Hometown educators promoted

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

Two "hometown" people were promoted by the Wayne-Westland school board to elementary school principalships Monday as another principal announced he was leaving the district.

Mike Hurley will take over the principal's job at Vandenberg School in Wayne, replacing David Gracy, who is moving to Petoskey to fill an elementary principalship with the Petoskey Schools.

Lillian Vojak has been named principal at Stottlemyer School, filling a vacancy created June 18 when the board approved transferring intern Stottlemyer principal Marsha Chrysler to Roosevelt McGrath School.

Monday's changes were recommended by Superintendent Dennis O'Neill.

Both Hurley and Vojak are Wayne Memorial High School graduates and local residents. "It pleases me that they live in the district and also that we're promoting people from teaching positions," said Kathleen Chorbagian, board secretary.

Husband guilty in two slayings

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

- A Detroit Recorder's Court jury Tuesday convicted a Garden City man on a lesser charge of seconddegree murder for the shotgun slayings of his estranged wife and her Westland boyfriend last December.

Ronald Gerrior, 44, faces a maximum life prison term when sentenced by Judge Robert Ziolkowski 9 a.m. July 24. But even the maximum sentence - which would make Gerrior eligible for parole in about 14 years - would be more lenient than the mandatory sentence of life without parole he faced had he been convicted of the original first-degree murder charges.

Gerrior was also convicted of possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony, which carries a mandatory two-year term.

Gerrior killed his 37-year-old wife, Michele, and Jason LaCroix, 27, at LaCroix's home on the 8300 block of Fremont. He broke into the house at 2:30 a.m. on Dec. 13 after watching through a bedroom window as the couple had sex, according to court testimony.

Hurley moves to the Vandenberg job from Titus School, where he has been a teacher since 1985. Before that, he was a teacher in the Cherry Hill School District, which merged with Wayne-Westland in the mid-1980s.

Hurley, who has bachelor's and master's degrees from Eastern Michigan University, will make $49,936 and will be classified as an intern principal.

Vojak, 47, moves to a principal's job following 12 years as a learning consultant throughout the district. She was also a teacher at the former Washington Elementary School and worked in the district as a substitute teacher.

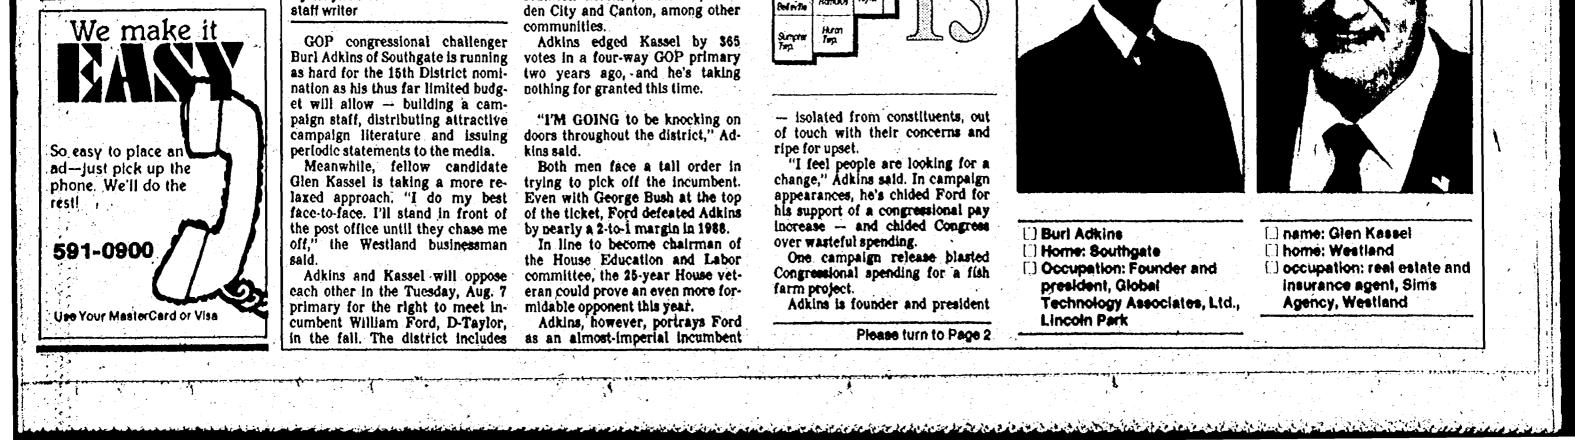

"Mrs. Vojak is a respected educator, a people person and a taskmaster," O'Neill said. The superintendent said he hoped the change would mark a period of stability at Stottlemyer after five years of frequent changes at the school.

Robbery suspects arrested in chase

By Joe Bauman staff writer

Three people were arrested Monday in connection with a series of recent armed robberies in Livonia and Westland.

Two of the suspects, a 22-year-old Westland man and a 21-year-old man from Clearwater, Fla., were arrested by Livonia police after a robbery at the Pic Way shoe store at Middlebelt and Joy and a wild car chase that ended in the city of Inkster.

The third suspect, a 19-year-old Florida man, was arrested in Westland and is accused of taking part in several armed robberies in the two communities.

THE THREE people were not identified pending formal charges being filed.

Livonia police Lt. Michael Murray said the three are suspected of committing at least five armed robberies in Livonia and several others in Westland.

missing from home for a week, is being sought by police and his family.

Clifton Chard was last seen at Lincoln Elementary School on July 5, according to his mother Diane Gazley.

"He and his brother were with friends on the roof," she said. "His dad saw him and yelled at him. He is scared of his dad and ran off."

Since then, family and friends have not heard from the youth, who will be entering ninth grade at Adams Junior High School, Gazley said.

"We've checked the areas where he might be hanging out. It's hard to trace if he goes with a Police don't know whether Chard might have been victim of foul play, George said, or is staying away because of a family dispute.

"It's hard to say. Usually they (runaways) will be home within a few days," he said. "We are looking for him and would appreciate any help or information anyone could give us."

. This is not the first time Chard has run away, according to his mother and George, but in the past he had only been gone overnight.

Gazley said she was concerned that the longer her son stayed away, the harder it would become for him to come home.

"We've had no contact with him and I think it's getting worse," she said. "He's scared."

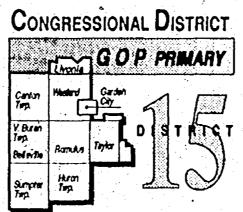

Chard is described as five feet five inches, 120 pounds, with red hair and freckles. When last seen, he was wearing a red baseball cap, a black Harley Davidson T-shirt and multi-colored shorts. Anyone having seen Chard or knowing his whereabouts is asked to call the Westland police at 721-6311.

We just want to get him back home where he belongs. He belongs with his mom and dad," said George.

cop calls

TWO MEN robbed the Total Gas station on Cherryhill of $100 early Monday morning.

The attendant, a 20-year-old from Westland, told police she was outside the store tending the milk cooler when the men pulled up. As she walked toward the store entrance, one of the men, described as about 25-30, 5-feet-10 and 220 pounds, grabbed her by the arm and said: "Get inside and give me the keys or I'll kill you."

Several times they threatened to shoot her and several times she said she didn't have the key. Finally, the man who grabbed her said: "I've got a gun in my pocket and I'm going to blow your head off." She then gave, him the cash register key and they fled with the cash drawer, No gun was ever shown.

Earlier in the shift, the same men had come into the store and cashed in Faygo pop bottles for a pack of Kools and a bottle of Faygo. The empties are being checked for fingerprints.

AN ALZHEIMER'S patient at the Hope Nursing Care Center was robbed of her gold necklace and cross and a silver medallion sometime between July 1-3, according to a report filed by her daughter July 6.

The daughter said the robbery must have occurred while her 70year-old mother slept because she would have fought to keep her property.

... A 57-YEAR-OLD Westland woman has accused her 23-year-old tenant of strong-armed robbery in the theft of $130 last Friday night.

The woman was hosting a friend when her tenant of two weeks. entered the house and said he needed $50 to get his brother's bicycle out of hock. When the woman said she didn't have any money, he grabbed her purse from her arms, emplied its contents.

A SOMERSET woman reported about $2,100 in theft losses Sunday, including a diamond ring worth $1,000 and various gold jewelry, after a party for 20 at her home. One guest, who was seen in her bedroom, is a suspect.

charged a 33-year-old Delton resident with assault and battery on : a police officer following a complaint of assault and battery by his wife.

The woman told police the couple had been divorced in July of 1988, but that she had let him move in six months ago. He had resumed drinking and abusing her, she said, and she has instigated eviction proceedings against him.

Sunday, when he yelled at her and pushed her, she tried to leave with her three children, aged 12, 10 and 8. He stopped her and took the kids, instead.

When police arrived, they found him home but the kids were gone and he said he wouldn't tell them where they were. While police were in the home, one of the kids called and told police they had been dropped off at a nearby ice cream store.

The man grew increasingly abusive of the officers and at one time threatened to "kick all your asses," Finally, officers tried to subdue him and he fought back with his hands and feet before being. handcuffed and arrested. His wife declined to press charges on her original complaint of assault and battery.

Relatives of the victims said Tuesday they were "somewhat disappointed" with the verdict.

"I think it was premeditated so naturally I'm a little disappointed,' said Frances LaCroix, Jason's mother. "I can only say that I'm glad they (jurors) decided second-degree rather than some of the other things they were considering."

Arlene Adams, Michele Gerrior's mother, said she was "relieved" that the ordeal of the trial was over. "As, far as that (the verdict) I guess I. have to stifle my feelings until I see what kind of sentence he gets."

But the defendant's attorney was elated with the verdict and a longtime friend was pleased as well. "Obviously, I don't feel he's a (premeditated) murderer and this conviction shows that," said Helen McFarlane.

"He's a friend and if you knew him you'd know that he's a nice person."

MCFARLANE SAID she "felt terrible" for the victims' families though. "My heart goes out to them. I have a child myself," she said, referring to Jason LaCroix's 4-year-old daughter and Michele Gerrior's 17year-old son by a previous marriage.

Most of the defendant's family still lives in his native town of Antigonish in the Canadian province of Nova Scotla. Gerrior, a truck driver, moved to Windsor before emigrating to the United States in the late 1960s.

Throughout the eight-day trial, the prosecution had argued that Gerrior followed his wife to LaCroix's home after seeing the couple embrace at an Allen Park bowling alley on the evening of the shootings.

He then drove nearly four miles to the Marquette home, got a Mossberg 12-gauge shotgun and returned to the LaCroix residence, said Kym Wor, thy, assistant Wayne County prosecutor.

Gerrior broke into the home, ran to the back bedroom and shot Jason LaCroix once in the chest before turning the gun on his wife, Worthy argued.

The prosecution presented testimony showing Gerrior's actions both before and after the shooting, which it claimed indicated ample time to plan the crime and take a second look at his actions before going through with them, or the elements of a first-degree killing.

An upstairs housemate of LaCroix testified that he heard Michele Gerrior beg for her life before the shooting.

BUT DEFENSE attorney Walter Piszczatowksi argued that Gerrior's actions came in the "heat of passion" after seeing his wife have sex with another man. Those conditions debilitated Gerrior to the point that he was unable to carry out apremeditated killing, the attorney argued.

Piszczatowksi also presented testimony by psychiatrist Emanuel Tanay that Gerrior suffered a "disassociative reaction," or type of mental illness after seeing the victims engaged in sex.

Kassel, friendly and relaxed, said his campaign is his way of giving back to a country that's been good to him and his family.

What would we have had if my ancestors stayed in eastern Europe?" he said. "I have the time and I'm willing to serve."

Kassel, in fact, also filed for the 12th District State Senate race, in hopes of unseating William Faust, another well-heeled Democratic incumbent. Kassel said he withdrew after failing to receive what he termed adequate support from the GOP.

Neither candidate has received an official state Republican Party endorsement of his bld for the U.S. House.

The two vary little on several key issues.

Both favor gradual withdrawal of U.S. troops and weapons from Eastern Europe, both favor a balanced budget amendment, and neither has criticized Bush for backing away from his pledge to avoid raising taxes. "That's not the president's fault," Kassel said. "Congress is the problem."

Toward that end, both men hope to be part of the solution.

A 21-year-old Westland man is recovering from a knife wound to the stomach while the man suspected of attacking him remains free pending a Redford police investigation of the Saturday morning incident. Redford police arrested the 32-year-old suspect in his home in the 25000 block of Midland after he admitted stabbing Douglas Greer of Westland during a struggle in the house shortly before 2:30 a.m. Saturday, township police Lt. William Quinn said.

The Redford man was released pending further investigation, Quinn said.

A county assistant prosecuting attorney wants to interview Greer, who was kicking in the door of the Redford man's house prior to the stabbing, Quinn said.

Greer suffered a pierced liver and underwent surgery after he was admitted to Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills, Quinn said.

HE WAS LISTED in stable condition Tuesday but may need more surgery, a Botsford spokeswoman said Tuesday.

A neighbor of the Redford man called police after the stabbing, and the suspect flagged down officers as they arrived, police said.

The man-told-police-that-he thought that he had stabbed Greer, an old friend and co-worker, who left the scene before police arrived, police said.

The Redford man said that Greer and a woman had come to his house about an hour before the stabbing to inquire about a diamond ring stolen from a girlfriend.

They returned and pounded on a back door, the Redford man said.

HE OPENED the door and Greer accused him of stealing the ring, police said. Greer pushed the Redford man into the house, and the man -grabbed a knife from the kitchen, he told police.

Greer was stabbed and then left with the 30-year-old Detroit woman, police said.

The two went to her Detroit home, where she called 9-1-1. Greer taken by ambulance to Botsford, police said.

arrested in police chase

Acting on a tip, Livonia police established a surveillance of the Westland suspect's home after being informed he was involved in the holdups of several area gas stations and convenience stores.

Shortly after 8 p.m. Monday, police followed two of the men as they drove to the shoe store in Livonia.

When the Westland man was seen leaving the car with a shortbarrel rifle, additional Livonia police units were called to the scene and a decision was made not to attempt arresting the pair until the one man had returned to the car.

A store employee and several customers told police the man entered the store brandishing the rifle and announced a holdup. After receiving about $160 in cash from the employee, the man left the store and returned to the waiting car.

At that point, officers converged on the car but were unable to prevent it from leaving the store.

AS THE suspects attempted to flee by entering the intersection of Joy and Middlebelt, their car first collided with a semi-truck and then struck one of the pursuing police cars.

Despite sustaining a flat tire in the collision, the suspects continued to flee south on Middlebelt, where the chase continued through the city of Westland and into Inkster.

The chase then entered a residential neighborhood, where the suspects' car jumped the curb, crashed through a backyard fence and continued through several yards as Livonia police continued their pursuit.

Both vehicles then drove onto a side street and the suspects were stopped when the street reached a dead end.

Both of the men reportedly resisted arrest and had to be physically subdued by police.

Following the arrests, investigators returned to the Westland man's residence. After reportedly receiving permission to search the premises, officers discovered the names and locations of two gas stations that recently had suffered robberies, and a diagram and layout of a Livonia grocery store.

The grocery store had not been a recent target of robbery.

Livonia police intend to file specific charges against all three suspects sometime today or tomorrow pending lineups and interviews with other recent robbery victims.

ON TUESDAY, Gracy said he was leaving the district because he wanted "a different environment" for himself and his family. "We've been here a long time and this should be a nice change, something different and a little bit of a small-town atmosphere," he said in a brief telephone interview.

The district's current financial crisis played a role in his decision, Gracy, 42, said, "but I was offered the job and made up my mind before the (June 11) millage was defeated."

A spokeswoman for the Petoskey Schools confirmed the move Tuesday, but said the school where Gracy will work hasn't been chosen. The district has several vacant principal positions and school board members were expected to fill those jobs later this week, she said.

Gracy has worked in Wayne-Westland 19 years as a teacher and administrator, including the last four as Vandenberg principal. Before Vandenberg he was an assistant principal at Stevenson and Marshall Junior High Schools. He also worked as an administrator at the former alternative school (now Nankin Mills Elementary) and for Project Advance.

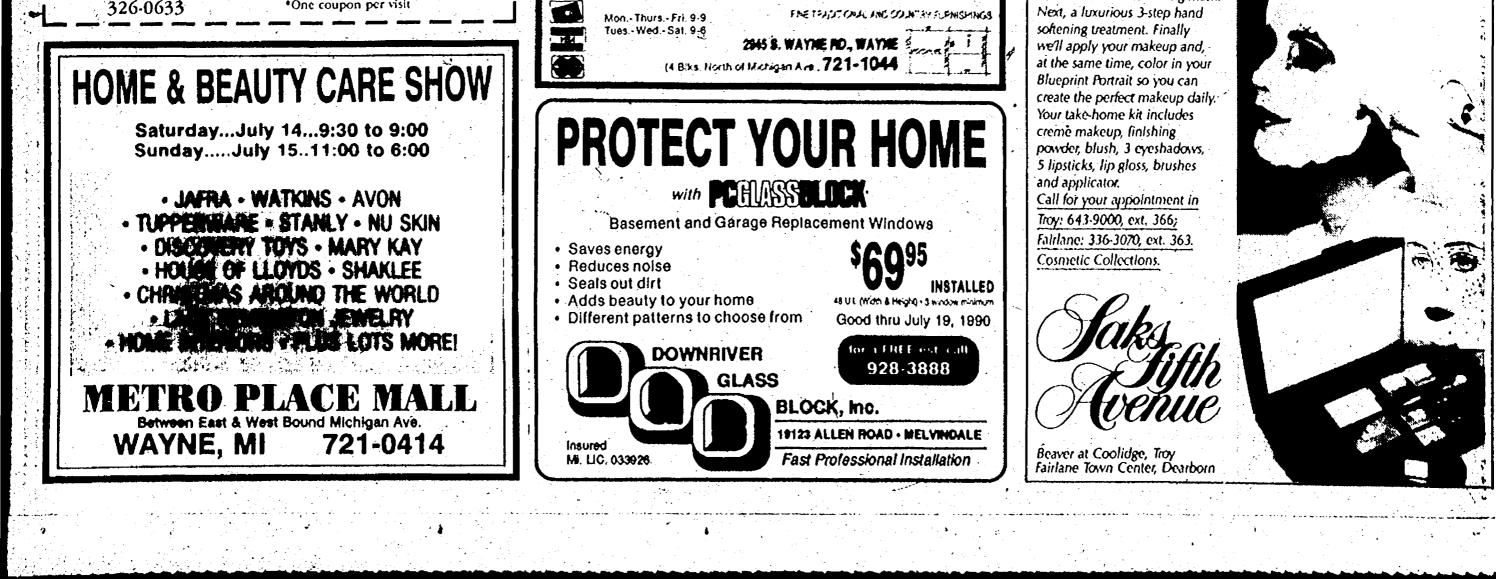

He came to the district in 1971 as a teacher at John Glenn High School, where he spent eight years.

Gracy will remain in the Wayne-Westland area for several weeks to ensure a smooth transition, according to school officials.

"It's so disturbing when you know something is wrong' and you don't know what it is," Barbara Matthews said of her son Billy's struggles with reading.

Matthews, a former teacher, recalled years of taking Billy to doctors and tutors and enrolling Billy in a private' school. Why did Billy switch letters and words? Why did he have trouble following directions? Why did he quickly forget material he had just learned?

"He was struggling and spending . hours on his homework." Matthewsaid. "Sometimes I would have to insist that he put his books away and go play."

About 1½ years ago Matthews' husband William read an article about dyslexia, a learning disability characterized by switching letters. Billy was tested at the Michigan Dyslexia Institute and diagnosed with dyslexia.

Billy, now an 18-year-old high school senior, has been receiving intensive specialized remediation. His grades have improved. Now Billy, who enjoys track and swimming, hopes to go to college and become a gym teacher or coach.

"It has been very rough for me," Billy Matthews said. "The teachers accused me of not studying, but I had to work hard."

Ryan, a bright, friendly boy who likes soccer, bike riding and playing Nintendo, has had more than 30 surgical procedures since birth.

For the past four years Ryan has been enrolled in the hearing impaired program at MacGowan School through the Redford Union School District. Previously he attended a school for deaf in Detroit and a parochial school, also in Detroit.

Gerard and Victoria Trujillo, concerned about Ryan's lack of progress in reading and spelling, took their son to the Dyslexia Resource Center in Detroit. Tests indicate he has dyslexia.

The years of worry about husbandand son have taken their toll on Victoria, who in April suffered a serious heart attack.

"I'm sure most of it was stress," she said.

IT TAKES great training and expertise to diagnose dyslexia, said Renee Schreibman, associate director of the Dyslexia Resource Center in Detroit, which has a branch in West Bloomfield.

"The teachers haven't had the education at the university level and how it is remediated," said Schreibmen of West Bloomfield. "So they can't be blamed for not providing services."

For no apparent reason, people with dyslexia have difficulty learning language skills. Dyslexics reverse letters or words, substitute, omit and add sounds, letters, syllables and words.

