FUND-RAISING efforts are continuing to benefit James Rafferty, a young man in need of a new heart. Rafferty has suffered a relapse and is back in the hospital, according to sources at Wayne County General. So far only $17,500 of the $100,000 needed for a hearttransplant at the University of Minnesota.

Physicians are donating their services, but the funds are needed to cover a multitude of tests and the lengthy hospital stay required.

A "Heart to Heart Benefit Jamboree" will run from 2 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Sunday at Greg's Emergency Room Lounge, Palmer and Merriman. Donation is $2 at the door, $1 for those 17 and under. Activities for the younger set will take place from 2-6 p.m. with an E.T. show, raffles, and an appearance by Chuck E. Cheese and assorted clowns.

For the older folks, nine performing bands are "Stone Country, "Wally Jackson and Sundown," "The Larados," "Jeff and the Atlantics," "Cactus Creek," "Denny Armstrong and Cane Creek," "Kicking Country and Banks."

Also planning to appear for the event are members of the Kronk boxing team, Emanuel Steward, Thomas Hearns and Milton McCrory.

Then on Saturday, Nov. 5, a 6.2 mile walk and timed run for Rafferty's benefit will start and finish in the Hines Drive area near Wilcox Lake. The benefit, sponsored by Wayne County General and Home Care Affiliated Respiratory Equipment Inc., starts at 9 a.m. with the runners taking off and follows with the walkers at 9:10

Registration is $6 and late registration is $7. Pledge and entry forms are available by calling the hospital at 722-2500 Ext. 6400. Medals will be awarded to the first five finishers in each age group.

OFFICER Steven McNally, a 1974 graduate of John Glenn High School who later graduated from Eastern Michigan University, has been selected as officer of the month by the South Dade Chamber of Commerce. McNally, who graduated from the police academy in June 1982, was honored for having made 30 arrests, including the capture of six suspected: burglars while break-ins were in progress.

SPEAK UP! That's what Harris-Kehrer Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 3323 hopes students at John Glenn and Wayne Memorial high schools will do. The post is once again sponsoring its "Voice of ... Democracy" program.

Post Chairman Arnold Rademacher said that students win more than trophles and savings bonds by participating in the scholarship program.

*By thinking, writing and speaking up for their country, they gain a better appreciation of their obligation to maintain the nation's heritage," Rademacher said.

Co-chairing the program is Helen Stevens of the ladies auxiliary, who added that students gain increased self-confidence and polse, experience in communicating with others and valuable training in self-expression. Students interested in the contest should contact Darlene Scott at Wayno Memorial and Jerry Thomas at John Glenn.

Judge receives 'severe' sentence

By Mary Klemic staff writer

The attorney for 18th District Judge Evan Callanan Sr. said last week that the judge will appeal his conviction of case-fixing, conspiracy and mail fraud. Nicholas Smith, who defended Callanan in his eight-week trial in U.S. District Court, said Friday the appeal will be filed "immediately." Smith com-mented on the appeal after U.S. District Judge Horace Gilmore sentenced Callanan Sr. to three concurrent prison terms of 10, 10 and five years.

"We expected the sentence would be severe, and it met our expectations," Smith said. "I'm not guilty. I'm innocent," Judge Callanan said after the sentencing. "I did a good job."

ALSO APPEALING their convictions, according to their attorneys, are attorney Evan Callanan Jr. of Canton Township, Callanan Sr.'s son; Dearborn Heights businessman Sam Qaoud and former 18th District Court officer Donald Black. The four men were sentenced by Gilmore Friday.

All appeals must be filed before Nov. 1. Gilmore continued personal bond for the defendants.

On Sept. 1, the two Callanans and Qaoud each were found guilty of two counts of case-fixing and conspiracy under a federal Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations (RICO) statute. In addition, Callanan Sr. was found guilty of mail fraud, and Callanan Jr. was convicted of obstruction of justice, giving false testimony before a grand jury and three counts of mail fraud.

Callanan Sr., 56, was sentenced to 10 years for each of the two RICO counts. and five years for mail fraud. Gilmore sentenced Qaoud, 40, to three years for each RICO count, to run concurrently.

GILMORE sentenced Callanan Jr., 31, to concurrent prison terms of eight years for each of the RICO counts, five years for each mail fraud count, five years for obstruction of justice and five years for lying to a grand jury. Five years is the maximum prison time that can be sentenced for convictions of mail fraud, obstruction of justice and making false declarations before a Former Westland resident Louis Perry, 42, had pleaded guilty to a perjury charge Sept. 2, with an agreement that he would be sentenced to not more than 30 days in prison if the judge accepted the plea, Gilmore set aside Perry's plea Friday and set a trial date for Nov. 15.

THE MAXIMUM sentence for each RICO charge is 20 years imprisonment and/or a $25,000 fine upon conviction, while mail fraud carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and/or a $1,000 fine on each charge.

to a grand jury carries a maximum penalty of five years and/or a fine of $10,000. The maximum sentence for obstruction of justice is five years in prison and/or a $5,000 fine.

U.S. attorney Leonard Gilman expressed satisfaction with the sentences

"The sentences were very appropriate considering the gravity of the offenses," Gilman said.

Gilmore's sentencing of the four men was completed within one hour. The judge asked for comments from the defendants and defense and prosecuting attorneys before imposing each sentence. Black was the only defendant whò spoke.

Council questions engineer mandate

By Mary Klemic staff writer

The City of Westland may lose federal funding for projects unless it hires a full-time, publicly employed engineer, the state Department of Transportation has warned consulting engineering services. But in a letter addressed to "all cities and villages" that was received by Westland officials Sept. 14, Gary P. McCarthy, engineer of local government, said that "every city or village federal aid project must have a publicly employed engineer in responsible charge to oversee and to represent the municipality's interest in the project."

A bridge project on Warren Avenue between Merriman and Venoy, planned for next year, could be affected by the mandate, according to Public Services Director Henry Lundquist. He added that the mandate might have affected Wayne Road resurfacing and the Newburgh and Tonquish bridge this year, had it been ordered last year.

This is a crisis. This is something that is real, that has to be acted upon. Lundquist told the Westland City Council at a study session last Tuesday.

Lundouist said last Thursday that he will ask for another meeting on the subject with the council "as soon as I hear something new." In the meantime, he has asked the state for an extension of time and has asked U.S. Rep. William Ford to intercede on behalf of the city.

Workshops help with raising kids what's inside

Parents attending a PTA-sponsored workshop listen to Ron Somers discuss how they can help children with reading probBy Tom Henderson staff writer

Organizers agreed that the program for the fourth annual Wayne-Westland PTA workshop was a rousing success. but the relatively light turnout of parents was disappointing.

"I don't know if we'll do it again," admitted Nancy Kettler of the workshop committee. "We've got a lot of work into it for the number attending." The number of parents attending the afternoon session of workshops at the Nankin Mills Learning Center was 54. There were five hourlong workshops at each of two afternoon sessions, with parents choosing two of them to attend. *Topics were: single parenting; understanding reading and reading levels; child abuse; problems - where do you go?; introduction of sex education in The elementary schools.

THE READING workshop was by far the most popular, with school district administrator Ron Somers explaining reading tests, what they mean, and what to do if your child has a learning disability or reading problem.

