THE WESTLAND City Council has moved this week's meeting from tonight to 7:30 p.m. Tuesday because of the Martin Luther King Day holiday.

The council meets on the second floor of city hall, Ford east of Newburgh.

THE CITY'S surplus food distribution is set for Thursday and Friday at the Dorsey Community Center, Dorsey east of Venoy.

January packages include surplus butter, flour and cornmeal.

Eligible residents of Norwayne and Glenwood Gardens may pickup food packages 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday.

Other eligible residents can pickup packages 10 a.m.-2 p.m. Friday.

Senior citizens living in Westgate Towers, Greenwood Villa or Taylor Towers should call their building managers for days and times of distribution.

For more information call the Dorsey Center hot line, 595-0368.

IT'S STORYTIME again at the Wayne-Westland Public Library.

The library, Wayne Road at Sims in the city of Wayne, will offer weekly storytime sessions for children 3½-5 Feb. 2 to March 9. The sessions are 10:30 a.m. on Fridays.

Admission is free and advance registration is required.

To register your child for the program call the library, 721-7832.

ALL LIBRARY users meanwhile will benefit from expanded hours beginning this month.

The library is now open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday, and closed Sunday.

GO TO A FASHION show and you'll see the latest trends, which usually borrow heavily from decades past.

Go to this fashion show and you're bound to see the original ideas responsible for some of the latest trends.

The Westland Cultural Society will host a parade of American Fashions from the early 1800s to the 1930s Thursday, Jan. 25 at the Melvin Bailey Recreation Center.

The program, set for 11:30 a.m., includes a salad luncheon and period music by pianist Joyce Richardson.

Tickets are $5 per person and prepaid reservations must be made by Jan. 19.

To reserve a seat call Maries Lomas, 721-8177 or Jo Johnson, 522-3918.

MARCH OF DIMES volunteers will be canvassing Westland neighborhoods Jan. 19-30 as part of the organization's annual Mothers March Campaign.

Money raised during the campaign is used by the group in its continuing effort against birth defects.

NEWS FROM the birthday

Rohrbacher, a center resident since 1981, was born in Tarwell, Tenn. A former school teacher, she spent most of her life in Tennessee before coming to Michigan 10 years ago.

JENNIFER Edwards has been named employee of the month for January by the Westland Convalescent Center, on Warren Road near Central City Parkway.

She is a direct care technician at the center, where she has worked for two years.

Trial ordered in double slaying

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Ronald Gerrior of Garden City told police he killed his estranged wife and a Westland man moments after watching through a window as the two had sex at the man's Fremont Street house, according to court testimony Friday.

But Gerrior's defense attorney said he will challenge the propriety of police in obtaining Gerrior's statement when the case goes to trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Gerrior was bound over for trial Friday by 18th District Judge Thomas-G. Smith on two counts of first-degree murder and one count of the possession of a firearm in the commission of a felony in the Dec. 13 shotgun slayings of Michele Gerrior and Jason LaCroix.

Gerrior, who has pleaded not guilty, is being held without bond in the Wayne County Jail. If convicted of the charges, he faces a mandatory sentence of life in prison without parole.

"We're definitely going to try and have that (Gerrior's statement) suppressed," defense attorney Walter Piszczatowski said after Friday's preliminary examination. "That and the fact that this was strictly a crime of passion, without time for premeditation," will be the basis Gerrior's case, the attorney said.

PISZCZATOWSKI cross-examined Westland police Detective Sgt. Jerry Wright extensively and called Detective Sgt. Robert Barthold asa witness during the 2½-hour exam.

Many of his questions focused on the accuracy of notes taken by the two officers and on the defendant's physical and mental state during interviews with police on the morning of the shooting.

Police said Gerrior, 44, broke into LaCroix's house about 2:30 a.m. Dec. 13 and killed his 37-year-old wife and LaCroix, 27, with a 12-gauge shotgun. Gerrior had followed the couple to the house after seeing them embrace earlier that evening at a bowling alley in Allen Park, they said.

Police arrested Gerrior after an hour-long standoff at his home on the 32400 block of Marquette in Garden City, where they tracked him shortly after the shootings.

LaCroix's roommate, Raymond Robinson, testified he heard shooting from his upstairs bedroom. Robinson, who moved into his friend's bungalow about two weeks before the incident, said he awoke sometime after 2 a.m., apparently to the sound of the front door being kicked in.

"I HEARD HER (Michele's) voice," Robinson said. "She said, 'Ron, Ron, don't do this. Please don't do this.' She sounded very excited."

"Right after, I heard a male's voice saying 'OK, you son of a bitch, you son of a bitch.'"

Seconds later, Robinson heard two loud noises that turned out to be gun shots and a moaning voice he recognized as LaCroix's, he said.

Robinson rushed downstairs, thinking there was a fight and saw the two bodies. Michele Gerrior was lying near the bedroom door, and LaCroix was slumped on the bed, Robinson testified.

LaCroix and Michele Gerrior "began going together most every day (during the two weeks he lived at the house). She'd come over to wake him in the morning. She'd bring him coffee and doughnuts."

LaCroix, whom Robinson had known for two years, went to the bowling alley with flowers for Mi-

Raymond Robinson testifies Friday about the killing of his roommate Jason LaCroix and LaCroix's girlfriend, Michele Gerrior.

Money held for victim's funeral

Arlene Adams may be able to use some of the more than $8,000 found in her daughter's former Garden City home to pay for her funeral.

District Judge Thomas Smith ruled Friday that half of the $8,402 found in a cash box by police during a search of the Marquette Street home will be held in escrow by the court. The money could eventually be turned over to Adams by a probate judge.

The remaining money and the contents of the box — which included personal papers and commemorative coins — will be turned over to Ronald Gerrior, who is charged with the Dec. 13 murders of his estranged wife, Michele, and Jason LaCroix of Westland.

"My daughter worked all through that marriage," Adams said in an interview earlier this month. "Half that money belonged to her and should go for her burial expenses." Smith issued his ruling during a motion hearing at Friday's preliminary examination for Gerrior. The hearing was requested by attorney Gerald Grimes, representing Adams.

"It's our position that at least half of that money belongs to the estate of Michele," Grimes said.

The lawyer said Gerrior, if convicted, would be disinherited from his wife's estate under state law.

Car model identified in fatal hit-and-run

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

Wayne police now have the make and model of the car that killed Mullens in a hit-and-run incident last month, but they're still looking for the driver.

Lt. Dan Randall of the Wayne police traffic bureau said Wednesday investigators have identified the car that killed Mullens, 17, as a white 1988 or 1989 Ford Escort.

"It figures it would be one of the most popular cars in the world. That's just my luck," Randall said.

Randall said police have received a few tips since the Dec. 26 accident, "but nothing of any real value as far as the investigation is concerned."

Mullens, a Wayne resident, was struck while walking across Venoy near the Conrail tracks, just north of Michigan Avenue, police said.

Mullens was a junior at Wayne Memorial High School and was also attending classes at the Ford Vocational/Technical Center.

The accident occurred at 5:50 p.m.

The car that hit Mullens continued northbound on Venoy, witnesses told police. Randall said the driver may have been headed home to Westland or Livonia based on the time of the incident.

RANDALL SAID the car's make and model was determined by technicians from the Michigan State Police crime lab, based on evidence collected at the scene.

Police said there was a personalized license plate on the front of the car. The plate had a red, metallic background and raised white letters, police said.

Police originally said the plate spelled out the name "Ken," and contained a heart symbol.

Randall said Wednesday that while police are sure the letter "K" was on the plate, they aren't sure what name or other words were on the plate. He said the heart symbol is actually part of a design that includes two interlocking hearts with an arrow in the middle.

"I've got to believe somebody out there knows who drives this car," Randall said.

The section of Venoy where the incident occurred is a commercial area with several fast food restaurants.

Anybody with information about the incident may call the Wayne police, 721-1414 any time.

Cable TV service to cost more next month

By Tedd Schneider
staff writer

"It's going to cost more to watch 'Nick at Night,' ESPN and other cable television programming beginning Feb. 15.

Continental Cablevision is boosting the monthly rate for its basic service by $2, to $14.95. There won't be price increases for any of the other cable services though, said Kay'elen Perry, Continental area manager.

"Just like everyone else, we've experienced increasing costs associated with overhead," Perry said last week. "But even more than that, we've had to deal with major increases in the cost of programming provided by our suppliers."

The increase is the first price hike of any kind since summer 1988, Perry said.

Westland cable customers were notified of the new rate in letters mailed last week. A message about the increase will also appear on February bills.

Perry said cable rates in Westland are comparable to most communities in metropolitan Detroit.

SHE CITED the $7.95 monthly price for most premium channels (HBO, Showtime, etc.) as one of the lowest in the area.

"That's still the same price as it was when cable was introduced in Westland five or six years ago," she said.

PASS — the sports channel that offers Tigers, Pistons and Red Wings home games — is the most expensive premium service offered by Continental at $11.95. But customers who take two additional premium channels get a $2 discount on PASS, Perry said.

Continental serves 21,000 homes in Westland, up slightly from a year ago, Perry said. That represents a 65 percent penetration rate.

Smith to seek record 5th term

Ending speculation that he might retire, Westland District Judge Thomas Smith, the community's longest-serving public official, announced he will seek a new six-year term next fall.

Smith, 57, has been one of the city's two judges for 22 years.

He is the first candidate to announce for the position, to be filled at the Nov. 6 election.

Smith admitted earlier this week that he had considered retiring before changing his mind and decided to seek a fifth term.

He served eight years as chief judge of the two-judge 18th District Court. Judge Gail McKnight, who now serves as chief judge, will be honorary chairperson of Smith's re-election campaign.

In disclosing his election plans, Smith emphasized his record of initiating the use of volunteers as probation officers, a program where non-violent offenders are placed in a supervised work program in lieu of going to jail, longer court hours, a data processing system, and

Pompon squads set dual routine

For the first-time ever the pompon squads of Franklin and Churchill high schools will combine skills for a dual routine during half-time of the varsity basketball game at Franklin on Friday.

Before the game the coaches will be hosting a pizza party for the girls.

Franklin and Churchill, which serves the northern section of Westland, have members who were selected to represent Michigan in the Mid-American All-Star Team.

Both squads participated in the Livonia and Detroit Thanksgiving Day parades in 1989.

In the past, the girls have competed in regional and state competitions. This year the girls will travel together for regional competition on Feb. 10 in Grand Rapids.

Coaches Delores Mohammad of Franklin and Judy Nouhan of Churchill said they are proud of the unity both squads have acquired through many hours of practice preparing routines for games and upcoming regional and state competitions.

The Churchill squad consists of Brandi Bakita, Holly Belaire, Stephanie Bishop, Michelle Caldwell, Jenne Claus, Michelle Doerr, Jennifer Hughes, Nikki Johnson, Tara La Flair, Cindy

Louise, Holly McDonald, Chris Mirabitar, Samantha Petersen, Michelle Stevens, Gina Vlahsdamis, Jennifer White, captain Tiffany Siedlaczek, co-captains Kim Nouhan and Almee Nichols.

cop calls

A HOMEOWNER on the 8000 block of Farmington Road told police someone broke into his house Tuesday and stole a silver and onyx ring and silver dollar medallion.

It was the third recent break-in at his home, the resident said.

The robbery occurred between 8 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. while nobody was home, the man said.

The man told police the culprit entered his house by breaking out a 3-by-3-foot window on the second floor.

A RESIDENT on the 1400 block of Dowling reported that he surprised an apparent burglar as he came home Tuesday night.

The resident said he spotted the man in his garage as the resident drove his car in about 10 p.m. The burglar, seen bending over a lawn mower, ran off through the back yard, the resident said.

The resident said he saw the man a few moments later driving away with another person in a 1978 or 1979 Chevrolet Malibu.

Nothing was missing from his garage or home, the resident said.

A WARREN Woods Apartments complex resident told police someone stole her car from the complex, Warren Road near Farmington Road, early Wednesday.

The woman said her 1984 Chevrolet was taken around 7 a.m. from the complex lot. The car was locked at the time of the theft, the woman said.

Bomb threat empties junior high

Students and teachers were evacuated briefly from Marshall Junior High School Thursday afternoon following a bomb threat.

A search of the school failed to find any explosives, police said.

The threat came less than 24 hours after three pipe bombs were set off at Oakland University. The Wednesday night incidents on the OU campus in Rochester received heavy media coverage.

An unidentified male caller phoned in the threat to the junior high on Bayview near Wayne Road about 1:30 p.m., police said. The caller, who telephoned the Westland Observer about 15 minutes later, said the bomb was set to explode at 2:30 p.m.

Wayne-Westland Community Schools Superintendent Dennis

O'Neill said the district usually receives several bomb threats during the course of a school year.

Although buildings aren't normally evacuated following a threat, O'Neill said Thursday's fire drill was an "added precaution."

Professionally, Smith served as president of the Wayne County Judges' Association in 1973, president of the American Judges' Foundation in 1979 and 1980, and as governor of the American Judges' Association 1971-77.

Nine years ago, Smith received an award for outstanding service to the American Judges' Association.

He was recently commended for his help by the Recorder's Court chief judge in handling cases as part of the drug case crash system.

Most continental customers receive at least full basic service, which includes all VHF and UHF broadcast channels, all public access and satellite-delivered channels such as WGN and USA Network, Perry said.

Other packages are economy or limited basic service (all broadcast and public access) channels and a low-priced package that allows residents with poor reception to receive broadcast channels via cable.

Perry said she expects "a few complaints" about the rate increase, but doesn't think there will be cancellations or other adverse reactions.

PERRY SAID Continental has added several channels to its full basic package since November. They include:

- The Nostalgia Channel — health and fitness programming, travel tips and investment information geared toward people 45 and older.
- Movie Time — 24 hours of entertainment industry-related programming featuring interviews and features from Hollywood.
- QVC — the Quality Value Convenience home shopping network (replaces the Fashion Channel.)

carrier of the month Westland

Ed Egeler has been named carrier of the month for January by the Westland Observer.

Ed, the son of Ralph and Lois Egeler of Westland, has been an Observer carrier since October 1988.

Ed is a 10th grader at Catholic Central High School in Redford. A 3.0 student, he said his favorite school subjects are math and computers. His hobbies include fishing, swimming and boating.

He said the thing he likes most about having a newspaper route is meeting "all the nice, friendly people."

Ed also said the route has taught him about responsibility and organization. "It's a good step into the business world," he said.

Ed said his future plans include attending college and a possible career as a college professor.

chele earlier that evening, he testified.

The Gerriors, married for seven years, experienced problems for much of that time, said Michele's mother, Arlene Adams. The couple separated last fall. Michele Gerrior moved out of the Marquette house and into a Westland mobile home in early October, Adams has said.

The Gerriors still spent time together, and Ronald Gerrior had hoped for a reconciliation, said a friend of the Gerriors, James Bush of Inkster.

"He told me they were out together (the previous) Saturday night for dinner and dancing," Bush testified.

It was Bush who came to Gerrior's house the morning of the murders and talked him into surrendering to police.

Gerrior called Bush and him to come over, Bush testified.

"I asked him what was wrong. He said he did something 'really bad'."

"I asked him what and he said 'Please, just come over.'"

Weather aids carvers; crowds find art in ice

By M.B. Dillon
Staff writer

Plymouth's Community Ice Sculpture Spectacular went head-to-head with the Detroit North American International Auto Show over the weekend, but it didn't seem to matter.

Buses, cars, pick-up trucks, pedestrians, wheelchairs and wagons choked the streets and sidewalks of downtown Plymouth as thousands came to see what all the hullabaloo was about.

At The Gathering, they watched and snapped photos as student carvers in Saturday morning's competition transformed 400-pound blocks of ice into flowers, fish, deer, birds, winged horses, poodles, dragons even the Tin Man.

Weather conditions, with temperatures in the high 20s, were ideal for ice carving.

Folks sipped hot chocolate, munched popcorn and thawed out inside the heated, thank God, Masonic Temple, where volunteers from three lodges served up hotdogs, soup, cookies and drinks.

How spectacular was the Spectacular?

"They've done a great job. The kids love it," said Scott Lorenz, co-owner of the Mayflower Hotel and founder of the festival.

Lorenz, no longer involved with the ice festival or in day-to-day operations at the hotel, is a marketing consultant for Detroit Tigers owner Tom Monaghan. He brought his 3-year-old son Joey to the festival, and spent a few hours bumping into old friends.

"It's so appropriate that trains are the theme of the festival this year," said Lorenz. "Let's face it — we're surrounded by trains in this town."

Nadeau's Ice Sculptures Inc. of Chicago crafted a steam locomotive replete with real steam and a bell. The Centennial Educational Park Art Club sculpted a choo-choo train. Culinary arts students from Oakland Community College also carved a train.

Paul Sincok, assistant city manager, said he expects even a bigger crowd for the festival finale this weekend.

"We've been getting calls at the police department since December.

And a lot of people are just finding out about it," he said.
DPW foreman Mel Behling of Canton Township looked robust and rested, despite having begun work at 4:30 a.m.

"We had to clear out all the ice chippings and haul them out to the cemetery," he said. "We finished up about 7:30 this morning."

Not all the ice sculptures were completed by Saturday afternoon. But festival-goers saw Don Massey Cadillac's nearly life-sized luxury automobile, driver included; Macomb Community College's circus tent and ringmaster, Statton 885's dinosaur, and Cinderella's Carriage.

created by Fellows Creek Country Club.

Plymouth police had no complaints.

"So far, so good," said auxiliary officer Andrew Halttunen. "If it gets real busy, we may shut off part of Main Street. But so far, everyone is driving nice and slow."

Henry and Eva Beale of Flat Rock called the festival "fantastic. It's really something to see. We can't believe it. It's really fascinating."

Nicky Kerekes of Taylor, 8, couldn't wait for his family quit watching the student carvers.

Career Prep Center, Warren Consolidated Schools, first place; John Schofer of Livonia Franklin High School, second place; and Brian Henson, Wayne Memorial High School, third. In college competition, Derek Maxfield cleaned up. The Grand Rapids Junior College student won the Carver's Choice award, worth $100, and first place. Runner-up was Larry Bieber; and Rob Parmenter, Schoolcraft College, third. Winners received plaques and scholarship money.

Kris Darby, an art teacher at Plymouth-Salem High School, holds a sculpture being worked on by Mike Benzie, a student.

Brian Tamm, a student in the culinary arts program at Schoolcraft College, shows his skills off for the crowds.

Student ice carvers win cash, prizes

For seven student ice carvers, Saturday was payday.

A host of professional ice carvers and college instructors served as judges in Saturday afternoon's competition.

A $100 prize went to Carver's Choice/High School winner Melvin Pickett of the Breithaupt Vocational Center in Detroit.

Finishing first in high school competition was Paul Zocharski of the Career Prep Center, in the Warren Consolidated Schools.

John Schofer of Livonia Franklin High School took second place and Brian Henson of Wayne Memorial High School was third.

In college competition, Derek Maxfield cleaned up. The Grand Rapids Junior College student won both the Carver's Choice award, worth $100, and first place.

Runner-up was Larry Bieber, whose school was unavailable at press time.

Rob Parmenter of Schoolcraft College finished third.

Winners received plaques and scholarship money.

Gov's tax plan — some benefit more than others

By Wayne Pool
staff writer

Most area homeowners would have benefited had Gov. Blanchard's plan to limit tax assessments been in effect last year — but, on average, Plymouth and Canton residents would have benefited most.

Home property tax assessments increased for most Western Wayne County residents in 1989, though the highest average increases were posted in the Plymouth/Canton area.

"The western area of the county, that's a hot area," said county assessment director George McEachran.

Average 1989 assessments increased 17.6 percent in Plymouth Township, 16.1 percent in Plymouth and 15.3 percent in Canton in 1989, according to county assessment and equalization figures. Average home assessments increased a combined 28 percent in each community during the past two years — a $28,000 increase on a home assessed at $100,000 in 1987.

LIVONIA WAS not far behind, with average increases above 12 percent in each of the last two years. (Two-year figures for local communities are contained in the accompanying chart.)

ture assessment increases to the rate of inflation.

But the Blanchard administration is selling the program on the basis of individual assessments — not community assessments.

"This is a homeowner-specific plan, not a community-specific plan," state Treasurer Robert Bowman said. "Even in Detroit, there are homeowners who saw high increases."

Not everyone would see their assessments cut either, McEachran said, because averages can be misleading.

"They vary neighborhood to neighborhood, home to home," he said. "Some people's homes are way above their community's average, some are way below."

But if such a plan were in effect last year, assessments for any Michigan homeowner wouldn't have risen higher than 4.5 percent — the estimated Detroit-area inflation rate, according to Bowman.

Bowman estimated the plan could save homeowners $300 million over the next decade.

Across Michigan, assessments increased an average 9.6 percent.

Generally, larger, newer homes, on bigger lots, are seeing greater assessment increases than smaller, older homes on smaller lots, McEachran said.

Tax assessments - percentage increases

Canton	12.99	15.3
Garden City	5.15	7.83
Livonia	12.23	12.89
Plymouth	12.6	16.1
Plymouth Twp.	10.38	17.62
Redford	3.53	6.97

Assessments are divided in half, then multiplied against community and school millage rates to determine tax payments. A mill equals $1 for every thousand dollars of assessed value. A homeowner would pay $2,500 in taxes on a 50-mill levy for a house assessed at $100,000.

Though businesses wouldn't receive a break on assessments, Bowman said the program could eventually be expanded to include businesses.

"If someone is interested in expanding this to the business community, we're open-minded," he said.

Blanchard's health plan to benefit 'working poor'

By Wayne Pool
staff writer

Gov. James Blanchard's plan to provide health insurance for the children of Michigan's working poor is drawing high marks from the woman who oversees health programs in Wayne County.

"We're very pleased the governor is addressing the issue," said Vernice Davis-Anthony, assistant county executive for Health and Community Services.

Blanchard announced a $13 million health care program during Wednesday's annual State of the State Address. The plan, proposed to begin in October, is aimed at children who lack health care benefits, even though their parents hold jobs.

It would initially serve children under 10 whose families earn less than $24,000 a year.

At the same time, Davis-Anthony said, the county is looking at ex-

Gov. James Blanchard county officials like his health proposal estimated 120,000 people in Wayne County — more than one-in-every-20 county residents are classified as working poor, according to estimates by county government.

"WE ESTIMATE there are at least 300,000 people in southeastern Michigan who would qualify as working poor," Davis-Anthony said. "Of that, about half live in Wayne County and at least 80 percent have no health care."

