THE RONETTES ("Be My Baby") would have loved it. Dozens of infants will once again vie for the coveted Baby of the Year title at the Westland Summer Festival.

Final judging for this year's contest is scheduled for 11:30 a.m. July 4 on the festival stage behind city hall. Entrants must be Westland residents between 1 day and 12 months old. The top 12 vote getters (six boys, six girls) from a preliminary round during the festival will make it to the finals July 4, where a boy and girl winner will be selected.

Applications are available from the Westland Chamber of Commerce, 36900 Ford. A color snapshot no larger than 3-by-5 inches is also required.

All entries must be received by June 23.

For more information, call the chamber, 326-7222.

PUBLIC SERVICE department crews have hit the streets in search of bundled branches.

The city will be chipping tree branches for residents through June 23. The branches must be at least 6 feet long and no more than 3 inches in diameter. They must be neatly stacked with butt end facing the curb.

The city won't pick up roots, stumps or trunks, and doesn't do commercial clearing.

The service may be arranged by calling the department of public service, 728-1770.

SPRING IS here and that means the VFW Buddy Popples are in bloom.

Members of the Harris-Kehrer Post 3323 and its Ladies Auxiliary will be selling Buddy Popples at local intersections Thursday-Saturday, May 18-20.

Proceeds go to aid needy or disabled veterans and their families.

WAYNE COUNTY commissioner Kay Beard will host a champagne birthday breakfast from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Sunday, June 4, at the New Hawthorne Valley country club in Westland.

Tickets are $30 and may be bought by sending a personal check to Friends of Kay Beard, 26284 Stollman, Inkster 48141.

ED WAGER has resigned from the city's Economic Development Advisory Commission.

Wager, a Westland resident and a commission member for two years, wants to devote more time to his auto parts business in Southgate.

THE THEODORIANs of St. Theodore Catholic Church have been named volunteers of the year by Westland Convalescent Center.

The church club was honored last month with a reception at the center.

Church club members have spent the last year playing bingo with center residents, center representative Sally Levay said.

As part of the bingo program, the church group holds benefits to raise money for prizes. They also donate arts and crafts supplies and bring Christmas gifts for center residents, Levay said.

THE HURON Valley Girl Scout Council honored two Westland volunteers during its annual recognition dinner last month.

Rodney Deyo (25 years) and Betty Sullivan (10 years) received adult appreciation pins for "outstanding service above and beyond expectations of position."

Deyo was also awarded an Order of the Silver Troop Pin for his 25 years of service.

Store takes steps to improve security

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

The Cherry Hill Dairy Mart store — Westland's number-one target for armed robbers in 1988 — is ready to relinquish that title after taking steps to improve security, according to franchise owner and manager Nathu Kalothia.

Kalothia said Thursday there hasn't been a robbery at the store in the three months since he has installed ceiling-mounted camera and taken other security measures.

"It's much better now," he said Thursday. "I'm not thinking about moving like I was before."

The convenience store, on Cherry Hill east of Wayne Road, was robbed a half-dozen times last year, according to police records. Arrests were made in several cases.

In most of the robberies, the take was small, Kalothia said. The exception was a January 1988 incident when a man armed with a knife made off with more than $2,000.

BUT THE incident that scared Kalothia the most was an attempted robbery last May. A knife-wielding man threatened Kalothia's wife, Poonam, behind the cash register before the manager thwarted the robbery by wrestling the would-be thief to the ground.

Search for new schools chief is continuing

See related story, 2A

The public and school staff agree that Jim Carl's replacement as superintendent of the Livonia Public Schools should have seven key traits.

And after a series of meetings last month with staff members, school unions, the public, school board members and PTA leaders, consultants heading a superintendent search have come up with a list of seven qualities that interested groups cited most frequently.

The district includes the northern section of Westland.

The list of candidates for the job will be trimmed to six by May 16, according to a timetable set by the consultants.

These qualities that the community wants to see in its new Livonia Public Schools superintendent are listed in an interim report to the Board of Education, from consultants Carroll Johnson and John Brubacher.

"For its new superintendent," the report states, "Livonia wants an individual:

- "who is an outstanding educational leader of superior intelligence and vision, and who has the courage of his/her convictions;
- "who sets high standards for him/herself and the school district and exemplifies integrity;

• "who has outstanding interpersonal skills;

• "who has demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership in other organizations, and is able to delegate authority and responsibility effectively and hold his/her staff accountable;

• "who is politically astute and able to lead the many interest groups and individuals in Livonia into effective coalitions supporting excellence in education;

• "who is innovative, yet able to constrain his/her creativity within an effective change process;

• "who enjoys involvement with people and has a record of good relations with a board of education, a staff and a community."

The interim report, presented to the school board last week, also includes a summary of preferred qualities in a superintendent, by each group surveyed.

The board ranked credibility first, while the PTA and principals cited "vision and ability to identify problems, establish priorities and implement solutions."

Teachers and secretaries cited as the No. 1 trait, "Successful relations in working with teachers, other employees and staff organizations." Some Stevenson High students gave top ranking to "successful experience in a district comparable to LPS."

Police officers praised for life-saving actions

By Leonard Poger
editor

Three Westland police officers were described as life-savers last week — and it had nothing to do with the popular candy.

The three, Jon Handzlik, Steven Fraser and Tom Harris, were awarded the Life Saver certificates for their roles in rescuing people.

Handzlik, a former emergency medical technician for a private ambulance company, said his previous training helped him save the life of a man who tried to commit suicide in his garage a year ago.

In recalling the incident, Handzlik said the man was hanging by an electrical cord extension and appeared lifeless.

When the officer felt that the man's arm was warm, he called for help. The man's sister came and helped lower the man.

Then, using his EMT training, the patrol officer rubbed the man's neck and then felt a pulse.

The man was rushed to a nearby hospital, where he was revived.

"Handzlik's quick response and immediate first aid are directly responsible for saving the person's life," said the police department.

Homemaking course changes with the times

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

Geoffrey Brown wants to be a plastics engineer and Pam Przywara is thinking about a career as an elementary school or special education teacher.

So here the two John Glenn High School seniors were one day last week, sitting among the sewing machines and ironing boards in Room 144, talking about the importance of home economics classes.

Of course, home ec circa 1989 is far removed from the home ec classes most people remember. It even has a different name — human ecology.

At John Glenn, the human ecology department offers 13 different classes, including culinary skills, interior design, adult prep and child care.

"What we learn is going to help you cope with real life," Brown said. "I don't think that's something you can say about geometry."

Brown and Przywara are among the 52 students being honored by the school Thursday for their achievements in home economics.

BROWN IS ONE of a growing number of male students taking such course at John Glenn. Although in some human ecology courses he has been the only guy, Brown said his cooking classes have been evenly divided.

Learning to cook was a necessity, he said.

"It started out when I was a sophomore," he explained. "My mother works and nobody is home after school."

"It was either junk food or take a class and learn how to cook."

Brown said making desserts, especially cream puffs, is his favorite class assignment.

What do his friends say about his interest in home economics? "Not much," Brown said. "It's not like it's the only thing I'm involved with," he said.

Brown is on the golf team and also plays baseball. He has an after-school job at the Foot Locker store at Westland Center.

Przywara is a strong believer in home economics too. In fact, she thinks it would be a good idea for every student to take the adult prep and child care classes.

"It's something that can definitely prepare you for life and it might just keep you out of trouble later on," she said.

District honors school helpers

Fifty-one Wayne-Westland school employees and volunteers were honored last week at the PTA Council's annual Founder's Day banquet.

More than 500 people jammed the John Glenn High School cafeteria for the 24th annual honors program.

Among those recognized were parents who donated hundreds of hours for school programs; teachers; secretaries and custodians.

Receiving the council's top Distinguished Service Awards were Warner Frazer, Kettering Elementary School principal, and Margaret Walker, Graham Elementary School parent.

Lincoln Elementary School's PTA was honored for having the biggest membership increase.

Many parents were cited for up to 30 years of service, long after their children were out of the school system.

Some were teachers who helped coordinate a student fund-raiser for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Others were parents who helped with reading programs for students.

THE HONOREES were:
Antoinette Stevens and Barbara Kruse of Edison School; Roopa Anand and Nancy Bielk of Elliott School; Nancy Razor and Sam Albanese of Graham; Lucy Brown and Victoria Werner of Hamilton; Pat Caruso and Jerry King of Hicks; Denise Gabany and Donald Chastain of Hoover; Juanita Dumont and Judy

Smith of Jefferson; Sue Little and Bernie Stetz of Kettering; Julie Conley and Rita Nippes of Lincoln; Sue Wheeler and June Chartrand of Madison; Catherine Stone and Bette Heron of Monroe; Linda Cavender and Genevieve Marynski of Patchin.

Also, Mary Ann Fisher and Patricia Raymo of Roosevelt/McGrath; Kathy Kier and Bill Ingersoll of Schweitzer; Jan Kochan and Wallene Poteau of Stottlemeyer; Marsha Sienko and Sharlene Taylor of Taft/Galloway; Connie Chapman and Carolyn Liebau of Titus; Jean Sentz and Barbara Furst of Vandenberg; Desiree Ross and June Eckert of Wildwood; Linda Johnstone and Irene Shaw of Wilson; Linda Hardin of Adams Junior High; Nancy Kubin of Franklin

Junior High; Gary Kasunic of Marshall Junior High; Cheryl Deluca and Kathy Turnquist of John Glenn High; Betty Gates and Tim Cornick of Wayne Memorial; Bud Cook and Ronald Pietrowski of the Ford Vocational/Technical Center.

Others taking part in the awards banquet were Karen Obsniuk, Schweitzer School principal; Carl Cohen, Michigan PTA president; Andrew Spisak, school board president; Superintendent Dennis O'Neill; Carol Middel, associate superintendent; Thomas Svitkovich and PTA Council officers and committee leaders.

Music was provided by the Wayne Memorial High Jazz Band, directed by Michael Van Tassel.

2 local candidates want schools job

At least two local candidates have applied for Livonia Public Schools superintendent.

They are: Jack Kirksey, the district director of community education and a former state representative; and Carole Samples, the acting superintendent and assistant superintendent for instruction.

While both confirmed they have applied, both declined to comment further on their intent to seek the post.

Carroll Johnson, one of the superintendent search consultants, declined to comment on the number of local applicants.

As of Tuesday morning, Johnson said he and consultant John Bru-bacher had received about 47 complete applications for the Livonia job. A flexible deadline for applying, Johnson said, was April 28.

"We have a lot more that are coming in," Johnson said, adding he expected a total of 86 applications.

Johnson said most applicants have doctorate degrees, and have come from at least 15 states.

The consultants plan to present a list of six candidates to the Livonia Board of Education on May 16. The advertised salary for the job is in the $90,000 range.

The district includes the northern section of Westland.

Poonam Kalothia, who had just joined her husband in the United States after immigrating from India, called the police while the two men struggled. But the man escaped before officers arrived.

"I was worried about her (Poonam's) safety, because she works a lot in the store," Kalothia said.

Kalothia said he asked the company to assign him to a store in another community, but changed his mind and bought the camera instead.

He said the in-store camera has been a deterrent. "People don't like it because they know you'll be able to identify them if they try a robbery," he said. "They like to find an easy job."

Like many convenience stores, the Dairy Mart posts a sign on the door telling people the cash register only holds small amounts of money after dark. Kalothia said the sign has been there since he opened the store in late 1987.

WESTLAND POLICE Detective Sgt. Bob Barthold said a camera is one of the best crime-fighting measures convenience stores can take.

"It may not discourage all thieves, but at least we get a picture and so we have a better opportunity to catch someone," he said.

Other things store managers can do to prevent crime include keeping small amounts of money in the cash register, transferring cash to a safe or making a bank deposit when it gets to a certain amount, Barthold said.

Also managers should keep store windows clear so patrolling officers can see inside the store, he said.

"A lot of times they have signs in the window or displays that block the view," Barthold said. "What good does it do to have increased police patrols if the officers can't see what's going on."

use what I learned about colors and patterns to help design my own home later on," she said.

Przywara said human ecology teachers "really get involved" in the education process and will be the teachers she remembers most when she graduates this spring.

Her other interests include softball and a job at the Plymouth Hil-

Home economics isn't going to be a career for Przywara either, unless she eventually becomes a human ecology teacher, she said.

"I've always wanted to be a teacher, and I think I'll probably end up with elementary school kids or in special education," she said. "Who knows though, maybe I'll end up teaching home economics."

Officers praised for saving lives

HARRIS WAS honored for his quick action last Dec. 24 when he "talked" a woman on the phone into using the Heimlich maneuver on her husband, who was choking on a piece of food.

The woman successfully got her husband to dislodge the piece of food while Harris dispatched an emergency medical service crew to their home.

Fraser was recognized for administering first aid to a person with a chest wound, saving the person's life.

The third annual awards ceremony honored other officers, firefighters and private citizens for outstanding actions and support of the department.

Many of the officers were recognized for helping crack major cases after countless hours of investigation, the department said.

Mayor Charles Griffin told the audience in the Westland Friendship Center that the police department is "on the cutting edge of technology" with the planned purchase of small computers to be located in patrol cars.

"Keep up the good work," he told the officers and citizens. "We salute you and depend on you."

POLICE CHIEF Paul Schnarr told the crowd that the department handles more than 40,000 calls a year. While all officers do an outstanding job, a committee reviews nominations for particular work and decides on the award recipients.

Departmental citations were presented to officers John Stone, Jeff Trzybinski, Gary Sikorski, Tim Speir, Ron Berna, Mark Stobbe, John Reddy, Tom Squier, Tom Kubitskey, Jerry Wright, Dale Hawkes, Henry Ryskamp, Scott Hall, Dave Harvey of Garden City, Leonard West, Dan Pfannes, Michael Willard, James Ridener, Albert George and Terry Donohue.

Dispatcher Ellen Florn won two individual commendations for her actions in separate events.

Unit citations were awarded to officers Michael Frayer, Bob Barthold, Kubitskey, Wright, Hugh Carpenter, Jamie Hayes, Ken Weck, Herbert Murfin, Tom Vaughn, George, Hawkes, Michael Gould, and Speir.

Certificates of merit were presented to Gould, Barthold, Ron OFFICERS from other departments receiving certificates of merit were Jim Vergona of Inkster, Dave White and Kevin Nowak of Garden City, and Rodney and Roscoe Jackson of the sheriff's department.

Firefighters honored for helping the department were Walter Faust and Michael Muscat.

Civilians cited for their support and actions were Gary Dell, Patricia Mrozek, Marcia Grzywacz, Robert Piper, Michael Parsons, and Glen Belcher.

Taking part in the ceremony was the Franklin High School Naval ROTC Color Guard, which presented the flag, and scouts from a local boy scout troop, who served as ushers.

Chamber names 1st Business Person of the Year

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Allen Brooks is a believer of the credo that good deeds bring good fortune in return for the doer.

The local photography studio owner will be on the receiving end Tuesday when he will be honored as the Westland Chamber of Commerce's first Business Person of the Year.

"I think as a business person — and a resident — you have a responsibility to do something for the community you are a part of," Brooks said of his civic involvement.

"Owning a local business gives me the chance to say and do positive things for Westland."

Brooks' community involvement

'I think as a business person — and a resident — you have a responsibility to do something for the community you are a part of.'

— Allen Brooks

stretches from the chamber — where he has been president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and program chairman — to the Wayne-Westland Teen Development Committee, to the board of directors of the Wayne-Westland YMCA and countless others.

"All that means I just have to get up a little earlier in the morning," he said.

BROOKS SAID he is most proud of cooperative efforts with city officials and the police department to help prevent break-ins at local businesses and the time several years ago when he acted as a go-between for residents opposed to a local amusement park development.

"It was just after I opened the studio here," Brooks recalled. "There was a proposal to turn Hawthorne Valley (country club) into the Westworld amusement park and a lot of people were unhappy."

"I put together a slide show for the city council and it took about a year, but eventually our side won out — the amusement park wasn't approved."

Brooks has donated professional services to countless groups and causes.

For example, Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, executive director of the city's senior resources department, estimates he has taken nearly 1,000 photos of senior activities at the city's Friendship Center. He then gives out framed copies of the pictures as gifts.

The new poster promoting the startup of Enhanced 9-1-1 emergency telephone service in Westland is also a Brooks freebie.

BROOKS, a Detroit native, said his interest in photography began as a child when he would go door-to-door photographing other kids in his neighborhood.

After graduating from Redford Thurston High School in 1958, Brooks moved to Chicago to begin his career as a photographer.

He returned to the Detroit area in the 1970s and has been operating Allen Brooks Studios in Westland for 11 years.

"I enjoy being my own boss, but fortunately I have an office manager who knows how to run things," Brooks quipped.

Look sharp, sing sharp. That's the unofficial theme for "Overture to Spring," this year's spring vocal concert at John Glenn High School.

Money raised from the Thursday, May 18, and Friday, May 19, shows will help pay for new choir robes worn by all vocal ensemble members.

The Mixed Chorus and the Treble Chorus will be featured during Thursday's show. Friday's performance will feature the Concert Choir and the Glenn Singers.

The program includes selections from the Broadway musicals "Cats" and "Phantom of the Opera," American standards and classical selections.

The vocal music department is hoping to raise the remaining $3,500 needed to pay for 100 new robes. Contributions from the school district, the senior class, and the Custodial Pop Fund have already netted half the $7,000 cost.

Curtain time both nights is 7:30 p.m. Admission is $3 for adults and $1.50 for students. Tickets are available at the door.

Livonia candidates forum set

The effort to inform residents about Livonia school board candidates will start in earnest Tuesday night at Hoover School, on Levan north of Five Mile.

The Livonia school district includes the northern section of Westland.

The candidates night, co-sponsored by the Livonia League of Women Voters and the Observer, will be 7:30-10 p.m. in the Little Theatre of the school.

Each candidate will be given the chance to make an opening and closing statements, and respond to written questions from the audience. The League will provide volunteers to time answers and statements given and to screen questions.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization whose function is to encourage an active, informed citizenry. The League does not support or work against candidates for elected offices but will take positions on ballot issues.

The candidates for the Livonia Board of Education include two incumbents: Pat Tanelli, a Livonia businesswoman who has served three years on the board; and Patricia Sari, a homemaker who has served on the board for almost six years.

Challengers are Andrew Lendrum Sr., a real estate developer in Livonia, and David G. Cameron, a former school board member who works in financial services.

The annual school election will be Monday, June 12. There will not be any proposals on the June ballot.

Ann Bramlett is project chairman of the candidates forum for the League. The forum will be televised on local cablevision by Metrovision.

Candidates seek 6-year terms on SC board

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Two challengers seek to upset incumbent Schoolcraft College trustees in the race for three six-year seats on the college board.

Challengers David Tatman and Lawrence Whitmarsh seek board seats. To get one, however, they will have to unseat board chairwoman Mary Breen or incumbents Harry Greenleaf or Jack Kirksey. In a separate race, voters will also elect one of seven candidates to a four-year board seat. (See related story.)

Here are brief profiles of candidates running for the six-year seats.

• Mary Breen — Breen, 55, lives in Plymouth Township. A retiree, she taught in the Wayne-Westland and Dearborn schools and was assistant principal of Livonia Stevenson High School. She was first elected to the board in 1983 and was leading vote-getter in that year's race. Breen holds a bachelor's degree in business education from Wayne State University and a master's degree in administration from Eastern Michigan.

• Harry Greenleaf — Greenleaf, 52, is a Livonia resident. He was first elected to the board in 1977 and is currently board vice chairman. He is a management supervisor with Ford Motor Co., Dearborn. A member of Michigan Republican state committee, he is also active in local party activities. He is also active in Newburg United Methodist Church and has taught at Henry Ford Community College, Dearborn. Greenleaf holds a bachelor's degree in engineering and management from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N.Y.

• Jack Kirksey — Kirksey, 60, lives in Livonia. He was appointed to the board in January 1988. He is director of community education for Livonia Public Schools. A state House member from 1977 to 1984, he was also a 1987 Livonia mayoral candidate. He serves on the board of directors of Livonia Chamber of Commerce, Livonia Family YMCA, Michigan Human Services and Schoolcraft College Foundation and is a lieutenant colonel in the U.S. Air Force reserves. Kirksey holds bachelor's, master's and education specialist degrees from Wayne State University.

• David Tatman — Tatman, 31, is a Plymouth resident. He is a superintendent with GM Hydra-Matic, Ypsilanti. He is active with Washtenaw United Way, the Boy Scouts of America, Washtenaw Council, and First United Methodist Church of Plymouth. Tatman holds a master's in business administration from the University of Michigan and a bachelor's degree in industrial and systems engineering from Ohio State University.

• Lawrence Whitmarsh — Whitmarsh, 42, is a Livonia resident. He is a product engineering manager with GM Hydra-Matic, Ypsilanti. He is a member of Schoolcraft's quality management advisory committee and is active with PTA, Boy Scout activities and is a past deacon at Ward Presbyterian Church, Livonia. Whitmarsh holds a bachelor's degree in business from Madonna College, Livonia and earned 62 credit hours at Schoolcraft. He is enrolled in the master's of business administration program at Central Michigan University.

Hands-on history

Auto workers help restore school house

By Diane Gale
staff writer

Once upon a time in 1873 there was a crossroads district where a small group of families lived.

As the families grew, they got together and chipped in for a one-room school house in the center of the hamlet that blossomed at Cherry Hill and Ridge roads in Canton.

DURING THE years some things changed, but a lot stayed the same, too. In 1989 it's still a place where you want to breathe the air and think of simple living. And more than anything it reminds us of days gone by.

The school house, which was in use until the late 1950s, is still standing. The doors of the white building opened for 4-H groups and other groups until the late 1960s. For nearly 15 years the Plymouth-Canton street district used it for storage.

Today the walls are freshly painted, the hard wood floors are glossy looking and a new porch will greet visitors this summer, thanks to grants and a community program sponsored by General Motors management and the UAW Local 483 offering employees for community work.

"They had to pay these guys, and they didn't have anything for them to do at the plant, so they sent them out to their communities," said Melissa McLaughlin, Canton historic commissioner.

"They've been like a gift from God. General Motors picks up the tab for all their health benefits, salaries and everything."

Roland Clendening, a General Motors employee, has been working on the building since December. And it just so happens he lives down the street from the old school house that has honorary historic status from the state.

The grand opening is slated for July 3. Afterwards it will be available for weddings, showers, meetings and other events.

"We could not have come this far had it not been for the job work program and we're extremely grateful to Rolie, GM and the UAW," McLaughlin said. "I'm down here (by the school) almost every day, and the more I'm here and the longer I'm here the more enthusiastic I get."

THE SCHOOL house is one of many historic projects happening in Canton.

Across the street and down the road, crews are clearing brush to make room for the Bartlett-Travis house, believed to have been built in the 1850s at Holms and Canton Center. It was recently donated to the commission by Ken Dividock.

This summer the 140-year-old house will sit on 20 acres, a stone throw from the Cherry Hill School.

The township is looking at buying another building, the Sheldon School, at Michigan and Sheldon, which is also a historic area, McLaughlin said.

And sometime around June, Quinn/Evans Architects will have drawn a historical district plan with Cherry Hill as the hub and Saltz, Napier and Proctor as the spokes.

CITY OF GARDEN CITY ORDINANCE NO. 89-002

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTIONS 71.10, 71.11, 71.12, 71.13, and 71.14 OF CHAPTER 71 OF TITLE VIII OF THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY AND TO ADD NEW SECTIONS WHICH NEW SECTIONS SHALL BE DESIGNATED AS SECTIONS 71.15 AND 71.16 OF CHAPTER 71 OF TITLE VIII OF SAID CODE.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:

That Sections 71.10, 71.11, 71.12, 71.13 and 71.14 of Chapter 71 of Title VIII of the Code of the City of Garden City be amended to read as follows; and that new Sections designated as Sections 71.15 and 71.16 of Chapter 71 of Title VIII of the said code be added to read as follows:

Section 71.10. BICYCLES, SKATEBOARDS, ROLLER SKATES, STREET SKATES, REGULATIONS APPLICABLE, REGULATIONS.

(a) "Bicycles" means a device propelled by human power on which a person may ride, having either two (2) or three (3) wheels in tandem, the wheels of which are more than 14 inches in diameter.

(b) "Skateboards" refers to a self-propelled device consisting of a short oblong board with small wheels at each end, ridden on a hard surface such as a floor, sidewalk, or street, and propelled by the riders feet.

(c) "Roller Skates and Street Skates" means small wheels near the toe and near the heel of a shoe or frame that would attach to a shoe which are used for gliding on a hard surface, such as a floor, sidewalk, or street, etc.

(d) "The roller skates" means to skate on any type of roller skates or street skates.

Section 71.11. SKATING OR RIDING ON SIDEWALKS - Whoever any person is roller skating, riding a bicycle or riding a skateboard upon a sidewalk or other paved surface intended for use by pedestrians, it shall be unlawful and punishable hereunder for such person to fail to yield the right-of-way to any pedestrian and/or approach, overtake or pass such pedestrian in a reckless or careless manner, and shall not pass such pedestrian except in single file if such person is roller skating, riding a bicycle or riding a skateboard with other such skaters or riders.

