'Lenient' sentence spurs lawsuit

By Tedd Schneider____ staff writer

Enraged by what they feel is an overly lenient sentence, a Westland couple has filed a lawsuit against the man who sexually assaulted their 5year-old daughter and another girl.

The civil suit was filed in Wayne County Circuit Court last week by John and Lois Webster. It asks for unspecified damages against John Shippy of Westland. Shippy's wife, Jill, is named as a co-defendant.

As of Friday, no trial date had

Mr. Shippy told the Observer that. he was told by his attorney not to discuss the suit.

Webster expressed sorrow for her family's plight and bitterness toward the justice system during a brief, emotional telephone interview Thursday. She paused several times to catch her breath, but didn't lose her composure.

"He (Shippy) just doesn't show any signs of remorse," she said of the decision to file suit. "The judge let him off easy, and he knows that he's gotteh-away with something."

JOHN SHIPPY, 53, was sentenced to five years probation by Detroit Recorders Judge David Kerwin Tuesday. Kerwin also ordered Shippy to undergo psychiatric treatment, perform 800 hours of community service and banned him from moving back to the Westland townhouse complex where the assaults took

Police union, city at odds in chief hire

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

The union representing Westland's supervisory police employees Thursy took legal action to stop testing for the appointment of a new police

The Westland Police Sergeants and Lieutenants Association maintains that the current civil service. commission's eligibility list must be used to fill the chief's job, vacated Jan. 2 when Fred Dansby retired to accept the job of Romulus public safety director.

Inspector Paul Schnarr, currently serving as acting chief, is the only person on the eligibility list. Mayor Charles Griffin, who will appoint the new chief, had asked for promotional testing in order to establish a new eligibility list.

In separate actions Thursday, the

• Filed a grievance against the city charging breach of contract.

• Filed an unfair labor practice charge against the city with the Michigan Employment Relations Commission.

• Filed a lawsuit in Wayne County Circuit Court compelling the city to immediately promote Schnarr to the chief's job.

A SHOW CAUSE hearing on the lawsuit has been scheduled for 9 a.m. Friday, Jan. 27 with Wayne Circuit Judge Kathleen MacDonald presiding. Hearing dates for the other motions haven't been determined.

Frank Guido, the Livonia attorney representing the association, said the -mayor's plan to fill the chief's job after a new round of promotional testing is "a clear violation of the city's charter" and also violates Act

Paul Schnarr suit seeks promotion

78, the state civil service law, which sets guidelines for police hiring, promotion and disciplinary procedures. "The law is very clear," Guido said. "It says eligibility lists must remain in effect for two years. "Not 23 months, or 25 months, but two years exactly."

The current eligibility list for the chief's post was enacted Feb. 11, 1987, after William Rechlin retired. Dansby and Schnarr were the only police officers eligible for the promotional test two years ago.

Griffin said Thursday he hadn't seen a copy of the grievances or the lawsuit so he would be unable to respond to specific charges. However, the mayor said he felt his plan was within established guidelines.

"Act 78 says you need a competitive test for eligibility, and I think competition for this kind of thing is good," he said.

Eulogizers recall school chief Carli

Late-comers for a memorial service for James Carli Thursday afternoon would have been left standing against the wall or out in the ballway of Churchill

Almost all seats in the high school auditorium were filled at 5 p.m. Thursday when friends, professional associates, community and civic leaders came to pay tribute to the man who served his community as superintendent of the Livonia School District, which includes the northern section of Westland.

Carli died Dec. 20, his 48th birthday, following surgery in St. Mary Hospital, Livonia.

The wording on the program cover itself - "With respect, love and a profound sense of loss" - best fit the feelings of the hundreds of mourners. But also fitting were the words of the Livonia Education Association, which described Carli as "a man of strength of substance, a man of peace; he was, above all, a healing leader. This kind man treated all with respect and that word speaks of the sense of the void we feel at his

A SENSE of Jim Carli also was left by one of the speakers, assistant superintendent for instruction Carole Samples, when she said:

"His career was varied and diverse, but at each step along the way be left the imprint, the magic touch, that would endear him to students, teachers, administrators and the community at large.

"This imprint was significant and was the result of many factors: a zest for living, a burning desire for excellence, a genuine interest and concern for people, and an operational mode that everything should be done with style, class and dignity."

Carll was eulogized in the service, planned by Ron Campau, June Kendall, Bob Laundroche, Steve Naumcheff, Don Nicholson, Don Qualkenbush, Ron Quick, Ken Watson and Jay Young.

The program opened with a musical selection by CAPA vocal students directed by Steve Kosinski, After the welcome by Samples, remarks were made by Richard Thorderson, president of the Livonia Board of Education, Stove Carli, son of the superintendent, spoke for the family and was followed by Quick.

THE FORMAL eulogy was divided into two parts -"James Carli, the Superintendent" by John Rennells, assistant superintendent for personnel, and "James Carll, the Man" by Ken Kaestner, social studies teacher at Churchill.

"He loved being superintendent but not for the usual reasons of power or position," said Samples, "He loved being superintendent because it placed him in the most advantageous position to help teachers do their best to broaden educational opportunities for all students, and to build a sense of cooperation between the school and community.

"He loved being superintendent, most of all, because he could pay back to the schools and the community for the excellent education and quality of life given to his children and family. This was not an ordinary

Y.launches new season

The Wayne-Westland Family Y has launched a new winter season of activities aimed at all ages and featuring a magic class and family fun nights.

The new season began last week includes swimming, gymnastics, basketball, ballroom dancing, life saving instruction, aerobics, karate lessons, fitness classes, ballroom dancing, and weight lifting.

Although classes began last week, late registrations will be accepted on a walk-in basis for classes which still have space.

The Y, which has its facilities on Wayne Road south of Cherry Hill in Westland, includes Garden City and Canton Township in its service area.

A NEW PROGRAM which began last week is magic classes taught by "The Great Sterlini," who will cover cards, showmanship, and acting.

The course will 1014 hours of instruction over seven weeks. The concluding session will be a contest and magic show.

"School supplies" for the class, opened to kids 12 and older, are a desk of playing cards, empty salt shaker, cigarettes, handkerchlefs, coins, and paper napkins.

Youth basketball began last week with practices held at Marshall Junior High School, behind the Y on Bayview east of Wayne Road.

Games will be held Monday and Wednesday nights at the school.

A new "Family Fun Night" will be held Friday nights to encourage families to do things together.

There will be movies, games, swimming, and other activities. Persons must register by 4 p.m. on the Friday they plan to attend. The fun nights will be held this Friday, Feb. 3 and Feb. 17. There is a $2 fee.

ANOTHER NEW program is synchronized swimming for persons 21 and older. The class will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesdays.

The Y is offering fitness classes, including aerobics, weight management, body toning, calenetics, and water exercise in the swimming pool.

Karate instruction will be held for beginning and advanced students with new classes starting the first of

At the center, infants and toddlers get "the best of all possible care," Witten said, "because they are cared for by trained staff members and energetic students."

The center, which has $12,000 in new equipment, is divided into separate rooms for infants and toddlers.

WHILE Schoolcraft College has had a child-care training program for years, the new center will become a training ground for students who want to work with younger children, Witten said.

(The Livonia school district has an infant center, however, the school board late last year decided to not take any new youngsters while allowing existing infants to remain.)

Witten said the minimum age of 6 weeks for infants in the center was used because most companies provide a maximum six-week maternity leave for employees.

But Webster said she was shocked when the judge ordered probation for Shippy. "We expected he would have to serve at least some time (in jail)," she said.

Webster said she is worried that the sentence won't correct Shippy's behavior, despite the ordered psychiatric treatment. She said she's afraid he could become a repeat offender, inflicting the same kind of pain on another family.

"It's a slap on the wrists, and in the back of his mind I think he knows that," she said.

Communities consider regional recycling

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Area communities will soon be asked to consider regional recycling and composting programs.

The Conference of Western Wayne, a regional group representing 17 communities, announced Friday it was considering polling member communities to détermine whether they were interested in multicommunity waste disposal pro-

Westland Mayor Charles Griffin, the CWW's chairman, said it would be difficult for every member community to start its own recycling and composting programs.

"RECYCLING WILL be so much: easier if we do it as a group," Griffin .

clude Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, as well as Canton, Plymouth and Redford townships.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal, ·Communities are also being asked to approve a resolution supporting the "hierarchy of waste disposal options" outlined in Wayne County's new waste disposal master plan.

Those options include: reuse, recycling, composting and incineration.

