Visiting judge aids case load

The case load at the 18th District Court has been eased somewhat with the hiring of a visiting judge, accordingto court representatives.

Judge Ben Stanczyk, who formerly served on the Common Pleas Court, has been hearing cases in the Westland court for the past month. The retired judge usually serves Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Perjury plea nets 6-month sentence

Former Westland resident Louis Perry has been sentenced to six months in prison for lying to a grand jury.

U.S. District Court Judge Horace Gilmore sentenced Perry last week after Perry pleaded guilty to the charge. Perry, 42, is scheduled to begin serving the sentence Jan. 4.

The former Westland resident is the fifth man sentenced on charges that resulted from an FBI investigation. The others are 18th District Judge Evan Callanan Sr.; attorney Evan Callanan Jr., the judge's son; Dearborn Heights businessman Sam Qaoud and former 18th District Court officer Donald Black.

wasn't a gas shortage when about 50 Livonja Public Schools buses lined up at one time to refuel. It was a case of too few pumps and "an experiment that didn't work," according to Robert (Mike) Wagner, the schools' transportation supervisor. Wagner said the policy has been that bus drivers gas up their buses when needed. However, he said, some drivers put off refueling until morning, which means some buses occasionally run late. The one-day experiment involved having the drivers fuel their buses at the end of the day so all the buses would be ready in the morn-and insisted that Garden City repair others that broke later.

A WATER MAIN provided by Westland now exists on that city's side of Warren, between Middle Belt and Inkster. Residents can now connect to that main but are balking, according to Lundquist, because of the cost of putpayment involved.

"Some people took it as a threat," he said. "When digging started on the Garden City side, there was a broken line to one house. We repaired it, even though we don't get one dime from it."

Several homeowners who qualified for low-cost federal loans opted to connect to Westland water and sewer service. Federal community development ting in a meter, register and the debt block grant funds were used to run a sewer line behind the bomes.

> For residents and homeowners on Warren, between Merriman and Venoy, there is no Westland water main to book up with.

In his letter to nine Westland customers in that area, Preston said that "a lowering of the road grade could cause the water services crossing Warren to be in the freeze line of the pavement sub-grade."

"Because Westland does not have a water main available to service these accounts, it is my recommendation that for your future protection, now would be an opportune time for the property owners on Warren to request that Westland provide a water main and service your property," he said in his letter.

EVEN IF A water line was put in there, Lundquist said, there is no guarantee that people would connect to it. He added that running a water main along that section would be very expen-

"We're very concerned because we don't want people to be without water service. In our water and sewer division, we make sure there are no problems to Westland residents.

"Unfortunately, Garden City keeps stirring this up."

All homeowners, including those served by Westland, are responsible for the "leads" that run from water mains to their houses. Since the water main along Warren is on the Garden City side of the street, the leads there are unusually long, Lundquist said.

Preston earlier had insisted that the road grade was lowered, making water line freeze-ups a possibility.

Lundquist said that, to prevent freezing in the area from Merriman to Venoy, paving plans are being studied to make sure the lines will be deep

Hunger pangs:

Area organizations help with food for those in need

By Dan Vecchioni staff writer

The last unemployment check has long since been spent, the small cash reserve has dwindled down to nothing. and the baby is crying because it's hungry. What do you do?

Many churches and organizations scattered around western Wayne County have programs to respond to family or individual crises with emergency food or meals.

"I can't think of any individual who'd have a need that there isn't a group to satisfy that need," said Joan Duggan, director of community resources for the city of Livonia. "The key is finding out which group."

For Livonia residents, "the easiest way is to contact our office" at Livonia City Hall (421-2000), Duggan said. "We can sort out their needs. There are all kinds of different programs — some Army (453-5464).

you have to qualify for by income or age. We can refer them to agencies that can assist and help them qualify."

For other western Wayne County residents, emergency food sources ranging from federally funded programs to churches relying on contributions from parishioners may be contacted directly.

THE FOLLOWING is a list of many of the programs that provide free food and meals in the area:

• The commodity distribution program. Surplus food - such as cheese, powdered milk and rice - is provided by the federal government to local agencies for monthly distribution to people who meet income guidelines. Information on the program may be obtained by contacting city hall in your community or, for residents of Canton and Plymouth, the Plymouth Salvation

Pride forgotten as many struggle to make ends meet

staff writer

Behind your neighbor's closed doors could be a family privately struggling to make ends meet.

"You have to learn how to survive and roll with what happens," said a Livonia father of eight who asked to remain anonymous. "If you can't do that you'll be defeated. "A regular menu of hot dogs and soup inexpensively keeps food on the table. "My kids help a lot, because they don't demand things that other kids have, and they understand when they don't get birthday gifts," he said. "We're not used to living like this, and begging for food by answering a lot of questions (for assistance programs). You have to forget about pride: "You have to make sure there is gas in the car, especially during the winter, and sometimes you have to count pennies to get a gallon of gas," said the 36-year-old unemployed man. Many find it embarrassing to think their friends and relatives will discover they are receiving some form of assistance. Parents are especially reluctant to talk about their problems, afraid that their children will be chastised by their friends.

"THIS IS a downstep, and you know children. They'll be saying, 'Oh, your dad's on food stamps,' " said a Livonia father of three, who also asked not to be identified.

This shield of pride was the pattern in Redford Township, Garden City, Plymouth, Canton and Westland. Local officials reported hundreds of families that were receiving some type of federal or state assistance.

The federal government surplus food program draws 500 Livonia familles, about 600 Garden City residents and 1,500 Westland people. In Redford some 600.700 persons have received food. In the Plymouth and Canton area, where the Salvation Army administers the federal food giveaway programs, officials estimate at least 575 families have received food products.

Most of these financially strapped people are relunctant to broadcast their troubles.

"What we are seeing in the people that we help is that it's the first time for them, and they are looking at this as a temporary displacement," said Joan Duggan, Livonia director of Communlty Resources.

"They don't want to be tagged as needy," she said. "There isn't a pattern of let's look for the poor in the suburbs."

Despite a series of bad blows, the father of three is optimistic about the future. He plans to work on a computer degree to become more marketable.

THE MAN'S troubles began in December 1981 when the small auto parts manufacturing company, where he worked as treasurer, went out of business. Even though he has tapped friends and organizations to find work, he has come up dry.

Out of a survival instinct, he headed to state and federal assistance bureaus. He received extended unemployment checks, food stamps and other ald. He hedges on blaming his circumstances on cerebal palsy that limits his manual dexterity. But, he admits it gives him a couple of strikes that other people do not have.

As the months went by and the unemployment checks ran out he applied for food stamps with the Department of Social Services. He said it was a terribly degrading situation, but it was

"It cuts you down to have to go and apply for it," he said. "They make you feel lower than what you already felt before going to them. Times have been tough, but he cuts corners by eliminating

One unemployed person finds humor in grocery shopping

By Jo-Anne Mason special writer

Last Thursday white I was in the bathroom practicing my voice disguises in case a creditor called, it occurred to me that there are probably a lot of people in unemployment land who would like to share the unforgettable experience.

Probably? The lines I've waited in for the last several months could populate Siberia and the Ford plant's parking lot. But every unemployment check has a silver edge. For instance, my kitchen and hallway are no longer cluttered with empty pop and beer bottles. I used them to pay last month's rent.

As a matter of fact, I've started taking up collections of discarded bottles to feed a resident cat. We all know the unemployment check doesn't cover luxuries such as food; and contrary to feline belief, Nine Lives doesn't grow on the back fence. So whenever I shuffle into my corner grocer's with a leaky paper bag, he smiles knowingly and gets a can of Savory Stew. (Heaven forbid I should force the poor animal to eat any.

Anyway, I keep accretly hoping the old guy will start believing the stuff is for me and offer me a job. Every connection to the working world is a potential application form.

SHOPPING for groceries while not working can be an opportunity to be creative. There's a special craft to taking things from the marked-down-for-quick-sale-basket without being observed. Those of you with kids can send them, but we single folks are on our own. I was attempting to allp one into my cart the other day when a neighbor of mine came up behind me and spoke. I held up the damaged soup can with two fingers, made a face and dropped it back on the rack.

Ford backs bill to aid school districts

Rep. William D. Ford, D-Taylor, again has endorsed the American Defense Education Act (ADEA), which would provide $2 billion to local school districts in the first year and double that amount in the second year.

Gifts are rolling in to S'Craft

By Tim Richard staff writer

In an era of tax revolts and tight state aid, Schoolcraft College is seeking all the private and federal money it. can find - and beginning to find it.

President Richard McDowell told trustees the Schoolcraft College Foundation has raised its fund goal to $40,000 from last year's $25,000.

"We're pleased with the early results," said McDowell, reporting that $8,400 has been received from 170 gifts. Foundation funds are used for student ald and for equipment which the college couldn't otherwise afford.

McDowell reported college administrators are seeking $2,000 from the state in order to revamp the computer program, serving more students and upgrading the quality of the program.

Last month McDowell announced recelot of $167,000 in federal job training funds and a specific $34,000 grant to train Ford Motor Co. employees.

THE BOARD voted to accept its biggest list of gifts in years - nearly $18,500 in cash and materials.

Largest was a 1982 Buick Century worth $12,000 which General Motors donated to the college's automotive department. Transportation from Flint, worth $250, was arranged by Bulck dealer Tom Armstrong through Anchor Motor Freight Inc. of Birmingham, Next were eight 1982 transmissions, which Ford Motor Co.'s Livonia transmission plant donated to the automotive service program.

Plymouth Wayne Welding Co. of Garden City donated nearly $1,700 in wire and electrode materials to the welding program, Industrial Metal Fabricators Co. of Detroit donated 8,500 pounds of scrap metal worth an estimated $850 to the welding program. Metropolitan Alloys Corp., also of Detroit, donated 300 pounds of aluminum alloy worth $270 to the foundry course.

Johanna Wirbel of Ann Arbor gave a 1978 Volvo station wagon worth $600 to the automotive program.

Other gifts and donors were: two sets of new soccer goal, nets worth $180, Little Caesar's Western Suburban Soccer League, Farmington, and $50 cash from Business and Professional Women's Club of Plymouth.

"I can't believe they expect anyone to pay for that," I sniffed. As soon as she had gone down the cereal aisle, I sneaked back around and slipped it under some week-old romaine lettuce. What I wonder is, how many of those items have been systematically damaged by hungry unemployed folk? Unemployment is the mother of resourcefulness.

Another blessing to us non-working people are the great Unbranded Foods. It's a lonely alse, because no one wants to be seen there, but it's worth the trip! I've spent many a noncommittal hour sauntering up and down between those black and whites, comparing prices and replacing the branded items I had acquired along the way. (I apologize to the little old lady who tripped over the Green Giant Niblets I put on the floor the other day, but the no-brand corn was 30-percent cheaper!) Now if I could just find some generic savory stew.

I have to admit, not having a payroll check weekly has been an educational experience and I've learned a great deal about economizing and budgeting. Let's share some ideas and experiences about unemployment. See you in the lines a week from Tuesday. I'll be in the one in line nine reading last week's newspaper.

Your dollars help purchase fire prevention

The Westland public fire education division has received a warm response from businesses and civic organizations concerning funding to provide teaching aids for community schools.

A number of businesses and fraternal groups have donated to the cause, according to Joseph Benyo, chief of public fire education. He said the targest contributor to date has been the Bank of the Commonwealth at Ford and Newburgh, which donated $100 to purchase three sets of "Learn Not to Barn" fire safety curriculum books.

Others who have contributed include Tronic-Ware Co., Inc., the Cherry Hill Chiropractic Clinic and the Westland Firefighters Association.

"We commend the effort of all concerned about the safety of the citizens of Westland, and in particular the news media for their help in reaching both the public and businesses by solid and extremely important fire safety education stories," Benyo said.

Bank of the Commonwealth Manager Darlene Peacht recently presented the books to three school articipals: Timothy Baxter, of Hamilton School; Frank Lasota, of Edison School and Dr. Jim Jenn-legs, of P.D. Graham.

COMES 25,000 classrooms nationwide currently to the "Learn Not to Burn" books, according to have. The books are printed in three levels of infection, from the kindergarten to the eighth grade level. The book for each level contains lesson plans, infections, fire safety background, information, which instruments and a reference to supplementy materials.

Legislaturecompromises on state welfare spending

By Tim Richard staff writer.

The Michigan Legislature settled a months-long argument about what to do with $43 million in the state welfare budget with "a true compromise." "No one was completely happy," said state Sen. R. Robert Geake, R. Northville.

The compromise gave Republicans half a loaf - "workfare." House Democrats got the other half a loaf — an increase in home heating aid to welfare recipients.

Only loser was Agnes Mary Mansour, director of the Department of Social Services. She had sought the $43 million for higher welfare benefits. Her boss, Gov. James J. Blanchard, agreed to the compro-

THE COMPROMISE came when the Senate gave 25-9 approval to Senate Bill 448.

All Observer & Eccentric area senators supported it: Republicans Geake, Doug Cruce of Troy and Richard Fessler of Union Lake; and Democrats William Faust of Westland, Jack Faxon of Southfield, Philip O. Mastin of Pontiac and Patrick McCollough of D'arborn.

A conservative Democrat who opposed it was Gilbert DiNello of East Detroit. He argued that the "compromise" actually was tipped 60-40 in favor of liberals who wanted more money for home heating.

While the $43 million of state money was split $20 million-plus for "workfare" and $22 million-plus for home heating, DiNello said, the use of federal funds changed the outcome. The federal government will provide only $5 million for "workfare" but a hefty $15.5 million for home heating.

Adding federal and state funds gave $25 million to "workfare" and $38 million to heating aid.

"I see this bill as a very poor compromise or one heavily weighted in favor of those who want increased state spending," DiNello protested.

BUT GEAKE said he had spent the summer working out the compromise in a blpartisan ad hoc committee that included Senate Minority Leader Harry Gast of St. Joseph, Appropriations Chairman James De-Sana, D-Wyandotte, and Lana Pollack. D-Ann Arbor.

Geake and Gast were co-authors of the "workfare" idea. "It gives them (welfare recipients) the alternatives of going to school or community service work," he

"Some critics said the utilities were the chief winners, and to a certain extent that's true." said Geake. "But I still supported it because of the workfare component."

