IT MAY be new to the Soviet Union, but "glasnost" (free expression) has always been evident around the Westland City Council table.

So it's no surprise that Ken Mehl, council president, is hearing an occasional barb about his recent city-financed trip to Finland and the Soviet Union.

During a council budget session last week, Westland police executive Lt. Mike Frayer suggested he and fire marshal Bob Perry travel to Chicago to research a proposed study of the city's police and fire departments by Northwestern University. There was some debate about the necessity for the trip and how it would be financed.

"Let's remember, we're not talking about Russia here," Frayer said with a wink toward Mehl.

Mehl accompanied the Westland-based Stingers hockey team on its exhibition tour in Helsinki and Leningrad last month.

But a last-minute controversy over the origins of the tour and the intentions of Stingers coach Bob Valeri cast a shadow over the city's participation.

FOUR STUDENTS from St. Damjan Catholic School won awards during last month's Science and Engineering Fair of Metropolitan Detroit.

clarification

A story in last Thursday's Observer on a complaint filed against 18th District Judge Gall McKnight said Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek was director of the Wayne-Westland school district's senior citizens program during 1982-84. The complaint contained incorrect information. Kozorosky-Wiacek was deputy director of the city's senior citizens program. She last worked for the school district in 1977.

Elementary school looks to the future

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Efforts are underway to ensure that Patchin Elementary School, on the western edge of Westland's burgeoning downtown district, isn't swallowed up by commercial development.

City and school officials said they hope the school, on Newburgh south of Warren, will remain in its current location for the immediate future, although a new site by the late 1990s is a possibility.

City and school leaders have held informal talks to deal with the changing environment surrounding Patchin, said Tom Svitkovich, associate school superintendent for communications and finance.

"Informal lines of communication are open and as things come up we'll be dealing with them," Svitkovich said.

IMMEDIATE CONCERNS include the Meijer superstore currently under construction adjacent to the north side of the school property, the planned widening of Newburgh and Warren Road to five lanes and a proposed east-west road linking Central City Parkway and Newburgh.

The 212,000 square-foot Meijer store and an adjacent 1,500-space parking lot is set to open early next year.

Meijer will install a six-foot chain-link fence and a 40-foot-wide greenbelt to the rear of the store in order to separate its property from the 349-student school — measures requested by the school district.

"I think it will be an effective divider," Patchin principal Donald Massey said. "We've always had proper supervision in the school yard, and I don't see kids wandering onto the store property or (customers or employees) wandering onto our property."

The principal said he has gotten "a few calls" from concerned parents,

Man will stand trial in sex case

A Westland man was ordered last week to stand trial on charges that he sexually assaulted a 10-year-old girl in February.

James Wesley Curry Jr., 31, waived a preliminary examination Monday in front of 18th District Court Judge Gall McKnight. He will be arraigned in Detroit Recorder's Court 8:30 a.m. Monday, May 8.

Curry pleaded innocent to one count of second-degree criminal sexual conduct. He was remanded to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of a $20,000 cash bond.

Second-degree criminal sexual conduct against a minor involves sexual touching, but not penetration, said Laura Moore, the Westland police detective who investigates sex crimes.

If convicted, Curry faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

The alleged assault occurred Feb. 25 in the defendant's home, according to court documents.

Moore said the victim's family knew the defendant.

Defense attorney Martin Marcus asked the court for reduction of the bond. Marcus told the court his client was married, had three children and is employed as a truck driver.

But the judge, citing a previous jail escape and the defendant's apparent refusal to surrender voluntarily last month, denied the request.

Schools chief looks at gains, frustrations

By Leonard Pogor

Dennis O'Neill, who marked his fifth anniversary as Wayne-Westland school superintendent recently, likes to talk about his accomplishments in the second largest district in Wayne County.

But he also has no hesitation in discussing the professional frustrations of the job he has held since April 23, 1984.

In a two-page list of accomplishments, O'Neill listed increased standards of education, improved test scores, improving relations with his office and the school board, gaining voters' approval of a millage increase and bond proposal for maintenance and equipment, and more community confidence of schools.

BUT AN ongoing frustration is the lack of agreement among state officials on a school finance reform package to help in-formula districts get more state dollars to balance budgets, O'Neill said.

"Although we are proud of the academic preparation and success of most students, idealistically and maybe unrealistically, we will not be satisfied until every student reaches his/her maximum potential," he said.

The school board recently joined a civil suit initiated by other in-formula districts to challenge the existing state aid formula, saying it causes a gap in per-pupil spending between high-valuation and low-valuation districts.

O'Neill doesn't feel the lawsuit will be effective, "but we must impress the state Legislature that they were elected because people trusted them and they can look at a problem and come up with a solution," he said.

IN REFLECTING on the past five years, O'Neill said his good and bad days are split 50-50. But he stressed that he thinks positive and problems will be worked out.

Reflecting on accomplishments during his tenure, O'Neill pointed to increased high school graduation requirements, improved Michigan Education Assessment Program test scores, initiation of required computer literacy classes for high school students and installation of computers in all buildings.

In the MEAP scores, the number of fourth graders mastering the reading test went up from 77.7 percent to 82.3 in five years. In math, the percentage went from 82.6 to 87.

Other dramatic increases were in the seventh grade math tests with 72.4 percent mastering the test, compared to 65.7 five years ago.

O'Neill added that 42.8 percent of Wayne Memorial's seniors have applied for college openings, compared to 36.6 percent in 1983. The John Glenn High rate is just over 50 percent.

During his tenure, voters approved a millage increase for operating purposes in spring 1977, and a $12.9 million bond program for building maintenance and equipment nine months later.

Observer is now 50 cents on stand

For the first time since 1976 we are raising the newsstand price of our newspapers. As everyone knows, all prices have increased dramatically since 1976.

Since our last price increase many improvements have been made in the content and quality of The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

New sections such as Taste, Street Scene and Monthly Album have been added and Creative Living has been expanded. We have focused our news coverage on the communities we serve. Our classified advertising sections are the largest available in the suburbs. We are the only real source of local news and advertising in the communities we serve.

This price increase will help us continue to grow and improve the quality of The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers for our readers and advertisers.

Local senior citizens battle medical plan tax

By Leonard Pogor
editor

Local retirees are fighting mad about the new income tax surtax designed to pay for the new federal Medicare Catastrophic Act approved by Congress last year.

They are upset about the size of the surtax and were involved in a petition and postcard writing campaign last week at senior citizens centers in Garden City and Westland, respectively.

The petitions and cards are being directed to U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle and Carl Levin and U.S. Rep. William Ford, whose 15th congressional district includes Garden City and Westland.

The retirees are hoping that Congress will repeal the tax, which starts at a 15 percent rate for this year and increases to 28 percent by 1993.

A table prepared by a financial advisor shows that a retiree with a federal liability of $2,100 will pay an additional $315 this year. That surtax goes up to $588 in four years.

The tax is doubled for married couples filing joint tax returns when both are eligible for Medicare benefits.

Westland postcard writers are saying the surtax is "outrageous" and unfair to retirees.

The Garden City petition signers say they are "absolutely opposed" to the surtax and want Congress to repeal it.

Publicity blitz to precede new 9-1-1 system

By Tedd Schnelder
staff writer

The Westland 9-1-1 Education Committee is planning an information blitz during the next six weeks that will include every segment of the community.

"The idea is that between now and June 9 — the date the Enhanced 9-1-1 system goes on line throughout western Wayne County — every person in Westland has seen or heard the message somewhere," said Joseph Benyo, regional coordinator for the program.

Efforts are under way in Wayne-Westland schools, businesses, senior citizen complexes, churches and the police and fire departments, Benyo said.

The Enhanced 9-1-1 telephone system is designed to improve emergency response time and eliminate confusion over which department(s) respond to an emergency call. Under the system, callers' addresses and telephone numbers are automatically displayed on dispatchers' computer terminals when callers dial 9-1-1.

THAT INFORMATION will solve a major problem faced by emergency teams — getting an accurate location of the call from distressed or incapacitated residents.

The system also helps communities cut down on the number of crank calls, since the location of the caller automatically is displayed on the dispatcher's console.

The Enhanced 9-1-1 information residents can expect to see in coming weeks includes:

- Messages on city water bills.
- Messages on portable signs outside local businesses and the large marquees in front of Westland Center and the Quo Vadis theater complex.

• A 30-second informational spot before movies at the Quo Vadis.

• Information sent home with elementary and junior high school students at local, public and private schools.

• Articles in church newsletters.

• Posters in area businesses and apartment complexes.

"With children especially, we have to explain how the system works and what constitutes an emergency situation," Benyo said. "If the 9-1-1 dispatchers are forced to handle non-emergency calls you're going to be defeating the system."

The school district, fire department and Pizza Hut restaurants will cosponsor a fire safety contest in conjunction with the Enhanced 9-1-1 kickoff. Students will answer a 12-question quiz for a chance to win prizes, including a 12-inch color television.

A prize drawing will be held June 1 at Westland city hall and winners will also be announced June 9 on the city's cable television Channel 8.

cop calls

A RESIDENT of The Landings Apartments, south of Warren Road and west of Wayne Road, told police someone broke into his apartment early Wednesday and stole $400 cash and an undetermined amount of gold jewelry.

The thief left an envelope with a threat written on it behind, the resident said.

The resident told police he went to sleep at 2:30 a.m. When his roommate came in at 3:30 she noticed the television, videocassette recorder and a camera case were stacked in a pile on the floor, the resident said.

There were no signs of forced entry into the apartment, police said.

ter, on Newburgh near Marquette, campaign volunteers Alice Jarman and Carl Simcox said 200 to 300 persons signed cards as of mid-week.

Just over 100 people had signed petitions at Garden City's Maplewood Seniors' Center as of Friday morning.

Simcox said the tax is unfair because many low-income retirees have to pay it.

Mrs. Jarman said that retirees "are being ripped off" by the surtax and "there has to be a better way to pay for this other than a surtax on seniors."

The center also distributed a flier from the UAW Region 1E Retired Workers Council not only criticizing the surtax, but the loopholes in the health care act.

"For the first time in the history of Social Security, the principle of ability to pay has been introduced into its programs," the flier said.

The surtax dispute is also being discussed by speakers at an upcoming meeting of the Westland-Dearborn Heights chapter of the American Association of Retired Persons.

IN THE life skills learning area, O'Neill said the district has increased students' awareness and preparation for post-high school educational opportunities, put more emphasis on preparing graduates for changes, and put more stress on "wellness" in health and physical fitness.

O'Neill said the district has moved forward in community confidence with upgrading an administrative position to cabinet level, initiating more contacts with parents and having more involvement in parent groups.

In board-superintendent relations, O'Neill said there is more mutual respect and trust, better communication and the establishment of board committees.

BUT THE frustrations still worry O'Neill, who has spent his entire career in the Wayne-Westland district. One is the ongoing money problem, which the state aid formula helps create. Another is the recently closed dispute about adult education enrollment figures that the administration said were the result of honest errors.

Three school employees and one former employee were charged last November with conspiring and falsifying enrollment records after an investigation by a Wayne County citizens' grand jury. Three of the four pleaded no contest to a reduced charge April 17.

THE MONEY problem has led to severe cutbacks, the superintendent said.

As an example, he said, the district now has only one painter, compared to five a few years ago, and only two electricians to handle maintenance work.

On the educational end, there is a drop of support services for students who need special help, he said.

Other needs not being met are media and library services in all and the school's PTA unit has also expressed concern about the close proximity of the new store to the school.

Massey said the school has had to deal with a similar situation — a wooded area adjacent to the school yard — for years, and hasn't had any problems.

WIDENING OF Newburgh and Warren Road, slated for the early 1990s as part of the city's Tax Increment Financing Authority improvements package, could end up having a positive effect on the school, Massey said.

The principal acknowledged the school will have to deal with problems created by increased traffic, but said the addition of a left-turn lane would make access to the school parking lot off Newburgh "a lot safer, a lot easier."

Patchin students who walk to school aren't required to cross either of the two roads, Massey said.

The proposed road linking Central City Parkway and Newburgh would run immediately south of the school, said Tim Schroeder, the city's economic development director.

He said there would be "plenty of room" for both the road and the school.

"We're not in the business of tearing down schools," added Joe Benyo, chairman of the city's Economic Development Advisory Commission.

"I definitely see this building as viable for the next 10-15 years," Massey said.

ANDREW SPISAK, school board president and deputy mayor, said the school and the business district can comfortably co-exist.

"The city has taken into account that the school is there," he said.

"As long as the school is serving its purpose at that location I don't think there's going to be a problem," Spisak said.

schools, particularly elementary buildings. "Although it's a reflection of today's society and as much as we emphasize the potentially fatal results of both weapons and drugs, we had our first incident of a gun and crack cocaine in our district last year," he said.

O'Neill has spent career here

Dennis O'Neill has been in the Wayne-Westland school district for his entire 29-year career.

Born and raised in Detroit, he is a graduate of Detroit Catholic Central High School. He later earned bachelor and doctoral degrees from Wayne State and master and educational specialist degrees from Eastern Michigan.

O'Neill, 54, began his career as a West Junior High School teacher. The building was in downtown Wayne and later served as the Wayne-Westland district's central office before being sold and demolished.

O'Neill moved to John Glenn High School as a political science teacher in 1964 when the school opened.

Four years later, he was promoted to Wayne Memorial High School assistant principal. In 1973, he was promoted to administrative assistant to newly appointed superintendent Timothy J. Dyer. A year later, he was elevated to deputy superintendent.

Married, O'Neill is the father of five and the grandfather of four.

Good times bloom at spring festival

YOUNGSTERS and adults enjoyed four days of carnival rides, food and arts and crafts displays last week at the annual spring festival sponsored by the Garden City Jaycees. Held for four days at City Park on Cherry Hill and Merriman, many Garden City and Westland people took advantage of the annual event to enjoy themselves. There was a merry-go-round, moon walk, fast rides, slow rides for younger kids, food booths and numerous sales tables and displays.

For those keeping track of other festivals, the annual Garden City Community Festival will be held the weekend of June 30-July 2 in City Park, with the annual Westland Summer Festival scheduled for June 30-July 4 in the Civic Center area.

Three girls, Dawn Carrithers, 13, Jessica Cussen, 14, and Crystal Palut, 14, take their turn on the Tilt-a-Wheel during the festival.

Waving from their boat are Jason Sutton, 3, Sandra Sutton, 1, and Nicholas McKennon.

Hospital honors 9 retiring employees

By Leonard Poger
editor

Westland's June Williams retired as an Annapolis Hospital nurse last week with memories of helping deliver nine babies in one night and five within an hour.

Ruby Hale, another Westland woman who wrapped up a pediatrics nursing career last week at the same hospital, feels that "kids are the same (over the years) but mothers have changed." She refused to say if the change was for the better or worse.

From the Annapolis pharmacy department, Livonia's Neil Caldwell has seen his wholesale cost of prescription drugs soar from $3,000 when he helped open Annapolis in the fall of 1957 to more than $100,000 this year.

The three were among nine Annapolis employees honored at a retirement reception last week.

Caldwell and Hale have been at the Wayne hospital since it opened more than 31 years ago when it was the first major hospital in western Wayne County and serving a booming suburban population.

Williams, an assistant nursing supervisor for the afternoon shift, works in the labor and delivery department.

She recalled her nurses delivering 265 babies a year.

"Now we're doing good to get 100," said Williams, 69 and the mother of one son and one daughter.

She grew up in Clarksburg, W. Va., and graduated from the Harlem Hospital school of nursing in New York City. Williams joined the Annapolis staff in January, 1958, just three months after it opened.

In her career, she recalls delivering many babies before the doctors arrived.

Her biggest professional frustration is the shortage of nurses.

"We want patients to get better care," she said, "but the shortage of nurses results in less time spent with patients."

She and her husband plan to do a lot of traveling during her retirement.

HALE, 59, has been a nursing supervisor for 30 years with 27 spent in pediatrics.

Over the years, she has seen other nurses frustrated by being overworked and not being able to meet their own high standards. They then move out of nursing into other health-related fields, she said.

June Williams and Neil Caldwell are among the Annapolis Hospital employees who were honored at a retirement reception last week.

Hale also commented that she likes the change of the hospital's parent organization, United Care Inc., which was formally organized several months ago.

The new private, non-profit corporation succeeds Peoples Community Hospital Authority, which was created in the late 1940s to build and equip hospitals in western Wayne County and eastern Washtenaw County to serve the then-booming suburban communities.

"I hope the change (to United Care) works," Hale said. "It's now being run like a business — like it should."

Caldwell, 60, was the first — and only — pharmacy employee when Annapolis Hospital opened its doors in September 1957.

Now, there are 20 staffers, equipped with computers which monitor all IV solutions and drug prescriptions, he said.

He recalled the wholesale cost of drugs being $3,000 the first year. Now it is about $100,000.

THE REASON is that there are "more exotic drugs" and modern medication help prevent heart attacks and extend life expectancies.

Caldwell was born and raised in Detroit, has degrees in chemistry and pharmacy from Wayne State, served in the Army during the Korean War, and worked in retail pharmacy for two years before coming to Annapolis.

He is married and the father of one son and one daughter.

After retirement, he plans to do consulting and "golfing and fishing."

Artrain pulls in to area this week

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Westland and Garden City residents can catch the train this week in the city of Wayne.

The Artrain, the rolling, Michigan-based museum that criss-crosses the country will pull into Wayne Thursday, one of three scheduled southeastern Michigan stops this spring and summer.

It will be stationed on the Conrail tracks at Elizabeth and Brush, just south of the downtown business district, through Sunday.

The exhibit being carried on the five-car train is titled "Treasures of Childhood: 150 years of American Toys." It features approximately 300 items from the Lawrence Scripps Wilkinson toy collection.

Scripps Wilkinson is a former vice president of the F.A.O. Schwarz toy company. His collection of more than 5,000 toys represents American life from horse-and-buggy days through the era of the space shuttle. The display includes an early tin train, set from 1875, a turn-of-the-century Uncle Sam mechanical bank, numerous teddy bears and an original Howdy Doody doll from 1957.

JOHN ZECH, Wayne's assistant city manager, said last week the city has "gone all out" for the event. He said about 5,000 visitors are expected to pass through the train during its four-day stay.

"This is the kind of display that will interest everybody, regardless of age," Zech said. "We hope the kids who see the exhibit Thursday and Friday (as part of a Wayne-Westland school district tour) will bring their folks back on Saturday and Sunday."

"We're looking at this as an opportunity to sponsor a cultural experience that will bring the whole community together. The city will put up a canopy tent beside the train to protect visitors from inclement weather."

The downtown business district has been gearing up for the event since the city put in a bid to host the train last fall, Zech said.

Local merchants will sponsor a shuttle bus from five pick-up points Saturday. Visitors can park their cars and board the bus, which will run during the Artrain hours, at city hall, the Wayne Community Center, the southside business district or two senior citizens apartment complexes.

"There's no question this should (financially) benefit the downtown area," Zech said.

THE WAYNE Historical Museum will be open with an exhibit featuring toys and the community center will feature a toy trading mart for children.

Bob Boyles, chairman of the local Artrain Steering Committee said local businesses will be putting up special displays throughout the week to commemorate the visit.

The Artrain exhibit includes three gallery cars, an artists' studio/demonstration car and a caboose.

