DEVELOPERS of the senior citizens "campus" project at Carlson and Marquette have apparently hit a mag over obtaining Certificates of Need from the state for residential buildings scheduled for the complex.

Developers Arnold Shapero and Dr. Allen Waldman were granted a six-month extension Monday by the Westland City Council on their agreement to negotiate exclusively for the 47-acre site. The new deadline is next March

According to an Aug. 29 letter from state Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland to City Council President Ken Mahl, the certificates are still being processed in Lansing.

The proposed complex would include high-rise and low-rise residential buildings, a nursing home, an Alzheimer's disease treatment center and a strip shopping center.

Westland should make up the population it lost in the early 1980s and the city's population could hit 90,000 in the 1990 census, a city official sald last week.

George Wilhelmi, the city's planning director, said apartment complex and single-family home construction since 1985 will provide the impetus for the population gain.

But the mid-decade census was compiled before the city's housing boom. In 1988. Westland ranked first in housing starts in western Wayne County and second in southeastern Michigan.

BECAUSE FEDERAL funds for communities are based on census population figures, Westland could gain as much as an additional $1.5 million annually if the 1990 population figure is at least 90,000.

Charged in murder try, pair has garage sale

Neighbors of Valentine and Carol Kwiatkowski said they were mildly disturbed Friday when the father and daughter - who have been charged with the Aug. 6 attempted murder of daughter Anna Kwiatkowski — tried to have a garage sale at the family home on the 6600 block of Wildwood.

The defendants, who declined to talk to reporters, packed up household items and outdoor maintenance equipment that had been laid out in their back yard and on their driveway and disappeared inside the house shortly before noon.

Police group looks to end contract dispute

By Tedd Schnelder staff writer...

The Westland Police Sergeants and Lieutenants Association is asking for binding arbitration to settle a 15-month contract dispute with the city.

The arbitration request comes less than a month after a contract between the 23-member union and the this thing settled." city appeared imminent.

The Westland City Council in a closed session Aug. 28 discussed a proposed contract recommended by a state mediator but decided against placing it on the agenda for approv-

Detective Sgt. Robert Barthold, union president, said last week he had a scheduled meeting Friday with attorney Frank Guido to draft the arbitration request.

"Members of the unit are disappointed," Barthold said Thursday. "It could take another year to get

The union issued a two-paragraph statement Thursday taking Mayor Charles Griffin's administration to task for thwarting an agreement and disrupting a report published by another newspaper that the union had rejected a recent contract offer from the city.

THE STATEMENT said since Sept. 6 the administration "two times discussed (a proposed agreement) with the city council but refuses to support it and failed to provide requested details on the cost (of the proposed agreement.)"

The administration's actions have "hand-tied" the council, the statement said.

Charles Bokos, city attorney, sald Thursday requesting arbitration wasn't necessary. He said the union had adopted an "impatient" attitude regarding negotiations.

"There was room to negotiate but they (the union) expect the council to give up on the pension without offering anything in return," Bokos said of what had been the major sticking point in the talks.

The union had asked the city to reopen discussion over pension reguirements, breaking a previous agreement not to change pension benefits before 1995.

Bokos said that issue won't be handled by the arbitrator, who is legally locked into the pension requirements of the previous contract. "It's now a dead issue." he said.

Barthold said the union would concentrate on other issues, including additional money and vacation bene-

THE PROPOSAL suggested by the mediator reportedly included a $4,000 raise over the life of the contract. City contracts with public safety unions are typically two- orthree-year agreements.

The arbitration process requires the union to submit three names of possible arbitrators. The city will rule out one of choices and then the union will omit a second name, leaving the final choice as the arbitrator.

The arbitrator chooses either the union's or the city's contract proposal. No compromises are allowed.

Bokos said the process could take at least six months.

The last contract between the city and the union expired in June 1988.

Negotiations have been bitter at times, with the union issuing a bumper sticker critical of Griffin and the mayor calling a press conference last summer to refute what be called "misleading crime statistics" distributed by the union.

School district honors teachers at board meeting

Friends, family members and coworkers cheered when the Livonia school district's three top teachers for 1989 were honored at a school board meeting last week.

The three - Diane Anselm, Janice Palmer and Ronald Quick — were feted with gifts, accolades, standing ovations, and five-paragraph resolutions outlining their accomplishments in the classroom.

BOARD TRUSTEE Joseph Laura read the resolution written for Anselm, a first-grade teacher at Buchanan Elementary.

"Diane's most outstanding characteristic is her commitment in spending limitless time with parents, just Livonia School District The Livonia School District includes the northern section of serves the northeast corner of Westland.

"She is indeed an exceptional educator, going far beyond the expected range of her duties to meet the needs of students, colleagues and parents," Thorderson said. "She is one of the most respected, creative, resourceful and committed teachers in the Livonia Public Schools."

Saying the selection came as "no surprise to my family," board president Pat Tancill read the resolution for Ronald Quick. English teacher and department chairman at Stevenson High.

"The testimonials of his colleagues and students are replete with examples of his caring and seno sitive attitude while maintaining high expectations and standards in his classroom," Tancill said.

"Ron Quick's students, at all ability levels, are respected, challenged and motivated to lifelong learning because of his ability to convey his love of learning to others."

EACH YEAR, the district names its top elementary, middle and high school teacher.

The selections are made by a district-wide committee composed of teachers, parents and school administrators.

Anselm serves on-a wide variety of district study groups which include reading, gifted, computer literacy and mathematics. She has served on numerous school committees and projects, including learning centers, bucket brigades, critic teacher for student teachers, publishing center, PTA teacher representative and safety patrol sponsor.

Those who nominated her said Anselm has "warmth, compassion, enthusiasm and always a smile, hug, and kind, encouraging word."

Paimer is a member of the school principal's advisory committee as well as several district-wide committees and state, national and professional organizations.

She initiated a breakfast club and bookstore at Emerson and organized. a weekend trip to Mackinac Island for remedial students.

Those who nominated her said. Palmer "strives to build morale, is fair with students, is a problem solver and is a dedicated, caring teacher."

Those who nominated Quick said . he frequently receives "accolades from his former students" who recognize his expertise in English and ability to teach when they take Eng-

cop calls

POLICE arrested a 19-year-old Wayne man Tuesday in connection with an armed robbery at the Video House videoossette rental store, 1520 S. Merriman. An employe told police the man came into the store

The man apphached the counter and inquired about becoming a memler at the store, the employee said. He then spent pproximately 40 minutes browsing through the store beore approaching the counter again. This time, the employee said, he pulled a small revolver out of his jacke and demanded all the cash in the register.

The man took approximately $150 and fled in a green Chevrolet station wagon, he employee said.

Moments later, officers spotted a man matching the culprit's description talking to a woman on the 2000. block of Dryden Court. The touple was standing next to a green station wagon, police bid.

The man was arrested and asearch of the car turned up money and a handgun, police taid.

A RESIDENT of the Westland Park Apartments, near Cherry Hill and Henry Ruff, old police someone stole a 1979 Cheyrolet Blazer from the complex parking lot early Tuesday.

The resident said the four-wheel drive vehicle belonged to a Southfield man and that he was repairing it. The vehicle, which had an expired license plate sitting on the front seat, was stolen between 1 and 7:50 a.m., the resident said.

AN EMPLOYEE of the Payless Shoe store, 6629 N. Wayne Road, reported that a man posing as a cusfomer exposed himself Tuesday morning.

The employee, a 21-year-old woman, said the man came into the store approximately 11 a.m. He asked her for help and when she turned around to talk to him, she saw the man deliberately expose himself, the woman

After standing in the store for a moment, the man ran to a red truck parked outside and fled, the employee told police.

She described the man as white, in his early 20s and 5 feet 6 inches tall, with a thin build and fair skin. He was wearing a blue and black flannel shirt with a white Tshirt underneath and blue jeans, she said.

Metager said the bureau's efforts will also include local schools. "If we can get the kids into it, maybe they'll be able to convince their parents of how important filling out the ques-

WESTLAND OFFICIALS will begin receiving information on the number and location of residents by late 1991, Metzger said.

Information on the income, education and occupations of city residents and other final data will be delivered by 1992, he said.

Sentencing of city man delayed

Sentencing for a Westland man convicted Sept. 11 for the murders of his stepbrother and a Garden City woman was delayed Thursday because the man's attorney was detained on another trial.

Gary Joseph Galindo, 44, faces a maximum sentence of life in prison without paroie.

Recorder's Court Judge Dalton

Roberson adjourned proceedings Thursday afternoon when defense attorney Charles Campbell informed the court he wouldn't be able to appear with his client before the court closed at 4:30 p.m.

The sentencing was rescheduled for today.

Galindo was convicted during a bench trial Sept. 11 of two counts of first-degree marder and one count of possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony

Police said Galinde shot and killed his stephrether, Arthur Andrew No-44, of Garden City late March 10 or early March 11 in a house on the 37100 block of Norune. The house was shared by Galindo, his mother and Novack.

Recalling Colombia

Former resident recalls hardships

DON'T TELL me Colombia is beautiful. Don't tell me it's a wonderful country to visit. And don't cry. on my shoulder about all the bombings and killings taking place there

It's not that I,don't give a damn about the place, the drug problem and the world. It's just that I lack sympathy for a country that hasn't done anything about its problems in at least 25 years.

"I know it's a beautiful place. It has gorgeous rain forests and towering. snow-capped mountains.

It's one of those countries that fall into the "a nice place to visit but I wouldn't want to live there" category. I know. My family and I lived in Cali, Colombia, for 18 months.

IT HAS been 25 years since I left Colombia, and I can honestly say I have no inclination to return.

Maybe it's a reaction of being cast into the role of an "ugly American" when all I wanted to do was groove on the Beatles. Maybe it was the shock of realizing that Dorothy was right: "There's no place like home."

I can still remember the confusion I felt when we stepped off the DC-9 in Call. The flight from Bogota had been terrifying. It looked like we would barely clear the snow-capped peaks of the central range of the Sleet pelted the windows of the plane, and turbulence caused the door to the pilot's compartment to slam open and shut several times throughout the journey.

I don't think the fear and confu-2 sion ever went away. We had to immerse ourselves in the Colombian way of life, even though it went. against the middle class mores ingrained in us in the States.

LIFE IN Colombia then probably isn't much different from what it is Stoday. In 1964, there were anti-American riots, general strikes, a Sue state of siege and kidnappings and murders. We were under martial law since the government was trying to deal with bandits who roamed the countryside, kidnapping the rich at will and holding them for ransom.

For the most part, the bandits got what they wanted - cash and plenty of it. The families didn't fare as well. Some got their loved ones back, often minus a finger, hacked off by the bandits to prove they were serious. Some got back a corpse. Some got back nothing.

MARTIAL LAW meant two things - police identification cards and police checkpoints.

Anyone over 14 years of age had to carry an ID card. A person could be stopped at any time for any reason and made to produce his. card. Lack of a card could land one in jail.

Checkpoints were on roads leading from the city. The implication of the checkpoints was that you were safe in the cities, but you traveled the countryside at your own risk.

IN THE residential areas of the city, you hired a guard to watch your home at night.

In the wee hours of morning, our guard would ride by on a bicycle, and blow a whistle to let us know he was on patrol. Then he'd head on to his next house.

We used to say that the whistle was to let the thleves know it was OK to break in since he had made his customary check. My father had little confidence in our guard, so he bought a machete that hung in a COLOMBIA HAD a two-class system - the very rich, and the very poor. There was no in between. If you worked and made money, you emulated the rich - servants to clean your house, cook your meals and tend your gardens.

If you were poor, you might work as a servant for a meager $17 a month, including room and board, meals and 114 days off each week.

The servants came from the countryside and their meager income was used to help their families.

They also came from a hilltop community on the outskirts of Cali. The shantles that lined the hill had no running water, no electricity. The people carried water in pails from a spigot at the foot of the hill.

If you were poor, you might also resort to begging. In Colombia, begging was a profession like it was in Charles Dickens' time.

If you look beyond the cocaine, you will see that the problems Colombia faces today are the same ones it faced 25 years ago. The only difference is that the bandits now are getting rich on drug trafficking rather than kidnapping.

IT'S POSSIBLE Colombia is trying to solve its problems, but I'm not impressed. Driving out the drug lords and shutting down the cocaine pipeline are nothing more than pipe dreams in a country that has never addressed the source of the problem — poverty. And I'm even less impressed with its solution to deter the peasants from growing coca. Paying more for Colombian coffee won't end poverty. I dare say the poor will never know their coffee beans are worth more. It will be a case of the rich getting richer and the poor poorer.

More foreign aid won't end poverty. Corruption is a way of life in Colombia and, again, the poor will probably never benefit from it. The rich will get richer and the poor

What will end it?

I don't know. But I'm sure of one thing. The more things change, the more they stay the same in Colom-

Adoption is no simple solution

I am writing in response to the column, "Is adoption better way than abortion?"

Tim Richard made some good points in this article. There are many children in orphanages waiting to find a family. And adoption services need to be organized and made more obvious to the public.

