Council to meet on mayor's veto of arena contract

As promised, Mayor Charles Pickering has vetoed a resolution by the Westland City Council to award the Municipal Service Bureau (MSB) a three-year contract to operate Westland's Multipurpose Arena, and the controversy over the issue continues.

The council will meet on the issue Monday, Aug. 29. If council members override the mayor's veto, their 5-2 resolution to award the arena contract to MSB will go into effect immediately.

At last Monday's council meeting, when the contract was awarded, Pickering had said he would veto the panel's action, and Council President Thomas Artley had said he would call a special council session to override the mayor's veto.

BUT A session set for last Friday was canceled when the city attorney advised the council that official notice of the mayor's veto, completed late last Thursday, had not been up long enough in a prominent place, as required.

According to the City Charter, the council can override the mayor's veto within two weeks if at least five of the seven council members vote to do so.

Pickering and the council have taken opposing sides on the question of who should operate the arena, the city or an independent contractor. The mayor would like to see the city's Parks and Recreation Department operate the arena, as it has done in the past.

Jury finds teacher innocent of criminal sex charges

By Margaret Neubacher staff writer

A Wayne County Circuit Court jury found Danny Henry, a Wayne-Westland school teacher, innocent of three counts of criminal sexual conduct in the third degree.

After three days of testimony, the jury of six men and eight women deliberated for less than 30 minutes before returning its innocent verdict to Judge Roland L. Olzark Tuesday.

"We're very happy it's over and hope everyone's lives can now return to normal," said defense attorney Richard Under Michigan law, third degree criminal sexual conduct involves sexual penetration with a youth between the ages of 13 and 15. The charge is a felony carrying a maximum penalty of 15 years in jail upon conviction.

THE Wayne-Westland Community School District suspended Henry with pay on April 19. The school board will decide whether or not to reinstate Henry at its next meeting, slated for Aug.

According to William Taylor, assistant superintendent of employee relations, the state tenure board was also notified of the alleged incident and will most likely follow the same course of action the district takes. Henry, 30, has been employed by the district since

A 14-year-old eighth grader at Stevenson Junior High School testified last week that Henry, her physical education teacher, had seduced her on the afternoon of March 17 in his home in the 38000 block of Meadowlawn.

Clark told the jury, "We categorically deny any criminal conduct or sexual activity."

IN THE student's testimony, during which she frequently burst into tears, the student said she and Henry were alone in the home for approximately one hour, during which time the alleged incident took place.

Henry's attorney offered testimony from several witnesses that showed Henry wasn't home during the time of the alleged incident, which the teen estimated to be between 3:30 and 4:30

"We do acknowledge that the student came to my client's house and talked with him for three or four minutes,"

Henry testified that on March 17, he left Stevenson Junior High School shortly after 1 p.m. and drove to John Glenn High School, a short distance away, to teach a sixth hour basketball techniques class.

After the class, a former student of Henry's, who testified on the teacher's behalf, dropped by the gym at John Glenn for a game of one-on-one basketball. After the game the two men stopped by a local tavern for a St. Patrick's Day drink, according to testimo-

While there, Henry called his fiancee, Cheryl, who is now his wife, to tell basketball hoop in his driveway, he her where he was and that he planned to return home soon, run a few miles and pick up his sons, as he does every day at 4 p.m., the jury was told.

HENRY TESTIFIED that he arrived home from the tavern between 3:40 and 3:45 p.m. and wasn't there long before he heard a knock at the door. He ran upstairs from the den, opened the door and yelled "Go ahead," assuming it was one of the neighborhood youths asking if they could use the Henry said the 14-year-old student was at his door.

"She had never come before and has not come since," he said. After a brief exchange, Henry left the student in his foyer to go change into jogging clothes, he said. "I thought she'd get the hint, but she was still there when I was ready to leave," said Henry.

Police issue warning about money order scam

By Mary Klemic staff writer

A Westland woman learned an expensive lesson through her home computer last week. Unfortunately, she no longer has the computer, which was worth an estimated $300. And she is out the $220 for which she thought she was selling the computer.

Two people apparently used an altered money order to bilk the woman out of the computer and an $80 personal check she wrote as part of the sale.

Westland police are investigating the incident, and a similar report in which two people used altered money orders to "pay for" wedding bands worth $560. But in the meantime, police and the woman want to alert others about the altered money orders.

"I try and make an honest living here," said the Westland woman, who asked to be identified as "Mrs. Smith." "It only took them 20 minutes to mess me out of around $600 — the $300 computer and the $300 money order. All it cost them was $3 and the gas it took to get over here.

"Maybe if other people know about it, it won't happen to them."

THE MONEY orders in both Instances were stolen, had "consumer money order" printed on them and were payable through the Community State Bank of Salem, Ill., according to Westland Police Sgt. Leonard Goodle-tered," he said. "On the face of the money order, it's not readily detectable. Anybody approached with one of these money orders should contact, ently had removed a decimal point their local police."

Cash should be taken in such transactions, police said. The receiver of a money order should write down the license plate number of the car driven by the person who gave him the money order, along with a complete description of the vehicle. The receiver should also demand a pictured Michigan driver's license.

Mrs. Smith advertised the Odyssey II computer for sale for $220 in a trading newspaper two weeks ago, she said. Last Thursday night, she received a phone call from a woman who said she was interested in the computer.

The Westland woman gave the caller instructions on how to get to her home. The caller, accompanied by a man, arrived some 45 minutes later with what appeared to be a money order for $300, according to Mrs. Smith.

"THEY LOOKED at the Odyssey, and said they didn't get a chance to cash the money order. I wrote a personal check for the $80 difference," she said. "They said they would call if they had any problems with the Odyssey, and that was it. I even offered to hook it up for them, and the man said no, he

Mrs. Smith deposited the money order in her bank the next day. The bank Goodlesky said.

"They're real money orders, but al- informed her later that day that the "$300" money order was actually only. worth $3, she said.

On the money order, someone apparhere and added a few words there, according to Mrs. Smith. Embossed words stating the amount payable were inserted on what should have been a blank line.

"They are using a check protector to write out the sum payable," Goodlesky said. "Most of these transactions are taking place in the evenings, after 6 p.m., and there is no way once people take that money order to call the bank and check."

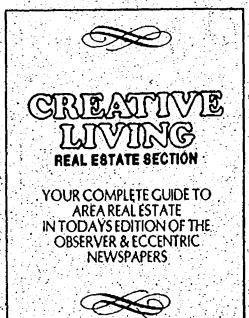

IN A similar case, a Westland resident put an ad in-the same trading newspaper, selling wedding bands for a total $560. A man and a woman answered the ad and gave the resident two money orders that appeared to be for $280 each. The money orders were actually for $2.80 each.

Police said the man and woman who took the computer were both black, thin and five feet six or seven. The man who took the wedding bands was black, 35 years old, five feet six and cleanshaven, and weighed 145 pounds. He was accompanied by a 32-year-old black woman who was five feet nine, weighed 165 to 170 pounds and had straight shoulder-length black hair and big hands.

They appear to be the same people,"

Seniors hear 'brown bagging' as drug use advice

Blue Cross and Blue Shield has given a new meaning to the expression "brown bagging it."

"At this time, the only other program our department offers is senior citizen training in cardiopulminary resuscitation (CPR), but we do plan to develop others," said Mozham. "We deal strictly with senior citizens and we try to offer programs of interest and benefit to elderly people."

Mozham begins the brown bag program by showing a film that provides general information about possible prescription drug interaction, drug storage and other things to be aware of while a person is on medication.

Following the film, the seniors are given an opportunity to ask questions. If Mozham can't answer the questions, she is accompanied by two pharmacists who can.

After the question-and-answer period, Mozham asked all the senior citizens to place their medications in brown paper bags that they were to have brought.

THOSE WISHING to take part in the brown bag program were afforded the opportunity to meet individually with either of the two pharmacists to discuss their prescription drug usage.

Mozham said that any senior citizen organizations in the tri-county area interested in a presentation on the brown bag or CPR programs can call her or Riach at 225-0211.

She said each program last about 11/4 hours, depending on the size of the audience.

"He's very good about being on time," she said. "He's there everyday between 4 and 4:10 p.m."

Unlike most days, Henry did not take his sons with him that day because of an evening program at their elementary school, he said. He said he talked with them briefly and was back home about 4:30 p.m.

IN OTHER testimony by defense witnesses, it appeared that the student's story varied as she retold it to others. The student said in a statement to police that the alleged incident took place March 17. Her sixth-hour teacher testified that the student led her to believe the alleged incident took place during Easter vacation, which was April 1-10. An assistant principal testified that the student told her the incident occurred on St. Patrick's Day.

"I asked if she was sure," said the witness. "She said she remembered it was St. Patrick's Day because she dyed her hair green." No one was able to testify that the teen's hair was green that day.

Henry became engaged on Feb. 17 of this year, and a short time later put a picture of his fiancee up on his gym office wall, he said. Henry testified that the student began to make "off-thewall" comments to him after that time.

"SHE SAID, Your fiancee is in the garbage and she's ugly," said Henry.

The student also told the whole class she was moving, then showed up the next day of school, he said. In further testimony, Henry said the eighth grader told him that her mother wanted to go out with him and that her Dad had cancer.

Ficano: a 4-month-old badge and lawmen's respect

By Tim Richard staff writer

Robert A. Ficano walked into the office of Wayne County sheriff last April with two distinct handicaps: At 30, he had never worn a badge, and a sour economy had placed fiscal handcuffs on law enforcement.

But the Livonia lawyer has turned the handicaps into tools in his first four months. Every other word he uses is "negotiate" or "cooperate" with other police agencies.

"I can't go up to one of these suburban police chiefs who has been around 20 years and tell him what to do," said the new sheriff. "I have to show him that he gains and I gain if we cooper-

"The cooperation has been great," smiled Ficano during a 90-minute interview in his office recently. He listed control of overtime, a marine patrol, a Hines Park patrol, drug enforcement, drunk driving and a jail pickup program as areas where progress has been made despite the county's massive $140 million deficit.

THE FEELING about cooperation is mutual. Says Carl Berry, former city of Plymouth police chief and now township chief:

"For the first time, we have a sheriff who offers assistance whenever it is needed. I can't ask for any more out of

"Before any changes are made, he tries to glean as much information as possible about the effect the change will have on local communities," said

Michael Manoog, chief in Redford Township, said:

"I'm encouraged by his eagerness to assist local law enforcement agencles to help us with some of the problems

"As president of the Wayne County Association of Chiefs of Police, I'm impressed that he attends our meetings, and he comes with the intent to help us. His overall performance is very good to this point."

Livonia chief Robert Turner said: "We have much better cooperation." Livonia always thought it was the responsibility of the sheriff's department to transport prisoners to and from the county jail. Under Ficano, there's better efforts to pick up and deliver prisbeing appointed sheriff by a three-man panel consisting of county clerk James Killeen, chief probate judge Joseph Pernick and county prosecutor William Cahalan.

Former sheriff William Lucas, now county executive, tried to appoint his undersheriff, Loren Pittman, to the job. Clerk Killeen and the other members of the panel contended that under the law the panel, not Lucas, had appointing authority. The panel appointed Ficano and the action was upheld in a major court test.

Ficano appointed as his undersherff the long-time head of the county road patrol Richard Novak, also of Livonia. One story has it that the Ficano-Novak team was concocted by Killeen and Pernick. Nevertheless, Ficano and Novak have operated well as a team even though they hardly knew each other before the appointments.

"It's a good team. I like the setup," said Plymouth's Berry.

with people knowledgeable in law enforcement, particularly undersheriff Novak, whom I'm sure has been a great deal of help" added Redford's Manoog.

THE CHANGES, some of which the public can see already, are these, according to Ficano:

• Unable to patrol Hines Park 24 hours a day, the sheriff's department coordinates shifts with local police, taking the busier day and afternoon shifts, while local police handle the midnight shift. Local police are also letting each other know when they "clean out" an area because in the past such cleanouts have simply shifted troublemakers from one section of the park to another.

• Overtime has been cut to save a projected $700,000. Shifts were balanced so that sick calls could be better accommodated. Previously, deputies had been present at every phase of court proceedings, automatically picking up four hours overtime for each appearance. Ficano felt it wasn't necessary because most cases are plea-bargained. Now deputies appear only when they are to testify.

• The marine patrol has been reinstituted. Ficano argues that since the state funds snowmobile patrols for rural counties, it should also aid marine patrols in a county with one of Michigan's longest shoreline. "Blanchard is listening," the sheriff said.

• A "marina watch" program, similar to a neighborhood watch in residential areas, has been started to combat boat thefts "without a penny form the budget," he said. Dipping into his officeholders' expense account, Ficano took downriver police chiefs to lunch and set up this cooperative program. "We acted as an umbrella to bring them all together," he said.

• No county money was available to set up a mounted patrol in Hines Park, so a "Sheriff's Hunt Club" was organized to raise $35,000 in private donations. The money goes to buy and care for horses. Detroit trained the deputies at no charge.

• With federal grants drying up, Fi-"He was smart to surround himself cano set up a drug enforcement task force with the Wayne County Police Chiefs Association. The Federal Drug Enforcement Agency supplies "buy" money ("it's just printed money to them," Ficano said). Local police provide personnel, and the county supplies cars, radios and facilities. The DEA has agreed to waive its right to confiscate property seized in the commission of drug-related crimes in favor of local authorities.

> Redford's Manoog said, "We are the only Wayne County police department that is cooperating with Ficano's drug enforcement program. It is a super program, and we have made significant progress in apprehending major drug dealers and confiscating large amounts of narcotics."

• With the Sheriff's Department

acting again as an umbrella, law enforcement agencies will set up drunk driving programs beginning Oct. 1 similar to Oakland County's highly successful program. Ficano got a change in the state funding formula that benefits Wayne County.

• A Sheriff's Department van will pick up prisoners from local lockups to transport to the county jail. Says Redford's Manoog: "I think it is a good program because it goes a long way in freeing up our officers to do the work of investigating crimes rather than serving as bus drivers." Ficano calls it only a minor amount of extra work for his department.

WITH LUCAS'S departure, Ficano has been able to bring in a few new

On becoming county executive, Lueas took along jail administrator Frank Wilkerson, an employee relations specialist, a budget analyst and his personal secretary.

But the executive froze hiring, and Ficano has been unable to replace the senior inspector (Novak's old job) and the personnel relations person.

How has he been getting along with Lucas?

"As well as can be expected." Ficano replied. "We have the same goal: maximum law enforcement, bringing the department under control fiscally."

