Resident fled burning jet, helped others

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

A Westland man who survived Monday's collision of two planes on a Metro Airport runway has apparently decided he doesn't want to further discuss his experience with reporters.

Scott O'Brien was a passenger on Northwest Flight 1482, one of 43 people on board the Pittsburghbound DC-9 that reportedly strayed onto an active runway and was hit by a Boeing 727-200 hurtling toward takéoff. An explosion and fire then ripped through the DC-9.

Eight people were reported killed and 23 injured on the DC-9. There were no serious injuries among the 146 people on board the other jet, Northwest Flight 299

O'Brien's roommate, reached at their Westland home Wednesday, said O'Brien had "no comment" about the incident.

A spokeswoman for Federal Mogul Corp. of Southfield, O'Brien's employer, confirmed he was a passenger on the plane and that he suffered minor, unspecified injuries. A taped message on O'Brien's office phone said he would be out "indefinitely."

The charred hull of Northwest Flight 1482, still on the ground at Metro airport hours after Monday's crash with another departing flight, served as a grim reminder to the accident which claimed the lives of eight people and injured 21 others.

One question remains in air tragedy: why?

By Wayne Peal staff writer.

Investigators are still sifting through the ashes of Northwest Airlines Flight 1482, trying to dis-cover why the Pittsburgh-bound DC-9 jet apparently wandered into the path of another departing Northwest flight Monday at Metro Airport, killing eight and leaving 21 others injured.

All of those killed, including a 43-year-old Northwest flight attendant, had been identified as of Wednesday morning.

A West Bloomfield woman was among the passengers who remained hospitalized, though her condition had been upgraded to good. Most of the injured had been released from area hospitals by Tuesday.

Flight attendant Heidi Joost of Dearborn, a 22-year Northwest employee, was the first reported fatality.

OTHER FATALITIES were:

burgh. do Springs, Colo.

• Kingsley A, Brown, 30, Pitts-

• Thomas Kopriva, 50, Memphis, Tenn.

• Daniel E. Loughnane, 44, Memphis.

• Fred Zitto, 59, Memphis.

• Mauro Bottiglione, 23, of Venezuela.

Among the injured, Lilly Cohn, 63, of West Bloomfield, was transferred Tuesday from Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, where she received initial treatment for a collapsed lung to the surgical unit at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak. She was listed in good condition Wednesday.

Preliminary explanation for the fiery crash could come as soon as today from air traffic controller tapes and flight recorders - the jets' so called "black boxes." It could take as long as one year, however, before a final explanation is given for the tragedy, according to John Lauber, chief investigator • Mary Blankenship, S7, Colora- motor the National Traffic Safety Board.

Major findings will be released as quickly as possible, Lauber said. "ANYTIME WE have something that warrants immediate recommendation, we will do so," he said.

Lauber said investigators will remain on the scene through the end of the week, examining both jets as well as interviewing passengers and crew members.

Investigators have declined to offer any explanation for Monday's crash.

Speculation, however, has likened the accident to a driver turning the wrong way down a one way street in foggy weather.

Visibility at the airport was reported at less than one-quarter mile due to an early afternoon fog that followed a morning snowfall. Officials declined comment on a report that a DC-9 flight crew member told the tower "I'm lost." The flight's captain, 24-year pilot William Lovelace, 52, of Phoenix, was embarking on his 13th flight after returning from a five year medical leave.

It was the first flight without an airline observer in the cockpit with Lovelace, who returned to active duty Nov. 20 after completing an airline retraining course.

Airline officials noted the DC-9 left its gate four minutes ahead of schedule but said that decision, like the decision for take off, remained with the pilot.

Investigators from the NTSB began examining the charred DC- 9 and damaged, Memphis-bound 727 late Monday evening. Preliminary reports indicated the right wing of Memphis-bound Flight 299 sheared off one of the DC-9's rear engine, apparently setting the plane afire.

Hospitals respond to crisis

By Tedd Schneider .staff writer

Five area hospitals and personnel from two dozen fire departments in Wayne and Oakland Counties played major roles in Monday's collision between two Northwest Airlines jets on a Metro Airport runway.

A sixth hospital, Westland Medical Center, could have been reopened to accept emergency patients if necessary, a spokeswoman for the hospital's parent company said Tuesday.

The former county hospital, 31/2 miles from the airport, was converted to a psychiatric and substance abuse treatment facility this fall.

"From a strategic standpoint, certainly it could have been used if we absolutely needed it," said Pat O'Dowd of Oakwood Health Services Corp. "But there's so many other hospitals in the immediate area that are part of the Oakwood system I don't think it would have been necessary unless there was an extremely large number of (injured)."

OF THE 23 injured taken to local hospitals, 16 patients were transported to the closest open emergency room, at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne. Two of those patients were transferred to the Burn Center at University of Michigan Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mayor Robert Thomas' decision to-dismiss-non-resident-members of city boards and commission has drawn criticism from at least one Westland City Council member.

"I definitely believe the mayor has the right to choose who serves (on boards)," said councilman Charles Pickering. "But I'm not sosure it has to be tied into the residency issue for those (boards) that aren't specifically tied into the (city) charter."

- Thomas last week asked eight non-residents currently serving on city boards to submit their resignations.

The mayor cited city charter language calling for board and commission members to fulfill the same residency requirement as elected officials.

The eight are: Yvonne Johnson from the Cable Commission; Joyce Wheeler from the Community Development Citizens Advisory Committee; Dale Merrifield from the Rehabilitation Review Board; Dan Vasiloff, Don Hoffman and Marilyn Zielgler from the Economic Development Advisory Commission; and Norman Stockmeyer and Pat Dana from the Economic Development Corporation, Another member, Susan Slaczka of the parks and recreation advisory council, has informed Thomas of her intention to resign because she is moving from Westland.

"HOPEFULLY, THIS won't be a blanket ruling," Pickering said during Monday's city council meeting.

Pickering said a number of nonresident business people have legitimate concerns and may play "a. valuable role" in helping to determine city policies.

Currently there are 143 people serving voluntarily on 23 city boards and commissions.

They are appointed by either the mayor or the council and most don't receive compensation. There is a small stipend for members of several groups.

The charter was amended in 1974 to permit non-resident appointed city officials. Non-elected city employees are also permitted to live outside Westland. )

Other western Wayne County residents who survived the accident included a Livonia man beginning a business trip and a Plymouth couple on their way to San Antonio for vacation.

James Kobberstad of Livonia was sitting in an aisle seat on Flight 299 at 1:45 p.m. when he saw something that resembled a shadow.

"When you're going that fast and you're 100 feet away, what you see is a blur," the service representative for Digital Electronic Automation Inc. of Livonia said. # City takes on holiday glow

By Tedd Schneider staff writer

The Christmas spirit was electrifying around Westland City Hall Monday — literally.

With $4,458 worth of new, heavyduty holiday bulbs, the annual tree lighting ceremony at the civic center took on a special glow.

Of course, the ecstatic faces of children and their parents in the crowd of 150 — especially after Santa Claus' arrival via Westland police cruiser — probably did just as much to brighten the surroundings as all the hardware from Bronner's of Frankenmuth.

The annual ceremony, which is chock-full of time-honored traditions, played host to at least one new face of note this time around. Mayor Robert Thomas attended his first lighting and presented Santa with a key to Westland.

Thomas was particularly proud of the additional lighting and the fact that "it all worked, considering the way things are wired around this building." gan at 6:30 p.m. with introductions of local dignitaries and the winner of the "What Christmas Means to Me" essay contest, Marjorie Brooks, a sixth grader at Hamilton Elementary School.

Runners-up were Nicole Watkins, sixth grader at Edison Elementary School; and Joshua Mayse, a fourth-grade student at Stottlemyer Elementary School.

Winning students received a $25 U.S. Savings Bond from National Bank of Detroit, Ford Road branch.

OTHER GUESTS included Simmi Prasad, winner of the 1990 Outstanding Young Woman of the Year award, and 1990 Miss Westland, Amy Wess.

The crowd also sang along as Edie Kurtz, keyboard player Lavern Porter and members of the Friendship Center Kitchen Band performed a brief holiday musicale.

The sing-a-long was a bit tentative at first, but participants seemed to pick up the holiday feeling by about the second chorus of "Jingle Bells."

A brother and sister were ticketed by Westland police Friday for assaulting an officer and interfering with officers who were trying to arrest the brother.

Police were called to the 34000 block of Decatur after getting a complaint of a man beating a woman on a front lawn. Before arriving at the home, officers were also told that the man was armed with a knife.

After entering the house, a man was discovered in a closet. The suspect leaped out and started fighting with an officer and grabbed his night stick. Other officers helped subdue the suspect, who they said had sustained cuts on both hands and on his forehead before they entered the home.

The man was later taken to Annapolis Hospital, Wayne, for treatcrime watch

The woman was ticketed after she jumped on the back of an officer who was trying to arrest her brother, police said.

Students get measles protection

By Marle Chestney staff writer

More than 180 Livonia school district seventh graders lined up outside a local clinic Saturday to get immunized against three deadly communicable diseases now striking children and adults born after 1957.

The number of students who took advantage of free immunizations against measles, mumps and rubella far exceeded the expectations of the program's three local sponsors, and far exceeds the statewide average of youngsters taking part in the joint federal-state $3 million program.

'We're estatic," said Linda Hoff, a PTA member who helped organize the program for the district which includes the northern section of Westland.

"We thought we would be doing well if we ended up with 120 kids. They were lined up outside the clinic and it took some time getting them . through.'

THE FREE shots also have been offered to seventh graders in districts throughout Michigan:

However, less than 10 percent of the state's seventh graders have had the shots in a program that expires this month, said Dr. Donald Lawrenchuk, Wayne County Medical Director.

"Only 9.4 percent of all eligible 7th graders took advantage of it, and ; 100,000 doses were provided state-wide," Lawrenchuk said. "That falls far below our target of 100 percent."

Lawrenchuk said the program might be extended next year to cover another group of students, possibly eighth graders. Many parents who came with their children Saturday to the clinic asked why the program didn't cover other children in their family, Hoff said.

"Most families have more than one child. They also wanted to bring their 10th grader."

Getting a second measles, mumps and rubella shot is crucial to everyone, children and adults alike, born after Jan. 1, 1957, Lawrenchuk sald.

The state requires one shot be given to children by the time they are 15 months old. A second shot sometimes is given before the child begins school but is not mandatory, Lawrenchuk sald.

"Some states make a second dose mandatory, but not Michigan," he said.

THE SECOND shot is crucial because anyone born after 1957 doesn't have the natural immunity against the three diseases earlier genera-tions got when they contracted the diseases.

"Before 1957 few were immunized, so virtually everyone got the disease," Lawrenchuk said. "Once they got it, they can't get it again. These are some of the most communicable diseases known to mankind. After 1957, more got immunized, but not everyone."

Saturday's program was manned by volunteers from PTA chapters, the school district and Botsford General Hospital.

"I can't think of three better organizations that I've had the pleasure of working with," Lawrenchuk said.

The volunteers turned two youngsters away Saturday, one because of illness and the second because the child was not accompanied by a parent.

The shots were intended for students who either do not have a private doctor or for students whose parents can't afford to pay for the vaccination, which costs around $50.

The shoulder area of youngsters immunized Saturday might be ten-... der and seem warm but that's a normal reaction to the shot, Lawrenchuk said.

However, only one person in several hundred thousand experience a severe, or life-threatening reaction, he said.

"I haven't seen a single instance of that in the eight years I've been with the department," he said.

Dan Kerber, deputy director of airport operations, said response was swift. Rescue efforts, however, may have been compounded by the fog. Emergency crew members reported they were unable to see the burning DC-9 for as long as 30 seconds after first responding to the less-severely damaged 727.

Concerned with what he termed an appearance of unclear authority at the airport in the moments after the crash, county commission Chairman Arthur Blackwell, D-Detroit, formed an ad hoc commission committee to investigate the crash.

Most patients were treated and released for burns, cuts, bruises and other minor injuries, O'Dowd said.

Two victims, including a co-pilot from the DC-9 that took the brunt of the collision, were taken to Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, Northwest identified the first officer from that plane as James Schifferns, 43, of Spokane, Wash.

Four people were taken to Heritage Hospital in Taylor and one, a pregnant woman suffering from smoke inhalation, was treated and released at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn.

Disaster training was "fresh in the minds" of Annapolis staffers, who went through an emergency preparedness drill Oct. 13, one of two such drills each year, said Cassandra Speir, acting director of nursing.

"When we got the first phone call, the information was that there were two planes and a potential for more than 200 (victims)," said Richard Marinucci, Farmington Hills fire chief.

A 48-member Hazardous Materials Team, including two representatives from each of 24 area fire departments, was also called to the scene, Marinucci said.

TEAM MEMBERS receive special training for fighting fires involving toxic or flammable chemicals such as jet fuel.

Marinucci said it was the first time the team has responded to an incident at an airport.

High profile for N'west

LUnlike 1987, when Northwest Air-lines personnel generally avoided contact with airport officials and the media, representatives of the Minneapolis-based airlines new ownership took a high profile in the aftermath of Monday's jet crash.

Perhaps in an effort to improve an already-battered company image, company public relations director Bob Gibbons flew to the scene the afternoon of the crash and company chairman Al Checchi arrived the next day, meeting with staff and crash survivors.

Wayne County Executive Edard McNamara, sharply critical of Northwest's response to the crash of Flight 255 in 1987, said he was more pleased with Northwest's response this time.

O&E arts editor gets state award

By Judith Doner Berne staff writer

Corlnne "Co" Abatt, who attempts to write objectively about the art world which touches our suburbs, couldn't edif out the superlatives Monday night,

Abatt, Creative Living editor for the Observer & Eccentric for 15 years, was one of nine recipients of the Governor's Arts Awards given by Concerned Citizens for the Arts in Michigan, the statewide arts advocacy organization.

"This is the most wonderful award I could ever imagine getting," Abatt said in accepting the Media Honor Roll Award before 550 bejeweled women and tuxedoed men on the stage of the renovated State Theatre in Detroit.

Abatt, a longtime Beverly Hills resident who was accompanied to the event by daughter Julie, publicly acknowledged she was a little uncomfortable in the spotlight. "I'd rather be covering it than getting it.

"It has been my privilege to get to cover you - the members of the arts world," she told the crowd. She noted memorable interviews with Emma Schaver, the opera singer from Southfield; Peggy deSalles a Birmingham art dealer who endowed a wing at the DIA and an auditorium at Cranbrook; and internationally-known . photographer Yousuf Karsh.

"THOSE PEOPLE were so alive as so many of you are here tonight."

In fact, a number of audience members have been the subjects of Abatt's feature stories, including Bloomfield Hills artist Aviva Rob-Inson, whose husband Jack is CCAM chairman, and Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association director Ken Gross.

Gross, who acknowledged he was one of the people who nominated Abatt for the award, said simply: "She lives it. It's beyond her job. That's the kind of thing this is all about - to recognize people who meaningful night," Blanchard told the crowd, "but of course the arts are every day. The arts are theglue that holds our society together."

Blanchard, defeated by John Engler last month, looked anything but depressed, vaulting onto the stage and whittling down his prepared speech because "People who are being honored never quite get their due."

HE INTRODUCED a number of local legislators, including state Sen. Jack, Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, and state Rep. Judy Miller, R-Birmingham as well as executive director of the Michigan Council for the Arts, Bloomfield Township resident Bunny Goldman.

Jack Robinson led the audience in a standing toast to Blanchard who, no matter what political party you belong to, "has approached the issues honestly and set a high standard of public service.

"We also know he will continue to support the arts as a private citizen should he not return to public life," Robinson said.

Marilyn Wheaton, CCAM executive director, Tuesday said she has spoken to members of Engler's staff and "they have given me no indication that he would not be interested in continuing" participation in the awards.

This was the first time the awards presentation was held at an arts venue rather than a hotel ballroom. "We did better than we have ever done" on ticket sales - although the weather kept some from attending, Wheaton said. That included the Four Tops who were supposed to fly in to receive the International Achievement Award.

"I was very, very pleased," Wheaton said. "We've never had such a sophisticated presentation audio-visually. Personally, although I don't make the decision, I can't imagine having it any other place."

Candidates eye western Wayne commission post

By Wayne Poal staff writer

Contenders are lining up to fill Milton Mack's soon-to-be vacated Wayne County Commission seat, but when an election will be held is anyone's guess.

Assistant county executive Bryan Amann of Wayne, Canton resident Shirley Poling and Wayne councilman Robert Beeny, all Democrats, have confirmed their candidacies, as has Victor Gustafson, a Canton Republican.

Mack, a commissioner since 1982, is expected to resign today after appointment to the Wayne County Probate bench. He will be sworn in as judge Dec. 18.

Though the seat only includes Canton, among Observer area communities, its impact is far broader. Mack was considered one of county Executive Edward McNamara's staunchest supporters on the board and a key vote in the often-narrow majority that sided with the executive in budget disputes with commission leaders. Commissioners could temporarily fill the vacancy as soon as this afternoon, but would also have to set a special election some time next vear.

"ESSENTIALLY, commissioners have to do two things," said Ben Washburn of the county's legislative research department. "They have to fill the balance of Mack's current term (which ends Dec. 31) plus, they have to call an election for the new term."

Mack defeated Gustafson, 16,118-13,387 in the November general election and was to have begun his fifth consecutive commission term. Jan. 1.

By law, an election must be held next year to fill the two-year commission term. But there's no law saving when the election would take place

"That's the odd thing about state election law," said Brad Wittman of the state elections division.

The number of declared Democratic candidates indicates there a primary would have to scheduled. The general election could follow in less than 60 days, Wittman said.

While Gustafson, a Canton planning commission member has said he should be appointed to the seat as the second-place finisher, his appointment is apparently barred under the county charter.

"The charter specifies that whoever is appointed must be of the same party as the person holding the seat," Washburn said.

Before today's commission meeting it wasn't clear whether the commission would even fill the balance of Mack's current term.

"THEY COULD choose to leave it vacant until the election," Washburn said. 1

Another possibility involves appointment of an interim commis- - de-politicize the appointment," Bursioner who wouldn't seek election next year.

Such a situation occurred when commission chairman Arthur Carter resigned in mid-1989 to accept a position with the Detroit Schools. At that time, commissioner's appointed Carter's wife to fill the seat.

Contenders for the balance of Mack's current term include Jerry Higgs of Wayne, Mack's longtime aide. Mack confirmed Higgs' candidacy and also confirmed his aide wouldn't seek the new term.

Due to his new position as a judge, Mack won't endorse any candidates. -"It's hard to step back and not be involved in partisan politics after being involved so long, but it's what I have to do," he said.

Cindy Burgess, an official with the Canton Community Foundation and former candidate for township clerk, is another potential contender.

"I'm putting my name forward to gess said. "Whoever is appointed could face a backlash if they decided to run for the new term and I don't want to see that happen." Among the potential election contenders:

o Amann is an assistant county executive, working under McNamara. His most notable recent duties include serving as "noise czar", listening to complaints and arguing for changes in Metro Airport flight patterns. Head of the 15th Districit Democratic Party organization, he is a former debuty to county Clerk James Killeen.

• Beeny, has been a Wayne city councilman since 1981 and a member of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce board of directors. He is a financial planner and owner of Financial Planning Services, Wayne.

• Poling, an employee of General Motors Hydra-Matic, Ypsilantl, is also a regional coordinator for UAW Region 1A, Taylor and a member of the University of Michigan union minorities/women's leadership training project.

County insiders envision Amann and Poling as the strongest Democratic contenders. Amann, a former UAW staff assistant; apparently ran afoul of the union by supporting a challenger against incumbent commissioner - and union choice -Kay Beard in November's Westland/ Garden City area commission race.

Gustafson's strong showing against Mack, and a potentially divided Demcoratic Party, is seen as giving the GOP a good chance to capture the seat.

"Republican traditionally do well in special elections," said board Vice Chairwoman Susan Heintz, R-Northville Township, the only Republican on the commission.

Headlee tax cut plan faces Jan. 25 deadline

Fighting to put the Headlee II property tax cut before the Legislature, Taxpayers United has until Jan. 25 to prove it gathered enough petition signatures.

State elections director Christopher Thomas last week told the Board of State Canvassers his staff believes several thousand of the remaining petitions to be screened are flawed and should not be counted.

"We cannot accept the dubious reasons they're using to try to disenfranchise good-citizen voters," said Richard Headlee, the Farmington Hills insurance executive who chairs Taxpayers United.

'The flaws are not in the petitions. but in the thinking and methodology of the Secretary of State's staff," said the head of TU, which seeks a 20 percent property tax cut with state reimbursement of all lost local revenues.

HEADLEE SAID TU people last month traveled to township, city and county offices and found that more 70 percent of the petition signatures declared invalid on their face by the Secretary of State were determined by their hometown clerks to be genuine signatures of registered voters.

"A Village of Beverly Hills voter, born in 1915, who now has a Birmingham home address, and who pays Birmingham School District taxes, was initially disqualified for writing 'Birmingham' in the space on the petition labeled 'mark whether registered to vote in city or township and write its name."

"That voter knew very well that the Southfield Township voter registration records were kept down the

If the Legislature fails to act, the proposal would go before voters in 1992.

Millage vote

Settle union contracts first

2A(W)

AYNE-WESTLAND school officials will make a third try to get a tax increase approved by voters.

While the board has procedurally___ reserved March 13 for a special election date, it hasn't decided on how much of a tax increase to put on the ballot.

We hope that any increase reflects the economic times and that school officials remember. the community has twice rejected a millage rate increase in the past 10 months.

Two advisory groups made up of local parents have made it clear, according to Superintendent Dennis O'Neill, that they want the unresolved union contracts settled before the upcoming millage election.

We agree.

The community spoke loud and clear in the past two elections that it is opposed to major tax increases aimed primarily at raising employees'

Union contracts should be taken care of before any millage election to avoid giving voters the impression that a tax hike will go primarily for salary raises.

wages and salaries. Whether teachers and other staffers are overpaid or underpaid isn't the issue here.

