Family thanks donors

By Marie Chestney staff writer

The Smith family has only one word to the thousands of Michigan residents who reached deep into their pockets over the Labor Day weekend and donated $2 million to the Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon.

That word is thanks. Roger and Sue Smith of Michele Street appeared on the Telethon to tell how the Muscular Dystrophy Association had helped their son, Eric, 16, who was to have attended special education classes at Westland's John Glenn High School this fall.

THE SMITHS found out their son had MD when he was 14 months old.

Eric died of heart failure July 15, the very day he returned from a week at a MD-sponsored camp in Lexington.

"We told them (the TV audience) how much Eric loved camp," said Sue Smith. "It was the favorite thing in his life. He looked forward to it all year long. It was the bright spot out of his year."

Eric had gone to the camp every year since he was nine. For those seven years, the Muscular Dystrophy

Students in Livonia Public Schools started class as scheduled Wednesday, nearly 24 hours after teachers and administrators settled on a tentative contract.

The settlement was reached at 7 a.m. Tuesday - less than 12 hours after teachers voted 7-to-1 to strike, saying they were dissatisfied over the progress of negotiations.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli sald he was "elated" over a contract settlement in time for the opening of school, while teachers union president Steve Nuamcheff, after a productive all-night bargaining session, said, "We were happy campers."

AN EMPLOYEE of the Westland Florist shop, 34235 Ford, told police someone broke into the store's greenhouse Aug. 30 or 31 and stole about $300 worth of power tools, hand tools and a wheelbarrow.

The break-in occurred between 7 p.m. and 7 a.m., the employee said. The culprit apparently cut a hole in the fence on the southeast side of the store to get into the greenhouse, police said.

City Park is the place to see and be seen for vintage cars on Wednesday evenings.

A 1950 Mercury makes its way into the parade of cars inching along the streets in City Park. Many people are drawn to the park on Wednesday nights to look at the classic cars on display.

Car owners, buffs gear up to meet

HE BODIES are glistening and the engines purring as classic car owners and buffs gather each week at the place to see and be seen - in Garden City's City Park on Cherry Hill at Merriman.

On warm, clear Wednesday evenings more than 100 vintage cars are parked on display around the park with the roads filled with spectators.

"We started meeting here a couple" years ago. There are a lot of clubs: that meet here," commented Ed La-Belle of Farmington Hills, who has a 1947 Ford modified with 1979 Ponti-

"Rather than restore the car it is modified to make it run better and more reliably and make it better looking," he said. "Some make their cars go faster but I don't."

A wide range of cars are on display at the park, from Model Ts to 1970s muscle cars that have been restored or modified.

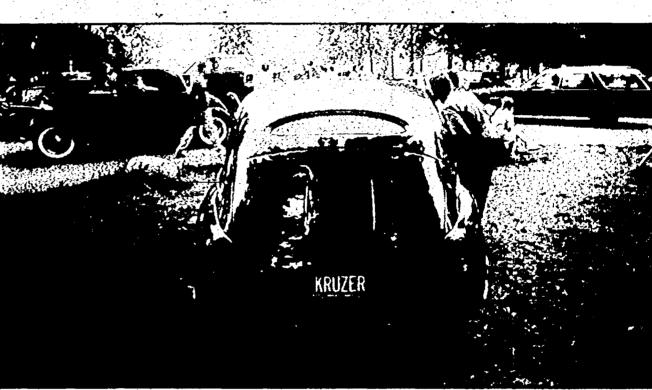

The car owners start gathering in the spring, about the time daylight savings time begins, LaBelle said, continuing until the evenings start getting chilly.

"The weather governs us really."

he said. "On a rainy night you will find a few diehards out here. It's getting crowded so people who want to get a good spot, they come early."

The cars start gathering about 6 p.m. and many people drive through the park to look at the vehicles.

LAMONICA SAID the administration also got what it wanted by not having maximum class size numbers reduced.

He said that while the LPS often have lower than state mandated maximum class sizes, "We didn't want to lock these in if funding dries up or the state changes the way they fund education."

Naumcheff said teachers also were able to remove a provision in the previous contract, which required laid-off teachers called back to school to pay back benefits.

By late next week, Naumcheff said teachers would receive printed copies of the tentative contract. "We'll give them the weekend to look at it, and then the next week vote on it."

President's drug plan gets mixed reaction

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Like counterparts throughout the nation, area law enforcement professionals and drug counselors greeted President Bush's new anti-drug measures with hope and concern.

While they praised the president for tackling the issue, they also wondered whether his program would go far enough.

"Overall, I'd have to say it was a positive step," Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano said. "My concern is that he said money would be taken. from other areas of the budget. If those people complain when their ox gets gored it could hurt the pro-

Others said the balance was wrong.

"I added up the figures and it. came out of about 70 percent for hardware and 30 percent for treatment and education," said U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth. "I have a codcern we're not doing enough in education."

The president announced his antidrug proposal during a televised address Tuesday night.

The $7.9 billion dollar proposal equates to about $32 for every U.S. citizen. It represents a $2.2 billion increase over previous proposal for the the next fiscal year.

The president's program includes $1.6 billion for prison construction, drawing praise Ficano.

"THERE HAS to be the certainty of swift, sure punishment," Ficano said. "We need to put the drug dealers away." -

Still, Ficano said education was as powerful a tool as incarceration.

The $1.2 billion set aside for prevention and education programs was essential, Ficano said.

"Education is ultimately the key," he said.

The proposal would also set aside $925 million for drug-treatment programs. Despite its size, one area professional predicted that figure would do little to help treatment centers expand programs.

"When you see it on TV it looks like a lot of money," said John Farrar, executive director of the Community Commission on Drug Abuse.

'My concern is that he said money would be taken from other areas of the budget. If those people complain when their ox gets gored it could hurt the program.'

- Robert Ficano Wayne County sheriff

"But when you divide it by the 50 states, then by statewide regions and then by the number of treatment centers in each region, it doesn't amount to too much."

Drug treatment centers, including CCDA centers in Livonia, Westland and Northville, would see budgets rise by a mere 2-3 percent, Farrar predicted.

"THAT'S NOT enough to expand what they're doing," he said. "It's just enough to keep them going."

The $350 million set aside for state and local law enforcement

"Drug dealers live seen precious little change. in the suburbs, too. A lot of them are affluent people living in big houses."

While the president promised federal anti-drug grants to communities tight. willing to come up with matching dollars, Sheuell said there were steps area communities could take even in advance of the grants.

Chief among them, he said, was assigning officers to the regional drug task force.

"Some communities send an officer to participate, others don't," he said, "But if there's one thing we need it's more people in the field."

The president's proposal also includes $3.1 billion for additional law enforcement, $449 million for international anti-drug operations and $250 million to expand the nation's effort, similar to that President Kennedy started by saying we intended to put a man on the moon in the 1960s," Ficano said.

Added Farrar: "Anytime the president goes on TV and announces something is a nationwide problem, it's going to get attention. I suppose I'd be more critical if he wasn't doing anything."

Area schools sue over state aid

By Wayne Peal staff writer

A recently filed lawsuit could mean more money for Michigan's less'wealthy school districts, according to area superintendents whose districts joined in the suit.

Wayne-Westland, Garden City and Redford Union schools are among the 112 public school districts suing the state. The group calls itself In-Formula Caucus School Districts. Its long-range goal: change Michigan's school aid formula.

"It's an opportunity for equity." Garden City Schools Superintendent Michael Wilmot said. "It's an opportunity to see spending for our kids reach that of neighboring districts." Changing the state aid formula isn't directly a part of the lawsuit.

The group filed suit Friday in Wayne County Circuit Court seeking the right to spend public money to sue the state. If successful, however, the group will challenge the state aid formula.

While school spending is the focus ofotwo proposals on the November ballot, superintendents said the lawsuit was necessary because the ballot proposals don't go far enough.

"PROPOSAL A (a half-cent state sales tax increase) does very little, if anything, for equity," Wayne-Westland Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said. "Proposal B (a 2-cent sales tax increase) addresses equity, but it's like stopping a nose bleed when surgery is needed."

A similar lawsuit forced Kentucky to change its state aid formula."We hope we're as successful as the people there," O'Neill said.

Gaps between wealthy and less wealthy districts are widening, Red- a stand for equity."

Superintendents said the lawsuit was necessary because (state) ballot proposals don't go far enough.

ford Union Superintendent Kenneth Erickson said.

"I have figures that show that if we spent as much as Southfield did per pupil, it would increase our budget by $21 million," Erickson said. "That's a big difference."

Redford Union spent $4,000 to educate each of its 6,195 students during the past school year. In contrast, Southfield spent $7,265 per student.

As in-formula districts, Wayne-Westland, Garden City and Redford Union receive state aid for basic classroom expenses. Despite the state aid, per student

Beard wins honor as commissioner

Kay Beard, who represents Garden City, Westland and Inkster, has been picked to share the commissloner of the year award, recently given by the Michigan Association of Counties. She is the first Wayne County commissioner to win the award since the recognition program was initiated four years ago. She was honored during a recent MAC summer conference, held in Muskegon.

For the first time since the award was initiated, there was a tle for commissioner of the year.

Sharing the honor with Beard is Andrew DeKraker of Kent County, who served on the county board for

In the past four years, the MAC board of directors has named a person from three categories: countywide elected official, staff member and a county commission-

James Callahan, MAC executive director, said the nominees were persons who were active in the association's programs, policies and committees and provided leadership in county government.

Kay Beard has shown exceptional service and is an outstanding example of what a county commissioner should be," he said. "Her constituents should be very proud to have Kay representing them."

Beard was appointed to a board vacancy in April 1978, winning election to a full term that fall. Since then, she has been re-elected to five two-year terms.

In MAC, Beard serves on the social services/aging committee, which she chaired for five years. and was recommended by the association to serve on the Michigan Child Care Fund Advisory Commit-

She was recently named a new chairperson of the county board's audit committee, which is only one of two committees mandated in the county charter.

Coin investors can profit from advice

By Kelth Postler

For "Larry," a 34-year-old businessman from Pickney, the proposal seemed too good to pass up: He could spend $3,000 on an investment that was almost guaranteed to double in value in less than three years. Or so he was told.

He spent $3,000 in 1988 on a.$1 1873 U.S. gold coin, and later found out it was really only worth approximately $1,300. He also spent $2,600 on an 1892 Colombian coin, when it was only valued at $1,300.

Imagine an investment so good that for a decade, it outperformed all others - from oil and U.S. Treasury Bills to U.S. stamps - compounding annually at a whopping rate of 25.7 percent.

ENTER RARE U.S. coins, the investment rage of the '90s.

"I know what I'm doing now that it won't happen to me again," Larry said recently. "I just assumed everybody was playing by the same rules, but apparently they weren't."

Larry knew of the potential for appreciation, but wasn't aware of some of the rules involved when buying rare coins. Like millions of others, he was the victim of less-thanethical business practices bordering LARRY'S STORY is not uncommon, said Charles Jarrait, president of Richard Charles Rare Coin Galleries in Plymouth.

"When you find an area that is really blossoming, you find con men who come into the business to take advantage of people, and rare coins are no exception," he said.

The market for rare coins has been blossoming since the turn of the century, Jarrait said.

The reasons for the surge in popularity, he said, are twofold. Truly rare, high-quality coins are available in a fixed, limited supply only, while the number of collectors and investors continues to grow.

In the late 1950s and early '60s, for instance, Jarrait estimated that 500,000 coin collectors were in the United States. Today, that number has ballooned to 18-20 million, he

"Coins can be a tremendous investment if you just follow the rules," Jarrait said. "It's just like any other investment, but people just don't know the rules involved. with rare coin investment."

JARRAIT SUGGESTED the following rules:

· Make sure the coins have been graded and certified by one of the major Independent grading services. The services are the Professional Coin Grading Service (PCGS), 1-714-250-1211; the Numismatic Guaranty Corporation of America (NGC), 1-201-984-6222; the American Num-Ismatic Association Certified Service (ANACS), 1-719-632-2646; and the Numismatic Certifled Institute (NCI), 1-214-742-2200.

The PCGS is the industry standard for grading rare coins and can provide a list of authorized PCGS dealers in the United States and Canada, said Mike Saum, a rare coin dealer with Richard Charles. Of the four services listed above, the NCI is generally viewed as more liberal, Jar-

• Buy quality, Low-grade coins, as a rule, tend not to perform as well as high-grade coins.

Why is a high-grade coin so rare and valuable? There is no one answer, Jarrait said. Rare coins are more valuable because fewer were minted and even less are in circulation today. Some are high quality because of the detail and the artisans who handcrafted them; others are rare because of their metal content and bullion value.

• Don't bounce in and out of the coin market. Coins are normally considered long-term investments (three-to-five-years). If you don't think you will hold the coin for a minimum of three years, don't buy

• Buy coins that are special and unusual. When looking at rare coins as an investor rather than a collector, you only want high quality rare coins, not high quality old coins.

• For your protection, deal only with a dealer that is a member of the Coin and Builion Dealer Accreditation Program (CABDAP). CAB-DAP is an independent, voluntary and industrywide program of selfregulation, like the Securities Exchange Commission is to the securities industry.

Jobless rate down in western suburbs

Unemployment shrunk in western Wayne County during July, helping contribute to a statewide decline.

The statewide unemployment rate was 7,3 percent for July, according to just-released Michigan Employment Security Commission figures. The figure represented a slight decrease from June, when unemployment was 7.5 percent. It also represented a slight decrease from the 7.4 percent unemployment posted in July 1988.

Unemployment in the Detroit area was 7.5 percent, Though slightly higher than the state average, the figure represents a substantial decrease over the 8.5 percent unemployment posted for the same period one year ago.

AMONG THE state's major job markets, only Flint showed an unemployment increase.

Flint's unemployment rate for July, 12.6 percent, was the highest in the state and nearly double that posted in most other regions. The Ann Arbor region posted the lowest monthly unemployment rate, 4:4 percent.

Monthly unemployment fell among area communities as follows:

• Livonia — 4.3 percent, a decrease from 4.4 percent in June, There were 53,600 Livonians working, according to the MESC, and 2,400 unemployed in the city.

Tougher laws proposed for nursing home closure

By Brian Lysaght staff writer

Nursing home advocates are hoping some good will come from the shutdown this summer of a Bloomfield Township nursing home.

The decertification of Bloomfield Hills Care Center in June and actions against two other facilities were cited by lawmakers seeking to revise state law covering nursing home closures, to make it easier on the patients and tougher on the nursing homes.

State Reps. Sharon L. Gire, D-Mount Clemens, and Michael Bennane, D-Detroit, and state Sen. Frederick Dillingham, R-Howell, plan to introduce bills in October.

The bills, Gire said, would make it easier on residents of nursing homes that failed to meet government standards.

The legislation, which would amend the public health code, is based on the recommendations of Citizens for Better Care, a nursing home advocacy group.

CBC issued a letter in July detailing the decertification of the Bloomfield center on Square Lake Road in June, and actions against Chateau Gardens in Flint and Roselawn Manor in Lansing.

THE FEDERAL government stopped Medicaid and Medicare payments to the 366-bed Bloomfield center after the facility failed several inspections.

Bloomfield was the state's largest nursing home, and the move sent hundreds of residents scrambling to find another nursing home before insurance payments ceased. The nursing home has remained open, though, with approximately 25 private pay patients.

Dillingham and Gire said the legislation would:

• Require residents and their family members to be notified as soon as possible when the government moves to revoke a nursing. home's license.

• Ban new admissions to a nursing home that is scheduled to close.

• Establish a multi-agency committee to coordinate the closure of a nursing home.

• Appoint receivers to operate substandard nursing homes and establish qualifications for receivers.

• Prohibit the state from issuing a new nursing home license to the operator of a facility that has been delicensed.

CBC OFFICIALS were pleased by the proposed bills.

