before the grand jury in July 1982 weren't material to the case. Recordings dealing with those questions were available to the grand jury, Larene said.

The transcript of the younger Callanan's grand jury testimony was read aloud to the U.S. District Court jury last Friday by assistant U.S. attorneys Sheldon Light and Joseph Papellian. In the testimony, Callanan Jr. denied that he discussed the criminal sexual conduct charge against Judeh with Judge Callanan and that he told Judeh, Debs, Qaoud and Barbara Miller, a lawyer in his law firm, that he would discuss the charge with his father.

Gilmore responded that all the questions were material. He said that if Callanan Jr. had given an affirmative answer, it would have given the grand jury an opportunity to pursue the matter further.

RESPONDING to arguments from defense attorneys regarding the obstruction of justice charge, Papellian referred to a recording made in August 1982 in which, he said, Callanan Jr. was concerned with more than legal rights when he told Judeh not to sign a waiver that would give the FBI access to Judeh's attorney and psychiatrist files in its investigation.

In the recording, Callanan Jr. told Judeh "you better not be f--- with my old man," and that he would "feel a whole lot better" if Judeh stayed quiet in the FBI investigation, Papellian said. Papellian also referred to testimony that in July 1982, Debs drove Judeh to his UAW office at speeds of approximately 80 miles per hour and frisked Judeh for a recording device or weapon, and that Debs told Judeh not to cooperate with the FBI and not to tell them Judeh paid money to Judge Callanan to fix another case. Judeh allegedly paid the judge $1,500.

STATE SEN. William Faust, who chaired Callanan Sr.'s 1982 re-election campaign, testified last Friday that the judge raised from $12,000 to $13,000 at a fund-raiser in April 1982. After the June filing deadline passed and no other candidates entered the judge's race, a "thank you" party was held for campaign supporters and workers and the rest of the money from the sale of the fund-raiser tickets was returned, Faust said.

Faust's testimony was to show that ticket sales were going on at the time Judeh allegedly paid Callanan Sr. the $1,500, Smith explained after court was adjourned for the day. Smith said that such tickets would have been an easy way for the judge to conceal a payoff, if one was made.

But under cross examination by Papellian, Faust told the court a "substantial portion" of the contributors turned their money for Callanan's campaign over to Faust's fund.

THAWING OUT

For many of you with arthritis, the hardest part of the day is the morning. Then you must "thaw out," overcome the stiffness that has made your body feel it is encased in a block of ice.

You probably know from experience that the best treatment is heat. A hot shower or paraffin wax applications are the usual ways of bringing warmth to stiffened joints. Taking your medicine earlier in the morning is another good strategy. That enables the medication to be active in your body at the time of arising.

Also of importance is planning your day. If possible, minimize morning obligations and keep your work week to 5 days or less. You need the weekend free for extra rest.

If morning stiffness continues to be a problem, discuss the matter with your doctor. Often it is possible to make changes in your medicine or daily responsibilities that will hasten the process of "thawing out."

Suburbs give up

Super sewer is down the drain

By Gary M. Cates
staff writer

Plans to build the $298-million Supersewer system could be all over except for the burial.

Last week 10 of the 14 Supersewer communities voted to ask the Wayne County Department of Public Works to amend its grant application to provide for a scaled down version of Supersewer, which excludes the northwestern suburbs.

The so-called "split system" proposes an expansion of sewer lines to the Detroit treatment plant to handle sewage increases from the northwestern suburbs.

The vote to request the split system came during Thursday's meeting of the Huron Valley Wastewater Control System (Supersewer) Rate Review Committee.

Included in the four communities which voted no, or abstained from voting, were Plymouth and Canton townships. The split system drew the support of the southern tier of western Wayne County — communities which are included in the scaled-down Supersewer plan.

SUPERSEWER'S DEMISE began recently when the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) voiced objections to the size of the system and the possible effects it could have on Detroit's treatment plant.

The northern suburbs are tied into the Detroit sewage system and Detroit officials argue that the current contracts to treat the sewage are exclusive.

'At the end it all became very political and apparently somebody in Lansing owed Detroit a favor.'

—Rep. Gerald Law
R-Plymouth Township

In what some are calling a political bail-out, the DNR has supported the split and said it will guarantee grants to construct additional sewage lines from the northern area to the Detroit plant.

"At the end it all became very political and apparently somebody in Lansing owed Detroit a favor," said state Representative Gerald Law (R-Plymouth Township).

"I'm very interested in finding out how the northern communities stand on Supersewer," Law said last week.

He plans to look into the issue this week to determine if Supersewer is actually "dead" and how the northern communities are supposed to handle increased sewage in the future.

Law plans to talk with DNR officials about financing sewer lines to Detroit.

"I HAVE BEEN verbally assured that the DNR has applied for, and received a grant for, up to $500,000 to evaluate and design parallel interceptors (sewage lines) to Detroit," said Plymouth Township Supervisor Maurice Breen.

That verbal assurance came from Richard Hinshon, acting chief of the DNR's community assistance division, Breen said. Hinshon was unavailable for comment Friday.

The $500,000 grant represents 5 percent of the anticipated cost for construction of the Detroit sewage lines.

"I was told a worst-possible-case cost study was done to determine the construction costs. They said the worst case was $100 million. I tried to get copies of their study, but couldn't get them," Breen said.

However, excluding the northern communities from Supersewer won't be that easy, according to Breen and Canton Supervisor James Poole.

Those two communities want the Supersewer engineering and planning study money refunded — $600,000 for Canton and $275,000 for Plymouth Township.

"They got over $600,000 of our money into the planning. If they think I'm going to build an outhouse for them, they're wrong," Poole said.

He said he believes the DNR has completely changed its tune in regards to Supersewer. Both Plymouth and Canton townships have DNR letters on file which support Supersewer and threaten to cut off development in the communities if they don't participate in the project.

"NOW THEY'RE telling me that it is $10 million cheaper to go to Detroit. I didn't have to spend $600,000 to find out what the DNR just told me," Poole said.

"I will try to get the $600,000 back. If I didn't try I wouldn't be doing my job — even if it means that none of these southern communities get a sewer," he said.

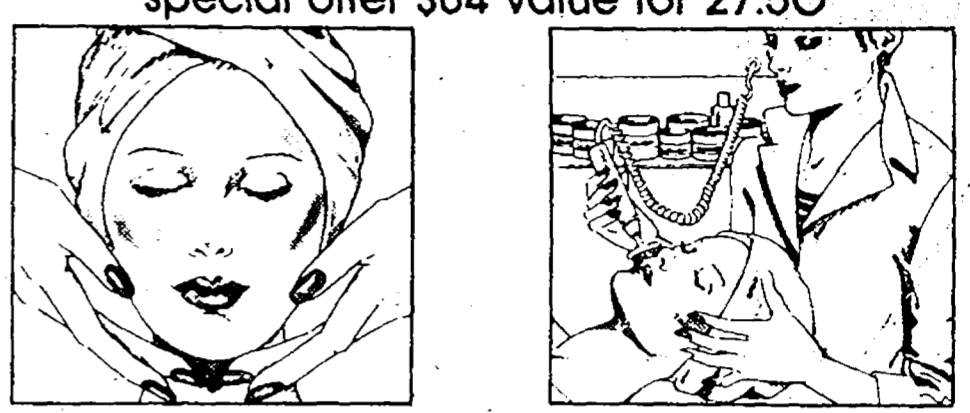

"I said give me my money back or give me a credit with the Detroit system so I don't have to pay another $600,000 for engineering studies with them."

Likewise, Breen said his community would expect reimbursement for the engineering studies.

"I told them I didn't plan to put any more money into planning another system," Breen said. "We still feel they wasted a lot of money along the way."

Seniors need a bigger facility

To the editor:

On May 17 a special meeting was called of the advisory council, commission on aging, budget task force committee with club presidents, a representative of the council and the mayor's office attending. The meeting was called based on information provided to the commission chairman, Paul Plante, from U.S. Rep. William D. Ford's office.

A motion was passed to petition council to consider, under the "jobs bill" program passed by Congress, an expansion program for the Friendship Center. At a regular commission on aging meeting, a motion was passed for me to represent the seniors in this presentation.