Landfills, currently the most-heavily used disposal option, would be reserved as a last resort under the proposed county plan. Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has said landfill restrictions will be ordered in two years because the coun-CWW member communities in ty is running out of landfill space.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal.

CWW members are also considering applying to the state for financial assistance under Proposal C. The newly approved ballot proposal makes state money available for environmentally oriented programs.

Recycling isn't widespread in Wayne County, though Dearborn currently operates a program of its

the CWW is also considering a more far-reaching waste disposal

"WE'RE THINKING about conducting a joint feasibility study with the DCC (Downriver Community Conference)." CWW executive director Ann Bollin said.

The proposed county master plan would require communities to draft plans to reduce their solid waste output by 75 percent. Communities failing to adopt a plan by Jan. 1, 1991, would be restricted from hauling waste to county landfills.

The county master plan requires approval from 29 of Wayne County's 43 communities. The CWW includes 17 communities and nearly one-third of all county residents.

CWW members haven't fully agreed with the county plan, or the makeup of the Wayne County Solid Waste Implementation Committee - the group that drafted the proposed waste disposal plan. CWW members continue to call for the county to include more local governmental officials and fewer waste disposal professionals on the implementation committee. In addition, the CWW is also calling for a new committee, including itself and downriver communities, to oversee placement of new landfills.

CWW-leaders also disagree with a provision of the county plan that would exempt communities with new landfills from the waste disposal restrictions, though some individual CWW communities may actually

CWW members, however, said they acknowledge the need for a county plan and their proposed changes would make the plan easier;

TREATMENT WHEN THE DIAGNOSIS ISN'T CLEAR

How can a doctor treat an arthritis if he doesn't know what it is? The answer is: by kowing what the arthritis is not.

Suppose you have joint pains, they travel from joint-to-joint, come on at day's end, and mainly involve your knees and shoulders. Your doctor can be reasonably certain that you do not have rheumatold or lupus arthritis, and that a joint infection is unlikely. Thus, theraples such as gold, steroids, or antibiotics would not be appropriate.

In contrast, aspirin would be a good choice of treatment. Inflammation is basic to all types of arthritis, and aspirin is the first drug to try to combat joint irritation. Your doctor would recommend liberal use of heat, rest, and regular activity, as these theraples have wide application to the treatment of joint disorders. Finally, your doctor would reassess your status frequently to catch clues that would clarify the diagnosis.

Treatment is indicated even if the diagnosis is unclear. Your doctor will move cautiously and likely see you frequently until the problem resolves, or its nature

Communities consider regional recycling

By Wayne Peal

Area communitles will soon be asked to consider regional recycling and composting programs.

The Conference of Western Wayne, a regional group representing 17 communities, announced Friday it was considering polling member communities to determine whether they were interested in multicommunity waste disposal pro-

Westland Mayor, Charles Griffin, the CWW's chairman, said it would be difficult for every member community to start its own recycling and composting programs.

"RECYCLING WILL be so much easier if we do it as a group," Griffin

CWW member communities include Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Plymouth, as well as Canton. Plymouth and Redford townships.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal.

Communities are also being asked to approve a resolution supporting the "hierarchy of waste disposal options" outlined in Wayne County's new waste disposal master plan.

Those options include: reuse, recycling, composting and incineration, Landfills, currently the most-heavily used disposal option, would be reserved as a last resort under the proposed county plan. Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has said landfill restrictions will be ordered in two years because the county is running out of landfill space.

If enough communities approve, the conference would develop a regional recycling and composting plan and hire or contract for an outside expert to advise communities on waste disposal.

CWW members are also considering applying to the state for financial assistance under Proposal C. The newly approved ballot proposal makes state money available for environmentally oriented programs.

Recycling isn't widespread in Wayne County, though Dearborn currently operates a program of its

Finally, your doctor would reassess your status frequently to catch

The answer is: by kowing what the arthritis is not.

The CWW is also considering a more far-reaching waste disposal

"WE'RE THINKING about conducting a joint feasibility study with the DCC (Downriver Community Conference)," CWW executive director Ann Bollin said.

The proposed county master plan plans to reduce their solid waste output by 75 percent. Communities failing to adopt a plan by Jan. 1, 1991, would be restricted from hauling waste to county landfills.

The county master plan requires approval from 29 of Wayne County's 43 communities. The CWW includes 17 communities and nearly one-third of all county residents.

CWW members haven't fully agreed with the county plan, or the makeup of the Wayne County Solid Waste Implementation Committee - the group that drafted the proposed waste disposal plan.

CWW members continue to call for the county to include more local governmental officials and fewer waste disposal professionals on the implementation committee. In addition, the CWW is also calling for a

We start with homemade linquine, fettucine and tortellini. All created from full-bodied semolina flour and farm fresh eggs. And served with fresh parmesan and romano cheese grated tableside.

But we don't stop there. We like to tantalize you just a bit with our succulent sauces accented with a sprinkle of the extraordinary Muer imagination...delicate aromas swirling above each dish.

A SAMPLING OF OUR MENU:

Lobster Fettucine — Tender, fresh Maine lobster generously folded into a fresh tomato herb and cream sauce. Served over a bed of homemade fettucine.

Shrimp and Artichokes — A medley of tender delicately flavored shrimp and artichoke hearts. Tossed in a sauce of fresh tomatoes and fragrant wine and herbs. Served over homemade linguine.

Baked Lasagna — Thinly rolled ribbons of pasta layered atop our mildly spicy homemade meat sauce and topped with fresh melted parmesan and mozzarella cheese.

Before you start feeling sorry for yourself, look around, Despite all the seasonal temptations that are off Doc's list, the time to eat right has never been better. In America's horn of plenty, a strong natural foodstuffs trend is evident. Many things great grandpa ate, later celebrated in '60s campus co-ops, are turning up in neighborhood stores. Many boast the best of the old and the new, thanks to innovative recipes. And they're affordable.

Does good-for-you food really taste good, too? In West Bloomfield and Rochester, it sure does, at Breadwinner bakeries.

Mother Gerre shares recipe for nut loaf

GERRE'S APRICOT NUT LOAF (Only available at Breadwinner at holiday time)

1 cup boney

2-tablespoons margarine

1 whole egg

% cap milk (can use two percent or regular milk) % cup reconstituted frozen orange juice

4 teaspoons grated orange rind 3 cups unbleached, unsifted, unbromated if available, flour

31/2 teaspoons baking powder 1 teaspoon salt

1 cup chopped, dried apricots ----% cup chopped walnuts (optional)

By hand, mix honey, margarine and egg well. Stir in milk, orange juice and orange rind. Add blended dry ingredients, stir in apricots and nuts. Pour into a greased loaf pan. Let it stand for 20 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees 50-60 minutes. A Pyrex-loaf-pan works well. The loaf is best when sliced thin. Can be served with soft cream cheese or jam.

Bread gains popularity

ARK JAROCH of Birmingham and his 10 brothers and sisters grew up in Rameo, (Mich.), eating their mother's wholesome, homemade breads.

No one dreamed then that most of the Jaroch family would be into tons of dough by 1989 — and meanwhile become an inspiration to other fledgling entrepreneurs far beyond their Breadwinner bakeries in Rochester and West Bloomfield.

With his diploma from Central Michigan University in 1982, Mark Jaroch got the traditional advice: "Think of graduation as a beginning." He did. Nonetheless, there were big surprises and dramatic career changes ahead for the new graduate, and for his fami-

Starting out in a period of recession, Mark's search for a business and finance position stretched into a strenuous, yet fruitless year.

Luckily, all the Jarochs were "brought up to believe that a crisis really is an opportunity," says Mark. "From the beginning, Dad's mottos were, Give an honest day's work for a day's pay," and, 'If you can find a way, be your own boss.' '

So the Jarochs brainstormed. They listed the skills Mark had developed in responsible part-time jobs throughout his college years. From cook to kitchen manager, Mark had gained hands-on experience at the popular Embers restaurant in Mt. Pleasant, the Sixpence in Warren and the Kings Mill Inn, also in War-

IN ONE OF these busy kitchens, Mark recalls, "A wonderful old German pastry chef taught me some European techniques."

As the Jarochs reviewed Mark's skills and business' education on that memorable evening in 1983, his father, Val, said, "Son, maybe it's time to start your own business."

The product? It didn't take long to settle on their mother Gerre's popular baked goods — already tastetested, different from mass production breads on competitors' shelves, and "good for you."

