Eloise study says to court auto firms

Citing the area's "excellent access to highways, rail and airports," a consultant group last week recommended specific ways to market the Eloise site in Westland as an industrial park.

Specifically, a consultant who prepared the study urged that freight forwarders, auto suppliers and trucking companies would be attracted by development of the property and that public officials should concen-trate their efforts on these type of firms.

The study, commissioned by the Eloise Task Force and presented Tuesday afternoon by Harry Foden and Pamela McNamara of Arthur D. Little Inc. of Cambridge, Mass., also recommended that the city and county should consider rezoning part of such a park for heavy industrial use.

The property consists of more than 300 acres of coun-_ ty-owned land on both sides of Michigan Avenue west of Merriman. The task force include officials of citles which border the Eloise property, mainly Wayne, Romulus, Taylor and Inkster.

But Joseph Benyo, consultant to Westland Mayor Charles Griffin and a task force member, said he would . prefer light manufacturing firms, like those in electronics or computer software, on the site because they wouldn't generate air pollution.

"Any research and development facitilities would be ideal for the area," he said in an interview. Benyo noted that the city has already had some inquiries about the property, but the task force has yet toact on recommendations by the study.

HE SUGGESTED during the briefing that the task force meet by the second week of July to come up with a definite plan.

Part of that plan will deal with improvement and building of access roads to the airport, a key recommendation of the study.

"You gotta get them in, and you gotta get them out," Benyo said of the potential developments and traffic generated by them.

Senior softballers bring home gold

By Julie Brown staff writer

At one point, things weren't looking too good for the Canton Seniors Sluggers.

They were facing some tough competition on the part of another women's softball team from Colorado. The teams competed at the U.S._National_Senior_Olympics, _ held June 19-24 in St. Louis, Mo. In the third game of a best-three-of-five championship series, the Sluggers were behind 10-5 late in the game.

"All of a sudden, we busted loose, scored a bunch of runs on no. outs," said Louise Spigarelli of Canton, who coaches the Sluggers. "They lived up to their name. It was really something."

The players went on to a 20-10 victory, following earlier victories of 23-13 and 14-8. For their efforts, they brought home the gold medal. Each athlete received a medal, inhonor of the team's first-place status.

Attorney is critical of teacher's lawsuit

By Kevin Brown staff writer

A lawsuit filed against two Livonia Public Schools principals is barred by the state teacher's tenure act, according to their attorney.

Further, the lawsuit "fails to state a claim upon which relief can be granted," according to the response to the suit, filed in Wayne Circuit Court.

The response was sparked by a lawsuit filed June 7 by James Har-krader, a former teacher and coach in Livonia Public Schools - high schools.

tive work evaluations by Dale Coller, Stevenson principal, and Kenneth Watson Jr., outgoing Franklin principal, caused him to be denied tenure.

Robert Lusk said in his response to the lawsuit that Harkrader's complaint "is barred by his failure to initlate or exhaust available contractual remedies."

Further, he maintains the complaint should be dismissed because. the principals' actions "were abso-lutely or qualifiedly privileged," and "that some or all of the statements that plaintiff alleges were defamatory were true."

Harkrader, who began working as a contract teacher with the district in September 1987, is seeking a jury trial and $10,000 or more in damages, according to the complaint.

In the suit, he maintained that Coller's son - who played on the Churchill High junior varsity basketball squad coached by Harkrader told him "that he was receiving pressure from home to play more," in-January 1988.

Harkrader maintains in the suit that during the same month, Coller called him into his office "to discuss Coller's son's role on the junior varsity basketball team."

He salt he won favorable evaluations from school tenure committees but not from Coller.

Harkrader said that Watson's evaluation, during the second year of his probation, "was supposed to be conducted independent of Coller's previous evaluation."

Yet, he maintains Watson, "referred to and practically duplicated | Coller's evaluation," as stated in the court complaint.

Harkrader maintains that all other evaluations were exemplary.

ON APRIL 17, the Livonia Boardof Education granted tenure to 30 teachers and denied tenure to Harkrader, despite student and teacher

Mabel Kitts, born in 1885 when Chester A. Arthur was president, has seen 20 presidents come and go since then. She marked her 104th birthday Thursday, celebrating with friends and relatives at Westland's Four Chaplains Nursing Home. Until 10 years ago, Kitls lived in her own home, caring for her sister, a retired school teacher. Four years ago, she received a personal greeting from then-President Ronald Reagan on her 100th birthday. Said Gerry Kitts of her mother-in-law's culinary accomplishments, "At 70, she could cook a meal that would put you to shame."

sald Eleanor Hoelscher of Canton, team captain. "It was really great, a good feeling. We said before we left we'd bring it back and we did."

GARDEN CITY resident Jeanne Hynes is equally enthuslastic in describing her team's victory.

"It was the best experience I've ever, ever had in all my 60 years," she said. "It was really an upper to see."

The average age for the victors was 64, though players ranged from 55 to 73. Athletes must be at least 55 to compete at the U.S. National Senior Olympics.

The slow-pitch softball team was made up primarily, though not entirely, of local women. One woman from St. Louis, Mo., played with the Sluggers. A team she'd been playing on folded and she asked if she could play elsewhere.

A woman from Greenville, Ohio, also heard about the competition and asked if she could play with the team.

"We ended up being able to put her on the roster too," Spigarelli sald.

This is the second U.S. National Senior Olympics. The first was held in 1987. The event is held every other year.

This year's competition attracted some 3,500 participants from 47 states, Spigarelli said. Events included track and field, swimming, archery, bowling, golf, table tennis, volleyball and horseshoes.

THIS IS THE first time a women's softball team from Canton participated. The team's victories were hard-fought, Spigarelli said. Knowing they'd won the gold medal gave, the team something to cheer about.

"They went wild. They jumped up and down. The action on the field next to us stopped."

The team includes: Rose Booth of Dearborn; Monica Doig of Dearborn Heights; Dottle' Finfrock of Westland; Alma Foerster of: Plymouth; * Bernle Gaddis of Pontiac; Jerry Gawura of Canton; Eleanor Hoelscher of Canton; Jeanne Hynes of Garden City; Emily Jansen of Northville; Joan Jasin of Canton; Sarah Kahalan of Garden City; Evelyn Nealeigh of Greenville, Ohio; Kay Oswalt of Garden City; and Jackle Schapp of St. Louis, Mo.

Michigan was represented by 179 participants, one of the largest con- Hynes, who brought her 20-monthtingents, Spigarelli said. Frank Reimann, a Canton Seniors member, also traveled to St. Louis, competing in the discus and shot put events.

Many of the Canton Seniors Sluggers played softball in their younger days. Team captain Eleanor Hoelscher played with a group of high school girls when she was still. in grade school.

"I played with my brothers all the time." Hoelscher played for about three years for a team from the Dalsy Air Rifle Co., based in Plymouth at the time. She didn't work for Daisy, although the team's manager did.

IT GOT TO the point where Hoelscher would have had to drive all the way to Detroit's east side to play softball, so she stopped playing. She's played with the Canton Seniors for several years.

"I enjoy people," she said. "I like to see how well I can do. I don't always do well, but that's part of the game."

Hoelscher's glad to see more opportunities for women to compete in sports.

"I think that's great, I really do. I think women should participate, really."

Jeanne Hynes is also an experienced player.

"I've played all my life," said old grandson, Brandon, to Tuesday's practice. "I used to play fast pitch for years."

Hynes played in church leagues over the years and played as a teenager at her boarding school. She now

But there was a time when he didn't even have one store to workfrom. After losing the dease on a Garden City store in 1971, he stored his supplies at home and became mobile, working out of his van.

He kept the business going, and in. 1981 realized a longtime goal.

Bonding for the roads is one possibility, Benyo suggested. He also said he'd been notified by Wayne County that the paving and expansion of Merriman to a five-lane road south of Michlgan Avenue would be completed in the fall.

The second recommendation was that the task force continue to cooperate and work together as a group, rather than as individual communities. The consultants advised them to form a marketing action committee to come up with an aggressive package of marketing materials. They also recommended continued cooperation with Detroit Metropolitan Airport in their expansion plans, a major key to creating new economic development opportunities for all the communities.

The Eloise Task Force was formed in 1986 by members of Westland's Economic Development Advisory Council.

Training camp

Ex-Tiger holds youth baseball clinic

HE BOYS and girls of summer took to the fields of Redford recently for the annual Milt Wilcox baseball camp.

The former Detroit Tigers pitcher's camp was co-sponsored by the Redford Parks and Recreation Department and Michael George, headbaseball coach at Madonna College in Livonia. Before going to Madonna, George coached the baseball team at Bishop Borgess in Redford.

About 40-50 youngsters attended the baseball camp, which was described as a success by recreation officials even though activities were. hampered by rainfall throughout the week. Those days canceled by rain will be rescheduled sometime in July. Participants will be notified. Other instructors participating in the camp, besides Wilcox and George, were: Ed Dreslinski, assistant head coach, Madonna College; Norm Brusseau, head coach, Bishop. Borgess; Steve Borgett, head trainer, Bishop Borgess; Mark Falvd, head coach, Diving Child. The camp for ages 7-17 cost $125 and included a T-shirt, baseball camp, 12 hours of instruction and awards. 'Guest appearances at the Redford camp were made by former Tigers Gates Brown, Willie Horton and Mickey Lolich. After leaving the Tigers as a player, Brown returned to the organization for a time as batting instructor.

The week alter Redford's camp,

Wilcox moved his baseball camp to neighboring Westland, where some 49 youngsters participated in the program,

We had more kids last year but the Tigers aren't doing that well this year," said Pam Martin of Westland Parks and Recreation. "If we threw a basketball camp this year, we would be turning kids away."

Former Tigers outfielder Jim Northrup and current Tigers pitcher Mike Henneman were among those turning out to assist Wilcox in Westland.

Most of the youngsters attending the camp are from the west side of the metropolitan area, Martin sald, although a few come from as far away as Fraser and Mount Clemens.

You don't have to be in public office to win drawings - really.

But two familiar public figures won major prizes Sunday night, June 25, in the first International Taste of Westland event held as a benefit for the 2-year-old Westland Cultural Society.

Mayor Charles Griffin won a $100 gift certificate from Westland Center while his assistant, Andrew Spisak, won a $300 gift certificate. Spisak, whose formal title is deputy mayor, is also president of the Wayne-Westland school board.

The grand prize, a ½ carat dia-mond solitaire from Shifrin Jewelers, was won by Kelly Straight, whose mother is a Westland Chamber of Commerce employee.

SEVERAL OTHER .prizes were awarded at the event, held in Westland Center, to spotlight the numerous restaurants in the city and neighboring communities.

The shopping mall's east court was decorated with international banners as restaurant employees served their specialties.

A salute to the Tigers

Westland woman wins sign contest

By C. L. Rugenetein stäff writer

4A(W,G)

It was an idea whose time had come, and Janice Lebedeff of Westland made the most of it. Her design for Gannett Outdoors, the company responsible for most of the billboards, won Gannett's recent "Salute the Tigers" contest: Lebedeff drew baseballs to represent notes on a musical score for the song, "Take Me Out to the Ballgame," with the words below. Her design was painted on Gan-neit's largest billboard, the 14-by-48-foot sign at southbound I-75 and Sire Boulevard near Dearborn Road and will be on other signs around town.