I also think some other points were overlooked. Adoption can give a woman an alternative to keeping a child. But if a woman does not feel she can raise a child, she may not want to go through nine months of pregnancy and labor, just to give it

In the following instances a woman may choose not to keep a child.

• Rape — would a woman want to be reminded every day for nine months about such a tragic ordeal?

• Ignorance — if a girl has not been informed about birth control and has a much more experienced boyfriend, should she be punished by being forced to have a child?

• Poverty - if a young woman already has children she is having a hard time supporting, is it wise for her to have another child?

In situations like these, and others, I think abortion may be necessary. Some may say these females should be more careful or use birth control. I agree.

However, until our schools and communities start offering more information about: birth control, sex education, rape and date rape, safe sex, prenatal care, self defense, etc., we can not expect uneducated women to change their behavior.

Adoption is not an equivalent replacement for abortion. This issue is more complicated. This is something President Bush fails to see.

Gun column lacked facts

To the editor: This rebuttal is in reference to Steve Barnaby's column "Shooting Incidents Ought to Wake Us Up." Mr. Barnaby, if your intent is to . inform the public, at least try and get the facts straight before you have 'em printed. Your version of the shooting in/Livonia, involving an off-duty police officer, lacked some very important facts. First of all, the officer involved did not whip out his service weapon and indiscriminately pump off rounds in an attempt to stop "a couple of kids" from merely stealing his automobile (as you put it).

Fact No. 1 — Two of the criminals involved were adults (according

from our readers

to Michigan Law), only one of them was a juvenile.

• Fact No. 2 - Not only were they trying to steal the officer's car, but they also tried to kill him by running him over with their car. Why would you leave this fact out, Mr. Barnaby?

• It wasn't until the officer's life was endangered, by being run over, that he decided to use his weapon as a last resort — to stop the threat. Fortunately, no one was injured including the officer.

Second, Mr. Barnaby, why is it you and other liberal editors, try to scare the public by making the police look like the bad guys? If you so-called editors would do your homework, you would realize that a 9 mm round is actually less powerful than a 357 revolver round. Just because they call it a "semi-automatic" doesn't mean it's a fully automatic machine gun. It merely has more rounds in a magazine, compared to only six in a revolver. You still must pull the trigger for every round that is expelled from the gun — just like a revolver.

Police officers are trained extensively to aim their shots with the specific intent of resolving the situation which justified shooting in the first place. Due to the increase in criminals using military type weapons and Uzis today, it only makes sense to update the equipment the police need to confront these subjects. Check the statistics: there have been several officers killed in the line of duty while trying to reload their "out-dated" revolvers. Those extra rounds in the magazine could mean the difference between life and death for an officer on the street today.

So, don't just single out "semi-automatics," Mr. Barnaby, all guns should be considered "killer-type"

Ask Geake hard questions

To the editor:

I read with dismay, M.B. Dillon's Sept. 11 article about Sen. Robert Geake's recent survey. Dillon appears to be a Geake supporter, having failed to ask any hard questions. Sen. Geake's crusade against tobacco products and citizens who choose to use them, I'm sure, is well-intentioned. But, in fairness, I-feel Sen. Geake should add some questions to his survey. For instance:

Do you feel property taxes, though not based on ability to pay, are a fair

way to finance our children's educa-

Do you agree with the excise tax measures I've supported, even though they are the most regressive form of taxation?

Should we raise the income tax rate, once tobacco products are eliminated from their scourge on soclety, to make up for the millions of dollars lost in excise taxes now de-'rived from their sales? (Geake will tell you taxes won't have to be raised because of the tremendous financial burden smokers put on society. A recent study published in Business Week disagrees.)

Do you feel teachers should eat foods high in cholesterol salt, or fat, and red meat on school property even though they can be harmful to their health, and set a bad example for all children?

Do you agree with the time I spend, crusading against adults who use tobacco products or should I spend more time on searching for ways to improve our educational system and business climate?

It appears that Sen. Geake and his colleagues are spending too much time pursuing their pet "social engineering" projects and not enough time solving our state's real problems; crime and our children's economic and educational futures. Let's show him our priorities the next time he is up for re-election!

Firms: State should lead on recycling

By Tim Richard staff writer

State government should buy products made from recycled materials and set an example for local units, businesses and consumers, a panel of legislators was told, at a hearing earlier this month in Lans-

"The problem is that procurement officers need to be educated to use recycled products," said Terry Guerin, a vice president of Mid-Way Cullet Inc. of Detroit and Ann Arbor. His firm takes old glass (cullet), cleans it, breaks it up and ships it to glass manufactures for re-process-

Guerin cited the state Department of Transportation, which lacked specifications allowing mulch made from newsprint to be used in freeway grass plantings. A Hudsonville firm, Nu-Wool Inc., processes old papers into material that can be dyed with green food coloring, mixed with seed and fertilizer, then sprayed along roadsides.

"The state uses plastic," Nu-Wool owner Fred Henderson testified. He held up a hunk of green plastic that had survived the winter. Henderson said his newsprint mulch "totally decomposes into the ground as the grass grows."

STATE REPS. James Kosteva, D-Canton, and Jan Dolan, R-Farmington Hills, repeatedly asked businesspeople and civic recyclers what state government could do - provide tax incentives? grants? — to encourage re-use and recycling. The goal: to reduce Michigan's need to store 13.2 million tons of solid waste a year in landfills.

"The point was driven home to me," said Kosteva, "that there may not have to be much government intervention in regulations and incentives/disincentives. Government needs to be the introducer (by buying products made from recycled materials)."

Kosteva chaired the House Solid Waste Study Committee as it held two hearings in the past month in the new State Library and Museum in Lansing. A final hearing is scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Thursday on the building's third floor.

Dolan got nods of agreement but few specific ideas when she asked whether the state should give tax breaks to companies whose products use recycled materials.

Interest in recycling has picked up dramatically since Time Magazine's first 1989 issue made the planet Earth "man of the year," several recyclers said.

"THERE HAS BEEN a rapid increase in municipal glass recycling," said Guerin, whose firm processes 50,000 tons of brown, green and clear cullet a year.

"Glassmakers are using 25 percent cullet, but they could use 100 percent because it melts at a lower temperature (than virgin materials)."

Guerin reported "no difficulty" marketing flint (clear) glass, sporadic difficulty with green glass (which goes mostly to Canada) and great difficulty with mixed colored glass, Owens-Illinois "penalizes Michigan because of its deposit law. That's bothersome to us," said Guerin, charging that the big glassmaker pays lowest rates for cullet to states with deposit laws.

"We're working with 20 to 25 municipalities. We're encouraged by the rate of increase," Guerin said.

He added that, despite the state's deposit law, fewer and fewer pop and beer bottles are re-filled because it's cheaper to buy a new bottle than to refill it.

PRODUCTS SHOULD be designed with recycling in mind, said Steve being collected better?" \

He criticized air bags, the auto safety device, because "they have toxic gas. It blows up - literally explodes - when it goes through an auto shredder and hurts the people working there."

Bolhuis said many appliances can't be recycled for their aluminum because their paint contains toxic cadmium.

"Would there be an advantage," asked Dolan, "to requiring that everything be recyclable, reusable or degradable by a certain date?"

"The threat of legislation is a powerful tool," said Kyle Right, sales director of Eaglebrook Plastics, a seven-year-old firm in Chicago.

Right said high density polyethy. lene plastics have captured twothirds of the container markets for milk, detergents, motor oil and bleaches. HDPEs are 7 percent of the waste stream by weight but 30 percent by bulk.

"We make plastic lumber that doesn't rot or splinter, is nailable and screwable," said Right, showing pictures of a boat dock made from his product.

INSULATION MADE from recycled newsprint saves 20 percent on heating bills compared to fiberglass, said Henderson of Nu-Wool, though its installation price is higher.

In motels, newsprint insulation is superior in muting radio sounds between rooms, he said.

Asked why the price of old newspapers has dropped to nothing, Henderson replied, 'There's no more paper than there ever was, It's just

Best pear deserves cutlery

Monday, September 25, 1989 O&E

The best pear I ever tasted was a huge, beautiful Comice that was given to me by an old friend and co-worker, Imogene Tapp of Plymouth. She bought it at Meijer and it was wrapped in quilted cotton. The sturdy stem graced the top like a crown on a king's head. Of course, for the price she paid, it could easily have been a crown.

When the succulent pear was handed to me, she warned that this special pear, if eaten by hand, would exude a multitude of juice that certainly would drip down my arm to the elbow. But this was no ordinary pear. This special fruit demanded a plate, a fork and one of those cutesy fruit knives that Aunt Edna would give to all her nieces and nephews for wedding presents.

Ever since then I-have looked forward to the autumn arrival of pears in the market, and I have become inspired by the annual abundance of uses for these fruity gems - from soups, sandwiches, side dishes, salads, main courses and, of course, desserts,

The pear is a fruit classified as a pome and is closely related to the apple and the quince. It is indigenous to Western Asia. It has long been cultivated there and in PEARS MADE their way to North America with some of the first colonists. Supposedly, John Endicott of Massachusetts planted, the Endicott pear in 1630. Pears gradually moved westward to California in the 1700s when Franciscan fathers planted rows of pear trees in mission gardens. Now pears are grown in home gardens in almost every state of the union.

Pears for both fresh market and processing are picked green and hard. Tree-ripened pears are frequently of inferior quality, often with coarse, gritty flesh. Pears are mostly handpicked with utmost care because they have a tendency to bruise easily.

Pears ripen when exposed to temperatures between 65 and 75.

degrees Fahlenheit. As pears ripen, their skins change color from a deep passed green to the color characteristic for the variety. Bartletts, the most common and abundant variety available in this area, turn a golden yellow.

Fresh pears are best when they yield to gentle palm pressure. If still green-skinned when purchased, pears may be ripened at home by storing them at room temperature preferably three or more together in a closed paper bag. When the pears begin to change color and yield to slight pressure, the may be refrigerat-

The adventuresome chef will enjoy using a special ingredient in soups and souffles called eau-devie, also commonly known as pear brandy. If you make homemade ice cream, take care of the kids first, then add a healthy shot or two of eau-de-vie and return the mix to the freezer for 30 minutes. That's what I call "big boy ice creem,"

WHEN IT COMES to an assort-ment of varieties that may be found locally and at the farmers markets, in addition to the Bartlett and the pricey Comice, you might come across crisper versions like the Bosc, Anjou and Nellis. The latter three pears add a great crunch to baked goods and will hold their shape well. If you happen to be into exotic, sensory sensations, the Anjou, when fully ripe, exudes an intriguing fragrance that can easily fill a kitchen with the fresh smell and tasté of fall.

But whatever the variety, and whatever the recipe, pears are always a very special autumn treat.

A bit of heaven: fresh apple cider

By Arlene Funke special writer

OME PEOPLE KNOW it's autumn when the football season kicks off. Others salute the arrival of crisp, autumn weather by heading out to one of the many cider mills dotting the rural Sip that sweet, freshly pressed apple cider. Bite into a warm, cinnamon-sprinkled doughnut. Is this heaven, or what?

Michigan's apple cider season started around Labor Day and will continue through late November or early December; depending on customer flow and weather.

Each weekend, throngs of people will make it a point to visit their favorite cider mill. It's a tradition that has been going on for generations. Just ask Jason Palmer, 22, of Farmington Hills. His family owns the venerable Franklin Cider Mill, a certified national historical site.

"It's been in existence since 1837," said Palmer, production manager at the mill, on the Franklin River in Oakland County.

The Franklin Cider Mill uses a replica of the original press, which The procedure is fairly simple. Apples are washed, then fed into a grinder. Cloth mats squeeze the juice from the mashed apples, while holding back the seeds and cores.

CIDER IS cholesterol-free, contains dietary fiber and is rich in potassium. It also contains small quantities of calcium, phosphorus and iron, according to a nutritionist at the Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service.

Unlike apple juice, cider isn't strained. It contains pulp. It is deep, golden-brown in color and has a robust taste. Most ciders contain no preservatives. If they aren't consumed in a few days, ciders will develop a bitter taste and eventually ferment into vinegar or alcohol.

"The good news is that cider freezes beautifully," Palmer said. "Take out one cup (liquid) for expansion." After thawing, shake the con-

As later apple varieties ripen, they are added to the batches, creating a sweeter blend.

"The avid costomer can tell the difference," according to Palmer. Many cider mills are family operations that have been in existence for many years. Each cider mill has came from Germany, Palmer said. its own personality. Some operations grow their own apples, while others obtain fruit from independent orchards. Fresh doughnuts, home-baked apple ples, honey, popcorn, jellies and fudge also are traditional items available for sale at area cider

"We try to feature as many Michigan products as we can," said Tracy Shaffer, 31, of Rochester, a member of the Mancour family, which operates Paint Creek Cider Mill in Rochester.

THE MANCOUR FAMILY is in its 13th year of business at Paint Creek. Seven-years ago, the family opened a restaurant next to the cider mill. The restaurant, which serves American cuisine, is open for dinner Tuesdays-Saturdays.

Lunches are served Tuesdays-Fridays. Sunday brunch is particularly popular during cider season, Shaffer

Last year, many people were afraid to eat apple products because of negative publicity about possible health risks from the pesticide Alar. Not to worry.