Voters may be reluctant to approve any increase, but if there is any, it should be for restoration of educational programs and services cut at the start of the current school year.

In keeping with the community's mood and the economic times, we hope the board of education and administration will come up with a tax package that reflects the community's desires and its ability to pay.

Charter clash Residency issue in dispute

AYOR ROBERT Thomas wants a small number of members of municipal advisory board and commission mem-. bers to resign because they don't live in the city as required by the city charter.

Clearly, the charter should be adhered to or revised.

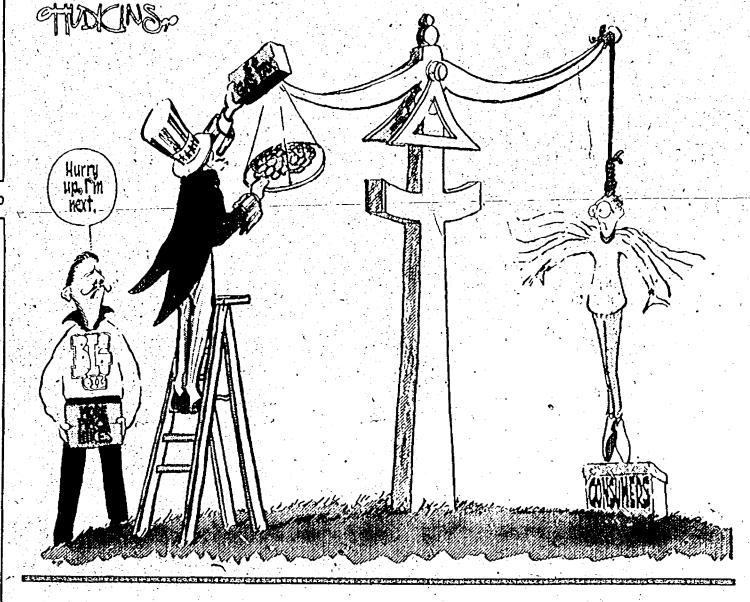

But the hypocrisy is that the charter doesn't require city employees to live in the community.

The mayor's contention on the board/commission membership is valid in that input on city policies and programs should come from local residents: But in past years, the city has been well served by a few non-resident business people who have provided valuable input on economic issues, such as property developments. While those individuals don't live in Westland, they spend most of their work hours in the city and can provide insights that a local resident who works in another community may not have.

We hope that there is some way that those non-resident business people can continue to serve.

But the big conflict in our view is that the mayor doesn't want non-Westland residents to serve on advisory groups but has no problem in having city employees, including some department heads, who live outside the city implementing city policies and programs for everyone else. Clearly it's time for a review of the city charter to allow some advisory groups to have nonresidents or require that all employees live in the community.

Our individual towns make region a fine place to live

THE HEADLINES of late have been gloomy. Recession. Layoffs. High fuel prices going higher. War in the Middle East. Detroit Llons.

So it's good when somebody comes along and reassures us of something we knew perfectly well all along: Southeastern Michigan is a fine place to live.

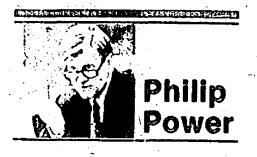

The Population Crisis Committee, a highly respected Washington-based family-planning advocacy group, recently released a study concluding that living conditions in this area are pretty competitive with any place in the world - sixth out of 100 areas studled.

We're better than New York or Los Angeles or San Francisco. Our region is more livable than Tokyo or London or Paris - or even Toronto. We score especially well in low food costs, housing, access to schools and lack of traffic jams. And we're pret-

It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out one good reason our area is doing pretty well: It is precisely because it is not one big regional government, with the troubles of Detroit rubbed off on the neighboring suburbs and vice versa.

is precisely because it is not one big neighboring suburbs and vice versa-Farmington and Plymouth, Birmingham and Livonia, Rochester and Troy, Northville and Howell are all fine places to live because they are individual communities, each with its own history and traditions, its own politics and lifestyle. The notion that they are all the same, just small sub-units of a larger regional reality, is what distinguishes big-city daily newspapers from community newspapers such as this.

one region would make any appreciable difference in anybody's quality of life - except that of bureaucrats who work for regional government.

In fact, it strains my credulity to think that Detroit Mayor Coleman Young would be at all interested in any kind of regional government structure he didn't control.

Young has been, on nearly all regional government, with the trou- counts, an increasing disappointbles of Detroit rubbed off on the ment in recent years. But he has been consistent on one main point: the necessity for black people to control all aspects of the city in which they have a large majority of the population.

Tax sharing

Robin Hood method of funding

IKE A zombie, the notion of property tax base sharing keeps rising from the dead. Last week the state Senate Appropriations Committee buried the idea for this legislative session, thanks to the votes of Sens. Doug Cruce, R-Troy, Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, and Robert Geake, R-Northville.

Probably the zombie will be back in 1991. The high priests of this voodoo — Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port Huron, and Rep. Bill Keith, D-Garden City — are tenacious.

Superficially, the idea has charm. Your school district has a big factory or mall. Ours has only homes and farms. We should collect the growth of commercial and industrial property taxes on either a countywide or statewide basis and distribute the revenue on a per-pupil basis.

Our kids shouldn't be deprived just because they were born on the disadvantaged side of a boundary — so the sales pitch goes.

MUCH IS WRONG with that argument.— Michigan has 560 school districts. Admittedly, some have only $2,500 per pupil to spend while others have $8,000.

"Poor" districts tend to be small and rural, although a few are residential areas in metropolitan suburbs. For many, the proper method of tax base sharing would be to consolidate into larger districts.

A consolidation plan was floated in the Legislature last year. Little districts fought it tooth and nail. They talked about "home rule," although there is no such thing as home rule for schools in the Michigan Constitution. Essentially they put petty, provincial politics above the education of their children.

They want to have their cake (business property taxes) and eat it, too (local control). No to that.

It's interesting that the proponents of sharing want to share only urban business property commercial and industrial. They never offer to share taxes on farms, which are certainly businesses, too.

SCHOOL, DISTRICTS with industry are pictured as rolling in wealth. Not quite so.

Many cities, particularly in the metropolitan suburbs, have recruited industry at great cost to build their tax bases for the schools. They have Incurred the cost of traffic, sewers, fire engines and a loss of country flavor to attract business. These cities often kept municipal services down resources and power to raise more. It should raise the floor of support for poor school districts, not lower the ceiling on the rest with the zomble of tax base sharing.

Legislature to play Robin Hood with their hardearned industrial dollars.

Some areas of Michigan don't want industry. They have lovely shorelines, pricey homes, quiet. That is their privilege. Why, then, should they share in the pot of commercial and industrial property taxes?

Other cities have driven out industry through high taxes, crime, bureaucracy and plainrudeness. We recall the big city dentist whoplanned to renovate a building for new offices only to have the city bulldoze it by mistake. Feeling unwanted, he moved to South Carolina.

Spending figures you hear of $7,000 and $8,000 per child are often exaggerated. Several districts in the O&E area place capital expenditures in the operating budget. At least one funnels its special education money through the operating budget. These budget techniques overstate spending on the classroom.

Many high-spending districts are in southeastern Michigan where costs are high - for health, insurances, and construction. Southeastern Michigan's average prices run 22 prcent higher than the rest of the state.

Districts are called "rich" only because of their business wealth. Many people in them are low-income folks and troubled families whose kids need counseling and special help.

FOR DISTRICTS which, despite high millage rates, lack adequate revenues for their kids, the Michigan Constitution has an answer: "The Legislature shall maintain and support a system of free public elementary and secondary schools as defined by law." (Art.-VIII, Sec. 2) "The Legislature shall impose taxes sufficient with other resources to pay the expenses of state government." (Art. IX, Sec. 1)

On a 25-year trend line, the state has reduced education's share of the budget. The state has $15 billion in resources and power to raise more. It ty good in living space, telephone service, noise and clean air.

THE RESPONSE from assorted liberals and Detroit mass media people was predictable: Let's make one big regional governmental unit out of "Greater Detroit."

The Free Press put it clearly: . . . the distinction between Detroit and its surrounding communities and even its Canadian neighbors is declining in significance. More and more, the local us-against-them attitude is a destructive fiction perpetuated by narrow-focus politicians and their equally myopic allies on both sides of the Detroit city limits." I'm sorry. It doesn't take a rocket scientist to figure out one good rea-

The role of philanthropy

To the editor:

As the chief executive officer of a full-service community hospital serving residents in a dozen other communities in western Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw countles, I am concerned about the financial Bituation confronting hospitals across the country.

Many hospites are facing grave financial problems, laying off staff, cutting back on services, and even closing. Fortunately, let me reassure you that the situation at St. Mary Hospital is not as grave as that of some hospitals.

On a national level, hospitals are losing $10 billion to $11.5 billion a year in uncompensated care. As the "bottom line" at hospitals continues to shrink, something needs to be done to maintain the quality of service.

It is unrealistic to think that government can solve hospitals' problems alone. Hospital expenses are increasing at a much faster rate than federal government payments to hospitals, such as Medicare and Medicaid. If hospitals are going to continue to provide quality care, public contributions must play a major role in hospitals' financial health. Individual and organization phi-

Creating a big regional govern-ment runs against the realities of the suburban and exurban communities, just as it goes against the grain of the realities of Detroit politics. To the editor:

To make a long story short, I had my husband's check, which we foolishly pre-signed so that I would be able to cash it at a neighboring store on my way to do some Christmas shopping.

I unexpectedly stopped at Ken's Country Produce on Ford in Westland to look at some grave coverings, where I unknowingly lost the check.

When I discovered the check missing, I went in to use the store's phone. I entered the store and was informed that April, an employee at Ken's, had found the check, called information to get our telephone number, then she proceeded to notify my husband. My husband then called the store to forewarn them I was coming and what had happened.

I have always had good feelings toward the people at Ken's, but this just re-emphasized how great they really are.

My sincere thanks to April for saving our family's Christmas and to you for letting me share it with the community.

points of view Possible national test for pupils questioned

THE ALL AND A DECEMBER OF THE ADDRESS OF THE ADDRES

Q: I hear that a national test out of Washington D.C. is going to be given to every child in our schools. Speaking as a teacher, we already have ' enough testing in our schools. Will this new national test serve any purpose?

A: Depends on who you talk to. Some believe the new national testing program is a significant move by Washington for more national influence and possibly more control of state education agencies and local schools.

Indeed, President Bush has a national Educational Goals Panel giving much time and effort to an expanded national assessment test. Why?

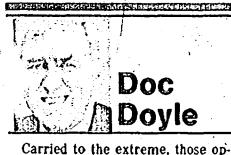

There are those in Washington who believe that student learning would be greatly enhanced if each state and our 83,000 schools would all agree on national goals, on a national curriculum.

The inference by some in Washington is that each state and each school district is a kingdom unto itself. That educational goals and curriculum vary as much as one superintendent style can vary from another superintendent's style.

However, the war drums are beating in many local school districts. The message is always the same, local control of our own destiny - we know our students and what is best for them.

Education's most powerful teacher/curriculum group, the Association of Supervision and Curriculum Development see little value in the national assessment test. Executive director Gordon Cawelti believes there is already too much testing which takes too much time from what is really important, classroom instruction.

In Michigan, we have the Michigan Educational Assessment Test (MEAP), standardized tests, locally developed Criterion Reference Tests, the SAT, ACT, and others.

posed to more testing would say: "Knowledge of lousy results is not a motivator or healer. Let's spend the millions of dollars that will go into this national testing program into funding programs that have proven successful in raising student "achievement."

You ask if this new national assessment test will serve any purpose. It's not new. It is simply an expansion of the National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) testing program which has been going on for 20 years.

Frankly most teachers, most building principals and many central office people are not even aware some don't really care - about the testing results of the NAEP. Why? There are no diagnostic results that a building principal or teacher can use to improve the learning of specific children in the building. And the child is usually the focal point of the quality principals and teachers, not national test results.

However, in a broader sense the national test has served a purpose. Let's take just one situation. Years ago the test found that young women were not scoring as well as young men in math and science.

A follow up soon discovered that the young women, including the brightest ones, were often being steered away from math and science and continually into secretarial type courses whether they wanted to be a sceretary or not.

Guess what happened once counselors started encouraging young women to consider engineering, high + tech., the medical profession. High school girls scored as well as or better than the boys in math and science on the national assessment test. The political problem for many is that a national test will result in a national report card for each and every school district, information which can be used for comparison purposes by citizens. This will not be a problem says Washington, the report will go directly to just your own school district.

The Michigan Department of Education promised that individual MEAP test results would not be published, that the MEAP test was for only local district use for program improvement. The "sunshine law" changed that, and rightly so. Today, every Michigan school district compares their MEAP results to other districts whether they like what they see or not.

On the other hand, some educators see nothing wrong with school districts comparing test results. San Diego Superintendent Thomas Boysen stated in Educational Weekly that the national assessment test will compare all school districts in each state and across the nation. And he says, "That's fine with me. I'll put my program and testing results up with any district."

Indeed, when our test results are compared with i.e. Japanese children using national test results, we don't look so good.

One wonders how some of the school districts in this readership area would compare with i.e. Japan if only their school district test scores were used for comparison and not national averages - national averages that lump all school districts together. There would be some pleasant surprises.

You see, many students in high test scoring districts score as well as the Japanese but not when they are lumped together with some of our less fortunate, lower socioeconomic areas.

Gender gap on court

THERE'S A gender gap on the Michigan Supreme Court.

Justice Patricia Boyle and Chief Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley tend to stick together in upholding tough prison sentences. They give two basic reasons:

• Their brothers are "inventing the authority" to reduce sentences.

• In reviewing facts, their brothers look at them "antiseptically," while the women dissenters view them from "a pro-victim standpöint."

Two key cases come to mind.

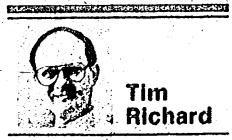

SCOTT MILBOURN was convicted in Eaton County of breaking and entering the residence of his ex-girlfriend with intent to maliciously destroy property worth more than $100.

Supreme Court guidelines say that, as a first offender, Milbourn, then 20, deserved one to 21/2 years in prison. In April 1985 Circuit Judge Richard Shuster gave him 10 to 15 - quadruple the maximum.

"This young man has literally fits of rage," Shuster said, recommending "protective custodial care" and "mental health counseling" for this "extreme danger to society."

In September the Supreme Court voted 5-2 to adopt a new "principle of proportionality," matching prison time to the seriousness of the crime and the background of the offender. It set aside Milbourn's sentence, sending the case back to Shuster for re-sentencing.

BOYLE WROTE the dissent, dwelling at length on the factual details.

Milbourn had lived with the woman six weeks, but she booted him and changed the locks - twice. Milbourn sought a reconciliation. Rebuffed, he broke into her vacant apartment that night, slashed her clothing, bedding, drapes, bathroom towels and shower curtains. He sprayed red paint on the carpet' and drapes, broke an end table and punched three holes in the walls, Boyle wrote. Out on bail, Milbourn threatened that if the woman didn't drop the charges, he would send "lewd" photos of her to her family, co-workers and friends. Later he smashed the windshield of her car, flattened a tire and threatened her new boyfriend.

While Milbourn had no prior conviction. Boyle noted he had been suspended from school for fighting and savagely attacked another inmate in jail.

Boyle accused the majority of viewing the facts as Milbourn's "overreacting to the situational stress of a lovers' quarrel . . ." She and Riley felt the victim had been "terrorized."

THE SECOND is the famous basketball score case, the second-degree murder conviction of Timothy Moore in 1985 for killing his ex-girlfriend. Detroit Recorder's Judge MDchael Talbot could have given Moore life or a term of years. Talbot gave him 100 to 200 years.

"A life sentence for this sort of crime allowed him to be reviewed (for parole) in 10 years," Talbot said, reasoning that with a 100.200 year sentence Moore, 34, would die before he became eligible for parole.

In May of 1989, four justices rejected his reasoning, ruling Talbot abused his discretion. They virtually accused Talbot of pandering to the press and public for being "tough on crime."

Boyle wrote the dissent, attacking the majority reasoning as "misguid-" ed." She noted that Moore shot the woman twice, struggled through three rooms of the house and stabbed her seven times. Her blood was splashed on walls 11 feet apart.

Boyle also said Moore had threatened the woman earlier, had a juvenile record and had three prior felony convictions, including armed robbery involving forcible entry and rape.

Women do see things differently.

FOOTNOTES: The women had two male allies - Justice Robert Griffin, who joined in the Moore case dissent; and candidate Clark Durant, who used these cases in his campaign ads.

Talbot reduced Moore's sentence to 50 years. Last week Shuster gave Milbourn the identical 10-15 years.

Mom trades books for looks and life without ADC

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

If anything, three years of being on ADC has made Annette Dudzinski resilient.

"The hell with what everyone thinks," Dudzinski said. "I'm going to get out of this rut."

For a women with a 4-year-old child depending on government assistance for survival that is really saying a lot.

Dudzinski will tell you the system can beat a person down, leaving their self-esteem strewn about like confetti on the floor after a New Year's Eve party. Not only is it the small amount money she receives, it's the looks.

The examining stare from the cashier at the supermarket who collects the food stamps, the emptyeyed look from the burned-out case worker who's heard her story from hundreds of other clients or the glare from society as a whole who maintain people on public assistance are just indolent burdens on the system.

Dudzinski knows the stereotype: "They're lazy. They sleep all day. They sell their food stamps to buy liquor. They drive big cars . . . Yeah, I've heard it."

Dudzinski might have been inclined to believe that about herself. She grew up in a middle class envi-

First, a new client sits down with an intake worker, She's given a mountain of paperwork to fill out. The forms ask for such things as a Social Security number for her daughter.

With dignity set aside, a person is given a form to take to neighbors tosign, verifying her residence and the number of people living in the home. If a form isn't returned properly filled out, a notice is sent that the grant has been terminated

"They assume you're trying to get away with something," she said. "You're abusing the system."

DUDZINSKI RECALLS one case worker who was so rude she wouldn't allow her to finish a sentence. There are exceptions, she said. Workers who see a person trying to help themselves are more understanding.

But when self-confidence is already at a low-ebb. Dudzinski sald it's difficult. Being on ADC Is hardly the life of luxury some people paint it.

Dudzinski receives $380 a month from DSS and $113 in food stamps a month. Out of the $380, she pays $170 in rent in addition to utility bills and clothing for her and her daughter.

Shopping for clothes is often limit#### ed to garage sales and second-hand shops. She drives a '79 Pinto. Her soclal life is non-existent.

"One thing I really hate is when I go to the grocery store," she said. "You want to get into a line where nobody is behind you. They look at you and your child, even the cashiers. They look at you + like, 'What's wrong with you. Why do uou need food stamps."

At a supermarket, though, is where Dudzinski found a path out of her predicament. She overheard someone talking about the Project HERS (now known as From Chocolate Chips to Micro-Chips) program at Schoolcraft College.

DUDZINSKI INQUIRED about the program, which is designed to help single parent women enter the work force. She attended the orientation meetings, took a skills assessment test and found out about financial aid in order to attend college.

More than that, Dudzinski found herself in a room with other women who were like herself. And, in some cases, much worse off.

Another facet of Project HERS orientation meeting worked on selfesteem building exercises.

"I started building confidence," she said. "I started to realize I'm worth something . . . I don't have to stay in this hole. It's possible to change."

At 31, Dudzinski was back in school - taking classes at Schoolcraft College. She is working towards an associate's degree in nursing. She's completed 42 credit hours. earning a place on the dean's list.

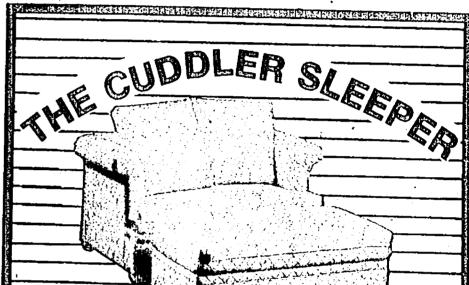

A Pell Grant pays for her books and tuition. A friend and her father help care for Felicia. During the past few years, friends have been really supportive - especially professional women who have children.

"Once you have a goal, you're OK," she said. "You find out you're worthwhile."

Annette Dudzinski and her daughter, Felicia, 4, have been on ADC for three years, but she is making a comeback with the help of Schoolcraft College's From Chocolate Chips to Micro-Chips program.

Dear Ms. Green,

I read your column in the Eccentric with great interest and would be delighted if you would analyze my somewhat eratic handwriting. I am 61 years young and right handed. I hope I am fortunate enough to be chosen!

A.N., Troy

Dear A.N.;

Your interest in my column pleases me and I am happy to analyze your neat handwriting with its many angular formations.

You are a deep thinker who submits everything to mental analysis. No one can call you gullible.

Will power and determination characterize your modus operandi. You are well organized. I can see the planning and then the implementation of what you set out to achieve. An element of optimism about your goals can be seen. Enthusiasm surfaces when you are doing the things you most enjoy.

Mental challenges provide stimulation for you. Do you enjoy doing the daily crossword puzzle and bridge hands? In all you do you strive for perfection and are not satisfied with anything less than your best effort. People around you soon learn you are both reliable and realistic.

You are particular about the things you want and can be a tad aggressive about going after them. I might also add there are many things that you desire. You seem to have some natural ability or interest for working with figures and the money that numbers represent.

Past experiences have a way of impacting heavily upon you. It is difficult for you to forgive and forget when you feel you have been wronged. A tad of sarcasm is ready with when you feel the need to defend yourself.

You enjoy a lively discussion. Once you arrive at a decision you way can be rather firmly based. You also appear to enjoy having your own ........ way.

Socially, you tend to cultivate those people who share similar interests. Your personal life is closely guarded. Few people are permitted ..... to share your innermost feelings.

An innate eye for aesthetics is suggested by the placement of your handwriting. This would be reflected both in your home and in your personal appearance.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white unlined paper, writing in the first person signature. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. Lorene Green regrets that time does not allow her to mail out personal replies.