Typically dyslexics are poor spellers. They also may have trouble organizing their work and following direction.

"There is no relationship to intelligence," said Schreibman, 49, who has a dyslexic son attending college.

"There is no cure, in terms of a pill or shot," Schreibman added. "Through proper teaching dystexics can be taught to compensate for the dyslexia."

According to Schreibman, four of five dyslexics are males. Some dyslexics also may have other learning disabilities such as attention deficit disorder, she said.

learning disabilities which hamper the ability to listen, think, read, write, spell or do math problems.

Learning disability often is called a "hidden handicap" because it may be difficult to diagnose "Learning disability is a broad »umbrella term," said Dr. John Heckherl, a psychologist and associate director of the Center for Human Deyelopment at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

HECKERL, 55, of Rochester Hills, works with children and adults with learning disabilities.

According to Heckerl, a child with learning disabilities has difficulty with one or more specific learning or school tasks. Most are of normal in-'felligence. Many are very bright, with special talents.

"Because of their special needs, learning-disabled people must be taught differently, experts say.

""The goal is to determine the approach so they can be as successful as possible," Heckerl said. "Even though they have some problems there are hidden talents.'

Potential learning problems may become pronounced during the elementary school years, said John Baluci, director of student services for the 3,000-sludent South Redford School District.

"That's when we try to get them, to be preventative," Baluci said. We begin problem-solving as early 👍 kińdergarten."

The U.S. Department of Education defines learning disability as a disorger of one or more of the basic psychological processes involved in unerstanding or in using spoken or witten language.

There may be no apparent cause for the disorder. The disability may fanifest itself in an imperfect abilily to listen, think, speak, read, write, spell or do arithmetic.

The term learning disability includes such conditions as perceptual handicaps, brain injury, attention deficit disorder, dyslexia and developmental aphasia. It doesn't cover learning problems resulting from visual, hearing or motor handicaps, mental retardation, emotional disturbance or environmental, cultural or economic disadvantage.

THE LEARNING Disabilities Association of Michigan, an advocacy group, has several chapters in the state: Pamphlets from the organization give the following symptoms of possible learning disability:

language development, has trouble expressing ideas, poor word recall) Some of these problems can be found in children at certain stages of development. However, any child with clusters of symptoms which don't disappear in time should be evaluated.

"Ask for testing. That is your right," said Dinghy Sharp, a Union Lake learning consultant who is active with the Learning Disabilities Association. "If you don't like the answer seek an outside opinion. There are several private clinics that are quite successful."

At Beaumont, diagnoses are based on tests, review of school reports and meetings with parents.

GROWING NUMBERS of adults with unremediated learning disabilities also are seeking help, Heckerl sald.

"These are people who have had trouble during their school years," Hecker] said. "They want more clarification and information about how they can cope."

Learning disabled college students at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Hills are receiving tutorial help. It is a joint venture of Beaumont, Michigan Rehabilitation Service, Oakland County Intermediate School District and the college.

The students have access to tutors and textbooks on tape. If necessary they are allowed to take oral, rather than written, tests.

"These are bright young people," Heckerl said. "They shouldn't be prevented from receiving a better education because they have reading difficulty."

Still educators prefer to find and correct problems at much younger ages, before patterns of failure and self-doubt become entrenched.

UNDER FEDERAL regulations, each student certified as having a learning disability is entitled to an Individual Education Plan (IEP) which is reviewed and updated annually.

Appropriate services must be provided to meet the child's needs, as indicated in the IEP. These may include speech and language services, psychological services, counseling, vocation training.

How those services are to be provided under state special-ed regulations, may be widely interpreted, said Harvey Burkhour, a project supervisor with the Michigan Protection and Advocacy Service, a Lans-ing-based agency which works on a variety of mental-health and educational issues.

"It's a complex issue and may be confusing to people," Burkhour said. "It isn't as simple as having the label. The bottom line is (if there is) severe discrepancy between ability and achievement."

In the south Redford district, several programs have been implemented recently to identify "at risk" students who may need remedial action because of a "scattered effect in performance," said Baluci.

Remedial consultants are brought in to give the students a "needed boost," Baluci sald.

"This is an additional step which can be taken prior to special education."

Cooperative learning techniques are encouraged, in which students are broken into groups to study spelling, reading and math.

Next fall South Redford will begin a program in which high school students will be used to tutor younger kids.

SHARP BELIEVES that some children will need intensive remediation.

But children with less severe learning disabilities, she added, can do quite well in regular classrooms if allowances are made for their

The state Department of Licensing and Regulation, which disciplines doctors, has been accused of having an overabundant bureaucracy and a lenient disposition. The Attorney Grievance Commission has recently been criticized for selective investigation of attorneys, and for shredding documents concerning the

Engler seeking suburban voters

By Wayne Peal staff writer

GOP gubernatorial hopeful John Engler said he isn't counting out any voters, even Democrats, in his bid to unseat incumbent James Blanchard. Engler, campaigning this week inwestern Wayne and Oakland counties, said he was aggressively pursuing suburban Democrats - a loyal Blanchard group in both the 1982 and 1986 campaigns.

"During my career I've had the good fortune to attract many Democratic voters," said state Sen. Engler, R-Mount Pleasant. "And I expect that to continue."

Toward that end, Engler would be campaigning hard in both counties, he said.

"WE EXPECT to be spending about half our time in southeast Michigan.'

of Bloomfield Hills, Engler even set foot in traditionally Democratic areas in his attempt to lure voters.

Engler received a polite response from western Wayne chamber of commerce members during a Westland stop Tuesday, getting the most applause for his plan to do away with the state's single business tax. Nonetheless, he did gain several enthusiastic supporters, including Sally Levay of Westland Convalescent Center. "I think he's been good for our industry," she said. "And I think he'll make a good governor."

Chamber leaders, however, made it clear invitations had been extended to both major candidates.

"We've also invited Governor Blanchard to appear before us," Westland chamber president Bruce Priestly said.

committee woman Ronna Ronney both praised and criticized the state economy, saying that Michigan was "a comeback state," but also that the economy was weaker than it should be because of "the high cost of doing business in Michigan.'

Thursday, July 12, 1990 O&E

On other issues: Engler called the state's current school financing formula "grossly inadequate" and said he would make school spending more of a priority.

Engler also called state property taxes "too high" as he plugged a phased, three-year reduction program.

To increase school aid, and cover the lost tax revenue, Engler said he would freeze state hiring.

"WE HAVEN'T had fiscal discipline on the expenditure side. We've been building government infrastructure."

On abortion, Engler would have signed parental consent legislation IN CAMPAIGN comments, Engler Thad he been governor, he said.

While he generally avoided mention of his challenger, Engler did criticize the incumbent for "not getting personally involved" in issues. "He'd rather jet around the state with a 'good news' message," Engler said.

School aid plan dies quiet death

By Tim Richard staff writer

A plan to put "equal opportunity" school funding into the Michigan Constitution died quietly in the state Legislature.

"It wasn't going anywhere with the equal opportunity language in it," said an aide to Rep. William Keith, D-Garden City, chair of the. House Education Committee.

Like a chameleon, House Joint Resolution Q changed color several times before it fell one vote short in the Senate on the final day of the spring session.

HJR Q WAS intended to require constitutionally that Michigan give equal opportunity - that is, more nearly equal funding per pupil - to school districts. To Kelth, many lawmakers from districts with low tax bases and farmers, it's unconscionable that some schools have as little as $2,500 per pupil to spend and others more than $8,000.

Lawmakers had two different points of view on whether "equal opportunity" would lead to a lawsuit by the poorer school districts.

Keith held that it would give the Legislature a spur to equalize funding and avoid a Kentucky-style suit. The Kentucky Supreme Court declared the entire school funding mechanism unconstitutional, and this year the legislature passed a $1.3 billion tax increase to fund "equal opportunity."

Senators such as Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, believed it would play into the hands of those who need a constitutional basis for a successful suit and opposed it.

KEITH'S EDUCATION Committee on May 29 reported out HJR Q on a 13-4 vote.

The measure also had language

County is hearing airport complaints

AP - Bryan Amman is hearing out homeowners' rumblings about the noise and discomfort caused by air traffic, while Wayne County makes plans for a $1 billion expansion of Detrolt Metropolitan Airport. Amman, who doubles as the county's assistant executive and noise czar, recently met with some residents in Huron Township, one of the communities directly in the path of air traffic to the county-owned airport in Romulus.

John Mitchell, a sod farmer for 40 yoars, told Amman he can't hear the tractor under him when a plane is over him.

Cheryl Radcliffe said the constant roar of planes overhead forces her to stay near her two toddlers when they play outside. "If they get away, they

The aid was controversial because the insurgents include Pol Pot's Khmer Rouge, notorious for killing millions of Cambodians while ruling the country in 1975-78.

Lawyers lose license more often than doctors

assertion that state attorneys are more thoroughly scrutinized for improper behavior than the state's medical doctors.

Izzo filed a 1988 complaint with the Department of Licensing and Regulation about Dr. Jack Kevorkian, who recently made nationwide headlines for assisting an Oregon woman with her suicide. Izzo said Kevorklah was advertising his willingness to assist suicide candidates.

However, Mary McDowell, director of the health investigation division, was unable to do anything about it. "(Kevorkian) said he wasn't pursuing it because he didn't want to get in trouble," McDowell said.

'There really wasn't anything to go on. It's kind of hard to prosecute someone for an idea."

MICHAEL SCHWARTZ, a West Bloomfield attorney and former grievance administrator for the Attorney Grievance Commission, joins Izzo in criticizing the doctor discipline system. "The procedures they ,have are very cumbersome," he said. "(The system) is just not working as well as it should be. (We should) revamp the entire structure and set up new procedures altogether.

If the doctor discipline system is inadequate, the answer might be found in the number of professionals McDowell's office is responsible for.

Running the gamut from nurses to chiropractors to osteopathic doctors to veterinarians to medical doctors and more, the health investigation division is responsible for more than 250,000 professionals in 15 categories. Only 18,316 of those are medical doctors.

The procedure for disciplining doctors begins with a complaint, most often from a patient. Many of them are screened out during the internal investigation procedure. For the cases that merit it, there comes a more thorough investigation followed by hearings that closely resemble courtroom proceedings. One of 15 boards, one for each profession, makes the final decision on whether a professional will be suspended, reprimanded, fined, etc.

McDowell reported that most cases take about a year to go from complaint to discipline, although, "some of them take a lot longer."

The Attorney Grievance Commission, on the other hand, is responsientirely by the state bar association.

executive director of the Attorney Discipline Board. After initial investigation, 250 grievances were passed on to the ADB for further investigation and discipline if necessary.

VAN BOLT cited a 1988 Florida study that said Michigan rated highest in the country where attorney discipline was concerned. But that study was conducted when Schwartz was grievance administrator. He had a reputation for relentless prosecution of complaints to such an extent that some referred to him as a barracuda.

"The system worked well in those years," Schwartz said. "The commission during those years I was there was very efficient."

In January 1989, shortly after Schwartz was replaced by Deborah Gaskin, the commission ordered the destruction of documents connected with the investigation of Detroit attorneys James K. Robinson and A. Robert Zeff, according to a report to the Supreme Court by former justice Theodore Souris, appointed by the court to investigate the investigators. The investigation of the two was later dropped. Robinson is expected to be the next president of the state bar.

Souris also criticized AGC Chair-in his report. Many are calling now for new legislation to make the AGC more accountable to the government.

Schwartz estimated that 40 percent fewer attorneys will be disciplined this year than last.

And on the doctor discipline side, a recently released study by Ralph Nader's Public Citizen group ranks Michigan 33rd among the states in the number of disciplinary actions per 1,000 doctors.

The report says most states "are doing a grossly inadequate job in protecting the public from medical Incompetence, misconduct and abuse."

Doctors themselves are under fire for dishonesty. A July 5 New York Times article reports that insurance companies are beginning to crack down on doctors who make fraudulent Insurance claims.

INSURANCE COMPANIES estimate they lose $60 billion annually to fraudulent claims, which give discount care to some but raise the cost of medical insurance for others. Riley Richard, a Southfield medi- .

man George Bedrosian and Gaskin cal malpractice attorney, said he has noticed that doctors who defraud insurance companies most often do so by defining plastic surgery for medical purposes rather than cosmetic.

Richard also argues that lawyers are just as guilty as doctors of malpractice, but "damages are often ·less serious."

Richard said most medical malpractice cases involve doctors who haven't kept up to date on medical advancements. "The biggest problem I find with doctors is the failure to continually update their education," he said.

Richard agreed with Schwartz that the attorney.discipline system is in need of change, "I support Schwartz 100 percent," he said."'You need a very strong attorney grievance procedure."

Conversely, Oakland County Bar Association president Charles Clippert said he's happy with the grievance procedure.

"The procedures within the legal profession are quite adequate, quite thorough," he said. "I think it's a fair system. (However), it would be naive to say it's perfect."

Northwest Guidance seeks new recognition

By Mary Rodrigue staff writer

The Northwestern Guidance Clinic is looking for a few good men and women. And sponsorship from a few local businesses wouldn't hurt, either.

The mental health center, based in Garden City, serves 43 Wayne County communities in one capacity or another - but has an identity crisis. With the exception of those it serves, most county residents don't know what services the center provides or that it needs volunteers to keep functioning.

"The volunteer bird is disappearing rapidly," said Sara VanderVoort. clinic executive director. "There are still community-minded people out there. The big deficit is (people) have no idea how heavily their neighbors use us.'

The clinic took a major step to reverse that trend last March. It hired Stefanie Ott-O'Toole as director of resource development. Translation: Ott-O'Toole will help promote the agency and look for new sources of financing.

She's spearheading an effort to create what she hopes will become an annual fund-raising event - a fun run through Hines Park scheduled for Sept. 8.

"IT WILL be a five or 10 kilometer run, walk or bike ride to raise funds for programs here," Ott-O'Toole said. "The whole family can get involved. It's the Saturday after Labor Day. I hope it will grow into a major event in Wayne County."

Northwestern Guidance Clinic's $1.7 million budget is provided primarily through the state Department of Mental Health. It's one of a handful of mental health agencies in the Detroit area dealing primarily with children - abused, neglected. emotionally disturbed, or addicted to drugs or alcohol. Much of the client base is from Westland, Garden City, Livonia and Plymouth.

Clients are referred by doctors, schools, other social work agencies, groups to assist us not only with speor clients themselves. There are waiting lists for various programs. The most serious problems, such as suicidal youngsters, get priority treatment, Major programs include an outpatient clinic where mental health workers help families experiencing problems in the home or school.

Beacon Day Treatment, serving 23 school districts, is a program for 6to 12-year olds experiencing psychological problems that prevent them from attending regular public schools. Average stay at the special Inkster school, run by clinic staff, is 18 months to two years.

Northwestern Guidance Clinic also offers relief care for families with developmentally disabled members. The break for caregivers is given for emergencies, vacations, stress relief or appointments - inside the home up to 18 hours a week, outside the home up to two weeks a year.

Mary Egnor, director of programs, explained that in-home services are a big part of the clinic's program. A long-term plan is to increase the types of in home services provided.

"You can understand a family better when you go into the home. There is a tremendous increase in family stresses, and fewer family supports of any kind," she said. "Agencies have taken up some of the roles fam illes used to do."

One of the frustrations is a public perception that families should take care of their own. Ott-O'Toole remembers approaching one potential corporate sponsor to request money for a program that would check the well-being of latchkey children after school. The proposed phone program had a modest budget, but the response was a flat no - the kids' grandparents should be checking up on them after school, the company spokesman said.

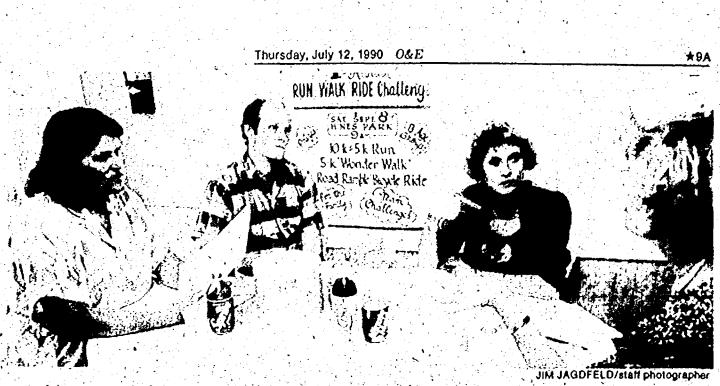

"WE NEED more volunteers in general," Ott-O'Toole said. "We need cial events but to raise funds. We always need people to answer phones."

"We had one gentleman who was retired from his profession and had spent several years with the Big Brothers organization," said Vander-Voort. "He was looking for one-toone contact with a youth. We don't want to turn people down but we are not looking for direct workers for children."

Professional staff totals 60, all with advanced degrees in social work.

High on the administrators wish list is corporations to sponsor specific programs. In the past, there has been sponsorship of the Beacon school for things like a big Christmas party, complete with Santa. Businesses could also underwrite

PSYCHIATRIST BRAINWASHES FAT

A Detroit area psychiatrist is using classic Russian and Chinese techniques to brainwash people into losing weight. The brainwashing is based on more than 6 years of medical research using alternating periods of sensory deprivation and sensory overload to plant a new thin belief system in the mind. The brainwashing makes cravings disappear and stops binging and compulsive eating. The program was created for people who have never been able to stay on a diet, and has helped thousands of people lose weight and keep it off over the past 6 years. The BRAINWASHING DIET has been featured on the Joan Rivers Show, Sally Jesse Raphael and Larry King Live. The BRAINWASHING DIET BOOK by William Nagler, M.D. and Anne Androff, M.A. contains the complete 12 Hour Brainwashing Seminar thousands have paid $395 for. Now you can brainwash yourself at home. This book will not be in bookstores until 1992. But you can receive your advance hard back copy now, for just $19.95 and postage. ## School aid bill fails to muster support dedicating all lottery revenue, including interest, to the state school aid fund. Currently lottery revenue except interest is dedicated by law to the school fund.

Keith and House leaders negotiated with Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port 4 Huron, and thought they had worked out an agreement, Keith's aide said. It fell apart when senators wouldn't go along with the "equal opportunity" langugage. The Senate had rejected its own proposal, SJR O, with that language in it.

So the House on June 26 passed HJR Q as a lottery dedication measure on a 92-0 vote.

ON JUNE 29, the Senate took up HJR Q but tacked on two of its own amendments that would have:

• Required the state constitutionally to continue paying 100 percent of Social Security and pension contributions of school districts. Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, joined in a formal protest against this amendment as an "inequity" which would increase the disparity between districts.

• Tie-barred passage of HJR Q to an amendment to the U.S. Constitution prohibiting salary increases for members of Congress until after the next election.

That version of HJR Q fell one short of the two-thirds (26) votes needed to put it on the ballot. The vote was 25-10.

Yes votes were cast by all 20 Republicans - including Doug Cruce of Troy, Richard Fessler of Commerce, Robert Geake of Northville and Rudy Nichols of Waterford - plus five Democrats, including George Z. Hart of Dearborn.

Ten Democrats, including Faust, voted no. Three Democrats had excused absences, including Jack Faxon of Farmington Hills.

Headlee seeks an 'angel' to keep proposal alive

Tax cut hopeful Richard Headlee is looking for a $62,500 "corporate angel or foundation" to keep his Taxpayers United's initiative alive.

The petition drive, which fell short, is aimed at cutting all properly tax assessments by 20 percent over two years.

Headlee, chairman of TU, sald. Monday that "we've been appealing" for the money in order to mail the petition forms to 900,000 homes in 70 countles outside the Detroit area. "No civic-minded Michigan corporation has answered our appeal to date," Headlee said in TU's Bloom-30700 Telegraph.

"Our problem has been one of distribution to registered voters suit in his own circuit court to enthroughout Michigan. We know from our mailing last month that if we can find a commitment for $62,500 by Thursday to pay for the mailing, we'll surpass our goal of 220,000 petition signatures by July 24."

THE HEADLEE Initiative would: • Cut each property tax assessment 10 percent on Dec. 31, 1990, and approximately 10 percent the next year.

• Force the state Legislature to fund from the state general fund any field 'Township headquarters at local revenue lost by the 20-percent cut.

• Allow any taxpayer to bring force this statute with attorney fees paid by the taxing body at 150 percent of actual expenses if the taxpayer prevails. No cost of any nature shall be levied against a plaintiff taxpayer.

IF THERE are 192,000 signatures, the Secretary of State would submit the petition language to the Legislature after Labor Day for approval or rejection. The Legislature can adopt it without amendment or reject it. It it's rejected, the Headlee Initiative would automatically go on the Nov. 6 ballot.

Rival tax cut plan falls short

L. Brooks Patterson and Patrick Anderson fell short of the 240,000 petition signatures they needed to put the fall ballot.

They announced Monday in Troy they collected only 200,000 signatures in the allotted 180 days.

