Public inquires about cable TV

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Questions about the impact of a cable television franchise on generating jobs and on home security in the City of Westland were among those discussed at a public presentation by Continental Cablevision Thursday night in the council chambers of the Westland

City Hall. Representatives of the cable company, the 10th largest in the nation and the only company to bld for Westland's cable TV system, and five council members were among those on hand for the session, which lasted almost two hours.

After the meeting, council members discussed the naming of a negotiating team to meet with Continental representatives. The team will discuss items in the company's proposal that the city has questions about, according to Councilman Kenneth Mehl.

Those likely to be named to the negotiating committee are Westland's cable TV consultant, Carl Plinick; City Attor-Farland and two council members, according to city officials.

*Once the agreement is negotiated, there is usually a public hearing before the vote on the franchise by the council," said Pilnick, of Telecommunications Management Corp.

MEHL ESTIMATED that the council will vote on Continental's proposal within two to four weeks.

We would hope as a council to ratify the franchise no later than the end of November," Mehl told the small but interested audience of approximately 60, almost half of whom were Continental employees.

Jobs that would be generated by the cable franchise include workers for the cable installation in homes, customer service representatives and programmers, according to Michael Ritter, Continental vice president and general manager. He estimated that between 15 and 20 permanent jobs would be created.

"We have a commitment to hire, wherever possible, local people," Ritter said. "That way we get to know the community and the employee turnover is small.

"We bring in some number of installation contract people and a core of permanent, full-time installation people," he said. "When installation of the new subscribers is completed, we core employee level would stay the

THE SYSTEM proposed by Continental will allow for home security. But officials said many subscribers don't select that service.

"The commitment is there but the financial realities have to be reckoned with," Ritter said.

"There are 6,000 cable systems in the United States and only 38 provide a se-curity alarm system," Pilnick told the audience. "Of these, the largest has less than 3,000 subscribers. We've put (home security) past being an experimental system but it's not yet at the point where it's a mass market system.

"It's very easy to say, 'Let's have it now' without the knowledge of the problems involved."

Areas concerning home security that still have to be worked out are the questions of liability and regulation, Pilnick sald.

ONE REASON Westland received only one bid has to do with the city's timing, Ritter said. He said that there ney Jeffrey Jahr, City Planner Dale has been a declining number of cable companies bidding for franchises, and that at this time many companies have reached the limit of their building capabilities and borrowing capabilities.

The 550 MHz system proposed for Westland would be the first in the state, according to Jeremy Stern, director of corporate development. Service will be provided over two "tiers" or layers. The first tier, offering "economy service," features 26 channels at a cost of $3.50 per month. The second tier, "prime service," features 60 channels for $7.45 per month.

Westland residents who subscribe to two or more premium services may join the "Nankin Cable Club", and receive discounts and bonuses, such as a free cable guide, a free remote control and/or a 10 percent discount on premium services.

COUNCIL MEMBERS commented on former Mayor Thomas Taylor's proposal of August 1979 for a city-owned, two-way cable television system. Concerns grew over the proposal and it was defeated in a referendum vote in

"I would have loved to see that system go in," Mehl said. "We would have been a leader, certainly in the state and probably in the country, if we had had the guts to put it in motion. But people only believed the information put out, and that information was wrong. The would let the contract people go but the only alternative we have is to move ahead with this."

"It's up to how fast they get the transcripts ready," he said, when asked for a timetable for the appeal process.

Ghostly encounters unfold

By Karen Hermes Smith staff writer

Ghosts have long been associated with Halloween, but do they really exist?

They do, according to three suburbanites - Richard Brooks, a philosophy professor at Oakland University in Rochester, Marion Kuclo of Garden City, a 22-year teacher who practices witchcraft using the name of Gundella; and Sol Lewis, director of the Michigan Metaphysical Soclety which meets in Southfield.

All three said they have seen, heard or felt ghosts or have investigated and believed other peoples' ghost sto-

"I'm not willing to accept that something can't be until I'm shown that it can't be," said Brooks, an associate member of the Parapsychology Association who's taught parapsychology classes at Oakland.

BROOKS SAID he has experienced two paranormal feet in the air. "I figured he was kind of looking in on me," Brooks said.

In the second incident, Brooks said, some palm branches tucked behind a picture suddenly fell down two feet to one side within an hour after his first wife died.

"The furnace was off and the windows weren't open," Brooks said, adding that, after uprighting the palms, he tried jiggling the picture and blowing on them to make them move. The only thing that moved them was his touch, he said.

A common experience, he said, is for people to "pick up something" in the corner of their eye, then as quickly as they turn to look at it, it disappears.

LEWIS, WHO'S taught parapsychology at Wayne County Community College and lectures throughout the country, said many people feel or smell ghosts, which are more common occurrences than seeing one. A family friend, he said, frequently caught whiffs of her husband's cigar smoke years after he was dead.

Most ghosts appear because they have hopeful messages for the living, according to Gundella. Frequently, the disembodied spirit of a dead person will appear to his loved ones and assure them that he's alive on another plane, in another existance.

Marjorie Daniels, who is seeking her first term on the council, said she would like to see staffing of the fire department "as high as possible," but she would besitate to name a minimum stall number.

Daniels added that she wasn't sure that anything could be done about funding the department except to "look closely at the contracts." She said that she didn't forsee the need to close any fire stations, but if one had to be closed, she proposed that it be station number one on Ford Road next to city ball.

As far as operating the arena goes, Daniels said she would "favor what is most financially feasible for the city." She criticized the recent proposal for its operation by the Municipal Service Bureau as putting all expenses on the city while offering the city very little Daniels said that she had "no knowledge of 'the proposed Monroe park and completion of Central City Park and would have to study them.

Why the senior citizen Friendship Center has become a campaign issue is unknown to Daniels, she sald.

Other options should be studied, she suggested.

Candidates explain stand on campaign issues

Henry Johnson

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Henry "Hank" Johnson made an unusual campaign promise at a recent candidates forum when he pledged not to run for another term on the Westland City Council.

The 32-year-old candidate, making his first campaign for council, believes he can be effective serving a single four-year term.

"I'm not running to politically promote Hank Johnson, but to promote the needs of the community," he said. "I want all of my efforts for that, not establishing a political base for Hank Johnson.

The city council and administration should work together and end their current conflicts for the good of Westland, says Johnson, a former member of the Westland Civil Service Commission. He calls for an "improved political climate to enhance economic development."

"No business would want to come into a community that has such a hostile government," he said. "We should work together and put political ambitions aside."

INCUMBENT COUNCIL members have questioned whether Johnson and the other three new council candidates would be independent of Mayor Charles Pickering if they were elected. Pickering has endorsed the four challengers.

Asked how he would get along with the incumbents on the council, Johnsonpoints to his job as manager of the Chrysler Corp.'s contract compliance department. The candidate says he would give as great an effort on community problems as he did in developing a retraining program for Chrysler.

"I worked in partnership with federal and state governments," he said. "It took a lot of effort and time. As a result of working together, there are 4,800 (workers) now in productive employ-

"I wouldn't be a spokesperson for the administration but would work with the administration."

JOHNSON CALLS for a "more comprehensive economic development committee" and the development of a master plan for Westland.

"We should do something to bring business into the community to help with our tax load," he said.

"I think we have to be very realistic, look at the existing industrial parks and have a master plan for this community that would attract light business and additional single-family residences," he said. "Westland wouldn't be a large industrial community and I don't think it needs to be. There should be innovative approaches. Ford Motor or General Motors may not come into the community, but we can't turn away the Howard Johnson's and the Chuck

Johnson says he still supports recommendations made by the Norwayne Task Force in 1973-74. The recommendations called for strong code enforcement and that the Dorsey Center be utilized more, according to the candidate. He says it was suggested that the Dorsey building become a "mini-city hall" that would provide such services as licensing and an ombudsman to answer problems.

Johnson, who lived in the Norwayne district for 24 years, until 1977, was vice chairman of the task force for three years.