"You have to push them," he said of

If your child is performing poorly in school. Somers said to "find out the area they're weak in. See if there's a pattern. I hate to say this, but there are other places outside the school system that can help, Be very, very careful if you're going to take your child to a private indiviual, someone with an ad in the paper. Go to the local colleges and universities," he added. "Or Madonna. They have an excellent program, people with masters' degrees in their clinics. They do workups and tests. They'll find out what kind of problem it is. "The first thing they'll do is rule out any physical problems. You'd be surprised at how many of the times a learning problem is a physical problem - poor hearing or something else."

The sex education workshop, presided over by Jim Edwards, another Westland administrator, was also popular. The parents viewed a short sex-education and hygiene film designed for their kids. It was straightforward, calm, reassuring in tone and clinical.

IN THE FILM, girls were reassured that it was natural for breast size to vary greatly and told they shouldn't be alarmed. Boys were told that necturnal 'emission and masturbation were 'natural releases, with neither mental nor physical damage."

Both boys and girls in the film were told that sex was a normal part of adulthood, but not to be rushed into, that it wasn't for the immature.

CALLANAN SR. and his son "violated a position of trust, exploited the system that they were a part of and lled to the FBI," assistant U.S. attorney Joseph Papelian

"Society has a right to expect that its public officials will be honorable." Papelian said. "If they fall off that pedestal, they should pay that price. For the court to do anything but give a substantial custodial sentence would be very much like condoning his (Callanan's) action."

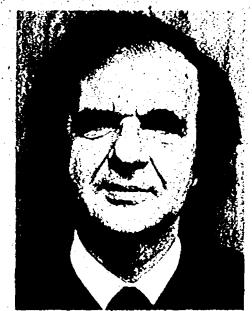

Smith, representing Callanan Sr. and Jr., said the publicity surrounding the case has "served as a constant reminder" to officials. He said the two have already been suspended from practicing law, and that the Michigan Judicial Tenure Commission is seeking further action against Judge Callanan.

BEFORE IMPOSING sentence on the two Callanans, Gilmore said it was a "sad day" for the judiciary and the bar in the State of Michigan.

"I think citizens justly expect honesty from their elected officials, especially those with power to rule upon serious matters," Gilmore said. "Citizens justly expect honesty from attorneys."

Carl Ranno, who defended Qaoud, said his client was a naturalized citizen with a limited understanding of the English language, who was "highly" thought of by his church. He said Qaoud was the sole supporter of his family, which includes a blind child.

Black's attorney, Thomas V. Wilhelm, said he was convinced Black was telling the truth when he testified before the grand jury. The government charged that Black lied before a grand jury last November when he denied knowing Hanna "John" Judeh. Judeh, operator of a Westland service station, worked as an FBI informant in its investigation.

"I, too, am terrible with names," Wilhelm said. "His (Black's) family and others in the community who knew him said he was basically a nice guy, a little naive, with a mind like a sleve, not very bright. I'm convinced that he did not know who Mr. Judeh was."

Black said he "honestly believes" he didn't know the person in question.

Gas company offers consumer tips

Consumers Power Co. is encouraging its gas space-heating customers to look into a special, no-interest loan program that, the company says, could save them money every winter for years.
These loans are being offered to eligible gas heating customers who want to insulate their ceilings.

Customers also are encouraged to make some checks around the house that could cut their winter heating

THE LOANS are available to residential customers whose homes now have 21/2 inches or less of ceiling insulation, according to Jim MacIntosh, Metro Region General Manager for Consumers Power. He said it is aimed at all residential gas heating customers, regardless of their income.

Renters who are Consumers Power gas heating customers, including those in multifamily dwellings, also may qualify if they have approval from their landlords.

Under the zero-interest program, a qualifying customer may borrow up to $1,000 to have a contractor perform the insulation work, or up to $700 to finance a do-it-yourself project. The company also can assist in finding a contractor or supplier for the materi-

Customers may call Consumers Power for information and a free attic inspection.

Adequate ceiling insulation is one of the most effective ways to reduce energy use and cost, MacIntosh said.

CHARLES B. KOURTJIAN Charles B. Kourtjian, son of Wallace Kourtjian of Westland and Nancy Kourtjian of Farmington, has completed training in fundamental military skills at the Army ROTC basic camp at Fort Knox, Ky.

The basic camp is designed to give junior college graduates and college sophomores who have not taken ROTC courses the chance to enter the program. The camp also qualifies high school graduates for the ROTC program at any of the nation's six military junior colleges. During the encampment, cadets received training in basic rifle marksmanship, military drill and ceremonies, communications and individual and small unit tactics.

Kourtjian plans to enter the ROTC program at Central Michigan University.

MARK D. KNOPF Army Pvt. Mark D. Knopf, son of Karl T, and Ella D. Knopf of Westland, has graduated as an armor crewman at the U.S. Army Armor School, Fort

Knox, Ky. The training was conducted under the one station unit training program, which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training into one 13-week period.

During the course, students received training in the duties of a tank crewman, including firing the tank's armament and small weapons. Instruction also was given in field radio operations, map reading and tank maintenance and repair.

Knopf is a 1980 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

JEFFREY'A. JAMES Jeffrey A. James has been officially accepted into the U.S. Military Academy's Corps of Cadets as a new member of the class of 1987 during the annual acceptance parade. He is the son of Gerald R. and Mary Ann James of Westland.

The parade followed six weeks of rigorous basic cadet training at the West Point, N.Y., academy. Training in military customs and courtesies, drill and physical conditioning, tactical exercises and the firing of weapons introduced the basic cadets to military life with special emphasis on leadership, duty, honor and country.

The academy is a four-year educational institution graduating men and women to serve as career Army officers. In addition to military; training, the academy offers athletics and an academic curriculum that includes basic and engineering sciences and social sciences and the humanities.

James is a graduate of Wayne Memorial High School.

RULES OF THE ROAD FOR PATIENTS

Today's column will deal with ways that those of you with arthritis or back pain can make your drivng more tolerable.

First, use a seet belt. Without them an accident to your car could well result in a serious joint or whiplash injury. You can ill afford such further injury to your skeletal system.

Make use of mechanical aids available to help open car doors and to ald you in getting into or out of a car. If you need information on such devices feel free to call my office staff.

For comfortable sitting, bench seats are prefera-ble to bucket seats. Bench seats are more firm and allow you to sit higher from the floor of the car.

When undertaking a trip of 300-600 miles or more, pace yourself not to travel more than 8 hours per day and plan to stop every hour. Stretching for even a few moments will forestall a later selge of prolonged back and joint stiffness later. If you are a frequent long distance driver, consider a C.B. radio. It can keep you abreast of local conditions and, in case of emergencies, will allow you to summon help quickly.

Lundquist doubts claim disposal can be cheaper

A Westland official says he doubts that a-rubbish disposal firm can perform the service cheaper than the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority is doing now

BFI Waste Systems, a national rubbish disposal company, was among several which submitted bids after the authority expanded its landfill operations

"I doubt they could do it cheaper. They use our transfer site now," sald Hank Lundquist, Westland's director of public service who also is on the board of the sanitation authority.

Lundquist said he hadn't seen the BFI proposal and would have to evaluate it.