However, the Jarocha' image of a large student clientele in Mt. Pleasant, where they began with an, investment under $15,000, "was one of many miscon-ceptions we had to correct," brother Eric said. "We's soon found most of our customers were university faculty and staff, or professionals from nearby gas and oil? companies. Since students often budget by buying dayold goods, we just broke even on those sales."

Mark's new direction was only one change under way. Eric, then 19, opted to leave studies at Macomb Community College to become Mark's partner. Val, an industrial engineer from Wayne State University, now company president, became engineer-cum-leasing agent from day one, and fulltime Breadwinner in the company's fourth year.

GERRE AND VAL now live in Rochester. She is the mother of nine children, plus two adopted sons. Chinese-American Tom, now 42, and Dan (pronounced) Yahn in Vietnamese), 23. Somehow she found time to teach kindergarten for 18 years. "But only half-days,"

Today, Gerre, a University of Detroit/Wayne State journalism/education graduate, is the company's advertising and personnel manager. She is also the friendly voice behind the informative "Breadwinner Beat" filers found on the display counters.

As family historian, Gerre sometimes has trouble remembering the exact year when Nancy, Greg, Suzan, Mark, Tom, Matthew, Joel, Michael, Eric, Todd and Dan — and their several spouses — came into the family. But she never fails to appreciate each one's special talents.

Greg, for example, at 34, is the company's chief financial officer "with a real gift for planning." Bakers include Suzan, Mark, Joel and Eric. Larissa (Joel's wife) and Lynn (Greg's wife) handle bookkeeping and Today, Eric, is owner-manager, with a staff of nine, at the Breadwinner, 818 Main, in Rochester. Store number two opened in mid-1985 with profits made during their first 18 months in Mt. Pleasant "because the boys only drew $100 a week for a long time," Val explains. "Now," she adds with a smile, 'Eric's aim is to retire at 40."

LAST SEPTEMBER, Mark, Joel and Getre opened the new West Bloomfield store at 4301 Orchard Lake Road near Lone Pine Road in the recently remodeled. Crosswinds Mall.

Chin up, it's time to get body in shape

Once again, we are faced with a new year and, if you're anything like me, a face with an extra chin, not to mention a body with a

Now, before you quickly change pages with the attitude that you might not be interested in "another diet story," read on, because what I have to say is not necessarily related just to diets.

It's called "Total Body Awareness You might not be overweight but suffer from other food-related illnesses brought on by improper eating habits. To be totally effective in getting the body to react positively to a change in culinary lifestyles, one must begin with a simple regimen.

Drastic changes in daily habits have a tendency to bring on early burnout, so it is very important to effect changes slowly. A basic example of this would be for someone to increase his or her daily consumption of water. An increase of water consumption on a daily basis will not only help the overeater with a feeling of fullness but will also serve as a body purifier, flushing all those nasty MASSES I COM OUT DOUGS. In addition, for the person searching for a healthier lifestyle, an increased consumption of water will aid the complexion and serve as an "internal moisturiner" for the system.

ADD TO THAT, if you desire, an increase in activity and your so-called diet is already well in motion, with little change in dietary habits. That simple phrase of "an increase in activity" spells out the incorporation of 30 minutes of extra activity during the day. If you work, a simple jaunt up three flights of stairs or a brisk walk before eating lunch would do the trick.

Sounds too simple to be true, ch? Yes, but it works. Now that we have the physical change in motion, it's time to oceiu goine bollighind fan of the benefit of massage and relaxation techniques. Unfortunately, many of us do not have the added income to allow weekly (or even bi-monthly) trips to a masseuse. I can say, however, that if you have yet to experience the effects of a professional massage, you don't know what you're missing. Many professional massage services charge between $35-$46 dollars for a massage but if you find that's a little beyond your budgetary constraints, how about investing in a relaxation tape that can be played in the car while driving to and from work, or that you can simply pop into an inexpensive headest during that brisk walk or stair climb? Check out tapes by Steven Halpern, at your local health food store or record outlet.

Now, with all the emphasis on me, how about incorporating the entire family into this easy change? Check out specialized relaxation tapes made just for kids or, better yet, incorporate your spouse or loved ones into a 15-minute-per-day "trip" into relaxation. This can even be accomplished while making dinner, reading. or simply finding the time to "put your feet up."

Depending largely on word-ofmouth referrals and walk-in trade, Mark said, "we're being discovered again by a new public. We're enjoying valuable repeat business. Customers tell us we're satisfying a real need, especially for the many people who have special dietary or nutritional needs."

Opening their third store last fall "was simple, compared to our first trial venture," Mark said. "And although closing our Mt. Pleasant store recently made logistical sense, we all felt a sentimental tug about that. Mt. Pleasant customers bought a month's supply for their freezers before we closed. Now they send their friends to buy for them here.

them supplied."

To launch that first bakery within just three months in 1983, Mark and Val scouted Petoskey, Charlevoix and Traverse City.

"We checked demographics and potential competition from existing bakeries and finally settled on an 800-square-foot store in Mt. Pleas-

A quorum of Jarochs spent each weekend scrubbing, painting and equipping their first uncommon bread and sweets shop. Sans introductory advertising ("Another mistake," says Mark), Mark and Eric-

For the some who like it hot, there Rod Sands, vice president of sales Mexican hot sauce available in the says that sale of Mexican sauces has reached $271 million annually, more than double the figure of 1980.

About 30 percent of all Mexican food eaten in the United States is consumed in Californian, he says, followed by Texas, Arizona and

Washington state.

Most popular is picante sauce, which accounts for 40 percent of the market, according to Find-SVP, a New York market research firm. Picante is a thin sauce with pieces of jalapenos, tomatoes and onlons.

Second is salsa, a thicker sauce often made with milder green or anaheim chilis, followed by taco sauce, usually flavored with red or cayenne pepper, and the gravy-like enchilada sauce.

Ahmet's 3 goals spur 4-1 Churchill win

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

The only thing hurting Joe Ahmet Friday after Livonia Churchill's 4-1 hockey win over Stevenson was his left hand.

Standing outside Churchill's locker room at Eddie Edgar Arena, Ahmet talked about his aching hand and Churchill's pride, which, by the way, never felt better.

Ahmet, who injured his hand late in the game, recorded a hat trick for the Chargers and goalle Jason Devlin preserved the win with several outstanding saves in the third period.

"My pride would have hurt more than my hand if we had lost," Ahmet said. "I just want to savor this victory. It feels real good to win, hat trick or not. It doesn't matter to me, as long as we won. .

"It's an awesome feeling, especially after what they did to us last year. They really embarrassed us

THE WIN KEEPS Churchill all alone in first place of the Suburban Prep Hockey Association at 8-0, 11-1 overall. Stevenson fell to 4-1-1 in the SPHA, 4-5-1 overall.

"This puts us behind the eight ball," Stevenson coach Matt Mulcaby said. "We have to beat Churchill the next time we play them. This puts them in the driv-Ahmet went to the hospital after the game to have his injured hand X-rayed. Ahmet's status the rest of the season is one reason, for Churchill coach Rudy Varyari to downplay Churchill's position in the standings. The other reason is there are six SPHL games remaining, including one game each against Livonia Franklin and Stevenson.

The Chargers and Patriots play at 6 p.m. Wednesday at Eddie

"Nobody's won anything yet," Varvari said. "If we don't win one of the two games against the Livonia schools we're really hurting. First place is only good when it's

It was a close-checking game from the start, with a lot of whistles, one game misconduct and afight. The game misconduct went to Churchill defenseman Denny Elenich, for accidentally bumping into the referee. Stevenson's Brian Eglinton and Churchill's Kevin Gaffey were thrown out of the game for their part in a scuffle at the end of the second period and received a one-game suspension.

BECAUSE OF Elenich's miscona duct, Churchill played with only three defensemen, Chris Frayer, Colin Gallagher and Troy Henderson, the rest of the way.

"This was a typical 'When one Livonia school meets another Livonia school hockey game," Mulcahy said. "We tried to open it up but we didn't execute. We have no, excuses. We just got outplayed."

The Chargers led 3-0 midway through the second period, before the Spartans made the game interesting. Churchill's Bill Durham opened the scoring at 9:22 of the Chargers a 2-0 lead after one period with his first goal at 11:17. Ahmet scored again at the 5:03 mark of the second period.

Stevenson defenseman John Brodhun made the score 3-1 when he blasted a slap shot by Devlin with 10:55 left in the second period, after getting a pass from John Feneck.