ACCORDING to the state office on aging, statistics show that in the next decade, Michigan's population will shift so that one out of six residents will be 60 years of age or older. Currently, the following statistics are true for the state and Westland areas: 1.3 million seniors statewide and, in our region 1C, 130,000 seniors. Westland has a total population of 84,603. Of that number 8,685 are senior citizens.

These statistics do not include early retirees or widows between the ages of 50 and 60 who are in need of programs and services provided by our department on aging.

Current and future retirees are healthier and better educated than past generations of retirees. Consequently, they need more creative programs to meet their needs. While card playing and bingo still have a place in a senior program, they can no longer be the main part of the program.

As you are well aware, the city of Westland, through its department on aging and other public agencies, has been a leader in providing quality programs and services to its elderly residents. To continue to provide these services to current and future retirees, we must begin planning today.

THE SENIOR center is the focal point of activities and services. Therefore, the center must be adequate in size and functions to meet the growing needs of our senior population. Neither the present facilities of the Friendship Center, nor any of the other community buildings, are adequate to meet long-range planning goals for seniors.

In 1977 when the department on aging was formed to meet the growing needs of Westland's elderly, the Friendship Center building was adequate. Now, however, due to the tremendous participation level, the present building has outlived its usefulness. In order to provide services to large numbers of seniors, the staff must go to other community groups for assistance. This causes problems in planning and supervision of the activities.

For example, in order to meet the educational needs of the seniors, classes have to be held in five different locations. They are the Bailey Center, Whittier School, Westland Mall, Nankin Mills and the Friendship Center.

In addition, because of the overcrowded conditions that currently exist, we have found that many of our seniors feel cramped, pushed in corners and are reluctant to return.

WE HAVE received estimates from a local architect on the renovation we are requesting. Projections range from $30 per square foot to $75 per square foot. These estimates vary, depending on the type of work to be done. A letter from Robert Seymour outlines four different plans and ball park costs for each plan.

May we thank Mr. Seymour for his help with these plans, which he furnished at no expense to the seniors?

Based on this information, we are requesting that the council and the administration take a long, hard look at this proposal and to use the "jobs bill" and community development funds to accomplish this.

This program, like all programs, will not be accepted by all people, but any program worth having is worth working to attain. This program is worth consideration because it will benefit not only senior citizens but every resident of Westland.

Your thoughts may not include yourself, but they should, for you are not far from this day.

Howard Waldrop, representative
Westland Commission on Aging and Senior Citizens Advisory Council

Luchewski refutes remarks in article

To the editor:

I feel that it is my duty, as a resident of the city of Westland as well as a senior citizen, to retallate to the article that appeared on the front page of the Westland Observer, Monday, Aug. 1, titled, "Group Studies Senior Center expansion."

I totally resent the remarks made that, I quote, "Howard Waldrop and Margaret Luchewski both of whom are in disfavor with the mayor." I know the reason for this is because I took the opportunity to keep the four people who were dismissed from the Commission on Aging by the mayor and gave them an opportunity to be active on a special committee on the Senior Citizens Advisory Council, which according to our bylaws is permissible. We felt to keep them active and continuing with their concerns and efforts would be an asset to our Westland senior population that will continue to grow.

I also resent the remark that, "I am president of another such group called the Senior Citizens Advisory Council." To be called "another such group" is belittling. We are human beings and part of society. The city of Westland Ordinance "Establishment of Advisory Council" reads, "purpose: an Advisory Council shall be created to assist, suggest, recommend and advise the Commission on Aging on matters relating to the enrichment on matters of the lives of aging citizens."

I only have the interest and needs of the senior citizens in this city, not a popularity contest.

MAYOR CHARLES Pickering certainly is not one of my favorite persons either. He would care less about the seniors in this city. He has fought us all the way on other issues as well, and I sincerely feel that we are being used for "political footballs." I feel also that the mayor is being very unfair in this particular issue.

No. 1, he has had nothing but negative remarks about anything pertaining to the betterment of this particular group of citizens. I strongly feel that he is interested in closing the Friendship Center altogether and pooling the seniors in with the Department of Parks and Recreation, and he will do his level best to group us in a corner of the Bailey Center. Quality senior service centers are what all cities are striving for to get state and federal funding, etc. Senior citizens programs were in the recreation 10 years ago, but we are far too advanced at this point in time.

As a matter of clarification, the Bailey Center is for the youth in our community, as it should be. The building is not properly laid out for the older adults, who have too many programs and services for the center to be able to accommodate the senior population adequately for comprehensive programs. The seniors do not want to be "lumped in" with any other group.

All we are asking for is our own facility, centrally located, where we can function properly and take care of our own needs. The city council already has given their support and approval to allocating federal community development funds for this purpose.

IF ANY concerned member of this community would care to check out this situation they can make a visit to the Friendship Center, and they will realize that the seniors in Westland will have outgrown this facility in years to come; the number will be increasing, according to statistics. We truly need a building to meet the present as well as the future needs of our elderly population.

I am happy to be serving on this community to study this forthcoming expansion, and I will endeavor to do my best to keep the goals and priorities of the seniors in mind and the people of community as well.

As far as the remarks made by the mayor, "One of my major concerns is that (the expansion) will be in conflict with what we have at the Wayne-Westland Community School District and the Department on Aging through the adult extension program work very closely to keep away from duplication of efforts."

The city of Westland's Department On Aging does comprehensive programming for seniors of Westland only, and the Wayne-Westland School District services the metropolitan area doing recreational, educational, and social activities.

Programs at the Bailey Building for older adults, are planned by the department itself. I have no idea what other private facilities has reference to.

I AM REALLY astonished that the remarks were made that I recently had been honored as the statewide senior of the year for leadership. That has nothing whatsoever to do with the issue on hand, however, I feel that this honor was bestowed on me for my work and concern for our elderly.

As far as Howard Waldrop is concerned, he has worked also for the advancement of the senior program, and due to his objections regarding the Rowe House he was dismissed from years of service to the Commission on Aging. We have noted, however, since this was made an issue, after three years of laying dormant, action is being taken all of a sudden to complete what should have been done three years ago. This particular item has been an eyesore much too long to our community.

Mayor Pickering may be justified in not reappointing the four commissioners, which according to the city charter is his privilege as mayor. It is sad that our mayor cannot look at the good things that can be developed for the whole community for his expansion, especially since he stated he would not fight it and asked for the support of the commission on aging, and then he turns around and shows nothing but being negative on the front page of the Observer.

It also states that five of the 11 members represent "other age groups than senior citizens." Perhaps the younger group will be trained and educated to know and learn what the process of aging is all about.

The old cliché saying "you can't fight city hall" is untrue. You can, and I will, as far as our seniors are concerned.

Margaret Luchewski
president
Westland Advisory Council

Are candidates running scared?

To the editor:

I received a copy of a flyer from a friend, which was apparently mailed to selected individuals in Westland. It was headlined, "Wanted - citizens who are interested in Westland's future - that's you." It was billed as "Westland's first mini convention." It said, "We want to know first-hand from your concerns." The flyer announced the time and place at the Forum Racquet Club on July 17, 1983.

It gave the appearance that all concerned citizens were invited to their meeting. It was signed, "Robert Wagner and A. Kent Herbert for the city council members."

When my wife and I arrived for the meeting, we were told by Councilman Herbert and Glen Shaw, former city assessor, that only invited guests were allowed. Four other citizens also came to the meeting and were also denied entry because they were told that it was not open to the public.

Those citizens who were turned away frequently attend the Westland Council meetings, and, being concerned about city affairs, stood about in front of the building discussing various things.

It was only a matter of three or four minutes, when two Westland police cars arrived. The police went inside, came out and ordered us (six citizens) off the property, including the parking lot. The police said the party that rented the meeting room was having a private affair and did not want us, and that the owner of the business wanted us off the premises or we would be considered trespassing.

What are they afraid of? A handful of citizens can't be so threatening that they have to call the police. Do they have something to hide? It seems like the old council candidates are running scared.

Woodward subway is dead — Pursell

By Tim Richard
staff writer

"Additionally, the committee continues to have reservations about the underground portion of the plan and suggests that this portion be reconsidered."

The death knell for an underground light rail line in the Woodward Avenue corridor was sounded last week in a congressional report on a $10.9-billion transportation budget bill.

