Babody, two other crew members and 15 people on the ground were reportedly killed when the DC-6 cargo plane crashed shortly after takeoff Saturday. The plane was carrying a load of vegetables and sewing materials, according to company officials at Aerial Transit, Inc., Babody's Miami-based employer.

Council vote split on Benyo renewal

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

The Westland City Council renewed the city's contract with consultant Joseph Benyo Monday, despite Benyo's decreasing responsibilities under Mayor Robert Thomas.

Under the new agreement, Benyo will work solely for the council and report directly to Council President Tom Brown. Previously, Benyo had been working on a shared-time basis with the council and the administration, an arrangement that was discontinued when Thomas took office in January.

Thomas made no recommendation on the renewal.

The council voted 4-2 to offer a new, two-year agreement to Joseph Benyo Associates, the consulting firm owned and operated by Benyo, for services as a municipal consultant and council legislative assistant.

Voting in favor of the contract were council members Tom Brown, Ben DeHart, Ken Mehl and Sandra Cicirelli. Council members Charles Pickering and Terri Relghard Johnson voted against the contract.

COUNCILMAN Thomas Artley was absent and didn't vote.

Benyo's contract was set to expire June 30. The early renewal was necessary to meet a clause calling for 60 days notification if it was to be terminated, Benyo said Monday.

"I appreciate the effort of the entire council and particularly what Mr. Brown has done to bring my duties into focus," Beyo said Tuesday.

Under the new agreement, some of the services to be performed by

• Acting as a liaison between the council, mayor, city clerk, city treasurer and all city department heads. Assisting council members with research and other tasks.

• Acting as a council ombudsman with local residents.

· Assisting in intergovernmental, community and media relations on behalf of the council.

The contract calls for Benyo to receive $21 per hour plus expenses, the same compensation he received under the previous agreement. Benyo said Tuesday his compensawas $32,928, up slightly from approximately $32,000 in 1988. He expects to be paid a similar amount under the new agreement, tion under the agreement in 1989

Councilman Charles Pickering praised the work done by Benyo, but said his opposition was based on the "duties and responsibilities" spelled out in the contract.

"AS I READ, that person is really doing the job that I - as an elected official - was intended to do," Pickering said. "I do not feel that I need to have someone paid to represent Pickering also said he didn't agree with "the line of authority" presented in the contract, particularly Benyo reporting directly to the council president.

Benyo, whose office was moved to then-Mayor Charles Griffin's suite during city hall remodeling in 1989, returned to his office behind the council chambers on the second floor of city hall in December.

Benyo was a key supporter of Griffin's unsuccessful bid for reelection last fall.

SPECIAL SECTION IN TODAY'S ISSUE

With some fun-filled activities ahead, the class of '90 in local high schools is getting ready to end four years of hard work.

Graduations are planned at the Wayne-Westland school district's John Glenn and Wayne Memorial Highs Saturday, June 9, in Crisier Arena, Ann Arbor. In the Livonia district, which includes the northern section of Westland, Franklin and Churchill are planning commmencements the following Wednesday and Inursuay, respectively, at their own athletic fields.

Two private schools, Huron Valley Lutheran and Lutheran High Westland, next door to each other on Cowan between Venoy and Wayne Road, are also planning graduations June 10.

At Churchill and Franklin, seniors will enjoy an all-night party following graduation ceremonies.

Franklin's seniors will graduate Wednesday, June 13, followed by the Churchill ceremony the next night.

BETWEEN NOW and then, most of the seniors also will dance at their senior proms and be honored during honor's night,

The first will be Wayne Memorial's, planned for Friday night at the Hellenic Cultural Center, on Joy near Newburgh, Westland.

Although the deputy chief posts would carry a higher salary than the current positions, Thomas said the city could end up saving money by not having to pay overtime or additional holiday pay. Unlike the current inspector and executive lieutenant positions, the new positions would be management jobs excluded from the command officers union.

In order to remove the positions from the bargaining unit, Thomas said, he agreed to vacation benefits that would be the same as those in the bargaining unit - 28 days following 10 years of service and accrual of up to 30 vacation days.

Several council members balked at the "vacation bank" idea and asked Thomas to resubmit the proposal without it.

Prize-winning producers announced

Three people split $750 in prizes for having the best cable-TV public access programs.

The three were announced as winners Friday night in the city of Westland's Community Relations/ Cable TV public access programming contest.

The winners were identified during the city's first open house in the studio since the city took over public access responsibilities, including training, programming and scheduling.

- The access winners and their programs were Bob Turner; first place, ("Aerobics"); Steve Mexicotta, second place, ("Our Town"); and Keith Kaye, third place ("For

DPS budget switch approved

The cost of Mayor Robert Thomas' commitment to improving basic city services was debated briefly by the Westland City Council Monday.

The council voted 5-1 to approve a $15,000 transfer from the general fund budget to the public services department to cover overtime expenses for street sweeping between now and June 30.

Center notes hospital week

Celebrates with band, pizza

Westland Medical Center, of which Garden City Osteopathic is a part owner, celebrated the opening of national hospital week Monday with a little dinner music.

Actually, it wasn't quite a formal sit-down meal at an expensive restaurant with strolling violinists entertaining diners.

The reality was that the hospital's administration brought in dozens of pizzas for the meal and the John Glenn High School Jazz Band for the entertainment.

There are 475 employees in the former Wayne County General Hospital facility on Merriman south of Palmer who enjoyed the treats.

The music and pizza opened the week at the hospital, which adopted a theme of "count on us to care."

The jazz band, directed by Norman Logan, played selections such as "Working Hard for the Money" and "Pleasin'" to fit in with the theme of the hospital week, Police/fire safety day was observed Tuesday, featuring a onehour presentation by George Riley of the Westland Fire Department, a fire extinguisher class and fire award presentations for people involved in putting out the Feb. 28: blaze at the hospital.

Wednesday was red, white and blue day with employees encouraged to wear those colors. A free coney lunch was served to staffers throughout the day.

EMPLOYEE HEALTH day is scheduled for today with technicians and professional staffers giving blood pressure readings, blood glucose tests, pulmonary function tests and distributing health information literature. Later in the day, employees are asked to bring in their favorite dessert recipes for others to enjoy.

The week will close Friday with an ice cream social.

On the hospital week planning committee were Carol Bridges of human resources department; Linda Burks, a head nurse; Deborah Gonzales, administrative secretary; Pattie Nigri, patient accounts: Fran O'Neill, employee health nurse; Donna Pierce, nurse; Barbara Starrs, payroll clerk; and Paula Willis, director of communications, public safety, and materials management.

Since the county hopital was sold to a private health consortium several years ago, it has continued to operate as an acute care facility as well as expanding with 96 psychiatric patient beds and 23 chemical dependent patient beds. The hospital, which is licensed by the state for a maximum of 412 beds, is owned by Westland Health Network, made up of Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, Oakwood Hospital and Southwest Detroit Hospi-

She gets into the 'spirit' with cheerleading, baton twirling

By C.L. Rugenstein staff writer

Ranae Paulus has a lot of spirit. And she shares it with about 175 young people called, appropriately enough, the Spiriters. . The Spiriters is the name of the cheerleading and baton marching unit that helps kick off the Westland Festival every year and is Paulus' special baby. The idea for the corps began when Paulus graduated from Detroit's Cody High School in 1976. She didn't get into cheerleading and baton twirling until her last year, but once she started Paulus didn't want to

. Ages in the troupe range from 4 to 12 years. Paulus draws the line at taking girls older than 14.

"If they sign up before they reach 12 they can stay in till they're 14. But in junior high school there are cheerleading squads they can join, and that's when I lose most of them."

SHE TEACHES Mondays through Thursdays, and Saturday mornings. Paulus also has classes in Wayne and Plymouth, and a small squad in Belleville.

They learn how to twirl the baton, cheerleading routines and how to use the pompons.

There's also the incentive of wearing the uniform - blue satin skirt, white sequin belt and red satin top for cheerleaders; red satin leotard with white sequin trim, blue and white fringe skirt for twirlers. And don't forget the red shoe poms for PAULUS' TIME is filled with teaching and working at the Target store, on Ford east of Inkster Road in Dearborn Heights.

The Spiriters haven't participated in any Target store events yet, but Paulus has a feeling they'll be asked.

She's also busily sewing the red, white and blue costumes for her new Spiriters. Paulus had a seamstress who did the work, but is trying to cut corners a little this year.

CHRISTMAS PARADES have their own special perils for the girls, even though Paulus designed a marching outfit to include sweat shirt, knit cap and mittens.

"It's kind of hard for them. I have to pep-talk them to make it all the way through."

She also gives prizes to those who make it to the end.

"No private lessons" is her rule, though some of her students have asked for them. "I just don't have the time right now."

It would be a highlight of Paulus' experience as a teacher, and former cheerleader/baton twirler.

According to Hart, one problem law enforcement officials face is that judges must rely on secondhand information in determining the guilt or innocence of an accused party.

"Taped footage of highway stops would allow judges to see and hear what actually happened when a motorist was stoped by a police car," said Hart. " In drunk driving cases, for example, the judge can review not only the results of breathalyzer and blood tests, but a tape showing the physical condition of a motorist accused of drunk driving, he added.

"Judges also will be able to see and hear whether improper force was used, or whether a motorist was adequately advised of his or her rights prior to the search of a vehi-

carrier of the month

Westland

Christina Bliudzius has been named Carrier of the Month for May by the Westland Observer.

Christina, the daughter of Romas and Irene Bliudzius of Westland, has had an Observer route since 1987.

She is a sixth grader at Nankin Mills Elementary School, where her favorite subjects are reading and math. She has been a dance student since 3 and enjoys ballet, toe, tap and jazz dancing.

Christina's favorite thing about having a newspaper route is the new people she has met, she said. The route is also a good way to earn extra money, she said.

Christina's future plans include a career as a dance teacher.

Rouge Rescue Event is becoming a tradition

By Wayne Peal staff writer

In a sense, Rouge Rescue '90 is like a wedding — something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

The something old is the volunteers who will return for the fifth consecutive year.

"I'd say we're building a core of people who are going to keep coming back," said Sharon Sabat, who is coordinating Livonia's cleanup ef-Though there had been previous efforts, the Rouge Rescue began as an annual event in 1986. Since then, an estimated 2,000-3,000 people have participated each year.

As for something new, there will be new volunteers — and new sites - for this year's event, Saturday,

More than 100 employees from a local GM plant are expected to bolster Sabat's troops in Livonia. (For a list of sites of interest to Observer & Eccentric readers, see related story and map.)

"They were thinking about starting their own site, but we're glad they're going to be working with us,", 'she said.

Westland, for the first time, is also sponsoring a site and expects to draw new volunteers of its own.

"IT WAS something we felt we should do, something we felt was beneficial for the area," said site cocoordinator Bruce Getin. Westland's addition brings to 18 the number of cities and townships sponsoring cleanup sites,

Farmington Hills is looking for a new site. Unlike other communities, many of which work the same sites year after year, the Oakland County community sends its volunteers where it decides they're needed

"What we try to do is pick the worst spot we can find," site coordinator Jean Barrett said.

In addition to the communities, Oakland Community College, the Western Wayne Conservation Association, Holliday Nature Preserve Association and City Management Corp. are among private groups sponsoring sites.

As far as something borrowed, the Rouge Rescue depends upon municipal employees - who will wade into the river to clear log jams and haul out debris in the days leading up to the volunteer cleanup.

Because of Rouge pollution, municipal employees are the only ones authorized to go into the river itself. Volunteers generally carry branches, logs and other debris from the banks of the river to nearby trash bins. Volunteers are encouraged to wear long-sleeved shirts, long pants, boots and gloves.

Cyclists sought for 'Magic Ride'

Registrations are still available make donations based upon the for Saturday's 1990 Metro Magic Ride, but they're going fast.

"We expect to have more riders than registration forms," said Cindy Burgess, who is helping Canton Township coordinate the event.

Sponsored by the township, as well as a host of corporate sponsors, the bicycling event will raise money to prevent child abuse and neglect.

"The money raised by riders from metro Detroit will go to programs in metro Detroit," Burgess said.

The ride is the first of its kind in this area, through similar events have been held in Lansing for several years.

-The metro Detroit ride is sponsored by Big Boy Restaurants, Kroger Supermarkets, McDonald's Restuarants, Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan, Child Abuse and Neglect Council of Oakland County, Out Wayne County Council on Child Abuse and Neglect, Child Advocacy Network of Monroe County, Macomb County Child Abuse and Neglect Information Council, Mayor's Task Force on Child Abuse and St. Clair County Child Abuse and Neglect Council.

Riders can choose four, eight or 14 mile routes, though scenic Canton countryside. They are encouraged to get their friends and families to World Record.

amount of miles they ride. Riders are asked to wear helmets.

About 300-350 riders are expected, Burgess said. "That will give us a nice base for next year." Event sponsors hope to raise at least $10.000. Registration will be 8-11 a.m. at the Canton Recreation Complex, 1150 Canton Center Road, west of Sheldon and south of Cherry Hill roads. Registration is $15. The first group of riders will leave 9 a.m. Riders must return by 3 p.m. Activities for youngsters 3-11 will be available 9 a.m. to noon. Additional information is available by calling 455-3645, between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The ride will feature a host of celebrity riders including Oakland County Prosecutor Richard Thompson, Oakland County Executive Dan Murphy, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, David Mills, executive director of the Children's Trust Fund, state Reps. James Kosteva. D-Canton Township; Judy Miller, R-Birmingham, David Honigman, D-West Bloomfield and Jan Dolan, R-Farmington. Also riding will be state Sen. Richard Fessler, R-Union Lake and Patti Brehler, holder of the 24-hour women's Tandem counting on getting enough workers to complete the tally in Oakland and Wayne countles.

"We need about 300 to 400 people as we enter the follow-up stage of the census," according to David E. Martin, recruiter for the census bureau's office in Livonia.

In March, the bureau initiated the census by seeking out the homeless and by sending out questionhaires to he filled out and returned by April 1.

While many met the deadline, the workers are needed to contact those who didn't or who did so incomplete-

Retirees don new caps as Schoolcraft College graduates

By Mary Washko staff writer

Howard Midaugh is a senior at Schoolcraft College — a senior citizen that is.

At 76 years old, Midaugh, who will graduate in May, decided to return to school in 1983 when he retired as a tool and die maker at S&S Products in Wyandotte.

"I liked the idea of getting a college degrée and I decided I needed exercise for the brain as well as the body," Midaugh said.

Midaugh isn't alone.

SCHOOLCRAFT PRESIDENT Richard McDowell said the school gets quite a few retired people "who come for the involvement with other people and to stay mentally active."

"The young people learn from them and they learn from the younger students," said McDowell, whose district includes Garden City and the northern section of Westland in the Livonia school district.

Midaugh said going back to school after so many years wasn't as traumatic as he thought it would be.

"I had good teachers who helped me and realized I'd been away from

Ballot deadline looms on exec succession issue

By Wayne Peal: staff writer

If Wayne County Commissioners are going to revive their call for a change in the county executive's line of succession, they're going to have to move fast.

Commissioners have until May 29 to submit ballot wording to the county elections clerk and they have only one regularly scheduled meeting before that date.

"I can't say what's going to happen," said Commissioner Kay Beard. D-Inkster, a co-sponsor of the proposal. "We might sit down to discuss

The proposal would have asked voters to let the county commissioner choose a successor should the executive leave office early, rather than let the deputy executive automatically advance to the post - as would now occur under the county Commissioners deadlocked on the issue 7-7 last week, tabling the measure indefinitely.

SEVERAL AREA commissioners said they didn't expect the issue to be revived anytime soon.

"Right now, I'd have to say it's a should wait at least until after the November election," said Kevin Kelly, D-Redford, who voted against the proposal. "If we are to look at it "If it does (come up again) it again, I'd like to see us create a special panel that would consider all the ramifications."

Commissioner Milton Mack, D-Wayne, said he wouldn't try to revive his alternative proposal to allow the executive and deputy run as a team.

"I think it's all pretty much a dead issue," Mack said.

Mack's proposal was defeated, 12-2, at last week's commission meeting. "but I didn't campaign too hard for it," he said.

County Executive Edward McNamara lobbled against the pro-

"It's too bad he didn't leave it to the people to decide," said Beard. But other commissioners said they preferred the status quo. "I feel we already have review," Heintz said. "We do approve the deputy executive." Commissioners generally said they were glad the issue was over.

"I know that tended to dominate things for awhile, but it's time to move on," Kelly said.

Beard's district includes Garden City and Westland, Heintz represents Livonia, Plymouth and Plymouth. Township. Mack's district includes Canton:

Past finds have been pretty amazing, cleanup coordinators said. Rusted automobiles, motorcycles and refrigerators, as well as tires and a picnic table or two, have been among the items annually dragged from the Rouge.

Lastly, there is the something blue - the clear blue water volunteers hope to someday return to the Rouge, instead of the river's current murky brown coloring.

Restoring the Rouge has been the goal since day one. Since the 1986 cleanup, Rouge volunteers have adopted the slogan: "Crystal clear is our goal."

Clearing log jams, coordinators said, helps the improve the Rouge's flow and enables the river to rid itself of pollutants.

Rouge restoration turned a major corner in October 1988 with author-Ization of $34.7 million in federal grant money for the North Huron Valley/Rouge River "super sewer" project, after 17 years of negotialions between Wayne County and federal government.

THE GIANT sewer line is expected to cut down on the amount of human waste annually dumped into the river.

Outmoded combined sewers, some built a half-century or more ago, fill with storm water during heavy rainfall or with melting snow and ice during the spring thaw. As a result, hey overflow and end up dumping ewage into the river.

A 1990 Michigan Department of Natural Resources study indicated that human waste, rather than industrial waste, is the Rouge's chief problem.

The study indicated toxic waste only becomes a problem when the combined sewers overflow.

That study will be discussed in depth at a meeting of the Rouge River Basin Committee June 20.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 16, 1990, at 8:00 o'clock+p.m._DST_at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1990 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.197 mills for operating purposes' pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1990 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would incrase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1990 otherwisepermitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated fourteen percent (14%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating. purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valuation.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

Despite a movement to rewrite the 1984 law that deregulated cable television, local cable companies say things are running smoothly.

"The response has been that we're doing a very good job," said Tom Bjorklund, vice president and regional manager at MetroVision, which services Redford and Livonia.

But the concern of a cable monopoly from consumers, broadcasters and others has officials in Congress working toward rewriting the 1984 law that deregulated cable rates and limited local government control over the industry.

WITH CABLE now providing the main access to programs for 54 percent of U.S. homes, broadcasters and other competitors worry they will be shut off from the viewing public.

They charge cable operators with dropping local broadcasts, shifting them to higher (and less used) channel locations and favoring programs in which they have a vested interest.

Warnings about a growing cable monopoly have long come from broadcasters, wireless cable providers and satellite dish makers cable's main competitors. Recently, however, the debate has begun to shift from big-business issues to more populist, consumer-based concerns about rates and service.

'Try as we might, they're not all happy," Bjorklund said.

"The cable industry has done a super job in terms of developing exinterested in viewing."

Other cable managers echo Bjorklund's assessment.

"In terms of quality and level of customer service, we have received excellent community response," said Kay Elen Perry, area manager of

"Some bills would have negative results for us and our customers. Certainly, it is a concern of our industry," Bjorklund said.

Cable operators cast all the "cable-bashing" as being motivated by self-interest.

"The broadcasters simply want to be assured that their programming will be carried on our competitive delivery system, as well as maintain their own monopoly hold on the (broadcast frequency) spectrum." said Stephen R. Choosing between these two legislative options -, re-regulation and competition from telephone companies - was like choosing between being "boiled in oil or vinegar," James P. Mooney, president of the National Cable Television Association, told senators late last year.

Blanchard plan will raise school attendance age

By Tim Richard staff writer

City officials loudly applauded Gov. James J. Blanchard as he renewed his plea for raising the mandatory school attendance age to 18.

"If we think we can keep them only to 16 and think we've really joined the world, then we are completely out of it," Blanchard told a friendly audience in Eastern Michigan University's conference center

Prospects are good in the House of Representatives, he said, but the Senate has turned it down.

Blanchard addressed city, townpredominantly Democratic 15th and 16th congressional districts.

'So the bureaucracy in our state Department of Education and State the problem."

The State Board of Education, an elective body, is split 4-4 between Democrats and Republicans.

The mandatory age for school attendance has been 16 since the ton. 1940s. In his "state of the state" message, Blanchard advocated raising it to age 18 or high school graduation, whichever comes first.

THE GOVERNOR has made it an economic development issue, saying ship and county officials from the Michigan needs a better educated work force to compete in the world economy.

Very soon, newspaper stories will appear about how fancy hotels in the suburbs won't be allowing young revelers to party in their establishments after the prom or graduation.

One of the trendier hostelries in Oakland County started getting tough a few springs ago and others have followed suit, pledging not to rent to teens on a toot. It's getting to be a real perennial, that story.

Noisy youngsters sometimes bother the "corporate" customers, the innkeepers have said. And besides, it seems to have dawned on them that they can be held legally responsible if alcohol or drugs are consumed on their property.

No, the good publicity about not contributing to the downfall of our youth is worth much more to are hotel managers than the revenue to be gained by renting a few extra rooms.