THE SPARTANS had three power-play opportunities in the final period, but every scoring chance they had was kicked away by Devlin. Ahmet's final tally gave Churchili more breathing space, as he received a pass from Colin Gallagher and scored with 6:02 left in

"We didn't set up on the power play," Mulcahy said. "We're going to work on it all season long until we get it right. I think we got caught up in the excitement."

Mulcahy said the Spartans had only 14 shots on goal, but Varvari said he thought they had that many in the third period alone. No wonder he talked so highly of Devlin.

"Devlin's got unlimited goalie potential at the high school level," Varvari sald. "I'm not saying he's a Johnny Bauer, but he comes from a great hockey background. His uncle (Brian) got a full-ride scholarship to Wisconsin. It's in his blood."

Graczyk on Rosey path

By Brad Emons staff writer

It's not necessary to file a missing persons report because former All-Area basketball player Phil Graczyk of Livonia Bentley High has finally turned up.

"I haven't had the smoothest college career," Graczyk admits. "It's been a long journey with many different paths."

Graczyk, who led Bentley to a Class A district title in 1984, has surfaced at College of St. Rose in Albany, N.Y. He started his collegiate career at Eastern Michigan University with stops in between at Fort Hays State (Kan.) and Ferris State.

On Jan. 8, he sparked St. Rose to the prestigious National Catholic Basketball Tournament title, one of the nation's top small college tourneys. The 6-foot-9, 235-pound Graczyk was named to the All-Tournament squad.

Now close to benching 350 pounds, Graczyk flexed his muscle in the finals against Viterbo College of La-Crosse, Wis., before a nationwide cable television audience on FNN-Score Network.

WITH GRACZYK providing inside strength, St. Rose has lost only twice in 16 games this season.-

In one of the losses, against Fairleigh Dickinson, a Division I school from New Jersey, Graczyk scored 28 points and grabbed 12 rebounds.

For the season, he is averaging 14 points (shooting 60 percent from the floor) and nine rebounds per game, second only to teammate Chris Deubel, a 6-6 junior forward, in both categories. (Deubel was voted MVP in the 16-team NCBT.)

"We were in a tough second-round game with Christian Brothers College of Tennessee and with about five minutes to go'Phil dunked over five guys and that turned the things around for us - he's that type of player, he's a man," said Brian Beaury, who is in his second season as St. Rose coach, "When Phil comes to play, nobody is competitive on our level with him."

The play of Graczyk is one of the big reasons why St. Rose has an excellent chance to win the District 31 title and advance to the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Tournament, set for March in Kansas City, Mo.

"PHIL IS A quiet kid, a good kid who leads by example," said Beaury. "He's a good student. He is scheduled to graduate on time."

Graczyk carries a 3.2 GPA in communications and plans to work in some type of public relations job after he serves an internship.

Having found his niche, Graczyk is happy he found the small Catholic school in upstate New York. College of St. Rose, now a coeducational school with approximately 3,000 students, is coming up in the basketball world.

"Coach Beaury has the program on the rise, and he's brought it up from almost nothing," Graczyk said. "We're an NAIA school now, but they'll be going Division II next year."

Graczyk sald Beaury reminds him of his former high school coach Tom when I talk to Brian he talks to me straight," said the big center. "He tells you exactly what needs to be done. He's not leading anybody the basketball

GRACZYK, however, was not happy with some of his previous college coaches.

At EMU, Graczyk got caught in a coaching change.

Jim Boyce, the man that recruited him, quit and was replaced by Ben-Braun, who ultimately sent Graczyk and several other players packing.

Fort Hays, a perennial NAIA power, got hold of Graczyk for a summer (1986), but he was not a happy camper, leaving Kansas in the middle of the fall semester.

"Coach (Bill) Morse was a good coach, but since I had to sit out one semester (under transfer rules), I really wasn't allowed to practice. I was just sitting and watching," Graczyk explained. "He (Morse) told me once I became eligible, that he would start working me into practice with the rest of the team, but I felt that I was getting out of shape and that it would take me a whole. semester to catch up."

Graczyk didn't feel comfortable at Ferris either.

"It's a good program, but I felt the coaches were playing head games' with me," he said.

THROUGH A NATIONAL scouting service called Metro Index, Beaury contacted Graczyk after he left EMU, but had to walt a year.

Ironically, Beauty said that Graczyk called bim back at his home-around midnight in June 1937. "Phil asked me if I was still interested in him and to be honest, he knew nothing about us and we knew nothing about him "said the St. Rose coach. "But he was close to 6-10, and we had no center. We took a chance.' The 29-year-old Beaury said Graczyk's first season at St. Rose was an adjustment period.

"Phil sat out 10 games for us last year because of a broken wrist, and he struggled and pressed a little bit when he came back,"Beaury said, "And because of his size, he drew so much attention that he may have forced things."

But Graczyk returned for his final year of eligibility with plenty of confidence after helping his Adirondack team clinch a silver medal in the Empire State Games, which is the equivalent of New York's Olympics.

"In the finals, the upstate region team lost by only eight to a team from New York City, and Phil really held his own against some of the Big East players like Tom Greis (a 7foot-2 center) of Villanova," Beaury said. "He gained some confidence, and this year he's been loose and having fun. And we have a balanced enough team that when Phil draws a crowd, we have other players who can hurt you."

Graczyk said he couldn't be any happier with his situation.

"I'M PHYSICALLY progressing, and I'm becoming more aware of what I need to do on the court," he said. "What I have to learn is to 'get up' for games against lesser opponents."

But there was a time when Graczyk wondered if he would have any opponents to "get up" for.

Graczyk never disappeared. He went through a long odyssey before ending up at St. Rose.

RU names McGowan as new head football coach

By Brad Emons and C.J. Risak staff Writers -

New Redford Union High athletic director Jim Gibbons didn't have to look far to find his replacement as varsity football coach.

Gibbons, who interviewed eight of 14 applicants, selected defensive coordinator Shawn McGowan as the Panthers' new coach.

· Gibbons has also hired a new baseball and softball coach.

Returning to coach RU softball after a two-year leave is Gary DeRoche, who replaces Tip Smathers. Meanwhile, former Dearborn Heights Crestwood coach Chris head baseball coach. McGowan said his first immediate step is to get the off-season weight program going again.

"We're alightly behind, but we've got to get some fund-raisers organised and replace some coaches," he said. "We're looking for two or three JV and freshmen coaches."

Gibbons joked that McGowan got the tob over Notre Deme's Lou Holts.

"Lou said that he couldn't delive another national championship, Gibbons said, "He said that it was easier replacing Gerry Faust than k would be replacing me."

Zebras fall in OT to Belleville

All Wayne Memorial needed was a shot. That's it. One shot down the stretch of its boys basketball game at Belleville Friday and, certainly, a victory capping a most unbelievable comeback would result. Ah, but that's the rub, isn't it? Getting off a shot proved harder than Mike Ditka's skull, as the Zebras turned the ball over twice in the final 24 seconds.

The result was a 65-65 tie and overtime. And in the extra session, Belleville outscored Wayne 6-3 to escape with a 71-68 trlumph.

The loss overshadowed the Reggie Brandoninspired fourth-quarter rally. Wayne trailed by 18 points with five minutes left before Brandon. caught fire, sinking five three-pointers in the period to account for 15 of the Zebras' 22 points.

Tony Rumple, who led Wayne with 31 points (Brandon finished with 17), connected on a tripletry to give the Zebras the lead with a minute left in regulation. But Belleville's Maurice Brantley, who scored 33 points, answered with a threepointer to keep the Tigers alive.

The late turnovers, combined with Wayne's 0for-5 free-throw shooting in the fourth quarter, doomed the Zebras (6-2 overall, 4-2 in the Wolverine A League), who also got 10 points from Kevin Hankerson.

Belleville (7-1 overall, 4-1 in the Wolverine A) had two others in double-figures: Jeremy Ison (12) and Kevin Hunter (10).

ST. AGATHA 64, ST. HEDWIG 63: Galen Walker nailed a game-winning 15-footer with three seconds left Friday to pull host Redford St. Agatha even with Detroit St. Hedwig in the Catholic C-D Divi-

Both teams are 5-1 in the division and are tied with Flint Holy Rosary for first. St. Agatha is 7-1 overall. Walker's shot came after St. Hedwig's Mike Stritdinger stole the ball and scored with 30 seconds left to give his team the lead. Stritdinger was fouled on the play, but he missed the free throw. Walker netted 25 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in the game. Mike Boyle totaled 21 points and 15 boards, and be held St. Hedwig's Kwesi McGill - who got 22 points in the game - scoreless in the final period. Tyrone Robinson had 11 points and Paul Brooks and Stritdinger got 10 apiece for St. Hedwig.