"Signatures last week had been coming in at 10,000 a day," they said. But Patterson, the former Oakland County prosecutor, and Anderson, an economist for Alexander their property tax cut proposal on Hamilton Life Insurance Co. in Farmington Hills, said they still came up short despite an army of 9,000 volunteers.

Signatures came from 73 of Michigan's 83 counties, with the majority of support coming out of Macomb, sider property taxes too high.

Wayne, Oakland, Kent and Genesee counties.

Their proposal would have given voters a chance to pass $500 million in property tax cuts.

But they said the 200,000 signatures still sent a message to state lawmakers that Michiganians con-

Bill would place limits on campaign contributing

State Rep. Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, chairwoman of the House which way to go, with campaign fi-Elections Committee, will begin holding committee hearings this summer on state financing for legislative races.

Mayor Thomas Union contract is concern

TIX MONTHS into his administration — long past the honeymoon phase for Westland mayors - we are generally pleased with Robert Thomas.

In many ways, Thomas' administration has been a pleasant surprise. For someone with no experience as an elective office holder, Thomas has been very quick to grasp most of the ideas and concepts suburban mayors must deal with on a daily basis...

New programs, including the Town Hall Meetings; and a push for stronger ordinance enforcement, razing abandoned buildings and the cleanup in Norwayne and other neglected neighborhoods deserve praise. They show that Thomas intends to make his mark as "the people's may-'or."

That said, we were dismayed by the administration's performance in negotiating a new contract for the city's biggest employee union, AFSCME Local 1602. The four-year deal that was approved July 2 by the Westland City Council - with Thomas' blessings - strikes us as fiscally unsound for a city that only in the last few years has regained its financial footing.

THE CONTRACT provides 20 percent pay increases for 118 clerical and public services employees between now and December 1993. That includes a whopping 7 percent pay hike retroactive to Jan. 1 and another 5 percent next year.

To get the raises, the union agreed to allow the city to hire "supplemental," non-union employees to perform certain jobs and to offer a costsaving health insurance alternative to Michigan Blue Cross/Blue Shield for new hires.

According to administration figures, the cost of the contract over its four-year period will be $1.8 million. That, coincidentally, is nearly half the $3.9 million city surplus Thomas inherited following his election last fall.

In discussions before the city council, the mayor said the health insurance option will save the

New programs, including Town Hall meetings, and a push for stronger ordinance enforcement, razing abandoned buildings and the clean-up in Norwayne and other neglected neighborhoods deserve praise.

retirements and resignations - which means years or even decades.

Thomas also said the use of up to 20 "supplemental" employees at lower wages would save the city "tons of money." But who knows what any real savings will be in that area. The administration won't be able to provide detailed analysis until the program has been up and running for a while.

While we recognize the need to bring the city's employees "up to par" with other municipalities, we question the apparently over generous nature of the contract recommended by the administration. Particularly in light of the fact that other city employee groups traditionally use the AFSCME contract as their bargaining base, demanding equal treatment.

MEANWHILE, THE four-year length of the contract is excessive. By coinciding with the mayor's term, it delays any post-contract aftershocks — and any possible erosion of union support - until long after the next mayoral election.

Finally, it gives the appearance of Thomas' reneging on his promise to voters last fall that he would approach contract negotiations with the taxpayers in mind. It was a promise sure to draw heavy scrutiny in light of Thomas' former position as a city employee and Local 1602 president.

If property tax revenues don't increase by a significant amount during the next four years.

Certainly the political system in Lansing will do nothing in an election year, and the voters two years ago turned down both initiatives that the Legislature chose to pass to them.

On the other hand, supreme courts in 11 states have already ruled the way money is allocated to school districts is unconstitutional because of the sharp spending differences between rich and poor districts. Rumor. has it that many of the poorer districts in Michigan are considering a similar suit.

No solution Campaign bill wouldn't work

AMPAIGN FINANCING is the issue and state Rep. Maxine Berman thinks she has the answer.

The Southfield Democrat is having a series of summer hearings on changing the way Michigan political campaigns are financed.

Berman seeks new limits. Under her plan, state House candidates would have to receive at fleast half their contributions in amounts of $100. or less. The figure would be raised to $150 for state Senate candidates.

The goal, Berman said, is to limit the influence of political action committees. If the legislation were enacted, she said, influence of the politically powerful PACs would decrease.

THAT'S NOT likely. Direct PAC contributions "account for only a part — in most cases, probably not even half — of candidates' campaign war chests. The biggest contributions generally come from tickets to fund-raising events, from cocktail parties to backyard barbecues.

While a PAC would be prevented from contributing $1,000 to a candidate's campaign, nothing would stop 10 PAC men and women from dropping $100 each into the kitty for the chance to hoist an hors d'oeuvre, or hot dog, with the candidate.

The larger issue, Berman admits, is public financing of political campaigns.

Public financing has been tried, to varying degree, with U.S. presidential races and in other states.

BUT THE concept should throw up a red flag for all Michigan voters, regardless of party.

From crumbling roads to a crumbling educational system, there are simply too many other state spending priorities to waste money on candidates, even if contributions were voluntary.

One caution: Someone you might not be willing to vote for could get their hands on your hardearned money.

We might be convinced to check off a box on our state tax returns setting aside $1 or so for repayed highways, or a computer fund for financially strapped school districts. But candidates? Let 'em go raise their own money.

The basis for legal action is equality. The 14th amendment to the U.S. Constitution appears to suggest that very unequal spending per-pupil is, on its face, unconstitutional.

And certainly per-pupil spending in Michigan is very unequal. On average, the bottom five districts spend around $2,500 per pupil, while the top five (including Bloomfield Hills and Southfield) spend three times as much, around $8,400.

SO, BEFORE THE lawyers have at it, might it be reasonable to ask the factual question: Does equal spending result in equal school performance?

Like the Gershwin song says, it ain't necessarily so.

The best information on this tangled subject was assembled last year by Mark Hornbeck, a good and tough reporter for The Detroit News. His study tried to relate school district spending to educational results. The findings:

• High per-pupil spending does not-necessarily result in high levels of learning. Examples: Oak Park was in the top eight districts in spending but in the bottom 20 in tests results. Kingsley ranked lowest in the state in spending but scored well above average in state assessment tests.

Nearly 95 percent of Michi-## size had only a minor impact on test scores, although dropout rates were substantially reduced when class size dropped below 20.

who do not take an interest in school: success are likely to do badly. Kids whose parents dropped out or had poor educational records are likely to do less well than others. Kids whose families are poor or broken do not do well.

For such children, it seems that programs aimed at preschoolers (age 4 and up) make a big difference. Although the federal Head Start provides preschool to only about 20 percent of eligible low-income families, exhaustive studies done in Ypsilanti schools show conclusively that early teaching helps kids from troubled and poor backgrounds.

Another device that works is teaching parents how to help their kids with school. Oak Park schools sent brochures home, and Redford Union schools bring parents of 4year-olds to school to learn about child development. Both get results.

OF COURSE, solving the problems of all familles in Michigan is far from possible, so a lot of attention has been paid recently to reorganizing the way schools work.

to the problem.

The example, of the Academic 5 Academy in the Benton Harbor schools illustrates a variety of more far-reaching devices under consider-***

• The best teachers in the district are assigned to the kids with the worst family problems and given a free hand in setting up programs.

• Students are required to eat Kids whose parents don't care or breakfast in the cafeteria before school starts because research shows that poor nutrition hurts learning.

• Teachers do not lecture at children sitting at their desks but get them to use hands-on devices such as aquariums for biology and computers for math.

• Daily schedules are rigorous, and expectations are clear. The environment is very structured.

So far, experiments such as the Acadmeic Academy seem to be working. Dropouts are down.... Achievement test results are up.

While it may be that equalizing the amount of money spent on education - that is, giving poor districts more money - may help. merely spending more money in the same ways for the same things is un-likely to make the big difference most parents hope for.

Possibly the lawyers might consider that before they start filing their suits.

Summertime Suburbs offer outdoor delights

F YOU SEEK a pleasant peninsula, look around you.

The truth behind our state motto is selfevident right now. Summertime shows off Michigan at its best, and our corner of the state s no exception.

Each of our suburban communities offers its own beauty and character.

Talk about lakes and woods and you're talking West Bloomfield. Drive the stretch of Orchard Lake Road with Pine Lake on one side and Orchard Lake on the other. Or take a walk in the West Bloomfield Woods, accessible from Pontiac Trail — and you'll think you're in the Upper Peninsula.

For a different scene, enjoy the flower bedecked downtowns of Rochester, Birmingham. Plymouth and Farmington, the latter celebrating its Founder's Day Festival with an assortment of activities this week. For free outdoor music, pull up your lawn chair or spread your blanket and listen up to Thursday evening concerts in Birmingham's Shain Park, Wednesday noon and Thursday night concerts in Plymouth's Kellogs Park and Sunday evening music in the Prudential Sun Bowl in Southfield. Summer brings out the best in our towns.

Want to step back in time? Try Troy's Village Green at Wattles just west of Livernois which features vintage buildings and a historical museum. History buffs at the other end of our towns can drive by rich, rolling farmlands to reach Canton Township's Historic District at Cherry Hill and Ridge roads which features a one-room schoolhouse and old church.

NOT FAR AWAY, nature lovers have their choice of the Holiday Park Nature Preserve which spans Westland and Canton or the 16-mile stretch of Hines Drive running through Plymouth, Livonia, Westland and adjacent to Garden City. For walkers, joggers and bicyclists, parts of Hines Park roads are closed to vehicles on some summer Saturdays.

Southfield and Troy's high rises backdropped against a summer sunset show those cities off to passers-by. But tucked into office buildings are the vest pocket patios and parks which allow daytime workers to enjoy their lunch hours out of doors, sometimes to music. We could go on. . . But you get the picture.

To the editor:

The past Memorial Day Parade was a great success, with only one exception. I am referring to the firing of automatic weapons at the end of the parade. Many young faces, including my own two grandsons, turned from joy to fear with the firm ing of these weapons. Many children attempting to pick up the spent shells burned their fingers.

This firing was not necessary and the parade would have been just an great without it. As Mayor of the City of Westland, and its Chief Law, Enforcement Officer, I am hereby placing a ban on the firing of any weapon in parades that take place is Westland. Parades are for fun and enjoyment, not to instill fear or to give a wrong message to our young ones.

I hope everyone will understarg, the reasoning and merit behind this ban and will continue to participate in our great parades.

Name games on the Supreme Court

MICHIGAN VOTERS like, Irish names when it comes time to electing the judiciary.

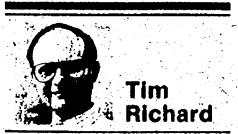

Judicial candidates campaign on the basis of dignity, experience and professional service. Rarely do they point out that they have different. points of view.

And sometimes their differences jobs, jobs, jobs.

Consider the case of Dean vs. Chrysler Corp., decided in mid-May by a 4-2-1 vote of the State Supreme Court.

ONE APRIL 1 Corrine Dean was injured on the job when an explosion hurled a piece of metal against her leg. She returned to work May 19 but took the day off June 28 to visit her physician for further treatment.

Driving west on Eight Mile Road, Dean struck a cement barricade and fell 25 feet off of an overpass.'A Ferndale police officer thought she had been drinking, but that question was never settled. She was issued a traffic ticket.

affect Michigan's ability to create comp for the traffic accident. The company thought her no-fault auto insurance should cover the traffic accident.

The Workers Comp Appeal Board favored Dean's claim because the traffic injury was a consequence of the work injury. (Remember the big flap the chambers of commerce made over one of Gov. James J. Blanchard's appointments to the WCAB as being "biased" toward labor? Now you know why those obscure sounding jobs are important.) The Court of Appeals reversed the WCAB and decided for Chrysler.

THE SUPREME Court majority opinion was written by Robert Griffin, the former Republican U.S. sen-Without question, Dean was enti- ator. He was joined by Dorothy Comtled to workers' comp benefits for stock Riley and James Brickley, the explosion injury, but Chrysler both with GOP backgrounds, and acknowledged liberal.

Griffin leaned on a 1942 high court decision with remarkably similar facts. The '42 court said the law "excludes an injury which cannot be fairly traced to the employment as a contributing approximate cause and which comes from a hazard to which the workman would have been equally exposed apart from the employment."

Griffin noted that when the state legislature adopted the no-fault auto law in 1972, it could have changed the court's interpretation but acquiesced instead. Therefore, said Griffin, "the judicial power to change that interpretation ought to be exercised with great restraint."

Griffin noted the legislature made comprehensive revisions of the workers comp law in 1980 and '81 in order to "modify expansive interpretations" of the court and "restrict the eligibility qualifications."

It's 14 pages of judicial restraint.

A DISSENT came from Dennis Archer, a Blanchard appointee, and Michael Cavanagh, both liberal Democrats.

Usually, dissents are shorter than fought back when she asked workers Charles Levin, non-partisan but an majority opinions, but Archer strained for 25 pages. He called the '42 case "a dead letter" because there are new theories of "arising out of and in the course of employment."

He reached back to a 1916 streetcar accident case to opine that a worker injured while traveling to discharge his duties is entitled to . workers comp. He called Dean's injury "the paradigmatic example of compensable consequences of workrelated injuries."

It's judicial activism. One also gets the impression there's a political philosophy at work which says, Sock it to the corporation.

PATRICIA BOYLE, a Blanchard appointee, concurred in Archer's reasoning on the "quasi-course ofemployment test," but wanted the WCAB to determine if Dean really was drinking.

One can see why Boyle has a reputation as a tough law-and-order jurist.

Footnote: Dean's injuries occurred in 1978. It took 12 years for four layers of government to decide that her traffic accident was a traffic accident and not a work accident.

Other than exhaustion, there was no letdown. Just pride - and relief - that we had produced the kind of wedding they had wanted.

The best advice I got was from a friend whose daughter had her wedding a month before ours. It was not that different from what soldiers are told when go into a campaign, or athletes before a big match.

Awarness turns into mind control

AT FIRST THEY bothered me . . those words and phrases being tossed about so casually and so frequently with no concern about their subliminal meanings.

They represented, I feared, an arrogance with an undercurrent of intolerance, a kind of neo-fascism masquerading as liberalism.

You've heard them, you've read them, you may even have used them whenever the subject was. anything remotely bordering on a "social issue."

And they sound so innocent . . . on the surface,

Or this, from an Associated Press story:

"The day will come when smoking will be socially unacceptable, predicts . . ."

Or this, from a story in another newspaper about Sports Illustrated's swimsuit issue:

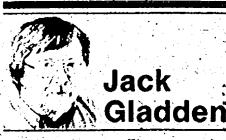

"'It's frightening that soft porn has become socially acceptable,' said one man."

THE KEY phrase here, socially (un) acceptable, means, of course, that the particular activity in question is not acceptable to the person making the statement. How society as a whole feels about the matter is another story.

But after the phrase has been applied to a particular activity for a certain time . . . something called "raising the public consciousness" . we then begin to hear about the "new community awareness" of this or that crusade. Now if something is "socially unacceptable" — not illegal, mind you, but socially unacceptable and if the public's consciousness has been raised sufficiently, we have to make people stop doing it. And that's where these glib little words and phrases begin to get scary.

I don't know about that, but I do know that this whole line of thinking - from "socially unacceptable lifestyles" to "brainwashing" kindergartners to do the "right" thing seemed awfully scary to me . . . until I saw the ad in the newspaper:

"Psychiatrist Brainwashes Fat." That's what it said. "A Detroit area psychiatrist is using classic Russian and Chinese techniques to brainwash people into losing weight."

So that's where all this is headed. The ultimate mind altering technique . . . applied to prisoners of war and who knows who else . . . has been turned into a diet plan. With this plan, according to the ad, "now you can brainwash yourself at home."

Amanda Hatfield, 7, of Westland gives registered respiratory therapist Gary Fugitt a tug in the wagon recently at a special summer camp for ventilator dependent children in Mayville, Mich.

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

It's fitting that Amanda Hatfield, 7, of Westland asks Gary Fugitt if she can pull him in a red wagon. People have been pulling for her the past two years.

The little girl has Melas Syndrome, so rare a metabolic disorder that there are only four cases diagnosed in the entire country.

Amanda has had three slight strokes, and only recently she was out of the hospital after a bout of pneumonla. She is ventilator dependent and requires 16 hours of nursing supervision.

So, for her mother and grandmother to see Amanda playing and acting like any other exuberant child her age is something to behold.

A SPECIAL camp for ventilator dependent children in Mayville, Mich., allows the Amanda Hatfields of the world to feel the summer breeze against their face and to share laughter with other youngsters.

The camp is one of only three of its type in the country and is sponsored by Friends of University of Michigan Hospital. This was the first year it took place.

"I can tell you she has already gotten so much out of this camp," said Kara Hatfield, her grandmother. "She's willing to do so much on her own. She's become much more independent."

REGISTERED RESPIRATORY therapists and registered nurses serve as "partners" to the children, most of whom are wheelchair bound. Many of those who work at the camp volunteer their time.

Children participate in a wide variety of activities, including pontoon fishing, arts and crafts and card games.

"We try to make it as normal a camp setting as possible," said Fugitt, a registered respiratory therapist working at the camp. "They're buying into it big time. These kids are eating it up."

ALONG WITH the camp experience comes the typical pranks. Camp personnel had wheelchairs rigged with power water guns so children could have water gun battles.

Each sleeping quarter features a name like Ninja Turtles for the tots, Heartbreak Hotel for the girls and Bad Boys for the guys.

While making things fun for the children, volunteers provide around-the-clock care. Home-care specialists take of such things as catheterization, bowel programs and tube feedings.

The task of getting these special needs children ready for bed can take anywhere from one to two hours, according to Fugitt.

"We had all the bases covered," Fugitt said. "... However, the one thing you didn't prepare for is the demand on us for constant care.

A breath of fresh air

Fugitt and Amanda play the plano.

It's a tremendous undertaking, but monumentally rewarding." "It's been a lot of fun," said Judee Gnlewek, Amanda's partner. "I've forgotten what it's like to chase a 6-year-old around."

ANOTHER PURPOSE of the camp is to give the parents of special needs children a respite. Nonetheless, when visitation day came during the middle of the week, parents flocked to the camp near Saginaw to see their children.

Sue Hatfield was no different. She came up with her mother-in-law to visit Amanda. The sight of her daughter playing and walking lifted her spirits.

Normally, Amanda stays in a wheelchair in order to concentrate on her breathing. At camp, the chair sat in a corner while she walked more than she ever had in the past.

"The changes we had seen in her were unbelievable," Hatfield said. "Things she wouldn't normally be doing at home she was doing here."

IN OCTOBER 1988, Hatfield took her ill daughter to Garden City Osteopathic Hospital. At first, she thought it was a case of allergies.

Doctors found that there was no oxygen in her blood and Amanda was rushed by helicopter to Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Amanda was hospitalized for 3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> months, which included a twoweek stay in the intensive care unit. She couldn't move, not even to lift her head.

ASIDE FROM several medical setbacks, Amanda appears to be making strides. Originally, it was thought she had learning disabilities but Amanda has moved up in her school work at McGrath Elementary School in Wayne.

Also, she went from being on a ventilator 24 hours a day to needing it only at night. Doctors are amazed by her recent recovery.

Amanda still requires around-the-clock care. One nurse visits the home 11 p.m. to 7 a.m. to watch Amanda and to provide suction to remove fluid buildup in her lungs.

Another nurse is needed 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. in order to provide a rest for family members.

"It's a lot of work," her mother said. "It's frustrating sometimes. It's not like any other kid where you can say, 'Just a minute.' If she needs suction, she needs it right then."

Family and friends recently celebrated Amanda's turning better. Her seventh birthday party included Ronald McDonald among several guests. Also, Westland Mayor Robert Thomas had a special card made for her that was signed by people at City Hall. Wayne County commissioner Kay Beard also sent along a proclamation.

Amanda told them about summer camp.-

New kids fashionable in mall model program

You could call them the new kids on the block. But make no mistake, these aren't the "dream boat" rock stars of the same name.

16 couples mark golden anniversary

By Mary Rodrigue staff writer

Newburgh area in Livonia.

After Jack and Miriam Shenkman tled the knot in 1940, they hopped in their '33 Ford and drove to Chicago for the honeymoon.

On Saturday, July 14, the Shenkmans will hop on a chartered bus with 15 other couples for a celebratory trip to the 1940 Chop House in downtown Detroit.

Besides friendship, all 16 couples share a common milestone - they mark their golden wedding anniversary this year. The special evening out will honor the year it all started - 1940.

"You should see this group, No one looks old enough to be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary," said Elaine Beresh, one of the Shenkman's four children,

"My grandmother, my mother's mother, is still alive. And she doesn't look 92."

The anniversary group includes Aaron and Millie Berg- and Erwin and Sylvia Harvith, the two couples who got the ball rolling for the planned celebration, according to Jack Shenkman.