Local artists in a variety of media will be giving demonstrations in conjunction with the Artrain visit. "We wanted to involve as many artists as we can from all types of backgrounds," Boyles said.

ZECH SAID the city made a pitch to the Artrain people last fall about the same time the organization was arranging its 1989 schedule. The Artrain is co-sponsored by the Michigan Council for the Arts, Michigan Council for the Humanities and the Institute of Museum Services.

Since 1971, the traveling museum has visited 250 communities in 28 states.

Cost for hosting the train should run about $5,000-$6,000, Zech said. The city must house six Artrain staff members for the week and find about 50 volunteer guides.

Donations have covered much of the bill and Zech said he believed the city would break even on expenses.

Hours for the Artrain in Wayne are 9 a.m.-5 p.m. Thursday and Friday and 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Admission is free. An invitation-only opening ceremony will be held Wednesday night. For more information, call 467-4821.

Wayne officials expect about 5,000 people for this week's Artrain visit.

Chorus wins district title

The Renaissance Chorus of the Wayne Chapter won the Pioneer (Michigan) District championship recently in a Battle Creek competition.

The chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America won the title two weeks ago.

The Wayne Chapter, which won district honors in 1985 and represented the district at international competition in 1988 at Hartford, Conn., placed first among 15 groups from Michigan and western Ontario. The chorus has members from Livonia, Westland and neighboring communities.

The singers rehearse each Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Newburg Methodist Church, 36500 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia.

"All men who like to sing and wish to join or get acquainted with this style of singing favorite melodies are welcome to come and see what we are about," said Walter Wolszewicz of Garden City.

Area's residents face off over abortion

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

John Yurko of Plymouth said he spent Saturday outside two abortion clinics to save children. "I'm here for the children," he said, carrying a brochure depicting photographs of aborted fetuses. "How can you look at that and say it's not a human life?" But Maryse Long of Farmington Hills wondered what kind of choices her own children would be forced to make if abortion were outlawed. "I'm concerned we're going backward on the issue," she said. Yurko and Long, as well as hundreds of other area volunteers, formed the back bone of grassroots campaigns that met head on, as the national abortion controversy spilled over into suburban Wayne and Oakland counties.

THE DAY began with songs and sloganeering outside Women's Center, 23770 Orchard Lake, Farmington Hills, and ended with the arrest of an estimated 40 pro-life volunteers outside Womancare of Livonia, 27634 Five Mile. Additional protests were held outside a Sterling Heights clinic.

Pro-life and pro-choice heavyweights, including Joseph Scheidler, founder of the Pro-Life Activist Network, and Molly Yard, president of the National Organization for Women, were active in weekend events. But it was the local volunteers who served as foot soldiers in the on-going abortion rights battle.

Those in favor of outlawing abortion estimated that at least 400 people demonstrated outside one or both of the centers. Those in favor of its continued legalization estimated at least 150 people were involved in counter-demonstrations.

Both sides said the bulk of their ranks was drawn from metropolitan Detroit volunteers. "We have some people from out of state, but I'd say most are from somewhere around here," said Bob Hoey of Troy, who participated in both area demonstrations.

"WE'RE NOT protesting against them," Hoey said, referring to the pro-choice forces nearby. "Really, this is a repentance for our own inaction for so long."

Pro-choice advocates also said they were making up for past inaction.

"Our voices might not have been heard in the past, but now they are," said Carol King of Detroit, an organizer for Metroplitan Detroit Action for Choice, a newly formed coalition of NOW members and members of Planned Parenthood and the Michigan Abortion Rights Action League, among other groups.

Yard, also present at both sites, agreed. "If we didn't show up, the news media would present one side and that would be very, very misleading," she said. Leaders on both sides of the issue gathered in the Detroit area this weekend, as the U.S. Supreme Court reviewed Roe Vs. Wade, the controversial 1973 high court ruling that prohibited state interference with abortion during the first three months of pregnancy.

Pro-life forces heard speeches and viewed films during a two-day meeting at a Livonia motel.

Meanwhile, pro-life advocates gathered at NOW's Southfield headquarters to discuss their own strategy.

Approximately half the pro-life forces gathered at the Madonna College parking lot, but said their early morning meeting wasn't under the auspices of the Livonia liberal arts college.

"We've used Madonna as a launching pad before," said pro-life advocate Al Kresta of Detroit. "But it wasn't under their auspices." A college spokeswoman, contacted Friday, said she had no knowledge anyone would be using the college's Schoolcraft Road lot.

Pro-life advocates said they were supportive of Operation Rescue, the group that organized the Sterling Heights demonstration, but added most weren't formally aligned with that group.

"We're more of a loose organization," Hoey said. "Most of these people found out about it in some way and wanted to help."

JOHN STORMZAND/staff photographer

Livonia Police arrested an estimated 40 pro-life demonstrators Saturday outside an area abortion clinic. Many of the same demonstrators on both sides of the issue also attended demonstrations outside a Farmington Hills clinic earlier that day.

Life was great when rules were simpler

Once upon a time there lived a boy.

He walked to school. Afterwards, he changed into play clothes and met his friends. He stayed on his own block. There were plenty of kids to play with.

The rules were simple. Stay out of the street, tell mom where you're going to be and get home when the street lights come on.

Dinner was at the same time every day. The whole family ate together. A prayer preceded the meal.

His folks inquired about homework every night. They even wanted to look at it. And visit every teacher at school conference time.

No candy, chips and pop on a daily basis for that guy. Bath and Party Night was Friday. Church was Sunday.

The Tooth Fairy, Santa Claus and the Easter Bunny paid regular visits.

His most vivid childhood memory — walking home at dusk one autumn night tossing a football to himself, the scent of burning leaves in the air. What a feeling of security, he thought.

The boy could go from one end of the block to the other and name each family who lived there house by house.

The only crack he knew of was the sound of bat striking ball.

Reading was strongly encouraged by his mom. His dad, who could fix anything, always seemed to be doing something around the house.

The family — all eight kids and the folks — took some wonderful trips together. Soo Locks/Tahquamenon Falls. Daytona Beach, Fla. The Great Smokey Mountains. Toronto. All by car, too. The boy developed an appreciation for travel from those excursions.

Organized play activities involving teams or lessons were the exception rather than the rule. "Just go outside and play," his mom would say. So he did.

He had a bedtime that his parents made stick. They also monitored what he watched on TV. And gave him regular chores to do around the house.

Doug Funke

He loved sports with a passion. Opportunities were made available to get involved, but he was never pushed. Dreams always exceeded performance. But that was all right with him.

The boy remembered only one pet. A small turtle survived only a few days after it was brought home from the lake. The boy was heartbroken when Zip died and never really wanted another.

Time passed. The house grew with the family. He cried when friends moved away. But others came along. He grew, too.

He learned to share. Make do. Get along. And he never seemed to want. Life was great.

Deceptions on abortion cited

To the editor:

Since abortion was made legal in 1973, some 25 million babies or more have died. How much is human life worth these days? I have done a lot of research and wonder how can people believe its OK to abort a baby. Here's some facts I found:

Roe vs Wade was based on a lie. She had an unwanted pregnancy, and was not gang-raped.

Pro-choicers claim abortion will ease child abuse, but child abuse has increased 400 percent since 1973.

Abortionists tell women its not a baby, just a hunk of flesh. There's a heartbeat at 18 days. The sense of pain is felt at six to eight weeks.

Abortionists say it's safe and easy. They tell you about the cramps, fluid loss and bleeding. Do they mention the hemorrhaging (one out of 11) or mention lacerated cervix (one out of 25 for suction abortion) or perforated uterus (one out of 50) or infection from mild to fatal (one out of four) or the emotional impact?

Pro-choicers argue that if abortions are made illegal there will be "back-alley" abortions and that thousands of women will brutally die or be maimed. In 1941, 1000 women died from abortions. By 1950, penicillin was used for infection and 260 died. By 1967, 125 died. By 1973, when suction and the curette were used, 40 deaths were reported. New methods and anti-biotics made abortion safer, not legalizing it.

Pro-choicers have stated that pro-life wants to do away with birth control. Pro-life believes abortion should not be a birth control method. Contraception prevents the beginning of a new life and abortion kills a human life already present.

Pro-choice state that due to rape, incest and to save a mother's life is why abortion must stay legal. If a rape is reported, a hospital (non-Catholic) will give the victim a "morning-after pill" to prevent a pregnancy. Only six out of 1,000 abortions was said to be for an unreported rape. Less than 1,000 abortions a year are performed to save the life of a mother, thanks to medical technology. A pregnancy from incest is very rare; 1 percent or less even get pregnant.

Scoop on dog controls

IT WAS A weekend great for jogging with your dog.

And as Matt and I trudged along our well-worn three-mile path, I envisioned how I was going to have to learn to juggle a dog leash and a full pooper scooper on my upcoming runs.

Judith Doner Berne

Next week West Bloomfield's new leash and excrement removal ordinance is up for adoption by the township board.

No way did I envision when the West Bloomfield Eccentric editorialized for an ordinance to limit the number of dogs allowed in a house that the town fathers would decide to cover the whole doggie scene.

Of course, it was easy to encourage the township to control the number of dogs allowed in one house after one woman was found to have 53 dogs in hers. After all, our one dog and two cats hardly qualify.

But, yes, when it hits your turf, it hurts.

- Quit jogging altogether and walk. Consequence: 1 rotund woman; 1 rotund dog.
- Jog alone, leaving the dog back at the homestead. Consequence: 1 rotund dog and the possibility of one depressed dog. (Matt went into a two-month funk the first year that all three kids were away at college.)
- Take up walking. Consequence: Takes longer for same exercise effect.
- Doggie diapers. Consequence: I think I'm past the diaper stage and the decision whether to use cloth or paper.
- Invent the jogger's pooper scooper.

MARVIN TEEPLES/illustration

Joggers and pets come in all shapes and sizes. But how does one learn to juggle a dog leash and a pooper scooper?

WHAT ARE the choices:

MAYBE IT'S already been invented.

But if so, Petland, the pet department store in Bloomfield Township, doesn't know about it.

"We have the large bulky one and the smaller one, which is used to clean out the cat's litter box," said store employee Jeff Frazier.

His advice: "A little extra weight wouldn't hurt on a jog — it would build up endurance."

Maybe he's right. After all, you see people fast walking and jogging with weights, what are they called — heavy hands?

The heavy, maybe wouldn't be so bad — it's the dirty hands I'm worried about.

LUCKILY, I don't live in Beverly Hills or jog with my cats.

There, the village council's considering an ordinance to control and scoop up after cats. A well-intentioned ordinance, it doesn't speak too well to the council's knowledge of the feline mind or habits.

"I bury my mess," the council was reminded in a letter from an anonymous Beverly "cat" last week. In addition, any cat owner knows who controls whom.

But the mere mention of such a feline ordinance may be dangerous.

The West Bloomfield town fathers might decide to extend their doggie laws to cats, as well.

Personally, I'd advise the immediate buying of stock in pooper scoopers.

Thank you for taking tough stand

To the editor:

Jack Gladden's column "MSU prof caught in 'racist' feud" on April 13 was excellent.

This particular gentleman at Michigan State University I am not familiar with, nor the incident at hand here, but I'm sick and tired of people referring to others at "the drop of the hat."

Usually the accused individual bows down under pressure and apologizes for something that they shouldn't even have to answer to.

Thank you for making a stand on this issue.

Jane Marsh, Livonia

Thomas J. Gerou, Canton Township

Pro-choicers argue, "How can the poor feed or cloth another child?" Does eliminating a baby eliminate the poor's overall problem?

Planned Parenthood and Family Planning clinics have a $225 and up solution (abortion) for an unwanted baby. Could this be a money-maker for some?

What happened to birth control before a pregnancy? Is chastity so "old-fashioned?" You will never know the joy of discovering one another in marriage, being child-like, learning together. "Practice" or "experience" will only hurt the purity of your marriage.

Do some research on your own, call, visit an abortion clinic and read. Then do some soul-searching. Let the Supreme Court Justices know your opinion.

Abortion question threatens right-to-die bill

By Tim Richard
staff writer

A patient's "right-to-die" bill sailed through the Michigan Senate but may be doomed in the House because it tries to protect the unborn.

"Right to Life wants to use this as a way to get fetal rights into law. It has no chance in the House," said Rep. David Hollister, D-East Lansing, who recently abandoned his efforts for a patient's rights bill after 15 years.

"It could be mugged up by pro-choice people," said the bill's sponsor, Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville.

THE 29-5 VOTE for Senate Bill 293 — with all area senators voting yes — failed to reflect the deep division over a section to protect the unborn and the "nutrition and hydration" issue.

Here are the basic provisions: Under common law, a person's grant of power of attorney loses effect when the person becomes incapacitated. Dillingham's bill, an amendment to the probate code, would allow a patient to grant a "durable power of attorney" to make medical treatment decisions after the patient becomes incapacitated. Usually, the power will be granted to a close family member.

But pro-choice senators such as Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, fought a provision to protect an embryo or fetus. It says that if a patient were pregnant, a patient's advocate decision to withhold medical treatment would have to be reviewed by a probate court. The judge would have to appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the unborn's interests — which would include its survival.

"IT'S BEING entangled with the abortion question," said Pollack, one of the "no" voters.

Added Sen. John Kelly, D-Detroit, another "no" vote: "I'm opposed to a guardian for a fetus or embryo. We invite a stranger in, in derogation of a mother's wish."

Senators narrowly defeated, 16-18, an amendment by Sen. William Sederburg, R-East Lansing, to drop the rights of the unborn section.

"With advancing technology," said Sederburg, "how do we handle the political rights of the embryo? . . . The extension of that argument (a guardian for an embryo) staggers the mind."

Sponsor Dillingham argued against Sederburg's amendment but conceded the section has little chance in the House, where pro-choice Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, chairs the Judiciary Committee.

"What is the case where there's an inheritance in question? Shouldn't an embryo have the right to enjoy money?" said Dillingham, defending the section.

Here is how Observer & Eccentric area senators voted on the key Sederburg amendment:

Yes — Doug Cruce, R-Troy, William Faust, D-Westland, Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, and Richard Fessler, R-Commerce.

No — R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, and Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford.

Senators also rejected, 16-18, an amendment by William Faust, D-Westland, to remove a section prohibiting a patient advocate from withholding nutrition and hydration of the terminally ill.

The majority listened to Dillingham, who argued: "We distinguish between 'allow' and 'cause' (the patient to die). If death is due to lack of nutrition and hydration, it's wrong."

THE USUAL conversational buzz on the Senate floor stopped as Sen. John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, told of his experience as a medical doctor.

He told of a cancer patient he kept alive for six months although the man's wife and family couldn't bear to enter his room. "The man died of neck rot . . . You can't talk, you can't eat, you smell bad, and your face is falling off . . . It blew out his artery, and he died."

Schwarz added: "I have made horrible mistakes, keeping patients alive weeks and months past their time. Make no mistake: With cancer, there is a time . . . Patient advocate is a good concept."

'It could be mugged up by pro-choice people.'

— Sen. Fred Dillingham

Area residents win honors for photos

Nine residents from Wayne and Oakland counties received honorable mention honors during the recent Michigan Humane Society photography contest.

Their photos, and those taken by all other prize winners, are on display at the Fisher Building, Detroit now through May 14.

graph of a snow leopard behind bars.

Honorable mention prizes went to: Tom Bert and Paula Suter, both of Rochester Hills; Mary Birchman, Farmington Hills; Kathy Brinkman and Janet Colligan, both of Troy; Delphine Delaney and Frederick Wolff, both of Redford Township; Joyce Stevens, Livonia and Mickey Wier, Canton Township.

Over 500 entries were submitted, a Michigan Humane Society spokeswoman said.

The contest raised money for the society's Emergency Rescue Program.

The humane society is a private, non-profit organization that operates three shelters. Shelter sites include Rochester Hills and Westland.

Additional information is available by calling 872-3400.

Children's Olympics scheduled

Nursery School Olympics will be held at Hines Park on Saturday, May 20.

Open to all nursery-school aged children, the event includes paper plate discus, marshmallow shot put, very miniature golf, soft dart throw, guessing contests and checkerboard penny toss, among other events.

Children may participate in as many events as they like.

Participants are encouraged to decorate their tricycles or strollers for a red, white and blue parade after the events. School banners are welcome.

Events will be held 11-11:45 a.m. The parade will be 11:45 a.m. to noon.

Participants are invited to bring a blanket and picnic lunch.

Those who plan to participate are asked to write the Wayne County Parks, 33175 Ann Arbor Trail, Westland, Mich. 48185. The parks system needs to know how many children each adult will bring.

Because parking is limited, participants are asked to car pool.

The event is co-sponsored by Livonia Recreation and the Greater Detroit Cooperative Nursery Council. More information is available through the Wayne County Parks, 261-1630.

ANKYLOSING SPONDYLITIS
Ankylosing spondylitis illustrates why doctors separate joint disorder into over 100 different types. Most arthritis conditions start in the hands and wrists and work up to the shoulders and neck. In contrast, ankylosing spondylitis starts in the back and neck and then involves the shoulder and hip joints, occasionally the knees, and only rarely the hands and feet. Spondylitis can involve the eye in inflammation like pink eye. Spondylitis may reach the heart and cause a leak in the aortic valve or a block in the conduction system that controls the heart rate. The treatment of ankylosing spondylitis is different than for rheumatoid or osteoarthritis. Aspirin is only mildly helpful in ankylosing spondylitis, the newer drugs are untried, and there is no role for methotrexate or gold therapy. In contrast, physical therapy is very important. It can place the back in a position of good function so that if deformity occurs, little impairment results. It is necessary to differentiate ankylosing spondylitis from other types of arthritis, as its outlook, involvement in the body, and treatment are distinctive. The same holds true for other arthritic conditions and is the reason why they are classified as distinctive entities.

County parks plan celebration

Wayne County Parks will celebrate its 70th anniversary Saturday, May 6, with a series of programs at Hines Park.

Activities for children and adults will be held at the Nankin Mills Recreation Area, Westland, beginning at 1 p.m.

Children's events include:
• Diaper Derby — A crawling race for babies. The male and female winners will be crowned king and queen.
• Toddler Trot — A race for children 2 and under.

• Big Wheel Grand Prix — Races for children of all ages will be held through a slalom course. Events for older children and adults include:
• Walk Michigan — Everyone who walks at least one mile along Hines Drive will be entered in a free drawing to win an all-expense paid trip to Mackinac Island for this year's Labor Day Bridge Walk.

• Nature Walk — A tour through Holiday Park, the event is sponsored by the Holiday Park Nature Association.

• Parkway Art — Artists are invited to draw on a section of Hines Drive with chalk. The winning artist will receive tickets to a Detroit Tigers baseball game.

• Art in the Park — The judged show is open to works capturing the parks' heritage and country spirit. Drawings, painting and photography will be included.

Hines Park's beach volleyball courts will be open for games and a sand castle building contest. The anniversary celebration also kicks off this year's "Saturday in the Park" series.

Six miles of Hines Drive will be closed to traffic every Saturday through Sept. 23 for walkers, joggers and bicyclists. Hines Drive will be closed between the Warrendale Picnic Area, west of Outer Drive, and Nankin Mills, near Ann Arbor Trail.

Other upcoming parks events include Mud Day, Saturday, May 13; and the Nursery School Olympics, Saturday, May 20.