The legislation, to the best of our knowledge, looks like it reflects very much our concerns about strengthening the Michigan Department of Public Health's ability to act to enforce state law," said Susan Rourke, CBC's executive director.

"We want it to move as expeditiously as possible so these protections are in place, hopefully, by the time the Legislature recesses for Christmas," said Hollis Turnham, the state's long-term care ombudsman, and a member of CBC.

The legislative services bureau is drawing up bills, Gire and Dillingham said.

"What we've decided to do is to work together to develop the legislation and then do what we call a joint introduction, in the House and Senate," Dillingham said."

Bennane was out of town, last week, and could not be reached for

Mayor's race Griffin, Artley merit support

ESTLAND HAS undergone dramatic changes during the last four years. In fact, someone who left the city in 1985 and returned this summer might he hard pressed to recognize his old hometown.

A spate of projects — from the Meijer superstore and Showcase movie complex, to new apartments, condominiums and even a few subdivisions of single-family homes - dot the Westland landscape. A major roadway (Central City Parkway) winds through an area that was unusable, undeveloped land as recently as two

A monument to Vietnam veterans has been erected in front of a refurbished city hall. Outdoor basketball courts are under construction near the Bailey Recreation Center.

We have watched the burgeoning economic development of Westland with both pride and caution. The expansion was not only good, but necessary. However, as the city continues its transition from rural township into major metropolitan suburb, we see some difficult problems on the

THAT IS why we are recommending incumbent Charles Griffin and city councilman Thomas Artley to be nominated in next Tuesday's mayoral primary. They are the two candidates best suited to guide the city into the 1990s.

Griffin has benefited by having his first term in office coincide with the national and state ecohomic recovery. The recession of the early 1980s was fading from view as he took office in January 1986. But he deserves some of the credit for helping steer the boom Westland's way.

Griffin's appointments, particularly in key financial and development positions, have been motivated and capable people. Tim Schroeder, the outgoing director of economic development, and Robert Matzo, who has served as assessor and director of the department of public services, are examples.

Judging by results, the administration's effort to streamline and create a higher profile for the clty's_economic development department has peen successful.

THE EXPANSION has been accomplished for the most part without reckless spending. Griffin avors a fiscally conservative approach — workGriffin and Artley would be the best choices for voters in the November general election.

ing within the budget and looking for innovative, yet inexpensive ways to accomplish his goals.

Griffin also seems attuned to some of the problems that come along with development. In a questionnaire mailed to all candidates, he responded that one of his top concerns for the immediate future was making sure Westland roads can handle the increased traffic that has already begun flowing into the city.

He has also talked about prudent development and ensuring that new projects conform with the master plan worked out by city leaders in the Controlling commercial development so that both residents and businesses benefit is also one of Artley's top priorities. He believes homeowners should not be shortchanged when it comes to input on what is best for the city. He understands that while no single resident contributes more revenue than the city's largest commercial and industrial taxpayers, collectively they are the city's bread and butter.

ARTLEY ALSO favors the current proposal before the council for a comprehensive study of the city's police and fire departments. With his colleagues, he recognizes that increased economic development may require a substantially larger commitment to public safety.

In his 12½ years on the council, Artley has demonstrated a well thought out approach to problem solving that could serve him well in the mayor's office.

Although he has capably served Westland residents as a councilman and has no glaring faults. Artley does need to work on his approach to other council members. As a council member, his direct and sometimes abrasive comments can be viewed as part of the overall debate.

But the same management style as mayor would almost surely sidetrack the legislative process and could lead to a return of the divisive administration-council relationship of the early

Cries of urban sprawl mask other problems

SUBURBS, HEAR THIS. You can't have it both ways. You can't try to isolate yourselves from Detroit and Pontiac and their problems, and then cry that you should have been consulted when word surfaces of a proposed mega mall way the heck out in Auburn Hills or a Somerset North in Troy.

Both impact your communities. The communities of Southfield, a major suburb struggling to remain viable, and Lake Angelus, a tiny suburb trying to remain uncluttered, will ask the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) for a regional impact study of Auburn Mills, the 2.3-million-squarefoot mall slated for I-75 near Joslyn Road. Size-wise, that's about twice Troy's Oakland Mall. Other communities may join the chorus.

Southfield has been on record against urban sprawl, for some time - well, uh, sometime after Northland. City fathers don't like what's happening in Novi, particularly now that Southfield-based Providence Hospital wants to shift some of its services that-a-way. They were on record against The Palace and the new GM Tech Center.

"We ought to learn from our experiences," Southfield City Manager Robert Block said. "If it (Northland) was wrong and eventually hurt Detroit, then let's not repeat it."

AUBURN HILLS' immediate neighbor, Rochester Hills, is also making noises of concern-"Here we go again," according to Rochester Hills Mayor Billie Ireland, who last fall successfully fought against a traffic pattern for getting to The Palace which used Rochester Hills' streets.

The proposed mega mall "shows the lack of coordination between the municipalities in this fast-growing county of Oakland," said Rochester Hills councilman Ed Baron. He said there should be some sort of regional analysis of a community's plan for such a large project.

Enter SEMCOG, which is on record on behalf of curbing urban sprawl, favoring older citles and preserving nature in the countryside. As the official planning agency for the seven-county region, they recently endorsed such a plan as proposed by "the Big Four" — Oakland County Executive Dan Murphy, Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara, Detroit Mayor Coleman Young and Macomb Board Chairman Mark Steenburgh.

But what will a review by SEM-COG do?

- · Southfield county commissioner Lawrence Pernick says that SEM-COG has already violated its principles by making the Auburn Hills mega mall site eligible for federal road aid.
- It will only do the review if a clearing house review committee
- And, bottom line, it is only an advisory body, although its advice

could influence that federal aid for roadwork.

BUT, WHAT, if not SEMCOG? It seems to be the only agency with the potential for making us stop, look and listen to the sounds of growth. Is the growth real or manufactured? Is it just one more move to avoid dealing with our real problems: racial polarization, unequal educational opportunities, crime and drugs?

Suburbs, you can't duck from what happens in Detroit and Pontiac and then hope to control what happens in Novi and Auburn Hills.

Once again, the Detroit metro area is in this together. If we attack the real problems, the growth can re-spring from where there are already roads, sewers, water.

"What we're doing here is spending dollars to build a mall in a corn field, while we abandon our older cities," says Rochester Hills' councilman Baron.

Sure wish I'd sald that.

Judith Doner Berne is assistant managing editor for the Oakland County editions of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers.

Bollinger has demonstrated a commitment in trying to improve the community and its quality of life. She is on the city's planning commission and has a clear thinking approach in solving problems. She came close to defeating an incumbent and winning a council seat in 1987. This year may be her year.

In rounding out the field of the top eight candidates, Dorothy Smith, Sandra Cicirelli, and Joseph Eadeh should be nominated in the Tuesday. primary,

Smith, who has run for council seats before, would be a good representative of the city's southeast corner and would provide valuable input from the community's black residents who sometimes feel isolated from the rest of the city. With a background on the city's community development block grant advisory committee, Smith clearly cares about the city and solving its problems.

Cicirelli, a lawyer, has served on the city's zoning board of appeals, which deals with a variety land development issues.

Eadeh demonstrates that he is concerned with the lack of long-term planning for economic development, and the need for an effective substance abuse program in the community.

On Tuesday, Sept. 12, we recommend Kenneth Mehl, William Ziemba, Ben DeHart, Terri Reichgard Johnson, Ethel Bollinger, Dorothy Smith, Sandra Cicirelli and Joseph Eadeh.

Land sale was protested

To the editor:

I read with interest the Aug. 31 front page article regarding the Hawthorne golf course expansion. But I find your survey results very confusing. When the extent of the expansion came to light in July, I covered a three-block area on August around my home and found not one person in favor of the park being sold to Hawthorne Valley.

I would like to know who conducted the survey. Some of my neighbors on August saw the surveyors, but were not asked their opinion. These surveyors were going to a street that does not border the park.

I also wonder why you didn't quote. anyone against the park sale. Wouldn't that have been objective reporting? Please be fair. The land purchase extends from Merriman to Middlebelt and that is a large section of the parkway.

However, the golf course isn't the main issue here. The real issue is the sale of public parkland to a private developer, depriving many familles of access to the park. We don't need golf courses as much as we need parks which can be used by many as opposed to the few who can afford Emma Schaening the golf fees.

If this piece of park is sold, we can probably expect more parkland to be sold and we can end up with no place for picnics, baseball and other free summer and winter recreational ac-

Residents who oppose this sale of parkland have not been able to get the publicity that a rich restaurant owner has. We did hold a protest in the park on Aug. 6. The Observer was notified but evidently did not find our efforts worth covering. We did get on the Channel 4 news on that date and also in the Detroit News.

We have circulated petitions throughout the area and have many signatures of county residents who object to the sale of county parkland, expecially to a private developer. We plan to continue to object to the sale until we have exhausted all possible avenues open to us.

But please do us the courtesy of listening to us. We are your neighbors and we read your newspaper too. We know there are many people bordering the park who don't want it sold. The people you quoted in your paper are people who already live on the golf course that now exists. Talk to those who do not live on the edge of the course too. They purchased land on the parkway and would like to see it stay that way.

Chidester gets praise

To the editor:

As advocates for older adults and the disabled community, we work with many organizations, and businesses in resolving transportation related problems. Many solutions can be inexpensive yet notable.

We would like to recognize a member of the Livonia community which has proven an understanding and willingness to work with us, Dennis Chidester and the management of the Wonderland Shopping Center.

Our committee received a complaint from a public transit rider about the bus stop at Wonderland. The location was a particular inconventence to older adults and disabled customers. We approached Mr. Chidester, who acted quickly and responsibly in making the change to a safe, accessible bus stop near the mall entrance.

We in the older adult and disabled community do not want to be "given" everything, just the opportunity to participate like others. Actions like Mr. Chidester and the management of the Wonderland Shopping Center do help. Jesse Holmes

We exchanged a few more noncommittel words and he trundled off down the street, hoping, presumably, to have better luck with some of the neighbors.

I closed the door and went back inside. I picked up the cup of coffee that was starting to get cold and indulged in thoughts of my childhood in a small town in Arkansas.

And once a month or so, the Fuller Brush man came around with mops and brooms and hairbrushes and always a free sample of some small

But that was years ago, in a different world. People trusted each other then, and "mugging" was a term yet to be invented. The Fuller Brush man didn't have to have a permit from the city to tour the neighborhoods, and if an occasional tramp did show up, you gave him a sandwich and a piece of pie because you knew he was just a harmless drifter who was broke and hungry.

My mind kept flashing back on such things for the rest of the afternoon, until it was time to go to work. Thoughts of an earlier, and more trusting, world.

When I left my car in the office parking lot later in the day, I made sure I locked the doors. But I still kept thinking of the little man with the big sample case, trudging off to try to sell one of my neighbors a brush or a broom.

I wish I had bought something from him.

THIS SUMMER WAS Michigan's first $10 billion summer, according to Travel Bureau director John Sav-

The record occurred despite a slowdown in the national economy and an erosion of consumer confidence, he said. Erosion of consumer confidence? A poll of metro Detroiters released last week showed just the opposite. And shopping mall stores in Oakland and Washtenaw counties, in particular, are so hardRichard up for help that they're offering tuition incentives and child care.

Savich last week launched the bureau's new Michigan Fall Travel Guide and Calendar of Events at a news conference, saying:

"Make no mistake: Although preliminary figures may say that travel had a $10 billion economic impact this summer, this has been a tough year. Every year since 1985 has set a record in Michigan travel history, and it becomes harder and harder each year to improve on the record performance of the previous 12 months.

"We started 1989 faced with predictions of rising gasoline prices and a softening economy. We got erratic prices, slow growth in the gross national product, a seven-point decline in consumer confidence, and a 10- to 15-percent growth in hotel rooms all of which makes for a very unusual year full of mixed signals."

"MIXED SIGNALS"?

State parks now take reservations, and over the Labor Day weekend many were filled - despite the abundance of mosquitoes generated by early season rain.

In florid language, Savich unveiled ... the new "user friendly" fall travel guide. It combines a calendar of fess; tivals and activities with a selection: of 25 color tours, 80 cider mills and other goodies. •

SC wind ensemble has new conductor

By Janice Brunson staff writer

Victor Bordo, a noted symphony band conductor and author of musical publications, has been named the new conductor of Schoolcraft College's wind ensemble.

The ensemble, comprised of community musicians and students of music at Schoolcraft, perform publicly four times annually.

"Participating in a music ensemble is a lifetime skill and individuals with musical talent should continue to enhance their talent," Bordo said.

A former director of the Ann Arbor Symphony Band and former symphony band director for Pioneer High School in Ann Arbor, Bordo is an accomplished musician who holds bachelor's and master's degrees in music from Wayne State University. He is currently working on a doctorate in music performance from the University of

In his new position with Schoolcraft. Bordo will conduct weekly ensemble rehearsals and four public performances, scheduled both on and off campus. The group performs selections ranging from pop to classical music.

ALL INTERESTED musicians are welcome to participate in rehearsals, even those who have not played in recent years, according to Larry Ordowski, associate dean of liberal arts for Schoolcraft.

Bordo was selected from a field of three finalists who, as part of the interview process, auditioned with the wind ensemble, Ordowski said.

Bordo was named distinguished bandmaster of America, First Chair of America in 1977 and won the Mac Award for maintaining high ideals in band performance in 1976. He has participated in numerous Midwestern Conference competitions and clinics and has authored "The Modern Concert Band - Where Do We Go From Here?" "Rehearsal Techniques, In-

Fact or fiction: Finding your froots'

By Sue Mason staff writer 😘

The year was 1975, when interest in genealogy was at fever pitch, thanks to Alex Haley's book, "Roots."

Thursday, September 7, 1989 O&E

A group of people, who had taken a genealogy class offered at Schoolcraft College, decided it was time to form a club especially for people looking for their ''roots.'

More than 13 years later, the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society is going strong. The interest in genealogy may not be what it once was, but once a month from September to May, 65 society members meet at the Livonia Civic Center Library to hear how they can make better use of courthouse records or the state archives and help each other discover their pasts.

"Once you get the hang of it, it's not hard," said Sanford Balnton, club president. "You start feeling like a detective getting a few pieces to a puzzle."

Blanton considers himself a youngster when it comes to genealogy because of his age -35. Many people are older when they get interested in genealogy, he said.

He began his research in April 1986, partly because of the birth of his second child and partly because of a co-worker who while at a library in Fort Wayne, Ind., found a listing in the 1910 census of his grandmother, who was then a 10-year-old living in the Ridge Grove Precinct of Chambers County, Ala.

"I HAD THIS strong fatherly feeling at me time and knowing about my grandmother brought all those feelings together." Blanton said. "It's like kind of being a part of a living chain. Most people are older when they get those feelings and many say they wished they'd started (doing research) when they were younger."

Blanton has traced his lineage back nine generations to 1682, when Thomas Blanton immigrated to America from England. Blanton believes the young man was probably the first Blanton to step foot on American soil.

In his research he has cleared up "a family legend" about his second great-grandfather, Alex-

By researching pension records from the federal archives, Blanton discovered that Alexander had not served in the military during the war, rather he had paid a gentleman $400 to serve in his place and go with Gen. Andrew Jackson to Fort Gaines, Ala., to fight the Indians,

Blantan and his wife have been able to trace her ancestory on her mother's side back to the 1500s when the family lived in France. The research turned up a second great-grandfather, Alexander Lamerand, who fought with Company D of the 15th Regiment, Michigan Infantry, during the

"The names, dates and places are the skeleton, but when you find out little stories about ancestors, it kind of fills out the person," Blanton said.

