Study to look at police and fire staffing

By Tedd Schneider staff writer.

A comprehensive study of the city's police and fire departments including organization, staffing and technology — is being undertaken by the Westland City Council.

Council members Monday asked police executive Lt. Michael Frayer to solicit offers from six consultants for the study. Frayer estimated the cost of a study by outside consultants would be as much as $50,000.

"What we'll find out is whether we need to increase the size and capabilities of the police and fire departments in proportion to the size of the community," Frayer said.

"(The study) will also look at computerization and what we should be doing in that direction."

examine ways to enhance department revenue, including having an in-house polygraph examiner who could be used by other communities. Currently, the department pays for lie detector tests done by the Michigan State Police.

Council members agreed that the study was necessary, but debated who should do it and how to pay for

"I think an outside study would give us a lot more credibility if we have to go out and seek a millage to hire more police and firefighters," said Charles Pickering. Pickering has been pushing for a public safety study since last year.

"It would be money well spent," said Ben DeHart. "An in-house study could be inaccurate because you get people asking for as much as they feel they can get away with.'

But Ken Mehl, council president, said the cost of the study would be a barrier. "I won't spend $50,000 from the general fund budget when I think there's enough expertise in our own city to accomplish the same thing at a much lower cost," he said.

Frayer has been doing preliminary research on the study after a request by Mayor Charles Griffin and council members last spring.

THE POLICE department will solicit offers from Northwestern University, several accounting firms and at least one consultant specializing in public safety studies, Frayer

Residents favor club expansion

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

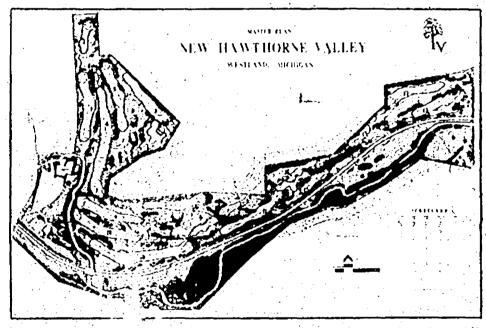

The planned expansion and renovation of Hawthorne Valley Country Club apparently isn't a major problem for most homeowners bordering the golf course in the Merriman-Warren Road area.

An informal survey this week of residents on Carrousel, Ledgecliff, August and Malvern found little opposition to the project, which was announced Aug. 16. "I think it's a positive thing for the neighborhood," said Maureen Palazzolo, who has lived on Carrousel for three years. "Having a golf course

City Council candidates speak out about issues

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

This is the second of three installments profiling Westland mayoral and city council candidates on the Sept. 12 primary ballot. Voters will select eight of 13 council candidates to run for four seats and two mayoral candidates to run in the November general election. Responses were gained from mailed questionnaires and, in some cases, followup telephone interviews.

Ensuring adequate public safety and maintaining Westland's "quality of life" are at the top of Ethel Bollinger's list of priorities.

Bollinger, who is running for the Westland City Council again after a narrow loss in 1985, said finding a way to keep the city's four fire stations open all the time is a key issue.

Since April 1988, one fire station is often closed on a rotating basis for up to 24 hours. The arrangement is part of the contract between the city and the firefighters' union to ensure more than one firefighter on each truck responding to a call.

"We need to make sure that as the city grows, we can assure the citizens who live here that we have up the police department would help enough police (and fire) protection," she said.

"I think that as Westland grows we have to take a look at the new tax dollars that are coming into the city and make sure that the money is used to secure and maintain city services," Bollinger said.

BOLLINGER ALSO said beefing maintaining the city's appearance.

But she said she also favors keeping city taxes at a minimum and that it is the duty of council members "to work with the means and resources available to them."

Bollinger was appointed to the city's planning commission in 1985. She has also been a board member of the 15th Congressional District Dem-with ordinance enforcement and ocratic Party and vice president of the Friends of Nankin Mills.

She has lived in Westland for 30 years and is employed by the Wayne County Intermediate School District as a special education teacher.

Police contract talks continue

A snag over pension benefits thwarted a tentative agreement this week between the city and the Westland Police Sergeants and Lieutenants Association, a city official said.

The Westland City Council discussed the proposed pact Monday night during a closed study session. The official said council members "were not enamored of breaking

"As an elected official, I have a right and responsibility to demand that development be proper and beneficial to the city," the council president said.

Mehl also said elected officials should use the budget process to "ensure our environment and the quality of living is kept at a high level.

TERRI REIGHARD JOHNSON said continued business and residential development, public safety, fair and equitable property tax assessments and neighborhood blight are the city's top concerns as it enters the next decade. Johnson favors a moratorium on development of strip shopping centers.

"I recognize the right of a land owner to develop his property if done within zoning restrictions," she said. "But some development needs to be curtailed until the elected officials, planning department, planning commissions and other interested parties review, and revise if necessary, the city's master plan.

Johnson said although the city has improved its image in recent years, "I still see many neighborhoods in a blighted condition."

She suggested dividing the city into four areas. During the summer, homeowners in each area would have designated month for cleaning up their property. Following the month, police officers would issue ordinance violations to property that hasn't been cleaned up, she said.

Johnson has been a member of the Wayne-Westland school board since 1986. She served as board vice president during the past school year.

She is an active member of the 15th District Democratic Club, the Westland Democratic Club, the Westland Chamber of Commerce, Westland Jaycees, the Wayne WestlandSubstance Abuse Task Force and First Step, a shelter organization for battered spouses and children.

She is leasing manager for Reighard International Trucking Co. and president of Reighard Trucks, Inc.

A lifelong resident of the Wayne-Westland area, Johnson has a bachelor's degree from Western Michigan University and is a Wayne Memorial High School graduate.

RICHARD RINGER said among the most critical issues voters face is "city council members who have failed to maintain their independence from the (Griffin) administration."

If elected, Ringer said he would "maintain my independence from the administration so that personal friendship will not enter into my de-

Ringer said he is also concerned about "overdevelopment" of strip shopping centers and apartment complexes and "failure to adequately maintain public safety services."

He said the city should concentrate on attracting light industry, office buildings, hotels and singlefamily residential projects.

He said a reduction in the police force has left 20 fewer sworn officers than there were in 1976.

Perry cited statistics showing a national average among municipal departments of 1.9 firefighters and 1.6 police officers per 1,000 residents. The city population was 81,190 in 1985, according to the middecade U.S. Census.

Westland has 63 firefighters and 89 sworn police officers, far less than the national average. Six additional police and fire dispatchers will be trained and on the job by early next year.

Volunteers

Young, old forge community bonds

By Janice Brunson staff writer

Volunteerism is alive and well in Detroit and its neighboring suburbs.

Of an estimated 1.6 million residents in those communities, nearly half of all adults, some 42 percent, are involved in volunteer work, contributing an average of four hours weekly to charitable organizations. .

Another 30 percent contribute money, according to a survey conducted two years ago by area business and community leaders.

A case in point is Mary Kennedy, an employee of National Bank of Detroit, who founded the Michigan Corporate Volunteer Council in response to the dying plea of a widowed grandmother.

"She told me the kindest thing a person can do for the elderly is help old people stay in their homes," Kennedy said of inspiration for the second annual Paint the Town project hosted by the council.

corporate employees, many of them first-time volunteers, will "refurbish" a Detroit neighborhood, painting and repairing homes of the elderly and other needy, planting trees and clearing empty lots of debris. More than $100,000 in supplies has been donated by Church's Lumber, Perry Drugs and others.

Next year, the effort will likely be expanded to suburban communities, Kennedy said.

NEED IS AN IMPORTANT factor in motivating volunteers, according to Cheryl Carter of the Salvation Army in Farmington Hills which serves Livonia and Redford Township. The Army recently established a new corps in Westland.

Many of the Army's charitable deeds are performed by a battalion of volunteers, people drawn to the group by "our good reputation," Carter said. "But nobody can assume a wealth of volunteers." Other than

On Saturday, Sept. 9, some 2,000 the Christmas holiday season, the Army actively recruits volunteers year around, including from among those they help.

Residents of Harbor Light, an Army residence for substance abusers, assist in the Army's soup kitchen in Detroit. Prisoners, slated for early release and participating in a strict Army-sponsored rehabilitation program, are also recruited from area prisons for both kitchen and clerical duties.

"The nonprofit world relies on vol-,: unteers to get the work done," said Diane Bailey of United Way of Southeastern Michigan that finances the Center for Volunteerism. Without them, "many vital services would go by the wayside."

This year, the Center has distributed in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties 17,000 Guides to Volunteer Opportunities, 7,000 more than in previous years. The Center

25-year friar keeps passion for sports

By Amy Rauch taff writer:

Sporting a Tiger baseball cap and cigar, Brother Linus Border lgesn't quite look like someone who dedicated his life to the Catholic Church. But indeed he has:

Border, 57, is celebrating 25 years s a friar at Duns Scotus Friary in southfield. Border has been at the friary longer than all but one of the 3 men living there now.

He spent eight years in the Air Force, planning to make a career of t before deciding that it just wasn't fog him. He wanted something, well 4i. more religious.

Duns Scotus "is a more religious tmosphere," he said. "It's sort of hard to be a good Catholic when you live around people who are not."

BORDER HAD TO give up a lot, but he said he's never regretted it. He has taken three separate vows or the church: Vows of poverty, chastity and obedience. In short, the vows mean that he will call no place his home or have anything to call his own; he will remain celibate and not marry; and he must be obedient to his religious suberiors.

His sacrifices haven't been easy, but Border has accepted them.

"Speaking for myself, being maried has never appealed to me. But it's still a sacrifice. I think about it sometimes, but I don't regret it."

Border's main job is doing the laundry for all the men who live at Duns Scotus, It used to be a full-time job when more than 100 men lived there, he explained, motioning to the huge, round dryers in the laundry room. But with only 23 men, the job takes a few days a week.

TIMES HAVE changed, Border said, and fewer men want to dedicate their lives to the church.

"Nobody is really interested in taken a pretty serious dip."

Taking a walk down one of the many long hallways bordered with a wall of windows and a row of cactus' plants. Border stops to peak into a room that used to be a dining hall when about 150 men occupied the friary.

"Can you imagine 150 men dressed like this," he said, gesturing to his long, brown robe. "Three times a day, 365 days a year?" The room is filled with long wooden benches and chairs. A picture of the Last Supper hangs on the farthest wall.

"Those were better days," he

His other duties include ordering supplies, washing dishes every Saturday, and occasionally operating an old printing press, making the letters into text one by one.

DEDICATING HIS life to the church was not a childhood dream. or even something he thought about. "Naturally I had dreams about being a baseball player, but what kid doesn't?" Border grew up on a farm in a small town in Illinois. One of six children, he said his family loved baseball and his father was an umpire at one time. Border was a St.

Louis Cardinal's fan. Border is still an avid baseball fan, sticking with the Tigers - win or lose.

"They're still my Tigers." He's been to every Tiger opener but once since 1968. And he wouldn't have missed that one either, if it hadn't been for a funeral.

"I buy my opening-day ticket in October, just to make sure I get tick-the league at least once, he'll explain all the movies, so that he can form to you, and there's 13 teams.

Attending baseball games frequently, Border has witnessed a lot of baseball history in the making, and made some of his own. In 1987, he caught a Kirk Gibson home run

"I saw Al Kaline's last at-bat, saw one triple play and one no-hitter, though it was against us, unfortunately."

And where does he usually sit? The bleachers, of course. He started buying bleacher tickets years ago because he was low on money and they were the cheapest. But now, he says, they're "more fun."

HE HAS HAD THE opportunity to view the game from above through the glass windows on Tiger owner Tom Monaghan's suite after Monaghan heard he was a Tiger fan.

And he watched two 1968 World Series games from Lee Iacocca's box seats.

"I knew somebody who knew somebody. . . ," he explained. "Talk about dying and going to heaven! Box seats for the World Series."

Though baseball is his love, Border also énjoys basketball and a little football. He predicts a 3-13 season for the Lions.

Border also boasts that he has been in every county in Michigan,

-though he admits he cheated a little. "I've crossed a mile into one county and came back," he said, just to visit the county. He's done that for five counties; the rest are legitimate, he said.

HE'S ALSO A trivia buff, often sending in sports trivia questions to the Detroit Free Press.

* The newspaper has printed about a dozen of his questions, for which he earns $5 a piece.

And every year, after the Acade-On average, he attends 13 games a my Award nominations are anbeing a priest," The numbers "have year. He tries to see every team in nounced, Border goes out and sees his own opinion, of course.

But through it all, Border has one priority.

"It's not just a life of work. It's a life of prayer."

Some medical enrollments lag while job needs rise

By Janice Brunson staff writer

Enrollments in allied health programs at Schoolcraft College are down despite excellent job opportunities and increasing demand for employees who are trained medical and laboratory assistants, occupational therapists and transcribers.

Hardest hit are the medical office assisting and medical laboratory technology courses, with enrollment in each less than 50 percent of capacity. Enrollment is also down substantially in medical transcription. Medical record technology and occupational therapy are faring better, but enrollments are still less than capacity, according to college offi-, cials.

THE NUMBERS reflect recent trends and reduced enrollments in health-related courses that have resulted in schools either cutting back programs or eliminating them altogether.

The trend bodes poorly, according to Patricia Rubio of West Bloomfield. For 20 years, Rubio has directed medical assistance, records and transcription programs at School-

"Health careers are going to be here forever. We can't eliminate these occupations. And if community colleges don't offer training, people will have to go to private technical schools and pay twice the tuition," Rubio said.

"I REALLY ENJOY the med tech field. It's very interesting," said Cindy Bida, 40, of Plymouth. Bida is a 1986 graduate of Schoolcraft's twoyear medical lab technology program who is leaving the field this year and returning to her "first love" of teaching. Bida's training included on-the-job experience, which she performed at Doctor's 'Hospital in Detroit. She "loved" the hospital atmosphere but ultimately settled for employment with Health Alliance Plan.

"It's difficult to find a job in a hospital. They require a four-year degree," she explained.

STILL, BIDA strongly recommends lab technology because jobs are plentiful and pay is decent. She

Programs offered

Allied health programs offered by Schoolcraft College at the Radelist Center, 1751 Radelist, Garden City are:

• Medical Office Assisting -Prepares students to assume administrative, business and clinic responsibilities in medical offices or other health care settings.

• Medical Laboratory Technology - Technicians conduct tests related to the examination and treatment of patients, including detection, diagnosis and treatment of disease.

• Medical Record Technology - Technicians maintain health care data consistent with medical, administrative, ethical and legal accreditation in hospitals, nursing homes and clinics.

• Medical Transcription - Students learn medical terminology, anatomy and physiology, medical report formats and the medicolegal significance of medical reports required to transcribe medical pectations by young people is very ly affected by low enrollment. Seven students are enrolled in a course dehigh, and allied health careers are thought of as overworked and undersigned for 25.

Lack of interest at Schoolcraft is reflected statewide. There were just 37 graduates throughout Michigan last school year, according to Roseanne Morche, who directs the Schoolcraft lab program.

"There is no one answer" accounting for decreased interest, Morche said, suggesting "poor image" as one possible reason. "We used to be comparable in professionalism to nursing." Schoolcraft's two nursing program are full.

-Rubio suggests another reason.

"THERE IS A FEAR of the lab right now, a fear of contracting a deadly disease. It's unreasonable, but it's there," she said.

Equally hard hit is office assistance and transcription courses. Enrollments in assistance programs may be low because of poor entry wages, ranging from $5.50 to $7 hourly, and in transcription because the program is new, listed for the first time in the Schoolcraft class catalog this fall.

Stuart Baker, Schoolcraft College assistant dean at the Radcliff campus in Garden City where allied health courses are scheduled, suggests yet another reason.

"THE MBA-BMW syndrome," he said. Allied health careers have an "imaging-problem. The level of ex4410.

"But people need to know they are quality professions, well respected and with good career opportunities."

In fact, careers in record technology and transcription are up and coming, according to Rubio. There is a tremendous need, and "advancement is excellent because they "are tied into reimbursement by third-party payers," a major component in today's health care provisions, he said.

"I HAVE MORE requests for employees than I have graduates to fill positions," said Masline Horton. For 22 years, Horton has directed Schoolcraft's occupational therapy program. "There are lots of jobs available."

Horton recruits new students at every opportunity, addressing public groups whenever possible. Most recruitment, however, is "word of mouth. We are a small profession, and people generally don't know

MET is popular with area parents

By Tim Richard staff writer

Suburbanites are buying Michigan Education Trust contracts in dispoportionate numbers, the state Treasury Department says.

Oakland County residents bought 10,224 pre-paid college tuition contracts - fully 25 percent of the 40,409 the state sold last year, said Robert Kolt, Treasury's public information officer.

Oakland has an estimated 1.1 milstate' 9.4 million.

Neighboring Livingston, County residents bought 706 contracts last year, or 1.7 percent of the state's total. Livingston has an estimated 110,000 residents, or 1.1 percent of the state's total.

Thus, Oakland parents and grandparents are buying more than double the MET contracts one would expect based on population alone, and Livingston residents 50 percent more.

STATE TREASURER Robert Bowman will bring his traveling MET show to southeastern Michigan starting at 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 6, in Royal Oak's Kimball High School, 1500 Lexington.

It will be the only public forum on MET in this area. Others are scheduled for Marquette, Traverse City, Haslett and Grand Rapids.

Open enrollment dates for MET this year are Oct. 2-6. Tuition increases at the state's 15

Bowman, chairman of the MET board, said final prices will be set after the enrollment period when the trust has a chance to examine the ages of the children enrolled and what colleges they plan to attend. For example, if this year's group is older with more who want to attend the more expensive schools -Michigan State and the University of Michigan - than last year's crop, then the rate might have to be increased, Bowman said. It wouldn't be a dramatic rise, he said.

THE MAIN REASON for this year's average 13-percent increase savings and loan associations are is to make up for part of tuition increases of nearly 10 percent last year and increases averaging 9 percent for the upcoming school year, roll their children in MET this year

Bowman said state budget director Shelby Solomon was working with the state's university presidents on a way to tie state appropriations to tuition increases in an effort to moderate them.

The MET program is based on expectations that university tuitions will rise 7.3 percent a year while the investment fund earns 9.5 percent.

"What we're looking at is an overall policy that makes sense - a policy to moderate tuition. I think we've reached the basis for that kind of agreement with most of the universities," he said.

No news Newsletter getting political

HE "SPIRIT of Westland" is described as a city government-printed newsletter circulated to all residents four times a year to publicize community events and major actions of the city government.

But the most recent edition of the newsletter, printed by a private firm under a city-paid contract, looks more like a Mayor Charles Griffin political testimonial with a few non-political stories mixed in for balance.

For example, the newsletter was mailed to homes two weeks ago, arriving in time for people starting to think about the Sept. 12 primary election, in which Griffin is opposed by three challengers.

In reviewing the contents, there were 16 photos, and the mayor was in 10.

All of the photos involved the mayor in a ceremonial role, such as presenting certificates or proclamations, taking part in new construction projects or swearing in new police officers.

THERE IS also a full-page reproduction of a

We have nothing against Griffin having his photos taken in any official role. But the photos_stories would have been more appropriate for a political brochure or newsletter, especially considering the timing of the mailing.

Clearly, the number of mayoral photos is excessive when used in a neutral, city-paid publication. As any political candidate knows, exposure and name recognition are keys to success.

Let's hope that the next edition will be more informative and less of a political salute to an

• DSO this summer brought a rare form of music to the Upper Peninsula towns of Calumet, Escanaba, Ironwood, Iron Mountain, Marquette and Sault Ste. Marie.

• In November, it will visit a number of suburban high schools - Churchill in Livonia, Harrison in Farmington Hills, Pontiac Central, Utica Stevenson and Lakeshore in St. Clair Shores.

• In the spring of 1990, audiences in Alpena, Adrian, Flint and Kalamazoo will hear Michigan's symphony orchestra.

At the risk of overemphasizing money, we add that DSO's tours of international capitals and fine recordings bring favorable attention to this pattered old town in the world economy.

Those are DSO's contributions as a unit. ...

THE 98 MUSICIANS make other contributions to the quality of life in the suburbs, where most of them live:

Many provide first chair leadership in community orchestras, working side by side with imateur and student musicians. Often they are called upon as soloists with local orchestras. They teach, privately and in universities.

In other words, if Michigan's symphony orchestra were allowed to disintegrate and the musclans to move elsewhere, the cultural loss yould be far-reaching.

DSO has a civic orchestra that trains young professionals from the metropolitan area. This orchestra is in the process of expanding its sea-

State government has added to the $2.5 million it already had voted the debt-plagued DSO. It was an enlightened decision under the circumstances. The DSO is more than a rich folks' form of entertainment in downtown Detroit. It is all of sonal offerings from three to nine.

Four weekend young people's concerts are also

Michigan's symphony orchestra, an asset to the entire state.

Detroit, where musical education may die for elementary and junior high kids, still is able to send busloads of classes to hear educational concerts. Some of the close-in suburbs take advantage of these concerts, too.

SOMEHOW, BETWEEN the recession of 1979-83, management mistakes and Detroit politics, DSO accumulated a deficit of $18 million. New management, headed by chairman Robert S. (Steve) Miller and executive director Deborah Borda, has been joined by the musicians' union in turning Michigan's symphony around.

Already we are seeing better budgeting and better promotion.

The union took economic cuts of $5,000 per person per year. In a little publicized change, the union agreed to a 50-mile extension of the distance it will travel before a trip is considered an overnighter. That means the musicians realize they're part of a Michigan symphony orchestra.

So we applaud the state for its added $1 million of faith in Michigan's orchestra. As Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes said: "Taxes are what we pay for civilized society." (275 U.S. 87, 100)

~ At the same time, we agree with the state's view that corporations and individual donors ought to cough up two-thirds of what is needed to set DSO's affairs in order and to build up an endowment fund. This isn't Europe, where they have state-funded orchestras. The U.S. and Michigan are too culturally diverse to justify the state's picking up the llon's share of the DSO

It's up to the rest of us to follow state government's, the management's and the musicians' lead in polishing Michigan's symphonic jewel:

Shooting incidents ought to wake us up the waning days of summer.

 The good guys and the bad guys are playing shoot 'em up around town these days. A Redford Township man was shot after stopping in Farmington Hills to exchange a few angry words with a fellow motorist during the heat of the summer rush hour. A Farmington Hills resident was arraigned on two felony counts.

In Southfield, three separate incidents have been reported within the last six weeks with motorists either being shot or threatened with a weapon while driving through that

In Birmingham, the eighth armed robbery was chalked up last week as a gunman opened fire in the retail district during the middle of the day. Fortunately, no one was injured.