FICANO GOT a lot of chuckles when he terminated the legal services of Dennis Nystrom, the Oakland County Republican lawyer who represented Sheriff Lucas in the unsuccessful effort to halt the termination of the road patrol. Nystrom has submitted a bill for $268,000, which the County Commission so far has refused to pay.

Nystrom now works as Lucas's chief of staff. Ficano dropped Nystrom as a lawyer for the department because, he told Nystrom, "a serious conflict of interest may exist if you should continue to represent the Sheriff's Department against your new employer." The announcement was made not by Lucas or Ficano but by a County Commission publicist who got a copy of the letter.

Board tackles Lucas veto

The Wayne County board of commissioners is scheduled to take up today the matter of County Executive William Lucas' veto of an ordinance designed to ensure continued county operation of Wayne County General Hospital.

Commissioners in favor the ordinance, which would put the hospital under a county board, expect that Lucas' veto will be overriden.

The ordinance was adopted by a 11-2 vote two weeks ago. Only 10 votes are needed to override.

Lucas has been pushing to get the county out of the hospital business. The executive said the county is subsidizing its operation to the tune of $14 million per year.

He also contends that the commission does not have the authority to place the hospital under control of a county board since the new county charter gives the executive authority for such operations.

At its meeting last week, the commissioners confirmed two Lucas appointments - Bernece L. Davis-Anthony as assistant county executive for health and community services and Carl H. Stoutermire as director of the department of personnel/ human resources.

Until a decision last week by Circuit Court Judge Patrick Duggan, Stoutermire's position was being challenged by John Barr, former county director of personnel.

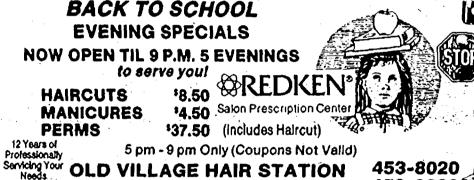

Several commissioners praised Stoutermire's qualifications and per-

Some said that budget concerns and the court case caused them to postpone the confirmation.

The commission approved a small and minority business contracting ordinance with provisions for "womenowned business.'

Students develop leaders' skills, program ideas

Garden City senior and junior high school students and administrators held their fourth annual leadership conference last week to discuss school issues and problems and to develop ideas for programs for the upcoming school

The two-day program was held in Waldenwoods Camp for 24 senior high pupils and an identical number from the junior high.

The camp was initiated in 1980 to help students develop leadership skills and bring "newfound expertise to their respective schools," a school district spokeswoman said.

The camp allows the students, administrators, teachers and board members to meet in an informal setting to discuss issues head on, the spokeswoman said.

The students will later report to the school board to summarize their camp experiences and report on the ideas developed there.

Bankers deny state is short of 'venture capital'

By Tim Richard staff writer

State bankers are cool to Gov. James J. Blanchard's proposal for a "Michigan Strategic Fund," aimed at aiding fledgling firms and diversifying the economy. But women and black business leaders see the state fund as a way to remove the banking industry's blinders.

"Financial institutions are part of the problem, not part of the solution," said Jeanne Paluzzi, who heads her own marketing consultant agency in Livonia.

Speaking for the Michigan chapter of the National Association of Women Business Owners, Paluzzi related to a Senate committee Monday stories told by fellow NAWBO members about their difficulties in dealing with banks. In one tale an outraged woman said:

"The commercial loan officer just put my expensively - and CPA-prepared package in a drawer and said he wouldn't look at it until I brought in my husband. He didn't even ask if I were married."

"Banks turn down a lot of profitable" (black) business," said Walter M. McMurtry Jr. of the Southeast Michigan Business Development Center, noting that the Blanchard proposal wouldn't help retail firms, where black entrepreneurs are concentrat-

THE SENATE Corporations and Economic Development Committee this week held hearings in Detroit and Monroe on a major portion of Blanchard's economic recovery program — the complex set of eight bills setting up a fund to guarantee bank loans to developing businesses which show promise of creating new jobs.

Bankers testified there are plenty of lendable funds available in the state, but non-Michigan loans were more attractive because of the high costs of doing business

Committee Chairman John Kelly, D-Detroit, repeatedly asked bankers why, when they admitted there was "a glut" of investible funds, small businesses in his eastside fund."

Library board takes sensible approach in crisis

MY AND STEVEN ROSS said they were sorry.
Robert Fixler said he was disturbed.
The three were among many Westland residents reacting to Garden City's cut off of library service.

"Have we been uncooperative neighbors in some way?" asked Fixler in a letter to Mayor Charles Pickering.

The problem is that Westland no longer can pay its fair share of library service in Garden City, Wayne and Livonia. So Garden City won't let Westlanders check out books anymore. Livonia's probably going to do the same.

In the Wayne-Westland branch, it was either cut back on its hours of operation or close up completely in December.

Fixler wonders if "these disturbing events can be brought to an end."

THE WESTLAND library board certainly hopes so. The board has proposed that Wayne and Westland operate a distict library funded by an operating millage of 0.3 mills. That's 30 cents for every $1,000 of the assessed value of your home.

There are difficulties to be worked out. Wayne officials believe they couldn't "sell" a millage because there's already enough money in the city's general budget to fund that city's share of the library operation.

While officials in both cities are pondering the possibilities, attorneys are busy researching the murky laws governing library operations.

City and library officials plan to meet again on Aug. 31.

At a time when most people are crying about having too much government, does Westland need one more elected body? Unfortunately, it does.

LIBRARY SERVICE was rarely among city budget priorities in recent years. Municipal pools were. That's strange since probably more people read than swim.

So Westland's library board struggled to make its operation one of the most efficient in government at a cost of about $2 per person. However, Westland's budget crisis forced a reduction in even that meager appropriation. The result is a reduction of service that couldn't be avoided.

The library board appears to be taking a sensible approach to a remedy. A library is an expensive operation to set up, as anyone who has ever visited a bookstore realizes. It's even costlier to staff and keep current. So sharing a library facility and its services between two communities is a good idea to explore

It doesn't make sense to spread the city's resources over three communities, especially when the Wayne-Westland branch has such a high volume of use despite its small size.

Normally, we're opposed to "earmarking" millage for a specific use, but that seems to be a logical way to fund a service that has its own elected board and goes beyond Westland's boundaries.

THE BOARD has a top-notch plan of action to implement the idea.

"We're talking in terms of it coming from the people," explained Jane O'Kray of the library

Residents in both communities will be asked to circulate petitions asking that the proposal be placed on the ballot. If enough signatures are received, the library board can logically assume that the community is interested and that there is a base of support for the plan.

From the reaction to the service cuts so far, we think the library board can book on getting the support of a lot of families like the Fixlers and the Rosses

Old devil interest rates will decline — eventually

FOR SALE signs are popping up on suburban front lawns faster than dandelions in spring.

Take a drive through a subdivision on a Sunday afternoon. Numerous "open house" signs beckon the passing motorist.

Homeowners, discouraged by three years of a sluggish economy, are looking to make a move. They are showing their faith in the economy in a concrete way by trying to swap their houses for larger houses.

As a result, the housing business has been booming. For the first six months of 1983 the Western Wayne Oakland Board of Realtors reports a 64.6-percent sales gain over 1982.

BUT IN THE past few weeks, home sales have slowed from a June peak. In July the real estate board reported sales of 995 homes, which was a 31.5-percent increase over July 1982 but nearly a 20-percent drop from June 1983.

What happened? It's that old tyrant — high interest rates.

During the past three years, mortgage rates on conventional loans hit a peak of 17-plus percent. In May that bottomed out at 12.5 percent. Currently, the mortgage rate on a conventional loan is up to about 14.5 percent.

Economists estimate that the 2 percent increase in mortgage interest rates will eliminate about 900,000 potential buyers on an annual basis. A 2 percent hike means that sales of existing homes will drop by 550,000 units and new homes by 320,000.

Thomas A. Duke Jr., president of Metro Multiple Listing Service, puts it another way.

"Someone buying a home with a $50,000, 30-year mortgage will discover 1 percent interest is nearly equivalent annually to an added month's payment of principal and interest," he said. "It pushes housing costs up about $500 a year and increases total payout over the life of the mortgage by nearly

of the 2 percent interest rate hike since May.

SINCE NO ONE seems to like higher interest rates, why do we have them when it appears that the economy is turning around?

The problem is that the Federal Reserve Board (Fed) believes the economy may be picking up too quickly. It is the Fed's job to regulate the nation's banks so that a delicate balance is maintained. The economy should grow (employment) but not grow too fast (inflation). When the Fed wants to put the brakes on the economy, it raises interest rates to its member banks.

Many economists believe that the greatest source of high interest rates is a large federal deficit. The deficit is at about $200 billion per year now.

Realtors locally have launched a campaign to encourage a limit on federal spending. This, they reason, will mean lower interest rates. Lower rates mean more people will buy houses.

IT IS DOUBTFUL the Realtors will be successful. The most conservative administration in Washington, D.C. in 20 years has only increased the federal deficit.

Not to worry. Economists for Citibank maintain that we are only going through a "summer stumble." Mortgage rates are expected to ease to about 13 percent in the fourth quarter of this year and to average about 12 percent in 1984.

If that's true, there will be some changes in the old subdivision come spring. Be ready to greet an influx of new neighbors.

Slides show the seaway is shrinking

SHOW ANY student a map of the Great Lakes region and ask him or her how it was discovered. Chances are the student will draw a direct line down the St. Lawrence River, through Lake Ontario to Lake Erie, then north to lakes Huron, Michigan and Superior.

Not so. The upper St. Lawrence River was a series of difficult rapids. Niagara Falls, between Erie and Huron, was impassable for sailing ships.

The French explorers actually paddled up the Ottawa River and emerged into Lake Huron's Georgian Bay first.

Niagara Falls barred navigation for three centuries until the Canadians built the Welland Canal around it in 1829. The St. Lawrence wasn't conquered until the 1950s when the International locks of the St. Lawrence Seaway opened America's industrial and agricultural heartland to world commerce.

THAT DOORWAY is in danger of closing in the 1980s and '90s, warns U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-

The reason: When the St. Lawrence locks were built, most ships were in the 200-to-300-foot class. The St. Lawrence locks are 860 feet long, as are the Welland locks. They can handle a ship of 730 feet in length.

But many modern ships are 1,000 feet long, Pursell points out. They can be accommodated by the Poe locks at Sault Ste. Marie, which is 1,200 feet long, but not by the shorter Welland Canal and international locks.

writing about shipping is difficult because numbers dance around on paper. The best way to grasp the situation is to see Pursell's 181/2-minute slide presentation.

Tim Richard

The 2nd District congressman is making the rounds of Michigan with it now, during the congressional lull. Our newspaper office had first crack at it, and we can promise you a fascinating lesson in political economy, as well as some stunning pictures.

Chambers of commerce, service clubs, Leagues of Women Voters, Business and Professional Women — any group with an interest in whether this region prospers or degenerates to a waist-high economy can arrange a showing by calling Pursell's district office in Plymouth at 455-8830.

WHAT PURSELL is pushing is modernization of the Seaway estimated at $1.1 billion. If the numbers seem big, consider it's only half the cost of the SEMTA program and would serve agricultural and mining states as far west as Montana. Canada's portion would run even more because it has more international locks and the Welland Canal.

The goal is to make the International Seaway and Welland Canal locks 1,000 feet long and to construct a two-way system on the International Seaway.

It's fitting that a southeastern Michigan con-

It's fitting that a southeastern Michigan congressmen should be leading the effort. The House leader in the '50s was Rep. George Dondero of Royal Oak. A canal in the International Seaway is fittingly named for him.

THE COST may be higher if we fail to modernize the seaway. If shippers must use smaller craft, then the ocean-going behemoths must be loaded/unloaded at Montreal. If our International Seaway locks are only one-way, then ships get stacked up on the St. Lawrence like cars on the Lodge at 5 p.m. That worsens our competitive situation compared to the Mississippi River

If you've looked at our balance of payments lately, you know it's terrible. Consider that two-thirds of the seaway tonnage is exports, and you can see how vital a modern seaway is, not only to our heartland but to the economic health of the entire nation.

Women in top ranks of athletes

WHEN THE names of the greatest all-around athletes of this century are discussed, the name of Jim Thorpe, the great Fox and Sac Indian, is usually the first one mentioned.

Thorpe stamped his name indelibly in the record books by winning the Olympic decathlon with record-breaking times and distances. And even to-day, he is considered by many as one of the greatest of all football players.

But when one praises Thorpe, the name of another great athlete often is overlooked — and unjustly, because she was one of the best of all-around women athletes.

MENTION BABE Didrickson Zaharias today and few of this generation will recognize it. But just as Thorpe tops the male section of the records, so did Zaharias top the women.

In fact, she went one better than Thorpe. She moved from track and field events to the nation's golf courses and there established herself as one of the best women golfers of her time.

Sports leaders in the early '30s even figured she should be allowed to compete in the tournaments that had been men's exclusive competitions.

Many critics, including Grantland Rice, the famed sports writer of that day, once challenged male golfers to let her compete. His plea on her behalf was ignored. So she stands alone as one of the greatest of all women athletes.

ALONG ABOUT the same time, Glenna Collet Vare, a member of Philadelphia society, was among the top women golfers, and she ruled the

the stroller W.W. Edgar ranks when others tried valiantly to conquer her.

In checking over the great women athletes of our time, Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids must rank near the top of the list.

Starting as a softball pitcher, she was introduced to bowling by Bill Morrissey, then owner of the largest bowling center in western Michigan. He guided her to ranking as the greatest woman bowler who ever lived.

Ladewig dominated the all-star competition for 12 years and was thought to be unbeatable until the years began to take their toll.

She still competes in some top events and always is considered the all-time Queen of the Lanes.

She won every honor open to women in bowling, and today she is part owner of the bowling center in her home town:

WITH SUCH athletes as Babe Zaharias and Marion Ladewig, women have played a great role in sports during the past decades. Each year they take a stronger hold on the fields that once were almost exclusively held by men.

Fortunately, Detroit and Michigan are developing women in sports, especially in bowling.

Among them is Mary Mohacski, the former teacher who has been named Detroit bowling queen for the seventh time. She also will represent the United States in the world tournament next month in Venezuela. She will follow in the footsteps of Elvira Toeper, who also was a seven-time queen.

So, men, step aside. Women are taking a stronger hold in the world of athletics each year.

To learn about high tech, separate myths, truths

Not often do you get to take a test in August. Test taking at this time of year is akin to sipping iced ea in January, or hot pea soup in July.

