COULD THIS be some sort of sign? Mayoral challengers take note:

A quartet of keggers led by Mayor Charles Griffen has captured the Westland Employees Bowling League title.

The mayor's team — which finished in the basement last year — sewed up the championship by posting a 30-point winning streak during this season's second half. They then beat former Mayor Tom Taylor's first-half champs for the season title in an April 27 roll-off.

Championship trophies were presented during the League Banquet May 4.

Other members of the championship foursome included Marge Griffin, the mayor's wife, Deputy Mayor Andrew Spisak and his wife, Lee.

Also honored at the banquet was Detroit Tiger outfielder Pat Sheridan, the only league member to roll a perfect, 300 game during the season. Sheridan is the husband of 18th District Court employee Melanie Sheridan.

New projects prepare city for the 1990s

By Ted Schneider
staff writer

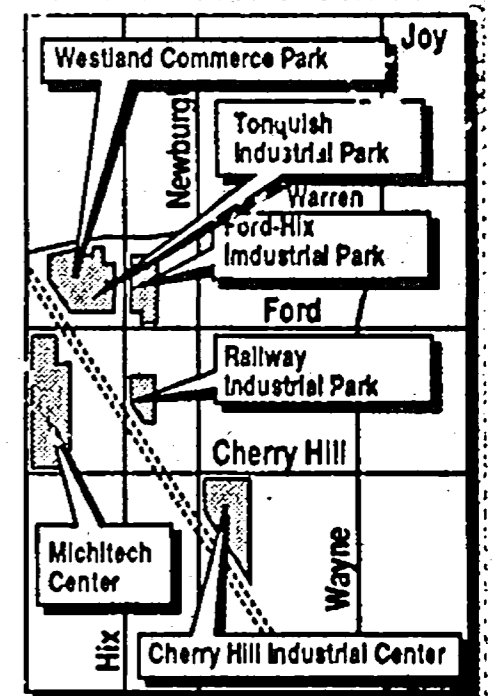

A spurt of recent construction and the opening of additional space has put Westland's six industrial parks in "good shape" for the 1990s.

Tim Schroeder, the city's economic development director, made that appraisal before Westland City Council approval on May 15 of the site plan for two office/warehouse buildings in the Tonquish Industrial Park and 20 new lots in Westland Commerce Park.

Other projects either proposed or under construction this spring include:

- A 34,500 square-foot facility for Cintas Corp. under construction in Tonquish park.
- Three buildings totaling 23,000 square feet under construction in Westland Commerce Park.
- Several proposed speculative buildings totaling more than 75,000 square feet for the Tonquish, Ford-Hix, Railway and Commerce parks.
- A 7,200-square-foot building for COMPETITORS in this Fun Run will probably end up soaked — even if there isn't a rain cloud in the sky.

The July 4 run, cosponsored by the city's fire and community relations departments, will feature a Fire Engine Water Spray Run Through at the conclusion.

The five-mile run begins at 9 a.m. at the main fire station, Ford at Carl. The course will be marked and patrolled, with water stations every mile.

Trophies will be awarded to overall first-place male and female finishers and medals will go to top finishers and runners-up in each age group. All finishers will receive certificates.

Entry fee is $8, or $10 after June 24. Entry forms are available from the fire department and at other city buildings.

Herbert not leaving post quietly

Westland City Councilman A. Kent Herbert, who has said that he won't run for re-election this fall, is going out with a bang, not a whimper.

He is critical of Mayor Charles Griffen's administration and chided the mayor for his "government by cooperation" slogan by commenting that the mayor is only cooperative when the city council agrees with his proposals.

Herbert's announcement that he will not seek a new term means that four council seats will be up for grabs during the fall election.

Herbert, appointed to a council vacancy in early 1983, said last week he won't seek a second full term mainly because of the time required for campaigning and the time taken away from his family and other interests.

Another factor is that he found being a council member in one community "is seen as a disadvantage to potential employer communities."

The council member, whose term will end Dec. 31, pointed out that he has served the city for 17 years, starting as the city's first budget director and then as federal programs administrator and finance director.

Herbert, 39, is chief financial officer for the city of St. Clair Shores.

REFLECTING on his council record and accomplishments, Herbert said he is most proud of initiating a sidewalk replacement program, a capital improvement program, a comprehensive fee ordinance and a landscape award program.

"I am particularly proud of my efforts to work out ways to keep the pool and ice arena open when the administration tried to close them," Herbert said.

"I am also proud of the work I did with the council to avert a projected deficit in 1983."

Herbert stressed that he will continue to be active in new programs during his final seven months on the council.

In describing what he calls "unfinished business," Herbert said he plans to introduce revisions to the city's civil service ordinance to assure an affirmative recruitment pro-

Westland District Judge Gail McKnight has been named by Gov. James Blanchard to a newly created Partners Against Crime, a group made up of many of the top judicial and law enforcement officials in the state.

Judge McKnight and the other 23 members were introduced by the governor at a press conference last week in Southfield.

Taking part in the announcement Michigan Attorney General Frank Kelley and Detroit Police Chief William Hart, also members of the group.

Although many high-level criminal justice veterans were named, the public won't be ignored in the crime-prevention effort, according to Blanchard.

"One thing we may want to do is highlight particularly effective citizen groups, to demonstrate and show them as role models," Blanchard said.

DEFINING GOALS and coordinating the group need to be handled first, however, Blanchard said. "We need to make sure this group is working in a very coordinated fashion before we ask the public to act, whether individuals, organizations or businesses," Blanchard said. "We need to make sure we have our act together as completely as I want to."

According to Dwyer, Partners Against Crime won't wipe the crime problem off Michigan's map, despite its good intentions.

Dwyer said the board will meet on a monthly basis, with sites probably rotating around the state.

ONE OF THE primary topics certain to be bandied about is drug-related crime, Dwyer said.

"In my opinion, drugs have infected this country to the level where we're at a crisis situation. I believe in strong enforcement, but we also need education and rehabilitation."

Next school board will have to deal with looming deficit

By Ted Schneider
staff writer

This is the first of two installments on how the Wayne-Westland school board candidates view campaign issues. Jessie Barkett, Kenneth Barnhill, the Rev. Larry Hines, John Schanault and Andrew Spisak are running for two board seats in the June 12 election.

Dealing with an expected school district deficit next fall won't be easy, according to candidates for the Wayne-Westland school board. While they continue to push for a school finance reform package from state legislators, the candidates agree that cost-cutting measures should be considered.

But they differ on where those cuts, if necessary, should be made. "Budgets are primarily people," said board president Andrew Spisak.

Spisak Rev. Hines Barnhill Barkett

"The only place we can cut people in my estimation is in those areas that are considered non-academic extras."

"While we like to provide a well-rounded curriculum, to prepare young people for the world they will face, the primary thing is a good grounding in the basics."

CHALLENGER JESSIE Barkett also said non-academic areas should be the first area administrators trim if the situation arises, specifically recreation and athletics. The Rev. Larry Hines, also a challenger, said he would make a special effort to retain classes and programs that "affect academic growth, development or achievement."

But incumbent Kenneth Barnhill said non-basic classes and extracurricular programs shouldn't be dia-

Road construction set to begin next month

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

An informed commuter is a patient commuter.

That's the message Westland officials will be pushing next month as road crews begin construction work on Warren Road and Newburgh in the city's TIFA district.

The city is planning an information blitz that will include downtown area businesses, apartment complexes and subdivisions and plenty of roadside instructions for motorists.

"We're anticipating a lot of traffic problems," Tim Schroeder, the city's economic development director said Thursday. "But hopefully people will have enough information about alternate routes to be able to successfully get where they are going."

THE TWO major projects slated for this summer are the widening of Warren Road between Wayne Road and Newburgh from two-three lanes to five lanes; and the widening of Newburgh, from Ford to Laramie, to four-five lanes.

Construction, being done jointly by the city and Wayne County, is expected to begin by the second week of July.

Newburgh between Joy and Warren Road will be closed completely to through traffic for six weeks, requiring drivers to find alternate routes, Schroeder said.

"We looked at closing half the road and leaving half open and then switching, but because of the right-of-way and narrow grade it was almost impossible," Schroeder said.

"Building a temporary lane would have meant an additional six or seven weeks and $100,000 in costs," he added.

The Westland Economic Development Advisory Commission discussed getting the word out on the construction and suggested alternate routes during its meeting Thursday. Members viewed a video explaining the Michigan Department of Transportation public awareness campaign for the Lodge Freeway reconstruction project in 1986-87.

"The city will develop a preliminary plan and rely on the commission for input before putting the final plan into place," said Joe Beyo, EDAC chair person.

INFORMATION ON the construction and alternate routes will appear in local newspapers, a city newsletter and on the city cable television channel (Channel 8).

Flyers will be distributed to apartment complexes and homes in the area before construction begins.

Also, Westland Center, WestRidge Plaza and other commercial developments in the city's central business district will be asked to hand out or display information.

A unit from the Westland police traffic bureau may be assigned to Newburgh at the city's north end, particularly since the bridge on Newburgh between Ann Arbor Road and Edward Hine Drive in Livonia is also scheduled to be closed for construction.

The city will look at designating John Hix and Central City Parkway as alternate routes for trucks when Newburgh is closed, Schroeder said.

John Hix currently has a load restriction prohibiting heavy trucks.

7 still in running for Livonia schools job

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

Seven finalists, selected by consultants from among 55 applicants, are still in the running for the vacant superintendent's job with the Livonia Public Schools.

The district includes northern Westland.

Interviews with each of the seven are being conducted by the school board at separate four-hour dinner sessions. The dinners allow the board members to "meet the candidate and have an opportunity to ask questions, but in a more social setting," said John Rennels, assistant superintendent for personnel.

The board has interviewed one candidate, Stuart Rankin, and has scheduled an interview with another, Joseph Marinelli.

Rennels said all seven should be interviewed by May 31, when the board will narrow the field to two.

On June 1 and 2, the two candidates will be visited at their home school district. On June 13 and 14, the two will meet with various school groups.

After getting comments from members of the school community on the finalists, a superintendent is scheduled to be appointed June 20, Rennels said.

THE FINALISTS are:

• Larry Dlugosh, superintendent of the Grand Island, Neb., Public Schools since 1985. Dlugosh also has served as superintendent of a Springfield, Neb., school district, as a science and math teacher, and as a high school principal.

• Lee Hansen, superintendent of the Poudre School District R-1 in Fort Collins, Colo., since 1984. He is a former acting superintendent of the Ann Arbor Public Schools, where he earlier served as associate superintendent for curriculum and instruction, and is a former junior high teacher.

• Jack Kirksey, director of community education for the Livonia Public Schools since 1985. Kirksey was a state legislator from 1977-85, is a retired Air Force reserve colonel, president-elect of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce, and a former teacher and elementary principal in the Livonia schools.

• Marinelli, associate superintendent of the Orange County, Fla., schools since 1977. He also has served as a federal liaison for the Florida Department of Education in Washington, D.C., and as a school guidance director and counselor.

• Rankin, deputy superintendent of the Detroit Public Schools since 1983. He also served as an assistant superintendent in that district from 1969-83, and as curriculum coordinator. Rankin is a former teacher and assistant principal in the Detroit schools.

• Carole Samples, acting superintendent of the Livonia Public Schools since James Carl's death in December. She served as assistant superintendent for instruction from 1986 to 1989, director of secondary education from 1984 to 1986, and as a teacher and assistant principal.

• Samuel B. Stewart, former superintendent of the Ridgewood, N.J., schools from 1976-86, and now in business. He also has served as an assistant superintendent, as a teacher for Redford Union Public Schools, and as a junior high principal in Novi.

"WE ARE very pleased with the work of our consultants, doctors (Carol) Johnson and (John) Brubacher, in their thorough search and professional selection of seven excellent finalists for the trustees to interview," said Livonia Board of Education President Richard Thorderson.

According to a summary on the candidates presented by the consultants to the school board, candidates were carefully investigated "in a manner designed to ensure the Board of Education a range of choice among administrators of demonstrated competence."

Board looks to hire 4 principals

Candidates for the post of school principal are being sought by the Livonia Board of Education to fill vacancies at four schools.

Sparked by promotions or retirements, the board is seeking to name principals at Churchill High School and at Grant, Taylor and Cass elementaries, said John Rennels, asstant superintendent for personnel. The district includes northern Westland.

The Churchill opening was sparked by the promotion of William MacFarland to director of curriculum for the school district, a position left open in recent years following budget cutbacks, Rennels said.

MacFarland, Churchill principal since 1979, also served two years as Whittier Junior High principal.

The vacancy at Grant follows Kent Gage's promotion to director of elementary education for the district, replacing current director Ray Keeling, who is retiring.

Gage, a former teacher and program specialist, has served as Grant principal since 1983.

The other openings are sparked by the retirements of Harriet Shogan as Cass principal and Donald Clark as Taylor principal.

Rennels said some openings could be filled by transferring staff mem-

"I THINK we're in good shape when it comes to industrial development for the next 10-15 years," Schroeder said.

"There's a good supply of 1-acre to 5-acre sites and for larger developments we've still got the Eloise property," he said, referring to the more than 300 acres of county-owned land at Michigan Avenue and Merriman.

Schroeder said the current economy — and predictions of a coming recession — have made him "a little nervous."

"But so far it seems to be uncalled for," he said.

EVEN THE Michitech Industrial Park, the slowest developing of the city's parks, should experience some growth in the next decade, Schroeder said. Michitech property is divided between Westland and Canton Township.

Extension of a north-south road between Cherry Hill and Ford will open up approximately 80 acres for development, Schroeder said. Construction could start by mid-June, pending approval from the state Department of Natural Resources to build a bridge over Willow Creek.

Schroeder said efforts to develop Michitech were "on hold" while the city waited for a planned major retail center on the Canton Township side of the park. That development fell through though, Schroeder said.

"We originally thought we could develop it in conjunction with the retail project, but when that didn't happen we had to start over," he said.

gram and to assure that those on a civil service jobs list are given adequate notice of job opportunities.

HERBERT concluded that he has found most residents are polite in their conduct at city hall meetings and generally understand the money problems plaguing the city.

"There are many volunteers I have been impressed with who truly care about the community," Herbert said.

"In particular, volunteers for the Youth Athletic Association, cultural and historical groups, volunteer probation workers, and the (summer) festival committee come to mind, although there are many others."

Meanwhile, 15 people have taken out nominating petitions for city council posts as of Friday.

Balloons, ice cream make visit special

FOR AT least one afternoon this month at Westland's American House, the generation gap was bridged. A group of 30 second graders from Kettering Elementary School visited their "adopted grandparents" at the senior citizens community May 12.

The pre-Mother's Day get-together included a balloon launch and an ice cream social.

Notes attached to balloons wished the finder a happy Mother's Day and an invitation to visit the complex on Venoy, north of Palm-er.

The Adopt-A-Grandparent program is a joint project headed by Kettering teacher Charlann Ogilvie and Ellen Rudolph, activities director at American House.

The program links students and senior citizens in a series of year-round activities.

Residents and students let their balloons fly in front of the American House complex.

Herbert leaves council with barrage of criticism

A Kent Herbert is leaving the Westland City Council with a laundry list of complaints about Mayor Charles Griffin's administration.

Herbert, who will not seek a new term this fall (see related story), listed numerous disappointments about the administration, specifically its position on pay raises for staff members and recommendations of "poorly conceived ideas" being sent to the council.

Griffin was out of town for a conference Friday and was not available for comment.

But a mayoral spokesman, who declined to be identified, declined to respond to the Herbert criticisms, saying only that Herbert "was a valuable member of the city council and a talented individual who contributed.

"No one can compare with Herbert in finance," the spokesman said. Herbert's announced retirement is "Westland's loss," the spokesman concluded.

THE COUNCIL member, named to a vacancy in early 1988, said that there is a "tendency of the mayor to be obsessed with personnel matters of his staff. Both mayors (referring to Griffin and his predecessor, Charles Pickering) have been overly concerned of staff salaries and have been far less concerned about the staff's performance."

Herbert noted that he developed a pay plan for administrators and believes "it has been routinely abused by Griffin, which is a real irony in that that was one of the main points Griffin (as council president) sued then Mayor Pickering about. "I have also been disturbed about the poorly conceived ideas from Griffin's administration that get passed by the council with too little examination by council members."

Herbert said his biggest disappointment on the council was the inability to get the computerization on course in a cost-effective manner and that the city still doesn't have a computer-aided dispatch system for the police and fire departments "which would be a real asset to those departments."

Deficit looms for future school board members missed out of hand. "I'm not prepared here or now to say what's essential and what isn't for a student's education," he said.

"To some students, physical education or dance is more important than core curricula."

John Schannault, who is a challenger for one of the two available seats, failed to show up for a group interview or return telephone calls for this story.

Hines, Barnhill and Spsak all said they would continue to press for a more equitable aid package from the state.

"The overall answer has to come from Lansing," Barnhill said. "We're not going to be able to continue to get less and less state aid and keep the excellent program we offer in Wayne-Westland."

THE CANDIDATES were generally satisfied with the current curriculum offered in the district's two high schools, four junior high schools, 22 elementary schools and the William D. Ford Vocational/Technical Center.

Barnhill said he would see advanced placement foreign languages classes at both high schools that "some other districts don't even offer."

"Compared to other districts I've

— Kenneth Barnhill
incumbent school board member looked at this one does a good job in that respect," Barkett said.

Hines though, had some suggestions for elementary curriculum. He said teachers and administrators need to do more so that students get evaluated and directed properly in their early school years.

"I think there's a problem with social promotion," he said. Certain students from year to year remain on the same track because they've been put there, maybe wrongly so, by one teacher."

"They become children who eventually fall through the cracks," Hines said.

"Principals should look at the situation and try to provide the best possible education for all students."

HINES ALSO said the district should improve its effort to help high school students look for college scholarships. "I'm talking about students with average grades coming from underprivileged situations," he said.