Mud day is set for kids to get dirty just for fun

Mud Day, a day for youngsters to play in the mud with their parents' consent, returns to the Wayne County Parks on Saturday, May 13.

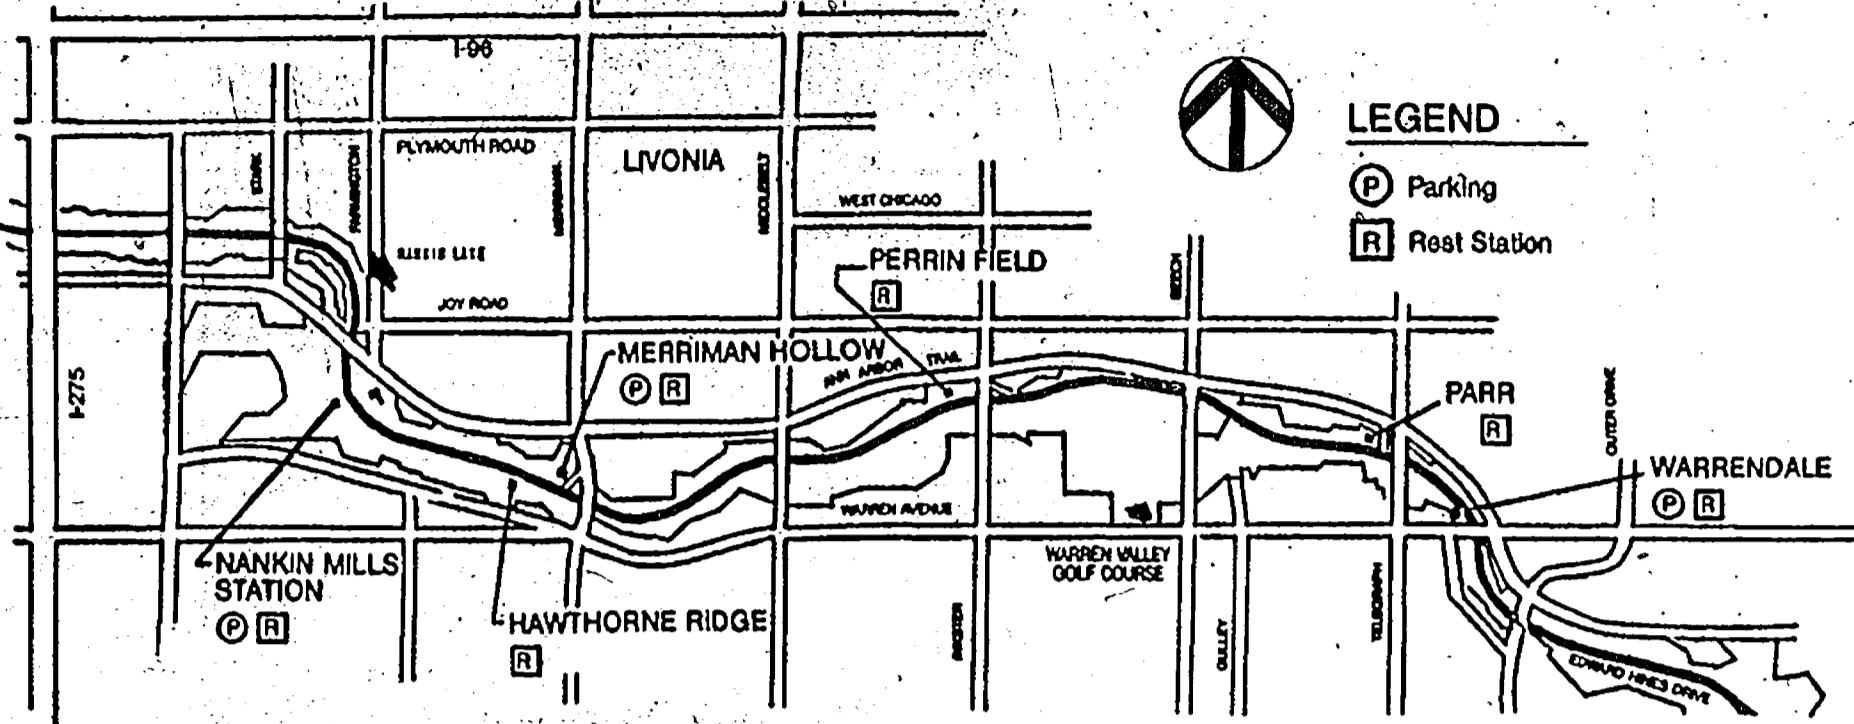

A mud field will be set up at the Nankin Mills Picnic Area, on Hines Drive near Ann Arbor Trail, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Youngsters who make the biggest mess of themselves will be crowned Mr. and Ms. Mud.

Participants are advised to wear their oldest clothing to the event and bring a clean set of clothes for the ride home. All participants must wear shoes.

A changing area will be provided, though participants are advised to bring a towel for cleaning off. Participants will receive a plastic garbage bag to take their dirty clothes home. Representatives from Tubs and Tumblers Coin Laundry and Dry Cleaning will be handing out discount coupons to mothers and fathers.

Because parking is limited, participants are asked to carpool. The event will be held Sunday, May 14, if Saturday temperatures fall below 50 degrees.

Six miles of the Middle Rouge Parkway (Hines Drive) will be closed to traffic 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. every Saturday through Sept. 23 for walkers, joggers and bicyclists. Hines Drive will be closed between the Warrendale Picnic Area, west of Outer Drive, and Nankin Mills, near Ann Arbor Trail.

Flowers to smell and eat

Ab, spring! With spring comes flowers, a delight to the senses. Not only do flowers offer us a lovely fragrance to behold, they also include a sight that will cheer and a touch that can soothe.

But most of us never get the opportunity to realize that flowers are also intriguing to the sense of taste. Many flowers are edible and what was originally touted as another flaky California trend continues to blossom for the adventuresome cook.

In total honesty, Californians never really started the trend of cooking with flowers. Rose water dates back to the first century B.C. in Persian literature. The Romans enjoyed honey with lavender and frequently cooked with roses and violets to add zest to their dishes. Gladiolus bulbs were once baked with wine, as many of us do today with garlic bulbs.

However, since the 19th century, cooking with flowers has been looked down upon, mainly because flowers then were so often associated with peasants, who regularly cooked with them.

EATING FLOWERS is as easy as picking them from your garden, especially the blossoms from herbs, as long as they have not been sprayed with pesticides.

Flowers add a new dimension of color and taste, reviving an outdated trend, a resurgence of aroma to various salads, dressings, vinegars, sauces and ice creams. Chopped flowers such as pansies and borage can be used in flavoring homemade pastas. Steeping rose petals or geranium leaves in milk for ice cream will give the ice cream a more unusual taste and a definite sweeter aroma.

My tiger lilies are just beginning to sprout but I can't wait to get my hands on the buds and combine them with game dishes, especially duck. They can be inserted in the cavities while cooking or can be strategically placed around the wild game.

I'm really excited about the fact of using squash blossoms with cooking. Anyone who has planted a few zucchini plants can appreciate the fact that there is only so much you can do with club-sized zucchinis. Now, an early-morning jaunt to the garden will have me reaping all the new blossoms which can be fried with cheese, chopped, and served in a skillet, or pasta or just plainly sauteed with other vegetables.

The range of edible flowers is wide, but be warned that only certain varieties are edible. For example, you can cook with the pot marigold (calendula), but the African marigold is a poor choice for cooking. The marsh marigold (American cowslip) is poisonous.

If you are looking for a good source, check out "Cooking With Flowers" by Jenny Leggatt (Fawcett Columbine, 1987). Another good choice would be "Cooking from the Garden" by Rosaling Creasy (Sierra Club Books, 1988).

Here are some recipes you might like to try.

BEER BATTER SQUASH BLOSSOMS
2 large eggs, separated
1 tablespoon white vinegar
1 tablespoon water
1 1/4 cups flat beer
1 1/2 tablespoons oil
1 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
pinch sugar
15-20 squash blossoms

Place egg whites in a food processor bowl or mix by hand, using a wire whip. Stir in vinegar and mix till the whites hold their shape. Beat egg yolks, beer and oil in processor or by hand until well mixed. Add flour, salt and sugar and beat well. Stir in beaten egg whites. Cover and store in refrigerator for 2 hours. Before dipping squash blossoms, mix well by hand.

The 10 cookbooks printed for Le Gala de Cuisine are photographed at the Cranbrook Schools' Quadrangle, where the annual culinary event is held. The benefit, always the first Sunday in May, will celebrate its 11th year. Recipes from participating chefs are featured in the cookbooks.

STEPHEN CANTRELL/staff photographer

The 11th annual Le Gala de Cuisine will be held from 3-7 p.m. Sunday at Cranbrook Schools' Eltel Saarinen-designed Quadrangle. Tickets are $125, or $175 patron, $200 benefactor. Proceeds benefit Cranbrook Schools' scholarship funds. For more information call 645-3134.

staff writer

ALONG WITH ALL the glorious food and drink at Cranbrook Schools' Le Gala de Cuisine, afternoon partygoers receive a specially prepared cookbook and a poster each year.

Chairman of the 1989 Le Gala is Mary Ann Lutomski of Bloomfield Hills, who has been attending the annual event since its first year in 1979. She said that, as far as she knows, she is the only person who has collected a copy of each Le Gala cookbook — all 10 of them.

Unpretentious and practical, Lutomski is planning this year's event with an easy manner that belies her busy schedule. She squeezed in an interview, leaving her house just as an inspection for its upcoming sale was getting under way. After a stop at the Cranbrook School Quadrangle, where photographs for this article were taken, she chatted about the cookbook in Cranbrook's public relations office before going on to a diet program she has just enrolled in.

Each of the chefs who participates in Le Gala is asked to contribute a

Each gala brings new cookbook

recipe to the year's cookbook, although not necessarily the same recipe they will be serving. Lutomski said, "Normally, the chef is attempting to serve you something new and exciting at Le Gala. For the cookbook recipe, they can submit an old favorite."

THIS YEAR'S cookbook is still at the printers. Students in the middle or upper school of Cranbrook Kingswood compete to create the award-winning design that is translated to the Le Gala poster. The runner-up's design is always used for the cookbook cover.

First prize in the 1989 poster contest went to Rina Saigal, a ninth grader at Cranbrook Kingswood School. She learned the steps of silk-screening when her design, of lobsters on a plate, was turned into a poster by Grafiskas of Birmingham.

Ghita Jones, the second place winner, is a senior at Cranbrook Kingswood. "She has been accepted at Parsons in the field of fashion design," Lutomski said. Jones' design, showing the fountain of the Quad, will grace the cookbook cover.

Lutomski said this year Le Gala planners are updating the look of the cookbook. There is a redesign, with more emphasis on the recipe, and the chef's photograph moved from the top of the page. "I don't like to put my fingers on people's faces," said Lutomski, opening one of the old cookbooks to show how that was a problem.

"We are also going to be numbering the pages and have an index and table of contents," she said. "Our aim is organizing the recipes so they are easily referred to and used."

Lutomski said, "I love to cook." She admitted, however, the previous Le Gala cookbooks were more for perusing than using. "I read them and get ideas," she said of the 10 she has. "I feel some of the recipes are very vital."

KINGSWOOD GRADUATE Tobye Wietzke of Bloomfield Hills, cookbook chairman this year, is working on the cookbook redesign. She and her business partner, Judy Lloyd, are creative advertising consultants in the Detroit area.

Lutomski is a graduate of Kingswood School and her husband Karl is a graduate of Cranbrook School. She has attended every Le Gala since the event began, keeping the cookbooks from each year, and has worked on Le Gala committees for the past five years.

'Creative cuisine' is tops at Medallion

The Laxa family has had a battle on its hands operating a restaurant in West Bloomfield's Crosswinds Mall. Antonio and Avelina Laxa fought for business under the banner of the Aristocrat and Oliverio's before winning their way into diners' hearts under the latter name.

Then, in 1987, an ice storm forced them to close for several months of repairs and remodeling. The new operation had a new look and, unfortunately, few of its old customers.

All that's behind them now. The Laxas are conquering new worlds under their new name, Medallion, and with their sons, Pierre and Tony, at their sides. They deserve the restaurateur's Red Badge of Courage.

Taking its name from the Laxas' quest for excellence, and using the Medallion rose as its motif, the restaurant offers comfort, style — and great food.

WHATEVER YOU CHOOSE from the varied menu, your meal will be served on an extra-large white china plate, looking quite elegant against the black tablecloth. The fresh vegetables: potatoes, pasta or rice, and entree will be arranged with care and an eye for color (as when they add a splash of purple cabbage). Here, the presentation counts, too, for a complete dining experience.

Medallion's "creative American cuisine" is just what it advertises. Take the grilled chicken breast ($10.95), which sounds a bit ordinary, and add Chef Eddie Matteson's mixture of fresh herbs and you have a meal worth remembering. The Canadian whitefish ($11.95), served with a sauce of tomatoes, oyster mushrooms and fresh dill, is another example of taking something that could be bland and turning it into a winner with careful preparation and presentation.

Not surprisingly, the word "medallion" sets off some of the restaurant's specialties. Like medallions of monk fish. Or medallions of beef. The beef medallions ($16.95) were tender and juicy, complemented by an almost tangy bernalise sauce.

Entrees give customers quite a choice, from white Peking duck ($13.95) — served with a different sauce each night — and green lip mussels and linguine ($10.50) to Provimi calves liver ($10.95) — sauteed and served with a sauce of caramelized onions, balsamic vinegar and dried cherries — or cheese tortellini ($8.95), tossed with boursin cheese, bacon, fresh sage, caramelized onions, mushrooms and tomatoes.

Among the array of desserts was an OK chocolate mousse, which became exquisite when garnished with frozen strawberries.

YOU CAN NOW choose a cappuccino or espresso to complete your meal, but we enjoyed the "regular" coffee accompanied with grated chocolate, cinnamon, and fresh whipped cream. Nice touch.

The restaurant has an air of elegance, with its etched-glass windows, green and black interior, and clusters of booths and tables. We liked being tucked into a comfortable booth in a quiet corner, where we received excellent service. Somehow you feel welcome to linger — and we did. It wasn't until a week later that we learned the restaurant normally closes a half hour before we finally tore ourselves away.

When friends get together for an overdue visit, it's great to find a spot where the food is premium, the service is excellent — and the setting offers privacy, comfort and an unhurried atmosphere.

We found all that at the Medallion. Details: Medallion, 4343 Or-hard Lake Road, north of Lone Pine Road, West Bloomfield. 851-5540. Seats 200 and has a room for private parties. Carryout. Catering.

Hours: Lunch: Mondays-Fridays 11 am to 2:30 p.m., Dinner: Tuesdays-Thursdays, 5-10 p.m. and Fridays-Saturdays, 5-11 p.m.

Prices: Lunches: $4.50-$6.95. Dinners: $7.95-$16.95. Visa, MasterCard, Diner's Club, American Express, Carte Blanche, honors Michigan Trade Exchange.

Value: Great food, comfortably elegant setting, style. You can't lose.

LAVENDER ICE CREAM
 14 ounces milk
 3 ounces fresh lavender leaves and flowers
 2 ounces crystallized ginger, chopped
 1 cup sugar
 3 egg yolks
 2 cups heavy whipping cream

In a saucepan, slowly heat milk to 200 degrees. Remove from heat and add lavender. Allow to steep for 15 minutes. Strain while still warm. Add crystallized ginger and sugar, mix well. Place egg yolks in a small bowl, then place half the milk mixture into the yolks, mixing well while adding. Place over low heat and cook, stirring constantly until mixture reaches 200 degrees. Add 2 cups cold cream and freeze until well chilled. Process in any ice cream freezer.

SCENTED GERANIUM GRAPEFRUIT DRESSING
 2 tablespoons fresh-grated pink grapefruit zest/rind
 2 tablespoons sweet pink grapefruit juice
 Juice 1/2 lemon
 1 tablespoon fruit-flavored vinegar
 1 teaspoon cider vinegar
 3 tender, scented geranium leaves, minced salt and fresh pepper to taste
 2 cup light-flavored olive oil

Place all the ingredients, except the oil, in a bowl and whisk lightly. Add the oil slowly, while whisking. Taste for seasoning and adjust with additional salt and pepper, if necessary. Allow to stand 30 minutes for full flavors to develop.

Le Gala chefs contribute to cookbook

with the cookbook recipes, "I think all the chefs are very aware that people are fascinated with them (their recipes), and they are making them so that people can use them. They (the chefs) are not as secretive as in the past."

She said a lot of the chefs are getting into heart-healthy kinds of recipes. "Tom MacKinnon has a vinaigrette salad dressing that has no cholesterol." Among other new recipes this year are Keith Famle's Warm Escalope of Salmon Salad and the Midtown Cafe's Scrambled Eggs with Chives and Gold Caviar. "Hogan's wants to use the same recipe as last year, Sugoluso Sauce and Garlic Butter."

In 1979, some 24 chefs each contributed a recipe to the cookbook. Now, close to 50 chefs take part in Le Gala, and the cookbook is considerably bigger. Among new restaurants represented at the event for 1989 are the Townsend in Birmingham and the Ritz-Carlton in Dearborn.

"IT'S DIFFICULT to work a new chef in," Lutomski said. "Each year, some drop out, or the committee requests they rotate." The Breadwinner bread store is participating in Le Gala for the first time this year. Charley's Crab, the seafood restaurant in Troy, was represented in the dessert category last year because of no openings in entrees, but this year, "They have been moved to the right position."

Three categories, appetizers, entrees and desserts, are highlighted at Le Gala, with some appetizers served in the classroom area of the Cranbrook campus and under tents in the Quad. Desserts also are arranged in the outdoor tents.

Entrees occupy 14 places in the spectacular dining hall, and this category cannot be expanded because of the limited space.

Le Gala tries to avoid duplications in the food categories. Seafood and pastas are especially popular now.

In the entrees, one chef is doing pork and two are doing beef — "They're getting back to the basics," Lutomski said.

She observed, "More and more chefs are requesting barbecues to grill things — natural grilling." This has moved some of the dishes outdoors. "If it rains, you'll see a lot of chefs with umbrellas," she said with a laugh, adding that it seldom has rained on Le Gala.

Getting the chefs to turn their cookbook recipes in on time can be difficult. Lutomski said last year's cookbook chairman Edie Ho was on vacation in Hawaii when she had to call Chef Raymond Wong of Wong's Eatery in Windsor, for his recipe, which had not arrived.

The current cookbook chairman, Tobe Wietzke, will head the same committee next year. In a brief phone interview, she described a change in the cookbook for 1990. "We're going to try to have the chefs photographed in their environment at Le Gala and use the photos next year," Wietzke said.

Convenience without guilt Cheesy surprise

We are all looking for ways to save time, money and energy, especially in the kitchen. But for many of us, if we achieve this we suffer from guilt because, maybe, just maybe, the convenience is getting in the way of good nutrition.

Fruits, vegetables, entrees, side dishes, desserts or snacks can be found in the frozen-food section, which seems to be growing by leaps and bounds lately. Worry no more. Wise choices in the frozen-food section can be an advantage to any cook.

Freezing foods is an excellent way to help preserve nutrients. The rapid freezing used commercially maintains the nutritional value of frozen foods. Freezing helps seal in the freshness of the product. Food companies select foods that are at their peak of freshness, flavor and nutrition and freeze them within hours to preserve this quality.