Section 71.12. SKATING OR RIDING ON CERTAIN DEVICES OR STRUCTURES

PROHIBITED - It shall be unlawful and punishable hereunder to roller skate, ride a bicycle or ride a skateboard on any bench, table, planter wall, retaining wall or other device or structure in the public business sector, which is not intended for pedestrian or vehicle traffic, or to jump or step on or off such devices or structures in the process of roller skating, riding a bicycle or riding a skateboard.

Section 71.13. SKATING OR RIDING PROHIBITED WHERE POSTED - The City Traffic Engineer is hereby authorized to erect signs on any sidewalk or other open areas prohibiting roller skating, riding a bicycle or the riding of skateboards thereon. It shall be unlawful and punishable hereunder to roller skate, ride a bicycle or ride a skateboard on any such posted sidewalk or open area.

Section 71.14. RECKLESS OR DANGEROUS SKATING OR RIDING PROHIBITED - It shall be unlawful and punishable hereunder for any person to roller skate, ride a bicycle or ride a skateboard on any sidewalk or other paved surface intended for pedestrians or vehicles in a reckless or careless manner, nor in a manner which is likely to result in injury or harm to any person or property.

Section 71.15. SKATING OR RIDING ON PRIVATE PROPERTY WITHOUT PERMISSION PROHIBITED - It shall be unlawful and punishable hereunder for any person to roller skate, ride a bicycle or ride a skateboard on private property without first obtaining and carrying on his or her person the written permission of the owner of said private property to allow such skating or riding. Failure of a person who has been roller skating, riding a bicycle or riding a skateboard on private property to produce such written permission, upon the request of any police officer, shall constitute prima facie evidence that said person is in violation of this section.

Section 71.16. PENALTIES - The penalties for violation of Sections 71.10 through 71.15 shall be considered "civil infractions" in the same manner as civil infractions are considered under the Motor Vehicle Code and shall consist of a fine of not less than $10.00 nor more than $100.00 for a first offense. Subsequent offenses shall be punishable as misdemeanors.

EXCEPT AS HEREIN MODIFIED, THE SAID CODE SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT.

THIS AMENDATORY ORDINANCES DECLARED TO BE EFFECTIVE UPON PUBLICATION AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Governor knocks panel for shelving school quality plan

By Tim Richard
staff writer

"Big mistake," said Gov. James J. Blanchard of a legislative committee's rejection of one of his major school quality measures.

"Ultimately they will pass it," Blanchard said in a Novi news conference last week.

"Philosophy of the plan is to reward success, not prop up failure," he said.

THE HOUSE Education Committee turned down the Governor's Achievement Incentive (GAIN), a plan to reward school buildings with grants averaging $15,000 for reaching planned goals.

Those goals could be improved standard test scores, reduced dropout rates, greater student participation in extracurricular activities, and improved post-graduation job placement.

"It's not for Bloomfield Hills, to get their average score from the 90th to the 92nd percentile," the governor told a news conference.

"It's for average schools in big cities."

As amended, House Bill 4444 would limit grants to 25 percent of the buildings in any K-12 school district.

Democrat Blanchard noted Republican President George Bush had proposed a similar national program of incentive grants. "Ours has more money and more teeth," Blanchard said.

THE 19-MEMBER House Education Committee voted eight yes and nine no on reporting the bill to the House floor. Two members didn't vote.

The panel was split across party lines and across city-suburban-out-

(In Thursday's edition, the vote of Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, was not recorded. She voted no.)

In part, committee members resented Blanchard's political exploitation of the issue. Others feared the GAIN program, estimated at $15 million for fiscal 1990, would drain other meritorious programs, such as those for dropouts and pregnant teens.

BLANCHARD said a U.S. Department of Education report showing Michigan with a high dropout rate was evidence of need for "massive preschool education."

The federal report said Michigan plummeted to 48th in the nation with only 62 percent of students graduating from high school.

While state school officials criticized the way statistics were gathered, Blanchard said they showed that "we have to start in the early years" to prepare children for schooling.

He said 40,000 to 50,000 Michigan youngsters are in danger of ultimate failure even before they start kindergarten.

THE GOVERNOR predicted success for a proposal to ask voters to raise the state sales tax a half-cent to pump $400 million in new money into schools.

"No plan until now has had support beyond the education lobbies," Blanchard said. "We think it can win at the ballot."

He said the plan, drafted by a committee headed by former college president Edgar Harden, is supported by the two major teachers unions, manufacturers, retailers, PTAs, the United Auto Workers, the AFL-CIO, auto dealers and the League of Women Voters.

'Big mistake,' said Gov. James J. Blanchard of a legislative committee's rejection of one of his major school quality measures: He predicted that 'ultimately they will pass it.'

Blanchard: No increase in state fuel tax

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Gov. James Blanchard dashed cold water on suburban hopes of raising the state fuel tax for better roads in the near future.

Asked if he thought the Legislature would pass a proposed 2-cents-a-gallon tax increase, Blanchard said, "Probably not, and I'll tell you why."

"Gas prices have shot up, and there's concern the oil companies are taking advantage of the current situation, citing the Exxon Valdez incident (in which an Exxon tanker ran aground and spilled oil on the Alaskan coast).

"Until those gas prices level off and the federal and state governments get a handle on why gas prices went up so quickly, I don't think anything will happen" in the Legislature.

THE OAKLAND County Road Commission is seeking an even big-

'Until gas prices level off and the federal and state governments get a handle on why gas prices went up so quickly, I don't think anything will happen' in the Legislature.

— Gov. James Blanchard

ger increase than the current legislative bill calling for a 2 cent hike on gasoline and another penny on other petroleum products.

The Oakland panel wants increases of 2 cents a year for three years, for a new total of 6 cents.

Current state gasoline tax is 15 cents a gallon.

The Oakland proposal calls for putting half the new money in the general road fund and half in an eco-economic development fund, which would go back to counties experiencing great economic growth. Under that formula, Oakland has been the biggest winner, followed by Kent County.

Each penny of the gasoline tax produces about $45 million in revenue.

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara has supported the current legislative bill in testimony before a House committee.

Blanchard predicted a "modest" increase "at some point."

THERE'S STRONG disagreement over how important a problem roads are. Oakland polls show roads are the No. 1 problem.

But Blanchard, in Novi last week to attend a small business conference, said his economic agenda was drawn from the shopping list of small entrepreneurs.

"Oakland voters themselves turned down a (road) proposal, so there's some controversy as to how important it is to everybody," Blanchard said. Oakland voters last Nov. 8 rejected, 3-1, a $25 per vehicle fee for local roads.

"The bad news is that we have far more demands for infrastructure than money. The good news is we're growing — faster than we expected," the governor said.

He recalled that a 2-cents-a-gallon increase took effect in 1983 and a fee package was passed in 1987, "and there's still enormous demands."

Teamwork

An important element of life

THE ROOM felt electric. "This has got to be perfect," Sarah Mikel whispered to her fellow classmates, who all watched the door eagerly.

Casey Hans

Rumor had it, he was already in the school. Maize and blue sweats, "Go Blue" hats and other assorted Wolverine paraphernalia could be seen at nearly every desk. Elementary student musicians stood at attention, ready to play a well-rehearsed "Hall to the Victors."

It was enough to turn some of us green. But it was an occasion where even blue and green could mix.

Dorothy Sundek's fourth graders at Longacre Elementary in Farmington anxiously awaited the entrance of Mark Messner, an all-American defensive lineman who played the past four years for the University of Michigan.

Messner led U-M in the number of tackles and appears to be a tower of strength.

Messner's visit, prompted by an invitation from student Garrett Ogilvie, was more than a talk about football, drugs in sports and growing up. Any public figure — especially one like Messner — is a hero and role model to kids in their formative years.

HIS MESSAGE is key, but it is equally as important who he is and what he represents. His life is the dream for many — both kids and parents — who watch him use that special skill on the field.

There's something about sports and other team activities that teach us how to relate to each other. We learn how to come together and share ideas. Whether it's Little League baseball, an Odyssey of the Mind competition, a high school sports activity, or a school or community group, we find out just how important the concept of teamwork is.

No matter what our age, we're always searching for that coach who will motivate us and lead us on to victory in whatever we're trying to achieve. Sometimes, team activities can teach us to be our own coach, when we need it.

Doesn't everyone at times need a little "rah, rah" spirit to lift them up and keep them going?

ATHLETES AND others can't do that just by settling a good example and offering a bit of guidance to those in need.

Students can take a lesson from Messner who talks about getting good grades: "That's more important than even playing football," Messner said. "It's important that you have to have good study habits before you go (to college). Even now."

That's not just a lesson for fourth graders — it's one we can all heed. What we do with our lives today will mold our future.

Sometimes we just need a little coaching.

Agrees with abortion view

Dear Editor:

I want publicly to thank Jane Marsh of Livonia for her May 1 letter to the editor about the deceptions of the abortion issue. Her letter was well-researched, factual and concise. Her truthful letter should have made the front page: it was that newsworthy. Too many people do not know the facts behind abortion and Roe vs. Wade.

Too many people, some pro-lifers included, also are not aware that the birth control pill can be abortifacient because of what it does to the lining of the uterus. It makes the uterus hostile to implantation of a fertilized egg. I urge all pro-lifers to take a good look at their birth control methods to see if they really are pro-lifers.

Also, too many people are not aware that there are several natural forms of birth control which range in effectiveness from 85 to 99 percent. None of these are the rhythm method; that is obsolete.

The one natural method that is 99 percent effective is the Sympto-Thermal Method. It is based on a woman's present fertility cycle; therefore it works for women with regular and irregular cycles.

Classes in all natural methods are taught regularly in the metro area. Sympto-Thermal Method classes are taught by certified teaching couples of the Couple to Couple League, a Cincinnati organization that boasts a membership of more 50,000 nationwide. More information can be obtained by calling 533-2242 or 565-6129.

Rights issue not supported

To the editor:

I applaud your recent stand supporting patients' rights legislation and medical self-determination.

However, your perception of the controversy surrounding the bill is not accurate. The abortion issue only arose when anti-abortion legislators sought to insert language granting constitutional rights to the fetus. This granting of legal personhood to an embryo treads on very dangerous ground and is not supported by case law anywhere in this country. In response, though not enthusiastically, pro-choice legislators offered to substitute language which simply said the law did not cover pregnant women. That was not acceptable to those who oppose abortion and who see this bill as a real opening to make their case in other areas of Michigan law, and this is not the first piece of legislation they have attempted to use to confer constitutional rights on the fetus.

You should further be aware that last December, pro choice legislators all voted for Representative Hollister's bill, in spite of language specifically related to the fetus, though narrower than language now demanded by Right-to-Life.

A major point which you also are ignoring is a much more significant controversy: Whether nutrition and hydration can be withheld, even if a person designates that withdrawal in her/his signed wishes. Right-to-Life insists on continuation of food and water which effectively overturns the whole point of this bill. Further, their demand sets up a situation wherein a conscious person, who can now legally refuse food and water, refuses this nourishment, becomes unconscious, is force fed, becomes conscious, refuses nourishment, becomes unconscious, is force fed, etc., setting up the most vicious of vicious circles I can imagine.

I continue to support medical self-determination, but no outside organization, based upon their own, separate religious beliefs, should ever be able to intervene in the most personal, agonizing decision any family ever has to make.

Thank you for taking tough stand

To the editor:

Jack Gladden's column "MSU prof caught in 'racist' feud" on April 13 was excellent.

This particular gentleman at Michigan State University I am not familiar with, nor the incident at hand here, but I'm sick and tired of people referring to others at "the drop of the hat."

Usually the accused individual bows down under pressure and apologizes for something that they shouldn't even have to answer to.

Thank you for making a stand on this issue.

Column shows writer myopia

To the editor:

Mr. Stan Williams' letter on the (Phil) Sherman column on censorship shows remarkable myopia. The censorship of child pornography, in fact, its criminality has more to do with the child subjects being used by their photographers than bare bodies. Children are considered a special, protected group.

In regard to speech advocating the violent overthrow of the government, a long time ago the Supreme Court determined that there must be a "clear and present danger" to warrant censorship.

In regard to the AIDS issue, no sane person would willingly consent to being infected by another which is why AIDS is no longer spreading in the gay community. It was pure chance that the first person to bring it to this country had many, many gay contacts. AIDS could just have readily become a heterosexual disease, since that community has not cornered the market on chastity. In Africa, where AIDS originated among a strain of monkeys, AIDS is a heterosexual disease.

State laws against homosexuality and sodomy are dangerously vague, giving the state government unwarranted authority to invade our privacy. There are already laws covering sexual solicitation and public behavior.

Censorship implies authoritarianism, dislike for public discussion and a simplistic belief that ignorance for some is bliss for all of us. Ignorance spreads disease and is at the root of many social problems like teenage pregnancy. Censorship is easy for government to enforce, but we lose our democracy when it happens.

Urges board to reconsider

To the editor:

It has been brought to my attention that James Harkrader, a teacher at Franklin High School, is not coming back next year.

I have worked at Franklin High since 1979 as a noon aide monitor. Listening and talking to the students you hear many comments. James Harkrader was among those, about whom only good comments were heard.

My son Martin Regan, a junior at Franklin, has Mr. Harkrader for weight lifting and has only respect and admiration for this man.

My contacts with Mr. Harkrader as a noon aide monitor, although infrequent, have always been cordial, polite, and professional.

I wish to add my voice as a parent and also as a friend of Franklin High to those who are requesting the board to reconsider its decision, and grant tenure to James Harkrader.

Candidates vie for 4-year term on SC board

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

They include an attorney and an attorney-to-be, a veteran campaigner, a caterer, an education counselor and a former college trustee.

They even include a woman whose first name is someone else's name spelled backward.

Ronaele Bowman, Thomas Davis, Richard Hayward, Thaddeus McCotter, Patricia Sacha, M. Andrea Taylor and Jeffrey Theodore all seek a four-year seat on the Schoolcraft College board.

They are:

• Ronaele Bowman — Bowman, 47, is a Livonia resident. She trains youth assistance volunteers for the Michigan Training and Resource Center, Northville. Her community activities include Livonia Youth Assistance, Friends of the Homeless and Homes for Black Children, where she serves on the board of directors. She holds a bachelor's degree in liberal arts, with a major in sociology, from Marquette University, Milwaukee. Bowman's unusual first name is Eleanor, spelled backward.

• Thomas Davis — Davis, 50, lives in Northville Township. He is a Ford Motor Co. finance supervisor and was a member of the Livonia Board of Education from 1974-78. He holds a bachelor's degree in finance from the University of Detroit. Davis has coordinated several area campaigns, including Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara's last two Livonia mayoral campaigns.

• Richard Hayward — Hayward, 60, is a Livonia resident. A self-employed steel industry consultant, he served on the Schoolcraft board from 1978-81. He is a member of the Livonia Economic Development Corporation and Madonna College Business Advisory Council, and has served on the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and Livonia Hockey Association boards. He was also active in St. Alden Parish, Livonia. Hayward holds a bachelor's degree in business administration from Madonna and has received the college's distinguished alumni award.

• Thaddeus McCotter — McCotter, 23, is a Livonia resident. He is a law student at the University of Detroit and recipient of the U-D law school's Jerome P. Cavanaugh Scholarship. McCotter is also a law clerk at the Livonia firm of Brashear, Tangora and Spence. The son of Livonia city councilwoman Joan McCotter, he was active in recent Livonia-area GOP campaigns. He is a member of the Schoolcraft College Foundation, Livonia Symphony League, Livonia Cultural League and Livonia Jaycees. Lead guitarist and singer for a rock band, McCotter has had six of his compositions copyrighted.

• Patricia Sacha — Sacha, 61, lives in Livonia. A retiree, she taught in the Detroit Public Schools and spent 20 years in supervisory positions with the Birmingham Public Schools, re-assessing the district curriculum and creating programs for learning disabled students. She also served as a district media specialist. Sacha holds bachelor's and master's degrees in education from Wayne State University.

• M. Andrea Taylor — Taylor, 43, is a Livonia resident. A food service manager for the Plymouth-Canton Schools, she also operates Andy's Cakes and Catering, a Livonia-based catering company. This month, she received an associate's degree in culinary management at Schoolcraft. Taylor plans to continue her education, working toward a degree in hotel and restaurant management.

• Jeffrey Theodore — Theodore, 30, is a Canton Township resident. He is an assistant prosecuting attorney with the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, Detroit. He received his law degree from Wayne State University and holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Eastern Michigan University and an associate's degree in liberal arts from Schoolcraft. Theodore is a member of the federal bar for eastern Michigan.

In addition to electing a candidate to the four-year seat, voters will also choose between three incumbents and two challengers for a trio of six-year seats. (See related story.)

Voters in the Livonia, Plymouth-Canton, Garden City, Clarenceville and Northville public school districts are eligible to vote in the Schoolcraft races.

Older adults host senior power day

"Senior Power — Building a Community of Generations" is the theme of the 15th annual Senior Power day May 16, which is expected to draw 4,000 senior citizens from southeastern Michigan to Lansing.

Supreme Court Chief Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley is serving as honorary chairwoman.

"As a senior citizen, the chief justice is involved with a myriad of social issues that reflect the theme for this year's event," said Nel Thompson, executive director of the Senior Alliance, a nonprofit corporation serving the needs of the elderly in Wayne County.

The platform is set to make recommendations in the areas of housing, education, health, employment and transportation.

"The platform will be looking at issues such as AIDS and long-term care that affect so many more people than just the elderly," Thompson said. "It's reflective of a growing trend and understanding for the need to get organizations that serve various age groups to work together to resolve mutual problems."

"Having Ms. Riley as honorary chair sets an appropriate tone for this 15th year celebration, given her work with many different groups including the State Bar of Michigan's Family Law Section, the Women's Economic Club, and the Michigan Association of the Professions, just to name a few."

Tickets to Senior Power day are available to older adults living in southern and western Wayne County on a first-come, first-served basis at $2, which includes lunch and transportation to Lansing.

Out-Wayne County residents who make the approximately 172-mile round trip to Lansing will be among more than 6,000 attending the program who plan to support Michigan seniors and bring issues to the forefront in the form of a five-plank platform.

A summary of the proposed platform will be distributed through the Senior Alliance so that persons attending the event can become familiar with the issues at hand.

Participants will also attend a public hearing in the morning and a consumers fair, with nearly 100 exhibits.

For more information, call Georgia Bradford or Amy Punke at the Senior Alliance, 722-2830.

ASPIRIN AND INFLAMMATION
Joint inflammation is a process in which noxious chemicals enter a joint and damage or destroy it. Stopping inflammation requires the presence of a substance that can halt the generation of these chemicals; aspirin is such an agent.

Not only can aspirin inhibit inflammation, but the drug can prevent the fever and decrease the pain that accompanies inflammation.

All other anti-inflammatory drugs, with the exception of steroids, work on the principle of aspirin; and are substitutes for it. To date, physicians have not found that any of these substitutes work better than aspirin.

Thus, for fighting inflammation, aspirin remains the first drug of choice. If you are allergic to it, or it does not work for you, then the substitute anti-inflammatory drugs are worth a try. But remember, physicians experienced in treating joint conditions turn to aspirin first.

In this period of great technological achievement, it is hard to believe that the "old ways are the best ways." But in the case of aspirin therapy for arthritis, this saying retains its wisdom.

'Front-runner' to gain county jail

It was long considered the front-runner and, on Friday, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara made it official: the new Wayne County Jail will be located in Hamtramck.

The announcement came as final relief for Westland officials. Westland had been considered the jail site if negotiations with other cities fell through.

The site selected is north of I-94, between Joseph Campeau and Conant, two of the eastern suburb's main streets.

Hamtramck officials actively campaigned for the jail, making the city the front-runner. Sites in Highland Park and Romulus were also considered, though McNamara said all along the jail would go to a city that wanted it.

An 840-bed jail is proposed.

County voters approved a 1-mill jail construction tax last August.

County commissioners still need to approve the site, though approval appears likely.

Still unresolved is the issue of payments to Highland Park, considered the runner-up in the jail selection process.

County commissioners approved a plan calling for $30,000-a-year payments over the next 10 years to the runner-up community. McNamara, however, has said he'd veto the proposal.

Be Kind to Animals events are set

The Michigan Humane Society has several special events planned in recognition of Be Kind to Animals Week, May 7-13.

"The Animals Film" a documentary about various animal protection issues will be shown on Friday, May 12, at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. Narrated by Julie Christie, this film is graphic and not recommended for children under 13. It begins at 7 p.m.

On Saturday, May 13, the MHS will hold its annual meeting at the Hyatt Regency in Dearborn. The featured speaker is Michael O'Sullivan, Canadian coordinator for the World Society for the Protection of Animals. O'Sullivan will talk about furs.

On Sunday, May 14, the MHS north shelter will host an open house from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Everyone is welcome to meet the animals, tour the facility, attend obedience and grooming demonstrations, and visit a craft and bake sale. There will be a free gift for all moms who attend this Mother's Day event. The shelter is at 3600 Auburn Road, just east of Adams, in Auburn Heights.

The humane society will have a display at Northland Mall in Southfield May 12-14. In conjunction, the mall is raffling off a $1,000 Northland shopping tour, with proceeds to benefit homeless animals.

The Michigan Humane Society is a private, non-profit organization. Call 872-3400 for more information.

Madonna gains Lions grant

The Lions/Lioness Clubs of southeastern Michigan have donated more than $10,000 to support deaf and hearing impaired students of Madonna College.

Funds will assist in scholarship aid and additional equipment. Madonna College initiated academic support services for deaf and hearing impaired students in 1975, and has received support from the Lions Clubs for the past decade.

To date, Madonna is the only college in Michigan and one of few in the United States providing in-class sign language interpreters, notetakers and counseling services to deaf and hearing impaired students with a comprehensive on-campus educational support system.

The Detroit Science Center has a variety of spring activities planned for visitors.

Some May and June events are highlighted here.

• Through May 14: The Jason Project. An attempt to broadcast live color images from the floor of the Mediterranean Sea via telepresence technology. Daily at 2 and 3 p.m. and weekends every hour between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m.

• May 18, 5-8 p.m.: Bus Fund Reception. Guests are asked to make a contribution of $80, enough to transport one school group to the Science Center for a class trip.

• May 20: The Great Sci-Fly. Activities start at 12:30, with a kite flying contest at 2 p.m. Awards will be given for the longest and highest flying kites. Registration by May 15.

• June: "Beavers" begins at Omnimax Theatre. The film is the saga of a beaver family that makes its way to the Canadian Rockies. Shows run every hour on the half hour during the science center's hours of operation.

• June 28: Children's Day. 200,000 children will visit Detroit's Cultural Center. All visitors to the Science Center are admitted at the group rate of $2.50 a person. Children will receive beaver masks and participate in a tree planting as a tribute to beavers.

In addition, several workshops are scheduled, including "You Be the Architect" in three-stages for kindergartners through adults. Students in grades 3 to 6 get to design a dream home, those in grades 7 to adult get a special historical district tour for Preservation Week, and younger children will have a session geared to their level.

High Flyers is a workshop for third through sixth graders who will discover why things fly and learn how to make flying machines. They will also get a free pass to see Flyers in the space theatre.

Participation in workshops is by prepaid registration at least a week prior to the scheduled workshop. To register call 577-8432.

The Detroit Science Center is at 5020 John R. Admission is $5 for adults, $4 for 6 to 12 year olds and senior citizens, $2 for 4 and 5 year olds. Kids under 4 are admitted free.

Science Center summer hours are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, Saturday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Sunday noon to 6 p.m.

Bum rap given to anchovy

Anchovies are like ice cream or Stravinsky compositions. People either love them, or hate them.

Shameless prejudice accounts for much of the anchovy's bum rap. Serve a well-seasoned Caesar salad without mentioning anchovies, and even the fish's detractors will pronounce the salad delicious. Mention anchovy beforehand, however, and the salad will languish on the table, barely unsampled. Steak tartar and Salad Nicoise, not to mention pizza, also would be sorry stuff without the anchovy.

The anchovy has a very distinguished culinary history. It was highly esteemed by the ancient Greeks and Romans, the latter of whom used it to make garum, a pungent sauce prepared by leaving whole anchovies and brine in the sun.

In Shakespeare's time the fish was consumed with a glass of sherry as a snack. Furthermore, the tiny fish has long been associated with drinking: a 17th century writer described it as, "The famous meat of the drunkards."

The saltiness of the fish does, indeed, prompt people to drink, which is why anchovy hors d'oeuvres are so popular at cocktail parties. Anchovies also make great appetizers, as the English writer Thomas Flatman aptly observed: "To quicken appetite it will behoove ye to feed courageously on good Anchovie."

THE SALTWATER FISH, a diminutive four to five inches long and silver in color, is caught on dark spring nights. Bright lights are shone from the boat into the water, attracting the fish by the millions.

The bulk of the catch is destined to be cured. Mediterranean fishermen simply gut the fish, salt it and pack it in barrels. In this country, anchovies are most commonly consumed in canned form. The fillets are cured in salt for three to four months, which gives them a reddish hue, then packed in olive oil in flat cans. Fresh anchovies, which are scarce in this area, are absolutely delectable when fried or cooked on the grill. They taste and resemble our smelt.