Because most are still active in business, it was hard to pin down a date to accommodate everyone, he added.

"None has become a total beach bum," he said.

Actual anniversaries run from June through October, with the Shenkmans marking their big day on Sept. 15. Shenkman owns the Livonia Mall and is developing a 150 acre residential, condominium and office development in the Seven Mile/

FIFTY YEARS ago, "we didn't have anything," he said. "I remember paying the hospital bill for (the birth of) Elaine in silver dollars.' Shenkman's key to marital success: "Love, understanding, working together as a team, sharing joys and sorrows, being kind and considerate of others. Being aware of the needs of individuals and organizations that serve the community."

Many of the couples have shared other milestones together - the birth of children, marriages of their offspring, and the arrival of grandchildren.

"Families were closer knit then," Shenkman said, reflecting back on the '40s. "We didn't have conveniences of airplanes around the world. We traveled a smaller world. It's a quick world today. People want instant everything.

"We appreciate the good things. How good life has been to us, good health, a nice family. We had the patience to wait for these things. It took time to work things out."

Other couples celebrating 50 years of marriage include Boyd and Ruth Carnick, Charles and Ruth Dodge, Harold and Ruth Garber, Boris and Florence Gaynes, Maxwell and Sylvia Goldstein, and Irving and Marian Kramer.

The rest of the anniversary entourage to the 1940 Chop House includes Jerry and Ethel Marks, Dorothy and Jack Milen, Judd and Ester Morrison, Abe and Sylvia Pearlman, Howard and Faye Rice, Lester and Margarette Satovsky, and Sid and Melba Weiner.

Couple celebrates 60th anniversary

Russell and Crystal Woody will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, July 24.

They were married in Wayne in 1930: Russell, originally from Old Fort, N.C., worked for the Wayne County Roads Department, until he retired in 1955. He then worked another 15 years for a construction company.

Crystal was born in Chicago and raised in Michigan. She retired as an L.P.N. from the State of Michigan in 1968. The couple resides in Punta Gorda, Fla., and Old Fort, N.C. They have friends and relatives throughout the United States and Canada.

Joining them in the celebration will be son and wife, Larry and Monica Woody of Garden City; granddaughter and husband, Dawn and Kent Horzon of Westland. Their daughter Lillian Brogden of Panama City, Fla. Granddaughter Crystal Lewis and their two greatgrandsons from Panama City, Fla.,

The couple was married in 1930 in Wayne.

LOVE THY NEIGHBOR Church officials strive for a peaceful coexistence

By Arlene Funke special writer.

Mary and Graham Martin of Plymouth Township don't have to worry about being late for church.

The Martins simply step out the door of their house, walk a few feet and they're at the entrance of the Lake Pointe Bible Chapel

What's it like living next door to a church?

"People ask us that all the time," said Mary Martin with a laugh. "It has never been a problem."

Although most churches are on busy, main streets, a few are nestled in neighborhoods. These include the Lake Pointe Bible Chapel and First United Methodist, both of Plymouth Township; St. Timothy Presbyterian in Livonia; and Hosanna Tabor Lutheran in Redford.

MOST CHURCHES co-exist peacefully with their residential preighbors, officials say. They try to resolve any disputes - generally noise and parking issues - quickly. "We try to be sensitive to the community," said the Rev. Janet Noble, pastor of St. Timothy Presbyterian. For the Martins, both 45, life is tightly entwined with the activities and programs at Lake Pointe Bible Chapel on Schoolcraft Road.

The house in which the Martins ing the 1940s. It predates the church, built in the late 1960s.

The Lake Pointe Bible Chapel met at Farrand Elementary School in Plymouth Township prior to construction of the building. The church has 200 members.

Mary Martin was a member from those earlier days. When Graham returned from Vietnam, they were married in the new church building and moved into the little house next door.

"We had intended to stay there only about three or four years," she recalled.

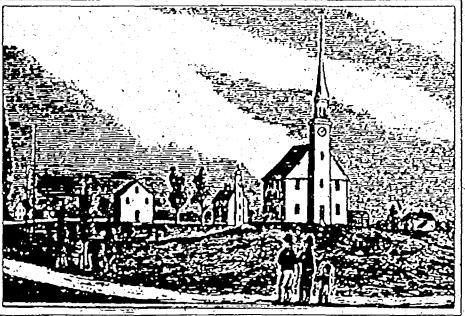

But their family grew to four children, three sons and a daughter, now ages 7 to 16: All are active in the church. The Martins, who have been married 20 years, stayed put and enlarged the house.

"It's really handy," Mary Martin said.

HER HUSBAND, an art teacher at Plymouth Salem High School in Canton, is a church elder and active with the Boys Brigade, a youth group at the church. He also directs a summer camp program. Mary belongs to a ladies' Bible study group.

"When the Pioneer Girls are baking cookies, if they need to borrow a cookie sheet or the Karo syrup, they can just run over to the house," she saíd.

There are few hassles in getting ready for Sunday worship services. "On Sunday, if you get ready first live was constructed from a kit dur- you can just march over to the church and be on time," she said. "It's a lot easier."

The pastor, the Rev. Kenneth Belch, came to the church from Niagara Falls, Ontario, just two years ago. But the church secretary, a longtime member, says residents have always been friendly.

"I have found we have been quite compatible with neighbors," said Janet Reid, 38, of Livonia.

Sometimes, neighborhood kids come around and play basketball in the church parking lot. During the Christmas season, children from the church go caroling in a nearby subdivision.

"We are always very wellreceived," Reid said.

HOSANNA TABOR Lutheran Church is in the middle block of a fully-developed, tree-lined residential street in Redford Township.

The 1,250-member church is a busy place, with Sunday worship services and activities during the week. Hosanna Tabor also operates a 230student school for pre-kindergarten through eighth grade students.

Although there's a spacious parking lot for visitors, nearby residents occasionally find their driveways blocked by cars belonging to churchgoers.

"There is no ongoing complaint," said the pastor, the Rev. Glenn Kopper, who has been with Hosanna Tabor for 10 years.

· Hosanna Tabor was started in 1948 as a Detroit church's "mission." according to records. The mission occupied a meeting hall, at Sioux and Plymouth roads, for several years until the sanctuary on Lucerne was finished around 1955.

Christina Huntley, 83, who lives a half-block from the church, remembers the extensive clearing and treecutting required for the construction job. She and her late husband, Ernest, joined Hosanna Tabor soon after the church was finished. But the quiet, secluded location can be a stumbling block in terms of attracting new members.

"You can sit and watch the squirrels run around," said Kopper, 42. "But as far as visibility is concerned, it's something of a disadvantage being tucked away in the trees."

ALTHOUGH MOST of the members live within five miles of the church, "a comment is sometimes made by people who'live in the area, that they didn't know we were here," Kopper said.

Until recently, the reputation of both the church and the school were enough to bring in new members, despite the secluded location. Now church officials are placing more emphasis on outreach programs."

For example, vigorous promoting of the vacation Bible school in nearby neighborhoods resulted in a substantial attendance increase in the the pastor said. past couple of years.

Church of Livonia was built in 1967, Newburgh Road south of Six Mile was a dirt road. The landscape was dotted with cornfields. Now that location is surrounded by subdivisions. The 150-member church tries to be a good neighbor, said Janet Noble, the pastor. She is only aware of one complaint, a few years ago: Some residents objected to the church's ringing its chimes before the late-morning Sunday service.

"We're thinking of trying it again," said Noble, 28. Neighbors aren't afraid to speak up about issues that affect them, she's found.

The First United Methodist Church in Plymouth Township has nearly completed a $3 million expansion project begun in 1988.

The church has been at its current site, on North Territorial west of Sheldon, since 1972. A new, larger sanctuary was built to accommodate the 1,300 members. The old sanctuary was converted to a fellowship hall.

Some residents of a newer condominium complex almost a block away complained about noise and expressed concerns about the parking lot expansion, said the Rev. John Grenfell Jr.

Those concerns were worked out in meetings with the residents and the township's planning commission;

Whenever you are building you When St. Timothy Presbyterian have problems that must be worked out," said Grenfell, 59. "At this point; I don't think it's a major problem as far as our relationship is concerned. While there were some people who had questions, there were some neighbors who were very glad to see that we were expanding."

Ties bind the city and suburbs

What separates the suburbs from_ the city of Detroit? My friends tell me that it is fear. Suburbanites fear going into the city of Detroit, no matter what their race.

On the other hand, I spoke to a young woman who lives in the suburbs and works in Detroit. She loves the city. She finds it interesting and a place of energy and excitement. She returns home after work.

I believe that the roots of the separation are deeply buried in so many ways. A new book is reported to say "The city and suburbs are separated by a cultural and emotional gap as wide as any that divides hostile nations." I believe that Ze'ev Chafets, who wrote this, is correct. I HAVE JUST moved from the suburbs to the city of Detroit. Spend- , It is something of an adventure to ing 26 years in the suburbs has sub- relate to an unknown culture. We are tly convinced me that everyone familiar with the rebellious culture problem is that some older peopleand many suburban folk do not want to be in a learning mode of life. We would rather say that we have things all figured out.

But this is the opposite of our religious roots and of healthy human living. We should be in a mode to learn throughout our whole life.

Moving into Detroit, I am ready to learn. I do not believe that fear of violence is the major issue. There are times and places which are totally safe for anyone. As a matter of fact, the city of Detroit is full of suburban folk every day. Just look at the rush hour freeway traffic!

Many young people feel differently about it. They are willing to venture into something new. They have lived in a different age. I believe that they are ready to explore the gifts of the city.

should be like me. I have gone to Europe, Central America and the Near East five times in the last five years. Each time I return, I have a desire to settle into the quiet life, even though I have enormously enjoyed the foreign culture.

Let's face it. We live in the Middle West. We still believe that our life should be a version of the "down home" syndrome. Many of us wouldn't want to live anywhere else. Yet we do not want our village to be culturally diverse.

Many young people feel differently about it. They are willing to venfure into something new. They have lived in a different age. I believe that they are ready to explore the gifts of the city. The older generation remembers it as it was. They lament the changes. They do not want to return.

of our own suburban teens. We are quick to discern the signs that show us these differences. In another culture, the signs are not as well understood. Does a strange dress denote someone who is to be trusted or one who might be scary?

My son and I drove over to Tiger Stadium the night of the Nelson Mandela rally. All the people were inside except the vendors, the police and a few others. We began to talk to some of the people.

WE ASKED them about their work and their opinions. It was just like Troy or Livonia or Dearborn once we began to connect with these people. They looked different than we did, but they were essentially people we could talk with and identify with.

There is an emotional and cultural gap, but it can be overcome. The

Our religion teaches us that we are all children of God. As one person put it, if God is our father, are we not all sisters and brothers? Let us get to know our brothers and sisters in this shrinking world. A radio ad puts it this way: "The world isn't getting smaller, it is getting closer."

I believe that God calls us to this adventure of getting to know the diversity of human life. What can be more interesting than people! Join me in this adventure. Mix and mingle and take a risk. The risk I advise is not to take a physical risk but an emotional and cultural risk.

The Rev. David T. Strong recently became pastor of Central United Methodist Church in Detroit.

CRIME STOPPER Dick Tracy puts an end to Disney crime capers

By Dan Greenberg special writer

85条

The media-blitz accompanying the recent world premiere of "Dick Tracy" at Walt Disney World's AMC Pleasure Island 10 Theatres is typical of the largerthan-life dimensions of a trip to Disney World in Orlando, Fla.

While Dick Tracy theme shows, memorabilia and displays are the current highlight throughout Disney World's nearly 43-square mile facility, there are many other attractions, all part of the Disney "magic."

That's a major undertaking but Disney effectively provides an opportunity to travel to the limits of time and space while viewing many facets of world culture. Disney World houses displays from pre-historic times well into the next century, offers building-size representations of many cultures in the Epcot Center World Showcase, numerous resort and amusement park facilities and the ultimate theme-park fantasy, the movies at the Disney-MGM Studios.

THERE'S A peculiar sense of being removed from reality's problems in the self-contained, secure and imaginative world Disney has created. That's important, particularly to experienced travelers well aware of travel problems these days. But everything's at Disney World and it's not the kind of place where anyone can wonder in on a whim. It takes a certain amount of planning and preparation to get there, particularly in the busier seasons when advance reservations are a must.

With the official opening June 15 of the 1509-room Dolphin complementing the 758-room Swan which opened late last year, hotel accommodations at Disney World are about elaborate as possible.

But wait; more are under construction with the Yacht and Beach Resort due next fall. With 1200-rooms, it's set around a 25-acre lake and designed with a late-19th century motif. Currently under construction on the other side of that lake, is a new park, also in the turn-ofthe-century style whose theme will combine Coney Island and Atlantic City Boardwalk style restaurants, amusements and stores.

WHEN THE Yacht and Beach Club opens, there will be approximately 13,000 rooms available on Disney World property plus camping accommodations at Fort Wilderness.

Situated on Crescent Lake and crowned by giant, greenish-gray Disney-style sculptures of their namesakes, the Dolphin and Swan Hotels face each other across a covered causeway. Installation of the two, 45feet wide, 55-feet tall swans, each weighing about 14 tons, required a 400-ton crane. Hotel exteriors are painted a sunwashed coral with bold areas of turquoise superimposed.

That color scheme is continued throughout the interiors with vivid splashes of the coral/turquoise motif accented by reds, blues, greens, browns, purples, lavenders and yellows.

The Dolphin-Swan complex is not just for folks dragging their kids around Disney World. These two hotels are being merchandised as a major conference center with Florida's largest hotel meeting room in the Dolphin, the Hemisphere Ballroom, which, at almost 56thousand square feet, is only slightly smaller than a football field (including the end zones.) All hotels and resorts on Disney World property have convention exhibition spaces and ballrooms of varying sizes.

THE DOLPHIN Conference Center alone has over 30 meeting rooms and exhibition spaces with a grand total over 200,000 square feet. Clearly Disney staff will be hard at work recruiting conventions. One of their major selling points, of course, will be the many attractions and amusements available for conventioneers and their families. In addition to the extensive facilities at Disney World, the surrounding Orlando area boasts many hotels, motels and other accommodations.

Dolphin rooms range from $195 to $285 but travelers should be aware that Standard Forest View rooms (the lowest rate) below the eighth floor view far less forest and far more of the receiving area which gets fairly noisy around 6 a.m. There are less expensive accommodations at Disney World, the Caribbean Beach Resort has rooms for as little as $60,

Although built by ITT & Tishman Realty, the Dolphinis operated by Sheraton and the Swan by Westin. On Disney property, both were built to Disney specifications with the Disney touch everywhere in evidence although tacky little cards with a finger beckoning in each room for a tip for the maids seemed uncharacteristic of Disney.

OF COURSE ONE fantasy we all share is being welltreated wherever we go. That's the keystone of the Disney "magic," a polite, well-trained staff of engaging largely young people who are available to serve at every turn. Disney World employs a staff of over 32,000 which is pretty hard to imagine, at least until you begin contemplating Disney World's scope.

Diamond.

Its 43-square miles features wandering bands and streets shows, exhibits, amusement parks, restaurants, souvenir and gift shops, nightclubs and resort areas. That takes a lot of personnel. Show-biz fantasy and mystique even appear in their titles. Personnel are called "cast members" rather than employees and patrons or customers are "guests." A great deal of effort is exerted in training staff and instilling the positive attitudes they project.

SINCE SO MANY Michiganders vacation in Florida, Disneyland, The Magic Kingdom and Epcot Center are well-known. But there's also the Hotel Plaza with seven major hotels, the Caribbean Beach Resort, Typhoon Lagoon, Pleasure Island, the Empress Lilly Riverboat, Fort Wilderness Campground Resort, Walt Disney World Village, the Walt Disney World Conference Center, the Palm Golf Course, the Disney Village Marketplace, the AMC Pleasure Island 10 Theatre Complex and the Disney MGM Studio Theme park.

That park, with its recreation of Hollywood Boulevard, the Brown Derby Restaurant and the Chinese Theatre with its Great Movie Ride serve our greatest fantasy, the movies. Those facilities are complemented by numerous movie memorabilia shops and displays.

Since working studios are part of the Disney-MGM facility, visitors are constantly entertained by on-going productions. Following the "Dick Tracy" premiere, interviews with 120 reporters and media critics took place on Sound Stage 2 where the set for the diner in "Dick Tracy" stands. The guided tours continuously pass through during the day, looking down on the proceedings from the glassed-in observation deck two stories above the studio floor.

THE THEATRE of the Stars features, among other shows, five performances each evening of an upbeat musical, "Dick-Tracy Starring in Diamond Double Cross." Calling Dick Tracy is an opportunity for visitors to participate in a short, videotaped, casting session. The Superstar Television Theatre features production of major TV shows.

Whether on a trip through EPCOT Center's futuristic exhibits or fading back into history and imagination in Fort Wilderness or at the numerous exhibits, whether celebrating New Year's Eve every night at Pleasure Island or simply relaxing in the sun, it's easy, albeit fairly expensive at Walt Disney World.

Philly gleams in honor of Franklin

By Roberta Schwartz special writer

Famed as the home of Rocky Balboa and Ben Franklin, Philadelphia celebrates its heritage of sparkle by giving the most weary traveler a knockout experience.

This year, Philadelphia honors Ben Franklin during the 200th anniversary of his death. The city celebrates throughout the summer with festivals and special events. A tribute entitled "Images of Ben Franklin" is displayed at the Museum of Art until Sept. 16.

The nearby Free Library owns the desk of novelist Charles Dickens and a huge stuffed raven which inspired Edgar Allen Poe's great poem, "The Raven."

Franklin earned the title of Philadelphia's greatest genlus because he was a true original. He was the first to chart the Gulf Stream, start a free library and develop a volunteer fire department.

I went to an engagement party in Farmington Hills this week and the conversation got around, quite naturally, to honeymoons. You've probably noticed that couples don't necessarily get married in June anymore. This one will be a mldwinter wedding.

The groom-to-be asked the brideto-be if she liked the words "ski" or "tropical," "north" or "south." She Jamaica, where you can get married for $250 in season, $150 offseason, if you are a resort guest.

The Rodin Museum, Philadelphia's smallest but loveliest, contains the largest collection of Francois Auguste Rodin's sculptures outside France. Best of all, every visitor is invited to touch the art. It's great to hold hands with the "Heroes of Calais" sculpture and feel close to the artist.

Franklin comes alive this year in the play, "Franklin's Footsteps" and other events such as walking tours fireworks set on the shores of lush and harmonica concerts.

The annual Steuben Day parade in September includes Franklin, who introduced George Washington to Baron von Steuben, his great ally in the American Revolution.

Some of the most splendid attractions of Philadelphia lie a few miles outside of this huge city. While the British partied in Philadelphia, George Washington and his ragged troops hid in frigid Valley Forge.

THE PETER WENTZ farmstead where Washington planned the battle of Germantown offers plenty of interest to those who are curious about the father of our country. Although he was middle aged, Washington climbed a perilously narrow set of stairs to his room at the top of this Georgian style home. Wentz, a German immigrant, preserved the room as a sort of shrine when many regarded Washington as an upstart at the head of a set of ragamuffins.

For those who like a touch of the elegant and spectacular on their vacations, Longwood Gardens at Kennett Square shows a range of horticultural, performing arts, and holiday activities all year. Flowers, fountains, and fireworks are the stars at Longwood attracting 800,000 visitors annually. It was once the estate of industrialist Pierre Du Pont.

Summer's "Festival of Fountains" presents flowers, roses, and beautifully lighted fountains. Concerts and cool lakes, rushing waterfalls, and flower-filled pools draws appreciative "ashes" from visitors. The 350acre garden is the ultimate treasure of Brandywine Village.

LESS FORMALLY designed places like Paoli draw 3,000 annually. American artist and craftsman Wharton Esherick is commemorated in his studio garage which have been turned into a superb museum.

Novelist Theodore Dreiser worked on "An American Tragedy" in Esherick's kitchen. English writer Ford Maddox Ford often visited and U.S. novelist Sherwood Anderson stopped by while Esherick carved "A Spiral Pole," one of his abstract sculptures. His small studio near Valley Forge is a stop to be treasured.

invite resort guests to your wedding, the resort has been paid to serve those guests anyway.

The question under discussion at the engagement party was whether the entire family would join the couple at Sandals for the wedding and stay for the week. If so, would the wedding be at the beginning of the week or at the end?

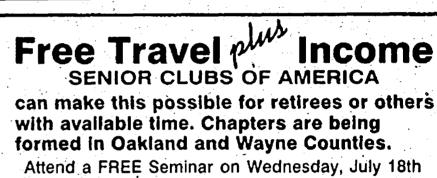

Think about that. You may want your parents, cousins, aunts and friends at your wedding, but do you want them to stay through the honeymoon? That's the fly in the ointment. As I sat there picturing the scene, with the wed-ding party near the shoreline, I had total recall about a wedding I attended years ago while staying at a cottage in Algonquin Park in northern Ontario.

mined to get married and have their reception inthe park. They tied the knot in the nearby village of Huntsville and had the reception at Cache Lake, with cottage friends invited to attend.