Though poverty at all levels is more heavily concentrated in Detroit, Davis-Anthony said there are substantial pockets of working poor families in suburban areas as well.

Many are minimum wage employees in fast food or other service industries, she said.

"Just looking at the rapid growth of the fast food industry in the suburbs, and knowing that people generally live close to where they work, we suspect there are working poor in the suburbs," she said.

panding its "county care" program to meet the health needs of low income, uninsured county residents. Both proposals could affect an

OBTAINING HEALTH INSURANCE OF YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS

If you have arthritis, you may have difficulty obtaining health insurance as insurers often include a "pre-existing condition" clause in their contracts. This clause may state that you must wait 6 months or more before your arthritis costs become a contract benefit. Or, the company may refuse you coverage altogether because of your condition.

In the search to find an insurer, try the following:

- contact the Michigan Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation for their experience (350-3030).
- call Blue Cross of Michigan (225-8100) and ask their customer representative what are their restrictions, and how you can overcome them.
- look in the Yellow Pages for an insurance agent who specializes in health coverage.
- phone the Michigan State Insurance Commission (517-373-0220) for the current status of health insurance risk pools.

In addition ask your Federal congressman to support the Federal Health Insurance Act (H.R. 2649). This legislation, recently introduced by Congressman Walgren (Penn), would prohibit health insurance companies from limiting or denying benefits to people with "pre-existing conditions."

Smoke means fire when fans of cigarettes fume

ON MONDAY afternoon I was standing outside the building, with four of the women from the business office, smoking a cigarette.

For January it wasn't a bad day. The sun was out and the temperature was almost 40. The wind was a little nippy, especially in the shaded area outside the circulation department, but if you were wearing a coat and gloves it wasn't bad.

We weren't outside to enjoy the nice weather, though. We were there because we had been banished to the world outside the walls.

We didn't even know each other, really. They work in one end of the building, I'm in the other.

But we discovered that we had one thing in common — we were the new lepers, the untouchables of the '90s, misbegotten and unenlightened. We smoke.

As of Jan. 1 the company that publishes the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers had gone No-Smoking.

Nowhere, no way, no how — not inside the walls anyway — is smoking going to be tolerated. The Company is concerned for our health and the health of our co-workers whose lungs we might contaminate with our noxious fumes.

SO THERE we were, out in the cold, puffing away like a group of school kids hiding behind the gym.

We discussed the new ashtrays the company had thoughtfully installed on the walls outside the entrances.

We speculated on what kind of contraption was being built outside the employee entrance. Rumor has it that it is a shelter for smokers, but so far all it is is a concrete slab about 6 by 10 feet or so.

Jack Gladden

There were the usual mutterings about the arrogance and smugness of non-smokers, about "health concerns" that had us standing outside in the middle of January and so on. Smoker talk.

Now, I've come to expect absolutely no trace of reason from non-smokers on the subject of smoking, so nothing they say or do surprises or bothers me.

But Mary, clearly the senior member of our little alliance, was still fuming over a comment made by a fellow employee, a non-smoker naturally, when he saw her standing outside the building smoking a cigarette.

"Mary, when are you going to reform?" he had asked her.

Ooh, that made her mad. He said it in jest, I'm sure, but it was the arrogance implied in the question that set her off.

MARY, YOU see, is something of a celebrity around the office. Last October people from every department in the building showed up to wish her a happy birthday. To be more precise, a happy 80th birthday.

And Mary sat through all the fuss, puffing on a Camel. She's been smoking for... well, she can't remember exactly, but it is more than 60 years.

She's proud of the fact that in the 23 years she has worked for the Observer & Eccentric, she's never taken a single sick day.

She finds it hard to get too worked up over the smoking hysteria that has swept the country for the last three or four years.

And she finds it irritating that after 23 years here, she is now being told that, in the interest of her health, if she wants to fill her 80-year-old lungs with smoke, she'll have to do it outside.

But she finds it downright infuriating when some joker, pure of lung and heart, makes cracks about "reforming." She's 80 years old, she says, and she doesn't need anybody talking to her about reforming.

I'm with Mary.

THE POLITICS of smoking has reached the point that rational discussions can no longer be held between smokers and non-smokers. So the best thing we can do is not talk to each other about the subject.

Mary and I and the other women from the front office will gather around the outside ashtray and rip up the non-smokers while they sit in their purified environment and talk about what boors we are.

But when Mary celebrates her 90th birthday, they'll have to hold the party outside. She's not giving up her Camels.

Human impact of closings

THE CHIEF executive of a baby food company was recently recruited to run one of America's largest soup companies.

Should they have recruited from the "soup industry?"

There's no such thing anymore. Today's big companies have totally unrelated product divisions; they simply hire the best marketing people who know product lines, and watch that bottom line. They keep them as long as they're profitable — that's what drives our system.

Just last week, I discovered that Whitman Corp. — the Chicago-based chocolate people who formerly owned Illinois Railroad — are the owners of Chesley Industries, the wire product manufacturer on 8 Mile in Farmington. Chesley falls under the Whitman division of Hussmann Food Storage, based in St. Louis.

Confused? These mega-conglomerates are enough to make your head spin.

It's no wonder that Chesley Industries, a familiar family and company name to many long-time Farmington residents, will close in mid-February if a buyer for the business is not found. A similar plant in Brenham, Texas, was closed two years ago.

IN ST. LOUIS or Chicago or wherever else corporate headquarters may be, this plant on Farmington's south side is just a tiny mark somewhere in the middle of a mega-sized profit and loss statement.

But take a peek inside the plant. Before the home office's announcement of doom in December, there were some 21 salaried employees and another 50 who assembled various wire products in a huge back plant. Today, that number has dwindled to half.

Mike Callahan, a general manager who was transferred into the area to run the Chesley plant in 1976, now considers southeast Michigan his home.

He said announcing the likely plant closing just before Christmas was a tough job. Even a few weeks later, he was noticeably moved by the very human impact.

CALLAHAN PROUDLY explained that Chesley employees had made some of their own equipment, which took wire assembly production time from minutes to seconds.

He said a good number of the employees, many of them female, had devoted years of their life to Chesley — a family company taken over in the early 1970s by Hussmann. But they still used the Chesley name, which is widely known in wire products, Callahan said.

Callahan had suggested that the main office consider bringing a powder coating process in-house — something he believed would save the company enough money to keep the plant operating. Now, all the wire products are sent out of state for coating, then returned for shipping.

But it wasn't to be. With a glance at an earnings statement, and an order from above, the deed was done.

Another 70 employees may soon be dumped into an already soft labor economy in Detroit. It will impact not only the employees, but their lost wages, which represent income for others in the restaurant and retail area.

It's a loss that won't be felt in Chicago or St. Louis.

But we'll feel it here.

We still have very far to go

To the editor:

On the occasion of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, a reflection:

The dream of Dr. King that all people "not be judged by the color of their skin but by the content of their character" was a dream for all Americans, black and white.

For African Americans (as well as Hispanics, Asians, Indians and other people of color) the dream envisioned this country's recognition of their birthright as Americans: the right to pursue life, liberty and property free from arbitrary oppression based upon unintelligible physical distinctions. For white Americans, the dream envisioned the day this nation could be free of the moral cancer of racism.

Today, the dream lies dormant in the recesses of the country's collective consciousness. A tiny minority of white America, sings of ignorance shamefully cloaked in secrecy, still violently resists the dream's realization. A more significant minority, (with political aspirations thinly veiled as sensitivity and support, paternalistically guide African Americans into a second class societal status. And the majority of white America, hope mitigated by hesitancy, truly searches for the path to a colorblind society.

On their part, African Americans have kept their eyes on the prize of equality while it has been continually denigrated into governmentally perpetuated economic dependence and Democratically controlled political subservience by a minority of black and white "leaders."

Still they stand defiant against enormous odds, refusing the station of supplicants while the attrition of disappointment seems to be perniciously enervating their spirits and breeding the disease of despair.

On this national holiday, let us be proud of how far we as a nation have come and perceptive of how far we must go.

'Not a warming place'

New shelter to aid homeless women, kids

By Susan Buck
staff writer

Detroit Cover-Up's Learning Center for Homeless Women and Children, the Blanket Lady's Place, is concrete proof of Darlene Feldman's commitment to the poor.

The non-profit center, at 3752 Cass in Detroit's Cass Corridor, is just a shell now. But in about a month, it will be a hub where the hands of volunteers will spread out like tentacles to tackle the feminization of poverty.

Feldman, a Farmington Hills single mother of two, who has earned her title of the Blanket Lady in metro Detroit, is taking her hands-on crusade one step further by transforming a rundown former car dealership into a daytime activity center for women and children.

It will not be a flophouse.

"Kids are my passion," said Feldman, 39. "That's where I feel there is a need. Women and children have to be lifted out of poverty. Women's needs are different. Almost every shelter is exclusively for men. There's a lot of harassment and sexual abuse."

"It will not be a warming place. This is an activity program with job training, substance abuse guidance and motivational speakers."

THE PROGRAM is built on a prototype of a similar center called Dignity House in Philadelphia.

Feldman stresses that women need good jobs and affordable housing. They also need an address and telephone number they can put on job applications and child care while they are job hunting.

"Hopefully, we can help them if they have any self-esteem left," she said. "Some of them have been raped repeatedly and told they are garbage."

Feldman wants to prevent people from being sucked into the downward spiral of the shelters. Handing out blankets isn't enough.

This woman who believes dreams can come true has a contemporary business wish list. She refuses to spend money that has been donated to the poor on business essentials, even if they would make her life easier.

"Everything has been a hurdle. Right now, we have a safe, warm place. We have to get it equipped to get the people in it."

First on the agenda is getting the plumbing fixed.

FOR HER safety and that of volunteers who go down regularly into the impoverished corridor, some things appear essential:

• One, installation of outside lighting in the two-car bay.

The place is pitch-dark by late afternoon and cramped with only two vehicles. For Feldman to find the keys to the wrought-iron exterior gate and then the wooden door, she needs a flashlight or must turn on her headlights. Once inside, she must back-track to the car to turn off the headlights. She does all this while carrying in boxes and bags of donated merchandise.

Even the street-smart can recognize the potential danger. Twice, that potential came too close for comfort for Feldman, she said.

• Two, a massive garage door with opener.

With this, Feldman could drive in and move around safely in the bay.

• Three, the use of vans, trucks and drivers to pick up and deliver to the center, Feldman needs to transport continuous donations, some large, like furniture.

Also, now to Feb. 2, WOMC-FM is sponsoring a blanket drive at five Little Caesar Fun Centers. New as well as clean; used blankets can be dropped off at 208 S. Wayne at Cherry Hill, Westland, 729-5100; 15060 Eureka, Southgate, 285-5545; 11555 Engleman, Hoover and 10 1/2 Mile, Warren, 754-8888; 1241 W. 14 Mile, Clawson, 435-3770; and 2380 Orchard Lake, Sylvan Lake, 682-4880.

• Four, a word processor and a fax machine. Feldman must rely on spiral notebooks and a rolodex to keep track of volunteers and resources.

LOCALLY, THE Birmingham Temple in Farmington Hills has adopted Detroit Cover-up as its 1990 mitzvah — Yiddish for charity or worthy deed. The youth group volunteered to come down and help do work.

"As a matter of fact, on Christmas Day when our food was stolen, it was that Farmington Hills temple which pulled together and collected $400 within an hour and had teams out here in the suburbs to shop."

"It was the Farmington Hills Jewish community which paid for Christmas. An hour before people were to show up, we were left standing there with empty hands."

The food, donated by merchants, was stolen from vans parked on Jefferson. Twenty-five Detroit-area restaurants had contributed. "There was clam chowder, stew, roasts, hams, ribs, wonderful gourmet foods," Feldman said.

These foods were part of "Street Feast 1989," the personal project of a Royal Oak woman, who Feldman will identify only as Terri.

"This is her baby," Feldman said. "We simply joined with her because we had that building and we had that liability insurance and it motivated us to get the center going. In no way can I ever take credit for Terri's second annual 'Street Feast.'"

At least a half-dozen women came down on the bus Christmas Day to see if the center was open, then made a return bus trip to retrieve their children, Feldman said.

To fight crime in Philly, people plant posies.

"The bad part of town." Abandoned cars. Sidewalks scattered with crack vials. Bombed-out buildings.

A neighborhood whose spirit is as broken as the bits of glass that dot the street. There are only two things to do if your neighborhood becomes a war zone: give up or take action.

The Philadelphia Story
One day, in the "bad part" of Philadelphia, a neighbor complained to a neighbor. And then to another. And then to more. People didn't like their homes being "taken over." Feelings of helplessness and resentment turned to action.

They went to the police for help.

Soon a substation was established where folks could readily report crime. Weekly meetings began. Community watches started. Things started getting fixed up. Vacant lots were cleaned up and fenced off. Abandoned cars were towed away. Painting and repairing programs began.

The neighborhood was cleaning itself up. The local 4-H Club even helped set up garden clubs where kids, teens and adults could work together on plants and flowers while talking over ways to raise awareness.

When people care and get involved, neighborhoods change. When a block doesn't look like a haven for crime and drugs, it won't be. And in this part of Philly, where once only apathy grew, aspen gardens now bloom.

This is only one success story of many. To find out what can be done

Learning to love escargot

Let me preface this story by admitting that escargot, commonly known as snails, should usually be enjoyed during a festive time.

You probably would have enjoyed this story and the accompanying recipes for the holidays. However, the holiday this year at the Janes Gang house was spent in the hospital because Dad broke his hip and encountered complications. Now that Dad Janes is well on his way to recovery, I thought that now is as good a time as ever to do some celebrating.

You have to understand that I'm not much of an escargot fan. And until last week, a snail had never crossed paths with my wife. As a matter of fact, most of the folks I talk to feel the same way.

The thought of eating something slimy, yet chewy, direct from its shell, which served as a home, should be reserved for the nouveau riche or those with palates that identify with the consumption of thymus glands and sweetbreads.

UNTIL LAST WEEK, every snail I ever consumed was chewy. As a matter of fact, the only redeeming quality of my experiences in eating snails was the delicious garlic butter that could be thopped up with a hunk of French bread. The garlic butter and French bread was like a 7-Up chaser after a shot of hard liquor.

So in the midst of the holiday season and dealing with Dad's illness, my best friend from Ann Arbor invited my wife and me over for an evening reprieve of good food, good wine and great company.

When he asked me to bring along some escargot plates and tiny forks, I knew immediately the appetizer course wouldn't come close to appealing my wife and me, but I dutifully obliged and emerged from the fruit cellar with the requested equipment. Was I in for a surprise.

After cracking the first of many bottles of wine, I offered my help (as I usually do) in the kitchen. It was there I learned the background to the recipe I'm about to share.

My friend had picked up a copy of an old cookbook, from an unknown place called "Frog Hollow," and while thumbing through, discovered the recipe. As you will see for yourself, the recipe isn't anything special, but there was a paragraph preceding the recipe that stated how the author (a chef at some big-city eatery) prepared this snail recipe, and that whenever he was invited to friends' houses for an eating orgy, was told to bring along this recipe for escargot.

LIKE ME, his friends knew that the chef excelled, and fortunately for you and me, I sequestered the recipe book on a trip to the washroom, fortunately, with a pencil and paper hidden in my pocket.

When the tray was passed and my wife saw the snails, she opted to pass, but after a little prodding (much to our chagrin) she sampled. It could have been another six snails between us, but she asked for more. The recipe is that good. As a matter of fact, it's not just that good, it's one of the best appetizer recipes I've ever bitten into.

And my New Year's gift to you, taken from a piece of scratch paper written on a toilet tank in Ann Arbor, I'm sure, will be one of the best you will ever try. So enjoy!

Trust me on this one, folks. You won't be disappointed.

See recipe Page 2B.

Computers come into the kitchen

By Bridgette M. Daniels
staff writer

TECHNOLOGY IS invading every aspect of our lives and the microwave is not the only intruder in the kitchen. Recently, home computers have begun making an appearance.

Today's personal computers (PCs) not only supply recipes on data bases, but also adjust serving, give nutritional tips and do the grocery shopping for you.

Prodigy, a database created by Sears and IBM, is the latest to hit the market and the home. In the Detroit area, Great Scott! has joined with Prodigy executives to provide a shopping service to customers.

ANYONE OWNING a PC and the Prodigy software can do all their grocery shopping at home and either pick up the order or have Great Scott! personnel deliver it.

Prodigy is hooked up to several businesses in this area including Sears, NBD, Comerica and Great Scott! With the package a person can make all their travel arrangements, get weather forecasts, follow the stock market, send electronic mail all over the world, read news headlines, read ads or play interactive games.

On Oct. 2, 1989, the first Great Scott hook-up was made in the Detroit area in the home of Westland residents Harvey and Judie Walker. Judie Walker said she uses Prodigy up to four hours a day, and does almost all of her grocery shopping with the computer.

She said Prodigy has changed her buying habits.

"I tend to order more in bulk now because I don't have to carry it," she said. "It's cheaper that way and I save money."