"Michigan apple growers don't use Alar," according to Dr. Dean Krauskopf, a horticulturist with the extension service.

Apples, honey for a sweet new year

The Jewish New Year (Rosh Hashana) begins at sundown Friday. It is customary to begin a New Year meal with apples and honey to wish for a sweet year ahead. It is also customary to serve sweet dishes, perhaps with honey in them.

Linda Rosenberg of Southfield represents the Galliee B'nal B'rith Women, whose second cookbook was published in 1985. Copies of 'The Galilee Gourmet Book II"are available from Rosenberg.

Mentioning recipes in the cookbook that would be sultable for Rosh Hashana, Rosenberg said, "Glazed Chicken Breasts is a possibility for a main dish. Carrot-Yam Tzimmes it is wonderful side dish, as is Apricot Carrots. It is also nice to serve a good dessert, perhaps with apple, as they are traditionally the beginning or the fall harvest. Apple Care and Golden Apple Torte are excellent."

The cookbook comes in a spiralring binder and is priced at $11.50, plus $3 if mailed. To order, call Rosenberg at 559-6706.

GLAZED CHICKEN BREASTS Place 8 chicken breasts in a baking pan Season with lots of paprika and bake for 1 hour at 350 degrees.

In a 1-quart saucepan place: 1 stick dash of lemon juice Heat over medium heat and then add cornstarch to thicken. Pour sauce over chicken and bake 1/2 hour longer. Serve with rice.

APRICOT CARROTS 2½ cups thinly sliced, pared carrots 11/2 tablespoon butter 14 cup apricot preserves 1/4 teaspoon grated orange rind 1 teaspoon lemon juice plach of ground nutmeg salt to taste

Boil the carrots, covered in 1/2 cup water and 44 teaspoon salt just tender-crisp, about 10 minutes; drain. Over low heat, stir together the butter, preserves, orange rind, lemon juice, nutmeg and sait until butter and preserves melt; fold in carrots and reheat. Makes 4 small servings.

CARROT-YAM TZIMMES 2 pounds sweet potatoes (yams), cut into % inch slices (leave jackets on until after they are cooked). 1 pound carrots, cleaned, scraped, cut into % inch slices 14 cup dried prunes 15 cup dried apricots 15 cup dried apple 1 cup orange juice

2 tablespoon honey 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind ¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg ¼ teaspoon ground ginger

Cook yams and carrots in enough water to cover in a covered saucepan until barely tender, about 15 minutes. Drain. Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 21/2 or 3-quart case serole. Place yams and carrots in casserole. Stir in dried fruits. Pour orange juice over vegetables and fruits. Dot with honey and sprinkle with lemon rind, nutmeg and ginger.

Bake in 350 degree oven for about 30 minutes or until fork tender. If a sweeter taste is desired, sprinkle with a cinnamon-sugar mixture the last 5 minutes of baking and garnish with thin strips of orange rind before

Country cooks used apple cider

By Katie Maple McBride special writer

While generally enjoyed as a beverage today, cider was a staple in country, cooking in 19th-century America. Rural housewives quickly learned some basics about cooking with cider: it enhanced the natural flavor of foods, acted as a natural meat tenderizer and was an abstinent method of making meals, since the alcohol boiled away.

They put this knowledge to good use, adding cider to everything from soups to desserts. For old-fashioned flavor, you might like to stir up a few of these recipes from "The American Cider Book? by Vrest Orton (Farrar, Straus and Giroux, New York, 1973).

CIDER APPLE BUTTER 10 cups sliced, peeled apples I tablespoon cinnamon 2 teaspoons cloves 1 teaspoon nutmeg 1/2 teaspoon salt 10 cups sugar 1/2 cup cider 3 tablespoons lemon juice

Mix ingredients and let stand 10 minutes. Cook slowly, stirring frequently, until mixture becomes very soft. This will take about 50 minutes. Pour into sterilized jars and seal immediately.

They put this knowledge to good use, adding cider to everything from soups to desserts.

CIDER SYRUP 1 quart cider 21/2 cups sugar

Boil cider for 25 minutes. Add sugar. Bring again to a full boil for 3 minutes for medium syrup or 5 minutes for heavy syrup. Yield: approximately 11/2 pints. For cinnamon cider syrup, add 1 tablespoon cinnamon drops with the sugar and proceed as above. Use medium cider syrup as a table syrup, and heavy clder syrup for ice cream sundaes and sodas.

NORMANDY PORK CHOPS 6 pork chops, % inch thick 1 teaspoon salt serole. Lay chops on fruit, add cider. Cook 11/2 hours at 350 degrees or until pork is tender. Turn chops during cooking so both sides are flavored with the fruit.

CIDER POT ROAST

11/2 cups cider 1 tablespoon brown sugar 2 teaspoons salt ¼ teaspoon cinnamon 1/4 teaspoon ginger 2 whole cloves 3-4 pound chuck pot roast of beef flour

Mix marinade of cider, sugar, and spices. Pour over a 3-4-pound chuck pot roast of beef and let stand in refrigerator for 24 hours. Remove from marinade, sprinkle with flour. Brown in hot fat in a Dutch oven. Turn heat low, add marinade to meat and cover closely. Simmer for 3 hours. Thicken gravy if desired.

APPLE CIDER PIE 11/2 cups cider

2 tablespoons red cinnamon candles 1 package lemon-flavored gelatin

2 medium-large apples, pared 1 cup heavy cream, whipped 9-inch baked pie shell

Heat 34 cups cider with the cinnamon candies added. When candy has melted, add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Stir in rest of cider. Chill until nearly set. Then beat until frothy. Grate pared apples directly into gelatin mixture and fold in whipped cream. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until firm.

Taco salad is easy, full meal

cooking for children can be a battle. As the mother of three boys and 12 years of experience in the trenches, I have had to devise various tactics that keep the troops in line and help quell outright rebellion.

One maneuver that works for our family is to let each of our sons have a night to choose the dinner. I have found the boys usually respect each other's choices and tend to eat their dinner with fewer complaints when this participative planning is used.

One of their favorite choices is tach salad which, in addition to being easy to make, is a complete meal in itself. One of the things I really like about this dish is that it may be made early in the day, refrigerated and then tossed into the oven, and is ready to eat within 15 minutes. It may be reheated easily or microwaved for late-arriving family members.

I usually serve it with a mixed fruit salad that has been drizzled with a honey-lime dressing, and keeps K.P. to a minimum and is always a hit in our family's mess hall.

'Color on your plate' is good for your health

An old wives' tale dating back hundreds of years taught: "Always have a lot of color on your plate." This advice was given so that people would meet their need for beta caro-

Beta carotene is one of food's natural "antioxidants." It can help our bodles fight off cancer and heart disease. In today's modern world we're exposed to pollution, smoke, fatty foods, stress and sun exposure. Many of these we can't avoid completely. But, we can help ourselves to fight their negative effects by eating a well-balanced diet rich in leafy greens, yellow and orange vegetables and fruits, which provide our bodies with a daily store of these important antioxidants.

Most fruits and vegetables supply beta carotene. Especially the green and yellow/orange vegetables such, in our modern environment it's even as broccoli, spinach, sweet potatoes and the popular carrot (which we were told to eat for healthy eyes). Getting enough beta carotene in our from the vegetable family. It's also a diet is, in fact, essential for good vision and it also helps protect the eyes from forming cataracts.

Just knowing that eating foods rich in beta carotene can help to prevent certain types of cancers, and 21/4 cups all-purpose flour that it can help to preserve your vision, should encourage you to reach sugar for a glass of carrot juice instead of 2 teaspoons double-acting baking soda pop. Now the good news. Foods powder rich in beta carotene are tasty.

DOESN'T A spiced carrot-raisin muffin sound good for breakfast? And for an afternoon snack, sweet potato chips are a healthy way to satisfy your craving for munchles. As the days and evenings begin to get cool, think about baking some acorn squash with a touch of brown sugar and cinnamon or enjoying a bowl of pumpkin chowder.

Take the old wives' tale seriously. It was excellent advice then - and more important. Whenever you sit down to a meal, always be sure there is color on your plate, especially good idea to eat a carrot every day.

Fast-food meal can equal a half-stick of butter

If you have just gotten the news your blood cholesterol number is high, you are not alone.

More than 60 million Americans have high blood cholesterol. High blood cholesterol is one of the major controllable risk factors for heart disease. The amount of cholesterol in your blood is affected by the amount of cholesterol your body makes as well as the saturated fat and cholesterol in the foods you eat.

Would you sit down and eat a half stick of butter? Guess what, if you milkshake at a local fast food res-much saturated fat.

If you want to correct high blood cholesterol and you are eating like an average American, you will have to make some changes. Let's face it, eat a large hamburger with cheese, we are all-different so there is no an order of French fries and a one single approach to the cholesterof problem. Biologically, psychologitaurant you are consuming that cally and lifestyles are very diverse, so then should our approach to cholesterol be individual? Consult with your physician for your specific guideline for lowering cholesterol.

SOME VERY LUCKY people were born with good genes and no matter what they eat, their cholesterol levels stay low. Others, no matter how carefully they eat, can't keep cholesterol levels in a desirable range. Some of us, of course, are in the middle. If your cholesterol is high you need to find out the reason and problems.

"Free of cholesterol" or "no cholesterol" does not mean free of fat. Your body will use the fat and make cholesterol. You will find these labels on margarine, crackers, cereals, mayonnaise, potato chips and other foods. Rule of thumb, in a beef product for instance, figure half the total fat is saturated. To figure grams of fat in a milk product, figure twothirds of the total fat per serving isclose to the amount of safarated fat.

Be alert for names on labels such as coconut oil, palm oil, butter, cream, beef fat and lard. Also look for the presence of whole eggs or egg yolks in baked or processed foods. These can all raise your cholesterol numbers.

Fiber seems to have the power to absorb certain fatty substances in the gastrointestional tract and escorts them out of the body, therethem to manufacture cholesterol in the liver so your cholesterol level goes down. Dietary fiber sources are grouped fore preventing the body from using according to their ability to dissolve in water. Soluble fibers, those that dissolve in water, include pectin, gums and certain hemicellulose fiber. Foods that contain these soluble fibers include oat bran, dry beans, barley, apples and cranberries (pectin), and other fruits. Insoluble fibers such as wheat bran are of no benefit in lowering in cholesterol, though they are important in the diet to control constipation and possibly clean the intestine. Oat bran and dry beans and peas have been found especially effective in lowering serum choles-

BREADS HIGHEST in fiber and lowest in fat are whole wheat, rye and French. Choose English and bran muffins, plain bagels and pita bread. Plan more lunches and dinners that include spaghetti, macaroni, noodles, rice, wheat, cornmeal, barley and bulgur. Choose cream soups less often and instead choose minestrone, chicken noodle, onion, or split-pea soups. Use low-fat crackers such as soda crackers, matzah, melba toast and graham crackers. For dessert, try angel food cake, fig bars, sherbert, frozen non-fat yogurt or ice milk. At snacking time, use popcorn (plain) or fruits and vegetables.

Losing weight often lowers serum lipids, including cholesterol, and reduces blood pressure, as well as providing other health benefits. Fat is a concentrated source of calories, so decreasing fat intake is important in weight reduction as well serum cholesterol reduction.

The choice is Jeally yours, Changing a few eating habits doesn't mean giving up all the foods you like to eat. Making substitutions for high fat foods, preparing foods the low-fat way, modifying recipes to be lower in fat and cutting down on serving size all will help lower your cholesterol and, hopefully, you will live longer.

Aseptic necrosis is an unusual arthritis, but one that any person could develop some day. Individuals at risk include those who are taking steroids daily, alcoholoccurs in some people for no discernable reason,-

The cause is closure of a blood vessel supplying a joint or bone; the bone deprived of its oxygen and nutrition, crumbles. The name of the condition comes from the observation that infection is not the cause (aseptic) and the effect is to destroy bone (necrosis).

The most frequent sites are the shoulder, knee, and wrist, though any bone may be involved. If you have aseptic necrosis, you feel pain at the site the bone is disintegrating. The pain often becomes intense on bearing weight on the bone or joint, and eventually is present even when you are at

Initially, neither x-ray or bone scan reveal the cause. It may take a second or third x-ray to indicate the presence of aseptic necrosis.

Treatment may be as simple as a temporary splint while the body heals the limb. Or, collapse of underlying bone may be of such extent as to necessitate an operation for placement of an artificial hip or knee

Foss leads Trojan rout of Mustangs

By Ray Setlock staff writer

As the wind whistled through the football field at Livonia Clarenceville Friday, fans huddled under their blankets and prayed for the gusts of air to die down, notknowing the breeze was really a result of Trojan quarterback Chris Foss' air assault on Mount Clemens Lutheran North.

When the wind died down and the dust settled, the Trojans had walked away with a 28-6 victory.

Foss, who scored the game's first touchdown on a 1yard run in the opening quarter, completed nine of 15 passes for 162 yards. His main target was wide receiver Kendrick Harrington, who caught five passes, including a 30-yard touchdown strike.