In Livonia, an off-duty police officer whipped out his 9 mm semiautomatic and pumped off seven rounds in his successful attempt to stop a couple of kids from stealing his automobile. Police can account for only two of the rounds. Only God knows where the other five landed. Earlier this year, reams of police

WE ALL were lucky this time. No innocent bystanders were killed or injured and your reputation is still intact. But the first time someone is unnecessarily killed, watch out, the public will turn on you.

It's bad enough that we've got criminals out there threatening the public with their weapons, don't let yourself be perceived as the same kind of threat.

O&E opinion raises concern

To the editor:

On behalf of the congregation of Faith Covenant Church, Farmington Hills, its executive committee and diaconate board, I am writing to register our concern about the Observer & Eccentric's Opinion column of June 6, wherein it was stated that with regard to the ongoing abortion debate, the O&E "has consistently taken a pro-choice position."

While we respect the right of individuals and the institutions by which individuals are represented, including both the O&E and the Church, to freely choose their opinions on any matter of debate, including abortion, we feel that in the interest of balance and public service it would bewell for the newspaper to also include in its future abortion-related reporting the opinions of those who have chosen to take other than a "consistent pro-choice position."

To this end, we offer the following excerpts from the "Resolution On Abortion In the Context of Christian Sexuality," the official position paper approved and adopted by the 102nd annual meeting of the Evangelical Covenant Church, the denomination of which we are a part:

"For the Evangelical Covenant Church, all understanding and interpretation of the moral dimensions of abortion and sexuality arises from Scripture, prayerful dependence upon the grace of God and the support of the community of believers . . . Accordingly we believe that we are stewards of the expression of our human sexual nature, just as we are stewards of every other gift from God.

We are responsible to God, to ourselves, to each other and to thenew lives we are capable of bringing into existence. We recognize that every sexual act could result in conception and we affirm the equal responsibility of men and women for sexual behavior and the pregnancies that may result tion as an alternative to absti-

... We deplore the use of abornence or, within the covenant of marriage, other appropriate contraceptive measures . . . We believe abortion to be wrong and grieve whenever an abortion takes place. In the words of the National Association of Evangelicals, 'We recognize the necessity for therapeutic abortions to safeguard the health or the life of the mother, as in the case of tubular pregnancies. Other pregnancies, such as those resulting from rape or incest, may require deliberate termination, but the decision should be made only after there has been medical, psychological and spiritual counseling of the most sensitive kind,' Aware of our own frailties and living in an imperfect world, we humbly seek God's guidance in all matters of sexual behavior, conception, pregnancy and the termination of pregnancy . . . Churches within the Evangelical Covenant Church are challenged to develop a two-pronged effort to deal with these issues: first, to support women — married or single — who have unwanted pregnancies, including those who choose to place their children for adoption, and second, to educate youth and adults in sexuality, responsible sexual behavior and parenting skills. . . .

Drive for Life this weekend

Drunk driving kills our friends and family members at an alarming rate, and remains the most frequently committed crime in the nation. On average, one person dies every 22 minutes, 65 each day, and more than 23,000 Americans lose their lives due to drunk driving crashes each year.

Here in Michigan, 793 men, women, and children died in alcohol-related crashes last year.

We are asking that all motorists turn on their headlights during daylight hours of the Labor Day Weekend in memory of those 793 individuals who were killed in drunk driving crashes and, of course, to drive sober over the Labor Day Weekend and for the rest of the year.

School opening jitters in the air

Q: Our son is going to be a freshman in high school this fall and he is beginning to act strange. It seems the closer school opening comes, the jumpler he gets. Is this typical?

A: It's in the air. The school floors are scrubbed, the bases are greased — ready for action.

School opening for both students and teachers is full of anticipation and excitement - yet tempered by certain anxieties. Experienced, quality teachers often times have a difficult time sleeping the night before the opening day.

To address your question, we need to consider specific factors that impact on your son's anxiety. It is a normal phenomena for students at all grade levels to experience opening day anxieties but it is most traumatic at certain grade levels.

In your case, your son is going from a cozy middle school environment to the "big high school" where suave, wordly seniors are walking the halls, protecting their turf and territory. Your ninth grader is low man on the totem pole whereas as an eighth grader in a middle school last year he was part of the power structure at least in relationship to the sixth and seventh grade students.

What you have in your son is a normal fear of the unseen, the unknown. Your son is not sure of what will occur that first day. Let us all remember our first day as "freshmen" when many of us experienced those unfounded but real, at the time, fears of early adolescence.

An even more anxious scenario could be the student leaving the fifth grade and entering middle school. Kindergarten students through fifth grade students deal with one teacher, one personality, all day long. Now the fifth grader is moving intothe sixth grade where he/she will have six or seven different teachers to deal with, six or seven different personalities, possibly six or seven different grading and observoom management styles.

can move from a first hour class run by a "General Patton" to a second hour class overseen by a "Mary Poppins," very relaxed and easy going.

Other opening day situations which have great impact on a child include the move from kindergarten to first grade, from a half-day kindergarten setting to a full-day setting. Many first graders initially tend to get tired in the afternoon having been used to the half-day kindergarten schedule.

However, the greatest, most dramatic event is the child going to kindergarten their first day, especially if it is the first child leaving the home for schooling, the first severing of the home site, emotional umbilical cord. For whom is it most difficult, the kindergarten child or the parent, has always been the unanswered question.

The first day of school is always full of anticipation — for teachers, administrators, students and parents

School is starting next week and frankly I'm beginning to get a little nervous and anxious. Therefore, your son's anxietles are similar to what principals, teachers, secretaries, bus drivers, cafeteria, maintenance and central office personnel experience when that first school bell of the year rings out.

School issues affect us all

SCHOOL BELLS RING, are you listening?

Because even if your children are grown, even if they're too little, even if you have none, the back-to-school season affects you.

Stores are more crowded with back-to-school shoppers, school buses add another dimension to traffic and a need for even more careful driving, and you're certain to be hit with a batch of back-to-school news and feature stories by the broadcast and print media.

But, even more, you are affected by the use of your tax dollars to foot the bill for your local schools. These are dollars that most of us would pay less grudgingly if we knew our school people were doing the job both in turning out well-educated students prepared for tomorrow's world and in running our schools in an accountable, business-like man-

For most school districts, late August is no longer the tense time it was up to the early 1980s. The number of school districts facing possible strikes is miniscule compared with days gone by.

SOME MAY ATTRIBUTE that to the 1974 Dearborn Heights Crestwood School District episode, in which striking teachers were fired and never rehired. That certainly had impact. Since that time there have been fewer strikes, and those that have occurred were generally short-lived.

But people have short memories. More influential now is the fact that teachers are pretty much getting what they want. In concert with a. ham ($39,000) and Bloomfield Hills high-rolling economy and a proper- ($41,222). ty-tax based school funding system, most of the Observer & Eccentric districts have hiked teacher and administrative salaries at least 6 percent per year. Combined with an inflation rate that's under control, those salaries increases are real.

There is no need to strike. At the same time, teachers can no longer cry that they are underpaid.

Livonia teachers are asking for raises equivalent to other top districts. That's fine, but taxpayers in Livonia should know that their average teacher makes more than an average teacher in any of the 15 districts covered by the Observer & Eccentric, with three exceptions: Southfield ($43,274), Wayne-Westland ($43,500) and Troy ($43,402).

AND THE AVERAGE salary for teachers in Livonia is $42,494, higher than in top districts such as Birming-'

Judith Doner Berne

In the early morning hours of Monday - the start of their new school year — a tentative agreement was reached in the Farmington district that gives 6.5 percent pay raises to teachers and other support personnel.

bly settle in that 6 percent range. But salaries are only part of the picture.

Benefits. To begin with, teachers make that salary for working only nine months of the year. They'll scream, but to the rest of the working world, that's a pricey benefit.

Beyond that, their insurance is tops, generally through MESSA - a division of the Michigan Education Association. In an era in which businesses are attempting to cut benefits, changing to less expensive plans or asking employees to contribute, school districts will be hard pressed to successfully do the same.

FARMINGTON SCHOOL officials tried, but only gained the promise that for three months employee bargainers would join them in exploring. insurance alternatives.

It's doubtful any changes will be Job security. When was the last incompetent teacher fired in your district? It's almost impossible...

Job opportunities. They're the same as in any business - off the line and into administration. And, at the top, a superintendent such as Bloomfield Hills' W. Robert Docks ing, whose contract was just amended to give him more than $136,000 by the 1991-92 school year.

So the school bells now ringing at fect us all. Let's ring to a new school year, full of challenge and energy. Let's ring for less discrepancy between rich and poor school districts, Let's ring to the majority of hardworking teachers and administrators who earn their salaries and benefits - and to more accountability for those who don't.

Schools bungle Christmas 'problem

If I had my will, every idiot who goes around with "Merry Christmas" on his lips should be boiled with his own pudding, and buried with a stake of holly through his heart. He should.

- Ebenezer Scrooge

. . I am sure I have always thought of Christmas time, when it has come round - apart from the veneration due to its sacred origin, if anything belonging to it can be apart from that — as a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their shut-up hearts freely, and to think of people below them as if they really were fellow-travellers to the grave, and not another race of creatures on other journeys

Holiday celebrations must be curriculum-driven, as opposed to being celebrated for holiday's

— Diane Iras Rochester schools communications specialist

NO, I'M NOT rushing the season, but school districts are. They're already getting prepared for what seems to have become "The Problem of Christmas."

It's part of the current wave of trying to create a generic society in which no one can possibly be offended by anything.

Rochester schools recently approved a "holiday policy" with eight pages of guidelines specifying what's OK and what's not when it comes to celebrating holidays with religious overtones. Troy schools are considering a similar policy.

They are but two of numerous districts which, in recent years, have become seriously concerned over 'The Problem of Christmas.'

THE PROBLEM, of course, is that it is CHRISTmas and some non-Christians don't like that. The holiday doesn't represent their religious beliefs, they protest, and their children shouldn't be forced to take part in celebrations that they don't believe in or to sit on the sidelines while the believers celebrate.

All of this sounds reasonable enough on the surface. So school officials establish study committees whose sole purpose is to take Christ out of CHRISTmas.

"We'll call it the 'Winter Holidays," they say. "We'll get rid of all the religious trappings and what we'll be left with is a nice generic holiday that everyone can celebrate without offending anyone."

Such an approach is patently silly. These policies end up in one way or another offending everyone. Not to mention what they do to a season that is as much a part of American culture and tradition as baseball and traffic jams.

Christmas is, at the core, a religious holiday celebrating the birth of Christ. At the same time it has become so commercialized and secularized that it is already virtually a generic winter holiday.

The symbols of the season -

Christmas trees from Germany, mistletoe from the British Isles, Santa Claus, who appears to have evolved from a 4th Century Turk form an amalgam symbolizing America as melting pot. Sleigh bells and red-nosed reindeer get equal billing with Nativity scenes and wohdrous stars.

IF SCHOOL districts are going to view the celebration in the first sense — as a Christian rite — then let them exercise their powers of separation of church and state and ban it altogether. No Christmas vacation, no decorations, no hypocrisy. Scrooge would have approved wholeheartedly.

On the other hand, if the schools want to retain the holiday, then take it for what it is and don't try to spray-paint the religious symbolism out of it.

Yes, Christmas is basically a Christian holiday. So what? This is basically a Christian country.

And our Americanized version of Christmas already leaves plenty of room for everyone, of whatever faith or ethnic origin, to find some small niche in the celebrations without going to Christmas Eve Mass or setting up a Nativity scene on the frost

Scrooge's nephew was right Christmas is "a good time; a kind forgiving, charitable, pleasant

IN A STATEMENT, Markman said Stoddard benefitted from a deal in which a company he half-owned leased a Jackson building to the bank.

Markman alleges that terms of the lease — $27,000 annually were excessive for a building purchased for $41,500. He added:

"Stoddard kept his interest hidden by having the property purchased in the name of an attorney-friend, then later by transferring the property and the lease to a partnership known as 'Amberly Properties' — a Michigan co-partnership in which Stoddard was a 50 percent partner."

Stoddard was forced to resign as chairman of Michigan National Corp. in 1985. He has separate suits in Oakland Circuit Court against MNC and the 19 directors for failing to provide aid in his defense against federal charges.

The Comptroller of the Currency sought to ban Stoddard from banking for misuse of bank funds, but that case was overturned by the U.S. Court of Appeals in Washington, D.C.

Finger play: Talking with the deaf

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

HROUGH AN open book, a child discovers the world. For Martin Dale-Hench, 2, who is profoundly deaf, the pages are no different.

Except, instead of sounds, the Livonia toddler uses his fingers and facial expressions to communicate what he sees.

He brings his index and middle fingers together and makes a gesture resembling a quacking duck. He meticulously scans a page in a children's book. His beaming eyes latch onto another object. He quickly makes a motion with his hand under his throat. The smile widens on his face.

"Yes." says his mother. Christine Hench, while signing back to her child. "That is a frog."

THE MOMENT of discovery is one many parents share with their children. But the series of hand motions and facial expressions paints a serene, if not beautiful, picture of silence.

Yes, the child is on the path of learning. As the delight reflects on the faces of both parent and child, one wonders if it's Martin who has propped open the door to a new world for his mother and father.

Martin Dale-Hench can express more than 500 words in American Sign Language, which is perhaps more than the average hearing child at his age could speak. His parents, Christine Hench and Peter Dale, are also learning the language. Both are taking American Sign Language classes at Madonna College.

THERE IS no visible strain or effort as Martin communicates with his mother and father. Signing is a natural language to deaf children, according to those who teach ASL.

Yet they say getting those in the hearing world to understand that is difficult.

Two schools of thought exist with educators on the age-old controversy. Some believe deaf children first need to learn to speak and understand English in order to survive. Others say that deaf children should be fluent in sign language, and, perhaps later, learn English, if they choose to.

"DEAF CHILDREN get caught in the middle of what hearing people want - and most of education is controlled by hearing people," said Ken Rust, chairman of the Madonna College sign language department. "There are research people who believe sign language is an efficient way to communicate.

"Parents a lot of times don't know who to ask. So, they go to medical people. Medical people look at deafness differently They tend to look at is as a defect, something that can be fixed."

One who disagrees with those views is Sandy North, director of hearing impaired education for Redford Union Schools. The oral program, which teaches deaf children speech, at RU has received state and national honors for its work.

"There are parents and educators who believe in both options, learning to speak and Total Communication (which uses signing and oral skills)," North said. "Fortunately, in Wayne County we have both options

"My philosophy is to teach the child to speak. Then later, they can learn to use sign language."

PETER DALE and Christine Hench feacted like any parent would when they found Martin was deaf a year ago — with shock and uncertainty.

Fortunately, they had a friend who teaches people who are hearing impaired. That person put them in touch with the people at Madonna College's sign language studies program, which has the highest enroll-

"THE HARDEST part for me is to use it all the time," said Hench, who is an assistant director for Jewish Association for Retarded Citizens in Southfield. "I'll communicate to Martin in sign and then I'll talk to Emma (their 51/2-year-old daughter) in English. I haps due to the amount of attention given him. Except for natural sibling rivalry, Emma and Martin get along fine today. She has even learned to sign with her brother.

MARTIN ALSO plays with other children who can hear. His parents said they eventually want him to be around other deaf children. "One of the problems is there simply isn't a lot of deaf children," Dale said. "He needs to interact with other deaf children . . . just so he sees he's not the only Granted, more options are available for parents of deaf children. Before, a hearing impaired child was either sent off to boarding school or had to stay home.

But Dale and Hench said there will be difficult times ahead for Martin. They want him to be at home and go to school in the area. Yet, if no one on staff at a school knows American Sign Language, where do they go

"It's part of the deaf culture to send their children to boarding school," Dale said, "but that's not part of our

For the moment, though, mother and father enjoy those times when they can watch their child discover the world. Martin is like most other children his age, wrestling with the "terrible 2's."

HE'S QUITE cranky after being awakened from his afternoon nap. He looks at the visitors in the family and turns away. He looks again and turns away and begins to cry.

"When a deaf child wants to ignore you, he won't look at you," Hench said.

But as soon as the books come out, Martin is all smiles. Lions, tigers and elephants continue to bring joy to his face as his hands work overtime.

Christine Hench and Dale Hench are using the American Sign Language they are learning to talk to their son Martin.

This shop invites you to 'create' your own

Window shoppers have been peering into Your Creation in the Laurel Commons shopping center this week. Chalky vases, Art Deco clowns er, without seeing samples of your handwriting prior to this medical problem I am unable to ascertain the things which are temporary and those which are ingrained personality characteristics.

I will describe your personality the way it was at the time you wrote this letter and hope the information will be helpful in making your career choice.

Apprehension with regard to your future can be detected and is understandable under the circumstances. Decision making is not something that comes easily to you.

You have been blessed with intelligence which is well above average. Another asset is your creativity.

I envision you as quite an independent young woman. You probably developed your independent ways in the formative years. And were probably a tad rebellious then. Seemingly, you did not see the parental figures united in their nurturing of you.

Ambivalance and/or lack of planning in the approach to your goals can also be seen here. Motivation is often more important to success than intelligence, though both are important. I think we all know highly motivated people with only average intelligence who have accomplished more than their intellectual counterparts.

FEELINGS OF resentment can also be discerned in your handwriting, but I need to compare this with previous samples to determine whether the resentment is temporary or if you have been harboring it over a long time. It is important to consider the emotional energy which is wasted on resentment.

You rather enjoy attention from others and are inclined to speak and act for self-gain. The tact here probably serves as a softening agent. And you are sometimes divided between helping others and helping yourself.

Good vs. bad

Book tackles cholesterol issue

By Sue Mason staff writer

OK, so you went for your yearly checkup and came home with a list of good and bad foods. Your doctor didn't say much, just nodded at your cholesterol level. It's 220, high but considered high normal.

Is it time to join the oat bran gen-

Not necessarily, but it is time to rethink your eating habits, according to Drs. Glenn Griffin and William Castelli, the authors of a new book, "Good Fat, Bad Pat: How to Lower Your Cholesterol and Beat the Odds of a Heart Attack."

In their book, the doctors try to cut through the confusion about how to reduce "cholesterol calories" and focus on the real culprit in the war against clogged arteries - saturated fat.

"Merely reducing the amount of cholesterol you eat is not enough because your body manufactures cholesterol when you eat saturated fat," the doctors said. "If you want clean and open arteries, you can make the decision to change your eating habits and live longer — or don't change and eat yourself into an early grave."

Rest assured, "Good Fat, Bad Fat" doesn't read like a Danielle Steele novel, but it is an eye-opener for the fast-food generation.

According to the doctors, the average cholesterol level of adults in the United States, Canada and similar cultures is 210. And the odds of dying of a heart attack or stroke are 50-50. HOWEVER, most other people around the world have cholesterol levels of 150 — and they don't have as much coronary-artery disease. The reason is that they don't eat as much saturated fat as most North Americans. Their diets include beans, rice, seafood and fruits.

North Americans, on the other hand, are heavy meat-eaters and dabble in fast-food meals. Think of saturated fat shaped like a stick of butter, then think about a typical fast-food lunch of a big cheeseburger, french fries and milkshake. You've just consumed a half of stick of saturated fat.

This isn't a run-of-the-mill how-to book. It can be technical at times, but for the most part, the book does what its title implies.

cholesterol and fats found in the human body and in foods. It also offers a simple formula for calculating daily saturated fat/cholesterol consumption and as an added bonus, a recipe section that includes the amount of saturated fat and cholesterol in each serving. The book isn't a cure-all for chotesterol problems, but it does offer tips on how to eat out and not blow your program to reduced saturated fat and cholesterol intake. And throughout, the doctors stress the need to know your cholesterol level and have it checked at a cholesterol screening or monitored by a physi-

The authors aren't just expounding on medical knowledge. In fact, they point out that as recently as 1986, only 40 percent of physicians knew that a high-fat diet has a large effect on coronary-artery disease.

Part of what they write about is from experience.

Griffin knows first-hand the ramifications of eating bad fat. The editor-in-chief of two McGraw Hill medical journals, "Postgraduate Medicine" and "Senior Patient," he had bypass surgery after it was discovered a vital coronary artery was > GRIFFIN KNEW about his problem with bad fat, and in his quest to figure out what to eat without worsening his condition, he discovered it was "mind-boggling."

"With the skimpy information available, it seemed I would need a full-time 'personal mathematician and a gourmet dietician," he said, "I definitely needed better answers and a simpler system than anyone explained to me."

Castelli is considered a crusader, traveling the country and the world to educate people about the dangers of saturated fat and cholesterol.

Appointed medical director of the Framingham Heart Study at the National Heart, Lung and Blood Institute, he has been recognized by the U.S. Public Health Service with a meritorious service medal for his ef-

So, if you want to beat the odds, "Good Fat, Bad Fat" may be a place to start. And even if you're a healthy eater, it's worth reading. You might find out that a lot of those so-called health choices you make each day are hiding bad fat.

Toastmasters take the fear out of public speaking

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Crack those knuckles; limber up the wrist. The Advocates Toastmasters meeting is coming to order.

Someone new will probably shake more hands than a candidate at a polling place. This is certainly a friendly lot with outsiders more than welcomed.

"Hello, Mrs. Thomas," said Lon Osten, founder of Advocates Toast registers sounding as if he's found an old friend, "How are you this evebillt's written right there," replied Osten, pointing to her name tag. ncEveryone knows everyone at the Advocates meetings; which take place on Thursdays at St. John Episcopal Church in Westland. If someone doesn't, they'll make it a point to introduce themselves.

"How did you know my name was Mrs. Thomas?," asked the woman, looking startled.

The idea is to make people feel at ease, especially since they'll more than likely be called on to speak before the group.

The guy in the blue candy-striped suit and white shoes sees to that. Osten is as a gregarious host and speaker. The water bottle he carries, similar to those used by athletes during breaks in the action, is the first tip-off.

Osten, 72, who lives in Garden City, is president of two companies, a board member with the Professional Speakers Association, works with Dale Carnegie Institute, is lieutentent governor of the Kiwanas Michigan District and is area governor of the Toastmasters International. He also entertains children at hospitals as a puppeteer.

'The whole idea is to think on your feet. How often are you in meetings and asked to explain things you know nothing about?'

— Lon Osten

HIS WIFE died six years ago. Osten keeps busy so he doesn't sit around his empty home.

"Maybe if I join enough clubs, I'll find another woman," he said.

Toastmasters is one of his favorites. The purpose of the group is to help people overcome the fear of public speaking. Meetings are broken into two segments.

First, there are table topics. A table master picks a topic and then randomly chooses a speaker to discuss it.

The second phase involves giving prepared speeches. Osten said he's already given three speeches on this day at another club, including one on the futility of dieting.

But before the table topics can begin, there's some minor business to get out of the way. Osten goes to the podium and with the enthusiasm of a game show host asks who is today's word-master.

A woman comes forward and reads a definition of the word benign. Everyone applauds heartily.