The candidates had different ideas about the possibility of changing over to a grade 6-8 middle school and grade 9-12 high school as opposed to the current (7-9) junior high and (10-12) high school setup.

"We've looked at it, and it might allow us to better use current facilities," Barnhill said.

"But it became apparent early on that changing over now would be difficult and it wouldn't solve the declining enrollment problem," he added.

Spsak said the district's "feeder system" was working well and that one high school having more students than the other wasn't necessarily a problem.

Barkett said such a change should only be considered as a last resort, "as opposed to closing buildings down."

Hines said the board should continue to look at the idea. "All systems are experiencing declining enrollment to some degree and this could be one way to handle the problem," he said.

He has been self-employed the past 15 years in insurance business and real estate development.

Lendrum said his entrepreneurial skills would be an addition to the school board. These skills include strategic planning, managing growth, working with a variety of people and, most importantly, listening and responding to the needs of customers.

Patricia A. Sari, 45, of 14956 Ardèn, Livonia, is a homemaker with three children, ages 9, 11, 22. She attended Eastern Michigan University and holds a two-year certificate in fostering and child development from Wayne. A 24-year resident and community volunteer, she is a foster parent, Livonia Youth Assistance Program volunteer, school volunteer, and school board member for six years.

Diane E. Tancill, 47, of 35335 Lanchshire Road, Livonia, is vice president of the Livonia Board of Education, a trustee since March 1986, served on the finance, curriculum, policy and other committees. Married with two children, she was president for two years and an executive board member 11 years of Livonia PTA Council, member Michigan PTA Board of Managers, PTA member and school volunteer for 18 years, and member Excellence in Education committee.

Lendrum: I want to ensure a quality education for all children. I want to improve responsiveness of the school board to residents' concern; I want to improve communication between parents, teachers, administrators, and the board.

Cameron: Restore preschool program at Jackson; open Clay School; put Bentley to work for the community.

Sari: He must have credibility, be able to listen and communicate positively with teachers, administrators and community, involving all groups in the educational process. Superintendent should have classroom, administrative and financial experience. He must set clear goals and objectives for curriculum development and administrative management. He must live in Livonia.

Tancill: Educational leadership to continue and advance the fine programs we have in Livonia. We need a "people person" — a person who listens actively and maintains close contacts with teachers, students, and the community. Credibility, vision and integrity.

Lendrum: I want to ensure a quality education for all children. I want to improve responsiveness of the school board to residents' concern; I want to improve communication between parents, teachers, administrators, and the board.

Q. What qualities would you be seeking in a new superintendent for the Livonia School District?

Cameron: A clone of Jim Carli that is willing to stretch and bend the system to fill the needs of our students. She/he must have a sense of urgency.

Lendrum: Livonia is a top-flight school district deserving nothing less than a top-flight superintendent. I would look for various qualities — experience, management skills, people skills and integrity. The Livonia schools should strive to be among the best in the country. I would seek a superintendent willing and able to achieve that goal.

Sari: He must have credibility, be able to listen and communicate positively with teachers, administrators and community, involving all groups in the educational process. Superintendent should have classroom, administrative and financial experience. He must set clear goals and objectives for curriculum development and administrative management. He must live in Livonia.

Tancill: Educational leadership to continue and advance the fine programs we have in Livonia. We need a "people person" — a person who listens actively and maintains close contacts with teachers, students, and the community. Credibility, vision and integrity.

Q. What do you think should be the determining factors for moving school boundaries and programs?

Sari: Boundaries should be changed when building enrollments are too high or low to provide quality education. When center programs reduce program quality for general education children, center students, who have chosen to leave their home neighborhood schools, should be transferred; neighborhood children should not be removed to keep center programs in place.

Lendrum: A number of factors: financial considerations, long-term planning needs, and impact on the community. A critical factor is the impact a boundary change will have on the students, parents, and faculty. It is the responsibility of the board to give heavy consideration to those who will feel the greatest impact from any boundary change.

Cameron: There is only one factor — education of students. Are there enough students at one time, in one place, to have a viable program?

Tancill: Maintaining quality educational programs and facilities. Minimizing disruption of programs and students as much as possible. We try to ensure stability, so that a child will complete his or her elementary education in one school building. We are taxpayer representatives, charged with minimizing school operating expenses, while providing a quality education for our children.

Q. What would you like to see done with the school properties presently occupied by Whitman Center and Bentley-High-School?

Lendrum: I support the Citizens' Advisory Committee report recommending Bentley be used for adult education and recreation, and Whitman be torn down and the property used as park land. The report was supported at two public hearings. I don't understand why the board hasn't implemented the committee's suggestion.

Cameron: Any school property not going to be used should be cleared and put back on the tax rolls. Whitman is in that category. Bentley is a valuable facility that should be restored for the use of the community as soon as possible.

Tancill: Public hearings conducted by the Citizens Committee indicated that demolition of Whitman is preferable to the alternative $1.8 million renovation expense. I believe Bentley can continue to be useful for the school district. Many groups use Bentley now, justifying the $300,000 roof renovation versus the demolition cost of over $1.2 million.

Sari: Bentley is a valuable asset for Livonia. I would keep the building for a combination of educational/community use and leased space to offset expenses. Whitman is in extremely poor condition and renovation costs are enormous. I would demolish the building, add playground space to Grant Elementary, and preserve the rest as park.

Q. As you may recall, last fall the Livonia School Board voted to discontinue the day care program at Jackson Center. What is your position on school board involvement in education programs for populations older or younger than grades kindergarten through 12th grade?

Cameron: Public education is not just K-12, it is better described as cradle to the grave. The Jackson program should be restored.

Tancill: Infant care was discontinued at Jackson, not the entire child care program. Early childhood education is important. It requires a broad-based system of funding and support from the business community and the state. The Livonia Public Schools do not have an adequate basis to do the job alone.

Sari: I supported Jackson Center's child care; it presented no liability problems, is self-supporting, and a taxpayer requested program. I support community education programs for all ages; even though partially subsidized by general funds, they educate all taxpayers, with seniors attending many classes free or at reduced rates.

Lendrum: Closing Jackson Center day care was a mistake. I have two young children, and understand the need for quality day care. At the Jackson public hearings, it was obvious that the day care service is needed, the school system can provide it and the parents were willing to pay for it.

Q. Do you agree with the board decision to move the Alternative Classroom for the Academically Talented (A.C.A.T.) program from Cass to Webster School? Why or why not?

Tancill: Yes. No boundary shift is easy but overcrowding forced the change. Several alternatives reviewed in public hearings produced an effective compromise. Moving the A.C.A.T. program intact minimized disruption, achieved a rebalancing of student populations, and minimized operating costs. I am gratified to hear from staff and parents that the transition is going smoothly.

Sari: Moving A.C.A.T. was necessary to preserve Cass general education program. Webster Elementary School will give them a permanent school, specialized media center not possible at Cass, more space and the opportunity to interact, not only with special students but with Randolph's general education students who already socialize regularly with Webster.

Lendrum: No. The better choice would have been to reopen Clay Elementary — an alternative the school board rejected despite evidence that it would provide a better solution to the problem by strengthening the neighborhood schools, displacing fewer students and providing a better long-range solution to the overcrowding problem. Parents overwhelmingly favored the reopening of Clay.

Cameron: A special education program would be better off when it is mixed with a standard education program. The students would not be as well served if two special interest programs were mixed. Clay School should be opened to accomplish this purpose.

2 district students winners of Merit Scholarships

Two Livonia students are among 2500 winners of Merit Scholarships financed by colleges and universities in the most recent and final announcement by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Lisa M. Gauchey of Northgate, Livonia, earned a Bowling Green State University Merit Scholarship and Jason D. Glenn of Nancy, Livonia, earned a Kalamazoo College Merit Scholarship.

Gauchey is a senior at Livonia Stevenson High while Glenn is a student at Livonia Churchill High.

Glenn is a member of the Honor Roll, plays on the Livonia Youth Symphony, and is an Eagle Scout who has been in Boy Scouting for seven years. He is on the cross-country team and track team at Churchill, earned an honorable mention in the state math competition, has been a class scholar for four years, and is active with his church youth group.

Gauchey, who plans a career in international business, is a member of the National Honor Society. She was a state finalist in the National Council of Teachers of English Impromptu Writing Contest, is secretary and social committee chairman of her church youth group, was on the school's mock trial team, has been on the pom pon team two years, is on the yearbook staff, and is co-captain of the track team.

Sponsor institutions provide Merit Scholarships for finalists in the competition who will attend the colleges or universities with officials from each institution choose the winners of its awards.

This year 125 private and 88 public higher education institutions are offering Merit Scholarships ranging from $250 to $2,000 to the recipients for each year of undergraduate study at the sponsor institution.

The 1989 competition began with the administration of 1987 PSAT/NMSQT exams in more than 19,000 U.S. high schools. More than one million students, mostly juniors, took this qualifying test that serves as an initial screening of participants.

About one-half of 1 percent of graduating seniors in each state were designated as semifinalists, forming a pool of 15,000 students in the competition.

A total of 6,000 high school seniors are being appointed Merit Scholars this year. On April 12, nearly 1,300 corporate-sponsored Merit scholarships were announced and on April 26 some 1,800 National Merit $2,000 scholarships were announced. Additional winners of Merit Scholarships will be announced during the summer.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation, founded in 1955, offers scholarships worth $24 million in each annual program, funded by more than 600 sponsor organizations and institutions.

Volunteers are needed for Rouge River cleanup

It's time again for the annual Rouge River cleanup.

Rouge Rescue '89 will be held Saturday, June 3, at numerous sites throughout Wayne and Oakland counties. There will also be a bikeathon, walkathon and fun run to help raise money for the Rouge's restoration.

Most work sites will be in operation from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m., though some sites may have extended hours. Work may also continue Sunday at some sites.

A post-cleanup celebration is planned for 1:30 p.m. at Nankin Mills recreation area, on Hines Drive near Ann Arbor Trail, Westland.

More than 2,000 volunteers are sought to help clear log jams blocking the heavily-polluted river. Log jam removal increases river flow, allowing the Rouge to rid itself of many pollutants. At many sites, city and township public works departments will already have removed debris from the river.

VOLUNTEERS are needed to carry tree branches, stumps and other debris to nearby dumpsters. Due to pollution levels, volunteers may be restricted from entering the river at many sites.

Rouge Rescues have been held every year since 1986. In that time, volunteers removed 10,000 cubic yards of debris and cleared 225 log jams.

Rouge Rescues have been hailed by the Michigan Department of Natural Resources as one of the "very exciting things going on" regarding environmental improvements.

Friends of the Rouge has also received the "Keep Michigan Beautiful Award" for the past two years.

Volunteers are asked to arrive at registration sites by 8:30 a.m.

Those who volunteer are asked to wear long-sleeved shirts and long pants. Old clothing is recommended. Boots with sturdy soles are also recommended. Volunteers who enter the river are should shower and change clothes as soon as possible. All volunteers should bring a change of clothes as well as a plastic garbage bag to store their old clothes.

Volunteers should be in good health with no open wounds or sores. They should also have all immunizations up-to-date, especially those for tetanus and polio.

Area lawmakers cool to latest reform plan

By Tim Richard
staff writer

With two key Democrats joining the opposition Gov. James Blanchard's effort at school finance reform is in deep trouble as the Michigan Legislature prepares to vacate the State Capitol.

"Never before has so broad a coalition of education, business, labor and civic groups come together in support of a school improvement proposal," Blanchard told a meeting of school administrators last week.

Once cool to reform proposals, Blanchard is making speech after speech touting the so-called Harden plan, named for former university president Edgar Harden who chaired a multi-faceted group.

TO GO ON a special ballot this summer, any plan must win legislative approval in the next week or two. The Capitol is due for extensive renovation for several months.

The plan Blanchard backs asks voters to raise the state sales tax limit from 4 cents to 5.

A half-cent would add $400 million in state aid to K-12 schools.

The other half-cent would provide property tax relief. Homeowners would get $380 billion, averaging $185 a year for the owner of a $50,000 home. Businesses would get $88 million. Renters and senior citizens with annual incomes below $30,000 would get a total of $55 million.

THE PLAN, known in the House as HJR 1, was voted out of the House Taxation Committee 10-8 last week. Rep. James Kosteva, D-Canton, joined seven Republicans in opposing it. Kosteva himself has been a visible proponent of school finance reform measures.

The Senate last week rejected SJR D when it failed, 18-18, to force the measure out of the Finance Committee.

Seventeen Democrats and one Republican supported the discharge effort.

Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, joined 17 Republicans opposing it.

Absent were Sen. R. Robert Geake, R-Northville, who was on a trip to China, and Richard Fessler, R-Commerce.

"I'm not at all excited about this plan," said Faxon in a protest speech. "I don't think that we should be attempting to foist on the state a plan that has such extraordinary lukewarm lacking enthusiasm so uncharacteristic of what we normally try to do."

Faxon, who talks like a suburban Republican on the issue, said that tax relief it provides is "a pittance" and predicting "overwhelming rejection."

HJR 1 is on the House calendar. SJR D is still in committee.

cop calls

A HOMEOWNER on the 38500 block of Avondale told police that someone broke into his 26-foot power boat early Wednesday and stole thousands of dollars in boating and fishing equipment.

The man said he discovered the break-in when he left his house for work at 3 a.m.

The boat was in his driveway. Among the equipment stolen were 20 rods and reels, several marine generators and lights and a 38-gallon cooler.

POLICE SAID someone broke into an Amoco gasoline station, 6690 Newburgh, early Wednesday.

A .22-caliber rifle with 15 rounds of ammunition and $15 in pennies were stolen, the station manager told police.

Officers discovered the break-in at 4:12 a.m. while on patrol. The culprit entered the station by smashing a window with a brick, police said.

A RESIDENT of The Landings apartment complex, off Warren Road east of Wayne Road, reported that someone stole his car late Tuesday or early Wednesday.

The 1987 Chevrolet pickup was stolen between 10 p.m. and 6:45 a.m. from the complex lot, the man said.

There was $50 cash in the locked pickup, he said.

TWO TEENAGE girls told police a man accosted them Monday afternoon.

The girls, both 14, said the man followed them in an older model Ford pickup as they walked through the parking lot of a bowling alley at Wayne Road and Avondale.

He pulled alongside them and tried to lure them into the vehicle, they said.

The girls described the man as white, 40 to 50 years old, six feet tall with a large build, brown hair and a beard. He was wearing a red, white and green plaid shirt and blue windbreaker, they said.

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND SECTIONS 111.15 THROUGH 111.20 AND ADD SECTION 111.21 TO THE CODE OF THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY

B. "Late Night Retail Establishment" means any person, partnership, corporation, or other entity which:

- Derives 50% or more of its gross income from the sale of goods, merchandise, or other articles of value and
- Sells goods, merchandise or other articles of value in their original containers anytime between the hours of 11:00 P.M. and 6:00 A.M.

The licensee of a late night business establishment shall not cause or permit to be caused any noise or other nuisance on the premises whereby the quiet and good order of the premises or of the neighborhood is disturbed. The City Council shall have the authority to revoke or suspend a license issued hereunder, or to refuse to renew a license when it finds:

It shall be unlawful for any number of persons to congregate for any time whatsoever at any location on the premises of a late night business establishment other than in the business building, or in a legally parked motor vehicle. Any person so congregating shall be deemed guilty of loitering. No person shall drive a motor vehicle onto the premises of a business and then from such premises without parking such motor vehicle and getting service, unless there is no parking space available on the premises of such establishment.

SECTION 111.21 POSTING REQUIRED

All late night business establishments shall post, in conspicuous locations, including the parking lot, signs prohibiting loitering (gatherings outside vehicles), alcoholic beverages, loud noises (racing motors, music, etc.), disorderly conduct, and cruising, and that violators will be prosecuted.

EXCEPT AS HEREIN MODIFIED, SAID ORDINANCE SHALL REMAIN IN FULL FORCE AND EFFECT.

THIS AMENDATORY ORDINANCE IS DECLARED TO BE EFFECTIVE UPON PUBLICATION AS REQUIRED BY LAW.

Reading beyond the label

With today's shopper becoming increasingly more interested in reading labels, now is as good a time as any to clarify product definitions.

Translating the language on labels can be tricky. When it comes to purchasing meat and poultry alone, there are more than 30 assorted labels that could mean something totally different than what you had in mind.

The definitions posted below are a requirement by the U.S. Department of Agriculture when labeling all meat and poultry sold in the United States.

Extra Lean This product must contain 5 percent or less fat. The actual amount must be indicated on the label.

Lean and Low Fat This product must contain 10 percent or less fat. Again, the actual amount must be indicated on label.

Lite, Lighter, Leaner and Lower Fat These products must contain at least 25 percent less fat than similar products on the market. Be aware that "lite" can have various meanings, including a reduction in fat, calories, sodium or breading on a product. Read the label.

Natural These products are minimally processed and contain no artificial colors, flavors or preservatives.

Imitation This product is made to resemble or substitute for another product. "Imitation crab," for instance, must appear on products that look like crab but do not contain specific ingredients required by USDA standards.

Irradiation This newly approved process is a low-level dose of radiation used to kill insects or bacteria. Irradiated foods must be labeled "treated with radiation" or "treated by radiation" and an irradiation logo must be shown on the label. The 21st century will be bringing forth many products treated in this manner.

Sodium Free or Salt Free These products do not necessarily mean sodium is not present in the product but that the product contains 5 milligrams or less sodium per serving. Interesting, eh?

Very Low Sodium This product must contain 35 milligrams or less sodium per serving.

Low Sodium This product must contain 140 milligrams or less sodium per serving.

Unsalted or No Salt Added These products are processed strictly without salt. However, these products may contain other sources of sodium, such as monosodium glutamate. Always read the ingredient statement.

Reduced Sodium These products must contain 75 percent less sodium than the original product.

Lower Salt or Less Salt These products must contain 25 percent less sodium than the original product.