(A junior in graphic design at the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit, Lebedeff, 20, said the idea just came as a flash.

A representative of Gannett came into her class at CCS and announced the two-week contest, and the students took off with it. "I just worked out some thumbnails (sketches,)" she said. She's since been nominated for a CCS tuition scholarship.

LEBEDEFF, a 1987 graduate of Franklin High School, plans to go into graphic design after gradua-

Janice Lebedeff shows off the award-winning design she helped create for billboard and bumper sticker usage.

She's worked her way through college so far by doing design work at Type One in Livonia during summer recesses.

Lebedeff shared honors for winning the contest with Michelle Blaze of Dearborn. Blaze used the contest slogan "Gannett Outdoors _ Salutes the Tigers" in her design, and Gannett ran it above Lebedeff's graphics. "We've run various contests at CCS over the years,"said Pam Houthoofd, business development manager for Gannett Outdoors. "The idea is to try to encourage creative use of local media."

More than 25 designs were submitted and judged on the basis of creativity, originality and adaptability to Gannett Outdoors specific needs.

3 jockey for seat on county board

A trio of candidates lockeying for the 13th District seat on the Wayne County Board of Commissioners willhave to wait a little longer.

Commissioners voted Thursday to accept the resignation of Edward J, Plawecki Jr., who left earlier this month to become a district court judge in Dearborn Heights. But the board did not name a replacement. "We will probably name an appointee and set the date for a special election on July 6th," said commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville Township, whose district includes Plymouth and Livonia.

The commission can appoint a replacement valid for 60 days, then an election must be called to fill the post permanently.

Vying for the spot are Democrats John O'Reilly, Jr., son of former The Republican candidate is John Tyler.

Also at Thursday's meeting were Kevin Kelley and Clem Bykowski, candidates for the 9th District seat being vacated by Richard E. Manning, a Democrat. Manning has been appointed district court judge in Redford Township, replacing retiring judge Robert Brang. Kelley is an aide to Redford Township supervisor James Kelly, who is no relation. Bykowski is an aide to Manning, and a former county commissioner and one-term state representative.

On the cowl 'Batman' popularity soaring

By C.L. Rugenstein staff writer

Bam! Pow! Batman lives! " He even flies in this latest celluloid incarnation.

The question is - will the movie?

MOST OF, the 200 or so fans who packed a suburban theater for the Friday, June 23, 11 a.m. matinee seemed to think so.

Anticipation was so keen they even cheered the dimming of the house lights.

Besides the Cinema 6 in Canton, other bat-fans were excited at the Quo Vadis theater complex in Westland.

Some were long time Bat-fans: "I like it because its a new image," said Mike Bodley, 15. "He's not the old hipple Batman" of the '60's TV series.

"He has a new emblem,"-said-Ryan Guiliani, 13. "He's also more muscular."- "He's also Michael Keaton," added 13-year-old Keaton fan Fred Locke.

Locke likes Jack Nicholson's Joker too, though "He's not real different — I just like his character." Another Nicholson fan just liked the Joker because. "He's so bad. I just like Jack Nicholson and all his tricks," said John Porter, 13.

SOME OF Friday's crowd were Batman comic collectors.

Billy Keller, 16, has collected comics — "mostly Batmans" since he was seven. A fan of the old TV series too, Keller's favorite thing in the movie is the Bat Plane. "I just like how it looks."

Not even threat of domestic retribution could keep Gilford Edwards, 23, of Canton, away. Edwards, whose wife didn't know he was going to the movie, has been a fan since he got his first Batman action figure at age 7. He also watched the series, and collected comics -250 of them -"mostly Bats," he said.

But, his mother won't let him have them. She has them safely tucked away for the next generation of Batfans, Edwards' two sons, Khalvin, 4, and Quentin, 2.

For some moviegoers, seeing the Bat-movie just seemed like the right thing to do "I'm here to celebrate the end of the college semester," said Diana Markley: "Batman seemed like a good way to do it."

he thought there'd be a line" she said.

"Mom's working, it's the first day of vacation, and he just asked if he could go,"said Steve Wilson of Livonia, taking in the matinee with his son James, 6. While Wilson wasn't especially a Bat-fan in his younger days, Markley, like many, had read the original comics.

AND COLLECTORS should hang on to those musty old comic books, because if the movie flies, their prices will soar.

Jack Gunsaulas, of Jack's Gorner Bookstore in Plymouth thinks the movie's success will have a strong influence on the sale of the old comics.

"I had 40 or 50 total in the past two.weeks" buying the comics, he said. "One young chap came in and bought about $50 worth."

old, also know what they're looking – for.

"People who are buying are more knowledgeable," Gunsaulas said. "They know who the characters are, and when they changed." And they're all going to see the movie.

Manager Tim Jahn of the Cinema 6 complex said last night's 10 p.m. preview sold out. "I had all three theaters full on

"I had all three theaters full on both sides," or about 800 people he said. Another 200 who didn't make it for the first show came back for the 12 a.m. showing. "On a Thursday night, that's excellent," said Jahn. Of the 800 who showed up for the previews, Jahn said "I bet everyone of them had a Batman-something on."

One young man, Rami Farhat, even came dressed as the Joker. Jahn said he tried to get audience reaction to the movie. The results? "Everybody's ready for "Bat-

County refunds surplus drain money

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara presented a check Wednesday from the county's drainage district to Highland Park Mayor Martha G. Scott for $903,749.

The funds, which have been accumulating interest over the years, are the result of overassessment and bond proceeds which exceeded bond repayment costs for new drain construction.

"Our auditors have finally straightened out the complex problems of overpayment to the now de- > funct Wayne County Drain Commission," said McNamara. "This check represents the last of eight communitles to be refunded more than $5. million in surplus drain money."

Cities and townships in the county which have already received surplus drain cash refunds include Livonia, $1,309,708; Westland, $765,117; Garden City, $702,006; Redford Township, $224,841; and Plymouth Township, $54,176. The other communities which received rebates are Detroit and Sumpter Township.

Shortly after taking office in 1987, McNamara's administration restruc- with outstanding bonds for the origi-(formerly the Wayne County Drain Commission) and staff was directed to void the outstanding bonds where possible and return money to com- are outstanding, this refund can be munities.

In accordance with the County Drain Code, communities must agree to use funds for drain purposes only. The Highland Park City Council passed a resolution to accept the money according to the Drain Code.

REFUNDED MONEY falls into two categories: funds from drains tured the Division of Public Works anal construction of the drains and funds from drains where the bonds -have been retired.

In drains where bond payments used to offset the taxpayers drain assessments on those bonds. If the bonds for the construction of a drain have been paid off, the community may use the money for other drain projects.

'The drainage board, under the direction of Jim Murray, has worked diligently with county communities to assure that drain assessment funds are invested and used wisely,". sald McNamara.

GOP balks at Blanchard's budget projections

By Tim Richard staff writer

On the legislative calendar, it looks like just another series of budget arguments that will be settled by compromise.

But Republican legislators think Senate Majority Leader John Engler may have the upper hand in a knockdown brawl with Democratic Gov. James Blanchard, ---- "Engler wants to put $400 million more into schools and say, Here you. don't need to pass a sales tax increase," Sen, Richard Fessler, R-Union Lake, said as the Senate adjourned for two weeks.

Democrats tongue-lash Engler for 'gubernatorial politics." The 40year-old career legislator has said he wants to be governor.

HERE IS Engler's strategy; as revealed to GOP caucuses:

• Each February Blanchard presents a "tight" budget with little new money for schools, low forecasts for the welfare caseload, and conservative revenue projections because the old factory jobs are gone. This year it was $6.99 billion.

• The Legislature proceeds to pass it with few modifications.

• In June the governor comes up with an appropriations bill called "supplementals." There is more money for welfare plus some for Blanchard's pet projects - items that might be chewed up politically in the regular budget process.

THIS YEAR Engler is playing "Gotcha."

"The House and Senate fiscal agencies have ferreted out more revenues," Engler told the Senate during its one-day session last week. He put the total revisions at $550 million. That's almost 8 percent of the original budget.

"As the weeks go by, he said, the administration gradually raises its -revenue projections so that they almost match the Legislature's.

Engler complained that Blanchard wants to put too much into social services and prisons, and too little Into education.

"Everyone is agreed there's over $400 million to play with," said Rep. Frank Fitzgerald, R-Grand Ledge. "We're tired of playing patsies."

SO REPUBLICANS on budget conference comittees are relusing to "sign off" on appropriations bills until the final revenue projections are

They're saying they want that new revenue to go into education, above all, rather than into Blanchard's "cookie jar stuff," in the words of Sen: Harry Gast, R-St: Joseph, the appropriations chairman.

We'll grind 'er out, Bill Ryan style," said Gast, referring to the Democratic House speaker of the '70s who dragged out sessions until the last minute. "The targets have to come first; then the conferees can meet."

Gast told the story of Rep. Tom Mathleu, D-Grand Rapids, known statewide as the champion of community college funding. After agreeing several years ago in a conference committee to a lower appropriation than he wanted. Mathleu found he couldn't funnel any of the "supplemental" money into community

X-RAYS OF THE KNEES Pain in the knee does not necessarily mean that you need an x-ray of the joint.

An x-ray is indicated when initial treatment fails to provide substantial improvement to your knee. Then the question arises if the diagnosis is correct; perhaps two conditions exist, and initial treatment addressed only one of them. An x-ray often can answer, such questions. X-ray is in order if a previously well controlled knee problem suddenly changes for the worse. You may have a dull pain in your knee that aspirin treated adequately. Suddenly you are faced with Intense pain that doesn't let up. X-ray is an excellent way of revealing changes in the joint such as calcifications or a cyst, not evident by examination.

X-ray is useful at your initial visit when the doctor, after examination, is uncertain about the diagnoisis. For example, he may be sure that you have osteoarthritis, but only an x-ray can reveal its extent. Or, on the evidence available, the question remains if you have osteo- or rheumatold arthritis. X-ray will provide the information needed to make the distinction and insure that you begin appropriate treatment.

The same indications for x-rays hold for the hands, shoulders, hips and feet.

colleges, Gast said.

If Engler can put a few hundred million of the "supplemental" bill into schools, he can oppose the halfcent sales tax increase that Blanchard favors on the Nov. 7 ballot and brand him a tax-raising liberal. That tax increase would put $400 million more into K-12 schools.

While the waiting goes on, the GOP Senate majority intends to meet only every second week. Next, session is July 12.

"Once every two weeks is enoughto hear the governor call for more taxes," Engler said.

DEMOCRATS so far haven't replied directly to the Engler strategy. "The Senate announced on its calendar it intends to meet only eight days this summer. Eight days out of 107." Blanchard said Wednesday night on his "Ask the Governor" television program. "They should turn back part of their salaries. They're already a part-time Legislature."

