Mayor kills plan for shopping center

By Todd Schnolder staff writer

Questioning both the project's value to the neighborhood and the developer's commitment to the project, Mayor Robert Thomas Wednesday vetoed a plan to build a strip shopping center on the vacant Cooper School site.

Thomas vetoed the Nov. 5 resolution by the Westland City Council approving rezoning of the property, on the southeast corner of Middlebelt and Ann Arbor Trail.

The rezoning was contingent on presentation of a site plan acceptable to council members and residents who live near the proposed project.

Thomas informed council members of his veto in a letter dated Nov. 7, within the 72hour period required by the city charter.

The council needs five votes to override the mayor's veto. It was unclear Friday whether the council — which passed the resolution 4.3 following a lengthy debate — would put the item back on its agenda.

Council President Tom Brown was unavailable for comment Friday.

"I DON'T THINK that particular project is said attorney Paul Vincent. desirable for that area at this time," Thomas said Friday. "I don't believe (developers Robert Asmar and Massoud Yono) have the commitments they say they do.

"If the economy was doing well it would be another story," Thomas said.

An attorney representing Asmar and Yono told the council before the Nov. 5 vote that the pair had commitments from Perry Drugs and Blockbuster Video, as well as unnamed hardware and auto parts stores. The mall would be 80-percent leased before It is completed,

But Thomas questioned that statement Friday. He said Perry has recently instituted layoffs and other budget cutbacks and said a competing Arbor Drug store across the street made Perry an even less likely tenant.

The tone of the mayor's letter to the council was conciliatory. "I hope that all council members understand that my veto power is a part of the political process in local government and is in no way a reflection on the coun-

Veteran chief of Ford center to leave post

By Leonard Poger

Edwin Ferguson, described as a nationally known vocational/technical education leader, is leaving the Ford Voc-Tech Center after serving as principal for nearly 614 years.

Ferguson plans to leave Dec. 1 to become the Livingston County Intermediate School District vocationaltechnical director. The outgoing principal is asking for a one-year leave of absence, which the Wayne-Westland board of education is expected to approve Tuesday.
His departure is the sixth in a series of administrative leaves and/or resignations following the voters twice rejecting a millage increase. After the tax defeats, the board and administration have eliminated or reduced programs and services for the current school year.

While Ferguson was unavailable for comment, Dennis O'Neill, school superintendent, called Ferguson's departure "one hell of a loss. It hurts to lose quality people," The superintendent said the district will continue to lose administrators "until we get a millage approved or Lansing funds the school aid formula," referring to the ongoing dispute in the state Legislature over school financing.

O'Nelll said Nov. 19 is the deadline for local staff members to apply for the Ford Center position. The superintendent said he plans to recommend a new principal for the school board's Nov. 26 meeting.

"We've been fortunate that we've found quality people to replace those" who have resigned this year, he said.

O'Neill said that Ferguson was well-respected throughout the state and nation.

THE PRINCIPAL has testified at congressional committee hearings, held to collect information on a new federal voc-tech program.

Over the years, Ferguson has been a strong advocate of effective voctech educational programs to meet the changing needs of today's employers.

Defendant waives exam in shooting incident

David Johnson, charged with shooting at officers while barricaded in a relative's home on Bison near Warren Road July 26, has been declared competent to stand trial and has waived his right to a preliminary examination.

Westland District Judge Gail McKnight ruled Thursday on the competency issue and heard Johnson's defense attorney, Cyril Pessina, walve his client's right to the examination of the charges.

McKnight ordered that Johnson, 20, of Ypsilanti be scheduled for arraignment on the information at 9 a.m., Tuesday, Nov. 27, in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Johnson had been interviewed by Dr. Craig Lemmen, a consulting forensic examiner at the Center for Forensic Psychiatry in Ypsilanti, to see if the defendant was legally competent to stand trial on charges stemming from the incident.

IN A four-page report to the court, Lemmen concluded that Johnson is capable of understanding the charges against him, the functions of the prosecuting attorney and judge, the defendant's role in the criminal justice system and is able to help

Council votes to join other cities in study of curbside composting

Westland and the four other communities that use the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority incinerator will conduct a study on curbside composting.

The Westland City Council approved a resolution Nov. 5 pledging cooperation in the study, although some city officials remain skeptical about adopting such a program because of its anticipated high costs.

In a related resolution, the council approved establishment of a permanent drop-off recycling facility by Sept. 1, 1991, which is mandated under the county's solid waste management plan.

JOINING WESTLAND in the composting study will be Wayne, Garden City, Inkster, and Dearborn Heights. The study will focus on a curbside pickup program for composte-site disposal of vegetative material such as leaves, brush and grass. Currently, yard waste is dumped with other household garbage in the CWSA incinerator in Dearborn Heights. Mayor Robert Thomas estimates establishing such a program would cost the city between $1 million and $1.5 million, including additional labor and equipment.

Richard Dittmar, city public services department director, said last month that composting would have cost the city and additional $164,500 during the current fiscal year had the city been involved in such a program. That cost would have been partially offset by a savings of about $80,000 in Incineration fees, he said.

A proposed state law requires either incineration of landfill disposal of compostable material by Jan. 1, Simmi Prasad, a John Glenn High School senior, won $2,000 in scholarships Saturday night in her quest to be an astronaut.

She won the 24th annual Wayne-Westland Outstanding Young Woman scholarship program, formerly known as the Junior Miss program.

There were $4,600 in scholarships awarded to contestants.

Prasad, 17, and the daughter of Jaldhar and Pushpa Prasad, was given dozens of congratulatory hugs by relatives and other program contestants in the event held at the Wayne Memorial High School Stockmeyer Auditorium.

"I was surprised," she said shortly after hearing her name announced as the scholarship winner.

The winner plans to enter the University of Michigan next fall and study aerospace engineering in her hopes of becoming an astronaut.

At John Glenn, she is member of the National Honor Society, Student Council, and was recognized for outstanding performance in math and science from the Society of Women Engineers. She was a former section leader in the high school's marching band and a former French Club member.

FIRST RUNNER-UP in the program is Monica Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Evans, who won $1,050 in scholarships.

Second runner-up is Julie Hamrick, daughter of Rick and Sally Hamrick, a John Glenn senior, and winner of $700 in scholarship money.

Christie Simonson, also a John Glenn senior, was named third runner-up and winner of $500 in scholarships. Receiving $100 scholarships were Evans and Jan Latimer, sharing the Carol Fox talent award; Leslie Skora, the Lynne Taylor fitness award winner: Hamrick, scholastic achievement award winner, Leigh Eggers, poise award winner, and Skora, the Nita Casler spirit award

All the scholarship winners also received other prizes.

THE OTHER contestants were non Kuenel, Sherri Miller, Tina Ban- Harmon.

Monica Evans used her tap dancing skills to share the Carol Fox talent award with Jan Latimer.

Kimberly Lorenz, Dionnia Brady, dy, Christine Prough, Lynda Thi-Karen Lee, Rochele Tillman, Shan- beault, Deanne Ducher and Cathy

For the 24th consecutive year, Tony Rosati was master of ceremonies for the program.

Asbestos removal at Whitman taking longer than expected

By Marle Chestney staff writer_

Winter is nearly six weeks away and the Whitman Center in the Livonia school district is still standing. Since it was scheduled to be demolished when school ended in June, many southenders are now asking, "What happened?"

"It's taking longer to remove the asbestos than we anticipated, and its more difficult than we expected," sald Joseph Jinnett, supervisor of environmental control for the district which includes the northern section of Westland.

DEMOLITION OF the former junior high school and adult educator center, on W. Chicago at Hubbard, can't start until a Wayne County inspector rules that the building is free from asbestos.

If all goes well and the building passes inspection, demolition crews should be on the school grounds by the first week in November.

"If the demolition crew runs into asbestos, they have to stop," Jinnett said. "But we're confident that it's been done right and that, when the wrecking ball hits, there'll be no delays." The federal Environmental Protection Agency requires that all asbestos must be removed from a building before it can be demolished.

The EPA has linked asbestos to gastrointenstinal cancers, lung cancer and other lung disorders.

For most of this year, members of the district's special environmental team have been donning masks and other protective gear, removing asbestos from the building and putting it into large trash dumpsters stored outside.

"It's a slow process," Jinnett sald. The 6,000-pound dumpsters have been emptied in a landfill near Six Mile and Napler that is approved to receive the hazardous material.

The work at Whitman has been the team's first experience in removing asbestos from a building destined to be torn down.

THE DELAY in removing the asbestos has led the Detroit-based demolition contractor, Metro Wrecking, to raise its price to demolish the building to $140,000, Jinnett said.

Last spring, the Livonia Board of Education approved paying the company $120,000 to wreck the one-story building.

Once demolition starts, all work should be completed within 45 days, Jinnett said. Heating tunnels under the school will be filled in, and the school grounds seeded for grass in the spring. Because Whitman is immediately north of Grant Elementary, Grant students will wind up with a much bigger playground.

The closeness of Grant will give school officials one headache during the demolition process - keeping youngsters away from the site.

"We hoped to do this when school was out but that clearly didn't happen," Jinnett said. "Precautions, such as fencing, will be taken. We'll urge the kids to stay clear of the area but the big equipment will draw the kids' attention."

JINNETT ALSO urges those with a yen to scavenge in the rubble to also stay away.

"That takes money out of the contractor's pocket, as they'll sell that stuff. The concrete can be reprocessed, also the steel. The contractor will monitor the site. They won't want to see their money walk away. Also, it won't be a safe place to be."

Activities that took place at Whitman have since been moved to the Bentley Center at Five Mile and Hubbard. The district saved money by having its own specially trained employees remove the asbestos.

Estimates from removal companies ranged from a high of $438,000 to a low of $138,000.

Ferguson to quit Ford center

! The Ford Center, on Marquette between Wayne Road and Newburgh, offers a wide range of service and manufacturing classes.

With the help of a $12 million bond program approved by voters two years ago, the center was upgraded with an expanded curriculum and equipment.

The center, which serves the Wayne-Westland district as well as other communities, has several thousand students, or 1,000 full-time equivalent students, O'Neill said. Besides school-age students, the center also served adults in western Wayne Ferguson's interest in education started when he was a voc-tech student in high school.

"I served as an apprentice to a machinist," he said in an interview shortly after his promotion to princi-

Workshop for grievers-scheduled

A workshop to help persons cope and will be conducted by Karyn with their grief during the upcoming Pasquel, director of Foundational holidays will be held at Good Hone Lutheran Church, on Cherry Hill near Harrison, Saturday morning.

The workshop, open to the public without charge, will be held from 9 a'm. to noon.

The program is sponsored by Querfield Funeral Home, Dearborn, Living, Inc., a counseling organiza-tion located on Cherry Hill near Merriman. Pasquel said the workshop will cover why holidays are such a hard time for grievers, how persons get understand the grief process, how the commercial world "demands us to be happy (at holiday times) with an emphasis on family togetherness," which she feels is insensitive to the griever.

The workshop will also be helpful to relatives of the grievers, she add-

"Don't determine to 'just' get through the holidays," Pasquel advised grievers, "because the depression afterwards is far worse."

owned the Carl's Place restaurants in Plymouth and Westland where he made many friends with his warm, caring manner, said daughter Marcle Colling.

"He possessed the ability to make everyone feel special and important. Carl's 'never had a bad day' greeting, for which he was well-known, brightened up the spirits of all who met him," she said.

Carl and his wife, Irene, opened their first restaurant, The Hilltop, at Wayne and Joy Road in 1965. Over the years, their restaurant became known as Carl's Place and was moved to Five Mile and Northville roads, then to Main and Starkweather streets in Plymouth, and finally to Ford near Wayne Road in Westland.

Besides Mrs. Colling, Mr. Johnston is survived by his wife, Irene; children, Carl Johnston Jr., and Michael Krafchak and grandchildren, Marie Sherry, Dennis, Jennifer Johnston, Charlie, Krisjan and Michael Krafchak.

Services were at R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home Nov. 3. Memorial contributions are suggested to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation, 29350 Southfield Road, Southfield.

Family setting is key for anti-drug program

By Janico Brunson staff writer

Sitting in the modest kitchen of a Wayne County home, five lively teens munch pizza, slurp cola and recount the day's activities amid amiable chatter and jokes.

Mom hovers nearby, serving up additional pizza and coke. Dad retires to the front room, complete with earplugs to watch the evening's TV news in relative solitude.

An ideal picture of home life but in this instance, a unique family forged of common need and striving to cope with inviting yet destructive elements outside the home.

The youths, five boys hailing from Michigan and elsewhere, and the parents, Margo and Steve Andrews of Dearborn Heights, are participants in Straight, a drug treatment program that emphasizes a good deal more than mere abstinence from substance abuse.

"Honesty. Strength. Responsibility. Sticking up for myself. Being strong. Showing care," said Jason, 15, itemizing characteristics that, according to Straight training, are essential in remaining drug-free.

from Phase I in the program to raised in Lansing by white adoptive parents, it means that after four months and eight days of living with the Andrews while participating in Straight, he has finally earned the privilege to visit his real home. In Phase III he will be allowed to once again attend high school. Phase IV means renewed socializing now strictly curtailed and Phase V equates a return to normalcy and assisting others in their five-phase strug-

The struggle is an ongoing challenge, according to Adam, 14, in explaining his reverse slide from Phase IV to II. "I haven't been honest. I'm not doing what I need to do." Adam is the Andrews' natural son and their reason for Straight involvement. Two years ago, Margo and Steve discovered the boy was experimenting with liquor and drugs, a disquieting fact made more so because Margo's father is an alcoholic.

Now all three attend regular counseling at Straight offices in Plymouth. Their home is a "host home," a place where other participants in need of housing can temporarily re-

"The bottom line," Steve Andrews "I THINK I'M ready," to move said. "This is for my son. I have to give him 110 percent. There's no off drugs the rest of his life."

Full family involvement is an essential component of the program.

JOHN, A 15-YEAR-OLD from Pennsylvania whose mother moved here to be near him during treatment, has attempted rehab before, including a "lock-up facility where we'd do head rushes to get high.

"See, it's (addiction) a progressive disease. But I got so tired of it, lying and everything, I tried to commit suicide."

Bryan, a 16-year-old from Indianapolis whose mother once smoked marijuana with him, responds. "John's totally changed his whole life around.

"Being honest is the first and most important rule. When you take drugs you grow on the outside but you don't grow on the inside. And if you don't solve your problems, you're not off drugs. You can be dry, but not off," Bryan said.

John, in Phase III, has returned to high school, along with Frank, 17. from Saginaw who, after four years of drug abuse, is repeating ninth grade. Both attend a nearby high school while living at the Andrews'.

"I really enjoy being back," Frank said of school. "The biggest thing I Phase II. For Jason, a black youth guarantees, but hopefully he'll stay appreciate, for the first time in three 1976, the Plymouth chapter started years I'm passing math. I feel sure about myself."

A successful return to school is an important step in recovery, indicating growing self restraint, the ability to avoid destructive temptations.

THIS EMPHASIS ON personal growth accounts for a 70 percent success rate in the program, according to Judith Preslar of Straight whose own adopted son has completed the program.

Straight was founded in Florida in five years ago. Today, 61 youths between the ages of 12 and 25 years receive treatment at a cost of $30

Fourteen families in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties provide host home facilities like the An-

Running away is not uncommon among youth in the program. John, now residing at the Andrews, once ran because "I lied. Then I felt trapped."

Lying is perceived as "a mental. relapse," according to Frank, who ran during one of his first visits home with real parents in Saginaw. "I was into rebellion for a long time." In keeping with Straight guidelines, his parents reported the run and would not allow him to return to their home. He was later readmitted to the program, starting over in Phase I.

State lawmakers say they'll keep medical hearings open

By Tim Richard staff writer

'State lawmakers, in a move to revise the discipline system for doctors, say they won't shut the doors on public scrutiny.

"There will be no blanket exemptions from the Open Meetings Act and Freedom of Information Act," said state Rep. David Gubow, D-Huntington Woods, sponsor of the main bill.

"Doctors wanted to keep the cases closed until appeals are exhausted. Many of us said 'no.' Democrats and Republicans wanted them open." said Gubow.

"I objected to keeping the proceedings secret," said Rep. David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield. "Their theory is, don't besmirch the practitioner's name until it (the charge) has been proven. But what if people get hurt while these proceedings are pending?"

THE BILLS ARE on the agenda today in the House Judiciary Committee. An aide to chair Perry Bullard. D-Ann Arbor, sald amendments have been prepared to restore some of the discipline process to public scrutiny.

The problem, all agree, is that the state Department of Licensing and Regulation has a backlog of complaints against health care professionals. The same staff handles both licensing and complaints.