JOHNSON OPPOSES the proposed City Charter amendment, which will appear on the November ballot, to remove the mayor's authority to veto council appointments.

"This community voted, by the City Charter, to have a strong mayor form of government, Johnson said. To change this would be subverting the people of a strong mayor form of government.

The city's dialogue with the police and fire departments has to be improved, Johnson says.

"I would never make a (budget) cut that would endanger the citizens of this community," he said. "Fire and police services are critical to the operation of a city. But I'm not saying we couldn't negotiate harder. I don't think that we have a council that wants to talk, to have a dialogue and negotiate in good make some very difficult decisions," Johnson said. "I'm not convinced that we haven't taken all of the efforts necessary to look at the operations of city government.

"We should be coordinating services and avoid duplication of services."

A "department of human services" could incorporate the departments of aging and parks and recreation, and Youth Energy Services programs, Johnson said,

"If we had a department of human services, we would be able to look at all of the needs to providing services for all the residents of our community," he said. "By having that department, we would have someone directly responsible to identify the needs of all the citizens."

THE POLICE and fire departments could become one department of public safety, Johnson suggests. Concerning the fire department, he says he agrees with Westland Fire Chlef Ted Scott that 15 should be the minimum number. of firefighters on a shift. The candidate says that current staffing patterns for firefighters could be changed so as not to encourage overtime, and that he hopes to reopen the current firefighters' contract. He says "many of the incumbent council candidates" reviewed and concurred with this con-

A group of volunteers and civilian dispatchers could provide supplemental help for city firefighters, according to Kent Herbert, who has come under fire for his role in past negotiations with that city union.

Herbert, who is seeking election to his first full term on the council, was appointed earlier this year to fill a seat left vacant when Justine Barns was elected a state representative. The councilman was fired as city finance director when Mayor Charles Pickering took office.

Volunteers should be used for actual fire runs only, Herbert said, adding that volunteers work effectively in Plymouth Township and Novi.

"I wouldn't ever recommend that we have an all-volunteer department," Herbert said.

He believes that adding civilian dispatchers would result in an addition of three firefighters to current staffing

"I wouldn't recommend any further reductions to staff. We are at a minimal adequate level," he sald. Herbert also said there all four fire stations should remain open and that emergency medical service ought to still be operated out of the city fire department.

"Any further increases would have to be financed out of a special millage, if people thought it was necessary," he

RESIDENTS should be given a choice on what kind of library service they want, Herber said.

"Since we lowered taxes, they'd have to give back only half of it (the reduction). That's about $10 for each home," Herbert explained. "I'm supportive of a millage. I'd like to see it on the ballot."

But Herbert doesn't favor Westland having just one library of its own. Instead, he said, there should be access to other libraries and coordination with

Westland has seen the last of any required budget cuts, according to Her-

"The problems with the budget reflect how bad the economy has been,"

But he was critical of overtime spending and said that the city's workman's compensation is "out of control."

A LOT OF WORK needs to be done in the parks and recreation area, Herbert said. That would include adding maintenance personnel and upgrading equipment that has been passed over for the last three years.

He also suggested the use of a minigrant system to non-profesional recreation groups on a per capita basis to run such programs as bockey, soccer, baseball and figure skating.

Herbet also expects the city to again request proposals from private groups on running the arena. He said the previous request was "too vague," resulting in all plans eventually being withdrawn or dismissed.

He said that one problem now faced by the arena is that people are working and its being operated without any funds having been appropriated.

Just one more year of funding with federal community development block grants will complete Central City Park behind city hall. He called it a "top park compared to the best that Dearborn or Ann Arbor have.*

He added that the addition of a park in the old Monroe School area will be important to the north end of the city, where there are no parks.

IN THE NORWAYNE area of the city, three things are needed, Herbert said. Those things are ordinance enforcement, seeing the Dorsey plan completed and better equipment for the vest pocket parks.

"In the last two years, its gone down because of neglect. There are junk cars, trash in yards and building code violations," he said. "The city's housing assistance plan addresses some of the problems with landlords, making it easy to get aid for low interest loans."

The area around the Dorsey Community Center needs to be completed, and about $25,000 to $30,000 could make major improvements to the parks.

"We need the mayor to recognize the difference between the legislative and executive branches to give a measure of independence," he said. "When I'm voting on his programs, I shouldn't have to have his approval to sit in the is the appearance of our streets," he

A. Kent Herbert

"SOMETIMES THE city has to take what's offered from developers, Herbert said. He advised those who vote against tax breaks for new developments to come up an alternative or get the law changed, otherwise surrounding communities will get all the development.

There is a "hostility toward development" in the city, he claimed.

He sald he didn't see the need to rezone more land for subdivisions until those now being built are close to being filled, and he criticized the mayor for "procrastinating" on his call a year ago for a downtown development authority.

Senior citizens, who have had their budget cut by 50 percent and who have "utilized volunteers in a big way," should not be forced to combine with other departments he said. He also supports expansion of the Friendship Cen-

Their expenses are "really not very much, especially when measured against the needs," he added.

Besides those things already mentioned, Herbert said he would favor capital improvements, including the use of word processing equipment and Herbert said that he wouldn't favor a more computer software for more effi-

Herbert also proposes a landscape award program in the spring for homes selected by the council and businesses selected by the chamber of commerce. He said he would also like to see chartered homeowners associations for subdivisions in the city, with a wood sign welcoming visitors to those sections of the city.

Richard Grajeck

By Mary Klemic staff writer

Richard "Rick" Grajek is hoping that his retirement from the Westland fire department this summer will mark the beginning of one career for him as well as the ending of another.

Grajek, 52, wants to be elected to the Westland City Council this November. He says it is time for a change in the council.

"Politics in this community has never been as bad as in the last two years," he said. If the same people get elected to office, we will have a worse two years than in the past."

GRAJEK RETIRED as a battalion chief in August, after 27 years with the city's fire department. He says he could deal with firefighters as a council member.

"Sure I can," the candidate said. "I don't have a relative working for the city. There are a lot of council people who have relatives and real close friends working for the Grajek would like the fire department staffed at levels of 20 men per unit, he says.

"We had a lot of guys retire and they were never replaced," he said. "(For funding) you have to go through taxes. I would have to see what the situation would be. It seems like the city keeps coming up with all kinds of money now for the fire department. I don't know where that's coming from."

A VOLUNTEER fire department wouldn't be workable for Westland, Grajek

*If you look around, communities as they develop get away from that (volunteer fire departments)," he said. "If you have a large population, you can't give good service with a volunteer fire department." Grajek's budget priorities are "services to the community," fire, police, library and parks and recreation - "all the essentials," he says. Concerning the millage rate, the candidate says he would have to "see the figures" before he could make a decision.

Areas on the city borders along Wayne, Newburgh and Joy roads can be developed into single family residential districts, Gra-

The attorney representing a Westland police officer charged with larceny under

$100 has said he will seek a change of venue in the case.

"Westland can use a downtown but I don't know where they would develop that," he

THE CANDIDATE is critical of other economic development projects in the city.

"Right now we have five industrial areas of the city," Grajek said. "Instead of putting a lot of effort in one area and making it nice, now we have five not doing anything.

*We have a nice shopping center. If you see some of the things they're developing around that center, they don't really go there. In the area behind the shopping center they're putting in manufactured homes. That should never have gone in. It should have been used for something else. That doesn't fit into the area."

"I don't know what the procedures are to bring in economic development," he said. "I'm sure they're working as hard as they can, but it's just not developing."

IN NORWAYNE, ordinances should be enforced and junk cars should be removed, according to Grajek.

"To listen to the incumbents, they put thousands of dollars in the community every year, for water and new streets," he said. "It doesn't change the appearance of the community. There are a lot of slumlords there. I saw Norwayne progress and now I see it de-gress."

Grajek is critical of the Central City Park project.

