City woman held in husband's death

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

A Westland woman allegedly crossed the U.S.-Canada border Wednesday night and shot her ex-husband to death at his lakefront home in Colchester, Ontario, about 25 miles southeast of Windsor, police said.

An arraignment for Sheree Craig, 25, was adjourned Friday morning in front of the Justice of Peace in Windsor Provincial Court. It has been rescheduled for 9 a.m. July 14, when she will enter her plea, according to the court administrator.

Craig is charged under Section 235 of the Canadian Criminal Code with the Canadian equivalent of first-degree murder, the detective said.

She was denied bond and remanded to the Windsor jail.

If convicted, Craig faces a maximum penalty of life (25 years) in prison.

The victim, Godfrey Ernest Craig, 25, died of a single gunshot wound to the chest, said staff Sgt. Clifford Hawkins of the South Colchester police. He was dead on arrival at Windsor Western Hospital, police said.

Police said Craig was shot at 11:13 p.m. as he answered the front door at his house on Levergood Beach.

SHEREE CRAIG was arrested as she tried to drive into the United States over the Ambassador Bridge, Hawkins said.

No weapon has been found, he said. Preliminary reports from the coroner's office indicate the wound was caused by a .38-caliber bullet.

Hawkins said police don't know when the suspect entered Windsor or if she carried a weapon with her when she crossed the border.

He said no motive has been established for the killing.

"(The victim) went to the door, opened it, and that was it," Hawkins said.

It was unclear how long the victim had been living in the Colchester house, which is adjacent to Lake Erie.

The couple has been divorced for about two years, Hawkins said.

Residents on the 700 block of Forest knew little of Sheree Craig and said she had only moved to the area about a month ago.

"She kind of keeps to herself," a neighbor said Friday.

Hawkins said anyone with information about the murder weapon or its location should call the South Colchester police at (519) 738-2221.

THIS YEAR'S Summer Festival was an "unqualified success," according to chairwoman Donna Raines.

"In the nine years I've been involved, this was definitely the top year for the carnival," Raines said last week as workers finished dismantling food booths, rides and other venues.

Raines said some 45,000 people jammed the civic center area for the annual fireworks display that closed the festival Tuesday night.

Attendance throughout the four-day festival was slightly higher than last year and merchants reported brisk sales, Raines said. She attributed the success to a combination of good planning and pleasant weather.

Raines is already thinking about next year's festival. "We'll take about a month off and our first planning meeting will be in August," she said.

IT SHOULD soon be a little safer getting in and out of the Westland Crossings shopping center, Wayne Road at Warren Road.

A sign prohibiting left turns from the eastbound driveway on Warren Road was approved last week by the Westland City Council.

A number of accidents have occurred at that entrance/exist to the center, according to a study by the police department's traffic bureau.

THE JULY 25 filing deadline for potential Westland City Council or mayoral candidates is two weeks away and indications are it's going to be a crowded ballot.

To date, some 20 residents have taken out petitions for mayor or one of four available council seats.

Mayor Charles Griffin plans to run for a second term, although he hasn't formally announced his re-election bid.

Petitions are available from the city clerk's office.

A primary, if there are at least three mayoral or eight council candidates would be Sept. 12. The general election is Tuesday, Nov. 7.

SPEAKING of deadlines, there's still time to sign up your child for the Summer Park Recreation Program sponsored by the city's parks and recreation department.

The free drop-in style program runs through Aug. 13 in four neighborhood parks — Central City, Joyce, Southwyer and Overbrook.

Children will take part in supervised activities ranging from baseball to arts and crafts. The program is held Wednesday, 4:30-6:00 p.m. Registration is required. Call 338-2222 for more information.

Cable's sharper image

Westland cable television subscribers are seeing a sharper picture this week and the credit goes to a high-tech creation called fiber optics.

Continental Cablevision Thursday activated a new fiber optics super trunk line between its hub site in Dearborn Heights and Westland. The new line replaces the conventional coaxial cable that has carried signals to Westland since the cable TV franchise began operating in 1984.

"The picture quality is better, sharper because we've eliminated most of the amplifiers and repeaters that were on the line to transmit the signal from Dearborn Heights," said Kay'elen Perry, Continental area manager.

PERRY SAID the difference should especially be noticed by subscribers in the city's western end, who are farthest from the signal's point of origination.

The new supertrunk, the first to use fiberoptic technology in Michigan, was installed alongside the old line at a cost of about $200,000, Perry said. The old line will still be used as a backup.

Dennis Fassett, the city's CATV/community relations director, said electrical storms may still occasionally interrupt cable television service, "but this system is far more reliable than what we had."

Fiber optic technology uses tiny glass strands to transmit electronic signals. Each strand is each about the diameter of a human hair.

Cables, made up of hundreds of strands, are capable of carrying more information than the thicker, traditional cables.

Continental now has 20,250 subscribers in Westland. The 64.4 percent penetration rate is higher than the national average of about 50 percent.

Defendant gets postponement in schools case

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

The fate of the fourth defendant in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools adult education enrollment fraud case will be known by September.

Two district employees and one former employee were sentenced in April after pleading no contest to reduced charges.

Attorneys representing Kathleen (Kay) Lyons last week filed an adjournment request in 18th District Court. The request, for an adjournment of up to eight weeks because of health reasons, was allowed by District Judge Gail McKnight.

No date has been set for continuing the case.

Lyons, who is facing high-misdemeanor charges of falsifying school records and conspiracy to falsify school records, has bone cancer. She is on a medical leave from her job as director of special projects and Tinkham Center executive director.

"Until she feels she has enough strength, she's not going to look this thing in the eye," Neil Fink, Lyons' attorney, said Thursday.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY Robert Sheiko said Thursday Lyons will "probably" be offered the same plea agreement as the other defendants when the hearing continues.

During a preliminary examination last April, Holbert (Rick) Hamrick Jr., Barbara Blanton and Phyllis (Rode) Roderick pleaded no contest to a misdemeanor charge of "knowingly permitting or consenting to" a violation of the state school aid act.

A no contest plea is neither an admission of guilt nor denial of the charge.

McKnight imposed a $150 fine and assessed $150 in court costs against each of the three. She also ordered

Olympic dreams

Local skater dedicated to quest

By C. L. Rugestein
staff writer

If a person were to find themselves in Jenny Patero's boots, they'd be buying new boots every six months.

That's about how long a pair of Patero's special figure skating boots lasts. The championship skater from Westland spends between 24 and 28 hours a week practicing, enough to go through boots pretty quickly.

Patero, 16, and a junior at John Glenn high school will be spending all of July training in Vail, Colo.

There, she will compete against some of the top junior division skaters from around the world while sharpening her own talents. A silver medalist in the 1989 regional competition, Patero's dream is to win a spot on the Olympic figure skating team to go for the gold in earnest.

And it all started when she was 8 years old, with an invitation from a neighborhood playmate named Cindy.

'Mom always sat through every competition, no matter how nervous she was.'

— Jenny Patero

"We'd played together all day, when Cindy's mother called her to go to her skating lessons."

The mother asked if Patero wanted to go. She even found an old pair of skates laying around the house for Patero to use.

Patero played on the practice area at the end of the rink. Actually, it was her first time on skates, and she spent the time holding on to the boards trying to stand up.

"Some girl noticed me holding onto the boards as if for life, and offered to teach me," Patero said.

Her new friend taught her not only

Marinelli gets contract OK'd

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

The Livonia Board of Education approved a contract Thursday with Joseph Marinelli, new schools superintendent.

The school board also named two assistant high school principals to fill vacancies, and elected officers for the 1989-90 school year.

By the contract, Marinelli, former associate superintendent of the Orange County Schools in Florida, will receive a salary of $93,000 in the first year of the three-year contract.

"We had a survey done of all the superintendents' salaries in the area, in comparable size districts," said John Rennels, assistant superintendent for personnel.

The board had advertised a salary in the $90,000 range in seeking applicants, he said.

By the contract, Marinelli is provided a car for business use, and gets 25 vacation days every year.

He is required to establish residency in the district by June 1990. The district will pay for a one-bedroom apartment for Marinelli for

Residents protest Westland's sidewalk maintenance program

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Westland's sidewalk maintenance program that requires homeowners to pay for repairs on damaged walkways has some residents up in arms.

"It's a rip-off," said Joe Wyatt, a retiree who for 20 years has lived on the 37000 block of Booth.

Wyatt recently received city notification that a section of walk in front of his home is in need of immediate repair at a cost of $300, plus $35 administration fees. Based on city requirements, Wyatt is responsible for the cost of repairs. "What are administration fees?" he demanded.

"We pay all these taxes — mine are over $3,000 a year — and that doesn't cover administration fees?" Wyatt queried.

Wyatt's comments are typical of those received by the city's Department of Public Works from homeowners which sent letters to sidewalk owners notifying them of sidewalk needing repairs and providing cost estimates.

The calls are normal and expected, according to Westland public works director Robert Matzo who oversees the city's sidewalk maintenance policy.

"ANYTIME ANYONE is told they have to repair something and that it's going to cost them money, they're going to be upset."

Wyatt, however, said "it's not the money so much. It's the way the city pushes people around, the unfairness of it."

Still, city officials have little choice in the matter, according to

Man faces charge in fatal crash

A Canton Township man will stand trial on a negligent homicide charge in connection with a June 10 car-truck collision that killed a 29-year-old Westland man.

Robert Wayne Blanchard, 22, waived a preliminary exam and was bound over for trial last week by 18th District Court Judge Gail McKnight. He will be arraigned in Wayne County Circuit Court 9 a.m. July 17.

Blanchard, who has pleaded not guilty to the high misdemeanor charge, faces a maximum two-year prison sentence if convicted.

Blanchard remains free on a $5,000 personal recognizance bond set by McKnight at his arraignment.

Henry Meyers died from massive head injuries suffered in the collision, on Merriman at Steinhauer, police said.

POLICE SAID Meyers was driving northbound on Merriman at 10:12 a.m. when his 1981 Dodge Omni was struck head-on by an out-of-control flatbed truck. The truck had struck another northbound car and hit a second vehicle before hitting Meyers' car, police said.

Witnesses told police the driver of the truck crossed over the center line so that the truck was on the wrong side of the road.

The driver of the second car suffered minor injuries in the accident, police said. No one was injured in the first car.

Police said tests for alcohol or drug use by the driver of the truck were negative.

Cactus Club shuts

The Cactus Club restaurant, which opened its doors less than a year ago, was apparently forced to close for financial reasons last week.

Workers Thursday were boarding up the windows and doors of the snazzy restaurant across from Westland Center and removing equipment from the building.

A man who identified himself only as one of the partners in the business said it was undergoing a "financial reorganization."

"We've been talking to some people, the Marriott Corp. and others, and we hope to be able to open again in a couple of weeks," he said.

The Cactus Club opened last July after extensive renovations in the building that formerly housed the Westland Inn and, before that, a cafeteria-styled Rustler's Stakehouse.

Manager Les Hall said at the time he hoped the restaurant would fill a void in the city with its more formal dining room, dancing and entertainment.

Residents protest city's sidewalk program

Matzo. "If the sidewalk has to be repaired, it has to be repaired, for their protection and ours," he said.

Otherwise, both parties are liable to lawsuits by pedestrians who trip or are injured.

The city is required to inspect and properly maintain all walkways. Homeowners are required to assume the cost of such maintenance and upkeep. The policy is in keeping with that of most neighboring communities, according to Matzo.

Most streets in Westland have sidewalks, installed by developers during construction or installed later and paid for by homeowners who have been specially assessed. Some streets, however, are without walkways.

This point also ranks Wyatt. "I have to repair my sidewalk. But when I walk to the store, I have to walk over 100 feet of mud and rock because (new homes on Newburgh) don't have sidewalks. Is that fair?"

THE MAINTENANCE program, a massive on-going program that Matzo said is implemented in two parts.

An earlier citywide survey of all walkways targeted "dangerous" situations, sidewalk sections in advanced decay or uprooted by trees and in immediate need of repair.

Wyatt's walk fits this description. One section has been uprooted by a large tree.

Once the large survey was completed, small areas of the community have been targeted since for detailed inspection. Potential problems, walks containing one crack or more of at least 1-inch width, are earmarked for repair.

This year, the area between Palmer, Glenwood, Wildwood, and Hannan received the city's first priority. Wyatt's home, on Booth between Palmer and Glenwood, is in that section.

Homeowners may repair their own walks or hire a private contractor, providing work is completed in a timely manner. Otherwise, the city completes the job and bills the homeowner who, if unable to make payment at that time, can opt to have the fee included in annual taxes.

Wyatt plans to let the city make repairs on his walkway because "I don't figure I can hire a contractor for less."

Presently, there are an estimated 450 sidewalk locations in need of repair, Matzo said.

each to perform 50 hours of community service during a one-year probationary period.

The judge will review the ruling and may expunge the defendants' records after one year.

The maximum penalty under the reduced charge was a jail sentence of up to 90 days and/or a fine of up to $500.

Hammrick is assistant principal at the William D. Ford Vocational/Technical Center while Blanton is an adult education teacher and former supervisor with the district.

Roderick, who now lives in Kirkland, Wash., is a former adult education supervisor.

IF LYONS doesn't accept the plea agreement, she can either proceed with a preliminary exam or waive the exam and automatically be bound over for trial.

Fink said his client hasn't made a decision yet on how she will proceed. The defendants were indicted last November after a yearlong probe by a Wayne County citizens grand jury. The grand jury probe was initiated following an investigation into the district's 1982-84 adult education program by the prosecutor's office and Michigan State Police.

The case was the first in Michigan where criminal charges were filed against school district administrators for allegedly falsifying school records.

In question were the district's enrollment records for the program during the two school years. Prosecutors alleged the enrollment figures were fraudulently inflated in order to obtain additional state aid.

A state audit of the attendance records resulted in the disqualification of more than 300 listed full-time equivalent students and a loss of more than $1 million in state aid.

The district appealed the audit and eventually won back $400,000 of the disqualified amount. The balance was deducted from state aid payments over a three-year period.

Garage may be closed down

A Westland collision business may be shut down for operating illegally.

Vincenzo DiDomenico had 1985 approval of a site plan that allowed storage of recreational vehicles on Beechwood, north of Ford near Farmington Road.

But since then, he has been operating a collision business that has Westland City Council members upset.

"If you don't stop, we'll ask that it

(the business) be shut down," council president Kenneth Mehl told DiDomenico at a council meeting last week.

Mehl said the business owner doesn't have required site plan approval and that "you're operating a business you're not supposed to in that area."

DiDomenico insisted he is running a legitimate business and has a certificate of occupancy for the collision shop.

The businessman said he has complied with six of eight stipulations specified by the city's planning department.

The administration said in a March 10 letter that the business hasn't received the required special use approval for a collision shop in an industrial district and doesn't have the appropriate zoning.

Best foot forward

Kids learn to improve skills at soccer clinic

The clinic was put on by Britanna, a Virginia-based program which features top coaches and players from professional soccer leagues and coaches from the National College Athletic Association. A second clinic will be held Aug. 21-25 at the Y.

Registration for the fall soccer program is also currently being accepting. Fall leagues begin play in September.

For more information on the clinic or soccer programs call the Y, 721-7044.

cop calls

POLICE handled "the usual number" of fireworks calls during the holiday period, said executive Lt. Michael Frayer.

"I think it might have even been a little more quiet than usual with the holiday coming on a Tuesday," Frayer said.

According to police reports, confiscated items ranged from smaller firecrackers to larger M-80s and bottle rockets. Several tickets were issued.

On July 4 police made about a dozen fireworks-related runs, records showed.

A RESIDENT at the Woodcrest Villa Apartments, Wayne Road south of Joy, told police someone broke into his apartment during the holiday weekend and stole a videocassette recorder, chess set, marble table and other furniture.

The resident said he returned home Tuesday after being out of town since June 30 and found his sliding doorwall open.

Nothing in the apartment was disturbed except for the missing items, the man said.

Witnesses told police they saw people coming and going from the apartment several times during the weekend.

A HOMEOWNER on the 1100 block of Henry Ruff reported that someone stole his 1987 Chevrolet van from in front of his house Tuesday.

The van was stolen between 3 and 8 a.m. while he wasn't home, the man said.

Detroit police reported finding the van, severely damaged, Tuesday night.

A HOMEOWNER on the 34100 block of Algonquin told police vandals apparently destroyed his free-standing mailbox early Tuesday.

The man told police he was awakened at 1:15 a.m. by a loud banging noise and barking dogs.

When he went outside to investigate, the man said he found his mailbox in pieces scattered across the front yard.

how to stand up, but also how to fall and how to go forward.

"I had so much fun just learning those few things that I wanted to take the basic skills class and learn more," she said.

But the basic skills class only whet her appetite. Her parents got Patero private lessons with her first coach, Kathy McKeegan. And, she said, "Every session I wanted to skate more."

PATERO SKATED in several competitions under McKeegan, who decided she needed more advanced training and transferred her from the Westland Skating Club to the Plymouth club.

And though Patero felt that McKeegan was "the greatest coach I could ever have," McKeegan felt she should go on to another coach who could devote more time to her training.

Her coach for the past four years has been Barbara Miller at the Plymouth Skating Club.

As devoted to skating as she is, she still has to fit it around a full high school schedule. She gets out of school one hour early, and goes directly to the rink. But that means she has to start one hour early, too — at 6:55 a.m.

Usually she's at the rink 2-6 p.m. five days a week. But during competitions she practices on Saturday and Sunday as well.