"Harrington played a superb game for us," Clarenceville coach Vic Balaj said. "Both he and Foss worked hard."

"THAT HARRINGTON is really something else," Lutheran North coach Bruce Braun said. "He's not just a good player, but a class act."

Harrington was modest about his efforts, but said the team played well as a whole,

"We win as a family and lose as a family," Harrington said. "It was just real nice to contribute."

Harrington and Foss were complimented by tailback Andrew Weighill, who carried the ball 14 times for 92 yards. He scored two of the Trojans four touchdowns with runs of 1 and 4 yards.

Clarenceville gave a gritty defensive performance, thanks to tackle Carlos Perez, who blocked two Mustangpunts, one of which set up a Trojan touchdown. He played Friday's game with a broken hand.

"THOSE TWO blocked punts really hurt us," Braun said, "They gave Clarenceville good field position."

football

Despite the Trojans' success, the Mustangs were not. without their chances, as Clarenceville accumulated 137 yards in penalties. The Trojans four personal fouls. didn't please Balai.

"We have to learn how to keep our mouth shut," Balaj said. "If this would have been a close game, those penaltles could have really hurt us."

Nevertheless Clarenceville sculpted a fine offensive effort and stole the victory.

The Trojans accumulated 290 yards total offense and picked up 11 first downs.

The Mustangs, led offensively by quarterback Matt Wengler, who completed five of 13 passes for 57 yards, managed just 109 yards total offense. They had 10 first

"OUR GUYS worked hard and deserve the victory," Balaj said. "We'll just have to clean up the penalties for next week and go out and play a sound game."

Both coaches agreed, that penalties and turnovers allowed the final score to be deceiving. "This game was a lot closer than the score would indicate," said Balaj. "Our good field position allowed us to score, but this was a tough game."

Braun added: "If you were to just look at the score, you would think we were blown out, when actually this was a hard-fought battle by both teams. Our turnovers and costly mistakes gave them good field position."

Glenn's tenacity results in victory

As Pat Bennett described it, "Our girls had poise near the end."-

That poise helped Bennett's Westland John Glenn girls basket-ball team in its determined effort to overcome an early Walled Lake Central lead Thursday. The Rock ets finally prevailed, overcoming a six-point deficit after one quarter to defeat the Vikings 52-49 at

After Central (1-5 record overall) rattled Glenn's defense for 21 firstquarter points, the clamps came down. The Vikings scored just eight points in the second quarter, 11 in the third and nine in the fourth.

The Rockets (2-4) tied it at 40 and the score remained close until the final period, when Glenn pulled away with a 14-9 effort. Cathy Mruk's 14 points and 13 rebounds paced the Rocket effort; Shu Warren had 11 points and nine boards. Karyn Koslowski notched 15 points for Central.

At half, the Cougars led 36-9; after three periods, it was 48-11. The reason for the onslaught, according to GC coach Marshall Henry, was simple: "We set the tempo and pressed, and we ran the ball when we could."

Which must have been often. Carolyn Shanks netted 16 points and eight assists to lead the Cougars (4-3 overall, 1-0 in the Northwest Suburban League). Krystal Matesic finished with 15 points and Lynn Gowen scored 11.

Northwood tops Crusaders

Madonna's Tonia Smith collected 11 kills, but the Fighting Crusaders fell in the match against Northwood.

By Bob Stebbins and C.J. Risak staff writers

It was an impressive showing by Madonna College's volleyball team, which hosted NAIA power Northwood Institute Thursday, but it wasn't enough.

Madonna coach Jerry Abraham called it "our best performance of the year." Still, Northwood prevailed 15-12, 15-6, 0-15, 15-9.

"Northwood's a very respected team and we played them point-for-point," insisted Abraham, whose team dipped to 4-2 overall and 1-1 in NAIA District 23 play. He then add-ed, "But we lost the match."

True, Madonna seemed North-wood's equal several times during the match - and Northwood finished fifth in the NAIA last year. But it's also true that the Fighting Crusaders may never get a better chance to knock off the defending district champs, at least not in the forseeable future.

THE NORTHWOMEN were without their top player, middle blocker Joan Frysinger, a Livonia Stevenson grad who was sidelined with a shoulder injury. That allowed Madonna to attack the middle successfully.

The pivotal game for the Crusaders was the first. They had a 10-7 lead, but Northwood battled back and captured the lead on Michelle, Drouin's serve, as Sue Blumenstein notched a kill and a block for a kill to put her team up 13-11.

Madonna pulled to within a point on a block by sophomore Kristy McFadden (from Redford Bishop Borgess) of a Blumenstein kill attempt, but the Crusaders forged no closer. Sara Slater served out the game with a pair of unreturned serves for Northwood.

Drouin's net play carried the Northwomen in a six-point burst in game No. 2, taking them from a 4-3 deficit to a commanding 9-4 lead. Drouin had a block and two kills for points in the rally. Fittingly, Drouin

Rockets cash in on Central mistakes

staff writer

Mistakes can be costly in the game of football, especially if they occur in a game against a highly rated opponent.

Walled Lake Central found out Friday as the host Vikings were clobbered by Westland John Glenn, 38-7. Two interceptions and two fumbles in the first half set up a field goal and three touchdowns for the Rockets as Central bobbled away any chances of an upset. "We made a lot of dumb mistakes," said Central coach Gary Tuz. "We dropped a punt, fumbled, got in-tercepted. You can't make mistakes like that against a good team like Glenn and expect to win.

"The best team won, no doubt," Tuz continued. "They were going to beat us, but it would have been nice to play them without the mistakes. We're not mentally tough enough to come back from bad mistakes."

TUZ WAS correct in admitting the best team had won. Heck, even without the turnovers Glenn racked up 313 vards total offense led by senior tailback Shannon Layne with 113-yards and three touchdowns on 18 carries. Defensively, Glenn held the Vikings to 163-yards total offense, 74 yards coming in the fourth quarter when both teams were featuring players from their respecilve second-string squads.

"It was nice to have a chance to play a lot of players," said Glenn coach Chuck Gordon. "Everyone (that was healthy) played and that was good for the morale of the team.

"We're getting better. We were a little smoother tonight. We want to play as hard as we can and as well as we can. This is a great bunch of men. They work very hard and are fun to be around."

THE CAME WAS all but over by the end of the first quarter as the Rockets reeled off 17 unanswered points. Senior quarterback Eric Stover took charge on Glenn's opening possession, leading the Rockets on an 80-yard scoring drive. Stover was three-for-three on the drive including completions of eight and 11 yards to Mark Netmore, and a 38-yard TD pass to David Ryan.

After Jason Gould intercepted an errant Central pass on the Vikings' next possession, senior kicker Wes Taylor nailed a 32-yard field goal to give the Rockets a 10-0 lead with 6:23 remaining in the quarter.

Glenn was forced to punt on its' next possession, but the Vikings fumbled the punt return and Layne recov-ered at the Central 11. Layne scored on Glenn's first play of the ensuing drive and Taylor's extra point gave the Rockets a 17-0 lead with 14 seconds remaining in the first quarter.

Layne scored two more times in the second quarter, on runs of 10 and 6-yards. Gould capped Glenn's scoring with 1:22 remaining in the half when he scooped up another Central fumble and rambled 8-yards to pay dirt. Taylor converted all the extra points as Glenn rolled to a comfortable 38-0 lead by halftime.

THE LOSS WAS disappointing for the Vikings. About the only bright spot of the night for the home-town fans was a fourth quarter touchdown. According to Tuz, the TD snapped a four-year streak in which the Vikings have not scored on the Rockets.

After fielding a punt at midfield, Central's secondstring offense marched 50-yards in 12 plays. Sophomore iturdack mark trainicus ind the chare three pases for 27 yards including a 13-yard completion to John Drake on a third-and-eight situation. Tatarcuk capped the drive with a 3-yard touchdown run.

"The younger kids played hard and that (touchdown) made them feel good," said Tus. "That was the first time Central has scored on Hiern in four years.

2nd-half surge sparks Eagles

After playing Woodhaven evenly through the first half, Redford Thurston's soccer team asserted itself early in the second and came away with a 3-2 home field victory Friday.

Jamie Zalewski got what proved to be the game-winning goal, scoring 15 minutes into the second half. Zalewski headed a crossing pass from Steve Watson into the net to make the score 3-1, Thurston.

The two teams were fled 1-1 at the half. Woodhayen scored first, but the Warriors' lead didn't last long. Ten seconds after the ensuingkickoff, Jason Muller drilled a shot from 18 yards out to even the score

Mike Steagall gave the Eagles (3-4-1 overall) the lead for good two minutes into the second half. Steagall converted a cross from Leo Morieda.

RU 6. TEMPLE CHRISTIAN 2: The difference in programs was evident early, as Redford Union sped to a 4-0 lead by halftime and cruised to an easy triumph Friday at RU.

"Their team speed was much better," said Redford Temple Christian coach Gary Simmons, whose team slipped to 2-4-1. "They moved up and down the field much faster."

Erik Shaltis and Gary Luyben each collected two goals for the Panthers (4-2 overall), and Luyben also had an assist? Jason Frederick and Chris Roeseler also scored for Temple Christian got second-half goals from Kevin DeMoss (from Chris Johnson) and Kraig Dalton.

"The first half was excellent," said RU coach Al Burnham. "We passed the ball well and created a lot of good scoring opportunities. In the second half, the kids decided the game was over and Temple Christian put it to us." Not enough, however.

THURSTON 71, TRUMAN 27: The first quarter was bad, but the next three were even worse for Taylor Truman Thursday at Redford Thurston. The Eagles (3-2 overall, 2-1 in the Tri-River League) had a 20-13 advantage after one quarter, increased it to 38-18 at the half and to 61-20 after three periods.

Lisa Marunich led a trio of Thurston players to reach double figures in scoring with 12 points. Beth Bachman had 11 and Patty Haney scored 10. Amy Huffman's 10 points topped Truman (0-6 overall, 0-3 in the TRL).

ST. ALPHONSUS 51, ST. AGATHA 33:A first-quarter surge was enough to carry Dearborn St. Alphonsus to a homecourt victory Thursday over Redford St. Agatha.

St. Alphonsus grabbed a 20-5 lead after one quarter and upped it to 31-14 at the half. The Aggles (1-4 overall) played the Arrows evenly in the second half, but they couldn't cut into the deficit.

Carrie Musialowski led St. Alphonsus with 16 points. Kelly Carr had nine points and 12 rebounds for St. Agatha.

EDSEL FORD 57, RU 41:Hey, eliminate the first quarter and this might have been a ball game.

It was as if Redford Union didn't show up until the second quarter started Thursday. Dearborn Edsel Ford shut the Panthers out - blanked them, 16-0 - to start the game, played at RU. Only one player in the game reached double figures in scoring: Salem's Betsy McAllister, with 17 points. Sarah Ruete had nine and Wendy Balley eight for the Rocks (2-4 overall, 1-0 in the WLAA's Lakes Division). Slevenson (4-2 overall, 0-. 1 in the Lakes) was led by Kelly Cotter's eight points.

MOUNT CARMEL 44, BISH-OP BORGESS 38: Wyandotte Mount Carmel outscored Redford Bishop Borgess 17-7 in the final quarter Friday to provide the margin of victory.

"We were not as polsed as they were in the fourth quarter," said Borgess coach, Dave Mann, "It was a close game in the fourth and our inexperience showed. We had a lot of turnovers, and we just failed to take advantage of what the defense was giving us."

The host Spartans led by as many as nine points in the third quarter, before Mount Carmel's Dana Rieger hit a threepointer at the buzzer to cut the Borgess lead to four going into the final period.

Tanya Tounsel led Borgess with 25 points, while teammate Chinetta Austin added seven points and four steals. Rieger led the Comets with 15.

Mount Carmel improved to 4-0 with the win, while the Spartans fell to 2-4.

Canton blows out Churchill

By Dan O'Meara' staff writer

A blustery, near-gale-like wind — possibly the remnants of Hurricane Hugo - swept over the playing field at the conclusion of Friday's foot-

It was too late. The true storm had already come and gone.

The real McCoy, in more ways than one, is the resurrected Plymouth Canton program that blew past Livonia Churchill 33-14 for its fourth straight victory at Centennial Educational Park.

The undefeated Chiefs, 2-0 in the Western Division, are enjoying their finest start in school history and their longest winning streak, which has reached five games. Churchill dropped to 0-2 and 0-4:

Junior quarterback Karl Wukle is a primary reason Canton is one victory from guaranteeing its first winning season, and his play Friday was clear evidence of his importance to the team.

WUKIE, WHO figured in every scoring play, staked the Chiefs to a 13-O halftime lead, scoring twice on quarterback sneaks. In the second half, he passed for two touchdowns and ran for another.