"Our belief is that if you use that word 10 times, it becomes a part of your vocabulary," Osten said.

Then Osten calls for the poemmaster. Turns out the person is not here on this night, so the woman who was the word-master steps forward again. 'More clapping greets her poem about winter time.

Osten then looks for the night's joke-master. He's not present either. The same woman who was the wordmaster and poem-master approaches the podium again.

"WHAT DID THE grape say when the elephant sat on it?," she asked.

"Nothing, but it let out a little wine." Osten gives way to the person selecting table topics. Using the woman's poem on winter, he asks a person to discuss his worst experience in a snowstorm. After the person finishes, there is more clapping. Another confident speaker is born. "The whole idea is to think on your feet," Osten said. "How often are you in meetings and asked to explain things you know nothing about?"

Advocates is one of a handful of area Toastmaster International groups. Other clubs include The Oral Majority, Motor City Speak Easy, Wind Baggers and Saturday Sunrisers. .

All those groups will compete in the "1989 Humorous & Impromptu Speech Contest" noon Saturday, Sept. 30, at LeRight's Banquet Room in Westland.

Southfield offers on-site child care

The City of Southfield will soon become the first Oakland County municipality to provide on-site child care for its employees. Southfield's child-care center is expected to open this fall.

The initiative for establishing such a center came from a committee that formed about six years ago to investigate child-care options for city employees.

Committee members, primarily employees with infants and toddlers, conducted surveys to assess the child-care needs of Southfield's 800 full-time employees, but until two years ago no direct action was taken. At that time, according to Jef Far-land, deputy director of Southfield's parks and recreation and a member of the city's day-care committee, an opportunity presented itself when a one-story building in the civic Center complex became available. "At that point," said Farland,

"things really began to move. One of the most important things that we did then was to hire a consultant to help us through all the hurdles." THE CONSULTANT, with the committee, began to investigate such factors as required renovations, the costs to set up and run the center and insurance requirements.

In addition, they investigated the possibility of hiring an outside firm to run the center.

Other preparations included visits to other on-site centers in Michigan, such as those at Botsford General Hospital, in Farmington Hills, and Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

SOUTHFIELD provided an inhouse architect to plan the renovation. The newly renovated building is ing a $175,000 federal revenue-sharcomprised of three large activity rooms - for infants, toddlers and preschoolers.

Other renovations include a kitchen and down-sized bathroom facili-

After much consideration, it was decided to set up the Southfield Employee Child Care Committee, rather than hire an outside firm, to oversee the operation of the center.

This volunteer committee, which serves as a board of directors for the center, consists of City of Southfield employees.

The Committee is hiring a director who will be in charge of staffing and running the center.

The on-site center, itself, while supported by the city, remains a separate entity from the city, "Liability is not a problem for the City of Southfield," said Farland, "since the center has a separate policy not paid for by the city."

THE QUALITY of the center was of utmost importance to Committee members. "While the state requires a 1:5 ratio for care givers to infants," Farland said, "ours is 1:3."

The center will care for a maxit mum of 40 children, and preference will be given to the children of fulls time employees. Costs to employees will be just below market rate.

"This project is the result of a fantastic group effort," said Farland. 🛷

"Southfield allowed us the time necessary to work on the project! The city provided the building, as well as a $40,000 annual subsidy and funding for equipment."

The city was successful in obtaining grant to cover the cost of renova3

This service has a Christian focus

By Sue Mason staff writer

It does what other private counseling services do - help people with their problems. But what sets Christian Counseling Services apart is its service is geared to the Christian population.

Christians have the same problems as the general public, but they're fearful that their religious beliefs may be seen as a crutch by secular therapists," said Jeff Imber. director of the Christian Counseling Service in Livonia.

"A lot of times people come in having unrealistic religious beliefs like parents who use God to empower them or bad religious experiences. We accept people where out being ridiculed or lumped tothey're at."

Christian Counceling Services got its start in 1983, when Imber and Noel Lemon teamed up to offer a professional counseling and psychotherapy center that addressed the spiritual needs of people.

The service has offices in Livonia, Rochester and Sterling Heights and while it has Christian in its name, the service isn't supported by any church denomination, Imber said, But the Christian in the name does help attract clients.

"THEY'RE VERY happy to find us," Imber said. "There's a relief for them to know they can open up and talk about their spiritual side withgether with right-wing Christians."

The center, staffed by psychologists and social workers, helps clients with a variety of problems guilt, anxiety, depressions, family problems, significant loss issues and addictions.

But its speciality is dysfunctional families - adult children syndromes - Imber sald.

The counseling can take the form of family groups and individual or group therapy. Support groups also are available for incest victims, adult children of alcoholics, co-dependents and compulsive overeaters.

The idea of the spiritual side of human beings is nothing new, but addressing it in therapy is, Imber said.

"We are human beings in body, spirit and soul,"Imber said. "To ignore the spiritual dimension is like cutting out a part of the human being. Spiritual issues have a lot to do with mental health."

According to Imber, psychology at one time took out the idea of the human soul, but there's a movement afoot now to bring it back, but in New Age thinking.

"Christians speak to the human condition as a 'not complete state;' and secular psychologists have discovered humans are not 'actualized' and work toward that," he said. "But if they looked, they'd see that Christianity addresses that.

"It's ironic to find that in any 12step recovery program, the basis is spiritual."

IMBER, 31, is quick to talk about human spirituality. At one point in his life, he had set his sights on being a minister. But he found that the questions asked in his theology classes weren't the questions he was ask-

His questions, he found, were being posed in psychology classes, although the answers ignored human spirituality. He ended up studying both with the idea of bringing them together in practice.

After college, he worked for a church, ministering and counseling members, but eventually left to start a private practice. It was about that time he met Lemon and Christian Counseling Services was formed.

Imber can relate to Christian experiences. Raised in a Jewish family, he became Christian at the age of His mother died when he was 12 years old. His father later remarried and the result was a blended family, but "it wasn't the 'Brady Bunch'," he said. Imber distanced himself from his new-family, so much so that he had his room in the basement of the family home.

It was there one night that he felt a spiritual awakening, a call to Christianity, he said.

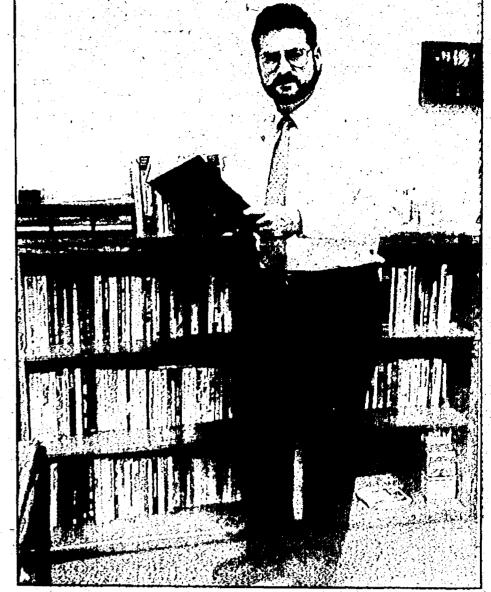

"It was a powerful, true experience," he said, "and it has had staying power for 15-16 years. It has benefitted me emotionally, spiritually and psychologically."

Imber equates therapy to "helping people on a journey to being whole;" the therapist is "there to help on the journey." And he finds that helping people is rewarding.

"IT'S REALLY rewarding to see that they can see the path to go on and that they can find joy," he said. "Through the process, they open up. They know this is a safe place where they can face and express their anger or deeper feelings about God.

"A lot of our work with people is to help them learn to accept their human beingness. We teach them to embrace the realities of life, that there is pain and suffering and that if they run away from that, it will cause them emotional pain and suffering."

In addition to therapy work, Christian Counseling Services is develop-

Not all changes have improved our world

Just a few weeks ago I buried my grandmother.

She was here for a long time. This December would have marked her 105th birthday.

Although I miss her, I do not feel bad for her. She had made it quite clear that 104 was enough and she was tired. She believed that the God who sustained her here would be there to meet her in that other place. Mame, as her friends called her, saw a few changes in her lifetime. Shed-saw communication progress from a call over the back fence to a fresh copy off the fax machine. She rode in everything from buggies to jet aircraft. She watched families go from entertaining themselves to depending on cable television to do it for them.

Grandma watched a word or two enter the language. She could remember the word icebox, but learned to say and use refrigerator. She learned telephone when she was

BUT THERE were other kinds of changes as well. She could once drink safely from the stream behind the house in which she was born. But before she died she experienced a world in which even the water from the faucet was not necessarily safe. Her parents never heard of chemically contaminated fish, but she was warned against too much pickerel from the Great Lakes.

When Mame's husband died, Harry Truman was president. We were only three years removed from having forever changed the course of humankind by dropping two nuclear bombs on some people in Japan.

Grandpa's name was also Harry. Grandma was 64 when that happened and even though I was only 12 years old I remember her saying that with Harry gone life was over for her. Well, as your arithmetic can tell you, Mame still had another 40 years of changes to experience.

She had not yet ridden in that jet plane. She still did not have a television. She had not yet been hired into the job that she kept through most of her 70s. And she had not yet been to

More than anything else, perhaps, we need to know that life for our planet is not over. Just as we have the know-how to invent the new, we need the determination to fix the old. There are people who have to live in this place and it is up to us to make it right for them. Not necessarily convenient, but right.

Today, a young woman who had come to my office informed me that for her it is too late to change much. "After all," she said, "I'm already 22." She should have known Mame.

Pearl Holforty: "We are catalysts for action."

Local women back BIDCO

The Liberty BIDCO Investment bers, discussing the potential and Corp., founded by seven Michigan businesswomen, said it has received a contingent commitment of $2.4 million from the Michigan Strategic Fund (MSF). Liberty's goal is to raise $6 million in equity to fund the new financial institu-

With that base, Liberty BIDCO estimates it will have invested more than $100 million over the next 10 years in small businesses, focusing upon the service industry and businesses owned by women.

"Our business plan is solid," said Pearl M. Holforty, CPA, chair of the board of directors and chief executive officer of the BIDCO, which stands for "business and industrial development corporation." Plans were announced last week in a Southfield news conference.

Holforty, a partner of Plante & Moran, a Michigan based public accounting and management consulting firm, and a Southfield resident, also owns several small businesses and is president of the Women's Economic Club.

FOUNDERS CHOSE the name Liberty to convey the traits of independence, expansion, freedom, patriotism, hard work and dedication.

Besides, liberty, in French, is a feminine noun — and that's what we are: catalysts for action who are women," said Holforty.

Liberty plans to open its first office in the Detroit area next month. It plans to have regional offices in Grand Rapids, Lansing, and the upper Lower Peninsula and Upper Peninsula by 1992.

"We deliberated for more than two years, researching the num-determining the viability of such a venture," she said.

"Our market niche of service and women-owned businesses was carefully chosen. The number of these businesses is growing spectacularly in Michigan, and the potential of this market is extremely attractive to us and other investors."

LIBERTY BIDCO proposes to provide financing from $50,000 to $300,000, along with management assistance, to fill the gap between low risk, low return bank lenders and high risk, high return venture capital investors.

"We'll help Michigan" entrepreneurs who traditionally have been ineligible for bank financing," said Holforty.

"We'll help the companies who haven't been of interest to venture. capitalists because they may not be in glamorous fast-growing indus-

Jacobson's to open Troy clearance store

By Marilyn Fitchett staff writer

Bargain hunters will be attracted to a large clearance sign tagged on a former supermarket in Troy as Jacobson Stores enters the marked-down merchandise mar-

The company will open Jacobson's Clearance Center at Rochester Road and Big Beaver in November, selling clothing, accessories, linens and home decorating merchandise. Furniture will not be carried.

The 30,000-square-foot clearance center is in a strip mall of stores with evening and weekend hours, which is in contrast to Jacobson's never-on-Sunday policy. Company president Mark Rosenfeld said hours have not been decided, but clearance center hours "probably will be different" than regular store hours.

Rosenfeld stressed that the clearance center will sell marked-down merchandise that previously had been found at its full-line stores.

"We have no intention of operating a discount store," Rosenfeld said. "We're going to sell good, quality merchandise that for some reason did not sell. We're not buying cheap merchandise and trying to suggest that it's being sold at less than market value.

"Our specialty stores will continue to have end-ofseason clearances for a limited time. After that, the merchandise will be shipped to the clearance center. You can never anticipate the exact quantity of merchandise that will be sold in a store. This is a natural retail business procedure.'

Retail consultant Frederick Marx, who heads Marx Management Co. of Birmingham, explained the difference between discount and clearance stores.

"A clearance store sweeps up goods that are carryovers - third and fourth markdowns. Discount stores carry current, in-season merchandise sold at reduced prices. These are stores such as TJ Maxx or Hit Or Miss.

"Most stores liquidate merchandise through jobbers - broken sizes, odds and ends. Today some companies have their own clearance stores like Gantos Boutique. But in addition to clearance merchandise, they often offer opportunistic buys to the customers."

Marx sees the "opportunistic buys" as helping stores fill their clearance outlets with merchandise, something only marked down items might not be able to do. He questions whether Jacobson's will be able to keep its clearance center stocked only with markdowns.

Jacobson's has two major end-of-season clearances in January and July and two minor clearances after Easter and in October.

Rosenfeld said moving the merchandise to a clearance center will "permit us to bring the new season merchandise into our fashion stores in greater depth and wider assortments." Clearance merchandise will be processed in the company's Jackson distribution center before it is sent to Troy, offering a potential turnound time of a "couple of days."

Marx disagrees with the concept.

"The cost of transferring goods is not worth it. Those who do it effectively do it with separate divisions and with multiple stores. It's not just an extension of the regular business. The process takes time, and time is valuable at the end of the season."

He said the role of clearance sales is not solely to remove "day-old bread."

"Let's say you're going on vacation on Aug. 1 and you're looking for a bathing suit or an extra pair of shorts. You're not going to want to pay full price. But maybe there's one more thing you'd like and you find a leather coat. There's a synergy of one department to the next. The retailer is interested in the next season as well as selling clearance."

Marx questions what the clearance center concept will do to Jacobson's image.

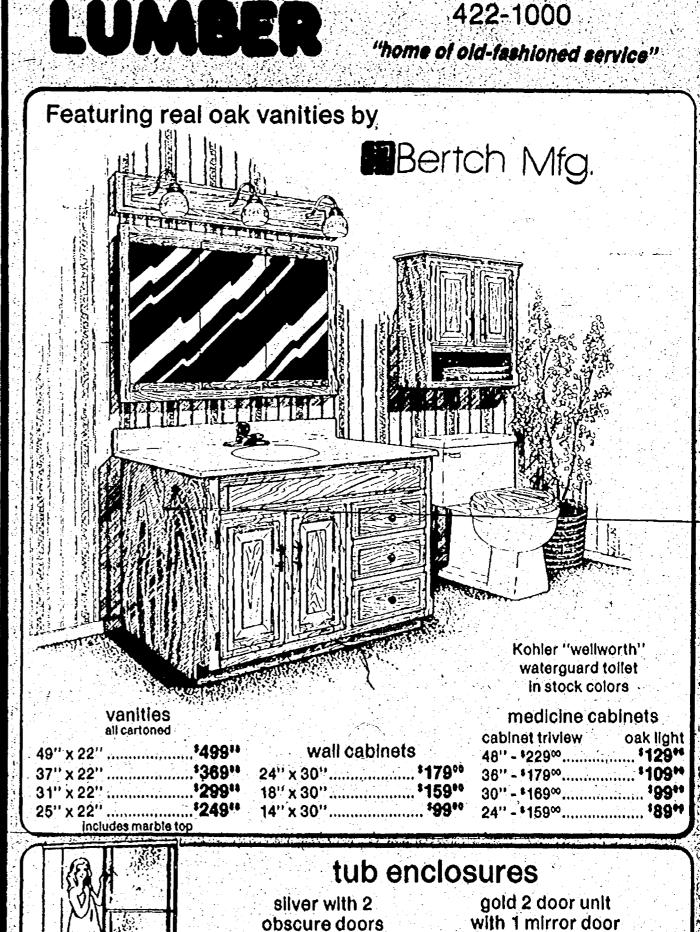

"The company is revered - their whole presentation, their service. Suddenly they have this (clearance) store, and it takes away from their cache. Usually lim very supportive of what Jacobson's does. People have a deep affection for them. But I don't think this helps.

Rosenfeld described the target customer as someone who is a Jacobson's customer now and those who are not but who would normally shop at clearance centers. He said Troy was chosen because of its proximity to Jacobson's metro Detroit stores.

By Helen Niemiec staff writer

Oakland University will unveil a new manufacturing program this fall designed to blend practical knowledge and academic learning into a comprehensive program to benefit those in supervisory and lower-management positions. The Production and Manufacturing Management certificate program is the first of its kind in Michigan and is a response to requests from manufacturing companies in the area. Designed by an advisory board, the program is co-sponsored by the university's business education and continuing education divisions. Those considering the program should have hands on experience in manufacturing and, preferably, two years of college because of the mathematics background required to understand the course materials. Toyota is making the best production car

There is an old story about a drill company that thought it had just made the smallest drill in the world and sent it off to a competitor along with a note that it was so small it took a microscope to see it.

It came back with a hole drilled in

The ancedote came to mind as I fiddled with a cup holder on the new Lexus LS400, Toyota's new luxury car, The LS400 isn't exactly a household word. In fact, it will be a while before you hear one of those guys at the State Fair saying anything like "This little number is the LS400 of steak knives." It is, however, the best car made in the world today. I say this fully realizing it will start an argument with somebody. In fact, I don't think I ever put the statement in print before - since I learned long ago never to say "first" and never to say "best," unless you want to lose a lot of arguments.

REGARDLESS, I think it was the cup holder that persuaded me. To begin with, the LS400 has a cup holder, and BMWs don't. Until the LS400, the best cupholders were on Chrysler products, and luxury car owners, particularly Germon Juxury car owners, mainly have to settle for a lot of wet spots between their legs the dreaded commuter coffee crotch.

The Lexus cup holder is concealed in the armrest between the seats. At a touch it kind of snicks out in a fluidmotion, with two polished arms unfolding like a satellite catcher in a James Bond movie. Then comes the grabber, as you notice two rubber flaps unfolding neatly into place, which are there to keep the cup from rattling.

The car is just full of this kind of stuff - the kind of neat things you used to depend on Cadillac for to amuse and impress your neighbors. But on top of the amusement value comes the realization that every one of the gimmicks has this quiet, fluid mechanical motion that is the result of the best mix of engineering and fine craftsmanship: an amusement park with rides by Rolex.

THE BIG pieces are obvious - notably one of the smoothest, most efficient and most powerful V-8s ever stuffed in a luxury car. The ride is silky, smoother than any other car I have ever driven - while extraordinarily stable at high speeds and cornering.

"It doesn't have a power ashtray," someone jokes as he touches a memory button and the power seat adjusts in three dimensions to fit the driver, the headrest moves into proper position, the seat belt anchors slide to customize against the driver, the outside rear view mirrors change angle, and then the steering wheel changes angle and telescopes to the proper reach. All with that same uncanny smoothness, all auto-

With its $40,000-plus price tag, the discussion of this car so far mainly has centered around its effect on the luxury market, and whether the Japanese can "catch up" with the ultra expensive German makes. After spending a couple of days scrutinizing the car, I think most of the analysts and car critics have missed the

I SUSPECT that this car never was conceived as a way of catching up or matching another company. It was more likely the result of a selfinitiated directive to do the absolute best every facet of the company knew how to do. An easy enough thing to say, but as it turns out, it led to refinements and improvements in areas I assumed had reached their maximum state of development

The price tag is misleading, since as, it implies the car is the result of a: throwing money at a problem. Frankly, I think the car demonstrates that almost any mid-range? car could be mass-produced by this company on the same level.

It's a sobering thought, because I ... suspect that the LS400 represents such a tour de force of mass-produced precision, innovation and elegant industrial design that very few companies today, if any, have the technical resources to duplicate it, we at any price.

The new hole in the twist drill is very small indeed.

If you want to pay less in taxes, divert, divert, divert

Second of five parts

The second strategy of tax reduction is diversion. Diversion of income refers to the steps a taxpayer can take to channel investment returns into money that will (1) be taxed at lower rates, (2) offer higher deductions, or (3) completely avoid taxation.

Home ownership

The most significant benefit to home ownership as a tax-avoidance strategy, of course, is the ability to postpone almost indefinitely the recognition of gains on the sale of the principal residence.

As long as the proceeds from the sale of the residence are used to buy or build a residence within two years, and the cost of the new residence equals or exceeds the sale proceeds from the old residence, no capital gains are recognized.

Captial can be accumulated in a principal residence without tax consequences. This retains the original basis of the first home plus improve-

A taxpayer is 55 or older completely avoids tax on profits up to $125,000 when he finally sells and does not reinvest in a primary residence. This delaying feature shelters $125,000 of capital accumulation from taxation.

Matching incomes and losses -

Another strategy, matching incomes and losses, can also minimize the tax liability.

The passive-loss limitation does not permanently disallow losses and credits from passive activities but rather determines how and when the losses and credits can be claimed by the taxpayer.

Losses from a passive activity are deductible only against income from that or another passive activity.

finances and you Sid Mittra

Unused losses can be carried forward indefinitely and can be used to offset passive income realized by the taxpayer in subsequent years.

While the current law permits the postponement of current losses, a taxpayer is better off deducting the losses during the current year.

For instance, if a taxpayer has significant capital gain in one tax year and has a potential loss on an investment, he can reduce his overall tax liability by selling the losing investment and realizing the loss in the same tax year as the capital gain to offset the gain and reduce tax liabili-

Tax shelters

The change in tax law requiring that passive losses may only offset passive income has dramatically changed the use of tax shelters.

Tax shelters have historically been investments designed to create accounting losses that could be used as deductions against taxable income from other sources. Investors did not materially participate in the management of these investments. hence the designation "passive activ-

Most shelters were set up to generate the biggest deductions in the first few years so investors could get their money back quickly in the form of tax write-offs. If the investment went well, it eventually turned prof-

Some investments never did, partly because relatively few economic benefits were expected from them. With the change in tax law, the write-offs generated by such tax shelters are no longer deductible against any income except income income from a passive activity.

To soften the blow to individuals who have invested heavily in tax shelters before Oct. 23, 1986, writeoffs are being gradually phased out and will no longer be available after

The change in tax law shifted the emphasis in tax shelter investment from tax write-offs to making money. As a planning strategy, taxpayers should look to tax shelters to help them appropriately time or offset their passive gains and losses.

While investors who have significant passive income will still seek passive losses, most investors with existing tax shelter investments and passive losses-should seek to gen-,, erate additional passive income.

Micro marketing offers good alternative to mass marketing

Zeroing in on key customer groups is crucial for any company planning its promotional strategy. Business owners who believe that their products and services appeal to everyone are only kidding themselves.