"That's my point of view," said U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, a longtime advocate of public transportation who has soured on the subway idea of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

"It's just not in the cards. We're not funding a subway in the nation. Absolutely none. Anybody in southeastern Michigan who thinks we're going to fund a subway is whistling 'Dixie,'" Pursell said.

DRESSED in tennis garb as he prepared to start a vacation, Pursell told of the political buzz that ran into on the transportation subcommittee of the powerful House Appropriations Committee.

House and Senate conferees last week agreed on $45 million for a downtown Detroit people mover. The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority plans to break ground in September for the $134-million rail loop through downtown Detroit.

"I've produced more money for that agency (SEMTA) than (Presidents) Nixon, Ford and Carter and (Detroit Mayor) Young combined," the fourth-term congressman said.

But the appropriations committee won't consider putting any new projects underground because of budget constraints. Only renovations to existing subways will be considered.

Significantly, the people mover will require no local match construction money. It will be entirely federally funded as a demonstration grant. That proviso got Pursell some flak from a member of the Texas delegation, who asked: "Why does Detroit get this without local match?"

THERE'S STIFF competition for funds from the federal government, which provides 80 percent of the capital money for public transit.

"A lot of western and southern cities are getting interested in mass transit — would you believe that?" Pursell said.

But the appropriations committee won't consider putting any new projects underground because of budget constraints, he said. Only renovations to existing subways will be considered.

"The federal deficit is staggering," said Pursell, adding that he and other Republican leaders intend to approach President Reagan on the topic.

SEMTA's 1980 regional transportation plan calls for a 26-mile rail line in the Woodward corridor from Detroit to Pontiac, with four miles of it underground. The underground segment was about half the length of an earlier version of the 1990 plan.

THE CONGRESSIONAL budget report continued to put SEMTA under orders to assure a local source of operating funds before any major capital appropriation will be made in Washington. The bill containing the people mover money also contains these two provisos:

• "No funds will be made available for the proposed Woodward light rail line in the Detroit, Michigan area until a source of operating funds has been approved in accordance with Michigan law.

• "The Woodward line restriction shall not apply to alternatives analysis studies" — a clear indication that a surface rail or all-bus system would be more favorably received.

The Woodward line would absorb the bulk of a $2-billion capital program which SEMTA has under consideration.

'We're not funding a subway in the nation. Absolutely none. Anybody in southeastern Michigan who thinks we're going to fund a subway is whistling "Dixie,"

Menus For Easy Summer Living

It's summer and a time for relaxed barbecue dinners shared with friends in the pleasant surroundings of your patio or garden. Summer is also the natural time for an easy, informal approach to menu planning. It's a time for meals that are satisfying, yet light. And, whenever possible, it's a time to feature dishes that can be readied in advance.

Alaska seafoods and crisp, naturally-sweet Golden Delicious apples meet in two especially appealing summertime menus that are sure to delight guests and make entertaining a joy for the cook.

As a wonderful introduction to summer meals, tempt your guests with succulent Alaska Snow crab in the shell. The crab is simply thawed, then the clusters broken into sections, scored for easier eating and arranged on a bed of ice. Accompany the crab clusters with zesty Red Hot Dipping Sauce and be sure to include lots of napkins and small forks for removing the meat. Another time, serve Snow Crab Avocado Dip with crisp crackers or assorted raw vegetables.

Alaska salmon is a perfect choice for the outdoor grill as barbecuing enhances the rich, yet delicate, flavor of this treasured seafood. The salmon steaks featured here are marinated first in a tangy mustard sauce, then grilled just until the colorful flesh flakes when tested with a fork. For a larger group, a whole salmon or salmon roast is also a wonderful selection for the barbecue. Fortunately for sleek silvery salmon from the icy waters off the coast of Alaska coincides with summer barbecue season.

Golden Apple Rice Salad makes a wonderful choice to serve with the seafoods. Prepared in advance, it combines cooked rice with crisp chopped Golden Delicious apples, crunchy peanuts, raisins and a pungent curry dressing. Pretty Golden Delicious apple wedges are the perfect garnish for this salad because they resist darkening better than other apple varieties. Another time, feature tender-skinned Golden Delicious apples in a fashionable pasta salad. Or enjoy them out-of-hand, as the perfect refresher following a day in the sun.

ALASKA SNOW CRAB WITH RED HOT DIPPING SAUCE

- 3/4 cup chili sauce or catsup
- 4 teaspoons lemon juice
- 2 to 3 teaspoons prepared horseradish
- 1 teaspoon each Worcestershire sauce and grated onion
- 1/8 teaspoon bottled hot pepper sauce
- Dash sugar
- 2 pounds Alaska Snow crab clusters, thawed if necessary

Combine all ingredients except Snow crab; let stand at least one hour to blend flavors. Rinse crab under cool water. Cut crab into serving-sized pieces. Score backs of leg sections using large heavy knife or slit with kitchen shears. Refrigerate until served. Makes 6 appetizer servings.

Tip: Serve with small forks to remove crab.

MUSTARD-MARINATED ALASKA SALMON

- 1/4 cup each oil, white wine and lemon or lime juice
- 3 tablespoons each hot mustard and minced onion
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/8 teaspoon each salt and pepper
- 6 (about 6 oz. each) Alaska salmon steaks, thawed if necessary

Combine all ingredients except salmon in large shallow dish. Turn salmon in mustard mixture to coat both sides. Marinate in refrigerator 3 hours; turn once after 1-1/2 hours. Place salmon on barbecue grill. Brush with marinade; barbecue 4 minutes. Turn salmon; brush with marinade. Barbecue a total of 10 minutes per inch of thickness or until salmon flakes easily when tested with a fork. Makes 6 servings.

GOLDEN APPLE RICE SALAD

- 3 cups cooked rice
- 1/3 cup oil
- 1/4 cup lime or lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/2 teaspoon chili powder
- 3 Golden Delicious apples
- 1/4 cup each salted peanuts, golden or regular raisins and chopped green onion
- Salt and pepper

Combine hot rice with oil, lime juice, curry powder and chili powder; chill. Core and chop 2 apples; add to rice mixture with peanuts, raisins, onion and salt and pepper to taste. Core and wedge remaining apple; garnish salad with apple wedges. Makes about 6 servings.

CRAB AVOCADO DIP (Not Shown)

- 6 to 8 ounces Alaska Snow crab meat*, thawed if necessary
- 1 avocado, peeled and diced
- 1 tablespoon each lime juice and grated onion
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup dairy sour cream
- Assorted crackers or raw vegetable slices

Drain and slice crab if necessary. Blend avocado, lime juice, onion and Worcestershire sauce in blender or food processor until smooth. Add cream cheese and sour cream; blend well. Fold in crab. Cover and chill thoroughly. Serve with crackers or vegetables. Makes 2-1/2 cups dip.

*If desired, meat removed from Alaska Snow crab clusters may be used. Rinse 1 to 1-1/2 pounds Snow crab clusters under cool water; crack and remove meat.

LEMON-BARBECUED ALASKA SALMON (Not Shown)

- 1 whole dressed (3 to 8 lb.) Alaska salmon, thawed and head removed if necessary
- 1 lemon, thinly sliced
- Lemon Butter Sauce

Cut heavy-duty foil to fit one side of salmon; grease foil generously. Arrange half of lemon slices on foil. Lay salmon on foil; brush inside with Lemon Butter Sauce and press foil smoothly to fit fish. Arrange remaining lemon slices over salmon. Insert meat thermometer into thickest part of salmon. Place fish, foil side down, on grill over moderately hot coals. Brush with Lemon Butter Sauce. Cover barbecue with lid to seal in heat and smoke. Cook salmon, basting occasionally with Lemon Butter Sauce, until thermometer registers 120°F. Allow 10 minutes per inch of thickness measured at its thickest part or barbecue until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove salmon and foil to warm platter. Serve with remaining Lemon Butter Sauce. Makes about 3 servings per pound of salmon.

Lemon Butter Sauce: Combine 3/4 cup melted butter or margarine with 1 tablespoon each lemon juice and minced parsley. Makes about 3/4 cup.