Cruce said the final bill gives $13 million to a "Michigan Community Service Corps,"

$6 million to job training programs and $1 million in incentives to private employers to hire welfare recipients.

Geake said the plan covers "employable, able-bodied recipients of Aid to Families with Dependent Children and General Assistance." Those who refused work or training would lose three months benefits.

Excluded would be children, single parents with young children, persons over 55, the disabled and those caring for a disabled relative.

McCOLLOUGH, meanwhile, was elated at the 34-0 passage of his SB 456, a companion measure which permits General Assistance funds to be paid directly to employers of welfare recipients.

"The state is telling employers in Michigan that the money we pay welfare recipients we will now give to the employer if he or she will hire the recipient and provide work and on-the-lob training for at least slx months," said McCollough.

He added the bill prevents employers from laying off regular employees to hire welfare clients. "We do not want to remove those presently working from their jobs, but rather try to help employers create additional positions for those otherwise on wellare."

He called the companion measures "the legislature's first, solid attempt to end sitat-home, dead-end welfare programs."

Industry, charity make us thankful during rebound

UR OPTIMISM as Thanksgiving 1983 approaches is a good deal more soundly based than in 1982. That is particularly so in the area of economics. Auto sales are rebounding healthily. People who haven't drawn a paycheck in two years are being recalled to work.

In southeast Michigan, we are beginning to realize we have a burgeoning hightechnology belt from Troy to Ann Arbor. These firms may not be producing jobs in the thousands, but they are hiring by the dozens, and there are a lot of them.

In recent years, we had forgotten that Michigan is a midwestern state and heavily agricultural. That asset is becoming more apparent as we realize the potential we have to become a food processing

When TV's good, it's very good

IT'S FASHIONABLE to criticize television. About 20 years ago, a former Federal Communications Commission chairman called it "a vast wasteland." In the years since, it hasn't improved much.

But when television is good, it is very good. It can be a source of inspiration and even change in our society.

When one thinks of television at its best. two recent programs come to mind: PBS's' "The Chemical People" and ABC's "The Day After,"

THE PROGRAM which generated the most publicity was ABC's Sunday night showing of "The Day After." The movfe* depicted the devestation which took place when nuclear bombs were dropped near Kansas City. It is estimated that 75 million persons viewed "The Day After."

Throughout this suburban area, churches and schools are holding conferences and seminars this week to discuss nuclear warfare. Christ Church Cranbrook's "The Day Before - Detroit" held on Monday night was only one of many sessions scheduled this week.

 Larson Middle School in Troy last week conducted a series of seminars called "Nuclear Awareness Week."

During one portion, Mary Carry of West Bloomfield presented a slide show called "The Last Slide Show," the history of human warfare and weapon development.

Before the show, she dropped a small pellet into a trash can. It made a ping.

Nick

"Pretend that's all the bombs in World War II - all the bombs dropped on Germany, all the bombs dropped in Japan, even the two atom bombs.

"Now this is the sound of all the nuclear bombs in the world today," she said. Shepoured 6,000 pellets into the can. The sound was deafening. The Troy students gasped and then sat in shocked silence.

NO LESS IMPORTANT was the suburban discussion started by the airing of "The Chemical People."

Typical of those held in several communities was a town hall meeting conducted Nov. 9 at John Glenn High School in Westland, Parents from Westland and Canton Township attended the session, one of 80 held in the metropolitan area. It is part of a nationwide campaign to draw attention to the continuing problem of drug abuse.

In Westland a panel of educators, drug counselors and law enforcement officials discussed drug abuse with parents.

sgt. Larry Squires, a narcotics expert with the Westland police department, said, "In the late '60s I remember a time persons. In the case of "The Chemical People," it has created at least one local task-force on drug abuse. Henry Booth of Bloomfield Hills best described the impact of "The Day After" — and perhaps of television.

"The important thing to remember . . . is that we haven't the slightest idea of what the answer to the nuclear arms race is. We're all groping in this thing, and maybe by bouncing ideas around we can come up with something which hasn't been tried before."

When it's good, television can help us in "bouncing ideas around" about the most difficult questions facing our society.

Prayer, rain started modern thanksgiving

WHO STARTED the celebration of Thanksgiving Day?

No one is quite sure, but it is generally accepted that the American custom started with the Pilgrims when they gathered on the fourth Thursday in November 1621 to celebrate their survival on the strange shores of a new country.

But there is a question whether that was the first "official" celebration. Walking through the yellow pages of history the other evening, The Stroller came upon two very fascinating chapters that left the matter in doubt.

IN A LETTER dated Dec. 11, 1621, Pilgrim Edward Winslow told a friend in England about a Thanksgiving celebra-

It is the only eye-witness account of an early Thanksgiving, and most Americans believe it was the first celebrated by a band of hardy Pilgrims grateful they had survived a hard year in the new world.

In his letter, Winslow wrote, "Our harvest gotten in, our governor sent four men on fouling that we might have special manner of rejoicing together after we had gathered the fruits of our labors."

He further wrote that the celebration lasted about a week during which time the Indians joined, along with Chief Massa-

WHETHER THAT was the first Thanksgiving is disputed by a Dr. Richard Hale Jr., who suggests the Pilgrims' Thanksgiving in 1673 may have been the first "official" observance.

He bases his claim on the fact that it was the first religious service to mark the day and was officially called by the gov-the observance. He states that the Pilgrims operated under a system in which all shared equally.

It was this system that left some of the Pilgrims with no inducement to extra effort, and the crop suffered:

Because the crop was poor, the Pilgrims took two drastic actions.

First, they calculated how much corn would make a daily ration until the provision ship came from England. Then they came to the unpleasant realization that a Pilgrim would have to live on five kernels of corn a day.

Having made that calculation, they devoted the rest of the day to prayer. ...

AT THE END of the day, a gentle shower caused the corn stalks that had been laying flat to rise again. This greatly impressed the Indians with the power of the white man's God.

That now is tooked upon as the official start of our Thanksgiving Day celebration - a combination of a religious celebration and a meal of thanksgiving:

This fascinating chapter could well be repeated when you sit down this year to feast on the turkey and imagine what it would be like if all there was to the meal were five kernels of corn.

The reading of that chapter at the start of the meal would give real meaning to our modern holiday and prove that we moderns have every good reason to be

Let's deal only with the state budget question. Some odd things are going on, whether you are "pro-life" or "pro-choice," as the euphemisms go.

Last week the Right to Life folks held a news conference in the State Capitol Building in which they denounced Medicaid abortions as "black genocide, since most of the babies (67 percent) killed by doctors. . . are black babies," according to Rev. Harvey D. Anderson of Flint.

Anderson likened the practice to Naziism and accused unnamed officials of "intentionally trying to foster an attitude of insensitivity to others."

The press corps asked him to name names and groups. Anderson couldn't, thereby making himself-look foolish. Columnists who deal only in personalities made mincemeat of him.

NEVERTHELESS, the numbers pointed up by him and RTL President Barbara Listing of Shepherd deserve some study.

Using their data from the state and my own calculator, I find:

• Medicald-funded abortions rose steadily from 14,390 in 1979 to 16,840 in '80, then to 19,400 in '81 and 20,406 in '82. In percentage terms, the increases are 17,

Tim

15.2 and 5.2 percent. From 1979 to 1982. the overall increase is nearly 42 percent. Medicald abortions are a real growth industry.

• As a percentage of all abortions, Medicald abortions were 38.3 percent of the total in 1980, 44 percent in '81 and 48.9 percent in '82. A corporation president trying to corner the market would be delighted with progress like that.

• Last year, of the more than 34,000 pregnancies among Michigan women on welfare, 20,000 - nearly 60 percent were terminated by abortion.

SUPPOSE THE Michigan Legislature succeeds in banning the use of Medicald funds for abortions.

RTL cited a research project done in Ohio and Georgia by an arm of Planned Parenthood. It showed that 70-75 percent of low-income women who would have obtained publicly funded abortions manage to find the money to end their pregnancies, even when the states stopped paying for them.

Applying those ratios to Michigan, it would mean that last year 15,000 of the 20,000 women who wanted abortions still would have been able to get them.

In other words, banning use of Medicaid funds for abortions won't stop the practice - just slow it down. RTL can take little comfort in that.

Conversely, the "pro-choice" folks are 75 percent incorrect when they argue that denying Medicaid funds for abortions would deprive poor women of opportunity to exercise a right.

WHATEVER YOUR opinion of abortion, it should be abundantly clear that the practice is a very expensive and very messy form of birth control.

Abortion isn't my field of personal expertise. I got into this topic because my study of state spending showed that "so. cial services" grew from 12 percent of the state general fund budget in the early 1960s to the current 40 percent; and the growth was steady.

Currently, Medicaid is half the social services budget. Legislators who are "pro-choice," as well as those who are "pro-life," are all worried about the way social services is steadily eating into education lunds. -

Our budget situation is a lot worse than most people imagine.

He previously announced that a Commerce Department ombudsman will help businesses cut through regulatory red tape, new rules for franchising and simplified requirements for stock sales.

BLANCHARD stressed his determination to forge a strong, new alliance between government, business, labor and education."

"For the first time in Michigan, major sectors are working together" explained Commerce Director Ralph Gerson, a former Washington, D.C. resident whom Blanchard brought home to Michigan to revamp the department.

"The confrontation mode has gone the way, hopefully, of the Model T. There is a new mode.'

Gerson said incorporations are up 10 percent in the state. He added that "a rigorous set of conditions make it much more difficult for business today.

BLANCHARD announced new promotional materials for the "Say Yes to Michigan" campaign, which is in its third year. The governor said the campaign helped generate $10 billion in tourism.

Gerson said the U.S. spends $94 billion yearly on procurement. And Michigan — which was the second largest defense contractor during World War II - has the capacity to "do it again."

"We intend to market Michigan as it has never been marketed before," stressed Gerson, adding that the Water Wonderland is "not just a beautiful

Surrogate parenting ban:

Will it lead to 'black market' babies?

By Tim Richard staff writer

YEN. PATRICK McCollough, D-Dearborn, thinks the Michigan Senate made a serious mistake in voting to outlaw "surrogate parenting" and is seeking reconsideration of the bill. "It will result in a black market for children," McCollough warned as the Senate gave 25-12 approval to Senate Bill 63.

The bill would prohibit the practice, most common among white suburban married couples in their 30s, of paying another woman $10,000 (typically) to become pregnant by the husband through artificial insemination and then giving up the baby for adoption.

Penalty for first violation would be 90 days in fail and/or a $10,000 fine for subsequent violations, five years in prison and/or a $10,000

SUBURBAN SENATORS split across party and philosophical lines. Supporting the ban were liberal Democrats like Majority Leader William Faust of Westland and conservative Republicans like Doug Cruce of Troy and Richard Fessier of Union Lake.

Opposed were liberal Democrats like McCollough, whose district includes Garden City, Jack Faxon of Southfield and Philip O. Mastin of Pontiac and conservative Republican R. Robert Geake of Northville.

The bill now goes to the House. Surrogate parenting was denounced as making the child "essentially a commodity to be bought and sold" by Sen. Connie Binsfeld, R-Maple City, the bill's author. She is one of two women in the Michigan Senate.

McCollough and other opponents prefer House Bill 4114, which would regulate the practice and protect the natural mother and child by making surrogate parent contracts enforceable in court.

"THERE ARE 40 couples now arranging them (surrogate contracts) and there have been about 200 born" in the state, Binsfeld said in floor debate.

Estimates of the number of women now pregnant under surrogate contracts range from 15 (Binsfeld) to 30 (Senate analysis office).

There is agreement about why surrogate contracts are popular: More abortions and more single mothers keeping their bables have reduced the supply of adoptable white babies.

The result is an eight- to 10-year wait - and many childless couples in their 30s feel they can't wait.

"Today Michigan laws prohibit natural parents from giving a child away without the process of Michigan's adoption laws," Binsfeld said. "It is a fact that today Michigan law" prohibits the exchange of money, buying or selling of a child."

BINSFELD OBJECTS even to the term "surrogate."

'Surrogate' means substitute, and that she (the natural mother) is not. In these arrangements, it is her ovum that is fertilized; her genes; it is her child."

A "true surrogate," she said, occurs in the animal kingdom when "the ovum is taken from the prize cow. The sperin is taken from the prize bull, and it is put into a scrub cow for a gestation period. . .That is true surrogate."

Supporters of Binsfeld's bill argued that surrogate parenting places dangerous emphasis on producing a "perfect child." They cite an outstate case where a deformed child born to a surrogate mother was rejected by the man who had contracted for it. (He later was able to prove the true father was the surrogate mother's husband.)

Supporters also argued there are plenty of older children, children in sibling groups and handicapped children who could be adopted.

McCOLLOUGH confessed he had opposed surrogate parenting until he met several surrogate mothers, adopting parents and their "happy, gurgling bables."

It occurred in a hearing conducted by his Health and Social Services Committee last spring on the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus. The mothers, couples and bables were brought in by Dearborn attorney Noel Keane, who handled much of the legal work.

"It was hard for me to persuade. myself that what they were doing was criminal," McCollough said.

Other opponents of SB 63 concurred when McCollough said the bill "pretended to solve a problem by making a contract illegal," but which actually "solved no problem"

"It didn't deal with the reality of a modern society where people can travel a few miles to another state and make arrangements to become parents...

"All we have done by adopting this ban is deny access to the courts for those involved. I think the process needs regulation, having heard testimony on it. I believe the profit can be eliminated from it, but I do not believe the process should be subverted."

McCollough predicted the ban would result in an interstate "black market" in bables."

LANA POLLACK, D-Ann Arbor, the only other woman senator, opposed the Binsfeld bill, arguing that artificial insemination and adoption are twin facts of life that should be

"These people are highly motivated to become parents," Pollack said. "I think it's wrong for government to try to prevent people from having their own children.

"The burden is on the opponents of this procedure. They have not yet shown psychological, emolional or economic damage being done to these children," she said.

Supporting SB 63 were: the Council for the Prevention of Child Abuse and Neglect, Michigan Catholic Conference, Michigan Federation of Private Child and Family Agencies, Probate Judges Association of Michigan and Right to Life of Michigan.

Opposed were the American Civil Liberties Union and Michigan chapter of the National Organization for Women.