This "mass marketing mentality" assumes that any individual or business has the potential of becoming a regular customer so long as everyone has the same opportunity to be reached through promotion.

No where has the ineffectiveness of mass marketing been more apparent than in prime time television advertising. Ten years ago, approximately 92 percent of prime time viewers watched commercials; today audience share has dropped by nearly 30 percent.

A RECENT Business Week article points out that even Proctor & Gamble, "the king of mass marketers" is experimenting with various micro marketing techniques to better identify, locate and satisfy new customer markets.

Dividend reinvestment plan could cut selling price

Q. Many people have told me I should use dividend reinvestment plans, but my broker says I shouldn't because of the problems in selling. He told me I would not be able to get the price I wanted. How would I be able to sell the stock if I participated in a plan?

A. Before getting into the actual mechanics, a bit of investment philosophy might be in order.

In my opinion, participating in a dividend reinvestment plan is most effective or the person dedicated to long-term investing who wishes to accumulate shares over a period of time. The plans are not designed for someone who wished to get in and out of a stock.

There are really three different procedures for selling through dividend reinvestment plans.

THE MOST frequently used is to contact the plan administrator and instruct him to sell all of the shares in the account, including any fractional shares held.

. As of the next investment date, the shares will be sold and a check sent to you. It is not possible to set a price at which to sell in this instance.

Your shares could be sold at a price higher or lower than the prevailing price at the time you decided to dispose of the shares.

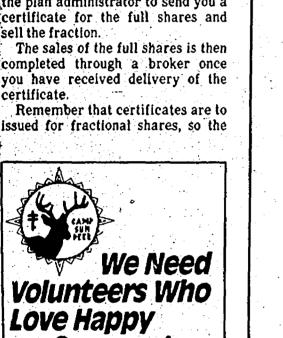

Even though the plan may be one where not commissions are charged, there usually is a commission on sales. It stands to reason that the company does not want to pay the charges when you are disposing of shares.

HOWEVER, THE commission is usually smaller than that charged by a broker.

A second alternative is to request the plan administrator to send you a certificate for the full shares and sell the fraction.

'Stardust' in his voice, doing the old standards

By Victor E. Swanson special writer

NOMETIMES WHEN you hear a good old standard song, such as "That Old Black Magic," you hear a bit of "stardust" in it - that is, the heart of the singer. That's especially true if the singer is George "Stardust" Green, the professional supper-club entertainer, who is now a resident of West Bloomfield.

Although barely settled into a new house, Green is already working on his career here. "I would like to see if I can formulate the type of group that would fit in supper clubs," Green said expressively, using his whole body to talk, continually moving and gesturing, in his seat in his kitchen. I've been in some nice rooms - eating houses (here). They have no music.'

According to Green, one reason for the lack of supper clubs in the Detroit area is, "The type of music you play in a supper club is different than the type of music that you would play for a concert. I don't think that the musicians here know the type of music that the supper club people appreciate. The first thing is, they would like music if it would go along with the conversation."

Green said the supper club entertainer "must play contemporary jazz. He must know the show tunes. He must be smart enough to know the music never gets into the area to make it offensive." And he must know "the standards," for patrons like to hear familiar songs.

GREEN IS a musician and singer. He calls himself a lyric baritone. "My speaking voice doesn't sound like my singing voice at all," he said.

He wants to put together a duo in which he will sing and play drums. "I'm looking for a piano player. I need a plano player who thinks like I think, and who loves music like I love music, who likes to rehearse." He would prefer a woman. Also, "I'm not tied down to race. That has nothing to do with it."

"I got to say that the status I attained as a performer has come from people - who didn't look at color - who were looking at my ability," he said.

Green came to the Detroit area from Reno, where he was working at the Hilton with a white woman, inher '50s, whom he had found in a mission. Although she has a master's degree in music, she was, as Green described her, not much more than "a bag lady" when he found her. Today she is teaching music classes at the local university.

Green was in Reno with his family

'The type of music you play in a supper club is different than the type of music that you would play for a concert. I don't think that the musicians here know the type of music that the supper club people appreciate. The first thing is, they would like music if it would go along with the conversation.'

- George 'Stardust' Green

- wife Shirley and their son, Bill, and daughter, Veronica — for about seven years. Mostly, they were there because of his wife's career in hospital administration.

Before going to Reno, Green spent many years in Chicago, where he was born and raised, working the many supper clubs around in the 1960 and 1970s. In the early '60s, he was a member of the Ramsey Lewis Trio, with Lewis and L.D. Young. They worked the south side of Chica-

HE SOON BRANCHED off and formed his own group, Stardust, with pianist Bob Knowles and bassist Dolphyus Dean. Green described Dean as "a man that could use a bow as fast as most guys could pick."

Together for much of the '60s and 70's, they worked in Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Indiana. For about nine months they even worked in California.

In 1967, Green performed in South Africa on a 21-day tour with singers Laverne Baker and Billy Williams, bassist Billy Yancy and Bob Knowles.

"We were received admirably. We quartered at an Indian hotel . . . and it was very nice. All the concerts that were scheduled were integrated," he said.

Green explained why they had gone and performed in South Africa: "Anything that smacks of racism is always hard to digest, but we also figured that there's a certain culture that these people are reaching out (and) trying to identify with. So who are we hurting? Who's getting injured the most? Is it the white populace, who - the dominate force who are keeping that part . . . of this world in what you call dire straits of apartheid, which is hard-core segregation, or are we hurting the people who don't get a chance to see what the offsprings of 400 years have been able to attain?"

He commented on the recent conflict the musical group the Commodores was having, in which one performer of the group didn't want to perform in South Africa. "I can understand how the guy feels who doesn't want to go. He looking at it from strictly a racial standpoint. But on the other hand, he's doing the same thing that he's fightin . . . He's taking to punishing 25 million people

... for what five million people are doing and not allowing them to enjoy his culture. So he's playing right into the same hands that he's trying to

GREEN DID HAVE time for lighter topics. He talked about how his wife, whom he has been married his life." to for about 22 years, is in nursing administration at Harper Hospital. Bill, 17, a keyboardist, is interested in science fiction and football, and it looks as if he will be a member of the West Bloomfield High School football team this year.

Of Veronica (who often is called Ronnie), 13, Green said with sparkle in his voice — or was it stardust? — "She's quite a dancer. She's into ballet and tap and modern and jazz, and very good, and very, very good, and she plays keyboard." It was Green's mother, who died about eight years ago, who really guided Green to a musical career. Otherwise, he might have become a baseball player. "The scouts were looking at me. I mean, around third base I was a vacuum. They used to call me, 'The Vacuum.' They (the scouts) did come around the house to talk to Mom, and she said, "No, I'm going to have him do something that's going to make him happy all

So instead of being known "The Vacuum," George Green is known as "Stardust."

Wild grapes are plentiful, tasty now

While walking along fence rows and riverbanks at local parks in the area and throughout the state, I am reminded of the Viking's name for North America — Vinland. When the Vikings landed in the New England the profusion of grape vines, that they named the country Vinland.

There is still an abundance of wild grape vines in our area. Michigan sports four species according to one authority, and throughout the United species. Leaves and fruit of all species look very similar and all produce an edible fruit.

grape was used to cultivate the Concord, Catawba and Isabella varieties. Fruit taken from wild plants does not make good wine, but it does make excellent jams and jellies.

Wild grapes of all species grow in area they were so impressed with a variety of places, so there is no problem in finding a supply to collect. But be sure to collect them when they are ripe. For some additional flavor you may want to add a few unripe fruit.

The only problem you may have in States there are from 24-30 different - collecting, is finding ripe fruit before the animals do. Approximately 57 species of birds and 12 species of mammals enjoy eating the ripe fruit One species, the northern fox to fatten up for fall and winter. Even dried fruit discovered in winter is some of those seeds pass through the digestive system of birds and animals, and are deposited on sidewalks, clean cars, or aluminum slding. Grapevine is found commonly in fence rows because it is a place where birds and animals frequently rest and deposit seeds.

Birds not only enjoy the ripe fruit of grapes, but brown thrashers and cathirds use strips of bark from the vine to build their nests. Their dense tangle of stems provide good cover and shelter for a variety of animals born in summer and in winter.

Instead of going to the grocery store to buy some grape jelly go out and collect some wild fruits and make your own. Always be sure of your identification and be considerate of private property.

New contenders eye hoop crowns

By Brad Emons staff writer

Some familiar faces and some fresh talent should have a big impact on the girls prep basketball scene this season.

A few signals have already been sent as the old guard in the Western Lakes Activities Activities may be crumbling.

Plymouth Canton, the defending WLAA champion, however, is still the team to beat in the Western Division, but the Chiefs could be hearing footsteps from an up-and-coming Livonia Franklin squad.

Canton, 19-2 a year ago, still has a strong nucleus, led by All-Observer center Susan Ferko, a 5-foot-11 senior. She is joined by starters Jenny Russell and Stacey Thompson.

But the Patriots, despite a bonafide center, could break through WLAA's elite after going 16-8 last season and winning a district title.

Sophomore guard Dawn Warner, who made first-team All-Observer as a freshman averaging 16 points per game, heads a potent lineup which also includes junior forward Julianne Stesiak, the team's secondleading scorer.

IN THE LAKES DIVISION, Plymouth Salem has ruled with an iron fist, but with the departure of All-State point-guard Jill Estey (University of Illinois), the Rocks will be challenged more severely by the likes of North Farmington, Westland John Glenn and Walled Lake Cen-Ìtral. -

Salem is already off to a rocky start (0-3), losing twice in a tournament in Traverse City and Tuesday at home to Flint Powers.

North (14-9) returns three starters in Kim Gurecki, Vikki Seamonds and Eve Claar, while Glenn, although hard-hit-by graduation, has three Redford Thurston.

promising incoming sophomores for fifth-year coach Pat Bennett.

Livonia Stevenson also returns some promising underclassmen and Farmington, yet another Lakes Division member, was bolstered by transfers Mandy and Rachael Cannon from Redford Temple Christian.

THE STATE'S toughest loop, the Catholic League's Central Division, produced Class A state champion Birmingham Marian in 1988. The Mustangs lost Miss Basketball Jennifer Shasky, but starters Trina Govan and Hazel Olden return. Former state Class B champion Livonia Ladywood and former Class A champion Farmington Hills Mercy are also expected to be strong.

Ladywood, which reached the state Class A quarterfinals before losing to Marian, lost Yvonne Barnett and Jenny Kennedy (Bowling Green State), but feature one of the state's tallest front lines in 6-1 senior Cari Mitter and 6-0 junior Rebecca

First-year coach Toni Gasparovic, an assistant from Marian, could challenge for Central honors.

Mercy, which suffered through a rare sub-.500 season (9-13), is expected to rebound in '89 with the return of senior point-guard Jenny Clinton.

Redford Bishop Borgess, a twotime district champion but lower division squad in the Central, lost four starters from an 11-9 team.

THE SPARTANS were dealt a severe blow as the team's top returning player, second-leading scorer Kyra Woodard, a junior point-guard, apparently with be out six weeks with a fractured foot.

Without Woodard, it won't be an easy season for first-year coach Dave Mann, who comes over from

The Northwest Suburban League race should boil down to rivals Dearborn Edsel Ford and Garden City,

The Cougars finished second behind Dearborn a year ago and lost All-Area center Kim Falkowski, the area's top rebounder, but coach Marshall Henry is optimistic with the return of guard Carolyn Shanks and an unbeaten JV squad moving up to the varsity.

Redford Union, which played primarily underclassmen a year ago, could move up a notch or two in the

In the Wolverine A League, Trenton is the team to beat.

Wayne Memorial, 17-4 a year ago, lost four starters, but welcomes back jump-shooting point-guard Maya Lewis, a first-team All-Observer pick from a year ago. Firstyear coach Jack Furlong also has a fine rebounding center and inside scorer in 5-11 Dorris Bathwell.

REDFORD THURSTON, another young team, will be battling for second place in the Tri-River League with six other schools.

The odds-on favorite is Taylor Center, which topped the 20-win mark and reached the regional finals at Southfield (losing to Ladywood).

Taylor Center may boast one of the state's tallest and talented front lines, paced by 6-1 guard-forward Wendy Jamula, 6-3 center Jennifer Miller and 5-10 forward Tila Thom-

Redford St. Agatha, meanwhile, has already matched last year's win total, taking out Grosse Pointe Star of the Sea in Tuesday's season opener (see related story).

Lutheran Westland is joining the Michigan Independent Athletic Association, while Temple Christian of Redford will scramble to beat its Class D foes.

New additions put Ocelots in the hunt

By C.J. Risak staff writer

The news regarding Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team was promising already. The Ocelots, 9-2-3 last year but losers to arch-rival Macomb CC in the battle for the Region 12 crown, seemed strengthened by an influx of impressive talent.

Then came the news out of Oakland University, One of OU coach Gary Parsons' prize recruits, Gerard Walker of Arouca, Trinidad, had failed to complete all the tests necessary to qualify him to attend a four-year university in the

"It-looks-like-he'll-be-going-to Schoolcraft," said Parsons Tues-

SC coach Van Dimitriou con-firmed that SC athletic department officials were working on the paperwork to get Walker into school. If all goes well and Walker does get enrolled, the Ocelots could go from impressive to outstanding.

AT LEAST Dimitriou thinks so. "Absolutely," he said. "We're in the process of improving our team 20 to 25' percent. If we can get this kid, it frees up another player to play somewhere else. Plus, there's the confidence factor."

Oddly, no one is certain just how good Walker is. Only two countrymen, Earl Parris and Emmanuel Charles, both playing at OU, have seen him on the field.

But Parsons, who has built OU into one of the best NCAA Division II programs in the nation, has been so impressed with Charles that he has already listed him as a starter. Walker is reputedly just as skilled, although he's more defensiveminded.

If he becomes eligible, Walker will probably play sweeper for SC and Chris Speen (from Livonia Churchill) will move to stopper, an already-solid de-

'We're working as hard as I've ever seen a Schoolcraft team work. It's a matter of "pride with us now.'

- Van Dimitriou Schoolcraft soccer coach

There's more to the Ocelots. Depth shouldn't be a problem. Neither should strength. The team has been working in the weight room three days a week in what Dimitriou termed "a total fitness program." Dimitriou plans to scale back the weight training to twice a week once the season starts.

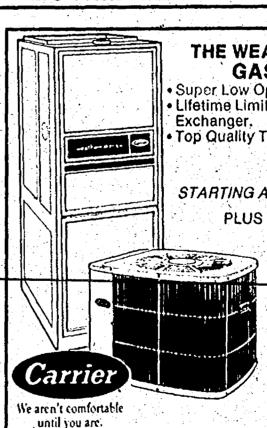

The Ocelots may need all their strength to overtake Macomb CC. The Monarchs have won the last two regional titles, allowing them to make the trip to the/National Junior College Athletic Association Inter-Regional tournament in Chlcago.

THAT PROVIDES SC with another advantage: incentive. "We'reworking very, very hard," said Dimitriou. "We're working as hard as I've ever seen a Schoolcraft' team work.

"It's a matter of pride with us now. There's no question Macomb is strong (the Monarchs defeated University of Detroit 2-1 in a preseason scrimmage last week, according to Dimitriou), but we're improved. I think when we play them, it will be a good match."

In last season's pivotal showdown, SC was thumped at home 5-0. "This year it won't be a runaway," promised Dimitriou. "That I'll guarantee."

Walker's addition would bolster that guarantee.

Captain Coleman

Stats take backseat to leadership quality

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Mill Coleman is accustomed to being a leader.

In two seasons as quarterback of the Farmington Hills Harrison football team, he has provided the direction that has made the Hawks a prolific offensive machine.

Coleman, heretofore, has led by example.

The quiet, introverted player has made his statement with his tremendous skills and been content to let the upperclassmen do the cheerleading.

Coleman enters the 1989 season as a senior, and that adds another dimension to his role on the team. As a tri-captain, Coleman will be expected to lead in word as well as "Being a quarterback the past few years, you have to be a leader on the team, so it's not something totally new to me," Coleman said. "I just have to take on a little more leadership."

COLEMAN KNOWS fellow captains Matt Conley and Steve Hill can be counted on to rally the troops in time of need, but he plans to assert himself, too, in ways he wasn't expected as a sophomore and junior.

"As a captain, I may have to be a little more vocal," he said. "There will be others to get the guys fired up, but I may have to say 'Come on, guys, get your heads up' or 'Keep going, we're not finished yet.' I'll have to be more vocal in that re-

Anyone who knows Coleman knows he will assert himself on the playing field. As a senior, friend and foe alike expect him to perform the same feats, work the same magic, he has the last two vears. He enters his final year at Harrison as one of the top-rated high school quarterbacks in the countryand with some impressive statistics, which undoubtedly will increase handsomely before he's-

Coleman passed for 2,074 yards in 1988 — his second straight year: over 2,000 - and 28 touchdowns. In the process, he connected on 103 of his 171 attempts for a 60-percent completion rate. He added 470 yards and seven TDs rushing, to boot, as Harrison, the No. 1-rated team in Class B all season, compiled a 13-0 record, won its fifth Western Lakes Activities Association title and captured a third state championship.

"IT'S KINDA hard to top last

Mill Coleman, the fleet-footed, strong-armed quarterback at Farmington Hills Harrison, enters his senior year as one of the top-rated prep quarterbacks in the country. He has passed for more than 5,500 yards and could leave his mark on several national record lists.

season, but I'm only worrled about winning our games and the league before I think about the state championship," Coleman said.

"If we do the things we're supposed to, any stats and numbers will be there. So I don't worry if I'm going to pass for 200 yards in this game or run for 100."

Though Coleman's reserved nature makes it easy to believe he's genuinely not concerned about stats, the fact remains he could leave his name on several national lists of statistical achievers. Though it would take another season like he had in '88 and then some to set any records, Coleman could realistically move into the top 10 in career TD passes, completion percentage and passing Coleman has completed 55.3 percent of his passes, which ties him for ninth place on the National High School Athletic Association chart. He has 60 career TDs and needs another 21 to become one of the 10 best. He has passed for 5,496 yards and conceivably could surpass 7,000, pushing him well past No. 10 on that list.

"To be honest, it wasn't something I set out to do," Coleman said. "My dad was looking through a stat book and happened to notice I was up there with some of the leaders in the country.

"IT'S NICE TO be up there, but it won't be the end of the world if I don't set any records."

Coleman possesses an amazingly strong arm that will astonish firsttime observers, who assume a 5foot-9, 165-pound-youth can't possibly throw as far and with such accuracy as he does.

And he has chosen timely occasions to do just that. Coleman qualifies unreservedly as a gamer, having some of his greatest moments in the state playoffs. He led Harrison back from a 20-7 deficit in the 1987 semifinals against Marysville to win 35-20, and he passed for a state-finals record 238 yards in the 1988 championship game as the Hawks whipped St. Joseph 44-9.

Harrison plans to continue throwing the ball, but it could be more difficult for Coleman to repeat the numbers he racked up as a junior. The reason is the two receivers who caught most of those passes and had most of the receiving yardage, Bryan Wauldron and Chad Burgess, have graduated.

Steve Hill is the lone holdover at swingback, but Coleman is learning to work with an essentially new group, of receivers this year. Instead of throwing to two allstaters, most of Coleman's passes will go to Scott Ratsos, Roy Granger and Jon Schaeffer.

"I've been working with the new receiver corps for a while," Coleman said. "We have Steve Hill back. But it's hard at times because some of the guys don't have the speed Chad and Bryan did and I've overthrown them.

"I KNEW WHAT (Burgess and Wauldron) could do and what they couldn't. It's different, getting the timing down and knowing what (the new receivers) capabilities are. But we have good receivers and the potential is there. We're coming along, and we'll get there."

Coleman, being true to his modest nature, isn't making any bold predictions, but he believes the Hawks have the ability to organize another massive aerial strike this year.

"I'm not going to say I want to pass for so many yards and touchdowns, but we have receivers capable of getting 2,000 yards," he said.

Central Division

Rice bids to break CC hold

By Brad Emons staff writer

There's no room for the faint of heart in the tough Central Division of the Catholic League.

The 1989 football season for six schools will again test each member in a survival of the fittest.

For the past two seasons Redford

Catholic Central has ruled the Central and won the Catholic League A-B Division title. A bridesmaid for the past two seasons, Birmingham Brother Rice appears to be the favorite to reclaim its first crown since 1986. But watch out for three other contending teams including always tough Warren DeLaSalle, along with Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher and Harper Woods Notre Dame.

Only Redford Bishop Borgess appears to be a long shot for the title. Here is a preview of the Central:

REDFORD CC

The Shamrocks (12-1 overall, 5-0 Central) lost several key performers including All-State nose tackle Lee Krueger (University of Wisconsin), quarterback Scott Hauncher, center/linebacker Pat McHale, tackle Jack Dankert, end Lou Yeager and kicker Pete Elezovic.

But tackle Ryan Bell, a 6-foot-3, 245pound senior, anchors another strong CC

The team's strength lies in its skill players with the return of senior tailback Dave Owens (716 yards), wide receiver Mike Mathis and fullback Arshon Stewart.

The quarterback situation rests with a pair of juniors - 6-1, 180-pound Jason Carr, son of University of Michigan defensive coordinator Lloyd Carr, and 5-10, 170-pound Jack Davidson.

"We have a lot of people we can go to," said CC coach Tom Mach, who has guided the Shamrocks to one state title (1979) and a pair of second place finishes (1987-88).

BIRMINGHAM BROTHER RICE

Optimism is running high in the Warriors' camp as coach Al Fracassa, entering his 21st season, welcomes back senior quarterback Bob Utter, who completed 101 of 180 passes for 1,127 yards and nine touchdowns last season.

Utter compares favorably former stalwart Rice quarterbacks, including Jon English, Dave Yarema, Allen Sydlowskii and Jon Gieselman.

"Bob is probably one of our hardest workers," Fracassa said. "He's a real leader. He can also run. He ranks right up there with the other fine quarterbacks we've had at Rice."

7 HO ARE SOME of the top college football prospects around Observerland? Some past Observerland standouts have had a big effect on the collegiate gridiron, including University of Michigan linebacker Alex Marshall (Bishop Borgess High), U-M tailback Tony Boles (Westland John Glenn), Michigan State tailback Scott Selzer (North Farmington) and Eastern Michigan defensive back John Stoitsladis (Livonia Churchill). Others have gone on to the pro ranks including

Michigan's Mark Messner (Redford CC), trying to hold on with the Los Angeles Rams; and MSU's John Miller (Farmington Harrison), who is trying to stick with the Detroit Lions. It will take awhile to determine how this class ranks, but the Observer sports staff has compiled the following list with the help of area prep and college coaches. A list of some of the top underclassmen has also been compiled.

