Roach suggests 1-year delay in closing school

By Dan Vecchioni staff writer

A motion to delay the closing of Bentley High School from June 1985 to June 1986 will be decided by the Livonia Board of Education at its Oct. 3 meeting.

Trustees voted Monday to postpone action on the motion, introduced by board member Marjorie Roach, until the October meeting when all seven members are expected to be in attendance. Charles Akey was absent from Monday's meeting.

Roach, one of three board members who voted for the June 1986 date when the Bentley closing originally was approved by the board in May, said her opinion has not changed.

However, she sald, other board members now may support the 1986 closing after having had the opportunity to review superintendent George Garver's seven different plans for dividing up the Bentley attendance area among the remaining three high schools.

"As we struggle with the high school boundaries, it becomes more evident to me that we should be talking about a 1986 closing," Roach said. "It seems evident that none of the plans presented will fit the students into the buildings comfortably in 1985.

ACCORDING TO Roach, her main problem with the school boundary plans is that they assign student enrollments over what is considered the ideal capacities at Churchill, Franklin and Stevenson high schools.

Although the enrollments still would fall below the maximum capacities of the schools, Roach said "since we're not in a financial bind, why rush it? If we wait one more year, everything works better" when 560 fewer high school students are projected.

According to figures presented by Garver at Monday's board meeting, 6,390 high school students are projected for the 1985-86 school year. Under the various school boundary plans, between 2,040-2,640 students would be assigned to Churchill, 1,590-2,200 to Franklin and 2,010-2,300 to Stevenson.

The ideal capacities of the schools are 2,050 for Churchill and 1,800 for both Franklin and Stevenson. The maximum rated capacities are 2,610, 2,310 and 2,340, respectively.

"The numbers we anticipate in 1985 can be accommodated (at three high schools) with the same amount of success as in the past," Garver told the board. "The numbers are no larger than those we have accommodated in

"We originally recommended closing Bentley in 1986," he added. "But the board pursued closing it a year earlier, and we said it could be done. There are minor inconveniences, but there's no evidence that there is an effect on

BOARD MEMBER David Cameron, who originally voted for the 1985 closing in May along with Akey, James Merner and Ronald Withers, said "there is no difference in the facts than when we made the original decision." His recommendation to postpone action until Oct. 3 was approved by the

Following the postponement, discussion centered on the various plans presented by Garver for resetting the high school boundaries once Bentley is Garver said "there is not just one right answer" but preferred a plan that does not alter the boundary lines of the three remaining high schools.

"We can close a building easier than moving a boundary line since the lines are subjective," he said. Four of the seven plans he presented reflected this

One, suggested by Withers, "is not bad," Garver said. The plan would break down the Bentley area by giving the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Middlebelt, Five Mile and Farmington plus the Coventry Gardens area north of Five Mile (between Hubbard and Edgewood) to Churchill; the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Inskter, Five Mile and Middlebelt to Franklin; and the remaining area north of Five Mile to Stevenson.

Merner said he favored a plan that would provide "equity" in the number of students assigned to each high school even at the expense of altering existing high school boundaries. "I think it's the better plan," he said.

The plan would shift the current Franklin boundary east from Farmington to Hubbard and add to it the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Inkster, Five Mile and Merriman. Churchill would get the area lost by Franklin; the area bounded by Schoolcraft, Merriman, Five Mile and Farmington; and the Coventry Gardens area. Stevenson would receive the remaining area north of Five Milè.

No action was taken on any of the but we as a city have not done so," Mehl said.

The city isn't anxious to improve the grounds without buying it because the school board could ask for the land back in the future, he said.

Council OKs mobil home project

Plans for a 73-acre mobile home development, Westland Manor Estates, at the northwest corner of Henry Ruff and Van Born roads have been given the go-ahead by the Westland City Council.

The council approved the project site plan for a "manufactured housing community" by a 5-2 vote at Monday's regular meeting, after a letter from the city's economic development advisory commission was read.

The letter said the development would add revenue and housing to Westland. The Westland Planning Commission and planning department also recommended that the project be approved. Council members Ben DeHart and Nancy Neal cast the votes against the proposal.

The site plan for the project was approved by the planning commission and the city council in 1981, but the original petitioner, Royal Holiday Park of Westland, decided not to continue with

The project had met with strong objection from residents in the southeastern section of the city at that time. No objections from residents were voiced Monday night.

IN RESPONSE to a question from the council, Boyle said he was planning to put an Olympic-size swimming pool, tennis court, shuffleboard and clubhouse at the site. He said the site would feature 448 lots.

Jim Hicks, an active member of Westland's senior citizen community, is serving as a legislative intern in Lansing this week to help call attention to the needs of seniors.

one for Hicks, an active member of the Wayne-Westland Community Schools Senior Citizen organization and the advisory council to the Westland Commission on Aging.

He has been spending the, week participating in a pilot program designed to help senior citizens become acquainted with the Michigan legislature and capitol. In the program, seniors from around the state will serve as legislative interns in Lansing from Sept. 19-

As senior legislative intern to state Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, Hicks is assisting in legislative work, attending legislative sessions and committee meetings and meeting in workshops and panel discussions. Hicks was confident last week that something could be accomplished by the program.

WE'LL discuss senior problems, such as Medicare hospitalization, transportation and housing, and learn how the representatives and senators are going to try to solve some of these give suggestions on how to go about it and what things to look for."

The idea for this week's program grew from a recent Senior Power Day held at Lansing. Faust chose Hicks as his senior legislative intern after reviewing Hicks' application, one of an estimated 15 the state senator received.

"Jim Hicks has experience in working with the public and in communicating with other senior citizens," Faust tions aren't reached in those few days, said. "And I expect that he will provide my office with valuable experience during this Senior Intern Week."

Many people don't realize how severe senior citizens' problems are,

"We can't drive or have our own transportation," he said. "They (SEMTA) advise the seniors to travel in the non-rush hours, and then they come along and cut down the amount of buses they've got." Hicks pointed out that the percentage of seniors will increase as the young people born in the "baby boom" of the 1940s and 1950s grow older.

"SENIORS aren't going away," he said. Where they're going to find adequate housing, I don't know."

Hicks prepared for his work in Lansing by reviewing articles and books. "I'll use those as a beginning point, and just add to them," he said.

"I've written to both the state and federal representatives or senators to express my opinion and ask them to vote a certain way on things," he said. "Sometimes you get an answer back and sometimes you don't. They should find out how their constituents feel about these things."

This week's work in Lansing will benefit everyone, even if definite solu-Hicks believes.

There may be different problems in different parts of the state," he said. "I don't think we're going to get solutions overnight, but at least we have people working with the seniors to come up with those solutions. Somebody's gotta be able to put the pressure on. Maybe I can get answers to those kinds of questions too, or get an idea of what we have to do to get these things.

"I REALIZE we can't go up there to Lansing and ask them to legislate for every problem that comes up," Hicks said. "There are enough laws now. But some way, these problems can be solved.*

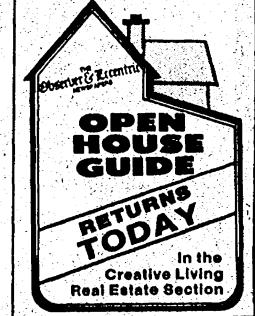

All age groups must cooperate now to solve senior citizens' current problems, Hicks says.

"We can't rely all on senior citizen groups," he said. "The middle-age people today are going to be senior citizens

Ceremonies on Sunday kicked off the restoration project that will allow the Rowe House's use as cultural center.

A glance through the rafters found Wayne-Westland Arts Association members listening to a discription of the Greek Revival architecture of the bases

Restoration brings history alive

The ceremonies were held Sunday, but the story of the Rowe House really began more than 150 years ago when the Greek Revival house was built on Ford east of what's now I-275.

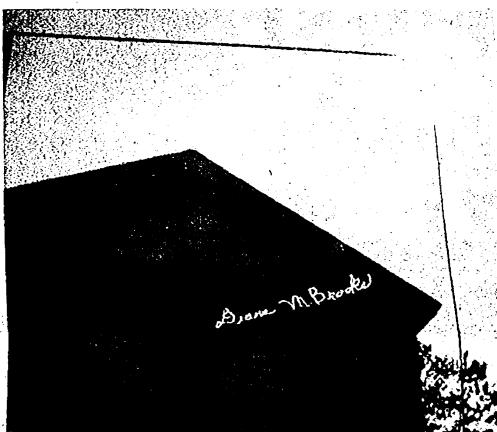

Picking up that story five years ago was Diana Brooks, a member of the Wayne-Westland Arts Association. Brooks used to recount how she would drive by the house, wishing it was hers.

In 1978, she got a chance to make it the public's domain when she organized a drive to save the house from the wrecking ball of a developer.

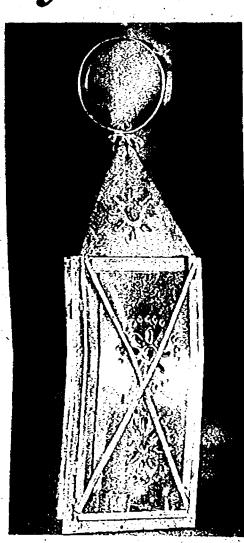

Although Diana Brooks didn't live to see her dream completed, her name will be remembered with a plate of glass in the house etched with her name. That glass was presented during ceremonies Sunday, which marked the beginning of the final restoration of the Rowe House interior.

The project is a joint effort between Westland and Wayne-Westland School District. The city will provide federal community development block grant money to pay for the materials. The school district's building trades classes, under the direction of Leon Hanson, will provide the labor.

Interior restoration will be done as one would have found it in the early 1800s.

The name Diana M. Brooks, now etched on a pane of glass for the Rowe House (above), will serve as a reminder of the woman who started the project. Leon Hanson, who will supervise the restoration, provided this example of a candle lamp from the period when the Rowe House was built.

SEMTA cuts delayed 2 weeks

By Kathy Parrish staff writer

Commuters bracing themselves for Oct. 1 bus and train service cuts will have two more weeks to find new transportation.

But the short reprieve could mean even more hardship for Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) patrons.

Two more weeks is going to cost us," said SEMTA General Manager Gary Krause, who told his board of directors waiting will mean deeper cuts. He estimated the two-week extension will cost $250,000

"We'll see the same financial package, altered somewhat. But dollars are dollars," he said.

FACING A $16 million operating deficit, SEMTA's board of directors Tuesday voted 10 to 3 to go ahead with a plan to eliminate the commuter train, reduce buses and routes and raise the youth fare 25 cents.

Opposed were Walter Franchuk and Diana Kolakowski, both of Macomb County, and Ted Frantz, of St. Clair County. Absent were John Peterson of Oakland County and Dennis Green of Detroit.

SEMTA attributed the deficit to the federal government's decision to phase out operating subsidies for public transportation and to the Michigan Legislature's reluctance to let SEMTA ask local voters for a tax.

Criticism by patrons — especially train riders — caused the board to delay the action until Oct. 17 in order to try to save some services.

PLANNED ARE talks with Grand Trunk & Western Railroad officials about possible contract concessions with their employees who work on SEMTA trains and discussions with local city officials about helping maintain railroad facilities.

SEMTA directors also intend to put pressure on the Legislature, which created the seven-county authority in 1967, to "plan, operate, construct, acquire, extend and improve transit services in southeastern Michigan." SEMTA has no taxing authority of its own.

"If we wind up passing this today, I don't think we have the bargaining edge," said director Nansi Rowe, of Detroit.

"We're taking all the heat ourselves. The legislators are elected and should have to listen to it too."

MORE THAN 60 people crammed into Tuesday's special SEMTA board meeting, set up to act on cuts proposed Sept. 6.

Directors were updated at a public hearing held Monday. At the meeting, 140 patrons opposed the cutbacks.

SEMTA's cutbacks would lay off 60 administrative personnel and 100-150 bus drivers, eliminate 15 routes and reduce stops on many other routes.

15 routes and reduce stops on many other routes.
Only three of SEMTA's 15 directors — Walter
Franchuk and Diana Kolakowski, both of Macomb County, and Tom Turner, of Detroit — attended the daylong hearing in Veterans Memorial Building.

Krause said the hearing and meetings with local officials prompted his staff to restore the 710 Nine Mile and 185 Westland-Ecorse runs and reduce runs on the 530 Schoenherr route.

John R 495 would be lengthened to pick up some passengers who travel the 842 Park & Ride Rochester, which is being eliminated.

KRAUSE STOOD firm on doing away with the train, which carries 450 people each way from Detroit to Pontiac daily at a cost of $2 million a year.

"To further delay that decision would negatively impact on the extent to which we can continue to provide bus service in this region," said Krause. He added that commuter rail gets a 17 percent return from the fare box, while bus service returns 35-38 percent of costs.

"There is no desire by the SEMTA staff to eliminate the train. There's more to be gained if we put our dollars into buses," he added.

Director Tom Turner of Detroit expressed concern that many patrons weren't able to attend the public hearing because of short notice, its time and downtown Detroit location.

He also questioned the next-day action by the board, asking it to delay the cutbacks 30 days. In those 30 days, he said, a subcommittee could work with SEMTA administration and elected local and state officials "to see if we can come up with a realistic proposal we can live with."

Director Michael Einheuser of Detroit offered what he called a "friendly amendment." The amendment would adopt the plan Oct. 17, but leave open the option of revising it at some future date.

"I think we have to be honest with ourselves and everyone else — 30 days is 30 days," said

FOR SOME directors, such as JoAnn Soronen of Farmington Hills, the delay meant "prolonging the agony"

"It's an unpleasant task; you want to go to the ladies' room or something rather than have someone point the finger at you," she said. "But we're all here to face the music."

Vincent Fordell, a suburban Wayne County director, agreed

"I think all the efforts leading up to the inevitable point have been made. We've been fiscally responsible. We've run out of time," said the Garden City mayor. "I'm only sorry we didn't have this room full of people two months ago."

But director Kolakowski said the public hearing left her questioning the cuts. She said all those who spoke had legitimate concerns.