STEVENSON 68, FARMINGTON 51: Four Spartans reached double-figures in scoring to trigger Livonia Stevenson's victory Thursday over the visiting Falcons.

Glenn Szeman, a 6-8 junior, topped the Spartan effort with 17 points and 14 rebounds. Ron Baran added 16 points, Rick Laven had 11 and Chris Nazelli scored 10. Eric Schwedt ended with nine.

Farmington's last lead in the game was 15-14 in the first quarter. P.J. Green's 13 points was best for the Falcons; Dave Raimi netted 12.

Stevenson is 5-3 overall, 1-2 in the Western Lakes' Lakes Division, Farmington is 1-7 overall, 1-2 in the

"Our shot selection was a lot better (in the third quarter) and they were cold," said Thurston coach Mike Schuette, "We still haven't put together four good Joining Merida in double-figures in scoring was Matt Farris with 17 points. David Hamilton's 13 topped Taylor (3-6 overall, 2-5 in the TRL).

BORGESS 70, DeLaSALLE 55: Some halftime adjustments got Redford Bishop Borgess on track Friday at Warren DeLaSalle.

The Spartans (5-4 overall, 3-1 in the Catholic League Central Division) trailed 29-26 at the half before burying DeLaSalle (7-2 overall, 2-2 in the Central) with an 18-9 third-quarter rally. Borgess never let up in the fourth quarter, outpointing the Pilots 26-17.

Randy White's 18 points was best for Borgess. Shawn Respert contributed 16 and Kareem Carpenter chipped in with 14. Chris May had 16, Jack Goodman 15 and Mark Prylow 12 for DeLaSalle.

REDFORD CC 60; NOTRE DAME 48: After Redford Catholic Central scored the first six points of the second half, Harper Woods Notre Dame never got closer than five Friday at Notre Dame.

The Shamrocks (5-4 overall, 4-0 in the Central Division) led 26-22 at the balf and 43-32 after three quarters. Terry Boykin, Scott Hauncher and Steve Whitlow each netted 13 points for CC. Jeff Shaner added 12. Hauncher also grabbed 10 rebounds.

Notre Dame (5-4 overall, 1-3 in the Central), was paced by Bernard Richmond's 18 points and Clarence Hunter's 11.

REDFORD UNION 71, NOVI 58: A 39-31 rebounding edge enabled Redford Union to hold off the visiting Wildcats.

"It wasn't pretty, but we did get the lead in the first quarter and we kept it," said Panther coach Tip Smathers, whose team improved to 5-3 overall. Novi (2-7) pulled to within five with 45 seconds left but RU - which made 24-of-33 from the line - hit its free throws to insure the win.

Joe Delfgauw triggered the win with 24 points and eight rebounds. Lee Tappy had 17 points and seven boards, Steve Nowak got 12 points and eight rebounds. Brett Csordas' 18 points topped Novi.

NORTHVILLE 50, FRANKLIN 40: The Patriots sleep-walked through the first half, trailing 12-5 after one quarter and 28-12 at the half after a dismal. shooting performance in a disappointing homecourt loss to Northville Friday.

Livonia Franklin (4-4 overall, 1-2 in the Western Division) was paced by Roy Hall and John Shea, who scored 12 points each, and Mark Donehue, who had 11 points, nine rebounds and three blocks. SALEM 71, JOHN GLENN 68: The records might have indicated otherwise, but Plymouth Salem coach Bob Brodie knew his team was in for a battle Friday when it hosted Westland John Glenn.

Salem had one loss in nine games entering Friday's contest; Glenn was a mere 4-4. But the Rockets led all the way until the final four minutes, when Salem outscored them 21-13 in the final quarter to battle back from a 10-point deficit with seven minutes left and steal the victory.

Which is exactly how the Rocks won - on a steal by Jeff Elliott with 30 seconds to play. Elliott passed to Craig Marshall, who was fouled while going in for a layup with two seconds left. Marshall hit both free throws for the final margin of victory.

Elliott finished with a game-high 24 points - eight of those coming in the third quarter and 11 in the pivotal fourth. Four Rockets reached double-figures in scoring: Greg Anderson (19 points), Eric Spencer (16), Bobby Lawrence (13) and Chris Poplin (11).

W.L. WESTERN 64, CHURCHILL 58: Lack of solid inside play cost Livonia Churchill a shot at victory Friday against host Walled Lake Western.

"We did not have a real good inside game," said Charger coach Fred Price, whose team fell to 3-6 overall, 1-2 in the Western Division. Western is 2-6 overall, 1-2 in the Western. "We were not on inside. Our outside shooting was respectable."

Churchill's poor inside play was apparent in the third quarter, when Western's Kevin White scored 13 of his game-high 29 points - most coming from in the paint. Jasop Belaire led the Chargers with 21 points; Eric Osen'added 13 points and nine rebounds.

Four players reached double-figures for Edsel Ford (9-1 overall, 2-1 in the Northwest Suburban League): John Tobin (20), Jason Swafford (19), Matt Hetner (13) and Tim Owens (11). Rick Morton scored 10 for Garden City (1-8 overall, 0-2 in the NSL).

LUTHERAN WEST 64, C'VILLE 55: This was not a shooter's game. Detroit Lutheran West made six-of-19 free throws; Livonia Clarenceville was sevenof-21 at the line.

The Trojans (2-5 overall, 1-2 in the Metro Conference) trailed throughout. Kendrick Herrington was the team's only scorer in double-figures with 15 points. Rich Roy and Jason Larson had nine each. Troy Simon topped West with 20 points. Jason Daniel had 13 and Al Rhodes 12.

GC UNITED 74, SALINE CHRISTIAN 48: Four players combined for 57 points Friday in Garden City United Christian's homecourt victory.

The victory raised GC United's record to 8-3 overall and 4-0 in the Metro Christian Conference. Saline fell to 3-9 overall, 2-6 in the conference.

Leading the United scoring parade were freshman Chris Smith (19 points), Chad Presnell (14), Tim Blatter (13) and Jason Cavin (11). Ted Dillow grabbed 16 rebounds.

Ocelots caged by Oakland CC, 85-81

The expected onslaught never materialized Wednesday when Schoolcraft College's mens basket-ball team — which lost four players to academic deficiencies last week played at Oakland Community College Wednesday.

One reason could have been the Raiders were hurt by scholastic troubles, too. Starters Eric Hawkins and Flanders Morgan were both de-clared academically ineligible at the end of the first semester.

That, combined with the reinstatement of Ocelot center Mark Koronka (one of his grades was reviewed and changed), evened the two teams up a bit. But it wasn't enough to change the outcome. OCC still won, 85-81.

"The kids played exceptionally well," said SC coach Dave Bogataj.
"They really did — at least the seven kids we had."

Raiders sink Stevenson; Pats win

The remedy to cure North Farmington's ailing swimming team Thursday was named Livonia Stevenson, of all teams.

North, which had 13 swimmers ill last week, got well against the Spartans, scoring an exciting 87-85 win over the host Spartans.

Stevenson placed second last winter behind Plymouth Salem in the Western Lakes Activities Association meet, so North coach Sue Gendron must have been pleasantly surprised by the outcome.

The Raiders remain perfect in two dual meets with the win and are 1-0 in the Lakes Division of the WLAA.

Junior Chuck Chuba had the healthlest results, winning both the 50-yard freestyle (23.54) and the 100 freestyle (52.44). He also was a member of the medley relay team, along with Mike Drelles, Chris Knoche and Steve Tumey, that prevailed in 1:47,38.

Other winners for North were Rob 202.75 points, and Knoche, who won Taki Caranicolas took home Stevensoh's other victory, winning the butterfly in 58.08.

The Spartans won the freestyle relay, the last event of the meet, in 3:32.94. Members of the winning group included Goecke, Rieder, Tony Albert and Joe Petrillo.

Harrison remains winless in four dual meets.

Hokett won the 200 freestyle (1:58.00) and the butterfly (1:01.3), and he was an important member of the freestyle relay team that finished with a winning time of 3:39.07. Other members of the relay were Jason Leach, Dennis Favor and Brian Deming.

Franklin's other wins came from Deming in the 500 freestyle (5:34.62), Dennis DiLorenzo in diving (216.6) and Norm Paulic in the backstroke (1:06.90).