Relax. The purpose of this little test is to measure your HTA (High Technogoy Awareness).

In recent years, a lot of misconceptions have arisen along with the high technology hype. In an effort to combat the myths and folklore surrounding high technology, I offer this simple test.

Listed below are eight statements which relate to nigh technology in some way, Get a pen and take a lew minutes to find out your HTA.

The directions are simple. Enter a T (True) or F (False) for each of the following statements. Don't look at the answers until you are finished.

THE QUESTIONS:

1. High technology industries are located only in the Silicon Valley in California.

2. The U.S. Department of Labor estimates a 7 percent increase of employment in high technology ndustries nationwide.

3. Nevada had a 104 percent increase in high technology jobs between 1975-79.

4. Robotics and factory automation are being utilized only by the automobile industry.

5. Computer-aided design (CAD) will soon displace most of the nation's 300,000 drafters and de-

6. Seventy-five percent of all jobs by 1985 will involve computers in some way. 7. Biotechnology will affect society in the next 20 years in the same way microelectronics has affected the last 20 years. 8. Lasers are currently being used for welding metals, reattaching retinas in the human eye, and range-finding for military targets.

high tech Ronald R. Watcke

THERE, NOW, that wasn't so bad. Let's see how you did.

1. False. I'm sure you got this one. The first question on any test is always easy. High technology has become synonymous with California and the Silicon Valley. However, clusters of high technology industires also exist along Route 128 on the outskirts of Boston, and within the Research Triangle in North Carolina.

Possibilities for biotechnology are limitless, from curing cancer and slowing down the aging process to creating super races of plants, animals and humans. 🦠

2. True. Even though high technology employment opportunities are projected in increase between 30 and 90 percent through 1990, the overall increase in high technology jobs will be less than 8 percent of the nation's total increase.

3. True. Nevada only had 3,600 people employed in high technology industries in 1979. This accounted for only 1 percent of the total workforce.

4. False. The use of robots in the automobile industry has received the most attention for obvious reasons. Steel, textile, and packaging industries also use robots and automation, though the impact has not been as dramatic.

5. False. Computer-aided design has taken hold in the auto industry, and eventually all suppliers will be affected. There is some displacement occurring among drafters and designers. However, companies are retraining drafters to work on CRTs with keyboards and light pens.

6. True. This statement was made by John Naisbitt in his recent bestseller "Megatrends." Most would agree with Naisbett and can verify his prediction by noting how computers have affected their own jobs.

7. True. Beyond a doubt, biotechnology is the technology of the future. Noteworthy advancements have occurred continuously since the first successful gene splicing in 1974. Possibilities for this new technology are limitless, from curing cancer and slowing down the aging process to creating super races of plants, animals and humans.

8. True. Lasers have a wide variety of applications. The laser has power, precision and adjustability. Combined with long silicon glass tubes, laser beams become part of another technology called fiber optics. In this context the laser lights transmits a communications signal which is used by the Bell system.

Well, how did you do? If you got eight right, you probably won first prize at your high school science fair: If you missed all eight, you probably slept through high school.

If you scored somewhere in between, sit back and enjoy the iced tea.

This is one of a series of columns on high technology by Ronald R. Watcke. He was for five years Wayne Community College's vocational dean and has been since November dean of liberal arts.

Madonna has course for counselors

Because people who interview and counsel clients with drug or alcohol problems will require licenses after Sept. 1, Madonna College in Livonia has initiated two courses to prepare them for the examination.

Theory of Chemical Addiction will meet from 7-10 p.m. starting Thursday, Sept. 8. The course is recommended for probation officers, teachers, nurses and social workers.

"The license required by the state of Michigan Office of Substance Abuse Services requires that anyone who in any way interviews clients about substance abuse must be licensed," said Dionne Thornberry, director of Madonna's social work program.

The written, three-hour exam for licensure will be offered every three months. Three levels of licensure will eventually be required. Madonna will offer subsequent classes to meet the requirements of the additional levels.

The intial course will utilize lessons and a manual developed by the state Office of Substance Abuse Services. An advanced class including counseling and alternatives will be offered beginning in Janu-

Compounding the need for such training is Michigan's "drunk driving" law which requires that all drunk drivers pass through the criminal justice system. Anyone who discusses their problem with them will need to be licensed.

Schoolcraft sets registration for fall continuing ed

Walk-in registration for Schoolcraft College's Continuing Education and Community Services classes is scheduled for Sept. 7 and 8 in the registration center of the Student Affairs Building on campus at 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Registration begins at 3 p.m. and lasts until 7 p.m. both days.

All residents of Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, Northville and Plymouth-Canton school districts should have received the 1983 fall schedule of CE/CS classes by mail. Anyone who has not should call the college at 591-6400, Ext. 410.

Among new classes this fall are Sign Language and Beginning Conversational Japanese. Also new are harness racing, cardiovascular health, coping with home health emergencies, aerobic rhythms, gerontology and several self-help courses.

How about that smashed microphone hanging on the wall? Wait a minute, of course. That was the microphone the angry football player smashed after sportscaster Steve Garagiola asked him a question on the Channel 7 News promotional ad.

And then there is the picture of the New York City skyline at night near the door. That one is easy. It was the background for a recent Chrysler commercial.

WHAT ARE THESE and other television artifacts doing in Otto's office. Simple, he created them. Otto and his two-man company is in the business of creating props, sets and special effects for commercials, industrial films and even feature films.

He not only built Garagiola's crushable microphone but the entire lockerroom that was used to film the Channel 7 commercial. And he carved out of styroform the silhouette of New York City's skyline which is pened and now it's working out." presently stashed back in his work-

Last August Otto set up his own shop in Livonia, teamed up with signmaker Ron Lampie and then went to work. Rarely is there a dull moment in this business.

A producer making a commercial for Canadian Tire had Otto build a And it's on the increase. Otto's latest request is an order to build 30 enlarged items from a grocery store, such as a box of cornflakes, a package of Jello, a grapefruit and so on. "They want to float" them down around the announcer as he's talking."

MUCH OF OTTO'S work can be seen on the Highland Appliance ads. He's done three of those. On July 5 he received a call from Magic Lantern Productions of Farmington Hills. They needed a set to resemble the jail in the 1930s James Cagney classic, "Angels With Dirty Faces".

The commercial called for a Cagney-character on death row named Rocky to make a final request to a priest and a warden. The request what else? — to go bargain hunting at-Highland Appliance Midnight Mad-

The next day Otto and Lampie were viewing the film.

"Magic Lantern taped the orginal movie and we must have watched it 30 times that day," Otto said. "We ended up by taking Polaroid pictures of the final scene.

The pair then had a week to build the set. It had to be an exact replica of the 1930 movie set. It also had to be built in sections so that it could be shipped to Producer's Color Studio in Southfield and to allow for cameras to be placed in and out of the cells for different shots.

"One of the most time-consuming parts of the job is material gathering," said Otto. "We just don't have those kind of things lying around in our workshop."

SO OTTO WENT out and obtained plastic plumber's piping for the bars, masonite for the walls, styroform for the radiator, and a flophouse striped gray blanket for the mattress. Every detail, every rivet was reproduced.

"Take the sink faucets," said Otto. "They were roughed out of styrofoam and were just a shape that had to be there. The camera sweeps past them in the commercial and you barely see them. But if they're weren't there, people would notice that,"

On Wednesday a week after they began building the jail, Otto and Lampie rented a 20-foot trailer and transported the set to the studio. They spent the entire day setting it up and the following day working with the lighting crew in what Otto describes as "fine tuning".

Finally it was ready but their jobs were far from over. Shooting began early Friday morning and ended around 10 p.m. and they were there for every minute of it.

Even when the filming was done and the actors were winging it back to California, Otto and Lampie are still at the studio, dismantling the jail for the final time.

"THAT NIGHT WE finished up around midnight," said Otto.

Today the commercial can be seen on television plugging Highland's Midnight Madness Sale and will be used for years to come. The set, meanwhile, is in the hands of Magic Lantern.

Well, most of it is. The big ring of keys used by the jailer isn't. They are back in Otto's office, hanging on the wall. Right above the "floating" lamp - which, incidentally, was done by using very thin wires.

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

Taking the first steps in making a neon pattern, sign painter Ron Lamble of Redford draws on paper the lines thrown on it by a projector.

You want to know what an electronic thing finder, is? Bill Otto will show you an electronic thing finder. He created it for a Highland Appliance ad.

PEP talk

Teen peer program on sex cuts thru myths

By Harriet Noian special writer

Carmellia Jones seems like your average teenager - almost.

She goes to school and engages in all the usual girl talk, giggling and gossiping about the newest rock stars, fashions and hair styles.

What sets her apart, however, is that she has an 18-month-old baby to take care of and worry about." The 17-year-old senior says she found herself pregnant because she didn't know anything about birth control. However, she now knows the hardships of being a single, teen-age mother. "I should have been more cautious," says Jones. "But nobody ever sat down with me to explain anything, and I was too scared to ask." Now she wants to help other teens so they won't have to go through what she went through.

IN ORDER FOR her to help other teens sort sex facts from fiction, Jones, along with nine other Detroit area teens, studied and completed 160 hours of training in'the Peer Educator Program (PEP) offered through the Planned Parenthood League

The program, announced by the PPL on Aug. 19, is funded for one year by an anonymous donor. Peer educators concentrated on such subjects as reproductive health, contraception, veneral disease and other adolescent health issues.

Since research indicates that most teens get their information on sex from other teens, the PPL hopes to use these peer educators as reliable sources of information and put a dent in skyrocketing teen pregnancies.

While the respondents for the peer educator program came primarily from the Detroit area, the program is designed to help teens who live anywhere in Wayne County. Any group desiring PEP's help can simply request it.

In Wayne County, statistics show that there are 46 pregnancies for every 1,000 teens. These figures are dramatically higher than the national average.

Planned Parent League studies show that more than half of the 20 million young people in the U.S. between the ages of 15 and 19 have had sexual intercourse. One-fifth of the nation's eight million 13to 15-year-olds have had sexual experiences, yet fewer than 10 percent of this group have had comprehensive sex education.

"TEENS NEED TO understand their own value system and know that it's OK to make their own choice to resist peer pressure," says Rebecca Reedus, project coordinator of PEP.

"Statements like 'everybody is doing it' should be questioned. Is everybody doing it or is that something someone says to get what they want?"

One such story currently making the rounds among teens is that a girl won't get pregnant if she is wearing high heels because her uterus would be in a tipped position, thus thwarting the sperm's tra-

But most of the problems are caused by miseducation, not myths, says Reedus.

Being a pal and sharing birth control pills will probably insure all involved only a greater chance of getting pregnant because in order for birth control pills to be effective, they must all be taken in a particular sequence and by the same female.

Douching after intercourse will not prevent pregnancy, as commonly believed, It may, in fact, aid some females in becoming pregnant.

And yes, says Reedus, a girl can get pregnant the first time she has intercourse if she doesn't rely on protective measures.

PEER EDUCATORS got the chance to use their newly honed skills last Sunday when they were asked to speak to 60 teens attending the New Detroit Youth Camp. ..

"We couldn't believe it," says Reedus of the audience's reaction to the PEP presentation. "They asked questions left and right."

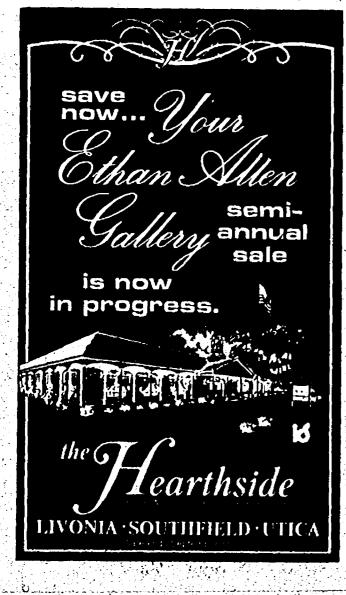

Already, the group plans to speak at the Detroit Alternative Transit House, a home for runaway. teens; several church organizations and PPL-sponsored meetings.

However, the success of the group and future training programs depend on the reception from school administrators and counselors.

"Some people may be threatened by teens coming in and talking to other teens," says Reedus. Any school, community group or church organization wanting more information on the PEP program can call Reedus at 961-0725 between 10 a.m. and 5:30 p.m.

VAAL in new home; classes to start

Art is alive and well in Livonia - thanks to the discovery of a new home for the Visual Arts Association of Livonia (VAAL).

Displaced when the city of Livonia decided to vacate Jackson Center last spring, the art association will be setting up shop in room 25 of Jefferson Center, 9501 Henry Ruff, after reaching an agreement on rates with the Livonia Board of Education. Part of the rental costs will be offset by a $1,000 grant from from the Livonia Arts Commission. The remainder will come from slightly higher tuition rates, the association said.

The same staff will continue as instructors. One of those is Edee Joppich. She will be teaching day and evening classes in watercolor.

Another is Jerrine Habsburg who will offer classes in oil paint-

Audrey Paul will be offering a beginning oil painting class on Wednesday evenings. Joppich will conduct Saturday workshops in collage and color theory and application.

DAYTIME CLASSES will also be taught in basic and experimen, tal drawing and figure drawing by Elizabeth Hull. Ann Dase-Love land will teach watercolor and Audrey DiMarco will offer pastel painting.

For those artists who wish to work independently from a live model or to pursue individual artistic expression, studio sessions will be available for a minimum fee and will be arranged by teaching assistants Barbara Turney and Lee Skerrift.

Come into Standard Federal Savings for these high interest rates

Now is the right time to lock up these high rates of interest for whatever term suits your particular investment needs—from 4 to 10 years. The effective annual yields shown here are realized when interest is credited quarterly and remains in the account. However, interest is always available to you, if you choose . . . by a Check-A-Month (minimum balance of $5,000.00) . . . by quarterly check (minimum balance of $2,000.00) or monthly transfer to a Standard Federal regular or Money Market checking, Money Market Plus or regular savings account. Marsha Vargo former Westland Junior Miss in limelight again

Livonia woman wins 'Ageless Beauty' title

ICHIGAN STATE FAIR HOOPLA opens tomorrow with a gala parade down Woodward avenue. Sharing the limelight will be a willowy, brown-eyed brunet from Livonia who was recently selected the winner of the JC Penney "Ageless Beauty" contest. She is 30-year-old Marsha Vargo, the mother of three, and former Westland Junior Miss in 1971.

Vargo, who does modeling from time to time, was chosen from a initial field of 150 competitors. Eventually that was whittled down to 25.