"When you look at what's left, I wonder what's the point of running a skeleton transportation system," the Macomb representative said.

Architect combines Islam and West

An Egyptian architect will discuss designing and planning in the Middle East at 7:30 tonight in a free public lecture in the architecture auditorium of Lawrence Institute of Technology, 21000 W. 10 Mile near Northwestern in Southfield.

Kalam El Kafrawi, who now lives in Paris, has executed a number of projects in Spain, France, Kuwait and Egypty and has taught in Egypt and France.

Kafrawi notes Islamic countries have feared Western technology would obliterate their cultures, but he has been able to synthesize Islamic traditions and western technology.

The sounds of music will begin on a new note this year at Garden City's elementary schools.

In keeping with the district's emphasis on skill development, elementary band will meet during times outside of the academic school day. With this type of scheduling, sixth graders who are taking band can learn their instruments without taking time away from their studies.

"I feel that offering band at our elementaries before and after school and during lunch will benefit both the kids and the band program," said Jake Hudson, Farmington School principal.

"In the past when band was offered during the school day, students who participated missed time out of class. For many, this became a difficult situation and they had to drop out of the band program in order to keep up with their school work." -

At Farmington, students will get daily musical instruction during the noon hour from 11:40 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. following their lunch period. This not only separates music from classroom instruction, but it also provides a good noontime activity, according to Hud-

MEMORIAL SCHOOL Principal John Giacomini agrees.

"We are eliminating the pressure on kids to choose between band and classwork and this situation will be less disruptive to the school process.

"Although band is available outside of the hours of academic instruction, it is still offered within the perimeters of a 'regular' school day.'

Instrumental instruction at Memorial will be offered from 11:20 a.m. to 11:50 a.m. five days a week.

Band instruction at Henry Ruff will run daily from 12:10 to 12:40 p.m. The class will be offered at Douglas from 8:15 to 8:45 a.m., and at Lathers after school from 3:05 to 3:35 p.m.

Keep doors open when spending our money

T'S OUR tax money, Gov. Blanchard, and we want to know how it's being handled. A keystone in the governor's economic recovery program is his Michigan Strategic Fund. It would make and underwrite loans, investments and grants with a view to diversifying Michigan's economy and bolstering infants firms with a potential for growth.

That's what it says in the large type of Blanchard's press release.

In the small type of Senate Bill 386, however, we find that the strategic fund's governing board would be exempt from the Open Meetings Act.

And its records would be exempt from the Freedom of Information Act (sec. 5 (8)).

THERE'S MUCH opportunity for mischief if such a fund is operated in secrecy. The strategic fund would start with $54 million.

We can anticipate all kinds of would-be millionaires and all kinds of inventors lining up to get a share of that finite pile of greenbacks.

Some will get money. Others won't. How will the governing board decide? What criteria will it use to loan and spend our tax dollars?

Will persons who have contributed to certain political campaigns be more likely to get a loan? Will ethnic origin or membership in the right fraternal lodge be a factor?

Where in the state will this seed money go? Will certain legislative districts - perhaps those of lawmakers facing recall for supporting the income tax increase — be more likely to see an infusion of money?

We're not supposed to know. The strategic fund board's meetings and records are to be exempt from the normal Open Meetings and Freedom of Information laws.

THE GOVERNING board of the Michigan Strategic Fund will be political — no question about it.

All nine members will be appointees of the governor. The fund's president and vice president "shall serve without a fixed term at the pleasure of the governor" (sec. 5 (4)).

Among those directors will be the governor's Commerce Department director and the state treasurer. Two other members could be governmental officials. The non-governmental members also could turn out to be political supporters of the governor.

That's all right. The man who won the gubernatorial election is entitled to have his choices in those jobs, assuming they are honest and competent.

And as political appointees, they should also be prepared to operate under the public's eye.

All local governments must hold public hearings on their budgets. They must make copies of the budget available to the public. They must discuss their budgets in open meetings, hear comments in open meetings, make amendments in open meetings, vote in open meetings and make their records public documents.

Not Gov. Blanchard's strategic fund board, as proposed.

The Westland Observer urges our community's legislators — Sen. Wiliam Faust, who helped write the open meetings act, and Rep. Justine Barns who, as a city councilwoman, vocally supported open meetings — to be very wary of SB 386, whatever its merits may be in promoting economic recovery.

They should amend the bill to require the board to do public business in public.

It's our tax money they're investing.

High tech': no panacea, but no bogeyman either

THE NEW industrial revolution of the 1980s is far different from the 18th and 19th century industrial revolutions.

Our history books told tales of workmen - and they were "workmen," not "workers" - destroying machinery because it would displace them. It would be nearly impossible to do the same thing today, industrial security being what it is.

Upton Sinclair in "The Jungle" described the deadening impact of machinery on craftsmanship:

"Where Jurgis worked there was a machine which cut and stamped a certain piece of steel about two square inches in size; the pieces came tumbling out upon a tray, and all that human hands had to do was to pile them in regular rows, and change the tray at intervals. This was done by a single boy. . . Thirty thousand of these pieces he handled every day, nine or 10 millions every year how many in a lifetime it rested with the gods to say."

THESE TALES came to mind as Michigan state government under William Milliken committed itself to high technology at the opening of the 1980s.

And so when Ronald R. Watcke of Troy proposed a series of articles putting high technology in perspective, I was intrigued.

Unlike many prospective columnists who call or write. Watcke had nothing to sell - no dental or law practice to push, no political ax to grind. His academic background is in history and education. He was dean of vocational education at Wayne County Community College because of his administrative background, not engineering; he is currently dean of liberal arts at WCCC.

His columns are far from sensational. Truth rarely is. But if you have been following them since Aug. 18, you will have picked up a realistic grasp of what high technology is all about.

It's no bogeyman. It's no panacea for our economic and industrial problems.

electric equipment, instruments and transportation equipment. There are "low tech" industries such as

THERE ARE high technology industries, such as

steel and textiles which use high tech processes such as computers and automated factory systems — so he pointed out in his first article.

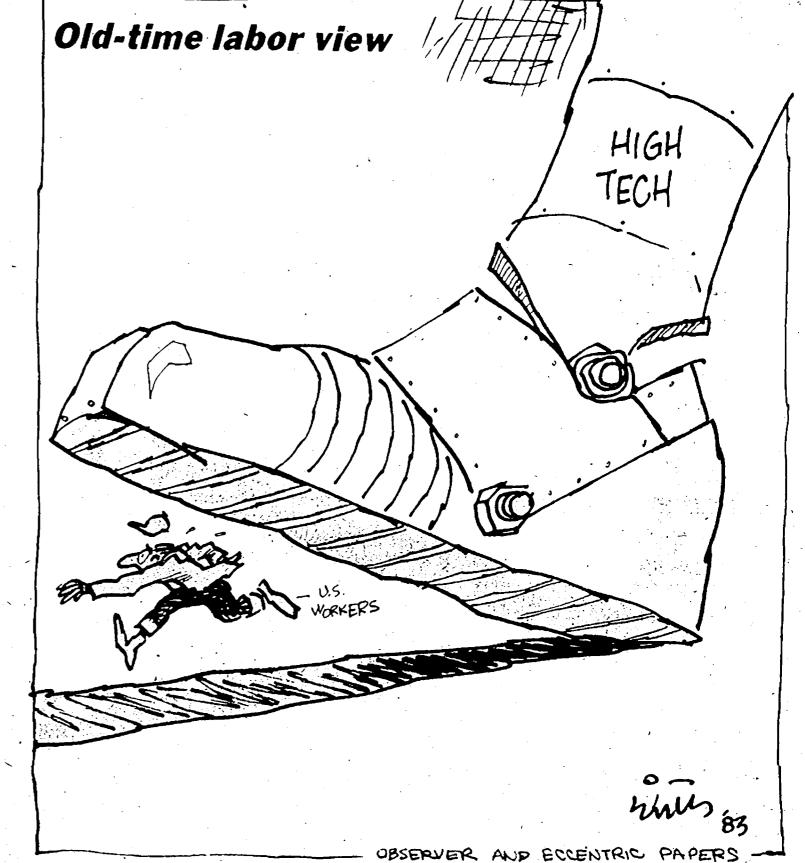

In contrast to the situation described by Upton Sinclair, Watcke points out that "many workers will experience an upgrading of occupational skills and a healthy dose of retraining to keep abreast of the rapid technological changes.'

High tech employment opportunities are increasing by leaps and bounds - somewhere between 30 and 90 percent by 1990. But you have to consider that these are the leaps and bounds of an infant. High tech's proportion of the total job market increase will be only 8 percent or less by 1990. That was from Watcke's Aug. 25 quiz.

THE NOTION that metropolitan Detroit can become a high tech leader is more than rhetoric. "I believe Detroit has the clear-cut advantage (over Chicago) based on its international reputation as the leading tool manufacturing and metal machine center," Watcke said. Already, 100 to 125 high tech firms are located in a ridge from Troy to Farmington Hills to Ann Arbor.

On Sept. 22, he uncovered a quote from General Motors Chairman Roger B. Smith: "Every time the cost of labor goes up $1 an hour, 1,000 more robots become economical." American factories have 7,000 robots today. By 1990 there will be 35,000 ro-

One gets the clear impression high tech is neither as frightening nor as much a boon as it's cracked up to be. If you're looking for a picture of either hell or heaven, try another news medium.

Recall is a right, argues Runion

In a recent editorial you came to the defense of State Sen. William Faust and Rep. Justine Barns against a possible recall, and against myself as a possible leader of that recall. This letter is in response.

In March of this year every working man and women in this state (again) became victims of the "tax and spend" syndrome that has plagued Michigan for years. Our personal incomes were reduced by 1.75 percent when necessary to save the state from bankruptcy, but once the increase was secure, they also increased the budget by 12 percent and now we are told there will be a surplus that may near 300 million.

When J. Barns and W. Faust ran for office last year, neither one promised us a record tax increase. They used instead, promises and statements that were quickly forgotton once the election was over. We came to vote on this issue, we found we had no representation. If a politican's word is meaningless, how are we to decide who will best represent us?

You may not feel excessive taxation without representation is cause for recall, but a whole generation once thought it justified a revolution, one that resulted in the birth of this nation. Recall is a political tool, not a judicial one. (Michigan Constitution 1963, Article 3, Section 8). Sex with a minor, id reasons (as you suggested) for a recall, but so is excessive taxation. It is up to the voters to decide the validity of the reason for recall, and they have I find it shocking that a newspaper would encourage legislators to take away or restrict the constitutional rights of the people. When our forefathers drafted the Constitution of the United States, they followed it with the Bill of Rights. Article I guarantees all of us freedom of religion, speech and press, and the right to petition the government. It is this article that assures you your freedom as a newspaper writ-

Whether or not you agree with recall is irrelevant, it is our constitutional right and it was designed to protect the people. I can understand why politicans are "nervous" about recalls, but for you, a newspaper, to want to take away our rights in inexcusable. Maybe you don't want to take away those rights completely. Maybe you just want to take away the rights of people who don't agree with your views.

You and Mr. Faust compared recall with "loaded guns". Since you chose this analogy, let me point out that the constitution provided the "guns" for our protection, but it was Faust and Barns that provided the ammunition, and it is up to the voters to decide if they want to use it.

"The increasing frequency of recall drives" proves only that the people are angry and not willing to be used and abused any longer. We are tired of footing the bills for the political big spenders. Example: The Dyer Center on Marquette stands as a monument to government waste. It is a beautiful, luxurious $8 million building that no one of a maximum 300 words in length. We our political leaders can stand in front of it and say: "Look at what I did for

I have petitions (Voters Choice) that will place on the ballot in 1984 a proposal to roll back taxes to the 1981 level, and take away the power of state and city government to increase income taxs without voter approval. I also have recall petitions for the removal of Faust and Barns from office. If anyone wishes to circulate (or sign) any or all of these petitions, please call 721-5557. For those of you who disagree, that's your constitutional right, just don't deny us ours.

In ancient times every one who didn't hold public office was referred to as "idiotes." I wonder if modern day politicans think this definition still applies. Maybe I am an idiot; I still believe this is a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. (People not politicans or special interest groups.) Maybe, the politicans are the idiots for thinking it's not.

Phyllis Runion Westland

Going back to the east side: a strange land

MOTHER HAD business on the Detroit's east side, where we used to live. I volunteered to take her. I thought it might be interesting to tour the old neighborhood, see the old house. I hadn't been by that way in many years.

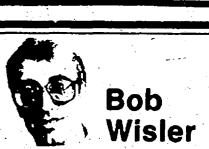

We drove down the freeway and talked about some of the people who lived in the neighborhood, where they all had gone. No one lives there anymore, mother said. She knew a couple who lived on the next street over from her old house. "They stay in the house all the time and keep the doors locked, even in the summer," she said. "Their house has been broken into three times."

I got off at Chalmers and made a left at Harper — the old main street of my community. I remembered it as a once-thriving shopping area with people walking up and down the street, going into stores, the paper boy hawking the latest edition on the corner. Mom walked my sister and me with her as she made stops at the baker, the butcher, the

THERE'S THE old dime store where my crime career was cut short. I stole a skate key on a dare and was pinched by the store manager. Brought home by the cops, as sad and rueful a 10-year-old as you can imagine. Never again, I vowed. The store is now boarded up.

There's where old John's confectionary used to be. Every Saturday a neighbor boy and I went up to buy a chocolate malted and listen to old John dispense grandfatherly advice. The store sells burglar alarms now. No more butchers, bakers, dime stores, clothing stores, confectionaries in this neighborhood. That was a different age.

Now there are party stores, bars, beauty shops, magic shops, adult books stores, stores that sell betting books. Half the buildings are boarded up. A couple have signs that say "Open," but there is

Turn right, down a few blocks and there's my old street — the neighborhood. Went to elementary school a few blocks down, high school a mile away. All of my early friends lived within a few blocks. • a We were at each others' houses daily. The houses are the same; I recognize each and every one. Except, for the most part, they're beat up or run down and no one I know lives there anymore.