The cottages on Cache Lake are only accessible by boat, so when the bride and groom arrived at the landing they were greeted by a barge that was usually used to collect garbage but was redecorated for the occasion. They were towed around the lake, banners flying, and every cottager in the place rushed down to his dock to wave them by.

The most memorable moment of the wedding, however, was when the bride and groom left on their honeymoon. They gathered her little brown poodle, climbed into a canoe and paddled off into the wilderness. And believe me, Algonquin Park is wilderness, bears and all.

That may be the best wedding I've attended, although a close second would be the Orthodox Jewish wedding where the groom smashed the glass with his foot and the bride was carried around in a chair a la "Fiddler On the Roof."

Summertime means funs . . . and Lyme disease

Summer has arrived and people are spending more and more time outdoors.

For the most part, summertime activities are enjoyable and risk free, but people should be aware of Mother Nature's own dangers.

For example, this is the time of year when people are most susceptible to Lyme disease. The illness is caused by tick bites that can lead to severe arthritis symptoms and a number of other effects.

of the Arthritis Foundation, people who live, work near or enter wooded or marshy areas are most susceptible to Lyme Disease because the ticks which carry the disease-causing bacteria live in such areas.

Most people who are bitten by an infected tick develop a large; expanding rash around the area of the bite. Rashes vary in size, shape and color, but often look like a red ring with a clear center.

Lyme Disease also can cause problems with the central nervous system, causing meningitis, facial palsy or encephalopathy.

At the onset, signs of Lyme Disease include flú-like symptoms out According to the Michigan chapter of season, such as a stiff neck, chills, fever, sore throat, headaches, fatigue and joint pain. And unlike, some types of arthritis, the pain seems to move from joint to joint.

> SOME PEOPLE who become infected develop more serious problems. An irregular heartbeat may occur, sometimes requiring implantation of a temporary pacemaker. Lyme Disease also can cause problems with the central nervous system, causing meningitis, facial palsy or encephalopathy.

While people should be on guard against Lyme Disease, people shouldn't become alarmed or paranoid to the point where they're afraid to go outside. By taking the needed precautions against the disease, people can still enjoy their favorite summertime activities.

There are several things people can do to guard against the disease, according to the foundation:

• Wear protective clothing like : long skirts or pants with the legs tucked inside of socks."

• Check yourself and your children for ticks. Look closely at the hair, ears, underarms, trunk of the body, groin and back of the knees.

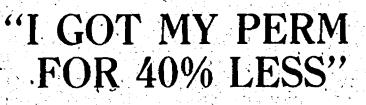

• INSPECT PETS for ticks before letting them indoors. They may carry the ticks into the house, where they may fall off and then bite family members.

• Homeowners can clear away brushy and grassy areas that attract ticks.

If a person feels they or a member of the family may have contracted Lyme Disease, they should see a doctor. Early treatment of Lyme Disease symptoms can prevent the more serious problems that could develop later.

For more information about Lyme Disease, write to the Arthritis Foundation, Michigan Chapter, 23999 Northwestern Highway, Suite 210, Southfield 48075, or call 350-3030.

INCLUDES CLASSIFIED

Nerve, vision pay off

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

First, have the courage to succeed; second, have the vision to recognize the possibility of failure. That's a blueprint for entrepreneurial success, courtesy of Joel D. Tauber, chairman of Key Manufacturing, Key Plastics and S.G. Keywell in Southfield. Tauber was selected by the accounting firm of Ernst & Young as the 1990 manufacturing entrepreneur of the year.

- Tauber, 55, of West Bloomfield might have been a lawyer today if it weren't for a knack for administration — and it's been as an administrator that Tauber has become one of Michigan's more successful entrepreneurs.

Key Manufacturing manufactures fasteners, Key Plastics manufactures automotive products, and S.G. Keywell deals in scrap.

THE ENTREPRENEUR'S success in creating jobs and introducing new products and services often goes unrecognized, said John Boos, the director of entrepreneurial service for the Ernst & Young Detroit office.

"Entrepreneurs are the lifeblood of American business."

The awards are a way of recognizing the entrepreneur's drive, innovation and energy, Boos said.

Joel D. Tauber: "If you do not have failure, you're not taking enough risks."

it is the most satisfying thing you can do - it means being your own boss and measuring your own worth by your success.

"Most entrepreneurs are very confident with a positive self image — but then they have to be. You often go into these things where you can't see the answer.

"Sometimes you fail, but having failed, you learn an awful lot - it makes a better person out of you. If you do not have failure, you're not taking enough risks."

buyout, and then return to being a private, employee-owned company in 1986. He has weathered the harsh economic climate of the early 1980s, and the boom time of the late 1980s.

Much of his success, he said, can be attributed to his father-in-law, Barney Keywell.

"My father-in-law was the classic entrepreneur. I had that instinct, but I was fortunate enough to see it in someone else who was a role model. He was a superb risk

Software tax ruling threatens business

By Gerald Frawley staft writer

All the fancy microchips and circuit boards in that expensive hunk of hardware called a computer are useless without word processing, spreadsheet and data base programs.

And if a ruling by the Michigan State Tax Commission reclassifying software used by businesses as tangible rather than intangible property stands, software will be be taxed the same way other tangible property is taxed.

Under an October 1989 ruling, all software - ranging from the $400 word processing programs to customized software programs costing hundreds of thousands of dollars would be reclassified for the purpose of personal property tax assessments.

The ruling, according to its detractors, would mean a substantial tax increase costing Michigan businesses millions of dollars.

"We think it's unconstitutional because they violated state law in promulgating the ruling," said Steve Young, manager of taxation and regulatory affairs for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

The ruling was passed without formal public hearings and legislative oversight, Young said.

"Basically, what we have are a bunch of appointed bureaucrats whoanswer no one running amok."

Young also questioned whether the ruling, which the chamber considers a tax increase, violates the Headlee amendment to the Michigan Constitution which requires that property

'This could affect a lot of people in the state.' - Steve Young chamber of commerce

filed a lawsuit this spring in Ingham County in hopes of overturning the ruling, but is also anticipating new legislation from state congressmen in the fall.

"We think it's important to pursue every avenue vigorously," Young said. "This could affect a lot of people in the state."

NO HEARING dates have been set for the lawsuit, he said.

Michigan Treasurer Robert Bowman has also asked the tax commission to obtain an opinion from the Michigan Attorney General's office on the reclassification, but as of yet, the commission has not sought a ruling.

Businesses throughout the state are incensed over the ruling, Young said, and have joined the state chamber in pressuring legislators and state administrators to reverse the ruling.

Manufacturing, small business, grocer and retail associations have all voiced opposition to the change and are optimistic the ruling will be reversed, Young said.

In addition to being bad for business and unconstitutional, the reclassification may also be unworkable, said Ann Parker, director of state government affairs for the Greater Detroit chamber of commerce. Even if the ruling were to stand, collecting the new revenues would be an "administrative nightmare," Parker said. "How do you determine (the software's) value?" Parker said. "Its retail value? Its value to us? How do you treat customized software?"

Pearle's Free Expressions Offer

±1C

It's not unusual for a company topurchase customized software and then modify it to suit its purposes. "What is taxable - the purchase price? How do you assess the customizing work?"

Parker said the best scenario would be for the tax commission to reverse its ruling, but opponents are not counting on that. A more likely occurrence would be for state legislators to reverse the ruling.

"The problem is how to do it," she said. Legislators could rewrite either the general tax code or the intangible tax act, she said, but there is some concern that opening up either to changes could result in other significant changes.

"Legislators don't know if they can risk it or what's the best way to do it," she said. No legislation has been passed or introduced yet, but several legislators are looking at legislation.

Parker said if something is introduced in the fall, the tax ruling could be overturned in time to void the tax increase.

Young of the Michigan chamber said the ruling could be used to essentially put a sales tax on services. For example, a company purchases a $25,000 payroll software program and then spends $2 million on its employees who modify it.

"The policy implications are extremely important," he said.

"Michigan has shown an interest in getting high-tech companies, but BEING AN entrepreneur can be invigorating, Tauber said. "For certain types of individuals,

TAUBER'S CAREER has spanned nearly 20 rocky years. He has seen his family-owned company go public in 1979 in a leveraged taker. Keywell was the prototypical entrepreneur - a hands-on, take-Please-turn to Page 3 tax increases be voted on by the people.

"If this_ruling were to stand it's obviously a tax increase."

Young said the state chamber this is the wrong way to do it," he said. "These (high-tech) businesses are highly dependent on computers and this tax increase will drive them away, not attract them."

Rick Inatome, founder, chairman, president and chief executive officer of Inacomp Computer Centers is Ernst & Young's retail entrepreneur of the year.

Inatome reported profits of $10.5 million on sales of $351.5 million during the 1988-89 fiscal year.

He launched the business in 1976 with a $35,000 loan from a life insurance policy from his father and investments of up to $2,000 from family friends.

The company, headquartered in Troy, went public with a stock offering in 1984.

Inacomp now provides jobs to nearly 2,500 people either directly as employees or through franchise organizations and joint ventures.

Inatome said he prefers giving his key employees free reign to manage rather than issuing edicts from the top.

We really define a much more entrepreneurial management structure," he said. "The attitude of the work force has changed. We run a large company out of a lot of small companies. People like to be given a

Sharpen your sales skills by honing 'natural' style

When a salesperson's planning or persuasive skills need improvement, his or her "natural" selling style must first be identified. This is done by evaluating a series of specific abilities that the salesperson normally demonstrates on the job.

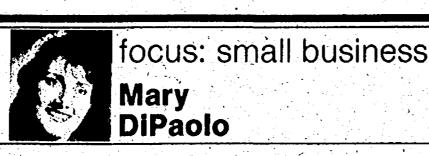

Planning-related abilities to be analyzed include the following: product knowledge, territory or market control, pre-call or pre-selling preparation, time management, and overall planning capabilities.

Evaluation of persuasive abilities is focused in the areas of customer knowledge, the selling and buying process, communication and securing buying action and personal impact.

Based on a model developed by Finn and Staunton, there are several selling styles.

THE "INVOLVE" style of selling sums up a salesperson with a low aptitude for planning and greater persuasive powers. This type of salesperson is disorganized and appears not to have his act together. He depends on charm rather than logic, important product features, and related customer benefits to win sales.

As a result, he often gives inaccurate information, with a majority of his sales either falling through, being revised or resulting in customer dissatisfaction.

planning skills. This creates problems because the salesperson is perceived by customers as being inflexible and impatient when the sales interaction does not progress as planned.

This type of salesperson is also not attuned to his customers' needs and is reluctant to explore product or service-related alternatives when appropriate. Even though he may know everything about the products and services being offered for sale, his approach toward customers is generally cold and impersonal.

THE "INTERMEDIATE" style represents average sales capabilities in both planning and persuasion.

While skills in these areas are developed enough to allow a salesperson to handle himself or herself adequately in most sales situations, he does not possess the qualities to produce outstanding results.

A thorough examination of the planning and persuasive skills listed shows a tendency to have better ic abilities require further improvement.

> THE MOST desirable style of selling is one that represents the ultimate balance of planning and persuasive power.

A salesperson who functions in the "motivate" style is organized, analytical, well prepared and knowledgeable, determines and understands his customer's needs, communicates well and is oriented toward end results.

When implementing the balance of power approach, sales training can be directed to each salesperson's real needs. Ultimately, it is much more likely to produce the increased sales and profit growth your business strives for.

GM getting premature bum raps on Saturn

I'm not quite sure its time to feel sorry for General Motors, since they seem to toddle along pretty well despite a seemingly unending stream of criticism about virtually every aspect of their operations.

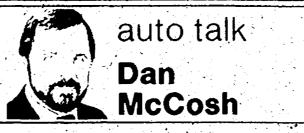

On the other hand, it appears there are quite a few people in the media attempting to cover the launch of GM's new Saturn division like so many poor shooters crouched in duck blinds with feathers tied to their heads, in case you wondered where their sympathies reside.

• A particularly silly story recently appeared on the front page of the Detroit Free Press, wherein it was reported that the Saturn doors weresticking in tests in Phoenix, No matter that GM routinely tests plastic parts in Phoenix at temperatures of 250 degrees Fahrenheit - hot enough to do a credible job on a TV dinner. The sticking parts were supposed to be delaying the Saturn launch.

Not to worry, by the next issue, the engineering job was completed in less than 24 hours and the doors were fixed; at least that was what the Free Press would have you believe. Or maybe the second story that declared the doors were fixed was supposed to be some kind of correction.

Anyway, a company that can fix up doors in less than a day now becomes the target of a front-page story in the Wall Street Journal that says that they are too slow. Not only too slow, the Saturn car is compared unfavorably with the speedy efforts" of Japanese automaker Honda to set up manufacturing in the U.S. The conclusion of the writers is that Saturn is expensive, slow to get started, and not making its original goals.

that even the facts as related in the story don't support the conclusions. The Journal reports the cost of building the Saturn plant is $1.9 billion, compared to the $2 billion spent by Honda, yet insists the GM expenditure is "enormous," compared to Honda's, and GM hasn't beat the Japanese on cost. While it's difficult to change your mind when its already made up; the Journal might start by reading its own figures.

Even more curious is the notion that the Saturn plant is slow getting built. Much of this confusion starts The irony to the Journal piece is from a research project GM launched in the late 1980s to study high-tech manufacturing. Dubbed the "Saturn Project," it led to a press conference in 1983 where Chairman Roger Smith announced that GM's research would eventually lead to development of a small car, competitive with the Japanese. I may have been the only one at the press conference who asked Chairman Roger "Which Japanese car?" since he answered "the Honda Accord," not some mythical ultracheap small car, as frequently reported. At the time, the Accord was smaller than a Ford Tempo and selling for more money than a mid-size Buick, while GM's cheapest car (the Chevette) was less than $5,000. I left thinking the guy was awfully bright to see the handwriting on the wall about the importance of the Honda - since by GM standards at the time it scarcely seemed much of a threat.

That press conference was already about two years after Honda had begun building cars in the U.S., after they spent about four years real estate shopping and a trial run at motorcycle engines. The beancounters at GM did, in fact, twiddle their fingers for nearly two years before the Saturn Corp. company was formed and the corporate decision was made to fund and build a Saturn car and manufacturing complex.

·Five years later, according to the Journal's own calendar of events, Saturn was ready to build the car, transmission, and engine, as well as launch a new dealer network to sell the thing.

the Journal published with the article, Honda took ten years to accomplish the same thing, albeit it did it a piece at a time, starting with the motorcycles, then cars, then engines, the world car business.

then lawnmowers. The completion of a full-scale U.S. manufacturing complex is ending in a dead heat. Honda only began building transmissions (which Saturn will do at the launch) late last year. Today, Honda still o builds more than 25 percent of the a content of its U.S. assembled cars in ... Japan.

Regardless, the Journal writers conclude that "Honda, once it got started, moved faster." In fact, Honda started at least five years earlier than Saturn and will finish behind it -- at least in finally building a Honda that qualifies as fully manufactured in the U.S.

That's not to say Honda was being unwise. It clearly has been paying its way as it goes, building revenue in bits and pieces and offsetting what today are substantially higher wages in the U.S.

According to the same calendar . But the fact is that the Saturn car, plant and dealer infrastructure has set some kind of speed record in building a ground-up car operation the likes of which may be unique in charge guy who loved his business and worked constantly to improve it, Tauber said.

SEVERAL OF Keywell's simple philosophles remain with him today. "Things like make a little every day, but don't try to make a killing.'

But perhaps the most important thing his father-in-law told him was this: "What would you do if you fail? Don't be afraid to take risks, but know and understand the downside of risk in any transaction and plan for it," Tauber said. "A lot of companies focus on the up side of a risk and although they (recognize the possibility of failure) they don't plan for it. That isn't to say you should plan for failure, but beware of failure and know what to do if it happens."

AFTER WORKING with his father-in-law for more than a decade, it was time for a change in 1979. Barney Keywell, now 77, saw his company grow from a $20 million to a $70 million company and wished to retire. By borrowing on the company's assets - in what is today known as a leveraged buyout - Tauber formed Key International Manufacturing and became president.

."That's when we really took off." Despite its successes, the recession of the early 1980s was a difficult time for him, Tauber said. The company grew, but the effort and time that went into that growth took him away from his family and other interests.

BECAUSE OF this - and because Tauber believes that pride is one of the greatest motivators - Key International reverted to a private, employee-owned organization through another leveraged buyout in 1986.

"Why do people succeed? You can give them a 100-percent bonus, but that's not the same as being part owner. I've always believed that the best motivator is to allow people to benefit from their work."

The switch back to a privately owned company has borne fruit, with the three companies pulling in nearly $500 million last year. and five children and his philanthro-TAUBER'S ROLE is more re- pic and political pursuits.

moved than when the company was publicly owned.

"Those people (the owners) really run the group.'

Today his role is more general supervision of the three companies, offering suggestions, assisting in setting goals and monitoring each company's success.

"That's my favorite part - it sounds corny - but I like watching things get done through people.

"Right now, we're involved in a joint venture with a Japanese firm - if this were back in the public days, I would be going out and meeting with the people personally, traveling all over and working directly on all the details - now others do that.

"It's certainly less stressful now."

WITHOUT THE daily hassles of running an international manufacturing corporation, Tauber has more time to spend with his wife, Shelley,

Bridges, old barns are home to these birds

AS I WALKED the trails at Heritage Park in Farmington Hills a couple of weeks ago, I was pleased to see an eastern phoebe. Back in early spring I had seen one in the same area and I was hopeful that it would take up residency. Sure enough, it díð.

Phoebes represent one of nine species of flycatchers found in southeastern Michigan. They are one of the earliest avian spring arrivals to our area. Though they are not one of the most colorful flycatchers, two behavioral characteristics help to identify this species.

A peculiar tail-bobbing habit helps separate this species from its similar-looking cousin, the eastern pewee.

THE OTHER habit that helps to identify phoebes is their selection of . nest sites.

Since the arrival of manmade structures such as barns, farmhouses and bridges, phoebes have adapted to these artificial structures in lieu of natural sites.

At Heritage Park, the phoebe had a nest under the bridge constructed over the river.

Many country roads throughout the state have bridges with framework construction that provides suitable places for both barn swallows and phoebes.

ONCE A site is established, birds will continue to return to that site for several years. They will either build a new nest, or occasionally just improve the old structure.

My college adviser and longtime friend, Dr. Nicholas Cuthbert, has had a phoebe nesting over his front door practically every year since 1956.

It may seem unusual for a bird to be so close to human disturbance, but phoebes do not seem to mind it. One report documents an unusual nest site inside a farmhouse. An adult bird entered the farmhouse through a broken downstairs window. It then flew from the living room to a front hall, and then, by an abrupt turn, flew to an upper hall by way of a stairway.

Once on the second floor, it flew into a bedroom, where it was building a nest on a cloths rack.

Some species of animals are able to adapt and take advantage of new environments, while others cannot. Preserving green spaces and a variety of habitats will provide opportunities for those species that cannot.

Tim Nowicki is a naturalist at Independence Oaks County Park_ in Oakland County. He lives in Livonia.

Phoebe is their name and making nests in man made areas is their game. The fly catching birds are among Michigan's early spring arrivals. Not one of the most colorful birds, they are best distinguished by behavioral characteristics.

Successful recycling a three-step process

The recycling symbol's familiar three arrows may be more important than you realize. The three arrows represent collection, process-'ing and reuse - the three elements that must balance for recycling to be successful.

Because collection is the first step, most recycling programs have directed their efforts at establishing sound, dependable collection. Their plan has worked, almost too well. As many recycling programs have discovered, the current markets are not usually sufficient to handle the volume of materials currently being collected for recycling. We must begin to build these markets.

The 1990s are being proclaimed the "decade of the environment." Individuals and businesses throughout the country are participating in recycling and conservation programs. If these programs are to continue to be successful, individuals, businesses and organizations must take a leadership role in creating markets for recycled products.

The first step in establishing these markets is to request, buy and use recycled products - both at home and at work.

The next step is to encourage governments and businesses to buy recycled products and establish ongoing procurement programs for recycled products.

In the past finding information about suppliers of recycled products was difficult. This information has become more readily available. RECYCLED PRODUCTS GUIDE: The American Recycling Market, Dancer-actress Ann Reinking has had a dazzling career in Broadway shows and Hollywood movies but her proudest achievement is giving birth to a baby son, Christopher.

"He will be six months old July 9, on opening night at the Muny," she said in a phone interview Friday at her hotel in St. Louis. Reinking, along with Tommy Tune and Alan Sues were in rehearsal for the Monday opening of the musical hit "Bye" Bye Birdie."