THE AUTHORITY expanded its landfill operation after it was forced to shut its three furnaces at the end of 1982. The furnaces, two of which were started in 1964 and a third in 1982, are at the center of a long-standing dispute with the federal Environmental Protection Administration (EPA).

The EPA claims that the authority is violating clean air standards, and, in turn, the authority has an unresolved civil sult against a company which installed air pollution equipment on the newest of the three furnaces.

When the furnaces were shut down, about half of the authority's 28 employees were laid off, the transfer station was expanded and rubbish was trucked to a landfill in Huron Township.

"We are trying to get back in operation (burning of waste)," Lundquist said. "We're trying to get financing to allow us to clean up pollutants emitted over the EPA standards by the use of an electronic precipitator."

Lundquist-said that the authority also is checking into the possibility of producing energy - both electricity and steam — from its disposal opera-tion. He said the process is expensive and that the authority is working with the state, private financlers and through the office of U.S. Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor.

IN THE MEANTIME, BFI hopes to convince members of the authority that they offer a cheaper service, claiming it would charge $15 per ton of rubbish disposal at its transfer station located at the Jessies Freeway (I-98) and Inkster Road. That is less than the $21.64 rate paid to use the authority's transfer station.

Added to the cost quoted would be Westland's share of the bonded debt or money used to finance construction of the furnaces and other equipment. That share, $4.50 per ton, raises the cost if BFI was used to $19.50 per ton or an apparent savings of $2.14 from what the city currently is saving.

But that savings would easily be wiped out by other obligations of member communities, according to Ulrich Bauser, acting executive director of the public agency.

"There are certain costs involved that raise their actual responsibility closer to $9-$10 (including bonded indebtedness) per ton," Bauser said.

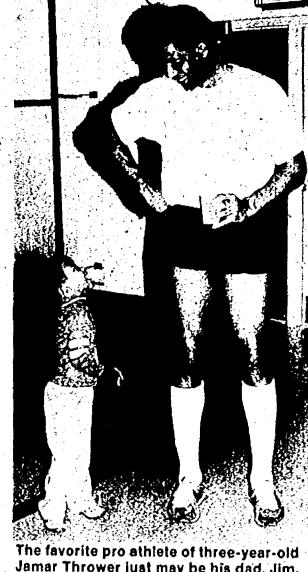

He explained that those things include building maintenance, administrative staff, unemployment pay and obligations to the retirement system.

"You don't just walk away from a building," he The city is projected to ship out 32,000 tons of refuse this year, up about five percent from last year, according to Bauser.

PTA workshops focus on concerns of parents

There were modest attendance at each of the child abuse and problems workshops. According to Kettler, the child-abuse program, chaired by John

The problems workshop, hosted by assistant Westland superintendant Tom Blackfoot, dealt with several issues - what to do if your child is a truant, or often in trouble; where to turn to in the school system if there is a teacher-child personality conflict; how to understand the bureaucracy of the MOST OF THE single parents were presumably working, or at home with the kids. There was just one single parent at the first session and two at the second, both of which were hosted by Louis Praybylski of the Meredith Counseling Clinic.

All five speakers appeared without pay.

It consisted of a rousing speech by Fran Anderson, the state PTA vice president, followed by four workshops for those in the PTA, covering such topics as membership and ways and means.

Anderson spoke for 45 minutes and had her audience transfixed. She spoke glowingly of the PTA and at one point in here speech broke into song.

"She was wonderful," raved Kettler. "You just wanted to listen to her all day.

State issues order

Council mulls hiring engineer

THE MANDATE, called for by the Federal Highway Administration under federal law, applies to cities with populations of more than 5,000, McCarthy wrote.

McCarthy said in the letter that consultants may still perform design or construction engineering services on a federal aid project. He said that the Federal Highway Administration gave communities until Sept. 30 to comply.

They (the Federal Highway Administration) will grant some relief to this deadline providing they have been given proof that such an accommodation will be made within a few months after Sept. 30," McCarthy. wrote.

The state has been notified that Westland officials are now discussing with Wayne County the possibility of retaining the county engineer through the county road commission to act as a publicly employed engineer, according to Lundquist. This was one of three options suggested by the state. The other two options are:

• Make arrangements with a nearby city that has a full-time, publicly employed city engineer to retain the services of their engineer to act as a publicly employed engi-

• Make inter-governmental arrangements for employment of a full-time, publicly employed engineer to serve a group of communities.

"THE COUNTY was available, and they were the first ones I called," Lundquist said. "I'm not saying that's a preference. None of the three options really are appealing to our department.

county or one of the neighboring communities - it's just inconceivable that you would have that kind of a situation," he said. "They're tied up themselves. It's very demanding on the engineering division."

McCarthy's letter emphasizes the need for an in-house city engineer, as advocated by the mayor's administration, Mayor Charles Pickering said. The city council cut the city engineer position from Westland's 1983-84 budget.

"We have demonstrated to the councilthat there is a definite need to have a fulltime, publicly employed engineer in the city," Pickering said. "We would still need a consultant, because of stall and equipment, but many things would be handled by our own civil engineer, that would be beneficial and cost-effective to the city."

AT LAST Tuesday's study session, Councilman A. Kent Herbert said he had "misgivings" about the matter and called for a consensus from the mayor on the subject.

"Before we go out and spend $40,000 for an engineer we should check the validity of these regulations," he said. "We're giving a lot of credence to this thing and maybe we're overblowing the whole thing. We need to hear directly from Washington. We have "We're a city of 85,000 (population), and a congressman; let's write him. This to me to have to borrow an engineer from the is a heavy-handed regulation that doesn't make any sense."

> "This is 'Big Brother' in Washington teiling local communities what to do," Councilman Robert Wagner sald. "But they don't have to pay for it. We do."

Councilman Ben Dellart asked Lundquist to find out the level of qualifications for a professional engineer.

Grant funds auto worker schooling

Wayne-Westland Community Schools have received a $65,000 educational grant from the UAW-Ford National Training Center in Dearborn. The grant is jointly funded by the Michigan Department of Education.

The program will provide educational assessment, basic skill training and career exploration to employees of the Ford Motor Company plant on Michigan Avenue in Wayne.

To accomodate afternoon and evening shifts at the plant, classes will be primarily held during the afternoon. Staffing the classes and services will be Wayne-Westland teachers and counselors. The program is open to high school graduates and non-graduates as well as those individuals needing basic literary skills in English and math.

SEMTA stops service

Suburban riders fight to keep train

The Detroit-to-Pontlac commuter train appears to be extinct as the dinosaur, despite last-minute legal maneuvering by a group of commuters opposeds to SEMTA's dropping of the service.

"It's very regrettable that we have to terminate any service, but we can't spend money we don't have," said Gary Krause, Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authrolty (SEMTA) General

Krause was at the Pontiac train station late Friday on what was to have been the line's final run after more than a century of service.

Whether it was the final run was up in the air over the weekend as SEMTA attorneys scrambled to void an Oakland County Circuit Court Judge's temporary order blocking the train shut-

SOUTHFIELD ATTORNEY Sheldon L. Kay, representing the Michigan Association of Railroad Passengers, Friday got a temporary restraining order from Oakland Circuit Judge Robert Templin preventing SEMTA from balting the train, pending a hearing before

Templin first set a 9 p.m. Friday hearing for arguements, but then moved the hearing up to 9 a.m. today. Attorneys for SEMTA used the weekend to try to overturn Templin's ruling prohibiting SEMTA from stopping the regular Monday run.

