Mayor's message angers schools

☐ Mayor gets rave reviews, 2A

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

Mayor Robert Thomas Tuesday listed a handful of first-year accomplishments and said Westland was in good financial shape to ride out a recession.

But Thomas' decidedly frank State of the City message, delivered to about 90 Westland Chamber of Commerce members and guests, angered Wayne-Westland school officials and criticized a Westland City Council member.

Reiterating his stand against tax increases, the mayor said he wouldn't support any school millage proposal that asked for a tax-rate increase above the 1989-90 level. He said a combined renewal and increase supported by the school board last spring "failed in its responsibility to give the citizens of Westland a choice."

The combined proposal was defeated by voters last June, four months after voters rejected three separate proposals calling for a 2.75-mill renewal, 4.9-mill increase and Headlee override.

Current discussions by school officials center on another millage election in March.

IN A PREPARED statement issued Wednesday, Wayne-Westland Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said he was "really disappointed that (Thomas) would publicly oppose a school millage, which as yet isn't even formulated, without previously discussing the issue with me."

"In the best interest of our youth and our community, we should be working together to address the inequitable funding of public education in Michigan," the statement said.

Thomas, in the speech, said cooperation between the mayor and council had been good "with the exception of one council member."

In a press conference following the address, Thomas identified the problem as Ken Mehl and further criticized the council president-pro tem.

"I think it's time he got off his duff and buried that ax," Thomas said of his relationship with Mehl. "I think he's obligated to the people that put him into office to try and work with the administration."

Mehl Tuesday declined immediate comment on the speech and Thomas' other remarks. He said he preferred to see a written copy of the speech before commenting.

Reiterating his stand against tax increases, the mayor said he wouldn't support any school millage proposal that asked for a tax-rate increase above the 1989-90 level.

THOMAS SAID the city's surplus, $3.4 million when he took office last January, would be restored to that level by the end of 1991, according to revenue and expenditure projections by his administration.

He cited accomplishments includ-

City to upgrade computers

The city is continuing an effort begun last year to upgrade its computer systems.

The Westland City Council Monday approved the purchase of a $90,000 package of hardware and software for several city departments.

The package, supplied by low bidder Networks Inc. of Riverview, will include IBM personal computers for the finance department, assessment office, mayor and city council.

In addition, computers in the economic growth center will be linked to a single network and new software will allow tracking of building permits, Kent Herbert, city operations/personnel director, said Monday.

"It will put some discipline into the system and prevent files from deteriorating," Herbert said.

The software will also allow the department to calculate fees and issue periodic reports.

Herbert said other planned computer upgrade projects for 1991 will focus on the police and fire departments and the engineering department.

"We're looking at 2-2½ years for having every department computerized with state-of-the-art software," Herbert said.

Herbert said the computer industry has changed in the last few years. Hardware and software no longer become obsolete as quickly, he said.

Edison sixth graders perform an anti-drug rap during Wednesday's DARE graduation at the school.

Special grads learn lessons

By Todd Schneider
staff writer

'I can decide for myself whether taking drugs is worth the risk.'
— Aaron Hovey

They built a wall in the Edison Elementary School gym Wednesday night.

A human wall of 65 sixth grade students, wearing identical black T-shirts, were cemented together with their new "diplomas."

This is a barrier that Wayne-Westland school officials and police hope will stand up to illegal drugs, alcohol abuse and increasing peer pressure as the students move through their teens.

The first DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) graduation in Westland was an emotion-filled, hour-long ceremony that left a lasting impression on parents, teachers, guests and most of all, students.

Similar ceremonies are slated for seven other elementary schools this month. By June, the sixth grade classes — nearly 1,000 students overall — will have been through the program.

DARE's impact on the Edison pupils was apparent from the student pledges that led off the program to the way kids stuck around the gym when it was over, hoping for one last word with their instructor, Westland police officer Jeff Gillespie.

THE AFFECTION between instructor and students during the 17-week program went both ways. "They say cops have no feelings, but I'm going to miss not working with these kids," Gillespie said.

The payback though, Gillespie hopes, is that neither will he see them on the streets in years to come. He is optimistic that will happen.

"The more you talk to the kids, the more they seem to get the idea," he said. "You see them in the hallway and they repeat the (DARE) slogans."

DARE mottos were also the focus of more than two dozen posters, most hand-drawn by students, that adorned the gym walls.

But Wednesday's graduates had no trouble putting those slogans into their own words.

"I can decide for myself whether taking drugs is worth the risk," Aaron Hovey told the audience as part of his pledge.

"DARE has taught my classroom what you will face as you grow up," another student said.

Airport noise reduction plan spreads takeoffs

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

The bottom line: fewer flights over western Wayne suburbs, especially at night.

Picture an "air highway" with bumper-to-bumper traffic over Livonia, Garden City, and Westland. That's what Metro Airport takeoff patterns currently look like, county officials say.

Now, picture a fan spread wide open. That's what officials say takeoff patterns will look like this spring.

Spreading takeoffs over a wider area is part of a new county noise reduction plan scheduled to begin in late March.

The plan also seeks to reduce the number of takeoffs over heavily populated northern suburbs, routing the flights southward, over less-populated areas.

"We had three main goals," said assistant county executive Bryan Amann. "First, we wanted more takeoffs over noise compatible areas; second, we wanted more equitable distribution and, third, we wanted something that could be accomplished as quickly as possible."

THE BOTTOM line: fewer flights over western Wayne suburbs, especially at night. The potentially controversial side effect: airplane noise will spread to some suburban neighborhoods immune from it right now.

"We know we can't make everyone happy, but we think people will see this is a fair plan," said Amann, the county's "noise czar."

The big winners, at least locally, appear to be homeowners within a two-mile north-south corridor surrounding Middlebelt Road. That area will see a substantial decrease in flights, Amann said.

Though it is a secondary route, used only when prevailing winds make southern takeoffs risky, planes use the Middlebelt route about six days a month.

"Right now, they're getting 250 flights a day, once every five days," Amann said. "With the new plan they'd get 62 flights a day, once every 10 days."

That figure would be reduced further as planes were routed over neighborhoods in western Westland and the city of Wayne.

Southern Canton was initially scheduled to receive more flights, but won't. "It's too close to Willow Run Airport," Amann said. Mettetal Airport, a small, private landing area, didn't play a role in the county's recommendations, he said.

FLIGHT PATTERNS could be revised further if county residents complained.

"We're stressing this is a test, we can tweak and tune it," he said.

County commissioner Susan Hubbard, D-Dearborn, head of a separate group also investigating airport noise said the plan "looks like good news."

"It's hard to say how it will work exactly but Bryan and the FAA have been working very hard on this," she said.

Hubbard's group will be holding a series of public hearings on airport noise (see related story). Both the commission and Amann said they would be cooperating.

"Really, what the commission is doing is the next phase," Amann said. "I think the big mistake last time, was that the public wasn't consulted," Amann said.

David Esper, head of Citizens Against Airport Noise, said he was cautiously optimistic about the changes.

"I have the recommendation from the FAA and they're saying it would only be a 6-12 percent reduction (in flights), not the bigger reduction Bryan is proposing. I hope Bryan's right because if he isn't, it wouldn't be a significant change," Esper said. "We're also disappointed some communities would get more landing noise."

Amann said the Dearborn area would see more arriving planes, but landings wouldn't increase over Observer-area communities.

"WE WANTED to address takeoffs because the feeling is they're more noisy than landings," Amann said.

Though the Federal Aviation Administration reviewed the county's proposal, and made some recommendations of its own, the route changes are squarely the county's responsibility.

"Essentially, it's in their lap," said Jim Dermody, a spokesman for the FAA regional office in Chicago. "But we want to make it clear we won't agree with anything that would compromise air safety."

The biggest change in the county plan involves wind speed and direction.

At present, airplanes must alter their takeoff routes if prevailing winds reach seven knots per hour.

Changing that to 10 knots per hour would restrict takeoffs over the Middlebelt corridor from roughly 20,000 a year to about 9,000 Amann said.

In other changes:

- Arrivals and departures would exclusively be routed south from midnight to 6 a.m. There are 18 late night arrivals and 17 departures in an average day, Amann said. Based on county projections, late night flights would only be routed north 36 nights a year.

Public hearings scheduled

Western Wayne residents will have their say on airport noise at a series of public hearings.

Hearings of special interest to local residents are scheduled for:

- Monday, Jan. 14 — Dearborn City Hall, 13615 Michigan Ave. The hearing is specifically designed for Garden City, Redford, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Inkster residents.
- Wednesday, Jan. 16 — Bentley Center, Five Mile and Hubbard, Livonia. The hearing is specifically designed for Livonia, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, Westland and Canton residents.

Hearings will be held 6:30-8:30 p.m. both nights.

"We want people to be as specific as possible in their comments," said county Commissioner Susan Hubbard, D-Dearborn. "We want to know if their dinner plates rattle or if they can't go outside because of the noise."

Hubbard is chairwoman of the commission's Special Committee on Airport Noise.

Those who cannot attend are encouraged to submit their comments in writing. Written comments will also be accepted through Thursday, Jan. 31. They should be sent to: Lorenzo A. Moner, Clerk, Special Committee on Airport Noise, 462 Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph, Detroit 48226.

Girl owes health to hospital unit

When Children's Hospital of Michigan dedicated its new ambulatory care center Monday, Catherine Matykowski of Westland will be there to help celebrate.

Catherine, 15, and a John Glenn High School sophomore, owes her good health to the care she received at Children's, says her mother, Linda.

Early in life, she experienced a rapid heart-beat. At age 8 or 9, the rapid heart-beat left her feeling tired and short of breath.

"I had blackouts on and off since I was 9," she said.

Her parents, William and Linda Matykowski, decided to contact a cardiologist.

They took Catherine to Children's Hospital, a pediatric care center in The Detroit Medical Center specializing in treating seriously ill and injured children.