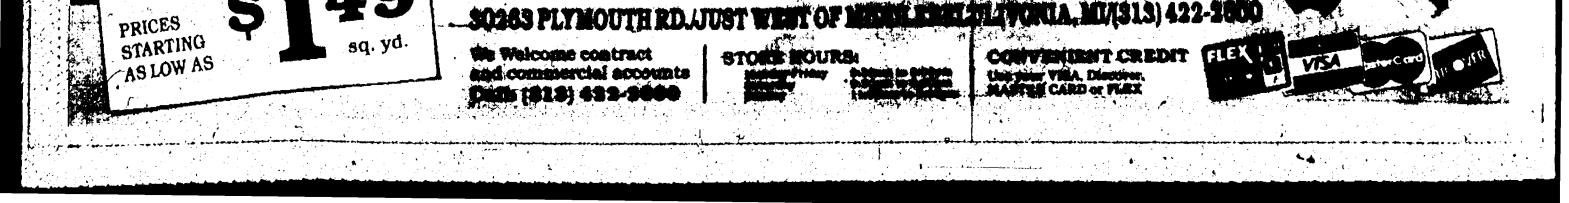

Sald budget director Shelby Solomon, interviewed outside the Senate chamber after adjournment:

"There's only one budget problem: Sen. Engler, Every other member is ready to move ahead on the budget." He said Engler has "blanket notions of cutting social services. Just exactly who does he want to pay?"

25 wines are most palatable

Fresh from a viewing of the newest Star Trek flick, I was ready to voyage where no palate had gone before, to spend an evening with Robert Parker Jr. (edi-tor of "The Wine Advocate") and 150 other oenophiles (wine lovers) while we sampled 25 assorted Bordeaux wines from the 1986 vintage.

This was no ordinary wine tasting. When the Janes Gang gets together to unscrew a few bottle tops, we usually sample California chardonnays. That night, however, I sat at a table with nine other wine lovers, and between tastes of-Chef-Milos' country plate and an assortment of cheese and fruits, we tasted what easily could have totaled about $300. worth of Bordeaux wines ranging from the mediocre to the sublime. Seated at my table were Kathy Klakulak of Birmingham, Bill Harmon and Helen and Rob Haines of Williams Lake, Cindy and Steve Knight of Royal Oak, Kathy and Tom Halbeslan of Bir-mingham and Larry Gulld of Warren. Kathy and Bill are the main organizers of this unofficial wine group, which meets every month or so to try a few wines, compare tastes and make case purchases, which are divided among group members. When I announced my palate leaned toward wines with screw-off tops, I knew I was in for a treat and an exciting evening with these folks, who swirled, twirled, swished and gulped with gusto. THIS TASTING was sponsored by Eddle Jonna and the folks from the Merchant of Vino, with shops in Southfield, Birmingham and Troy. Eddie brought in Parker to highlight the evening and share his knowledge of fine wines. The-audience_was_packed with such wine experts as Paul Mann, leader of Paul Mann wines, and Madeline Triffon, the only master sommelier in the Detroit area. We started sampling the wines in what wine terminologists call 'flights." Little did I know that my head would be "in flight" by the time the evening was over, especially after trying 25 different Bordeaux wines. The first flight consisted of five St. Julien Bordeaux wines, which have been aging in new oak barrels for two years and were bottled the spring of 1989. Of all the wines sampled, these were the most tannic. As Parker pronounced, the tannins will eventually melt away, bringing forth more fruit and depth, and the wines will be drinkable within 8-10 years. Yours truly thought the Gruaud Larose was superior, but, marking ballots, the 150 cenophiles in attendance voted that the Gloria selection was by far the best. Flight Two brought forth an assortment of St. Estephes and Haut Brion Graves. Our table voted unanimously for the Cos d'Estrounel, which came out on top after the votes were tabulated from the audience. Flight Three brought forth the big guns of the lot, with five assortments ranging from a La Lagune, L'Angelus and a Prieure Lichine Margaux. Parker admitted that the Brane Cantenac Margaux was the best of the lot, while I leaned in favor of the Figeac, St. Emilion.

Dale Walley went whole hog, as usual, for annual outdoor party at his house in Livonia. Here, he checks the 205-pound porker that that has just been cooked on a covered charcoal rotisserie. This kind of feast would highlight any summer weekend.

row a party, roast a pid

BY-NOW, I should have emulated the authority at our table who was observed tasting the various wines and then spitting out the volume, relying solely on the taste buds to form an opinion. Next time I'll know - thank goodness I brought along a designated driver!

Flight Four consisted of an assortment of St. Emilions and Paulliacs, with a Lynch Bages surfacing as the over-all favorite of what was easily turning out to be a tipsy table. It was the consensus of our group to lay low on this flight, looking with anticipation to the last flight.

By Larry Janes special writer

F INVITING another couple over for hot dogs and potato salad sends shivers up your spine, wait till you hear Livonia Firefighter Dale Walleys' idea of a party.

First you start with a 200-pound whole hog and addto that at least two 40-pound spring lambs. You shake in a little more than 200 pounds of a good quality charcoal and about two quarts of a good-quality lighter fuel.

Rub the lamb generously with a cup of oregano, crushed garlic and kosher salt. Then you mix in about 200 of yourclosest friends, relatives, neighbors and fellow workers.

To keep the recipe running smooth, you can liberally douse with about three barrels of draft beer, 10 cases of pop and an occasional bottle of Jack Daniels. Last but not least, you can incorporate an assortment of roast sausages, pastas, salads and desserts.

BRING THIS all together on a long weekend and what have you got? Livonia Firefighter Dale Walley's annual Pig Roast and BBQ.

When I received the invite to witness first hand the throwing of a real barbecue, the first thing that came to mind was a frantic host, running from BBQ pit to spit roaster. Not at the Walley barbecue.

In order to pull off something of this magnitude, you have to rely on qualified assistants such as Ron Butcher, retired Livonia police officer, and fellow Firefighter Ken Kenny. Seems that as long as Dale Walley has been throwing barbecues (and they get bigger and better every year) you tend to rely on friends like Butcher and Kenny .-

When it became evident that this party was to be an annual affair, Ron, Ken and Dale sat down and laid out plans for a homemade lamb spit (one full revolution every 21/2 minutes, made from an old washing machine motor).

This year, firefighter Walley relied on the folks from Richmond Packing to supply the 205-pound hog (dressed weight) and the motorized, covered charcoal rotisserie.

THE TRAILERIZED rotisserie rents for about $65 for the weekend and all sizes are available, from the smallest 40pound, suckling-pig rotisserie to a cream-of-the-crop, top-ofthe-line propane-powered trailerized roaster that rolls out for about $150 for the weekend, including gas.

The hog (anything more than 100 pounds is a hog, anything under is a pig) varies in price from $2.29 per pound (for the smallest suckling pig) to the norm of about $1.19 per pound for the fattest hog. The lamb used on the homemade spit was purchased from Wolverine Packing and retails at about $2 per pound.

Now if pigs, hogs and spring lambs sound like more than what you want to accomplish on a summer's weekend, you also can purchase assorted roasts, beef rounds, ribs, chickens and tenderloins, available in all quantities and sizes to fit an assortment of spits and rotisseries.

For more information, you can contact your favorite meat packer-or-call-the-friendly-folks at Richmond Packing at 727-9765.

If your budget will allow, and if your idea of spending a summer weekend is a trip to the beer barrel, Richmond Packing also caters out and can supply everything and everyone needed to pull off a successful barbecue.

TRYING TO sneak in an interview with firefighter Walley, while he cooked, met friends and made sure the beer was cold enough, was like trying to chase a greased plg. Every time we started to talk, we were pleasantly interrupted with welcoming guests and checking meat thermometers. So, it was necessary for me to do what the other 200 or so guests were doing - just sit back, enjoy the weather and listen to the great sounds of the Gentlemen Songsters (formerly the Chevrolet Glee Club) serenade the guests with an assortment of barbershop quartets, do-wop, show tunes and pop singles.

Songsters spokeswoman Shella Edwards of Detroit explained the group sings just about anything that has been performed by a male singer. Complete with straw hats and an assortment of guitars and horns, the group circled the confines of the Walley backyard, offering an assortment of renditions that kept everyone happy - both young and old. All the friends, relatives, neighbors and fellow workers brought a dish to pass so that even the little kids who were in awe watching the hog and lambs on the spit could be well nourished.

★1B

Jackle Collins, a fellow Livonia neighbor (yes, that's her real name), brought along some homemade applesauce, and there was an abundant assortment of cobblers, crudites and creations, some basic and some gourmet. -

AS WITH ALL the pig roasts I've ever done or attended, it was a treasure to observe the kids. All those queried about whether or not they were brave enough to eat the plg or lamb started out with a resounding "no," but after the fin-, ished product was carried to the slicing tables and cut up, even Adams School fourth grader and Observer & Eccentric carrier Ricky Leirstein was willing to try the beasts.

Six-year-old Nicole Hernandez of Canton was licking her fingers after sampling the beasts. Ben and Mark Kittle of Westland were trying their darndest to get a few of the hog's teeth for a souvenir of a fun afternoon, Granted, these souvenirs aren't as treasured as a Tiger baseball, but the looks on the little kids' faces when shown the cooked carcasses said it all. Hhhmmmm good!

When queried about how he can pull this off all by himself (and with the help of a few friends), firefighter Walley said he just lets nature take over. Many a time, he tried to get in to help slice off the tasty tidbits of meat, but fellow guests were fighting for the opportunity to pick up a sharp knife and exert their culinary skills.

After dinner/was served and there was many an empty -Rupperware container on the table, the guests all helped by picking up chairs (everyone was asked to bring his or her own) and trash, and just when I was leaving, a straw hat was passed around to help cover the expenses.

Sounds like you have it all down pat, Dale. I can't wait for next year's party!

The final flight brought forth thedouble-barreled cannons, the cremede-la-creme, the epitome of the best Bordeaux wines. A Lafite Rothschild Pauillac combined with a Latour, a Mondavi Reserve, a Margaux and, finally, a Mouton Rothschild thatoverwhelmly garnered oohs and aahs not just from our table but from all those in attendance.

Sounds like a bit too much, eh? It was. But for this novice wine taster, it was a fun-filled evening with folks who knew what they were sampling and didn't let such blockbuster wines blow them away.

MOST OF, THE wines we sampled were easily in the $50- $100-per-bottle range, but Parker summed up the evening with a quote that brought the house down. He said he was once asked, "What's the difference between a $50 bottle of wine, compared to a $100 bottle?" His response was simply, "Fifty dollars," and that if the drinker enjoyed it, the price per bottle should make little difference to the taster.

When asked about what he would do to change the wine industry, the editor of the "Wine Advocate" said, "First-off, I would-make sure the stores and handlers of the wine are held accountable for the handling and storage of wines. There's nothing worse than observing the handlers of great wine allow their wares to sit in un-air-conditioned trucks and be juggled about, especially with improper storage."

"Know your wine merchant and find out about their cellaring techniques" were the words of wisdom from this wine connoisseur. In addition, he would urge the winemakers to stop the technology of making the wines exactly where it is now. Winemakers need to be fold to keep the character and personality of the wines available today without the use of new-fangled technologies and aging techniques.

I couldn't agree more, especially as I sit in front of my word processor sipping a cold Coors. If you are looking for a pleasant evening with friends and fellow wine lovers, the Merchant of Vino and other retailers of fine wines offer a varied assortment of wine tastings that will sult the novice to the connoisseur. London takes Tigers by the tail

By Brad Emons staff writer-

REG EVERSON may agree that baseball is a field of dreams, particularly in a place called London, Ontar-

The former Livonia Bentley High and University of Michigan product finds playing AA minor league ball, as a Detroit Tiger farmhand, even more enjoyable when he's getting batters out.