Money matters: God, pastors love cheerful givers

By Arlene Funke special writer

There's an upbeat mood at Aldersgate United Methodist Church in Redford.

Membership, which had declined over several years, is rising. The building is adequate to meet the needs of the 700 members, and weekly collections are keeping pace with the bills.

"Our giving is a little ahead of inflation," said the Rev. M. Clement Parr, pastor of Aldersgate. "There's a real spirit of optimism."

Still, said the 57-year-old Parr, it doesn't pay to be complacent.

"Back in the late 1950s and early '60s, it was easy to grow a church," said Parr, a Redford resident. "That isn't the case anymore."

Published reports have indicated that the excesses of some highpowered TV evangelists repel many. Still, stewardship - the managing of resources — is an issue no church can ignore.

"It's an issue that needs to be addressed," said the Rev. Kenneth Grief, 41, pastor of the 175-member Grace Baptist Church in Livonia. "I think a lot of churches have a bad rap."

CHURCHES RAISE money through the collection plate. Occa sionally, offerings are sought for expenses ranging from new carpeting to roof repairs.

Other sources of revenue are rummage sales, craft shows, carnivals, festivals and Las Vegas gambling parties. Endowment funds and memorial offerings can be valuable sources.

The Rev. Richard Peters, pastor of Rosedale Gardens Presbyterian Church in Livonia, emphasizes that stewardship also can mean donating time and talent. The church has 700 members.

"There are a hundred ways of helping the church without (spending) money," said Peters, 47, of Novi. "There is a limited amount of money that people are able to put aside for charitable organizations. You have to work out your priorities, and hopefully the church will be one of the top 10."

Rosedale Gardens is in good shape. It was established in the 1920s when the Livonia subdivision of the same name was developed. The building's paid for, and the last major expansion took place around 1960.

Peters believes many mainline Protestants choose their churches on the basis of proximity and programs. Meeting those needs requires both money and enthusiastic people.

"It's an expression of faith," Peters said. "When you become a member of an organization, there . are certain responsibilities."

THE CHURCH is experiencing an influx of young families, many with double incomes.

"We seem to be riding a new crest," Peters said.

Several pastors, citing biblical passages, encourage members to tithe, to give 10 percent of their earnings back to the church.

RESIDENCE VIEWER CONTRACTOR OF CONTRACTOR OF

"I'm not shy about that at all," said Aldersgate's Parr. "When we mention money, the heavy givers are never angry."

It is "foolish" for church officials to shy away from talking about money, Parr said. He likes to discuss stewardship as an expression of gratitude for God's blessings.

Although few Aldersgate members tithe, Parr suggests that they "measure their blessings. Their gratitude increases, and so do their donations."

Tithing is unrealistic for some people, said Peters of Rosedale Gardens. When discussing possible increases, Peters uses a 1 percent figure. Some members give substantially more.

"I'm just real upfront," he said. "We have gas bills, etc. Somehow, we have to generate the income to pay for it."

Thursday, December 6, 1990 O&E

At Grace Baptist, an independent Baptist church, "a good 75 percent or more tithe," Grief said. The church is on solid financial footing.

"We have been very fortunate. Not all churches experience that. We preach and we believe in tithing. Not simply because the Bible teaches it, but out of love for the Lord."

TITHING ISN'T the prevailing philosophy at the Church of Christ in Plymouth, an independent, non-denominational church which supports several missionary projects.

"The Bible preaches that members should give as God prospers them," said the Rev. David Thomas, 41, of Plymouth, pastor of the 300member church.

Members are asked, on Purpose Sunday, to fill out cards describing their anticipated contributions. Cards are destroyed after being reviewed in confidence by the elders.

"If people are not able to give, we believe God understands their desire to give," Thomas said. A new group of deacons have suggested a 42 percent increase in giving and spending.

"It is a tremendous goal for us to set," Thomas said. "The push we have is on the congregation as a whole, not individuals.'

Aldersgate, established in the mid-1940s, has used a variety of strategies.

The church two years ago spent $6,000 for a new sign to bolster visibility. A recent intensive telephone solicitation in Redford, Livonia and Dearborn Heights has resulted in several new families attending services.

★5B

A stewardship campaign is in progress.

"This won't be a finger-pointing campaign," Parr said. "It's to get more people involved. It's goal-setting."

Although Aldersgate meets its local expenses quite well, it falls a bit short in meeting its apportionment for United Methodist missionary outreach programs.

"You have to have a goal each year, beyond what we were able to achieve last year," Parr said. "That creates a little bit of frustration. If you don't plan enough it's easy to get complacent. We are doing well, but we aren't doing as well as we would like to do."

Repairs and improvements can take a big bite out of any church's budget.

Aldersgate anticipates some capital improvements next year. Rosedale Gardens may replace its organ.

At the Church of Christ in Plymouth, there have been several costly repair projects. Church policy is to earmark funds in the budget.

The roof was replaced twice, at a cost of $10,000 each. Four years ago," the church spent $40,000 to correct a problem of water leaking in the basement. When the auditorium was redecorated, members reached into their pockets.

"We're on solid ground, to the extent our people stay and continue to give," Thomas said.

Get started now to ease tax crunch

By Doug Funke staff writer

You can sigh, pout and grouse, but you still have to pay. Federal income taxes, that is.

Although returns aren't due for another four months, the tax year for most individuals ends Dec. 31. You have until then to position yourself to minimize the crunch. "Conventional advice is to defer income until next year and accelerate deductions this year," said Michael Licastro, a certified public accountant and tax specialist with Ernst & Young.

But changes in the tax rates for 1991 may prompt some wealthier taxpayers to accelerate income now - if possible - and pay at the marginal rate of 28 percent rather than 31 percent next year, Licastro said. That stategy might be especially attractive to filers of joint returns with taxable income in excess of $162,770 or singles with taxable income of more than $97,600.

EXEMPTIONS will be phased out next year for joint filers with adjusted gross incomes exceeding $150,000 and single taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes of more than $100,000. Itemized deductions will be reduced for all taxpayers with adjusted gross incomes in excess of $100,000.

All the more reason why high wage earners may want to investigate accelerating income this year. How exactly do you accelerate income? -Bonuses normally earned this year

One federal deduction commonly overlooked by faxpayers in Michigan is the annual license tab fee for cars. That fee, now based on value rather than weight, can be claimed as a personal property tax on Schedule A.

"It makes a little sense to accelerate income, but it's not a tremendous savings. That is a narrow spread to go to a lot of unnatural lengths to accelerate income or deductions," Maher said.

Capital losses sustained since a dive in the stock markets in August could be used to offset capital gains realized earlier in the year. But tax experts caution that investments should be based primarily on economic grounds rather than on tax implications.

The standard deduction this year jumps to $3,250 from $3,100 for singles, $5,450 from $5,200 for marrieds filing joint.

You don't have to be Daddy Warbucks to load up on deductions to offset taxable income.

You can prepay property taxes and make a 13th mortgage payment in a year to claim the interest portion of the extra payment.

CHARITABLE contributions made by Dec. 31 can be deducted loan. My impression is pricing and interest rates have become more competitive in the last year or two."

A fully-deductible Individual Retirement Account contribution, if a taxpayers qualifies, can be made right up until returns are filed.

While it's too late now to defer income into a qualifying 401(k) retirement accounts, consider joining the program if offered through your employer early on in 1991.

ONE FEDERAL deduction commonly overlooked by taxpayers in Michigan is the annual license tab fee for cars. That fee, now based on value rather than weight, can be claimed as a personal property tax on Schedule A.

A 10-percent excise tax on expensive cars, boats, jewelry and furs kicks in Jan. 1. So if you're thinking about buying a car worth $40,000 (a) luxury tax of $1,000 would apply), you will save money if you make the purchase by the end of this year.

More taxpayers should be able to file the simpler Form 1040A this year, said Elcy Maccani, spokeswoman for the Internal Revenue Service.

The form has been revised to include income from Social Security and pensions and credits for the elderly and disabled.

TAXPAYERS who are their own bosses will face a higher self-employment tax rate (15.3 percent this year compared to 13.02 percent), but will be able to deduct half of selfemployment tax paid.

"The effect is pretty much a wash," said Scott Koll, a CPA with a private practice in Canton and Troy. "There's no big benefit, I believe." If you're at the lower end of the and paid next and accrued vacation wages earned for 1991 could be distributed this year. Investors can turn to treasury bills which pay interest immediately.

Dan Maher, a CPA and tax partner with Deloitte & Touche, wonders whether a difference of 3 to 4 percent on marginal rates is worth a lot of machinations even for the rich.

this year.

The deduction for personal interest payments declines to 10 percent this year and is phased out entirely for 1991.

"I would really encourage people who still have personal loans to take another look," Maher said. "The simplest solution is to pay them off. Another alternative is a home equity income spectrum, check to see if you qualify for the earned income credit. You probably do if your wages are less than $20,264 and a child lives with you.

Tax planning should be an ongoing process rather than an annual December scramble. "They should be looking at it throughout the year," Licastro sald.

Firing a worker can be humane-

Case II: An employee is caught in corporate down-sizing or staff reductions, due to a sluggish economy, corporate streamlining or a merger or acquisition bewteen two firms that no longer need two complete staffs.

"Every firm has circumstances for layoffs, not just hard times," Ray said.

The Transition Team steps in, offering career planning from an inventory of existing skills to writing resumes. Other options include launching a business or early retirement. A psychological assessment may also be provided.

"A TYPICAL PROFILE," muses Dodie David of Jannotta, Bray & Associates in Southfield. David manages the firm's program aimed at middle-level managers who are frequently "squeezed out of jobs" in the event of corporate mergers and buyouts.

'They're in their late 30s or early 40s and moving up on the career track. Their trauma is great," equivalent to the death of a loved one or a divorce.

Fortunately, they are easily placed in new positions, but "they have to work very, very hard in their search" for new employment.

David is retained by employers, normally for a percentage of the fired employee's salary. In recent years, she has seen the transition industry mushroom, primarily as a result of "the corporate merger and acquisition mania." In the past two years, business has held constant.

Ralph Mortensen of RHR International in Southfield, a doctor of psychology (as are all RHR consultants), said this year there has been a 15percent increase in inquiries about transition counseling.

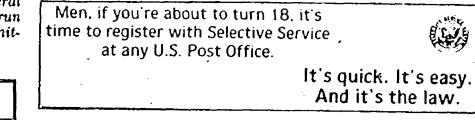

In addition, some 20 percent of the firm's clients have eliminated staff positions during the same period of time.

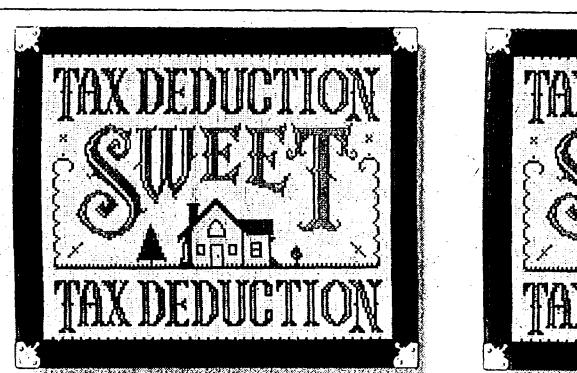

'The executives I talk with never look at the decision to reduce the work force as an easy thing to do. It's always a tough choice to make, always agonizing.'

While U.S.-based firms are increasingly providing transition benefits, they are still less generous than their cousins in other western nations, according to Mortensen.

In Canada, for example, a fired employee, even when termination is justified for something as severe as embezzlement, is entitled to 15 months severance salary. Citizens of Germany and Scandanavia enjoy similar benefits, as well as great lob security, he said.

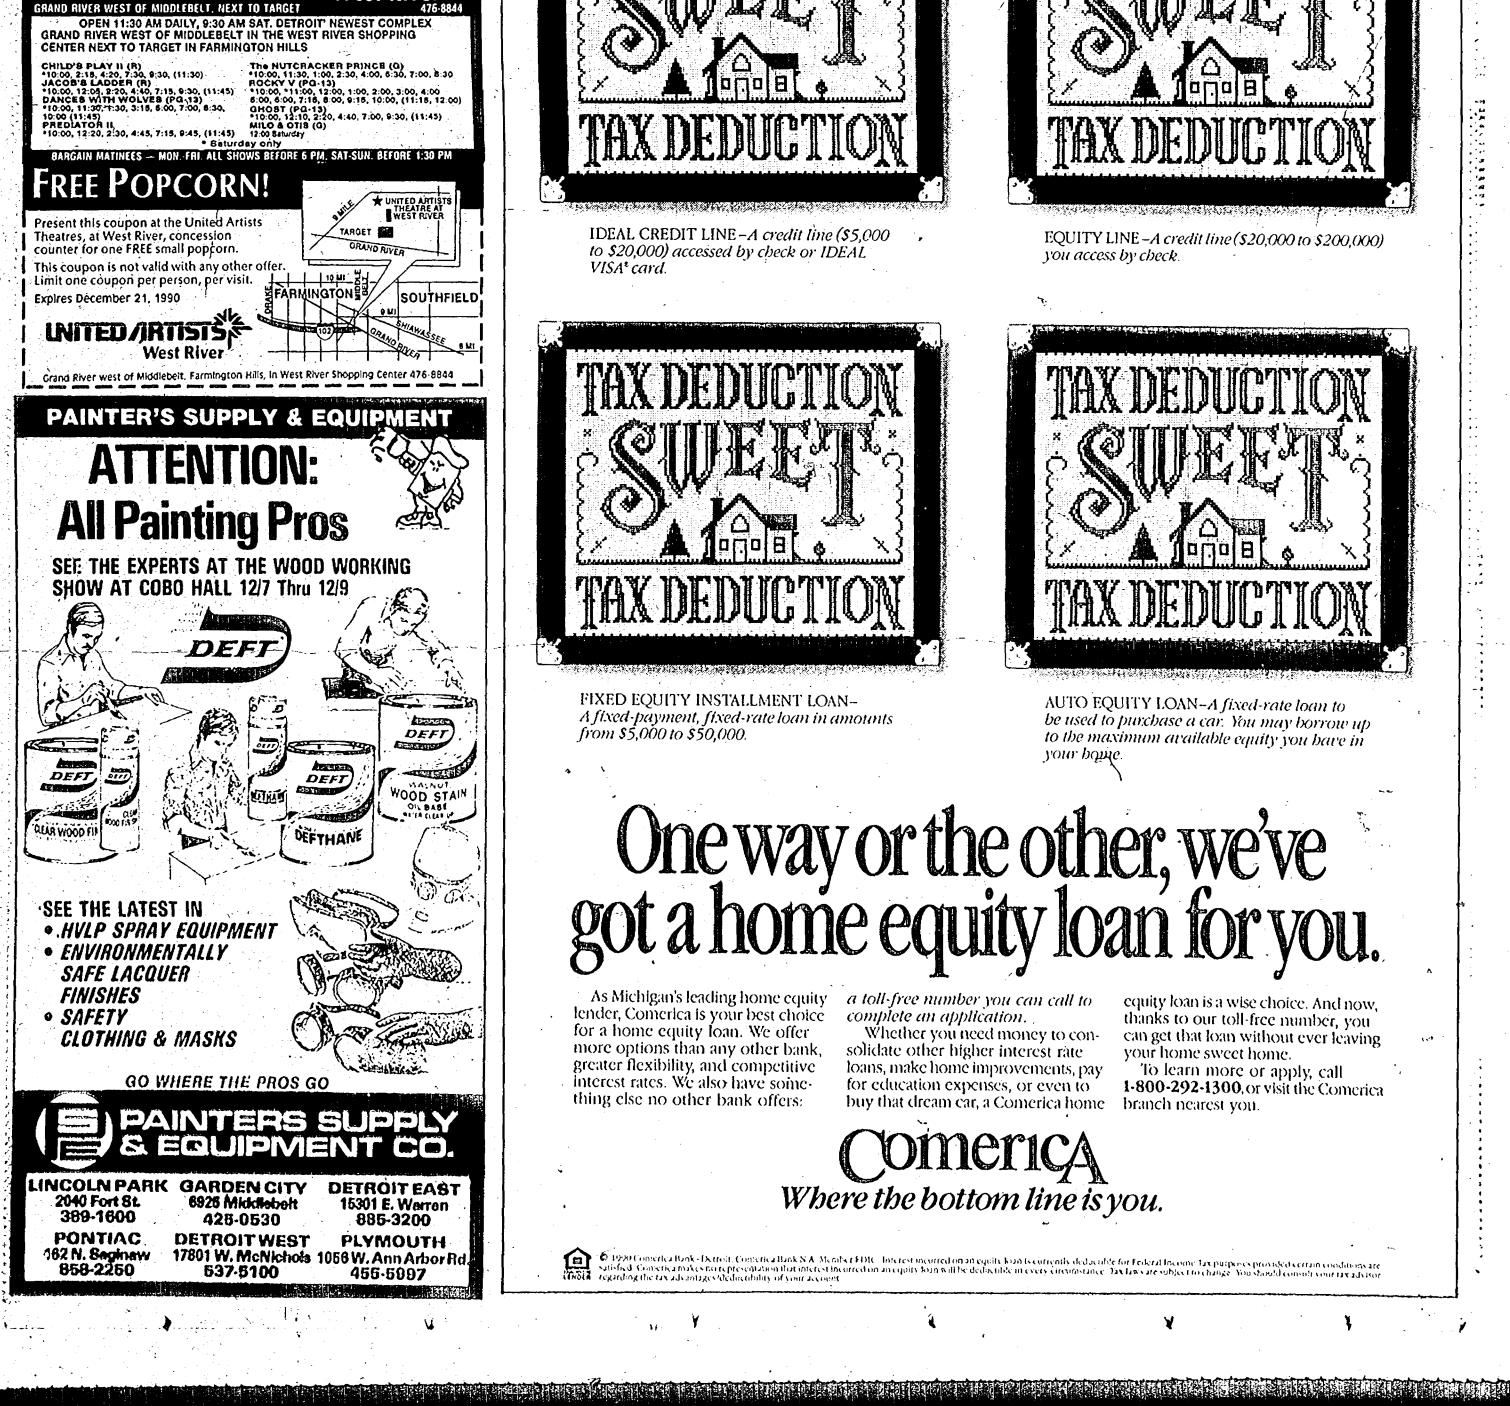

"There's some movement (in the same direction) here."

Chrysler Corp. cans meaningless sales reports

When I was working in the payroll department at a GM plant a few years ago (OK, maybe 25 years ago) we pretty much got the guys paid by about 8 a.m., which was an hour and , a half after we got to work. Then we started on the records.

There were lots and lots of records. In that pre-computer era, they were carefully hand-lettered in squares on sheets of paper that went into black three-ring binders and put on dark green steel shelves.

WE KEPT records of time worked, parts made, parts made per hour, parts made per machine and time worked to make so many parts made per machine. Then there were records of the machines, inventory and so forth - all sitting on those steel shelves, waiting for us as soon as we finished the payroll.

Even my boss thought most of these were a waste of time, so one day (actually, long before I started working for him), he started an experiment. He took one of the black binders and put it in an empty filing cabinet. Then he walted.

NO ONE asked for the record for a month, then finally a year. He used this as a sort of personal evaluation of meaningless paperwork. If nobody asked for the records for more than a year, they stayed in the filing cabinet, and he guit filling out that book. Eventually, the shelves started to empty, and the cabinet filled up with books full of records that nobody asked for. Eventually, only the pay-roll records and daily production seemed to stay on the shelves.

All this explained why when I first started to work, there were several

filing cabinets full of records that ended in 1957, 1959, and so forth. Which was fine with me, since by then somebody had asked for even more records that took most of the day to fill out, which we worked on after the guys got paid.

UNFORTUNATELY, MY boss got promoted and was replaced by a senlor clerk who once had made a name in the drugstore business by developing a method of weighing the contents of every milkshake he served, a system eventually adopted by drugstore management for which he never received proper credit, he said.

Looking to make his mark at GM. he opened one of those filing cabinets. Seeing the hundreds of unfilled pages, some of the books gathering dust for a decade or more, his eyes glazed over, 👘 🔬 resurrected every one of those books and had us compute the back figures, getting them up to date - after we filled out the payroll and completed updating the new generation of silly. records. He harbored a fantasy, that someone, some day, would come in and ask for a number out of one of the dust-covered volumes. And he would be ready.

I was long gone before that day came, but the announcement by Chrysler that they no longer would report 10-day sales figures brought the whole thing back to mind.

The auto industry, it seems, is the only business that routinely reports retail sales every 10 days, an odd number that doesn't coincide with either the weekly production reports or the monthly figures issued by im-

CURRENTLY. IT is impossible to make any sense out of 10-day auto sales reports anyway, since the major publications are constantly changing the definition of imports, domestic, cars and trucks, and report only a portion of sales on a 10day basis, the rest monthly, Chrysler should be congratulated for simplifying the paperwork, making everybody's life easier, etc. They even claim the move will save some money.

But I suspect the latter will never happen, since somewhere, deep in the bowels of the company, is the son of the guy I used to work for at GM.

Now he's hunched over a computer, working over 10-day sales records for 1974, catching up, filling the squares, working like a madman - in case somebody, someday, asks for the figure.

A new computer can hurt investing

By Thomas O'Hara special writer

Q. I have a new computer and want to use it to help me be a better investor. However, a couple of friends tell me that if I don't use my computer carefully, it's more likely to get me into trouble. I could become a stock trader rather than an investor. Can you suggest how to use my computer wisely to be a better investor?

A. Your friends have given you a good caution. Because computers crunch numbers so quickly and easily. investors tend to use them to check out statistical items and ignore the more fundamental features that require thinking and judgment.

In my experience, computers are a tremendous help in comparing stocks and sorting out ones with the characteristics I am interested in. I place a lot of emphasis on the rate at which a company has increased sales and earnings per share in the past five years

I ALSO like to compare the company's current price-earnings ratio rent price is not out of line compared with that growth.

These figures are readily available for most stocks on the different computerized financial services, and a computer can help you sort out stocks very quickly.