ONE OF HER PRIZES WAS A $100 gift certificate from the contest sponsor — plus a dozen red roses.

Her husband Kyle saw to it that she kept both for herself along with the special banner and rhinestone tiara.

"He absolutely forbade me to spend the money on school clothes for the kids," she said. Instead, she put it toward a winter coat for herself.

As for the young Vargos, Kristin, 9, Brandon, 6, and Lindsay, 4—they didn't mind. They'll just bask in their mom's glory at the "fair of fairs." And that means free rides, cotton candy, pop and hot dogs. Who wants to think about school clothes at a time like this anyway?

Move your IRA. It's worth 20% more interest.

The transfer is easy; the interest is extra.

If it's time to renew the IRA that you opened in early 1982, you probably won't get the high rates today that you got when you made your deposit. That's why Comerica is making this bonus interest offer to you. If your IRA deposit matures before October 15, 1983, Comerica will give you a 20% bonus interest coupon when you transfer your IRA to us.

You'll also receive the coupon when you open or add to any of our four IRA deposit options. The coupon is redeemable for a 20% bonus on the interest earned between your date of deposit and December 31, 1983.*

Transferring your IRA is easy to do. Comerica will handle everything for you. You can transfer your entire IRA or just the amount of your maturing deposit.

Choose the IRA option you want.

Comerica offers you a bonus coupon on any of our four IRA deposit options. We also have a Self-Directed IRA that allows you to invest your IRA in the stocks and bonds of your choice.

You now have until Oct. 15, but, the sooner you make your deposit, the bigger your bonus will be.

Arrange for your IRA transfer now. Then anytime between December 31, 1983, and March 1, 1984, you can mail in your bonus coupon and we will add 20% to the amount you've earned as interest through December 31, 1983. It's that simple—we calculate your interest, then add 20% to that amount.

The Rev. Paul Jaster and the Rev. Martin Seltz, pastors at Faith Lutheran where Purdy recently completed an internship, presented her to the congregation and opened the service. Bishop Harold Hecht ordained her. Preaching was her seminary teacher, the Rev. Mary Knopka, insructor at Christ Seminary-Seminex in St. Louis.

"I COULDN'T BELIEVE it was happening," said the new minister. "The church was almost full. I didn't expect so many people, friends and clergy. Music is an important part of church to me, and the music was great. It was a very affirming experience."

While living for a while on Cloud Nine, she has not forgotten the effort it took to become a minister at the age of A former teacher at Greenfield

Peace Lutheran School in Detroit, she had felt for some time she had a gift for pastoring, a gift she felt had not been used in teaching.

What encouraged her to make the effort to become a minister was her election as an elder.

"It was very unusual in the Missouri Synod," she said. But to become a minister, she had to leave the Missouri Synod and join the Association of Evangelical Lutheran Churches, which accepts women in ministerial roles.

"THERE WAS PAIN in realizing some thought what I was doing was wrong," said Purdy. "And there was pain because people I loved couldn't participate because they were a member of the Missouri Synod or disagreed with my actions."

Purdy will be on a one-year assignment as director and teacher in the preschool program at Faith Lutheran. She will preach at 10 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 4.

Her internship at Faith was "an affirmation," she said. "I realized what I was doing was what the Lord called me for. I enjoyed what I was doing. I found a piece of me that had always been missing."

To complete her seminary work, she spent four full seminars at Christ Seminary-Seminex. During the rest of the year she continued her elementary teaching, took correspondence courses and attended classes at St. John's Seminary in Plymouth. She was also part of a program called Detroit Satellite. It was a difficult schedule.

Biological science has, in our time, increasingly widened the gap between technological advance and moral re-

But these enormous increases in human power over birth, life and death are not being met by a concomitant development of moral judgment.

CONSIDER SOME of the questions we face.

What is the value of human life? Who is to decide when it shall stop? Should a life be terminated when it shall stop? Should a life be terminated when the pain is too great? Are some lives worth more than others?

Should a new life be ended before birth because it is an inconvenience to the mother? Should scientists artificial-

The questions multiply. Some of them offend traditional sensibilities. Many of them pose problems that have never been dealt with before except, perhaps, in theory.

As new discoveries broaden the range of choices available to us in both the generation and termination of life, we recognize that we are uncomfortable about having these decisions made on a case-by-case basis.

OBSERVERS of medical practice have noted how difficult are the questions that confront the physician attending a patient in the last stages of terminal illness.

Some critics of the medical profession assert that doctors are simply not trained to judge on questions of ethical or humane values. They have suggested that laws should be enacted to remove life — or death — decisions from the purview of the physician, and appoint to that responsibility either an ombudsman or a committee of moral philoso-

In this supreme effort, we require the wisdom and sensitivity needed to formulate an ethical code for the modern world. ### This plan offers fine tax shelter

If you are like most of us, you have probably never heard of the Section 401 (k) plan. Yet, it provides an outstanding tax shelter for anyone who qualifies for it.

6C*(R,W,G-8B)

Simply stated, if you work for a corporation which offers this plan, you can elect to have up to 10 percent of your salary deposited in an investment account, with no taxes due on either the contributions or earnings until you make withdrawals. So your money can grow in a tax-deferred environment.

The 402 (k) plan, or the Salary Reduction Plan (SRP) has several advantages over an IRA.

• You can contribute up to 10 percent in an SRP, whereas your IRA contribution is limited to $2,000 per year.

• Frequently, your company would match half your contributions up to the 6-percent level. You would then have an instant 50-percent return on your investment.

 When you withdraw the money from an SRP, you can apply the 10year averaging rule (it calculates your tax as if the money were paid out in equal annual amounts over the following 10 years). Ten-year averaging is not allowed for IRA funds.

THERE ARE SOME disadvantages associated with SRPs as well.

 Money from this plan is extremely difficult to withdraw before youleave the company. In contrast, you can always withdraw your IRA fund if you pay the penalty and taxes.

• In SRPs your investment options are fewer than those available for IRAs.

Since payments from the company pension plan after retirement are usually based on that employee's salary in the last few years and since the SRP reduces your salary, you may receive lower pension payments on earnings finances and you Sid after salary reductions. You should therefore examine the SRP carefully before participating in it.

Thomas J. Mulcahey of Livonia was named the Automobile Club of Michigan's Livonia manager. He also serves as the Auto Club's Plymouth manager. Mulcahey joined the company in 1954 as an adjuster trainee.

Stephanie Anders of Westland has been appointed director of accounting ever since. We bought at $48.

So last July (1982), we went back to our broker and confirmed our own suspicions that Fluor would take years,

if ever, to get back to the price we bought it, and we asked this same organization for another recommendation. This time they recommended

A.T.T., and so we sold our Fluor for over $6.000 loss and bought A.T.T. You probably know what this stock has done

in growth in the last year, although our broker's best authorities on stock said it was the best and safest growth stock.

whether we should sell our A.T.T. for probably another loss and reinvest in another growth stock? We are not rich, so this matter is very important to us.

It sounds as though you would like me to say that your broker didn't do a very good job in selecting a growth

company for you, and I will. Fluor

Sales have increased at an excellent

rate and earnings per share did well through 1981. The company's earnings About three years ago, on the advice on invested capital did very well of our broker in Palm Beach, we bought $12,000 of Fluor Corp. because through 1980.

Don't blindly follow broker's lead

we were looking for a growth stock, and we were told that this particular THE IMPORTANT THING to recstock had a very good growth record. ognize about Fluor is that it is mostly However, about eight months after we in businesses that are very cyclical. It bought Fluor, it took a nosedive and is almost certain to be adversely afhas been selling at about $20 a share fected when business is bad, and it was.

But let's talk a little bit about your attitude, because if you are going to be a successful investor, I believe you are going to have to be a little more realis-

First, about brokers. It is important to recognize that a broker is primarily a salesman. He is likely to know more about the market than a novice investor, but he is not a security analyst, and it is not his job to tell you what to buy.

SOME BROKERS HAVE a lot of skill in selecting stocks and may have much backing from their firm's research department, but you only learn if they have that skill over a long period of experience in working with them.

If you are going to be a successful investor, it is necessary that you put forth enough effort to learn yourself the basic checks to run on any potential investment.

Now let's talk about your move to A.T.T. This company is about to become a brand new company. It seems to have terrific potential.

today's investor

Thomas E. O'Hara

of the National Association of Investment Clubs

HOWEVER, WHETHER IT will make the most of that potential or whether its competitors will come out on top is yet to be proved.

What I really want to say is that it may well take the new A.T.T. as long to prove it is a growth company, as it may take for Fluor to see the country return to booming prosperity, and for that company to return to its former growth

If you are lucky enough to get fast price movement in a stock, that is great, but in most cases, a price gain is most certain when you buy a good value that is currently under-priced, and wait for its value to be recognized by the market. You need some understanding of the company's business and a little patience.

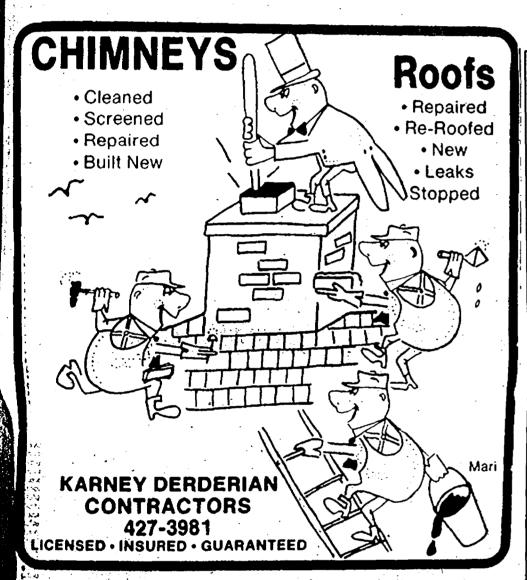

A FINAL SUGGESTION. The next time you have $12,000 to invest, don't put it all in one basket. I would divide that sum into four parts.

I am sending you a copy of Better 48068.

Investing's recent Model Portfolio. The kind of stocks covered there would make a good starting portfolio. But they also require patience.

Among the vintage autos expected for display are Cords, Dusenbergs and an Excalibur, as well as the more recent collector's items such as classic Tbirds and the gull-wing Bricklin.

Teachers' performance studied by task force

By Diane Gale staff writer

Many students in teaching programs have the lowest academic scores in the college, according to Dr. Norene Daly, who chaired a committee of educators across the nation.

Daly, a Farmington Hills resident, teaches in and heads the teacher's education program at Madonna College. She chaired a National Task Force on Shortage Surplus and Quality Issues in Teacher Education, sponsored by the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

The caliber of teaching programs and graduating teachers isn't meeting the grade, she said. But she looks to the future optimistically, if the business and education communities effect changes.

"The criticism that those who are currently entering the teaching profession are among the least academically able and have the lowest Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) scores, is justified," she said.

"Those who criticize teachers must realize that teachers, in addition to being perceived as low in status by the public, must deal with poor working thy, violence in the schools, and low pay," she said.

Enrollments in the education field are declining, because student interest is dropping "in a career which offers limited employment opportunities and rewards," according to the task force

BECAUSE OF a teacher shortage since the 1960s, which the task force projects to last in some classes through graduating quantities of teachers without emphasizing the quality of the education, according to Daly.

Michigan, however, hasn't experienced a shortage in teachers, and often "exports" them to other states that have lower supplies.

The average teacher in Michigan is 41 years old, and has been teaching for about 20 years.

"These are people that didn't have a strong training, because they were training people at a faster rate," Daly said. "I'm one of those people, and they didn't have the standards that they have now."

For a teacher to be retrained the individual has to have the incentive, Daly

"Many do want to be retrained, and it's up to the local schoool districts to be responsible," she said.

THE TASK force recommendations are as follows:

• The primary concerns of AACTE and other bodies affecting teacher education should be toward improving the type of education students enrolled in teaching programs receive, rather than the quantity of graduating students.

• AACTE should continue its efforts conditions, student and parental apa- to identify indicators of quality in teacher education programs and these efforts should become the primary agenda for the Task Force on Quality Issues in Teacher Education. They will meet in November, and should have their study completed by the next national AACTE meeting scheduled for February 1984.

> • AACTE should provide leadership by developing effective procedures for encouraging and enhancing excellence in teacher education programs.

• AACTE should assume responsibility, in cooperation with the National Center for Education Statistics, for an on-going study of teacher shortage/surplus issue.

 AACTE should provide leadership in the collection of teacher supply/demand data.

• AACTE should promote recruiting and/or retraining teachers in saturated fields to become certified in fields where there are shortages.

• AACTE should try to end a national effort of response to recent reports which recommend the issuance of emergency certificates to candidates who have not completed teacher education programs.

• AACTE should counteract negative publicity related to the caliber of students currently entering teacher education programs. • AACTE should encourage schools.

colleges and departments of education to assume a leadership role in influencing changes in certification standards.

• The information obtained by the task force should be distributed as broadly as possibly.

DALY SAID education represents the best possible investment in the nation's future.

"We have to be pragmatic and admit that business will benefit if they have a well-educated labor pool from which to draw, and society as a whole will benefit if we have a well-informed citizenry," she said.

The task force report is one of many studies conducted on the quality of education in American schools and teaching policies.

The most well known study is the "Nation at Risk." President Ronald Reagan appointed a commission to appraise the situation, which they referred to as a "rising tide of mediocrity. that threatens our very future as a nation and a people."

Reagan focused on the need of each state to make the changes, rather than depending on the federal government for financing.

Daly said a common thread running thorugh the reports is that schools aren't placing sufficient demands on students.

However, Daly optimistically looks at the negative aspects of the task force findings.

"Nationally, teacher education programs are changing, with an emphasis on extending the programs beyond the traditional four years and making it more difficult for students to be admitted to teacher education by using entrance exams and requiring that students maintain a grade point average that is higher than that required for some other college or university programs," she said.

DURING THE past two years, she said, Madonna has mandated stricter requirements on students in the education program.

Addressing future conditions the task force reported that children of the baby boom of 30 years ago will cause an "echo boom" of new students entering schools for the first time within the next decade.

"The shortage of teachers would extend into the next century unless steps are taken now to attract and keep high caliber teachers," she said.

The critical shortages of teachers is in mathematics, science, industrial arts and special education, with an expected decline in teachers in both the elementary and secondary schools. "The achievements of the past twenty years cannot be overlooked,' Daly said. "What we must do now is continue that record of achievement by making schools and schooling the number one national priority.'

Daly is a graduate of Madonna College's teacher education program, and once taught and served in administration in Walied Lake secondary schools.