Thrust of the 11-bill package is to divide the work, double the fees to pay for the program, and give help to professionals with drug and alcohol problems.

"We've got 22 different boards that do licensing and discipline," said Dan Farhat, manager of state legislation for the Michigan State Medical Society. "They are not staffed properly for the number of licenses. Historically, you cannot get

Boy Scouts to collect food for area's needy

Area Boy Scouts will be going door-to-door Saturday, Nov. 17, to gain food for needy families.

An estimated 30,000 scouts will be hanging plastic bags on the doors of some 500,000 metro Detroit homes. They will return one week later to pick up the bags which, scouts hope, will be filled with canned goods.

Gubow's package arose from a special committee appointed by House Speaker Lowis Dodak, D-Montrose, during the argument over soaring medical malpractice costs. "We think it will have an impact on liability to get rid of the bad apples so the good ones won't have to pay for it," said Farhat.

"Physicians can get a lot of delays In the procedure. This system sets up specific time tables and provides a funding mechanism to do the job."

GUBOW SAID a key portion of the act, already approved by both chambers, is a "health practitioners recovery program."

"It's like a company's employee assistance program," said Gubow. "Workers voluntarily enter the program. We offer them evaluation, treatment and monitored re-entry into the work force. But if they fall off the wagon, we have a stick that dumps them in a punishment pro-

"The recovery program will be on the confidential side," he said. There was some effort to model the confidentiality provisions after the State Bar's highly confidential procedures for dealing with complaints against lawyers. But Gubow said the State Bar's procedures are under some attack for concealing too much.

Settlement conferences will be closed off but not board hearings. The fact that an allegation has been filed and the date - but not the substance of the allegation — would be public information, Gubow said.

CURRENTLY, physicians pay some $1.2 million for licenses, said Farhat. It goes into the general fund, and 70 to 80 percent is allocated to licensing and regulation.

"We'd like all the money to go into the system," the medical society spokesman said.

Medical doctors, chiropractors, dentists, optometrists, osteopaths, podiatrists and psychologists would see their annual fees rise from $40 or $50 a year to $90.

Dental assistants, nurses, physical therapists, physicians assistants, veterinarians, veterinary technicians and occupational therapists would pay lesser fees but see increases.

Second, evaluate the nature of your discomfort. Arthritis pain is an ache, concentrated in the area of the knee joint. In contrast, nerve injury pain is a numbness that radiates down the leg starting from the thigh and moving to the foot.

Pain from a poor blood supply comes on after you have walked awhile, is sharp, and is located, not in the joint, but in either the calf or buttocks.

Finally, consider what relieves the pain. In arthritis, resting helps substantially, but it takes minutes to hours for the ache to end. In nerve conditions the pain may be worse at rest. In instance of poor blood supply, rest causes the pain to end in moments to minutes, while resuming activity brings the discomfort back immediately.

Thus, each of the major causes for leg pain has characteristics that aid you and your doctor to identify the cause.

tions, a Southfield lawyer warns.

Michael Materna and members of the Association of Trial Lawyers of America urged the government and drug industry to establish stronger safeguards for those who use those medications.

Materna, of the Southfield firm of Materna, Hires & Custer, said an unsuspecting public needs to be aware of real dangers associated with theophylline-based medications, especially with the coming of the flu season.

"Theophylline is one of the most commonly prescribed medications for people suffering from asthma. The drug also is found in many over-the-counter medications consumers can purchase without a prescription," he said.

"ATLA STAGED an 'alert' news conference as part of its consumer protection program to make the public aware of at least 26 preventable incidents of death, seizures, brain damage and cardiac arrhythmia related to theophylline use.

Materna said thousands of documents detailing pharmaceutical industry knowledge of the hazards of theophylline-based medications are unknown to the public, medical experts, the press and even the U.S. Food and Drug Administration because of a court protective order. Bob Booyce of Ann Arbor and Sharon Scanlan-Ballios of Canton dance up a storm country style.

Country dancing extends many of its limits

Country dancing has become a cure-all for Sharon Scanlan-Ballios of Canton. Shaking off the day's woes is key to someone who juggles a full-time job as a secretary at the Westland Presbyterian Retirement Village, a part-time job at McDonalds, two teenage children and the responsibilities as the only child of an elderly mother.

"It's good exercise, a wonderful stress reliever and it's fun," said Scanlan-Ballios, 50.

A LOT of people mistakenly believe that country dancing is strictly for Southerners and cowboys, she sald. The Westside Silver Star Steppers club that meets at Lucilles every Monday night, she said, shoots holes in that theory.

The 60 club members include singles, couples, all age groups and a wide range of professions. "Everyone mixes with each other, so really the club is for anyone," she said.

A Star Steppers survey showed that all the members listed the social atmosphere as the top priority a dancing came in second place, said Jo Ann Smith, club president.

Scanlan-Ballios said she walked for exercise in the past, but found that by dancing she can exercise and socialize at the same time,

"I got divorced a couple of years ago and that's (walking) certainly not a great way to meet men," she tening, too, she added. said. "People who like country are generally down to earth and fun peo-

Her love of country music takes her on the road, too.

"Country people will go just about anywhere if they know it's a good dance, or a good instructor, or a good band," she said.

Last weekend, Scanlan-Ballios and other club members went to Toledo to take part in a dance sponsored by a club in that city. "We'll go and support dances and they'll come and support ours."

A melting of different sounds, like the blues and rock 'n roll, has helped the popularity of country music, Scanlan-Ballios suggests. And an array of performers are bringing the country sound into mainstream lis-

JERRY STEWART, owner of Lucilles said, "Country is more like the music I grew up with in the '60s." And dancers like Scanlan-Ballios are just the type of customer he likes

"Lucilles is more of a dance crowd and a dance crowd isn't rowdy," Stewart said. And that means liability and lawsuits are down, too. "I make money in numbers," he said. "I'd rather sell two orange juices than one beer." Scanlan-Ballios, who refers to herself as a city girl who started listening to country music only a few years ago, said if she misses the routine she feels the effects. "If I don't dance once a week, I'm telling you I can get out of shape,' she said. "If anyone is interested in losing weight it's wonderful."

SCANLAN-BALLIOS had been heavily involved in Latin dancing, but she doesn't have to give that up rates that, too. And now she says country dancing is the "most fun I've ever had in my whole life."

Wearing a blue jean dress, Scanlan-Ballios lights a cigarette at a table at Lucilles and could easily be mistaken for 20 years younger as she explains that she is so involved in country that she even carries a fan to keep in step with traditional country dancing.

"Men in Texas carry a fan and fan the women when they're done dancing," she explained.

On the dance floor Scanlan-Ballios and other club member last Monday, practiced line dances, two-steps, three-steps, Western polkas, Shoddish and waltz steps.

Congress finishes budget work — goes home

Deficit Reduction - By a vote of 228 for and 200 against, the House approved the conference report on budget legislation (HR 5835) almed at slowing deficit growth by about $490 billion over five years. Democrats voted 181 for and 74 against and Republicans 47 for and 126 against.

Supporters said the measure would improve but not cure America's deficit problem. For example, red ink this fiscal year is projected to top $200 billion even after the bill trims it by $40 billion.

The revenue side of HR 5835 is estimated at about $189 billion. Upper income taxpayers will supply most of the tax yield as a result of curbs on their deductions and personal exemptions. Most other Americans will be touched by higher taxes on gasoline, alcoholic beverages, cigarettes and airline tickets, an extension of the wage base for Medicare payroll taxes and other revenue measures.

Voting no from Michigan were Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods and William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Fish inspection — By a vote of 277 for and 153 against, the House adopted an amendment to prevent the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) from taking charge of a proposed federal seafood inspection program. This put the Commerce Department and Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in control of the government's first comprehensive monitoring of shellfish and finfish cleanliness.

At issue was whether the USDA's meat and poultry inspection should

The bill $$ 2924) was sent to a conference with Senate version that empowers the USDA to run fish inspection. With time running out to resolve the dispute, it appeared the bill would die with the 101st Congress.

A yes vote was for Commerce-FDA control of federal fish inspection. Voting yes from Michigan were Pursell, Hertel, William Ford, Levin and Broomfield.

Gay Rights Issue - By a vote of 186 for and 210 against, during debate on the fiscal 1991 appropriations bill (HR 5311) for the District also oversee fish. A yes vote was to enable the Big Brothers organization in D.C. to bar gay men from leadership roles. Voting yes from Michigan was Broomfield. Voting no from Michigan were Pursell, Hertel and Levin. William Ford dld not vote.

SENATE: To Curb Deficit - By a vote of 54 for and 45 against, the Senate sent to President Bush for his signature the mammoth budget reconciliation bill (HR 5835) designed to slow deficit growth by $490 billion between fiscal 1991-95 through tax hikes and spending restraints.

Majority Leader George Mitchell, D-Maine, said "every member of this Senate knows that by far the fastest growing spending programs are Social Security and Medicare. Yet not one of those senators who spoke here today in opposition to this package and made such a demand for spending cuts has stood up" to urge Medicare and Social Security cuts.

Opponent Trent Lott, R-Miss., said "only in Washington would we call this a spending decrease because we're holding down the amount of increase. It makes no sense. Let's just state it very simply, over the next said Congress is "placing unconsfive year period federal government clonable restrictions on El Salvador spending will go up probably well in excess of $200 billion in spending increases over a myriad of areas."

A yes vote supported the deficit reduction package. Voting no from Michigan were Carl Levin, D, and Donald Riegle, D.

voted 75 for and 24 against, during debate on a fiscal 1991 foreign aid bill (HR 5114), to reduce by half the Administration's request of $85 million in military aid to El Salvador.

The cut would hold unless guerrilla forces fighting the Salvadoran government take certain hostile actions. The amendment also puts conditions on the government, including a threat of further cuts if it falls to prosecute those who murdered six Jesuit priests and their housekeeper a year ago.

Sponsor Patrick Leahy, D-Vt., complained that while Congress cuts programs at home "we shuffle money by the carload down to El Salvador and get absolutely nothing in re-

Michigan were Levin and Riegle.

Aid To Egypt — By a vote of 42 Ald to Salvador - The Senate for and 55 against, the Senate rejected an amendment to keep Egypt's $6.7 billion debt to the United States on the books. Occurring during debate on HR 5114 (above), the vote sustained President Bush's plan to forgive the debt to reward Egypt forits support of the Desert Shield operation against Iraq.

> Supporter James Exon, D-Neb., said other debtor nations also would seek forgiveness. He added that writing off Egypt's debt would add $756 million to the 1991 deficit.

Opponent Mitch McConnell, R-Ky., said "we all know we have no better ally anywhere in the world than Egypt."

A yes vote opposed forgiving Egypt's debt. Voting yes from Michigan was Levin. Riegle did not vote.

Bob Booyce of Ann Arbor and Sharon Scanlan-Ballios of Canton dance up a storm country style.

Country dancing extends many of its limits

Country dancing has become a cure-all for Sharon Scanlan-Ballios of Canton.

Shaking off the day's woes is key to someone who juggles a full-time Job as a secretary at the Westland Presbyterian Retirement Village, a part-time job at McDonalds, two teenage children and the responsibilities as the only child of an elderly mother.

"It's good exercise, a wonderful stress reliever and it's fun," said Scanlan-Ballios, 50.

A LOT of people mistakenly believe that country dancing is strictly said. The Westside Silver Star generally down to earth and fun peo-Steppers club that meets at Lucilles every Monday night, she said, shoots holes in that theory.

The 60 club members include singles, couples, all age groups and a wide range of professions. "Everyone mixes with each other, so really the club is for anyone," she said.

A Star Steppers survey showed that all the members listed the social atmosphere as the top priority a dancing came in second place, said Jo Ann Smith, club president.

Scanlan-Ballios said she walked for exercise in the past, but found that by dancing she can exercise and socialize at the same time.

ago and that's (walking) certainly not a great way to meet men," she for Southerners and cowboys, she said. "People who like country are

> Her love of country music takes her on the road, too.

"Country people will go just about anywhere if they know it's a good dance, or a good instructor, or a good band," she said.

Last weekend, Scanlan-Ballios and other club members went to Toledo to take part in a dance sponsored by a club in that city. "We'll go and support dances and they'll come and support ours."

A melting of different sounds, like the blues and rock 'n roll, has helped the popularity of country music, Scanlan-Ballios suggests. And an ar-"I got divorced a couple of years ray of performers are bringing the country sound into mainstream listening, too, she added.

> JERRY STEWART, owner of Lucilles said, "Country is more like the music I grew up with in the '60s."

And dancers like Scanlan-Balllos are just the type of customer he likes best. "Lucilles is more of a dance crowd and a dance crowd isn't rowdy," Stewart said. And that means liability and lawsuits are down, too. "I make money in numbers," he said. "I'd rather sell two orange julces than one beer." Scanlan-Ballios, who refers to herself as a city girl who started listening to country music only a few years ago, said if she misses the routine she feels the effects. "If I don't dance once a week, I'm telling you I can get out of shape," she said. "If anyone is interested in

SCANLAN-BALLIOS had been heavily involved in Latin dancing, but she doesn't have to give that up

totally, because country incorporates that, too. And now she says country dancing is the "most fun I've ever had in my whole life."

Wearing a blue jean dress, Scanlan-Ballios lights a cigarette at a table at Lucilles and could easily be mistaken for 20 years younger as she explains that she is so involved in country that she even carries a fan to keep in step with traditional country dancing.

'Men in Texas carry a fan and fan the women when they're done dancing," she explained.

Roasted veggies trendy

Ventured into any trendy restaurants lately? One glance at the menu is all it takes to notice the influence the Southwest is having on our cuisine.

A few weeks back, dinner at Chimayo, Chef Brian Polcyn's new quasi-Tex-Mex spot in downtown Pontiac, turned up Chamo peppers stuffed with three cheeses. Last week, lunch at Chef Ed Janos' upscale Too Chez found another South-of-the-Border stuffed pepper sitting atop a bed of angel hair pasta.

Many of our local eateries are packing up the old steamed and sauteed vegetable routine and replacing what used to be fodder for folks without teeth, with a mixture of roasted vegetables. Grilled green onion strips, shards of carrots, slices of eggplant intermingled with an assortment of green, yellow, red, sweet, tangy, spicy and downright incendiary peppers are the latest food trend to hit the metropolitan Sure, the chefs in these kitchens have $4,000 char-grills. You can easily duplicate chargrilled conditions at home with a $1,500 Jenn Air or $3,500 Gaggenau grill, but what about the folks like you and me with a $299 Harvest Gold Tappan?

THERE ARE SOME tricks left over from my Halloween bag of goodies. For starters, anyone can use a backyard grill to duplicate trendy grilled vegetables. Gas grills are more convenient, and at a recent visit to a discount store, I found a small propane grill discounted from $30 all the way down to $13.99. Resisting the urge to upgrade the Janes Gang's debtridden Visa card, I remembered the old Farberware grill borrowed many moons ago from Momma's fruit cellar. This electric version of the in-home grill produced stunning results.

But not to be outdone with electrics, propane and barbecues, I remembered a visit with international cooking guru Julia Child a few years back and her use of a portable propane torch to singe meringue on a baked Alaska dessert. This interesting device, long relegated to a basement or garage workshop, can do wonders for blistering the skins on many of the trendy peppers and vegetables available at any good upscale produce market.

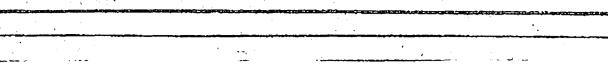

With the simple flick of a Bic lighter, any basic baked or sauteed vegetable can be brushed with a simple Italian dressing and then torched to glaze with remarkable results. Better yet, propane torches can be picked up for under $10 at any hardware or building supply shop.

Imagine what flavors can be intermingled into a basic chili by gouging a jalapeno pepper on the tip of a fork and then blistering the skin with the torch. Drop the pepper into a small bag, wrap and allow the skin to steam off, then perform a fine chop and, Voila! Instant flayor. Ditto for green peppers and their flavorful sweet counterparts, the red pepper.

YOURS TRULY likes to slice eggplant about 14-inch thick, place on a greased cookle sheet, brush lightly with a bottled Italian dressing, bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes and finish with a subtle glaze of the torch to a delicious golden patina. This will have your vegetable lovers shouting for more. The same procedure can be followed with parbolled carrot silces, plain green onlons and fresh mushrooms.

Last week, the torch was used on basic sliced tomatoes topped with chopped basil and a aprinkling of Parmesan. The possibilities for using a torch in the kitchen are endless.

If you are sick and tired of basic old humdrum veggies, find a grill or torch and get roastin.'

Christine Roperti feeds turkeys, who will soon become the center of Thanksgiving Day feasts. Roperti Turkey Farm in Livonia raises more than 4,000 turkeys each sales season.