FOR INSTANCE. Better Investing Magazine did a survey to see which were the most widely held stocks by individual investors. It came up with a list of the 200 most-popular stocks among individual investors.

With that list in hand, Phil Keating, an investor who is a director of the National Assciation of Investors Corp. Computer Group, decided to sort those stocks on his computer for three fundamental investment features. He wanted to know

• Which of the 200 had doubled their earnings in the past five years

• Which, by virture of their past five-year record, were projected to double their earnings in the next five years, and

• Which had favorably prices by virtue of the current price-earnings ratio being less than the projected five-year growth rate.

Pay a visit to your local bank if you want to accept plastic

I own a retail a business and have historically accepted cash and personal checks as payment. I am now ready to obtain credit card merchant status, but I understand that it isn't as easy to get as I had previously assumed. What do I need to know?

As in applying for a loan (which is what you are doing), your best bet is to initially approach the bank you already do business with to get the best rates. If you prefer going elsewhere, the information you need to prepare includes:

• You personal credit history if you are the sole proprietor.

• Sales and expense records or projections.

• Organizational and marketingrelated information as taken from your business plan.

• Your industry track record. All of this is necessary to help banks evaluate your overall creditworthiness in both the personal and professional sense. As a retailer, your chances of obtaining merchant status generally are quite good.

But companies in industries with a high incidence of fraud have a much harder time. For companies that face resistance or are turned down, there are still several options avaialbe.

These include:

• Discussing the establishment of a "cash reserve" account that protects the bank against possible loss-

• • Obtaining service through an Independent Service Organization that represents one or more banks.

• Approaching a fulfillment services company within your industry or creating your own company (private label) card.

HAT DOES A TICKET from Detroit to Hollywood cost? "The bottom line is inner determination," according to Scott Splegel, graduate of Groves High School in Birmingham, who coauthored the screenplay for Clint Eastwood's latest film "The Rookie," opening Friday throughout the metropolitan area.

Splegel, who was born in Detroit, spent a year at Oakland Community College's Orchard Ridge Campus in Farmington Hills after his 1976 graduation from Groves. "That is," he said, "when I began to take film seriously."

His experience in those years in-cluded acting for Sam Raimi and Bruce Campbell in their 1979 production "Within the Woods." He also toiled on special effects for Raimi and Campbell's first well-known ef-fort, "Evil Dead I." As with many other dedicated young Detrolt-area filmmakers, he worked at whatever jobs he could in those days. In Spiegel's case that meant clerking at a grocery store while producing short films.

"Cleveland Smith, Bounty Hunter" was a 10-minute parody of "Raiders of the Lost Ark" and "Toro, Toro, Toro" about a runaway grasscutter. Both were 16mm films Splegel sold to HBO in cable's early days when a nationwide search was underway for any and all programs. The cable system's enormous capacity for material created opportunities for many filmmakers. He also sold "Toro, Toro, Toro" to the U.S. Army.

SPIEGEL WRYLY remarked, "I think they made a mistake and thought it was 'Tora! Tora! Tora!'" (a 1970 film about the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor).

"I got a lot of mileage out of those two films," Spiegel said. "They were also in a weird compilation, 'Filmhouse Fever,' a vignette piece where a couple of guys go to watch films." Spiegel appeared in Sam Raimi's 1983 production "Crimewave." "Then I turned 'Cleveland Smith' into the lowest-budget feature ever made, Josh Becker's 'Thou Shall Not Kill Except . . .'" which Spiegel produced and co-wrote. "It was invaluable hands-on experience baptism by fire," Splegel said. "I learned what not to do.".

"Then Sam Raimi asked me to write 'Evil Dead II' which was shot in '86 and '87," he said. Another one of Splegel's shorts, "Attack of the-Helping Hand," was a film spoof of the Hamburger Helper commercials. The title describes the plot. "Sam Raimi liked it so much," Spiegel said, "that he dropped it into Evil Dead II.' "

"Everyone needs guidance and people to tell you how things are done. But ultimately it's got to come from within," Spiegel said. In 1987, with that inner determination in high gear, he moved to Hollywood where he réwrote scripts for Bill Lustig's low-budget productions including "Hit List" with Jan-Michael Vincent.

NEXT HE MADE "Night Crew" with Charlie Band at Empire Picture. Filmed in two weeks on a $130,000 budget — "What I shot was what I got" — "Night Crew" was sold by Band to Paramount which renamed it "Intruder" and cut it toreceive an R rating. "Ironically," Spiegel said, "my $130,000 feature was marketed under Paramount's $400,000 computer-generated logo."

Scott Spiegel (above), who went to school in Birmingham and Farmington Hills, shares was also a lot of comedy in that era - and both comedy and horror are similar."

"They are both structured around a build and a payoff, the punchline of the gags or the special-effects impact of revealed horror," he said.

THE PUBLICITY generated by 'Intruder" led Spiegel to working script and a few minor ones. "He is so professional," Spiegel said. "It was a thrilling moment because his knowledge of film is just incredible. He made sure everything was to the letter. He knew exactly what he wanted."

Eastwood allowed both Spiegel and Boaz to appear in the film.

Splegel is a baggage-carrier in the airport scene. Spiegel also worked on "The Rookie" set as a script consultant, although by this time he was directing "The Nutty Nut," which he co-wrote with Sam Raimi and Ron Zwang. That's an IVE Caroloco production film featuring Ione Skye, Tracey Lords and Pat Boone.

Clint Eastwood plays a veteran cop and Charlie Sheen is his Originally intended as an unrated film, "Intruder" is about people trapped in a supermarket and being picked off by a homicidal maniac. The special effects folks were Fangoria people, who featured a severed head from the film on the cover of Gorezone, one of the sci-fi fantasy/ horror magazines.

Some of the stores selling Gorezone pulled the magazine from their racks. The negative publicity was heightened when the uncut version, which was selling well in England, got pulled after the distribution com-pany was fined $500,000.

Why all this interest in horror/ slasher stories among young filmmakers like Spiegel, Sam Raimi and so many others? "Ever since I was a kid I saw horror films with my dad," Spiegel said, "and I grew up during the monster craze of the '60s. There with Boaz Yakin, and the concept for "The Rookie" developed. "We wrote it together, and by this time I was with his agency," Spiegel said. The script was sold a year-and-a-half ago for $500,000, and Charlie Sheen was attached to the project. Then it was given to Clint Eastwood who liked it and decided to direct as well as star in the production.

"The Rookie" features Eastwood as a veteran cop whose partner is murdered by a villainous car thief, Strom (Raul Julia), whose bizarre girlfriend, Liesel (Sonia Braga), doubles as Strom's chief hit-person. Eastwood's new partner is David Ackerman (Charlie Sheen), a young man whose mission is to prove his courage and reliability.

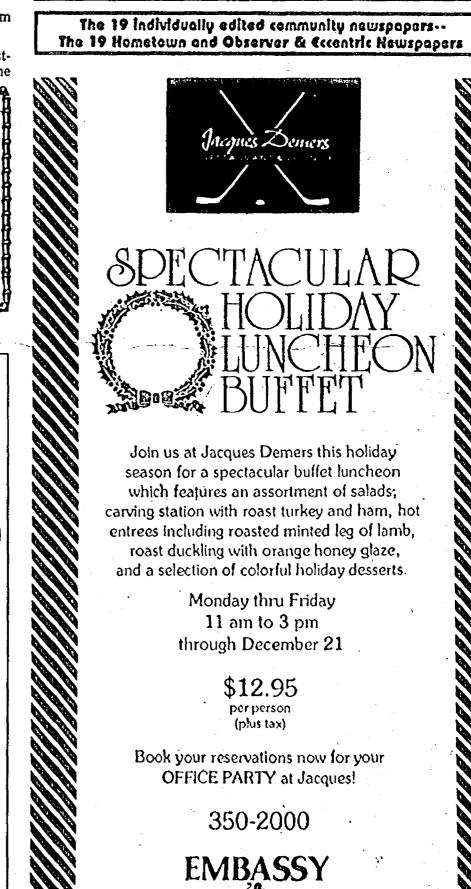

The all-star cast features Tom Skerritt as David's father.

Hope is the message of 'A Christmas Carol'

Carol" at Meadow Brook Theatre continue through Sunday, Dec. 30. on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills. For ticket information call 377-3300.

By Mary Jane Doorr special writer

Performances of "A Christmas man takes center stage just after his partner's ghost, Jacob Marley, disappears in the window with a burst of light. It was only a dream, he says to the audience.

"No it wasn't," a child in the audience answered softly, at a performance last weekend.

Meadow Brook Theatre's production of Charles Dickens' "A Christ-As Ebenezer Scrooge, Booth Col- mas Carol" is very real to children

Schoolcraft College of Livonia's Culinary Arts Salon Team received the best of show award for culinary schools at the recent Expo Gast '90 competition in Luxembourg and won gold medals in several individual competitions. Individual gold medalists were Executive Chef Mary Brady and students Don Brago, Kim Larson and Shawn Loving. More than 1,000 international chefs competed in the World Cup event.

Santa breakfasts

The Novi Hilton is repeating "Breakfasts with Santa" this holiday seaon in its Orchard Cafe. Seatings are at 9:30 and 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 8, 15 and 22. Santa and his friends will entertain and hear gift requests from kids. A breakfast buffet will be available.

and adults. As it has for eight years, director Charles Nolte's delightful adaptation continues to transcend designer Peter Hicks' 19th century English setting with a universal message of hope.

It is the very simplicity of this production and its adherence to Dickens' own story that keeps it a box-office draw. Nolte lets the lessons of Dickens speak to all of us, through the charm of English Christmas customs and the surprises of his theatrical tricks.

THE MOMENT we arrive at the theater, an octet takes us back in time to England with caroling of traditional tunes: "God Rest Ye Mer-ry Gentlemen," "What Child Is This," "Deck the Halls" and wassailing songs. Music director Donald Daniels can take credit for the wellblended vocal group.

As Scrooge himself admits, his is not a very pleasant name - which is remembered more for his greediness than his change of character. He was a product of his time when economists rationalized the ruthlessness of the business-controlled society. Counting the coal in the bin and the minutes on the clock, Scrooge gets, his money's worth but learns he can't take it with him. Lost in his soclety are the less aggressive Bob Cratchits, the weak iron-braced Tiny Tims and the poor laundresses.

No one counts money faster than Booth Colman counts pounds. His Scrooge is classic and so smooth we forget he is acting. Paul DeBoy is an outgoing nephew Fred with an authentic English accent. Paul Hopper is properly submissive as Bob Cratchit. Shirleyann Kaladjian is a sweet Spirit of Christmas Past with an upper-class English accent and a pleasant voice for her reprise of "Silent Night,", as Martha Cratchit. Dinah Lynch is different every time she steps on stage, this time as a motherly Mrs. Cratchit.

mas Present is that of Joseph Reed, who has done this production for the past eight years.

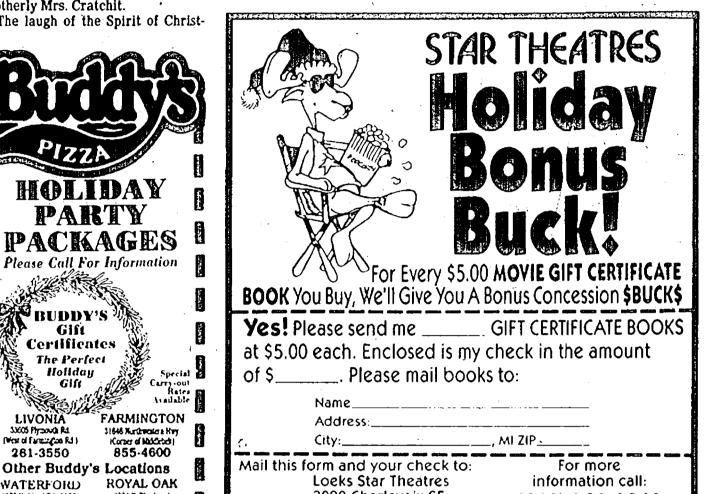

- This American show mixes English Christmas traditions - of gifts; folk dances; "yes and no" games, and meals of goose, stuffing, mashed potatoes, apples and oranges, and brandy sauce puddings --- with German customs - of Christmas trees and decorations. It does not matter that Christmas trees are not mentioned in the book and that in Dickens' native country, English pantomimes are more popular. What matters is the message of "A Christmas Carol" that is so easily appreciated at Meadow Brook. The hope of Christmas is that Scrooge does change. The future is not carved in stone. The die has not been cast. Scrooge's tombstone has no epitaph.

Mary Jane Doerr of Troy is a fulltime teacher and freelance writer who specializes in opera and musical theater.

Booth Colman plays Ebenezer Scrooge, the miser transformed into a generous man.

Lazarus act CC stuns Wayne in late going

By Brad Emons staff writer

Redford Catholic Central jumped out of the casket Tuesday, pulling off a miraculous season-opening 68-65 basketball victory over host Wayne Memorial, spoiling Dan Henry's debut as coach.

The Shamrocks, who sputtered throughout much of the game, put on a furious rally in the final five minutes after being down by as many as 13 points early in the fourth quarter.

CC outscored Wayne 28-13 in the final eight minutes.

"I thought we were dead," said CC coach Bernie Holowicki. "I think we stole one. We went with our '80 deny' (press). We were in it earlier, but this time it worked. And then we made three excellent plays in a row."

The first pivotal play for CC occurred with 3:27 remaining.

Bob Kummer, CC's 6-foot-5 junior who is making the transition from center to point-guard this season, scored on a drive, colliding on his way to the basket with Wayne's Greg Hartman, who was called for blocking.

OFFICIAL TOM SULLIVAN then tagged Henry, who claimed it was a charge, with a technical foul.

Given three free throws, two because of the bench technical, Kummer connected twice. The fourpoint play pulled CC within three, 58-55.

The 6-1 Hartman, who led Wayne with 20 points, then answered with a put the Zebras ahead by seven, 62failed to convert a wide-open layup during the CC run.

The 6-4 Whitlow hit a short baseline shot over the outstretched arms of Wayne's 6-1 forward Greg Hartman. The senior also went to the line for a one-and-one, converting both, when officials ruled that he was fouled after the shot.

Now trailing by only one, 63-62, the Shamrocks' Bob Schneider deflected the in-bounds pass and hurled the ball over his head as he was flying out of play to Kummer, who converted a layup (with 1:36 to play) to give CC its first lead since the second quarter.

CC STOLE the ball again with 1:31 to go and Whitlow scored, giving his team a three-point cushion, 65-62.

Barnes cut the deficit to one again, 65-64, with 1:14 to go, but CC came right back on Kummer's backdoor layup off the delay game.

Hartman and Schneider traded free throws in the final 29 seconds to make the final count, 68-65.

"The team took it hard, they're a young team and they don't like to lose," Henry said. "It's a tough way to start the season.

Wayne jumped out to a 22-11 firstquarter lead before CC rallied to within three at intermission, 35-32.

The Zebras, despite giving up four to five inches per man, took control of things in the third quarter, opening up a 51-40 advantage.

"They're pesky and they're quick," sald Holowicki of Wayne. "They baseline drive and scored again. to scored four baskets on out-of-bounds plays, which we didn't like at all. They had a lot of second efforts, second shots. It's a team with a lot of quickness.'

hunch we'd play well after the way we had played in our scrimmages," said the Wayne coach. "Hartman and Barnes played their hearts out. And they'll play hard for 20 games. This team has a lot of desire. We're just a young team. We're starting two sophomores."

Lee Williams, a junior, contributed 10 points for Wayne, while sophomore Dontez Prewitt added seven.

CC. meanwhile, was missing five players, four out with injuries including senior guard Jon Barbara, who is recuperating from the Shamrocks' long football season which resulted in a state Class A title.

With all the injuries, Holowicki decided to go with the 6-5 Kummer at point. (He finished with 22 points.)

"I've always liked tall pointguards," Holowicki said. "Wayne's quickness caused him some trouble, but Bobby's a fighter and he'll come back. He'll learn. He's got a lot of pride. I saw more plusses than I did minuses out there.

"We don't know right now. We've tried a couple of guys at that spot. Sometimes he (Kummer) reminds me of 'Zal' (former CC All-Stater and ex-North Carolina player Tom Zaligatis). He's smart and he handles the ball well. It does take him away from the basket, but it's nice to have somebody that size at the point. If somebody else steps to the forefront, then we'll put Bobby back inside. We're waiting for somebody to emerge."

WHITLOW, meanwhile, also plays a lot of guard, giving CC one of the 55, with 2:28 to play. But it all unraveled for Wayne in the final 2:11. CC's Steve Whitlow, who led all scorers with 30 points, scored six straight points, including a fourpoint play with 1:47 left. And it didn't help when the Zebras .

Despite losing all five starters from a 21-2 team of a year ago, Henry's small team played big-time.

"WE WERE READY, and I had a tallest backcourts in the state. "We have to get it to him because he's so tough inside," Holowicki said. "And if he doesn't get it, Bobby

The two combined for 52 of CC's 68 points, including some big hoops down the stretch.

will."

Greg Hartman (right) of Wayne Memorial fires up a shot over the out-stretched arms of Cathopening of the boys basketball season. CC ratlied for a 68-65 win.

Outlook on Observerland mat teams

By Neal Zipser staff writer

The Following is a capsule look at the wrestling teams in Livonia and Westland:

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

Casey Krause, who set a school record with 122 career wins, graduated, but third-year coach Melvin Richendollar is still optimistic about the 1990-91 season.

The Chargers finished 9-11-1 overall a year ago.

"At the beginning we'll have a rough time learning some basics, but we'll be all right by the end of the season,"---Richendollar--said;--"We'lla make a run at the (Western Lakes) S Activities Association) league meet. Our season will depend on our work ethic."

Richendollar doesn't have to worry about the work habits of Chris Brown and Andy Brown, a pair of twins who. a comparable heavyweight to pracreturn for their senior years. Chris Brown, a 135-pounder, was 22-10 a year ago and finished third in the Romulus Invitational. Andy Brown was 11-18 at 140 pounds, but he worked hard over the summer with Chris and both should be improved, according to Richendollar.

Another impressive returnee is junlor Craig Shepley, who went 20-13 in the 125-pound class. Junior Shawn Donaldson expects to improve in the 189-pound class after going 6-18 a WLAA meet last season, toppling the year ago.

"Chris (Brown), Andy (Brown) and Cralg (Shepley) will provide leadership," Richendollar said. "There's not too many people who would want to start against them."

Among the newcomers are: senlors Scott Gibson (112) and Jeff ; Deslile (171); Juniors Matt Cooper (119), Mark Bryant (145) and Rob Karadsheh (152); sophomores Jim Hendrain (130) and Mike Shanlikian (160); and freshmen Jason Samelto (103) and Dan Ferguson (heavy- meet format). weight).

Franklin lost state qualifier Jay Wheeler (160), but Paul White Is a capable replacement.

"Paul's off our cross country team and he's one of our stronger guys," sald the Franklin coach.

Bobby Johnson, a 240-pound sen-. lor, finished third last year in the Western Lakes meet and won over 20 matches.

LIVONIA STEVENSON

"All I have to do is blow the whistle," Berg boasts. "Wrestling is such a fair and demanding sport. It's up to the wrestlers to compete with each other and beat the scales before they compete. It's their ability which decides who wrestles. We have the competition there and that makes my job a lot easier."

Stevenson has 14 wrestlers in 13 weight classes, but are missing a heavyweight. Returning are senior co-captains Ryan Carriere and Brian Mitchell, who both will be wrestling in the ... 130-140-pound weight classes. Carriere was 28-14 last season, while Mitchell finlshed 19-13.

Four other seniors return including: Doug Carmack (150), Randy Micallam (152), Jerry Vaughan (170) and Tony Sereno (160).

Berg is also counting on five junlors to lift the team into next season. They are: Adam Carriere (130), Bryon Bercl (112), Chris Lehtl (160), Don McCormick (117) and Wayne Krause (125).

"Berci was in 36 matches last year and is a good cornerstone to build on," Berg said. "Krause is returning from a year lay-off and is looking extremely strong."

Sophomore Brian Tibbals and freshmen Tate Dobbs and Bobby Carter also will see some action, according to Berg.

"I think and hope we can contend, but with injuries you never know what can happen," Berg sald. "We can either go to Battle Creek (host of the state championships) or be putting our uniforms away. All I can hope for is that we stay healthy and do our best."

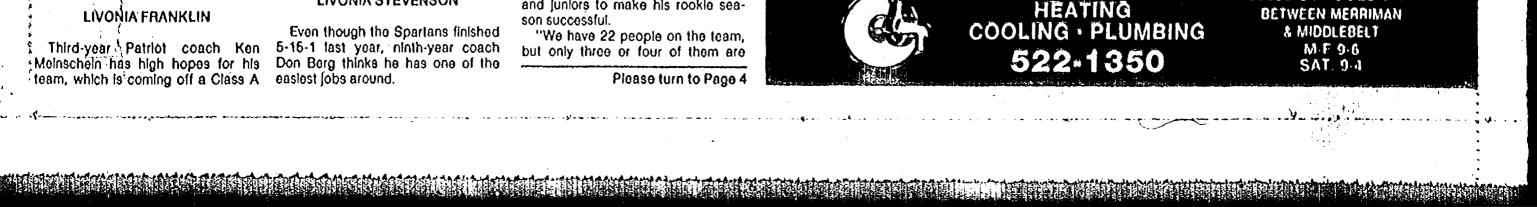

The Spartans open their season Wednesday, hosting Farmington Harrison.

"That's the most unfair part about this, that we only have two weeks between sports to prepare ourselves," Borg said.

Montgomery is all-region

By C.J. Risak staff writer

2D ★

As season's go, Kim Montgomery wouldn't mind trading the one just completed for any of her three previous seasons at the University of Massachusetts.

Not that her own efforts were lacking. That was evident when Montgomery was named to the all-New England regional soccer team. The senior tri-captain from Livonia (Churchill) just wishes the end results had been better.