And that brings us to the crux of the teen party problem — alcohol- and drugs, especially the

Now, we'd like to think that things are changing for the better. We're glad to know that local high schools in the Wayne-Westland and Livonia school districts have active Students Against-Driving Drunk (SADD) chapter with members taking part in a Detroit area program last month to promote sane and sensible behavior on prom and graduation nights.

But let's be honest about it: There's often some serious drinking at some of these late-season affairs, sometimes with the knowledge and consent of the parents.

It was nearly 10 years ago that seniors in a neighboring community got carried away with a post-graduation party in a city park. In recent years, there has been a shift in society's attitudes toward alcohol and drinking. Studies have shown that people are drinking less.

But that doesn't mean that an otherwise-responsible 18-year-old senior won't be tempted to close his/her high school career with a bottle of

But realistically, we realize that some seniors will take the risk.

Teens and parents should be reminded that it is illegal for people under 21 to buy or possess beer, wine, or liquor. If they are arrested, they will have a permanent police record which could affect future job opportunities.

The bottom line is that seniors should "just say the tragedy of a prom night or post-graduation no" to the sauce if they want to improve their auto fatality, students, parents, and school offi- chances of making it beyond the weekend.

General Motors seizes the moment to announce an electric car. Virtually all known elected officials plant trees (only) in front of cameras. Recycling programs are launched with great fanfare. T-shirts promoting the environment are printed by the thousands.

Did all this lead one more family to recycle its trash? Did it encourage McDonald's to quit using non-degradable polystyrene packaging materials? Did Exxon Corp. require double-hulled tankers for oil transit? Did more cities mandate trash separation for curbside pickup?

THE THEORY behind events like Earth Day is that publicity helps raise people's consciousness, gets them focused on doing something. But did anything really happen?

I don't know. Neither the TV people nor the newspapers focused attention on what actually happened as a result of the publicity. It's a bad habit of our trade.

Earth Day provoked our newspapers to sum up what they are doing about recycling and to tell our readers where we stand.

Two environmental problems face the newspaper business.

Newsprint made from 100 percent recycled fiber is impossible to run through the press, but we can print with 50 percent recycled fiber. So you get 50 percent more newsprint mileage per tree cut, which isn't bad.

Our company's policy is to use recycled newsprint as much as we can. The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers now use 25 percent recycled newsprint; this will go to 50 percent next year.

SECOND, OLD newspapers make up a high percentage of the trash in landfills. As a society, we are running out of landfill space.

For years, we have been selling our waste newsprint to a recycling firm. But so many people now recycle their old newspapers that the Philip

HE ANNUAL suburban nightmare is about to begin. As graduation celebrations build up steam, we will see newspaper accounts detailing the deaths of teens killed in automobile accidents.

Most of these deaths will in some way be related to the abuse of alcohol or drugs.

Election flyer is criticized

Recently, my 10-year-old son brought home from school, a sheet that was marked from the PTA regarding placing the previously defeated school millage back on the ballot for elections to be held June

The sheet was in effect, a solicitation for assistance in the election process as well as support. Personally, I have no problem with that except that at the very bottom of the form was the line: "Paid for by the Committee for . . ."

Our 9-year-old on the same day asked my wife and I which way we were going to vote on the millage. He worried because it was explained to him (at school) that without the millage some of his favorite classes would be cut and "that would be ter-

Since the school system is allowing outside "committees" to effectively do their electioneering through the schools using our children as methods of distribution, do OTHER "committees" have the right of "equal time" or access to this same distribution method?

For years the Wayne-Westland school district has used a slogan with the word "positive" built in. This year however, the line printed on ALL the class schedules for our kids has been: "Be positive — or be QUI-

Is the school district teaching our kids not to think for themselves or not to voice their own opinions? Notice that I said the school DISTRICT, not the teachers. Teachers, like all employees, are doing their job, and when their boss says, "give these to your kids to take home" that's the order of the day. Pure and simple:

Just because my opinion doesn't agree with the school district's is no reason to keep me from voicing my opinion.

From a parents' point of view, I don't believe that children should be used to influence voters - even if the voters are their parents. Our kids have enough stress developing into young men and women and then into voting adults. There is no reason why any 9- or 10 year-old (or high school student) should be drafted by the school district as method of increasing funding. Especially when the district has been told by the voters "NO" not once, but TWICE before.

Until my klds are of voting age, I would prefer that they learn the importance of voting, not which way mommy and daddy should vote in an election.

Think of the two possible scenarios:

(1)If Mommy and Daddy do vote "positive" on the election, then the parents should remain "quiet" and pay the increases and accept the fact: that their kids' overall test scores are still dropping. (2)If Mommy and Daddy vote, against the millage, then they are the "bad guys" in the eyes of their own children because the district; makes cuts.

It's a "no win" situation for the parents either way. The bottom line is this:

If the school district is going to allow electioneering by outside committees and use our kids as their personal representatives, (on the premise that it's good for kids to: learn about the voting process,) then I demand that the district afford. "equal time" and distribution methods to all other committees. Equality is what built this country.

OR (after this election) quit using my children's minds to serve their (the school district's) own purposes.

Since religion has been effectively removed from our schools, let's remove the politics too,

Care for elderly

Society must meet commitment

UNDAY IS MOTHER'S DAY — the day set aside to honor Mom. But the people featured in the special report in today's Suburban Life section are giving their gifts

They are taking care of aging parents — in most cases, Mom; in some cases, Dad.

Taking care of our parents when they no longer can take care of themselves is a major issue for this decade and beyond. Many people are living into their 80s and 90s. Four and even five generation families are not uncommon.

- It's an issue that most of us won't be able to avoid — because it hits us emotionally, physically and in our wallets.

The decision-making prays on our emotions. Nursing home or our home? Are we doing the right thing? Plus the decision for today, may not work for tomorrow — as Mom and Dad deteriorate — or improve.

The emotional turmoil can lead to physical ailments. In addition, there is the physical burden for families who have taken an elderly parent into their home and/or for those who transport them. Statistics show that most of that from many facets of society.

Financially, care for the elderly can be devastating - running through their savings and requiring their children to use theirs.

Our series shows many sources for help in the area. And more services are springing up to give those who take it on respite from day-in, day-out responsibility. But many more resources are needed, including innovative plans such as the Michigan Legislature's volunteer credit bureau. The hours you volunteer are credited to you, and you can get those hours back from a volunteer when you need

As caring for the elderly interferes with on the job effectiveness, business needs to lend a hand. Statistics show that in the first year an employee is required to be a caregiver, 24 percent quit their jobs and another 20 percent think about it.

If wellness programs were the health issue of the '80s, then how to help employees find resources and time to deal with the care of their elderly is the one for the '90s.

Solutions will require commitment and caring

A solution to pet population problem

The needless killing of 15 million companion pets should be reason

THIS WEEK marks the 75th anniversary of Be Kind to Animals Week. This is the oldest commemorative week in the United States, a historical fact which underscores America's love affair and fascination with Americans own more than 100 million dogs and cats and spend nearly $14 billion dollars every year pampering, feeding, and providing medical care for them.

However, there is a dark side to our love affair with our pets. Statistics support a grim reality at odds with our image as animal lovers. More than 70,000 dogs-and cats are born daily in the United States. Approximately 4,000 animals shelters throughout the United States receive nearly 25 million animals each year. That's approximately 60,000 animals who are turned in to shelters and pounds each day!

More than 70 percent of all these animals never leave the shelter. An estimated 15 million of these surplus pets are killed annually in animal shelters across this country. In fact, on this day alone, more than 40,000 animals will be killed. The killing, or euthanasia, of our surplus pets has, out of necessity, become the accepted method of addressing the problem of pet overpopulation.

THIS NATIONAL epidemic of pet overpopulation and its hideous consequence, routine euthanasia, can be stopped. It is completely within the human animals' power to end the needless slaughter of millions of dogs and cats. If we perceive animal overpopulation as a problem, we can undertake aggressive birth and population control efforts without run-

The needless killing of 15 million companion pets should be reason enough for all of us to put aside our personal agendas and begin to take responsibility for the pets we profess to love.

Whereas spay and neuter programs are a critical component of this plan they cannot singlehandly combat the problem. The pet food industry, which spends millions of dollars in advertising, has the ability to make millions of people aware of the tragedy of pet overpopulation and, more importantly, of what can be done to stop it. The veterinary community must begin to see the moral and economic advantages to promoting responible pet ownership. More -animals-do-'not-necessarily-mean more money. More responsible pet owners generate more income, and that is economic reality.

The AKC and the purebred industry must develop similar programs emphasizing the value of sentient creatures. They must implement codes of ethics and allow the showing of neutered animals in the prestigious American show arenas, as is done in England.

Most critically, you and I, and all of us who care about these companion animals must begin to speak out against the massive daily destruction of our pets. We must buy from pet food companies that develop conscientious advertising. We must support breeders who are responsible. We must demand an end to the puppy mills and the pet store mentality that buys and sells these animals as though they were applianswer to this question is an emotional one - they are the ultimate innocent being. We have created the domestic_pet_for_our_own_amuse_ ment, fulfillment and needs. We have taken them into our home, taught them our language, and made them a part of our family. They feel fear, loneliness, and pain much like we do. We have stripped them of their natural instincts and made them dependent on us for virtually everything.

We have a basic moral obligation to do the right thing by them. There is a rational, pragmatic basis for animal activism as well: We try to help animals because we can help them. Animals are considered "non-persons" by society as a whole. By and large, they have no "rights." There are relatively few political or social; constraints upon our dealilngs with

staff writer

A narrowly drawn bill allowing no-knock police searches for drugs is on its way to the state House of Representatives after clearing the Judiclary Committee Tuesday.

Republicans such as Rep. David Honigman of West Bloomfield tried yainly to amend the bill to apply to other felonies such as kidnaping.

"We need a uniform rule regarding search and seizure for any felony," sald Honigman, who nevertheless voted for the final draft.

"Why isn't it just as important to preserve evidence in a rape or murder case as in a drug case?"

Or as his GOP colleague Tom Power of Traverse City put it: "Drugs are the crime of the year."

THE PANEL reported out House Bill 5579 on an-11 to 5 vote:-----

Honigman voted yes, and so did the reluctant chair, Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor.

Power and four Democrats voted no, though apparently for different ·reasons.

An American Civil Liberties Union spokesman, Don Seaton, opposed the measure entirely, saying, "We must not allow the war on drugs to become a war on the Fourth Amendment (of the Bill of Rights).

"Do we want police officers barging in on innocent people engaged in any one of a number of intimate and private acts, including bathing and sexual relations? Do we want police officers terrifying little children . . .? I think not." •

The Judiciary Committee thought otherwise.

THE BILL was sponsored by freshman Rep. Bart Stupak, D-Menominee, an 11-year State Police

It says police may obtain a warrant to enter and search without knocking only if all of these steps are followed:

• The warrant must expressly authorize a no-knock search.

• The warrant can be issued only in drug cases.

only by a district or municipal judge, not a magistrate.

• The judge must make a finding, based on facts in the police affidavit. that knocking before entering may jeopardize the safety of the officer. the safety of another person or the collection of evidence.

If the search fails to yield the evidence police are seeking, the unit of government employing them can be held liable to the owner for damage to the property.

STUPAK OPPOSED Republican efforts to "open up no-knock to anything. We have a limited bill. This (GOP amendment) is a back door appraoch to opening it up to anything."

Stupak said 30 percent of evidence The warrant-may be issued in drug raids is destroyed by dealers when officers are forced to knock and announce themselves before they can enter a building.

Bullard, an outspoken civil libertarian, wouldn't bring before the committee a broader, Senate-passed bill sponsored by Nick Smith, R-Hillsdale County.

"They (police) are already doing a lot of no-knocks on Court of Appeals approved procedures. Perhaps -Romember her on Mother's Day perhaps - a special entry procedure...

is not such a bad step, given the reality of the current procedure," Bullard told the ACLU lobbyist.

COMMITTEE members unanimously voted to exempt police affidavits for obtaining warrants from the Freedom of Information Act. They said court material's already are exempt from POF procedures

The panel overwhelmingly rejected an amendment by minority vice chair Michael Nye, R-Litchfield, to exempt governmental units from damages if any contraband items other than drugs - such as automatic weapons - were found.

"The purpose of having this bill." said Rep. David Gubow, D-Huntington Woods, "is to search for specific things."....

Bill would simply 'crane game' rules' and raise a certificate fee from $30 to $50. The location license would be eliminated.

"The location permit is really unnecessary. They (owners) move them around from place to place. The Lottery (department) can't keep up with the paperwork."

Law said older machines were gambling devices, but modern machines are games of skill.

The measure cleared the 19-member panel Tuesday with only one dissenting vote.

Taking care of MONDAD

Aging society creates crisis in caregiving

See related editorial

By Julie Brown staff writer

HERE'S A STORY that says once upon a time all older people were lovingly cared for at home, and stayed there until they died peacefully in their sleep.

"This is a mythology," said Dr. Rhonda Montgomery, director of the Institute of Gerontology at Wayne State University in Detroit. At the turn of the century, average life expectancy was in the mid-40s. These days, many people live into their 80s and 90s and beyond.

"You're dealing with four- and five-generation families that didn't exist before," Montgomery said. "It emphasizes the real demographic changes that have been taking place in the last century."

The move away from an agricultural society has also had an impact. At the turn of the century, family members often lived together on a farm.

"So grandma owned the land and the house," she said. People now are more likely to live in urban or suburban areas and to work in service or manufacturing jobs. Families are often scattered throughout the country, with those of different generations living a distance from each other.

MANY CAREGIVERS, spouses or children of older people, aren't all that young themselves. Many are in their 50s and 60s or older.

Yet the "sandwich generation" — children of the elderly who must care for their parents and for their offspring at the same time — is a reality.

"They exist, but that's not as common as people believe," said Montgomery, who received a Ph.D. in sociology/family relations from the University of Minnesota. The children of most caregivers are grown or close to it by the time the need to care for an older loved one

The majority of caregivers are women, said Kathleen Needham, chairwoman of the gerontology department at Madonna College in Livonia. Many women have moved into the paid workforce in recent years, but they still have the primary responsibility of caring for older relatives.

"This care is pretty tiring because it goes on 24 hours a day, seven days a week," Needham said. Providing care over a period of time can lead to burnout.

Needham received a certificate in aging from the University of Michigan and earned a master's degree. and did additional graduate work in social sciences at Michigan State University. But her knowledge doesn't . come just from her studies.

NEEDHAM, WHO lives in Farmington Hills, has cared for both of her parents. Her late father was ill forsome time, and her mother has lived with Needham and her husband periodically.

Needham once took a leave of absence from work to care for her parents. She was able to do some consulting work and had a flexible schedule.

Montgomery, a Grosse Pointe resident, hasn't been a full-time caregiver for her parents or her in-laws.

"We are long-distance caregivers, which is an issue. Much of what we do is by telephone." She and her hasband help their parents deal with various bureaucra-

Montgomery and Needham have seen a great need for more formal support systems for caregivers, to ease the burden of caring for an older loved one. Informal support tends to come from friends, relatives and churches, while more formal support comes from agencies or organizations established for that purpose.

The 'sandwich' generation: Children caring for parents

Who'll care for mom and dad? It's a question nearly everyone must face at some point in their lives.

Statistics show the fastest growing age group in the United States to be the group over 85. Virginia Nicoli, president of the Michigan Older Women's League, said projections estimate that by the year 2000 this group will increase from its present 2.9 million to 5 million.

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers wanted to address this important issue. But because of the broad range of stories that could be written on the topic we had to find a way to narrow it down. We chose to focus: on adult children caring for a parent, even though we recognize that there are many wives and husbands caring for spouses. Much of the information contained in this package of stories is applicable for them as well.

We wanted to run these stories near Mother's Day because care giving is primarily a women's issue. Although there are men taking care of their wives and men involved in caring for others, on average, it is women who make up the bulk of those actually giving the care, and because women tend to live longer, the ones receiving the care.

Caregiving is also a major cause of poverty among older women, who typically live on just over half of the income of older men, Nicoll said.

"Women quit their jobs to give care, cut back on the number of hours worked, or they take jobs with fewer responsibilities and lower salaries. They forego promotions," she said.

We hope that the information we're providing on these pages will give some insight into the problems faced by caregivers of the sandwich generation and help prepare them to answer the question: Who will care for mom and dad?

Vicki Cochrane shares a quiet moment with her mother, Linda Gastley, who at age 51, has been incapacitated by a series of strokes.

At age 51, Linda Gastley's life for the most part has come to an end. Once an active young woman, who bowled, rode motorcycles, played cards and cared for her small Westland home, she is helpless now as the result of a series of strokes.

A resident of the Westland Comvalescent Center, Linda has her good days and her bad days. Some days she will talk; other days she says nothing. But through the silence, you can tell she knows what's going on around her. Her eyes convey unspoken messages. A smile, a frown and a giggle are also clues.

Linda was 45 when she suffered her first major stroke. A diabetic. she was in the hospital at the time because of a bout with the flu. She was paralyzed on one side, but within three days, it cleared up.

THE QUICK recovery prompted doctors to change their diagnosis to hysterical paralysis brought on by the stress of dealing with the deaths of her parents and the end of her second marriage. They recommend she see a psychiatrist.

A year later, while under psychiatric care, Linda started having problems. She was confused, acted erratic and had a hard time maintaining her balance.

When Vicki went to pick her up for Thanksgiving dinner and discovered that she had failed to take her insulin for five days, the daughters decided it was time for a complete checkup.

What they found out was that their mother had had two strokes and that the portions of her brain controlling her equilibrium and depth perception had been damaged.

Two years after her first stroke, it was determined Linda needed constant care. Her daughters, none of whom were in the position financially to take their mother into their homes and care for her, had to place her in a nursing home. They found a temporary place at a nursing home in Livonia. Luckily, the arrangements were temporary. While there, Linda injured herself after being left unsupervised in a bathtub and was frightened after being trapped in the elevator.

DENISE WAS working at Westland Convalescent Center at the time. Aware of the care given patients, she suggested that they move Linda there and the sisters agreed.

Linda has transient ishemic attacks, temporary interferences with the flow of the blood to the brain, Considered a harbinger of a major stroke, she hasn't had one for more than a year. But with each one that she has had, she has slipped even more mentally and physically.

"It was hard because there was nothing any of us could do," said Vicki, a Garden City resident. "At first, we thought we could take shifts caring for her, but we couldn't because everyone worked and we have children. We just couldn't do it.

"I don't think she felt bad about things at first; her real mother died when she was young and she always felt she would be like her. But when we had to put her in the nursing home, she was depressed. I remember she said 'I know I'm a nut so that's why you're putting me in a nut

There's a trace of bitterness when the daughters talk about Linda's visitors. They are the only people who visit her. Most of her family lives out-of-state. Her once close friends never visit although they will ask the daughters how their mother is if they see them out and about.

"THEY CAN'T deal with it," Vickl sald, "but Mom has to deal with It every day. She can't stop dealing with it. We have to deal with it because she's our Mom and she'll always be our Mom."

Denise and Vicki try to visit their mother once a week. Brenda, who admits she feels guilty about it and suffers when her mother refuses to talk to her, makes it about once i

Mother, daughter adjust to being 'roomies'

By Sue Mason staff writer

Nadine Mitchum admits caring for her 82-year-old mother in her Westland home hasn't been all peaches and cream. She has learned to deal with a little less privacy and has found it hard to find time for herself. But she says emphatically that "Mom will be with me as long as possible." Her mother, Marie Jackson, admits it was hard giving up her Lincoln Park home. She still misses it, but she enjoys being with her daughter. It is, she says, "much better than living by herself." The decision to become roommates wasn't easy for elther woman. Jackson lived alone after her husband died in 1981. She was depressed and not eating well. By 1983, she suffered congestive heart failure. Her children had a hard time caring for her. Mitchum and her brother worked full-time, Another sister was working two jobs. And the distance between the homes precluded running in for a quick visit.

Mitchum knew something had to be done. She broached the subject with her mother, offering to take her into her home. Jackson agreed and the two have been home sharing for 41/2 years.

"I didn't want to force her, so I offered," she said. "It was kind of a tough decision for her. She knew she needed to move, but I didn't want her to feel she was being

"She still talks about having to give up her house."

AT THE TIME she moved in. Mitchum's daughter still lived at home. She has since married, but Mitchum's daughter-in-law has moved in, staying at the house while studying at Mercy College.

The arrangement has worked well for Mitchum and Jackson. They share some of the household responsibilitles although Jackson does tend to be forgetful. Her mother can move about the house easily, but needs a cane when walking outside, and because she isn't an invalid, it's been easier for Mitchum.

Mitchum works full-time as a transport clerk with the Ford Motor Co. and spends some time each evening to organize her mother's medications in Dixie cups for the next day. Although the cups are clearly marked, Mitchum worries about her mother forgetting to take the pills or taking them later than she should. She also does her mother's laundry.

"She doesn't remember things and that's really frustrating for her," Mitchum said. "For myself, I know I'd really hate that because I take pride in my memory."

Jackson fixes her own lunch and tries to have dinner ready for her daughter - "She always did it for my father, so now she's doing it for me." She also vacuums the house "when she feels up to it."

While her mother "actually enjoys being alone," Mitchum felt it would do her good to get out with other people, so she signed her up for one day a week at the Plymouth Adult Day Care Center.

SITUATED IN the rear of St. John's Episcopal Church on Sheldon Road in Plymouth Township, the center is funded by The Senior Alliance, the western Wayne County area agency on aging. Activities include armchair exercises, reading, singing and sewing.

