Another candidate in Tuesday's primary is Deborah Miller, who hasn't mounted a campaign.

The winner of the Democratic primary will face Republican Gerald Cox of Garden City, who is unopposed in the primary.

ON THE Republican side, Burl Adkins of Southgate is seeking his second consecutive nomination and the right to oppose longtime U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, on Nov. 6. Adkins has been critical of the tax abatements approved for the Mazda auto plant in Flat Rock, which opened several years ago.

Adkins is opposed by Westland insurance agent Glen Kassel, who won two congressional nominations in the mid-1980s.

Ford, in the U.S. House for 26 years, is unopposed in the primary. In past general elections, he has won re-election by 3-1 margins.

State Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, has a ballot foe in James Stamps Sr. of Belleville, who has done virtually no campaigning. Faust, a former Nankin Township supervisor and member of the board of trustees, is seeking his seventh four-year term.

There are no Republicans seeking the senate seat.

a new name and a new mission.

Officials of Dearborn-based Oakwood United Hospitals signed a 28year lease for the medical center that went into effect yesterday. Oakwood already owns 70 percent of Westland Health Network, the medi-cal center owner.

The hospital's new name is Annapolls Hospital-Westland Center and it will operate as a division of Annapolis Hospital in Wayne.

The Westland Center, on Merriman between Michigan Avenue and Palmer, will have three separate specialty areas: behavioral medicine and mental health services, family medicine services and 24-hour emer-

The change is the second major one for the institution, known as Wayne County General Hospital for more than a century. It was sold by the county in the mid-1980s to avert an $18 million annual deficit.

The hospital's present medical/ surgical and acute care staff will be consolidated with Annapolis Hospital's physicians and staff.

The community will benefit from the change, said Carla O'Malley, Annapolis chief executive officer. "We're bringing something to the community that hasn't been here be-

Along with a greater emphasis on substance abuse, eating disorders and bedwetting, which come under the category of behavioral medicine, the Westland Center will have four additional physicians under its roof.

THE IDEA is to provide generalpractice family doctors in a hospital setting. "It's hard to find a family doctor in this area," O'Malley said. "We're going to have the whole family being able to be treated here. We're bringing something to the community that hasn't been here before."

Frederick J. Barten, president of Oakwood United Hospitals, agreed. "The arrangement will result in more efficient and effective individual health care for everyone in the area," he said.

While many people have or will switch jobs or work places to make the new deal work, O'Malley said few will be out of work. "There are some staffing adjustments that have been necessary," she said. "(But) there are a number of opportunities for professional staff."

Faust faces token opposition

election '90

State Sen. William Faust, one of the longest-serving members in the legislature, isn't worried about winning a seventh four-year term

Faust, a Westland Democrat, has token competition in the Aug. 7 primary and no Republican opposition in the fall.

While Faust and his supporters have put up several campaign signs, his opponent, James Stamps Sr., of Belleville, has admitted to the Observer that he hasn't done any campaigning in an effort to unseat Faust, who has served nearly 24 years in the senate.

Stamps also ran in the senate primary four years ago and was routed by Faust. In the current campaign, Stamps, a pilot, failed to return a call to the Observer which asked for more information about his candidacy.

There is no Republican candidate in the senate district, meaning the winner of the Democratic primary will be automatically elected to the senate Nov. 6.

Faust, first elected to the senate in 1966, represents Westland and five other cities and three townships in western Wayne County.

To no one's surprise, Faust, who was senate majority leader for a record eight years, has been endorsed by numerous union and business groups. They include the Michigan Farm Bureau, Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce, Michigan Federation of Teachers, Wayne County UAW-CAP, and the AFL-CIO.

Faust now serves on the senate commerce/technology, economic development, and capitol commit-

HE SAID he was instrumental in getting the Michigan Truck Safety Act approved last year as well legislation to educate young people, particularly young athletes, about the dangers of steroids and increased penalties for their illegal sale and use.

Currently, he is reviewing proposals aimed at rolling back auto insurance rates as vice-chairman of the senate commerce committee. The committee is also reviewing the state's no-fault auto insurance structure.

A wheelchair user since he was injured by a hit-and-run driver in the summer of 1966, Faust is one of the authors of the state's Handi-capper Civil Rights Act. He was also active in working with business groups and handicapper advocates in rectoring parts of the act invalidated by a court decision.

He said he has been a longtime financial supporter of public libraries and helped obtain monies for the new Michigan Library and Historical Museum in Laning.

Looking ahead to a seventh term, Faust said his priorities for the next session will include an environmental agenda which will include recycling goals and incentives for biodegradable packaging.

He also wants to renew efforts toward reforming the state's "burdensome" property tax system.

PAUST, WHO has a journalism degree from the University of Michigan, is a former community newspaper publisher and editor before elected to the Nankin Township board and later township supervisor.

He was in that position in 1964 when he lead a campaign to prevent the neighboring city of Livonia from annexing Westland Center. The fight led to incorporation of the township into the city of Westland in 1966.

"IF YOU compare sales against listings, (Westland) is as good as any area locally," Walter Tabaka, a broker with Camelot Realty of Westland, said. "(Westland) has got good schools you know, stuff like that. It's got all the entitles people would want."

Plymouth-based Re-Max Boardwalk broker Tim Kazy, agreed. "(Westland) is an affordable market compared to Canton and Livonia," he said. "A lot of first time buyers can afford Westland. There are decent schools and everybody seems to sort of like it."

While Kazy and Tabaka said Westland is certainly a mecca for first time home buyers, there is no one type of buyer dominating the market. Some buyers are retirees. Others are people leaving Detroit who were rejected twice this year by votcan't afford the more expensive ers. neighborhoods.

Don Castelli of Garden City-based Century 21 Castelli said he's dealt with some retirees who returned to Westland after a year or two in Florida. "They miss the area and their friends," he said. "There are so many things the city has going for it. It gives you the best of a lot of the possible worlds."

RON PATTERSON of Garden City-based Metro West Real Estate said he thinks Westland's population is getting older, but not because seniors are moving in so much as be cause people tend to stay in Westland once there.

"It is a community that is becoming heavy with the older people but only because of the age of the community," he said.

Unlike the other brokers, however, Patterson isn't 100 percent rah-rah about the Westland real estate market. He has received "three or four" phone calls in the last few weeks from people who say they want to leave Westland because of a school tax renewal and an increase that :

The callers told Patterson, he said, they want to leave the city because they think the quality of Wayne-Westland schools will now decrease. None of the other brokers contacted reported similar phone calls.

SWAP offers new life to troubled youths

At today's swim party, 40 youngsters and a group of counselors from the Livonia and Wayne-Westland school districts who didn't know each other five weeks ago will say good-by.

The party is the final fun activity of a summer school program at Emerson Middle School aimed at helping troubled adolescents. Emerson is in the Livonia district and serves the northern section of West-

While the party signals the end of this year's Summer Workshop on Awareness and Prevention (SWAP), the counselors hope it signals a new beginning for the sixth, seventh and eight graders who took part in the program.

We can't just say goodbye to these kids," said Lynn Kleiman, one of two co-directors of SWAP. "The program is the start of a life-long process to build good life skills. They know here they are cared about, accepted. This is a first step for them."

THE YOUNGSTERS from the two school districts plus Northville were dentiality or the program wouldn't recommended for the program by school counselors. All are dealing with some type of problem, either academic, family or social.

Each weekday in July the youngsters gathered at Emerson for activities which accentuated teamwork and which encouraged them to talk about their feelings, attitudes and habits.

Stilec, a SWAP co-director. "We help them to get it out and work with it. Some of these kids have been told, 'don't talk about family problems, don't trust, don't feel.' We tell them to talk about what's going on with them, and learn to express what they're feeling."

SWAP, now in its fifth year and sponsored by the Livonia-Westland Community Commission on Drug Abuse, Livonia Public Schools, Wayne-Westland Community Schools and Northville Public Schools, puts a high priority on therapy.

The students divide their time between art and recreational therapy and daily group therapy.

This summer, the youngsters tiedyed T-shirts, played volley ball, and started every session shouting loud and noisy slogans called "energiz-

Before the program started, the staff members interviewed the parents to find out about their children.

With the program now over, staff members are now recommending to each school district the best way the youngsters can be helped once school starts this fall. This may include school or outside counseling.

A 15-YEAR-OLD grocery store bagger was assaulted at 4:15 p.m. Saturday in Westland. He told police a man rode up to him on a bicycle and fell down.

When the man got to his feet, he yelled at the victim and pushed him. The victim said the suspect followed him inside the supermarket, pushed him again and hit him in the face.

Police found the suspect was wanted on a misdemeanor warrant from the Hillsdale Police Department. Hillsdale police declined to pick up the man, so Westland police dropped him off in at the Garden City City Park, on Cherry Hill and Merriman, where he said he would meet his wife.

Area teenager setting stage for career in theater

By M.B. Dillon staff writer

For breakfast, served after reveille at 6 a.m., there were slimy eggs, brick toast and waffles. Lunch was really disgusting too, with entrees like doctored yeal.

Dinner consisted of such dishes as cold macaroni and cheese the consistency of rubber, "really sick" mashed potatoes and sloppy joes made from leftover chili.

But as David Burtka of Canton sees it, stomaching the food at Interlochen is just part of the price to be paid if you want to end up on Broadway some day.

THE 15-YEAR-OLD actor, singer and dancer survived his stay last where we had to take notes and of his grandmother, Eleanor Zajas, tended a two-week musical theater sity of Michigan.

The tough assignments weren't reserved for the cafeteria.

"Interlochen was lots of fun; it was hard work though. It's one of the hardest things I've ever done," said Burtka, who has been acting professionally since he was 12 years old.

For the 17 teens chosen from throughout the state for the special program, instruction started with a stretch/jazz class at 8 a.m., followed by a vocal class where students learned 16-bar auditions actually used on Broadway.

To top off their two weeks, the actors performed the musical — which featured "Coffee Break" from "How to Succeed in Business without Really Trying;" "No One is Alone" from "Into the Woods;" and a tap number called "City of Angels" from a new Broadway show for their parents and other students.

"After lunch was rest time, where we had to sleep. We needed the rest," said Burtka, who received his first "Then we had a lecture class, lessons in tap dancing compliments

"We learned a lot of stuff about Broadway."

In addition to performing with the Peanut Butter Players, a theater group geared for young audiences based at the downtown Players Club, Burtka has appeared at the Baldwin Theatre in Royal Oak and the Marquis Theater in Northville, where at age 12 he played "John" in "Peter Pan." (While in a harness singing. "I'm Flying" at the end of Act I, the wire broke, and Burtka beat the curtain to the floor. He luckily escaped with just a few bruises.)

Burtka, an accomplished gymnast and swimmer, has had numerous lead roles in Plymouth Park Players productions.

Burtka credits his East Middle School chorus teacher, Shelby Holcomb, with getting him involved in theater.

"She encouraged me to pursue it. She helped me out; she's really a neat person," said Burtka, who performed in solos, small groups, plays, chorus, dances and concerts at East. .

There was lots of ribbing back then from boys at school, less from the girls.

"I did get a lot of teasing because I wasn't in basketball or football; I. liked to sing and dance," said Burtka. "I hope I get famous one day and can laugh in their face."

In high school, he has enjoyed working with drama coach Gloria Logan. "We're so lucky to have these ladies. She's one of the best directors I've ever worked with," said Burtka, a fan of Fred Astaire and Gene Kelly.

Burtka, who lives with his parents and 18-year-old sister, Jennifer, says he knew the stage was for him from

"It was scary at first, but once I'm on stage, it's like no one's out there. It's what I love to do; I knew it right from the start.

"I love the applause, the lights, the costumes, everything about it. Just being up there.

"When I get out of high school, I'd like to major in drama at Western," added the Salem sophomore. "I'd like to teach if I can't make it big; I think-I'd be a good teacher. First I'll try Broadway. It's a big world out

Kay Beard voted to pay herself $41,396 a year, plus more than $20,000 in hidden benefits, for her part-time job as Wayne County Commissioner!

Kay Beard already makes more than the average full-time county union employee. But, she still voted to give herself a 31% raise while county union employees were forced to settle for 3% increases.

Nor does he favor the goal of House Education Committee chair William Keith, D-Garden City, of eliminating all categorical aid and putting everything in the general state aid formula.

State categorical aid helps cover, Social Security, pension benefits, special education, pregnant teen programs, transportation - 26 categories in all.

Commission race heats up primary

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Western Wayne voters will decide a number of races in the Tuesday, Aug. 7 primary, but they'll have to scan down to the county commission section to find the area's most spirited race.

With no challenger emerging to McNamara, the county's hottest race on the ballot. could be in the commission's 12th district.

There, Kay Beard, D-Inkster, faces a stern test in the Democratic primary. While Westland councilwoman Terri Reighard Johnson is considered the strongest challenger, the ballot also includes Hilliard Hampton Jr., an Inkster school board member and local party activist. Deborah Miller of Garden City is cludes Canton and several other also on the ballot, but has not campaigned for the seat.

The district includes Westland, Garden City and Inkster.

Beard said the race is an effort by county—Executive Edward McNamara to unseat her and pack the commission with McNamara supporters. Challengers, however, have characterized Beard as oldfashioned and out-of-touch with constituent needs.

Beard's traditionally strong support from union households, veterans groups and party regulars would appear to make her the favorite, but the outcome could turn on who gets their voters to the polls.

A STRONG performance by Reighard. Johnson in Westland and Hampton in Inkster could spell an upset. Though the winner will face Republican Gerald Cox of Garden City, a Democratic primary win almost guarantees election in the heavily Democratic district.

It would be considered a bigger upset if former state Rep. Jack Legel of Detroit unseats incumbent Commissioner Kevin Kelley, D-Redford, in the 9th District race. Kelley, winner in a special election last year to fill the unexpired balance of Richard Manning's term is backed by AFL-CIO and UAW groups, as well as county sheriff's deputies and Detroit police and fire fighters.