Following the initial heart evaluation by Catherine's cardiologist, Dr. Sandra Clapp, the girl was referred to Clapp's associate, Dr. Peter Karpawich, a Children's cardiologist specializing in the diagnosis and treatment of the heart's electrical system, when Catherine's condition worsened.

IN APRIL, he performed a special electrical cardiac catheterization study and diagnosed the Wolff-Parkinson-White syndrome, a malfunction of the heart's electrical system which caused Catherine's rapid heart-beat.

Because of the severity of the problem, surgery was recommended to destroy the extra electrical system in her heart.

In August, Catherine had the special operation to destroy the electrical short circuit performed by doctors by cardiovascular surgeons.

Catherine missed the beginning of school, but now she's caught up to her classmates at John Glenn. An aspiring singer, Catherine now has the strength to take part in the school choir.

Her next checkup is scheduled for this month. This time, she'll see her doctors in the new ambulatory care center, which will house pediatric medical and surgical sub-specialty services, said a hospital spokeswoman.

Leaders praise mayor

Five business or civic leaders gave rave reviews to Mayor Robert Thomas' state of the city address, heard by Westland Chamber of Commerce members and guests Tuesday.

Five people questioned at random were unanimous in praising what they described as an upbeat and positive message.

They also liked his comments about the city being in sound financial shape while expanding public services.

"HE WAS very positive," said Scot Johnson, owner of a new car wash business on Wayne Road south of Cherry Hill.

"There are forward moves instead of lateral moves," Johnson said in praising the mayor's comments on the city's financial condition.

"He was real positive," said Jacqueline Babe of the Whispering Winds condominiums on Newburgh south of Joy. "It's nice to hear to hear him (Thomas) say we have some money here."

DORIS ELMENDORF, Westland Civitan Club fellowship chairwoman, said she was "very impressed with his talk. He said all the things people wanted to hear."

She was pleased that the mayor said the city has money in the treasury while adding firefighters and police officers.

"He was also honest enough to say that we still have some problems," she said.

The mayor "has kept his promises and is a definite asset to the city," said Elizabeth DeSouza, professional psychic and owner of the Psychic Connection. "I'm glad to see someone like that in office."

Echoing the others' comments was chamber board member Barbara Barr, manager of Abington Manor retirement apartments on Joy near Newburgh.

The mayor's address "was very good" and he did "a good job on the budget with the addition of police officers and firefighters," Barr said.

ing a downsized administrative staff, the addition of eight police officers and three firefighters and a fire staffing plan that has "reduced station closings by approximately 95 percent."

He said programs begun last year to improve city roads and services such as street sweeping would continue.

But Thomas said the city has had to overcome a drop in state shared revenues and building permits of $250,000 and his proposed budget for fiscal 1992, to be released in April, would reflect "projections of some tougher times for a few years."

The mayor also urged the council to reconsider his proposal for creation of a city "rainy day fund" to cover financial emergencies. Thomas proposed the fund last August in a letter to council.

Council members last month put the issue on the back burner and said it could be part of budget discussions this spring.

At the press conference, Thomas said the blunt nature of the speech wasn't necessarily deliberate, just his style.

"I don't like to fool around. You're starting to see more of what the real Bob Thomas is about," he said.

- A county noise monitoring office would also be established.
- Flights would increase over Huron Township, where the county is already buying property.
- Noisy two-stage climbs by departing jets would no longer be necessary. Jets would be allowed to climb higher and faster.

Flight patterns were initially changed by the FAA in November 1989 to reduce the possibility of mid-air collisions between commercial jets, freight planes and small private craft.

Key to the new flight routes is a noise data gathered by county consultants.

"We got into this whole fight without data," Amann said. "All we could give was sympathy and confusion."

Chief honored for DARE work

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Livonia school officials, who represent the northern section of Westland, praised a drug education prevention program Monday.

The praise came during a school board meeting at which the board's highest award, the Golden Apple Award, was given to recently retired Livonia police Chief William Crayk for bringing one of the most highly acclaimed drug education programs in the nation to the district.

Today, the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program is praised nationwide.

BUT NOT so long ago the officer-in-the-classroom program was virtually unknown outside California, where it originated. Crayk was one of the first police chiefs in southeast Michigan to launch it locally.

The Westland police department also had its own DARE program for schools in the Wayne-Westland school district, which represents most of the city.

The DARE program is presented in the elementary schools in the northern section of Westland and Frost and Emerson middle schools, which serve the city.

The school board award said:

"Through his strong belief in education to prevent substance abuse and through his persistence and pioneer spirit in gathering financial and human resources to deliver the message of saying no to drugs, our school system pays tribute to his vision of a drug-free world for our youth and to his efforts to make this vision a reality."

CURRENTLY, FIVE uniformed Livonia police officers — Ronald Dehne, John Golembiewski, Dan Loftus, Cynthia Stapleton and Theresa Schlachter — take the DARE message into public and private schools.

Their salaries, totaling about $329,270, are paid for by the school district, by the city of Livonia and with monies or valuables confiscated by police in drug busts.

The program was initiated four years ago by Crayk and former Livonia school Superintendent James Carli.

In accepting the Golden Apple Award, Crayk praised Carli and other school and Livonia officials who allowed the program to take root.

"DARE is the product of a number of people," Crayk said. "It would not have worked without their acceptance. DARE is the work of a whole lot of people."

DURING THE 17-week program, the uniformed officers go into classrooms to teach students about the dangers of drug abuse.

But the students don't just get a "say no to drugs" message, and DARE avoids hard-sell scare tactics.

Instead, the officers give the youngsters tools on which to build their own self-esteem and to resist peer pressure.

Throughout the 17 weeks, the officers also give the youngsters DARE trinkets, T-shirts and bumper stickers. Many of those stickers now get affixed to cars and can be seen throughout the city.

"Everytime I see a DARE bumper sticker, I know that something very special has happened," trustee Richard McKnight said. "Some kid has communicated something special to his parents."

Each class has its own DARE graduation. Monday the trustees thanked Crayk for the many graduations he had attended in the last four years.

A black-capped chickadee makes a brief visit at one of Kevin Clark's backyard bird feeders.

Fowl call

Feeding wild birds no featherweight task

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

It started with Critter Control, a business Kevin Clark started for removing animals that stray into houses.

Now, Clark, 35, of Plymouth Township, employs 75 people who work for his three wildlife-management related firms.

"We're expanding into what we call related wildlife businesses," Clark said. One related firm is Wildlife Management Services, which advises cities and townships on the wildlife likely to inhabit various habitats — depending on factors ranging from the size of a wooded area to plants and other growth needed to attract wildlife.

In 1989, he founded Critter Country: four stores including one in Old Village selling outdoor bird feeders and related items.

Putting out seed for wild birds is popular in rural Plymouth and Canton, Clark said. That could be because backyard bird-watching can be more rewarding in this more rural part of Wayne County, as more varieties are spotted here than near Detroit.

AROUND THE country, "Bird feeding is the second most popular passive recreation activity next to gardening," Clark began, adding, "See, there's a goldfinch there."

Just outside a window off the family room, the bird perches near one of four feeders in the backyard of the Clark family's North Territorial Road home.

Folks who have thought about getting into backyard bird-watching should know that there's more involved than just pouring a bag of seeds into a birdfeeder.

That's because certain seeds attract certain birds. Of birds who remain in the area during winter, "Bluejays like peanut bits," Clark said, adding cardinals go for sunflower and safflower seeds.

A black-capped chickadee edges from the inside of a bush to an outer branch, then flies to the edge of a bird feeder, takes a seed, and flits back to another bush. "They get one sunflower seed and go back to a bush and crack it," he explained.

Other types of birds one can spot in the area during winter are nut hatches, juncos, downy woodpeckers, mourning doves, purple finches and tufted titmouses.

At his Critter Country stores, Clark also sells squirrel-proof bird feeders and books which detail the types of vegetation a homeowner can plant to attract various species.

Of other feed to put out, "Millet is a standard," Clark said. "Wheat is virtually useless," he said. "Corn is OK for geese and swans, and squirrels."

To illustrate the growth of the hobby, Clark said industry figures show that $2.2 billion is spent each year in this country on wild bird seed, while annual sales of bird feeders in the United States is "over $50 million."

Backyard bird-feeding enthusiasts should know that providing water is important. While Clark has a heated bird bath in his backyard, he said putting out a pan of warm water is just as good.

Putting out feed in winter "is supplemental feeding," said Clark, adding that the winter mortality rate of birds drops from about 30 percent to 5 percent, when feed is put out.

While raccoons, bats and squirrels are among the most common critters Kevin Clark is hired to remove from houses, he got a recent call to remove a kestrel falcon from a local chimmney.

Kevin Clark of Plymouth Township shows some tube bird feeders sold at his Critter Country stores, one of three wildlife management-related businesses he owns.

Car scares purse snatcher

crime watch

A Canton Township woman told police an attempt by an armed man to grab her purse in the parking lot of the Meijer store Saturday was aborted when the man was apparently scared off by an approaching car.

The woman, 42, told police she was walking toward the store on Warren Road at Newburgh at 10:20 p.m. when a dark-colored car, possibly a Ford Escort, approached her from the left.

A passenger in the car rolled down the window, pointed a gun at her and demanded her purse, the woman said.

But the would-be thief and his accomplices drove off quickly when headlights from another car appeared, the woman said.

The victim described the gunman as 30-35 years old wearing a dark jacket. There were three other men in the gunman's car, she said.

Restaurant assault

A Plymouth man, 23, received a 15-stitch cut on his head early Sunday during an incident at the Denny's restaurant, 7725 N. Wayne Road.

The man was treated and released from St. Mary Hospital, police said.

According to accounts by witnesses, the man was injured when he caused a disturbance by standing up on a restaurant table shortly before 3:30 p.m.

Other members of the man's party and restaurant patrons began throwing silverware at the man, witnesses said.

When the man threw a glass at a patron, the intended target, a 20-year-old Canton Township woman, picked up another glass and threw it, striking the victim on his head.