Her parents have supported her all the way, she said. In fact, she only found out recently her mother had been a skater as well.

"She never really mentioned it," Patero said. "She never had lessons, just skated on ponds."

And she's thrilled about her daughter's success.

"She really likes the competitions," Patero said. "Mom always sat through every competition, no matter how nervous she was."

BUT A competition two years ago was too much for her.

Patero was in a slump, trying to get over an injury in which she'd torn every ligament in her foot. Patero was the underdog going into the final part of the competition, and her mother couldn't watch.

"She had to go to the car," Patero said.

But she came back strong, and won that one. And since they videotape all her competitions, Mrs. Patero got to see the comeback.

The next step to the Olympics for Patero is completion of her junior and senior level training. Then, it's on to national competitions for a shot at the Olympic team.

And it all started with a girl named Cindy, who moved away and whose last name Patero can't even remember.

"She doesn't know what she started," Patero said.

up to six months, until he and his wife find a house, Rennels said.

While the contract is scheduled to expire July 1, 1992, that termination date can be extended by periods of one year, as stated in the contract.

In meetings with schools employees in May, Marinelli said he planned to remain as superintendent of schools for at least five years.

Marinelli, who has said he's looking forward to "developing a district plan with the board and the community for the '90s and beyond," will attend a training conference for new superintendents before assuming the job full time Aug. 1.

ALSO THURSDAY, the board named Janet Haas an assistant principal at Stevenson High, and Larry Ruzsas an assistant principal at Churchill High.

Both were named to fill vacancies created by promotions of other assistant principals in June.

Haas has been a teacher with the district since 1971. Ruzsas began teaching in the district in 1970, but left teaching from 1982-85 to work in industrial sales.

The board of education also elected officers at its meeting Thursday. Pat Tancill was elected president of the board, Pat Sari vice president and Richard McKnight secretary.

State Senate to take up abortion — but how?

By Tim Richard
staff writer

John Engler has the job of a circus master this week. The Michigan Senate majority leader must decide in which of three circus rings the abortion bill will play.

When the Senate returns Wednesday, Engler, R-Mount Pleasant, will assign a committee to consider a bill to regulate abortion that will be introduced by Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo.

Top guess: the Judiciary Committee headed by Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford.

"My office," said Welborn, "already has a copy of the Missouri law that the (U.S.) Supreme Court based its decision on (in Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services).

"That legislation will require testing of the fetus by doctors to determine if the fetus could live outside the womb if a woman seeks an abortion.

"It would also place tighter restrictions on abortion clinics, and we are researching the possibility of restricting or eliminating funding for abortion counseling."

MUCH CONFUSION surrounded the high court's 5-4 decision July 3, but all sides agree that the battleground shifts to state legislatures.

Engler was away from the State Capitol last week, but his press spokesman, Debra Townsend, said three possible committees could get the Welborn bill — Judiciary, Health Policy or Human Resources.

"It looks like Judiciary, but it's not really decided," said Townsend, revealing the staff recommendation. "I can't say 100 percent until he (Engler) signs off on that."

The Judiciary Committee handles much court, constitutional legislation and children's rights legislation.

"I'M A LITTLE surprised it might come to Judiciary," said Nichols, contacted Friday at his home. "This is the first I've heard of it."

"In the past, they've gone to Health Policy.

"I've never maintained abortion is a constitutional issue. The right of privacy (on which the 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision was made) is not explicit in the Constitution. I view it (abortion) as a scientific and medical issue.

"Obviously I need to talk to John." Nichols, 44, considers himself pro-life. He voted in favor of banning state-funded abortions.

Judiciary vice-chair is Richard Fessler, R-Commerce, also pro-life and a yes vote on banning state-funded abortions.

Other Judiciary members are: Dan DeGroot, R-Port Huron, and John Kelly, D-Grosse Pointe Farms, both pro-choice and both nay votes on abortion funding; and Jerome Hart, D-Saginaw, pro-life and a yes vote.

Hart is an accountant; the other four are attorneys.

THE HEALTH Policy Committee is headed by William Sederburg, R-East Lansing. With a doctorate in political science, the 42-year-old former college professor was a yes vote on banning abortion funding.

Other members are: Vern Ehlers, R-Grand Rapids, a Ph.D. in physics and the Senate's environmental expert, and John Schwarz, R-Battle Creek, a medical doctor, both yes votes on banning abortion funds; along with Democrats Kelly and Hart, no and yes votes respectively.

The Human Resources Committee, which handles much social services legislation, is chaired by one of the Senate's best known abortion opponents — Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, a merchant.

THE SUPREME Court stopped short of reversing Roe vs. Wade when it upheld a Missouri law which:

- Declares, in a preamble, that life begins at conception.
- Prohibits abortions in hospitals and medical facilities associated with the state.
- Requires medical tests to determine whether a fetus at least 20 weeks old could survive outside the womb.

A University of Michigan professor saw some unclear wording in the Missouri statute. Kim Lane Scheppe, an assistant professor of political science and adjunct professor of law, said:

"Just what 'associated' means is not clear. The main hospital in Missouri simply leased land from the state and was otherwise a private hospital.

"Abortions conducted there were paid for by the women themselves, often through private health insurance, and were not (paid) by the state. So the state was not directly subsidizing abortions but could still use the fact that it owned the land under the hospital to limit what could be done in an otherwise private facility.

"If the court has said that's OK, then this decision may be a lot broader than it looks," said Scheppe.

County, airline 'hand-in-hand'

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara and Alfred Checchi, leader of the investment group that plans to buy Northwest Airlines, emerged from a two-hour meeting Friday to announce a "hand-in-hand" team effort on expansion plans for Metro Airport.

The estimated $1 billion project, including a proposed mid-field terminal with an estimated 70 gates for international travel, has long been under consideration. Northwest's support is critical, county officials said, because the airline will foot most of the bill.

"We met, we exchanged ideas and we learned one another's objectives," McNamara said of the meeting. Checchi requested the meeting. It represented his first visit to the area since last month's announced buyout of NWA Inc., the airline's parent company, for $3.6 billion.

Following the meeting, Checchi said, "It is clearly in the interest of Northwest, Wayne County and the broader region to build the new terminal. The question is, how do we go about getting it done, what can each of us contribute and how do we fill in the gaps.

THE COST OF expansion has been calculated by the investor group as "capital expenditures," according to Checchi, who said, "there is no change in attitudes or criteria" regarding the project.

Expansion, however, is not all that is needed to facilitate the growing number of passengers using the airport daily, according to McNamara. The executive said the number of passengers going through the airport is expected to double to nearly 20 million annually in the next 10 years.

A major north-south roadway is needed to carry traffic in and out of the airport. "One way or another, we are going to build that road," McNamara said.

Checchi also outlined proposed growth of Northwest Airlines, including doubling the size of the airline over the next five years, upgrading passenger service and improving employee relations. There are no plans to replace existing management.

"The strength of the company is its growth potential. Our objective is helping the business grow while reducing costs, increasing capital while reducing risks," he said. There are no plans to sell off parts of NWA or to ask for employee concessions to counter debts incurred in the buyout.

IN REFERENCE TO employee contracts, Checchi said, "The final piece of the puzzle is settlement with the pilots." NWA pilots, members of the Airline Pilots Association, have been working without a contract for nearly three years.

"I have told management to negotiate a settlement as they normally would, as though I am not a part of it. I see (resolution with the pilots) as an aggressive, positive step. It would be wonderful to land with all of us running in the same direction."

Final approval of the sale is pending approval by the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Until approved, Checchi acknowledged he is "in limbo," committed to acquiring the airline but having no immediate control over its management.

McNamara said present expansion plans for Metro Airport are on line. A $3 million design contest for the new mid-field terminal was announced last month. Northwest Airlines is responsible for 57 of the airport's daily passenger flights.

RHEUMATOID ARTHRITIS & THE NECK
Are you aware that rheumatoid arthritis can cause neck pain?
The first source is from the shoulder. When shoulder inflammation occurs in rheumatoid arthritis, the scapula (wingbone) which anchors shoulder muscles, takes over the shoulder joint's work. A main scapular muscle is the trapezius, which connects the scapula to the neck. Because the trapezius is strained in such instances, you feel its stress as "neck pain."
Therapy consists of reducing inflammation in the shoulder. Heat, massage or injection in the region of the trapezius will not help. Until the shoulder is treated, the neck will ache.
The second source of neck pain is from the first two cervical vertebrae. Rheumatoid inflammation here leads to compression of the spinal cord. You will feel neck pain as the cervical muscles strain to position the vertebrae so they will not press against the cord. Treatment to stabilize the cervical vertebrae is necessary and is done with a brace or operation.
The third source of neck pain is tension. Heat and a small, firm pillow are the therapies of choice.
Thus the cause of neck pain in rheumatoid arthritis requires a diligent search as each cause has a different treatment.

Faith in high court wavers after new rulings

By Philip A. Shorman
staff writer

Faith in the wisdom and decision-making ability of the U.S. Supreme Court, in light of its recent decisions, is mixed among residents of and visitors to Oakland County.

In an unscientific poll, several people appeared unaware the high court had ruled that it is legal to burn the U.S. flag as a means of expression. Others knew the court had ruled on abortion, but didn't seem to think the ramifications of that ruling affected them.

Interviews were conducted Wednesday at Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield and Friday in downtown Birmingham. Of those aware of the court's recent close decisions and rulings, three people said they had continued faith in the court; three said their faith had been diminished; and two were on the fence.

"What else could you expect when you have the ex-director of the CIA as president?" said Dennis Fitzpatrick of Birmingham. He said he's convinced personal freedoms are in jeopardy and thought the court's decision on abortion in Webster vs. Reproductive Health Services "is just the tip of the iceberg. I think faith in upholding the Bill of Rights has been quite a bit diminished."

THE DECISION in the Webster case, announced Monday, gives states the power to restrict abortions.

Mark Meyer of Waterford sees the issue differently.

"The system works. Whether you or I agree with it is somewhat irrelevant," Meyer said. That noted, Meyer added he disagrees with the court's ruling on flag burning and abortion.

Tara Spiro of Rochester said she "was kind of torn" about whether she had faith in the court. "I don't see that it's necessarily going in a direction," Spiro said. She disagrees with the court's ruling on flag burning, but agrees with the abortion decision.

Adire Thompson, of Detroit, was babysitting for Chelsea Price at Tel-Twelve Mall. She said she no longer has faith in the court.

"They made a wrong decision about abortion. They should let people have abortions," Thompson said. She also had one word to describe the court's decision on flag burning: "pitiful."

Matthew Schwartz, of Southfield, was sitting on the steps of the Baldwin Library in Birmingham. When asked if he still had faith in the court, his first reaction was to say that he was at the library Friday to continue research on a book about suicide.

"DO I BELIEVE in everything they do? No. Do I think they're intelligent people? Yes," Schwarz said with a shrug.

Wendy Tucker, a Traverse City resident who was sitting outside the Birmingham Post Office, said "I have faith in the process. How's that?"

"Whatever you get is a reflection of the people there (on the court), but the process is good and has good potential."

Shirley Adams, of Westland, said she's pro-choice on the abortion issue and has an overall faith in the court.

"I believe in the government," Adams said. "But I don't agree with the flag-burning decision."

Jeanne Blake, an attorney who lives in Birmingham, thinks the court's actions have decreased its credibility.

"Where Reagan wasn't able to do it by legislation, he was able to do it by packing the court," she said of former President Ronald Reagan's opportunity to appoint three justices.

"I think it's become a political organization now and that wasn't the intent. The Constitution didn't set up the court with that intent."

County property is deemed safe

The health risk posed at the former Child Development Center on Sheldon Road, Northville Township, is much less than first believed, county officials said.

Testing has reduced the county's concern about on-site PCB contamination, county health officer Vernice Davis-Anthony said last week.

Children have played soccer on the Sheldon Road field east of the site face no apparent risk of contamination, Davis-Anthony said.

Though a June soil sample indicated minimal on-site contamination, county officials said, subsequent tests showed no contamination. Ten randomly selected samples were all found to be under acceptable levels after testing by two laboratories, county officials said.

A county contractor has removed damaged transformers from the site. The transformers, damaged by vandals, were believed to have been the source of on-site contamination. Additional, undamaged transformers are also being removed, county officials said.

Testing continues on the site, Davis-Anthony said, with contaminated soil to be removed. The county is consulting with the Michigan Department of Natural Resources and U.S. Environmental Protection Agency on remedial action plans for the site.

Trespassers are forbidden to enter the property, county officials said. The area is under surveillance by the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and Northville Township Police.

The abandoned Child Development Center site, nearly 1,000 acres between Five and Six Mile roads, is under consideration for a golf course/residential complex. Four development groups, including groups headed by professional golfers Jack Nicklaus and Lee Trevino, have submitted bids on the property.

Well-guarded Quayle misses out on the fun

THANKFULLY, OUR travel plans did not coincide with Dan Quayle's. We were in for some whitewater fun, while the vice president was merely along for the ride.

An entire posse of Secret Service personnel manned rafts, with Quayle presumably in the middle, as the group traveled down West Virginia's New River several weeks ago.

The New — just an hour into the mountains from Charleston — is normally awash with whitewater, waves, sinkholes and just a darn good time, as it was last Sunday.

But not when Quayle braved the icy spring waters a few weeks ago. Instead of simply helping the vice president into his raft, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers did one better — they lowered the water level so the veep could have a nice, smooth ride.

"!#%&'()*" cried other rafters, upset with the change in plans. "We came for the whitewater!"

Their cries went unheeded. River guides told us water levels were cut nearly in half from what we experienced on Sunday, when waves ranged from 12 to 15 feet.

I CAN'T quite figure out why Quayle went, except that the scenery is beautiful along the New River Gorge. But there's a part of the river that's already calm and serene and demands nothing more than a pleasant and slow float.

Instead of ruining the day for several hundred other rafters, he could have taken his Secret Service guests along that route and satisfied everyone.

Whitewater rafting brings some $52 million into the state of West Virginia each year, according to recent statistics. That's less than what the tourist fishing industry attracts, but it's still a large chunk of money.

Obviously our visiting dignity didn't care about whose day he might be ruining, or what sort of financial impact one day of lower water might mean for future whitewater visits.

It's bad enough when Mother Nature gives the outfitters a difficult time of it. It's a double whammy when an unnecessary problem is created.

QUAYLE CAN'T be blamed totally. I'm sure his Secret Service agents and those in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers were simply looking out for his welfare. The incident did little to improve his less-than-tough image, however.

There were 17 people in our group alone — if anyone had taken their trip on "Dan Quayle Day," many of them may have chosen not to come back.

Thankfully, our day included lots of whitewater, 90-degree-plus weather, and plenty of good times.

Most of the first-timers are ready to hit a more difficult river this fall.

The river was warm enough to allow rafters to swim a few minor rapids or to just jump out of the raft and get wet. The weather was perfect for camping. And everything you eat tastes good after a day of fresh air, hot sun and sometimes tough paddling.

My guess is that Quayle was smothered so heavily with guards making sure he didn't hurt himself, that he probably had very little fun.

He not only missed whitewater rafting as it was meant to be, but he probably missed out on the clear West Virginia sky and the thousands of fireflies reaching to touch the stars.

We're living life in the hazardous lane

Warning. This column has not been approved by the EPA, the FDA, the surgeon general or anyone else. Reading it could be hazardous to your mental health. Read only as directed.

Jack Gladden

WHEN YOU READ this — if you dare — I'll be on vacation. I was originally planning a trip to Florida to sponge off the in-laws. You know, take the kids to see the grandparents, let Nana and Papa baby-sit the first grader while her brother does whatever 18-year-olds do in Florida.

My wife and I would just lie on the beach all day and soak up some Florida rays. Then I started reading.

Whoa!

There's "No such thing as a healthy tan," the headline said. The story concerned a report issued by the National Institutes of Health that included a "harsh warning" that Americans should stay OUT of the midday sun and that school children should stay in the shade during recess. All sun is bad for you, the report concluded.

The reason, of course, is that too much sun can cause the Big C — cancer.

There was one bright spot, so to speak. The report also recommended that if you must be exposed to the sun, you should wear plenty of sun screen lotion.

"ALL RIGHT," I told my wife. "If we're going to visit your parents, we're stocking up on plenty of Coppertone."

"Nope," she said. "Haven't you read the report?"

"I have," I told her. "Too much sun causes cancer. That's the reason for the lotion."

"Not that report, dummy," she said. "I mean the one that says some sun screen lotions can cause cancer."

"Oh, that one," I said. "That was a private study commissioned by a newspaper. The FDA says there's nothing to it."

"I don't care," she said. "The study was conducted by an official Laboratory Cancer Research Center, and the researchers say it could be dangerous. No sun. No lotion."

"OK," I said, "and no Florida."

How about if we go to visit your uncle up north. We could just lie under those big trees all day and relax."

"No way. I'm not going to take a chance with trees. Besides, he's got a well."

"So what?" I asked. SHE LOOKED disgusted. "Haven't you read the reports?" she shrieked. "The EPA says that some well water may be contaminated by radon-bearing rocks. And it says trees emit hydrocarbons that produce ozone. That means pollution and cancer. We're staying away from them."

I sank back in my chair and sighed. "So let's just stay home... indoors... and be safe."

She glared at me. "Are you crazy? Haven't you read the reports about indoors? An EPA engineer says that air conditioning systems, humidifiers, some kinds of glue used in furniture and carpets — especially wet carpets — create indoor pollution that can be worse than outdoor pollution. And you know what that means?"

"The Big C?"

She nodded.