The fish appears in dishes as diverse as Italian antipasto, Scandinavian smorgasbord and German Weiner Schnitzel. The combination of anchovy and meat is not as odd as it sounds, for the tangy fish is one of the main ingredients in Worcestershire and steak sauces.

Anchovies should be drained and blotted on paper towels before using. To diminish the fishy flavor, you can soak the fillets in milk for 20 minutes. Fish steaks and even beef can be larded with anchovies to impart a wonderful flavor. This is accomplished by inserting the fillets in a larding needle and pulling them through the thick parts of the fish or steaks.

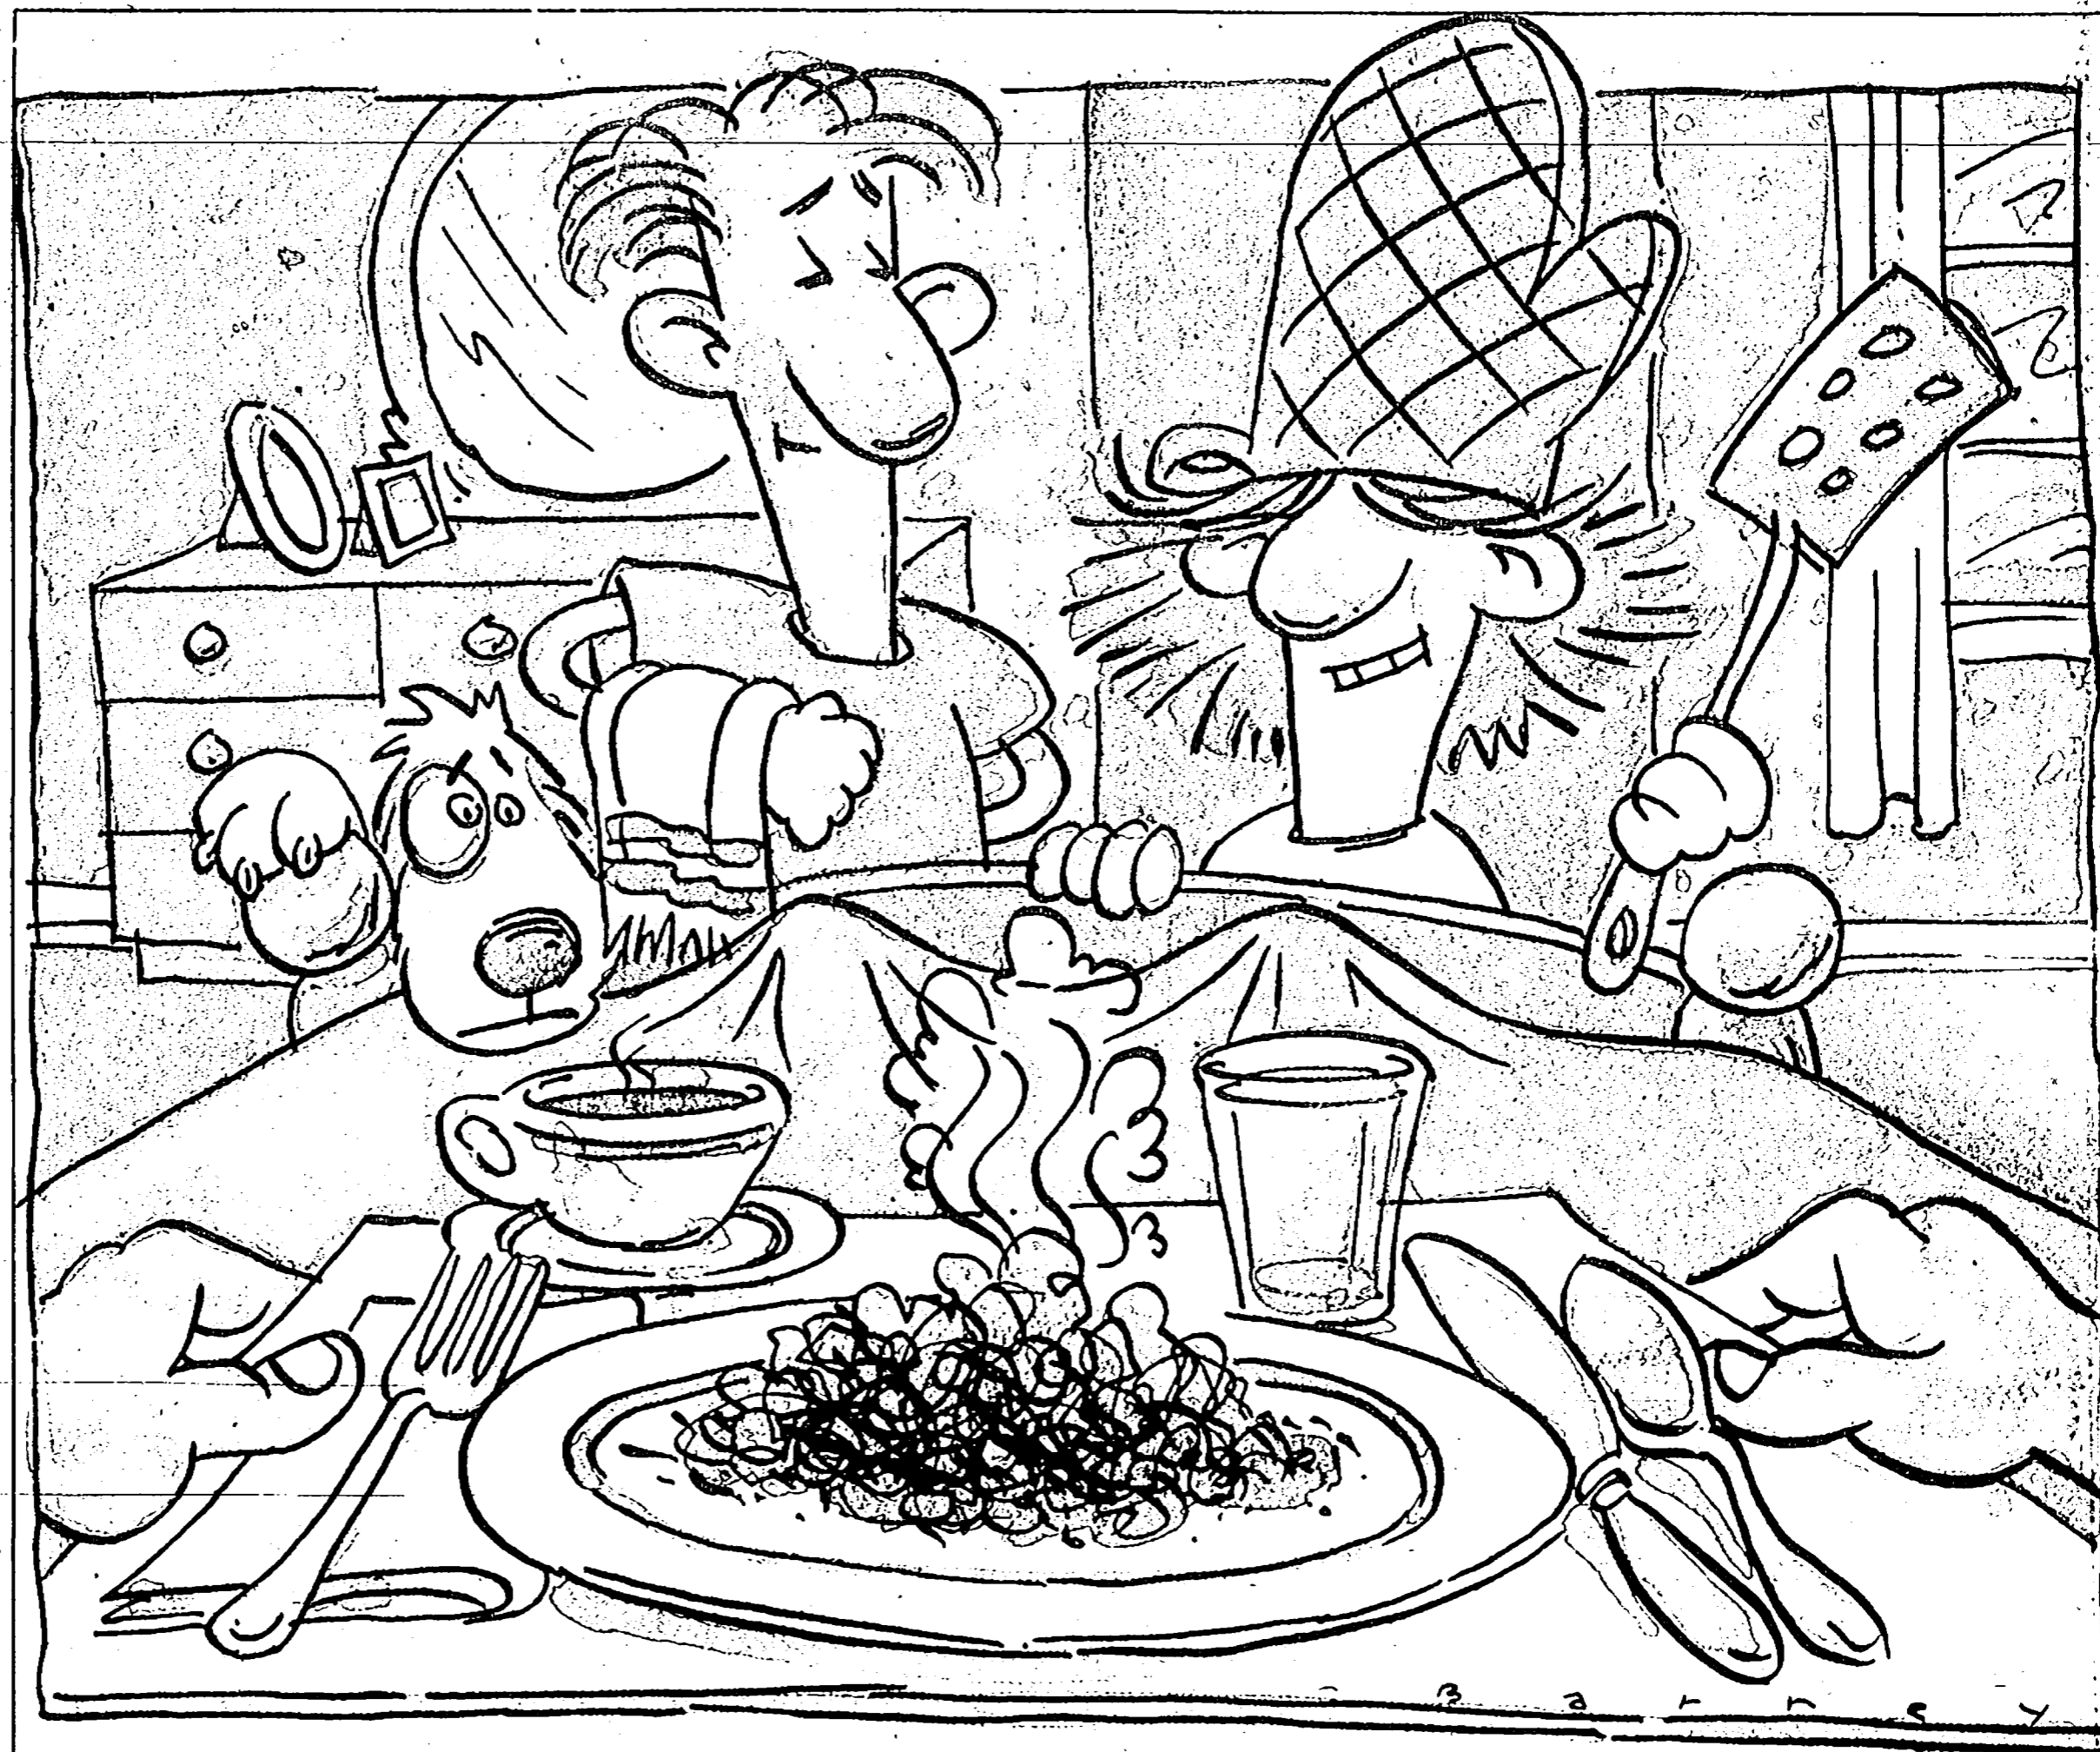

The strangest recipe I have ever come across for anchovy comes from the French novel-

Mom, plan breakfast in bed

By Larry Janes
special writer

Please turn page for recipes

IF THE SOUND of kids in the kitchen send shivers down your spine, you're unlike many of the moms we interviewed. Seems that all the Kona coffee in Hawaii can't equal the pleasure derived from having breakfast prepared by the kids on Mother's Day.

The secret is expanding the basic job description. It's one thing being brought the morning paper, a fresh cup of coffee and a steaming slice of quiche, and quite another slipping on your robe and venturing into a kitchen with a sink full of dirty dishes and finding coffee grounds all over the floor. So if thoughts of a Mother's Day "breakfast in bed" sound appealing, you have to plan your strategy.

Whether the kids are 6 or 16, it probably wouldn't hurt leaving this article in a very conspicuous location. Not too conspicuous, mind you, but a place where you know it will be seen.

A good place for older kids would be stuffed into their sweats. Of course, you could always say the article "just happened to fall into their sneakers." If kids are temporarily not available and you're hoping to have your mate surprise you, a simple clipping strategically placed in the bathroom would give a subtle hint. Ditto for the place in the "bills to pay" file.

IF YOU ARE FACED with the task of getting the little ones to grab the hint, forget all the above and attack the situation bluntly with the statement "Mommy would love breakfast in bed," and then circle the date on a large May calendar.

Now that everyone in the family knows you would like a homemade Mother's Day breakfast, you can do one of two things: settle for burnt toast, a wilted flower and a crumpled paper by simply assuming they will shop and prepare, or you can propose a simple menu that would include everyone's help.

There's nothing like the taste of fresh-squeezed orange juice in the morning and, yes, it can be purchased from any good grocery store, but you can also pick up a very inexpensive plastic juicer and a bag of oranges. Anyone over the age of 4 can slice an orange in half and juice a few oranges.

Forget the ritualistic frying of a few pounds of bacon. Not only do you risk having to jump out of bed and nurse blisters, but the mess to be made on the stovetop totally wipes out all the joy of the taste.

Even a kid culinarian can crack a few eggs and make a simple strata or egg-based casserole. Quiche would be a nice touch, but then you have to deal with making the crust, baking the crust, filling, measuring, baking, slicing and probably oven clean-up.

ON MOTHER'S DAY eve, you could politely set out a casserole dish conveniently sprayed with Pam or lightly greased. Have the eggs, bread and veggies sitting in separate bowls, easily noticed upon opening the fridge. In order to avoid the possibility of having your sleep interrupted, set out the whisk, ladle, measuring cup, measuring spoons and at least a dozen kitchen towels the night before.

If you are dealing with true novices, having the coffee premeasured assures you of at least one good thing you won't have to lie about the next magical morning.

If the family members taking part in this exercise of futility have taken Home Ec. 101 and have some understanding of kitchen rituals, simply remind them that in order to avoid egg drop soup and create a perfect casserole, for every egg used, you can use equal amounts of milk or cream and still end up with an edible product.

Beginners can rely on good old Bob Evans for a tasty, seasoned breakfast sausage, while those having little problems tying apron strings behind their backs can rely on the addition of green onions, pepper and a little sage that was left over from last Thanksgiving.

A small side of fresh fruit would top off the entree and, God forbid, the opening of a can of fruit cocktail could suffice. Add to that a toasty bagel or whole-wheat English muffin plucked from the toaster and it would warm the heart of Mother Theresa, let alone you.

YOU COULD EVEN tolerate the slathering on of half a stick of butter or margarine knowing, of course, it can easily be scraped off.

The clincher here, of course, should be a needless reminder that should something like this incredible feat be attempted so should some attempt at clean-up. Make sure the kitchen is well stocked with liquid detergent and Soft-Scrub cleanser for the non-stick skillet, stove and countertop.

Better yet, have an additional six kitchen towels strategically placed throughout the kitchen at arm's reach. A hint to drop, while the food is being delivered to your bedside, is, "I'm sure the kitchen was left exactly the way you found it this morning."

Now let's play the devil's advocate. What if your spouse is a dolt, who has no idea how to turn the oven on and the kids think that breakfast was contrived by a lady named Aunt Jemima? Simply stock the freezer with an assortment of Great Starts microwave-ready breakfasts. Of course, since it's Mother's Day, you get to choose.

You might even wish to barricade yourself in the bedroom, at least until the folks from Molly Maid have finished.

Most of today's Renaissance kids (and men) would probably welcome the opportunity to pull off something like this. Give them all the help and support they need. As a precautionary measure, you might want to make a reservation at the local breakfast joint. But if they're willing and able, the recipes submitted for your approval are easy, delicious and all can be prepared by anyone with a little love in their hearts. Bon appetit!

Box office hit Homemade meals are just the ticket

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

Wednesdays are matinee days at the Birmingham Theatre, but that's also a day the box office crew takes turns preparing a special lunch.

The small office next to the box office is where the staff gathers to enjoy the meal that has only one requirement — everything must be homemade.

Chuck Schroder of Rochester Hills, the bar manager, loves to cook and frequently prepares some of the dishes. One recent afternoon he brought in Chicken Enchiladas.

Other times, he has created such things as beef stroganoff — "an old recipe from my mom" — and a five-layer blueberry torte. "It has about 8,000 calories," he said. "What did you make today?"

asked the theater's general manager, Charlotte Lally of Birmingham, who was passing through the lobby.

"The best Chicken Enchiladas you've ever had in your life," Schroder said with obvious pride.

Schroder said he learned to cook as a matter of self-survival.

"I picked up recipes from my mom and just over the years trained myself."

He cooks by smell instead of taste. "If the aroma is good, the favor's going to be good."

THAT AFTERNOON, the salad was made by Debbie Denson of Berkley, the box office manager, and Jo-Carroll Mullen of Birmingham, who does the box office and works as head usher for the Wednesday matinee and concession.

Joan Droelle of Redford Township, a part-time box office employee, did the dessert, oatmeal cake.

"It's real simple to make," she said. "I don't use a box cake mix. I can't take it anywhere without everyone wanting the recipe."

The crew from the front of the house invites everyone working on the production to share the food.

"There's more than enough," Denson said.

Wednesday is a long day, from matinee to evening performance.

"We can feed people through all the way to 8 o'clock tonight," Denson said.

SCHRODER MADE enough enchiladas to feed 25 people. Sometimes his dishes can carry over from Wednesday.

"His stroganoff lasted for three days," Denson said.

Chuck Schroder, who made the chicken enchiladas, tops one with sauce heating in a crockpot at the Birmingham Theatre box office lunch Wednesday.

Making enchiladas, Schroder gets help from his roommate.

"I cannot roll an enchilada to beat the band," he said.

The roommate usually alternates rolling a few with reserving one for himself throughout the process.

and the enchiladas would get soggy. At lunch, each person fills a tortilla, heats it in the office's microwave oven and tops it with more sauce.

Mark Allen Berg, the lighting director, stopped by the office on his way into the theater. A meal platter was fixed up for him to take to the lighting booth.

Shirl Harris of Detroit, who handles public relations, and Cindy Zeitz of Canton, Harris' assistant, were among others who enjoyed the lunch that day.

EXPLAINING HOW the box office lunches began, Denson said, "Wednesday, with the matinee, we have the most staff around. Everyone is going every which way and, of course, it's very expensive to eat in Birmingham."

The crew has cooked up some easy but interesting meals in its small space.

"A girl brought an electric skillet and we made toasted cheese sandwiches with tomato soup," Denson said.

Another day Mullen brought hot dogs with sauerkraut, chili and onions.

"I packed them in my own Tupperware," Mullen said. Denson added, "We boiled them in the crock-pot — it always stays there (on a low shelf in the office)."

Kathie Norrow, house manager, once brought in a breakfast quiche. Skip Nederlander of the Nederlander family, which operates the Birmingham among other theaters nationwide, also works the box office, and has made quiche as well as pea soup.

The Wednesday lunches started out just with box office people but grew to include everyone involved with the show — except the audience. One day, however, theatergoers who were arriving wanted to know where to buy chili — they could smell it.

CHICKEN ENCHILADAS

For 4 large chicken breasts
(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

Sauce
2 cans cream of mushroom soup
1 cup milk ½ teaspoon dill
½ teaspoon tarragon
½ teaspoon oregano
1 teaspoon garlic
1 teaspoon lemon pepper
½ teaspoon sweet basil
1 teaspoon chili con carne
½ stick butter

Heat cream of mushroom soup and milk in saucepan. Bring almost to a boil. Add dill, tarragon, oregano, garlic, lemon pepper, sweet basil, chili con carne. Lower heat and allow to simmer. Add butter, and cover.

4 large sticks celery
1 large green pepper
1 large onion
1 quart fresh mushrooms grated parmesan cheese
4 large, boneless, skinless, chicken breasts 10 tortillas
shredded cheddar cheese

Slice up celery, pepper, onion and mushrooms. Mix the sliced vegetables up well in a large bowl. Place ½ of this mixture in a large dutch oven. Pour about ½ of the sauce over the vegetables in the dutch oven. Then spread a thin layer of grated parmesan cheese over the sauce and vegetable mixture.

Prepare and wash chicken breasts. Place in dutch oven and cover with another thin layer of cheese. Add the rest of the sliced vegetables, then pour the rest of the sauce over the top. Cover and cook at 350 degrees for 2 hours.

Remove chicken from pot and break it up into small pieces when it has cooled. Place sauce and vegetable mixture on low heat, and thicken with a roux to desired texture. Place chicken pieces on large tortillas, add shredded cheddar cheese, then spread about 2 tablespoons of sauce on top. Roll up in tortilla fashion and cover with sauce. Heat in microwave.

OATMEAL CAKE

(Recipe from Joan Droelle)

1 cup oatmeal
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon cinnamon
1¼ cup boiling water
½ cup margarine
1 cup sugar
1½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Soak oatmeal in boiling water and let stand 20 minutes. Cream together margarine, brown and white sugar. Add 2 eggs. Sift flour, cinnamon, soda and salt. Add oatmeal. Mix and bake in greased 9-by-13-inch pan at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Frost.

Frost: g
1 stick margarine
¼ cup evaporated milk
1 cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup shredded coconut
1 cup broken nuts

Spread on cake just out of oven. Place under broiler until brown.

BEEF STROGANOFF

(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

1½ pounds beef tenderloin
¼ cup butter (or substitute)
1 cup sliced mushrooms
½ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic minced (or equivalent in garlic powder)
1 can (1¼ cups) cream of mushroom soup
1 cup sour cream
½ teaspoon dill
½ teaspoon sage
1 teaspoon lemon pepper
½ teaspoon tarragon
½ teaspoon oregano

Cut beef tenderloin into thin strips. Brown well in butter in a heavy skillet. Add mushrooms, onion and garlic. Cook until lightly browned.

Blend in cream of mushroom soup and sour cream. Blend well. Add dill, sage, lemon pepper, tarragon and oregano. Cover and simmer about 1½ hours, or until beef is tender. Serve over rice or egg noodles.

BLUEBERRY TORTE

(Recipe from Chuck Schroder)

4 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup water
1½ cups all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt (optional)
2 cups "fresh" blueberries

Beat eggs at medium speed for about 10 minutes or until they are lemon-colored. Gradually add sugar. Add vanilla and water (combine vanilla and water before adding). Sift in flour, baking powder and salt.

Line six 9-inch layer cake pans with wax paper (pre-cut paper sizes available in most grocery stores), then grease and flour. Divide batter into pans and sprinkle blueberries over the tops. Bake at 375 degrees for 12-15 minutes.

Filling
1 pint whipping cream
¼ cup confectioner's sugar
¼ cup Drambule (or 1 teaspoon vanilla)

Whip cream until thick, adding confectioner's sugar. Add Drambule. Spread cream between cooled layers, blueberry side up. Ice top layer or sprinkle with confectioner's sugar. Refrigerate before serving.

And be ready for about 9 "gazillion" calories per slice.

CALICO BEAN POT

(Recipe from Joan Droelle)

½ cup brown sugar

one 16-ounce can kidney beans, drained one 16-ounce can lima beans, drained
½ pound sliced bacon
½ cup chopped onion
1 pound ground beef
½ cup catsup
½ cup brown sugar
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
one 16-ounce can pork and beans

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Cut bacon slices in 1-inch pieces. Fry in a large skillet over moderate heat until crisp. Remove bacon and drain; reserve 2 tablespoons fat in skillet.

Add onion and beef to skillet; saute until onion is tender and beef is brown. Add bacon, catsup, sugar, mustard, vinegar and salt to beef mixture. Fold in pork and beans, kidney and lima beans. Turn into deep baking dish. Bake 1 hour 30 minutes. Makes 10-12 servings.

Anchovies — you either love or hate them

list Alexander Dumas. The preparation runs something like this:

"Take an olive whose pit you will replace with a slice of anchovy; next, place the olive inside a lark, the lark inside a quail, the quail inside a pheasant and the pheasant inside a turkey, and the turkey inside a suckling pig. Roast the latter for three hours over searing hot coals and throw everything out the window."
"Even the olive?"

"Glutton! Everything except the anchovy!"
Bon appetit!

ANCHOVY SUEDOISE (from Larousse Gastronomique)

1 ounce anchovy fillets
1 cup tart red apples, cubed
1 cup cooked beets, cubed oil vinegar
salt and pepper to taste

Arrange the anchovy fillets on a foundation of salad composed of apples and beets. Sprinkle with a vinaigrette comprised of the oil, vinegar, salt and pepper.