Restaurant employees told police five to eight glasses were broken in the ensuing melee.

Holiday break-in

A homeowner in the 2100 block of Emerson reported that someone broke into her house over the New Year's holiday.

A 19-inch color television, stereo and answering machine were stolen, she said.

The break-in occurred Jan. 1-5 while the house was unoccupied, the woman said.

Police said the culprit apparently forced open the front door to enter the house.

Car arson

An apartment complex resident in the 28400 block of Joy called the fire department early Suhday when she looked outside and saw her car in flames.

The woman told police she was talking on the telephone about 6 a.m. when she smelled smoke, looked out the window and saw her burning 1985 Ford Escort.

The interior of the car was damaged by fire and smoke, fire investigators said. They said a plastic bottle, partially filled with charcoal lighter fluid, was found inside the car.

The woman told police she suspected a man whom she had contact with via a 1989 traffic accident and recent small-claims-court case of starting the fire.

Domestic assault

A Norwayne resident told police her live-in boyfriend beat her over the head with a vacuum cleaner Sunday night.

The woman, 17, told police the boyfriend was intoxicated when he came home at 9:37 p.m. and he became upset when he found her writing a letter begging him to get help with his drinking problem.

The man, 21, also choked her around the neck and pushed her against the wall during the altercation, the victim said.

Market founder had kind heart

By Diane Galo
staff writer

Stanley H. Albus, 80, founder of Stan's Market, Inc. in Livonia will be remembered for his generosity and kind heart.

"He was always helping someone out," said his daughter-in-law Rosanne Albus. "If you couldn't make your food bill, you got the food and paid the bill later."

He died from cancer Wednesday in Florida.

He founded Stan's Markets in 1943 when he opened his first store on Schoolcraft in Detroit. Today his legacy lives on with two Livonia locations, on Ann Arbor Road at Ann Arbor Trail and Five Mile at Farmington Road.

Mr. Albus sold the business to his sons, Tom, Charles and Michael Albus. He retired in 1980.

"He was very proud of his family and reputation," Rosanne Albus said.

The Albus family has kept the business alive and vital in an era where national grocery chains are regularly fading away.

"It's very hard to stay in the grocery business," Rosanne Albus said. "A lot of long hours, hard word and you have to have act together."

Loyal Stan's Market customers would travel from various communities for the meats sold at Stans, she said.

"If you need something special he got it for you," she said.

He relished in being close to customers and taking part in all aspects of the business, even packing bags, she said. The sign on the stores' walls say it all, Albus said: "Stan's The Friendly Place in Town."

He made a point of hiring customers' children, took special meat orders and emphasized the importance of a smile and a pleasant shopping atmosphere, she said.

"Now the times are different," Albus said. "They want to shop to save a nickel. They don't shop where people will take care of you when you need something."

Mr. Albus spent his winters with his wife, Norma, in Sun City Retirement Center in Tampa, Fla. During the summers they lived in St. Clair, Mich.

"He was really fun to be with and a lot of people will miss him," Albus said. "He was very proud of his business.

Mr. Albus was past director of the Association of Food Dealers.

Survivors include his wife, Norma; four sons, Jerry of California, Thomas of Canton, Charles of Rochester and Michael of Plymouth; two daughters, Mary Parlseau of Northville and Carol Sturtevant of Chelsea; a sister, Evelyn Duby of Warren; 18 grandchildren and one great-grand-daughter, born Dec. 18.

Funeral services will be in Florida. A memorial service will be in Michigan, however, arrangements had not been made Wednesday afternoon.

This week's question:

Will you go to the North American International Auto Show at Cobo Center? Will you buy a new car this year?

We asked this question Monday at Westland Center.

'No, I probably won't. I just bought a new car (Chrysler LeBaron convertible) last year.'
— Jerry Marcis

'Yes. We are going to the show and we'll probably buy a car. We're going to look at the GM cars to see what they offer.'
— Bruce Smith

'No, I never go. No we won't (buy a new car). My husband is unemployed.'
— Virginia Roman

'No, I won't be buying a car and I won't be going to the show. That's what it's set up for (people who are going to buy).'
— Kurt Folds

'Yes, I'll probably go. I'm buying a new car and I want to look at the Chevrolet Caprice Classic.'
— John McCallum

'I'd like to buy a new car but I doubt that I will this year, anyway. But I'm going to the show because I have a friend who is a model. We're going to go and support her.'
— Julie Smith

DARE graduates make pledges to avoid drugs

MAYOR ROBERT Thomas, one of several local dignitaries to address students and their parents, said changes in society regarding alcohol and illegal drugs are striking.

He said it would have been unimaginable as recently as 15 years ago for "a group of kids to be up here saying they weren't going to fool with drugs."

Michael Frayer, Westland police inspector, told the graduates they should take a picture while wearing their T-shirts, put it in their wallets or purses, and carry it as a future reminder of their DARE commitment.

Men, if you're about to turn 18, it's time to register with Selective Service at any U.S. Post Office.

It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

More than cookies

PTAs reflect changes in society, gain support

By Brenda Dooley
staff writer

Who am I?

Here's a hint. I'm 89,065 members strong, will celebrate my 73rd birthday in 1991 and act as a voice to thousands of parents, teachers and residents throughout Michigan.

Need another clue?

Years ago, most people underestimated my value, perceiving me as an outlet for moms who liked to bake cookies and organize carnivals in hopes of raising money for their schools.

But I'm much more than cookies and carnivals. For seven consecutive years, I've steadily gained support and membership from communities around the state. And when my name is uttered, legislators are likely to listen.

Still stumped? I'm the Michigan PTA.

Founded in 1918, the Michigan PTA is just one piece of a larger picture, as one of 27,778 local branches of the National PTA.

WITH THE goal of starting a volunteer group to unite the home, school and community in promoting education, Alice McLellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst (mother of former publishing giant William Randolph Hearst) established the National PTA in 1897 as the National Congress of Mothers.

In 1924 the group's name changed to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Another change occurred in 1970, when it merged with the National Congress of Colored Persons, which was founded in 1926 by Selena Sloan Butler. Eventually its name was shortened to the National Parent Teacher Association, or National PTA.

With headquarters in Chicago, the National PTA currently has 6.8 million members. The national association provides support, programs and services to state and local PTAs in the U.S., District of Columbia and European Congress.

Some of the National PTA's projects have included securing child labor laws, supporting compulsory public education, creating a national public health service, promoting education for children with special needs and organizing and improving school libraries.

Reflecting changes in society, the National PTA launched an AIDS Education Project in October 1987, designed to help parents talk to their children about the deadly disease. All local PTAs receive an activity and planning kit each fall to encourage AIDS education.

Other National PTA programs promote alcohol and drug abuse prevention, boosting childrens' self-esteem, and strengthening parenting skills.

Closer to home, the Lansing-based Michigan PTA offers leadership and training to local groups.

BEVERLY WESNER, Michigan PTA president, said the state organization has continued to attract members for the past seven years.

Most members are parents, teachers, school administrators and interested citizens, said the Livonia woman.

"Parents now realize they have to be involved in the schools for the welfare of their children," said Wesner.

The state PTA has undergone dramatic changes in the past six to seven years, Wesner noted, gaining more men as members and increasing its political clout.

"We're more involved at the legislative scene. I've worked at the state level for the past 10 years and the changes have been very interesting. I think people realize the PTA is issue-oriented. We're more vocal — legislators now come to us for input. We have a voice."

WESNER SAID the PTA's reputation has also gained credibility among school principals, who previously saw the groups as policing units.

"Principals now understand we're all working for the same thing," Wesner said.

Because local PTAs conduct their own fund-raisers and keep track of their own budgets, Wesner said she has no record of how much money PTAs throughout the state have raised collectively.

Some have criticized PTAs for their fund-raising activities, saying such practices take the pressure off legislators to correct funding inequities among school districts.

In answer to that criticism, Wesner said she advises local PTA leaders to ask themselves whose responsibility it is to provide the school with supplies or materials before they embark on a fund-raiser.

"There are instances when PTAs have fund-raisers to buy something that the school can't . . . Some school districts are financially strapped," Wesner said. "We rely on PTAs to make their own judgment calls."

Both the state and national PTAs are funded by $1.50 dues required by each member. A portion of the money, $1, goes to the state PTA, while the remaining 50 cents goes to the National PTA.

The state and national associations also receive grants and sponsors for their conferences and programs.

Looking to the future, Wesner predicts an increase in PTA membership. Last year alone, the state gained 37 new PTAs, she noted.

KENNETH J. BUCCI

Services for Mr. Bucci, long-time restaurant owner, were held Jan. 7 from the Santelu and Son Funeral Home, Garden City, with the Rev. Leonard Partensky, senior priest of the Detroit archdiocese, officiating. Interment was in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West Cemetery.

Mr. Bucci, 48, died Thursday, Jan. 7. He was owner and manager of the Biscuit Company Restaurant on Middlebelt near Block. For many years, he held fund-raisers to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association. His special interests are football, basketball and hockey, especially University of Michigan and Michigan State University teams.

Survivors are his wife, Carol; daughter, Kristine; father, Joseph; and three brothers Russell, Gary and Mark.

ROBERT E. MILLER

Services for Mr. Miller, a used car salesman for the Krug Lincoln Mercury dealership who was murdered during a test drive with a purported customer, were held Monday, Jan. 7, from the Vermeulen Memorial Trust 100 Funeral Home, Westland. The Rev. Elwyn Cutler officiated. Entombment was in United Memorial Gardens, Plymouth.

Mr. Miller, 60, of Dearborn Heights was shot to death Thursday, Jan. 3, a short distance from the Dearborn dealership he was with for 32 years.

Survivors are his wife, Jean; three sons, David, Richard and Robert, all of Dearborn Heights; two daughters, Lorrie Early of Garden City and Luanne of Dearborn; grandchildren Terry, Jennifer and Melissa Early and April and Nicholas Miller; brother Richard of Capac; and sisters, Martha Kirk of Florida and Vivian Lewes of Lum, Mich.

