Thomas: Tax for library a 'last resort'

By Todd Schnelder
staff writer

A tax increase to pay for the operation of a public library in Westland would be a last resort, Mayor Robert Thomas said Thursday.

However, Thomas said he is looking into other ways, including dedicating a portion of the extra tax money collected by the city this year to pay for a library.

Obtaining state grants is also a possibility, the mayor said.

"I really shy away from going for a millage again," Thomas said. "I think we could get it passed, but I think we should carefully look at other options before going that route."

He said any such proposal would have to be a small one, possibly one-half mill, to have any chance of success. One-half mill represents $15 a year in property taxes for the owner of a $60,000 house.

The state legislature has passed a capital outlay program that includes $2 million for the construction of a library in Westland. The bill also earmarks $600,000 for renovations at the Wayne-Westland Public Library, on Sims in Wayne.

STATE SEN. William Faust, D-Westland, pushed for the library appropriation in the spending plan.

The bill has been forwarded to Gov. James Blanchard's office. He has until Friday to sign it.

Thomas said he will try to schedule a study session with the Westland City Council to discuss financing library operations within 30 days of the bill's signing.

Administration officials met Wednesday to discuss the issue.

At that meeting, officials went over the 1987 plans for a city library. "We want to see what kind of library we can build for $2 million, whether we will have to make changes from the original plans," he said.

Three years ago, construction of a 23,000 square-foot building was pegged at $2 million.

URGENT CARE for sprained ankles, severe cuts, chronic colds and other non-traumatic emergency patients has been discontinued at Annapolis Hospital, Westland Center (formerly Westland Medical Center).

Those services are being consolidated into an expanded urgent care center at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, said a press release from Oakwood United Hospitals Inc., which manages both facilities.

Urgent care services will be available at the Wayne hospital 6-11 p.m. daily.

Carla O'Malley, a hospital spokeswoman, said the Westland Hospital will continue to offer treatment for some urgent care problems on an appointment basis through its family health program.

"In addition to improving the urgent care capabilities, this move will also directly improve the current emergency services center by allowing them to focus on the more severe traumatic cases that may come to Annapolis," the press release said.

The release noted a decrease in the demand for urgent care services in Westland and an increase in Wayne.

Oakwood United Hospitals took over Westland Medical Center earlier this year.

THE PERSIAN GULF crisis will take center stage in Westland Thursday in ceremonies outside city hall.

Mayor and Mrs. Robert Thomas and other city officials will tie red, white and blue ribbons around trees and car doors or antennas as a show of support for American troops in the Middle East and Westland families with members in the armed services.

The ribbon tying will begin at 9 a.m. Passersby who wish to receive a ribbon can stop by noon to 5 p.m.

A short prayer vigil will be at 3 p.m. on the front steps of city hall.

"This is our way of saying that we appreciate the bravery and dedication of our service men and women serving our country during the crisis and that our hearts go out to these friends and relatives who are waiting for the safe return of their loved ones," Thomas said.

CHRIS VIHONSKY of Westland now has something in common with all those pro sports MVPs.

That's right. He's going to Disney World.

Chris won the Disney trip for his family Sept. 28 as part of a promotion by radio station WNIC-FM.

The Patchin Elementary School student was awarded the top prize after sending in his school lunch menu. When the menu was read on the air, Chris received a lunchbox and his name was entered in the grand prize drawing for the trip.

FRIENDSHIP CENTER patrons will be riding to events in comfort.

The Westland City Council Monday approved the purchase of a new bus for the city's senior center. The $75,000 bus will replace an older model that had become unreliable, city officials said.

THE NEXT Town Hall meeting is set for 7 p.m. Thursday at the Melvin Bailey Recreation Center.

Westland residents have a chance to discuss problems with Mayor Robert Thomas and other city officials at the monthly meeting.

Man in doghouse gets hounded by burglary charge

By Todd Schnelder
staff writer

The man charged with burglarizing a Westland apartment eluded police for 3½ hours Wednesday afternoon by hiding in a doghouse.

Even a Detroit police tracking dog was fooled by the tactic.

A witness said someone matching the description of a man seen in the burglarized apartment was hiding in a doghouse behind a house in the 10000 block of Farmington Road in Livonia.

John Thomas Thompson, 36, of Detroit surrendered to police.

SEARCHERS apparently had dismissed the doghouse as a hiding place because the doghouse's regular resident — a large malamute — was also in the area, said Livonia police Lt. Mike Murray.

"I think he got in that doghouse and figured if he came out, he might get eaten," Murray said.

Thompson stood mute, and a not-guilty plea was entered for him at his arraignment Thursday in 18th District Court.

He is charged with one count of breaking and entering an occupied dwelling.

Judge Gall McKnight set a $10,000 cash bond and scheduled a preliminary examination for 9 a.m. Thursday.

A RESIDENT of the Westwood Village Apartments, at Joy and John Hix in Westland, called police at 12:45 p.m. after finding a stranger rifling his bedroom.

The resident said he had stepped out for a minute and locked the door. When he returned, he saw the apartment door ajar.

He walked into the apartment and confronted a man wearing a white sock over one hand.

The resident said the intruder threatened to hurt him and ordered him back into the living room.

He went to call the police and get help, but when he returned the intruder was gone.

Several witnesses said they saw a stranger getting into a white 1988 Chevrolet Cavalier in the complex parking lot.

LIVONIA POLICE saw a car matching the car's description near Farmington and Richland, then found it abandoned in a yard in the 9700 block of Farmington.

Officers found a pair of white socks and a portable stereo on the front seat.

The resident reported $50 cash and a gold watch valued at $700 stolen from his apartment.

Officers and this police tracking dog were suspect when the man hid inside a doghouse, fooled briefly in their manhunt for a burglary in Livonia's south end.

Mehl case taken out of local court

By Todd Schnelder
staff writer

A misdemeanor trial involving Westland City Councilman Ken Mehl and his business partner will be reassigned from the 18th District Court after the city insisted Thursday on prosecuting the case under a new, tougher ordinance violation policy.

Judge Gall McKnight disqualified herself from the case, which she said represented "a conflict for the court."

"What we have here is the administration in conflict with two citizens, one of whom is an elected official," McKnight said from the bench. "Since the court is involved in funding decisions (by the council and administration), the court has to disqualify itself."

Mehl and partner Michael Scott of Livonia have pleaded not guilty to zoning ordinance violations issued last spring against their Warren Road bar.

David Wlasek, 18th District Court administrator, said the case will be sent to the state court administration office in Detroit with a request for reassignment. It will probably be heard by a district judge in an adjacent western Wayne County community, he said.

The charges are punishable by a maximum $500 fine and 90-day jail term.

Mehl and Scott own the Blarney Bay Pub, formerly Johnny's Bar, through their company, Kesco, Inc.

THE TWO WERE charged for what officials said was incomplete landscaping, an unfinished parking lot and an improper dumpster.

Mehl said he and Scott had the parking lot paved last year before reopening the business. The pavement began to break up, but Mehl said he wanted to wait until an adjacent lot he bought was ready for paving and repave the original lot at the same time.

Before McKnight's decision, pro-

McKnight hammers new get-tough policy

By Todd Schnelder
staff writer

Gall McKnight, 18th District Court judge, Thursday criticized a new, get-tough city policy against alleged ordinance violators as costly and unfair.

The judge, in unusual remarks from the bench during a hearing, was also critical of the administration of Mayor Robert Thomas for failing to inform the court formally of the policy change.

In early September, Thomas announced an end to plea-bargain agreements for residents and business owners charged with ordinance violations. The new policy comes in the wake of Thomas' campaign pledge last fall to eliminate blight within the city.

"The court is distressed to see something that will become quite costly (to the city)," McKnight said, referring to her decision to withdraw from a case involving Westland city councilman Ken Mehl (see related story).

"The court cannot presume to figure out what's going on in another

Crash kills city man, injures his passengers

A 34-year-old Westland man was killed and three family members and a fifth passenger were seriously injured Wednesday in a two-car collision in Taylor, police said.

A Romulus man and woman were also seriously injured in the early evening accident, on Pennsylvania Road between Beech Daly and Inkster Road, police said.

Police declined last week to release names of the victim or others involved in the accident.

THE VICTIM, his wife, 30, his 8-year-old stepson and his son, 21 months, were traveling westbound on Pennsylvania at 6:18 p.m. when their 1988 Dodge Ram was struck head-on by a 1989 Ford Mustang that had lost control after passing two vehicles in the eastbound lanes, police said.

Witnesses told police the Mustang didn't appear to be speeding, but the driver may have oversteered after passing two other cars.

Family members were taken to Heritage Hospital, where the father was declared dead, said Sgt. Len Paquette of the Taylor Police traffic bureau.

The man's wife and the two children were in critical condition Thursday, Paquette said.

THE FIFTH passenger in the van, identified only as a 25-year-old male acquaintance of the family, was also hospitalized, he said.

The driver of the Mustang and his girlfriend, both 20, were listed in serious condition Thursday with multiple injuries, he said.

Witnesses told police the Mustang didn't appear to be speeding, but the driver may have oversteered after completing the passing maneuver.

"He (the Mustang driver) got back into the eastbound lane (after passing) but apparently his steering was abrupt enough for him to lose control," Paquette said.

Paquette said there was no preliminary evidence of drug or alcohol use by either driver, although tests results weren't yet available.

The infant, strapped into a child's car seat, was the only one wearing a seat belt, Paquette said.

Library branch to close for repairs, renovations

Library patrons in the northern section of Westland will have to find another library to sign out their favorite book or record, or for their school homework.

The reason is that the Noble library branch in Livonia is closed for two months for repairs and renovations.

The library is on Plymouth Road, east of Farmington Road, and is used by students in the Livonia school district section of Westland.

The branch closed after the close of business Saturday and will reopen in mid-December.

BOOKS BORROWED from the branch and due after Oct. 1 will be given a "grace period" until Dec. 17, when it is hoped the branch will be ready to reopen.

Local persons with Livonia library cards can use the Wayne-Westland library, on Sims and Wayne Road in Wayne, or the Garden City library, on Middlebelt, two blocks south of Ford. The cards are honored by cities in the Wayne Oakland Library Federation.

Programs that the Noble branch had planned to offer during this period have been moved to other locations. To learn where Nobel events and programs have been rescheduled, call the temporary Noble office at 421-2000, Ext. 603.

All permanent Noble employees have been reassigned to the Civic Center (on Five Mile east of Farmington Road) or Sandburg (on Seven Mile west of Middlebelt) branches until the renovation is done. Student pages and library pages are being laid off until the branch reopens.

STORM DAMAGE in February removed a large portion of the copper roof. All of the copper will be removed and replaced with a composition shingle roofing on the sloped surfaces.

All vertical wood surfaces at the roof level will be sheathed in metal to protect the wood from weathering damage.

A small percentage of white asbestos was found in the plaster ceilings inside the building. The books and equipment have to be removed from the building in order to remove the plaster.

Once the original ceilings are removed and the air quality tested and found acceptable for the building to be re-entered, a new suspended grid ceiling will be installed along with new light fixtures.

All the incandescent lights will be replaced with energy-efficient fluorescent lights.

Mayor not keen on tax hike

The city will have to find land on which to build the library.

The original site, county-owned land on Newburgh west of the police station, is still available. But the city would have to buy the property or come to some other agreement with Wayne County for its use.

THE REMAINING city surplus probably couldn't be used for the library.

The nearly $4 million surplus has been cut by more than 50 percent since January to hire additional police and firefighters. Contract settlements for several city unions also could require more money if property taxes don't increase at the same level they have during the past few years.

Voters rejected a tax increase to pay for construction of a library by 53 to 47 percent in 1985.

In 1987, a similar tax-increase proposal lost by a 2-1 margin, although backers conceded it may have been hurt by a tax proposal for increased fire department staffing on the same ballot. That proposal also was beaten handily.

After that defeat, the cities of Wayne and Westland approved $35,000 in renovations for the existing library.

Mehl case taken from court

secutor Michael Ostrosky told the court that the city's position was that the defendants either plead guilty or go to trial.

Mayor Robert Thomas last month announced a tougher policy on residents and businesses ticketed for violating city ordinances.

Thomas ordered building inspector Mike Cullity to begin issuing more tickets and told city attorney Charles Bokos to eliminate plea-bargain agreements for such violations.

Previously, the city would often dismiss a ticket for such offenses if the situation was corrected within 30 days, particularly if it was a first offense.

Mehl claims the charges and subsequent prosecution constitute harassment against him by Thomas. Mehl supported former Mayor Charles Griffin, who lost to Thomas last November.

Thomas has denied the harassment charge.

branch of government."

THE PREVIOUS policy, which allowed the city to dismiss a ticket if the situation was corrected, was instituted because "it was deemed more important that the (violation) be corrected than there be a conviction," McKnight said.

She also said she had never been formally informed of the change and that the court had issued rulings under the old policy as recently as two weeks ago.

McKnight, through court administrator David Wiacek, declined to comment further on her remarks.

THOMAS SAID Thursday he felt the criticism was unwarranted, but "she has her job and I have mine.

"Nobody's proven to me that (the new policy) is really going to cost more money. Maybe it will cut down on the number of repeat offenders.

"You can't look at it as how much it costs. You have to enforce the law."

Thomas said he assumed the court had been informed of the change through Charles Bokos, the city attorney.

Worker gets surprise celebration

By Leonard Pogor
editor

Patricia Drasher had a welcome surprise waiting for her when she finished her Wednesday morning shift making salads and biscuits at the McDonald's restaurant on Ford at Radcliff.

In a corner section reserved for co-workers and relatives, she was given a surprise 21st anniversary celebration.

She came to work at McDonald's, on the Westland-Garden City boundary, on Oct. 3, 1969, just one year after it opened.

Like many young mothers at the time, Drasher, 51, of Westland, was looking for a part-time job after her youngest child entered kindergarten.

Her aunt, Theresa Henry of Garden City, suggested that she apply for the McDonald's. In return, Henry was paid $5 by the store's manager as part of a program to recruit employees.

Drasher recalled the early days of her McDonald's experiences when there seemed "to be a million kids" coming in from the nearby West High School and Radcliff Junior High School.

"Talk about panic," she remembered. "But I made it, thanks to my aunt and another lady named Pat."

She began her McDonald's career earning $1.60 an hour, assigned initially to a window and taking orders from students.

"I learned as much as I could and when the chance came for advancement, I took it. I first became a crew chief and then a swing manager."

SHE SERVED in that position for more than 15 years, watching the restaurant go from a corporation-owned business to a franchise and then back to a corporation-owned operation.

She asked to be relieved of her management duties 2 1/2 years ago because of health reasons.

Currently, she is busy from 5 a.m. to 10 a.m. every morning making biscuits and salads.

"I have always been proud of my job and am happy with my present position," she said.

Drasher feels McDonald's is an excellent opportunity for youngsters and adults looking for part-time jobs and advancing in the company.

She received a lot of hugs and best wishes at the surprise party Wednesday from relatives and co-workers.

"I have had a lot of really great managers and most precious of all a lot of terrific friends in the crew, whom I cherish most of all," she said.

Dennis Solodon, store manager, presented her a plaque and congratulated her for her service to the company.

Drasher is married to Arthur Drasher. She is the mother of two daughters, Peggy Anderson of Mesa, Ariz., and Carol Florkowski of Westland, and grandmother to Matthew and Christopher Florkowski. Florkowski, at the surprise party with her two children, is expecting her third child next month.

Area U.S. representatives attack federal budget plan

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Members of Congress varied widely in their reasons for rejecting or supporting the now-dead summit agreement on the federal budget.

U.S. Reps. William Ford, D-Taylor, and Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, voted against the plan brought before them by President George Bush and House leaders of both parties.

Overall, House members rejected the budget agreement by a 254-179 margin.

The agreement would have raised federal taxes on gasoline, beer, tobacco and airplane ticket taxes, added a new luxury tax on expensive automobiles, closed some tax loopholes for wealthy Americans and cut some outlays for defense, agriculture, Medicare and other programs.

FORD, WHOSE district includes Westland and Garden City, indicated his position on the eve of the vote, calling the summit agreement an example of "blue smoke and mirrors."

"The tax package is blatantly unfair."

"It relies on regressive excise taxes on beer, wine, cigarettes and gas to make up a deficit that has more than tripled since income taxes on the wealthy were slashed 10 years ago," Ford said.

Burl Adkins, Ford's GOP opponent, said raising taxes on anyone was unthinkable.

"The reason this went down is election-year politics," Adkins said. "The Democrats want to raise taxes." Adkins said he would also have voted against the package, preferring to give the president a line-item veto and have Congress pass a balanced budget amendment.

"I WAS troubled with the direction taken with this budget agreement," Pursell said. "Rather than reducing the growth of the federal budget, this agreement called for a balanced budget primarily through increased taxes."

Pursell, too, blamed Congress. "Too many times the president

4 members of chamber nominated

Four Westland Chamber of Commerce members have been nominated for the first Athena Award, to be presented Tuesday in a program co-sponsored by five suburban chambers.

The award is part of a national recognition program to recognize men and women who have been successful in their business or profession as well as being involved in community activities.

Paula Blanchard, former Michigan First Lady and author of her just-published memoirs, will be the guest speaker at the program, scheduled for noon in the New Hawthorne banquet hall, on Merriman north of Warren Road.

The co-sponsors of the program are chambers from Westland, Garden City, Canton Township, Dearborn Heights and Wayne.

The four Westland chamber members among the 22 nominees are:

- Barbara Barr, manager of Abington Manor senior citizen apartments, Westland Rotarian, advocate for senior citizens, and Westland chamber board secretary.

- Marcia Buhl, manager/corporate affairs for Michigan Bell, active in leadership roles for numerous community service groups in western Wayne County, and member of the Westland, Garden City, and Canton Township chambers.

- Nora Harden, manager of Willow Creek apartments, advocate for senior citizens, and Westland chamber member.

• Margaret Harlow, co-owner of Harlow Tire Co., former Westland chamber president, and chairwoman of the chamber's government committee.

The Athena Award will be presented by Phyllis Wordhouse, a former Wayne-Westland teacher now a Plymouth-based financial planner, who initiated the local program.

In coordinating their efforts in the Athena Award, the five business groups sponsoring the program are informally calling themselves the Five Star Chambers.

Professional and business persons may make reservations by calling the Westland chamber at 326-7222.

Churchill starts homecoming week

Churchill High students are getting into the spirit of homecoming with a dress-up week that begins today and runs through Friday. The school serves the northwest section of Westland.

Today is college sweatshirt day, tomorrow is Disney Day, and Wednesday is color day in which the separate classes are assigned a certain color to wear.

Thursday will be "Mix Up Day" and on Friday students will wear the school colors, red and black.

As in past years, every class will be responsible for building a float. Churchill also allows other school groups to build floats.

This year's theme for the parade is "Looney Tunes." Float building will be Wednesday night and judging will be Thursday after school. The results will be announced during Friday night's homecoming game.

A BONFIRE will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday. A pep rally will take place in the football stands and a procession will be led to the football field where the bonfire will be.

During the day Friday there will be a pep assembly during fifth and sixth hours. Churchill's team sports will be introduced and several activities demonstrating spirit will be held.

We welcome Jacobson's Charge and American Express.
Shop until 9 p.m. on Thursday and Friday. Until 6 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday.

The public is invited to visit the center, where a camera crew will be on hand to tape the message.

The station will send the messages to an NBC transmitter in southern Italy and then broadcast to American troops in Saudi Arabia.

Labor leader 'cared about everything'

By M.D. Dillon and Diane Galo staff writers

Carl Parsell, founder of the Police Officers Association of Michigan, will be remembered as a kind and caring man whose intelligence and savvy benefited every person and organization he touched.