These birds are really fresh

By Atlene Funke special writer

RE YOU LONGING to excuse the pun — gobble a fresh, julcy turkey on Thanksgiving?

At the Roperti Turkey Farm in Livonla, the birds are nourished on a diet of corn, then killed and dressed the day before being sold. The result is a turkey that is moist, tender and full of flavor. according to Christine Roperti, who runs the farm with her two grown

"Once you have one, you just can't go anywhere else," boasts Roperti, a lifelong Livonia resident who attended Ladywood High School and graduated from Bentley

Customers place their orders in advance, then come to the farm to pick up their orders. By Thanksgiving Day, some 4,000 birds will have been sold.

While some people enjoy the convenience of a frozen turkey, turkey connoisseur and cookbook author

Rick Rodgers always-prefers a fresh bird.

"The taste is full and natural, and I can do without the long defrosting ritual, which invariably leads to a loss of flavorful juices,' said Rodgers in "The Turkey Cookbook," published by HarperPeren-

ROPERTI'S TURKEY Farm is one of the last holdovers of Livonia's rural past. It sits on 51/2 acres on Five Mile Road, west of Farmington Road, surrounded by singlefamily homes.

Christine Roperti is the daughter of the late Tom and Mary Roperti, who started a dairy farm in the mid-1940s. After a few years, dairy farming became too strenuous, and Tom Roperti sold his equipment. Then a friend suggested that he "raise a few turkeys," Christine Roperti said.

"He started with 100 and sold to all his friends," she said. "Then he went to 200, then 500. Now we raise over 4,000 turkeys." Christine Roperti, a former federal meat inspector and nurse's aide, operates the farm with sons, Tony Skrabut, 23, and Tom Roperti, 21. All live in Livonia.

Each August Roperti buys sixweek-old chicks from a turkey farm in Zeeland. She fattens them on corn, wheat and outs mixed with a concentrate. The birds strut and flap their wings as they roam about the large penned yard.

As the season draws closer, Roperti switches the turkeys to an allcorn diet. She is convinced it is the corn that assures a moist, flavorful turkey. "You can get fresh turkeys at any store," Roperti said. "You have to get it at a farm where they feed corn. A large farm that feeds hundreds of thousands can't afford to feed them corn."

THE SALES season runs from early October to Dec. 23. Most of the action occurs the week before Thanksgiving when approximately 1,000 birds are processed each day.

Thanksgiving ritual prompts questions

Some 45 million whole turkeys are eaten each Thanksgiving. It seems the annual ritual of preparing the sumptuous holiday meal sparks a flurry of questions from What size turkey should I buy? Can I safely stuff the turkey the day before? How long should the bird be roasted?

"You have to take a lot of precautions," said Lois Thieleke, home economist with the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service in Thieleke often hears this question: "When I go to the store I see stuffed chickens for sale. Why can't I stuff my own turkey ahead of time and put it in the refrigera-

Thieleke points out that storemade stuffing is almost exclusively bread. Homemade stuffing may include eggs, broth, chopped vegetables, oysters or sausage. The addition of those ingredients increases the potential for bacteria in the uncooked product.

"The more stuff you add, then you have a potential for a dangerous thing," Thieleke said.

Ingesting contaminated food can result in nausea, vomiting, abdominal cramps and diarrhea.

AMONG OUR favorites at Lorraine's are the chicken coated with ground pecans that is sauteed and served with a mustard sauce ($7.95 at lunch and $10.95 at dinner) and the wildly exciting Jamaican strip steak seasoned with hot — and we do mean hot — Carribean spices and then broiled ($11.95 at lunch and $13.95 at dinner). 35 cup freshly grated Parmesan cheese

1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper 3 cups coarsely chopped cooked turkey (about 1 pound) Parmesan cheese. Preheat oven to

In a large saucepan of boiling salted water, cook pasta until tender but still firm, 10 to 12 minutes. Drain pasta well, rinse under cold water and set aside. In a large skillet melt 4 tablespoons butter. Add shallot and cook over moderate heat until shallot is softened, about 1 minute. Add mushrooms and cook, stirring often, until mushrooms begin to brown, about 5 minutes, Sprinkle on the flour and cook, stirring, for 1 minute. Stir in milk, sherry, salt and pepper. Bring to simmer. Reduce heat to low and cook until thickened, about 3 minutes. Remove sauce from heat and stir in 1/3 cup of the quart baking dish, combine the cooked pasta and half of the sauce. Stir the turkey into the remaining sauce and pour over the pasta. Sprinkle the top of the pasta with the bread crumbs and the remaining 1/3 cup Parmesan. Dot the top with the remaining 1 tablespoon butter, cut into tiny pieces. Bake until the top is golden brown and crusty, about 20 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Wayne County Cooperative Extension Service home economist Christine Venema is available to answer questions from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Thursdays. Call 494-3013.

Storing food at improper temperatures is the most common food safety mistake, enabling bacteria to multiply and cause food-borne illnesses, according to pamphlets issued by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Food Safety and Inspection Service.

The Agriculture Department operates a meat and poultry hot line whose operators typically speak with more than 8,000 callers during the month of November, said Susan Templin, home economist and hot line manager.

"We get the whole gamut of questions," Templin said. "People are generally cooking for a large group of people. People are more prone to making handling mistakes."

Templin advises consumers to wash their hands frequently when preparing food. Chopping boards and utensils used with raw meat products should never be used with cooked food. Wash thoroughly afterward.

POULTRY SHOULD BE cooked to an internal temperature of 180 to 185 degrees, according to Templin. If you're not using a meat thermometer cook until julces run clear.

During November the toll-free hot line operates between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. weekdays. The hot line also will be open this weekend. On Thanksgiving Day six operators will be on duty from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

"We are very busy on Thanksgiving," Templin said.

I find it interesting to note how often people become defined by a particular skill or talent they have.

For example, when I think of Joe Namath, football immediately comes to mind, and when Martha Stewart's name is mentioned, I associate her with entertaining.

If the friends, neighbors and relatives of this week's Winner Dinner Winner were asked to associate her with something, they would surely be unanimous in their choice cookles!

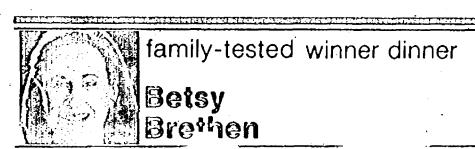

Mary Ann Saint, a.k.a. the prizewinning "Cookie Lady," is a widow living in the Bradbury adult community complex in Plymouth. The mother of eight children and grandmother of nine, Saint loves to cook and bake and has more than 500 cookbooks. Although cookies are her specialty, she loves to entertain friends for dinner and recently submitted one of her favorite menus to this column. Featuring turkey meat loaves, a cranberry sweet potato casserole, cabbage salad and prizewinning macaroons, this dinner is as colorful as it is delicious.

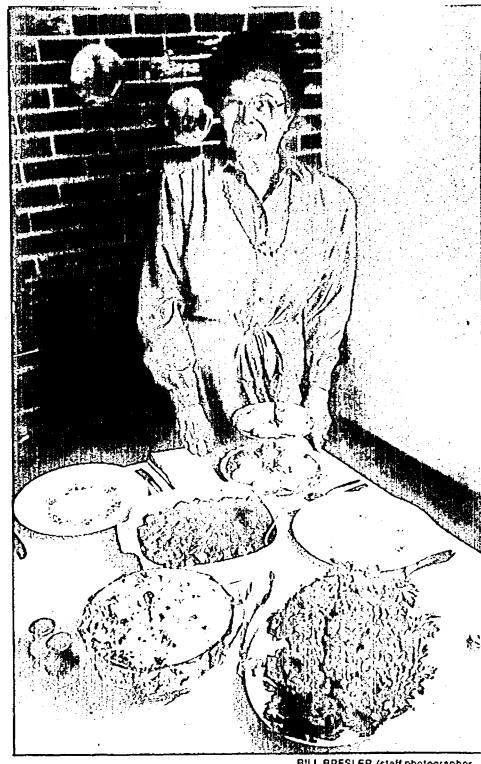

SAINT FIRST started entering her cookies in the Michigan State Fair 11 years ago. Since then, she has won numerous awards, blue ribbons and even a $300 shopping spree. Her latest honor was a U.S. Savings Bond and certificate from the Archway Cookie Co., citing her, for recelving the highest number of points of all the contestants who participated in the cookie division at the 1990 Michigan State Fair. Incredibly enough, this is the third time she has won that award.

Needless to say, Saint does do quite a lot of baking but is also involved in other things as well. She has been on the board of directors at Bradbury for three years where they offer many planned activities for the residents. She is also on the board of directors for the Woman's Club of Plymouth which is preparing to celebrate its 98th anniversary.

With the holiday season approaching, Saint is looking forward to hosting her yearly cookie exchange party for the members of her bridge club. She recently went on a cruise, and after spending many years of her life raising children is really enjoying herself and having lots of fun.

Thank you, Mary Ann Saint, for sending in your prize-winning-menuand congratulations on being this week's Winner Dinner Winner. Wish-

MUFFIN-PAN TURKEY MEAT LOAVES

Because they are made with turkey, these meat loaves have reduced amounts of fat and calories. Quick and easy to mix up, any left-over muffin-pan meat loaves can be frozen after baking and stored away for another dinner.

11/2 pounds ground turkey 1 cup quick cooking oatmeal 1/4 cup chopped onlon 1/4 cup chopped green pepper

1 teaspoon prepared mustard 1/2 teaspoon garlic salt 1 can tomato sauce, divided, 8ounce size

Combine the turkey, oatmeal, onion, green pepper, mustard and salt. Add 1/2 can of the tomato sauce and mix well. Press mixture into lightly greased mulfin tins. Brush remaining tomato sauce on tops of each. Bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before removing from the pan. Serves 4.

CRANBERRY SWEET POTATO CASSEROLE

This colorful dish is sure to become an autumnal favorite.

- 1 large can sweet potatoes, drained, 1-pound, 13-ounce
- 1 can whole cranberry sauce, 15-ounce size
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar 1/4 cup butter or margarine 1/4 teaspoon salt

Cut potatoes in ½ inch slices. Combine remaining ingredients in a saucepan, and heat until boiling, stirring often. Place half of the potato slices in a 11/2 quart greased shallow casserole. Pour half of the cranberry mixture over the potato slices. Arrange the rest of the potatoes over the top of the sauce and add remaining cranberry mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes, until hot and bubbly. Serves 4 to

EASY

- AUTUMN CABBAGE SALAD 1/2 package prepared fresh cabbage salad mix (shredded cabbage and carrots)
- 1 cup chopped celery 1 large unpeeled red apple, diced
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup mayonnalse 3 tablespoons red wine and vinegar dressing
- Combine the cabbage mix, celery, apple and raisins. Mix the mayonnaise and the dressing together and stir into the salad.

FRUIT SHERBET AND PRIZE-WINNING MACAROONS

Mary Ann Saint won a blue ribbon at the 1980 Michigan State Fair for the following recipe for macaroons.

- 3 egg whites
- 1 cup sugar 3 cups flaked coconut, finely shredded
- 2 tablespoons corn starch 1 teaspoon almond flavoring

Beat the egg whites until they are stiff but not dry with an electric mixer. Gradually beat in the sugar. Fold in the coconut which has been premixed in a separate bowl with the cornstarch. Cook, stirring often, in a double boiler over hot water for 15 minutes. Be sure to never let the water in the lower pan touch the underside of the upper pan. Remove the top pan from the heat and add the almond flavoring.

The cooking process causes the batter to thicken up so it will hold its shape when it is dropped from a teaspoon onto greased cookie sheets, 1 inch apart. Bake in a pre-heated 300 degree oven for 20-25 minutes until the cookies turn a very delicate shade of brown. Makes about 21/2 dozen cookies.

The following recipe is from the chapter on Thanksgiving in "Vegetarian Celebrations" (Menus for Holidays and Other Festive Occasions) by Nava Atlas (Little, Brown and Co., 1990, $14.95 softcover).

CORN, SQUASH AND RICE LOAVES

Makes 6 to 8 servings This delicious main dish is a tribute to three abundant American сгорз.

3 34 cups water 1 1/2 cups raw brown rice 1/4 cop margarine 2 cups finely chopped onion 4 eggs, beaten

1/2 cup buttermllk or soymilk 2 1/2 cups grated sharp Cheddar cheese or Cheddar-style soy

1 1/2 cups cooked corn kernels 14 cup chopped fresh parsley

2 cups grated zucchini 2 cups grated yellow squash 4 scallions, chopped broccoli pieces and florets, steamed crisp-tender and mix well. Add salt and pepper to

In the same skillet, combine the grated squashes with just enough water to keep the bottom of the skillet moist. Cover and steam until wilted, about 5 minutes. Stir in the scallions.

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees. Oil two 9-by-5-by-3-inch loaf pans, preferably glass. Assemble as follows: Transfer about one-fourth of the rice mixture to each of the loaf pans and pat in. Divide the steamed squash evenly between the two loaf pans and pat in over the rice mixture. Top each with the remaining rice mixture. Sprinkle the tops with bread crumbs.

Bake for 60 minutes, or until the top and edges are golden and crusty. In the meantime, if using Brussels sprouts, trim them and cut an X into the base. Cook in 2 inches or so of water in a large, covered saucepan until tender but not overdone, stirring occasionally. If using broccoli, steam until bright green and crisptender. Drain and toss the vegetable with the margarine.

Once the loaves are done, cool for 10 minutes before slicing loaves into 8 or 10 slices each, allowing for 2 slices per guest.

France's Beaujolais Nouveau is almost here

Beaujolais Nouveau is released for sale in France the third Thursday in November. It is always the first wine to be consumed following the fall harvest.

Some say it is barely wine, but in . France there is always great celebration upon its release and the excitement has spread to the United

This year, the Beaujolais Nouveau release date is Nov. 15. At midnight in Paris, bistros, brasseries and restaurants along the Champs Elysees are crowded with patrons anxious to be among the first to taste the "nouveau" Beaulolais. Yellow and orange stickers in the windows announce, "Le Beaujolais Nouveau est arrive."

-Several local distributors will be at Detroit Metropolitan Airport to receive their air-freighted shipments. These same people will then work long hours to ensure that the local wine shops have their share of nouveau wine.

The price of Beaufolais Nouveau will be more expensive this year, according to Ed Jonna, owner of the Merchant of Vino in Birmingham. "French Nouveau will cost from $7.50 to $9. However California nouveau wines will be about $5.$6 per bottle," he sald. "Even the French realize the problem and are producing a less expensive Vin Nouveau, but it won't say Beaujolais on the bottle." Discussions with local distributors lead us to believe that air-freighted Beaujolais Nouveau may cost as much as $11 per bottle.

. WINES SHIPPED by sea, available a week to 10 days later, will cost less than $10.

The Merchant of Vino will be open until midnight Wednesday to welcome the nouveau wines from France and California. "All stores in Birmingham will be open until 9 p.m.," Jonna sald. "Customers can enter a drawing to win a trip for two to France. We will also feature a 30WINE SELECTION OF THE WEEK

The readily available 1989 Beaufolals-Villages or cru Beaujolais wines represent good values. The 1989 Georges Duboeuf Beaufolais-Villages, Chateau de la Grande Grange ($9,75) is especially balanced and flavorful. and slightly chilled so that all its grapey character can be enjoyed. Its quality is an indication of the greatness of the Beaujolais harvest that year. It previews the more elegant Beaufolais from that vinatage to be released in the spring.

The Beaujolais wine region is the most southern portion of Burgundy. Today, 6,000 estates and 200 shippers sell 100,000,000 bottles of this wine. Twenty years ago, Beaujolais was not considered a serious wine in America and the hype of Beaujolais Nouveau was considered a Parislan fad until the late 1970s.

Unlike Burgundy, which produces its red wines from the pinot noir variety, Beaujolais wines are principally the product of the gamay grape. A modification of the carbonic maceration technique is used for fermentation. With this method, the Proceedings of a process of the proc

'Vegetarian Celebrations' is her most efficient book

By Shirico Roso Iden staff writer

Nava Atlas left home for the Big Apple, with a degree from Universily of Michigan, and determination to succeed in the art field.

In time she worked in advertising, designed book jackets, book interiors, and decided she ought to tackle the whole package for herself.

. Her talent and tenacity has since led to publication of three vegetarian cookbooks. Now, she has pubbrations," which coincided with her most important production of all.

"This was a special book for me," she said, explaining that most of the book was done while she carried Adam, first offspring of Atlas and her husband, Chaim Tabak, also a fine artist. "I did this book very efficlently because I had to finish by Adam's birth," she said.

"I SHIPPEDthe manuscript off one day and the next night my water broke."