'It's the linemen," he said. "I didn't break any tackles. If they play well, I play well. If they play poorly, I play poorly. That's all it is.' Indeed, the blocking of Wayne Robinson, Trond Darby, Louis Poulos,

Chris Lumsden, Jeff Roch and Jason Dembny was important as the Chiefs seemed to move the ball at will and rolled up 245 yards rushing. The first time Canton had the ball — after a Jason Lee interception killed a Churchill drive — it put points on the scoreboard. Wukle, who rushed for 50 yards and passed for 61, went 2 yards on the straight-ahead keeper, and capped the team's second possession with a 1-yard plunge. Fullback Chris James set up the second score with a 44-yard run that typified the quick-hitting running attack the Chiefs can direct at opponents. Jason Riggs was the team's leading rusher with 88 yards on 12 carries, and James finished with 81 on seven attempts. "The kids did a good job coming off the ball," Canton coach Bob Khoenle said. "That's something we talked about because last week we didn't (while beating Livonia Franklin 21-0). The line did a good job, and

"JAMES INSIDE, Riggs off tackle and Wukie faking is a pretty hard trio to defend. The things we're doing are the things they're best at. We'd be stupid not to because they run hard and have such quickness.

We're doing what their ability tells us to do. That doesn't surprise me. We just have to maintain it," he added.

The Chargers also moved the ball fairly well. Mike Brooks gained 109 yards on 20 carries, and the Chargers were not embarrassed in terms of total yards, being outgained 306-229.

But some setbacks such as the interception, a costly second-half fumble and a bend-but-don't-break Canton defense stymied the Churchill

"Brooks was breaking the line of scrimmage, but they were getting some people up there and making the plays," Chargers coach Herb

Osterland said. "I thought we had a chance to win the game, but they just came after us and we were not able to stop them. Their offense took it to us. Their team on the field has to be about as quick as we've seen."

Osterland isn't surprised to see the Chiefs doing so well. Nobody should doubt Canton's validity, he said.

"WHEN YOU have good football players and keep doing the right things, you're going to put the ball over the goal. Bob hasn't changed what he's doing. He has kids who are executing, and they're good, quality

"They don't have to hang their heads down to anybody and ask 'Is this for real?' Heck, yeab, they're for real."

Canton upped its lead to 20-0 on its first try of third quarter when Wukie, after running 21 yards on the bootleg, passed 10 yards over the middle to Dembny, who was waiting in the end zone.

Churchil's highlight of the evening occurred on the ensuing kickoff as Mike Spaccarotello did his impression of Notre Dame's Raghib "Rocket" Ismail and returned it 88 yards for a TD.

The shootout continued, however, as the resilient Chiefs, aided by two 15-yard penalties against Churchill, reached the end zone again, but some trickery was needed this time. Churchill had stopped Wukie on third down at the 5, and the Chiefs lined up for a 21-yard field goal by Mike Krejcar. Wukie, the holder, rolled out instead and passed to Riggs for a 27-7 score. "THERE'S NO doubt we're a good team," Wukie said. "We are for real despite what some people think. Some papers have said 'It's a dream; don't wake them up.' Every game is just as important. We just want to

Shamrocks down Borgess

By Ray Sellock staff writer

Credit the Redford Catholic Central defense with another shutout and credit the team with a perfect 4-0 record, as the Shamrocks defeated Redford Bishop Borgess 10-0 Friday at Livonia Clarenceville,

When crunch time came, the Shamrocks had to look no further. than tailback Dave Owens. He scored CC's only touchdown on a nifty 1-yard run between two Spartan defenders and gained a game-high 107 yards on 23 carries.

Owens' fourth quarter touchdown put the lid on CC's victory. It gave CC the cushion they needed, as the Shamrocks spent most of the game riding a 3-0 lead, thanks to senior Kerry Zavagnin's field goal in the first quarter.

"Owens has been carrying the ball well for us," said CC coach Tom Mach. "He earns every yard he gets and he sure got some here tonight."

DESPITE OWENS' effective ground attack, the Shamrocks still had trouble moving the ball through the air. Starting quarterback Jason Carr and backup Jack Davidson combined for just 21 yards. Carr completed two of nine passes for 12 yards and Davidson was one of one for 9 yards:

"I really thought we'd be able to pass a little more," Mach said. "But you'got to be prepared for anything. Give Borgess' a lot of credit. They played good defense.".

The Spartan defense limited the Shamrock to just 215 yards total offense. They had 13 first downs.

Offensively, the Spartans were led by tailback Delwin Sear, who accumulated 95 yards on 18 carries. He was complimented by Borgess quarterback Tom Cole, who completed seven of 14 passes for 126 yards.

THE SPARTANS managed to rack up 246 total offensive yards and 14 first downs.

Tapp sent two scoring passes to Larry Johnson. (24 and 51 yards) and another to Reggle Brandon (26 yards). For the game, he completed seven of 13 tosses for 155 yards.

The defense, meanwhile, limited Southgate to one completed pass for one yard and negative yardage rushing. The only Titan touchdown was set up by Tapp's one bad pass — a third-quarter interception at the Wayne 12. Two penalties moved the ball to the 3-yard line, and Kevin Kruslemsky scored from there.

It made little difference. By then, Tapp had made it 28-0 with a 4-yard run (Tapp also booted five-of-six extra points). Wayne added two more TDs in the second half, Greg Walker bolting 57 yards for a score and Laron Price dashing 4 yards

The Cougars led 14-7 at the half, with running back Frank Gotham scoring on a 3-yard run in the first quarter and quarterback Jim Marszalek tossing a 15-yard touchdown pass to Dion Wujick in the second. Kurt Butterbaugh booted both extra points. - However, the Warriors (2-2 overall, 1-1 in the Northwest Suburban League) got a break when the Cougars turned the ball over at their own 21 after a bad snap on a punt attempt. Woodhaven punched in for a touchdown just before halftime, with slotback Adam Fenech scoring on a 4-yard run.

Gotham finished with 112 yards rushing on 19 carries. Marszalek completed five of 16 passes for 71 yards.

GC, which outrushed Woodhaven 130-81, was victimized by Sitarski. He completed 12 of 17 passes for 179 yards. The loss left the Cougars 0-4, 0-1 in the NSL.

SALEM 26, STEVENSON 0: Ryan Johnson riddled the Livonia Stevenson defense for four touchdowns, leading Plymouth Salem to an easy Western Lakes Activities Association victory Friday at Steven-

Johnson scored twice in the second quarter and twice in the fourth on runs of 1, 2, 5 and 2 yards. The first two were set up by Rob Kowalski runs; he gained 43 yards to the Stevenson 30 to spur a 78-yard drive, and had a 30yard run to Stevenson's 16 in a 59-yard drive.

For the game, Kowalski, a senior quarterback, gained 94 yards on 12 carries and completed three of 11 passes for 44 more. Johnson finished with 68 yards rushing on 16 tries, and Pat Bowle had 78 yards on nine attempts. Stevenson could get nothing going against the tough Rock defense, which recorded its third-consecutive shutout. Quarterback Brian Piergentili completed just three of 16 passes for 31 yards and was intercepted three One of those intercepts was by Johnson, and led to a 48-yard TD drive, keyed by a 17-yard Johnson run. Salem's other fourth-quarter score came after a 50-yard

For the game, the Spartans managed just 87 total yards, 56 on the ground, as they slipped to 1-3 overall and 1-1 in the WLAA's Lakes Division. Salem is 4-0, 3-0 in the WLAA and 2-0 in the Lakes.

also served out the game, as Northwood scored five-straight points.

AFTER THE BREAK, Madonna came back with intensity and simply buried Northwood in the third game. Stacey Girard, the freshman outside hitter from Redford (Livonia Ladywood), was outstanding she had three kills for points and her three unreturned serves finished the shut-

The final game was close midway through, with Northwood clinging to a 7-6 advantage. But after that, the Northwomen - with Drouin and Blumenstein back in the lineup gained control.

For the match, Girard led Madonna with 19 kills. Tonia Smith (Walled Lake Central) added 11 and McFadden had eight. "They played outstanding offensively," said Abra-

D BEAUNE'S BEST

Tony Beaune, a 6-foot-4, 270pound defensive tackle for Wayne State University, was named the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference defensive player of the week after the Tartars' 28-20 win over Valparaiso.

Beaune, from Livonia Stevenson, was credited with 12 tackles, including two quarterback sacks. In two games, the senior NCAA Division II All-America candidate has 24 tacsoccer team continues to surge behind a contingent of Livonia natives.

Junior midfielder Karl Bach had a goal for the Chippewas, helping them to a 4-1 win over Siena Heights Wednesday. The victory improved CMU's record to 5-1-1.

On Sept. 16-17, the Chips were in Green Bay, Wis., for the Nike Great Lakes Classic. Freshman striker Pete Galea got the game-winning goal in a 2-1 victory over Western. Illinois, CMU's opening game in the tournament. Kurt Will, a freshman defender also from Livonia, assisted.

The Chips lost in the tournament finale, however, 6-1 to Southwest Missouri State.

Better depth keeps Spartans unbeaten

Depth prevailed as Livonia Stevenson stayed perfect in dual meets by beating Walled Lake Central 24-37 in a boys cross country meet Thursday at Cass Benton.

Central's Mark Kwiatkowski captured top honors, winning in 17:08. Teammate Dennis Hahn was third in 18:05.

But the rest of the top nine finishers were Spartans. Scott Freeborn took second in 17:30, with Rodney Westlake fourth in 18:14.

Other Stevenson scorers were Nick Boone, fifth (18:22); Eric Oswandel, sixth (18:24); and Keith Klassa, seventh (18:36).

Stevenson improved to 3-0 overall, 2-0 in the Western Lakes Activ. ities Association's Lakes Division. The Spartans race Plymouth Salem Thursday at Cass Benton.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL won its opening dual meet in the WLAA's Western Division, knocking off Farmington Harrison 20-39 Thursday at Oakland Community Col-

The five Chargers to score in the meet finished among the top seven. Leading the way was Scott Westover, who was first in 18:19. Dan: Kaulka was second (18:40), Steve Townsend was fourth (19:19), Chad Giles took sixth (19:41) and Dennis Radovanović placed seventh (19:41).

Mark Saur was Harrison's best runner, taking third (19:15).

Churchill improved to 2-1 overall, and is 1-0 in the Western Divi-

REDFORD THURSTON used a fine run by Tom Biskner to overwhelm Taylor Truman 20-33 Thursday at Papp Park.

Biskner won in ease, finishing in 17:12. Teammate Ted Kramer was second in 17:48, followed by Mike and Cary Quatro placed 11th Murchison in fourth (18:38), Clint (19:21). Sanford in seventh (19:12) and Matt Nagel in ninth (19:20).

The win improved the Eagles' record to 4-1 overall and to 2-1 in 1 in the Western Division.

the Tri-River League.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN needed every girl to escape with a 27-28 victory Thursday at OCC over North Farmington.

The Raiders' Lisa Rives captured top honors in 20:12, but the next three positions went to Rockets: Darlene Rousseau was second (22:43), Dana Nowicki was third' (22:51) and Yvonne Waddell was fourth (23:04).

But North rallied, taking the next three spots before Glenn's Cathy Bachard finished in eights (24:58). Jennifer Van Goff crossed the finish line in 10th (25:52) to win it for the Rockets.

In the boys meet, it was North who prevailed by a narrow margin, edging John Glenn 26-30 Thursday at OCC.

Glenn's Matt Maybouer was the first to finish, in 17:18. Other Rocket scorers were Jason Nowicki, fourth (18:37); Carl Lowe, fifth (18:45); Joe Rajewski, ninth (19:03); and Dave Gerts, 10th (19:03).

LIVONIA FRANKLIN was unable to upset defending WLAA girls champ Plymouth Canton Thursday at Nankin Mills, although the Patriots gave the Chiefs a run before succumbing 26-31.

Top runners for Franklin were Mary Lou Madison, second (21:45); Dawn Harrison, third (21:50); Kelly Gustafson, fifth (21:57); Kerl Mackay, ninth (22:48); and Stacy Hewett, 12th (23:11).

Franklin's boys team wasn't as competitive. Canton won easily Thursday, 15-44, at Nankin Mills.

The best Patriot finisher was Erik Curnow, who was sixth (17:38). Aaron Boylan was eighth (18:21). Dave Barina took ninth (18:58): Paul White was 10th (19:17)

Franklin's girls are 0-1 in the WLAA's Western Division and 4-1 overall. The boys are 1-3 overall, 0-

Bouncers' 'bad boy' image comes with job

By Tim Smith staff writer

Who says bar bouncers live to break doors, eat brown-tinted glass and toss misbehavin' folks across parking lots inevitably leaving human skid marks.

All one has to do in order to dispel that stereotype is to look at Dearborn BT's bouncer "Little John" in

This giant, who stands 6-foot-6 and welghs 322 pounds, wears a college ring from Northern Michigan University. He wants to be a teacher someday. He smiles a lot. And he works BT's with the poise and polish of a vote-hungry politician.

With an antenna raised from his spiked blond hair to spot any notion of trouble, Little John circles bar patrons, who watch from their seats around a Las-Vegas fashioned geometric stage as gyrating women do striptease.

As Little John mingles, he gingerly slaps backs and exchanges pleasantries with the audience. Later, he talked about the method to his

"You meet everybody in a bar," Little John said, sipping on a cold soft drink. "You can fearn so much if you take the time to talk to some body. I've met doctors, lawyers, chiefs of police, mayors, actors and comedians."