Parsell, 67, died Oct. 2 in Harper Hospital after battling cancer for more than a year.

Parsell, of Plymouth Township, was elected president of the Detroit Police Officers Association in 1985. Under his leadership the DPOA became the strongest police union in the country.

Parsell, retired from the Detroit Police Department, also founded the Michigan Association of Police and the Michigan Association of Public Employees.

PARSELL'S CHILDREN describe him as "a beautiful family man. His family was No. 1," said David Par-sell of Gaylord, a former Detroit police officer.

"I haven't yet met a man, and this isn't because he's my dad, that I've looked up to more than him.

"One of the proudest days of my life was the day he retired. It was the same day I joined the Detroit Police Department, and he gave me his badge."

The Parsells had another day to shine this year when Detroit firefighter Stephen Parsell was elected fourth district vice president at the Michigan firefighters' state convention.

"It made me not equal to my dad, but it made us both of service to Michigan unions," Parsell said. "I think he was proud. But he wasn't any more proud of one than the others because it was a tight family."

PARSELL WAS active at Our Lady of Loretto Catholic Church in Redford Township and later at St. John Neumann in Canton.

At Loretto, he was instrumental in starting the annual Fun Fair, and worked as an usher and at Friday fish fries.

Parsell was elected to St. John Neumann's first parish council and served on the fund-raising and building committees.

"He ushered from almost day one and was active until his illness," said Gene Kijek, St. John pastoral associate. "What he's best known for, besides his dedication and hard work, is always asking the right question. He was a good man."

CANTON ATTORNEY Bob Greenstein was Canton Township supervisor when Parsell was elected Canton treasurer in 1974.

"Carl was a very unusual man. He was tough and gentle. He was kind but demanding. He had wonderful foresight and was probably one of the best people I've ever worked with in my life," Greenstein said.

"He taught me a lot, and from him it was a real pleasure to learn. He cared about everything and everybody, from people to farmland preservation; from zoning and how a house looked to how safe the people would be in it after we built it. He just cared about everything."

Funeral services were held Friday in Lambert-Vermuelen Funeral Home in Plymouth Township.

PARSELL WAS born in 1923 in Leavenworth, Kan.

He graduated from Redford High School in 1941 and served in the Army Air Force during World War II.

Survivors include: wife, Joyce; daughters, Rosemary of Redford and Carla Selling of Livonia; sons, David, Stephen, Jamie of Canton; brother, Robert Reese of Grosse Pointe Woods; sister, Leona Dunn of Northville; and nine grandchildren. Memorial contributions may be sent to Dr. Mitchell Smith's Research, Office of Development, 4160 John R, Detroit 48201.

Foodland supermarket slates grand opening

Westland grocery shoppers will have an old supermarket with a new name in their neighborhood starting Wednesday.

A new Foodland supermarket will have its grand opening with a ceremony scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday. It's in the former Great Scott! store on Ann Arbor Trail at Merriman, which was closed last month when the company was bought by the Kroger Co. supermarket chain.

The Foodland store is owned and operated by Wes Jones. He owned and operated a smaller supermarket in Livonia for five years and previously worked for Kroger.

The 28,000-square-foot Westland Foodland will offer service and self-serve meats, fresh seafood, a full-service deli, in-store bakery with cake decoration service, a salad/soup/sandwich bar and a floral department.

The store, which will employ about 100 people, will be open from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m. daily, a company spokeswoman said.

Free gifts, a children's coloring contest and special sales will be part of the grand opening festivities.

DURING EACH day of the store's opening week, the first 100 customers will receive some free groceries, and all shoppers will be offered free, fresh-brewed coffee.

On Wednesday, the first 100 customers will receive carnations and a pound of bacon. Thursday's early birds will receive a loaf of bread. On Friday, the first 100 customers will get a 2-liter bottle of pop. Saturday's first 100 shoppers will be offered a 5-pound bag of potatoes.

Children 12 and under will be invited to enter a Halloween coloring contest, and every child who returns an entry to the store before Nov. 3 will receive a free caramel apple. Winners in three age groups (6 and under, 6-9, and 9 to 12) will receive a 10-speed bicycle.

Foodland Distributors acquired the store, and four other Great Scott! stores, as part of its agreement to buy the grocery wholesaling firm Abner Wolf last month.

Westland Foodland will be served by Foodland Distributors and will carry Foodland Distributors' private label brands, Bi-Rite and Nature's Best.

cop calls

A MAN armed with a hunting knife held up the Total gas station, 32919 Cherry Hill, early Thursday, police said.

The robber escaped with an estimated $70 to $75 in cash, an employee told police.

The employee said the man entered the station through a west side door at 3:42 a.m., wearing a bandana over his face and brandishing a hunting knife with a 12-inch blade.

He demanded money from the cash register.

The robber dropped and retrieved a $20 bill as he fled the station, a witness told police.

The robber was described as white, in his late 20s, 5 feet 1 and 135 pounds with a stocky build. In addition to the brown and white polka-dotted bandana, he was wearing a brown baseball cap with unknown lettering on the front, a brown cloth jacket with white lettering on the back, blue jeans and tennis shoes.

A HOMEOWNER on the 28600 block of Hanover told police someone broke into her house Wednesday and stole a video cassette recorder valued at $500.

The woman said nobody was home at the time of the burglary, which occurred between 4 and 7:35 p.m.

The burglar apparently forced open a rear door to the home, police said. The door and door frame were damaged, police said.

AN ELK RAPIDS man reported that his 1981 Dodge van was stolen from the parking lot of the 7-Eleven store, 1826 Merriman, early Wednesday.

The van was stolen while he was inside the store for about four minutes shortly before 2 a.m., the man said.

A WESTLAND man told police someone stole the stereo speakers from his car Wednesday night after throwing a concrete block through the rear window.

The 1972 Chevrolet Chevelle was parked outside Town and Country Lanes, 1200 S. Wayne, about 11 p.m. when the theft occurred, the man said.

He estimated the damage to the car and replacement of the speakers at $500.

Area German-Americans cheer reunification

STEVE CANTRELL/staff photographer

West Germany's Consul General, Dr. Klaus Schrammeyer, in his Detroit office. He believes reunification will be overcome in a few years.

By Janice Brunson and Brian Lyeaght staff writers

Last week was momentous for German nationals and German-Americans across suburban Detroit who celebrated the official elimination of the borders that divided East and West Germany for 45 years.

Parties were also held in celebration of German-American Day Oct. 6, which commemorates the 1683 arrival of the first Germans in America.

"A damn fine thing. Long overdue," Westland policeman Adolph "Al" Lauth said of unification, noting it has joined families as well as countries. Distant relatives of Lauth's in West Germany can now freely communicate with relatives in the east, a freedom denied them for half a century.

Lauth, the grandson of Germans who immigrated to the U.S. at the turn of the century, celebrated unification and German-American Day at a party hosted Sunday by the Germania Club, a Wayne County cultural organization that promotes German heritage.

Earlier in the week, hundreds attended a party hosted by West Germany's Consul General, Klaus Schrammeyer.

"I could have invited more people, but I had no room," said Schrammeyer, who is the Federal Republic's consul in Detroit until Oct. 15, when he leaves for a new post in Sofia, Bulgaria.

ROSEMARIE ANDERSON, a German language teacher at Stevenson High School in Livonia, said her students have been discussing the implications of a unified Germany. "We've been talking very intensively about it all semester." To assist students in understanding the issue, Anderson has obtained maps of a unified Germany and other materials from the German consulate.

In addition, her 80 students are participating in a quiz contest about unification, sponsored by the Goethe Institute in New York City. Among possible prizes are five week-long trips to Germany.

The Nordamerikanische Wochen-Post, a German language newspaper based in Troy that has been published 135 years, observed the historic occasion by publishing a colorful 32-page edition last week. The paper is distributed by mail to subscribers across North America.

Both Schrammeyer and Guy Stern, a professor of German and Slavic studies at Wayne State University, said social, political and economic problems are likely to result from the unification, but only in the short term. The problems include questions of higher taxes, unemployment, housing shortages, and even resentment from the more prosperous West Germans about supporting their less affluent cousins.

"It's my thought that with the potential on both sides, Germany will become the major economic force in Europe, and all those problems will be overcome in three to four years," said Stern, who lives in Southfield and is traveling to Hamburg this week.

He said he hopes the Americans "take up the challenge" that a strong, unified German economy will eventually present.

EAST GERMANS "are well-acquainted with life in the west and are hungering for it," Stern said.

He attributes increased popularity of a German culture class he teaches to the events in Germany.

Mary Ann Sudhoff, a member of the American German Club in Plymouth, is also thrilled with unification but hastens to add, not all of old Germany has been unified.

"East and West Prussia, Pomerania and Schesien are still not unified," she said. Sudhoff was born in the United States but reared in East Prussia, finally returning to the U.S.

Hundreds attended a party hosted by West Germany's Consul General, Klaus Schrammeyer. "I could have invited more people, but I had no room," he said.

in 1947 after two years of effort. She and her parents fled their home, now part of Poland, as Soviet troops invaded the region in 1945.

She is hopeful it will be returned to Germany. "There is always hope. Anything is possible. The past year has proven this. Nobody thought when the wall came down, (unification) would happen so quickly."

Sigrun Kast, a Bloomfield Hills resident and East German native, said East Germans are excited and apprehensive about the coming merger. Kast has a brother and sister still living in East Germany, whom she visited in March as an U.S. State Department election observer. The apprehension stems from the loss of a political system that had dominated their welfare.

"They can't blame the system, government, or party for their troubles, any more and that is scary."

Schrammeyer said that Berlin, which will eventually again become the German capital, is currently a "city in turmoil," and that 500,000 East Germans have settled in West Germany since the Nov. 9 fall of the Berlin Wall.

He said that concerns by some Europeans about a unified Germany, despite the country's military aggression in the first half of the century are unfounded.

"I think these concerns are a result of old patterns and stereotypes and clichés of Germans. We have changed."

EAST MEETS WEST - AGAIN

A new chapter for Germany

German reunification is one of the world's major news events, but German boundaries have historically been flexible.

Modern Germany, as we know it, didn't come into being until the time of the U.S. Civil War as German city-states — led by Prussia — first bound together into the North German Confederation.

Wars with Denmark, Austria, and ultimately, France helped cement the nation.

Germany initially was a monarchy, headed by the kaiser, until the end of World War I. A short-lived republic failed with the ascent of Adolf Hitler and onset of World War II.

Post-war occupation by the U.S., France, Great Britain and Russia ultimately led to the creation of East and West Germany and the division of Berlin, the nation's former capital.

The new Germany will be home to roughly 77 million people, slightly less than one-third the population of the U.S.

Reunification adds another chapter to German — and world — history.

S'craft seminar teaches office organizing skills

Organizational Effectiveness, a one-day seminar, will be offered 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 11, at Schoolcraft College.

The seminar is of particular interest to office and departmental managers, as well as support staff.

Topics include lead time reduction, management by eye and use of improvement teams.

Participants learn how to sharpen their analytical skills, define functions within a work group and develop cross training strategy to maximize efficiency.

The Oct. 11 session includes lunch. Fee is $155.

The seminar will be offered again Oct. 27 and Nov. 3, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. each day. Fee is $145.

HOW ARE YOU FEELING?

If you have arthritis, your doctor asks this question with multiple meanings in mind. First, the physician wants to know the status of your joints. Which ones are the source of pain, in what ways are you having difficulty walking, bathing, dressing and working? Where does the pain radiate; how long does it last?

Are you feeling stiff in the morning and exhausted in the late afternoon? Is the joint pain spreading to new areas? Do you note swelling in your hands, knees or ankles? Are you able to sleep through the night or are you awakened repeatedly by pain?

Can you undertake an evening out, or does each day end with you falling into a chair until bed time? Do you think your medicine helps?

But the question "How are you feeling?" has a second sense: what is your mood? Are you encouraged over your progress, or concerned, even upset, over your dependency? Do you see yourself becoming crippled? What information have you read or heard that contradicts what doctors have told you?

Do not be shy to express your concerns or point out your pains. When the doctor asks how are you feeling, he should be prepared to heed your response.

In classroom: Divided we fall?

Q: I am a teacher who has taught ninth grade remedial math for the last seven years. Remedial math is for those students who have not performed well and usually have not had much success in school. Is grouping slower students together the best method? Sometimes I feel I'm beating my head against a wall.

A: First off, you can't fool the kids. Even when kids in the elementary are divided into different reading groups with names like "Blue Jays", "Robins" and "Crows", the Crows know, in their own minds, they are least admired reading species.

By the ninth grade, slower learners, underachievers (or unmotivated learners) become accustomed to being in the same class together. It has a negative impact on their self-esteem and often expresses itself in acting out, sometimes belligerent behavior.

You ask about the pros and cons of grouping. Grouping, called "tracking" at the high school level, divides students into high, average and low level classes using high, average and low level instructional materials.

A mass of research on tracking says it doesn't increase student learning at any level. Disciplined, high ability students learn in both an "advanced placement" class or an "accelerated" class or in a class with average students.

Conversely, we must recognize that less disciplined, underachiever or lower ability students wouldn't survive in a higher math class, such as calculus, because they lack of the basic fundamental necessary for success.

There are, of course, those students who have the aptitude or ability to do more challenging work. But they lack motivation necessary for a regular class, such as algebra. So, they are grouped into a remedial math class for no other reason than to obtain a required math credit for graduation — a sad commentary.

What is really sad is that parents of talented-to-average students always seem to show up at parent/teacher conferences while parents of low performers — parents you need to see most — can't seem to make it. Frankly, bowling was a priority over teacher/parent conferences for some parents I desperately needed to see when I taught.

Some grouping plans have been successful. One grouping plan that has been very successful at the elementary level is the Joplin plan. In the Joplin plan, a third, a fourth and possibly fifth grade teacher agrees to re-group across grade levels. You will find high performing third grade students with average fourth grade students and low performing fifth grade students. This provides a real challenge to the third grade students, an on-level experience for on-level fourth grade students and an opportunity to "catch up" for the slower fifth grade students.

Many elementary principals and staffs use this method. Many resist it because it takes considerable time and effort for scheduling and re-scheduling children in and out of classes. This plan can also be difficult to implement because enrichment experiences such as art, music, physical education (and recess) impact on the teacher's school day.

One major seven year study found that assigning students based on achievement level or skills mastered in a non-graded program particularly helped high achievers and older students. In this method, instead of grades, the "report card" consisted of a list of knowledge of skills mastered, such as understanding square roots.

Our ancient grading system and grade point averaging for college admission would never tolerate anything as logical as reporting individual skills or knowledge mastered. This would be too much paper work for the system.

To me, the best way to group is the "cooperative learning" process.

Students of all ability work as a team to achieve a common goal. In this process, all students win. The brighter students become tutors, reinforcing their own comprehension by teaching their peers.

Slower students generally relate well in this unthreatening environment, are part of a successful group and maintain, even enhance, their own self esteem.

Early in my career, I taught math, including remedial math. I came to the conclusion I may be the last hope for some of these kids who would otherwise be on the streets. But, it is frustrating!

Because of other factors impacting on these kids, their recall is minimal, study habits sometimes non-existent. You become as much a counselor as a teacher.

I hope your math department doesn't dump all the remedial classes on one teacher, oftentimes a new teacher. These type of classes should be joyfully shared by each department member.

Hang in there! Many of these kids will come back to see you if, as you said in your letter, you "really like these kids."

Thoughts about death and dying

SOME THOUGHTS ON death and dying and other things detrimental to your health:

I've been reading a lot about that lately — death and dying. It's at the heart of the abortion debate, it's at the center of the controversy surrounding "living wills" and the right to die and it's the focal point of the discussions about "assisted suicide."

It raises questions that have answers only in the most theoretical realm — When does life begin? At birth? At conception? Somewhere in between? — And when does it end? When do you stop breathing? When the heart stops beating? When the brain stops emitting brainwaves?

Are you really "alive" if you are in that state only because of the machine that's hooked up to you? If you have a terminal illness, do you have the right to speed things along somehow?

No one knows the answers to these and hundreds — no, thousands — of other questions that the issues of death and dying generate. Doctors, lawyers, judges, politicians, academics, journalists, experts on "ethics" — everybody joins the discussion sooner or later.

The more voices that join in, the more muddled the logic seems to get.

cannot do so unless Perry is "sane" at the time. But he is only "sane" when he is taking the medication.

So the state wants to force Perry to take his medicine so that he will be sane enough to be executed. Besides, the state says, the medicine is good for him.

Perry's attorneys, with the support of the American Medical Association and the American Psychiatric Association, say that forcibly medicating him would be cruel and unusual punishment. The medical people say that forcing him to take medication so that he can then be executed legally would make a mockery of the art of healing.

So the question is now in the hands of the U.S. Supreme Court. Better than me.

THE PERRY CASE may be the most bizarre example of logic gone astray when the issue of death and dying arises, but it's not the only one.

For years I've heard doctors argue that if a patient had to be hooked up to a machine to be kept alive, the patient or the next of kin in some cases, could decide not to have the machine hooked up. But once the patient is on the machine, that's it. You can't make the decision to unplug it. What's the distinction? I'm still working on it.

What about someone who is terminally ill and wants to end his suffering. Suicide is not against the law. (How would they punish you, anyway?) But if suicide is legal, is it illegal to help someone commit it? That's a question we've started hearing often, and we're going to be hearing more and more about it.

What about the person who claims to be "pro-life" but advocates capital punishment? Isn't there something skewed about that thinking?

But then, what do you expect from a society that tells someone to "take your medicine so we can kill you?"

ONE OF THE more bizarre death and dying cases was to go before the U.S. Supreme Court this week. It involves an appeal from an inmate on death row in Louisiana.

Michael Owen Perry was sentenced to death in 1985 for killing his parents and three other family members. The Louisiana Supreme Court upheld the conviction and sentence, but ordered a review of his mental competence, presumably because of a 1986 decision by the U.S. Supreme Court that upheld a tradition not to execute the insane.

The Louisiana court ruled that Perry, who reportedly suffers from a schizo-affective disorder which his lawyer calls a major mental illness, was sane but only while on medication.

Now here's where it gets tricky. The state of Louisiana wants to carry out the execution sentence, but under the 1986 Supreme Court edict

Animal traps can be used inhumanely

To the editor:

Are small animal traps in residential subdivisions really necessary?

It has come to my attention that anybody can go to the local police department and get issued a small animal trap to use on their property simply by stating that there is a nuisance or pest in or about their property. They can then (without any warning to their neighbors) place said live trap anywhere on their property — including the front yard.

At least the police will come out and release the trapped animal (pet) when the people doing the trapping aren't monitoring their trap — but what a waste of police time and manpower because of misuse of a trap.

If traps are going to be set in subdivisions, shouldn't the residents be forewarned? Who do these people think they are when by setting the trap they are indirectly stating, "We can have our pets, but you can't have yours"?

Maybe the police should require signatures from neighbors living around the trap setters stating that they are aware of a trap being used before that trap is issued.

It is not only because of the inadvertent trapping of some child's pet, but how about that curious child who wanders on to the front lawn and sticks an arm into the trap only to be caught or injured? Or what if an animal trapped in that trap is diseased and that same curious child goes to pet it?

Live animal traps have their humane uses and are not meant to harm animals (unless, of course, they are not checked regularly). When they are used in a devious and cunning way, they become not only harmful to the wild animals, but also to people's pets and to people.

Thank God for peer pressure — those that don't, won't; but those that do, will. The missing words are: "care" and "get involved."

DNR approves county's waste disposal plan

By Wayne Poal
staff writer

At least three years in the making, Wayne County's solid waste plan is now a reality.