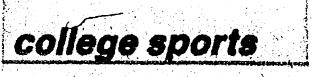

For the only time in her four years at U-Mass, the team did not earn a berth in the NCAA tournament. In fact, it was the first time in the nineyear history of the women's NCAA tournament U-Mass didn't qualify. And that hurt.

"We definitely had a very frustrating season," she admitted. "We had personnel as good as any since I've been here. We just were not scoring goals."

Montgomery still thought U-Mass' 10-5-2 record and No. 13 ranking was enough to earn it a spot in the tournament. But when a committee is making the selections, such decisions are imminent.

The team's lack of offense proved costly. The defense was solid, surrendering just 14 goals in 17 games. And Montgomery was a big part of that defense.

A MIDFIELDER throughout her high school years. Montgomery never considered herself to be strong defensively. But before her junior season, U-Mass coach Jim Rudy asked her to switch from outside midfield to sweeper.

"The coach liked the way I read the game. He liked my vision," she explained. "I like it now, but I never viewed myself as a very good defend-•er."

It took some adjustment, but by the start of her junior season Montgomery was used to adjusting.

When she first came to U-Mass, Montgomery - a high school all-stater and all-midwest selection — got a rude awakening. "It was very tough," she remembered. "Coming out as a freshman, it was a big difference. For me, it was hard to adjust. But it's hard for everyone, I guess. They were so much faster and more skilled."

The coach at that time, Ken Banda, wasn't exactly what Montgomery had hoped for, either. After her freshman year, she toyed with the idea of transferring. "I got really discouraged," she said, admitting a lot of it had to do with a lack of playing time.

BUT THEN a coaching change was announced, with Rudy replacing Banda, Montgomery decided to "give it a year." She liked Rudy's more personable style and decided to slick at U-Mass. But more changes were on the way.

"Three games into my junior season," she recalled, "our sweeper (Becky Bonzano) couldn't travel to a game with us because she was sick." Rudy switched Montgomery to sweeper in spite of her doubts.

The rest; as the adage goes, is history. By her own admission, Montgomery was an extremely cautious sweeper at first. "I was determined no ball would get over me," she said. "I played the deepest sweeper you've ever seen."

But she gradually adjusted, even to the point of yelling instructions to her teammates. "I was always kind of quiet before, not very vocal," she said. Rudy made her a captain this season and told her to increase her volume. "That really helped my game. He forced me to be vocal."

He also heaped responsibility upon her, which Montgomery appreciated. "Being a captain, knowing he trusted me enough with the responsibility - I liked that," she said. What she didn't like was the final result - no NCAA berth. In her freshman year, U-Mass reached the NCAA title game before losing to North Carolina.

But she couldn't be happier with her decision to stick it out at U-Mass.

Raiders-capture Tipoff Classic

Starlin Stevens scored 10 straight points in a second-half run that carried Oakland Community College's men's basketball team to an 81-71 triumph over Macomb CC in the titlegame of the Macomb Tipoff Classic Saturday.

Stevens finished with 27 points and five assists in the victory, which kept the Raiders unbeaten at 6-0. Fourteen of those came in the second half, as OCC pulled away to victory after trailing 43-42 at the half. Rashe Reviere contributed 14 points and Ed Whitaker had 11 and 6 assists for OCC. Jerry Prieskorn was a demon on the boards, grabbing 20 rebounds. He scored 9 points. Mike Muscato led the Monarchs with 22 points.

In Friday's tournament opener, Reviere poured in 30 points to push the Raiders past Owens Tech 95-85. OCC dominance on the boards was pivotal in the win. Prieskorn had 15 points and 10 rebounds. Devlin Bell had 15 points and 13 boards and James Escoe (from Southfield HS) collected 12 points and 10 rebounds. Dave Smith's 18 points led Owens Tech.

The Raiders play Kellogg CC Saturday at OCC's Highland Lakes cam-DUS.

SC trip produces 7th place

Ocelot men dominate non-conference foe

By C.J. Risak staff writer-

The game is fun again.

Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team sped up and down the floor Monday, outclassing the visiting Adrian College junior varsity with ease. No way the Bulldogs could keep pace in this game; the final score was indication of that:

SC 128, Adrian 102.

The Ocelois had an 11-point lead (54-43) at the intermission and a 10-2 start in the second half decided the issue. Sure, Adrian closed to 13 on three separate occasions - the last was 85-72 on a Scott Hill threepointer with 10:33 left - but never got closer. SC always had the answer.

That's the nice part of the Ocelots' early-season schedule. Even coach Dave Bogataj referred to these games as confidence-builders.

"It's 5-1," he said, examining his team's record. "And that's better than 1-5, like last year."

Bogataj knows the easy part of the schedule is over. A road game at Lake Michigan CC is coming up Saturday, before the real fun begins the Eastern Conference slate. And what a start: a home game against one conference favorite, Oakland CC, Wednesday, followed by a trip to play another, Mott CC, Dec. 15.

BOGATAJ PLANS to try and keep the Ocelots in a pace similar to the Adrian game's. His reason is simple: "We're going to have to because we. can't go half-court. Those teams will beat us up if we try and go half-court against them.

"We have to go for the quick shots. Once we get down inside, it's tough. We have to be quick in a half-court game . . . we have to rely on whatever quickness we have."

In Monday's shootout, the final Bulldog rally was thwarted by Lynell Collins, a freshman point guard from Southfield. Collins converted a pair of layups, both after turnovers; he finished with a gamehigh 30 points, 20 coming in the second half.

Collins got plenty of offensive help. Four other Ocelots reached double-figures in scoring: Mitch Fyke (21), Kwesi McGill and Randy Watters (17 each), and Barry Quayle (15). Collins also had six steals and four assists, Watters had seven assists and seven rebounds, McGill had six assists and Quayle hauled in 10 boards.

Five Bulldogs scored in doublefigures too, led by Eric Davis' 23. Hill had 19, Chad Demery neited 18, Bob Brugger had 17 and Brian Temple finished with 11.

BUT ADRIAN was similar in size and not nearly SC's equal in talent or depth. Such favorable odds won't be present in the conference season. The Ocelots will have to use whatever superiority in quickness they can muster to set up those easy shots - and they'll have to convert them.

Bogataj would also "like to see a lot less turnovers. In an up-tempo game, you expect to see turnovers, but you don't want to see them in the double-dozens."

It will be difficult for SC to win when it's surrendering the ball 20-to-30 times a game. It will be equally hard to win if the roster is ravished by end-of-the-semester academic losses, as it has been in recent years. Bogataj said he knew of no players having classroom problems at present.

 Indeed, SC may even be strengthened for the second semester when guard Marcus Lowe, a sophomore from Westland, becomes eligible. Lowe, a 1988 John Glenn graduate, played a season at Madonna College before the program folded after the 1988-89 campaign. He didn't play last season, but academic troubles prevented him from becoming immediately eligible at SC.

There's no doubting Lowe's abilities; he'll be a definite asset. When combined with those already in the lineup, SC is transformed into a formidable unit - as long as everyone stays eligible and healthy.

wasn't as memorable. The latest one was vacation; the first one ended in disappointment.

Losses tend to haunt coaches, particularly when they had hoped for more. As Teeters' Schoolcraft College volleyball team headed to the National Junior College Athletic Association Tournament in Miami prior to Thanksgiving, the goal he had set for his team was fourth place or beiter.

The result didn't match his high hopes. SC finished tied for seventh, losing its final two matches to Ricks College (Rexburg, Idaho) and Miami-Dade Wolfson. Those two teams end-ed up meeting for the NJCAA title, which Wolfson won.

"I think we could have beaten Ricks and Jefferson (College, from Hillsboro, Mo., which beat SC in pool play)," said Teeters. "They're both fine teams, and both of them outplayed us. But they were beatable. Lady Ocelots out of the tour "Miami-Dade (Wolfson) — that a 15-12, 5-15, 18-14 victory. would have been a tough team to take."

wasn't the Ocelots' poor play that caused the earlier-than-expected proved much tougher than in the past - even tougher than Teeters anticipated.

volleyball

Still, there was one definite reason for their ouster. "Hitting was our weakness," said Teeters. "At times, certain hitters hit as expected, but we never had them all hitting well together in crucial matches."

That was particularly true in those final two matches. Earlier, in pool play, SC won six-consecutive games, beating Waldorf CC (Iowa) 15-2, 15-6, 15-3 and Onondaga CC (Syracuse, N.Y.) 15-5, 15-5, 15-3. Then came the Jefferson match, which the Lady Ocelots lost 15-12, 15-11, 5-15.

Their total-games record of 7-2 in pool play was still good enough to advance them to the next round. But the next round started with Wolfson, which ripped SC 15-7, 15-9 in the quarterfinals. Ricks knocked the Lady Ocelots out of the tourney with "Against Jefferson, we lacked con-sistency in our hitting, and our serv-ing hurt us in that match," said Teeters. The tough, three-game loss exit. Instead, the tournament field SC coach recalled. "It was gone. We were going to live and die with our outside attack. We went outside in the second game and we were extremely successful. Elena Oparka and Kari Domanski were both hitting extremely well."

But in the decisive third game, Ricks adjusted its defense to stop SC's outside hitters, and it made just enough of a difference. "They didn't pick up much, but it was just enough," said Teeters.

He added the team's defense "was just great," singling out Jenny Sproul, Lisa Domke and Laura Brown. But that was true throughout the tournament. Defense, serve re-

Angeliette Love was named to the all-tournament team. Love is one of five sophomores SC will lose. The others will be equally difficult to replace: Oparka, Sproul, Brown and Christy Clark. In addition, Lisa Domke, is planning to transfer to Grand Valley State.

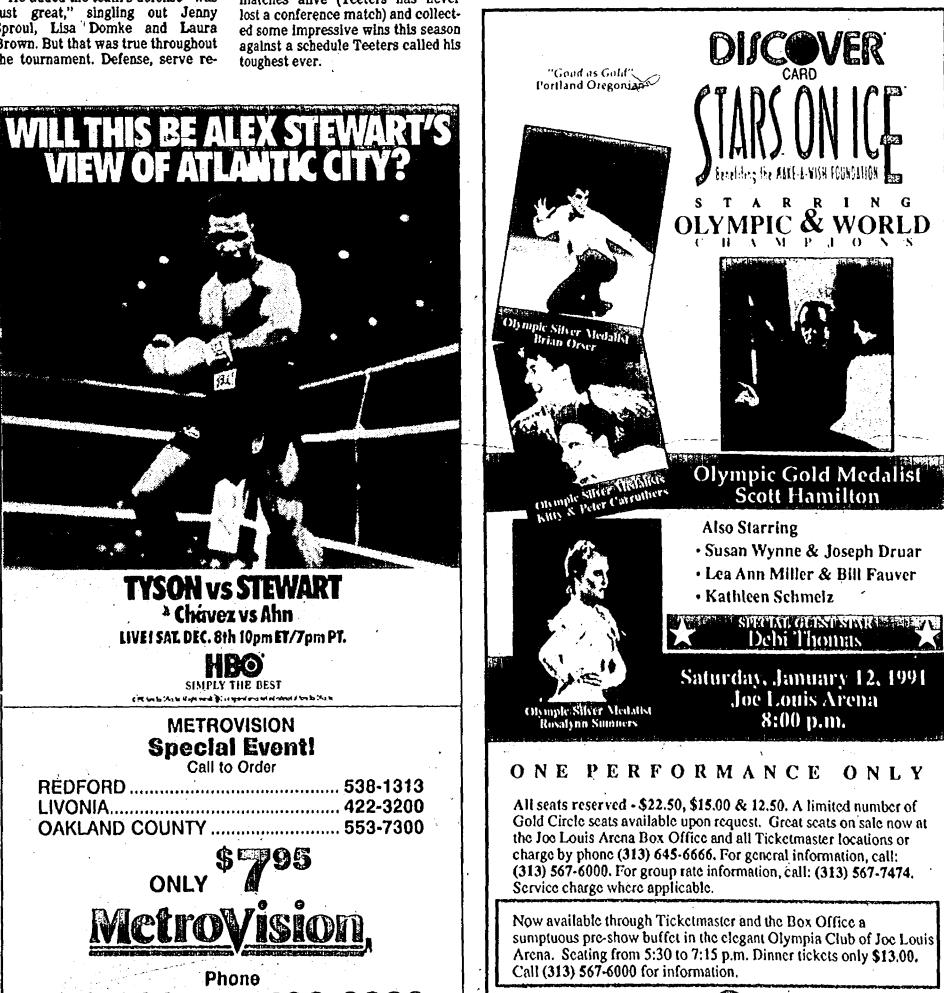

They were the foundation of a team that compiled a 43-6 final record, including 23-4 against junior college teams. They kept SC's unbeaten string in Eastern Conference matches alive (Teeters has never lost a conference match) and collected some impressive wins this season against a schedule Teeters called his toughest ever.

Tricia Lucas' sharp shooting and Julie Sawicki's clutch shooting were the difference for the Schoolcraft College women's basketball team in a 62-57 win against Siena Heights' junior varsity Friday in Adrian.

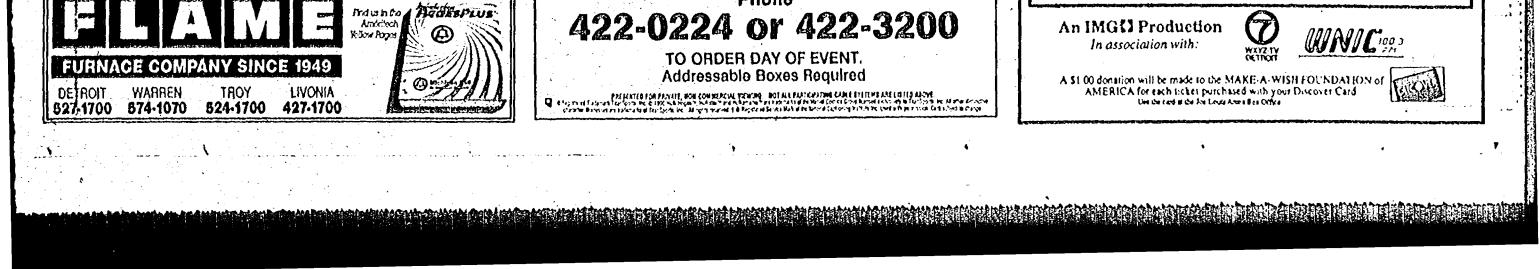

Lucas connected on 10-of-11 from the floor and 11-of-12 from the line. in scoring 31 points. No other Lady Ocelot reached double figures, but Sawicki had 9 - including 2 free throws with 10 seconds left to thwart a late Siena Heights' rally. Lee Anne Lightfoot also scored 9 points for SC.

The Lady Ocelots led by as many as 20 - they were up 38-30 at the half - but needed Sawicki's end-ofthe-game heroics to preserve the wln.

Livonia Stevenson overcame a third quarter deficit Tuesday to defeat host Garden City, 59-54 in the season-opening boys basketball game for both schools.

Guard Phil Woods scored 16 points and Tony Stojov scored 12 points for Stevenson.

Junior guard Jeff Williams scored 20 points and senior forward Nick Mutafis added 11 points for Garden City.

Garden City failed to score in the final two minutes of the game. The Cougars shot 20-for-37 at the free throw line.

"It was an ugly game," Garden City coach Mark Cramton said. "We missed a lot of easy shots and missing 17 free throws will take you out of a game."

Stevenson assistant coach Tim Newman said: "At this point, we're inexperienced and we didn't shoot well. There were a lot of missed free throws and turnovers by both teams. It was a ragged game."

FRANKLIN 71, NOVI 56: Livonia Franklin capitalized on a 44-27 halftime lead Tuesday to beat visiting Novi in a non-conference season opener.

Junior guard Keith Roberts had 24 points, 10 assists and five rebounds to lead Franklin. Senior guard Dave Roman added 15 points, four rebounds and three assists, while senior center Steve McCool chipped in six points and seven rebounds.

Junior forward Jason Walker led Novi with 18 points and senior center Aaron Federspiel added 16 points.

"For the first game, I'm happy with the defensive elfort," Franklin coach Rod Hanna said. "Everybody on the floor worked and played hard defensively. That was the key to our success tonight. Our guards also hit the open shot."

basketball

CHURCHILL 44, NORTHVILLE 42: Despite being outscored 17-13 in the fourth quarter Tues . day, Livonia Churchill held on to beat host Northville. Churchill outscored Northville 15-4 in the second quarter to lead, 22.17 at halftime. Senior forward Mike Thomas scored 15 points and junior guard Jeremiah Karolak added 11 points for the winners. Northville was led by senior guard Bill Kelley, who scored 14 points.

"There was cold shooting the entire game," Northville coach Tim McLaughlin said. "It's frustrating when you shoot that poorly. We held them to 44 points, that's pretty good."

JOHN GLENN 65, SOUTH LYON 52: Westland John Glenn broke open a close game Tuesday with a 20-6 run in the fourth quarter to defeat host South Lyon.

Gamal Ahmed, a senior forward, led three Glenn players in double-figures with 16 points and 10 rebounds. Junior guard Jerry Jordan scored 15 points and senior forward Jackie Howard added 12 points and 15 rebounds.

South Lyon was paced by Denny Moyer's 14 points. This was the first game as boys coach for Pat Bennett, who spends the fall coaching the Rocket girls team.

"We were anxious all week for the game to get there," said the new coach. "We started out slow and the defense was lax in the first half.

"We shut them down in the fourth quarter - we wanted to start out that way. Our first-game litters #### showed in the first half."

LUTHERAN WESTLAND 75, TRINITY, 56: Senior guard Chris Habitz scored 28 points, grabbed 14 rebounds and had six assists Tuesday as host Lutheran Westland routed Trinity Christian.

The 6-foot-5 Habitz made four shots from three-point range and also blocked two shots. All this after a first quarter which showed him only one-of-eight from the field,

"I expected a slow first quarter in the first game for both teams," Westland coach Scott Wiemer said. "We were tight, but it was a win and I'll take it."

Three players finished in double figures for Lutheran Westland. Senior forward Dave Glelow had 19 points and eight rebounds, and senior guard Dan Hoft contributed 10 points. Sophomore center Kevin Nelson grabbed 13 rebounds and scored six points.

Junior guard John Millard led Trinity Christian with 18 points, and junior forward Jason Pittman had 16.

CLARENCEVILLE 69. CRESTWOOD 67: Kendrick Harrington hit the game-winning free throw with eight seconds left Tuesday, giving host Livonia Clarenceville a non-league win over Dearborn Heights Crestwood.

Harrington finished with 19 points. Teammate Frank-Juncaj led the Trojans with 27.

Crestwood's Brian Markowicz scored 12 of his gamehigh 34 points in the final quarter.

YPSI CALVARY 63, HURON VALLEY 39: Ypsilanti Calvary put this game out of reach in the fourth quarter, outscoring host Huron Valley Lutheran, 27-3.

It was a disappointing finish for Huron Valley, which had gained momentum in the third quarter by outscoring Ypsilanti, 20-10. Huron Valley was led by sophomore guard Melton Stoudemire.

The boys basketball season began Tuesday with a pair of road victories for Plymouth Salem and Plymouth Canton, two teams expected to do well in 1990-91.

The Rocks, considered to have one of the best ballclubs in the state, trimmed Trenton 56-45 while Canton had an easier time at Monroe, tearing up the Trojans 85-62.

Central Michigan recruit Jake Baker, a 6-5 senior, scored 17 points to lead Salem, and teammates Cliff Lee and James Head tossed in 10 apiece.

Our new name is longer...but so is our reach.

The 19 Hometown and Observer & Eccentric Newspapers

The Rocks led the entire game, but "toward the end they did a good job of attacking the defense," Salem coach Bob Brodie said.

"Any time you get a win in the first game it's good, but we were ragged. It's nice to come out after a long bus trip and win."

SALEM HELD quarter leads of 17-6, 31-17 and 48-30 before Trenton outscored the Rocks 15-8 in the finale.

Senior guard Chris Mace scored a game-high 18 points for the Trojans, who made 17 of 22 free throws.

Salem was 3-of-6 at the line. The Rocks play host to Southfield Friday. Canton coach Dave VanWagoner thought the same of his team's first game as Brodle did his.

"We played well in spots, but at times we didn't," he said. "We've got a lot of room for improvement."

Tony Coshatt, a 6-foot-8 junior, scored 15 points and grabbed 12 rebounds for the Chiefs, and Karl Wukie, a senior guard, had as many points and six assists.

Canton had four players in double figures with sophomore Mike Stafford scoring 13 and junior Derrick McDonald 12. Chad Zion scored 18 to lead Monroe.

THE CHIEFS expanded a 17-12 .... lead to 36-25 at halftime and that to 25.32 53-38 after three quarters.

Canton faced a press the whole moin game, and the Chiefs "broke the pressure well at times but sometimes we broke down," VanWagoner said. "Defensively, we weren't very good. We'll have to play better Friday at Ann Arbor Huron."

RU grapplers have high hopes

Following is a look at wrestling teams in Redford and Garden City:

REDFORD UNION

The Panthers compete in nine Invitationals this winter, so coach Jeff Fagan at least knows they'll be prepared for the Northwest Suburban League meet which is in February.

"It's the way to wrestle," said Fagan, "The kids get more matches in invitationals."

RU was 12-6 a year ago and finished in third place at the NSL meet: Graduated from that team is 145-" pounder Eric Buckberry, who was a regional qualifier and a league champ.

A pair of impressive seniors return in George DeBates and Cralg Le-Toureau. DeBates, a two-time regional qualifier who won two tournaments last year, returns to fight at 171, LeToureau, who had more than 30 wins a year ago and finished second in the NSL meet, will compete at 135. Also back for his senior year is Ray Atkins, who will compete at 171 or 189, according to Fagan.

Juniors expected to fill spots include Brandon Brandenburg (140) and David Stoddard (103), each of whom was over .500 last year. Other juniors include Kevin Hanus (160) and John Hawthorne (125).