Although it has nothing to do with meat or poultry products, the package statement that reads:

Garden to table with new flavors

By S. Marty Figley
special writer

You may be familiar with basil, tarragon, chives, parsley and the more common herbs, but may not have an acquaintance with some unusual herbs that will perk up a meal and also look pretty in the garden.

The question "Now that I have it, what will I do with it?" may deter a person from trying unfamiliar flavors. Let me introduce you to six annual herbs that may be new to you. Remember when we used to have fruits and vegetables only "in season?" Now, as with many foods, herbs can be purchased at any time of the year, but for peak flavor, fresh herbs right out of the garden cannot be beat.

Perhaps you will want to try a few of these special annuals and discover the pleasure of growing your own seasonings, with little effort, and much reward! I'll include suggestions as to how they should be grown, what part to use, when to harvest and what to do with the harvest. May your summer dishes shine with new flavor because of these wonderful plants!

First we'll begin with Borage (Borago officinalis). This pretty herb has large leaves that are grey-green, and the bright blue star-shaped flowers are edible.

When the plant is in flower the young leaves can be harvested. They should be finely chopped when used in salads such as

Home cooking anchored at Old Port

When you really feel the urge for a great home-cooked meal and really lack the urge to make it yourself, a trip to Old Port of Rochester may get you what you're tasting for.

Since opening in June 1985, Old Port has served up a friendly atmosphere and reasonably priced food to families and those less encumbered.

Owner Nich Andreopoulos started in the restaurant business in 1974 after coming to the U.S. from Greece. He began first with an Old Port Inn on 14 Mile Road in Clawson, then added the Rochester facility four years ago. Not seeking to be where the elite meet, Old Port caters to a clientele in search of good home cooking.

Here, children — even cranky ones — are welcome. Families are seated and served quickly, and requests for extra napkins and silverware settings without knives are instantly understood. Best is when Andreopoulos visits the table and promises child patrons a sucker "if you eat all your food and are good," a promise parents of finicky eaters appreciate and children heed, until they figure out that the sucker is theirs, clean plate or not.

ALTHOUGH THE child aspect is important to baby-producing baby boomers, the real draw at Old Port, of course, is the food.

Ask for roast turkey and you will get turkey sliced from a real bird . . . not one pressed into service. A heaping helping is served over an equally filling, safely spiced portion of stuffing, sided with mashed potatoes and a vegetable. We didn't care for the color of the gravy — too yellow — but it's flavor was close enough to home to reorder in the future.

The vegetables — carrots in this instance — were not all that great, cooked too much and overbuttered. The mashed potatoes, however, were real. Cranberry sauce, salad, bread basket and dessert enhanced the main course, which came at a bargain price of $3.95.

The turkey is usually one of the "specials," menu items that change daily. It is on this sheet that you will find things, like stuffed cabbage, pork chops (three of them), sirloin tips on noodles — none that are fabulous but all that are quite tasty and probably better than what you could make at home.

Regular menu items range from Greek dishes, including a very passable stuffed grape leaves in lemon sauce at $4.15, to seafood selections that start with fried clams at $3.80 to scallops to a red snapper at $5.35. Meat and potato types will appreciate a good selection of steaks and chops ranging in price from $4.50 for chopped sirloin to $7.75 for a 12-ounce New York strip. Basic pasta dishes and barbecues are also on the menu.

THE CHILD'S menu is varied and reasonable, starting with spaghetti with meat sauce at $1.95 and staying under $2.15 for more substantial kid meals such as hot beef with potatoes and vegetable.

Although Old Port Inn could probably perfect the grape leaves and rectify the yellow gravy if it was more focused, it seems to be thriving on variety rather than specialty.

Andreopoulos must be doing something right where others did not. Old Port is the sixth restaurant to be the anchor eatery at this location in the Rochester Hills Plaza on Walton, just west of Livernois. Machus, French Chateau and Western Stockade are among those who tried and then closed doors for one reason or another.

Maybe it's the addition of windows (a customer request to put daylight into a gloomy interior) or simply the result of a population increase in Rochester, but "business is going up" and Old Port is staying put, says Andreopoulos. Indeed, it has a loyal following. One senior citizen couple decided to have their wedding reception there — definitely a casual affair, needless to say.

Another thing we enjoyed about Old Port was the friendly atmosphere. It starts with Andreopoulos and filters down. The hostess, the waitresses, the bus boys are nice, pleasant. They make an effort to provide a comfortable setting in which to eat.

WITH ALL THIS in mind, we can live with an uninspired decor and an occasional menu miss out of a whole lot of hits. You get plenty of food that tastes good for not a lot of money. We'll be back.

Details: Old Port of Rochester, 1416 Walton Blvd., Rochester Hills, 651-1730. Hours: 6 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week. Prices: Breakfast specials begin at $1.49. Dinners top out at $7.75. All meals include salad, bread basket. Value: This is food like you might make at home, or better. Nothing fancy, or spectacular but you can feed a family of four for $15 and that's a bargain.

ly surprises me are the reduced-calorie, low-calorie, diet and sugarless labels.

Be aware that just because a product is labeled "diet" or "dietette" doesn't necessarily mean it's lower in calories. These labels mean that just one ingredient is different, affecting calories or sodium. It is important to read the label to determine the difference.

"Reduced-calorie" products are products that are at least 1/4 lower in calories than "usual" for that food. The USDA doesn't specify what "usual" means, so many manufacturers get away with calling their products "reduced calorie" when, in fact, they are not.

In order to be classified as "low calorie," the product must contain 40 calories or less per serving. And finally, any product labeled "sugarless" cannot contain table sugar but could, in fact, contain other sweeteners such as honey, corn syrup, fructose or sorbitol.

Now for the clincher. While writing the story with a copy of the USDA Bulletin No. 238 on food labeling in front of me, I wanted to know how our readers like you can get their mitts on USDA brochures such as this one. I called the USDA office in Ann Arbor three times and all three times was told they had no information on food bulletins, they never heard of the Federal Information Agency in Pueblo, Colo., and if I needed more information, I should contact my local County Cooperative Extension Office. So much for government bureaucrats.

But persistence prevails. After striking out with the USDA, in Ann Arbor, the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service, (it handles county matters, not federal), I finally got through to Congressman Carl Purcell's Office. His very helpful liaison, Denise Radtke, steered me to an undisclosed USDA number in Detroit where I was very respectfully treated and told to contact the USDA 800 consumer hotline.

This hotline is a toll-free call that can be made Mondays-Fridays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. It will direct you to assorted governmental brochures on just about anything. I then contacted the GPO (Government Printing Office) in downtown Detroit where again I was told that numerous publications are available, some free, but most for a nominal charge.

Last but not least, I tracked down the address to the Federal Information Agency where you can write and request governmental brochures on just about any subject. Write FIA at its Consumer Information Center, Department AP, Pueblo, Colo. 81009.

It's easy to switch to vegetarian diet

Being a vegetarian can be fun, inexpensive and just as nutritious as eating meat.

With a variety of everyday food items and no change in basic cooking techniques you can easily prepare vegetarian meals. One of the main reasons people choose a vegetarian diet is the increasing evidence of its healthful effect on weight, blood pressure and lower cholesterol levels.

Don't rush into deciding to change eating habits overnight. Try vegetarian meals once a week or every other day before you stop buying meat altogether. Make any decision a family affair.

Before you decide to change, talk to other vegetarians or look through ethnic or vegetarian cookbooks for ideas that you and your family can live with. Common ethnic foods such as Chinese rice and vegetables, Mexican refried beans and rice, Italian manicotti and Greek spinach and cheese pie are suitable vegetarian meals. Simple macaroni and cheese, bean salad, peanut butter sandwiches and pea soup with crackers are everyday dishes that make the change to being a vegetarian easy.

Vegetarians fall into the following categories depending on the protein source. Semi-vegetarians still consume some fish and chicken and maybe the occasional bit of red meat but have increased the amounts of fruits, vegetables and grains (many of us fall into this category).

Lacto-vegetarians eat a variety of grains, nuts, beans, fruits and vegetables, plus eggs and dairy products. Lacto-vegetarians consume a diet similar to the lacto although they avoid eggs. Vegans are the most strict of all. They consume only fruit, vegetables and grains, avoiding all animal products.

MOST AMERICANS eat meat at least once a day. The only change vegetarians have to make is planning a main dish for the primary meal of the day, a dish that contains complementary proteins. A combination of grains, seeds, legumes, nuts, milk, eggs, dried peas and beans and vegetables should be chosen.

Any of those food items, when eaten together, contain protein. Complementing proteins is something we do every day when we pour milk over cereal, eat a cheese sandwich or eat peanut butter cookies with milk.

Your body doesn't care where it gets its protein, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins and minerals, so don't worry that it won't function properly if you revise your eating habits.

Depending on the amounts of non-meat products eaten, you can also save money and possibly keep your calorie intake low. American diets have long been low in fiber which is important to good nutrition. Vegetarians have this problem beat because they get plenty of fiber from grains, fruits and vegetables.

ANOTHER ADVANTAGE of vegetarian eating is the creativity it can bring into the kitchen when using a wide variety of substitutes for meat. Interesting, new, simple-to-prepare dishes can liven up the lives of most cooks who are tired of preparing the same well-worn recipes.

Becoming a vegetarian will take extra time at first to change shopping habits and look for nutritious food combinations.

'Comfort foods' work with healthy lifestyle

At times, our moods can get the better of us and sabotage our good eating habits. Many of us find ourselves reaching for certain "comfort foods" when we are bored, upset, anxious or excited. Indeed our moods can influence what we choose to eat.

"Comfort foods," for example, remind us of childhood memories and of the special treats our mothers used to make. Somehow, these foods always seemed to make things better.

When you are feeling sad or lonely, do you ever find yourself with the desire to spoon into something creamy like ice cream or pudding? Or do you wish for a breakfast of french toast with butter, powdered sugar and loads of syrup - just like you remember from your childhood mornings?

These "comfort foods" are familiar to us. And in today's age of stress and anxiety, the foods we grew up with remind us of safer times.

BUT THIS IS 1989 and we now know that many of these fondly remembered treats contain fat, sodium and calories. Fortunately, we can still enjoy eating "comfort foods" that have been updated for today's healthier lifestyle.

Remember, eating certain foods will not eliminate or "take care of" strong moods. Try to accept your moods and recognize them as a normal state of feeling.

But when the going gets tough and you crave some babying, soothe yourself in a way that will benefit your health needs. You can comfort yourself without sacrificing healthy eating habits.

The next time you reach for something gooey or creamy to pick up your spirits, try one of the following recipes created to help comfort you without the added calories.

New flavors in herbs go from garden to table

lettuce, cucumber or potato. The leaves are also good in sour cream or yogurt to use with baked potatoes or vegetables. The flowers can be added to fruit cups and cool drinks. They can also be candied by dipping them into one beaten egg white mixed with one tablespoon of water, then sprinkled with fine sugar and allowed to dry. Store them in an airtight container in single layers.

Borage can be started from seeds sown outside and prefers a sunny location with well-drained soil. The seeds germinate quickly — five to six weeks when the soil is kept moist. It self-sows to provide a crop for the following year. Bees also like the flowers.

For a fun experience, throw leaves in the barbecue fire and watch them pop. The fire releases the nitrate of potash found in the plant.

Chervil (Anthriscus cerefolium) is an aromatic, slightly sweet herb that is the gourmet's parsley, and used by the French more than regular parsley. It adds a nice decorative touch to any dish. One can hardly ever use too much.

The pale green, delicate, lacy leaves should be harvested before the white blossoms appear. Choose the outside leaves so the central crown will continue to grow. You will be able to harvest continually if the flower stems are removed.

THE FRESH LEAVES can be used in salads and salad dressings, to flavor chicken, or in soups. Try a bit in cottage or cream cheese, or make into an herb butter. Combine 1/4 sour cream or yogurt with one teaspoon Dijon mustard, two teaspoons fresh minced chives and two teaspoons fresh minced chervil. Toss with cooked beets. Yummy.

Seeds should be sown in moist, slightly shady soil where it is to grow, since it does not transplant well. It does not like hot, dry conditions. Keep the ground moist until it sprouts; it may need to be thinned. Chervil will self-sow.

Lemon Verbena (Alloysia triphylla) has long, thin, light green leaves with a lemon scent that remains for years. The white flowers are insignificant. Victorians used the leaves in finger bowls — a great idea.

Harvest the leaves any time and enjoy the lemon flavor in drinks, salads, sauces and mushroom dishes.

It can also be used in stuffing for chicken, pork and fish. Lemon Verbena is such a versatile herb. It can also be added to summer fruit dishes and drinks.

Fresh leaves are tough, so they should be removed before serving when used in marinades, beverages and salad dressings. Tea is enhanced by a bit of mint. The leaves can be put in the bottom of a container of home-made ice cream or a jar of jelly. Do not consume these leaves.

PURCHASE A small plant for your summer herb garden and plant it in well-drained soil. Poor soil with a bit of humus added suits it fine. I wouldn't put it in full sun. Partial shade is best.

I have included Rosemary (Rosemarinus officinalis) because it is fun to use fresh and, since it must be treated like an annual in our climate, many people haven't experienced the flavor of newly grown rosemary. It is very hardy in California and other Western states. The leaves are like dark green coniferous needles and the plant can grow quite large in ideal conditions.

Rosemary leaves can be harvested when the plant is small. Just be sure not to reduce the size of the plant more than 1/3 at a time. The flavor enhances apple dishes, baked fish, lamb, shellfish, veal and chicken. It is also a versatile herb that can be added to casseroles, vegetables, marinades, rice, biscuits, jellies, jams and even fruit salads.

For extra aromatics when grilling, add a handful to the coals during the last 10 minutes of cooking. The flavor is rather piquant, so use it sparingly at first, especially when dried.

For a unique and pretty taste treat, cut baking potatoes lengthwise, lay a sprig or two of fresh rosemary across the cut side, sprinkle with salt and lay the potatoes in a pan sprayed with a nonstick product. Rub the outside with vegetable oil and bake 45 minutes or so in a 400-degree oven.

WHEN PLANTING in a light, sandy soil in a sunny spot, remove the tip of the main shoot so that branching will be encouraged. If you sink pot and all into the ground, it is possible to successfully winter it over indoors, given proper care.

I believe when savory is mentioned most people automatically think of winter savory. Summer Savory (Satureja hortensis) is a great culinary herb.

Harvest the slightly thick, small narrow leaves before it flowers. It can be dried for future use.

Try butter, garlic, lemon juice and savory over freshly cooked green or yellow beans. It is also good in cucumber salads, pork, poultry, eggs and soup dishes and is especially appropriate for lentil soup and scalloped potatoes. If you are watching your intake of salt, summer savory is the herb for you.

Sow seeds of this strongly aromatic plant in a sunny spot, well spaced to allow room for its bushy habit. It likes fairly rich soil. The tiny white or light purple flowers bloom from July to September and attract bees. It does not self-sow.

And finally, Sweet Marjoram (Origanum majorana). Although marjoram is in the same family as oregano, the flavor is different. It is sweet and spicy and is best when the plant is in the flowering stage.

IF CUT just prior to the blossoming stage, blossoming will be prevented, thus prolonging the harvest season. Rub the leaves into a roast or poultry. It is also good in German potato soup, meat casseroles (added shortly before serving), stuffings, eggs, cheese and to flavor vinegar.

The plant grows to one foot tall, therefore can be used in the border. The grey-green, rounded, velvety leaves are small, and before it blooms (from June to September), a knot-like shape appears, then the pale mauve or white flowers open. Sometimes this herb is called knotted marjoram.

Sow the seeds in a sheltered sunny place in full sun. Alkaline soil is preferred, and it does best with a summer mulch. It needs more frequent watering than many herbs. Cuttings root easily if you wish to increase your supply.

As you begin to experiment with these perhaps new-to-you plants, try a bit at a time, until you find the correct amount just right for your taste.

Most of them can be grown from seed, but many can be found growing at your favorite nursery, ready to be set in the garden. When cold weather arrives and you want to enjoy the flavor of a favorite, in the dried state, a rule of thumb is to use two thirds less dried herb than fresh. Experiment... there really is no "culinary secret" associated with herbs.

Following are a few recipes to get you started on a new savory adventure.

GLAZED BABY CARROTS WITH CHERVIL

2 pounds young carrots
1/4 cup butter
1 teaspoon sugar
1 tablespoon chopped chervil salt and pepper to taste

Cook carrots eight minutes in boiling salted water until still slightly firm. Drain, set aside. Clean pan and melt butter and sugar. Add carrots, turn and coat, cook gently another 10 minutes, turning constantly to coat well. Add salt and pepper, sprinkle with chervil.

SAVORY GREEN BEAN SALAD

1 1/2 pounds fresh green beans, cut in half with ends trimmed
1/4 cup white wine vinegar
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
1 teaspoon dried mustard

1/2 teaspoon brown sugar
1 tablespoon minced red onion
1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh savory
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground white pepper salt to taste
1/2 cup virgin olive oil

2 six-ounce jars marinated artichoke hearts, drained
1/2 medium-sized red onion, sliced into rings plus 2 tablespoons minced red onion
2 tablespoons chopped fresh parsley
2 tablespoons chopped fresh savory
Optional garnishes: cherry tomato halves, crumbled mild feta cheese.

Steam beans with few sprigs of savory until crisp-tender (do not overcook). Plunge into ice water. Drain and pat dry. Mix next eight ingredients. Slowly drizzle in the olive oil.

Gently toss the beans in the vinaigrette, adding other ingredients. Sprinkle with freshly ground white pepper and salt if desired. An alternative presentation is to arrange the beans in a spoke fashion with artichoke hearts, red onion rings and feta cheese in the center.

CHICKEN WITH ROSEMARY

2 whole chicken breasts, skinned
1/4 cup flour
2 tablespoons olive oil
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons fresh rosemary

4 cloves unpeeled garlic
1/2 cup dry white wine
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
2 tablespoons chopped parsley salt and pepper to taste.