Even Gallagher, the king of fruitsand-vegetable thrashing, Little John

BUT GET TOO vicious, drunk or grabby with the topless dancers at BT's and the nice guy facade vanishes in a hurry. "I got hit over the head with a bar stool during a fight about six weeks ago. I got 15 stitches," Little John recalled. It happened during an attempt to break up a five-man fight as "Big Paul," from "physically removing the problem." Using muscle to eject troublemakers, however, is a rarity for Little John or any number of other metropolitan Detroit bouncers. Brains instead of brawn solves many more

That setback, however, didn't stop

Little John and his partner, known conflicts, they say. Although having an Atlas-like build is a plus, bouncers need to be able to talk in order to minimize trouble and protect "orderly" cus-

"If something is developing, we try to squelch it before it really gets started," said Sam Dorante of the Jamies on 7 nightclub in Livonia. "I'll go over and give them a big hug and a kiss. You'd be surprised how often it works."

The nice approach doesn't always work, unfortunately. Just ask Jeff Hannenberg, burly bouncer at Lucille's, a country-and-western bar in Canton Township.

Visitors to the Michigan Avenue establishment recently got quite an earful as a result of a confrontation outside the bar between Hannenberg and some drunken rowdles.

"DON'T TELL me what to f----g do ... get the f-k out of here . . . NOW!" said Hannenberg to a justejected customer who was too julced up and rowdy to stick around. The bouncer pushed a finger into the man's red face to punctuate the mes-

"Go ahead. Sue me. Yeah, I'm the a--h--e . . . "

What's this? Reverse psychology? The bouncers said they'll use anything to break up a keg of potential

"I'm sure they say all bouncers are hard a-s and sometimes we have to be," said Glenn Forero, one of the bouncers at Woodward Jukebox in Royal Oak, one of Oakland County's most-popular meeting spots. "But most of the time, we're just there.'

A visual deterrent of sorts.

They're like babysitters, too, Forero said - "When people are drunk they tend to be at a lower level than you are."

Illustrating that notion, Forero recalled a fracas at the Jukebox.

"It was about a year ago. A group of six or seven guys came into the bar and started drinking heavily. One of them hit another customer over the head with a beer bottle. All the bouncers intervened and got them outside. Then the cops came and took them away," Forero said.

Sometimes, though, bouncers use stronger tactics than babysitters

"I'LL BE A smart a ...," BT's Little John said. "I'll say, 'Come on, hit me, cut me, I dare you.' When you dare them, they have to take a second look to see what they're getting into. Then, they just call you a couple names and run out the door."

According to Forero, some of the paying customers at Woodward Jukebox also use a bit of psychological trickery - or at least they try.

"Usually, they try to make friends with us first. They think if they get into a struggle, Well, I know you,' so they won't get thrown out," he said.

Inside Lucille's, with the Willow Creek Band cranking up countryrock standards and patrons swigging bottled beer, Hannenberg talked about his job.

Hannenberg had cooled down following the altercation outside the bar, where punches were exchanged. With the threat of lawsuits, any kind of physical contact is used only as a last resort, he and the other bouncers stressed.

"Trouble here is rare," said Hannenberg, who once was a bouncer at a rock-and-roll bar. "Tonight, I can honestly say is the first time I hit someone since I've been here (three years)."

Hannenberg's boss, Jerry Stewart, said the trouble maker, and a friend, "were drunk when they came in here. We recognized it right away."

As is normal "bouncer" procedure, Hannenberg had the alcohol supply to the rowdies cut off. Then, he politely asked the patrons to leave. Finally, he came to escort -them through Lucille's doors.

"I WANTED TO make sure they got in their cars and didn't smash anybody else's car out," Hannenberg

At some area night spots, the task of policing is being undertaken by an army of employees who individually don't have the tools to physically intimidate someone.

A 'visit' to China: It's closer than you think

club.

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor

If you saw the movie "The Last Emperor," you may remember the carved throne and other treasures of Imperial China shown in the setting of the Forbidden City.

If you were mesmerized by the student uprising in the People's Republic of China (PRC) this summer, you saw a lot of shots of the Forbidden City as the cameras panned around Tiananmen Square.

You may get to Beijing someday, but right now you have a rare chance to combine a fall trip with a visit to an exhibition of rare national treasures never before seen outside of China, Reader Bettle Cannon of West Bloomfield reports that "Son of Heaven: Imperial Arts of China" exhibit in Columbus, Ohlo, has been extended through October.

"It was a weekend getaway trip back into 26 centuries of Chinesse imperial history," Cannon said. "The message of the exhibit seems to be that Chinese leaders may come and go, but the artists' work lives forever.

"THE COLLECTION of carved jades, embroidered robes, paintings and sculptures includes some remarkable things — a carved wooden throne, life-sized terra cotta figures, which guarded the tomb of the first emperor, Qin Shihuang, from the third century B.C. until they were unearthed in 1984.

"There are robes covered from collar to hem with exquisite embroidery done by women who made tiny little stitches every day of their lives until they went blind. And a dozen bells, silent for 25 centuries until they were brought to the United States for only two exhibits, in Seattle and Columbus.

We saw carved jade pillows, created for the emperor's head, and a burial sult made: of thin locks of jade sewn together with gold or silver threads. While the Chinese crafted this ornate burial garment, they did nothing to preserve the body inside."

Cannon was fascinated by the site of the exhibit, a 1930s inner city high school - old Central High on Washington Boulevard in downtown Columbus.

'Shirley Valentine': It's a cinematic tour-de-force

"Shirley Valentine" (A R, 110 minutes) may not be the greatest movie ever made, but it'll do until perfection comes along.

The story of Shirley Valentine (Pauline Collins), a 40 plus English housewife rediscovering life, love and a positive self-image, is one of the happiest, funniest movies in a long time — if not forever.

Based on Pauline Collins' Tonyaward winning Broadway performance, "Shirley Valentine" is a cinematic tour-de-force - an excellent, entertaining film that speaks ferventry to reacting your mignest po-

But Shirley Valentine lives a humdrum existence. She's married to a hardworking but dour fellow, Joe Bradshaw (Bernard Hill), who means well but wants his tea precisely at six. Romance and adventure are gone from his life and Shirley's as well.

They have two grown children Melandra (Tracie Bennett) and Brian (Gareth Jefferson), neither, of who. would warm a grandparent's heart, but they mean well.

Faced with that dismal life, Shirley exists in an isolated shell totally devoid of the sense of adventure and spirit which characterized her childhood. The opportunity to reaffirm life arrives when her good friend, Jane (Alison Steadman), wins a trip for two to Greece. Jane invites and insists that Shirley accompany her. Despite Jane's insistence and encouragement, it's not easy for a housewife of some 20 years to vacation without her husband. But Shirley does and, boy, is she glad she did.

AMONG OTHER things, she gets to sit and drink retsina while watching beautifully sunsets. As an added bonus, she meets Costas Caldes (Tom Conti), the slickest backwater taverna-owner since the serpent hustled -unpleasant graphic violence. Eve. Costas just believes in living life the best you can. the way the story is told makes all the difference in the world.

Alan Hume's ("A Fish Called Wanda," "The Eye of the Needle" and "The Return of the Jedi") photography etches vivid impressions of the Prilliant Greek sun that has inspired po many down through the years. His photography captures the essence of pritain's long-standing love affair With Greece.

The editing of "Shirley Valentine" a masterful display of continuity which preserves the intimacy of Colline cae-woman Broadway play while effectively using the remarkable range of images a motion picfuré camera can capture.

What makes that continuity particularly noteworthy is the performnce mode of "Shirley Valentine" -direct eye contact with the camera and the audience.

Most films pretend that they have created a remarkable world for audiences to enjoy. "Shirley Valentine" makes no benes about the fact that Pauline Collins is talking directly to each and every one of us about the importance of living well and achieving our greatest potential.

The editing from personal eye contact to voice over narration to conventional presentation is as smooth as one could imagine. Seamless as they say. It's also, when so well done, a very attractive style.

FINALLY, THERE'S the matter of Pauline Collins' performance. It's a superb and humanistic rendition of scenarist Willy Russell's ("Educating Rita") wisty, whimsical and poigist elicervations on men, women,

Indeed, an excellant film! Anyone who knows anything about Japan will be appalled at "Black Rain" (D-, R, 120 minutes), a visually unpleasant, murky picture, painted in long, boring shots intended to set the scene for a grisly struggle between Japanese gangsters. Other long, boring interludes apparently are intended to develop characterization. The net result is a long, boring film with occasional moments of

'Sun of Satan' has arrived

By John Monaghan special writer

'More than two years have passed since Maurice Pialat's "Under the Sun of Satan" took first prize at the 1987 Cannes Film Festival. It will finally surface for local audiences this weekend at the Tele-Arts Theatre in Detroit.

Reasons for its late arrival are not to hard to gauge.

Although some critics hall the film as a masterpiece of uncompromising vision, others say it won by default in an unusually dry year at Cannes. American audiences, meanwhile, typically shy away from films with religious themes.

Still, "Under the Sun of Satan" has plenty to offer fans of grueling, masochistic stories about the search for spiritual faith. The film has been compared favorably-to "Therese," the more highly stylized chronicle of the life of St. Therese.

Pialat's films often deal with people on the edge of a crisis. In his "Police" (1985), Gerard Depardieu starred as a violent, sex-obsessed Paris police officer trying to crack a drug ring while dealing with his own

DEPARDIEU ALSO stars in "Under the Sun of Satan," here as Father Donissson, a country priest engaged in a fevered battle with his dwindling faith. Is he really doing the Lord's bidding or working on the side of Satan?

His superior, Father Menou-Segrals (played by director Plalat), offers only more confusion. The older priest is a carnal, less spiritual man who sends the confused seeker to a remote parish in the hopes that he'll straighten out.

Here, Donisson encounters Mouchette (Sandrine Bonnaire), a 15year-old femme fatale involved in affairs with a string of married and influential men. When she ends up murdering one of them, Donisson grows more and more frustrated in his inability to help her.

The film takes place in no particular time in history. Horses are carrlages line the streets, but the sound of thundering trucks are also heard.

In one of the more blzarre moments, Donisson meets a stranger on a dark and deserted road. The man, who talks to him intimately and even kisses him on the lips, may or may not be an incarnation of Satan. It's one of the film's many ambiguities. 🐣

THE VERSATILE Depardieu is especially effective as the priest.

Critic Stanley Kauffman noted that "his (Donisson) bulk seems an extra task that heaven has given this delicate man, an extra burden that he must lug around in his dailiness."

Pialat's intent was to stay as close as possible to his source, the first book by George Bernano. Known for his realistic approach to film, the director (with cinematographer Willy Kurant) creates a timeless, shadowy field for this epic battle of faith.

"For what I got on you, Rico, I could burn you a dozen times over."

Not the polite dialogue expected of a District Attorney, but there's a certain gritty realism in Bogart's delivery of those words in his own special style.

Warner Brothers' "The Enforcer" (1950, black and white, 87 minutes) is now being re-released by Republic Home Video in their classic collection along with Gary Cooper in "Distant Drums" (1951, color, 191 mia-

"The Enforcer" now seems rather typical of gangster movies, this one the story of D.A. Martin Ferguson (Bogart) cleaning up on a Murder, Inc. type gang, led by the mysterious Albert Mendoza (Everett Sloane).

A good deal of the film's appeal is the talented performances. Besides Sloane and Bogart, Zero Mostel is "Big Babe" Laxich, a fat nobody from the streets who wants to belong and make money at any price. Ted De Corsia is Mendosa's number tow, a tough, evil sort who turns to jelly when fear sets in. Michael Tolan, brother of Detroit attorney Jerry Tuchow, then using the name Lawrence, is "Duke" Malloy, who hangs himself after confessing that the mob made him murder his girl.

His various and divergent moods reflect the psychotic world of violence and the film's structure - an involved set of flashbacks leading us along Bogart's trail to behind Malloy's confession to unearth the murder-for-pay gang. All very much of

BEHIND THE the film and its now rather naive and simple ploy is a whole world of American folklore and social history.

While not quite a major motion picture, "The Enforcer" was a significant, mainstream production released by a major studio, In fact, Warner Brothers hired Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, then Chairman of the Senate committee to investigate organized crime, to make a few remarks, presented as a current-raiser when the movie premiered at New York's Capitol Theater.

"The picture you are about to see deals with an assault upon society," Kefauver sald. "These men were finally apprehended and completely destroyed legally by relentless investigation without denying them any of the rights that American citizens are guaranteed."

Kefauver later became famous for his televised Senate hearings on organized crime, so he was an appropriate choice to lend credence to this film, something that Hollywood desperately strove to do in the period when television was destroying the movie box office.

By today's standards, of course, it's a pretty tame film despite it's excessiveness by 1950s standards. Watching it today is a relief as the camera gracefully pulls away from violence. The film is content suggesting rather than graphically depicting violence.

The remnants of numerous bodies recovered from the gang's burial swamp shown in black and white long shot is hardly anything given the mangled body parts routinely appearing in today's films. But, for the time, it was a different matter.