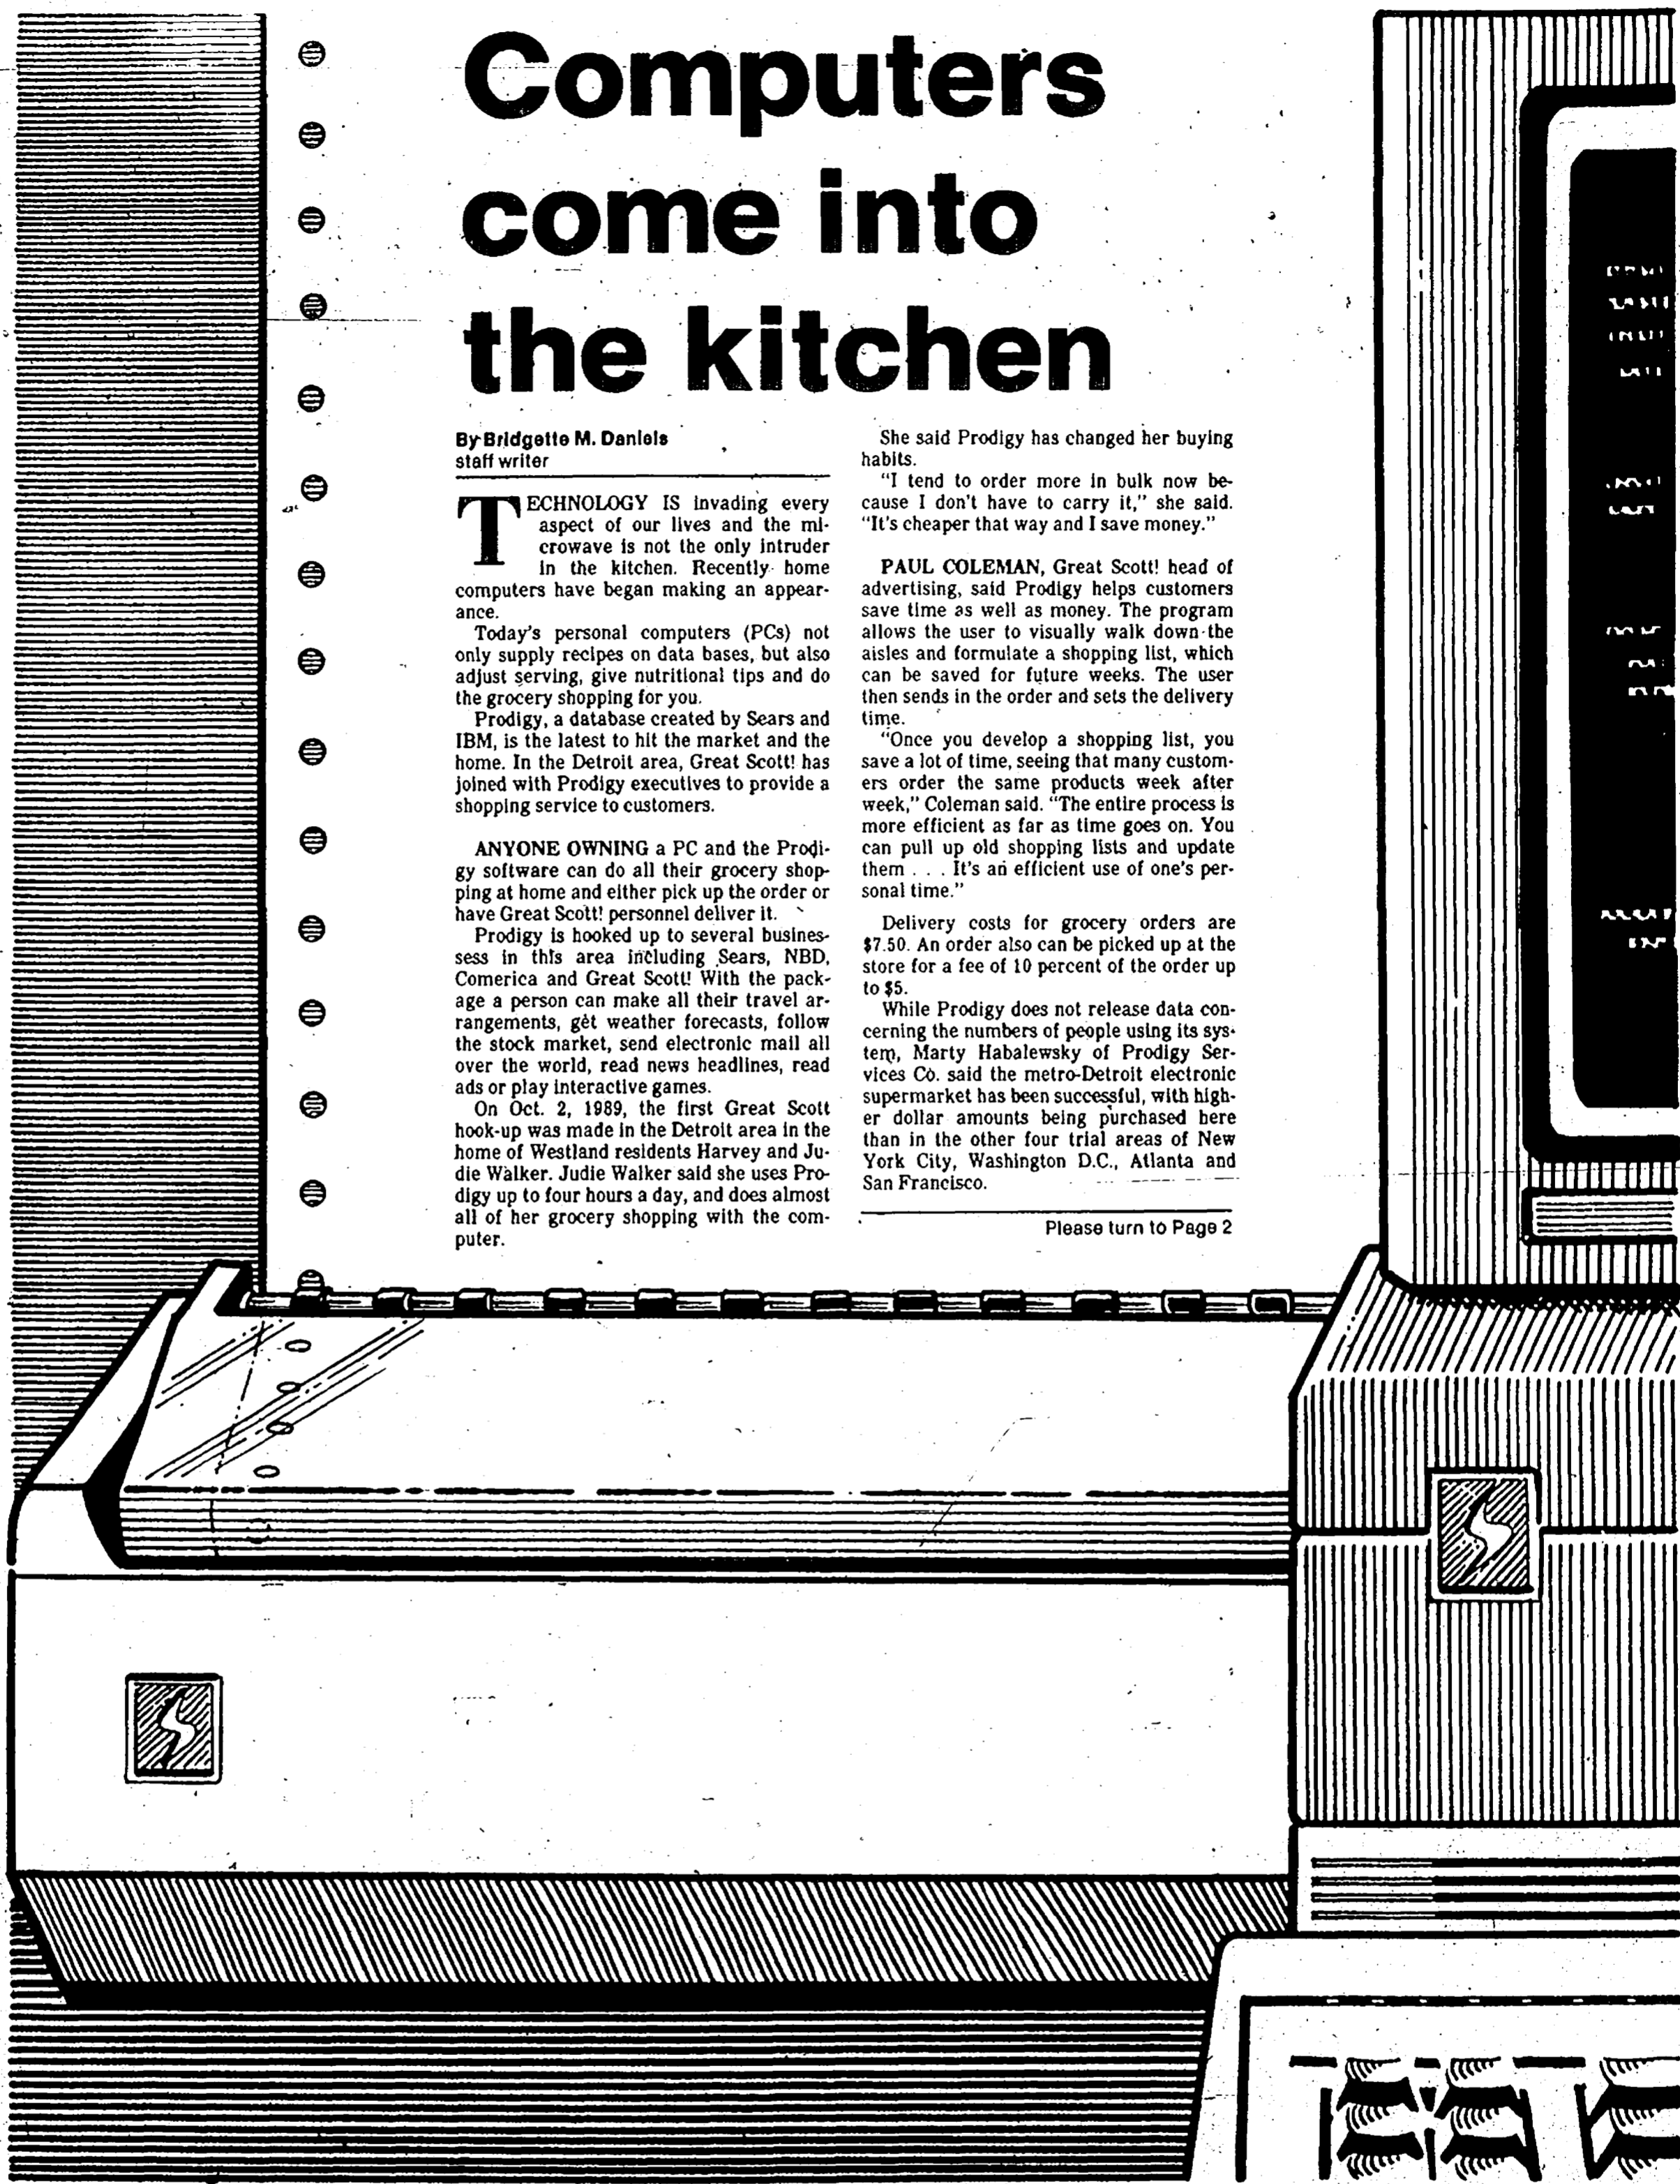

PAUL COLEMAN, Great Scott! head of advertising, said Prodigy helps customers save time as well as money. The program allows the user to visually walk down the aisles and formulate a shopping list, which can be saved for future weeks. The user then sends in the order and sets the delivery time.

"Once you develop a shopping list, you save a lot of time, seeing that many customers order the same products week after week," Coleman said. "The entire process is more efficient as far as time goes on. You can pull up old shopping lists and update them. It's an efficient use of one's personal time."

Delivery costs for grocery orders are $7.50. An order also can be picked up at the store for a fee of 10 percent of the order up to $5.

While Prodigy does not release data concerning the numbers of people using its system, Marty Habalewsky of Prodigy Services Co. said the metro-Detroit electronic supermarket has been successful, with higher dollar amounts being purchased here than in the other four trial areas of New York City, Washington D.C., Atlanta and San Francisco.

Adventurous carryouts make a difference

By Arlene Funke
special writer

Kick off your shoes, put up your feet and let Anna Stebbins prepare a delicious, innovative dinner.

The menu? Let's have fresh salmon, jazzed up with fresh thyme and lemon and a topping of bread crumbs. We'll serve that with a pasta-and-fresh-vegetable blend lightly drizzled with olive oil.

Dessert will be freshly baked apple pie.

If that dinner sounds good, you might want to visit a new gourmet carryout food store in Plymouth called Savory Fare Ltd. The shop is the brainchild of caterer and food enthusiast Stebbins.

"We don't carry three-bean salad or macaroni and cheese," said Stebbins, a Plymouth resident. "It's designed for people who want a little more adventure in their meals — people who like to try different things."

SAVORY FARE Ltd. occupies a rear section of the Wine and Cheese Barn in downtown Plymouth. The food is prepared in the shop and sold by the piece or pound for carryout.

"I feel Plymouth has grown up enough," said Stebbins. "We have enough working couples who can come in and pick up dinner. It's a viable concept. People are too busy to think about cooking."

Stebbins, who was born in Australia, brings a rich and varied background to her venture. Her mother came from New Zealand and her father was born in Texas. As a child, Stebbins gravitated toward unusual, ethnic food tastes.

"At that time Australia was a melting pot," Stebbins said.

When she was 21 Stebbins came to the United States and lived in Hawaii, San Francisco and Phoenix before moving to Plymouth 12 years ago. While in Hawaii she fearlessly sampled such exotic fare as squid and pig's brains.

"I think it was at a luau, the time I ate pig's brains served directly out of the head," Stebbins said, with a laugh. "I pretended a lot and left fast."

Although Stebbins has held a variety of jobs, she derives her greatest satisfaction from preparing and serving delicious and eye-appealing food that live up to the shop's name — Savory Fare Ltd.

SHE STARTED a home-based catering business in late 1988, using many organizational skills she learned while working as catering secretary and, later, catering director at the Plymouth-Hilton Inn. Stebbins opened the shop last June. Catering parties still make up a large chunk of her business.

Stebbins likes to create excitement by combining different textures, tastes and colors in her food.

One particularly delicious salad pairs chunks of smoked turkey and strips of swiss cheese with sliced red delicious apples and roasted hazelnuts with a creamy tarragon dressing.

"I can sense the taste in my mouth," Stebbins said of her ability to predict whether these combinations will be compatible.

Another favorite is a chicken broccoli salad. It combines red grapes with sweet red onions, toasted walnuts and chunks of chicken and broccoli, covered with a creamy dill dressing. Or the bow-tie pasta salad, which Stebbins mixes with baby shrimp, snow peas and red pepper strips drizzled with a sherry vinaigrette dressing.

Salad dressings are homemade. Some of the dessert choices are pina colada cheesecake, apple pie, brownies and giant cookies and orange streusel muffins.

Stebbins, who employs two part-time employees, does approximately 50 percent of the cooking herself. She scours cookbooks and magazines, takes cooking classes and attends chefs' demonstrations to come

"That means people are using Prodigy for weekly and biweekly purchases as opposed to just for parties," Habalewsky said.

COLEMAN SAID deliveries are broken down by geographic areas, but customers can pick up their order at any Great Scott!

Walker said she and her husband use both the pick-up and delivery service.

"When my husband uses it he picks it up. I have it delivered," she said.

Another feature of Prodigy the Walkers use is the recipe database and bulletin boards. Walker said she used the recipes listed in them every day during the holiday season and still has people asking for copies of the sweet potato recipe she made from Prodigy.

The food club on Prodigy offers 15 different subjects including Mexican, Swedish, low-fat foods and cholesterol-minded recipes. There is also a bulletin board that features several well-known chefs around the world, Walker said.

"YOU CAN CHOOSE the menu for the day," she said. "It tells you what goes best with the meal. I used it almost every day last month."

The basic Prodigy service costs $9.95 a month with no per-hour fees, no on-line connection charges and no long-distance rates. All that is required is an IBM PC (or compatible) or an Apple Macintosh with 512K memory. It can be purchased at Great Scott! or most software stores.

But Prodigy is not the only software package aimed at aiding family cooks. Other commercial packages and shareware programs also have been designed.

Shareware programs are software designed by amateur users who allow their work to be distributed without charge, but often request a nominal fee be mailed to them if the user finds the program useful. The fees range from $5 to $40 and are voluntary.

Programs offered through share-ware companies, which are usually mail-order businesses, range from text recipes to nutritional hints, poison control techniques and interactive recipe boxes that allow each user's family recipes to be entered.

SOFTWARE EXCITEMENT offers two shareware packages for Macintosh users labeled Food & Nutrition 1 and Food & Nutrition 2. The first package includes a calorie tracker, vitamin information, health quiz and poison control.

The second stack offers a hyper recipe program where you enter the type of food you want and it brings up all the recipes with that ingredient in them, a recipe box, pasta Italiano, Ron's Hot Fudge, bartender, Wine Man, restaurant guide, and poison treatment information.

Software Excitement sells its programs for between $5-$7 for 3 1/2 disks. IBM software is usually priced between $1-$3.99. Most shareware companies offer a toll-free number and free catalogs.

Commercial programs are very similar to shareware programs, but they add graphics, and features such as altering ingredients to desired serving size, and suggestions on wine lists.

Egghead Software in Livonia offers "Micro Cookbook" by Combinatics for Apple and IBM computers. It is an interactive recipe program that will alter serving sizes and allow the user to add recipes, and gives a wine list.

IT ALSO SELLS a program put out by PBS based on the "Great Chefs Series."

These programs are about $49.99. "Dinner at Eight" by StarCor is another commercial software program for IBMs and compatibles that offers a menu by pictures or words.

In addition to offering an extensive selection including foods from Italy, San Francisco, New York, New Orleans and the Orient, it also alters ingredients, suggests wine, prepares a menu and makes a shopping list. All lists and recipes can be printed out when desired.

These are a few recipes from "Dinner at Eight" software.

CRABMEAT IMPERIAL

Serves 12
2 pounds lump crabmeat
2 tablespoons pimiento
1/4 cup egg yolks
1 1/2 cup Rich Cream Sauce (sauces)
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
1 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco sauce

1 tablespoon dry sherry

Toss crabmeat and pimiento to combine.

Combine lightly beaten egg yolks, rich cream sauce, dry mustard, salt, cayenne, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco and sherry. Mix thoroughly.

Add to crabmeat mixture. Toss gently to combine thoroughly.

GRILLED MARINATED LAMB LOIN AND BABY VEGETABLES

Serves 4
2 racks of lamb, 8 bones per rack
3 cups best-quality olive oil
1/2 bunch basil, finely chopped
1/2 bunch tarragon, finely chopped
1/2 bunch rosemary, finely chopped
1/2 bunch thyme, finely chopped
4 carrots
4 turnips
4 zucchinis

2 eggplants

Julienne of Truffle
16 small slices of lamb
2 cups lamb juice
6 tablespoon truffle juice

Marinate lamb, (deboned and trimmed) 24 hours. Marinate vegetables 1 hour before cooking. Grill loin until medium rare or desired preparation. Blanch carrots and turnips. Mix lamb and truffle juice and heat. Place vegetables aesthetically at the top of the plate. Serve 4 slices of lamb below the vegetables and sprinkle with julienne of truffle. Pour lamb juice lightly around the lamb slices.

RASPBERRY ZABAGLIONE

Serves 2
2 tablespoons Marsala wine
1/4 cup dry white wine
2 tablespoons Chambord liqueur
1 tablespoon sugar
3 egg yolks
1 pinch salt

cinnamon to taste
1 cup raspberries

Mix Marsala, white wine, Chambord, salt and sugar in bottom of copper bowl with wire whisk over low heat. When sugar dissolves, add egg yolks and whip about 5 minutes until zabaglione thickens.

Pour over fresh raspberries and sprinkle with cinnamon. Garnish with Amaretto cookies by Lazarroni.

up with fresh ideas.

BEFORE OPENING her shop Stebbins polled the friends and business people she met through years of volunteer work with the women's auxiliary of the Plymouth Rotary. She wanted to find out what kinds of foods they would like to see in a carryout shop. Many of their ideas were incorporated into her menu selections.

"People are much more health-conscious," Stebbins said. "The trend is definitely toward lighter foods. Beef isn't as popular. It's more fish and seafood."

New recipes are tested at home. Stebbins' husband, Jim, owner of a machine shop, is an accomplished cook with a fondness for the fiery Szechwan Chinese cuisine.

"He is an excellent critic," Stebbins said. "I think our tastes are extremely eclectic."

Son Patrick, 9, a student at Bird Elementary School in Plymouth, is open-minded and willing to try many of the unusual dishes his parents enjoy.

One of Stebbins' personal favorites is oriental pot-stickers, which is a mixture of pork, onions and oriental spices cooked in sesame oil, stuffed into an egg roll wrapper. The rolls are then simmered in chicken broth. Stebbins also enjoys preparing pastas from scratch, including fettuccine Alfredo and lasagna with lemon scallop filling.

THIS MONTH Stebbins began printing a weekly menu of available lunch and dinner choices. Salads are priced at between $5.50 and $6.50 per pound. Her popular vegetable melange — fresh vegetables sauteed in olive oil — is around $3.50 per pound.

Fresh salmon costs $8.50 per pound. A wedge of quiche is $2 and desserts are priced at $2-$2.50 per slice.

In an effort to cash in on the lunch trade, she is planning to deliver brown-bag lunches to office buildings in the Plymouth area.

"I believe there is a definite market for it," Stebbins said.

In addition to her lineup of fresh foods, she also has a selection of frozen appetizers in the store's freezer section. These include almond-stuffed dates, phyllo triangles stuffed with chicken and pecans and mushroom-leek turnovers.

So far Stebbins has found her catering jobs most lucrative, followed by the carryout lunch trade.

"The dinners are a little harder to sell," she said.

STEBBINS RECENTLY catered several parties for a Plymouth real estate firm. She prepared such offerings as endive leaves piped with Boursin cheese, mushrooms stuffed with artichoke and grapes dipped in roquefort cheese and rolled in walnuts. There also were assorted petite pastries, including lemon tartlets, miniature cheesecakes, eclairs and cream puffs.

When a customer wants a truly elegant dessert Stebbins turns to what she calls her "trademark," a rich white chocolate cake wrapped with a band of dark chocolate and topped

Martin's special escargot

BILL MARTIN'S ESCARGOT

12 Imported French escargot (search 'em out, it's worth it)
1 bunch parsley
1 bunch watercress
1/4 cup shallots, diced
8 anchovy fillets
1/4 cup blanched almonds
8 cloves garlic (this is not a misprint)

1/2 pound butter (c'mon, use the real stuff)
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 ounce Pernod (licorice liqueur), optional
5 drops Tabasco juice of 1 lemon

Rinse the escargot, pat dry and set aside. In a food processor, combine the parsley, watercress, shallots, anchovies and almonds. Process until finely chopped. Using room temperature butter, stir in stuffing and mix well. Add salt, pepper, Pernod, Tabasco and lemon juice. Mix well. Place a small amount of mixture in the bottom of the escargot shell. Insert escargot and top with 1 teaspoon of the stuffing mixture. Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes. Enjoy.

Camdens work together as cooking team at home

Our friends and family will attest that my husband, Chip, is a wonderful cook.

He has a love and zest for cooking, coupled with an innate sense of what and how much should go together.

I've learned through the years to not watch when he seasons food because it always looks like he is dumping in everything but the kitchen sink. I cringe when he rummages through the spice rack and the refrigerator, wondering what he is going to make next.

And yet, he never fails to put together the most unlikely concoctions that not only look and taste great, but he also manages to use up a lot of those "must goes" that hang around inside our refrigerator.

After 14 years of marriage, we work as a real team in the kitchen, as do this week's Winner Dinner Winners, Lili Ann and Howard Camden of West Bloomfield.

THEY SUBMITTED one of their family's favorite recipes for a roast-style Brisket of Beef, which has earned them accolades at home as well as a first-prize blue ribbon at the National Beef Cook-Off in 1979 at Denver, Colo.

Served with -buttered noodles, Howard's Caesar Salad and Lili Ann's Peanut Butter Delights, this is a delicious and hearty meal, perfect for these cold wintry nights that we have ahead of us.

The parents of two grown young men, who also enjoy cooking, the Camdens complement one another in the kitchen. Each has his or her own specialties: Howard's being meat and salads and Lili Ann's being baking and desserts. They have an extensive library of cookbooks to turn to for discovering new ideas and techniques.

The Camdens believe good cooking starts with good ingredients. They use only the freshest ingredients and plan their meals around what is currently in season. They enjoy cooking for fun and for pleasure, as it is an expression of love and sharing with their family, relatives and friends. Their togetherness extends to the office, where Howard is an insurance executive and Lili Ann is the office coordinator.

Whether they are working, cooking or traveling, they are a very together and connected couple. They seek out quality in their lives and have found a successful recipe filled with the best ingredients for a happy and fulfilling marriage.

Thank you, Camdens, for sharing your delicious recipes with us and congratulations on being our Winner Dinner Winners of the week. Readers, here's hoping this week's Winner Dinner will put a brisket in your basket of great recipes!

Submit your recipes, to be considered for publication in this column or elsewhere, to: Winner Dinner, P.O. Box 3503, Birmingham 48012. All submissions become the property of the publisher. Every winner receives an apron with the words Winner Dinner Winner on it.

Each week's recipes are printed the same size so that you may clip and save them in a three-ring binder. Use a paper punch to make holes in the clipping or paste the clipping on a blank sheet of three-ring notebook paper. Another option is to simply file the clippings in a folder with pockets that will hold them.

Recipes

BLUE RIBBON BRISKET OF BEEF

This hearty dish will amply feed 6 people. It can be made a day in advance, refrigerated and reheated before serving.

It takes a good half hour to assemble, but your efforts will be rewarded as your house fills with fragrant aromas that are guaranteed to pique all appetites. Serve with buttered noodles, always a hit with the kids.

When selecting a brisket, select a pointed "front cut" which has more flavor than a flat, oblong "first cut."

- 1 6-8 pound beef brisket (front cut)
- 3 tablespoons cooking oil
- 4 stalks celery, including leaves, chopped up
- 2 rounded tablespoons beef bouillon
- 1 large green pepper, chopped up
- 4 minced garlic cloves or 2 tablespoons garlic powder
- 3 medium onions, chopped up
- 1/2 tablespoon fresh milled pepper
- 4 cups of your favorite dry red wine
- 18 small whole redskin potatoes, peeled, or two 1-pound cans of small whole potatoes, drained
- 10, plus 1, carrots, cut in half
- 10, plus 1, parsnips, cut in half
- 2 teaspoons dill weed
- 3 bay leaves

- Garnishment
- 1 bunch parsley
- 2 medium-size ripe tomatoes

Trim off any excess fat and brown meat well in roasting pan or dutch oven on both sides in cooking oil. Remove meat from pot. Cook up onion, celery and green peppers plus one diced carrot and one diced parsnip so they are all well browned. Fat side up, sprinkle the meat with the garlic, beef bouillon and pepper. Then take one-half of the sauteed mixture and place underneath the roast in the roasting pan. Place the other half of the sauteed mixture on top of the roast. Put in dutch oven or roasting pan with a covered top. Add wine. Put in 325-degree oven and cook for 3-3 1/2 hours.

When the roast has been cooking 3-3 1/2 hours and appears almost done, add more liquid, if necessary. Add the peeled carrots, parsnips and potatoes and cook for approximately 1 hour or until the vegetables are tender. Meat should be fork tender.

When the roast is done, remove from pan, wait 20 minutes, then slice the meat across the grain. Taste the meat and adjust the flavorings. Garnish with parsley and sliced tomatoes. Serve with the cooked potatoes, carrots, parsnips and remaining juices.

HOWARD'S CAESAR SALAD

This recipe serves 4 generous portions. It is very important to use a good grade of Italian olive oil and freshly grated imported Parmesan cheese. The salad should be made just before serving.