"We don't have a nice-looking park in the community," he said. "A lot of community development money went into Central City Park: I see no benefit to that pond there whatsoever. It's probably pretty if you're looking out of the Taylor Towers, but you can't skate on it and you can't swim in it. "They should plant some trees in there. That place only got mowed down one time this past summer."

THE CANDIDATE praises Westland's programs for scalor citizens. He says it's the "wrong time" to expand the Friendship

"Senior citizen programs are good in the community," Grajek said. "They all like it here. I talked to one man the other day who moved here from Livonia, and he said we've got the best senior citizen system around.

"Some people don't see the need for expansion of that (Friendship Center) building," he continued. "We have facilities in this city that can be utilized. It's the wrong time (to expand the building), when we can't find money to fund libraries."

Grajek supports the idea of Westland having its own library.

1 would like to see a library in Westland," he said, "I don't know why we didn't have one before. But I wouldn't go for a special millage (to fund the library) right now, I think the money's there. I really do."

THE CANDIDATE is opposed to the ballot proposal that the City Charter be amended to remove the mayor's authority to veto council appointments.

"That is not a very good idea," Grajek said. I am completely against it. Why shouldn't he have a right to veto? If they (council members) don't like it, then they can override it. It (the proposal) takes away the 'checks and balances' that you're always hearing about."

Grajek calls himself an "individual thinker who would be a councilman for the peoing for support but I will accept it," the candidate said. "I am running by myself... "I do think the people in this community want a change and they're going to make one," he said. "If they don't, then we're going to have a problem.".

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE LIVONIA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Michigan law requires that each year we must publish a financial statement which is a composite of our annual audit. In compliance with the law, this information is offered to our citizens in an effort to keep our community fully informed of our fiscal operations and our use of the public's resources.

Every effort has been made by the Board of Education and the staff to control expenditures so that all available dollars may be earmarked for the education of children. During the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1983 the school district spent less than the revenues it received. As a result, the district was able to again close the school year with a fund equity.

The Board of Education has been able to continue many of the fine opportunities that have been available to the students in the Livonia Public School District. For the first time in years, the board has been able to lower class sizes in the elementary grades and offer optional sixth hour classes to secondary study 3's. This has been possible because of the history of support the community has given to the Livonia Public Schools and the cooperation of our bargaining units. Even though this report focuses primarily on the fiscal activities of the district, we must never lose sight of the fact that these dollars ultimately translate into educational opportunities for students.

The accompanying fitures cover the full scope of the fiscal operations of the school district for the school year 1982-83. An audit report is available for review by any interested citizen. If you have questions concerning any part of the attached report, or you would care to see a copy of the audit, please feel free to contact the Business Office of the Livonia Public Schools, telephone 422-1200.

Respectfully submitted, GEORGE G. GARVER, Superintendent

Private buses, van pools help ease SEMTA pinch

By Kathy Parrish staff writer

It's standing room only on some buses for commuters displaced by public transit cutbacks.

But Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) hopes to reduce crowding soon through private buses and van pools.

"It's something we're very pleased with - a cooperative venture between the private and public transit to benefit the riders," said Lori Lysett, SEMTA's manager of schedules.

IN COOPERATION with Michigan Trailways and the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) Ride Share Program, SEMTA is working out private bus and van transportation for some riders it no longer serves. To offset a $16 million deficit, SEMTA Oct. 17 eliminated its commuter rail and reduced buses and routes.

Former rail commuters will be offered luxury coach service from the train stations by Michigan Trailways, which will run two buses each way People who depend on small bus service are now finding that they have to call farther ahead for reservations. SEMCOG hás added six or seven MichiVans to its former 65 and expects to form another 10 to 15 in the next month. Most of the new riders rode Park and Ride buses from parking lots in the suburbs.

SEMTA plans schedule "refinements" Nov. 14 to ease the cranch, which resulted in usually full buses carrying 15-20 standees. In rare cases, buses have 30 more people. SEMTA buses average 44 passengers, but they can legally carry 70,

We expect to make another schedule adjustment to even ut the loads," Lysett said.

"We can't change routes or add buses, but we can make some adjustments." AFFECTED MOST by the extensive cutbacks are buses carrying passengers to and from work at peak hours - 7:30-8:30 a.m. and 4-6 p.m.

Almost all commuter runs have been affected, but the most crowded are main routes like Ford in western Wayne, Van Dyke and Woodward, which is commuters' alternative to the

"There are a lot of people standing. We know that," explained the manager of schedules for SEMTA, which now gets 1,600 phone calls a day instead of its previous 1,200.

Prof makes a difference - teaches therapy in Peru

An Oakland University instructor bright Program board and the three has found that one person can make a difference, even when trying to change an entire country's ways.

Jeffrey Kottler, a visiting professor of counseling in the School of Human and Educational Services, is teaching modern psychotherapy to psychiatrists and psychologists in Peru.

While in Peru, Kottler gave lectures to about half of the country's mental health care professionals. The response was "overwhelming," Kottler says. -

The Farmington Hills psychlatrist's goal is to introduce mental health counseling to enable more Peruvians to do counseling.

KOTTLER DID his work from August 1982 to last January under a Fulbright scholarship. His lecture series in Lima was so successful that the Fuluniversities he visited requested that scholarship. Ordinarily, Fulbright scholars are limited to funding only once every five years.

Kottler alms to help Peruvians establish a preventive mental health care system. That would contrast with the present system of providing mental health care only for the rich and for those identified as "sick and psychotle,"

In relation to the U.S., Peru is 15-20 years behind in acceptance of mental health care programs, Kottler esti-

Kottler is a 1972 OU graduate. He did his post-graduate work at Harvard University, the University of Stockholm, Wayne State University and the University of Virginia, from which he received his doctorate. He also is director of Woodcreek Clinic in Farmington

SETTING UP counseling programs means overcoming several barriers. One, Kottler says, is acquainting Peru's psychiatrists and psychologists with the purpose of counseling. Another is convincing Peruvians that talking to a "stranger" is acceptable when solving personal problems.

Peruvians rarely go outside the family for personal guidance. When they do, Kottler says, the family priest is more than likely the first choice.

"In Peru, families serve much the same function as counselors do here," he says. "The family is so strong in Latin cultures. That's why I ran into so much resistance."

THE INTENT of Koltler's trip was to stimulate interest in helping those excluded from mental health care.

-"I was training people to work for the poor," he said. "I trained people in the hospitals and community agencies to work with the Indian populations, the homeless, the poor people. Despite some opposition, Kottler sees a chance to succeed. "There is an opportunity to make a difference," he said, noting the headway he already has made. "I introduced the concept of group therapy to Peru."

DURING HIS second trip to Lima, Kottler will continue his research into therapeutic techniques of Andean witch doctors, lecture about the status of U.S. family counseling programs and be a consultant to hospitals and mental health care centers.

Kottler learned of the Peruvian trip four years ago and was accepted two years later. The commission established the purpose of the trip, but Kottler devised his own lecture topics.

He was the only psychiatrist selected to do the work. Six others went to Peru with Kottler, but their specializations were in other fields.

Water rate case gives suburbs hope

THE SUBURBS have their first court victory in a six-year-long struggle against the city of Detroit's management of the metropolitan water system.

A state Court of Appeals panel held recently that the city had charged an unfair rate of interest to suburban community customers to pay for the water system's physical plant and equipment.

The suburbs have been fighting a long and costly legal battle against the city since 1976 when the 96 communities served by the metropolitan water system banded together to challenge a 39 percent rate increase.

Bob Wisler

WHILE THE COURT decision no doubt will be appealed by Detroit, the Appeals Court victory gives some hope to the suburbs that 1) they will receive financial relief in the form of future rate decreases and 2) they will be able to convince the Legislature that the time has come to change the management system of the

The suburban communities have been powerless to influence the water system's management, or to have more than token representation on the board which oversees the system.

The metropolitan water system has always been a Detroit property. It is understandable that the city would have a water system managed by itself. When the suburbs began springing up around Detroit, the city of Detroit merely extended its water lines to serve the suburbs.