Kay, who said his group has 250 members and is a non-profit Michigan corporation, argues that the state law establishing the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority requires it to continue the train service. Krause said it costs SEMTA $8,000 a day and $40,000 a week to run the commuter train to downtown Detroit in the morning and to the suburbs in the evening.

SEMTA's board of trustees ordered $16 million in budget cuts Oct. 6, reducing all bus service and ending entirely the commuter train service.

SEMTA HAS SEEN its operating budget reduced by federal cutbacks of subsidies. The agency also has sought capital funds for a light rail underground line that would run all day, but has been rebuffed by political opposi-

MARP, as the association is known, handed out flyers to train passengers Friday saying the service would be continued.

"Did we do it? Good!" exulted a woman patron.

The flyer thanked patrons for "their generous support of our efforts to keep the trains running and to transform it into a model of efficiency and attrac-

'Son of Supersewer' is taking its first step

A sign-off from the city of Detroit is the only thing standing in the way of a $3.8 million cash advance to Plymouth Township to design the so-called "Son of Supersewer" project.

The project is an outgrowth of the downsizing of Supersewer and would provide additional sewer capacity to western Wayne County communities dropped from the original Supersewer plans.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) already has given preliminary approval for the money and stands ready to send it if Plymouth Township secures the needed sign offs.

Township Supervisor Maurice Breen said last week he has received two of the three sign offs - from Wayne and Oakland counties — and only needs Detrolt to sign.

Despite Detroit's delay, Breen has heard rumors the DNR may send the money without the third signature.

THOSE RUMORS may be true, since the DNR last week started soliciting local support for a related project.

The "Son of Supersewer" project calls for building a $110 million sewer interceptor parallel to the exsisting Rouge Valley interceptors, which run to the Detroit sewage treatment plant.

Reportedly the Rouge Valley Interceptors suffer a serious pollution problem caused by leaks and overcapacity, and aggravated during rainfalls.

S'craft factions wrestle for space; gym is prize

Students, faculty, administrators and trustees of Schoolcraft College are debating whether the auxillary gym in the Physical Education Building should be converted into a data processing laboratory and classroom.

To put the issues into context, we present excerpts from the college administration's master plan, which raised the question of converting the gym, along with excerpts from "Impact statements" by two administrators whose departments would be most. directly affected — the athletic director and the dean of continuing education/community services.

The age of computers creates a space need

Following is an analysis by Dr. Conway Jeffress, vice president for instruction, of the college's need for space for computer classes. This is condensed from 28 pages.

AT OUR PRESENT rate of growth, the college will require either major reallocations of existing space or new construction within the next 12 months.

Much of the existing curricula at Schoolcraft is languid. It was brought into being many years ago, and only minor evolutionary change has oc-

Among the first curriculums examined was Data Processing. It is the feeling of the faculty that our current emphasis, current methodology, current hardware and our current labcourse configurationis are not ade-

Yet Data Processing is our most highly rated (by students) curriculum. It is an extremely important area because it will support so many other curricula in the future - psychology, economics and English.

DATA PROCESSING and Word Processing are two programs where we are currently rejecting half of all of the persons who wish to enroll because we do not have space or equipment. The college is in desperate need for large date not less than 100 simultaneous

In addition to our data lab, the college has need of auditorium-sized facilities in order to support some of our liberal arts programming and the cultural development of our students.

If the trustees would support new construction and if financing were available, we would be about 314 years from occupancy.

It is the desire of the administration to have a new physical structure. (State college enrollments are), quite frankly, not conductive to public support for new construction. The public tends to be more supportive of the use of existing facilities or the renovation of existing

NEW CONSTRUCTION is the most desirable solution. However, we felt that new construction might not be an acceptable proposal. To date, we have analyzed the following:

1) Reduce the size of programs. 2) Secure vendors for certain programs and services. 3) Construct a new building.

4) Purchase or lease an existing offcampus building.

5) Relocate services or programs to Garden City.

6) Relocate programs or services data lab space. Our minimal estimate into portable classrooms, trailer type,

7) Renovate classrooms in Applied Science Building and move existing programs into Nos. 5 and 6.

8) Renovate auxiliary gym (one floor

-11) Roof and wall the two cul-de-sacs on the Forum Building.

12) Roof and wall the cul-de-sac on the Applied Science Building.

13) Relocate functions now in the lower Waterman and renovate that

A CAREFUL review of the alternatives left us with the auxillary gym as a prime alternative. We had two major objectives ... to accommodate as many of the functions mentioned previously as possible and to do so with as little disruption . . . as possible, and obviously at the best cost.

A chart shows that from 1971-83, credit hours generated by physical education declined from 2,810 to 1,953, while data processing increased from 2,044 to 9,503.

As student participation in physical education courses waned, scheduled PE Building use stagnated. Moreover, in the auxiliary gym, the number of scheduled users actually dissipated.

The bulk of the use of the auxiliary gym comes not from the PE department but from Continuing Education/ Community Services courses and special events. Over the past four fiscal years, only 3 percent of the use of the auxiliary gym can be attributed to the PE department and its traditional

THE WHOLE philosophy of converting a viable area into something that may very well be a "white elephant" in a few years is very questionable.

Right now computers are going strong. What happens when home computers saturate the instructional market and students are working with computers from elementary through high school? Will we still need the room?

The auxiliary gym will be needed by the Physical Education, Athletics, Intramurals, Community Service and Continuing Education departments.

HAVING THE auxiliary gym allows for permanent and semi-permanent teaching aids on the floor, wall and ceiling. If we had to put these items in the main gym, it would greatly detract from the appearance of the main gym and make it not as attractive as an au-

The auxiliary gym has also served as an assembly place for faculty and staff during graduation.

(Gans lists some of the special equipment in the auxiliary gym: white backdrop curtain for golf, archery and tennis; ballet bars; a clear wall for volleyball and practice of other sports; hooks for fencing targets; floor plates for the setup of gymnastic equipment),

For certain competition such as regional volleyball, a warm-up gym is necessary in order to host the tourna-

For other volleyball competition such as our High School Invitational and the open tournament, the number of teams ocmpeting would have to be reduced by one-third and the tournament extended over a much longer pe-

The auxiliary gym provides us with flexibility for men's and women's basketball practices. It allows for more than one event to take place at one time in the building.

Noon hour conflicts would occur without the use of the auxiliary gym.

SOME EXAMPLES of programs affected would be Tuesday evening karate, a physical education credit class, "Fitness After Fifty" and a volleyball credit class. Without the use of the auxiliary gym, we would not be able to offer two of those classes.

It is also used for credit volleyball and golf classes during the day, plus fencing on Friday evenings, aerobic dance fitness class, yoga and contemporary dance classes.

At the current time, we are using two classrooms for western, social, beginning and intermediate ballroom dance classes three evenings a week because gyms are not available.

In summary, it does not seem expedient or wise to spend money to redesign or renovate an existing facility that is serving a valuable function.