At first, Jackson acted as though her daughter was "shoving her off someplace."

"At first, she was unfriendly, but after the first day she enjoyed coming," Mitchum said. "She enjoys the activities and they serve her a nice meal." "I enjoy it very much," Jackson said. "It's something to do and I feel like all these people are my friends."

Because Mitchum has to be to work early in the morning, her brother took on the responsibility of getting her to the center. But unless Mitchum can make other arrangements, that came to an end last month when her brother began radiation treatments for cancer.

This package proposes the creation of a senior care respite fund from unclaimed health insurance benefit checks. The fund would help give time off to those caring for the elderly, for example, by paying for a senior to go to an adult day care center.

Sponsor of the package is Rep. Justine Bams of Westland, who also is chairwoman of the House Senior Citizens and Retirement

House Bill 5363

This bill would require the state Office of Services to the Aging to establish a Family Access Network and Comprehensive Assessment of Needs program. The program would allow a senior in need of long-term care to be assessed and then placed in a program that would avoid the family having to place the senior in a nursing home. The Bill is sponsored by State Rep. Nate Jonker of Clio.

Agencies available to help with care

By Sue Mason staff writer

Most families wouldn't admit that caring for an older loved one is a burden, but it can be just that. Fortunately, there are many agencies, both local and national, that can help.,

One place to start is with the Children of Aging Parents, 2761 Trenton Road, Levittown, Penn. 19056. It's a national, non-profit, self-help group that serves as a clearing house of resource materials for caregivers and provides training and education programs for the community at large and for professionals.

The group publishes a bi-monthly newsletter, Capsule, available with membership ($15 for individuals and $25 for organizations and professionals). Inquiries should include a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1 for printing costs. Also include information on the state and county where services are sought.

More information on support groups and support agencies also is available through the Michigan Self-Help Clearinghouse at 1-800-752-

And the Michigan Office on Services to the Aging, P.O. Box 30026, Lansing 48909, (517) 373-8230, can provide information by county. A local source is the Information Center, 15100 Northline Road, Suite 159, Southgate 48195 (282-7171).

There are many sources for help in the area - what you see below is a partial list. Contact your municipal office to see if your community has a senior center. Many offer helpful services as well as referrals.

VISITING HOME HELPERS ASSOCIATION, 17356 W. 12 Mile Road, Southfield (557-5799). Provides home-based support services -- nurse's aides, live-in care, skilled nursing care, respite care, errand service, homemaker service, personal care, physical and occupational therapy. Fees: private payments and health insurance with provisions for home health care. Does not accept Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Medicare or Medicaid. Serves Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

One option is respite care, in which someone comes into the home periodically to care for the older person. That gives the caregiver a chance to get out or just to relax.

"WE KNOW that it's very important for the family to get this," Needham said. Caregivers themselves may become ill and unable to continue caring for a relative.

Another option is adult day care, in which an older person goes to a care facility during the day. Such care is often available throughout the work week, meaning a caregiver is able to remain employed outside the home. Meals are provided for older people, along with social and recreational activities.

Getting Linda home is no easy task. Confined to a wheelchair, the daughters have a difficult time getting her from the chair into the car. Linda tends to stiffen when she should bend and bend when she should stiffen.

Linda joins in the laughter when they talk about the time they almost dropped her in the parking lot. They recall another time their mother's diaper fell off as they were lifting her into the car.

"It wouldn't have been so bad, but she got to laughing and then we started," sald Vicki.

THE SISTERS admit that their mother never really worried about her health. She refused to try and control her diabetes by diet, eventually ending up using insulin. Overweight, she rode the yo-yo of dieting then regaining the weight, compounding her blood pressure problems.

Denise wonders is what has happened to her mother may happen to her or her sisters. She already has high blood pressure and has been taking medication for six years.

Vicki doesn't wonder about things like diabetes or strokes, she focuses on whether they will be able to be grandmothers for their children.

"I don't look on this an wonder if it will happen to me, I wonder if I'll grow older and be a grandmother. My children don't have a grandmother and I didn't have one either."

MOSTLY THEY wanted information, Choate said. "They needed education about the role of caregiver. They don't recognize themselves as a caregiver. They were reluctant to ask for help. They assume it's their responsibility."

The long-term objectives of the BCBSM Caregiving Program are to educate employees about outside resources and assistance, explain the stresses of caregiving and how to recognize them, define the role of caregiver, and identify the trends in caregiving and how they affect the employee's well-being.

The cost to the employer, Choate stresses, has been minimal.

The current program consists of lunchtime seminars for employees. dealing with topics of interest to caregivers. Recent ones have explored stress-relieving techniques, legal issues, where to go for help, housing options, how to make decisions and how to speak to parents about those decisions. On one lunch hour, employees were invited to bring all their parents' prescription and over-the counter drugs in brown paper bags to intelligently discuss possible interaction and side effects.

Other BCBSM efforts have been a concentrated on distributing information about new developments in the field through one quarterly newsletter aimed at employees who have already shown an interest in caregiving, issues, and a general ... newsletter given to all employees.

THE CORPORATION also has established an information and referral service for its employees (and seniors who use BCBSM) to help them find help in-home maintenance and repairs, home-delivered meals, ... telephone reassurance, counseling, legal and other services for their ... Michigan parents.

In 1988, Barbara Greenberg, manager of the Older Americans Program at Travelers in Hartford. Conn., determined only 50 corporations had begun to develop programs for employees nationally. They included Pitney Bowes, Remington, Pepsico, Wang, American Express, Morgan Guaranty and Florida Power and Light.

Choate named Steelcase and Herman Miller as Michigan companies of who are making overtures. "I'm not is really aware of any other (Michigan) 🕔 corporation who is doing anything. I.id don't know why. Welcome Ministry reaches out to mariners

By Joanne Sobczak special writer

Eating at McDonald's may mean a "no cooking" night for Mom, entertainment for kids, a quick bite to eat or a cheap lunch.

But for Karen Lai, director of the Apostleship of the Sea — Port of Detroit, it's the most popular act of Christianity shared by AOS lay ministers and foreign seamen who have heard so much about America.

"They get pretty excited about it," said Lai, who oversees 69 volunteers in the ministry for mariners from all over the world. "McDonald's represents Westernism and America to them, but what they really enjoy is the company."

It is that company that is so important to the men who cherish any opportunity to step foot on land and look forward to the "sense of family" that the Christian group offers, she said.

The Catholic-based AOS is worldwide. It was organized in Glasgow, Scotland, in 1920. Today there are 60 ministries in U.S. ports and 400 internationally.

The Detroit AOS was started in 1982 when Cardinal Edmund Szoka appointed the Rev. Rick Hartman, pastor of All Saints Church in Detroit, as the first official port chap-

Prior to Hartman's appointment, ministering to foreign seamen was attempted in the 1940s, but turned out to be too difficult to be handled by one priest.

IN THE 1980s, the Council of Catholic Women petitioned the archbishop to create a center for sailors. Because All Saints parish boundaries include the Detroit docking area, the church became the official site for AOS and Hartman the head minister.

An ecumenical laity, AOS helps all foreign seamen regardless of race, religion or political belief. The ministers are Catholic, Lutherans, Greek Orthodox and Congregational. If a sailor is non-Christian and wishes to worship, a temple or mosque is found and transportation is provid-

"There aren't many Catholics," , said Hartmann, whose number one job is to work with the lay ministers. _ 'Because most seafarers aren't Catholic, we had to move into scripture that would better describe what we were doing. Choosing the 25th chapter of Matthew in the Bible -' When you welcomed the stranger, you welcomed me.' - we decided rather than bringing Christ to the seafarer, the seafarer was Christ no matter what denomination or world religion.

"They were our opportunity to serve Christ. The stranger coming into the port of Detroit was Christ. That's how we got into taking them to a show or park or for a ride in the city."

Even though Mass is said at All Saints Church, lay ministers take Communion aboard the ship. The lay ministers also organize prayer services, bless the ship and provide personal counseling.

The most-important part of a lay counter. That's when we stepped in." person's job is to be a good listener, said Lai who has been with AOS for five years, including three as a di-

"We go aboard the ships and distribute our brochures to let them know we're here to help with whatever they may need us to do," Laisaid. "Then it is up to the seaman to determine what they want from us.

"IT CAN BE anything from helping them find a thrift store to buy clothes or coming back here to make a phone call to home wherever that may be."

AOS works only with foreign ships -and-not-those from the U:S. and Canada, so the lay ministers must comply with the rules of the immigration and customs departments.

"U.S. ships are more automated so they're in and out of port sometimes in eight hours," she said: "By the time we hear about the ship and get down there, they're already gone."

With their union contracts, American seamen get to go home quite often and some even live around the Great Lakes. But the foreign seamen sign on for 12 to 18 months at a time and may not get to see their families during that period, one reason why "they need a little more of our attention," Lai said.

AOS visited 160 of 243 ships that docked in Detroit last year. Each ship has a crew of 25 who leave the ship on staggered schedules. Lay ministers take turns, based on their personal schedules, boarding the ships in pairs. And dealing with families isn't uncommon, since officers sometimes bring their wives and children.

The seamen are mainly from Third World countries. Filipinos make up the largest contingent of seamen, followed by Koreans, Yugo-slavians and Poles. They comprise such non-Christian religions as Hinduism, Buddhism and Islam.

"Every ship is different; anything can happen," Lai said. "We had Koreans who asked to go grocery shopping for the ship, so we took them to Farmer Jack and they filled up several baskets with food. Then they tried to barter at the checkout

YOU DON'T NEED to know how to swim to be a lay minister, but there are two requirements - commitment and the ability to erase any prejudice. Volunteers attend five classes before their first ship visit. After that, they attend a monthly meeting to get their assignments. John McNally of Westland is a recent recruit. A Ford Motor Co. employee, he found the classes provided an "excellent presentation of what you will be doing."

"What attracted me most to the group is that I never heard of them before," he said. "I was in the Navy and I know what it's like to pull into a foreign port with the thought, 'Can' I relate? I don't know the language.'

McNally is looking forward to "giving someone from another country a better image of America," considering a foreign sailor, particularly an Asian crewman, makes an average of $280 a month and 80 percent of that goes into a holding fund in their country for use by the

"They get these guys because they work cheap," he said. "They think it is good money because of where they come from."

Garden City resident Sue Helka, the evangelization materials coordinator and Lai's assistant, likes the variety AOS offers.

"Being single, visiting the she ships has become sort of my social life," she said. "Every ship is a new adventure."

She agrees with Lai that McDonald's is popular with the foreign sailors and recalls the time several sailors took back 50 McDonald's sundaes and stored them in the ship's refrigerator. As Helka sees it, for the sailors, that's doing something American. For AOS volunteers, it's only one unique way to show Christian caring and hospitality.

Persons interested in the Apostleship of the Sea can call All Saints Catholic Church at 841-

GREG KOWALSKI

Karen Lai, director of the Apostleship of the Sea, and Valerie Hadash, a volunteer, meet with Filipino crewmen aboard the Leo-M, which docked in Detroit during the Easter holiday.

Mother Earth, human moms need care, a dose of respect Earth Day for 1990 is only a couple of weeks removed from the calendar. The bumper stickers and posters announcing its events are, however, already as old-looking as a pumpkin the morning after Halloween. The day came, the speeches were made, the banners were hung, and the day went. But what now?

Earth Day, like upcoming Mother's Day, gains its meaning not from the banners, the cards and the flowery speeches. This kind of a day gains meaning by what the celebrators do on the many Monday mornings after.

Many a mother has told me that she sometimes felt as though Mother's Day was more for Hallmark than for mothers. Some the 364 days in between the celebrations of this annual event can give it any real meaning.

Mother Earth may make the same observation. Mothers, be it Mother Earth or yours or mine, do have much in common. For starters, they are indeed the source of the very life we breathe. No one has ever come to a first breath without the resources of Mother Earth and the lady known as mom.

. moral perspectives

LIKEWISE, BOTH Mother Earth and the women to whom we owe our birth and our nurture are extremely durable. If they come with a label, Handle With Care, suggest that only what happens on the label has far too often been ig-

> They have been bumped and bruised. They have been overused and sometimes much abused. But in their resiliency they continue to bounce back. Therein may lie their common weakness. Therein may be their final vulnerability.

You see, when we experience anything as durable, when we see it bounce back so many times we begin to think that it is indestructible. Mother Earth is not indestructible and neither are the women who are spoken to in the cards traveling this week's mail routes.

It is perhaps good that we have an Earth Day. It is good that we have a day for the mothers of our families. It is good because both events remind us of just how fragile mothers can be. Whether those mothers are made of earth and water and air or of patience, wisdom and a soft heart, they need constant

One of the differences between little children and adults is in the art of learning to give back on a constant basis. For small children, mothers exist for one purpose only. to take care of the child's every whim. In adulthood, we hopefully learn that relationship, even to mom, is a two-way street.

WHEN IT comes to Mother Earth, we are perhaps too often stuck in our childhood. This mother of the ages is there for us. And like the child, we all too often forget that even Mother Earth exists for those who will follow us here. We' forget that resources do not last forever and that some scars take a very long time to heal.

Such realizations are not immediately convenient, but they are the stuff out of which life is allowed to continue.

The Rev. Robert Schaden is with the Newman House campus ministries at Schoolcrast College in Livonia.

Sailor's life has rocky moments

By Greg Kowalski staff writer

Forget about the romance of the sea. The sailor's two constant companions are boredom and loneliness.

This is especially true for oceangoing sailors who often spend a year or more at sea in ships that are usually old and dirty. And their families are thousands of miles away.

A friendly port is a welcome sight for these sailors. The Apostleship of the Sea - Detroit strives to make the city a friendly anchorage.

About 250 ocean freighters dock in Detroit annually. Strangers in a strange land, the crew members are often isolated on their ships because they have no transportation, usually know limited English and can seldom find their way around town.

AOS, sponsored locally by the Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, ministers to sailors of all faiths. That ministry may take the form of transporting sailors to Sunday Massor services at a Jewish synagogue or Moslem mosque. Or AOS volunteers may just take the guys for lunch at McDonald's,

AOS ALSO offers counseling and conducts prayer services on board

The Leo M, which had a five-day lavover in Detroit during Easter, is typical of the type of ship the Apostleship services.

Registered in Cyprus, the ship has a Greek captain and Filipino crew. After picking up a cargo of scrap metal in Detroit, she set off for Erie, Pa., and then Spain on her voyage around the world.

About 90 percent of the Filipinos are Catholic, so for the crew of the Leo M, the Apostleship offer to take them to the Stations of the Cross services on Good Friday was truly a Godsend.

"Most of the time we are at sea and can't go to Mass," said Celestino Zoniga, who has been sailing for 11 "When we're in port, we can't find transportation," added Manuel Que, a radio operator and 38-year veteran sailor. This year's Good Friday was different for the sailors. Detroit AOS director Karen Lai and volunteer Valeroe Hadash of Walled Lake used the Apostleship van to take the crew members to St. Cyril of Jerusalem Church in Taylor.

THE MEN wanted to go to St.

Cyril because when they were last in Defroit a year ago at Christmas, the children of the parish made gifts for them. And among the parishloners is a Filipino couple who made a special visit to meet with them and reminisce about their homeland.

And it was at St. Cyril that the Apostleship shone in one of its special, unexpected ways.

"We got there early and the men saw the basketball court there," Lai said. "They kept talking about it and after the services, a deacon brought out a basketball for them to use They played for an hour.

"The smile on their faces made it all worthwhile."

Resorts capture island's history

When Nancy Richmond attended Seaholm High School in Birmingham, it probably never occurred to her that she would one day live and work on Mackinac Island. "Living" and "working" are one and the same in Nancy's life as Manager of Travel Industry Relations for the Mission Point Inn.

If you have visited Mackinac Island, you may have wondered about that cluster of red-roofed bulldings at the eastern end of town as you approach the island by ferry. That cluster of buildings has been there a long time and has changed identities often.

Nancy wasn't born when an organization called Moral Re-Armament started buying up Mackinac Island property after World War II. First they bought Stonecliffe, the Island House, Mission House and several private homes to house their several hundred members, all dedicated to bringing moral and spiritual improvement to a war-torn planet.

In the 1950s they sold their properties and started building a complex which would eventually include a sound stage, theater, production studio and several other buildings. They sold most of it to an organization known as Mackinac College in 1966.

Nancy was probably in elementary school when evangelist Rex Humbard converted the complex at Mission Point into a religious retreat in 1970 and when a management firm converted it to Mackinac Hotel and Conference Center a

Nobody seemed to know how to make it work financially until John Shufelt of Bloomfield Hills got involved in 1987 and watched a multimillion dollar renovation convert the beautiful old buildings into the Mission Point Resort.

Nancy earned a biology degree at Michigan State University, worked as a National Park Service Ranger at Mount Rushmore, as a travel agent in Clawson and on the staff of the Plymouth Hilton. There she was, trained and ready to go, when Mission Point Resort needed her.

When I toured the resort with Nancy last fall, she had been meeting with tour and travel accounts, trying to increase the motor coach business at MPR. Micky and I were just one couple, filling one room of Huron Court but it would take several busloads of travelers to fill the 245 guest rooms in several buildings around the 18acre complex.

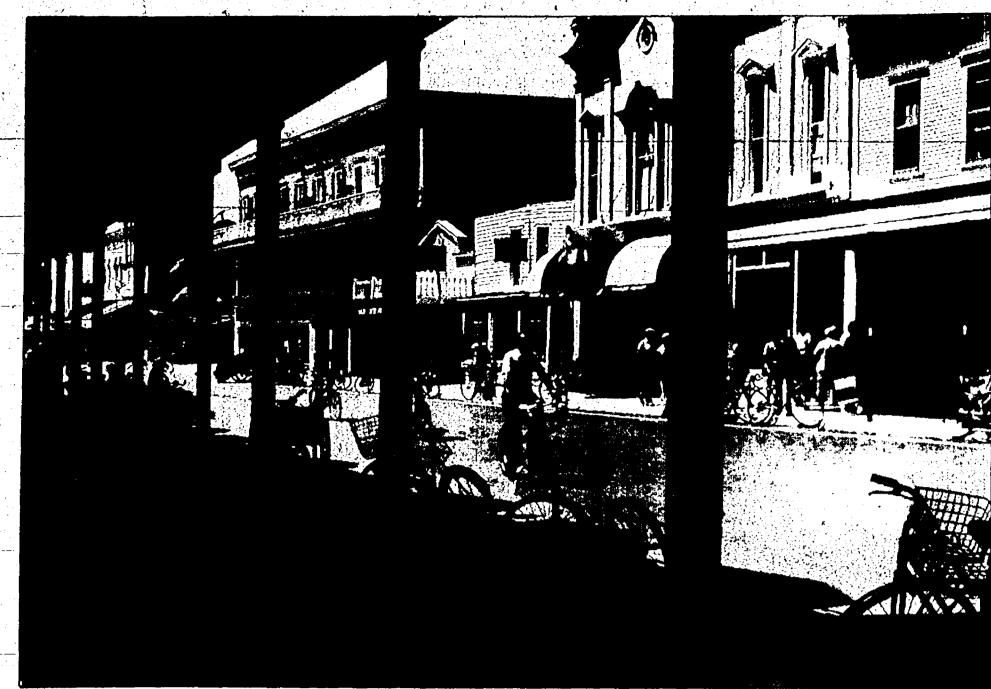

The main lobby is built in the shape of a teepee, and Nancy loves to point to the old Indian legend, "Someday, on the east end of the island, a great teepee will be erected. All nations will come there and learn about peace."

The Theater, built by Moral Re-Armament of 45 tons of stone and 50-foot-long Norway Pine trusses, was not yet in contemporary use when we were there last fall, but Nancy led us backstage and was obviously excited about the possibility of a local theater company.

You may remember that the film "Somewhere In Time," starring Christopher Reeve and Jane Seymour, was filmed on the island in 1979. The scenes showed the Grand Hotel, but the crew stayed at the hotel at Mission Point and Universal Studios produced the picture on the sound stage here at MPR.

Fort Mackinac is half way between the Grand Hotel on the west and the MPR on the east. MPR is not likely to replace the Grand, although it is the larger of the two. What it might do is draw groups to that scenic east end of the island. although it will probably have to increase its dining space to handle larger groups.

The Mission House, built in the 1820s to teach Indian children, is being restored nearby by the state park service. You can bike out of MPR and tour the island without ever going into "fudgie country" in the heart of town.

Cars are not allowed on Mackinac Island but bicycles and horses fill the fronts of in-town shops on Huron Street.

MACKINAC ISLAND

By Iris Sanderson Jones contributing travel editor:

If you're an early bird, you've already booked a room on Mackinac Island at their special spring rates. If you've always wanted to go to the island, but didn't think of booking early, you can still find some good rates as long as you're flexible with dates and Most Mackinac Island hoteliers and retailers open for business May 11. Fort Mackinac opens May 15.

Whether you ferry across the Straits of Mackinac on an Arnold, Shepler or Star Line ferry, from Mackinaw City or St. Ignace, you enter the harbor the same way: cruising between the automatic lighthouse on the island's stone breakwater and the old wooden lighthouse at the end of Round Island. Ferry rates are $9.50 round trip.

There are century-old cottages on the east and west bluffs each side of town. The Grand Hotel makes white pillared stripes above the west end of town and the Mission Point Resort makes red-roof-patches above the east.