With her manuscript complete, and Adam born, Atlas went to work on the design and illustration of "Celebrations" which fortunately was the time Adam slept a lot. Now having passed his first birthday, he needs to be chased around." For other reasons "Vegetarian Celebrations" is special for Atlas, a vegetarian since age 16.

"Holidays are always a problem for vegetarians and their guests, so invention has to continue as the mother of necessity," she said. "Families may want to include their vegetarian members in the fullest."

Nava Atlas' newest cookbook coincided with baby's birth

"Holidays and other special occasions give us a chance to gather with loved ones, reflect on our heritage, celebrate the seasons, enjoy a respite from everyday routines and simply rejoice," said the author.

"And it's hard to think of any celebration in which food isn't central to the festivities."

Atlas wrote this book for the mother troubled over how to plan a Passover Seder for her new vegetarlan stepdaughter, for hosts accommodating vegetarian guests at an overwhelmingly traditional Thanksgiving, and for other similar

CALLED UPON to lecture and lead workshops as well as write, Atlas found many semi-vegetarians, and dietary-restricted persons responding. This led her to address the problems of lactose-free diets, low cholesterol and others in her book.

"Vegetarian Celebrations" starts out with the New Year, presenting menus for a curry feast, Japanese New Year and a Southwestern Brunch for New Year's Day.

"The reason I did it in menu style was to benefit busy people and help them organize their time," she said.

Each of her 13 chapters has at least three holiday menus, including a Vegan Valentine, a Sephardic Seder, Irish Classics for St. Patrick's Day, a fruitful Mother or Father's Day breakfast, vegetarian barbecue, a family Thanksgiving, Christmas Eve in Southern Italy, Middle Eastern buffet, and substitute main dishes for Thanksglving Dinner.

Atlas, who said sales are satisfactory so far, hopes "that this will be more of a breakthrough book with its mainstream feeling.'

"This is probably the most indepth book on holiday entertaining for vegetarians and persons who must be milk and/or egg free."

Atlas' other books are "Vegetariana," "American Harvest" and "The Wholefood Catalog."

Atlas says her next one will combine her writing and design, but the subject is not decided.

"My schedule is not a full one yet, but about 20-24 hours a week. Adam has changed our lives in every positive way and that changes the priori-

How to-select safe, fresh fish

AP — Here are some tips to help make sure the fish you buy is cafe and fresh:

• Buy from a reputable, popular dealer to be assured of good turnover of stock.

• Buy fish that is well-chilled, on ice at about 33 degrees.

• The eyes of whole fish should be bulging and bright and shiny, not

• Skin should be moist, scales shiny. Gills should be red or pink.

• The flesh should be firm to the touch. Filets should be firm and glis-

• Fish that smells "fishy" probably has gone bad. Fresh fish smells

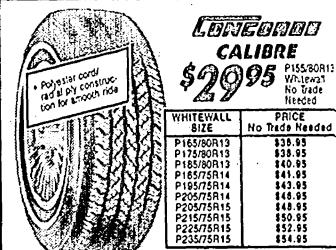

• Eat the fish within 24 hours. Do not freeze fish unless you are absolutely certain it has not been previously frozen. • Shellfish should be alive and lively.

In her new book, "Fish: The Basles," Shirley King suggests shoppers go to the market willing to huy whatever fish is freshest. "The depressing fact is that most of our fish reach us after many days out of water, but if fish are properly handled they can still be excellent," she writes.

The Hometown and Observer and Eccentric "Creative Living" section has the largest selection of suburban display real estate ads in the metro area.

Here's how it works: First, you must have a touch-tone telephone.

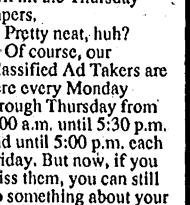

Then, all you do is call us—remember, it doesn't make any difference if we're not here—to place an ad, cancel one or change something on one you've placed carlier.

Let's say it's eight o'clock at night and you've just realized that the cupid on the clock you're selling plays a tin whistle. It's a good selling point, so you punch up our classified number and wait for the operator to guide you through the steps for changing your ad. Have in mind the exact information you want to give us, speak clearly and a bit slower than you usually do. And that's it.

If it's after 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, your changes will be made for the next Monday paper. Or, if it's after 5:00 p.m. on a Friday or the weekend, your changes will hit the Thursday papers,

Of course, our Classified Ad Takers are here every Monday through Thursday from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and until 5:00 p.m. each Friday. But now, if you miss them, you can still do something about your ad-at your convenience.

CC outduels Chiefs in AA regional final

BILL BRESLER/staff photographer

Jon Barbara rushed for 70 yards and scored The Shamrocks will meet Saginaw in the Class two touchdowns Saturday in Catholic Central's AA semifinats Saturday. 35-22 playoff victory over Plymouth Canton.

By Dan O'Moara

staff writer

Redford Catholic Central coach Tom Mach offered a concise summation of his football team's 35-22 playoff victory over Plymouth Can-

"Our best defense was our offense," said Mach after the Shamrocks won a Class AA regional championship Saturday at Pontiac Wisner Stadium.

It's not often CC gets caught up in a shootout, but its run-over-them, ball-control offense was more than a match for the Canton defense.

The Shamrocks controlled the clock long enough - and with results - to keep Canton and its potent offense at a disadvantage in a game that saw each team allow a season-high number of points.

"When we got the ball we did something with it," Mach said. "With that (Canton) offense and what they can do with it, that's what we had to

"We did a job when we had to do it. We didn't give their offense too many chances to be on the field. It was really key that our kids came out and played hard-nosed football."

The Shamrocks (9-2) will play Saginaw in the semifinals Saturday at a site that was to be determined Sunday. Canton finishes 9-2.

THE TOTAL yardage was virtually even - CC had 289 yards, the Chiefs 278 - but the Shamrocks' awesome ground attack was the difference in the game.

CC rushed for 245 yards with tailback Arshon Stewart getting 164 yards and a touchdown on 31 carries. Bruising fullback Jon Barbara added 70 yards and scored two TDs on 11 rushes.

"Our offense wanted to control the football and keep it out of (Canton quarterback Karl) Wukie's hands," Barbara sald. "I thought we did a good job of that."

When the Chiefs had the ball, they were effective for the most part, and Wukie was largely responsible for

He passed for all three Canton touchdowns, completing 13 of 21 passes for 107 yards, and he also rushed for 102 yards on 11 carries, often taking the CC defense-bysurprise with his scrambling.

"Wukie is the best quarterback we've faced all season," CC defensive coordinator Rich Coratti said. "Our defense was hoping the offense could control the ball and keep it out of his hands."

"Wukie is a good quarterback; we knew that," CC defensive end Brian

Chaney said. "A lot of times our secondary was getting caught downfield when he was scrambling and he got good yardage."

CANTON COACH Bob Khoenle's biggest pre-game concern was the match up between his defense and the CC offense, which had a 40pounds-per-man advantage in the line. But the Shamrocks were unstoppable on the ground, and that worry became reality.

around end, and Kerry Zavagnin's extra-point kick gave CC a 14-7 halftime lead. The Chiefs held CC late in the half, and Zavagnin's 41-yard field goal attempt was wide.

Canton had started a drive with the second-half kick, but Wukie was sacked and Dan Gusoff recovered the ensuing fumble for the Shamrocks. CC converted with Barbara running over three defensive backs and bulling into the end zone from 11 yards out.

"Arshon Stewart had a great game, and Jon Barbara had a fantastic run on the third TD," Mach said. "That was real key, to put points on the board at that time."

The Chiefs rallied again, however. A clipping penalty nullified Wukie's 32-yard scoring run, but Canton eventually got the points with his 5yard pass to Brett Howell, who caught eight passes for 62 yards.

"Our turnover hurt us psychologically," Khoenle said, "but we got the ball again and made it 21-14 with eight minutes to go. I really think if we had held them and gotten the ball we could have scored again.

"Of course, that's all speculation. But because of what we were doing and how we were doing it, I think we could have done it."

Instead, CC responded once more to Canton's challenge. Barbara's second TD run made it 28-14 with 3:54 remaining.

THE CHIEFS threw incomplete passes on four consecutive downs "I knew they were going to do this to us," Khoenle said. "I was going 14 with 3:16 to play. The Shamrocks down to Massillon (Ohio) and get six scored in three plays, Jeff Tibaldi getting the TD on a 1-yard carry. "I never thought the game was over, even when we had 35 points," Mach said. "Throughout the game, until the end, I felt we had to keep moving on the ground and keep their offense off the field.

"What we did to stop them didn't work as well as we thought, but credit goes to their offense and the quarterback. The way he handles things, anybody would have a hard time controlling him."

Churchill runner-up in Class A soccer

By Larry O'Connor staff writer.

So, Mark Mason, this is state championship soccer. Fun, isn't it? Well, it was at least until Warren DeLaSalle scored two second-half goals Saturday. That was all the Pilots (24-1) needed to beat Livonia Churchill, 2-0, in the final match at Bloomfield Hills Andover and capture the Class A championship. DeLaSalle midfielder Craig Abraham hammered in the first goal only 54 seconds into the second half. Forward Brian Fulton scored the Pilots' second tally with six minutes left to seal the victory. John Kolakowski picked up the shutout.

The loss ended the Chargers' state playoff odyssey and left the team's first-year coach a bit dazed after-

Instead, Churchill grew frustrated. Gentile and junior midfielder Kurt Besecker both received red cards and exits from the game. The Chargers played the final five minutes with only nine players to De-LaSalle's 10.

With 6:34 left, a clearing pass bounced off a Pilot player and fell in front of Fulton, who broke in alone and pushed the ball past Cassar.

DeLaSalle was awarded a penalty kick with 5:02 left after Brian Maisonneuve was brought down in the 18-yard box. Besecker received a red card on the play.

Fratarcangell sent a hard, low shot to the right corner, but Cassar deflected the spot kick away.

"We didn't play very pretty soccer today," DeLaSalle coach Thaier Mukhtar sald. "But we played one of the best teams in the state. This is the way a final should be.

"When you play a good team like Churchill, you're always worried about them coming back."

DELASALLE LOST its first game of the season to Kalamazoo Central. 1-0 and then reeled off 24 consecutive wins to capture the Class A championship.

Churchill also only had one loss? coming into the final, a 2-0 setback to Plymouth Salem. The Chargers also tied with Salem and Livonia Stevenson.

All of which made for a perfect match-up in the championship game.

WLAA: Raiders

North Farmington wins league meet

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Let's see now. According to coach Pat Duthie, North Farmington doesn't have to win another league champlonship in girls swimming for at least 36 years.

The rest of the Western Lakes Activities Association will be happy to hear that after the Raiders won their second straight title and third in the last four years Friday.

North has become the dominant power in a league where stiff competition each season makes it difficult for teams to establish an impressive record like the Raiders have.

"It's hard to have a dynasty in this league," Duthie said. "If you win one, that's 12 years worth. This league is so tough.

When you win it, you've really done something. We have five great swim teams in this league and others that are coming along. You're also up against great coaches."

ONE OF those coaches and teams was Salem's Chuck Olson and the host Rocks, who were runners-up. North compiled 506 points, Salem 45934. First-division finishers included Northville (4011/2), Livonia Stevenson (386), three-event winner Plymouth Canton (373) and Farmington Hills Harrison (222).

The Ralders entered Friday's finals as the favorite, but Salem wasn't merely concerned about chasing North.

Opponents," said Olson, emphasizing the plural. "There were a lot of good teams out there. We felt we had enough depth, certainly enough swimmers, that we ought to be able to swim well here.

"When (Duthle) has one of the top teams in the state, he ought to win this. He's got some good kids over there. We were hoping he'd leave some of them home, but they swam real well tonight."

One who did was North senior Kerry Doran, who won the 200-yard individual medley (2:12.52) and the butterfly (1:00.17) and helped the Raiders win two of three relay events.

North started by defending its title in the 200 medley relay with Julianne Markey, Anna Palmer, Doran and Jennifer Wagner comprising this year's foursome (1:53.59). All but Doran were on the relay team a year

THE RAIDERS closed the meet by repeating in the 400 freestyle relay (3:44.10), also. Karrie Kranz and Doran, holdover members from the 1989 league-meet team, were joined by Sherri Richardson and Markey.

"Having us win my last meet is a special event," Doran said. "The team had a great meet. Everything went as planned - even better than planned.

"It's scary to think it's all over and also sad knowing I'll never swim with most of these girls again."

Even more impressive is the fact Doran, who is pointing for the Class A meet Saturday in East Lansing, wasn't tapered for the league meet.

"Two individual wins and two relay wins - can't do any better as far as I'm concerned," Duthie said. "She was the key in the medley relay. Nobody wins a relay by themselves, but she was key there."

_Kranz also had two solo wins in the 200 and 100 freestyles (1:59.82 and 55.76), and Markey won the backstroke (1:01.73).

Markey, in addition, was second in the 100 freestyle, losing to Kranz by one hundredth of a second. Palmer and Carrie Worthen also finished in the top six in two individual events, Richardson one.

DUTIME ALSO cited the contributions of swimmers Shannon O'Brien, Amy Duthle and Colleen Harrison as well as freshman divers Mandy Terrell and Elyse Turner.

"We had some phenomenal swims from every kid who swam," Duthie said. "I can't think of an event where anybody went slower than Wednesday, and we had a heckuva day Wednesday.

"I know Chuck's kids are going to swim fast. We felt our best kids were better, but there weren't many events that had less than four Salem kids. We had kids swimming fast tonight and dropping back. That's the kind of meet it is."

The loss of five seniors (Doran, Markey, Anne Schwartzberg, Duthie and Wanger) could open the door for another team next year.

"In four seasons with these seniors, we've won 37 duals and lost two," Duthie said. "I'll miss them all. I don't care how good they are. You get real attached to kids in four

"I'm sorry to see them go, but that's the nature of education. It's time to move on and make way forother kids. It's more than just athletics here."

Livonia Churchill just missed a first-division finish, ending up sixth with 158 points, without Ellen Lessig, who was ill and unable to compete. She was the defending champion and record holder in the 50 and 100 freestyles.

CANTON'S JENI Cooper won the 50 freestyle (25.40) and helped the Chiefs capture the 200 freestyle relay. Being a new event, Canton's time of 1:43.94 goes as a league record - the only one this year, Chris Lang, April Billins and Janet Roberts joined Cooper on the relay.

In other events, Churchill's Tara Ditchkoff won the 500 freestyle in 5:21.33 and Stevenson's Jennifer Knapp the breast stroke in 1:10.07.

What was it Teeters came up with? Was it something only he might have noticed, a flaw only a trained eye could spot?

Well, not really. What Teeters saw was that the Lady Ocelots would be able to do just about anything they wanted and overpower the Indians. - And that set up the rematch with for-Tom Teeters to decipher Lake SC - which was really no match at all. Making Lake Michigan's task more difficult was the loss of hitter Jenny Knutel to a sprained ankle on the first day of the tournament. But even with her, the outcome would not have changed much.

"That was probably the best match we've played," said Indian cocoach Mary Fowler, whose team finished the season at 40-17 overall. Their best chance for a win, she said, was to "serve 'em tough. I knew that was the only chance we had."

AS IT turned out, that was no chance at all. SC's left side attack was more than Lake Michigan could handle. "That's where we have our weakest blocker, on the right (SC's left) side," said Fowler. Weren't there any adjustments the Indians could have made? "Not really."

The only attacks that worked at all for Lake Michigan were dink kills in the middle of the court. And there was no way those would work for

"We weren't going to overshift to cover it," said Teeters. "If they were going to beat us, they were going to have to hit through us.

Lake Michigan couldn't.

SC, which improved to 40-3 overall (20-1 vs. NJCAA opponents), landed four players on the 12-member All-Region 12 team, with setter Jennifer Sproul (from Livonia Churchili) earning Most Valuable Player honors. Others Lady Ocelots on the team were Domanski, Oparka and Angellette Love.

Bowlers gobble up prizes

TTS TURKEY TIME again in the bowling lanes.

A turkey usually refers to three strikes in a row, but at this time If the year we discover that many of the eagues are offering the traditional thanksgiving turkey as a prize for those nembers with the high games or the ilgh-over average. This occasion always idds a little something extra on the bowlng scene as some lucky players can look forward to taking this special prize.

In many of the houses, the turkeys are provided by the establishment as part of he yearly contract. This varies between the many houses and the individual leagues.

There are a few other bowling centers that are using a "Turkey Shoot" promotion in which the entrant pays $1 to participate during regular league play. The object is to throw a strike in the third, sixth and ninth frames. If accomplished, a turkey is awarded to that bowler.

The "Turkey Shoot" promotion is being held during the week prior to Thanksgiving for regular bowlers at Bel Aire Lanes (Farmington), Mayflower Lanes (Redford Township) and Woodland Lanes (Livonia).