From a purely business point of view, it does not seem logical to pay five times for the same area: first to build it initially, second to renovate, third because of the lost use of the existing facility, fourth to build the appropriate computer facility, and fifth to convert back to the original use.

AS A MEMBER of the college team, I have always been willing to adjust my programming responsibilities to the best interest of the college.

However, it is my judgment that we could accommodate only 40 percent of our general CE/CS instruction program in an elementary school type facility. Because of the technical nature of many business and industry contract education classes, we may be able to accommodate no more than 25-30 percent off campus. This is especially true when food service is necessary.

More importantly, there is approximately 30 percent of our course work that is totally dependent upon some college laboratory facility . . . computer science, welding, automotive, secretary science and medical assist-

Civic Symphony to open Investment bill progresses season with free concert

The Redford Civic Symphony's 1983. concert season gets under way Sunday with a special Sesquicentennial tribute to Redford Township's 150th anniver-

The orehestra will perform the newly composed "Sesquicentennial Celebration March" by Lincoln Naumoff at its 36th season opener 3 p.m. in the Redford Union High School auditorium at 17711 Kinloch near Curtis.

The performance is one of four Sun-day concerts offered this season at Redford Union and Thurston high schools. The others are scheduled Dec. 18 and April 8, 1984, in Thurston High School with a February family concert at Redford Union. The concerts are free to the public.

Selections for the first performance will include: "The Silvana Overture" by Carl Maria vonWeber; a concerto for four french horns by George Frederick Handel; "The Last Movement" from the Georges Bizet symphony, "The Coronation March from the Prophets"; "Gullarre" by Moritz Moszkowski; and "Die Sledermaus Svite" by Johann

The 60-member symphony is made up of residents from Redford and surrounding communities such as Detroit, Livonia, Farmington, Dearborb, Warren and Rochester.

"Playing with the orchestra provides a great outlet for performers who never became full-time musicians," said conductor John Gajec, who organized the original 12-member group in 1956.

"HIGH SCHOOL and collège students are also welcome. For them, the orchestra provides invaluable experience playing with adult musicians and learning the art of accompanying solo performances. Many of these members have gone on to become music teachers or professional musicians around the Gajec is constantly recruiting.

"We have good violins, brass and woodwinds this year, but we need more violas and cellos," he said. "If we could get another Grand plano or Baby Grand, we'd like a planist. Also, a harpist and tuba player."

Gajec encouraged interested musicians to join the group at their practices in the Redford Union High School band room 8-10 p.m. on Thursdays.

The practices are friendly and dress is informal," said second violinist Pat-Teefey, who also plays her mandolin at area nursing and retirement homes.

Ten professional musicians join the orchestra for each of its concerts. Some have played with the group for years and occupy key first chairs. Their performances are financed by matching grant funds received from the Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians. The remaining half is funded by membership dues paid by the Redford Township Music Society.

Because groups that get public grants are not allowed to earn a profit, the symphony does not charge admission to its performances.

THIS SEASON, Faith Amadon returns as concert master. Amadon, a Redford native, studied violin for 12 years with Minotta Pollack, a former Redford Civic Symphony concert master. Gajec calls Amadon "an inspiration to the string section" and "extremely talented."

President of the orchestra is Redford resident David Wernette, who plays the clarinet and saxophone. Wernette has served as president since 1979 and has been with the orchestra for five years. He is also interim treasurer.

Bob Zimmerman, a charter member, is the associate conductor and first chair flutist and occasional saxophone player. A Redford resident, he works as a band instructor in the Farmington School District.

"It's full speed ahead" now that a major legislative hurdle has been overcome with his two key economic development bills being overwhelmingly approved by the Senate, said state Sen.

Patrick McCollough, D-Dearborn, whose district includes Garden City. The bills are part of the proposed $54 million Michigan Strategic Fund program that has been given a top priority by the Legislature and Gov. James Blanchard, he said. Both bills were approved by impressive margins, McCollough said, with Senate Bill 384 being adopted 31-1 and Senate Bill 392 approved by a 33-1.

McCollough, vice-chairman of the senate commerce committee, said he would concentrate now on working to get prompt approval of the bills by the House of Representatives.

"The sooner these bills become law, the sooner we can provide a meaningful and much-needed infusion of help to Michigan's business community and economic climate," he said.

The legislation is designed to help rebuild Michigan's economy.

USING THE $54 million in present state funds will help both old and new businesses get the money they need to expand and develop new products and technologies, thereby accelerating business diversification and the growth of new jobs.

The fund will operate through six centers, two of which will be created by the McCollough bills.

McCollough said Senate Bill 384 will create the Center for Assistance to Private Enterprise (CAPE) to supervise loans to businesses with plans to create new jobs or retain current jobs. Senate Bill 392, he said, will establish the Center for Product Development (CPD) to provide financing for marketing new commercial products.

Th Center for Assistance to Private Enterprise would provide financing for a variety of economic development purposes," McCollough said, "including land acquisition, site preparation and machinery and service purchases."

One of the most important requirements for loan approval is that loan applicants must obtain part of their financing from the private sector. This would maximize the use of available investment capital.

McCollough said that the Center for Product Development will help businesses overcome the high start-up costs of launching new products. In exchange. for providing financing, the state would receive a percentage of profits under Republican state senators are loaded for bear, and the bruln in this case is Clifford Allo, designated by Gov. James J. Blanchard to head the Workers Compensation Appeals Board.

The hunt will start at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in the State Capitol: That's when Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, majority leader and chairman of the Senate Administration Committee, opens the hearing on Ailo's confirma-

"The governor continues to talk in glowing terms of how he wants to improve the business climate in Michigan and of how important it is for business, labor and government to work together," said Sen. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, noting that Democrat Blanchard "denles his close ties to the labor movement."

The case against Allo, an attorney and Birmingham resident, is that during the Legislature's 1981 reform of the workers comp system, Allo was "a vociferous opponent of these reforms who fought long and hard to prevent their passage." He then was in the employ of the United Auto Workers union.

Cruce, Sen. R. Robert Geak of Northville and other Republicans have asked Blanchard to withdraw Allo's nomination, threatening to vote against his confirmation.

WHETHER THEY will have the chance is problematical.

The deadline for taking the confirmation to a vote is only one session day away from the hearing, according to one GOP staff member. Republicans fear Faust may be able to delay the matter so that confirmation is auto-

Procedures for a confirmation hearing are "long and involved," according to Faust.

"The committee, mostly through my personal work, submits a set of written questions to the appointee. The appointee is then given a time period in which to respond, generally this is two

"The written responses are then reviewed - again, usually by me - and from the responses, additional questions are asked at the public hearing. This allows the Senate to have a permanent record of a public policy maker's views on important matters.

"Later, these responses can be checked against actual practices, if a senator finds this necessary.

"Additionally, I would like to point out there is a total of six appointments. While the major emphasis has been on (Allo) as chairman, several senators have asked the other appointees also be considered at a public hearing," said

Besides Faust, the committee includes Sens. John Kelly of Detroit and Gary Corbin of Cliq, both Democrats, Senate Republican Leader John Engler of Mt. Pleasant and Connie Binsfeld, R-Maple City.