In between are the fudge shops, boutiques, hotels and bed and breakfast places that clutter the two or three streets above the waterfront. Above it all, reminding us of the island's history, is Fort Mackinac, one of three Mackinac state historic parks.

IF YOU'VE been to Mackinac Island, you recognize that picture. If youhaven't, it's probably on your list of dream vacations. Spring and fall are the seasons to cut your travel costs and be a fudgie without braving the crowds.

The Grand Hotel still has selected dates in May at the off-season rate of $89 per person, double occupancy, including breakfast, dinner, taxes and tips. That's $79 if you're a member of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

You'll never get the Grand experience at a better price. The rate is good through mid-June, but June is mostly booked; keep checking for cancellations. Call (800) 334-7263 or (906) 847-

The Mission Point Resort at the opposite end of town, is offering a package instead of a spring discount. That's $299 a couple for two nights, weekdays, including breakfasts and one dinner; same package for a weekend is $359. Call (800) 833-7711 or (906) 847-3312. (see related Crossroads column.)

. The best price in town is usually at the Murray Hotel or at The Inn on Mackinac, both run by the same owner. This year is no exception. The Murray starts at $39 per couple, the Inn at $49 per couple, some dates excluded. The Murray is popular among travelers looking for good basic rooms at low prices. Check out the beautifully renovated rooms at the Inn, a colorful restored mansion two blocks east. Call (906) 847-3361.

THE OLDEST hotel on the island is the Island House built in 1852, restored, and still a nice sprawl of white wood across the street from the boat harbor. They offer "The Summer of 42" rate, which is $42 per person, double occupancy weekdays. Call (906) 847- 3347.

If you've never had a Pink Pony cocktail, you should definitely try one in the bar at the Chippewa Hotel. And if you would like to stay there, in the heart of town, they are offering rooms in May for $50 a night per couple, except on Saturdays. In June, you get $10 off their regular rates of $90 to $155. Call (906) 847-3341.

There are three very popular accommodations visible at the west end of town when the ferry docks. Best known, and many visitors favorite, is Hotel Iroquois which starts at $130 per couple through June 8 then goes up $40 in summer. Call (906) 847-3321.

Lake View Hotel, a big white clapboard sprawl across the street, is a good buy at $69 per person, double occupancy, including breakfast and dinner, if you can find your date at their rate, Call (906) 847-3384.

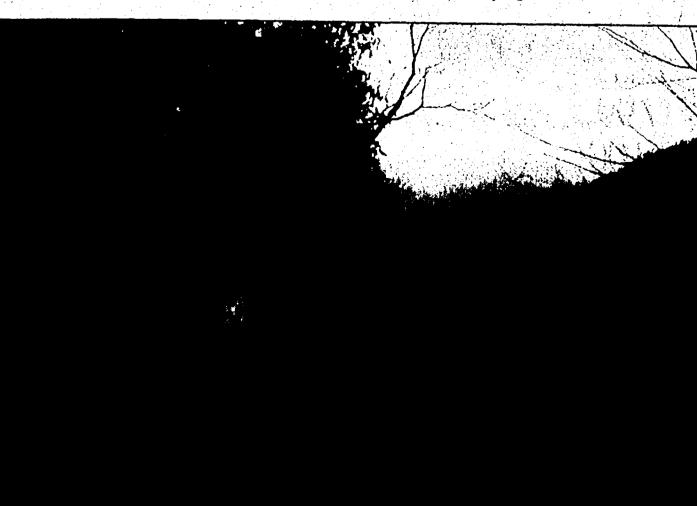

The Windermere, a bed and breakfast inn, is $80-$100 per couple on

New Orleans at war over jazz volume

AP - Tourists love the brass bands that blare out Dixieland music all day long in the French Quarter's Jackson Square, but merchants and residents in the heart of the jazz citadel are suing to turn down the vol-

Their lawsuit, filed April 16, says the music is causing "headaches, stress, buzzing in the eardrums, loss of sleep, nervousness, irritability, mental and emotional turmoil."

Jackson Square is considered by many the heart of the French Quarter-the-oldest-section of the city-The Mississippi River runs along one boundary of the square. The other boundaries are formed by St. Louis Cathedral and other historic buildings housing museums, shops, bars and apartments. .

Stone sidewalks and a black iron fence form a perimeter around a small, grassy, tree-shaded park, at the center of which is a statue of Andrew Jackson on horseback.

Tourists flock to the square in good weather. Many have their portraits painted or caricatures done by street artists who set up shop on the sidewalks. Others gather around the brass bands and throw money into the musicians' hats or empty instrument cases.

Music has been part of the scene for years, but Brad Thoren, one of the artists involved in the lawsuit. said that in the past couple of years too many musicians have been playing too loudly, too often. He's concerned that the excessive noise could damage the hearing of those exposed to it every day.

"You have to shout to your customer to be heard. That is a hazard.

That's a proven fact," he said.

Anthony "Tuba Fats" Lacen said New Orleans, still suffering from an economic slowdown that hit in the early 1980s, needs all the tourist dollars it can get and restricting the musicians could drive away tourists.

"If they're not interested in keeping our city alive, then what are they doing here?" Lacen asked.

Thoren said the problem isn't so much professionals like Lacen. It's youngsters who don't play very well to begin with, playing in makeshift. bands on weekends and afternoons after school.

With the growing number of musicians, there is growing competition for tourist attention and money, said Lee Tucker, an artist and French Quarter resident.

The street performers themselves have been competing against each other and the way they eliminate the competition is to play louder," said Tucker.

Rigorno Sunglass, a subsidiary of the Sunglass Hut, sells only top-of-the-line, advanced optics, designer sunglasses at its shop in Laurel Park in Livonia.

Specialization

Single item stores crop up

By Geraid Frawley staff writer

Almost everyone's been to one of those super-duper markets that sells everything from cheese dip to computers, but what about a store that sells only sunglasses? Ties? Music boxes? Cheese cake?

A newer trend in retailing is the super specialty store — stores that sell only one item, follow one theme or offer one service. While not a huge trend, more and more super specialties have been cropping up.

Linda Hyde, vice president of retail intelligence system at Management Horizons, a subsidiary of Price Waterhouse, said super specialties have met with mixed reactions in the retailing world. Some, like Just Sox, Tie Rack, Sox Appeal and the San Francisco Music Box Company have proven it's a workable idea, she said, but many others fail.

"Performance during the last three or four years has been mixed — some have very big sales, but some have had very low sales," she said. "There's an extremely high turnover in shops like these."

Linda Jones, manager of the San Francisco Music Box Company at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, said super specialty stores face obstacles, but they can succeed. "If it's outrageous enough and good enough, it will work. It think it's definitely a trend that can work."

WITH EIGHT stores throughout Michigan and nearly 100 stores across the country, selling music boxes is apparently one specialty item that works,

"It's a very 'giftable' item."

Because specialty stores sell only one item, owners and managers have to be very knowledgeable about their market, she said. "Knowing what the customers want and who they are is extremely important.

"I would have to say that service is even more important than selection," she said. Specialty store shoppers expect merchandise to be the best and salespeople to be more helpful and knowledgeable.

Price Waterhouse's Hyde said since specialty stores put so much emphasis on one item or theme, the product must be either an extremely hot item or Lisa Pilnick, a Rigorno Sunglass employee, tries on a pair of Revo sunglasses designed to cut glare, brightness, and harmful ultraviolet and infrared rays.

'Location is absolutely critical for these stores — most of them are not destination stores.'

— Linda Hyde analyst

something so different it generates its own excitement.

"For many of them, it's a concept that has a short life — they focus on a product that's going to be hot for a couple years," Hyde said. "After a while, the excitement dies down."

Some super specialty stores avoid this by offering timeless goods or services, like socks or ties, but these have a greater difficulty competing against major retailers, Hyde said.

Little Doubles, according to manager and co-owner Lori Krause, breaks from traditional super specialties because its product is neither a fad item or an item that can be found in other stores.

LITTLE DOUBLES, in Appelgate Square at Northwestern and Inkster roads in Farmington Hills, makes personalized statuettes.

"We take several pictures of someone (or they can work from pictures brought in by customers) melt them into an acrylic and then cut the acrylic with a taser into statues," Krause said. "It's very unique and people love to give them as gifts."

The statues, which start at $30 and can cost considerably more depending on the complexity of the piece, make good ornaments, wedding cake decorations, card holders and personal mementos.

"We don't depend on people walking by and stopping in -- you really can't," Krause said. "The trick is to generate excitement for a project."

Krause said she has made the statuettes for other stores in the mall so when people see them they will ask where the stores got them. Krause also tries to attend party planning meetings whenever possible.

PRICE WATERHOUSE'S Hyde said super specialty stores depend on the heavy traffic generated by the malls, particularly enclosed malls, in which they frequently are located. "Location is absolutely critical for these stores — most of them are not destination stores.

"There are probably only a few high street locations in places like New York and Los Angeles where a super specialty store can survive without a mall," she said.

Many super specialties depend on impulse buying, Hyde added. "People are intrigued by what they see in the window and decide to buy it."

Diana Boesky, manager at Rigorno Sunglass in Laurel Park mail in Livonia, said that while the super specialty stores rely on impulse buying to some degree, more and more of them sell specialized products that don't appeal to the casual buyer.

Rigorno Sunglass sells only top-of-the-line sunglasses made with the most current technology and by top designers. Sunglasses range from $30 to more than $5,400.

"It seems hard to believe that someplace that sells only one thing can survive, let alone succeed, but we do it by selling that one thing better than everyone else," Boesky said.

Super specialty stores benefit from people's perceptions that they sell a finer product than a regular store carrying similar items, she said. "In a lot of cases, we are selling a better product.

cases, we are selling a better product.

"What we're selling here, in addition to the product, is knowledge," she said. "When they leave, they realize they are not going to go to the gas station and get the same sunglasses."

Post-production firm evolves step by step

By R.J. King staff writer

How many people know a 27year-old president who dons overalls and assumes the role of carpenter to keep costs down at his rapidly expanding post-production company in West Bloomfield?

"I didn't get through painting until 11:30 p.m.," said Bryan Peruski, president of Key Multi Media. He is no stranger to late hours as he also belts out lead vocals for local rock band Exit.

A firm believer in hands on management, Peruski attributes a show business background and a strong work ethic, which includes 16-hour days, with doubling his company's revenues in each of the last four years.

On a tour of a new editing suite which is almost complete, Peruski explained the rows of video tape decks, monitors and special effects equipment are rented out to independent producers.

THE PRODUCERS, who pay either $150 or $250 an hour depending on their needs, often arrive armed with yards of video tape footage ready to be edited into television commercials, documentaries or films.

But as Peruski pointed out some of the room's highlights, he was more apt to discuss the installation of a new floor, floor modeling and cabinets as if he were rehearsing for an upcoming segment of "This Old House."

By Peruski's recollection, he has undertaken seven expansions since 1985, when the company first started producing and filming television commercials for area businesses, most of which appeared on local cable channels.

Today, no longer behind the camera, the company has evolved from filming to providing producers with the special effects equipment they need to make people fly, run faster or walk on water.

"Steven Spielberg isn't going to come in here and do his latest," Peruski admitted. "But we can make the picture shrink, do flips, tumbles, just about anything you can think of."

But like any business started with a prayer, Peruski said he and his partner, Brian Belanger, who left Key Multi Media in 1988 to open a production company, struggled through the first two years before realizing there was a future in the business.

"I remember we spent $40 apiece to install a phone line and do some advertising," Peruski recalled. "Then it was simply a matter of knocking on doors. By the end of our first month, we had enough money to pay the rent and we went from there."

AFTER POSTING revenues of $40,000 in the first year, Peruski projected that the company will gross close to $1 million this year. The equipment alone is valued at over $500,000.

But how does a vocalist of such former rock bands as Black Diamond and Ground Zero transcend from the limelight of center stage to overseeing the day-to-day operations of a post-production company?

"It isn't all that easy making a living as a vocalist for a band, and it's tough trying to find a job right out of college," he said. "But I suppose from Michigan State (University) to now really has been an evolution."

After graduating in 1983 with an advertising degree, Peruski worked as an intern at WRIF-FM in Southfield for one year without pay in addition to managing funds for RCLB Products, a private venture capital firm in West

Realizing a career in radio programming was short on potential, Peruski took on a full-time position with RCLB Products. It was in the process of coordinating advertising for the company that he became intrigued with the prospect of filming commercials.

"Did he tell you how we met?" asked Belanger, who owns Sustained Image Productions in Plymouth, "His father, Charles Peruski, was cutting my mother's hair at Robert & Charles Hairdressers in West Bloomfield. They got to talking and that's how we met."

With a handshake, the pair agreed to open their own production company. Borrowing the equipment they needed from friends (lights, video camera, cables and microphones), they earned $650 for their first shoot, a commercial for a local salon.

From there, they produced similar spots for local companies, including the Medical Weight Loss Clinic and WXYZ-TV7, both in Southfield. By plowing what money they could back into the company, Peruski said the pair started to buy their own equipment.

"WE THOUGHT we were really on to something when we purchased a typewriter," Peruski laughed. "After a few months, we started purchasing other equipment and borrowing cameras and microphones from Continental Cablevision.

"About three years ago, we purchased a camera for $5,000 and then went whole hog, buying everything from decks to monitors so we didn't have to keep going to other post-production companies to finish our work."

At least that's the feeling I get every time I read one of those ranking lists for automotive quality published by self-proclaimed consultants such as J.D. Not that I begrudge the befuddled consumer who is simply trying to figure out if the car he is about to buy is going to leave him feeling as though he brought home the Alien for a house pet.

Regardless, it is awfully, easy to put together a list of "10 best" or rate something as vague as "consumer satisfaction" and palm it off as if such standing really keeps the battery charged on a cold winter morning. That never seems to deter

Test diagnoses cash flow ills

According to Ron LeTourneau, principal at the Southfield-based management consulting firm of LeTourneau, Lobb & Associates, a company's cash flow is similar to a person's circulatory system.

Transfusions in the form of increased sales aren't necessarily the remedy for a company's ailment, he believes. "In fact, transfusions do more harm than good when they. merely cover up the real problem."

A workable cash flow management system allows decision makers to take control of the money flowing in and out of the firm on a weekly basis. Rather than continuously wondering where the money is, such a system allows management to accurately predict when cash will or won't be available.

LeTourneau adds that unexpect-. ed or unacceptable patterns in cash flow require immediate diagnosis. although a majority of business owners don't know where to begin. Recent SBA statistics indicate that 80 to 90 percent of small businesses fail within the first 10 years. As a result. LeTourneau's firm has developed a self test to help company management identify specific problems contributing to these pat-ing and if its present cash flow system works for or against growth. "There are five distinct growth stages, each with their own unique opportunities and challenges," Le-Tourneau said. "Just like people, companies are born, they grow and mature, and can die prematurely without proper care."

THE TEST serves as part of a company's physical exam for each of its major functional areas, revealing which areas require prompt attention and treatment.

"The test focuses on administration and finance, marketing and sales, operating practices, office systems coordination, and finally employee attitudes, or the 'checkup from the neck up."

He adds that sometimes the results will confirm management's suspicions; other times, they may reveal cause and effect relation-

"In all cases, the company becomes aware of where it has been, is now and needs to be, and how cash flow management will regulate growth every step of the way."

Using a cash cycle formula, Le-Tourneau then calculates the time spent by the company to turn its "cash" outflow into cash inflow by analyzing the inventory, accounts receivable and accounts payable. Generally speaking, the shorter the cash cycle, the healthier the business will be.

"Every business stands to benefit by the options available to overcome specific cash flow problems," LeTourneau said. "The tragedy is when company management believes that is is an area they have no power to control."

For a free copy of LeTourneau's "Company Physical" self-test, call 351-2644.

A. The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) recommends these storage times to be within safe limits:

• RAW MEATS Hamburger, ground and stew meat - 1-2 days.

Liver, sweet bread; tongue and sausage -1-2 days. Roasts, steaks and chops - 3-5 days.

• COOKED MEAT Gravy and meat broth - 1-2 days. Cooked meats (stews), roasts, casseroles, leftover takeout or frozen dinners, etc. — 3-4 days. uum-sealed package is opened) Ham and luncheon meats -3-5

Q. Which is healthler, a canola or safflower oil, mayonnaise or one of the "lite" mayos like Weight Watchers. Hellman's or Kraft?

A. According to Nutrition Action Health letter, the "lite" mayo (also known as "reduced calorie") is a better choice. Both types have about the same amount of saturated fat. However, the "lite" variety has less thanhalf of the total fat and only about half of the calories per serving.

Q. How effective are those produce washes that are on the market that claim to remove pesticides, hormones and other chemicals off fruits and vegetables?

A. The ingredients were studied by the Center for Science in the Public Interest in Washington, D.C. Their findings stated: "The ingredients in pesticide and wax removing washes looks suspiciously like those in ordinary liquid dishwashing detergent. As a matter of fact, I've never seen evidence that the washes are any -more effective than plain old detergent. Instead of wasting your money, try washing your produce in a pint of water to which you've added a few drops of detergent. Make sure you rinse them thoroughly. That should remove some pesticides from the surface. No amount of washing will get rid of pesticides that are in the fruit or vegetable.

Bill would ban yard waste from landfills

By Tim Richard staff writer

Landfills will be prohibited from accepting yard wastes by 1994 under. a bill on its way to the full State House of Representatives.

"The objectives are, first, to preserve precious landfill space for items that can't be re-used," said the sponsor, Rep. James Kosteva, D-

"And second, to save local units money by eliminating the cost about $30 a ton in southeast Michigan - of disposing of yard clipp-

KOSTEVA'S HOUSE Bill 4872 was recently reported out of the House Conservation Committee on a nearly unanimous vote.

Roll Call Report

Here's how Observer & Eccentric area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes in the week ending May 4. HOUSE 1991 BUDGET — By a vote of 218 for and 208 against, the House approved a fiscal 1991 Democratic budget (H Con Res 310) that envisions about $1.24 trillion in spending and $1.18 trillion in revenue, and a $63.5 billion deficit. Authority for defense is $24 billion less than President Bush wants and actual military spending $8 billion less, with most of the savings applied to domestic social programs.

The budget eventually sketched out by Congress will become its starting point in talks with the White House to set fiscal policy including spending priorities and whether to raise taxes.

House Speaker Thomas Foley, D-Wash, said the House budget reflects world changes as the Soviet empiré breaks apart.

Minority Whip Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., Said Democrats are "once again melting down defense."

Michigan members voting no were Carl Pursell, R.Plymouth, William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

SUPERCOLLIDER FUNDING -By a vote of 309 for and 109 against, the House sent to the Senate a bill (HR 4380) authorizing an additional $5 billion for developing the Energy Department's superconducting supercollider near Dallas-Ft. Worth. The money will pay most of the cost of building the 54-mile oval tunnel, where high-speed particle collisions would help scientists better understand matter and energy.

Supporter Martin Frost, D-Tex., called the project " a golden opportunity" to advance America in science.

Opponent Howard Wolpe, D-Mich., said it poses 'simply too many unanswered questions' including ones of cost.

A yes vote supported supercollider funding.

Michigan members voting yes were Pursell, R-Plymouth, Ford, D-Taylor and Levin, D-Southfield.

Michigan members voting no were Hertell, D-Harper Woods, Broomfield, R-Birmingham

TEXAS REFUND ISSUE - By a vote of 256 for and 163 against, the House adopted an amendment to HR 4380 eliminating the possibility of a supercollider refund for Texas. The Treasury was to have repaid Texas's $1 billion contribution if the $8 billion project were canceled before October 1995.

Amendment sponsor James Sensenbrenner, R-Wis., noted Texas did not raise the refund issue while while bidding for the coveted federal project.

Tom DeLay, R-Tex., said the bidding process is distinct from the later phase of putting a contract in place.

Michigan members voting yes were Hertel, D-Harper Woods, Levin, D-Southfield, Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Michigan members voting no were Ford, D-Taylor, Pursell, R-Plym-

Senate

HATCH ACT - By a vote of 67 for and 30 against, the Senate tabled (killed) a GOP amendment to gut a Democratic bill (S135) broadening political involement by federal workers under the Hatch Act. This kept alive a loosening of the 51-yearold law that bans civil servants and certain other U.S. employes from partisan activity. The bill permits limited partisan involvement after work but stops short of allowing civil servants to run for office. It remained in debate.

A yes vote supported the Hatch Act relaxation sponsored by Demo-

Michigan members voting yes were Democrats Carl Levin, and Donald Riegle.

'The objectives are, first, to preserve precious landfill space for items that can't be re-used.'

> - Rep. James Kosteva D-Canton

Some communities, like Huntington Woods, have started a separate collection for yard clippings, turning them into compost and then either returning them to residents or using into Headlee," Kosteva said, refer-them on public lands — parks, cemering to a section of the tax limitation teries, golf courses - as fertilizer." he said.

"The bill doesn't require communities to do anything. So it doesn't run amendment to the Michigan Constitution. It requires the state to pay for any extra duties it assigns to local governments.

"Some communities will compost them. Some will leave it to the people - let the grass clippings fall on your lawn and become mulch."

NO ORGANIZED opposition surfaced, Kosteva said.

That's because many communities already are moving in the direction of composting.

He said the state may help some communities with grants under the 1988 quality of life state bond issue.

Ford files

Veteran U.S. Congressman William D. Ford, D-Taylor, filed for re-election Monday in Lansing. Ford is in line to become chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor. He has been a member of Congress since 1985. Ford's district includes southern Livonia; Westland, Garden City and Canton.