GOLDEN APPLE PASTA PICNIC SALAD (Not Shown)

- 3 cups cooked, hot elbow macaroni
- Vinaigrette Dressing
- 2 Golden Delicious apples, cored and chopped
- 1 can (2-1/4 oz.) sliced ripe olives
- 1 tomato, chopped
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- Salt and pepper
- Grated Parmesan cheese (optional)

Combine hot macaroni with Vinaigrette Dressing; cool. Stir in remaining ingredients except salt and pepper and cheese. Refrigerate 1 hour to blend flavors. Salt and pepper to taste. Serve with Parmesan cheese. Makes about 6 servings.

Vinaigrette Dressing: Combine 1/3 cup oil, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon crushed basil leaves, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/8 teaspoon paprika; blend well. Makes about 1/2 cup.

Perk up warm weather dining with delicious pork

There's no time like summer to concentrate on light meals that are easy to prepare. Today's lean, delicious pork offers refreshing menu alternatives bound to perk up your warm weather dining.

Individual Chef Salads are a natural when it comes to eating light. Thin strips of cooked pork and fully cooked ham are a tasty complement to plain leaf lettuce. Each salad is embellished with shredded cheese and cherry tomatoes. For a splash of color, garnish with sliced hard-cooked eggs. The final crowning touch comes with the addition of Thousand Island Dressing.

Since there are many types of ham, read the package label to see exactly what kind of ham you are buying. The term "fully cooked" means the ham has been cooked in the meat processor's oven and may be eaten as it comes from the package. To serve warm, "fully cooked" hams need only be heated to an internal temperature of 140°.

TASTE TEMPTING sandwiches are a creative way to feature fully cooked ham and cooked pork. Monte Cristo Sandwiches are a winning combination of sliced, fully cooked ham and Swiss cheese. The sandwiches are dipped in a rich egg batter, then cooked till golden. Open-Faced Porkwiches offer a change of pace, and they're a cinch to prepare. Thinly sliced cooked pork is added to a zesty tomato sauce, then served atop toasted English muffin halves.

Since today's pork is leaner and meatier than ever before, it requires a shorter total cooking time. Cook fresh pork to an internal temperature of 170° for the best tenderness and juiciness.

Most pork cuts are naturally tender and adaptable to any preferred cooking method. Consider the size and shape of the cut, the time available for preparation, and your facilities and equipment.

INDIVIDUAL CHEF SALADS

Thousand Island Dressing (recipe follows)

8 cup torn leaf lettuce (1 large bunch)
1 cup cooked pork, cut into strips (about 6 oz.)
1 cup fully-cooked ham, cut into strips (about 6 oz.)
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded cheddar cheese
1/2 cup (2 oz.) shredded Swiss cheese
20 cherry tomatoes
2 hard-cooked eggs, sliced

Prepare Thousand Island Dressing. Divide lettuce among 4 salad plates or bowls. Arrange 1/4 of the pork and ham atop each serving; sprinkle each serving with 1/4 of the cheddar and Swiss cheese. Top each serving with 5 cherry tomatoes and several slices hard-cooked egg. Serve with Thousand Island Dressing. Makes 4 servings.

THOUSAND ISLAND DRESSING
1/2 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
2 tsp. chili sauce
1 tsp. finely chopped onion
1 tsp. finely chopped green pepper
Dash cayenne pepper
1 tsp. drained capers (optional)

Combine mayonnaise or salad dressing, hard-cooked egg, chili sauce, onion, green pepper, cayenne pepper, and capers, if desired in a small bowl. Mix well; cover and chill till serving time. Makes 1 cup.

MONTE CRISTO SANDWICHES
8 oz. thinly sliced fully-cooked ham
4 oz. Swiss cheese, sliced
8 1/2-inch-thick slices Vienna, French, or garlic bread
4 eggs
1/2 cup milk
3 tsp. butter or margarine

For each sandwich, place 2 ounces ham and 1 ounce Swiss cheese between 2 slices bread. In a mixing bowl beat together eggs and milk. Dip sandwiches in the egg mixture, turning carefully, till all of the mixture is absorbed. Melt butter or margarine in a skillet or on griddle. Place sandwiches in skillet and cook slowly 15 minutes; turn and continue cooking 10 minutes or till cheese is melted and both sides are golden. Makes 4 servings.

OPEN-FACED PORK SANDWICHES
1 lb. thinly sliced cooked pork
2 cups catsup
1 cup chopped onion (2 medium)
1 cup water
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 bay leaf
1/4 tsp. celery seed
1/4 tsp. bottled hot pepper sauce
4 English muffins, split

Combine catsup, onion, water, sugar, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, bay leaf, celery seed and hot pepper sauce in medium saucepan. Bring to boil; reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes or till thickened. Remove bay leaf. Add pork and continue cooking till heated through. Meanwhile, toast the English muffins. To serve, spoon the pork mixture over muffins. Makes 4 servings.

Thousand Island Dressing enhances the refreshing flavor of individual chef salads made with pork and ham, cheddar and Swiss cheese.

If you like chicken-fried steak, why not chicken-fried chicken?

When you play a word game, "chicken-fried steak" most assuredly would be followed by "Texas." But I have enjoyed the dish in Illinois, where cubed steak replaced pounded-thin round steak.

The meat usually is coated with flour, dipped in an egg-milk mixture and dredged in cracker meal. The gravy usually is made with strained drippings, flour and milk.

However, I have experimented with sliced eye of round roast and come up with a variation that includes cream of mushroom soup. The results are just as tasty.

If chicken-fried beef, why not chicken-fried chicken?

Chicken lightly browned, braised and served in a white sauce made with its own stock is known as fricassee.

Chicken fricassee calls for a stewing chicken, but I substituted a broiler-fryer for two reasons: It is less expensive and reduces cooking time two hours.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE

3 1/2-lb. broiler-fryer, cut up
1 cup all-purpose flour
2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. black pepper
1 1/2 tsp. paprika
Shortening
1 cup water
1 small onion, chopped
1 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. rosemary milk

Wash chicken and pat dry. Combine 1/2 cup flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, pepper and paprika in soup bowl and coat chicken. Melt thin layer shortening in large skillet, thoroughly brown chicken on medium high heat in 2 batches, small pieces first, and remove. Drain off fat and reserve. Add water, onion, lemon juice, rosemary and 1/4 teaspoon salt to skillet, return chicken, cover and cook on low heat about 1 hour, adding water if necessary. Remove chicken and keep warm, pour off liquid and reserve. Heat 3 tablespoons reserved fat in skillet, blend in 1/2 cup flour and cook on low heat, stirring until smooth. Add enough milk to reserved liquid to measure 3 cups, pour into skillet, heat to boiling, constantly stirring, and allow to boil 1 minute. Reduce heat to medium, return chicken and cook 5 minutes. Serves 4.

CHICKEN-FRIED EYE OF ROUND

8 slices eye of round, 1/4-inch thick

1 egg, beaten
1 tsp. milk
1/2 cup finely crushed saltine crackers
1/4 cup cooking oil
1/2 cup dry white wine
1/2 cup water
1 can (10 1/2 oz.) condensed cream of mushroom soup

Dip meat in mixture of egg and milk, dredge in saltines and brown on medium heat in hot oil, turning only once. Reduce heat to low, add wine and water, cover skillet and cook 1 hour, adding water if necessary. Remove meat, stir in soup, return meat and heat through. Serves 4.

Beverly D'Angelo simpers and sighs, while Chevy Chase varies with only two facial expressions in the meant-to-be-comic "National Lampoon's Vacation."

the movies
Louise Snider

'Vacation' travels humorless road

Louise Snider is on vacation. Guest critic is Dan Greenberg, film instructor at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.
By Dan Greenberg special writer

The history of the motion picture is so broad and diverse that one hesitates to nominate any one film as "the worst." "National Lampoon's Vacation" struggles for that distinction. But in that regard, as in all others, it fails. Its only real success is in boring and offending audiences.

As the film opens, the Family Griswold (a predictable father, mother, son and daughter comfortably installed in a new station wagon) begins a determined Chicago-LA trek to visit the Walley World Amusement Park.

Neither retarded relatives, dead aunts, malicious auto mechanics nor a closed amusement park interfere with their fun-fun-fun.

Audiences for this film are not going to be so fortunate. Poor acting, weak directing, offensive material and a marginal, episodic structure severely limit viewing pleasure.