Memorials may be made to the memory of Robert E. Miller, in care of Krug Lincoln Mercury, 21531 Michigan Ave., Dearborn.

WILLIAM F. BLANCHARD

A memorial service for Mr. Blanchard, 49, of Auburn, Wash., will be held at 4:30 p.m. Sunday, Jan. 13, at the Lents Funeral Home, 34567 Michigan Ave., Wayne. Family members will greet friends from 2 p.m. until the time of the service.

Mr. Blanchard died Dec. 30 in Washington.

Survivors are his wife, Sandi; daughters, Ruth Cunningham, Robin Keith and Sandra Blanchard; sons, David and Dennis; step-daughter, Lillian Kramer; eight grandchildren; mother, Dorothy Blanchard; brothers, Bob and Danny; and sister, Pat.

RICHARD H. SLAUGHTER

Services for Mr. Slaughter, a charter member and past president of the Garden City Lions Club, were held recently with burial at Fort Custer National Cemetery near Battle Creek.

Mr. Slaughter, who died in his Southfield home, was instrumental in designing and serving as project manager of the M1A1 Abrams Main Battle Tank. A 1948 graduate of Redford Union High, he held degrees in both electrical and industrial engineering from Lawrence Institute of Technology, Southfield.

He served two years with the Army during the Korean War and another 31 years in government service as an engineer and project manager of battle tank programs.

He frequently traveled to Aberdeen and White Sands Proving Grounds to test designs. He left government service in 1984 and worked for General Dynamics before retiring to Hilton Head, S.C.

Besides his Lions Club leadership positions, Mr. Slaughter was a member of the Masonic Lodge in Plymouth and of Southfield Presbyterian Church.

Surviving are his wife, Virginia; daughter, Ann Ulewicz; son, John; mother, Marian of Redford; and brother, John of Redford.

College surprise: women now outnumbering men

By Tim Richard
staff writer

Women outnumber men on 11 of Michigan's 15 public four-year university campuses.

That is especially true among blacks, a group in which women had a whopping 64 percent majority, according to a State Department of Education report.

Among whites, women are 52 percent of total enrollment — about the same as the statewide average of 52.5 percent women.

Women's proportions among other recognized ethnic groups were American Indian/Alaskan (56 percent) and Hispanic (51).

The only ethnic groups where men predominated were Asians (55 percent) and non-resident aliens (67).

LAST BASTIONS of male dominance are the University of Michigan's Ann Arbor campus, Ferris State University, Michigan Technological University and Lake Superior State University.

They tend to emphasize graduate, professional, engineering or technical programs. (U-M has a single board of regents and president, but its campuses in Ann Arbor, Dearborn and Flint are treated as separate universities for budget and statistical purposes.)

Members of the State Board of Education, who received the report recently, made almost no comment except to note that enrollment rates are different from graduation rates.

The report, submitted by Superintendent of Public Instruction Donald L. Bemis, covered only fall enrollments, not graduations. It offered no reasons for the trends.

WOMEN HAVE outnumbered men on two-year community college campuses since the late 1970s. Last fall they were nearly 57 percent of all community college students.

But women majorities on Michigan's four-year university campuses are a relatively recent phenomenon.

Of the four-year universities, Bemis' report said, "The number of women enrolled grew slightly faster — up 1.9 percent from 1989 — than the number of men — up 1.5 percent. . . Women have maintained a slight edge in university enrollments for several years, particularly evident in the part-time student numbers."

It added: "Each minority racial category showed a slight increase in enrollment at public universities in 1990 compared to 1989 . . . Blacks made up 7.7 percent of the total enrolment in 1990. Asian student numbers . . . reached 2.5 percent."

FOR THE STATE as a whole, public four-year universities held their own against private colleges in the late 1980s. From fall 1985 to fall 1990:

- Public four-year universities increased 13.5 percent — from 229,020 to 259,922.
- Independent colleges increased enrollment 13.4 percent — from 73,661 to 83,545.
- Public community colleges increased 10.6 percent — from 204,171 to 225,833.

Combined, the three groups enrolled 569,300.

In the last year, however, private college enrollment rose 2.2 percent compared to 1.7 percent for public universities. State board member Dorothy Beardmore of Rochester noted that Oakland University, in her backyard, held down enrollment because of funding shortages.

MADONNA COLLEGE of Livonia rose to No. 3 in enrollment among private four-year colleges with 4,392 students last fall.

No. 1, and falling, was the University of Detroit at 5,702. Lawrence Tech University in Southfield was second at 5,469 and increasing slightly.

No. 4 was Calvin College of Grand Rapids with 4,260. Until last year it had been No. 3.

UM-D plans week-long series to commemorate King birthday

The University of Michigan Dearborn will mark the national Martin Luther King Jr. holiday, observed Jan. 21, with a week-long series of events carrying the theme "Living the Legacy."

All events will be free and open to the public. More information is available by calling the UM-D Student Activities Office, 593-5390.

On Monday, Jan. 21, no classes will be in session at the university in recognition of the holiday which commemorates King's birthday.

Beginning at noon, the stage play "Black Spirit" will be presented in the recreation and organizations center by the Black Theater Company of the Hilberry Theater, Wayne State University. "Black Spirit" is actually poetry in play form, portraying such noted black poets as Phyllis Wheatley and Langston Hughes through verse and gospel/spiritual music. The setting commences in the 1800s and progresses to the present day, following the stories of diverse families and communities working together to achieve world peace and harmony.

Following "Black Spirit," UM-D Chancellor Blenda J. Wilson will issue a commemorative address, after which a candlelight vigil will take place in remembrance of Martin Luther King Jr. and those who marched at his side in the struggle for civil rights.

On Tuesday, Jan. 22, a forum will be held in the University Mall noon to 1:30 p.m. Entitled "Minorities: How Far We've Come, How Much Further Yet To Go," the forum will address the current situation of American minorities, focusing on the effects of growth in minority populations and the potential impact on future social and economic status.

On Wednesday, Jan. 23, community organizations serving the poor, homeless, disabled and other disadvantaged groups will present a Volunteer Agency Fair 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the University Mall. Displays and representatives from the groups will inform visitors of their activities and provide individuals with opportunities to volunteer for various community services. Students also will be able to investigate internship opportunities with several of the agencies.

On Thursday, Jan. 24, a "Minorities in the Professions" panel discussion will take place noon to 1:30 p.m. in the University Mall. Panel members from the professions of law, medicine, and politics will discuss the climate toward minorities in their respective fields, and will be available for informal discussion.

Finally on Friday, Jan. 25, children from Detroit's Woodward Elementary School will perform at 11 a.m. in the University Mall, in celebration of King's life and legacy. Woodward School was adopted in December 1989 by UM-Dearborn and the Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village.

Madonna launches student support system

Madonna College has developed a new student support program through a U.S. Department of Education grant.

The Livonia-based college has added a new computer system to collect and retrieve academic data at various points throughout an individual student's college career. The college hopes to pinpoint problems and help students come up with solutions for staying in school.

Through the new program, Madonna seeks to retain 25 percent more students over the next five years.

A 1988 college study indicated those students most at risk of dropping out include those who had not declared a major, students of nontraditional age and new enrollees who had never before been to college.

MADONNA ALSO seeks to retain students through its Select Student Support Services Program's new mentor program.

Created and financed through the Office of Minority Equity, through the Michigan Department of Education, the program helps the college retain black, Hispanic and American Indian students.

It helps students develop a relationship with professionals in their field of study.

Additional information about these programs is available by calling the college, 591-5124.

Clothier had a ball helping the Pistons

By Darrell Glem
staff writer

Not many 20-year-olds get to go to parties, dinner or shopping with basketball stars like Vinnie Johnson, Bill Laimbeer and Dennis Rodman.

But Brad "Bubba" Urdan has been chums with Detroit Pistons for five years as ball boy for the back-to-back national champions.

That explains why Urdan put a basketball goal in the middle of his Oakland County clothing store, Bubba's Place, that opened three weeks ago.

Laimbeer has even stopped in to shoot some hoops.

"NOBODY GIVES BILL Laimbeer credit for being nice. He puts up this brick wall to protect himself and his family and to keep his privacy," Urdan said Monday, sitting in the Bubba's Place office. "But Bill's a great guy, really."

Urdan was a 16-year-old high school student when he became the Pistons' ball boy, following in the footsteps of his brother, Doug, who also had held the coveted post for five years. Their father, Baker, a Channel 50 account executive, had connections with the team.

Under a mutual agreement with the Pistons, Urdan left his position a month ago. He was getting too old for the job, he said, and he needed to devote more time to his business.

But he took with him many memories — memories that are evident in his store. A large picture on one wall shows Vinnie Johnson standing with his arm around Urdan, who was well-dressed and on his way to his high school prom. A glass-framed practice jersey signed by the Pistons hangs nearby, just above another jersey signed exclusively by Joe Dumars.

Pistons graffiti is scrawled on one wall, providing a backdrop for the basketball hoop. And there's the picture of Urdan standing in a crowd of people hovering around the 1990 National Basketball Association trophy that the Pistons had won just moments earlier during the infamous sweep in Portland, Ore.

"I was there when we won the national championship," Urdan said, smiling as he recalls holding the green Gatorade equipment bag on his shoulder as the final seconds ticked away.

"VINNIE JOHNSON HIT that last shot, and it couldn't have been any better," Urdan said. "It was great. The story couldn't have ended any sweeter."

Though he didn't usually go on the road, Urdan attended all the home games, helping the Pistons any way he could.

"I was so much in awe of being around the players. If they wanted me to go and get a Coke, I'd run," he said. "I got a Coke for Isiah Thomas. It was cool."

Last summer he played basketball and worked out three times a week with Vinnie Johnson. Some weeks he spent as many as 30 hours with the players, on and off the court.