Winning turkeys has been a long time bowling tradition, so good luck to the league bowlers and bring home the bacon . . the turkey, that is. • What's a guy to do if he walks into a bowling center and is approached by two beautiful young ladies who want to take his picture? This occurred at Merri Bowl in Livonia Wednesday night as the Miller Genuine Draft "Cold Patrol" girls were on the scene.

The girls were raising money on behalf of the United Cerebral Palsy organization, and anyone could have their picture taken with them for a $5 donation to the charity. The "Cold Patrol" is making the rounds at many of the area's bowling establishments, so gentlemen, have your donation ready for a worthy cause.

• You can pick up your complimentary copy of the "Bowlers Digest" on the counter at most bowling centers.

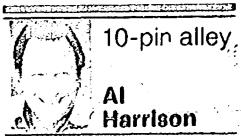

The current issue has on the cover an entry blank to bowl with Amleto Monacelli. To enter, complete the form and return it by Nov. 15. Monacelli will be on hand for the Pro Bowlers Tour at Taylor Lanes on Nov. 25.

• The Budwelser $150,000 Touring Players Championship will be at Taylor Lanes from Nov. 26 through Dec. 1, the date of the televised finals. Entrants in the Pro-Am event receive a free Brunswick "Rhino Ball."

This week's bowling tip is offered by Tim "Lefty" Smith, of the Miller Lite Classic League.

"When you're having trouble on the lanes, don't panic, try to relax a little," Lefty says. "Don't squeeze the ball so hard. Try to start fresh later in the game and never give in.'

• The "Action Arnies" weekly marathon matchgame tournament is now under way. This is strictly a "scratch" event - no handicapping and no PBA touring I or II pros are eligible. It takes place Tuesday nights from 9:30 p.m. until 2:30 a.m. at Redford Lanes on Grand River and Beech Daly in Redford Township:

This is an ideal tournament for those bowlers who don't want to compete against against someone getting a blg handicap. What you win is what you bowl. The only thing that counts is perform-

Franklin bounced y Rocks in finals

By Brad Emons staff-writer-

No sweat?

The perspiration was still beading down Fred Thomann's forehead following Saturday night's Western Lakes Activities Association girls basketball final at Northville High.

His Plymouth Salem Rocks took control of things in the second half and then held off a late desperation rally by Livonia Franklin to win their fourth WLAA crown in six years, 49-46.

"For us to step out and get 49 points against a team as talented as Iranklin is a good performance for us," said Thomann, whose team finished the regular season at 17-3 overall. "But I didn't know if that was going to be enough against a team like that."

It was more than enough, but the win didn't come without some anxlous moments.

Franklin trailed by as many as 14 points late in the third quarter, but began to chip away in the final period with some full-court pressure.

Junior guard Dawn Warner, who led all scorers with 18 points, fired in a three-pointer with 31 seconds left to cut the deficit to 49-44. (She later fouled out.)

SALEM, meanwhile, couldn't quite seal the final outcome, missing six straight free throws in the final 48 seconds. (The Rocks hit only 15 of 30 for the game.)

Franklin's Tracy Parenti then converted two free throws with six seconds remaining to pull Franklin within three.

The Patriots got the ball back after another missed Salem foul shot with three seconds to go, but Patty Shea's desperation heave from nearly three-quarters court failed to hit the backboard as time expired.

It wasn't really a Salem escape, however, because the Rocks lived up to their No. 1 seeding going into the WLAA playoffs. (Franklin was seeded No. 3 in the eight-team bracket.)

"In the second and third quarters our inside players did a great job of ntrolling the basketball game, said Thomann. "And Emily Guiliani did a nice job inside and good job finishing the plays. She had a great first and second quarter. She also caught the ball nice.

The Rocks used a balanced attack, getting a team-high 14 points from sixth woman Giuliani, the 6-foot junlor, and 12 from Betsy McAllister.

Sophomore forward Yolanda Jackson, who gave Franklin fits on the boards before fouling out with 3:14 left in the game, contributed 10, while senior forward Sarah Ruete added nine.

"THAT'S BEEN THE story of our team all year long," Thomann said.
"They all did a nice job."

Point-guard Christy Parmucha scored only three points, but was a steadying influence for the Rocks.

"That's as good a floor game as she's played this year," said the Salem coach. "In the second half she played with good court recognition."

Salem trailed 15-10 after one quarter, but the Rocks' match-up zone defense began to take its toll on the Patriots in the second and third

The Rocks enjoyed a 28-26 halftime lead after a basket by Guiliani and a free throw by Ruete, each coming with one second left.

The third quarter was all Rocks, as they outscored Franklin 17-5 to take a commanding 45-32 advan-

Franklin's Julianne Steslak, who chipped in with 10 points, had the Patriots' only one field goal in the third quarter. Franklin shot a dismal 10 percent during the stretch.

"It-was a combination of us going dead in the third period and our offensive rebounding," said Franklin coach Dan Freeman. "We got killed on the offensive boards. We had only five the whole game.

"(AGAINST THE ZONE) we were not moving. You can't stand and beat a zone, you've got to send cutters through. I was not pleased with the third quarter at all, although we came back nicely in the fourth quarter. But you can't afford to have a quarter like that against a team like Salem and expect to win."

Freeman said a lot of the "goes to Salem's defense."

fensively from the last time we cause.

played them (a 52-46 overtime loss) and it took us awhile to adjust to their adjustments," he said.

Salem was able to keep Warner, who was coming off 40- and 29-point efforts in two previous playoff game, from going on another scoring binge.

"Dawn had come in on a roll and we had to tilt our defense toward her," explained Thomann. "But sometimes that puts your defense in a bind."

"Even with Dawn scoring 18, they (Salem) took her out of the game," said the Franklin coach. "They did a good job of doing what they had to do

The season, however, is not finished for Franklin or Salem.

Both teams are favored to win their respective districts tournaments, which open all around the state tonight.

THIRD PLACE: Sophomore center Stephanie Gray tailled eight 12 points to lead Plymouth Canton (13-7) to a 38-30 triumph over the host Mustangs (12-7) In the consolation final.

Three Mustangs scored eight points apiece: Kate Holstein, Laura Apligian and Stacey Nyland.

FIFTH PLACE: Holly Miller tallied a game-high 17 points and teammate Dawn Godfrey contributed 11 as Walled Lake Western (9-11) edged Livonia Stevenson (12-8) by a 46-44 count.

The Spartans, plagued by poor free throw shooting (six of 14), got six points from Lori Shingledecker.

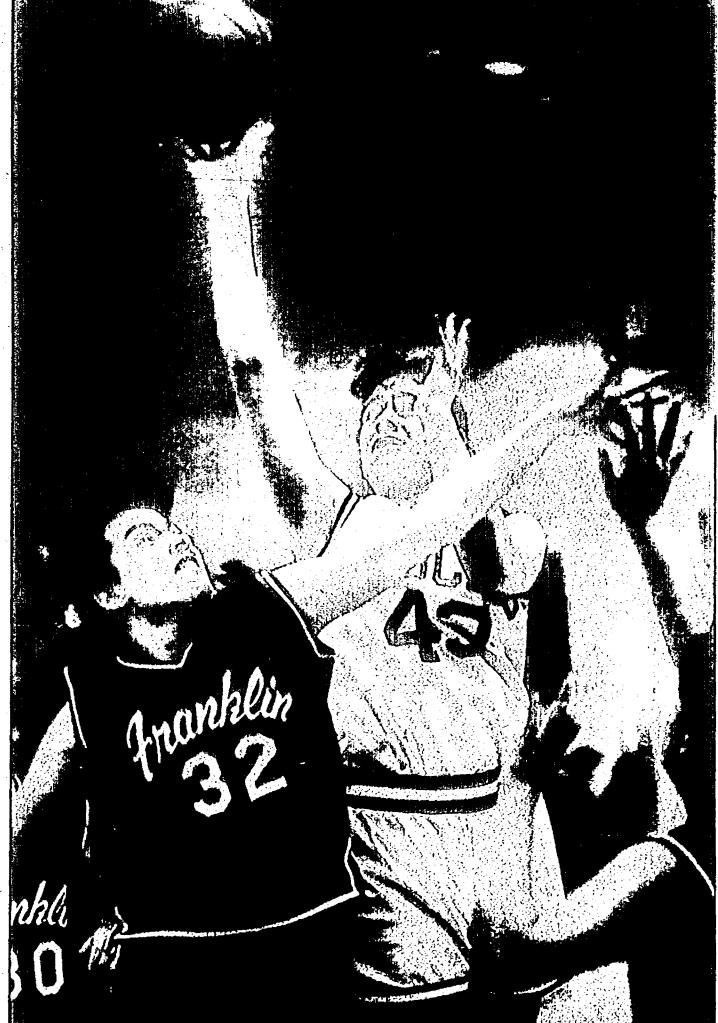

SEVENTH PLACE: Karyn Koslowski led a balanced attack as Walled Lake Central (11-9) held off North Farmington (8-12) by a six-point margin, 58-52. Jenny Czach (13), Cindy Muha (11)

Wayne wins finale

In a see-saw game Thursday, Wayne Memorial finished it regular spason with a 48-43 girls basketball win over visiting Monroe.

Two free throws by Stacle Figurski with five seconds put the game out of reach. The host Zebras ended the regular season at 6-12 overall and 5-9 in the Wolverine A Confer-

"We led most of the way but they came back well, but not strong enough," said Wayne coach Sally Burger. "They beat us earlier in the year at their place (35-32). This game was the same type."

The Trojans led by one with 7:25 remaining, but Wayne took over and built a 10-point cushion in the final quarter, only to have Monroe battle black, closing the margin to three, but could get no closer. Wayne senior guards Michelle Ernst and Lotten Holmgren scored 17 and 10 points, respectively.

Monroe finished the regular season at 7-13 overall and 6-8 in the league.

November begins the ratings sweeps, so let's determine where these teams stand going into the state tournament.

By the end of the week, 127 district champions in four different classes will be determined. Who will be the survivors and who will get the axe? Stayed tuned for the Emons Ratings: See district pairings.

HEAD OF THE CLASS

Plymouth Salem (16-3): The Rocks are solid with coach Fred Thomann calling the shots. The Northville district will not be an easy one, but Salem should get through and sail into the Trenton regional where Ann Arbor Ploneer awaits in the first round. The Rocks should make it to the state quarterfinals.

GOING PLACES

Farmington Hills Mercy (14-5): The Marlins should reel in a district title at Walled Lake Western and could make the regional finals at Southfield-Lathrup where their stumbling block, Central Division foe Birmingham Marian, awaits.

GOLDEN GIRLS

Livonia Franklin (16-3): After a mild slump, the Patriots have rebounded nicely In the Western Lakes playoffs and should have a head of steam going into their own district where Garden City looms as a test. If the Patriots prevail, a tough firstround regional opponent - top-ranked Detroit Murray-Wright -- Is lurking at

QUANTUM LEAP

Redford Union (13-7): First-year coach Gary Fulks has done wonders with this team and winning a district title against a weak field is a distinct possibility. A firstround regional opponent (at Southfield) could be either Dearborn Fordson or Tayfor Center.

DESIGNING WOMEN

Garden City (18-2): The Cougars completed their most successful regular season ever and should make it a district final rematch of a year ago against Franklin. But this time the Patriots are playing on their home floor, not a neutral site. GC, however, is capable of getting through.

GROWING PAINS

Plymouth Canton (12-7): The Chiefs are much improved and could give rival Salem some trouble in Wednesday's matchup at Northville, but Canton's young team is a year away from making waves again in the state tourney.

Livonia Ladywood (6-12): To say the Blazers have been a major disappointment this season is an understatement, but they play a tough schedule and could be more than competitive in a tough Northville district. Tonight's game against host Northville will say a lot about Lady-

Livonia Stevenson (12-7): The Spartans, another young team, won't back down from the competition. They own a victory over Canton and could cause trouble for either Ladywood or host Northville. Junior center Teresa Sarno appears to be rounding back into form after an injury.

WHO'S THE BOSS?

Walled Lake Central (10-9): The Vikings have a good little point guard in sophomore Cindy Muha, who can give any team headaches. Central received a generous draw in the Walled Lake Western final and should play Mercy for the championship. Remember, Mercy has already beaten the Vikinos.

North Farmington (8-11): Can Misa Basketball nominee Eve Claar carry the Raiders past first-round foe Walled Lake Western? Possibly, but getting by Morcy Is a tall order.

Walled Lake Western (8-11): The Warriors pulled off an overtime win last week against rival Central and have a fine player in Holly Miller. Tonight's first-round game against North is a toss-up.

UNSOLVED MYSTERIES

Rodford Bishop Borgess (7-9): The Spartans are playing at home against a questionable field. Detroit Dominican (10-7), Borgess' first-round opponent, may have a slight edge going in, but Borgess is capable of beating any of the other teams in the field and advance into the Madison Heights Madison Class B reglonal. If quard Kyra Woodard gets hot. the Sparlans will advance.

Rodford Thurston (10-9): The Eagles could reach the district final at Borgess, but winning it is another story.

LIFE GOES ON

Farmington (4-16): The Falcons could beat Southfield on Tuesday and reach the RU district finals against the host Panthers. A 15-point win by Farmington Thursday over Livonia Churchill means that the Falcons cannot be taken lightly in this district draw.

Westland John Glenn (8-12): The Rockets have talent and could give Garden City a tussle Wednesday night in the Franklin district. This team had Salem on the ropes earlier this season and has the capacity to be a spoiler.

KNOTS LANDING

Livonia Churchill (9-11): The Chargers. possessing some fine athletes, have been up and down all season. If they execute, they can give teams trouble, but at Franklin, it's a longshot. Churchill received a first-round bye, but it was no bargain.

Farmington Harrison (3-17): The Hawks are at the bottom of the barrel in the 12-school Western Lakes League, but could be competitive in a weak district field at Borgess. Sophomore center Heather Hopkins, as always, is the key.

21 JUMP STREET

Plymouth Christian (15-5): The Eagles didn't catch a break in the Class D district at Auburn Hills-Oakland Christian. The host team has only one loss and Oakland Catholic is 14-6. Plymouth Christian, which opens Tuesday with Bloomfield Hills Roeper, needs to jump to another

RESCUE 911

Lutheran Westland (16-5): The Warrlors, behind sharpshooter Stephanle Locks, are a decent team in Class C, but their district draw at Detroit DePorres is a nightmare. First, they must get through Catholic League playoff qualifler Royal Oak Shrine and either host DePorres or Birmingham Country Day. That's a little too much to ask.

Redford St. Agatha (4-13): The Aggles meet Monday's Shrine-Lutheran Westland winner on Tuesday at DePortes. There's not much more you can say.

EMPTY NEST

Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (8-11): I hope Huron Valley coach Harvey Kightlinger knows what he's getting into. The Hawks' first-round foe, host Allen Park Inter-City Baptist, sports a 16-3 record. Say no more.

MURDER, SHE WROTE

Livonia Ciarencevillo (3-14): Il's boen tough sledding this season for the Trolans, who opened their season with a 54-28 loss to Harrison and should end their season Tuesday against Thurston with another lopsided defeat.

Citizen participation is critical to police effectiveness. Do you care about your neighborhood enough to help protect it?

The Case of The Tucson Tip-off.

In a particular neighborhood in Tucson, Arizona, folks were having a real problem with burglaries and break-ins.

They started talking to each other about what they could do. They got fed up, About 400 people & went to the police for advice. They learned about surveillance. They got to know their beat officers. Citizens and police became partners in crime provention. Injust three weeks, 17 arrests were made and burglaries went down 30%. And Tucson is only one case where people successfully worked to beat crime. To find out more, write:

News.

Bad news.

The good news? More and more people, businesses and industries are is finding ways to recycle.

It takes more than 6,000 tons of newsprint each year to print The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers plus a number of other publications, so we're doing a number of things to help the solid waste situation:

1. For years we've sold our waste newsprint to a recycling firm.

2. 25% of the newsprint we print on is recycled and we're increasing this amount by another 25% this year.

3. Our employees have begun to routinely put officer paper (memos, computer paper, waste copy paper) in recycle bins instead of waste baskets.

Of course, we still deliver thousands of newspapers twice each week. It's our business to bring you news of your local government, schools, sports scene and community events; the news you need to know.

And when you're finished reading your hometown newspaper there are places that will recycle them.

We've listed a few for you on this page because we think recycling is Good News.

VFW chief says Gulf crisis will end peacefully

By Shiriso Rose Idon staff writer

While President George Bush castigated Iraqi President Saddam Hussein for Treatment of hostages "worse than Adolph Hitler" and rattled his commander-in-chief's saber, the National Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars stands fast in his opinion that a shooting war is not in the nation's pear future.