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources approved the plan last week, along with solid waste plans submitted by 49 other counties.

Wayne County's plan, which relies on recycling and new landfills, drew special praise, according to Milton Mack, chairman of the county's solid waste implementation committee.

"What they were telling us is it's almost too good a plan," said Mack.

"So, naturally, we're quite pleased." The county grappled with several approaches before ultimately requiring communities to maintain at least one recycling center for every 100,000 residents by Jan. 1.

"WE'D LIKE to see every community have one, but there's some flexibility for smaller communities," Mack said.

New landfills will be added in Van Buren and Sumpter townships. The Wayne Disposal landfill, in Canton, will be expanded, as will an existing landfill in Riverview.

"We're looking at Wayne Disposal operating for another 15-18 years," Mack said. Woodland Meadows, another Canton landfill, will also be expanded. "That will only be temporary," Mack said, "adding another 2 years until the new landfills are complete."

In addition to the DNR approval, the plan also met with approval from more than two-thirds of the county's municipalities. Communities voted their approval earlier this year.

"We were much happier with the plan as it finally appeared," said Daniel Gilmartin, executive director of the conference of Western Wayne. The multi-community group raised concerns about an earlier draft that — members feared — would promote incineration over recycling.

County communities that don't incinerate their waste must submit a waste reduction plan to the county by January 1992. Those that don't comply with the new county law will be prohibited from sending their waste to county landfills.

At one time, the county sought to mandate decreases in waste, but Mack said that approach was impractical.

"YOU JUST can't tell communities to cut waste by 50 percent or 20 percent," he said. "What we've achieved is a more realistic approach."

To the disappointment of some environmentalists, the plan also allows incinerators to continue operating. Among local communities, Westland and Garden City use an incinerator. Livonia, Redford, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton do not.

Counties had to have their plans approved by Oct. 1 to be eligible for state solid waste bonds.

While Wayne County's plan was approved, plans from Oakland and Macomb counties have yet to be approved.

Author is coming to SC

Author and poet Gary Gildner will discuss his works at 1 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Schoolcraft College Liberal Arts theater.

Gildner is author of nine poetry collections including, "Blue Like the Heavens," "New & Selected Poems," "The Runner" and "Digging for Indians." He is also author of two short story collections, "The Crush" and "A Week in South Dakota."

Professor of English at Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa, Gildner was Fulbright Lecturer at the University of Warsaw. His overseas experience led to the book "The Warsaw Sparks," a tale of professional baseball in Poland.

The event is free and open to the public.

MHS sets collection

The Michigan Humane society will hold its sixth annual Halloween Collection for the Animals, Wednesday, Oct. 31.

Young people and adults will be asking for donations instead of candy.

Proceeds will be used for the humane society's cruelty investigation division to assist abused animals.

Volunteers are needed to assist with the collection. Canisters are available at Michigan Humane Society shelters, including the Westland Kindness Center, 37255 Marquette, and the Rochester Hills shelter, 3600 Auburn Road.

Additional information is available by calling 872-3400.

WHY PAY FOR THE WHOLE PIE WHEN YOU ONLY WANT A PORTION?

You want a new car every two years or so. Now you can have one. How? Only pay for what you use. Here's how it works. We take the total cost of the car, then deduct the guaranteed future value. Your payments are the difference, plus a lease charge based on the total cost of the vehicle. So your monthly cost is much less than with a conventional purchase financed over the same period of time. The benefits go on and on.

It's easy to cook wild game

With the fall hunting season right around the corner, many households will be the recipients of deer, elk, bear and a host of smaller game.

If you find yourself in possession of a piece of venison or perhaps a brace of quail, even a mallard duck, don't panic. Cooking wild game is as simple as preparing beef, pork or poultry.

The problem facing most game cooks is that they must correct the mistakes made by the hunters.

FAR MORE meat is ruined in the field than will ever be ruined in the kitchen. If hunters had to buy beef and pork in the same condition as the game they kill, we would be a nation of vegetarians.

While most hunters are men — with women entering the field this year in record numbers — a basic knowledge of cooking, even more in meat preparation, should be tantamount before entering the field.

Ask any hunter what makes a good steak and he or she usually answers, "aged beef."

Too often, venison is "aged" by improper care in the field. But it is also by far the most misfreated by hunters who fail to remove the hide in time or who do a poor job dressing the carcass.

The result is soured meat, a condition most hunters wrongly explain by saying the meat has a "gamy taste." In truth, the meat is not gamy, it is spoiled.

IF A COOK comes upon meat that has been treated improperly to begin with, there are few things short of massive doses of spices, marinades and herbs that will disguise the flavor.

Let's take a closer look at venison. A venison steak or chop can be cooked like beefsteak. It can be broiled, barbecued or pan-fried. It is best medium rare.

Venison is not necessarily tough. It can be tough if cut against the grain. It also can be tough if all the moisture is cooked out.

VENISON IS by far the most healthful red meat you can eat. It is low in cholesterol, has mostly lean, fat-free tissue and, of course, has no chemical additives that ranchers usually administer to cattle, sheep and pigs.

The meat itself is not marbled the way beef is.

All visible fat should be trimmed from venison because it is generally tallowy and unpalatable. A venison roast or haunch can be roasted with strips of bacon laid over the top to compensate for lack of fat and marbling.

Game birds such as quail, dove or duck, like big game, are best when properly cared for in the field.

This means dressing and plucking as soon as possible. Improper drainage of blood and lack of plucking, coupled with a too-soon toss into a plastic unbreathable bag, can spell disaster in the kitchen.

BUT WHAT CAN a hunter do to prepare for the upcoming season?

If every hunter spent an equal amount of time cleaning his or her equipment, as well as visiting a friendly neighborhood butcher or poultry expert, there would be little cause for chalking up a dinner that tastes "gamy."

At the Eastern Market, Capitol Poultry will allow you to choose a live hen, turkey or duck and then you can easily observe the preparation of the carcass.

IF BUTCHERS in your area are reluctant to have strangers in the cutting room, visit your local library and read up on field dressing.

A good primer is the "Wildlife Chef" published by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, P.O. Box 30235, Lansing 48909.

If your household will soon be gifted by wild game from the family hunters, now is a good time to begin learning what (and what not) to do.

Evelyn Dugal of Troy, who loves baking bread and cookies, earned honors for her onion bread, Jewish sour rye bread, whole wheat bread and molasses crinkles cookies at the Michigan State Fair.

Prizeworthy recipes to share

By Arlene Funko staff writer

Good cooks know that food tastes better when shared with friends and family.

Evelyn Dugal, a clerk-typist with the city of Troy, bakes old-fashioned white bread and takes the loaves to eager co-workers.

Judy Bossio of Livonia cans huge batches of tomatoes, cucumbers and beets. These veggies are the mainstay of hearty soups and side dishes enjoyed by her family.

"Even as a kid I was interested in food," said Bossio, a homemaker and mother of five.

Dugal, whose forte is breads and cookies, won several ribbons at this year's Michigan State Fair. Bossio also won a handful of State Fair ribbons for her home-canned vegetables, sauces and relishes.

"MY HUSBAND always liked homemade bread," said Dugal, who currently is assigned to the Troy Police Department.

"He hated the soft bread — the stuff you could make into a ball. When the kids were little they didn't like store-bought bread."

Dugal's onion bread placed second in the specialty bread category. Her Jewish sour rye bread placed second in the rye breads and her whole wheat bread captured an honorable mention.

She won a third place ribbon for her molasses crinkles, thick, chewy cookies with cracked, sugary tops.

DUGAL, A longtime Troy resident, has been baking breads for more than three decades. She and her husband, Chuck, a manager at Ameritech, have four grown children.

"There are tons of other things I could do, but I find myself baking bread when I should be cleaning closets," she said with a laugh.

Dugal's favorite is a Jewish rye with caraway seeds, although she bakes mostly white varieties. She prefers using unbleached flour and dry yeast packets.

A Kitchen Aid mixer equipped with special hooks makes kneading the dough easier. Her double-oven stove can bake up to eight loaves at a time.

"I give away a lot," she said. "There is something about making your own bread. I'm not artistic in other ways but I do enjoy making bread."

DUGAL HAS collected "zillions" of recipes for both breads and cookies. She doesn't bake too many rich desserts because her husband is on a low-cholesterol regimen.

Dugal's secret to a moist, chewy cookie is to avoid overbaking.

"Cookies continue to bake after they're removed from the oven," she said. "If you bake them until they look done, the cookie is probably overbaked."

BOSSIO ALSO ENJOYS baking, but she is earning kudos for her home-canned vegetables and fruits. This was her first set of entries in State Fair competition, and she captured eight ribbons.

She finds it especially satisfying to preserve the fresh harvest bounty for enjoyment throughout the year.

"As a homemaker there is so much you do that is temporary," she said.

Bossio won first place ribbons for her dill pickles and beet relish, second place for taco sauce, chili sauce and pineapple chunks in brown-sugar syrup.

She also won third or fourth place for pickle relish, bread and butter pickles and beets.

Much of the produce used comes from the family garden, she said.

Chocolates star in coffee house setting

By Geri Rinschler special writer

What an unbeatable combination — elegant, handmade truffles and chocolates, freshly brewed exotic coffee and tea, frothy cappuccino and full-bodied espresso, all in a romantic European setting. Fortunately, you no longer need to travel to Paris or Vienna to enjoy such luxury. It's here, now, in downtown Birmingham at Gayle's Chocolates.

When Gayle Harte first began making truffles and chocolates "for fun," as she says, in the early 1980s, she never dreamed she would someday own a chocolate candy factory and two retail shops. As a working mother, over the last 10 years or so, Harte has gained a prestigious standing as a high-quality "chocolatier" or chocolate confectioner. Her distinctive chocolate designs can be found beside the best in retail shops, such as all Silver's in the Detroit area and Nordstrom's in California, as well as for corporate use by the Ritz-Carlton, Dearborn.

Her retail line has grown from her signature chocolate, long-stem roses and truffles to include designer chocolate ties, molded marbled chocolate serving bowls filled with chocolate-covered potato chips and round chocolate pinatas wrapped in ribbons accompanied by a small mallet.

— Gayle Harte
Gayle's Chocolates

ALMOST ANY design can be custom made to suit your needs. One customer, not too long ago, asked Harte to duplicate Tiger Stadium, which she did in a variety of chocolates, including small truffles painted with faces sitting in the bleachers. The limits of her creativity are endless.

When Harte decided to open her first retail shop in Royal Oak in 1984, she said, "I wanted more of a European coffee house atmosphere than a typical chocolate shop." So, she decided to combine the two.

"I feel the same way about coffee as I do about chocolate. It has to be fresh, clean taste, and be absolutely satisfying." In searching for the perfect cup of coffee, she came upon Tom Isiah, a coffee roaster in Ann Arbor. "Tom treats his coffee beans with the same care I treat my chocolates," Harte said. To ensure that perfect cup, Isiah only roasts the beans for Harte's shop when she places her order.

At both the Royal Oak shop and the new Birmingham shop, the menu includes filter-brewed, cafe au lait, espresso, cappuccino and French-press coffee and tea. The hot chocolate is made with steamed milk and the same chocolate Harte uses for making her chocolates. A unique and luscious beverage on the menu is the hot raspberry truffle. To make one, hot chocolate is blended with a raspberry truffle, topped with freshly whipped vanilla whipped cream. It's then dusted with cocoa and cinnamon powder and topped with an Austrian wafer cookie.

HARTE'S PHILOSOPHICAL approach to her retail shops is to provide a comfortable place to relax and enjoy an honest cup of coffee. When she opened Gayle's Chocolates, Birmingham, in April, the decor of the shop certainly met with her expectations. As a self-taught chocolate designer, she admits she knows nothing about interior design or decorating. "So, that's why I hired Peterchansrea, Inc., to design both my shops. Designer Ron Rea did a fabulous job. The tapestry fabrics and the whimsical cherubs were all his idea," she said. Since chocolate has long been associated with love, the cherubs are certainly appropriate.

To complement the beverage menu, Harte offers homemade muffins, scones and cookies. Her favorite muffin is a recipe which blends Michigan dried cherries, chocolate pieces and nuts sweetened with a little bit of maple syrup.

Backyard vegetables go into favorite meal

Can you believe that we are already into the second week of October? With Halloween just around the corner and Thanksgiving not too far behind, you know what that means - the holiday season will be upon us before we know it.

But panic not. It is still weeks away and, besides, we have a beautiful autumn to enjoy, as the trees once again give us their last hurrah with their dazzling display of color.

When I talked to this week's Winner Dinner Winner, I was reminded of the saying, "Home is where the heart is." Laura Freeman's life revolves around her husband, two young daughters and her home.

An avid gardener, Freeman has a good-sized garden, where she grows a multitude of fruits, vegetables and flowers. Her winning menu is a favorite with her husband and children and makes good use of the vegetables grown right in her own backyard. Featuring Fiesta Pasta and Chicken Salad, Herb Bread, Fresh Seasonal Fruit Salad and Ginger Crinkles, this is a delicious dinner that is best when made a day in advance.

THANKS TO her husband's excellent carpentry skills, Freeman enjoys cooking in the kitchen he remodeled by building all new cabinets, putting on new countertops and even making a new kitchen table. He is currently in the process of putting on an addition to their house and recently completed building a deck and a wooden jungle gym equipped with swings and a sandbox for the girls. What a handy husband to have around.

The Freeman family often packs up its pop-up trailer and take off on short camping trips. One of the family's favorite things to do is stop at antique shops along the road. Their home is furnished with the country antiques and old quilts they have collected during the four years the Freemans have been married.

Active in her church, Freeman teaches a Sunday school class and helps plan the activities for a Tiny Tots program in which she and her younger daughter participate. She also loves doing crafts and gets to-

Observer & Eccentric Winner Dinner

Recipes

This is a quick and easy recipe that will help you make use of the abundant produce that is so available at this time of the year. The recipe feeds six and is best when made a day in advance of serving.

- 1-pound box spaghetti
- 1 1/2-2 pounds chicken, cut into strips
- 1 large red pepper, cut into bite-sized pieces
- 1 large unpeeled cucumber, cut into bite-sized pieces
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 cup pine nuts
- 8-ounce bottle of Wishbone Olive Oil Vinaigrette (add more or less, depending on your taste)

Cook the spaghetti, drain it, then rinse it in cool water and drain again. Cook the chicken strips until lightly browned and cooked through. Drain on a piece of paper towel. Cut up the cucumbers and pepper into bite-sized pieces. Mix all the ingredients together in a large bowl and refrigerate several hours or overnight. Garnish with Parmesan cheese and salt and pepper to taste.

HERB BREAD

- 1 package (24 rolls) frozen, unbaked rolls, 30-ounce size
- 1/4 cup melted butter
- 1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
- 1 teaspoon basil
- 3 tablespoons sesame seeds
- 2 tablespoons garlic powder, or less, according to taste

Thoroughly grease a 10-inch fluted tube pan, or a round cake pan if you don't have a tube pan. In a small bowl, combine the Parmesan cheese, the sesame seeds, the basil and the garlic powder. Put 1/2 of the mixture into the pan, turning it to coat the entire surface of the pan. Place 10 frozen rolls in the pan. Drizzle with half the melted butter and another 1/2 of the herb mixture. Add remaining rolls (place on top of other rolls), remaining butter and then the rest of the herb mixture. Cover, let rise and thaw overnight in the refrigerator (12-24 hours). The next day, let the bread stand for 30 minutes at room temperature. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. If the bread is getting too browned, cover with foil and continue baking 10-15 minutes more, or until golden brown. Remove from the pan, cool on a wire rack and serve warm. Simply pull it apart to eat.

FRESH SEASONAL FRUIT AND GINGER CRINKLES

This combination refreshingly complements the salad and bread. Mix equal amounts of sliced peaches, strawberries, blueberries, kiwi and raspberries, or whatever you like, in a large bowl. Serve with a plate of freshly baked Ginger Crinkles.

- 2 1/4 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves

Mix first 5 ingredients and then mix next 4 ingredients in a separate bowl. 1 cup packed brown sugar, 1/4 cup margarine, 1/4 cup molasses, 1 egg.

Add the dry ingredients to the wet and mix well. Roll small amounts of the dough into balls and roll again in sugar. Place on a cookie sheet and flatten slightly with a glass. Bake at 375 degrees for about 10 minutes. This recipe makes 48 cookies.

Shopping List

- 1 pound box spaghetti
- 1 1/2-2 pounds chicken
- 1 large red pepper
- 1 large cucumber
- 1 onion
- 1 package pinenuts
- 8-ounce bottle Wishbone Olive Oil Vinaigrette
- 1 package frozen unbaked rolls (30-ounce size)
- Butter or margarine
- Parmesan cheese
- Basil
- Sesame seeds
- Garlic powder
- Your choice of fresh fruit, such as peaches, strawberries, blueberries, kiwi and raspberries
- Flour
- Baking soda
- Ginger powder
- Cinnamon
- Ground cloves
- Brown sugar
- Molasses
- 1 egg

Notes

These cookies can be made ahead and kept in an airtight container or even frozen.

- 2 1/4 cups flour
- 2 teaspoons baking soda
- 1 teaspoon ginger powder
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves

Mix first 5 ingredients and then mix next 4 ingredients in a separate bowl. 1 cup packed brown sugar, 1/4 cup margarine, 1/4 cup molasses, 1 egg.

Add the dry ingredients to the wet and mix well. Roll small amounts of the dough into balls and roll again in sugar. Place on a cookie sheet and flatten slightly with a glass. Bake at 375 degrees for about 10 minutes. This recipe makes 48 cookies.

clarification

The recipe for Oatmeal Brownies that ran with Betsy Brethen's Family-Tested Winner Dinner column Oct. 1 was incomplete. Following is the entire recipe.

OATMEAL BROWNIES

Crust:

- 2 1/4 cup rolled oats
- 1 cup flaked coconut

- 3/4 cup packed light brown sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 3/4 cup melted margarine

Mix oats, coconut, sugar, soda and salt in bowl; stir in butter. Reserve 3/4 cup of the mixture. Put oatmeal mixture in bottom of greased 13-by-9-by-2-inch baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 10 minutes. Cool for five minutes.

Brownies:

- 1/2 cup margarine
- 2 squares unsweetened chocolate, 1-ounce size
- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 eggs
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

- 3/4 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 cup oatmeal

In saucepan, melt butter and chocolate over low heat. Remove from heat. Stir in sugar. Blend in eggs, one at a time. Add vanilla. Stir in flour and oatmeal; mix well.

Prepare 1 package brownie mix,

22-ounce size, according to package instructions for fudgey brownies.

Sprinkle with reserved oatmeal mixture. Bake according to brownie-mix package directions or at 350 degrees for 30 minutes (for brownies made from scratch). Cool and cut into squares.

Clos Pegase Winery's history is fascinating

The story of the Clos Pegase Winery is filled with irony, passion, serendipity and touches of magic. It is, in part, the tale of the self-made man Jan Shrem, founder of Clos Pegase, who put himself through college by selling encyclopedias.

Irony stems from Japan, a country just learning to appreciate wine. Through it, Clos Pegase became possible.

IN 1955, serendipity played its part when Shrem interrupted his UCLA master's program to vacation in Japan. He fell in love with Japanese culture and decided to stay.

During the ensuing 13 years, Shrem created a reference and technical book publishing empire that brought him great wealth.

In 1968, Shrem sold his firm and eloped to Switzerland to marry his wife, Mitsuko, who had introduced him to wine.

EUROPE AND wine became his new passion. He founded a publishing firm, first in Italy, then Paris, specializing in non-fiction co-editions. But he spent increasingly more time studying and collecting art and wine.