The winner will gain the seat in the fall. The mostly Democratic district that includes Redford and a section of western Detroit. No Reputake on county Executive Edward bicans or third party candidates are

> In another commission race of note, GOP candidates Linda Chuhran and Victor Gustafson both of Canton, face each other in their party's 11th district primary. Chuhran is a former township clerk. Gustafson is vice chairman of the township planning commission. The winner will meet incumbent Milton Mack, D-Wayne, in the fall. The district incommunities

In the 10th district, Commissioner Susan Heintz, R-Northville Township, faces no challengers of any party in her bid for a third term. The district includes Livonia, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Northville and Northville Township.

With no race of his own, McNamara has turned his attention to another ballot issue — a 1-mill county operating tax renewal.

Levied since the mid-1960s, the 1mill tax would be renewed through 2000, should voters say yes.

Though subject to Headlee roll-back, the 1-mill tax raises an estimated $24 million. Without it, McNamara said, the county might have to close a floor of the county jail and curtail senior citizen, park and health care programs.

The 1-mill levy translated to $37.50 a year on a home assessed at $75,000.

The 1-mill voted levy is part of 8.07-mills in county taxes. The figure includes 6.07 mills in non-voted operating taxes and an additional 1 mill, approved by voters in 1988 to build a new county jail.

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better . . . and so will your child.

- 1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
- 2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
- 3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
- 4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
- 5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
- 6. Phone a friend.
- 7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
- 8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
- 9. Hug a pillow.
- 10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
- 11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
- 12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Artist from area carries on family tradition in her work

By Amy Harmon staff writer

Mary Ann Olson made herself comfortable in the tent-like area set aside for her at the Ann Arbor Summer Art Fair - as comfortable as the 90-degree weather and sporadic rainsforms would allow.

The only Plymouth resident among the nearly 1,000 artists lining the streets of Ann Arbor, Olson is a veteran of the fair, which attracts thousands of visitors each summer.

This year, Olson came prepared with two lawn chairs, a small table, a cooler and a large Thermos, but the furniture didn't daunt the stream of people in the street from stopping, inspecting, discussing, and buying the pen-and-ink and watercolor drawings hanging on the walls.

THE FAIR, Olson said, has changed significantly since her first experience with it in 1971.

"It's much more professional now, and much more selective."

Sponsored by the Michigan Guild of Artists and Artisans, the fair is open only to artists whose work has been submitted to and approved by a guild committee.

Artistic talent runs in Olson's family. "My grandfather and his three brothers were all artists. Then it skipped my mother's generation, but there are three of us cousins in my generation who are artists. My mother looked out for it with me," Olson said. Her art lessons began when she was 9, and she's been drawing ever since.

Now a full-time art teacher at Gabriel Richard High School, Olson doesn't get much time to produce her own work. "I work mostly in the summers," she said. "I feel that being an art teacher, I should be involved with the arts."

The Ann Arbor fair helps her keep in touch with regular customers and collect new ones, Olson said.

"I try to do new things. I started out doing mostly fruits and vegetables," she said, pointing to a framed drawing on the back wall. "This year I have three themes: cats, the sea,

SPECIALIZING in combining penand ink with watercolor, Olson's art falls under the mixed media category in the Art Fair Guide. "It's rather unique," she said, "I don't think anybody else does anything quite like this. I do my own matting and framing as well."

The art fair has its ups and downs, Olson said. She was in her booth from set-up time at 7:15 a.m. until 9:15 p.m. three days. The fair ended at 5 p.m.

"It's hard when it's slow and I'm sitting for a long time," she said, "but then someone comes in and buys something and I perk right up."

Being surrounded by so many artists at the fair, she said, encourages her in her own work. "I see other people's work and it inspires me to keep creating."

Lawsuit targets budget bill

Republican gubernatorial challenger John Lauve is asking a circult court to declare unconstitutional a military affairs budget bill supported by front runner Sen. John Engler and five Observer & Eccentric area senators.

Gov. James J. Blanchard, who signed the $29 million measure, also is named as a defendant.

"It's not political, it's not political," said Lauve campaign aide Ray Dugan, who sent out a copy of the legal brief with the handwritten headline: "Lawsuit against Engler & Blanchard by — John Lauve!!"

Blanchard by — John Lauve!!"

The suit was filed in Washtenaw Circuit Court late Tuesday by Ann Arbor attorney David Raaflaub, a longtime associate of Lauve in antitax campaigns.

No defendant had seen the brief or prepared a comment at press time.

LAUVE'S COMPLAINT charges

LAUVE'S COMPLAINT charges senators violated by state constitution in passing the bill by:

• Covering more than one topic an alleged "pork barrel" grant to favored cities to tear down crack houses in the Department of Military Affairs budget.

Not having the printed version of the bill in the hands of lawmakers five days before passage. The report of a joint House-Senate conference committee was approved June 29, the same day conferees signed it.

As 24 "bad guys" who supported the bill, Lauve named Sens. William Faust, D-Westland, Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, and Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford, along with Engler, Dearborn, and Rudy Nichols, R-Waterford, along with Engler, Among 10 "good guys" were Doug Cruce, R-Troy, and nine other Republicans.

Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, had an excused absence that day.

Lauve, 49, a General Motors engineer, started a recall campaign against Blanchard after tile 1983 state income tax increase. In 1986 Lauve began a campaign for governor but dropped out in favor of Richard Chrysler. Lauve is running his primary campaign on a financial shoestring and on vacation time.

Stores proposed for S'craft land

By Wayne Peal staff writer

A large shopping area — complete with a warehouse club outlet, home repair center and chain department store - for Schoolcraft College property once tabbed for an office complex?

That's what college trustee Wendell Smith is proposing. But other trustees remain skeptical.

Smith unveiled his proposal during a Schoolcraft board study session last week. But several other trustees would apparently have to change their minds for the project to become a reality.

The 38-acre shopping center would serve northwestern Livonia and the Plymouth/Northville area,

He reminded trustees a 1,200housing unit development is being planned near the site on land recently sold by the county along Five Mile

THE PROPERTY could bring the college $850,000 in revenue in as little as two years, according to Smith's estimate, if the college maintained a 15 percent interest in the property. Though he didn't say how his figures were derived, Smith told his fellow trustees he drew up the proposal after talking with friends in development-related fields.

The property was to have housed the Six Mile Crossing office complex - a companion for the Duke Associates-built complex already completed on Schoolcraft land along Seven

The additional office project was rejected by the Livonia City Council, after concerns were expressed about its impact on traffic in the Haggerty, I-275 corridor.

Such concerns would likely resurface for the commercial proposal, other trustees said.

"Livonia is a 'malled' city as it is," Thaddeus McCotter said. "I think a lot of people would see this as just, another strip mall."

A tech center would make more sense, said Harry Greenleaf.

"I think that's more in keeping with the college's image," Greehleaf

New job seekers cause unemployment boost

An influx of summer jobseekers caused unemployment rates to rise in all but one of Michigan's major labor market areas in June.

"The exception was the Upper Peninsula, where employment advances in tourism-related industries kept pace with labor force gains," said Jack Barthwell III, director of the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC),

The UP jobless rate slipped downward to 8.5 percent in June from 8.6 percent in May.

Statewide, job gains in manufacturing, retail trade, services and construction offset the seasonal declines in education employment. Among the state's 12 major labor markets, Benton Harbor reported the largest jobless rate increase one percent to 8.0 percent. Ann Arbor reported the lowest jobless rafe - 4.5 percent.

Primary vote

Dems to nominate Tuesday

ESTLAND RESIDENTS traditionally support Democrats in partisan elections.

But primaries are still important

But primaries are still important in nominating the right candidates for the fall general election.

Tuesday, the Democratic primary takes on added importance because of the heated county commission race pitting an incumbent against two visible challengers.

In the 12th county commission district, Kay Beard is running hard to hang on to her seat and win a seventh two-year term.

But we feel that Terri Reighard Johnson is clearly the best choice for the district which includes Westland, Garden City and Inkster.

As a former Wayne-Westland board of education member who was elected to the Westland City Council last fall, Johnson has an excellent business background and shows an understanding

In the 15th U.S. House Republican primary, Burl Adkins is campaigning for a second chance to oppose entrenched Rep. William Ford, a Democrat who has represented Garden City and Westland for 26 years. Adkins has improved his campaign this year to go beyond complaints of the state giving away too much in tax breaks for the Mazda auto plant in Flat Rock. He is more qualified to oppose Ford than local insurance agent Glen Kassel, who has won the GOP nominations in two other elections.

Adkins has run for the seat before, but this time around, Adkins is putting together a campaign staff and, at least, trying to raise issues during the primary. To his credit, Adkins has learned something from his previous try for elective office. He's a much more polished candidate this time around.

IN THE state Legislature, Sen. William Faust and Rep. Justine Barns face nominal opposition from their primary foes. But they should be renominated on the basis of their service in Lansing

Tuesday's primary is important so that the best candidates are nominated for the Nov. 6 general election.

Faust, expected to be nominated for a seventh four-year term, will have no Republican foe in the Nov. 6 election.

In the House, Barns is facing a Lyndon LaRouche supporter in the primary who admitted little campaign effort. If nominated, Barns will face Republican Kenneth Raupp, her 1988 foe, in the fall race.

On money matters; voters are urged to say "yes" to two millage issues on the Tuesday ballot

Wayne County is asking for renewal of a 1 mill property tax levy.

The money, an estimated $24 million, is vital to county operations. One floor of the downtown jail might be closed — and health care, senior citizen and park programs curtailed or eliminated—if the renewal fails. As many as 400 county employees could also face layoffs.

County voters shouldn't let that happen.

Voters in the Wayne-Westland school district will also be asked Tuesday to decide a 1 mill property tax increase for the Wayne County Community College. The tax increase, if approved, would replace $10.4 million loss of state revenues over the next five years.

Despite a last-minute dispute concerning the college failing to spend bond monies in the late 1970s for planned capital improvements, there is still a need for the institution to not only survive, but also progress into the '90s.

We believe voters should approve the renewal as a reward for efforts to put its finances in order and the increase for the community college which serves a growing need for young and older adults.

Readers' recycling tips are interesting, fun, too

IN A PREVIOUS column, I described this newspaper's commitment to using recycled newsprint to reduce the need to cut living trees for paper.

I also asked readers to send me suggestions about how people could recycle newspaper themselves. I got a fair number of interesting responses.

One came from a nice person in Northville who wrote:

"Like a lot of organic garden enthusiasts, I use newspapers . . between the planted rows of seeds. This holds back the weeds, at the same time giving much needed mulch in times of drought.

"It is an easy matter to hold down the papers with small rocks, and with ensuing fall of rain, to add more papers to the papier mache which results. The paper degrades by itself and is dug into the ground in the fall along with compost."

Several readers suggested that old newspapers, when torn up or shredded, could be used in place of plastic foam to stuff cushions of porch and garden furniture. To avoid the wet papier mache effect, I suggest you take your cushions in before rain or even a heavy dew.

EDITOR & PUBLISHER, a trade magazine, ran a piece which described a farming use involving shredded newspapers as bedding for cattle. The result proved to be a "clean, comfortable and absorbent bedding for cows that is free of bacterial contamination."

It turns out that preserving the environment is easier
— and more fun —
than it seems at first.

The same E&P piece quoted a story from the UK (United Kingdom) Press Gazette which quoted a farmer in Somerset who "discovered that the nutritional value of newspaper is similar to that of straw bran." It mentioned a picture in The Guardian which showed the man's prize Charloais happily munching "tons of old newspapers." The story ended: "It is not known which titles they prefer."

Another reader suggested that instead of using the exploded polystyrene pellets that are so ubiquitous (and non-degradable) in packages sent through the mail, senders can use torn or shredded newspapers. "Far less damaging to the environment," he wrote.

WHEN I WAS a kid, I remember taking old newspapers, rolling them up tightly and tying them with thin rope. We then soaked them in chemicals according to the following recipe:

In a sink big enough to hold a rolled-up newspaper, run enough water to cover the roll. Dissolve as much table salt (the yellow flame comes from the sodium) and cream of tartar (for red flames) as the liquid will hold. Be sure not to inhale

Carefully dissolve powdered cop-

we soaked the logs thoroughly, then set them out to dry in the air. We put the dried rolls away with the wood.

Later, when we had a nice fire going in the fireplace, we'd put one of those paper logs on top, and in no time we had all kinds of colored.

flames - yellow, red, green, blue, ...

AND NOW THAT we have a 12-week-old puppy at home, the first step in housebreaking is paper training. We put puppy in the back hallway for the night and lay a section of a newspaper on the floor. If he has to do his business, he learns to do it on the paper.

Enjoy. It turns out that preserving the environment is easier — and more fun — than it seems at first.

Forfeiture laws

Stricter guidelines are needed

AKE FROM the bad guys and give to the good.

That seems to be the Robin Hood philosophy behind the controversial state forfeiture laws that allow police to seize property and money thought to be the result of drug profits.

The seized money and property is then used directly or otherwise to help police wage the war on drugs.

The booty often goes far beyond the suitcases full of hundred dollar bills that often accompany drug transactions. Up for the snatching could be a home, car, plane or even mom's jewelry anything used "to manufacture, distribute, dispense, process or acquire a controlled substance," the law states.

And what is taken these days is hardly peanuts.

Last year, the Oakland County Narcotics Enforcement Team seized nearly $5 million in cash

Forfeiture laws result in "legalized breaking and entering by the police," complained Steven Fishman, an Oakland County defense attorney who was interviewed for a recent Observer & Eccentric article on the subject.

No way, countered Donald Reisig, director of the Michigan Drug Agencies, in another story. Forfeiture is a very effective way of "hitting them (dopers) in the pocketbook," he said.

ACTUALLY, THIS is one debate where both sides truly have merit.

Reisig is correct when he says that many dopers "are not going to be bothered by a small fine. But take away their contraband, or the fruits of it, and they're going to feel it."

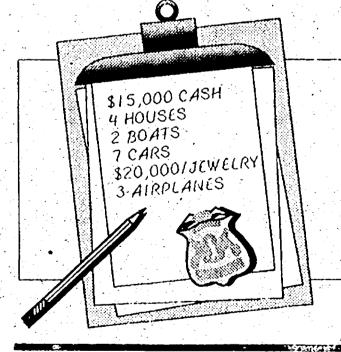

But, if attorneys like Fishman are to be believed, there have been serious abuses of forfeiture laws:

Should the mother of a slain drug kingpin lose among other things a portion of her 700-piece jewelry collection through forfeiture — even though she has never been criminally charged with a drug offense?