Members of the society come from throughout western Wayne County, including Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Redford Township and Plymouth. There also are a few former members living in Arizona and Pennsylvania who keep in touch to get the society's quarterly newsletter, Blanton

THE MEETING season starts off with the society's annual genealogy workshop, which will be held on Sept. 20. Like the meetings, the workshop is open to the public and club "experts" will be on hand to talk to people about getting started in genealogy, researching in the southeast; northeast, French-Canadian ancestory and the like and specific problems people are having tracing their roots.

"History and genealogy go hand in hand," Blanton said. "To understand your ancestory, you get a better feel for history, It helps you understand where your ancestors came from."

Blanton cautions people interested in genealogy that it takes time to do and it can become addictive. He spends weekends, evenings and his free time doing research.

"It's not an obsession, it's a fascinating hobby," he said. " It's a labor of enjoyment. I have many hours invested in it and I've enjoyed every one of them.

"Once you get bitten, it's hard to give it up. It's like eating peanuts. You never eat just one.

The Western Wayne County Genealogical Society meets at 8 p.m. the third Wedenesday of the month at the Livonia Civic Center Library, 32777 Five Mile Road, Livonia. It is sponsored by the Livonia Library Commission and the Livonia Library System. For more information, call club president Sanford Blanton at 422-8344.

Search is slow process

▼0 YOU WANT to find you 'roots," huh? ----Well, a word to the wise. Don't expect to know everything about your ancestry in a day. Genealogy is a time-consuming process that takes, among other things, a lot of organization.

Genealogy is one of the most popular hobbies in the United States today. It's a form of historical research that starts with the known and works toward the unknown — from the present to as far back as possible. 📑

.Tracing your "roots" is like constructing a skeleton. Names make up the skuletal structure and the historical and geographical information gleaned during the search puts flesh on those bare bones.

But how do you get started? Before recording your first bit of information, make sure you have a easily accessible filling system. When you record information - names, dates and other pertinent details — be exact. And documents - birth, marriage, divorce and death certificates, marriage announcements, newspaper clippings, etc. — that substantiate your ancestry should be kept with your notes. \

As for the notes, It's best to keep them brief, but accurate. Try putting them into your own words or indicate with quote marks those taken from someone else. It's also smart to record the exact source of the information.

One of the most important: methods of genealogy is the orall history, obtained from older relatives. Family records, including the family Bible, diaries and old letters also provide a lot of information about the family tree.

ANOTHER SOURCE of information is deeds, wills and tax records, available from county records. But as you delve further into the past keep in mind that county boundaries change during the colonial period and early independence.

Cemetaries also can help document dates of deaths, but be sure to record the exact wording on tombstones. Words had different meanings way back when. A case in point is consort. In bygone days, it meant a spose living at the time of the person's death.

Also, wife didn't necessarily mean wife and relict was an indication that the deceased was a widow or widower.

Church, school and hospital records can also produce information on ancestry as well as military and naturalization

Secondary sources would be newspaper announcements, collective biographies found in libraries, directories of organizations and genealogical periodicals and related indexes.

Experts offer a word of caution when doing a genealogical search: Don't expand your research overseas until you're certain you've exhausted all the sources available in this country.

The library may be one place to start your search. Consider reading books like Timothy Beard's "How to Find Your Family Roots," of which more than half is a guide to names and addresses of record repositories in the world.

THERE ARE several generlogical libraries throughout the country, notably the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-day Saints Genealogical Library in Salt Lake City, Utah (call 801-531-2331), the American Genealogical Lending Library in Bountiful, Utah (call 801-298-5358), and the National Genealogical Soclety Library in Washington, D.C. (call 202-785-2123)

The U.S. National Archives and Record Service maintains record centers across the country, the closest being the Federal Record Center in Dayton, Ohlo (call 513-225-2878). There's also one in Chicago, Ill. (call 312-353-0164)

Research turns up an Indian captive

staff writer

Virginia Braun set out to prove three things when she began tracing her family tree in 1982 - that she was related to the War of 1812 hero Oliver Hazard Perry, that there was Indian blood in her family like her grandfather had said and that one of her ancestors had been kidnapped by Indians. She has accomplished those goals, although only one - the kidnapping — turned out to be true, and she still is pursuing her

"I didn't know what I'd find," she said. "I set out to prove those three things and once I got started I couldn't stop."

Braun has been able to trace her family tree back 14 generations to the 1500s and her sixth great-grandfather. She has unearthed 40 different surnames and 511 ancestors.

And what she has discovered reads like chapters from a history

The Westland resident has found that all of her ancestors were in American by the 1800s, with some coming to Rhode Island as early as 1638. Many of them were Quakers, she said.

She also has been able to prove that five family members were veterans of the Revolutionary War, qualifying her for membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, and that one served during the Civil War, sending letters home recounting the Battle of the Merrimac.

AND ONE ancestor, a 7-yearold girl named Eva, spent seven years as an Indian captive before being kidnapped and returned to her family in exchange for a bounty offered for a return of such captives.

That happened in Pennsylvania and Eva went on to marry, have 12 children and eventually become one of the original settlers of Dayton, Ohio, Braun said. Braun has traveled to Salt Lake City twice to do research at the Church of the Latter-day-Saints library, gone to the Allen County Public Library in Fort Wayne, Ind., and purused the Burton Historical Collection at the Detroit Public Library.

She has bought a personal computer — "and even learned how to use" — to keep track of her research and taken over a family filing cabinet reserved for income tax records to store her wealth of documents.

"I've have found out quite a bit about my family written up in books," she said. "I even found my name in two books. That was a strange feeling."

Her interest in genealogy goes hand-in-hand with her love of old homes - "If I ever have an accident it will be because I'm looking at a house with a stone foundation" — and antiques. It also has lead to her involvement in the Westland Historical Commission and Museum.

"It's an education and a lot of what you learn can be used in other parts of your life," she said.

She got started by taking a leisure class on genealogy and eventually began teaching a similar class in Dearborn Heights. She also read up on the subject and joined the Western Wayne County Genealogical Society.

HER ADVICE to people interested in tracing their "roots" is to read a good how-to book so they get started right, then interview older relatives "before it's too

"About five years ago I had my mother write down old stories about the family," she said. "I'm glad I did. She's 95 now and her memory isn't as good as it used to

Some day Braun would like to put all of her information in book form, not to grace the shelves of a library, but for family members.

Virginia Braun of Westland has been able to prove that one of her ancestors had been kidnapped by Indians as well as trace her family tree back 14 generations to the 1500s and her sixth great-grandfather.

She promotes cause to save the rain forests /

By Sue Mason staff writer

... Margaret Pulgini has a dream. It's dream shared by many people around the world and a dream that may come to fruition, but it may be too late...

The Livonia resident would like to see a portion of the world's rain forest preserved as an international

"It breaks my heart to see them destroy something so beautiful," she said. "Developing countries are farming down there and making money hand over fist. I just can't believe they're doing that and leaving it in rubble."

Pulgini's interest in the rain forests stems from a trip she took to Mexico several years ago. It started out as a visit to the jungles of Mexico to see the Mayan ruins. Captivated by the jungle's beauty, she ended up spending three months traveling struction has occurred since 1960 as through Central America and on into the result of road building, logging, Colombia and eventually to the lost city of the Incas in Peru.

BUT PULGINI didn't get active in the movement to save the rain forests until earlier this year, when she saw rock star Sting on the "Phil Donahue Show." Sting is one of many celebritles campaigning for preservation of the rain forests. Other notables include John Denver, Robert Redford, Madonna, Ted Danson and even the Muppets.

The rain forests are a 3,000 milewide green band that straddles the earth at the equator. Destruction of the jungles began 500 years ago, when Europeans began colonizing the tropics, but wholesale exploitation of the forests began with advent of bulldozers and chain saws, according to a Rainforest Action Network fact sheet.

HOWEVER, MUCH of the de-dam construction and cattle ranching, RAN said.

Scientists believe that destruction of the rain forest — it once covered 14 percent of the earth, but now covers just 6 percent - has contributed to the "greenhouse effect," a warming of the earth's atmosphere and depletion of the ozone layer.

They estimate that 25 percent of the greenhouse gases come from the slash-and-burn agricultural methods practiced in the rain forests.

"When they clear the land, the top soil is only four-five inches thick," Pulgini said. "The heavy rain washes." it away after a couple years, and all that's left is a desert. The rain forest doesn't grow back,"

COMMITTED TO saving the rain forests, Pulgini has begun trying to promote a little-known RAN fundraiser — a cross-country horseback ride by Lucian Spataro. Spataro organized the event in an effort to "organize all sectors of so-agriculture; mining, hydro-electric clety in an effort to stop" the destruction of the rain forests. Starting in Los Angeles, Calif., he is riding 15 to 22 miles a day and hopes to reach the East Coast "somewhere between Washington, D.C., and New York" by October.

Spataro is raising money - $400 to $600 a mile - for RAN through corporate and private pledges. And at stops along the way, he also is educating people on why the rain forests need to be saved, Pulgini Pulgini has made up fliers, promoting the ride and encouraging donations to RAN. She's even considered organizing a fax-a-thon to get people to pledge money.

"WHEN I heard about his ride, I called all over the country and found no one who had heard about Lucian. When I found out that what they're doing is ecologically unsound, I decided to help this man."

Pulgini is enthusiastic about Spataro's trek. In fact, she would have liked to have met Spataro when he stopped in Indianapolis Sept. 13. But she believes it take will more, something such as an international agreement, to save the rain forests.

"I don't think the money will save the rain forests. The Audubon Society has bought land and so has Conservation International to save the rain forests, but they may find it's already been cleared. There are no rangers down there to protect the land:

"What we need to do is preserve these areas with some kind of preservation act. It's too premature to cut down the rain forests."---

Anyone interested in the preservation of the rain forests can write the Rainforest Action Network, 301 Broadway, San Francisco, Calif. 94133, or call (415)

World ecology threatened by destruction of forests

"It has been said that we know more about some areas of the moon than we do about tropical rain forests. Yet what we have learned about them so far has revolutionized our view of all life on this planet."

- Catherine Caufield "In the Rain Forest"

How real is the possible loss of the world's rain forests?

According to the National Academy of Science, at least 50 million acres a year are lost, an area the size of England, Wales and Scotland combined.

Rain forest cover about 2 percent of the earth's surface or 7 percent of the land mass. Originally, they covered at least twice that area.

The rain forests are the world's oldest continuous ecosystem. Fossil records show that the forests of southeast Asia have existed in more or less their present form for 70-100 million years.

NAS calculates that a typical foursquare-mile patch of rain forest contains as many as 1,500 species of flowering plants, 750 species of tree, 125 species of mammals, 400 species of birds, 100 species of reptiles and 150 species of butterflies.

IN FACT, a study of one square meter of leaf liter turned up 50 specles of ants.

WRC seeks counselors

Schoolcraft College's Women's Resource Center is recruiting volunteers to participate in its peer counseling program.

Peer counselors assist clients who are in some type of transition.

A requirement for volunteer peer counseling is an eight-week empathy training course. Participants learn listening and communication skills as well as problem-solving techniques.

After successful completion of the empathy training, volunteers are requested to serve a minimum of three hours a week for four months at the resource center.

An informational meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, Sept. 11, or Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the Womens Resource Center on the Schoolcraft College campus on Haggerty Road, Livonia.

For more information, call 462-

A 1978 United Nations "State of Knowledge" report predicted that all accessible rain forests will be lost by the year 2000. Brazil alone will lose an area 24 times the size of Portugal.

Likewise, a UN Food and Agriculture Organization study, published in 1981, predicted that one-fifth of the world's remaining rain forests will be gone by the end of the century.

Presently, all of the primary rain forests in India, Bangladesh, Sri Lanka and Haiti have been destroyed, and the Ivory Coast's rain forests have been almost completely logged

The Philippines lost 55 percent of its forest between 1960 and 1985. Thailand lost 45 percent between 1961 and 1985.

ACCORDING to the World Wildlife Fund, unless current trends change, the Malaysian peninsula rain forest will be gone by next year, and Nigeria will be deforested by Thailand will lose 60 percent of its 1981 rain forests by 2000, Guatemala, Colombia Guinea and Madagascar approximately one-third, and Honduras, Nicaragua and Ecuador half of their remaining forest.

J.M. Diamond and R.M. May in a 1985 article in "Nature" said rain forests in Central America, southeast Asia, western Africa, the Himilavan foothills and the Pacific Islands will largely disappear by the year 2000, accounting for the loss of 1 million square kilometers and a half million species of animals and

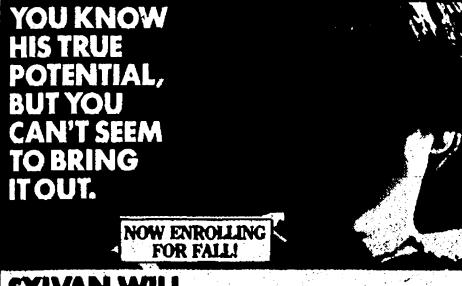

What will be lost if the devastation of the rain forests continue? Consider this:

• One-fourth of the medicines available today owe their existence to plants found in the rain forest, and 70 percent of the plants identified by the National Cancer Institute as useful in cancer treatment came from rain forests.

Drugs used to treat childhood leukemia, Hodgkin's disease and other cancers come from rain forest plants, as do medicines for heart ailments, arthritis, hypertension and birth control.

• Rain forest play a critical role in the atmosphere because they hold vast amounts of carbon in their vegetation. When they are burned or the trees cut and left to decay, the carbon is released into the atmosphere as carbon dioxide, the second largest factor contributing to the "greenhouse effect," the warming of the earth's atmosphere and the depletion of the ozone layer.

Child care open to creative ideas

The "Michigan Child Care Challenge," organized by the House Republican Task Force on Child Care, recognized employers throughout the state who have responded to their employees' child-care needs. Awards ceremonies and press conferences were held in Grand Rapids and Livonia in August to honor those

Many area businesses were among the award recipients. Of those, two serve to demonstrate that the size of the company need not be a factor when considering child-care benefits.

In addition, they show that there is more than one approach to the same type of benefit.

The credit union now offers a pretax dollar, or flexible-spending, account for child-care expenses.

With this benefit, the employee has a specified amount of money withheld from his paycheck before taxes (up to an annual maximum of $5,500) for child/dependent care.

THE CREDIT UNION reimburses the employee on a weekly basis, while many businesses only reimburse annually. The credit union has only five employees, and president/

The Rev. Daniel Helwig is settling into his new job as pastor of outreach and mercy ministries at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Plymouth. Helwig and his wife, Amy, live in Plymouth Township.

Welcome

Pastor's enjoying his new role

By Julie Brown staff writer

This year has been a time of changes for the Rev. Daniel Helwig. He graduated from the Wisconsin Lutheran Seminary with a master of divinity degree. Helwig, 26, and his wife, Amy, got married June 24. He's settling into a new role as pastor of outreach and mercy ministries at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Plymouth. Helwig, a. Wisconsin native, was installed July 9.

"It's been a real joy," he said, "We're real happy to be here. We know there's a lot of work to do." He enjoys working with the Rev. Mark Freier and members of St. Peter's. Helwig is looking forward to learning and growing in his faith.

Helwig's work includes visiting people in need of a church. He visits church members who are sick, unable to drive or otherwise homebound. Part of his job includes finding out why people don't attend

HE EARNED a bachelor's degree in liberal arts from Northwestern College in Watertown, Wis., in 1985. Helwig then headed for the seminary. He knew the ministry was the place for him to be.

"Nobody really pushéd me." 📑

His father was a Lutheran grade school teacher. Helwig attended his school, then went to a Lutheran high school in Wisconsin.

"A couple of my friends took the pastor's course and I went along with them. "I like to be with people, Studying the Bible gives us some answers to what people need to hear." People need to hear that Jesus Christ is their savior.