Urdan never got a paycheck from the Pistons. Instead, he received tips from the players, free pairs of tickets to the games and all-expense paid trips to places like Portland.

"It was definitely a worthwhile job," Urdan said.

Though the Pistons called him "Bubba," it's not a nickname they gave him. He earned that in the eighth grade from a classmate who poked fun at him for being chubby.

"I beat him up," Urdan said.

Urdan's business sensibilities developed in school, too. In elementary school, he made a profit by selling candy and chewing gum to other students.

He got into hot water with officials of his high school when he sold T-shirts which they felt were objectionable.

"I SOLD 48 T-shirts in five minutes, just walking down the hall," he recalls. School officials threatened to suspend him and called his mother, Judy, to come and pick up the T-shirts.

"I'd get calls from the principal and the vice principal," his mother said. And even though they didn't like Urdan's business practices, "they thought he was a good kid."

It's unlikely Urdan will face such opposition at Bubba's Place, which sells T-shirts, jackets, sweatshirts and other casual wear — much of it sports-related. He already has one successful business, a T-shirt shop that he has run for three summers in Charlevoix.

He's shooting for back-to-back success. And it seems he's learned a few selling points from the Pistons.

"You can't beat my prices," he said.

Move it!

Make sessions more open

THE WESTLAND. City Council should move out of the conference room where it holds its study sessions and into the council chambers.

The reason is that the chambers provide a more open atmosphere for the public to take part, both from practical and psychological perspectives.

While we applaud the council for its study sessions open to the public and press, the current practice of holding them in the cramped conference room behind the council chambers inhibits the public from taking part in any discussion or even asking effective questions.

Moving the study sessions into the more open council chambers would make the discussions and public input more effective and not cost a dime.

IN THE conference room, there aren't enough chairs for everyone. For those who do get a seat, residents are forced to look at the backs of half the council members.

The study sessions are held on important policy issues facing the community, ranging from rezonings to site plans to budget matters.

The public's understanding of those issues would be substantially improved if the study sessions were not held in the chambers perceived as the council's back room.

Others who would benefit from the study sessions being moved up front would be those who have presentations to make before the council. Many times, the limited space in the conference room forces them to cool their heels in the lobby before appearing before the council.

Moving the sessions into the chambers has many benefits and does not cost a dime.

We urge the council to move quickly on improving community relations and understanding policy issues by simply moving the sessions up front.

Anniversary

Residents should take part

THE WESTLAND committee planning the city's 25th anniversary has lined up an interesting series of programs to be held throughout this special year.

The first anniversary event will be a prayer breakfast, scheduled for 9 a.m. Saturday in the Westland Friendship Center, on Newburgh north of Marquette.

Instead of one major activity marking the city's anniversary, the committee has decided to have a series of programs throughout the year to encourage more participation by residents.

The committee has also made it easy for residents of all ages to take part by having some relatively low-cost programs which should be fun.

We urge residents to take advantage of the events and take pride in the anniversary celebration.

War debate

Congress must speak out

IT'S ABOUT TIME for the reticent Michigan congressional delegation to speak out on the Persian Gulf crisis. So far for the most part they have been close-mouthed.

If Congress is to play a role in determining whether America goes to war to force Iraq's Saddam Hussein out of Kuwait — and we believe Congress should — then our representatives had better begin sounding off loud and fast. Until now, members of the House and Senate have remained strangely silent on the possibility of war. The same politicians who wouldn't shut up last fall when it came to the federal budget snafu have been deathly quiet as greater numbers of American soldiers were ordered into the Middle East last fall.

So we were encouraged this week to hear Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, speak against an attack by the U.S. on Iraqi troops occupying Kuwait. Ford, whose district includes southern Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Canton Township, told the Observer & Eccentric he opposes the use of U.S. military force at this time.

"If I could talk to the president directly, I'd tell him: 'George, you've taken leave of your senses,' " Ford said.

Detroit's Democratic Rep. Dennis Hertel, whose district includes Troy, also opposes a military offensive. The naval blockade established last August should be given more time, he said.

'If I could talk to the president directly, I'd tell him: "George, you've taken leave of your senses." '

— Rep. William Ford

OTHER REPRESENTATIVES from western Wayne and Oakland counties appear to be playing it safe, calling for debate but refusing to take much of a stand. For example, William Broomfield, R-Birmingham and a ranking party member on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said a fractious debate would send the wrong message to Hussein — that the country is divided and in no mood for war.

In that regard though, maybe Broomfield isn't far froin the truth. Recent polls show that 68 percent of the public approves of a quick military strike against Iraq, though support drops to 30 percent when the very real prospect of 10,000 American casualties is mentioned.

Congress today will most likely begin to debate U.S. involvement in the Persian Gulf. A vote authorizing President George Bush to order a military strike could come by week's end.

A vocal debate — and a strong consensus on what, if any military action is required — will keep America out of another "Vietnam." Americans simply cannot economically afford nor emotionally stomach once again the consequences of a president's running roughshod over Congress in order to achieve changing and often unidentifiable military objectives.

MEMBERS OF THE House and Senate, including Michigan's congressional delegation, should have plenty to say for the record and they should say it forcefully. It is both their moral duty and their responsibility as elected officials.

It also may be the only way to persuade a president who seems determined to go to war that other options — the current sanctions/negotiations — should be given more time.

Direct American military intervention in any situation should require a decisive mandate from Congress for the president. Should President Bush fail to receive such a mandate, he should rethink his strategy.

To reach a consensus, the discussion on Capitol Hill must focus on:

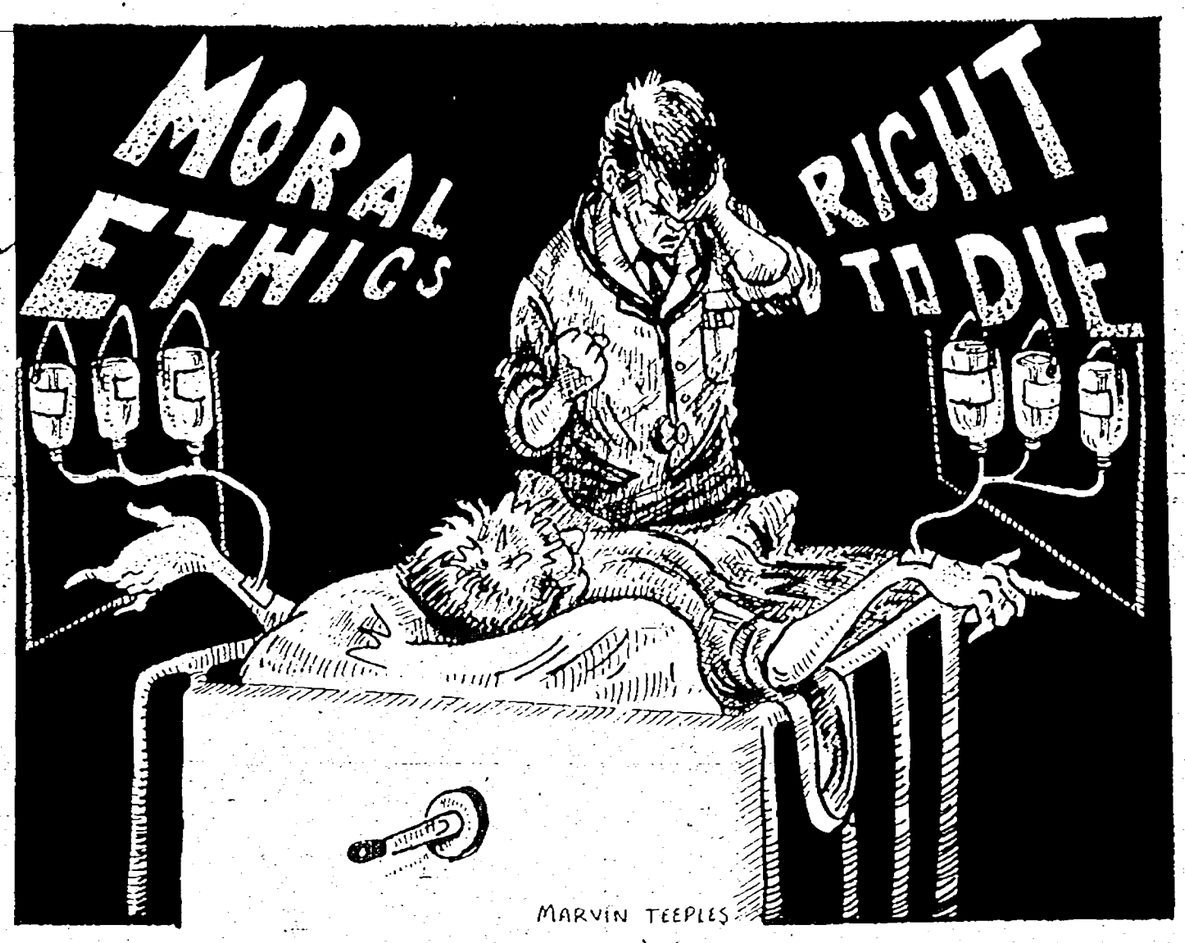
- The immediate situation, not a debate on the extent or validity of the War Powers Act.
- Is military intervention required to handle the current situation, or would it be improperly based on speculation about what Hussein might or might not do at some future date?
- Worthwile objectives as opposed to potential body counts.

We agree that Hussein's army must withdraw from Kuwait, a sovereign, non-hostile state. Aggression like Hussein's shouldn't be rewarded or even tolerated.

Neither should the U.S. go to war to restore the balance of power in Kuwait to the former emir. American intervention should require a new, Democratic Kuwait in return.

MOST AMERICANS would agree that such complex, serious and potentially life-threatening issues deserve a full discussion by all our elected representatives.

If we have learned anything from the Vietnam experience, it is that the time to speak out is before the bloodshed begins.