Willens bookish on yule gifts,

Sy Sherry Kahan staff writer

Christmas time is the time for lists. Not necessarily "The Book of Lists," but a list of books for the readers among your family and friends.

Such a list was recently brought into the area by Susan Willens, who spoke at the Livonia Town Hall. She is a former resident of the Detroit area, who attended the University of Michigan, and earned a doctorate in English from Catholic University. Her mother, Bertha Popkin of Beverly Hills; was in the audience.

A book reviewer for USA Today, she offered suggestions about good books to read as well as to buy as gifts.

In a humorous aside she even had advice on doing both, sneaking a read before the book was wrapped for friends or family members. She agreed that it was a shocking thing to do, and warned against using marmalade at the breakfast table because suspicious smudges might be left on pages. Mistakenly leaving a piece of newspaper or napkin in the gift book as a bookmarker would be unbelievably tacky.

And don't expect to see much of the ones whom you gifted with books, she cautioned. "They'll tear off the wrapping and disappear to read it."

WHAT ATTRACTS this high school English teacher, lecturer and reviewer to a book.

"I always look for something wonderful," she explained. "I like books that let you in on someone else's truth. that bring me a whiff of a world I don't know, like Jacques Cousteau or Henry Thoreau in 'Walden.' I like to peep into other gardens."

She enjoys authors who tell her about the world she lives in as Rachel Carson did or Barbara Tuchman.

"I'm a sucker for beautiful writing," she continued; "and something that makes my scalp crinkle. I like books with originality, knowledge and beauty.

The books she recommended most highly were by individuals named Thomas, Baker, Trevor and Naylor. She wanted her audience to memorize these names as carefully as past baseball fans remembered Tinker, Evers and Chance. It was the Willens solution to the fact that the women in her audience were sitting in the darkened Mal Kai Theatre without pens or paper for list-making.

administrator, is author of a book called "Late Night Thoughts on Listening to Mahler's Ninth Symphony." (Willens parenthesized that book titles are getting longer lately).

"Dr. Thomas meditates on the places where pure science touches human life," she said. "He is human, gentle and decent. He talks about attics, about altruism in ants and bees, and about science and government going about the business of destroying the earth.

*For anyone who enjoys science, buy

The Baker she referred to is Russell Baker, columnist for the New York Times and a writer "of wit and humor."

"A great gift for those who loved his book, 'Growing Up' is his essay collection, Rescue of Miss Yaskell and Other Pipe Dreams.'

She read a selection of Baker's writing to her audience, which prompted an appreciative comment later from Dee Dittmar, president of the Livonia Town

"It's the first time someone has read to us," she said at the celebrity luncheon in the Mayflower Meeting House in

"FOOLS OF FORTUNE" is the name of a book by William Trevor, which was described by the speaker as "a beautiful novel."

"It is time for Americans to have a love affair with William Trevor," said Willens. "It is a gentle, quiet story with terror at its heart. The boy lives an idville life but becomes the victim of violence."

It takes place in 1918 Ireland, "and the tone of the early part is the tone of the whole story. It is as gentle and tender as an Irish lament."

A 33-year-old black woman from Brooklyn is author of a book called "Women of Brewster Place." Her name is Gloria Naylor.

"She reassures us there is something terrific in the way women see the world," said the reviewer. "You'll love the women in it. They help us to know ourselves."

She added: "If you buy it now, you'll have time to read it before wrapping it for Uncle Harry."

WILLENS WAS ALSO high on a number of other books. One of them is Outrageous Acis and Everyday Rebelllons" by Gloria Steinem. One of these essays was written many years ago when Steinem accepted a journalistic assignment to be a Playboy Bunny. The experience started with a pep talk by the Bunny Mother, and apparently ended with the feminization of Steinem.

One of the essays is about Steinem as a teen-ager having to care for her paranold mother. She regrets as a daugther that she couldn't spare enough sympathy for this mother," noted Willens. "It is a touching essay." "Politics and Money" by Elizabeth Drew is another book on the Willens list. It tells how the wealthy have come to control votes in this country.

"Children of War' is enough to make a pacifist of the deep-dyed war lover,"

It was written by Roger Rosenblatt, a Time Magazine columnist, who visited five war zones to talk to children. *They (children) are inconceivably sane and forgiving," commented Willens. ! One of them remarked to Rosenblatt that. Nothing is worth killing some

JOAN CHASE wrote another favor? ite, "In the Reign of the Queen of Pera sia." It involves women living in a house in Ohio with a grandmother who among readers. In this catagory she picks John Le Carre's "Little Drummer Girl." She also thinks well of William Manchester's book on Winston Churchill. Stanley Karnow's book based on his TV coverage of Vietnam, and Seymour, Hersh's book on Henry Kissinger. The Hersh book drew a query at the celebrity luncheon. Willens was questioned about Hersh's objectivity. "He went into it as a student of Washington power politics," she ob. served. "He became angry at what he discovered in the high reaches of pow-

Questioned about the romantic books of Danielle Steel, the speaker described her as "the best of the panting bosom writers." Willens is "crazy" about James Michener, who "made palatable many of the great moments...wo wouldn't have found by ourselves.".

She views the work of Jean Auel, At thor of "Clan of the Cave Bear" and "Valley of the Horses" as a "tour de force," written with "considerable in agination."

WILLENS EXPLAINED that for her the role of the reviewer is to be go-between. "You have to tell the read er what he needs to know about the

ERGONOMIC KITCHENWARE THAT REDUCES STRESS AND IMPROVES EFFICIENCY.

How ergonomics and Bennett's BioCurve' make your kitchen work a whole lot easier.

Ergonomics is the study of the interaction of men and women within their total working environment. Bennett's BioCurve is one of the most significant discoveries ever to come out of the study. It's a natural extension of the laws of anatomical design; a principle that maximizes human potential. Or, in much simpler terms, it's a work reducing handle—curved precisely at 19°.

Why bend the wrist when you can bend the handle?

When you use a straight handle, the wrist must be bent causing stress and coordination stress than oppured to the wrist and forearm must coordination stress to and oppured the coordination stress to the coordination of the cles. The range of wrist motion is also reduced. Tests show in a dramatic way that blood pressure (dystolic) is increased due to stress positioning of the tool. By bending the handle 190, the bent wrist is eliminated. The hand can function in a comfortable and efficient position. More energy can be passed through the unlocked (straight) wrist reducing tension and stress. Tests show that once the bent wrist positioning is eliminated, blood pressure is reduced to the individual's normal level. The 19°

At a time when musical productions at Bentley were at a low ebb. Hutchison stepped in and brought about a revival with such shows as "Hello Dolly" and "Camelot."

Action based on fear destructs

A representative in Lansing won't listen to me. But instead of recall being the solution, it is the problem. It is tragic for elected leaders to make decisions based on fear of recall.

Early in response to me a legislator stopped dialogue by announcing his conclusion. Then in explaining his posttion, it seemed he invited further response. His closing stopped me cold expressing hope I would understand that his "task is to represent the views of the majority of his people."

That sounds so good and so democratic that it almost hides the fear motivating him. A truism in statecraft and psychology is that action based in fear is eventually destructive.

We are governed by a representative system. It is not a democratic system in which majority rules. The genius of our government is in electing leaders who take state and nation far beyond current majority opinion.

"These investments not only produce a very high return on our capital, but also assist in retaining jobs and create a more diversified business climate in Michigan."

Photon Sources, Livonia, laser welders — $3.3 million in January 1983. This was the second largest of the 13 investments.

• Perceptron, Farmington Hills, machine vision systems — $2 million in December of 1982 and $1 million in October 1983. Gov. James J. Blanchard used a dedication ceremony at Perceptron last week to announce plans to reduce state red tape for business. Bowman sald that at Perceptron "we ex-

Swimming, rope skipping are strenuous

Which exercise is best for improving physical fitness?" Cardiac patients and persons with low cardiovascular fliness often ask us that.

Exercise programs can employ a variety of physical conditioning activities. But it is important to note activities which might be too strenuous for those persons.

Swimming and skipping rope long have been recognized as excellent cardiovascular conditioners. Recent research, however, tells us these activities impose extremely high energy demands, and regulation of the exercise intensity may be difficult.

SWIMMING, EVEN at comfortable speeds, may require near-maximal expenditures of energy and heart rate.

A recent comparison of various physical conditioning activities revealed the highest energy requirements for swimming. These ranged from six to eight times the resting metabolic rate. Even higher levels of energy expenditure may be attained among individuals with less efficient swimming skills.

Barry Franklin

Rope skipping is another activity often used in physical conditioning programs. It is inexpensive, requiring minimal space and equipment.

Proponents often cite an early 1960s study which implied that a daily 10minute bout of rope skipping was equal to 30 minutes of jogging.

Recent research, however, suggests this claim may be exaggerated and un-

It appears that rope skipping is no more magical than other physical conditioning exercises. Furthermore, the high cardiovascular demands of rope skipping may exceed the fitness capacity of many persons.

THE ENERGY cost of jumping rope, apparently unaffected by the skipping rate, ranges from nine to 13 times above resting levels. It is equivalent to running at a 6-8 mph pace.

Interestingly, as the skipping rate increases, the person's vertical or jump height decreases, so that the total energy expenditure remains relatively constant. Thus, the cardiovascular stress placed on the individual will be almost the same, no matter how fast you skip.

In summary, extremely high energy, requirements and the inability to carefully regulate exercise intensity praclude the general recommendation of swimming or rope skipping for cardiac patients or normal persons with low

Instead, walking, jogging, stationary bleyeling and vigorous calisthenies are more appropriate cardiovascular conditiolners, particularly during the early phase of an exercise program.

A Farmington Hills resident, Barry Franklin, Ph.D., teaches in the Wayne State University medical school and is co-director of cardiac rehailitation at Sinai Hospital.

Week of peace protests begins

By Kathy Parrish staff writer

For most Christians, Sunday starts the countdown to Christmas. Ahead is a month of hectic, but happy

But Advent will have a different meaning this year, for peace advocates who expect to spend the holiday season in Oakland County Jail for blockading a de-Tense supplier's driveway.

"People who wage war are called to make sacrifices like being away at Christmas," sald Ken Berger, speaking for Covenant for Peace, which is organizing Monday's blockade.

"Why not those who wage peace?"

AN INTERFAITH prayer service at 2 p.m. Sunday on the public easement outside Williams International will kick off a weeklong protest at the 60-acre research, development and manufacturing facility, 2280 W. Maple, Commerce Township.

Founded in 1955 in Birmingham, the maker of small gas turbine engines is a target of peace groups because its product powers cruise missiles.

Williams' 1,450 employes also manufacture turbine engines for cars and trucks, industrial gas turbines and low pollution turbines for generatiing electric power from natural gas and coal. A version of the cruise missile engine is used in WASP II, a small one-person flying device.

From Nov. 28 to Dec. 3 peace groups intend to block the firm's entrance each morning as employees arrive for work. One of several American and Canadian anti-nuclear protests planned for next week, the action is expected to result in confrontation between Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and the protesters — who intend to be jailed.

"We are taking any and all necessary steps in the interest of all concerned - including the general public," said Sheriff Johannes Spreen, whose staff members met earlier this month with the organizers.

WHILE ANTI-WAR protesters have prayed outside Williams each Monday since Jan. 17, members were jailed only once for trespassing. On Aug. 9 they jumped the defense supplier's fence, threw red dye and floated candles in a pond to commemorate atomic bomb destruction at Nagasacki.

But next week, they will flaunt daily a court in-junction by Oakland Circuit Judge James Thorburn forbidding trespassing, blocking egress or ingress or inviting anyone else to do so. Each morning, protesters will block the Williams driveway when employees arrive for work.

"We're not asking the workers to leave their jobs; that would be unconscionable on our part to do that," sald Berger, a member of Lansing-based Covenant for Peace.

"What we're about is changing hearts and minds." ·Convenant for Peace, a nine-member Christian faith group, requested a meeting with Williams International executives a year ago. The purpose was to get the firm to cease making cruise missile engines and switch to "other products beneficial to the human family,"

New Agenda renews spirit for old battle

T WAS LABELED the New Agenda. But, really, what was on the agenda wasn't all

Women and sports was the topic. Boiling it down, the resolutions generated from the three-day conference included a reaffirmation of Title IX, which is being challenged in courts in several states (including Michigan), and a committment to get to work at the grass roots level on problems facing women

That's it? That's all the 600 delegates from around the nation got out of their weekend stay at the Capitol Hilton in Washington, D.C.? Not exactly. The look in Cathy Dritsas' eyes told a different story.

THE NEW AGENDA was more than a rallying cry for women athletes. It sought direction for so many diverse women's groups, a chance to "get rid of vested interests," as Billie Jean King said.

Yes, Billie Jean King, famous tennis player, was there. So were Carol Mann, Donna DeVerona, Dick Schaap, Janet Guthrie, Diana Nyad and lots of others, including Vice President George Bush and wife.

The conference was 20 months in the planning. And while direction may have been the No. 1 purpose, what was accomplished was something a bit different.

Perhaps something more.

DRITSAS SPOKE quickly, throwing out words like "dynamic" and "relate" and "competitive enrichment." The athletic director at Bloomfield Hills Academy of the Sacred Heart was the only representative from the state in attendance.

"Before this conference, I thought about phasing in other younger women to take over," she said. "But I got recommitted. I came back with the thought that, 'Hey, these women are putting themselves on the line. I've got to keep

The women "putting themselves on the line". were former athletes who faced the problems females face in sports and shared their experiences at the conference. It proved to be pretty heavy stuff.

"I was inspired, personally," Dritsas

TRUE ENOUGH, women still face lots of problems in the world of sports. And true enough, it was much worse 10 years ago. 'You've come a long way, baby" is correct enough, but "You've still got a ways to go" is equally accurate.

The reinspired Dritsas knows this. She's seen the problems girls face in sports and the struggles that lie ahead. And at the New Agenda she was able to share the problems she's encountered and find not a sympathetic ear but a lot of shared experiences.

("It's unconscionable!" was her reaction after relating a story of how University of Michigan uses its field hockey area for a parking lotduring football games.)

Although men receive the bigger piece of the athletic pie, Dritsas insists this isn't a man-vs.woman conflict.

"Women don't want to take away from men," she said. To me, a good athlete should be able to play no matter what the sex."

