Brief: Records fraud started in 1980

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

Did three Wayne-Westland Community Schools officials instruct employees to falsify attendance records in 1980 — two years before the period in question in the current enrollment fraud case?

That allegation was made by Robert Sheiko, Wayne County assistant prosecutor, in an April 3 brief submitted to 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight, who is presiding over the preliminary examination of the officials.

Attorneys for the defendants said Thursday they would file a response to the brief only if the judge indicated she would consider admitting it as evidence in the case.

McKnight has said she will decide whether to address the prosecutor's motion after hearing further testimony. The exam, postponed Friday while Sheiko prosecuted a case in Detroit Recorder's Court, was scheduled to continue today.

IN THE BRIEF, Sheiko claims that Kathleen (Kay) Lyons, Barbara Blanton and Phyllis (Rode) Roderick asked employees of the district's adult/community education program to meet on a Saturday morning in the fall of 1980 at the Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital to "help with attendance records." The Rode then instructed the volunteer workers as to how the attendance records were to be made out," according to the brief.

The two supervisors "referred everyone to a prominently displayed example which showed how an 'acceptable' pattern of attendance should look on the attendance records," the brief claims:

In the brief, Sheiko said "none of teacher attendance information to use when producing these attendance records but at all times made up the attendance information."

Lyons, Blanton and Roderick, along with Holbert (Rick) Hamrick, have been charged in the enrollment dispute, which centers on the 1982-83 and 1983-84 adult/community education program. Attendance records in some adult classes were deliberately falsified in order to receive what's inside District hosts hearing on job training bill

Vocational and technical education leaders urged a congressional subcommittee to liberalize federal rules to improve the training of high school students and adults.

The educators also supported a proposed Tech-Prep Education Act that, if approved, would develop a program to link the last two years of high school with the first two years of college.

The alm is to include more academics in the traditional vocational/ technical curriculum, and to motivate students to continue their education after high school.

The proposal, sponsored by U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, was the topic of a hearing Friday morning in the Wayne-Westland school district's vocational/technical center, named in his honor.

Ford, whose district includes Westland, Garden City, Canton, and the south half of Livonia, chaired the hearing. The hearing was held to obtain

In introducing the bill three months ago, Ford hoped Congress would earmark $200 million to finance school agencies to have the four-year program include core classes in math, science, communications and technologies designed to lead an associate's degree in a speclfic career fleld.

Under the proposal, the programs' could be operated by local school districts and community colleges.

AMONG THOSE testifying at the hearing were Donald Bemis, Michigan superintendent of public instruction; Edwin Ferguson, principal of the Ford vocational/technical center: Mark Greenbury, representing the National Machining and Tooling Association; Jan Danford, educational development director for Olds-Buick Cadillac and Michigan Council. on Vocational Education president.

Shelko said the information contained in the brief would substantiate the conspiracy charge and cited previous case law that he believes will pave the way for its acceptance as evidence.

"A key element of the district's defense has been that any improprieties by the district were the result of sloppy record keeping,"

Shelko said. "I think this clearly shows evidence of a continued effort, not just a few mistakes here and

"Our (state) board did request some additional local flexibility, but it was based on fine tuning our existing system," Bemis said. "In the final analysis, we are more interested In a system that is driven by results goal, the allocation of dollars:"

Bemis also said he thought educators need to forge more cooperation between high schools and schools of higher education.

Ferguson praised Ford's tech-prep of educational agencies and seeking more accountability and perform-, ance.

The focus of Ford's legislation, he said, is to provide more academic subjects like math, science, and communications in a setting where they are applicable. Ford said the "two plus two" concept is important in educating young people to qualify for jobs of the future. Unskilled and uneducated workers are becoming less and less employable, Ford said. "Now a dropout looks around and sees there are no jobs," Ford said. Even high school graduates are likely to be underequipped in future job markets, he said, noting a Downriver auto factory that requires employees to pass math and English tests.

Eleven million people in the U.S. have diabetes. But almost half of them don't know it.

Untreated, diabetes can lead to heart disease, kidney disease, blindness and gangrene.

And for 150,000 people each year, it leads to death

That's why you should be aware of the symptoms of diabetes: blurred vision, excessive thirst and frequent urination are just some of the warning signs. Because the sooner you find out if you have diabetes, the more likely you are to get it under control, before complications set in.

Revised county waste plan boosts recycling

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Wayne County's revised solid waste disposal plan supports recycling as a major trash disposal method and allows greater local input in determining landfill sites, according to a county commissioner who helped draft the plan.

The revised plan is due for release

This is a substantial re-write of our first draft." said Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, chairman of the county's solid waste implementation committee.

Major changes from the initial trash disposal plan include:

• A slight lessening of the 75 percent waste reduction requirement tation committee's make-up. The for communities who have cut waste CWW includes Livonia, Westland, at least 25 percent by 1992. "This would delay the 75 percent requirement until 2005 for those communities," Mack said. Recycling, he added, is an obvious way to cut waste production quickly enough to meet the 1992 deadline. "We look at this as a major statement in support of recycling," Mack said. Communities failing to meet the 1992-deadline would be forced to cut waste 75 percent by the year 2000 to continue using county landfills. • Creation of a landfill site selection committee, separate from the solid waste implementation committee. "This was done to accommodate the Conference of Western Wayne," Mack said. The multi-community group long protested the implemen-

Garden City, Plymouth and Canton, Plymouth and Redford townships, as well as other communities. Conference members said communities held too few seats on the implementation committee, while landfill operators held too many. The newly created board would only contain county and local representatives, Mack sald, landfill operators would

Key items continued from the original draft include acknowledgment of the need for incinerators and restrictions on out-state or outof-state communities that dump trash in Wayne County.

While incinerators' need is acknowledged, the document makes no reference to the disposal of incinerator ash.

. Concerns over the potential health threat posed by incinerator ash prompted a recent Michigan Department of Natural Resources ban on burning at the Detroit incinerator.

"There's really nothing in the plan that specifically addresses landfill ash," Mack said. "That issue is before the state legislature and we'd be bound by its ruling."

The plan is bolder, however, regarding waste restrictions proposed by Sen. Donald Riegle, D-Mich., and being considered by the U.S. Congress.

It continues a requirement that non-county communities also agree to cut waste by 75 percent and file plans with the county showing what kind of waste is being dumped. "This restriction isn't constitutionally enforceable," Mack said. "But it takes Senator Riegle's bill into account. It's drafted with the hope the bill passes."

the county's top priority, recycling, composting and re-use of waste materials ranks as the second priority.

'We look at this as a major statement in support of recycling.'

Enough!

There are limits to insensitivity

HERE, THERE and everywhere: Watching the Oscars it occurred to me, again, that the movie industry is the clearest example of how pervasive racism truly is:

· Yes, Eddie Murphy is the most bankable Hollywood star, as long as he plays a jive-talking, hipper-thanyou jester for the white audience. But in a truly open Hollywood, James Earl Jones would be employed as often and as visibly as Gene-Hackman, an actor with whom he shares comparable talent. Cicely Tyson would be up every year for a variety of different roles like Meryl Streep. Billy Dee Williams would be doing Robert Redford roles instead of malt liquor commercials.

Are black people the only ones who drink malt liquor? Why is that? Another thing, why do McDonald's commercials always show an allblack or all-white McDonald's? Don't they believe in integration?

AFTER SEEING "The Accused." I am angrier than ever about the advertising run in the dailles for the Windsor table dancing joints. It is easy of course to get a holler-thanthou attitude going here because the O&E does not run those ads, but that is not the point. Nor is the point prudery; nobody ever mistook me-for a sexual prude.

-But this is clearly sexual exploitation, reducing women to one thing and one thing only. Recent ads for "Mexican" dancers show pictures of painfully young women who appear to have been dragged up from Mexico for the sexual titillation of gringoes and who knows what else. They also appear to be quite unhealthy.

Do the publishers of these newspapers ever look at these ads? Do they ever read the copy and what is clearly implied between the lines? How do they justify editorials on the evils of sexism and then run blatantly sexually offensive ads? The bucks brought in by these ads cannot possibly justify running them without some standards imposed.

EVERYONE GETS days like this. You sit and wonder, what the hell am I doing here? At a certain age, you ask the question on a regular basis and they call it a midlife crisis. In the newspaper business you're supposed to become laded to life's insanities. But it still grinds you down.

We know that all those stupid situation comedies were a gross lie, an insult to the reality we had to face every day and the imperfections that we constantly fight to overcome. What bothers this reporter is that we never come to any clear answers about any of these things. Taxes, drains, school curriculums are a lot easier to understand than the vagaries of the heart.