Since frozen foods require little or no water for cooking, more vitamins are retained. Frozen vegetables also keep their bright colors because of the quick freezing. Read the labels to make sure you know what you are eating and if anything has been added to keep the quality.

ENERGY, OTHER THAN when carrying the foods into the house, is used during the cooking time. For frozen foods, a shorter time is required.

Easy as pie

AP — We aren't kidding when we say to spoon the muffin mixture onto the hot fruit mixture. That's the secret to a light, tender, done-to-perfection cobler.

EASY-AS-PIE COBLER

two 20-ounce cans apple pie filling 1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
one 7-ounce package bran muffin mix light cream or milk

In a medium saucepan combine pie filling, raisins, orange juice and lemon juice. Bring to boiling, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, prepare muffin mix according to package directions, except use only half the liquid called for on the package. Transfer hot apple mixture to a 12-by-7 1/2-by-2-inch baking dish. Immediately spoon the muffin mixture into 8 mounds on the hot fruit mixture. Bake in a 400-degree oven about 20 minutes. Serve with cream. Makes 8 servings.

Lois Thieleke

home economist, Cooperative Extension Service

quired. If you're using microwave cooking, many foods are cooked in their own containers, or a food pouch. This makes for quick and easy clean-up after dinner.

Frozen foods are convenient. The company has done all the cleaning, dicing and chopping for you. You are not paying for stalks, pits, skins or rinds with frozen foods, so they can be economical. There is no food waste with frozen foods. Many are conveniently packaged to suit your family's needs.

For the most part, frozen vegetables need not be thawed. Cook vegetables or thaw in the refrigerator for 24 hours to use in salads, sandwiches, appetizers and soups.

Make sure all the frozen foods are the first ones you put away when you arrive home from shopping. Ice crystals form on foods that have refrozen after thawing. This changes the texture and the fresh flavor. Keep your freezer set on 0 degrees or lower to keep the quality of the frozen product. If a frozen vegetable completely thaws, store in the refrigerator and use within three days.

Dieting is a favorite pastime for many of us. Frozen food packages include the calorie count and nutritional value of the food. However, watch the sodium count on many of the packaged dinners. Also, avoid the vegetables with butter and cream sauces.

PURCHASE PLAIN vegetables, heat and add your own herbs or seasonings. Another plus is that frozen dinners are often packed in the portion size. Add a salad and a glass of skim milk and you have a dieter's delight that isn't dull.

As a parent, it does sound a little scary when food processors are testing a line of frozen foods, all natural, to meet the needs of toddlers. These meals are designed to appeal to children from 1 to 3 years of age. The meals will be packaged as single-serving dinners with an entree and vegetables. They are being advertised as high in protein, complex carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals, low in saturated fat — no salt, sugar, artificial ingredients or preservatives. What will they think of next?

Frozen foods are available year round, and generally cost less than fresh foods. Watch for sales on frozen fruits and vegetables as the new crop arrives in the market.

clarification

The Kitchen Witch column by Gundella, which appeared April 17, should have included the following: The recipe for Rhubarb Cobbler should have listed 2 cups hot water as one of the ingredients. The recipe for Rhubarb Raisin Crunch should have listed between 1 1/4 to 1 cup raisins (depending upon your taste) as one of the ingredients. The raisins should be added the same time as the rhubarb.

AP — Spoon into this savory side dish, and you'll find golden pockets of melted cheese.

ZUCCHINI-TOMATO CASSEROLE

4 small zucchini, sliced
1 small onion, chopped
2 tablespoons olive oil or cooking oil one 16-ounce can stewed tomatoes, cut up one 8-ounce can tomato sauce
1/4 cup snipped fresh oregano or 1 tablespoon dried oregano, crushed
4 ounces Cheddar cheese
4 ounces Monterey Jack or mozzarella cheese

In a large skillet cook zucchini and onion in hot oil for 2 minutes or until just crisp-tender. Do not overcook. Add undrained tomatoes, tomato sauce and oregano. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer, uncovered, for 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, slice two or three 1/4-inch slices from each block of cheese; reserve slices for garnish. With a sharp knife cut remaining cheese into 1/4-inch cubes. Stir cubed cheese into zucchini mixture. Transfer to a 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake in a 350-degree oven for 10 minutes or until heated. Remove. Arrange cheese slices on top. Let stand 5-10 minutes or until cheese melts. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

We Need Volunteers Who Love Happy Campers!

Sun Deer® campers are happy campers and it's no wonder because most severely asthmatic kids are forced to spend their summers indoors. At Camp Sun Deer® asthmatic kids ages 9-12 participate in a variety of outdoor activities, but they can't do it without your help. The limitations and doubts they face can be diminished by a volunteer who cares. Your participation at Camp Sun Deer® can make all the difference in an asthmatic child's summer.

Voles often are mistaken for mice

nature
Timothy Nowicki

Shortly after I turned my car into our subdivision the other night, the headlights revealed a small brown mammal in the road. It hesitated briefly, probably because of the bright lights, and then scurried off to the side of the road.

During that brief pause I was able to identify it as one of the most common mammals in Michigan, a meadow vole. To many people, a small, 4-inch-long animal is a mouse, but closer examination will reveal differences between a mouse and a vole.

Meadow voles have a reddish brown coat color, small eyes, small ears that are hard to see, a large head that blends into the body, and a short tail only 1 1/2 inches long.

Typical white-footed mice that are seen by many people have either a brown or a gray coat color, large ears, very large eyes, a body shape that distinguishes a neck, and a tail 3 inches long.

As their name suggests, meadow voles live in open, grassy, fallow fields. They have been found in grassy bogs and beaver meadows, in cultivated grassy areas, in clover and in alfalfa. One requirement meadow voles need in their desired habitat is overhead grass that they can tunnel through.

UNLIKE A mole that spends most of its time underground, voles spend all of their time on the ground surface. They construct narrow pathways approximately 1/4 inch wide through the dense grass in order to provide protection from predators overhead.

Spring is a good time to search for these tunnels in meadows and fallow fields. As you follow the tunnels, occasionally you will see a large cluster of fine grasses that was a nest or sleeping quarter.

Voles are relatives of lemmings, and like the lemming exhibit periodic population fluctuations. On the average, these cycles of high and low densities occur every three to four years.

Meadow voles have a reddish brown coat color, small eyes, small ears that are hard to see, a large head that blends into the body, and a short tail just 1 1/2 inches long. They live in open, grassy, fallow fields.

Michigan's high density of 50-60 voles per acre has not come close to a density of 2,500 voles per acre found in Oregon during November 1957.

SMALL MAMMALS at first glance may look similar, but there are differences in physical makeup and in their behavior.

Mice may use the tunnels built by voles, but do not construct their own. Mice eat seeds and fruits, while voles eat just the leafy parts of plants. Differences such as these help these small mammals co-exist in the same area.

Sun Deer® campers are happy campers and it's no wonder because most severely asthmatic kids are forced to spend their summers indoors. At Camp Sun Deer® asthmatic kids ages 9-12 participate in a variety of outdoor activities, but they can't do it without your help. The limitations and doubts they face can be diminished by a volunteer who cares. Your participation at Camp Sun Deer® can make all the difference in an asthmatic child's summer.

Roland Wolff, Livonia Stevenson's No. 1 singles player, is steady with his ground strokes and is pinpoint with his passing shots. He is a foreign exchange student from Budapest, Hungary.

Net exchange

Visiting student-athlete swaps lessons

ROLAND WOLFF'S TEAMMATES often mispronounce his first name.

"They say Ruland or something like that," mused the No. 1 singles player for the Livonia Stevenson High tennis team.

But that is about as annoyed as the tall and gangly 18-year-old from Budapest, Hungary, ever gets.

Granted a year's visa, Wolff is spending a year here perfecting his English as well as his tennis game.

And it appears he's mastering both courses quite successfully.

His court-side demeanor mirrors his personality, very placid, but always polite. Wolff rarely shows any kind of emotion. It's a Borg-like quality. Very European.

"I never hit the ball hard," said Wolff, who speaks English very fluently. "I just try to be consistent and wait until the other guy makes a mistake."

On Wednesday, Wolff towered over his opponent — eight inches or so over Jim Gallagher of Plymouth Canton.

Gallagher is your typical scrappy American kid, who plays every point like it was his last.

And after losing to Wolff 6-2, 6-2 a couple of weeks ago, Gallagher altered his strategy somewhat for the return match.

GALLAGHER'S PLAN was to make this Goliath sweat and hopefully make him feel like he was hitting against a wall, hours on end.

Ironically, the perspiration rang off Gallagher's shirt and Wolff gracefully walked off with another victory, 6-4, 6-1.

Wolff comes off as humble sportsman, the type George Bush would nominate to some kind of ambassadorship.

That's because Wolff reflects a kinder and gentler nation our president calls for.

The 6-foot-4 foreign exchange student appears to have all the tools — big serve, long reach, a pinpoint backhand and a steady volley. And what makes him unique is that he does everything so effortlessly.

Wolff has been making opponents cry ever since he lost his opening match of the season to Southfield-Lathrup's Brett Dreznick.

And by state tournament time Wolff may have his opponents crying unceasingly.

"I'd say he's the best player I've seen at Stevenson," said veteran coach George Croll. "Roland is very mature and easy going. I haven't had to do much coaching. When you play like that it's easy to coach."

Brad Emons

NOT EVERYTHING has come easy for Wolff, who is living with cousin Gabriel Bandy of Livonia, an engineer with General Motors who came to this country in 1965.

Wolff admits he is still somewhat homesick. "The first two or three months was the hardest," he said. "I started to miss Hungary. I missed being there. I missed my mom and dad, my friends."

Adapting to the culture and the food often took its toll on Wolff's nerves.

"Sometimes my stomach hurts," he said. "I weigh 177 here, but I should weigh 190. The food is very different, but I like turkey."

Wolff is gradually becoming more comfortable with his surroundings and it's starting to show his true skills. ("I used to be good player," he confesses.)

But before his arrival, Wolff was out for seven months because of ankle surgery. And to compound his problems on the court, he had to make the transition from clay to hard surfaces while in the states.

And then there's the difference in racquets. For the first time he is using a Prince Graphite, an oversized model.

"At first I was scared to hit," he said, referring to the match against Dreznick. "He (Dreznick) is a very good player, a consistent player, but I haven't lost since I played with my new racquet."

WOLFF IS GETTING better, but he may never be as good or as famous as some of Hungary's sports heroes such as Balazs Taroczy (tennis), Tomas Darnyi (swimming) or Zsolt Komoromy (wrestling).

Wolff, however, has already made a name for himself around the western Wayne County tennis community.

"He's a smart player, he doesn't miss much at all," said Gallagher. "I tried to keep the ball going, but he was more consistent. He covers the court well."

"The last time out I was more aggressive, but this time I didn't want to make as many mistakes. I thought I had my chances. Hopefully I'll get one more shot at him in the conference meet."

Canton coach Jim Hayes has faced the likes of state powers Ann Arbor Huron and Ann Arbor Pioneer this season. He believes Wolff belongs in the same class with their No. 1 singles players.

"He's right up there, that's for sure," said Hayes of the Stevenson ace. "He's comparable to the guy at Plymouth Salem — Rich Cundiff."

Wolff has not ruled out staying in the states and playing collegiate tennis.

His father, Peter, a manager for Inter-Continental Hotel in Budapest, would not be opposed to the idea.

"PERHAPS, possibly," said the Stevenson netter. "I'm not going home until June or July. I'm an only child. It's my option. I don't know yet. It's hard (the decision)."

But the prospect of futher his education at an American university is enticing. Wolff would like to major in business management.

And with what appears to be a good head on his shoulders, Wolff should be able to master any field he chooses.

As a student in the Livonia Schools, he starts the day by taking two English courses at Churchill, where he hitches a ride with teammate Matt Donner. That is followed by courses at Stevenson in Life Management, Physical Education and Business Math ("I just dropped it, not enough time for tennis. That's my sixth hour," he said.)

In Budapest, Wolff attends school from 8 a.m. until 2 p.m. each day before developing his outside hobbies and interests.

"Usually you participate in a club, or a major sport, but it's very expensive," he said. "High school competition is different here than in Hungary. We have no high school teams, we just play for the club."

His club now is Stevenson and it won't be long before teammates or opponents learn how to pronounce the name of one of its most heralded members.

9-run 3rd inning keeps John Glenn 1st in Lakes

Mark Johnston scattered nine hits Friday for Westland John Glenn's baseball team, leading the Rockets to a 12-4 win over visiting Farmington.

A nine-run third inning propelled the Rockets to their fourth win in five Lakes Division (Western Lakes) encounters. Glenn is 6-1 overall, while Farmington fell to 2-3 in the Lakes, 5-3 overall.

Johnston, who moved to 3-0, walked only two and struck out none in going the distance. Brian Vicchio suffered the loss, lasting only two innings and giving up six runs for Farmington. Scott Lakatos relieved.

Bryant Satterlee was 3-for-3 with an RBI and scored two runs for Glenn. Bob Lawrence had two hits, two RBI and scored two runs, and Eric Stover also drove in a pair on two hits.

Kevin Van Ord led Farmington's hitting parade with three safeties and P.J. Green had two hits and scored twice.

Farmington defeated North Farmington, 8-3 Wednesday at home, getting a strong seven-inning, eight-hit outing out of Norm Celinske. Jeff Rejc was handed the loss, pitching 5½ innings in a starting role. Only three of the seven runs Rejc allowed were earned.

Green was 3-for-3, scored three runs and knocked in two while Van Ord and Chris Adams had two hits apiece. Joe Sturtz was 3-for-3 and scored two runs for North.

SALEM 6, STEVENSON 0: Howie Blanchard and Rob Kowalski combined on a five-hit shutout for Plymouth Salem, which improved to 5-2 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, 5-3 overall.

Blanchard started and moved his mark to 3-1, throwing a three-hitter over five innings. Kowalski pitched the final two innings and surrendered two hits and fanned three.

Paul Namel went 4½ innings and suffered the loss for Stevenson, giving up eight hits.

Tom Noonan, who has 13 hits in eight games for Salem, went 2-for-3 as did J.P. LaRoche. Dave Noonan's two-run double in the first inning and Kevin Beals' solo homer in the second highlighted Salem's scoring.

Scott Kosikowski had two hits for Stevenson.

Stevenson beat Walled Lake Central, 4-1 Thursday in a Lakes game.

Mike Dallmonte picked up his second win against one loss, hurling a complete game. He allowed three hits and struck out six.

baseball

Rob Chanko and Paul Namel had two hits. Single RBI belonged to Chanko, Namel and Kosikowski.

John Glenn knocked off Salem 9-7 Wednesday, as Bob Lawrence earned the win for the Rockets.

CHURCHILL 3, CANTON 2: Livonia Churchill upset visiting Plymouth Canton, 3-2 Friday in eight innings to move its Western Division record to 3-2.

Dan Ackerman went the distance for Churchill, striking out four and allowing five hits. Jeff Kugelman suffered the loss in relief of starter Mike Sulak.

Bob Perros' suicide squeeze bunt drove in Ray Foley, who led off the eighth inning with a single.

Churchill's win came on the heels of its 18-2 loss Wednesday to Farmington Harrison. Jeff Skinner had three hits and three RBI and Dan Justice was 3-for-3 with two RBI to lead Harrison's win.

TRENTON 3, WAYNE 1: Billy Wicker worked eight innings on the mound for Wayne Memorial Friday, but his teammates could muster only one run behind him against Trenton.

Rob Puckett and Roger Ayers had two hits apiece for Wayne, 1-4 in the Wolverine A Conference, 2-7 overall. Trenton remained unbeaten in six games.

Wayne's only run came on in the sixth when Ayers singled home Puckett, who had tripled.

Trenton tied the score in the seventh on a squeeze bunt, and scored two more times in the top of the eighth on a Wayne throwing error and a sacrifice fly.

CRANBROOK 10, C'VILLE 4: Rob Messiah stopped Livonia Clarenceville Friday on a four-bitter, leading Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook to the Metro Conference win.

Clarenceville slipped to 3-4 overall, 2-3 in the league.

Don Gierman suffered the loss for the Trojans. He left after four innings and surrendering seven hits and 10 runs. Four of the 10 runs were earned. Jeff Guzik pitched the final two innings for Clarenceville, striking out the side in both frames.

Andy Weighill was the hitting star for Clarenceville, belting two triples and driving in one run. Chris Foss had a hit in two trips to the plate for the Trojans.

Clarenceville routed Hamtramck, 13-5 Wednesday, getting a complete-game from pitcher Dave Petrie, who scattered four hits.

Canton's depth crushes Stevenson

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Plymouth Canton High proved that it takes more than one man to win a boys tennis match.

On Wednesday, the Chiefs overcame Hungarian exchange student Roland Wolff to beat Livonia Stevenson in a key Western Lakes Activities Association match, 6-1.

Canton is now 4-1 overall, while Stevenson dropped to 4-1.

Wolff won the meet's feature match at No. 1 singles, downing Canton senior Jim Gallagher for the second time this season, 6-4, 6-1.

But it was all Canton thereafter as the Chiefs won all three doubles matches. Also, three of the six wins came in long, three-set matches.

"The score was 6-1, but it was a lot closer," said Canton coach Jim Hayes. "But our guys are fighters. Sometimes I had to look out there and say, 'Where's the fourth point (win) going to come from.'"

The Chiefs won six matches with two to spare.

EVEN THE LOSS by Gallagher to the talented Wolff, couldn't dampen Hayes' spirit.

"Jimmy played better than the last time," said the Canton coach. "The last time when they met, it was 6-2, 6-2 and it was over in 45 minutes. Jim made him (Wolff) work today."

"But he Wolff is very good. He should be a state qualifier."

Wolff is a good bet to be a state qualifier, even if the Spartans don't advance as a team.

But Canton may have an excellent shot to win the WLAAs as long as senior Dan Orlandi (No. 2 singles) and junior Chris Harper (No. 4) continue their hot play.

Orlandi outlasted Mike Berens, 6-3, 6-7, 6-4, while the unbeaten Harper overcame Joe Emrich, 6-2, 7-6.

"Orlandi had a rough junior year (at No. 2), but right now he's playing better than he's ever played," Hayes said.

The Chiefs also prevailed at No. 3 singles where sophomore Brian Schmidt defeated Joe Soper, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

IN DOUBLES, Canton made it a clean sweep led by Tony Spagnola and Rod Jesena (No. 1), who edged Jeff Wiegand and Alan Paterson, 6-4, 7-6.

At No. 2 doubles, Jeff Binder and Scott Jones scored the most lopsided win on the day, smashing Bob Dimitriou and Bob Holycross, 6-2, 6-3.

In another close match at No. 3 doubles, Canton's Brad Flowers and Jeff Hines downed Scott Ceru and Shane Miller, 6-4, 6-7, 7-5.

"I felt at the start of the year that this league (the WLAAs) is very balanced, and I still feel that way," said Hayes, whose team's only loss is to Huron outside the league. "The league meet could be fantastic. There may be a different league champ than dual meet champ."

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

RU's Joe Bosio slides safely into home as Garden City catcher Joe Zurinskas awaits the late throw. RU beat the Cougars 9-1 Friday, 6-2, as Lee Tappy went 4-for-4 and drove in four runs.