That's exactly what happened last month when a U.S. District Court jury decided that the government had a right to take Basima Kalasho's property including: a $260,000 West Bloomfield bome, two cars and the jewelry.

We're not prepared to knock the jury's verdict, but it seems to be going hard on someone who hasn't been convicted, or even charged, with a narcotics offense.

No, this legalized grabbing scems to be getting out of hand Clearly strict state guidelines are needed concerning what can be taken from whom. Forfeiture laws are a key weapon in the drug war. Let's make sure the laws are only hurting the guilty.

Forfeiture laws are a key weapon in the drug war. Let's make sure the laws are hurting the guilty.

ANOTHER WORRISOME thing about forfeiture: It sometimes results in squabbles between the law enforcement agencies involved in a drug bust

At that end of last year, that's exactly what developed between the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office and three police departments over a whopping $577,000 confiscated from an alleged Troy drug dealer.

The hot issue was who got to keep the cash. The problem of equitable split of dope booty is sure to come up again. We're surprised it doesn't happen more often.

Dope dealers are a mobile lot. They're not always going to be doing their deeds in the same place they're caught. Some method has to be devised to see that the one who milks the cow gets most of the cream.

It seems that the forfeiture laws and the reculting windfall are complicating things. Police and prosecutors should remember that their job is to get the bad guys, not quibble over their cash.

Wayne Dems back Beard

To the editor:

The Metro Wayne Democratic Club is proud to announce its endorsement of Kay Beard in the 12th District Wayne County Commission

The reasons for the endorsement are that she is a woman of integrity and honesty; she is not controlled by anyone, and she is a person you can talk to.

Her record speaks for itself. She is hard working, fulfilling and her attendance record is excellent.

She has served out all the terms of office that she has been elected to serve. Kay Beard is a lifelong Democrat who has been active in the 17th and 15th congressional districts. The same cannot be said of her Westland opponent.

Kay Beard's support and work on behalf of veterans' affairs is very important to many voters in her district.

She has achieved through hard work and experience a key committee chairmanship (audit) and she has set out to save the taxpayers' money by having the audit committee carry ut the duties they were chartered to handle.

The Metro Wayne Democratic

Club encourages voters of the 12th district to vote for Commission Kay Beard Aug. 7.

Let's protect natural areas

To the edito

In reference to the article in the Westland Observer last Thursday concerning Kime Brothers building condos bordering the William P. Holliday nature preserve, I would like to vote for nature. I am an artist and nature lover who lives in Westland.

I moved primarily to the area of Hix, Joy and Warren because I couldn't believe there was this little mecca of nature still holding on Within months however, trees were falling everywhere.

In three years the difference is overwhelming. I sure hope that no one is allowed to alter or harm the remaining natural beauty left in Westland.

I am not a member of the (Holliday Park) Nature Preserve Association, but I applaud their dedication in this matter.

Police are criticized

This letter should be entitled "shame on Westland."

To the editor:

"That was gunfire," one of our neighbors said this morning at 9:30 a.m. Thursday, July 26. By that time we found out a young man had barricaded himself along with quite a few firearms and ammunition. When action like this happens, people come out of the woodwork. The incident took place on Warren and Bison. It took the police three hours to close

The onlookers couldn't believe it.

Finally, a fire truck came and the people began to applaud the closing of Warren but abruptly stopped when the fireman answered, "I'm only the fireman, that's the job of the police."

Why didn't the traffic light just remain green so the traffic could sail by, instead of having to stop where they were in direct fire of where the gunman was shooting? Almost four hours of shooting took place off and on.

The chapter finally came to a close when the young man fired and was then shot and apprehended. Our prayers are with his family and this young man.

State park offends true camper's soul

IT'S LIKE going to an Irish wake and being served pink lemonade.

It's a disgrace to the Great Lake State, a diluted abomination.

It's an Upper Peninsula state park campground, and it offends the soul

And I have it on good authority that in the women's room there was a lineup at the sink because so-called campers were plugging in blow dryers!

There's a phone booth, which is a justifiable concession to those who want to check up on folks back home. But to use it to order pizza?!? Shame, shame.

CAMPING USED to be living at one with nature. You didn't have hot showers, faucets or flush toilets. You obtained cold water the way the Creator_intended - pumping it, by hand.

If you felt the need to be clean, you ran into Lake Superior and stayed there for a half-hour. It made you shiver so hard that you shook the dirt right off. Saved on soap and washcloths. Built character, too.

Womenfolk didn't bother with blow dryers and cosmetics, and they looked just fine. In fact, I think a woman's beauty is enhanced by a crop of freckles, a coat of sweat and a few mosquito bites.

CAMPING, WHEN I was introduced to-it, meant tents. There weretwo kinds — the cabin tent with twoby-two wooden posts, and the umbrella tent, with its iron, dog-legged skeleton posts. Both were made of heavy canvas.

Many of the umbrella tents made a concession to luxury by having floors.

Anyone with a camping trailer, why, you expected them also to bring along a flowerpot full of pansies. But even those trailers weren't the size of railroad freight cars like the "recreational vehicles" of current vintage.

Wild strawberries came first, followed by blueberries, then red and black raspberries, always pronounced "razzberries."

Most wild berries are on the tiny side, but an old-timer told us how to find blueberries the size of golf balls instead of the size of peas.

"Sonny," he said, "the reason wild berries you tourists pick along the roadside are so small is they ain't got the proper kind of natural ferti-

"Now, the best berry fertilizer known on the face of this-here earth," he continued, "is grizzly bear manure. Yessir. The bear eats berries and relieves himself in the same general area, and the manure fertilizes the ground, and pretty soon you have the most humungous and nutritious berries y'ever saw.

"And they're easy to find, too." Shucks, all you gotta do is keep hiking until you find a pack of grizzlies eatin' berries. Ya chase the griz away, and ya got the berries all to verself. Yessir."

UM-D child center earns national accreditation

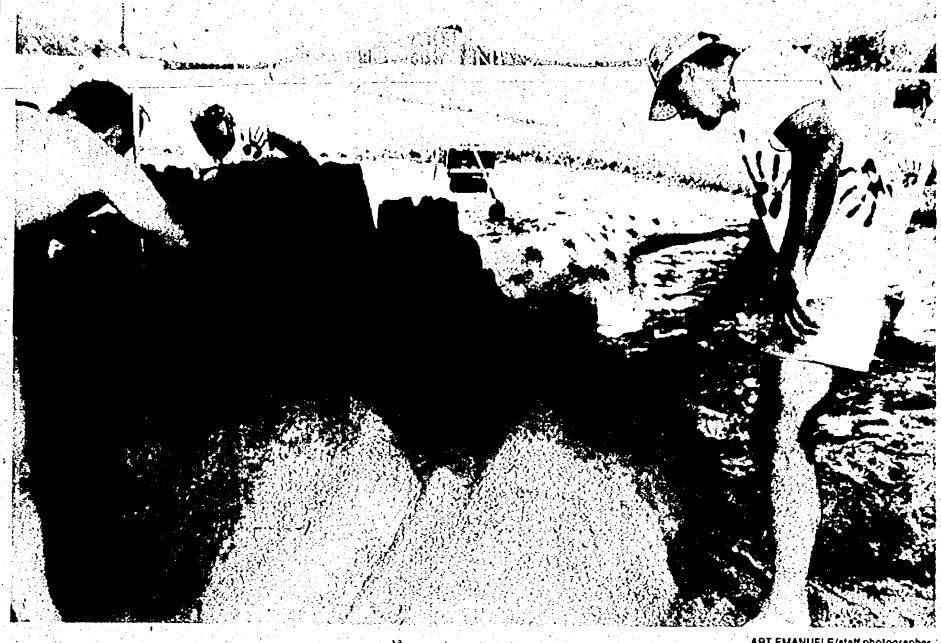

The Child Development Center of the University of Michigan-Dearborn has received accreditation from the National Academy of Early Childhood Programs. Of the 3,502 licensed child care centers in Michigan, the UM-D program is one of only 34 in the state to have received this accreditation as of June 1990.

The National Academy of Early Childhood Programs recognizes child care centers which meet stringent national standards of quality in early childhood programs. The academy is sponsored by the National Association for the Education of and largest association of early UM-D campus.

The accreditation process included an on-site study of the center and review by a three-member national commission. The final report noted that the center met and exceeded a variety of criteria including providing activities appropriate for toddler and preschool age children, having well-qualified and trained staff, meeting health and safety standards and offering opportunities for parental involvement.

Rosalyn Saltz, directs the UM-D center. It enrolls 90 children ages 1 to 6. The program will be extended in September 1990 with the addition Young Children, the nation's oldest of a kindergarten classroom on the

Surviving without that A/C

Thursday, August 2, 1990 O&E

By Carolyn DeMarco staff writer.

HIS MAY COME as a surprise to anyone under 30, but once upon a time there was (gasp!) a world without air conditioning. This of course was eons before the introduction of VCRs, microwaves, and Nintendo and only slightly after the Stone Age ended.

Mind boggling, is it not? A time without frigid air blowing in your face every time you take the Chevy out for a spin?

A time without cricks in your neck-from-frigid-air-aimed-at-thatpart of the anatomy from the ceiling vent above your office desk?

A time when you could hear song birds, crickets, tree frogs, the battling neighbors and the rest of the outside world from within the confines of your home?

But some of us are living WITH-OUT A/C in our homes. Yes, we have electricity and indoor plumbing, but for various reasons we live WITHOUT A/C, central or otherwise. For 360 days a year, it poses no problem. We like breezes ruffling our curtains and our hair, and we're sort of lukewarm about swatting mosquitoes as exercise and defrosting without microwaves. But on the rare occasion in Michigan when the mercury hits 90 degrees, life WITHOUT A/C is, quite honestly, a drag.

WE FIND OURSELVES inventing excuses to work late, circling the block a couple dozen times in the air conditioned car after dinner pretending we're looking for the dog or kids, pulling our chairs up to the open refrigerator to watch the condensation drip down the pop bottles, leaning back against the cold, wet toilet tank. We know there are others of you out there doing the same (although many of you are shutting your windows so the neighbors won't know you're WITHOUT A/C) and we've compiled a list of more suggestions for preventing heatstroke when you're WITHOUT A/C. Be cool.

• Rent "Dr. Zhivago" or old "Sgt. Preston of the Yukon" movies

Moms and grandmoms know how to be cool. Peggy Robidou and her mother Carol Artcliff have some fun refilling the pool and watch them on the VCR while eating Creamsicles. Of course, it really won't make you any cooler physically, but you can prove or disprove the theory that it's all in your head.

- Review January's heating bill. Again, it won't really decrease the temperature, but it will make you grateful that you're not in the middle of winter.
- Ditto for restacking the firewood.
- Buy a block of ice from Ardwin-Hayes Wholesale in Detroit. A 10-pound block is $1.25. Place it in the middle of your toddler neighbor's plastic wading pool while he's napping and slide in along side it.

• FIND A COOL, school pool. If you time it right, you could spend a few waterlogged hours each day by making the rounds of community high schools.

• Cruise the malls. Take your jacket, most of them are overly air conditioned and your body will have difficulty making the adjustment. Scoff at the thermometer by looking at the new fall fashions.

 Remove unnecessary clothes... Obviously, the fewer you have on the cooler you'll be, although some say wearing a hat keeps the sun off your head and therefore keeps the body cooler. Perhaps you could experiment wearing only a hat? Use discretion.

• Get a haircut. Again, when the head stays warm, the body stays $30 and $35. Windsurfers rent for $14 an hour during the week, $16 warm. Therefore, if the Yead stays per hour on the weekend.

cool, the body stays cool. Maybe. Get to know the ushers at the local cinema, the personnel at the local bowling lanes, and just hang

• Spend more time at the library. Do some research on downhill and cross country skling or life in Antarctica. Or re-read "Winter of Our Discontent."

• Rent a watercraft on Orchard Lake and go cruising or fishing. Orchard Lake Boats and Windsurfers, corner of Orchard Lake Road and Indian Trail rents rowboats and windsurfers. Rowboats are $14 for all day weekdays, $16 on the weekend. With a motor it's their cousins Andrew and Amanda Artcliff.

THE SHOP IS open 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays, 5 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekends. They also sell pop, candy and chips for people, nightcrawlers for the fish. • Make friends with a lake dweller. If you're low on friends trudge over to Kensington Metropark's Kent Lake and jump in; the water's fine. And finally, make a decision. Will you buy an air conditioner for the half-dozen days when life is unbearable without it? On sale, of course. Or will you tough it out for one more summer?

Hot times bring on heat woes

By Carolyn DeMarco staff writer

YO FAR THIS summer Dr. Bradford Walters, a specialist in emergency medicine at Henry Ford Medical Center-West Bloomfield, has seen 10-15 cases of heat exhaustion and one case of overt heat stroke - a Fourth of July jogger.
"There's a lot of confusion about what heat stroke and heat exhaustion are," Walters said.

"Heat cramps, heat exhaustion and heat stroke are the same disease, but just the continuum of a scale."

Heat cramps is the least serious end of the continuum, and victims seldom end up in the emergency room. It's the depletion of body fluids and electrolytes (acids, bases and salts) in the muscles, most often seen in weekend athletes.

"Typically it's abdominal muscles, but with runners it could be in the legs - the muscles they're using most. With swimmers it could be abdomen and shoulders.

"People believe you don't sweat when you swim, but that's not true, you just don't realize it. Some pools have heating units, some water is warm from the sun, and you can be laying out in the sun by the pool."

HEAT CRAMPS can be very painful, Walter said.

For treatment he recommends "rest, fluids and replacing lost electrolytes with Gatorade to rehydrate.

"I'm not pushing Gatorade but it is the most commercially available electrolyte replacement and you can get it in any 7-Eleven."

More serious is heat exhaustion.

"The patient has sweated and lost fluids to the point that he's lost enough to lose a significant volume of blood.