CHIROPRACTIC OFFERS A DRUGLESS ALTERNATIVE TO PAIN AND SUFFERING

Questions you've always wanted to ask but were afraid to.

1. Dr. Grassam, you established the first Chiropractic Life Center in the State of Michigan over 15 years ago. Why do you call your office a Life.

A. We call our office a Chiropractic Life Center because our concern regarding our patients' health is for their total well being. More of a wholistic approach to health rather than a symptomatic treatment of a. diagnosed ache, pain or condition. At the Chiropractic Life Center we are concerned with cause of the patients' health problem. Thephilosophy upon which the Life Center is based is that the body is the self regulating and self heating organism and when brought into spinal nerve balance, the body will restore itself to health and repair and heal those various organs or body systems that are malfunc-

2. Why the great emphasis on Life rather than Health?

A. Nothing is bigger than LIFE. When the body is experiencing-100% LIFE, good health is the result. The objective of our office is to restore to the best of our ability 100% LIFE in all our patients.

Dr. Grassam, why is the spine so important to the Chiropractor?

A. A Chiropractor's primary concern with the spine is that the spinal column, which is made up of 24 individual bones, houses and protects the spinal cord and distributes the spinal nerves, of which there are 31 pair that go out to all bodily organs and systems controlling all their functions. If at any time the spinal bones misalign, even to the point of just a few millimeters, they can impinge or damage the spinal nerves cutting off the flow of Life energy from the brain to the organs, bringing about acloss of normal function, which eventually breaks down into a form of dis-ease, pain or a diagnosable condition. When the chiropractor locates the level of nerve damage in the spine, he corrects it with gentle chiropractic adjustments, taking the very hard bones of the spine off the very delicate nerve tissue, allowing the normal flow of the Life giving energy from the brain to the body. Thereby restoring the body to full Life and eventually full health.

Dr. Grassam, do you ever talk to your patients about Nutrition, exercise or living habits? Most definitely. Although our primary concern is with the spinal column and spinal nerves, we realize that a patient's lifestyle can be very influential with regards to health. A patient who lives a dynamically healthy lifestyle with proper eating habits, proper exercise and positive mental habits will experience a far superior quality of health. Whereas a patient who eats incor rectly, does not exercise, maintains a negative mental attitude towards life, will find themselves in and out of periods of good and bad health.

5. Dr. Grassam, how do you educate your patients to proper eating, proper exercise and proper mental

A: On a day to day basis, we influence our patients in the proper habits with regard to eating, exercise and positive mental attitudes. We hold special lectures for our patients with regards to proper lifestyles, we also bring in specialists in the fields of nutrition, fasting and exercise, in an attempt to give our patients a good foundation upon which they can control their own lifestyle and therefore effect their own health in a very positive manner. We are developing a fully computerized nutritional analysis program with which we determine types of foods our patients are eating and what deficiencies exist with their food intake. When we correct the misaligned vertebra of the spine, we sometimes find that due to the patients lack of exercise, the body is not able to held the vertebra in the proper position. For such patients, have established a a rehabilitative exercise through which we prescribe specific exercise programs to restore the strength and stability of their spine. We find that if we can get the patient to do various rehabilitative spinal exercises, they don't need to come into the office quite as much.

6. What do you see in the future of Health Care? A. The future in the Health Care industry is almost self evident. By the fact that you see people jogging, running, walking, their interests in vegetarianism, fasting, meditation and other natural phenomenon. The trend is 100% towards natural healing. Much of the research going on today is involved spinal biomechanics, nutrition, and rehabilitative exercise. We are realizing that the only really healing entity that exists today is a healthy body. When this body is brought into balance and harmony what can be accomplished is unlimited. The Chiropractic profession is leading the Health Care Industry in the field of natural healing and we are only beginning to scratch the surface of the human potential.

Champ falters, but regains touch in time

HE GAUNTLET — or maybe it was a golf glove — had been dropped. It lay there, blocking Ann Lauer's path to victory.

And she never even saw it.

Worse yet, she never even considered that it could be there.

"I had no idea what her score was," said Lauer, who held off Geralyn Repasky's challenge to win the Observer & Eccentric Women's Golf Classic yesterday at Livonia's Whispering Willows Golf Course.

Lauer thought herself to be the underdog. She was keeping an eye on Kathryn Heriford, the Farmington Hills woman who won the title two years ago, never figuring what Repasky might do.

"I BEAT (Heriford) by five strokes on the front nine," Lauer said. "I was playing smart, but I kept telling myself to keep going.

"I didn't even think about (Repasky) until we looked at our scorecards after we finished."

Maybe it was best Lauer never knew. She bucked the odds throughout the 18-hole tourney — and won.

Besides violating the first rule of tournament golf — know your-enemy — Lauer, a 19-year-old June graduate of Birmingham Groves and a greenskeeper at Birmingham Country Club:

 never played the course beforehand yesterday's round was her first-ever at Whispering Willows;

drove her ball into the woods on No. 2;
lost a ball when her drive rolled into the water at No. 9;

• hit her third shot into the bunker at No. 16, then, after blasting out, three-putted;
• hit another bunker at the par-three, 136-yard No. 17 and bogeyed, letting her lead slip to one stroke.

NONE OF WHICH really mattered. Because when it counted, Lauer was on target.

The final hole proved it. Repasky figured she trailed by two strokes at the time. Actually, the margin was just one.

Repasky went off the tee first, hitting a solid drive 185 yards into the middle of the fairway.

drive 185 yards into the middle of the fairway.
Heriford went off next, slicing her drive slightly right and short of Repasky's effort.

Up stepped Lauer. The collar could have tightened; after all, her lead had been cut two strokes in two holes. It didn't. Her drive rolled 10 yards past

It didn't. Her drive rolled 10 yards past Repasky's, and she followed that with a six-iron that landed 10 feet from the cup.

Despite the mounting pressure, Lauer controlled the collar.

"I DIDN'T want to seem rude, but I didn't even talk to those guys," Lauer said of her playing partners, Repasky and Heriford. "I said to myself, 'You're in your own world.' I just played my own game."

Her "own game" included a clutch 10-foot putt at 15 that "went in the side door," by her description. The ball rolled to the edge of the cup, hovered for a moment, then fell in.

"I just looked up and said, 'Someone's watching over me.'"

PERHAPS. But whoever was watching certainly didn't help Repasky much.

The Livonia Ladywood star, who will start her freshman year at Bowling Green State tomorrow on a partial golf scholarship, fell back by two strokes after nine holes, then turned it on over the back nine to card a 39.

Still, golf ball-shaped demons are bound to haunt Repasky's dreams.

A wayward four-foot putt at No. 16 that would have tied the score was Repasky's only gaffe over the last few holes. It was a miss that nightmares are made of.

"That," Repasky agreed, "and her putt at 15."
Repasky's effort should have consoled her, but frustration burned its way into her memory. Her second-place finish was not a new experience for her — it was the third time in as many years she took home the runners-up trophy.

"It's like kissing your sister," she said. Next summer's plans include a mini-tour through Florida, but the always-game Repasky vowed to return for the O&E tourney.

"I'll always come back," she swore. "I have to win this thing."

LAUER, TOO, said she would return next year to defend her title. She departed for Mt. Pleasant and Central Michigan today, starting her freshman year at a school that has no varsity girls' golf team. The youngest of five children and the only girl, Lauer has more than proved her athletic ability.

"She's got four older brothers and she can beat them all," said an obviously proud mother, Phyllis Lauer. "They all say to her, 'Ann, come out in the back yard with me and show me what I'm doing wrong."

Forget what's wrong. Just tell us what you're doing that's so right.

Lauer wins battle for O&E golf crown

By C.J. Risak staff writer

The young lions were hungriest yesterday, scratching and clawing their way through the final holes of this year's version of the Observer & Eccentric Women's Golf Classic at Livonia's Whispering Willows Golf Course.

A pair of 19-year-olds, Ann Lauer and Geralyn Repasky, battled down the stretch for an elusive title that at times seemed within both their grasps. In the end, the lead Lauer built during the first nine holes was enough to frustrate Repasky by a single stroke.

A June graduate from Birmingham Groves and a two-time golfing All-Stater, Lauer finished with an 81. Repasky, who graduated from Livonia Ladywood in June, scored an 82.

LAUER CARDED a 41 on the front nine to Repasky's 43 and eventually built her lead to three strokes with three holes to play. But Repasky kept challenging, pulling to within one after Lauer hit sand on 16 and 17, with No. 18 still to play.

Lauer withstood Repasky's charge, however, hitting a perfect drive on 18, then lifting a 6-iron to within 10 feet of the cup. She two-putted from there for a par and the victory, as Repasky's 25-foot birdie effort from the front of the green came up short.

Geralyn Repasky's addition summed up her O&E fortunes: a third straight second-place finish.

"I don't know . . . I'm just not too strong on my trap shots right now," the champion said of her problems on 16 and 17. "I was saying to myself, 'Just keep on going.'"

Lauer followed her own advice expertly on 18. "I hit my drive low, and it just ran," she said of her tee shot on the last hole. That proved to be a pivotal shot, setting up her 6-iron and, eventually, her par.

ALL OF WHICH added to Repasky's frustration in O&E tourney play. She has now finished second for three straight years. Yesterday, the turning point for the Livonia native came at 16, when she missed a chance to make up two strokes.

Lauer bunkered her third shot on 16 and, after blasting out of the trap, three-putted for a double-bogey. Repasky, meanwhile, chipped from the edge of the green to within four feet of the cup'and a par.

"I read it to break left to right," Repasky recalled afterwards. "But I turned my putter just before I hit it."

The miss was costly. Lauer was in the bunker again on the par-3 17th and carded a four. Repasky parred the hole, but her charge ended one stroke short.

Finishing third in the championship flight was Mary Gilbertson of Livonia with an 84. Elizabeth Heintz of Birmingham had an 89, with past champion Kathryn Heriford of Farmington Hills and Julie Sproul of Livonia each scoring 90. Gilbertson was awarded low net honors with a 70.

IN FIRST FLIGHT, Betty Delano of Plymouth, a senior at Eastern Michigan University, captured low gross with an 86. Cindy Tomasino of Birmingham was second (88), with Fran Foley of Livonia third (93). Low net winner was Carol Larsen of Livonia with a 64, followed by Joyce Mitchell of Bloomfield Hills (69).

Second flight low gross victor was Ava Szudejko of Livonia with a 94. Barb Williams of Canton was second (98), and Anna Levin of Southfield was third (100). Diane Luoto of Livonia carded a 63 to take the low net title, with Deborah Teichman of Canton runner-up (65).

end it was her round that was best, making her the reigning O&E women's champ.

Hall looking over Smith's shoulder

By C.J. Risak staff writer

The comparisons are inevitable.

The only quarterback to take the Wolverines all the way to a Rose Bowl victory in Bo Schembechler's regime at University of Michigan was not a hard-running option-style player such as Rick Leach or Dennis Franklin.

It was a gimpy-kneed signal caller who didn't possess a particularly strong arm, but who was accurate enough and a strong enough leader to drive the Wolverines to their only Rose Bowl win.

John Wangler

John Wangler.
Steve Smith succeeded Wangler and, at the outset 1983 Michigan football season, he is the favorite to start there again.

BUT THIS YEAR things could change Just maybe.

That's because a Wangler-type quarterback nearly rescued Michigan last year in the Rose Bowl. Indeed, this quarterback, whose playing career to that point consisted of 14 passes, came off the bench when Smith was separated from both reality and his shoulder and brought the Wolverines close to

Until that game, few of even the most dlehard Michigan fans had ever heard of Dave Hall. After it, many wondered where he had been all season hopes that performance was not overlooked by the coaching staff. He believes he deserves a shot at the No. 1

"I think by playing in the Rose Bowl (Schembechler's) confidence in me has risen," Hall said Saturday during Michigan's press day. "I was told that whoever was playing best at the time will play."

THAT MEANS that Smith, who anguished through an up-and-down season a year ago, may not be as secure this time around. There's a solid replacement waiting for a shot.

All this stirs memories of the not-sodistant past, when a quarterback better known for passing than running first made an impression by coming off the bench to rescue the Wolves.

That's right — Wangler.

"I've thought about that a lot," Hall said. Like Wangler, Hall's style is that of a classic drop-back, pocket-passing quarterback. Both have also suffered knee problems. Hall has just recovered from arthoscopic surgery to flush out loose cartilage. "When we won the Rose Bowl I was a freshman," Hall recalled. "Since then, I've tried to pattern myself after

"Players respected him. He worked hard coming back from his knee injury in the Gator Bowl. I'd like to do some of the same things, be able to come in and provide a spark."

BUT HALL, a 6-4, 205 pounder in junior season in elgibility, believes he can do much more than come in off the bench. The confidence he displayed in last January's Rose Bowl is a part of his basic makeup.

"I'm shootin' for (a starting post),"
he said, "I'd be selling myself short if I

"I really wasn't that surprised that I played well in the Rose Bowl. I was nervous, of course. But I was ready. I went out (to Pasedena) with the attitude that if my chance came I'd be ready to play."

'Who's who' of runners fills up Crim field

Steve Kenyon, Greg Meyer, Herb Lindsay, Nick Rose, Kirk Pfeffer, Dave Hinz: the list reads like a who's who among world-class runners. The list isa who's who of world-class runners.

Those runners and some 4,000 more will be in Flint this weekend to compete in the seventh annual Bobby D. Crim 10-Mile Road Race. The race will get underway at 8:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 27.

The top runners from the United States, Canada, New Zealand, England and Ireland will compete in the event which has become the largest single-day fund-raising event in the nation held on behalf of Special Olympics.

Among those include Joan Benoit, fresh from the Pan-Am Games, Laurie Binder, Karen Blackford, Nancy Conz, Lisa Larsen, Julie Isphording, and Marge Rosasco.

IN THE SIX previous years, the race has garnered more than $470,000 for Special Olympics. The race has grown from a 750-member field in 1977 to the 4,000-member plus field that will compete this year. It is now recognized as one of the premier running events in the country.

Eventual tournament champion Dallas, Texas, ousted Wayne-Ford from the double-elimination tournament on Sunday, 3-2. The Westland team ended the season with a 30-4 record.

"That was as good a 14-year-old game as you could see," said Westland coach Russ Lampinen. "You have to give Dallas credit. They came back to win it after one loss."

Lee Jones, a 6-foot-4, 210-pound fireballer, outdueled Westland's Billy Barber for the victory. Jones scattered eight hits and struck out eight. "He just threw BB's at us," remarked Lampi-Ladywood loses a pair of starters from last year's Catholic League A-B champions. The Blazers went 22-1 before being ousted by St. Joseph's in last year's quarterfinals.