ON AN upbeat note, spring is surely around the corner now that winter has given us a final blast. The Tigers are back on the field, though yet to show championship form. No, forget it, even the upbeat notes seem to have a downside today.

aren't accidents, Steve Keeler said. Every word was labored. And his point silenced the room, filled with members of Mothers Against Drunk Driving, police officers and journal-

The group came together in Lansing recently for a daylong seminar, "Bridging the Gap," to open lines of communication.

Crashes involving drunken drivers

The main thrust was to educate: each other about how the different groups deal with the tragedies caused by drunk drivers. More than anything, though, I was struck by the emotional scarring drunken driving causes.

"I keep hearing the word accident." said Keeler a drunken driver victim. "It's not an accident. A person who causes a drunk driving crash ought to be thinking before he or she takes that drive. So, it's no accident." Keeler's family was returning from a picnic 26 years ago when father, mother, grandmother and brother in a crash caused by a drunk driver last Christmas. The remaining family members will be affected for the rest of their lives, she said.

Another woman said she joined MADD as therapy and to get involved after her son died 61/2 weeks

I ate lunch with Eveylyn Bryant of Erle, Mich., who lost her eldest 'daughter and a granddaughter to a drunken driver. The driver, she said shaking her head, tried to kill himself three times before the crash. Ironically, he was unhurt.

Other people had to know of this man's troubles, she said. The focus for change should be on trying to get help for alcoholic and depressed family members and friends.

Her biggest beef is with the judicial system that allows repeat offenders to get off with little more than a slap on the hand.

Look at some of the statistics prepared by the Michigan State Police and disseminated by MADD.

DURING 1987 Wayne County convicted 1,709 people for first time drunken driving offenses, with the average sentence of three days in jail. There were 3,784 impaired driving convictions with an average jail time of zero.

There were 48 second time drunken driving convictions and they received sentences that averaged 25 days in jail. The 120 persons convicted of impaired driving received an average of five days in jail.

Sadly only four people were convicted on third time drunken driving offenses and they received an average 250 days in jail. And only one person was convicted for a third time impaired offense and was sentenced to 120 days in jail.

But you can see by the numbers disappointed she has to change. Here only a handful of people were given that tough sentence. The rest got off.

> Since there's a lack of consistent reporting by all police departments, > the figures are probably higher, a MADD spokesman said. Still the numbers point to the popularity of plea bargaining. In Wayne County the problem is aggravated by a glut of cases that makes plea bargaining attractive.

Judges and prosecutors should be invited the next time police, journalists and victims meet to talk about drunk driving tragedies. A tougher stand in court will lower the number of times we deal with the effects of drunkendriving.

And maybe they'll learn, like Steve Keeler points out, that when drunken drivers kill and maim it isn't an accident.

Narcotics unit seeks money

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Western Wayne County's narcotics enforcement task force is effective, officers say, but badly under-funded.

Task force leader Lt. John Schewell asked the Conference of Western Wayne for more money Friday, but conference members made no promises.

The undercover task force has been responsible for "some 400 arrests" and "over $200,000" in selzed assets, Schewell said, with more to claims. come.

"WE HAVEN'T yet hit the mother lode," he said.

One of the task force's problems, Schewell said, is that only three of . have pledged financial support to the multi-department task force. Those three, Plymouth, Northville and Belleville, are among the area's smallest communities.

Another problem is that not all area communities have assigned officers to the task force. The task force is currently made up of five state police officers and six officers assigned from local departments, including Canton Township, Garden City and Westland.

Conference members were somewhat skeptical about task force results, noting they received no written proof to back up Schewell's

IN RELATED news, conference members have gone on record in opposition to a bill that would earmark 10 percent of confiscated drug dealer assets for anti-drug education programs.

Conference members said they oppose the bill because of fears the rnoney would go into the state's general education budget and be diverted from local anti-drug programs.

"The state would probably be taking it and using it for the general fund," Livonia Police chief William Crayk said. "Essentially, this money

Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett acknowledged anti-drug programs were popular, but said local communities would be better served if they received the money directly.

"This is not in our best interest in the war on drugs," Bennett said.

The bill, House Bill 4149, would take 10 percent of confiscated money lest after law enforcement expenses were paid, and assign it to a public school substance abuse training and prevention fund.

Raymond leaves legacy of service

By Susan Rosiek staff writer

An indomitable spirit with a steadfast commitment to education, women's rights and peace were among the qualities that made Rosina Raymond a Renaissance woman.

That was the message delivered by family, friends and community leaders at a memorial service Friday for Raymond, Schooleraft College's longest serving trustee and a longtime Livonia community activ-

A major figure in the formation of Schoolcraft College, Raymond was in the final year of her third consecutive six-year term on the college board. She served in every board office during her tenure. She was boatd secretary at the time of her death.

While paying tribute to her long public service career, friends also took time to recall Raymond's noted sense of humor. Bennett drew laughs by presenting a coffee cup

"Rosina set an example for all women and men to get active. She said don't just give lip service, do what you can for your world, state, county and city. Don't judge, give a kind word, a pleasant thought, have humor and get out there because there's a lot to be done. Don't look at it as effort, but as opportunity. Be all you can be because there's still so much to be done and not a long time to do it," said Toy.

History and genealogy were among Raymond's favorite hobbies. An accomplished poet, her last poem was published and delivered to the family's home on Oak Drive in Livo-

Raymond is remembered for always striving and doing her best.

After raising a family, she returned to college, earning bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne

State University. She was a former school teacher and taught at Madonna where she served as speech department chairwoman.

RAYMOND is survived by her husband, Jerry, an attorney and former Livonia city councilman; son Eldon of Ann Arbor; daughters, Rhea Heil of Birmingham; Dr. Joyce Rae DuBrin of Rochester, N.Y., and Sharon Rosen of Farmington Hills; and 13 grandchildren.

Eldon Raymond talked about his mother's accomplishments, attributing them in part to his parent's long and loving partnership.

"If she were here today she would be quick to tell us that without my father's patience, tolerance and encouragement, she wouldn't have been able to do many of things she did," said Eldon Raymond.

The Rev. Suzanne Paul of Farmington Universalist Unitarian Church called Raymond a woman who "loved life and made the world a better place."

Get slim eating yogurt

With the tummy tuck-in season right around the corner, now is the time to utilize the little will power we all have.

No need to go on a strenuous dietetic regime. By simply cutting out 150 calories per day, you can easily lose those extra pounds you put on this winter. The best part of all, the swimsuit or shorts you wore last summer will look and fit even better.

I'm a firm believer of "let those without sin cast the first stone," so rather than preach all the things you can do, I'll just refer to everything else in the article in first person singular (for those of you who missed English 101, that simply means

Right off the top, I already know that eating more fish will help. I eat lots of fish, more than I will ever care to admit. In addition, I know that my health club membership was just renewed and, yes, I will return. (Where have they heard that before?)

So what's my secret?

-- THIS SPRING, I'm going to slide milk, cream, ice cream and real cheese out of my daily diet and replace it with 1/2 percent milk, yogurt, frozen yogurt and the new light cheese varieties. If what the American Dairy Association, my milkman, TCBY and Kraft are saying, if I keep up with these healthy habit replacements, you won't recognize me by the time summer's over.

Take yogurt for instance. Yogurt is fast becoming America's favorite food. Statistics show that in 1980, the average Joe consumed almost 21/2 pounds per person, per year. In 1987, that figure dramatically increased to almost five pounds per person, per year. It's no wonder, especially since the average grocery store today stocks yogurt in a frozen variety, as a drink, in lowfat and nonfat forms, in health-conscious-related candles and combined with any number of fruits.

Yours truly goes bonkers over the Dannon low-fat vanilla-flavored yogurt, so much that the Janes gang easily downs two of the large-quartsized containers weekly. The kids love it stirred with granola, my wife and I crave it with fresh fruit and we frequently use it in place of cream in our soups and salad dressing. Anytime a recipe calls for sour cream, simply stir in an equal amount of plain, unflavored yo-

From a professional point of view, the subtle richness disappears but you pick up a tanginess that makes for an interesting taste, especially where most cream soups and salad dressings are concerned.

If cooking with yogurt doesn't help reduce your caloric Intake, try substituting some of the new frozen yogurts that are out and about. TCBY is by far the most famous, but right on its heels is the delicate-tasting Columbo, Even the folks at 31 Flavors are getting into the act, with soft-serve frozen yogurt makers popping up in their stores throughout the country.

THE MAIN difference here, is not necessarily in taste and richness but in calories. Granted, the Haagen Daz people are gearing-their-advertising-nowto the folks who choose to indulge (neat concept), but when you come a premium ice cream coming in at 349 calories per serving compared to a serving of an equally flavored frozen yogurt coming in at just 225 calories, I'd rather kill two birds with one stone and indulge and lower my calories.

PASSOVER SWEETS

Making desserts is easy

By Nechama Bakat special writer

ROM SUNSET Thursday (April 20) until the first three stars light up the sky Thursday, April 27, all leavened bread will be strictly forbidden in the traditional Jewish household.