For many years, the system was run by an extremely talented manager who had all the powers of a czar. In fact, Gerald Remus, the system's general manager, in many respects did just about what he wanted in expanding the water system to serve communities from Monroe to Flint.

Few cared about the water system's management. Because water was comparatively cheap, it made sense to have a metropolitan system and Remus convinced everyone that he ran the department well.

THE BOARD, which supposedly oversees the water system is comprised of seven appointees, three of whom are supposed to represent the suburbs. But all are appointed by the Detroit mayor, and all can be removed by the Detroit.

a night for tricks, parades and costume parties.

Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, in fact, fired Livonia Mayor Edward H. McNamara from the board in 1975 because McNamara protested the way the surburbs were being treated. This may have backfired on Young, after all.

It was McNamara who called a meeting of the communities served by the sytem to protest a rate increase. Out of the meeting came the impetus for a continuing organization to fight the water system increases and the law suit which recently resulted in a suburban victory.

The decision by the Court of Appeals gives hope to many suburban leaders that they can go even further and change the complexion of the water board so that it will have real representation by trustees who can not be removed by whim of the Detroit mayor.

There has been some other advances in the surburban cause since the communities first challenged the system. The system, which before had not been audited by an independent agency, now must face a yearly audit. The system must have a public hearing 120 days before any rate increase, unlike the old days when a. rate increase could be invoked without notice.

In light of the court decision, and in view of Mayor Young's continuing problems, the Legislature may be amenable to taking actions to strengthen the suburb's say on the water board.

would push them over, or moved them a few yards from their customary location.

As the young folks grew up, their minds turned away from such tricks and their sights were set on good entertainment.

The fraternities in most towns arranged an annual Halloween parade and asked every marcher to dress for the occasion. This was always a colorful sight. There would be clowns, Indian attire, costumes of every kind and floats with banners.

It has become a children's night, a time for them to go through the neighborhoods begging, with parents a few feet behind and no time for tricks and maybe that's the way it should be.

Most of these adventures now are only memories. There are few parades, fewer costumes, and, thankfully, fewer tricks.

You can't seem to back away and assess the situation with dispassion and rationality. Your emotions take over and you begin to think or say things like:

"Why is he/she so stupid, or lazy, or obstinate or insubordinate, or incompetent?"

Or worse yet, "He/she has a bad attitude" or "they're unmotivated.".

WHILE ON A FEW occasions these descriptions may be appropriate, more often than not there are other, more real, causes for such inadequate performance.

First, are you asking too much? Is your expectation realistic? Can anyone satisfy your expectation, i.e. perform at the expected level? Or is it a goal which only a few can attain?

Is the effort required to achieve the goal of such heroic proportions that successful performance is limited to the few, rather than or gain in accomodating us. (A to the many?

A GOAL to be achievable, must be realistic and attainable.

A goal cannot be based on piein-the-sky assumptions. Otherwise, it demotivates. If it is patently unachievable, few people will even try. Only the hardy, ignorant or perfectionistic types try what seems to be patently unachievable for most people.

Here are several other potential causes for performance failure or inadequacy. We've given them more accurate labels so you won't have to be unscientific in the future. (You can call them by name, rather than calling names. We simply call them performance problems).

WHEN PEOPLE don't behave or perform the way we want or expect, look for the following potential causative factors:

- They don't know what we expect of them. (A potential communication problem).
- They don't know how to perform or behave the way we want them to. (A potential training problem).
- They don't know why we want them to behave or perform the way we want them to. (A potential instruction problem).
- They have no personal interest in behaving or performing the way we want them to. (A potential job replacement problem the square peg in the round
- They are, in fact, perverse and obstinate. (A potential attitude problem).
- They see no personal benefit potential motivation problem). • They don't agree with what

- We vacillate and confuse them. (Inconsistency problem).
- They are lazy, stupid and ungrateful. (A recruitment and selection problem).

These are but a few reasons for inadequate performance. If you give it some thought, you probably can list more.

Local colleges corperate to avoid course duplication

Look for even more cooperation in course offerings between neighboring Oakland Community College and Schoolcraft College in the years ahead.

It's a sign of the times. Colleges are increasingly concerned about avoiding duplication of programs with low enrollments.

"Each teaches the course the other can't offer," explained OCC President Robert F. Roelofs as the OCC board Thursday granted him broad authority to negotiate cross-registration arrangements with neighboring colleges.

A day earlier, the Schoolcraft board studied a similar policy and is expected to adopt it next month.

IT STARTED, Roelofs said, when

OCC last year offered a medical records technology (MRT) program in its Southeast Campus System.

"We didn't have enough students to make it viable, so we discontinued it," Roelofs said.

But what to do with the $0 students who had enrolled in good faith?

Roelofs said OCC approached both Henry Ford Community College and Schoolcraft in Livonia about taking the MRT students. As it turned out, Schoolcraft, which has a popular MRT program, accepted most of them, charging in-district tultion rates.

"It led us to an agreement faster," Roelofs said of the incident. He predicted more such arrangements would be made with Schoolcraft and other colleges by fall of 1984.

Roelofs noted both OCC and Schoolcraft are planning to offer cardiovascleges wouldn't want to duplicate.

THE POLICY change under consideration at Schoolcraft recognizes the need for "regional planning of curricula and services and expand(ed) course and program offerings to the students."

Will we pay to improve schools?

How much are taxpayers willing to pay - in both increased costs and loss of local control — to improve the quality of the nation's secondary schools?

A group of researchers from Michigan State University's College of Education will be studying the issue thanks to a $220,000 grant from the National Institute of Education to conduct a nationwide survey of standards in secondary schools. They will examine in depth efforts by two school districts to raise standards in their high schools.

"We'll be asking a cross sample of the population just what they are willing to pay for higher standards," said Philip Cusick, the principal researcher who is working with fellow researchers Donald Freeman, Diana Pullin, Michael Sedlak and Chris Wheeler on the project.

"We will be aksing them whether they are willing to pay higher teacher's salaries, whether they are supportive of extending the school year and whether, for instance, they are willing to have their own children excluded from the higher tracks in school. "We'll also be asking them whether they are willing to give up local control if it is suggested as a way to improve the quality of sedondary education, because the loss of control is also a cost.'

THERE ARE 30 major studies of secondary schools, including the president's National Commission on Excellence in Education which last spring decried a "rising tide of mediocrity" in the nation's schools and recommended tougher standards for high school graduation.

There are more than 18,500 school districts in the country, Cusick said, while states generally maintain only minimum requirements. In Michigan, for instance, the only statewide high school requirement is a civics course.

The national commission recommended that high schools require four years of English, three years of math, three years of science, three years of social studies and a half year of computer science, along with a requirement that college-bound students take two years of a foreign language.

"But local school districts are never going to all agree to raise their standards to the same levels," Cusick said. "Instead of supporting basic standards, school districts in our country have maintained the standard of providing something for everyone with expandable curricula sometimes offering 300 different courses.

Instead of going ahead with two new buildings, University of Michigan-Dearborn plans to renovate four older

To get the project under way, the university will ask the state of Michigan for $3.9 million in capital outlay expenditures in 1984-85. It received no capital funds last year.

In a separate request to the state Legislature, U-M-Dearborn will also ask for a nearly $2.9 million increase in operating funds. Last year the college received $10.3 million for operations

Both requests were approved Oct. 20 by the U-M Board of Regents in Anni-Arbor.

PRESENTING the request to regents, U-M-Dearborn Chancellor William A Jenkins noted that original plans to develop two new buildings will not be pursued. A classroom-laboratory-office building and an administration building had been planned.

Instead, the chancellor said, "The campus will ask the state to provide funds for renovating four existing campus structures. This alternative approach to campus improvements more realistically complements the financial times in Michigan and the current needs of the campus."

If approved, the capital funds would include $2.8 million to begin an intermediate-range facilities development plan which calls for renovating existing buildings.