The 24-year-old relief pitcher proved his worth again Thursday on an already deep and talented pitching staff when he fanned four in two scoreless innings of work - his fourth save of the season - in a 7-4 victory over the New Britain (Conn.) Red Sox before 3,801 fans and the San Diego Chicken at LaBatt Stadium,

The homegrown Chicken was the main attraction Thursday, but the newly renovated ($750,000) minor league park, which is nearly 50 years old, is nestled in a perfect setting, a sightseer's delight.

Located in the tree-lined and lush Springbank Park, a shade off the Thames River, the blue and oranged trimmed stadium serves as perfect backdrop for sparkling skyline of downtown London, a city of 268,000 inhabitants.

"IT'S A LOT bigger difference than Lakeland (Fla.), ..., the weath- and his teammates during the nine-er is a lot nicer for one," said Everson, who sports a 3-3 record and a team-low 2.70 earned run average. "Tonight was a perfect night to pitch. It was cool (low 60's), ideal weather."

London, situated approximately 140 miles northeast of Tiger Stadium, is the ideal spot for Team Everson, which also includes wife Pam and 23-month-old son Adam.

"It hasn't been too tough," Everson said. "Living only a couple hours away, my parents are close. They helped us move here. My parents and friends are close enough to come down here on weekends to see me play so that makes it nice.

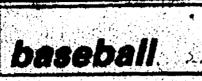

"And when I'm on long road trips, sometimes anywhere from seven to 10 days, my wife is able to get away and go home. It takes the pressure off her. Last year when we found out the AA team was moving from Glens Falls (N.Y.) to London, it worked out even better for us.

"This is a nice town and they treat us well here."

Everson, who signed originally as a free agent in 1987, obviously has aspirations to pitch someday at the corner of Michigan and Trumbull.

The climb was been a tedious one with stops in humld Fayetteville, N.C. and Lakeland.

LONDON IS NOT quite the big leagues, but it has its advantages. The fans politely applaud Everson inning affair, while devouring Domino's pizza at $2 a (big) slice. The air is fresh and the stadium is spotless, no trash cluttering the closed-in grandstand.

And while these Canadians treat themselves to a night out, Everson tries to make sure they go home a winner.

The submarine-style right-hander has added a deadly forkball to his repertoire to go along with his fastball and sinker pitches.

"I've always thrown three-quarter and dropped down when I threw my fastball," Everson said. "When I was at U-M, they told me to drop down all the time. I decided to go all the way in college."

Several relief pitchers have submarined their way to stardom in the big leagues -, Bruce Sutter, Dan Quisenberry and Ted Abernathy to name a few.

"Greg has good control and enough stuff to get the left-handers out," said London first-year manager and former New York Yankee standout Chris Chambliss. "He's tough on right; handers because he gets good movement on the ball. Right now he's starting to get his confidence back and starting to belleve in himself."

EVERSON SUFFERED through a mild slump earlier this season. When London pitchers Mike Schwabe and Randy Nosek were called up to the big club, it put a strain on an depleted pitching staff. Everson felt the effects and a twinge in his shoulder.

"I was pitching just about every other day because we didn't have anyone else to call on," said the 6foot-2, 200-pound Everson. "I didn't have my best stuff and I was getting hit a little bit. And my shoulder got a little sore, which had never happened before."

When Nosek and Dave Cooper (from Toledo, the Tigers' AAA club) were each back to London, Everson was asked to fill the middle relievers' role, something that ruffled his feathers a bit.

"They brought Cooper in as their 'stopper' and when they told me I was going to be a long reliever I got kind of upset," he recalled. "But I put that all behind me and decided to make the best of it.

"It gave me a chance to show my versatility. I just decided to show them I was going to be the best middle reliever possible."

The laid-back Chambliss has had a soothing effect on Everson and the young London prospects.

"HE'S NEVER managed before and he's learning," Everson said.

"We're learning right along with him. He jokes around with the guys, but he can be serious when he has to be. He tries to do the 'extra things' to get us ready to play. It's been fun playing for him."

Everson believes he can make the Tigers' 40-man roster in the near future just as well as he believes on using his forkball on a 3-2 count.

"I believe most of the (Detroit) prospects are here in London and hopefully I'm one of them," he said. "The Tigers are struggling and so is Toledo. I also see that two of our guys (Schwabe and Nosek) have already been brought up, so I have to feel I could be there, maybe in September when they open up the roster to 40 players."

But in the meantime, Everson toils in London town, a city which has produced such NHL stars as Darryl Sittler, Dino Ciccarelli, Rob Ramage and Brad Mars - all of whom played for the Ontario Hockey League Knights, a Junior A team.

ITS INDUSTRIAL base includes GM-Diesel, 3M and LaBatt's Brewing.

It's a town split in baseball loyalties, Blue Jay fans on one side and Tigers on the other.

Local radio broadcaster Chris Kubinski, who was born in Chicago but has lived most of his life in London. says there is a lot of interest in baseball.

"We get just about everybody here

Greg Everson closer to home on cable TV - the Pirates, the Cubs, the Braves, the Mets, the Yankees, the Orioles, the Blue Jays and Montreal, and of course the Tigers," he said. "There's a bar downtown called Joe Cool's-and they show (Detroit) Tiger games only. It's owned by Mike Smith, who's on the board of directors."

London also televises its own Eastern League games.

On this night Mickey Lolich does the color commentary with London native Pete James doing the playby-play.

"This is definitely a baseball town," Kubinski sald.

For Everson, London is part of a fantasy trip coming true.

Detroit-Livonia

Bob Atkins, the Detroit Adray Appliance baseball coach; knows players get a bigger kick out of hitting a home run at Tiger Stadium than laying down a bunt.

That's why you won't see Atkins or any of his assistant coaches making any funny motions in the third base coach's box Wednesday when the Detroit Adray All-Stars meet the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League All-Stars at 9:30 a.m.

Admission is free. Spectators should enter through Gate No. 11. -

"I've never changed my philosophy (in all-star games)," said Atkins, the former athletic director at Redford Union. "It's a game to showcase the players' talents and show how fast they can run, throw and hit. It's not fun to go to Tiger Stadium and sacrifice bunt. We won't hit-and-run? -or take a pitch unless it's 3-and-0."

The Detroit All-Stars will play two games Wednesday, with the second beginning at 12:30 p.m. against the Lansing All-Stars.-

THE DETROIT team has won nearly every all-star encounter over the years, and that's largely because the LCBL has residency requirements, diluting the talent pool.

Some of the Detroit team's talent, including starting pitcher Pat Bujcun (Midland and Central Michigan University), come from out-state residencies.

Only a handful of Detroit's starg hall from Observerland, including projected starters Lance Sullivan (Livonia Churchill) and Mike Hammontree (Westland John Glenn)... Still, Atkins had a previous coach-

First-place Redford Little Caesars moved its Livonia Collegiate Baseball League record to 14-3-1 Thursday, thumping Walter's Appliance, 7-4, in a makeup game played at Livonia Churchill. The originally scheduled game was rained out earlier in the month. Walter's fell to 10-7.

Steve Witt, who will be the starting pitcher Wednesday when the ACBL All-Stars meet the Detroit Adray All-Stars at 9:30 a.m. at Tiger Stadium, raised his record to 4-0 with the complete-game victory.

The loss went to Dave Houghtby. Caesars' leading hitters were Art George and Tim Napler, each collecting two singles and a double. Napler had one RBI. Marty Wolfe had two hits for Walter's and John Gotts drove in two runs in a losing cause.

Caesars needed a bases-loaded walk in the bottom of the seventh inning Wednesday to edge Wendy's of Ann Arbor, 10-9, at Livonia's Ford Field.

Trailing 9-8 after 61/2 innings, Caesars tied the game on a sacrifice flyfrom Eric Linck that scored George. A bases-loaded walk to newly acquired Jack Daniels later in the inning gave Caesars the win.

Ron Makowski, the last of three Caesars' pitchers, picked up the win. Napler, who entered the game with the LCBL's eighth-best batting average at .381, was 4-for-4 with three RBI.

WALTER'S APPLIANCE defeated Duffy's Plumbing 5-3 Wednesday, behind the three-hit pitching of Mark Wolter:

Wolter's record on the mound is 3-

0. Walter's made good use of its six hits, and got an RBI single from Eric Opalach.

Recruiting class suits SC coach

By C.J. Risak staff writer -

There were a few glaring problems Schoolcraft College's womens soccer team battled last season, which meant coach Nick O'Shea who guided the Lady Ocelots to the National Junior College Athletic Association championship in 1987 had some work to do during the offseason.

_ His task is nearly complete. O'Shea is still shopping for a few players and is hopeful he can sign "at least one of three" remaining on his list.-But even-if-he-doesn't,-SC should be much improved over last season - for several reasons.

Understand, O'Shea lost some talent. All the remnants of the NJCAA championship squad are now gone. But he has filled the holes, and the team he figures to put on the field will be better rounded and deeper. But O'Shea also had another recruiting chore to tend to. He had to put together a better schedule, to make certain what happened to SC last season would not be repeated.

IN SHORT, the Lady Ocelots never got the opportunity to defend their NJCAA title because they were not invited back to the tournament. It wasn't their record that kept them out; rather, it was a lack of quality opponents'. Several teams backed out of scheduled matches.

That won't happen again in '89. For one thing, SC's schedule is much improved. The Lady Ocelots will take two trips to New York to play four matches against some of the top teams in the NJCAA. SC plays in the Monroe CC Tournament Sept. 30-Oct. 1, then travels to Long Island for games against Nassau CC and Farmingdale CC Oct. 21-22.

In between, SC will host two JC powers from St. Louis; Meramec CC on Oct. 14 and '88 NJCAA champion Florissant Valley CC on Oct. 15.

However, they fare on the field, the Lady Ocelois can't be penalized by someone else's opinion, as they were last year. The NJCAA tournament will not have berths open for invitation; a team must win a playoff to qualify: Since SC is the only NJCAA varsity team in its region, it will play Central CC of Kansas — the only JC team in its region — for a berth in the tournament.

Arndt was overworked at forward, too. The result was inconsistent goal-scoring and constant pressure on the midfield and defense. The addition of Canton forward

Shannon Meath should help. Meath was an all-Western Division selection at forward and was second team all.Observer.

"I'm looking forward to coaching her," said O'Shea of Meath. "(Her addition) will make it a lot easier on Joan or whoever's up front."

She won't be alone among frontline newcomers. Tina Gelmlsi from Livonia Stevenson is a defender who O'Shea plans on using up front.

THE DEFENSE should still be solid. Returning are sweeper Kellie Davis and defenders Rosemary Hally and Lori Stoecklein, and Carozzo. Dawn Gabriel is also back to anchor the midfield.

Donna O'Brien, from North Farmington, could be the best of the new defenders - if that is indeed where she plays. O'Shea may move her to midfield. O'Brien was honorable mention all-state, first team all-Western Lakes Activities Association and second team all-Observer.

"When you take a quality player like Donna and mix her with a lot of other quality players, she'll look better," said O'Shea-of O'Brien. "She looks better playing with better players. It opens up her game more."