With ordinary flour out of the picture come Passover, creating a festive holiday menu is no plece of

So, you might say with good reason, this is not the time to be worrying about fancy desserts.

But surprisingly, despite the restrictions, a wealth of Passover recipes are available to the enterprising Jewish cook, and scores of Jewish women utilize them.

JEWISH WOMEN are not afraid of being "slaves in the kitchen," says Rabbi Elimelech Goldberg of the Young Israel of Southfield, even though Passover is a holiday that celebrates freedom.

According to Rabbi Goldberg, "The only way to appreciate freedom is to work for it."

"I look at it as a challenge to my creativity," says Leah Kohn, wife of Quality Kosher Catering's Paul Kohn and a gracious hostess in her elegant Southfield home.

"People know your ingredients are limited. So when you bring out a pretty dessert, they say, 'Wow, that's pesachdig (kosher for Passover)?"

"You'd be surprised at how much you can do if you put your mind to it," she says.

KOHN, WHO STARTS preparing early in a special pesachdig (Passover) kitchen set up in her basement, bakes and freszes cakes made with potato starch instead of flour.

There are a variety of ways you can "dress up a plain sponge cake," Kohn says.

You might make a strawberry sauce by cooking fresh strawberries with a little potato starch as a thickener. Served with sponge cake, it gives the effect of strawberry shortcake.

"I love spooning my homemade applesauce over plain sponge cake," Kohn says. She makes applesauce by cooking peeled, cut-up apples with a little sugar and a cut-up lemon for about 30 minutes. Then she puts the apples through the blender. If you don't like the pureed effect, she says, you can cook the apples longer and then chop them with a potato masher.

Sze-Chuan's spices Canton scene

A few years ago, this writer unearthed a gem of a restaurant in Western Wayne County.

The food had a spicy bite. The check was entirely painless.

The restaurant made no pretense whatsoever at decoration. It was a hole in the wall in a strip shopping center just across Ford Road from a Meljer's. It was the essence of Can-

Today, Canton has become somewhat respectable and, alas, so has Sze-Chuan's. There is a pretense at decoration. It's not as cheap. The food, though still superior, is no longer the revelation it was when you thought you had uncovered the best dive in the area. So much for prog-

The restaurant has seating for 110 (up from 44 "close friends") and has beautifully papered walls and peachcolored tablecloths with glass-like covers. The atmosphere is bright and comfortable, and if you are there for lunch or in early evening, the vertical blinds are likely to be open. strength. Most first-timers go for "medium," says owner/chef Sonny Wang. On their next visit, they "upgrade or downgrde," depending on their taste, he says. Actually, he recommends starting light and asking for a stronger sauce on the side.

We found the medium hot just the right blend of hot spicy. The Sze Wei Shrimp, served with baby corn, straw mushrooms and broccoli, is out of this world. The chicken with hot pepper and peanuts is equally Whatever your entree, start yourmeal off with the hot and sour soup. It's delicious and true to its name. Other interesting choices are a seafood soup (for two) or cold noodles with spicy sesame sauce. And now that Sze-Chuan's has a liquor license, customers can temper their meals with something other than tea - preferably beer.

FORGET DESSERT. IT doesn't really mix with this type of meal, and Sze-Chuan's will likely be out of It anyway. The service is good, though a little overly enthusiastic: Our meals arrived shortly after we ordered, but our plates were taken away the moment we finished our last bites.

This restaurant is more polished than a few years ago. It's no longer a ewel in the rough. That's prog Details: Sze-Chuan's, 45188 Ford Road, west of Canton Center, Canton

Rhubarb a reminder of spring cleaning

My grandmother believed in spring cleaning.

Not only was this the time for cleaning out wardrobes, closets and cupboards, beating the carpets, washing the windows and opening them wide to air out the whole house, but it was also the time, according to grandma, to clean out the system. It was time to rld the body of impurities and get your blood circulating with new vigor.

This was a popular school of thought in days gone by, and the first warm day of spring set the pots to boiling with all sorts of spring tonics.

We were lucky. While grandma believed we needed purging, she never advocated sulfur and molasses, or any of the other horrible-tasting concoctions that some less fortunate cream or fresh whipped cream. than us were forced to swallow.

She got the same effect by feeding us all wonderful-tasting pies, sauces, and cobblers made of rhubarb.

Experts say locals must fund water cleanup projects

By Wayne Peal staff writer

It's going to take a lot of money to clean up state waterways, experts said Wednesday, with much of it having to come from local governments.

The area's "grandson of super sewer" and Rouge River cleanup projects, each requiring heavy local spending, represent the wave of the future, experts said during a water strategy workshop at Livonia City

'We must all face up to the fact that federal funding of wastewater treatment is going to be significantly decreased.'

> — Frederick Brown chairman, Water Resources Commission

"We must all face up to the fact decreased," said Frederick Brown, that federal funding of wastewater chairman of the state Water Retreatment is going to be significantly sources Commission, "Local participation in funding is going to be a must."

HIS SENTIMENTS were echoed by J.D. Snyder, the newly appointed director of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources' office of water resources.

"More is being expected of state and local governments," Snyder said.

"The 'good news, according to Brown, is that authority over water projects may also be transferred to locals.

Brown's comments came during a "decision maker's workshop" sponsored by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG). Representatives from Wayne County, individual western Wayne communities and the DNR attended the session.

Much work has already been done in southeastern Michigan, SEMCOG deputy planning director Edward Hustoles said, but much more work needs to be done.

"This region has not been standing still," Hustoles said, citing regional planning efforts dating back as far as 1971.

Storm water, he added, has become an increasing pollution problem over the same period of time and new efforts must be made to handle storm water run off.

The biggest problem, he said, is local politics, with governments often unwillingly embarking upon expen-

Stevenson's Scott Kosikowski tags out the sliding Plymouth Canton baserunner during Friday's baseball battle. Canton went'on to post a 4-3 victory over the Spartans.

Sloppy win

Chiefs overcome errors to beat Stevenson

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Plymouth Canton had just defeated Livonia Stevenson, 4-3, but baseball coach Fred Crissey wasn't in the mood to celebrate.

The Chiefs tested Crissey's patience during Friday's game, missing several of his signs from third base, stranding six runners on base and missing the cut-off man on more than one occa- failed to tag up from third base on a fly ball. sion. Canton also committed three errors.

Crissey gave his troops an earful after the game. The win left Canton undefeated in two games, but he knows the Chiefs won't extend that streak if they continue their sloppy ways.

Relief pitcher Mike Sulak was the most encouraging sign for Canton, striking out the side in the seventh inning and pitching out of a jam in the sixth. Stevenson is winless in two games.

"I JUST TOLD them we don't play like that here (at Canton)," Crissey said. "Mentally, we didn't get into the ball game until the fifth inning. High school kids are strange, they let the least little things upset them. That wasn't one of our better efforts and I'm at a loss to tell you

"I can take a loss as long as they give their best. That's the difference. Talent-wise we're OK. The thing we need is chemistry and togeth-

Fortunately for Canton, Stevenson suffered similar problems, but first-year coach Richard DeVries was more forgiving. The Spartans are trying to learn a new system under DeVries and he knows it will take time to refine it.

baseball

Three Stevenson runners were picked off base Friday, but one of the most crucial errors by the Spartans came in the sixth when Jim Baumbick

The Spartans' Dan Piergentili scored earlier in the inning on a balk by Sulak to cut the margin to now."

With one out and Baumbick on third base, Paul Namel hit a fly ball fairly deep to right field that was caught by Jamie Sisler, but Baumbick decided not to test Sisler's arm. Baumbick tagged up and raced halfway down the basepath before returning to third base.

He would have been the tying run.

"I SAID 'GO, go, go, go,' but he thought he heard me say 'No,'" DeVries said. "We've got to get better than that. Base running was a kicker. It hurt us big time. We made more mistakes than I care to make. We're a good physical club. If we play mistake-free ball, we'll be great. We're

Jeff Kugelman, who started and lasted four innings on the mound for Canton, picked up the win. Sulak earned the save. Kugelman surrendered only three hits and struck out two, allowing two Stevenson runs in the fourth inning before leaving. Mike Dallmonte, one of two Stevenson pitch-off the fourth with a triple. He scored later on a single by Baumbick. Scott Kosikowski scored the other run on a ground out.

Sulak was impressive, though he allowed one run in the sixth when he committed a balk with Piergentili on third base.

"Sulak did exactly what we wanted," Crissey said. "He didn't blow his cool when the balk was called. Sulak throws the hardest of our pitchers. He's our closer so he's going to get it done. We don't want anyone to go seven innings right

DOUG WASSERMAN was Stevenson's starting pitcher, throwing three innings before being replaced by Dalimonte, a hard-throwing right-

Wasserman only allowed one hit - a single in the third by Kugelman that drove in Jeff Allen and Mikio Tanaka. Canton took a 3-0 lead in the third when Jason Dembney scored on a wild

Pat Hughes greeted Dalimonte in the fourth, leading off the inning with a single and scoring the eventual game-winning run on a wild pitch. Dalimonte settled down, retiring eight of the last nine Canton batters in order.