Once outside of educational institutions, the chance for women to compete is extremely limited, Dritsas said. And it isn't because men are in a conspiracy against them.

INDEED, THE BIGGEST problem, women face in sports is other women.

"I find men very supportive because they know the value of competition," Dritsas explained. "I always felt the biggest problem is ... with other women."

The value of competition: If Dritsas has a goal, it would be making the rest of the female population understand how healthy competition

"If you believe in the concept of competition, then you should believe it's good for all children," she said in convincing style. "But nothing is going to be accomplished until parents say, 'My little girl is as good as my little

"When parents get involved, school administrators will listen."

This "second-class" syndrome is another problem Dritsas sees confronting the woman. athlete. People "think what girls do is less. eignificant," she said.

How to fight a concept is the query. And there are lots of wayward concepts surrounding women's sports that need to be dispelled.

"You know," Dritsas related as we walked to the door, "one of the hardest things I have to. teach the girls is how to win. That trying to win is important, instead of just playing."

That was the aim of the New Agenda. To provide new answers to old problems. And to reinspire people who care into carrying on the

Bentley seizes district title

By Brad Emons staff writer

It always seems somebody different rises to the occasion when Livonia Bentley wins a girls' basketball game. But Tuesday night it was a collection of stars as the Bulldogs won the Class A district title at Southfield with a 53-37 victory over Detroit Redford. You could start with little Bridget Nicol, who riddled the Huskies with her deadly baseline shooting, finishing with 16 points.

Or you could single out the usually steady Sheri Wolfe, who drilled home six of her 16 points in the decisive third quarter.

Then there was the defense of Lonnie 12 at halftime. Payne, who forced All-PSL guard Cherry

Or how about the play of Amy Weber off the bench? The quick sophomore picked up the slack for the team's leading scorer, Laurie Day, who suffered a rare off night (four points and four personal fouls).

BENTLEY, behind Nicol's shooting, opened a 14-2 lead after a furious, fast-paced first quarter. At that stage it looked like a blowout. But the Bulldogs went cold in the second quarter, going without a basket for almost seven minutes. That enabled Redford to close the gap to 18-

"I was not happy with how we played in the second quarter," said Bentley coach Tom Lang. "We blew too many opportunities.

"We used the half to make a couple of adjustments offensively and it seemed to work. We wanted to spread out their zone (defense) and make them come out and play us."

The Huskies never were able to break the Bentley's full-court press.

"Pressure defense was the thing," Lang said. "We were geared to pressure their guards. We put Lonnie on No. 32 (Wilks) and she made her go left (with the dribble). And we wanted Laurie to really pressure the other guard as well.

"THEY MADE a ton of turnovers, but we tired during the second quarter. We needed that 10-minute rest at the half."

Wilks finished with 15 points and pointguard Angle Jackson netted 11 for Redford (12-4), but they were overshadowed by the overall play of Bentley.

"Amy did a job defensively and was good offensively - she was all over the court," said Lang, whose team carries a 20-2 record into next week's regional. "One of the things we've had all year is that we've had people come off. the bench and play great.

"And I don't think teams take Bridget for granted. She plays that role. She's a baseline player - an excellent shooter from both cor-

Patriots stonewalled by tenacious defense

By Chris McCosky staff writer

The greased fastbreaking Livonia Franklin girls basketball machine ran into a Rock Tuesday night. The result: a 43-27 win and a berth in the state regional tournament for Plymouth Salem.

Franklin (16-7) rolled into the district finals on the strength of its fast-paced, run-and-gun style of play, and the phenomenal scoring of Alicia Lectka, who scored 42 points in the two previous district

Salem (19-4) fought its way to the finals with a tenacious man-to-man defense and the equally phenomenal scoring of Pam McBride, 32 points in two

When the two teams squared off in the Plymouth Canton gym Tuesday, a loud bunch of Franklin tingent of Rock fans, saw Salem completely shut down the Patriot fastbreak and thus, completely take away their offense.

BUT IT DIDN'T look like it was going to be that Franklin came out smoking and threatened to run the Rocks out of the gym in the first quarter. Led by eight points from Sue Johnson, the Pats roared ahead 12-4.

"We knew that the emotion level was going to be a factor in this game," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We knew they would be real fired up, and we kind of based our game around that. We felt if we could hang in there that they would come off that high and we could start playing our game."

The Rocks hung in there. When Mary Beth Weast came off the bench in the second quarter and canned two long jumpers, the momentum swayed drastically. Salem went on to shut out the Pats 15-0 In the second quarter.

McBride, who had missed her first four shots, sandwiched a hoop between Weast's two bombs to pull Salem close.

Reggie Rojeski, who has been playing superb both offensively and defensively for the Rocks, blocked a shot and made a layup with 4:50 left in the half, and the game was tied 12-12.

THEN, AFTER THREE straight misses, Dawn Johnson connected to give the Rocks the lead. They never trailed after that.

"We knew that we couldn't get into a half court game with them," said Patriot coach Tim Newman. "If we don't score, press and run, we aren't going to

In 1982, the Ocelots' women's basket-finished the year with just seven girls sulting up for games. But the final record was 16-6, including nine wins in 12 Eastern Conference games, good for third place.

Kavanaugh has his program organized and running smoothly and, despite just two returnees, the outlook for Schoolcrast women's basketball is bright.

"WE'RE VERY confident we'll do better than last year," said Kavanaugh, who has also had great success coaching Livonia Ladywood High School's team. "We have good depth, so we'll be doing a lot of subbing."

Which means the Lady Occloss will be on the move.

"Oh yeah," Kavanaugh confirmed, "We'll be doing a lot of running. Our main goals are to run the ball and to pressure everywhere on defense."

Returning for Schoolcraft is Redford Union alumnus Cathi Hengy, a 5-foot-7 guard who led the Ocelots in scoring a year ago with a 19 points per-game av-guard from Redford St. Agatha who Kavanaugh said "improved 100 percent from her high school days. She's much more confident.

Also back is Gina Johnson, a 5-6

Newcomers who will contribute heavily are 6-0 center Sheri Evans, from Livonia Stevenson; 5-9 forward Karen Swereski, from Madison Heights Bishop Foley: 5-10 forward Missy Alken, from Plymouth Canton, and 5-11 forward Caryn Lamb, from Walled Lake Central.

Evans is "very strong. We're working her a lot at the post," Kavanaugh said. Swereski was All-Catholic and is rated as "one of the best pure shooters" on the team. Lamb, too, has "good range on her shot," while Aikens is "very aggressive, a good defensive player."

JOINING HENGY and Johnson in the backcourt are a pair of 5-5 Redford St. Mary grads: Sonya Smith, who Kavanaugh called "very quick," and Jane Hart, a "good shooter." Ann Lukens, a 5-8 guard who played for Kayanaugh at Ladywood last year, also adds depth.

"We got an outstanding group of freshmen," Kayanaugh said. "I think many of them were overlooked by bigger schools."

Il there is a weakness, it's youth. "Nine of 12 are freshmen," Kavanaugh said. Just how well they stand up to. pressure will be determined in the Roane State (Tenn.) Superstar Classic this weekend.

Oakland CC and Henry Ford, the top two teams in the Eastern Conference a year ago, are expected to challenge for the title again. But Kavanaugh already has his sights, and his team's, set for that championship.

North rules swim field

By Chris McCosky staff writer

"And how do you feel North Farmington?"

"We feel 80-0-0-0-0 good!" The dynasty continues.

For the fourth straight year, the Northwest Suburban League swim title belongs to the Raiders from North Farmington. They ran away from the five other NSL teams in Saturday's league meet which took place at Redford Thurston.

For North, which went 5-0 in the NSL dual meet season, the championship was its 11th since 1971.

*THIS IS GREAT because this may be my last year," said North coach Jordy Hatch, who will be getting married soon and may be leaving the state. "It's also special for my seniors. They have been champions for four straight years. That's nice."

Hatch's post-meet comments were cut short. He had an appointment under water and his swimmers made sure he kept it — they threw him into the pool.

North's 338 team points were far ahead of the rest of the pack. Westland John Glenn, led by the speedy Robina Gow, was second with 277. Garden City, despite several superb performances by Kim Dorsey, was a distant third with 157 points. Thurston, Livonia Franklin and Redford Union rounded out the field in that order.

The tone of the meet was set in the first event. North's 200-yard medley relay team of Kathy Pierog, Colleen Carey, Marge Cramer and Mary Manderfield, broke a pool and NSL record with their winning time of 1:58.7

Seven pool records and four conference records were broken and another conference mark was equaled in the meet.

DORSEY SWAM in three events for Garden City. She set the pool and conference record winning the 200-freestyle with a 1:58.67, nosing out North freshman Jennifer Rowe by threetenths of a second. She set a pool record winning the 100-butterfly in 1:03:488.

Then Dorsey swam the final leg of the 400-freestyle relay. When she dove into the pool, Garden City was trailing John Glenn by about two yards. When it was over, Dorsey finished two seconds before Glenn - giving the Cougars a winning time of 3:57.8.

Gow set a pool record and tied the conference mark with her winning time of 1:05.66 in the 100-backstroke. She also took second in the 200-individual medley. 🤝 But it was the Ralders' meet. They broke four pool records and three conference marks en route to the champlonship. Seven of 11 NSL records are. held by North.

Carey, a junior, set a pool and conference record with a 2:16.20 in the 200-IM. She also won the 100breasistroke, finishing one second ahead of teammate Marge Cramer, with a 1:11.47. That time is .18 seconds off the conference record.

Cramer set a pool and conference mark in the 100-free with a 55.41.

MANDERFIELD, A SENIOR, won the 50-free with a 26.158. She just nosed out teammate Helen Sue How-

Rowe established a pool record in the 500-free with a 5:15.76. She had swam a 5:14.73 in the preliminary round which was better than Dorsey's NSL recod time of 5:15.36 set last year.

Thurston's Karen Krzywada dominated the diving competition, amassing 336.40 points, three shy of the league

Livonians vie for SPHL title

The prep hockey season is already under way.

That includes the four Livonia schools, members of the nine-team' Suburban Prep Hockey League

(SPHL), Last year's champion was Bloomfield Hills Andover, but most of the league coaches are keeping their eyes on Southfield and Wyandotte Roosevelt for the 1983-84 season. Here is a preseason look at the four Livonia teams.

LIVONIA BENTLEY

The Bulldogs will have a slightly different look this season.

Fifth-year coach Gord Anderson is implementing a finesse game with assistant Jack Kaumeyer orchestrating the new look. "I think we'll have a pretty nice little team," said Anderson, whose club captured the title two years ago. "We don't have the big gun-type guys. We're small in stature, but we skate well.

"We'll be a hard-checking, fastskating team. I think we'll be a more balanced team than in the past."

Anderson returns eight players and calls them a "pretty good nucle-

The veterans include All-Area center Paul Marderoslan, who had 15 goals and 17 assists a year ago. He is joined up front by holdovers Dave Lentz, Mark Hennessy, Mark Scott and Bob Hachigian.

The defensive line is proven with the return of Scott McDonald, Jim

Brady and Monty Horn. "We had 37 kids come out, and I think that's a good omen," said Anderson, whose team is trying to improve upon last year's third place hockey

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

The Chargers "could be a sleeper" according to more than one SPHL

But the key to the Chargers' success, says second-year mentor Rudy Varvari, is how many times they are able to put the puck in the net.

"We are going to have to score more goals. We're going to have to open up the offense. You are not going to see many 3-2, 2-1 games from us. It'll be more like 5-4, 6-5. If we can do that we'll be successful," Varvari sald.

The reason for the added emphasis on offense is the loss of two goalies. Churchill's starting goaltender from last year is playing junior hockey and his back-up opted not to come out.

The Chargers remain stable along the defense with assistant captain Steve Larson back.

The offense will be led by talented forward Eddle Shepler, Matt Wiljanen and captain Kevin Gagnon.

Other contributors should include Tim Sheridan, Rusty Lynch, Nich Talovich, Eric Donahue, Dave Martzoloff, Todd Baumann and Jay

Varvari sald his team should improve upon its three-victory season of last year.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

The season hasn't even started and Patriots aren't getting much respect, according to second-year coach Terry Jobbitt.

"Over at Ford Rink on the board they predicted us to finish dead last," he said. "I feel we're a lot stronger than people believe.

Other teams should beware if they believe what's on the board."

Jobbitt lost three Alf-Area performers - goalie Mike Vasilco, defenseman John Chmleiewski and forward Scott Williams - off a team which won four games.

But No. 1 scorer Ed Zajdel, a senlor right winger, returns from a 20goal, 21-assist season.

Zajdel, an alternate captain, is joined by sophomore brother Paul and senior captain Jim Barnes in what should make for a formidable

Other veterans include defensemen Glenn Blelm and Kevin Sharkey along with wingers John Ronchetto and Tom Isom.

Jobblit also has three promising newcomers - Marc and Darren Mills, and Tony Merlino.

"I feel we're solid on the blue line," Jobbitt sald. "We're solld in . the net I feel, but we don't have a Vasilco."

Freshman Jeff Vaden is the heir apparent in goal with senior Paul Ross starting out as his back-up.

LIVONIA STEVENSON

The Spartans, second to Andover

last year with a 12-4 SPHL record, return six players.

"All the players back are solid," said seventh-year coach Jerry Kestner. "We have a lot of sophomores and freshmen and that's a new thing for us.

"If enough of the seniors make things happen, we could be there by the end of the season." Kestner is high on last year's back-up goaltender, senior Phil Bryant.

"He's the guy we'll look to, and he should really have an excellent season," said the Stevenson coach. Bryant's back-up is junior Kent McKenzie.

Kestner, however, must fill the gaps left by All-Area picks E.J. Perrault and Dave Cox.

"It will be a learning process for awhile," Kestner said, "but we have the talent to be competitive. We have some good hockey players who haven't played high school hockey before."

Seniors expected to contribute include Jeff O'Meara, defense; John McPhee and John Nagle, centers; Mike Kobylarz and Ken Michniak. right wingers.

By Brad Emons staff writer 2, you try harder?" against Birmingham Brother Rice. According to Gumbleton, CC doesn't plan to alter "We'll be moving the puck around," he said.