"I'm looking forward to it," Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh said. "It's a strong league, and it should help us in the state tournament."

Borgess coach Denise Zatkoff, starting her fourth season, added: "Nobody has to play in a league as strong as ours - in my opinion - especially with Ladywood in there."

"Emily is very strong in all areas of the game when it comes to fundamentals," Kavanaugh said. "She'll play the same role along with Char, who has really improved. They'll take the lead roles."

Wagner averaged 12 points and shot 46 percent from the floor, while Govan was the team's second leading rebounder and averaged in double figures.

The third returning starter is 5-10 forward Jan Randall.

That leaves the other two spots up for grabs as stalwarts Lavetta Willis (Notre Dame) and Ann Lukens (Schoolcraft College) must be replaced.

Vying for jobs are 5-10 Sue LaLiberte and 6-0 Debbie Lapinski, both sophomores. Tracy LaDoucur, at 5-10, also should figure in the battle. Junior Trish White and Cathy Schram are bat-

In Northwest Suburban League

North, Glenn pre-season choices

By Chris McCosky and Brad Emons staff writers

"North Farmington is the team to beat," said Westland John Glen girls basketball coach George Sommerman, summing up the 1983 Northwest Suburban League (NSL) girls hoops race.

"North could be ranked in the state," he went on. "But, you can't let down in this league. All the teams can be giant-killers."

If you take a poll of NSL coaches, opinion would be that John Glenn and North Farmington are the Frontrunners. North, 17-4 overall last year, won the NSL over Garden City, Livonia Franklin and Glenn.

Franklin and Redford Union, however, could be a lactor. It's as Sommerman suggested: On any given hight. . .

NORTH FARMINGTON

Call them the new-look Raiders.

The team fourth-year coach Greg Grodzicki puts on the floor in 1983 will barely resemble the 1982 team which fell in the district championship game to Walled Lake Central.

To be sure, Amy Austin will be back. The potential All-Stater with a 15 points per game scoring average will again be the Raiders' big gun. Senior. center Suzanne Howley and junior guard Lisa Mummert also return.

But, the size is gone. Graduation stole Margie Lee and Marsha Thompson from the Raiders, their twin towers.

Being different, however, does not mean being worse. In fact, Grodzicki thinks his team will be better than last year.

"We are different. We aren't as big as last year, but we're quicker. We know we can run. It'll be a different brand of basketball, and, yes, I think we'll be better," he said.

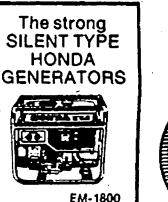

North is able to make the transition to a speed team because of the versatility of Austin, who will swing between guard and forward, and the emergence of sophomore guard Laina Shaw, who can flat-out fly.

Others expected to help this year are seniors Mary Kozicki, Linda Rennard, and Islay Butters.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN

"This could be one of our best teams," said Sommerman, now in his eighth year. "We'll get much better as we go along. We're still inconsistent, but we're enthused."

The Rockets are "10 deep," according to Franklin coach Tim Newman. Leading the way is All-Observer standout Sophie Castonguay, a 5-10 forward. She was the team's leading scorer. Castonguay is joined by returning starters Darla Bergman, a 5-11 center, Michele McCullen, a 5-11 forward; and point guard Julie Pucci.

"Pucci has worked to improve her game," added Sommerman, whose team was 13-9 a year ago. "She'll be a better player this season."

Also pressing for time is 5-11 junior Cheryl Dozier, a JV starter last season "who's strong inside with a good jump shot," said the Glenn coach.

And if that's not enough, sophomore Nancy Roulo, a point guard, and 5-11 Diana Sommerman, are available for duty. They are joined by small forwards Julie Hysko and Judy Bundas, both juniors, and Sally Lang, a senior.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

The Patriots, like Glenn, return four starters. But the problem is lack of size.

Returnees Sue Johnson and Alicia Lectka, a pair of 5-8 seniors, should be off-guards, but must play with their backs to the basket according to New-

"They're two of our better shooters," said Newman, whose team was 11-9 a year ago.

Mary Pollard, a defensive specialist, returns at the point. Junior Carolyn Smith returns as her partner in the backcourt.

Sophomore Tracy Lectka, who played as a freshman, will help bring the ball up, according to Newman. Karen McCool and Jill Phillips, both forwards, should also play.

"All five will be involved in the offense," Newman said. "They all can put it in. We're in the same boat as last year. We're smaller in size so we'll mix it up. We'll slow it down when we need to and run when we have it (the break). We don't want to get in foul trouble."

GARDEN CITY

It will be wait and see in 1983, said Garden City coach Jan Moore.

Forward Tammy Narramore is the only returning starter off last year's team which compiled a 16-4 record, good for second place in the NSL. Nine players were lost to graduation last year.

"I really don't know what to expect," Moore said. "Only time will tell, I guess."

Besides Narramore, last year's top point scorer, seniors Lori Russ, Carol Howard and Kathy Green will counted on to lead an otherwise inexperienced

Besides the relative inexperience, Garden City

Sophie Castonguay leads a veteran Glenn cast which includes four returning starters from last year's team, which upset Plymouth Salem for the district championship.

will have to overcome a lack of size if they are to compete for the title again this year.

On the positive side, Moore said this year's squad is more unified.

"This is a good team. They work well together. There were some conflicts last year with the combining of the schools that won't be a problem this year. There doesn't seem to be any pressure or hard feelings. These kids seem willing to work. That wasn't always the case last year," Moore said.

REDFORD UNION

When you speak of improved teams this year, be sure to include Terri Anthony's Redford Union squad.

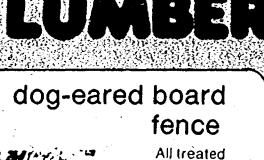

Coming off a 3-18 season last year, Redford looked strong in area summer leagues and seem to be ready to make a mark on the NSL.

Returning this year are seniors Kellie Szabo, an All-League performer last year, and Brenda Peer. Also returning is super-sophomore Julie Marchand.

Marchand, said Anthony, is the key to the season for the Panthers. Marchand, though just 5-foot-8, will hold down the post position. As a freshman last year, she averaged nine rebounds and eight points' per game.

Helsinki, Finland. This morning my father and I had time for a quick bite at Market Square by the harbor, my favorite place in Helsinki. I ate fresh strawberries while watching the seagulls hover over the fishing boats displaying their catches of the morning.

Now it is time to leave the brightly colored flower stands and red rooftops of Helsinki behind, because we will take the Leningrad Express east into an unfamiliar world.

The train will take us 27 miles on an eight-hour journey. We will stay two days in Leningrad and return by train. Besides being a convenient and inexpensive side trip from Finland, the train lets you gradually move from west to east, highlighting the differences between cultures and giving you a sense of traveling through time.

Depending on your expectations, the train ride can be filled with esplonage and fantasy or it can serve as a classic introduction to the ways of Soviet Rus-

Six people are in each compartment which consists of two roomy padded benches facing each other, two fold-out sleeping benches above, a little table by the window and an overhead lug-

The railway we will travel on was built when Finland was under Russian rule in the early 1800s. It connected the newly appointed capital of Finland, Helsinki, with what was then St. Petersburg (now Leningrad). We will travel down the Karelian Isthmus, lost by Finland to Russia in the last of the 42 wars the countries have fought against each other.

At noon we begin to roll out of the station and Helga tells us that we must declare all money, jewelry and other valuables for comparison when we leave the Soviet Union. She also gives us a two-page guide on train protocol. Among other things, it tells us that the toilets will be closed for two hours at the Russian border.

As we ponder the significance of this and help each other fill out the customs declarations forms, we become quickly acquainted. There are many personalities and regions represented in this 45person American tour group.

We hear one of the Texans admit money into rubles. By now there are loudly, "I ain't been doin' nothing but complainin' since I left San Antonio." In our compartment is a rather cryptic professor from San Francisco who will feed our fantasies of espionage and danger with labor camp tales.

OUTSIDE, THE endless Finnish fir trees rush by. They look proud against the cool blue sky. Here and there we slow down or stop at idyllic little stations with neat yellow buildings and big shady trees.

The scenery does not hold our attention, however. There is tension in the air and we find ourselves exchanging quips about Peter Lorre, Sydney Greenstreet, trenchcoats and guns.

We laugh nervously at "ghost stories" about spies and labor camps told softly over the rythmic clicking of the wheels. Now and then someone looks around the corner into the aisleway. My glance follows, but the passengers are only armed with pop and beer. Our tour leader will bring us boxed picnic lunches at 2, but we decide to explore the dining car.

After making our way through the swaying aisles and what seems like 50 doors, we find people seated at black formica tables, drinking and laughing. Here you can order coffee, beer and pop ($1-$1.75), champagne ($9 a bottle), and caviar ($3.25) to eat there or take soothing. Back and forth she goes, four to your compartment.

I ask for pop and am surprised to get a bottle with a familiar blue and white logo . . . Russian Pepsi-Cola.

Back in the compartment, my new 'friends' tell me to sample the Russian beer. I make a face. It is watery and tastes like vinegar. Helga brings us our picnic lunch which is quite good but hard to balance on your knees. There is chicken and salad and some people stash away the bread and jam for later.

At 3 p.m. it is time for Finnish customs and passport control. A polite Finn collects our passports, then we track to the bus. As we drive through are free to get a snack at the Finnish streets we see potholes, soldiers and station of Vainikkala.

BACK ON the train, we are soon approaching the Russian border town of Vyborg. A storm has been building up and the sky is darkening. Our attention is diverted from the window to the Russian border guards in uniforms and high black boots approaching down the

They motion us back into the compartment. Our visas were given to us a few minutes ago and a passenger in our compartment accidentally received another man's photo on his visa. We are

The guard looks at the visa, the man, the visa again, talks to his comrade in Russian and shuts the door to our compartment. We wait. No one tries to open it. "I wonder if we are being bugged," someone says. There is a long silence. "Will someone crack and make a break for it to the woods?" someone else adds, laughing.

Thirty minutes pass, then we are allowed off the train to exchange our great cracks of thunder, and lightening streaks fill the sky. I lose sight of my group and wander downstairs where I get my first glimpse of ordinary Russians, in flower print dresses or grey pants, standing in long lines. They stare right back at me, along with two soldiers. Back upstairs I see a prominent sign that says "Money Exchange."

NOW THE rain is coming down in great torrents. I follow the herds of running people back to our train. The man with the mixed-up photo has been pulled aside and questioned by the guards. "I bluffed them," he says later, smiling, until the guard finally threw up his hands in exasperation and yelled, "Go!"

Now we are heading into Russia. The forests are darkened by the clouds, the houses are in need of paint. There is a Russian woman tending to her cows and groups of faded buildings with tin

A matronly Russian woman appears at our doorway and asks us if we want tea. Looking down the aisle, I see a fire in a grey metal furnace in the corner of the car. In the furnace is a samovar. The woman fills our glasses with hot

She comes back again with biscuits and sugar cubes. The tea is good and or six glasses in hand . . . into the next compartment, the next and the next.

Just as with the slow-moving hotel waitresses and the scores of men chopping down grass with sickles that we will come to see, the work methods in Russia seem purposely left at a 19thcentury pace probably to keep everyone busy and working.

As evening approaches, so does Leningrad, and the tin roof houses give way to apartment buildings with laundry hanging on the balconies. The station is quiet. We are guided from our

Passing by many bridges and rivers we learn why Leningrad is called "The Venice of the North." Our guide, Katya, a broad-faced, smooth-skinned Russian girl, translates the omnipresent redlettered signs for me, such as "Glory to Lenin and the People of the Soviet Socialist Republic" and "We Shall Fulfill the Five-Year Plan."

She proudly points to a factory billboard. "It is a great honor for a worker to get his picture here," she beams, "a great honor."

From among the choice of tickets to the circus, folklore dance, ballet, opera or theatre, we sample an energetic, soul-stirring folklore performance and the famed Russian circus.

The tour pace is hectic and I leave wishing that I had set aside an afternoon to explore on my own as a few Return. On the train ride back, many people celebrate with champagne and caviar, full of tales about the boisterously singing Romanians, the Russians offering to buy clothes or anything Western and the excitable people who seem to yell every answer to you

As we get off at the Finnish border town on this warm, sunny day, a Swedish chorus is singing outside the train. The Russian guards have disappeared and the uplifting music seems like an ironic contrast to the foreboding thunderstorm of the previous trip. I feel it is the perfect touch, fulfilling my every expectation.

Area musicians join jazz-festival lineup

See related story on next page

By Jagnes Windell special writer

HEN THE MONTREUX-Detroit Kool Jazz Festival IV opens Wednesday for its six-day life, more than 100 Detroit-area musicians will be rubbing musical shoulders with the likes of Ella Fitzgerald, Count Basie, Stan Getz, Freddie Hubbard, Abbey Lincoln and Ramsey Lewis.

This year the festival will feature 98 concerts, two film showings, two clinics and more than 200 jazz musicians gathered in Detroit to entertain hundreds of thousands of jazz fans. That this music can be heard in a dozen different places around the city adds to the inviting extravaganza.

The uniqueness of the festival is highlighted by the fact that it has never neglected the homegrown jazz artist.

Among local musicians performing for the crowds that will flock to the riverfront is mainstay Detroit jazz pianist Bess Bonnier. A fixture since the 1950s on the local jazz scene, Bonnier was pianist in the Jack Brokensha trio at the vibist's own club. She was a regular at the Vineyards, Charley's Crab, Top of the Pontch and Baker's Keyboard Lounge.

SHE ALSO HAS been planist-in-residence at the Detroit Institute of Arts' Sunday Afternoon Crystal Gallery for the last few years and for 27 months has been the regular planist at the Summit in the Renaissance Center's Westin Hotel.

When Bonnier brings her trio to Hart Plaza for a concert on Saturday, Sept. 3, she will be playing music intended to appeal to a wide audience.

"I think that's important," she said, "because when thousands of people come to a jazz festival, they're not all going to be jazz aficionados." For her, though, the love of able feast like the Montreux-Detroit Kool Jazz Festival have as much to do with the atmosphere as with the music. "The joy of having a festival is just the gathering, the feel of bringing people together and the elan of it all," Bonnier said. "It's a good, healthy thing for the city and it draws out a variety of people."

WHILE BONNIER has enjoyed a certain amount of local and national recognition, other area jazz musicians have been overlooked. Appearance in a prestigious jazz festival is an opportunity for the hometown musician. That's why this jazz festival is especially important, said Detroit jazz pianist James Tatum.