Stevenson's fate this spring will be decided by how well the new players blend in with last year's returnees, Dalimonte said.

"We have a new system and it's going to take time to get used to," Dallmonte sald. "DeVries has a lot of knowledge of the game. As soon as, the new players come along, we should be a contender in the (Lakes) division and the league ers, got the Spartans only extra-base hit, leading (Western Lakes Activities Association)."

Carbo gets 1st win as Clarenceville coach, 14-3

Bernie Carbo, the former Boston Red Sox and Livonia Franklin baseball star, began his highschool coaching career on a winning note Friday as Livonia Clarenceville defeated visiting Redford St. Agatha, 14-3.

St. Agatha fell to 1-2 overall.

Dave Petry got the win for Clarenceville in a starting role, lasting 4% innings before giving way to reliever Rich Roy. The two combined on a three-hitter and Roy struck out four Agatha

Pat Cylkowski suffered the loss on the mound

Andy Weighill paced Clarenceville's 15-hit attack, hitting a two-run home run and going 4-for-4 with three RBI and two stolen bases.

Dan Gierman added a double and triple and three RBI and Chris Foss also drove in three runs for the Trojans. Wayne Herdell knocked in _ two runs for Agatha.

CRESTWOOD 6, GARDEN CITY 1: Garden City remained winless in three games, losing 6-1 Friday at Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

The win kept Crestwood undefeated at 2-0:

Garden City outhit the home team, 6-4, but committed three errors and starting pitcher Bob Stubbs walked nine batters. George Lang went the distance to earn the win for Crestwood.

Stubbs was pulled after five innings, recording one-

Darrin Clark and Troy Robinson had two hits apiece for Garden City and Matt Ward drove in the lone

Taylor Truman came away victorious in both ends of a double-header played Thursday at Garden City. Truman won Game No. 1, 10-8 and trimmed Garden City 1-0 in the nightcap. Joe Gorak and Nate Hines collected two hits each for Garden City in the first game. The Cougars had only two hits in the second game and Hines suffered the loss

REDFORD CC 8, BISHOP BORGESS 1: Redford Catholic Central got two strong pitching outinga Friday in a double-header sweep over Catholic-League rival Redford Bishop Borgess at Capitol Park. Leo Hutchinson struck out 16 batters and surrendered only two hits in six innings of work as the Shamrocks won Gaine No. 1, 8-1. The Shamrocks won the second game, 16-0. The nightcap was called after three innings because of the mercy rule.

Hutchinson improved to 2-0, getting strong hitting support from Tom Hill (three hits) and Mark Staniforth

Junior Keith Bozyk pitched no-hit ball in Game No. 2, striking out six batters to run his record to 2-0. Hill's three-run homer highlighted the scoring in

JOHN GLENN 5, FRANKLIN 4: Brian Stephenson's two-run single in the sixth inning Friday scored Eric Stover and Torn Luxton and gave Westland John Glenn a 5-4 win at Livonia Franklin.

The game was the season-opener for both teams. Paul Hayes was the other hitting star for Glenn, collecting a double, triple and three RBI. The Rockets received five-hit pitching from starter Mark Johnston, who went 6% innings and reliever Bobby Lawerence, who picked up the save.

Tad Dennis started the game for Franklin but left with the bases loaded and two outs in the first inning because of a sore elbow. Craig Overaltis scattered six hits and allowed five runs in 5% innings of relief for the Patriots, 6

Tom Mack had two hits and an RBI for Franklin.

Rockets run past Cougars

Ferlin Whitlow set a school record in the 300-meter hurdles Thursday, leading host Westland John Glenn to a 103-34 non-league boys track victory over Garden City.

Whitlow, who was clocked in 39.8, led the Rockets (3-0) by breaking Derrick Mitchell's mark of 40.7 set

Steve Wiseley, meanwhile, figured in four firsts, including individual wins in the long jump (21 feet, 1/4 inch), 400 dash (52.2) and 110 hurdles (15.9). He also teamed up with Whitlow, Carl Lowe and Andrew Dobbins to win the 800 relay in

Other Glenn individual firsts included: Jason Key, shot put, 41-1; Ed Terwellen, 124-734; Greg Anderson, high jump, 6-2; Dave Shaver, pole vault, 10-0; Dobbins, 100 dash, 11.2; Lowe, 800 run, 2:02.7; David Ryan, 1,600 run, 4:45.2; and Jason Nowicki. 3,200 run, 10:57.6.

Whitlow, Ryan, Lowe and Randy Seach teamed up to win the 1,600 relay in 3:38.9, while Ryan, Lowe, Joe Zawol and Jim Zurawski added a win in the 3,200 relay (8:42.3).

Brian Rosa was GC's lone winner, taking the 200 dash in 24.0. He also was a member of GC's winning 400 relay (46.8) squad.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL was edged last week by visiting Plymouth Salem, 721/4. 641/2, in a boys meet.

Jason Belaire figured in three firsts for the Chargers (1-1).

--- He tied Salem's Roger Parry in the high jump at 6-2, and won both the 110 and 300-meter hurdles in 15.7 and 42.8,

Jeff Bristow added firsts in the shotput (44-5) and discus (135-1).

Other Churchill firsts were recorded by Max Tressler, pole vault, 9-6; Trent Naumcheff, 200 dash, 24.3; Jeff Zawislak, 400 run, 53.4; and Jeff Grossman, 800 run, 2:08.2.

Churchill lost three of four relays, but took the 1,600 in 3:47.1. Scott Stryker paced Salem with wins in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs with times of 4:39.4 and 10:13.2, respectively. REDFORD THURSTON, paced by Kansasha Hughes, defeated Dearborn Heights' Annapolis in its girls season opener, 66-56.

Hughes paced the host Eagles with wins in the long jump (13-9), 100-meter dash (13.3) and 200 dash (30.4).

Teammate Carolyn McCarthy added wins in the 1,600 and 3,200 runs with times of 6:49.0 and 15:03.0, respectively. Other Thurston girls finishing first included Jenny Hughes, 100 hurdles, 19.7; Samantha King, 400 run, 1:15.1; and Kristin Tunison, 800 run, 2:57.1. McCarthy, Tunison, Judy Wong and Suzie Greca took the 3,200 relay in 12:10.0, while Wong, Greca, King and Tunison added a win in the 1,600 relay

Meanwhile, the Thurston boys got off to a somewhat disappointing start on Thursday, falling to Annapolis, 82-54.

Despite the loss, Darrell Kellogg scored firsts in the long jump (21-10%) and 400 (51.7). Other Thurston firsts were recorded by Jerry Malik, 110 hurdles, 19.0; Adryan Lee, 200, 25 5; and Tom Biskner, 3,200, Lee also teamed up with Jeremy McKinney, Stacy and Paul Jaremski to win the 400 relay in 50.0.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN routed Garden City in a girls meet on Thursday, 106-27, as the host Rockets captured 13 of 16 events, including all four relays.

Individually, Amy Finley starred with firsts in the high jump (4.7), 100-meter hurdles (19.3) and 300 hurdles (55.28).

Bianca Smiley added wins in the shot put (31-913) and discus (75-314), while Mary Ann Gabany took the 100 dash (12.8) and 200 (28.1).

Other Glenn individual firsts were recorded by Dallas Amburgey in the long

No-tap format gives bowlers alternative

WENT OUT for no-tap bowling for the first time Saturday night? This has been a popular Saturday night pastime for league powlers in recent years. The format is.

the same as regular bowling with one exception: Nine pins downed is scored as a strike.

Some of the bowling centers use a 'moonlight doubles" format. The only difference is bowlers play in very subdued light, or almost none at all. High games are plentiful, and 300 games are not all that unusual, but these are not sanctioned games.

The prize list and entry fees vary from one house to another. Many bowling centers in the area offer this form of Saturday night diversion. The usual handicap is at 80 percent, and you must have a current or yearbook average to compete.

It sounds easy for good bowlers to get at least nine pins on the first roll, but just when you think you have nine, you are somehow looking at two pins still standing. Many of the no-tap bowling leagues are listed in the Bowlers Digest weekly publication available on the counter at your favorite bowling center.

 Cliff Cavender was just "pacing" himself Tuesday in the Ford Part Depot League at Woodland Lanes in Livonia. He rolled a 298 game to fit in with a 753 series, but none of it counted in the scoring, nor was it even ABC sanctioned. Pacing means a bowler is filling in for an absent bowler whose absentee score goes on the team total. It didn't count, but nice going, anyhow, Cliff.