BOSLEY CROWTHER noted the excessive gore in his New York Times review: "no less than eight or 10 ripe killings are rather graphically played in camera range and possibly some 20-30 others are frankly implied." "

Not worth mentioning these days.

Times have, indeed changed... They've also changed insofar as realism goes and "The Enforcer" would never make it by today's standards where realism and technical accuracy count for so much, "The Enforcer" has everyone running around in wide lapels and driving 1937 Buicks, Bogart listens to key testimony on an audiotape recorder that was 1950s stuff. Bogart's nalve wonderment when anyone discusses "contracts" and "hits"only works in a '30s context. It just doesn't hang together for 1950.

It's entertaining watching these well-done performances which lead to pretty tense endings. These dark, gangland vistas are an integral part of our psychotic landscape, But watch Bogie, he'll get the bad guys and that's a relief.

Eric Andersen rubbed guitar necks with the likes of fellow folkies Bob Dylan, Phil Ochs and Tom Paxton in the Greenwich Village during the early 1960s.

Undoubtedly, the 40 something generation would be impressed. But to those of us who were in diapers at the time, such associations don't carry the same weight. Or so Andersen has found on his recent tour.

"I recently did a show in Boston at Harvard," said Andersen, who will perform Tuesday, Sept. 26, at the Ark in Ann Arbor. "I had a kid came up to me after the show and say, 'My mother made me come down here tonight.' The next night, he brought all of his friends down."

Such incidents only make Andersen smile even more. He's cultivating a new, younger audience with his timeless brand of folk that is rich with imagery.

Andersen has released his first album in 12 years in the United States. "Ghosts Upon the Road" (Gold Castle Records) is his comeback volley into what has become a crowded folk field. Andersen shows them how it's done in this a sort of autobiographical release that is brimming with life and energy.

Andersen didn't drop out of the music business. He released three albums in Europe. He lives in Olso, Norway, with his wife, who is an artist, and their three children.

The Pittsburgh, Pa., native, who was turned on to the music of Elvis Presley and the literary works of Jack Kerouac at an early age, has come to appreciate American culture even more.

"TO LIVE over there is a very distilling experience," Andersen said. "You can get the real juice of the American fruit through the books and good music that gets through

'You don't become more European, you become more American than anything."

But America had forgotten about Anderson, or so it had seemed. After his widelyacclaimed "Blue River." LP (Columbia), he cut three LPs for Arista records during the '70s. Those didn't exactly shake the charts and Andersen and Arista parted company. He didn't bother pursuing another deal, headinginstead to Europe.

"It was deemed I was not a pop artist," he said.

Some of the biggest names in jazz take the stage at Orchestra Hall tonight to pay tribute to the late drummer J.C. Heard.

They aren't doing it for money, they are doing it for the fund, and for Heard, of course, the hard working drummer who died last year.

The fund is the J.C. Heard Memorial Fund established by Heard's son, Eric. The lineup tonight is impressive and owing to Heard's 50-year presence on the jazz scene.

Trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie, drummer Max Roach and planist Ahmad Jamal will join locals like drummer Roy Brooks, the tap-dancing Sultans, planist Mr. B., Francisco Mora's Latin Jazz Ensemble and the big band Heard fronted for seven

THE PLANNING FOR a tribute concert began soon after Heard died last September at age 70, but it took nearly a year to arrange schedules.

"We all saw need to pay tribute to J.C. Heard publicly because he was so important to us," said Jim Fleming, whose Ann Arbor-based entertainment agency worked with Heard. "He was an eternal optimist and positive person."

All the musicians were selected because of their friendship with Heard or because they had worked 1940s and '50s, the swing sound that with Heard Gillesple, Roach and Jamal are all longtime friends.

Even the venue, Orchestra Hall, is significant. Renamed the Paradise Theatre, it was a big stop in the 1940s and '50s for Duke Ellington, Count Basie and other touring bands. Heard played there when he played in Cab Calloway's band 1942-45.

Eric Heard said the scholarship fund's first recipient is Larry Tucker, an 18-year-old drummer from Detroit's Northwestern High School. He said he hopes the concert will be an annual affair and the scholarship to be awarded regularly as well.

WALT-SZYMANSKI, a trumpet player and the Heard orchestra's arranger, said the band has struggled since the death of its founder.

"Everybody was pretty depressed because he had so much energy," Szymanski said.

Szymanski led the band at the Montreux Detroit Jazz Festival this month. They are are trying to rehearse monthly, and may slim down to nine pieces, he said.

Szymanski said the orchestra would remember Heard tonight by playing his theme song "Coastin" with J.C." without a drummer, something they first did in a concert shortly after Heard's death last year.

Drummer Brooks said he admired Heard's work with the "Jazz at the Philharmonic" all-star bands.

Others still are. Fine Young Cannibals, this year's pop phenom, is well represented by "Johnny Come Home," a track off its self-titled 1985 debut, R.E.M. is represented by "Superman," a track from "Life's Rich Pagent," its critically praised 1986 album.

The album also includes "Nothing Achieving," a 1977 Police song that doesn't appear on any of that bleached blond trio's U.S. albums.

Depending upon critical orientation, or one's age upon original release, the album's more familiar tunes are either cherished memories, or best-forgotten musical trash. Even label master Miles Copeland

LIVE FAST, DIE FAST — WICKED TALES OF BOOZE, BIRDS AND BAD LANGUAGE Wolfsbane

Another new trans-Atlantic offering. This time it's a heavy metal band clutching their batch of endorsements by the likes of the English music magazines "Sounds," "Keraang" and "Metal Hammer," etc. etc.

Now, when I say heavy metal, cast from your mind any thoughts of Twisted Sisters, Ozzy Osbourne or Faster Pussycat. These bands are only in the nickel and dime slots compared to Wolfsbane.

To quote singer, sorry, vocalist, Blaze Bayley: "Don't try to search up a more eloquent phrase for the music because heavy metal does just fine. And if it doesn't, then you've obviously lost touch with what real good, dirty, filthy, uncooked and downright uncouth heavy metal is all about.

"I'm really sick of all these bands that can't come and say they're heavy metal. They all say, 'Hard Rock' or 'Hard This' or whatever, but that's a load of rubbish! We're not a bleeping rock band, we're not a bleeping pop band . . . We're a bleeping heavy metal band!"

Indeed, I think we get the picture now. The unusual twist to this Anglo debut is that it is released on Rap Master Rick Rubin's Def American Label, which includes the likes of the Cult, Beastle Boys and Run D.M.C.

But don't be misled by this. The only rapping done here will be the sound of your head against the nearest wall. This LP is raw, unexpurgated deluge of over-the-top, bombastic double base drums and guitar licks at the speed of sound. If you're sick of pseudo-intellectual bands righting the world's wrongs, or prancing pop bands showing their choreography, Wolfsbane puts the moron back into metal. This is the optimum combination. - Cormac Wright

FEAR AND LOAFING

Avoiding artistic 'robbery'

By Karl Nilseon special writer

Something evil is lurking in our parks, something peskler than mosquitoes and more insidious than Dutch elm disease. It's an outbreak of art fairs.

In Manhattan's Central Park, muggers use a zip gun. In Birmingham's Shain Park, they use a paint

Now, don't get me wrong. As suburbanites, we're used to handing over huge amounts of money for things we don't need. We expect that. But we must defend our right to be robbed by professionals, not some weekend Warhol in a lawnchair.

In all fairness, organizers of the more elite art fairs now screen out the rankest amateurs by a secretive process known as "selection by jury." To maintain high standards of quality, jurists insist on three stringent requirements for displaying art in the park:

• Each piece must cost at least as much as central air conditioning. • Each artist must submit psychiatric proof that he exists in a separate reality created by exposure to paint thinner. • All applicants must be fluent in esoteric jibberish and artistic jargon. Each artist is judged on the number of times he can use meaningless expressions like "mercurial quietude" and "spatial conflict" in a sentence.

BUT IN A country that gave Cher, an Oscar, lack of talent is not the major issue. The major issue is that art fairs pose a medical threat to anyone with a risk of coronary problems — not so much from the oppressive heat or greasy food, but from the shock of seeing Argentinastyle inflation up close and in person.

As the paramedics are disconnecting the electrodes from your chest, you'll inevitably hear the artist saying, "Think of it as an investment."

Anyway, to actually find investment quality art at a bargain price would violate one of the immutable laws of the universe: "If any object (artwork, antique, automobile, etc.) has even the slightest chance of the your price range."

Given the uneven quality and high price-tags, why do so many suburbanites flock to the outdoor fairs? Because shopping for art at an indoor gallery is about as pleasant as having your fingernails pulled out with pliers. (Actually, unless you work as a typist, I recommend you opt for the torture and skip the galleries.) Local gallery owners have raised snobbishness to a level that Gilligan's pal, Thurston Howell III, could only dream of.

PLEASE DON'T think this degree of surliness comes naturally or cheaply. Most gallery owners study at the prestigious Academy of Rudeness in Paris, where they work their way through school by insulting American tourists. After graduation, they serve an apprenticeship as New York'cab drivers.

· Granted, there is a certain type of person who enjoys being ignored and ridiculed. (Why else would anyone run for public office?)

If you still insist on gallery hopping, here's a survival tip: No self-respecting patron of modern art would ever nod, gesture or expect a greeting from the gallery owner. Remember, if the staff catches you so much as smiling, they immediately dismiss you as an itinerant fruitpicker who wandered in looking for

To avoid this cold shoulder, I suggest you adopt a suitably pained expression. If your face is normally cheerful, try empathizing with the pent-up anguish and inner torment of the artist. And if that's not enough to make you frown, just imagine paying for one of those suckers.

Fortunately, there is a way to avoid both the art fair and gallery scene without sacrificing one ounce. of high brow culture. At the next fair, buy as much do-it-yourself spin art as possible.

Just think deep artistic thoughts and throw some paint into the rotatcreasing in value, it's already out of ing drum. When you get your masterpiece home, tell your friends it's one of the lost works of Jackson Pollock. You'll have their respect and plenty of money left over for corn-dogs.

Hubbie is playing with fire

Recently, my husband became reacquainted with an old girifriend through some mutual business dealings. The first time they went out to lunch, I accepted their reunion,

Last week, another friend of mine called and in the course of our conversation mentioned that she hadjust seen "Burt," my husband, and "Annie," his friend at a popular local restaurant. I was somewhat taken back, not having been told he planned on seeing her again.

Of course, I called right away and my husband told me that she has needed some advice on various business matters and that he was trying to help her. By the way, she's not married and quite attractive in every way.

Although I can hear some snickering as I say this, I do know that my husband has never been unfaithful and that he does not want to be, but I can't get over my feelings of discomfort about the new-old friendship of his.

We have been married for 15 years and this issue has never arisen before. He hasn't mentioned another meeting with Annie for a few weeks,

Dear Julie. Such innocent relationships can develop into trouble in a marriage. If your husband is sensitive to your feelings then he can give up the pleasure of dining with an old, but soon to be better, friend.

Protestations and denials to the contrary, this situation is playing with fire. Quoting from the currently popular "When Harry Met Sally:" "Can men and women be friends?" The messsage the movie gives is no. Even if they don't act on it, the situation is still risky.

If there is open communication between you and your husband and the marriage is more important than temporary pleasures, then the matter should be easily resolved. It would be interesting to know if he would accept the situation, if it were reversed.

Shriner: Show biz' bright star

By Shiries Rose Iden staff writer

Attention folks who are planning to enjoy comedian Wil Shriner when he comes to Chaplin's East shortly. The comic, who already has the Lamaze breathing technique down pat, says he "will be outta here in a flash if my wife goes into labor."

"It's written into my contract and believe me, I'il leave for California, if Catherine's water breaks or labor

And that's no Joke.

Shriner's wife, a model and actress, is expecting the baby during the first week of October. But though they don't know exactly when, they do know they will have a daughter to bring home to their 3 year-old-son.

Meanwhile, Shriner just bought a beeper so Catherine can stay in

Among the brightest of comedians on the show business scene today, Shriner also has acting, filmmaking, producing, and film editing to his

His national talk show "The Wil. Shriner Show," syndicated on 108 stations by Group W in 1987-88, won Emmy no.ninations for "best show," "best host" and "best writing."

One of the twin sons of the late "Hoosier Humorist," Herb Shriner, Wil draws on his experience of growing up in a small town as well as dealing on the Hollywood scene, a contrasting environment.

WHEN HIS-FATHER gave his twin sons a movie camera, its use became a learning experience for both, leading them to acting. Kin played "Scotty" in the television series "General Hospital." Flying a Piper Cherokee Arrow is one of Shriner's happiest involvements, which he started 15 years ago when he moved to California.

"I've been going through my tapes, but it's too nice a day to be sitting inside, and I'm getting ready to go flying," he said.

Shriner belongs to some flying clubs, dodging actual ownership of a plane which he said can be demand-

IN SHRINER'S VIEW, it wasn't difficult for him to get started as a comic.

"I went into it in 1978 and I'd go to the Comedy Store and watch all the great guys," he said. "Now, comedy is more of a business and not as free of an expression as before".