By 1980, wine and art became Shrem's consuming interests. He sold his European publishing company and decided to make wine.

He enrolled in winemaking classes at the University of Bordeaux, where he learned about breakthrough wine technology coming from California.

IN 1983, Shrem's site search ended in the purchase of a volcanic knoll and a 50-acre vineyard in Calistoga, at the north end of the Napa Valley.

A competition sponsored by the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art determined the winery's design-

focus on wine Eleanor and Ray Heald

er — Michael Graves, the renowned Princeton architect.

Graves was commissioned to build a "temple of wine" at the base of the knoll and the Shrem's home at its summit.

CLOS PEGASE opened in 1987. The winery name reflects Shrem's personal interest in Mycenaean Greek history and the mythological beginning of wine.

Pegasus, the winged horse of Greek mythology, was believed to have given birth to wine and to art when his hooves unleashed the sacred Spring of the Muses. The water irrigated the vines and inspired the poets who drank it.

Shrem's favorite painting in his extensive art collection is the famous, more than 100-year-old "Pegasus" by Odilon Redon. A reproduction of this painting enhances the winery's label.

"My philosophy is that winemaking should not be limited to modern techniques but should retain the proven virtues of the past," Shrem said. "The winery and art are all part of this."

WINE SELECTION OF THE WEEK

1988 Clos Pegase Napa Valley Sauvignon Blanc ($11.25) is stylistically unique with a smooth, broad palate impression. If you haven't found a sauvignon blanc you like, try this one. In a recent competition sponsored by the French gastronomic review Gault Millau, it was selected as one of the 10 wines to compete in the magazine's International competition in Paris.

WINE BULLETIN BOARD

Clos Pegase Winery owner Jan Shrem will present an intriguing slide lecture entitled "Wine in Art" on Wednesday, Oct. 24, at the Ann Arbor Art Association, 117 W. Liberty, Ann Arbor. Shrem will narrate fascinating historical and anecdotal episodes relating to the celebration of wine as art. A tasting of Clos Pegase wines will follow the presentation. Cost is $20 per person. Reservations are required.

Meet Dr. Suhua Newton, owner of Newton Vineyards at a special dinner featuring four Newton wines at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the Rattlesnake Club in Detroit. Cost is $50 per person inclusive for a three-course meal including dessert. Reservations at 567-4843.

It's easy to cook wild game

See Larry Janes' column Taste Buds on Page 1B.

VENISON STROGANOFF
2 pounds venison round steak, cubed
1/4 cup flour
Salt and pepper to taste
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup vinegar
1 cup sour cream
1 bay leaf
1 cup fresh chopped mushrooms
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons celery salt
2 tablespoons Worcestershire

Cut venison into cubes. Roll in flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown in 3 tablespoons hot butter or margarine. Add water and vinegar as necessary to keep from burning over medium-high heat. When tender and cooked throughout, pour off excess liquid. Add sour cream, remaining butter, bay leaf, mushrooms, celery salt and Worcestershire. Cover and simmer until heated throughout. Don't boil. Serve over noodles or rice.

PAN-FRIED PHEASANT
(also good with rabbit or squirrel)
1/4 pound butter
1/2 medium onion, sliced
1 quart cream
2 cups flour

1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon black pepper
2 tablespoons flour and 1/4 cup milk for gravy
After birds have been thoroughly cleaned and plucked, cut into pieces like chicken. Dust pieces in flour that has been seasoned with salt and pepper. Brown on both sides in hot butter. Add cream and simmer for 1 hour or until tender. For variations, 1 can of condensed cream of mushroom or celery soup can be added to the cream for better flavors. Remove pieces from the frypan. Thicken the liquid with flour and milk mixture and allow to simmer over medium heat until desired thickness is reached.

Gayle's Chocolates star in coffee house setting

Does all of this sound too good to be true? Well, there is more — homemade ice cream, frozen yogurt and a Flavor Maker.

The Flavor Maker is just that. It's a large, refrigerated appliance equipped with a mechanical screw-shaped blade which will blend or puree any fruit or topping in the shop into ice cream or yogurt. The combinations are all a matter of your personal tastes and creativity. At Gayle's you can combine pieces of frozen chocolate peanut butter, chocolate chip truffles, chocolate-covered ginger peel, fresh raspberries, video mix (a blend of white milk, dark chocolates, toffee, caramel, toasted coconut, dried cherries and nuts) or whatever. If this all sounds irresistible, hurry on over, because Harte may have to move the ice cream during November and December to make room for the holiday edible gifts.

Well, if I seem impressed, you're right. Here's wishing Gayle Harte is creatively designing in the food business for many years to come. The shop is at 235 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

"Nutri/System helped me lose 70 lbs. and get my blood pressure back to normal."

"I wasn't just overweight. I also had high blood pressure. And that was kind of scary. Nutri/System was the answer to both my problems. They showed me that eating the right foods together with light activity can help you lose weight faster and lower blood pressure, too. Today, I lead a full, active life. My weight is down. My pressure is down. But my spirits and outlook... they're up. Way up."

Turnovers kill Wayne

Zebras suffer 10-0 loss

By Brad Emons
staff writer

The big question surrounding Wayne Memorial's Cinderella football team was how many times could the Zebras go to the well and pull off another come-from-behind win.

But the answer, my friends, was blowing in the wind, as host Dearborn Fordson shut down Wayne's passing attack Saturday, with assist of a stiff breeze, en route to a 10-0 victory.

The Wolverine A League title is now up for grabs. Wayne, Fordson and Wyandotte all share the lead with 4-1 records with two games remaining. Wyandotte and Fordson meet this week, while Wayne hosts Southgate.

Wayne's usually reliable quarterback, Jason Wetmore, was fighting more than just Fordson tacklers all afternoon. Gusty winds limited his accuracy through the air.

The junior, who completed only one pass through three quarters, finished an uncharacteristic six of 21 for 46 yards and two interceptions.

"Both teams were not able to pass, but we depend on it more," said Wayne coach Chuck Howton, whose team suffered its first defeat. "Still, good teams should be able to overcome it."

WAYNE HAD CHANCES, but six turnovers, including three fumbles, killed several potential scoring drives.

The most damaging turnover, which sealed Wayne's fate, came with 4:35 left in the game when Jermaine Ellis, taking a swing pass from Wetmore, was nailed in the end zone for a two-point safety by Fordson linebacker Muhammed El-Mubarak.

The sack put Wayne 10 points behind.

"It was a bad call on my part because then we needed two scores to win," said Howton. "I thought we'd get the guy open, but their linebacker made a great play."

Wayne could not move the ball at all in the first half, earning just one first down. The Zebras were lucky to be only down 8-0 at halftime because the defense came up with several big plays to stop Fordson drives, including an interception by Dennis Edwards, which was caused by Adam Moran's hit on Fordson QB Ben Sellm, followed by another interception by Scott Dziedzic.

Fordson, however, gained the lead on a 29-yard touchdown run by Omar Taha with 3:09 left in the half after a Wayne punt, knocked down by the wind, traveled only four yards. The Tractors, faking the extra point attempt, were successful on the two-point conversion when holder Hadar Saad tossed a pass to a wide-open Mike Jaafer in the end zone.

WITH THE WIND at their backs, the Zebras marched into Fordson territory to start the third quarter, but drive stalled when Matt Preece intercepted a Wetmore pass at the goal line.

El-Mubarak intercepted another pass late in the third quarter. The Zebras then proceeded to fumble the ball away twice in the final period after the Tractors had earlier done the same thing (Juan Jones and Moran made the recoveries for Wayne.)

"We fumbled it away too many times and some of those were not necessary," Howton said. "I'm proud of the way our defense played. They hung in there. But offensively, we were not able to move the ball like we have in the past."

The wind hampered our throwing." Fordson kept the ball on the ground, attempting just six passes.

The total yardage was virtually even, 142-141 in favor of the Tractors. (Sam Sareini, recently called up from the junior varsity squad, led all rushers with 76 yards in 18 carries.)

"If you look at Wayne the past five games, they've won on big plays," said Fordson first-year coach Jeff Stergalas. "That was high on our priority list — to eliminate the big play. We took away their tight end because we felt he was the key to their short passing game. Our defense has been steady all year and when we come ready to play, we're going to be OK."

STERGALAS wasn't surprised that the Zebras, picked by many during the preseason to finish in the second division of the eight-team Wolverine A, had won five straight games.

"They may have only 34 players, but for $210 a pop (under pay-to-play money), all 34 are going to get their money's worth," said the Fordson coach, whose team is also 5-1 overall.

Meanwhile, Howton, whose team lost a heartbreaker last year at Fordson, can only wonder what his team has to do to beat the Tractors.

"Most teams that come over here usually have a bad feeling," he said. "Nobody likes playing here. It's not a jinx or anything. It's just that they play on Saturday and nobody else in our league does. Sometimes it's difficult to get the kids up for an afternoon game after they've been playing every Friday. I don't know what it is."

The answer this day was blowing in the wind.

Harrison steamrolls by Franklin, 35-0

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

It didn't take long for Farmington Hills Harrison to spoil Livonia Franklin's Homecoming Saturday.

Scoring on their first two plays from scrimmage, the Hawks sent an early message and then rolled to a 35-0 football win over the Patriots before a sun-drenched crowd at Franklin.

"I feel sad for the community and school, but I can't worry whether it's Homecoming or not," Franklin coach Armand Vigna said. "They're the better team, tougher, faster, and they executed better."

The Hawks, who clinched another Western Division (Western Lakes Activities Association) title with the win, probably never executed better than on the first play from scrimmage. Swingback Roy Granger took a counter hand-off from quarterback Plamen Magdevski and raced 78 yards through the Patriots secondary for an early 6-0 lead.

The play was inserted this week, designed to surprise opposing defenses.

"All week I was telling him (Harrison coach John Herrington) I was going to score," said Granger, who added a 5-yard score in the third quarter. "It got my confidence going."

It didn't get any better for the Patriots, who fumbled away their first play from scrimmage and then watched Harrison tailback Gary Devine gallop 14 yards for his first of three touchdowns and a 14-0 lead.

There were 9:45 left in the first quarter when Devine scored, proving this was the beginning of a long day for Franklin. The Patriots turned the ball over seven times in the game, and lost four fumbles in the third quarter — three of which led to short Harrison scoring drives.

The win improved the Hawks to 5-1 overall and 4-0 in the Western Division. The Patriots, meanwhile, fell to 1-5 overall and 1-3 in the division.

Mark Lebovitz made all five of Harrison's extra points.

"I asked John Herrington after the game, 'Didn't you get bored with all those short scoring drives?'" Vigna said. "And he said he was happy to receive them. That Devine, he's just a tough kid, elusive and quicker than anything we've got."

Playing on an ankle he sprained in the second quarter, Devine still rushed for 137 yards on 20 carries and scored on runs of 14, four and 10 yards. Devine, only 5-6 and 155 pounds, has now rushed for 905 yards and 15 touchdowns on the year.

The Hawks outgained the Patriots, 329-141, in total yardage, and picked up 16 first downs to nine by Franklin. Granger, who also caught a pass for 18 yards, rushed for 118 yards on eight carries.

Andy Smith and Stephen Thimblin each intercepted a pass thrown by Franklin quarterback Mike Geiger, but Devine was the topic of conversation afterward.

"He fits right in with many of the great backs we've had and he's closest in similarity to Steve Sweeney (from the 1981 state champion team)," Herrington said. "He's very quick with a low center of gravity. He's a very, very tough runner, partly because he's hard to find."

Despite the injury, Devine plans to play the rest of the way, "unless I have a broken ankle."

Geiger, a senior, was one of Franklin's few bright spots, completing six of 17 passes for 50 yards and gaining 31 yards on the ground. Five times, Geiger led Franklin beyond midfield, but the Patriots failed to capitalize.

Franklin's Bobby Johnson missed a 35-yard field goal wide right in the second quarter. The Patriots turned the ball over the first three times they touched the ball in the second half when Harrison turned the game into a rout.

Dan Quirolo, Steve Butcher, Mike Pesci, Todd Lytwynluk and Greg Piscopink recovered fumbles for Harrison.

"In all my days, I've never seen as many, and so consecutively," said Vigna.

Vigna had praise for Kirk Evans, an offensive guard and defensive tackle, who played over an injured leg.

"He played better on one leg than some of us did on two," Vigna said.

Big impression Shamrocks pound Rice in Boys Bowl

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Since this might have been Birmingham Brother Rice's last Boys Bowl appearance, Redford Catholic Central fullback Jon Barbara wanted to leave a lasting impression on the Warriors.

Did he ever. Barbara scored three touchdowns and gained 67 yards on 15 carries as CC pounded Rice, 32-0 Sunday in the 46th annual Boys Bowl played at Pontiac's Wisner Stadium.

Sources say this might be Rice's last Boys Bowl appearance against CC, because of lack of financial support from Rice. If so, the two teams would still play each other every year but CC would have to find another opponent for the Boys Bowl.

"This might be the last one, so we wanted to put them out on a good note," Barbara said. "The line just blew everyone out."

CC has played in every Boys Bowl since 1944 and the Shamrocks-Warriors series began in 1968. Rice athletic director Mike Popson would like the Boys Bowl series to continue, but there's a chance it won't. CC paid for all the advertising in the 108-page Boys Bowl program without help from Rice.

"We decided not to continue with ads because of financial reasons," Popson said. "To my knowledge this isn't our last Boys Bowl, but CC's in charge of the invitations. We've always been a pretty good gate (attendance). They don't get a better gate with anyone else."

Said CC AD Bob Santello: "It's a possibility, but I would be surprised if Rice is not part of the Boys Bowl. The committee will look at the total picture, ask them if they want to be in it, or don't want to be in it, or be part of the program, and then come to some sort of conclusion."

CC, which has won five of the last six Boys Bowl games, outgained Rice, 272-162, in total yardage, and forced five Rice turnovers.

Reserve defensive back Brett Walter preserved the shutout with 16 seconds left, intercepting a Rice pass near CC's 10-yard line.

CC improved to 4-2 overall and is alone atop the Central Division at 2-0. Rice has an identical 4-2 overall record, but fell to 1-1 in the division.

Barbara got help in the backfield from Arshon Stewart (18 carries, 72 yards) and Mike Thomas (14-66). The CC defense, led by defensive ends Dave Dominic and Brian Chaney, smothered Rice's offense and intercepted three of quarterback Steve Merchant's passes. Jon Burtrow had 60 yards on 13 carries for Rice, which played without Sean Johnson (knee).

"CC played hard and it's their victory," Rice coach Al Fracassa said. "It's always tough to lose, especially when there's a zero on the scoreboard."

Barbara caught a screen pass from quarterback Jason Carr and rambled 11 yards for CC's first score with 4:29 left in the first quarter. The turning point came late in the first quarter when CC strong safety John Brand picked off a Rice pass and returned it 44 yards to give CC a 12-0 lead.

"I really didn't know I had it until I saw the ball in my hands," said Brand. "And then I ran for my life. I just can't describe the feeling. This was the biggest game of my life."

Rice fumbled away its next two possessions and both led to CC scores. Barbara gave CC an 18-0 lead with 9:07 left in the half, capping a six-play 31-yard drive with a 12-yard run. After Rice fumbled away the next kickoff at its own 28, Barbara scored on a 1-yard dive. The extra point by Brent Jenkins gave CC a 25-0 halftime lead.

CC finished the scoring in the third quarter when Carr, who completed five-of-seven passes for 60 yards, went over from the one.

Glenn area's lone unbeaten

A 32-yard first-quarter touchdown run by Chris Marling gave host Farmington a 6-0 lead, but it didn't last long against Westland John Glenn.

Glenn, 6-0 overall and 4-0 in the Lakes, rallied to gain a 29-6 win to clinch the division title with one game remaining. The Rockets are Observersland's only remaining unbeaten team.

The Falcons remain winless in six games, and are in last place at 0-4 in the Lakes.

Glenn scored seven points in the first quarter and 15 more in the second to lead, 22-6, at halftime.

Glenn scored on a 2-yard run by Tad Quattlandor, a 3-yard run by quarterback Lawrence Scheffer and another 3-yard carry by running back Alonzo Jackson.

Scheffer, who completed eight of 12 passes for 109 yards, also threw a 38-yard touchdown pass to Steve Fuller. Ed Jeannin led Glenn's ground attack with 88 yards on 11 carries. Chris Bandy kicked a pair of extra points for the Rockets.

"I was disappointed in the way we played a week ago," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said of his team's 24-10 win over Walled Lake Central. "I'm not taking anything away from Walled Lake Central, but I was just disappointed. Today we played harder and executed."

BORGESS 14, BENEDICTINE 6: Redford Bishop Borgess out-gained Detroit Benedictine, 250-34, in total yardage, but the Spartans needed a fourth-quarter score to put enough distance between themselves and host Ravens.

Benedictine, winless in six games and 0-3 in the Catholic League's Tri-Sectional Division, gave Borgess all it could handle on the scoreboard.

Borgess, 5-1 overall and 3-0 in the Catholic-League Tri-Sectional Division, capped a 75-yard fourth quarter drive with a 4-yard run by Anthony Hood. David Dobbins, who led Borgess with 168 yards on 13 carries, scored on a two-point conversion to finish the win.

After a scoreless first half, Dobbins opened the scoring on a 4-yard run to give Borgess a 6-0 lead. Benedictine's Irvin Mosley tied the game at 6-6 on a 2-yard run in the third quarter.

Hood finished with 93 yards on 19 carries.

Borgess coach Walt Barylewicz credited the Spartans' 5-2 defense for the win, citing Sabln Duncan, Emmanuel Walker, Chris Foley, Justin Guga, Nate Auld, and linebackers Larry Jones and Al Fernandez for their fine play.

Borgess plays Saginaw Nouvel at 1 p.m. Saturday at Garden City Joplat High in a crucial Tri-Sectional game. Nouvel is one game behind the Spartans at 2-1.

Redford Union nips Cougars at wire Vandike's FG spurs win

By Ray Setlock
Staff Writer

Redford Union kicker Brad Vandike has made plenty of game-winning field goals. Trouble is, none of them were kicked during a real game. Most came during pickup encounters in the street near his home.
For Vandike, Friday's game with Northwest Suburban League rival Garden City was as real as it could get and he wasn't about to let anyone down.
Vandike's 30-yard field goal with 1:10 remaining helped give RU a 16-14 come-from-behind win over visiting Garden City.
"When the coach told me to get my kicking shoe on late in the fourth quarter, I knew that I was going to get the chance to win the game," Vandike said. "Doing this is something that I've dreamed about all my life and this is the first time it has happened to me. It feels great."

VANDIKE'S FIELD goal came just two minutes after Garden City quarterback Nick Mutafis connected with Jeff Feta for a 15-yard touchdown, giving the Cougars a 14-13 lead.
"It was a case of us making the big plays when we had to, especially in the last few minutes of the game," RU coach Shawn McGowan said. "We got the ball downfield. That's what put us in a position to win the football game."
The Panthers improve their record to 2-4 overall and 2-1 in the NSL, keeping their hopes alive for first place. Garden City, 3-3 overall, took itself out of the race. The Cougars are 1-2 in the league.
Sophomore quarterback Tim Hopson, who struggled early in the game, completed two passes for 8 and 17 yards on the final drive.

football

"I was confident that I could get us downfield and into field goal range," Hopson said. "When we got the ball inside the 20-yard line I knew that we were going to win it."
RU COACH Shawn McGowan says Hopson made the plays in the second half because the play selection was much better than it was earlier in the game.
"We were calling better plays for Tim in that last series," McGowan said. "We ran the plays that we knew were going to get us downfield."