After the run at the Muny (Municipal Theatre Association of St. Louis), the show will come to the outdoor Meadow Brook Music Festival. "Bye." Bye Birdie" will open Tuesday at Baldwin Pavilion on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills, Performances continue through Saturday, July 21.

Showtime is 8 p.m. each night, plus matinees at 2 p.m. Wednesday and Saturday. Ticket prices range from $10-$15 for the lawn and $17-$27.50 for the pavilion, depending upon performance.

REINKING SAID she and Tommy Tune have done a couple of television shows together, and they were delighted when the "Bye Bye Birdie" project was offered to them. SHE TAKES HER parenting responsiblities seriously. "Singingand dancing is a whole lot easier," Reinking said. Her husband is a widower, and she also has an 11-year-old stepdaughter: "I'm totally responsible for two little lives.

"I called my mother, who has seven children, and I said, in all honesty, 'You're brilliant.' "

Reinking first began dancing at the age of 11. She studied with the San Francisco Ballet and Robert Joffrey Ballet in New York. "Ballet was my first love," she said. "I had done a lot of amateur work in Seattle and had one foot doing ballet, one doing musical comedy."

Joffrey told her, "You could be a ballet dancer. You have the ability, but I think you would be much more happy if you went into musicals." Her first Broadway show was in the home now is in the Tampa area of Florida, where her husband lives. She also has a New York apartment.

Reinking's husband is putting together the finishing touches on a Florida aquarium. "They haven't broken ground yet," she said.

Their baby son is at the stage of development where, "He can squirm now," she said with pleasure. "I have a wonderful friend who is helping me. She raised two children, and is taking on a herculean responsibility.

'I have long legs and Tommy has long legs, so there's that leggy look. I love dancing with him. I feel a sort of symbiotic relationship with him." - Ann Reinking chorus of "Cabaret," her first Broadway starring role in "Over Here," followed by co-starring with Joel Grey in "Good Time Charley" (both got Tony nominations).

Then she went into "A Chorus Line" and "Chicago," both on Broadway. She has worked with such great choreographers as Bob Fosse, Michael Bennett and Agnes DeMille. Other shows include "Dancin'" and "Sweet Charity."

In movies, she played Daddy Warbuck's secretary in "Annie," costarred with Dudley Moore in "Mickey and Maude" and performed in "All That Jazz" and "Movie, Movie."

IN "BYE BYE Birdie," Reinking, who is 5 feet 6, dances with Tune, who is 6 feet 61/2-inches tall. "I have long legs and Tommy has long legs, so there's that leggy look," she said. "I love dancing with him. I feel a sort of symbiotic relationship with him.

Wolverine crowns 12 champions

Under 19 Hawks write familiar script with win

By Brad Emons staff writer

Winning the Wolverine XI Soccer Tournament has become old hat for Livonia Hawks coach Paul Dugan.

"I've been to all 11 tournaments and I think this is my seventh winner," said Dugan, whose team won another title, the Under 19 Girls, with a 3-0 victory over the Cosmos '71 of Westerville, Ohio.

Twelve different age-group titles were claimed last weekend as 152. teams converged upon Schoolcraft College for three-day tournament. The finals coincided with the World Cup final Sunday in Rome, Italy. The event was sponsored by Ford Motor Co. in conjunction with the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association.

Dugan's team, MSYSA state champs, used the Wolverine as atuneup for next weekend's Region II Championships in Kalamazoo.

"This team has a lot of talent, it's my job to get them pumped up and their minds focused," said the veteran coach.

Scoring for the Hawks on Sunday were Plymouth Salem High's Michele Minton; Dugan's daughter Julie, who plays at Farmington; and East Lansing's Carle Thomas, headed for the University of North said. Carolina.

gan said. "If we stay healthy and soon to Pacesetters of Sylvania, have a little luck, we'll be OK."

WOLVERINE 11 SOCCER TOURNAMENT RESULTS

BOYS CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS

Under 11: Canton Hornets 4, '79 Birmingham Blazers 1.

Under 12: Samia (Ontario) Bluewater Bandits 3, Livonia Wings 2 (shootout). Under 13: Livonia Wings 1, Spirit of '77

Under 14: Wolves '76 1, Mount Clemens Sport Club 24 0 (2 overtimes.)

Under 15: Michigan Wolves '75 2, Canton Tifans '75 1 (shootout).

Under 16: Vardar III '74 5, Utica Sting 1. Under 17: Capital Area Cosmos 2, Kalamazoo TKO 1 (shootout).

Under=19: Sylvania (Ohio) Pacesollers 1, Vardar 0.

GIRLS CHAMPIONSHIP FINALS

Under 12: '78 Michigan Hawks 2, Beechmont (Ohio) Rowdies 1.

Under 14: Columbus (Ohio) CESA Blue Streaks 3, Livonia Youth Soccer Club United 2.

Under 16: Plymouth-Canton Lightning 2, Michigan Hawks 0. Under 19: Livonia Hawks 3, Westerville, Ohio Cosmos '710.

"It's always good to see them go on and play in college," Dugan

As for the Under 19 Boys final, Vardar III '72, featuring several "WE HAVE a good opportunity present and former All-Observer to perform well this weekend," Du- players, won't wave any good-byes 👝 Ohio, who won the title with a 1-0

Mike Sheehy of Farmington High, who had no chance on the play.

"WE PLAYED them in the regional Indoor and we've been their nemesis for a long time," said Pacesetters coach Brian Cairns, who formed the team seven years ago. "We've been coming here the last two or three years and obviously this is real sweet because it's the last time they'll be together, just a great win for them."

Backup goalie Scott Rehklau, a junior at Sylvania Northview High, held Vardar III at bay to earn the shutout.

Vardar III featured several Observer standouts including Brian Thiel, freshman MVP at Valparaiso (Ind.) University; Derek Williford, a freshman at Oakland University from Livonia Stevenson; Jeff Gold, Plymouth Salem High; and Brady Ericson, Livonia Churchill.

In the Under 16 Girls championship, the Lightning, a team comprised primarily of players from the Plymouth-Canton area, scored a 2-0 victory over the Michigan Hawks.

Coach Frank Carey's Lightning won five straight, outscoring their opponents by a combined total of 20.2.

Leah Hutko (Canton) led the Lightning tournament effort with seven goals, while keeper Jennifer. Emmett posted three shutouts. Defensively, Shelby Carey paced the effort along with midfielder Kris Goff, both of Salem High.

second tournament title next month in Sarnia, Ontario.

The Under 15 Boys championship went to the Livonia-based Michigan Wolves '75, coached by Bruce Thomas and Dan O'Shea.

The Wolves '75 won in a shootout, defeating the Canton Titans 75, 2-1.

Benjy Cesa, Adam Schomer, Jeff Thomas and Anthony Verrino scored during the shootout. Clayton Campbell scored in regulation.

The Wolves '75 are also headed this weekend for Kalamazoo in search of a Region II title. Also going to Kalamazoo are the Wolves '76, coached by Paul Sciclu-

The Wolves defeated Sportclub 24 of Mount Clemens in the second overtime, 1-0, as Seamus Rustin tallied the game-winner from Kenny Perlin.

Goalie Alan Placek earned the shutout for the Wolves '76, considered one of the favorites to win the Region II tourney.

"We've got a very good shot if we get our striker (Adam Schomer) back," said Scicluna, whose team finished second last April in the prestigious Dallas Cup. (Schomer was injured during the Wolverine.) "If we win our first (against Minnesota), we've got a very good shot."

ANOTHER TEAM that has enjoyed immense success over the years is the Livonia Youth Soccer Club Wings, which captured the Under 13 Boys title with a 1-0 victory over the Dearborn Heights Spirit of '77, coached by the University of Detroit's Louis Stankovich. Ten minutes into the second half, Jeff Babinski scored on a free kick from 20 yards out to provide the final margin of victory. It was the second Wolverine title in three years for coach Rick

IT WAS THE FIRST tournament appearance for Lightning since the high school season ended. The Lightning won two tournaments last season and finished second in last year's Wolverine.

In the Under 11 Boys Division, the Canton Hornets, coached by Phil LaJoy, bounced back from opening round loss to win five Birmingham for the championship. The Hornets took their division in the Little Caesars circuit and recently captured an age-group tourney in Arlington Heights, Ill.

Winning may also become old hat for the young Hornets. See tournament results.

Heavenly Mile group adds Angel Cordero

By Brad Emons

staff writer

The horses are always the attraction, but this year's 42nd running of the $300,000-guaranteed Michigan Mile will feature one of the leading jockeys of all-time, Angel Cordero, Jr.

Cordero will be aboard Opening Verse, the pre-race favorite. Post time for the state's richest thoroughbred event, which is shaping up to be a speed race, is 5:10 p.m. at Ladbroke DRC in Livonia.

In his 30th season of riding, Cordero has scored 6,674 career victories (through July 1), placing him third on the all-time list of North America's leading jockeys behind only Bill Shoemaker and Laffit Pincay, Jr. His mounts have earned him in excess of $149 million.

He has ridden in four previous Michigan Miles, winning the race with Favorecidian in 1972. The Santurce, Puerto Rico native finished fifth on favored Everton II - Randy Romero, who was aboard 1986 Michigan Mile in 1974.

THE 47-YEAR-OLD Cordero has taken the mount of three Kentucky Derby winners, a pair of Preaknesses and one Belmont Stakes.

He was the nation's leading jockey, money-wise, in 1976, 1982 and '83.

Assigned a high weight of 122 pounds, the four-yearold colt is owned by airplane manufacturing magnate Allen Paulson.

Opening verse, trained by Richard Lundy, was third in last month's Hollywood Gold Cup to Criminal Type and 1989 Kentucky Derby and Preakness winner Sunday Silence (also Horse of the Year).

Earlier this season, Opening Verse won the Grade II Razorback Handicap and the Grade I Oaklawn Handicap, both at Oaklawn Park.

Opening Verse will try to avoid the "Michigan Mile Jinx" where 14 horses have been victorious at odds of higher than 10-to-1.

Last year's winner, Present Value, paid $100.60.

The biggest test for Opening Verse in this Grade III race should be Clever Trevor, assigned the second high weight of 121.

CLEVER TREVOR is unbeaten in two starts, both coming at Chicago's Arlington International Race Course. Trainer Donnie Von Hemel's horse was a wireto-wire winner in each effort.

Early speed promises to be a major factor in this year's DRC featured event. Clever Trevor also won wire-to-wire in the St. Paul Derby last year at Minnesota's Canterbury Downs, equaling the track record for the mile and one-eighth in 1:48.0, the exact distance of the Michigan Mile.

(The Michigan Mile record of 1:47.2 is shared by 1969 winner Calandrito and 1970 champ Fast Hilarious.) Don Pettinger will ride Clever Trevor, which won last year's Arlington Classic by nine lengths against Grade I speed. In his next outing, the Travers Stakes at Saratoga, Clever Trevor led most of the way before finishing three lengths behind Easy Goer. Another candidate is Western Playboy, ridden by champ Ends Well.

Romero is no slouch as a jockey, accumulating 3,600 career wins. Western Playboy was one of the top threeyear-olds last year and has placed in four of six races this year as a four-year-old.

Other entries to watch:

• Triteamtri (114), also coming from Arlington, who won a one-mile allowance race there in his most recent run on July 4. Triteamtri's final time (1:33.2) was just one second off the track and world record for the distance set by Dr. Fager in 1968.

• Tour d'Or (115), who owns a share of the track record for one and one-16th (1:40.4) at Belmont Park in New York. He was a four-length winner of an allowance event last month at Ladbroke.

• Beau Genius (116), saddled and based at DRC by leading trainer Gerry Bennett, has already won short sprints this season at Gulfstream, Churchill Downs and Arlington.

A longshot to run the Mile is Charlie Barley, a turf horse who has been running at Woodbine in Toronto. But it is doubtful Charlie Barley will cross the border with a $500,000 turf race coming up in Atlantic City. N.J.

DRC's gates open at 11:30 a.m. with the first of 12 races beginning at 1 p.m. Grandstand admission is $2.50. A 27-inch TV set will be given away, along with other prizes, including free passes and free hats and visors to the first 10,000 admissions.

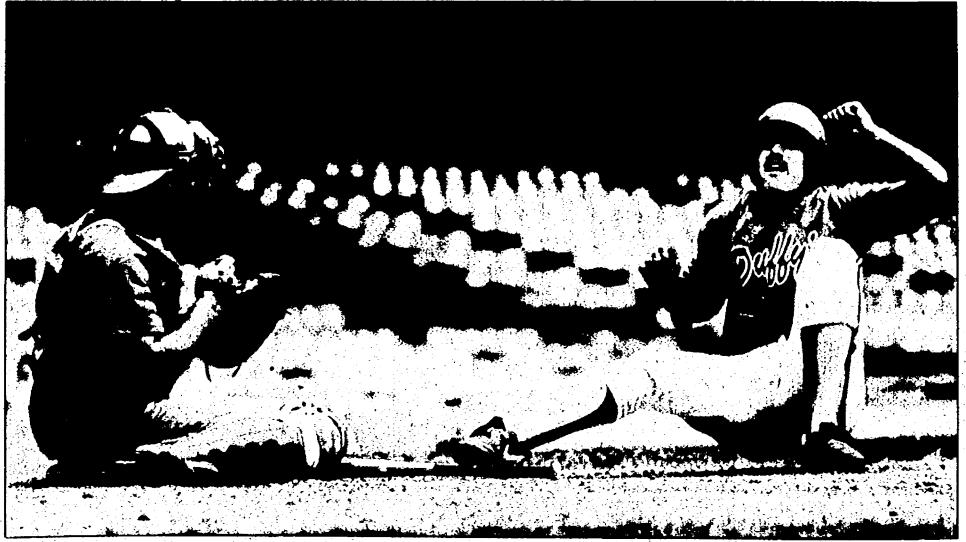

Three other stakes events will complement the Mile, each contested for a purse of $25,000-added. The Mile itself will be simulcast to more than 40 out-of-state outlets throughout the country.

Lee Tappy of Duffy's Plumbing and the Livonia Collegiate All-Stars goes down at home plate in the third inning as the ball grazed his neck during Tuesday's clash against the Detroit Adray League All-Stars at Tiger Stadium. Livonia rallied, but fell short in the ninth inning, 8-7.

Livonia rally falls short

By C.J. Risak staff writer

Making history can test reserves of discipline and determination. Repeating history multiplies the challenge.

The Livonia Collegiate Baseball League all-stars have discovered how difficult the latter task can be. They made history when they blanked their Detroit Adray League counterparts 4-0 in 1987, the first time in 10 meetings the LCBL stars had bested those from the Adray circult in the annual affair. The next two years, they didn't come close to repeating; they were routed 10-2 in '88 and 16-2 last summer.

With the memory of those defeats much fresher than LCBL's only win, it was no surprise that Dave Racer, coach of Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury and the LCBL stars, had another goal targeted for his team when they met the Adray team Tuesday at Tiger Stadium. year."

Adray pitcher Leo Hutchinson started the ninth by walking Joe Brusseau. He got the next two batters, but Jeff Herrin's grounder was booted-by second baseman Mitch Deskins. John Chadiha then tapped a ground ball to first, but Lincoln Schomer couldn't make the game-ending play either.

Hutchinson followed by issuing a bases-loaded walk to Dennis Szczechowski, forcing in a run. John Gotts made it 8-6 with a two-run single, and Fred Higgins narrowed the gap to 8-7 with another run-scoring base hit.

That was all for Hutchinson. Bill Bellman relieved and threw one pitch to John Frazzini, and he popped out to short to end the game.

THE LATE rally certainly made the loss more tolerable for Racer, but his grin disappeared complétely when he was reminded of LCBL's mental miscues which ignited Still, it might have been better. LCBL scored three runs in the secing just two hits off starter Stuart Hirschman (two innings) and Dave Houghtby (one inning). But just when it seemed LCBL might bust loose LEE TAPPY opened LCBL's third by getting hit by a pitch. Miller singled to right, and when the ball got past right fielder Mark Dube, the runners moved up to second and third with none out.

Krol hit a grounder to short, but Miller got hung up between second and third. Tappy broke for home during the rundown and was throw out, leaving runners at first and third. Adray pitcher Marc Wilkins got Mike Siwajek on strikes and Tim Crabtree on a groundout to end the threat.

The Adray fourth proved pivotal. With Bill Bannon pitching, Mike Heard singled and Mike Moceri walked. After a non out. Dan Crane walked to load the bases for Todd Bruce. Bannon induced Bruce to hit Michaelz fielded the ball cleanly, sacrifice fly scored another run, leaving men at first and third with two out. Bruce produced two more runs get away. Adray's third run scored and Bruce took third. Mike Wisely's good, 4-3.

its lead to 8-3. The fifth Adray run was a gift, scoring in the fifth after Steve Hirschman walked the first two batters. Heard hit a foul pop that first baseman Chadiha chased down.

But Chadiha failed to hold either baserunner, and that proved costly. Dan Kuschell's grounder to second had double-play potential. Instead, Ruschell was out at first and a run scored. Hirschman fanned Todd Menard to end the inning.

Wisely made it 6-3, leading off Adray's seventh with an inside-thepark homer to the 415-foot marker in right-center field. Adray scored two more in the eighth on singles by Schomer, Rogers and an RBI hit by Kuschell, followed by a sacrifice fly by Jason Rambo.

The two-run eighth seemingly cemented the issue, extending Adray's lead to five runs. At least

Familiar names spark Pontiac Class A team

By Brad Emons staff writer

The Livonia Collegiate Baseball League All-Stars stepped out of their league Monday night at Ford Field and the result was predictable.

Fieger, a Class A team from Pontiac, used its experience to blank the LCBL stars in an exhibition encounter, 7-0.

Six different Fieger pitchers combined to hold the LCBL to five hits over seven innings,

The big guns for Fieger offensively were second baseman Scott Wyler ' and center fielder Art George.

Wyler, a Dearborn native who once played for Livonia Adray in the LCBL, belted a grand slam in the second inning off Doug McGregor of Duffy's Plumbing.

In the fourth inning, George and Wyler each belted doubles to account for another Fierer run.

George, the former Redford Thurston High product who plays for the University of Evansville, also had an RBI single in the second when Fieger sent nine batters to the plate.

"ART IS OUR lead-off man and has the green light to run when he gets on base," said Fieger coach Scott Combs, whose team sports an 18-9 record in the Pontiac Class A loop. "And Scott (Wyler) is capable of hitting the ball although he hasn't done as well lately, but he's a steady second baseman and he always seems to make contact."

Fieger scored its other run in the third when Joe Arends hit a sacrifice fly to score shortstop Dean Fracassi, who contributed a pair of hits on the night.

Fracassi, who attended St. Agatha High in Redford before closing out his collegiate career at Aquinas, is also an integral part of the Fiegert lineup. (His brother Todd was on the opposite side of the field, a starting second baseman for the LCBL.)

"Dean's the best shortstop in our league," said Combs. "He's done just an excellent job for us this season."

The Fieger pitching staff also has several players with Observerland

Right-hander Henry Miller, who prepped at Livonia Franklin before going on to Wayne State, was the winning pitcher, tossing two scoreless innings

High product headed for either Eastern Kentucky or Wayne State this fall, worked a scoreless inning along with player/manager Combs, Keith Hubbell (formerly of Redford Bishop Borgess High), Tim Komorous and Jim Vervacke (Oakland University).

"WE LOST four of our pitchers to the minors, but we still have a good staff," Combs said. "Tonight we didn't even use Steve Witt (Aquinas College), Dan Kopitzke (formerly of University of Detroit) or Jim Mollencupp (four years in the San Francisco Giants organization). We have some good, live arms."

Fieger's nemesis in the Pontiac circuit is first place Lynch & Sons of Birmingham. The two teams meet at 1 p.m. Saturday at Jaycee Park in Pontiac in a showdown.

"This game (against the LCBL) was good for us because we need to keep playing," said Combs. "We need to see some more pitching."

Although McGregor was roughed up by Fieger, the LCBL got scoreless pitching stints from Chad Wrona (Walter's Appliance), Jim Miller (Little Caesars) and Fred Higgins (Total Travel).

But with a potent lineup of older and more experienced players, Fieger's seven-run margin of victory was expected.

Right fielder Jim Rousseau, 32, one of the top players in the Pontlac league, has been playing 11 years.

Another Livonia native, Lance Sullivan of Livonia Churchill High and U-D, has worked himself into the lineup as a left fielder after playing last summer in the Detroit Adray League.

"WITH CLINT SCOLLARD at first, we've put Lance in the outfield because he can hit the ball," said Combs. "Lance broke his wrist in the spring and he's starting to come around."

Fieger's ultimate goal is to stay in second place and earn in berth in the American Amateur Baseball Congress regional tournament next month in Battle Creek.

"Hopefully we'll ready for the playoffs in two weeks if we come out of that OK we can pick up two more pitchers and by then (AABC tourney) we should be in good shape," Combs said.