There's Georgie's house — boarded up. "They couldn't sell it," mother said. There's Dayeks' house - boarded up. Couldn't sell, mother said. MANY OF the houses look ravaged. A door missing here, a window there. There are yards where the grass is two months long and the bushes overgrown and, yet, there are also many neat trim, recently painted houses and well-tended lawns that people maintain despite the deterioration around them.

Ah. There's the old house, Funny, everything looks smaller. Was the lawn that tiny, the porch that small? The garage is sagging, but not too bad. New door on the house. Looks triple strength. "There's the dope house," mother said pointing to a house across the street.

Mother moved from the neighborhood six years: ago. She was mugged at the grocery store on a Sunday morning after church and decided she wanted to move. "I'm glad I don't live here anymore," mother said. "Me too," I said.

I don't know what I expected, but I thought it; would be more nostalgic, that I might yearn for the past, that maybe I would see someone I know walking down Harper and I could honk and wave, stop. the car, jabber about old times.

Maybe this is the way it always is with American cities which grow old. I don't know. I only feel that I am no longer a part of it. I was a visitor to a place I once felt a fondness for, but now it seems like an

The growth of robot use has been dramatic. Industry spent $60 million on robots in 1974, $90 million in '80 and an estimated $130 million in '81. Experts predict the expenditure will soar to $2 billion-a-year Approximately 7,000 robots are being used in U.S. factories and an estimated 35,000 will be in use by 1990.General Motors now has some 500 robots but expects to have more than 14,000 by 1990. This would be more than twice the number of robots in U.S. factories this year.

WHY ROBOTS? GM Chairman Roger B. Smith recently said, "Every time the cost of labor goes up $1 an hour, 1,000 more robots become economical." John Teresko, writing in Industry Week, says: "Robots are magnificent workers. They never tire, never strike nor ask for raises, and they always do things the same way."

The matter of reduced labor costs is important. Robots are costly. A simple robot may cost $15,000; a highly sophisticated unit may cost 10 times that amount. The useful life span of an average robot may be eight years, working two shifts.

Despite this high cost, robots are cheaper than human labor for some jobs. A study conducted by Carnegie-Mellon University shows that a $40,000 Unimate robot cost $4.50 an hour to operate in 1981 compared to more than $15 an hour for human labor.

There have been wild reports of robots taking away anywhere from 100,000 to 1 million jobs by 1990. Many pro-robot supporters have argued there will be no noticeable worker displacement and additional new jobs will be created.

THE TRUTH probably lies somewhere in between. For one things, robots can only be used for certain jobs. It is estimated that robots can perform less than 10 percent and probably less than 5 percent of industry jobs by 1990.

But there is little doubt some workers will be dis-

Battle looms over worker's comp board chairman

Allo, a former United Auto Workers official who lives in Birmingham, is Blanchard's designee to chair the Workers Compensation Appeals Board.

"Bias" is a word you'll hear a lot.

Already two area senators - Republicans Doug Cruce of Troy and Robert Geake of Northville - are calling on Blanchard to withdraw the nomination.

It's not, said Cruce, that Blanchard isn't entitled to have someone of Allo's views on the board. Rather, it's that the chair has certain agenda powers that the ordinary voting member doesn't have.

ALLO IRRITATED lawmakers and businesspeople as he led the UAW's opposition to workers compensation reforms. Apparently he was pretty vehement.

"In 1981," said Cruce, "the Legislature, in a spirit of bipartisan cooperation, made reforms in the Workers Compensation Act which have had a significant effect on improving Michigan's business climate. The Legislature was able to hammer out a reform package that took the first step toward making workers compensation eq-

THE HOT POTATO of maneuvering Allo's appointment through the upper body is the job of Senate Majority Leader William Faust of Westland.

Faust doubles as chair of the Senate Administration, Rules and Elections Committee. He has asked Allo to make himself available to senators for questioning but has not scheduled hearings before his com-

If Allo intended to allay the fears of business, he is in trouble. James Barrett, president of the state Chamber of Commerce, said the new procedures do not erase his concerns over Allo's bias toward organized

"The procedures are a small part of his administrative responsibility," said Barrett. "The real problem is you've got a chairman who is a spokesman and policy person in the administration to comment on and interpret the law and suggest changes."

civil procedures while the Michigan Legislature is in session. Immunity was considered a fine idea when the Legislature met a few months a year, but nowadays its sessions are practically year-long.

The gist of Faust's bills:

• If a legislator is party in a civil action while the Legislature is in session, the civil action is to be postponed without motion to a non-session day. It must be at least two days after the date the Legislature ad- new jail, scheduled to be opened Dec. 1 but journs either temporarily or for the year.

• If delay would harm the plaintiff's rights, a court could continue the civil action on a non-session day during the legislative season. This could apply during (say)

• A legislator called as a witness could have his/her testimony postponed to the earliest practicable non-session day.

WAYNE COUNTY Sheriff Robert Ficano has lined up pace problem.

Ficano gave Barns a tour of the new jail and won her support in sponsoring a bill to allow double-bunking of prisoners in the more likely to open in spring.

"Let me stress that the proposal is for partial double-bunking - that is, only 384 cells are involved out of 576," said Ficano. "This bill must be seriously considered.

"All eight to the corner for a left hand star," calls Bob Brennan of Livonia, who has been calling out directions to square

By Sherry Kahan staff writer

ARY BRENNAN labels it "the most popular recreation for couples in the country."

The Livonia resident, who is a member of the Westland Haystack Twirlers Square Dance Club, was talking about her favorite topic during Square Dance Week, which is just about to end. It is an activity which involves more than six million Americans.

To a beginner it looks complex. But Brennan claimed, "Everybody can do square dancing. They just need a little training."

Simple in colonial times, square dancing has grown into a sophisticated entertainment with 3,600 calls in its repertoire. However, the average dancers use about 90.

These calls have been standardized so that square dancers in California could jump right into a square in Westland and understand the calls. At the national square dance convention, which was held recently in Detroit, it was possible to see 250 squares, all with colorfully clad dancers doing the same steps at the same time.

People who live in such places as Japan, Taiwan, Germany were also present. While they did not necessarily understand English, they had learned the meaning of the various calls.

TO HELP THEIR dancers keep in practice, the Twirler meets the first, third and fifth Friday of each month at 8 p.m. in Bailey Recreation Center on Ford Road, behind the Westland City Hall. The sessions are sponsored by the Westland Parks and Recreation Department.

It is also still possible for beginners to join a weekly class, which meets each Tuesday at 8 p.m. at Bailey. The cost is $4 per couple. Enrollment is open up to Tuesday, Oct. 11. Those who complete the class are eligible to join the Twirlers. For information, call Brennan at 421-5359.

In her discussion of the art of dancing in the square, Brennan was doing her best to talk over the noise of a Twirlers workshop on square dancing. Her husband, Bob Brennan, was doing the calling. Men in western garb held on to women, who swirled around in their knee-length dresses and petticoats. One of the women, Marge Toth of Redford, mentioned that her petticoat is made of 48 yards of polyester organdy.

The calls, "allemand left" and "bow to your partner" were still heard. But there were also directions from Bob Brennan to make an ocean, spin chain the gears, relay the deucy and yellow rock. New calls.

"Square dancing started when the Pilgrims came," said Mary Brennan. "It was simple. They didn't take lessons in those days. They were too busy. They began as children, learning by watching what the first couple in the square

"Today we don't use a horse and buggy. We ride in sophisticated automobiles, and square dancing has become sophisticated. We still use from 10-15 movements from back then. But we've added many more.

"Also in the old fashloned dances, one couple moved at a time. Now all four couples move."

She added that square dancing has bits of pieces of folk dances of all the nations whose people came to this country. Like the nation itself, square dances are "a melting pot," she said.

"WE ENJOY IT," said Andrew Toth of Redford, who was wearing a white western shirt with a red tie and tie ring. "It's a mild form of exercise and has a lot of sociability. We are both retired. It gives us an outlet for our energy, and helps to keep us young." His wife, Marge, was clad in a white

His wife, Marge, was clad in a white dress with red rosebuds, which she had purchased at Ruth-Ad store in Detroit.

This manufacturing and retail outlet for square dancers exports square dance clothing to countries as far away as Germany and Japan.

Mrs. Toth estimated that about 25 percent of the women square dancers make their own dresses.

Kethern Scrutte of Livenia who with

Kathryn Sprutte of Livonia, who with her husband, Earl, shares the presidency of the club, has been dancing about four years. She called it fun, and a place "to meet a lot of nice people."

Her son Ron regards it as "clean fun and a way to spend a nice night without spending much money."

"I think it's the greatest sport there is," said Wayburn Byrd, a former resident of Arkansas who now lives in Westland. "I didn't think I'd like it at first, but there is no way to keep me away now."

What a successful dancer needs, in his opinion, is a good memory for calls and a sense of rhythm. "You can do square dancing every day of the week in this area if you want to," he said.

MARY LOU PETERSON of Westland, a former president, mentioned that she and her husband, Bob, took up the activity after their son, Donald, arranged for square dancing at his wed-

Middle Eastern feast, fun at St. Mary's fest

Whenever Kawakip dances, she draws a crowd. Usually it's at the Omar Khayyam lounge in Garden City where she is a featured dancer. This weekend, she will highlight the Mid-Eastern entertainment at St. Mary's family fun fair.

For years, the Middle Eastern home-baked goodies made with tender loving care by the bakers at St. Mary Antiochian Orthodox Church in Livonia were feature attractions at everyone else's festivals. Places like Livonia Spree and the Plymouth Fall Festival.

But not this weekend. Instead, all those flavorsome favorites will be star attractions in their own ethnic setting. The event is the first family fun fair in St. Mary's history and it will be held on the church grounds at 18100 Merriman Road this week-

Ethnic foods will include falafil in pita bread, shish-kafta in pita, honey balls and baklawa — to mention a few.

But to cover all tastes, there will also be some American favorites like hot dogs and french fries. Food isn't the only attraction. There will also be a wide range of entertainment that will include rides, games, a Vegas room and video games. MIDDLE EASTERN dance shows are scheduled at 6 p.m. and 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, and at 3:30 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. Sunday.

Highlighting the musical entertainment will be guest appearances by Kawakip, popular area belly dancer. Kawakip, whose American name is Linda Fiest, is credited with raising $20,000 during the recent Jerry Lewis muscular dystrophy telethon. She is currently the featured dancer at a Garden City lounge.

The music and dancing will be continuous during the time the festival is in progress.

The public will be invited to join in dancing the debkeh, a traditional folk dance done on joyous occasions where everyone joins hand and dances in a circle to special music.

Proceeds from the festival will be used to build a cultural center for the active parish of 250 families, according to Pastor George Shalhoub.

Admission is free and there is adequate parking on the adjacent Bryant School parking lot. Festival hours are: Friday, 4 p.m. to 11 p.m.; Saturday, noon to 11 p.m.; Sunday, noon to 8 p.m.

THE $100,000

ADDED ATTRACTION!

It's like a whole new game. Rub the stub and a letter will appear. Collect enough letters to spell "J-A-C-K-P-O-T"

Food will be one of the highlights at the first family fun fair sponsored by St. Mary's Antiochian Orthodox Church in Livonia. All of it will be prepared by women of the church, including Najla Ayyash (left), Naimeh Abdelnour, Abla Khoury, Laayla Abdelnour, Suad Dirbas and Wala Ziadeh. In the center is the Rev. George Shalhoub, St. Mary's pastor. Ethnic dishes that will be available include: baklawa (left), pita bread that will be filled with falafil or shish-kafta (center), and honey balls, shown on the right.

The 6-month Rising Rate Certificate combines a 30-day certificate automatically renewing, unless redeemed, into a 5-month certificate. The deposit may be withdrawn without interest penalty at the end of the initial 30-day majurity of subsequent 5-month majurity. Federal regulations require substantial interest penalties for withdrawals made prior to the initial 30-day deposit term or subsequent 5-month term. Members FDIC.

Lucas still seeks hospital operators

By Tim Richard staff writer

Medical service to the poor doesn't have to suffer if Wayne County finds someone else to run its general hospital in Westland, County Executive William Lucas said.

"Only 6 percent of the county's indigents use it, but it's still looked at as a hospital for indigent care," Lucas told the Canton Rotary Club Monday.

"There will always remain the commitment that the poor and indigent will be taken care of."

"WE ARE in negotiation with state and private agencies to see if they are interested in operating the hospital," said the county's first executive. He revealed he also had talked to a private hospital operating company in Memphis about the hospital'sp roblem - an operating deficit approaching $15 million a year.

"But we have no intention of closing Wayne County General Hospital," said Lucas, pointing out that WCGH performs the functions of trauma treatment center and teaching hospital as well as general hospital care.

"Its costs tend to be higher for those reasons. Those costs should be shared by the state."

Lucas defended his veto of a County Commission ordinance which would have given the legislative branch effective appointment power over a board running the hospital. The ordinance was sponsored by Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Inkster, who pictured the issue as one of being for or against keeping the building open.

Lucas called the ordinance "an attempt by the commission to put us back in a feudal system." He warmly praised Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, whose district includes Canton, for opposing the ordinance and helping prevent the commission from overriding his veto.

BART BERG, who represented Canton on the 1981 Charter Commission, asked Lucas about having a private operator take over WCGH as had happened with the Cook County (III.) hospi-

"Cook tried to divest itself of the hospital," Lucas replied. "Unfortunately, the people they contracted with did such a poor job (of serving indigents) that they (county government) had to take it back."

But Lucas said there are "several successful companies" which operate hospitals and could possibly take over WCGH.

Lucas said WCGH runs $12-15 million deficits (on a budget of $55 million) because "it is sorely overstaffed with 350 too many employees; salaries are 42 percent higher than comparable hospitals; its occupancy rate is 45 percent when you need 75 percent occupancy to break even; and the work rules are onerous."