"Then why don't we just take a quiet drive in the country?"

"Near those power lines? You're nuts."

"Power lines?" I asked. "I suppose you haven't read about that, either. The Office of Technology Assessment says that electromagnetic fields generated by power lines may affect the nervous system and could ultimately cause cancer. It's dangerous out there."

"I give up," I said. "Let's just hide out in the basement until it's safe to come out."

"Right," she said, "and we'll all get radon poisoning."

"That's it," I said. "I'm going to have a drink and a cigarette and sit on the carpet in front of the air conditioner reading that new life insurance policy I took out. It looks like we may need it."

Her face twisted into a grim smile.

"That's a good idea, honey," she said. "Would you like an apple?"

Birth control is overlooked

To the editor:

The pro-life people seem to be overlooking an essential aspect of their campaign, birth control.

Narrow-minded, holler than thou, types of people (not necessarily pro-lifers) have turned birth control into some sort of deadly sin.

They remind me of this joke: A man is marooned on a desert island. He prays to God to save him, confident God will help him. Soon after a ship comes by and offers to give the man a lift. The man refuses saying, "No, God will save me." A few days later a helicopter comes by and the pilot offers to rescue this man. But he refuses saying, "No, God will save me." Not long afterward the man dies of exposure. He goes to heaven and asks God, "Lord, I prayed to you. Why didn't you save me?" And God replied, "Hey, I sent you a boat and a helicopter!"

In this case the question asked will be, "God, why did you make sex so enjoyable that the earth became over-populated to the point that we couldn't feed, clothe and care for everyone?" And God will say, "Look, when over-population started becoming a problem, I inspired scientists to invent effective birth control. Why did you choose to suppress this knowledge?"

Obviously the Bible couldn't specifically cover every issue. God did, however, bless us with common sense. Let's use it!

Crime Watch: Fighting felons through tips

By Janice Brunson
staff writer

Two area men, possibly residents of Farmington Hills and Westland, are entitled to $250 each but nobody knows how to contact either of them for payment.

Both men are anonymous tipsters, entitled to reward money paid by the Southfield-based Citizens Crime Watch for information leading to the arrest of criminals.

One has been due the money since mid-May, when information he supplied resulted in the arrest of a Farmington Hills drug trafficker. The other has been due the reward since last October, when a Westland drug trafficker was arrested.

"We know nothing about callers who phone us with tips. We don't know names or addresses. We never see them. The only person who knows their identity, is the tipster," said Sandy Howard of Crime Watch, a private non-profit organization.

Howard knows tipsters only by an assigned number. Unless they call her, she has no way of contacting them or paying rewards to those who have earned them.

In this instance, however, Howard speculated each caller lives in the community where arrests occurred. Chances are, she said, they even live near suspects. One thing is certain, callers knew suspects well enough to supply police with detailed information about criminal activity.

THIS IS particularly true in the instance of the Farmington Hills tip. Once an arrest was made, the tipster called and informed Howard of the news. "He knew the person who was arrested, and he knew exactly when the arrest occurred," she said.

Anonymity is one reason Citizens Crime Watch was founded two years ago, according to Johannes Spreen, a former Oakland County sheriff and Detroit police commissioner who now directs the organization.

Spreen and others concerned with spiraling crime rates said the organization provides opportunity to report crime tips under the protective cloak of anonymity by those who are hesitant. Otherwise, such tips are likely not reported.

The organization maintains a 24-hour hotline, 1-800-822-2911, manned by a revolving group of law students, police officers and others. Once information is received, it is immediately passed along to the appropriate police agency.

"We never ask for details. We don't ask their relationship to the suspect. We don't ask if they've called the police. We just take the information they offer and hope it's enough," Howard said.

In the instance of the Westland tip, information was detailed and complete enough to lead to an arrest within three weeks. The tip was received Oct. 3. The case closed Oct. 24 with a suspect's arrest.

Once an arrest is made, Crime Watch closes its file. "We don't require conviction (to pay a reward). Just an arrest," Howard said.

NORMALLY, HOWEVER, the process is much longer. The Farmington Hills tip, for example, was received nearly a year ago but the case was not closed until May 18 when an arrest was verified by police after the tipster called Howard.

Crime Watch currently has some eight cases pending, including an armed robbery in Auburn Hills and an incident in Livonia involving receipt and concealment of stolen property.

The armed robbery tip was received in February and the Livonia tip was received June 13. Other recent tips include reports of Social Security fraud and child abuse. Most unsolicited tips involve drug trafficking and the majority are received in the afternoon.

Not all tipsters are in search of rewards. "You can tell who is interested in money and who is more interested in getting criminals off our streets," Howard said.

Tipsters reporting child abuse are generally "sincerely concerned." Once information is received, "We never expect to hear from them again."

Rewards are set once a case is closed. Amounts are based on the nature of the crime and the importance of the tip in leading to an arrest.

Crime Watch also offers a flat reward of $1,000 for information in solving particularly heinous or unusual crimes culled from hundreds of news clippings received daily by the organization.

Currently, leads are sought in the rape of a Kalamazoo mother of four who was attacked while hiking on a nature trail and in the beating and $4,000 robbery of a Clay Township woman who escaped intruders in her home by plunging through a plate glass window.

CRIME WATCH also offered a $1,000 reward last February after the Southfield High School library was set afire by arsonists. When the crime was solved without benefit of tips, Crime Watch donated the reward money to a citywide effort aimed at rebuilding the library.

More recently, the organization offered $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of whoever dumped hundreds of gallons of a tar-based emulsion into a sewer leading into Lake St. Clair, Crime Watch's "first environmental crime." Reward money is generated through advertisement in the organization's safety manual, a booklet bound in black and containing safety hints for preventing crime and listings of area businesses who have bought ads in the book that sells for $29 each.

Crime Busters, those who have paid up to $1000, include Auto Haulway in Farmington Hills, Carlos Murphy's Irish-Mexican Cafe and Northland Tire & Service in Southfield and Birmingham's Metal-Mates and Camera Ready.

Sponsor and patron advertisers, listed by county and paying up to $50 each, include Livonia Danish Bakery, the Garden City Fruit Market, Unique Mystique in Westland and Omnicon of Michigan in Canton.

"Let's face it," the booklet cautions: "Crime doesn't always happen to someone else, somewhere else."

Anti-crime group seeks 'most wanted'

Citizens Crime Watch offers a standing reward of $1,000 for information leading to the arrest of any person whose name appears on the most recently released State Police list of Michigan's most wanted criminals.

Those listed in June are:

• Frank Joseph Perfetti, a 30-year-old white man wanted by the Bloomfield Township police for murder and arson. Described as 5-feet

10-inches tall and weighing 150 pounds, Perfetti has brown hair and blue eyes.

• Rodney Keith Hayes, a 21-year-old black man wanted by the Troy FBI for murder and unlawful flight. Described as 6-feet 1-inch tall, he weighs 200 pounds.

• Kelly Wright, a 39-year-old black man is wanted by the Detroit FBI for murder, assault with intent to murder and criminal sexual conduct. Described as 6 feet 2 inches tall, he weighs 170 pounds and has a scar on his nose.

• Francisco Javier Colon, a 35-year-old white man wanted by Grand Rapids police for murder, is described as being 5 feet 6 inches tall and weighing 150 pounds. He has black hair and brown eyes.

• Wardell David Ford, a black man wanted for murder and robbery by the Detroit FBI. A 1982 escapee from the Michigan Department of Corrections, Ford is 5 feet 9 inches tall and weighs 151 pounds.

• John Kelly Gentry, Jr., a 36-year-old white man is wanted by the Monroe County Sheriff for murder. Described as 5 feet 7 inches, tall, he weighs 154 pounds, has brown hair and eyes and a circular burn scar on his left elbow. "LCL" is burned into his upper left arm.

Kevin Leroy Cork and Emory Glaston Hyatt, both wanted for murder, were recently included on the list, replacing Kendrick Darrell Youngblood and Derrick Reginald Ricks, both of whom have been apprehended.

Ricks, who kidnapped a Redford Township woman from the lot of a grocery store and raped her, was arrested in Detroit.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

TAKE NOTICE, That the Michigan Department of Natural Resources proposes to hold a formal public hearing at the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, Timothy J. Dyer Educational Social Service Center, 36745 Marquette, Westland, Michigan, at 1:00 p.m., Wednesday, the 12th day of July 1989.

The purpose of this hearing is to secure the views of interested persons concerning the following application for permit:

Application for Permit 89-14-208 under the Inland Lakes and Streams Act, Act 346, Public Act of 1972, as amended, by George Carlos, 7300 North Merriman, Westland, Michigan 48185, to seek authorization to place an estimated 8,125 cubic yards of fill and to excavate approximately 39,900 cubic yards of material for the creation of five ponds (partially within wetland) all within the floodplain of the Middle River Rouge. To construct an 80 foot single span bridge over one of the ponds, all for the proposed addition of 9 holes to an existing golf course, T25, R9E, Section 11, City of Westland, Wayne County, Michigan.

The application may be reviewed in the Pontiac District Office, Land and Water Management Division, 2455 North Williams Lake Road, Pontiac, Michigan, during normal office hours.

The hearing will be held pursuant to Section (6) of the cited statute. The hearing will not be a court-type proceeding; witnesses will not be sworn, and there will be no cross-examination. Public Hearings are primarily informational and are held to encourage the expression of views and presentation of facts. The Michigan Department of Natural Resources will, upon written request, provide a copy of the Department's decision on this application.

Hot to try cooking with chilies

I could be sitting here telling you how great a big, cold dish of ice cream would taste. I could be envisioning cool salads, icy beverages and chilly desserts, but instead, I'm hot to trot, having been enjoying the taste of chillies in my air-conditioned kitchen.

My fingers are still tingling from splitting a few Serranos and the chili pepper plants are going wild in the garden after all the rain and sunshine. So now's about as good a time as any to fill you in on (excuse the pun) what's hot.

There are many forms of chilies from which to choose. From their origin in Mexico and Central America, chillies have encircled the globe, becoming a part of the culinary cultures of Spain, Italy, Hungary, Asia, Africa, India, China and Japan.

The few original chill varieties changed with each new soil and climate so that today there are between 1,000 and 1,500 individual types of chillies. Anything goes, from sweet to mild to hot to fiery. Chillies are abundant just about everywhere, either fresh, dried or ground.

When shopping for fresh chillies, look for firm, brightly colored, shiny pods with no signs of bruising or rotting. Fresh pods can be wrapped in paper towels and stored in the crisper section of the fridge for up to five days. They also can be roasted and frozen.

ROASTING IS done to remove the skin and heighten the flavor.

To roast, first rinse and dry the chillies. Spread in a single layer on a cookie sheet and with a small knife, pierce each chili near the stem. Place the chillies under a preheated broiler and cook on all sides until they blister. Don't let them char or you'll get a burnt taste.

After blistering, place them immediately in a paper or plastic bag and allow them to steam for 15 minutes. Skin, seed and de-vein before using. As previously warned, use plastic gloves when working with hot chillies.

Chillies can be frozen whole after roasting. Do not skin. Simply let cool and pack in plastic bags. After defrosting, skin, seed and de-vein. Another trick I like to use is simply to pack them (after roasting) in jars and cover with oil.

Here's a beginners' list on what's available locally in most good groceries and produce shops. Prices will begin falling soon because of the summer glut, so freezing and/or storing now will save dollars and time later.

ANAHEIM: Mild to hot, with mild flavors prevailing. Light-green color, subtle flavor.

CAYENNE CHILE: Hot to very hot. Green color, subtle flavor.

SANTE FE GRANDE: Medium hot to hot, yellow-green to yellow, with a lively, tingling flavor.

SERRANO: Hot to very hot, green, with a bright flavor.

In addition, you can buy a fair amount of dried whole chillies in most good markets and ethnic food stores. Look for dried whole chillies with even color and no dark or yellow spots. Hang in open air or place in moisture-free bags.

YOU CAN slightly temper the fiery flavor of dried chillies by de-veining and removing the seeds.

For mild effects, add the whole dried pod to chilies and recipes, then remove the pod before serving. For the full impact, crush the entire pod and stir into the dish.

Varieties range in sweetness and fieriness, with most dried chillies being medium hot to hot. And if you are looking for something to blow off Uncle Mike's toupee, look for the fieriest chillies around, either Pequins or Tepins.

Curry a very special spice

By Katie McBride
special writer

CURRY MAY BE one of the most misunderstood — and multifaceted — flavor agents around. The average American places curry in the same class as cinnamon, ginger and other fragrant spices conveniently offered in cans or jars. But curry is much more complex than your basic bay leaf or basil.

Examine the label on your curry container and you will see it's a blend of numerous herbs and spices. Curry dishes are part of the daily diet in India, where people shun commercial preparations and grind their own spices to taste.

Local Indian restaurants rely on experienced chefs from their native country to concoct the special blends.

"The chefs make up their own recipes for curries," said Mohammed Amin, co-owner of the Star of India restaurant in Troy. "They have to practice," he said, which makes the blends "more perfect."

CURRY HAS HELD an important place in Indian cooking for centuries. Research reveals more than one possible explanation for the origin of the word.

Some say it derives from "turcarri," a Hindustani term that was shortened to "turri." English-speaking people mispronounced it as curry, and the name stuck.

A more common explanation is that curry is the Western way of saying the Indian word "kari," which refers to the leaves of the kari plant used in regional Indian dishes or a cooking technique for preparing stir-fried vegetables.

Indians call the spice blend for kari dishes "kari podi," or curry powder. The combination of herbs and spices in South Indian cooking varies by region, but Julie Sahni, author of "Classic Indian Cooking" (William Morrow and Company, Inc., 1980), says the typical mixture usually contains black pepper, coriander, cumin, fenugreek, kari leaves, mustard seeds, red pepper, turmeric and sometimes cinnamon and cloves. Indian cooks concoct their own special blend, roasting and grinding it into a powder.

It's more than you imagined

Sahni suggests curry came to the West through British merchants and the East India Trading Co. The traders lived along the southeastern coast of India and quickly became fond of the fragrant, flavorful kari dishes. Unable to master the Indians' culinary creativity in combining spices, they added kari podi to stews and casseroles, creating dishes with the golden cast and spley flavor they loved.

NEW HERBS and spices were added to the curry blends when the British expanded to the north and east of India. For example, Chinese curry dishes have a flavor all their own. Unlike Indian chefs, who refuse to use commercial blends, the Chinese restaurants often use brand-name powders to prepare their curries. Additional spices and different cooking techniques make the dishes unique.

Shen Yu, manager of New Peking Chinese Restaurant in Garden City, said they offer customers two kinds of curried chicken: shrimp or beef, stir-fried or with gravy. The stir-fried shrimp and chicken curry dishes are most popular.

"We cook individually. Everything is fresh," Shen Yu said. "Our curries are very different. Indian dishes are orange-brown in color. Our curries are more yellow."

In addition to curry powder, New Peking chefs use garlic, ginger, green onions and rice wine to flavor their curries. While Indian restaurants often use red pepper or chile powder to make a dish more potent, Shen Yu said they use white pepper instead.

"It has a different taste — still hot, but special," he said.

CUSTOMERS CAN order hot, medium-hot and mild curries at the Passage to India restaurant in Berkley. "Karahi" chicken, lamb, shrimp or vegetables is their curried specialty, served tableside in an iron skillet.

"Few people know how spicy Indian food is," said Kazy Moln Uddin, manager of Passage to India. "It's our job to ask them how they like it. If you've never tried our curry, we suggest the mild."

Matching the heat of the spices to customers' tastes is a relatively easy task for Indian chefs, who grew up eating a wide variety of curries.

"In India, we eat curry every day, but in different ways," Amin said. Varying the spiciness and the ingredients means they "can eat it for lunch and dinner," and not grow bored with their diet.

Everything's not so jolly now

vided by a harpist wasn't enough to allay our impatience as we waited long stretches between each course.

We started with soups ($1.95-$3.95) and/or shrimp cocktail. The French onion soup was delicious. The New England clam chowder in particular was nicely flavored. It was the first time, however, we've been served teaspoons with soup — and we soon discovered why the soup spoon was created.

OUR DINNER SALADS were fresh and crispy, and the vinaigrette dressing was good. But those who chose the Caesar salad were disappointed.

The menu focuses on fresh fish, veal dishes and pasta. While the main menu ranges in price from $13.95 to $24.94, the daily specials were less pricey ($11.95-$16.95). Our group ordered a variety of entrees, from grilled tuna or salmon to filet mignon and veal fraise. While the entrees were nicely flavored and generally well-prepared, they were lukewarm upon arrival — which is why we think the service was the main problem, not the chef.

The veal medallions were sauteed in a seasoned egg wash with mushrooms, lemon butter and a touch of sherry. Two of three medallions were delicious. But the third was tough and overcooked. The filet mignon was truly tender, and the bear-naise sauce served with it was light and creamy.

We found the grilled fish dishes especially well done, the grilled tuna was cooked to perfection, neither undercooked nor overdone, and was served with an interesting pepper sauce. Ditto for the salmon.

We finished up with an excellent cup of coffee, skipping the lineup of desserts because of the lateness of the hour. The restaurant features a dessert tray with flans, tortes, brownies and fruits. Selections range from $2.95 for Haagen Dazs ice creams on up.

IN ALL FAIRNESS to the restaurant, we visited shortly after the change in menu and the problems we encountered may have been part of the transition. But we wonder whether the challenge of feeding large parties in the ballroom next door (the fourth largest one in the state) detracts from the hotel's efforts at developing a first-class restaurant. We had the distinct feeling our courses were interspersed between meals being served at the high school prom next door.