TOP 15 SENIORS

1, Mill Coleman, quarterback, Farm. Harrison: Mill "The Thrill" Is by far Observerland's top player, having thrown for 2,074 yards (103 of 171) last year and over 5,000 during his three-year varsity career. Rated one of the nation's top prep quarterbacks by the Sporting News, Coleman's only drawback is his lack of size (5 feet 9 Inches, 165 pounds), which may scare away some coaches. But don't forget, Doug Flutie made it big at Boston College and is now playing in the NFL.

2. Ryan Bell, lineman, Redford CC: Designated

"our best lineman" by coach Tom Mach says it all. The 6-3, 245-pound two-way tackle is a fierce pass rusher and good blocker. The second-team All-Observer pick from a year ago follows the likes of former CC offensive line stalwarts Joe Mioarana, Jeff Wiska, Dan Nash and

3, Ryan Johnson, tallback/safety, Ply. Salem:

The 6-3, 215-pound Johnson could also play quarterback and linebacker, but coach Tom Moshimer prefers him at tailback and strong safety. He's not alraid to make contact and his very mobile for his size. Reminds. some of former Salem standout Scott Jurek, who went on to perform at Eastern Michigan University, Johnson was second team All-Area last year. 4. Dave Owens, tallback, Redford CC: Expected to have a big year after gaining a year's experience (716 yards). Small for a running back (6-7, 165), but added strength should make him CC's best ball carrier since Aaron Roberts (1980). His brother Fred, who played a Redford Bishop Borgess High, is a senior tallback at the University of Wisconsin.

5. Andy Sapienza, fullback/linebacker, Liv. Churchill: If motivated, the 6-2, 218-pound Sapienza could be in the class with the late Churchill great Matt Foster, who started on Michigan State's 1978 Big Ten championship club. The word is that Saplenza's work ethic is better than a year ago, which should make him Division I caliber come November.

6. Steve Hill, linebacker/fullback/kicker, Farm. Harrison: A hernia problem slowed him during the pre season, but the 6-3, 210-pound Hill has bounced back. He is probably the area's most versatile performer. Hill can play swingback and is the Hawke' leader on detense at linebacker. Kicking, however, may be his forte. Last year he made 62 of 65 extra points and booted six field goals en route to first-team All-Area honors.

7. Mike Mathis, wide receiver/defensive back, Redford CC: Saw considerable action last year for a team that reached the Class A state title game. He could be a bonafide Division I player before his senior year ends. Speed to burn, Mathls (6-1, 190) will be a deep threat on ollense and a good cover man on defense.

8. Pierre Hixon, defensive back, Wayne: An All-

Wolverine A League pick as a junior, Hixon (5-11, 165) is fast and strong. He's not alread to make contact and should be one of the area's standouts before the 1989 season ends. Also an excellent basketball player and track performer. 9. Mark Johnston, offensive tackle/linebacker,

Westland Glenn: The second-team All-Observer pick made his presence known as a junior and should be in line for a big senior year. The 6-2, 230 pounder is a Mid-American Conference caliber player and is one of the reasons why Glenn could be making its fourth state playoff appearance in five years. 10. Eric Stover, quarterback, Westland Glenn:

Although overshadowed by Coleman, the 6-1, 168pound signal caller threw for 13 TDs as a junior and should be even better this season. He is quick enough to scramble and should ring up some impressive passing numbers this year, surpassing the likes of former Glenn standouts Steve Irwin, Steve Hawley and Clint Straub.

11. Matt Conley, tallback, Farm. Harrison: Missed the first three games of 1988 because of a knee injury, but rebounded to lead the state Class B champions in rushing (463 yards and 13 touchdowns). In the playoffs he scored a school-record six TDs against Avondale. The 5-11, 192-pound running back should be able to double his rushing total this season.

Eric Stover, consulting with Glenn coach Chuck Gordon on the sidelines, helps to make the Rockets a precessor contender for Lakes Division and WLAA honors.

Hawks, Rockets favored to repeat

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Judging from preseason indicators, the 1989 football season in the Western Lakes Activities Association could be a repeat of the previous one.

Farmington Hills Harrison and Westland John Glenn, the division champions and league finalists a year ago, are expected to field strong teams once more and, come late October, could end up playing for the title again.

Farmington Hills Harrison, the reigning WLAA and Class B champion, is the Observer sports staff's pick to win the Western Division title this fall. Think that has something to do with the return of Mill Coleman?

Watch out for Livonia Churchill, tiough, because the Chargers have one of erverland's biggest, most explosive of ensive backfields. In the Lakes Division, defending champen Westland John Glenn is expected to the a challenge from Plymouth Salem North Farmington, but the Rockets the early favorites in their half of the

"I think we'll be more balanced," said coach Chuck Gordon, in his 13th year. With Satterlee it was foolish not to run. Eric is a good quarterback and one of the real keys to the season. He has as good an arm as we've had." Sixty players are out for Glenn's varsity and the co-captains of the group are Tom Luxton (5-10, 162), a senior backup tallback, and senior defensive end Kraig Kuban. Senior Shannon Layne (5-10, 170) is the incumbent to start at tailback and the fullback is senior Paul Bialy (5-11, ferce hitter. Others to watch include hoseguard Sam Weddington (5-8, 170) and linebacker Mark Johnston (6-2, 230), who also starts at offensive tackle.

-PLYMOUTH SALEM

The Rocks' wishbone offense has potential with the return of seniors Ryan Johnson, Pat Bowle and Rob Kowalski.

Johnson and Kowalski shared time last year at quarterback, but the signal caller this year will be Kowalski. Johnson (6-3. 216) will line up at halfback, Bowie refurns at fullback and an impressive newcomer is halfback Chad Johnson, who sat out last year after transferring from Redford Catholic Central.

The problem is, Salem, with only Casey Nichols and Joe Roza returning on the line, will need to open some holes for the talent-laden backfield.

"We're so thin up front, we converted two backs to linemen," coach Tom Moshimer said. NORTH FARMINGTON

North is building its 1989 team around defense, even though defensive standouts Zaim Cunmulaj and Joe Sturtz, have graduated.

Among the returnees is heavy-hitting senior inside linebacker Rob Zeno (5-11, 170), and secondarymen Chris White and Jerry Dolak. The Raiders were 7-2 a year ago, and coach Jim O'Leary counts on an experienced secondary to make up for any other deficiencies the team has.

The junior varsity also was 7-2 a year ago and O'Leary is confident those players will continue to be successful on the

Kraus (5-10, 160) has more quickness and running ability than Filipovich, so there might be more sprintout passing in North's offense:

Sturtz, who rushed for 1,001 yards last fall at tailback will be replaced by Bart Sinanis, the noseguard in '88, Dolak returns at upback. Cunmulaj leaves a big void on the line where a host of new players will get their chance.

WALLED LAKE CENTRAL

The Vikings lost quarterback Derk Wallace to graduation, but seven starters return on both offense and defense.

Central finished the season at 4-5 overall, 2-3 in the Lakes Division. The Vikings are a senior-laden group, but sophomore Mark Tartacuk (5-6, 170) might be the replacement for Wallace, who threw for 737 yards and earned all-division honors as a safety.

The other quarterback candidate is junior Lawrence Kerber.

"We'll roll a lot with Mark," coach Gary Tuz said. "We'll get him outside and throw the ball with him. Ideally, I wouldn't want a sophomore at quarterback because we're basically a senior team, but right now the seniors have taken to him. I hope he can jump on their bandwagon and fit right in."

The tailback is junior Joe Gough (6-1, 195), who gained 630 yards on the ground and 340 in passing yardage last year. Three starters, including 6-5, 250-pound senior tackle Brian Marsh, return on the

"We'll have to drop the mental mistakes," he sald.

LIVONIA STEVENSON

Coach Jack Reardon, entering his 24th year, is coming off a 4-5 record in 1988, his first losing season in 17 years.

Improving on its record will be a diffiturning starters and seven seniors on the roster. The most impressive senior is Brian Piergentili (5-11, 182), an all-purpose Johnson rushed for 537 yards and eight back last season, who will start at quar-

Western Lakes

"He might be one of our top three football players," Reardon sald, "Last year he started every position for us. He works hard and loves the game of football."

The tailback position will be filled by either Rob Petree (5-10, 188), a senior who missed most of last season with a broken collarbone, or junior Tim Marshke (5.8, 148).

Kevin Corradi, a 6-0, 178-pound senior, gives the Spartans a reliable player at tight end.

All-Observer first-team tackle Eric Ruth is missing from the offensive line after graduating, and Reardon is faced with the task of rebuilding the whole line. Only two seniors, Doug Pascoe (5-10, 208) and Barry Greco (6-0, 211) are expected to be among the playing group.

Stevenson, with only three players listed over 200 pounds, will "have to have a great pursuit defense," Reardon said.

FARMINGTON

The Falcons were winless in nine games, so second-year coach Rick Milhizer is eager to get that first win under his He'd like to get it Friday at West Bloomfield, before the Western Lakes Activities Association season kicks off later next month.

Leading Farmington's offense is senior guarterback Chris Schmid, who started the last three games a year ago. Tailback Dave Winey returns for his senior year after gaining 350 yards, and one of Schmid's best targets will be senior flanker Brian Vicchlo.

The tight end is Eric Miller, who started the '88 season at quarterback, and the biggest lineman is Derek Mehreban (6-4, 235). Numbers are slim, however, at Farmington, and Milhizer will be forced to play nearly all his starters both ways.

"The players are starting to understand what it takes to be a winner," Milhizer said. "Being a winner isn't just winning on game day. It's being a winner all the time. The little things are important, but we're still hurt by numbers."

FARMINGTON HILLS HARRISON

Opposing teams are hoping Mill Coleman isn't saving his best for last.

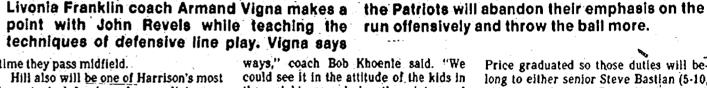

Coleman enters his senior year with one Class B state championship already behind him, and the Hawks are expected to contend for that honor again. The 5foot-9, 165-pound quarterback - rated among the best high school players in the country at his position by the Sporting News - threw for 2,074 yards last year and has thrown for more than 5,000 yards in his career.

Coleman completed 103 of 171 passes last year in leading the Hawks to a 13-0 record and the WLAA title.

So what's left as an encore? "I don't know how he can improve on his play after last year," coach John Herrington said. "But he's a captain now and he'll have to show some more offfield leadership."

There is concern at Harrison because the Hawks have to replace Coleman's favorite targets, Bryan Wauldron and Chad Burgess, who graduated. Also gone from the offensive line are Dale Katz and Jeff Skinner and their replacements are inexperlenced. But Herrington has a trio of impressive senior returnees in the backfield - Matt Conley (5-11, 192), Joe George (6-0, 185) and Steve Hill (6-3, 210). Conley gained a team-high 463 yards and scored 13 touchdowns last year. Hill, one of the state's premier kickers with 62 extra points last year, makes the Hawks a threat every important defensive players, lining up alongside Blazo Sarcevich (6-3, 212) at inside linebacker.

Last year, Harrison yielded only 63 points in 13 games and no team scored more than two TDs against the Hawks in any game. The down linemen and secondary are young, but Harrison teams tend to reload, not rebuild.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

The Chargers are making a bid to become one of the Western Lakes surprise teams.

Churchill returns an explosive backfield - highlighted by senior fullback Andy Saplenza — and is expected to improve on its 4.5 record. A tough early season schedule, featuring North Farm-Ington and Farmington Hills Harrison in the first three weeks, might be the only thing preventing improvement.

Sapienza (6-2, 218) is the brother of former Livonia Bentley standout Steve Saplenza and may have more major-college

"The potential is there," coach Herb Osterland said of his second-team All-Observer standout. "We're looking for Andy to run up the middle, because he's a big, strong and tough kid. If we win the first couple games, it's really going to make for a positive situation.'

Others expected to carry the ball are senior swingback/inside linebacker Trent Naumcheff and Junior Mike Brooks. The quarterback is Mike Spaccarotella, a 5-7, 155-pound package.

The linebacking group will be a strength in Churchill's 52 defense. Sapienza and John Aittama will line up as outside linebackers and the inside linebackers will be Naumcheff and Bob Margo.

Others to watch on defense are nose guard Jim King (6-1, 190) and senior Kev-in Fletchner (5-10, 195).

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

Could Franklin coach Armand Vigna be erasing words like pitch and option from his playbook? Unless he's playing a game with the media, it appears so. "The option game is gone, no more pitching the ball, we're throwing if anything," Vigna said in an earlier interview.

'We're using a backwards approach.

We're going to pass to set up the run." Senior Brian Bartz, who possesses a strong arm, looks like the perfect candidate to run such an offense. A catcher on the baseball team, Vigna said Bartz has one of the strongest arms dating back to Rich Popp, the quarterback of the 1982, Franklin team. Vigna's line is stacked, so he's not opposed to running the ball. Leading line returnees include senior tackles Derek Ploch (6-1, 211) and Ray Moldovan (6-1; 220), junior guard Paul Rhoads (6-2, 210), senior center Christopher Counts (6-1, 207), and tight end Brian Stover (6-1, 180). The Patriots' 4-3 defense will be led by tackle Dan McKay (6-2, 216) and newcomer Chris Roberts (6-0, 237), also a tackie. Junior Bobby Johnson (6-1, 250) shows promise at linebacker and as a punter and placekicker.

PLYMOUTH CANTON

The Chiefs ended the 1988 season with upset win over Plymouth Salem marking the first time they ever beat the Rocks.

da and that, too, would be a first at Can-"The Salem win helped us in a lot of ways," coach Bob Khoenie said. "We could see it in the attitude of the kids in the weight room during the winter and spring. If nothing else, that win made the klds believe in themselves a little more." Junior Karl Wukie, who gained valuable experience late in the year at quarterback, returns to lead the Chiefs' I-formation offense. Canton was 0-4 before Wukie took over but finished 3-6. Another important member of Canton's offense is tailback Joel Riggs, who has beefed up to 175 pounds.

The Chiefs lost their leading receiver, Mark Barrette, to graduation, but return seniors Jeremy Rheault (5.6, 160), Dave Makara (5-10, 155) and Chris Robinson (5-8, 140).

Senior Brian Bartlett (6-1, 205) lines up at tackle on offense and begins his third year as a starter at defensive end. The Chiefs are deep at linebacker, where Trond Darby, Jason Bielec, Jason Dembny and Josh Walaskay return.

An area of concern is the secondary, which will be dominated by an untested junior class.

NORTHVILLE

The Mustangs return mammoth-sized defensive tackle Rob Spradlin (6-5, 260), but even he isn't able to fill all the voids created by graduation.

Nine seniors off last year's team graduated, so Spradlin, considered a majorcollege prospect by coach Darrell Schumacher, will need to make more of an impact this year.

Spradlin was an All-Western Division choice a year ago. Three starters, Chuck Schuff (6-0, 225), Bob Townsend (5-11, 185) and Jason Stringer (5-10, 180), return to the offensive line. Quarterback Greg Price graduated so those duties will belong to either senior Steve Bastlan (5-10,

Coach Chuck Apap, entering his 11th year at Western, has only three starters returning on offense and two on defense. One of the significant losses to graduation was Shoane Scannell, a quarterback and outside linebacker who is playing this fall at Wayne State University. Still, Apap remains optimistic.

"We're going to be better," he said! "We have a young team - we'll start two sophomores. The first three games (at home against Novi, Westland John Glenn and Northville) will dictate a lot to us. If we knock a few out in the beginning, that would put us on the right foot.' Senior tailback Sean Litzinger, a fullback in 1988, is the most impressive returning starter because of his 4.6 speed and strength. The other returning offensive starters are wide receiver Chris Johnson (5-10, 147), a 4.8 sprinter, and center Brent McCallum (5-7, 161). The quarterback is Todd Brion (6-1, 160), who had an "exceptional scrimmage," according to Apap against Detroit Country Day. .

Newcomers expected to contribute are sophomore running back Mat Middleton, who scored 16 touchdowns on the freshman team, and sophomore lineman Chris Defensively, the Warriors' 5-2 alignment will be led by senior inside linebacker John O'Mell (5-9, 170) and senior noseguard Tedd Heater (6.0, 181). The placekicking and punting responsibilities belong to senior Eric Franz, who made a 42-yard field goal a year ago and averaged 36 yards a punt.

'Marshall Plan' well ahead of schedule

Alex Marshall Not resting on laurels staff writer

To Lloyd Carr, the defensive coordinator for University of Michigan's football team, Alex Marshall's success wasn't so surprising.

"I knew he was a good football player," sald Carr at Thursday's media day. "He has outstanding potential."

What was surprising was the timing of Marshall's success. It's rare for a first-year player - Marshall was a redshirt freshman in 1988 - to make a significant contribution. But this 6-foot-4, 235-pound outside linebacker from Redford Bishop Borgess proved to be something special.

Marshall didn't just play, he started 11 of 12 games last season. He made 49 tackles, including seven for 37 yards in losses — three of which were quarterback sacks.

Such rapid success surprised Carr. "He needed to get experience," the U-M coach said. "It's hard to count on a freshman."

Marshall proved more than reliable. The progress he made last year puts him in posicollege sports tion to challenge for all-Big Ten accolades this year and for the remainder of his Wolverine career.

BUT SUCH projections mean little to Marshall. His opinion is blunt enough: "A lot of people have potential, but they never do anything with it, You've got to live up to it."

That is Marshall's goal - to make the most of his ability.

If he manages to come close to realizing his enormous talent, Marshall may be the finest outside linebacker to come out of U-M. He's already a proven blitzer, according to Carr.

"He's a great pass rusher," the Wolverine coach said. "He's got the size you want. The thing that's helped is he got some experience early in his career, because you know he's going to get bigger and stronger and develop some more.

"If Alex maintains his work ethic, he can be a great one.'

Already, Marshall is determined not to limit himself. "My strength is probably in pass rushing and against the run," he said. But he quickly added doing those two things well in a game doesn't necessarily mean he's perform. ing up to his potential.

"FOR ME to play well, I've got to be consistent!" Marshall, who has three more years of eligibility, explained. "I want to improve in all areas. I don't want people to look at me and say, 'He's a good pass rusher,' or 'He's good at coverage.'

"I want to be good at everything. I want to improve all-around."

Despite a year of experience, Marshall doesn't expect it to get any easier. "In some." ways, it will be," he predicted. "The nervousness of being a redshirt freshman starting is behind me.

"But now, (coaches and teammates) are looking for me to be more of a leader, to help the newer guys. And I'm looking for a little more from myself. I want to be the best I can

The U-M coaches are expecting a lot from : Marshall, and his linebacker teammates, too. "Linebacker will be the strength of our dafense," said coach Bo Schembechler. "We have a lot of depth. Our returning starters will have to work like the dickens to hold onto their spots."

That challenge doesn't worry Marshall. "Potential is one thing," he philosophized. "It's wonderful, magnificent. But what I accomplish, well, it's all up to me."

Should Marshall progress and improve on a scale equal to last year, both he and the Wolverines will enjoy spectacular success.

RU, Garden City set to disrupt NSL

By C.J. Risak staff writer

This season the Northwest Suburban League could prove whether last year was the beginning of a new era or just an illusion, a temporary blurring of the status quo.

There were a couple of firsts in the NSL in '88, the most impressive of which was the crowning of a new champion. Dearborn Edsel Ford had ruled the current NSL since its formation in 1986. The Thunderbirds had been perfect in league play two consecutive years.

Woodhaven ended that streak in the league opener for both teams last year, beating Edsel Ford 13-9. The game proved pivotal; it was the Thunderbirds only league loss, and it relegated them to second place behind Woodhaven. The Warriors finished 4.0, 6.3 overall; Edsel Ford was 3-1 and 6-3.

THE LOCAL entries. Redford Union and Garden City, could not overtake the front-runners. RU finished third in the NSL at 2-2 (5-4 overall), while Garden City tumbled into the basement at 0-4 (1-8 overall). Dearborn placed in between at 1-3, 4-5 overall.

Don't expect much of a change in the '89 NSL standings, although the race could take on a different complexion. Woodhaven and Edsel Ford are expected to grapple for the No. 1 spot, but unlike last season, the gap between contenders and also-rans may be wider.

For example: Last year, two of Garden City's league losses were by the slimmest of margins. The Cougars were edged by one point by Woodhaven and lost to Dearborn in overtime in coach Bob Eisiminger's first season.

The '89 Cougars don't look as tough. Gone are Joe Ziurinskas, an to get going." all-NSL lineman, and quarterback Brad Armstrong. The lines will have to be rebuilt, with senior centernoseguard Doug Day (5-foot-9, 185pounds) the only experienced retur-

SENIOR JIM MARSZALEK (5-10, 165) takes over at quarterback. Marszalek started in the defensive backlield in '88 and - since the team has just 33 varsity players he must play both ways again.

Operating behind an inexperienced and small (only one starter over 200 pounds) offensive line, Marszalek will have to rely on roltout passing. His main target will be returning tight end John Samborski (6-4, 198).

Their overall lack of size, depth and experience could make Eisiminger's second year more difficult than his first.

The Panthers have lost heavily to clal to win the title, however.

Also gone are noseguard Chris Woodbeck and defensive back Doug Robinson, both all-league performers. But RU has depth and size, and four offensive linemen return.

SENIOR DAVE STERLITZ (6-31/2. 200) will anchor the offensive line at center and be a defensive key at linebacker. Seniors Carl Watkins (6-31/2, 225) and Andy Kazor (6-3, 235) will open holes at their tackle positions for senior running back Jeff Platt (5-10, 175).

McGowan, who served as RU's defensive coordinator last year, is counting on line play to be the glue early in the season. There's no telling how long it will take for new players to develop and replace Burdick and Delfgauw.

Should the development exceed expectations, the Panthers may make a run at the front-runners.

But that might be expecting a lot. As Dearborn coach Chuck Baughman predicted, "Woodhaven's got a lot of starting linemen coming back, and Edsel Ford is always tough. At Redford Union, well, they've got a new coach and I think they lost a lot. My guess is they'll take a little while Baughman's prognosis for his own team is wait 'til next year. "We have a lot of depth, and the thing I like is we have a lot of kids who will go only one way. But we're young. We'll only start three seniors. Every kid that started for us last year was a senior except for two spots.

"I don't think Redford Union, Dearborn or Garden City can go unbeaten in the league."

Alan Snyder (5-11, 165), a safety and back-up tight end and fullback, and Matt Lewicki (5-11, 215), an offensive guard-defensive end, are the co-captains. Another player to watch, a-major college prospect according to Baughman, is junior lineman Andy Balestrieri (6-1, 265).

"We're nothing special," insisted Baughman.