Record book rewritten by Stevenson in meet

"If there was a better girls' league meet in the state, I'd like to have seen

Those were the sentiments of Plymouth Salem swim coach Chuck Olson after Friday night's Western Lakes Athletic Association swim meet at the beaten Salem and Bentley in the Salem pool.

And he was correct. The 1983 Western Lakes league meet was both fast and exciting. The unanimous favorite, Livonia Stevenson, won rather handily, but as Spartan coach Lois McDonald said, the league is getting better all the "OVERALL, I'D say the quality of the swimming in this area is getting much better - in all the schools. The competition is tougher throughout the league. It's a lot more interesting now than it used to be," she said.

The two Plymouth teams certainly made things interesting, as did Livonia Bentley. After Stevenson, with 267 points, Plymouth Canton placed second (171), Plymouth Salem third (165) and Bentley fourth (156).

Farmington Harrison was next with 134 points, then came Northville (110), Livonia Churchill (72), Walled Lake Central (50), Farmington (45), and Walled Lake Western (20).

For Canton, the meet was a mile-

swimming

league," said Canton coach Hooker Wellman, whose Chiefs were the Western Division dual meet champions. "This was the highest we have ever finished in the league meet:"

THE 1983 WLAA MEET and Stevenson swimmers were hard on the existing league records. The Spartans toppled five league marks.

Junior Mary Schoenle and sophomore Sherry Sudek each broke a pair of records. Sudek's winning time of 1:57.4 set a record in the 200-yard freestyle, and her 1:00.3 in the 100-backstroke also set a new mark. Schoenle swam a best-ever 1:07.9 to capture the 100breaststroke and a 2:11.9 to set a new mark in the 200-individual medley.

Sheila Taormina set a record in the 100-butterfly with a 1:00.4. She eclipsed the old mark set last year by Canton's Ginnle Johnson. Johnson swam a 1:00.7 this year and placed second.

"Sheila is legitimate," said Wellman. "But she better look out at the state "This was the first time we have meet. Ginnle's upset, and when she's inside.

upset she swims a lot better."

Stevenson also won the 200-medley relay with a swift 1:57.4. Sudek, Kathy Sullivan, Schoenle, and Chris Schwedt were the swimmers.

There weren't many highlights for Farmington Friday, but Katle MacIntosh was certainly one. Her 353.15. points earned her first place in the diving competition.

Canton also scored well in diving, placing four swimmers in the top 12.

SALEM HAD its moments as well. Kristal Taylor outraced the field in the 100-freestyle with a 55.8, four-tenths of a second faster than Bentley's Ann Schaepfler.

But the crowning moment for the Rocks came in the final event: the 400freestyle relay. The Rock contingent -Laura Shaffer, Erin Boughton, B.J. Bing and Taylor, dropped some six seconds off their previous times to win with a 3:51.0. The time qualified them for the state meet next month.

Farmington Harrison, one of the most improved teams in the league under coach Mark Holdridge, got a first place finish from Melissa Joy. She took the 500-free with a 5:31.4.

Tell me about your high gas heating bills...

and I'll tell you how some people saved as much as 20% with Ameri-Therm®

THE PROBLEM

You have a hole in your roof.

The hole? Your furnace vent.

Every time your furnace turns off, the warm air in your home is quickly lost up in the furnace vent, and on goes the furnace again, heating the air and run-

THE SOLUTION

Vent Damper.

Close the hole in your roof with an Ameri-Therm Vent Damper.

The heat of your furnace opens the Ameri-Therm8 Vent Damper. When the furnace turns off, the Ameri-Therm* Vent Damper closes your furnace vent and the warm air you paid for stays where it belongs, inside your home.

Blazers cage Ravens

They played without the services of starters Sue Laliberte (injured thumb) and Trish White (flu), but Livonia Ladywood had little trouble with Detroit Benedictine Monday night in its state district girls basketball semifinal match at Novi.

Led by Emily Wagner's 18 points and Char Govan's 16 points and 10 rebounds, the Blazers burned Benedictine 75-10.

The score was 42-8 at the half. Ladywood coach Ed Kayanaugh substituted freely the rest of the way. The Blazers held the Ravens to two second-half points.

NOVI 59, CLARENCEVILLE 23: Livonia. Clarenceville (4-16) ended its season on an unhappy note as Novi's Sue Rasinske poured in 24 points Monday night in a state district semifinal

FLAT ROCK 48, ST. AGATHA 44: Close but no cigar. The Aggles, despite 15 points from freshman Maryann Kick, ended their season with a loss Friday night at Detroit Lutheran West. The Aggles finish with a 4-16 mark.

Toni Richardson led the winners with 18, including a pair of key free throws with 1:30 to go.

WAYNE 48, GARDEN CITY 27: After upsetting Northwest Suburban League co-champs North Farmington, the Cougars (10-10) finished with two losses in a row to Wayne Memorial:

The most recent loss came Saturday night in the state district tournament at Dearborn. The Cougars couldn't stop the inside scoring from Wayne's Julie Cabrera who finished with 18 points.

Gemma gridders win

The St. Gemma Shamrocks ended a perfect 9-0 football season with a come-from-behind 22-12 victory over St. Clement's of Centerline to earn the Detroit-area CYO championship.

The championship game, played as part of the Prep Bowl extravaganza at the Pontlac Silverdome, pitted the Eastern and Western Division champions for the first time since 1957. St. Gemma advanced to the championship game by defeating CYO powerhouses St. Michael's and St. Alfred's in the playoffs.

The Shamrocks, unscored upon in their first eight games this season, fell behind early when the formidable St. Clement's team marched 60 yards on its first possession to open the scoring. St. Gemma's came back late in the quarter on quarterback Steve McKee's 12-yard scoring strike to tight end Jim Slowinski. Both teams missed the extra. point, and the score was tied 6-6.

St. Clements scored again in the second quarter to take a 12-6 halftime lead.

THE EAST-SIDE team threatened to blow the game wide open in the third quarter, but the Shamrocks, playing inspired defense, forced a fumble near the goal line, and Scott McKee recovered. It proved to be the turning point in the game.

The Shamrocks went ahead for the first time moments later when McKee connected on his second touchdown pass of the game, a 20-yarder to tailback Ken Grandon. Paul Dresslinski kicked the extra point, and St.Gemma's was ahead to stay, 13-12.

St. Gemma's added an insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter on Jason Estronza's one yard plunge.

Randy Taylor, Dan Burke, Jim Sassala, Mike Donnelly and Joe Chartler served as McKee's assistant coaches, while, John Truax and Brian Laura served as team managers.

Include these to ease the pain of '83 tax bill

In this article, we will provide additional tax tips that may help you soften the tax collector's bite.

MEDICAL EXPENSES. change in the law makes it harder to claim deductions for unreimbursed medical costs, but careful timing of spending may help. For 1983 and later, you can include in itemized deductions only that portion of medical bills in excess of 5 percent of your adjusted gross income. To help yourself, try to combine medical outlays into one year. Items that often can be speeded up or delayed include dental work, easier in 1984 to include medicine in your overall medical deductions. Unlike 1983, drug deductions won't be limited to expenses in excess of 1 percent of adjusted gross income.

BUSINESS EXPENSES. Christmas nears, remember that business gifts are deductible to the giver for up to $25 per recipient. Ruying a home computer for business use can yield investment credits and depreciation write-offs. Ifyou use one for managing your investments, you may be able to write off all or part of the costs over five years.

Performances of the Theatre Hilld of Livonia-Redford production of the musical "Chicago" con-Hinue at 8 p.m. Friday-Sunday and Dec. 1-4 at the Theatre Guild Playhouse, 15138 Beech Daly, just south of Five Mile, Redford. For ticket information, call 522-8057.

W Bob Welbel pecial writer

You've had a tough week, you say? And you need a little diversionary entertainment? Well, have I got something for you.

'Chicago" is your kind of show. Your ives will be riveted to the stage for two ast-paced hours as the cast; crew and musicans of the Theatre Guild of Livopla-Redford take you back to the raunchy, hip-swinging, gun-slinging, honkyonk days of the Roaring Twentles.

The story? Well, it's not much. I mean, there are no great truths to be learned. Which is OK because "Chicago" is a jazzy, no-holds-barred satire of grotesque corruption in the bootleg era. There is a bit of Brecht in the air (as in "Cabaret") in this high-camp soap opera of women gone wrong.

Our heroine, Roxie Hart, is a sassy chorus girl who fills a faithless lover full of holes, then enlists the help of her not-too-bright husband to take the rap. When that doesn't work she retains a slick-talking, shyster lawyer to take her case. She avoids punishment and goes on to fame and fortune. End of

THE STORY IS carried forward in songs with gusto. Hackney is a diminuthe style of a vaudeville revue complete with a master of ceremonies. Tony Mattar plays the emcee with the presence and panache of one who has just stepped from center ring at a circus. But it is the dancers, singers and staging that make "Chicago" work. And do they work as director/choreographer Jim Posante expertly guldes his energetic cast in a cascade of sexy moves, rhythmic images and unladylike poses.

Heading the cast are Collene Hackney as Roxle Hart and Adrienne Rollet as Velma Kelly who strut their stuff with wanton abandon and belt out the tive but dynamite performer. And Rollet performs flawlessly as the lead dancer and looks stunning in a variety of elegant, colorful costumes. In fact, costumes for the complete show are exceptionally well done in the 20s fash-

These two floozies and a chorus of killer cuties (Maxine Parshall, Darlene Heard, Carol Ziemba, Lisa Akey and Lara Fisher) really get the show moving with a Cell Block Tango that details how they bumped off their men. Akey shows the polse and polish of a veteran performer, although she's a junior at Churchill High School. Before leaving the jail, let it be known that Shirley Hulet as Mama Morton can play Sophia Tucker any time she wants.

The male chorus (Dean Napolitano, Robert Douglas, David Leidholdt and Tim Christensen) are also very good. Special praise goes to Dean who doubles as Fred Casely, a dastardly, twotiming creep who got what he deserved from Roxie.

DEAN MARTELL AS Billy Flynn, the defense attorney who specializes in getting guilty women in slinky dresses off scot-free, makes a grand entrance and continues to make the right moves in a very smooth professional perform-

And then there is Charles Sutherland as Amos Hart. To see his name in a program is to know you're in for a treat. His reading of the forlorn husband, especially his one song, "Cellophane," is a gem.

"Chicago" is not noted for commercially popular numbers, but musically it works in terms of the show. The onstage band with music director Pierson at the keyboards has a speakeasy quality that provides a nice atmosphere; without overwhelming the performers.

Contributing to the atmosphere and. mood of the time is an unusual set design consisting of sepla-like photo murals of Chicago in the '20s. Congratulations to designer Robert Oris for the idea and execution.

There is one other performer - Dee Wrubel as Mary Sunshine. Her effervescent sob-sister character and comicopera voice are delightful, but let me warn you, things are not always what: they appear to be.

Which, on final analysis, is the one! truth you may indeed learn from this show. For example, how did two hours pass so quickly when everyone was having so much fun?

Young violinist proves captivating soloist

A few weeks ago Canadian cellist Ofra Harny performed with the Oakway Symphony. Sunday afternoon violinist George Marsh, an exciting and captivating young artist, soloed with the Plymouth Symphony playing Brahms Violin Concerto in D Major.

Marsh graduated from the University of Michigan as a student of Paul Makanowitzky and is a former member of the Plymouth Symphony. He has studied with the Guarneri String Quartet.

With that background he won a spot in the violin section of the National Symphony Orchestra, which is under the direction of fa-mous cellist Mistalay Rostropovich.

BRAHMS' "Violin Concerto in D Major" is considered by some to be one of the two greatest viclin concertos ever written (the other is the Beethoven). At Sunday's concert, Marsh gave it a splendid performance with an intensity that brought interest and excitement to the work.

Marsh is at his best during the fast-moving and rhythmical first and third movements. The conclusion of the first movement was one of the most beautiful and touching moments of the concert. In the second movement, he had a tendency to lose the intensity of the music during the long phrases that typify Brahms.

So many performers are good technically but are unable to inspire an audience in performance. It was a pleasure to hear an artist who not only could play well but could also give an exciting

Director John Ford and star Henry Fonda, who had played "Mister Roberts" on Broadway for seven years, physically fought over changes that Ford introduced to the play during filming. Ford, so distraught over Fonda's "interference" and the breakup of what had been a wonderful friendship, proceeded to drink himself sick. He

Working from the basement of his Canton home, Jerry Van Dusen makes a variety of objects out of pewter, including candlesticks and inkwells. A mallet with leather at one end is one of the tools he uses.

By Mary Klemic staff writer

The young craftsman is hard at work, using a wooden mallet to pound molten pewter into the shape of a plate. An old wooden bench holds an assortment of other tools nearby.

It's a scene from colonial America. But it also takes place often in the Canton home of Jerry Van Dusen.

Van Dusen teaches business communication at Wayne State University and science and technical writing at Wayne County Community College. And he is one of the few pewtersmiths in the midwest, he said.

Van Dusen, who appears at the Plymouth Fall Festival, makes some 15 different pewter objects, including napkin rings, inkwells, candlesticks, candle snuffers, coasters, plates, mugs and porringers. A porringer is a shallow cup with a handle.

"People used to use porringers to spoon soup or gruel from the cooking porringer," Van Dusen explained. "But since people don't do that anymore, the porringers can be used as mint or candy dishes, or as ashtrays if there are glass liners in them."

Some works can be used today the same way they were used hundreds of years ago, Van Dusen sald.

"I made my aunt an inkwell, and she wrote me a thank you note entirely with the quill and ink," he said.

MANY THINK of colonial times when they see pewter objects, but the material dates back to ancient China, Van Dusen said.

Pewter is an alloy of three metals: VAN DUSEN creates pewter works tip, copper and antimony. As tip isn't mined in the United States, pewter has become expensive, according to Van Dusen. His handmade pewter objects

"We import from South America, "I encourage people to use it, as it England and Malaysia," he said. "The cost is expensive. It depends on specu-

Van Dusen purchases 50-pound bars of pewter and melts them into small pot, and they would eat right from the ingots to work with, using a hotplate heated to 550 degrees.

"It has an advantage over brass or copper, as it can be melted at relatively low heat," he said.