"Curiously enough, it's not characterized by an elevated temperature. He becomes lightheaded, confused."

A typical patient was one Walters saw while supervising a marathon.

Baseball's 'Real McCoy' is new fashion craze

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Hats are off to a new fashion craze: Baseball caps.

Make no mistake, though. This is not the same headwear with baseball cards propping up sagging bills orthe sweat weary rags that hung on bedposts at night.

These hats are the real McCoys, the same ones worn by professional baseball players.

New Era Cap Company in Buffalo, N.Y., exclusively makes the headwear for the pros that has also become quite the rage among younger and older fans alike. The fitted hats retail anywhere from $16-20 and are available at several sporting good outlets, including Mike Leaby's The Old Ball Park in Livonia.

"Kids like to emulate what the pros wear," said Chuck Scrivener, who is a manager of The Old Ball? Park and a former Detroit Tiger infielder. "Plus, they're nice hats."

THE MAJOR league caps are 100 percent wool and feature a heavier. more durable visor, silk tape around the seams and a highly-absorbent sweatband. In addition, the team emblems are embroidered and the colors are bright. Chris Koch, vice-president of family-owned cap company, said sales have skyrocketed during the past two years.

"The game of baseball has always been popular," said Koch, who owns New Era with his father, David Koch. "In the last few years, it's really made a comeback. There have been a couple of movies about the game and people seem to be following it more closely."

Baseball memorabilia is also a big hit. Specialty stores selling everything from T-shirts, jackets and even actual uniforms are opening all through the area. Baseball hats are the most popular items, mainly because they can be worn anywhere. Koch said.

New Era is hardly a rookie on the scene. The Buffalo-based company produces an estimated 12 million caps a year for high school, college and other amateur leagues in addition to the pros.

The company has been making baseball caps for major league baseball since the 1940s. Back then, the hats were made for Wilson Sporting Goods before New Era broke off on, Erhard Koch started the headwear business in 1920, which originally made dresswear hats before switching to baseball caps.

BECAUSE OF the craze, several companies have sprung up that make replicas of the fitted wool hats. Koch said only the hats bearing "The Diamond Collection" label are the authentic caps.

Current best-sellers in baseball cap wear include the Oakland A's. the Chicago White Sox and the Pittsburgh Pirates — all teams that are having good seasons.

Of course, at The Old Ball Park the Detroit Tigers' hats sell the best.

Handwriting suggests idealism

Dear Ms. Green,

Last month I went to a fortune teller and now I'm wondering if my handwriting will refute or confirm some of the things she said about

I am a right-handed female, almost 49, who is still open to learning about herself.

Thanks for any insight you might be able to give me.

Garden City

Dear B.S.

Before I begin the analysis of your personality based on your handwriting, let me make one important point. Graphology is not part of the occult and does not reveal anything about your future. However, with a larger sample of handwriting I can tell you almost anything about your personality you might like to know.

Now to your analysis. This handwriting suggests that you are rather idealistic. You have a demanding conscience, incorporating the ideas of right and wrong that you learned as a child.

You are most at ease in a flexible lifestyle. You are not a long-range planner, nor are you inclined to follow a strict schedule.

Much of your work is performed carefully. Your mind moves quickly, graphology

Lorene Green

Last month Direct to a

and with the things that are not much to your liking you may rush the task. In so doing, you probably get a tad careless, even banging or bruising yourself in the process.

AT THIS particular time you don't seem to be receiving the attention and/or recognition you would like, especially from the opposite sex! In an effort to gain this, you may come on a little strong.

Although this is not apparent to those around you, I get the feeling you overcompensate to cover inferior feelings you harbor. You may want to consider that no one on Earth can make you feel inferior unless you allow them to do so. I see an emotional woman here, one who probably experiences changing moods. I also see an inability to express your emotions adequately. You tend to keep them bottled up inside.

Friction has an unsettling influence on you. In an effort to avoid unpleasantness, you take the line of least resistance, often compromising or acquiescing to others. But you have also learned to exploit people. to accomplish what you wish to do.

IT APPEARS that you have been under the influence of someone with a stronger will than you. Past hurts have cattled you to feel resentful. And while you often flee rather than fight, you will only allow yourself to be pushed just so far, not to the point of being hurt again. Decision making does not come easy. Often you are indecisive and have difficulty deciding which way

In relationships with others, you are socially ambitious. You have a desire to meet and mix with the "right" people, also a need to control.

Graphology Tip: The small letter F written with no upper loop suggests one who is flexible.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48154. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. And feedback is always welcome.

Book helps families have more fun together

By Julie Brown staff writer

USY FAMILIES don't always have as much time for rest and relaxation as they'd like. These days, the two-income family is the norm. "It creates an awful lot of pressure," said Dick Thibodeau, a community organization specialist with Oakland County Youth Assistance.

Finding the time to be together is up to individual families, but they don't have to look far for information on things to do.

A "Family Fun Book and Wellness Guide" was published late last year by Oakland County Youth Assistance, the prevention arm of the Oakland County Probate Court.

cludes information on places to go and things to do. The second part includes advice and sources of help in such areas as substance abuse, youth and family counseling and

PUBLICATION OF the book was the culmination of a project that took about two years, said Thibodeau, who served as editor. A 30member task force of people from various professions and backgrounds worked on the book.

Several years ago, Oakland County Youth Assistance published a booklet of things that familles could do together. Information in that booklet was used by volunteers who work one-on-one with kids in need of role models.

About 5,000 copies of that booklet... were printed. Youth Assistance staffers decided it would be helpful to expand the book's scope.

We tried to rely on experts in the various fields," said Thibodeau. "There's a lot of super people that The first part of the book in helped out. It took an awful lot of double-checking and verification."

Those working on the book tried to stick with well-established places to visit, such as Greenfield Village and the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Smaller-scale attractions, such as

'I think everybody needs a little help along the way. We're all in the same boat together.'

— Dick Thibodeau

parks, local farms and cider mills, are also included. The editors tried to avoid listing attractions that haven't stood the test of time.

THIBODEAU WORKED with assistant editors Cathy J. Klettke and Lisa Ternes. The first printing included 10,000 copies, and a little under 3,000 of those are left.

"It's been very well-received," he said. Those who worked on the book are considering a second printing, and hope to have that out before Christmas. A few addresses and phone numbers will be updated, but the second printing will be pretty. much like the first.

The book includes a number of illustration done by student artists from throughout Oakland County. All the art work submitted was used, rather than picking and choosing, Thibodeau said.

Troy-based K mart Corp. provided a great deal of help with the book. In addition to financial help, corporation representatives offered advice on the book's format.

Those who worked on the book were pleased with the cover design, Thibodeau said. Working with a mass-market retailer helped give the book an attractive, easy-to-read appearance.

The book's first section includes information on places to visit in the tri-county area. Some sites in outstate Michigan, neighboring states and Ontario are included as well.

THE WELLNESS section of the book includes information on support services in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Educators and child development specialists also contributed columns.

. One goal of the book is to help prevent juvenile delinquency, Thibodeau said. These days, some kids come home to an empty house after school.

"Lack of supervision is a critical, critical problem." Students also face peer pressures.

Some families no doubt bought the book for the activity listings, but they can also use the wellness section, he said.

The section includes information on support groups for parents and on parenting classes. It also includes information on talking to kids about sex, choosing a child care program, boosting children's self-esteem, helping kids with career planning, and coping with the challenges of single parenthood.

"I think everybody needs a little help along the way. We're all in the same boat together."

Thibodeau and his wife have six kids, ages 3 to 16.

"So I think I have a lot of firsthand experience." In working on the book, he discovered many theaters, farms, museums and other attractions he'd like to visit with his family.

Copies of the "Family Fun Book and Wellness Guide" are available for $9.50 at all metropolitan Detroit Waldenbooks Stores. Copies may also be ordered by sending a check or money order for $10.50 (including postage and handling) to: Oakland County Youth Assistance Coordinating Council, 1200 N. Telegraph, Pontiac, Mich.

"He was obviously fatigued. His skin was tight and he had lost tone, but he was otherwise normal. He didn't have an elevated temperature. But when I asked him how he was doing in the race he answered. 'What race?' He was obviously confused." Heat exhaustion can also produce nausea and vomiting and whopping headaches, Walters said, in addition to rapid heart rate, hyperventilation and lowered blood pressure.

AS TREATMENT, Walters prescribes rest, fluids and electrolytes, as he does for heat cramps, but in more severe cases he may begin to rehy-drate intravenously. When the body loses the ability to regulate its temperature, heat stroke is the diagnosis.

"Now he is not sweating instantaneously. Sweating takes energy. He's dry as a bone and red, hot and prostrate. He's unable to get up. At this point he's very, very ill.

cause significant injury to the brain. Basically, he's cooked himself." Reviving the patient is a major resuscitative

"It represents a real medical emergency. It can effort at the heat stroke stage, Walters said.

"The idea is to cool the patient as rapidly as possible. Often we drape him in sheets, pour water on him, and blow fans over him.

Stroke cases rise with temperature

"We also have cooling blankets and can pump ice water through tubes in the stomach and reintroduce fluids through IV."

To ward off heat stroke, heat exhaustion and heat cramps, Walter said, use common sense. "Keep in the mind the weather and what you'll be doing, and always make sure you have an adequate intake of fluids.

"OFTEN THOSE who really need it, like runners, don't have access to it. Stop and drink at regular intervals and drink in smaller, more frequent amounts."

Keep electrolyte levels up with Gatorade. "When water, sugar and salt are combined, it rehydrates best. We've learned that in research with diarrhea patients."

Make sure you have an adequate intake of salt, not with tablets, but with fluids that contain salt,

Be attuned to other medical situations that can complicate problems, he said.

Those taking thyroid medications and diuretics are particularly susceptible to problems in heat. And so are the elderly and infants under 6 months

"Be aware of those conditions when you head for the beach."

Understand that everyone may have been created equal, but "the body alters its ability to withstand heat.

"The out-of-doors construction worker canwithstand hot weather better than the executive who is chained to his desk in an air-conditioned office during the week."

WE KNOW FROM Vietnam, he said, that the ability to sweat is an acclimation process.

And strange as it may seem, hypothermia reaction to cold — was also a problem for one recent patient seen by Walters, "a sweet little old lady who lived in a basement apartment at her son's home."

The thermostat for the air conditioner broke and the temperature dropped to 55 degrees upstairs and 10 degrees lower in her quarters. She ended up in the emergency room.

"I'm 47 now, so that's been a little while," sald Barnes, senior pastor of the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene. "I really felt like God wanted me to be a preacher, and have felt that ever since that time."

Barnes, a Canton resident, has been at the Plymouth church for six years. Before that, he served for about five years at a church in Rock Island, Ill. He and his wife, Lucy, are glad they came to Michigan.

"It's the best place we've ever lived. Plymouth is a tremendous place."

They have been impressed with the friendliness of the people they've met.

BARNES GREW up in Tennessee and began studying at a Christian boarding school in Kentucky at age 15. After high school, he studied for several years at Kentucky Mountain Bible Institute. He completed his bachelor's degree at Trevecca Nazarene College in Nashville, Tenn., where he studied education and psychology with a minor in history. More recently, Barnes earned a master's degree in church management from Olivet Nazarene University in Kankakee. Ill., in 1987.

THEY CELEBRATED their 25th wedding anniversary in April, and this past June Barnes celebrated his 25th year in the pastorate.

They have a son, John Mark, 21, a senior blochemistry student at the University of Michigan-Dearborn. He plans to marry Julie Whitehill, who worships at the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene, next February.

There wasn't any question about who will conduct that wedding ceremony. Barnes will do the honors, and is a bit nervous about that.

"It's a little bit different," he said with a smile. Most of his time as a pastor has been in the Midwest. Barnes began at a church in West Virginia. After that, he served at churches in Indiana, Missouri, Alabama and Illinois.

WORSHIPERS AT the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene are involved in overseas missionary work, and Barnes has accompanied work teams to a number of countries. He tries to go on at least one foreign trip per year, and will leave later this month for Bolivia.

Those mission projects combine construction and ministry work. While in Bolivia, team members will work on construction of a library, office building and parsonage. A group that traveled to Honduras a while back helped finish a parsonage. "In other places, we've built churches."

Barnes and others have also traveled to Peru, to Malawi in Africa and to Papua, New Guinea, to do mis-

Closer to home, they enjoy spending time in the Amish areas of Ohio, Indiana and Pennsylvania.

"It sort of settles life down a little bit to be among those people. Just seeing the slow pace with the people who don't have to have everything we have."

BARNES ALSO enjoys playing racquetball and doing woodworking in his free time. These days, he's keeping busy with a building project at the Plymouth Church of the Nazarene.

One church member, Chuck Krappitz, did stained glass windows for the sanctuary that include such phrases as "Enter to Worship." Krappitz does that kind of work as a hobby.

O&E Thursday, August 2, 1990

By Pat Hanna Kuehl special writer

Berlin, West Germany:

The Berlin Wall is down and this is the place for pacesetters to be. If Gorbachev is right, and Europe becomes "one house," this will be the split-level living room-gathering place for statesmen, artists, intellectuals, business tycoons and free spirits out for a good time.

Both Berlins are exciting places to visit nowadays. While life on what was the west side of the wall has long been turned on full volume 24 hours a day, the come-tothe-cabaret spirit is just starting to ferment in East

Take the five-star deluxe Grand Hotel at the famous intersection of Unter den Linden and Friedrichstrasse, for instance. Open three years, the star of the German Democratic Republic-owned Interhotel chain has been ranked with the 200 best hotels in the world by the New York-based Leading Hotels Association.

At the Silhouette Restaurant, on the Grand's sixth floor, an epicurean dinner for two, elegantly served to the accompaniment of a six-piece dance band, runs more than $200 with wine. Yes, they take Visa.

Such glimpses of new developments on the other side of the border add to the sense of adventure of visiting both Berlins.

You see contrasts everywhere you turn.

CHECK THE glitter of the glass, chrome, and steel contemporary architecture of West Berlin-buildings the sassy citizenry has dubbed the Battleship Gallactica (the convention center), the Pregnant Oyster (the congress hall), and the Lipstick and the Powder Box (the Kaiser Memorial Church).