At RU, the picture isn't as bleak. IT MAY NOT take anything spe-

Woodhaven does have some strong returnees in senior offensive linemen John Formentin (6-5, 200), Kevin Miller (6-2, 250) and John Salyers (5-10, 260). Formentin and Miller were both all-NSL offensive linemen in '88; Formentin also plays inside linebacker and Miller is a defensive

However, the Warriors' losses have coach Jim Buttson concerned. "I certainly think we have a chance at (the title)," he said. "But Edsel has to be the favorite."

Among the 18 seniors Buttson lost from his '88 championship team are quarterback Chris Collins, tailback Carl Robak (the team's leading rusher), all-NSL linebacker-guard Rick Neuharth and center Jim Claw-

Still, the talent is there. Junior Ernie Nemeth (5-10, 170), a starter at strong safety last season, will play both ways this year, replacing Robak at tailback. Senior Dustin Snell, in his first year of varsity football, also looks dangerous at wide receiver and placekicker (he may punt, Woodhaven's fate could be determined early. The Warriors face Edsel Ford in their first NSL game once again, this time at Woodhaven Sept. 22. "Our first league game is obviously so important," said Buttson. "If we win that, we could win the whole thing."

JACK BRIDGES, Edsel Ford's veteran coach, wouldn't disagree. Indeed, he wondered why anyone would rate his team as a challenger.

"Woodhaven's the defending champion," he noted. "We're not the defending champions. We've lost a tremendous amount of size through graduation. Some of the kids we have coming back I like real well. But I'm concerned about our physical size and squad size."

The key player Bridges must replace is quarterback-defensive backkicker Joe Crill, voted the NSL's most valuable defensive player in '88. "He played a lot of positions for us," the Thunderbirds' coach said. "He'll be very difficult to replace."

Also gone are both offensive tackles and most of the receivers. But Six defensive starters return. Among them are senior defensive back Greg Cunningham (5-10, 175), who was also an all-NSL running back, and senior Derek Sied (5.9, 170), a linebacker and running back. Senior Brian Miller (5-7, 175), the all-NSL center, is back as well.

Bridges maintains the league race "is up in the air." But tradition fa-Steve Hill vors Edsel Ford, and so does the tal-

12. Harold Rankey, tackle, Westland Glenn: Enormous potential even though he didn't see much action in '88, but at 6-6, 265 he's the type who should develop as the season goes along. In only his second year of football, Rankey may be one of the keys to Glenn's success in 189. Remember Harrison lineman Dale Katz last year? Rankey could be the same type of performer.

13. Trent Naumcheff, receiver/ linebacker, Liv. Churchill: Will team up with Sapienza (see above) to give Churchill one of the area's best one-two punches at linebacker. At 6-1, 190, Naumcheff has the size and speed to be a Division I safety. Biggest problem is that he has been plagued by injuries. His brother Brett is the long snapper for Central Michigan.

14. Pat Bowle, fullback/tackle, Ply. Salem: The Don Nottingham (5-9, 210) of Observerland. The human bowling ball rushed for 613 yards last year for the Rocks and should do even better on

Harrison has been a thrill for Mill

Coleman immediately stepped into the starting role at Harrison after he transferred from Albion late in his freshman year. He had started for the Albion varsity the previous fall and threw for more than 1,500 yards. He might still have been an all-stater at Albion, but then he might not have achieved his biggest goal. "Before I left high school, I wanted to win a state championship, whatever school I was at," he said. "I had no idea we would be in the finals the last two years."

COLEMAN BECAME an immediate star for the Hawks, who had the supporting talent to complement his abilities and make Harrison a bonafide state contender. In a way, Coleman, who has led the Hawks to a 24-2 record the last two years, made the Harrison star shine brighter, and the Hawks helped make Coleman a bigger star.

"The past two years have been great," he said. "Whenever you're winning in football, it's great. But I've made a lot of friends here, and the school took me in with open arms. I couldn't have asked for anything better." For talented athletes like Coleman, with senior year come the college recruiters, and they haven't had any trouble finding the Coleman family's address and/or phone number.

Coleman has been contacted by every school imaginable, but he's being cool toward the recruiting side of stardom with an entire season of high school ball still ahead.

"My parents pretty much take care of that," he said. "I don't even talk to the coaches when they call the house. My dad takes all the calls and talks with them. "He said he wants me to enjoy my last year and as soon as football is over we can deal with the recruiters. So right now I'm concentrating on my last year of football and having a nice season."

COLEMAN HAS left the entire question wide open for now. He hasn't developed a short list of schools he's interested in and reveals no inclination toward a personal fa-

Though he has demonstrated he can run, Coleman has built his reputation as a passer. Ironically, some schools may want him for the former reason.

Harrison doesn't run the option, which would seem to lessen the interest of schools with run-oriented offenses. Coleman does most of his running off the rollout and playaction schemes.

"I won't say I wouldn't go to a school that mainly runs the ball," he said, "But I'd like to go to a school that mixes it up, so I can use my running abilities as well as passing. I have an open mind about it right now."

Coleman said his style is suited for a runand-shoot offense, scrambling from the pocket and throwing on the run. He's seen Rodney Peete play for the Detroit Llons and likes to compare himself with the former Southern Cal quarterback.

Some colleges may shy away from Colleges man, however, because of his lack of size. But he believes he can play at the major college level, because his style allows him to need any drawbacks caused by his 5-9 stature.

"I THINK I can make up for lack of beliefst with other things I can do, like spreading the field, eluding the rush and finding the ope receiver," he said.

Coleman hinted a school that uses a pla action offense and allows its quarterback bootleg and run out of the pecket might he an inside track when the recruiting b heats up later this year. "That would mean a lot to me," he a "because that would move me out o et. It's kinda hard to see behind a 6-foot-6 2 man. It doesn't mean I can't threw from t pocket, put I prefer staying in the pocket." The opponents who must try and & Coleman one last time this fall probably w he would stay in the pecket, but they that is merely wishful thinking.

> FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Red. Thurston at Dearborn (4 p.m.): Pioneer coach Chuck Baughman says "we're nothing special." But what about Thurston? The Eagles have a lot to prove after going 0-9 last year, including a 28-0 Dearborn wins again, but the score is Redford St. Mary's at Clarenceville (7 p.m.); It was no contest last year, Clarenceville winning 26-8. St. Mary's Is expected to be improved, while the Trogrid predictions

Jans, under new coach Vic Balaj, are young, inexperienced and a bit of a question mark. Picks: Balaj wins his opener as flanker Kendrick Harrington is the differ-

Liv. Stevenson at Redford Union (Hilbert): Last year's game was a wide-open affair with Stevenson prevailing, 20-14. Expect this one to be played close to the vest. RU has superior size on the line. Picks: RU ready for a Panthers' victory?

Wayne at Garden City: The word is that Wayne pounded Western Lakes member Northville all over the field in a scrimmage last week. The Zebras are low in numbers, but so are the Cougars, who could be in for another long season. Picks: The Zebras earn their stripes.

Sterling Heights at Liv. Churchill: One of the best matchups of the night. The series is 2-2 with Sterling Heights, considered one the state's top Class A teams, winning the last two meetings. Junior quarterback Scott Demetral is very good for the Stallions. Churchill is an underdog, but how heavy? Picks: The Chargers are respectable, but Sterling Heights comes away the victor.

Highland Park at Westland Glenn: The Rockets haven't had many tough openers over the years, but they have been beaten Mince by the Polar Bears (in 1985). Joss to Dearborn in the '88 opener. Picks; Glenn's aerial circus, led by quarterback Eric Stover, will be launched again for 1989. Picks: The Rockets send Highland Park orbiting into space.

> Ply. Canton at Monroe: Last year the Chiefs gave Monroe all they could handle before losing by three. But this year's Monroe team is the favored to repeat as Wolverine A League champs and return to the state Class A playoffs. Willie Jones, a mobile 300-pound plus refrigerator, is one of the reasons why. Canton quarterback Karl Wukle needs protection. Picks: Monroe's shock absorbs Canton's best Trenton at Ply. Salem: Another good matchup pitting at Wolverine A team against a Western Takes club. Salem rolled last season, but Trenton will not stand to be run over. Look for a very competitive matchup, but the Rocks' wishbone will be the difference. Picks: Salem pulls its witchcraft.

Farm. Harrison at Saginaw Arthur Hill: The Class B champs (13-0) take on a Class A qualifier (9-2) in the best battle of the night. Is an ambush awaiting Harrison? Look for a physical contest with quarterback Mill "The Thrill" Coleman at his best. Picks: Emons will never pick against the Hawks again. O'Meara won't argue with that logic.

Farmington at W. Bloomfield: The Lakers (2-7) expect to be better under second-year coach Joe Brandell, Meanwhile, Farmington (0-9) Is trying to keep its head above water. Picks: It will be smooth sailing for the Lakers.

St. Agatha at Country Day: The Yellow Jackets (8-2) have made four straight playoff appearances under coach Joe D'Angelo. Agatha (6-3) will be no pushover with the return of quarterback Brian Kutch. DCD, led by returning quarterback Mike Montico and running back Aaron Sims, downed the Aggies last year 26-0. Picks: Agatha feels the Yellow Jackets' sting again.

SATURDAY'S GAMES

Liv. Franklin at Lansing Sexton (1 p.m.): The Big Red (9-1) qualified for last year's Class A playoffs, losing 11-8 in the first round to Monroe-(in overtime), Running backs Howard Triplett and Curtis Belen are fast, and quarterback Robert Villarreal is elusive. Safety Ricardo Jackson is a good one. Franklin (6-3) has lost the last two meetings (21-14 and 22-3), but boasts à veteran line. Picks: Sexton, despite a line full of inexperience, prevails.

Cardinal Mooney at Lutheran Westland (1 p.m.): Cardinal Mooney is down to 15 players, while Lutheran Westland (2-6) Is on the rise. Look for veterans Steve Aumann and Mike Hardies to pile up the points for the host Warriors. Picks: Take Lutheran Westland.

N. Farmington at S'field-Lathrup (2 p.m.): The secret cannot be kept any longer. North (7-2) is loaded and could be knocking on the door for a Western Lakes Activities Association title. Lathrup (3-6) Is sinking in quick sand. The Chargers will sorely miss tailback Ulric King, who graduated. Picks: North's Raiders put one in the ark.

Bish. Borgess vs. Orchard Lk. St. Mary (3 p.m. at Pontiac Silverdome): Walt Bazylewicz makes his re-debut as Borgess coach and it won't be a pleasant one. The Eaglets (10-1), who beat Brother Rice last year and then lost in the second round of the Class C playoffs to state champion Detroit DePorres, should have another devastating attack led by quarterback Vaughn Bryant and tailback Joe Jefferson. Picks: Last year's 47-7 $1. Mary's win could be repeated.

Redford CC vs. Det. Osborn (5:30 p.m. at Pontiac Silverdome): The second game of the triple-header could also be a mismatch with the Shamrocks (12-1) rocking and rolling in their opener. CC can match whatever speed the Knights throw at them. Picks: The Shamrocks win blow-

Here's a look at how other Observerland teams expect to fare in leagues outside the coverage area:

REDFORD ST. AGATHA, defending champion of the Catholic League's C-D Division, has another fighting chance to take the crown this fall. Quarterback Brian Kutch returns for his junior year, along with five other offensive starters, and seven on defense.

Lost to graduation was Mike Boyle, an offensive tackle now playing at Eastern Michigan. Tackle Scott Maher (6-2, 220) and guard Pat Wagner (6-3, 225) return, however, for their senior campaigns. Also back defensively are a frio of linemen - Wagner, John DiPonio (5-8, 170) and Mark Sievers (5-6,

AS USUAL, Dearborn-Fordson figures to be the team to beat in the Wolverine A League, but if Wayne Memorial gets blocking up front, the Zebras could challenge.

Senior quarterback Brent Tapp (5-8, 145) is the leading returnee on offense, and Wayne's secondary is. paced by the return of all-league defensive back Pierre Hixon.

TRI-RIVER LEAGUE member Redford Thurston was 0-9 last year under the first-year guidance of Bob Snell. Missing from that team is multitalented Tim Wojcik, who is playing at Central Michigan, and the wishbone, which wasn't welcomed back.

Instead, Thurston will employ the power-I formation, and Snell is excited about the addition of California transfer Mike Turner, a fullback and linebacker. Thurston plays at defending Tri-River League champion Allen Park on Friday, Oct. 6, when Snell hopes the Eagles are still in contention

tence. Returning is three-year starting quarterback Steve Aumann, and he'll get backfield support from halfbacks Jason Zielinski and David Gielow and fullback Erik Smith.

Speed is a concern, with coach Dennis Tuomi's fastest player running only a 5.1 in the 40-yard dash (slow by high school standards). The punting will be done by tight end Mike Hardies, who averaged just shy of 40 yards per boot last LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE'8 new coach is Vic Balaj, who knows. what it takes to have a successful program. Balaj spent eight years as defensive coordinator at Dearborn Divine Child, a traditionally strong Class B team in the Catholic League.

Clarenceville was third in the Metro Conference last year at 4-3, 6-3 overall. The good news is the Trojans won't have to play threetime defending champion Auburn Hills Avondale until Friday, Oct. 20, at home.

Avondale has won 21 straight; league games and 27 consecutive. regular-season games, and the longer Clarenceville avoids the' Rhinos, the better. Avondale reached the Class B semifinals before losing to eventual champion Farmington Hills Harrison. The Rhinos' most exciting returnee is junior receiver Kevin Woodmoore, who last year caught 20 passes for more than 400 yards.

Offensive line development key to Glenn's title chances

By Brad Emons staff writer

Even with the likes of Bryant Satterlee, Andre Dixon and Joe Williams graduated, look for Westland John Glenn's football team to be bullish again on area opponents.

Under the direction of coach Chuck Gordon, now in his 13th season, the Rockets, who have reached the playoffs three of the past four years, have become one of the top suburban football programs in the Detroit metropolitan area.

It seems Glenn would be hardpressed to duplicate last year's 9-2 record (their only losses to state Class B champion Farmington Harrison and Class A finalist Redford Catholic Central). Missing will be the bulk of that Lakes Divison championship lineup, including Satterlee (Central Michigan University), a 6foot-2, 210-pound All-Area tailback who rushed for 1,211 yards and 17 TDs; Dixon, a bruising fullback at 210 pounds; and Williams, a 6-1, 250pound All-Area offensive tackle.

But with a 60-man roster and some talented returnees, look for Glenn to challenge again in the Western Lakes Activities Association and for another playoff berth.

"A YEAR AGO we did better than anybody anticipated," said Gordon. "We had unbelievable leadership from our seniors that year. It was not an overly talented group, but they played hard and played together. It was one of the most fun years I've had in coaching.'

Quarterback Eric Stover, a 6-1, 168-pound senior, is one reason why. football could be fun again at Glenn.

Stover started all 11 games last season, passing for almost 900 yards and 13 touchdowns.

'We feel he's a very good quarterback and he'll be one of the keys to our season," Gordon said. "He has as good an arm as we've had. Physically he has a lot of tools and he's very smart. He's had a great camp so far and we have a lot of confidence in him."

Because of Stover's passing ability, Gordon said the Rockets will change a bit offensively.

"I think we'll be more balanced," said the Glenn coach.. "Last year with Satterlee it would have been foolish not to run."

THIS YEAR Glenn will be foolish not to pass as Stover's primary targets will be wide receivers David Ryan (6-0, 161), Mark Wetmore (5-8, 161) and Tom Lawrence (5-11, 162), which should more than make up for the loss of All-Area receiver Greg Anderson.

Tight end Garnett Woody (6-3, 203) is another standout who played plenty of minutes last season.

"He's a good blocker with excellent hands," Gordon said.

The offensive line has only one returning starter, but he is stalwart. Senior Mark Johnston (6-2, 230), also a starting linebacker, will play tackle opposite newcomer Harold Rankey (6-6, 265), who could develop into a college prospect. "This is only Harold's second year of football and he's a little green," tle better each day." Working at center is senior Todd Horseman (5-11, 219) and junior Zak Purdon (5-11, 194). Guards include senior Skender Gocaj (5-11, 181) and juniors Sean O'Brian (6-1, 182) and Tony Prey (6.0, 188).

"THE OFFENSIVE LINE is where we have the least experience," said Gordon. "If they come around, I think we'll be OK.

Running behind that line will be tailbacks Shannon Layne (5-10, 170) and returnee Tom Luxton (5-10, 162), both seniors. Layne has decent speed and runs hard, according to Gordon.

"We feel very comfortable with him," said the Glenn coach. Replacing Dixon at fullback will, be senior Paul Bialy (5-11, 186).

Glenn's 5-2 defensive alignment is led by returning nose guard Sam Weddington, a 5-8, 170-pound senior.

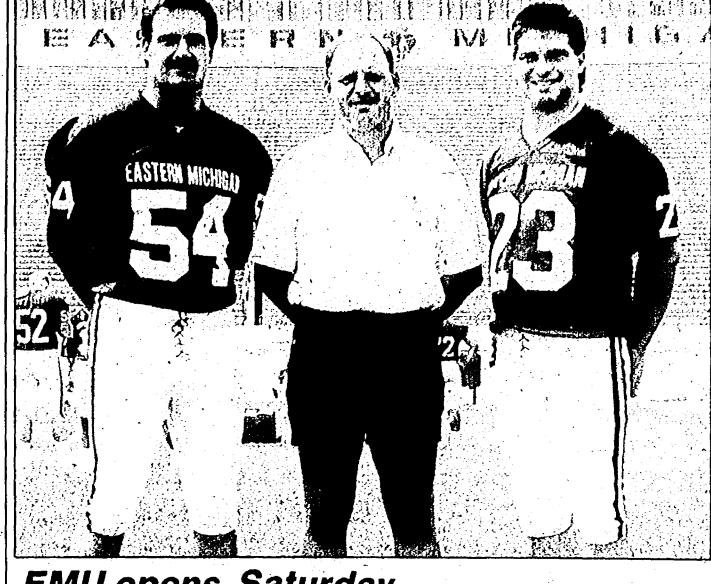

The tackles will be senior John Hodor (6-2, 175) and junior Alex Kaye (6-2, 206).

Perhaps the team's most intense and dedicated player is defensive end Kraig Kuban (6-1, 182), a starter last year who will be paired with either junior Lawrence Scheffer (6-2, 205), senior Ken Oliver (6-1, 178) or senior Sam Lacorato (6-4, 163).

"OUR QUICKNESS up front is good, but we're somewhat inexperienced," said the Glenn coach. "One of the keys to the defense is that we have to stop the run. If they come through we'll be good. But if you can't stop the run, then you can't force them (opposing offenses) to do anything else.

Johnston returns at linebacker with junior Jason Gould (5-10, 185) at the other spot.

Luxton, meanwhile leads the secondary, which also includes Wetmore, senior Brian Stephenson (6-0, 168) and senior Chris Madish (6-1,

Taylor, a 5-8, 190-pound senior enters his second season as one of the Rockets' top point producers.

"Right now I think we have a great group of seniors," Gordon said. "If we can build upon that leadership, then we'll be OK.

"It's a very unselfish group and they've been great to coach. Their attitude has been excellent.

"For a lot of our players, it's their turn to be out front and leading the way. If they do it over the long haul, then I think we can go a long way."

Bazylewicz saying prayers for opener

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Walt Bazylewicz, the new football coach at Redford Bishop Borgess, has no intention of running a conventional 4-3 or 5-2 defensive align-·ment.

Bazylewicz, the 67-year-old Catholic-League coaching legend, gives his defensive scheme a special name:

"We run the 'Hail Mary,'" said Bazylewicz, who came out of retirement to take the job at Borgess. "We'll run multiple defenses and try to manipulate our defense to the kids' ability. We can't stand up at the line and pound anybody.'

So Borgess does have a prayer, but unless it gets answered, don't expect the Spartans to surprise anyone in the rugged Catholic League Central Division race. The Spartans lost 23 seniors to graduation and only 31 players have come out for the entire Borgess program.

Bazylewicz is hoping to gather up enough players for both a varsity and junior varsity team, but he's already discounted the possibility of playing a freshman schedule.

THE SPARTANS open the season power Orchard Lake St. Mary at the Pontiac Silverdome.

Bazylewicz knows this year will be a learning experience. He compares it to his first team in 1948 at Detroit St. Thomas.

Bazylewicz went on to become one of the Catholic League's most successful coaches, leading St. Thomas and Harper Woods Notre Dame to six Catholic League titles during the 1950s and early '60s.

Bazylewicz, who hasn't coached for more than 18 years, was the longtime Catholic League Director, before retiring from that post and assuming his new role at Borgess.

football

"There are a lot of comparisons," at 3 p.m. Saturday against Class C he said, comparing Borgess to St. Thomas. "I had 15 kids then and now I've got 30 for three teams, but 15 are sophomores or freshmen. We're working on getting a JV team going but I've got to get kids to help on the varsity before I get a JV going. You can't have 15 kids on the varsity in our league."

> GRADUATION DEPLETED a Borgess team that finished 3-6 in 1988. Also gone are a pair of underclassmen, Kareem Carpenter and Shawn Respert, who had all-state potential, Bazyléwicz said.

Carpenter, a 6-foot-5 tight end, transferred to Ann Arbor Huron last winter. Respert, a highly recruited basketball player at Borgess, played wide receiver last fall for the Spartans but decided to forego his senior year and concentrate on basketball. Also out, at least for the time being, is senior guard Tony Mastroionni, who dislocated a knee in practice. Mastroionni was the most experienced returning offensive lineman. "It was kind of a freak thing," Bazylewicz said of Mastroionni's inju- Chris Spitzig (5.9, 170). ry. "He had a bum knee from last year. I guess it was the other one that went out."

Borgess lacks depth everywhere; but Bazylewicz has a promising returnee in senior two-way tackle Dennis Parker (6-3, 215), who "could be a blue-chipper."

"HE'S INTENSE, a good blocker, good tackler and has good speed," Bazylewicz said.

Sophomore Thelester Mahone (5-11, 185), who bench presses 275, will start at the other tackle. Other linemen include senior center Jason Hassell (6-0, 195), who also bench presses 275 pounds, and senior guard

The quarterback is junior Tom. Cole, who played on the JV in '88. Backing up Cole is senior Carl Respert doesn't return as a receiver, but Bazylewicz is impressed by the play of wide receiver Ramone Mills (6-3, 175), who didn't play football last year. Borgess is thin in the backfield, where 5-3 140-pound tailback Delwin Sears is listed No. 1 on the depth chart.

OTHER BACKFIELD candidates include fullbacks Anthony Hood (6.0, 170 so.) and David Dobbin (5-9, 155, jr.). Also getting a look is senior Anthony Davis (5-11, 190).

CC BOOTS EDSEL

Jason Ries scored 10 minutes into the second half on an assist from Dominic Sciciuna to give Redford Catholic Central a seasonopening 1-0 boys soccer win Tuesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The Shamrocks (1-0) also made it a successful debut for first-year coach John Boots despite a few anxious moments.