 At Country Lanes, last week's action in the Greenfield Mixed League featured Bill Pietrzyk and Lee Snow each with a 268 game. Phil Szonye shot a 258 with a 668 series; Tom Lehman, 254/611; and Mary Ann and Bob Berndt came in to sub and bowled 188 and 244 games, respectively. Team No. 17, comprised of Marilyn and Jim Taylor, along with Maxine and Billy Franklin, held on to first • Bel Aire Lanes on Orchard Lake Road hosts the Wednesday Night Spares & Strikes League, and Dawn Page led everyone with a 603 series, including 210 and 219 games. In the senior house league, Bob Parker topped the scoring with a 727 series including a 277 game, and Neil Beckman rolled a 713 series with a 279 game. Jay Burke rolled a 262 game in his 669 series. Ted Kress collected a 669 series, as did Bob Raf, while Frank Hurtig finished with a 661 series. Mel Partovich rolled a 653 series. Daryl Rollins had a 287 game and John Robertson a 258.

10-pin alley Harrison

• At Mayflower Lanes in Redford Township, the Wednesday "Night Owls" featured a 203 game and 562 series from Lynne Walker. The Westland Center Men's League included a 288 game and 649 series from Wayne Wieczorkowski and a 619 series out of Rocky Burns. The Tuesday Men's League was led by Karl Reel with a 705 series. Paul Kurek had a. 255 game and Dan Schumaker rolled a 629 series, 146 pins over average. Cindi Kennedy of the Tuesday Coffee shot a 244 game, and the Monday Seniors League. featured a 299 game from Al Thompson. His series was 717 as he had a 227 and 191 to go along with.

• Oak Lanes in Westland is the site of the Thursday "Morning Glories" where Jeri Toner had the "Hat Trick" on a 643 series. This was the first 600 series for Jeri, and she will have many more as she just came back with a 252 game in the ladies singles bowling league. Barb Sewar also came through, rolling a 196

A. Instead of choosing six numbers for a play on your Super Lotto bet slip, just mark the "Easy Pick" box. This asks the Lottery computer to randomly select six numbers for you. Or you can just tell the sales clerk that you want one or more Super Lotto "Easy Picks."

Q. Can I combine the two types of play on a single ticket? A. Each Super Lotto bet slip has five panels for playing the game. You can select your own numbers or use "Easy Pick" for as many as you wish. "Easy Pick" wagers will be followed by EP on

"I'd heard about Mount Carmel's excellent reputation in pediatrics. So I wanted the doctor I chose for David to be affiliated with the hospital. But I also wanted someone with an office near my home in Livonia. I called the Mount Carmel referral number and the woman who answered the phone put me in touch with several doctors who offered what I was looking for. The one I selected for David is wonderful. I couldn't have found him without the help I got from the _referral service." –Cheryl C. Livonia

Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital can help find the right doctor for you, too. Someone near you who accepts your insurance. Someone who's affiliated with a hospital you can trust, and who specializes in the kind of care you need. Whatever you're looking for in a doctor, -tell us about it. The service is free. We'll answer your questions, and even make an appointment for you, if you'd like.

Patriots upset Glenn in opener

Pitcher Lisa Allen fired a three-hitter Friday, propelling Livonia Franklin to a season-opening 6-2 softball victory at Westland John Glenn. Allen went the distance, striking out seven including the final two batters with the bases loaded.

Jenny Massey took the loss for Glenn, now 1-1. Emily Skura's two-run single in the third inning sparked a five-run Patriot uprising after Glenn had taken a 1-0 lead in the second on a homer by Tracy Witmer.

The Patriots' Linda Kulesza tripled in the fifth and later scored. Glenn gained a run back in the ULANE IVER TIME 10, COUNTY DAY OF THE PARTY COUNTY DAY Martin, but it was too little, too late.

LADYWOOD 10-14, GALLAGHER 0-4: Pitcher Shannon White won both ends of the doubleheader, including a no-hit performance in the opener, pacing Livonia Ladywood (4-0) to a Catholic League Central Division win over visiting Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

in the five-inning mercy rule shortened first game. Jenny Kennedy collected two hits and four RBI, while Lisa Bielenda contributed a pair of hits. Krista Campeau added a two-run double.

Health in the eyes of the beholder

Laura Wolfe uses a small flashlight to illuminate the eye and see the iris more clearly.

Laurel Wolfe at Healthways in Plymouth takes great pains to adjust the angle of a client's head to look at her iris to find possible inflammations and weaknesses in her organs.

By Diane Gale staff writer

The next time someone looks deep into your eyes don't assume he's making a pass.

It might be that, like Laurel Wolfe at Healthways in Plymouth, he's trying to learn more about your health. Wolfe strategically sits you down, takes great pains to adjust the angle of your head and looks intensely at your iris. The purpose, she said, is to find inflamma-

And like most iridologists, she insists she doesn't make diagnoses.

tions and weaknesses in your organs.

"But I can tell them there's a problem with an organ - go have it looked at," Wolfe said.

Some medical experts call the practice quackery.

DR. STEPHEN Barrett, referred by the American Medical Association as an iridology authority, is adamantly against the study.

"It's (iridology is) looney tunes," Barrett said. "It' doesn't make the slightest sense."

A Sept. 28, 1979 Journal of Medical Association article illustrates three iridologists who were shown iris' of 143 patients - some with and some without kidney problems. The iridologists couldn't determine who was

And a 1988 British Medical Journal article talked about five iridologists who failed a similar test. They were shown pictures of 39 iris' with gallstones and 39 patients without gallstones.

"They were correct half the time, which is what we'd expect by chance and even with that they didn't agree among themselves," Barrett said. "Not only were they basically wrong, but they couldn't agree among themselves."

WOLFE COUNTERS that iridology doesn't deal with illness, it deals with inherited weaknesses and potential health problems.

"Doctors don't believe in iridology, because it doesn't try to do what they do," Wolfe said. "They di-

Not all state parks in Indiana,

Kentucky, Ohlo, Illinois, offer lodges and cabins, but you'll find good accommodations at reasonable prices in those parks that do

If you call toll-free (800) 255-PARK, you will get information on the dozen or more such parks in the Kentucky system. The closest is probably General Butler State Resort Park near the Ohio border in Carrollton and the farthest is probably Pine Mountain State Resort Park near the Tennessee border in Pinoville.

I can highly recommend either of them. In each case, you will find a resort lodge with hotel rooms and dining rooms, as well as oneand two-bedroom cabins fully equipped with kitchens, telephones, television and good bods.

What's great about state parks is that you can enjoy the outdoors: without spending any money. At this time of year, spring has sprung that far south so the wildflowers should be out and the hiking paths wonderful.

'Disorganized Crime': It's a crime it was produced

Despite last week's winter weather, spring films appeared on neighborhood screens everywhere.

New films include "Say Anything". (*) (PG-13) with John Cusack and Ione Skye: It's a family romance as the heroine learns her father isn't as. heroic as she thought. That's a tough' lesson for a young girl getting involved in her first romance.

Even if you can overlook the vast array of improbable, nonsensical events, you'll still find that "Disorganized Crime" (F, R, 95 minutes) is just that - disorganized - and it's criminal that Touchstone Pictures spent millions to make such a poor

Frank Salazar (Corbin Bernsen) assembles a gang of master thieves Carlos Barrios (Ruben Blades), Max Green (Fred Gwynne), Ray Forgy (Lou Diamond Phillips) and Nick Bartkowski (William Russ) — to rob a bank in a small Montana town. For no reason — explained or otherwise — the bank vault supposedly contains $500,000 in cash. It turns out later to be well over $1 million.

That's "reasonable" for comedy, but pre-adolescent tollet jokes ants in the pants and manure in the face - just aren't funny and neither is this cast. Presumably, "Disorganized Crime" is a farcical comedy, but no one seems to have told the director or the cast that broad farce needs to be played fast and furious.

The slow, laconic delivery and pacing here is more befitting the dry wit of Noel Coward. Or maybe they were just tired. Certainly, 'Disorganized Crime" is tiresome.

Speaking of tiresome and criminal, "She's Out of Control" (F, PG, 90 minutes) is leaden and slowpaced, a farce that starts nowhere and goes downhill. When the basic premise is faulted, there's not much

Daddy's little girl (Amy Dolenz) suddenly blossoms into an attractive young woman, so Dadoy (Tony Danza) goes berserk - with his psychiatrist's help - trying to keep the boys

The whole project is silly and simple-minded with gags delivered so slowly they die aborning, and when they're repeated, it's even less funny. "She's out of Control" was witten by scenarists that had none.