Also included will be $341,000 in planning monies for a Plant Services Building and $714,000 for replacing heating and ventilating equipment in existing buildings.

Original plans for new buildings would cost the state about $38.2 million, while the revised plan to renovate current structures is estimated at $8.4 million.

THE $2.8 MILLION request would fund the first step in the renovation project.

Be careful: Don't pay for wrapping

Two supermarket chains in my neck of the woods have admitted to misleading advertising and mislabeling or shortweighting meat.

While I rarely shop at their stores, for other reasons, I believe it's important for you to be aware that the same violations may be occurring at other supermarkets.

I occasionally weigh packaged produce at the two chains I patronize; so far, I haven't been cheated. I plan to drop some meat on produce scales for the heck of it since I learned that supermarkets aren't above making less than honest mistakes.

One chain really got nailed by the

1 turnip, sliced and cut up Pros and cons of convection ovens

Before you purchase a countertop forced air convection oven, look into the pros and cons of making such a purchase.

Forced air convection ovens cook faster than conventional ovens, says Elaine Glasser, Oakland County Extension Home Economist, because a fan moves heated air around the food. As moisture evaporation is speeded up, food surfaces brown so foods look as if than cooking the same foods one or two they were baked or roasted in a conventional oven.

Although cooking time is usually shorter and the convection oven uses less energy than a range oven, you may not actually save energy, Glasser says. It depends on your total cooking load. Cooking a full load in a range oven would probably be more economical at a time in a small countertop oven.

IF YOU'RE considering a countertop convection oven, be sure that you have enough counter space for it, allowing a 6-inch clearance at the back, both sides and top to dispel the heat. If the oven isn't well insulated or doesn't have an air space between its walls to cook the outer surface, you will have to allow even more clearance, Glasser

Some countertop convection models have little or no insulation, so they waste much of the heat they produce and pose a safety hazard to anyone touching them.

Be sure the inside of the oven is large -enough to hold the pans and other containers you intend to use, with at least 1-inch clearance on all sides so that the air can move freely around all surfaces. Also be sure that the instructions in the operating manual are clear and complete and that you understand them before you buy the oven.

SOME CONSUMERS are selecting a combination forced air convection/microwave oven. This version offers quicker cooking from the microwave mode, energy savings when cooking small amounts of foods, fast defrosting and the added option of browning and crisping foods and getting a crust on baked goods, Glasser says.

The option of cooking in either mode or both in combination in one unit offers versatility and saves counter space. The combination is more expensive than either a microwave or portable convection oven alone, however, and is much heavier.

Because the convection cooking heats the inside cavity, food spills and spatters can bake on, so it's important to wipe the interior clean each time.

If you own a conventional range oven that works well, consider continuing to use that for baking and browning certain foods and purchase a straight microwave oven for faster cooking if that is your need.

Feast on sea's fruits

When Californians of Italian heritage returned from fishing in the Pacific Ocean, the elder fishermen and relatives who didn't go out with the boats would help clean the catch. They received no reward for their labors. So. to compensate them for their work, the captain of one of the fishing boats would go from ship to ship with a large pall, asking each fisherman to "chipin" some fish.

In their broken English they shouted "chip-een," which later became know as Cioppino, one of the great fish soups in the world. Often called "a feast of the fruits of the sea" it has as many variations as there are people. CIOPPINO

The bright colors, rich flavors and varied textures of the season's bounty of fresh fruits and vegetables are reflected in brown rice-vegetable side dishes. Brown Rice Guadalajara is a spicy side dish featuring golden sweet corn, vine-ripened tomatoes and green chilles seasoned with onion, garlic and cumin.

This spiced nut loaf will be great anytime

Here's a loaf that is not just for eating at breakfast or at snacktime—it's great anytime. Spice Walnut Buttermilk Loaf is a big, tender loaf, full of flavorful spices and crunchy walnuts. Using a sharp, serrated knife and a sawing motion is the best method to cut a nice big slice of the loaf to wrap up and tuck into bag lunches. It's great with a glass of milk for an afternoon snack. Try a slice topped with a scoop of ice cream for dessert. Served as is, or spread with butter or cream cheese, the bright flavor of the loaf is delightful at breakfast time.

High marks for fresh fruits, veggies

While studies show that we're consuming more food than we did ten years ago, we're also eating more nutritiously. According to a recent Agriculture Department report, Americans are consuming 14 pounds less meat, eggs and dairy products and 34 pounds more vegetables, fruits and cereal

Fruits and vegetables, particularly in their fresh form, receive high marks from nutritionists. In addition to providing an array of vitamins and minerals, fresh produce is one of our richest sources of dietary fiber. One small apple, unpeeled, contains 3.8 grams fiber, while is cup cooked peas contains 5.2 grams. When paired with cereal grains, the nutritional rewards are even higher. Brown rice, for example, contributes protein, B vitamins, iron and fiber to the diet. And its hearty wholegrain flavor and pleasantly chewy texture add new menu appeal to favorite fruits and vegetables.

Take advantage of seasonal buys on fresh produce and plan late summer-early autumn meals around flavorful vegetable-brown rice side dishes. Pick a favorite vegetable, or two, or three, and reach for brown rice.

When thinking of fresh ideas for brown rice-vegetable accompaniments, don't pass up one of summer's favorites - golden sweet corn. Even the most ardent corn-on-the-cob purist will love the sweet flavor and tender crunch of the golden kernels in brown rice Guadalajara. Tomatoes, fresh garlic, onions, green chilles and cumin are used liberally in this Mexican style accompaniment. Their sesty flavors and bright colors will wake up tired taste buds just as sure as the never-fall, nowatch cooking directions will result in perfect, separate grained rice. Serve with grilled chicken or fish for a meal which will receive an A for great nutrition and great taste:

If family tastes dictate a milder menu accompaniment, start with everybody's favorite — peas and carrots — but serve them in an exciting new way. For an interesting combination of textures, pair the crisp carrot strips and sweet peas with nutty, chewy brown rice. Fresh dill and beavy cream stirred in just before serving elevates all three to new culinary heights.

BESIDES the Amelia Earhart Fellowship of $5,000, a medallion and a pair of wings, Janet Kozyra of Livonia got another gift from Zonta International at the service organization's recent fall convention where she was honored for her achievements. She was given a limited edition print of the University of Michigan's Survival Flight Helicopter in flight over the U-M stadium at the moment the cheering section forms a big M using white placards. The helicopter, equipped to provide emergency medical aid, will be part of Schoolcraft College's "Say Yes to the Future" exposition Nov. 4-5. Kozyra is working on her Ph.D. in aeronomy at U-M. A Livonia Franklin High School graduate, she ranks among the very brightest "stars" to emerge from the U-M's atmospheric and oceanic department program in the last 20 years.

RESERVATIONS are being taken for the Livonia Garden Club's fresh green centerpiece workshop to be conducted by Mary Pulick. Open to the public, it will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 6, at St. Andrew Episcopal Church on Hubbard, between Five and Six Mile. Cost is $8; each person attending will take home a completed centerpiece. Registrations can be made with Wini Boni at 591-1247 after 5 p.m.

ALVIN, Simon and Theodore the famous "singing Chipmunks" are coming to Westland Center, 35000 Warren at Wayne roads, Nov. 5-6 for a special appearance, They'll be presenting a new musical show with hit songs from Hollywood's favorite movies and television shows including "The Eye of the Tiger." the theme from "Fame," and the theme from "Arthur." Children of all ages will be able to sing along with the "Chipmunks" at any of the shows scheduled for 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. Saturday, and 12:30, 2:30 and 4 p.m. Sunday.

THE CANDY Lady of Oakland County, Joy Landau, and ber husband Lou, are again making their annual offer to take the Halloween candy glut off the market by channeling it to the residents of Maxey Boys Home. If you have any amount of candy, large or small, just drop it off at 24231 Gardner, Oak Park, between Coolidge and Greenfield. The Landaus will accept it through Thanksgiving. For the past 24 years, the couple have gone through thousands of pounds of sweets, discarding the unsuitables and halfeaten tidbits and sent the rest to the Maxey home where 800 boys over the age of 11 live.