"The biggest problem people have is that they're going to die. Helping people in that area, there's no great-

He enjoys visiting people as well. Helwig knows it will take some time to get settled into his new job.

"You do your best. That's all God is looking for, to be faithful to your job and your calling."

HELWIG'S WIFE taught at a Lutheran grade school in Kenosha, Wis., before the couple moved here. She'll help out at St. Peter's Lutheran School in Plymouth and may do some substitute teaching at that school, which includes kindergarten through eighth grade.

Getting married, starting work and moving to their Plymouth Town- ship home has been change enough

"We'd like to have a family. I think it'd be nice, I know Amy and I'd enjoy that."

UNTIL THIS year, Helwig had never visited Michigan. "Wisconsin was always my home." I'll miss it, but I really do enjoy? Michigan. We look forward to making Plymouth our home. As long as:

God keeps us here, we'll be here." He found it difficult to get around? and find places when he first moved here. In the Wisconsin towns he was used to, numbered streets made it easier to find things.

Helwig was amazed at the general upkeep of neighborhoods and houses he found in Michigan.

"Everybody was friendly, and the houses were so well-kept." Helwig noticed the extensive building going on in outer areas of his community. That provides tremendous opportunities to seek new

He enjoys fishing and follows all sports. Helwig cheers for the Wisconsin sports teams, but was with the University of Michigan all the way in NCAA competition.

HELWIG COULD have chosen and other profession that would have paid him $50,000 or $100,000 a year.

Joy doesn't come from things

"What kind of life and lifestyle would make you glad to get up in the morning and glad to go to bed at night? What would give you the maximum zest and enthusiasm in life?" These words by Lawrence LeShan struck me like a thunderbolt. The image continues in my mind. 🛴 🗀 🖟

What are the things that drag us down? How can we re-energize our lives? I believe that our culture hammers at us with the wrong answers. Have fun. Take a cruise. Wear nice clothes and drive a new car. Enjoy life! But joy and gladness do not come from things.

C.S. Lewis tells of his own search for joy in his book, "Surprised By Joy." He sought joy in his life. He was unable to find it. Then unexpectedly, he began to experience an inner joy. He suggests the truth, joy is not a goal but a result of something else. It is a gift of God when we reorient our inner life. When we expect different things of life, joy may

Lawrence LeShan's question about arising in the morning with a feeling of gladness is paradoxically written in a book for people who have cancer. Yet those who have read earlier books by LeShan will realize that this man is searching for a prize in life that truly comes from within. He is the author of the fascinating book, "How to Meditate."

WHAT ARE the things that drag us down? The list could be endless, but above all it is that our rationalistic, scientific culture denies purpose and meaning. Reason and numbers dominate our lives, 'The bottom line" denies the search for meaning in our lives.

No wonder there is widespread drug use, including alcohol and tran-

Rev. David Strong quilizers. No wonder that more than whole culture that is dominated by go into service professions such as being a teacher, clergy person or nurse. The shortages of our nation's service professions belie our religious affiliations.

"Once dying people have a goal that engages them, the total situation changes," LeShan says. "The decay of the inner life stops and reverses." We might say that he speaks for a half of Americans expect a third death: atomic weapons, guns, drugs world war. No wonder few want to that destroy, divorce, the discarding to of old people. The list could go on.

Meditate upon this: "What makes you glad to get out of bed in the morning, glad to go to bed at night?" And if you wish, read Lawrence LeShan's most recent book, "Cancer as a Turning Point," and apply its observations to our own lives. The Rev. David Strong is pastor of St. Matthew United Methodist Church in Livonia.

AS A CAR is tested, a series of cables and tubes, attached to the engine, exhaust and interior, lead to a control room from which engineers humidifier, the humidity level can examine and record data.

One problem the company is working to eliminate with a new cooling system is torque surge, which causes a car's engine to shudder momentarily when the air conditioning system is activated. Sanden is also experimenting with oils that may be compatible with a new compressor.

Assuming an alternative refrigerant is incorporated into the mainstream car market, Noji said future selves in Dearborn or downtown Deuses for the wind tunnel could in- troit because it may look like we faclude engine testing and design test-

"We did not want to locate ourvored one auto make over another," Noji said. "This way, we're in a developing area, while at the same time available to everyone."

Sanden's clients include Ford, General Motors, Chrysler, Mazda and Honda. The company also manufactures refrigerated vending machines and showcases, space heaters and bicycle accessories.

Sanden does not release revenue figures, but Ken Morley, general manager, said year-end sales figures have increased between 10 and 12 percent in each of the last five years and should climb within that margin this year.

In addition to the Plymouth facility. Sanden also has a wind tunnel in Dallas. The company plans to move a portion of its testing operations here by September to be closer to engineering personnel of the auto in-

Worldwide, Sanden has offices in Australia, England, Mexico, Singapore and India. Locally, the company has five employees and will add. three more by September, Noji said.

Freon disposal may turn costly

Several east and west coast cities in the U.S. have passed ordinances prohibiting the use of nearly all chlorofluorocarbons, of which freon is one, in any industrial process except in the manufacture of drugs and medical devices.

In what could be a sign of things to come in Michigan, many of those same ordinances require service stations to purchase vampire units; which cost up to $5,000 each, to draw used freon from car air conditioners before replacement, rather than releasing the freon into the environment where it may act to deplete the ozone layer.

Dan Loepp, executive director of the Service Station Dealers Association of Michigan, a Lansing-based organization of 1,000 members, said if the vampire units were required in: the state, the cost of servicing air: conditioners would jump dramati-

"A lot of service stations who now service air conditioners may decide the cost-to-benefit ratio would be prohibitive with the vampire units," Loepp said. "It would then become a lot more expensive to have an air. conditioner serviced, and we may even see businesses specialize."

He added he was unaware of any state legislation proposals targeting a ban on chlorofluorocarbons or freon directly, but said he wouldn't rule out the possibility.

Mentorship program: support for women business owners

By Helen Niemiec staff writer-

area be air tight.

Three area business women are lending their expertise to assist women who recently have opened their own businesses or are planning to do so through a new nationwide mentor program sponsored by the U.S. Small Business Administration.

Susan Funk, of Detroit Bandag in Redford, Jeanne Paluzzi of JGP Marketing Group International in Livonia, and Zina Kramer of Events Marketing in Birmingham, are participating in the management development program for women busiriess owners.

The terms adopted for the SBA program are "mentor," describing a friendly adviser who already is established in business, and "protege" for the person new to business own-

'Though none of the business owners yet have been placed with a protege, SBA officials said that all mentors will be teamed up with new business owners by late fall. Officially termed the Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training, the program is a one-year formal commitment between an established and a fledgling business woman in a compatible field to lend moral support and advise.

Paluzzi, who has been active in SBA committees for seven years, said that the program is a formal recognition of a relationship that has existed informally between established and new women business own-

"This type of counseling has been and this program expands that concept. This support system provides an additional level of rapport and identification that is so important to business owners just starting out."

mentoring is especially important when women begin entering nontraditional business areas, adding that this evolution is inevitable because so many traditional business areas are saturated.

"Women are entering business at a higher rate than men now," Funk said. "There are beginning to be more women heading manufacturing companies. They need help with some of the roadblocks that are so frustrating to new business owners, that really are obvious to those of us who have gone through it before."

While rapport is important, Funk sald that mentors are especially priceless when it comes to recommending associations and societies to join to further business contacts as well as to forewarn the proteges going on for about 10 years already about pitfalls that can doom a busi-

When a woman is starting out in a business, she needs advice," Kramer explained. "She doesn't know where to begin and needs someone to talk to who was in a similar position."

Kramer said that she was fortunate to have a mentor when starting out in business and would like to return the favor.

"A BIG PROBLEM when you begin a business is loneliness. To have a mentor overcomes a piece of that loneliness. I think it's the loneliness that discourages some from going on. And women often have fewer places to meet other business people. This really helps," Kramer said.

Catherine Gase, business development specialist at SBA, said that proteges are recommended by counselors at regional SBA offices located throughout the state. Each women who volunteers to serve as a mentor will receive a list of three potential proteges, finally selecting one to work with in this "buddy sys-

"There are an incredible number of women who have volunteered to give their time to this program. The proteges need a business friend. The new business women have said that when they get to that point, they want to be a mentor too. They're already thinking of giving back the help that was given them." Gase sald.

Both mentor and protege will submit a quarterly statement to SBA explaining how the relationship is, working. At the end of the year, the formal relationship between mentor and protege is ended.

"Then we will ask the mentors if they would like to commit for another year or become a part of the Active Corps of Executives, who volunteer one hour each month for counseling new business owners," Gase said.

Don Kostoff, vice president for investments at Dean Witter, took the challenge at the urging of associate. Sandra Lee of Bloomfield Hills and with her collaboration designed a strategy that placed him first in the Michigan,

His fictional $500,000 portfolio ballooned to $1,242,735 from March 13 to May 31 and placed him 17th nationally out of 6,100 entrants. He won a $250 gift certificate and an invitation to enter the next competition, which starts next month.

You can't live without weird stuff for your car

"Moonle" is a statue of a chubby little guy you put in your rear window. Squeeze a bulb hidden under the dash and he drops his pants.

Granted, this may not be exactly a class act, but it's a sure sign that the annual APAA show is back in town.

The Automotive Parts and Accessories Association represents manufacturers of $160 billion worth of stuff American motorists buy for their cars, Stuff such as Moonie, or new-car scent, or chrome-plated van running boards, or a whistle that clamps onto your fender and is supposed to alert deer who otherwise might commit sulcide on your radiator.

ed to auto-parts stores anyway and still have to fight off the urge that . seems to come on about 1 p.m. every Saturday to go off and buy a bottle of Turtle Wax or something.

I end up at some auto parts store lost for the next couple of hours in the shelves full of hydraulic floor jacks, rear-window defoggers and other neat stuff.

· Over the years, I've succumbed to the lure of phony sheep seat covers, a tiny auto vacuum that wasn't powerful enough to clean an ashtray and a half-dozen new jackstands, among other items,

The APAA is where all these aftermarket goodles come from.

On the floor of McCormick place YVE ALWAYS been mildly addict- in Chicago, you get to meet the inventors of the Slide-N-Lock tiebar for your pickup truck, or the revolutionary NU-CHARGE system.

THE BIG BOOTHS are taken over by the Valvolines or Black & Deckers, while the small booths in the basement get the guys dreaming about inventing the next big hit, like Armor-All, which was supposed to have gotten its start on the APAA. show, on the premise that what the people really needed was something to make their tires shiny.

"India is the next big manufacturing nation," confides one importer of hand tools. Underdeveloped nations, in fact, are heavily represented, touting themselves as manufacturing sites, since price competition can-be cutthroat on commodity items such as small wrenches and pliers.

Suppliers long ago abandoned Japan and even Korea in favor of Indla, Pakistan or Malasia. I get a strong impulse to lead an expedition rubber floor mats.

BUT IT is invention that is the core of the show, ranging from 20 varieties of tune-playing car horns to a truly fascinating cupholder that works on a kind gyro-pendulum principle. A solar-powered window vent; a battery that recharges itself at the flip of a switch and a tricky butane soldering iron that ignites at a touch capture my attention.

Then I realize that no car on the editor of Popular Science.

market today is really adequate to handle half these items. You would need at least a set of air-operated overload springs just to support the weight of the airhorns, the batteryoperated compressor, the new seat into the jungle to find the lost city of covers, mud flaps, radiator grates and bumper winches.

> NEARLY READY to leave. I no: tice a sign for the Feather Wash System, which dry-cleans your car with select feathers from Chinese water fowl and a specially formulated sillcone spray. "We will be washing cars in the booth."

Just wait until next Saturday.

Demographics can affect every part of a business

Describing customer groups that are meaningful to your business may seem like an exercise in futility.

For example, how would the median home value of neighborhood customers affect a company's promotional efforts, if at all?

Is it really important to find out how customers of a sporting goods retailer spend their leisure time? And what about the newly formed business - how does it define customers it doesn't have yet?

According to Lisa Nielsen, a Market Opinion Research vice president, business owners who attempt to understand their current and potential customer markets are in a better position to ultimately attract and serve

NIELSEN SAYS MOR's consumer segmentation studies usually start out by asking individuals about their. activities, interests and opinions as they pertain to the business or organization commissioning the project.

Because lifestyle-related customer data isn't generally available through public sources for every business that requests it, small business owners can develop their own customer questionnaires.

"A sporting goods retailer that wants to promote his products more effectively would benefit greatly by finding out how his or her customers spend their leisure time," Nielsen

Investors group holds monthly forum on CompuServe

Q. I have a computer and wonder if I could get answers to my questions if I joined CompuServe. I have a long-distance connection charge as well as the CompuServe charge to pay and wonder if it would be worth

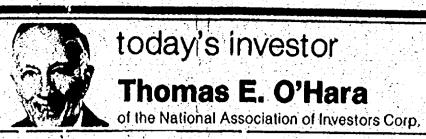

A. CompuServe has a great deal of: information. The National Associaton of Investors Corp. has a monthly forum where investors' questions are answered. I would get a trial rate from CompuServe and sample their services. That is the best way to see if your needs are met.

Q. Are spin-offs a good buy? For instance, this spring Masco Corp. spun off Trimas, and you suggested selling the fraction of a share. It was $32 then and is now $48.50. Is it a good buy? Where do you get information on a new company like this?

A. A spin-off is like any other company: It can be a good buy or a poor buy. It is necessary to look at the record and see how the company has done in the past, When a company is spun off, it has usually be operating for some time as part of another company. Its sales and earnings figures are usually available from information supplied by the parent company. You can look at these figures and judge them just as you would for any other company.

. If sales and earnings per share have shown good growth over the past five years, then you know you have an interesting company. The next question is what is a good price. Since the company has no history of selling by itself, it is difficult to judge what a fair price may be, but a review of the company's business and its growth record can help you form an idea of what a fair price

Q. Why'do stocks split? Is it a good idea to buy a stock after a split?

'A. Many companies like to see their stock selling in a particular price range, say $20 to $40. If the company grows and the stock price grows to $40 or above, the management may split the price of the stock two for one and bring the price back any value or cause the price of the stock to go up. A split merely increases the number of shares of stock you own. It is like changing $5 in dimes in $5 in nickels. You have more pieces of money, but its value is the same as before the two-for-one stock split.

In most cases, a stock split takes place because the company has increased earnings and the price of the stock has gone up. Management will split the stock to bring the price back down to where the public has traditionally traded in it. When it appears a stock might be split, the publie may run its price up a bit. Often, too, once the split takes place, some people lose interest in in and demand to $20. A stock split does not create for the stock drops off and the price. comes down.

The splitting of a stock is neither and reason to buy it or sell it.

If you think you have trouble sleeping at night, imagine what it's like for the increasing number of homeless in Metropolitan Detroit. Each year over 25,000 people sleep on the street.

Your contribution to the United Way Torch Drive helps organizations like the Coalition on Temporary Shelter (COTS), which provides a safe place to stay for people with no place to go. Plus, you're helping 153 agencies that fight drug abuse, assist youth and help the disabled.

Please, think about how much your contribution does and how much more there is to be done. This year give even more to the United Way Torch Drive. And help put the problems of the homeless to bed.

Give, for all the good you can do.

Lone Wolf making best of it at SMU

HAT IF YOU were one of the top high school football players in the state, a running back with the best college programs in the enough to take trips to Michigan, Michigan State and UCLA before deciding which you would honor with your

What kind of decision would you make?

Eighteen months ago, Jason Wolf faced such a dilemma. An all-state standout at Birmingham Brother Rice from Farmington Hills, Wolf was weighing his options, trying — as carefully as he could — to calculate which of the schools best suited him.

"It's one of the biggest decisions in any young person's life," Wolf says in retrospect. "It's one of the hardest for anyone to make. More times than not, they make the wrong decision."