We Need Volunteers Who Love Happy Campers!

Sun Deer * campers are happy campers and it's no wonder because most severely asthmatic kids are forced to spend their summiers indoors. At Camp Sun Deer asthmatic kids ages 9-12 participate in a variety of outdoor activities, but they can't do It without your help. The limitations and doubts they face can be diminished by a volunteer who cares. Your participation at Camp Sun Deer® can make all the difference in an asthmaticchild's summer.

to prevent moisture penetration from rain and snow. All wood swells and expands when it absorbs moisture. As it dries, it releases moisture and shrinks. Constant expansion and contraction causes grain raising, checking, splintering and warping. Spray or brush on water soalers just can't repel water like Wolmanized EXTRA Lumber. In laboratory tests Wolmanized EXTRA Lumber shows almost two thirds more moisture resistance than pressure-treated lumber protected with a leading water sealer. Of course, this fantastic lumber is also pressure treated for lifelong protection against termites, rot and decay.

Don't settle for ordinary treated lumber. Insist on Wolmanized EXTRA!

Don't settle for common Cedar... Church's has Select Tight Knot Cedarl

Better quality for your outdoor projects! We stock only premium grade Western Red Cedar. Our Select Tight Knot Cedar lumber is lightweight, stable and easy to work with. Western Red Cedar weathers naturally or it can be stained with a semi-transparent stain to allow its natural beauty to show through. White, 'Hank' sign tenders

A pair of first-team All-Area basketball players, Randy White of Redford Bishop Borgess High and Kevin Hankerson of Wayne Memorial, willbe playing collegiately next season in the Great Lakes Conference,

White, a 6-foot-3 forward who averaged 17 points and eight rebounds per game for the Class B district and Catholic League Central Division champs, signed a national letter of intent Friday with Lake Superior State,

Lake Superior second-year coach Mark Paluszak was unable to comment about White's signing as stipulated by NCAA rules because he had not yet received White's papers in the mail.

But White, who led Borgess to a 21-4 overall record, was happy to be headed for Sault Ste. Marie.

"I know it's cold up there, but I'll make the best of it," he said. "I liked the coaches and my scholarship was guaranteed for four years. There are some spots open and some guys graduating. I'm going to play guard."

White, who carries a 2.6 gradepoint average and plans to major in psychology, chose Lake Superior over Ferris State.

"He liked the whole package," said Borgess coach Mike Fusco.

HANKERSON, a 6-4 center who paced Wayne to Class A district and Wolverine A titles, signed last month. with Saginaw Valley State where he'll join another ex-Wayne standout Mark Robinson, a sophomore point-Hankerson averaged 16 points and 13 rebounds for Wayne, which lost to Detroit Cooley in the regionals at Southfield, 39-38.

Hankerson is expected to added speed and jumping ability to the Cardinals' roster, which also includes 6-5 sophomore starting center Bill Vitti, the team's top rebounder, and 6-2 backup guard Brian Dugas - both of Redford Catholic Central High.

Saginaw Valley coach Dr. Robert Pratt could not be reached for comment Tuesday night.

GUY WARREN/stall photographer

Michelle Gossett of Ladywood has the ability to play golf in college, according to her coach Sharon Laskowski.

Golf lesson Day on the links enlightening

TO a persistent Sharon Laskowski, I've done it.

I've covered every high school sporting event there is. Monday I went to Fox Creek Golf Course to see a girls golf match between Livonia Ladywood and Birmingham Marian. That's right, girls

I'll admit I was reluctant to go. I muttered to myself, "What's there to

But Sharon doesn't go away easy. She doesn't waver. "Girls golf never gets any recognition. We never get any attention. Why don't you do previews on girls golf?" Usually I have an answer, but this time I didn't.

. A month ago I agreed to see a match.

"When the weather gets good I'll be out there," said the reporter, praying for more snow and rain. Sharon called to remind me last

And when somebody bugs me long enough, I give in.

So there I was at the first tee at Fox Creek, listening to Laskowski give her girls and the Marian team their final instructions and a brief description of the course.

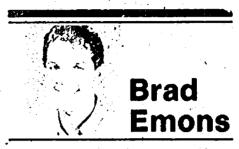

WHAT A refreshing scene, a coach giving the opposing team a scouting report. Laskowski also had to remind one of her players, "Did you bring plenty of balls? There's a little bit of water around."

Laskowski also reminded the 12 competitors, six from each varsity team, "We have a two-hour, 15-minute time limit. Keep a steady pace."

That was also refreshing. I wish some of these high school baseball teams would agree on a time limit.

Some of the girls admitted they were nervous just because the press, photographer Guy Warren and myself, were on hand.

But hey, these girls can swing un- too high, according to her coach.

der pressure. No whiffs. All got off the tee solidly, even Katle Jesudowich, making her varsity debut. She was pressed into duty because Jane Bielenda called in sick.

Marian's Trina Govan certainly made me take notice. She ripped the ball off the tee approximately 210 yards. Govan is a pretty good basketball player and volleyball player. She's very athletic, a natural.

"This is almost as hard as basketball," Govan said. "It plays mind games with you."

Ladywood's Meghan Blake, who finished with a 54, also hit a solld tee shot straight down the fairway against a strong wind.

LASKOWSKI has been coaching golf at Ladywood for six years and teaching golf in the City of Livonia's Adult Education program the past

"I have to teach them everything, I start with the basics - the grip, the stance," she said. "Like anything else, it takes hard work, practice and dedication. I encourage them to take private lessons if they can afford it, and we spend a lot of time at the (Oasis) Dome hitting indoors."

Michelle Gossett, Ladywood's No. 1 player, certainly looks like a player who takes lessons.

Her swing is smooth and the crack of the ball indicates she spends time on the practice tee. Another Nancy Lopez?

Not quite, but Gossett shot a 50 to take medalist honors. Twenty-three of those strokes were putts, much

"Michelle's swing came back today, but she can play play better," said Laskowski. "She's been up and down, but has the potential to shoot in the low 40's. She could go on and play in college."

Some of the girls belong to private clubs including Marian's Karen Knyzs, Christina Novara and Lara Vaive. Ladywood's Lauren Zimmerman is working for a scholarship as a caddy at Western Golf and Country

SO THESE GIRLS don't mind carrying their bags. No batboys al-

"They're not that heavy anyway," said Jenny Corbin of Ladywood. "And it gives me exercise."

Ladywood's Jessica Hilario, who just took up the game during the past year and has dropped 20 strokes according to her coach, was the exception. She doesn't like being known as a bag lady.

"I'd rather drive a cart, wouldn't you?" said the petite junior.

I didn't have to think twice, I agreed with her.

While following these girls around a few holes, it became evident that they genuinely have fun while they whack, slash and hack these little dimpled balls.

It's not uncommon to see a hug, a giggle and a look of satisfaction on their faces.

And certainly the peaceful and, tranquil surroundings of nature certainly beat a dusty old ballfield.

Sure, the game is frustrating, but for these girls it's something they find worthwhile. Occasionally you'll hear a "I hate this game!," but all golfers can relate to that.

ONCE I overheard Jesudowich say to her partner, "I got a 10, but only three putts."

Livonia lifter 2nd in U.S. finals

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Todd Lyons took the high road and Dave Phillips the low road, with largely the same results at the U.S. Weight Lifting Federation National Championships last weekend.

Lyons moved up a weight class: and Phillips down a weight for the biggest domestic meet of the year. and the suburban Detroit men were most pleased by what they accomplished.

Phillips of Royal Oak captured first place in the 82.5-kilogram class Saturday at the Mercy Center in Farmington Hills, while Lyons of Livonia took the silver medal at 110 kilos Sunday.

Phillips, who was named the outstanding lifter of the national competition, is one of four men who will represent the U.S. this summer at Union, joining Derrick Crass, Jeff Schutz in the snatch and third behind

Lyons, who was fifth at 100kg last year, had the misfortune of being in the same division with Rich Schutz, who also stepped up a weight after winning the 100kg title in 1989.

"I WAS UP against a national champion and an Olympian, and I'm pleased with what I did," the 24year-old Lyons said. "Just making my lifts is better than not. I have room for improvement, and I see myself catching up."

Lyons had a total lift — the snatch the Goodwill Games in the Soviet 733 pounds. He was runner-up to Lyons attributes his better showing this year to more intense training, describing his previous commitment as sporadic.

"My strength right now is comparable to Rich's," he said. "The only thing I'm lacking is heavy lifts in competition. I've never trained like I am now.

"It's really paid off, and I've seen myself going up rapidly. This meet here is probably one of the best of my life. My lifts were strong, and I felt like I was good for more."

Lyons, who holds the junior national record in the clean/jerk, said he needs to improve in the snatch.

The Rocks, now 5-1-3 overall, jumped out to a 2.0 halftime lead and never looked back against visiting Churchill, which suffered its first loss of the year. The Chargers, who had a goal disallowed during the opening minutes, are 7-1-2 overall.

"It was unbelievable," said Salem coach Ken Johnson. I thought we might give them a good game, but they were No. 1 and undefeated. We wanted to win to help Canton (see below). We don't want to play them again in the second place crossover (in the Western Lakes Conference) because it's right before the dis-

Kris Goff opened the scoring at the 10-minute mark on a cross from Sara Hayes.

Erin Harvey then knocked in a rebound at the 38-minute mark of the first half after a throw-in by Amy Krajewski. Michele Minton headed the ball toward the goal and Harvey pounced on it.

With only eight minutes remaining, Hayes scored on a pass from Minton to close out the scoring.

"They played the best game I've ever seen them play," said Johnson. "We had a talk about team play, pass before dribbles, like we did with the boys last fall.

Tied in knots

Blazers denied upset bid of Mercy

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Farmington Hills Mercy needed a victory. Livonia Ladywood thought it had a victory.

Neither one got what it wanted Monday in girls soccer game as the Catholic League rivals settled for a 3-3 draw at Mercv.

The Marlins, ranked No. 5 in the state, needed a furious effort in the final minutes to salvage the tie, denying the underdog Blazers the upset that had seemed so certain.

"I'm a little disappointed but very pleased with the way my girls played," Ladywood coach John Ozog said. "I ask for 100 percent, and they gave 100 percent."

Mercy needed a win to keep pace with Birmingham Marian in the Central Division. The Mustangs beat Madison Heights Bishop Foley 4-0 Monday and improved to 4-0-2 while the Marlins stand at 3-0-3 and 7-0-4 overall. The Blazers are 1-2-3 and 4-

"I WILL TAKE a tie," Mercy coach Henry Klimes said. "I think a loss would have knocked us out of the championship. A tie hurts but we still have a chance.'

The teams meet again at 11 a.m. Saturday on the Ladywood field, and Klimes believes his players learned a lesson from Monday's game.

"If they're down 3-0, they can come back," he said. "A lot of teams would have caved in, but they kept coming."

The Marlins scored twice in the last two minutes to force the tie.

Sophomore Tania Macioce dribbled up the middle of the field and fired a shot from 16 yards away to make it 3-2, and she got an assist on junior Dana Lehmkuhl's tying goal. Macioce carried the ball into a corplay, lifted a cross that Lehmkuhl headed into the Ladywood net.

The Blazers had been solld defensively, but Ozog said he believed the need to rotate defenders Krista Ozog, Celeste Mahabir and Maddle Verrino out of the game with minor injuries in the late stages upset that steady play.

"I HONESTLY believe if we didn't have the three injuries in the last few minutes we would've had a little different score," Ozog said. "We had to make a few substitutions, and that threw a few players off on defense. The girls we had out there weren't able to adjust quickly enough and were caught off guard."

The Blazers stunned Mercy in the first half by taking a 2-0 lead. With the wind at its back for the first 40 minutes, Ladywood gained confidence on goals by Amie Morelli and Cassie Ozog.

During a rush on the Mercy goal. Morelli chipped a shot over goalkeeper Renee Larabell and assisted on Ozog's goal. Her corner kick, influenced by the wind, curved toward the goal and Ozgo redirected in front of the net.

"My girls were very excited about playing this game," Ozog said, "and I was concerned they wouldn't settle down and play the game. I was concerned they would be charging to the ball and being emotional. But they ner and, turning toward the field of did settle down and, because they did, took Mercy a little by surprise.

The wind was a definite factor in the first half, with Ozog instructing his players to settle the ball down because of it and not overshoot the

Mercy hoped the wind would be its ally in the second half, but the Blazers appeared to ruin that expectation when Ozog made it 3-0 early in the half.

"WHEN IT was 2-0, I really thought we had a shot," Klimes said, "but that third goal - I think the kids got down for a second but they picked each other up.

"With 15 minutes left, I released Kathy McDonald and pushed her up to center/halfback for the fourth attacker. I felt we had to do something to create something."

The wind did help the Marlins as they kept the ball in Ladywood's half of the field for most of the final 40 minutes. Eight of Mercy's nine corner kicks came in the second half.

Though it seemed too little too late at the time, the Marlins started their rally when Kathryn Dudley scored to make it 3-1 midway in the last half.

"If we had been down 3-0 and going against the wind, it would have been tough," Klimes said, "but hav-ing (the wind) with us allowed us to keep the ball down there and have those scoring opportunities."

Marauders meet Fort Wayne next

A sudden decree issued by Amateur Soccer Cup regional chairman Ted Konsewicz Tuesday night has forced a change in the date of the Redford Marauders next playoff

The Marauders had planned to meet the Fort Wayne (Ind.) Sport Club May 20, but Konsewicz told both teams the match must be played May 13. The site remains the same: The Marauders will host Sunday's game at 1 p.m. at Livonia's Bicentennial Park, located on Seven Mile between Farmington and Newburgh.

The change in date will cost the Marauders the services of defender Wally Barrett, who received a red card in their last Cup match and, therefore, had to sit out two league games or one Cup match. He was absent in the Marauders' 3-0 drubbing of Ann Arbor Cannon Sunday and had planned to miss this week's league game, too - until Konsewicz's abrupt ruling.

Sunday's Cup match will pit a pair of upset winners. Fort Wayne defeated favored Cleveland Croatia, 1989's Cup runner-up, last week; the Marauders topped the defending Cup champion American Athletic Club Eagles (from Chicago) 2-1 in overtime April 29.

Sunday's winner advances to the regional finals in St. Louis June 2-3. The regional champion lands a berth in the Amateur Cup final four.

Madonna ends season strong with 24-18 mark

By C.J. Risak staff writer

What a time for a season to end. Most teams that have dropped out of contention with a third of the season yet to play can't wait for the final game. Madonna College's baseball team, however, might very well have collectively asked, "Why quit now?" after Monday's season-ending sweep of Wayne

The Fighting Crusaders struggled through the NAIA District 23 season, winning just four of 15 games (with five rainouts). But they finished with a flourish, winning five straight - including Monday's 4-2 and 8-7 triumphs over Wayne State at Livonia's Ford Field.

"We're playing our best ball of the year," acknowledged Madonna coach Mike George. "And we really had nothing to play for down the stretch but personal pride. I hated to see it end, I really did."

So what did the Crusaders gain from their fast finish? "Just a whole lot of promise for next year," answered George, after his team ended with a 24-18 record in its second year of existance. Last year the Crusaders were 13-19, and George was hoping for bigger things this season.

"I thought, on paper, we were a better club than our record showed this year," he said. "But we finished on a good note. We're trying to establish some tradition here."

MADONNA WON its final double-header with good pitching in game No. 1 and a five-run, sixthinning rally in game No. 2.

Mike Hocking evened his season record at 4.4 with a strong showing in the opener. Hocking pitched the first 5% innings, allowing two runs on five hits and walking eight. He fanned five. Tom Hill relieved and was unscored upon in the final 11% innings.

Pete Berrios stroked a two-run single in the first and knocked in a third run with a ground out in the third. Mike Wozniak also had an RBI single in the third, and Sean Maloney was 3-for-3 with two runs Darrin Clark (from Garden City) was the losing pitcher for the Tartars. He allowed all four runs in 21/2 innings. Mike Ganfield and Dave Mondoux (Westland/Livonia

In the second game, Madonna trailed 5-3 entering the sixth. Kevin Learned and John Bonham started the rally with singles. Rick Gierczyk's triple scored both to tie the game, and after Sean Maloney was intentionally walked, Wozniak was safe on a suicide squeeze bunt that scored the go-ahead run. Another walk loaded the bases, and Rich Roy delivered a two-run sin-

Bonham had three hits and scored twice for Madonna. Ernie Bowling, Learned and Wozniak each had two hits, with Wozniak driving in two runs. For WSU, Mondoux, Dave Jennings (Livonia Bentley) and Ken Hendrian each had two hits. Bill Flaherty was the losing pitcher. Chris Sisler got the win in relief.

ON SUNDAY, the Crusaders took two from Alma, 6-5 and 11-6 at Ford Field. Joe Brusseau's twoout single in the sixth brought home the tiebreaking run in the opener and made a winner of Roy, who went the distance for Madon-

Brusseau got two hits and two runs batted in, Bill Terski had a hit and two RBI and Steve Coffell had two hits for the Crusaders off losing pitcher Tom Harris.

In the second game, Madonna struck for seven runs in the fifth to post a come-from-behind victory. Ernie Bowling, who was district player of the week last week, had a two-run double in the inning. Jim Boucher, who drove in two runs with a single in the first, got another RBI with a bases-loaded walk in the fifth. Learned also had two hits and an RBI in the game.

Chris Kloc got the win in relief of Craig Karankiewicz. Dan Brown was the loser.

Last Thursday, the Crusaders split at Concordia, losing the first 3-1 then winning the second 11-3. They managed just four hits in the first game, Terski's sixth-inning double scoring their only run. Kloc was the hard-luck loser; he allowed three runs on seven hits and three walks, fanning five.

It was different in the second contest. Krol struck out a schoolrecord 16 batters to run his record to 4-1; he surrendered three runs on six hits and three walks. Shawn Hayward was the loser.

Learned and Gierczyk each had two hits and an RBI for Madonna.

Shamrocks on roll, capture RU tournament

It was a big weekend for Redford Catholic Central, with the Shamrocks winning the Redford Union Tournament on Saturday and taking a Catholic League Central Division doubleheader from Birmingham Brother Rice on Sunday.

CC defeated Plymouth Salem, 9-4, in the championship game on Saturday. Paul Pirronello picked up the win in relief of starter Joel Mussat. Kevin Wheeler went 3-for-4 with three RBI to lead the Shamrocks' offense.

CC banged out 10 hits in the contest, while the Rocks had eight,

In the opening round of the tournament, CC bested Redford Union, 6-0. Dan Gusoff went all seven innings in recording the shutout. Gusoff allowed four hits, struck out five and walked four.

The Shamrocks, who were limited to four hits, struck for all of their runs in the fifth inning, with the big blow a three-run double by Kevin Wheeler. Shane Sennett took the loss for RU.

In the second round, CC topped highly regarded Plymouth Canton, 7-2. Brett Walter pitched a fine game for the Shamrocks, going the distance. and allowing five hits and four walks. Scott Kennedy took the loss for Canton. The hard-throwing righthander gave up five hits and struck out 10, but also walked 10.

Pirronello went 2-for-2 at the plate. On Sunday, the visiting Shamrocks (17-7, 12-4) took a pair from Rice (11-11, 6-10), winning the opener, 6-2, and the nightcap, 5-3.

Brothers Dennis (3-for-4) and Paul Pirronello (2-for-3) led the Shamrock offense.

Scott Kapla entered the game in the third in relief of starter Steve Ross, and he went 31/3 innings to pick up the win. Kapla struck out five batters during his stint on the mound. Keith Bozyk went the final 133 innings to pick up the save. CC had 10 hits, while Rice banged out sev-

Bozyk loosened his arm up enough in the opener to come back in the nightcap and pitch a complete game victory. Bozyk allowed eight hits, struck out 11 and walked six.

Dennis Pirronello (three hits, including a triple, and three RBI) and Bozyk (3-for-3) combined for six of the Shamrocks' 10 hits.

THURSTON 11-2, TAYLOR CENTER 5-9: Redford Thurston (7-4, 5-2) split a Tri-River League doubleheader Monday with the visiting Rams (6-1). The split leaves the Eagles a game behind Center in the league standings.

Thurston won the first game with a six-run eighth inning. (Taylor Center was the home team in the opener because it was a make-up contest from earlier this

Steve Koss hit a two-run homer in the eighth to put the Eagles ahead, 7-5. Steve Farris' two-run double had given Thurston a 5-3 lead in the top of the seventh, before the Rams came back to tie it in the bottom of the inning.

Jason Muller went all eight innings for the Eagles to pick up the win. He allowed two earned runs on four hits, walked four and struck out 10. Muller is now 3-0 in ton. The Eagles banged out 11 hits in the game. In the nightcap, Center scored nine times in the fourth inning to put the game away. The game was shortened to five innings because of darkness.

Winning pitcher Bill Woldt allowed seven hits and struck out four. The Rams picked up their runs on just five hits, but were helped by seven walks and three Thurston errors. John Duty took the loss for Thurston, allowing six runs in 3% innings. Duty gave up four hits and issued three base on balls.

Last week, Thurston topped Dearborn Heights Crestwood, 3-1, in a Tri-River game at Thurston. Duty pitched a four-hit complete game for the Eagles.

The key hit for the Eagles was a triple by Koss in a two-run third. Stephenson had two of Thurston's three hits in the game, with an RBI.