ANOTHER plea for help for children comes from the Children's Leukemia Foundation which is trying to come up with toys to be given away at the foundation's annual Christmas party Dec. 4. Only new toys will be accepted. The selection should be for a child up to 12 years of age. Cash donations earmarked for the Children's Christmas Party also are welcome. Send toys or donations to the Children's Leukemia Foundation, 19022 Ten Mile, Southfield. If necessary, arrangements can be made to pick up toys unable to be mailed or delivered. About 500 new toys are needed.

WEIGHT Watcher events this week include an appearance at Westland Shopping Center Wednesday and Wonderland Shopping Center on Friday. Getting that messsage across was the aim of a recent public awareness campaign at Westland Shopping Center. It is a very serious problem today and has a profound impact on the future of our society.

"Very fregently abused children become abusive parents. It is important to stop the cycle. Hiding the problem will not solve it. So public awareness is important," Kornegger said. Kornegger's agency along with 25. other private and public agencies directed this and other messages recently to the public through displays at the Coordinator of the event was Peg Glatfelter, community organizer at Family and Neighborhood Services of Wayne County:

'Future' born in a classroom

The first "Say Yes to the Future" exposition to be held Friday and Saturday at Schoolcraft College's gym on the main campus in Livonia will give individuals a chance to hold the future in their hands, see the workings of the private and the public sector from now through the mid-21st Century.

Headlined by futurist Alvin Toffler, the program of events includes a lineup of guest lecturers and exhibits, deomonstrations, panel discussions and refreshments.

No one is more pleased with the planning progress than its organizer Schoolcraft counselor Sylvia Vukmirovich. The idea for "Say Yes" is hers.

Vukmirovich, a Schoolcraft counselor since 1967 and a Career Planning and Placement Center counselor since last year, was attending an alternate education class at Wayne State University when the idea of a futures week first came to her a year ago.

TAT FIRST-WE envisioned something on a smaller scale," she said. "As It evolved, It got bigger. At first we were concerned at looking at careers, but then it got tied into doing something big like bringing in a major speaker."

Toffler is that speaker.

He was chosen, according to student activities director Patrick Newman, because of his knowledge of the range. of future's speculation. His popularity as a speaker also made the choice easier. When he was at Schoolcraft in 1976, be apoke to a full house in the main gym, Newman recalled.

Helping Vukmirovich organize the conference is Bill Helse, another long. time counselor at Schoolcraft. He is in charge of the exhibits portion of the two-day event.

We've gotten good cooperation all around. A lot of people are excited Schoolcraft is doing something like this. They're impressed Toffler was here in 1976 and that he's returning to head up our program on the first day.'

Toffler, author of "Future Shock" and more recently "The Third Wave." will talk at 8:15 p.m. Friday. His topic will be 'The Third Wave: Changes for the '80s and Beyond." Prices are $7.50 for reserved seating and $6 for bleach. ers. Friday will also see the opening of more than 35 exhibits that will be set up in the auxiliary gym for free viewing from 3-7:45 p.m. Viewing hours on Saturday will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Saturday's main speakers will be NASA shuttle astronaut Lt. Col. Robert Springer and David E. Smith, president of the Metro Detroit World Future Society. Spring will address. "The Next 25 Years - How will Space Affect You?" The talk is free and will held in the main gym at 1'p.m. Smith's lecture will be "Working Tomorrow - Where Will the Jobs Be?" at 11.a.m. There is no admission charge.

Among the exhibitors will be Computer Horizons of Livonia which will have 10 to 14 computers for demonstrations and hands-on use.

Newcomer has a direct approach to life

Dear Mrs. Green:

I have recently moved to the area and was fascinated by your explicit analysis of handwriting. My handwriting is improving; I am doing less printing. However, I believe very strongly that a lot about a person is revealed in their handwriting.

I am 29 years old right-handed. V.E. Livonia,

GARDEN CITY PUBLIC SCHOOLS ANNUAL REPORT 1982-83

To The Residents of Garden City:

I am pleased to submit to you the report for the Garden City Schools 1982-1983 school year. As you read the side contains that encompasses our programs, it should be evident that we have successfully emerged from our era of downstring. Through our reorganization, we have most effectively used our resources to offer our students the best possible programs. Our live elementary schools continue to combine a sound basic program with the extra curricular activities required to provide these youngsters a sound educational foundation.

The junior high school effers a variety of learning activities that challenge our students and open many new opportunities. Our high school students are receiving an education geared towards the future, as we offer more than 200 courses in academic and vocational areas. The new computer lab housed at the high school has generated student interest, and we plan to expand this academic discipline in the years ahead.

Our commitment to life long experiences has been reaffirmed, as evidenced by our expanded adult and community education program. Thousands of people, from pre-schools through our active seniors, have taken advantage of our diverse programs. Education has received much national attention recently, and with the spotlight on our endeavors, we can take price in the work that we have done in the past year. With a commitment to excellence shared by the schools and our community, we can now build on our solid educational foundation and prepare ourselves for the challenges yet to face us in the years to come.

> Sincerely, Michael D. Wilmot SuperIntendent

SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS June 30, 1983

SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The School District of the City of Garden City follows accounting principles applicable to school districts. The

The School District of the City of Garden City follows accounting principles applicable to school districts, the following is a summary of the significant accounting policies:

FUND ACCOUNTING. The accounts of the District are organized on the basis of funds and account groups, each of which is considered a separate accounting entity. The operations of each fund are accounted for with a separate set of self-balancing accounts that comprise its assets, liabilities, fund equity, revenues and expenditures or expenses, as appropriate. Government resources are allocated to and accounted for in individual funds based upon the purposes for which they are to be spent and the means by which spending activities are controlled. The various funds are grouped, in the combined financial statements in this report, into six generic fund types in two broad fund categories as follows:

GOVERNMENTAL PUNDS - Governmental funds are those funds through which most school district functions typically are financed. The acquitition, use, and balances of the School District's expendable financial resources and the related current liabilities are accounted for through governmental funds. General Fund - The General Fund is used to record the general operations of the School District pertaining to education and those operations not provided for in other funds. Included are all transactions related to the approved current operating budget. Special Revenue Funds - Special Revenue Funds are used to account for the proceeds of specific revenue sources that are restricted to expenditure for specified purposes.

School Service Fund - The School Service Fund is used to segregate, for administrative purposes, the transactions of a particular activity from regular revenue and expenditure accounts. The School District maintains full control of this Fund. The School Service Fund maintained by the School District is the Cafeteria Fund.

Debt Retirement Funds - Debt Retirement Funds are used to record tax and interest revenue and payment of interest, principal, and other expenses on long-term debt.

Building and Site Fund - The Building and Site Fund is used to record bond proceeds or other revenue and the disbursement of montes specifically designated for acquiring new school sites, buildings, equipment, and for major remodeling and repairs. The funds are kept open until the number for which the fund was constant has been accomplished.

purpose for which the fund was created has been accomplished. FINUCIARY FUNDS - Fiduciary funds are used to account for assets held by the School District in a trustee capacity or as an agent. Agency funds are custodial in nature (assets equal liabilities) and do not involve measurement of results of operations. Student Activities (Agency) Fund - The School District presently maintains a Student Activities

Fund to record the transactions of student groups for school and school-related purposes. The funds are segregated and held in trust for the students

Scholarship (Expendable Trust) Fund - The School District presently maintains a Scholarship Fund to account for funds courusted to the District for scholarship awards. ACCOUNT GROUPS - Account groups are not funds : they do not reflect available financial resources and related liabilities or the measurement of results of operations - but are the District's accounting records of the general fixed assets and general long-term debt. The General Fixed Assets Account Group is used to maintain records of the cost of property owned by the School District. The General Long term Debt Account Group is used to record the School District's outstanding bonded debt

BASIS OF ACCOUNTING. Governmental funds and the expendable trust fund utilize the modified accrual basis of accounting. Property taxes and other revenues that are both measurable and available to finance operations are recorded as revenue when earned. Other revenue is recorded as received. Expenditures are recorded in the accounting period in which the fund liability is incurred, if measurable, except for unmatured principal and interest on general long-term debt, which is recorded when due. The financial activity of the Agency Funds is limited to collection of amounts which are subsequently returned or paid to third parties and, accordingly, are limited to cash transactions.