"I think our season really depends on the leadership we get from upperclassmen," Fagan said. "We don't have experience to beat real good teams. Wrestling is a sport you have the advantage in the older you get. But we'll be competitive."

REDFORD THURSTON

The Newell brothers, Pete, Harry and Jeff, are in charge at Redford Thurston, - and that's the good news.

The bad news is there aren't many Eagles to coach. Only 13 wrestlers return to a team that was 4-12 in '89-90. Headlining the list of returnees Is senior heavyweight Steve Koss; a Tri-River League champion who posted more than 30 wins.

Koss might have qualified for state but broke an ankle a week before the Class B regional.

"He's growp and is real strong," Pete Newton sald. "I definitely believe he can make it to state's and he has a good chance of placing very high.'

Also back for their senior years are Russ Tapley and Jed Kramer. Tapley, a 189-pounder, was 25-12 a year ago, while Kramer was a league champion at 125 and went 38-8. He was a state qualifier two years ago as a sophomore.

Sophomore Vaughn Orluski, a transfer from New Jersey, should help at the middle weights, Pete said. Others expected to fill positions are junior Jim Favors, 150; and sophomore Chad Grossa, 112.

The Eagles host the second-annual Thurston Invitational Saturday. Ten teams are invited, including Redford Union, Garden City and Fraser. RU won last year's Thurston Invitational. The Eagles are looking forward to the season and the Newtons feel they have an advantage with three sharing the coaching reigns.

This is Jeff's first year at Thurston, while Pete and Harry have been at it since 1986-87.

"It works out well," Pete said. "We know each other's styles and can give kids different type of wrestling techniques. Harry is smaller and quick. I'm bigger and work with the heavier guys and Jeff is almost a style between us. He's quick but knows how to throw."

CATHOLIC CENTRAL

Mike Rodriguez is hoping the success enjoyed by CC's football team continues on the mat this winter.

Four important wrestlers - senlors Rob Sylvester, Dan Suhalda and Steve Sucher, and Junior Dan Kelly - played for the Class AA state champion Shamrocks football team.

The Shamrocks won more than 20 dual meets a year ago, made it to the regional but falled to qualify for the state tournament as a team.

"The football championship has kind of juiced them up, so they're ready to go already," said Rodriguez, who has six seniors he's counting on. "I'm lucky to have that many, because usually I have only four or five with experience."

The Shamrocks will miss two-time Class A champion Jay Helm, a 140pounder now wrestling for Michigan State University.

"He was our top gun," Rodriguez said. "We're going to miss him quite a bit because we're empty at 145 and that's where he'd have been."

CC should get solid wrestling from Sylvester, a heavyweight who lost in the Class A finals a year ago. Rodriguez predicts senior Rusty Fowler (119) also can challenge at the state meet.

Other key returnees include: Suhajda (189), a district champion last year, and Kelly (171), who qualified for the state meet. Jim Whall (152), Tom McAvoy (130) and Sucher (126) also will score for the Shamrocks.

The underclassmen are led by juniors Dan Rieple (140) and Jeff Harris, and sophomores Jason-Krueger (160) and Adam Glanatassio (112).

The Shamrocks open the season Saturday in the Battle Creek Lakeview Invitational. Rodriguez hopes to embark on a similar trip later on this winter - for the team state championship.

"It's nice to start off there (Battle Redford Catholic Central coach Creek), because that's where we'll end up at," Rodriguez sid.

GARDEN CTY

It's been three yets since the Cougars have had a whning season. so 12th-year coach Phil Freeman feels it's about time hey return to respectability.

Garden City was 1-2 a year ago, beating only Redford Union on the mat.

"Last year we had alot of sophomores and we got kcked around pretty good," Freema) said. "This year we're going to move up a notch. We have a nice crew. he rebuilding continues from the gool year we had in 1986-87 (when the cougars were 22-4) but we'll be mich more respectable than last year?

Garden City lost Northwest Suburban League champion Jim Horvath (119) to graduation. Alio not returning is Dan Horvath, a 103-pounder who suffered a concusion playing soccer and has received doctor's orders not to play.

"It's unfortunate, because Dan is a darn tough kid," Freeman said. "Jim had leadership and it's something we'll miss because he helped make practice real tough."

Returning for their senior years, however, are Darryl Dzentze! (135). Todd Jacobs (160), Natl Morris (125) and Jim Pelzman (heavyweight). Freeman said Dzendzel has grown about four or five inches since last year and Pelzman has the best record of any returnee.

Perhaps the returnee vith the most potential is junior Chris Gorak (135). Gorak had 23 wins a year ago, placed second at the Redford Thurston Invitational and finished in the top five at the Plymouth Salem Invitational.

"As a sophomor he did a pretty darn respectable jol." Freeman said. "He put in his time and effort over the summer and is looking pretty .tough."

LIVONIA CLARENCEVILLE

The Trojans will start the season off missing three wrestlers in three different classes, but coack Mike Wantock still believes his squad is better than last year's club.

"We have some experience coming back and those wrestlers returning look stronger and in better shape than they did a year ago," Wantock sald. "We are missing wrestlers at the 103, 119 and 189 pound classes, but we'll do some adjusting once the season gets started."

Clarenceville, which finished 5-13 last year, will count on senior Don Walker to provide the leadership, according to Wantock. Walker was 14-11 last season in the 125-pound class.

Also returning is sophomore Keith Bingham, who was 12-11 in the 135pound class as a freshman.

"I have high hopes for Walker and Bingham," added Wantock, who enters his second season at the helm of Clarenceville. "We lost three wres-"llers, including our top wrestler Chip Jamrozy (18-6 at 135-pounds) but we have three freshman coming in

Even though the Warriors have 13 wrestlers returning from last season's 12-5 campaign, fifth-year coach Dennis Tuomi Isn't sure his team is "all the way there yet."

"We have been improving every year, but we still have a little way to go," Tuomi said. "Our goal is to have as many wrestlers as possible qualify for the state. But all I want for the team is for them to keep Improving and striving for excellence."

"We have a good bunch of kids to work with and the attitudes are there," Tuomi said.

Westland lost regional qualifier Mark Curlew (160-pounds), who finished 17-10, to graduation. But Tuomi is expecting good things from a group of five grapplers.

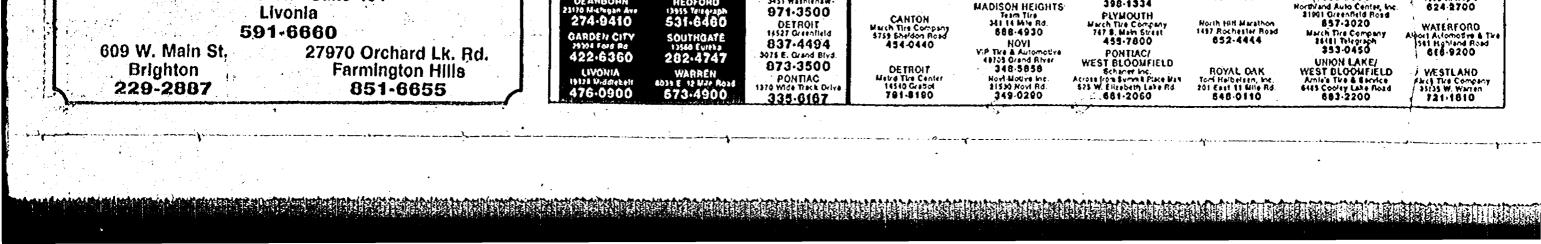

District champ junlor Doug Johnson, who finished 14-11 a year ago, will wrestle in the 112-pound class. Junior Tony Horvath (119-pound) also returns, fresh off posting a 17-11 mark.

Seniors Jeff Walrich (9-3 last year) and Ben Maton (15-8 last year) will wrestle at the 140 and 171pound class respectively. Junior heavyweight Jamie Hardy also returns off a 15-9 season.

"Maton is the team's captain and is doing a fine job as a leader," Tuomi sald.

Churchill romps again; Shamrocks edged, 5-4

Livonia Churchill's high-powered scoring attack was at it again Saturday. The Chargers made it three straight victories on the young season with a 7-2 triumph over host Southfield-Lathrup in a Suburban Prep Hockey League game played at the Civic Center Arena.

Churchill has now scored 26 goals in three games.

Senior defenseman Colin Gallagher scored twice, his fourth and fifth goals of the season, to lead the Chargers. He also had an assist.

Other goal scorers for Churchill included Shawn Thomas, Jamle Allen, Tony Dyplowski, Bill Sayed and Ryan Lukiewski.

Senior center Jeff King collected three assists, while Allen, Dyplowski, Sayed, Brian Jakowinicz, Larry Allen and Mark Michels contributed one each.

Jeremy Niemiec started in goal for the Chargers with Dave Watson finlshing up.

Churchill led 3-2 after two periods and then broke it open with four goals in the final 15 minutes of play.

4: Catholic Central suffered its second straight one-goal defeat Saturday at the hands of Michigan Metro League opponent Grosse Pointe South.

Ann Arbor Huron edged the Shamrocks three days earlier, 4-3.

Dan Crane led the victorious Blue Devils with four goals and one assist. He scored the game-winner with 4:50 to play after CC's Paul Schloss tied it at 4-all with 5:38 remaining on assists from Jesse Hubenschmidt and Bill Baaki.

The Shamrocks led 3-2 early in the period on Matt Keenan's unassisted goal. South led 1-0 after one period and 3-2 after two periods.

Hubenschmidt tallied CC's first goal from Baaki and Mike Casper added an unassisted goal later in the second period. CC goalie Mike Brusseau stopped 10 of 14 South shots. 'We're trying to find the right combinations," said CC coach Jack Gumbleton. "We've just got to work harder. If we do, I'm sure we'll improve. I thought we worked hard in this game. We didn't quit."

Record sunfish catch in Oakland

"N THE EYES of the deer hunter there are bucks, Execute trophy bucks and record-book bucks. Such is the case with most hunters, and anglers as well.

And since there are no "record-book bucks" yet reported by area sportsmen, you deer hunters will have to take the back seat for a few paragraphs while angler (Julius) Chlp Drotos basks in the spotlight.

Drotos, of Bloomfield Hills, was bass fishing with a "Momma's Cat" crankbait on Oakland County's Kirkwood Lake on Oct. 17 when he caught what he thought was "a pretty big bluegill."

What he actually landed was a new state record and a possible world record 1-pound 81/2-ounce green sunfish.

"I'm not really an avid fisherman," said Drotos. "But I was enjoying the weather and went out (in a paddleboat) to do a little fishing.

"I pulled in what I thought was a pretty big bluegill. My neighbor, (Rob Rodtke) who is an avid fisherman, was on shore and when he checked it out it turned out to be a green sunfish."

When Drotos reported his catch to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources the next day to receive his Master Angler patch, he learned the fish was a new state record. Three weeks later, a DNR biologist called back to inform Drotos that the fish was a possible world record.

The fish eclipsed the old state record of 1 pound 5 ounces and is expected to be certified by the National Freshwater Fishing Hall of Fame in Wisconsin as a world-record catch in the 6-pound-test line category.

"I was proud to just catch a state record," Drotos said. "I didn't realize the impact of all of this until I started talking to other fishermen."

It took most of the day - because he was bunting alone - to retrieve both deer, but Branton finally made it out of the woods and returned home with two nice bucks.

• Tom Plagnay of Redford was hunting a blind on the edge of an open field in Manistee County when he made a great shot, dropping a 150-pound eight-point buck at 500 paces. He shot the deer at 7:30 a.m. opening morning of the firearms season.

After field-dressing the buck and taking it back to camp, Plagnay headed back into the woods. During a lunch break at his wife's blind, Elaine Plagnay shot her first deer ever, a doe, "in mid-sandwich," sald Tom.

The next day, Tom's father, Andy Plagnay, a former Redford resident who now lives in Manistee County. filled both of his licenses in a span of 20 minutes. Bill Wilson, of Shelby Township, called to report that seven hunters at Trail's End managed to bring downeight bucks during the firearms deer season.

Wilson got things started on opening morning when, he took a 125-pound four-point.

Ishpeming's Bill Hill claimed "Buck Master" honors at the camp for the upcoming year when he dropped a, 150-pound nine-point, also on opening morning.

John Hill of Ishpeming took the first of his two spike, horns on opening day and followed that with his secondspike horn on Nov. 18.

Other opening day bucks were downed by Sidnaw's Jerry Strickler, who bagged a three-point, and Benzonia's Tom Stapleton, who took a spike horn - his first buck ever.

Dean Doll of Clarkston filled his tag on Nov. 23 when he shot a spike born which was also his first buck.

Gene Berbaum came all the way from Vista, Calif. to participate in Michigan's firearm deer season, and he wasn't disappointed. Berbaum filled his tag with a spike horn on Nov. 27.

Wilson attributed much of the camp's success to Greg Rogers of Howell.

"Greg is our tracker," said Wilson. "We call him our 'Bloodhound,' because he always helps everyone else find their deer. He always complains that he never has enough time to hunt because he's always tracking someone else's deer."

Following is a capsule look at

Gridiron heroes CC, Harrison place 5 each on 1st team

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

OM MACH, the Redford each member of the Observer's first-Catholic Central football team, coach, wasn't totally discouraged when he awoke Sept: 30.

Even though it looked like he had reason to be,

The Shamrocks had lost, 8-6, the night before to Detroit St. Martin De Portes, and were left with a 3-2 record and slim hopes of a Class AA state playoff berth. But 🦾

"Even when we were 3-2 I mentioned to the coaches that we were playing hard and there wasn't much we can do about it," Mach said. "I was never upset with our performance. It was fun toward the end of the year to call our offense."

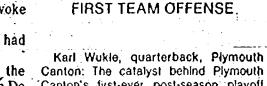

Fun, because the Shamrocks finished the season with eight straight wins, including a 21-0 pounding of Detroit Martin Luther King in the Class AA final: Because of it, Mach has been named Observerland's Coach of the Year.

Mach, who owns a 119-31-1 record and two state titles in 15 years at CC, credits the turnaround to "smashmouth football."

That's slang for power football, CC style.

Karl Wukie

play every game," Mach said.

Canton: The catalyst behind Plymouth Canton's first-ever post-season playoff team. Wukie finished the season with 2,600 yards in total offense. A three-year starter, he threw for 1,450 yards and 14 -touchdowns: He also gained 1,150 yards on the ground and scored 13 touchdowns rushing. He was selected as the Chiefs MVP.

"He makes a lot of things happen and is a leader by example," coach Bob Khoenle said. "An outstanding athlete, good thrower and a good college prospect."

Gary Devine, running back, Harrison: The 5-loot-6, 155-pound tailback had an enviable senior year, gaining 1,483 yards on 256 carries for a 5.8 yard per carry average. He also finished the year with 27 touchdowns and 162 points. All this despite being hampered late in the campaign with an ankle injury.

"He really was the heart of the offense for most of the games," coach John Herrington said. "He was very hard to tackle - low to the ground with great speed. He runs a 4.6 and can really make the cuts.

Anthony Hood, running back, Bishop Borgess: The 6-foot, 212-pound senior gained 1,172 yards as the Spartans won the Catholic League's Tri-Sectional champlonship

Hood was quick out of the blocks and wasn't afraid to run over people.

"He's an excellent back with good speed," said Borgess coach Walt Bazylewicz. "He's also a very durable kid."

Leon Hister, running back, Plymouth Salem: The 5-10, 160-pound junior rushed for 987 yards on 140 carries and more impressively, scored 18 touchdowns rushing.

"He was obviously a major part of the offense and probably one of the most talented running backs we've ever had," coach Tom Moshimer said. "He has the moves, is very shifty and can stop dead in his tracks - and take off. He can also run inside. It's hard to get a clean shot at him.'

Jon Barbara, running back, Catholic Central: The 6-2, 215-pound senior gave out punishment as often as he received it. Barbara led CC with 788 yards rushing on 175 carries, a 4.5 average. He led the team with 14 touchdowns, all but one coming on the ground. He also grabbed eight passes for 67 yards and made 13 linebacker. "He did more than we expected because he became the heart of our offense in terms of leadership and intensity," Mach said. "He always had outstanding Intensity. He was a major contributor by example and he motivated others."

Brett Howell, wide receiver, Plymouth Canton: Howell was Wukle's favorite target, catching 41 passes for 580 yards and 10 touchdowns. Howell is a 6-2, 195pound senior, who also has gained attention of college scouts.

good hands," Khoenle said.

sive back had four interceptions and 37 tackles:

"Brian had a fantastic year," Mach said. "It was his first year playing defensive end, and it was a position made for him. He has good mobility, he put presation sure on the quarterback and made some great plays. I considered him a tone setter with his aggressive hits."

Bobby Johnson, defensive lineman, Livonia Franklin: The Patriots' Most Valuable Player on defense, Johnson took some weight off his 6-1 frame and it showed. The 240-pounder played nose guard and linebacker on defense and center on offense. He also kicked extra points and field goals.

"He had a good season and led us a lot," coach Armand Vigna said. "What's good about him is his quickness."

Tony Shaleb, defensive lineman, Harrison: A versatile performer, Shaleb recorded 55 tackles and was a consistent blocker at offensive guard. He also punted 29 times for a 34.2 yard average. He bench presses 300 pounds.

"Tony was one of the best blockers we've ever had at guard," Herrington said, "and he was real solid at defensive tackle. He hurt his shoulder and was able to play over it. He's one of the finest linemen we've ever had."

Gary Gurgold, defensive lineman, Catholic Central: The 6-1, 220-pound senior tied for the team lead in tackles with 93, 13 unassisted. The two-way performer also had one sack and a fumble ers, but we thought Gary was too good to go only one way," Mach said. "When we needed big yardage, we ran (Jon) Barbara on the right side over Sylvester and Gurgold."

Blazo Sarcevich, linebacker, Farmington Hills Harrison: A sure blue chipper, Sarcevich led the Hawks with 139 tackles, and finished as the school's all-time leader In that category with 299. Offensively, the 6-3, 230-pounder caught 12 passes for 166 yards, a 13.8 per catch average. He scored two touchdowns.

"When he hits somebody, it's the end of the line for them," Herrington said. "He rates in the top four or five linebackers we've ever had, without a doubt. He's a sure tackler who pursued to the ball. He'll be tough to replace."

Jason Gould, linebacker, John Glenn: Gould was the Rockets defensive MVR and also a team captain. The 5-11, 195pounder was the Rockets leading tackler. "He is very quick, smart and we expected a lot out of him in terms of calling defenses," Gordon sald. "He did an excellent job."

Farmington: Had eight receptions for 185 yards and two touchdowns. The 6-4, 235pound senior also played defensive end, recording 67 tackles, Including five for losses. He also had two sacks and four knock-downs.

"From game one on, everyone ran away from him," said O'Leary. "He took blockers and ball carriers, together."

Tony Prey, lineman, John Glenn: The 6-foot-1, 227-pound senior two-way tackle was Glenn's best lineman and he led the Rockets to their fifth post-season berth in the past six years. A co-Most Valuable Player, Prey also carries a 3.5 grade point average.

"He's one of the most dedicated to ever play at John Glenn," coach Chuck Gordon sald. "No matter if it was practice or the weight room, he was always the last to leave. A lot of players holler, he's quiet and leads by example. He was a pleasure to coach and very steady."

Mike Teller, lineman, Plymouth Canton: Teller, a 6-5, 220-pound senlor, Teller opened holes for the Chiefs' explosive offense and was pivotal in leading them to their first-ever playoff berth. His 3.83 grade point average earned him the team's student/athlete award.

"A lot of schools are looking at him," Khoenle said. "He came into his own this year. He did a great job of blocking for the run or pass and stayed on his blockwell. He cleaned out the line of scrimm- " age.'

Rob Sylvester, lineman, Redford Catholic Central: A 6-2, 235-pound senlor, Sylvester showed his versatility by moving from guard to tackle because of teammate Gary Gurgold's injury during the Class AA title victory over Detroit King. On defense, Sylvester finished third on the Shamrocks in tackles with 80, nineunassisted. He also recovered a fumble.

"I think Rob is equal to any lineman in the state," Mach said. "He has excellent technique. He trap blocked and pulled a lot for us to allow us to run the offense we wanted."

Jason Gloeizner, lineman, Farmington Hills Harrison: The 6-2, 227-pound junior loves pancakes, and we're not talking about the kind Bisquick makes. A twoway tackle, Gloetzner also had 49 tackles, including 11 unassisted.

"He's definitely a force on offense," Herrington said. "He's one of our best drive-blockers we've ever had. He delights in getting pancakes (blocks which flatten the opponent). The kids called him biscuit because he gets so many pancakes. He just stays on people and drives them off the ball until they're lying on their backs." -

"He was a solid player who knew what was going on and made adjustments," Moshimer said. "He's a smart kid, very twice what to do."

"He's the best athlete I've coached in my 10 years," coach Bob Snell said. "He was the key to our team."

Adam Moran, linebacker, Wayne Memorial: The team's MVP, Moran ended his career with a school record 259 tackles.

"He was our leader on defense and played well game after game," coach Chuck Howton said. "He always made the big play and did a tremendous job."

Mike Thomas, defensive back, Catholic Central: An impressive tailback, the 6-1, 195-pound speedster made an even greater impression as a defensive back. Although missing three games with an ankle injury. Thomas intercepted two passes, recovered one fumble and had 46 tackles. A starter at tailback prior to the injury, Thomas gained 556 yards on 111 carries, a 5.0 average and two touchdowns.

"He can run as well as any halfback in the state, and defensively, I haven't seen anybody better than him as far as movement," Mach said.

Mike Brooks, defensive back, Livonia Churchill: It's tough to get post-season recognition playing for a winless team, but it's hard to overlook this senior two-way threat. Brooks, 5-11, 190 pounds, gained 850 yards-rushing and led the Chargers' defense from his free safety position. Brooks also played quarterback when need be, throwing for about 200 yards.

"He's a versatile athlete," coach Herb Osterland said. "To me he's a super football player, a tough hitter and our leading defensive ballplayer. He's one of the best we've had at Churchill, offensively and defensively."