A remark oozing with irony, considering Wolf's ultimate choice. He said sorry, no thanks, to the big names of college football and did something that didn't seem to make any sense at all. He signed with Southern Methodist University.

WHEN WOLF committed to SMU, the Mustangs were in the midst of the darkest days imaginable - athletically, anyway. A football program that had produced runners like Eric Dickerson of the Indianapolis Colts and Craig James of the New England Patriots was blackballed.

Repeated rules violations had earned SMU the NCAA's dreaded Death Penalty. There would be no football for a year, and the number of scholarships would be severely reduced for several more.

SMU has not put a team on the field since 1986, when It was 6-5. It has been scorned nationwide, even by its compadres in the lowly Southwest Conference, where six of nine teams (SMU included) have suffered some type of NCAA sanction in the past decade.

So when the other choices are MSU, then the reigning Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion, tradition-rich Michigan and sunny California's UCLA, why would anyone choose to attend a school without a team, with a reputation more tarnished than Richard Nixon's?

LISTEN TO WOLF and it makes perfect sense. "I always wanted to leave the state of Michigan," he said. 'I always wanted to go down south."

His choice was to play somewhere in the Southeastern Conference - Georgia, Alabama, Auburn, etc. But none of them recruited him. So he considered SMU.

Other factors began weighing on Wolf's decision. "I couldn't see myself going somewhere and practicing three years to play for two years," he said.

That wouldn't happen at SMU. Last Saturday, Wolf a redshirt freshman - started against Rice in the Mustangs' first game in nearly three years. His starting wasn't so unusual; 17 of 22 SMU starters were fresh-

The team has only 41 scholarship players (the NCAA Division I limit is 95). Which means it has little chance to win a game this year. Rice rolled to a 35-6 victory, its first after 18-consecutive losses.

But - as difficult as it may be to comprehend -Wolf found reason for optimism in the defeat. "In the second half, we came out and we were ready to play college football," he said.

TRUE, SMU was outscored just 7-6 in the second half. But that was due to the 100-degree temperatures as much as anything else. Anyway, Wolf's optimism was tempered by reality.

"That's probably what's going to happen to us the entire year," he admitted. The entire experience - the game, which meant nothing in the national polls, attracted 269 members of the media - was "pretty nerveracking," said Wolf.

"It's different. We're not going to be written about in a positive manner, not by any means. But that's part of life, especially in sports."

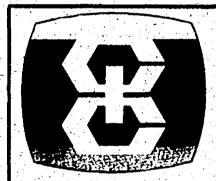

He refuses to regret his decision. "I'm getting a chance to play, so I can't complain. We may lose every game but that's the decision I made when I came here. And one thing I dld when I said I was coming here was that I would have no regrets."

WOLF CONTINUES to speak brightly of the future. Against Rice, Wolf gained 23 yards rushing on eight rushes; he is a slot receiver in SMU's run-and-shoot offense, the same type used by the Lions.

With little hope for victory - SMU's schedule includes games against Houston, Texas A&M, Arkansas and at Notre Dame - Wolf's goals, by necessity, are different. "I want to play up to my ability," he says. "We're trying to bring (the program) back. That's the way it is for everyone on the team.

"Probably our biggest hope is that one day everything will come together for us."

And the hoped-for result is a victory. It will take a lot of patience, though, and a lot of effort.

Prognosticators go 12-2 in opening week

By Brad Emone and Dan O'Meera staff writers

TOT BAD FOR openers. Your local prep football prognosticators, who strangely agreed on all 14: games last week, came away with identical 12-2 records.

Of course, the biggest surprise to both was Plymouth Canton's upset 30-14 victory at Mon-

The other game which stumped the experts occurred when Redford Thurston, winless in 1988, upset Dearborn, 7-6.

Week No. 2 has quite a few mismatches, but the most attractive game pits Western Lakes Activities Association members North Farmington (1-0) against Livonia Churchill (0-1) in a nonleague crossover on Friday.

Here is a preview of games for the weekend of

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Red. Thurston at Taylor Center (4 p.m.): Have the Eagles (1-0) landed after their upset victory last week over Dearborn? Thurston begins its Tri-River League quest against Taylor Center (0-1), a 28-14 loser last week to Belleville. Watch the defense, coordinated by Lee Bjerke and led by linebacker Steve Koss. to be the difference. Picks: Thurston makes it two

N. Farmington at Liv. Churchill: The Raiders (1-0) have no superstars, just a lot of solid players as evidenced by their 35-7 victory last week over Southfield-Lathrup. Churchill (0-1) is coming off a 35-21 loss to highly-regarded Sterling Heights. Picks: North keeps

Westland Glenn at Walled Lake Western: Coach Chuck Gordon was not happy after last week's less-than-impressive 28-22 win over Highland Park Glenn (1-0), however, has a week to iron out its probtems against Western (0-1), which turned in a respect. . if "Jailhouse Rock" is back on the charts. Picks:

grld predictions able cuting last week against state-ranked Novi, losing 22-7. Picks, it's another tough one for Glenn.

Farmington at Ply. Canton: Which Canton team will show up this week? If the Chiefs play like they did the previous week, this should be no contest. Farmington got waxed 40-3 last week by West Bloomfield. Oh, that's scary. Picks: Canton passes the test easily.

Bishop Borgess at Redford Union: The Panthers (1-0) were less than scintillating in their 16-12 win over Livonia Stevenson last week. Borgess (0-1), under the rebirth of veteran coach Walt Bazylewicz, can only hope they stay close. Picks: Another game played close to the vest, take RU.

Garden City at Romulus: The Cougars (0-1) won only one game all last season, but that came against Romulus. After a 50-7 drubbing last week by Wayne Memorial, GC can only hope for the best. Romulus (1-0) is coached by Dan Henry, who has a penchant for turning things around. The Eagles beat Taylor Truman last week in their opener, 19-14, Picks: The coin please: Romulus.

Wyandotte at Wayne Memorial: A breather for the 1-0 Zebras? It should be even though Wolverine A League foe Wyandotte beat Taylor Kennedy last week, 14-10. Wayne has plenty of ammunition stored and should be cracking once again. Picks: Wayne shows

Clarenceville at Lutheran East: This should be a battle for second place in the Metro Conference. East (1-0), using its Stretch offense, rode into Memphis last week and strummed up a few Elvis cords to the tune of a 34-0 victory as James "Hound Dog" Tubbs ran for a pair of TDs. Meanwhile, Clarenceville (1-0) will find out Clarenceville will be singing "Love me Tender." Take

SATURDAY'S GAMES (all 1 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Stevenson at Liv. Franklin: This inter-city battle has lost a little luster over the years. Franklin (0-1) and Stevenson (0-1) were both losers last week, but not by much. The Patriots can throw the ball, but can they run it? Stevenson, meanwhile, has a quarterback dilemma. Will Randy Micallel start, or will Brian Piergentili go back to fullback. Picks: Franklin's defense makes the difference.

Walled Lake Central at Farm. Harrison: Have the Hawks already taken their best shot in 1989? Last week's 34-18 win over a strong Saginaw Arthur Hill squad only proves they're for real, once again. What thrills await Central (1-0), a 14-0 upset winner over Milford week? Picks: Quarterback Coleman drives another hard bargain as Central is put on layaway.

Lutheran Westland at Peck: Brown City defeated Peck last week, 34-0. Lutheran High Westland took out Mount Clemens Cardinal Mooney, 8-6, despite being outgained in total yardage almost 6-to-1. Is the home field an advantage? It shouldn't be because Lutheran Westland lost to Peck on its home turl last year. Picks: Call 1-800-help. Emons takes Lutheran Westland. O'Meara picks Peck.

St. Agatha at Traverse City St. Francis: Both teams are 0-1, but the Aggies have never done well in this matchup. St. Ignace beat St. Francis last week, 14-8. Just once would the Observer sports department like to see Agatha coach John Goddard take a victory dip in Grand Traverse Bay. Picks: St. Francis plays like the Bear. Goddard will stay dry another season.

Redford CC vs. Lansing Eastern (7:30 p.m. at Clarenceville): Ypsi's Wardell Davis riddled the Eastern defense last week for 206 yards in a 23-6 victory. Don't be surprised if CC tailback Dave Owens does the same thing this week. Tommie Boyd is a fine quarterback for the Quakers and Anthony Lloyd (6-2, 250) and Joe Lopez (6-2, 220) measure up to CC's huge line, or do they? Picks: The Shamrocks go full speed ahead into their matchup next week with Ann Arbor

Shamrocks roll; Warriors on top

Redford Catholic Central's David Owens ran wild Saturday in the Pontiac Silverdome.

The 5-foot-7, 165-pound senior tailback rushed for 124 yards in 15 carries and two touchdowns, propelling the Shamrocks a season-opening 31-0 victory over Detroit Osborn.

CC took a 3-0 first-quarter lead on a 26-yard field goal from Kerry Zavagnin. (He also went 4-for-4 in extra points.)

Owens then ripped off a 74-yard TD run in the second quarter and followed that with a 58-yard TD on a punt return.

It was Owens' 29-yard punt return later in the same quarter that set up another CC touchdown. Junior quarterback Jason-Carr gave the Shamrocks a 24-0 lead at intermission when he hit senior Mike Mathis with a 20-yard scoring strike.

CC closed out the scoring in the final quarter when backup quarterback Jack Davidson raced into the end zone on a 22-yard dash.

Carr, making his first start, completed three of eight passes for 48 yards. CC added 239 on the ground for a total of 287 (to Osborn's 135). Junior Brian Chaney added 42 yards rushing on 10 carries.

Defensively for CC, senior tackle Ryan Bell led with seven tackles, including one sack. Teammate Mike LUTHERAN WESTLAND 8. MOONEY 6: Despite being outgained 251-63 in total yards, Lutheran High of Westland successfully opened its season Saturday at home with a victory over. Mount Clemens Cardinal Mooney.

Mooney's Eric Lamont, who led all rushers with 86 yards and added 31 yards in receptions, broke a scoreless deadlock in the third quarter. He scored on a 1yard run, but the extra point kick was partially blocked.

Pats tripped up in Lansing, 21-7

Livonia Franklin painfully learned that one player can make a difference in a high school football game.

The Patriots traveled Saturday to Lansing Sexton for their season opener and made a respectable showing but couldn't stop junior tailback Howard Triplett, who rushed for 183 yards in 21 carries and two touchdowns in the Big Reds' 21-7 tri-

"I knew we'd bave trouble," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna. They (Sexton) did it all on the sweep play. We've never had so much trouble against the sweep."

The Patriots knew exactly what was coming, but Triplett, who was third in the 300-meter hurdles last June in the state Class A track meet, was simply too quick and too elusive once he turned the corner and got to the outside.

'It was not only his speed, but our slowness," Vigna said. "Early in the game we couldn't get our contain man in position. And then when we got him into position, there was no fill from the inside. Our outside linebackers, defensive ends and inside

SEXTON, a Class A playoff qualifier from a year ago, took only two plays to score after taking the opening kickoff.

Quarterback James McIntosh connected with tight end Richardo Johnson on a 41-yard pass and Triplett followed with a 24-yard TD run just 1:01 into the game. (Jody Dungey's we did in the first quarter, you tend extra point made it 7-0.)

The Patriots' defense then settled down, picking off a pair of McIntosh passes, one each by Bobby Johnson and Dean Vendal.

It was Vendal's interception with seven minutes remaining in the second quarter which propelled the Patriots to their lone score.

Quarterback Brian Bartz directed an 87-yard, 20-play TD drive capped by a clutch 3-yard pass to Jeff Graham with only three seconds left. Johnson booted the extra point to make it 7-7 at intermission. But the momentum quickly shifted again in the third quarter as Triplett took over, rushing for 111 yards in only seven carries.

McIntosh snuck in from 2 yards linebackers have got to get off the out for a touchdown with 7:38 re-

> Franklin marched down to the Big Reds 6, but failed to convert a first down on a fourth-and-4 situation.

That all but ended the Patriots' hopes for victory.

Bartz, making his first varsity start, completed 12 of 29 passes for 130 yards. He was intercepted once and sacked twice.

"I WAS PLEASED with Bartz, he's very capable," Vigna said. "I thought he kept his composure pretty well. I think we can pass block for

The Patriots mustered only 62 yards on the ground with Mark Little gaining 48 yards in 17 attempts. Sexton piled up 226 on the ground and 80 yards in the air for a total of 306 (to Franklin's 192).

In the penalty department, Sexton clearly had the upper hand, racking up 107 yards.

"I can take mistakes, but it's the personal fouls, the jumping offsides - the avoidable things - that I can't stand," said the Sexton coach.

Despite all that, Meyers had a running back that could more than cover for all the mistakes.

Last chance to sign up for O&E golf

Time is slipping away.

If you plan on playing in the Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows Golf Tournament, better get your entry form (like the one accompanying this story) and entry fee mailed in today. The tournament is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 16-17, at Whispering Willows Golf Course in Livonia (located on the southeast corner of Eight Mile and Newburgh roads).

Registration officially closes at 6. p.m. this Saturday, and the tourna-, ment field is limited - and remember, it fills up quickly.

Cost is $48, which includes a golf gift and both days of golf.

As in the past, play will be divided into four flights, with prizes - plaques and gift certificates - awarded in each for best gross and best net scores. Those wishing to compete must reside within the O&E circulation boundaries.

Hold the Mayo: OU wins '89 opener

After losing a player of John Stew- who also finished with a goal and art's stature, Oakland University three assists — and John Brennan. soccer coach Gary Parsons was concerned about on-field leadership, Stewart was a two-time All-American; such players are not easily replaced.

But Parsons' concern was eased somewhat in Saturday's opener at Spring Arbor College, thanks in part to the offensive performance of midfielder Simon Mayo. Mayo had a hand in the first four Pioneer goals - two of which were scored by Alan. Stewart, John's brother - in a 6-0

Not that the Cougars were expected to cause any trouble. OU had won the previous 10 matches going into Saturday's meeting, nine on shutouts, and had outscored them 37-2.

It didn't take the Pioneers long to assert themselves. Alan Stewart scored just 3:01 into the match, with assists from Earl Parris and Mayo.

MAYO GOT the second at the 17:56 mark, assisted by Parris -

Churchill best of the 'Elite;' Eagles battle Cougars to tie

The Livonia Churchill boys soccer team opened its season in impressive fashion last weekend, winning the four-team Elite Invitational in Centerville, Ohio (located just south of Dayton).

Churchill, which compiled a 10-3-1 record a year ago while winning the Western Division title in the Western Lakes Activites Association, bested a field which included Kettering Alter (Ohio), Evansville (Ind.) Memorial, and host Centerville.

In their opening match on Saturday, the Chargers defeated Centerville, 5-1, behind two goals from senior sweeper Brady Erickson. Other goal scorers for Churchill included John Gentile, Scott O'Leary and Phil Todino.

Another key to the victory was the playmaking of sophomore halfback Dario Rauker, who tallied three as-

Dalton unassisted goal midway through the final half tied the contest at three and was the game's final score.

In the first half, Immaculate Conception scored three times against Temple goalle Darryl Pauley, while the lone Patriot score was tallied by DeMoss. Sophomore midfielder Steve Toth assisted on the Eagle goal.

DeMoss scored again in the second half, also with Toth assisting, to bring Temple to within one goal of the Bengals. The Patriots outshot Conception 19-16.

Temple coach Gary Simmons was pleased with the play of midfielder Matt Ockerman and fullback Ron Pennington. 'They both played real good games," he said.

The tie leaves Temple's record at 0-2-1 for the season.

tough at the middle blocking positions against WMU, while right-side hitter Melissa Holman "blocked well, but didn't hit particularly well," according to Hurdle.