Then cross through Brandenburg Gate and rest your eyes on the grandeur that was Old Berlin in the rundown mansions that line the Boulevard Unter den Linden; the majestic Cathedral; the classical lines of the art treasures on Museum Island, the restored St. Nicholas Church where Berlin was founded 753 years ago.

For insight into the 1000 points of annoyance that made so many of East Berlin's baby boomers head west, take a taxi to the outskirts of the city to see the dreary looking pre-fab high buildings the East German government threw up to meet its quota of 2.5 million apartments by 1990.

The Kurfurstendamm in West Berlin enjoys a unique touch; it is the No. 1 shopping avenue in Germany. The streets are always bustling, day and night.

A DAY OF RECKONING

The Brandenberg Gate stands behind the Berlin Wall. The new freedom of East Berliners has attracted curious visitors from around the world since the wall was opened in November

THEN, CHECK out the old workers' row houses much closer to the city center in the Susemannstrasse area. and imagine what an American restoration expert would do with those old jewels! The East Berliners, just beginning to realize their charm and convenience, are adding modern plumbing and central heating.

There's at least a two-year wait to move in. The current aging occupants knew they had a good thing and wouldn't leave for "better" quarters in the distant high

With shortages causing long waits for everything from housing to automobiles (it has been at least 10 years for a car), even East German marks piled up, allowing a few luxuries. East German marks were converted to West German marks recently, so now there is

FOOD SPECIALTY shops near the Alexanderplatz stock Belgian chocolate, Viennese coffee, American herb teas and the most prized delicacy of all, bananas.

Drop by the Moskau Restaurant, which used to be the best restaurant that accepted East German marks. Dinner at the Moskau has been a steal for U.S. military occupying troops who could dine well for $10 in black market marks. It's still a good buy.

Spend an evening at the German State Opera, the Comic Opera, or the Metropol Theater (musicals) or the Puppet Theater. Calibre is high, ticket prices relatively low. Tickets are available at the central tourist office - the Reisebuero der DDR - on the Alexanderplatz, at the theaters or at hotel service desks. It's wise to reserve seats well in advance.

Window shop the designer shoe boutiques. Those beautiful shoes are so prized, an East Berliner will pay several months' salary to own a pair. Vanity knows no na-

The statue of Vladimir Lenin still stands at the head of Lenin Allee. Follow the route from the city center to the outskirts to view life, socialist style. On one side you'll see office buildings and apartments, on the other factories spewing thick, black smoke. Pollution is a new concern here. In the midst of it all is the highly respected Charite Medical Center, where GDR research on AIDS is underway.

SURPRISINGLY, WEST Berlin, with its big gay population, has largely ignored the AIDS problem. After the initial scare, little has been done in the way of educational effort for prevention of spread of the disease. Experts say the danger is compounded by prostitution. While most West Berlin prostitutes are registered and undergo periodic examinations, beautiful Polish girls "black market" their charms near the Tiergarten. A mark goes a long way in poverty-stricken Poland, no matter the risk.

For a much brighter impression of the West side of the border, head for the two-mile stretch of the Kurfurstendamm, Ku'Damm for short. It's the essence of anything goes, including tap dancing on the sidewalk entrance to your hotel; proclaiming far out theories at the Memorial Church Plaza; or finding a variety of restaurants, drag shows, designer boutiques, glitzy souvenirs and the deluxe Palace Hotel, all under one fabulous glass dome at the Europa Center.

You can find all you ever wanted to know about Berlin in two stops at the Europa Center: One at the Berlin

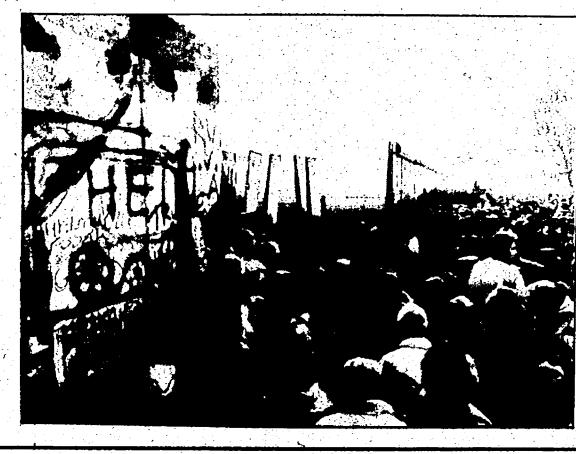

The East German border patrol coasts along Spree River, passing the German History Museum.

Tourist Office, on the street level; the other at the Multivision Berlin theater on the third floor.

The tourist office will tell you about the present and future attractions - international film, music and art festivals, sports events and special exhibitions. The multimedia show is a highly entertaining capsule history of the city's 753-year past. "Berlin," says the narrator, "is a catastrophe, but a lovely catastrophe. If anything bangs, it bangs here!"

Three blocks away, you'll find KaDaWe, the largest department store in Europe, filled with treasures of every kind. KaDaWe offers a far better selection of Czech crystal than you'll find in Prague, and here they'll ship it home. The law says that Americans still need visas for East Berlin, and it seems a smart idea to get one. But at the moment, nobody seems to be asking for them. You can get a 24-hour visa at the border after filling out a lot of papers. Ask for a multiple visa if you plan to go back and Compulsive monument-collectors can board tour buses at every other corner, but you'll get a more vivid picture of the two Berlins just by people-watching on the Ku'Damm or Unten den Linden.

West Berliners are the ultimate extroverts. Young (more than half the 2 million population is under 30), bright, independent spirits, their favorite word is "toler-

East Berliners tend to be patient, placid types, conditioned by a lifetime of waiting in long lines to buy anything from tea to taxi service.

But things are changing rapidly. Give an East Berliner a chance, and he'll tell you exactly where he was and what he was doing when the word came that the wall was coming down. Then you might get another surprise. "We went over to West Berlin to have a look," recalls Gerd Bethke, duty manager at the Grand. "Then when we saw how expensive things are over there, we came back home. There have been government subsidies here for everything from housing to education to medical services. We didn't know how much things really cost until we saw the prices over there."

Bethke and his friends, all in their 40s, decided to stay put. They appreciate their new freedom, but for the most part, they'll use it for round trips to the United States and other places they've only seen on TV.

"When you are no longer young, you don't want to take chances. I am accustomed to the ideas of socialism. I like the idea of equality and social security, not such big differences between the rich and the poor," he

"But I am a realist. I know changes are necessary. I'd rather stay and help improve conditions here than try to start a new life somewhere else."

this type of socializing would not be tolerated.

Saturn's dealership rings begin to grow

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

As now ex-General Motors chairman Roger Smith prepared to take "that last ride," as the media is abuzz over the secrecy surrounding the as yet unavailable Saturn car, as industry watchers wonder can GM's $3 billion gamble compete on a world market - things are happening on the local scene.

Southeastern Michigan auto dealers - excited about the impending launch of the Saturn car line - are beginning groundbreaking ceremonies for what they hope will be successful business ventures.

With new design characteristics, a manufacturing processes that includes state-of-the-art assembly, a Japanese-like management/labor team approach and a new marketing strategy aimed straight at the heart of the import car market, GM execs hope Saturn will make a big impact.

Don Massey, who held groundbreaking ceremonies Tuesday for a Saturn dealership behind his Massey Cadillac in Plymouth Township in western Wayne County, said he became interested in acquiring a Saturn dealership when the new car line was first announced.

"The spirit, the cooperation, the high quality - Saturn is going to be a very good car," Massey said. Saturn, he added, will help to re-establish American quality and superiority in automobile manufacturing.

Massey allowed he probably could have acquired any number of dealerships - including a foreign car franchise - but he wanted a Saturn dealership because the philosophy of customer service mirrors his own phi-

"And perhaps there's a little (patriotism in selling an American car) too," Massey said.

MASSEY SAID his first Saturn dealership - a $2 million investment - will be open in early to mid-November. The first shipment of cars should arrive shortly after construction is completed.

Massey also plans to open dealerships in Lansing and Farmington Hills, he said.

Other Saturn dealerships in Michigan will be in Clarkston, Troy (owned by David Fischer), Ann Arbor, Warren and Grand Rapids. Albert Serra, who owns a Chevrolet franchise in Grand Blanc in Genesse County, was awarded a Saturn franchise which is now under construction near Clarkston at I-75 and Dixie Highway in north Oakland County.

Serra said he became interested in acquiring a Saturn franchise as soon as GM announced plans for the new car company seven years ago. "I've always thought GM franchises were goods ones so I (inquired) early on.

"At the time it was a very exploratory thing, but we wanted to put our hat in the ring," Serra said.

Serra said that while the relatively few number of Saturn dealerships adds a certain exclusivity to the car, he doesn't believe that the car is intended to be exclu-

"It's obviously not going to be a high volume car at first — we don't know how many sales we're likely to see," Serra said. Serra said he likes the cautious approach Saturn is taking.

"If we have too many dealers too soon no, one's going to make it," he said.

DONALD HABEREK, public relations spokesman for Saturn, said there are several reasons why only four local dealers were chosen for Saturn franchises in southeastern Michigan, but key among them are the dealers' record of customer service.

"Essentially, these are people who are really interested in providing the ultimate in customer satisfaction," Haberek said.

The emphasis on customer service is part of the Saturn market area approach, he said. Instead of having

Joel Kaji demonstrates the Newspaper Quikwrap. Papers are placed in the box to accumulate. When the box is full, the wrap-around string is pulled up from the side of the box and tied, simply and neatly bundling the pile.

Student engineers simple method to bundle papers

Build a better mousetrap, it is said, and the world will beat a path to your door.

Joel T. Kaji, a 27-year-old Farmington Hills resident and graduate student at the University of Michigan, is out to "trap" piles of newspapers that seem to multiply around the house.

His simple invention - Newspaper Quikwrap — is a cardboard box and a wrap-around string that provide an easy way to store, then bundle and tie newspapers.

The corporate world hasn't beaten a path to Kaji's door yet.

But he's pounding the pavement trying to wholesale the product to promotional tie-ins to recycling ef-

He's convinced about a half dozen stores to buy the product wholesale to re-sell at retail or to allow him to sell on consignment. He's also targeting groups that might want to use Newspaper Quikwrap as a fund-raiser.

"THE IDEA probably came to me a year and a half ago," Kaji said. "As a grad student, I lived in a house where we had at one time three daily newspaper subscripmunicipalities and businesses as tions. You can imagine the amount of newspaper that built up in time.

> "I thought what could we do to make it easy? Tying was time consuming, messy. No one wanted to do it. You stuff papers into bags, but they would get overstuffed and the bags would break apart.

"I thought about some bundling concepts. After trial and error and revision, I came up with what we have here."

Retailers, economist huddle on prospects

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Reading palms, throwing stones, divining the future, gazing at crystal balls, studying tea leaves - foretelling the future isn't easy.

But that is what several financial and development experts were asked to do using equally mysterious economic indicators, retail data, statistical models and perhaps even a little intuition at a conference sponsored by the International Council of Shopping Centers in Dearborn re-

The topic? Retail in the 1990s. The answer? It is probably not as dark as some fear, but there are some challenges in the coming years.

Herbert S. Miller, chairman and chief executive officer of Western Development Corp., the developer building Auburn Mills, said only retailers who accept and react to the changing customer will succeed.

"To understand the changing face of retail in the U.S., you must first go back to basics," he said. Miller said although it sounds like a cliche, today's shopper is a smarter customer than 10 years ago, and the overall determining factor is "In a 1980 poll, customers ranked price as the fifth most-important factor in deciding what to buy - in 1987, price was ranked number one."

More than 65 percent of all consumers will wait for an item to go on sale, Miller said, "so price is very important to consumers."

WHEN COUPLED with a shrinking middle class, less disposable income, the rising cost of housing, and the trade and budget deficit, retailers are going to have to be twice as smart to survive.

"Consumers are more fashion-conproduct loyal," he said. "The successful retailer must change to accept this."

People are still interested in what department stores have to offer, but they also want more for their money. "Department stores offer selection and service, but not price."

Frank A. Newman, chairman and chief executive officer of F&M Distributors, said the ready availability of new shopping space has prompted a lot of new retail ventures.

Warehouse clubs, off-price appliance and clothing stores, office supplies, super sports shops — the proliferation of these and others is leading to a shakeout in the 1990s, Newman said.

"Retail," Newman sald, "is a very easy business to get into; it's also a very easy business to get killed in. Retailers learned several lessons in the 1980s, he said. "One, bigger is better; two, specialty is good; three, provide a nice atmosphere."

But those lessons are no longer appropriate in the 1990s. "In the 1990s, we'll find too big is bad, being a specialist is not enough and people don't buy out of a need for recreations (and therefore don't need for atmos-

David L. Littman, senior economist and first vice president for Manufacturers National Bank, said unless significant changes are made in Michigan's laws and business climate, he would be hard pressed to actous, less store loyal and more a predict another boom decade like the 1980s.

Before retail can boom, the local economy must improve, Littman "For us to succeed, taxes and inflation rates must fall." Automobile sales must grow by 2.7 percent, just to maintain the status quo, Littman said. Auto sales must grow by 3 percent for the local economy to grow.

To attract and retain business, Littman sald Michigan must be able to compete with other states for

MICHIGAN'S INCOME tax, which is 28 percent higher than the national average, and property tax, which is 30 percent higher than the national average, need to be reduced, he Workmen's compensation costs which are also higher in Michigan than in neighboring states — must also be cut.

Littman added Michigan legislators must refrain from increasing the minimum wage beyond federal limits, decrease the inheritance tax and ease intrastate trucking and franchising laws - all of which put a heavy burden on Michigan busi-

"But there is good news," Littman said. Inflation and interest rates are down, and retail sales have grown at a higher than average rate.

Barbara Bryant, director of the U.S. Census, told retailers the population in southeastern Michigan has shifted substantially during the 1980s. Final numbers are not yet in, but in the last 10 years, Detroit has lost 14 percent of its populations, Wayne County, including Detroit, has lost 9 percent, and Oakland has gained 4 percent.

traditional full-service dealers, Saturn dealers will have more autonomy in tailoring their sales and service facilities to handle the various ways car buyers select, purchase and service their cars.