How to break ties

LAST WEEK, two of my league seasons ended. As luck would have it, they both ended in a tie for first place. Perhaps even a bit more unusual, both leagues wound up in a three-way tie for first.

In case you're wondering, here's how three-way ties are decided: The ABC Rule 19 explains how to settle a tie for first, and the formula says all three teams must bowl three more games on four adjoining lanes with a round-robin format. Team A plays Team B in the first game while Team C bowls unopposed at the same time. In the next game, everybody shifts one lane, the same for the third game, therefore each team bowls one game unopposed. The winner is then decided by total pinfall for the three games. If there is still a tie, then an extra 10th frame is bowled.

In the event of two teams tied, the teams bowl with the normal league format to decide the winner. In no case shall a tie be settled by just taking the highest team total pinfall or team averages. This information might be handy to those who finish in similar circumstances. The American Bowling Congress makes these rules for the benefit of the leagues, and even though many rules are used as a guide, and may be changed by each league, the Rule 19 may not be altered under any circumstances.

The pins were flying in the Bel Aire senior house league in Farmington last week as Jim McPhail Jr. scored a 717 series with a 267 game; John Robertson, 253/711; Lynn Lewis, 257/693; John Ploch, 286; Bill Funke, 672; Larry Basbam, 684; Ron Ebers, 669; Bob Hanson, Sr., 666; Bob Parker, 662; and Jim DeBellis, 658. This week, Berry Van Dyke led the pack with a 257 game and 678; Dave Lynch, 678; Mort Friedman, 673; Hank Lundy, 257; Ted Goldberg, 258/654; and Bob Parker, 664. The "Diggers Office Supply" team won the second-half championship, with roll-offs set for the weekend.

Farmington Hills also was the scene for the Greenfield Mixed League at Country Lanes where Zack Zahn came through with a 644 series on games of 232-235-177. Phil Szonye bowled a 674 series with a 256 game, Jack Gattrell kept his team in first place with a 638 series and Ken Arnold rolled a 234 game with a 613 total. The season ended Friday with first-place roll-offs and mystery doubles. In the Saturday high school league, Keri Priestorn rolled a 249 game with a 607 series, Don Harrison, 211 game, and Eric Conkright a 572 series. In the Country Lanes "Noon Classic for Ladies," Jeanette McDonald was high with a 614 series on games of 219-185-210, Lori Anderson also scored well with a 604, and Mary Jo McCabe rolled a 243 game with a 593 series.

Country lanes will be the site of the finals in the "Champion of Champions" tournament for southeast Michigan. This will take place in the early summer, and I will provide updates on the dates and time.

At Darkshire Lanes in Farmington Hills, 18-year-old Greg Durham of Livonia came through with a perfect game in the GASF pro shop doubles league. He followed his 300 game with a 269 and ran up a series total of 754.

Kansas City, Mo., is the site of the ABC Tournament, and the Zubor Bulck team returned with a fifth-place standing in the team event, with some outstanding performances from our local bowlers. Jack Treolar of Redford bowled a 300 game, as did teammate Paul Grauzer of Novi. Grauzer ran up a 788 total that included 18 strikes in a row, beating a record set in 1913. Karl Brubaker of Garden City rolled a 736 series and scored an amazing 2,129 in all events. In all, the team totaled 3,315 for their efforts. Other members of the team included: Lou Brightman, John Zubor and Bob Make.

At Redford lanes, the West Side Lutheran League had Don Johnson finish with a 658 series and a 236 game; Al Hunt, 246/638; Kevin Chambers, 638; Bill Kandallan, 607; Bob Johnson, 605; Larry

10-pin alley
Al Harrison

Gauthier, 601; and Jarve Woehleke, 654. Woehleke rolled the first 300 game in the history of this league, and he did this four year ago at the age of 70. At age 74, he is still averaging in the 190s. In the Houseman's league, Ed Fowler pitched a 279 game. St. Agatha had Dean Lyman with a 279/679, and Ken Berryman finished with a 278. In the South Rosedale Park League, Mike Lech came up with a 279 game. At Oak Lanes on Middlebelt in Westland, Laura Schmidt of the Monday Nite Ladies scored a 257 game in a 548 series. She now holds the league-high game honors.

At Beech Lanes in Redford, 10-year-old Casey Lowrey bowled a 211 game in the Wednesday Kid's Stuff League.

At Westland Bowl, Charlie Ruffie scored a 736 series in the West Side senior house league. Chuck Morris shot a 752 series and Steve Scheaffer ran up a 279 score. In the Friday Nite Twin Parish, Ray Barck rolled a 265 game to total a 686 set. In the "Battle of the Sexes," Tina Barber bowled games of 196-184-286 for a 666 series. In the Wednesday Night West Side senior house league, George Bird had a hot hand with a 278 game and 726 series, Mike Leleniewski had a 729 series and Dan Rankin rolled a 266 game.

At Merri Bowl in Livonia, John Vitale scored a 300 game and followed that with a 196 and 171 for a 677 series, while competing in the Livonia Municipal League. In the KoC Men's League, Ray Bajer also shot a perfect game, with a block of 210-300-172, which totals 682. In the Merrie Bowlerettes, Ruthie Hawkins ran up a 254 game and 610 set, 10 pins over average. Ron Baase led the way in the Golden Eagle Sportsmen with a 744 series.

Super Bowl in Canton Township had Jerry Reynolds with a 279 game, and in the Van Born Auto Wrecking Trio, Nicci Cuzzort rolled a 623 series and Marge Morgan a 630. On Wednesday night, the Super Chics had Debbie Hansen with a 237 game, Debbie Francis, 232; Stella Holoweski, 608; and Karen Winkler and Bonnie Francis finished with 576 each. In the Pickwick mixed league, Bill Booker shot a 267 game. The Wednesday Nite men's had Gary Zeloney throwing strikes for a block of 246-226-234, and 708; while Jim Drewry bowled a 234, and Sandy Lupu had 234.

Woodland Lanes on Plymouth Road in Livonia had its usual good games as Ed Koeller and Art Lyons of the Swinging Seniors League each bowled a 635 series. In the Morning Stars League, Rose Creehan shot a 607 series with games of 198-224-185. Pat Lively in the "Flyers" rolled a 607 set. The Trio League had Walt Smith finish with a 711 series; Pat McKenna, 698; Mark Abele, 694; Ed Barnett, 686; Mark Slemke, 679; Pat Chartrand, 669; Mel Albrite, 664; and Joe Gumbis, 663. In the West Chicago League, Ken Kubit rolled a 278 in a 712 set. Other highlights at Woodland included: John Panzo, 298; Ann Marie Stokes, 269/657; Marty Rush, 732; Glenn Liblow, 705; Mark Payne, 693; Dave Myers, 675; Mike Rose, 695; and Steve Macicka, 691.

At Mayflower Lanes in Redford, Agnes Krejci scored a 235 game in a 578 series in the "Nite Owls," and Nancy Kuttz came up with a 546 series, 150 pins higher than her average. And let's not forget the Livonia City Tournament, which begins Friday at Woodland Lanes and Merri Bowl.

Bowling tip of the week: Don't store your ball away for the summer. Many bowlers like to put the ball and bag away in the far corner of the basement and not touch it again until fall.

Cougars still best in NSL

An 11-run fourth inning insured Garden City's unbeaten status in Northwest Suburban League softball. The Cougars used the outburst to rout Redford Union 16-3 Friday at RU.

Doreen Malone was the winning pitcher in the game, which was halted after five innings by the mercy rule. Malone surrendered four hits and four walks, striking out six as GC improved to 11-1 overall, 3-0 in the NSL. Janet Hietala was the loser for RU.

Kim Reith paced the Cougar attack with three hits and three runs batted in. Kim Falkowski contributed two hits and two RBI and Marsha Gilbert slugged a two-run triple.

For the Panthers (4-5 overall, 2-2 in the NSL), Fretter and O'Leary each had run-scoring singles.

On Wednesday, GC got just two hits but made them count in a 4-1 victory over Taylor Kennedy. Tracy Thompson was superb on the mound for the Cougars, stopping Kennedy on two hits and four walks while fanning six. Carolyn Shanks and Cindy White had GC's only hits, and Stacy Felts knocked in one run.

JOHN GLENN 10, FARMINGTON 0: Jenny Massey gave Farmington very little chance to upset her Westland John Glenn side. She allowed the Falcons just two hits — a Jenny McGlinch single in the first, and a Kristen Norman single in the fifth — in burling the Rockets to a lopsided win Friday at Farmington.

Massey did not walk a batter and struck out one. Farmington pitcher Lisa Gale was just as tough through three innings, but John Glenn — 5-2 overall — pushed across two runs in the fourth, five in the fifth, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Tracy Sylvester had three hits and knocked in a run, and Michelle Myers and Kristin Beeny each had two hits for Glenn. Gale pitched all seven innings for Farmington (now 2-8) and gave up 12 hits and nine walks.

On Wednesday, Massey gave up just three hits in Glenn's 13-1 triumph over Plymouth Salem. She walked seven and struck out five.

The Rockets got 10 hits in the game, with Christina Hoffman getting three and Myers and Tracy Martin accounting for two each. Hoffman scored four runs, Martin scored three and Myers had two. Martin and Myers also had one RBI each.

Christine August was the loser for Salem. She lasted six innings and was tagged for 11 runs. Holly Hinzmann pitched the final inning for the Rocks. Salem's only run came in the fourth inning on Ann Munding's double and Betsy McAllister's run-scoring single.

SALEM 14, STEVENSON 1: Jo Wiklund, Kalle Vesnaugh, Ann Munding and Kris Bradley got three hits apiece as Plymouth Salem toppled Livonia Stevenson in a six-inning mercy game Friday.

Munding drove in three runs, Vesnaugh delivered two and Bradley had one RBI as the top half of the Rocks' batting order did all the damage.

Holly Hinzmann stopped the Spartans on three hits and six walks, striking out three. The win improved Salem's record to 4-5 overall and to 3-2 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division.

LADY OF LAKES 1, ST. AGATHA 0: Redford St. Agatha pitcher Laura Rakowski was victimized by a second inning unearned run, which Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes scored without benefit of a hit, and by Jill Klein's superb pitching Friday at Claude Allison Field.

Rakowski gave up just five hits and one walk, fanning four, but Klein was nearly untouchable. She struck out 16, walked four and surrendered just one hit, by Yvette Loiselle.

The game's only run was scored on a walk, stolen base and throwing error. St. Agatha slipped to 3-6 overall, 3-5 in the Catholic League's C-D Division.

CANTON 3, CHURCHILL 0: Kim Schulte figured in all the scoring for Plymouth Canton in a game dominated by pitching. Both Stacey Thompson and Livonia Churchill's Marilea Grom fired one-hitters, but Grom walked 12 while Thompson issued just one base on balls.

Schulte made Canton's only hit count. It came in the sixth inning after Julie Nicastri and Karen Keenan walked and Kelly Rische was hit by a pitch, loading the bases. Schulte singled to drive in two runs.

Schulte scored the game's first run in the fifth. She walked, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and came home after Thompson walked and the Chiefs pulled a double steal.

The win improved Canton's record to 8-3 overall, 4-1 in the WLAA's Western Division.

CANTON 4, FRANKLIN 3: On Wednesday,

Canton upended Livonia Franklin with a pair of unearned runs in the sixth inning.

Franklin led 3-2, but the Chiefs had Thompson on third and Val Gildhaus on second in the sixth when the Patriot catcher tried to pick off Thompson but threw wildly into left field, allowing both runners to score. Canton's first two runs came in the first on Rhonda Kibliko's single.

Thompson was the winning pitcher, limiting Franklin to four hits and four walks.

CHURCHILL 17, HARRISON 16: This slugfest wasn't decided until the seventh inning, when Livonia Churchill — trailing by four runs — pushed across five to edge Farmington Harrison Wednesday. Marilea Grom was the winning pitcher.

CVILLE 13, KINGSWOOD 3: Kari Watson checked Bloomfield Hills Kingswood on two hits, walking five and striking out two Friday at Livonia Clarenceville.

The Trojans had a 6-1 lead after two innings and were never threatened. Rhonda Sanders had a triple, double and sacrifice and knocked in two runs, and JoAnne Zeabari and Watson added one hit and three RBI apiece.

The game was stopped after six innings by the mercy rule.

W.L. CENTRAL 7, N. FARMINGTON 5: Five North Farmington errors resulted in five unearned runs and a Walled Lake Central victory Friday at North.

A three-run fourth inning keyed the Vikings' seventh WLAA win without a loss, and two Raider errors helped keep the inning going. Debbie Weintraub was the losing pitcher; she gave up eight hits and five walks, striking out two.

Tiffany Fishell and Eve Claar each drove in two runs with a double for North. Amy Fletcher also had a double, and Weintraub had a single and an RBI. The defeat dropped the Raiders to 4-3, both overall and in the Lakes Division.

On Wednesday, Pam Gressler slugged a grand slam home run in an eight-run fifth inning to propel North past Farmington 13-4. Gressler finished with two hits and two stolen bases.

Courtney Knapp added a two-run double in the fifth, scored two runs and stole three bases, and Fishell had a hit and two RBI. Fishell, Weintraub and Jennifer Lydon all pitched for the Raiders, with Weintraub getting the win.

Lisa Rockefeller was the losing pitcher; she allowed 13 runs (eight earned) on eight hits and five walks.

Late rally lifts Panthers to win

Tim Berg had three hits — including two doubles — and drove in three runs for the Trojans.

THURSTON 4, CRESTWOOD 3: Brian Heidman was the hero for Redford Thurston Wednesday, crushing a ninth-inning homer to send the visitors home happy, 4-3.

The win improved Thurston to 4-5 overall, 3-2 in the Tri-River League.

Wayne Vester got his first win on the mound, pitching all nine innings and allowing only three hits and fanning six. Heidman had two hits and Vester scored two runs and knocked in one with a double in the fifth.

REDFORD UNION 8, NOVI 6: Redford Union scored three times in the top of the seventh Wednesday to come away victorious at Novi. RU is 5-2 overall.

Shane Sennett earned the win over six innings, getting relief help from Kevin Whitman.

Joe DeLigauw had three hits, including a two-run homer for the winning team. Joe Bozlo, Lee Tappy and Andy Kaczor had two hits apiece and Kaczor knocked in two runs.

REDFORD CC 3, COUNTRY DAY 0: Redford Catholic Central won the non-conference game Thursday behind the one-hit pitching of Mark Staiforth.

CC improved to 10-5 overall, while the Yellow Jackets slumped to 6-2.

Mike Kelley was 3-for-4 with one RBI, scoring Tom Hill, who had doubled, in the fifth inning. Paul Pirronello had CC's other RBI, knocking in a run with a sacrifice fly.

CC lost a double-header to Warren DeLaSalle Wednesday, 7-3 and 6-3.

BISHOP BORGESS 1-8, BROTHER RICE 7-6: Redford Bishop Borgess pushed across four runs in the top of the ninth Wednesday to win the nightcap, 8-6, and salvage a split of a double-header against Birmingham Brother Rice.

Rice won the first game, 7-1, at Capitol Park.

Lawrence Rooks went the distance in game No. 2, striking out 12, but he walked 10 and allowed eight hits. Joe Brousseau's two-run triple in the ninth sparked the Spartans; Charles North and John Coffell added RBI singles. Brusseau had three hits. North, Tom Cole and Dan Dooley had two hits apiece.

Tom Cole suffered the loss in the first game, surrendering just four hits but walking 10 in seven innings.

Coffell had an RBI single and Crosley had two hits.

Borgess is just too tough for Ladywood

Redford Bishop Borgess posted wins in 13 of 16 events Wednesday, routing the Livonia Ladywood girls track team, 87-40.

The dual meet was held at Garden City. Borgess is 3-2 overall.

Phyllana Hooper, Michelle Gayney and Lyshay McGowan were the individual standouts for the Spartans, capturing two titles apiece. Hooper won the 100-meter (13.2) and 220-yard (28.5) dashes and Gayney came away with wins in the mile (5:52.4) and two-mile (13:31.2) races.

McGowan won the long jump, soaring 14 feet, 6 1/4 inches, and she placed first in the 880 run (2:30.5). Borgess won three of the four field events, with the shot put title going to Tanisha Stokes (31-9), and Alena McBee winning the discus (89-6).

Florence Pugh claimed the high hurdles title, clocking 18.7, and the high hurdles honor went to Psi Hines, who had a time of 51.7.

The 440, 880 and 1,600 relay races were won by Borgess.

Hooper, Kim McQueen, Stokes and Hines finished the 880 in 54.6; Hooper, Stokes, McGowan and Angie Kendrick clocked 1:54.1 in the 880 and Pugh, Kendrick, Kim Sykes and McGowan finished the 1,600 in 4:33.0.

Ladywood's two individual titles were won by Rebecca Willey, who cleared 4-6 in the high jump, and Lori Hemme, who clocked 1:07.3 in the 440.

LIVONIA STEVENSON continues to humble Western Lakes Activities Association opponents, this time defeating North Farmington, 91 1/2-36 1/2.

The Spartans' win Thursday at North came on the heels of a second-place showing last weekend at the Lady Chiefs' Relays. The win opened the Lakes Division schedule and improved Stevenson to 6-1 overall. North is winless in two duals, 0-1 in the Lakes.

The Spartans won three of the four field events, and two of the titles belonged to Jessann Martin, who threw the shot put 34-1 1/4 and the discus 107-0. Diane Sherwood jumped 14 1/4 to win the long jump.

Sherwood came back later in the meet to win the low hurdles, clocking 51.4, and Lisa Christensen claimed the other hurdle title, winning the high's in 16.3.

Christensen won again later when she clocked 27.5 in the 200-meters. Jeanne Mangoulick added Stevenson's other first-place finish, clocking 1:05.6 in the 400.

Christensen and Mangoulick also figured in 800 and 1,600 relay wins. Magoulick, Christensen, Sherwood and Jennifer Petree combined to finish the 800 in 1:54.01, and Magoulick, Christensen, Tracy Clark and Nicole Todd were winners in the 1,600 run (4:30.1).

Sherry Jahns, Tina Gelmisi, Debbie Walsh and Michelle Slawski won the 400

girls track

(54.7) and the 3,200 title was won by Clark, Jennifer Knapp, Suzanne Moore and Carrie Creehan in 10:35.3.

North won five events, and was led by Lisa Rives, a double winner.

Rives won the 1,600 run (5:45.6), and she set a school record, winning the 3,200 run in 12:10.25.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL got two wins each from Alyssa Belaire and Charlotte Garry Thursday, but Farmington Hills Harrison still prevailed, 72-56 at home.

The Hawks are 1-0 in the Western Division, 1-1 overall.

Belaire's wins came in the 100-meters (13.3) and 400-meters (63.4), and Garry won the high jump (5-0) and 800 (2:40). Churchill also earned points from Timko and Amy Middlestall, who won the long jump (13-6 1/4) and 1,600 (6:06), respectively, but Harrison had too much depth.

The Hawks won three of the four relays and Jane Peters took both hurdle events, clocking 16.8 in the high hurdles and 49.0 in the low hurdles.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN lugged Thursday, losing on the road to Lakes-Division rival Plymouth Salem, 84-44.

The Rockets are 2-4 overall. Jennifer Harris was a triple winner for Salem, winning the high jump (5-0), high hurdles (18.1) and low hurdles (50.66). Glenn's only titles were registered by Bianca Smiley, shot put (32-5) and Catina Conner, 200-meters (27.5).