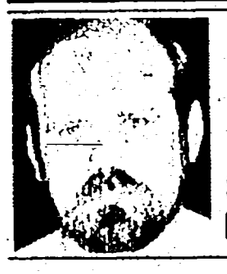


New guy snoops in on workers' private lives

I'VE ALWAYS been leery of throwing stones. Never seems to be much justice in it. Usually the guy throwing stones is heaving one at some defenseless lug who is just doing his best to survive.

You've got to figure that stone throwers are pretty insecure people, hiding their own inadequacies.

You've got to figure that stone throwers are pretty insecure people, hiding their own inadequacies. Stone throwing comes in a numbet of different forms. We are most familiar with the bald-faced campaign mudslinging. We don't like it, but have come to almost expect it as part of the American electoral system.



Steve Barnaby

AMERICAN politics is full of stone throwers. You know, they sling stones every which way, especially during election time, usually to cover their own indiscretions.

Stone throwing comes in a number of different forms. We are most familiar with the bald-faced campaign mudslinging. We don't like it, but have come to almost expect it as part of the American electoral system.

But much more insidious are the files that politicians and other government types keep on one another. The late FBI director J. Edgar Hoover set the standard in this country. We have some homegrown examples, such as the Red Squad files kept by our own Michigan State Police back in the bad old days of the protesting '60s.

Such practices, of course, reek of totalitarianism and are simply unacceptable in a democracy.

NOW A NEW even more remarkable wrinkle has been added to the plethora of ways to intimidate public officials.

It seems that newly elected Gov. John Engler has taken the art one step beyond. Candidates for high level appointment in his new government are required to answer a rather strange set of questions which are tantamount to peeping Tomism.

From the tone of the questions, it is obvious that our new Republican chief executive has little respect for others' rights to privacy. The tone of the questions also suggests a mentality in his administration which borders on pettiness — a danger for any mature and responsible ruling body.

Take a gander at some of these questions.

"Are you the parent of a child or children born out of wedlock?"

"Do you consume alcoholic beverages? If so describe the extent of your consumption?"

"Do you have any parking tickets that have remained unpaid for more than 30 days?"

Geez. Really governor. This kind of questionnaire is an insult to Michigan voters. You have taken a perfectly respectable part of government and trivialized it.

WE CAN ONLY imagine your diligent aides poring over applications, giggling and snorting as they read the answers.

Of course, Engler's aides assure us this information remains strictly confidential. Confidential, my eye. No information is confidential if more than one person has access to it.

Hey, John, this isn't the Mount Pleasant City Council we're talking about. Maybe back on the street corner in your hometown, folks like to gossip. But we really expect more out of you now that you get to drive your Oldsmobile to Mackinac Island.

Let's give recognition

To the editor:

During the holiday season several community organizations in the city of Westland held worthwhile projects to help needy families in our community.

Did this paper cover these events? Does this paper care? Do the citizens of Westland know how many needy families were helped and how many we didn't reach? Go through your files, see how much information you were given on these projects and how much you printed correctly or incorrectly.

Holiday events organized and attended by the city and its officials were given press with pictures. Holiday projects organized by non-profit, volunteer organizations were given a couple of inaccurate paragraphs on the back pages.

The priorities of this paper have changed. What happened to the community paper from a few years ago? Are politics and profits all that matter now?

Thank God for organizations like the Westland Jaycees and Westland Goodfellows who care about our community. Recognition is not what they are after, but some help from an important community resource is essential in the efforts to support our friends and neighbors.

Wake up! Help those who support and depend on this paper for accurate community information. Help those who care about the people, the children. Children are our future.

Does this paper know how many children in the communities it serves are living at or below poverty level? The Jaycees and Goodfellows have a real good idea. Do you know why? I'm sure you don't. You didn't cover the events that made us aware!

Time is most valuable gift

To the editor:

I've heard all the excuses, because I've used them all. They range from, "I don't have time to visit Aunt Mary at the nursing home," "I don't think she would remember me anyway," "I hate the smell of the place," "I don't like to be yelled at by the other residents when I walk down the hall" to "I don't like to see her roommate's twisted toes and bedpan when I'm there."

Who could argue with this. It's true But . . . it still matters that you go, maybe not to you, but to Aunt Mary for sure.

I remember years ago, I called my grandfather at his nursing home in Ohio and told him we were coming to visit. He said that he didn't know who I was. Discouraged, I told my husband that at least he will know he had company and we went.

When he saw me across the lobby, his face it up. I still don't know if he remembered my name, but after he dragged out his photo album and showed us pictures of his two wives he outlived and other relatives, I decided it only mattered that we were there. It was obvious he had a good afternoon.

Years later with my mother now in a nursing home and my daughter now with a driver's license, I asked my daughter to go visit her one day.

I remember my daughter feeling bad that I wasn't ready to let her drive my mother to her favorite drug store to get her favorite candy bar. When my daughter returned home, she said, "Grandma doesn't need to go anywhere or even get a candy bar. She just wants to talk. We went out to the gazebo and sat together. She was just happy that I came."

Again I was reminded, as if for the first time, that the important things in our lives are sometimes the simplest or the most ordinary. Your time may be someone else's most valuable gift. It matters.

Early civil rights case outlaws discrimination

Tim Richard

IN 1991 Americans are celebrating the 200th anniversary of the Bill of Rights. But before 1990 is too far gone, Michiganians should take proud note of the 100th anniversary of one of our own civil rights cases — Ferguson vs. Gies.

William W. Ferguson, a man of color as they were known in 1890, owned a printing plant. One day he and a friend went to the bar-restaurant of Edward G. Gies and ordered dinner.

"I can't wait on you here," said the waiter. "It is against the rules of the house to serve colored people in the resfaurant. If you want anything to eat, you will have to go on the other side of the house."

A six-foot aisle separated the restaurant side, with cloth-covered tables, from the saloon side. Ferguson was refused service on the restaurant side.

"I have been insulted by one of your waiters," Ferguson protested to Gies.

Gies repeated the "rule" of the house, adding, "If you sit over at the next table in the other row, I will see that you are served there all right, the same as any other person will be."

"No," said Ferguson, who stalked out and filed suit in Wayne Circuit Court for damages.

JUDGE GEORGE Gartner's instructions to the jury were the heart of the case.

"All citizens under the law have the same rights and privileges and are entitled to the same immunities — it makes no difference whether white or colored," Gartner began. He noted the state in 1885 passed a law prohibiting discrimination in public restaurants.

"The defendant has the right to reserve certain portions of his business for ladies, and other portions for gentlemen . . . certain tables for white men, and others where colored men would be served, providing there be no unjust discrimination."

With those instructions, the jury found in favor of Gies.

FERGUSON APPEALED to the state Supreme Court and won. Justice Allen B. Morse wrote the opinion, issued Oct. 10, 1890:

"The fault of this instruction is that it permits a discrimination on account of color alone, which cannot be made under the law with any justice . . . In Michigan there must be and is an absolute, unconditional equality of white and colored men before the law.

"Socially people may do as they please within the law, and whites may associate together, as may blacks, and exclude whom they please from their dwellings and private grounds; but there can be no separation in public places between people on account of their color alone which the law will sanction."

Some court decisions upheld separate but equal accommodations in public transportation, said Morse, "but it must be remembered that the decision . . . was made in the ante bellum days, before the colored man was a citizen and when, in nearly one-half of the Union, he was but a chattel. It cannot now serve as precedent."

Morse noted the state law provided full and equal accommodations in inns, barber shops, public conveyances on land and water, theaters and all other places of public accommodation and amusement.

THE HIGH court sent the case back to circuit court for re-trial. Ferguson won and was awarded "nominal" damages, according to a footnote in the court opinion book.

William Ferguson later was elected Michigan's first black state legislator. His attorney, Dean A. Straker, later was elected Michigan's first black judge and also wrote several books, some of which Ferguson's press published.

And all of this was 64 years before U.S. Chief Justice Earl Warren.

Tim Richard reports regularly on the local implications of state and regional events.

Doc Doyle

QUESTION: Is there a textbook burning frenzy going on in this area? It seems articles are appearing more and more in local newspapers and on TV about parents organizing against what they believe to be too much child exposure to violence, sex and Satanic themes in schools. Is this occurring in just our area or nationwide?

Answer: It is nationwide! There is an all time high of 244 major confrontations between parent groups and local school boards regarding this issue in 39 states, according to a recent study entitled, "Attacks on freedom to learn." People for the American Way, a non-partisan constitutional liberties group that leans strongly toward an American Civil Liberties Union orientation, completed the study.

The primarily "fundamental" Christian parent groups in those 39 states have major concerns about certain textbooks, certain school plays, some supplementary readings and some video movies.

One of the saddest situations is in the Ridgeview Elementary School District in Yucaipa, Calif. Teachers recommended a supplementary reading series entitled "Impression," a whole language, literature-based approach to reading.

OPPOSING CITIZENS viewed this as a departure from the fundamental basic skills mastery approach to read that they preferred. And the opposing parents also saw violence, sex and the devil popping up too frequently.

The Yucaipa teacher chairmen who recommended the series had their houses egged, broken glass thrown on their driveway, nails driven into their car tires and neighbors who wouldn't even say hello to them or their children. These attacks, to me, are by a few extremists found in any group and do not reflect on those who have a sincere interest in expressing their viewpoint.

More than 150 parents attended a Ridgeview board meeting wishing to do away with the "Impressions" series. However, at the next meeting, with 1,200 in attendance, a review committee made up of teachers, administrators and parents from every school building gave the series a clean bill of health.

The "Impressions" series, depending on one's view, is a treasure of children's literature, classic fairy tales, nursery rhymes and short stories by writers such as T.S. Elliot, C.S. Lewis, Beverly Cleary and other talented authors.

HOWEVER, SOME believe the "Impressions" series subliminally espouses violence, death, the occult, total sexual freedom and does not reflect the "fundamental beliefs on which this country was founded."