The film has all the appeal of an evening spent viewing the Lockhorn's home movies.

A FILM with Christine Brinkley can't be all bad. Wanna bet?

Besides the Grand Canyon photographed to look like an inexpensive, poorly painted backdrop, Brinkley is the only visual attraction in "Vacation."

She appears and reappears in a red Corvette as Mr. Griswold's fantasy. When the fantasy materializes and approaches him in the motel bar, the cinematography miraculously manages to flatten her features in an unflattering way. However, in the moment which follows, Brinkley emerges from the pool, lovely and dripping as seductively as any Venus. But one image cannot redeem a 100-minute film.

"Vacation's" deficiencies are major. The writers failed to understand the difference between satire and ridicule; the director and his actors believe that "pace" means slow.

"Vacation's" satiric possibilities are quickly lost. Instead of exaggerating human foibles slightly to make us laugh and understand a bit about what it means to be human, as satire usually does, "Vacation" exaggerates excessively and ridicules everyone and everything. Nothing has a redeeming human quality.

Everyone is either foolish, mean, contemptuous, bitter, hateful, or all of the above. That's no fun, and that's not funny. Life's not like that and certainly comedy isn't funny when everyone's a fool.

COMIC IMPACT depends on fast-paced introduction of the unexpected. "Vacation" is so slow that every gag, every pratfall, every event, every line takes so long that the audience figures it out and forgets it before it happens. Even the ever-popular crash-your-car-through-a-barricade gag wasn't funny because it took so long to reach the barrier after Foolish Father passed the "Road Closed" sign.

Chevy Chase as Father Griswold utilized only two facial expressions: "Boy, am I great!" and "Oops! I just stepped in the dog poo." Beverly D'Angelo, as Mother Griswold, has obviously trained at the Simper and Sigh School of Acting.

Imogene Coca's excellent comedic talents are not utilized in her role as flaky Aunt Edna. First the director stuffs her in the back seat of the station wagon and then on the luggage rack after she dies. The two Griswold children Audrey (Dana Barron) and Rusty (Anthony Michael Hall) exhibit some acting talent, particularly when Rusty has to cope with Father Griswold's paternal pomposity.

Readers may consider these disgruntled comments merely complaints of an old man for whom such films are not designed. But the large number of young people in the audience for whom such films are so loosely crafted weren't laughing either.

Christie Brinkley is a fantasy for Father Griswold, but her beauty alone isn't enough to make film attractive.

A GOOF had pictures of Thomas and Bernice Goff and Rose and William Harrison transposed in the Thursday edition of the Observer. Both couples recently celebrated wedding anniversaries. For the Goffs of Garden City, it was their 50th. For the Harrisons of Livonia, it was their 40th.

ALONG with plans for a Christmas parade, the Livonia Mall is announcing plans for a Christmas Cookie Contest. Contestants will be asked to send their favorite recipe for holiday cookies, any kind, made from scratch or an adaptation of a boxed mix — just so they qualify as cookies. The 10 best will be selected. The winner will receive a $100 gift certificate from Sanders Bakery and the Original Cookie Co. at the mall. The best recipes will also be published in the Observer. Send entries to Christmas Cookie Contest, Livonia Mall, 29514 Seven Mile Road, Livonia 48152. The deadline is Nov. 1.

WESTLAND Center's August Lifestyle Seminar will feature putting together a fall wardrobe. The guest speaker will be Margery Stearns Krevsky, fashion coordinator and commentator. Krevsky, who also is the Observer and Eccentric Newspapers fashion writer, has produced Westland's monthly fashion presentations for the past five years. She has also toured the country with the Lincoln Mercury Fashion Show Westland presented in March. The seminar will be 10-11 a.m. Tuesday, Aug. 16 in the auditorium. A complimentary continental breakfast will be served. They seminar is free, but reservations are necessary. They can be made by calling 425-5001.

PEPSTEP demonstrations — Weight Watchers' exclusive exercise program — will be done Tuesday, Aug. 16, and again on Wednesday, Aug. 24 at no-charge, open-to-the-public sessions set for Wonderland Center, Plymouth and Middlebelt, at 5:30 p.m. on the 16th and Middlebelt, at 7 p.m. on the 24th. Speaker will be Marla Dittmyer. For more information, call 557-5454.

KUDOS for the Livonia Redford chapter of Parents Without Partners. They were the only chapter of its size in Michigan to win three awards at the International PWP convention in San Diego, Calif. The 730-member chapter received two awards for community activities and one for family activities. The group meets at Bonnie Brook Country Club on the second and fourth Wednesdays at 8:30 p.m.

DETROIT'S Lindell AC will be the scene of the "Treasures and Trivia" celebrity auction at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 24. Proceeds from the auction and profits from Lindell's evening operations will go to the American Cancer Society. A wide range of metropolitan Detroit sports and entertainment celebrities are donating their personal possessions to be auctioned. The "trivia" are items with strictly sentimental or comical appeal. The "treasures" are objects with genuine value. Anyone interested in donating items, helping at the auction or finding out further details can call the ACS at 557-5353.

LEUKEMIA, Research, Life Inc. will present "Race for Life," on Sunday, Aug. 14, at Milan Dragway. Time trials begin at 10 a.m. with eliminations at 2 p.m. More than $5,000 in cash and merchandise will be awarded and all proceeds will benefit cancer research at Children's Hospital of Michigan. Two Livonia families were involved in setting up the non-profit group working to raise funds to eradicate childhood cancers.

SPLASHING paint around is making a name for Livonia artist Cynthia Wayne Gaffield in the glitzy world of high fashion.

What started it all was an elegant line of evening bags she created that feature designs she paints on. No two designs are alike and the varying shapes and sizes add another interesting dimension.

It all began last September when Gaffield decided to give her sister a bag for her birthday. Since Gaffield sews and designs her own clothes, she decided to make the gift, borrowing an idea she had seen by another artist in the Chicago area.

The result was friends soon wanted Gaffield to "make me one."

The requests kept multiplying until Gaffield decided to show the line at arts and crafts festival. They went so well, she said, she placed them in area boutiques and in Chicago and New York.

Right now, they are at Patti Smith in Royal Oak, Maggie and Me in Plymouth, Tressa's Boutique in the Joseph Xavier Salon in Southfield, J. Lushon inside Rhodike's in Southfield, Invitation in Blume in West Bloomfield, Leona's in Tally Hall in Farmington Hills, Kay North in Birmingham, and Anittas in Southfield.

The bags range in price from $10 - for wallets - to $85. In that category is a stunning extra large over-the-shoulder canvas bag that is her newest creation.

Success has also prompted her to expand her efforts. In addition to the hand bags, she will do other accessories, including belts and scarves. Her latest project involves T-shirts and spa attire. She'll even coordinate tennies to compliment your favorite pair of "sweats."

So far, the whole area has been a lot of fun for the tall, tian-haired former commercial artist who gave up working full-time to free-lance after her marriage to photographer Craig Gaffield and the arrival of their son, Benson.

"Playing with paints" is how she characterizes her efforts."

It's a big insight into the designer's personal feelings about art. Art should be fun, she believes, and it should never be in the realm of untouchable. Rather, it should be used. In her case, it means being able to wear it.

She does all the work on the bags herself now. In the beginning, she had a woman who sewed the bags under her direction. Now she does it all herself.

It's also a lot of fun for her son. Her favorite spot to paint - on her hands and knees - is out on the deck floor behind the couple's ranch home on Doris in Livonia. Or the family room floor. He plays nearby and

Retired? Not quite

And old friend who came to Florida with us seems to be trying to decide whether it's time yet to retire.

For a while, the answer seemed to be clearly no. Now the signals are maybe yes. But we're holding with the maybe.

Before our own retirement Joe and I had felt real concern as to whether this friend would be able to make the trip with us. The years were creeping up, and there were bumps and bruises and some general health problems.

But when it was time to leave she was rarin' to go and covered the miles with nary a complaint despite many extra burdens. Then another trip to Michigan was completed in fine style. We're so impressed with her youthful spirit that we're considering asking her to make one more trip north. We're betting she'll do it.

THE FRIEND, of course, is our 1971 Cutlass, by performance one of the merriest Oldsmobiles ever to come off production lines.