Imagine a Greek tragedy with a Hollywood ending. Despite that unlikely combination, "Winter People" (B+, PG-13, 110 minutes) works well as an engrossing, sometimes violent, drama about passion, love, devotion, sacrifice, revenge and family feuds in Depression-era Tennessee

That's a pretty big bill, but "Winter People" fills it nicely with denseby packed images and rich, evocative

Clockmaker Wayland Jackson (Kurt Russell) and his daughter, Paula (Amelia Burnette), head toward Philadelphia after Mrs. Jackson dies. While it's never clear why they took the route they did, that isn't as

What matters is that their truck gets stuck near Collie Wright's (Kelly McGillis) cabin. She lives a solitary existence with her baby son, Jonathan (Dashiell Coleman). Of course there's a reason she's segregated from the town. Back-country Tennessee, in the mid-'30s, was nelther the time nor the place for an unwed mother.

The darkly colored set decoration, the preponderance of night-time scenes and dimly lit, muted interiors immediately-telegraph the story's tragic portent as does the music which, regrettably and periodically, gets heavy-handed in announcing evil riding in the night, usually Jonathan's father, Cole Campbell (Jeffrey Meek), and Collie's sometimes lover, sometimes abuser.

Well, he's a Campbell and she's a Wright. So there you have the basic tragic ingredients: Star-crossed lovers unable to fulfill themselves because of the family feud. It doesn't advance the cause of love that Cole Campbell is a brutal, drunken mountain man and Wayland is a gentleman in every sense of the term.

"Winter People" is well photographed, nicely directed and features excellent acting in an earthy and very basic story about hard' times in a rough, natural environment. While I think the ending is effective, it is surprisingly out of kilter with the film's overall tone and at-

Nick Zedd's "Cinema of Transgression" is coming to the Majestic Theatre in Detroit Thursday, April 20.

Majestic Theatre shows off 'Cinema of Transgression'

By Anne Sharp special writer

New York is an ugly place right now. Greed, corruption and misery are the order of the day.

The city's young artists respond to the decadence surrounding them in strange disturbing ways. One displays containers filled with his own urine. Another bites heads off live

And then there's Nick Zedd. Zedd is a filmmaker, the founder and leading-light of an underground. movement he calls the "Cinema of Transgression."

Transgression comes to Detroit Thursday, April 20, when Film Threat magazine - that gritty, indispensible local organ of subversive cinema — presents an evening of works by Zedd at the Majestic The-

The show, a multimedia event featuring video, slides and poetry readings as well as film, will be presented at 8 and 11 p.m. The redoubtable Zedd himself will be there to read, answer questions and presumably explain himself.

AND HE has a lot of explaining to Zedd is a self-described anarchist, and his work is deliberately meant to provoke controversy, shatter taboos and appeal to his audience's most antisocial urges.

Describing his "Cinema of Transgression," Zedd said: "It's about breaking rules and violent eroticism. It's about turning our subconscious, most passionate desires into concrete reality and documenting it on film."

A NOTORIOUS example is his 1984 short, "Thrust in Me." It depicts a woman (played by Zedd himself) who commits suicide. Her lover (also played by Zedd) discovers the body and performs what Zedd terms a "transgressive act of necrophilia."

When the film was shown three years ago at the Ann Arbor Film Festival, angry women accused Zedd of promoting sexual violence. Zedd responded by circulating a filer explaining his philosophy of art. It concludes, "I hate women. But I also love them. And you, ladies, are no different than I."

Graphic stagings of mayhem and sexual behavior (much of it illegal) are typical of Zedd's films. Although he says he has no political allegiance, his work also expresses defiance toward the conservative estab-

ZEDD CHARACTERIZES his "Bogus Man" (1980) as a film "about how all the presidents of the U.S. have been puppets of the militaryindustrial complex It's about how all these public figures who we're supposed to admire are really clones of dead ideas which should be obliterated."

His "Police State" (1987) is based on actual, all-too-common incidents ... of police brutality in New York City. ... Rockets Redglare, a character actor and featured in "Stranger Than Para-'dise' and "Talk Radio," plays a sadistic police officer and Zedd a hapless victim who's threatened with castration. Zedd's rebellious art puts him on ' the horns of a natty dilemma. His works reflect his need to show what ... His films are made the berately to-hurt, to frighten and parouse out-

BUT IT'S those qualities that make them especially vulnerable to censorship. Last May a shipment of ... his films, meant to be shown at a film festival in Montreal, was confiscated by Canadian officials at the ; border. According to Film Threat, "Police State" has been banned in-

Toronto, New York and Los Angeles. In a review of Zedd's recent film, "Whoregasm," one critic said, "Zedd seems to have electrified the underground to a degree not seen since the early '60s and I admit, begrudging respect for his almost single-handed ... ability to shock people in this day

"If this film doesn't land him jail, I don't know what will."

The Majestic Theatre is at 4140 Woodward Ave., Detroit. For more information about the Zedd show, call 833-9700.

"Hollywood" hits the shelves of your favorite video store Wednesday, April 19.

No, that's not a geographical move, or a new movie, it's a 13-part series about the Hollywood movie industry from earliest times until sound technology radically changed the name of the game.

Narrated by James Mason, the series features recent interviews with old-time film production workers and silent stars as well as lots of excellent footage from the good old days. The 13 shows cover virtually every aspect of silent filmmaking.

Each video runs 52 minutes, so one can pick and choose, perhaps a curtain-raiser for your video movie of the evening. The first video is "The Pioneers," which describes establishment of the industry. The second video, "In the Beginning," shows the transformation of a small, rural village into the film capital of the world. "Single Beds and Double Standards" recounts the sex and sin scandals that tittilated the country in the late teens and early 20s and led to the establishment tensive footage from the time before of the Hays Office and its Production Code Authority.

"Hollywood Goes to War," that's World War I; not II, features early, powerful war films, such as "The Big Parade," "Wings" and "All Quiet on the Western Front."

Fifth in the series is "Hazard of the Game," the story of silent film stuntmen and it's not hard to guess what number six is - "Swanson and Valentino" - is all about. TWO VERY different, but equally great, Hollywood directors, Cecil B. DeMille and Erich von Stroheim are the subject of "The Autocrate" while "Comedy, - A Serious Business" highlights the careers of four major. film comics - Harold Lloyd, Buster Keaton, Harry Langdon and Charlie Chaplin. Right behind silent comedy, rode

"Out West" stars Tom Mix and Willlam S. Hart, among other early cowboy stars. "The Man with the Megaphone," by Kevin Brownlow, along with Da-was the silent film director and is vid Gill and an impressive list of westerns as a major attraction in the silent era, just as they are today.

Cameramen, of course, are integral to creating images on celluloid and no director worth his view finder can work without a skilled person behind the lens. That's what "Trick of the Light" is all about.

No such collection about movies would be complete without a look at the big names and "Star Treatment" takes a special look at Clara Bow, Lillian Gish and John Gilbert.

Quite appropriately, the last show looks as the advent of sound. The "End of an Era" commenced as Al Joison prophetically called out, "You aln't heard nothin' yet." He was 'right, you ain't.'

While those descriptions sound enticing — the silent era footage is terrific - "The Pioneers" which was available for screening was, on the whole, disappointing.

GIVEN THE opportunity, I would gladly watch the entire series. But considering that they were written number 10 in this series, all 13 of technical advisors, well, it's rather which include very excellent and ex-, scattered.

Guy Clark's Texas air and wit doesn't have a peg for country radio, so he carries on as a soloartist of unreputed excellence.

Guy Clark: A man and his guitar

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

If Guy Clark had to buy lunch for all the guests who appeared on his latest album, his wallet would be in a serious state of hurt.

None other than Emmylou Harris, Rodney Crowell and Roseanne Cash offered their assistance on "Old Friends," Clark's critically-acclaimed 'release on Sugar Hill Records. Unfortunately, his suitcase nored. isn't big enough for everyone to join him on his current tour.

"If you add another person, then you need a road manager," said Clark, who will perform Wednesday, April 19, at the Midtown Cafe in Birmingham. "It becomes a geometric progression. Then you have all that bull--- that comes with it.

toured with a band. It's not for me."

The road, though, is for Clark. The stage is where he puts the finishing touches on his acoustically sparse songs, many of which have been covered by the likes of Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings, George Strait, Tammy Wynette and the Everly Brothers.

His albums have been critically embraced but commerically ig-

HIS TEXAS air and wit, not to Onstage, it's just Guy Clark and mention his eclectic style, doesn't nave a peg for country radio.

Clark accepts his muse and carries on as a solo-artist of unreputed excellence.

"It doesn't appeal to the lowest common denominator," he said. "I don't really make records in order to second guess that type of market.

"I used to do that stuff when I It's nothing that bothers me, though."

That typifies an easy-going tumbleweed attitude that finds its way into many of Clark's songs. His numbers are known for their detail, their campfire quality.

Much of that can be attributed to his upbringing. Clark was born and raised in west Texas.

"Being born and raised there, you're always trying to get it out of your psyche," he said. "I don't know. what it is. It's just the whole attitude workshop. - live and let live."