C'VILLE 7-10, HAMTRAMCK 4-7: Andy Weighill and Matt Belcher hit home runs Monday to propel visiting Livonia Clarenceville (5-5, 5-3) to a win in the opener.

Belcher's homer was a two-run shot, while Weighill's was a solo blast.

Chris Foss (1-2) was the winning pitcher for the Trojans. The senior righthander gave up one earned run on two hits, walked six and struck out seven. The Trojans accumulated their runs on only five hits.

In the second game, Clarenceville pulled off a gutsy comeback by scoring eight runs in the seventh inning. Jeff Moncmen had the game-winning hit for the Trojans, while Weighill had another strong game at the plate, going 2-for-2 with a home run.

Ken Bazzy picked up the win in relief, tossing the final three frames and allowing four runs on four hits.

FRANKLIN 8.5, HARRISON 7-3: Steve McCool pitched 315-innings of relief Monday to help Livonia Franklin (5-5, 4-3) to a nine-inning win over visiting Farmington Harrison (1-9) in the opening game of the double-header. McCool replaced starter Dave Roman (535 innings, four earned runs and four strikeouts) in the sixth in-The two team combined for 29 hits in the affair, with Franklin smashing out 15. Brian Bartz had a single and a double for the Patriols.

In the nightcap, Tad Dennis was the winning hurler over in a game called in the sixth inning because of dark-..... ness. Dennis tossed five innings of five-hit ball and add struck out four. Roman had a pair of singles for Frank-1800

WAYNE 8, MONROE 7: Marty Laupner stopped a Monroe comeback with some solid relief pitching in Wayne Memorial's Wolverine A League win over Monroe Tuesday at Wayne.

Laupner was perfect over the final 21/3 innings, not allowing a run, hit or walk. He struck out two.

Jason Wetmore, Joe Limotte and Dwayne Briski each had two hits to spark the Zebras' nine-hit attack. Troy Cole lasted 41/3 innings, giving up seven runs, totake the loss for Monroe.

Wayne improved to 6-5 overall, 5-2 in the WAL.

ST. AGATHA 5-16, OAK. CATHOLIC 0-0: Rick Fowler struck out 18 batters in hurling a twohitter in Redford St. Agatha's first-game shutout of Oakland Catholic Sunday at Oakland.

Fowler aided his pitching gem by collecting two hits himself. Joe Brick also had two hits. Ruben Cordova was the losing pitcher for Oakland Catholic.

In the second game, Brian Wilson struck out five in three innings of work to get the pitching victory in the five-inning mercy. Again, the Aggies' pitcher pitched in at the plate; Wilson had two of his team's eight hits. The two wins improved St. Agatha's overall record to 8-9. The Aggies are 7-7 in the Catholic League's C-D Division.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 7, R.O. SHRINE 6: Jason Zielinski had three hits, including a triple, to pace Lutheran Westland's win over visiting Royal Oak Shrine Monday.

Jim Brasgalla started for Westland, but gave up six runs (five earned) on eight hits, striking out nine, in 615 innings. John Dean relieved and got the win, getting the final two outs in the seventh.

The Warriors overcame five errors in running their overall record to 7-1.

ST. AGATHA 12, ST. FLORIAN 0: Redford St. Agatha unleashed 15-hit attack Tuesday to beat Hamtramack St. Florian in a Catholic League encoun-

The host Aggles (9-7, 7-8) were paced by a solid pitching performance from senior Laura Rakowski. She hurled seven innings, struck out seven and walked Offensively, Rakowski belted three hits. Senior Kelly Gannon contributed four hits and four RBIs.

Monday, the Aggles split a doubleheader with Center Line St. Clement, winning the first game 5-3 and losing the second 2-1.

In the opener, St. Agatha was paced by Gannon's game-winning RBI single in the fourth inning.

Rakowski salvaged the win, hurling seven innings, striking out six and walking four. In the second game, Rakowski suffered the loss in eight innings. Each team collected nine hits. On Saturday, St. Agatha participated in the Redford Township Tournament at Claude Allison Field. The Aggies surrendered 9-0 to Redford Thurston in their first game and blanked Redford Bishop Borgess 4-0 in their second effort.

Rakowski figured in both pitching decisions for St. Agatha, losing the first and winning the second. Angie Zion and Chaleen Marnon each collected two hits for the Aggies. Carolyn Nagel and Dziobak, the winning pitcher, had two hit each for Thurston. Gannon pounded three hits versus Borgess.

CLARENCEVILLE 29-31. HAM-TRAMACK 0-10: Livonia Clarenceville dominated its doubleheader with visiting Hamtramack Monday, winning both games with a total of 48 hits. The Trojans are 4.3 overall and 3.4 in the Metro

In the first game, Rhonda Saunders collected three singles and a triple and Kari Watson contributed three singles and a homer to lead the Trojans. Michele Torres added four singles. Angle Stevens had a single. double and two-run homer, while Tricia Rohn and Kelly Kelbert had three hits each.

Saunders earned the victory on the mound, hurling five innings and striking out 11.

Saunders contributed offensively in the second game, hitting a single, double and homer. Danielle Rose had four hits, while Lori Boyk and Watson contributed three each.

Watson got credit for the victory, hurling five innings. She struck out five and did not walk a batter, while allowing one hit.

Last week, the Trojans whipped Detroit Lutheran West, 11-1, thanks to a solid pitching performance from Watson. She mustered five strikeouts in five inn-

Danielle Rose blasted a single and two-run homer.

FRANKLIN 16-7, HARRISON 0-1: Jenny Mayle guided Livonia Franklin to a doubleheader sweep of host Farmington Harrison Monday, earning victories in each of the games.

Mayle recorded 10 strikeouts in the first game and 12 in the second. The Hawks mustered just one hit in the two games and that came in the second game off the bat of Harrison's Karen Najarian.

Franklin recorded six hits in the first game and four in the second.:

The Patriots are 9.4 overall and 5.1 in the Western Division. Harrison is 1-10, 1-5.

LADYWOOD 10-6, MARIAN 2-2: Livonia Ladywood's Staci Kowalczyk delivered back to back pitching efforts Tuesday to lead the Blazers to a doubleheader sweep of host Birmingham Marian.

Ladywood is 9-9 overall and 4-4 in the Catholic League.

Rowalczyk recorded nine strikouts in the opening game to earn the victory. Lisa Bielenda, Jomarie Skurtovich and Kim Supron had two hits aplece in the first game. The Blazers totaled 11 hits in second game. Michelle Wilson, Krista Campeau, Jenny Smith and Rachelle Campeau each collected two.

Kowalczyk gathered two strikeouts, while allowing

Madonna softball gets 1st big recruit

staff writer

It'll be more than 10 months before Madonna College's first-ever softball squad takes to the field for its opening game. And coach Dave Racer is glad.

Racer, currently coaching Plymouth Canton's high school team, needs the time. "I'm happy with the way it's going right now," he said, "because it gave me a year to recruit a team.

"I was worried about that. I thought I was going to have to go out and struggle (to find players). We're starting to put it together a little bit. It's a start."

· What Racer has accomplished thus far indicates his first team won't be lacking. Several solid players are already attending Madonna. In addition, Racer last week signed his first significant recruit: Holly Jondro, a pitcher-outfielder from Monroe St. Mary Catholic Central.

JONDRO SHOULD be a valuable contributor immediately. She was instrumental in the Kestrels' drive to reach the Class B state finals last year, compiling a 13-1 record while walking just seven in 88 innings, with a 0.96 earned run average and 56 strikeouts.

She was just as good at the plate, batting .352 with 34 runs batted. St. Mary finished with a 29-4 record.

"It's a new program," was Jondro's reply when asked why she chose Madonna. And a new program means a shot at playing immediately, right? "Hopefully," she said tact-

"It'll be interesting," she said. "It's more of a challenge."

Jondro's had few problems overcoming challenges in her career so far. As a sophomore, she played outfield only — and hit .524.

HER VERSATILITY intrigues Racer. "I'd like to play right field. too," she said. Racer had no reservations. Said he: "That's what we need. I'd like to carry three pitchers, and have two that are position players,

"She's not overpowering fast, but moves the ball well. She's an intelligent pitcher."

Jondro's recruitment could get things rolling for Madonna. A nucleus is already in place. Currently enrolled in school are Megan Arm strong, an outfielder, and Michelle Dyksinski, a shortstop. Both played women's basketball at Madonna last season and plan on playing softball,

In addition, Armstrong's younger sister, Mandy, is committed to joining the Madonna program. Mandy is Waterford Kettering's No. 4 hitter this season. Another possibility: Hollie Brachel, who played catcher at Harper Woods Regina and was on Schoolcraft College's volleyball team last year.

Racer has several other players currently in the midst of their high school seasons who have shown interest.

Moser did 140 in his last snatch attempt and was five kilos better than Lyons in the clean/jerk, 190-185. Lyons did 185 in his first clean/jerk attempt but missed at-190 and 195 in his next two.

Lyons, originally from Waterloo, Iowa, said he hopes to remain in Livonia and train under coach Bud Charniga, who took Lyons under his wing after coaching the 1984 Junior National team of which Lyons was a member.

1980 while the team was in Mexico, was the defending U.S. champ and the favorite at 82.5, but a work-related injury kept him away from and now living in Dearborn, was this year's competition.

Urrutia was doing mechanical repairs on the truck he drives for a supermarket when it slipped off the jack and nearly broke his leg, according to his coach, Tom Bal-

"We were expecting great things from him." Bailey said. "He's far superior to most lifters. He's 40 to 50 kilos better than most lifters in the country." Phillips, who had always been in the middle between the 82.5 and 90kg classes before trimming his weight to 181% to qualify for the lower division, didn't think he had won a flawed title by any means. "First of all, I know Tony, but to be quite honest he's been on the skid since '88 and he knows that," he said: "The-two-people I-was most worried about were Arn (Kritsky) and (Stan) Jedrusko. If Tony had been here, he would have been another lifter."

The 21-year-old Phillips had a 330-kilo total, five more than lifted more than 182. runner-up Kritsky, a former Olympian whose last major competition was the '88 Games.

If Kritsky had been successful, that would have given him the overall title. He and Phillips would have had 330 totals, and Kritsky would have been the winner based. on his lighter (.02 kilos) body weight.

"I got a little lax in the clean and jerk, because I thought I had it wrapped up by the third-lift," Phillips said. "That was the only downfall of the day. I was lucky Arn missed his last lift. "That would have been an unreal

Moser did 140 in his last snatch attempt and was five kilos better than Lyons in the clean/jerk, 190-185. Lyons did 185 in his first clean/jerk attempt but missed at 190 and 195 in his next two.

Lyons, originally from Waterloo, Iowa, said he hopes to remain in Livonia and train under coach Bud Charniga, who took Lyons under his wing after coaching the 1984 Junior National team of which Lyons was a member.

"This has been the best thing for my lifting," Lyons said. "I don't know of any other coach who knows how to train a lifter as well as he does."

Phillips competed at 90 kilos (198 pounds) last year but figured 82.5 was where he belonged. He wasn't considered one of the favorites entering the competition, but his performance proved he did the right thing by moving down.-----

"I weighed 188 in the nationals last year and got smoked," Phillips said. "I said the 'Hell with this; I can be national champion down there.' I always knew I could do it, especially at this weight."

ROBERTO (TONY) Urrutia, a three-time world champion and Cuban expatriate who defected in-1980 while the team was in Mexico, was the defending U.S. champ and the favorite at 82.5, but a work-related injury kept him away from this year's competition.

Urrutia was doing mechanical repairs on the truck he drives for a supermarket when it slipped off the jack and nearly broke his leg, according to his coach, Tom Bai-

Phillips, who had always been in the middle between the 82.5 and 90kg classes before trimming his weight to 181% to qualify for the lower division, didn't think he had won a flawed title by any means:

"First of all, I know Tony, but to be quite honest he's been on the skid since '88 and he knows that," he said. "The two people I was most worried about were Arn (Kritsky) and (Stan) Jedrusko. If Tony had been here, he would have been another lifter."-

The 21-year-old Phillips had a 330-kilo total, five more than runner-up Kritsky, a former Olympian whose last major competition was the '88 Games.

PHILLIPS. WHO holds two junior national records at 90kg for snatch (151) and total (335), won the snatch and was third in the clean/jerk but still had the best to-

Jedrusko, originally from Poland and now living in Dearborn, was runner-up in the snatch but faltered in the clean/jerk. Royal Oak's Jim Hewelt, training partner of Phillips who upset Urrutla at the Olympic Sports Fest last summer, was not a factor because of injury.

Phillips missed his last attempt in the clean/jerk at 182.5 and was third at 180. But he had to sweat out some tense moments as Kritsky attempted 187.5 on his third

If Kritsky had been successful, that would have given him the overall title. He and Phillips would have had 330 totals, and Kritsky would have been the winner based on his lighter (.02 kilos) body weight.

"I got a little lax in the clean and jerk, because I thought I had it wrapped up by the third lift," Phillips said. "That was the only downfall of the day.- I was lucky-Arn missed his last lift.

- "That-would have been an unreallift for Arn to make. He's never lifted more than 182.

"I KNEW, IF I had made (182.5), that would be it," he added. "It's always nerve-racking to sit and watch someone else decide your fate. Once your third lift is over, you're done, and somebody else is going to try something better."

Wayne nips Glenn in city encounter

Wayne Memorial turned the tables Tuesday on rival Westland John Glenn, handing the Rockets, who won the Observerland Relays on Saturday, its first boys track defeat of the season, 67-61.

Wayne, second to the Rockets at Observerland, won eight events.

Shawn Ma-Azza, a sophomore, captured the 100- and 200-meter dashes in 11.03 and 22.85, respectively. He was also a member of the 400 relay (46.17) for Wayne.

Other Wayne first-place finishers included Reginald Busby, discus, 140 feet, 6 inches; Jason Hodge, long jump, 20-6; Pierre Hixon, 110 hurdles, 15.1; James Grady, 300 hurdles, 41.6; and the 1,600 relay squad

There was no pole vault event. David Ryan paced Glenn with vicboys track tories in the 800 and 1,600 runs, posting times of 2,08.1 and 4:55.8, respectively. He also teamed up with Ryan Wilson, Jason Nowicki and Mark Baker for a first in the 3,200 relay

Other Rocket first-place finishers included Harold Rankey, shot put, 44-101/2; Bill Griffiths, high jump, 6-4; Carl Lowe, 400 dash, 50.2; and Matt Maybouer, 3,200 run, 10:40.0.

Lowe, Andrew Dobbins, Randy Seach and Ed Kwilos won the 800 relay in 1:31.8.

Glenn is 5-1 overall.

REDFORD THURSTON ran its dual-meet record to 5-1 Tuesday, downing host Allen Park, 731/2-631/2, in a Tri-River League encounter.

Senior D.J. Kellogg paced the Eagles with firsts in the high jump (6-0), long jump (19-81/2) and 100-yard dash (10.2). He also teamed up with Dan Sanko, Jeremy McKinney and Matt.Nagel to win the mile relay in

Other Thurston first place finishers: Steve Hainer, shot put, 44-2; Jerry Malik, 120 hurdles, 17.1; Ian McCulloch, 330 hurdles, 44.6; Sanko, 220 dash, 24.2; and Nagel, 880 run, Sanko, Walter Hughes, Paul Jaremski and Ben Millen captured the 440 relay in 48.2.

Devoted athlete Garden City girl makes sacrifices

By Brad Emons staff writer

Garden City's Michele Gaza will go to great lengths to become a better synchronized swimmer.

She and her mother, Marlene, make three to four trips per week to East Lansing so Michele can train with the coach, Sandy Di-Maya-Pawelak of the Sea Sprites Club.

The trips, though, are well worth the miles as Michele returned recently with a first and second place medal from the U.S. Synchronized Swim, Inc. North Zone (Section B) championships, held April 28-29 in Indianapolis, Ind.

The 15-year-old Gaza, a sophomore at Mercy High School, took first in the Solo event (13-14 age division) and second with partner Madeleine Smith of East Lansing in Duet, qualifying her for Nationals, June 22-24 in St. Louis, Mo.

"Michele's a very dedicated and hard-working person," sald Di-Maya-Pawelak, a 1982 graduate from East High and former University of Michigan swimmer. "She's very coachable although sometimes she gets frustrated, but she loves it. Her mother wouldn't drive her in three or four times a week if she didn't like it. She does a lot of her homework in the car."

WHEN THE GAZAS, which also include father Mike, aren't driving to-and-from Lansing, they're heading off to the Livonia Y or Ann Arbor Pioneer High so Michele can do additional training.

"I'm at a pool every night," Michele said.

"She's (Michele) never said 'I don't want to practice," said Mar-

The sacrifice was made after Michele's home club, the Garden City Synchronettes, disbanded.

who began seven years ago. "When the club closed, I just couldn't sit around. I had to go somewhere

Many of Gaza classmates and friends at Mercy can't understand why she spends so much time traveling to meets and missing school activities to practice daily.

"I've tried to explain to them it's not a vacation," said Michele. "A lot of times I have to miss things happening on Friday nights. I just tell them I've got to practice, but they can't see why."

Gaza's long-range goals are to swim in college and have an opportunity to try out for the U.S. National Team (In July, Gaza will swim in the Junior Nationals in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.)

"IT'S BEEN fun, but it's hard, too," said Michele. "It's not a wimpy'sport."

Sometimes Gaza is underwater for 50 seconds. The sport combines ballet, gymnastics and swimming.

"The solo event is the hardest to swim,," said DiMaya-Pawelak. "It's a difficult event, but Michele is developing nicely.

"Synchronized swimming depends on muscle development and coordination. Strength is important. You do weight training and running. Where the coach comes in is the technical part. You can practice on your own, but only a coach can see where the body should be

There are few breaks during a three-day zone competition.

"A lot of it is mental, it's not like racing at all," said Michele. "You have to do a lot of thinking and a lot of it is repetition. It's also very tiring. But I enjoy the travel and meeting people from other teams."

Gaza stays in shape 12 months a year. She trained last fall with the Mercy High School swim team.

THE COST to keep a synchronized swimmer going is not cheap.

Marlene Gaza has never sat down and figured it out, but some of the expenses go toward costumes ("We're like figure skaters, we have decorative suits with glitter," says Michele), coaching, pool fees and our course, gas.

Synchronized swimming is an Olympic sport looking for recogni-

And if Gaza can earn a top 10 berth in one of her two events (solo or duet) in St. Louis, she may start thinking about the year 1996 or

"Michele's capable of finishing in the top 10, but it's tough competition," said DiMaya-Pawelak.

Zebras defuse Rockets

Wayne Memorial took home the city trophy Tuesday, downing visiting Westland John Glenn in girls track meet, 66-62.

Quinday Cooper paced the Zebras (4-1) with firsts in the 100- and 200meter dashes. She posted times of 12.85 and 27.47, respectively. Cooper also teamed up with Shelli

Huntsman, Brandy Caincross and Maya Lewis for a first in the 400 relay (52.22). Cooper, Bethanne Sawyer, Caincross and Huntsman added a win in the 800 relay (1:52.9). Other Wayne first-place finishers included Lewis in the shot put (35 feet, 2% inches) and discus (107-9); Akua Hammons, long jump (16-3) and 400 dash (1:03.03); and Caincross, high jump (5-0).

Dana Nowicki and Amy Finley each figured in three first place finishes for Glenn.

Nowicki captured the 800 and 1,600 runs in 2:32.9 and 5:55.0, respectively. Finley took the 100 and 300 hurdles in 17.8 and 52.1, respectively. The two also teamed up with Michelle Henry and Michel Bratcher for first-place time of 4:31.0 in the Jennifer Caplis added a win in the 3.200 run (no time available), while the Glenn quartet of Henry, Mary Arno, Joanne McConchie and Rebecca Berczel won the 3,200 relay (11:21.2).

Glenn is 3-3 overall.

LUTHERAN WESTLAND won its sixth straight meet Tuesday without a loss, scoring 108 points to 4214 for Grosse Pointe University-Liggett and 51/2 for Plymouth Christian.

Individual winners for the Warriors included Dana Schlicker, 110-yard hurdles, 19.4; Lori Lapum, 100 dash, 12.6; Jennifer girls track

Gerlach, mile run, 5:44.1; Jennifer Billand, shot put, 26-10; Stacey Hughes, 330 hurdles, 1:01.9; Stephanie Locke, 880 run, 2:38.9; Michele Conklin, discus (80-9) and high jump (5-0); Sara Pfelffer, long jump, 13-24; Lori Gentz, two-mile run, 14:53.6.

The 440 relay team of Dana and Tonia Schlicker, Nicole Hines and Lapum took first in 55.9, while the 880 relay foursome of Hines, Tonla Schlicker, Kristin and Stacey Hughes added a first (1:59.9).

The mile relay team of Erin Barnaby, Pfeiffer, Renee Ruth and Lapum won in 4:55.5, while two-mile relay squad of Ellen Anderson, Ruth, Gerlach and Locke added a win in 11:20.7.

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE, paced by Roberta Wiggle, won its Metro Conference meet Tuesday against visiting Harper Woods Lutheran East, 7214-5314.

Wiggle took three firsts including the long jump (15-1/2), 100-meter dash (13.06) and 800 run (2:31.7). She also teamed up with sister Tricia Wiggle, Tricia Dunklee and Jennifer Nunnery for a first in the 1,600 relay (4:35.4).