She joined us six years ago when her former owners decided 42,000 miles meant it was time to buy a new car. This summer she heads for the 126,000-mile mark, still going strong.

We're convinced her longevity and high performance have been helped along a lot by the careful ministrations of our auto mechanic son-in-law, but even now she seems to possess an inner core of dependability that makes us not want to give her up.

AS WE MADE plans to move to Florida, we decided we'd drive the old car down and then look right away for another used model, one that hadn't endured Michigan's salty winter on its bottomside.

Our son-in-law did the proper checking over and sent us on our way. But after a performance-perfect trip down, we delayed the planned search for another car. The old Olds was humming her approval of her Florida home, and we saw no reason to replace her.

When it was time for our spring trip to Michigan, the car seemed ready, willing and able. Her mechanic was amazed. "He thought he'd seen the last of that car," our daughter noted in a letter. But there were only a couple of minor adjustments to make during that visit.

THE TRIP BACK to Florida included a nifty moment for us and the Olds. We stopped to visit her former owners, now retired and living in North Carolina. Having recently replaced her successor, they were non-plussed to see their old care and hear how she was purring.

Florida's hot summer is moving along now, and our faithful friend has given us a few indications — trouble with radiator and air conditioning — that she's getting on in years and mileage. But her motor continues to run so well that we've let her know we won't give up on her yet.

We've had several cars that served us super-well, but we think this one may well be the champion.

Margaret Miller was Suburban Life editor for the Observer Newspapers for 16 years. She and her husband, Joe, have retired to Florida, where she writes Retirement Memos.

Dear Mrs. Green:

For a long time I have read your newspaper column with great interest. I would very much like to be the subject of your analysis.

For the past two years, major changes have been occurring in my life. I have learned much about myself during these years, but I would like to learn more.

I would be happy to send you feedback on your analysis of my handwriting.

J.F. Farmington

Dear J.F.:

A lady of culture is suggested by your writing style. Self-improvement and refinement are here.

Heavy pressure tells me you are blessed with a goodly supply of vitality for the things that are meaningful to you. Many of your goals are future oriented and challenging.

Security is high on your list of priorities. This probably serves as a spur toward accomplishing the high goals you have set for yourself.

Being quite an emotional person, there are times when you expand energy on things that may prove counterproductive.

Forgiving and forgetting do not come easily. Resentment of situations or times when you feel you were taken advantage of comes to my mind as I see the inflexible lead in strokes on many words.

You appear to experience highs and lows. Your emotions can fluctuate rather quickly and often with only slight provocation. Occasionally you retreat to your ivory tower and do a bit of daydreaming.

There is a secretive side to you. Regarding things you do not care to reveal about yourself, you can remain quiet and let others think whatever they choose. If pressure for answers you can be quite evasive.

You enjoy a good discussion and probably have meaningful conversations to contribute. However you can be assertive at times. A bit of sarcasm may come into play in these emotional situations.

Neat and orderly, you dislike working with clutter and confusion. Your logical mind does not depend on intuition for answers.

The total picture of your handwriting, coupled with your well-formed personal pronoun I, suggests both male and female nurturing in the formative years. Father appears to have been the one who introduced you to the outside world and taught you the necessity of making your own way in it.

Thank you for your interest in graphology. I would be most happy to have your feedback on this analysis.

If you have a question about your handwriting, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, in care of this newspaper. Please use a full sheet of white unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age and handedness are also helpful. Please sign your full name, even though I use only your initials in the column. Feedback is always welcome.

County Fair this week

The 37th annual Wayne County Fair, featuring a livestock auction and various contests, will be Aug. 8-13 at the fairgrounds on Quirk Road in Belleville.

The major day of the fair will be Thursday, Aug. 11, otherwise known as Children's Day. Planned activities include a "talk to the animals" program, a watermelon-eating contest and a costume contest where owners dress up their goats, sheep, cattle, pigs and dogs.

In addition, the 4-H livestock auction will be that evening. Rabbits, poultry, goats, pigs, sheep and cows will be auctioned. Slaughtering and processing may be arranged through the 4-H Club for an additional cost.

Other fair activities include a dog show on Aug. 8, an antique tractor pull on Aug. 10 and a rabbit and horse show on Aug. 13.

Further information on the fair may be obtained by calling 697-7002. Further information on the livestock auction may be obtained by calling Connie Testorelli at 721-6576.

sometimes joins her, painting on scrap material.

The big difference is that she uses permanent acrylic paint that won't wash out - not from the silk faille she uses in most of the hand bags or the redwood deck or family room floor. His is the kind she can wipe up later if he gets carried away mimicking his mom's creative dabbling and dabbings.

The bags were on display recently at the Livonia Arts and Crafts Festival. Her next show will be the West Bloomfield Fall Festival Sept. 9-11 and will show the expanded line for the first time.

The Ann Arbor Art Association's Wearable Art Show is a possibility in November.

Wherever she is, Cindy Gaffield is easy to spot. She likes to do business from a bar-stool height canvas director's chair illuminated with her own colorful designs. It's more than a trademark. It's another area for playing with paints she hopes will catch on.

Gettin' ready

Here's a golfer's guideline to prepare for O&E outing

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

GOLF IS NOT, and never will be, an easy game to master.

That's the first lesson I learned upon volunteering for this assignment, which briefly is to get my game together enough to play in the Observer & Eccentric's Men's Golf Tournament Oct. 1-2.

Aiding me in this venture (maybe it would be better to call it an AD-venture) is Gary Whitener, the golf pro for both Livonia's courses, Idyl Wyld and Whispering Willows. Both the men's and women's tournaments will be played at Whispering Willows. The women's tourney is slated for Aug. 24.

Mind you, winning the tournament is not my objective. Finishing is. Carding a respectable score in third flight would be an attractive bonus.

Since I am a novice to the golfing game, one might ask why I am writing this three-part series. The answer is simple.

THE INTENTION is to help golfers properly prepare, both physically and mentally, for the upcoming O&E tournaments. Who better to coach you on what you need to do to play well than Whitener, the pro at the course the tournament will be played on?

And by instructing a relative beginner, no part of the game will be overlooked. Driving, iron play, putting, trouble shots — all this and a lot more will be scrutinized.

With me, Whitener's task is an arduous one: as I told him, "I'm like clay in your hands. Mold me into a Jack Nicklaus."

But the tips Gary passes on to me, I'll relate during this series. By the finish of the men's tournament in October, we'll all be able to take into account how much our tournament game has improved.

NOW TO TASK. "Gotta start somewhere," as Whitener put it, so our first lesson concerned basics: proper grip and swing. But, beyond that, it also dealt with how to prepare for tourney play off the golf course.

Which is more important than many assume. "The better the player, the more time he'll spend on the driving range," Whitener said.

The reason even the best players hit the range often, according to Whitener, is "as good as you hit one shot, the next one is never automatic."

"In golf, timing is everything. It's the name of the game."

Developing consistency is a must to any golfer preparing for a tournament. And consistency comes from practicing the golf swing until it's natural.

As Whitener told me, "Remember: You don't hit golf balls. You make golf swings."

WITH THAT, he mentioned a half-dozen things to remember when stepping up to the ball:

- Grip — The palm of the bottom hand and the back of the upper hand should face the target.

- Placing of feet — "Pros still do this, only they do it so fast you don't notice," Whitener said. What they do is step up to the ball with feet together, then step five or six inches forward with the front foot and five or six inches backward with the back foot. That ensures the ball is centered in the middle of your body.

- Extension — A cardinal rule of golf — the club should be an extension of your arm.

- Rhythm and balance — This is all-important in developing consistency. An easy way to remember how far to stand from the ball is that you should be able to stand up straight and touch the ball with your club. Your weight

Getting a grip on the game: O&E sportswriter C.J. Risak gets some instruction on a few of golf's finer points from Gary Whitener, pro at Livonia's two public courses. Risak and Whitener will combine on a three-part series on preparing for the O&E tournaments.

McCarthy takes Elks to Marshall

Marty McCarthy's got clout. It won't buy him tacos in Tijuana or pizza in Pisa, but McCarthy's clout did earn his Plymouth Canton Elks a return trip to Marshall last weekend.

McCarthy banged a three-run homer and drove in the winning run with a last-inning single as the Elks knocked off Lincoln Park, 6-4, in the second round of the Connie Mack Baseball Regional Tournament Thursday at Marshall High School.