There are those who would say a potato is a potato. Others buy different potatoes for different puroses. For instance, there are those who think the only baking potato is an Idaho — they buy nothing else for that purpose. But Michigan potato growers and frugal cooks know that the Michigan potato is just as good for baking as that import. Besides the Michigan potato is much more interesting. Idahos all look alike. Michigan potatoes come in all sizes and shapes.

You can buy a 20-pound bag and you've got potatoes for every occasion on hand. The small ones which are hard to peel without skinning your fingers in the process are great for boiling. Eaten with skins on, mashed with your fork and slathered with butter and sour cream, they are just as good as baked and a lot faster.

THE MEDIUM to large potatoes, easily peeled (odd shapes and dents add interest to the peeling process), are fine mashed, au gratin or scalloped. You can save the big ones for baking. Or, if you've run out of big ones just bake twice as many smaller

PUMPKIN PIE

One 9-inch unbaked ple shell 2 cups (1 pound can) pumpkin 34 cup firmly packed brown sugar 2 tsp cinnamon 34 tsp salt 34 tsp ginger 1/2 tsp nutmeg 1/4 tsp mace 1/8 tsp cloves 4 eggs, slightly beaten

114 cups light cream or half and half

Whipped cream, if desired Preheat oven to 400°. Combine pumpkin and brown sugar in a large mixing bowl. Beat until well blended. Stir in spices, blend thoroughly. Add eggs; gradually stir in cream. Pour into pie shell and bake 45 to 50 minutes, or until a knife inserted near center comes out clean. Cool on wire rack to room temperature. Serve garnished with whipped cream.

HOT BUTTERED CIDER

2 quarts sweet apple cider 3 sticks cinnamon I tsp whole cloves I tsp whole allspice 1 tsp chopped candled ginger Butter balls Sticks of cinnamon if it were labeled as such. Michigan potatoes usually come in bags which say Michigan potatoes. Sometimes eggs are clearly labeled as being from Michigan and occasionally produce in season will be tagged as from Michigan.

Bring cider, 3 sticks cinnamon, cloves, allspice and ginger to a boil in sauce pan, simmer uncovered 10 minutes. Strain before serving. Garnish each serving with a butter ball and a stick of cinnamon.

But what about meat, dairy products and canned fruits and vegetables?

In response to a Michigan Department of Agriculture study which found that 51 percent of consumers in the state had difficulty identifying Michigan products and more than 75 percent of those would buy home-grown given a chance, a campaign has been launched to promote agriculture - Michigan's second largest industry.

Heading up the nationwide campaign is Michigan's first lady Paula Blanchard. She will promote a "Say Yes to the Best from Michigan Farms" campaign which includes a logo designed to help Michigan consumers identify home-grown produce.

·CALLING THE effort "truly a 'win-win' situation," Mrs. Blanchard said the symbol is only the "focal point" of a program which will allow shoppers to support this local industry.

Say Yes to the Best from Michigan Farms.

SPICED PLUM BREAD

'i egg. 15 cup honey 33 cup sugar I tsp baking soda 1 lb. can Michigan kpurple plums, drained, pitted, cut into pieces. 2 cups all-purpose flour I cup walnuts, chopped 14 tsp cloves, ground 1/4 tsp cinnamon, ground

In a mixing bowl, cream egg with sugar, honey and vanilla. Add flour, soda and spices. Mxi until blended. Stir in plum pieces and nuts. DO NOT overmix. Grease and flour one 9-inch-by-5-inch loaf pan. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake in preheated 350° oven 50.60 minutes or until done. If top becomes too brown, cover loosely with foil to prevent overbrowning. Remove from loaf pan and allow to cool on baking rack.

Note: Plums can be cut easily with kitchen shears.

The "Say Yes to the Best from Michigan Farms" program was developed by the Michigan Department of Commerce, Michigan Department of Agriculture and 10 commodity groups.

According to the Department of Agriculture, Michigan leads the nation in the production of six crops: blueberries, cucumbers for pickling, Eastern Soft White Winter Wheat, navy beans, Plantation Christmas Trees and red tart cherries. The state ranks fifth or higher in the production of 26 other crops or products. As a result, Michigan is second only to California for the production of the most and widest variety of agricultural products, the total value of which contributes more than $15.5 billion to the states's econ-

Food retailers are urged to promote the logo in their stores and may obtain information about it and how to use it by calling the state's products hot line at 1-800-MI-PRODS.

So here's a sampling of recipes in which you can use only Michigan products. If you're interested in using Michigan products and your food store isn't using the logo yet, urge the manager to do so.

In German, it's sauerbraten

Sweet-sour pork is a real fall treat

To salute the arrival of fall, gather family and friends to enjoy the fabulous foods of a Porkfest delebration. This table festival pays tribute to the season's harvest with a bountiful spread of foods produced from the land.

Sweet-sour, that unique blend of contrasting flayors that tantalizes the palate so delightfully, is found in a variety of cuisines around the world. Surely among the masters of combining the sweet with the sour in just the right proportion are the Germans. Their most famous tribute to sweet and sour is sauerbraten or sour roast.

While sauerbraten is traditionally made with a beef roast, its spicy wine and vinegar marinade also works flavor magic on pork. By giving sauerbraten treatment to a boneless pork shoulder roast, you'll find you are giving a meal an intriguing flavor boost and also helping to ease a strained food budget.

The boneless shoulder blade Boston roast called for in this recipe is one of the most economically priced pork roasts available. The blade bone has been removed to facilitate carving, and it is tied with string or placed inside a netting.

PORK SAUERBRATEN.

4 to 6-pound boneless pork shoulder blade Boston roast.
% cup red wine

% cup cider vinegar % cup water 1 large onlon, sliced 2 thsp brown sugar

11/2 tsp salt 6 peppercorns, crushed 6 whole cloves

1/4 tsp ground allspice
1 bay leaf

2 thep cooking fat % cup crushed gingersnaps

Combine wine, vinegar, water, onion, brown sugar, salt, peppercorns, cloves, alispice and bay leaf in saucepan. Bring to boil and cook 10 minutes. Gool. Place meat in bowl or plastic bag, add marinade, turning pork to coat, and cover or tie securely. Marinate in refrigerator 18 to 24 hours, turning several times. Remove pork from marinade to absorbent paper and pat dry; brown in cooking fat in Dutch oven or large frying-pan. Pour off drippings. Add reserved marinade to meat, cover tightly and cook slowly 2½ to 3½ hours or until pork is well done. Remove pork to warm platter. Reserve 2 cups cooking liquid, return to pan; bring to a boil.

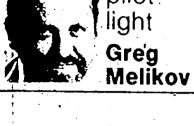

Germans particularly enjoy sauerbraten with dumplings for they are so tasty with the spicy gravy. Buttered Brussels sprouts or steamed cabbage wedges will go nicely with the menu as will applesauce spiced with cinnamon. For a dessert that's as special as the meal, serve cherry cobbler.

Gradually add gingersnaps and cook, stirring to thicken. Serve gravy with pork.

A boneless pork roast is fobustly flavored with a sweet-sour marinade that's thickened with gingersnaps for a delicious gravy.

Stuff pita bread at home with this delicious salad

"Eat a pita."

"A what?" asks the balding man with white hair.