Other Clarenceville first place finishers: Dunklee in the high jump (4-8) and 300 hurdles (52.4); Tricia Wiggle, 400 run (1:07.0), Michell Sroka, 1,600 run (6:37.0); and Tara O'Conner, 3,200 run (16:48.0).

The foursome of Tricia Wiggle, Nunnery, Sue Tatom and Jennifer Loukojarvi won the 800 relay (2:08.0), while O'Conner, Chris Miller, Angela Manger and Sroka took the 3,200 relay (13:14.0).
Clarenceville is 3-2 overall and 1-2 in

REDFORD THURSTON suffered its first defeat in five meets Tuesday, losing to Tri-River League leader Allen Park,

The visiting Eagles grabbed only five firsts, led by Carolyn McCarthy, who captured the mile and two-mile runs in 6:31.0 and 14:41.0, respectively. She was also a member of the victorious two-mile relay squad along with Judy Wong, Laurie Hodorowski and Lisa Sitterlet (11:45.0). Diane Tuccini won the discus (83-11) and Kinshasa Hughes took the 100-yard dash in 12.69 to account for Thurston's other two firsts.

REDFORD BISHOP BORGESS fell to 2-6 overall, falling Tuesday to Catholic League Central Division foe Harper Woods Regina in a meet at Garden City

Angie Hollis and Erica Shepard each figured in three firsts for the Spartans, now 2-2 in the Central. Hollis won the high jump (5-0) and 200-meter dash (28.3), while Shepard took the 400 dash (1:02.8). The two teamed up with Chaquese Sears and Samira Raheem to win the 800

relay in 1:56.6. Shepard, Florence Pugh,

Sears and Staci Prostell added a first in the 1,600 relay (4:33.4). Other Borgess individual firsts were recorded by Alena McBee, shot put (30-1) and discus (100-10), Pugh, 300 hurdles (49.5); and Prostell, 800 run (2:43.7).

REDFORD ST. AGATHA won a double-dual Monday at Pontiac Northern, defeating Catholic League C-Section foes Oakland Catholic (79-28) and Waterford Our Lady of the Lakes (77-22).

Individual first place finishers for the Aggies, now 4-1 overall and 4-0 in the C-Section, include: Aleah Collier, shot put (33-4) and 100-meter dash (14.08); Rachel Tymczak, discus (71-5); Marie Van Nostrand, high jump (4-6) and 300 hurdles (1:01.2); Autumn Battin, long jump (13-3) and 100 hurdles (19.7); Sharon Doonan, 800 run (3:01.0), and Becky Pruneau, 1,600 run (6:33.0) and 3,200 run (15:02.0).

The Agatha foursome of Christla, Tymczak, Battin and Collier took first in the 400 relay (59.6).

Stevenson 2nd at Stafford Relays

By Bill Parker staff writer

For the second year in a row, Milford and Livonia Stevenson finished first and second respectively in the Stafford Relays, held Saturday at Walled Lake Central.

"Milford is a great team," admitted Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg. "We had hoped for a top-five finish." But with all the good schools there — Mercy, the Plymouth schools, North Farmington — I really didn't know what to expect. We had a lot of good things happen. The kids are coming along fine and making real nice progress."

Milford topped the chart with 69 points followed by Stevenson (56), Farmington Hills Mercy (45), Plymouth Canton (42), Plymouth Salem (31), Adrian (28) and North Farmington (25). Rounding out the 17-team field were Lakeland (24), Pontiac Central and West Bloomfield (22 each), Walled Lake Western (14), Walled Lake Central (10), Farmington Harrison (6), Birmingham Groves (5), Novi and Livonia Churchill (1 each).

STEVENSON picked up a pair of victories en route to its second place finish. Teresa Sarno, Debbie Wroblewski and Jessann Martin won the discus relay with a combined distance of 321 feet, 2 inches. Martin had the longest throw of the day at 119-5. The Spartans also won the mile-relay with the team of Nicole Todd, Lisa Christensen, Tracy Clark and Becky Adamczyk checking in at 4:14.3.

"We are not a real strong distance team and you need a strong distance team to do well at this meet," Holmberg said. "We had to manufacture

some distance kids. It took some cre-

It's every parent's nightmare. The death of a seemingly healthy-baby-for-no-apparent reason. Without warning.

The name of this mysterious, silent killer is SIDS:

Sudden Infant Death Syndrome. It's commonly known as "Crib Death." And it's the number one cause of death in inlants from one week to one year old . . . causing more deaths than cyslic hbrosis, childhood cancer and heart disease combined. Over 7.000 deaths each year.

A SIDS baby dies within seconds, usually during sleep, He -suffers no pain.

Contrary to beliefs, a SIDS baby doesn't suffocate or choke. There are no symptoms. And all allempts to resuscitate a baby dying of SIDS will fail. No way to prevent it. No way to predict it. Not yet. These facts are frightening. But with your help we can find the cause. The cure.

Donations of your time and of your dollars will make a difference. You can help save a life. So that no baby will ever die behind bars again.

Owls get a head start on nesting cycle

Laying eggs and incubation in February may seem peculiar, but that is when owl begin their nesting Owls do not build their own nest. They use abandoned nests of other birds, or hollows in trees. Since no birds are nesting in winter, owls have their choice of nesting sites.

After incubation and care of the nestlings, young are ready to leave the next by late April to mid-May. I. have seen great horned owls in great blue heron nests when the herons arrive in spring. Their presherons, which were intent on courting and preparing their own nests.

A few years ago, about the second week of May, while walking along the Rouge River in Hines

Park, I found an old tree stump with an excavated hole in it. I felt there was activity inside because there were fresh scratch marks outside the hole, and every time I walked by, leaves inside the hole were in a different position.

ONE DAY when I walked past the hole I saw the face of a young screech owl filling the opening. That verified my suspicions. Once I knew what was occupying the nest I began looking for the adults nearby. On one occasion I saw an adult ence did not seem to bother the tucked under a tangle of grape vines. Not long after that, I saw one hugging the trunk of an adlacent tree — looking very much like a piece of bark.

It was getting very close to the time when those young would leave the nest. So one night I took my camera equipment and investigated the hole. When I arrived, an adult flew up to me and began calling from just a few feet above my head. This was a sure sign that there were young outside the nest.

When I looked around with my flashlight, I found a young owlets climbing the trunk of a tree. It hugged the trunk with its body and climbed with its claws. While one foot was in motion, the bill was used for stabilization.

Since young owls cannot fly, but need to get off the ground and away from danger, the only way they could get to the upper branches was by climbing.

Dinner theater goal: Keep it light

By Cathle Breidenbach special writer

"We want light and funny," Michael Klier says of the dinner theater shows his company, Theatre Arts Productions of Farmington Hills, is staging at two Southfield hotels - the Days Hotel and the Berkshire Hotel.

At the Berkshire, "The Mystery Musical Madness Revue" has been playing since New Year's Eve, and "Pump Boys and Dinettes," the latest in a lineup of musicals at the Days Hotel, opened last weekend. Explaining TAP's choice of lighthearted entertainment for dinner theater, Kleir said, "We're not interested in making people think heavy thoughts. We want them to leave smiling.

People often hum snippets of songs from the show or burst into full-throated warbling on the drive home. Shows with laughter and song, like those playing the Days Hotel and the Berkshire, consistently draw larger houses and prosper from word-of-mouth publicity.

Klier said recognition matters in choosing shows. "We use name shows that people either recognize the title or recognize a known author such as Neil Simon or Stephen Sondheim. And once or twice a season, we'll try something less well-known if it's strong and very up-tempo, like 'Pump Boys and Dinettes.'" country-pop, concert and musical theater, the show features two good with the two women, the Dinettes, who run the diner next door.

"Pump Boys" will be followed in June with "The Motown Show" scheduled to run through the summer. The Vegas-like revue highlights music by groups Detroit made famous, including the Temptations, Gladys Knight, the Supremes, the Four Tops and the Jackson Five.

Martin Fine, new owner of the Days Hotel on W. Nine Mile Road between Southfield and Greenfield roads, comes from New York and is an avid Broadway supporter. In January, the hotel featured "I Do! I Do!" an old favorite musical about love and marriage. Neil Simon and Marvin Hamlisch's "They're Playing Our Song" ran Friday and Saturday evening through February. Then in March, the Days Hotel presented "Little Mary Sunshine," followed in April by "The Apple Tree," a musical that includes a segment about the first days in the Garden of Performances of "Pump Boys" what's there "shore" is fun. Nineteen short, upbeat, down-home songs and a sum total of maybe eight minutes of dialogue are all you get with "Pump Boys and Dinettes," the latest dinner theater offering from TAP Ltd. and the Southfield Performing Arts Center. This brief romp through the back roads of the rural South is a treat, thanks to the lively five-person cast.

Our story (if you could call it that) takes place on an obscure stretch of Highway 57, somewhere between Well, there ain't much to it, but Frog Level and Smyrna (the state is presumably Arkansas, Tennessee or some such place). Next door to each other are a filling station (manned by the Pump Boys) and the Double Cupp, a truck-stop diner operated by classified as "country," though styles vary widely within that genre. The best are those that feature solo work. My favorite was "Serve Yourself," a honky-tonk blues number in which singer-pianist Steven Habbel scolds all those women trying to get their claws into him.

Another delight is Susan McDonald's "Be Good or Be Gone," a vampy, sassy rocker in which she lets her boyfriend know exactly how he is expected to behave. Luray Cooper does a great job on "Mona," a Chuck Berry send-up which details the physical attributes of the local Woolworth's cashier. In "The Best Man," Tracy Washburn pines for Mr. Right a la Loretta Lynn.

ROCKY HARDING (the main) Pump Boy) holds the show together and moves it along nicely. He has a disarming manner and a pleasant: voice. He takes the lead vocals on! "Highway 57," the Roger Millerstyle song that sets the stage for us.

by TAP. In the interactive show, volunteers from the audience become part of the plot as they audition for parts on a TV musical sitcom. Ann Karay of the Berkshire said, "We get people telling jokes or singing everything from I'm a Little Teapot' to 'Memories.'"

The show begins to "happen" as dinner theater guests munch hors d'oeuvres during the cocktail hour. Karay said, "The person right next, night stay at the hotel. to you could be part of the show. You've got to watch everything bartenders, waiters, guests."

SUCH CHARACTERS as an aspiring young actress, a jealous older actress, a tech man and an agent contribute to the plot complexities. In the course of the evening, somebody gets murdered and the inspector shows up to resolve the case with the help of the members of the audience. Everyone is a suspect and everyone is an eye-witness to the crime.

No two shows ever turn out exactly the same because the repartee between actors and audiences changes from night to night, and the cast updates the show with ad lib comedy about the latest local scandal or such critical national happenings as the Great George Bush Broccoli Contro-

Audience members not only put on part of the entertainment; they also analyze clues and motives for murder. At the end of each eyening, they decide by vote "who done it." Guests who guess the murderer and win the grand prize are treated to an over-

KLIER SAYS shows at the two hotels are "as different as night and day." The Days Hotel stages Broadway favorites and seats 100 to 200 people, depending on chair arrangement. The Berkshire presents an original, interactive show, with intimate seating for 80.

Klier wrote the plot outline and the dialogue for the Berkshire Madness show, but he said it really evolved in rehearsal as his handpicked cast shaped the comedy, Klier spent several years studying mysteries, reading all kinds of mystery stories and attending mystery evenings before he wrote the show. He says he "took what was good" for the TAP show, changed what he wanted to be different, and added music.

When the show opened New Year's Eve it was contracted through January. It's been so popular, the contract has been extended several times and "Berkshire Madness" is slated to run through the summer. Meanwhile, Klier and TAP are writing a second addition to the original

Cooper and Habbel play his buddles. Habbel deserves special credit for also playing a mean honky-tonk plano. His accompaniments keep the show hopping throughout, though there are several songs that really cry for a guitar.

McDonald and Washburn are the Dinettes. Washburn is about 90 pounds of pure energy. She shines brightest in the dance numbers. McDonald has a strong, rich mezzosoprano voice which sounds especially good on "Vacation," a gospel-style ode to free time which is sung a cap-

Marie McGee: editor/591-2300

special writer Helen and Donald Olmsted have been responsible for the "murder" of more than 100 individuals over the last nine years, all of whom are alive and well today. Reportedly, each victim enjoyed his or her demise greatly, as did the Olmsteds and their many accomplices.

Friday evening, May 18, the Omsteds and their cohorts will strike again — this time at the Livonia Civic Center Library.

Howell, call themselves "Homicide Hosts," and head a group that specializes in staging open-ended murder mysteries - a fast-growing type of interactive theater in which audiences participate by figuring out "whodunit." Helen writes each original script. Donald acts as a kind of indispensable jack-of-all-trades for the organization.

Only the Olmsteds and a small number of abettors know who will be the villain of the upcoming piece at the library. But, if you're on hand, you'll have the chance to not only track down the guilty party, but to win a prize for your sleuthing efforts as well.

HERE'S BASICALLY how it

In addition to the drama itself, guests are provided with various clues during the course of the evening. Playgoers may find footprints, cates a deadly poison has been purchased by a suspect, or mysterious "notes" scattered about the scene of the crime.

At the conclusion of the play, participants are challenged to answer a number of written questions, such as "Who is the murderer? What weapon was used? Did the murderer have accomplices? If so, who were they?"

Participants who are first to answer all questions correctly are declared the winners. (Four prizes will be awarded at the Civic Center Library event, including a number of gift certificates to be redeemed at area bookstores).

Helen, a former feature writer who also authored mystery stories, emphasizes that she is careful to keep her mystery dramas "clean," so that the whole family can attend and participate in the event. Children often do participate, she says, especially when the productions are performed for private parties.

"Usually," she says, laughing,
"when the kids participate, they're the ones who win!"

OVER THE YEARS, "Homicide Hosts" have visited their own special brand of crime in such diverse spots as the Royal York Hotel in Toronto, Domino's Lodge on Drummond Island, and Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester. According to the Olmsteds, every minute has been terrific.

Well, almost every minute. There was the time in Urbana, Ill., when a smoke bomb ignited during a climactic moment and set off smoke alarms in the building, and what seemed like every fire truck in the city rushed to the scene. And the time in Toronto when a dummy they'd placed in a phone booth for part of the drama suddenly fell out and caused a good-sized panic among passers-by.

But such moments are definitely the exception, they emphasize.

"Homicide Hosts" started out nine years ago when Helen had the idea of writing and putting together a whodunit fund-raiser for the Detroit chapter of Mystery Writers of America, to which she belonged. She recalls that she came up with the idea after hearing about such productions in London and New York at the time.

'We were the first in the area to do this kind of thing," she says, "although there are many others now."

NOT ONLY WAS that initial fundraiser a big success (more than 280 amateur detectives turned out for the event), but Helen soon found herself with several requests to do the same thing for various fund-raising groups, and for people simply looking for entertainment.

"It just simply caught fire," she

Along with audiences, they've never had problems attracting actors, either, never even had so much as a single casting call.

Cast members are usually members of the Mystery Writers of America or are local professional actors, they explain. "People usually either call us, or the actors we already have know somebody," says Helen.

Last year, the group gave about 20 performances; this year, so far, they've staged seven of the popular performances.

Actually, "staged" is a rather misleading term to describe how the shows are presented, since the action almost never takes place on a stage, but within the area where the audience is situated.

The event can even travel from one room to another as the mystery. unfolds. One recent production, sponsored by the Hilton International Hotel in Windsor, began in one room of Windsor's historic Willowstead Manor, moved to other rooms, and finally concluded at the hotel.

Those who contact "Homicide Hosts" often suggest a theme for the production, says Helen, "and we work from there."

ONE OF THEIR most successful productions, "Ma's Boys," featured a roaring '20s theme, and was presented as dinner theater, with all guests in '20s costumes. They've also per-

staff writer

The eloquent tribal stories of the great southwest Indians are often forgotten with only a few short chapters in history. But tribes like the Hopi Indians, determined to preserve the culture, continue to keep the great spirits of their ancestors alive as they live in pueblos on the dry barren mesas of northern Arizona.

And in December, the impressive culture of American Indians like the Hopi traveled north with the opening of Native West, an American southwest gallery in Plymouth. Husband and wife store owners, Doug and Becky Dobson, carry a collection of American southwest art including jewelry, pottery, rugs, home furnishings

"When we opened, we wanted to reach a broad audience," Becky said. "We wanted to reach those people who don't have a lot of money to spend but enjoy southwest art, as well as those who are collectors and have followed the culture for years."

DOUG, 29, ORIGINALLY from Albuquerque, N.M., and Becky, 28, from Upland, Calif., were raised with southwest Indians as neighbors, they said. In July 1988, they moved from Albuquerque, to Farmington Hills in order for Doug to complete his medical residency in orthopedics at Botsford Hospital.

"Indian life is still very tough today," Doug said. "In an attempt to try and perserve their culture, it becomes difficult for them to mix in an everyday work life. Many Indians live on the reservation but hold down everyday jobs somewhere else."

"It's a real touchy subject because it's a very crude existence for them, and at the same time many modern Indians don't want the general public to see the American Indian as out on a reservation living a crude lifestyle," he said.

"I think many of the modern Indians don't want to be portrayed as an outcast type of a native, but someone that does fit into society," he added.

Among the attractive features at Native West, 863 Ann Arbor Trail, are the authentic kachina dolls made by the Hopi Indians. The name Hopi means good, peaceful or wise. They are said to be proud, quiet people with great reverence to the land and preservation of their culture.

Air brush choices can be confusing

Did you ever find yourself in a conversation, everything is going fine and all of sudden the topic changes and you're out there in space somewhere?

A friend of my son's was at work having a casual conversation with his boss and some other employees. Since this is a retail situation, I must inform you that there are two problems inherent in a small business; taking time for , lunch and keeping enough change in the register.

· Well, during the small group conversation, this boss mentioned how hungry he was and in the same breath gasped at how low he was in change. Pulling a $20 bill out of the register, he asked my son's friend to run next door and "get 20 singles.

Simple! Right? Not exactly. The business "next door" is a Wendy's hamburger franchise and their burgers are listed as "singles," "doubles" or "triples." Well, you guessed it - he came back with a bagful of 20 "singles" hamburgers! As a closing line to this comedy of errors, the errand boy said, "Here's the 20 'singles' but the $20 didn't quite cover the bill."

THIS KIND OF confusion often surrounds the makes and names of airbrushes. Most airbrush manufacturers make the same basic brushes and it is important to compare them accurately. 'Apples to apples and oranges to oranges," as used car salesmen are prone to say.

Usually there is a bottom-of-the-line brush, which is an "external mix" design. In other words, the force of the air forcing out the tip causes a suction which pulls the paint up from the bottle or color cup. Then the paint becomes atomized by the force of air. This mixture of paint and air takes place outside of the airbrush. With this in mind, be careful to compare only external-mix air brushes.

Now we take a giant step when we move to the "dual action internal mix" line of brushes. The internal mix means that the mixture of paint and air take place within the airbrush.

The dual action means that you depress the button for air and pull the button back for paint. The less you pull back the less paint and the. finer the line. The more you pull the button back, the more paint and the wider the line. So here, compare only the dual-action internal mix airbrushes. I would like to point out, too, that there is one more-feature-to confuse-the-issue. You must compare "slow feed" to "slow feed" and "fast feed" to "fast feed." "Slow feed means that the supply of paint is slow, which allows you to get in close and paint tiny restricted areas, which is often the case in photo retouching.

"FAST FEED" IS more the basic requirement for airbrushing, which allows you the ability to do very small work and by merely pulling the button back, you can cover large areas.

There is still one more basic type airbrush to compare: gravity feed. This type of airbrush has the paint reservoir on top of the air brush. So when you push the button down, you get air and you pull the button back gravity pulls the paint down into the airbrush. It is then mixed with air and is sprayed out the tip.

Before you buy any airbrush, check on the availability of parts and location of service. Often people have been in our store and expressed disappointment over the fact that replacements are extremely hard to find for the particular kind of airbrush they own. You need to ask those kinds of questions up front.

Area historic home tours set Three area groups will sponsor home tours, two of them with a historical flavor.

All three are benefits, leading off this weekend with a tour by the Brighton Area Historical and its "Stroll in the Past," at 10 a.m. Saturday and continuing to 4 p.m. Five homes, two churches, civil war ladies, a historical display in the Old Town Hall, antique show are a few of the highlights of event.

For more information, call 27-5086.

On Saturday, May 19, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. the 10th annual Heritage Home walking tour sponsored by the Women's Association of the Dearborn Orchestral Society will be held focusing on Dearborn's "golden triangle," the area bounded by Golfview Dr., Ford Road and Outer Drive.

Crafts on the green will be one of the features. Courtesy transportation will also be available. Luncheon will be available at Christ Episcopal Church, Military at Cherry Hill. For more information, call 943-3095 or 441-2098.

Detroit's historic Corktown tour will take place from 1:30 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Sunday, May 20. Several new tour sites have been added, including the newly opened O'Leary's Tea Room and the Bagley Firehouse. The tour itself has been consolidated this year, focusing on the area between Sixth and 12th streets (Rosa Parks) as a consideration to those who enjoy walking the tour route.

Once again the Detroit Historical Society's historymobile will shuttle guests from the last tour site back to Most Holy Trinity Church, at Porter and Sixth, where the tour will begin. Tickets are $5 advance sale and $7. the day of the tour. For more information, call 962-5660.