"We did a lot of experimenting, all 17 players played," said Boots. "Edsel was surprisingly strong, a really good team." CC was in control for the most part, allowing just five shots. "It's hard to score when they put everybody back into the penalty area," said Boots. "And Edsel (3-2) had already played five games. That made it tough."

Goalle J.P. Angell posted the shutout for CC.

North Farmington product Karcher inks Braves pact

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Rick Karcher might not make a better investment than the one he made this summer playing for the Detroit Adray Appliance baseball team. Karcher, who batted .328 and led the Detroit Adray League with 35 RBI, signed a free-agent contract with the Atlanta Braves Saturday night. Karcher, a 1987 North Farmington graduate, will be assigned to Pulaski, Va., of the Rookie Appalachian League.

The 6-foot-5, 210-pound Karcher led Stu Rose's Henry Ford Community College team in home runs and RBI last spring but was passed by in June's Major League draft.

Braves scout Tony Stiel didn't need anymore convincing after watching Karcher bat nearly .400 and belt two impressive home runs earlier this month at the All-American Amateur Baseball Federation national tournament in Johnstown, Pa.

"He's an outstanding boy, besides his ability to play," said Stiel, who scouts Michigan, Indiana and Ohio. "I thought about signing him two months ago (after the draft), but I didn't want to interfere with them playing in Johnstown. He hit some tremendous shots out there; he got every bit of a couple of them. And he's all for going to first base. We think that's his best shot."

. Karcher liked the offer he got from Atlanta - a one-year contract, including a signing and incentive bonus. Contract terms also call for the Braves to pay for the rest of Karcher's college education, whether he stays with the team or Karcher will attend Henry Ford this fall, before reporting to Atlanta's early camp in February in West Palm Beach, Fla.

'Very few players get an opportunity like this, and I'm going to make the most of it," sald Karcher, who turns 20 Saturday. "I felt the time was right for me for a lot of personal reasons. I like Atlanta and I like the scout (Stiel), he seems to be interested in my personal self. They have a lot of good pitching but need power hitters.

"ATLANTA IS bringing up a lot of its players through the minor leagues, and that's why it's beneficial for me. It all just seemed to go into place."

Karcher won't attend the Instructional League for prospects in the fall, but he and other Atlanta minorleague players from the Detroit area (including pitcher Steve Avery) are expected to work out in Lincoln Park and Henry Ford, Stiel said.

Karcher swung an aluminum bat during his sandlot days but said he is prepared to adjust to swinging a wooden bat.

"A lot of people overexaggerate that it's so hard to hit with a wooden bat," said Karcher, who spent one year at Indiana University (Bloomington) before transferring. "If you can hit, you can hit. There's definitely a smaller sweet spot on the wooden bat, but I don't see it as a prob-

Mary Rose DuPrie, shown using a router in her workshop, says buying tools is much more fun than buying clothes or shoes.

Skilled carpenter/artist builds a booming career

By Corinne Abatt

HAVE THOUGHT that Mary Rose DuPrie, growing up in Garden City, a true tomboy in a family of three brothers, would someday be one of the hot young, furniture designers in the metropolitan area?

Not Mary Rose, that's for sure. She never even had an art class until she was 25. Of course, once she had that first taste, there was no stopping her.

'My background interest is architecture and fine art," she said in the well-equipped workshop of her Bloomfield Hills home. "I took every art class imaginable and I loved

Her quest for art courses took her to Oakland Community College, Wayne State University, Center for Creative Studies and finally for hands-on carpentry to adult education classes at Berkshire Middle School and Ferndale High School. Name it, she's had it. She worked for Futura Custom Kitchens for six years and still does part-time. It was the carpentry classes that turned her life around, "Until I took the class at Berkshire Middle School (Birmingham school district). I had never worked with a drill or anything. I loved that class, it was all hands-oh. Then, I took the class at Ferndale. The air tools we used there were geared more for boxes, price range $650-$1,600, which she builds to order incorporate all of her wide ranging of skills. She began to make them when she couldn't find one for herself.

"I build everything on them, everything you see,"she said. The drawers are lined in velvet. The cabinets are 19 inches wide by 12 inches deep. Radius cabinets are 25 inches wide. The customer can choose the number and depth of drawers and black or gray velvet

DuPrie cuts the tops from halfinch Avonite, an expensive, but durable material that comes in many colors and finishes. After she completes the long, tedious steps of polishing and buffing, the Avonite has the look of marble. The sides are laminate in a variety of colors or are done in other custom treatments such as wood veneer which she is just now getting into. There is a choice of four counter top edges - bullnose, square, bevel or stepped. She makes the tables to

"The design concept it totally unique," she said, "I didn't steal anything." She smiled and added-"I've replaced my shoes and clothes buying impulses with buying tools - there's always another tool. I'm just so amazed I do it, but it's a lot of work."

BACK ORDERS are such that she's in her workshop about 10 hours a day. But, the response she's had from the public from the shows she does and the lifestyle she's building for herself make those long hours infinitely worthwhile. And besides, her father, Neal Du-Prie of Garden City, is so proud of

She remembers that she used to apply to be in art shows and occasionally get rejected. Now she gets invited She will be one of 70 artists in "Art on the Green" in Franklin Village which is part of the Labor Day Round-Up. She will be one of the featured guests at a trunk showing at Roz and Sherm's of Detroit Symphony Orchestra Hall plans a festive homecoming parade 12:30-2 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15, to symbolize the orchestra's move from Ford Auditorium to its new home, Orchestra Hall. Floats, marching bands, cheerleaders, clowns and dignitaries will join members of the orchestra in a procession north on Woodward Avenue to Orchestra Hall, where the orchestra will perform a short concert in front of the hall. During the 1940s Orchestra Hall, under the name of Paradise Theatre, was the site of performances by the

A GALA concert, "A Salute to Paradise Theatre," will celebrate that great heritage at 8 p.m. Sept. 15 at Orchestra Hall.

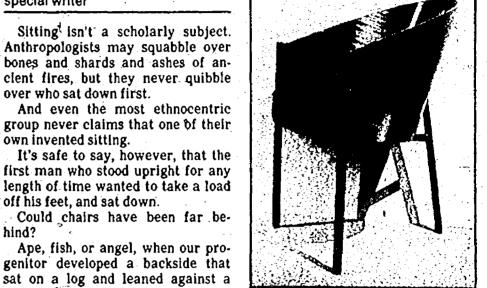

A special appearance by dancer/ actor Gregory Hines will headline the event, which will feature the Detroit Symphony Orchestra conducted by Mitch Miller.

Joining Maestro Miller and the orchesira will be soprano Gail Nelson, performing songs by George Gershwin and Harold Arlen, and The finest jazz and vaudeville artists in Sultans, Detroit tap-dance legends, who will dance to the music of Duke Ellington.

There will be reminiscences on the Paradise Theatre days and a display of memorabilia from the old Paradise Theatre, including items discovered during this summer's restoration of Orchestra Hall.

MILLER, KNOWN to most of America from his "Sing Along With Mitch" albums and television appearances, is a classically trained musician who has spent the last several years appearing as guest con-boats, luggage, china, vases, computers, fabrics and pasta. In his role as architect, he has buildings in the United States, France, and Japan.

Starck's designs are not generic; they are calculated to fit a specific environment and are seldom adaptable to another milieu.

AMERICAN INDUSTRIAL DE-SIGNER Richard Penney and his "Next"-chair represent the oppositeof Starck's design methodology. Starck's furniture is often derived from sketches that he made as a child. Penney spent a year and a half designing "Next."

After making a thorough study of the evolution of chair design and surveying everything available on the current market, Penney 'ecided that anything that could be done has been. Then he designed "Next."

"Next" doesn't exactly radiate perceived ergonomics. People tend to walk right past it. But it is very comfortable and has been a great commercial success. Unlike Starck's chairs, "Next" isn't site-specific, it is adaptable to any situation.

"A New York restaurant has 200 of these chairs," said Reinhart, "and it is widely used in offices. There are many "Nexts" in residential situations as well."

In appearance, "Next" is best described as utilitarian. It has four wooden legs, a padded seat that rests on an exposed wooden platform and a gracefully curved back with four decorative open squiggles in the low-

"The curve of the back was both a visual nicety and an ergonomic necessity" said Rinehart. "But he found the same back in a Chinese chair from the Ming Dynasty (1368) 1644). It proved his theory that, chair-wise, there's nothing new un-

Sand sculptures honor Great Oz

Dorothy, Toto, the Tin Man, the Scarecrow and the Cowardly Lion are coming to Twelve Oaks Mall.

They're coming from a giant sandbox filled with 70 tons of sand, and they're going - where else? - to the Wizard of Oz.

The Wizard of Oz favorites will be part of a massive life-sized sand sculpture that will take three full weeks to build in Twelve Oaks' Center Court. Artisans from Sand Sculptors International, holders of all current world sand sculpture records, will carve the display as center onlookers watch.

Sculpting in the giant Center Court sandbox began Aug. 23 and will run through Sept. 10.

"We're hoping people will come every day and watch as the sculpture takes shape," said Philip Morosco. Twelve Oaks general manager. "Half the fun is watching it being built. This is something that has never been done before in this area."

The total sculpture will cover an area 35 feet long and 16 feet wide.
THE WITCH'S CASTLE will stand

12 feet high and cover about 108 square feet.

The Emerald City of Oz opposite the castle will cover about the same area but will stand 15 feet high.

Both will be three-dimensional and detailed on all visible sides. Sand sculpture artists will use foreshortening techniques to give the illusion that both buildings are off in the dis-

Between the two buildings, lifesize sculptures of the Oz characters' will skip, arm-in-arm, through a field of flowers.

"Remember how Dorothy clicked her heels together and sald, 'There's no place like home'?" Morosco said. "We think that after seeing this phenomenal project and visiting our unique stores, visitors will agree that there's no place like Twelve Oaks, either."

The sculpture will be principally designed and sculpted by Todd Vander Pluym, who has been creating sand sculptures around the world for more than 40 years.

What makes the sand hold together? The same thing that works on the beach . . , water. The sculptors use sand that is rich in grit and clay. They mix the sand with water and add it bit by bit to the sculpture as they work.

Since the Oz sand sculpture will remain in Center Court through the end of October, that may mean that Dorothy never gets home to Aunt Em.

Waller, Dizzy Gillespie and many other great artists of the jazz and vaudeville circuit.

Co-founder Lloyd Storey started out in the chorus of the Apollo Theater in the 1930s after his family moved from Detroit to New York. He formed The Sultans in the late 1950s with Fletcher "Bones" Hollingsworth, and they were later joined by Sherman Bush and Frank Colvard.

Continuing the grand tradition of the vaudeville era, Storey and Colvard join in the tribute to Paradise Theatre along with Amani Henry, a 6-year-old student of Storey.

Contemporary, classic blend at Homearama

MID MODERN innovations in home convenience and technology, there are equal innovations in classic architectural design — including Cotswold Tudors, Georgian Colonials and reproductions of local mansions - at this year's Homearama in Oakland Township.

Located on spacious lots with an expansive hilltop view in the Hills of Qakland subdivision, Homearama opens to the public on Aug. 31 and runs daily until Sept. 24.

Although every home offers the latest features in home conveniences, visitors will also marvel at the workmanship and attention to detail reminiscent of the past, with custom woodwork and crown mouldings, beamed ceilings, as well as a generous use of brick, marble, cedar, fieldstone, and other natural materials in this year's showcase of 10 fabulous homes.

THERE ARE HINTS of very classic. designs in each home, revealed not only in the names but in the descriptions selected by the builders:

- "The Meadowbrook" by Capitol Homes Inc.;
- "Heirloom" by Koch Development;
- "Bayview" by Palazzolo Brothers Construction Co., a traditional colonial;
- "Jacquelynn Maria," by F & M Construction, a classical traditional; "The Francesco" by Moceri/
- Ferro, a classical contemporary: "The Stonecrest" by Hunters
- Creek Homes, a traditional split colonial: "Graystone Manor," by
- Damascus Development Corp., a Cotswold Tudor: "The Barclay," by Robert R.
- Jones Associates, a Savannah North style; and "The Jeffersonian," by Kellett & Saylor, historical Georgian. But there is nothing conventional or old-fashioned about design. Trendsetting innovations in design are visible throughout Homearama.

For instance: An octagon garden room off the great room in F & M Construction's "Jacquelynn Maria" also provides access to the kitchen and to a circular staircase with vaulted ceilings that leads to a balcony off the master bedroom.

"THE BARCLAY," the Savannah North style home of Robert R. Jones Associates, has a great room with a circular, two-story walk-in bay window and a traditional marble fireplace with floor to ceiling pilasters.

In the "Jeffersonian" by Kellett & Saylor, an elegant gathering room, three steps down from the rest of the house has ample space for entertaining on a grand scale.

Spectacular design elements are featured in the exterior of the "Heirloom" by Koch Development, including 12-foot front doors in a beautifully arched, tiered, brick entry with stone surround.

The master bedroom suite allows the home builder to create a mood of privacy and relaxation for the homeowner. Custom-domed cathedral ceilings are highlighted in the "Meadowbrook" by Capitol Homes Inc., and a vaulted gazebo ceiling, 16-feet high in Damascus Development's "Graystone Manor."

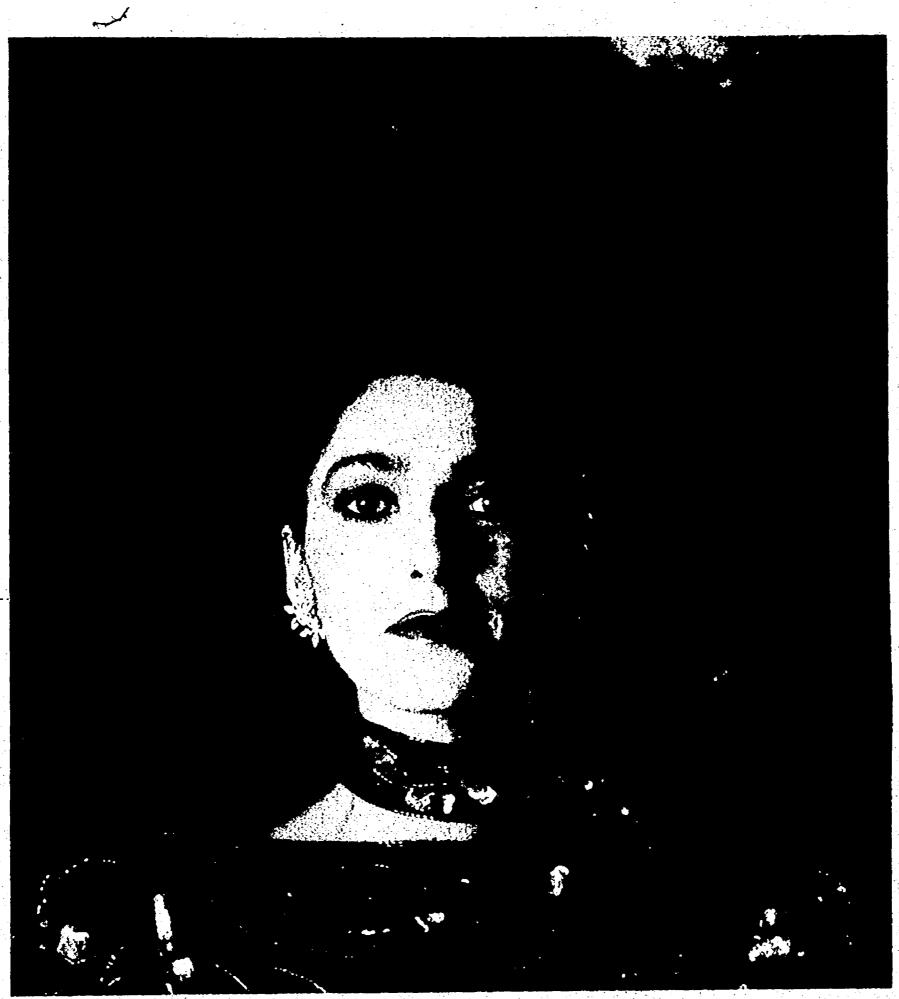

THE "BROOKSHIRE," by Oliver Homes, has a master bedroom with a pan ceiling, walk-in double closets. whirlpool and double sinks, marble floors, counter and shower. And a first-floor master suite in "The Stonecrest," by Hunters Creek Homes Inc., features a beamed cathedral ceiling, skylights, french doors to a private cedar deck and a _double shower.

Bonus rooms in homes give home owners options. The double stepdown master bedroom suite in the "Bayview" has a 21-foot-by-7-foot closet leading to a potential studio or office over the garage.

In the "Francesco," by Moceri/ Ferro, the foyer opens into an expansive walkout (lower level) with entertainment center, billiards and walk-behind bar.

Fine examples of innovations can be seen in the kitchens of Homearama, the center of activity in every home, regardless of the owner's lifestyle. Each kitchen features the very latest in creative design and built-in convenience.

Looking beyond the modern kitchens, innovation is at its best in "Graystone Manor," where a media room replaces the predictable living on the first floor, offering the home owner a theater screen and surround sound. ---

Adult Communities

Sharing a common bond is cornerstone n COLONIAL Acres adult community in South Lyon, Centaur Contractors Inc. have what they believe is the wave of the future for housing. We're going after the adult market," said Edward S. Tompkins, a partner with Jim Pelky, in Centaur: "People over 55 with no children, or children over 17. Part of what we're selling is the lifestyle - the community

People at Colonial Acres share a common bond. They've moved out of houses they've lived in for 20 or 30 years. Some of them even lived in the same Livonia or Farmington Hills neighborhoods, or thereabouts, or worked at the same companies, but never had the time or the opportunity to develop any friendships.

"What we've found," said Tompkins, "is that they're rediscov-

This well developed sense of community with neighbors looking out for one another has helped make the initial phase of Colonial Acres sell-outs. Pelky and Tompkins have already begun building more units at the $100-million project in the Pontiac Trail - Ten Mile Road area.

COLONIAL NOW HAS ABOUT 450 units on 52 acres in phases one through four. Phase five will add another 594 units on 87 additional acres for a total of 1,044 with a projected completion date of 1993.

The acreage is wooded and has several man-made ponds that tapped into natural underground springs. One of the ponds will be stocked for fishing, and another will have a beach for swimming. There are two clubhouses, the newest one in phase 5 with a swimming pool. One and two bedroom units are attached in groups of six or eight. The newer units have lower level walk-out patios.

Enclosing a wood deck into a porch is one of the buyer's many options. It adds another 120 square feet to the overall 1,800 square feet of the unit. Base price for the walkouts is $69,900.

TO SHOW WHAT OPTIONS are available, the model for phase 5 is loaded with options.

The units have California style walled courtyard entrances. A good-sized dining area is at the far end of the living room. The kitchens feature a breakfast bar pass-through to the living-dining room.

One of the standard features at Colonial Acres is hot water baseboard heating systems. "It's more expensive, but more effective," Tompkins said.

Centaur has an in-house service department to handle all maintenance problems. The fee at Colonial Acres is $135 per month and includes insurance, boiler, hot water heater repair and/or replacement, land lease costs as well as snow removal, exterior painting, lawn and shrub care. "Unlike other developers, we don't leave the development when it's finished,' Pelky said, "We're here and very accessible." For more information about the development, call 437-8193.

Kitchens in Colonial Acres have a breakfast bar passthrough to the living-dining room area. End units have windows, but inner units feature skylights to compensate for the lost window. Enjoying a coffee break is Rosalie Webb, Gov. James Blanchard's mother, with her husband, Baxter. The couple have been residents since 1984.

Back again with 'show of homes'

First Federal of Michigan is once again a lender-sponsor of Homearama and will have loan officers staffing an information booth in the exhibit pavilion throughout the show.

First Federal provided funds for lot development in the subdivision and financed several of the model homes, which range in value from $375,000 to $675,000.

"As one of Michigan's largest providers of home mortgages, we believe it's most appropriate — and a real privilege — to work with the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan on this project," said Ronald A. Sinclair, First Federal's executive vice presidents for lending, in announcing his company's participation for the fourth year.

Discount coupons for admission to Homearama Monday through Friday will be available at all First Federal offices.

New home construction benefits everyone

HEN NEW homes are built in a community, the home building industry benefits. But home builders are only the tip of the iceberg. Countless individuals benefit throughout the local community and the entire country for every home that is built.

According to James S. Bonadeo, president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan (BASM), a typical house contains more than 3,000 components. "If you take a simple item like a piece of wood, think about all the people who were responsible for getting it to your home," he explains.

Someone cuts the tree. A driver transports it to the mill, where a worker makes it into a building product. The finished product must be transported (again) to a material distributor, who sells it to a builder or subcontractor, who installs it into the home.

"Now consider the long chain of people involved in all the 3,000 components," Bonadeo notes, "such as the people working in concrete, windows, nails, screws, appliances, carpeting, drywall, paint, insulation, roofing, bricks, and many other items. You will get an idea of how many people benefit just from the structure of the house."

BUT A HOUSE IS more than just a structure_It is also a collection of services. Bankers are employed to make loans on new homes, as well as existing homes which are sold when someone purchases a new home.

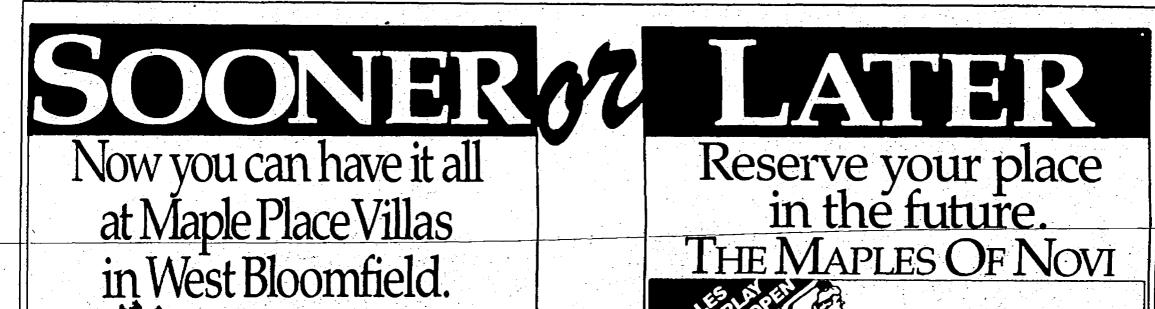

Appraisers are needed to determine the value of homes which are sold. Employees of title companies research the possibility of prior financial claims to properties. People in insurance companies sell and process homeowners, mortgage, and title policies.

The government employs many people who are affected by new home construction. Employees are needed to. issue building permits and to perform code inspections to ensure that your home will be safe. In addition, property taxes are collected to fund schools, other local facilities and community services.