For instance, there is one story in which a little boy gives another little boy a valentine card. On the next page, an old traditional rhyme called "Lavender's Blue" has a line that goes, "And we shall be gay, dilly dilly, and we shall both dance . . ." Some of the parents opposing the series interpreted this children's rhyme to be a class endorsement of male homosexuality.

One parent, according to the Los Angelos Times, tried to make a case that one could see the face of the devil in one illustration.

On the other hand, Forrest Turpen, executive director of the Christian Educators Association International said, "Teachers get defensive . . . humanness gets in the way of what we should really be looking at, which is, what's best for boys and girls."

TURPEN'S GROUP believes the reading series should have greater emphasis on traditional Judeo-Christian values, stories of personal courage as opposed to stories emphasizing despair, gloom and hopelessness.

However, the People for the American Way group director Donna Fowler said, "They are straight forwardly pushing a Christian agenda. You've got somebody there who's on a witch hunt, and you bet they will find a witch . . . their main thrust is to get members selected to local school boards."

So yes, there is a national movement to review and challenge what is being presented to children in the classroom. Right or wrong, it is democracy in action.

Where is all this going? It is another group pushing for schools of choice where tuition money is given to the parents and they select the educational environment they want for their children. It's coming whether public education likes it or not.

Soldiers learn to be best

Philip Sherman

MY SON, and many of your sons, are halfway through basic training at the U.S. Army base at Fort Knox, Kentucky. That means they're either halfway to Saudi Arabia, in the event of war, or midway through a training period that will end with them accepting assignments throughout the world.

The base held Family Day this past weekend so parents could see what their children are doing for a living now. We drove the 6½ hours to the base because we were very anxious to see our son and to take a look at the life he is leading. I came away with two overriding thoughts.

First, I haven't changed my mind. There is absolutely nothing for Americans to fight for in the Persian Gulf. This is not our fight. Attacking or participating in this desert conflict is not justifiable under any circumstances.

That said, you parents who didn't or couldn't attend Family Day, or those of you who have never seen an army base, need to know something. A lot is written and televised about our inept, bungling, overbudgeted, poorly managed, poorly prepared, poorly equipped, non-combat ready troops.

It is all garbage.

WHAT I SAW this past weekend was an example of precision, skilled soldiering. These troops, halfway through basic, are quietly confident, polite young men who, to an individual, could rip a concrete wall apart with their bare hands.

They are being taught well. They attend classes. They get up at 3:45 a.m. every day and do an hour of physical training, PT as they call it, that would kill most of us.

It is the business of being a soldier that they are learning; they are learning well and being taught well. They have everything they need. Most soldiers live in complexes that resemble dormitories, not barracks. A movie theater (showing Ghost and another film I can't remember), dispensary, PX, telephone center, Burger King, bowling alley, gymnasium and library are at their disposal.

And that's just for my son's platoon. Fort Knox is immense. He lives in just a small suburb of the base.

Like his colleagues, my son can now run a mile in barely over seven minutes. He already has won medals for shooting and pitching a grenade. All the soldiers in his platoon look you in the eye when they talk to you. It isn't a challenging look. It's more a reflection of an inner strength and maturity you probably haven't seen in your son before.

THEIR DRILL sergeants are colorblind and scrupulously fair. They have taught these young men to function as one, cohesive individual. You think it's easy to get 35 guys marching, turning and marching in the other direction in columns? Try it.

There is a point to all this. There are no winners in any war, philosophically speaking. And the Persian Gulf is no place to stage our next major conflict.

But if we have to go to war some day, don't think for an instant that our troops are bumbling nitwits who will be overridden by someone else's highly skilled, more effective, better equipped soldiers. There is no such animal.

It is obvious to anyone with eyes that while we may disagree heartily with our military and the direction it takes from time to time, our soldiers, if Fort Knox is any example, clearly are learning to be the best in their business.

Group urges ban on nuclear testing

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Their ranks extend to former professors and former soldiers, housewives and doctors, and they're concerned about peace.

Despite glasnost, they believe the nuclear threat isn't over. In fact, they believe the nuclear threat will increase dramatically — unless the U.S. signs onto a treaty banning nuclear weapons testing.

That's why members of numerous area peace organizations are trying to raise awareness of the multi-nation nuclear test ban conference which began Monday and is scheduled through Jan. 18 at the United Nations, New York.

Monday, they held a pro-treaty rally in front of the McNamara Building in Detroit. Similar events were held in other cities. Recently, several area peace advocates spoke to the Observer & Eccentric editorial board.

"OUR POSITION is that the fate of one of us is the fate of all of us," said Jane Bingham of Bloomfield Hills, a member of the local UN Association.

The rally was designed to drum up grassroots support for the test ban conference. Groups supporting the conference include American Baptist Churches, USA, Gray Panthers, Greenpeace, the National Lawyers Guild, Pax Christi USA, SANE FREEZE and the Unitarian Universalist Peace Network, among others.

Thus far, the Bush Administration has opposed the conference. The president's opposition, along with that of Great Britain, places the treaty in jeopardy, group members said.

Making matters worse, they said, the conference has receive little media publicity.

"People don't even know about it," Bingham said.

But group members say signing the treaty is the best guarantee of a future free from the threat of nuclear war.

If ratified, the new treaty would broaden provisions of the atmospheric test ban treaty of 1963, signed by the world's nuclear powers. Group members believe it would also ease ratification of the nuclear non-proliferation treaty, signed five years later by non-nuclear nations.

"The danger is that if we renege (on the test ban) then, when the (next non-proliferation) conference comes up in 1995, other nations will say, 'You didn't respond, so we won't renew,' " said Stan Connelly, of Birmingham, a retired major general and a member of the Center for Defense Information.

Earlier this year, non-nuclear nations failed to come to agreement at a non-proliferation treaty review conference held in Geneva with lack of a comprehensive test ban a major sticking point. Those nations, however, will try again at the January conference.

The proposed treaty would ban underground and underwater testing, both acceptable under the current treaty.

Some group members believe the U.S. is more concerned with maintaining its first-strike capability, particularly in a time of escalating tension in the Persian Gulf.

"WE ARE concerned that one of the reasons given for a potential military strike is the development of nuclear weapons in Iraq," said Dr. Morris Davidson of West Bloomfield, a member of Physicians for Social Responsibility. "It seems highly unlikely Saddam Hussein, whatever his brutality, would be willing to bring on the kind of nuclear response using that weapon would engender."

Added Connelly: "I think it (Iraq's potential nuclear weapon) is a non-issue."

More of an issue, group members believe, is nuclear waste disposal.

"There are many problems to address with the shipping and storing of nuclear waste," said Jean Prokopow of West Bloomfield, a member of Women Against Nuclear Destruction.

The the U.S. and U.S.S.R. are engaged in ongoing negotiations that could cut each nation's nuclear arsenal by up to 50 percent, group members said.

Debating U.S. role in Iraq

Area congressmen wrestle with military option

Congress may authorize the use of U.S. military force against Iraq, but one suburban Congressman indicates the vote won't be unanimous.

Rep. William Ford, D-Taylor, said he's already made up his mind to vote against authorizing an attack on Iraqi troops occupying Kuwait.

"I'm not voting to go to war in the Middle East. I can't find one shred of justification for spending even one U.S. life," said Ford, whose district includes southern Livonia, Westland, Garden City and Canton.

"IF I could talk to the president directly, I'd tell him: 'George, you've taken leave of your senses.' "

While no area Congressman issued a statement in favor of going to war, Ford's opinion appeared somewhat counterbalanced by that of William Broomfield, R-Birmingham.

Broomfield said he favored debate on military action in the region, but feared a fractious debate would show a lack of U.S. resolve.

Broomfield, ranking Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said a declaration of war "would be helpful but isn't absolutely necessary" to authorize military action. Broomfield's district includes most of Oakland County.

Dennis Hertel, D-Harper Woods, predicted a vote on military action will be "closer than most think. But the president will win."

Nonetheless, Hertel said he opposes an invasion and would give economic sanctions against Iraq more time to force a withdrawal.

The blockade "is really air-tight," said Hertel, whose district includes a portion of Troy. "It also keeps our alliance together."

That multi-nation alliance forged by President Bush will dissolve if an invasion were launched, Hertel predicted. Some countries would agree to enter Kuwait, he said, but not Iraq.

"It becomes an American war against an Arab nation," Hertel said, adding that Iraq's defeat would leave Iran and Syria the dominant powers in the region.

"I DON'T trust them," he said.

Rep. Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, said he favored negotiating, up to the deadline date.

"I think we're still in the negotiating mode," Pursell said. "One thing I wouldn't want to do is to undermine the president before the deadline."

Pursell said Congress could issue a resolution supporting the president, short of going to war, with the understanding the president would come before Congress on Jan. 15 seeking further authorization.

"But that's just speculation at this point," Pursell said. "It's hard to tell exactly what will happen."

Sander Levin, D-Southfield, was "withholding comment" in light of U.S. Secretary of State James Baker's scheduled meeting with Iraqi officials Wednesday in Geneva.

"It's Sandy's feeling he couldn't comment until he see how talks go," said Levin spokeswoman Cynthia Mann. Levin's district also includes Redford Township.

Last month, he favored giving sanctions more time.

President Bush has indicated military action could begin as soon as Tuesday, the United Nations-sanctioned deadline for removal of Iraqi troops from Kuwait.

Congress was expected to debate this week whether to authorize military force in accordance with the U.N. deadline.

Both administration and Congressional figures said war wouldn't necessarily begin on that date.

"What you've got is a UN resolution that says if you want to go to war, you can do it after Jan. 15," Ford said. "But it doesn't commit a single soldier or sailor."

A day of fasting and prayer has been called for Saturday by Chaldean Bishop Mar Ibrahim Ibrahim of Detroit. Some 60,000 people of Chaldean ancestry live in the metropolitan area, among the largest contingents outside Iraq. Chaldeans are a Christian minority group in Islamic Iraq.