CAESAR SALAD DRESSING

3 anchovies
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon dijon-styled mustard the juice of ¼ fresh lemon dash Worcestershire
1 coddled egg
¼ cup olive oil
4 tablespoons wine-flavored vinegar

In a large wooden salad bowl, mash anchovy fillets with garlic. Stir in mustard, lemon juice, Worcestershire and mix well. Beat in coddled egg. Add vinegar and mix well. Slowly pour in olive oil, beating constantly. Store in a covered container until ready to use. Keep refrigerated.

Breakfast in bed makes day special

SIMPLE MIMOSAS

1 plastic juicer
2 soup bowls
8 oranges, halved
1 split (8-ounce) champagne

Place plastic juicer over the soup bowl. Grabbing half an orange, press firmly over juicer, turning hand left and right to squeeze out the juice. Pour juice halfway up a tall glass, top with champagne.

SAUSAGE STRATA CASSEROLE

1 oblong cake pan or casserole dish (approximately 8-by-11 inches)
Nonstick spray (Pam) or 2 tablespoons margarine
8 slices whole-grain bread or English muffins
8 eggs
1 cup milk or cream

1 pound precooked breakfast sausage, chopped
1 cup grated swiss or cheddar cheese
salt and pepper to taste
Spray or grease the casserole dish. Set aside. Tear bread or muffins into bite-sized pieces and place in the bottom of the casserole dish. Set aside. Combine eggs with milk or cream and mix well. Set aside. Crumble cooked breakfast sausage over bread in casserole. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Pour egg mixture over all in casserole slowly. Place in a 350-degree oven and bake, uncovered, for 30 minutes.

DAIRY DESSERT

Stroh's Light Frozen Dairy Dessert has been introduced in the Detroit area. It contains 100-130 calories per four-ounce serving and is 93 percent fat-free. The flavor is available at supermarkets and Stroh's Ice Cream parlors in half-gallon square packages in eight flavors — chocolate, vanilla, french vanilla, butter pecan, chocolate raspberry, heavenly hash, neapolitan, and peach almondine. Stroh's also plans to introduce a frozen yogurt line sometime this summer.

FRUIT MOOS

Dannon has a new product in the dairy case. It's Fruit Moos, an all-natural soft, fresh cheese blended with real fruit and eaten with a spoon. It is formulated especially for kids, in four flavors — strawberry, banana, raspberry and apricot — and comes in a 1.7-ounce cup. A four-pack of Fruit Moos has three times as much milk as regular yogurt and as much protein as a three-ounce steak.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

TARPON SPRINGS SALAD (GREEK)

- 1 Large head lettuce
- 3 Cups potato salad Roka leaves or watercress
- 2 Tomatoes cut into 6 wedges each
- 1 Cucumber cut lengthwise into 8 fingers
- 1 Avocado, cut into wedges
- 4 Portions of Feta cheese
- 1 Green bell pepper, cut into thin rings
- 4 Slices of cooked beets
- 4 Boiled and peeled shrimp
- 4 Anchovy fillets
- 12 Black olives
- 4 Spring onions
- 1/2 Cup white vinegar
- 1/4 Cup each olive & salad oil blended
- Oregano

Line a large bowl with outside lettuce leaves. Place 3 cups of potato salad in center. Shred remaining lettuce and make a bed around potato salad. Arrange roka leaves or watercress on top of this. Place the tomato wedges around the outer edges of the bowl. Put the cucumber fingers between the tomatoes. Now put the avocado wedges around the potato salad. Arrange Feta pieces over salad. Now add pepper rings over top. Add the spring onions at right angles to each other around the center. Place a slice of beet between each of these. Top each beet with one of the shrimp, then an anchovy on each shrimp. Add black olives over the bowl. Sprinkle with vinegar and then with the blended oil. Sprinkle the oregano over all and serve at once. Serves 4 hungry people. Serve with Italian or French bread.

CHOCOLATE SHEATH CAKE

- Sift 2 cups flour and 2 cups sugar together into large bowl. In a saucepan, put 1 stick margarine, 1/2 cup shortening (Wesson oil), 4 tablespoons cocoa and 1 cup water. Bring this mixture to a boil and pour over flour-sugar mixture. Stir well. Then add: 1/2 C. Buttermilk
- 2 Eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 Tsp. soda
- 1 Tsp. cinnamon
- 1 Tsp. vanilla

Mix well. Pour into a greased pan, either 18x11 inches or 16 1/2 x 10 1/2 inch cookie sheet. Bake 20 minutes in 400° oven. Icing: Melt together and bring to a boil, 1 stick margarine, 4 tablespoons cocoa, 6 tablespoons milk. Remove from heat and add 1 box sifted confectioners sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla and 1 cup chopped nuts. Wesson oil makes a lighter cake. Start icing when cake is put into oven. Icing and cake both must be hot to spread.

LUAU RIBS

The best and moistest ribs I've ever tasted! Serves six as a main course or 12 as an appetizer.

- 6 pounds spareribs, baby back
- 1 cup soy sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 1/4 cup sherry
- 1/4 cup pineapple juice
- 1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 2 cloves of garlic, minced
- 6 thin slices of gingerroot

If preparing as an appetizer, have the butcher saw the ribs in half and divide into 2- or 3-rib sections. If preparing as a main course, separate the whole ribs into serving size pieces.

Simmer 30 minutes in salted water to cover. Drain. Combine remaining ingredients and pour over ribs. Refrigerate for 2-3 hours. Remove ribs from marinade. Pour marinade into a small sauce pan and heat.

Grill ribs by indirect heat method: for charcoal, by indirect heat method for gas (low heat) for about 45 minutes. Baste with marinade.

This recipe came from a beautiful grandmother on the island of Molokai. Hope you enjoy them as much as we do.

Chargers beat the elements

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

Livonia Churchill coach Fred Price instructed his track athletes to score early in the Observerland Relays and have the Chargers in contention at the end.

He just never expected the end to come as soon as it did.

When snow and sleet covered the Churchill track and infield halfway through the meet Saturday night, officials decided to cancel the remaining six events, and the Chargers were crowned champions for the eighth time in the 19-year history of the relays.

In winning its first Observerland title since 1985, Churchill scored 54 points in nine of the first 10 events and had an 11-point lead over Westland John Glenn when the meet was stopped. The top five included Redford Catholic Central, defending champion Wayne Memorial and 1987 winner Plymouth Salem.

"We'll gladly take the trophy," Price said, "but we would like to have it under the full terms so it wouldn't be tainted or have an asterisk next it."

"IT'S A GOOD ending because you're ahead," he added, "but it's disappointing because there were a lot of exciting events still to come."

Despite the unusual turn of events — it was the first time the meet had been cut short by foul weather — the Chargers fully expected to be among the contenders for the duration.

Jason Belaire had Churchill's lone first place, winning the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.7 and tying the record held by Paul Bialowicz (Bishop Borgess) and Mike White (Salem).

But the Chargers scored in all of the field events and were runners-up in the discus, shot put and high jump relays, third in the pole vault and fifth in the long jump. Belaire also had the best individual high jump at 6-4.

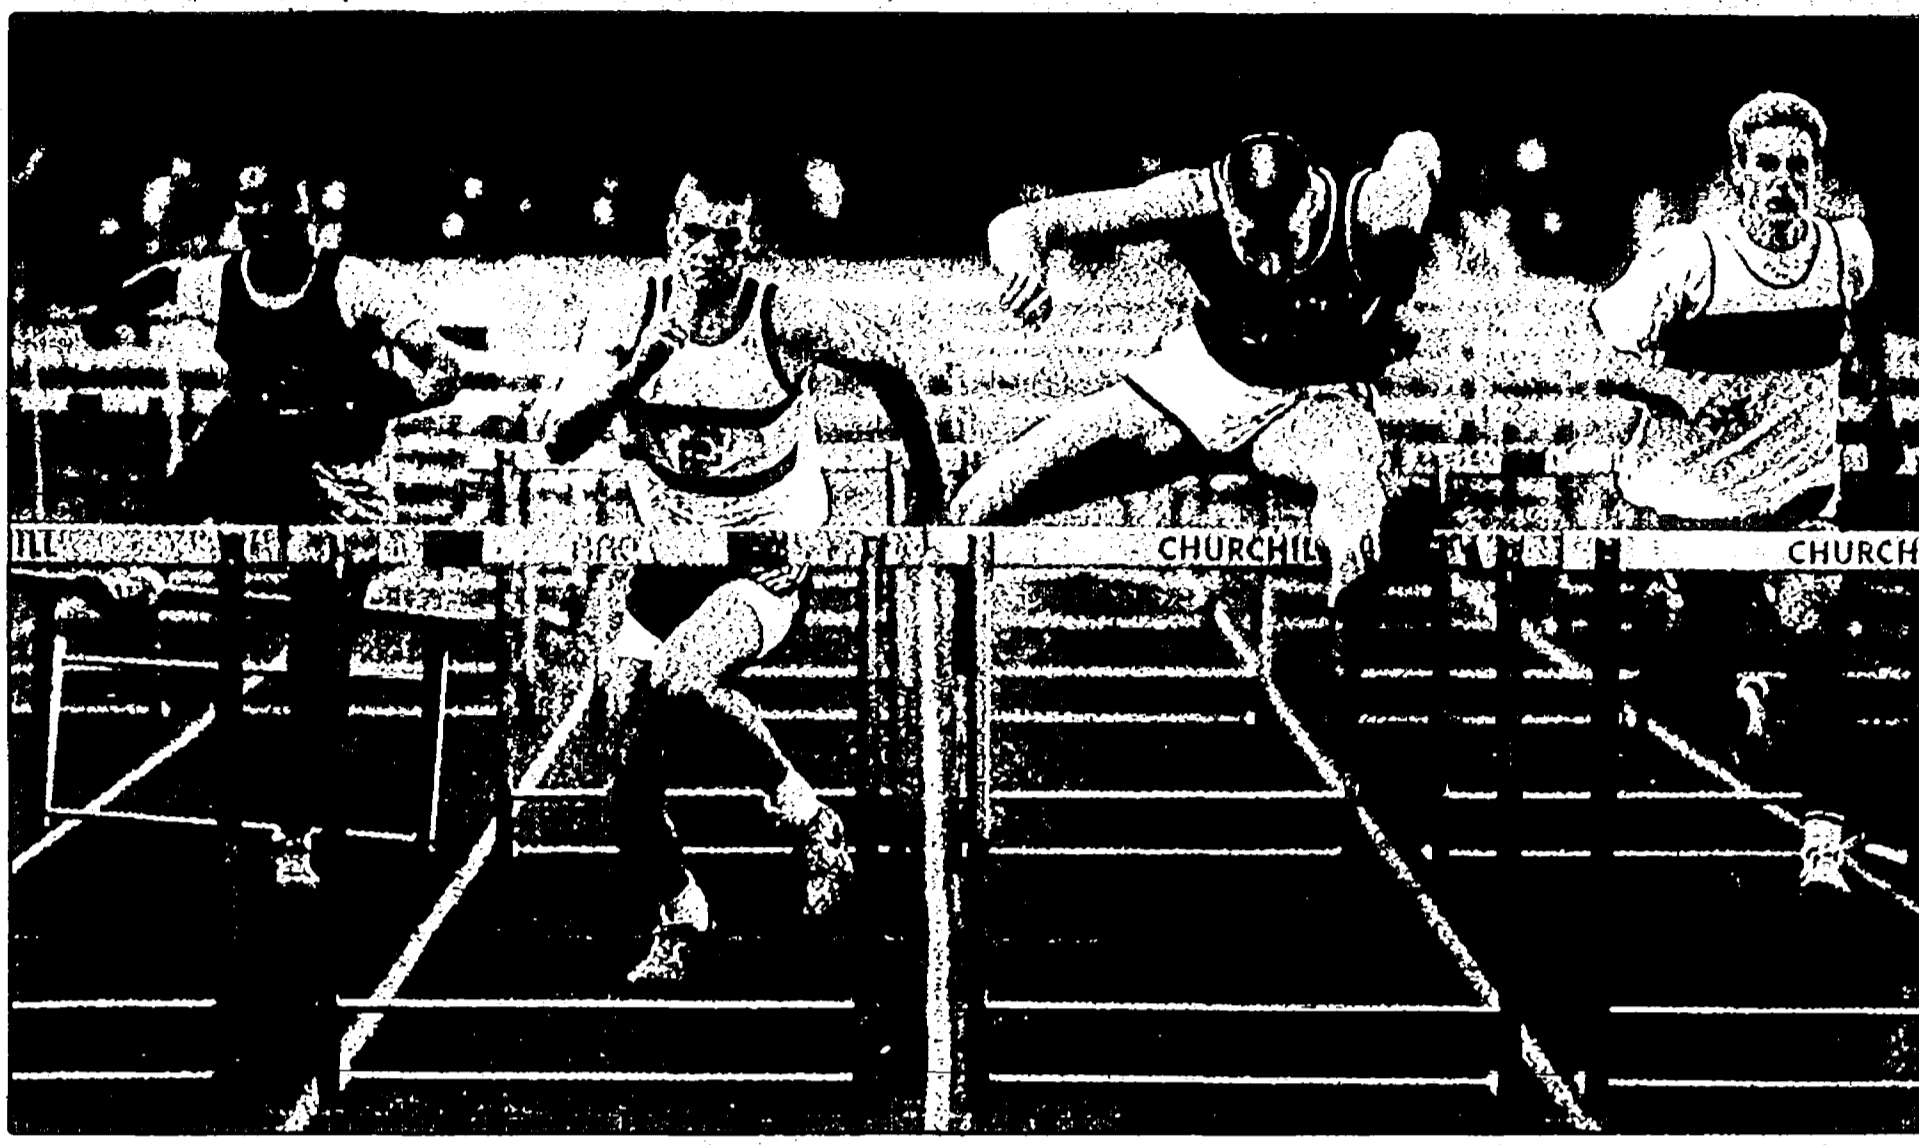

The only event Churchill didn't score in was the distance medley. The Chargers were fourth in the last two events to be contested — the 800 relay and open 1,600 in which Scott Westover placed.

"It would have been exciting to see who could have gotten hold of us," Price said, adding he thought Churchill was capable of maintaining its lead in the remaining events.

"WE FELT WE would be able to score in all but the sprint medley. A lot of those speed teams cut each other up."

"Once we got the start we did, scoring with only two pole vaulters, we said 'Hey, we're going to be in this thing,'" he added.

Churchill's points in the pole vault came from Brian Kert, who had the individual best at 11-6, and Troy

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

Jason Belaire of Livonia Churchill (second from right) tied an Observerland Relays record in winning the 110-meter high hurdles in 14.7 seconds Saturday night. Salem's Roger Parry (far right) was third. The other hurdlers are Pierre Hixon of Wayne and Jeff Sebeck of Catholic Central. Churchill was declared the meet winner when the relays were halted after 10 of the scheduled 16 events. Snow and sleet covered the track at 8:25 p.m.

Henderson. The high jump was always been a team strength, with Belaire, Mike Picha and Scott Malcolmson doing it this year.

The results of the shot put (Scott Porter, Kurt Roth and Jeff Bristow) and long jump (Mark Venuto, Trent Naumcheff and Picha) provided unexpected bonuses for Churchill.

The team's fourth places in the early running events were the work of Naumcheff, Belaire, Venuto and Chris Muzo in the 800 and Westover, Don Kulka, Chris Sepanski and Steve Townsend in the 1,600.

"Those aren't blue-ribbon things, but those are the things that add up," Price said. "That's always been a Churchill trademark, not necessarily winning but getting points. That's why this team is built on depth."

GLENN COULD only wonder about what might have been. The Rockets also fared well early in the meet, scoring in six of 10 events and winning the high jump and distance medley.

As for Glenn coach Richard Gordon, the record book might indicate co-winners for the 1989 meet — and the other isn't the Rockets.

"Mother Nature wins this one,"

Gordon said. "It's too bad it can't be rescheduled, but getting the officials and timers back is a chore in itself. A meet isn't over until the mile relay. At least we didn't get clobbered."

Glenn runner Steve Wiseley wasn't as gracious in accepting the outcome and decision not to reschedule.

"Churchill wouldn't have had a chance," he said. "They were done (when the sleet started to fall). They didn't have anything else left."

Officials decided not to continue Saturday night because of the risk it would pose for the athletes, and it was not rescheduled because of commitments by various teams to other meets on upcoming weekends.

Wiseley combined with teammates David Ryan and Greg Anderson to win the high jump, edging Churchill and CC. Anderson led the Rockets with a leap of 6-2.

ANDERSON AND Ryan also were on the winning medley relay team, which included Carl Lowe and Jim Zurawski. The Rockets and Plymouth Canton were even with one lap to go, but Ryan showed an excellent kick over the last 100 meters and won going away.

Wayne was minus some of its athletes who went to Cedar Point on another school function, but the Zebras managed to win the long jump and 800 relay.

Dureyah Tatum had the best long jump at 21-¾ and teamed with Marlon Nelson and Allen Buford to beat out Glenn for first place. Buford, Demetric Welch, Dave Rodriguez and Carlos Horne covered the 800 meters in 1:31.27.

Catholic Central's foursome of Dave Galvin, Chris Antczak, Jeff Fedewa and Mike Sheridan captured first place in the 6,400 relay, and North Farmington's Jason Kocembo won the open 1,600, which ended just as the sleet began to fall at 8:25 p.m.

Redford Union's Chris Woodbeck, Mike Bianchi and Eric Sheppard comprised the top pole vault team as each made 11 feet. Sheppard also had the best discus throw at 105-1, but Northville was the team winner in that event.

Farmington Hills Harrison was a medal winner in the shot put. Tony Shaieb led the Hawks with an individual best of 47-¾ and was supported by teammates Cres Gove and Blazo Sarcevic.

MacKenzie's seen it all at Observerland Track Relays

IN HIS 19TH YEAR as chief referee, John B. MacKenzie thought he had seen it all during his stint at the Observerland Track Relays — until Saturday night.

With a sheet of hail/snow or whatever else you like to call it, suddenly Livonia Churchill High's outdoor all-weather track wasn't so all-weather anymore.

It was only May 6, but it was time to get back out the Zamboni machine and snowblowers.

With six events to go, MacKenzie huddled the Games Committee together and decided the meet had to be called.

The coaches were in complete agreement. Conditions were too cold and too slippery.

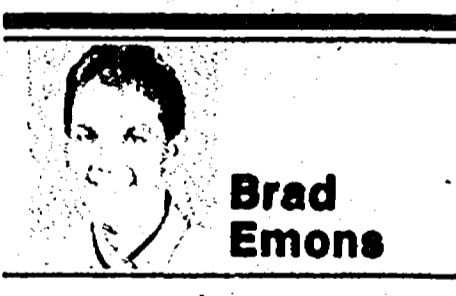

"How about that for a first?," said

MacKenzie, who helped found the meet in 1971 along with former Redford Union athletic director Howard Kraft. "I've seen meets called over the years because of thunder and lightning, but not because of a hail-storm in May."

LARRY JOINER, the veteran Churchill athletic director, said the well-being of the athletes was at stake.

"The committee said it was just too dangerous, and they just couldn't see somebody getting injured with the conference meets and regionals coming up," he said. "We were afraid somebody would get injured. And we couldn't see the lines on the track."

MacKenzie and the Games Committee obviously made a popular decision. Most of the spectators had already cleared out of the bleachers when the announcement was made over the P.A. system.

"We discussed three options," MacKenzie said. "First, we could wait and suspend it. Secondly, we could suspend it and go another day, but this meet takes a lot of volunteers, and it would have been tough getting everybody to come back."

"But the third thing is what we did, and we decided to call it in the seventh inning. We were all unanimous. And we didn't even get a complaint."

Not even a complaint from Westland John Glenn coach Richard Gordon, whose team was probably hurt the most by the cancellation.

THE ROCKETS were right on host Churchill's heels with some of their best events coming up when the meet was suspended.

But as MacKenzie said, there was only one option.

"I would have hated to see what would have happened in the shuttle hurdle relay," said the meet director.

Ironically, it was only six years ago when the meet was shifted from Redford Union's out-dated cinder surface to Churchill's more modern all-weather track.

The 1983 Observerland, like the '89 meet, was a memorable one.

That's when a steady downpour turned RU's Kraft Field into a rice paddy.

In '83, Churchill's Erik Hansen, a speedy sprinter, was clocked in 9.6 in the 100-yard dash. But the Danish exchange student later discovered that the chalked starting line had been wiped out and the blocks mistakenly moved up five yards.

"I remember that well," MacKenzie said. "And it was warm that night. The kids were running in the mud. They were like pigs in slop. The kids said it was the most fun they've ever had at a meet."

"But this meet was different. It's too bad this had to happen."

Spartans continue hot pace in WLAA

Jessamine Martin and Lisa Christensen each captured two individual events Thursday, leading Livonia Stevenson to its eighth dual meet victory of the season, a 74-55 Western Lakes Activities Association triumph over visiting Plymouth Salem.

Martin won the shot put and discus with tosses of 33 feet, 5½ inches and 115-8, respectively. Christensen added wins in the 100 and 300-meter hurdles with times of 17.1 and 49.6, respectively.

Christensen also teamed up with Jeannette Magoulick, Tina Gelmsi and Jennifer Petree to win the 800 relay in 1:52.6. In the 1,600 relay, the team of Tracy Clark, Nicole Todd, Magoulick and Christensen also took first in 4:19.3.

Other Stevenson winners included

Magoulick in the 400 run (1:04.9) and Clark in the 800 (2:32.8).

The other Stevenson first occurred in the 3,200 relay as Jennifer Knapp, Suzanne Moore, Jennifer Pfander and Clark were clocked in 10:42.9.

REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS lost a close meet Thursday to Catholic League Central Division rival Farmington Hills Mercy, 69-60. (The meet was held at Redford Thurston High.)

The outcome was not decided until the final event, the 1,600 relay, when the Marlins' foursome of Kathleen Gerick, Heather Sullivan, Megan Lombardi and anchor Lauren Hood came across the wire first.

Despite the loss, Borgess's Philana Hooper was outstanding, winning the long jump (15-2), 100 dash (12.99) and 200 (27.8). She also teamed up with Kim girls track

Sykes, Angle Kendricks and Lyshay McGowan to win the 800 relay (1:53.7).

The Spartans also added a win in the 400 relay as Florence Pugh, Pal Hines, Kim McQueen and McGowan were timed in 53.8.

Other Borgess firsts were recorded by Pugh in the 300 hurdles (61.1) and McGowan in the 800 run (2:29.3).

"It was a good meet," said Borgess coach John McGreevy, whose team is 2-2. "Mercy just had more fresh troops."

Bayer took the 100 and 300-meter hurdles for the visiting Patriots with clockings of 17.6 and 51.7, respectively. She also teamed up with Amy Lankford, Sue Bona and Christy Mulrine to win the 400 relay in 56.2.

Other individual firsts were recorded by Danielle Simon in the shot put (28-4½) and discus (84-8), Christy Mulrine, 100 dash (14.5), Jennie Harvater, 400 run (1:06.7) and Dawn Harrison, 1,600 run (6:02.2).

Lankford, Harvater, Mulrine and Tina Janeski combined for first in the 800 relay (1:58.9), while Harrison, Helene Orr, Kristin MacKay and Kelly Gustafson took the 3,200 relay (11:18.6). Franklin is 4-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Division of the WLAA.

REDFORD THURSTON received a sterling effort from Kانشasa Hughes, but it wasn't enough Thursday to defeat Tri-River League foe Dearborn Heights Crestwood, 85-30.

The visiting Eagles won five events, three by Hughes, who captured the long jump (14-7), 100-yard dash (12.8) and 200 dash (29.7).

Kristin Tunison added a win in the 880 run (2:53.2), while Carolyn McCarthy turned in a personal best of 6:09.7 to win the mile.

Thurston is 2-3 in the league, while Crestwood upped its mark to 5-0.

The Chargers won three individual events led by Charlotte Garry in the high jump (5-0), Stacey Rokicsak in the 200-meter dash (29.1) and Alyssa Belaire in the 400 dash (1:03.8).

The Chargers also won the 800 relay in 1:53.3.

Canton's Amy Van Buhler won the 100 hurdles (17.3) and 300 hurdles (49.3), while Amy Smith swept the 800 run (3:30.5) and 1,600 run (5:52.0).

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN could not stop WLAA foe Farmington on Thurston, falling 102-26.

The visiting Rockets' only winner was Blanca Smiley in the shot put (32-6). Glenn fell to 2-5 overall and 0-2 in the Lakes Division of the WLAA.

Jennifer Reed paced the victors with firsts in the long jump (14-11½), 100-meter dash (13.3) and 200 dash (27.4).

Blazers snap jinx versus Mercy, 2-1

Livonia Ladywood's girls soccer team swept a pair of victories last week.

Ladywood broke its jinx against rival Farmington Hills Mercy on Thursday, defeating the visiting Marlins, 2-1. It was the first victory for Ladywood over Mercy in four years.

Goals by Cassie Ozog and Suzie Weidenbach gave Ladywood a 2-0 lead, and they held on despite a late goal by the Marlins' Kathy McDonald. Kathryn Dudley assisted on the goal by McDonald.