"It gives you greater exposure to people throughout the world," he said. The festival has international significance because of its association with the Montreux International Jazz Festival in Switzerland.

"It's fascinating and amazing to find people flying in from various parts of the country to witness the festival," Ta-

"That exposure helps to bridge the local musician with other avenues of performance in other parts of the country. By being able to say that you've played at the Montreux-Detroit festival, it gives you greater clout."

Guitarist Ron English, a Lansing nave who has been a vital nart of the Detroit music community for several years, said it's exposure which is most helpful to the local musician.

"IN TERMS OF sheer numbers," he said, "you could be playing for up to 10,000 people at one time. But even more important, it's the opportunity to have your music examined in a context where people are there to hear good music performed by major jazz figures. And they hear you, too." No local jazz musician will be heard at the festival unless he is invited by the festival. Bonnier recalls what that was like for her.

"I remember the first year I wasn't asked and I found it painful," she said. "But I think it's important to include all of the fine Detroit jazz musicians who frequently get overlooked.

"I wouldn't be offended now if I weren't asked next year, if a lesserknown musician got a chance to play, because it's a lovely accolade being asked."

James Tatum, director of Detroit's Murray Wright High School Fine Arts Department, as well as a leading jazz pianist, will be participating for his fourth time in the festival. Well known for bringing together jazz and religious music, Tatum and his Trio Plus will perform highlights from his "The Contemporary Jazz Mass" on Sunday, Sept. 4, at Hart Plaza.

James Tatum

different aspects of spiritual music and the blues, particularly in the harmonic progressions of the chords," explained Tatum, who is a graduate of the University of Michigan's School of Music.

"Whe you listen to spiritual music in the minor key, there is a definte relation to the jazz character. Jazz expresses not only the happy mood but the suffering and agony as well. The minor key helps to bring out those expressions of feeling."

Bonnier said that in her hour set she will spotlight a new treatment of Duke Ellington's "A Train." "It will be in what we call a free Latin feel," she said, "and musically, because of what we do with the chords, it will be a totally new treatment of the classic."

Ron English, leading a new six-member group, will open Saturday night, Sept. 3, at the Music Hall for Freddie Hubbard. English has a few things up his musical sleeve, too.

"We've got guitar, violin, vibes, d percussion"

Bess Bonnier

"and that allows us to get a nice, thick expressive line. It will be a very throaty, vocal kind of sound that will feature a massed harmonic support when we

PLAYING ORIGINAL music which will concentrate on interesting textures and rhythms, English's group will include himself on electric guitar, Robert Allison on vibes, John Dana playing basss, Tom Starr on drums, Ahsia Hill handling percussion and Marlene Rice on violin.

Associated with all forms of music in Detroit, English has taught at Oakland University's Jazz Studies Program, freelanced with the Fisher Theatre orchestra, appeared many times with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra and played at most jazz clubs in the city.

He said he was pleasantly surprised to learn he was selected to open for trumpeter Hubbard.

"Freddie Hubbard sometimes takes

lot of flak for his creative and moodsetting dance rhythms," English said. "A lot of musicians have been subjected to that kind of criticism since the

"However, as a concert artist, Freddie's thing has always been very broad and he touches all bases. He's a sterling improvisor and I'm pleased to know we : are opening for him. I think our music will also set a strong mood and still keep an emphasis on improvisation,"

WHILE TO SOME people jazz and musical considerations are the most vital aspects of a jazz festival, Bonnier sees it a bit differently.

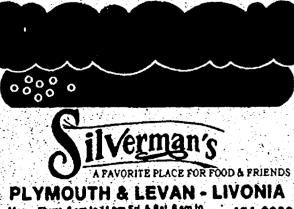

"It's possible — just possible — that people with their prejudices will bump into one another and start talking and maybe find out that they have something to talk to each other about. And maybe they will find out that they like each other more than they think," she

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

URING THE MONTREUX-DETROIT Kool Jazz Festival, there's one man who knows what everything's supposed to sound like, even before the concerts begin.

That man is Bill Platt, manager and head engineer for Destiny Sound, the concert-sound division of Arnholdt Williams Music Inc., in Canton.

Destiny Sound is putting together the sound systems for all the concerts at Montreux-Detroit IV, just as it has in the previous three years of the jazz festival.

"My main job is for people not to notice us," Platt said, in his low-key manner. When people think the sound is good, they aren't concerned with what's happening to produce it, he explained.

"OUR PORTRAYAL is to make the group sound the way it wants to sound. You need a lot of sophisticated equipment to overcome the acoustics problems of most buildings," Platt said.

In the headquarters of Destiny Sound, adjoining the music store, he described the first year of handling sound for Montreux-Detroit. "It was real exciting and we had some great artists. We had a lot of new experiences we had to learn about."

One of the biggest problems can be bad weather at any of the outdoor concerts, which are generally the free ones. Rain in the morning can delay setting up equipment, and if it rains during a concert, then equipment has to be covered and the concert moved to an indoor site.

"This year there will be a tarp over the amphitheater at Hart Plaza, and the equipment will be protected more," Platt said. Rain sites include the ballroom of the Veterans Memorial Building and the pit area at Hart Plaza. Extra equipment will be installed this year at the rain sites.

If a concert has to be moved, an artist may be cut short occasionally, and the concert continue with the next group. "We try to get all the artists on," Platt said.

Besides handling the sound system, Destiny Sound also provides equipment personally requested by each artist for their performance. Because pianos are hard to move, groups usually ask that these be made available for the concert.

Platt flipped through a sheaf of individual contract riders. Tito Puente, the Latin jazz ensemble, wants an acoustic and an electric piano for Montreux-Detroit. "Most jazz groups and big bands want both," he said. "They like to use electric instruments of the new age."

For pianist Oscar Peterson, "We have a special Bosendorfer grand piano." This piano, rented from another music store in Detroit, has an extra half-octave of keys on it. Most other artists request a seven- or nine-foot

Steinway grand plano.

Other 'equipment desired includes drums and guitar and bass amps, to be plugged into the musician's own guitar. Only if the star is a drummer, such as Tito Puente, will he bring his own drums

PERCUSSION instruments such as vibraphones, congas and timbalis are provided by Destiny Sound. "They bring small things themselves. We call them 'toys,' " he said. "We also supply music stands."

Three hours before each performance, a sound check is done. All the instruments are tested out with the group, and the level of the microphones and everyone on stage is checked. This procedure usually takes an hour.

"The sound engineer will be at the sound check, and generally the artist will talk to the mixer, telling him what he's going to do and how he wants it portrayed," Platt said.

At the sound check, markings are placed on the floor, so that if another group plays in between, the equipment can be put back where the first artist wants it when the group returns.

"Some big groups bring a sound engineer, but mostly we do the sound mixing," Platt said. Twelve to 32 microphones are provided, and every instrument generally has its own mike.

FOR SOME OF the more acoustic groups and big band jazz, two trumpets might share a mike. Quieter instruments, such as saxophone and flute, might have a mike on each one.

"It all goes to a big mixing console, where the sound mixer or engineer tries to portray what the group is trying to do," he said.

Platt, who is an engineer, sometimes will mix a concert for another event. But at Montreux, where concerts take place at eight locations at once, he manages all the other engineers.

Arnoldt Williams himself may go down and tune pianos, Platt said. However, Destiny Sound provides two piano tuners who work full-time at all the jazz festival sites.

Platt said, "It takes 45 minutes to an hour to tune a piano. We must have about 14 different pianos down there."

THE SOUND MIXER at the console tries to sit back where the audience is, preferably in the center of the crowd. Sometimes the festival site is so crowded the mixer must sit on the side.

Destiny Sound also has been doing sound for the Detroit-Windsor International Freedom Festival for the last three years and for the Grand Prix, its two years. "We also do many shows at Ford Auditorium, Cobo Hall, Masonic Temple and the Music Hall," Platt said.

For two years, it did the mixing for Renaissance Live! held outdoors at the Westin Hotel. "We do shows inside with local groups now," he said.

Thirty-five persons are working on Montreux from Destiny Sound, eight full-time and the rest hired part-time for the summer.

"There are so many events, they work four days a week," he said: "We are doing a lot of shows. We do fairs, city events. We did work with Quincy Jones and Stevie Wonder last year."

HE SAID some equipment has been rented to Meadow Brook Music Festival. "The mixing consoles that bigger groups want they don't have."

Platt said he has always been a musician. He started on trumpet and attended sumnmer camp at Interlochen. He studied engineering at Schoolcraft Community College and began doing sound for a company developing products for the music industry.

"I got so busy I didn't finish college," he said. He has gone on the road with Emerson, Lake and Palmer, the Rolling Stones, Grand Funk Railroad and Bob Seger. For a while, he had his own group, Flyin' Easy, which played jazz and pop at the Renaissance Center.

"Good Sam" (1948), 11:40 p.m. toiay on Ch. 9. Originally 113 minutes. Disappointing describes this Leo McCarey comedy with Gary Cooper as an incurable good Samaritan. The rewards are few for both the audience and Cooper, and who wants to see Coop taken advantage of by a host of moochers, while wife Ann Sheridan looks on disapprovingly. A complete waste of talent.

Rating: $1.30.

"Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" (1939), 1 p.m. Sunday on Ch. 50. Originally 129 minutes.

Frank Capra films demand a certain amount of overacting. Afterall, they're more like fables than realistic portrayals of American lifestyles. Some of them may capture the essence of the American spirit, but there's nothing about them that should be confused for reality. And while Jimmy Stewart excels in Capra's "It's a Wonderful Life," he's absolutely awful in "Mr. Smith." Here's the difference: "Wonderful Life" involves ghosties and a voyage in time, while "Mr. Smith" is a would-be expose of corruption in Washington, D.C. Overacting goes with the fable and fantasy films, but not with an expose. Jean Arthur, Claude Rains and the Capra stable of Edward Arnold, Thomas Mitchell, Harry Carey and other familar faces co-star. Rating: $2.50.

Tuesday on Ch. 50. Originally 160 minutes.

Director Otto Preminger keeps a close rein on Jimmy Stewart in this overly long but riveting courtroom drama. Although the subject matter was racy a generation ago, it smacks of standard soap opera fare today. Nonetheless, Stewart, Lee Remick, Ben Gazzara, George C. Scott, Arthur O'Connell and Murray Hamilton all give bravura performances and make "Anatomy" a film worth watching.

"The Kentuckian" (1955), 1 Wednesday night on Ch. 50. Originally 104 minutes.

Walter Matthau is a super screen villain and Burt Lancaster a stalwart frontiersman in this entertaining adventure yarn. The film's a bit predictable but there's enough action to overcome that.

roll call report

House blunts Reagan power

Here's how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the days before the current summer recess.

HOUSE

RIGHTS — By a vote of 286 for and 128 against, the House adopted an amendment providing that a member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission can be removed by a president only for "neglect of duty or malfeasance in office."

The six commissioners presently serve open-ended terms, and the law specifies no basis for removal. President Reagan's recent dismissal of three members promoted this amendment, which was attached to legislation extending the life of the commission. The bill (HR 2230) was sent to the Senate.

Supporter Peter Rodino, D-N.J., said the amendment would thwart a president who "might willynilly remove someone because he disagreed with them" on civil rights issues.

Opponent James Sensenbrenner, R-Wis., called the measure "an infringement on executive power that any president. . . would not put up with."

Members voting yes wanted to make it more difficult for a president to remove a civil rights commissioner.

Voting yes: Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, Dennis Hertel, D-Detroit, William Ford, D-Taylor and Sander Levin, D-Southfield.

Voting no: William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

WASTE - The House adopted, 236 for and 180 against, an amendment to increase federal regulation of hundreds of thousands of small businesses that produce hazardous waste.

The amendment required businesses generating at least 25 kilograms of such waste per month to report to the government and tell the hauler that the material is hazardous. The goal is to bring about safe disposal of the toxic waste.

It replaced language in HR 2867 setting the reporting threshhold at 100 kilograms per month. The still-pending bill is a rewrite of the basic hazardous waste law.

Supporter Ron Wyden, R-Ore., said that "absent any simple notification requirements, the horror stories of explosions, fires, acid spills and water contamination in ordinary sanitary landfills will Opponent Richard Shelby, D-Ala., said the requirement will be impossible to enforce and is likely to cause "illegal dumping to such a degree as this country has never experienced."

Members voting yes wanted to increase the number of small businesses subjected to hazardous waste reporting requirements.

Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Ford and Levin. Voting no: Broomfield.

BENEFITS - The House passed, 338 for and 84 against, and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 3409) whose effect is to provide at least a few more weeks of jobless pay in states where the economy is

At issue was a special category of unemployment pay, known as Federal Supplemental Compensation (FSC), that goes to individuals whose basic eligibility for state and federal unemployment compensation has expired.

Many states are to be dropped from FSC eligibility as the economy brightens. However, an error by the Labor Department in administering the program created confusion as to when FSC money will stop flowing. This bill guarantees that affected states will get at least four more weeks of pay-

Supporter Olympia Snowe, R-Me., said the bill "clarifies the intent of Congress regarding the current extension of long-term unemployment bene-

Opponent Bill Frenzel, R-Minn., said it was wrong for Congress "to legitimize a bureaucratic error and spend a couple of hundred million dollars providing these extra benefits to which no one is entitled under the law."

Members voting yes wanted more jobless benefits to be provided uner the FCS program. . .

Voting yes: Pursell, Hertel, Ford, Levin and Broomfield.

BAILOUT — By a vote of 40 for and 57 against, the Senate refused to block by parliamentary means a planned federal ballout of the Washington Public Power Supply System (WPPSS).

The main issue is whether to create a federal lending authority to save the system, which has been called "Whoops" following its default on $2.25. billion in bonds for construction of two of five planned nuclear power plants in the Pacific North-

The question at hand was whether the ballout could be offered as a rider to a pending appropriations bill (HR 3363). This vote reversed a parliamentary ruling that blocked consideration. The final outcome is to be determined after the summer

Senators disagreed over whether the new authority would risk taxpayers' dollars.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who voted to block consideration of the legislation, called it his "duty"... to insist that we will not act further on this bill, which can involve a $7.2-billion obligation from the federal government."

Sen. James McClure, R-Idaho, sponsor of the legislation, said "zero, not one penny" of U.S. Treasury funds would be risked because the new lending authority would be backed by ratepayers and the Bonneville Power Administration.

Senators voting no wanted the Senate to consider the ballout measure.

Michigan Democrats Carl Levin and Donald Riegle voted yes.