REDFORD THURSTON lost, 82-44 Thursday at home to Allen Park, but Kanschasha Hughes had herself a banner day.

Hughes accounted for three of the Eagles five wins, earning titles in the long jump (13-9 1/4), 100-meters (13.5), and 200-meters (29.8). Hughes performance overshadowed a fine effort by teammate Carolyn McCarthy, who won the 1,600 and 3,200 races in 6:24 and 14:28, respectively.

McCarthy also was a member of Thurston's winning 3,200 relay team that clocked 12:03 and included Judy Wong, Kristin Tunison and Kathy Kowalski.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE'S Roberta Wiggle won two events Tuesday at home, but Detroit Lutheran West outlasted the Trojans, 70-53.

The loss dropped Clarenceville to 3-1 overall, 1-1 in the Metro Conference. Wiggle's wins came in the long jump (14-11) and 800 (2:32.2). Others first-place finishes were recorded by Tricia Dunklee, high jump (4-4); Vicki Hayes, 200 (29.1); Kelly Anspach, 400 (1:03.3); and Tara O'Connor, 3,200 (16:26).

Anspach, Dunklee, Jennifer Nunery and Wiggle teamed to win the 1,600 relay in 4:30.1.

Relays sweep propels Rockets to win

Westland John Glenn improved to 5-1 in dual meets, 1-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association with an 82-55 boys track win Thursday over visiting Plymouth Salem.

Glenn's Andrew Dobbins placed first in the 100-meters (11.2) and 200 (23.2), but the difference might have come in the relay races, which were swept by the Rockets.

Randy Seach was a member of three of the winning relay teams, teaming with Ferlin Whitlow, Chris Gumke and Dobbins to win the 400 (45.6). Seach, Whitlow, Carl Lowe and Dobbins came away victorious in the 800 (1:34.3); while Seach, Steve Wisley, Lowe and David Ryan took the 1,600 (3:39.0).

Jason Nowicki, Jim Zurawski, Lowe and Ryan were members of the 3,200 relay, which clocked 8:26.2. Salem won three of the four field events, but Glenn's Dave Liedel won the pole vault, clearing 11-0.

The Rockets' other titles came from Whitlow, low hurdles (40.0); Wisley, 400 (52.3); and Lowe, 800 (2:06.4).

boys track

LIVONIA CHURCHILL ran away from Farmington Hills Harrison in what turned out to be the Jason Belaire-Bobb Beauchamp show Thursday.

Belaire and Beauchamp came away with three individual titles apiece, but Belaire's team, Churchill, ended up routing visiting Harrison, 102-35.

The Chargers are 3-2 overall. Belaire won the high jump (6-2), 110 hurdles (14.8) and 300 hurdles (40.7), while Beauchamp's wins for Harrison came in the 100 (11.3), 200 (23.2) and 400 (54.2) dashes.

The Chargers won all four relays as Chris Muza figured in three of them. Muza anchored the 400 (46.6), teaming with Trent Naumcheff, Mike Spaccarotella and Jim Shryock. He also anchored the 800 (1:35.1), which included Naumcheff, Belaire and Shryock, and the 1,600 (3:46.6), which included Jacob Babcock, Dennis Leahy and Marc Pierce.

The other relay win was recorded by Jeff Martus, Jeff Grossman, Don Kulko and Matt Sweeney, who combined to win the 3,200 in 8:52.97.

Other wins for Churchill belonged to Jeff Bristow, discus (149-0); Naumcheff, long jump (18-7 1/4); Brian Kert, pole vault (10-0); Grossman, 800 (2:07.3); and Scott Westover, 1,600 (4:42.8).

LIVONIA FRANKLIN moved to 2-0 overall Thursday, defeating visiting Walled Lake Western, 74-63.

The Patriots overcame a couple of outstanding performances from All-America distance runner Brian Grosso of Western. Grosso took firsts in the 800 (2:08.0) and 1,600 (4:23.5), as Western won 10 of the 16 events. But the Patriots proved to have more depth.

Mike Patzsch won the 100 dash (11.8) and the 400 (53.5), while other Franklin winners included Paul White, high jump (5-6); Dave Piontek, high hurdles (16.2); and Rich Balsch, low hurdles (43.3).

Mark Little, Chris Johnson, Steve Dickson and Marty Regan teamed to win the 400-meter relay in 48.5.

REDFORD THURSTON'S Darrell Kellogg was a quadruple winner Thursday, but he didn't get enough help from his teammates as Eagles lost to visiting Allen Park, 84 1/2-52 1/2.

Thurston is winless in three dual meets.

Kellogg won the long jump (20-2); 100 (11.6); 200 (23.4); and 400 (52.5). Jerry Malik captured Thurston's other win, placing first in the 300 low hurdles (18.3).

REDFORD UNION started slow this spring but the Panthers appear to be shifting gears, winning their first dual meet Thursday, 78-59 over host Dearborn Edsel Ford.

RU improved to 1-3 overall, 1-1 in the Northwest Suburban League. Eric Sheppard, John Platt and Chris Woodbeck were double winners, but the performance by Steve Nowak was just as encouraging for RU coach Jim Gibbons.

Nowak, who missed the first three meets because of a leg injury, rebounded Thursday by winning the long jump (23-3 1/4).

STREET SCENE

and all for sale

By Carolyn DeMarco
staff writer

Just suppose!
Your folks in Florida are pining for Traverse City cherry preserves or Sanders hot fudge.
Your kids in the Ivy League ask you to send a souvenir of the home state to further clutter up the dormitory.
Your "show me" client in St. Louis wants a real look at the Cedar Springs red flannel long Johns or the famous Petoskey stone.
Where do you go in search of those things? Maybe not as far as you think.

If you're in Birmingham try Michigan, located, since October downstairs at 205 Pierce, across from Punchinello's.
The Birmingham location is one of three stores owned by David Hayhow, chairman of the board of Publicom, Inc., a mid-Michigan public relations firm, and his wife Jan, former deputy director of the Michigan Travel Bureau.
The store is devoted exclusively to the sale of items guaranteed to be authentic Michigan - created and produced in Michigan by Michigani-ans.

THE FIRST Michigan store opened early last year in Lansing with products from 75 producers, artists and craftsmen. A second boutique-size store opened in October in East Lansing's Holiday Inn University Place.
Birmingham's Michigan is 1,200 square feet with an estimated 1,500 separate products from 200 producers. The inventory, according to store manager Gail Bahl, ranges from quarter postcards to $760 Kalamazoo train sets.
"We try to offer a wide variety of quality Michigan products," she said. "You'd be amazed at the quality we find."

'It boils down to quality. We're very strict about quality. We're always looking for new products, but we're limited by time and resources.'

— Gail Bahl

DAN DEAN/staff photographer

Baskets filled with Michigan-made goodies, a Michigan-made bird house, and Michigan-made board games are just a few of the things Gail Bahl has in stock at Michigan in Birmingham.

Every item sold in the store is juried through the Lansing office's general buyer although all stores have input.
"It boils down to quality," Bahl said. "We're very strict about quality. We're always looking for new products, but we're limited by time and resources."
Some small-scale artisans have found Michigan, while other larger producers like Pewabic Pottery were sought by store buyers.
"I'm sure they could live without us," Bahl said.
Known entities include Pewabic's ceramics, Sanders' goodies, Gwen Frostie's prints on stationery and Whitehall Metal Studio's weather vanes, sun dials and mailbox markers.
Every item sold comes with an insert card telling the buyer a little about the product and the artist. For instance, the card on American Spoon Foods reads:
"JUSTIN RASHID, a self-proclaimed food forager, began his gourmet food business in 1978 in a small northern Michigan market, selling only the finest wild blackberries, blueberries and morel mushrooms. Today, he oversees production of award-winning preserves, catsups, jams and other gourmet items that are stirred in small batches with wooden paddles in copper kettles at American Spoon Foods' charming Petoskey kitchen and shop in Lake Street."

Other items include fudge and vinegars, state history travel and cookbooks, games, bird houses, decorative boxes, wooden vases, jewelry, candles, quilts and art prints. Many are featured in a Michigan catalog available at the store.
Some sample producers are:
• Red Flannel Factory in Cedar Springs, makers of red flannel underwear. Long Johns for men are $42, items for kids, from $14.
• Harmony Hollow Bell Works of Ann Arbor makes windchime bells "guaranteed for 350 years." Prices range from $25-$100.
• Aristoplay in Ann Arbor makes educational board games in the $20-$30 price range. "By Jove" is a classical adventure requiring some knowledge of mythology. There's also "Music Maestro" on music themes and "Made for Trade" on early American life.
• Frank and Mary Anne Ettawageshik of Karlin create pottery through an Indian process using decaying granite. Prices range from $5-$60.
• Bill Stinson of Birmingham hand makes Birmingham sweatshirts for $26.
Bahl is always willing to talk to Michigani-ans about stocking new products. Call first at 647-1444 to sound her out.

Getting married Hawaiian style

By Debbie Sklar
special writer

Hawaii.
A place far off in the Pacific where coconut palms sway above little grass shacks, beaches glisten with white, golden or black sand, and dark-eyed women, wrapped with flower necklaces, trail their hands in the smooth waters of a palm-ringed lagoon.
And every night, as the setting sun slips into a gold-brushed sea, the air is filled with the strumming of guitars and the aroma of roast suckling pigs and taro. Silken evening breezes and sun-warmed sea; the casual extravagance of orchids tossed on your pillows at night.
Oh, what a place for a wedding!
"Almost everyone has dreamed at one time or another of being married in paradise, amid tropical splendor, whispering surf and the soft winds that are Hawaii," said Lurlene Waring, owner of the Damien Waring Estate in Honolulu, Hawaii.
Now that dream is coming true for an ever increasing number of couples each year. They're being married in Hawaii at Waring's $2 million ocean-front estate.

Hawaii, already the number one honeymoon destination, is quickly becoming the "in" spot to get married, according to Waring.
"Hawaii is the most beautiful and exotic place anyone could ever imagine," said Debra Holmes of Livonia. "It was a logical place for our wedding after all the chaos and trouble we went through trying to plan it."
DEBRA, 36, AND her husband, Randy, 35, were married on Nov. 25, 1988, at the Damien Waring Estate after a tough bout with pre-wedding planning. They were engaged for six months before their marriage.
"I looked through dozens of travel brochures ranging from the Poconos to Las Vegas; nothing appealed to me," said Debra, an as-

Randy and Debra Holmes were the picture of contentment when they posed for their wedding portrait on the grounds of the Damien Waring Estate in Hawaii.

MOVING PICTURES

Suspense holds 'Criminal Law' together

Winona Ryder stars as Veronica Sawyer, a high school junior, in New World Pictures' outrageous black comedy, "Heathers."

"Jackknife" (B+, R, 95 minutes), the Robert DeNiro Vietnam vet story, was rescheduled at the last minute. Check last week's "Street Scene" for a discussion of the excellent acting that carries this film despite some significant structural flaws in its plot.

"Criminal Law" (B, R) works well as a suspense thriller, but falls dismally as a psychological portrait of two men, defense attorney Ben Chase (Gary Oldman) who becomes obsessed with entrapping his own client, a serial killer, Martin Thiel (Kevin Bacon).

Oldman's character has a cynical charm that slowly emerges as the motivation for his moral conviction as well as propelling his descent to the murderous level of the evil he confronts. Bacon captures the aloofness and total dementia of the serial killer.

The film has problems with both the plot and dialogue as events are so obviously contrived that they spoil the mood. Writer Mark Kasdan is heavy-handed as he attempts to mirror Oldman's descent through the eyes of Bacon's character, but using a blow torch while talking about the fires of purification is about as subtle as using a sledgehammer to hang a picture.

Director Martin Campbell must have realized these problems as, for the most part, he focuses attention on a strong sense of suspense. On that level, "Criminal Law" succeeds nicely. (Reviewed by Susan Finchman.)

"84 Charlie Mopic" (B, R, 95 minutes) is another look at the Vietnam War, this time through the eyes of the "grunt," the common foot soldier, slogging through the jungle on a reconnaissance mission. "MoPic" is jargon for motion picture, and the unusual twist here is that the story is seen through the eyes of a young cameraman sent with the recon squad to film footage for an Army training film.

The camera is right among the men, almost like another person, providing a particular point of view as the men talk to it, tell it their dreams and hopes for the future as well as their fears of the present.

The fact that this recon squad consists of five veterans, specially trained paratroopers on their last mission before leaving Nam, adds poignancy to their commentary and confessions to the camera run by a newcomer. The fact that they're commanded by a "green" lieutenant reinforces the film's impact. (Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.)

"Heathers" (C+, R, 100 minutes) is all about popular, powerful, clique-ish and trend-setting girls in a Midwestern high school. But their hijinks go awry. The three most popular girls are all named Heather and the new girl breaking into the crowd is Veronica (Winona Ryder). Her name's different and so, of course, is she. Although she doesn't really like the "Heathers," she plays their silly games in order to be popular.

Veronica finds love with Jason (Christopher Slater), who shoots a gun in the school cafeteria to frighten the jocks. Veronica and Jason decide to trick everyone, but Jason turns it into murder disguised as suicide.

Well, there's a lot more and it's not a teenage story as the film points a finger at delinquent parents, police officers who perform poorly and teachers who turn teen suicides into media events. The film has so many messages that it gets confusing and you might as well wait until the video arrives. It's promised for July 25, 1989. (Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.)

"The Horror Show" (D-, R, 90 minutes) is just that and it's another one of those criminally bad productions about a hatchet murderer, Max Jenke (Brion James), who returns after being executed in the electric chair. He invades the dreams of the police officer (Lance Henriksen) who captured him. The film is never clear what is a dream and what is not, but with laughably poor special effects, Max gets to butcher lots of people in highly unoriginal ways. It truly is a horror. (Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.)

"K-9" (C+, PG-13, 100 minutes) asks the question, "Who is smarter, man or beast?" The answer certainly is not director Rod Daniel, who apparently thinks one funny scene makes a great movie.

That truly funny scene involves narcotics detective Thomas Dooley (James Belushi) convincing his superior, Lt. Brannigan (Ed O'Neill), to let him team up with Jerry Lee, a German Shepherd police dog trained to track down drug smugglers.

Dooley is obsessed with his work and that makes it tough on his girlfriend, Tracy (Mel Harris) — that's right, an actress named Mel — but she doesn't mind him bringing the dog home. In fact, Dooley has to compete with the dog for her affections.

Well, there's a lot of potential here, but it's not well realized as Daniel and director of photography Dean Semler erroneously conclude that a fast-paced, attractive film has lots of subjective camera plus short, choppy shots that blur back- and foreground while tracking actors. They were wrong; it was just overdone and twitchy.

"Loverboy" (*, PG-13) is the latest from Joan Micklin Silver ("Hester Street" and "Crossing Delancy"). It stars Patrick Dempsey, Kate Jackson, Barbara Carrera, Kirstie Allen and Carrie Fisher, among others, in a story about a young man learning how to treat women.

"A Sinful Life" (*) (R) deals with the problems of a single mother and her unusual child. From the advance materials available, it doesn't look like a major motion picture.

Grading the movies

A+	Top marks - sure to please
A	Close behind - excellent
A-	Still in running for top honors
B+	Pretty good stuff, not perfect
B	Good
B-	Good but notable deficiencies
C+	Just a cut above average

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

Breillat takes look at her life in '36 Fillette'

By Anne Sharp
special writer

By American standards, French filmmakers have a downright indecent fascination with child sexuality. Frank, nonjudgmental depictions of 12- to 17-year-olds sporting with each other — or, more often, with adults old enough to be their parents — are hair-raisingly common place in movies exported from this devoutly Catholic country.

A prime example of this is "36 Fillette" at the Tele-Arts this week. The fact that this sexual coming-of-age tale was directed by a woman, Catherine Breillat, proves it's not just dirty old men like Louis Malle who find inspiration in this sort of subject matter.

Malle, you'll remember, grossed out thousands of decent American film goers a decade ago by casting little Brooke Shields as a 12-year-old happy hooker in "Pretty Baby." Commentators expressed concern and indignation over Malle's salacious exploitation of this young, impressionable performer.

Interestingly enough, few if any eyebrows were raised during the recent re-release of Malle's "Murmur of the Heart," and few questions were asked about whether or not it was a good thing for Malle to ask the pubescent Benoit Ferreux to play a 14-year-old boy who is shown engaged in the act of love with three women, including his own mother.

"36 FILLETTE" is the story of Lili (Delphine Zentout), a 14-year-old who, in the words of her older brother, is "ripe for the plucking."

On vacation with her family in Biarritz and feeling restless, she strikes up a flirtation with Maurice (Etienne Chicot), a 40-year-old computer salesman.

Breillat reports that her portrayal of Delphine is autobiographical in spirit, based on an early relationship with an older man "for whom I felt both extreme attraction and repulsion."

Eventually, Lili and Maurice engage in an erotic encounter in one long, unbroken scene that lasts 11½ minutes. Lili also goes to bed with another teenager but isn't very impressed by the experience.

Breillat is aware that making such a film would not endear her to those concerned about the image of women in films. Indeed, her first feature film, "Tapage Nocturne," raised feminist hackles with its portrayal of a woman willingly engaged in a sadomasochistic affair.

"My own position is that a woman must be a militant feminist in life," Breillat said, "but when she is making a work of art, things are different. Real life is confused."

"As a feminist, it is difficult to take responsibility for feelings, such as unease, confusion, shame, self-destruction and sadomasochism — all these human feelings you can claim as an individual, but as a feminist, they are obviously not the ones you can easily highlight."

INTERESTINGLY, Breillat reported that "36 Fillette" did not go over all that well in the "land of ooh-la-la."

"Audiences in France did not accept the film," she said. "When the lights came on at the end, you could see they were furious. Whereas, to my great surprise, in Toronto, they were entirely positive and in New York, people were howling with laughter."

"French people did not laugh at the film at all because I touched on things that are completely taboo, things that are too disturbing."

A Solid Gold Invitation to WJR Listeners

WJRS Solid Gold
kiss fm 102.7

Dear WJR Listener,

Just recently I had dinner with a couple of friends who like you, listen to WJR. We began talking about the similarities and differences between our station, WKSG/KISS-FM, and WJR.

They told me there are many reasons they listen to WJR. J.P. McCarthy has been around for years and has become a habit with some listeners. He talks to newsmakers, politicians, sports figures and famous coaches. The rest of the day there's talk about different issues every hour—about abortion, drugs, the latest diet fad, AIDS or gardening.

On my show in the morning at WKSG famous people often call in, so I get to talk to celebrities just like J.P. I must admit that I too enjoy being a name dropper! The big difference is that I talk mostly to everyday listeners like yourself! Call Damone and me at 298-6090 and see who answers the phone!

Where WJR (like most AM stations) emphasizes news, talk and play-by-play sporting events—KISS-FM emphasizes the music! Tune us in at 102.7 on the FM band and see what we mean by "DETROIT'S GREAT OLDIES. ALL THE TIME!" Many people who listen to WJR for talk, tell us they listen to KISS-FM for music.

Because WJR is more of a regional station with listeners in Flint, Ann Arbor and beyond they cover the news in great length. KISS highlights the major stories of the day and concentrates more on local events in your neighborhood, with accurate and concise updates of local news, local weather and traffic.