Garden City got on the scoreboard first with 6:50 remaining in the first half. Senior tailback Brian Norris capped off an eight-play drive with his 7-yard touchdown run.
The Panthers answered just minutes later when sophomore tailback Matthew Davis trotted 11 yards into the end zone for the touchdown.
Despite a 7-7 halftime score, Garden City coach Bob Eislminger wasn't pleased with the way his team was playing.
"We didn't do what we were supposed to do in the first half," he said. "We were deep inside their end of the field numerous times and couldn't score."
RU TOOK a 13-7 advantage with 5:42 remaining in the third quarter, as junior running back Don Carney plunged 2 yards into the end zone.
Garden City would score again, but Vandike's field goal would put the Panthers on top for good.
Garden City kicker Kurt Buterbaugh attempted a 46-

Nick Mutafis (right) of Garden City scrambles for yardage as he tries to elude Redford Union tackler Michael Blalock during Friday's Northwest Suburban League clash. RU pulled out a 16-14 victory over the Cougars to remain in the hunt for first place.

Mutafis completed seven of 23 passes for 84 yards, while his counterpart Hopson hit three of nine for 34 yards.
Davis had 14 rushes for 72 yards to lead the Panthers.

Harrington, Holston run Trojans to payday, 36-8

Livonia Clarencville had two players rush for more than 100 yards Friday in a 36-8 football victory over host Hamtramck in a Metro Conference game.
Quarterback Kendrick Harrington scored twice, passed for another and rushed for 174 yards in 11 carries to lead the way. Tailback Carl Holston also had a big day, adding 101 yards in 17 attempts and one TD.
Clarencville, which racked up 301 yards on the ground, is now 4-2 overall and 3-2 in the conference.
A 60-yard interception return by Harrington set up Clarencville's first score, a 1-yard first-quarter run by Holston. (Brian Mahoney kicked the extra point to make it 7-0).
The Trojans added 13 second-quarter points to lead 20-0 at intermission.
Harrington scored on a 15-yard run and later tossed a 25-yard TD pass to Ken Bazy.
In the third quarter, Harrington broke loose on a 55-yard run and hit Andy Van Erp with the two-point conversion pass to make it 28-0.
Hamtramck (1-5, 1-4) got on the board late in the period on a 3-yard run by Santwan Thomas, who also ran for the two-pointer.
In the fourth quarter, junior quarterback Bob Sharp directed an eight-minute scoring drive — bolstered by the blocking of offensive linemen David Ballenger, Jacques Sahakian and James Barnhard — capped by Jim Jerkowski's 6-yard TD run.

Defensively, Mahoney, a linebacker, helped keep the host Cosmos to 150-yards total offense. (Matt Wisdom added an interception).
N. FARMINGTON 10, STEVENSON 0: North Farmington ruined homecoming Friday for Livonia Stevenson by scoring all 10 of its points in the second quarter and handing the Spartans their third straight loss.
After intercepting a Randy Micallef pass, the Raiders' Matt Mummert scored on a 2-yard run. Mike Ober's extra point made it 7-0. Ober added a 19-yard field goal with two seconds left in the first half to complete the scoring and disappoint the large crowd.
"We moved the ball well at times but didn't have the consistency," said head coach Jack Reardon, whose Spartans fell to 3-3 overall and 1-3 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. "The team played its hearts out and you can't ask for anything else. Obviously we would have liked to win the game, but the coaches are very proud of the team."
Mummert led the way for the Raiders (4-2 overall and 3-1 in the Lakes), rushing for 140 yards on 28 carries. Junior Mark Temple completed six-of-17 passes for 75 yards. Marco DeSanto led Stevenson's defensive charge with 11 tackles, including nine solo. Chris Lehti and Frank Eupizid had eight tackles each for the Spartans.

NORTHVILLE 28, CHURCHILL 14: Northville showed how to properly use the run-and-shoot offense Friday by defeating visiting Livonia Churchill behind the strong passing attack of junior Ryan Huzjak.
The Mustangs (5-1 overall and 3-1 WLA-Western Division) recorded a passing touchdown in every quarter and totaled 230 yards in the air.
"Actually, I thought we had a good defensive scheme," said Chargers coach Herb Osterland. "We expected them to pass but Ryan did an excellent job reading the defenses and it's difficult to cover everything. We never quit and were moving the ball even when the game ended."
Huzjak completed 15-of-28 passes and threw two touchdown passes to Bill Kelly. Mark Hillfinger and Jamie Miller also caught touchdown passes for the Mustangs.
Mike Brooks scored both touchdowns for the Chargers, who fell to 0-6 and 0-4 in the division. Brooks scampered in from 9 yards out in the second quarter and scored again from 4 yards out in the fourth quarter. He finished with 24 carries for 118 yards and threw for 36 yards on an option pass. Churchill was outgained 307-254 in total offense.
The Spartans had two touchdowns called back because of penalties. Brooks caught a screen pass from Jason Renkiewicz and ran it in from 65 yards out, but it was called back because of a clipping call. Fortunately, for the Chargers, they scored later in the drive on Brooks 9-yard run. In the fourth quarter, another long touchdown pass was called back, also because of clipping.

MELVINDALE 21, THURSTON 6: Redford Thurston couldn't muster a win Friday in its Tri-River League encounter with host Melvindale.
The Eagles (2-3, 2-4) didn't score until the fourth quarter when runningback Paul Jaremski plunged 3 yards into the end-zone.
Melvindale got a pair of second quarter touchdowns from tailback Don Kujal and quarterback Chris Ploucha.
Melvindale also scored in the final quarter when Ploucha connected with tight end Mike Ross for a 23 yard touchdown.
Jaremski led the Thurston rushing attack with 21 carries for 130 yards. Walter Hughes chipped in with 12 carries for 55 yards.
Thurston quarterback Paul Parsell completed 5-of-10 passes for 49 yards.
"Our kids played well," Thurston coach Bob Snell said. "But it won't show up in the score."

The Case of The Tucson Tip-off.

In a particular neighborhood in Tucson, Arizona, folks were having a real problem with burglaries and break-ins. They started talking to each other about what they could do. They got fed up. In just three weeks, 17 arrests were made and burglaries went down 30%. And Tucson is only one case where people successfully worked to beat crime. To find out more, write: The McGruff Files, 1 Prevention Way, Washington, D.C. 20539-0001. You can make a difference. You can help...

Cassar saves tie for Chargers

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Plymouth Salem boys soccer coach Ken Johnson paid no attention to the scoreboard Friday after the Rocks played to a 1-1 tie against No. 1-ranked Livonia Churchill.

Johnson, whose team brought a No. 5 ranking into the game, was pleased with the results — even though the Rocks probably deserved to win.

Churchill, 8-0-2 overall, might have suffered its first loss were it not for goalkeeper Jeff Cassar, who stopped 12 shots and got help another time from the goalpost.

The Western Lakes Activities Association crossover game left Salem at 12-1-1 overall.

"Anytime you tie the top team in the state, it's a moral victory, especially playing on their ground," Johnson said. "To lose would have been disheartening, but a tie is very satisfactory."

"Their goalie played well, didn't he? He came out of the goal well. We had two or three chances, it was just a matter of the kids not connecting right — sweeping it over the top, instead of sweeping it in the net."

Less than a minute later, however, the Chargers' Dario Rauker scored his team-leading 14th goal of the year, blasting a shot from about 15 yards out past Salem keeper Derek Olson. Dominic Vella had the assist on the goal.

SOCCER

Salem sweeper Jake Baker said it wasn't a case of the Rocks celebrating their own goal a little too long.

"There was some confusion on our part and we left a man open in the middle of the field," Baker said. "We played well, probably the best we've played this season. They knew we had a good team. They had to play hard to beat us."

It was an entertaining game the rest of the way, with both teams having their share of chances. A goal by Churchill's Kal Kallszewski with 18:29 left in the game was called off after the referee had blown the whistle for a Salem infraction.

Minutes earlier, Salem's Jim Ramsey hit the goalpost behind Cassar on a shot about 20 yards out on the right wing. Ramsey also hit the football crossbar in the first half on a header.

Churchill coach Mark Mason was upset about the Chargers goal being nullified, but was relieved to leave the field in a tie. Churchill's mid-field attack hasn't been the same since senior Aaron Sawicky left the team a week-and-a-half ago for undisclosed reasons, according to Mason. The first-year coach doesn't anticipate Sawicky returning to the lineup anytime soon.

"I KNEW IT would be a physical game, but we got a little more tired than normal and that disrupted our game a little bit," Mason said. "We've been sluggish the last six or seven games, and have had injuries and suspensions, which have kept us from having the kind of lineup we'd like."

"Sawicky was our main defender at midfield and that allowed (Mike) Gentile and Rauker to move up field more. Now, those two have to help out on defense and we're a lot less organized."

Salem has recorded nine shutouts this season and the backbone of defense, led by sweeper Baker, and fullbacks Matt Lee, Chris Lajoy and Fitzpatrick has been part of the reason. Churchill managed only six shots on goal.

"They're very fit and play at a high level of soccer," Johnson said. "They're all good ballplaying defenders and once you get rolling, they take pride in the shutouts."

If Salem beats Livonia Stevenson Wednesday on the road in the Lakes Division final, there's a chance the Rocks will play Churchill Oct. 17 for the WLAAs crown.

You can bet Johnson will be more concerned about the scoreboard then.

Lady Ocelots tie Michigan

The Schoolcraft College women's soccer team earned a 2-2 tie Wednesday with the University of Michigan Club Team.

The Lady Ocelots are now 4-1-2 overall.

Schoolcraft overcame a 1-0 halftime deficit on goals by Cassie Ozog (Livonia Ladywood) and Nikki Johnson (Livonia Churchill) before U-M tied it with a goal in the final five minutes.

Johnson assisted on the first SC goal, while Ozog assisted on Johnson's first of the year.

Bonnie Boyle (Birmingham Marian), replacing the injured Leann Adle (North Farmington), turned in a sparkling job in goal.

SC coach Nick O'Shea also singled out the play of sweeper Angee Stiglmaier and right-halfback Sara Hayes (Plymouth Salem).

Garden City gets 1st win

Garden City played a solid 80 minutes of soccer Wednesday to record its first boys victory of the season, a 4-2 triumph over visiting Pinckney.

The Cougars (1-8) were led by senior Scott Kendrick's hat trick. Junior Pete Overaitis also had a goal, while Jason Liinangi contributed two assists. Jeff Rand also had an assist.

REDFORD CC 5, NOTRE DAME 0: Kerry Zavagnin scored two of the Shamrocks' five first-half goals to lead Redford Catholic Central (9-2-2) to an easy 5-0 victory Friday at Bell Creek Park.

CC is now 6-1 in the Central Division of the Catholic League. The Shamrocks can gain a share of the title with a win Tuesday against first-place Warren DeLaSalle (4 p.m. at Macomb Community College).

Brendan Sullivan, Anthony Verrino and Mike Duffy also added goals for the winners. Goalkeeper Jeff Sawicki recorded the shutout for the Shamrocks, who played their reserves the second half.

On Wednesday, Zavagnin scored twice and had one assist in a 3-1 triumph over rival Birmingham Brother Rice. It was CC's second win over the Warriors this year.

Freshman Rich Walosz added a goal and an assist, while Matt MacIntosh turned in a sterling performance defensively.

STEVENSON 1, HARRISON 0: State-ranked Livonia Stevenson (9-0-1) got a tougher-than-expected battle Wednesday from visiting Farmington Harrison (2-5-1).

Travis Roy scored the game-winner in the second half from Rob Haar to give the Spartans the victory. Stevenson outshot the Hawks, 35-5.

Goalie Scott Plagenhoef made five saves to post the shutout.

FRANKLIN 2, W.L. WESTERN 0: Dave Steinert assisted on both goals Wednesday, leading Livonia Franklin (6-4) to the win at Walled Lake Western.

Victor Rodoupolos scored in the first half and Scott Barnes added an insurance goal with 7:06 to play to give the Patriots the win.

HURON VALLEY 5, PLY. CHRISTIAN 2: Five different players scored Friday as Huron Valley Lutheran of Westland downed Plymouth Christian at Hines Park.

Goal scorers for the victorious Hawks included Mark Hannewald, Kiley Prieb, Doug Hartley, Eric Ruth and Dennis Osiwala.

Huron Valley is 3-8-1 overall and 1-3 in league play. Plymouth Christian is 0-4 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

Stevenson girls keep divisional record intact

Livonia Stevenson stayed atop the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities, recording a 24-31 girls cross country win over Plymouth Salem at Cass Benton Park.

The Spartans, now 5-0 overall and 3-0 in Lakes dual meets, were led by A.J. Koritnik, who was clocked in 20:38 for 5,000 meters. Salem's Stacy Witthoff finished second in 20:54.

Other Spartans in the top 10 included Carrie Creehan, third (21:05); Stacy Prais, fifth (21:31); Gail Grewe, sixth (21:39); and Becky Adamczyk, ninth (22:21).

The Stevenson boys were not as fortunate Thursday, losing their dual meet to Salem, 21-37.

John Thomas took first for the victorious Rocks, now 3-0 in the Lakes. He was clocked in 17:10.

Rodney Westlake paced Stevenson with a second-place time of 17:17.

Other Stevenson runners in the top 10: John Marshall, sixth (18:25); George Bracken, seven (18:33); and Jason Mase, 10th (18:57).

LIVONIA CHURCHILL lost a pair of WLAAs Western Division encounters Thursday to Plymouth Canton at Cass Benton.

The Canton girls ran their divisional mark to 3-0 with an 18-41 triumph behind the one-two finish of Heather Meyer and Lana Boroditsch, who recorded times of 22:22 and 22:30, respectively.

Churchill girls in the top 10 included Stacey Rokicsak, third (22:40); Teri Moore, seventh (23:06); Jeannette Spear, 10th (23:29); and Anne Cooper, 10th (25:09).

The Churchill boys also went down to defeat to unbeaten Canton, 15-50.

The victorious Chiefs swept the first seven places, led by Mike Ream, who was clocked in 17:29.

Rounding out Churchill's contingent: Chad Giles, eighth (18:45); Jon Curry, ninth (19:05); and Steve Townsend, 10th (19:23).

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN lost both the boys (24-31) and the girls (15-51) meets Thursday to Walled Lake Central

cross country

in a WLAAs-Lakes dual encounter at Central City Park.

Jacob Callcut and Kirk Black finished one-two for the Central boys with times of 18:17 and 18:44, respectively.

Joe Rajewski paced winless Glenn with a third place finish in 18:54, followed by teammates Bill Griffiths, fourth (19:37); Mark Coleman, sixth (19:50); Jason Yantley, eighth (20:10); and Robert Wilson, 10th (20:25).

Central swept the first six girls spots, propelled by Tobitha Belcher, who won the race in 20:56.

Jennifer Caplis and Tina Honeycutt gained seventh and eight for Glenn in 23:23 and 23:54, respectively.

The Glenn girls are 1-4 overall and 0-3 in the Lakes.

Park.

The Franklin girls were beaten, 20-35, as Jennifer Ray and Wendy Pross finished first and second in 21:43 and 21:47, respectively.

Stacy Hewitt led the Patriots (1-3) with a third place finish in 22:30.

Other Franklin girls in the top 10: Tammy Bauer, sixth (23:54); Keri MacKay, seventh (24:29); Nicole McMullen, ninth (25:18); and Erin Fischer, 10th (25:35).

The Franklin boys suffered an 18-44 defeat as Central's Bill Crosby (16:55) and Jeff Grosso (17:09) finished first and second.

Franklin, 3-3 overall and 1-2 in the division, got a third place finish from Eric Curnow, who was timed in 17:49.

Scott Goodell added an eighth (18:44) and Cary Quatro was 10th (19:09) for the Patriots.

Ballplayers known for helping charity

EVERYBODY ENJOYED THE fine season that Cecil Fielder had for the Detroit Tigers. We are all pleased with the fact he got his 50th home run, but tell us Cecil, can you bowl?

Perhaps one of these days some fundraiser will get Fielder to appear at one of the local bowling centers and show us what he can do on our playing field.

Many major league ballplayers have also been excellent bowlers. Mike Marshall of the Boston Red Sox is one such player. Some say he is good enough to make the Professional Bowlers Tour.

Jim Kaat, who pitched for the Minnesota Twins, also tossed a 300 game on the hardwood lanes.

Four former Detroit Tiger stars hit the lanes recently.

Milt Wilcox, Pat Sheridan, Jim Northrup and Dave Rozema (who also had a 300) participated in the Make-A-Wish charity event the past two weekends at Astro Lanes.

The players gave autographs and talked to the fans which were present.

The Detroit area is unique in the fact that we not only have a large concentration of organized bowlers, but we also have the best baseball fans.

How about Cecil Fielder? Maybe some fund-raising charity promoters can get him out to our bowling centers.

Speaking of charities, the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation will be holding its Bowl for Breath event on Oct. 28.

They have raised $2.1 million in the fight against the disease.

Bowl for Breath involves bowlers soliciting pledges for each pin knocked down during a three-game series.

Every participating bowling center will offer bowlers reduced rates on three games between 12-5 p.m. T-shirts will be given to the bowlers and there will be a variety of prizes for the participants.

The bowling centers participating in the Observer and Eccentric area include Avon Recreation center in Rochester Hills, Beech Lanes in Redford Township, Bowl One in Troy, Drakeshire Lanes in Farmington Hills, Norwest Lanes in Farmington Hills, Plaza Lanes in Plymouth and Town and Country Lanes in Westland.

Interested bowlers should call Rose Jablonski at 354-6565. You can also write to the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Metro Detroit Chapter, 20300 Civic Center Drive, Suite 304, Southfield, 48076.

A retirement party was held for Cass Sicilia on Sept. 30 at Laurel Manor in Livonia.

After 20 years of service as executive Director of the BCA, Sicilia accepted the position of temporary director in 1970 and stepped down last April because of heart problems.

"He is one of the most respected executive directors in the country," said Al Winkel, past president of the Detroit area, state associations and a national board member.

One of Sicilia's greatest accomplishments was developing the BCA liquor liability pool.

"It's a touchy subject," Sicilia said. "But for many proprietors, the line between a profit and loss forms at the bar. A few years back, when the cost of liquor liability insurance became so prohibitive, many of the proprietors had to risk going without insurance. But we were able to set up our own liquor liability pool."

Sicialia's successor is Scott Bennett, former Executive Director of the Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Flint.

Exchange student gives Spartans lift

By Brad Emons
staff writer

CHIARA GRANOCCHIA has quickly learned that everything goes with Jell-O. "I like doughnuts, too," giggles the Italian exchange student from Livonia Stevenson High.

Whether it's roast beef, chocolate cake or even Jell-O, the No. 2 singles player has an appetite for winning.

On Tuesday, Granocchia will risk her unbeaten match streak at 13 when the Spartans host the 12-school Western Lakes Activities Activities meet, beginning at 9 a.m.

The arrival of the petite, 5-foot-5 Granocchia, who came over in August from Terni, a town of about 100,000 nestled in the mountains north of Rome, has elevated the Spartans into a contenders role again for the WLAA team title along with Farmington Harrison, Northville and Plymouth Canton.

"I thought we'd be a good team, but with Chiara at No. 2, allowing everybody to move down a spot, we're a lot stronger," said Stevenson coach George Croll.

JIM JAGDFELD/staff photographer

Chiara Granocchia, an exchange student from Terni, Italy, has won 13 straight matches at No. 2 singles for Livonia Stevenson.

Chiara takes a full class load at Stevenson — American Literature, history, German, Composition, Algebra and Biology. Her grades are transferable and she will be able to graduate with her class in Italy.