- 2 medium cloves of garlic, peeled
- 1/2 cup imported top-quality virgin olive oil
- 1 cup garlic croutons (melt 1/2 stick of butter or margarine in a skillet. Add 3 or 4 pressed garlic cloves and toss plain or seasoned croutons until all the moisture has been absorbed by the croutons.)
- 1 large head fresh romaine lettuce
- 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

- 1 teaspoon Coleman dry mustard
- 1 cup fresh grated imported Italian Parmesan cheese
- fresh milled pepper
- 2 coddled or fresh egg yolks
- juice of one medium lemon
- 1 dash Tabasco
- 4 filets of anchovies (optional)

In a large wooden bowl, add the olive oil, 1/2 teaspoon fresh milled pepper, 2 egg yolks, lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce, mustard, Tabasco, anchovies and 1/2 of the Parmesan cheese. Finely chop the garlic clove and add to the mixture.

Take a wooden spoon and thoroughly mash the anchovies into the mixture. Stir the mixture well. Taste the dressing and adjust if you desire. If you want it more tart, add more lemon. If it is too tart, add a little bit of sugar. If you want it spicier, add more Tabasco.

Add the washed and dried romaine lettuce, which has been broken into bite-sized pieces. Add the croutons. Mix well so all the leaves have some of the mixture on them. Divide the mixture on 4 serving plates and top with the remaining Parmesan cheese and a good dash of milled pepper.

A couple of anchovies and two cherry tomatoes may be added for garnishment and additional taste.

LILI ANN'S

PEANUT BUTTER DELIGHTS

- 1/2 cup white Karo syrup
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1 cup peanut butter
- 3 cups Special K cereal
- 1/2 cup chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup butterscotch chips
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon

Put syrup, sugar and peanut butter in saucepan. Cook on low heat until blended and then add cereal and chips. Then add cinnamon. Spread on a buttered cookie sheet, 9-by-13 inch, and let cool completely before cutting into one-inch squares. Place each square into a small size cupcake liner, which will add to the attractiveness.

With layers of edible chocolate leaves.
 "It's a very showy cake," Stebbins said. "Of course, presentation is everything." Another favorite dessert, very popular in Stebbins' native Australia, is a confection called Pavlova. It is named after the famed Russian ballerina Anna Pavlova.
 The dessert, made with egg whites and a small quantity of sugar, is a meringue which, when baked, is crunchy on the outside and melt-in-your-mouth marshmallow inside. Stebbins serves it with a liqueur-based sauce, or a chocolate or lemon topping.

 Stebbins is currently developing a variety of dishes to meet the American Heart Association's guidelines for lowered fat and sodium. She stressed that her main objective is providing a top-quality product to her customers.

 "I thoroughly enjoy what I do," she said. "I get a great deal of satisfaction from people telling me how much they enjoy what I have prepared for them"

Savory Fare Ltd. is at 515 Forest, Plymouth, phone 454-9669. Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, closed Sunday.

PAN-SMOTHERED PORK CHOPS WITH CLOVE AND ORANGE

- 2 ripe tomatoes (1/4 pound)
- 1 small onion finely diced (about 1/4 cup)
- 1 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 tablespoon finely minced garlic
- 4 thick loin pork chops
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 tablespoons salad oil
- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons white wine vinegar.
- 1 orange, grated zest only

In food processor pulse together tomatoes, onion, cloves and garlic; or finely chop by hand. Pat pork chops dry and dust on both sides with flour, shaking off excess. Preheat oven to 200 degrees. Heat oil in heavy 12-inch skillet over high heat. Add chops and lightly brown on both sides, about 6 minutes. Tilt skillet to discard remaining oil. Reduce heat to medium and add tomato mixture and the milk. Let cook, uncovered, about 6 minutes. Turn chops and cook 4 minutes more. (Don't worry when milk curdles during the cooking; you haven't done anything wrong.) Remove chops to plate and keep warm in oven. Increase stove heat to high, add vinegar and orange zest to the cooking puree and cook 1 minute. Arrange chops on a serving platter and strain the sauce over the chops, pushing the puree ingredients in the sieve with a wooden spoon to extract as much of the liquid as possible. Serves 4. (Recipe courtesy of Anna Stebbins)

clarification

"Curtain Calls," the cookbook referred to in Larry Jones' column Jan. 1, is no longer available. The cookbook, originally offered by Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre Guild, is out of print.
 A quote attributed to Rabbi Ell-melech Silberberg, in the story Jan. 8 on Sara's Glatt Kosher Deli in Southfield, should have been attributed instead to Morris Goodman, who said, only two out of 10 cows are glatt and that, "The theory is that it's a healthier, superior animal."

Celebrity cookbook published

The 1990 Livonia Jaycee Celebrity Cookbook is now available.
 The book is a collection of more than 80 recipes from celebrities representing the government, media and sports world. It is on sale for $10 plus tax and postage ($2.40).

Included are recipes from such notables as President George and First Lady Barbara Bush, Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett and Livonia Jaycee President Steve Sartorius.
 To obtain a copy call Janet Stecher, Jaycee Cookbook Committee chairperson, at 261-6398, or mail a check for $12.40 to the Jaycees at P.O. Box 2039, Livonia 48151.

Net proceeds from the sale of the book will fund a Madonna College scholarship endowment fund.
 Additional national celebrities contributing to the cookbook include Erna Bombbeck, syndicated columnist; Jacques Demers, Detroit Red Wings; Lee Iacocca, Chrysler Corp.; Cloris Leachman, actress; Thomas Monaghan, Detroit Tigers; Donald Peterson, Ford Motor Co.; Vice President and Mrs. Dan Quayle, and Don Rickles, comedian.

Among local notables who have provided recipes are Joel Alexander, WJR; Betty Jean Awrey, Awrey's Bakery; State Rep. Lyn Bankes; Sister Mary Francilene, Madonna College; Sen. Robert Geake; Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara; Neal Shine, Detroit Free Press; Isiah Thomas, Detroit Pistons, and Steve Yzerman, Detroit Red Wings.

An open letter to newspaper advertisers.

How to evaluate your options in light of the Detroit JOA.

The JOA has pretty much turned media advertising on its ear. Shockingly higher rates. New contracts. Uncertain circulation. In the midst of this turmoil, it's more important than ever before to take a careful look at the Detroit market.

Here are some facts to consider.

SPRING, the network of 45 suburban daily and weekly papers is now delivering more key customers for less money than either the News or the Free Press.

Of all the newspaper alternatives, SPRING reaches the greatest number of people you want to reach. More than 1,000,000 readers in more than 500,000 suburban households surrounding Detroit. Men and women with the spending power, smarts, and savvy to buy what you have to sell.

What's more, SPRING is efficient.

One sales rep, one insertion order, one ad copy, and one invoice does it all.

The bottom line? If you are a newspaper advertiser, you have a legitimate choice. You can look at the JOA as a new problem—or you can look at SPRING as a new solution.

Naturally, we hope you'll choose SPRING.

Fluke play beats Stevenson in OT

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Ryan Johnson put his football instincts to good use on the basketball floor Friday.

The 6-foot-3, 215-pound senior, an All-Area football player, scored a team-high 19 points, including the game-winning basket in overtime, leading Plymouth Salem to a 76-74 overtime triumph over visiting Livonia Stevenson in a Western Lakes Activities Association (Lakes Division) showdown.

Johnson, who has a nose for the action, caught teammate Mike Mulder's 21-foot airball underneath the hoop and threw in a over-the-shoulder, two-handed reverse layup off the glass as the buzzer sounded to give Salem the win.

The play was reminiscent of North Carolina State's last-second 54-52 victory over Houston in the 1983 NCAA championship final.

"It was like a pass in football, it just fell into my hands," said Johnson, a linebacker/fullback. "I knew there was not much time, so I put it up and it fell in. I was conscious of the clock, so I just put it up."

SALEM COACH Bob Brodie, who joked afterward that it was a "planned play," said Johnson "deserved it."

"He's always in the right place at the right time, picking up loose balls and grabbing rebounds," said Brodie, whose team is 5-1 overall. "I can't think of anybody else on our team who deserved it more."

Stevenson coach Jim McIntyre, whose team fell to 4-3 overall, could only shrug his shoulders about the last-second loss.

"We got hypnotized by the missed aerial bomb," said the Stevenson coach. "We never followed the flight of the ball. We thought it was going to be another overtime, but that's a lesson I guess you learn the hard way."

Salem jumped out to an 18-11 first-quarter lead, but Stevenson clawed back to within one at the half, 33-32.

The Spartans tied it at 49-all after three quarters and pulled ahead by five, 60-55, as late as 4:16 in the final period.

Salem then made a charge, taking a three-point lead, 65-62, with 1:15 to go in regulation on a free throw by Mulder, who came off the bench to score 16 points.

BUT STEVENSON'S Rick Laven (17 points) tied it at 65-all just 10 seconds later on one of his five three-pointers.

The score remained that way at the end of regulation, although Stevenson's Steve Leonard had a chance to win it, missing the front-end of a one-and-one with four seconds to play.

The 6-5 senior went to the line after the Spartans' 6-9 center Glenn Szeman (14 points) blocked Johnson's shot with six seconds left.

Salem's K.C. Kirkpatrick (10 points) fouled out when he made contact with Leonard on the rebound.

In the overtime, Salem led 74-71 with only 20 seconds left on two free throws by Mulder, but Stevenson refused to fold, even with top scorer Ron Baran (22 points) banished to the bench with his fifth foul.

His replacement, sophomore guard Matt Grodzicki, came in cold off the bench and fired in a clutch three-pointer with just five seconds to play.

Mulder rushed the ball down the floor for Salem, launching a high-arching shot just beyond the top of the key. Johnson, streaking underneath on the baseline, snagged the errant shot.

"Late in the game we wanted to push the ball," said Brodie. "Our game is up-tempo. We like to run. But it's a double-edged sword because Stevenson also likes to run and we're playing into their hands."

"THAT'S A GOOD basketball team (Stevenson) and it took everything we had to beat them. It was one of those games where whoever had the ball last, was going to win. And we were fortunate to have it at the end."

Stevenson did a reasonable job holding Salem's 6-5 center Jake Baker in check with a box-and-one defense. Baker, who finished with 14, had only two in the final 11 minutes. He was one of four Salem players in double figures. (Tom Noonan also chipped in with 11).

The 6-9 Szeman, who did not start, made his presence known, particularly in the final quarter when he made several key plays, highlighted by a monstrous dunk.

"It was a good game for Glenn and maybe now it tells our guards that there is some backside help on offense if he remains active on the boards," McIntyre said. "We had some nice opportunities, but we may have gotten away from our set offense. When we played hard on defense, we got into a good rhythm, but when we went solo or with just one person individually, we got out of sync."

JOHNSON, meanwhile, is a player who can disrupt the flow of any opposing team, constantly diving on the floor and jockeying for rebounding position.

"I play scrappy and just try to get the things done to win a game," said Johnson, who has talked to such football schools as Eastern Michigan, Toledo, Cincinnati and Wyoming. "It was a team effort. Everybody gave it their all."

Ladywood surprised by Mercy in opener

By Ray Setlock
staff writer

volleyball

The sad look on Livonia Ladywood volleyball coach Tom Teeters' face told the story Thursday night.

Farmington Hills Mercy coach Tim DeBeliso, meanwhile, looked anything but depressed. The story had a happy ending for the Marlins.

Mercy had just beaten its traditional rival, turning back the No. 2-ranked and defending state champion Blazers in a match at Madonna College. Although it took three games, the Marlins were convincing winners over Ladywood, 15-11, 12-15 and 15-10.

Mercy improves its record to 14-0, but no previous victory has been as big, according to DeBeliso. Ladywood has won the last two Class A titles, and the Marlins have usually been bridesmaids in the Catholic League's Central Division.

"Ladywood was the best team we've played so far this season and it was our biggest victory," DeBeliso said. "The kids were really excited going into the match, and I think this was something they really wanted and went out and got."

MERCY APPEARED to have things wrapped up in the second game, leading 11-4, but the Blazers went on a spurt, eventually beating the Marlins.

"In that second game, we started to look ahead and it caught up with us," DeBeliso said. "We wanted to get those four points so bad, we ended up making mistakes in the process."

Despite losing the second game, mistakes were few, actually, for the Marlins, who took command early in each game and established sizable leads in all three.

In the first, Mercy led 11-4 before the Blazers closed the margin to 13-11. In the third game, the Marlins enjoyed a 9-2 advantage, but Ladywood rallied to tighten the score at 14-10.

"I was real happy with the way we jumped out and got huge leads," DeBeliso said. "It was an excellent team effort. We really displayed our mental toughness."

Teeters wasn't pleased with the way his team fell behind but liked how it battled back and narrowed the margin.

"I was really impressed with the comebacks," he said. "I would rather look good losing than have a cheap win."

DESPITE THE loss, Teeters believes feels the Blazers, 0-1, made a strong showing in their season debut. "I thought we possessed a strong, winning attitude," he said. "It's something Ladywood has had for about three years, and it showed when we made those important comebacks."

Andrea Velthoven led the Marlins with 12 kills. Lee Albrecht and Jennifer Goff had eight apiece. Peggy Knittel proved to be a dominant force for the Blazers. The 5-foot-8 outside hitter recorded 16 kills.

"Velthoven has really come on strong for us," DeBeliso said. "She hits the ball hard and has become a serious threat."

Maureen Paulin recorded eight digs to lead the Marlins on defense.

"Maureen is probably our most improved player," DeBeliso said. "She helps us out in a lot of tough situations."

Clarenceville spikers win handily

Livonia Clarenceville opened its Metro Conference volleyball season Wednesday with a 15-7, 15-7 triumph over visiting Mount Clemens Lutheran North.

The Trojans, now 3-0 overall, were led by senior middle hitter Christi Hunter, senior setter Tara Riedl and junior outside hitter Danielle Rose.

"Tara was really hustling and had some nice sets," said Clarenceville coach Mary Hursley. "She also was very consistent with her serves."

"Danielle had some good hits (five kills) and some nice saves."

"Overall the team played very well."

Clarenceville missed four serves in the opening game, but only one in the second game.

LIVONIA STEVENSON ran its Western Lakes Activities Association mark to 2-0 Wednesday with a 15-2, 15-4, 15-5 win over visiting Farmington Harrison in a WLAA match.

Collette Rockwell paced the winners with 10 good attacks in 11 attempts, including four kills.

Sue Bell added nine ace serves in 22 attempts, while freshman Patty Diamond contributed 17 of 18 sets, including seven assists.

Senior Renea Bonser added 12 of 13 serves, including four aces. She also had six assists in 15 sets.

"We set team goals before each match," said Stevenson coach Lee Cagle, whose team is 4-2 overall.

"Our goal was to control every aspect of the game and we did that very well."

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN opened WLAA action Wednesday at home with a 15-2, 14-16, 15-4, 15-7 win over Livonia Franklin.

Offensively, sophomore Nikki Wojcik and Nikki Nagel each recorded five kill shots.

Glenn is 4-6 overall.

Support system for Schoolcraft athletes is failing

THE EASIEST THING to do would be to rattle off something trite. Like "The best laid plans of mice and men."

Or "Those who can, do; those who can't, teach."

Or even "Oh well. Back to the drawing board."

All three could be applied to the situation surrounding Schoolcraft College's mens basketball team. With accuracy. But any of the above would be making too light of something that has surpassed serious to become alarmingly tragic.

After all the preparations and adjustments, a much-ballyhooed attempt to make certain Schoolcraft College's athletes were students first and foremost has failed miserably.

The Student Athlete Support System (SASS), with its weekly checks and tutoring services and study halls, did not fulfill its promise. Not even close.

A WEEK BEFORE the first semester ended at SC, mens basketball coach Dave Bogataj was asked how his players — excuse me, student-athletes — were faring off the court.

Bogataj responded by saying most were doing very well, as near as he could tell. "Of course," he added, "you never know." Still, none — not one — failed to receive a weekly ticket to play over the final five weeks of the semester. So it could only be assumed all were passing and all would remain eligible.

On Dec. 30, Bogataj found out differently. Privately, he thought he might lose a player or two to grades at the semester break. After all, last season he lost seven of 12, a disaster of such proportion that immediate action was deemed necessary. Hence the creation of SASS.

"Disappointed is not the word," Bogataj said when he was called at home during the holiday break and informed that five of his players failed to make grades. Jeff Elliott, Sean Hansen, Rob Harmon, Butch Layow and Chris Hebler did not meet the minimum 2.0 grade point average needed to stay athletically eligible.

WHAT'S EVEN worse, two of those — Elliott, from Plymouth Salem, and Hansen — weren't even in the ballpark. Their grade points were reportedly under 1.0.

How could this happen? How could two players obviously flunking most of their classes continue to receive weekly permission from their instructors — who were supposed to sign progress reports on athletes each and every week — continue playing right until the end of the semester?

"We're researching that right now," said SC athletic director Marty Nowak. "I was totally shocked."

"The system needs some fine-tuning," said SASS director Sirikka Gudun.

"This is something we're going to have to work out," said Bogataj.

So much for the best laid plans of mice and men. As far as "those who can't, teach" — well, let Gudun explain one of SASS's failures: "Some instructors did not send us the information and the system broke down."

Translated, that can only mean someone (besides the athletes) wasn't doing their job. The SASS personnel didn't notice reports were missing, and some instructors apparently did not take the reports too seriously.

"THAT WHOLE student-athlete support thing is a joke," one athlete told me. "They don't care. I don't want to be treated special or anything, but I think most instructors like to make it harder on us."

The bottom line is this: Once again, for the third-straight year, SC's mens basketball team has failed to make it past the first week of January with any hope of winning as many as it loses. A goal like that would have been difficult to achieve with a full roster, last Wednesday, the Ocelots had only seven active players against Highland Park CC.

One of the biggest complaints of junior college coaches is the almost annual rebuilding necessary. The longest any player can stick around is two seasons.

For Bogataj, rebuilding is constant. It's a twice-a-year job, first training a team from August to September, then scouring school halls for players in January. He's signed a couple of ex-high school football players, Gary Strunk and Tom Stark, to help out for the remainder of this season.

BUT THIS is no way to run a program.

A SASS meeting is scheduled for Jan. 22. Gudun has promised to get the bugs worked out of the system. Instructors will be made aware that athletes who aren't passing should not receive a ticket to play for that week. And if an athlete cancels an appointment with a tutor, he's sidelined.

Both Nowak and Bogataj have said the program, in spite of its dismal record, is not in danger of cancellation. "Not at this point," said Nowak.

"They're giving me time," said Bogataj. "I don't know how, much time."

Fourteen of the 26 players who started with the team over the last two seasons were gone by January — most for academic reasons.

"Something's got to be changed," admitted Nowak. "Indeed it does."

Cichy sparks Spartans' win

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

When Livonia Churchill meets Livonia Stevenson on the ice, sticks massage the back of some necks and the boards creak in weariness afterwards.

No different Friday night, despite the Spartans skating away in a 6-0 rout against the cross-town rival Chargers in a showdown for first place in the Suburban High School Hockey League at Eddie Edgar Arena.

The win puts Stevenson in a first-place tie with Churchill. Both teams have 4-1 league marks.

A few marks and some bruises might be left on some players as hits were heavy on both sides. But only Stevenson got around to the business of scoring goals.

Forward Matt Cichy slipped in three goals for the hat trick, while John Brodhun added two goals along with John Fenech's tally to lead the Spartans.

Goaltender Kevin Brady picked up the shutout.

THE VICTORY was the second lopsided win for Stevenson, 5-4-2 overall, which defeated Wyandotte on Wednesday, 12-1, as Cichy racked up four goals.

Stevenson knew it was in for a tougher time against Churchill.

"There was a lot of hitting," said Stevenson coach Paul Ferguson. "We expected that. The guys kept their head up and kept moving the puck."

Sure did. Federal Express couldn't have done better. Stevenson scored three minutes into the game on a knuckleball slap shot from Brodhun. Fenech added another goal with 4:35 to give the Spartans a 2-0 lead after the first period.

hockey

After a relatively calm start to the second period, the Spartans struck for two quick goals just six seconds apart by Brodhun and Cichy. After another goal by Cichy, the Chargers were looking at a 5-0 deficit going into the third period.

Not that Churchill was without its chances. In fact, the Chargers were 0-of-7 on power play situations.

THE ANEMIC Churchill power play didn't make coach Rudy Varvari happy. Neither did the errant slap shot that hit him in the lower abdomen earlier in the game.

"We had enough power plays," said Varvari, whose team is 5-4-1 overall. "That was the thing, we worked on our power play all week. We didn't execute."

Perhaps one of the few bright spots for the Chargers was the goaltending. Jason Devlin played in the first two periods, yielding five goals. He couldn't be faulted for most of them. And, at times, looked brilliant.

Just ask Stevenson forward John Labadie, who broke in alone on Devlin in the first period. Labadie tried to go up high with a wrist shot, but the senior netminder robbed him with a glove save.

Afterward, Labadie skated over and patted Devlin on the head. Labadie's luck didn't fare better against freshman David Watson, who replaced Devlin in the third period.

Labadie picked up a loose puck at the blue line and skated in alone on Watson. Again, the Stevenson forward was thwarted by a glove save. And, again, Labadie went over and patted the netminder on the head.

BUT THOSE were the only conciliatory gestures. After all, this is Churchill and Stevenson were talking about here. A total of 17 minors were called with slashing registered as the most popular infraction (four called).

Labadie did help engineer Stevenson's first goal, getting an assist on Brodhun's slap shot from the point. Jeff Mitchell and Kris Johnson both had two assists in the game.

Scoring honors, though, went to Cichy who had a four-point night with three goals and an assist. His four goals Wednesday against Wyandotte gave him seven goals in two games.

"The second game against CC (Catholic Central), he started to get his scoring touch back," Ferguson said. "He's got a nice set of wheels. He can move. You can't replace speed."

Pats' Jobbitt gains 100th victory

Livonia Franklin hockey coach Terry Jobbitt notched his 100th career victory Thursday as his Patriots rallied for a 6-5 victory over Bloomfield Hills Andover in a Suburban High School encounter at the Detroit Skating Club.

"It's the best we've played all year," said Jobbitt. "Everybody on the team played very well. My boys were back-checking and really hustling."

Franklin rallied from a 5-3 deficit by outscoring the Barons 3-0 in the final period.

winner, a short-handed, unassisted effort at 11:58.

Dan McKay, who had the hat trick, scored at 5:51 from Brian Stover and Rick Bernard. He also scored at 4:05 on an assist from Bernard.