The restaurant relies heavily upon hotel guests for its clientele. But it draws also from the western suburbs — those people who know how to find the hotel despite the fact that the M-14 freeway passed it by without an exit.

Those who do find it enjoy the comfort. The harp music (on Friday and Saturday nights only) provides a special ambience to an already pleasant atmosphere. The menu "upgrading" no doubt relates to the hotel's transition into a Radisson. With better coordination between the kitchen and service staff, The Park may yet become a memorable place to eat. We'll have to wait and see.

Hot to try chilies

Both will bring immediate sweat to any brow.

If you happen to be in the market for neat "string chilies" (also called ristras), here's a partial list of mail-order companies that specialize in all forms, types and flavors: Frieda of California, 732 Market Court, Los Angeles, Calif. 90021; Valley Distributing, 2819 Second St. N.W., Albuquerque, N.M. 87107.

NEW MEXICAN GREEN CHILE CONDIMENT

Use as sauce and blend into omelettes, casseroles and stews. 12 hot green chilies, roasted, peeled, seeded and deveined

1 small clove garlic, chopped
1 teaspoon minced onion
salt

Chop chilies. Combine with garlic and onion and place in a jar with a tight-fitting lid. Add salt to taste and shake well.

ADOVADA LA TERTULIA

Traditional New Mexican dish great in tortillas.

4 pounds pork butt, trimmed of fat and cut into cubes

10 large Mirasol (string) chilies
4 cups water
1 tablespoon flour
1 1/2 teaspoons dried oregano
8 large cloves garlic, crushed salt (optional)

Combine pork and 2 tablespoons water in heavy Dutch oven or casserole. Cover and simmer gently over low heat for 1 1/2 hours, stirring frequently and adding small amounts of water, if necessary. Meanwhile, preheat oven to 250 degrees. Arrange chilies on a baking sheet and roast for 5 minutes. Transfer to a bowl filled with 4 cups water and allow to stand for 30 minutes. Transfer chilies and water to processor or blender and mix well (some seeds and pod should be visible).

Remove cover from pork and allow to cook until it begins to brown, about 30 minutes. Discard all but 5 tablespoons of fat. Stir in flour and continue cooking over medium-low heat until browned. Add oregano, garlic and chili mixture. Simmer, uncovered, until mixture is cooked but not soupy, stirring frequently for about 1 hour. Cool and refrigerate. Skim fat from top and discard fat. Reheat slowly and add salt, if desired.

Curry a very special spice

At Star of India, the chef came to the United States from Bangladesh, where he was trained in specialized Indian cooking techniques. He oversees a kitchen in which everything — the spice blends, breads, chutneys, condiments and ice cream — are homemade.

healthy appeal of Indian food make it particularly popular with vegetarians and the diet-conscious. Curry dishes are typically served with rice or flaky bread to soak up the flavorful sauces.

"We don't use any fats except a little oil in our curries," Amin said. "It's very low-calorie food."

While this is a plus in today's business, Amin said it's the unique flavor combinations that make people crave classic curry dishes.

"You can buy curry powder from the store, but it is much more mild," he said. "We can make the dishes suit your taste. If you want it hotter, we'll add more chile. If you want more coriander flavor, we'll add more coriander."

Shen Yu shares the Indian belief in customizing curries. He frequently gives customers recipes for dishes served at New Peking, but he said they are rarely satisfied with the home-cooked versions.

"THE PEOPLE always come back after they've tried the recipe and say, 'How come it tastes different from yours?'" he said.

While it may be difficult to duplicate a chef's trained techniques, curries are relatively easy to prepare at home.

Star of India Restaurant

1 large Spanish onion, chopped
4 cloves garlic, chopped or minced
1 medium tomato cut into 8 pieces
1/2 pound medium or large shrimp
1 tablespoon ground coriander
1 teaspoon turmeric powder
1 teaspoon cumin powder
1/2 teaspoon garam masala (a blend of cardamom, cinnamon, cloves and black pepper, available in ethnic and specialty food stores)

1 teaspoon hot chile powder
1/4 cup corn oil
3-4 bay leaves
1 tablespoon tomato paste
1/2 bunch fresh coriander leaves, chopped
1/2 green pepper, chopped salt to taste

Chop onion, set aside in a bowl.

Peel and rinse the shrimp and set aside in colander to drain. Combine all the spices in a small bowl and set aside. Heat a fry pan or pot for 30 seconds. Pour in the corn oil and heat for another 30 seconds. Add chopped onion, salt to taste, garlic, pepper and tomato paste. Stir the mixture for 45 seconds.

Add the spices and stir for another minute. If necessary, add 1/4 cup hot water to ensure the spices do not burn. Add the shrimp and boil for five minutes in the spices, stirring continuously. Add sliced tomato and boil for another 2 minutes. Then add enough hot water to make a sauce. Boil the mixture for another three minutes until the sauce thickens. Add fresh coriander leaves, and the dish is ready to serve with hot rice. Serves approximately 4-5.

Here's how to choose the right cooking oil

AP — "No cholesterol," the label proclaims, or "100 percent pure." Shopping for a cooking oil can be confusing. In our pursuit of a lower-fat diet, we wonder which is better. Here's some information to help you decide.

TYPES OF OILS

Oils are a mixture of three types of fatty acids: saturated, monounsaturated and polyunsaturated. The fatty acids may influence blood cholesterol.

Saturated fats raise blood cholesterol. Saturated fats are high in palm oil, coconut oil, shortening, lard and butter.

Polyunsaturated fats appear to lower blood cholesterol.

Monounsaturated fats also appear to lower blood cholesterol, especially LDL, the so-called "bad cholesterol" without lowering HDL, "good cholesterol."

WHAT TO LOOK FOR

The most important health consideration when choosing a cooking oil is not whether it contains cholesterol, but rather the amount of saturated fat in the oil. Oils low in saturated fat are more healthful.

Saturated fat levels vary from oil to oil; coconut and palm oil are most saturated. Other vegetable oils contain saturated fats in much lower levels. You can use any of these in moderation.

CHOLESTEROL CLAIMS

ALL vegetable oils are cholesterol-free. Only animal fats contain cholesterol.

Both corn (mostly polyunsaturated) and olive oil (mostly monounsaturated) can have a healthful place in your kitchen.

MORE HEALTH CONSIDERATIONS

If an oil is low in saturated fat, it's not crucial whether most of the remaining fat is monounsaturated or polyunsaturated. Both corn (mostly polyunsaturated) and olive oil (mostly monounsaturated) can have a healthful place in your kitchen. As a matter of fact, most health professionals encourage a mix.

Let flavor, cost and cooking performance influence buying decisions. Use olive oil, for instance, for robust flavor. Corn and other mild-flavored oils are good in delicately flavored recipes. As long as the oil is low in saturated fat, it won't compromise health concerns.

Check ingredient listings on products containing vegetable oils. A label may say "100 percent vegetable shortening," but the ingredient listing may show that the vegetable shortening contains highly saturated coconut or palm kernel oil.

Remember that all liquid vegetable oils are still fat. A high-fat diet contributes to heart disease and tends to add excess pounds. The best advice is not just to choose oils wisely, but to use them sparingly.

Tuna steaks are great prepared on the grill

AP — Because they have firm flesh, tuna steaks are perfect for grilling. If you can't find tuna, substitute swordfish or halibut steaks.

GRILLED TUNA STEAKS

4 tuna, swordfish, or halibut steaks, cut 1/2-inch thick (1 pound)
2 teaspoons olive oil
2 teaspoons margarine or butter, melted
2 teaspoons soy sauce
lemon or lime wedges (optional)

Place fish steaks in a well-greased, wire grill basket. Combine oil, margarine and soy sauce; brush some of mixture over fish. Grill fish steaks over medium-hot coals 4 minutes. Turn grill basket; baste fish again with remaining soy mixture. Grill 3-5 minutes more or until fish just flakes with a fork. Serve with lemon or lime wedges, if desired.

Berry-picking season means summer fun

Berries, berries abound! Mmmm. It's heavenly biting into freshly picked Michigan berries at this time of year.

I'm sure you've noticed the produce department at your local supermarket: Strawberries, raspberries, blueberries and cherries are displayed and kept in constant supply.

Berries are the best. They're healthy — rich in vitamin C, potassium and fiber. Summertime dieters will love the fact that berries are also low in calories — less than 100 calories per one-cup serving.

Yet, you don't have to rely on the supermarket to provide a variety of berries. You can grow your own, shop at a farmer's market or visit a pick-your-own farm. You'll know that you're getting fresh produce this way, plus saving yourself some money.

What's more, picking your own can be a lot of fun. Get your family up early this Saturday morning and grab some empty buckets. Head to one of the picking farms and have yourselves a ball. Remember the sunscreen and wear loose, comfortable clothing, preferably light colors. White is the least absorbent of the sun's rays.

Once you've brought the berries home, refrigerate them in a covered container, rinsing gently just before use.

Besides the fun of just popping them into your mouth, there are many ways to include fresh berries into recipes. Take the opportunity now through the end of August while the Michigan berry season lasts.

Need something fast and frothy for the morning rush hour? Blend skim milk, yogurt, fresh berries and honey to make a mighty breakfast shake. Would chocolate-dipped strawberries or a frozen yogurt pop satisfy your sweet tooth? Take pleasure in a treat that is delicious, low in calories and healthy for you.

BLUEBERRY JAM
(Makes 30 servings, two teaspoons each serving)

2 cups thawed frozen or hulled fresh, unsweetened blueberries
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ cup granulated sugar

In two-quart microwave-safe bowl, mash berries; stir in lemon juice and cinnamon. Microwave, uncovered, on high 8-10 minutes, stirring twice. Stir in sugar. Microwave, uncovered, on high 3-5 minutes until mixture comes to a full rolling boil, stirring once. Remove and skim off foam. Pour into hot, clean containers; cover, cool and refrigerate.

Each serving provides: 25 calories optional exchange.
Source: Weight Watchers Magazine, January 1988.

CHOCOLATE-DIPPED STRAWBERRIES
Makes four servings, two strawberries each

2 ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
5 ounces strawberries, approximately eight berries (with hulls attached)

Place chocolate in one-cup heat-resistant glass liquid measure and microwave on high (100 percent power)* until chocolate begins to melt, for 30 seconds. (Cooking time may be different in your microwave oven. To ensure good results, be sure to check for doneness while cooking.)

Stir to combine. Microwave on high (100 percent) until chocolate is completely melted and smooth, 30 seconds longer (cooking time may vary). Stir to combine.

Line a plate with a sheet of wax paper and set aside. Holding 1 berry by the hull, dip berry about halfway into the melted chocolate; set on wax paper-lined plate. Repeat procedure with remaining berries and chocolate.

Place plate of berries in refrigerator and chill until chocolate hardens, approximately 20 minutes. Transfer berries to serving platter and serve immediately or cover loosely with plastic wrap and keep in refrigerator until ready to serve.

Each serving provides: 90 calories Optional Exchange.

Per serving: 82 cal, 1 g car, 9 mg sod, 0 mg chol, 1 g dietary fiber.

*Chocolate can be melted in the top half of a double boiler. In double boiler cook chocolate over hot (not boiling) water, stirring frequently, until chocolate is melted and smooth, 2-3 minutes. When melting chocolate, it should not come in contact with water or steam; moisture will cause it to harden.

FROZEN-YOGURT POPS
Makes eight servings

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
2 cups raspberries, blueberries or papaya chunks
1 cup plain yogurt
3 tablespoons honey
¼ cup blackberries or raspberries, or ¼ medium banana, sliced, or 1½ medium kiwi fruits, pared and sliced

In small saucepan, sprinkle gelatin over three tablespoons cold water and let stand 5 minutes to soften. Stir over medium heat until gelatin is dissolved and liquid is clear.

In food processor or blender, puree the 2 cups fruit with the yogurt and honey. Add gelatin mixture and puree until smooth.

Position 8 plastic pop molds* upright in base stand and divide yogurt mixture evenly among them. Place an equal amount of the remaining ¼ cup fruit in each mold. Place sticks and covers into molds and seal; place in freezer. Freeze 6 hours or overnight. To unmold, run each mold briefly under warm water and slide pop out.

Each serving provides: ½ Fruit Exchange, ¼ Milk Exchange, 30 calories Optional Exchange.

Per serving: 67 cal, 3 g Pro, 1 g fat, 14 car, 21 mg sod.

*Or, prepare pops in small, unwaxed paper cups; use clean wooden sticks for handles.

CHERRY COBBLER
Makes 4 servings

40 large sweet cherries (approximately 2½ cups), halved and pitted
¾ cup all-purpose flour
1 tablespoon plus 1½ teaspoons granulated sugar
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
1½ teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon margarine
¼ cup skim milk

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. In medium bowl, toss cherries with one tablespoon plus 1½ teaspoons of the flour, the sugar and lemon rind. Spoon equally into four 4-ounce ramekins or custard cups. In large bowl, stir the remaining flour with the baking powder and salt. With pastry blender or your fingers, cut in margarine until mixture forms coarse crumbs. Add milk; stir quickly with fork to form a soft dough. (Do not overmix.)

Spoon ¼ of the dough (approximately 1 heaping tablespoon) onto cherry mixture in each ramekin. Place ramekins on baking sheet; bake 15-20 minutes or until bubbly and crust is golden. Let cool slightly before serving.

Each serving provides: 1 Bread Exchange, 1 Fat Exchange, 1 Fruit Exchange, 30 calories Optional Exchange.

Per serving: 216 cal, 4 g pro, 5 g fat, 40 g car, 282 mg sod.

new products

Sammy Davis Jr. has debuted his new namesake food line in Detroit-area supermarkets. "Sammy's Best" food products include Basin St. Barbecue Sauce, "Just Right" Chili Seasoning Mix and Mean Mustard. SJD Foods, headquartered in Cleveland, was formed in the spring of 1988. "Sammy's Best" Basin St. Barbecue Sauce won third place as the best barbecue sauce in America, at the National Rib Cook-Off, the world's largest cooking competition for professional restaurateurs and caterers, held in Cleveland on the Memorial Day weekend.

A black-and-white caricature of Davis is on each label of "Sammy's Best" products. The line is sold locally at Kroger, Foodland, Kessel Food Markets, Hamady Brothers Food Markets and Danny's.

Time's up — collegiate stars are out

Members of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League all-star team (facing) exchange post-game congratulations with their opponents from the Detroit Adray League.

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Maybe the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League All-Stars can petition for a two-hour time limit next season.

In the annual Adray Collegiate Baseball League All-Star Game, played Wednesday at Tiger Stadium, Detroit scored 11 runs in the bottom of the eighth inning to drub Livonia, 16-2, in an arduous affair which stretched beyond the 2 1/4-hour time limit.

The game, featuring the area's top collegians (ages 20 and under), began at 9:30 a.m. and ended at 12:08 p.m. when Detroit Adray Sound's Andy Fairman parked a Ron Makowski pitch over the right field screen, just inside the foul pole at the 325-foot mark, for a grand slam homer.

And with the Lansing-area All-Stars due to play Detroit at 12:30 p.m., the umpires had seen enough, calling for an adjournment.

The grand slam was made possible by the liberal All-Star substitution rules.

Fairman, a left-handed batter from the University of Michigan, batted twice in the eighth inning, when Detroit sent 13 batters to the plate.

IRONICALLY, Fairman started the game as the designated hitter, batting in the No. 3 slot before being removed. He returned later to the Detroit lineup as the right fielder, hitting in the No. 9 slot.

Detroit Adray Appliance manager Bob Atkins, who is also director of the Detroit Adray League, said he lost track of his substitution pattern.

"All I am is a glorified secretary," said Atkins. "My job was to get all the kids in the game. Of the 21 players we needed to get in, 16 had already played the sixth inning. The only ones who didn't play were the pitchers we were going to use in the second game (against Lansing)."

"We just wanted to get the game over with. I was hoping the umpires would call somebody out (in the eighth) because we were over the time limit."

Livonia Little Caesars manager John Moraitis was confident his All-Stars could compete against Detroit, but was bit concerned about the depth of his pitching staff.

"We wanted to pitch everybody," he said. "And it seemed like when the pitching went sour, the defense fell apart."

THE LIVONIANS made six errors and were out 14-6.

Of the seven Livonia pitchers, Derek Darkowski, a left-hander from Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury, proved why he is Livonia Collegiate League's winningest pitcher (6-1 record).

The Michigan State hurler held Detroit scoreless over the third and fourth innings after starter Ron Kurilinski (Caesars) allowed a second-inning run. Darkowski also picked off two runners at first base.

Detroit scored four times in the off Steve Witt (Caesars), but he was the victim of three outfielder errors. Chris Kloc (Caesars) and Randy Buchler (Walter's Appliance) held Detroit scoreless in the sixth and seventh innings, respectively, before John Storm (Duffy's) and Makowski were roughed up in the eighth.

"The last inning was not indicative of what type of game it was," said an almost apologetic Atkins. "It was a good ballgame until the clock said

1st place Marauders trim Paragon

By Brad Emons
staff writer

It was virtually a who's who among area players Friday as the Redford Marauders downed Livonia Paragon in a key Great Lakes Men's Soccer League encounter at Bicentennial Park, 3-0.

The makeup match pitted some familiar current and former collegiate players on both sides.

The win kept the Marauders all alone in first place with an 8-0 record, while third-place Paragon dropped to 4-2-2. Barring any upsets, the Marauders can clinch the regular season title with a win or a tie against second place Budlight of Flint (7-1) in a match set for 3 p.m. Sunday, July 16, at the Whitman Center in Livonia.