Using a plumber's ladle, Van Dusen pours the pewter into molds made of hard wood, brass, aluminum or allicone rubber. After the pewter has set. Van Dusen smooths it by filing or with a buffing wheel. He pounds the pewter with a wooden mallet that is covered with leather on one end. Van Dusen may spray the work with graphite to give it an antique look.

"It's time consuming," Van Dusen said. "I can make a plate in a couple hours. An inkwell takes the better part of a day. Some works take half a week."

AN ADVANTAGE of pewter is that it's "something serviceable," Van Dusen said. He said that pewter without lead can be used as eating utensils. "It's decorative but has a functional use," he said. "It's intended to be used. It's practical and attractive.

"In colonial days, if you damaged a plate, for example, the resident pewtersmith would melt the plate down and pour it into a mold and make a new one.

Pewter doesn't require special care, according to Van Dusen. He prefers what he calls the "natural antiquing" of pewter works. To brighten pewter, he recommends brushing concentric circles onto it with four-zero steel wool that had been rubbed into a bar of Ivo-

Van Dusen became interested in pewter when he saw it at an art show five years ago. He was one of three persons who apprenticed under Swedish pewtersmith John Groot. Van Dusen watched pewter demonstrations at Greenfield Village and further researched and practiced the craft. -

There are few in the midwest doing it," he said. "No one is teaching it."

Van Dusen teaches the craft and also does repair work. He has more complicated pewter projects in mind:

"My next goal is a service demitasse or a collec or tea service," he said.

How to put a price tag n your works of art

This is another in a series of lessons on art and drawing by special columnist David Messing. He has taught for eight vears and operates an art store, Art Store and More, 18774 Middlebelt, Livonia. Messing ecourages questions and comments from readers. You may write him at his store or c/o Observer Newspapers, 23352 Farmington Road, Farmington MI 48024.

By David Messing special writer

When holidays, birthdays or special occasions approach, many artists are asked to draw pictures.

Being asked to draw or paint a picture is truely a compliment, but to many a commission brings anxietyfilled moments. The word anxiety is being fearful about the outcome.

For many artists the request for their abilities comes unexpected and usually they are unprepaired mentallyto handle the request. If we could hear the inner thoughts of many artists go something like this:

INTERESTED PERSON: Hi, I've seen some of your drawings and I was wondering if you would consider doing you do? Insist on paying the other $10? a pet portrait of my snauzer-pooh?

FLUSTERED ARTIST (thinking): Oh, no! I mean, sure! Wait a minute, do I charge? Sure, I charge. What does he think I am? . . . How much? $10. . . . No. $15. . . . No. $10. . . . I wonder if I'm blushing. . . . Help!

WITH A LITTLE mental preparation you will be able to handle the situation with no anxiety and in a friendly, professional way.

First of all there are those who feel that asking you to draw their whatever is a compliment and they have no intention of payment. Imagine this type of person approaching you and saying, "I've noticed how well you wash your car and I thought I would let you wash my new one for free."

Well, you wouldn't consider that request too long, so why be upset by such a person's request of your falents?

Renjeinder, 'a laborer gels' paid lot what he will do and an artist gets paid his car for free simply because you can wash cars well and certainly you wouldn't do art work for free simply because you are asked.

Art requires time - a commodity that slips through our fingers like sand. Your time is precious to you, and if your time is coupled with your talent and both are directed towards the request of another person, than payment is certainly expected.

Artifacts

But what if it is for Aunt Peggy or sister Sue? How can you charge them? Of course only you know who you can charge and from whom you would not consider payment. But relatives can't all be "freebles" or you might be painting the rest of their lives and most of

THERE IS A WAY to handle the request for your talents with strangers, friends and even some relatives. Setting a minium fee is what I recommend. What your minimum fee is, however, is up to you.

I recommend $15 to $25 to begin with. Believe me, there is nothing worse than begrudging the person you are drawing for. The flatery of being commissioned fades fast as the hours pass, everyone is in bed, and your eye bags are beginning to swell.

After several twilight hours that nice guy who commissioned you becomes a ripoff artist and you become the artist he ripped off. But who's fault is it?

Let's say you went into a store to buy when asked to draw a picture, it might a steam iron and when you asked the owner if the price was really $25 he said, "Yes, but if you think that is too

> Of course not. You would take his best offer. And your best offer is what your customers will take. Here is where a minimum fee becomes a good opener for negotiations.

> Let's say you quote a minimum fee of $25. To this quote there are usually three answers. The first is "OK, I'il think about it and get back with you." Better not count on it. They might be the type that would let you wash their > new car for free. The second response is, "$25, well that's about what I figured." This person had given some thought to the commission and is probably prepaired to go another $15 or so.

. The third response is, "Oh, of course I intended to pay much more than $25." This response is not as odd as it sounds and is more frequent. This tells you that this person wants a work of art and not just a sketch.

for what he can do. You wouldn't wash. say, "Of course that quote is only a pen- even double your fee. If they continue cil sketch, but if you want full color it to return, then you may be more con-will be a little higher." Many times I will ask a customer how much he or she intends on spending. This tells me what kind of a job they are looking for, I recently quoted a job and the customer raised the fee $100 more than I quoted. I knew exactly what kind of a job he wanted and that extra $100 was, needless to say, "inspiring."

HOW PRECIOUS is the moment when you receive your first check for art work commissioned by a complete stranger. How awesome is the moment when the check bounces. So welcome to the commerical field of art. That is why cash is always best from customers you don't know person-

Another problem is when the impulse buyer commissions you and changes their mind after you have already done the art work. To remedy this you require sufficient amount down to cover your time before you even begin.

One other famous culprit customer is the one who wants you to make changes. Changes in the finished piece are very difficult and often require half the time it took to draw the original.

What I would recommend is to do a pencil sketch and let the customer see this and ask them if there are any changes they would like made. If not, then you will be all set to finish.

Best or worst of all is the last-minute commission customer. There you are trying to organize your life and doing fine. Then out of the clear blue comes "as soon as possible" commission and when you receive a down payment. much, pay me $15." Now what would. But for every corker, kook and problem customer there are 100 sincerely wonderful people who appreciate your abilities and show it by their conduct and payment.

> AS YOUR WORKS increase in demand, you may find yourself looking for that 25th hour in the day and the eighth day of the week. So you either reserve a bed in emergency and keep up the "artathon" life style, or raise your minimum fee.

> I am pleased to find that once you increase your fee, your attitude changes. Instead of them telling you what they want you to charge, you are telling them what you must receive.

Remember, you set the mood. There are some pushy people out there, so just let them push right on past you. Stay busy with the clientele. Bend over backwards for those you like doing art. for and give them your best price per

Those you do not like to do work for So after that response you need only are easy to lose; simply increase or tent to deal with them since they are paying you well.

Before receiving any commission, be sure of what the customer wants. Clearly discuss amounts desired for the work and when the work is to be completed. Also be sure to secure a sufficlent down payment. Then with your mind off business you'll be amazed how expressive you can be.

Make self-portraits interesting with unusual props and poses

Painters Rembrandt and Van Gogh did it. Photographers Steichen and Kertesz did it. And you, with your camera, can do it too.

The common denominator, perhaps the ultimate form of self-expression, is the self portrait.

In taking a self portrait, you have the advantage of being both the subject and the photographer, thereby being in total control of the final result.

Self portraits can be challenging yet gratifying and can have a more personal quality than any portrait made by another person.

There are many ways to make self portraits. The easiest is to stand in front of a mirror while you take a picture of your reflection.

WATCH FOR items in the viewfinder you may not want in the final shot. Plan to wear clothing or use props that will complement your portrait.

Be sure to focus on the reflection itself, not the mirror, and don't use flash or the glare will wash out the image. . If you want to use a mirror but want to exclude your camera from the shot, mount the camera on a tripod to the side of you, angled so that it doesn't appear in the viewlinder. A cable release or the self-timer will enable you to trip the shutter. Don't overlook other reflective surfaces for expressive self portraits, too. Your reflection in a pond of water, a store window, or a chrome bumper will produce an unusual self portrait. Without a mirror, you may need to create the picture entirely in your mind before you begin.

HAVE YOUR pose and expression in mind and have any props or other objects already set in place for an environmental picture.

With your camera on a tripod, compose carefully and know exactly where you want to be when the self-timer activates the shutter.

Using your own shadow can be another creative self portrait method. Taking a picture of your shadow on a road, against a building, or with some other subject can reward you with symbolic self portraits.

The time of day dramatically affects the size and shape of your shadow, consequently many creative possibilities

As in all good photographs, if a self portrait is to be effective, it should convey a strong feeling or idea. Strive to show a certain mood or emotion in your shot. Try to say something about

Don't limit yourself to facial shots. Be creative - consider a shot of yourself looking out the window or performing an exercise.

Try a photo of just your hands, or your feet, or even just your eyes. What is important is to be expressive and to say through your self portrait "this is

ASK TONY GARRIST

YOUR

Q. Our home has been appraised for $62,000. We believe It's worth more and want to list for $70,500. What do you think? Mr. and Mrs. N. - Canton.

A. Remember that the buyer is a comparison shopper who is familiar with current market prices, in a buyer's market, the competition is keen and the buyer has a number of homes from which to make a selection. If a property is overpriced, a salesperson will not want to show it and the buyer will find it easier to look elsewhere. Overpriced listings create a bad first impression which is difficult to erase when the seller finally decides to lower the price. The overpriced home, which is finally reduced, often sells for less than if it had been properly priced in the first place. It generally stays on the market too long and ends up giving the buyer the feeling that there is something wrong with it.

In general the consequences of overpricing are: buyers won't look having evaluated on the price alone; buyers are lost even when the price is lowered; salespeople are discouraged; loan money may be impossible to obtain even if the buyer is willing to pay

Therefore, we advise you to fist at the appraised value Thinking of selling your home? Market yours with Gall Hodge & Tony Garrisi and deal with "Michigan's Largest Real Estate Company." We offer Equity Advances, Trades and Nationwide Relocation as just a few or our many services. Peaders may address their Real Estate questions to Gall or Tony by writing t/o Real Estate One, 35015 Ford Road, Westland, Mt 48185. All questions will be answered. Greenfield Village

Christmas past is its present

A Victorian Santa Claus will lead a cast of characters in traditional celebrations that capture the color of Christmas past Dec. 3-31 at Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village.

Holiday visitors will be able to meet the creators of our modern image of Santa Claus as well as the jolly elf himself. Illustrator and cartoonist Thomas Nast and writer Clement Moore, who composed "The Night Before Christmas," will be portrayed.

Yuletide foods, singers and performances on antique musical instruments will provide a festive atmosphere throughout the museum's great hall. Children will be invited to play with reproductions of 19th-century toys, and everyone in the family can enjoy making their own period ornaments and greeting

PREPARATIONS FOR the holiday will be shown in more than a dozen of historic buildings at Greenfield Village. showing the range of activities during the 19th century.

In the house of Thomas Edison's grandparents, cooking and family activities of an 1860s holiday will promise a warm respite from December's chill-Candies are made in the 19th-century home where H.J. Heinz produced the first of "57 kinds" of condiments.

A rural Christmas of the 1870s is portrayed at the boyhood home of Henry Ford, decorated with ornaments of natur ral materials and a simple tabletop tree trimmed with handmade flags reminiscent of the centennial.

In contrast, the nearby urban home of Orville and Wilbur Wright will celebrate a Christmas of 1909. A full-size tree with paper and store-bought ornaments, surrounded by gaily wrapped presents is the centerpiece. Similar decorations deck the halls throughout.

Yulctide Evening at Greenfield Village offers another holiday experience for visitors. The after-hours event features a candlelight dinner with musical entertainment at either the Eagle Tavern or Heritage Hall in Henry Ford Museum. The highlight of the evening is a sleigh ride and walking tour through the village, with hot spiced cider as a warm ending to the occasion. Yuletide Evenings are scheduled for Dec. 1-31, except Dec. 24-25, and require advance reservations by calling 271-1620.

Oh what fun it is to ride in a two-horse open sleigh on the Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum grounds during the holidays.

"Say dog biscuit." Don't hesitate to pass the camera around this Christmas so children get a chance to record some of their favorite holiday moments.

Picture this: an album of holiday photos

F YOUR HOLIDAY photos are disappointing, maybe you need to change attitudes and not equipment.

Is there only one family member who takes the holiday pictures each year? Do most of the pictures show kids opening gifts? If so, this is year to change your habits and let others enjoy the fun of photography and to begin your children's photographic education.

Children will love being able to take pictures of their parents opening the gifts they gave them or being able to photograph their fiends, pets or prized possessions. With many newer cameras, the flash is automatically fired when it is needed and the ofilm is advanced after each shot, leaving the photographer free to concentrate on the basics of a picture.

Try to involve more adults in the picture-taking too. If the same person is missing from most of the holiday pictures in your photo album, the odds are that's the person who does most of the photography. By passing the camera among the whole family, you can get pictures of everybody enjoying the holidays

Make the most of your seasonal picture-taking by following these tips.

- Have plenty of film and fresh batteries on hand. Check your flash unit.
- The more spontaneous your photos the better. When taking group or individual portraits, make your subject look comfortable. Avoid unnatural poses and
- talk to your subjects to help them relax.

 ◆ Start taking photos early in the season. The trimming of the tree, baking of cookies all are subjects you'll want to capture on film.

- Work with natural light when you can. But the holidays aren't the time to experiment with conditions you're unsure of. Rely on your flash when in doubt.
- Know how your camera works. If it's been awhile since you've taken photos or if you're using a new or borrowed camera, take a practice roll of film.
- Study your surroundings. Windows and mirrors can ruin your pictures if the flash is aimed directly at either. It's best to aim the flash at a reflective surface on an angle to avoid having the reflections come back directly to the camera lens.
- Get close to your subjects to capture their expressions. Faces, not feet, make for the best photos. Instead of stepping back, the photographer should step forward for good, tight photos.
- Watch the background for distracting objects that may appear to "grow" from someone's head in the actual picture. Our eyes are sometimes selective, but the camera sees everything.
- Try to photograph kids with presents they receive from relatives. These pictures make excellent thank-you notes.
- Plan your photos ahead of time. Make a list of the photos you want to be sure to get. Then tape the list on the back of the camera.
- Avoid trying to put too much into one photograph. The trick is to take several pictures, zeroing in on a single activity at a time.
- Vary the angles, distances and styles of your pictures. Don't forget that you can shoot with the caniera held horizontally or vertically. Try both before selecting your composition.