"Pardon!" says the attractive woman with long

The television commercial by one of the top fastburger chains paints Joe and Jane Public as Mr. and Ms. Stupid when it comes to pita bread. In a follow-up commercial, where the singing is slightly off key, they come around to the company's way of thinking — and selling — but I suspect many people have been one step ahead all the time.

I've been stuffing pita with an assortment of salads and cold cuts for years.

A classic ancient Middle Eastern yeast bread, pita is flat and round. As the bread bakes, a natural pocket forms in the center.

Credit the Greek gyro — the sandwich filled with a mixture of lamb and beef, covered with a sour cream-yogurt sauce, some cucumber and a little feta cheese — with sparking pita's growing popularity

'My favorite stuffed pita contains Mediterranean salad with dressing. "Eat a pita" at home and pocket the savings.

THE SALAD

1 jar (6 oz.) marinated artichoke hearts

1 can (6 % oz.) tuna, drained and broken in pieces

2 cups shredded iceberg lettuce 1 small red onlon, thinly sliced and separated in rings

1/2 cup canned pitted ripe olives, sliced 1/2 cucumber, pared and thinly sliced 6 radishes, sliced

In large container with lid, combine artichoke hearts, tuna, lettuce, onion, olives, cucumber and radishes. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.

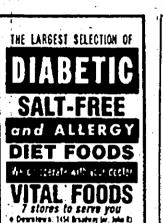

THE DRESSING
Marinade from jarred artichoke hearts
2 thsp. lemon juice
14 tsp. dried basil leaves

14 tsp. dried oregano leaves

Combine all ingredients in small container, cover and let stand at room temperature. Shake before using.

SALAD IN A POCKET
Salt and black pepper

Pour dressing over salad and mix well. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cut breads in half and evenly spoon salad into pockets. Yields 8 servings.

Twenty-one years later, Sean Connery (with toupee) plays James Bond again in "Never Say Never Again."

the movies

Louise Snider

Sean Connery's back, portraying very best Bond

According to Norman Mailer, "Tough guys don't dance." He hasn't seen James Bond. Bond dances a stylish tango as easily as he disarms a hulking thug in "Never Say Never Again" (PG).

Yes, British Secret Service Agent 007 can whirl across a dance floor and still do all the tough-guy things. He disposes of arch-villains, seduces beautiful women, fights off man-eating sharks, rescues damsels in distress and, as a matter of course, saves the world from tyranny.

What's more, he does it with class. And there is no classier James Bond than Sean Connery, who originated the role 21 years ago in "Dr. No." He returns in fine fettle. Toupee or not, Connery still exudes an irresistible combination of urbane manners, muscular physique, quick wit and sexy nonchalance.

The script for Connery's return as Bond was written by Lorenzo. Semple and directed by Irvin Kershner. Although the plot is a simple variant of "Thunderball," its wry humor and self-mockery especially suit Connery.

IN THE BEGINNING, for example, Bond/Connery is reminded that he's aging, that he's been out of action for some time, that he's slowing down. Bond is sent to a health spa to be restored through a regimen of exercise, nutrition and herbal enemas;

The movie dwells here only long enough to demonstrate that Bond hasn't become a wimp. He still beds down the nurses, and punches out builles even when they have an iron jaw and a concrete belly.

The scene then shifts to handsome locales in the Bahamas and the Riviera as M (Edward Fox), Bond's superior, reactivates Bond's 00 status and sends him into the field.

His mission is to discover the whereabouts of two nuclear-armed cruise missiles which SPECTRE (Special Executor for Counterintelligence, Terrorism, Revenge and Extortion) has stolen from NATO. It's a mission not lacking in sex, danger, action, adventure and gimmickry.

The casting is very strong, very effective. Max Von Sydow is Ernst Stavro Blofeld, the head of SPECTRE. Klaus Maria Brandauer (the Austrian actor seen in "Mephisto") is Blofeld's demented and deadly deputy, Largo.

KIM BASINGER is Largo's flashdancing mistress, Domino, and Barbara Carrera is Largo's evil cohort, Fatima Blush.

Carrera emerges as a real show-stopper and scene-stealer. Outrageously costumed in furs and leathers, boots and bikinis, Fatima is by far the most flamboyant character in the film.

Her wild delight in evil radiates from every-move she makes. It's vividly captured in one scene just by the way she rushes down a flight of stairs, her hair and clothes flying behind her.

However, even Fatima can't ruffle Bond's debonair manner or supreme self-confidence. Nor can attempts on his life, high-speed chases or hairbreadth escapes. They are all part of the game which Connery, as Bond, plays so well. And as the song in a previous Bond movie concluded, "Nobody does it better."

Kim Basinger (left) is Domino and Barbara Carrera is Fatima Biush, women in the Bond mode.

'Autumn Gold' benefits infant death research

By Louise Okruteky staff writer

When a baby dies unexpectedly, parents can become as much a victim of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome as their child.

"There isn't anything to prevent (SIDS.) The community doesn't understand the impact on the family. It's very difficult to bury your own child. It's a very big blow," said Karen Braniff, to bring them back," Braniff said. a nurse and Wayne County Coordinator for the SIDS Center at Detroit's Children's Hospital. Often suspicion mingles with sympathy in family members, friends and neighbors. Penny Lizewski's five-month-old son died eight years ago. Because she and her husband took out life insurance four days before their son died, the firm investigated. "They interviewed neighbors, some of whom didn't really know us. One woman we didn't know very well came to the door and asked,

"Did you strangle your baby?" "It was three weeks after (the baby's death.) I just fell apart," said Lizewski, a member of the Michigan Chapter of National Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Foundation. The group supports SIDS research, lectures on the topic before any group and helps other parents faced with an infant's death. IN CONJUNCTION with "golden oldles" radio station WHND-AM, the group is sponsoring a fund-raiser for SIDS research at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 23 in the Troy Hilton Inn, Stephenson at Maple, Troy, Tickets for the 1950s-1960s dance party are $7.50 per person. They-are available at CTC outlets and at the door.

Research into the sudden death of infants has yet to yield a single explanation as to what causes seemingly normal, healthy bables, usually between two to four months old to dle in their cribs. There have been some reported cases in which children as old as 22-months-old have succumbed to SIDS. It strikes bables of all races and economic groups in urban and rural areas. An estimate two of every 1,000 bables born in the United States will fall vic-

Most experts believe there isn't one main cause of these deaths. In recent years, babies with apnea, who have episodes of start-stop breathing, have been recognized as potential SIDS victims.

"Some people know their baby was apneac. But in some situations the babies were attended by medical personnel and they were unable

HOME MONITORING programs for these bables or for subsequent children of parents who've lost a child to SIDS is available as a precautionary measure. The unit, about the size of an average clock radio is attached to the crib and costs about $1,000. But monitoring isn't a fool-proof preventative measure, cautions Braniff.

Research also allows the SIDS foundation to -continue its-campaign-to-educate health care professionals and police officials about the syndrome.

In some cases, police still question or jail people whose infants have died of SIDS, according to Pamela Nelson, of Livonia. Nelson's three-month-old daughter dled of SIDS in Octo-

While Braniss commends the Wayne County Coronor's office for its willingness to assign SIDS as a cause of death, she notes that in other counties coronors often blame pneumonia or suffocation as causes of deaths in the belief that it will make the death easier for the parents to bear.