Saturn's marketing strategy emphasizing customer service and high quality - is being tailored to compete with the foreign imports that also emphasize those qualities, Haberek said. "What we're trying to do is bring import buyers back into the GM fold," Haberek said.

Saturn dealerships are being targeted for areas in which the Japanese imports have made their greatest inroads, Haberek said. "The West Coast has the highest penetration (of Japanese imports) so that's where we'll start."

Haberek said dealerships will be located through a rollout strategy.

Most early Saturn dealerships will be located along the West Coast, with others being added in southwest United States, the Midwest and finally the East Coast.

DONALD HUDLER, Saturn vice president for sales, service and marketing, said at Massey's groundbreaking that Saturn has a difficult task ahead. "We have a tough job, but we have a quiet confidence that we'll succeed."

That confidence stems from what Hudler called "a true partnership." The partnership between General Motors, Saturn management, suppliers, workers and particularly dealers will be the success or failure

Dealers, he continued, played a larger role than is normally found in the manufacturing and marketing of automobiles. Dealers were involved. in the development of dealership systems, the advertising and maring other dealers, Hudler said.

John Michaud, with Saturn United Auto Workers (UAW) local 1853 and an adviser to the Saturn sales, service and marketing team, said there is a real sense of excitement about the Saturn start up.

"At one time, the launch was just a vision - just a dream, but with every groundbreaking we're getting closer and closer to making that keting strategy, and even in select- dream a reality," Michaud said.

"The really unique thing about this is that it was done with the UAW as a partner rather than an adversary." he continued. "(Normally), when you put these two together, you'd better get a full time ambulance because they'll kill each other."

Together, Saturn will be a power to be reckoned with, Michaud said, and that bodes well for Saturn deal-

Those retailers which survive in the 1990s will know their target audiences, be disciplined in their buying and what they offer in the way of service, offer better customer service then presently available, and be respectful of the customer.

Savage beast is stalking our streets and highways

"Dad, I totaled my car" isn't the most shocking phone call a parent gets, since at least it's the kid's voice on the phone, but it's close enough.

For one reason or another, what seems like a lot of my friends have been getting similar phone calls lately. One was a niece hospitalized with severe injuries after a rollover in Dearborn.

Another, not an immediate relative, but a friend's neighbor's kid, drowned along with another teenager on their first date after skidding 10 teens have died in high speed accidents in the past year in the area.

For a long time, the efforts to model as I did died in a much-less, make cars capable of withstanding truly frightening crashes and still protect the occupants has been a facet of engineering pursued with little glamour. It was the overpowered and underbuilt cars that received the accolades of the automotive press.

Now, perhaps for the first time in history, a safe car seems easier to sell. For every step forward, however, there are a few inches in reverse.

A good deal of government legislation ignores what is known about engineering to best survive a crash, and concentrates instead on efforts to protect those who decline to take the most elementary steps to protect themselves.

MOST OF the motorized belts being installed are not as effective. and less likely to be correctly buckled, as a fully tensioned, conventional seat belt with the anchor points designed for best fit. Likewise, the door-mounted belt systems ludicrously called "passive restraints" are legal but clearly not as good as an old-fashioned belt system.

Air bags, on the other hand, provide an additional measure of protection that is remarkable. But their real benefit is mainly ignored in favor of the ill-conceived notion that they are merely a convenience feature, designed to replace, rather than enhance a proper belt system.

AND THERE still are the idiots in the enthusiast press who arrogantly insist that a skilled driver or superior handling car somehow can add to safety, as if that tenth of a second before a blind impact in the side is somehow under control.

The reality is that a car crash takes place at a speed faster than the reflexes of the driver and sharpening the reflex does little to change what ultimately is a game of chance.

Which is won only when the voice on the phone answers, "Yeah, I'm OK. Nobody was hurt?"

Oakwood is Advanced Medicine

Magnetic Resonance Imaging

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) is a breakthrough diagnostic tool being used routinely at Oakwood Hospital today MRI allows physicians to "see" into the body without x-rays, sound waves or surgery. As the name implies, Magnetic Resonance Imaging uses a strong magnetic field to produce multi-dimensional images of the inner structure of the body. The patient experiences no pain.

Oakwood provides patients access to MRI as well as the more traditional diagnostic procedures available at your physicians office or local Oakwood facility. MRI can reveal disorders much earlier in the course of a disease. In many cases, this early detection results in simpler and more effective treatment.

Oakwood Health Services is one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with five hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than • 1,000 physicians in every major health care specialty and subspecialty. Oakwood will serve more than half a million patients this year.

HPLM topples Duffy's

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Derek Darkowski's solid pitching Wednesday indicates he could be the missing link in Hines Park Lincoln Mercury's baseball season.

After playing most of the summer in the Virginia Valley League, he returned home to pitch No. 4-seeded Hines Park past regular-season champion Duffy's Plumbing in the opening round of the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League playoffs.

in a nine-inning effort, scattering eight hits and striking out nine in Hines Park's 10-3 victory at Ford

Hines Park plays Walter's Home Appliance today at 8 p.m., with Duffy's meeting Wendy's, which lost to Walters 11-4 Wednesday, at 5:30 p.m. The tournament continues Friday, with all games at Ford Field.

"It's nice, when I was done in Virginia, that I could still throw some innings before the summer is over," sald Darkowski, who appeared in four early-season games with HPLM to be eligible for the playoffs.

"I FELT pretty strong the whole way through. They got their runs early when I walked somebody and then threw a bad pitch."

Darkowski also walked nine batters and hit two but managed to of bases-loaded situations twice.

"I just threw on Monday in Virginia, so I didn't have a real layoff," he said. "That worked out perfectly. I was able to get my offspeed pitch over. In a couple games in Virginia, I had trouble with it, but it was working well tonight. And I had good defense behind me."

Duffy's was not as fortunate with The left-handed Darkowski turned its pitching as three of the four who saw action combined to issue 10 walks and nine hits.

Doug McGregor started, went 11/3 innings and got the loss, giving up four runs on two hits and three walks. John Schefka pitched one inning and didn't fare any better, and Bill Wicker lasted 4% innings before Davey Jones worked the last inning. 'We couldn't throw strikes," said

Duffy's coach Rey Fracassi, who was ejected in the fifth inning for arguing with the umpires. "We had a couple of soft balls that went through on the hard ground. In a tournament, you have to be lucky with everything, and we didn't have it tonight."

DUFFY'S TOOK a 2-1 lead in the second inning, scoring on a wild pitch and Mike Kaczmarek's single, but it was never contest after Hines avoid serious damage, pitching out Park scored five times in the bottom of the inning.

Derek Humphries drove in the first run with a sacrifice fly, and Bill Terski's RBI single in the third made it 7-2. Hines Park scored three runs in the fourth on two errors and a wild pitch and had only three hits the rest of the night.

Bonham was 3-for-3 and Szczechowski had two hits. Kevin Adams, who drove in the last run for Duffy's, and Kaczmarek also had two hits apiece.

(Darkowski) was just a little bit wild and he hit two, and that's not Derek," Hines Park coach Dave Racer said. "But he mixed well. He was always getting ahead of the batters. He had them hitting his pitches."

Hines Park hopes a different approach will work this year in the playoffs.

After going all out to win the regular-season title last year, the team faltered in the tournament, losing the trip to Johnstown, Pa., for the World Series to Walter's.

"This year we knew the league was fairly balanced, and we played the season just to make the playoffs," Racer said. "Winning like we did last year didn't do anything for us. We got a trophy, but it didn't f the inning.

Metro Magic meets national challenge staff writer

After surviving close games to win a regional soccer title, the Michigan Metro Magic Wolves assumed the under-16 national tournament would be just as difficult.

That thinking stood to reason but was just the opposite of what actually happened in Woodbridge, Va., last weekend.

The Wolves, with a roster dominated by Plymouth and Canton players but including others from around the metro area, whipped both opponents to claim the Niotis Cup as champion of the United States National Youth Challenge Cup.

In becoming the first Michigan team to win an under-16 boys national title, the Wolves crushed the Bethesda (Md.) Mustangs 4-1 in the semifinal round Thursday and trounced the Clearwater (Fla.) Chargers 5-1 for the championship Satur-

"We thought the national tournament was a little easier than the regional," Wolves assistant coach Roy Larner said. "The competition in Region 2 was stronger, and that's a real feather in the hat of those teams."

THE REGIONAL tournament in Kalamazoo was a struggle by comparison. Metro Magic needed overtime to get past Kansas 2-1 in the semifinal and a shootout to defeat Ohio South in

"Once we got there, our kids were fired up," said Larner of the national event. "They just weren't going to be beaten. We played much better in the nationals, with much more intensity, taking the game to the other teams."

Players on the 17-man roster from the Observer and Eccentric area include Matt Lee, John Truskowski, Kerry Zavagnin, Matt Cook and Chris Hayes of Plymouth; Mike Makowlec, Brendan Sullivan and Scott Larner of Canton; Jeremy Banks and Travis Roy of Livonia; Tim Webb, Marc Cudnik and Steve Schwartz of Troy; and Matt Werner of West Bloomfield.

Rounding out the team are William Boothe of Lake Orion, Steve Welger of Dearborn and Craig Abraham of St. Clair Shores. The head coach is John Boots, who also coaches the Redford Catholic Central varsity.

Despite their own confidence, the Wolves were considered underdogs by some estimates, according to Larner. The Bethesda coach, Guy Fraiture, was quoted in print saying he wasn't impressed after watching film of the Wolves in their regional games, Larner said.

"But they probably were two of the worst 'games we played," he said. "Obviously, each region feels it's the favorite, but I think we were the unknown going out there."

IF THERE was any doubt about the Wolves, they silenced the critics by beating the Mustangs 4-1 behind a three-goal performance by Boothe, who gave Metro Magic a 3-0 lead. Weiger scored the fourth goal.

"We were surprised we were able to handle Bethesda as well as we did," Larner said. "It gave us confidence. We figured if we could handle them, we could handle any of the other

Fraiture later complimented the Wolves, saying they were one of the biggest teams the Mustangs had played and used their size and speed to good advantage, according to Larner. "I think they were taken by surprise by our speed and how good we really were," he said. In the final, the Wolves trailed 1-0 after Clearwater converted a penalty kick, but it was all Metro Magic after that. Zavagnin scored the tying goal, and Cudnik, Roy, Weiger and Banks enabled the Wolves to win going away.

That was the turning point when we were able to come back after that penalty kick," Larner said. The Wolves led 2-1 at halftime.

"WE GOT stronger and stronger, and they got weaker and weaker. From then on (following the Zavagnin goal), it was a relatively easy victory."

The Wolves dominated the final, outshooting the Chargers by a 4-to-1 ratio. Metro Magic took 16 shots to Bethesda's 12 in the semfinal, and Webb, the goalkeeper in both games, recorded six saves.

"Everybody played up to his potential, and the scores are evidence of that," Larner said. "Everybody really put out. Everybody played with the intensity necessary to win."

Larner added the Wolves had spent the last two years preparing for such a moment. The team began four years ago as strictly an under-12 Plymouth/Canton outfit, and Makowiec, Lee, Truskowski, Cook, Hayes, Larner, Sullivan and Zavagnin are the holdovers from the original

With the current roster in place, the Wolves competed in Europe last summer, the Dallas Cup in April and the Robbie International, the foremost Canadian tournament, on the Fourth of July weekend.

The Wolves were 2-0-1 in Dallas but lost out to Las Vegas United on a goal differential. The United won the Region 4 championship but finished fourth in the national tourney, losing to Bethesda in the consolation game.

"That was evidence of how far we progressed," Larner sald.

The Wolves became the first Michigan team to win the Robble and, playing up a year, captured the Little Caesars Ilitch Division title.

"(The Dallas Cup) was like a warmup for us," Larner sald. "That was our first outdoor competition. We just wanted to get a jump on the league and prepare for winning the region and eventually the national championship."

LECTKA NETS WIN

Westland's Tracy Lectka, former All-State softball pitcher from Livonla Franklin High, won the Women's Singles title last weekend at the Redford Township Adult Open Tennis Tournament at Claude Allison Park.

Paul Aufdemberge of East Detroit, perhaps the premier road racer in Michigan, made his Redford Roadrunner debut one to remember Saturday, conquering the heat and his last two competitors with a blistering surge at the three-mile mark in a runaway.

Wally Rodriguez, up from Ohio and running in the 35-39 age group, hung tough, getting nipped by Johns just before the finish line at Veterans Park in Livonia.

Rowand-Schmidt, who recently married Joe Schmidt, a top Ann Arbor runner, has one more year of eligibility left for the University of Michigan. A four-time Big Ten champ and a five-time All-America, she was running her first race since the national collegiate championships in the spring.

"Joe and I just got married, and we didn't train much on our honeymoon in Hawaii. I don't feel I'm in very good shape, but I had a good rhythm going . . . I was just going to wing it. When I started, I felt real strong."

Strong enough to hammer through the first mile in 5:19. "It felt so sweet," said Rowand-Schmidt of her race.

AUFDEMBERGE ADMITTED the steamy day affected his strategy.

"It was hot and tough," he said. "I really wanted to go out conservatively and run an even pace, which is pretty much how it worked out. But I slowed down the last mile."

He may have run even miles, but that doesn't mean he ran evenly throughout. He tested his foes with some surges, a test they failed. "Don had a slight lead at one, and

Westland I, II eye Mantle region title

The sister Westland Federation I and II teams have a lot in common when it comes to Mickey Mantle-age (15-16 year-olds) baseball.

Each team emerged last weekend with district titles in the first step of the American Amateur Baseball Congress national tournament.

And as fate had it, the two teams met yesterday (Wednesday) in the first round of the AABC regional in Coldwater. (Results of that game will appear in Monday's Observer.)

The nine-team regional at Coldwater wraps up Sunday with the winner advancing to the AABC finals, Aug. 10-14 in Waterbury, Conn.