His songs certainly live, especially through the voices of other performers. Clark said he finds it flattering - not to mention financially rewarding - when someone covers one of his songs.

Of all the performers who have performed his songs, an unlikely one stands out - Slim Pickens. The country 'n' western singer did "Desperate Waiting for a Train."

"He spoke it on record, which I thought was stunning," Clark said.

SUCH TERMS have been used to describe "Old Friends," which Rolling Stone and People have raved about along several other music critics.-The singer/songwriter's followup will be completed as soon as "I write 10 good songs."

And the club circuit will continue to serve as Clark's songwriting

"The playing is an extension of the writing, really," he said. "They're not finished until I play them for a couple of weeks on the road."

Guy Clark will perform on 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, April 19, at the Midtown Cafe, 139 S. Woodward, Birmingham. Tickets are $10. For information, call 642-1133.

Stages finds its stage in the studio

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Not to say Stages sounds a tad bitter, but castor oil with a twist of lime might be a sweet drink next to these three guys.

you're Stages, you hole up in the studio and release some cassette tapes. "The Vast Charade" was the band's alternative to playing clubs.

The four-song cassette displays a group in the rough stages of development, but with some definite talent in the area of song writing.

Stages is busily working on the fol-low-up, which is a concept cassette titled "Last Day of the Sunrise." A release date is planned for the fall.

IN THE meantime, Stages is learning some diverse covers designed to open a few club dates for them. Stages has played only a handful of club gigs, but found the experience dreadful. Instead they cite open-air performances at the Ann Arbor Art Fair and Wayne State University as highlights.

The band has been together for two years, but sound like it's been 20. "Around here, there's two kind of bands," said Dan Jones, 19, who plays guitar in the band. "There are the manufactured ones that are only interested in making money and picking up women. Then are the ones who are interested in making mu-

Stages obviously considered themselves in the latter category. The band formed two years ago in a Livonia Stevenson High School classroom when Andy Birko and Jones realized they shared a common inter-

Jones and Shannahan grew up together in the same neighborhood. Then Jones met Birko.

"It'was kind of odd," said Birko, 18, of Livonia. "We were sitting in musical theory class and I mentioned some bands I liked. Here, I was sitting next to this long hair (Jones) and he said, 'Yeh, I like those bands also.'"

Some of the bands Birko mentioned included U2 and Peter Gabriel. Those influences can be heard as well as those of Rush.

In fact, with Jones' high-pitched voice, comparisons to Rush are undeniable.

"It's that three-man phenomenon," Jones said. "You never hear that with five-man bands."

WITH ONLY three members, supporting their musical habit is difficult. Jones and Shannahan both work two jobs. Jones is a cook at a Plymouth bar and is employed at a record store. Shannahan works for an engineer and at a hardware store. Birko is employed at a drug store.

Money earned goes towards the cassette tape in the works. Their first product cost approximately $2,000 to produce.

With little money and fan adulation, there's only one reason to make music.

"Self-satisfaction," Birko said. "That's all you can ask for at this stage."

REVIEWS

LORDS OF LOVE — Tanjent Image

The leather-clad lads from the eastside have come of age. In a relatively short time, Tanjent Image has suddenly emerged as one of the better up-and-coming bands in the area.

And this comes from a person who was not impressed with the band when he saw them open for In Tua Nua at Saint Andrew's Hall. Tanjent Image apparently has its act together in the studio.

The margin of improvement is. tremendous from their debut release last year. For one, "Lords of Love" (Rage) is well-produced (Al Sutton Play. and Brad Fairman) and well-recorded. Too many bands in the Detroit has found its way into Tanjent Imscene, perhaps due to budget constraints, are turning out inferior products. Not so here. More than that, however, Tanjent Image appears to be a group that has matured as songwriters and performers. The band has toned down the thrashy, spiked gultar (dare we of a pop feel. In fact, some of the brightest moments on the six-song cassette are when soft acoustic guitars are at the forefront, such as in the slowmoving "Marilyn Cries." Or, like in the spirited offering "Promises," when the acoustic sound provides texture to the jabbing electric guitar

Another element, the keyboards, age's music. And while most keyboard ooze is the death of many a band, Tanjent Image uses it as a strength.

Some weaknesses, though, are evident. Vocalist Reed Richards does a fine lob here, but sometimes he tries to too hard. His voice becomes oversay U2) sound and has gone for more wrought trying to keep up with the fury.

All in all, a good effort from a band that is on the way up.

SECOND COMING

Yeah, sure.

— The Dickles

"We were hoping that punk rock would become the next middle-class art form, and we could ride that crest all the way to the bank. We want to be the Ray Conniff of punk at the time," said Dickles vocalist and keyboard player Leonard Graves Phillips.

"The Second Coming" (Enigma) marks the return of the Dickles, an anomaly during the Los Angeles punk phase in the late 1970s. Hidden within the outrageous statements is an album that is so-so. Sure, anyone can poke fun by cov-and Gene Pitney's "Town Without Pity." But what's left? Well, in the Dickles' case, it's some sophomoric material by a rather boring punk band. Try these song titles on for size - "Cross-Eyed Tammy," "Going Homo" and "Mon-key See, Monkey Do." Hey, guys, when do the swirlys start?

ering songs like the Coswills' "Hair"

TANTILLA House of Freaks

Seldom do four-man bands play with more power and fury than thetalented duo of Bryan Harvey and Johnny Hott, better known as the House of Freaks.

Along with Lou Reed's "New York" and Elvis Costello's "Spike," this second album from the House of Freaks certainly can be added to the list. Bitstering acoustic guitar lines and impassioned vocals highlight this disc.

House of Freaks is a product of what certainly is becoming one of the American hot beds for new bands, Richmond, Va. Their first album was well-received by critics.

Harvey and Hott prove the first time around was no fluke... Unlike the first album, though, the House of Freaks sought a little assistance this time. Marty McCavitt

New TV won't foster compromise

Dear Barbara,

I'm a single parent with two children - a son, 9, and daughter, 7. We live in a small three-bedroom house with one television. My nine-year-old son wants a TV for his room, I'm not sure what to do. This would alleviate some hassles, but I don't want him to isolate himself from the rest of the family. I don't think this is healthy.

My kids watch about two hours of TV a day and more on weekends. My son usually controls what both kids watch because he's bigger and older. I don't want to promote more television watching.

I can't really afford a new television, but my son will pay for it himself. My son is not tuned in to school, and doesn't read for pleasure. I'm afraid he will be like his dad, who has an acquisitive nature and difficulty relating to others.

A Concerned Mother

Dear Concerned Mother,

You've answered your own question by saying you don't want your son to be like his father. But if you let him buy the TV, you are allowing him to be. Most relationships entail some compromise, and that is a hassle. If you let your son buy his way out of these bassles, he may never learn to compromise or learn the many other complicated demands that are inherent in relationships.

As the parent, you should set the pattern for the house, not the children. Is it that you don't have convictions or that you don't have the courage to act on your convictions?

Often in single-parent homes, children see that the single parent cannot be firm without a lack of support from a spouse. Children seize on this weakness. The vacuum it creates leaves a hole empty enough for even their small strength. In that way, children become the leaders, a frightening situation when their lack of experience and education is considered.

Barbara

Dear Barbara.

I am the mother of two children — a boy, 18, and a daughter, 15. I am already aware that my son is sexually active, but I don't think my daughter is.

Barbara Schiff

I realize standards for sexual activity are different today than they were in my day, and I would like to keep an open mind concerning their sexual activities. How do you recommend I approach the subject so they feel that I'm just keeping an open dialogue with them rather than giving them the third degree.

Dear Parent.

Your instinct to keep an oper mind is a good one. That your teen, agers trust you enough for them to be "open about most aspects" (o: their lives) also says that this is a healthy family environment.

In order to extend the trust your children have in you, you must lister and learn as much as you can while saying as little as possible. This wil transmit the message that you are available, but not controlling in this area (sex) as you have been in others

And he loves it. Just ask him.

"The only difference between the audience's part of the show and my part is that I get paid for it," he said. Grossman, 38, is a rock'n'roll comedian. His recipe for laughs is simple — a man, a guitar and the music of the decade he loves. He claims that he can play any A-side of any rock'n'roll 45 released before 1970, the audience is part of the action. The humor does not come from the music itself. The way I look at it, other than a hot dog and beer at Wrigley Field (Grossman is a native of Chicago), there's nothing more enjoyable than listening to music and laughing."

With Grossman, just about anything can be analogous to the '60s rock'n'roll, even his improvisational style of humor.

T've never liked comics who just go up there and recite their lines," Grossman said. "It's just like going to see a band to hear them play a certain record. On one hand, you want it to sound as good as it sounds on the record, but on the other hand, you want something more."

Windows come squeegee-clean

Q: Despité last week's snow, I'm planning for warmer weather. What's the best way to clean windows?