ALTHOUGH VAN VELSEN, the transfer from Southwestern (Mich.) CC, played well against the Broncos, Hurdle thinks she'll be even better. "The biggest problem for her may be we'll start taking her for granted," he said. "We'll start expecting her to be perfect. "Right now she's still thinking about some things, instead of just reacting. That's to be expected. When she starts just reacting, she'll be great."

Besides ND State, two other teams in the tournament field are ranked in the top-25 in Division II. St. Cloud (Minn.) College is No. 12 and OU is 21st.

Of course, as Hurdle noted, 'Preseason rankings don't mean anything." The Pioneers are strong in the middle but setting to the middle requires more precision than setting to the outside. And OU needs to improve its outside hitting.

"We can't go the whole season depending on our middle," said Hurdle. "And we can't go the whole season setting tough sets to the middle. We need to get a little better hitting (outside)."

If the Pioneers continue to improve through the season, particularly with their outside hitting, and get the necessary on-court leadership, another banner season will be in the offing - whatever the schedule.

Missed opportunities dim SC's 2-1 triumph

HAT IF YOU were one of the top high school football players in the state, a running back with the best college programs in the nation pursuing you, a player talented enough to take trips to Michigan, Michigan State and UCLA before deciding which you would honor with your athletic skills?

What kind of decision would you make?

Eighteen months ago, Jason Wolf faced such a dilemma. An all-state standout at Birmingham Brother Rice from Farmington Hills, Wolf was weighing his options, trying as carefully as he could — to calculate which of the schools best suited him.

"It's one of the biggest decisions in any young person's life," Wolf says in retrospect. "It's one of the hardest for anyone to make. More times than not, they make the wrong decision."

A remark oozing with irony, considering Wolf's ultimate choice. He said sorry, no thanks, to the big names of college football and did something that didn't seem to make any sense at all.

MIXED

He signed with Southern Methodist University.

WHEN WOLF committed to SMU, the Mustangs were in the midst of the darkest days imaginable - athletically, anyway. A football program that had produced runners like Eric Dickerson of the Indianapolis Colts and Craig James of the New England Patriots was blackballed.

Repeated rules violations had earned SMU the NCAA's dreaded Death Penalty. There would be no football for a year, and the number of scholarships would be severely reduced for several more.

- SMU has not put a team on the field since 1986, when it was 6-5. It has been scorned nationwide, even by its compadres in the lowly Southwest Conference, where six of nine teams (SMU included) have suffered some type of NCAA sanction in the past decade.

So when the other choices are MSU, then the reigning Big Ten and Rose Bowl champion, tradition-rich Michigan and sunny California's UCLA, why would anyone choose to attend a school without a team, with a reputation more tarnished than Richard Nixon's?

Sophomores rally RU; Thurston sinks Pirates

The Redford Union girls basketball team overcame some opening game jitters Tuesday, rallying to defeat crosstown rival Redford St. Agatha, 37-31.

The host Panthers outscored the Aggies 16-8 in the third quarter to take control of the game. It was 17-17

"We played horrid the first 12 minutes," said RU coach Terri Anthony.

Anthony noticed the difference in the team's play in the final 16 minutes.

"We played more aggressively in the second half, and we were more patient on offense," she said. RU was led offensively by a pair of sophomore guards. Carrie Burke and Shannon Morris scored 14 and 12 points, respectively, to spark the victory. Junior forward Danielle Sorel had a big game on the glass for RU, grabbing 11 rebounds. Agatha was led in scoring by Kelly Gannon with 11 points, while Kelli Carr had six.

Even though the margin of victory was small, Anthony enjoys playing the Aggles.

"It is a good rivalry," she said. "It is a down-thestreet rivalry between two schools."

THURSTON 44, RIVERVIEW 35: Redford Thurston guard Michelle Birchmeler's 18 points led the Eagles to a non-league win Tuesday over the visiting Pirates. The Eagles outscored Riverview 15-5 in the second quarter to build a commanding 24-12 halftime lead and never were Senior forward Lynn Demers added nine points for Thurston. The Pirates were led by Sherry Seigal and Laura Thorne, who each scored 12.

Thurston coach Mike Schutte was satisfied with his team's

"We were sloppy in parts, but I am pleased with the win," he said. "We have to refine our play and play smarter. We did well for not having a preseason scrimmage.' Thurston's record improved to 1.0 with the win, while Riverview fell to 0-1.

FRANKLIN 75, ANDOVER 38: A balanced scoring attack powered Livonia Franklin to a 75-38 win Tuesday against host Bloomfield Hills Andover in the opener for both

The Patriots had four players in double figures, led by Julianne Steslak's 19 points. In addition to having the hot hand shooting (nine of 13 from the floor), Steslak also contributed six rebounds and eight steals. Other top Patriot scorers included Dawn Warner (15 points), Cheryl Hintz (11), Janet Gardner (10) and Jenny Mayle (eight). Warner also dished off eight assists and pulled down seven LADYWOOD 46, TRAVERSE CITY 45: On Saturday, visiting Livonia Ladywood jumped out to a big halftime lead over Traverse City and held on to register a one-point win. The win improved the Blazers' record to 2-0 and made the long ride home seem a good deal shorter. In the first half, the game had the appearance of anything but a nail-biter, as Ladywood jumped out to a 16-8 lead after one quarter and increased it to 30-20 at the half. However, had foul shooting (6.17 for the game) and played fourth quarter allowed the Trojans to get back into the ball game. Traverse City outscored Ladywood 13-6 in the final Blazer coach Toni Gasparovic was not pleased her team's play down the stretch.

'We didn't play well in the fourth quarter," she said. "Defensively, we helped out too much, and offensively, the point guard stopped shooting."

Center Cari Mitter led Ladywood with 18 points and seven rebounds. Krista Campeau added nine points and seven assists

The Trojans (1-3) were led by Kristie Evans with 14, while Nicki Ritter contributed 11.

STEVENSON 75, BELLEVILLE 24: Livonia Stevenson opened the season Tuesday by crushing the host Tigers'

The Tigers were never in the ball game, as Stevenson jumped out to a 34-10 halftime lead before coasting home. Senior forward Stephy Sutter led Spartan scoring with 20 16-31 from the line, compared to eight of 21 for Inkster. Lynn Gowen was the leading scorer for the Courgars, finishing with 15 points. Michele Tyree contributed eight points and 10 rebounds for GC. Towanda Asney led the Vikings with 14 points.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 40, LUTHERAN WEST 24: Lutheran High of Westland (1-1) opened up a 22-13 halftime lead before rolling to a 16-point win Tuesday over visiting Detroit Lutheran West. Stephanie Locke, a junior guard, led the winners with 17

LUTHERAN EAST 51, BISHOP BORGESS 26: In Tuesday's first-round game of the Madison Helghts Bishop Foley Tournament, Harper Woods Lutheran East (2-0) battered Redford Bishop Borgess in its opener.

Borgess trailed just 24-16 after one quarter but went scoreless in the second period, falling behind 32-16 at the half.

The Spartans could never recover: "I wasn't aware until afterwards that we didn't score in the second quarter," said Borgess coach Dave Mann. "I think we got tired in the second half, and that's because we have a lot of players who haven't practiced much."

Missing their top returning scorer, junior guard Kyra Woodard (foot injury), the Spartans had to count on senior forward Tanya Tounsel, who finished with 14 points and 12 rebounds.

But Tounsel went cold after scoring 12 in the opening quarter. She hit just six of 29 shots.
"She took good shots, and I told her to keep shooting," Mann said. "She had to shoot that open 17-footer."

Blohm back, Canton wins opener

By Ray Sellock staff writer

Plymouth Canton's 50-41 victory over Trenton in girls basketball Tuesday was more than a win for coach Bob Blohm.

Blohm, coaching his first varisty game since 1983 when he co-coached at Plymouth Salem, admitted to being anxious before the game.

"I was so excited to get the game under way," Blohm said. "After the game got started, it was just real nice

Although Blohm's debut has a special touch, it does not overshadow the Chief victory or the 26-point performance by center Susan Ferko. "Susan just played an outstanding game," Blohm sald. "She really had what I would call a complete basketball game. She played well in all phases of the `game.''

"FERKO IS AN excellent ballplayer," Trenton coach John Biedenback said. "She perfected all the phases of Ferko was modest about her efforts but admitted she had a quality game.

"I felt stronger as the game went along," she said. "There were times when I couldn't miss, and there were times when things were rough."

Things were roughest for Ferko in the first quarter when she connected on just one basket. That was also the toughest point for the Chiefs as they trailed 13-7 at Ferko and the Chiefs rolled back in the second quarter as the Chiefs took a 22-19 lead at the half.

Trenton struggled throughout much of the second half and had trouble mounting a threat. The Trojans never regained the lead, but at one point in the fourth quarter pulled themselves to within one, 38-37.

Bledenback blamed much of his team's downfall on a lack of physical strength.

"THEY BEAT US in the physical portion of the game," Biedenback said. "They are in real good shape from playing all summer. They played until the final buzzer."

Ferko agreed the Chiefs might have been a little more physical than Trenton. "There was some heavy hitting going on underneath the basket," Ferko said. "It just wasn't one or two players but everyone."

Despite the Trojans (0-1) losing that battle, Biedenback said his team never gave up.

"We hustled and that's all you can ask for," Biedenback said. "Canton has a good basketball team. Maybe we will face them in the playoffs and have some re-

Sellout crowd sees Lindros spark win

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Eric Lindros scored a pair of goals and added three assists in his debut Saturday for the Compuware Junior A hockey team.

But more impressive, maybe, were the numbers Lindros helped produce at the Compuware Ice Arena box office. A sellout crowd of more than 1,500 paid to watch Lindros lead Compuware to an easierthan-expected 8-0 exhibition win it turned out OK." over the Windsor Spitfires, an Ontario Hockey League team.

fans a game last year and no doubt Lindros, considered North America's best 16-year-old hockey player, had something to do with Saturday's THINK everybody walked away saying it was the best thing they ever did," Compuware coach And Wiedenbach said. "There was a little bit for everybody. Eric was sensational. He lived up to his billing and then some.

L'haven't seen it (the arena) that rocking in a while. For its being Labor Day weekend, it was a record crowd, by far."

Compuware lost the five previous meetings against the Spitfires, so Lindros believes the Windsor team might have underestimated the home team.

Compuware is the defending North American Junior Hockey League champion, but the Spitfires are a Major A team, considered a level above the NAJHL. The Compuware Corporation owned the Windsof Spitfires before selling the team should come out on top."

"I think they thought they'd walk in here and grab a few points." Lindros said. "I think they underestimated us. It was a different experience. There was a lot of pressure but LINDROS DIDN'T waste any time Compuware averaged about 400 in getting the fans enthused, scoring the game's first goal off a pass from Dan Carter.

> Carter, a left winger on Lindros' line, also scored two goals and finished with two assists. Lindros' second goal came on a wrist shot from the top of the circle.

> The other Compuware goals belonged to Derek Burkhart, Jim Storm (Plymouth), Tony Zaccagni and Andrew Shier.

> Dennis Lang and Scott Vettraino split the goalkeeping duties in sharing the shutout. Compuware outshot Windsor 38-33 and has now outscored four exhibition opponents 43-1 in going undefeated.

> Lindros was on the ice for six of the eight goals, so he knows more of the same is expected. Lining up next to Lindros is right wing Pat Rodgers (who had two assists) and was a linemate of Lindros when the two played for St. Michael's last year in the Ontario Junior B Hockey League.

Compuware opens the NAJHL season Saturday, Sept. 23, against Buffalo at Compuware.

"I guess the heat is on," Lindros said. "I think we'll be the dominating team in the NAJHL. We've just got to maintain our level of play. We

"It was warm and a little bit humid so it made for heavy breathing," Thurston coach Bob Lake said. "When it's 10 degrees cooler, it's a lot easier to run distance. And, it's the first meet of the year."

In the girls' meet Thursday at OCC, Thurston also prevailed, 15-50.

Season openers Early hunt aimed at geese reduction

UNTERS anxious to get out into the field prior to the start of the small game hunting season (Sept. 15) can do just that by participating in the early Canada goose season, Sept. 1-10.

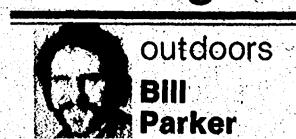

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources, in cooperation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, has offered this early season for the last three years.

"The special hunt is set up to help control the local glant Canada goose population," explained DNR waterfowl specialist Jerry Mortz. "These (resident) geese do migrate with severe winters, but they usually try to stay around. There have been (over population) problems in some areas."

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service signed an agreement with the Michigan DNR in 1986 that would allow for an early hunt on a trial basis for three years. The hunt is set up prior to the regular season (which opens Oct. 14) to allow hunting before the migrant birds start moving through

"A few migrant birds occasionally show up near the end (of the early season), but they do not appear to be the major part of the harvest."

Most of the Lower Penninsula and portions of the eastern Upper Penninsula are open to hunting during the special season. (Check the DNR's 1989-90 Michigan Waterfowl Hunting Guide for special management areas closed to hunting).

The daily bag limit is three, with no more than six in possession.

This is the last year of the three year agreement, Over the winter, the Fish and Wildlife Service will examine all the data submitted by the DNR over the last three years and decide if the early season will be offered in the future.

The DNR estimates there are 70,000 resident geese in Michigan. Two-thirds of those birds reside in the southern half of the Lower Penninsu-

The annual goose harvest in Michigan has been between 6,000-10,000 for the last four years with a total of 14,000 birds harvested last year.

ROCHESTER ANGLERS fared very well in an Operation Bass Red Man Michigan Division qualifier held recently on Lake St. Clair. Three Rochester residents placed in the top 10 including the overall winner, Pat Cleppert.

Cleppert landed a limit of five bass which tipped the scale at 13-pounds 8-ounces. Cleppert fished the main lake weed flats using Gitzits and Rogues. He received $1,840 for winning the tour-

Jim Clauser finished tied for fourth with Gary Bennett of North Branch. Each angler caught five fish that weighed 11-pounds 6-ounces.

George Hoffman placed sixth with five bass weighing 10-pounds, 12-ounces. A field of 155 anglers participated in the tournament which paid $7,227.50 to the top finishers.

At the completion of six Red Man qualifying events, the top 24 anglers (determined on a basis of pounds and points) will compete in a regional competition against top finishers from four other divisions. The 10 highest finishers from the regional contest advance to the $150,000 Red Man All-American. Ther winner of the All-American will receive $100,000.

All Red Man tournaments are catch-and-release events.

MAGINE SEVEN-MONTH-OLD quintuplets in one room. They're on the floor, the sofa, in walkers and highchairs. Everywhere. All vocalizing loudly and, because of their mother, very happily — a quintuplet quintet.

Each day, their very busy mother has to contend with 45 diaper changes and the preparation and feeding of 25 bottles of formula.

How does she do it? In this case, with more than a little help from her husband and friends, the secret is to get away for a few hours from the round-the-clock demands of parenting times six (the quints plus their 3year-old brother).

What does Mary Jo Wilson do with this time? She sings.

"Thank heavens for the Ridgedale Players," said Wilson, sitting in the living room of her Avon Township home. "I was at the end of my rope, needing to get out of the house for a couple of hours when some friends from church encouraged me to audi-

WILSON LANDED a singing role as a soprano, as well as a spot in the chorus, for the Ridgedale Players' upcoming dinner theater musical, an original production entitled "There Is a Beautiful Land,"

- Two times a week, Wilson ends her day rehearsing with the Ridgedale Players 7-11 p.m., before returning home to get as much rest as nighttime for a family with quints allows.

'I was at the end of my rope, needing to get out of the house for a couple of hours when some friends from church encouraged me to audition.'