Several fullbacks played stellar games for Ladywood, including Nicole Higginson, Christa Ozog, Amy Morelli, Katie Farkas and Janet Davis.

Mercy coach Henry Klimes was impressed with the Ladywood performance.

"I have to complement the way Ladywood played," said Klimes. "Once they got the lead, they dropped everybody back. We had some chances, but couldn't get the equalizer."

dywood put 14 shots on Mercy goalie Renee Larabell.

The win upped Ladywood's record to 6-5-1.

Earlier in the week on Wednesday, Ladywood defeated overmatched Fairlane Christian 7-0.

On Friday, Mercy bounced back from the loss to Ladywood to crush Redford Thurston, 10-0. Mercy outshot the Eagles 41-4.

Michelle Geyer and Dudley led the Marlins scoring outburst with three goals apiece. Anne Sculler also chipped in with two goals, while Dana Lehmkuhl, McDonald, Laurie Chapp and Susie Atchinson each added a goal.

Klimes was very pleased with the performance.

"The girls really came to play today," he said. "They (Thurston) were watching us instead of confronting us, and the girls really took advantage of that."

The win improved Mercy's record to 5-5-1.

RU's Whitman stymies Dearborn

Kevin Whitman threw a two-hitter and his Redford Union teammates unleashed an eight-hit attack Friday as the Panthers defeated host Dearborn, 5-2.

RU improved its Northwest Suburban League record to 4-1, 8-4 overall. Matt Zion suffered the loss on the mound for Dearborn, leaving after giving up all five RU runs over 5 1/2 innings of work.

Lee Tappy and Joe Delfgaw had two hits each for the winners, with Tappy driving in one run and Delfgaw collecting two RBIs.

NOVI 5-1, GARDEN CITY 4-3: Garden City gained a split of a doubleheader Friday at home, beating Novi, 3-1 in the nightcap.

Novi won the opener 5-4.

The non-conference twinbill left GC's overall mark at 4-9. Novi moved to 11-4.

Darrin Clark earned the win in Game 2, allowing only two hits, among them a solo homer in the fourth. Joe Gorak, Paul Donaldson and Joe Ziurinkas had two hits each. Dustin Adkins two-run single in the fifth scored the game-winning run.

The loss in Game No. 1 went to Garden City pitcher Nate Hines, who scattered seven hits and improved his chances by hitting a three-run homer in the fourth.

THURSTON 9, TRUMAN 5: Wayne Vester went the distance for Redford Thurston Friday, as the host Eagles recorded their fourth Tri-River League win against five losses. Thurston is 5-8 overall.

Vester pitched out of trouble the whole day, having given up seven hits and eight walks. Jim Benedict's three-run homer and a two-run shot by Dave Monry accounted for Taylor Truman's only runs.

Senior catcher Tim Wojcik had four hits in four trips, three RBIs, scored two runs and threw out a runner attempting to steal second base. Brian Heidman continued his slide hitting, collecting two safeties in four at-bats.

ST. AGATHA 12-11, ST. HEDWIG 2-1: Pat Cykowski threw a no-hitter in the second game Thursday and Redford St. Agatha bombarded Detroit St. Hedwig pitching, collecting 18 hits in the double-header sweep at Ford Field.

The win improved the second-place Aggies to 12-4 in the Catholic League's C-D Division, 12-5 overall.

Cykowski struck out nine in evening his record at 1-1 with the 11-1 win in the nightcap. Matt Haran, Rick Fowler and Wayne Herdell collected two hits apiece. Herdell drove in three runs, including a two-run double, and Haran and Fowler had an RBI each.

Haran picked up his first win of the year in the first game, scattering three hits and fanning nine in going the distance. Haran had three hits and one RBI. Tom Berry, Bob Picano and Bryan Wilson hit safely twice. Wilson led with five RBIs, while Picano drove in three and Berry had two RBIs.

The Aggies split a double-header with C-D Division-leading Waterford Lady of the Lakes Tuesday, winning the nightcap 8-6 after dropping the opener, 10-1.

Berry earned the win in Game No. 2, striking out seven and allowing seven hits over seven innings. Wilson's two-out double that cleared the bases and made the score 7-4 in the fifth was the key blow. Herdell and Matt Schlick had RBI singles.

Waterford drilled Agatha starter and loser Rick Fowler in the first game, scoring all its runs in the first two innings. Fowler had control problems, walking 10 in the first two frames.

BISHOP GALLAGHER 14-2, REDFORD CC 3-3: Leo Hutchinson threw a complete game one-hitter in Game 2 Friday to give Redford Catholic Central a split in its double-header against Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher at Capitol Park.

CC won the nightcap, 3-2, scoring the winning run in the bottom of the seventh on a throwing error by Gallagher. CC loaded the bases with walks. A squeeze bunt was unsuccessful as Gallagher forced out the CC runner at home, but the ensuing throw went over the first baseman's head, bringing Joel Mussat home with the winning tally.

Hutchinson struck out 11 batters in recording his sixth win against two defeats. Hutchinson also was a terror at the plate, scoring two runs and collecting two hits.

Keith Bozyk, the starter in Game No. 1, lasted only one inning for CC and his record fell to 4-4 with the 13-2 loss. Paul Pirronello's solo homer and double highlighted CC's five-hit attack.

NOTRE DAME 18-2, BISHOP BORGESS 5-5: Jamill Martin made a successful pitching debut Friday at Capitol Park, going the distance in Redford Bishop Borgess' 5-2 second-game win over Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Notre Dame drilled Borgess in the opener, 18-5.

The split leaves the Spartans at 3-11. Martin gave up five hits, fanned four and walked three and the Spartans recorded three double plays behind him.

Joe Brusseau's two-run double with the bases loaded highlighted a four-run fourth inning for Borgess.

Loyd D'Angelo worked six innings of the first game, walked 10 and allowed 10 hits. John Coffell drove in two runs for Borgess.

N. FARMINGTON 9, JOHN GLENN 6:

Joe Sturtz smashed a three-run homer in the third inning, and North Farmington got a solid 5 1/2 inning pitching performance by Andrew Margolick.

The upset win raised North's mark to 6-10 overall. Glenn fell to 7-2 in the Lakes Division, 11-2 overall.

Glenn's starter Bobby Lawrence exited after only 3 1/2 innings, giving up all nine of the Raiders runs.

Jack Herberholz had two doubles, two RBIs and scored twice for North. Jerry Hakala also had two hits and two RBIs and Chris White scored three runs.

Bryant Satterlee had two hits in two trips and two RBIs for Glenn and Jerry Koester also collected a pair of safeties.

STEVENSON 8, FARMINGTON 6: Doug Wasserman threw five innings of relief Friday and picked up the win after Jason Cotton hit a two-run homer in the bottom of the eighth for host Livonia Stevenson.

Cotton's round-tripper scored Mike Dallmonte, who had doubled.

Doug Wasserman started for Stevenson but left after three innings and yielding five runs, all earned.

Rob Chanko was 2-for-3 and scored twice for Stevenson. Brian Piergentile had a two-out, two-run single in the sixth for the Spartans and Scott Kosikowski's double drove in two runs in the third.

Stevenson lost 8-7 Wednesday at Westland John Glenn. Kosikowski's balk in the seventh scored the winning run and Eric Stover's three hits paced Glenn's 8-hit attack.

Rob Chanko, Dallmonte and Dan Piergentile had two hits apiece for Stevenson.

FRANKLIN 15, HARRISON 4: Joe Ransley hit consecutive two-run homers, batting in the first and second innings in Livonia Franklin's 15-4 win over host Farmington Hills Harrison.

Franklin, 3-7 in the Western Division, handed Harrison its first divisional setback of the season.

Dan Murray was the winning pitcher, limiting Harrison to seven hits in going the distance. Jason Lichtman suffered the loss.

Franklin recorded 17 hits, with three each going to Ransley, Craig Overalls, Jeff Graham and Jeff Benyo.

Overalls had four RBIs for the Patriots.

Harrison's Rob MacDonald was 2-for-4 with a two-run first-inning homer.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 16, FAIRLANE CHRISTIAN 6: John Sobczyk's three hits and five RBIs Friday helped give Lutheran Westland a convincing 16-6 win over visiting Fairlane Christian.

The game was halted after 4 1/2 innings because of the 10-run mercy.

Greg Hughes got the win for Lutheran, walking five and allowing five hits and six runs, all earned.

Hughes had two hits and four RBIs. Mike Hardies, Ken Tedford and Kevin Gearin also had two hits each.

Northwood vets halt Madonna's winning ways

A season of struggle for Madonna College's baseball team turned the corner toward success when the Fighting Crusaders won eight-consecutive games to improve to 12-11. However, their winning record was short-lived; Northwood Institute swept a double-header, 6-0 and 14-1, from them last Tuesday.

Freshman righthander Shaun Hayward was the losing pitcher in the opener, but only one of the six runs he allowed was earned. In the nightcap, Greg St. John didn't make it through the third inning. He left with the Crusaders trailing 6-0.

Pitching woes were only part of the problem in the losses; Madonna managed just six hits in the two games, four by Ernie Bowling (in five at-bats).

"The eight-straight wins had helped our confidence quite a bit," said Madonna coach Mike George. "I expected our guys to come in pumped up (against Northwood), but nothing went right for us. We had been playing good defense, and we had been pitching well, until this."

On April 29, Madonna swept Grand Rapids Baptist 4-0 and 9-2 at Livonia's Ford Field. Freshman left-hander Mike Hocking hurled a one-hitter in the opening victory, allowing only a single on the first pitch of the game. The victory improved Hocking's record to 4-1.

In the second game, freshman righthander John Regan — who had been out a month with a sore shoulder — got the pitching win to even his record at 1-1.

The Crusaders finish their season with a double-header today at Alma and a 2 p.m. twinbill Tuesday against Kalamazoo College at Ford Field.

Ladywood (8-0) scores big victory over rival

Livonia Ladywood's golf team moved its record to a perfect 8-0 with a 193-235 victory Wednesday over Catholic League rival Farmington Hills Mercy. The match was played at Idyl Wyld Golf Course.

The Blazers' Michelle Gossett took medalist honors with a 44. Teammates Prentiss Laich (48), Almee Kroll (50) and Megan Blake (51) also carded solid performances.

Mercy was led by Sue Broughton with a 50. Kristyn Schulkins (61), Renee Lossia (62), and Anne Ponczak (62) were the other high finishers for the Marlins.

On Thursday, Ladywood finished fourth in the 15-team Brighton Invitational at Oak Pointe Golf Course.

Jackson Lumen Christl (352), Saline (375), and Brighton (378) finished ahead of the Blazers (403).

Gossett again led Ladywood, shooting a 97 (18 holes). Other top scores for the Blazers were posted by Jane Bielenda (101), Sherri Adams (102), and Laich (103).

LIVONIA STEVENSON defeated Livonia Franklin, 232-249, in a match played Wednesday at Idyl Wyld.

Summer Scaggs shot a 52 to lead the Spartans. Susan Randall (57), Megan Johnson (57), and Wendy Ayres (66) were the other top Stevenson finishers.

JoAnn Hurst (57), Shelly Gale (62), Slohhan Groleau (59), and Cheryl Hintz were the top Patriot finishers.

The Spartans moved to 6-1 with the victory, while the Patriots fell to 3-3 with the loss.

Whitlow lifts Rockets; Cougars clip Edsel Ford

Ferlin Whitlow continued to show his versatility, figuring in four firsts Thursday, propelling Westland John Glenn to a 93 1/2-43 1/2 boys track victory over visiting Farmington.

Whitlow paced the Rockets, now 6-1 in dual meets, with firsts in the long jump (19 feet, 5 1/2 inches) and 300-meter hurdles (40.36). He also teamed up with Steve Wiseley, Randy Seach and Chris Gumke to win the 800-relay in 1:35.13. The Rockets' 1,600 relay squad of Whitlow, Gumke, Greg Anderson and Andrew Dobbins also took first in 3:40.5.

Wiseley added wins in the 110 hurdles (16.47) and 400 run (53.66).

Other Glenn individual firsts were recorded by Anderson, high jump, 5-8; Dan Lago, pole vault, 10-0; Dobbins, 100, 11.35; Carl Lowe, 800, 2:04.44; and David Ryan, 1,600, 4:42.33.

The foursome of Dobbins, Gumke, Jason Pizzuti and Prentice Barker took the 400 relay in 45.97, while Jim Zurawski, Jason Nowicki, Joe Zawol and Lowe won the 3,200 relay in 8:41.44.

Farmington was led by Jason Gutting, who swept the shot put (44-10 1/4) and discus (134-8 1/4).

LIVONIA CHURCHILL ran all over Plymouth Canton Thursday in another Western Lakes Activities Association meet, 93-44.

The host Chargers (4-2 overall) got a sterling effort from Trent Naumcheff, who captured the 100 and 200-meter dashes in 11.7 and 23.6, respectively.

Naumcheff also teamed up with Jason Belaire, Mark Venuto and Chris Muzo to win the 800 relay in 1:35.9.

Other double winners for the Chargers included Jeff Bristow in the shot put (42-2 1/4) and discus (145-10), and Ryan Polny in the 110 hurdles (16.0) and 300 hurdles (42.8).

Other individual winners included Belaire, high jump (6-2); Brian Kert, pole vault (10-0); and Matt Sweeney, 800 run (2:08.6).

Sweeney, Don Kulka, Jeff Martus and Jeff Grossman got things rolling for the Chargers with a win in the 3,200 relay (3:43.8). The Chargers also took the 400 relay as Andy Abela, Andy Spaccaretella, Jim Shryock and Muzo were clocked in 46.1.

GARDEN CITY ran past Northwest Suburban League foe Dearborn Edsel Ford on Thursday, 78-59, as Steve Wallace, Brad Armstrong and Brian Rosa each figured in three first place finishes for the host Cougars.

Wallace swept the high jump (5-8) and long jump (18-9 1/4), while Armstrong took the 120 and 330-yard hurdles with times of 15.7 and 40.5, respectively. The two also teamed up with John Samborski and Ray Sells to win the mile relay in 3:48.2.

Rosa added wins in the 100 and 220 dashes with times of 11.2 and 24.2, respectively. He also anchored the winning 440 relay team (46.2), which also included Scott Nutt, Bob LeClerc and Ray Sells.

Lee Richards won the pole vault for GC at 10-6, and later teamed up with Sells, Brent Yongue and Jason Black in the 880 relay (1:38.5).

Samborski also captured the 880 run (3:48.2).

LIVONIA STEVENSON captured three of four relays Thursday, but it wasn't enough to overtake host Plymouth Salem, 75-62.

Lee Richards won the pole vault for GC at 10-6, and later teamed up with Sells, Brent Yongue and Jason Black in the 880 relay (1:38.5).

Samborski also captured the 880 run (3:48.2).

Freeborn also teamed up with Scott Duval, Keith Klaska and Rod Westlake to win the 3,200 relay in 8:36.1.

The Spartans also took the 1,600 relay as Eric Wilkensen, Mark Thomas, Greg Allan and Westlake were clocked in 3:39.29. The team of Thomas, Allan, Wilkensen and Ryan Myers won the 400 in 46.01.

Salem's standout was Roger Parry, who captured the high jump (5-10), long jump (19-7 1/4), 110 hurdles (15.13) and 300 hurdles (41.27).

LIVONIA FRANKIN was shut out in all four relays Thursday, dropping its first dual meet of the season to host Northville, 86-48.

The Patriots (2-1) did have a pair of double winners in Paul White and Dave Piontek.

White captured the high jump (5-8) and 1,600-meter run (5:03.2), while Piontek swept the 110 and 300 hurdles with times of 15.8 and 43.0, respectively.

Other individual winners for the Patriots included Dennis DiLorenzo in the pole vault (12-0) and Mike Patzsch in the 400 (53.4).

Agatha's Rakowski on target

Junior pitcher Laura Rakowski was in complete command Friday, tossing a one-hitter to lead Redford St. Agatha past visiting Center Line St. Clement in a Catholic League softball encounter, 3-0.

"Laura was sharp today, this was her best outing I'd say," said Agatha coach Bob Sowden, whose team is 5-6 overall.

Rakowski, who lost twice earlier this season on one-hitters against Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes' record-setting Jill Klein, struck out 15 and walked only three against the Crusaders.

Agatha collected only three hits, but made all of them count, scoring once each in the second, third and sixth innings.

Angie Zion collected two of the three hits and knocked in a run. Teammate Nancy Rychlinski also singled in a run.

MERCY 2-1, LADYWOOD 1-1: Farmington Hills Mercy avenged a doubleheader sweep earlier in the season by bouncing Catholic League Central Division rival Livonia Ladywood twice on Friday.

The Marlins' Amy Edward outdueled Ladywood's Shannon White to pick up two wins on the mound.

In the opener, Edward tossed a two-hitter and struck out 10 and helped her own cause with a two-run homer in the fourth inning after Kerry Sayers had walked.

Ladywood got a run back in the fifth when Julie Wilson singled, stole second and scored on Krista Campeau's single.

White also pitched well despite the loss. She allowed only two hits and struck out eight.

In the nightcap, Edward gave up only four hits and fanned eight as the Marlins scored once in the first and twice in the second to account for all their scoring.

Sayers and Jenny Gondek collected the only two Mercy hits, but both produced runs as White was the hardluck loser.

Mercy is 17-10 overall and 9-7 in the Central.

THURSTON 12, TRUMAN 3: Anne Marie Moss smashed a pair of triples and two doubles Friday, leading Redford Thurston (7-3 overall) to a Tri-River League win at Taylor Truman.

Seese and Zenaida Perez combined on a two-hitter. Perez struck out seven and walked only one in three scoreless innings of work.

On Wednesday, Thurston turned back visiting Dearborn Heights Annapolis, 8-2, as Michelle Birchmeier had a big day at the plate, going 3-for-4 on a double, triple and homer for three RBI. Moss added two hits in three trips, including a homer.

Dede Dziobak, the Thurston starter, worked the first four innings to pick up the win before giving way to Perez, who did not allow a run and struck out seven over the final three innings to pick up the save.

JOHN GLENN 6, N. FARMINGTON 3: Westland John Glenn won its 10th straight Friday, cooling off visiting North Farmington (6-4) in a Western Lakes Activities Association-Lakes Division battle.

Pitcher Jenny Massey (9-2) went the route for the Rockets, scattering five hits and five walks.

North's Debbie Weltraub took the loss, allowing seven hits.

The Glenn offensive hero was Kristin Beeny, who slugged an RBI single in the first and added a bases-loaded double with two-out in the fifth.

Tracy Martin added two hits for the winners, now 11-2 overall and 6-1 in the Lakes. (Glenn will play Wednesday at unbeaten Walled Lake Central.)

On Wednesday, Glenn blasted Livonia Stevenson in five innings (mercy rule), 18-3, as Michelle Myers doubled twice and knocked in three runs. Martin and Kerry Solano each added two RBI.

Massey was the winning pitcher, scattering four hits. Diane Buszka took the loss.

FRANKLIN 6, CHURCHILL 3: In a WLA Western Division battle Friday, visiting Livonia Franklin (8-6 overall) used the four-hit pitching of Jenny Mayle to turn back city rival Churchill (1-13).

In seven innings of work, Mayle walked seven and struck out four as the Patriots improved to 7-3 overall in the WLA and 5-3 in the division.

Linda Kulesza, Emily Skura and Shannon Eberly each collected two hits for the winners. Trish Vasselou added a key two-run single with two-out in the seventh to hand Churchill starter Marilea Grom the loss.

Vicky Lucas had two hits in a losing cause.

On Wednesday, Franklin took only five innings to mercy Farmington Harrison, 12-0, as pitcher Lisa Allen tossed a no-hitter.

The Franklin senior fanned eight and walked four.

The Patriots benefitted from 18 walks. Skura and Eberly each had two RBI.

REDFORD UNION 10, DEARBORN 1: On Friday, Redford Union inched over the 500 mark for the first time this season, beating host Dearborn in a Northwest Suburban League game.

The victorious Panthers unleashed a 13-hit attack to raise their overall record to 6-5. They are 4-1 in the NSL.

Lisa Fretter paced the offensive with 3-for-4 showing at the plate. She also stole four bases as RU swiped 15 total.

Debbie Goniwichka added two hits and three RBI, while Shannon Wilcox and Becky O'Leary each collected two hits. Laurie Juehling walked five times and stole three bases.

Winning pitcher Janet Hietala tossed a three-hitter. She walked three.

STEVENSON 3, FARMINGTON 2: Pitcher Kelly Cotter threw a complete game Thursday, leading Livonia Stevenson (3-13 overall) to the WLA-Lakes Division triumph against the host Falcons (4-10).

Cotter allowed only one hit, a third-inning single to Jenny McGlinch. She struck out five and walked six, outdueling Farmington starter and loser Lisa Rockafellow.

Diane Buszka scored the game-winning run on a Farmington error in the fifth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock.

Carrie Palmisano and Kristen Maxa added a double and single in a two-run third for the Spartans.

GARDEN CITY 16-8, NOVI 4-0: On Friday, the host Cougars completed a doubleheader sweep of non-league foe Novi to run their overall season mark to 13-3.

Kim Palkowski's two-run triple capped an eight-run outburst in the opener, which was called after six innings because of the mercy rule.

GC mounted a 10-hit attack led by Stacy Fells and Colleen Owsley, each collecting two hits and two RBI. Krystal Matesic also had two hits and knocked in a run.

Winning pitcher Tracy Thompson scattered five hits over six innings. She walked four and struck out four.

In the nightcap, Falkowski belted a three-run homer in a 3-for-4 performance at the plate.

Thompson added two hits and one RBI, while Owsley also contributed a pair of hits and scored three times.

Matesic, the winning pitcher, allowed only one hit and five walks. She fanned 10 Wildcats.

Macker set for Oakland University

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Backyard basketball has never been so popular.

The acorn planted 13 years ago at Scott McNeil's home in Lowell has sprouted into a full-grown oak of a tournament. It has grown from an initial field of 18 to attract as many as 125,000 people, and those driveway roots have blossomed to support at least three full-time jobs and a combination store-office.

The Gus Macker Basketball Tournament is truly an American success story, from the simplest of beginnings, it has reached incredible, nationwide proportions. And all indications are this oak-sized spectacle could reach redwood proportions.

Metro Detroit-area basketball fans will get a closer-to-home look at the Macker this summer when Oakland University hosts one of the 18 tournaments Aug. 26-27. Bob Taylor, who convinced McNeil (alias Gus Macker, McNeil's nickname during his playing days) to allow OU to host a tournament, thinks 10,000 people could attend.

"IT REALLY is a big event," said Taylor, OU's women's basketball coach. "We're talking about 10,000 people. Some think it might be the biggest single event (OU's) ever sponsored."

The Macker success story started on McNeil's driveway in 1976. The now-legendary tale began with McNeil steadfastly refusing to give up playing, so he and 17 friends got together for a tournament, throwing a dollar each into a winner-take-all jackpot.

The tournament grew wildly from there, and got a shot of publicity when a neighbor of McNeil's appealed to the city council to stop the Macker because of the swarms of people it attracted.

Taylor, who grew up in nearby Sparta, played in one of the early tournaments and has known McNeil for years. Indeed, Taylor wanted McNeil to move the Macker to Sparta when it outgrew Lowell, but instead it settled in Belding. All three are located near Grand Rapids.

TODAY, BELDING still hosts the largest of the Macker tournaments. A horde of 3,500 teams descended upon the small town last year.

OU will become the fourth site in Michigan for the Macker. Saginaw is also hosting for the first time this year, and Port Huron will sponsor its second tournament. Last summer, Port Huron established a first-year Macker record by drawing 600 teams.

Taylor is confident that mark will be shattered at OU this summer.

"We set a limit at 800 teams because we want to make sure we do it well," said Taylor, whose major concern at present is parking. "We have to walk with it before we can run."

The Macker style is simple three-on-three, half-court basketball. The first team to reach 20 baskets wins, but a team must win by two, with a maximum of 25.

There are no overall champions at each site. Instead, there are court champions. For example, at OU Taylor plans to have 50 divisions, with 16 teams in each. Play is double-elimination; a division champion must win five games, and will play no more than six.

THAT'S AS FAR as the competition goes because of the wide range of talent among players. Another illustration of how the Macker has grown: Computers are used to rate teams. Players' size, age and playing experience will be factored to rank the 800 teams expected at OU. The total field will then be divided into the 50 separate court tournaments.

According to Taylor, McNeil wanted to put one of the larger Macker tournaments — the biggest are metro, the smaller are community — either in the Detroit area or in Flint. Taylor convinced him Rochester would be a perfect choice because of its location between the two. OU can attract from both places.

Other large metropolitan locations for Macker tournaments include Phoenix, Cincinnati, Indianapolis and Atlanta. The Macker's growth has led to nationwide sponsorship from Reebok, Gatorade and Chevrolet.

McNeil and his wife were both teachers, but they left those jobs to concentrate full-time on the Macker. So did McNeil's brother Mitch, an OU graduate. There is a Gus Macker store and office in a mall in Belding; those wishing applications to any of the 18 tournaments can call the Macker office at (616) 794-1500.