While research aims at isolating the causes of SIDS, each new revelation can be painful to surviving family members.

'Everytime there's a newspaper article on the cause of SIDS, the phone rings off the hook," Nelson said.

"Even if you realize there's nothing you could have done you think maybe they'll find out what caused it and maybe you could have prevented it," Lizewski sald.

No matter what the attitude of family and friends, parents who face coping with an infant's death ought to talk to other people who have gone through the same kind of grief as soon as possible. Lower loops signal vivid imagination

I've enjoyed reading your handwriting analyses over the past few years, and have become interested in what you might discover in my own handwriting. Many have found it somewhat difficult to read, and so I normally turn to printing, which even I find more comfortable to read and write.

Lately, I've been stopping to examine which direction I'd like to head in, for my career, life and social relationship, I thought an analysis such as this might help me get a better feeling for direction. Thank you for your help. L.C. Redford

Dear L.C.: First of all, let us consider your miniscule handwriting size and careful punctuation. This tells me you are a , person with good concentration. You do not like distractions when you are invovled in a project. And you are very observant, little escapes your watchful eyes. Each and every detail is important to you. And you have a certain skill for putting ideas into practice.

Now let us turn to the extreme caution that is revealed in the combination of those long straight word ending and your small writing. One has to wonder what unfortunate experiences have made you so chary.

Then I see there is often a reticence about you. When things are bothering you, it is not easy for you to communicate this to others. Perhaps this is the reason you probably experience difficulty freeing yourself from thoughs that have taken hold of you. A small disagreement, for example, may keep you brooding until you fall asleep af

It seems possible you are not always realistic. At times you may have difficulty distinguishing between realism and fantasy.

Many of your goals appear to be directed toward material assets. I suspect this not only relates to money or possessions, but also to your concern with whatever symbolizes love to you.

Not let us consider those overblown lower loops which signals a very vivid imagination. There is also some literary aptitude in your handwriting. This is coupled with your dramatic flair, could conceivably take you into writing ful. Feedback is always welcomed.

There is a restlessness in your handwriting. Your need for change and. variety is definitely here. So this seems like a natural time to examine where you would like to go with your life. Perhaps a starting point might be to check out the reasons for your overly cautious approach to so many things and then make the necessary changes.

If you have a question about your handwriting, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, in care of this newspaper. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper writing in the first person singular. Age and handedness are also help-

Defense puts Glenn in NSL title seat

By Brad Emone staff writer

The Westland John Glenn defense rested its case Saturday afternoon.

It took little time to deliberate as the Rockets moved within one game of winning the Northwest Suburban League football crown outright with a hard-fought 6-0 victory over North Farmington.

"This is one of the best defensive games ever played at Glenn," sald coach Chuck Gordon, whose team is 4-0 in league play and 5-1 overall. "What makes this thing good as that they (the defense) just kept coming back.

Glenn sophomore Tony Boles accounted for the game's only TD when scored on a 25-yard run in the opening quarter after the Raiders fumbled a punt deep in their own territory...

THE BIG PLAY came, however, with 5:43 remaining as Glenn's Jim Vojak and tiny nose guard Tom Forchione stopped Raider back Ken Goss on a

During the final minute of play, North quarterback Eric Engel drove the Raiders down to the Glenn 29, but safety Doug Corbeil ended the suspense when he picked off a pass near the goal line with only 10 seconds remaining.

"It was a matter of not making the big play," said North coach Jim O'Leary. "We went with an unbalanced line on the fourth-and-three play and we thought we'd catch them off guard. The kids didn't get there in time and it was a great defensive play for Glenn."

GLENN ENJOYED good field position in the first half as North fumbled

The Rockets, however, could punch in only one TD. At the end of the half, Glenn marched down to the North 13, but linebacker Scott Knoll picked off a Jeff Hawley pass to end the drive.

"We moved the ball, but it was with field position," Gordon said. "And when we had it, we didn't take advantage of

"But give North credit. That's what happens when two teams are going for the championship."

North's defense contained Glenn's potent running game, especially during the final three quarters of play.

"Boles slipped inside on us some early, but I thought we shut them down pretty well," O'Leary said. "The klds did a great job in that respect.

"WE HAD SOME dropped passes that hurt us in the first half and I thought Eric threw well in the first half. But Glenn hit hard and came after Goss was the game's leading rusher, carrying 18 times for 73 yards. Boles led Glenn with 59 in 14 tries.

North plays tall, trips Glenn, 47-39

By Chris McCosky staff writer

All odds, it seemed, were against the visitors from North Farmington. But in the end, the Raiders prevailed.

First of all, John Glenn was playing before a loud and large home crowd. Secondly, its starting lineup consisted of four players tailer than 5-foot-10 -North had one player of that size.

But, the team that makes its shots wins and that team was North Farmington, 47-39.

Their poor shooting prevented the Rockets from making use of their size. Grodzicki sald of Austin. "As a coach, you can't exploit the situation. It's a painful thing. It's heartbreaking, really," Sommerman said.

The Raider defense had a lot to do with the Rockets' poor shooting. The Raiders played a cleverly disguised 3-2 zone defense in the first half and modified it significantly in the third quarter. The modification was the brainchild of North's junior varsity coach Greg Capl-

*GREG SAW something in the first half and we changed our defense. We kept our blg people down in the wings instead of having them come up," said Raider coach Greg Grodzicki.

What the change did was close up the middle, and force Gienn to bomb away from the outside. North had excellent rebounding position as a result, also.

Franklin is now 8-4 overall and 3-1 in league play. The Patriots trail NSL leader North Farmington by one game. RU, meanwhile, slipped to 6-5 overall and 1-3 in the league.

The Lectka sisters, Alicia and Tracy, scored 13 and 11 points, respectively, to pace the winners. Senior Suff Johnson chipped in with 10.

Lisa Vial scored 12 for RU, while high-scoring sophomore Julie Marcband was kept off the board before leaving the game with an injury in the third period.

"We wanted to stop the Marchand kid and we did a good (defensive) job on her," said Franklin coach Tim Newman, who praised the play of his centers, Jill Phillips and Karen McCool.

Gerontologist to discuss problems of the 'old/old'

Validation/Fantasy a form of therapy used with disoriented "old/old" people, those beyond 80 years who have retreated from reality, will be dis-cussed at a workshop offered this fall at Madonna College, Livonia.

Naomi Fell, a nationally known social worker and gerontologist who developed validation therapy will instruct the class.

Fell was enthusiastically recevied at a previous workshop on the same subject in September. Four states of disorientation will be examined: Occasional disorientation, time confusion, repetitive motion and vegetation. Each state is defined in terms of emotional characteristics and feelings.

The workshop will include films, excercises and demonstrations so that students will learn to use validation therapy with disoriented "old/old" peo-

Fell, who earned a master's degree in social work at Columbia University, developed this therapy technique in response to her dissatisfaction with the traditional method of dealing with the disoriented "old/old."

The workshop will meet Friday, Nov. 11, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The $35 fee. includes lunch.

Madonna College, located at I-96 and Levan in Livonia, offers bachelor and associates degrees in gerontology. For information, call 591-5188.