"We're in good, tactical position in our league," said Marauders coach John Petterson. "But we can't start slow against Budlight like we did here in the first half tonight or we'll be way behind."

With some tight marking, Paragon played the deep and talented Marauders evenly for almost 53 minutes before Rob Ludwig, an Eastern Michigan University player, blasted a shot from 20 yards out past a sprawling goalie Shaun Soraghan.

BUT PARAGON answered with some pressure of its own.

Sweeper Wally Barrett saved a potential goal when he tackled Tommy King, denying the fast Paragon striker of a potential breakaway goal.

Marauders goalie Brian O'Shea, a former Schoolcraft College standout and Livonia native, then took charge, coming up big on successive stops, first denying Anthony Kontos from point-blank range and then King on the rebound.

Later in the match, O'Shea stopped a penalty kick by Russ Gans.

"He (O'Shea) was the No. 1 star for sure," said Petterson. "He also stopped Bobby Paul (of Paragon) on a couple of good plays. He's amazing. He saved three penalty kicks for us in a tournament in St. Louis. Not too many have been scored on him."

The Marauders broke Paragon's back with just under 12 minutes left in the match when Scottish transplant Gordon Wells scored on a nifty set-up from Lars Richters, the former Livonia Stevenson High All-Stater now playing at Yale.

Gary Mexicoite, another Stevenson All-Stater who went on to play at Bowling Green, tallied the third and final goal only a minute later on an assist from Jim Rhoads.

"I'D SAY the No. 2 star was our whole defense," Petterson said. "Our defense got a little tight when we got we got ahead 1-0, but Paragon started pushing and made some good counter attacks. We're a defensive oriented team. For us to score three or four goals is a gift."

But the telling story may have been the Marauders' superior depth.

"The first goal didn't faze us as much as the second goal did," said Paragon coach Dan Duggan. "They (the Marauders) are deeper everywhere and they have a lot of name-brand players like Gary and Lars, who were all-staters in high school. We're a little older and we have a lot of club-type players, while they've been playing together for five years."

"We have some excellent athletes, but on paper they're better. But everybody knows sometimes you can win on emotion and that's what we were trying to do."

Quickness may have been another telling factor, according to Duggan.

"We have some speed when we need it, but their speed is overwhelming," said the Paragon coach.

One of the most demonstrative players on the field was Wells, whom Petterson said came over to this country "looking for opportunities."

"Every team needs a sparkplug and he's a fiery character for sure," said the Marauders coach.

SOME OF THE familiar names in the match come from the area high school coaching ranks.

The Marauders featured such players as former indoor professional player Nick O'Shea, now the girls soccer coach at Livonia Churchill; Matt Davis, the girls coach at North Farmington; Scott Steiner, the new boys coach at Garden City; and Barrett, who was the boys coach at Southfield High.

On the Paragon side, among the coaches in the high school ranks include Bobby Paul, who led Northville to a runner-up finish in the 1989 state Class A girls tournament; Jim Duggan, who coached the North Farmington boys; and Marty Caves, the former Livonia Bentley standout.

Mustangs step on Honey Bees in doubleheader

A 36-hit attack was more than enough ammunition Wednesday for the Livonia Mustangs, who swept the host Wayne Honey Bees in a Senior Girls (16-18 years) slow-pitch softball league twin bill, 13-2 and 7-3.

Winning pitching Karl Watson was the big gun in the opener, going 4-for-4 with two RBI. Teammate Kelly Kelbert also was perfect at the plate, going 3-for-3, while Tricia Rohn, Angie Stevens and Cindy Carneseccchi each went 3-for-4. Lisa Hottman contributed a three-run triple.

Nikki Burns, Michelle Trybus, Rhonda Saunders, Hottman and Rohn, the latter moved from No. 8 to No. 2 in the batting order, each went 2-for-3. Both of Burns' hits were doubles, while Saunders scored twice. Watson also collected two hits in four trips.

In the second game, utility ace Christie Hunter took to the mound and held the Honey Bees to three runs over seven innings.

The Mustangs, now 5-1 overall, return to action at 6:15 tonight against the Westland Firebirds in a doubleheader at Livonia's Bicentennial Park.

National qualifier Daly Restaurant earns fast-pitch berth

Daly Restaurant of Livonia will remain a well-known item on an old menu.

The Livonians earned another bid last week to the ASA National Women's Fast-pitch Softball Tournament (Aug. 22 in Montgomery, Ala.) by winning four straight games at the 14-team Firecracker Classic, a Class A qualifying tournament held in St. Louis, Mo.

In the opening round, Daly defeated Chicago Heights, Ill., 2-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Shelley Larned, who pitched three complete games and did not allow a run in four tournament appearances.

Daly broke a scoreless deadlock in the fifth inning when shortstop Kim Funk tripled and scored on a suicide squeeze bunt by Lisa Parsons.

Garden City's Sherry Kiselica then blasted her second homer of the season, a shot that rolled to the fence in center field.

In a 5-0 victory over St. Charles, Ill., newcomer Angie McDonald of Eastern Michigan and former Livonia Bentley High and Central Michigan University standout Lori Swanson each collected two hits, while Kelly Thayer added a two-run homer in the fourth inning for the winners.

Larned and Oakland Community College's Lisa Walters combined on the shutout.

DALY DODGED the rain to win its third-round game against the Ballwin, Mo., Saints, 1-0, as McDonald scored the game's lone run in the first.

"When we don't score early, I get visibly nervous. When you play in the Livonia League, which is under a time limit, you don't save your big guns for the bottom of the seventh because there might not be one."

— Bob Thompson

She led off with a walk, was sacrificed to second by center fielder Pam Wright, took third on a groundout by Lisa Duhrn before scoring on a passed ball.

Larned fired a two-hitter to pick up her third straight victory.

Because of lengthy rain delays, the double-elimination format was altered. Three of the teams, with one loss apiece, were ruled out, leaving Daly and Carbondale, Ill., the tourney's only unbeaten teams to play for the title.

Daly met the challenge, winning 6-0. Livonia jumped out to a 1-0 first-inning lead as McDonald, a native of Northville, was again the catalyst.

She stung to left, advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt by Wright, took third on a deep fly to center off the bat of Swanson, and scored on an infield error.

BUT CARBONDALE held tough through five innings as the off-speed pitching of Gina Keg kept Livonia off-stride.

"When we don't score early, I get visibly nervous," said veteran Daly manager Bob Thompson. "When you play in the Livonia League, which is under a time limit, you don't save your big guns for the bottom of the seventh because there might not be one. Sometimes the most important piece of equipment is your wristwatch."

But Daly didn't wait until the seventh, scoring twice in the sixth as Parson, another ex-Bentley standout, laid down a perfect suicide squeeze. In the seventh, she added a bases-loaded single to key a three-run outburst.

Thompson, the longtime coach of Daly (20 seasons), is a science teacher at Stevenson Junior High School in Westland.

"We just keep coming back, year after year," said Thompson, whose team leads the Livonia Women's Fast-pitch League with a 6-0 record. "Each year we have about four or five openings and four or five drops."

"THIS YEAR we added two new outfielders in McDonald and Kelly Thayer (Union Lake), to join our two veteran outfielders (Wright and Carrie Sirola).

"This gives us perfect rotation when someone is on vacation or when somebody goes into a hitting slump."

HILL TO MADONNA

Madonna College baseball coach Mike George announced the signing last week of Tom Hill, a second-team All-Observer shortstop/third baseman from Redford Catholic Central High.

Hill batted .300 this season with two homers, 24 RBI and 29 runs scored. He stole 11 bases and walked 27 times as the Shamrocks reached the state Class A semifinals.

A merit scholar with a 3.9 grade-point average, Hill joins five other Madonna recruits including Joe Brusseau, an All-Area shortstop/second baseman from Redford Bishop Borgess; Mike Lucy, a pitcher/outfielder from Redford Thurston; Bill Terski, a second baseman from Dearborn Divine Child; Jerry Koester, an outfielder from Westland John Glenn; and Lou McKalg, a pitcher from Southfield-Lathrup.

George also announced that two of his former Borgess pitchers plan to transfer to Madonna: Craig Karankiewicz from Adrian and Bob Elliott from Nebraska JC.

FOOTBALL SIGNUP

The Redford Rangers announce little league football registration for youngsters ages 9-13 from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday, July 15, 22 and 29 at Claude Allison Park.

For more information, call Jim Blalock (534-9166) or Don McClue (537-8106).

LONG DRIVE QUALIFER

Rob Peters of Livonia advanced in the Michelin National Long Drive Championship with a drive of 335 yards in District 5 qualifying competition recently at Fox Hills Country Club in Plymouth.

He will move on later this month to sectional qualifying, which will be held in conjunction with the PGA Seniors tour stop in Grand Rapids.

Peters finished third last year in the Grand Rapids sectional with a drive of 356 yards, 20 inches.

HOLE IN ONE

Don Dean, 48, of Livonia aced the 146-yard, No. 8 hole using a nine-iron on Thursday at Whispering Willows Golf Course.

It was Dean's first ace in 18 years of golf. He shot a 79.

SETTERS CAMP

Madonna College will host a volleyball camp for setters — junior high and high school age — from 8:30 a.m. until noon, Monday through Thursday, July 17-20. The cost is $60 per player.

For more information, call Jerry Abraham at 478-7107.

LIVONIA YOUTH FITNESS

The annual Livonia Youth Fitness Meet (ages 9-14) will be at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 11, at the old Bentley High School track.

All participants must live in the Livonia or Clarenceville school districts.

Age classifications (as of Sept. 1) will be: Class A, 13-14 years; Class B, 11-12; and Class C, 9-10.

First place winners in each of the following events — standing and running long jump, chinning, sprints, agility course and softball throw — will represent the city of Livonia in the Metropolitan Youth Fitness Games, Thursday, July 27, at Lower Huron Metro Park.

Registration forms are available at the Parks and Recreation office at Livonia City Hall, or you can sign up the day of the meet at 6:30 p.m.

For more information, call the Recreation Hot line at 261-2260.

LHA NEEDS HELP

The Livonia Hockey Association is seeking Bantam House Division (ages 14-15) coaches for the upcoming season. Those interested should call the LHA office 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. (Monday, Wednesday, Friday) or Bantam Director Bob Kozar after 5 p.m. at 464-8047.

ROUGE RIVER RUN

The second annual Rouge River

Runners Memorial five-kilometer and five-mile runs will at 8 a.m. and 8:30 a.m. Saturday, July 22, with the start at Redford Union High School. (The course winds past Lola Valley and Bell Creek parks.)

Trophies will be awarded to the overall male and female winners, as well as the top three finishers in each age group. T-shirts will be given to all participants.

The entry fee is $8 (mailed before July 17) or $10 race day.

For more information, call 537-4817.

RUNNING CAMP

The Racquettime Health Club of Livonia will hold two weeks of running camps (all ages) beginning Monday, July 24, through Saturday, Aug. 6. The cost is $50 a week (9 to 11 a.m. Monday through Friday with an optional run on Saturday.)

The camp, which will be run through Edwards Hines Parkway, will include weight training (free weights and Nautilus).

Camp directors include Tobin Jones, former Redford Union High and Schoolcraft College cross country coach, along with Racquettime Athletic Director Lynn Callaban.

For more information, call 591-1212.

SOCCER CHAMPS

The state champion under-19 Michigan Hawks girls soccer team — sponsored by the Livonia Y and McFarland's Florist — defeated the East-West Soccer Club, the Northern Ohio state champions, 4-0, to win the NOSO Cup over the Fourth of July weekend in Cleveland.

Tournament MVP Jackie Silagyi (Troy), Carrie Maier (Farmington), Patty Boyle (Troy) and Carrie Thomas (East Lansing) scored goals for the winners.

Goalkeeper Brooke Gillespie (Troy) recorded four shutouts in five games as the Hawks outscored their opponents by a combined total of 20-1.

Gillespie's job was made easier by the strong play of fullbacks Bonnie Boye (Troy), Susan Gibson (Farmington), Natalka Litkewycz (Brighton), Erin Morgan (Canton), Chris Lamb (Troy) and Lisa Yderstad (Grand Blanc).

Other members of the squad, coached by Paul Dugan, include: Shannon Meath (Canton), Jennifer Misaros (Farmington), Amy Trunk (Farmington), Rose Hally (Livonia), Margaret Kopmeyer (Bloomfield Hills), Julio Stabnick (Plymouth) and Liz Brooks (Troy). The team manager is Mjke Yderstad and the trainer is Ralph Gibson.

The '74 Michigan Hawks — an under-15 girls team sponsored by Livonia Florist and affiliated with the Livonia YMCA and the Little Caesars Premier League — defeated West Rogue of Toronto, 2-1, to capture the Waterloo, Ontario International Soccer Tournament.

Fielding just 12 players, the '74 Hawks won three games on the opening day of play and advanced to the finals by winning a shootout.

Coach Tom Coyne singled out the outstanding play of defender Kim Popyk, midfielder Kara Nance and goalie Kristi McGough.

Other members of the '74 Hawks include: Tracie Nelson, Bridget Bradley, Mia McGinty, Julie Dwyer, Molly Ferguson, Kim Phillips, Dana Pososki, Suzanne White and Shelby Carey.

The '74 Hawks competed over the weekend in the Midwest Region Championship in Omaha, Neb. with aspirations of qualifying for the under-16 nationals.

The Livonia Wolves '76 soccer team won six straight games over the July Fourth weekend en route to the Hoffman Estates, Ill. Stars and Stripes Classic age group title.

The Wolves, coached by Paul Scicluna and Jack Hensley, defeated the host Hot Shots of Hoffman Estates, 5-1, to clinch the title.

SOCCER TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the 1974 Metro Magic boys soccer team (spring season) will be 5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, July 22-23, at Hines Park Field (west of Haggerty Road). The Magic, who will compete in the Little Caesars Premier League (Iltch Division), has captured the under-12 and under-14 state championships, under-14 Midwest Region championship and were runners-up in the under-12 Midwest Region. For more information, call John Boots at 344-0831.

Regarding information about tryouts for an under-12 Little Caesars Premier League girls team, call Bill or Sue Roy at 464-8039.

Information concerning fall tryouts for the '74 Michigan Hawks, a girls soccer team, is available by contacting Kathy Coyne at 427-3336.

Open tryouts (1990 spring season) for the Plymouth Sting '75 Little Caesars boys soccer team will be from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday through Thursday, July 18-20, at Plymouth Canton High School (corner of Canton Center and Joy Roads). For more information, call Don Smith at 459-7686.

The Michigan Elite Soccer Club will conduct tryouts for boys born in 1973 and 1974 at 7 p.m. July 10, 11 and 12 at Canton Recreational Center, Field No. 8. The Elite is co-champion of the Iltch Premier League and won the Wolverine Tournament Monday, July 3. For information call Wayne Worosz at 455-4011.

SOCCER SIGNUP

The Garden City Soccer Club, affiliated with the Great Lakes Soccer League, will hold registration for boys and girls (all ages) 6-9 p.m. Thursday, July 13, and Wednesday, July 19, at the Maplewood Community Center (Room 116). All new players must bring a birth certificate.

For more information, call Jim Godbout (427-2322) or Cindy Grace (421-1226); or write: P.O. Box 544, Garden City, 48135.

Mustangs roll

The Mustangs stamped to four runs in the bottom of the fifth inning, then held off Re/Max to harness a 5-4 triumph in a Livonia Connie Mack Baseball League game Thursday at Ford Field.

All four runs were scored against pitcher Scott Kenny, who absorbed the loss for Re/Max. Gordie Buckler and Joe Ransley each had RBI singles in the uprising; Ransley finished the game with three hits in three trips.

Craig Overallis was the winning pitcher, in relief, for the Mustangs. John Duty started, but his control was lacking — he walked five in 2½ innings before Wayne Vester relieved him. Vester lasted 1½ innings before giving way to Overallis, who surrendered one run in two innings.

The game was stopped after six innings by the 2½-hour time limit. The Mustangs improved to 6-3-2; Re/Max slipped to 6-4.

The Mustangs meet Lincoln Park Monday.

Bow hunters fight ban in township

TO HUNT or not to hunt? That's the question facing West Bloomfield Township residents.

Because it is illegal to discharge a firearm in the township, West Bloomfield has been closed to firearms hunting for several years. But archery hunters have found a few isolated wooded areas in the township to pursue their favorite game.

The township board believes these archers present a safety problem in the ever growing community. The hunters disagree. They believe the township is merely trying to eliminate hunting in the name of preservation. They feel, is not the real issue.

According to Dorothy McIntosh, West Bloomfield Township supervisor, there are two reasons for requesting a change in the hunting ordinance.

To protect the safety of any problem in the township," McIntosh said. "To my knowledge there haven't been any safety problems, but we could have some. We want to prevent them before they happen.

"West Bloomfield has been closed to hunting with a firearm for some time. We just took it one step further and petitioned the DNR to close it to bow and arrow hunting, too."

WEST BLOOMFIELD'S Doug Merithew, an avid deer hunter, and past president of the West Bloomfield-based Detroit Archers Association, doesn't think safety is the real issue.

"There is no safety problem. That's for sure," Merithew said. "I've been hunting in a little spot in West Bloomfield for several years. I've never heard of any safety problems or even any close calls.

"I think it's just a bunch of goody, goody two-shoes who want to preserve everything. Obviously these people have no expertise in conservation or they'd know hunting is an important tool in conservation.