He said his administration had unilaterally imposed a new contract that changes many hospital work rules regarding which classification of employees can do which jobs.

WCGH costs run $650 a day, while most metropolitan area hospitals' costs run $250 to $300, he added.

ASKING FOR popular support for his nine-month-old administration, Lucas criticized some commission personalities for holding up confirmation of his appointments "because they don't like the color of my eyes."

He praised Donald H. Bishop, mayor of Dearborn Heights, whom he nominated to be assistant CEO for public services.

A County Commission committee has recommended rejection of Bishop's appointment.

Be wary of changing the U.S. Constitution

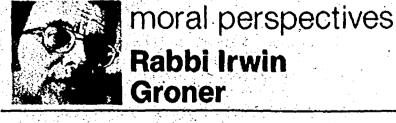

Few Americans are aware of a national effort that began in 1975 to change the Constitution of the United States. All amendments to the Constitution so far — The Bill of Rights, The Abolition of Slavery, The Federal Income Tax — have been proposed by a two-thirds vote in each House of Congress and then ratified by three-fourths of the State Legislatures. This process has allowed careful drafting and full discussion of these fundamental chagnes in our way of life. No longer content to amend the Constitution by this well-tested method, a highly organized political action group of ultra-conservatives is now seeking to amend the Constitution by a Constitutional Convention.

This option is defined by Article V of the Constitution which provides that Congress "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the States shall call for a convention for proposing amendments."

Constitution Convention which will draft an amendment requiring a federal balanced budget. Two-thirds of the several states in this day and age add up to 34. As of

to call a Constitution Convention for the creation of a balanced budget amendment. A resolution to this effect, Senate Joint Resolution "E", is under consideration by the Senate of the State of Michigan. This resolution should be opposed for these reasons:

1. It is unclear whether a Constitutional Conventional could be restricted to one issue, and it is most likely, that it will not be. For example, repeal of basic labor laws, elimination of the income tax, separation of church and state, prayer in the public schools, or other Constitutional issues can be Constitutional Convention.

WITH MANY well-organized, welltheir causes, it is hard to imagine how self.

passed resolutions petitioning Congress frame a balanced budget amendment could avoid debating other proposed amendments as well.

A runaway Convention seems likely. It is the Constitution of the United Staes and the Bill of Rights that have preserved freedom for all Americans since the founding of this great nation. We should vigorously oppose any circumstance that could jeopardize the enduring strength of America's Consti-budget, the states would impose a fiscal straight jacket upon the Congress that would prevent the legislative branch from using its taxing and spending powers to address national needs in time of economic crisis.

SECOND, such an amendment would grant sweeping new powers to the judicial branch of government. If, for example, Congress dosen't achieve a balanced budget, could a court determine how to achieve that end or could the members of Congress be sued or failed for contempt if they failed to comply? These are questions with-out answers because no one has any certain response to these possibilities.

3. This is a time when our nation is in need of recovering from an era of divisiveness, uncertainty and unrest. It would be a serious mistake to take the uncharted course of Article V, a calling of a Constitutional Conventional which would lead to a power struggle between the Convention and the other

U.S.-backed mortgages offer safety, high interest

Many people don't realize that some good, safe mortgages backed by federally related agencies currently yield 1 percent or more above good, safe bonds, such as 10-year U.S. Treasuries. Three agencies continually buy up mortgages on homes and apartments to keep funds flowing back to lenders for use for new loans.

GOVERNMENT NATIONAL Mortgage Association (Ginnie Mae). Ginnie Mae is a part of HUD, and it provides money for financing residential housing progams where established homefinancing facilities are inadequate.

GNMA's credit is backed by the full faith and credit of the U.S. government, and it is authorized to borrow from the Treasury to insure timely payments of principal and interest on securities guaranteed by it.

Three types of GNMA securities are available, all of whose interest payments are fully taxable at the federal, state and local levels.

 GNMA Mortgage-backed Securities are backed by a pool of FHA or VA-insured mortgages that have been issued by other government organizations and guaranteed by GNMA.

• GNMA Participation Certificates are issued primarily against the assembled loan assets of several government agencies whose mortgage management and liquidation functions were taken over by GNMA in 1968.

• The third type of GNMA issue, officially called GNMA Modified Pass-Through Securities, has several unusual features. The securities are created when a mortgage banker assembles a pool of at least $2 million worth of FHA or VA-guaranteed mortgages of the same coupon and maturity and deposits them at a custodian bank.

GNMA then issues securities against these mortgages, with interest and principal payments made monthly to the investor regardless of whether it has been collected on time from the mortgagee (i.e on a modified passthrough basis).

FEDERAL NATIONAL Mortgage Association (Fannie Mae). The Fannie Mae raises money to buy residential mortgages from savings and loan institutions, banks and insurance companies, in order to provide additional liquidity to the mortgage market in periods of tight credit when normal capital flows to this sector diminish.

The FNMA issues several types of securities of varing forms and maturities, all of which are subject to federal, state, and local income taxes. Another type of security issued by FNMA includes their mortgage-backed bonds, which are secured by mortgages and by the GNMA and thus have the backing of the U.S. government.

FEDERAL HOME Loan Mortgage Corp. (Freddie Mac). Freddie Mac raises money for buying residential mortgages from federally insured savings institutions, such as savings and loan associations, when they need more money to finance new housing in periods of tight money. The mortgagebacked bonds range in maturity from GNMA.

Here are the ways by which you can buy the mortgages discussed above.

• Direct participation. You can buy certificates backed by GNMA mortgages from large brokers. Minimum purchase is $25,000, with additional increments of $5,000. Large banks offer participations that include securitles based on Ginnie Mae, Fannie Mae, and Freddie Mac mortgages.

• Unit Trusts. These are pools of large numbers of certificates set up by brokers who then sell units to investors. Once the trust is set up, there is no turnover or replacement of certificates. Minimum investment varies, but usually is $1,000, with increments of $1 above that.

• Mutual Funds. Several no-loan funds invest in mortgage-backed securities. Not all mutual funds dealing with these securities deal with all of them. You may find more information

Mock disaster drill Saturday

A mock disaster emergency drill will test Detroit Metropolitan Airport's rescue plan Saturday.

"Fortunately, Metro Airport has never had a fatal crash involving a commercial passenger airliner," said Grace R. Hampton, chairwoman of the Wayne County Road Commission, which operates the airport. "We pray we never do—but we want our people trained to handle any and all emergencies."

More than 300 "victims," firefighters, rescue teams, airline personnel, sheriff's deputies and hospital staff will take part in the exercise in the drill behind the Delta Airlines hangar on the northeast side of the airport. The drill will not disturb the airport's normal activities.

Participating hospitals are Wayne County General, Annalpolis, Heritage and Garden City Osteopathic.

While no airline crashes have caused fatalities, a Jan. 11 cargo plane crash killed three crewmen. The crash is still under investigation by the National Safety Transportation Board, said Hampton.

"Many Faces of ESP"; Sept. 29, "Interpret Your Own Dreams"; Oct. 6, "Reincarnation and Karma"; and Oct. 13, "Existence in Materialistic and Non-Materialistic Worlds."

Fee is $35. For registration information, call the college's community services office at 591-6400 Ext. 409.

COMMERCIAL and Industrial Energy Management will be covered in a workshop from 9 a.m. to noon Saturday, Sept. 24, by Bernard Bach, an experienced electrical engineer.

Participants will learn where greatest energy losses occur in buildings and how to lower utility costs. It will cover heating, ventilating, air conditioning, lighting, controls, insulation and other energy conservation topics.

Fee is $15. Registration information is available from the community services office.

DIVORCE MEDIATION is open for counselors with masters' degrees, or five years counseling experience, and attorneys. The five-day program runs from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 20-24.

Conducting the 40-hour training program will be Dr. John Haynes, author of "Divorce Mediation: A Guide for Therapists and Counselors" and president of the National Academy of Family Mediators.

Topics will be conflict management, divorce mediation structure, family system theory, family law overview and establishing a mediation practice.

Price is $600. Contact the community services office for registration information.

THE PHYSICAL education facility is open to persons 18 or older through a Community Health-Fitness Program.

At a price of $45 per semester, the program includes use of the college pool, saunas, weight training equipment, two gymnasiums and exercise-weight room.

It is open from 7:30 a.m. to 9:45 p.m. Monday-Friday when no regular classes or activities are scheduled. Business and industry groups can be accommodated.

For enrollment information, contact the college's physical education department at 591-6400 Ext. 480.

Hudson Mills gets activity building

Hudson Mills, one of three small metroparks on the Huron River northwest of Ann Arbor, got a bump upward in status.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority awarded a $729,000 contract for an Outdoor Activity Center Building at the park ty Center Building at the park.

The 55,000-square-foot building will have yeararound multiple uses — food service, restrooms and a warming area for such winter sports as ice skating and crosscountry skiing.

Carl Engineers, Inc., of Jackson has the general contract. The building is expected to be ready by late 1984 or early '85.

Hudson Mills is on North Territorial Road about 20 miles west of Plymouth. The park covers about 1.500 acres.

TWO AUTUMN nature center programs are scheduled for Kensington Metropark west of New Hudson Sunday, Sept. 25.

At 10 a.m., naturalist Mark Szabo will present "Moods of Autumn in Music," an hour of guitar music and observation of autumn moods.

At 2 p.m., naturalist Brian Creek will lead a twohour nature walk on "Observing Nature's Bounty" — a haunt for fruits, nuts and seeds that are food for wildlife.

The nature center is on the west side of the park. Use the Kensington Road exit from I-96. A vehicle entry permit is required, but no admission is charged for the nature center programs. Register in advance by calling the park office at 685-1561.

MDOT to test new reflectors on I- 275

An unlit segment of I-275 freeway will receive recessed pavement reflectors to improve night visi-

The experimental program was announced by the Michigan Department of Transportation. The six-mile section is between I-96 (Jeffries) in Livonia and I-696 (Reuther) in Novi.

Bids were taken in Lansing this week, and M-DOT said installation is expected in a month. Results of the project will be known in March of 1986.

MDOT will conduct before-and-after studies of accident data to see if the reflectors improve safety. Raised reflectors were tested but found impractical because of high costs and damage from snowplows.

Payne's plans true to target

ALK IS CHEAP. In boxing, it's priceless meaning it's totally worthless. So it was with a certain degree of doubt that I listened to Livonia super heavyweight Craig Payne a month ago as he laid plans that would take him to an Olympic gold

"I'm not going to lose another amateur fight," he said. He had just lost a controversial decision to Tyrell Biggs in the U.S, trials for the Pan Am

"I'm going to win the North American title next month. That'il earn me a a shot at the World championships in October, After I win that, I'll beat Biggs in the ABF tournament. The only thing left then will be the Olympic games."

HOLD ON a minute, I wanted to say to Craig. After all, he wasn't exactly on a hot streak. Besides losing to Biggs, he had been ruled a knockout victim of Al Evans at the National Festival. He had also lost a few international fights.

That would make anyone doubt such plans. I did. Fighters often spout dreams of grandeur. Most often they go unfulfilled.

Craig Payne seemed different. I wanted to believe him. But facts are facts, and the recent past did not favor Payne's plans.

"I'm going to be like a dog," he said. "These guys won't even recognize me, I'll be so mean." No more Mr-Nice Guy, eh? Well, saying it is one thing, doing it is another. We'll just wait and see SEPT. 15, 1983 — a date Payne will never forget. It was on that day he took a giant leap forward in his boxing career.

But more than that, he proved something unlike most of the Muhammed Ali mimmicks thatpopulate the sport's ranks these days, Payne did not just spout empty promises.

He ala just what he said he would. What he did was successfully complete the first step of his plan — he won the North American title and earned a berth in the World Tournament. And he did it by soundly beating Teofilo Stevenson, the boxing legend. The Cuban fighter has won the last three Olympic gold medals. He hadn't lost to a U.S. boxer in a dozen years. Until last Thursday.

"I WAS CONFIDENT the whole time," Payne said of the Stevenson fight Monday. After defeating Stevenson, he KO'd Roberto Galan of Guatemala in the second round of Saturday's finals.

"I stuck to my game plan and went right after (Stevenson). I didn't respect him, his right hand or anything. I made him fight my fight."

This was a different Craig Payne speaking. It wasn't the same Craig Payne who had been plagued by Biggs-itis, an ailment that made the Livonian obsessed with whipping Biggs, the nation's No. 1rated super heavyweight.

This wasn't the same Craig Payne who, when finally getting his shot at Biggs, let it slip from his

"I was a dog," Payne said Monday. "I let the dog in me come out."

Just like he said he would.

IF THERE IS a turning point in Craig's career, it did not come against Stevenson. It came against Understand, Biggs has received all the hoopla and attention. All the television execs and promoters backed his career.

That tore at Payne. Hey, he said, if Biggs was the best, let him prove it in the ring. Prior to last month, the only time the two had met ended in a controversial decision in Biggs' favor.

To Payne, favor was a word that fit Biggs well - as in favoritism. Boxing's manipulators did whatever could be done to keep the two from meeting, Payne felt. Fixing a tourney draw. Favoritism among the judges. Et cetera, et cetera. -The Pan Am trials should have given Payne a chance to prove himself. After all the waiting, he would get his shot at Biggs.

That's when the Biggs psyche out knocked Payne

NSL kicks off race at 'Dome

By Brad Emons staff writer

There appears to be some cracks in the football armour of the Northwest Suburban League (NSL).

The NSL, which always seems to boast a state playoff contender, is suffering through one of its poorest nonleague records ever. The six teams, which kick off their league schedule Saturday in a tripleheader at the Pontiac Silverdome, have combined for a 3-9 non-conference record so far.

"It looks like the thing is wide open," said Westland John Glenn coach Chuck Gordon. "It matters what team goes on a roll."

The way things have been going, any one of the six teams could win it. Yes, even Redford Thurston, who broke a 16-game losing streak last weekend by shocking Walled Lake Western, 19-14.

"WHEN I SAW Thurston play Northville (a 47-0 loss), they were right in there at halftime." said Gordon, now in his eighth season. "If we don't play better, we're in trouble against RU."