The hourly changing of the guard at Lenin's Tomb in Red Square looks at times like a scene from a Russian ballet. Having his camera pre-focused with a fast shutter speed enabled Monte Nagler to capture the military choreography on film.

briefly speaking

• Chrysanthemum sale

The 30th annual chrysanthemum plant sale of the Greater Detroit Chrysanthemum Society will be 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, May 19, at the Livonia home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Slesak Sr., 33451 Rayburn, north of Five Mile.

Plants are potted and ready to shift to containers and gardens. There will be many varieties and colors, including cushion mums, tall upright, exhibition and football mums. Members with many years of experience will be at the sale to assist with selection and growing suggestions.

• Lite and Lively

The final concert of the Dearborn Symphony Orchestra will be at 8 p.m. Friday with the theme "Lite and Lively." Featured will be the symphony's oboe and trumpet sections, principal flutist Clem Barone and the Fairlane Ballet Company.

Tickets are $10 with student tickets at $8. The event will be held in Fordson High School auditorium, 13800 Ford Road, Dearborn. For more information, call 561-5782 or 565-2424.

Westland arts and crafts

A variety of arts and crafts, all "made in America," will be featured at Westland Center from Thursday, May 24, through Sunday, May 27, during regular mall hours. Professional artisans from many states will be demonstrating and selling their work, which will include paintings, pottery, stained glass, wood crafts, jewelry, decorative painting, needlework, soft sculpture, toys as well as other items.

Back from China, off to Russia

Hardly was I back from China than I had an opportunity to visit another of the world's most important places, Russia. My trip, courtesy of Travel Key U.S. Exchanges, took us directly to Moscow. Shortly after leaving Moscow International Airport, heading toward town, our taxi passed a monument shaped like a huge barricade. This marks the very spot where the Nazi invasion was halted ' by the Russian Army during World War II.

The rather stark and barren monument was to mirror some of the impressions I was left with some days later.

Though the Olmsteds are careful not to reveal too much about the production coming up at Civic Center Library, they would allow that "Success Takes a Detour to Murder" revolves around an accomplished professor who is coming to the library for an "awards ceremony" that quickly takes a surprising turn. (By the way, "suspects" often mingle with the audience before and during a performance, so you may find that you've been unknowingly rubbing elbows with the make-believe mur-derer for much of the evening.) According to the Olmsteds, they've never actively advertised their services, but have found they've been kept busy from the outset, mainly through word-of-mouth publicity. A feature spot on Channel 7's now-defunct "Good Afternoon, Detrolt," a few years ago wasn't bad for business, either, they recall.

"Whoever we're working for usually does the advertising for that particular event," says Helen. "I won't even be listed in thephone book. With a name like 'Homicide Hosts,' who knows' what strange calls we'd be getting!" Tickets to "Success Takes a Detour to Murder" are $10, and can be purchased at any Livonia library. Area writers S.K.

Wolf, Loren Estleman, and Tom Sullivan will be on hand to participate in the event, and hors d'oeuvres and desserts will be served. The game is afoot at 7:30 p.m.

Native West

Kachina dancers are Hopi tribesmen who represent the spirits of Hopi ancestors and deities. Fertility and the need for moisture and rain seem to be the force in the development of kachina rituals. During the ceremonies, kachina dancers call upon the spirits for supernatural aid in their quest for water and successful crops.

THERE ARE SEVERAL ceremonies held throughout the year and many kachina dancers participate as intermediaries between the land and the gods. The badger kachina appears in several of the yearly ceremonies and is ranked as the curing kachina or the great healer.

The kachina dolls represent the tribesmen who dance during the ceremonies. The dolls are given to babies, girls and young woman of the villages to be used as a religious inspiration. They are a device to incorporate the girls into the religious life of the village.

Each kachina doll is carved from the root of a cottonwood tree that is washed down and dried for delicate carving. Hopi Indians believe that the roots of the cottonwood seek out water. the most important ingredient for desert farmers. Originally, the tribesmen used a sharp stone flake for carv-:

they use saws, hammers, and chisels. The details are then carved in with a knife. The materials added to the dolls such as feathers, fur, shells, leather and metal represent actual items worn by the kachina dancers.

ing the wood and a block of sandstone for smoothing. Today,

THE PRICE FOR THESE authentic dolls begin at $75 and may go as high as $7,000. The Eagle Dancer is the most prized doll at Native West and is priced at $775.

Bing Crosby, no relation to the actor, an Albuquerque Indian art wholesaler, is credited by the Dobson's for opening Native West. Crosby travels throughout the country and purchases authentic Indian art pieces from native tribes.

"The best part about the business is meeting artists," Becky said. "This town (Plymouth) is just incredible. The people are so friendly and vibrant."

Where would Her Majesty live in Birmingham?

At Buckingham, naturally.

She'd love the royal park across the street. She'd dote on the spacious one or two-bedroom apartment with fresh new interiors from the most modern appliances to the best lighting fixtures to designer carpeting to contemporary verticals.

She'd like the uncommon amount of room and royal way the service staff treats her. After all, a person's home ought to be their palace.

Paul's United Methodist Church, Rochester.

You can contemplate God anytime, anywhere. But some people believe that the real action is in church or synagogue.

Next time you're in a house of worship, take a look around. Does the architecture, design and decor enhance or detract from the services?

"You're involved in the task for creating sacred space, places which help us to introspect, to look for good," said-Rabbi Paul Yedwab of Temple Israel in West Bloomfield.

"Prayer is also a process, a dynamic. Decisions we make when we design . . . can affect the dynamic of prayer," Yedwab said.

The Rev. Gerald M. Shirilla, director of Christian Worship for the Archdiocese of Detroit, heads a committee that reviews plans for all new and renovated Catholic churches.

"The first symbol of the church is people gathered for worship," Shirilla said. "The altar, presider's chair and lectern — everything is to facilitate action, full and conscious participation of all people."

LITURGY HAS evolved from inner to outer directed. That also influences architecture.

A long, narrow building with the altar - or bimah with the ark in synagogues and temples — in front and the congregation spread out straight back to the far reaches of the structure is now the exception rather than the rule.

Many a Catholic church was built like a rectangle with a high-pitched roof in the 1950s because the longterm plan was to build a more stately church and use the original for a gymnasium. It didn't always happen.

Today, houses of worship regardless of denomination are likely to be square, circular or polygonal.

"You're designing for a family of worshipers gathered as a group," said Gordon R. Merritt, a Farmington architect.

BUILDING MATERIALS, lighting and acoustics also play a big part in creating a mood.

"People care about a lot of issues not as important to other kinds of buildings - the character, the way light comes in, the feel," said Kenneth Neumann, an architect whose Southfield firm has designed a new synagogue for B'nai Moshe in West Bloomfield.

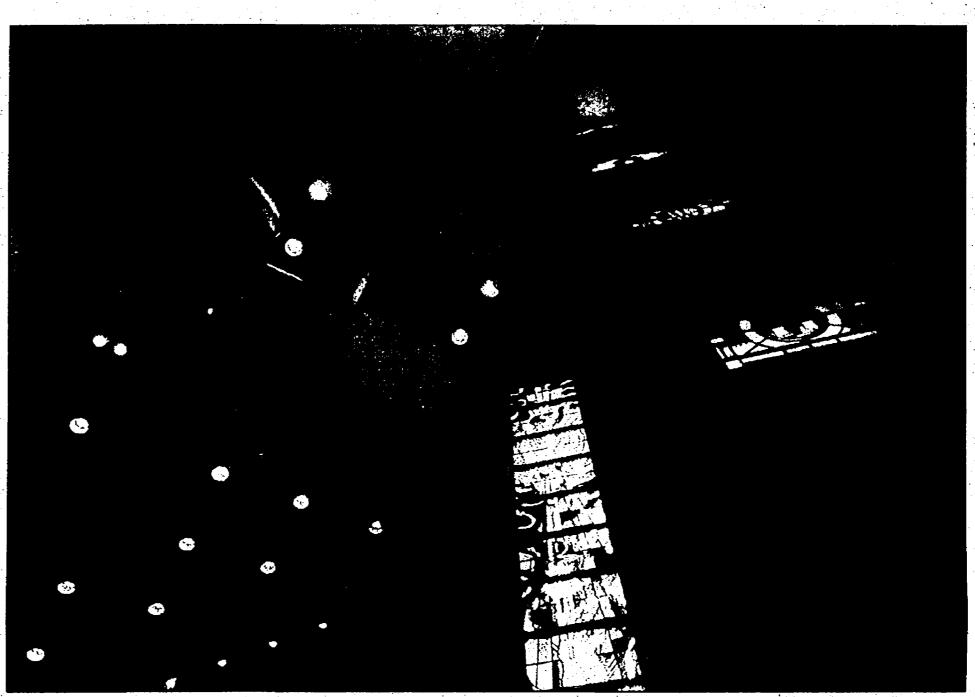

"I like to see windows, natural light coming in, sometimes the use of stained glass," said Norman Glovinsky, an architect whose Southfield firm has designed a chapel renovation at Temple Israel.

"I like to see good planning with space so you have ample room for seating close to the activity," Glovinsky added. "Good sight lines, good acoustics, a sort of ambience congregants can feel and a sense of securi-

It's fairly common today for roof lines to start low at the rear of buildings, then gradually slope to peaks. over the altar or bimah.

"PEOPLE ALWAYS like height," said Jack Brown, a Bloomfield Township architect. "You should not be like a little cathedral, but relate to the neighborhood. Towers are still in and always will be for identifica-

"If I can, I'd use natural materials (inside)," Brown continued. "Brick, stone or masonry can be along a wall and certainly natural light over the altar."

Decorating trends turn to comfort

A new house and a new decorating style are in your dreams. But you're unsure of what the latest trends are in home decor. Good news: There is no one right way for your house to look. As for trends, the strongest is comfort.

Surprised? Well, consider this: Comfort has been given a back seat to design for some time - all in the interest of being modern or contemporary.

What follows is an overview of the 10 most noticeable current furnishing and interior design trends.

But keep in mind the recent observation by the CEO of a Toronto-based chain of furniture stores: "The trend is that there isn't a trend." In other words, as long as you make comfort a priority, you can't go wrong.

• COUNTRY: This is a broad category encompassing everything from interesting clutter to austere Amish.

Characteristics include a homey feeling, lots of wood paneling, flooring, furnishings, overstuffed chairs, displays of collectibles (usually handicrafts), warm lighting, brick or stone fireplaces, area rugs, shutters, ruffled curtains, hanging baskets and lots of plants.

American country ranges from casual, with wicker furnishings combined with rich fabrics, to retro (classic looks from America's past).

Retro includes Amish and Shaker styles and Craftsman. These appeal particularly to purists and collectors and are most effective in older houses with architectural styles to match.

European country is also known as "sophisticated country." This style is characterized by "rustic finishes and rustic interpretations of sophisticated designs of Chippendale, French and Italian styles along with washed painted finishes, faux and distressed details," Home magazine said.

Fabrics and wall coverings tend toward chintz with floral/ botanical themes. Designs are subtle, restrained and elegant.

• SOUTHWEST: Everyone seems to expect Southwest to dle as though it were a fad. It isn't.

But like any strong style, Southwest has mutated. Here are its latest forms:

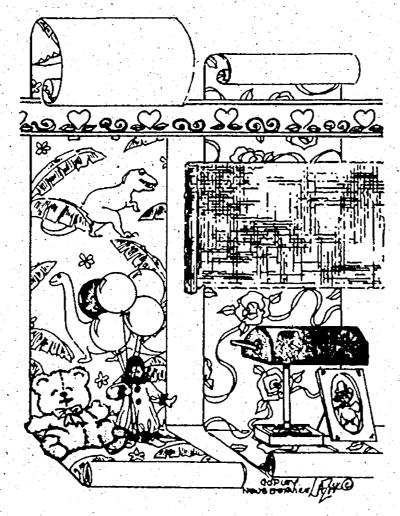

Southwest kitsch is the low-end, trendy side, characterized by desert colors and accessories: wildly painted hand-carved wood snakes and howling coyotes, repros of American Indian pottery and sculptures, bleached animal skulls, faux stone lamp bases and coffee tables.

Classic Southwest is a reaction to the overkill of kitschy Southwest. It's a return to a more traditional, more primitive kind of furniture, combined with authentic Indian art - rugs, weavings and pottery.

South of the border/Mexican is characterized by architectural details such as adobe or plaster walls, clay tile floors, arched doorways and open-beam cellings. You accessorize with Mexican folk art, rustic hefty wood furnishings, wroughtiron railings, banisters, hanging lamps and bedposts, and or natural) geraniums or bougainvillea in huge clay pots.

• ROMANTIC: The look is lush, lavish, soft, richly detailed and frankly feminine.

Victorian connotes romance as well as a gracious lifestyle of afternoons spent arranging roses, sipping tea and reading novels.

The look is characterized by opulent details: lace draperies and pillows, damask bedcovers, fabrics mixed in subtle layers of patterns, collections of glass and porcelain and furnishings from the Victorian period, either authentic or reproductions.

An antique interior can be eclectic, such as a collection of beautiful furnishings and accessories you've gleaned from your visits to antique stores and flea markets; or it can follow a strict historic style, such as Louis XIV or German Bledermeier. Devotees tend to be keen on the fine art of furniture refinishing and refurbishing.

• MODERN: So what if you like pure lines and a contemporary, artsy look? And you don't think it's at all uncomfortable?

Or perhaps you'd love to create a fun decor that is dramatic and exotic. Consider these apporaches:

Simple and uncluttered is a reaction to romance. It's masculine but not stark. Rather than being patterned, fabrics have dimension in the form of quilting or tone-on-tone embroidery. Furniture tends to be austere but of elegant European (Italian or Scandinavian) design. Accessories include dramatic, temporary art pleces.

There's been plenty of construction, both new facilities and renovations, at Observer & Eccentric area churches, synagogues and temples in recent years.

A partial listing includes:

• St. Paul's United Methodist Church in Rochester.

• St. Kenneth Catholic Church in Plymouth Township. • St. Edith Catholic Church in

Livonia. • Temple Israel (chapel) in West

Bloomfield. • Detroit First Church of the Nazarene in Farmington Hills.

• The Hindu Temple in Canton.

Other projects on the drawing board include B'nai Moshe, a move from Oak Park to West Bloomfield, and Ward Evangelical Presbyterian Church, a move from Livonia to Northville Township. Plans for new Catholic churches and renovations to old buildings are reviewed by an archdiocesen architecture and design committee to make sure they comply with liturgical standards established by U.S. bishops in 1978.

"Art and design is to enhance what function of the building is for - participation of people in celebration of the liturgy," said the Rev. Gerald M. Shirilla, director of Christian worship for the archdiocese.

PROTESTANT denominations and Jewish congregations don't have to account to a central authority for plan approval as do Catholics.

Architect Kenneth Neumann explained why there may be more leeway in designing a synagogue or temple.

"There's documented overview of what churches in the past used to be like," he said, "Jewish people don't have the same amount of documentation . . . because Jews weren't able to own property in some areas.

"There's no set understanding on what a building should be like in the Jewish community."

Neumann's firm has designed a new sanctuary for B'nai Moshe. A social hall placed adjacent to the sanctuary is separated by a long, curved movable wall. The same kind of ceiling lighting in each room provides continuity.

THAT CONFIGURATION allows a sanctuary that can seat up to 1,200 during the High Holy Days and provide a more intimate setting for up to 500 on other occasions.

Architect Jack Brown, whose firm has designed additions to Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church in Orchard Lake and Faith Community Presbyterian Church in Novi, said the most impressive church he's seen was built in Italy about 900.

"It was perfectly cylindrical," Brown said.

"It had a pow of columns that cir cumscribed the seating area 10 feet inside the outer wall. It brought the people close to the altar also allowed circulation around the area without disturbing the liturgy."

Gordon Merritt's architectural firm designed Covenant Baptist Church in West Bloomfield and St. Paul's Methodist in Rochester

ST. PAUL'S was built into the landscape so worshipers can enter the balcony at grade level at one and and the main floor at grade from tile other. All the windows were used from the historic original church to provide a sense of tradition

Similar stone and arch openings Interpreted in a contemporary way were incorporated into the new Covenant Baptist Church.

Merritt's favorite? "St. Daniel's (Catholic) in Clarkston . . . in term of what we've done," he said. "It has a feeling of compatibility of site. It utilizes some natural stone and wood."

A renovated chapel at Temple Israel will have semicircular seating for about 175, movable chairs that appear permanent with an interlocking webbing, recessed lighting and a skylight over the bimah.

"You have a warm, participatory feeling," said Rabbi Paul Yedwab. "At the same time, we wanted a sense of awe." Architect Norman Glovinsky summarized the views of most of his contemporaries.

"I don't think church design should be faddish. It ought to really evolve out of a combination of things including the needs of a particular congregation. It ought to become a unique building if at all possible and not a copy of things."

Skylights are becoming fairly common. Buildings are oriented to take advantage of natural outdoor beauty. More trees and plants are placed inside.

"All the good stuff going up has some substance to it," said Richard Happley, director of buildings for the archdiocese. "A lot of wood is being used. A lot more stained glass is being used than before."

es. They're looking at fellowship halls, offices and classrooms, often in several phases.

"It impacts design in that you design features that don't have to be part of the initial project but can be added as time goes on," Merritt said.

BECAUSE WORSHIP is becoming a more community-oriented activity, entrances and corridors are important to direct pedestrian flow to social halls for after-service refreshment and to classrooms.

Dreary corridors can be spiced up with relatively inexpensive color graphics and vinyl wall coverings, Brown said.

Little things that may not have occurred to lay people before are getting attention. "Design for coat space is important now," Merritt said. "It's inhospitable to ask people into your house without taking their coats."

Clergy and study committees sometimes start out with pie-in-thesky expectations - not unlike people who design their own homes - then scale back when they learn the cost.

"Most often things change to some degree and often times to a considerable degree to what starts off," Mer-

Merritt pegged construction costs for churches at $65-$125 per square foot, depending on materials.

"You can spend anything," Neumann sald. "For the same amount you spend for housing ($75-$100 per square foot), you can build an adequate and very simple building."

alternatives

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out-STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .

2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.

3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.

4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule; one time-out minute for each year of age.)

5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?

6. Phone a friend. 7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.

8. Take a not bath or splash cold water on your face.

9. Hug a pillow.

10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.

11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.

12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Tin ceiling business is looking up

AP - Tin ceilings are popular today for most of the same reasons they became so at the turn of the century. They provide a relatively easy and inexpensive way to create a permanent, decorative ceiling.

Introduced in the late 1800s, metal ceilings were widely used in both commercial and residential buildings. Often seen in a home's kitchen and formal rooms, pressed-tin panels were considered a practical way to cover damaged plaster. And the tin panels looked like an expensive hand-carved plaster ceiling. Installation was easy on a new or old sur-

Building dips in March

Although new residential construction has dropped in both Wayne and Oakland counties in March compared to February, year-to-date construction is well ahead of last year's .

According to the Michigan Association of Home Builders, 410 units went up in Oakland in March, down from 553 in February, a 25.9 percent drop. But value of units increased 17 percent from $43.5 million in February to $50.9 million in March.

Through March of 1990, 1,748 units were built, a jump of 29.7 percent over last year's 1,348 in Oakland. Value of the units rose 23 percent in 1990 to $146 million from $118.7 million in 1989.

In Wayne County, building dropped off 40.4 percent in March with 338 units built compared to February's 567. Unlike Oakland County, values dipped too - to $29.1 million in March compared to $44.5 million in February for a drop of 34.6 percent.

But year-to-date figures in Wayne show a whopping 121.2 percent increase of units built this year (1,274) compared to last year (576). Value of the units increased 45.2 percent from $62.4 million in 1989 to $90.6 million in 1990.

face. The fact that the metal tiles were fire-resistant was an added

Two leading manufacturers of metal ceilings are W.F. Norman Corp. in Nevada, Mo., and Shanker Steel Ceiling Co. in Linden, N.J. Both companies use the same machines and dies to make today's ceilings that were used almost a century ago.

Most tin ceilings are easy to install and are generally put up by doit-yourselfers with a great deal of

GENERALLY AVAILABLE in 2by-4-foot, and 2-by-8-foot panels, metal tiles are usually nailed to either solid wood, wood furring or wood sheathing. A metal ceiling isinstalled in much the same way as a rust. tile floor - the main difference is you're working above your head. Many times a generic filler is used between the end of the pattern and the surrounding walls. Adding a cornice or molding along the edges with two coats of polyurethane.

Expect to pay about $2 a square foot for most pressed-tin panels used in homes. Some of the bolder patterns, which may have more profile and are deeply coffered, are usually priced a bit higher at $2.50 to $2.75 a square foot. Normally, you wouldn't cover an entire ceiling in your home with this bolder stuff. It is popular, though, to use a more subtle pattern in the room in general and maybe add a bolder panel - like a medallion above a chandelier or celling fan - in the center. .

Traditionally, most metal cellings were painted. The same holds true today. Any high-quality, oil-based paint will do. Latex paint is not suitable as the water in it will cause

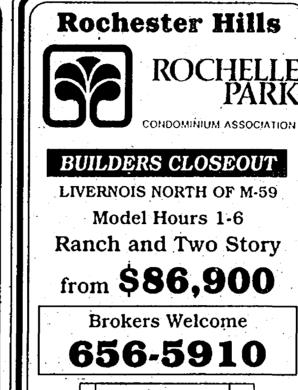

It is becoming more and more popular, especially in contemporary installations, to leave the tin unpainted. If you desire a shiny metal look, the surface must be preserved