Split chicken breast in half, trim neatly. Dredge chicken in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Heat oil and butter in heavy skillet large enough to hold chicken in one layer. Add chicken, rosemary and garlic. Cook about four minutes or until pieces nicely brown on one side. Turn and cook four-five minutes on other side. Do not cover. Pour off fat from skillet. Leave chicken, rosemary and garlic in skillet. Pour in wine and bring to boil. Add lemon juice and parsley. Cover closely and cook three minutes longer. Remove and discard garlic cloves and serve. Serves 4.

LEMON VERBENA

vanilla and lemon ice cream
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar
2 egg yolks, beaten
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 cup double cream
1 teaspoon chopped fresh lemon verbena leaves

Partially beat cream. Make a custard with milk, sugar and beaten egg yolk, by heating milk and sugar, then pouring onto the egg yolk, stirring constantly. Return to pan. Heat very slowly, stirring constantly, until thick. Don't let it curdle. Strain, add vanilla, allow to cool. Fold in lemon verbena and partially whipped cream. Pour into ice cube tray and freeze.

Abortion protesters return after sentence

JIM JAGOFELD/staff photographer

Colleen Bassett returned to the health clinic on 6 Mile west of Inkster Road Thursday afternoon to carry a picket sign.

By Marla Chestney
staff writer

Colleen Bassett, 41, had two reasons to go back Thursday to the health clinic in a western Wayne County location where she had been arrested Nov. 12 for disorderly conduct.

The first was to continue to protest abortions performed at the Women's Advisory Center, 27549 Six Mile near Ipkster Road.

The second was to protest the $1,125 in fines, court costs and other fees imposed on her and six other people after a 16th District Court jury Monday found the seven guilty of disorderly conduct in blocking the doorway last year of the health center. The seven had requested a jury trial.

DISTRICT JUDGE James McCann handed down the sentences for the misdemeanor charge Monday immediately after the three-hour trial for the seven ended.

"We were very surprised at that kind of harsh sentence," said Bassett. "This is being used as a political tool to crush the rescue mission. Political power came down hard on us."

"The punishment didn't fit the crime. Therein lies the injustice. Taking your lumps is one thing, but to be totally shot down is another."

This protester was arrested earlier this month when another rescue mission was held at the health clinic.

'We don't want to be shackled so tightly that we can't protest. What we have here today is a quiet, legal statement against abortion.'

— Colleen Bassett
abortion protester

To show that the rescue mission hadn't been stopped in Livonia, Bassett and numerous other anti-abortionists picketed the health center Thursday afternoon. (Rescue mission is the description given by anti-abortionists for when the gather at an abortion clinic and sit-down at the entrance to prevent an abortion from taking place.)

"We don't want to be shackled so tightly that we can't protest," Bassett said. "What we have here today is a quiet, legal statement against abortion."

Along with about 50 other demonstrators, Livonia police arrested the seven outside the clinic last year when they sat on the ground in front of the door and sang hymns, thus blocking entrance to the building.

The demonstration led to a noisy confrontation between pro-abortion, anti-abortion and various political groups outside the medical center.

THE MAXIMUM penalty for the disorderly conduct misdemeanor charge is a $500 fine and/or 90 days in jail.

Judge McCann ordered the seven to pay a $200 fine, $275 court costs, and $5 state fee, or serve 20 days in jail. He also ordered them to serve 25 days of community service and 18 months probation. Their cost to participate in the community work program will be $375; while their cost to participate in the probation program will be $270.

The other protesters who pleaded no contest to the same charge from the same protest were ordered to pay $175 and given three months' probation.

Bassett and four others paid the fine. They are: Earl Amyotie, 56 of Windsor; Martin Haclas, 37, of Sterling Heights; Margaret O'Dea, 42, of Southfield; and Christine Jones, 42, of Ann Arbor.

Thomas Bonenfant, 32, of Redford, refused to pay and is now in the Shiawassee County Jail in Corunna.

By posting a $1,000 bond, Kathy Rucinski, 39, of Plymouth, has appealed the verdict to Wayne Circuit Court.

CITY OF GARDEN CITY
NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING TAXES
June 5, 1989

The Mayor and Council of the City of Garden City will hold a hearing on the proposal to increase property taxes by levying the same 16.6 mills as 1988 even through State Equalized Values have increased more rapidly than the Consumer Price Index. The public hearing will be conducted at 7:00 P.M. on June 5, 1989, in the City Council Chambers of the City Hall, 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan.

Without this increase the millage rate for general operations of the City would be a maximum of 15.77 mills. The proposed increase of 1.03 mills will produce $335,600, and amounts to an increase of 6.33 percent. The total number of mills to be levied, including the proposed additional millage rate, would be within the voter approved and previously authorized millage rate and is the same as the millage levied in 1988.

The City Council has complete authority under State law to establish the number of mills to be levied within its authorized millage rate.

Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the hearing on the proposed additional millage rate.

County warns pet owners about rabies

Warm weather means rabies season is approaching and Wayne County residents are warned to have their pets immunized.

The number of rabid animals found in Michigan has been rising. There were 35 rabid animals discovered last year, including 21 bats, eight skunks, two foxes, two cats and two dogs. The figure is a 20 percent increase over the number of rabid animals found in 1987. One case, a rabid bat, was reported in suburban Wayne County.

Four rabid animals have been discovered thus far this year, including a raccoon. The raccoon poses a special concern, health officials said, because Michigan has traditionally recorded a low incidence of rabies among raccoons and the animals are in routine contact with human beings and pets.

Immediate treatment is necessary because rabies is nearly always fatal in human beings once symptoms have begun, county health director Dr. Donald Lawrence said.

Though rabies is generally transmitted through an animal bite, it can also be transmitted through a scratch.

Symptoms include a sense of apprehension, followed by headache, fever, malaise and changes in nerve senses. Paralysis usually follows. Spasms in muscles used for swallowing, resulting in a fear of water. Delirium and convulsions follow, leading to death.

Symptoms usually occur within two weeks to two months after exposure. County health department recommendations include:

- Having pets vaccinated.
 - Avoiding contact with wild animals.
 - Reporting all bites as quickly as possible so the animal can be quarantined and tested, if necessary.
- Additional information is available by calling the Wayne County Health Department, 326-4900 or the county disease control division, 467-3325.

County buildings may be contaminated

Wayne County is warning trespassers to stay away from abandoned county-owned buildings near Sheldon, between Five and Six Mile roads, in Northville Township.

The buildings, formerly part of the county Child Development Center, are being investigated for potential PCB contamination.

County health officials suspect PCBs may have been released from building electrical transformers. "It appears as though someone was trying to strip them to see if anything could be salvaged," county environmental health director Glenn Brown said. "The damage could have forced PCBs to be released."

PCB, or polychlorinated biphenyl, was used as insulation material in electrical equipment manufactured before the 1970s. Contact with PCBs has been linked to caused rashes, swelling and intestinal distress. The potential contamination poses no threat to homeowners living near the property, Brown said.

"ALMOST ALL of it would have been released in the buildings themselves," he said. "Little would have escaped outside." Because of the nature of the material, he added, the chances for widespread soil contamination were remote.

Northville Township police discovered transformer damage during a routine check of the buildings, Brown said.

Thought no one currently occupies the buildings, they are frequently vandalized.

The property is being offered for sale by the county. Brown said it was likely a new owner would demolish the buildings.

HEEL PAIN
Heel pain is a common problem which in most cases has a likely cause: injury. Between the thick skin of the bottom of the foot and the hard substance of the heel bone is a tough tissue that nevertheless is vulnerable to trauma. Following injury and when healing occurs, a small amount of calcium may form at the site of injury. This calcium acts like a splinter and irritates the surrounding tissue.

Often heel spurs are invoked as the culprits for heel pain, as their dagger like projections on x-ray imply something sharp and injurious. However, the spur follows the natural line of tissue insertion into the heel bone and is not usually the source of irritation.

Treatment of heel pain begins with heat, cessation of repetitive foot movements, and insertion of padding into the heel of the shoe. If these measures fail, then drug therapy is in order. My favorite medication is butazolidine. Injection into the site of pain is a popular treatment, but not the one I favor. I find it difficult to place a needle so that it will accurately penetrate the thick skin of the heel.

If all of the above fail, I feel that surgery is in order.

Eagles swoop by Taylor Center

Zenalda Perez scattered five hits and three walks as Class B Redford Thurston pulled off one of the major upsets of the softball season by upsetting previously unbeaten Taylor Center, the No. 1-ranked team in Class A, 3-1 Wednesday at Thurston.

"The kids are all excited," said Eagle coach Ron Lectka. "This is the biggest win around here in quite a while. We're playing real well right now."

JIM JAGDFELO/staff photographer

Stacy Seese scoops up the grounder at third for another Thurston out.

Taylor Center, which had won 19-straight games behind the pitching of Wendy Jamula, struck first with a run in the second. But Thurston retaliated with a three-run third on RBI singles by Michelle Birchmeir, Anne Marie Mass and Stacy Seese, all coming off Jamula.

The victory was the Eagles' 11th in 16 games. They got No. 12 on Thursday in a Class B pre-district qualifying game against Redford Bishop Borgess, 28-0 at Borgess. DeDe Dzubak was the winning pitcher in the five-inning mercy, allowing just five hits.

FRANKLIN 7, WESTERN 4: Leslie Szafarski's bases-loaded triple sparked a five-run second inning for Livonia Franklin and triggered the Patriots' victory Thursday at Walled Lake Western. Franklin is 13-8 overall, 7-3 in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Szafarski added a run-scoring single and two walks. She finished with four RBI and scored two runs. Emily Skura had two hits and an RBI and Sandy Herhel had two hits. Lisa Allen was the winning pitcher, giving up four hits and eight walks, striking out seven.

On Wednesday, Franklin completed a game suspended by rain after 3 1/2 innings the previous Friday, defeating Plymouth Canton 4-2 at Canton. All four Franklin runs came in the fourth, with doubles by Skura, Beth Hare and Szafarski leading the rally. Allen got the pitching win with a one-hitter.

GLENN 4, FARMINGTON 1: A three-run sixth inning without a hit, ignited by four Farmington errors, lifted Westland John Glenn to victory Friday and into a tie for the Lakes Division title — the second-straight year the Rockets topped the division.

Each team managed just four hits, but the Falcons committed seven errors. Jenny Massey was the winning pitcher, running her record to 14-3; Lisa Rockafellow was the loser. Each walked one and struck out two.

For Glenn — which improved to 17-4 overall, 12-3 in the WLAA and 9-1 in the division — Tracy Sylvestor had two hits, and Christina Hoffman and Sherrie Kowtko socked doubles.

softball

In a predistrict qualifying game Wednesday against Detroit MacKenzie, Glenn won on a 4 1/2 inning mercy, 17-0 at Glenn. Massey had three hits (a single, double and triple) and knocked in six runs. Hoffman and Leslie Martin added two hits apiece. Massey was the winning pitcher, allowing one hit and one walk.

RU 12, WOODHAVEN 10: Jenny Gerathy delivered four runs with two doubles and Gina Yowell collected three hits and two RBI in Redford Union's Northwest Suburban League victory over Woodhaven Friday at RU.

Janet Hietala was the winning pitcher. Laurie Juengling also had a hit and two RBI, as RU improved to 8-8 overall, 5-3 in the NSL — second behind Garden City.

RU 7, CHURCHILL 5: A six-run sixth inning carried the Panthers past Livonia Churchill in a Class A predistrict qualifying game Thursday at Churchill.

Laurie Juengling had two hits and two RBI for Redford Union, and Becky O'Leary added a hit and an RBI. Janet Hietala gave up seven hits and 10 walks, striking out six, to get the win. Jackie Hebert had two hits for Churchill.

On Friday, Plymouth Canton pounded the Chargers 17-7. Danette Reum was the losing pitcher, as Churchill fell to 2-20. Stacey Thompson was the winning pitcher and had four hits, including a homer, for Canton.

GARDEN CITY 23, CHURCHILL 0: Kim Reith had four hits, including three triples, and drove in four runs for the Cougars Wednesday at Garden City. Doreen Malone was the winning pitcher in the five-inning mercy, allowing two hits and two walks and striking out nine.

C'VILLE 30, LUTHERAN WEST 4: Rhonda Saunders tossed a two-hit triumph, walking eight and striking out four, in a five-inning mercy at Livonia Clarenceville Wednesday over Detroit Lutheran West.

Saunders also had four hits, including a three-run homer, and drove in five runs. Colleen Wood contributed four hits (one a homer) and four RBI, Carrie Buell had four hits and two RBI and Angie Stevens had three hits and three RBI, as the Trojans improved to 7-7 overall, 6-6 in the Metro Conference.

SALEM 9, STEVENSON 8: Plymouth Salem struck for seven runs in the first two innings, a deficit that proved too large to overcome for Livonia Stevenson Friday at Salem.

The Spartans rallied to close within a run in the seventh, scoring after Carrie Palmisano's single was misplayed by the Salem center fielder, allowing Palmisano to reach third. She scored on Jackie Richardson's second single of the game, but Richardson was forced at second base to end the game.

Krystyn Marx added three hits and an RBI for Stevenson. Kelly Cotter was the losing pitcher. She gave up four hits to Katie Vesnaugh and two-run doubles to Ann Munding in the first and Tracie Robinson in the second.

Garden City eyes title co-share

Garden City positioned itself for a share of the Northwest Suburban League baseball crown by pounding out 18 hits in a 14-5 victory Friday over visiting Dearborn.

The Cougars, now 7-11 overall and 4-3 in the NSL, can gain a co-championship by winning Tuesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Bob Stubbs paced the GC hit parade. He belted a two-run homer in a 3-for-4 performance. Dustin Adkins went 3-for-5, including a double, triple and two RBI.

Winning pitcher Tate Hines helped his own cause by cracking a two-run homer in the fourth. Hines allowed six hits, walked three and fanned six in six innings.

The Cougars scored nine times in the third inning after falling behind 5-0. Joe Gorak had a two-run double, while Scott Sherlock and Mick Newport each added two-run singles during the surge.

STEVENSON 2, NOVI 0: Pitcher Mike Dallmont tossed a one-hitter Thursday to lead Livonia Stevenson to a Class A predistrict victory over Novi (15-5). Dallmont allowed only a sixth-inning double by Scott Wladischkin to pick up the win. He fanned nine and walked only two in seven innings of work.

The Spartan hurler outdueled Novi's Scott Ross, who was equally as impressive. He allowed only one hit over six innings.

The Spartans scored both of their runs in the fifth — each on suicide squeeze bunts. Bo Diamond brought home Doug Wasserman with one out and Rob Chanko followed by bringing in Brian Piergentilli.

On Friday, Plymouth Salem clinched the Lakes Division crown in the Western Lakes Activities Association for the second straight year with a 6-4 win in nine innings.

The Rocks, who finished 8-2 in the Lakes, scored the game-winner on Kevin O'Leary's sacrifice fly in the top of the ninth.

Reliever Scott Kosikowski took the loss for the Spartans, now 6-13 overall, while Salem reliever Rob Kowalski picked up the win.

baseball

Piergentilli went 3-for-3 in a losing cause, including a three-run homer in the third.

Tim Lake and Scott Niemi each collected three hits for Rocks, now 12-8 overall.

JOHN GLENN 15, FARMINGTON 3: The Rockets settled for second place Friday in the Lakes Division of the WLAA despite beating the host Falcons. Glenn is 15-5 overall, 10-5 overall in the WLAA and finished 7-3 in the Lakes.

Jerry Koester pitched a complete game, scattering five hits while striking out eight for the Rockets.

Lawrence Scheffer went 4-for-5 in a 13-hit Glenn attack. He knocked in three runs as did teammates Jeff Elkins and Bryant Satterlee (three-run double).

On Thursday, Glenn lost a suspended game to Salem, 6-5, as the Rocks rallied from a 5-3 deficit when play was stopped on May 12 after four innings because of rain.

Kowalski (see above) pitched three scoreless innings to relief to pick up the win, while Mark Johnson (3-1) took the loss.

Salem won it in the sixth when Dennis Hansen doubled home Scott Rodgers and J.P. LaRoche. Lake added an RBI single in the fifth.

Eric Solver, Koester, Satterlee and Koester each knocked in a run for the Rockets.

In the second game, Lake blasted a two-run homer to give Salem a 10-1 win.

Stover and Scheffer each had two hits in a losing cause.

Salem's Dave Makowiec (six innings) was the winning pitcher, while Glenn starter Brian Stephenson took the loss.

WAYNE 6, FRANKLIN 2: Senior left-hander Jamie Smith raised his record to 3-1 Wednesday, tossing a five-hitter, as the host Zebras won a Class A predistrict qualifier against Livonia Franklin.

Center fielder Rob Puckett was the offensive hero, going 3-for-3 with two RBI and two stolen bases. Brent Tapp and Todd Florn added two hits apiece. Joe Coughlin delivered a key two-run triple in a four-run fourth inning.

Pitcher Dan Murray, who went the distance for Franklin, suffered the loss.

Jeff Benyo had an RBI single and Brian Bartz scored the Patriots' other run on a Wayne infield error.

On Friday, Wayne slipped to 7-14 overall and 4-8 in the Wolverine A League, losing to Belleville, 14-7.

Wayne collected 12 hits, as the Tapp brothers (Brian and Brent) each had three and knocked in two runs apiece.

Florn and Mike Synlewski each contributed two hits.

Earlier in the week, Wayne beat Dearborn Fordson, 13-1, as Puckett had a triple and two singles. Brent Tapp, Coughlin and Jayson Mitchell each contributed two hits.

Billy Wicker, the winning pitcher, allowed just three hits and fanned seven.

On Thursday, Walled Lake Western outslugged Franklin, 13-11, leaving the Patriots with a 5-12 overall record.

LUTHERAN WSLD. 11, CALVARY 9: John Sobczyk went 3-for-4 and knocked in five runs Friday, leading host Lutheran High Westland (12-5) to a win over Roseville Calvary Christian.

The Warriors took a 9-6 lead in the third and never looked back after Sobczyk's bases-loaded single.