Harrison's Jeff Neikirk won two events and swam a leg on the winning medley relay team that clocked a winning time of 1:54.60. Nelkirk, Dennis Sayles, Chad Hughes and Ed Serzo swam on the relay team.

Neikirk's wins came in the 50 freestyle (24.40) and the 100 freestyle

Serzo won the individual medley (2:19.90), and Jason Barringer claimed victory in the breaststroke (1:06.70) for Harrison.

Paterson: That Kalamazoo girl with All-America touch

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Two years ago, when Kim Paterson was named a Division III soccer All-America for the first time, they spelled her name wrong on the certificate.

They know better now.

Paterson, a 1986 graduate of Livonia Stevenson, recently was named Division III All-America for the third straight year. The Kalamazoo College junior picked up the certificate Friday at a National College Soccer Athletic Association banquet in Philadelphia, Pa.

"They spelled my name wrong my freshman year, because they didn't know who I was and Kalamazoo came out of nowhere to be ranked eighth (nationally)," said Paterson, who spells her name with only one t. "Everyone spells my name wrong."

Although this was the third national All-America banquet Paterson attended, it was still an honor.

PATERSON WAS under the weather Thursday night and had 600 pages of reading to get done before returning to school today at Kalamazoo. The homework could wait, and the honor was an instant

"I have a cold and a lot of homework, but I'm putting it off until Sunday," Paterson said Thursday from her parents' home in Livonia. "It'll be a long day Friday, but an enjoyable one. A very, very enjoyable one.

"It's incredible to be in the company of the cream of the crop. It makes you feel really good."

Paterson, a center-midfielder, scored 20 goals and added 13 assists last fall for Kalamazoo. Paterson said she is embarrassed by the attention she has received. But how many athletes can say they are a three-time All-America selection, at any level?

"It's real nice and I'm flattered, but if no one knows, that's OK with me." she said. "I thought I was real lucky this year. It seemed like, if I shot a ball it went in. But I worked real hard and I guess the hard work paid off."

Paterson led Kalamazoo to a 13-2-1 record and an eighth-place finish at the Division III Final 16 tournament in Fayetteville, N.C. The Hornets beat two-time defending national champion Rochester College (N.Y.) in the tournament, before bowing out to the host school, Methodist College, 2-1.

THE HORNETS have shown steady improvement in Paterson's three years and are 33-11-4 overall. In 1986, Kalamazoo was eighthranked nationally in the final polls but failed to qualify for the national tournament.

Paterson never dreamed she'd accomplish this much athletically at Kalamazoo. After all, she went theré for academic reasons. Kalamazoo, one of the most expensive four-year colleges in Michigan, doesn't offer athletic scholarships.

"I was never concerned with making All-America in the first place," Paterson said. "They had a .500 record the year before I got there, and I went there for academics."

Paterson, an economics and math major at Kalamazoo, willstudy in Germany later this winter. She hopes someday to become a financial analyst.

"That sounds good to me," she said. "Maybe someday you'll see my name in the Wall Street Jour-

Discovering the waistline goes healthy in the 1980s

By Mary Rodrigue taff writer

Monday, January 16, 1989 O&E

Unfortunately, its storage place is your waistline and its a stubborn tenant. As sure as winter sets in, the desire to get back into shape gnaws at a great many folks who know there've gone overboard during the holidays.

'January through June is always ' the busiest time of year for health clubs and diet programs," said Kim McDonough, nutritional counselor for Nutritek, a Livonia-based weight control program.

"The new years resolutions last from January through March, then the desire to look good for summer kicks in through the spring."

Aside from talk-show queen Oprah Winfrey's highly publicized meltdown of 67 pounds on a liquid protein diet, all is quiet on the diet fad front.

"There hasn't been a whole lot brewing," McDonough said, adding nat ane cringed at a recent supermarket tabloid headline proclaiming a new fact-food diet.

"What a contradiction in terms,"

Today's weight-conscious consumer is wary of fad diets, pills and quick schemes and is more apt to look for a healthier lifestyle. Things like health club memberships, aerobics classes, home exercise videos and equipment and a nutritionally balanced diet that includes foods from the basic four groups are gaining prominence.

McDonough's Nutritek, for instance, gives clients a computerized nutritional analysis based on urine and blood tests. The profile is placed in one of 28 categories, which helps the client learn about his metabo-

McDonough sald cooking food yourself instead of relying on fastfood, canned goods (generally high in sodium) or frozen commercial products is a healthier choice.

"By making your own dinner you can control what's in it," she said. "A good meal like brolled chicken breast and steamed vegetables can take 20 minutes to make and it's so

Luxembourg: It's small, but it's full of surprises

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

Q. My husband is going to Luxembourg on business in May. His air fare is paid and my Dad offered to pay mine because he fought in Luxembourg in 1944, and he wants me to see it. We've been saving for a two-week vacation in Europe this year or next, but this way my husband would be working the first week, and we'd only have one more week for the rest of Europe, Should I go or hang in there for my dream vacation?

A: Go. Tomorrow never comes, especially one that offers two free air fares. The weather is good and the tourist crowds less in May than 50 by 35 miles and is bordered by Germany, and sidewalk cafes. France and Belgium in the heart of western Europe. Car rentals are less expensive than in other countries. Fast, inexpensive train service takes you to the rest of the continent.

If you are based in Luxembourg City, the capital, you will be 152 miles from Frankfurt; 202 miles from Paris; 235 miles from Amsterdam and 360 miles from London. That is like driving to Grand Rapids, Muskegon, Traverse City or Sault St. Marie respectively.

Most Luxembourgers speak English and they love Americans, because U.S. servicemen like your father rescued them from the Germans during World War II. They call it the Battle of the Ardennes; we call it the Battle of the Bulge. There are bronze and stone memorials all over the duchy,

You can take motor coach tours, or drive your own car. A typical one-week tour of Luxembourg would take you around to Luxembourg City, founded by the House of Luxembourg in the 10th century, the vineyards along the Moselle River, the mountain villages of the Ardennes in the north, especially the glorious The Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, with medieval castle at Vianden, and many small 400,000 people, led by the Grand Duke Jean, is villages with historic churches, town squares

RECENT RELEASES:

"Mississippi Burning" (A+) (R) 130 minutes.

This vivid, searing movie will reverberate in your mind long after the debate about its accuracy subsides. While history needs to be treated with care and precision, this is a political film whose statement about human greed, fear and cruelty is its most significant attribute.

Based on events in Mississippi in 1964 after the murder of three young civil rights workers - Schwerner, Goodman and Chaney - "Mississippi Burning" centers on the dynamic interrelationship of FBI Agents Ward (Willem Dafoe) and Anderson (Gene Hackman) with the inhabitants of the small Southern town where the three civil rights workers

The locale is small, but photographed with great emotion by Peter Biziou as are the weathered faces of the little people who live there. But the issues shake the earth and force every viewer to come to grips with his or her own attitudes about people who are different. 🙊 -

Make no mistake about it, that's an unpleasant subject and the film never shies away from these graphcast a pall over so much of American history.

City at age 11. The Blooms are from the Bronx and the Essexes are San Francisco's finest, Despite the gap, the girls click and begin a friendship that endures for 30 years.

Separated by continent, class and occupation — C.C.'s a singer, Hillary first an attorney, later lady of the manse - their letters link them emotionally and serve as an effective narrative bridge for 30 years. Through love and success, marriage and failure, they remain faithful.

WHILE ACTING out this crude, cruel series of sexual practical jokes, they not only wreak havoc on the physical and mortal well-being of others, but destroy whatever: shreds of happiness that remain in their own love lives.

Several adaptations of "Liaisons" have been made before Hampton's, and it's no wonder. It's a great, twisted tale of epic villainy like "Sweeney Todd." Watching the unspeakable actions of Merteuil and Valmont, you get the urge to hiss and cheer at the same time.

C.J. Chenier carries on legacy of King of Zydeco

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Zydeco doesn't operate like British royalty. The cron isn't handed down - only the accordion.

The undisputed King of Zydeco music was Clifton Chenier. No one realizes that more than his son, C.J. Chenier, who nonetheless is trying to carry on the legacy his father left with The Red Hot Louisiana Band.

Yet the comparisons between father and son persist.

"It has its ups and downs," said Chenier, who will perform Wednesday at The Blind Pig in Ann Arbor, "but it's nothing I can't deal with."

> "I wish he would have lived to see what zydeco has become today," Chenier said. "He used to think people took the music for granted."