INVESTMENTS - Investments are stated at cost, and consist of $949,228 in commercial paper, $1,100,000 in .

certificates of deposit and $1,450,917 in every day interest savings accounts INVENTORIES - Inventories are stated at cost. Inventory recorded in the General Fund consists of custodial, maintenance, teaching and office supplies, audiovisual supplies and adult education textbooks. Disburse-ments for inventory-type items are recorded as expenditures in the General Fund at the time of delivery from the central warehouse and at the time of use for other funds

DEPERRED BUS COSTS - Bus costs are recorded as a deferred cost in the General Fund and amortized over seven years. Bus costs are partially reimbursed through State aid payments. GENERAL FIXED ASSETS - General fixed assets (excluding busses) are recorded as expenditures in the General or Building and Site Funds in the year payment is made. Such assets are recorded at cost in the General Fixed Assets Account Group. No depreciation has been provided on the general fixed assets.

LONG TERM LIABILITIES: Long term liabilities expected to be financed from governmental funds are accounted for in the General Long-term Debt Account Group, not in the governmental funds ELIMINATIONS - The total data presented in the combined financial statements is the aggregate of the data for all the fund types and account groups shown on each of the respective statements. There have been no

interfund or similar eliminations made in these columns

We promote violence in many ways

Violence is a part of the mood and temper of our age. The Congress of the United States has yet to pass an effective gun control law. There are firearms in over 60 million American homes, allegedly for self-de-

Violence is a major industry, since billlons of dollars of America's national resources are allocated to provide for the proudction and maintenance of those tools of violence required for national defense.

We are complacent about the violence portrayed by mass media and its impact on our lives and the lives of our children. No generation growing up in any other era has had to face such a deluge of violence as modern American youth. Many youngsters play with toy guns before they can read.

In "action comics," television, and movies, children learn how men are killed before they can talk. The mass media blur the distinction between reality and fantasy, between right and wrong.

ON TELEVISION, minutes are expensive and men are cheap, so killing is a frequent occurence. Movies have become explicitly more violent, displaying a pornography of violence which conveys every twitch, shrick and contortion of the victim. This disregard for human life cannot but affect the attitudes, the fantasies and, perhaps, the behavior of mass audiences.

What is violence? It has been defined as the destructive physical action against another person. But there is another form which is figurative, or symbolic. It reveals ltself in statements like "I'll break yourneck," "I'll punch you in the nose," "I could kill you."

From a moral perspective, violence is not only a matter of murder or grand larceny. It begins with and consists of the petty crime, the small insult, the thousand little assaults that we perpetrate every day against a neighbor's sensitivity, a friend's ego, an employee's peace of mind, a parent's dignity, a child's self-respect, a colleague's self-worth.

Every time we sneer at a human being, we spill a drop of his blood. Every time we utter a cutting or unkind remark, we kill the victim a little bit. Whenever we humiliate another person, we do violence to his

THE POOR and deprived are victims of another kind of violence that is subtle, and hidden, but not less powerful and destructive. Consider the violence to the human spirit that is the daily portion of those who live in urban slums with their sub-standing housing, and filth, and inadequate educa-tlon. Lack of opportunity, elimination of hope, growth of despair and the diminution of life are the products of this form of covert, but no less real attack upon the lives of the poor, the victims of society's indifference.

We cannot expect a secure and safe world if we teach violence in formal and

Radeback goal pushes Bentley into semifinals

By Brad Emons staff writer

Livonia Bentley got to wear the glass slipper Saturday, stopping Plymouth Canton's cinderella state soccer run with a hard-fought, 1-0 victory in the boys' regional final.

The Bulldogs (11-4-4) travel Wednesday to meet Troy Athens-Warren De-LaSalle winner in the Class A semifinals. Canton, one of the tournament surprises after upsetting Catholic League champ Harper Woods Notre Dame last week, bowed out with a 10-7

This means a lot to hold this in my hand," said Bentley first-year coach Tom Caranicolas, clutching the regional trophy. "I'm very excited and proud.

"When we started the season we had three goals — to win this game, to get to the next game (the semifinals) and to win the state playoff.

Gelmisi's hat trick propels Spartans 3-2

By Paul King special writer

John Gelmisi's goal with 30 seconds remaining capped a dramatic comeback Saturday as Livonia Stevenson won its own Class A regional boys' soccer title with a 3-2 victory over Northville.

The Spartans (18-2-1), defending state champs, advance to Wednesday's semifinal match against the Portage Central-Traverse City winner. Game time is 7 p.m. at Stevenson.

Northville (15-4-2), which banded Stevenson one of its two losses earlier in the season, led 2-0 at halftime on goals by Steve Starcevich and Joe Mac-

Northville goalie Jest Meiz.

"At the half we were down two and we had to gamble," said Stevenson coach Pete Scerri. "I moved (Chris) Banyai in place of Divens, and put Divens on the right wing. We wanted to get the ball to the wings."

Northville coach Mary Gans said: "We let the lead slip away. Two goals weren't enough to beat Stevenson."

The Spartans may have to play Wednesday without Banyai, one of the team's top defenders. He injured his right ankle late in the game and had to be removed.

"It looks like he's out," Scerri said. "If he can play, he will, because there's "CANTON was very tough in the midfield during the first half," said Caranicolas. "In the second half we made some adjustments and wanted to get the ball to the wings. We put Jim (Radeback) there and switched Dennis

Patchett to center-forward. "We took their midfield apart and sneaked a goal in."

Bentley's aggressive defense was spearhead by the team's quiet man, sweeper back Kevin Tuite, along with senior Abe Yaffai.

"Revin is one of the best in the league," said Caranicolas: "When he plays to his capacity, we have a shutout. He's very dedicated."

The victory also had a special meaning to Yaffal.

Canton missed two golden scoring opportunities late in the game. Tom-Wright drilled a wicked shot near the crossbar and Steve Morrell shot wide on an empty net.

"I FELT we could have made it here all along," said Canton coach Tony Lonigro. "I thought we were strong from the beginning of the year. It's that we just lost some tight games, except when we got beat 5-2 by Stevenson. "I know deep down inside we could have beaten Bentley." The Chiefs upset Notre Dame 3-0 on Wednesday as goalie Dave Hawkins was superb in the nets, making 16 saves for his first shutout of the year.

Morell scored the first goal on a header from Wright, while Brad Neville followed shortly after with another first half score from Scott Swisher.

Wright then put the game out of reach with his 21st goal of the season from Brian Whiteley. It was Canton's biggest soccer win

Cook says there is still a lot at stake next week despite the team's failing to make the playoffs.

"No Borgess teain has ever won seven games in a season," he said. "That's

Ocelots focus on Region playoffs

By C.J. Risek staff writer

As it turns out, last Saturday's game at Cuyahoga (Ohlo) Metro Community College meant nothing more than to serve as a tune-up for Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team.

That's because the Ocelots won the National Junfor College Athletic Association (NJCAA) 12th region title "without playing", according to coach Larry Christoff.

Schoolcraft captured the championship when Macomb Community College whipped Lakeland (Ohio) Community College, 4-1, last week

"In essence, that clinches it for us," Christoff said. Schoolcraft boasted a 6-1 regional record going into Saturday's Cuyahoga game. Macomb was next (4-2-1), followed by Lakeland (4-3), Cuyahoga (2-4-1) and Delta College (1-6).