Jamie Longlois also contributed to the victory with two hits, including a double and two RBI.

Greg Hughes, the winning pitcher, worked the first five innings. Reliever Steve Aumann pitched two scoreless innings to pick up the save.

On Thursday, the Warriors advanced in the Class D state tourney with a 13-3 mercy-rule (five innings) triumph over host Detroit St. Hedwig.

Pitcher Mike Hardies picked up the win. He scattered three hits, walked only one and struck out 10.

Longlois led a 13-hit attack with three hits. Hardies, Kevin Geatin and Jason Zlinski each contributed two hits and two RBI.

Farmington girls stun regional field

By Keith Postler

Farmington High School traveled a long way for Friday's Class A regionals at Southfield. But the Falcons girls made the trip worthwhile.

Farmington nipped Farmington Hills Mercy for first place, edging the Marlins, 67-62, to grab the 1989 Class A Regional crown.

Julie Lawton earned Farmington its first prize in the high jump with a leap of 5-4; Jennifer Kiel was first in the 3,200 (11:54.8); and the Falcons' Jennifer Reed, Nicole Tuoco, Shelley Gaul and Angie Forge beat the field in the 800 relay in 1:46.1.

Gaul also finished second in the 100 hurdles (15.5) as did Reed in the 100 at 12.5. The Falcons' Kerri Owczarzak's toss of 31-0 earned fifth place in the shot put and Farmington's relay team also finished second in the 400 relay.

The Marlins earned a pair of first places — Charese Sanders in the shot put (35-9 1/2) and Jeanette Turner in the discus with a toss of 107-5. Mercy's Carrie Walton was second in the 3,200 (11:58.6), followed by teammate Heather Noll (11:59.6). Other finishers for Mercy were Kathleen Gerigk, third in the 1600 at 5:20.9; Lauren Hood, earned fifth in the 400 in 1:03; and the Marlins' relay team which placed fourth in the 1600 relay (4:18).

WAYNE MEMORIAL had a pair of girls who finished in second place, including Antonette Hixon in the long jump with an effort of 15-6 1/2 and Akua Hammons in the 400 (1:00.9).

Said Wayne Memorial coach Floyd Carter, "I'm very pleased. The girls did really well. We had a few girls who didn't compete because of injuries, and if they had competed it may have brought it up a notch, but I'm still happy with our performance."

The rest of the finishers were Detroit Henry Ford (60), Livonia Stevenson (59), Detroit Cooley (51), Detroit Cody (50), Southfield (38), Wayne Memorial (29), Redford Union (21), Livonia Churchill (20), Livonia Ladywood (13), North Farmington (9), Birmingham Groves (9), Southfield-Lathrup (4), Livonia Franklin (4) and Garden City with one point.

Spartans keep Lakes record intact

Livonia Stevenson kept its girls track record unbeaten in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association last week.

The Spartans moved to 4-0 in the division, 9-1 overall, with a convincing 104-24 win Wednesday over visiting Walled Lake Central.

It was a team effort as three Stevenson performers won two events each. Double winners included Jessann Martin, shot put (37 feet, 10 1/2 inches) and discus (104-9); Teresa Sarno, high jump (4-10) and long jump (14-2 1/2); and Lisa Christensen, 110-meter hurdles (16.6), and 400-meter dash (1:03.5).

Stevenson won three of the relays and the other individual titles went to four different runners.

Dana Carlan clocked 52.3 to win the 300 hurdles, Nicole Todd won the 100 dash in 13.75, the 200 dash crown was won by Tina Gelmski in 28.7, and Karen Kuphal outdistanced the rest of the field in the 3,200 run, clocking 12:52.

Christensen anchored Stevenson's winning 800 relay (1:51.9) outfit that included Gelmski, Jeanne Magaulick, Debbie Walsh. She also anchored the first-place 1,600 relay team, finishing the event in 4:25.7 along with Tracy Clark, Jennifer Sturm and Meredith James. Members of the 3,200 relay champion that clocked 10:28 were Theresa Desjarlais, Jennifer Knapp, Suzanne Moore and Clark.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN dropped its first meet in the Western Division of the WLAA Wednesday, losing to visiting Plymouth Canton, 83-45.

Canton is now 4-0, while the Patriots fell to 3-1.

Sheryl Bayer was a double winner for Franklin, capturing the high hurdles (16.4) and low hurdles (48.4). Amy Lankford, discus (104-4); Kelly Gustafson, long jump (14-5 1/2); and Christy Mulrine, 100 dash (12.9) were Franklin's other winners.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN lost to North Farmington Wednesday in a WLAA Lakes Division girls dual meet, 72-56.

The win evened North's Lakes Division record at 2-2, and lifted its overall mark to 2-3.

The two teams split the relay events, while visiting Glenn managed to win four individual titles.

Winning the shot put with a throw of 33-2 for Glenn was Bianca Smiley, and teammate Amy Finley captured the high jump, clearing 5-1. Mary Ann Gabany and Catina Conner were Glenn's other winners, taking the 100 dash (13.4) and 200 dash (27.65), respectively.

Glenn's 400 relay team placed first in 54.1 and the 800 group also responded with a first, clocking 1:54.8.

REDFORD UNION'S boys track team prepared itself for Wednesday's Northwest Suburban League meet with an impressive 73-64 win last Wednesday at Woodhaven.

Region track stats, 2C

The Panthers, 3-1 in the NSL, 5-2 overall, must outscore regular-season champion Dearborn at the league meet to win the league overall crown. Dearborn handed RU its only league setback earlier this year, defeating the Panthers convincingly.

"I think we can give them a run for their money," RU coach Jim Gibbons said. "We're strong in the field. It depends on how we do in the running events to break up Dearborn's points. If we score 70 points in the field we'll be in great shape."

RU dominated the field events Wednesday, as Eric Sheppard grabbed titles in the shot put (41-3) and discus (149-5). Sheppard and Steve Nowak shared first in the high jump, each clearing 5-8. The pole vault title was forfeited to RU because Woodhaven does not have a pit.

Chris Woodbeck was a winner in the 100-yard dash, clocking 10.03, and he also claimed the title in the 200 dash, with a time of 23.5. John Platt was the Panthers' other individual champion, clocking 44.9 in the 330 hurdles.

Jim Blalock, Mike Bianchi, Woodbeck and Platt won the 880 relay in 1:38.9. The group of Sam Provenzoia, Pete Johnson, and Marty and David Boyd won the two-mile relay in 8:59.0.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN made its victories count Wednesday at Plymouth Canton. The Patriots won only half of the 16 events, including only one of the four relay races, but still pulled off a 71-66 boys win over the Chiefs.

Franklin took three of the five field events, and first, second and third place in the pole vault going to the Patriots because Canton has no pole vault pit.

Greg Panil won the discus (120-8) for Franklin and Rich Balsch leaped 19-8 1/2 to win the long jump.

Dave Plontek was a double winner for Franklin, winning the high (15.7) and low hurdles (42.1).

Mike Patzsch and Chris Johnson were single winners for the Patriots, taking the 100 dash (11.5) and 200 dash (24.3), respectively. Mark Little, Johnson, Dean Vandal and Steve Clemmons combined to win the 400 relay in 46.7 for Franklin.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL won seven individual events and add four relay wins Wednesday to beat visiting Walled Lake Western, 88-59.

Charlotte Garry was a double winner for the Chargers, taking the high jump (5-0) and 800 run (3:40.74).

Other firsts were recorded by Stacey Rokicsak, long jump (15-1 1/2); Jennifer Danner, 100 hurdles (16.68); Sarah Turner, 100 dash (14.14); Jill Timko, 200 dash (27.4); and Michelle Stevens, 400 run (1:06.74).

Timko teamed up with Cindy Louisa, Sharon Uttilo and Sarah Turner to win the 400 relay in 58.7, while Rokicsak, Danner, Amy Baron and Alyssa Belair took the 800 relay in 1:34.72.

Megan Keller, Becky Boyer, Jenny Zlobor and Jenny McKenzie won the 1,600 relay (5:11.74), while Belair, Jenny Cockwell, Janet Swartout and Amy Mitchell ruled the 3,200 relay (10:51.3).

Canton rules WLAA; Chargers earn split

The winners of the Western Lakes Activities Association girls soccer race is from Plymouth. No surprise there.

The mild surprise is that the team is Plymouth Canton, 2-1 winners over Plymouth Salem Friday in the WLAA championship played at Centennial Educational Park.

Salem took an undefeated record and No. 1 ranking into the game against the No. 2-ranked Chiefs.

Jenny Russell's goal with less than 20 minutes left gave the Chiefs the win. Ayana Nash's goal minutes earlier had tied the game at 1-1.

Amey Krajewski's goal on a throw-in in the first half was the only ball that gave Canton goalkeeper Michelle Fortier trouble.

The two teams could meet again Wednesday at CEP in a district semifinal game. Canton opens district play tonight against unheralded Belleville and will play Salem, which has a bye, if it wins.

Salem is 12-1-2 overall and Canton improved to 9-2-0.

CHURCHILL 0, FARMINGTON 0: It's doubtful Livonia Churchill soccer coach Nick O'Shea has more ties in his closet.

The hard-luck Chargers played to their fourth scoreless tie of the season Friday against Farmington — a game that was supposed to decide third place in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Churchill, 6-2-5 overall, had several fine chances to score but was turned away every time by Farmington goalkeeper Debbie Westerkamp.

"We're having loads of trouble," O'Shea said. "We missed two breakaways (Lori Place and Kristy Thurston). We put them wide or didn't get them off right at her."

Monia Cervi, who started, and Dana Keller split the goal-keeping duties for Churchill. The Chargers had 10 shots and Farmington recorded nine.

Friday's game was the second against Farmington in three days for Churchill. Last Wednesday, Amy Trunk's goal with just more than 10 minutes left gave Farmington a 1-0 win over host Churchill to end the regular season.

Carrie Maler assisted on the game-winner, for the Falcons, 12-0-4 overall.

Churchill carried the play much of the first half, but came up empty against Westerkamp.

"We had our chances, we hit the crossbar twice," said Churchill's Nick O'Shea. "Sooner or later things are going to go in for us."

Farmington coach Cathy Cole said her team was fortunate to win.

"Churchill played a fine first half," Cole said. "Basically I had to light a fire (at halftime) because they were beating us to the ball."

FRANKLIN 7, W.L. CENTRAL 0: Livonia Franklin reached the 500 mark Friday, blanking host Walled Lake Central 7-0. The Patriots are 6-6-2 overall.

On Wednesday, Jenny Russell scored a hat trick and Becky Shankie added one goal as Plymouth Canton, No. 2-ranked in Class A, drilled Franklin 4-0 at home.

Michelle Fortier stopped eight shots to record her seventh shutout of the year for the who were perfect in four Western Division games.

STEVENSON 1, NORTHVILLE 0: Sharlene Sudek's goal in the first half saved the day Friday for Livonia Stevenson, and gave the Spartans a 1-0 win over host Northville.

The Mustangs played without a host of players who were attending Northville's senior prom.

Alicia Smith recorded the shutout for Stevenson. The Spartans finished the WLAA schedule at 5-3-3.

Northville salvaged a 1-1 tie Wednesday against Stevenson when Shannon Wilkinson headed a ball past the Spartans' goal-tender.

Karen Carney's goal in the first half gave Stevenson's the game's only lead.

Southfield boys roll; Glenn 2nd in region

By Keith Postler

Southfield boys track coach Tom Eschmann downplayed his team's ability to dominate other squads, but the Blue Jays did that and more in Friday's Class A Regional Track Championships held at Southfield High.

The Blue Jays grabbed first place honors in seven events and second place finishes in six others as they led the 15-team field with 141 total points. Westland John Glenn finished a distant second with 53 1/2 points.

After the meet, Eschmann explained his philosophy.

"Every time that we go up against a team, we respect that team as a roadblock to success," he said. "People think I am overreacting, but there is always the possibility of a poor outing. We have to run correctly, and if we don't, anybody can beat us."

The Blue Jays ran a nearly flawless meet on the first leg in defense of their Class A state championship. They placed in 12 of the 16 events and the competition never seriously challenged them. The meet simply belonged to Southfield.

Jeff Reynolds gave the Blue Jays their first victory in the 110-meter dash, pacing the field with a time of 10.5 seconds. Teammate Bobby Johnson finished second at 10.8 and Lawrence Reynolds (11.2) was sixth. Southfield's other first place finishers were Cassidy Wright in the 110 high hurdles, 14.3; Jeff Gibson with 38.1 in the 300 intermediate hurdles; and Reynolds in the 200 with a time of 21.8.

THE BLUE JAYS also had a number of second place finishers: Marvin Reynolds in the 110 hurdles, 14.3; Wright in the 400, 50.5; James Robinson, 1:58.2 in the 800; and Ricky Duncan in the high jump with a leap of 6-6.

Southfield closed the meet with three consecutive relay victories.

The Blue Jays' relay team of Johnson, Wright, Jeff Gibson and Marvin Reynolds placed first in the 800 relay, 1:29.2; Johnson, Chris Porter, Jeff Reynolds and Marvin Reynolds' 42.4 took first in the 400 relay; and Jeff Reynolds, James Robinson, Gibson and Wright clipped the competition in the 1600 relay in 3:19.1.

Richard Gordon, whose John Glenn Rockets finished second to Southfield, had only words of praise for the Blue Jays.

"Southfield has just one awesome team," he said. "They're just too tough to catch."

The Rockets' managed to earn two first place awards. Carl Lowe's 1:58.2 was tops in the 800 and the Westland team of Joe Zawol, David Jim, Jim Zurawski and Lowe beat the competition in the 3,200 relay with a time of 8:11.9.

FERLIN WHITLOW set a new John Glenn record with a time of 38.7 in the 300 intermediate hurdles; Steve Wisley was third in the 400 at 50.7 while Randy Seach was sixth, 53.0; and Greg Anderson's leap of 6-2 earned fourth place in the high jump.

"I'm extremely pleased with my team," Gordon said. "It was just a great meet for the Rockets."

Said Wayne Memorial coach Joe Grasley, "I thought that the kids we had compete did the best they could. We had some real good individual performances."

Shawn Wallace's toss of 48-8 1/4 earned second place for Wayne Memorial in the shot put, while his effort of 146-10 grabbed third in the shot put.

Southfield will defend its Southeastern Michigan Association title in Tuesday's SMA championships at Southfield, then travel to Groves Friday for the Oakland County Championship.

The third-through-15th place finishers were Detroit Cooley (52), Wayne Memorial (49), Detroit Cody (43), Redford Union (40), Redford Catholic Central (38), Livonia Churchill (28 1/2), North Farmington (26), Birmingham Groves (13), Detroit Henry Ford (10), Livonia Stevenson (9), Farmington (6), Garden City (4) and Southfield-Lathrup (1).

Catholic Central's McCaul headed for Michigan State

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Steve McCaul, one of the state's most dominant soccer players last fall, has signed a national letter of intent to attend Michigan State University.

McCaul missed six games because of a foot injury, but still scored 14 goals in leading Redford Catholic Central to a Class A district final.

McCaul, whose sister attends Central Michigan, originally wanted to sign with CMU, but by the time the Chippewas' coaching staff came calling, he settled on MSU.

He plans on studying communications or journalism at MSU. He also considered the University of Detroit, but the Titans finished a distant third in bidding for his services.

"It was between MSU and Central," McCaul said. "I thought about U of D but I knew all along I wasn't going to go there. State has a good communications program. I loved it from the start and I know I'll love it there."

"BOTH SCHOOLS (Central and MSU) I liked. If anything ever ended up wrong at State I'll probably end up at Central."

McCaul will be a welcome addition to State, which finished the 1988 season at 9-11-1. Coach Joe Baum gushed about McCaul, one of five recruits he landed for the upcoming season.

"He was the No. 1 offensive player we went after from day one," Baum said. "I think he's the finest offensive player in the state. We're very excited about him."

"We were pretty good defensively, but had a pretty thin offensive attack. Steve is a good goal scorer and he's strong and aggressive and will adapt well to the college game."

McCaul said he doesn't harbor any bad feelings for the CMU coaching staff, which also landed several standouts, including Pete Galea and Kurt Will of Class A champion Livonia Stevenson.

CMU ASSISTANT coach Rick Trainor came to one of CC's district games last fall but McCaul didn't hear much from him after.

"They told Father (John) Wheeler (the CC soccer coordinator) that they were interested in me," he said. "Coach Trainor's a real nice guy. I was going to visit Central but I already had my papers in at MSU and didn't want to lead them on."

Blazer golfers advance

Livonia Ladywood's golf team continued its fine play by finishing second in the Class A regional meet Friday at Sylvan Glen.

The Blazers also qualified for the state Class A championships Sunday, June 3, at Forest Akers Golf Course at Michigan State University.

The Blazers finished with 397 strokes, three more than regional champion Ann Arbor Pioneer (394). Troy Athens was third (400). The top three finishers of the 15 teams involved advance to the state meet.

Livonia Stevenson finished seventh in the meet (439), and Livonia Churchil (497) and Livonia Franklin (524) finished 12th and 14th, respectively.

Ladywood's Michelle Gossett led the Blazers' attack, shooting a 88 to win medalist honors. Gossett, only a sophomore, went out in 43 and took 45 strokes to cover the backside.

OTHER TOP LADYWOOD scores were carded by Prentiss Laich (97), Jane Bielenda (104), Sherry Adams (108) and Megan Blake (109).

Earlier in the week, the Blazers cruised to a pair of dual-meet victories to remain undefeated in head-to-head competition for the season (13-0).

Ladywood bested Dearborn 213-253 Monday at Warren Valley.

Gossett again took medalist honors with a 49, while Bielenda (54), Amy Kroll (54) and Laich (56) were the next three top Ladywood finishers.

These carriers care. They care enough to turn in their collections accurately and on time. They care enough to go out in all sorts of weather to deliver your hometown news.

And we care, too. In fact we have awarded each of them a 10-speed bike for caring enough to do their very best.