The first Macker tournament will be June 3-4 in Saginaw, so those interested in playing (cost is $50 per team) later in the summer at OU may want to enter -Saginaw as a tune-up.

GUS MACKER BASKETBALL

The Gus Macker Tournament is simple, back yard-style basketball. Some of the rules are listed below.

- The game is three-against-three, but teams must have four players;
- Games are played on 35-foot-by-35-foot half-courts;
- Games are to 20 points, with baskets inside the 19-foot arc counting as single points and those outside the arc scoring two;
- The only free throws taken are technicals;
- Games must be won by two points, with overtime not extending past 25 points;
- The tournament is double-elimination, with teams computer-ranked and divided by size, age and skill level into separate mini-tournaments. Champions will be crowned in each; there is no overall champion at each site;
- Entry fee is $50 per team, with entries available by calling the Gus Macker headquarters in Belding at (616) 794-1500;
- Oakland University will host the Gus Macker Aug. 26-27, and entries will be available at Macker headquarters in approximately two weeks. Early entry is suggested because the tournament field will be limited to 800 teams (50 divisions of 16 teams).

Anderson has Country buzzing

IT WAS A SHINY, green bowling ball marked "Isis," and Lorraine Anderson had just taken it out of the mothballs.

10-pin alley AI Harrison

She had it plugged and redrilled to fit better, but little did she realize when she stepped on the lane to try the "Isis" in league play that she would finally realize her first perfect game. Not only did Anderson bowl the first 300 game by a woman at Country Lanes, she struck in each of her first 17 frames over two games. Her scoring block was an amazing 300, 217 and 180 to total out at 697 for her series.

All of her bowling friends call her "Lori" after accomplishing this feat in the Noon Classic League on April 27. Lori has been one of the best women bowlers in this area as she keeps busy between being a homemaker in Plymouth to instructing kids and adult women bowlers at West Bloomfield Lanes. The Anderson family is a bowling family and Lori started at the age of seven in the Bantam Leagues at Farmington Lanes.

The seventh annual Michigan State YABA Tournament concluded recently in Grand Rapids. Many of the area's finest youth bowlers ventured there to compete in the singles, doubles and team events. The information is yet to be announced, so the information will come out in the next couple weeks. Early reports indicate these kids bowled real well and there should be some nice scores to report to our readers.

In the Bel-Aire senior house league, Diggers Office Supply (3,142) won the final roll-off over the first-half winner, Right Approach Pro Shop (2,923). The champs had Bob Parker with a 259 and Larry Basham finished at 256 in a 1,131 series. Parker totaled 704 and Basham 689. The pair also won the doubles with their combined total of 1,402. Other scores included: Berry Van Dike, 703; Lynn Lewis, 676; Terry Chied, 658; Daryl Rollins, 671; Bill Dietrich, 656; and Jerry Lash, 674.

At Country Lanes, Jim Hamlin had his best outing of the season in the Monday night junior house league, firing a 702 series and 276 game. Jim really should bowl well here, after all, he owns the place. In the Greenfield Mixed League, last Friday Chuck O'Rourke led the way with a 268 game and 675 set. Mike Stefani shot a 626 series; Linda Axline, 540; Gayle Prieskorn, 558; and Caroline Schaefer, 549.

Merri-Bowl in Livonia had the Lost Weekenders League come on big with Jim Dust posting a 738 series on games of 246, 258 and 234, while John Chudyk added a 712 series. In the Golden Eagles, Dave Tome registered a 781 series with games of 277, 227 and 277. Mark Rosenthal scored a 668 series and Mike Swartz fired a 701 series including a 269 game. In the LEA League, Mike Surdyk produced a 738 series on a block of 268, 225 and 245. In the Wednesday Nite senior house league, Ted Kress combined his 655 set with doubles partner Angelo Camerelli at 645 for a 1300 block and second place in the winner's circle.

At Redford Lanes, the West Side Lutheran League fired a 682 series. Thursday Flyers featured Linda Simmons with a 244 game. In the senior house league, Mike Hitchcock hammered out a 702 series, Ken Bashars, 692; John Pango, 693; Art Kapetansky, 737; George Bird, 768; Dick Shoupe, 684; and Jeff Morris, 679.

In the Battle of the Sexes league at Westland Bowl, Tina Barber reigned supreme with a 666 series including a 286 game. In the Thursday 175 and Under League, Dale Trembley was 126 pins over his average with a 284 game.

The spring leagues are now forming with a 40-team men's trio starting Thursdays, beginning May 18. There are still some openings for the Tuesday 8 p.m. mixed summer league and the 8 p.m. Wednesday Ladies League.

At Super Bowl Lanes on Ford Road in Canton, the Wayne Assembly League featured Dennis Russell rolling games of 245, 175 and 211 for a 631 series. Doug Bandy also hit 631, with 194, 234 and 203. The ladies were just smashing in the Super Stars as Sue Lewke cranked out a 691 set with games of 176, 256 and 259. Kriss Barbour scored 605; Eleanor Blazaitis, 643; and Diana Good pitched a 622 series.

Looking ahead to next fall, the Northwest Men's Classic League will be forming at Cloverlanes on Schoolcraft Road in Livonia. They will be shooting for a $20,000 first-place prize based on 24 teams, with another $5,000 added. The league engages in battle on Fridays beginning at 8:30 p.m.

Need a few extra dollars? Scorekeepers are needed at Woodland Lanes for the Champion of Champions tournament. The dates are: Tuesday, May 9; Wednesday, May 10; Thursday, May 11; Monday, May 15 and Sunday, June 4 with starting time at 7 p.m. If you can keep score accurately and are available, call Woodland Lanes at 522-4515.

Henry Miller has put together quite a streak for Wayne State's baseball team.

The sophomore righthanded pitcher from Westland (Livonia Franklin) won three-straight games entering last weekend's two double-headers with Oakland University. In that streak Miller had a span of 17 consecutive scoreless innings, including a 1-0 eight-inning shutout of Saginaw Valley State.

For the season, Miller had a 4-3 won-loss record with one save in 43 1/3 innings. He had allowed 38 hits, 31 walks and 11 earned runs, striking out 36, and had a 2.29 earned run average for the 17-21-3 Tartars.

John AbuNassar, a senior at Lake Forest College from Farmington Hills, set a single-game record for the Foresters' lacrosse team with nine goals in a 34-0 romp over Lawrence University's club team April 23. AbuNassar also scored twice in a 14-7 loss to Michigan State April 19.

Dan Michaels, a senior pitcher on Western Michigan's baseball team from Redford (Catholic Central), picked up a pair of victories in relief April 28-29 in the Broncos' 6-5 and 11-6 wins over Bowling Green in Kalamazoo. For the season, Michaels is 4-1 with a 3.00 earned run average.

Tavormina has hit .475 since becoming the starting shortstop nearly three weeks ago. For the season, he's batting .385 with five doubles, a triple and 14 runs batted in. Stefanski is tied with Tavormina for the team-lead in hitting at .385; he has six doubles, a triple and 12 RBI. Miller is 4-1 with a 3.47 ERA.

Other local notables at U-D, which had won 10-of-11 going into last weekend's four-game series with Notre Dame and led the Midwestern Collegiate Conference's Eastern Division with a 12-4 mark: Dennis Bushart, a junior second baseman from Redford (Union), .301, six doubles, a triple, a homer and 24 RBI; Lance Sullivan, a sophomore first baseman from Livonia (Churchill), .299, four doubles, a triple, a homer, 20 RBI; Doug Fitzer, a sophomore lefthander from Farmington Hills, 2-4 with a 3.77 ERA and 36 strikeouts; and Mark Coburn, a senior lefthander from Canton, 3-1 with a 4.72 ERA.

Heldi Reyst, a sophomore pitcher on Kalamazoo College's softball team from Farmington Hills (Harrison), has a 3-4 record and a 1.59 ERA — sixth best in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association — for the Hornets. Reyst has allowed just eight walks in 36 innings and hurled a no-hitter in a 5-0 triumph over MIAA foe Adrian, the first in league play since 1987.

Steve Waite, a sophomore on Eastern Michigan's baseball team from Canton, is batting .270 with three doubles, a homer and 12 RBI. Waite is a perfect five-for-five in stealing bases, and has the dubious honor of leading the Hurons in being hit by the pitch, with six. EMU was 20-20 entering last week's action.

Jeremy Krol, a freshman pitcher on Albion College's baseball team from Garden City, is sixth in the MIAA in ERA at 2.06. Krol is 2-3 overall, 1-2 in the MIAA, for the league-champion Britons.

Mary Hebert, a junior outfielder on Western Michigan's softball team from Garden City, was hitting .227 with two doubles, a triple and the team's only home run (through April 24), and 15 RBI.

Susan Pachera, the No. 1 singles player for Albion College's women's tennis team from Livonia (Churchill), compiled a 9-5 overall match record and was 2-3 in MIAA play. Pachera combined with three partners to compile a 4-0 doubles mark. Albion finished third in the MIAA championships.

Greg Haeger, a sophomore first baseman on University of Michigan's baseball team from Livonia (Redford Catholic Central), was batting .302 with a team-best 11 doubles, two homers and 25 RBI. Haeger led the Wolverines with 27 walks and was tied for the team lead in game-winning RBI with five, and he was errorless in the field. U-M led the Big Ten with a 13-4 record, and was 34-10 overall.

HOLLYWOOD'S IN TROY

Movie magic comes to Michigan

By Lynn Waldsmith
special writer

The opening of a motion picture at 20 Detroit area theaters Friday will mark one small step for the state of Michigan and one giant leap for its producer-director, Robert Dyke.

"Moontrap," a $3.5 million production, was filmed entirely in southeastern Michigan. Not only was the movie made in Michigan, but everyone involved with the production — more than 200 cast and crew members — with the exception of the three main characters and two crew members, is from the state.

"Moontrap" took three months to film and involved two large warehouses and a studio in Troy.

"This is probably the first movie shot here (in Michigan) that didn't have to be filmed here," said Dyke, founder of Magic Lantern Productions in Farmington Hills.

"In other words, a Michigan setting isn't used in the film itself. But I wanted to shoot it here because I wanted to use people who I've worked with for years and I wanted to be able to go home at night, too."

Dyke has 20 years' experience in filmmaking and video production. Magic Lantern Productions has produced more than 400 commercials, industrial shows and theatrical shorts.

The firm specializes in live action and animated commercials and is known for the high quality of its special effects work and the recreation of classic film moments in commercial spots.

IN ADDITION to extensive experience in commercials, Dyke did special effects work on the film, "Evil Dead II," and the Steven Spielberg production of "Harry and the Hendersons."

Dyke, 44, and his family live in West Bloomfield. Although he has created some educational and short films, he has always wanted to make feature films.

"As a kid, I always related to comic books," he said. "I was very attracted to science fiction."

DYKE, WHO grew up in Dearborn and graduated from Wayne State University, asked Tex Ragsdale to write the script for "Moontrap." Ragsdale works for an advertising agency in Southfield and lives with his family in Birmingham. He and Dyke have been friends since kindergarten.

"We both have always been interested in science fiction," Ragsdale said. "Some of our favorites are things from the '50s like 'Forbidden Planet.' So we began planning a story about a race of robots on the moon who would threaten humans on earth.

The lead role of Jason Grant, the hero in "Moontrap," is played by Walter Koenig, best known for his role as the Starship Enterprise's Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" series.

"Everyone's seen that footage of the astronauts walking on the moon."

"Moontrap" takes place approximately three years from now. It is about a crew of astronauts on a routine shuttle mission who, among other things, discover an ancient spaceship and the hostile robots. The science fiction thriller features scenes of the moon, a spaceship, ruins of an ancient civilization and NASA's Mission Control.

It took Ragsdale 2½ years to finish the script for "Moontrap." After finishing his first screenplay, he took on an active role in the film's production.

HE WAS responsible for getting Walter Koenig to play the lead role of Jason Grant, the film's hero. Koenig is best known for his role as the Starship Enterprise's Pavel Chekov in the "Star Trek" series.

An emphasis on realism and credibility was important to their conception of the film, Dyke said.

"We thought, 'What if something was discovered up there tomorrow? How would we as contemporary people respond to it?'" he said. "We tried to keep it realistic. I've always had a problem with sci-fi films set in faraway lands with people named Zandor."

DYKE HOPES "Moontrap" will bring Michigan more recognition as a central location for filmmaking. The state, he said, has achieved a reputation as a center for industrial and commercial production, but not feature film production.

If a film is shot in Michigan, typically, it is because a specific location, such as downtown Detroit, is needed for the film, he said.

"The biggest problem in Michigan isn't quality, it's quantity," Dyke said. "We have some very talented film people here, but not a lot of people to choose from. We also have excellent studios here, but not a lot of them."

"You hear about films that are supposed to be made in Michigan but then it never happens. But we really did it. Real movies can be made here."

The Michigan Film Office helped locate talent and obtain distribution of "Moontrap." But currently no Hollywood films are in production in the state, although the Detroit area is being considered as the location site for a new major motion picture, said Deryl Beasley, film office manager.

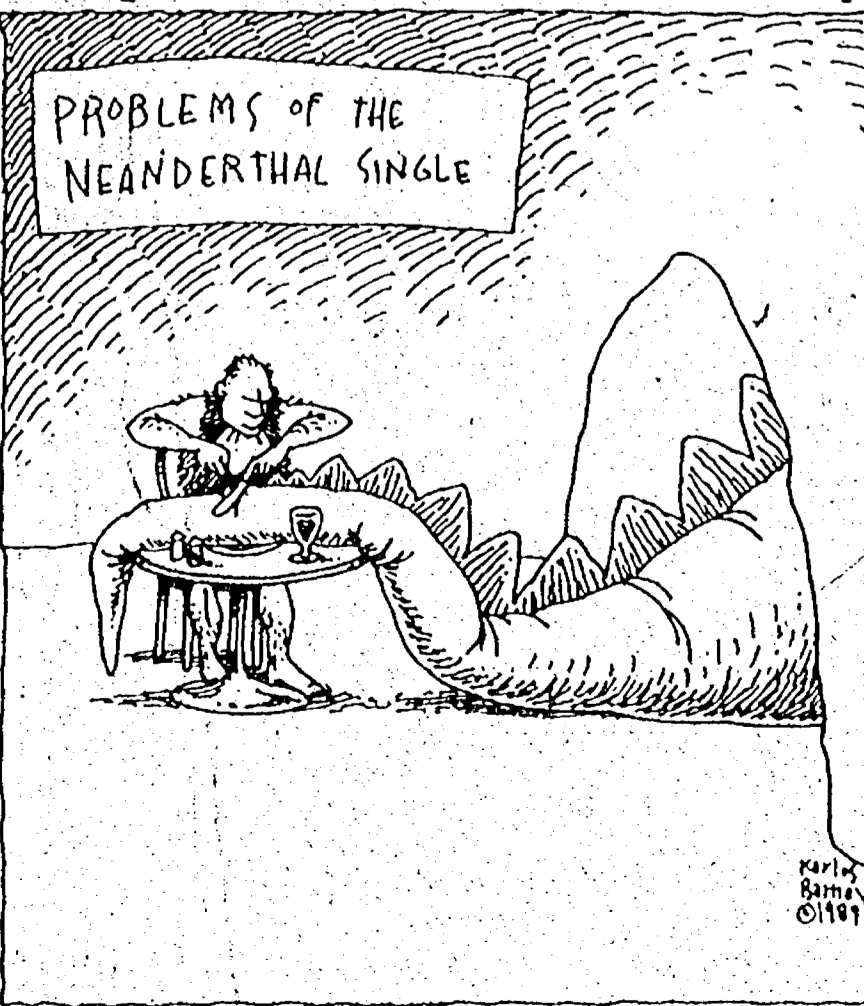

THAT'S NOT to say that the state hasn't been used for films. The Detroit area and other Michigan locations can be seen in "Midnight Run," "Action Jackson," "Tanner '88" (a film for HBO), "Beverly Hills Cop" and its sequel, "Beverly Hills Cop II," "The Rosary Murders" and "Somewhere in Time."

Sue Marx and Pamela Conn of Michigan also drew attention to the state by winning an Academy Award last year for their documentary, "Young at Heart."

"A lot of people in Hollywood like Michigan," Beasley said, "but we've been a reactive film office. We need to become a pro-active film office. We need to become more aggressive in competing for major film productions."

Discover fishing — Lakes style

By Iris Sanderson Jones
contributing travel editor

Q: Four women want to go fishing but I've never taken a charter boat out on the Great Lakes. Can you tell me what its like, what it costs and how to choose a boat? If I didn't get seasick on the ocean, I guess I won't get seasick on a lake, right?

B.H.,
Rochester

A: Great Lakes fishing is like deep sea fishing, except you don't need to travel as far to the fishing grounds and the fish fighting furiously on your line is a salmon or lake trout instead of a marlin.

What is it like? Your letter took me back to a warm summer day aboard the nine-meter charter boat Ginger Brandy Two as we motored out of the harbor and down the Manistee River, between the lighthouse and the Coast Guard station, to Lake Michigan last summer.

This great lake can be glass smooth, but it can also be rough enough to threaten deep sea freighters that come in through the St. Lawrence Seaway to the city of Chicago, out of sight across the lake.

Captain Joe Wolff won't go out if the waves are higher than four feet. Our ride was mildly rough, "just enough to make the fish active," as we entered the lake and Joe dethe first call on his marine radio. "Connie Gall, this is Ginger Brandy Two WRB9575."

"I'm into the third bank and into 105 feet of water," the radio voice replied. "We had a flurry but I've only seen one fish."

We saw a lot more fish before the morning was out, which is a miracle of sorts. Pollution from cities like Detroit and Chicago had ruined these waters for fishing when the great salmon experiment began, introducing coho and chinook salmon in 1968 and 1967 to clean up the alewives which had taken over the lake, and to introduce a new sports fishery into the area.

There weren't many charter boats then, but this year more than 300 members of the Michigan Charter Boat Association will fish for walleye and bass in Lake Erie; salmon and lake trout in lakes Huron, Superior and Michigan. You can get a list of those charter boats from the Michigan Travel Bureau.

MOVING PICTURES

Ray Kinsella (Kevin Costner), his wife Annie (Amy Madigan) and daughter Karin (Gaby Hoffman) are greeted by a youthful Jon Kinsella (Dwier Brown), Ray's father, in "Field of Dreams."

Acting brightens 'Dreams'

Promises, promises... but no delivery. Once again, "Jacknife" (B+, R, 95 minutes), the Robert DeNiro Vietnam vet story, was rescheduled at the last minute. DeNiro's acting is so good that I hope they open it this week as promised (again).

"Field of Dreams" (B+, PG, 111 minutes) features an all-star cast in a baseball story. In an Iowa corn field, Ray Kinsella (Kevin Costner) hears a voice and sees a baseball field, which he takes as a sign that he should build a baseball diamond so that Shoeless Joe Jackson (Ray Liotta) can play again. Jackson was one of the eight Chicago White Sox who were banned from the game when they threw the 1919 World Series in the infamous Black Sox Scandal.

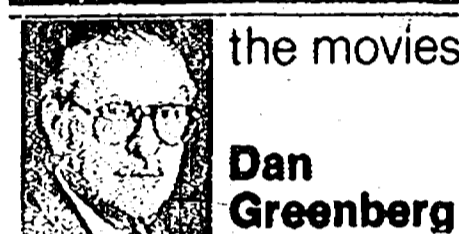

Kinsella and his wife Annie (Amy Madigan) follow his vision and encounter memorable characters along the way — Terence Mann (James Earl Jones) and "Doc" Graham (Burt Lancaster).

Writer-director Phil Alden Robinson spent seven years translating W.P. Kinsella's novel, "Shoeless Joe," to the screen and notes that "everything good about the film is from the book... It's an extraordinary vision about the power of love to make dreams come true."

Well, not quite. Excellent acting by the principals brightens this fanciful and nostalgic film. Reviewed by Verdell Waites.

Someone had the bizarre idea that peeking in on the most intimate and disturbed moments in the lives of adolescents from broken but well-to-do homes would make a great movie. Well, scenarist Michael Wellar and director Hugh Hudson were wrong and "Lost Angels" (D, R, 105 minutes) is a very unpleasant, uncomfortable experience.

Not all movies have to be happy-go-lucky affairs, but this one went too far the other way — and for no purpose other than sensationalism.

True, the photography was acceptable, the music decent, the continuity clear and the acting quite good. There were times when the volume was too low to hear what was going on and a few spots in which the action was unexplained.

Even so, the film wasn't much fun. It has a lot of strange ideas and an unbelievable Pollyanna ending.

Tim Doolan (Adam Horovitz) is from a broken home — several, in fact. His mother, Felicia Marks (Celia Weston) and his stepfather, Barton Marks (Ron Frazier), get him out of the juvenile prison, where he was placed on the recommendation of his father, Richard Doolan (Graham Beckel), and unceremoniously dump him in a juvenile psychiatric facility.

Adam has a thing for a gal from another broken home, Cheryl Anderson (Amy Locane), who is also in the psychiatric facility. Cheryl likes Adam and his half-brother Andy (Don Bloomfield), who is a real case.

It gets stranger for in the psychiatric facility, Adam finds understanding from an alcoholic psychiatrist, Dr. Charles Loftis (Donald Sutherland). Had enough? I did, but the film goes on and on. Miss it.

"Scandal" (B, R, 100 minutes) is based on the story that rocked the British government just over a quarter of a century ago, when the minister of war, John Profumo (Ian McKellen), was caught up in a scandal with several ladies of easy virtue, Christine Keeler (Joanne Whalley-Kilmer) and Mandy Rice-Davies (Bridget Fonda). The girls were proteges of Dr. Stephen Ward (John Hurt) and the scandal was intensified when it was learned that one of the girls also had a Russian lover. It may all seem old-hal these days, but in 1963 it was scandalous. The story rocked the world and cost Profumo his Cabinet position.

It was power and the taste for power that did it. Dr. Ward befriends powerful people who got him into their private clubs and invited him to their estates. In return, he provided beautiful young girls for their lavish parties.

'Chocolat': Skillful film about sensitive subject

By Anne Sharp
special writer

"Chocolat," at the Detroit Film Theatre this weekend, is an impressive debut by first-time director-screenwriter Claire Denis. She's made a film that's autobiographical, without being the least bit self-conscious — quite an achievement for a newcomer.

She's also managed, with skill, sensitivity and good taste, to tackle a subject that many experienced directors have bungled badly in the past. One only has to have a look at Alan Parker's galling embarrassment, "Mississippi Burning," to appreciate Denis' delicate, thoughtful approach to the topic of racism.

France is currently experiencing a violent upsurge of racial strife, a legacy of its former attempts to dominate Third World countries. As a white French woman raised in West Africa during the last days of French colonial occupation, Denis saw firsthand the roots of conflict between white Europeans and black Africans. "Chocolat" expresses, simply, a child's eye view of colonial misery.

We first see little France (Cecile Ducasse), the daughter of a French colonial governor in northern Cameroon, being tended by her family's African manservant Protee (Isaachi de Bankole).

AFFECTIONATELY, he tells her riddles and prepares for her a snack of bread and butter, garnished with ants, which she happily eats. He seems as contented with his lot as she is with this exotic meal. But this illusion won't last.

When we see how handsome Protee is and are introduced to France's equally fetching mother, played by Giulia Boschi, it looks as if the tired old topic of forbidden love is about to be hauled out of mothballs. It is, but in a totally unexpected way.

Denis uses the natural attraction between Protee and France's mother not for tacky romantic thrills, but to demonstrate how love, like friendship, is simply impossible when one partner is degraded and at the mercy of the other.

Although these are supposed to be France's memories, the child herself remains mostly in the background. By unobtrusively observing grownups at work and play, she comes to understand the complex and disturbing nature of the social situation surrounding her.

Bankole's performance makes this film. His Protee is an intelligent, likeable man who's clearly the equal of his employers, whether they realize it or not.

Bankole makes it clear that Protee is a good and faithful servant, not because he's a servile person, but because he's patient enough to put up with the humiliation and injustice of his situation.

BUT HIS patience is tested once too often and France watches him transformed from a cheerful father figure into an embittered stranger.

Although sympathetic to the Europeans' viewpoint, Denis is clearly on the side of the Africans. In the film's exuberant final shot, which deserves to become famous, she offers a celebratory vision of post-colonial Africans enjoying their freedom.

Wisely, however, she insists on making this France's story, not Protee's. It's up to the African writers and filmmakers, she implies, to give us his version of things.

Buck Pets shun metal label

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Needless to say, The Buck Pets' music wouldn't make it through any airport metal detectors.

There must be a lot of deaf cattle roaming around Texas. This Dallas foursome's music is loud.

Some would call it metal. Some could call it avant-garde. The Buck Pets don't care. Just call them when its show time.

"Nothing really inspired us," said Andy Thompson, lead singer of the band that will perform tonight at The Blind Pig in Ann Arbor. "We started playing in a bedroom and it just developed from there."

"As far as the metal thing goes, we really hate being tagged with that. We don't even like any metal bands."

If anything, the Buck Pets are at the forefront of a growing trend. Metal, er, hard rock sounding bands are suddenly creeping up on college radio.