Garden City, North Farmington and Redford Union have yet to win, while defending league champ Livonia Franklin, Thurston and Glenn are 1-1. Garden City and Franklin square off Livonia Churchill defeated Garden City in a non-league girls' swim meet Thursday at GC, 97-72.

Gayle Gorgas and Kendra James each won two events for the Chargers. James captured the 100-yard butterfly (1:05.3) and 100 backstroke (1:09.3), while Gorgas won the 200 individual medley (2:22.5) and 100 breastroke

(1:16.6). Gorgas and James combined with Nickey Otto and Karyn Zomzalski to win the 400 freestyle relay in 4:19.2. Terri McTaggart diver was Churchill's other individual winner.

GC individual winners included Szeromski, 50 freestyle; Dorsey, 100 freestyle, and Wince, 500 freestyle. The Cougars also won the 200 medley relay.

times of 57.1 and 2:04.0. The 100 time broke a Glenn pool mark.

She also teamed up with Linda Sislo, Chris Kett and Erin Henry to win the 400 freestyle relay in 4:07.2.

Bentley girls win, 53-26

Livonia Bentley certainly looked like a state-ranked team Tuesday night, pounding previously unbeaten Livonia Franklin in a non-league girls' basketball game, 53-26.

The 5-0 Bulldogs, ranked No. 7 in Class A by a statewide coaches poll, used a pressure full-court defense and superior quickness to hound the Patrithe first quarter." Leading the way was senior Laurie Day with 11 points. Junior point guard Lonnie Payne added 10 points and four assists, while Sheri Wolfe contributed nine points, 10 rebounds and nine assists. Bentley also had nine steals.

"I think they were surprised by our quickness," Lang said. "I think it hurt them in the beginning.

"We expected a very tight, tough game coming in. The people we played and the people they had played were different. We didn't know coming in who had the advantage."

Sue Johnson and Carolyn Smith led Franklin with eight and six points, respectively.

The Rockets won their fifth straight Tuesday with a 21-4 outburst in the second quarter. Glenn's full-court press forced winless Belleville into numerous turnovers during the surge.

Sophomore Diana Sommerman scored 10 points for the winners on five for seven shooting. Sophie Castonguay and Julie Pucci added eight points

Can there be improvement from a 33-0 defeat one week to a 82-7 loss the next?

Garden City first-year football coach Dean Shipman thinks so. His Cougars, beaten by perennial power Dearborn Fordson on Saturday, saw some encouraging signs despite a 25-point defeat.

"We had 155 yards in penalties against Wayne Memorial the first week and only 37 against Fordson," the said. "I think we'll improve with each game. The kids are spirited and working at it. We do have some tal-

Fordson racked up 332 total yards to GC's 176.

Cougar quarterback John Romano hit nine of 16 passes for 101 yards. Tight end Jeff Shroat caught four of those passes.

Defensively for the Cougars, inside linebacker Kevin Harkness was credited with 10 tackles and Mike Moynihan had two interceptions.

"Fordson was awesome," Shipman said. "They don't do anything fancy, but they looked like they were forming a rugby scrum out there. They build that wedge and come at you."

Livonia boxer frustrates foe in Houston tilt

In a stunning upset, Livonia's Craig Payne did what no other U.S. boxer had done in the last 13

Indeed, what Payne accomplished was something few boxers ever managed — he defeated the top-rated super heavyweight fighter in the world, three-time Olympic gold medalist Teofilo Stevenson of Cuba, in the North American Boxing Champlonships last Thursday in Houston.

On Saturday Payne, 22, made his victory complete by stopping Guatemala's Roberto Galan in the second round to capture the North American title and earn a berth in the World Tournament Oct.

Payne's win over Stevenson was by a 3-2 split decision, although both Payne and coach Paul Soucy of the Livonia Boxing Club felt the Cuban champ never won a round. The fight will be telecast on ABC-TV Saturday.

ACCORDING TO SOUCY, Payne showed no respect for Stevenson, ignoring the Cuban's famed right hand punching power and instead taking the fight to him. Payne confused Stevenson, Soucy said, by moving laterally and making himself a difficult target to hit.

Payne was in serious trouble just once, when Stevenson landed a pair of rights to Payne's head in the second round, sending him to the ropes. In the third, Stevenson hit Payne with a solid right to the body. Both times the Livonia fighter was able to shake off the effects.

"I was too pumped up," Payne said. "There were 3,000 fans cheering, 'USA, USA'."

It was Payne's fifth national tournament title. The World Games will be a difficult test for the young boxer. The toughest challenges for Payne will come from Francesco Damiani of Italy and Alexander Krupin of the Soviet Union.

Fight plan works for Craig Payne

"IF I'D HAD the desire to win at the Pan Am trials like I had against Stevenson, Biggs would be in retirement right now," Craig sald.

The problem was he didn't. Boxing big shots had Biggs slotted in for the Pan Am team berth. A press conference was scheduled. All before Payne and Biggs had stepped into the ring.

That, more than anything, ended Payne's chances for victory. If they want Biggs on the Pan Am team, let 'em take him, Payne figured. I don't want

Those were his thoughts as he entered the ring. After a close first round, Payne knocked Biggs down twice in the second. One was ruled a slip. He had Biggs beaten. But his concentration waned, and Biggs finished strong, winning the third round.

Payne lost the decision — indeed, he even lost the second round, although he claims Biggs was nearly finished and never threw a punch. "I was so set on Biggs, I forgot what I should have been doing," Payne said Monday, which was just try to win fights, not worry about his rival.

IRONICALLY, FATE and Payne's talent intervened. Biggs, who was knocked out by Stevenson a year ago, lost in his first bout of the Pan Am games to Cuban Jorge Gonzalez.

That, combined with his win, catapults Payne into the favorite's role for the U.S. Olympic team

"I'm the man now," Payne said. "Now I call the shots.'

That doesn't mean he's going to coast. "I'm on a cloud now," he said. "I'll stay up there a few more days, then come down.

The most important thing for me to do is forget about (the Stevenson win). I can't let my head get big. Now these other fighters are going to be after-

"I could fall as fast as I got here." Intelligent advice. Payne is also well aware of where he stands in the plans he has mapped out for.

"It's not over with yet," he said. "I've got to keep my head at a level where I don't get myself in trouble.

"I've got to keep fighting like a junkyard dog."
And keep winning. Because now that he's rid himself of Biggs-itis, there's something else he'd like to ban from his life:

Churchill reigns in big Schoolcraft meet

Livonia Churchill made it a clean sweep Saturday in the Schoolcraft College cross country invitationals for boys and girls.

The Churchill boys, gaining three of the top 10 places, defended its crown with a score of 119. Northville and Redford Union were second and third, respectively (results appear on page 4c).

Julie Recla's first-place finish spurred the Churchill girls to the team victory over Western Lakes rivals Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem.

The 18th annual boys event, drawing competitors from 16 schools, was won by Stevenson senior Ken Dubois, who covered the flat three-mile course in 16:00.

RU's David Adkins was second, 25 seconds behind the leader.

Churchill garnered third (Don Miller), fifth (Doug Plachta) and 10th (Paul Schwartz) spots. Recla and leammate Dorene Dudek, both seniors, gained first and ninth overall to lead Churchill. Other Churchill finishers included Jill Calmotto and Amy Masternak, 26 and 27, respectively. And freshman Kristen Schultz was 31st.

Sue Tatigian was Stevenson's top finisher in second, while Thurston's Katle Showich gained fifth even though the Eagles failed to comprise enough runners to gain a spot in the team standings.

REDFORD CATHOLIC Central finished behind Grand Blanc for the second straight week, this time in the 20-team Holly Invitational for boys.

Grand Blanc scored 69 points to CC's 78. Swartz Creek was third with 99.

CC coach Kevin Kayanaugh noted that his team cut the point differential down considerably from the West Bloomfield Invitational (Sept. 10), where Grand Blanc ruled by a 49point margin.

CC got strong finishes at Holly from Mark Anderson, seventh place, 16:49; Marty Hegarty, 11th, 17:00; Steve Shaver, 16th, 17:17; Chris Rito, 17th, 17:21; and Jim Cauzillo, 27th, 17:43.

CC also rolled past Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher Monday at Kimball High School in a Catholic League dual, 15-50.

Anderson, Hegarty, Rito, Cauzillo and Shaver all crossed the tape together in 17:35. CC takes on Birmingham Brother Rice at 4 p.m. Monday at Cass.

BISHOP BORGESS' girls won their meet against Birmingham Marian, 15-50, in a dual Monday at Marshbank Park.

Borgess swept the first six spots to run its record to 2-1. The top finishers included Kris Whise, first, 21:35; Sherry Williams (21:50), Carole Shaheen (23:38), Sue Panek (24:26), Kelly Dooley (25:07) and Sheri Crank (25:16). The Borgess boys, however, were beaten soundly on Monday by Harper Woods Notre Dame in a dual meet at Cass, 15-50.

ND's Lee Vaughi grabbed first, covering the 5,000-meter course in 18:25. Ken Stefiak was Borgess' top finisher in 20:02.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN opened its dual meet season last week with a 22-36 win over rival Wayne Memorial.

Lakes Division

Ist week features important match-ups

By Brad Emons and Chris McCosky staff writers

HURSTON OVER Walled Lake Western — who'd a thunk it? That was just a sample of the frustration suffered by your expert (?) prognosticators last week.

The week was not a total washout, however. Emons was 8-6 last week, upping his season mark to 16-11. McCosky, suffering costly losses thanks to North Farmington, Clarenceville, John Glenn and Thurston, went 7-7. The rookie just missed nudging the .500 mark. He's 13-14.

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL at LIVONIA BENTLEY (7:30 p.m. Friday). Who can figure out Bentley from week to week?

Unbeaten Walled Lake, meanwhile, is no longer a pretender anymore in the Lakes Division of the WLAA. Quarterback Tom Menard threw for 161 yards and two touchdowns in last week's 24-13 win over North Farmington.

But beware, Bentley beat Central last year on a Chad Darke field goal with 10 seconds left. Picks - McCosky likes Central by a TD, while Emons disagrees, Bentley by three again.

CLARENCEVILLE at LUTHERAN EAST (7:30 p.m. Friday). The Trojans were impressive in beating Lutheran North as junior Rob McCamant made 18 tackles from his "Tiger Back" spot.

Lutheran East is coming off a 21-6 defeat to Metro Conference favorite Detroit Country Day. Picks -McCosky likes East by three, while Emons takes Clarenceville by six.

PLYMOUTH CANTON at LIVONIA CHURCHILL (7:30 p.m. Friday). Both teams are 0-2, but find new life as the WLAA schedule begins.

Canton moved the ball well against Salem, but couldn't put it in the end zone. Churchill, meanwhile, moved the ball too late in a 21-7 loss to Ann Arbor Huron. The coin please. Picks -McCoský sticks by Canton in a threepointer. Emons likes Churchill because of the home field in OT.

LIVONIA STEVENSON at PLYM-OUTH SALEM' (7:30 p.m. Friday). An early season Lakes Division showdown as both teams are unbeaten.

The two lines are small, but quick. It's wishbone versus pro-style, Stevenson can pass with quarterback Dan Gilmartin, while Salem likes the pitch and run. The key for Salem could be quarterback Mark Tindall. The coin please. Picks - McCosky likes the Rocks by six. Emons goes with Stevenson by seven.

FARMINGTON HARRISON at

grid predictions

NORTHVILLE (7:30 p.m. Friday). Another WLAA showdown featuring unbeaten teams.

Northville clobbered Thurston in its opener (47-0) and followed up with a come-from-behind 14-10 win over Westland John Glenn.

Harrison, the state's top-ranked Class A team, needs to shore up its passing game and can't underestimate Northville, which is playing at home. Picks - McCosky and Emons like Harrison by 14 and nine, respectively.

FARMINGTON vs. WALLED LAKE WESTERN (7:30 p.m. Friday at Walled Lake Central). Western still may be in shock after losing to Thurston, while Farmington played well in a 21-0 loss to Harrison.

The Falcons are 1-1 and have a stingy defense, but the offense is still lacking. Picks - McCosky and Emons agree. Farmington by two and eight, respectively.

BISHOP BORGESS at MADISON HEIGHTS BISHOP FOLEY (2:30 p.m. Saturday). The Spartans are now 2-0, boasting a high-powered running at-eight points, respectively.

tack led by Chuck Gregory and Fred

Foley is coming off a 10-7 overtime win against Center Line St. Clement Borgess continues to look like a contender. Picks - McCosky and Emons like Borgess by 10 and 12, respectively

CATHOLIC CENTRAL vs. DEAR. BORN DIVINE CHILD (7:30 p.m. Saturday at Clarenceville). The Shamrocks rebounded in high style, beating Ypsilanti, 7-0, dropping Eric Ball's rushing total from 298 to 36 in one week.

Divine Child is 1-1. The Falcons opened with a tough 3-0 loss to Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher, but drilled Ecorse last week, 35-0, as Sean LaFountaine scored 2 TDs and rushed for 121 yards.

Tom Bridenstine, filling in for David Lewis, gained 114 in the CC win, Should be another hard hitting, defensive struggle. Picks - McCosky likes CC by three and Emons agrees, but by 12.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA vs. ALLEN PARK CABRINI (2:30 Sunday at Allen Park). Class B Cabrini (2-0) has one of the state's top passers in Terry An-

"He (Andrysiak) is super and they're an excellent team," said Agatha coach John Goddard. "If we play like we did last week (a 7-6 loss to Redford St. Mary's,) we couldn't beat the 'Little Sisters of the Poor." Picks — Emons and McCosky like Cabrini by 12 and

Men's All-stars sound warning

for new season

There is no question about it now. The all time records in the Detroit area are in danger and the bowling season is only a month old.