If you know a potential carrier that you think could manage an Observer & Eccentric newspaper route—someone responsible and reliable—call us at one of the numbers below.

How you can get healthy

By Dave Varga
staff writer

How should somebody start walking for health?

As someone who walked 11,600 miles and through all 50 states during 1981, Rob Sweetgall knows how to get in step.

When he spoke at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, the author and walking guru issued his 14-point plan for getting in better shape.

Here's his method:

• DON'T DIET. Diets don't work, Sweetgall said. Instead, you should eat smart with less fat and change your metabolism by adding movement to your day.

• THINK THREE M'S. Those are mouth, mind and muscle. Your mouth is a gateway, your mind makes the decisions and your muscle burns energy, Sweetgall said.

• FOOD IS FUEL for your body's machinery. Don't think of eating as a reward, something to occupy your time or a social event. Your appetite comes from your head, but you must learn to react only to hunger in your stomach.

• CARBOHYDRATES ARE THE BEST FUEL. Things like spaghetti, potatoes and Jell-O are "high-octane" fuels that make your body work to digest them, making them instantly 24 percent better than the worst fuels, like fats or fat-soaked foods that are easily absorbed.

• THINK OXYGEN. Go ahead and get out of breath during the day by adding oxygen-consuming activities.

• EAT EARLY. Calories eaten before noon don't count because they're worked off during the day. At least 50 percent of your calories should be consumed before noon.

"Think fuel. If you were going to Florida you wouldn't wait to buy gas until you got to Florida," Sweetgall said.

• WALK FOR TIME NOT FOR SPEED. A brisk pace of 3.5 miles per hour is the most comfortable for the human body. If you try to walk faster you may burn a few more calories, but you'll also tighten or possibly pull more muscles. You'll "look like a chicken," and you won't enjoy it as much over the long haul.

• BE AN ARM SWINGER. You burn 25 percent more calories by swinging your arms in a natural way to a point a little above your waist. And, you can burn that fat 15 percent faster if you "pretend you're pulling a rope across your stomach" while you walk, Sweetgall said.

Libby Heppler of Birmingham has been walking for exercise for about three years.

Walking away the pounds

By Dave Varga
staff writer

Walking has become the exercise of choice for millions of Americans joining the national fitness boom.

Why walk?

"I was getting fat. I had to burn off some calories," said Ron Eubanks of Rochester, who has walked three times a week for about half an hour at a time.

For Eubanks, walking was easy.

"It was something I could do at lunchtime and I didn't have to shower afterward. And, I didn't have to have special shoes," he said, noting that he wore his "clods" or wing-tips.

After a year though, he said, "I'm not gaining any, but it's not helping as much as I wanted."

Others do better.

Since she began walking about three years ago, Libby Heppler of Birmingham has lost about 110 pounds. That's right, like those ads in the back of health nut magazines, she really did drop from 240 pounds to a svelt "around 130." Walking was part of a major change in her life.

"I was a great deal overweight and I'm a recovering addict on several planes, people call it cross-addicted," Heppler said.

For her walking was part of a prescription — "I was told I had to walk."

"MY FIRST day, I ventured out in a dress and had a pair of tennis shoes I got on sale. Each few weeks I'd add more time to my workout and suddenly a dress didn't make it, I wanted sweats. Suddenly I needed tennis shoes that fit," she said.

Soon, Heppler became addicted to walking. She read books about it, joined race walks and even tried running. Of course, she changed her diet completely, cutting out nearly all fats.

"My whole life has changed," she said. "I carry my athletic clothes with me now."

Physicians nearly always prescribe exercise for recovering cardiac care patients or stroke victims, with aerobic walking almost always the workout of choice. Dr. Samson Kpadenou who practices in Rochester treats patients like Heppler and others struggling with obesity.

"We really, really push walking," said Sue Kennedy, program director for Dr. Kpadenou. "It's the most successful for long term health care and it's applicable to most people."

The doctor himself walks for health, Kennedy said.

"If there was a better way to stay fit, he would use it," she said.

Growing numbers of Americans aren't waiting until their doctor tells them they need to get exercise to improve their health. They're hitting the streets and sidewalks for cheap, easy and natural exercise that will burn calories and improve health.

Not all the walkers are fair weather enthusiasts either. Go to a local mall about 8:30 or 9 in the morning.

WESTLAND, Wonderland and Livonia Mall — all in western Wayne County — each have loyal "mall walker" programs, where the faithful can be found in all shapes, ages and sizes doing their laps before the mall opens.

The Wonder(land) Walkers are sponsored by the American Heart Association. They have 1,900 walkers signed up, with around 300 or more showing up on any given day.

One Wonder Walker is Bill Peterson, a physical education teacher at Thurston High School in Redford.

"I wanted to do some exercise and walking is much more beneficial for you than jogging," he said. "Jogging is tough on your joints."

Peterson does three to four laps — 1.3 miles per lap — within 30 minutes, he said, "so I can get the cardiovascular benefit."

Afterwards, he and other mall walkers get some social benefit, going for coffee in the Eaton Place.

Marvin Forth of Redford said he's been walking for exercise for about three years. "We used to walk outside in our neighborhood," he said. Now, he and friends walk regularly at Wonderland, spending about 40 minutes to travel 2.6 to 3 miles.

"It keeps your weight down and keeps your heart going," said Forth. At 66, he said, he plans to walk "as long as I can."

Indoor walkers have the benefit of smooth pavement and consistent weather. Outdoors, Heppler said some drivers think they own the roadway, kids make fun of her and, Heppler said, "dogs, they want me."

"I'VE HAD birds s--- on my head and I think, 'What do I do now — Oh, just keep going,'" she said.

She does keep going, striding in her brightly colored leotard on the streets of Birmingham nearly every day.

During the week, Heppler said she changes the intensity, frequency and duration of her workouts.

"I vary them so I don't lose interest. You can't burn yourself out every day. I'm looking for a lifetime program."

When in Georgia, stay in Columbus

By Iris Sanderson Jones
staff writer

Q: Here's a tough question for you. Sue and I want to spend a week in central Georgia before the schools get out in mid-June. I want to find my great-great grandfather's grave at the Civil War cemetery in Andersonville. Mary likes golf, flowers and craft shopping. Can you help us plan a trip where we can stay in one place the whole week?

S.H.
Livonia

A: That's not as tough as you think. Stay in or near Columbus, Georgia. Follow the Andersonville Trail south to the Andersonville National Historic Site and you'll find all of Mary's interests at Calloway Gardens, Warm Springs and in small towns along the way.

You won't have to drive for much more than an hour in any one direction for a great day trip. I will tell you about the Andersonville Civil War prison, now an easy-to-visit historic site, next week. This week, let's talk about how to get there, where to stay and what to do.

Drive down I-75 to Atlanta, then southwest on I-85 and I-185 to Columbus, the main city in the area. Or fly on discount fares to Atlanta, and rent a car from Atlanta Rent-a-Car, much cheaper than the better-known national agencies, if you stay within 300 miles of Atlanta. Call (404) 446-0475.

Accommodations depend on your budget. I love the Columbus Hilton, a century-old gristmill converted to a wonderful brick and glass hotel across the street from the Chattahoochee River and from a restored convention center/shopping mall called the Columbus Iron Works.

SUMMER SPECIAL rates for two, if you stay a Saturday night and at least one weekday, are $55 a night. Call toll-free (800) 445-8667.

The railroad depot in Plains, Ga., has found its place in history. It served as the campaign headquarters for former President Jimmy Carter.

MOVING PICTURES

'House': It suffers from case of excess

What's wrong with America? Violence and the great glee with which people watch others suffer. A packed preview for "Road House (Z, R, 110 minutes) Thursday lapped it up and, sad to report, the film probably will find a wide audience and make money.

That producers make millions catering to base (in)human instincts is a sad commentary on our society.

"Road House" stars Patrick Swayze as Dalton, the king of the coolers — no, that's not wine and soda, but the chief bouncer in road houses and other joints. Here's a chance to see every western movie cliché in a modern rock setting as Dalton rides into town, cleans up on the bad guys and gets the girl, Dr. Elizabeth Clay (Kelly Lynch).

Mr Big is played by Ben Gazzara looking as if he desperately wanted to belch. The entire cast takes their cue from him and stands around suffering from terminal indigestion — that is, everyone except the lady doctor who healed herself and smiles a lot. But I still think it was gas.

One shouldn't blame the actors, however, considering what scenarioists David Lee Henry and Hillary Henkin gave them to work with: Imaginative dialogue like "My way or the highway," "Pain don't hurt," and "This town's big enough for both of us," trite scenes such as Dalton sewing up his own wounds, plus enough gratuitous sex, nudity and dirty words to blow the minds of puerile perverts everywhere.

It is particularly criminal that "Road House" glories in its regularly spaced, brutal fight scenes which are sufficiently well-staged to be physically stimulating. Terrific, just what we need, producers making millions inciting violence.

Can't you just see the entire production staff of "Road House" as little children? No doubt they had a maniacal gleam in their eyes as they tore wings from butterflies — well, the child is the father of the man.

"Signs of Life" (D-, PG-13, 85 minutes) isn't much better and if it were a TV program, I would have turned the set off right at the beginning. This choppy, episodic soap opera jumps from subplot to subplot abruptly — and with maddening regularity.

While that leaves plenty of natural slots for commercials, it doesn't allow interest to develop in Owen Coughlin (Arthur Kennedy) and the workers at his boat-building company, a New England institution which is going broke and shutting down.

The film is self-consciously arty with acute camera angles, intentional obscurity early on and a slow-paced blandness in acting and editing that you won't believe — if you stay awake. There is little passion or anger and very few "Signs of Life."

"How I Got into College" (*, no rating available) doesn't look much more promising as an uncounted cast of unknowns look at some of the strange and comic aspects of college recruiting.

Summer sequels are all the thing these days and "Fright Night II" (C-, R) fits right in so sharpen your chopsticks and stock up on the garlic. Charlie Brewster (William Ragsdale) is back and this time he's becoming a vampire.

It's easy to imagine the pitch to the studio: "We'll have the sister come after Charlie to avenge her brother's death. She's a vampire, too, see and with a few special effects, maybe a love scene and a couple of laughs."

Colorful mavericks Tom Waits (from left), Keith Carradine and Sally Kirkland don't blend in with the Montana background in "Cold Feet," an outrageous comic fable about the nouveau West.

The main trouble with "Fright Night II" is that's all there is. No one bothered to flesh out the story. There's none of the wit, humor and horror that sustained the original and made it stand out among its genre.

The acting is mediocre with only Julie Carmen as Regine, the vampire sister, rising above the material to infuse her character with an allure that does not depend solely on her exotic beauty. On the whole, "Fright Night II" is clumsy and disappointing.

Denzel Washington is fascinating to watch in "For Queen and Country" (C+, R, 110 minutes), a portrait of racism and discontent in modern, working class London.

"Rubin James (Washington), a 10-year British Army vet with battle experience, retires from the army and returns to the neighborhood he sought to escape when he enlisted. Of course, he's changed, but the neighborhood hasn't. Washington's performance is thoughtfully textured and disciplined. Unfortunately, that can't be said for the film.

Given the film's great promise, it is a major disappointment when the writer resorts to contrived plot twists in order to resolve the story. While the film does offer poignant insights into England's social problems and the universality of racism, it spends most of its time trying to tell one story but ends up telling another in an overwritten, badly timed film. Reviewed by Susan Finckham.

It's hard to figure out what kind of movie "Cold Feet" (C, R, 90 minutes) is supposed to be. Despite funny and satirical moments, it's not funny enough for comedy and not ironic enough for satire. The characters are too widely drawn for a slice-of-life picture and too broadly played for a buddy film. "Cold Feet" certainly doesn't come remotely close to being a drama.

Writers Tom McGuane and Jim Harrison deftly capture the reality of independent ranching in rural America today. To the film's detriment, however, they merely suggest rather than exploring that milieu when they juxtapose it against the zany high jinx of three bumbling crooks.

The bottom line: Despite stellar performances by Sally Kirkland, Keith Carradine and Tom Waits, audiences may very well wonder if they've spent their time and money on an "in" joke that lasts 90 minutes. Reviewed by Susan Finckham.

STILL PLAYING:

"The Adventures of Baron Munchausen" (A) (PG), 126 minutes.

Marvelous fantasy, super special effects and great performances by an all-star cast.

"Bill & Ted's Excellent Adventure" (B-) (PG-13).

George Carlin gives the boys the key to a time-traveling, A-plus history project.

"Criminal Law" (B) (R).

Suspense thriller about attorney who discovers his client is guilty.

"Dangerous Liaisons" (C+) (R) 115 minutes.

Even lush images and good acting can't overcome the non-cinematic quality of this boring story of pre-Revolutionary French decadence.

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

This 'Rocky' is some show

By Ann Sharp
special writer

It's astounding. Time is fleeting. Has it really been 14 years since "The Rocky Horror Picture Show" first appeared on the American scene?

I was one of the lucky ones who got to see "Rocky Horror" (at the Cabaret Cinema during its non-porno incarnation) before it evolved into the vulgar megillah for insomniac mall-rats it's since become.

I don't mean to be hypocritical — I've done my share of shouting, "Lips! Lips!" and hurling fetishistic objects, including water, toast, rice and all-beef frankfurters. But I'd give my best garter belt to be able to see that film, and hear it, as it deserves to be experienced, in silent, reverent communion.

For it is a great film . . . the greatest achievement of the musical cinema, I believe, since "Singin' in the Rain."

Not that it's had much competition in that respect ("The Sound of Music?" "The Umbrellas of Cherbourg?" "Grease?") Seldom is a film so beautifully realized. Cast, costumes, sets, choreography — every carefully chosen detail lures us into the weird, luscious, unforgettable world of Dr. Frank N. Furter and his hapless love slaves.

POOR KEN Russell has spent most of his career trying to make "Rocky Horror," but falling sadly short of the mark. Without "Rocky Horror's" phenomenal underground success, would there have ever been a "Heathers," a "Little Shop of Horrors," a "Reanimator," "Polyester," or even "Women on the Verge of a Nervous Breakdown?"

Well, OK, maybe, but certainly it played a major role in making the world safe for camp, nihilism and the whole post-mod enclilada. Just as a sweet little time capsule of the glam-rock sensibility, it certainly earns its keep.

In the 1970s, a time when Burt Reynolds was being touted as a standard of male beauty, hundreds of young female film cultists found the man of their dreams in a thunder-tighed alien, wearing fishnets and eyeliner.

Experts have told us that the majority of male cross-dressers are heterosexual, but Tim Curry's archingly sensual performance as the redoubtable Dr. Furter is unique in presenting a transvestite as a being capable of arousing female ardor — Susan Sarandon's, to be precise.

The drawing power of "Rocky," I believe, is its power as social allegory. Furter, the madly erotic space slut who corrupts the youth of Denton, Ohio, is the sexual revolution itself.

BACK IN 1975, we were all dying to "give yourself over to absolute pleasure, swim the warm waters of sins of the flesh." Even then, though, we knew it was just a fantasy that couldn't last. Riff-Raff, with his anti-matter gun, would barge in on us, snarling, "Your lifestyle's too extreme."

Call it a metaphor for AIDS, unwanted pregnancy, a broken heart, Frank's tragic end is a warning to all would-be sex monsters.

A rare opportunity to view "Rocky Horror" outside the plastic confines of your local cineplex is offered at Windsor's Park Theatre this Saturday evening at 7 and 9:30 p.m. and midnight.

Erotic nightmares beyond any measure and sensual daydreams to treasure forever — they're yours for a price.

Paladins: Finding their 'roots'

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Throw on a cowboy hat, profess a sudden love for the music of John Lee Hooker or B.B. King, and, voila, a roots rocker is born.

In recent times, the Alex Hales of rock 'n' roll are out in droves. Getting back to your roots has become fashionable, if not somewhat clichéd.

So here are the Paladins, who've not only gone back to the roots but make it their permanent mailing address. But make no mistakes. These three guys are in it for keeps.

And have been since 1978.

"We've always went for that old, vintage feeling with our sound," said Dave Gonzales, guitarist and vocalist for the San Diego-based group. "When we started, we didn't even know about the rockabilly scene that was about to happen. When people would see us play, they'd say, 'You're a rockabilly band because you have a stand-up bass.' Then the Stray Cats became big. They're no longer around, but we still are."

The Paladins' latest album on Alligator Records, "Years Since Yesterday," is rich with bluesy ballads, country licks and jazzy beats. The music born out of the Mississippi Delta, the Memphis roadhouse and the smoky New York jazz club is performed in a fevered pitch on the album.

GONZALES REFERS to it as "honest" music. Most would simply call the Paladins' sound houserolling, gutbucket rock 'n' roll.

The Paladins came out of the same California scene that has given us The Blasters and Los Lobos. The band, which includes Tom Yearsley and Scott Campbell along with Gonzales, has put together a couple of critically acclaimed albums.

"The Paladins" was their debut

The Paladins' latest album, "Years Since Yesterday," is rich with music borne out the Mississippi Delta, the Memphis road house and the smoky New York jazz club.

LP, but wasn't released until 1987. The band landed spots on tours with Los Lobos, Stevie Ray Vaughn and The Fabulous Thunderbirds.

"Years Since Yesterday" was the follow-up. The disc was produced by Steve Berlin (sax man with Los Lobos) and Martin Linett. The band will have a new album out in September on Alligator.

Without the hype generated by a major record label, the Paladins have earned their reputation the hard way: they played for it. The band performs more than 200 shows a year and logs 75,000 miles on the road.

The road the Paladins prefer to ride is usually made of dirt. By driving through the cotton field and farmland, Gonzales said he gets inspiration for his music.

THEIR FAVORITE spots on the tour are in the Midwest, according to Gonzales.

"Kansas City is the heart of everything," he said. "Our favorite place is Ruby's Soul Food and Kitchen. She's like a grandmother to us."

The success of "Years Since Yesterday" has peaked in Europe, earning the group a whole new legion of fans. They plan to tour after the release of their next LP.