The victory earned the Elks a bye into the final four (details of the weekend's games will appear in Thursday's Observer).

McCarthy's two hits and four RBI led a 10-hit Canton bat attack. Bryan Capnerhurst slashed three hits and scored three runs and Mike Scarpello added a pair of singles and two walks, crossing the plate twice.

RICK BERBERET, a recent addition to the roster, started for the Elks but gave up three runs in 4½ innings of work. Mike Battaglia relieved and allowed one run, a solo homer in the sixth, in the last 2½ innings. Battaglia picked up the win in relief.

Canton struck for four runs in the fourth. Don Taylor walked and Capnerhurst followed with a base hit. McCarthy then stepped to the plate and blasted his three-run homer.

On the very next pitch, Tim Michalk teed off, sending the ball over the fence for a solo homer.

Lincoln Park battled back to tie it on the home run off Battaglia in the bottom of the sixth. Scarpello started things for Canton in the top of the seventh with a base hit. When Tim Collins popped out trying to bunt and Taylor struck out, it seemed the Canton rally was doomed.

But Capnerhurst changed that by lacing a double, sending Scarpello to third. McCarthy then brought in the winning run with a single and, when the throw to the plate eluded the catcher, Capnerhurst scampered home with an insurance run.

Rodriguez dazzles MNB

Adray retains playoff title, 4-0

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

Dave Rodriguez struck out 11 and allowed just two hits Friday night at Henry Ford Field as he pitched Livonia Adray to a 4-0 win over Manufacturer's National Bank in the finals of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League.

With the win, powerful Adray, the No. 1 team in the league during the regular season and defending playoff champions, advances to regional play at Ford Field. Adray plays Dayton Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.; in the other regional game, at 4 p.m. Wednesday, Pittsburgh tangles with Cleveland.

Rodriguez was sensational. He struck out at least two batters in four separate innings, and, but for the fifth inning, would have had a no-hitter.

baseball

Manufacturer's opened the top of the fifth with singles by Clint Scollard and John Bolen, but Rodriguez went to the whip, striking out three men in succession to end the threat.

From then on, he allowed but one base runner, and he was erased on a double play in the seventh.

THE GAME WAS scoreless until the fifth, when Adray broke through on a bases-loaded walk by left fielder Greg Kuzia. Adray added another run in the seventh on a run-scoring single by Randy Baringer, then put the game away in the bottom of the eighth on an error and an RBI single by Jim St. John.

St. John was the hitting hero for Adray, going 3-for-3 with a sacrifice, double and one RBI.

Tim Bunker started for the Bank on the mound and went 7½ innings. Three of the runs he gave up were unearned.

Ironically, it was Bunker who scored the winning run for the Bank in the first game of the evening, a thrilling 12-11 comeback triumph over Wendy's of Ann Arbor.

Wendy's scored eight runs in the first inning, thanks largely to five walks, and led by an 11-3 score in the sixth. But Manufacturer's refused to quit, storming back with four runs in the sixth, four more in the seventh to tie it and one in the eighth, when Scollard's ground-rule double drove in Bunker with the go-ahead run.

Scollard, the designated hitter, was 4-for-5 in the opening game, played to see who would play undefeated Adray in the finals of the double-elimination playoff. Had the Bank won both games Friday night, the championship game would have been played Saturday.

In the nightcap, the gutsy pitching of Bunker and the sensational arm of his catcher, Dale Vaquera, kept things close. Four times Adray tried to steal on Vaquera and four times he nailed his man at second.

IN EARLIER playoff action Wednesday, Adray advanced to the finals with a 7-3 win over Wendy's that featured a big, four-run seventh inning.

During the uprising, Adray got three consecutive extra-base hits — a double by first baseman Rodriguez, a triple by Kuzia and a home run by third baseman Don Dombey.

But what came before the uprising might have had as much to do with Wendy's loss as the uprising itself.

Wendy's was batting in the top of the first, with one out and the bases loaded. Wendy's tried the suicide squeeze, but the lead runner was forced at the plate. One umpire called time, though another of Wendy's runners was trapped off second base. Adray threw the ball down to second anyway, the runner was tagged and the other umpire ruled it an out.

After much arguing by Wendy's manager, and a 20-minute delay, the umpires ruled that play should not have been halted and the double play was allowed to stand.

In the other game, Manufacturer's eliminated Redford-Westland Adray with a 12-3 pounding.

Scollard was the big gun, with a solo home run in the third and a two-run homer in the eighth. Ronnie Peterson added a pair of hits, one run scored and one RBI for winning pitcher John Emons.

Roth and pro tour: Putt up or shut up

By Tom Henderson
staff writer

If Jeff Roth, the assistant golf pro at Wabek Country Club, has seemed a little nervous recently, it's understandable. After all, this is the week that may make or break his hopes of joining the PGA tour and what can go with it — playing every week with the big boys, like Jack Nicklaus and Tom Watson; Augusta, Ga., in the spring, England in the early summer, Pebble Beach and Florida winters; $50,000 paydays; endorsements.

It sounds like a dream now — is a dream — but Roth is closer than he's ever been to making it a reality. This week, local boy (Plymouth Salem, class of '75) tries to make good, when he plays in his first tour event, the Buick Open at Warwick Hills in Flint.

Roth, who grew up playing the Farmington Country Club course, where his parents were members, has been hot lately. Three weeks ago, he set the course record at Wabek with a 64 ("the only thing I did wrong was three-putt for a par on the first hole"), and a week ago Friday he was one of just four from a field of 40 to qualify for the Open during sectional qualifying at Bay Valley in Saginaw ("I played great, I was four under the last 10 holes").

But the 64 and his play during qualifying won't mean a thing if he blows up at Warwick Hills. If you want to join the tour (he does) and you're not rich (he isn't), then you've got to find a sponsor. Shooting 64s during a round with friends doesn't impress sponsors; neither does shooting tough in sectional qualifying. What they want to see is how you do against the tigers on tour, against guys with nerves strong enough to conquer 12-foot putts when the dough's on the line, who drive the ball like computers programmed without the words slice and hook.

"I'm trying to keep low key, to keep busy," said Roth, between lessons at Wabek last week. "I don't want to change the routine. (But) I'm getting real pumped up."

ROTH, 25, HASN'T always been so pumped up about his game. It took a good woman, but in this case not one who stood behind him, but one who stood in front, demanding his best from him. Roth met Patti Jaaski, a former student at Bloomfield Hills Andover, when he was playing a mini-tour in Florida two winters ago. She was a young, pretty tennis pro in Fort Lauderdale; he was a young, handsome golf

Anita Toth of Canton reaches for a return during the Schoolcraft College Junior Tennis Tournament last week. Toth, competing in the 16 and under girls' division, made it all the way to the finals before losing to Breita Johnson of Northville.

They came from near and far. How near? Livonia, Canton, Farmington and Westland. How far? Ann Arbor, Newport and Ottawa Hills, Ohio.

What for? The Schoolcraft College Junior Tennis Tournament.

A total of 88 players competed for honors in seven divisions, five for boys and two for girls. Two girls' singles divisions — under 12 and under 18 — did not have enough entrants and were dropped, as were all the doubles divisions except the boys' open.

WINNER OF THE BOYS' 18 and under division was Livonia's Tom Spade, who beat Grosse Ile's Kurt Koviljak in straight sets, 6-2, 6-3.

In the boys' 16 and under division, Rick Riemersma of Allen Park emerged with the victory, thrashing Drew Chuba of Farmington Hills, 6-1, 6-2, in the finals.

The 14 and under boys' title went to Brad Nassar of Ottawa Hills, Ohio. Nassar topped Jeff Huston of Farmington Hills, 6-2, 6-3, in the championship match.

Steve Campbell of Detroit knocked off Matt Forstner of Ann Arbor by scores of 6-3, 6-3.

FOR THE GIRLS, Breita Johnson of Northville pounded out a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Canton's Anita Toth in the 14 and under finals.

Newport's Happy Ho soundly defeated Sarah Johnson of Northville, 6-0, 6-3, to collect the girls' under 16 crown.

In the boys' open doubles, Spade earned his second title, combining with Bob Martin of Northville to top Paul Grzull of Westland and Eric Champella of Southgate, 6-2, 6-2.