McKay tallied a power-play goal from Stover and Sharkey in the opening period as the Patriots trailed, 2-1.

Andover outscored Franklin 3-2 in the second period.

Stover scored from Burr at 17 seconds, while Kurt Kampf added another Franklin goal at 11:25, Bernard drawing one of his three assists.

stopped 25 shots.

Franklin is 4-6 overall and 3-3 in league play, while Andover dipped to 2-4 in the league.

STEVENSON 12, WYANDOTTE 0: In a Suburban League encounter Wednesday at Yack Arena, Livonia Stevenson ran roughshod over the host Bears behind Matt Cichy's four goals and two assists.

Stevenson unleashed 54 shots on goal. Other Spartans in the scoring parade included John Fenech, three goals and two assists; Josh Clark, two goals and one assist; B.J. Eglinton, one goal and one assist; John Labadie, one goal and two assists; Chris Johnson, three assists; and Matt Kozar, one goal.

Goalie Kevin Brady stopped 24 shots, including a breakaway attempt.

Rice defeats Shamrocks

Birmingham Brother Rice ran its wrestling mark to 7-0 with a hard-fought 33-26 triumph over host Redford Catholic Central in a match Friday afternoon.

Jason Snooks (119) and John McGuire (189) paced the Warriors' victory by pinning their opponents. Snooks stuck CC's Mike Sherman at 4:50 and McGuire pinned Dan Gusos at 1:53.

Rice's Derek Moscovic (112) managed a 7-1 decision over Rusty Fowler, Darren Flagg (135) drubbed Jose Tandoc 13-4, Chris Snooks (152) outscored Dominic Scicluna 11-3, Jason Lerdahl (160) pummeled Sean Ziadah 20-4 and Brian Alessi (171) slipped past Dan Kelly 7-2.

Catholic Central got victories

from Mario Scicluna (103), Chris Rieple (140), Jay Helm (145), Mauida Martin (125) and Rob Sylvester (heavyweight).

Scicluna pinned Pat Mulleroni in 5:50, Rieple caught Mike Walker in 1:30 and Helm, considered the state's best at his weight class, stuck Justin Parr at 1:30. Martin gained a 14-7 decision over Duane Wilfong and Sylvester was a 4-1 winner over Ryan Chayka.

Garrett Sharp of Rice and Jim Raglow of CC battled to a 1-1 draw at 130 pounds.

Rockets take 3 in 4-way format

LIVONIA FRANKLIN fell Thursday to visiting Walled Lake Western, 38-22, in Western Lakes Activities Association wrestling match.

The Warriors won seven of the 13 duels, five by pin. Franklin was victorious in six matches with one pin.

Franklin heavyweight Bob Johnson led the Patriots with a pin over Matt Lobig in 37 seconds of the first period.

Franklin's Aaron Ingold (119) earned a 7-0 decision over Benji Kim, while teammate Derrick Downey (125) gained a 4-0 win against Western's Tom Melazuski.

Nick Kostakis (130) earned a 5-3 victory over Western's Ron Noble, Jay Wheeler (160) improved to 10-1 with a 12-2 decision over Western's Mike Malazuski and Franklin's Brian Whetstone (189) clipped Larry West, 3-2.

LIVONIA STEVENSON won eight matches Thursday, improving to 2-6 on the season with a 42-23 win over Farmington in a WLAA match.

Stevenson's Brian Pierce (103) decimated Rob Sutton, 13-0, and Larry Caplan (112) followed with a pin over Farmington's John Lane in 44 seconds. Ryan Carriere (119) stuck Farmington's Chris Phillips in 3:42, Brian Mitchell (140) earned a 7-0 decision over Dave Mange, and Adam Samulski (145) pinned Farmington's Mike Pallo in 1:43. Stevenson's Doug Carmack (152) battled to Chris Kresel to a 6-6 tie, while Spartan Chris Lehti (171) snuck by Kent Allison, 4-3. Stevenson's Barry Greco (189) and Denver Styes (heavyweight) each won by void.

"I'm very pleased with our effort," said Stevenson coach Don Berg. "We're really in a rebuilding year. We have a young team, but they are a pleasure to work with because they pay attention and work hard."

John Duff, Brian Link and Joe Goodesone each recorded pins for the Falcons, who slipped to 1-6.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN crushed Walled Lake Central (58-12) in a WLAA match Thursday. The host Rockets added victories over Romulus (39-26) and Ypsilanti (45-21) as they breezed through the quadrangle meet.

Glenn is 10-2 in dual meet competition.

Jeremy Samples (103), Eric Ewing (130), Kraig Kuban (171) and Garnett Woody (189) won all three of their matches for the Rockets.

Patriots' McCool ices Walled Lake Western

By Bill Parker
staff writer

Steve McCool was anything but cool Friday night.

The Livonia Franklin junior center heated up the Walled Lake Western gym with a 17-point third-quarter performance, sparking the Patriots to a 73-52 victory in both teams' Western Lakes Western Division opener. The win evened Franklin's record at 3-3 while Western slipped to 1-6.

With the halftime score knotted at 27 apiece, McCool exploded early in the third quarter, hitting his first five shots on a combination of inside dumps and outside jumpers, as Patriots took control, 37-27.

"He (McCool) felt good and hit his first two shots," said Franklin coach Rod Hanna. "We have a philosophy to go to the hot man and the kids read that beautifully."

Western coach Dick Hobson was also impressed with McCool's third-quarter outburst. "We ran into a buzz saw. (McCool) had a real nice outside shot. It's tough to stop something like that once it gets started."

WESTERN'S JEFF KUBIK finally cooled McCool when he drove the lane, hit the bucket and drew a foul on McCool. Todd Biron followed Kubick's free throw with a jumper to pull the Warriors to within five, 37-32, with just over five minutes remaining in the third.

DAN DEAN/staff photographer
Franklin's David Barina takes the ball to the hoop Friday night.

Franklin responded with a 14-3 run in the closing minutes of the third to take a commanding 51-35 lead.

Keith Roberts (seven points) started the run with an inside basket and followed it with a triple. McCool finished the run with six points down the stretch including a jumper from the corner with 22 remaining in the third.

"In the third quarter we couldn't buy a basket," admitted Hobson, whose team shot 20 percent in the third quarter after converting just 2-of-11 from the floor in the second. "We didn't shoot well. We've been having a problem with that."

MARK LITTLE and Craig Overaitis led seven Franklin players who scored in the fourth quarter with six and five points respectively as both coaches looked to the bench.

"As a coach you're always analyzing and looking for improvements," Hanna said. "I was not happy with the first half, but we have quality kids and they proved it by coming back in the second half."

Western took advantage of eight Franklin turnovers in the first quarter and jumped out to an 18-14 lead.

Six players scored for Western in the first quarter, led by Chris Johnson with six and Chris Sobleck with four.

Overaitis and David Barina kept Franklin close dumping in six points apiece.

Western took its biggest lead, 23-16, on a basket by Biron with 3:42 remaining in the first half.

Franklin closed the half with an 11-4 run, led by McCool with six and Overaitis with five as the half ended tied at 27-27.

McCool led 10 Franklin scorers with 23 points and Overaitis chipped in with 16. Roberts finished with seven points while Barina and Little dumped in six each.

"(McCool) had the big night, but our offense was well spread out," Hanna said. "I think the key was our pressure and intensity in the second half and McCool getting hot."

Chris Malloy led Western with 16 points, Biron finished with 12 and Johnson scored 11.

Late run gives Eagles 68-66 win

basketball

In the second quarter of Friday's Taylor Kennedy-at-Redford Thurston boys basketball game, a showdown between two Tri-River League powers, Thurston canned 13-of-14 free throws. That is why the Eagles led 45-31 at the half.

By the end of three quarters, Thurston had a commanding 57-41 advantage, and again free-throw shooting was a big reason. The Eagles had made 20-of-25 (80 percent) from the line to that point.

Then something happened. "We just couldn't make a free throw in the fourth quarter," said Thurston coach Mike Schuette. But, as Schuette added, "If you wait long enough, good things will happen. And we waited long enough."

That the Eagles did. They waited until just six seconds remained for Justin McEwen to nail two free throws — and for Kennedy's Brian White to bounce a three-pointer off the rim at the buzzer — to claim a 68-66 victory.

Thurston improved to 5-3 overall and to 4-2 in the league with the win. Kennedy is 6-2 overall, 5-1 in the league.

"It shouldn't have been that close," said Schuette. "We had a 20-point lead and lost it."

Thurston lost it because it missed the front end of six one-and-ones in the fourth quarter. The Eagles made just four-of-13 from the line in the period.

With :25 left, the game was tied at 66 and Thurston had the ball. Kennedy fouled Julius Maisano with 11 seconds remaining. Maisano missed his first one-and-one free throw but D.J. Kellogg rebounded and dished the ball into McEwen, who was fouled on his attempted layup.

McEwen finished with 10 points. Jason Muller led Thurston with 23 points, including four triples; he had nine points in the Eagles' second-quarter surge. Jamie Zalewski scored 14. White led Kennedy with 17 points. Aaron Mach got 12 and Scott Martinez netted 11.

GLENN 59, W.L. CENTRAL 38: A 19-5 first-quarter outburst was all Westland John Glenn really needed to handle Walled Lake Central Friday at Glenn.

Rocket coach Bob Killingbeck, whose team improved to 5-1 overall and is 1-1 in the Western Lakes Activities Association's Lakes Division, used the game as a tune-up for this week's challenges. Glenn plays Farmington and Livonia Stevenson. "I'm real satisfied with the way we've been playing so far," Killingbeck said. "We've got two real important league games coming up. We got beat pretty well by Stevenson last time, but we kind of fell apart in the second half. We're anxious to meet them again."

Central, which fell to 1-5 overall and is 0-1 in the Lakes, didn't provide much of a challenge. The Vikings trailed 28-12 at the half and it never got closer.

Wayne 58, FORDSON 50: A fourth-quarter rally saved Wayne Memorial Friday at Dearborn Fordson.

The Zebras, 7-1 overall and 5-0 in the Wolverine A League, were down a point midway through the fourth quarter before a three-point play by Pierre Hixon ignited them and they pulled away. They outscored the Tractors 26-17, with Reggie Brandon — who did not play until the second half for disciplinary reasons — getting all eight of his points in the period.

BORGESS 69, GALLAGHER 55: Shawn Respert's 24 points helped keep Redford Bishop Borgess unbeaten in the Catholic League's Central Division, after wearing down Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher Friday at Borgess.

The Spartans, 7-1 overall and 3-0 in the Central, led by just two at the half and by six after three quarters, but they converted enough fourth-quarter free throws to outscore Gallagher 18-10 in the period.

Artie Brown added 15 points for Borgess. Wayne Thomas had 25 for Gallagher (4-4 overall, 1-2 in the Central).

CANTON 51, CHURCHILL 41: There were two reasons why Plymouth Canton, which is 4-0 on the road but 0-2 at home, won Friday at Livonia Churchill: free-throw shooting and defense.

The defeat was the Chargers' first of the season; they are 4-1 overall and 0-1 in the W.L.A.'s Western Division. Canton is 1-0 in the Western.

The Chiefs connected on 18-of-23 from the line (78 percent), including 12-of-13 in the fourth quarter when they held off a Charger surge, outscoring them 20-18. Daryl Magreta had seven points in the period, including five straight foul shots.

Mike Juodawikis and Randy Calcestra each scored 11 points for Churchill. Karl Wukie paced Canton's balanced attack with 11, with Brett Howell, Magreta and Kevin Holmes adding 10 apiece.

HAMTRAMCK 63, C'VILLE 55: Poor free-throw shooting cost Livonia Clarenceville Friday against visiting Hamtramck. The Trojans hit just 11-of-28 from the stripe in the game and were outscored 16-7 in the pivotal fourth quarter.

Dan Nunner's 13 points and 12 rebounds led Clarenceville, which slipped to 3-3 overall and to 0-1 in the Metro Conference. Kendrick Harrington and Chris Foss added 10 points each, but Foss fouled out at the end of the third quarter. Clarenceville led 48-47 at the time.

Claude Finley was best for Hamtramck (4-4 overall, 3-0 in the Metro) with 30 points. Dwane Thompson had 10.

BROTHER RICE 50, CC 44: A better, and more balanced, attack — led by Pete Duggan's three-point shooting — carried Birmingham Brother Rice to a homecourt victory over Redford Catholic Central Friday.

The loss dropped CC to 2-6 overall and to 1-2 in the Catholic League's Central Division. Rice is 5-3 overall, 1-2 in the Central.

Duggan had three triples for the Warriors and finished with 12 points. Paul Arthur's 18 points was best for Rice, Pete Mitchell contributed 10.

Bob Kummer led CC with 16. Steve Whitlow added 10.

EDSEL FORD 54, GARDEN CITY 45: The Cougars just didn't have the firepower to stave off Dearborn Edsel Ford Friday at Edsel.

"Our defense played well, but we just didn't shoot well at all," said Garden City coach Bob Dropp, whose team fell to 1-7 overall and to 0-2 in the Northwest Suburban League. Edsel Ford is 4-4 overall, 2-1 in the NSL.

The Cougars trailed 22-20 at the half and 39-34 after three quarters, but couldn't overcome the Thunderbirds. Bud Barnett's 12 points led GC. Paul Donaldson added 11.

Derek Lowe netted 11 for Edsel Ford.

NOVI 66, REDFORD UNION 60: A first-quarter press resulted in seven RU turnovers and a 16-8 Novi lead, a deficit the Panthers were unable to make up Friday at Novi.

RU did close to within 42-41 in the third quarter, but "we couldn't quite get over the top," said coach Tip Smathers. The Panthers dropped to 5-4 overall with the loss; Novi is 6-2.

Dan Lezotte's 19 points paced RU. Bill Malecki got 15 and Steve Nowak scored 11. Mark Fisher dumped in 28 points for the Wildcats, with Mike Sumeraton adding 11.

TEMPLE 65, FAIRLANE 58: Dearborn Heights Fairlane Christian made a battle of it Friday against visiting Redford Temple Christian with a 16-9 fourth-quarter outburst, but it wasn't enough.

The win improved Temple Christian to 4-3 overall and kept the Patriots unbeaten in three Greater Metro Independent Conference games. Fairlane is 4-2 overall, 0-1 in the Greater Metro.

Temple Christian "played a terrible first half," according to coach Dave Gilliam, but managed to stay within a point, 29-28, at the half. The turnaround came early in the third quarter when the Patriots scored a basket and were intentionally fouled. They converted the free throws, got the ball back and scored again for a six-point play.

Temple Christian outscored Fairlane 28-13 in the quarter, opening up a 56-42 lead entering the final period. Dave Schalte scored 22 points and had five steals to lead the Patriots. Marlon Reed added 20 points and Kevin McCants netted 13. Shawn Justice's 13 points was best for Fairlane.

LIGGETT 85, LUTH. WESTLAND 39: Lutheran Westland was simply overmatched in the second half at Grande Pointe Woods University-Liggett Friday. The Knights outscored Westland 33-10 in the third quarter and 20-4 in the fourth to pull away after building a seven-point halftime lead (32-25).

Chris Habitz's 12 points, eight rebounds and four assists led the Warriors, who fell to 2-5 overall and to 2-1 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. Tarik Lester had 19 points and Kandia Milton 16 for University-Liggett, now 4-2 overall and 2-0 in the MIAC.

On Wednesday, Lutheran Westland's trip to Flat Rock also proved frustrating. The Warriors lost 61-50 to the Rams, victims of a 13-4 first-quarter deficit they never overcame.

The closest Lutheran Westland got was five points midway through the third quarter. Habitz again was the Warriors' catalyst, accumulating 13 points, 12 rebounds and four assists. Doug Nelson added 12 points and 12 rebounds. Mark Villemure's 24 points was best for Flat Rock (7-0 overall). Jeff Wagner got 15.

We Need Volunteers Who Love Happy Campers!

Sun Deer® campers are happy campers and it's no wonder because most severely asthmatic kids are forced to spend their summers indoors. At Camp Sun Deer®, asthmatic kids ages 9-12 participate in a variety of outdoor activities, but they can't do it without your help. The limitations and doubts they face can be diminished by a volunteer who cares. Your participation at Camp Sun Deer® can make all the difference in an asthmatic child's summer.

as the banners for the 1969 state championship track team and 1947 runner-up state cross country squad.

RU invites members of those teams to be present at the halftime ceremony.

Former RU basketball players interested in participating in the game, should contact athletic director Jim Gibbons at 592-3408.

WYAA BASKETBALL

The Westland Youth Athletic Association (WYAA) basketball program, which begins the weekend of Jan. 20-21 (through April), has additional room for players on the freshman level (ages 9-11) and 16-17 year-olds.

Those interested should call league president John Albrecht at 326-8992.

COACHES WANTED

Redford St. Agatha needs a varsity girls track coach and boys varsity baseball coach for the upcoming season.

Those interested should contact athletic director Jim Murphy at 535-1200 (between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.) or 533-5094 (after 5 p.m.).

C'VILLE GYMNASTS 5-1

The Livonia Clarenceville gymnastics squad continued its winning ways Wednesday, defeating host Trenton, 131.5-120.9.

Lisa Granfeldt won a pair of events for the Trojans, now 5-1 overall.

She was first in the balance beam (9.0) and floor exercise (8.7), along with a second place in the uneven bars (8.35) and a third on vault (8.2).

Granfeldt was the all-around champ (34.25).

Teammate Jennifer Kaiplo, second in the all-around at 33.05, took first in the uneven bars (8.4), third in the floor exercise (8.55) and fourth on beam (8.35).

Robertta Wiggle added a first in vault (8.35) and a second on beam (8.5).

Other Clarenceville finishers included Erin McGuire, fourth, bars (8.1); Sherry Hochstadt, fourth, floor exercise (8.3); and Christy Nagorka, fifth, vault (7.85).

Westland John Glenn lost Wednesday to host Plymouth Salem, 131.35-115.45.

Kim Miller paced Salem with firsts in the vault (9.05) and uneven bars (9.15). She was the all-around winner at 33.9.

Glenn's top finishers include Gina Martin, tied for fourth, vault (7.9), Michelle Coombs, fourth, beam (7.6), Chris Prough, fourth, bars (7.55) and floor (8.2). Prough was third in the all-around (30.75).

TANANA TO SPEAK

Madonna College and sponsor Big Bill's Sporting Goods will conduct its annual baseball clinic, Jan. 26-27.

Guest speakers include Frank Tanana of the Detroit Tigers, Gordie Gillespie, coach of three-time NAIA champion St. Francis (Ill.) College, former Tiger and PASS broadcaster Jim Northrup, Plymouth Canton High coach Fred Crissey, and former Redford Thurston High standout and Dearborn Divine Child High head coach Mark Falvo.

The cost is $15 per player (Saturday only), $20 (Saturday coaches only) and $30 (Friday and Saturday coaches only). Included in the fee is a coaches reception (Friday night), free T-shirt and lunch (Saturday).

For more information, call Madonna College coach Mike George at 591-5029 (office) or 537-1130 (home).

McLAIN TO SIGN

On hand to sign free autographs on Saturday will be California Angels pitcher Dan Petry (noon to 2 p.m.) and Tiger pitcher Mike Henneman (2 to 4 p.m.).

On Sunday, former Tiger pitcher Denny McLain (1-3 p.m.) and Atlanta Braves pitching prospect Steve Avery (3 to 5 p.m.) will sign free autographs.

For more information, call Mike George at 591-5029 (office) or 537-1130 (home).

S'craft men pull off surprise

The description suited the accomplishment. "This," said Schoolcraft College mens basketball coach Dave Bogataj, "is a miracle story."

Bogataj's ebullience was well-founded. After all, his team had just defeated Highland Park CC 86-85, something an SC mens team hadn't done since the 1982-83 season.

The Wednesday night win, at SC, improved the Ocelots' record to 8-12 overall and to 2-4 in the Eastern Conference. Highland Park CC, usually a powerhouse but struggling this season, slipped to 2-4 in the conference and 8-7 overall.

Ken Fuster, who had been nursing a sprained ankle suffered against Southwestern CC Jan. 3, got the ball just inside the free-throw line and sank a 12-footer for the game-winning basket with :02 remaining.

The miracle Bogataj alluded to wasn't just SC's beating Highland Park after so many setbacks. The Ocelots did it with just seven players. Five others — Rob Harmon, Jeff Elliott, Sean Hansen, Butch Layow and Chris Hebner — failed to make grades and are ineligible.

THE LOSS of manpower limited Bogataj's strategy. The Ocelots played a zone almost the entire game, trying to avoid foul trouble, and it worked: They committed just eight fouls in the game.

SC got out of the gate quickly, rolling to a 44-26 halftime lead thanks to Al Hudson's inside play. Hudson had four offensive rebounds in the first 20 minutes and scored 13 points; he finished the game with 23 points and 13 boards, hitting eight-of-10 from the floor and all seven of his free throws. Ed Hudson contributed nine first-half points.

But the Panthers battled back behind the three-point shooting of Andre Johnson and Deandre Anderson. Each had four treys in the second half, and a Johnson triple with 1:30 left gave Highland Park its first lead since early in the game, 81-80.

basketball

The Panthers upped it to three, 85-82, with a minute left, but SC's defense got tough. Al Hudson and Fuster stopped a Tim Lanier drive, forcing a turnover with :45 remaining. Fuster then dished a pass inside to Randy Watters for a layup, trimming the deficit to 85-84.

The Panthers aided their own downfall moments later when Johnson drove to the basket and missed. SC rebounded and called timeout with :25 left, setting up Fuster's game-winner.

Fuster finished with 16 points and nine assists as all five SC starters scored in double-figures. Ed Hudson also had 16 points and seven rebounds, Watters got 12 points and nine boards, and Tony Rumples finished with 11 points and six assists. Dave Hamilton came off the bench to net eight points.

Johnson's 26 points paced Highland Park. Lanier had 19 and Anderson 18.

SC WOMEN: With methodical precision, the Lady Ocelots powered the ball inside at Highland Park CC Wednesday. Their determination paid dividends — SC escaped with a 67-66 triumph, which pulled the two teams even in the Eastern Conference race, both at 4-1. SC is 9-3 overall; Highland Park is 14-3.

The game pitted opposing strategies, the Lady Ocelots relying on their inside strength and the Panthers pressuring constantly, utilizing a fast-paced attack.

Highland Park had a 65-62 lead with 1:38 left; SC's Barb Krug narrowed it to 65-64 with a basket. Ann Hardy followed an SC steal with another basket to put the Lady Ocelots ahead by a point.