"If you consider the indirect employment from building a house, the impact increases even more," says

Bonadeo. Home buyers who buy new homes often purchase new furniture, draperies, appliances, lawnmowers and a wide variety of other items. Also many new home buyers change their route to work, which may necessitate the purchase of an automobile. All of these items are manufactured, transported, and sold, providing employment for numerous people.

Finally, new home owners provides a personal resource to their community. They may join the PTA, become members of the local community group, attend local sporting events and run for public office. "And when they do," Bonadeo concludes, "their personal contributions and commitments become essential to the community's growth and quality of life."

Residential Window Film

WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT

Solar window films were originally designed for heat and glare control and, in many cases, the use of such an application meant comfort and energy savings.

Today, consumers are spending more and more time in the home and investing great amounts of money in furnishings. To protect the furniture, carpeting, art objects, etc., they are utilizing window film, which absorbs nearly all of the sun's damaging ultraviolet rays that damage the home's interior.

Window film has been designed and refined to such a point of sophistication that it is practically invisible. In fact, the fade protection of the film neither alters the appearance of a window visibility, nor distorts the original clear view.

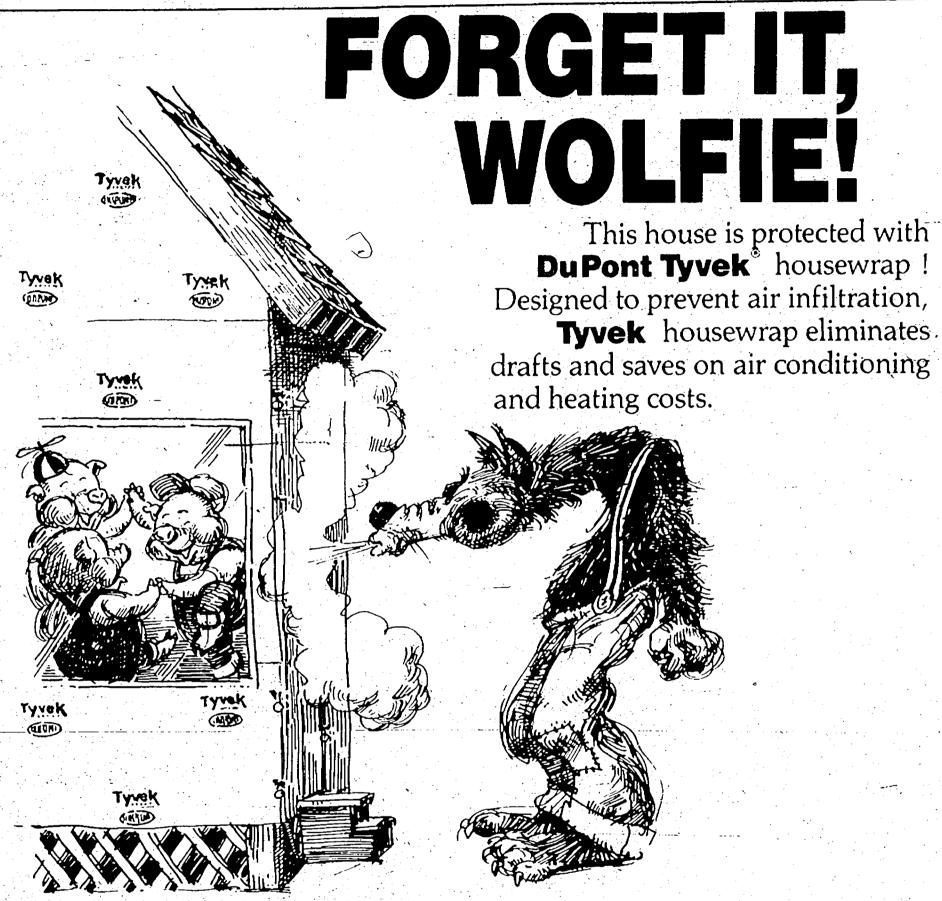

Tinted windows, contrary to belief, do not have to be dark to be effective. In fact, the newest of films offer high visibility and high energy control. An example of a recent innovation—and the biggest seller in the glass industry—is the Low-E (low emissivity) film, which helps the glass recain or hold in more heat in the winter.

In addition to protecting home furnishings and dramatically cutting down on the sun's glare, another important benefit from using window film is its ability to make the glass safe (or "breaksafe"). Should the window break, the film will actually hold broken glass together, offering safety and security. For example, should a child or adult hit a window hard enough to break it, they are much less likely to suffer any cuts or be showered with dangerous glass shards. Special "extra-thick" security films are also available.

In the past, one of the drawbacks of using window film was its tendency to become scratched when cleaned. Today, however, all films boast a scratch-resistant coating which is tough enough to stand up against even fine steel wool.

Opulent details and grand scale recalls the luxury of Victorianera interiors. A survey of today's house buyers reveals a desire for larger houses and luxury amenities, many of which are incorporated in the Homearama designs.

Homearama to showcase preferences buyers want

CCORDING to recent National Association of Home Builders survey, current home owners revealed a preference for "dream" features when they are looking a new home.

This year's Homearama offers all the amenities mentioned in the survey: * *

- Today's home buyers look for more family-room space and would select a great room instead of a smaller den or a sludy.
- They prefer a large, wellequipped kitchen, with features like a walk-in pantry, a built-in microwave, special storage space, a double sink, an island eating space and a bay window.
- In the master bedroom suite, they would choose a separate bathrub and shower, double-sink vanities and closet space in the bathroom. Whirlpools are a nice extra.
 - In addition, buyers indicated that they want the following extra features, which ranked as very important by 60 percent or more of those surveyed:

- Separate family room or great room:
 - Two-car garage;
 - Walk-in bedroom closets;
 - Air conditioning; - Fireplace:

 - High ceilings;
 - Skylights.

Home buying trends are moving toward the selection of larger, more expensive homes. Survey respondents indicated not only a desire to buy larger homes, but a willingness to buy a more expensive home to get the features they Homearama homes offer an average of 4,400 square feet of living space, in a price range of $375,000-$675,000 and a beautiful showcase of all the features buyers are looking for today.

How big are some of the windows in some of the houses in this year's Homearama? Plenty big — as spelled out in an early construction shot in the foyer of F&M Construction's "Jacquelynn Maria" model. Twin circular staircases overlook the dramatic entrance.

Tips for selecting a builder

HEN YOU are ready to begin shopping for your new home, you should begin shopping for your builder as well. Whether you are buying a condominium, townhouse, in a subdivision, or a custom-built house, the quality of your home will be determined by the quality of the builder.

Start your builder-search process by calling a local home builders association, such as the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan. It can give you the names of reputable builders in your area. Ask friends and relatives about builders they have dealt with directly, or ask them for the names of acquaintances who have recently dealt with a builder.

Once you have developed a list of builders, find out about their reputations and the quality of their work. The best way is to visit homes that they have built and talk to the owners. Ask the builders on your list for the addresses of their recently completed houses, subdivisions, townhouses or condominium complexes. At the very least, drive by and see if the homes are visually appealing.

LOOK AT HOMES that are the same style as you plan to buy. A good time to visit is on a weekend morning when people are outside doing chores or errands. Just introduce yourself and explain that you are considering buying a home from the same builder who built their home.

Question their satisfaction with the home and ask if the builder constructed what was promised in a timely manner. Ask if they would buy another home from this builder. People will generally tell you if they are happy with their purchase.

When.examining a home, look at the quality of the construction features: the cabinetry, carpeting, trimwork and paint.

In viewing each builder's homes, you must determine whether they lend themselves to the type of lifestyle you want to lead. Look at the amount of interior living space and how efficiently the space is used. Find out if the builder is using the latest energy efficient features, both in appliances and

A home is primarily a place to live, but it also is an important investment. Consider the appreciation potential of any home you might purchase. Be concerned with the value you are getting for your money regarding locations, housing supply and demand, and other local market factors.

One of the most important criteria for selecting a builder is the warranty protection provided on the home. Ask for a copy of the builder's warranty. Read the document thoroughly and be sure you understand what protection would be provided to you. If you have any questions about the coverage, be sure to clarify it with the builder prior to completing your purchase.

ALMOST ALL BUILDERS offer some form of written warranty. Many builders back their own warranties on workmanship and materials, typically for one year. Other builders offer warranties backed by an insurance company. To get an insured warranty, yoù must buy a home from a builder who belongs to a warranty program, ... such as the Home Owners Warranty Corporation (HOW). Founded by the National Association of Home Builders, HOW is the nation's oldest and largest warranty insurer of new homes. In this area, HOW is served by the Southern Michigan Home Owners Warranty Council.

While you are shopping for your builder, find out from each one you interview what you can expect regarding service after the sale. A builder may make two service calls during the first year after you move in. These calls are to make repairs on nonemergency problems covered by your warranty. The first call is usually 30 to 1 120 days after your move-in, and the second is around the 11th month, right before any one-year warranties on workmanship and materials would expire. For emergencies, the builder should send someone right away.

When selecting a builder, be thorough and ask a lot of questions. Get as many specifics as possible. If you receive the answers verbally, take notes. Never hesitate to ask a question because you are afraid of sounding "dumb" or uninformed. A simple question may yield a very important

HAT DO today's home buyers really want?
Are their hearts set on rustic little rose-covered country cottages or do they want high-tech houses where the Jetsons would feel right at home? Are they yearning for simplicity and small spaces or do they have dreams of luxury living?

Today's increasingly affluent home owners of the baby boom generation will choose larger housess with more luxury features and bigger lots when they buy their next house. Even if they have to pay more, and r live further from work, they will be willing to make these trade-offs to get the house they want.

According to a recent National Association of Home Builders survey, workmanship and materials — including carpeting, flooring, tiles and paint — as well as the builder's reputation and the neighborhoods must be first-rate. And if they cannot afford to buy the house they want, they will settle for an expandable houses with some parts left unfinished. However, they will not opt for a smaller house.

MORE THAN TWO-thirds would choose a suburban location and one-fourth would choose a rural location if buying a new home.

Current home owners also want their next home to have about 2,360 square feet — almost 30 percent more than their present home. And even though land costs have increased dramatically in the last two years, consumers want larger yards.

The survey findings revealed the following homebuyer preferences:

HOUSE DESIGN: A two-story house with a basement (32 percent); single-story house with a basement (24 percent); Four bedrooms (about 50 percent); Three bedrooms (33 percent); 2 ½ or more bathrooms (70 percent) and three bathrooms or more (25 percent).

FAMILY ROOM: Home buyers want a family room, not a den or a study. A family room/kitchen design is desirable. KITCHEN: A large, well-equipped kitchen, with a walk-in pantry, a built-in microwave, a special use storage space, a double-sink, an island eating space and a bay window.

MASTER BATHROOM: Separate bathtub and shower; double-sink vanities and closet space in the bathroom. Whirlpools are not a necessity.

PREFERRED FEATURES: Features ranked as very important by 60 percent or more of those surveyed include: Separate family/great rooms; two-car garage; walk-in bedroom closets; higher quality carpeting; air-conditioning; storm windows; fireplace and smoke detectors. Also mentioned were high cielings and skylight.

Homeownership was valued highly. More than 80 percent of those surveyed said a single-family detached house is the best hedge against inflation. This is followed by investment in land (53 percent) and mutual funds (42 percent).

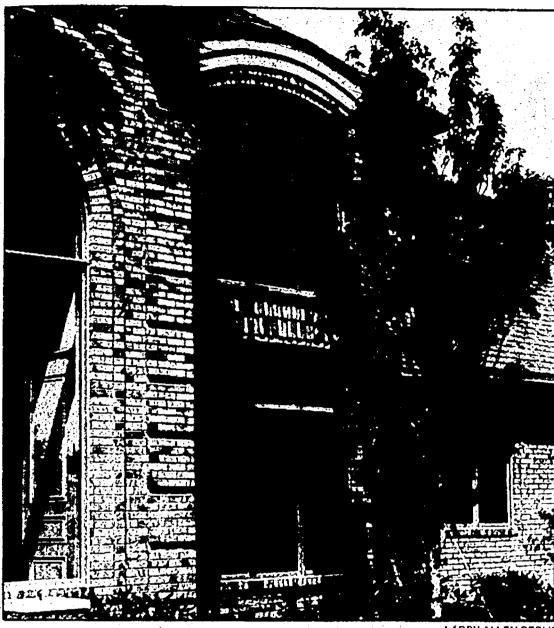

Furniture will be for sale

The furniture and accessories in most of the Homearama "idea homes" will be put up for sale on the last day of its run, Sunday, Sept. 24.

All styles of furniture, from American traditional to contemporary to European and from moderately priced to expensive, will be offered for sale just as it is displayed in those home participating the sale.

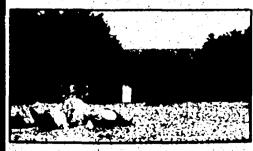

Not every house is participating in the sale of its furnishings, however. Some of the furnishings may be the property of designers, furniture companies, or the builders in various instances.

The houses themselves will be for sale after the show closes, and can be purchased with furnishings included, in most cases.

English country comfy look

AYBE IT was Chuck and Di or one of those very British made-for television movies. Or maybe, just a case of good taste. Whatever the cause, America has gone bonkers for the British — and some of that feeling is reflected in homes in this year's Homearama.

Unbashedly borrowing the best from a melange of traditionally elegant English offerings, Americans are enjoying high tea in high English style, demure sweater sets a la Deborah Kerr, and polo, the so-called sport of kings.

But the best of the best of these British imports, according to those who've lived with it, is the Jord-of-themanor decorating style we Yanks dub "the English Country look."

In many respects, English country style is nothing short of miraculous, says design consultant Ann Britten.
"There is absolutely no other decor in the world that is at once so elegant and yet so dedicated to comfort."

The combination of broad stripes and florals make this Laura Ashley "Isabelle" chintz the ideal decorative theme for today's popular English country interiors on display in several of the Homearama models. It's shown here with complementing solids and smaller-scale stripes.

Stripes and florals are combined in a variety of new decorative themes, among them "Floral Stripe" chintz, shown here, by Laura Ashley. This large-scale design of roses, morning glories and fuchsias with alternating geranium stripe, is available in chintz and printed ottoman fabrics. The simplicity is also repeated in a companion wallcovering, seen beyond the chair. Similar choices appear in English-manor type homes featured in this year's Homearama.

Although the English country look was born in the manor house, the style has been thoroughly democratized over the years. Britten says. So you don't need roomfuls of ancestral heirlooms of a stately site on The Thames to recreate the look.

—All you really need are the three G's — of English country decor:

● COLOR. One thing that says English country: Floral cotton and glazed chintz, the extravagantly printed fabric the British imported from India almost 400 years ago. So use them lavishly.

Start with a bold floral design, then complement with a mix of stripes, smaller-scale florals, plaids, geometrics or faux animal prints. Use color as a unifying force to pull all these disparate patterns into one cohesive whole.

• COMFORT. Reserve the rickety gilt sidechairs and antique loveséats for the palace. The English country look is built on comfort.

CLUTTER, Hedonistic hodgepodge, Cheek-by-jowel jumble.
Memento madness, Clutter is the endearing heart of English country style.

For Anglo-authenticity, add masses of framed family photos, blue-and-white china and botanical prints. A timeless sense of style is not built on born-vesterday perfection.

Once you've experienced this best-of Britain brand of living, Britten maintains, you'll understand why there'll always be an England. Even if it is deep in the heart of Texas or the rolling hills of Rochester.

Your house-buying power spelled out

OU'VE DECIDED you're ready to buy a new house, but canyou afford it? To figure out how much house you can afford, you must first understand the rules of buying a home; down payment, qualifying for a loan, and closing costs.

Lenders ask for down payments so that if you default on your loan, the home can be sold and the losses from your transaction can be recovered from the proceeds of the sale. Buyers entering the market for the first time, usually must rely on savings or assistance from relatives to accumulate a downpayment.

The size of your down payment plays an important role in determining how large a loan you qualify for.

Lenders examine your credit record and the extent to which you are already in debt. To qualify, they evaluate a variety of factors to determine the maximum monthly payment you can

Most conventional loans (not government insured) require a 20 percent down payment. But most firsttime home buyers don't have that kind of savings. Other sources are available to those who qualify - FHA or VA loans.

A LOAN INSURED by the Federal Housing Administration (FHA): normally requires a down payment of five percent of the home's appraised value. Their interest rates are generally slightly below those for conventional loans. Qualified FHA borrowers are also required to pay a mortgage insurance premium of 3.8 percent of the total toan amount. A ceiling amount, based on prevailing home costs in the area you are buying, determines the maximum loan amount.

The Veterans Administration (VA) guarantees loans to people who have served in the armed-forces and qualify. No down payment is required if the loan is for $144,000 or less. There is a one percent funding fee on VA loans.

Private mortgage insurance (PMI) loans are an option available to those who don't qualify for FHA or VA loans. These loans require a 5 to 10 percent down payment and are insured by a private mortgage company.

Not all the money you put up-front will be applied to the down payment. A major expense many first-time buyers. overlook is settlement or closing costs. When you apply for a loan, the lender is required by law to provide you with a good faith estimate of closing costs. Thousands of dollars can be spent in this final step in buying a home.

CLOSING COSTS FALL in two general categories: points, costs from making the loan; and expenses linked to the actual transfer of property from the seller to you,

Discount points charged by the lender are generally the largest part of your closing costs. One point equals one percent of the total loan amount, Poings should be a strong consideration in your loan selection. The borrower almost always pays his own points:

 Other costs, some of which may be negotiated between the buyer and the seller, include: appraisal fee, attorney's fees, credit report, property survey fee, recording fee, state and local transfer taxes, title search and insurance, and property taxes.

Stepping out

A multi-level deck is a design amenity of F&M Construction's "Jacquelynn Maria," which also features an octagon garden room off the great room.

Sentinel of style

Mounted lanterns underscore the design concept of Palazollo Brother's traditional colonial, "Bayview," which also features creative uses of brick on the house as well as in the surrounding walkways and front door entrance.

Colonial-style lighting to illuminate roadways

A custom-designed colonial-style lighting system that illuminates roadways will be leatured at this year's Homearama. The roadway lighting system, the first of its kind to be installed by a subdivision developer, will provide security lighting for homes in the Hills of Oakland subdivision.

"Many communities do not provide streetlighting to subdivisions,' according to Roy A. Maly, builder development specialist for Detroit Edison. "Moceri Development wanted to enhance the safety and value of the homes by installing colonial-style 100watt high-pressure sodium fixtures. Our Detroit Edison lighting experts helped design the system."

Discount coupons, good for $1 of the admission price to Homearama Monday through Friday, will be mailed to Detroit Edison customers with their August statements. The coupons also will be available at Detroit Edison customer officers prior to and during Homearama.

The Intelligent Choice!

'Varnish' outstrips its original meaning

By Andy Lang AP Newsfeatures

When you need more liveable space and are thinking about remodeling, don't forget the insulation in the attic floor. That insulation was originally needed to prevent the movement of rising heat through the ceiling of the living area and attic floor into the attic itself. You otherwise would be wasting energy and money to heat an attic where no one lived or slept.

It now has been determined that the amount of insulation in the attic floor is insufficient to take care of the requirements of an area where people live. It also has been determined that the large saving made possible by proper insulation applies just as much to a house with air conditioning as it does to a house with heat.

IF YOU contemplate remodeling and using the attic, a check of the insulation in the attic floor usually will reveal about 3 inches of insulation. The National Bureau of Standards and other agencies concerned with energy have estimated that 6 inches of insulation would fill the bill in the attic floor in regions of relatively mild winters. Amounts greater than that are justifiable where the climate is colder or warmer than average. Other reasons for increasing the insulation would be where energy costs are expected to rise and where walls are poorly insulated.

When adding insulation to the floor, use batts or blankets without vapor barriers. If the new installation has such barriers, slash the barriers with a knife or remove them.

WHEN IT is inconvenient to use batts or blankets, loose insulation may be used. If, by some chance, the attic floor had no insulation and you are using batts or blankets with vapor barriers, make sure those barriers are facing downward.

Insulation to be placed in the walls of the new living quarters should be

> The new polyurethane varnishes generally give a more durable finish than the varnishes made of natural resins. They cost more, but are easier to brush on, dry more quickly and have excellent clarity.

Most clear finishes don't require shaking or stirring and, in many cases, you are warned against these actions. They are inclined to cause bubbles that affect the finish.

set into place after the framework is up but before the full walls are up.

Staples used on the flanges of the insulation should be spaced about 8 inches apart. You may want to look into what are called wire insulation supports.

Since the object of a vapor barrier is to keep moisture out of the insulation itself, a cut or tear in the barrier must be repaired instantly. This can be done with a piece of barrier from a scrap section of the insulation or, in the absence of that, a piece of polyethylene. Any opening in the barrier will permit moisture to get through and thus destroy the entire purpose of the cover-

NO MATTER how efficiently your attic is insulated, there will be a considerable amount of leakage. The rule of thumb is that wherever you see any gap that might permit air or heat to escape, plug it up somehow, whether by weatherstripping, caulking compound or anything at all that will do

One way to handle this, especially around window frames, is with the wool from an insulation blanket. Pull it from a blanket and stuff it by hand into the opening.

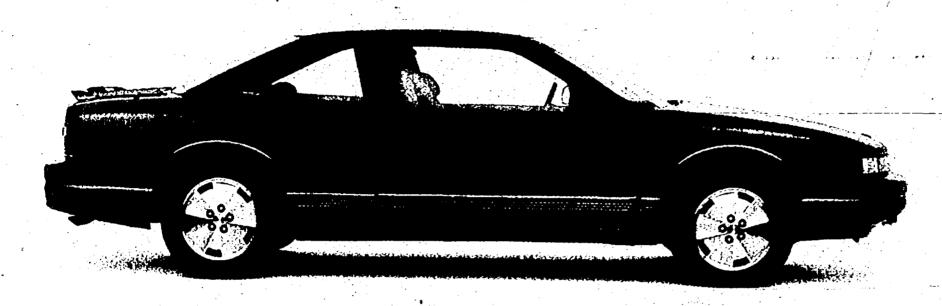

Since insulation fiber can cause skin irritation, wear work gloves of some kind while doing this. It's also a good idea to wear long-sleeved clothing to cover bare skin.

Besides escaping around window frames, air can get through electrical connections, plumbing stacks, ducts and whatever connections have been made to make living upstairs comfort: able.

Above all, there must be plenty of ventilation at the top part of the attic. There usually are a couple of vents at the gable ends, but a combination of vents there and at the eaves is much better. Moisture vapor must be permitted to get out of the attic, either through the vents or with assistance from one or more fans.

(Detailed instructions on insulating an attic are included in Andy Lang's booklet, "Save Money by Insulating, which can be obtained by sending $1 and a stamped, long envelope to Know-How, P.O. Box 477, Huntington. NY 11743.)