Tournament director Chuck Volland was neither disappointed nor surprised by the cancellation of so many of the divisions.

"It's hard to fill them all," Volland said. "To be a sanctioned tournament, you have to have a certain number of entries in each division. That number can sometimes be hard to reach, especially trying to draw 16 people in doubles."

should shift from back foot to front as you swing through the ball.

• Hitting through the ball — You must keep your head down and eye on the ball, but you also must hit through the ball. One way of developing this ability, Whitener said, is to imagine the ball is five inches thick. That will help you drive through the ball and shift your weight forward properly.

• Work — This is something the club should do, not you. Trying to "kill" the ball will just result in slices or hooks. An easy, controlled swing is all that's needed.

MUCH OF THIS can be perfected and practiced on the driving range, Whitener said. "When you do go to the range, start with a seven or eight iron, not your driver," he advised. "The swing is basically the same for all your clubs, so start out swinging easy. You should finish with your woods."

Woods and irons aren't the only clubs that can be practiced off the golf course, however. Practice putting greens are available at all courses.

"The key in practicing putting is to develop touch," Whitener said. "You have to have a feel for it. And, if you can get that feel, hopefully it will carry over to your other clubs."

"The short game is 40-50 percent of your score. You've probably heard the old gorilla story: he drives the ball a mile onto the green, steps up to it and then puts it another mile."

That is what makes developing touch so important.

Roth: do or die Slam carries Expos to 1st

pro; it was apparently love at first sight.

"She's the thrust behind me," said Roth of his wife, a tennis pro at Plum Hollow Country Club. "When we got married a couple of years ago, it changed my life for the better. She's a real inspiration."

The Roths have a life most would envy. Both are pro athletes, they spend their winters in Florida. It's a comfortable life Roth finds himself settling into. But he thinks he might be better than that, that he might, indeed, be good enough for the PGA tour. His wife thinks so, too, and she thinks he ought to find out.

"My wife's pushing me in the direction of the tour," said Roth. "We've been talking it over nearly every week. It's obvious the next four or five months are a turning point in my career. If I make the cut (in the Buick), make a good showing, then I can approach some people (for sponsorship)."

"The way I keep playing, the tour keeps coming up in my mind. I need to get my own job (as a head pro) or make the decision to give the tour a try. I keep playing a little bit better each year. Now, it's a matter of if I have the guts to get out there and try it."

ROTH, WHO PLAYED golf at the University of Arizona with Dan Pohl, a big money winner on the tour, says his strong suit is putting, and putting, he adds, is the name of the game on the circuit.

"It's a putting match every week, the way they all drive," said Roth. "The only difference between 100th and first is putting as far as money goes."

It was time to end the interview. There were lessons to be given, chores attended to. The life of an assistant pro in the summer is 14-hour days, six days a week, and practice on your day off. You don't get rich on the pay, but there's always a chance of your own job as head pro, somewhere, someday.

Slam carries Expos to 1st

The Expos got a grand slam homer from Steve Raymond in the first inning of their game with Warrick Clutch and rode that to a 7-5 victory in Garden City Invitational Baseball League play Thursday at Garden City Park.

It was a doubly satisfying evening for the Expos. After their victory, A&K Electric, which had been used with the Expos for the league lead, succumbed to Three Kegs Round, 11-5.

The combination of the Expo victory and the A&K setback left the Expos all alone in first with a 13-4 record. A&K is 12-5, with Three Kegs Round next at 12-7.

THREE KEGS' win was highlighted by an eight-run sixth inning that included two home runs by Jim Rousseau. Rousseau's first homer of the sixth was a solo blast. Later on in the inning he added a two-run shot, finishing the game with two hits and three RBI.

In between Rousseau's slams, Mike Pranke belted a three-run homer. Pranke had three hits in as many trips, knocking in four runs. Mickey Grech went two-for-four with two RBI, John White had two hits and drove in a run and Dave Noonan collected two hits.

Dennis Munding banged out a pair of hits and drove in two of A&K's runs.

Dave Runge started and went the distance for Three Kegs, allowing four earned runs on nine hits and four walks, striking out six. Al Anderson lasted 5 1/2 innings for A&K, getting tagged for nine runs (three earned). Four errors crippled A&K's efforts.

Following Three Kegs in the league standings are Erhard Motors (9-7), Warrick Clutch (8-7), Beech Daly Clinic (7-6), the Gangsters (3-13) and the Runners (1-16).

'Trouble shooting' contest is back

Chrysler-Plymouth and the American Automobile Association will co-sponsor a "trouble shooting contest," a nationwide interscholastic auto mechanic student competition for high schools.

The contest returns for the 1983-84 school year after a four-year absence. "The Trouble Shooting Contest is a major incentive for talented high school students to become auto service technicians, a field where there is both opportunity and a real need," said A.C. (Bud) Liebler, general marketing manager for Chrysler-Plymouth. "This makes the Trouble Shoot a public-service program in every sense of the word."

THE 1983-84 competitions will involve 200,000 students in more than 2,500 high schools in all 50 states, 4,000 instructors, Plymouth dealers and AAA-affiliated clubs. Testing support will be provided by Western Michigan University.

The program tests students on state-of-the-art auto service. Testing includes a comprehensive exam on all systems in the auto.

State and national championships include hands-on repair competition between high school teams working on a fleet of identical cars with deliberately induced mechanical programs.

The event will include local and state competition in the spring and a three-day national championship in mid-June.

Prizes totaling $125,000 will include scholarships for as many as 10 top teams, expense-paid trips for students and instructors, trophies, tool sets, and other awards.

"AAA is delighted to join with Plymouth in sponsoring the Trouble Shoot," said George Glek, AAA's managing director of automotive engineering and road services.

"AAA already inspects and approves top-quality auto repair shops throughout the nation. The Plymouth-AAA Trouble Shooting Contest is another step in our efforts to improve the quality of auto repairs and upgrade the technical competence of auto mechanics," Glek said.

The program began in 1949 in Los Angeles when area Plymouth dealers discovered that well-trained auto mechanics were in short supply. School officials, at the time trying to encourage students to enter the auto mechanics field, cooperated in the development of the program.

From a local event involving 17 schools and 50 students, the Trouble Shoot became national in scope. National championships have been held since 1982, each year in a different major city.

At the conclusion of the contests, Trouble Shooters are contacted in an effort to find them jobs as apprentice mechanics in dealerships near their homes. In past years, about two-thirds of the participants accepted jobs in the automobile business.

U-D sets night school registration

The University of Detroit's Renaissance Campus will conduct fall registration for evening business and administration classes from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday, Sept. 1-2.

Classes begin Sept. 6 on the campus at 651 E. Jefferson, across from the Renaissance Center in downtown Detroit.

Students not previously admitted should contact the admissions office at 927-1501. Course schedules are available from the same number.

U-D's evening program is designed for working persons who want to complete a college degree or take courses to improve professional skills. More than 30 evening courses are available in accounting, administration, economics, finance, marketing and personnel administration.

Targeting drunk drivers leads to drop in death toll

Traffic fatalities in Oakland County were the lowest in more than 16 years during the first half of 1983, the Traffic Improvement Association reported.

"We're convinced most of this reduction is due to the countywide drunk driving program," said TIA managing director Bruce Madsen. "Compared to last year, our alcohol-related fatalities are down 32 percent."

The number of persons killed in traffic fell 20 percent from the same period last year — to 49 persons vs. 61 in the first half of 1982.

"OF THESE fatalities, 23, or 47 percent, were alcohol-related. Last year 34, or 56 percent, were alcohol-related," said Madsen.

Oakland's 20 percent reduction in traffic deaths compares favorably to a statewide reduction of 4 percent in the first half of 1983.

"Oakland County's reduction is all the more remarkable when one considers that, for the past three years, traffic fatalities here have been much lower than at any time in the last two decades.

"For example, in 1989 Oakland County recorded 109 traffic fatalities for the first six months of the year," said Madsen.

OTHER FACTORS contributing to the decline in traffic deaths, according to TIA, included improvements in vehicle safety engineering, emergency medical services, street and highway safety engineering and increased use of seat belts.

Throughout Michigan, 570 traffic deaths were reported for the first half of the year compared to 596 for the same period last year.