"They have absolutely no idea of what conservation is. If they really want to preserve the animals, they should stop the expansion. They'd save a lot more animals that way than they would by putting an end to hunting," he said. "These people would rather see a deer hit by a car and splattered all over the road than to have the animal harvested humanely by a hunter."

ALTHOUGH McIntosh admitted she was unaware of any past safety problems, the township board sent a formal resolution to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources last fall, requesting that a

Bill Parker

Hunting Area Control Committee be established to study the question of safety.

The committee — made up of a representative of the DNR, the Michigan State Police, the Oakland County Sheriff Department and the township supervisor (or an appointed delegate) — will hold a public meeting at 1:45 p.m. Tuesday at Fire Station No. 1, 4601 Orchard Lake Rd. The committee meeting will be followed by a public hearing at 2 p.m.

At the hearing, testimony will be taken from interested people regarding hunting area safety problems in West Bloomfield Township.

IN MICHIGAN, it is illegal to hunt within 450 feet of an occupied dwelling without the written permission of the landowner. Other areas, public or private, are open to hunting unless there is a specific policy against it or unless there is a local ordinance. (Provisions of the Recreational Trespass Act call for written permission from the land owner if hunting on privately owned land other than your own.)

Only the state can regulate hunting and hunting areas so the township board petitioned the state (DNR) and the DNR organized the committee.

The only way the area will be closed to archery hunting is if the committee feels there is a safety problem in the area.

THE HUNTING Area Control Committee can concern itself only with safety problems. Under the Hunting Area Control Act, the committee will hear all testimony involved with safety of the area, then make any recommendations to the township board.

"The only one that can regulate hunting is the state (DNR), through the Hunting Area Control Act," explained Lt. James Dabb, supervisor of the Recreation, Education and Safety Section of the DNR-Law Enforcement Division. "It's strictly a safety issue. That's the only thing the committee can address. The committee can not address trespassing, discharge of a firearm within a safety zone or anything else already covered under state law."

If there have been no safety problems documented in the past, "they'll have to do a lot of convincing," Dabb said.

4-goal effort not enough

Larry Pilut tried to carry the short-handed Lakers to their first victory in the Metro Summer Hockey League, but even an outstanding game like he had wasn't enough.

Pilut gave the best single-game performance by any player last week, scoring four goals and adding one assist, but that came in a losing cause as the Spartans shot down the Lakers 8-6.

Jason Glesner, with two goals and two assists, and Cory Kucharski, with two goals and one assist, kept the Spartans unbeaten at 2-0 Wednesday. John Smith (two goals and one assist) and Pilut did all the scoring for the Lakers, who had only eight players available to them.

The Spartans share first place in the Bakes Conference with the Bulldogs, who whipped the Wildcats 10-3 on Wednesday. The Falcons and Huskies are 2-0 in the Eagle Conference.

Three players figured prominently in the Bulldogs' lopsided win. Mike Jorgensen was the top goal scorer with three, and he chipped in two assists, too. Tony Packo added a pair of goals, and Sean Flynn assisted on three goals and scored one himself.

On Thursday, the Eagle Conference leaders took their turns on the ice, the Falcons defeating the Broncos 2-1 and the Huskies downing the Wolverines 7-4.

Keith Pietilla scored his lone goal in the third period when the Falcons increased a 2-0 lead. He also had two assists.

The Huskies were led by Rob McDonald, who slipped the puck past the Wolverines goalie three times and had one assist. Chad Boucher tallied a goal and an assist for the losers.

Rotisserie Leagues: Baseball by numbers

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

The postman doesn't ring twice at the O'Connor household. He calls more than Los Angeles Dodger manager Tommy Lasorda phones for pizza.

"It's Steve," says the wife, flinging the receiver at her couch bound husband.

"Steve" is Steve Smith of Wayne, a postal carrier by day, is the owner and general manager of the Wayne Newton's, a member of the Immigrant Rotisserie Baseball League.

He phones under the general pretense of friendly conversation. You know, like "how's the wife?"

Then comes the needle that cuts like a sword, the ultimate dig, the massive object that sticks in your craw like a lump of coal. "How's your team?" he asks.

Understand, Steve Smith is no dummy. He knows full well how the beleaguered Berville Batmen are doing. We're in the hurt bucket, the basement, last place, Rotisserie League hell.

You see, Steve Smith is concerned. He cares. He wants to help me. He wants Tony Gwynn.

Steve Smith uses the strategy of attrition. He figures he can wear me down with numerous phone calls, perhaps catch me at vulnerable moment, like while I'm watching the "Gorgeous Ladies of Professional Wrestling," and I'll fork over the All-Star San Diego Padre centerfielder for two bullpen catchers and a third base coach to be named later.

NO WAY, Jose.

Such is the madness inspired by the latest craze, called Rotisserie League Baseball. What is Rotisserie Baseball you may ask?

Some 500,000 to 750,000 people are estimated to be participating in the game, which involves owning your own major league team. Some present Rotisserie League owners include New York governor Mario Cuomo, David Eisenhower and Bryant Gumbel.

Based on their performances, you are rated in categories, such as batting average, stolen bases, home runs, earned run average, runs batted in, pitcher's wins, hit/walk ratio and saves. You can make trades and you even have a farm system.

"It's a way to own your own major league team without paying $50 million," said Glen Waggoner, who co-edited the book on the game "Rotisserie League Baseball" (Bantam).

"It's for anyone who has sat in the bleachers and watched a million dollar slugger not run out a pop fly and said to themselves, 'If I ran this team I'd get that bum out of here.' If you own your own team, you can get that bum out of there."

Rotisserie League baseball gets you thinking like a general manager. You start to take a liking to fat Cuban cigars, plaid polyester pants and green golf shirts.

A Rotisserie League owner scours the daily box scores religiously; watches the Atlanta Braves and Chicago Cubs on cable TV (though scientific studies indicate enduring thousands of "Holy Cows!" from Harry Carey over a period of time causes laboratory mice to eat their young) and develops a keen sense about the ability of phenoms named Juan out of countries with military-backed regimes.

THE ROTISSERIE owner laughs. He cries. He swears, especially when Jack Clark strikes out with the bases loaded. Wives and girlfriends become co-dependents, spending moonlit nights with their lovers on the front porch listening to the Cincinnati Reds game on the radio.

"When one of my pitchers gets bombed, I'm miserable for the whole day," said Keith Stone, 25, of Westland and owner of the Keystone Cops in the Lower Great Lakes Baseball Union. "Likewise when they pitch a shutout, I'm ecstatic."

Stone is commissioner of the Lower Great Lakes Baseball Union and a rabid baseball fan. The nine-team league is made up of college friends and serves as a social outlet.

There is a golf outing and a league party at the end of the season. Trophies are handed out, including the "Donkey's Ass" to the last place finisher. The difficult part is trying to explain the game to people who are unfamiliar with it.

"It's getting better," Stone said. "People are beginning to hear about it. Before when you told people you're in a Rotisserie league, they thought you were going out in the backyard and cooking some chicken."

Every owner can tell you their best swap . . . and their worst.

FRANCIS WHITE, 36, of Southfield names his best trade without hesitation: Minnesota Twins third baseman Gary Gaetti for Seattle Mariners Ken Griffey Jr. and Erik Hanson along with Texas Rangers Bobby Whit. White's philosophy is to trade experience for youth.

"I'm willing to sacrifice a year to build for the following year," said White, who is an associate professor of psychiatry at Lafayette Clinic in Detroit.

A look at the Bad News Batmen

BERVILLE BATMEN — Larry O'Connor, general manager

Jack Clark, 1B: He looks like Paul Bunyon, but he's hitting like Tom Thumb.

Jeff Treadway, 2B: Pete Rose said you can bet this guy will be the Cincinnati Reds' second baseman of the future, which is why Treadway is playing in Atlanta.

Shawn Dunston, SS: He has an Uzi for an arm, but a cap gun for a bat.

Matt Williams, 3B: The Giants told him he'd hit 20 home runs and knock in 60 RBIs . . . except he'd be doing it in Phoenix (the minors).

Darrell Evans, 1B-3B: Sure, he's sentimental choice. My heart tells me that there was no one else available.

Ray Quinones, 2B-SS: This year, he went from the Mariners to the Pirates. On the Batmen, he should feel at home on another sinking ship.

Bruce Benedict, C: Heard ole' Bruce say once that sportswriters were the lowest life forms on earth. Ya, about as low as his batting average.

Rick Dempsey, Utility: This guy is great at entertaining fans during rain delays with belly slidding across taurpollins. He's equally humorous swinging a bat.

Dale Murphy, OF: He's such a clean, cut All-American guy, signing autographs for everyone and participating in numerous civic functions. Well, we don't care if he joins Hell's Angels and kicks sand in Girl Scouts' faces. We want home runs.

Tony Gwynn, OF: He does it all. He hits, runs and fields better than anyone. He even accomplishes something previously deemed impossible — he looks good in a Padres uniform.

Dion James, OF: Atlanta Braves are like orphans at Christmas, you can't leave without taking a couple home with you.

Bob Dernier, OF: He's a former Cub, which already makes him suspect.

The rock'n'roll lovers' lanes

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

"Just give us some of that rock'n'roll music. Any old way you chose it. It's got a back beat you can't hide. Especially when those old pins begin to fly."

Bowling to the sounds of Depecho Mode or The Cure: Isn't that somewhat akin slam dancing to Bach?

At the Garden Bowl, a venerable bowling center in Detroit, the beat of the drum has to compete with the crash of the pins. The "Rock'n'Bowl" features live local bands on Thursday nights while on Fridays and Saturdays people can roll for strikes while a deejay spins some tunes.

The interesting mix of sport and music brings out an equally diverse audience. Needless to say, this is not a stop on the Professional Bowlers Association Tour.

Otherwise, Kim Gruely of Farmington and her friends wouldn't be dancing in one of the lanes after tossing one in a series of well-placed gutterballs. A veteran of the bowling center, perhaps "No," said Gruely, 16, a student at Livonia Ladywood, "but I'm in second place."

Compared to the rest of her mates, that's not saying much. Marlo Messina, 16, of Plymouth, along with Chris Whiteford, 19, of Southfield and Darren Macca, 19, of Farmington Hills are not exactly setting the Garden Bowl on fire with their stellar performance at the lanes.

ONE MEMBER of the party slowly approaches the lane and carefully eyes the pins before launching a bending shot that creeps over to the gutter. The person after her repeats the process.

At the lane next to them, a person is drawing cartoons on the score table projection on the wall.

Peggy Goodwin just smiles. The idea of bringing live rock'n'roll and bowling was hers and owner Dave Zaina's.

"They get out there and they bowl and they dance," said Goodwin, who is promotions director for the Garden Bowl and the neighboring Majestic Theatre. "They can get silly at

'Lethal Weapon 2' is on target

About two-thirds of the way through "Lethal Weapon 2" (B+, R, 115 minutes) we find out more than we want to know about our charming but obsessed L.A. detective-sergeants Roger Murtaugh (Danny Glover) and Martin Riggs (Mel Gibson).

I don't want to give away the story so see for yourself how screenwriter Jeffrey Boam ("Inner Space," "The Lost Boys" and "Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade") goes sappy and simple-minded as the second installment of "Murtaugh and Riggs Go Berserk" lights up your local screen.

For the most part "Lethal Weapon 2" overcomes the faults of its storyline with fast action, good characterizations, witty dialogue and an effective sense of camaraderie between Gibson and Glover, even though some of the dialogue and foreign accents are hard to decipher.

Murtaugh and Riggs' friendship is counterpointed and heightened by Leo Getz (Joe Pesci), a funny little guy, whose protection is our guys' assignment. It seems that Getz has laundered a half-billion dollars of drug money and some of it didn't come clean. In fact, it was so dirty that much of it stuck to Getz's fingers. Now, the mobsters are after him and he's going into the Federal Witness Program and passing through L.A.P.D. in the process.

Pesci projects that certain wonderment of a kid playing cops and robbers with real guns while Glover and Gibson treat him like a bothersome child. It all works very well and some of the film's best moments are the by-play between these three. That, as well as other character development, primarily Murtaugh's family affairs, lifts this buddy film far above the usual and prevents the action from dominating.

THAT'S NOT to say that this is a calm, contemplative detective mystery. Far from it as "Lethal Weapon II" conquers new territory in action-film violence and deeds of daring. Helicopters and madman Riggs running down L.A. freeways add considerable panache to the car chases obligatory to such films.

The violence is excessive, although that seems acceptable these days, but after a while one's senses are dulled. That happens about the same time that the plot goes bad, but by then we're hooked and have to wait around to see the bad guys get theirs.

The bad guys, by the way, are an interesting political statement in that their leader is a South African diplomat trading in drugs, gold and mayhem courtesy of his counselor employees, a bunch of ugly heavies. No match for Murtaugh and Riggs, of course. Murtaugh, in particular, plays the anti-apartheid theme quite well despite it's unexpected appearance in a buddy-cop film.

Glover and Gibson are two tough, violent vigilantes, but they're pleasantly and attractively anti-authority. We can associate with that and we appreciate their aggressive tactics. At some time or other we'd all like to haul off and let the bad guys have it, but we don't because we're weak or chicken, or both.

The next best thing is to fantasize along with Glover and Gibson in this entertaining, well-done, fast action film, one that should join this summer's box-office smashes at the top of the charts.

GRADING THE MOVIES

STILL PLAYING:
"Batman" (C+) (PG-13) 120 minutes
Michael Keaton is a dud in the title role but Jack Nicholson's Joker is terrific.

"Do the Right Thing" (B+) (R) 120 minutes
Sharp, incisive and entertaining commentary on today's urban America.

"Crusoe" (D+) (PG-13) 100 minutes
The action is as quiet as, well, as a deserted island.

"Dead Poets Society" (A+) (PG) 124 minutes
Robin Williams' sensitive portrait of a fine teacher is complemented by excellent young actors as his students.

"Earth Girls are Easy" (PG)
Gena Davis and Jeff Goldblum in sci-fi comedy.

"Field of Dreams" (B+) (PG) 111 minutes

"Fright Night II" (C-) (R)

"Ghostbusters II" (C-) (PG) 102 minutes
It's less funny the second time.

"Great Balls of Fire" (C) (PG-13) 105 minutes
Jerry Lee Lewis is energetic and entertaining but biography is hokey whitewash of a decadent life.

Grading the movies

A+	Top marks - sure to please
A	Close behind - excellent
A-	Still in running for top honors
B+	Pretty good stuff, not perfect
B	Good
B-	Good but notable deficiencies
C+	Just a cut above average
C	Mediocre
C-	Not so hot and slipping fast
D+	The very best of the poor stuff
D	Poor
D-	It doesn't get much worse
F	Truly awful
Z	Reserved for the colossally bad
.	No advanced screening

"Honey, I Shrunk the Kids" (B+) (PG) 105 minutes
It's fun but it ain't easy to be small.

"Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade" (B+) (PG-13) 120 minutes Good entertainment, but enough already.

"Karate Kid III" (D-) (PG) 105 minutes
Boring, cliched sequel.

"K-9" (C+) (PG-13) 100 minutes
James Belushi in weak comedy about narcotics dog and detective.

"No Holds Barred" (*) (PG-13)
Hulk Hogan grunts and groans.

"Pet Sematary" (B-) (R) 105 minutes
More gore for Stephen King fans.

"Road House" (Z) (R) 110 minutes
Cliched, violent and unpleasant Patrick Swayze vehicle with weak acting.

"See No Evil, Hear No Evil" (*) (R)

"Star Trek V: The Final Frontier" (C+) (PG) 100 minutes

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg
special writer

"Bird" (B, R, 161 minutes) is a film you'll like more than you should. But despite its flaws — and there are plenty — it grabs firm hold of your emotions and nostalgia, and it doesn't let go.

It's not just the sweet sounds of Charlie Parker (Forest Whitaker) — although the sound track is excellent, utilizing original recordings by the Bird and other jazz greats of his era. Not only is the music good, there's lots of it. Well, why not just buy the soundtrack?

Because the film's peculiar, haunting quality evolves from the ways in which award-winning director Clint Eastwood blended those sounds with the images and, as well, from the performances he drew from his principals.

"Bird" is the Charlie Parker story, a sad one indeed, a tale reflecting the burdens of black America in this century — poverty and rejection escaping into drugs, alcohol and, on the bright side, music.

That was Parker's story, but one of the film's major flaws is that the genesis of Parker's problems are largely ignored with only an occasional professional failure thrown in, seemingly for good measure.

But it's hard to accept that terrible pain which drove him so deeply into drugs and alcohol merely on the basis of a brief, impressionistic sequence of black poverty in rural America with which the film opens. Neither is there any real development of his personal, artistic tension.

ALSO MISSING is any realistic depiction of Parker's marriage to a white woman. While the tension of their personal relationship is well-developed, it's hard to believe that such a relationship occasioned no comment in those days — America in the '40s and '50s.

Film breaks new ground

By John Monaghan
special writer

The Omnimax films at the Detroit Science Center have taken us on space missions, swooping rides by airplane and roller coaster, and into the mouth of an erupting volcano. "Beavers" — the Space Theatre's summer offering — breaks new ground by telling a simple but fascinating story.

The Omnifax concept asks you to relax in comfortable reclining seats and view films in the Space Theatre planetarium. Instead of constellations, a high-resolution film image illuminates the domed ceiling.