Fieger looked to be in tip-top hape Monday night. Just ask the RACER NEARLY got more than he bargained for. Indeed, trim a few might be celebrating its second win Adray hung on for an 8-7 triumph. That makes 12 Adray wins to one for

Note changes in O&E dates

There are a couple of changes that might be worth noting, all you Observer & Eccentric/Whispering Willows Tournament golfers.

Oh, the tournament site will remain the same - Livonia's Whispering Willows. And it will still be a two-day, 36-hole format for men (with a shotgun start each day) and an 18-hole, one-day tournament for women.

But the women's tournament," which has always been in mid-August, is being pushed back. The date this year is Sept. 5, the Wednesday following Labor Day.

The reason for the switch is alltoo-simple: numbers. The mid-August date failed to draw many competitors. A later date will, hopefully, prove more attractive.

Another change that could make a difference is an expansion of the eligibility area. The O&E now publishes a Lakes edition, so any golfer living in Walled Lake can now put his or her skills to the test.

The men's tournament is slated for Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 15-16. Men wishing to play are reminded the field is limited to 200. Early entry is suggested."

An entry coupon for either tournament is included in today's O&E sports section, and will appear periodically in future editions.

Running wild Mustangs romp to easy Mack victories

The Livonia Mustangs won three straight games over the weekend to continue their winning ways in Connie Mack League baseball.

The Mustangs ran their Livonia Parks and Recreation League record to 11-1 with an 11-0 blanking of Walled Lake Adray in a five-inning mercy-rule triumph Saturday at Ford Field.

Pitcher Mike Higgins allowed only two hits and did not walk a batter in picking up the victory.

Craig Overaitis led a nine-hit Mustang attack, going 2-for-3 with three RBI. Teammate Jason Muller added a two-run single.

On Sunday, the Mustangs swept a double-header against host Rose City Legion 324 of Jackson.

Higgins' two-run double proved to be the margin of victory as the Mustangs came away with a 5-3 win.

Steve McCool, who worked the final three innings in relief of starter John Duty, earned the victory.

Matt Sauceda homered for Jackson.

In the nightcap, Tad Dennis belted a three-run homer to spark a 10-run outburst in the fourth, leading the Mustangs to a 14-6 victory in five innings.

Overaitis, McCool and Scott Marinkovich contributed two hits apiece. Overaitis had an RBI double.

THE LANGLOIS CARDINALS, running second behind the Mustangs in the Livonia circuit, whipped Walled Lake last week, 10-0, behind Joe Mussat's one-hitter.

Mussat had plenty of support as the Cardinals swiped 13 bases and lashed out 17 hits.

Earlier in the season, Mussat tossed a no-hitter to beat Walled Lake. In 11 innings he's allowed just one hit against the Adray squad.

He also has five hits offensively in two games against Walled Lake.

WESTLAND FEDERATION-swept a doubleheader Saturday against Ypsilanti No. 2 in a Little Caesars Connie Mack encounter at Taylor Truman High,

In the opener, Eric Stover pitched a one-hitter and walked only two as Westland romped to a 9-1 triumph.

Offensively, Westland collected nine hits with Aaron Mack, Mike White and Anthony Raptis contributing two apiece. Raptis also knocked intwo runs.

· In the nightcap, pitcher Steve Ross allowed only two hits and struck out eight in going the distance in a 12-1 Westland win.

Mack led Westland offensively, going 4-for-4. Vince Sacco added three hits, while Wheeler, White and Raptis chipping in with two each. White also had three RBI. Westland is 9-4 in league action.

two bases. Chris Schmid had three hits, including a double, and Paul Pirronello had two RBI on a fielder's choice and a double.

On Saturday, Concealed defeated Hannibel (Ohio) 6-2. Schmid (4-9) pitched 635 innings, striking out four and walking two. Jim Solak got the final out.

Joe Brusseau was 2-for-3 with a double, and Solak doubled in a run. For the tournament, Young was. 11-for-17 and batted .647. His hits included six doubles and two home runs, and he also had eight RBI and six stolen bases. Young's slugging percentage was 1.352.

Solak hit .563 (9-16) with four doubles and two homers, Schmid .500 (7-14) with three homers and four RBI and Brusseau .471 (8-17).

Holding fort Duffy's remains atop in Collegiate race

A double-header sweep of host Jason Gabel and Jeff Pendell had Wendy's kept Duffy's Plumbing atop the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League at the start of the week.

After losing 3-2 to Total Travel Value on Friday, Duffy's bounced back with 6-5 and 8-5 victories Sunday to improve its league record to 12-5-2.

In the first game, the second of Todd Fracassi's two RBI drove in Mike Siwajek with the winning run in the bottom of the seventh inning.

Fracassi and Rob Puckett had two hits apiece, Brent Haywood smashed a solo homer and Bill Flohr ripped a two-run triple. Chris Mussat's RBI single tied the game at 5-5 in the fifth inning.

Bill Wicker, who entered in relief of John Schefka, pitched scoreless innings in the sixth and seventh to get the victory.

IN THE second game, Duffy's rallied from a 5-1 deficit and won the game with a four-run fifth inning, which gave the LCBL leaders their 8.5 margin.

Kevin Adams knocked in five runs for Duffy's, four coming on his inthe park grand slam. Matt LeMieux had two hits, including a run-scoring triple, and two RBI.

Winning pitcher David Jones pitched four innings of scoreless, hitless relief. He struck out six and walked three. Haywood started and left trailing 5-3 after three innings.

In the Friday game, Rick Tanguay's RBI single gave Total Travel a 3-1 lead. The other runs scored when Leo Devine drew a bases-loaded walk and Jason Lichtman raced home from third during a pickoff/ rundown between first and second.

Darren Clark went the distance for Travel, striking out 11 and scattering five hits. Doug McGregor pitched the first 3<sup>3</sup>/<sub>3</sub> innings and was the loser.

Walter's Home Appliance, the second-place team at 12-5-1, salvaged a double-header split with Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury by winning the second game 18-7 in five innings Sunday.

Walter's 14 hits and three RBI, and two hits apiece. Gabel also drove in three runs, Pendell one. David Houghtby added a two-run single to the cause.

Mike Culver hit a three-run homer in the top of the first inning as Hines Park took a 4-0 lead, but it was short-lived as Walter's scored six runs in the bottom of the inning. Dan Niemicc' had two hits for Hines Park.

Anthony Chandler pitched three innings and left with a 10-5 lead. Brian Paupore, the losing pitcher; lasted one-third of an inning and faced only eight batters.

Both teams had 12 hits in the first. game, but Hines Park jumped to a 6-0 lead after two innings and never trailed.

Rob Kowalski went the distance for Hines Park, getting five strikeouts and issuing four walks.

Hines Park knocked starting pitcher Steve Owens out after twothirds of an inning. He pitched to eight batters, allowing four hits and five runs. Gene Boyce worked five innings before Chad Wrona finished up.

Dennis Szczechowski, Derek Humphries, Niemiec and Kevin Learned had two hits apiece for Hines Park. Learned drove in three runs with a double (1) and single (2), and Szczechowski smacked a solo homer.

GABEL RIPPED a two-run double for Walter's, and Chris Day, Crabtree and Jerry Koester had two hits each. Chandler chipped in an RBI double. Koester also had two RBL and Crábtree scored two runs.

Gabel also provided a big hit Friday when Walter's beat Wendy's 6-3. His two-run double in the first inning started the visitors off with a 3-0 lead.

Koester had two hits and one RBI, Jim Maruszewski two RBI with a single and a sacrifice. Damian Hall's single drove in one run.

Houghtby raised his pitching record to 6.0. He went 61/2 innings, scattering five hits and four walks. Bob Bullach finished the seventh.

Total Travel and Little Caesars TIM CRABTREE had three of also split a twinbill Sunday, Caesars winning the first game 13.8 and Travel the second game 4-3.

A four-run seventh put the first game out of reach for Caesars. Jim Miller pitched five innings for the win, leaving with a 9-8 lead. Mike Dalimonte closed it out.

CAESARS HAD four players with two hits: Tom Hill, Rich Roy, Andy Weighill and Miller, who hit two doubles, drove in two runs and scored two runs. Weighill had four RBI, including a two-run single. Roy doubled in a run. .

Rich Rachner, who pitched 335 innings, was tagged with the loss, allowing six runs on five hits. Reliever Jason Hicks left in the fifth with a back injury, and Craig Murray went the last 23/3 innings.

Tanguay clubbed a three-run ho-. mer for Travel while going 2-for-4 with two runs and four RBI. Mike Julien and Steve Pollock had two hits apiece, and Gary Devine contributed two RBL Murray returned to pitch a complete-game victory in the nightcap. He hurled a three-hitter and struck out nine. He also walked nine but es-., caped major damage."

Julien's three hits included a pair of doubles, and he drove in two runs. Lichtman had two triples and scored. twice, and Pollock had a double and two RBI.

Tom Nester also went the distance for 'Caesars and pitched well, scattering eight hits. He walked one and struck out five.

Hill had an RBI triple and Jack Daniels an RBI single, Bill Bertera walked twice, had one hit and scored. a run.

In another game played Friday, Hines Park mercied Tom Holzer Ford 11-1 in six innings. Ed Hanna was the winning pitcher, and Szczechowski, Niemiec, Culver and Humphries had two hits each. Learned's sacrifice fly ended the game.

There goes the sun — lunar eclipse coming

Jupiter is in conjunction with the from Aldebaran now! sun of July 15. It is behind the sun and not visible from the earth.

Last Quarter Moon is at 7:04 a.m. on the 15th. The moon is beginning the last quarter of its orbit around the earth. (When will the next Last Quarter Moon occur?) The red "star" below and too the left of the moon is Mars, the red planet. The moon is eight degrees above and to the left of Mars on the next morning.

Watch the moon as it passes through the constellation of Taurus.

The Pleiades star cluster is below and to the left of the moon. On the next morning the moon forms a triangle with the Pleiades and Ale-

New Moon is at 10:54 p.m. on July 21. The moon is located between the earth and the sun and is not visible. In fact, the moon is located exactly between the earth and the sun, and the moon will eclipse (cover) the sun. This will be the first total eclipse of the sun to occur in'28 months.

YOU MAY WONDER why we don't have an eclipse every month, since we have a New Moon every month. The problem is due to the tilt starting on the morning of the 17th. of the moon's orbit around the earth. The moon usually appears to pass above or below the position of the sun. The moon often passes close enough to the sun's position to parbaran. On the 19th the waning (fad- tially eclipse the sun, but the aligning) crescent moon is approaching ment has to be absolutely exact for Venus. Nortice how far. Venus is the moon to totally cover the sun.

that it begins at 8:40 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time. Sunset in our area on July 21 is at 9:03 p.m. Don't expect to see much during the 23 minutes between the start of the eclipse and sunset! Totality begins at 9:52 p.m.; by which time the sun is well below the horizon.

Where will the path of totality fall? Along some of the most inaccessible parts of this planet! People in Helsinki, Finland, will be treated to the sight of a totally eclipsed sunrise. For people in Leningrad, the sun will be 97.4% eclipsed. . . close,

The bad news about this eclipse is but not total. From there the path runs along the northern coastline of Arctic Siberia, across the Bering Sea and some of the Alutian Islands, then ends in the northern Pacific Ocean. People in Scandinavia, northern Asia, China, Japan, northern Greenland, and northwestern North America will see a partially eclipsed sun.

difficult to see, is Mercury.

The moon is again approaching Spica on the 27th. On the 28th it has passed Spica. Notice, however, that this time the moon is less than onequarter full. Earlier this month, when the moon passed this way, it was more than one-quarter full.

THE SOUTH DELTA Aquarid meteor shower reaches its maximum during the morning of July 29. This'is a fairly moderate meteor shower. Observers can expect to see an average of 20 "falling stars" per hour (about one every three minutes). This shower is named for the 4th brightest star in the constellation of Aquarius (which is identified by Look for the moon, 45 minutes af-s, the 4th letter in the Greek alphabet), from which the meteors appear to radiate. Understand that the star has absolutely nothing to do with the meteors, they just happen to be lowest at dawn.

First Quarter Moon officially occurs at 10:01 a.m. on the'29th. The moon is one-quarter of its way around the earth.

On July 4 the moon was near the star Antares. Now, 27 days later, on the 31st, we see the moon approaching Antares again in the evening sky. On what date in August will the moon pass Antares again?

An excellent aid for learning constellations and keeping up to date with the sky is the monthly "Sky Calendar." A one-year subscription is $6 and is available from Abrams Planetarium, Michigan State University, East Lansing, 48824.

Raymond Bullock was the former coordinator of the planetarium and observatory at the Cranbrook Institute of Science. He now works for a Troy company which specializes in laser displays and effects.

Collectors coming to Beatle-fest in Troy

Thousands are expected to attend the area's first nationally recognized Beatles convention July 21-22 at the Troy Hilton.

The convention's theme is the continuing popularity of Beatles' music, as well as their cultural significance, according to promoter Jeff A. Hale of Blatchford-Hale Productions. Headlining a diverse group of special guests will be Pete Best, the Beatles' original drummer (1960-1962).

In attendance will be a myriad of music collectors, students of popular culture, lifelong fans and others.

Special guests will include John Sinclair, known for his close association with John Lennon during the early '70s, as well as for his "New Left" writings; Russ Gibb, the first American broadcaster to go on the air with the "Paul McCartney is dead" rumor in October of 1969; and

M.L. Liebler, a poet and authority on the poetry of Lennon.

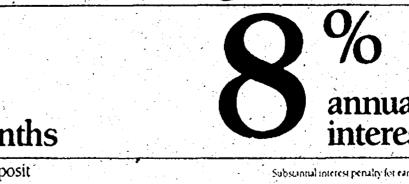

A "collector's marketplace." featuring some of North America's largest dealers of licensed Beatles' memorabilia, will be in operation throughout the convention.

Based upon a $75,000 purchase price, a $15,000 (20%) down payment and a $60,000 loan balance, here's an example of how the program would work. The first year's interest rate of 8.50% would amount to twelve payments of $461.35. For the thirteenth through eighty third payments, the interest rate would increase to 950%, making the payments $504.52. The final payment

T'S IMPOSSIBLE to take in everything the first time you visit Marvin's Marvelous Mechanical Museum.

From old-time nickelodeon machines to modern-day_video_games, neon and airplane rides. Marvin has it all.

During the past decade, Marvin Yagoda, 52, has seen his dream come true. But not without a struggle. A pharmacist by trade, the 20-year Farmington Hills resident has had a love for collecting antique machines that dates back to his college dáys.

It was then, during his years at the University of Michigan, that Yagoda discovered a nearby arcade with old nickelodeon machines. His interest was sparked.

Though he has collected the machines ever since, it was not until 1980 that Yagoda put his first machine out for the public. He set it up In what was then Tally Hall, on Orchard Lake Road, just south of 14 Mile.

BUT IN late 1988, Schostak Brothers & Co., the Southfield-based managing agent for Tally Hall, announced the Farmington Hills festival food court would be closing.

Yagoda knew he had to find another place to go, but he never dreamed it would take so long.

Now, 11/2 years later, he has finally reopened for business. The entertainment haven is just behind the F&M health and beauty aids store that filled some of the space Tally Hall's closing left behind. "They rent me square feet, but I 'take advantage of the cubic feet," he said.

'I'm a teaser.' he'll tell you. 'What do you think I have a place like this for? Because I'm normal?'

appeared in the recent hit movie "Big."

Whatever you like, Yagoda has it.

HOWARD WEISSMAN of Southfield brought his mother to play pinball.

"I love it," Belle Welssman said. "I like the whole place."

"I love it," said Danny Gottlieb, 12, of West Bloomfield. "They have cool stuff and people can hang out here."

Danny's mother comes to the arcade for her son, but admits she likes it herself.

"I happen to love the antiques, the neon signs," Arlene Gottlieb said. She's an antique collector as well. Sherry Haffner of West Bloomfield loves the jukebox. "I love the jukebox with the oldies in it," she said. "I've probably put more money in it than my kids have put in the machines."

YAGODA HAS a little bit of evervthing, and it comes from all over. One of his most recent acquisitions was one of his most difficult. He fi-

AND HE certainly does. Model airplanes hang from the ceiling, huge banners adorn the walls and arcade games cover the floor.

His machines date from the 1890s to the present.

If you like the latest and the most unusual in video games, he has it. Step aboard the Galaxy Force, a video game where you are literally a part of it all. The game rotates and moves the player with the action. It's one of only 20 like it in the United States.

OR MAYBE you prefer music. Drop a quarter in the slot and you can listen to a self-playing banjo. • Or try the juke box that plays music from the '50s and '60s out of the back of a Cadillac from the era. Is magic your thing? Watch Merlin the Magician change a frog into a bird.

Maybe you believe in the supernatural. You can have your fortune told by Zoltan. A Zoltan machine

Help salute creativity; these gardens special

THOUGHTS I'D like to share:

• Creative lifestyles - It's called Creative Living. And it's a kaleidoscope of the creative ways you and your neighbors live.

4 It's the section of the Observer & Eccentric you're reading. And I like to think of it as a special reflection of the creativity each of us possesses to one degree or another.

Some are writers. Others are artists or artisans. Many are musicians. A few are designers or history buffs. No matter. If they live in the diverse communities served by the O&E, chances are we'll profile them or their work.

Of course, we first have to learn about these creative lifestyles - by press release, personal note or conversation.

And that's where you, our readers, come in. If you're a reader of our Southfield, Farmington, Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Redford, Plymouth or Canton editions, and you know a local person whose creative talents or achievements are

But there's another lure that's a labor of love for the Friends for Development of Greenmead and the Livonia Preservation Historical Commission: the community gardens at Joshua Simmons' 19th-century homestead.

By Amy Rauch staff writer

If you want to know what time it is, you might want to drop by at the Busses in Canton Township and take a peek at any one of the 20 clocks around their house.

SHARON LeMIEUX/staff photographer

Time fanatics, you're thinking. No. They're clockmakers.

For the past five years, Laurie and Gene have kept busy making clocks - about 300 a year - out of oak and pine. Gene takes care of the woodcutting, staining, sanding and varnishing. And Laurie adds the finishing touches with a bit of wood burning and the sweep of a paint brush.

"It's relaxing," Gene said. "I like to work with wood."

He learned a little of what he knows from his grandfather, who worked with wood. But most of what he knows he learned through his interest in clocks. "I've seen enough clocks to know what is done," he said.

The clocks come in just about every shape and size. If you collect frogs, like to sail or you're a big fan of the University of Michigan, they have just the one for you.

They offer about 50 different styles of clocks including their latest - a sheep. People had been requesting a clock in the shape of a sheep for over a year,

Gene points to his "pride and joy," an oak clock shaped like the state of Michigan. He says he sells a fair share of these, most recently to a couple of exchange students.

THE BUSSES wait for special requests before they make certain unusual items, because, "you don't want a penguin hanging in your kitchen if you don't collect Disney characters.

The Busses, Canton residents for eight years, set up a booth at about 20 craft shows every year. Today through Saturday, they will be under the big tent literally - in the Downtown Farmington Center parking lot at the Farmington-Farmington Hills Founders Festival.

Though they love making clocks, the Busses will tell you that they enjoy the people end of the business best. "Just about everywhere you go, it's not how many clocks you sell, but the people you meet," Gene said.

But for as skilled as they are, the couple will assure you, they're not artists. And patterns for the different style clocks can be the most difficult part of the project. "We look for pictures everywhere," Laurie said.

Most of the patterns are originals, drawn by friends and Laurie's father. A few have even come from their kids coloring books.

"We're not artistic," Laurie said. "Some of the characters are funny-looking, but we figure it's part of our style."

GENE CAN'T tell you exactly how long it takes himto make a clock. He spends about two hours on his hobby each night after coming home from Ford Motor Co., where he works as a supervisor in the order control department. And he doesn't work on just one at a time, but rather, 10 or 15.

It takes up a lot of his free time, "Some nights, he disappears for two hours." Laurie said. Gene "disappears" into the garage where he listens to country western music while he works.

There's a lot more to it than meets the eye, Gene will tell you. "People look at it and think there's nothing to it but numbers," he said. "There's a whole lot more ( penguins," Gene said. And they will fill just about any order, as long as it doesn't interfere with copyright laws. Laws have kept them from making clocks, for example, in the shape of nally found what he was looking for — a machine called Hawkins Magic Fingers — in England. Four silver hands inside the machine grab prizes.

Yagoda doesn't have it out for the : public yet, but plans to soon.

HE ACQUIRES all of his antiques through people he knows.

"To some people, it's junk. Others like it. Some come in and say, 'Here, we found this in the basement.'"

Yagoda also sports more than 60 neon signs as well as carnival banners that date back to the 1920s.

YOU CERTAINLY could never accuse Yagoda of not being creative. Set foot in the door and look di*'I love the jukebox with the oldies in it. I've probably put more money in it than my kids have put in the machines.'*

> - Sherry Haffner West Bloomfied

BUT WITH all fun aside, restoration of the old machines can be quite a task. Especially for Yagoda, who claims he is not mechanically inclined. At least, he didn't used to be.