Each team made one-of-two free throws in the final minute, with Hardy's proving to be the game-winner when the Panthers missed the first of a one-and-one attempt with :10 remaining. Tricia Lucas rebounded the miss for SC.

KRUG LED the Lady Ocelots with 23 points and 15 rebounds. Lisa DePlanche and Lucas had 12 apiece, with DePlanche grabbing seven boards.

"Tracy Osborne and Ann Hardy had to give up some of their shots to go inside to Barb (Krug) and to handle the press, which was pretty intense," said SC coach Jack Grenan of his guard's play.

When Osborne and Hardy tired, Grenan went to Tressa Parkas and Carlotta Dancy in the backcourt, and they responded by making four-of-five field goals in the first half, helping the Lady Ocelots to a 31-29 half-time lead.

"It was an excellent defensive game, to hold Highland Park to 66 points," said Grenan. "It's awfully hard to beat Highland Park if the score gets up in the 80s."

The win was SC's eighth in the last nine games, and it was only the third time in the last three years Highland Park had lost at home.

Rough schedule does in Madonna

Playing two games in two nights is a coach's nightmare. By the end of the second game, his players are usually catatonic, just going through the motions.

Madonna College's women's basketball team faced that kind of scheduling last week, and sure enough the Fighting Crusaders lost twice. But the team's performance in the two defeats defied logic.

At Concordia Tuesday they were thumped 75-56, leading coach Bob Belf to say, "After we stunk it up against Concordia, I wasn't sure what was going to happen (at home Wednesday against Oakland Community College)."

Whatever Belf thought, he wasn't disappointed with the 64-61 setback. Lyndel Ingalls, who dished out 10 assists for the Crusaders but didn't score, tried a game-tying three-pointer at the buzzer and missed.

"We played well," said Belf. "We made three crucial turnovers in the last two minutes that cost us. Our execution down the stretch was high schoolish."

LISA KLINE, who played for two seasons at OCC, performed well against her former team, scoring 17 points and grabbing 11 rebounds. Holly Murphy added 13 points and nine boards, Michelle Dyksinski had 10 points and nine rebounds, and Becky Poszywak finished with 10 points.

Stephanie Niebauer got 26 points for OCC, 18 coming in the first half to pace the Raiders to a 40-37 half-time lead.

The loss dropped Madonna to 1-5, 1-4 against NAIA foes. OCC is 13-4.

In the loss at Concordia Tuesday, Theresa Ternes was one of the few bright spots for the Crusaders, netting 16 points and grabbing nine boards. Ternes, a junior forward from Westland John Glenn, injured the ring finger on her right hand. The extent of the injury was undetermined.

Phyllis Rivard's 17 points topped Concordia, which improved to 7-8. Gretchen Krug added 14 points and 11 boards.

To prevent crime in Tucson, police use sensitive, highly sophisticated surveillance equipment:

Tim, Rose, Gert, Anthony, Yvonne, and Ramon.

Citizen participation is critical to police effectiveness. Do you care about your neighborhood enough to help protect it?

The Case of The Tucson Tip-off.

In a particular neighborhood in Tucson, Arizona, folks were having a real problem with burglaries and break-ins.

They started talking to each other about what they could do. They got fed up. About 400 people went to the police for advice. They learned about surveillance. They got to know their beat officers. Citizens and police became partners in crime prevention.

In just three weeks, 17 arrests were made and burglaries went down 30%. And Tucson is only one case where people successfully worked to beat crime. To find out more, write:

BAND OF THE YEAR

It's the Volebeats

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

At face value, the Volebeats are something of an oddity in the rock-and-roll arena. Many groups try to be different; the Volebeats just are.

One guy holds a stand-up bass, a woman plays the fiddle and another manipulates a slide guitar. No moussé in the hair, no calls for dance floor action. Just a guy with an acoustic guitar crooning in campfire style in front of his band.

If that doesn't freeze the average (meaning cynical) rock-and-roll patron, the sound will. The Volebeats play a smoky brand of music hauntingly familiar to the country stylings of the '50s and '60s.

Yet, the Volebeats do it in a way that is neither patronizing nor mocking.

A country revivalist band? No. A rockabilly group perhaps? Not quite. A cow punk outfit? No way.

In the spotlight, lead singer Jeff Oakes sometimes looks as puzzled as the audience he plays on this night at Lill's 21.

The music that comes through his guitar appears to take Oakes and the rest of his mates back a bit. The Volebeats are, if anything, a story about discovery.

"MOST OF the stuff (instruments) we started off with were broken and we ended up repairing a lot of it," said Jeff Oakes, before the band takes the stage at Lill's. "By using those beat-up instruments, it gives the stuff a different sound in itself."

"We started with these real cheap acoustic guitars you couldn't play beyond the third fret," added guitarist Matthew Smith, who along with Oakes writes a good portion of the songs.

The Volebeats, though, are about chemistry. Several natural camps or divisions exist in the band, depending on how one looks at it.

First, there are brothers Jeff Oakes and Brian Oakes. Then there are the refugee rockers — drummer Mike Murphy and guitarist Mark Niemiński, who have performed with such rock-and-roll outfits as the Frames and Rebecca Kaplan is a classically trained violinist, whose joining the Volebeats has further enhanced the group's pursuit of a backwoods beat.

Staying in London

When it comes to visiting London during the winter, or any season for that matter, you can choose your accommodation style, with the BTA literature as a guide. You can reserve before leaving home, but there are plenty of rooms in winter, so you can wait until you arrive in London, if you prefer.

Most flights arrive in London early in the morning, so you can find lodging through the British Travel Center, a service of the British Tourist Authority, in the heart of London.

The center is at 12 Regent St., a two-minute walk from the Piccadilly Circus subway stop. It's a good place to change money, arrange accommodations, reserve tours, theater tickets and transportation. Open weekdays 9 a.m.-6 p.m., Saturday and Sunday 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

My choice was bed-and-breakfast in a private home, where I would meet local people and where I felt that my camera would be safer than in a hotel room. Mrs. Clasper's townhouse was in suburban Ealing, 20 miles northwest and a 30-minute subway ride from Piccadilly.

I arranged it through London Home-to-Home, one of several bed-and-breakfast agencies listed by BTA. The homes they represent are all in the Western suburbs, charge $29 single or $48 double and provide a full breakfast.

If this is not your cup of tea, or if you would prefer to be closer to the action in downtown London, then choose a BTA-inspected budget hotel. Most have only 10 to 50 rooms and are within three miles of the heart of the city. Singles range from $32 to $48, doubles from $50 to $68 per night, depending on whether you share a bath or have one in your room.

Most of these small hotels include either a continental or full breakfast in their room rates. Some of them, like the Elizabeth Hotel and the Ecclestone Chambers (both close to Victoria Station) are also listed in the very reliable guide book, "Passport to Europe's Small Hotels and Inns," by Beverly Beyers.

Even if you reserve ahead, you should examine the hotel and your room before signing the register. If it's not what you want, try another one.

A man's way to see sights of royal city

By Micky Jones
special writer

(Last of two parts)

You are in London, England, with the return half of a low-priced air ticket in your pocket, a Visitor Travelcard that covers your London transportation, and either a reservation or a list of the budget hotels and bed-and-breakfast homes for your selection.

Our budget allowed $800-$900 for a week, including about $400 for air fare, $30 to $40 a night for accommodations and breakfast, $5 for a light lunch, $12 for dinner and a glass of wine, and about $25 a day for sightseeing and entertainment.

If you didn't bring the literature you received from the British Tourist Authority's Chicago office, plan to pick some up at the British Travel Center, 12 Regent St., near Piccadilly Circus, where you can also reserve accommodations.

You'll appreciate the airport's free baggage carts as you wind your way from baggage pickup and customs to the Bureau de Change, where you convert U.S. dollars into English pounds and on to exchange your Visitor Travelcard voucher for the magnetic-striped card that will allow you to ride on any subway or bus system in the city.

The voucher can only be bought from a travel agent in the U.S., but you will start using the card when you board the underground train in the basement of the airport terminal for the 40-minute ride to central London on the Piccadilly line.

A QUICK and easy way for the first-time visitor to get an overall view of central London is by bus on the Original London Transport Sightseeing-Tour. It leaves from various pickup points every 30 minutes and is probably worth making a $9.75 dent in your budget for the 1½-hour tour.

You can also join other tourists on various guided walking tours, covering such specialized topics as Ghosts, Ghouls and Haunted Taverns, The Haunts of Sherlock Holmes, Ancient Inns and Taverns and the Trail of Jack the Ripper. Tour fees range from $4.50 to $5.50, or you can pick up a free walking tour guide book and do it on your own.

A must for every first-time visitor is the changing of the guard in front of Buckingham Palace. The ceremony starts at 11:30 a.m. every other day in winter and takes almost an hour. Plenty of horses, red jackets, shiny helmets, band music and pomp and ceremony. Dates are given in BTA's London Planner booklet.

Fair weather sightseeing should include a boat ride on the Thames River. There are many river tours to choose from or you can just take a 2½-mile downstream ride from Westminster Bridge to the Tower of London for $3.25. The Tower itself is best toured in good weather as is the famous London Zoo.

For days that aren't so nice, head for Westminster Abbey, St. Paul's Cathedral, Madame Tussaud's Waxworks or some of the renowned art galleries and museums. The major ones are free, including the National Gallery, the Tate Gallery, the British Museum, the Museum of London and the Victoria and Albert Museum, where a $3 donation is suggested.

IT COSTS nothing to go into the main church portion of Westminster Abbey, but there is a $3.25 charge to tour the seven magnificent chapels (no photography permitted.) In the cloisters at one side of the nave, a large room contains brass plates from which you can make your own rubbings. There is a charge of about $4.75 for the paper, tape and golden wax required to make a 12-by-24-inch rubbing. Larger sizes are available as are finished rubbings, if you don't want to make your own.

One of the most interesting newer museums is the Museum of the Moving Image (admission $5), which celebrates the histories of movies and television. Another fairly new one is the Cabinet War Rooms (admission $4.75), which consists of 19 underground rooms that were used by Winston Churchill and the War Cabinet during World War II.

Sightseeing makes you hungry so the next question is where to eat. There are plenty of fast-food places with familiar American names, even though their prices are higher than at home. But why settle for a Big Mac and fries when you can go around the corner for a real English pub lunch with all the atmosphere that goes with it.

FOR ABOUT $6 or $7, you can share a tiny table with local people in any neighborhood or corner pub while you quaff a pint of lager and munch on steak-and-kidney pie, chicken pot pie or a ploughman's lunch of cheese and bread. You'll meet interesting Londoners on their lunch break.

There is no shortage of good restaurants offering properly served meals and all of them have menus posted outside the door so you can check their offerings and prices before going in.

Dinner in a fancy restaurant can be expensive in London but I found many nice places where a complete dinner with a glass of wine ran only $10 to $12. One of them was Garfunkel's in Piccadilly Circus where menu items included fish and chips, $6, hamburger and baked potato, $5.60, T-bone steak, $10, and an excellent salad bar with hot chicken and fish for $6.75. Wine is $1.75 a glass and beer $1.50.

Entertainment is a prime reason for visiting London. The London stage is a world leader in musicals. Tickets are much cheaper than in New York, cheaper still if you buy them at half price plus a service charge from a booth in Leicester Square. Full-priced tickets to musicals cost $11 to $35, plays $8 to $26. I bought a ticket to "Me and My Girl," regularly $32, for $16 plus a $2 service charge.

IF THEY don't have what you want at the booth, don't buy from nearby scalpers. Go to the theater box office about 90 minutes before show time and ask about last minute cancellations. Matinee tickets are readily available off-season and often discounted right at the theater.

MOVING PICTURES

Morgan Freeman plays Rawlins who rises to the rank of sergeant major in the Union Army during the Civil War in "Glory."

'Glory' honors valor of black infantrymen

The new season shifts into high gear this week with seven new releases, three of which may be disposed of quickly.

"Ski Patrol" (PG) has two rivals squaring off to save a ski lodge; "Downtown" (G, no rating available), directed by Richard Benjamin, is billed as an action comedy about a rookie cop from the suburbs assigned to an inner city beat. Enough said... and the same goes for "Leatherface: The Texas Chainsaw Massacre III" (R) which was "disgust" last week.

The remaining four, however, are more promising, substantial productions.

Word from the history department has it that "Glory" (A, R, 110 minutes) is an accurate depiction of the 54th Massachusetts Infantry Regiment, the first black fighting unit in the Civil War. Their valor and achievements opened doors for blacks who ultimately totaled 180,000 troops in the Union Army.

Word from the film department suggests everyone ought to see this excellent depiction of war's stupidity, this stunning visual presentation of America's tragic Civil War, this frightening show of man's inhumanity to one another.

For while "Glory" depicts such terrible moments, it also demonstrates the very finest human instincts and the great capacity people have to treat others with kindness and sensitivity.

THE KEY to the film's force and poignancy lies in excellent acting. Like any war movie, "Glory" focuses on a representative group. Col. Robert Shaw (Matthew Broderick) undertakes to raise a regiment of black soldiers and his best friend, Maj. Cabot Forbes (Cary Elwes), is second-in-command. There were no black officers during the Civil War with the exception of one chaplain.

The black soldiers featured in this film include a rebellious runaway slave, Trip (Denzel Washington), a battlefield gravedigger, Rawlins (Morgan Freeman), who makes his way to Massachusetts and ultimately becomes the 54th Regiment's sergeant-major, Sharts (Jihmi Kennedy) and Thomas Searles (Andre Braugher), a young man who had grown up in Massachusetts with Shaw and Forbes.

Their superb ensemble performance and the brilliant photographic representation of Civil War spectacle is, of course, considerably due to the fine work of director Edward Zwick and cinematographer Freddie Francis. The story, and the film, honor the courage and bravery of many men.

Morgan Freeman also has a major role in "Driving Miss Daisy" (A, PG, 100 minutes) as Hoke Colburn, a chauffeur hired by Boolie Werthan (Dan Aykroyd) to drive his aging mother, Miss Daisy (Jessica Tandy), after she had a car accident.

Based on Alfred Uhry's Pulitzer Prize-winning play, "Driving Miss Daisy" works extremely well on several levels. It is a fine and effective depiction of social change in the South between 1946 and 1973. But its success rests on the warm, individual human values projected by fine acting.

FINE PERFORMANCES are particularly in evidence in the interplay between the black chauffeur, Hoke, and Miss Daisy, the proud Jewish widow who stubbornly resists coming to grips with her advancing age and resents her need for Hoke. Hoke, on the other hand, is content to have a decent job and demonstrate to Miss Daisy that he means well.

Their heart-warming friendship over 25 years of changing southern cultural values is at the heart of the film's success. Jessican Tandy's performance/character is divided into two elegantly blended parts - the rich Southern belle who is also an aging Jewish widow.

Morgan Freeman re-creates his Broadway role in an excellent transition from stage to screen and maintains dignity of character as a black man in Atlanta at a time of racial tension. Dan Aykroyd shows considerable maturity in his first dramatic role as he, too, copes with aging. (Reviewed by Jason Brown.)

After a great deal of publicity and a Flint premiere in December, "Roger and Me" (A, R, 90 minutes) is now in wide release. The film has garnered a great deal of worldwide notice but few, if any, commentators have noted two of its most significant qualities.

There's been lots of talk about the movie and how much fun it is to join Michael Moore in GM-bashing. True, and it's also interesting to note the difficult circumstances under which the film was produced.

IT'S RAGS-TO-RICHES story last fall - a $2 million advance from Warner Bros. for a film which cost $168,000 and involved the sale of Moore's home - is a perfect example of the American Dream Michael Moore finds in disarray.

But the real irony is that while the film questions GM's corporate responsibility, it does so by means of an accomplished display of media chicanery as it cross-cuts in ways which make things seem true that aren't.

President Reagan and Rev. Roy's appearances in Flint were some time prior to the film's stated time period - after GM announced Flint plant closings. Apparently, the Hyatt-Regency and Flint Auto-World sequences fall in the same category. As well, not all of Flint's problems are because GM closed some plants.

No one ever said anything about "fair" and Michael Moore's main point concerns America's greatest problem - the growth of an underclass, a perpetually economically deprived segment of society for whom the American Dream is a nightmare.

This underclass is depicted visually and conceptually in Moore's cross-cutting from ladies golfing at a Flint country club and well-to-do people spending a party-night in jail to Sheriff Fred evicting people Christmas Eve and the now infamous "rabbit lady." The contrasts are heavy and obvious.

"ROGER AND ME" clearly describes the growing underclass in America and, at the same time, demonstrates media manipulation at its best. It's well worth seeing and, considering its topic, remarkably entertaining.

"Internal Affairs" (B-, R, 120 minutes) should have a great life on the video shelves, but this cop show never fulfills its initial promise despite some pretty good performances.

The story evolves around two cops, a seemingly likeable, settled patrolman, Dennis Peck (Richard Gere), and a noticeably ambitious internal affairs detective, Raymond Avilla (Andy Garcia). Ostensibly, they are the same man on opposite sides of the law.

Avilla investigates Peck and Garcia's performances more than holds its own as that of a man who justifies his own manipulations by claiming to be on the right side of the law.

There are several other performances which make this movie noteworthy. Laurie Metcalf as Avilla's senior partner is wry and witty, while Nancy Travis as Avilla's wife projects a nice sincerity, particularly for a character written in one dimension.

The first half of the film sets the scenario quite nicely. But just when "Internal Affairs" should have become a gripping examination of the morality of justice and those who are dedicated to upholding it, writer Henry Bean and director Mike Figgis lose focus.

The expectation that the second half will deliver on the promise of the first is frustrated and "Internal Affairs" falls into a predictable quagmire of cliched violence which lacks insight into the nature greed and corruption. (Reviewed by Susan Fincham.)

STILL PLAYING: "All Dogs Go To Heaven" (B+) (G) 90 minutes.

"Always" (B-) (PG) 110 minutes.

"Back to the Future Part II" (B+) (PG) 90 minutes.

"The Bear" (B) (PG) 93 minutes.

Excellent nature photography but film often lags continually and gets pretty sappy at times.

"Born on the Fourth of July" (A) (R) 144 minutes.

Touching, graphically disturbing, poignant, frightening autobiography of Ron Kovic. (Tom Cruise), a paraplegic Viet Vet.

ALTERNATIVE VIEWING

'Foot' opens DFT season

By John Monaghan
special writer

The first of many amazing things about "My Left Foot" is the performance of Daniel Day-Lewis. The handsome actor, best known for his work in "My Beautiful-Laundrette" and "The Unbearable Lightness of Being," is virtually unrecognizable as the film's crippled hero, Christy Brown.

While his facial and body contortions rival those of Lon Chaney, the actor strives for more in his portrayal of a cerebral palsy victim. "My Left Foot" doesn't present Brown as a "Rocky" style against-all-odds achiever, bust as a man with strengths and shortcomings shared by everyone.

Christy Brown grew up in a large

Irish working class family in the 1940s and '50s. With a limited understanding of his affliction, Christy's family first viewed him as retarded. Only later did they see the intelligence beneath his wild, desperate eyes.

Brown could only control his left foot and employed it to paint and write. Eventually, he learned to talk. The film, based on his illustrated autobiography, ends with the meeting of his future wife at a benefit in the early 1970s.

"IT WOULD be easy to call Christy Brown a great crippled painter," says the gallery owner who first exhibits his stylized portraits. "But there's not a note of false sentiment here, not a scene that smacks of anything but real life."

Likewise, "My Left Foot" could easily be tagged a great movie about a crippled character. But there's not a note of false sentiment here, not a scene that smacks of anything but real life.

Director Jim Sheridan often places his camera near ground level to show us Christy's view from the wooden pushcart in which he spends his childhood. In one elating scene, the Brown boys use him - as goalie - to play soccer and we see him deflect the ball with his head.

"My Left Foot" presents a realistic portrait of life in an Irish Catholic family. The gruff, volatile father, sacrificing mother (who saves for years to buy Christy a proper wheelchair) and handsome Brown boys come to life through understated performances.

Meanwhile, the brothers and sisters (13 in all) keep on coming. New babies become the movies "in" joke.

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg
special writer

"Lucy" lovers, your time is at hand. This Thursday, Jan. 8, CBS/Fox Video releases eight new episodes of "I Love Lucy."

The eight are Volumes 5-8, complementing the four previously released cassettes of shows which first aired in the early to mid-'50s. Each of the first four cassette holds two 53-minute shows - "Lucy Does a TV Commercial"/"Lucy's Italian Movie," "Job Switching"/"Fashion Show," "L.A. at Last"/"Lucy and Harpo Marx" and "Lucy is Enceinte"/"Lucy Goes to the Hospital."

The four newly released tapes are advertised to retail at $14.98 which means shoppers shortly will discover even greater bargains - at least if they're Lucy fans.

The new tapes also have two programs, each running 53 minutes. Volume 5 contains "Lucy and Bob Hope," first aired Oct. 1, 1956, and "Lucy and Superman" from Jan. 14, 1957. In the first, Lucy tries all sorts of disguises to entice Bob Hope to appear at the Club Babalu. In the second, the Man of Steel himself saves Lucy from an incredible jam.

On Volume 6, "Pioneer Women," which first broadcast March 31, 1952, lets Lucy and Ethel (Vivian Vance) struggle without modern appliances because of a bet. It's second episode, "The Camping Trip," has Lucy scheming against Ricky (Desi Arnaz) - and vice versa. It's comic capers in the wilderness. That show was first aired June 8, 1953.

VOLUME 7, with shows from June 29, 1953 and November 10, 1952, respectively, includes "Never Do Business With Friends" and "The Courtroom." Both have the Ricardos and Mertzes fighting because of household appliances. The final set, Volume 8, has programs from February and October of 1952 - "The Ballet" and "The Handcuffs."

Releases like this complement the self-through programs whereby the major companies seem to be taking charge of the video cassette business. Retailers and video rental shops, despite big holiday business, are hard-pressed by this competition.

An industry survey shows an 18 percent price drop, fueled a fourth-quarter (through mid-December) cassette sales boom of more than $5 million transactions, up 88 percent from a comparable period in 1988.

As prices drop, there's less and less incentive to rent. More and more homes acquire video cassettes from grocery stores, mass merchants and local orders, making it hard for the local video rental shop to compete with offers that arrive regularly in everyone's mailbox.

One offers six movies for $12 as an incentive to join a cassette-by-mail club - and then selections are only $12. At those prices, it just doesn't make much sense to rent.

THAT'S PARTICULARLY true since it's easy to join and quit these clubs - and continually receive bonus tapes for joining.