Joining O'Brien on defense will be Trisha Greenhalge, an all-Western Division choice from Canton. At midfield, O'Shea has added Molly Menard from Canton, Amy Zanetti and Angle Stiglmaler from Livonia Franklin and Bev DeJohn from Dearborn Edsel Ford.

the starting call. Moraitis - who named four of his pitchers to the team - hopes his eight-man pliching staff can keep the Detroit stars in check.

"We got pretty good hitting, but I'm not sure about our pitching," Moraltis said. "That's usually where we're weaker than Detroit, in our pitching. We can't recruit as heavily as they do. They've got kids from good schools like Michigan and Michlgan State, schools like that.

"We won two years ago, though, against them and I would say we're 'Even-Steven' and we're going out to -win, not showing up to lose."

Also in-the eight-man rotation is Hines-Park Lincoln Mercury ace pitcher Derek Darkowski, who carries a. 5-1 record. The left-hander from Plymouth, who has struck out a league-high 37 batters, might surely be used Wednesday because of all the right-handed power in the Detroit lineup.

Atkins said the second game against Lansing will showcase Eric Methner, Lansing's pitcher from Michigan State "who will be the best pitcher in the stadium. He's a big, strong kid. A good one."

ALTHOUGH THE addition of a, playoff game (SC received an invitation to the NJCAA tourney three straight years, without having to play a game) means nothing is certain, O'Shea- has gone to great lengths to insure his team will be among the field at the NJCAA tourney in Trenton, N.J., Nov. 16-20.

First, however, the losses: defenders Shari Acitelli, Jennifer Belhart and Lisa Hysko and midfielder Maureen Frampus, all from the '87 championship team, and keeper

SC's strength a year ago was de-fense; its weakness was offense. Gina Carozzo, better suited to defense, according to O'Shea, was pressed into duty as a forward. Joan

Replacing Moore in the nets will be Tisha Guido of Garden City. "She's a good athlete, but she has no formal training as a goalkeeper," said O'Shea. "But she's dedicated and hard-working."

The SC coach's estimate of his new recruits was simple: "We've got a good group of athletes coming in. We won't have just 13 players. There will_be quality subs and everyone will be fighting for a starting position.'

And that should put SC back among the best in the country.

NOTES: Another hole O'Shea is looking to fill is assistant coach. Lisa Griffin, who assisted him for the past two years, has a full-time job that will prevent her from returning.

O'Shea will have a team meeting at 9 p.m. Thursday in SC's physical education building. Anyone interested in joining the team should attend.

Barny Purse of Onstead posted the best time Saturday in Canton's 11th Annual Five Mile Run, but Westland resident Marianne Bayne was the "star of this year's run," according to Bob Dates, Canton Recreation Supervlsor.

Bayne, running in the 40-49 age group, finished the course in 35:08, breaking a record she previously held.

Purse's time of 25:34 won the men's 20-29 age group, and that was a "very good time, considering the humidity and heat of the morning," Dates said.

THERE WERE 125 entrees in this year's race, beating last year's turnout by-12, Dates said. The men's division included six separate classes, beginning with the 14-Under entrees. There were five classes in the women's division, also beginning with those 14-Under.

The men's 20-29 and 30-29 age groups have "by far the most entrees." Dates said.

"The 125 entrees are a nice size to work with. We can take more but we'll take what we can get."

Observerland runners won nine of the 11 classes. In the boys 14-Under, Canton's Russ Conser had the area's best time, finishing third in 37:35.

Canton runners swept the top three spots in the men's 15-19, with first going to Alan Byrnes, 28:14; Scott Štryker, second, 28:17; and Jay Swiecki, third, 29:12.

JOHN SPRINGER of Redford was second behind Purse in the 20-29 mén's, clocking 26:33, Canton's Gregory Duerr won the men's 30-39 in 29:05. In the 40-49 age group, Bill Boyd of Canton took first, clocking 31:50, and David Newby was third in 32:16. Plymouth Larry Mishler won the 50-Over class in 34:00 and Livonia's Del Sister clocked 38:10 for second place.

In the women's competition, Can-ton's Allela King placed first in the 14-Under at 48:02. Observerland runners finished one, two, three in the rest of classes.

Livonia's Noelle Dixon won the 15-19 class, clocking 32:34. Second place belonged to Canton's Kim-Rice, who timed 43:04, and Teresa Griffin took third at 62:19.

The 20-29 class was won by Andrea Zabkiewicz, who crossed the tape at 38:40. Redford's Sharon Springer placed second at 42:08, and -Amy L. Rose of Canton was third at 42:17.

A PAIR of Westland runners, Diane Getscham and Pat Whitworth, placed one, two, in the 30-39 class at 33:25, and 38:34, respectively. Canton's Deborah Roudabush was third at 40:11.

As mentioned, Bayne was first in the 40-49 class, followed in second by Canton's Dawn M. Tellier, 40:35; and Mary Ann Dixon of Livonia inthird, 42:06.

Bonnie Bryant hasn't competed in the Ladies Professional Golf Association Tour in several years. But Tuesday, in the United States Women's Open qualifier at Tam-O-Shanter Country Club in West Bloomfield, Bryant came charging. back to the tour with an eye-catching performance.

Bryant finished two-over par 73 to win the tournament and qualified for next month's U.S. Open (July 10-16) at Indianwood Country Club in Lake Orion. Bryant started strong, making the turn at 1 under par 34. She struggled on the back nine, bogeying the 14th and shooting a double bogey at 15, but held on for the win.

'I'm real pleased," said Bryant. "I haven't been in competition since '83. I live in Kalamazoo and this tournamenmit was close to home. Some friends had been telling me to try out for the Open, so here I am."

The top five finishers from Tuesday's qualifier advance to the Open. The four other qualifiers are Jan Kleiman of Lakeland, Fla., and Kristal Parker of Cable, Ohlo, each finishing with 74, and Dearborn's Lisa Marino, a former student at Plymouth Salem High School; and Kim Tyler of Frankfort, Ky., with rounds of 75 each.

SIX WOMEN were clustered at 76 and were forced into a playoff for the four alternate spots. The four alternates are Laura Broadbent of Sylvan, Ohlo; Faith Egli of Bellaire, Mich; Michelle Gilbalt of Tallahassee, Fla; and Ann Marle Goslak of Brighton.

golf

A couple of local gals, Orchard Lake's Susle Green and Plymouth's Lynn Waldecker, just missed the playoff with rounds of 77 each. Green shot par (35) on the front nine, but finished with four bogeys and a double bogey on the back nineto finish six over.

"I'm real disappointed," said Green, "I was swinging well, I just had a couple of bad holes in the back.

"I've been struggling with my game lately. Today I could have done something, but I let it slip away. I guess my-game is coming back, so I can't be too disappointed. It's not often I can screw up and still shoot a 77."

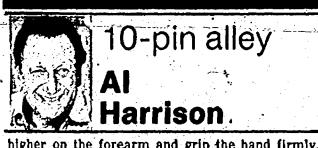

Waldecker got off to a rocky start with a pair of bogeys and a double bogey on the first three holes. She settled down and was consistent through the middle of the course, but ran into trouble again at the end. Waldecker was just four over after, 16, but bogeyed 17 and 18 to finish at six over.

Accessory items necessary for serious bowlers

HE LITTLE BIT of extra space in your bowling bag can come in handy for accessory items -you might want to carry when you go bowling? for league play or practice. The summer is the right time to fill your bag with some of these items.

How about a small wire brush to "rough" the soles on your shoes? This could be the answer to those occasions when you are unable to slide just right, and there could be a spot of water on the soles that would ruin their sliding ability, "Rough" up the "nap" on the soles and you will be in good shape. Some kind of adhesive tape is good to carry, as it can be used to adjust the size of your thumb and finger holes if they are too large.

A rasin bag is almost a necessity. It can solve the problem of too much moisture on the hands, but be careful to pack it in well so it won't get on the bottom of your shoes.

higher on the forearm and grip the hand firmly. The "Pro Release" offers a wide range of adjustability for more lift, less lift, spin or roll. Ebonité's "Ultra Gripper" is now available in smaller sizes to better accommodate ladies or younger bowlers. The "Chazz" is a newer device which locks the wrist and hand in a cupped position. Whatever the wrist device you choose, they all do the whatever the wrist device you choose, they all do the same thing, that is to keep your hand and wrist position locked in throughout the swing. If your style and ability allows you to do this without a wrist device, you might as well just save your money. Most wrist accessories-advertise that you will throw more strikes and that is reasonable since the cupped wrist position will keep you under the ball during the release and that generates a more powerful shot which is an additional support for the forearm. This takes some of the pressure off the tendons, so if your arm gets sore or tired during bowling, this one could help. Another must for the bag is a bowler's towel which is always handy for wiping the excess oil off the ball.

• Belaire Lanes in Farmington is where the Men's Trio League saw a 718 series from the strong arm of Howic Gerenralch, along with a 238 gam. Ross Frasure rolled the high game of the night with a 269. In the King of the Hill tournament, Steve Herman prevailed over John Flores for the $100 prize money. In the Thursday Maccabees Mixed League, Lisa Micale went-127 pins over her average with a 532 series and 205 game.

League, Tom Ellington ran up a 704 series with a 245; Leon Karney hit 257 with a 615 set; Willie Laidner a 234 game; Tim Blackwell a 640 series and Angle Cooper topped the women with a 227 game and 548 series.

• Cloverlanes, located on Schoolcraft, between Inkster Road and Middlebelt in Livonia is doing a major renovation. Gone are above the surface ball returns, the lanes are being entirely re-fitted and the pinsetting equipment is also getting updated. Cloverlanes remains open during construction. Cloverlanes is announcing the availability on Saturdays and Sundays for tournaments, so if your group, company or organization would like to set up a bowling tournament, give them a call. This canalso be a great fund-raiser for charitable organizations. The 64 lanes at Cloverlanes can handle a lot of people.

How about a wrist brace? There are many types available and the question is whether one is even need-'ed. The main purpose of a wrist gadget is to keep your hand and wrist in the correct position during the deliv-ery. Some of the products out there are very simple, such as the "wristmaster" or "Robbys," which give the wrist added support. Some others are more complicated such as the "Scorpion" or the "Eagle", which come up more powerful shot. Another item to consider is the "Lou Scala Splint", Gary Januszkowski was up there as well with a 275 while Marty Radtka had a 686 series and 243. In the Tuesday Ladies League, Anna Hamilton led the scoring with a 212 game and Linda Kososki ran up a 567 series with a 202. The Wednesday Queens saw Agnes Krejci roll a 222 game with 590, Sherry Wasilewski, 221 with a 616 set; and Mary Allen, 221 and a 586 series. In the Tuesday Mixed

• Speaking of tournaments, today-is the final day of competition for the regional lawn bowlers at Westland Lawn Bowling Association. This is bowling in the great outdoors and you might want to bring along both sun tan lotion and mosquito repellant if you plan to stay through the evening. The lawn bowlers are very competitive and some are coming from several Midwestern states for this event. For more information call Jim or Cathie Symington at 722-7630.

Motown Greek

You probably won't bump into Helen of Troy or Zeus on a jaunt through Greektown. And then again you may run into a lot of neon signs, flashing lights and grocery stores that give Detroiters a taste of the Hellenic culture - Motown style. For more on the Hellenic scene, see Page 6D.,

Cheap

To buy or not buy,

that is the question

We are a brainwashed lot and not unlike trained Russian bears when it comes to purchasing wine.