"I like mechanical things because I'm so unmechanical. But by matter of necessity, you learn about things." Yagoda strives for the unusual. Next he'll add a hot air balloon. The balloon will hang from the ceiling, he said, with people falling out of it., "It's so unusual that you wouldn't believe it. I think everyone wants to be a little unusual."

AS MUCH as he enjoys it, Yagoda said he's in the business to entertain others.

Asked about his favorite, he'll pause and tell you it's probably the self-playing banjo, though his mind is likely to change at any minute, "I like all of these things. I like to see people amused and entertained."

With all it has to offer, Yagoda said the museum appeals to anyone younger than 90 — that is, "as long as they have a little kid in them."

Dreamer looks toward riverfront

By Amy Rauch staff writer

As if running Marvin's Marvelous Mechanical Museum in Farmington Hills wasn't enough, Marvin Yagoda also owns and runs Sam's Drugs in Detroit.

Yagoda's father opened the store in 1928. Following in family footsteps, Yagoda went on to earn his bachelor of science degree in pharmacy from the University of Michigan in 1961.

Yagoda never really thought about what he wanted to be, he said. He watched his father work hard for many years, and then one day, "There I was," and a part of the business from then on. YAGODA TOOK over where his father left off after he died in the early 1960s. That's where he has been until he edged his way into the entertainment business in 1987, when he began his efforts toward his mechanical museum.

rectly up. Yagoda has decorated the ceiling with unused pinball boards from a pinball factory in Chicago.

"I'm a teaser," he'll tell you.

"What do you think I have a place like this for? Because I'm normal?"

What's more, they light up at night.

Yagoda still manages to devote about 20 hours a week to the pharmacy. It's a people business and he loves it.

"It's still an old-time neighborhood pharmacy where people can come in and we know them by name."

BUT HE enjoys the variety in his life.

"Now I'm filling in with other things. I like to do a little of everything." Yagoda also is active within the Detroit community, acting as president of the Northwest Area Business Assocation for 15 years and now serving as its chairman.

The group has helped provide scholarships for Detroit students as well as food for the hungry during the holiday season.

FOR THE past three years, Yagoda, with partners Mike Kratchman and Howard Weisman of Southfield, and the support of Detroit city planner Alex Pollack, has been trying to run a ferry on the Detroit River.

Yagoda wants to bring a little of his hobby to the project. He plans to fill the waiting room of the barge with antique games from his muse-

"I thought it would be fun to have an old-time atmosphere on the barge."

BUT IT might be a while before the plan becomes a reality.

"It's been a really tough thing. You're dealing with two cities, two counties and two countries."

Along with his partners, Yagoda is now working with the Canadian government to launch the ferry. It's too late for this year, he said, as the season is only 100 days long. "We're hoping to have it going for next year."

Yagoda lives with his wife, Jean, and his son, Jeremy, in Farmington Hills.

SHARON LEMIEUX/stall photographer

Marvin Yagoda said he likes the variety in the games thembelves as well as the fact his games are different prices — one cent, five cents. 10 cents. 25 cents.

Frankenthaler exhibit covers 36-year period

"Helen Frankenthaler: A Paintings_Retrospective," at the Detroit istitute of Arts through Sept. 2, featores key works by this major Amer-Ican artist done between 1952 and 1088.

C The art, drawn from public and private collections, reveals the range of her work, from the landmark soak-stain canvases of the 1950s to her darker works of recent years. It is the first full-scale museam exhibition since 1969 of Frankenhaler's paintings.

"Frankenthaler stands at the juncfure of abstract expressionism and color field painting although she has pever affiliated herself with either movement," said Jan van der March, DIA curator of 20th century art, who is in charge of the show here.

FEATURED IN the exhibition is Mountains and Sea" (1952), the most famous of Frankenthaler's works, which introduced the techplque of pouring thinned-down paint. directly on unprimed canvas so that The canvas absorbed it. Her paintings in the 1960s became more abstract. "Swan Lake I" (1961) marked a rare moment in Frankenthaler's work in which she developed a series of pictures around a particular image or theme. The "swans" in this large painting are white, unpainted areas of canvas, their shapes defined by the blue paint of the surrounding areas.

"Salome" (1978) is the last of the four mid-1970s works in the exhibition in which the artist used a dense surface of overlapping areas of paint.

Both the large color areas and the smaller color accents seem to shift in and out spatially and to flow over and behind adjacent zones. This sense of movement and transparent layering or "veils" give the work its title.

THE EXHIBITION was organized by the Modern Art Museum of Fort Worth, Fort Worth, Texas. This is its final tour stop."

A catalog is available at the DIA Museum Shop. The DIA's Frankenthaler painting, "The Bay," is fea-tured on a permanent collection poster. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Use color to make parties come to life

Q. My favorite way of entertaining is to give small dinner parties. I'm always looking for new ideas to make these occasions special. Is there something different you might suggest involving possibilities: you can either match the dominant color? My apartment is quite small but it does include a dining area.

A. By all means, a well-thought-out color harmony will help to make your luncheon and dinner parties out of the ordinary. But you first have to think of your table and buffet as engaging all of the visual senses, and not just color. Approach this as an artist would, balancing color with textures and shapes, and coordinating these elements with an overall theme or composition.

The composition is derived not only from the various ways a table can be set, but also from the style of dinnerware and table accessories. Today's choices are limitless, from traditional English, casual contemporary, to sleek Eurostyle patterns.

Once you decide on your look and are willing to make the necessary investment to carry out the theme, you automatically move into the arena of color. Each style is usually manufactured in a range of colors considered appropriate to its look. For example, Formal English styles utilize softer colors on porcelain while the sleek Eurostyles feature either black or bright colors on earthenware. Each pattern and color combination opens up two color for the tablecloth and accessories, or complement or contrast it.

The whole matter might be concluded at this point if it were not for the matter of considering colors that are appetite enhancing.

Research has shown that reds, oranges and yellows in somewhat subdued and pale variations, such as coral and peach, help to generate or at least sustain an appetite. So do lightly blue-cast greens and blues, even though they are not directly associated with food.

The colors that turn off appetites are the sharp yellow-greens and purples. White remains a neutral foil for food. But black, despite its recent popularity in tabletop, has a negative meaning for many people, Variations on these appetite-enhancing colors; such as pink, very pale yellow and caramel (a yellow-orange) are specifically-linked to a sense of sweetness. Bitterness, on the other hand, is conveyed through very dark and bright greens and very bright yellow.

You can combine both your sense of style with appetite-enhancing colors by searching out dinnerware patterns that include some of these colors. Or you can use clear glass or white dinnerware set on either a tablecloth or placemats in color combinations with appetite appeal.

"All about color" is a regular feature in Creative Living.

. . . think of your table and buffet as engaging all of the visual senses, and not just color.

Horowitz named top building entrepreneur

Getting started in the development/building able terms during the recession while most builders business in the early 1980s, when the industry had gone sour locally, turned out to be a good move for Michael P. Horowitz and Steven Friedman.

Since founding The Selective Group in 1983, they've built or have in process some 750 houses and condominiums and more than two dozen commercial projects with an aggregate value in excess of $150 million.

Horowitz, 40, a Bloomfield Township resident, recently was honored as Construction/Real Estate Entrepreneur of the Year in the Detroit area by the professional services firm of Ernst & Young.

"If there's anything obvious about all of the entrepreneurs of the year, the common thing is they're totally customer driven," said Joseph Valenti, a financial consultant at Merrill Lynch who nominated Horowitz.

"The break they (Horowitz and Friedman) got is they made a decision when other people were afraid to act. That took a lot of guts. It was a tough decision to make at that time. It was fighting the trend."

HOROWITZ, A successful commercial real estate broker, and Friedman, who owned a building company, joined forces after Friedman had done some remodeling work on Horowitz's house.

Horowitz's business capabilities and Friedman's expertise in the construction end proved to be a good match.

"Originally the idea was he would build some houses, sell them at a profit and pay overhead," Horowitz said. "I, like a kept mistress, could go out and develop some shopping centers."

WHAT REALLY paid dividends was the decision to acquire lots from financial institutions at favor-were sitting on the sidelines, Horowitz said.

"The market began to turn around and we were well positioned." he said.

Their first house was a $250,000 spec model in West Bloomfield. Their first commercial endeavor was the Riverbank Square Shopping Center in Plymouth Township, Horowitz said.

The Selective Group, headquartered in Farmington Hills, now employs 60.

They have built in residential subdivisions like Maplewood II and Stonebridge in West Bloomfield, High Oaks in Troy, Woodlore North in Plymouth and The Essex Club in Farmington Hills.

Commercial projects include Redford Square, the Berkshire Hotel in Southfield, Plymouth Trade Center, Plymouth Executive Park and Knollwood Office Park in Birmingham.

"THE PART of the business I do the most and H enjoy the most is finding the deal," Horowitz said. "It's my art form of sorts. I can interact with peon ple. I like the action."

Horowitz, unlike some big-time developers and builders, personally appears before municipal boards and commissions on mundane business that often is delegated to underlings. He likes to keep lines of communication open.

"Political interaction is getting pretty frustrating," Horowitz said. "When there is good dialogue, good communication, some communities make their goals clear. They understand our problems. In my opinion, you get better development because of that interaction.<sup>2</sup>

pring Homearama nets sales

Attendance of at least 65,000 during the 24-day run of the Spring Homearama, which ended Sunday, surpassed the expectations of show organizers and drew raves from the builders who participated.

About 50,000 had been expected to walk through the 10 models constructed in the Pheasant Run subdivision of Shelby Township.

Both figures were provided by Rosalie Lamb, show coordinator for the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

Comments from James Rutkowski, a Rochester Hills builder, were typical. "We had a ton of traffic. I had a lot of interested customers."

Rutkowski said he's had an offer to buy his model - Kingsley Estate - at the Homearama site and eight serious inquiries to build the model in other locations.

"People kept telling me this is home, this is the home I want," Rutkowski said. "I actually had two customers Saturday whose wives said, 'I want this house and I want it now.' "

"IT WENT real well for us," concurred Paul McGillivray, a Rochester Hills builder who constructed the Bradford model for Homearama. "We had nice traffic and met people who are interesting. We sold a couple of houses."

Most people who attended Homearama weren't in the market to buy now but were looking for ideas for future moves or remodeling.

"The purpose is to showcase new houses and to show the general public what builders are capable of doing in today's market," Lamb said.

The Windemere Model, built by GTR Builders/Columbia Homes, narrowly edged The Weathervane, constructed by Gemcraft Homes, as the most desirable home in the show according to an informal people's choice poll.

Both builders are based in Mount Clemens.

_a;__a

THE WINDEMERE, four bedrooms and three baths with more than 3,750 square feet, is a two-story colonial.

The great room contains a vaulted ceiling, marble fireplace and two-story circular glass windows.

The master bedroom suite also has a high vaulted ceiling, veranda, whirlpool and oversized shower.

Other amenities include den with bay window and built-in bookcases, plus an oak circular staircase leading to the second floor bridgeway.

"They were really impressed with the great room, the height of it and a spectacular view from the bridge looking down," said Gaetano T. Rizzo, who built the Windemere.

Marble floors in the foyer and kitchen also drew raves, he added.

The model and lot sold to a family relocating from Ohio for $385,000, Rizzo said.

Color provides decorating magic

(AP) - Color is the magic element in home decorating. It can create an illusion of light and space, add excitement to lifeless rooms and lull the serises with suggestions of rich. textures.

Love of color predates the written word, as the ancient cave paintings of Lascaux, France, reveal. By 4500 B.C., the Egyptians were dying linen mummy cloths in deep indigo blue," said Lyn Peterson, adding tongue-in-cheek, "the first designer sheets." By the 17th century, the interior designer said, Sir Isaac Newton had established that the human eye can discern at least 10 million hues from an infinite spectrum.

Despite man's longstanding affinity for color, few people know how to use it to enhance their homes. They have little problem choosing what they like, said Peterson. Their insecurity comes with trying to select the right shade and combine it with others.

Peterson, co-founder of the Motif Designs wallcovering and interior design firm, offers these color tips:

 Successful rooms usually center on tones from one dominant color family. Use a contrasting color only as an accent, and use it sparing-Iy to avoid a patchwork effect. A cohesive palette can blend furnishings of different periods and styles. Gen-erally, the smaller the form the more intense the color can be.

• Color proportions are as important as the color. "Picture a cool gray room with a hot red accent, versus a warm red room touched with neutral gray - two very different spaces in the same two-tone scheme."

• Larger masses in the room sofas, draperles and cabinetry have a strong presence. Unless you want these to dominate, select restrained colors.

• Choose a color in keeping with a room's purpose. Enliven an entry with bold tones but choose a quieter. hue for kitchen or bedroom, where you spend a lot of time.

• Use color to rearrange space. Contrasting paint or paper on one wall breaks up a square room's boxiness. Monochromatic (single color) schemes can camouflage decorating problems such as columns or ceiling pipes. Play up an architectural strong point like a fireplace or window bay by painting it two shades lighter or darker than the rest of the room.

To visually expand a room, • choose light tones. Use flowing solid colors for paint or a small pattern wallcovering that does not stop the eye. Aggressive tones make a room seem smaller.

A LIGHTER LOOK both indoors and out is the trend, according to Ken Charbonneau of Benjamin Moore & Co., Montvale, N.J. To lighten raw wood floors, trim, doors, cabinets and furniture, Charbonneau suggests an oil-based stain in one of several pastel tints. It gives the excitement of color without masking the wood grain.

By controling the amount of stain applied or by applying it, then wiping it off, it's possible to vary the effect. Experiment on a small area until you get the look you want, said Charbonneau.

As the average American home gets smaller, families must learn to live in more modest spaces with little architectural interest. But small doesn't have to be boring.

A small room, for example, doesn't have to be white, said New York interior designer Bunny Williams. Paint the walls a soft salmon color and the woodwork creamy white for an illusion of spaciousness without boredom. "Light colors make you less aware of those low ceilings that are the norm in today's housing market," she said, Select a uniform color for the floors, preferably a light shade, said. Sally Sirkin Lewis of Los Angeles. Wall-to-wall carpet makes a room appear larger than would several small scatter rugs.

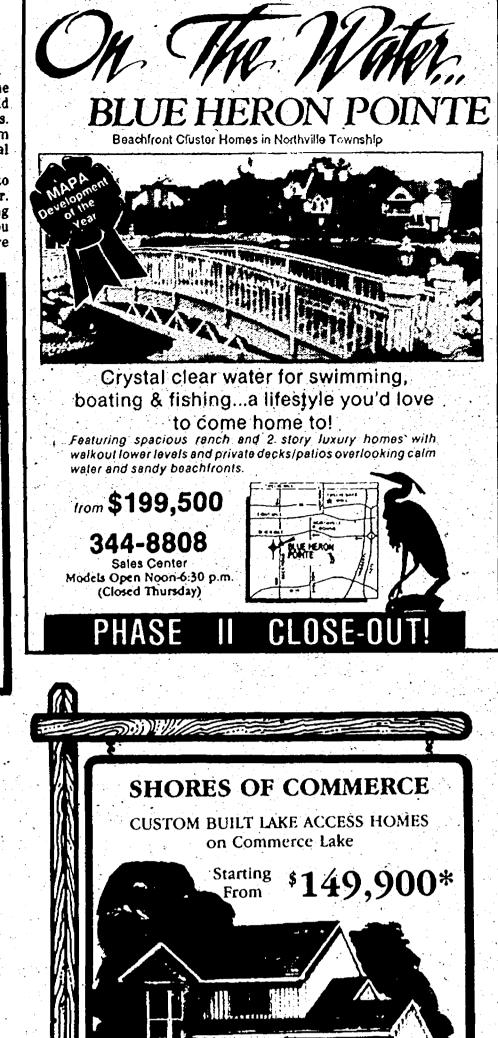

Noel Jeffrey uses artwork to make a small space seem larger. "Hang a large mural or a painting that has depth," he said, "and you are fooled into thinking that you're looking into something.

magazine recommends a factorybuilt house.

While manufacturers market factory-built houses primarily as fulltime residences, most also sell småller models from 800 to 1,500 square feet, ideal for get-aways. Homes reputable suppliers build are equal in quality to conventionally built structures.

The three major types of factory-

Midwest Living es are engineered and produced at factories according to the buyers' style and specifications, then trucked to home sites.

Factory-built houses assemble faster than their conventionally built counterparts. A shell for a small house takes from one day to two weeks to complete. A finished vacation-size home usually requires an average of about four to six weeks to put together, depending on the type

MANY OF THESE houses cost less than conventionally built houses. Prices range from about $15 per square foot for the simplest oneroom cabin to more than $100 per square foot for a luxury chalet. Though finished prices depend on size and the amount of detail wanted, it's not unreasonable to expect a simple kit-type vacation house to be half as expensive as a comparable new stud-built house.

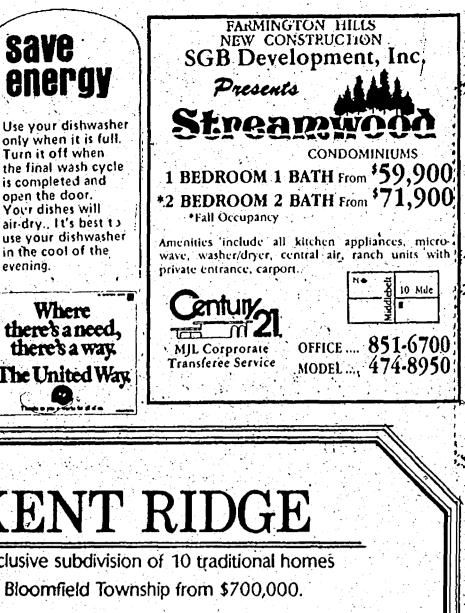

Although colors and patterns of a number of components can be specifled, remember that when a factorybuilt house is ordered, very little about the house can be changed once

A modular house is almost completely assembled and finished at the factory. It is usually in two sections and nearly complete, including a finished interior. Carpet, wall coverings and even appliances will be in place. Crews join the sections into a single structure.

Panelized houses aren't as quick to construct, but they're close. Manufacturers supply wall and roof panels with windows and doors hung, and with exterior sheathing, insulation, wiring and interior drywall in place. A construction crew, usually aided by a crane; sets the panels on a foundation and bolts the whole thing

The good news? More and more people, businesses and industries are finding ways to recycle.

It takes more than 6,000 tons of newsprint each year to print The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers plus a number of other publications, so we're doing a number of things to help the solid waste situation:

1. For years we've sold our waste newsprint to a recycling firm.

2.25% of the newsprint we print on is recycled and we're increasing this amount by another 25% this year. 3. Our employees have begun to routinely put officer paper (memos, computer paper, waste copy paper) in recycle bins instead of waste baskets.
Of course, we still deliver thousands of newspapers twice each week. It's our business to bring you news of your local government, schools, sports scene and community events; the news you need to know.

And when you're finished reading your hometown newspaper there are places that will recycle them.

What do an apple, a cow, and a car door have in common?

Recycled newspapers play a role in all three. Apple growers in the northwest use recycled newsprint for packing, farmers use it for bedding instead of straw and auto manufacturers use it in car doors.

Select hardware for form, not just function

(AP) — No matter what type of bouse you're building, the right hardware will go a long way toward creating just the decorating touch you want.

The extensive list of reproduction items available today includes things such as colonial and Victorian thumb latch sets, door knobs and plates, and hinges.

'Thanks to the few skilled craftsmen who've kept yesterday's acceptable in many old-house appli-

To our ancestors, these pieces of were no rules as, to the right or metal were a necessary part of life. In early colonial times, for example, a man had to see the blacksmith before the preacher to ensure that he would have the hardware for the new house he was building for his bride. Considered trousseau items, many pleces from the 17th and 18th centuries were decorated with hearts.

wrong way of doing things. They basically used what they had. That's why it wasn't unusual to see locks made for leithanded doors installed upside down to serve a righthanded door.

The heyday of the blacksmith waned as machines, factories and foundries became prevalent.

Today, builders and restorers are lucky to find a good mix of both

It's important to note that people weren't as critical back then as we are today. Since we're used to seeing machine-produced hardware, we expect things to be symmetrical. Obviously, this wasn't the case years ago, when everything was done by hand. For example, it's guite common to see an original pair of andirons with over 200 years ago at places like pleces match and sides are even. Here's a compliation of some of the lesser known products and services some hardware stores provide. • Lamp rewiring. Lamps found in thrift stores or grandpa's attic can be returned to service. But keep in mind that lamps bought abroad need the wiring changed to be compatible with U.S. circuitry.

• Rebuilt appliances. Where do old vacuum cleaners go when they're traded in for new models? Check your neighborhood hardware store.

These may not be state-of-the-art appliances, but they come with a warranty, and cost considerably less than the newer models.