AS FOR TENNIS, Granocchia is a baseliner who is making the transition from red clay to hard courts. At her school back home, Chiara plays three hours a day and takes one hour of gym.

"Some people hit harder, but not as many balls back," said Croll. "She's patient from playing on clay in Italy. She'll hit it six or seven times to win the point. However, she can put it away when she comes to the net."

The only match Granocchia has lost this season was a preseason challenge for the No. 1 position to teammate Holly Findling, 7-6, 6-3.

"First, second or third doesn't matter," said Chiara. "I just don't like to lose."

"She has a saying, 'No wind, but I like to win,'" Croll said. "She doesn't like to play in the wind, but she likes to win. She has a good, competitive spirit. She's friendly. After she beats people, people still like her. There are no hard feelings like you sometimes have in a sport like tennis."

tennis

Ironically, one of Chiara's tennis heroes is the tempestuous John McEnroe.

"I just like his play," she smiles. "I also like Sampras (Pete, the U.S. Open champ) and Seles (Monica)."

THE WEATHER, however, is something Chiara doesn't like.

"It's a big experience, too cold," she said. "It's never this cold."

Chiara, however, hasn't seen anything yet. She still has to go through a Michigan winter (staying with the Motters over Christmas) before returning home to central Italy in June.

Granocchia admits she misses her family.

Her brother, Lorenzo, who Chiara phones periodically, is a ranked player attending Nick Bollettieri's Tennis Academy in Bradenton, Fla.

Her father Paolo, a businessman, first suggested Chiara study during the summer in England. Her mother Anna Marie, who works for the post office, then decided that trip to America was a better alternative.

Before coming to Livonia, Granocchia was able to feel and see a country swept by World Cup Soccer fever. She did not, however, witness any matches.

"I don't go because people act silly, crazy," she said. "But even though we (Italy) lost, you celebrate. It was a mess, but it was fun."

AND IT'S BEEN fun riding the bus to matches and playing for the successful Stevenson tennis team, which finished the regular season with a 11-1 dual-meet record.

Recently she attended another type of (high school) football game, and came away impressed.

"I like the Pom-Pom girls," said Chiara.

And of course, she always has room for her favorite subject.

"Jell-O, I like it very much," said Chiara.

Cougars take win over RU, Shannon

By Brad Emons

girls basketball

Garden City couldn't ring up impressive numbers Thursday except the one that mattered most — the final score.

The Cougars, who overcame 11 percent foul shooting and 23 percent (in) accuracy from the floor, managed to escape Redford Union's gym with a 37-35 girls basketball victory in a battle for first place in the Northwest Suburban League.

"The first five or six games we shot almost 70 percent from the free throw line, but all the sudden for some reason the last few games we're having problems and tonight we're 2-of-18," said GC coach Marshall Henry. "That was the whole ballgame from our standpoint, but we knew this was a 'Showdown at O.K. Corral' type of game, and we knew they'd be gunning for us."

The Cougars, now 8-2 overall, had to scratch and claw their way to their third straight league victory without a loss over the determined Panthers, who went into the game with high hopes.

"Garden City is 3-0 and it puts them in the driver's seat, but this (league) race is far from over," said RU first-year coach Gary Fulks. "This is the biggest game we've had here in 10 years because for the first time we were playing for first place. It would have been beautiful to win, but they had a little more depth and we lack experience."

RU LED 20-16 and held a one-point advantage, 26-25, entering the final quarter.

But GC took control at the outset of the fourth quarter, scoring seven unanswered points, five by senior point-guard Carolyn Shanks (11 points), including a hoop from three-point range.

Plymouth Salem had no time to relax Thursday, pulling out a 79-72 Western Lakes Activities Association win over visiting Westland John Glenn.

Glenn, behind a flurry of three-pointers in the fourth quarter, fought back from a 42-34 halftime deficit to tie the score at 72.

A three-pointer from senior guard Sarah Ruete and four free throws allowed the Rocks to pull ahead for keeps.

"We couldn't lay back at all," said Salem coach Fred Thomann. "We had a nice lead at halftime, but they came back by hitting those three-pointers. It ended up being a close game."

Salem improves its record to 9-2 overall and 5-0 in the WLAA. John Glenn is 4-7, 1-4.

Ruete paced the Rocks with 23 points. Cyndi Platter and Betsy McAllister each contributed 16 to help pick up the slack for the injured Yolanda Jackson.

Junior guard Carrie Rachwal led John Glenn with 25 points.

"This sure was a big win for us," Thomann said. "It was a wide-open, high scoring game."

FRANKLIN 43, CHURCHILL 21: Livonia Franklin outscored visiting Livonia Churchill 27-14 in the first half Thursday en route to a convincing victory.

Franklin (10-0, 5-0) was sparked by Jenny Mayle's 11 points. Junior guard Dawn Warner chipped in with eight points and seven assists. Sophomore forward Becca Bloch contributed eight points.

Senior forward Alyssa Belaire's eight points led the Chargers (6-4, 3-2).

STEVENSON 33, N. FARMINGTON 31: Eve Clair's 20 points and six rebounds couldn't bail North Farmington out of trouble Thursday, as the Raiders lost to visiting Livonia Stevenson.

"There were times when they had three or four people defending Eve Clair," North coach Lance Davis said. "That leaves a few people open, but we couldn't get our shots to fall."

The Spartans are 8-2 overall and 5-0 in the WLAA. North is 4-6, 1-4.

Laura Zatorski scored eight points to lead Stevenson, while Tracy Morrill chipped in with solid defense against the highly-touted Clair.

Dana Botwinski added 10 points for North.

WAYNE MEMORIAL 40, BELLEVILLE 29: Wayne Memorial led 18-11 at halftime and the Zebras held on to win their first Wolverine A League game, 40-29, over host Belleville in the Wolverine A League game.

The Zebras are 2-6 overall and 1-3 in the Wolverine. Senior Michelle Ernst led Wayne with 18 points.

Rachel Melnyk scored 10 to pace Belleville.

HAMTRAMCK 53, CLARENCEVILLE 35: Hamtramck had little trouble handling host Livonia Clarenceville Thursday, whipping the Trojans in a Metro Conference game.

The game ended with three minutes remaining because of a fight which broke out among the two teams.

Clarenceville coach Wendy Kellehan agreed with halting the scorers with 20 points. Sophomore Wendy Malecki added six, but no other RU player tallied more than two.

RU committed 24 turnovers, and got off only 35 shots, making 11 from the floor for 31 percent.

"We've been averaging 60 shots a game, but this is the best defensive team we've played," said Fulks. "They (Garden City) did a good job in their halfcourt defense. They were very aggressive with it."

Henry had nothing but praise for his senior floor leader Shanks, who leads the team in scoring, assists and steals.

"CAROLYN HAD a great floor game and did her usual good job of pressuring the ball," said the GC coach. "If people had made their layups, she would have had eight or nine more assists."

"We've been on her to shoot the 'threes' more often, but she didn't look for much else because we concentrated on getting our post players the ball. That's because of the mismatch we had inside."

Despite falling to 6-4 overall and 2-1 in the league, Fulks could not fault his team's effort.

"The will to win is there, but sometimes we get too uptight," he said. "Sometimes I see that inexperienced look in their eyes in certain situations. They had a little more depth than we did and we lack some experience."

And while RU is a young team building for the future, Garden City is seeking an outright title in the NSL.

"It was a big win for us because the pressure was on us to win," said Henry, whose team shared the league title last year with Dearborn Edsel Ford. "I think it will come down for us to beat them (RU) in our gym."

"I am not saying that we were totally innocent," Kellehan said. "But we only had seven players in uniform and at the end I felt the game was worth calling."

Hamtramck was sparked offensively by Kim Ryan's 21 points.

Rhonda Saunders led Clarenceville with 11 points. Anna Merritt chipped in eight.

The Trojans are 1-6 overall and 1-4 in the Metro Conference.

CRESTWOOD 47, THURSTON 38: A 19-5 second quarter run by Dearborn Heights Crestwood helped lead the host team to a Tri-River League win over Redford Thurston.

The Eagles are 5-5 overall and 3-4 in the Tri-River League.

Dane Koester led Thurston with 17 points. Dawn Dzialo had 15 points for Crestwood. Thurston led 10-6 after one quarter but the second quarter collapse put the Eagles behind, 25-15, at halftime.

"They got real hot in the second quarter," Thurston coach Mike Schuette said. "We gave them several rebounds and turned the ball over quite a bit."

R.O. SHRINE 56, BISHOP BORGESS 33: Royal Oak Shrine shut down Redford Bishop Borgess' high-scoring guard Kyra Woodard Thursday and cruised to the easy win in the Catholic-League's Double-A Division.

Woodard, a senior guard who averages 27 points per game, was held to 12 and the lack of production killed the Spartans attack. Senior guard Angie Kendrick added 10 points for Borgess, which trailed 15-9 after one quarter and 31-16 at halftime.

Borgess coach Dave Mann said Woodard made only one-of-10 shots from three-point range.

"I didn't think she shot that well tonight," Mann said. "They didn't do anything special (defensively) against her. They're just one of the better teams in the area."

GABRIEL RICHARD 41, ST. AGATHA 30: Laura Williams scored 13 points Thursday for visiting Redford St. Agatha, which fell to 2-7 overall and 1-4 in the Catholic-League A-West Section.

Marcel Bockbrader led Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard, 9-1 overall and 4-1 in the division, with 12 points.

REGINA 58, LADYWOOD 50: Livonia Ladywood senior center Rebecca Willey scored a game-high 16 points in a losing cause Thursday, as host Harper Woods Regina grabbed the Catholic-League Central Division win.

Regina is 8-3 overall and 2-3 in the division, while Ladywood dropped to 3-7 and 1-3.

MACOMB CHRISTIAN 55, HURON VALLEY 50: Host Macomb Christian outscored Huron Valley Lutheran 19-14 in the decisive fourth quarter to pull out the victory Friday, as three Hawks' starters fouled out with three minutes remaining in regulation.

Sherry Smith scored a game-high 21 points for the Crusaders, who improved to 3-5 overall and 1-2 in the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. Sandi Dengel scored 17 points and Brenda Mayworm added 11 points and 14 rebounds for the foul-plagued Hawks (4-6-2-1), who lost for the first time this season in conference action.

Stevenson surprises league foe

Livonia Stevenson came to play Wednesday in a crucial boys golf match at Whispering Willows.

The Spartans used a three-over 38 from Dan Lavole to hand state-ranked Farmington its first loss in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association, 210-218.

Lavole shared medalist honors with Farmington's Adam Hibbs.

Rounding out the Stevenson contingent was Mark Peterson (40), Paul Anderson (43), Ryan Fawkes (44) and Pete Theophellis (45).

"We wanted this one real one," said Theophellis, a senior captain. "This was a big upset. We really looked forward to the match. We were real pumped up."

Stevenson is now 10-2 overall and tied with the Falcons in the Lakes with a 6-1 dual-match record.

On Tuesday, the WLAA will stage its conference meet at Huron Meadows.

"It's going to be tough, but we have a chance," said Theophellis.

Earlier in the week, Theophellis and Fawkes each shot 41 to lead Stevenson to a 219-267 triumph over Farmington Harrison at Whispering Willows.

Other Stevenson scorers included Lavole (45), Todd Lensing (45) and Peterson (47).

PLYMOUTH SALEM won a pair of matches last week to run its overall record to 8-4.

The Rocks, behind Jason Behnke's 38, defeated Westland John Glenn in a match

Wednesday at Brae Burn, 205-235.

Other Salem scorers included Brian Botwinski (40), Chad Edgar (40) and Dave Weaver (43).

John Robertson paced Glenn with a 42.

Earlier in the week, Salem turned back Walled Lake Western, 210-220, as Botwinski led the way with a 39 at Brae Burn.

Botwinski was followed by Weaver and Edgar, who shot 41 and 42, respectively.

Western's Carl Sinclair took medalist honors with a 37. Teammate Chris Schneider added a 40.

LIVONIA CHURCHILL also has to be considered a contender for the WLAA crown after winning its ninth dual in 11 matches Wednesday, a 214-231 victory over Walled Lake Western at Bay Pointe Country Club.

Mike Migora and Bill Durham shared medalist honors, each carding 41. Todd Siedlaczek added a 42.

Churchill is 8-2 in the Western Division of the WLAA.

Ditchkoff clips Chargers' record

Livonia Churchill bounced back from its loss to city rival Stevenson, gaining a 108-78 girls swim triumph Thursday against visiting Farmington Harrison.

The Chargers, now 3-1 overall, posted 18 personal times and one variety pool record.

Tara Ditchkoff set a school record in the 500-yard freestyle with a time of 5:15.17. She also won the 200 freestyle (2:04.59) and teamed up with Amy Kallinowski, Liz Sorokac and Ellen Lessig to win the 200 medley relay in 2:02.85.

Lessig, meanwhile, captured the 50 and 100 freestyles with times of 25.24 and 55.9, respectively. She also was a member of the victorious 200 freestyle relay along with Katie Hamann, Carla Karoub and Jenny Zlobert. They were clocked at 1:50.27.

Sorokac added firsts in the 200 individual medley (2:20.19) and 100 breaststroke (1:15.79). She also teamed up with Hamann, Karoub and Zlobert to win the 400 freestyle relay in 4:04.7.

Churchill's other first-place finisher was Hamann in the 100 butterfly (1:06.5).

Harrison's Stacey Krause broke her own mark in the 100 backstroke (1:05.33). Teammate Elaina Trager was victorious in diving with a total of 235.50 points.

LIVONIA FRANKLIN slipped to 4-2 on the year after a 114-72 loss Thursday at Plymouth Canton.

Despite the loss, Franklin's Kim Rodriguez and Jenny Fisher were double winners.

Rodriguez captured the 50 and 100 freestyles in 28.14 and 1:02.56, respectively, while Fisher took the 200 IM (2:30.76) and 100 breaststroke (1:17.33).

Franklin's Nancy Nocchell took first in the 400 freestyle (6:09.38).

Canton won all three relay events.

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN was no match Thursday as visiting North Farmington captured 11 of 12 events.

Glenn's lone victor was Amy Work, a sophomore, who took the 100 freestyle in 1:04.79.

Senior Amy Duthie placed North with firsts in the 200 freestyle (2:20.69) and 100 backstroke (1:13.55).

People who dream of hitting the road as circus clowns had a chance to audition for the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Clown College Thursday at Joe Louis Arena.

"I want to run away with the circus," said Stan Takarz, a 65-year-old West Bloomfield resident, who auditioned in full clown regalia.

No prior experience in clowning is needed, although applicants are expected to demonstrate serious motivation about a career as a clown.

"We look for desire foremost in the audition," said Peggy Pozdol, a former Birmingham resident in her third year with the circus. "We look for physical comedy, people who can express themselves physically. We teach them the other skills."

When asked about why they wish to become clowns, the auditioners almost uniformly responded that they wanted to make people laugh.

"I want to entertain people and make them laugh," said Jason Scott, 17, of Southfield. "I want to be a clown."

Adam Leichtman, 18, of West Bloomfield, hopes to further his performing career through clowning.

"BASCALLY, I read in the paper about auditions. I had been doing theater in high school and I hope to eventually be on Broadway," said Leichtman, who will be attending Wayne State University.

For Takarz, a retired carpenter and builder, clowning is not the means to an end.

"I've been clowning since 1952. I met Emmett Kelly when I got out of the Navy in 1952," he said. "I'm an Alhambra clown. I'm in all the parades in West Bloomfield."

After attending three clown camps, Takarz said he decided to audition for clown college, having retired a year ago.

"My wife and family love support me. They love it. My wife pushes me out the door to do it," he said.

After some warm-up exercises, the group of men and women pretended to be walking on a tight wire, moving to music only they could hear and getting caught imitating an animal during a visit to the zoo.

"Let me suggest that you aren't watching monkeys at the zoo; that is pretty common in the audition," Hudert said.

IN ANOTHER exercise, the auditioners were to react to standing on something extremely hot, deciding whether it was a quick realization or the classic slow burn.

If they had guessed before, Hudert makes it crystal clear, subtly is not in a circus clown's vocabulary.

"You communicate with body movement that is large," he said. "People don't need to hear you, but they need to see you."

Telling the group to run lightly in place, Hudert had them pick up the pace, eventually calling for an exaggerated head back, high-stepping clown run. "It's like a bear is chasing you," he said, demonstrating the move.

Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey clowns assist with the audition, demonstrating a time-honored gag about a giant sandwich, excessive pepper and inevitable sneezes.

"This gag has been around forever and three years before that," said Hudert. "It's called the Dagwood Sandwich."

Clowns man a video camcorder to record the auditions, held in each city on the circus tour, for later review by the clown college staff. Applicants will be notified in June or July whether they have been accepted into the rigorous 10-week program, held annually in Venice, Fla.

"IT'S LIKE 10 weeks of circus boot camp," said Kevin Carr, a former Farmington Hills resident and member of the Clown College class of 1989.

At 19, Carr is in his first year touring with the circus, having been accepted to clown college after high school.

"I had no immediate plans after graduation. I had been active in theater and on the stage in high school," he said. "In clown college, they taught me about physical comedy."

The final examination for clown college is a show, attended by clown college president and Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey circus head Kenneth Feld. And for a select group of graduating clowns, contracts are offered with the circus.

For Pozdol, a Marian High School graduate, working as a circus clown combines her favorite things in life.

"I get to travel and perform... and I get paid for it," said Pozdol, 28, in her third year with the circus. "I like working with people. I studied to be an expressive therapist."

When she first joined the circus, Pozdol said she really didn't know what to expect.

"Anything I thought it would be, it has been and more," she said. "It's like a working vacation."

WHILE ON tour 11 months each year like other circus staff, the clowns take their homes along with them.

"We sleep on the circus train. Everything goes on the circus train, the equipment trailers, the animals, everyone who works with the show," said Carr. "I have my own room and I'm very comfortable. It is difficult not being in one place very long."

Contracts are offered annually, so Pozdol said she can't be sure how long she will be with the circus.

"You take it year-to-year under the contract," she said.

Clown hopefuls Carol Crooks of Windsor and Bob Ammon of Taylor do their best during auditions for the Clown College.

A bit of Wisdom goes a long way as an alternative

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Believe it or not, David Wisdom is a throwback to when the guy spinning the records had total control of the show.

One can detect that listening to his show, "Night Lines," heard late night Friday and Saturday on CBE-FM 89.9. The Vancouver, British Columbia, based DJ mixes old with the new, avant-garde and mainstream.

For instance, a number by the Pixies could be followed by one from Connie Francis. "Night Lines" is definitely Wisdom's show.

Which is saying a lot in these sad days of computerized playlists compiled by men more concerned with market share and Arbitron ratings.

Perhaps, that is the reason Detroit area listeners cling to DJs like Wisdom and his CBE-FM weekday cohort Brent Bambury ("Brave New Waves") not to mention "The Cutting Edge's" Greg St. James as purveyors of the new music faith. Except Wisdom tends to be a bit acerbic about it all.

Yes, Wisdom gets a lot of response from this area. In fact, he receives more phone calls and letters from Detroit than any Canadian city.

Yet, Wisdom isn't all too sure why. One possible reason bothers him.

"What people are telling me when I ask them why they listen to the show, they say Detroit radio is lousy," said Wisdom, who was visiting in Windsor recently. "I say, 'Is Detroit radio really lousy?' ... I'm afraid of why some people like me. 'I think there is a certain sector that doesn't like black music. That doesn't make me happy.'"

WISDOM SAID he's picked up on that from letters he has received. Some have stated they "hate that rap stuff."