The bears know if they go through the hoop, they get their con-tracts renewed for another year. We know we're too good for the bargain bins in wine stores, and so do the wine store owners.

That's why they smile and then go in the back room and laugh hysterically as we, the wine connoisseurs, pass up the good bin values and head straight for the bottles in back, under glass - the seductively lit bottles, regally resting on their sides, almost as though they should be in Ban De Soleil ads.

We will not let the wine store owner know we are ignorant. We will demonstrate this by letting our pride and ego coalesce, shaking loose any shred of rational thought, and then purchasing the most expensive bottle he's got back there.

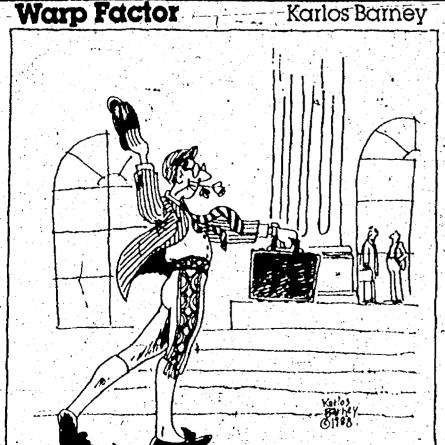

We showed him, didn't we.

Well, none of this is necessary. Admit it - when it comes to wine, most of us think nose is something that holds up glasses. And certainly, not many among us think it is possible to find a good, if not excellent, wine in the $5-per-bottle range. We are wrong.

A HASTILY assembled volunteer staff of Observer & Eccentric wine tasters, led by Dean Henry, a Livonia resident and executive chef and manager for Marriolt, Health Care Services Division, tasted five wines. Four were under $5 a bottle; one was 40 cents over our self-imposed economic limit.

Four of the five were very good, overall. One could have been used as a degreaser, but it was in formidable company and the comparison may have been unfair.

Our tasters were Sue Mason, suburban life editor; Mary Klemic,

Last week I cleared the malltox of Michigan travel information and promised we'd do some out-of-state mall this week. Get out your notebook, if you're planning a trip anywhere in the United States.

Remember - I haven't necessarily visited these places, stayed at these bed-and-breakfasts or attended these events. I usually only write about places and things I've experienced, but when we clear the mailbox you get it all unscreened.

If you're going west or south, prehistoric critters that move and I'll tell you about a place I've vismake dinosaur noises ited, although it wasn't fully open MICKY JONES at the time. a copy editor; Diane Gale, a reporter; Jerry Zolynsky and Sharon LeMieux, staff photographers; and Henry.

We invited Henry, who also is a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America in New York, to lend a little credibility to the proceedings and tell us about what we were trying, why it tasted that way, what it should have tasted like and whether or not it was a good value.

Before he started, Henry demonstrated how to open a bottle of wine. Holding the bottle between your knees, swearing and tugging at the cork is considered bad form. Henry recommended centering the point of the corkscrew on the cork, giving the point a little push and then turning, not forcing, the screw into the cork, making sure it drills straight down the center. It comes out effortlessly.

Once open, Henry said it was fine to sniff the cork, but it doesn't mean much. "You can't really tell much from the cork - you want to smell the wine," he said. "Remember - three-quarters of taste is smell."

HE HAD MORE advice before we started. When pouring, pour with the label showing. "That way the person has a place to rest their eyes and they can see what they're drinking." After pouring, turn the bottle a little to avoid spillage.

Holding chilled wines by the glass stem keeps body heat from destroying the wine's flavor, Henry said. Once in the glass, swish the wine so it coats a side of the glass, then hold the glass at anangle and observe what's happening.

The wine will drip back down in "legs" or "sheets." Sheets indicate the wine is thicker and has a fuller body and flavor.

To taste a wine, hold a small amount, about half a mouthful, in your mouth and draw air in over the wine. This brings the aroma to the olfactory area, which will help you decide if the taste is pleasant, bitter, dry, sweet, tart or revolting. The better the wine, the longer the aftertaste, Henry said.

Lee has the right stuff in 'Do the Right Thing' Movies 'under the stars'

Proving that hype outsells quality, "Batman" rewrote the box office records last week and it'll probably take "Batman II" to set new standards.

Where are the sequel busters when you need them?

On the other hand, Spike Lee's latest film, "Do The Right Thing" (B+, R, 120 minutes), proves that it is possible to make successful, revolutionary black films in mainstream, white America.

All of which proves we ought to celebrate the First Amendment for protecting Batman's right to fly and Spike Lee's right to discuss racial tension in America.

He does so dramatically, centering his story in a black Brooklyn neighborhood where Sal (Danny Aiello) has run a plzzeria for 25 years with his sons, Vito (Richard Edson) and Pino (John Turturro).

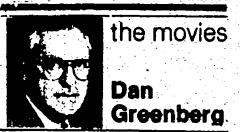

Their deliveryman, Mookie (Spike Lee, who also wrote, directed and produced the film), has a Hispanic girlfriend, Tina (Rosie Perez). Perez just happens to be a terrific dancer and her opening number sets the film's mood - love and violence exist in America: Across the street from Sal's Pizzeria is a fruit market/party store run by orientals.

"Do The Right Thing" is not just a political polemic, it is a realistic, lively and dramatic film about a neighborhood full of people living in tight circumstances and trying to get through one of the hottest August days on record. Their lives are filled with pleasure and pain, happiness and tragedy - just like the real world.

Much to Lee's credit, not only the leads, but the supporting characters. as well - Da Mayor (Ossle Davis), Mother Sister (Ruby Dee), Buggin Out-(Ginacarlo Esposito), Radio Raheem (Bill Nunn) and Mister Senor Love Daddy (Sam Jackson), among others - are well-developed personalities whose fine performances flesh out this Brooklynneignbornood in a competiting, realis tic way. But to some extent Spike Lee is telling us that we live in a surreal world whose competing forces can explode in any direction - peace, prosperity, love, violence, hate ---that we are on the brink and the solution lies within us. While the film is as bit long and has occasional slow moments, it is generally dramatic, exciting and points up many contemporary contradictions. The most significant of these is the fact that the natural political affinities of blacks, Orientals and Hispanics in this country are subverted by economics. Only under stress is that affinity clear when the Oriental party-store owner says to rioting blacks, "I'm black like you."

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

By John Monaghan. special writer

Though the drive-in movie has gone the way of tail fins and bobby socks, two local film groups still feel the enchantment of watching movies under the stars.

This week, free films continue each night ar dusk as part of the Ann Arbor Summer Festival. The Royal Oak Cinema Society, meanwhile, pays tribute to Dr. Seuss with a free Friday night showing of "The Five Thousand Fingers of Dr. T."

For six years, the roof of the Power Center parking structure has been home to the Top of the Park series. The set-up couldn't be more perfect. Folding chairs line the sloping concrete - just like a movie theater. Everyone has an excellent view of the screen, which is constructed in front of an elevator shaft.

Some arrive early to stake out the best spots for films, which typically draw between 500 and 1,000 people. On a recent weekend night, spectators patiently waited for the sun to set and "The Wizard of Oz" to appear on screen. A vintage cartoon usually warms up the audience.

Adam Brown, administrator of the Ann Arbor Summer Festival, is still amazed at how popular the outdoor screenings have become. He said the films "attract all kinds."

The Saturday, July 8, offering is especially fascinating and considerably more obscure. "La Marseillalse" (1938); Jean Renoir's stirring account of the French Revolution, arrives on the eve of the Revolution's, summer bicentennial.

From the storming of the Bastille to the defeat of the mighty Prussian army, the film looks in on royalty and paupers a like. Aside from the ever nasty Marie Antoinette, there are no real villains in the piece. Film historians have marvelled at the documentary like handling of "La Marseillaise."

Though officially slated to end July 15, the summer series will present the 1966 "Batman" feature on July 16.

If previews of "Great Balls of Fire" (C, PG-13, 105 minutes) highlighting Dennis-Quald's energetic rendition of the title-song aroused your expectations, you're in for a considerable disappointment. Energetic, attractive and entertaining musical numbers is all this Jerry Lee Lewis biopic has to offer.

The rest of it is pretty weak with Quaid's dramatic posturing resulting in annannoying caricature of a marginally retarded egomaniac. It's sometimes embarrassing but always manages to elicit sympathy for Jerry Lee Lewis as if Lewis had not. earned his nickname, "Killer." In fact, the whole film suffers from that attitude as does the documentary, "Jerry Lee Lewis: I Am What I Am" released (and reviewed) last week in conjunction with "Great Balls of Fire.'

"Great Balls" opens with the traditional cliche of every showbiz biopic since the "Jazz Singer." the hero speaking into a bar to listen to some fabulous but forbidden music. While the film runs most of its course covcting Lewis' early years and rise to stardom, it suddenly and very abruptly collapses as did Lewis' cather after he married his 13-year-old chusin.

Winona Ryder, who is 18 years old, makes a valiant effort as Mrs. Nyra Lewis, but she's totally uncon-Uncing as a 13-year-old. Just take a look at the documentary and you'll see the difference. As a matter of fact, that one-bour video is energetic and entertaining than the film for it concentrates on Lewis' music.

However, both "Jerry Lee Lewis: I Am What I Am" and "Great Balls of Fire" are at fault for pretending that Lewis is a nice guy unfairly maligned by the press. No matter how much or how little you care for this music, keep is mind that after all the drugs and drinking and five wives, there's good cause to call him. "The Killer." It ain't cute and I have no sympathy for such folks.

have been sleeping. The depth of thisereative dearth in plot and direction is shameful, particularly since this is the third time at bat.

Apparently 1989 marks the return of cheesy special effects. This movie not only has bad ones, it dwells on them. While "Star Trek V" is campy enough to get away with such poor craftsmanship (barely), "Karate Kid III" is not.

Ralph Macchio and Noriyuki "Pat" Morita again reprise their roles as Daniel LaRusso and Mr. Miyagi. Morita offers a respectable performance but Macchio, now in his mid-20s, stumbles through as the 17year-old champ forced to defend his title. (You see less than a year has elapsed since the original "Karate. Kid" story ended. C'mon, gang, it could happen.) Thomas Ian Griffith is delightfully maniacal as the millionaire bad boy bent on revenge. He's one of the few bright spots in an otherwise dismal outing.

The biggest failure of "Karate Kid III" lies in the fight scenes, or lack thereof. The movie's climactic confrontation is anything but. It's short, dull and does not satisfy. Daniel's ostensible struggle to balance honor and anger becomes pointless. So much for tracking his progression from novice to champion, from boy to man. (Reviewed by Susan Fineham)

STREET BEATS Studio A: A sound place to record

By LaVerne Grittin special writer

For the past 10 years, Eric and Marilyn Morgeson, both of Plymouth, have recorded some of today's well-known artists. For 81/2 years, they worked out of their garage and for the last 3½ years from their world class recording studio in Dearborn Heights.

Eric, formally the keyboardist in Bob Seger's band, found that he ent joyed being in the studio behind the scenes rather than on the road in the spotlight.

"We used my garage as a rehearsal place; therefore, we installed equipment to record our sessions." he said. "As we built the studio up, and it became better and better, other people wanted to use it. So, we got real busy with side clients."