While others are pretending to be roots rockers, the Paladins are the genuine thing.

"There's always going to be bands who believe in the sound," Gonzales said. "The original rock 'n' roll sound will never go away."

The Paladins will open up for Little Charlie and the Nightcats at 10 p.m. Thursday, May 25, at Rick's Cafe in Ann Arbor. Tickets are $10. For information, call 996-8555.

Hyper Formance zeroes in on rock

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Around the table in a Rochester diner they sit. Like a bunch of cigar-chomping football coaches, Hyper Formance plans their strategy for the big game called rock 'n' roll.

"We have a definite team now," said guitarist Jason VanDoorn, pulling himself away from his turkey sandwich. "We're all willing to do what it takes to meet our goal."

Let it be heard, Hyper Formance is as serious as a heart attack. The band is ready to break out.

Which begs the question: What the heck has the band been doing these past six years? Bass player and co-founder Tom Wilbur explains:

"We're a lot more serious now than we were before. Now that we have some experience, we're able to see how things work whereas before, we thought we knew."

Two new members haven't hurt either, introducing drummer Mark Anderson and singer Greg Isles. Apparently, friction existed with others in the group who eventually left.

TODAY, Wilbur says there's a focus, a oneness that has instilled harmony. Both Anderson and Isles knew VanDoorn and Wilbur from school days at both Van Hoosen Middle School and Rochester Adams High School.

Hyper Formance has gotten "more serious" about its music after the infusion of two new members that has instilled harmony and a oneness in the group.

VanDoorn and Wilbur used to play football together in junior high. In practice, they would line up against one another.

"He (VanDoorn) used to pound me," Wilbur said.

Together, VanDoorn and Wilbur along with the rest of Hyper Formance are busy pounding out hard rock in massive proportions. The music is as soothing as a slap across the face from the neighborhood bully.

The Hyper Formance trademark is its high-energy live shows (hence the name). The Rochester-based group has performed at Harpos in Detroit, the Hamtramck Pub and the Token Lounge in Westland.

Recently, Hyper Formance took its act south to Florida. The band performed before receptive, not to mention saturated with alcohol, legions of college students on spring break.

According to band members, one performance had to be stopped because the crowd grew too rowdy.

"It wasn't like everyone had to be drunk to like us," VanDoorn said. "That atmosphere was fun. People came on stage with us and sang. I'd be playing and then I'd go out into the crowd and see how many beers I could drink and still do guitar solos."

ONE HIGHLIGHT on the Florida tour included performing at a motorcycle club pig roast. Things became somewhat tense when one member of the hell-on-wheels lot jumped on stage and commenced with an imitation of Guns N' Roses lead singer Axl Rose.

"They took care of it, though," Wilbur said.

Closer to home, Hyper Formance gained notoriety two years ago as one of the bands featured on the "Digital Detroit" compact disc. The song on the CD, "Solitary Man," garnered air play on WLLZ-FM.

Currently, Hyper Formance is working on new material and will set on the concert circuit in June. The band is also doing pre-production work for an album.

"It will be the heart and soul of Hyper Formance," VanDoorn said.

REVIEWS

FROM OHIO

— Firehose

Some Buckeye blues? Or, perhaps, some Toledo twang? Firehose douses those notions in a hurry.

Firehose's latest album on SST Records is a vibrant, understated piece of musicianship that grows on a person like green beans do in the fertile soil of the Ohio Valley. Less is definitely more in this threesome's case.

To appreciate this album is to know a little history on the band itself.

Firehose has risen from the ashes of the well-known punk outfit The Minutemen. When the leader of that band, D. Boon, was killed in an automobile accident, George Hurley and Mike Watt went into permanent mourning.

But in Toronto, Ohio, a fan of the Minutemen held out for hope. Ed Crawford refused to let the spirit that fabled outfit embodied to simply dwindle away. So he grabbed his guitar and headed to California. He met up with Hurley and Watt and convinced them to give it a go again under a new name.

Instead of remaining in the shad-

MOSQUITO

— Stan Ridgway

Remember Wall of Voodoo and their one nasal hit "Mexican Radio"? Well, Stan Ridgway is the proud owner of the aforementioned nasal twang.

And this is his second solo LP, and his second on Geffen Records.

Anyone who has seen Francis Ford Coppola's classic "Rumble Fish" may not have realized that the distinctive, atmospheric and highly effective soundtrack was written by Ridgway in collaboration with ex-Police drum man, Stewart Copeland. If you haven't seen the movie, why not?

These songs, recorded in 1988 and 1989, are a continuation of that sound, albeit presented in shorter more traditional song formats. He shows how suited he is to that particular genre of songwriting, when the LP opens up with the cinematic instrumental "Heat Takes a Walk." You know this is grand when the instrumental credits include somebody on "Cloudbursts."

We then fall gently into the sweet and seductive "Lonely Town," which features some beautiful guitar playing from Tom Waits' sidekick, Marc Ribot. This vignette lays forth a story of making your way to places where everyone is advising you not to go, which only makes you want to go more. Ridgway's signature harmonic sets a plaintive atmosphere.

He presents a multitude of Tom Waits-style stories ranging from some shady characters involved in shady deals ("Goin' Southbound"), through a tale of how one thing leads to another, every entrance has an exit and every door knob has a twist ("Dogs"), a curious menage a trols that leads to murder ("Peg and Pete and Me"), to remembering an old friend ("Calling Out to Carol").

These mini-life stories are created to soundtracks provided by some very able-bodied musicians, but all remain within the confines of Ridgway's very distinctive and imaginative boundaries.

ROCK, RHYTHM AND BLUES

— various artists

Here's another all-star gala, this time with no charitable purpose in mind — and it's a blast.

Producer Richard Perry gathered a stable of artists, including Elton John, the Pointer Sisters, Chaka Khan and country crooner Randy Travis, and turned them loose on a stack of rhythm and blues classics from the '60s.

Occasionally, the pairings are close to perfect, as evidenced by ex-Doobie Brother Michael McDonald's soulful "Your Precious Love," originally a showcase for the teenaged Jerry Butler. Manhattan Transfer is custom made for "I Wanna Be Your Girl," a spirited re-working of Frankie Lymon's "I Want You to Be My Girl." Elton John's rousing version of Fats Domino's "I'm Ready" pays tribute to one of Elton's earliest influences.

The biggest surprise? Rick James medley of "This Magic Moment" and "Dance With Me" shows what his fans have known all along — Mr.

Super Freak possesses an outstanding set of pipes.

Ex-Shalamar lead singer Howard Hewitt does the near-impossible by breathing new life into "The Ten Commandments of Love," the Kitchy Moonglows' classic. El DeBarge's "Goodnight My Love" could breathe new life into that troubled singer's career.

Khan's "Fever" and the Pointer's "Mr. Lee" are more perfunctory, but still entertaining. Christine McVie is an excellent choice to sing Fita James' "Roll With Me Henry," though the band (essentially Fleetwood Mac without Stevie Nicks) sometimes drowns her out.

Travis' version of "It's Just a Matter of Time," the old Brook Benton hit, would make a fine track on one of his own albums, but his country twang is out of place here.

That's small criticism, however. On the whole, this is an enjoyable, easy-to-listen-to set.

Women's network is a good idea

Dear Barbara,

Suggestions and opinions on this idea: A club or network for women, who are sitting at home, longing to go to the ballet, the museum or just a drive to Frankentmuth.

I know there are a lot of us who are always looking for another woman to pal around with, but meeting women with the same likes is almost impossible.

This club would be for women to help women get out of the house and enjoy all of the things that are offered. Most of us, though married, are left to our own resources. Going out alone is not always wise and can be dangerous.

The idea is this: A woman joins the club. Her name, address, age and phone number, the things she is interested in doing — weekend trips, football, flea markets, etc. — are on file. She is matched with another woman who is interested in going to the football game that Saturday, or the flea market that weekend, etc.

Women of all ages, tints, shades and religions would be welcome. Each woman would be required to pay all of her own expenses. She must be physically able to care for herself at all times. This would not be a club for seniors who need a ride to the mall or to the supermarket.

Honesty would be mandatory. Bigotry would not be allowed.

Barbara, have you ever heard of a club like this and would you know of the legal pitfalls? The financial responsibilities? Would it be doomed to failure, people being people as they are?

All suggestions would be most welcome.

G. D.

Dear G.D.,

I think there may be many women interested in your plan. The letters I have received in this column are a testament to the fact that men and women have difficulty pairing up with each other. It seems logical that women looking for same sex friendships might also be so troubled.

The lawyer that I consulted said that there is a potential for legal problems in a plan of your kind and that an attorney would have to be consulted. Initially, you would have to shoulder some financial responsibility in order to publicize the club. After that, further financial responsibility would depend on the size of responses and the fiscal plan.

I want to encourage your dream despite that we know that there will be unexpected pitfalls. The plan will fail or be successful depending as much on the person who executes it and their determination as on the environment in which it is executed.

All plans must be dreams before they can be a reality. Full speed ahead!

Barbara

Dear Barbara,

It's that time of year again when my spectator pumps sit there crying to be worn, but that old bugaboo about wearing white prior to Memorial Day pounds in the back of my head, riddling me with guilt, if I dare to even consider it a remote possibility.

Does fashion protocol still dictate that white shoes and bag be worn only after Memorial Day? Do spectators fit into this category?

G.M.

Dear G.M.,

It has always seemed to me that in the beginning, fashion rules had a logic. Dark colors absorb heat and are, therefore, worn in the winter. Light colors reflect heat and are, therefore, worn in the summer.

In this context, it is utility that dictates tackiness, and not an arbitrary rule.

However, times have changed. We are centrally heated in the winter and air-conditioned in the summer. It would seem that the rule, "no white shoes until Memorial Day," could now be ignored. But fashion experts and fashionable people continue to follow it.

A friend, who is a fashion maven, has told me that winter white, that creamy white color, can be worn all year long. Summer white is usually saved until after Memorial Day or thereabouts.

These rules seem to hold in California and Florida. So I guess even though the rule now seems arbitrary, it continues to define tackiness for many, me included.

Video brings Bunuel 'home'

By Dan Greenberg special writer

Internationally renowned Spanish filmmaker Luis Bunuel, is not a household name in this country, but come Wednesday, May 24, Media Home Entertainment will take a major step toward introducing him to everyone's videocassette recorder with the release of eight feature films, including the Best Foreign film of 1972.

From 1928 to 1977, Bunuel worked as writer, director, producer and dubbing director, producing foreign versions for Hollywood films — first in Paris for Warner Brothers and Paramount in the early 1930s and later in Hollywood during World War II. He also worked at New York's Museum of Modern Art and on American Army propaganda films.

He was dropped from the last project, he reported, because "(Salvador) Dali called me an atheist." As a matter of fact, for many years Bunuel was quoted as saying "Thank God I'm still an atheist."

Besides its wry black humor, that statement, like Bunuel's films, attacks those institutions of religion and society that oppress humanity, be they church, state or middle-class morality. At one point, Bunuel clarified the issue: "I believe it is necessary to find God in man."

Born to well-to-do Spanish land owners in 1900, Bunuel was educated by Jesuits, and those two influences, middle-class materialism and the impact of Catholic teachings, were targets of his work throughout a long career of uniquely styled but visually interesting.

DESPITE THE maniacal gleam in his eye and the iconoclasm in his work — he appears in his first film "Un Chien Andalou," ("Andalusian Dog"), written with Dali in 1928 — he was, and is, extremely influential among filmmakers. That first film is widely viewed as a classic of surrealism, as is his second film, 1930's "L'Age d'Or" ("The Age of Gold"), which provoked riots in Paris. For some years thereafter he did not direct.

Bunuel's Oscar was for "The Discreet Charm of the Bourgeoisie" (1972, 100 minutes) and came at a time when he was being recognized for his intellectual cinema and his filmmaking techniques. The fact that his projects generally came in under budget, under schedule and showed a profit endeared him to producers and performers alike.

Despite early political problems, by the '60s and '70s, he was working with major stars, albeit seldom in his native Spain.

Bunuel's next film, "The Phantom of Liberty" (1974, 104 minutes) was nominated for best foreign film Oscar and also is a comic indictment of the contemporary scene.

In addition to these two, the Media "Cineatheque Collection" includes two other Bunuel films made in France: "The Milky Way" (1969, 105 minutes) and "The Diary of a Chambermaid" (1964, 97 minutes).

THE FORMER dissects religious fervor with two hippie pilgrims on a modern pilgrimage that is, to say the least, unusual.

The remaining four titles in this newly released VCR collection are from Bunuel's Mexican work during the 1950s: "Susana" (1951, 87 minutes), "A Woman Without Love" (1952, 91 minutes), "The Brute" (1942, 81 minutes) and "Wuthering Heights" (1953, 90 minutes).

• WALK AFTER MEALS. Forget the old idea of waiting a while after meals to exercise (like swimming).

"I like to wait 10 seconds, at least until I can wipe my lip," he quipped.

Even a short walk is fine after eating, but never, ever fall asleep after a meal.

• REMEMBER THE 10 TWOS OF TRAINING. The first four are 2,222, the number of calories you should burn in a week through walking. The next three are 222, the number of hours you should walk a year (that's about 40 minutes a day). The next two are 22, which is the miles a week you should average, and the last two is the number of years added to your life expectancy if you exercise right.

"But it's the 30 years before that will be a lot better," Sweetgall said.

• WALK EIGHT DAYS A WEEK. Not really, but that's the idea, he said.

"You don't brush your teeth three days a week, do you?"

• M&M'S ARE REALLY FOOTBALL FIELDS. You have to walk 120 yards, from end zone to end zone, to burn off each tiny melt-in-your-mouth M&M candy. A whole bag, by the way, takes about 45 minutes of walking.

• LITTLE CHANGES MAKE A DIFFERENCE. Stop looking for the closest parking place, taking the elevator or using the electronic garage door opener, Sweetgall said.

• PERSISTENCE is the key. Even if you skip a day or two or a week, get back to it and stick with it. Most of all, Sweetgall said, make your walks pleasurable, "so it's something that's the thrill of the day, instead of the chore of the day."

In Windsor's 'Korner' . . . Leo DuFoure

By Bob Sadler
special writer

Leo DuFoure could be the funniest thing to come out of Canada's Great White North since Bob and Doug Mackenzie.

Or is it the Great White South? DuFoure is owner of the Komedu-Korner, Windsor's only comedy club — "That's why we're doing well."

Raised in Dearborn and a graduate of Fordson High School, DuFoure has a few reasons for starting his club across the border.

"I have some relatives in Canada, plus I have kids and didn't want to travel on the road too much," he said. "I thought if I had a club, I could bring in all the comics I knew in the past in the States."

In addition to running the Korner, DuFoure also has emceed every show since it first opened in 1980.

As a performer, he has appeared in clubs around the United States, particularly in Kansas City and Florida. Of course, he also drives across the Ambassador Bridge for an occasional appearance in the Detroit area.

DuFOURE attributes his start in comedy to an old friend from high school.

"He used to do impressions and I'd try to outdo him," he said. "That really got me going into it. I did all the pep rallies at Fordson. Then in 1979, I went to the Comedy Castle and did the show there."

Impressions are still a large part of his act. DuFoure lists Jack Nicholson, Clint Eastwood and Jimmy Stewart as some of the voices in his repertoire. Other than that, it's just basic stand-up, he said.

"I worked the crowd a lot," DuFoure said. "I'm a very likeable person on stage. I like to get the crowd on my side right away, win them over."

He looks to Bob Hope and George Burns as comedy role models.

"They do it with class," he said. "They didn't get in trouble, or at least they didn't get caught."

Sharp's sharp on Detroit

By Bob Sadler
special writer

Native Detroit Tom Sharp comes home again this week and his priorities are set.

"I want to catch as many games at Tiger Stadium as I can before those bums tear it down," he said, the emotion bubbling over in his voice. "This is a real sore point with me. Every great baseball player that has ever played the game has played there."

"It just doesn't make sense to me. They'd never do this in Chicago with Wrigley Field or in Boston at Fenway Park or New York with Yankee Stadium. If the place is beyond renovation, I'd understand."

Sharp concludes his banter on the beloved ballpark by offering his services as an emcee for any "Save the Stadium" event.

"The whole city should cherish it," he said. "We've got to fix it up."

A native of Dearborn, Sharp also comes back to town for the purpose of performing comedy. It was here that he got his comedic feet wet, while still working in advertising at W.B. Doner in Southfield.

"I was like the corporate emcee at Doner," said Sharp, 41. "If anyone retired and had a party, I'd be the emcee. A lot of people encouraged me to go ahead and try it. Some people told me to forget it, but I didn't listen to them."

A GUITAR he learned to play at age 23 gave him the opportunity to put some of the humorous songs he wrote to music. That led to a slot on the Dick Purtan Show on WXYZ radio in the mid-'70s, where he got still more encouragement. Finally, Sharp headed west in 1977.

Once in California (he currently resides in Sherman Oaks), the transplanted Detroit made quite a splash on television, doing man-on-the-street segments for the successful NBC series, "TV's Bloopers and Practical Jokes."

He also tried a few sit-coms — "Sweet Surrender" for NBC in 1978 and "First Impressions" for CBS last year. Unfortunately, neither show attracted a large audience immediately and were canceled almost as soon as they hit the air.

"How can you tell after five episodes?" Sharp asked. "To have a successful show these days is like winning the Lotto."

Despite his frequent TV appearances, Sharp has achieved his greatest notoriety through commercials. He has pitched everything from fast food to automobiles. Recently, he's been seen in the Detroit area, doing spots for Summit Place Mall and Marathon Oil ("I think you should take these guys for a ride.")

He particularly remembers the Marathon ad, which he filmed in the Detroit area — "It was the hottest day I've ever worked . . . 104 degrees," he said.

When asked why he felt advertisers chose him to represent their product, Sharp gave a humble answer: "If there's some quality I have, I don't know what it is. I haven't tried to analyze it."