The first warning came in the men's all-star classic when the Stroh team posted a 3532 series at Astro Lanes. Then, the women came to the fore when Cheryl Daniels, bowling with women all stars, came through with a 781 at Luxury Lanes. This is only six pins shy of the record posted last season by Penny Behn. Cheryl also holds fourth place on the all time list with a 773 bowled in the 1981-82 sea-

THE HIGH SCORING predicted before the season opened is showing up with each succeeding week. For example, not a week goes by that several more sharpshooters are admitted to the 700 club.

It used to be a great achievement when a bowler fashioned a 700. It is becoming a bit common place now.

Two more members were admitted this week when Chuck O'Rourke fired a 741 in the men's league at Merri-Bowl and Tim Nippa came through with a 704 at Woodland lanes. O'Rouke had a middle game of 279 and Nippa was helped by an opening 257.

GARDEN LANES. Bruno De Nambro missed the coveted 700 club by just three pins while firing in the Parents without Partners league. He had a 268, but couldn't get the last three pins.

Among the other high counts Marvin Stone had a 630 in the Road Commission loop and Mora Via turned in a 595 to pace the women's league.

MERRI-BOWL. While Chuch O'Rouke fired his 741 there were others who did well. Steve Mitchell topped the Saturday night loop with 691 and Brad Lloyd had a 265 single while Randy Smith turned in a 655 with a 278 game in the men's doubles.

WOODLAND LANES. Judy Honhert showed the way in the Early Birds loop with a 243 in 534 and Sharon Barliakos had a 240 for high single, WESTLAND Bowl Tom Wojnowksi was high man in the all star loop with a 638 and Dave Barnhardt paced the Monday Men with a 605.

The best bowling of the week came in the youth league where Dave Burgo showed the way with 636 and John Berlonggre had high single with 235,

Restaurants find homes in historic buildings

By Ethel Simmons staff writer

HAT MAKES A RESTAU-RANT special may be the food, but often it's more than that alone. Restaurants in old or unusual buildings, or offbeat settings, add an interesting touch to the dining experience.

Thursday, September 22, 1983 O&E

Everything from mills (cider and grain, to name a couple), factories (air rifle, fish and frog spear), family homes and doctor's office have been imaginatively turned into restaurants in areas from Rochester to Plymouth.

Plymouth, in fact, is a leader with some half-dozen restaurants that are in quarters converted from old establishments.

The Paint Creek Restaurant recently opened at the Paint Creek Mill, 4480 Orion Road in Goodison near Rochester. Its picturesque setting includes an old water wheel outside the restaurant and a working cider mill with an apple theme.

"THIS IS a historic site," owner Jery Mancour said. "It had its origin in 1835 and has always been a mill of one type or another, including sawmill or gristmill."

The first building on the site burned in 1885, the second was torn down in 1957. Mancour bought the property, including a milirace and dam, from the original owner six years ago.

The cider mill is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily year-round and now is selling its 1983 crop of cider. The restaurant is open only for dinner, from 5-10 p.m. Tuesdays-Saturdays and 3-10 p.m.

The Paint Creek Restaurant's homey decor was designed by Mancour's wife, Lucy, who works at the cider mill.

bles and chairs in the River Room, which has two rows of tables, and views from windows on both sides.

"There just isn't a bad seat in the whole restaurant," Mancour said. People request the River Room, where they can see the water wheel on one side and Paint Creek on the other.

THE OTHER dining room, equally pleasing, contains what Mancour calls "his toys." These include an old 10horsepower steam boller painted blue' and red "just to add some show business." He also has a generator set, which he demonstrated.

Old wood flooring was salvaged from a schoolhouse, and air grates - also from the schoolhouse floor - have become dividers at the entrance. Tin chandellers throughout the restaurant were handmade in Connecticut.

"For a long time my wife and I have loved visiting country inns," Mancour said, explaining his approach to the restaurant. "We serve American-style foods from Michigan. We're trying to use everything from the area."

Young Chef Jeffrey Harrell, a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America. said Michigan products include tocal butchers' meat and fresh whitefish from the Great Lakes or Canada, Michigan lake perch and brook or rainbow. trout. Michigan fruits and vegetables are used and now, in apple season, there are lots of apple desserts on the menu. Among these are Apple Brown Betty, Pomme Surprise and Apple Fritters.

vatively in cocktails with liquor, and Michigan wines are available. Next spring, Mancour hopes to open a separate cocktail lounge upstairs. The architects' sketch on display show the cocktail bar designed to resemble an apple press.

MANCOUR SAID, "The chef uses a 10-burner range and most everything is sauteed." The Goodison Meat Pie is topped with puff pastry and baked in the oven. Most popular entree is Sauteed Chicken Old Mill.

Daughter Carol is headwaitress and hostess, while daughter June tends the service bar. "Both oversee the cider mill and restaurant," he said. Daughter Tracy, a metalsmith, planted the flowers outside by the water wheel.

Another old mill, the Plymouth Grain Mill, today is the Grain Mill Crossing, a quaint restaurant in the 134-year-old structure. Howard Lawrence, who has owned the 70-seat restaurant for nearly two years, said, "It was originally J.D. McLaren's Grist Mill. Three generations of McLaren operated the mill."

At one time, it was a bean factory. The original wooden bean sorters are still there among many nostalgic pieces that enhance the rustic decor. Chutes in the ceiling were used to pour wheat. The mill also has been a fish and frog spear factory and a place where coal and lumber was sold.

A scale to weigh sacks of grain stands inside the entrance. There's an old pot-bellied stove and the cash register sits on an antique sideboard. Located next to the tracks of the Chesapeake d Ohio Railmad the hullding shakes when trains go by.

"WE HAVE a broad menu," Lawrence said. "We serve everything from a typical breakfast to weekend dinners of prime rib, filet mignon and seafood. We have lots of homemade products lasagna, stuffed cabbage — and we make our own soups, bread and des-

The Grain Mill Crossing, open seven days a week, will soon have separate luncheon and weekend dinner menus for its inexpensive meals. A separate menu also is available for breakfast served weekdays.

Bode's Corned Beef House, owned by Richard and Abbie Meacham, may look its age on the outside and perhaps the inside, too, although it has been remodeled and added to many times. Formica counters and plastic booths give it the look of a modern-day diner.

THE PRESENT restaurant was opened 24 years ago in the structure built in 1868 by a German family as a hotel with sleeping facilities only for the railroad. Today diners can still sitand watch the trains go by.

A specialty of the house is "half a Bode," a corned beef salad served with a hot English muffin, for $2.25.

A Plymouth restaurant near the old train station, in an area called Old Village, is Station 885, on the site of a freight house. The restaurant building was built only 10 years ago, but the first owner ran out of money for development and it wasn't until two years ago that Bill Waun and his wife bought the property from the C & O Railroad and opened their place.

Orchestra invited to Jordan

By Avigdor Zaromp special writer

After the seemingly long summer recess, musical events are about to resume here in full force. This means, among other things, that music critics. who might have become rusty during this period of idleness, have to sharpen their pencils again.

The first major event of this season was a special concert presented by the Renaissance City Chamber Orchestra. The turnout was high, with most seats on all floors filled. Tickets were free. The one thing that wasn't cheap was the performance.

The event that prompted this special concert was the scheduled trip of this group to Jordan, on Sept. 15. This was made possible by official invitation of the Jordanian government, which is underwriting the expenses. This is indeed remarkable, because this Mid-Eastern Arab country isn't traditionally viewed as a classical music center. The fact that Misha Rachlevsky; the organizer of the series, happens to be Jewish, didn't stand in the way of the invitation, which shows that occasionally music can triumph over politics.

THE PROGRAM consisted of three works, two of which are familiar. These were Mozart's "Eine Kleine Nachtmusik," which opened the program, and Vivaldi's 'The Four Seasons," which was the concluding work, comprising the second half of the program.

In between was the Sonata No. 2 for Strings by Rossini, which is one of his infrequently performed chamber compositions.

review

The Mozart composition, in spite of its popularity, sounded sincere and not trivial. There was a full-bodied sound, with overall good coordination. While there were some minor problems in the last, fast-paced movement, they were overcome in the final portion and the result was most pleasing.

The Rossini work, one of his earliest, doesn't feature the crescendo style of his well-known overtures. It is somewhat reminiscent of Haydn's style. While it may not be his most profound piece, the performance was truly captivating.

Vivaldi's "Four Seasons" is performed so frequently that not everybody relishes the prospect of listening to it again. Last season I heard the sequence twice at Orchestra Hall and one of those was with the Renaissance Chamber Orchestra.

RACHLEVSKY, who played the solo violin part in this performance, is an outspoken proponent of Vivaldi. And he is evidently determined to make this composition even more popular than it already is. To a great extent, he has succeeded.

The phrases were well shaped and precise. There was great attention to detail, with a finely articulated dialogue between the solo instrument and the orchestra, keeping the suspense

A very refined echo effect was produced, making the passages full of meaningful content, rather than dull and repetitive.

At the appropriate moments, the orchestra made room for the sound of the harpsichord, played by Catherine Gordon. This is in contrast to some past performances, when the sound of the harpsichord was virtually inaudible.

Rachlevsky was shining with his expressive skill and impressive technique through most of the demanding four concerti, with the exception of the final movement of the summer concerto, in which he ran into problems with the higher notes.

Mini-blinds in the main dining room set off the collection of railroad artifacts Waun has amassed. The loft upstairs is often the gathering spot for party groups.

Waun said, "My wife Lorraine and I run it. The kids work here. We run it for families."

A FOCAL POINT is the cozy, angled bar that encourages conversation. Above the bar is a shelf filled with Jim Beam railway-car whiskey bottles and two stuffed dolls dressed as railraod workers who are called "C" and "E."

Seated on bentwood chairs at small tables, diners can order from the simple menu featuring soups, sandwiches and specials. Most of the sandwiches have names like.Caboose, Brakeman or Cattle Car.

Contemporary design is paired with the old in Emma's Restaurant in Plymouth. The colorful vellow building originally was home to Dr. Coleman, his wife Fanny and their daughter Emma, a well-known area soprano.

The building has been moved once. and Emma's has moved from the part of the structure that houses shops for gifts, books and interiors (the Iron Gate Galleries) to its present location.

The restaurant is bright and airy, restored with its old brick interior walls painted offwhite and the ceiling back to its tongue-and-groove wood. Antique, leaded-glass wall hangings on chains and track lighting add drama.

EMMA'S IS CO-OWNED by two women, Garey Beglinger and Audrey Gibson. Its tables are covered in pretty green-flowered oilcloth and the walls are hung with contemporary prints.

The Garden Room, for nonsmokers, really captures the breezes, with its white latticed open walls. The floor is brick, windows have black grillwork. chairs and tables are white. Plants in pots suit the setting.

"On Golden Pond" opens Komedy Players season

The touching and highly acclaimed comedy "On Golden Pond" by Ernest Thompson will open Friday, Sept. 23, as Komedy Players Dinner Theatre presents its third season of professional dinner theater in Allen Park.

This year a season ticket is offered at special savings, which will enable customers to plan their entertainment year in advance. Neil Simon's "Last of the Red Hot Lovers" will be the second show opening Jan. 20, and "Relatively Speaking" by Alan Ayckbourn will round out the season with an April 27

The dinner theater is owned and operated by Farmington Hills residents Jan and Bill Salisbury.

"On Golden Pond" is the tender and funny love story of Ethyl and Norman Thayer who are returning to their summer home on Golden Pond for their 44th year. They are visited by their daughter and her finance who then go off to Europe leaving his teen-age son in their care.

The single show price is $15.95 per person, while season tickets are available for the three shows at a $6 saving over the single-show price. Tax and gratuity are not included.

The theater is located in the Allen Park Motor Lodge, on Southfield Road between I-94 and I-75.

Writer discovers cities of origin

By Doris Scharfenburg special writer

KREFELD, WEST GERMANY - It was startling to walk past the Seidenweberhaus, Krefeld's handsome civic center, and see what seemed to be an American flag with a sailing ship on a red, white and blue poster.

There was another poster in Grotenburg Park, along St. Aton Strasse and another in Linn Castle. Words on the placards said "300 Jahre Deutsche in Amerika - Krefeld 1983," "300 years of Germans in America - Krefedl 1983." It was a reminder to the 50,000 Krefelders, and any visiting Americans, that they share a milestone.

Krefeld is a bustling city on the Rhine River near the heart of Germany's industrial north. The home of Bayer Aspirin, and the best ties on your rack, it boasts of tree-arched boulevards and sophisticated restaurants where the beer is dark but the mood is festive.

- Talk of immigration to America is all past tense, but Krefelders have been remembering. With their famed German precision, they placed an unusual flat marker in the pavement of the city's center, you must stand in the middle, turning slowly, to read the inscription.

TRANSLATED roughly, "Thirteen German families in the year 1683 went from Krefeld to Pennsylvania in North America, the first group of German immigrants, and founded Germantown near Philadelphia."

Whether or not the memorial is on the exact point of departure may be questioned, but not the fact that those early Mennonites looking for religious freedom were the first in a major human tide.

In 300 years more than six million German nationals, "auswanderers," have crossed the Atlantic, bringing names like Stuben, Zender, Strauss, Astor and Eisenhower to our history and telephone books. A recent estimate shows that one out of every seven U.S. residents has German in his or her background; in Michigan the percentage is even higher.

These eateries definitely are special attractions

Here are some other restaurants that offer different and distinctive places to dine in the suburban area.

 Victoria Station in Southfield and Troy are restaurants built around authentic old railroad cars. The restaurant chain's moderately priced eateries have a British railway motif and a menu big on steaks as well as a variety of other specialties. The Troy location, which opened in 1977, is housed in four railroad cars, similar to the Southfield operation.

• Norman's Eton Station is still undergoing renovation at the old Birmingham train station where the restaurant originally expected to open this month. The historically designated depot closed in 1978 and was purchased from the Grand Trunk Railroad by Train Station Associates. The restaurant will be operated by Norman LePage, owner of Nifty Norman's in West Bloomfield.