Framed

Give a portrait for a gift

HEN GRANDPARENTS or other loved ones live far away, one of the best ways you can stay in touch this Christmas and after is with a family group portrait framed and ready to hang on their walls

If it's been a few years since you've had a family group portrait made, it may be time to have another that shows how the children have grown.

A family portrait made by a professional photographer can be as creative and varied as your lifestyle. For a formal, traditional look, you can arrange to have a portrait made in the studio with dramatic lighting and background. For a photograph that captures a more informal lifestyle, consider a portrait made in your home or outdoors in a park or other suitable location.

Because the holiday season may be the photographer's busiest during the year, it is wise to plan ahead for an appointment.

When you make the appointment with the photographer, select the style and setting for the portrait session. The professional will be able to answer any questions you may have about coordinating clothing colors and styles for each member of the family.

. Generally, it is best for women to seject outfits with long or three-quarter length sleeves, flattering - not bulky necklines and a minimum of jewelry and accessories. Black and stark white should be avoided except as accent col. ors. Men can opt for conservative business suits - again, avoiding solid black - or coordinated slacks, sweaters and shirts for an informal portrait. Children should be dressed in appropriate outfits. but avoid T-shirts and jeans, which will soon look outdated.

Your photographer will probably advise bringing two or three choices of outfits for each person to the portrait

If you have a treasured family pet, you may wish to have it in the group portrait. Alert your photographer ahead of time so he is prepared to handle and pose the pet.

If your children are grown and away ut school, try to arrange a portrait session for the Thanksgiving weekend when they will all be home to celebrate. Be sure to let the photographer know you wish the portrait ready for holiday gift.

If you don't have enough time between the portrait session and the holidays to have the final photograph framed and wrapped, ask the photographer to make a small print of the selected view and give this to your loved ones with a note explaining the present to

Teddy

He bears with us through thick and thin

Stocks go up and stocks go down, but in toyland, there's always a bear market. Primarly responsible for this state of affairs is an almost-octogenarian bear cub named Teddy. In a fast-paced, fad-oriented and fickle-minded society, the forever young Teddy Bear remains one of America's all-time favorite toys.

"Never in the history of Wall Street was the country more at the mercy of bears than it is today," cried the toy industry's trade magazine. Playthings, in 1906. "Stuffed plush Teddies are fairly rampant, and indications show prospects of a long and continued reign."

How right they were. Fleeting fame has come to other stuffed animals. Lions and tigers have tried on occasion to push Teddy off center stage in the toy store window. One year, unicorns, true to type, tried to horn in on Teddy's act. Nonetheless. "our retailers tell us the Teddy Bear is still number one." Donna Leccese, Playthings' current associate editor, says. Douglas Thomson, president of the Toy Manufacturers of America, agrees. "There's no decline in this species. The Teddy is on the increase."

First among equals perhaps because each bear owner naturally thinks his or her Teddy is best is a seldom seen Teddy Bear who lives at the Smithsonian's National Museum of American History in Washington D.C. This delightful chap, with his honey-colored coat covering a rather rotund belly, has bright black shoe button eyes and a wisdom-of-the-ages (if slightly smug) expression. He only meets his public occasionally.

We've had lots of requests for him, and he's been on view of a number of times," Herb Collins, formerly the Smithsonian's chief curator of political history, says, "But we have to be careful; his joints loosen with handling and his coat fades in the light." Actually, for a bear who's been around since the turn of the century, he's in excellent condition. And the Smithsonian Institution wants him to stay that way because he's one of the first teddy bears made in America.

It was Herb Collins, now the executive director so the Smithsonian's National Philatelic Collection, who personally brought this teddy to the Smithsonian in 1964. President Theodore Roosevelt's gradson, Kermit, his wise and their children had been presented with the Teddy Bear, one of the originals from the Ideal Toy Co... by Benjamin Michtom, son of Ideal's sounder. Michtom dated the bear to 1903, the year his parents went into the toy bear-making business. The Roosevelts decided that the teddy bear, named for the presient, should go to the Smithsonian.

He almost didn't make it. A letter from Mrs. Roosevelt to Michtom advised: "I was about to get in touch with the Smithsonian about presenting them with the original bear when the children decided they didn't want to part with it yet." Happily, Mark and Anne Roosevelt, the president's great-grandchildren, changed their minds. Several months later, the Smithsonian and the American people got their bear.

Theodore Roosevelt, however, didn't always get his. On Nov. 14, 1902, the president was on a hunting expedition in Smedes, Miss., and had no luck Anxious that the president bag a bear, some of his party chased down and stunned a 235-pound black bear. The hunters roped the bear and tied it to a tree. A messenger was dispatched to summon the president so that he might shoot the animal and go home with a trophy. When the president arrived, he refused to shoot the exhausted and tethered creature.

The shot not fired was heard around the land. Three Press Association representatives were with the hunting party and a small army of reporters was following the president's trail. On Nov. 16, 1902, a cartoon by Clifford Berryman of the incident appeared on the front page of the Washington Post. The American public immediately responded to the story and the cartoon, presumably finding in them the heroic and sportsman-like qualities it saw in the president.

Shortly, however, the whole matter took on a more whimsical tone. A subsequent Berryman cartoon of the same hunting episode, dated 1902, depicted the bear as smaller than the one in the first cartoon a worried looking and very appealing cub. Berryman's little bear was a great success and appeared in hits cartoons of Theodore Roosevelt for years afterwards. In fact, Teddy's bear was everywhere. Observed historian Mark Sullivan:

The "Teddy Bear," beginning with Berryman's original cartoon, was repreated thousands of times and printed literally thousands of millions of times. Toy-makers took advantage of its vogue, it became more common in the hands of children than the woolly lamb.

Legend and family oral history have it that Brooklyn candy store owners Rose and Morris Michtom, gave America its first stuffed bear toy and named it for Theodore Roosevelt. According to their son, Benjamin Who died in 1980). Morris Michtom was inspired by the Berry man cartoon and wrote to the president, asking his permission to make a small bear cub and call it "Teddy's Bear." As Benjamin Michtom heard the story from his father, the president agreed, although T.R. was said to have expressed doubt that his name would mean much in the toy bear business.

Despite the skepticism. Rose Michtom made a few samples of the new teddy bear. In 1903, Butler Brothers, a large wholesaler, agreed to distribute it, and the Ideal Novelty and Toy Co. was born. "I've been hearing the story since I ws a tiny child," Mark Michtom says. Currently a senior vice president of Ideal Toy Corp., Morris Michtom's grandsons heartily appreciates the fact that a teddy bear started a multimillion dollar business.

The teddy bear has, in fact, started several multimillion-dollar businesses, although they prefer to think they started him. Another firm famous for its teddy bears is the Steiff Co. of Giengen-on-the Brenz, West Germany, headed today by Hans-Qtto Steiff, great-grandnephew of its founder. Noah had nothing on the Steiff Co. menageric - everything from a peacock with real feathers to a lifesized giraffe. "But the teddy bear is still our most popular animal." says Steiff, himself a kindly bear of a man. According to the Steiff bear tale told and retold by family members over the years, an American buyer brought several thousand of their toy bears to America in . 1903. In 1907, a vintage year for teddy bears. Steiff sold nealy a million toy-bear inlmigrants.

By then, practically every large American city boasted two or more teddy bear factories. There was a teddy bear whose eyes lighted up, one who whistled, one who played music, one who tumbled and one who laughed, revealing a set of teeth (like the presient's), the better to "bare" them at his critics."

In this same bearish year, young women regularly were seen driving throgh Central Park in Columbia electric victorieas and other fancy vehicles, their teddies the only passenger. But teddy bears were not just for the rich. By 1908, the Sears and Roebick catalog advertised a family of three bears for 25 cents. (Parents provided the Goldilocks;) The growing teddy bear population so alarmed a Michigan minister that he warned that replacing dolls with toy bears would destroy the maternal instinct in little girls.

Teddy was not to blame. If blame were to be laid, good old American knowhow was the culprit. "Hardly a day passed but that a new teddy article is brought before the public Playthings trumpeted. The tiny "Humpty-Dumpty" teddy came apart, revealing a miniature compact. Teddy bears were on automobiles, buttons and china, as well as on linens, stationery, jewelry, postcards, sheet music and even hot water

In this year's gift catalogs, teddies are turning up once again - including a teddy bear sleeping bag and a furry teddy bear hot-water bottle. For that extra special someone, there's a natural ranchmink teddy. Stores selling only teddy bears and related bear-mobilia are springing up all over America, and antique teddies self for hundreds of dollars.

Clearly. America is experiencing a new teddy bear awareness. Last year the 108year-old Zoological Society of Philadelphia, America's first chartered zoo, held "America's First Great Teddy Bear Rally." For two days 25,000 people and an undetermined number of bears marched in parades, entered contests, attended bear-care clinics and swapped bear tales.

Arctophilists, as collectors of bear-like models are known, abound. Matthew Murphy, board chairman of the Republie Bank of Plano. Texas started at the age of 5, back in 1935, with three dozen. four-inch teddies. First they were solo. diers and later they became football players with numbers and records. "Today they are retired bank executives." Murphy says. He owns 1.257 bears, but-"only" 230 of them are teddies.

The Good Bears of the world, with 7.000 members, is a non-profit organization dedicated to donating bears to children and older people in hospitals, institutions or wherever they are needed. Through their dens in many states, the Good Bears have given away 75,000 teddies and other bears since the group was founded in 1973. So far, 11 states have proclaimed Theodore Roosevelt's birthday, Oct. 27, as Good Bear Day. The group is urging the United Nations to _declare 1985 "The Year of the Teddy Bear."

It's a bear market

Why all the fuss over a stuffed furry creature? New York City's Big Apple. Bear Den put it this way: "We have an enduring affection for the teddy bear. finding it to be a universal symbol of love, comfort and joy."

Psychiatrist Dr. Paul Horton of Meriden. Conn., agrees, applauding the therapeutic value of the teddy bear as a "solacing object." Horton is the author of "Solace: The Missing Dimension in Psychiatry" (University of Chicago Press, 1981). The solacing object might be a teddy bear or any other stuffed animal, a security blanket, a sailboat or a live pet, so long as it gives comfort in times of, stress of change.

Horton often "prescribes" teddy bears for both children and adults as a supplement to an overall treatment program. One 12-year-old boy who suffered from' nightmares received a tiny teddy from Horton with instructions "to talk with it every night and put it under his pillow to protect him when he went to sleep." The nightmares stopped.

The growing teddy bear population so alarmed a Michigan minister that he warned that replacing dolls with toy bears would destroy the maternal instinct in little girls,

So Teddy has a serious side. He is a willing listener who can share good times and bad. He's also huggable, cleans around the house and cheap to feed. No wonder America is going crazy over him once again.

At least one person, however, was immune to his charm Theodore Roosevelt's daugther Alice Roosevelt Longworth. When offered one of the original teddy bears in exchange for posing with the teddy on the occasion of the bear's 60th birthday, she refused, asking tartly, "What does a 79-year-old doll want with a 60-year-old teddy bear?".

Children's safety is top priority

IS THE SEASON for families to discover, the magic, wonder, warmth and the joy that only the December holidays can bring. It's a time for fun and excitement and also time when parents have to be especially attuned to their children's needs.

Despite the best of intentions, the holidays can sometimes be disorienting and confusing to a child. To help fully enjoy the wonderful things this seasn has to offer, here are some tips to consider.

A major concern parents have during the holiday season is selecting toys for their children that are safe. This is especially true for first-time parents who may be less familiar with appropriate toys and how to judge a toy's safety fea-

According to Dr. Paula Abrams-Smith, staff child psychologist for Fisher-Price Toys, evaluating toys for possible safety hazards is something every parent should do. "It's not complicate ed once you know what to look for," she Abrams Smith advises parents to watch for thin walls, small parts, long pull cords, sharp points, flimsly construction, pinch points and unprotected edges.

"Of course, all types of projectiles. such as darts and rubber bands, should be avoided especially for infants. Try to eanticipate how any toy you are considering for your child can be misused." she

If this is your baby's first Chirstmas or Hanukkah, Abrams-Smith suggests a few basic toys that almost all infants? find interesting and stimulating. Huggable, cuddly soft toys help provide a secure, comfortable feeling (no matter what your baby's sex) and can be used in almost any play environment. Musical mobiles are ideal for encouraging young infants to listen as well as track movement and color. In bright, eyecatching colors, rattles and teethers are for mounting, holding, shaking and watch-

Make both time exciting with floating water toys. Babies love to experiment with pouring and splashing. The use of puppets can help initiate play with other members of the family. Toys with suction-cup bottoms can be played with but stay in place when attached to high chairs, and simple shape sorters begin to teach discrimination skills at an early

Toys that can be played with immediately after unwrapping usually go over best with small children, according to Abrams-Smith. Consequently, seasonal gift's such as pool toys aren't approprate for the winter season. Good things come in small computers ▼OMPUTERS have grown more and more powerful, and they're coming in smaller and smaller packages. This holiday season, some of the hottest gift items are bound to be those new, savvy little portable computers that can easily be toted in a briefcase or book bag.

Portable computers can be a time-saving tool for business people or students on the run, but gift-givers need to be sure they buy a portable system that matches the needs of the person who will be using it.

The wide range of sizes, prices and features among portables means that shoppers must select wisely. To start off, they should become familiar with what's on the market.

Models vary from handhelds - pocket-size machines with single-line displays - to 20. or 30-pound systems, called transportables, that are no easier to lugthan a portable typewriter. In between are notebook-size computers that fit into a briefcase but still have capabilities similar to larger desk-top machines. And among those in the notebook-size catagory alone, prices range from $800 to

"You need to begin shopping with list of features the owner will need on the computer," said Ron Ockander, de rector of sales for Epson America Inc. " you match the tasks he or she needs to accomplish with the computer, you'r much more likely to spend your money on the right kind of system."

First, he advises, determine where the computer will be used. Someone who tre vels frequently and needs the machine to work and communicate on the road needs a lighweight, compact system Transportables have a full-size screet and keyboard, but they're heavy and

It's also important to keep in mind how long the computer will be used at stretch. Some systems can run up to 50 hours without recharging, others only for five. Consider, too, whether the comput er should incorporate a printer. Many owhers need to produce hard copies of their work right away.