Advance publicity indicates this pressure will continue on the rental business with numerous announcements about major motion pictures at sell-through prices in the coming months.

Top-grossing "Honey, I Shrank the Kids" will be on the video racks March 16 for $22.99. A co-promotion/rebate with Nabisco Biscuit Company lowers that price another $3. With announcements like that, everyone knows, it won't be long before the price drops even further.

Paramount's "Indiana Jones and the Last Crusade" (In-line with Diet Coke debuts Feb. 1 for $24.95 with a consumer rebate worth up to $5. "Lethal Weapon 2" is another first quarter blockbuster that will be available for under $30.

Capt. Dave: Musical madness

IN CONCERT

"Did they really do that?"
"He was wearing a WHIAT!"

By Jill Hamilton

They're talking about Captain Dave and The Psychedelic Lounge Cats.

If you think local rock is staid and boring, you just haven't been to a Captain Dave concert. Captain Dave and the Psychedelic Lounge Cats don't just give concerts — they stage events.

Their bizarre performances are quickly becoming legendary around town. Attendees' comments range from those who are clearly disgusted to those who express undying devotion to the band. One thing's for sure — every time these guys play, the place is packed.

Who are Captain Dave and the Psychedelic Lounge Cats? Creative geniuses? Just a bunch of weird and disgusting kids? Misunderstood artists? The result of seriously mispent youth? Well, judge for yourself.

Let us travel back in time for a moment to a recent concert at the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor.

The mood of the evening — a strange mixture of surrealism and offbeat fun — was set when Captain Dave played "Girl from Ypsilanti," a variation of "Girl from Ipanema," for the soundtrack.

Their set began when Captain Dave, clad in a '70s style black leather jump suit, emerged from a cloud of yellow smoke and began a stream of James Brown-style stage prattle.

The Lounge Cats launched into a James Brown sound-alike song called "Free James Brown," with lyrics like "Blame it on the PCP, set him free," and "So what if he's a junkie, he's so damn funky." Whether this was a homage to or a parody of the Godfather of Soul remains unclear. Captain Dave's humor is always a bit inscrutable.

DURING THE next song, "Bok Choy," a song about pimps, the infamous go-go dancers appeared. One of the go-go dancers, called The Quantum Mechanics Milk Baby Clown, was rather scantily clad in a pair of diapers, a pair of pantyhose on his head and a vaguely unsettling baby mask.

The other, simply referred to as Jimmy the Meat Dancer, had on a necklace of something appearing to be liver and a jock strap festooned with pig's feet.

The two gyrated with exaggerated eroticism to the surreal flash of a strobe light in front of the old home movies projected onto a white sheet hung behind the band.

Their songs sound like Funkadelic if Funkadelic's music was played by bad lounge musicians and sung by a "song stylist." Song titles include, "Lay it in the Mud," "Morrie's Head" and "Barbra Streisand is the Vodka of My Restaurant."

So, these guys aren't your average band. No heavy metal hair-do's. No covers of "Stairway to Heaven." No loud guitar heroes. Just... weirdness.

We caught up with the band in Captain Dave's surprisingly normal-looking apartment in Ann Arbor. The one concession to his trademark loopy-ness were three posters of Farrah Fawcett, circa 1976. One of them, Captain Dave proudly pointed out, was life size.

CAPTAIN DAVE and the Psychedelic Lounge Cats started out by playing at a friends' party as a joke. A week after the band had formed, they got a gig at Bookies. At the time, there were no go-go dancers and no drummer, only a few guys and a drum machine. In November 1988 the band played their first gig with the current line-up.

"We're a very flexible band," Captain Dave, originally of Bloomfield Hills, said. "Flexible" means that the band has an ever-changing cast of characters. Past shows have featured guest whistlers, The Grand Comedian with Things Tied to Him and Ann the Zit Dancer.

One of the more lasting characters has been Jimmy the Meat Dancer.

"I wanted to dance as close to nude as possible," Jimmy said. "So, I decided I would wear meat. It seemed like an extension of myself."

"We should get some other dancers to represent the other three food groups," added Johnny Pontez, the rhythm guitarist.

CONTOVERSY HAS followed the band practically since its beginning. The bizarre costumes and odd stage antics are apparently a little too much for the more faint-hearted of club owners.

At one of their first gigs at one club, the Lounge Cats were asked to end their performance prematurely after management decided that the act was getting a bit raunchy. The band was reportedly banned from the club for months.

But things are looking a little better for the Lounge Cats and the ban might be lifted soon. They have recently been in touch with the powers-that-be at the club and word has it that the band will be allowed to perform if they "tone down" their act.

The band is willing to make some compromises in the act to keep club owners happy. At a recent performance at Dooley's in Ann Arbor, the bar's management decreed that the go-go dancers would have to wear a pre-specified amount of clothing before the band would be booked. Captain Dave and the Lounge Cats complied.

"I'm the chicken of the band," Captain Dave said, "I will tone down the act if someone asks us to. I don't know if the rest of the band agrees."

The rest of the band looked less eager than Captain Dave to comply, but seemed resigned to accepting the realities of censorship.

Their compliance must be working. At least well enough to land them gigs at St. Andrew's Hall in Detroit and Medusa's in Chicago.

Captain Dave and the Psychedelic Lounge Cats aren't very enthusiastic about the local music scene even though they are a part of it.

"The pun rock scene is really big around here," said Mellow Ian, the keyboardist. "Walk the Dogma, the Avant Gardeneres, the Holy Cows... every band's name is a pun."

The Lounge Cats have big plans for the future. They say that they either intend to bring back break dancing, or that they want to piece together an Evel Kineval documentary and write a disco song to go with it.

"We went from a bad joke to a bad band," Mellow Ian said.

"It's a good joke now," Pontez countered.

MUSIC NOTES

You want albums. We got albums (not to mention a few CDs and cassettes).

See Dick Run ("Whap, Ding"), Hipodrome ("Dogbunny"), The Gear ("Blim"), Volebeats ("Ain't No Joke") and Orange Roughies ("Knuckle Sandwich") all have new products out. Other bands such as Strange Bedfellows, Goober and the Peas and Shouting Club have discs on the way. All are available at finer record outlets in the area.

The Gear celebrated its new LP with a record release party recently at Paycheck's Lounge. The three-member group also was a national semifinalist in the recently conducted Snickers-New Music Talent Search.

And while we're on the subject of activities on the national scale, Juglers and Thieves' cut "Silence Calling" is featured on the College Music Journal's "Certain Damage" compilation CD. The Livonia-based folk-rock group has also entered Musician Magazine's Third Annual Best Unsigned Band contest along with another area rock outfit The Culture Bandits. A who's who of music will serve on the panel of judges, including Robbie Robertson, Lou Reed, Lyle Lovett, Vernon Reid of Living Colour and Branford Marsalis. The booty for the grand prize winner includes a home recording studio. The 12 finalists will be featured on the "Best of the B.U.B.s" CD, which is released on Warner Bros. and distributed industry types and music journalists around the country.

Those tremors can be felt again. Yes, Paycheck's Lounge in Hamtramck will be the site of yet another in the fine series of Tremor Reviews Friday and Saturday, Jan. 19-20. No less than 17 bands will perform during the two-day event.

On Friday the line-up includes: 3-D Invisibles, Cuppa Joe, Viv Akauldren, Sleep, World 48, Antifashion, Hippodrome and Strange Bedfellows. On Saturday, bands performing will be: Cinecyde, Soul Station, Bootsy X, Chris Nell, Colorful Trauma, Volebeats, Shouting Club and Orange Roughies. For information, call 872-8934.

What's this? Another letter in the alphabet? Yes, Static Alphabet is a now foursome with the recent addition of guitarist Mike Cummins. Cummins was a member of the Dancing Smoothies before joining the Alphabet.

Past and present of Detroit rock'n'roll were winners recently at the first-ever Rock Awards hosted by the Studio Lounge in Westland.

Members of Salem Witchcraft, Mugsy, Weapons, Tezzer and Toyna Smith of Savage Grace walked off with "Sammys" along with today's up-and-coming bands on the circuit such as Romeo Rock, Warp Drive and LaBare.

REVIEWS

SHADOWLAND — Shadowland

Hailing from Los Angeles, via Florida and Alaska, this EP is Shadowland's debut for Geffen Records. It serves as a foretaste of an upcoming LP, "The Beauty of Escaping." Interestingly, it has the same five songs on each side of the LP, which is the first time I've seen that for a commercial release.

Both this EP and the upcoming LP were produced by Pat Moran (Robert Plant, Tom Cochrane and Edie Brickell & New Bohemians) at Rockfield Studios in Wales, U.K.

This studio is where the Alarm recorded their last LP. I don't know if it's just coincidence, but vocalist, Darren Rademaker works in that same genre of dramatic, gravelly vocals.

Shadowland describe themselves as "post-punk, Southern folk blues rock." That narrows it down, eh?

To be fair, they do operate in that Alarm/Celtic folk area. This is not all bad, particularly on the first track "Wink of an Eye" or on their version of Dylan's "It's All Over Now Baby Blue." It is when they lip their collective hats to the Waterboys' style of Celtic Diddly-eye that they tend to lose their identity.

On "Imitation of Life," the similarities run close enough that they actually use Anthony Thistlewaite and Colin Blakey from Mike Scott's aforementioned boys. And how about these for "Scott-Style" lyrics: "You are drunk on the Holy water/You have eaten up all of the sun/You have traveled far but I've traveled farther/You are not the permanent one."

This runs a little too close for comfort, although there is some marvelous instrumentalation on this song.

With their hearts and intentions in the right place, perhaps over the course of a complete LP, Shadowland may exert more of their own identity. In the meantime, despite its failings, this self-titled EP does enough to tease the taste buds.

AIN'T NO JOKE — Volebeats

One of the pitfalls of country music, or those who try to play it, is the ever-dreaded cliches. You know the ones: Trains, whiskey, women and cigarettes.

The Volebeats' debut LP "Ain't No Joke" has its small share of pearls (as in Minnie), those numbers that the aforementioned subjects are dealt with ("Leave This Town" and "Bottles"). But, aw shucks, that ain't so bad.

For the most part, the Volebeats avoid hackneyed country expression. The Volebeats pull off their country/rock effort without an ounce of pretention or a scintilla of insincerity. When Jeff Oakes' voice cracks on the opening cut, "And You Know It," you know this group is here to serve the music they love.

"Ain't No Joke" should be noted for what it isn't, and that's a pure blowtorch and twang imitation country album. A listen to the salsa-flavored "Tequila y Bunuelos" or the Dylanesque harmonica on "Fool's Castle" certainly bears this out.

By paying homage to the country heroes of the '50s and '60s while keeping their present-day rock sensibilities, the Volebeats have undoubtedly carved their own path. It's a path of dirt, stones and, at times, puddles of reflection.

Some of the most intriguing numbers here are written by former band member Terry Rohm, whose lyrics are pencil sketches worked into story lines as in "Klara" and "Fool's Castle."

Then there are those songs that stand out just in their simplicity. Such is the case with "Yes or No," one of three collaborations of Jeff Oakes and Matthew Smith that is worthy of praise.

After listening to this album, praise is not in short supply.

TRANSVERSE CITY — Warren Zevon

1989 witnessed some fine albums by some of rock's most distinguished veterans, including Bob Dylan, Neil Young, Lou Reed, Elvis Costello, Van Morrison and Pete Townshend.

Add Warren Zevon to that list. From the majestic opening chimes of the title track through the closing tenderness of "Nobody's in Love This Year," Zevon's latest is one solid piece of vinyl.

"Transverse City" is a futuristic album whose biting sarcasm is aimed squarely at the present. It is musically sound, thanks in part to the all-star cast featuring Jerry Garcia, David Gilmour, Neil Young, Chick Corea, David Lindley and J.D. Souther. Zevon emphasizes hollow keyboards often, but plenty of guitars and real drums provide a backbone.

As usual, Zevon's satirical lyrics steal the show. "Splendid Isolation" takes a poke at reclusive stars: "Michael Jackson in Disneyland/Don't have to share it with nobody else/Lock the gates, Goofy, take my hand/And lead me through the World of Self."

"Turbulence" looks at the volatile politics of the Soviet Union from the inside. Who else but Zevon would pen, "Well we've been fightin' with the mujahaddin Down in Afghanistan/Comrade Gorbachev, can I go back to Vladivostok man?" He even croons a verse in Russian.

Zevon also takes potshots at the computer communicators of the 9-to-5 world ("Networking"), traffic ("Gridlock") and shopping ("Down in the Mall").

After another great record, it is incredible that this man is still best known for the novelty hit, "Werewolves of London." Zevon fans know better. The rest of the world should catch on before it ends up like the ozone-depleted wasteland depicted in "Run Straight Down." Don't say Warren didn't warn you.

FEAR & LOAFING

'Til debt do us part!

Karl Nilsson

January is pay-back time for splurging in December. For the consumer who burns more than he earns, I've devised a three-step plan to get out of debt:

(A) Write down your monthly income in one column.

(B) Write down your monthly expenses next to it.

(C) Run to the Vatican Embassy and claim sanctuary.

If being celibate seems tougher than being broke, fiscal freedom will take longer, but it's still possible. Here are some tips:

1. Become a do-it-yourselfer. Don't cut up your credit cards. This will only ruin a perfectly good pair of scissors — scissors you can use to save money by cutting your own hair!

Remember, the average family spends about $75 a month on hair care. Start chopping and don't stop until everyone in your house looks like Jane Pauley. Once your teenagers refuse to be seen in public, you'll save even more on fast food, concert tickets and gas.

2. Cancel your cable TV. With a couple of movie channels and a little pay-per-view mud wrestling, you're shelling out 50 bucks a month to watch the tube! This extra $600 a year could be used to pay bills, buy encyclopedias or enroll your kids in therapy for the haircut-impaired.

3. Set up a cottage industry. If you're not comfortable making cottages, start by making dog houses. If you're not handy with wood, try baked goods. Be creative. If your macaroons don't sell, re-package them as hockey pucks.

4. Pay cash for your car. Here in suburbia, we buy cars we don't need with money we don't have to impress neighbors we don't like.

If you're serious about divorcing the coupon book, learn to see the automobile as an appliance instead of a status symbol. Soon, you'll be enjoying carefree hours laying underneath your don't-laugh-it's-paid-for car, mastering new ways to fillet the meat off your knuckles.

If you're embarrassed to drive something that looks like it could give you tetanus, think of the bright side — The lower your self-esteem, the lower your insurance rates. And although you might break down, you'll never get lost — just retrace the trail of parts that fall off.

5. Have a garage sale. Now that you're driving a miserable beater, there's no need to park indoors anymore so sell the garage.

6. Rent your spare room. Lots of suburbanites earn extra cash by sharing their homes with a responsible adult. However, before you admit a stranger into your family circle, ask yourself these questions: Is his ringworm under control? Is he regular on "America's Most Wanted?" Does he carry a live chicken under his shirt?

If he passes your initial interview, observe his first few week's behavior for minor annoyances that might grow irritating in time. Does he use your toothbrush to clean his assault rifle? Does he park his motorcycle on the couch? Does your family wake up with unwanted tattoos?

7. Take affordable vacations. Why waste big money at a theme park when you can experience the great outdoors for free? Instead of standing in line for Space Mountain, your family can create their own mountain of litter amidst unspoiled beauty.

No need to buy expensive camping gear either. Just build a lean-to out of "no trespassing" signs and crawl in for nature's evening serenade. In the morning, the kids can forage for an all-natural breakfast just like the pioneers. There's nothing like an omelet with grubs, berries and pull tabs, cooked to perfection over a pair of burning Reeboks.

8. Turn your thermostat down. Dialing down has advantages. Shivering burns 150 calories per hour. Wearing six outfits at one time creates extra closet space. And if your little Eskimos forget to close the refrigerator door, it won't matter.

Heating bills can be cut in half by eliminating leaky windows. Plus, if enough homes in your sub board up their windows with plywood and stop fussing with their lawns, property taxes should also go down.

For more information in how I've learned to live totally debt-free, call my office. That is, assuming I can get my phone switched back on.

STREET SENSE

Why should I be feeling guilty?

Dear Barbara,
I have a grown stepson, age 28, and a grown stepdaughter, age 27. The stepdaughter is married. I also have four young children of my own, ages three to 12.

Every Christmas my family goes to our home in Florida to celebrate the holidays. In the past, my stepchildren have been invited by their father and have joined us. This year, for reasons of which I am unaware, he did not invite them.

I am ambivalent about this. On one hand, they are not such a joy to be with and I love the idea of having my own immediate family only around me for the holidays. On the other hand, I feel guilty because I know I will never want to exclude my own children from our family trips regardless of their ages.

My stepdaughter reacted to the situation by calling her father and saying she knew the idea not to invite her must have been mine because he would never do that. I heard him telling her this was not true, but she didn't seem to accept his disclaimer.

Should I call her? Do I need to feel guilty, if I don't? I'm pretty busy and I don't really want to get involved.

"Wicked Stepmother?"

Dear "Wicked Stepmother,"
Your reaction to this situation is typical of a person who feels guilty. I don't know why you feel guilty.

Your stepdaughter's behavior is normal. It is usual for a daughter to think that her father wouldn't exclude her. Even though she is 27, she probably feels like a child when dealing with her father.

When a child feels hurt and angry, they need someone to blame. They divert their hostility from the more important object (her father) to one they are less afraid of offending (you). In this way, her relationship with her father is kept safe. That is one reason that stepmothers are called "wicked," when they are not.

I don't know what happened between your husband and his daughter, but don't complicate matters by calling her. Don't feel guilty. This is not your responsibility.

See London quick on a Transport

Current shows are all listed in the BTA London Planner.

Early in your visit, wander through the South Bank Center, a huge entertainment complex near the south end of Waterloo Bridge. It contains many theaters and concert halls, featuring everything from the London Philharmonic to rock groups and Shakespeare, and several restaurants and cafeterias.

The Museum of the Moving Image is in this complex. Again, check the BTA planner and the daily newspapers for events at this and other London concert halls and stages.

A 15 percent Value Added Tax is added to consumer goods, so there are not too many shopping bargains in London unless you run into a major winter sale. It is fun to wander through huge department stores like Selfridges and Harrods, or the famous food halls of Fortnum and Mason.

COVENT GARDEN is an interesting collection of small shops in a former farmer's market. Street entertainers hope that you'll toss them a few coins.

Petticoat Lane and Portobello Road can be classified as both shopping and entertainment. Both are huge street markets where you can find anything from toothpicks to an elephant's foot — new and used.

Petticoat Lane operates only 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sundays, so get there early. The shops and stalls of Portobello Road are open daily except Sunday, but there is a huge outdoor flea market Friday and Saturday, so those are the most interesting days to shop.

If you run out of things to do in London, you can always take a train for a day trip to Windsor Castle, Oxford or Hampton Court Palace. Or you can save those experiences and many others for your next trip to England.

For more information, contact the British Tourist Authority, Suite 3320, 875 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill. 60611, or call (312) 787-0490. Prices mentioned in this article are based on the current rate of exchange of approximately $1.60 U.S. per English pound. Any significant change in this rate could increase or decrease the cost of vacationing in England.

This group is Just Kidding

By Jill Hamilton
special writer

Once people see Just Kidding Production's "Where's My Thermos?" tour, they're hooked. And that's good news for the 10-person comedy troupe. The bad news is that people are used to getting comedy doses in a stand-up form, not from an ensemble.

According to Jason Allington, co-producer with Rob Marx, "Any time we can get someone to come and see us, we get booked."

It's certainly true. The troupe has played in college towns throughout the country, ranging from California to Pennsylvania. They've been asked back 95 percent of the time — pretty good for a bunch of kids still in college.

Allington, a Livonia native, has a theory about it.

"The comedy market is getting over-saturated," he said, "so, stand-up comedians are getting more outrageous — Andrew Dice Clay is the largest grossing comedian right now."

Allington thinks that will actually help Just Kidding, since the ensemble focuses on clever, subtle humor instead of outrageous gimmicks.

Just Kidding Productions is a group of five actors, two actresses and two producers.

Their shows consist of several skits strung together "Saturday Night Live"-style. The actors play characters ranging from Nostradamus to kids in a second grade class.

IT'S EASY to forget that the sketches are written, acted and directed entirely by students. The skits are professional and hilarious at the same time.

The latest incarnation of the show consists of two hours worth of sketches and vignettes — old and new — poking fun at heavy metal music, Greek gods, the dawn of man and more.

Just Kidding Productions began in September 1988 when Jon Hein and a group of friends in the University of Michigan's Comedy Company started fantasizing about how much fun it would be if they could start their own troupe and maybe, even make some money.

Somewhere along the way, the idea became serious and in February 1989, the group gave their first show at Central Michigan University.

"It's an incredible success," Allington said.

From then on they were hooked. Several members of the group interrupted their college career to pursue the dream. They bought a 15-passenger van and set out to sample life on the comedy road.

Several months and 40 shows later, Just Kidding is back in Michigan for an engagement Friday, Jan. 19, at the Michigan Theatre in Ann Arbor. At a September performance at the Power Center, the show sold out and 500 people had to be turned away. The group expects the January show to be just as successful.

THIS MIGHT be one of the last chances to see Just Kidding perform because the future of the group is uncertain. Although the group is attracting the interest of agents' and has been accepted by the National Association of College Activities, the group still has to handle all their own bookings.

Since several of the members are anxious to finish their studies, the future of the group is 'hanging in the balance.'

The group is looking into finding a theater in a large city to settle into permanently — a La Second City in Chicago. Although the group has scouted out several possibilities, they will probably need an investor to get started.

So the question is: Are there any rich and funny people out there who want a comedy troupe of their very own?

'Yuppy-ing' it up in the 1990s

By Susan Steinnmueller
staff writer

MANY HAVE CALLED the just vanished '80s as the decade of the "yuppie." It was a time when baby boomers — those born between 1946 and 1964 — became "young urban professionals" and flaunted conspicuous consumption in fashion, food and frivolity.

In the 1990s, by their sheer numbers, baby boomers will still remain a large force in determining the direction society takes — nearly half the adults in the U.S. are baby boomers. But it's hard to say what direction that will be.

Looking at current trends, one can say that they will probably be affluent as they move into their peak earning years. They will live in two-income households, and have children later in life. They may also become part of the "sandwich generation" in which they become responsible for caring for children and older parents at the same time.

Because of the "baby bust" — the fact that there were far less people born in the last 20 or so years than in the previous 20 — baby boomers will face challenges in finding services and information traditionally supplied by younger people, such as college students.