Interviewed at the Southfield Holiday Inn prior to a dinner tendered by the Dunham-Ray Post No. 2645 of Southfield at their post hall, Commander James L. Kimery stated: "I don't think there will be a shooting war. That's my opinion."

Kimery had already spent several days in Michigan visiting "VFW grass roots" with posts in Frankenmuth, Vassar, Beaverton, Marion, Big Rapids, Fruitport, Livonia, Kalamazoo, and others.

ON THE DAY of the interview, the news was that Michigan had sustained its first casualty of the Persian Gulf Crisis, and that 10 Navy personnel had died in a shipboard

"It's a tough situation," Kimery said. "VFW members have seen war before. There's an awful lot of rhetoric right now and we need tough talk. We're dealing with a mad man."

"What bothers me is who will re-supply our embassy in Kuwait. Those folks need food and water and as long as they fly the stars and stripes, they should get it."

As the head of the 2.1 million member VFW organization, Kimery, who resides in Albuquerque, N.M., was invited to go to Saudi Arabia on a fact finding mission recently, but declined.

"We were asked because we stand with the president on the action he has taken in the Gulf," said Kimery. "But I didn't go. There's a lot to do overseeing a membership of 2.1 million."

Kimery believes the president was "perfectly right in putting American troops in the area swiftly." He assesses the armed forces as "high in morale and well-discip-

A NATIVE OFLIMestone, Tenn., Kimery joined the United States Air Force following high school graduation because "I didn't want to be drafted. I came from a military family. My father was gassed during the first world war, so I lived all my life with a disabled veteran."

During a 21-year career, he earned the Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal, the Army of Occupation (Japan) Medal, The National Defense Service Medal and others. On active duty in the South Pacific during World War II, he was so engineer gunner. "I fired from the top turret, the proposition. That was stress. I could have shot the props off my B-17," he said.

On the home front, the VFW is presently at war with the Congress about recent cuts in the veteran budget going into effect in January. Calling it "callous neglect and a terrible affront" to millions of veterans receiving service-connected disability compensation, Kimery expressed his anger at the failure to pass legislation granting a 5.4 percent cost-of-living (COLA)increase to disabled veterans.

KIMERY SAID the omnibus veterans benefits bill, in addition to the COLA increase, protected veterans' health care programs from cuts. "We are in an economic downturn, and while Social Security recipients and others will receive an increase, depriving disabled veterans of their modest increase to keep pace with the cost-of-living is a slap in the face and places a severe economic hardship on them and their families.'' ·

Kimery was escorted on his visits to VFW posts by a contingent of members including Department of Michigan Commander Elmer Wurster who said: "He got phone calls for statements and interviews wherever we went all day."

Edward O. Blackburn, commander of Post No. 2645, said the last national commander to visit Southfield came five years?

Blackburn said the post has a 73 member auxiliary and is attracting more Vietnami War veterans, including the present senior and junior vice commanders of the post.

While other veteran groups admit members who have served in wartime, VFW, *. members must have served overseas during a conflict, pointed out YFW members Walt Gooden and George Kosmich.

Guests at the dinner included Eli Robin son, Southfield council president and his wife, Zeida Robinson, Southfield school; board trustee.

Departing for the post dinner, Kimery reiterated: "The Gulf Crisis is a real emergen." cv. The United Nations will have to put on; the pressure and we must enforce the emilibargo. But I don't think there will be a shooting war."

12 alternatives to lashing out at your kid.

The next time everyday pressures build up to the point where you feel like lashing out—STOP! And try any of these simple alternatives.

You'll feel better ... and so will your child.

- 1. Take a deep breath. And another. Then remember you are the adult . . .
- 2. Close your eyes and imagine you're hearing what your child is about to hear.
- 3. Press your lips together and count to 10. Or better yet, to 20.
- 4. Put your child in a time-out chair. (Remember the rule: one time-out minute for each year of age.)
- 5. Put yourself in a time-out chair. Think about why you are angry: Is it your child, or is your child simply a convenient target for your anger?
- 6. Phone a friend.
- 7. If someone can watch the children, go outside and take a walk.
- 8. Take a hot bath or splash cold water on your face.
- 9. Hug a pillow.
- 10. Turn on some music. Maybe even sing along.
- 11. Pick up a pencil and write down as many helpful words as you can think of. Save the list.
- 12. Write for prevention information: National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse, Box 2866L, Chicago, IL 60690.

Stop using words that hurt. Start using words that help.

Agrand retreat in Grand Rapids Ohio

Situated on the outskirts of Grand Rapids, Ohio, The Kerr House was tion owner of the general store, B.F. Kerr.

By Debble Sklar special writer

Sunny Arizona and posh California may have their share of beauty spas that cater to the rich and famous, but the Midwest has its own shining star right smack dab in unto itself, according to Hostetler.

Grand Rapids . . . Ohio, that is.

When the Kerr House first opened its doors to the world in January 1980, the world couldn't believe someone would open a spa in the Midwest.

Who would go to the Midwest when they could go to the West Coast or sunny South? Specifically, who would go to Grand Rapids, Ohio, a restored canal town along the banks of the Maumee River, about 25 miles southwest of Toledo and 75 miles southwest of Detroit? Ten years later, the questions have been answered. Smart people go to the Midwest, people who want to feel their best, improve their lifestyle, enjoy a vacation and return to work relaxed and energetic, and experience the warmth of the heart of America.

"As a matter of fact, people travel great distances to receive the benefits The Kerr House provides," said owner and manager Laurie Hostetler.

Guests come from all over the United States, including Hawaii and Alaska, not to mention such foreign locales as Australia, Japan, England, Brazil and France. Some guests return with friends or members of their families; some prefer to come alone and get away from the world.

AND KERR House is a world It-was a cold winter day in 1977, when Hostetler, an enthusiastic curly-haired former Girl Scout leader and yoga teacher, happened across a perfect Victorian mansion on the outskirts of tiny Grand Rapids. It was suffering from extreme neglect, but with the foresight she would later apply to her guests, she could see the perfect specimen it would become with an ample application of loving care.

The home was built in 1880 by the town's first and foremost merchant, not to mention owner of the general store, B.F. Kerr. His benign and bearded presence beams down from the parlor wall, making you wonder what he would think if only he could see his very proper home host to changing groups of liberated ladies in various states of dress padding to the sauna or a massage.

Whether you've driven 50 miles or flown 3,000 miles to get to The Kerr House, you step back in time when you cross over the threshold.

Hostetler said everything in the old home is sturdy and usable and the experience is such that even people who don't care for antiques love The Kerr House.

"The comfort and luxurious interior makes them feel right at home," Hotstetler said.

THE FIREPLACES are outstanding with fine woods, beautiful carvings and sculptured tile accents. Two of the fireplaces have divided flues that wrap around breathtaking stained glass windows. Another stained glass widow is over the double doors in the entry, filled with the original furnishings of B.F. and Ann Kerr.

The dining room is done in red oak. There's a beautiful red oak herringbone ceiling and wainscoating, accented with a hard maple flooring. Each evening, dinner is served on different fine china, silver, stemware and tablecloths, with fresh flowers on the table and a harpist or violinist as entertain-feeling of spaciousness.

The loft is huge room (2,500 square feet) with all the angles of the roof preserved. The walls, ceiling and carpet are a soft blue, giving many guests the feeling they've

Yes, the home itself is lovely, but

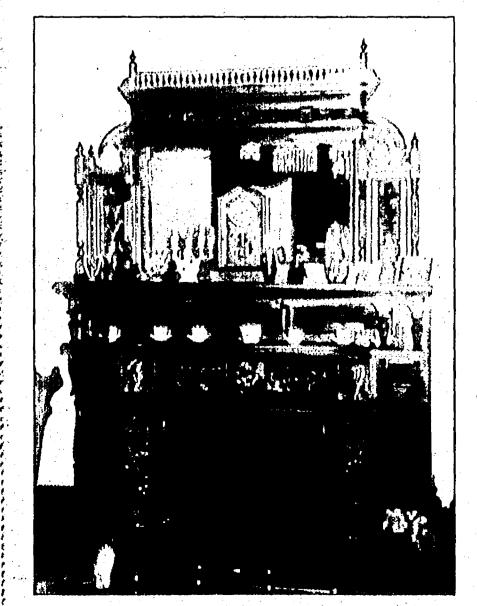

According to Hostetler, the answer is that there are only six to eight guests a week, allowing a warmth among people and continuity of a program that has been called "outstanding" by many

The people who work with the guests genuinely care and are experts at making each one feel special, Hostetler said.

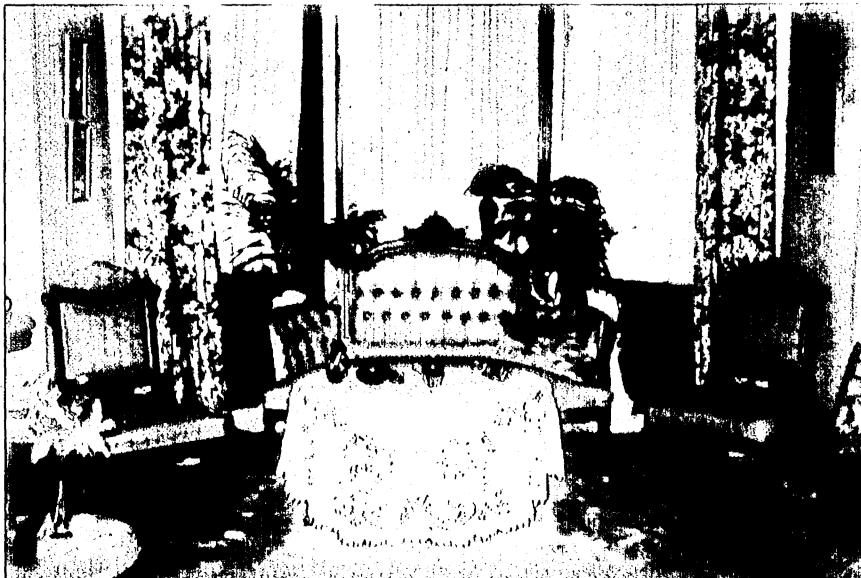

"THEY SERVE the guests breakfast in bed and give them daily treatments, such as massages, facials, hair and nail treatments, body wraps, polarity and reflexology," she said.

The Kerr House program offers an exercise regime, teaches guests to breathe deeply, how to feel a balance between the mind and body and feel the excitement of a functioning at peak capacity on natural energy rather than nervous energy.

The Kerr House's primary and most effective - program is five days - Sunday evening through Friday — but weekend packages are available. Shared rooms with shared baths cost $2,150 for five days. A two-day weekend costs $575. For more information or to make reservations, cal (419) 83° 1733.

'Reversal of Fortune' is maudlin and boring film

By Dan Greenborg special writer

"Reversal of Fortune" (C. R. 110 minutes) is a maudlin melodrama that quickly looses sight of its major rationale — Constitutional protections must be guarded with great care no matter how despicable the protected may be. Certainly, the von Bulow family portrayed here have no redeeming characteristics to attract viewers.

This slick production takes a look at the issues in the widely-reported case of Claus von Bulow (Jeremy Irons), accused of attempted-murder of his wealthy wife, Sonny (Glenn Close). Based on the book of the same name by Harvard Law Professor Alan Dershowitz (Ron Silver) von Bulow's attorney on appeal and retrial, -. "Reversal of Fortune" is faulted in conception and execution.

From its slow and leaden opening - Glenn Close's voice-over sets the scene while we watch her comatose body — the film bogs down in a boring and repetitive structure. No matter how important the issues, watching scenery and Close's body as Sonny in insulin shock just doesn't provide the moving images generally associated with films. After all, they're called moving pictures for good reason.

Viewers here are forced to examine and re-examine a dismal tragedy that mars the fine brocade of the rich and decadent. The sub-plot involving a drug-dealer who purportedly provided Sonny's son with drugs but winds up taping Dershowitz to discredit him is confusing and never clarified.

Despite occasional sparks of human conflict between Irons and Silver which highlight the Constitutional issues, the film is constantly dragged down by the comatose Sonny von Bulow and the repetitive flashbacks supposedly designed to help viewers discover what really happened. As in real life, we never learn and the process of non-discovery is tiresome.

Conflicting values and divided loyalties among three generations of a Los Angeles family highlights Danny Glover's latest film, "To Sleep With Anger" (PG).

Several films are previewing this week without benefit of screenings. Looking at their titles telegraphs the reasons why. In "Child's Play 2" (*, R),

OFT resurrects 'Joan of Arc'

By John Monaghan special writer

"The Passion of Joan of Arc" is one of those landmark films you so often read about but rarely get the chance to see. This week, Carl Dreyer's 1928 silent film highlights an-ambitious seven-week tribute to the director at the Detroit Film The-Stylized sets, startling use of closeups and naturalistic performance make it far more timeless than many silent classics. Fellow director Jean Cocteau paid the ultimate compliment when he wrote, "It seems like a historical document from an era in which cinema did not exist."

"The Passion of Joan of Arc," which Dreyer called "a hymn to the triumph of the soul over life," was the first of a handful of classic films he created. It paved the way for the equally intense 'Vampyr'' (1932) and 'Day of Wrath" (1943) to follow,____

DREYER FIRST became interested in Joan of Arc in 1920, when the Catholic Church canonized the 15th century shepherd girl. The French government was anxious to film the life of a famous historical figure and lured Dreyer away from his native Denmark for the assignment.

He originally wanted to make

"Joan" a sound film, but recording equipment proved far too closely. While sound would have eliminated distracting title cards and provided a definitive musical score, the movie speaks brilliantly through its imag-

_ Dreyer employed closeups to show the anguish the young woman felt through the trials, tortures and climactic burning at the stake. He shot the movie in sequential order on elaborate sets to build up the intensity of his actors, especially Marie Rene Falconetti in the lead.

Preston Sturges is the focus of an MCA-Universal Home Video promotion which includes the release on Nov. 15 of two of his films never before available on video cassette -

"The Great Moment" (1944, 83 minutes) and "Hall the Conquering Hero" (1944, 101 minutes). Sturges is noted as the first screenwriter to direct his own films in the Hollywood studio era.

The five previously released Sturges films include "Christmas in July" (1940, 67 minutes) with Dick Powell and Ellen Drew. "The Great McGinty" (1940, 81 minutes) was Sturges directorial debut. He won an Oscar for his screenplay for that film, starring Brian Donlevy, Akim Tamiroff and two regulars in Sturges films, William Demarest and Franklin Pangborn.

Barbara Stanwyck and Henry Fonda are featured in "The Lady Eve" (1941, 94 minutes), a spoof on high society. "The Palm Beach Story" (1942, 90 minutes) stars Claudette Colbert in a screwball comedy about a restless young lady who leaves her penniless husband (Joel McCrea) in search of fortune. "Sullivan's Travels" (1941, 91 minutes) also stars Joel McCrea - a

Sturges regular - along with Veronica Lake. McCrea plays a movie director who wants to see America from the underside and sets out as a bum with empty pockets.

ALL SEVEN Sturges films are in black and white and unrated. Given the values and control of the Hays Office Production Code in that era, these films are all G by contemporary standards.

McCrea is the star of "The Great Moment," probably one of Sturges' least successful projects. Set in the 1840s, it's a confused story about Dr.

On the run with Run Westy Run

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Run Westy Run is a garage band. Except one wouldn't want to park a Cadillac where this Minneapolis outfit is performing.

Doors might get scratched and the hubcaps could end up missing. Run Westy Run is one of those groups that can be a bit reckless. Their bumper-car frenzy stage presence has earned them kudos in praire-land and beyond.

In the studio, the band works in the meticulous manner of a chopshop being scoped out by the cops.

This leads to some rather frentic, skittering guitar music that reveals flashes of brilliance along with its fair share of blemishes on "Green Cat Island" — the band's latest LP on Twin/Tone. Lead singer Kirk Johnson acknowledges as such but offers no apologies.

Besides, there's always the next album that will be recorded during the spring in Athens, Ga. "The next one we're going to spend more time recording," said Johnson, whose band performs Wednesday, Nov. 14, at Club Heidelberg in Ann Arbor. "This one we recorded in 15 days."

STEVIE NICKS uses about the same amount of time writing a lyric. The slap-dash quality of the LP is not a reflection on the work habits of Run Westy Run, though.

Otherwise, they wouldn't attract the likes of R.E.M.'s Peter Buck to produce their records. One of the reasons for the short time spent in the studio came down to econom-

Two of the band's previous albums were released on the California-based independent label SST. Naturally, the group waited for some money from SST to record LP No. 3. The check never came.

So, Run Westy Run borrowed money from a friend and did the album on their own. Twin/Tone (Replacements, Robyn Hitchcock, etc.) thought enough of "Green Cat Island" to distribute it.