Ockander recommends that you ask if the computer can be easily hooked up to a larger system or printer. One of the greatest advantages of a portable system is its ability to send information back to a home or office-based computer.

Beta, VHS, VCR

Variety is the name of video-equipment

In this age of electronics, one of the most popular family gift choices is a home entertainment center. But choosfing the components that will give you the best value and meet your individual needs in sot easy.

Michael Thaller, a distributor of TV programming for World Communica. tions in Los Angeles, says it is important to learn all that you can, not only about the different kinds of equipment available and their uses, but also the types of stores that want to sell to you.

• VIDEO CASSETTE recorders (VCRs) - The most important thing to learn is that they come in both Beta and VHS models. The two types of tape are similar but cannot be interchanged.

'The main consideration is finding out what system your friends have in the event you trade tapes," Thaller said. WHS is more popular since more titles are are available on VHS, but the wait-Ing lines are also longer to rent or purchase the tapes."

Some VCR manufacturers offer machines with sterco capability, but since your TV doesn't have stereo sound whatever you tape off the TV will still come through in mono.

• VCR OPTIONS - VCR units range from $400 to over $1,100 with options causing the vast price spread.

"The basic model usually has a 24. hour timer and a mechanical tuner," Thaller said. "You can record any one show in 24 hours and usually that's all you need." Otherwise, he said, you'll get a stockpile of unviewed tapes that you won't have time to see if you_didn't have time to watch the original broadcasts.

Programmable timers and electronic tuners cost hundreds of dollars.

The one feature Thaller believes worth the money is the search-cue and review button.

"You can search through the tape while you're watching it and get through the commercials."

 VIDEO DISCS — Discs are played on machines that look like record players and include movies and entertainment specials as well as sports, cartoons, rock music, travel and other features. The machines are less expensive than VCRs - priced about $300-$500 - but they can be used only for playback, not recording.

"The advantage to the disc is that it has somewhat better picture quality, much better sound quality and costs one-third that of a prerecorded movie tape," Theiler said. But you can tape four two-hour movies off the TV onto a VHS tape for the cost of a video disc. The most likely customers for video discs are those who can't get cable programming of have no desire to tape conventional television shows.

• CAMERAS - Picture quality varies little from the least expensive to the most expensive models, according to Thaller. "What you are paying for is the electronic viewfinder, color capability and picture tube, and instantaneous playback ability."

Hanukkah: a festival of freedom

ANUKKAH, the eight-day Jewish Festival of Lights, celebrates the first struggle in human history when men fought not for material possessions and land but for the ideals of liberty and religious freedom.

In 175 BC, Antiochus IV became the king of Syria, the land to which Israel had been annexed. He tried to force the Jews to renounce their faith and their customs, to worship Greek idols so that the kingdom would be composed of one people, all uniform, all believing and doing the same things.

Antiochus decreed that any Jew caught observing the Sabbath or having in his possession the Torah Scroll, the Five Books of Moses, or who in any way maintained Jewish ceremonies and did not worship the Greek gods, many of whose statues bore the features of Autiochus - would be killed.

The flag of rebellion was raised in Modin, a small town northwest of Jerusalem by Mattathias and his five sons, who rallied Jews from the entire country to join their guerilla forces. After the death of Mattahias, the fight was continued under the leadership of Judah Maccabee. Maccabee is Hebrew for hammer and symbolizes that Judah and his Maccabees were the "hammer of the Lord" as they fought against the Syr.

Through brilliant military tactics, Judah and Maccabee and his small group of followers, won a series of victories against the well equipped Syrian legions in 168 BC. The last victory at Emmaus opened the road to Jerusalem in 165 BC. Following that, they gained possession of Jerusalem and began to clean and rededicate the temple.

After the cleansing and restoration, preparations were made to rededicate the temple. But ritually prepared oil could not be found. After much searching a little cruse of oil was found, bearing the priestly scal. This quantity of oil might normally have been expected to last for one day. But the oil lasted for eight days and was called the miracle of Hanukkah, which is the Hebrew word for dedication.

SINCE THAT TIME, Hanukkah lights have been lit in Jewish homes in all parts of the world. These lights commemorated the relighting of the eternal light or the "Nehr Tomid" in the ancient Temple in Jerasulem by the Maccabees. They have come to signify the right of people to freedom of religion and to loyalty to one's traditions. It represents the triumph of democrary over tyranny.

So it is that Hanukkah is a happy Jewish holiday that is essentially celebrated at home. It is marked by the lighting of candles. Beginning with one candle on the first night, an additional candle is lighted each successive night of the holiday until on the final evening, eight candles will be lit. A special pilot candle or "shammas" is used to light the candle which are placed in a menorah, an eightbranched candelabra reminiscent of the candelabra in the ancient temple.

The candle lighting is accompanied by the chanting of blessings and is followed by songs. Prayers of praise and thangsgiving hymns are recited in every service throughout the eight days.

HANUKKAH IS OFTEN marked by the giving of gifts. In some instances, a child is given a different gift after the blessing of the candles each night of the holiday. One of the favorite games played on Hanukkah is that of dreidel: This is a four-sided top, on each side of which a Hebrew letter is marked signifying whether the child is to put in a nut or other object, take the entire kitty, or half, or pass. The four Hebrew letters are the initial letters of the the Hebrew words, "Nes Gadal Hayah Sham," which means, "A great miracle happened there,"

Among the special foods prepared on Hanukkah, latkes or potato pancakes are the most popular. Kugen or potato pie and the loaf of bread called Chollaare also served.

Hanukkah is a time to receive guests, as well as a family reunion. Jewish homes are decorated with candles and flowers. It is also the occasion for comunity celebrations. There are parties, concerts, dramatic presentations in gaily decorated settings. Synagogues and religious schools and other Jewish institutions usually arrange special events in celebration of Hanukkah. But with all the festivity, the poor are not forgotten. They are usually recipients of Hanukkah gelt, gifts of money, or other necessities.

IN RECENT YEARS, another Hanukkah custom has been created in Israel. It is the torch relay. In Modin. where Mattathias initiated the fight for: freedom, a torch is lit and in relay it is passed from hand to hand until the final runner presents the torch to the president of the state amidst waiting and cheering people.

Jews believe the ceremony relights anew the inspiration and the courage of the modern Israeli Maccabees who persist in their struggle for human liberty, religious freedom and the existence of the state of Israel.

Tune up your alcohol awareness

Warning: The surgeon general has determined that the holidays may be dangerous to your health.

Facetious? Maybe, but true. Every year, we Americans overindulge during the holidays — and with relish.

We overspend and many of us overimbibe all under the guise of holiday spirit

However, those who overimbibe this season may get more than the resulting hangover. Tough new drunk driving laws are going to be strictly enforced and those caught driving while intoxicated may be spending the holidays in jail.

In 1981, more than 2.000 people died on the nation's highways — victims of drunk drivers. But the loss of life in accidents caused by drunk drivers is something party-givers can do somthing about.

Today's wise party-givers know that the state's tough drunk driving laws will be doubly enforced this holiday season and are planning their parties to be lively but their guests sober.

The nation's CareUnit program and the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism suggest the following holiday tips for the host and hostess who are planning on serving alcohol at their party.

• Offer more than drinks. When the focal point is liquor, the party is definitely slipping. Stir up conversation, draw out a talented guest or play games, video or otherwise.

- Always have a jigger available when guests mix their own drinks. Guests who try to "eyeball", a jigger of booze will often end up drinking more than they had planned.
- If you plan on having a bartender, select one you know who will make the drinks "light" and will quietly "cut someone off" when they've had too much.
- If you're passing around glasses of champagne, do so at regular intervals. The body can handle about two-thirds of an ounce of alcohol an hour.
- Don't double up. Many people pace their drinks, so don't serve doubles. The body can usually handle one drink an hour, a double is the equivalent of two.
- Don't push drinks. Let a glass become empty before you refill. And then, don't rush; especially if someone comes up empty too often. When a guest says "no" to an alcoholic drink, don't insist.
- Provide something non-alcoholic to drink. While canned soda is fine, it is not as festive or budget-wise as a punch.
- Serve food. Many hosts and hostesses serve a late dinner so that guests eat something substantial before leaving the party. Food slows down the rate at which alcohol is absorbed by the body."
- Push snacks. Snacking slows down the rate at which people drink.
- If you notice one of your guests drinking too much, do what you can to slow him or her down. Offer some food, ask for their help in the kitchen keeping them occupied or volunteer to make their next drink and make it light.

Don't allow your holidays to turn to tragedy because of an overconsumption of alcohol. Every year drunk drivers are responsible for loss of life on the highways.

- Encourage your guests to carpool to the party, designating a specific driver who will stay sober for the evening.
- Many party-goers arrange with friends to take a cab or rent a limousine. Splitting the costs can make this less expensive and safe.

Every year we hear statistics on holiday fatalities. No host or hostess wants a guest to become a fatality, but every year some do. To avoid it, party-givers must be part diplomat, part psychologist and most of all, part police officer. Never let anyone drive home from your party who is not sober. Take their keys, call them a cab, drive them home yourself. The extra effort is worth it.

Parade of the toy soldiers

TERIOUS collectors wouldn't even consider buying a modern toy soldier.

"Today, a kid goes to a store to. buy toy soldiers, and he gets a bag of all one-color, cheap plastic figures that are so ugly!"

So says Jack Matthews, a Washington D.C. communications lawyer, who has a different impression of the toy soldiers of his boyhood. So different, in fact, that he ahs spent nearly 20 years of his adult life amassinga collection of 7,000 of them.

Matthews is not unusual in the world of toy soldier collecting. His friends, Neal Crowley, a construction firm executive, recently flew from his Los Angeles home to Washington for a lecture by Peter Johnson, curator for the Forbes Museum of Military Miniatures in Tangier, Morocco.

"I lose myself in them for hours," Crowley says of his armies.

The number of colelctors is growing. Frank G. Frisella, director of the AMerican Model Soldier Society and the American Militray Historical Society, founded in 1960, says his group's roster recently topped 500, and ther are many similar groups. A fair staged in Philadelphia by collectors has drawn more than 5,000

SO WHAT IS the appeal? Why do grown men fly thousands of miles, spend thousands of hours and dollars on these childhood relics?

"Nostalgia is the most telling appeal." says Johnson. "They're attractive, nice

Oh Tannenbaum: Your customs delight us

The custom of gathering the family around the Christmas tree for putting on lights, ornaments and strands of popcorn seems to be as American as the flag and apple pie.

Don't you believe it. Like most of our Christmas traditions, tree trimming came to this country along with the European immigrants.

It is difficult to trace the beginnings of the custom. Many myths and ancient stories surround it.

One of them is that Martin Luther started the tradition. The story goes that he was attempting to explain to his wife and children the beauty of the snow-covered forest under a glistening star-speckled sky.

According to the legend, he went into a garden, cut down a fir tree, dragged it into the nursery and put some candles onto the branches.

A picture of Martin Luther and his family surrounding "the first Christmas tree" has been prominently displayed in Protestant religious books throughout the years.

What is known is that in ancient times trees were worshipped by many people, and gifts were placed on the branches as sacrifices to the deities.

The practice of giving gifts to others was later introduced by the Christians Hence, gifts were hung on "Christian trees" or Christmas trees."

The earliest written record of Christmas trees is from 1521 in the province of Alsace in the upper Rhine in Germany Another reference is from Strasburg in 1605.

"At Christmas, fir tres are set up in the rooms and hung with roses cut from paper of many colors, apples, wafer, etc.," it is written.

Until the early 1800s, the use of Christmas trees was mainly a custom only in Germany. Historians cannot determine why in about 20 to 30 years, the practice spread throughout Europe. These Europeans later brought the tradition to the new land, the United States.

It is believed that tree trimming may have been an outgrowth of a practice adopted by early dwellers in the forest. They placed foodstuffs in trees during the night so they could be out of the reach of prowling animals.

Later pictures or replicas of foodstuffs such as ham and bacon were used as substitutes for the real items in order so they could be held by slender tree branches.

Cookies were soon added to the trees in the shape of flowers, bells, stars, angels, hearts and animals.

Then came the candles, ribbons, a star for the top, nuts, fruits covered with strings of beads, andother ornaments.

Before the introduction of electric ligths, wax candles caused serious fire hazzards in most homes. For this reason, candles were only placed on the Christmas tree for a few hours during the holiday season.

to handle and look at, and they're a good investment.

Toy figures have covered the gamut from Alexander the Great to Hitler from Wilham Tell to Kaiser Wilhelm, from George Washington to Queen Elizabeth.

Toy Egyptian soliders have been found in the tombs of the pharoas, and Roman and ancient Greek, examples have cropped up too. But it wasn't until the late 18th century that they became toys for ordinary children.

This happened round Nuremburg, Germany, when artisans used excess tin to make two-dimensional, "flat" soldiers for their children. The first to see the commercial potential was Johann Gottfried Hilpert, who marketed tiny flat versions of the armies of Frederick the Great.

The flats, made of an alloy of tin, lead and antimony, developed into a three-dimensional "round" soldier perfected by French and German firms. But the breakthrough came in the 1890s when an English firm, Britains, invented a means of making hollow-cast soldiers that could be sold for a penny apiece.

"They took the world's nurseries by storm," Johnson says.

Britains produced a variety of basic soldier models which were hand-painted in the uniforms of every British Army unit. Whenever a new conflict broke out. Britains would issue a new set featuring the combatants. It also marketed an English village scene in 1923 which led King George V to ask: "But where is the village idiot,"

The omission was soon remedied; the

The detail of a toy soldier can be seen in this hand-held miniature.

"village idiot" was sold for 15 years until it was removed for reasons of poor taste.

Britains stopped making lead-based soldiers in the 1960s due to the cost and pressure over the use of lead. Although Johnson notes, "I never heard of a kid having problems, short of swallowing a Bengal Lancer."

The German industry was wiped out in World War II, and American figures never amounted to much, except for the dime store models which dominated the low end of the market...

It was the end of production of highquality pieces that spurred the collecting market, so that individual pieces now sell at auction for as much as several hundred dollars.