Breathtaking wilderness opens the film — great trees and sparkling blue water untouched by man. Then we close in on a pair of beavers, busily nibbling on tender green leaves to an amplified celery-chomping sound. It might not be Orson Welles, but it certainly held a Saturday afternoon audience captivated.

As they quickly deplete the supply of tasty leaves near the river, the beavers dam the water higher and higher until it reaches deeper into the woods. By film's end, a swooping crane shot is required to fully capture the massive dam.

The filmmakers raised the beaver couple in captivity before setting them loose to live, love, work and dodge predators in the Canadian Rocky Mountains. It took 204 days of continuous film to collect footage for the 31-minute film.

They go to amazing lengths to accurately depict the beavers' life. A camera is actually built into the beaver lodge. An especially harrowing moment shows a bear nipping at a beaver's heels and chasing him into the lodge. "Luckily," says the narrator, "by the time the bear breaks through, the beavers will be long gone."

SPARING US the laborious process of gnawing through the base of tall trees, the film offers several "timber!" shots, one which shows a leafy tree almost crush a hapless beaver. In winter, the beavers struggle above and below the thickening ice. Eventually they have babies who continue the tradition that their parents have begun.

The focus occasionally turns to the other animals — snakes, frogs, rabbits, owls — that share the mountain neighborhood.

Director Stephen Low was also responsible for "Skyward," a story of mechanical and natural flight and one of the most popular Omnifax films.

"I think wildlife is probably one of the best uses of the Imax camera," Low says. "It lets you be with living things in places you've never been before — it's not to see what it's like to be on a roller coaster which we've been on before anyway."

A simple saga of nature's hardest working animal, "Beavers" displays the narrative power of the Omnifax film process. As the poster outside the theater boasts, it may be "the best damn movie you've ever seen."

"A Fish Called Wanda" (USA-1988), 9 p.m. July 10. Kevin Kline, John Cleese, Jamie Lee Curtis and Michael Palin team in this insane romantic comedy, directed in the style of the darkest of '50s English comedies.

"Dizzy Gillespie: A Night in Havana" (USA — 1989) features the great jazz trumpeter captured live in Cuba. It screens through July 12. (Call for show times.)

"New York, New York" (USA-1977) 7 p.m. July 11; 9 p.m. July 12. A popular singer (Liza Minnelli) must decide between love of career or an abusive husband (Robert DeNiro). Martin Scorsese's film — a colorful tribute to Hollywood failures of the '40s injected full of the director's trademark alienation and violence.

"Pattes Blanches" (France-1949), 7 p.m. July 13. Everyone has an ulterior motive in this French melodrama, about a woman's infidelity that leads to murder.

"Under the Sun of Satan" (France-1989) July 14-16 (call for showtimes). Gerard Depardieu as Father Doniscon, the self-doubting priest lost in the modern church. The winner of the 1987 award for Best Film at Cannes, but rarely seen in this country.

"Koyaanisqatsi" (USA - 1983), 8:45 p.m. July 16. An eye-opening blend of images and ideas backed by the music of Phillip Glass. Based on the Hopi Indian word for "life out of balance."

REDFORD THEATRE, 17360 Lahser, Detroit, 537-2560. ($2)

"Lost Horizon" (USA-1937), 8 p.m. July

14-15. The uncut version of Frank Capra's classic about a group of travelers who accidentally find themselves in a Tibetan paradise. An all-star cast includes Ronald Colman, Jane Wyatt and Thomas Mitchell.

TELE-ARTS, 1540 Woodward, Detroit. For information, call 963-8690. ($2-matinee, students and senior citizens, $3.25 regular)

"Voices of Sarafina!" (USA-1988), July 12-16 (call for showtimes). A documentary which intersperses rousing excerpts from the Lincoln Center's production of "Sarafina!" and interviews with its young cast. With South African superstar Miriam Makeba.

TOP OF THE PARK, top of the Power Center parking structure, 121 Fletcher, Ann Arbor. Film begins at 9:30 p.m. (Free)

"Gigi" (USA-1958), July 10. In this Oscar-winning musical, a turn-of-the-century French country girl (Leslie Caron) takes Paris by storm.

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" (USA - 1953), July 11. Marilyn Monroe and Jane Russell are husband-hungry aboard a cruise ship in this fabulous '50s musical comedy.

"Jailhouse Rock" (USA-1958), July 18. Elvis at his sultriest, as a jailbird turned rock star. By far the best of the Presley vehicles.

"Hairspray" (USA - 1988), July 14. John Waters' kitschy tribute to a Baltimore-based dance show in the early '60s. With Divine as the concern mother.

"Sensations" (USA-1945), July 15. A campy musical of strung together skits, featuring W.C. Fields in his final film appearance.

"Batman" (USA-1966), July 16. The feature-length movie based on the hit TV show concludes the Top of the Park films series.

Popped up

Pere Ubu opens door to avant-garage

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Sellout?! You might as well be waving a red hankie in front of a rhino with indigestion.

"How dare they say something like that?!" said Dave Thomas, vocalist and creative guy behind Pere Ubu. "This is Pere Ubu they're talking about, not chopped liver."

Yeh, how dare they? A few unlightened souls have mentioned that "Cloudland," the latest album from the Cleveland avant-garage outfit, is something of a compromising dip in lake commercial. May they all be lashed 50 times with a broken guitar string.

Thomas, though, acts like he's never heard any whispers about "Cloudland" commerciality. His tone in a telephone conversation from Cardiff, Wales, turns to a mock rage. But, rest assured, he's quite aware of it.

Sure, Pere Ubu has created its most accessible album to date. Sure, the group enlisted the help of Stephen Hague (who produced Pet Shop Boys, New Order and Erasure).

But in comparison to last year's "Tenement Years" LP, labeling

"Cloudland" something of a sellout is comparable to saying Salvador Dali's "Persistent Memory" was commercial art.

One can hang his hat on the hooks, rest his head comfortably on the melodies. Pere Ubu has made the definitive pop album of the year, but one that only they could make.

"TENEMENT YEARS" is a very complex record, very layered," Thomas said. "We simply couldn't do another album like that. We set out to do something totally opposite of that. Something that would be very disciplined, very emotional."

"Tenement Years" was the storm in the night with trees crashing to the ground and etcetera. . . . This album is the day after the storm."

The cloud swell for the latest Pere Ubu rainfall started up again two years ago. The band came out of Cleveland in the late 1970s, releasing five albums. Their work was cherished by critics, especially in light of the corporate rock glut that gripped the music at the time.

But the creative forces that bound Pere Ubu became too big even for them to control. Band members started to haggle and ideas were starting to run short. Pere Ubu broke up.

Thomas worked with an improv group and did solo projects during the non-Ubu years. The creative guy behind Pere Ubu originally had aspirations of becoming a journalist. He worked at a Cleveland area entertainment magazine, The Scene, for awhile.

Since Thomas wrote about music, he figured it would be interesting to give it a try. Thus Pere Ubu was formed as a studio group, featuring Allen Ravenstine, Tom Herman, Peter Laughner, Tim Wright, Scot Krauss and Thomas.

PERE UBU was part of a small underground music scene in Cleveland, which might seem to be the unlikely birthplace of one of the most innovative bands in this country. Perhaps some toxic debris from the Cuyahoga River has something to do with it.

The band has never been predictable. That makes the pop flavor "Cloudland" even more unusual. Especially taking on producer Stephen Hague, known more for jingle singles than technical masterpieces.

Hague provided the final buffs on four songs, "Breath," "A Bus Called Happiness," "Race the Sun," and "Waiting for Mary."

"(Hague) is always been a big fan of ours," Thomas said. "He told the record people, 'Boy, I'd like to produce something by them. We said, 'Sure.'"

"He was very nervous. He didn't want to mess up our sound too much. It worked out well. It was a pretty good relationship. We plan to use him on the next album as well."

Next album? Apparently, the band will do demos for album No. 3 in the second Pere Ubu series after their current tour. Thomas doesn't exactly draw a map where Pere Ubu is headed on the next disc.

"I think 'Cloudland' suggested that there might be some more done in that area," he said. "We found it exciting to work in a disciplined setting."

"A record has to be done at that time. . . . You do what you do at the time."

Pere Ubu will perform at 10 p.m. Saturday, July 15, at Saint Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. For information, call 961-MELT.

MUSEUM

— Mary My Hope

Mary My Hope is from Atlanta. This is their first record on Silver-tone/RCA records. The oldest member of the band is 23. Mary My Hope members claim they deal with primal, nihilistic extremism.

Mary My Hope members have no sense of humor.

They traveled to Wales to record this album with English producer Hugh Jones, who has previously worked with Echo and the Bunnymen, That Petrol Emotion and the Damned, apparently "to get the right atmosphere."

From listening to it, I would have imagined that hanging around morgues or funeral parlors might have worked just as well. Song titles like "I'm Not Singing," "Grind," "Suicide Kings," "Communion" and "Death of Me" means they're not going to do the sound track to the next Roger Rabbit movie.

1970s lead breaks and "serious" music fill this package. Oh, wait, they must be sensitive too. . . . they use a cello on one track.

Remember that classification of music that was used to refer to bands like Free, Yes and Zeppelin. That classification that we had hoped punk would kill. That classification called . . . (cover the children's ears and brace yourself) . . . "progressive rock." Well guess what? Just like Jason and Rambo movies, it still lives.

Who needs another third- or fourth-rate Zeppelin rip-off band? These guys even make Guns N' Roses sound tolerable.

Now for that, no band should be shown mercy.

GREENPEACE

— various artists

Do we have stars here or what? C'mon, you got yer U2, yer Belinda Carlisle, yer Sting, yer Lou Reed. And it's all for a good cause (like there hasn't been a lack of those lately): Greenpeace.

Greenpeace is an International environmental group actively fighting such things as whaling, the killing of baby seals and the dumping of toxic waste.

Anyhow, this double LP is designed to bring awareness to Greenpeace and the causes the group is involved in. Included is a card where people can send for information on the organization. Also, royalties and money raised from album sales will be donated to Greenpeace.

Featured are no less than 27 songs by the likes of Terence Trent D'Arby, World Party, Bryan Ferry, Eurythmics, The Pretenders, Grateful Dead, INXS, Thompson Twins, Huey Lewis and The News, Talking Heads, Simple Minds, Waterboys, R.E.M., John Farnham, Aswad, Bryan Adams, Basia, Peter Gabriel, Bruce Hornsby and the Range, Martin Stephenson and The Daintees, Sade, John Cougar Mellencamp and Dire Straits.

Most of the numbers are previous hits. Some songs on the album have a recurring theme of the environment. Titles such "Heaven is a Place on Earth" by Belinda Carlisle, "Small World" by Huey Lewis and The News and "Love is the Seventh Wave" by Sting definitely fit the spirit of the project.

In the case of Peter Gabriel's "Red Rain" and Lou Reed's "Last Great American Whale," it also marks some of those artists' most riveting work. U2 ("Pride") and Simple Minds ("Waterfront") contribute live cuts on the project.

Yet among the all-stars of U2, Sting, Gabriel, etc. are some groups hard to find on Top-40 radio. The Waterboys' spirited "Whole of the Moon" is a fine introduction of a group and definitely a highlight, as is Aswad's "Set Them Free."

Listen to the album and fill out the information card.

CLOUDLAND

— Pere Ubu

Pere Ubu has always been one of the groups that if you listen to one of their cassettes in the car, you're want to pull over and check for weird noises that you think are coming from under the hood.

"Cloudland" (PolyGram), the latest from Cleveland's avant-garage outfit, is certainly no different in that regard. Yes, Pere Ubu has made a pop album. For once, though, pop is not a dirty word here.

With the stylings of Pere Ubu, there is hope for pop music. This is perhaps their most accessible album to date. But it still boxes you around the ears and challenges you.

The group's last album "Tenement Years" (Engima) was a fine prelude for this LP because it is totally in the opposite direction. "Cloudland" is more focused, yet still providing the hallmarks that are Pere Ubu.

Stephen Hague (Pet Shop Boys, Erasure) is the unlikely producer on four songs. Yet the collaboration works, especially on the breathless "Waiting for Mary."

One reason is that there is a flow to the album. Using the distinctive mutterings of lead vocalist David Thomas as a focal point, Pere Ubu can use complex melodies and still pull it together. The guitar work of Jim Jones blends in perfectly with the dreamlike quality of many of the songs.

The books here are codium. Songs like "Why Go it Alone?" hang in your ear all day long while interpretations of covers like "Hoodoo" are nothing less than intriguing.

Pere Ubu, along with groups such as Talking Heads and The Waiters, are understated trailblazers of American music. "Cloudland" is a fine piece of musical craftsmanship to be revered.

Edison's humor lights them up

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Comedy for Dave Edison is something he can plug in and flip a switch.

His style is definitely state-of-the-art. The punchline is the transistor and laughter is measured in kilowatts.

"Technology has gone too far, too fast," said Edison, who will perform at Thursday through Saturday at Joey's Comedy Club in Livonia. "I think we're having trouble keeping up. We're getting a lot of things that we didn't even ask for."

"There are milkshakes today that you can make in your microwave. Does it make any sense?"

Instead of "McDonald's jokes" or lines about "my wife is so-and-so," Edison got a lightbulb of an idea to try something different. One joke about a video game started him on the way down the circuit breaker path of comedy.

Today Edison culls science journals such as Popular Science and Omni, looking for gadgets or new technology they are ready to spring on us.

His brand of humor has won them over in clubs and Radio Shacks nationwide. He's performed on television's "Late Night with Joan Rivers" and "Robert Klein Show." The Manhattan resident started in comedy after graduating from Lehman College. He is also working as director and co-producing of the TV show

"Comedy USA."

Edison's material, though, doesn't require an electronics diagram or a person with a slide rule and six sharpened pencils in his pocket to comprehend. He did work for three months at a Radio Shack. "I was the guy behind the counter who said, 'No sir, the batteries are in backwards.'"

BASICALLY, Edison's comedy simply pokes fun at the high-tech world we live in.

Like for instance, musical greeting cards. "Do we really need them?" asked Edison. "I mean a sympathy card shouldn't play 'Another Bites the Dust.'"

Edison admits he's tackling an odd subject.

"I get an occasional stare like the proverbial RCA dog," he said, "but I dance around it. I can usually pull the rabbit out of the hat."

The rabbit rears its head more often than not. Since Edison joined the comedy ranks 10 years ago, things have grown more competitive.

There's twice the number of clubs and twice the number of comedians doing the same stale material.

Edison's tapped into a different outlet.

"Electronic companies are writing my material for me," he said. "I performed at the Consumer Electronics Show in Chicago recently. Between sets, I took a stroll around the floor. It's amazing the things they are coming up with today. "I don't know if they're giving me toys to play with or material to make jokes with."

Dave Edison will perform Thursday through Saturday, July 13-15, at Joey's Comedy Club, 36071 Plymouth Road, east of Levan, Livonia. For information, call 261-0555.

Comedian keeps it clean onstage

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Wash your hands and face. Clean comedy is Mike Toomey's speciality.

Stories about how his mother used to buy generic cereal instead of the real "Tony the Tiger" Frosted Flakes is about as risqué as it gets when the Chicago native takes the stage. Swear words? Oh my. Tsk. Tsk. Tsk.

Actually Toomey, 26, doesn't take a pious attitude about comedy. Profanity spiked humor is simply not his forte.

"That's what works for me," said Toomey, who will be performing at Miss Kitty's Comedy Club Friday and Saturday, July 14-15. "The less people you offend, the more people can enjoy you."

Simple enough. Anecdotes about growing up and living in the big city — in his case Chicago — are things many people can relate to.

His act also includes impressions of TV sit-com characters from "My Three Sons" and "Andy Griffith." Just nice stuff. Not the kind of thing Aunt Bea would slap your face for.

Today, when the vile humor of Sam Kinison appears to be in vogue, things would appear tough for an upstart comedian toting the pure line. Not so, according to Toomey.

"Actually, I think it's all positive," Toomey said. "If you're clean, you can work anywhere."

IN TOOMEY'S case, that means even performing in front of his family at 5 years old with impressions of Jack Webb and Alfred Hitchcock. He started out professionally seven years ago, performing at "open mike" nights at Chicago comedy clubs.

Since then, Toomey has appeared at clubs in the Midwest and South. He also won third place on WGN-TV's "Comedy Bowl," taking home $1,000 prize.

Those are the nice gigs. Toomey can also tell you about performing in front of uninterested students in college cafeterias during lunch and half-empty nightclubs.

Mike Toomey's humor centers on growing up and doing impressions of TV characters like "Ople" from the "Andy Griffith Show."

Mike Toomey will perform Thursday through Saturday, July 13-15, at Miss Kitty's Comedy Club, 595 N. Lapeer Road, Oxford. For information, call 628-6500. Also, he will perform Wednesday through Saturday, July 19-22, at Chaplin's East, 34244 Groesbeck, Fraser. For information, call 792-1902.

Pardon me while I crow a bit. I've just returned from a weekend at the Stratford Festival in Ontario.

How were my seats? I don't want to sound boastful but the seats for "The Merchant of Venice" were so close you could almost smell Shylock's breath and whiff Portia's sweet perfume. That's fourth row center orchestra.

And for the double bill of "Titus Andronicus" and "Comedy of Errors" just a tad back, still orchestra seating of course. So close that the rape and mutilation scene forced the woman next to me to head for the exit.

The accommodations? Glad you asked. How about a room with a sitting room, skylight and loft at the Jester Arms Inn, you know the quaint little Inn on Ontario Street with only 13 rooms. That's 13. Count 'em.

Now of course your next question is how far in advance did I make reservations. Six months? Nine? Last season?