The regional title - the 12th region includes junfor colleges from Michigan's lower peninsula, Indiana and Ohio - qualifles the Ocelots for the NJCAA Inter-Regional Tournament at Triton College in Chicago.

SCHOOLCRAFT WILL battle winners of the fourth (upper Illinois), 15th (Minnesota, South Dakoth North Dakota, Wisconsin and upper Michigan) and 24th (lower Illinois) regionals.

soccer

That four-team competition is slated for Nov. 13-14. The Inter-Regional winner advances to the NJCAA quarterfinals. The eight-team NJCAA tournament will be Thanksgiving weekend in Trenton,

"I'm optimistic," Christoff said. "I think we can do well. If we can get out of (the Inter-Regionals) we should do well in the nationals.

"But it all has to do with luck, without question. Sometimes the ball will take an extra bounce or hit the crossbar, and you can end up on the short end."

At Triton the ball may take faster bounces than the Ocelots are used to. The Triton field is Astroturi, a surface Schoolcraft is inexperienced in play-

"It takes a little getting used to," Christoff said. "It's a different type of ball control. We'll probably have to change our tatics somewhat. "But the faster ball should favor us."

THAT'S BECAUSE Schoolcraft plays a pressure, size passing as much as shooting, and with the ball taking fast skips off the slick surface, scoring should be high.

The team has been working out at a Farmington indoor arena equipped with Astroturf to get familiarized with it.

Schoolcraft will be depending on its two top scorers during the season, Northville graduate Doug Marshall (13 goals) and Redford Temple Christian alumnus Manny Murua (nine goals), to keep up the pace.

But defense may be of greater importance. Although Christoff's strategy is to constantly pressure on offense, the defense has sparkled, allowing just three goals in seven regional games.

Andy Bunting, from Farmington, was strong in goal but he had lots of help from fullbacks Rick Alluni (Livonia Churchill) and Greg Veit (Plymouth), sweeperback Wes Karczynski (Livonia Stevenson) and midfielder Jim King (Livonia Frank-

"The best soccer will probably be played at this level," Christoff estimated. "Even though the nationals are important, there's a feeling of accomplishment getting that far."

Schoolcraft's best previous finishes in NJCAA tournament play were seventh in 1980 and eighth in

Churchill flying high; Glenn zaps Parkers

Churchill came down to earth and landed right on Bentley.

The Chargers, who pulled the state's biggest football upset last week against No. 1 ranked Farmington Harrison, continued its winning ways by defeating the Bulldogs Friday night in the first encounter ever between the two Livonia schools, 20-

Quarterback John Stoltsladis, who engineered last week's miracle, teamed up with Bob Foust to put away the Bulldogs.

Churchill (3-5) scored all of its points in the first half, the first coming on a 69-yard Stolisladis option run in the first quarter.

In the second quarter, Foust ripped off a 55-yard run and followed with a one-yard TD plunge. Steve Bond added the extra point to make it 13-0.

Shades of Harrison, Stolisladis set up Churchill's final score later in the quarter with an interception return to the Bentley 31. The Churchill QB thep tossed an 11-yard TD strike to Erwin Anderson-Smith and Bond's extra point increased the Churchill lead to 20-0 at halftime. Bentley, which had a long TD called back just before the first balf because of a penalty, controlled play in the third quarter, but was unable to score until two minutes remaining. Al Young, Bentley's top rusher on the night; scored on a one-yard run to avert the shutout.

Statistically, Stoltsiadis carried seven times for 107 yards and added 53 in the air. Foust, a senior co-captain, carried 14 times for 120 yards. Bentley, now 2-6 overall, was led Senior fullback Craig Thornton scored both Glenn TDs on runs of five and two yards. He was the leading ball carrier (8 for 47) and also added two interceptions. (Doug Corbell and Jelf Melaner also intercepted passes). The second TD, coming in the third quarter, was set up when senior nose guard Tom Forchione blocked a punt and recovered it at the Highland Park two-yard line. Quarterback Jell Hawley hit live of 10 passes for 63 yards, setting the school pass completion record and coming within five of the total yardage mark.

Glenn held the edge in total yardage, 182-170.

Tammy Narramore of Garden City shared game-high honors with McCullen, tallying 13 points.

'The Right Stuff' packs too much into 3 hours

Snider

Dan Greenberg, guest critic for this week's movie review, is a film instructor at the Orchard Ridge Campus of Oakland Community College in Farmington Hills.

Although many are raving about "The Right Stuff," It is difficult to understand why. The film does have a lot of stuff, good, bad and mediocre. But too much stuff is crammed into this three-hour saga of the Mercury astronauts.

Their trials and tribulations, at home and in the air, are intermixed with national and international politics and the business of space flight. The super heroics of test pilot Chuck Yeager (Sam Shepard) frost the cake.

Although not qualified as an astronaut, near the film's end he mystically gains great moral stature, surviving a jet crash while the seven Mercury astronauts receive world-class acclamation in Houston under Lyndon Johnson's political patronage and Sally Rand's feathered fan dance.

If that all sounds a bit much, it is, even for a three-hour epic.

"THE RIGHT STUFF" opens with a 40-minute, softly photographed, nicely nostalgic sequence of jet test-piloting in the late 40s. Air Force Test Pilot Yeager rides the X-1 through the sound barrier (Mach 1) with broken ribs.

In case you wonder how he broke his ribs, there's a nifty sequence as he picks up his wife Glennis (Barbara Hersbey) in Pancho's Happy Bottom Riding Club (the local flyboy's bar) and crashes through the desert underbrush on horseback.

Of course, his sexual expectations are thwarted in a riding accident. But the great, gum-chewing hero flies Mach 1, broken ribs and all. It may be historical, but on a wide screen it is pure hokum.

The soft, muted reds and yellow of the opening segment beautifully convey reverence for Yeager and other pioneers. Silhouetted mourners at graveside services for test pilots and a lovely shot of Mrs. Scott Carpenter (Susan Kase), despondently clutching a pillow as she sinks to a desolate bed, sum up the loneliness and fear of women whose men fly.

However evocative such scenes, writer/director Phillp Kaufman fails to restrain his extensive material. Selecting and training astronauts was a long process. Ultimately, Shepherd, Grissom and Glenn rocket to glory. Theirs was a long journey. Director Kaufman makes ours too long - three hours and counting.

ONE CAN ONLY watch so many faces in space helmets filling the screen at acute angles, so many rockets exploding, so many let fighters and rockets whizzing by - and clouds, lots of clouds. A good jet whoosh is fine once in a while, but this was just plain tiresome.

The overly broad satire, particularly of Lyndon Johnson and the press also evidences immature direction. Johnson's portrait as the godfather of the Houston space industry is plain silly. President Johnson may have been a politician in the worst sense of the word, but he was neither a fool nor a childish buffoon.

Nor can one believe that all reporters are howling jackals ready to kill for a story. The exception, of course, being Eric Sevareld, sitting woodenly at an outdoor table commenting with total disinterest as rockets are launched.

The film's historical figures include Presidents Eisenhower and Kennedy, the former portrayed by an actor, the latter in newsreel footage. John Glenn (Ed Harris) is a truly heroic figure. It will be interesting to see if this film provides the right stuff for Senator Glenn's presidential campaign.

The musical score is excellent, whether in booming emphasis of astronautical triumph or in setting the historical scene with hit tunes of yesteryear. The "Hallelujah Chorus," however, is the. wrong note for the astronauts' introductory press conference.

DIRECTOR KAUFMAN believes, "Ultimately, the film is a paean to American heroism, but it pokes fun at American institutions." Those objectives are difficult to achieve. Trying to adore heroes is neat. Poking fun, however, should be funny, not silly.

"The Right Stuff" is adolescent satire, leavened only by the exuberance JFK's Camelot brought to America. The film's beautiful photographic sequences and the Mercury astronauts' tremendous accomplishments are poorly served.

Sam Shepard is Chuck Yeager and Barbara Hershey is his wife Glennis, who celebrate his achievement as first man to break the space barrier.