Run Westy Run can be very much the suburban rock'n'roll band, using a heavy dose of primal guitar to speak their cause. Yet, the group also has a keen sense of rhythm buttressing on funk and punk. And, damn, if Kirk Johnson doesn't sound like Iggy on the opening cut.

All of which makes the flaws acceptable if not cherished like an infant's tumble trying to walk. When Kirk Johnson talks about spending more time with pre-production on the next LP, it's enough to make one wince.

THEN AGAIN, this is not a band on the first time around. Run Westy Run has been together for five years and features Johnson and Johnson (and Johnson). Brothers Kirk (singer), Kyle (bass-guitar) and Kraig (guitar-bass) are at the core of the group with guitarist Terry Fisher and Dan on drums.

Run Westy Run has kept good company from the start. Grant Hart from Husker Du and Buck co-produced the band's demo. The R.E.M. guitarist has taken over the production reigns.

"He's into doing it again and we are into doing it again," Kirk Johnson said. "We want to push ourselves a little more on the next one."

Buck's production work hasn't stopped the comparisons to the Replacements and Soul Asylum, though.

"They have (made comparisons) anyway just because you're from Minneapolis and stuff," he said.

Loudhouse: Not your usual audio-visual

By Joseph 8. Hoffmann special writer

Loudhouse is not your run-of-themill heavy metal mix. That's what drummer Vin E. meant when he said, "We're not just another salesman on the block." This band is from Detroit and it shows in its street sense and attitude. The thing that catches your attention is the unusual fusion of influences that makes up its unique sound.

Vocalist Ken E. sald the music and stage presence are influenced as much by non-musicians as it is from bands of the '70s and '80s.

of writing is one of my personal big influences," said Ken E, who is a 1982 graduate of Livonia Bentley High School. What does cut-up style

"It's when you cut-up all your lyrics and put them into a bag, then you pull them out and piece them together to form an unusual, but meaningful, lyrics combination.'

Another influence on the band is black and white movies. Sound strange? That's because you haven't seen their stage show. If you had, you'd have seen the three television monitors that run images throughout sort of twist.

"One night the band brought a real USDA choice pig head on stage," said Ken, who proceeded to do a tribal dance with that pig head. Not satanic, tribal.

"WHAT IS my biggest influence?," asked bassist Tim Cross, "That would be Walt Disney. If you're in a band it helps to watch a lot of cartoons."

These guys just got back from L.A. where they've signed a record deal with Virgin records.

"For the longest time no one knew

"William Burroughs' cut-up style the show. It really adds a different what to do with us, now we've signed for a record deal and everyone wants on the bandwagon," said Ken

REVIEWS

ROOM TO ROAM Waterboys

The Waterboys' last album, "Fisherman's Blues," was an Irish postcard ripe with images of the auld sod and Guinness-induced poetry by Mike Scott. The LP marked a change of direction for the Waterboys, who seemed to prefer sonic anthems until then.

On "Room to Roam," the Waterboys have decided to stick around for another plnt of stout. This LP, on Chrysalis/Ensign, delves deeper into area of Celtic folk with homespun dittles from Eire.

Not content with sounding only a bit "trad," the Waterboys go the full distance with music filled with tin whistles, accordion, fiddle and mandolln. For the most part, the band pulls this off - again - with a great deal of charm and eloquence.

Numbers like "The Raggle Taggle Gypsy" and "Room to Roam" have an undenlable knee-slapping quality to them, whereas the fiddle-happy "Natural Blues Bridge" runs dangerously close to Irish Rovers territory.

What the Waterboys don't want to become is the musical equivalent of the amiable uncle who has no teeth but plays a mean harmonica and tells a great story. He's great to see on the holidays, but do you want him living with you. In all this roots revelry, the Waterboys have forgotten

This should be a major concern for Waterboys fans. Yet, when Scott sings the flute wispy, "A Man is in Love," there is a warmth and sincer-Ity that transcends the lack of verve in the overall tonality of the album. "Room to Roam" Is very much about discovery for Scott, who sings "I'm starting to see a bigger picture/I'm starting to color it in."

Scott explores those feelings more in depth on "Something That Is Gone," where he does a great deal of soul-searching with the somewhat jazzy nightclub piano feeding the investigation.

"The Star and the Sea" only hints at the Waterboys' rock prowess lost in the mist of this Celtic musical journey. And something tells us Mike Scott and company are not coming back from this trip.

SMILE - Ride

Ride is yet another neo-'60s, flower-child band. Don't make the mistake of grouping Ride with bands like the Strawberry Zots and Jellyfish though, because Ride differs form these other novelty bands in an important way -- they're good.

The quartet of musicians - Mark

Garderner of vocals and guitar, Andrew Bell on guitar, Steve Queralt on bass and Lars Colbert on drums - hails from jolly old England. Apparently, they started playing music together in art school, following in the footsteps of bands like the Talking Heads, the Kicks and the Rolling

According to their press release, if we can believe Sire records highly excitable publicity department, the band then became fabulously popular in England, racking up hits in the Top-10 and being praised by New Music Express and Sounds as a "Hope for the '90s." One of their concerts in England was described as a

"near-riotous affair." For once, a record company press department doesn't seem to be yammering away about nothing. Ride is worthy of the praise. The band takes on a tired genre (in this case psychedelia) and adds a distinctive and original spin to it.

Their songs are heavy on guitars and Moody Blues-esque harmonics.

The guitar licks are as addictive as the famous one in Cream's "Sunshine of Your Love." This makes their songs instantly likable. On first listening, a song like their "Drive Blind" will become an instant favorite. You haven't heard these songs before, but they will immediately seem like old friends.

HINDU LOVE GODS — Hindu Love Gods

The Hindu Love Gods are the result of a collaboration of Warren Zevon and a Stipeless R.E.M. Apparently, Zevon met Peter Buck, Bill Berry and Mike Mills several years ago when he was down in Athens, Ga., recording some demos.

When Zevon was recording "Sentimental Hygiene," he asked the fellows from R.E.M. to sit in on the ses-, sions as special guests. During an evening of frivolity after one of the recording session, all four men decided to gather 'round one microphone and start singing classic old tunes. Arguably, the best cover on the album, is the Gods' version of Prince's "Raspberry Beret." CBS Fox is mounting a major campaign for this premiere. ## Life gives Allen-Mishler his laughs would talk about drinking heavily and being single," Allen-Mishler said.

A wedding ring and a couple of children can change a guy. Just ask Jeff Allen-Mishler.

Today, Allen-Mishler's observational style of humor speaks about family, trying to make I was booked to play there and I was going to ends meet and living straight in a crazy world. One-liners are at a minimum. Allen-Mishler doesn't sit down to write; telling stories comes natural.

Few of life's experiences can easily be since. summed up in a qulp.

Sometimes he can get political.

"The whole thing that is funny is that since George Bush has been in office, we've invaded Panama . . . we're involved in Saudi Arabia,"

Allen-Mishler said. "I'm glad he's in a kinder, gentler mood. I'd hate to be around him when he's p.---d."

Sometimes he can poke fun at himself. "I've been getting calls for Tim Allen for "When I was drinking heavily and single, I work," said Allen-Mishler, who has since added his real name to his middle name to avoid confusion with the Birmingham comedian. "I was on the phone with this guy from Bermuda.

> He's been a stand-up comedian for 12 years. He's appeared on VH-1's "Stand-Up Spotlight," MTV's "Half Hour Comedy Hour" and recently taped an appearance for "Caroline's Comedy Hour' on A&E.

A native of the Chicagoland area, Allen-Mishler is said to have a blue collar point of view combined with an excellent delivery and stage presence. His saggy eyes and raised eyebrows punches it all home.

Off stage, though, Allen-Mishler describes how heavy drinking nearly destroyed his marriage. He's been through rehab and has become "more focused" as a comedian.

Better yet, Allen-Mishler has become a little

"I'VE REALIZED I have to be more restrained."

Allen-Mishler dismisses those days as "all in the past." He attributes part of the problem to his drinking, although the incident in Texas occurred after he had quit.

"When you drink for 14 years and give it up, you can get grouchy," he said.

The turning point with his addiction came when he was about to divocce his wife, Tammi, who continually complained about his drinking. They have two children, Ryan, 3, and Aaron, 7.

At times mistaken for fellow comedian Tim Allen, Jeff Allen-Mishler offers audiences his observational style of humor and speaks about family, trying to make ends meet and living straight in a crazy_world. ---

Toronto serves up a feast for film lovers

By Raiph Valdez and Martin Bandyke special writers

There's no other celebration of film in North America like Toronto's annual Festival of Festivals. Every fall, a mere four-hour car or train ride will put you in a movie lover's paradise.

This year, the 15th edition of the fest served up nearly 300 films from 44 countries. Everyone in the industry, from low budget directors to mega-buck movie stars, converges at Canada's movie mecca, heightening the excitement of this 10-day party.

It's the place to go to get a jump on some of the newest and the best releases of 1990, many of which have and will make it to Detroit in the coming months.

Dennis Hopper's latest effort, "The Hot Spot," has already showed up in the metropolitan area. Hopper returns to the director chair for the first time since "Colors" with an infinitely more satisfying film noir tale of lust, blackmail and murder.

Don Johnson is Harry Madox, a smug drifter whose number one love interest is the innocent, young and—unattainable—beauty—Gloria—(Jennifer Connelly). But Harry meets more than his match in local vamp Dolly Harshaw (Virginia Marsden).

THE TRIO tangle in Texas heat to an unforgettable coundtrack featuring Miles Davis jamming with John Lee Hooker and Taj Mahal in a music lover's dream.

Dealing with subject matter that could easily become overwrought and hackneyes, director Bertrand Tavernier masterfully avoids shallow melodrama and pursues deeper emotions in "Daddy Nostalgy." Dirk Bogarde, in his first movie role since Fassbinder's 1978 film "despair," is Caroline's (Jane Birkin) seriously ill "Daddy."

Caroline's extended visit brings out the sweet camaraderie between father and daughter, not shared by Miche (Odette Laure), Daddy's devoted but uptight wife and Caroline's mother. Exquisitely natural dialogue and commanding performances, especially by Bogarde, help carry this powerful, yet contemplative work.

Dysfunctional, the latest American buzzword, aptly describes the articulate but whacked-out characters in the suburban tragic comedies of Long Island newcomer, director Hal Hartley. Last year's "The Unbelievable Truth" set the stage for the modern misanthropes that people Hartley's films.

THE JOKE MAY stay the same, but the punch line is ever changing, firmly establishing Hartley's twisted Americana as a fresh vision with both style and substance.

Director AkiKaurismaki's perfectly realized, heavily ironic comedy "I Hired a Contract Killer" features the welcome return of veteran French actor Jean-Pierre Leaud, star of such classics as Truffaut's "The 400 Blows" and

Godard's "Masculine Feminine."

Unjustly fired from his job and deeply despondent, Jean-Pierre hires a contract killer to execute himself, then unexpectedly falls in love and decides that life is worth living again. The trouble is that he can't find his prospective murderer in order to call off his own killing.

Leaud is simply brilliant, his halting English and priceless facial expressions evoking sympathetic laughter.

Director Barbet Schroeder came up with one of the festival's most memorable and enjoyable films, "Reversal of Fortune," the true story of the widely hated Claud von Bulow and his retrial for the attempted murder of his wife Sunny.

In Schroeder's increasingly talented hands, the engagingly quirky tale unfolds with striking performances from the perfectly sardon-ic-Jeremy-Irons-as-Claus, Glenn Close as the tragic Sunny and the supercharged Ron Silver as Claus's defense attorney, Alan Dershowitz.

SUBLIME AMBIGUITIES abound in possibly the most objective telling of the mystery everyone thinks they've already solved.

Director's Monika Treut, Richard Kwietniowski, Pauline Chan, Peggy Ahwesh and Keith Sandborn have come up with a program of short films that kicks off with Treut's "Annle," a charming but lightweight documentary about porn queen and now performance artist Annle Sprinkle.

The following three films are increasingly audacious and inventive. Kwietniowski's "Flames of Passion" is an experimental, black and white, boy meets boy love story set in a train station with hypnotic images and music. Chan's "The Space Between the Door and the Floor" recounts a man's erotic obsesssion with a woman's underarm hair.

Ahwesh and Sandborn's "The Deadman", based on "Le Mort" by author Georges Bataille, is a truly bizarre and original piece of transgressive cinema. After the death of her lover, a woman seeks out the farthest reaches of sexuality and depravity. This naively grotesque and peversely funny work comes from the afflicted minds of two young New Yorkers.

IN THE EARLY 19603, London's

RICHARD BLANCHARD

Martin and Gary Kemp star as the infamous Kray twins, rough East End was the feared home turf of the infamous Kray twins. nightclub owning gangsters whose strangeness and cruelty was legendary.

In director Peter Medak's "The Krays," the brothers' rapid rise and fall is skillfully rendered by Martin and Gary Kemp, ex of the "new romantic" musical combo Spandau Ballet. Renowned stage and screen actress Billie Whitelaw brings an incredible mixture of cynicism and warmth to the difficult role of the cold-blooded twins' smothering mother.

Walking a fine line between trash and treasure, Medak's stylish psycho-drama is most successful when the mood is dark and probing and the sentimental cliches are at a minimum.

The ultimate irony of director Chuck Workman's "Superstar," a film biography of Andy Warhol, is that Warhol himself would probably have loved the fact that it's really quite bad. Far from a labor of love, Workman was commissioned to make a documentary film about an important artist and that's all Attesting to the importance of Warhol's life and work is the fact that this film has a hard time being rumed by the director's lack of talent. Great footage of the Velvet Underground is almost destroyed by Vanilla Fudge music on the soundtrack, while the heavy handed use of Pink Floyd's burnt-out song "Money"dominates scenes of Warhol's obsession with wealth.

IN OTHER HIGHLIGHTS was "Freeze, Die and Revive" by Vitali Kanevski and "Taxi Blues" by Pavel Lounguine, respectively the winners of best film and best director at this year's Cannes fest; Robert Altman's "Vincent and Theo," about the Van Gogh brothers; Jane Campion's "An Angel at My Table," winner of the critic's choice award in Toronto; Michael Verhoeven's perceptive "The Nasty Girl;" Yvonne's Rainer's "Priviledge," and Derek Jarman's rigorous but rewarding "The Garden."

There were a few disappointments — Tom Stoppard's "Rosencrantz and Guildenstern Are Dead," a who's on-first routine for college grads; and "The Grifters" by Stephen Frears, where a talented director, east (Angelica Huston, John Cusack) and a potentiality exciting screenplay (based on a Jim Thompson novel), all add up to tedium.

Martin Bandyke is assistant music director at WDET-FM, where he co-hosts "Dimension" with Rainh Valdez 9 p.m. Sundays.

Late architect inducted into Hall of Fame

The Michigan Women's Studies Association (MWSA) inducted the late Emily Helen Butterfield, former Farmington resident, into the Michigan Women's Hall of Fame Oct. 25.

Butterfield received the MWSA's Life Achievement Award for accomplishments as:

• Michigan's first registered woman architect.

• Founder of the Detroit Business Women's Club, forerunner of the International Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and founder of Alpha Gamma Delta, an international collegiate women's fraternity. She also was an author, artist, poet, watercolorist and calligraphist. The Women's Hall of Fame originated in the MWSA, an organization of academic and professional women at Michigan State University in 1973. Women who have made significant

Furniture art theme of display

NEW generation of artists, drawing on the principles of furniture design, is creating innovative products that look as good in a museum as they do in a living room.

In dozens of studios across the United States, these artists are combining materials and designs previously unknown to the furniture world and creating functional art. Furniture that can be used, certainly, but furniture that makes a statement about the owner and artist.

The drop leaf of a non-traditional dining room table by Dale Broholm, for example, is used to slice the piece into a triangular form. Jamie Robertson's signature blue inlay can be found in tables and chests, and even decorative indoor ladders.

Consider the futuristic, metalsmithed chairs by Charles Crowley. Or the decoratively detailed tables of Wendy Stayman.

THESE WILL be just some of the examples when the work of 16 art furniture makers from across the country is gathered in Farmington for an exhibit by Janis Wetsman 20th Century Decorative Art of Birmingham.

"Art Furniture for Everyday Living 3," Janis Wetsman's third exhibit devoted to the genre, will showcase the different styles and materials being used today.

Broholm, a Massachusetts artist whose work premiered in the Detroit area last year through Wetsman, will be available to explain his techniques, inspirations and how to integrate his pieces with current decors at the exhibit's opening reception, 5-8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 15.