Kiara, who sings Quiet Guy, and Every Little Time, Billboards current power pick, started in the Morgeson's garage four years ago. Ready for the World, who sang "Oh Sheila," along with Digital Display and Gently also got started in the studio garage.

The Morgeson's had a studio built next door to their home. The only studio in the metro area built from the ground up solely for the purpose of recording.

STUDIO A was designed by the renowned architect, John M. Storyk of New York. Storyk specializes in acoustical design and construction. His firm was responsible for the design of recording and media facilities for clients that include Atlantic Records, The Hit Factory and Institute of Audio Research in New York. He was also commissioned to design private studios for Stevie Wonder, Ace Frehley of KISS and others. His firm has received national and international recognition.

Storyk's unique design results in a building which is acoustically accutheir biggest assest. Something Happens! has missed the inflial Irish music boat with U2, In Tua Nua and rate. The interior is designed with a room within a room. The floor is constructed with rubber flooring strategically placed above the regular floor-to-give better acoustical sound.

The Morgesons chose to install a Synclavier recording system, the equivalent to a recording studio with a keyboard.

"Everything you need to layout a record is at your fingertips," Mari-lyn said. "It's unique, powerful, and expensive. Wouldn't it have been terrible to build this marvelous building and still sound as if we were In the garage. So, we made the investment and bought the best."

The Morgesons invested in the equipment seven years ago after their first album deal. The state-ofthe-art, multi-track specialized equipment, interfaced with-talented people, such as engineers John Jaszcz and Randy Poole, means that they can create a product equal to or superior to most major market studios that aren't comparably equipped.

"WHAT WE have here, in Dearborn Heights, is the same expertise you can get in Los Angeles and New York. We have equipment so specialized that there are only about 500 in the world," Eric said. "This is a people business. The most sophisticated equipment doesn't mean anything without qualified people to run it. We're fortunate, we've had the same people here since we opened up."

Marilyn is the manager of the studio, while Eric produces and writes for their production company, EMP Productions Limited.

Studio A has been the recording home of Alexander Zonjic, George Clinton, Earl Klugh, Chapter 8 and the Clark Sisters, who have recently Does Stevie Wonder? Can Bob Hope? Something Happens! in America?

Well, the members of the Irlsh band Something Happens! certainly do. Otherwise, they wouldn't have dropped $20,000 of their own hardearned money into an U.S. tour to strut their stuff.

The foursome wants Virgin Records to pick up their option here in the United States, which it has yet to do.-Back home in the Emerald Isle, their latest album "Been There, Seen That, Done That" (available on import only in the U.S.) is No. 7 on the charts.

The group recently performed a series of gigs on the East Coast and West Coast to introduce themselves to the American public.

"Initially, we'd go into a club and we'd be quite nervous," said Ray Harman, gultarist with the band discussing the early part of the U.S. tour. "We'd turn to each other and say, 'there aren't too many people here.' But by the end, they were blown away.

What has become the biggest hurtle - breaking America - might be Hothouse Flowers. The music doesn't rely on the cliched Irish mysticism. No violins, no uillean pipes or references to snorting mist from the Irish Sea. In other words, they don't wear their Irishness on their sleeves. SOMETHING HAPPENS! sound is melodic guitar-based rock'n'roll. Nothing fancy, just good and loud. Yet Something Happens! has still had to deflect the ever-dreaded U2 clone tag, especially from critics in America. "There was a story in a Washington newspaper that said our album can be found in the 'Sound Like U2' bin at the record store," said Tom Dunne, singer and guitarist with the band. "Then we heard there was some guy who bought the album and went back and complained at the record store when he found that we sounded nothing like them.

"Anyone who listens to the music knows we don't sound anything like U2. If anything, that makes us want to prove ourselves even more."

The latest album, though, won't be used as their calling card. Band members-said they were disappointed, especially from the production end with the album. Tommy Erdelyi (who worked with The Replacements), a.k.a. Tommy-Ramone, was the producer on "Been There, Seen That, Done That."

"The important thing when we went into the studio was to get the energy across," Harman said. "On a couple of the songs, 'Incoming' and

'Tall Girls Club,' we were able to do that. But for the most part, though, it was difficult to do."

Harman attributes part of that to inexperience in the studio.

Something Happens! forte has also been the live' performance. The band's mini-LP "I Know Ray Harman" (Virgin, import only) was recorded at McGonagles Pub and features Something Happens! attheir fiery best.

And unlike the serious-as-a-heartattack approach their Irish compatriots take to music, Something Happens! indeed has a sense of humor. They've done several covers of wellknown music. One, in fact, that was done tongue in cheek has really become a gem. An acoustic version of Madonna's hit "Borderline" can be found as a B-side single.

"That was given the chart-treatment with the synthesizers and the techno beat," said Dunne. "We found by stripping it down with just an acoustic guitar that song became more meaningful. The more I listen to it, the more the song has come to mean to me. It's really a lovely song."

Something Happensi presents a brand of guitarbased, melodic rock'n'roll.

Their own numbers have sort of a Jekel and Hyde quality. There's taut line between romanticism and aggression. Numbers like the guitar slinging "Beach" appeal to the primal rock instincts while songs like "Take This With You" bring forth a sentimental side in the group.

the group, whose writing is matched -with an equally soothing voice.-

AS AN IRISH band, some subjects are not easy to avoid. Massive unemployment has forced many young people in Ireland to emigrate. "Take This With You," a rather melodic ditty, is about a friend of Dunne's who had to leave his home in Dublin to come to the U.S.

The number is heartfelt, but doesn't come off as a misty-eyed pub drinking singfest.

"It's all in the way you approach it," Harman said. "He (Dunne) writes from the perspective of an Irish person. They couldn't go along with any other nationality. We don't go for the uillean pipes. We don't get into the mysticism. I think it's a positive thing, really."

The cruise departs from the Detroit dock, on Clark Avenue, at 11 p.m. and returns 1. a.m. Tickets are $10.95 ($9.95 with 10 or more people and reservations made in advance). For information, call 843-0700.

BLIND MAN'S ZOO -10,000 Maniacs

They raised some cyebrows a couple of years ago with their debut release "In My Tribe" (Elektra), and if justice serves them right, they'll raise quite a few more with their second.

The catalyst to this quintet is vocalist/songwriter Natalle Merchant, who delivers her often-biting lyrics with the intensity to match them. Her talent shines through in every track of "Blind Man's Zoo," making this effort that much more consistent than its predecessor.

"Eat for Two," a great piece of satire, opens the album. Merchant becomes the careless girl who, now with child; watches "my folly grow "Inside me." "Please Forgive Us" and "The Big Parade" follow with a mili--tary tone.

The ominous chords throughout "Dust Bow" are courtesy of Maniacs guitarist Robert Buck (does the name sound famillar R.E.M. fans?), who shares songwriting credits with Merchant on this and two other tracks, "The Lion's Share" addresses the distribution of wealth in today's world - the rich lions get richer and the poor lambs get poorer.

The '80s has been a disappointing decade for Paul McCariney. Seemingly at a creative impasse for most of the last 10 years, he has put together a few lousy LPs and failed miserably with a movie project called "Give My Regards to Broad Street." Only a couple of isolated singles have saved this period from being a complete washout.

Dear Ms. Schlif,

I was extremely interested in the idea from G.D. regarding a club for > women interested in the same activities. I've had a similar idea for a long time. There are organizations for widows, divorcees, seniors, but nothing for women who are married with husbands not interested in some of their activities or husbands who work during specific times and are unable to participate.

I would love to contact G.D. to see what we could get started. I am attending a volunteer/social club for women in June, but the median age is about 30 and I'm 53, so I'll see. Continued success with your intere. ting column. I really enjoy it.

'Prof' teaches fine art of stand-up comedy

By Bob Sadier special writer

If the Byrds had come around 20 years later, they might have written a song like this:

"So you want to be a comedy star!

Well listen now, to what I say. Just-enroll in a college class, Write some jokes, And learn how to say 'em. So once you've seen the light,

And you're material's tight, It's gonna be all right."

Enroll in a college to pursue a career in stand-up comedy?

Such is the brainchild of Jonathon Round, "dean" of the recently "chartered" Chaplin's Comedy College.

Produced in conjunction with the Chaplin's chain of Detroit clubs, Round offers eight-week beginner and intermediate-level workshops entitled, "Smart Comedy," providing technique on "the art, craft and science of stand-up comedy performance."

Sounds like this funny business is serious stuff. And Round is definitely serious about developing local talent.

· During a three-hour introductory seminar held recently at Chaplin's

West, 60 people came to see if they wanted to register in the new course at the "college." They witnessed five "graduates" of the program, instituted in May of last year at Mark Ridley's Comedy Castle.

THE FIVE showcased their talent on the Chaplin's stage, then answered questions from the audience. The curious comic aspirants asked about everything from what to wear on stage to how to write solid material.

After the panel of program alumni had finished addressing the questions, Round returned to center

"How bad do you want to be a comedian? This is not a correspondence course. For you to learn how your communicative abilities work is the single most important thing you can learn in your entire life. From that point on, you are the master of your own being."

director of Chicago's famed-Second rial," said Haley-Panzer of South-City troupe.

Returning to his hometown of Detroit in 1980, Round formed the Detroit Times Theatre Company, a vehicle created to entertain and educate in improvisational technique. Both of his instructional manuals, on improvisational and stand-up performance, are soon to be published.

The graduates of the class present at the seminar had a number of good things to say about their "professor." Tim Pryor of Birmingham hosted the day's comedy showcase segment. "Intense" was one word he used to describe Round.

'He can be encouraging," Pryor said, "but he can also be intimidating."

"HE FORCES you to write mate-

It doesn't take a trained eye to see that Round won't rest until the great well of Detroit's potential comedie talent'starts to quench thirsty American audiences.

"Detroit talent is not untapped, but it is underrated," Round said. "It's about time we started using the organizational, educational and networking resources that New York, Los Angeles and Chicago started us-Ing many years ago,

Motown Greek: Not quite the real thing

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

6D

If Helen of Troy and Zeus were to get gussled up and saunter through Greektown for a taste of the old country next Saturday night, they'd : about politics, our businesses and probably be appalled to see what this and that.

"In 1939 when I came here, I remember there were about 10 coffeehouses and only four or five restaurants," Lukos said. "We'd get together in the coffeehouses and play cards, read Greek newspapers, talk ter likenesses of would-be customers Helen and Zeus, Aphrodite, Socrates, David and Venus.

If Zeus dragged Helen into the Laikon Cafe across the street, Chris Ioannina, their young Athens-born host, would echo Lukos.

 γ "A lot of the Greek people have moved away," he said. "They don't come down much anymore. I know cur culture is fading away - and I don't know how long it's going to stay around. I don't see a bright future. When everything turns commercial, it loses its flavor." Still, there's a bright side, particularly if food is a priority with Greektown visitors.

The culsine of Greece is one of the most varied and original in the world — one reason why Ioannina's father, chef at the Laikon, refuses to 'Sophia Loren bought dresses here when she was here for a party 15 years ago," said Dimitracopoulos.

LOREN'S POPPING in notwithstanding, Greektown's clientele was primarily Greek until the early 1960s. Jackie Onassis apparently helped change that. "Only Greeks would buy until Jackle went to Greece. Now we're catering to tourists," said Dimitracopoulos. Homer, Hercules, Aristotle and those other guys who hall from the land of gods and giants, mountains and mariners probably would be as dismayed with Detroit as Helen and Zeus. But this is Motown, not Mt. Olympús, right?

passes for Hellenic culture in the Motor City.