Greg Piscopink, defensive back, Harrison: Combined size and speed to become a threat in the defensive backfield and at receiver. The 6-2, 174-pound junfor made 41 tackles and caught 31 passes for 516 yards and six touchdowns. He averaged 16.6 yards per catch. "Greg is a very skilled athlete, one of the best athletes on our team," Herrington said. "As a defensive back, he was one of the hardest hillers. He made some big plays back there, and we're happy to have him back. He has the ability to run good patterns. He can get open and jump. He can go up and get the ball."

Kendrick Harrington, defensive back, Livonia Clarenceville: A four-year letterwinner, Harrington capped his career with an impressive senior year on both sides of the ball. Harrington quartertouchdowns.

"Can you travel a little if you don't shop?" I asked.

"As long as I don't go too far and it doesn't cost much."

I lifted a bright yellow brochure that said: "Santa Claus Train Rides Through Wine Country." The third annual Santa Claus tree-cutting trains leave Kalamazoo on the Lake Shore & Chicago Railway for the Bonamego Tree Farm, a few miles west of Paw Paw, where you can cut your own Christmas tree.

The trains leave Paw Paw at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Dec. 8, 9, 15 and 16, with a special 4 p.m. train Dec. 7. Fares are $17 for adults, $7 kids under 12, children under 2 are free. It costs $25 for the Christmas tree, which is mechanically baled, tagged and delivered to the train for the return home. Call (616) 657-7037 for more information.

Communities across the country may be settling down for a long winter's nap, but not Wheeling, W.Va. They have flicked the switch and turned on the lights for the annual "Festival of Lights."

What started in 1985 as a way to relive end-of-the-year doldrums during tourist-starved winter months has escalated into America's largest light festival.

More than 70 major lighted displays attract nearly 300,000 visitors through February in downtown Wheeling and Oglebay (pronounced O-gul-bee) Park.

Visitors are greeted by lighted sidewalk trees, storefront displays and 250 giant lighted snowflakes, lining downtown business-area streets. More than 40 giant lighted displays are seen throughout the city.

A kick-off celebration performance got the Festival rolling November 15, followed on November 18 by the annual gigantic holiday parade. All floats must be lighted.

Since the Festival's inception, ce-lebrities and artists such as the Drifters, Janie Frickie, Willard Scott and Loretta Lynn have appeared in Wheeling during the light show.

In Oglebay Park, more than 900,000 multicolored holiday lights glow from dusk until 11 p.m. through Jan. 30 and on weekends through February.

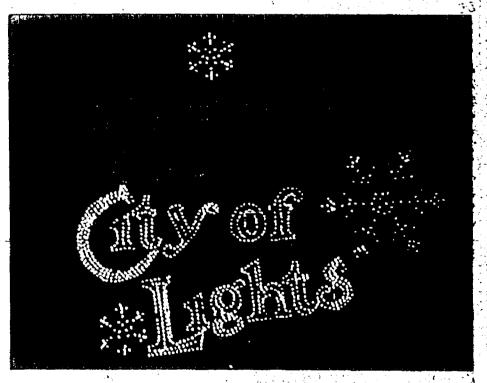

The free driving tour runs for seven miles through the city-owned 1500-acre park, which showcases 32 giant lighted displays that include four new designs for 1990.

Lighting is not limited to displays. Selected landscape vistas, historical buildings and natural tree groupings on the property are bathed or outlined by twinkling holiday lights.

Downright giddy with excitement, visitors view jumbo-sized breathtaking exhibits like tumbling teddy bears or the Stars and Stripes behind Miss Liberty, and believe in Santa and the sugar plum fairy again. Jaded, sophisticated spectators turn into children once more.

And these are no ordinary displays. They are huge. Some all-time crowd-pleasing favorites include a candy cane wreath glittering with 30-foot red and white candy canes surrounded by a 60-foot green and red holly wreath.

The "Twelve Days of Christmas" display brings to life that famous carol in football-field size, sparkling with more than 28,000 lights. A golden 32-foot menorah rises through a blue Star of David, commemorating the Jewish Festival of Lights.

My favorite is the Fantasy Light Tunnel. Eleven arches containing 1.243 white lights and crystal snowflakes capture and contort car headlights when driving through. A grander, more romantic age can be conjured up by visiting Wheel-ing's treasure trove of Victorian homes. Whether a guided tour, an overnight stay at a Victorian bedand-breakfast or shopping at the two beautifully restored market houses at Centre Market Square, the essence of things Victorian is well-preserved in Wheeling.

And a shopping expedition is in order. The area has an abundance of dinnerware and glass factories that live country music show.

Wheeling is conveniently located one-hour west of Pittsburgh, Pa. on I-70. In 1989, 3.5 million visitors viewed the combined Oglebay/ Wheeling light show. It does become crowded. To help make your visit more enjoyable, consider these helpful hints:

• Allow plenty of time to view Oglebay displays. Trafficcan become congested at the Park.

• Choose alternate routes, available from the WheelingConvention and Visitors Bureau.

• Go during non-peak mid-week nights, except Christmasweek and Thanksgiving.

• When in Wheeling call the fun phone line (304) 233-2709, for the day's events and activities.

• If fighting traffic is not your idea of fun, bus tour operators sponsor trips to the Festival. When you leave the driving to someone else, you can enjoy the beauty of the Festival from the comfort of a well-pac ded bus seat. Then there was Los Faisanes, a chic restaurant in Condado, with flawless pheasant and seafood cuisine.

Ask Lucky Luciano, Los Falsanes' bartender, to stir up a "Hi Mamee" drink made with exotic mamee apples and dark rum, and tell him, "Salud from Detroit."

I stayed at the elegant El San Juan Hotel & Casino, but if you're not a resort traveler, Puerto Rico has accommodations for a quieter taste with paradores, noted for their homey atmosphere and good food. El Morro in Old San Juan is perhaps the most visited site by travelers. This Spanish fort was built in the mid-1500s to protect settlers from an invasion by the English. The fort sits along the San Juan harbor and is structured to sight bay intruders from miles away.

Traveling is easy to Puerto Rico. As a commonwealth, the U.S. dollar is the currency and there are no customs or entry requirements.

To transform winter darkness into a spectacular panorama of lights, a lighting display authority was hired to design the Oglebay effects. Why make such a fuss about bookworms? As historian Barbara W. Tuchman put it:

"Books are the carriers of civilization. Without books, history is silent, literature dumb, science crippled, thought and speculation at a standstill. They are engines of change, windows on the world, 'lighthouses' (as a poet said) 'erected in the sea of time.' "

Steady

Practice how you hold camera

How you hold your camera is important in order to obtain sharp pictures. Camera movement during exposure is one of the most frequent causes of fuzzy photos.

2Ë*

Too often, I've seen amateur photographers jerk the shutter release button and what could have, been a prize-winning picture is hopelessly lost to camera jiggles.

There are some simple-techniques you can follow when not using a tripod to minimize the shakes and maximize the chances of steady and sharp pictures. To start with, hold your camera in a way that's both comfortable and steady. If right handed, grasp the right side of your camera in your right hand with your forefinger gently resting on the shutter release.

Cup the camera body in your left palm with your fingers on the focusing ring. For left-handers, just reverse the positions.

KEEP YOUR arms and elbows against your body, not suspended in air. Stand firmly on the ground with your feet slightly wider than shoulder width. Hold your camera tightly against your face, take abreath, hold it, and gently squeeze the shutter release. Chances are you'll make a picture free from camera movement."

You can even brace yourself against a nearby tree or set your camera atop a fence post or car roof to improve sharpness. What shutter speed should should you use? It depends on the size of the lens you're using. A general rule is to use a shutter speed equal to or faster than the focal length of the lens. For example, use a shutter speed of 1/60 second or faster when using a normal 50 mm lens, A 1/250 second speed should be used with a 200mm lens and a 1/15 second or faster with a 17mm wide angle lens.

With zoom lenses, this guideline still holds true. Just use a shutter speed close to whereever you've set your zoom.

A golfer will practice his swing and his grip of the club. A marksman will practice squeezing the trigger. Photographers, too, should practice their handling and shooting techniques.

No signs of camera liggles in this picture. Monte Nagler used proper holding techniques to produce this photograph of a scene at Point Lobos, Calif.

Match media to subject for best results

"Da . . . vid . . . . . . . . Da . . . vid. The voice called in the middle of the night. Sitting up in bed, I realized it must have been a dream.

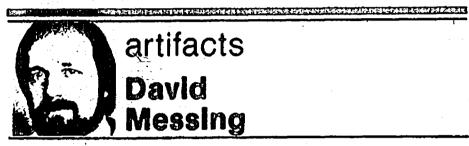

"Da . . . vid." again I heard it, it was almost spiritual. Stumbling toward the voice, I made my way into the kitchen as the refrigerator light bathed my sleepy eyes, I saw the source of my calling, apple pie. It haunted me, it drove and heaped me night and day until finally I ate the whole thing!

Just a few weeks ago, I was outside working in the summer heat. Sandy brought me some water and asked if I was ready for lunch. Feeling healthy, I said, "No, Hon," I'm just gonna eat an apple, thanks any: way."

This summer's heat really did seem to turn off my appetite. But, oh, how things have changed since the cool weather came in. The vision of a bowl of fruit pales in the unholy glow of a chocolate-covered doughnut and coffee (double cream). It scares me to think of entering the holiday season with writhing taste buds!

There are many of you artists out there that choke when you think of certain media/or subjects. My goal for myself and my students is to be able to use whatever media best suits whatever subject we intend to do.

I DON'T want to feel like there is 'a media or subject that I couldn't handle or execute for myself or my customers. To do this, you must feel free enough to move out of the safety of your favorite media or your favorite subject.

I like to think of media or subjects that I am rusty or inexperienced in and consistently develop them until they become a strength. I would hate to be remembered as just a wildlife artist or a commercial artist or a sign painter.

Likewise, I wouldn't want only to be known as a watercolorist or an oil painter or pen and ink artist. I would love it if we all could be versatile and unafraid to say, "I don't know but I will learn" or "I can't draw it yet but I will soon." Art lessons, of course, will help speed you toward this goal.

Lessons often force you into the sometimes uncomfortable position where you realize that you don't know what to do next. Well, that is precisely the point where learning begins.

Lessons in art offer you the opportunity to "get stuck" in the presence of the teacher. What you are paying money for is to learn. What a particular pleasure it is for the teacher to show the student that their supposed "deadend" was merely a "rest stop" for learning.

I GUESS it is like the musician who consistently works at a particular score of music. When it is finally mastered, he or she moves into other, perhaps more difficult pieces.

Or you could compare it to playing a video game that you just can't put down until you succeed on a certain level.

Then with hardly a pat on the back, you go at it again, seeking for yet a higher level. Now if you don't see your need for growth, then let me ask you a few questions.

Could you do a portrait of Uncle

Bill? Can you do an oil of your sister's dog or would pastel be more your choice? Here is a commercial product, could you do a pen and ink of it for a brochure?

The church needs a 3-by-15 paper banner sign. Would or could you handle it? Or finally, could you do a cartoon for a magazine article? Of course, you must see your need to grow as I certainly see my own weaknesses. What I am trying to say is, don't run away from your weak subjects or media.

Instead, run to them. Stay with them until you master them and then move into yet another weakness. Whether by instruction or self-criticism, you can learn to use any media. You can also, by instruction or your own careful study, correctly represent any subject.

Mexican mask exhibit planned for Cranbroc

Mexico's richest and most popular folk art traditions will be featured in the exhibition "Mexican Masks from the Collection of Rafael Coronel" on view Dec. 14 through Feb. 24 at Cranbrook Art Museum, Lone Pine and Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, The exhibition is a selection from Mexican painter Rafael Coronel's collection of 6,000 masks and in-cludes 400 examples dating from the 16th century to the present.

A PROGRAM of activities relating to the exhibition will be scheduled.

Prehispanic masks dating from the 16th century, colonial masks and contemporary masks are featured in the exhibit. They represent the histo-ry, heritage and world view of Mexico's diverse population, which includes 50 Indian tribes as well as people of Spanish and African descent.

The masks originated in southern and northern regions of Mexico and include examples from Veracruz, Michoacan, Oaxaca, Puebla, Jalisco, Chiapas and Guanajuato. Among the ethnic groups represented are the Nauhuati, the Purepecha, the Huasteco, the Otomi and the Yaqui.

MASKS HAVE been used in Mexico throughout the centuries for magical festivities, religious ceremonies and folkloric dances. The person wearing a mask can heal illness, become an angel or conjure the gods by taking on the appearance of his enemies.

The shape, the colors and even the materials with which each mask was built have a special meaning that was commonly understood by the observers. Most of the masks in the exhibition are made of wood, carved by hand and decorated with oil paints and other media.

NOTED PAINTER and collector Rafael Coronel, who was married to the daughter of Mexican painter and muralist Diego Rivera, began collecting masks in 1973.

Coronel's extensive collection is regarded as the most comprehensive of its kind. It is housed in the Rafael Coronel Museum, which Mexican President Carlos Salinas de Gortari opened earlier this year in the painter's native city of Zacatecas.

The exhibition was coordinated in Mexico by Juan Coronel, the grandson of Rafael Coronel, and was presented earlier this year in New York as a part of the city's tribute to Mexico, "Mexico: A Work of Art." It comes to Cranbrook through the generosity of Juan and Rafael Coronel.

CRANBROOK ACADEMY of Art Museum offers temporary exhibitions focusing on contemporary trends in the visual arts. Its perma-nent collection features work by Cranbrook artists, architects and designers. Museum hours are 1-5 p.m. Tuesday-Sunday.

Guided tours are available with advance notice.

Cranbrook Academy of Art, along with its contemporary art museum, is a division of Cranbrook Educa-tional Community, which also in-cludes Cranbrook Institute of Science and Cranbrook Schools.

This activity is supported by the Michigan Council for the Arts.

Collection of master prints on exhibit

"Master Prints of Five Centuries: The Alan-and-Marianne-Schwartz-Collection" is being shown exclusively at the Detroit Institute of Arts through Jan. 6.

This exhibition is a selection of nearly 200 master prints from the 15th century to 1950, with examples of all the major printmaking technloues: woodcut, engraving, etching and lithography.

Innovative painter-printmakers from Albrecht Durer to George Bellows are represented by some of their finest prints.

The collectors, residents of Bloomfield Hills, have a long association with the Detroit Institute of Arts. Detroit attorney Alan E. Schwartz is an adviser to the City of Detroit Arts Commission and a senior partner in the firm of Honigman Miller Schwartz and Cohn.

Marianne Schwartz has been a trustee of the museum's Founders Society since 1970 and is a member of its executive committee. She is an honorary member of the board of directors of the Founders Graphic Arts Council.

This exhibition celebrates the 10th anniversary of the establishment of the DIA's Schwartz Graphic Arts Galleries, made possible by the Schwartz' gift and named in honor of the couple and their children -Marc, Kurt and Ruthanne. The exhibition is made possible by the city of Detroit, the state of Michigan, the Founders Society and the Schwartz Family Foundation.

Luminaries aid local symphony

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

The Plymouth Symphony League is continuing its tradition of selling luminaria kits on behalf of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The orchestra's operating budget will receive half of the sales from the luminaria kits sold this holiday season. The rest of the money will benefit the Trailwood Garden Club.

What are luminaria kits? Luminaries are lanterns made from a cuffed paper bag and a candle. The bottom of the bag is weighted with two cups of sand, rock salt, bird seed or kitty litter. This keeps the lanterns from being blown away when lit; they are placed at curbside on Christmas Eve.

"Luminaria or luminarles are a holiday tradition borrowed from the Southwest," said Laurene Vigi, a league member in charge of publicity for the kits.

'On Christmas Eve, the Spanish place the lanterns alongside the curbs to light the way for the Holy Family."

In 1985, she graduated from Albion with highest honors, a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Ø DSO CHIEF

Mark Volpe, currently the vice president and general manager of the Minnesota Orchestra, has been named executive director of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra.

"His experience, vitality, and proven management skills are beneficial for the orchestra and for Detroit," said Steve Miller, Detroit Symphony Orchestra Hall chairman. "He is respected throughout the music industry, by colleagues and musicians alike."

In Minnesota, he was noted for successfully negotiating labor contracts with musicians and stage hands and managing recording contracts and tours. Before that, he was general manager of the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra.

"With the restoration of Orchestra Hall now complete and the arrival of Neeme Jarvi as music director, I believe the DSO is poised to resume its place as one of America's pre-emil? nent symphony orchestras," Volpe said.

"We have significant challenges ahead of us in solidifying the finan-cial future of DSOH, but I am confi-dent that with Neeme Jarvi and this great restoration of Orchestra Hall and with the board leadership of Steve Miller, we can go on about the work of securing the successful future of this irreplaceable cultural institution."

Jarvi and the musicians them. selves were also pleased with the appointment.

"This represents yet another key element in the growth and progress of DSOH," Jarvi said. "Now that all the pieces are in place, we can get on with the business of showing the world just how great this orchestra is."

"Mr. Volpe is one of the brightest rising stars among American orchestra managers," said Joe Goldman, speaking on behalf of the musicians. "One could not hope to find anyone more qualified to navigate our orchestra's course through the '90s and beyond."

gardener's book nook Marty Figley

• "The Rock Garden and Its Plants" by Graham_Stuart Thomas (Sagapress/Timber-Press, $34.95, hardcover) is a history of rock gardens and the various types of rocks used, from ancient grottos to the present.

Thomas is a well-recognized expert and relates personal experiences in creating and maintaining these gardens. Included are historical facts about alpine plants. Anyone who desires to create such a garden can gain from this fine book. The author's own watercolor illustrations are a bonus.

• "Genius of the Garden" by Peter Verney and Michael Dunne (Webb & Bower, $29.95, hardcover) gives many ideas for creating gardens using examples from great gardens of the past and their designers.

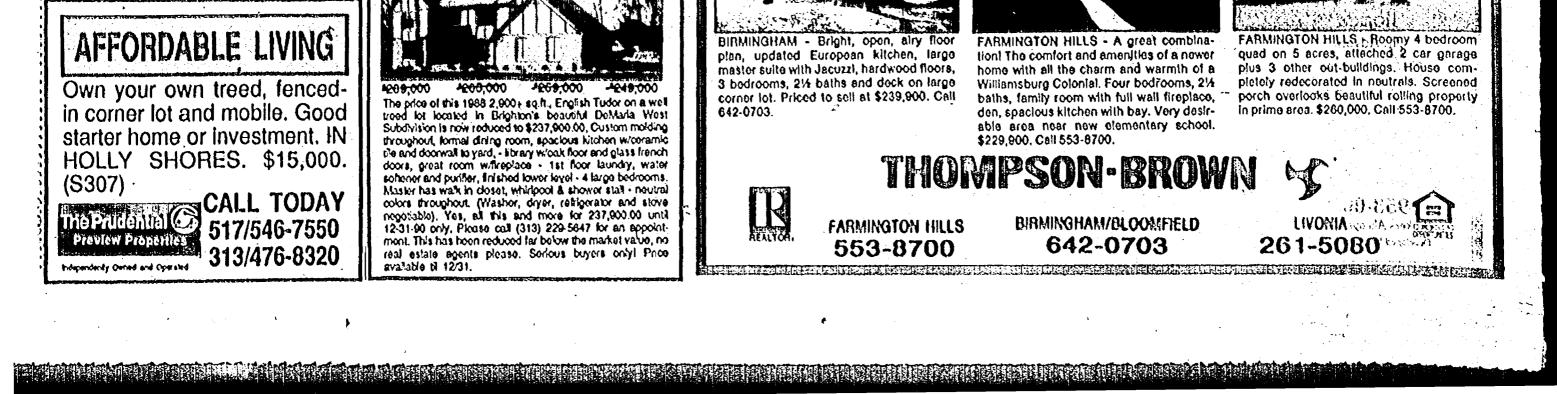

This beautiful book tells "what makes a garden," by explaining how to incorporate the plants with architectural elements such as trellises, water; statues and backgrounds. The author writes in a very readable manner. I also like the quotes from famous authors interspersed throughout the book.

The gardener will be encouraged to try some old techniques and create new ones. For instance, ; it might be time to experiment again with multiple planting, practiced by Chinese gardeners years ago, placing several different plants into one hole.

• "Plants from the Past" by David Stuart and James Sutherland (Penguin, $16.95, soft) contains historical information about many plants still ; seen in modern gardens.

· It shows how plants were used and explains how many were lost to the gardening world. Al-' though not as "showy" as modern hybrids, "old" plants with their charm (and fragrance) are still important in modern gardens. A list of nurseries that specialize in these plants is included.

• "The National Arboretum Book of Outstanding Garden Plants" by Jacqueline Heriteau with Dr. H. Marc Cathey (Simon & Schuster, $39.95, hardcover) is a must book for every gardener who wishes to learn about outstanding, environmentally safe plants (disease- and pest-resistant) that are easy-care.

This large volume lists more than 1,700 proven performers; trees, shrubs, ground cover, vines, ornamental grasses, flowers, herbs and aquatics. The book is written by the staff and consultants of the National Arboretum; the advice is sound.

The book launches a new American Association of Nursery Crops Coding System.

"The desire of the National Arboretum is to bring into common usage the botanical names," Cathey said. "It's the only way to establish order because the common names change from region to region and with the years."

It also introduces the arborteum's new USDA plant hardiness map of the United States, the first in 25 years. This would be a perfect addition to a garden library.

• "A World of Plants," The Missouri Botanical Garden (Abrams, $39.95, hardcover) features splendid photographs of this garden, first opened to the public in 1859.

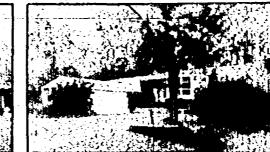

Display, research and education are the focus of this garden.

Holiday walk will benefit Greenmead

"We're excited because this year's tour includes interesting homes from all over town," said Janet Bennett, president of Friends for the Development of Greenmead. "We have a farmhouse built in 1917 and a new ranch-style house just finished a few months ago."