WITH REGARD to stand-up comedy, Sharp now only does clubs seven or eight weeks a year. "It's not that I don't like it anymore, I'm just doing other things."

He thinks that the growth of comedy in this country is a good thing, with only one hitch: "If it (the growth) keeps going the way it is now, everyone in the world — except six guys in Iraq — will be a stand-up comic by the end of the century."

Of course, even that possibility doesn't phase him.

"I don't think about the competition unless the guy on before me has the audience falling out of their chairs," he said.

If you check out his show, you may see Sharp pull out his guitar and start playing some of the songs that got him started with Purtan more than a decade ago. And he has written some new ones since then.

"I'm working on one right now called 'Get You Butt Out of My Heart,' and there's always 'I Don't Know Whether to Kill Myself or Go Bowling,'" he said. "I have a tendency to do whatever it is I can remember, when I'm up there."

Tom Sharp will appear Tuesday through Saturday, May 23-27, at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle, Woodward at 11 1/2 Mile, Berkley. For reservations, call 542-9900.

Record in hand, Dan Kingston was ready to make the turntable switch and, if possible, avoid the dreaded "dead air" dilemma.

JOHN STORMZAND/staff photographer

By Dan Kingston
special writer

Stage fright.

That's what I got as I left for the bar to be a disc jockey for a day.

"This is silly," I told myself. "I'm just going to spin records and make a few introductions over a microphone — certainly nothing to get butterflies in the stomach over. I'm not a performer on stage."

And yet, as it turned out, that's exactly what you are when you're a DJ in a bar. You're a performer.

"Oh, definitely," said Amy Tarnopol, one of the DJs at Hollywood Nites in West Bloomfield. "You have power up here. You are in control of the crowd. You can make them hyper by the type of music you play, or by talking to them."

"Sometimes, I even sing along with the song. Yeah, I even feel like a 'star' sometimes. People point up at me and try to talk to me," she continued. "Sometimes, I'll rap along with a rap record and really get the crowd going."

Rap along with a record? No wonder I felt stage fright setting in. Oh well, I figured, maybe if I got involved in the technical details of running the booth, then the "performing" might come easier.

For those who think that being a DJ is just slapping one record after another on a turntable, you're in for a shock. First of all, you need two turntables to fade from one song to the next, otherwise you end up with "dead air" between songs.

"AND THAT sounds and looks very peculiar when you have a dance floor full of people," Tarnopol said.

"Yes," agreed Leslie Kirkland, another DJ at Hollywood Nites. "I once got heckled so bad by the crowd because I picked up the wrong turntable needle and there was no music for 10 seconds. It's no fun mistake to make."

Hey, man, it takes two hands to play when you're a DJ

It was my turn to take the controls, cue up a record and fade from one song to another. "I can't be too hard," I thought. I had been watching Amy do it effortlessly for the last 20 minutes, while talking to me and making an occasional comment over the microphone.

Preparing a record for play — "cueing it up" — turned out to be an effort in itself. First, you have to find the exact point on the record groove where the song begins. Then you back it up "to give it a running start" explained Gary Park, manager and sometime DJ at Hollywood Nites.

"The turntable needs to build up speed, otherwise you'll hear a 'wah-ah-ah' sound at the beginning of a song," he said. "Once cued up, the trick is to hit the start button, fade in the new song and fade out the previous one — all at the same time — with just the right amount of hesitation to allow the turntable to come up to speed."

"Uh, yeah," I thought, "as I'm jumping around, hyping up the crowd, mentally selecting the next song to be played, cueing that record up and making an occasional comment over the microphone."

"Oh, yes, and you may be called upon to make minor repairs, too," Tarnopol said. "The needle comes loose from the tone arm once in awhile and you have to unscrew it further and then tighten it back down."

OH SURE, and I'll dance a jig and wait on tables in my spare time.

My first effort at cueing and fading from one song to another met with minor success.

"Not bad, Dan," Tarnopol said, "but don't back up the record so far next time when cueing it up. That way you won't end up with dead air like you got this time."

Dead air? I hadn't even heard it.

My next several tries were successful and a few attempts on the microphone were adequate. It was time to move on to combining a fade over from one turntable to the other, and at the same time speak into the microphone with mellow tone and confidence.

"OK," Tarnopol said reassuringly, "now just say it again" as she slid up the microphone switch. I had forgotten to turn on. Without missing a beat, my amplified voice boomed over the dance floor with a resonance I've never heard before.

We I laughed heartily about my mistake.

"That's alright," she said. "I once left the volume up on both turntables. Both records were blaring out at the same time and I didn't know it. For a few moments, I just thought it was a bizarre, new version of the record I had just put on."

The turntable speed switch can be another possible mistake waiting to happen.

"I recall I once played a record at 45 RPM instead of 33 RPM," Kirkland said. "People laughed and pointed."

"SOME SONGS already sound as if they're recorded at the wrong speed," Tarnopol added. "Rock Lobster" by the B-52s is like that, and the people dancing just go crazy when they hear it. These days, it's sometimes hard to tell what's a mistake and what's part of a song."

The stories amazed me because all of the DJs are so smooth in the booth. When a record begins to skip, Tarnopol calmly nudges the needle and announces over the microphone, "Well, I cured his stuttering problem, didn't I?"

If there is one word for the operation of disc jockeys in the booth it has to be smooth. Despite the problems that crop up and the pressures of keeping the music continuous without dead air, each DJ is excellent at what they do — very smooth.

"Reading the crowd is the toughest part," said Kevin Hritzowin. "You just can't please everyone with all the different types of music out today. We play a wide selection here, and often the musical taste of the crowd is very divided."

Tarnopol agreed. "I'll hear comments like 'This son stinks' and I'll just say 'Aw, shut up' — with the microphone off, of course."

All in all, the best thing about being DJ at a bar turns out to be the notoriety you receive by playing "on stage." You can make comments directly to certain people on the dance floor, or to friends and regular customers.

"People love to be recognized, even if you poke a little fun at them," Park said.

"I LOVE to hear people clap for a song I just played — although you never know if it's the song or something that happened at their table," Tarnopol added.

And as far as anyone throwing dollar bills up at me . . . Well, the only thing thrown my way was a crumpled napkin that had a song request written on it. Maybe next time.

I have to go back, because they promised to show me how to make that needle-scratching sound you hear on rap records. Then maybe I'll be a star at Hollywood Nites.

Civil War history abounds around Columbus

Columbus downtown alternatives include Ramada, Econolodge and bed-and-breakfast places. Lots of others a few minutes away on the outskirts.

Mary will love Callaway Gardens, 2,500 acres of gardens, wilderness, ponds, resort accommodations, golf course and other amenities 30 miles north of Columbus. It was created by textile magnate Cason Callaway and his wife 26 years ago.

That will cost you $119.75 per person, two-night minimum, including breakfast and dinner, green fees, carts and unlimited golf, or you can just visit on a day trip. Call toll-free (800) 282-2181 for literature and information.

Warm Springs, a few miles north of the Gardens, makes a wonderful day trip. Your sense of history will be satisfied by a visit to the Little White House, where President Franklin D. Roosevelt had his summer "cottage" hideaway.

DRIVE SOUTH from Columbus, and you are on the Andersonville Trail, which leaves I-75 at highway 49, goes through towns like Marshallville (eat at a Mennonite restaurant called Yoders and take the last river ferry in Georgia free) and Perry, national headquarters of the American Camellia Society. Mary will love the gardens and the collection of Boehm Porcelain Birds. Go on from there through the village of Andersonville (more crafts) and the Andersonville National Historic Site.

The trail then goes on to Americus and Plains, home of former president Jimmy Carter and his family, and back east on highway 280 through DeSoto and Cordele to I-75. It is a great trip. Its a 90-mile loop and about 60 miles from Columbus to Andersonville.

There is an 8,500-acre Veterans Memorial State Park between Americus and Cordella for boating, fishing, camping; it even has cabins.

There are roadside motels, especially near I-75 at Cordele. I checked out Plains Bed and Breakfast, a big Victorian house on the main street of Plains and loved it. Call (912) 824-7252.

PLAINS ISN'T much of a town. Most village shops are sparse. You can't get very close to where President and Mrs. Carter live, although you might catch him teaching Sunday School at the Baptist church he helped to integrate in Plains.

Columbus is the most central place to stay and has lots of attractions. The annual medieval fair is on at the Iron Works in early June. Walk the historic river promenade, see the Civil War markers, check out the historic district.

Try dinner theater at the restored Springer Opera House. Visit an interesting Civil War museum, the Confederate Naval Museum. Don't miss the recently reopened Columbus Museum. You can also visit Fort Benning, see your friends who joined the army and tour the National Infantry Museum. Servicemen and women are a big part of the Columbus scene.

And if you've got an extra day go to Eufaula, Ala., just across the state line, and do a scenic water cruise on the Chattahoochee River. History lovers follow the Chattahoochee Trace through several counties full of antebellum houses and other historic sites.

The best way to get information on all of this is to call the Columbus folks toll-free at (800) 999-1613.

At Warm Springs, you'll find the Little White House, where President Franklin D. Roosevelt had his summer "cottage" hideaway.

After introducing my "Less is Better" campaign against junk mail two weeks ago, my own mail has increased, but it's not junk. Here are some excerpts:

"Bravo! Am I ever fed up with junk mail. I've written two different addresses to have my name removed from all mailing lists, but I've noticed no difference. Think of the waste of natural resources, the pollution and cost of disposing."

— The Mail Preference Service of the Direct Marketing Association told me they will remove names from all national lists for a period of five years. However, this does not affect localized lists and, should you subscribe to a magazine, send for a catalog or apply for a credit card, you will automatically be re-entered on national lists.

"I am 80 years old and in frail health. I have to walk down the road to my mailbox, only to cart back mostly junk mail. I hope and pray something can be done to stop it."

"When I receive unwanted mail with a postage paid envelope, I fill it up with more junk mail and mail it back."

"Return every postage paid card that drops out magazines with a note saying, 'Please quit sending loose cards.'"

"I'm horrified at the waste while the rain forests and our ultimate survival (the Environment) is at stake." "Cut down waste, not trees. At least print on recycled paper."

"I resent advertisers getting a break while we pay the full shot. I'm sure we regulars are paying for it and the poor postman hauls hundreds of pounds of this useless stuff."

— Post Office administrators say bulk mail pays for itself and is not a parasite on first class mailers. I was also told that it provides income for the post office and they do nothing to discourage it because "the public seems to be very receptive" to bulk mail. In fact, they provide bulk mailers with aids to insure proper delivery.

If there is not public outcry, the waste and the invasion of our privacy will continue. While bulk mail cannot and should not be eliminated, there are options to reduce it significantly. To support this campaign, write "Less is Better," Organizing Techniques, 6165 Worlington, Birmingham 48010.

condo queries
Robert M. Melsner

Q. Our board has been aware of some construction defects at our condominium and has an attorney who it has hired, although the board is not willing to let the attorney quarterback the effort but wishes to do so itself. As a director, I am concerned that this course of action may lead to undermine the best interest of the association. Shouldn't the attorney have a direct input into the operation of the case?

A. I am glad that you have asked this question, as this is a frequent problem of condominium association boards in dealing with attorneys. Many boards are overly penurious when it comes to hiring the best possible legal talent that they can obtain for that particular problem. Failing to recognize that they are incurring potential liability as directors on a day-to-day basis, they should attempt to avail themselves of the best help they can to ensure that the best interests of the association are being met.

When it comes to preparing a construction defect case against the developer, the same holds true, that is, the directors of an association are to make policy, not necessarily carry it out. That is why they have other consultants such as management companies, attorneys, insurance advisors, architects and engineers. Where the board involves itself, directly, interfering with the attorney's ability to prepare its case, the board is undermining its own efforts to represent the interest of the members of the association, and the board will, no doubt, ultimately, be held accountable for its acts or omissions.

Get a legal opinion from an attorney as to the acts of the board and, perhaps, that may open up their eyes.

Q. I do not expect you to get into the political ramifications but can you give me any insight into what practical effect there may be for a school district losing a vote in order to back a bonding issue for continued maintenance of the schools.

A. The value of residential and, in some instances, commercial property, in a municipality is oftentimes directly tied to the reputation of the school system encompassed within the community. To the extent that the school system is legitimately under-capitalized or under funded, so that it cannot maintain the quality of teaching or provide modern teaching facilities, not only will the children of the district suffer, but so will the property owners who will find that their properties are less desirable, less marketable and, therefore, not as valuable as they would otherwise be, given that they had an outstanding school district.

Home inspections

Worth the price, but choose firm carefully

IF YOU ARE buying a home, co-op or condominium, plan to have it properly inspected by an experienced, competent home inspector.

"A home inspection should be an automatic step in the home buying process," advises Donald McKeon, president of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Board of Realtors. "Knowing what to expect — both inside and out — will help you make an informed decision about the value of the home and the future upkeep," he said.

A comprehensive home inspection includes a visual examination of the structure from top to bottom, including the heating and air conditioning systems (weather permitting), the interior plumbing and electric systems, the roof and visible insulation, walls ceiling, floors, windows and doors, the foundation, basement and visible structure.

FOLLOWING THE examination, most inspectors will provide a report which not only points possible defects for areas of concern, but also the positive aspects of the structure as well as the type of maintenance that will be necessary to keep it in good shape.

"Home buyers who consider doing the inspection themselves should be aware that even the most experienced homeowners lack the knowledge and expertise of a professional home inspection firm which may have inspected hundreds or thousands of homes," McKeon said.

For example, watermarks in the basement may indicate a chronic seepage problem, or simply may be the result of a single incident. A professional assessment will provide complete information about the condition of the property you are considering, and will help avoid any unpleasant surprises after the sale. In addition, a home inspector can remain totally objective, while you, as the prospective homebuyer, may be emotionally involved.

THE INSPECTION fee for a typical single-family house will vary depending upon the geographic area, as do home prices. The particular features of the home such as size, age and special structures will be taken into consideration as well.

"The cost, however, should not be a factor in your decision to have a home inspected," said McKeon. "You might save many times the cost of the inspection if you are able to renegotiate the purchase price based on significant problems revealed by the inspector." Consult your real estate agent or lawyer for advice.

A home inspection which does reveal major problems does not necessarily mean you should not buy the house. The inspector can advise you of effective solutions and project the costs involved.

If an inspection report indicates that there are no major defects, you can complete the purchase with peace of mind about the home systems and property. In addition, you will have learned a great deal about the home the inspector's report, which should be kept for future reference.

When selecting a home inspector, your real estate agent may be able to supply you with a listing of local inspection firms. You may wish to avoid, however, firms affiliated with realty or construction firms. When interviewing a potential home inspection firm, carefully inquire about the specifics of their work and company. The following list of questions will assist you in the interview:

- How long have you been in the residential inspection business?
- Is your firm affiliated with a realty or construction company?
- What type of insurance do you carry?
- Do you have a published list of the items you inspect?
- Do you have a published list, and can you give me the names, of customer references?

- Do you give accurate cost estimates for any major defects discovered during the inspection?
- What are the qualifications of the specific inspector who will inspect my house?
- How long will the inspector spend in the house?
- How much do you charge, and on what do you base your fees?

THE ANSWERS TO these questions should provide you with enough information to make a sound choice in selecting the firm to inspect your property. Base your decision on the answers to all the questions, but give special weight to the qualifications of the inspector, the type of report issued, and the items inspected.

Professional inspection companies will be happy to answer all your questions. Avoid firms which issue only a verbal report. The report should be in a narrative form, not just a checklist of items inspected. Avoid, also, firms which indicate that they can do the inspection in a relatively short amount of time — thorough inspection takes several hours. The inspection time, however, will vary with the house.

It is important that the company you choose maintain a high standard of ethics. The inspector should neither offer to perform work nor recommend contractors to you. The company you choose should meet or exceed the standards established by the American Society of Home Inspectors, a national association of professional home inspectors.

Properly inspection work is not limited to residential properties or prospective homebuyers. Many inspectors help homeowners with analysis and solutions to specific problems such as energy conservation, wet basements and/or cracked foundations. Inspectors also can inspect work upon completion to ensure that a contract has been properly fulfilled.

Spring gardening tips

By Earl Aronson
special writer

weeder's guide

AP — Pole beans are so-named because they require support, such as a pole, so that their vines will climb rather than sprawl along the ground. They are sometimes called "runner" beans.

If you live in the country, you may be able to make supports from saplings or straight sprouts of bushy shrubs. If so, prune the branches and twigs so that there are no stubs. Some gardeners prefer to use iron rods as poles; others extend twine from short poles to crosspieces, forming a trellis on which vines can climb.

Are pole beans better than bush types? Pole varieties yield more beans per square foot of garden than do bush types, but they need two or three weeks longer to mature and thus deliver their crop a few weeks later. So, bush beans often are recommended for early production. Snap and lima beans are planted both as pole and bush beans.

A careful gardener can save poles and crossbars from one season to another by cleaning and storing them each fall.

DON'T RUSH TO plant beans and corn in the spring. If the soil is too cold, seeds are apt to rot. Wait until the soil temperature is about 50 degrees Fahrenheit, which is warm enough for seeds to germinate.

Here are some general garden tips:

- Plants of the cabbage family are susceptible to root maggots, which eat the roots and prevent plants from absorbing water and nutrients.
- Apply a soil drench of diazinon, if its use is not forbidden in your area, at or after transplanting, following label directions.
- A good perennial crop is asparagus. Plant roots in well-drained, fertile soil. You can begin harvesting sparingly two years after planting, more heavily afterward.
- Spring flowering bulbs, such as tulips, hyacinths and daffodils, should be fertilized after flowers have faded. Apply one tablespoon of 5-10-5 or similar analysis around plants. Cut off developing seed pods and you can plant annuals among the bulbs to cover unsightly fading foliage of spring bulbs.

WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!
2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.
3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall tires) and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.
4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!
5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

Use this form to write your classified advertisement before you call...or fill it in and mail to:

"I finally found a townhome, as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And-luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing."