A: The arrival of warm air this spring can only be the next best thing to winning the NCAA Championship. But does the prospect of mass window-washing dampen your spirits? If so, let's consider some techniques

This is no excuse for procrastination, but if you wash windows only once a year, Fall is the best time to do them. Summer dust swirling through open windows gets them grimy quickly, so they stay clean far longer when closed up tight. If they weren't done last fall, however, they still must be washed now - then again in the fall to change your schedule. Twice a year is far better anyway. (Relax! It's going to be much easier

EQUIPMENT: Invest in a commercial quality squeegee from a janitorial supply company. Good squeegees are made with hollow handles for inserting extensions and channels with replacable rubber blades. The rubber blade should extend 4s-inch beyond each channel end to protect from scratching surfaces. Channels of different lengths can be interchanged on a single handle. Also, a spray bottle, mild cleaning solution, towel, and sponge dampened with cleaning solution.

PROCEDURE: Protect windowsill from drippings with a towel. Spray one entire window and walt a bit for the solution to saturate and suspend soil. Wipe squeegee blade with damp sponge (to moisten and clean blade). Holding squeegee blade at an angle vertically, wipe a one-inch path across the very top of the window. Wipe blade with sponge. Place full blade horizontally across top right (or left) corner of window, bringing squeegee firmly down all the way to the bottom. Wipe blade. Place squeegee at the top of window next to and slightly overlapping cleaned area, pull to bottom, wipe blade; clean next area, etc., working your way across to the opposite side and wiping blade after each stroke.

Don't worry about the tiny wet edges. They will dry and look fine. If spots remain, do not use sponge or towel. They will leave a blur. Erase the spot with your solutioncleaned finger. If too many spots remain, reclean the whole window. When finished, wipe up drippings with towel and move to next window. This method is particularly valuable with large windows. The smaller the pane, the greater the pain.

condo queries Robert M. Melsner

Q: Our board has done it again. They are not even legally constituted because of our screwed-up documents and they fired the attorney and accountant who have helped them through the most difficult times because they thought it could be done cheaper some place else. I am concerned about the marketability of my unit, this board's stu-pidity and the authority of the board. I am also aghast at the disloyalty that the board would show toward these professionals who have served them in good stead. Your Com-

A: Unfortunately, this is a common phenomenon in community association operation, Community associations are not known for their loyalty and/or appreciation of employees and/or professionals of the association even when they have performed an ex-cellent job. This, of course, undermines the ability of the association to maintain continuity and to keep good people on staff, Contractors and professionals are becoming increasingly aware of the difficulties and frustrations of dealing with community asociation boards and of their lack of loyalty. On many occasions, the experts, professionals, and/or employees which they have retained, and who have served them in good stead, will lose their position merely because somebody else can be found who will do it, perhaps, cheaper.

Write your board and threaten them with a claim of mismanagement if you think that their actions are both irresponsible and illadvised, resulting in undermining the ability of the assolcation to properly be managed. Perhaps you will get their attention and save your association in the long run, thousands of dollars in expenses and, perhaps, legal costs.

'Gray water' to the rescue?

astating effect on many parts of the country, and there are bound to be more dry spells in the years to come. But there are ways gardeners can overcome the effects of insufficient rainfall and restrictions on water use.

In a 1987-88 survey by the National Gardening Association, America's gardeners cited "not enough water" as one of the major gardening problems. The association, a non-profit organization supported by its 200,000 members, offers some advice on dealing with drought.

Conserve water. Don't waste household water that can be used for landscape gardening - don't let it just go "down the drain."

Find out if "gray water" is legal in your area. Gray water is water from showers, bathtubs, bathroom sinks and laundries that can be recycled for use in gardens and yards. Check with your local building code or appropriate sanitation and water resource departments for specific regulations on the use of gray water.

GRAY WATER CAN be used on ornamental plants and landscape. Most plants will tolerate gray water, and some might even thrive on it, since the phosphate in detergent acts as a fertilizer. However, for reasons of health and safety, don't use gray water on edible plants.

Bathroom tubs and sinks provide the best quality gray water and the easiest to recycle. Water from the laundry room is next-best. Don't use drain water from the kitchen sink. The oil, fat and grease it contains make it difficult to filter, and it canclog distribution pipes, breed disease and attract pests.

Don't overwater. A rich, loamy soil can absorb up to 1 quart of gray water per square foot a week. Sandy soils can handle more, clay soils much less.

Don't let gray water stand in puddles. It can attract mosquitoes and files, and possibly rodents, bacteria and viruses. The safest way to use gray water in the landscape is to distribute it through buried perforated pipe.

If you are planning a new lawn or garden, you might consider installweeder's guide

ing an efficient watering method, such as an underground sprinkling system or drip watering pipes. These save labor as well as water.

FOR AREAS WITH water shortages and arid soils, the Gardening Association suggests terracing or drip irrigation.

Terracing involves creating a flat surface with a lip that follows the natural contours of the land. It provides a gardening surface that allows water to be directed to the crops in basin beds, which are more practical than raised beds in places where soil is friable and water scarce. Mulching holds water in the soil and reduces evaporation.

Drip (or trickle) irrigation uses less water and usually gets greater yield. Instead of dumping a load of water on plants at one time, drip replaces only the amount of water plants use each day. All water goes to the roots, where little is wasted.

What if too much water is a problem? Plants suffering from excess water at the roots due to poor drainage or overwatering may wilt, suffer from chlorosis (yellowing) of foliage, lose vigor or die. (If rainfall is inadequate, a good rule is to water gardens once a week so that the soil is moistened to a depth of 6 inches.)

Recommended for gardens with too much water is raised bed gardening. Creating raised beds works well if the soil is poor, rocky or compacted, if the spring season is cold and wet (as it was in the Northeast last year) or if the garden is too mucky to enter after a rain. Install drains to help alleviate soggy soil problems. Earl Aronson is the Associated Press garden writer. For a copy of his Guide to House Plants, send $1.50 to House Plants, AP Newsfeatures, 50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York, NY 10020. Gardening questions must be accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed en-

Three weekly classes in home decorating will be offered in Jacobson's Livonia Store for the Home, Six Mile and Newburgh roads. All will be held 7-8:30 p.m. on Thursdays.

In the first class, Thursday, May 4, Paul Lovett from Davis and Davis Designs will discuss custom area rugs. Audrey LaCoff of Norman LaCoff and Associates will discuss window treatment and wallpaper.

In the second class, May 11, Bob Lynch of Henredon Furniture will discuss quality and craftmanship in furniture. Also that evening, Joel Feldmesser of Emerson Leather will cover selection and quality of leather home furnish-

In the final session, Livonia artist Susan Pickering Rothamel will focus on the care and decision-making process regarding investments in prints, lithographs or originals.

There is no charge for the sessions.

Home-buyers seminar set

A free public seminar for home buyers is the way the Western Wayne Oakland County Board of Realtors will observe American Home Week, April 30-May 6.

"Our purpose in holding this seminar is to make potential homebuyers more knowledgeable about what could be the most important purchase of their lives," said board president Eric Hunt. "We are also stressing the fact that there will be no soliciation of any kind - this seminar is strictly for the benefit of the home buyer, especially those people who are consider-ing the purchase of their first home."

The seminar, scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, May 2, in the Holiday Inn-Livonia West, 17123 N. Laurel Park Drive, at Six Mile and I-275, will feature speakers from various segments of the home-buying process: an appraiser, an attorney, a certified public accountant, a lender and a real estate agent.

Questions such as "How much can I afford?" "What financing options are available?" and "What steps will I need to go through when I decide to buy a home?" will be covered, plus others that will come up during the question-and-answer period-that will follow the speakers.

Due to the limited space, reservations should be made by calling 478-1700.

'I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And-luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whidpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing,

Just for brides

The Monthly Album is published the third Monday of each month for the announcement of weddings and engagements.

Engagement announcements will be accepted no later than 45 days prior to the wedding. Wedding announcements must be submitted within 60 days after the wedding. All announcements are run on a space available, first-come, first-served basis

Photos submitted should be black and white glossies. Color photos can be submitted and will be accepted, but they do not reproduce as well.

Due to the volume of photographs handled the newspaper will not be responsible for any that may get lost or damaged. Photos can be picked up after publication in the office where the information was submitted. Or, if a self-addressed sufficiently stamped envelope is received with the photo it will be returned.

Engagement and wedding announcements pertinent to Livonia, Redford, Garden City and Westland are to be addressed to Sue Mason, Livonia Observer, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, 48150.

Engagement and wedding announcements pertinent to Farmington and Farmington Hills are to be addressed to Loraine McClish, Farmington Observer, 33202 Grand River, Farmington 48024.

Mason can be reached by calling 591-2300. McClish can be reached by calling 477-5450.