The god and goddess wouldn't know what to make of Monroe Street's fern bars and flashing signs, electric cars whisking mortals to and fro on an overhead track, and establishments with names like Pizza Papalis, Trapper's Alley and Lovin' Spoonful.

They'd share the sidewalk with sockless yupples in khakis and scuffed-up top-siders; octogenarians in polka dot dresses, patent leather purses in the crooks of their arms; Greeks in western dress; Detroiters and tourists.

The Mt. Olympus natives would smell the aroma of seasoned lamb and freshly baked bread wafting over the narrow, well-traveled thoroughfare, and see aproned cooks stealing a smoke while surveying the scene in restaurant doorways.

They'd notice women selling fresh flowers, artists sketching portraits in vestpocket parks, cops on horseback, old men on bikes and jewelry boutiques.

PEAKING THROUGH restaurant windows cluttered with neon and newspaper reviews, they'd see, huddled at tables, Japanese and East Indian businessmen, couples holding hands and families yelling Opal as waiters ignited platefuls of saganaki cheese.

The mythological couple could eavesdrop as passers by converse in Greek, and they'd feel at home playing backgammon and slpping demitasse in the few Greek coffeehouses. that still dot Monroe Street.

A taste of the Greek isles, with a healthy dose of Americana. You probably couldn't blame Helen if af. ter touring trendy Trapper's Alley, she asked Zeus to hitch up the chariot and take her back to Olympus.

But if Helen and her date dropped, by Athens Book Store, they would meet 79-year-old, Basil Lukos who knows what's still authentically Greek in Greektown, and could reminisce about the days before development decimated the Greek communlty.

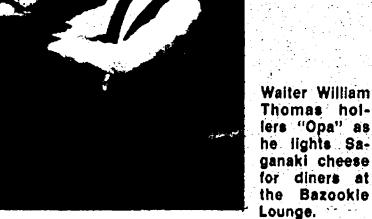

"It was kind of like a club or a social group. Little by little, they've turned those coffeehouses into restaurants. Now there's only two left."

"Today, they're mixed up; they have machines for kids in there," he said, shaking his head.

"Three hundred Greek families used to live here," Lukos recalled. "The parking deck stands where they built the first Greek Orthodox church in Michigan - Annunclation. They built the Blue Cross building and the freeway where the Greek neighborhoods were."

DETROIT'S GREEKS are scattered throughout the metropolitan area, their old neighborhood less a community than a tourist attraction. But Lukos still does a good business with the Greeks, who have hung onto their heritage.

Since 1943 he has sold religious supplies, imported bone china, Greek newspapers and records, and alabas-cater to American tastes.

"Ninety-nine percent of the Greek clientele comes in here," said Ioannina. "We carry authentic Greek food.... We haven't changed to appeal to Americans. The spices have remained the same."-

Actually, such Greek delicacies as egg lemon soup, lamb, eggplant, pickled squid, stuffed vine leaves, tender baby octopus in wine sauce and quail with rice can be found in many of Greektown's dozen or so restaurants.

ALSO AVAILABLE are ouzo (anise-flavored spirits made from grapes), and mavrodaphne and retsina, popular Greek wines.

Before visiting the Bouzouki Lounge or Mykonos-night club to dance the Syrtos, Kalamatianos or Tsamiko, Helen and Zeus could grab some dessert in Michigan's oldest Greek pastry shop, the Stemma Bakerý. Nick and Elizabeth Kotsonas are third generation confectioners. They use their grandfather's recipes to make'kataifi (shredded wheat with nuts and honey); galotoburiko (custard and honey in flaky, paper-thin phyllo dough); and eggbread, among dozens of other items.

That's not to say the Kolsonas haven't elaborated a little.

We sell chocolate-covered baklava," said Nick. "It never existed in Greece, but it exists now. It was born in Detroit."

Bob Seger songs, Mrs. Field's Cookies, gift shops, Colombo frozen yogurt and the like may be the mainstay at the multi-level Trapper's Alley, but Greektown's biggest drawing card also features a place for lovers of Greek and European clothing.

At La Greca Boutique, Irene Dimitracopoulos and Olga Tassopoulos sell evening gowns and dresses created by Greek. Italian, French and English designers.

The discerning shopper can find panty hose seamed in French gold, 100 percent slik beaded tops and $100 hats. A picture of Sophia Loren hangs on the wall behind the counter.

Food fit for gods

What's good to eat, and genuinely Greek. in Greektown? Plenty.

Here's a sampling:

Mousaka — baked eggplant, layered with ground tamb, parmigiana cheese, eggs, milk and seasonings. Pastitslo - layers of baked macaroni and ground lamb, with parmigiana cheese, milk and seasonings, topped with a thick creamy sauce. Dolmades - grape leaves stuffed with seasoned ground meat and rice, served with tomato or egg lemon sauce.

Spanakotiropita - thin layers of strudel-like dough with spinach, scallions, dill, parsley, feta cheese and seasonings.

Baklava - honeyed, layered phyllo dough: ---

Halvas - Take it from Peter Mandas, 49, who went to school in the neighborhood and still comes down from Huntington Woods to shop at the Monroe Grocery and Bakery:

"Halvas is the nectar of the gods. It's pressed sesame and honey, and it's has more protein than you can shake a stick at."

Halvas comes in bricks, wrapped in wax paper. Just ask for a slice. It melts in your mowth.

Q. My office work is piled high and our family is leaving on vacation soon. I almost have to take some work along to catch up, yet feel I should be able to relax without it. How shall I handle this predicament?

A. As life's momentum accelerates, it seems we are never allowed to relax. Time management experts suggest cleaning out file folders while watching TV, catching up and reading while waiting for meetings to start, or listening to learning tapes while jogging or driving. There is no easy answer and decisions will vary with the individual.

One outstanding fact must be considered, however: the value of the coffee break was established long ago. Studies done in factories in the '40s proved that output was increased, not decreased, when employees took adequate breaks. Even the Bible states that God rested on the seventh day after creating the world. I think there is a message there.

You must evaluate several considerations. 1. Are you nearing burnout? If so, regardless of how important your work is, leave it home. Your emotional stability is more important than your work. 2. Will you really do your work while you are gone or will you let it dog you the whole time, ruining your fun, but not getting it done either? 3. Will work on your vacation impact on your family's good time and will you use it. as an excuse to get out of doing something they want to do. (That ain't fair.)

If you can take it along, accomplish it pronto and then forget it for the remainder of your vacation, it might be OK. Promise yourself that you'll either do it within the first two days or not at all. If it will be a continual burden, however, leave it home.

Another aspect is just how esential is your work? People totally immersed in their work tend to be unable "to see the forest for the trees." What will happen if it's

By Andy Lang special writer

AP -- When you hire a professional to paint the inside of your house, you are likely to measure his work, at least partly, by how little or how much he disturbs your way of life.

You don't want a painter who shows up at discheduled times nor do you want one who starts something that could have been done in a certain period of time, but who stretches it out to several visits because he is handling several jobs at the same time. And, you don't want a painter who is tardy or negligent about cleaning up.

You are likely to feel that way even if the finished job is excellent, since it is too heavy a price to pay for competence. Sometimes you feel you would rather settle for a so-so result than one which leaves your house messy and cluttered for a protracted period.

ONE WAY TO AVOID the physical and mental stress of such a situation is to choose a painter who has been recommended by a neighbor or relative. A worker who covers everything that might be stained or damaged, who wipes drips constant. ly, and who is aware of the necessity for eternal vigilance is worth his weight in gold.

Since you know the value of certain procedures before, during and on the house after professional work, why not utilize them when you do the painting yourself? Take a little extra time to move the furniture into one section of the room and cover it carefully with dropcloths. Remove curtains, draperies, switches, outlet plates and anything else that might get splattered or be in the way no matter how careful you are.

Don't do what you don't want the painter to do. Arrange to finish a room or area at a single session, allowing timeouts for normal breaks. If somebody telephones you while you are busy, have someone else answer it. Or tell the caller quickly what the situation is and when you will return the call or just let the phone ring. While modern paints seldom show lapmarks, you are looking for trouble if you hold a lengthy phone conversation when only half a wall is painted. Even when there are no lapmarks as such/a slight varia-tion in color may be discernible if the paint is allowed to settle in its container.

Once you have painted even a single room in your house, you will get a better idea of why a professional sometimes will spend even more time not painting than he does painting. He - and so should you - takes time to get things out of the way to prevent hindrances and damage. And he prepares the surfaces to receive the paint properly so it will adhere securely. Paint is not friendly with dirt, which often has to be wiped or washed.

Painting like a professional

Grease has to be sealed to prevent it from bleeding through the paint. And mildew cannot be permitted to stay where it is. There are several ways to remove mildew, but the simplest is to wash the area with a household bleach. Remember too, that mildew is a growth and will return at a later time if its principal cause, dampness, is not eliminated.

DON'T APPLY PAINT over a glossy surface. If the old surface still has some gloss on it, as is likely on something like a kitchen cabinet, the new paint will not adhere. It has to be sanded or steel-wooled lightly to cut down the gloss.

Once you have painted even a single room in your house, you will get a better idea of why a professional sometimes will spend more time not painting than he does painting.

not done? Are you over-emphasizing its significance? Only you know the answers and you must be completely honest with yourself.

You might consider returning home a day early to do your work before returning to the office. By leaving your troubles behind and becoming fully rested, you may then be able to whip it out in record time.

If you still can't decide, leave it home, period.

condo queries Robert M. Meisner

Q. We are in the process of interviewing a mangement company and have asked them for recommendations concerning attorneys. and CPA's They indicate that they represent several associations in town and recommended what they considered to be a very inexpensive lawyer and CPA firm. When questioned more thoroughly, it appears that in 29 of their sites they use the same lawyer and CPA firm. One of our board members, who is a lawyer, suggested that there may be a problem with that. Do you have any comment?

A: The job of the board of directors, whether or not it is relying upon the advice of the management firm, is to pick the best CPA, attorney and other consultants which they can in order to best serve the interests of the association.

Many management companies have their "favorite" attorneys for various reasons, some of which are based upon an experience of working with the attorney and others are based upon a business and/or social relationship between the management company and the attorney and/or consultant.

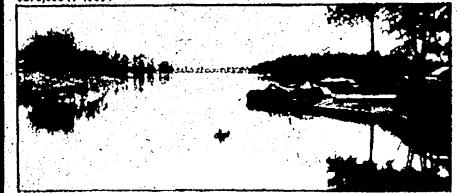

When one management company has the extent of a relationship with the attorney, as posed in your question, one has to consider whether or not the attorney and CPA is in the position to independently and effectively represent the interests of the condominium association. In the event that the management company, who has been presumably responsible for so many referrals to the attorney, does not discharge its responsibilities, the attorney is obliged under its ethical responsibilities to advise the association. Will he or she do so when his economic well being is on the line?

At the least, inquiries should be made of the association's management company as to why it has chosen this attorney, in so many instances, over other attorneys even If others are more expensive, whether this altorney has the resources to be able to effectively represent the association within the number of accounts the management.