C.J. Chenier didn't fully appreciate zydeco until he started listening to his father when he was older. Childhood friends in his hometown of Port Author, Tex., used to make fun of zydeco. They would call it "chan- retire as the group's rubboard playky-chank" music.

He took up the saxophone and, at 16, was performing in a top-40 band. Then his father called out of the blue and asked him to join his band in Bridge City.

Green as an 18-hole golf course, C.J. Chenier slowly learned to play the music his father patented. Eventually, he learned how to play the accordion and began fronting the band as Clifton Chenier grew more ill.

"He gave me a lot of pointers how to do this and how to do that," C.J. Chenier said. "It all-helped:-It made my transformation to the accordion much easier. I know a lot of what to do on stage from just watching him perform."

REVIEWS OF recent performances have indicated the spirit of zydeco is still there. But, as one reviewer pointed out, C.J. Chenier strays away from the French-languagesongs his father made famous.

"That guy also wrote that I didn't play any blues," said Chenier, recalling the review that appeared in a San Diego newspaper. "Before the show, someone told me that they really wanted to hear zydeco tonight. So, the one night I don't play any blues, there's somebody who wants to hear the blues.

"I know I can play the blues. My dad could play the blues. It's in me,

Showcase' showcases best of Detroit sound

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

"Hello, Mr. Rock'n'roll, meet Mr. Blues, Mr. Blues, let me introduce you to Mr. Jazz. Where you from? Detroit, you don't say. So are we."

Of course, conversations like this don't exist. If they did, they'd all be raving about a new radio show which recently debuted Sunday nights on WDET-FM 102. "Showcase Detroit," heard at 10 p.m. Sundays, offers an hour of the best in rock'n'roll, blues and jazz. And the best part about it is this is stuff stamped, "Made in Detroit."

Paul Ciaravino, 36, is the show's and blend them together rather well.

signed to highlight the best of what Detroit has to offer, covering most of the musical spectrum.

--- Although the elements of his show are diverse. Ciaravino believes one common thread ties them together.

"A lot of rock people are into blues and jazz," said Ciaravino, who has worked at radio stations in Mount Clemens and Jackson. "Some of them get their inspirations from blues and jazz people. Rock'n'roll came from rhythm and blues."

SOMEHOW "Showcase Detroit" is able to take a variety of music styles on the premiere show. . . A blues number, "Detroit Playboy" by Harmonica Shah, fit right in with a song, "In a Lifetime" by the Stingrays. Also, the host provides background on most of the acts whose music is getting airplay. That fits right in with the format of the show where the informational is combined with musical. Another feature of "Showcase Detroit" is a segment where Ciaravino interviews people prominent in the Detroit music scene.

Future guests include the Sun Messengers (Jan. 22) and Steve Sanchez of Detroit Blues Factory

Ciaravino got the idea for a local music show a few months ago. He's quite familiar with the East Side Detroit rock scene. He thought a radio show can only expand local music.

Soon, he was in touch with Judy Adams, program director at WDET, and things quickly fell into place. He put ads in the Metro Times, soliciting material for the new show. As a result, he's been "bombed" with records, tapes and some CDs from local groups.

Of course, Ciarivino's isn't the only radio show playing local music. "Detroit Music Scene," hosted by Scott Campbell on WDTR-FM, and 'Contamination and Corrosion.' hosted by Rick Anderson on WORB-FM, also feature Detroit bands.

"THERE ARE some local rock shows, but this is a local variety show," Clarivino said. "We cover the whole spectrum." Like many, Ciaravino is one who believes Detroit music doesn't get the airplay it deserves on commercial radio. WDET-FM is a public radio station, but with a strong signal. Detroit music could be getting its best play to date.

"This isn't going to be a one- ortwo-month skit," Ciaravino said. "We want this to last. But it really depends on the listeners."

Here are the top 10 songs receiving airplay on WWWW-FM.

1. "Deeper Than the Holler," Randy

2. "Change of Heart," The Judds. 3. "That Old Wheel," Johnny Cash/Hank

LOCAL RIFFS DETROIT'S BEST OF 1988

- various artists

Once upon a time, there was a radio program. On it, musicians from Detroit would have their music played on the air at 11 p.m. everyweek night.

winners were chosen on a nightly, weekly and monthly basis. The monthly winners would go on a compact disc in hopes of showcasing the finest in what Detroit has to offer musically. Hard to believe, isn't it?. But thanks to people like Greg St. James, Scott Brown and Pat Still, "Local Riffs" on WRIF-FM actually did happen. "Detroit's Best of 1988" is the final result of the competition that at least provided a drinking fountain in the vast dessert that has become commercial radio. WRIF-FM should be commended for taking on this project. This is a first-rate production. Best of all, proceeds from the sale of the CD/ cassette goes to the Child Protection

Team at Children's Hospital .-Variety is the essence here. All nine bands "Detroit's Best of 1988" run the spectrum in terms of musical styles. There is something for ev;

Those who thrive on vivid, heartfelt lyrics, J.D. Lamb's "Suburbia" Boy" is a choice cut. People of the melodic rock ilk will no doubt enjoy the offering of The Shake's "Still in My Heart." The hard rock crowd can easily warm to Roulette's "Lost Without Love" as the Euro-sound fiends will dig the massive beat of Tanjent Image on "Faith." Cuts that stick out here include the gultar odyssey provided by the Orange Roughles' Dave Feeny on "Eyepatch." Also, Second Order Thinking's "Writers and Poets" has a rather endearing melody with Jim Flynn doing some fine vocal work. Same can be said for See Dick Run's "Good Thing."

Overall, this is a good piece of work by everyone involved.

GREATEST HITS - Fleetwood Mac

It's a look back and a look to the future .from .this .. ever-popular_pop .. group with release of its first-ever greatest hits (Warner Bros.). The hits are obvious - "Rhiannon." "Go Your Own Way," "Hold Me" and the rest. And more than a decade later, they're not exactly гаге. 📝 Without exception, all of the Big Mac's chart-toppers are still in heavy radio rotation, whether the

. format be pop, rock or that new hybrid, classic rock. (There's nothing, however, from the band's early blues days or from any of the non-hit LPs that preceded the 1975 arrival of Lindsey Buckingham and Stevle Nicks.) More interesting, therefore, is the new material - the first issued by the band since last year's departure of lead guitarist/musical adventurer

Bucklingham. "As Long as You Follow" and "No Questions Asked," however, were penned by Christine McVie and Stevie - Nicks, respectively. So they sound, well . . . like Flectwood Mac. That means we'll have to wait until next year, at the earliest, to determine the songwriting influence of Billy Burnette and Rick Vito, Buckingham's replacements, Part of the fun with any Fletwood Mac album is determining which band members are on the outs with the others at the time of release. Fleetwood Mac has always been a walking National Enquirer among rock bands, what with all its complex personal and personnel relationships. The latest — an on-camera spat between Nicks and drummer Mick Fleetwood during a recent MTV interview.

The gossip-conscious won't find any harsh words toward the departed Buckingham, though. The album sleeve wishes "Love and Happiness to Lindsey from all of us."

But can the band survive without its eccentric life force? Can Buckingham stay affoat without his steady, polished band mates. Stay tuned, pop music's longest running soap opera is about to continue.

Soccer is coming to the Michigan State Fairgrounds Coliseum at Woodward and Eight Mile Road in Detroit in an international way.

After four warmup games, the Michigan Express; an elite team of outstanding college and regional soccer players, coached by former Detroit Express coach Klaas De-Boer, will tangle with the Moscow Locomotive, one of Russla's top first division teams.

The kickoff will be at 9 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27. Tickets cost $12 for reserved seating and $8 for general ad-planning and shopping accordingly. Another diet tip she offers is drinking water to equal one third of your body weight in ounces daily. For a 120-pound woman, that translates to five eight-ounce glasses of water every day.

"It's so basic but people don't drink it," she said. "Those who don't drink water have high concentrations of saits and sugar in their bodles. The body needs water to break everything down."

More than 60 million Americans, more than a third of the population, have a weight problem, according to. statistics compiled by the American Institute for Preventive Medicine.

One of the institute's programs is WeightNoMore, which works on the principle of behavior modification, attacking the reasons for overeating, like boredom, stress and habit, as opposed to seeking simple solutions.

"WE WORK through hospitals and corporations," said spokeswoman Mary Mercatante. "It's a 10-week program and on average (participants) lose 1.6 pounds a week. Fifty percent of the people keep the weight off six months to a year after the program ends."