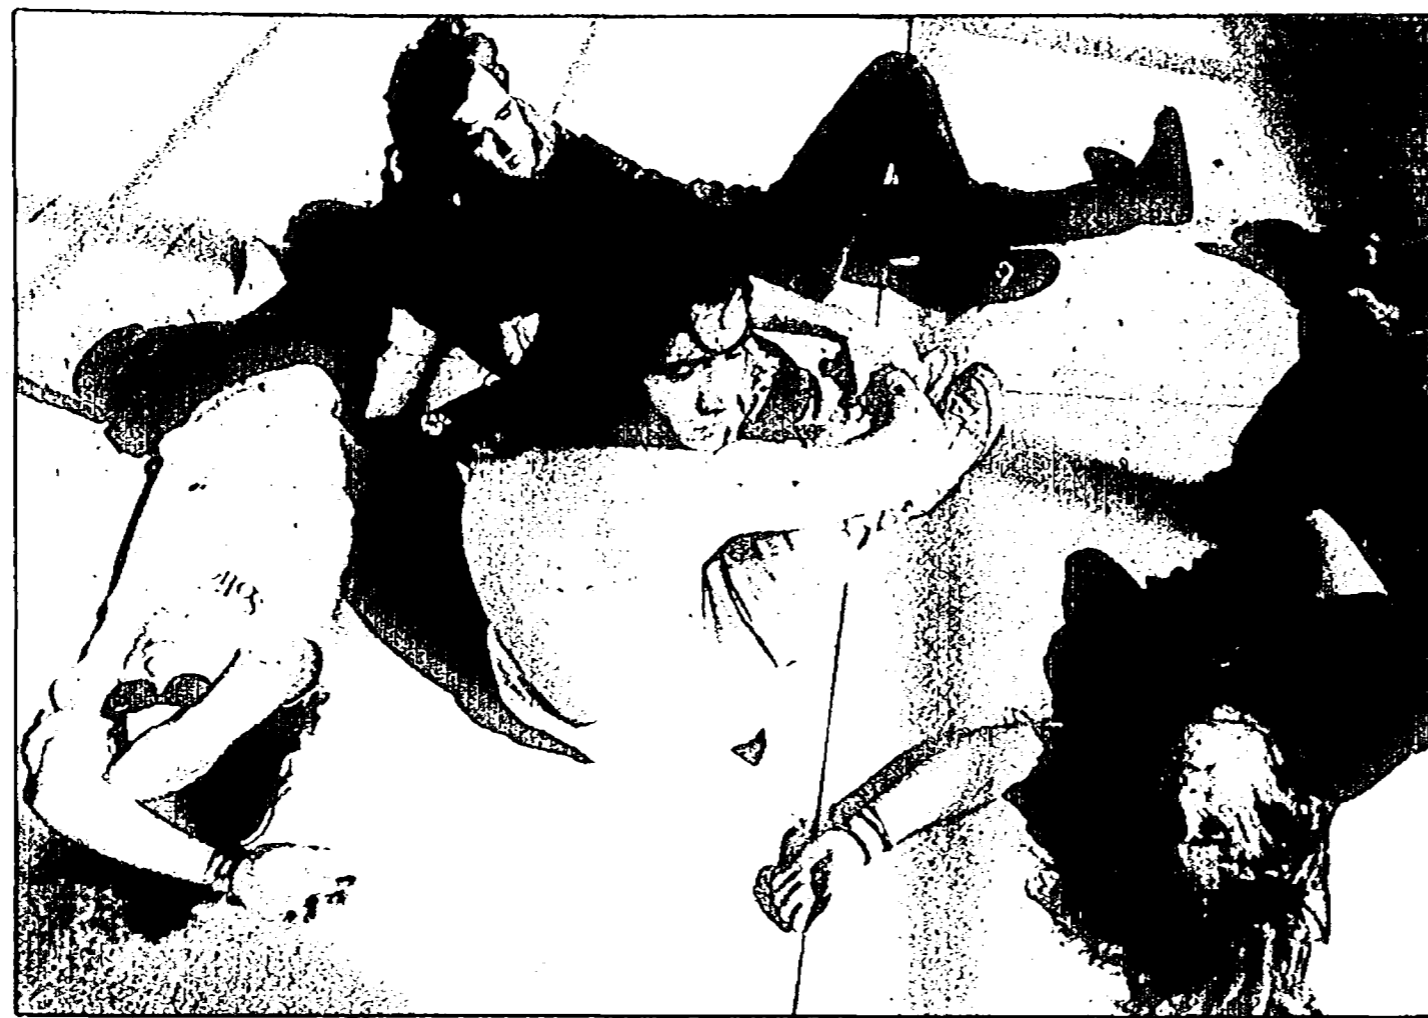

Thanks to the recent success of bands such as Jane's Addiction, and even, to an extent, Guns N' Roses, record labels are dressing up metal and marketing it as alternative music.

ANOTHER FEATURE that makes the Buck Pets a bit strange on the range is the record label they're on. Island Records, mostly known for U2 and Bob Marley, has the Dallas foursome on its roster.

The Buck Pets were on an Island compilation album of Texas bands. When other groups submitted sub-par demo tapes, the label's A&R person went with the noisier Buck Pets.

The group is one of the few from Dallas on the college circuit. The Buck Pets formed in 1985 when high school chums Tony Alba, Chris Savage and Thompson began rehearsing in a spare basement in Alba's house.

Aside from a few gigs in Dallas, the Buck Pets ventured out of the prairie and to the West Coast, Canada

The music of The Buck Pets started when they played in a bedroom and has developed into a growing trend — hard rock bands that are finding popularity on college radio.

and New York.

"The Dallas scene never really helped us," Thompson said. "The press and the local magazines would never write anything about us. If they did, it was a little blurb. We said, (the heck with) this and took it on the road."

"We would drive all the way to New York and play one show for $100. We'd end up having to hit up our parents for money. We still owe them thousands of dollars from past tours."

After catching the band's act, Island Records was willing to foot the band's bills. Jan Beach joined as the bass player and the Buck Pets were unleashed.

Ron St. Germain (whose credits include Mick Jagger, Whitney Houston and Bad Brains) went into Compass Point Studios in the Bahamas to record their debut LP, "The Buck Pets," features the slash-and-gash guitar playing of Savage along with vocal utterings of Thompson. Some of the numbers actually have a rhythmic quality to them.

IN THE aftermath, the Buck Pets toured with Jane's Addiction and have garnered their share of airplay on college radio. Thompson hopes this latest tour will give the band a much-needed shot of notoriety.

"I'm getting tired of staying two to a room," he said.

So far, audiences have been quite taken aback by the massive sound the Buck Pets possess.

"I think a lot of people don't know what to expect," Thompson said. "People will come up to us after a show and say, 'Wow, I've never heard that before.' Or we get stupid comparisons to Black Sabbath or Metallica and we say, 'Huh?'"

"We never considered ourselves an underground, avant-garde metal band. It's just rock'n'roll."

The Buck Pets perform at 10 p.m. Monday, May 8, at the Blind Pig, 208 S. First St., Ann Arbor. Tickets are $7.50 in advance. For information, call 996-8555.

Detroit's rockers 'rock' for MD

By Debbie L. Sklar
special writer

Five individuals from some of Detroit's more well-known bands gathered at Ambience Recording Studio's recently to cut a 45, "Music for MD," to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

"The idea stemmed about three months ago," said Scott Forbes, a national accounts manager for Hubert Distributors in Pontiac. The company distributes Budweiser, which is the sponsor of the project.

Forbes along with Jim Caleca, a sales manager for Tom Ryan Distributors of Flint (another Budweiser distributor), decided to combine their interests and backgrounds in music in hopes of raising funds for MDA.

"We thought we could get some local talent together and really do this thing with perfection," Caleca said. "Kind of a 'We Are the World' type of thing."

"Obviously, this isn't on the Michael Jackson/Bruce Springsteen level, but we do feel there is an awful lot of talent in the Detroit metro area that we could solicit. We believe it is a rare opportunity to produce something really special."

BILL HANSEN

"Johnny Bee" Padanek signs a drum head, with help from Scott Forbes, a Budweiser distributor, for Muscular Dystrophy poster child Ryan Young at the Ambience Recording Studio in Orchard Lake.

The five musicians involved in the project are Johnny (Johnny "Bee") Badanjek and Mark Gougeon, who are with Mitch Ryder's band; Jim McCarty, a guitarist; Tommy Cort, keyboard player with Mitch Ryder; and Ron Panghorn, a drummer and member of Was (Not Was).

MCCARTY PLAYED guitar on all Ryder's hits and performed with the late Jimi Hendrix. Badanjek is the spokesman for the project.

"I'm pretty excited about this," Badanjek said. "The song I wrote for this is one that could be about a lot of things. It has a lot of meanings, and the listener can read into it in a lot of different ways."

At 16, Badanjek was drummer for Mitch Ryder and The Detroit Wheels. With the Wheels, he hammered out one of the three greatest drum breaks in the history of rock (on "Devil With a Blue Dress"), according to Rolling Stone magazine.

After the group disbanded in 1967, he toured and recorded with Edgar Winter, Alice Cooper and Dr. John.

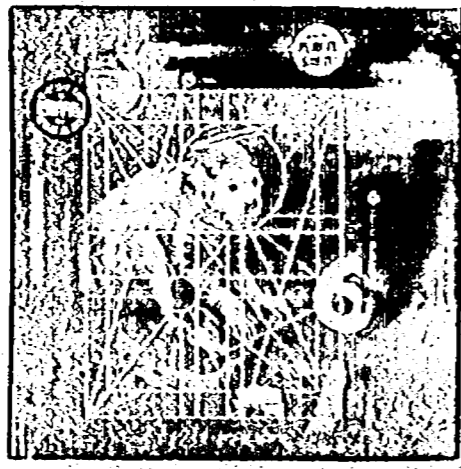

But Badanjek's prominent position in hard rock circles was not won with sticks alone. In 1972, he co-founded The Rockets as a showcase for his songwriting skills.

He served in a dual role as a drummer/lead vocalist until 1976 when he opted for a bluesier voice. His songs launched the group into national prominence, most notably with "Can't Sleep," "Turn Up the Radio," and "Takin' It Back."

Today, Badanjek's compositions are considered cool, contemporary and street-wise.

REVIEWS

DOOLITTLE — The Pixies

So here are The Pixies, the Boston-based best new thing in music. At least that's what everyone has been saying of late.

From the basils of "Doolittle" (Elektra), we can't understand what all the fuss is about.

Sure, this group has the modern post-punk sound of scraping guitars, creeping bass lines and near-comatose vocals. But when is new music no longer new?

The Pixies don't seem to be breaking ground that hasn't already been covered by The Fall or Sonic Youth for that matter.

Perhaps the whole post-modernistic distortion has become a cliché. Nonetheless, The Pixies carry on with the music press fawning all over them.

Simplicity is the essence here. Black Francis works his guitar like a snake charmer, trying to lure the listener out gradually and then going into a frenzy. Sometimes it flows, as in the number, "Fame."

Otherwise the album moves along in somewhat disjointed fashion. The songwriting here is less than stunning. Sample this line from "Mr. Grieves": "You can cry, you can mope/but you can swing from a good rope/Oh I believe in Mr. Grieves."

Or offered for your disapproval is this line from "Monkey Gone to Heaven," a sort of environmental rap: "The creature in the sky got sucked in a hole/nor there's a hole in the sky and the ground's not cold/and if the ground's not cold everything is going to burn."

While a group like The Fall can capture the imagination, The Pixies are a fuzzy picture. This album certainly does enhance that with a rather unfocused album.

THE MOTOWN SONGBOOK — Ruby Turner

Old show business adage: If you need a hit record, dip into the Motown catalog.

Turner, an R&B singer from Birmingham — the one in England, that is — does just that on her second RCA/Jive release.

Her choices are solid, if not surprising, as she gives a neo-disco treatment to such chestnuts as "Nowhere to Run," "Just My Imagination" and "Ooo Baby, Baby," among seven others.

Turner's an adequate singer, if not quite a match for Diana Ross, Martha Reeves or even such minor Motown princesses as Kim Weston and Brenda Holloway.

The songs are catchy and danceable, but then so were the originals.

What saves this album from immediate dismissal, is the presence of many original Motown stars in supporting roles. The Four Tops, Temptations, Jimmy ("What Becomes of the Broken Hearted") Ruffin and saxman Junior Walker help out here and there.

The overall effect is mixed. It's good to hear classic Motown stars update their hits for today's audiences. But it's like watching Chuck Long quarterback the Lions with Bobby Layne on the sidelines. You wish the old champ would step in and take over from the young upstart.

This isn't the last we'll hear of the Motown/UK connection. A team of Brits was recently in Detroit recording some of the label's former artists for an upcoming release.

In any event, it's an interesting cultural note. While America was digging the Beatles and other 1960s mop tops who washed up on these shores, Berry Gordy and his troops staged a counter-invasion of their own. The results, on either side, are lasting.

THE EIGHT LEGGED GROOVE MACHINE

— The Wonder Stuff

This group was touted as the one of the "new big things" by the British music press last year and now they have a release in the United States with this album on Polydor Records.

With this evidence, their reputation is well-deserved.

If you were looking for frames of reference, I would point you in the direction of the guitar power and pop sensibilities of That Petrol Emotion and the Buzzcocks.

As would only be expected after quoting those bands, musically, they are loud and brash. Their twin, aggressive guitars are ably accompanied by the scratchy, frantic vocals of Miles Hunt and Malcolm Treece. The main vocal is nasal enough to have you believing that the singer is laughing these lyrics at you, which may not be far from the truth as most of the songs display the band's subtle sense of humor.

Witness these song titles: "No, for the 13th Time," "It's Yer Money I'm After, Baby" and "Give, Give, Give, Me More, More, More."

All of which possess some lyrical gems, such as "I'd like my friends to be rich and I'll never do a stitch." Or this one, "Forget your heart, it's your bank I want to break/I'm in love with myself and nobody else."

Sensitive stuff, eh? This album also contains 14 songs, which these days is decent as things go. Apparently, the compact disc and cassette contain extra tracks in the ongoing attempt by record companies to kill releases on wax.

The Wonder Stuff may not save rock'n'roll, but at least they'll dirty the airwaves with a laugh for awhile.

STREET SENSE

Men respond to woman's 'need'

Dear Readers,

In today's column, I am printing correspondence from three readers that I received in response to a letter printed in the March 27 issue of Street Scene. The original letter and my answer were:

Dear Barbara,

I am a 30-year-old woman. I've always been considered beautiful and sometimes unapproachable. I am a talented musician. My work, not in the music field, provides a living, but it is not in an area that is creative or fulfilling.

I really want success in my career, but presently, I am more concerned about getting married and starting a family. I'm having less success with men than I am in my career. I don't want to waste time just dating around. I want to find a man who is ready to make a commitment to marriage and family. I think I would feel better about putting my career on hold if I could find happiness in a relationship.

My past relationships seem to burn hot and intense, only to fizzle out in a few months or a year. My last serious boyfriend moved in with another woman shortly after we broke up. I wanted to marry him; he didn't want to marry me. He said he wasn't ready for a commitment. I guess he was letting me down easy because he soon found another woman and he's going to marry her.

When I enter a relationship that I think could be permanent, I get wrapped up in it heart and soul. I want to be with him all the time. I want to be an integral part of his life. Men don't seem to feel the same way. I do about the relationship and I get hurt.

What can I do about finding a man who wants the same kind of relationship I want?

Needing a Man.

Dear Needing a Man,

Often it is a woman most in need of a man who is least successful in finding one. Your pride in your beauty and your talent leads me to assume that not just any man would do. I respect that you would be discriminating in choosing a partner. However, if strength and independence are important in the man you are seeking, you are in trouble. Strong, independent men admire women who are like them, not women who are needy and clinging. Men feel smothered if they feel they are responsible for a woman's happiness. They will run from such a situation — not to it.

Barbara

Although this letter was from one woman, lots of women have the problem she has. I am printing today's responses from readers to give these women a perspective on men that they might not have had otherwise.

I thank all three men for sending their ideas and feelings and thereby helping women understand men better.

Dear Barbara,

I'm writing to you in response to the letter written to you from "Needing a Man," printed in Monday 3/27/89 Westland Observer, and would like to ask you if you could forward my address along with this letter to this lady, if at all possible, as I would like somehow to meet her, if she would be at all interested.

It sounds to me like this lady has a lot to offer and is full of love and is well deserving of the same love and happiness. One can never give enough love; it's just that some people sometimes just don't realize how good they've had it when they're with someone who offers so much of themselves and don't know how to give it back in return.

In reading her letter, I see that we might already have some things in common, as being able to relate where she is coming from. I myself am also a 29-year-old talented musician (drummer of 18 years) who also works days and am planning on possibly starting own business and/or schooling.

I myself, like her, really don't want to date around, wasting time with all the wrong type of women, as I am looking for a serious lady who has a lot to offer and who would like the same in return, as I have. I feel a lot to offer to the right person as I'm considered attractive, a warm, down-to-earth, caring, loving and understanding, patient person.

I am looking to begin a good friendship and to have a one-on-one relationship leading to eventual marriage and starting a family.

I just thought by the sound of her letter, if the chance would be there for us to have an opportunity to meet, we might both find a real, true happiness.

I just thought I'd give this a try, or if nothing else, thanks for your time reading this letter.

I, too, was involved in a relationship of four years I thought was going to end up in marriage, but in my case, she really enjoys smoking weed and living that type of lifestyle and had moved in with a guy she had been dating the last four months of our relationship. I am one who really enjoys life, but am not interested in drugs of any kind, so our break-up was, in fact, for the best — at least for me.

Sincerely,
Jim

Dear Barbara,

I wrote a letter to you, it was printed in the paper, and I found your advice helpful.

Now, I would like to return the favor. I read your column last week and was very touched by the lady who wrote the letter ending in "Needing a Man." I have some thoughts that I feel might be beneficial to her. Would you forward the letter I've enclosed to her?

I really would appreciate it. I think you are doing a good job with this column.

Thanks,
Tom

Dear Barbara,

While reading the Observer one Tuesday evening I came across your column and this particular letter signed "Needing a Man."

I couldn't help but identify with what this 30-year-old woman was saying — but from the male perspective. I felt that since I too would like to settle down and start a family, perhaps there may be a way for "Needing a Man" and myself, "NEED A WOMAN," could get together. Therefore, I am writing to you.

If possible, I would greatly appreciate it if you could forward the enclosed profile along with my name and address to her. I understand that you're probably not in the dating service business, but I don't know how else to meet a woman.

Last year I bought a real nice ranch house. I have a wonderful job in the computer industry and I make close to $50,000 a year, and please believe me, I'm not afraid of a commitment and I do want to settle down and start a family. Unfortunately — like her — most women I meet are afraid of getting married because of whatever reason.

Could you please help bring us together?

Thank you kindly for your assistance and may the good Lord bless you always and everywhere.

Michael

I am not a dating service and I don't forward letters. But there are professional dating services that have you write statements about yourself and then match you up with someone compatible.

Recently, a woman in therapy for depression made progress in her growth and development. This led her to pay $1,500 to a dating service to help her meet a man.

While such establishments can be found in the Yellow Pages, it is usually better to get referrals from satisfied customers. In any case, the credentials and resources should be carefully checked. Perhaps even the Better Business Bureau should be contacted for references.

If dating services work or don't is something I would enjoy hearing comments on from readers.

WITH THAT bit of business out of the way, I have many questions about the difficulties other men and women are having pairing up.

All three of these men show themselves so well in their letters that I cannot understand why they need help finding women. Is it that they can't do face-to-face what they can do in a letter? It would seem they would not have trouble meeting women like the one in "Needing a Man" through their social and work experiences or through dating services.

Further, the letters I have received indicate a pattern in the reading public of this column — that is of men and women who would fit hand-in-glove in their willingness to have giving and getting love as the most desired force in their marriage.

However, as I have already said, the people who believe this appear not to have been able to find each other. It causes one to wonder why they go after members of the opposite sex who don't want such intense intimacy and love. If they know what they want, why not find someone with whom there can be mutual gratification instead of choosing someone who will reject them? After all, we know their counterparts are out there.

"Gentle Reader," can you help me better understand this?

Barbara

mistress, she loved Dr. Ward and ultimately caused his downfall and suicide.

"Scandal" is a surprising look inside a government and a country most people think of as solid and very proper. It's well-written script and strong performances are entertaining and demonstrate that today's scandals are neither new nor unusual. They're just faults and weaknesses of people with power in a different time and place. Reviewed by Kathy Guyor.

What happens when you take three young students from very different backgrounds and have them meet in a West Coast college where debate is the major occupation? The beautiful photographed movie, "Listen to Me" (PG-13, B-, 107 minutes), reverberating with bright and vivid colors, is the result.

Garson McKellar (Tim Quill) is a talented debater who would rather be writing poems and plays. His father (Anthony Zerbe), a senator, has plans for his son to follow in the family's tradition of politics.

Garson's roommate Tucker Muldowney (Kirk Cameron) is an ambitious Oklahoma chicken farmer's son who got to Kenmont College on a scholarship. With aspirations of becoming president some day, he strives to succeed at debate and earn recognition.

But that's not all he's looking for. The object of Tucker's affection is Monica Tomansaki (Jamie Gertz) who, like Tucker, is red hot to debate, but not eager for a romantic interlude due to a dark secret from her past.

Charlie Nichols (Roy Schieder) is a professor and coach of the debate team. After witnessing a tragedy befall the school, he encourages Tucker and Muldowney to compete against Harvard in Washington before the Supreme Court for the national debate title.

Lines are predictable in several instances, there is some dippy sentimentality, and Tim Quill often appears to auditioning for a toothpaste commercial.

However, after the rash of teenage and young adult movies dealing with drugs, sex and violence, it's encouraging to see one about kids choosing college and carving out careers for themselves. This is not to say students don't have problems, but at least in this movie they're concerned with becoming productive members of society.

In other words, "Listen to Me" is a cut above the usual youth film.

"Edge of Sanity" (R) is an Anthony Perkins vehicle about a man caught between nightmare and sanity. He's probably running on three cylinders in this one.

VIDEO VIEWING

Warning! Now hear this video alert!

Since this column began in January, lots of video cassette movies have been analyzed, discussed and praised.

It's time now for a video alert: Warning, many tapes awaiting purchase or rental are hazardous to your sensibilities, your viewing pleasure, even your sanity. Often alluring tape boxes and attractive advertising for old films with now well-known stars make it hard to tell the good from the bad.

Beware as well of prestige. Don't believe quality and viewing pleasure are automatic because a tape has an incredible roster of internationally renowned musicians. Be wary also of the tons of marginal stuff produced for cable or VCR only.

Top those off with the insatiable market for revulsion — the horror genre is dead and well — and, volla, tons of unpleasant tape awaits your viewing displeasure. And we haven't even gotten into the "adults only" section.

Further compounding the problem, there are so many tapes to sort through — 54,000 listed in the 1989 "Video Source Book" — and hundreds of new ones appearing each week.

The ease of use, our extensive leisure time and great capacity for consumption, and the fact that about two-thirds of U.S. households now have one or more VCRs adds up to a huge market. Product consumption (and profits) are so great that the search for new programs is intense.

IT'S NOT without good reason that Ted Turner mortgaged his future, spending $1.5 billion to get his hands on MGM's 3,300 plus film library. Pre-sale of ancillary rights — overseas distribution, television and in particular, cassette rights — often is the avenue producers take to fund motion picture production costs.

With such big dollars at stake, merchandising is the name of the game. But betwixt the PR raves and the actual program, there's often a slip or two. Not every star-studded vehicle is Oscar bound. Not by a longshot is "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" (very C; 1969, 98 minutes, PG) with Katharine Ross, Robert Blake and Robert Redford.

Sounds good, but actually it's a pretty weak western. No amount of make-up — particularly poorly applied — will convince viewers that Katharine Ross (or the actor who plays her father) is an Indian.

"Willie Boy" is supposed to be an adult western (what a stupid phrase) sensitively discussing prejudice against native Americans. With Ross looking like a black-faced preppy who lost her minstrel show on the Vassar lawn and Redford so laconic it's a wonder he didn't fall asleep in the saddle instead of the Indian agent's bed.

Well, under such circumstances it's hard to care — or believe — what happens to Robert Blake as the hero, but doomed Indian.

"Point Blank" (1967, D, 90 minutes, PG-13 by today's standards) is another, even worse example. Lee Marvin is double-crossed by his partner in crime who makes off with the loot — and with Lee's wife.

FOR A while this one seemed like an interesting, star-studded, surrealistic gangster film, what with Keenan Wynn, Carroll O'Connor and Angie Dickinson all figuring heavily in the action. It turns out it wasn't surrealism, it was bad filmmaking.

In both cases, reading the tape cases sure was exciting. After all, what could be better entertainment than a good gangster movie followed by a rollicking western? Nothing! But not with these two.

Then there are prestigious stars of the musical world. At the risk of offending Pavarotti fans — myself included — his "Distant Harmony: Pavarotti in China" was an 85-minute disappointment, (B, G rated). Unlike the sparkling Isaac Stern documentary, "From Mao to Mozart," this one concentrates too much on the great man himself to the detriment of the music and its human dimension. There's too much preparation and not enough performance.

Still and all, it's a marvel to hear him sing.