Coach Jerry Pitcher's Westland I squad is no stranger to Coldwater or the AABC World Series at this stage of the season. The 1985 and '87 national champions gained their sixth straight district title with a 13-4 rout Sunday of Sterling Heights in the finals at Plymouth Salem High. The Little Caesars Amateur Baseball League champs ran their record to 31-8, overcoming an early 1-0 deficit on an RBI double by Andy Gagne, followed by a towering two-run homer by Joe Coughlin to make it 3-1 after

Westland I never looked back, despite some problems

Coughlin, the starting pitcher, left after one inning because of a back injury.

Dave Roman came on in relief, holding Sterling Heights the rest of the way on three runs, four hits to go along with four strikeouts to grab the victory.

IN THE DISTRICT opener, Coughlin homered in a 3-for-4 showing at the bat in a 10-2 triumph over the Troy Royals. He finished with three RBI as did teammates John Ward and Dwight Reese, the latter whom socked a three-run triple.

Winning pitcher Bob Areliano went the distance, allowing just three hits while fanning seven.

Westland I outslugged Sterling Heights in the second round, 10.7, as Joe Vondracek went 4.for-8 and knocked in four runs. Coughlin added two hits and three RBI. Charles Winters worked the first four lanings before giving

The victory increased Westland II's overall record to 23-10. In the district opener, Westland II dusted off the Macomb Mavericks, 14-6, as Gerard Romej, Rutherford, Kapla, Tapp and Valention contributed two hits apiece.

Kapla, who went the first five innings, was the winning pitcher. DiPrima finished up to earn the save. Manager Chet Kapla's team then won by forfeit against Detroit Renaissance in the second round and invoked the eight-run mercy rule to beat South Lyon in the next outing, 12-8. Guest player Frank Learned pitched six strong innings,

GREG TAMAS had two hits to pace the Westland II attack. Brian McAllister, the victim of three unearned runs, was handed a setback in a 3-2 loss to Mount Clemens, but Westland Il rebounded in the double-elimination tourney to beat Mount

Keith McManaway and Jim Foster crushed sixth-inning home runs, driving in a combined five runs during the seven-run outburst-in-which-Boyle rallied from a 4-2 deficit. McManaway, a 29-year-old, pow-

The oldest member of the team, 42-year-old, world-class pitcher Al White, contributed substantially to the victory. As the winning pitcher, he brought Boyle back from a threehit, three-run fourth inning by AJs, allowing only two hits over the last three innings.

"Al White took over and shut emdown," Brubaker said. "These (younger) guys are still green. They've only played 25 modified games. They were exceptional base-ball players, and it takes a little bit of seasoning.

The Way Moves

Band looks at love and/or sex

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

THE WAY MOVES is a rock and roll band that sings about love and sex. OK, great, put them in line with 10,000 other groups gracing the face of this

"In a way, we've tried to separate the two," said Jordan, whose band, The Way Moves, open for Concrete Blond tonight at Saint Andrew's Hall in Detroit. "We've tried to explore the difference between love and sex on this album."

Songs on "Favor and Disgrace" (Chameleon) tackle love — "Fall Alone" and "Cry to Me" — and sex — "Sweet Thing" and "Kiss."

The numbers, though, are wrapped in a guitar-heavy sound, very reminiscent of a 1970s poprock outfit reincarnated into a '90s package.

While The Way Moves' music is straight-forward bravado, the band signals a growing trend of up-and-coming bands turning to tried and true formulas geared toward album-oriented radio.

In The Way Moves' case, the plan appears to be working. The band's LP is receiving air play on WCBN-FM in Boston, no small feat, along with a few other radio stations across the country. Of course, one might be hasty to write off this phenomenon as one mass kiss-up to radio programmers. Then again, who can blame them. Without the AOR seal of approval, bands languish on the lower rungs of the music industry.

SEVERAL GREAT groups exist, refusing to compromise artistic integrity. Critics love them, but good reviews don't replace bank notes in the wallet.

drew's Hall in Detroit.

"There are songs on the record that are mainstream," Jordan said. "Then there are other songs that are esoteric and soft . . . Generally, what we're going for is mainstream appeal.

"It is (tough). There are so many times in this business when you get caught in nowhere land.'

The land The Way Moves come from is Chicagoland. The group has been together for nearly three years, garnering a reputation as one the city's top club

Two of the band members have played in the minor leagues: Alan Holden with baseball's Texas Rangers and lead vocalist Skid Marks with hockey's St. Louis

Holden and Marks' addition to the lineup is credited in changing the direction of The Way Moves from a keyboard band to a hardedged outfit.

"We dabbled with keyboards in previous incarnations," Jordan said. "That stuff was a little more foam than beer. Things crafted with technology instead of heart and soul have a shorter lifespan."

The lifespan of The Way Moves increased with the band signing with Chameleon Records. The president of the California-based independent label, Stephen Powers, caught the band when he was with Capitol Records. When he left for Chameleon, he signed them immediately.

The Way Moves released a selftitled album last year and received a favorable response. With "Favor and Disgrace," the band believes it has a stronger

According to Jordan, the key is developing a sound that will en dure time.

"Have you heard anything from (the band) a-Ha lately?" Jordan asked rhetorically.

The Way Moves will open for Concrete Blond - tonight (Thursday, Aug. 2) at Saint Andrew's Hall, 430 E. Congress, Detroit. For information, call 961-MELT.

Paintings reflect bigger-than-life cars

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

LAMES OF red, yellow and blue leap across the intense paintings of awardwinning artist Tom Hale. Drenched in color so vibrant they explode with tremendous force. Hale's paintings command your complete and undying attention.

Hale is the man and mind behind the sensitive, wildly colored, highly detailed paintings of classic collector's cars.

"I try to make my cars bigger than life," he said in an interview at his Farmington Hills home.

Using a car's body paint and chrome as a mirror, Hale's paint brush splashes abstract reflections into his compositions, fully revealing himself; the high-energy level, the sensitivity to nature and its surroundings, and, of course, his love for the automobile.

"I go to auto shows all the time," he said. "I shoot a lot of black and white photography. I record the movement of the reflections in the car's body paint and chrome.

"The reflection is all pure abstraction," he said.

HALE ABSTRACTLY paints trees, silhouettes, anything located in the immediate area - portraying them as if seen through the distortion of a wide-angle lens. This theme is reflected in his hotly painted cars and chrome, which mirror their surroundings.

Midnight blues and washed lavender softly illuminate the backdrops in his paintings. "The backgrounds are meant to complement all the hardness of the automobile by adding fantasy," he said.

Hale's paintings are a combination of abstract art and precise realism, the realism noted in the carefully researched depiction of a specific make, model and year of automobile. "The cars are all authentic," he said.

Lining the shelves on one wall of his studio sits a complete library dealing specifically with the automobile.

Hale opened one of the reference books to point out a chrome oval rim that surrounded the headlight of a specific model of Jaguar. "An avid collector will know if this is faked," he said, pointing to the rim around the Jaguar's headlight.

HALE'S DETAILED styling of the automobile is indicative of his background.

After graduating from Art Center College of Design in California, he worked 20 years as a designerfor General Motors. Chrysler and American Motors. But frustration eventually overtook him, resulting in a search to express himself. His art is the culmination of his longing for creativity.

"My art is slow and time-consuming," he said. "It took three months to complete the big Cadillac. On average for a painting, it takes close to six weeks." Hale credits his wife of 27 years, Micki, for the "intensity of her involvement, for sacrificing her interests, her career, for the benefit of what we're doing together."

Hale believes that Micki's dedication to "what we're doing together" is directly responsible for the artist he has become.

"I listen to her a lot more than she realizes," Hale said. "Micki has an innocence about her. She gives me the most-innocent, most-honest opinion I'm going to get, whether it's about a current painting or a business opportunity."

IN 1985, Lee Iacocca, Chrysler Corp. chairman; traveled to the People's Republic of China and Japan with three of Hale's paintings, giving them as gifts to high-ranking government and business leaders. In 1987, Hale was selected to signature membership in the conservative American Watercolor Society. These are only two of his many art honors.

Six of his paintings were commissioned and are on permanent display in the Millender Center in downtown Detroit.

Nine years ago, Hale founded the Concours d'Elegance at Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester Hills. This year, he is chairman of the classic car event (see related story), where his work also will be on dis-

When asked for advice he would give aspiring artists, Hale said: "One, to work at your art everyday, whether it's for one hour or 10. You need to work at it everyday. And two, you need to believe in what you are doing and go for it."

Art to highlight auction

The annual Concours d'Elegance at Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester Hills has long track record for a happy marriage of art and automobiles.

The contemporary paintings shown are concerned with automobiles and, in many minds, the automobiles in this prestigious show are, in every sense, works of art.

The art auction and banquet on Saturday, Aug. 4 preceding the actual Concours on Sunday, Aug. 5, will have a new and exciting ele-

Traditionally the high point of the evening has been the sale of the original painting done for the Concours d'Elegance poster.

This year a poster package will be up for bids — the original painting featuring a Rolls Royce London-Edinburgh Silver Ghost plus a silver-plated bronze sculpture of the same automobile, both by Stanley Wanless of Astoria, Ore.

Village marching on; museum reaches out

• Onward and upward — Work continues on restoring the 129-yearold Newburgh School in Livonia's Greenmead Historical Village to early-20th-century vintage. The oneroom schoolhouse, used until 1922, will open Sept, 9. It once stood at Newburgh and Ann Arbor Trail.

A $50,000 state equity grant will cover $50,000 of the $160,000 cost.

Meanwhile, the Livonia Historical Commission plans soon to ask the city council for the go-ahead to seek bids for an architectural survey to restore the 11 original Hill Farm buildings at Greenmead's west end.

"We'll evaluate what needs to be done and recommend prioritles for doing it," said Sue Daniel, commission chairwoman.

The 1989 sale of three acres at the southeast corner of Greenmead to the U.S. Postal Service will help pay for upgrading the farm buildings.

Never weary of talking about her beloved Greenmead, Daniel says:

"I think it's a wonderful place. When restoration of the historic buildings is complete and we begin to put more effort into programming, there's an endless variety of things we can do to have citizens enjoy the past.

"It's such a quiet place. The gardens are lovely. There are lots and lots of different directions that development can go."

Therein lies the allure and the potential of Greenmead.

• A classroom bonus — To help. teachers make science fun, the innovative Ann Arbor Hands-On Museum is offering a pilot program to schools and community centers in Washtenaw, Wayne and Oakland counties.

The outreach program consists of workshops designed to enrich the science curriculum in grades K-6 through hands-on experiments and demonstrations.

Museum staffers present 45-minute sessions on such topics as the human body, sound, magnetism and light optics. Last year, they visited 11 schools and 700 students; school district stops included Farmington, Livonia and Wayne-Westland.

Most teachers use the workshops to introduce a curriculum area or to wrap one up," said Cindy Steele, outreach educator. "We offer alternative science programming for teachers who may not have the time or resources that we do."

The workshops are a good way to introduce teachers to the wonders of the museum's 160 hands-on exhibits in science, art and culture.

I've been there and can vouch that the renovated historic firehouse is a great place to take kids in search of fun in an educational setting. Call 1-995-5439 for fees and reservations.

• Budget shakedown - In the wake of a $1.8-million operating deficit for 1990-91, the Detroit Institute of Arts begins a five-day-a-week schedule of Wednesday through Sunday effective next week.

The move will trim $350,000 in expenses from the $30-million operaling budget. State funding has been stuck at $16 million for eight years; city funding has been stalled at $500,000 for five years.

Contributions and program revenues are up but not enough to offset inflationary budget increases, said Samuel Sachs II, DIA director.

The cutback in hours didn't come lightly. As Sachs put it: "We refuse to lower the quality of the DIA collection, exhibitions and programs, so the only resort is to trim an already lean annual operating budget and still maintain our strength as Michigan's foremost art resource, ranking among the country's most comprehensive fine arts collections, and featuring a nationally recognized performing arts program."

Westland crafter shapes dolls from days gone by

By Linda Chomin special writer

HEN PAM Kovarik talks about her handcrafted, porcelain dolls, her exuberance and energy is contagious enough to make you wonder if the replicas of 18th century dolls have come alive. You will swear that one of them winked.

The deluge of dolls - both German and French, costurned in ivory satin, pearls and lace - fill Pam's Westland home with romanticism and a longing for days gone

Two years ago, Pam began making porcelain dolls. Days Gone By is the business, resulting from her work of creating 18th century replicas of porcelain dolls, christening gowns, baby quilts, Victorian lace hats and pillows.

"I will make antique replicas of just about anything," she

She spends eight to 10 hours a day working on her creations. "It takes me two months to complete a doll," she sald, "The doll's clothing is all handmade. Their bodies can be made of two or three different materials, ranging from muslin cloth, to all porcelain."

"The first step is pouring the liquid into the mold," she said. 😘

DOWNSTAIRS IN her workshop, she demonstrated the next step. The cleaning method begins when the dried greenware is taken from the mold. With her delicate hands, she gently held the doll's head, brushing away with her fingertips any seams or imperfections formed in the mold.

"Greenware will shatter in your hands if you're not careful," she said. "After cleaning the greenware, then it will be fired. Then it will be china-painted."

cours art committee, said he expects this painting/sculpture package by Wanless will command considerably more than the (very respectable) $31,000 that Pete Maler's painting by itself brought last year.

WANLESS, WIDELY recognized as both a painter and a sculptor, has two Rolls Royces in his personal collection.

He was particularly fascinated by the commission to do the London-Edinburgh Silver Ghost, known among collectors as "The Mystery." It is only three feet wide with a 1441/2-inch wheel base and Wantess said he liked the idea of painting that elegant English automobile against the English architectural setting of Meadow Brook

In preparation, Wanless made extensive scale drawings and sketches for his two and three dimensional projects using material from his 5,000-plus volume, autobook library and many photos supplies by the late Rick Carroll.

He is now working on the 22-foot Seafarers Memorial at the mouth of the Columbia River in the Pacific Ocean. A 1414-foot tide symbolically rises and falls on the bronze. which is dedicated to those who have died at sea. He completed a commission for the National Park Service at Fort Clatsop National Memorial of Lewis and Clark's arrival at the Pacific Ocean and is working on two more large Lewis and Clark Monuments on the Lewis and Clark Trail.