Likewise St. Mary Hospital in Livonia offers an Eating Disorders Recovery Center, bringing a structured approach to the treatment of disorders like anorexia, bulimla and compulsive overeating. The clinic treats the disorders as illness, providing follow-up care when counseling is completed.

According to the National Center for Health Statistics, seven of the top 10 causes of death have a nutritional association. In addition, more than 50 percent of all adult Americans are overweight and 55 percent have elevated cholesterol levels.

"Things are starting to turn around, people are becoming more health conscious," said Lori Pryor, owner of the Fitness Factory in Southfield.

Pryor oversees-250 aerobics instructors, who offer classes in schools, churches and businesses throughout the metro area.

"Aerobics is not a fad. We've been in business seven years and just keep on growing," she said.

The classes range from low impact/low bounce to high intensity.

"It's great for the cardiovascular system," she said. "Aerobic activity, which includes jogging and swimming, is the only way to burn body

Luxembourg: Plenty to see, plenty to do

LUXEMBOURG City has all the scenes we associate with western Europe. There are large city squares, edged with flower stalls and sidewalk cafes, ancient historic buildings like the 16th century Grand Ducal Palace and the 17th century Holy Ghost Citadel and ramparts high above the Petrusse and Alzette Rivers.

The city began in 963 and this powerful kingdom had built three levels of fortification, with dozens of forts, a network of underground tunnels and miles of underground casements before the Treaty of London forced them to dismantle the bulwarks in 1867.

Only 10 percent of the original fortifications remain, but people have walked the ramparts for generations. The newest attraction is a 45minute tour aboard a two-coach train that follows the ravines past the old fortress walls, below the Bock Casements and the Corniche Walk area in the oldest section of the city.

You can sip the inexpensive Luxembourg white wine in a sidewalk cafe in the city, but I highly recommend the short drive to the Luxembourg side of the Moselle River, where you can try the light dry rieslings that are seldom exported over-

The Moselle River winds between green hills covered with vineyards from the French border north past Remich, Ehnen and Grevenmacher to Wasserbillig, where it turns east into Germany at Trier. Drive uphili through narrow village streets for the stunning views from the top.

HAVE A fine meal at Hotel Simmer in Ehnen and ask to see the Golden Book — it holds the names of all the famous people who have dined there. Don't miss the wine museum next door or the many wineries that offer tours and tasting rooms. If you have time, spend a day across the German border in the city of Trier. Drive north to the Ardenne mountains and Vlanden.

The streets of Vianden wrap around the base of a forested mountain that rises like a pedestal from the valley floor. At the top, master of the town, the valley and all it surveys, is the castle of Vianden, an impressive spread of slate rooftops and stone walls that has been sitting high above the world since the first Count of Vianden built it in the 10th centu-

Vianden is the grandest castle in Luxembourg, one of the finest medieval castles in Europe. The Knights Templar rode off to the Crusades from there. The Germans occupied the castle ruins during World War II. It has been restored and is now used for concerts, seminars and other public gatherings.

Those mountains hold many memorials to American soldiers, such as the G.I. who stands in bronze above the city of Clervaux, or the monuments and museums of Wiltz, the only non-American city that raises the Stars and Stripes every morn-

The American Military Cemetery and Memorial, known in Luxembourg as Hamm Cemetery, is an easy drive from Luxembourg City. If you are lucky, Albert Wagner will still be clipping the grass around the 5,076 white marble crosses. He runs "the grand machine" between the rows, within 30 centimeters of the crosses, on Wednesdays. He cuts the grass around General Patton's grave on Thursdays and the green carpet around the chapel and memorial on

Wolfberg swaps school books for career as a standup comic

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

School's out for Dennis Wolfberg. But he goes back there every night.

After teaching for 12 years in New York - nine of the those years in South Bronx - there's plenty of fodder for laughs.

Mr. Kotter doesn't have anything on Wolfberg, who took a leave of absence from his job of teaching sixth graders to venture into comedy full time.

Luminaries from the teacherturned-comedian school include Robert Klein, Sam Levison and Gary Coleman. Except hecklers in Wolfberg's classroom didn't throw barbs, they threw knifes.

"Somebody from India would say, The Bronx?! What a hell hole,' " said Wolfberg, who will perform his anecdotal brand of humor Friday and Saturday at the MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor. "Any elementary school that has its own coroner is definitely different. You know things are bad when the school newspaper has an oblivary column."

Wolfberg's comedic career is anything but dead. He's become one of the better-known upstart performers on the circuit.

Last year, he was voted "Best Stand Up Comedian in America" in an industry poll conducted by Rave Magazine.

Wolfberg, 42, has appeared on "The Tonight Show" with Johnny

Carson, "Late Night" with David Letterman, and most recently on "The Pat Sajak Show" on CBS (seen on Channel 62 in Detroit).

There's talk of him becoming a regular guest on the Sajak show. Also, he's scheduled to appear on the "Aspen Comedy Festival," which will be broadcast on Feb. 25 on Showtime.

THE NEW YORK-raised comedian is on the front porch of national notoriety. So, perhaps Wolfberg is able to forgive those misguided souls who took two tires off his car on only his second day as a teacher in the South Bronx.

"That was their way of saying, 'Welcome to the community,' " he said.

The community of stand-up comedy was equally as warm. After leaving his position as a school teacher, Wolfberg honed his act on the tough New York nightclub circuit.

Most of the time he wouldn't get on stage until 2:30 a.m. His audience then was usually more inebriated than attentive.

"One night, I went on stage at 2:30 in the morning and there were only three people in the audience — three separate parties of three people," Wolfberg said. "As I went through the act, the waitress called out my name. 'Dennis,' she said, 'What are you doing?' I thought it was quite obvious, I was doing my act. She said, 'What for?'

"Unbeknown to me because of the lighting, the three people had left."

Welcome to comedy. But things have definitely been on the upswing since. Wolfberg said he's able to make enough money that he's able to stay home with his wife, comedianne Jennie McBride, and infant more of-

Steady television exposure is the key. The talk show circuit can make the rigors of traveling the comedy club circuit a bit more bearable.

OF COURSE, the Yankee Stadium for comedians is Johnny Carson's show. A good night on the "Tonight Show" can go a long way.

"It's really overwhelming," Wolfberg said. "There's a sense your entire work . . , is going to live or die in that six minutes you're on the show. Imposed upon that are the millions and millions of people who are watching you.

"I remember Johnny meeting me backstage and telling me, 'Relax and just have fun tonight.' I told him, 'That's easy for you to say. You've been doing this for quite awhile.' It does get easier. The more you are on, the more you become acclimated

Dennis Wolfberg will perform two shows at 8:30 p.m. and 11 p.m. Friday and Saturday, Jan. 20-21, at MainStreet Comedy Showcase in Ann Arbor.For more information, call 996-9080.

ABCs of setting priorities

Q: You keep writing about prioritizing goals but I'm not sure how to go about it. Can you explain a system?

A: There are several methods of prioritizing, but one approach I like is described by Alan Lakein in his classic goals setting book. "How to Control Your Time and Your Life." Lakein suggests making three columns labeled A, B and C. From a random list you have already made, each goal is placed into one of the columns, with A being most important and C the least.

Next he suggests going back to the second column and movlife and you can concentrate on the goals in your A column.

If decision making is difficult for you, try the process of list 50 goals, then the least worthwhile would be number 50, for your life's accomplishments. the next least important number 49, etc.

You must recognize that you can't do everything. Some peo- propriate center for information.

ple want to categorize almost all goals an A. If too many ing all the items listed under B either up to the A column or objectives appear on your A list, ask yourself what you want down to the C list, so that nothing remains under B. The C to be remembered for? It might be necessary to repeat the priorities can then be tucked back into the recesses of your process for your A column and then concentrate on achieving your first three to five goals.

This process doesn't happen overnight. It will probably take elimination. Decide what is least important to you. If you died a period of time to decide what is most significant to you, without accomplishing a certain goal, would it matter? If you considering your talents, your environment and a time frame

The Green Hill difference

Do you come home to an apartment or a 75-acre estate?

Most apartment living measures 600 + sq. ft. Ours measures over 3,000,000 sq. ft. Green Hill residents enjoy a gorgeous

75-acre estate setting of park and woodland, peace and tranquility. You're right next door to the 1-275 corridor, Michigan's multi-billion dollar explosive growth area and just minutes away from F96, a direct route to downtown Detroit.

See our 1- and 2-bedroom luxury apartments, terrace residences and country townhouses on 9 Mile, 11/2 miles west of