Such candor is not unusual for Wisdom, who speaks in careful, analytical tones.

Wisdom is not bashful commenting on the current state of commercial radio, which he believes is only concerned with making a buck. He's also critical of the stagnant music industry.

"I don't think we're in the golden age of music at the moment," he said. "I think music should be different and noticeable. There doesn't seem to be many bands doing anything different."

"I think the real smart guys who want something different are guys doing dance music."

It's hard to argue about music with a guy named Wisdom, who's record collection is so massive he can't even count it all. Estimates range in the low 10,000s to 90,000. His main hobby is collecting 45s.

Wisdom has also been involved in a number of projects and programs, including Variety Tonight, the Los Angeles Summer Olympics and Gabeau. He's also co-authored a chapter on the history of Canadian popular music in Canada for "From Sea Unto Sea."

CANADIAN MUSIC is something Wisdom also feels strong about. Content regulations — playing a certain percentage of Canadian artists during the hour — doesn't bother him. In fact, he feels its important.

Wisdom feels too many bands north of the border conform to American standards in order to get signed.

David Wisdom has all-night music and banter for the weekends with his progressive pop, rock and comedy of "Night Lines" on CBE-FM.

Nothing cloudy about Nimbus sound

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Hey, it took Nixon time to go public with his tapes. Lee Micallef has just followed suit.

The versatile musician has been recording since he was 11, mostly in his Livonia home. Micallef estimates he has more than a dozen self-made tapes, trying to produce at least two a year.

"It can happen when you're riding a bike and a phrase just clicks," he said. "You write it down instantly. Then you go and elaborate on it."

If this story sounds a bit familiar, it is. Warren Defever of Livonia had been a basement recording artist until British Independent label 4AD got hold of the tapes and turned them into an international release, "Livonia," by His Name is Alive — Defever's group.

WELL, MICALLEF has formed his own group — Blue Nimbus. The band includes bass player Michelle Fields of Farmington Hills, rhythm guitarist Kevin Copeland and drummer Shelly Lankford, both from Livonia.

To take his music to the stage just seemed natural.

"It's the freedom of movement," said Micallef, whose band has performed at area clubs such as Finney's, Majestic Theatre and Paycheck's.

"What I love is the stage before you go on — it's magical. There are such great expectations. Hopefully, we can deliver the show."

THE SOUND Blue Nimbus delivers definitely possesses a "new wave" flavor with a heavy lean on the keyboards. However, some stinging guitar riffs and some angst-ridden lyrics prevent it from being technological drivel.

Micallef describes it as sometimes aggressive, sometimes moody and sometimes funky.

Overall, the music appears to be a form of rebellion to the three-chord heavy metal riffs Micallef constantly heard in high school.

BLUE NIMBUS is starting to make its move in other ways. The band is featured on "Industrial Chaos," a compilation CD on Nebula Records.

Also, Blue Nimbus will release its Pylon will perform Thursday, Oct. 11, at the Blind Pig in Ann Arbor.

REVIEWS

AND THE HORSE THEY RODE IN ON—Soul Asylum

Soul Asylum's "And the Horse They Rode In On" is one of those cooperative efforts between a small, independent label and a huge record conglomerate. In this case, it's between Minneapolis's Twin/Tone label and A&M Records.

What this situation usually means is that the small label finds the band, nurtures it, has faith in it. Then, just when the band seems to be getting popular, the larger label jumps into to "help" (read: Grab some of the profits for themselves).

Nonetheless, it is still sort of heartening that Soul Asylum will get all the benefits and exposure that come with having a major label backing them. Maybe this will change Soul Asylum's outlook on its song, "Nice Guys (Don't Get Paid)."

Major label backing also means a better choice of producers. So, for "And the Horse . . ." Soul Asylum hired Steve Jordan, producer of Keith Richard's solo album.

FOR A major label release, "And the Horse They Rode In On" is a strange brew. It seems to be going in several directions at once, with no distinctive sound joining all of the songs.

Some of the mellow songs like the aforementioned "Nice Guys (Don't Get Paid)" are so overproduced and — for lack of a better word — laid back, they almost sound like they could have been made by Steely Dan.

Others, like "Spinnin'," seem to be sort of a punk/heavy metal hybrid. Their song "Brand New Shine" almost sounds like a rockabilly tune. And still others, like "Gullible's Travels," are firmly entrenched in college/alternative guitar rock territory.

Since Soul Asylum has been around since 1983, and presumably knows what sort of music it'd like to play, its lack of focus can be attributed to a desire not to be pigeonholed. Or perhaps, it still hasn't found its niche yet.

THERE ARE some high points on the album. "Easy Street" is a Replacements-style rave-up that could be a hit. And even though we said "Nice Guys" sounds like Steely Dan, it's still a pretty good song.

At best, "And the Horse . . ." is an eclectic release, chock-full of musical ideas. At worst, it's a confused mishmash of sound.

NATIVE PLACE — RAILWAY CHILDREN

For every worthy new band deserving of radio air play, there are those smarmy, synthesizer simps that always seem to get the nod instead.

Railway Children may be in the latter category.

Railway Children are new music, all right, but in the radio programmer's sense of the term. They have so much commercial appeal written all over them they should sell ad space on their drum kit.

They seek not to offend, relying heavily on the big synthesizer/guitar sound and lightweight lyrics to carry them through.

Guitarist and vocalist Gary Newby goes to wretched excess with themes of idyllic life where "It's Heaven" and "You Can Hide Away."

"In 'It's Heaven,' we hear Newby plead: 'Dear Angel/They've taxed the words of love/I've waged a war in my head/I don't think you know what you've done/One and one and you makes two . . .'"

Then, because this is supposed to be dreamy, atmospheric music — at least that's what they told the keyboard player anyhow — there's a few references to the weather.

In "Every Beat of the Heart," Newby croons "That's some angry sky behind me" while in "Blue Sky"

Well, you get the picture: A multitude of teenage girls with braces are supposed to go ga-ga over this.

All this gushing is made doubly worse by Newby's attempt to sound emotional when singing this drivel. Also, Newby's attempt to rhyme on time lends itself to some awkward phrasing. The line "In a native place you can hide away" in the chorus of "Native Place" sounds more like "In a native place you can hillside away."

Judging by this effort, "Native Place," the Railway Children are on a box car going nowhere fast.

— Larry O'Connor

THEN AND NOW — ASIA

From the lack of musical growth department:

It's game time. Take a copy of Asia's new Album "Then and Now," play it through once or twice and tell me which are the new songs and which are the old songs.

And no peeking at your old record collection.

Part greatest hits package, part comeback album, "Then and Now" features four new Asia songs and six tunes from its previous albums, but telling them apart would take a true Asia enthusiast.

Here's a hint. Songs one through four on side two — Asia didn't even have the courage to put its new material first.

OK, maybe Asia had some great harmonies. And maybe it had some decent pop hits in the early 1980s. And maybe it had some truly decent album covers.

John Wetton, Geoff Downes and Carl Palmer return this time with Pat Thrall (replacing original guitarist Steve Howe) and basically rehash the same basic Asia sounds — lush harmonies, heavy production, echoed vocals.

Nice work, if you can get it, but why waste the bucks on a four-song album?

Bzzzzz. Game's over.

"Days Like These," "Praying 4 a Miracle," "Am I In Love?" and "Summer (Can't Last Too Long)" are the new songs. Kind of sound like B-sides to old Asia singles — albeit with a tad more guitar work.

For die-hard Asia maniacs only.

VIDEO VIEWING

By Dan Greenberg
special writer

October shapes up as another big month for video releases. There will be enough horror films available for a century of Halloweens and cassettes for every other possible viewing appetite as well.

For those who haven't OD'ed on Ninja Turtle marketing, "Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles: The Movie" (1990, color, PG, 95 minutes) was released Oct. 4. Included in the $24.99 price is a coupon book worth $20 in food and Pepsi at 6,500 Pizza Huts nationwide. The distributor, Family Home Entertainment, is in this $20 million campaign with the Pizza Hut people.

While that may seem excessive and many may question the social and cultural value of Ninja Turtles, there's no doubt that they've got top marketing skills at work. With a $500 million in the till, there's no end in sight. Thank goodness we can afford it.

Looking back for a moment with a better recommendation, Walt Disney released "Peter Pan" (1953, color, G, 76 minutes) on Sept. 21. It, too, retails for $24.99 with a merchandising tie-in — a $5 mail-in refund program in association with Nabisco which will publish a two-page spread in 52 million Sunday newspapers on Nov. 11. That advertisement will offer additional Nabisco coupons.

SIR JAMES Barrie's famous tale was filmed with voices for the first time in this 1953 animation. Bobby Driscoll is the voice of Peter Pan, Kathryn Beaumont is Wendy Darling while Hans Conreid is George Darling/Captain Hook and Margaret Kerry is Tinker Bell.

On Oct. 10 "Tom & Jerry" continue the animation celebration with "Tom & Jerry's 50th Birthday Classics, Volumes 2 & 3" while "Bugs Bunny's Greatest Hits," "Bugs Bunny Superstar" and "The Very Best of Bugs" also hit the racks.

Still on Oct. 10, a fairly decent, entertaining videopic, "In the Spirit" (1990, color, R, 94 minutes), has an all-star cast and some pretty funny lines although the plot line is not all that original. The story category is whacky ladies caught up in the difficulties of living in Manhattan.

THE CAST also features Melanie Griffith and Olympia Dukakis in clever cameo roles.

"In the Spirit" is loaded with highly professional performances and, although it's fun, could have been a lot better.

Obscene is defined as offensive and that certainly fits "Meet the Hollowheads" on Oct. 17, and it is their taste that is hollow. This family, sort of a self Lubliner crowd, lives in another world where everything comes to their home through tubes. The sadistic, phallic suggestiveness is truly obscene.

The film is filled with that kind of sadism and numerous childish jokes. On top of that, it's not funny. Satire, farce, comedy of all kinds needs punch lines, fast pace and lots of pizzazz. The "Hollowheads" is about as slow and flat as it gets.

debut, "Jaded," on compact disc by the end of the year.

The amount of material has never been a problem for its creator, who plays guitar, piano and drums. He performs on all three on his self-made tapes.

"I'm working on the saxophone. That's tough," said Micallef, a 1984 graduate of Livonia Churchill High School. "I'm not used to wind instruments."

THE REAL problem, though, for Blue Nimbus and Micallef is getting people used to their music.

Micallef is trying to do something different that, it is hoped, will have appeal, he said. The great artistic debate ensues.

"I don't know if you can have both. You have to like it, first of all."

WHICH IS perhaps why Micallef was careful in choosing a band. He had known Copeland for several years. He met Lankford through his drum instructor at Hammel Music. Fields was a friend of Lankford's.

Things gelled from the start. All four share something in common — they are in management in retail and fast food.

"So when we get together . . . we tend to get a lot of things done. Nobody just sits there."

Blue Nimbus opens for Elvis Hitler Thursday, Oct. 11, at 3-D Club, 1815 N. Main, Royal Oak. For information, call 589-3344.

Therapy can help marriage

Dear Barbara,

My Husband began seeing a psychiatrist several months ago and recently he has suggested, rather strongly, that I also enter treatment. He states that due to the changes he will be making, it would be in my best interest that I undergo treatment in order to cope with his changes.

I feel somewhat threatened by this suggestion and would appreciate your comments on this matter.

Thank you

Dear Thank You,

My thanks to you for your excellent question. It gives me the opportunity not only to respond to you, but to elaborate for other readers.

The picture that you present is frequently seen when one mate enters psychotherapy. What we do not know in your situation is why your husband wants you to also enter treatment.

On the positive side, if there is growth and development in his character, achieved through his treatment, he is no longer the same person who married you. If his motives are pure, he wants you to have the opportunity for growth and development so that the two of you could have a better marriage than you ever had. Thus your growth and development would cement the marriage.

Also on the positive side is that by wanting you to enter treatment, he indicates that he wants to maintain the marriage.

It is understandable that you would feel threatened by your husband's suggestion. You should take it as an opportunity even though you feel this way. It is a gift in disguise. It will allow you to open yourself to knowledge and insights that are thrilling and exciting.

Take this as an opportunity to grow yourself, and if your husband is taking his treatment as an opportunity to grow himself, the two of you will have a wonderful marriage.

On the negative side, some mates who enter treatment camouflage their own problems by blaming things on the mate who is not in treatment. The therapist of the mate in treatment does not know whether the horrible picture of the mate not in treatment is accurate or not.

One psychiatrist did a survey of patients referred to him for marital therapy. They had been referred by the therapist of the mate in treatment. This therapist said that his patient was unable to make progress in the individual therapy because the unseen mate was so terribly sick.

Thirty couples were in marital therapy with him under these circumstances. In 50 percent of the couples, the description of the mate not in treatment was accurate. In the other 50 percent, patients in treatment had described not their mate but themselves.

In technical terms, this is called "projective identification." The patient projects onto some other person, in this case the spouse, the negative qualities that he cannot see in himself.

After you have been in treatment, you will find out what the problem is and what must be done.

Dear Disappointed and Angry,
Thank you.

Barbara

Garrett follows laughs

By Shirlee Rose Ison
staff writer

One thing about stand up comics — if you wait long enough they'll always turn up again.

Being in all those cities, all those comedy houses is what it's all about for Brad Garrett, who figures, he does 30 weeks a year on the road.

"I love being in all those different cities and meeting new people," he said, "but the travel is torment. It's not always first class, you know."

A NATIVE Californian, Garrett always believed he was destined to be a comedian.

"It was just part of me. But other people had different opinions about what I was all about. I was always big, really big, but never into athletics.

"Even now, some of the guys I went to school with come to my show, and we both have an instant recall about the times they used to beat me up routinely."

In school Garrett liked the cut-ups, the guys with a good story, and would hang out with them, he said. Academically, he never set any worlds afire, but he was a serious, if not dedicated, student and was granted a degree upon graduation.

"I actually made it to UCLA and spent five weeks in classes. I couldn't figure out why I needed to be there since all I wanted was comedy and show business, so I dropped out."

GARRETT, WHO was born Brad Gerstenfeld, would still be a Gerstenfeld if he had it to do again, he said.

"I thought I was cool, so I took a cool name, but I don't think I would do that today."

Fortunately, his parents forgave him the name change as well as his short college career and speedy dropout record.

"In our house, there was always an appreciation of humor. I think maybe my parents knew somehow that they were raising a comedian. Anyway, they have been very supportive."

"Young and eager, I wanted to do it all but couldn't even get into the comedy clubs because of my age. I was young, but big. So I would sneak in, and in the order of things, it was always after 1 a.m. before I could get on."

Brad Garrett doesn't mind a comedy schedule that calls for 30 weeks a year on the road. He says he enjoys meeting new people.

Eventually, his mother even forgave him for that.

GARRETT, WHO admits he will turn 30, alone and unmarried very soon, has been in show business professionally for nine years.

"Every year gets better, there's a steady escalation."

At this time, his career has escalated him to the point of being an "opener" for show business luminaries like Frank Sinatra and Liza Minnelli, among others.

GARRETT DOES all of his own writing, which he refers to as the tough part of the job. He does improvisations, character pieces, impressions and "a lot of size jokes."

"I was hired as a six-week replacement on 'First Impressions,' a TV sitcom, and we filmed for 10 weeks. I was in heaven, but the writer's strike kiboshed it. "I'm really into what I do. I have to push all the time." Garrett lives in Marina Del Rey, a beach community he said is "nice to come home to."

ALTHOUGH HE sees films, plays and anything theatrical all the time, he has no plans for relationships or marriage, saying he doesn't have the time.

"People ask me all the time, if God looked down and pointed out a certain woman who would be perfect for me, what would I do? First of all, I want to know the exact date."

This may be the only thing his mother won't forgive.

Brad Garrett will bring his improvisations, character pieces, impressions and more to at Chaplin's East, 34244 Groesbeck, Fraser, Wednesday-Saturday, Oct. 10-13. Showtimes are 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday and 8:30 and 10:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday. For reservations, call 792-1902.

PERMANENT Beauty

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Makeup artist Jacqueline Burkowski of That's My Color in Plymouth uses a delicate touch in applying permanent colored eyeliner to the eyelids of client Marcy Arakelian.

Artists use ancient idea for long-lasting looks

By Loraino McElish
staff writer

Permanent makeup was used as far back as 6,000 years ago. At least, legend has it that it was applied on young Chinese and Japanese girls who were being trained in the art of palace and court dancing.

Much the same techniques have been adapted to suit modern tastes and were introduced on the West Coast about seven years ago.

It cropped up in the Detroit metropolitan area about two years ago and, said three makeup artists who are offering it here now, the popularity of permanent makeup is a steadily growing facet of their business.

"I RESEARCHED this for seven full years before I told my clients about it," said Tamara of Tamara's Institut d'Beaute in Farmington Hills.

"There is that California woman who wants youth and glamour at any price. She was the first with the tummy tuck, the first with the breast implant.

"But the Detroit woman is a different breed. She has got to have it proven to her before she tries it. When she asks me about permanent makeup I am ready with the answers."

"I have never had a dissatisfied customer. Not one," said Pam Martin of Rochester Hair Removal. "I think it's because I give my clients as much time as they want or need to think about it.

"I don't want anyone going away looking like a clown. I want them to look as good as they can look. After all, this is going to last them for at least 10 years."

"This is big in all the big California cities, and Houston, Dallas, Denver, but I understand the salons that are really working overtime doing permanent makeup are in Hawaii," said Jacqueline Burkowski of That's My Color in Plymouth.

"Well, that makes sense. They are surrounded by water, but then so are we. It's about time it arrived in Detroit."

TAMARA USES the equipment and products of Tinty, a Japanese company. The marks are lasting but not irreversible because the pigments are injected sub-epider-mally, not intradermally.

The color gradually fades over a 10-year period. The color can be altered by another application, to follow changes in fashion or the client's wishes.

Martin and Burkowski both use the equipment and products of Perma-Derm. Although compared to tattooing, the process of micro pigment implantation is different in several ways. Most notable is that it is can be corrected.

WITH BOTH methods, due to the subtlety of the probe, which is less than half that of an electrolysis needle, it is almost painless. It causes a fast revival sensation, described at the worst "like a mild plucking."

All methods must follow sterile procedures that require complete sanitation and safety of the recipient.

"Natural beauty is a gift," Tamara said. "Every woman wants to be beautiful. This privilege of nature is now within your reach."

"This is for the everyday person who wants to look good and that includes pretty much all of us," Burkowski said.

"I'm good at this and I feel good about doing it," Martin said.

THE THREE makeup artists had many things in common as they talked about their permanent makeup clients, but the most significant of all was that they talked as though in one voice as they gave a warning to women who are contemplating having it done: Have your permanent makeup done by a makeup artist.

There are lay people who are certified to do permanent makeup that is technically perfect and artistically nowhere.

Tamara said she has had women come to her crying and begging to have their permanent makeup changed, which can be done.

Tamara told of one woman who had a technician follow the natural lines of her eyebrows with permanent makeup, when her eyebrows would have been the first thing any makeup artist worthy of the name would have changed.

AND SPEAKING of eyebrows, there seems to be a lot more women without them than one might expect, the makeup artists say.

Martin thinks it might be a throwback to Jean Harlow. The star of the '30s had hers shaved and penciled in. Many women followed that lead and never had their eyebrows grow back in.

Burkowski told about having one consultation with a man who was inquiring about having his wife go through the procedure. He said he had spent enough time of his life waiting for his wife to put on her eyebrows.

BUT EYEBROWS are not on the top of the permanent makeup list. Eyeliner is. It's the one facet of permanent makeup that is there when you wake up in the morning and gives you an immediate "I'm alive" feeling.