Happiness is a 20-mile bike ride

By Margaret Neubacher staff writer

While many people are sleeping in on weekends or having their second cup of coffee with the Sunday paper, a happy group of bicyclists is well into its third or fourth hour of cycling.

The Westland Wheelers, a newly formed recreational bicycling club, regularly meets for 15- to 20-mile weekend rides. They do it -"for the fun and health of it," according to charter member Marilyn Tubinis, who says she especially enjoys the club's dawn rides.

According to this enthuasiast, in the early morning the world is quiet and cool, there's little traffic on the road and, if you're lucky, as Tubinis was on the last ride, you may see a couple of white egrets, an unusual heron-like pira with long, snowy, arooping plumes.

THE WESTLAND Wheelers were formed in early June of this year by the Westland Parks and Recreation Department. A notice in a local paper to all bikers interested in forming a club drew approximately 27 peo-

According to president Bill Baker, the at Five Mile and Newburgh roads at 7 a.m. Chelsea, Mich. The challenge is for riders to parks and recreation department still guides the club, but "now they are letting us go in our own direction."

Baker has had a lot of experience with bikes. As a child he belonged to a bike club. He raced bikes as an adult and coached his son to a state bicycle racing championship.

He knows all about $2,000 custom-made racing bikes, the pros and cons of wearing a helmet and how the Europeans teach the cyclists to fall off their bikes using gymnastic tumbling skills. But most likely little of his information would be of interest to the West-

"We're different from most other clubs around the area," says Baker. "We're into slow touring and are more of a social bike club. We have become very open with each other and can easily talk about how we feel about things. The club has become a good social outlet for many members."

THE CLUB varies the weekend ride between Saturday and Sunday mornings. A recent trip they took to Mayburry Park is an example of how their weekend touring goes.

Riders met at the Pac'n Save Parking lot

They headed out on Haggerty Road and lei-. surely pedaled their way towards Northville, cutting through some subdivisions and stopping, as often as they needed to, for a drink or a quick protein snack.

Once at the park, they visited the horse stables, then pedaled to the pond for a walk on the dock. On the way, they noticed a patch of wild blackberries and stopped to sample the fruit. They wound their way back home before noon. Total round trip: 20 miles.

• "The beautiful thing about this club is that on our first rides of between five and 10 miles, some members thought they'd die," says Baker. "Now doing 20 to 25 miles is nothing for them."

Baker says he can get 20 miles out of any-

"There are three basic mistakes most beginners make," ne says. "Iney set their seat too low, tires too flat and they try to pedal in the wrong gear."

RECENTLY several of the Westland Wheelers participated in "The Proving Ground Challenge," a 24-hour achievement ride held at Chrysler's Proving Grounds in set their own distance goal and try to reach it. Several Wheelers, who earlier this summer struggled with the shorter rides, set and reached goals of 25 and 50 miles.

"Anyone who wants to ride and have fun" will enjoy the Westland Wheelers, says Baker. He adds that interested riders who don't feel they can do the 20- to 25-mile weekend rides may want to begin with the shorter Wednesday evening rides.

These rides start at the Great Scott parking lot at the corner of Ann Arbor Trail and Merriman promptly at 7 p.m. They average between five and 10 miles. Club members stress the importance of bringing along liquid drinks and high protein snacks to maintain your energy level while riding.

The group plans on riding at least through October, as long as the weather holds up, ac-

Revenge is the point 'Take that,' quilter says to designer

Illinois quilter Virginia Piland took her needle and stabbed designer Ralph Lauren where it hurt — in the shirt.

The quilt which Piland made and named, "Tit for Tat," in response to Lauren who cut up valuable antique quilts to make his highfashion designs, will be one of the many highlights of "World of Quilts" at Meadow Brook Hall, Sept. 8-25.

In her quilter's revenge, Piland made her two-color quilt from an aqua Ralph Lauren shirt and white feed sacks. Like quilters of old, Piland didn't waste a scrap of the Lauren material, even incorporating the collar, label and cuffs into her design.

Her most piercing stabs comes in the form of her comments about Lauren written on the quilt, preserving not only her wit, but her ire toward the designer.

"Tit for Tat," is the traditional name of the mirror-image pattern Piland used, so the quilt itself is a double entendre.

WRITTEN ALONG the four sides are, "It's tit for tat, Ralph Lauren (label). Take that! And that and that, and that and that!," "As you sew, so shall you rip, Ralph Lauren, don't rip up any more antique quilts.", "Quilters are sew super, but Ralph Lauren, you are an old sew-and-sew," "Sew long, Ralph Lauren. It's been good to no-no you.".

There are other messages in the quilt, but the one on the tie in the center says it all, "You have been found 'quilt-y.' You're sen-CAMING DEL MANTE DE COMPANION DE LA COMPANION tenced to a stretch on a quilting frame."

Mary Silber of Birmingham, quilt show coordinator, said that in addition to its unusual message, Piland's quilt is "beautifully made" and several others of hers are also in Silber said that because of the number in the show, close to 200, it will be difficult for visitors to enjoy the total scope of the exhibit. So, she and textile restorer, Lulu Cameron: and those working with them, have arranged the exhibit into themes — message quilts and patriotic quilts, for instance.

Because Meadow Brook Hall qualifies as a museum, Marilyn Brooks, special projects chairwoman, was able to borrow outstanding quilts from all over the world as well as from fine American collections, both public and

ALL OF the doll and crib quilts will be displayed in Knole cottage, the mini-mansion playhouse given to Frances Dodge for her 12th birthday.

Silber said of the organizing of this show which has been in the works for more than a year, "This the biggest team effort I've ever been involved with."

The show will be open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tour reservations are necessary and much of the time is already booked solid. For brochures and information, call Meadow Brook Hall, Oakland University, Rochester, 377-

Start watercolors with 'forgiving' subjects

This is another in a series of lessons on art by special columnist David Messing. He has taught for eight years and operates an art store, Art Store and More,

By David Messing staff writer

Hopefully you were able, this week; to get your supplies together or buy whatever you needed to start watercolor. Remember that the subject you choose has alot to do with the success of your painting. Choose a subject that can "forgive" a little.

In other words, if you paint an apple or a barn a little bigger than the model, then nobody cares or even notices. On the other hand if you are painting your spouse's portrait and his or her nose is a little bit big or a little to one side than you and your painting are in trouble. Watercolor as a media is very unforgiving. Since you paint with transparent watercolors, the white of the paper is supposed to show through each color. This is why watercolor is hard to repair. IF YOU try to lighten an area you mix white in a color and it becomes "creamy" and less transparent. The area you are trying to fix begins to look like a billboard saying "I didn't make a mistake here!". Like my 4-year-old son Adam (bomb). I was Simply place a drop or two on the area and before your eyes the mistake goes away, Color remover comes in a cute little bottle and it walking through the living room when out of costs about a dollar. But if you're not into

"cute" little bottles, just use chlorine bleach it works almost as well.

I AM SURE the next alternative many wellknown water colorists and teachers do not know about. It is called an air eraser. An air eraser is like a miniature sand blaster. It runs off an air compresser and you can control a fine spray of particles which simply removes the color from the paper. An air eraser costs around $60 and that is not too much a price if it can save a painting.

-Let's say you decide to paint a mailbox on an old weather fence post. Sounds exciting doesn't it? Well you have to start somehwere. So first draw your picture in pencil. Use an H/ 2H/3H or 4H pencil because the "H" or hard pencils make a light gray line and are easy to erase later. "B" or soft pencils are blacker and muddy up your paper.

and take things easy for some, but not at Evelyn Kreason School of Dance in West Bloomfield.

What with summer master ballet classes with Jon Rodriguez, plans for the non-profit Michigan Ballet Theatre auditions and productions, the poster fund-raiser for Michigan Ballet Theatre and registration for fall classes starting next Monday, there's lots of Rodriguez, a former Detroiter, now based in Dayton, Ohio, gives master classes throughout the country. He has been actively working and choreographing for the regional ballet movement throughout North America. He has received choreography grants from the National Endowment for the Arts as well as the Ohio Arts Council and has been artist in residence with many regional companies.

Speaking particularly of ballet, he said, "It's all in the regions. Because of the regional companies all over the United States, kids get a chance to perform. In New York City you don't get to do anything but go to class. Consequently, representatives from every major company are running all around the U.S. offering scholarships."

Everly Kreason, longtime friend of Rodriguez, said enrollment in his master classes here was better than ever, "They know Jon and like him."

Rodriguez said it is exciting for him too, because as he returns to many areas year after year, there is a continuity for him to follow in the students he works with.

Summer may be a time to slow down you think this person can't do anything - and then later, they blossom."

Sometimes, he said, a youngster with a perfect body for dancing isn't motivated to do much with it. "But, someone else with a less perfect body may want it so bad that they succeed. You can overcome certain things - to a point," he said "You can camouflage and learn how to manipulate the body angles so it looks like like you have better feet (for instance), than you have."

He said that the various ballet companies each like certain types of danc-

"The first thing they look at when you walk in for an audition is body type," Rodriguez said. In the office near the entrance to the studio is the framed Michigan Ballet Theatre poster. It was done by William Kohler, Michigan artist, in a signed numbered edition of 350, available at $10 with an extra $35 for framing. The sale benefits the non-profit ballet theater group.

Auditions for Michigan Ballet Theatre will be at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 25. They are open to all dancers 12 and over. Auditions for the early December production of "Nutcracker" by Michigan Ballet Theatre will be at 2 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 2.

tion in Orff, Suzuki, contemporary piano, music theory and childrens' choir for ages 7-12; private lessons available in strings, piano, brass, woodwinds, guitar and voice at all levels.

For adults the first of two 12-week chamber music sessions with coaching begins on Oct. 3. Music theory as well as private lessons in all instruments and voice are also available.

Watercolors, step by step

If you feel the drawing of any subject will be difficult, simply work out your drawing on thin white drawing paper. Then transfer to your watercolor paper by rubbing graphite all over the back of your original, tape it in place on your clean paper, then trace over the lines you wish to transfer. Now reduce your pencil lines to one clean line and then lightly erase those lines so that there is merely a faint image on your paper.

Now carefully wet with clear water, just the dark side of the post. The water will set on top of the paper and appear glossy for just a few seconds. Soon the wet area will take on a satin sheen. While you are waiting for the water to soak in the paper, you should be mixing the color brown you wish to paint in.

SIMPLY TOUCH the brush to this area and the brown color will quickly flow out of the brush and bleed only to the areas you previously wet. You may smile here as you watch the color flowing and fading as it begins to slow down it's natural spread. You may, however, frown if your wetting with clear water went out of the lines you wished to stay

Here is a very basic part of watercolor painting. Always have a tissue on hand or in hand to quickly absorb any little overflows or quickly remove a color that is too dark.

The brown that you just painted should be dark but still transparent. It should show a graduation of color, richest where you touched the brush in and lightest where it finally stopped flowing. This first color you introduced should not be overworked.

Simply add the color to the wet area and let the color flow untouched by you. Remember the color can only flow to the areas you carefully wet first. This I call the base colors.

So in our picture the base colors are dark brown for the dark side of the post, light brown for the light side, bluish gray (paynes) for the mailbox, red for the flag, rust for the hinge and yellow to green for the weeds. The base colors can be painted rather quickly.

REMEMBER to keep them light and transparent. Now if you wish to paint the wood grain in the dark side of the post you want a clean line so you do not wet the area first. Simply mix a dark brown into your brush and paint fine lines of wood grain. Lighten up the brown for the wood grain on the light side of the post by thinning the brown with more water.

By thinning the color you lighten the color because more of the white paper shows through the color. So all the large base colors are painted onto wet paper and all the fine lines are painted onto dry paper. Because the colors are transparent you can re-wet areas over and over introducing color over color.

I like to paint the whole picture first in light washes to produce a ghost image. Then if I am happy with the look of it, I introduce a rich wash and my details, of course, are last. Remember l. light pencil drawing, 2. chart the course of the flow of color, by wetting each area individually, 3. paint in base colors first. Paint fine lines when areas are dry.

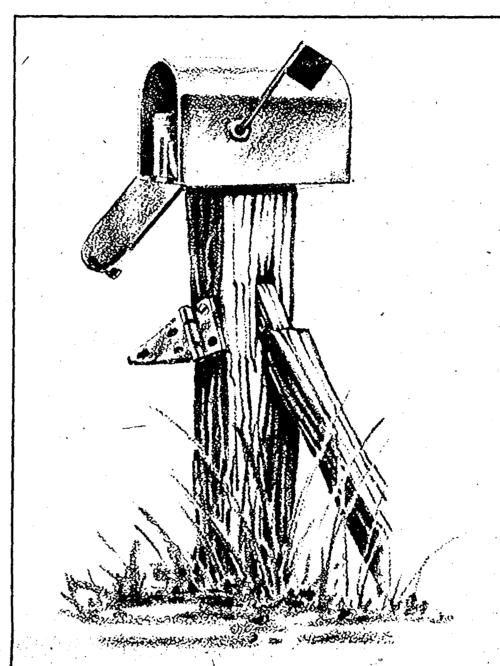

Of course this is merely a beginning approach to watercolor. Your success with watercolor is not dependent on your paint, paper or brushes. Your success or failure is your own decision. Now I do not mean to say everyone must succeed at watercolor. Your decision is "what media will I allow myself to fail in."

That is to say "I will fail in charcoal drawing and divert my efforts to succeed in watercolor" or vice versa. At any rate you will enjoy watercolor if for no other reason then just to watch the flow of color. If you repeatedly have trouble painting realistically with watercolors, before you put them in your garage sale, try non-objective or design painting. To me just the flow of a pure color "wet in wet" on white paper is pleasing and framable.

ARTFUL HINT: I showed a customer how, to use the different hardnesses of pencils and she showed me what she did. In drawing a black cat, she drew all the fine line hairs with a very hard 6H pencil. Pushing hard with this pencil she made many fine grooves in the paper. Then she went over the drawing with the soft blacks, 6B to 2B pencils. The soft black did not fill into the fine grooves made by the hard 6H pencil. The finished product was a beautiful black cat with what appeared to be fine white hairlines surrounded by rich blacks.

Q. I need advice on establishing goals. I am young and have already reached many of the goals I have set.

A. Success is like a palace that you are striving for, but it is a prison if you find it. Establishing goals is very important. There is a saying "if you aim at nothing you will hit it everytime." Though people may observe you and consider you a success, that is only because they are unaware of the much greater goals you have set for yourself. Your own contentment with yourself is what turns a palace into a prison. When you reach your goals, set new ones.