- Mary Jo Wilson

"I'd been singing since high school," even auditioned for a New York Metropolitan Opera scholarship," she continued. "But believe it or not, with work and all, for the past few years I didn't have any time to pursue singing other than at church or at an occasional wedding throughout the year. But with quints, pacing yourself is everything. And you do need time for yourself, to collect yourself. It's easy to feel scattered if I don't get out of the house for those few hours a week for rehearsal or voice lessons."

Musically, Wilson's first love is opera, "Mozart and Puccini." She is now back studying voice with a local instructor. "I practice whatever I'm working on by singing to the babies. They get a big kick out of it, and really respond. Even try to sing along. It's the funniest thing when I hit a high note and one of the babies tries to imitate it."

As it turns out, the quints enjoyapplause much like performers everywhere. "They like it when you clap. It calms them down when they're fussing, and they smile."

Two times a week, Wilson ends her day rehearsing with the Ridgedale Players from 7-11 p.m., before returning home to get as much rest as nighttime for a family with quints allows. "They really don't fuss at night or want to be fed. It's their heart and breathing monitors that keep us on our toes all night. Sometimes their heart rate slows or they forget to breathe - which isn't unusual for bables born prematurely. But they'll just grow out of it, eventually.

RIDGEDALE PLAYERS' "There Is a Beautiful Land" is a musical revue of song and dance celebrating the world's great places. Wilson sings the role of, appropriately, the mother of a girl who wins the lottery and sets out to see America and then the world.

conceived and directed by Ridgedale munity theater to Detroit-area audimembers Dan See and Kerry Price, include "Give My Regards to Broadway," "Horray for Hollywood," "Yellow Rose of Texas" and "California, Here I Come." The performance will be preceded by a full dinner, prepared and served by the Ridgedale Players.

This production is not a part of the regular, 1989-90 season lineup. Mark Carley, Ridgedale's publicity director, explained that proceeds from the show go into the improvement fund for the playhouse. "We're a nonprofit group that has brought comences for the last 58 years. Maintaining the playhouse structure and improving it consumes a big portion of our budget," he said.

With an expanded schedule of nine performances per show to accommodate increasing ticket sales, Ridgedale Players offers for the 1989-90 season: Neil Simon's "The Prisoner of Second Avenue;" "Greater Tuna" - in which two performers play 10-15 characters each; Stephen Sondheim's "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Much Ado About Murder." The last show is part of the new wave of audience participation theater. In this production, theatergoers try to solve a murder mystery and even get to

Amphitheater setting for symphony concert

State Sen. Jack Faxon of Farmington Hills will narrate Prokofiev's "Peter and the Wolf" when the Livonia Symphony will be heard in concert at 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 10, at the 24705 Farmington Road, Farming-

Under the baton of music director and conductor of the orchestra, Francesco DiBlasi, the concert will be held in the amphitheater directly behind the gray stone Farmington area landmark that now serves as the community center. Bring lawn chairs. Tickets are $3.

This is the season's final concert sponsored by the center.

Featured soprano of the afternoon, Mary Sue Ewing, will perform selections from "The King and I," and "The Sound of Music."

Frequent guest conductor with the Farmington Community Center, orchestra, Ernie Jones, will take to the podium with selections from "Hello Dolly."

Remainder of the program will be devoted to popular classics, according to maestro DiBlasi.

The symphony will initiate its 1989-90 season with a French Spectacular at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6 in Churchill High School, Newburgh Road north of Joy Road in Livonia. For ticket information, call 422-

Needlepoint image has high-tech help

By Noreen Flack special writer

It doesn't take a painter to create a beautiful picture these days.

Highway in Southfield, has developed needlepoint kits that turn photos into computerized graph patterns, allowing even personal portraits to be done in needlepoint.

"Needle craft is an age-old hobby," ImagePoint president Gene Prandine said. "This concept is totally exciting because it has brought high-technology to something that has gotten along for centuries without much change."

When a customer brings in a photo, a video camera photographs the picture, which is digitized by a computer and turned into a needlepoint or cross stitch graph. The process causes no alterations or damage to the original photo.

Eaton Estates borders nature preserve

By Arlene Funke special writer

HERE'S an open, free feeling one gets when walking into the glass-enclosed breakfast room at the Eaton Estates condominiums in Plymouth Township.

Sunshine pours into the windows of the Cambridge model. It makes you want to burst into a rendition of that old Broadway hit song, "On a clear day, you can see forever." And one of views from some of the windows is that of a nearby nature preserve that plays an important role in the overall development of the project.

"We didn't want it to look like a barracks," said 32-year old Salvatore (Sam) LoPiccolo, developer of the project. "What (most) condos lack is a lot of glass."

Eaton Estates, on N. Territorial Road between Sheldon and Beck, combines luxury and comfort with a twist. LoPiccolo hired Plymouth architect David Schaff to design floor plans with angled walls, interesting arches and, of course, an abundance of windows.

BOTH TWO-BEDROOM and three-bedroom styles, ranging from around 2,400 square feet to 2,800 square feet are available. Prices start at around $270,000.

"We wanted something that would be eye-appealing," said LoP-

"I think the land is very important here," LoPiccolo sald. "We try to complement it with the homes." Despite his relative youth, LoPiccolo brings years of experience in constructing houses and office buildings in Livonia, Farmington and Northville.

LoPiccolo grew up in Detroit's eastern suburbs. At age 20, he built two homes in the Francavilla subdivision in Livonia.

"I STARTED IN THE tail end of the last boom and held on through (later) recessions," said LoPiccolo, who lives on a 10-acre spread in Northville with his wife, four small children and three horses. "I did a lot of the early work to save money. I learned on the job.'

LoPiccolo went on to build houses in Farmington Hills and developed the LoPac Center, an office building in Northville, and is now working in the Quail Run subdivision in Plymouth Township.

"We want people to think this is a home - not a condo," LoPiccolo said of his plans for Eaton Estates.

LoPiccolo expressed satisfaction with the designs of Schaff, with whom he had worked on an earlier job. People also may recognize Schaff's style from another unrelated, upscale Plymouth condo community - Homestead Estates, developed by members of the prominent Lorenz family of Plym-

"We gave (Schaff) an idea of what we wanted," LoPiccolo said: "We wanted nothing but quality and luxury here."

OOK news and views: · Wyandotte native Thomas McGuane, author of such highly-praised novels as "The Sporting Club" and 'Ninety-Two in the Shade," will initiate this year's Visiting Writers Series at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor on Tuesday, Sept. 19. The novelist will read from his latest work, "Keep the Change," at 8 p.m. in the Rackham amphitheater,

• Next up will be Tim O'Brien, a recipient of the 1979 National Book Award for his Vietnam novel, "Going After Cacclato," and other literary prizes. O'Brien will read from his works at 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 21, also in the amphitheater. Admission is free to both events, so plan to be there early. For further information on this year's series, call Andrea Beauchamp at UM's Hopwood Room, 764-6296.

• New and noteworthy: Amy McVeigh's "The Mackinac Connection: An Insider's Guide." Here is just about everything you ever wanted to know about the island, written by a longtime summer resident. Available at Waldenbooks, or send $10.81 to Box 215-BR, Mackinac Island 49757.

. Just Out: "Elmore Leonard," by David Geherin (Continuum, $18.95). Geherin, a professor of English at Eastern Michigan University, who has written three previous books on the mystery genre, takes a studied look here at the noted Birmingham author and his work (starting 38 years ago with Leonard's first short story, "Trail of the Apache," and published in Argosy magazine.)

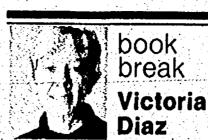

Coming next month: Westland crime novelist Rob Kantner's "Hell's Only Half Full (Bantam Books, $3,50).

• Michigan writers finishing in the top 20 of the prestigious 1989 Writer's Digest Writing Competition: Barbara Petoskey of Ypsilanti in the poetry category, and Richard Vogt, of Okemos, Jane Rulter, Kalamazoo, for short fiction. Poetry and short fiction categories totaled close to 2,000 entries each this year, according to judges.

• Reader's Digest, which has been condensing novels for decades, has begun doing the same with non-fiction books. First volume, released this summer and available through mail-order only, contains "Blind Faith," by Joe McGinniss; "Two Lives, One Russia," by Nicholas Daniloff; "Richard Burton: A: Life," by Melvyn Bragg; and "Monday Night Mayhem," by Marc Gunther and Bill Carter.

• Remember Classics illustrated comic books? The series, which introduced many a comics fan to great literature in the '40s and '50s, is being revived. The new series will make an appearance in February 1990. First four titles: "Great Expectations," "Through the Looking Glass, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and "Assorted Poems."

 Today's best-selling category for mass market publishers is men's action-adventure fiction.

 Biggest-selling hardcover in 1988, according to the New York Times, was Tom Clancy's "Cardinal of the Kremlin." More than 1.2 million copies of the novel are in print.

• Disappointing sales: Delacorte's "Killing Time in St. Cloud," by Judith Guest and Rebecca Hill; "Guts and Glory," by Ben Bradlee (Donald I. Fine); Joseph Heller's "Picture This" (Putnam), among others. All of these books received a large first printing (at least 100,000 copies) plus a vigorous promotional campaign. You never know, I guess, and, obviously nelther do in-house "experts."

• As long you're perfecting your English, you may want to take a look at "There Is No Zoo in Zoology," by Charles Harrington Elster (Macmillan, $19.95; $7.95 paperback), a guide to frequently mispronounced words, together with the history of

 Speaking of zoology, if you enjoy being fascinated and informed at the same time, don't miss "The Flight of the Iguana: A Sidelong View of Science and Nature," by David Quammen (Doubleday, $8.95). What nature-lover can resist a book with chapter titles like "The Face of a Spider," "Thinking About Earthworms," and "Stalking the Gentle Piranha"?

 Every-writer-should-have-one category: A copy of Annie Dillard's latest work, "The Writing Life" (Harper & Row, $15.95). Dillard, who won the Pulitizer Prize in 1979 for "Pilgrim at Tinker Creek," has put together here a fine narrative about the very risky art of writing. "The Writing Life" is rich in metaphor, highly readable and often funny - and every writer who reads it will feel that Dillard, in her comfortable but thought-provoking style, has written it especially for and to Helping minimize weighty perceptions

Q: Despite my dieting efforts, I remain seriously overweight. Yet I want to look the best I can and was wondering if you could advise me on which colors could make me look thinner? I have dark brown hair and pale ivory skin that you may want to take into consideration.

A: In minimizing the sense of your size or weight, avoid wearing garments in a single color, particularly the brights and even the bright pastels. This is because of their expansive and exaggerating qualities. Otherwise, you can wear almost any color, from the darks, through the medium and pale tones as long as they are slightly subdued, or greyed. Due to your coloration, you may want to avoid pure white, olive greens, and yellow with a green cast.

Beyond that, it is more important to recognize that color will minimize the perception of size more effectively when it is either combined with certain other colors, or with particular types of patterns and styles.

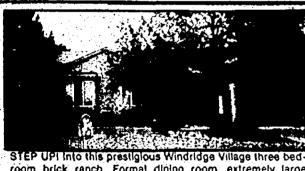

You may want to consider wearing dresses with small-scale. all-over patterns, in either geometric or floral motifs. This approach gives you the opportunity to wear the brighter colors you should not wear in solids, because the intensity of color is broken up in small designs. The same principle applies to suits and dresses in small-scale woven patterns.

The little black or dark-colored dress with a single color accent at the neckline or hem is also effective.

A more flamboyant option is wearing a two-piece, jacketed dress or sult with a strong pattern in the jacket, and a coordinated solid color in the skirt or dress. You would look well in the red and black pattern and solid coordinates being shown this

Q: I am a 30-year-old divorces whose social life revolves around giving dinner parties, often to important business associates. I've been quite successful in coordinating my apartment except for the tabletop settings. The broad selection of patterns and styles confuses me, and I'm not sure to what extent it has to coordinate with the rest of the apartment, which is furnished in transitional style, using mauve, beige, and white, with touches of green. Can you give my any suggestions?

A: Given your circumstances as a ocelot and palm tree motif.

single professional, I would go all the way with a very formal and dramatic setting for these reasons: First, a beautifully executed table; setting bolsters your overall image and conveys that you are to be taken seriously - a message that won't be lost on your business associates.

Second, this type of setting indulges you and your own self-esteem, even when you will be dining alone.

And third, the transitional styles? because of their usual simplicity; more often than not require an accent that a fully accessorized, formal setting will certainly provide.

Your furnishings allow you a wide range of colors to choose from. Just avoid yellow-greens (chartreuse) and purple because these colors have an unfavorable appeal related to food and the appetite.

From the many fine dinnerware patterns available, the recently introduced Christian Dior line with an

Inside moisture must be reduced

By Andy Lang? AP Newsleatures

When air contains all the moisture it can hold, it is said to be saturated. What is called the relative humidity is then at 100 percent

Excessive moisture in your house causes all sorts of problems if it is not permitted to escape to the outside.

The escape route can be one or more of several ways, but not through the out side walls. When that occurs, the most common result is the peeling of exterior or paint.

Vapor barriers are used to prevent the moisture from reaching the paint film, but the condensation that takes place between the inside and outside walls can be avoided by the use of vents swhich fallows the moist lair to leave the house. Such vents should be covered with screening to keep out in a sects.

Condensation is the result of warming moist air settling on a cool surfacer That's why you get condensation conwindows, cold water pipes, toilet tanks. and even a glass of ice water. Either the excessive moisture in the house should be diminished on the surfaces on which it condenses should be made warmer.

To reduce the moisture (invachouse) means controlling the sources that produce it. Water vapor enters the align from such things as bathling showers ingswashing dishes cooking and even by breathing.

The way to control its volume is by ventilation; either in the form of one orr more exhaust fans or just a simple lit: tle thing like keeping a window open a little when engaging in any activity. that produces moisture.

A dehunddiffer can help by capture ing some of the vapor before it does any damage.

When condensation does occur, be sure some of the moisture isn't coming. from your humidiller.

If your house has a crawl space under it! excessive moisture may be coming out of the ground and entering the structure.

Be sure the space is vented then cover: the ground with polvethylene sheets or something similar. Use sand to hold down the sheets at overlapping seams. If the ground cover proves to be very effective, the vents around the crawl space sometimes can be closed during cold weather.

What may appear to be a leak in the area of the toilet tanks is usually condensation. Some people find a simple solution is a fabric covering around the tank and other parts of the fixture.

This covering prevents the moist air. from coming into contact with the tank. Such covers are available in diff férent sizes, colors and styles. Care must be exercised to see the covering does not interfere with the flushing mechanism and the toilet seating

Another way to handle the situation: is with a Styrofoam kit that contains the necessary adhesive and instructions for cutting the material to fit the inside of the tank.

In the 1990s The color palette is ever-expanding

The approach of a new decade always creates excitement — it's a time of change, new promise, new possibilities. Looking toward the 1990s, the way colors are used in home decor is a reflection of this change.

A wonderful kaleidoscope, with splashes of color being moved around, replaced, then showing up again where we least expect them, is part of the change. The color palette has expanded with the addition of warm, more vibrant colors that lend a great deal of visual interest.

There are starker contrasts. Walls are getting lighter, and furniture is being deepened.

Wicker is a prime example. It has been around for a while, having progressed from all white to terrific pastels. But now it's appearing in greens, wines and browns, accented by brightly patterned slipcovers, pillows, seats and backs.

In mood, international influences are very strong and eclecticism remains the byword. The ethnic and Asian notes we have become accustomed to are continuing, but they are being played out with remarkable new twists. One perfect Japanese Imari plate, for example, is placed on a light blond_Scandinavian wood table. The blend of these starkly different styles is stunning and dramatic.

OLD WORLD TRADITION has made a strong comeback, as roses and floral patterns continue to gain favor. These designs blend elegance and comfort for a very warm, inviting and livable atmosphere. They often feature red, which is also used freely as a strong accent color in accessories.