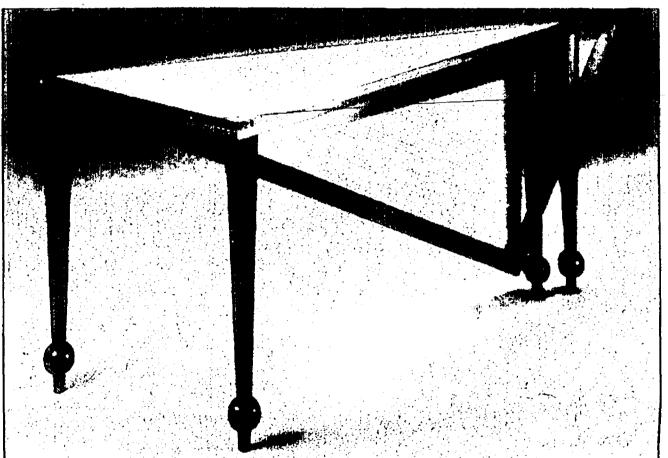

The exhibit will run at Artpack Services, 31505 Grand River, Door 10, near Orchard Lake Road, in Farmington through Dec. 8.

The artists featured in the Wetsman Collection are considered the second generation of furniture makers. Many of them are graduates of furniture design programs that emphasize conception and design.

They make one-of-a-kind pieces, evolved from an increased awareness of functional art, said Janis Wetsman, collection owner.

Butterfield and her father. Wells D. Butterfield, architect and first mayor of Farmington after its incorporation in 1926, designed business, industrial and public buildings, and homes, churches and schools.

WHEN EMILY Butterfield, a graduate of Detroit Central High School, graduated from the Syracuse University School of Architecture, its first woman graduate, she returned to the Detroit area.

She was associated with her father in the firm of Butterfield and Butterfield. It was dissolved with the retirement of her father in 1930.

In 1940, Emily Butterfield retired and lived in her native Algonac until 200 alumnae chapters. her death in 1958 at age 74.

Among the Butterfield buildings now registered as Michigan Historic Places are houses in the Oaklands subdivision and the Glen Oaks Clubhouse, both in Farmington Hills.

The First United Methodist Church of Farmington was one of nearly 30 Butterfield churches. Highland Park High is one of their schools. They designed their homes near Farmington Road and Shlawas-

THE MOST obvious imprint Emily Butterfield made was as an initiator. While at Syracuse University, she was one of 11 young women who founded Alpha Gamma Delta. Now, there are 175 campus chapters, with

In 1912, Emily Butterfield and 12 other young Detroit professional women formed the Detroit Business Women's Study Club, limiting membership to one representative from each business or professional group.

From this group came the Detroit Federation of Business and Professional Woman's Clubs and a charter membership in the Michigan, national and international business and professional women's clubs respectively in 1918, 1920 and 1934.

Butterfield's avocations of writing and painting-pen/ink sketches brought her recognition and provided pleasure to many others. She exhibited watercolors and pen/ink sketches at the Toleldo Artists Club, the J.L. Hudson Gallery and the Scarab Club in the 1920s and 1930s.

. In 1987, in recognition of the first annual Detroit Festival of the Arts, the Scarab Club exhibited "Women Artists at the Scarab Club from 1914-1987"; two Butterfield watercolors and a pen/ink sketch were hung.

In 1989, 50 Butterfield watercolors, architecture blueprints and examples of calligraphy were exhibited in the Belen Gallery of the Women's Study Association Bullding in Lansing. The exhibit was assembled by Alpha Gamma Delta members Jane Graf of Royal Oak, Carol Fanzen of Livonia and Elizabeth Lee of

She published two books, "Young People's History of Architecture" and "Heraldry in American College Fraternities," both illustrated by her pen/ink sketches. She wrote frequently for the Ampha Gamma Delta Quarterly and was its editor for seven years.

Her concern for young people was evident in the books she wrote and also in teaching a Sunday School class of high school youth and being a leader of a Girl Scout troop.

She participated in the community affairs of Neebish Island in northern Michigan, where the family had a summer cottage and was postmistress there during World War II.

Wetsman sponsoring

As the result of Janis Wetsman's sponsorship of metalsmith Charles Crowley, a new body of work in the decorative arts will be created: a series of contemporary sterling silver tea services. Wetsman, of Janis Wetsman 20th Century Decorative Art in Birmingham, is providing a year-long stipend for the Waltham, Mass., artist to create a body of work he otherwise could not accomplish.

"I'm acting as a sponsor, an angel, a patron," Wetsman said. "It will allow him to concentrate on a series of tea services without having to try and support himself."

As an artist/metalsmith since 1984, Crowley has concerned himself with speculative and commissioned holloware and furniture, and commercial and ornamental metalwork. All the teapots and services in the series will be sterling silver.

"I have always wanted to do a body of work like this, but I was never afforded the time to do it," said Crowley, awarded first prize in the 1990 Fortunoff Sterling Silver Design Competition in New

BEFORE 1984, Crowley was a jeweler/goldsmith, a designer and builder of lacquer and metal boxes, and co-owner of Progressive Metalware, which designed and produced a line of pewter holloware.

"This very unusual opportunity was offered to me, and I was happy to take it," Crowley said.

His work will be represented in "Art Furniture for Everyday Living 3," an exhibit of contemporary craft furniture at Artpack Services in Farmington Nov. 15 to Dec. 8.

Wetsman and Crowley became acquainted through the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston about three years ago. The business relationship took about a year to form, although Crowley had two of his pieces in Wetsman's initial exhibit two years ago.

"His work is very simple, very elegant," Wetsman said. "I'm drawn to his shapes and sizes. He doesn't waste a lot of energy doing grandiose work."

NED COOKE, assistant curator at the Boston museum, said Crowley has successfully adapted his understanding of machinery — metal lathes and milling machines — to individual, custom production.

"It's very finely detailed, as well as well-conceived," Cooke said. Crowley, who said his designs are based on whimsical ideas, noted tea services are a traditional object for sterling silver.

By next fall, the Wetsman-Crowley relationship will result in at least 12 pieces, which Wetsman would like to exhibit across the United States. Prices are likely to range from $10,000 to $12,000.

Art you can sit on showcased

"Because of that increased awareness," she added, there's "an increase in the use of furniture that has an intrinsic value, rather than pieces that will be replaced."

THE ART furniture movement has promoted important styles from the 1930s and 1950s. These styles function both in the home and office, and as art as well as furniture.

"Hopefully, what is created now will have the same timelessness. and we will understand the value of that which is not mass-produced," Wetsman said.

Wetsman believes the second generation of studio crafters have demonstrated a greater interest in the history of design and construction, new technical possibilities and the combination of wood with other materials.

A cabinet ($9,500) by Ronald Puckett, for example, combines padouk, wenge, holly and marble. Chairs ($3,900 each) by the same artist are built with painted maple, curly maple, padouk and leather.

"Art Furniture for Everyday Living 3," also will feature the work of Charles Crowley, Peter Dudley, Tom Duffy, John Dunnigan; Beth Forer, John Lesch, Tom Loesser, Richard Scott Newman. Tim Philbrick, Henry Royer, Peter Spadone, Wendy Stayman and Howard Werner.

Manage time well to stay organized

Q: My wife is upset because I never get home from work at 6 p.m. as I tell her I will. I have good intentions, but every day, I have so much to do, I work until the last minute, drive like crazy and I'm still late. Then the next morning, my desk is in a mess and I have to start over from scratch. Do you have any suggestions to help me get away on time?

A: People are funny. They will schedule everything - planning meetings, appointments, every type of project, etc., - but overlook a simple key to their success: Keeping their office organized.

You need to analyze what's going on. First, figure out how much time you devote to closing up your office. Too often, people overlook this last important aspect and then wonder why things pile up.

If the answer is five minutes or less, as you seemed to indicate, you are probably piling things in stacks with the thought, "I don't have time now so I'll put that stuff away tomorrow." Beginning tomorrow with yesterday's work, however, automatically starts off your day with a defi-

Nów, consider how long it would take to close up your office properly? That is 1) completely putting away and filing things where they belong, and 2) planning the next day while things are still fresh in your mind. This may take 15-30 minutes, depending on your working habits during the day.

The second part of your analysis s: Once you've left your office, how long does it take to get home? On much time it took to collect his belongings, walk the long halls and grounds, get out of the parking lot, make the five-minute drive and then park, walk in and get settled into his office. His "five-minute trip" actually took 20 minutes. This is a typical example of how people underestimate time.

If you want to get home by 6 p.m. and it takes 30 minutes from the time you grab your coat until you arrive at your own front door, then you probably need to "quit working" by 5 p.m. to have time to close up your office properly and plan your next

Rather than "not having time to quit early," you will easily regain that time and more the next morning by getting off to a quick start and working when you are more rested.

You need to establish a new psychological mindset: You will "quit working" one hour before you want to be home. By using self-discipline to adopt this proactive (not reactive) philosophy, you will feel good about yourself, be well organized, get more done and have a happy home life,

Raise the roof with cemer

By Gorald Frawley staff writer

Time was, there were few options for putting a roof over your head.

Back when Alley Oop the caveman wandered the plains, there was the natural stone cave roof — it kept the rain away, but lacked aesthetic ap-

Then came early man's first attempts at building. Thatch, sticks and stones served a purpose, but the water damage was terrible every time it rained and the furniture and carpeting constantly needed replac-

So man turned to products made from natural materials, like wooden shakes and stone shingles, and although they had appeal, they had a half life of about two weeks. Then came tin roofs, but there was that cat thing on hot, sunny days.

So man invented asphalt shingles and there was much happiness. They looked pretty good — albeit a bit drab — and the water damage was kept to a minimum.

But now, residential roofing products have taken a leap ahead. In addition to new, multi-colored, longer lasting fiberglass-asphalt shingles, there are other alternatives, including cement shingles made to look like the wood shakes and stone of the past at half the cost and twice the durability.

Ron Nordquist, sales representative for Architectural Roof Tile Inc., a Kalamazoo firm that distributes concrete-based roof tiles throughout the state, said for color, durability and style, nothing beats concrete roof tiles.

Styles include a flat tile made to look like natural siate. a semiflat tile with beveled ribs exposed to the surface, a curved tile created to recall the styles of Mexico and Spain, and a rough, uneven pattern that simulates wood shakes.

"You can get the look of (real) slate at about half the cost," he said.

MADE FROM Portland cement, plasticizers, manufactured iron and chrome oxides, and aggregates, cement tile styles include a flat tile made to look like natural slate, a semi-flat tile with beveled ribs exposed to the surface, a curved tile created to recall the styles of Mexico and Spain, and a rough, uneven pattern that simulates wood shakes. Nordquist said.

-- "They've been making these in Europe for 200 years," Nordquist said of the molded-roof tiles, but today's product is far superior. "It's a 200-year old product with 1970s. 1980s and 1990s technology."

Cement tiles have been in use in the East and South for years, but it is only within the last decade or so that freeze-thaw cycles, Nordquist said. you money right off the bat," he said.

Cement shingles have added thinkness to give the roof character and depth. They are also attached to the roof with an air cavity beneath to add insulation value.

the process has been perfected for use in colder climates.

"In California and Florida, it's probably about 65 percent of the market; in Michigan, it's probably only 4 percent of the market," he said.

Probably the greatest advantage to cement roof tiles is their durability, Nordquist said. "This roof will last for 50 years — you may have to re-roof an asphalt roof two or three times in that time."

Tiles are also resistant to the gan, we can have as many as five freeze-thaw cycles per day."

Tiles also hold their color indefinitely because the coloring is applied throughout, rather than on the surface, he said.

BECAUSE OF the way it is attached, the molded-cement tile also offers insulation, Nordquist said. Rather than laying tiles directly on the roof, molded cement tiles are mounted on furring strips that create an air pocket between the roof sheathing and the tile, thereby preventing direct heat transmission.

The air cavity also keeps the moisture barrier between sheathing and tile dry. Roof coverings that lay directly on roofing underlayment; speeds up the deterioration of the roof, Nordquist sald.

Nordquist said that while molded-; cement roof tiles are heavier than asphalt shingles, they are not so heavy as to damage the roof. "Structurally, it's no different. It can't be a cheaply made house, but if it's a well-made roof, I can put tile on it."

But cement tile doesn't come cheap, Nordquist said. "It's not for everyone. Depending on the style and (difficulty of) installation, it costs between $400 and $900 a square (roughly 100 square feet)."

Four factors can affect the cost of putting in a cement roof, he said, including the amount of cutting, the roof pitch, access to the roof, and the number of stories. "It's about four times the cost of conventional shin-

During the 1980s, the wet process used in manufacturing longerlasting shingles was perfected, cold elimate sealants were introduced to improve weathering, and the overall strength of the shingles structure was improved.

For the builder and contractor -John Gross, advanced sales repre- and even for the homeowner, the sentative for Owens-Corning Fiberg- most important selling point of the

The materials put into today's shingles are better suited for roof-

The newer fiberglass-asphalt shingles have greater strength and resist water, thanks to an inorganic, glass fiber mat, which takes the place of the old organic felt.

GROSS EXPLAINED the asphalt shingles of old were made with an organic felt base that absorbed moisture that caused shingles to buckle, curl, blister and swell.

Organic felt, made mainly from newspaper pulp and wood chips, absorbs water more easily, which causes the shingle to break down.

Today's shingles also have improved weathering grade asphalt and better sealed exteriors, Gross

Because of the better materials and manufacturing processes, today's shingles come with guarantees ranging from 25 to 40 years, he said. But perhaps even more important than the physical improvements to the shingles — at least to the average consumer — is the appearance and color of today's shingles.

Gross said that the shingle must perform aesthetically as well as functionally. "The pitch of the roof is getting steeper and steeper so you see a lot more roof,"

Traditional roofs with 12 feet fog depth for every four feet of height have given way to 12 feet of depth for every 12 feet of height, he said.

"There are strip shingles with, shadow lines, dimensional shingles, and shingles with accentuated blends to create hot spots — things that aesthetically make roofs look better," he said.

Gone are the days when roofs were all gray. Of course, gray is still available, but builders and homeowners can choose from a variety of

in condominiums, real estate and reds, greens, browns, golds blacks and even off-whites.

And these colors have different shades to add character to the roof's appearance, hé added.

In addition to colors, shingles also have different textures today, Gross said. The flat style of shingle is still the most common, but more elaborate "shadow shingles," which create an illusion of dimension and gives depth to a roof, are gaining popularity. Shadow shingles use intense blend drops for vividness and an interrupted shadow line to provide randomness and dimension, he

Look to city, co-op rules to resolve burning issue

our cooperative who insist on burn- decks were built by the developer ing leaves on the playground areas of the cooperative. It makes it hard for the kids to play and the smoke makes me sick. The board seeks to ignore this, saying it gives some of the elderly folks something to do. What can I do?

First, the burning of leaves may well be in violation of a local ordipance, which city officials have a responsibility to stop by ticketing or other means. Second, the burning of leaves may be a violation of the cooperative rules, particularly if not done by an authorized person or company. You should advise the board in writing of its obligation to enforce the rules or promulgate new or additional ones, as the case may be, to prevent pollution, maintain safety and to otherwise improve the investment of the cooperative and its surroundings. Perhaps the cooperative can place additional recreational facilities in the playground for both young and the more elderly.

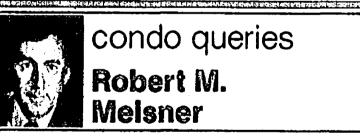

What can be done to stop noise coming from the unit above me in my condominium? The board doesn't seem to do anything about it.

This is one of the most common complaints in condominiums perhaps because of the proximity of the units to one another, lax codes on sound conditioning and poor construction of buildings. Depending on your particular situation, the condominium association or the devel-oper may have a responsibility to do something. Of course, part of the problem depends on whether your neighbor upstairs is acting within "normal" bounds or is causing noise swer your question.

The patios and courtyards are mentioned in the bylaws as being limited common elements, but the decks are not mentioned. The board is trying to determine whether the maintenance of the decks is an association or coowner responsibility. The board has been told by the managing agent that the decks are usually a coowner's responsibility. There are some co-owners who are insistent that it be an association responsibility. The board would incur an assessment that we are trying to avoid. The board would also have regulations as to the upkeep of the decks if it is a co-awner's responsibility. If the board wishes to make this a coowner responsibility, what should be done to enforce this regulations? It is difficult to determine with any certainty whether the maintenance or painting of the decks is an association responsibility vis-a-vis a co-owner responsibility without reviewing the condominium master deed, the condominium bylaws and the site plan. Relying on the managing agent to give you an opinion is both unwise and inappropriate. The management company should be managing, now lawyering. In addition, if the opinion of the management company is wrong, it may not even have liability insurance to cover its inaccuracies. What the association must do is to obtain a comprehensive legal opinion regarding whose responsibility it is to maintain that is above and beyond reasonable—the decks. Whether an assessment ness.