• The Double Eagle at Sylvan Glen Golf Course in Troy is in a historic building more than 100 years old. Restaurateur Bruce Cameron spent more than $300,00 renovating the interior when he first leased the building from the City of Troy in 1976. The menu accents regional American foods.

• Peabody's Restaurant in Birmingham formerly was Peabody's Market, housed in a barn-shaped building that originally was a mill first operating in 1904. Its interior was remodeled for a restaurant in 1975, and after the barn burned down in 1980, it was rebuilt exactly as before, right down to historic photos inlaid in the tabletops. The restaurant, known for inexpensive, good food, is still owned and run by the Peabody family.

Renovation of the restaurant and two floors of offices cost $1.7 million. Herbert Schmid has operated the 160-seat restaurant since 1979. Wild Wings Gallery Artwork in a 'natural' setting

By Mary Klemic staff writer

A visitor to the Wild Wings Gallery in Plymouth easily could imagine being in the great outdoors.

Step inside and you are surrounded by ducks and other wildlife fowls, hunting dogs and fish. Many times it takes a second or third glance to realize that the "wildlife" inside the gallery on west-Ann Arbor Trail is a sculpture, painting or other type of artwork instead of a live specimen.

The quality of its artwork and its "natural" setting have added to the gallery's success and popularity, according to Wild Wings representatives.

"This is all nature," said Patricia Mosher, gallery director. "It's beautiful to be around. A lot of people come in just to browse all the time. It's a peaceful, relaxing atmosphere. You don't have to be a hunter to appreciate it."

MOSHER GESTURES in a room filled with limited edition and original wildlife art, from stamps to stained glass. Items at the gallery range in price from $4.50 to $200.

Some of the painting prints feature a remarque, a small pencil or watercolor tom of the print. Each remarque is applied individually, so no two are exactly alike.

"It's personal and adds to the print," Mosher explained.

State and federal duck stamp prints are also available at the gallery. Artists from around the country compete every year to design the new stamp prints, which are required for hunting licenses.

AN UPSTAIRS "originals room" features comfortable chairs along with the displayed works.

"People have come 100 miles just to sketch added by the artist at the bot- sit in the gallery," said Kal Jabara, Wild Wings owner. They happen to like wildlife art." In addition, the gallery offers related gift items, including lamps, jewelry, tles and hand-carved tie tacs, popcorn poppers, books, brochures and information about nature programs. There is even a telephone, encased in a duck sculpture, that "quacks" instead of rings.

"Everybody isn't a collector," Mosher said. "We're not just selling pictures, we're promoting the wildlife, just letting people know what's out there."

Wild Wings displays the works of some well-known artists, including Larry Hayden. But many of those whose art is exhibited and sold there are art students and teachers from around the area. Artists contact the gallery about exhibiting their works, as did one artist from California who had heard of the Plymouth gallery.

"There are a lot of creative people around," Mosher said.

The artwork must meet certain standards before the gallery will carry it, she added.

WILD WINGS hosts some three or four showings around the year, according to Mosher. Its last exhibit drew an estimated 1,000 to 1,200 persons.

The next event by the Plymouth gallery is a group artist show scheduled for 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 15, at the Mayflower Meeting House, one block away. Among those to be featured at the show are Heiner Hertling, who designed the winning 1984 Michigan trout stamp, and Cathy McClung, who placed second in this year's Michigan duck stamp design competition.

Watercolor artist Nita Engle will be at Wild Wings on Sunday, Nov. 6, to show original paintings and limited edirinus. Engle will be the leatured

Jabara said. "I've had a lot of fun with it (the gallery)."

"Michigan has so much wildlife, so people are very aware of nature and the wildlife," Mosher said, "We get all ages, from the little child who will Tive always been a nunter and a point and say, 'duck' or 'dog,' to the watercolor artist in "American Artist" - fisherman and liked the out-of-doors," - adult who will appreciate the work."

BARNING THE PROPERTY OF THE PR There's more to felt tips than meets the eye

This is another in a series of lessons on art and drawing by special columnist David Messing. He has taught for eight years and operates an art store, Art Store and More, 18774 Middlebelt, Livonia. Messing ecourages questions and comments from readers. You may write him at his store or c/o Observer Newspapers, 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington MI 48024.

By David P. Messing special writer.

Last week I mentioned that we would cover more uses and techniques with felt tip pens. There are markers for all ages and all manner of needs.

You say the smell of markers makes you sick? How about a set of markers that makes you hungry.

Mr. Sketch makes an assortment of watercolor markers that is scented in food aromas. Black is licorice, brown is cinnamon, blue is blueberry, orange smells like tangerines and, of course, red is cherry.

The colors and the smells go on and on. Watercolor markers are best suited for children but adults enjoy sniffing these markers as much as the kids do. I can tell because when they approach the counter to make a purchase, there are tattletale multicolored dots on their nose and upper lip. But aside from being low in calories, they are mostly just for fun.

Speaking of fun, have you ever seen Color Trix by Marvy? This set of markers still

About six colors come in the set and two clear color changers. You can, for example, stroke on a paper the blue; then when you cross over the blue with the color changer, it will turn a bright yellow. Every color changes to a new bright color.

These sets are under $3 and come in "wide" and "fine" tip assortments. After studying how they work, I am convinced that they are NOW MARVY also makes a watercolor marker that does have some commercial and artistic merits. These markers are fine tipped and range in color assortments from 6 to 60.

One of my customers at the Art Store put me onto their best application. Chris uses them for stipple renderings. Stipple, or pointalism; is merely lots and lots of dots.

Chris does all his renderings on strathmore and Aquarious paper, which is a smooth, nonbuckling watercolor paper. They must be

My whole life I wanted a white marker. I thought that would be neat if markers came in opaque, meaning "non-transparent."

Well . . . they put a man on the moon, inflated cars till they cost as much as a house and made a marker that issues oil base paint. The paint marker nibs are not felt — as a matter of fact I don't know what they are. But I know they work.

Paint markers are available in about 24 colors. They mark on anything and they are truely opaque. Most people are familiar with the gold and silver which ranges from a wide nib to a fine nib (.05), which is about the same line as a ball point pen.

Imagine the trouble I could of gotten into with an oil base permanent opaque marker when I was just a kid.

From TV news to fine arts photography

By Bob Downes staff writer

While many thousands of television viewers are familiar with Jerry Stanecki's work as the "Newshawk" for WXYZ-TV Channel 7, few know of his skill as a fine arts photographer.

Stanecki, an investigative reporter for six years with WXYZ, left the station in March in order to pursue other interests, one of which is photography. Over the past year he's concentrated his efforts on capturing the rural south and the essence of wildflowers on film.

The result is a one-man show which is a first for both Staneckl and Gallery Birmingham, which is on the second floor of the Merrillwood Building, 251 E. Merrill, Birmingham. The show which opens with a 5-9 p.m. reception Friday will continue through Oct. 15. Stanecki will be on hand at the reception to answer questions about his work.

Stanecki,41, has spent 20 years as a radio and television reporter, but his roots as a photographer go back even further. He started taking pictures at the age of 10 with a box Brownle camera.

Although he became increasingly intrigued by photography through the years, his career as a reporter kept him too busy to pursue the art form as much as he wanted.

"It was a hobby that was a frustration for me," he said. "I'd get involved, with it and then have to stop what I was doing because of my

BEFORE coming to Detroit, Stanecki spent five years as an investigative reporter in Oklahoma, where he uncovered stories involving political corruption. He arrived in Detroit as a reporter for WXYZ radio, where he reported on the Teamsters and organized crime. From there he was recruited by Channel 7 as the "Newshawk."

His work at Channel 7 was rewarding in terms of the people he helped, but the pressures of the job eventually turned him to other directions.

"I declined to accept a real generous offer from Channel 7 because I wasn't ready to work three more years at that intense pace," he said. "I figured after 20 some years in the business, it was time to give Jerry Stanecki a chance to breathe."

He said it took him a good three months just to wind down from the pressures of the job. Since that time, he's discovered a passion for photography and capturing the beauty of the countryside in impressionistic photographs which rely on strong elements of both color and composition.

Stanecki's exhibition of 40-50 prints is made up of floral photographs as well as images of the rural south. While helping a friend build a sawmill in Alabama this year, he found numerous opportunities to photograph both sub-

His equipment includes a Pentax ME 35mm camera with a 80-200mm zoom lense and Ektachrome 400 film. The majority of his photographs are taken with the lens set at 200mm, a technique which isolates the subject, creating a three-dimensional layered look which imbues them with mysterious shadings of col-

HE SAID he tries to bring out the beauty of flowers and other natural forms by looking at them from a different perspective than is readily apparent.

"A couple of years ago I found myself concentrating on what was around me that people weren't seeing."

A purist, much of Stanecki's work involves watching and waiting with a careful eye. For one picture, "Friends," he walted 21/2 hours for two painted lady butterflies to land on a flower top in a Georgia field. Staneckl said he frames all of his work right in the viewfinder and doesn't allow for enlarging or cropping a photograph. He feels that his mix of rustic and floral photographs appeal to most tastes and contribute a serene touch to rooms in which they are placed.

Print sizes in the exhibition range from 5by-7 to 20-by-24 inches. They are limited to editions of 45 each, with 5 artists' proofs and have been printed by Glen Bouget of Midwest Photo Lab in Redford.

Felt tip buyers: beware

INK IN your pencil lines, then lightly erase any pencil lines with a kneaded eraser. Carefully add the base colors with felt tip pen. I say carefully because the paper on mat board is soft and the felt tip permanent ink bleeds

Usually if you stay about one-sixteenth of an inch from your ink outline, the color will bleed to the line. Remember this ink is transparent and will allow the color of the mat board to show through.

For example, if your mat board is a plum color and you add a light color marker thinking you will lighten the area, you will be disappointed to see an even darker plum color result. So whenever you wish to darken a mat board color use markers. When you wish to lighten the color, use colored pencils. Remember too, highlight and shade every base color with colored pencils.

Another pleasing application is to draw on a canvas board. Then ink in your line with pen and ink. Don't worry if the weave of canvas disturbs your lines. Erase the pencil lines and flood in your base colors with markers.

The gesso coated canvas board does not allow the ink of the marker to sink into the canvas, so spray your picture with fixative and watch as the colors flow and run together. The pen and ink lines will remain untouched.

If you do not wish to have this fluid look, simply spray a few light coats of fixative or varnish. Even though the inks are permanent on the canvas, it is good to fix or varnish the finished work to help it to be fade-resistant.

Certain tracing papers have a very hard surface and marker colors never really soak in. The colors are merely laid on top of the paper. This affords the ability to correct or remove a color. If, for example, you colored in a very dark color and wish to remove it, you simply go over the area with a very light colored marker.

If you are using albaniene tracing paper by K & E, you can completely remove any color by simply rubbing over the area with a lighter color marker. Here, especially, if you want a wash look, simply spray a good amount of workable fixative and control the flow of colors by tipping the paper in the direction you would like it to flow.

Then you can add more color and spray as often as you like. Also do not forget to use colored pencils as needed.

I AM WRITING this article on Friday so by Monday there will probably be a new line of felt tip pens on the market somewhere. It is important that you know about them and I will try to keep you informed, but it is not important that you own the latest and newest materials.

Many times new items are much like another product already on the market. For example, there is the Fine Point System. I like them and I use them all

They range in nib size from .06 to .03. The fine tip of the .03 is mounted on a long steel sleeve and it looks more like a hyperdermic needle than a pen. Very impressive, however, despite the Q: Do you have any tips on hanging out of the sleeves. It is drawing hands?

A: Many times, artists draw beautiful drawings of people but when it comes to the hands, it looks like a clump of bananas best to draw the hands in planes that are jointed and tapering towards the fingertips.

Also the length of each segment of the fingers decrease by one-third towards the finger tip.

looks, the Fine Point System .03 at a cost of $1.39 draws a line no thinner than the "tried and true" Pilot Razor point, which is only 90 cents.

That is why it is important to buy your materials at a store where the people know what they are sellling. Many times an informed salesperson will save you a good amount of money. Especially if you simply tell them what you intend to do with what you wish to

Methodist Church hosts antique show

First United Methodist Church of Birmingham will hold a second antique show and sale Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 29, with a 7-10 p.m. preview Tuesday.

Jinny Wagley, a dealer herself, assembled the roster of dealers.

She said, "Our purpose is to get people who do not show in this area along with a few, good, old standbys."

Among those who will be new to area antique shoppers is Charlotte Franklin of Lake Forest, Ill., who specializes in folk art, quilts and silhouettes. Roberta Holcomb of Birmingham and Betty Clark of Shelby also will exhibit.

Wagley will have a variety of benches in her booth — bucket benches, water benches, wagon benches and an unusual corner, threelegged bench.

Proceeds from the event, said Betty Clark, chairwoman, will aid two United Methodist retirement homes, Chelsea and Boulevard Temple, and the United Methodist Women's Educational Loan fund.

CLARK SAID that linking past and present in both the show and the organizations it helps provides many satisfactions. She mentioned that in the retirement home in Chelsea, 17 miles west of Ann Arbor, there is a Heritage Room where residents may display antiques and historical items from their personal collections.

Since Wagley's uncle, an avid collector, is on the Chelsea waiting list, as third generation in his family to live at Chelsea, he is looking forward to working in the Heritage Room and with the collections there.

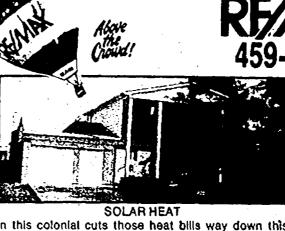

The theme of the antique show is "Always Sharing, Always Caring."

Tickets for the Tuesday reception are $8 each or two for $15.

Show hours are 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. Wednesday and 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday. Donation

Along with the displays by the 29 dealers, there will be a country kitchen serving snacks and meals.

The church is at 1589 Maple, between Southfield and Cranbrook, Birmingham.

this architecturally, we stripped everything to plaster planes simple and clean."