The eyeliner remains when you get out of the pool. It remains when you sweat or when you cry.

Other permanent makeup all of the women offer, in no order of preference, is lip liner and the covering of scar tissue, birth marks and facial lines. Color that is matched to the skin is put into the facial line and acts much like an Erase Stick.

"I WANT it known that is is not exclusively for the rich and famous," Tamara said. "My clients are people whose eyebrows are thin or non-existent, people with poor eyesight, athletes, people with scars, women who are allergic to makeup, busy women."

DOUGLAS BUSALCA/staff photographer

Tamara of Tamara's Institut d'Beaute in Farmington Hills discusses touching up the shape of the eyebrow, using permanent color, with client Gabrielle Friedman.

JIM HIDER/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Pam Martin of Rochester Hair Removal uses the equipment and tools of Perma-Derm in applying eye makeup for client Cathi Salach.

"My clientele runs the full gamut, from 20-60 and a great many of them wear either bifocals or contact lens," Burkowski said. "I don't do fads. I'm not making anything like that permanent. I'm enhancing your natural beauty with my own good sense of aesthetics."

"A lot of my clients have had very light blond brows — and lashes — and need a bit of color, a little more drama there," Martin said.

"I don't hustle anybody. I guide them, with five, six applications if that's what it takes, let them fool around with makeup for a month to make sure they leave here happy."

Art furniture on exhibit in gallery show

By Linda Ann Chomlin
special writer

FUNCTIONAL, sculptured art furniture, created by Larry Fox of Northport, is the newest featured exhibition at the Linda Hayman Gallery in Farmington Hills.

The exhibition continues through Oct. 27. "I'm always looking for something unusual, something appealing, interesting and new," said Linda Hayman, gallery owner. "Larry Fox's work fits the bill: quality work and one-of-a-kind pieces."

IN THE gallery is a centerpiece coffee table that Fox created from ash with inlaid strips of walnut that continue in a lyrical line past the outer edge of the tabletop. As with all his functional pieces, Fox plays the dark wood, walnut, against a light ash.

Fox creates tables, plant stands, trays, candleholders and step shelves in an art deco, yet contemporary style. He has won many awards for his designs and considers himself an artist who works with wood, not a woodworker.

Fox's functional art allows for total freedom in self-expression, while accenting living space with pure, fluid design.

His step shelves give a new slant to traditional bookshelves. Utilitarian shelves created by Fox look like stairs, which climb straight up or diagonally across a wall. His art furniture is solidly built and destined to become family heirlooms eventually.

CLIENTS ARE "adding more wood, more traditional warmth to their homes," Hayman said.

Fox's artistically crafted furniture, created in natural woods, uses clean design lines — sometimes simple, sometimes lyrical. His pieces range in price from $80 to $800.

As a businesswoman, Hayman is dedicated to customer satisfaction. She prides herself on striving to have "something for everyone."

"If someone is looking for a particular print, if we don't have it, we'll search galleries and publishers across the nation until we find it."

THE GALLERY has a selection of prints, original graphics and paintings, art posters, art books or tabletop art, photography and a complete framing center. Prices range from $25 for posters to $7,000 for an original Wessleman.

Besides Fox's functional art furniture, Hayman carries Matisse-like prints by the Israeli artist Yitzchak Tarkay. His work focuses on the female figure painted in a vibrant palette not unlike Toulouse-Lautrec. Tarkay's pieces evoke undetailed beauty in his women and sensuousness.

The Hayman Gallery also handles the work of New Yorker Malcolm T. Liepke. The characters portrayed in Liepke's lithograph, "Bar Scene," are reminiscent of Degas. His art has appeared on the covers of Time, Newsweek, Forbes and Fortune.

Hayman entered the art scene 11 years ago. On Nov. 1, she'll open a second gallery, in Boca Raton, Fla. It will carry contemporary American photography, paintings, sculpture and prints.

The Linda Hayman Gallery is at 32500 Northwestern Highway, Farmington Hills.

This vibrant display of color by Johanon von Herson is a futuristic art form referred to as Soft Art. Acrylic/felt fabrics, in endless color combinations, are blended into a layered collage placed in a 14,000-needle press to create a flat and flexible surface.

Linda Hayman, owner of Linda Hayman Gallery, is seated in front of a print by Yitzchak Tarkay of Israel. His work features the female figure in the style of Matisse, using a Toulouse-Lautrec palette.

Created from cherry wood, Larry Fox's step shelf is a versatile piece of art that can serve many functions. It provides storage space for books, videos, cassettes — anything stackable. Fox has the design in a variety of woods: walnut, oak, ash. The piece retails for $225.

Take control to speed meetings

Q: I've recently been elected president of an organization whose meetings are always long and chaotic. Despite my good intentions, the first one I ran didn't go much better. How can I "shape up" the group?

A: Many organizations perpetuate the "we've always done it this way" philosophy. Regardless that numbers grow and society changes, meetings are still bogged down, running the same way they did decades ago. It's not so much a matter of "shaping up" the group as it is for you to firmly, but good naturedly, take control.

First, take a look at what's going wrong. Do people arrive late? Can members hear the speaker? Do discussions drag on endlessly?

Good advance preparation is key. Provide a table at the entrance so that when people arrive, they can sign in, make name tags and obtain a written agenda, minutes, financial reports and other materials to be distributed. You may want to begin with a 15- or 30-minute social period to give people time to exchange greetings.

At the appointed time, bang a gavel or create some other loud noise to get attention and give them a couple of minutes to take their seats. Bring the meeting to order and make an announcement that, from now on, meetings will begin on time, then do it.

Give everyone a couple of minutes to look over the minutes silently, then quickly make corrections and approve them. Keep verbal announcements during the meeting to a minimum. Ask for committee reports only from those that require group discussion. If things are functioning smoothly, no report is needed. After committee work is completed, tribute should then be paid before the membership.

Insist that only one person speaks at a time. If people tend to chat while others have the floor, don't be afraid to interrupt and request full attention be given to the speaker. If discussions get sidetracked, cut off the Chatty Cathies by cheerfully, but firmly, stating you must move on to other matters.

Insist all topics for discussion be placed on the agenda in advance, then weigh these requests carefully. If a person tends to be talkative, perhaps you could propose an issue yourself to save time (watching your own wordiness, of course).

Save the most verbal people until last. Some of their material may already have been covered by then, and a stated adjournment time on the agenda may encourage them to be brief. If you allow outsiders to make presentations, outline how long you expect them to speak. Then adjourn the meeting first, providing an opening to those who must leave.

You don't have to be a drill sergeant to get things in order. By incorporating good humor, everyone will appreciate your efforts to make things run more smoothly.

Keeping warm air in and cold air out has become a much more involved process than it used to be. Rolled insulation has been augmented by insulated sheathing (shown here), house wraps, blown-in insulation, exterior insulation wall systems and even pre-fabricated insulated panels.

Insulation takes a new look in battle against cold, heat

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

When you say insulation, what comes to mind? A pink or yellow roll of fiberglass? Maybe some blow-in or loose-fill insulation? If you're really a student, maybe an expanded polystyrene board.

In the never-stagnant building environment, insulation has moved well beyond these basics. But few ever peel back the outer layers of a home or building and peer beneath.

Almost anything in a home today can be considered insulating, but the nuts and bolts insulation — the wraps, the blow-ins, the modular wall panels, the polystyrene panels — forms the first line of defense to both cold and heat loss.

INSULATIVE SHEATHING is a strengthened, expanded polystyrene foam applied to the outer frame of the building, said Simplex Products Division spokesman Gerald Gassman.

Insulative sheathing serves as a base for an exterior covering, is a fairly common insulative material, but has been improved in recent years, he said.

Sheathing provides insulative value in three ways, Gassman said. One, it has an intrinsic insulative value; two, it seals seams and openings in walls; and three, when properly installed, it has a reflective value.

"The sheathing is actually set away from the wall — about three-quarters of an inch — and that reflects heat back into the house like a Thermos bottle reflects heat back into a bottle," Gassman said.

Insulative sheathing comes in rigid panels that also add strength to a wall to prevent bowing, cracking and warping, Gassman said. Finally, insulative sheathing adds to a house's fire wall rating, he said.

ANOTHER ALTERNATIVE offers not only insulation but a finished appearance as well, said Ward Pimley, spokesman for Dryvit Systems Inc., the leading manufacturer of "outsulation."

Dryvit is marketed locally by Jarecki Distribution Inc. in Plymouth.

Unlike other types of insulation, outsulation is a finished wall, Pimley said. Others require an exterior brick, stone, or siding finish, but outsulation requires no additional covering.

With exterior wall and insulation systems, an acrylic top coat is applied over reinforced mesh layered with fine Portland cement, which is applied over an expanded polystyrene foam base, Pimley said.

Besides adding insulation value to a home, outsulation also comes in a virtually unlimited supply of colors and textures and can be carved to resemble columns, brick work and other features, Pimley said.

THERE ARE several advantages to outsulation, he said. "First, it places the insulation on the exterior where it does the most good."

A key advantage is that outsulation minimizes thermal shock. In the typical wall, cold air infiltrates the wall in the winter, and warm air builds up in the wall in the summer.

In a wall fitted with the exterior wall and insulation system, heat is stored in the wall in the winter and outside heat is deflected in the summer. The cost of heating and cooling is much lower, he said.

Common problems plague exteriors

A successful house exterior starts with an honest assessment.

According to Remodeling Ideas magazine, most houses in need of help suffer from one of these problems:

- Not enough detail: A house without interesting architectural details is rarely memorable. Details can be added with shutters, window boxes, trim, moldings or other new features. Use paint to accent present detailing.
- Too much detail: Some houses mix too many materials and styles. Take such houses back to basics. Strip away oddball elements. Paint mismatched material the same color, or invest in unified cladding.
- Poor proportions: Use landscaping tricks or a new color scheme to shape up a house with awkward lines. Consider dormers, porches or a new entry to balance the exterior.
- As architectural details are added and subtracted, go for a look that's consistent with the basic lines, age and setting of the house.

To help visualize the changes, try this: Enlarge a photo of the house's exterior, then put tracing paper over the top. Trace the house, then sketch in features that are being considered.

Outsulation, which is seamless, also seals thermal bridges and prevents air infiltration as well as sealing out the elements, Pimley said. Conventional walls absorb water and over a period of time, walls buckle or warp and insulation value is lost.

ANOTHER OPTION is the preassembled stress skin, structural panels. Although available for nearly 20 years, they are only beginning to catch on among the nation's builders, said Tom Savoy, technical director at AFM Corp. in Minnesota.

AFM, with plants throughout the country, including in Grand Rapids, builds the preassembled insulated panel, which is essentially a rigid expanded polystyrene board sandwiched between stranded lumber — particle or chip board — facings, he said.

Preassembled stress skin, structural panels — which come in anywhere from 4-by-8 to 8-by-20 foot panels — offer strength similar to a continuous column and do not require wood studs.

Instead, the panels are connected by studs in channels at the top and bottom and between panels by overlapping joints "like blocks sliding into place," Savoy said.

"Once a house is done and the sheathing is put up, you can't tell the difference."

THE SOLID construction prevents bending, twisting and warping, he said, which gives the wall greater strength and thermal stability because there is less settling and shifting.

Also, because the wall is preassembled — rather than building wall sections, standing them up, connecting them and adding insulation — homes are closed up within hours, he said.

And because the stress skin structural panels are connected with overlapping "thermal splining," air infiltration is cut dramatically. The tighter home is far more energy efficient.

HOUSEWRAPS, an air filtration barrier, serve a similar purpose to the moisture blocking paper of the past, but today's synthetic plastic wraps are far better, Gassman said.

Housewraps literally wrap around a home to keep air from seeping through cracks and seams. Although housewraps have no insulation value in themselves, they do help keep a home energy efficient.

"Even under 10 mph wind conditions, the average insulated wall will allow air seepage through small cracks and seams — and that reduces a home's energy efficiency," Gassman said.

Housewraps also block ultra-violet rays that degrade the older moisture barriers, he said.

WHILE NOT a problem if a house is closed up and the exterior walls are covered with brick or another type of siding, some projects — especially do-it-yourself cabins or second houses — may have to stand up to the elements for months.

Moisture barriers will break down and allow water and condensation to damage the wood beneath; ultra-violet ray-resistant housewraps do not break down, Gassman said.

Finally, housewraps allow moisture to escape from within walls to the outside without allowing cold or hot air from outside to enter, he said.

CLADDING A house with new materials may be the best choice if the old exterior is unattractive, mismatched, or if an all-new look is wanted. Choices include:

- Wood siding: Beveled wood siding, especially narrow clapboard, is still the look of tradition. For a contemporary look, use a top grade of cedar or redwood and stain it.
- Synthetic sidings: Vinyl or aluminum sidings mimic the look of wood, sometimes very well.
- Consider leaving special window or door trims exposed so character isn't sacrificed. Or, have trim custom-clad with aluminum that's molded to fit on-site. To add detail, ask about special trims for windows, doors and eaves.
- Wood shakes and shingles: Shakes are rough-hewn for a more rustic look. Shingles are cut smoother; trim siding with fancy-cut shingles for a Victorian flavor.
- Brick and stone veneers: These are premium products, and they denote long-lasting quality. They can be applied only on the front, or around the entire house.
- Stucco: This mixture of cement, sand and water makes the look of many Southwestern, Tudor and contemporary houses. New stucco systems not only refinish a house but insulate it, too.

Security vs. liability

Our association is considering getting a master key instead of a key lock box. What do you think?

With the increase in the amount of liability the association is incurring with respect to security, it is my recommendation that the association not have a master key for all the units but have a visual key lock box whereby there are individual keys for individual units.

If the master key is lost, you have placed all the units in jeopardy, whereas an individual loss of a key results only in changing the locks on that particular unit.

Of course, you will want to investigate the question of whether the association wants to retain access to any units under any circumstances, particularly if they have the right to gain access to the unit in case of an emergency in the condominium documents.

I also recommend that the co-owners have deadbolts to enhance security.

I am planning to develop a condominium near a golf course. Are there any suggestions that you would have with respect to this undertaking, particularly to this setting that I am describing?

The item that was recently discussed at the community associations institute seminar was a failure on the part of the developer to disclose the statement, which, in your case, would include the fact that there is a possibility of errant golf balls on the condominium premises.

Some courts have held that associations are responsible for dangerous conditions being established because of the proximity of the condominium to the golf course.

I would also be concerned about the drainage of the condominium as a physical matter in connection with the golf course waters, although I presume that your site engineer has looked into this matter thoroughly.

Drainage is one of the largest causes of construction defect legislation in a condominium project both in Michigan and around the country.

Robert M. Meisner

Our condominium is large enough to consider hiring an in-house security guard. Do you have any recommendations?

In comparing in-house security guards to the alternatives, including outside guard services, it is my recommendation that you hire outside security and that you pay a sufficient wage to get top quality personnel.

Believe it or not, some security guards are paid as little as $6 or $7 an hour. I am told by people in the industry this makes it extremely difficult for them to hire a trained person.

The reason that you want to get an outside guard service is that it would be independently insured and have direct supervisory control over its personnel.

Therefore in the event of a lapse in security or an "inside" job, you will have recourse against the outside security company.

Hubbell, Roth & Clark marks 75th anniversary

Hubbell, Roth & Clark of Bloomfield Hills recently celebrated its 75th anniversary. The consulting engineering firm specializes in environmental engineering and infrastructure improvements such as sewers, water systems and roads.

Carol A. Cool has been promoted to project manager at Quadrants, a Livonia general contractor.

Two appointments have been made by Banker's Realty of Farmington Hills. David Ruopp has been named director of marketing of the sunbelt properties. Sandra Summer has been appointed manager of residential properties.

Harley Ellington Pierce Yee Associates of Southfield will develop the architectural and engineering plans for the expansion and renovation of the Ford Motor Co. scientific research laboratories in Dearborn. A 125,000-square-foot addition will be built in front of the present facility.

Trautman Associates of Bloomfield Township will be responsible for the clubhouse, restaurant/banquet facility, sports complex and mid-rise condominiums at Rattle Run Gold Club in St. Clair, Mich.

Jack Yeager of Farmington Hills has joined the industrial technology group at Cushman & Wakefield of Michigan, Southfield. He formerly worked as a property manager for R.A. DeMatilla Co.

Cushman & Wakefield of Michigan

Carol A. Cool

recently completed lease negotiations for National Environmental Testing of Pontiac on a 25,000-square-foot facility in Auburn Hills.

The Michigan Builders Institute of Rochester Hills will offer seminars to prepare those taking the state builders licensing examination.

The 16-hour seminars are in cooperation with Berkley Community Education and Royal Oak Adult and Community education respectively. The Berkley class begins Nov. 6 in Oak Park with preregistration required by Nov. 2 by calling Susan Dodd at 544-5815 during school hours. The Royal Oak class begins Oct. 29 in Royal Oak with preregistration by Oct. 26 by calling David Durson at 435-8400 during school hours. Cost is $130.

Dealing with hazardous waste disposal will be the subject of a seminar from 8-10 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 16, sponsored by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

Larry Aubuchon and Dowe Parsons of the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will discuss identification, disposal and legal responsibilities regarding hazardous waste, rights of subcontractors and employees.

The program will be the Radisson Plaza Inn, 1500 Town Center, Southfield. Registration fees, including continental breakfast, at $10 for BASM members and $15 for non-members. To register, call 737-4477.

Environmental issues, public opinion and media relations will be covered in a three-day seminar Monday-Wednesday, Oct. 22-24, at the Northfield Hilton in Troy. Sponsored by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, the Building Owners and Managers Association and the Apartment Association of Michigan, the program will be presented by David D. Graves, senior vice president of Creative Communications Associations of Providence, R.I.

The first day will focus on wetlands and woodlands issues; the second day on community relations and the third on protecting the environment while providing housing, public facilities and commercial locations.

Fees are $35 per session for members of the three sponsoring organizations or $45 for non-members. Package rates for all sessions at $90 for members, $120 for non-members. For registration information, call 737-4477.

Social acceptance allows 'mingles' to buy houses

AP — More unmarried couples are buying homes together than at any time in the past, according to a survey of major lenders conducted by the Mortgage Bankers Association of America.

"Eighty-nine percent of those surveyed reported more 'mingles' purchasing homes as compared to five years ago," said James W. Nelson, president-elect of the trade association and president of Eberhardt Co. in Minneapolis.

"I suspect it's the result of greater social acceptance, on the one hand, and recognition of the economic benefits both in terms of mortgage interest deductibility and home ownership, he told a news conference. Nelson said growth in sales to unmarried couples also is recognition by lenders that many are qualified and capable of handling the financial aspects of buying a home.

NELSON ALSO said the Persian Gulf crisis has pushed mortgage interest rates up one-half of a percentage point since the Aug. 2 Iraqi invasion of Kuwait.

"This translates into about $40 more per month on a mortgage of $100,000," he said, adding that the rate increase and tighter mortgage underwriting will exacerbate affordability problems for many first-time homebuyers.

Sixty percent of the 20 mortgage companies in the survey reported more stringent lending standards because of government requirements, economic downturns in some markets and increased loan delinquencies.

"It is likely that mortgage rates will stabilize at currently higher levels over the next few months and, in the short-term, adjustable rate mortgage rates will look more attractive," Nelson said.

"However, we expect long-term rates to come back down somewhat once the outcome of the Persian Gulf crisis is resolved," he continued, adding: "If the shooting starts, all bets are off."

IN OTHER news, the Chicago Title and Trust Co. cites real estate inflation plus change in borrowing costs in the Detroit area as 1.8 percent for 1990 compared to 3.3 percent for 1989.