On The Paul Christy Show, Damone and I carry through on this local focus. In fact, chances are pretty good I talked with a neighbor of yours on the air in the past week.

As good as WJR may be, they can't possibly be your radio station all the time. We at WKSG/KISS-FM know that even the most avid sports fan may not want to listen to radio play-by-play of every sporting event and many of us need a rest from the discussion of abortion and AIDS from time to time.

YOUR SOLID GOLD INVITATION... TAKE "THE KISS-FM LISTENING TEST!"

Next time you are tuned to WJR and they are broadcasting something that doesn't interest you—TUNE TO WKSG 102.7 KISS-FM. We are offering you an alternative WKSG plays "Detroit's Great Oldies All the Time"—songs from the 60's and 70's (just like the few songs WJR plays every day), the best songs of Roy Orbison, Neil Diamond, The Beach Boys and the Motown Sound. The big difference is that we play more records per hour and in FM stereo! For some of you the difference between FM Stereo and AM will be as stark as the difference between color and black and white TV!

And speaking of TV, fill out and return the form below and you may win one from us! Naturally, I hope you choose color!

Sincerely,

STREET BEATS

Campus 'stars' make the move to mainstream

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Tammy Faye Bakker indirectly helped in the make-up of Guadalcanal Diary's latest album, "Flip-Flop." And we're not talking about applying rouge to the record sleeve, either.

The Athens, Ga., based band recorded their fourth LP at Reflection Studios in Charlotte, NC. — the very same place Bakker cooed and yodeled her albums.

"She left a lot of atmosphere," said Murray Attaway, vocalist and guitar player for Guadalcanal Diary. "You know how recording studios have framed album covers on the wall of albums that were done there. She had about 10."

"When we were doing the song, 'Ten Laws,' the engineer kept bringing out this one album cover with her in a fur into the vocal booth. It aggravated me to the point I'd deliver a more impassioned vocal each time I looked at it."

Some were so impassioned, they became angry screams that couldn't be used on the disc.

But the song on "Flip-Flop" (Elektra) is one of many thought-inspiring, riveting numbers. The latest effort by Guadalcanal Diary certainly might rank as its best.

After making progress with last year's "2 X 4," the four-member band is poised to break out of the college circuit.

IF THIS story sounds familiar, look up R.E.M. They, too, are from Athens. They, too, have made the transition from a campus favorite to mainstream success.

Guadalcanal Diary's jangling sound has often been compared to Stipe and Buck Inc. For every similarity, though, Attaway has scissors. Let's start with being from the same hometown.

"That's what's ironic," Attaway said. "We're not originally from Athens (They are from Marietta, Ga.) We never really consider ourselves part of the Athens scene, no matter what year you're talking about — 1981 or 1989."

"We spent a lot of time in the early part of our existence denying any connection with Athens whatsoever. That's difficult to explain that you're not part of the Athens scene, especially when you move there."

What Guadalcanal Diary won't deny is their continual evolution as a band with bite.

"Flip-Flop" marks the emergence of drummer John Poe as a songwriter. He wrote five of the album's 11 songs.

Usually, Jeff Walls and Attaway take care of the songwriting chores. One Walls-Attaway collaboration on "Flip-Flop" is the multi-layered ballad "Ten Laws."

Guadalcanal Diary includes Murray Attaway, John Poe, Rhett Crowe and Jeff Walls.

Attaway was inspired from an essay by mythology scholar Joseph Campbell. The erudite-looking vocalist/guitarist said the essay related how ineffective Christian ethos is when taken literally in the 20th Century.

THE ALBUM covers of Tammy Faye Bakker only helped drive the point home when recording the song.

Along with Bakker, the band had help from producer guru Don Dixon (Smithereens, R.E.M., Marshall Crenshaw). It marked the third time Dixon and the band has collaborated.

Dixon has been instrumental in bringing out the group's snarl. Yet he doesn't suffocate the rather adroit musicianship band members possess.

"Don doesn't have any big attitude problems," Attaway said. "He's just a real good guy. He doesn't come into the studio with a super ego. He might be a superstar producer, but he doesn't act like it."

Guadalcanal Diary doesn't act like a band that might be on the threshold of bigger things. They're very active in the causes they believe in.

One of which is the animal rights movement.

Last June, the band performed in a People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA) concert in Washington, D.C. along with Howard Jones, Natalie Merchant and Peter Buck of 10,000 Maniacs.

The group is working on songs for an upcoming PETA album. Attaway's views on the subject are to the point.

"I don't have a big problem with a person eating meat, if they want to," he said. "I'm not going to get on a soap box, telling people they should do this and they shouldn't do that."

"I don't like it the way animals are raised for consumption. Their lives are little patches of misery. I don't think we have a right to do that. . . I wouldn't treat my cat like that."

Guadalcanal Diary will perform along with special guests, Treat Her Right, Friday, May 5, at The Ritz, 17580 Frazho, Roseville. For information, call 778-8150.

Roulette: Funny, serious, dramatic

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Girls, girls, girls. Sure, the rock band Roulette writes about them.

But, hey, these guys pen them from a different viewpoint. You know, avoiding those cliches like potholes on Telegraph Road. At least that's the good word from Zen, a guitarist with the band.

"How many times can you write about girls without saying the same thing?" asked Zen, who lives in Warren. "We try to write our songs from a different perspective."

An example, perhaps, is needed. Jaye McIntosh of Farmington Hills, who is the lead singer, gladly obliges. He offers this little ditty from a Roulette song, "Sin, Sin, Sindy."

"Hey little baby, I can see through your disguise, Your deception and your filthy lies," said McIntosh, dutifully reciting the lines. "This girl, I can tell. See, everyone thinks this girl is an angel. Then it goes, 'You've got it down, you look so naive. . . na, na, nana. . . Sin, Sin, Sindy.' People can relate to it."

Betcha Gloria Steinem would just love to throw down to that one.

THE BAND has become a well-known entity, performing regularly at such hallowed halls of rock'n'roll as The Ritz, New York New York and the Token Lounge in Westland. Also enhancing Roulette's stock is its knack of landing on radio promotion recording projects.

The four-man outfit has songs featured on WRIF-FM "Local Riffs" CD and on the soon-to-be released WLLZ-FM's "Digital Detroit, II." Hocus pocus, and suddenly, Roulette has everything in focus.

The group is working on their own tape, which they intend to release in the not-so-distant future. From there, anything is possible in their minds. Record deal, sure why not? Chance to hob-nob with Guns'n'Roses? Hey, anything is possible. By the way, what's W. Axl Rose's favorite drink?

"There's a lot of bands out there," said Zen, who won't offer his real name. "We have our show. We have our look together to the point we feel we can compete with other bands. We take a lot of time writing our songs."

And added McIntosh: "They don't just let anybody on CDs."

Good point. But they didn't let Roulette on the first time around. The band's song, "Temporary Permanence," was beat out by a tune from Ann Arbor's neo-intellectual rockers Map of the World.

So Roulette sent in another offering. This time "Lost Without Love" struck paydirt. Ironically, the much harder edged "Temporary Permanence" will be on "Digital Detroit, II."

WITH THAT type of push, Roulette hopes to go where few bands have gone. Their stuff definitely has commercial possibilities. McIntosh said his group avoids the political and dodges the obscure when writing songs.

Roulette has gathered a following on the local music trail, performing regularly at The Ritz, New York New York and the Token Lounge in Westland.

Caruso will be among groups appearing in a benefit for Children's Hospital Thursday, May 4, at The Ritz in Roseville.

REVIEWS

BASEBALL'S GREATEST HITS

— various artists

As a musical subject baseball ranks right up there with stamp collecting. But that hasn't prevented songwriters and musicians from trying to immortalize the diamond sport and its heroes in song.

Rhino, that inventive little California-based label, captures many of the best in this amusing collection.

Some of these songs were even hits. The Intruders' "Love Is Like a Baseball Game" graced the Top 30 in 1968, that most magical of Tiger years. Bandleader Les Brown's "Joltin' Joe DiMaggio" was also a national hit way back in 1941, the year its subject batted safely in a record 56 consecutive games.

Most of these, however, are novelty songs. "I Love Mickey" features the first and mercifully last record appearance by Yankee slugger Mickey Mantle, providing spoken backup to '50s pop star Teresa Brewer.

Jazzman David Frisberg's "Van Lingle Mungo" celebrates the hard throwing, hard living 1930s Dodgers pitcher, along with a number of equally obscure ballplayers of the same vintage.

Steve Goodman's "A Dying Cub Fan's Last Request" might be a tad too serious for this light-hearted collection. Lou Gehrig's famous 1939 farewell speech, also included, can still bring a tear or two from even the toughest of bleacher bums.

Other historic broadcast clips include Bobby Thomson's 1951 pennant-winning home run and Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda's explosive-deleted assessment of Mets star Dave Kingman, a track itself better left deleted.

Inclusion of Abbott and Costello's classic "Who's on First" and DeWitt Hopper's vintage 1909 recitation of "Casey At the Bat," the set's opener and closer, returns things to their proper perspective.

In baseball lingo, this is a solid hit. And a must for fans. (Of special interest to Tigers rosters: "Move Over Babe: Here Comes Henry," a tribute to home run king Hank Aaron, was written by venerable Tiger broadcaster Ernie Harwell and performed by Bill Slayback, a member of the team's 1972 division champs.) — Wayne Peal

HOLD ME IN YOUR ARMS

— Rick Astley

Fans, the wait is over. The long-awaited second album by Rick Astley is finally out.

Titled, "Hold Me in Your Arms" (RCA), it sounds like another album full of songs for young girls to dream about. Well, dream on girls because there isn't much depth in Astley's second attempt in the record industry.

His heart is there, somewhat, but it must have gotten lost in the studio looking over material suited for his style and voice (which he didn't find).

There are still plenty of dance songs. The first song, "Take Me to Your Heart," was written by Astley and produced by Astley along with Phil Harding and Ian Curnow. This tune is on the pop charts and sounds a lot like some of Astley's other Top 10 hits.

The beat slows down a bit with Astley's "Giving Up on Love." He wrote the song, but it certainly is not one of his best.

One of the best songs on the album is "Ain't Too Proud to Beg" by Holland and Whitfield. Astley's strong voice seems to do well with this song. Soul is where Astley should concentrate.

HOLD ME IN YOUR ARMS

The last three songs on the album are written by Astley and attempt to draw a picture of what emotions lovers can go through in relationships.

The first of three, "I'll Never Let You Down," is a tune with promise of just what the title says. "I Don't Want to Be Your Lover" could be a true story, but doesn't do anything. So why sing it? There really isn't a catch to the song.

The last song, "Hold Me in Your Arms," the album's namesake is a slow and moving song.

What a way to end an album, maybe people should play side two first and side one last. Or, perhaps, maybe Rick Astley should take writing and mixing a little more seriously. — Gail O'Connor

FUN AND GAMES

— The Connells

A glorious guitar crunch at the beginning of "Something to Say" welcomes the listener to the third album, "Fun and Games" (TVT Records), from The Connells.

This band from North Carolina debuted in 1986 with a wonderful LP called, "Darker Days" and followed it up with "Boylan Heights" that topped Rolling Stone magazine's National Alternative Chart.

Since then, they have been recording, obviously, and touring which included an exciting, though ill-attended, gig at Ann Arbor's Blind Pig.

These first two LPs were noted for their marvelously melodic and catchy guitar driven songs. "Fun and Games" is more of the same.

This is not meant in any derogatory sense. As a matter of fact, it's a relief to hear solid, honest songs again.

As I mentioned, The Connells are a guitar-based band, be it electric or acoustic. But what gives them somewhat of an original sound is their overall combination of guitars and vocals. It is reminiscent of Phil Spector's "Wall of Sound" production in that it comes across as big and full but not as raunchy as, say, The Ramones.

With only two doubtful songs with lightweight lyrics, "Sai" and "Lay Me Down," it leaves nine others up to the Connells' usual standards.

It must be said though that this album is not as immediately accessible as their previous two so therefore would not be as good an introductory LP.

But with familiarity, it is outstanding.

Daughter should be told the truth about her father

Dear Barbara,

I have a 4 1/2-year-old daughter whom I had out of wedlock. I began to date someone other than her father when she was 9 months old. I married him.

He has a daughter who lives with us. My daughter began calling him daddy because the other child did. We have raised my daughter as though my husband is her father.

She doesn't know her real father. The last time he saw her was when she was 6 months old. He does pay child support, but there is no contact between us. The child has both the father's last name and mine.

When is the right time to tell my daughter the truth? She is a very bright 4 1/2-year-old. She has already asked me about her last name being two names. How can I lighten the blow? I'm very worried about how to handle this and when.

Thank you for your time.

L.

Dear L.,

Your letter is touching. There is no right time or good time to tell your daughter, but she should be told.

The principle is that your daughter will take her cue for how to handle this information emotionally from you. If you are distressed and anxious about the conversation, she will be. If you are calm, then she will be. For children, reality is their parents' reaction. They don't know what reality is.

This principle was demonstrated during the bombing of London in World War II. Children were expected to be traumatized by being buried under rubble. However, the English mothers' naturally phlegmatic approach to even this trauma neutralized any hysteria the children might have felt.

In my practice, I have been treating a young boy in a similar situation. However, he is 8 and the situation has not yet been discussed with him. I have advised his mother and adoptive father to tell him immediately. Not talking about it has created greater anxiety within the boy than an open discussion would have.

I hope this answer has been helpful. Remember, if you feel calm and remain calm about the situation, your daughter will, too.

Barbara Schiff

assistant chef. "But Hawaii was a place that I always wanted to visit. To have the most important day of my life there was nothing short of a fantasy."

Both natives of Lincoln Park, the couple found out about the Damien Waring Estate through Debra's connections with the hotel and restaurant business, advertisements in bridal magazines and travel brochures.

In late November, after months of what seemed to be endless preparations, disappointments with caterers, chapels and ministers, Randy told Debra to pack her bags, they were eloping... to Hawaii.

For 19 years, couples have been coming from all over the world to be married in the private tropical gardens of the estate. It has served as the backdrop for some of the most unique weddings in the world.

"Here, couples find a beauty few places on earth can match," Waring said. "A wedding is really a private union between a man and a woman. It's not supposed to be a massive celebration."

The Damien Waring Estate is the only private ocean-front estate available for weddings in all of Hawaii.

The spectacular ocean-front gardens were originally designed as a dramatic outdoor studio. Over the years, couples who came to have their wedding portraits done asked if it would be possible to be married in the gardens.

AS THE REPUTATION grew, couples began to come from all over the world. Today, more than 150 weddings are performed at the estate each year.

The Waring family has become legendary for wedding portraits in the Pacific. The tradition was founded by the late R.G. Damien Waring and carried on by his wife Lurlene.

Damien, born in England, was a member of the British aristocracy and studied art under Pablo Picasso. In fact, it was Picasso who launched Damien's career.

For years, the Warings had shared the dream of creating an outdoor photographic studio unmatched in the entire world. They consulted with several landscape architects and were told that they couldn't create the kind of garden they wanted by the ocean.

The Warings, never a couple to be told no, designed and built the gardens themselves, creating the only ocean-front gardens of their kind in the Pacific. The gardens are complete with a myriad of rare birds, tropical plants, flowers and waterfalls.

The estate is on the island of Oahu. It is remote, yet only minutes from Waikiki, with its beautiful beaches, unique shops and dazzling night life.

Wedding prices at Damien Waring range between $500 and $3,000, depending on the type of ceremony and additional options, such as limousine service, photography, post wedding dinner, bride's makeup, flowers, etc.

One of the main concerns of planning a wedding away from home is making sure all of the details are attended to, Waring said. To ensure that no detail, no matter how small, is left to chance, the estate provides a full-time wedding coordinator. Even the couple's choice of minister or priest to perform the ceremony is provided.

His comedy is family affair

By Bob Sadler
special writer

For Damon Wayans, comedy is a family affair.

His older brother is Keenan Ivory Wayans, the man who brought the recent box office smash, "I'm Gonna Get You Sucka" to your local movie theater. And for right now, following in his brother's shadow doesn't bother Damon much.

But he doesn't plan to stay there for long.

"With my career (so far), I've only scratched the surface," Wayans said in a recent interview. "I'm starting to come into my own."

He's already had roles of various magnitudes in "Beverly Hills Cop," "Colors," "Roxanne," "Punchline," and "Hollywood Shuffle" (which was directed by and starred his long-time friend and mentor, Robert Townsend).

He also played a thug named Leonard in his brother's film "I'm Gonna Get You Sucka," which like "Hollywood Shuffle" is a parody of the way blacks have been portrayed on film.

Wayans rounds out his resume with a good deal of work on the stand-up comedy beat. His improvisational talent and ability to work in an ensemble got him a spot in the cast of "Saturday Night Live" for one season — one he'd rather forget.

"I WAS part of the bad cast," Wayans said. "The one with Anthony Michael Hall, Robert Downey Jr. and Randy Quaid. Those people weren't really comics. They (the producers) were just trying to do it with names. They needed a gimmick."

For that reason, Wayans couldn't get along with the producers of the show. At the close of his first season, Lorne Michaels fired him.

Wayans' humor has an urban bite to it, almost to the point of being pessimistic. He prefers the term realistic, like the humor of his idol Richard Pryor.

"I'm not as blue as Pryor," Way-

Damon Wayans is finding comedic success on the big and little screens, including stints on "Saturday Night Live" and an HBO comedy special and in the films "Beverly Hills Cop" and "Colors."

ans said, "but I'm definitely as honest."

The fourth of 10 children, Wayans grew up in New York City, mostly in the Chelsea district of Manhattan. He was born with the handicap of a club foot, for which he had to wear special shoes in the ninth grade. He incorporated these experiences into one of the characters in his act, a handicapped bully. There are a few other characters in his arsenal, but the versatile comic can also do straight observational material as well.

The Wayans family is a close-knit one, and their influence is apparent on Damon. Of the 10 children, he remembers, "Half of them are very funny. The other five can't tell a joke, but they were a good audience."

Damon still values the opinions of his family, feeling their thoughts are just as important as those in the entertainment industry.

OF COURSE, Damon always looked up to his elder brother Keenan, suffering from what he calls "chronic little brother syndrome." Bring up the subject of his brother and Damon's tone becomes very respectful, almost awed.

"I've always tried, in everything I do, to be just like Keenan," he said.

Since they worked together on "Sucka," Damon and Keenan have joined forces again, this time for Keenan's new series for the Fox network. Entitled "Urban Renewal," it is expected to be a part of Fox's fall lineup. Damon also recorded a "One Night Stand" special for HBO which premieres Wednesday.

On the big screen this month, Damon looks for big things from a film called "Earth Girls Are Easy." Directed by Julian "Absolute Beginners" Temple, the film stars Wayans, Jeff Goldblum, Geena Davis, Jim Carrey and Julie Brown (not the vee jay on MTV). Goldblum, Wayans and Carrey portray furry aliens who crash their spacecraft in Davis' swimming pool.

With all this success on the big and small screen, Wayans hopes to give stand-up work in the future. He doesn't think highly of the club scene.

Indianapolis: There's life after the 500

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Q: I am going to Indianapolis on business in May. I guess I can't go to the Indy 500, but can I visit the track? What else is there for a sports lover to do in Indianapolis?