That's particularly noticeable in the foyer, where pure plaster wall has been used at the stairway instead of a more usual wood banister. Dark-stained wood floors — more formal, less casual than the lighter tone, said the designers. And the dark wood gives the Oriental rug a stronger identity.

Over the black granite fireplace there's a colorful, dramatic work by the great Spanish artist, Joan Miro.

A huge antique ceramic vessel from Greece, originally used to store olive oil, is on one side of the fireplace. This, like a number of other pieces in the home from different cultures and times, subtly establishes a continental atmosphere that is both warm and provocative.

The couches in the living room are upoholstered in natural soft mohair and the lounge chairs in a matching shade of Italian leather.

DOMINATING both the living room and the adjoining dining room (reflected in the mirrored wall) is a work by contemporary American painter, Paul Jenkins.

But a choice Picasso on the side wall of the dining room isn't compromised. It is a fine work, but softer in tone and more realistic in style.

The glass-topped dining table and the wall buffet are both custom pieces. The latter of polished steel is wall mounted with the drawer on the angle. The top is rosetta Verona marble.

The dark chairs and the edge of dark wood floor around the neutral rug add warmth and contrast.

Particularly pleasing to the visitor is the way the designers have maintained continuity and flow from room to room and still given each a strong individual identity.

The den, for instance, obviously is an integral part of this home, but the drama created in the small, intimate atmosphere is unforgettable. Walls and floor are a rich, dark brown.

The furniture is upholstered in matching brown leather. The two antique, oil portraits are elegantly framed. The rug is a leopard skin pattern and fur look is repeated in the toss pillows.

A LARGE painting by Philip Pearlstein was bought by the residents, specifically for the master bedroom. It has a lot of soft green, the expected Pearlstein flesh tones and warm neutrals.

The Mettlers did the entire room in a single shade of rich, warm gray. Even the mirrored closed wall is smoke gray. The panels of the wall behind the bed and night tables are covered in the same polished gray wool that is used for the bedspread and covers the head and foot boards.

A loveseat is channel quilted in the same fabric. The custom night tables are polished steel topped with black marble.

"Oneness was very important to us in this room," Jane Mettler said. Because of the window wall with adjustable louvre blinds, there is continual soft, diffused light. The family room reflects the love of books, music and art which is so important in the lives of the residents. And it again shows the Mettlers' fondness for the neutral palette, coupled with sparks of ...

by Paul Chandler. A 1983 graduate of Andover High School, Chandler won an award for innovative color processing. The soft red which he achieved in the developing process is repeated in the apples in a bowl on the coffee table, and the gleaming finish of the small baby grand piano in the alcove.

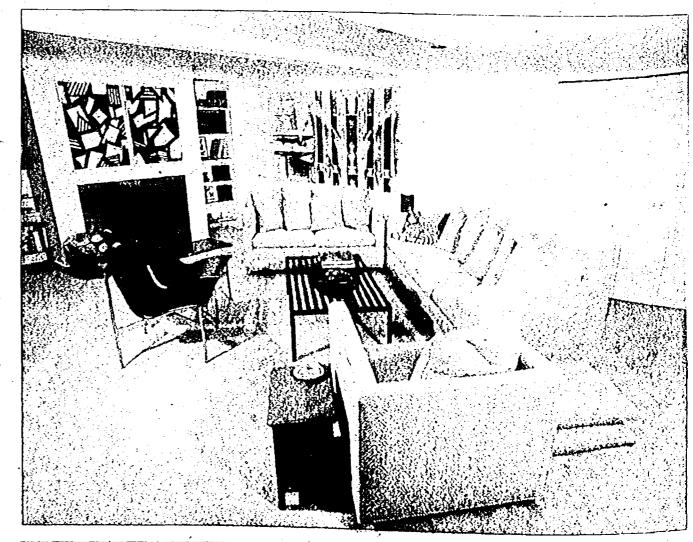

Two contemporary black leather chairs add plenty of seating for family gatherings and parties.

The house has sparkle combined with clean lines and pleasant, contrasts. It is an interesting, cosmopolitan condo, in a private. picturesque development by Robertson Brothers, only minutes from the life of the busy metropolitan area

Large painting by Philip Pearelstein dominates the bedroom, (above) which was done entirely in a rich gray to highlight the painting. The wool used for the loveseat, bed spread, head and foot boards is repeated in the paneled wall sections. The family room (below) illustrates the neutral palette which Joel Mettler and Jane Levy Mettler like to work with. But it is accented with red, in the toned, enlarged photograph of a section of fence by Paul Chandler, the small wood table and the apples in the bowl. The cat on the wool tweed couch is actually a pillow.

HE ART of etching designs in glass, so popular in the '20s and '30s, is finding its renaissance in the '80s as more designers see the potential of using glass as a design element. Tim and Chris Gillingham of Farmington are riding the crest of the renewed interest in etched glass with their business, T. Gill, Inc., which operates out of a barn studio on Haggerty Road in Novi.

The couple have specialized in glass creations for the past 3½ years and are marketing their work for commercial, retail and custom home applications.

"Designers are really starting to apply etched glass," Tim-Gillingham said. "They're letting their imaginations run wild."

He said that doorlights and door inserts are especially popular items at present. Homeowners are using art nouveau, art deco, contemporary, floral, and other etching styles to brighten entryways and announce lifestyles.

ETCHED GLASS is created through the use of a sandblaster with a finely trained nozzle. A light touch of the sandblaster can be used to frost glass, with more intensive treatment needed for etching designs. The sandblaster can also be used to take the silvering off mirrors to allow for pinstriping.

Chris Gillingham was a hair stylist when she developed an interest in the art form.

"I was doing it part time on the side and then gradually built business up until we decided to do it totally," she said. "I was always interested in art, and I wanted to get more involved.

She does the actual etching with a staff of four employees, while her husband handles marketing and installation. Because of the danger of inhaling glass dust, she wears a special helmet and respirator whenever she wields the sandblaster.

SHE ALSO HANDLES the art direction for the studio. Typically, a client will come in and look over the Gillingham's reference book. She offers advice on design decisions and guides the staff of artisans in their work on whatever is selected.

"Sometimes I do all original work," she said. "That's my favorite thing to do, when they (the clients) don't get ideas out of a book.

She said she studied the art of glass etching on her own, researching techniques and learning through trial and error. At present she's experimenting with glass carving, using diamond-tip cutters.

Besides working with windows and doors, the Gillinghams have done designs on furnishings such as headboards, room dividers, table tops and decorative accent pieces. They ve also built an extensive trade in designer mirrors.

THEIR BIGGEST project to date has been for the $31/2-million, 20.000-square-foot Lanotte restaurant of Boynton Beach, Fla. They created a three-dimensional marine life scene which winds its way through the restaurant. Seven tons of glass were used for the project, which took 31/2 months to complete.

There are various grades of quality in glass with variations in price to match. The cost of a glass etching is determined by the thickness of the glass, the intricacy of the design, and the depth of the etching. A doorlight panel 20 inches wide and 80 inches tall can start at $250, with prices running up to $900.

But instead of dealing with reams of sticky wet wallpaper, the wallprinting process involves using a specially-designed paint roller which can produce as many as 200 different prints and patterns in any desired color combination.

Incentives to going the wallprinting route are that it's less expensive than wallpapering and the finished surface can be washed or repainted.

Jerry and Sylvia Pochik of Farmington Hills are a husband and wife team who have launched Wall Magic, a design wallprinting service operating out of their home.

Sylvia Pochik said. "But the few that have tried it in the homes we've done have been very enthusiastic.

"This is very new in the area so a lot of people don't know what it is.

ESTIMATING the cost of the average roll of wallpaper at $15 per roll, she said that the wallprinting process can be 40-50 percent less expensive, even though the labor has to be hired.

Besides its standard use for walls, the wallprinting process can be used for a number of unlikely applications, such as giving basement einder blocks a wallpapered appearance. Other possibilities include pool walls. garage doors, glass doors, mirrors and shears.

wallprinting while on a business trip to California. With his career as a management consultant flagging due to the economy, he decided to try launching his own wallprinting business. The skill appealed to him because it was new and innovative and allowed the satisfaction of working with his hands after a career spent working with his head.

HE SAID he also believed there was a big future in the wallprinting field.

"Eventually, this is going to do to wallpaper what dry wall did to plaster." he said.

The Pochik's obtained a wallprinting franchise through Birmingham Ltd., which is owned by John K. Lutz. They spent three weeks learning how to use the applicators and then how to market

They launched their enterprise last September and business has been growing steadilly ever since. The future looks especially bright in commercial applications such as restaurants and convalescent homes, which appreciate the washable aspect of the technique

Make yours passive solar

■ IKE COUNTLESS generations before them, today's homeowners are relearning an old lesson: Mother Nature knows what she's

This lesson is the age-old use of passive solar energy as a source of free heat. In winter, says the National Woodwork Manufacturers Association, large areas of southfacing glass — usually doubleglazed - permit rays of the lowlying sun to penetrate the glass, where its heat is trapped. The floors and walls of the house store it, and radiation, conduction and convection distribute the heat naturally through the house.

In summer, when the sun is high in the sky, roof overhangs or interior shutters can be used to prevent overheating.

method of controlling the amount of sun entering your house. Deciduous, or leaf-bearing trees. should be planted on the south side of the house. In summer, the leaves will serve as a natural screen: In winter the leafless trees will not impede solar heat gain. Shrubbery or a trellis covered with a deciduous vine also can provide summer shade.

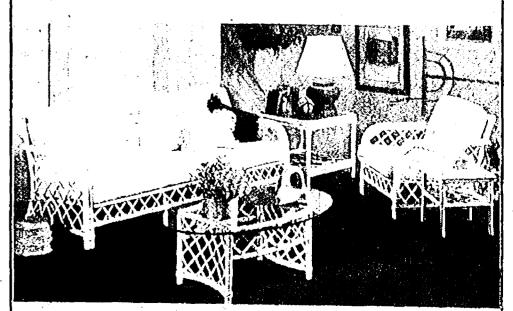

Landscaping is yet another

On the north side of the house. coniferous or evergreens will shield the house from winter winds.

Additional information is in the 16-page booklet, "Passive Solar: Using Windows and Patio Doors to Cut Fuel Bills." It is available for 50 cents from NWMA, c/o SR&A, 355 Lexington Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017.

New book covers window treatment

Now, in the comfort of your own home, you can "walk through" an entire collection of window treatments, done by well-known interior designers. You can see and select ideas, measure your own windows for then, even choose from actual patterns and colors. Everything is contained in a new Kirsch publication. Called "Window Shopping," he 132-page, full-color book covers fabric treatments which use drapery rods, woven woods, wood-slat and miniblinds, custom and pleated shades vertical blinds, etc. It also explains how to logically select a proper treatment, covers energy conservation, and details the popular, new layered window treatments. "Window Shopping" can be purchased in the drapery department of area stores or directly from Kirsch, Sturgis, Mich. 49091. The price is $3.

Modulars meet multi needs

HE NEED for more space is the design challenge of the '80s, and modular storage systems seem to be the answer.

Special vertical storage systems designed and made for kitchens and bathrooms have become practical and attractive additions to other rooms as well. These modular units can be stacked to free up floor space for other uses.

Modular units can be used as bookshelves, desks, hutches, china closets, room dividers, stereo cabinets and entertainment centers. Designed to look like conventional furniture, the units often are built to stand up to hard

The versatility of modular cabinets makes it simple for homeowners to arrange them to suit individual needs. They can easily be moved around to accommodate new decorating schemes. They are also widely available in a variety of styles.

By Margery Sterns Krevsky special writer

HENEVER I have bought a new home the first things I redo are the kitchen, the bathroom and my bedroom. The rest can wait for a while. I concentrate on the areas that I love to live in."

This is part of the living philosophy of Cathy Hardwick, best known for her fashion collections that feature strong modern lines such as wide shoulders and asymmetric closings.

Six years ago she began designing a collection of home fashions for J.C. Penney, which started out as a collection for the bedroom with patterned sheets, then coordinating towels.

"I like to surround myself with beautiful things. When I was younger it was enough to just wear beautiful clothes. As I've matured nment that interests me. I want to see every room done beautifully.

"AFTER ALL, most women work, and when they come home there should be a beautiful environment as a reward to all the energy they spend outside the home," Hardwick said.

What she chooses to wear and the personality of her home are very different. Her clothes are modern - her home, featured in the September issue of Architectural Digest, is purely traditional.

"It's very English looking with glazed walls and lots of prints. In my bedroom I use lots of pillows - and mix prints for a very feminine look."

Today her designs for the home go beyond sheets and towels and now encompass bath items. wallpaper, lamps, curtains, candles and a home fragrance in a spray and potpourri form.

This new concept of a home fragrance took more than two years to develop and is "the finishing touch to making a room livable," she said.

PASTELS are her favorite colors for home designing.

She explained, "Pastel to medium colors work so well with colors people already have in their homes. I love to see mixing different patterns of sheets and pillow cases just like in putting together sportswear. After all, sleeping on the same color sheets all the time is boring — mixing a few patterns enhances your feel about your bedroom."

But whether it's designing for the home or a person, her philosophy about beauty permeates all she creates.

She added, "If you are surrounded by beauty — even if it's beautiful colors - your thoughts are prettier, and I believe you become a better person."

Let's hear it for country colonial.

ARBARA AND Stanley Zydeck's Plymouth Township country colonial home was adapted from a plan in Early American Life magazine.

The spacious living room with its oversize bay window and seat has the first of three fireplaces. Stenciled border on the walls was done by the Itinerant Stencilers of Plymouth.

Barbara used one color scheme throughout the house, navy and rust with beige carpet. The country kitchen has a second fireplace, and the third is in the master bedroom.

Barbara's fascination with country furnishings led to her starting (with a friend) The Salt Box, a shop specializing in furniture and accessories that reflect the warmth of rural living in colonial times.

The stenciled border just under the molding in the country colonial home of Barbara and Stanley Zydeck, was one of the favored decorative art forms of early America. The hearth in the country kitchen, above left, is a gathering place, just as its counterparts were centuries back.