Homes for the walk are selected by club members who keep their "eyes and ears open," just hoping to find an interesting place to include. Besides considering the architectural style, members try to find houses of various ages in all sections of the city. This year, two homes are south of Plymouth Road, the rest north of Five Mile.

"Quite often, someone on the tour will say they didn't realize a neighborhood we selected was in Livo-'nla," Bennett sald.

HOMES ON this year's walk include an English Tudor off Gill Road, between Six and Seven Mile. 'Built in 1986,' the custom home features a sunken great room with all the extras. A commanding, circular staircase leads to a master suite. with a complete living area.

A new 6,700-square-foot ranch home off Six Mile, between Farmington Road and Wayne Road, took 1½ years to build and was finished just four months ago. The inviting, double-door entry combines beveled glass and brass. Inside is a pool and whirlpool surrounded by a recreational area with a television and grill. The spacious house boasts five bedrooms and four full baths.

A commanding, eight-foot oak door will welcome tour goers to a Tudor-style Cape Cod also off Six Mile, between Farmington and Wayne roads. The unusual, 3,400square-foot house blends traditional and contemporary architecture. The spacious entry leads to a library with custom French doors of brass and beveled glass. The house includes a fireplaced great room and master suite with a whirlpool, sauna and vanity area.

A DRAMATICALLY decorated home in Coventry Gardens was originally built in 1925. It was thoroughly renovated by the present owner. who grew up in the house and supervised the reconstruction every step of the way.

"I did all of the demolition and even drove the nails," the homeowner said. "I'm thrilled with the house. It seems to look different every day."

The main floor features a living room with a cathedral ceiling and a state-of-the-art kitchen. A spacious recreation room, fifth bedroom and spa cover the lower level. The walk also features an Italianate-style house built in 1917 on Levan Road, just south of Plymouth Road. The three-story, home, originally on 60 acres, was built by the great-grandfather for the present owner's grandfather. Nine-foot ceilings highlight the house, which still includes much of the original built-in storage space. Many of the furnishings and other features date back to the late 1800s.

A MODIFIED Cape Cod off Inkster Road, between Five Mile and Six Mile, is tucked into the wooded area along Bell Creek. The present owners have enjoyed updating the house which now features a veranda and garden room.

. A 40-year-old house in Rosedale

Gardens was thoroughly remodeled in 1986. Custom designed by the owners, the house features formal living spaces as well as casual areas such as the library loft, sun room and informal dining area. An expansive, 20-foot floor to ceiling glass wall highlights the spacious, multilevel living area.

Participating florists are Livonia Bennett said.

Florist, Country Lane Flower Shops, Bartel's Flowers, Premier Design, Apple Wreath and Cardwell Florist.

Tour organizers, who also sponsor the city's garden walk in June, hope ticket sales for this year's Christmas walk exceed the 500 sold last year. "We had great response for the first Christmas tour last year, so we're hoping for that enthusiasm again," guest soloist next season. DiBlasi conducted his first orchestra, the New York Little Symphony in 1947 at age 19. He attended Julliard School of Music in New York, and was assistant first trumpet for the Detroit Symphony Orchestra for eight years.

DiBlasi conducted the Michigan "It'was named the Oakway Sym- * Opera Company for our years, and has been guest conductor for the Pittsburgh Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra, Julliard Opera, Grand Rapids Symphony, Flint Symphony and Detroit Women's Symphony.

"WE HAVE a wonderful board, the best board I've ever worked with," DiBlasi said of the board of directors for the Livonia Symphony Orchestra. "Every one gets in there and works."

DiBlasi is excited about the Library Series Concerts at the beginning of next year. "This is the third year for the library series," DiBlasi said. "It's been sold out every year."

As for his plans for next year, Di-Blasi said, he "hopes to have the next season nailed down by the middle of January."

DiBlasi's pride in the Livonia Symphony Orchestra beams through his words. "We're the only orchestra that gives live auditions," DiBlasi said of the yearly LSO competition that he began 13 years ago.

The competition offers area musicians the opportunity to win $3,000 in prizes and a guest performance with the orchestra.

DiBlasi said he expects "The Nutcracker" performances will be sold out. The popular Tchaikovsky Ballet is a seasonal favorite. Many families feel their holidays would be incomplete without "The Nutcracker."

Tickets are $9 and are available at Madonna College, Hammell Music and the Livonia Civic Center Library. For information, call 422-8090.

This single-family, detached condominium in the Maple Hills section of the Maple of Novi development by Classic Construction Co. of West Bloomfield is one of two products available for under $100,000. Sales for the threebedroom, 11/2-bath units, which sell for $99,900, are brisk, according to Classic Construction president Sam Blumenstein.

Builders compete with existing housing stock

Rising costs threaten 'affordable' housing -

By Gorald Frawley staff writer

Building homes under $100,000 --some say that in these days of rising land, labor and material costs, restrictive zoning and building codes and slow growth/no growth pressures that that's almost impossible. The key word is "almost."

Sam Blumenstein, president of Classic Construction in West Bloomfield, said there is a tremendous market for under $100,000 housing, but no one is filling it because of obstacles.

Affordable housing is critical for first-time home buyers, who are just entering the home buyer market and need a way to build equity, and for empty nesters, who need less space now.

The need for affordable housing is best exemplified by the sales record of under $100,000 homes.

"We keep hearing about the econo-, my slowing down, but we're bucking the trend like crazy. Sales are up 50 percent," Blumenstein said.

Very few builders are building for the under $100,000 market, Blumenstein said, but not because they don't want to build affordable housing. "Unless you're a vertical company like we are, you just can't do it."

CLASSIC CONSTRUCTION is able to save a great deal of money because the company not only assembles and buys the land, but rezones it, develops it and builds the homes as well.

"If you do all that, and you run a tight ship, you can still do it," he condominiums start at $99,900. Homes adjacent to a nine-hole golf course start at $139,000.

The single greatest obstacle to building homes under $100,000, Blumenstein said, is the price of land.

"You can't buy the land cheap enough and you can't develop it cheap enough to (build homes for $100,000 or less)."

Once the price of the lot goes over $22,000 to $25,000, the price of building materials and labor makes $100,000 an unattainable goal, he said. "That's what's really killing the under $100,000 market.'

BLUMENSTEIN ADDED-that local government restrictions on minimum lot sizes, woodlands and wetlands are the greatest factors in driving up land costs.

To make affordable housing more common, Blumenstein said communities will have to loosen their restrictions and recognize the need for lower cost housing.

Some communities, he said, are already taking a second look at their ordinances. The result? More flexible zoning ordinances that allow builders to develop projects with a higher density on part of site in exchange for open space, woodlands or wetlands preservation on another part of the site, Blumenstein said.

Communities that insist on stricter zoning ordinances, he said, are learning the hard way that the costs of restrictive zoning ordinances are high.

In many recent lawsuits, the courts have sided with builders in saying that some of these restrictive ordinances constitute an unlawful and even in less desirable areas will frequently cost more than $50,000, he said.

"If you're building in Rochester it will cost you $40,000 just for the lot -. that means you would have to build (the house) for about $50,000. You can't do it," Lawson said.

James McLennan, president of Willow Development in Birmingham said there aren't any secrets to building homes for under $100,000. Builders arrive at a home's cost by adding labor and materials costs and then factoring in the profit.

"And frankly, you don't make much of a return for $99,900," McLennan said. "It's a real price, but it's also a promotional price."

Most people will add options to the base price that drive the cost up, he said.

"Which doesn't mean these are stripped-down models," McLennan said. A builder can build several lower priced homes to attract customers and then make up the profits by selling options and upscale models.

"In that way, we're somewhat like the auto industry," he said.

McLENNAN SAID it's unlikely that builders will be able to hold the line on affordable housing for under $100,000 much longer. "If we were to mass produce homes for under $100,000, we'd have to take out a lot (of the standard features).

McLennan developed Fox Run Condominiums in Waterford Township, which has two ranch-style, twobedroom, 145-bath units under $100,000. Other two- and three-bedroom ranch and townhouse units at

A subtle reason for the lack of homes for under $100,000 is builders have a hard time competing with the existing home market.

Bill Lawson, a partner with the Michigan Home Builders Inc. in Rochester Hills, said rising costs have made it impossible to compete. "We can't build a home for the same price as an older home and give you the same thing."

Increased regulations, land costs. material costs, labor costs - all have risen in the last decade.

The main selling point of the new home is exactly that - its newness, he said.

High property taxes is another reason it is difficult to build homes for under $100,000, Lawson said. Even though assessments have risen significantly in the high-growth areas, they have not risen as quickly as building costs, Lawson said. Assessments on older homes of the same size and type as a newer home is generally lower for the older home because the assessment was established at the original lower sale price, he said.

LAWSON SAID some people point toward re-urbanization as the answer to building affordable homes the argument being that builders should construct homes in Detroit and other urban areas where land costs are relatively low.

Image problems, racism and lack of city services aside, builders are still reluctant to build in established urban areas — even though the extensive infrastructure makes property alluring, Lawson said.

Because property has either devalued or not appreciated, tax rates in urban areas are generally much higher than in less urbanized areas, he said. "So why would I want to build in Detroit?"

The tax burden on newer, highcost housing would be huge, he said. For example, two $100,000 homes - one in Detroit and one in Rochester Hills - would cost the same to build, but taxes would probably be more than double on the Detroit home.

Instead of someone making a profit at each step of the development process, he can sell homes at 15 to 20 percent savings because he cuts out several middlemen, Blumenstein said.

And just because it's affordable housing doesn't mean it's cheap housing, he said. A nine-hole golf course, nature and walking trails and common areas, and community centers and pools are available to the homeowners.

Classic Construction is developing the 900-unit Maples of Novi development which has several options available for under $100,000. Attached one-bedroom, one-den condominiums start at $79,900; and detached three-bedroom, 11/2 baths taking of property.

Bill Lawson, a partner with the Michigan Home Builders Inc. in Rochester Hills, said land costs alone have made home construction under $100,000 virtually impossible. Lawson primarily builds custom homes and small projects.

"It's really tough," he said. "You can go out into the sticks where the land is cheap, but you're going to have a hard time anywhere else.'

Lawson builds homes in the $100,000 to $150,000 range in North Oakland County where land prices have skyrocketed in recent years.

IMPROVED LOTS, depending on where they're located, can cost as much as $100,000 in desirable areas Fox Run range as high as $140,000.

"They're essentially single-family homes that are attached one-half of one wall," he said.

Land costs are not the greatest factor in rising home prices, McLennan said. "Here in the Midwest, land is not the factor that it is on the west and east coasts."

Labor and materials are a greater part of housing costs than land, he said, adding that labor and materials are more volatile. Lumber costs, for example, have actually dropped in recent months, but other material costs have increased.

The net effect, he said, is that he has been able to hold the line on housing costs.

Slowing economy turns interests to renovation

OK, maybe building a home under $100,000 is becoming a thing of the past.

Rising land, labor and material costs, restrictive zoning and building codes and slow growth/no growth pressures have made new home construction a difficult, albeit not insurmountable task.

So other than apartments and exsting homes, where does that leave John "blue collar" Smith?

-Mike Ciaffone, a sales manager for the Michigan Condominium

Corp. said some builders will be turning to remodeling jobs of existing structures - especially in light of the slowing economy.

Remodeling can offer significant cost advantages to new construction depending on the property, he said, mainly because the building's structural frame - one of the greatest costs in building — already exists.

"The fact that we start with an existing structure reduces are costs significantly," he said. REMODÈLERS CAN also pur- chase existing buildings in highprice, high-growth areas at half the cost of building new, he said, because assessments - even though they've increased - have grown as fast as building from scratch.

By remodeling old apartment complexes, builders can often bring in condominium projects well below $100,000 -- even as low as $59,000.

And some existing facilities, Ciaffone continued, offer great opportunitles. The Michigan Condominium Corp. recently revamped 116 executive rental units in West Bloomfield and renamed it Moon Lake Condominiums. The two- or three-bedroom, twobath, detached units, which sell for $99,990, were a rare find even for a company that specializes in finding remodeling jobs. "It's by far one of the best products, new or (remodeled), on the market."

Ciaffone said one thing that adds greatly to the cost of housing is people expect more in a home and are unwilling to wait for the extra bedroom or amenities.

Since remodeling cuts down on materials and labor costs, builders - with the right property - can offer more at a reduced price.

"If we built (Moon Lake condominiums) today, there's no way we couldn't do it for $99,990."

"(But) because we already had the existing structure," we were able to put more money into other things," he said.

Ciaffone said there are relatively few homes for under $100,000 these days, but there are still a lot of. homes for under $125,000. "There's actually a lot of competition out there."

Ciaffone said the line between "affordable" and "luxury" housing has continued to blur over the years.

"A $100,000 home is not (the benchmark) that it used to be."

As costs continue to rise and building continues to be more difficult, first-time buyer and starter home prices will edge over the $100,000 mark, he said.

Here's a glimpse of what's hot for today's cook, connoisseur and literary gourmet:

 Cusinart Prepboard Counter Protector/Cutting Surface was designed for the practical cook on your list. An 11-inch, square plastic board with curved rims, it keeps counters clean, won't dull knives and is simply wonderful to use. It's attractive enough to go from counter to table. They're available in white and black. You may want to get two of three because one is not enough.

For a bridal shower, add a few brightly colored dish towels, a paring knife and tie with a big satin bow. Find PrepBoards in shops that carry Cusinart products and at Williams-Sonoma, Somerset Mall-Troy, Laurel Park Place, Livonia; Jacobson's, Livonia and Birmingham; and Kitchen Glamour, Redford Township, West Bloomfield and Rochester. From Dec. 1 through Jan. 1 (except Christmas Day), special displays and demonstrations at the indoor/outdoor historical complex will rekindle some of the magic that marks the holiday. They also will revive a variety of traditions from past generations as the holiday celebration "Traditions to Treasure" is presented at both the museum and the village in Dearborn.

Everyone knows the magic of the holidays can best be seen through the eyes of a child. Henry Ford Museum will celebrate the holidays keeping youngsters, the the young at heart, in mind.

The centerpiece for the museum celebration will be a towering holiday tree decorated with cookies, candy, dolls, stuffed animals and small toys. Every child, young and old, will find something to wish for on the giant tree. It's not inconceivable that a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle or two might find its way onto the branches.

MORE TRADITIONAL holiday sights and sounds will await museum visitors in the concourse area, where the cheerful toots from a fantasy Lionel train layout will mingle with the strains of holiday music.

Several craft activities will offer children the chance to create items in keeping with the season. Folks can even leave a little part of their own family history with the museum by contributing photographs of their own holiday traditions to the holiday photo wall. (The photographs will become part of the Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village Archives.)

Of course, Santa Claus will preside over the merriment and be available to hear every little one's holiday wish.

DOZENS OF "traditions to treasure" will be re-created in the historic buildings of Greenfield Village. Customs and trimmings from past decades will be featured, ranging from a rural English yuletide in the 17th century Cotswold Cottage to a more modern 1880s American Christmas celebration at the Firestone Farm

Thursday, December 6, 1990

At scheduled times throughout the day, costumed staff in various homes throughout the village will create decorations and gifts, and demonstrate cooking and food preparation using recipes, utensils and techniques from the past. The Edison Homestead will offer one such domestic scene with the preparation of old-fashioned candles and baked goods.

Other holiday settings and activities to be enjoyed will include an 1890s millinery, where ladies busily fashion winter bonnets; the creative craftsmanship of potters and glass blowers; and the general store, where children are welcome to play with reproductions of yesteryear's toys.

At the activities center in Town Hall, children will find holiday crafts to keep little fingers busy, while holiday singers brighten winter days.

FOR A final touch of enchantment. the Henry Ford Museum Theater will present "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." The two-hour play was written by Jessie Braham White and produced on Broadway in 1912. It will run Dec. 1-22. Saturdays only, with additional performances Dec. 26-30.

Two matinees will be staged each show date, the first at 11 a.m. and the second at 2:30 p.m., except Dec. 16 and 30 when only a 2:30 p.m. show will be performed.

The audience is invited to meet the characters after each performance. Call the Henry Ford Museum Reservations Center at 271-1620 for more information.

NIGHTTIME WEAVES a special kind of spell around the museum and village.

The public is invited to discover it in two after hours programs: a 1920s holiday gala at Lovett Hall and an 1850s holiday at Eagle Tavern.

The festivities at Lovett Hall recreate the high society scene of the 1920s, complete with champagne toasts, an elegant dinner and dancing under glittering chandeliers to the vintage tunes of the Hotel Savarine Society Orchestra.

The village's Eagle Tavern presents a hearty, family-style meal in the manner of the 1850s, complemented by the holiday music and singing of a troupe of traveling musicians and entertainers. Advance reservations for both programs are required.

For visitors with troublesome gift lists on their minds, the stores and shops of the museum and village provide some out-of-the-ordinary suggestions. Items reproduced from the museum collections, decorations, wares fashioned by village craftspeople, and a variety of distinctive gifts and souvenirs will be welcome under any tree.

"Plastic surgeons have been doing permanent makeup for many years. It has now been moved into the beauty field. where it is more affordable to the average woman.

"No one is too old for permanent makeup. My oldest client is 72 years old and is very happy with her new eyebrows."

WILLIS IS quick to show off before and after pictures of her satisfied clients. She's just as quick to show their written testimonials, which tell the story of what permanent makeup is all about.

"There is nothing like waking up in the morning with eyes," said one client of the makeup that doesn't smudge or come off after you've been swimming, or crying or sweating.

"I've had to struggle with eyebrow pencils for years. Now I don't." said another.

"I love my permanent eyeliner. It wasn't painful. Every woman needs this done," said another.

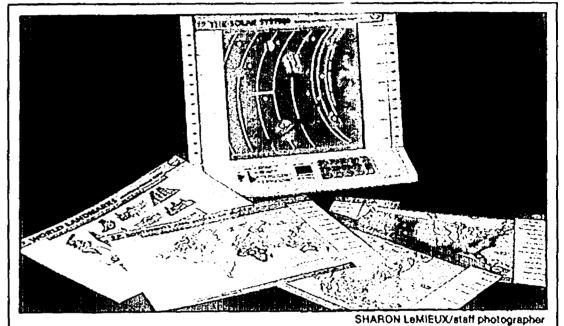

And from other clients, "I never look tired and worn out like you do when your makeup smears off."

"The best part is it looks so natural.'

"I can get ready for work faster every day since I got my permanent makeup."

The permanent gift of permanent makeup --- it's at least permanent for about 10 years — ranges in cost from $350 for a bottom or top eyeliner, to $995 for scar camouflage. Call Willis at 459-3133.

Yuletide tidbits

By the time of Henry VIII in the 16th century, the royal Christmas banquet began about noon and lasted 8-12 hours. Twelve courses were served as a symbolic reminder of the 12 apostles. Courses included venison, rabbit, beef, mutton, pork, chicken, goose, swan and peacock.

The first published collection of English carols appeared in 1521. The songs also were printed singly on broadsheets, usually illustrated. — Copley News Service back-yard jungle until the quicksteering mechanism is mastered to avoid obstacles. This aggressive little vehicle goes for $299.

For those who have long dreamed about being a firefighter, but never made it, a 27-inch red fire truck might fill the void. You'll have fun watching it make fancy turns and rotating its extension ladder. Its remote control is not as sophisticated, so it's priced at $79.

AS EXCITING as these vehicles are, there is no substitute for actually sitting in a toy vehicle and driving it around yourself. For the 3 to 8-yearold set, the Captain Mike police car provides just such an opportunity. This 37-inch, battery-run vehicle with a siren is $149.

But for the ultimate toy-car driving experience, The Sharper Image offers a 66-inch-long, red-motorized Ferrari, with a maximum speed up to 3½ miles per hour. It accommodates two children comfortably in bucket seats. Grandmothers have been known to indulge their grandchildren with this tradeup toy version of the famous luxury automobile.

Entertainment can also serve more than one person when it involves a digitized computer tablet designed to record a child's drawings in full color and textured effects. These earnest scrawlings can also be put on tape and later replayed on a VCR. For those who have long dreamed about being a firefighter, but never made it, a 27inch red fire truck might fill the void. You'll have fun watching it make fancy turns and rotating its extension ladder.

The Sony Sketchpad at $129 is no substitute for crayons or the messy joy of finger painting, but it does introduce the very young child to the 21st-century reality of the computer in the form of computer graphics.

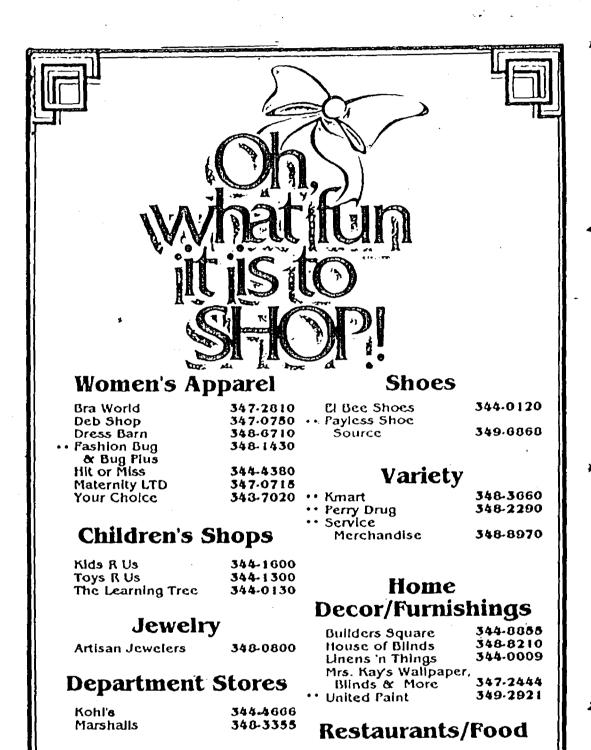

Because The Sharper Image stores and catalog bring in new items every month, one can only look forward to the next shipments to see if they are at all like the present offerings that engage the imagination as well as serve practical purposes.

Supplier of the 27-inch red fire truck: New Bright Industries, Southgate.