The 16th annual show will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 4-5, at the Eddie Edgar Sports Arena, 33841

On display will be decoys, birds, wildlife, miniatures, human figures, whittled pleces, marquetry, relief and chip carving, plus wood-carving tools and supplies.

Don't hesitate to enlarge, display your photos

AS THE students in my photography classes know, I'm constantly stressing the importance of having photographs hanging in their homes

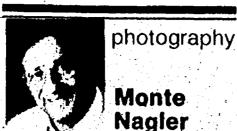

I firmly believe that anyone with an interest in photography can benefit greatly from living with photographs.

Let's begin with some of your own pictures. I know that all of you have some favorite slides or prints tucked away that you can't wait to get out and brag about whenever a friend or relative stops over. Well, why not display those favorites?

Perhaps it's that dramatic sunset you just took on your last vacation or the shot of your youngster that captures a special expression of childhood delight.

Whatever the case, it's easy to get pictures up on the wall. Just take those prized slides and negatives to your photo dealer for enlargements.

Any 35mm shot will blow up fine to 8 by 12 without losing quality. Many dealers, local frame shops, even your local K mart, stock pre-cut mats and frames that require minimal effort to assemble.

You'll be proud of that special grouping of your favorite pictures and you'll will be glad you took the time to assemble them.

AS YOUR interest in photography increases, you'll find yourself wanting other photographs to "live with."

There may be that memorable shot you fell in love with at the art fair or the striking poster you couldn't resist at the bookstore. Well, why not buy it? Often, a modest investment of dollars will pay big dividends in satisfaction.

You'll discover that living with photographs will keep your level of photographic interest and excitement high. And having photographs to look at constantly will serve as a teaching device ... the more you look, the more your knowledge and understanding of photography will increase.

People I know who live with photographs tell me how beneficial it is and how their pictures help keep the creative juices flowing and their appreciation of photography growing. Try it for yourself . . . you'll be glad you did. Living with photographs is gratifying indeed.

"Photography" is a regular feature in Creative Living.

Art from '60s revisits Ann Arbor museum

Whether you "get" it or not, the pop art and post-data art of the 1960s is here to stay. Think about it - Warhol was creating his famous silkscreen Marilyn (Monroe) series almost 30 years ago. The University of Michigan Museum of Art is currently displaying a collection of works representative of that time called, "The Art of the 1960s: Part I." Every work in the ex- bers" (pictured) is perhaps the most

.These works become most understandable when seen in context with other Indiana works. Most people are probably familiar with Indiana's "Love" series, featuring the letter of the work stacked into a square with the famous tilted letter "o."

THE LOGO turned up on everything from book bags to posters and eventually as the design for a postage stamp. On Indiana's 1968 "Love Cross," the image is repeated five times to form the shape of a cross. It is pop art at its most extreme.

Another interesting piece in the exhibit is Rauschenberg's 1969 work, "Continental Certificate MMA." This is visual arts' precursor of sampling in the recording industry. Included in the collage are work by Picasso, Rembrandt, Titian and photographs of Greek and Egyptian sculpture. It is both an homage to and a break away from the artistic styles of the ward Joseph Ruscha's 1970 lithograph "Lisp" shows to fine effect. On a cheery light blue background, droplets of water (spit?) clearly spell out the word "lisp." It echoes the earlier Dada movement in its focus on not-so serious subject matter.

Humor was another component of the 1960s pop art movement as Ed-

Also included in the exhibit is a piece by Roy Lichtenstein, a 1973 screenprint "Untitled from The New York Collection for Stockholm' Portfolio." It shows a hand pointing directly at the viewer — a la Uncle Sam's "I Want You" posters - done up in bright colors with visible color dots in typical Lichtenstein comic book style. The colors and movement in the plece make for an immediate and riveting effect.

THE WARHOL piece is immediately recognizable to even the most casual art fan. It is black and gray screenprint of Marilyn Monroe from the famous "Marilyn Portfolio."

IN TODAY'S JOB MARKET EMPLOYERS WANT MORE THAN

THE SAME OLD B.S.

Every year, over a million new college graduates put on their new blue suits and go job hunting.

All of them have degrees. Most of them have hearty handshakes. But very few have what employers want most - practical work experience.

That's why there's a nationwide program called Cooperative Education. It allows students to alternate studies at the college of their choice with paid, practical work experience in the career of their choice.

So Co-op Education students graduate with more than a degree. They have practical knowledge. And a competitive advantage in today's crowded job market. And that sure beats trying to B.S. your way into a job.

New house affordability linked to several factors

By Loren K. Smanson 🔠 special writer

The decision has already been made to buy a new house, but the question of affordability remains. To figure out how much house you can afford, you must first understand several key terms: down payment, qualifying for a loan and closing costs.

Lenders ask for down myments so that if you default on your loan, the house can be sold and the losses from your transaction can be recovered from the proceeds of the sale. Buyers entering the market for the first time usually must rely on savings or assistance from a relative to accumulate a down pay-

The size of your down payment pays an important role in determining how large a loan your qualify for.

Lenders examine your credit record and the extent to which you are already in debt to determine the maximum monthly payment you can afford.

Most conventional loans (not government-insured) require a 20 percent down payment. But first-time home buyers may not have those kinds of savings. Sources available to them are FHA (Federal Housing Administration) or VA (Veterans Administration) loans. A loan insured by the FHA normally requires a down payment of 5 percent of the home's appraised value. Their interest rates are generally slightly below those for conventional loans. Qualified a mortgage insurance premium of $.8 percent of the total loan amount. A ceiling amount, based on the prevailing home costs in your area in which your are buying, determines the maximum

CPAs suggest that the total carrying charges of owning a home should not exceed 40 percent of your monthly net income.

The VA guarantees loans to people who have served in the armed forces and who qualify financially. No down payment is required if the loan is for $144,000 or less. There is a 1 percent funding fee on VA loans.

Private mortgage insurance (PMI) loans are an option available to those who don't qualify for FHA or VA loans. These loans require a 5-10 percent down payment and are insured by private. mortgage companies.

Not all the money you require will be applied to the down payment. A major expense many first-time buyers overlook is settlement or closing costs.

When you apply for a loan, the lender is required by law to provide you with a good-faith estimate of closing costs. Thousands of dollars can be spent in this final step in buying a home.

Closing costs fall in two general categories: points, costs from making the loans, and expenses linked to the actual transfer of property from the seller to Discount points charged by the lender are generally the largest part of your closing costs. One point equals 1 percent of the total loan amount. Points should be a strong consideration in your loanselection. The borrower almost always pays his own points.

Other costs, some of which may be negotiated between the buyer and the seller, include: appraisal fee, attorney's fees, credit report, property survey fee, recording fee, state and local transfer taxes, title search and insurance, and property taxes.

The Michigan Association of CPAs, based in Farmington Hills, also urge prospective home buyers to think also in terms of affordability, investment and tax considerations. CPAs suggest that the total carrying charges of owning a home should not exceed 40 percent of your monthly net income.

If your finances are tight, consider buying a smaller home in a desirable location. You may also want to explore less expensive homes that may involve a longer commute to your place of employment, although these homes may not appreciate as quickly as you would Owning a house can still be a good investment even if the mortgage interest rates exceed the annual appreciation of your house. The reason is simple: In the early years of a mortgage, a larger share of the monthly payment goes to tax-deductible interest rather than principal. In addition, you can generally deduct real estate taxes and points paid to secure a mortgage. What's more, you can defer tax on the gain realized by selling your house by purchasing a house of equal or greater value.

Show time

Curtain rises on media rooms as entertaining stays at home

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Imagine the explosiveness of "Die Hard" (I or II), cial effects of "Star Wars," the grandeur of Tara in "Gone With the Wind."

Now cram it all that into a 19-inch color televilike going to the zoo in the winter.

Now explode the images and sounds onto an 80inch screen and a surround-sound stereo-system ing, surround-sound stereo systems, deep base, baland put it in its own room. Call it "in-home the- anced acoustics - it's just like the Jetsons." ater," call it movies like they we're meant to be seen, call it "a media room."

"A lot of homes, especially in new construction, are dedicating a room to a media systems," said Robert Hoger, sales manager at Vitex Inc., an audio visual specialist in Commerce Township.

Some enterprising folks may have discovered a simple two-way jack hooks up a television, VCR seph. and stereo system that enables the family room to double as an ersatz movie theater, Hoger sald, but that hardly qualifies as a media room.

Most equipment found in media rooms, he said, cannot be bought at the local appliance superstores.

"We work with a lot of specialty products that aren't well known, but are what we need to do the job right."

SPECIAL CUSTOM cabinets, big screen televisions and stereo components built into walls, surround-sound speakers mounted in ceilings, 10-foot screens that drop from the ceiling, projection television in hidden enclosures — all go into making a media room the home entertainment center.

The typical media room, Vitex Inc.'s Hoger said, will cost anywhere from $3,000 to $30,000, but costs can be much higher. Hoger said he is currently working on a project that has cost $70,000 thus far, and may cost $100,000 before it is complete.

The larger systems generally go far beyond the media room. In those projects, several rooms — or perhaps the entire home — is wired for sound with infrared remotes, computer automation or any number of electronic gadgets.

"We're only limited by the customers' imagination and pocketbook," Hoger said.

MOST MEDIA rooms are going to be found in the higher priced homes of the upper and upper-middle class, said David Kellett Jr., vice president with Kellett Construction Co. in Bloomfield Hills.

While hardly common, media rooms are becomthe glory of Mozart's music in "Amadeus," the spe- ing popular in new construction and remodeling or addition projects, Kellett said.

"People who like gadgets and have the money want it all - the cable, the big screen and projecsion with five-inch speakers in a living room — it's tion televisions, the stereos — it can be quite exten-

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGNER Gail Vandercook, owner of Intrinsic Design in Lapeer County, has designed many homes in Oakland County that include media rooms, she said.

Vandercook designed Kingsley Estate, the Home erama house built by Rochester builder James Jon

"I think you have to be a bit of an electronical buff to want this = the whole room can become out electronic gadget," Vandercook said.

"I do a lot of country homes in north Oakland County and you don't see people asking for the

"I think the reason you're seeing a lot of them is that a lot of homes have great rooms instead of family rooms."

GREAT ROOMS are the central gathering place in many homes and are not necessarily convenient for watching television or listening to music, she "So we've got the media rooms so things happening in the great room won't interrupt what's going on in the media room." The media room, with its emphasis on television, music and entertainment, is actually a throwback to the 1950s and 1960s, Vandercook said. Several decades ago, homes were designed with studies or dens and television rooms, but they were: eventually combined into family rooms. In the 1970s and 1980s, the family and dining rooms joined and evolved into great rooms. Now, as the square footage in homes increases, builders and homeowners are interested in designating a room for home entertainment.

Real estate investors interested in Midwest

(AP) - The Midwest, California and the Southwest will see the biggest increases in real estate investment in the next two years, leading real estate executives and economists predict.

A study was conducted by Ernst & Young Real Estate Advisory Ser-Index, a computer service that tracks real estate values and rents.

The nationwide survey, mailed in January, compiles responses of 400 real estate specialists to forecast the real estate market for the next five years.

The specialists expect the real estate market to grow more slowly than the consumer price index in the first half of the decade. They expect a sluggish market through 1995, citing recent overbuilding as the major detriment.

The experts also expect a decline in available capital, including forelgn investment. Some respondents expect a catastrophic impact on realestate from the savings and loan crivices and the National Real Estate Nsis, but others believe the largest effect has already been felt.

Despite the overall prediction of a slow market, 28.4 percent of the respondents said their firms would increase investment in the Midwest in the next two years compared with spending in 1989.

BUT IN ONE of the study's contradictions, the specialists appeared less enthusiastic about individual

That decrease can be traced to the belief of a plurality of the analysts (28.6 percent) that New York City is the most overpriced market in the country for real estate investment.

In another contradiction, Los Angeles finished second in the balloting for most overpriced market but was also identified as the metropolitan market likely to offer the best real estate performance in the next five

in media rooms

MORE THAN ever, people are spending time at home and that's where they want to be entertained, Hoger said.

Going out can cost a lot of money, but with video renting and cable television, the price of entertaining at home is getting lower."

Equipment, Hoger said, varies with the individual. Big screen televisions are now common in households and are often an integral component of a media room.

THE MAJOR problem presented by big screen televisions, Hoger said, is they are too boxy or large to be concealed.

"The best media room is one , said, are even voice-activated. where you walk into it and don't know what it is.

"We'll get the customer who wants it to be flashy, to show off the system, but most people want everything hidden until they want it," he said.

Designers get around the "boxiness" of large screen televisions and bulky components by building them into the walls or building special cabinets to conceal them until they're needed, he said.

But projection televisions are becoming a bigger part of media rooms, Hoger said.

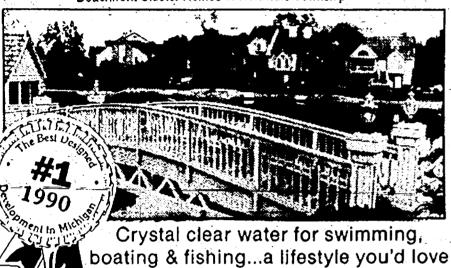

"They're more flexible in size you can make a screen as big or as small as you want."

Projection televisions can also be concealed more easily, he said.

MEDIA ROOMS might also include computerized automation systems that control lights, window blinds, movie screens, televisions and stereo equipment. Some, Hoger:

"You walk into the room, say, 'movie time,' and the lights dim, the shades draw, the projection television and screen drop from the ceiling and the movie starts - it's really impressive," Hoger said. "People like to show them off."

Isn't It A Shame?

You had no idea, did you, that a seemingly harmless piece of plastic could become an implement of death to an innocent sea creature? Yet it happens, unfortunately on a grand scale.

. Tons of plastic material are lost or dumped into the oceans each year, imperiling the lives of hundreds of thousands of aquatic animals.

Plastic bags, six-pack yokes, fishing nets and other materials can trap fish, mammals, turtles and birds, causing death by drowning or strangulation. Sometimes animals get sick or starve when they eat plastic that they mistake for food. But plastics pollution is preventable.