The same goes for the highly touted, but bizarre and disappointing "Aria" (C, R, 90 minutes, 1988) which received great press last year in its theatrical distribution. With music by Eric Korngold, Verdi, Puccini and Wagner, major orchestras from around the world, soloists such as Leontyne Price and Enrico Caruso, to say nothing of filmmaking by Nicholas Roeg, Jean-Luc Godard, Ken Russell and Robert Altman, well, it has to be good. One would think so, but not the case here.

All that talent — and there is a lot more — ought to have produced a better film. Some of the short sequences are properly evocative with sound and picture integrated into vibrant, emotional images.

ROEG'S sequence with Theresa Russell as King Zog of Albania was one, but for the most part I think opera fans will be annoyed at the images fitted to their favorite selections and film buffs — other than the ardent devotees of avant-garde — will wonder what's going on.

The list of unreleased films now appearing in cassette, because the market's there, and horror films are major collections deserving of a separate discussion. Watch for the next video alert.

He earns name hard way

A case could be made that "Downtown" Tony Brown is the hardest working comic in Detroit today. There's no doubt that he's logged a lot of miles since 1983 to get where he is today.

That's how he got his nickname. "When I started at Bea's Comedy Kitchen (where he is the house emcee and opening act), there was a lot of bad talk about the place among comedians," Brown said. "The place was pretty empty, so I welcomed the challenge of making it a viable comedy club."

"I did a lot of leg work. I used to walk the streets with flyers."

Brown would walk all over downtown Detroit, starting at 4 p.m. His route would start at Bea's and take in Hart Plaza, Woodward Avenue all the way to the Fox Theater and Greektown.

"On the days we had shows, I'd beg people to come and see the show... literally," Brown said. "I would do this until quarter to nine, then take off running to Bea's to start the show at nine."

Detroit comic luminary Mike Binder, now living in Los Angeles, noticed how much "leg work" Brown was doing and dubbed him "Downtown" Tony Brown.

Now, all the work has paid off for Brown — and for Bea's Comedy Kitchen. Bea Evans and her nephew Steve own and run the place. But Brown's combination of salesmanship, comedic talent and outright stamina has helped put the downtown club on the map.

"WHEN I first started there, we only seated 125 at the most, and it was only $3 to get in," Broen said. "I used to guarantee Steve that some day the show would be so good they could charge $10. Now, it costs $10."

Brown also prophetic about seating. He told Steve they would probably have to knock a wall down to accommodate the crowd.

"Steve thought I was hilarious," Brown said. "We seat 300 and we knocked the wall down."

Brown doesn't pull punches. He's proud of what he's accomplished and wants Detroit to know it.

"I think I've done more work than Steve and Bea put together," he said. "They know it's true. To tell you the truth, I should own the club. I've paid my dues." (Brown doesn't own the club but does have a small share of it.)

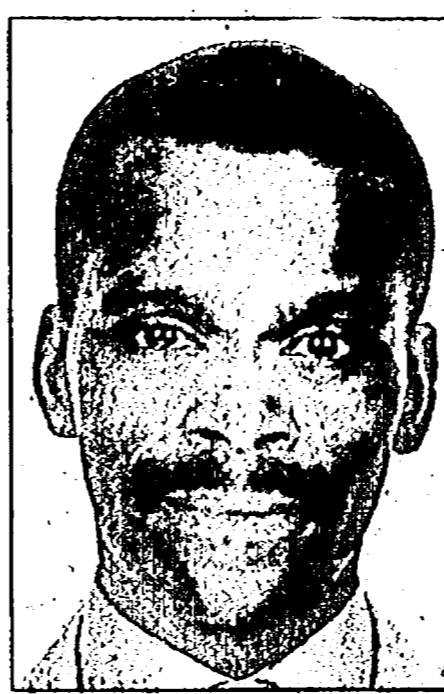

Brown, a native of Highland Park, still makes his home there. He raises his two sons, ages 14 and 12, and says he's able to feed them everyday and clothe them properly with the money he makes from comedy.

A 1973 Highland Park High School graduate, Brown went on to get a degree in accounting at Oakland University — but didn't use it.

"I never had an accounting job," he said. "Comedy is my calling."

Brown turned to comedy in 1983 and credits Mark Ridley with giving him his first opportunity to get up on stage. It wasn't long after that he began his long relationship with Bea's.

In one beat, Paul Winter became one with nature.

When he was 13, the diverse and talented musician took a drum into the hills of Pennsylvania. The sound Winter heard echoing through the trees was something he couldn't forget.

Winter's music has since included the voices of a whale, a fox and an eagle. Today, he's involved in trying to preserve those sounds. The soprano saxophonist is a dedicated environmentalist, who also performs benefits for groups such as Greenpeace, Sierra Club and numerous ecological causes.

His music speaks the loudest. "Music is the common denominator," said Phil Moore of the Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center in Oxford. "It's a language that we all see."

The Paul Winter Consort will perform on Friday, May 12, at Orchestra Hall in Detroit in a benefit for the Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center, East Michigan Environmental Action Council and the Sierra Club of Southeast Michigan. Organizers hope to raise between $8,000 to $10,000.

But more than money, though, Winter's music raises people's awareness of the environment.

"I THINK it has done that for some people," Winter said. "What it does, hopefully, is let people appreciate the beauty of the earth more than being a statement of protest."

"(The issue of the environment) makes you realize how endangered some life forms are. It wakes you up and shakes you out of your ivory tower."

As a musician, Winter is in a tower of his own. He has recorded 25 albums and has worked with the likes of Beatles' producer George Martin.

Astronauts on Apollo 15 took his music aboard with them to the moon and even named two craters after compositions from one of his albums.

One of Winter's most well-known albums, "Canyon," was recorded over a period of years in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and on rafting trips down the Grand Canyon.

"We had one raft flip with our cellist on it," Winter said. "Fortunately, he was all right."

"Canyon" did better than all right, reaching No. 4 on Billboard's jazz charts and receiving a Grammy nomination in 1987. A film documentary, "Canyon Consort," was released following the album.

For the album "Whales Alive," 10 of the 11 pieces on the album were compiled from recordings of whales by Dr. Roger Payne of the Long Term Research Institute. Royalties from album sales were donated to the World Wildlife Fund.

WINTER'S LATEST project has involved several trips to the Soviet Union where he's working on a series of albums, "A Song of Russia." Of particular interest to Winter is Lake Balkal, the deepest lake in the USSR.

"It's very, very beautiful," he said. "It's very much like our Grand Canyon in many ways."

"Friends of the Environment" present the Paul Winter Consort at 8 p.m. Friday, May 12, at Orchestra Hall in Detroit. Tickets are $18 and $15. Proceeds will benefit Upland Hills Ecological Awareness Center, Sierra Club of Southeast Michigan and East Michigan Environmental Action Council. For ticket information, call 833-3700 or 645-6666.

Lakes fishing has thrills of deep sea

IT TOOK the Ginger Brandy Two half an hour to get beyond the first, second and third banks to The Shelf, where we joined the rest of the "fleet" near the Three Bears.

Joe's wife Ann, a school teacher and "first mate by land and sea," took the wheel while Joe organized and hooked up seven fishing poles in shiny chrome holders at the back of the boat.

Ann can hook, haul, swab and do everything Joe can do, but for the moment her job is to keep the boat on course.

"I like fisherwomen even better than fishermen because they pay attention, they aren't macho and they don't pretend to know everything," Joe said.

The first fish struck while Joe was still putting the lines out.

"Who's going to take it," he yelled, and there I was with a huge rod jammed into my stomach and a fish fighting furiously to go in the opposite direction. It turned out to be an 18-pound coho salmon, the biggest of the six salmon we caught that morning.

It took me 20 minutes to haul him in, although the struggle got more desperate as I replayed it that evening around the Fish Boli. Most of the charter boats had come in by then and were knocking gently against the dock of the nearby Solberg Marina in the small Michigan city of Manistee.

The charter boat captains and their wives were gathered around picnic tables, near their summer caravans, to savor the dinner — salmon, carrots, onions and potatoes layered and steamed in a huge pot over an open fire. It was served with corn-on-the-cob, salad and cold beer.

WE WERE lucky to be there, because a fish boli is usually a private affair, an evening meal that boat crews and their wives sometimes cook for themselves after the fish have been cleaned and the work is done for the day.

Most of the charter captains had town jobs, and fished for fun, before they decided to make fishing their business; many still hold down other jobs and charter only on weekends and holidays.

When do you go and how do you choose a charter? The season runs from April through November.

Michigan City, Ind., at the south end of Lake Michigan an hour's drive from Chicago, has one of the largest charter fishing fleets on the lake. You can fish from there for coho salmon March through May, for chinook May through July. By mid-June, a hybrid steelhead trout, called Skamania, starts running.

The coho and chinook go north as the water warms with summer. August and September is high season, when you catch the largest salmon and lake trout around Grand Traverse Bay. Things get active again all along the lake in late October and November when the salmon move towards their spawning grounds.

A charter boat costs about $60 per person for half a day, with a four-person minimum. Pick the morning and go early.

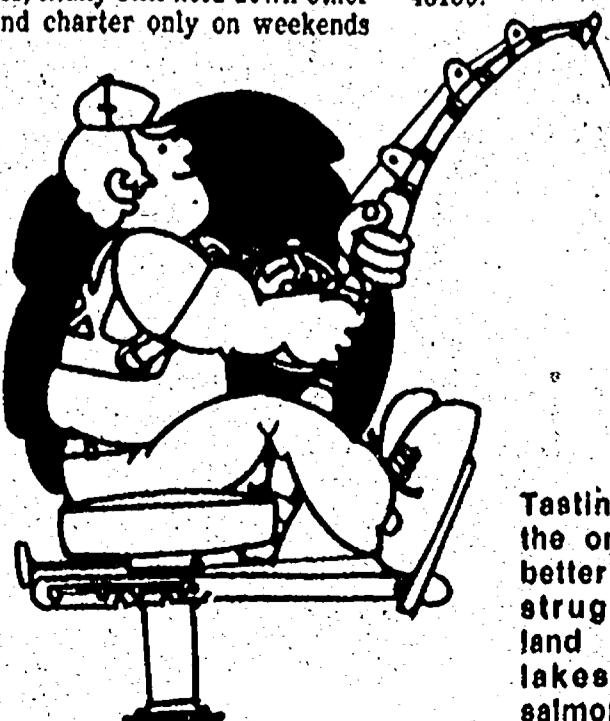

Charters are available all up and down the Lake Michigan shoreline. If you are based in Traverse City, you are less likely to be held back by bad weather; Grand Traverse Bay is like a big 200-square-mile lake.

CONTACT THE Fisheries Division of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources, P.O. Box 30028, Lansing, Mich. 48909, for detailed information, including fishing tips and license fees. A daily fishing license costs less than $6.

The Michigan Travel Bureau, Michigan Department of Commerce, Lansing, Michigan 48909, will send you state tourism booklets listing fishing and specialty charters, which includes boat size, passenger levels etc. Don't be afraid to ask how long they've been licensed and how much experience they've had.

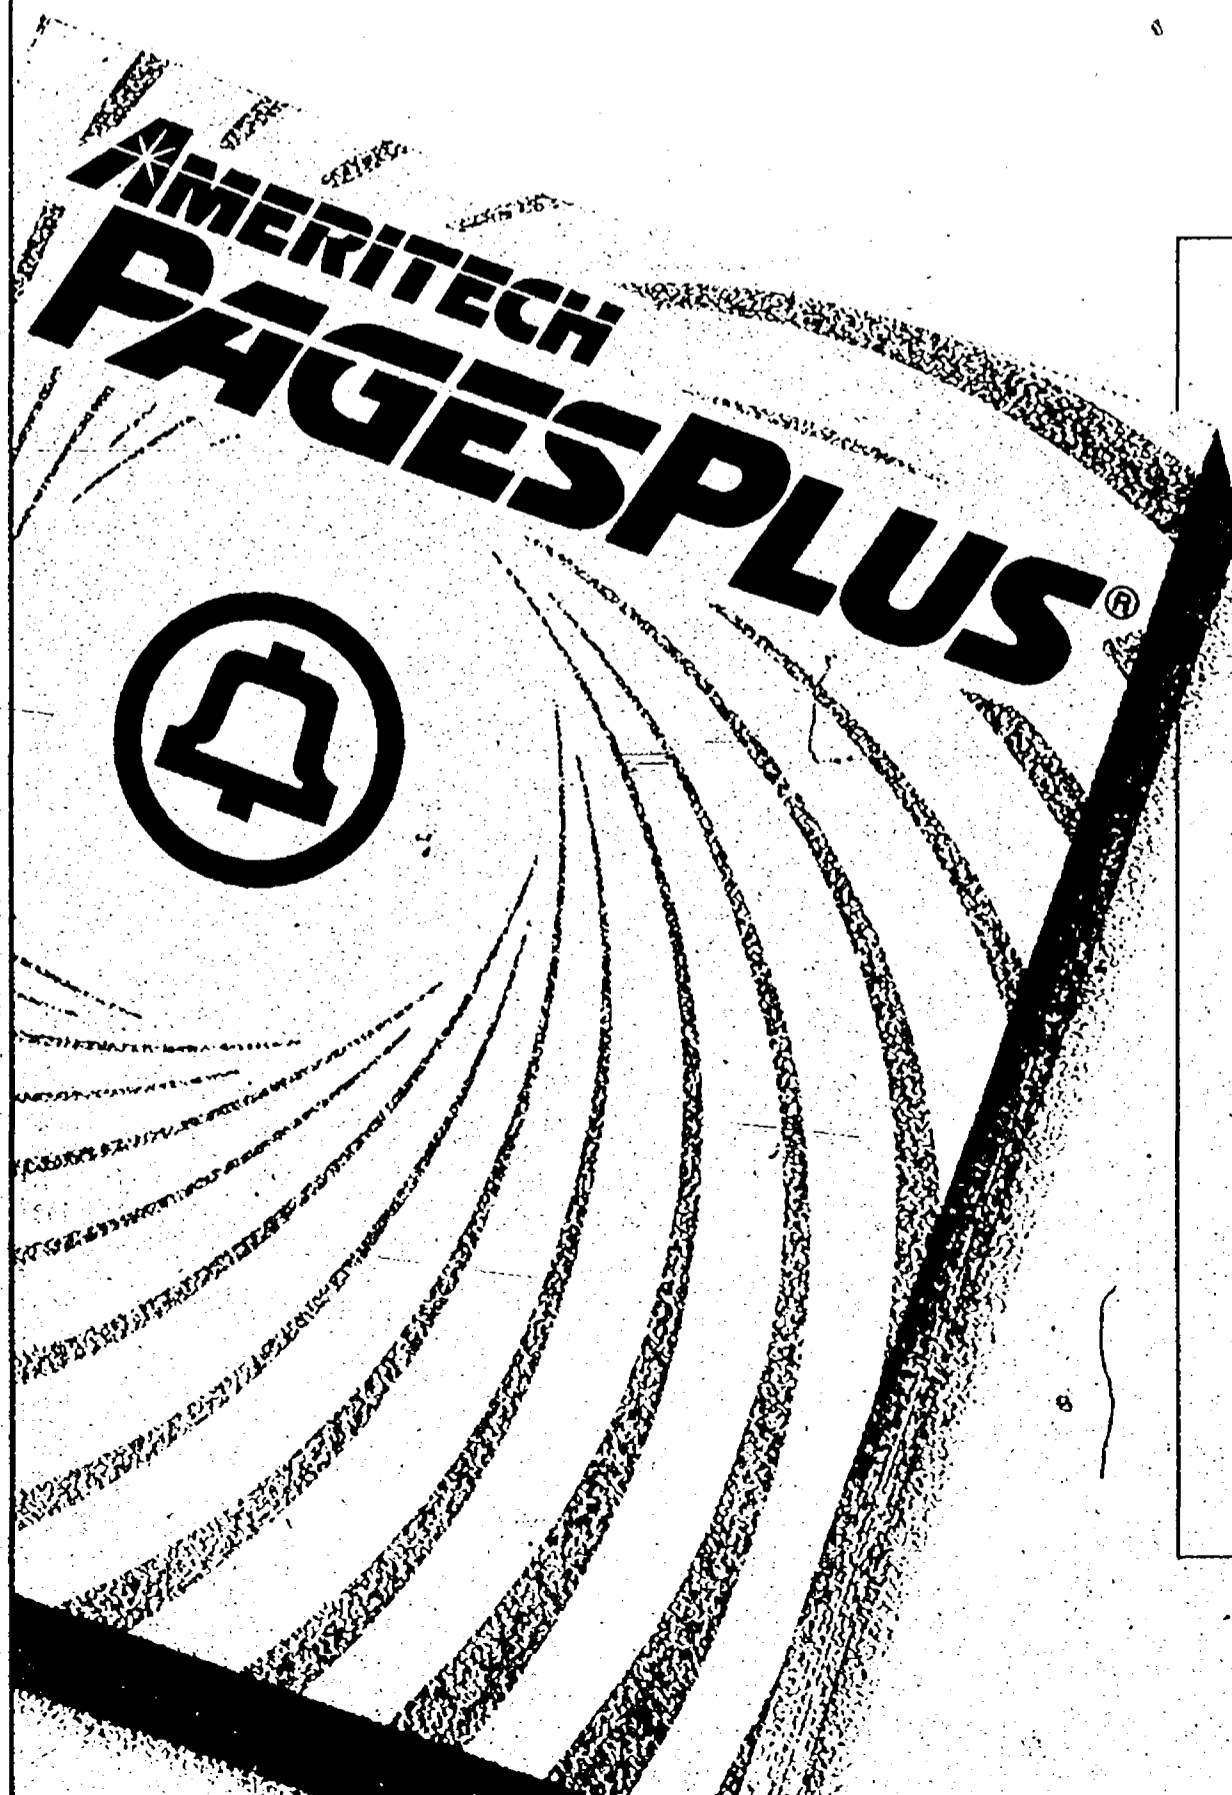

And if you can find one, join a Fish Boli. They are sometimes organized as local charity events or during town festivals. There's nothing quite like telling fish stories while the butter runs down your chin into your shoes.

If you have a travel question for Iris Sanderson Jones, send it to 38251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Tasting it is the only thing better than the struggle to land a Great lakes coho salmon.

Fighting junk mail

An Illinois man recently began fighting back on intrusive telephone advertising into homes. Bob Bulmash started a business called Private Citizen Inc., (PO Box 233, Naperville, Ill. 60566) to help people stop being hounded by telemarketers. Bravo!

Reading about Bulmash inspired me to follow through on a threat I've been making for a long time: To fight back on junk mail with a "Less is Better" campaign. I'm tired of being inundated with coupons I don't want, cards that fall out of magazines (onto the floor 100 percent of the time), filters from stores I never shop and advertising inserts that accompany almost every bill — especially with those noxious perfumes.

I'm weary of advertisers "crying wolf" — going to any length to get my attention. I recently received an expensive envelope (closely resembling a major carrier's) saying, "Express Overnight — Extremely Urgent," etc. Inside — sure enough — a Buick dealer would give me the car of my choice, if . . . I was not impressed.

Throwing out junk mail without opening it is risky. Many checks have been lost that way. Once I almost pitched an unopened Mailgram, which experience had taught me to consider junk. In fact, it was an urgent message from my niece, a linguist on the Island of New Guinea.

Not only does junk mail infringe upon our time and energy, it also increases environmental waste disposal problems. (Besides that, I'm tired of taking out so much trash!). Although a few people seem to enjoy receiving unsolicited coupons and catalogs, most don't. I'm wondering about you?

Are you irked by an overwhelming influx of unwanted paper? If so, 1) which particular items bother you most, 2) which items do you enjoy receiving, and 3) what constructive ideas do you have for solving the problem?

There is an address in New York to reportedly get names removed from some mailing lists, but I've been told it helped only for awhile. Is there more than one place to write? Have you tried doing this? Has it worked? If so, for how long? How can junk mail be fought at the local level? Do any particular advertisers bother you most?

If you are tired of advertising overkill, join the "Less is Better" campaign. Send your replies to: Less is Better, in care of Organizing Techniques, 6165 Worlington, Birmingham 48010. If the response is great enough, I will send your message to the advertising industry. The results will be published in a future column.

Robert M. Melsner

Q. When my wife and I were divorced, my name was on the mortgage of the marital home which has now been quit claimed to her. Unfortunately, I continue to get credit statements showing that I am also a mortgagor on the house that is undermining my ability to borrow since it is reflected in part by the balance owing on the mortgage which my ex-wife is now obligated to pay in accordance with the divorce decree. What can I do with respect to this matter?

A. Write the mortgage company and tell them that you wish to be removed as a co-signer, so to speak, from the mortgage. Depending upon the amount of equity in the property, as well as your ex-wife's ability to pay the mortgage company, the mortgage company should be in a position to let you off the hook. If they refuse to do so, see a lawyer who may be able to assist you in obtaining some additional relief.

Also, make sure, if it is not already done, that your ex-wife will give you an indemnification and hold you harmless from any liability in connection with her failure to pay the mortgage payments. That should have been done, presumably, before the divorce judgement was entered.

Q: I am thinking about buying a "site" condominium, but I am concerned about the architectural controls that may not be enforced against the units by the developer. Do you have any comments?

A: Site condos are becoming more popular because it gives a developer an opportunity to circumvent the Subdivision Control Act, as well as to provide greater flexibility in terms of the types of units that may be constructed. Unfortunately, concomitant with that flexibility is the possibility that the developer will not enforce architectural uniformity in regard to the construction of units on the condominium site. Moreover, the construction of units may be staggered over many years and the quality of construction may not be uniform. Site condos are too early to pass judgment on, but additional caution is a good idea because of the unique nature of the concept.

Inside/out

A Japanese garden helps create a serene feeling on the once too-hot patio.

Shell pink walls was the backdrop for the condo owner's collection of art deco and oriental art.

Brother-sister design team stress importance of tying 2 areas together

By Becky Eminger
special writer

Once the basic plan is in place, the accessorizing begins. The duo's close working relationship helps the client to put a lot of themselves into the design. They take "ownership" of it, so to speak.

OUT IN Bloomfield Hills is a graceful condominium tucked in a park-like setting. As you approach and explore it, it strikes a chord of serenity as beautiful as a simply melody.

Wouldn't it be nice to have an environment that blends so naturally with its surroundings, the interior and exterior seem to be one? Have you ever wished to create a place that reflects you as closely as notes in a symphony?

For most of us, it would be an unfinished symphony.

ENTER THE team of Karen Gagne and Patrick Sellenraad. This talented sister-brother duo specializes in helping create an environment that flows between the interior and the exterior.

Gagne is president of the design firm of Gagne and Gagne Interiors of Troy. Her brother is president of award-winning Klein Bloemendaal Nursery of Birch Run.

She does the inside; he designs the outside. Together they help the client create an environment to fit his/her specific needs. The exterior design repeats and emphasizes the themes and lines of the interior, extending the tone of the home.

Gagne and Sellenraad are members of an artistic family from Frankenmuth.

Gagne pursued her design degree at Michigan State and Delta College. Sellenraad finished his degree in horticulture at Michigan State University and his master's degree at Ohio State.

Because an interior may be spoiled by a poor view of the exterior, Gagne suggests her brother's services to clients who could benefit from landscaping design. Sellenraad, in turn, does the same.

SUCH WAS the case at a Cranbrook Manor condominium.

Gagne began the project after water damage from the loft necessitated renovating the main part of the first floor.

The enclosed atrium, a major design feature of the home, was so hot that the window treatments had to be drawn to keep out the heat. Another patio also reflected heat. Sellenraad picked up on the design elements of the interior to create outdoor rooms.

THE COURTYARD entry sets the mood. A brick path leads through a carpet of groundcover dotted with specimen plants.

Both designers believe the entry provides a transition, setting up anticipation and intrigue. Sellenraad's subtle use of art deco lines and a Japanese maple sets the tone for the eclectic design waiting within.

The atrium, the showplace of the home, is an extension of the parquet-floored entry. Accessible from the entry, living room and master bedroom, it echoes the peaceful, luxurious home surrounding it.

IT WASN'T always this way. Sellenraad created a serene mood by building a Japanese garden in the 12-foot-square area. He placed a waterfall and reflecting pool among varieties of azaleas, low juniper and miniature roses.

These, along with flowering perennials, provide season-long color. A tanyoshio pine and laceleaf Japanese maple echo the peaceful, Oriental mood. The running water from the waterfall camouflages road noise and cools the area.

The atrium now provides a changing concert of color in which to relax and soak up the sun. The finishing touch? A washing basin, a Japanese tradition provided to visitors for hand-washing.

GAGNE MADE the walls of the open living-dining room glow in shell pink. They furnish the perfect backdrop for the collections of art deco and Oriental pieces the owner has collected in her travels.

SELLENRAAD VISUALLY extended the floor space by installing a raised deck over a nearby cement patio. Because the patio radiated so much heat, it was unusable.

The deck created an outdoor eating area that remains cool and private, but catches breezes.

The brother-sister team agrees their goal is to . . . approach each (situation) as an individual design problem to be solved." They start each project by learning all they can about the people who will live in the area.

Although their questions may sound nosy, they really want to find out how that particular client uses the space, Gagne said. By defining what needs the space must satisfy, the designers can draw up several options for the client to "try on."

They do not skip this first step. "Foresight is more important than money," Sellenraad said.