A: You probably can't get tickets, except to stand in the infield, for the Indianapolis 500 Race May 28 (people line up a year in advance for grandstand tickets), but you can visit the track from May 6 through race day at very minimal cost.

Two dollars will get you into the grounds of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway during pre-race weeks. Five dollars will get you in on weekends, when you can watch the drivers practice and run time trials from any seat in the stadium, even seats that cost big bucks on race day.

You can also take a guided tour of the Speedway for $1 (all ages). Check ahead because tours don't go when the track is being used for racing, practice or is closed due to bad weather. Pay another $1 for admission to the Hall of Fame (16 and under admitted free) where you can roam among the great race cars of the past.

If you are a sports fan, you already know what Mayor William H. Hudnut III wants everybody in the world to know, that Indianapolis has more first-class sports facilities than other city of its size, and most other cities of any size! Politicians do exaggerate, but Indy's four-term mayor has used amateur sports as an economic development lever in this state capitol, now promoted as the "amateur sports capitol of the world."

"We don't have mountains or seashores, but we really do have sports," Hudnut said.

Hudnut didn't invent Indiana's well-known mania for sports when he brought the Pan Am games to Indianapolis in August 1987, but the facilities built for the games are a bonanza for sports fans.

Ride the elevators in classy hotels like the Hyatt or the new Westin and you'll find yourself accompanied by sweatshirts of all kinds — out-of-town swim teams, bicycle enthusiasts, tourists heading out for the natatorium or the fitness center.

SPORTS IS an important part of other Indianapolis attractions, too — the state museum, the new downtown state park, the world's best children's museum, even the zoo. Here's how to take advantage of it all:

The 73rd annual Indianapolis 500 will begin with the words "Gentlemen, start your engines" on Sunday, May 28, when 33 drivers and an estimated 400,000 fans enjoy the "world's largest one-day sporting event." General admission tickets are $15. In advance or at the gate, and will get you only into the infield.

You can attend the race car practices Saturday, May 6, through Friday, May 12, and Monday, May 15, through Friday, May 19. Gates open at 9 a.m. Cars will be on the track from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. — $2 midweek, $5 weekends.

The big qualification days are Saturday and Sunday, May 13-14 and 20-21. Gates open at 9 a.m. except May 13, when they open at 7 a.m. Time trials are 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturdays, noon to 6 p.m. Sundays, May 25. Gates open at 9 a.m. Final track practice 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. Pit stop competition is 1 to 3 p.m.

Those are the bare facts, but the whole month of May is really a party in Indianapolis. The Indianapolis 500 Festival runs throughout the month. The theme this year is "The American West — From the Frontier to the Future."

Festival goers will be at all the race events mentioned above, as well as at the Mechanics Recognition Party, which includes a pit stop contest and tour of the garage on Carburetion Day, May 25.

THOUSANDS OF runners will run the 13-mile mini-marathon from Monument Circle downtown to the Speedway May 26. A memorial service for armed services veterans follows the marathon. The 33rd Memorial Day Parade, touted to be second in size only to the Rose Bowl Parade in Pasadena, will draw 400,000 spectators May 27.

The Hall of Fame Museum is part of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, although it costs you another $1 to get in, if you're more than 16 years old. The museum is small, but contains several dozen winning race cars donated by famous drivers like A.J. Foyt and several historic race cars that will blow the minds of real fans. Check out the six-cylinder Marmon Wasp, which won the first Indy 500 race in 1911 and was driven by Ray Harroun.

What else can you do? Watch the FINA World Diving Cup when athletes from 25 nations converge on the $21.5 million Indiana University Natatorium May 3-6.

Explore the Science of Sport exhibit, which tells you how sports can be affected by chemistry, psychology, physics, anatomy, mathematics, sociology and economics. It's at the Children's Museum May 13 to Aug. 28, and if you think you're too old for a children's museum, you might like this story:

A public relations official for the city was taking a national magazine reporter around town, but the reporter kept saying, "No, no, I don't want to go to a children's museum."

"This isn't just any children's museum and when they finally dragged him there, they couldn't get him out. He missed his plane home."

The Children's Museum is not just for kids. It's free and it's one of the most fascinating, fun museums I have seen in the world.

THE INDIANA Museum of Sports opened this year on the top floor of the Indiana State Museum, in the beautiful old former city hall downtown. You'll find the Indianapolis Colts, Pacers and Indians there along with Hoosier athletes and memorabilia. They're all there — Larry Bird, Bob Grise, Don Lash, Fuzzy Zoeller and Carl Erskine.

There is a great annual balloon festival at Connor Prairie May 27. If you miss it, still go to Connor Prairie. It is a small well-done version of Greenfield Village.

Call toll-free (800) 232-INDY to find out what's going on at the Hoosier Dome, a smaller, newer version of the Silverdome, only this one is smack in the heart of downtown Indianapolis.

a natatorium and the fitness center. The Riverpointe has suites and apartments at good rates a little out of the town center. Thirty bucks a night will get you a single room at the Inn Towner. Stewart Manor Bed & Breakfast costs $50 and up.

Indy is a walkable city in which everything is moving into the downtown area instead of out of it. Walk to the stores, to Market Square Arena, to the information office at Indianapolis City Center and to restaurants and shops at Union Station. You need a car to go to the Indianapolis Museum of Art or the restored houses of Locherbie Street.

There is big excitement about White River State Park, which opened in the heart of downtown with the usual jogging paths and picnic sites, but much much more. They moved the Indianapolis Zoo into the park and had a million visitors the first month. It is a good zoo, and has a Sea World-style pool and show.

Indianapolis has more first-class sports facilities than other city of its size, and most other cities of any size, which is one reason why it's now promoted as the "amateur sports capital of the world."

Its amateur sports facilities give city a world-class glow

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Indianapolis has an incredible variety of world-class sports facilities, most of which are open to the public when not reserved for a special event.

Pick your sport:

SWIMMING — The U.S. Olympic trials for synchronized swimming and diving were held in the Indiana University Natatorium, which has been called "the finest swimming pool complex in North America." You can do laps from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday for $1.50 a day, if you show a hotel room key, $2.50 a day otherwise.

The catch? Call 274-3517 to make sure a special event doesn't preempt you. If that happens, use the weight room.

CYCLING — The $2.5 million Major Taylor Velodrome was the site of the 1988 Grand Prix of Cycling. You can ride the 333.3 meter outdoor track, with maximum banking of 28 degrees, and bring 5,000 of your friends as spectators. If you're between 15 and 61 years old, it will cost you a buck to ride from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday, and you can rent a bike for $2. Don't bring your kid brother unless he's more than 8 years old or just wants to watch.

The Sundance Grand Prix of Cycling will be held at the Velodrome June 8-10.

TENNIS — There are 20 hard courts and 4 clay courts in the $7 million Indianapolis Sports Center, site of both 1988 and 1989 GTE/U.S. Men's Hardcourt Championships (to be held Aug. 7-13, 1989). You can play 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. seven days a week for $4 hour a person, but there are only a limited number of rackets available and balls cost $3 a can, so bring your own.

ICE SKATING — They spent $7 million for two world-class indoor rinks as a training center inside the Pan Am Plaza downtown, and you can use the Olympic rink from 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. Monday through Friday, from 1-3:30 p.m. Saturday or Sunday and from 7:30 to 10 p.m. Saturday. It's $2.75 for adults, $1 skate rental.

OTHER SPORTS interests include the Rowing Course at Eagle Creek Park, the nation's only rowing course sanctioned for international competition by the International Federation of Rowing Associations. It was the site of Olympic trials and national championships in 1988. The U.S. National Rowing Championships will be held there June 21-25.

The $1.3 William Kuntz Soccer Center, used for Olympic qualification games, is used by the city parks and recreation department for youth soccer leagues. The $2 million Hoosier Horse Park in nearby Edinburg, Ind., has three all-weather dressage arenas, 192 box stalls and will be expanded this year. The public can use it by reservation.

Softball, soccer and volleyball are played at the Indiana University Athletic Fields.

For more information, call toll-free (800) 232-INDY. Ask them to send you information on another fascinating sports facility, the National Institute for Fitness and Sport, which opened last year as a national center for research, education, training and service, providing the latest information on human health, physical fitness and athletic performance.

Getting to and around the 'sports capital' of U.S.

By Iris Sanderson Jones

Southwest Airlines has a discount fare of $19 each way from Detroit City Airport to Indianapolis, and other airlines are matching the fare. There are conditions, including advance purchase and Memorial Day weekend blackout. Then there's the Share-A-Ride for $6 per person by the Indy Connection Limousine to get from the airport to downtown Indianapolis.

If you are on an expense account, or get a weekend package, try the new Westin or the Hyatt, both situated between the Hoosier Dome and the Indiana State House downtown; the beautifully restored Canterbury Hotel (have afternoon tea there); or the most interesting Holiday Inn that I've ever seen. It's built into renovated Union Station and includes traditional guest rooms as well as some in railway cars.

The University Place Hotel is near

French Restaurant and Deli. There's a little bar, called the Alley Cat, with pool tables, pinball machines, jukebox, darts and poetry readings. Go for a beer; it's down a small alley at 6267 Carrollton Ave.

Or check out the Wellington, a traditional English pub connected to a place called the Corner Wine Bar at 6361 Gullford.

The Ambrosia, 915 Westfield Blvd., connected to the Blue Pointe Oyster Bar, has a very eclectic atmosphere; every age and type is there. If you are under 21, you'll find friends at a coffee house called Cafe Espresso, 827 Broad Ripple Ave.

THE BIG name music groups go to the Vogue at 6259 N. College; rock that's almost punk is at the Patio, 6306 Gullford, both in Broad Ripple.

The latest yuppie hangout is the Safari Bar, 5910 E. 82nd St., on the far north side of town.

• Lauderdale's th Union Station is a great dance place after a Coll's

ONE OF THE most exciting new museums in North America is in the state park. On June 24, the Eiteljorg Museum of American Indian and Western Art opens. Don't miss it!

There will be a new state museum in the park some day, but while you're waiting for that, here are some other things to do in the city:

• Hit the Cabaret Club, Dance Kaleidoscope, the Repertory Theater, the Symphony or the Indianapolis Comedy Connection. Check out the Walker Theater, especially the Friday night jazz upstairs, where you can order a drink and listen to live musicians in a setting reminiscent of the 1930s. Cruise the jazz clubs in town.

After hours, you'll like the clapboard houses that have been turned into art galleries, boutiques, restaurants and pubs in a charming north-side area called Broad Ripple. It's 20 minutes from downtown and has everything from coffee houses to feminist bookstores.

• In Broad Ripple, try Renee's game. There are four well-known places near Jackson and Meridian, just outside the main door of Union Station — Jackson St., Cheaters, a '50s place called Ike and Jonesy's and a down-and-dirty place called the Sports Bar and Grill (video games, TV, etc.).

If you're downtown and love jazz, try Chatterbox, 435 Massachusetts Ave., or a Place To Start at 54th and College. Mugwumps Cafe and Pub, 608 Massachusetts Ave., is where you go for folk music.

Too much trouble? There's a chill parlor/bar in the Hyatt Regency called Charlie and Barney's. They say Shapiro's Delicatessen Cafeteria is the best New York deli in the Midwest. It's a mile south of downtown (another one a mile north).

Or if you want to eat on the grass, go the Joe O'Mallo's, a fancy food grocery store in an old Sears store downtown. Or call Bar-B-Q Heaven at 928-1667 and they'll deliver to your downtown hotel from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m.

A half-hour drive north is an area called Keystone at the Crossing, where the "in" crowd hangs out at The Fashion Mall. It includes a Radisson Hotel, restaurants, bars, a comedy club and office buildings and is a hit on the yuppie scene.

DALTS SERVES kids, is quieter and less of a bar scene, so I would go there for dinner. Then to Crackers, one of the three comedy clubs in town, and then on to TGIF, which is definitely the in place to go.

Other dinner places are Keystone Grill, which is expensive, or the Cooker, which is moderate.

You might like a funky evening's entertainment at Duck Pin Bowling Action Bowl at 325 S. College Ave. Grapefruit-sized balls, 10 pins. Or play the dart boards, pool tables, video games, 18-hole indoor golf course while chewing on pizza and drinking beer. It's a family place and the kids love it, too.

Keep W-2s forever

Q: Now that my tax returns have been filed, I wonder which receipts I need to keep and how long to keep them?

A: This is probably the most-frequent question I get about paper, and the most difficult to answer.

First, keep copies of the tax return itself and your W-2 forms as long as you live. More important than your tax return is your W-2. The IRS can supply copies of your returns from several years back (for a fee), but Social Security provides no such service. Since you may need W-2s to verify your employment for social security, you may even want to keep your W-2s in a safe deposit box.

Generally, keep any papers which substantiate your tax returns for three years. For long-term investments such as homes, stocks and bonds, etc., this means keeping receipts which verify the basis of property three years after you dispose of them.

The only reason for keeping receipts longer would be in case of fraud — which gets into a grey area. After six years, it is up to the IRS, not you, to prove you were fraudulent, so if you have been completely honest, there should be no reason to retain your receipts. However, should the IRS suspect falsification, you could have difficulty without your supporting papers.

One man recently related a horror story about being promoted to a top/public relations job with an almost-unlimited expense account. When he suddenly began depositing large sums of money (the reimbursements from his company) into his bank account, the IRS became suspicious that he was dealing drugs. Without his careful documentation, he could have been in real trouble; as it was, they gave him a rough time.

Besides long-term investments, it's wise to retain receipts for possessions you still own (— pitch the one for the coat you gave the Salvallón Army five years ago.) These may be needed to prove ownership to your insurance company in case of fire or theft. Staple these receipts to your warranty, maintenance information or service contract and keep them in a separate file.

condo queries
Robert M. Melsner

Q: I am embarrassed to tell you that I had a mouse in my bedroom in my condo and I was petrified. I called the management company of the association and they are balking at sending out an exterminator. Do I have any legal rights, and against whom?

A: See your lawyer and start a trespass action against the mouse! Seriously, I empathize with your dilemma and believe that more than likely the condominium documents provide for extermination services to be at a cost of administration of the association since, presumably, the mouse has come in from the outside through a wall that is a common element of the condominium.

Of course, you should arrange to have whatever extermination services done if the association fails to do so, and send the bill, along with this article, which may serve to enlighten your association of their responsibilities. Good luck!

Male presence often overlooked in decor choices

By Joan Boram
special writer

A LOT of husbands are "doing time" in their own homes.

That's the word from Carlton Wagner, founder of the Wagner Institute for Color Research in Santa Barbara, Cal.

"Often, when I'm decorating a home, the husband will speak to me privately and beg me to set aside a comfortable place for him. It can be anywhere — behind the furnace, even, if it's a place where he can kick off his shoes, relax, and not be distracted by 'trendiness' or 'pretiness.'"

"Rooms aren't always published in magazines because they live well, but because they're pretty. When decorating, ask yourself: 'What should the space feel like?'" he said.

Lecturing on "Color Power" to a group of professional designers at Troy's Michigan Design Center recently, Wagner insisted that response to color is far removed from aesthetics.

"Aesthetics is a reaction in a particular moment of time. If people wanted aesthetics, they would fill their houses with museum pieces. Don't make life's choices on aesthetics, unless you're a curator in a museum," he said.

WAGNER CITED HIS own experiences with color consultants to point up the difference between aesthetics and color response. "I've been to numerous color consultants; I've been a spring, a summer, and a fall, but never a winter. They advised me to wear green to bring out the red in my beard, which is the last thing I want to do. Can you see me appearing before the board of a Fortune 500 company wearing a green suit? I'd look like Robin Hood!"

"Favorite colors vary according to situation. A metallic color is perfectly suitable for our automobile, but more than a touch in clothing and furniture would be considered outre." A man with conservative gray and navy blue suits may have a collection of red ties, he continued.

Clients can fail to analyze their own color responses, he said, complicating the decorator's life.

"A very wealthy client and his new wife went off on an extended honeymoon, leaving me to decorate their new home while they were away. 'Don't use green,' they said. 'We hate green.' Well, one side of the house was all glass and the woods was practically growing right into the living room! How could they hate green?"

"Normally, in a situation like that, we would use green in the interior to integrate it with the outdoors, but they hated green, so we worked around it. One day a bolt of silk showed up from China. It was green! I cabled them to call me. A couple of weeks later, an armoire from France arrived. It was green! I called them: 'A terrible thing happened to the silk on the way from China: it turned green!' 'Oh, they said, 'We don't hate that green.' Their actual response to green was different from their aesthetics."

CARLTON HAS degrees from UCLA and the Karl Jung Institute in Zurich. His plans for a career as a clinical psychologist were sidetracked when he became intrigued by the influence of color.

A friend's graduate thesis on the influence on a person's behavior of influences outside the body — climate, humidity, color, etc. had captured his attention. Soon he had learned enough to consult with manufacturers on the psychology of color — using color to sell soap. When he won an award for an office interior he had been invited to design, he decided to attend New York's Fashion Institute of Technology, where he wound up teaching color theory.

At the Wagner Institute, he researches projects, teaches advanced classes for design professionals and acts as an advisor for corporations. To design courses such as he recently taught at the Michigan Design Center, he provides participants with a basic understanding of physiological, psychological and geographic response to color.

As a fledgling designer, Wagner was given a garage to design as his part of a "designer's idea home." Through research he had found that most men hated the designer look. Wagner made his garage the ultimate men's toy. He installed a huge receiving dish, with an enormous screen, and the Playboy channel. There was a bathtub that filled and emptied itself at the touch of a button on the telephone. There was an electronic closet — "the clothes went whirling by."

"THERE WAS EVERY electronic gadget and trick that I could think of. I designed the room to get the men's response, and I did. They were lined up around the block to see that garage. Everybody else was doing French country, but I had tapped a new market. I had hit notes the men felt good about," he said, chuckling.

Wagner is an innkeeper as well as a color guru. He attributes much of the success of his Bayberry Inn, in Santa Monica, to the woman who owns the inn across the street. "She just loves purple rooms. Men take one look at them, and flee across the street to my place."

Wagner predicts that the country look will hold for the '90s, but is being altered. Country blue is the new big seller in interior paint, after all-time best-seller off-white. Prints will stay, but backgrounds are changing to white or cream.

Eighty-two percent of the paint sold in the United States is off-white, Wagner said, and the result is visual deprivation, or cabin fever.

"People say they're not going to get tired of it," he said. "It started out tired. They say it makes the place look bigger. That's because no matter where you go, it looks like where you've been."

'Rooms aren't always published in magazines because they live well, but because they are pretty. When decorating, ask yourself: What should the space feel like? What do you want in the end?'

GARAGE

Now is the time to clear out those closets, attics, basements and garages and make some quick cash in the process.

How do you plan a garage sale?

It's easy!

Just follow these simple guidelines:

1. Gather together the items you have for sale. Sort them into appropriate categories and price them fairly.
2. Place a classified advertisement in The Observer & Eccentric by calling one of the numbers below.
3. Hang signs throughout your neighborhood alerting residents to the upcoming sale.
4. Decide what to do with all the money you'll have after your sale!

Or, if you love to bargain-hunt and would rather shop than sell, be sure to look for our special garage sale listings every Monday and Thursday in your hometown newspaper. Observer & Eccentric classifieds make it easy to earn money and save money. Discover for yourself, today!

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And...luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing."