Many of these trends were forecasted by local experts who were asked to gaze into the dawning decade and give their opinion on what lies ahead in such areas as fashion, technology and love and marriage. Here's what they predicted:

Technology — Grocery shopping, banking, buying stocks and checking up on news and weather will be just a few of the things that people will be doing from the comfort of their own home computer station in the '90s.

A NEW computer system called Prodigy, introduced to the Detroit market this year, already has put that capability at the fingertips of area residents. A joint venture between IBM and Sears-Roebuck, the service will be as common as the microwave oven or VCR is today, predicts Steven Hein, spokesman for Prodigy Services Co., based in White Plains, N.Y. In fact, it is as convenient as a telephone, with features available for a flat monthly rate, currently around $10.

"Ever since computers were invented, people have been talking about the way they will make lives easier," Hein said. "We haven't seen that come to pass yet, but now with Prodigy, we see at last something that makes people's lives simpler, easier, and more enjoyable."

The system is easy enough for anyone to learn — "We are aimed at the general public, not the computer hobbyist," Hein said. — and one of its benefits is that it will offset some of the labor shortages of the "baby bust" generation.

"As the 'baby bust' generation is not going to be able to provide enough services, this will likely end some of the frustration that people feel not being able to find services," Hein said.

AREA RESIDENTS will also become accustomed to even more sophisticated, and yet simplified, technology. For example, more people will be in the movies — even if they are "only" home movies — as video cameras become smaller, cheaper and simpler to use.

At Don-Lor Electronics in Livonia, manager Mark Medawar said Sony's new video camera, a third of size of past models and weighing in at 2 pounds, is a popular item. The more prices come down and the more innovations offered, the more the store sells of such items, he said.

And people can also expect to see videos being used more and more, from computer imaging for teeth repair to advertising tools for local chambers of commerce.

Medawar also sees a brisk business in very large television screens and very small, portable three- to five-inch screen color sets, with built-in video recorders, which use mini cassettes.

And, as most have heard, compact discs are taking over the old vinyl records, which may go the way of the dinosaur by the end of the decade.

The Aging Population — More options in senior health care will be one of the trends seen in the '90s, as the population ages. That's the opinion of Linda Murphy, senior staff aide, Farmington Hills Senior Center.

"I THINK that there is going to be a focus toward using the 'continuum of care,'" she said. People will become more aware of and use other care options before taking a frail elderly relative from their home and placing them in a nursing home. Those options include adult day care, respite care, home health care and services such as Meals on Wheels.

"I think the focus in gerontology right now is to keep people in their homes and communities as long as possible," she said. Many of the services are in place in local communities, but they will be used more.

The increase in the senior population is one reason that alternatives will need to be found. Murphy said the current population of adults over 65 is 12 percent, but is expected to grow to 20 percent by 2010.

Not only is there a good chance that not enough beds will be available in nursing homes, but the cost of nursing homes is high. Such care averages $25,000 per year currently.

Older people may also choose to retire later as the number of people in the traditional work force, ages 18 to 55, dwindles, she predicted.

"I would see the value of early retirement gradually changing, so there are more incentives for older people to stay in the work force," she said. "They will be more appreciated."

Fashion — A key trend predicted by local fashion experts is that comfort will be a priority for the busy "yuppie" generation.

"I think comfort and function are going to become more important as we try to fill our schedules in every possible minute," said Cheryl Hall, fashion director for Saks Fifth Avenue, Troy.

SYMBOLIC OF that will be the continuing popularity of the sweat suit. While in the '80s, the sweat suit "came out of the locker room and into the street" in the '90s; it will be worn for style as well as comfort.

"Now I think it's getting to the point where they are wearing them because of the comfort not because they have just come from the Y," Hall said. "That's the trend that I see — comfort with style and function."

At Hillier's Men Store in Rochester, manager Jim Dougherty said that the businessman will only experience small changes in the traditional executive look.

Ties, for instance, are getting slightly wider and there are more patterns, such as paisleys and medallions available. It is becoming more acceptable to wear colored shirts and the trend toward striped shirts will continue. Through the Bush administration, the navy-gray suits favored by the President favors will be popular as were the brown suits made popular by Ronald Reagan.

The growing popularity of sportswear, however, is the big trend that Dougherty predicts will continue through the '90s.

"PEOPLE ARE looking for comfort and fashion when they are not working. It used to be they would just wear a pair of jeans," he said.

Another change is that cotton and natural fabrics are becoming more sought after, he said.

"People appreciate natural fabrics so much more," he said. "In the sportswear department, cotton has replaced wool. The thing about cotton is that it is a washable item. We are such a time-oriented society now — the cottons are a lot more functional and you can do more with them."

Environment — Environmental issues, such as recycling and the greenhouse effect, will still remain a priority issue in the '90s. But the awareness of these issues will increase as state and federal mandates work together toward creating a cleaner planet.

"I think there will be an increase in the changes we are already seeing," said Elizabeth Harris, director of the East Michigan Environmental Council, Birmingham. "Our group receives calls from people all the time, they want to know what they can do, for example, with their used car oil."

"The increase in the number of calls in the past years has been remarkable compared to the '70s."

HARRIS IS encouraged by the changes she has seen locally, such as cities assuming control of or starting recycling centers and requiring biodegradable bags for lawn trash.

While she is optimistic, however, she still sees the need for change in the '90s on a worldwide level as well as the local.

"For me to be really hopeful, I would want to see a change at the corporate level," she said.

Love, Marriage, Kids — Local experts see that marriage will still be popular — but high divorce rates — today, every one in two marriages is pegged for failure — will continue.

Other trends — parents will be older and career women — will continue to make child care an issue.

"I don't see a return to the home," said Rabbi Sherwin Wine of Birmingham Temple in Farmington and director of the Center for New Thinking. "I don't see how it will be possible economically."

Instead, women will be even more conspicuous in the work place and political life, and marriage may suffer as a result of the increased demands on couples, he predicted. However, "the overwhelming majority of the people will choose to be married, they will simply be married more times."

"I think that children are being born much later now; I think we're going to see older parents," he added. "I think the '90s will be a time when there will be a great focus on child care. The issue now is how to pay for the child care that we need."

Rev. Duane Doherty, a Birmingham psychologist and marriage counselor, also sees high divorce rates continuing.

"The alarming statistic is that divorce rate is higher in second marriages," he said.

EMOTIONAL immaturity — not being able to distinguish self-love from self-centeredness and materialism — are cited by Doherty as some of the things that hamper marriages. However, people will continue to reach for the stars in their hopes of a happy marriage, he said.

"Ideals are like stars, we don't reach them, we just use them to chart our course by."

Economy and Employment — "I think probably the thing that is going to mark the '90s nationally and in Michigan is a labor shortage," said Ron Tracy, head of the economics department at Oakland University, Rochester.

A labor shortage has not been seen in the area since the 1960s, but a common sight for suburban residents today are help wanted signs in retail stores, many spicing up the offer with attractive benefits packages. Shortages will mean that wages for those service jobs can be expected to increase, he said.

Tracy has a good news-bad news forecast as regards the local economy.

THE GOOD news is that the area has been "growing nicely" since 1982, when the recession is generally considered to have ended, and he sees that growth as continuing.

The bad news is that he predicts a recession. "We have had seven years of growth that was unexpected as a result we will have a recession," he said.

Tracy predicted a recession by the mid 1990s, but it won't affect the area as much as the recession of the early 1980s did, he said.

Volebeats: Band to watch in '90

Hysterical Narcotics. Both Murphy and Niemenski joined the band in the past year. Filling out the roster is fiddle player Rebecca Kaplan and Smith.

"People know each other too well," said Kaplan, a 1986 graduate of Birmingham Seaholm High School, "and there's bickering at times."

So noted. As Jeff Oakes and Smith are talking about the band, Oakes just happens to ask his creative partner if one of the guitars is tuned. Smith says no, setting the two in a heated squabble. The two have also been known to debate on stage about what song to perform next.

CREATIVE DIFFERENCES serve as the AC and DC of the band. The face of the Volebeats has changed through the years. Al Oakes was in the band as was Terry Rohm. Both are credited on the group's recently released album, "Ain't No Joke" (Relapse).

Rohm was considered one of the creative forces of the Volebeats in the early going. He left the band a year ago. Rohm's departure is a touchy subject with Jeff Oakes, who politely declines to talk about it.

Out with Oakes and Rohm, in with Kaplan, Niemenski and Murphy. The lineup has been solid since.

cessful bands. Kaplan's arrival on violin further enhanced the group's pursuit of a backwoods beat.

A classically-trained violinist, Kaplan went on to play in the Layabouts and Don't Look Now Jug Band. She knew of the Volebeats. Friends said she should try to join. She called and was invited to one of the rehearsals. She's been there since.

WITHOUT BEING showy, Kaplan's violin provides the perfect texture to the Volebeats' country-fied music. And like the other relatively newcomers, she's able to provide some insight on what makes the Volebeats a shade different than other local bands.

Another thing band members can agree on is that Jeff Oakes serves as chief bottleneck and lion tamer for the outfit.

"He keeps it together," Kaplan said. "He's the one who fixes all the instruments. He's the one who organizes practices. He makes up the fillers... There's too much pressure on him because of it."

Jeff Oakes agrees, perhaps explaining his spat with Smith. Once on stage, he and his Volebeat mates perform like a family on the front porch. Guitarists Niemenski and Smith provide the vervo when necessary, but the rest of band keeps in step.

Jeff Oakes sings in the heart-felt stylings of Hank Williams without a wasted effort or movement. It's obvious they don't carry the music as much as the music carries them.

"A lot of the earlier stuff has a lot of heart to it," said Jeff Oakes.

Brian Oakes thumbs along on stand-up bass.

Save time: keep cosmetics in 1 place

Q. I keep trying different kinds of makeup and now I have whole drawers full. I can never find what I need, though, because there's so much, and sometimes I take some along to apply on the way to work, and then it gets misplaced. How can I organize it?

Dorothy Lehmkuhl

A. The way your makeup is applied can influence your business success. If you hurriedly dab it on in the car, you won't look your best. First, plan ahead so you will have adequate time to apply your makeup properly. Time it so you will know when you need to start each day. Include interruptions in your timing because they will nearly always happen.

As to how many products to keep, International Color Me Beautiful Consultant Carol Peterson of East Lansing tells people in her Professional Presence seminars, "The trend for the '90s is the streamlined look — paring down and simplifying life. The European influence of buying quality is finally taking hold, replacing the American habit of buying quantities of inexpensive items."

You can probably get rid of half your cosmetics just by knowing if you need colors from the warm or cool palettes. If you look good in cool colors with blue or pink tones you can dispose of anything with warm orange or gold tints, or vice versa.

When you also coordinate your wardrobe with warm or cool colors, your cosmetics will naturally blend with your clothes.

Cosmetics are divided into two categories: Color and skin care. "Color helps you today, but skin care today helps you 10 or 20 years down the road. Once you settle on a few of the right color products, you'll have more money left for quality skin care," Peterson told me.

Basic essentials for a natural daytime look for working women include: two foundations and two blushes (one set for summer and one for winter) and two or three lipsticks and eye shadows. Eyebrow pencils, eye liners and mascara will always be the same. You will always look right and can feel confident with this plan. For more glamorous after-five looks, heavier makeup and more eye colors can be used.

It's essential to keep all your cosmetics in one spot. Eliminating trips you make during application will save you time. Also, always apply cosmetics with proper lighting. An ideal setting includes sitting in front of a good quality makeup mirror on the "daytime" setting, with as much outside light as possible and a magnifying mirror. This will help assure that you won't end up with improper colors, uneven lines or blobs of unbalanced or poorly blended makeup, any of which can ruin a professional look.

Dorothy Lehmkuhl will teach her series of "Organizing for Success" seminars at Schoolcraft College beginning Feb. 7. Call 462-4448 to enroll.

Gardener's New Year's resolutions

It's time for gardeners to make New Year's resolutions that they can at least think about until spring arrives.

You may have made some of the same resolutions last year, but here they are again for your consideration:

I will make up my list of seeds and plants before I study new seed catalogs, which probably will change my mind or plans drastically.

I will plan my garden carefully, then follow the plan so that I rotate crops as I should and make good use of available space all season.

I will be ruthless in the battle against weed plants.

I will inspect plants for insects more often to prevent ruination of cabbage by cabbage worms and tomatoes by hornworms.

I will remember to put cutworm collars around my peppers at planting time.

I will plant potatoes a distance from eggplant and peppers so that potato beetles have to work to invade and destroy other crops.

I will harvest my crops at the peak of their perfection, rather than when I get around to it.

I will can or freeze excess produce promptly to preserve it at its best.

I will spray or otherwise protect my fruit trees to discourage invasion by insects.

I will begin mulching earlier for weed control.

I will control lawn weeds and apply slow-re-

weeder's guide

lease fertilizer in the fall, before it snows.

I will cage my tomatoes so that birds and mice have trouble getting to the ripening fruit.

I will plant cool-weather crops either earlier or later than I did last year so they can grow under more favorable weather conditions.

I will prune my blackberries despite the stick-ers.

I will divide the peonies and irises that haven't been separated for years.

I will prune grapes and fruit trees in the dead of winter, even though I'd rather be reading by the fire.

I will repot my potbound houseplants before they push themselves out of the soil with their expanding roots.

I will move my light-loving plants from dark corners before they drop all their leaves.

I will resist buying more houseplants — unless, of course, they're irresistible!

I will program my Christmas cactus to bloom at Christmas instead of at Halloween.

I will develop a greater appreciation of dan-delions and other wildflowers.

I will follow the directions for using garden equipment and chemicals.

I will make at least one needed, long-term improvement in my home grounds.

And finally, I will set up a priority system for lawn, garden and landscape resolutions so I don't get discouraged and overwhelmed trying to carry them all out at once.

The Weeders Guide wishes a happy new year and successful gardening to all, and thanks Michigan State University horticulturists for the resolutions. Here's some news on fall-blooming asters.

The brightly colored aster is a favorite fall flower, even though it blooms only for a short period. Plant asters in the spring. You can start them indoors, or directly in the ground when it warms.

Sow seeds 3 to 4 inches apart. A late thinning at 6 to 8 inches will provide transplants for other areas. Asters like full sun.

There are many varieties of asters, including tall, dwarf, the shaggy-headed Crag, and Powder Puff with its quilled petals. Colors include royal blue, crimson, shell pink and white.

Earl Aronson is the Associated Press garden writer.

Frank Lloyd Wright protege to speak at Lawrence Tech

E. Fay Jones, nationally recognized as one of the most authentic practitioners of Frank Lloyd Wright's architectural principals, will be the next speaker for the Lawrence Technological University's ARCHITECTURE series at 7:30 p.m. Jan. 18 in the Lawrence Technological University College of Architecture and Design auditorium.

Jones, who will discuss "In the Tradition of Organic Architecture," designed Thomas S. Monaghan's new 18,000-square-foot home in Ann Arbor which is presently under construction.

The lecture is open to the public at no charge.

Under Wright's guidance, Jones learned the importance of designing, detailing and construction structures in synchronization with the earth and in using building materials "honestly." Jones served an apprenticeship with Wright in 1953.

He received his bachelor of architecture degree from the University of Arkansas and his master in architecture degree from Rice University. He is fellow of the American Academy in Rome.

described the Thorncrown Chapel as "... a brilliant testimony to the power of architecture to intensify experience and inspire contemplation, and a fitting gauge by which to measure one architect."

For more information, call Gay Keeskes, 356-0200, Ext. 4020. The university is at 21000 W. 10 Mile Road.

Under Wright's guidance, Jones learned the importance of designing, detailing and construction structures in synchronization with the earth.

River Oaks West in Novi will be the site of 420 units developed by The Solomon Group.

Apartment growth stalls as market softens

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Construction of new apartments is leveling off in metro Detroit, most developers maintain.

While development may be slackening from a surge in the mid 1980s, it isn't coming to a standstill. In fact, if you look around and consider what's under construction, you might get the idea that things are pretty darn good.

All kinds of apartments are in progress, including:

- The Citation Club, 250 units in Farmington Hills, and Lakeside Terraces, 176 units in Sterling Heights, developed by Beztak Companies.

- River Oaks West, 420 units in Novi, developed by The Solomon Group.

- Westbury Village Townhouses, 236 units in Auburn Hills, developed by Kaftan Enterprises.

- Village Green of Madison Heights, 225 units, Village Green of Farmington Hills, 240 units, and Village Green of Canton, 272 units, developed by Holtzman & Silverman Cos.

- Park Place of Northville, 144 units, built by Ted Jacobson.

SEVERAL OTHER developments are on the drawing boards.

They include The Wetherby, 160 units, and phase one of Pebble Creek Pointe, 224 units, both in Southfield.

Then there's another River Oaks Village of about 230 units planned by Solomon for Rochester Hills.

Solomon also hopes to start an ambitious development of another 1,400 units in Novi next summer. After this latest round, though, most developers expect construction to tail off until demand catches up with supply.

"I think our expansion has played out. Demand is softening," said Larry Wilkinson, vice president of development for Beztak.

MELVIN KAFTAN, president of Kaftan Enterprises and the Apartment Association of Michigan, attributed the downturn directly to the Tax Reform Act of 1986.

That legislation substantially limited deductions of passive losses for investors and went a long way in drying up financing for new apartment projects.

Upwards of 6,000 new units quickly arose, many in the area of Novi and Farmington Hills, before new tax regulations fully took effect, Kaftan said.

That greatly contributed to an oversupply, resulting in a current vacancy rate estimated by various people at 7 to 10 percent in the Detroit market.

The only apartment development forecast by Wilkinson in the next couple of years is by developers who will complete additional phases of existing projects.

HENRY SASSON, president of The Solomon Group, said his business has been going great guns the last year and a half. He expects the good times to continue.

"Things are just getting better for us by being creative and designing projects people want to live in," Sasson said.

Reggie Belanger, vice president for Main Street Development, said he believes his Southfield projects will do well because he's building closer to where people work.

The competition for new apartments there isn't as keen as in Farmington Hills and Novi, he said.

"Developers have chosen to go out further where land is available and they're competing with each other," Belanger said.

Present project in good-faith manner

I am thinking about doing a condominium conversion in a local downtown area from an old home, and am wondering whether you anticipate there will be any problems from the city.

Obviously, you will have to obtain the necessary approval from the appropriate governmental agencies of the city in question with respect to the condominium conversion, particularly if you need any zoning variances and the like.

Condominium conversions can be successful and can serve to enhance the community and the neighbors surrounding the property in question if done in a proper fashion.

You should thoroughly plan your proposed condominium conversion and make the appropriate presentation, after first checking with an architect, landscape planner and legal counsel.

If you make a well thought out and good faith proposal to the city, more than likely they will seriously consider approving your proposal, particularly if you can convince them that it is in the best interests of the community to allow any variances that are needed.

Apartments offer resort amenities

By Doug Funke
staff writer

They aren't building apartment complexes the way they used to.

Fireplaces, clubhouses with exercise equipment, indoor pools, Jacuzzis and, in some cases, personal computers and facsimile machines, are offered as amenities.

Not to mention private entrances, electronic security systems, microwaves and garages.

New apartments are luxurious, pricey and in demand.

In a pre-leasing period of just three weeks, more than 50 of the 225 units at the Village Green of Madison Heights have been snapped up, said Jayne Thorner Lynch, spokeswoman for the Holtzman & Silverman Cos.

The first tenant isn't expected to move in for three or four months.

"I think what we're trying to emulate is the Hyatt or Marriott, a name and reputation for quality and service," said Jonathan Holtzman.

"What we're trying to do is recognize the renter today wants a lot more for his rental dollar than just a box."

The typical Village Green renter is moving up to their second or third apartment and stays for two or three years before buying a house, Holtzman said. Monthly rents range from the high $400s to the low $800s.

THE FIRST 250 units of the Citation Club in Farmington Hills are nearly finished, said Larry Wilkinson, vice president of development for Beztak. Rents range from $585-$1,020, with a typical two-bedroom unit going for about $800.

"Baby boomers are more sophisticated, older. They have more money. They're more transient. They're recreation conscious," Wilkinson said. A handful of apartments are ready for occupancy at Westbury Village Townhouses. A two-bedroom unit rents for $900; three bedrooms from $850 to $950.

The three-bedroom unit with 1,400 square feet and 2½ baths is more like a house than an apartment, Kaftan said.

The first tenant in River Oaks West is expected in January. A two-bedroom apartment there will run $805-$865 monthly.

Rents at The Wetherby and Pebble Creek Pointe, yet to be built, are projected to start at $675 for one bedroom, $875 for two.

"As long as you give people the idea living in an apartment is like living in a resort, we'll do well," said Henry Sasson of the Solomon Group.

Just for Brides

The Monthly Album is published the third Monday of each month for the announcements of engagements and weddings.

Engagement announcements will be accepted no later than 45 days prior to the wedding. Wedding announcements must be submitted within 60 days following the wedding. All announcements are run on a space available, first-come, first-served basis.

Photos submitted should be black and white glossies, preferably 5-by-7 inches in size. Color photos can be submitted and will be accepted but they do not reproduce as well.

Due to the volume of photographs handled, the newspaper will not be responsible for any that may get lost or damaged. Photos can be picked up after publication in the Farmington Observer office. Or, if a self-addressed sufficiently stamped envelope is received with the photo it will be returned.

Engagement and wedding announcements pertinent to Livonia, Redford, Garden City, Westland, Farmington and Farmington Hills are to be addressed to Loraine McClish, Farmington Observer, 33203 Grand River, Farmington 48024.

Inquiries are taken by McClish or Rose Butler in the Farmington Observer office, 477-5450.

About our cover

Marlana Nagy and William Witt, Jr. were married by Father James Baldwin in St. Michael Catholic Church in Livonia. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Nagy of Livonia and he is the son of Col. and Mrs. William Witt of Fairfax Station, Va.

The couple met while they were both students at Western Michigan University, where he received his bachelor's degree. He is now employed with General Telephone and Electronics in Chicago. She is a student of interior design in Chicago.

The bride said she was impressed with the thoroughness of their photographer, who spent an entire day with the couple in the church, in her home and until 1 a.m. at the reception in Laurel Manor.

Ron Reck, owner and operator of The Ultimate Image, gave the couple well over 200 proofs taken on their wedding day. Reck, who specializes in weddings, worked out of his Livonia home for 10 years without advertising. All of his work came from referrals.

He now has studios in the Laurel Manor Banquet Conference Center and employs three photographers, two assistant photographers and two secretaries.

The newlyweds honeymooned in Hawaii and are making their home in Chicago.