Shriner writes his own material, only occasionally trading jokes with other comedians. Critics, such as John Stanley, have praised him, writing: "What a surprise from left field. With his impish glean and breezy manner, he blows in as refreshing as a trade wind."

Another, Bob Hill of the Louisville Courier-Journal, called Shriner a "funny man. There's not an ounce of pretense, ego or self-serving dramatics in his show."

The comic has appeared on the Johnny Carson and David Letterman shows and keeps busy performing in concerts, night clubs and comedy clubs. He also has acted in Steven-Spielberg's "Amazing Stories" television show.

Follow action with reaction

Q: My husband thinks I should pick up after him because women are just naturally neater, and therefore it's easier for me to do it than him.

Monday, September 25, 1989 O&E

A: Sorry, hubby, it just ain't so. While women have traditionally cleaned up after men, I haven't found that men or women are genetically better organized than the other. Many of my female students do, indeed, complain about their spouses' lack of cooperation. Other women attend my classes because, as one's husband jokingly told her, "It's either organizing class or obedience school."

The neatness of your environment is in direct relation to the amount of effort spent keeping it that way - regardless of who does it. It is neither a matter of gender nor ability, but rather of attitude.

Maintenance might be divided into two general categories: 1) cleaning up as you go or 2) leaving it to be cleaned up later. Some men and women seem to have special organizational abilities because they methodically put things away immediately after their use. This habit was probably the Birmingham Community ingrained in their childhood and they do it so automatically it hardly occurs to them (or others), Troy Adult Education (869that maintenance is an effort for

Those in the second category, however, nearly always leave a "trail" behind them, believing that cleaning up is hard work. In fact, it is - because it's much more difficult and time consuming to go back and get a place clean than to keep it clean.

The key is to "follow each action with a reaction." Almost everything we do involves objects. Replace files immediately afterusing them; hang up your coat when you take it off; take along those shoes you kicked off when you leave the room, etc. Without replacing things right away, clutter collects. Learn'the ditty, "Don't put it down, put it away." Life is much easier that way.

If you regularly clean up after yourself, you will never have clutter. If you leave a trail, however, you will have perpetual disorder. Tell your husband (and older children, too) it's not only unfair but almost impossible to maintain a neat environment without cooperation.

You can attend Dorothy Lehmkuhl's daytime personal organizing seminars at Schoolcraft College (462-4448) and House (644-5832) or her new evening business series at 7582). Call those centers for in-

When the structure was first occupied in November 1961, there were 17 mature trees, including acacia, magnolia and eucalyptus, 999 shrubs, 148 vines, 21,954 groundcover plants, and 18 aquatic plants in a stillwater pool.

The flower beds are changed for each of the four seasons, including spring bulbs, summer begonias, fall chrysanthemums and winter poinsettias.

Ono, now 56, has been creating provocative art work for 30 years. Pieces that caused a stir in the art world in 1961, were the subject of jokes of radio disc jockeys last week.

Ono though, when asked, still declines to tell one how to look at her work, choosing to guide the viewer inward to decide for themselves.

"Please think whatever you want to think," she said. "I don't really think in terms of teaching."

The Cranbrook exhibit presents many pleces the avante garde artist created while associated with the Fluxus movement of artists, who opposed the mainstream art world's conventionality. The Fluxus musicians, poets and visual artist questioned all that by creating inexpensive, easily reproduceable works.

ONO SAID she likes to think she has changed with the times. She has reproduced, or reinterpreted, many of these earlier works in bronze, a material she said fits the 1980s.

They are exhibited side by side, the original with its 1980s version.

Writing last year, One contrasted the two eras, saying of the 1960s: "The air definitely had a special shimmer then. We were breathless from the pride and joy of being alive

... The '80s is an age of commodity and solidity. We don't hug strangers on the streets and we are also not breathless."

. But Ono also said that she feels optimistic these days, and repeated at a press conference last week a statement she made in 1984: "We are entering the age of wisdom."

People around the world are much more aware of the dangers of war, the value of peace and the importance of environmental concerns, and "the two big guys" are talking, said Ono, whose crusades for peace are well known.

Ono was born in Tokyo and lived in Japan through the war years before moving to Scarsdale, N.Y. with her family. She studied poetry and, art at Sarah Lawrence College. Her. first show in New York in 1961 included "Painting to be Stepped On," which is included also in the Cranbrook exhibition, as is a bronzed version from 1988.

She told an interviewer recently that in 1961 she was given the the canvas used in the painting because she didn't have the money to buy it. In the catalog accompanying the exhibit she writes that "Painting to be Stepped On," was influenced by a 15th century Japanese practice of religious persecution. Christians were asked to step on portraits of Christ or the Virgin Mary. Those who refused were killed.

She met Beatle John Lennon in 1966. They married in 1969, and it was with Lennon that Ono became known to the masses. She virtually dropped out of the art scene in the early 1970s.

More recently, she took her "Starpeace" musical tour to several countries in 1986 called "Starpeace," then exhibited at the Whitney this February and April.

CRANBROOK Museum director Roy Slade came to know the Ono in the 1960s when she came to Leeds University in England where he worked. He said he saw Ono's show at the Whitney, then visited the artist at her apartment in New York. He said he wanted to expand on the Whitney presentation.

"I wanted to put it in a broader context," Slade said.

The Cranbrook show is larger. Included, for example, are 15 wall texts that did not appear at the Whit-

These too date from the 1960s, and are seemingly simple instructions, as in Tape Piece III: Take a tape of the sound of snow falling. This should be done in the evening. Do not listen to the tape. Cut it and use it as strings to tie gifts with. Make a gift wrapper, if you wish, using the same process with a phono sheet.

Her films are represented here as well. They will be shown in three. groups on weekends in October.

One came to the school's Bloomfield Hills campus Wendesday, after a grueling and long-delayed flight. from New York. She said her spirits improved considerably upon arrival at Cranbrook.

"Suddenly I arrived in this beautiful Garden of Eden," she said.

"Yoko Ono: The Bronze Age," runs Sept: 26-Oct. 29 at Cranbrook Academy of Art Museum. Hours are 1-5 p.m., Tuesday-Sunday. Call 645-3323.

Retain tenants by managing energy costs

By R.J. King staff writer

Mention energy conservation to anyone who works in an office building and one thing comes to mind: a locking cover over the thermostat.

But what is an office fundlord to do? The energy crisis has long fallen out of favor in providing an incentive to conserve, yet the office sector is the single largest consumer of energy — 40 percent— in the U.S. economy.

Utility costs normally account for 30 to 40 percent of the total operating costs of an office building, excluding taxes. They are generally passed on to tenants directly or included in lease rates.

While area developers of office space are competing to lure and retain tenants in the face of double-digit vacancy rates, tenants are becoming much more attuned to the savings energy management can of-

"One of the things people notice most in an office building is whether they're too hot or too cold, and if the energy costs are high, they soon look elsewhere," said Mary Beth Winkworth, manager of corporate communications for Kirco Realty & Development, Bloomfield Hills.

"That's why we have such a large concern to control our office building environments through computer-monitored HVAC (heating, ventilation and air conditioning) systems.

Even though they may be expensive, it pays off in the long run if buildings are fully leased."

IN WHAT IS billed as an energy war, landlords are finding energy conservation and economic development can go hand in hand, and offices that are designed efficiently will slash energy bills, liberate investment capital and perhaps eventually save the utilities the expense of building new power plants.

"If you have an inefficient HVAC system that costs an extra 50 cents a square foot to operate, then the tenant is going to look at that as adding to the total costs," said Gerald Ward, president of Equities Management, the management arm of Etkin Equities, Southfield,

"We also perform an energy analysis on consumption every month of each of our buildings, which gives us feedback and helps make sure our energy costs don't get out of line. It's one of the ways we stay competitive with other developers while maintaining a high occupancy rate."

For Etkin's City Center II development in Southfield, Ward said the company chose an HVAC system that had a capital cost of $78,000 more than an alternative system. "We felt the reduced costs for long-term operating and maintenance needs (of the more expensive system) would provide a payback in less than two years of operation."

Just as developers of office space

For its City Center II development in Southfield, Equities Management, the management arm of Etkin Equities, choose a more expensive heating and cooling system because its effihave discovered leasing decisions can hinge upon intelligent energy management, utilities have also found the incentive to save creates, in a sense, another source of power.

Increasingly, utilities find it is often cheaper to buy efficiency — say, by subsidizing the installation of weatherstripping or providing free inspections — than to build additional power plants that have price tags in the millions.

'We can build more power plants, but they may stand idle if demand fails to rise as projected," said Michael Murphy, administrator of customer services for Detroit Edison. "It's much cheaper to have energy conservation programs than to build more power plants."

ONE COMMON WAY to conserve energy in commercial office buildings, especially electricity, where commercial and office buildings account for 75 percent of the nation's $150 billion electric bill, is to place individual suites on their own meters, Murphy said.

"If people pay their own bills, they tend to be much more conservative with their energy needs. If you give tenants the ability to control their energy uses, and then give them feedback, they will tend to use energy as efficiently as possible.

Ed Stehno, staff engineer for Consumers Power Co., advised office building tenants to form energy committees from among employees to inspect and seek out ideas to save money — such as lowering a high ceiling or replacing present windows with more efficient ones.

"The energy committee will meet once a month, and perhaps they've come up with changing the windows," Stehno said. "Well, they can hire an architectural consultant to help lower costs and beautify the building, as well as contacting utilities for a free inspection.

"The utility people will come and perform an inspection, and if you compare notes, then you have considerations to take to an energy consultant, while up to this point the costs are nomimal."

OTHER TARGETS for efficient energy management in buildings include:

• Windows with sophisticated coatings that keep heat inside during the winter and outside during the

• Choosing office furniture, carpeting and paint that is light in color for reflective purposes.

Daylight technology is being developed so that plastic light pipes bring sunlight deep into a building's interior, reducing the need for artificial light.

Concentrated sunlight is collected and focused by rooftop mirrors, then funneled through a short vertical section of pipe and then split to fill a network of ceiling-hung pipes.

The pipes are similar to glowing fluorescent tubes, except the color is more natural.

Commercial real estate courses taught at Walsh

By Doug Funke staff writer

Commercial real estate agents and brokers asked for it.

So Walsh College of Troy obliged.
Walsh, through its continuing professional education program, will launch a series of courses next month to help commercial real estate participants keep abreast of goings-on in the industry.

"The commercial investment people came to us and said no college in Michigan is offering short-term training in the commercial area," said Grace Smith, director of Walsh's CPE program.

"These people want to get a very concentrated short-term course that will keep them current on the job."

Three courses will be offered this

Three courses will be offered this fall. They are:

• Commercial Real Estate Overview, which will examine such topics as how to get started in the business, long- and short-range prospecting programs, and marketing concepts. That class meets 6:30-9:30 p.m. Wednesdays, Oct. 4-Nov. 1. The cost is $240.

• Legal Issues, which will concentrate on the sale and lease of property as well as broker liability. The class meets 6:30-9:30 p.m. Tuesdays, Oct. 17 and 24. The cost is $96.

Negotiation and Transaction Structuring Workshop, which will examine the negotiation process and include role playing and videotaping of practice bargaining sessions. That class meets 6:30-9:30 p.m. Mondays Nov. 6-20. Cost is $144.

"These are for people who are licensed and probably have some experience," said Maurice Richards, executive vice president for the South Oakland County Board of Realtors and the Detroit Metro Commercial Investment Division.

"Someone like an attorney or CPA who deal with brokers but don't have a working knowledge — they might want to learn more about . . . . practices of the real estate industry," he said.

None of the courses can be applied to state licensing requirements now, Smith said, although college officials are working toward that goal.

All classes, which earn continuing education credit, will meet at Walsh College, 3838 Livernois, north of Big Beaver. Specific registration questions can be asked of Walsh's continuing professional education department at 689-8282 ext. 260.

Providing for repairs

What is your recommendation for obtaining an adequate guarantee to ensure that the items to be fixed by the seller as said forth in a purchase agreement are mot?

Make sure that your purchase agreement provides for an inspection of the premises both before the agreement becomes binding and shortly before the closing, and that there is adequate provision in the purchase agreement to insure that an escrow amount will be held out of the closing process to reasonably meet the repairs. Make sure that your attorney is at closing to insure that the escrow is put into effect and that it is held by a third party such as a little company or bank. Adequate provisions must be made for the timely completion of the repairs

as well as the release of the escrow

Now is the time to clear out those closets, attics, basements and garages and make some quick cash in the process.

How do you plan a garage sale?

It's easy!

Just follow these simple guidelines:

- 1. Gather together the items you have for sale. Sort them into appropriate categories and price them fairly,
- 2. Place a classified advertisement in The Observer & Eccentric by calling one of the numbers below.
- 3. Hang signs throughout your neighborhood alerting residents to the upcoming sale.
- 4. Decide what to do with all the money you'll have after your sale!

Or, if you love to bargain-hunt and would rather shop then sell, be sure to look for our special garage sale listings every Monday and Thursday in your hometown newspaper. Observer & Eccentric classifieds make it easy to earn money and save money. Discover for yourself, todayl