Though the color palette remains basically warm, with emphasis on vibrantcy and neutrals, the new beginnings of a new coolness in interior design are apparent this fall.

Led by the re-emergence of blue, this coolness will probably continue into the 1990s. It offers the balance between warm and cold, always sought in color selections. Blue is becoming popular in bedroom and bathrooms, often combined with white.

White has itself returned in an emphatic way. In both fashion and interior design, white is brilliant. It's a perfect background for all colors, creating a glare from which other colors emanate like a prism.

That's one reason white kitchen appliances are once again, popular. And used starkly - almost monochromatically — on both walls and furniture, white is absolutely dazzling.

Living rooms remain quite warm in color, with vibrant accents playing off that warmth. Of course, many people continue to favor neutrals, which are economic because they can be lived

NEUTRALS ARE ALSO helpful in creating a light, airy feeling and improving the flow from one room to another - two excellent ways to make small living spaces larger.

A marvelous new look comes from tinted glass, which replaces the usual clear glass in tabletops, dinnerware and ceramics. Mexican cobalt blues lend cool, bright accents to the table.

And, perhaps, even more than elsewhere, "eclectic" remains the key word in tabletop.

And there is lots and lots of whimsy. People are willing to be more adventurous and throw caution to the winds. Whoever said all the pieces have to

If you are basically comfortable with the decor but have a desire for something fresh and new, a one-room experiment is often satisfying. The bedroom is the perfect location; closed off from the rest of the house, it can be discretely repainted if the experiment goes awry. An alternate possibility is a small out-of-the-way guest bathroom.

FOR A BRIEF of the prominent color families available this fall, begin with the vibrant autumn colors, which are traditional but have been made more vivid now. They include brick red, chili, amber yellow, lilac rose, classic blue, dassodil, mineral red (an orange red) and violet purple.

Next are the clean outdoor colors. Bluegrass, which is more green than blue, is notable, as are posy green, purple heather, sage green, porcelain green and straw.

Then there are the neutrals. And there is a generous selection. Reed yellow, lambswool, cream pearl and angora are all lovely winter whites. They're accompanied by the classic neutrals: toasted almond, fawn (taupe), pebble, moonlight, smoked pearl, atmosphere, desert dust, nugget (a camel color), gray sand and dusted coral.

But the neutrals have been further enriched this year by the expanded neutrals, which have the barest hint of tint. These are soft, lovely colors we can live with for a long time without tiring of them. They have such delicate names as dusty pink, cameo rose, coral blush, antelope (almost a celery green), gray violet, pinkish gray, rose lilac and asparagus green.

Finally, there are what can best be described as the inky deep tones wonderful classic mixing colors in the Old World style that help make the transition from fall to winter. Prominent among them are plum wine, burgundy, brownstone, desert palm-(greenish brown), ebony (blue black), argyle purple and china blue.

Plenty of help for novice remodeler

The wave of remodeling has also led to a boom in the do-it-yourself market. To cut costs and have more control over the project, home owners are picking up a hammer to make improvements — minor and major — themselves.

In the introduction to "The Home Hardware Handbook". (Fireside Books/Simon & Schuster), Bernard Gladston offers three reasons for the do-it-yourself trend: The disappearance of the jack-of-all-trade handyman who could be trusted to do everything; the rising cost of living combined with higher expectations; and renewed pride in the home.

If you're a novice do-it-yourselfer, don't fret - there is a lot of help for you. Home improvement centers now stock the latest how-to books, maga-/ zines and videos.

For more hands-on instruction, there are classes in everything from basic carpentry to plumbing offered by commuity colleges, university extension courses and home improvement centers.

And there are a number of home improvement projects that you can do over one weekend.

Some favorites include wallpapering a bathroom, refinishing and furni ture, installing closet organizers, adding shelving and racks in the kitchen and installing decorative brackets and molding in the living room.

Start your project with the right

Here is the rundown of the basics recommended by the editors of "The . Home Hardware Handbook:"

• Swiss Army knife - "the handiest pocket companion you can carry"

- Spiral ratchet screwdriver with interchangeable heads
 - Dozuki pull saw
 - Combination square
 - 10-inch curved-jaw locking pliers
- Butt chisels, ranging from 1 inch to 14 inch
- 22-ounce, mill-face, rip-claw steel hammer
 - Electric drill
 - Circular saw
 - Belt sander.

After selecting the design area, you may want to mark it with chalk. This will help keep the line straight when you paint, and any chalk not covered in the painting process can easily be washed away later.

The next step is important as you give the overall design a strong back-ground. To do this, either paint the entire headboard area with a color that contrasts with the wall, or use a contrasting color in a large border design around the four sides of the head-

Another option for your background is to divide the area vertically into equal thirds, with 3 inches between each square. After stenciling, these three panels will work to help you form a cohesive design.

Once this background paint has dried, begin applying your stenciled design. A large central motif with smaller geometric elements on either side is one way to approach the design. Or apply an all-over pattern, such as diagonal stripes or a checkerboard ef-

If you have a favorite stencil pattern with a scale too small for the headboard, follow a few simple steps to enlarge it.

Use a large piece of cardboard and draw a grid on it with a ruler. Next trace your stencil pattern onto graph paper. Then carefully draw the design represented- in each graph paper square onto the corresponding cardboard square. Once you have finished transferring the pattern, cut out the design portion to create an enlarged template.

ONE EXCITING project to brighten your bathroom is a new cloth shower curtain.

The easiest method of sewing a shower curtain of your own is to find bed linens that fit the style of your bath. A flat sheet for a double bed, for example, is the ideal width for a standard tub/shower. For the more narrow corner shower, a twin-size-sheet fits the bill.

Among the linen designs for your boats or anchors, wildlife patterns, including ducks or geese, and floral or paisley patterns.

Because all sides of a sheet are already finished, the only sewing involved-is to make buttonholes along the top of the sheet through which the curtain rings can fit.

Remember to count the number of rings before planning the spacing of the buttonholes. The standard number of rings is 12 for a tub/shower and six for a shower stall.

Space the buttonholes properly by first placing one on either side of the top border one inch from either side. Measure the fabric between these two holes. Now divide that measurement by the total number of rings, minus one. The length that remains is the space that should be allowed between each ring. Place a straight pin to mark the spacing across the top. Adjust the pins as necessary to make the spacing more exact:

AT EACH PIN marker, sew a buttonhole. Then hang the curtains simply by inserting a shower ring in each hole. At the same time, hang a plain plastic curtain on the inside of the cloth curtain. You may be able to use the plastic curtain you had been using to retain shower water. With both the plastic curtain and the cloth curtain in place, your fabric will be better protected from water and mildew.

You can keep water off the floor by tucking the plastic curtain inside the tub or shower rim. Then the full length of the cloth curtain hangs outside the rim for maximum effect.

There are a couple of inexpensive tricks that are less thorough than completely reupholstering the furniture.

One popular solution to the problem today is to sew a slipcover for a padded chair, loveseat or sofa. Although the fabric will fit more loosely than fabric stapled into place with upholstery staples, the furniture will end up with a fluffier, more rounded look as a

ADDING RUFFLES around the rim of the slipcover will also give the piece a softer look, and because exposed wood on the back, arms or legs of the furniture will be covered, you won't need to worry with wood that has become scratched and nicked.

in interior materials At times, all you need to do is But it's certainly not for all of us.

switch the sofa's location around or reupholster a single chair.

Sometimes the interior redesign bug bites a tad harder. That's when you junk the stereo cabinet and go for built-ins.

If, however, yourfind yourself picking at the old wallpaper, ripping up the wall-to-wall carpeting or tearing down the draperies, you haven't got a bug but a full-blown virus!

Hold on there! Replacing your flooring, wallpaper or window coverings isn't a simple Saturday project. Your home's interior should be thought of as a whole. With each room - and the elements in it — tied with the next.

The flooring, wall covering and window treatments you can use can go a long way toward unifying your home. providing a backdrop for the furnishings.

Start with a theme — contemporary, country, Southwestern, eclectic, whatever. Then decide on your base color.

Visit a paint store with a wall full of color chips. Gather those that please you. Then try to narrow the selection down to the three or four that you'll take along when shopping for floors, walls and windows.

Following is a rundown on trends you'll be seeing in home design stores this season. What's new, you'll note, is very much a play on the old.

Hard floors — stone, tile, brick, wood - are getting the most attention this year. And the more natural the material the better, say designers.

But prices! Don't fret: Synthetic flooring manufacturers are close behind, creating sheet and tile vinyls that offer the same look, whether it's granite, oak or marble, (or a lot less.

The newest material this year? Concrete! No kidding, brave home owners are installing colored cement in kitchens, hallways and bathrooms. Once you get used to the idea, it starts to make sense — what could be more durable, easy to clean? It's no chillier than tile, installation is Inexpensive, cleaning is easy.

This special Home Improvement section appearing today in all editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers was coordinated by Marie McGee, special sections edi-

Advertising coordinators were Gigi Gondek and Rex Hatt. The cover layout was by Glenny Merillat, creative services supervisor.

Questions about the section can be directed to McGee at 591-2300.

Among the other "hard" surfaces, you'll note that this year hardwood floors are going back to darker stains instead of the bleached, pickled looks. Wide oak planks are out, as are parquét styles.

CONSIDERING TILE? Not only are you going to find several quarried stone tiles in your supplier's showroom, but a number of suprisingly good fakes, as well.

Large Mexican style pavers with a wider grout line is a popular look also, just be sure you are getting a top quality product.

A warning on colored grouts: keeping the lighter colored ones clean is murder, even the new stain-resistant materials.

The hottest trend in interior flooring right now is rough-edged natural stone grouted together. Warm, peachy flagstone or cool slate from China, natural stone looks wonderful continued up a fireplace wall. Plus, it works with a country cottage as wonderfully as with a contemporary monolith.

Wall-to-wall carpeting is certainly not passe. What's warming up this market are borders, inlays and even accent dyeing.

For instance, if your gray carpet _ doesn't connect with the furnishings, a carpet craftsperson can pull a color or even a design from a fabric in the room and repeat it along the edge of the carpet by cutting to the shape and inlaying a contrasting shade.

There are craftspeople who, by using a shearing technique, can "shave" out a design in a plush carpet or bevel the edge of a border.

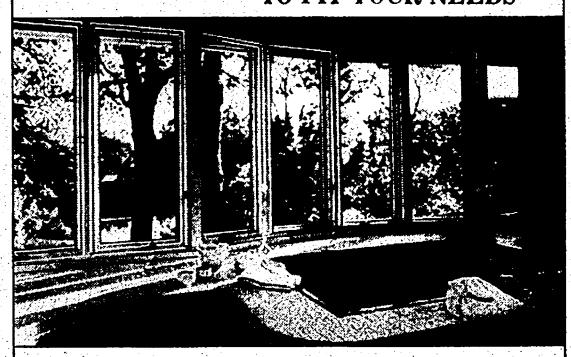

Dyeing is another way to accent an expanse of carpet. A stencil is laid down and a design in a contrasting color sprayed on. Most carpet experts agree that dyeing an entire carpet is risky, but that accent dyeing is a viable and exciting option in interior detailing.

INDUSTRY NEWS includes horizontal fabric blind (by Hunter Douglas) that lets in light and costs around $350 a window, and a new custom horizontal blind with a 34 inch slat (by the makers of Ball Blinds). This one lets in less light than standard blinds.

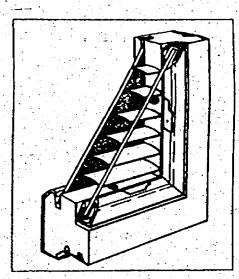

Vertical blinds are easy and practical. However, they're at the bottom of the list for hot looks for fall.

Shutters are back and manufacturers can now custom-size them to work on virtually any size or shape window - even half-rounds. Use them alone, in a contemporary setting or with draperies and valance for a dressier apporach.

Think tradition, think romance, think good material — these are the current interior designs watchwords.

Pella has the right size to meet your window replacement needs and because we design them to fit right it saves installation costs as well as the added expense and delay of custom windows. Only Pella has all the smart options, such as self-closing screens, blinds between the glass that are safe from dust and low "E" options that no one else can offer.

Refinishing: Labor-intensive but fun

Great bargains can be found that do-it-yourselfers can refinish themselves. Have patience during the shopping and looking process.

Furniture that is raunchy or ragged may have a second life. No matter that it's chipped, wobbly, dented or even missing a portion.

You can infuse that table, chair or chest of drawers with new life and a new look. Necessity is the mother in invention, and invention is what will set your decor apart.

Inveterate shoppers of flea markets and junktiques know this. So do those familiar with estate sales, garage sales and Goodwill or Salvation Army stores. You can save hundreds of dollars and end up with one-of-a-kind collector's items.

Initiates into the world of restorable furniture can test the waters by devoting just one day to combing the local resources. Don't go to antique stores, where furniture is apt to be pricey.

CHECK YOUR newspaper's classified section and the telephone directory for resources. Then hit the garage sales in the wee hours, as the pros do. From there, move up to the shops and thrift stores with an open mind and imaginative eye.

That peeling credenza may only need a new or old marble top. Replace the pedestal on an occasional table with columns, statuary or a narrow bookshelf.

This route is not without pitfalls. Nor is it without work.

Stand back. First ask yourself if your find is a generally attractive piece of furniture. Visualize it in your room.

Scrutinize the finish and check the joints. Is it solid? Does it need regluing? Does it have a natural finish or has it been painted?

Sometimes secondhand furnishings can be infested with termites or roaches. Be prepared to put the piece in a closed room with a pesticide fogger if necessary,

Last, determine whether you have the place and patience to do the restoration yourself or if it is a task best left to a professional.

YOU WILL most certainly want to consult with your hardware and paint store about the most suitable products for your specific project. And, unless you are a seasoned refinisher, you may want to invest in a how-to book before beginning.

"The Weekend Finisher," the latest restoration book from Bruce Johnson (Ballantine), is excellent, as is "The Illustrated Handbook of Furniture Restoration" by George Buchanan (Harper and Row).

Look for refinishing tips in magazines such as "Country Living" and "Fine Wood Working." Initiates into the world of restorable furniture can test the waters by devoting just one day to combing the local resources. Don't go to antique stores, where furniture is apt to be pricey.

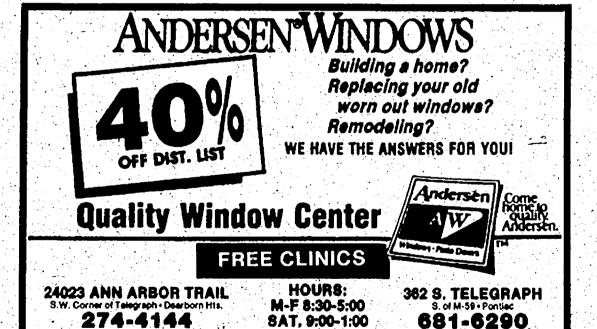

The Taunton Press of Newton, Conn., publishes several videos on furniture repairing. These video workshops separate myth from necessity with step-by-step lessons in reconstruction and refinishing.

Removing paint and varnish is probably the toughest task in bringing around used furniture. Wood absorbs paint, and a solid color will be laborintensive to remove. But the effort is not without tips and tricks. And there are ever more excellent products to help you out. 3M has a new line of refinishing products, including Safest Stripper and Hand Erase Sander.

One of the most established wood finisher manufacturers, Homer Formsby, recommends against all purpose strippers that can take out the patina and raise wood grain. He prefers furniture refinisher for dissolving varnish, lacquer and shellac and paint remover for polyurethane and paint.

colonial antiques originally may have been painted with compounds made of egg and milk. These require a special paint remover called PDE.

Since paint-removers work best between 65 and 85 degrees Fahrenheit, fall is the best time to undertake do-ityourself stripping. Working in moderate temperatures and in small sections at a time will help ensure your success.