Would you believe this Stratford trip was made without any reservations? Not play tickets, not hotel, not dinner. Zip.

Granted the trip was made two days before the traditional May 29 festival opening, but Stratford Festival office personnel, inn operators and Stratford Information booth staffers all agree, a spur-of-the-moment jaunt to Stratford is absolutely possible. Without reservations you can still get a room, play tickets and a meal.

HERE'S HOW:

To get to Stratford, Ontario, from Oakland County will take about three hours. Cross into Canada at Sarnia and take 402 east. Wayne County residents will want to go via Detroit/Windsor on 401 and link up to the 402 at London. Exit at Highway 126 north also known as Highbury Avenue (exit 189B). Go north 20 miles to Highway 7 and east to Stratford.

First stop should be the Tourist Information Booth along the Thames River, on the west end of York Street east of Huron Street. The booth is staffed from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday-Saturday and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. (The theaters are dark on Monday.)

Two full-time staffers paid by the city, a few students and other volunteers dispense information about accommodations availability for hotels, bed and breakfasts and campgrounds in the area.

On Sunday or Monday of each week area hotels call the booth to give an availability count. That checklist is posted on a bulletin board just above a scrapbook showing pictures of the establishments. While booth tenders will not make reservations for you, they'll allow you to use a telephone placed there for just that purpose. Local calls only, please.

IF YOU strike out on hotels or if you'd just prefer a bed and breakfast arrangement, the booth has a list of 84 to choose from, all inspected and approved for listing.

"As long as they're not picky we'll get them a room," said staffer Laurie Parker.

How to visit without reservations

You can also get information about area recreation and outdoor activities including surrounding fairs, golf courses, attractions, festivals and arts and crafts shows. You'll also find out about area restaurants and their menus, churches, galleries and specialty stores.

Now about the tickets. That's one thing the information booth does not help with.

There are three theaters: the Festival, Avon and Third Stage in decreasing order of prestige and price. The main box office is located at the Festival Theatre on Queen's Park. Reserved tickets are held at the Stratford Festival Box Office until 1½ hours before curtain. The Avon and Third open one hour before curtain and sell tickets for that day's performance only. You can call the main box office from the information booth to find current ticket availability.

IF YOU'RE given the "all sold out" spiel, pay attention here: unclaimed, unpaid for tickets are released for sale one hour prior to curtain. Chances are you'll be able to cash in on a "no show." If you don't score then, wait for the scalpers. Just before curtain they'll appear in front of the theater trying to resell unneeded ducats.

Then again if living on the edge, i.e. spontaneous traveling, makes you nervous, you can always follow the tourist industry's most quoted advice, "Call ahead for reservations."

For ticket information and accommodations, call the Stratford Festival Box Office and Accommodations Bureau, Detroit information line, 964-4668.

Of course it won't be as exciting that way.

A couple tips for the festival

Here's some miscellaneous tips on seeing Stratford:

- If you'd like a one-hour guided walking tour of early Stratford, stop by the Tourist Information Booth on York at 9:30 a.m. Monday through Saturday "on all nice days in July and August" or pick up the map guide for your own tour.

- Another self-guide tour map is provided by the Local Architectural Conservation Advisory Committee, and naturally leads you to architecturally significant buildings.

- Be sure to ask at the booth about the parks surrounding Lake Victoria, "the largest park system per capita in Canada." Paddle boats and canoes can be rented by the hour at the information booth and Stratford Parks and Recreation maintains three tennis courts on a first-come basis.

- Take a quick walk through the Shakespearean Gardens (a brief stroll from the information booth) near the Perth County Courthouse along the Thames. It features flowers and herbs mentioned in Shakespeare, including rue, lavender, dropwort, roses and the like.

- Drive the 15 minutes to the town of Shakespeare and have a real afternoon tea, complete with scones, at Harry Ten Shilling. Within walking distance are several antique shops and a Christmas craft store.

North by Northeast: The coast is still clear

By Doris Scharfenberg
special writer

Q: Last year, you did a story that followed Highway 22 around the Leelanau Peninsula in west Michigan. Can you do the same thing with the coast of Lake Huron in East Michigan?

M.S.
Livonia

When I think of east Michigan, I picture daybreak over Lake Huron. The rising sun transforms the Tawas lighthouse into a gleaming silo and filters through curtains of marsh grass to reveal the nests of geese. Tawas Point State Park is one of a thousand places along Lake Huron's upper coast where morning can be seen and felt in all its glory.

The "quiet" corner of the state is not all nature walks, beaches and boats, however. As you drive north from Standish to Mackinaw City, you'll find shopping centers, new motels, and every fast food chain known to traveling appetites. You can find golf before breakfast and hot tubs after canoeing if you want them.

Turn off I-75 north of Bay City to slightly poky US 13. Stop at Deer Park near Pinconning to let Junior feed Bambl or ride the safari express. Buy Pinconning cheese. Follow US-23 to Ormer, Michigan's smallest city. Rent canoes or tubes to enjoy the forest-lined Rifle River, shallow enough for kids if a canoe dunks, but rippling enough to be fun. In Au Gres, check out an amusement park with roller coaster, miniature golf and kiddie rides.

As US-23 edges closer to the big lake, swatches of blue horizon begin to flash between clumps of trees. West of the highway lies the Huron National Forest and miles of county roads leading to pine-scented campgrounds, a world of small lakes, trails and tiny hamlets (44 lakes, 38 streams in Isosco County alone.)

Tawas City/East Tawas (no one but a native could guess where the border is) curl along a bay formed by the small peninsula of Tawas Point. The warm water fishery of Saginaw Bay makes Perch and Walleye a steady catch and the protection of the Point gives small sailboats a great place to race.

THE NORTHBOUND road rises along a gentle bluff toward Oscoda-AuSable, another set of civic twins astride the legendary AuSable River as it meets Lake Huron. If you have an itch to fish, Capt. Steve Paslaski, one of many charter-boat veterans, guarantees catches from his 37-foot rig. He's talking coho, trout, steelhead, etc. (For information, call 517-739-2301.)

Antiquing is the next biggest sport. Or relaxing (sometimes with a cocktail) on the decks of the AuSable River Queen for a two-hour paddlewheel boat ride, almost too popular for drop-ins.

On Friday, civilians with reservations can tour Wurtmith Air Force Base (For information, call 1-800-235-GOAL, the Chamber of Commerce).

A state park sits on the south side of Harrisville, a "Harbor of Refuge" port. The town hosts the Barbershop-lake, swatches of blue horizon begin each year, fills a calendar with fishing derbies, and its bed-and-breakfast biz has enlarged to three houses. Meanwhile, the third generation of Yokoms operates the Big Paw Resort, a AAA-four diamond classic.

Slightly north and invisible 'til you're there, the road into Big Paw twists toward neat cottages, each with a fireplace, along Lake Huron. Everyone eats together in a dining room mellow with rustic hominess. One price, family style, for resort guests or those who reserve far in advance (Information: 517-24-6326).

In old lumbering camp days, they used tall tales to fill the entertainment gap. Pop hero Paul Bunyan, a 15 foot-tall lumberjack who could fell trees with one chop, stands with his blue ox, Babe, next to the road near Ossineke.

IN A FOREST just beyond, creatures that would shrink anyone are life-size and authentic. Dinosaur Gardens has a brontosaurus to greet visitors, and more massive beasts down the path. Even if dinos don't grab you, enjoy the magnificent trees.

K mart, Pizza Hut, quaint shops, department stores; the time warp fades as we enter Alpena, a "Warm and Friendly Port . . ." unless your ship sank. The 50 or more sunken ships in nearby waters give Alpena special rank as an underwater preserve. Equipment is available to qualified divers, and the Alpena Hospital is equipped with a decompression chamber in case of accident.

For non-divers (most of us), the Thunder Bay Theater is the only year-round live professional theater in Northern Michigan. Modern or traditional productions are well done. Another north country treat is the Jesse Besser Museum, modern, fully accredited museum of art, history and science. Planetarium, fossils and noted artists. On Johnson Street, only 300 yards from US-23.

Golf, tennis, festivals. Then drop into Club 32 for a late snack and live band (Wednesday through Sunday), or Red's Saloon and Eatery for some sing-along piano diversion.

The Presque Isle lighthouse and museum show the homely side of those isolated lives. Climb the tower, put Junior in the pillory, take photos.

In Rogers City, "Nautical City," a new travel center next to McDonald's, can load you up with area info. Or ask folks at the Buoy Restaurant, next to the Driftwood Motel, where every room's balcony looks at Lake Huron.

From R.C. to Cheboygan, the highway hugs the shore, opening to scenic turnouts and two state parks. Here are the most delightfully empty beaches in the state, where searchers might find Petoskey stones or a treasure for the rock gardener.

AT THE top of the mitten, Cheboygan County wins for having the most inland lake surface acreage. An inland water passage to Lake Michigan begins here. Going the other way, the town is where you catch the ferry to Bois Blanc Island, a semi-wilderness area.

Hidden in the area woods, you'll find a lot of lodging, dining, and a little night life. Ask the way to Hack-Ma-Tack Inn on Beebe Road, about six miles from the junction of M-27 and 33.

In this rambling building diners look past bright blue tablecloths and an open-hearth grill to lovely woods and river. Great tender whitefish or steak (Information 616-625-2919).

Back in town, the Boat House on Pine Street went from ship shed to elegant waterfront restaurant. Dockage and overnight rooms (Information 616-627-4316).

Sawing logs can keep you wide-awake if it's the handmade machinery at Old Mill Creek State Historic Park and Interpretive Center. A backwoods industrial complex four miles south of Mackinaw City on US-23.

The sights in the northeastern part of the state are breathtaking.

Dorothy Lehmkuhl

Q. I love fishing but it seems whenever I want something it's either nowhere to be found in the boat or it's the one item I never bought. How can I prevent play from being as complicated as work?

A. Fishing is meant to be fun, but it can be an exercise in futility if you aren't outfitted properly — not only with the right equipment but also by organizing it for easy (and non-frustrating) use.

Grabbing your fishing net to land that lunker can be an upsetting experience if it's tangled amid stray coils of monofilament with triple hooks. Having to reach out to the end of a downrigger could cause a chilling plunge without swivel mounts and cannonball retrievers.

Advance planning is the key to your success. A permanent set of basic tools (screwdrivers, etc.) is invaluable. Secure your downrigger balls in holders made to cradle them properly so they don't roll relentlessly with each dip of the boat. Make sure your mooring cover/canvas is in good shape so a missing snap or small rip doesn't leave your boat filled with water.

Keep a pad and pen on your boat and write down missing items as you need them. Then buy only what you need — not 20 of the same lures while forgetting the insect repellent and suntan lotion. Create a checklist of everything you need each time, laminate it and keep it in with your equipment.

Three time-saving strategies include: creating a specific place for each item and returning it there after each use; leaving as much equipment on your boat as possible, either in lockable storage or by mounting it; and using an accessible well organized dock box or cart for the rest.

If you need more boat storage space, look around for seemingly unusable space. For extra lures, try cutting slots in dense foam and attaching it into a recessed spot. For easy access, slide a small set of utility drawers into a side pocket to hold paraphernalia like hooks, sinkers, rubber bands, etc.

When installing new electronic equipment, leave room for that Lorac C you'll eventually want and put your LCD graph on a swivel mount to move away from the direct sun.

You're probably heard these ideas before but the acid test is whether you have followed through.

condo queries
Robert M. Melsner

Q. In our condominium, we are having a number of water leaks in the roofs and there is a debate on the board as to what we should do. Some wish to go to the township building inspector for help. What has been your experience in that regard?

A. Unfortunately, building inspectors and/or township officials are not generally in a position to force the developer to make repairs to correct defects and deficiencies in condominiums and other multi-family residences, particularly if the condominium developer has completed the project and is no longer seeking certificates of occupancy from the municipality.

Moreover, building inspectors rely on the minimum code of requirements of the municipality to determine the adequacy of the construction by the developer and in some instances, there are no code requirements with respect to various problems at the condo.

Finally, assuming that the building inspector is willing to do something and the developer fails to do anything in response to the building inspector's request, the only real recourse that the complainant has is to file a complaint with licensing and regulation in Lansing against the builder's license. It is a time consuming, frustrating and arduous task that rarely results in a builder losing its license and, then, only after administrative hearings which are generally more lengthy than actual litigation. Don't hold your breath for a prompt resolution.

Q. Does an apartment owner have to provide special parking spaces for handicapped persons?

A. The regulations of the Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 clarifies that it is part of the landlord's obligation to make reasonable accommodations for handicapped persons. A landlord may be required to provide special parking spaces to individuals when the accommodations are necessary to afford the person an equal opportunity to the use and enjoyment of his or her dwelling. Keep in close touch with your counsel on the new regulations being promulgated in this burgeoning area of the law.

Pick and choose

Flexibility is key in Oakland Farms homes

An overview of the living room in an Oakland Farms subdivision model.

By Becky Eminger
special writer

THINK OF options, package deals, exciting trim packages, and custom engineering amid luxurious surroundings. Do images of Detroit's finest automobiles come to mind? Think again. We're talking about new homes that incorporate the latest trends but offer flexibility to the buyer to make it his dream castle.

On Rochester Road, two miles past downtown Rochester, Harbor Oaks Development Corp. offers one-half to three-quarters acre lots upon which to build your own home design or one of the four basic models they offer in a subdivision called Oakland Farms. Some of the lots border protected wetlands. A total of 96 lots will be available in phases.

Two types of colonial homes are offered, each with four bedrooms and library. The ranch home has three bedrooms and a gathering room. The newest style is the three-bedroom raised ranch.

ACCORDING TO PAUL Sanderson, sales manager, the models incorporate some of the latest trends. The raised ranch, a story-and-a-half home, revamps the old Cape Cod style. The master suite is on the main floor and two bedrooms and a bath make up the upper level. Three-bedroom homes are gaining popularity due to smaller families. Three-car garages are also a popular choice, affording storage for boats or extra vehicles.

But don't think that fewer bedrooms means smaller living space. The 2,500- to 3,000-square foot homes allow ample room to entertain. The space is further enhanced by decorator accents the builder offers. Rounded corners installed with the drywall give a soft curvilinear line to the interior walls. Because the most popular choices in this community are traditional exteriors and contemporary interiors, such touches make a difference.

Sanderson believes they are one of the few builders offering panelized drywall, another stylish option for interesting walls. The drywall features inset panels molded into the wainscot areas of the wall, allowing for easy decorating and color accents. This is especially popular in dining rooms. Both drywall options are included for a short time at no additional cost.

NEW SPACES ARE a surprise in the raised ranch. A butler's pantry adjoins both the kitchen and dining room. While the concept comes from past lifestyles, this adaptation works well for '90s style entertaining. Leaded glass doors hide anything from barware to linens. Additionally, a walk-in pantry provides everyday storage.

The upper level begins with a bridge gallery, an over-sized landing at the top of the stairs that lends itself to office space, a playroom or a study. A windowless "whatsis" room, also on the upper level, could serve as a cedar closet or a storage room. The builders put a lot of thought into the package of options offered. Sanderson says, "They walk through the houses and think how people will live in them."

The current package includes the following items at no additional cost to enhance the home: hardwood floors in the front entry, kitchen and breakfast nook; a marble floor in the first floor powder room; Brass faucets in the vanity.

Two skylights and a ceiling fan add light and air to the main living space. The library has french doors inside and stone facing outside.

A jacuzzi is situated in the master bath, which is separated from the bedroom by a dressing room area. The bedroom also has a private entrance to the deck.

The focal point of the great room is the marble fireplace. However, any style fireplace can be built to suit the owner.

All the lighting fixtures in the model are included. The first floor laundry room has premium flooring and built-in cabinets.

The package is offered, just as with cars, to give the homeowner special upgraded details that make the difference between a bread-and-butter home and a luxury showplace. The models are open Monday through Sunday, 1-7 p.m. and are closed Fridays.

Get award

Harbor Oaks Development Corp. received a beautification award from the Waterford Township Parks and Recreation Department for excellent utilization of existing greenery in connection with the new multi-family condominium complex in Waterford. Cited in the award was the project's extensive landscaping with ornamental and native plants and a lovely walkway to nearby Eagle Lake.

One of the models offered in the Oakland Farms subdivision is a three-bedroom raised ranch in which the master bedroom is on the first floor.

Franklin luxury.
 Need we say more?
 Luxury speaks for itself at Weatherstone. Very private two and three-bedroom townhomes. Formal dining rooms. Great rooms with natural fireplaces. 2-car attached garage, two and one-half baths. And little things like instant hot water in the kitchen. Only at Weatherstone. Of course.
 From $1,215.
Weatherstone
THERE'S GOLD IN THE COVE.
 There's $539 in gold bullion at Schooner Cove mateys. (Translation: $539 off a 1-bedroom apartment). Swash your buckets over to Ford Lake and use your schooner, pirate's ship, sailboat, water ski boat, jet ski or wind surfer. Take a dip in the pool. Sun on the deck. Then look inside at the all-new interiors...the patios...the window walls...all yours, at $539 off. Shiver your timbers if you miss this one!
 Quality and Service come in a McKinley package.

"I finally found a townhome as large as a home."

"I looked long and hard to find a 2000 sq. ft., cathedral ceiling elegant three-bedroom townhome. (Of course, I could have chosen a two or three-bedroom ranch.) With my own two-car attached garage, my own private basement and patio. And-luxury touches like deluxe kitchens and whirlpool tubs plus landscaping that I love. Nothing could get me to move from Covington. Nothing."