At the same time, a coalition of activist groups is organizing area residents for a Jan. 19 march on Washington, D.C. in protest of the U.S. military presence in the Middle East.

The march was scheduled to coincide with the annual observance of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s birthday.

"We had set our date even before the Jan. 15 deadline was set," said David Sole of the Coalition to Stop U.S. Intervention in the Middle East.

The Detroit-based organization estimates that between 1,200 and 2,000 area residents will participate in the march.

"I've never seen any reaction like this at so early a stage," Sole said. "Opposition is widespread, especially in the black community."

Recent polls have indicated 68 percent of the public approves of a quick, decisive strike against Iraq, though support drops to about 30 percent when weighed against the prospect of as many as 10,000 U.S. casualties.

"We know Congress has never stopped a war in U.S. history," Sole said. "It's up to the people to do it."

A new year... A new future

WHAT WILL 1991 have in store for us? Will it be a good year? Will it be one we'd rather forget?

Evelyn Button has taken a long look at the planets and the stars and come up with some yearlong predictions. An astrologer through Jupiter Enterprise, she also is a teacher, lecturer, radio/TV columnist and representative for Astrology Software.

But before she takes a closeup look at individual signs of the zodiac, Button offers this overall look at the new year:

"THE TWO major eclipses this year fall in January and July. The eclipses are known to be triggers of new events which may not necessarily take place on the day itself. It is interesting to note the first solar eclipse falls on Jan. 15, the date set by the U.N. Security Council in their resolution concerning Saddam Hussein.

"My major concern is (the effect) aspects of the eclipse have in President (George) Bush's chart as well as the United States. I feel it is very important for the president to observe good health practices this year. The stress and strain will not be good for him or for our country.

"Recent events could backfire. For those of you who may be curious about Saddam Hussein's sign and birthday, he is a Taurus, born April 28, 1937."

Now, an astrological look at 1991:

ARIES (March 21-April 19) — Known as the sign who walks where angels fear to tread, you may anticipate a very active year. Many of you born March 28-April 6 will find your restlessness will test your ability to continue with decisions to stay put.

Career and/or relationships are targeted. Hasty actions may lead to regrets. Watch your stress levels. In general, all Aries, watch your stress levels! Don't overestimate your energies; it's best to focus on inner growth.

The later Aries birth may feel the weight of greater responsibilities — for example, caring for others. Some of you can look forward to that promotion that is waiting in the wings.

Your creative talents are at an all-time high. Maintain your health and join an exercise group, even if it consists of a daily walk.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) — Your strength and determination have in some cases been tested. However, feelings of self-doubt should start to wane. This is the year to start making those positive changes you have long thought about but put off.

The focus seems to be on relationships, casual or personal. Avoid impulsive actions that could lead to power struggles. Time to let go of matters that hinder your growth, or you could be a victim of outside influences.

It's a good year to clear the cobwebs and learn some new skills. The fall promises solutions and improvements. In the meantime, meet your challenges; you have what it takes to beat the odds.

If your birthday falls April 20-28, your work load may be heavy, taking on more responsibility either at work or at home. Do you know where your dentist is? You may get to know him better this year!

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) — Lucky you! This is your year to experience some mind-expanding ideas in education, teaching and communications. Make sure you have your bags packed, because staying at home is not your idea of adventure.

Examine your goals and go for it! Relationships in general should bring the positive support that you needed for so long. This will help fuel cheerful attitudes that in turn will expand your horizons both in your career and home front.

Be careful that you don't overdo it, because the fall of the year suggests that your generosity in the energy department may exceed your ability to deliver. Exercising restraint will in no way impede success.

If in any litigation, the planets are on your side.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) — A sign known as the caretaker continues to struggle with relationships, casual and/or personal. The eclipses this year seem to be playing the game of tag with your sign. Be careful and don't yield to the temptation of discouragement and frustration.

The July 9-15 birthday should experience positive changes influencing your life. Recognition and possible advancements may be in the offering. All Cancer signs would be wise to examine their financial goals. Investments and major purchases should be made with the future in mind.

New doors of opportunity start opening in the month of October. Take advantage of the balance of the year as your guardian angel is looking over your shoulder.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) — The planet of plenty, Jupiter is waltzing in your sign. Depending on your individual chart, this could mean plenty of something or plenty of nothing. Regardless, you are entering in a new 12-year cycle, sprinkling you with confidence and positive growth potential.

Financial improvement may give you a merry-go-round syndrome. Don't mismanage your resources. Job changes, residential moves or repairs and remodeling continue to influence you. The July 23-31 birthday must work a little harder by not forcing issues.

If you are one who has put off getting that medical checkup, tend to it now. It's important you take your R&R as some of you may find your vitality in low gear. Your key word for the first half of the year is self-control, it will be tested.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) — The analyst of the zodiac continues to analyze. Many of you have crossed the bridge of troubled waters but continue to look back. The adjustments and changes are leading you to a more productive future.

Congratulations, the word compromise is now part of your vocabulary. You are in the rebuilding stages of your life, thus conservation of energy is advised. The month of October puts you in a new 12-year cycle as Jupiter enters your sign.

Look for positive events in business and finances, as the doors of opportunities start to open. A few of you may look for good fortune from an unexpected source.

Many of you may seek new studies inspiring changes in your philosophical outlooks and beliefs, enabling you to set priorities toward new goals.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) — Good news for the early birthday, Sept. 23-Oct. 2. Look for new people to enter your life as you set new goals for the future.

This is the year for many of you to win recognition if you took the time to lay the groundwork. Your life as a whole should run much smoother. Relationships for many should start the healing process.

A word of caution to the Sept. 30-Oct. 11 birthday: You are entering a rebellious stage, "My way or the highway." Look before you leap. The earlier birthdays can attest to that.

This is an excellent year to focus your energy on self-improvement, which will pay off in dividends. Children should be a source of pride!

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) — Continue to maintain your equilibrium. This won't be easy as many of you are experiencing the ground shake. Guard against the tendency to overextend your base.

Understanding oneself

By Sue Mason
staff writer

Pat Freeman has learned to understand himself like never before. Now he knows a lot of the reasons why he functions the way he does.

The same is true for Marj Keck. She sees herself changing daily and the biggest change is how she sees herself.

And Karen Chiesa has a new awareness of surroundings herself. She feels "awakened."

The three are graduates of "The Power to Live Your Dreams," a 12-week recovery program that looks at the causes of problems and addictions, not just the symptoms, developed by William Amato and Michael Lynnan.

'Nothing ever really worked for me; I'd accomplished the material things, but I couldn't make a relationship work even though I tried to make them work.'

— Pat Freeman

BOTH MEN have a lot in common. Both were successful businessmen and both realized, despite all the material trappings of the American Dream, something was missing from their lives.

Each sought answers in different ways.

Amato delved into different philosophies and then shared his discoveries with others through seminars and speeches. He even started an in-home meditation group. But he realized that his lectures made people feel good for a few hours or a day. There wasn't a lasting effect.

Lynnan began his search through seminars and groups like Adult Children of Alcoholics at Brighton Hospital, where he eventually became a group leader. The programs, he discovered, help with detoxification, but not in developing life to its best potential.

THE TWOSOME got together at one of Amato's meditation sessions. As the saying goes, one thing led to another, and in July 1989, IG-Knighters Inc. was formed and "The Power to Live Your Dreams" program was created.

"So many people are slaves to conditioning," Amato said. "They make choices thinking it's a free will choice, but it's based on past conditioning. Childhood training is very influential as to how you will live your life as an adult."

As Amato explains it, a person's self-image is made up of cellular representations of himself or herself. Those little cells, formed in childhood, tend to tell a person what his or her self-image must be.

Those cells also tend to dictate a person's response to situations, making it reactionary.

Writer is friendly and generous

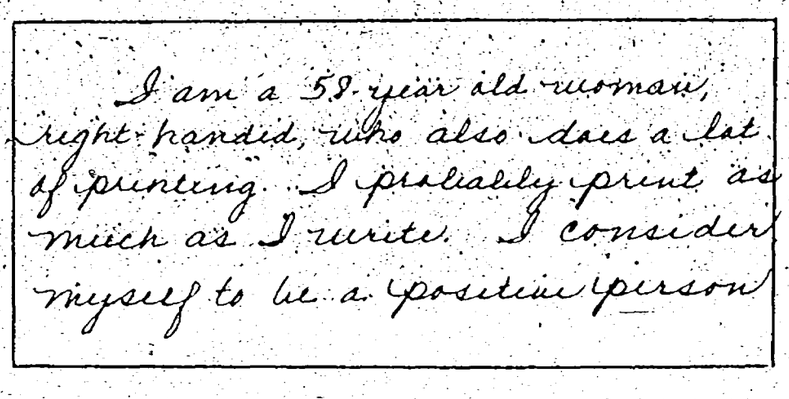
Lorene Green

Dear Ms. Green,

I am a 58-year-old woman, right handed, who also does a lot of printing. I consider myself to be a positive person and somewhat of a perfectionist when it comes to details.

Please give me your opinion as a graphologist on the kind of person you see me to be. Thank you.

J.K.,
Westland



I am a 58-year old woman, right-handed, who also does a lot of printing. I probably print as much as I write. I consider myself to be a positive person

Dear J.K.,

I see you to be an outgoing woman. You are friendly, generous, and helpful. You enjoy relationships and activities with other people and bring harmony to them.

People gravitate to your warm personality. A nice sense of humor weaves in and out of this handwriting. Your fun-loving nature should make you a popular companion.

There is also a very responsible side to your personality. Discipline, organized thinking and a basic thoroughness in handling your daily routine cannot be missed. Obligations are taken seriously and you pour energy into your preparations. You enjoy and expect full involvement and hard work once you commit yourself to a project.

You are intellectually curious, more on the concrete than abstract level. You tend to analyze what you learn, ferreting out the things you can accept from those you cannot.

Basically, you are conventional in your approach to life and living. You live with values that were probably established early in life. Behavior is usually geared to what you feel to be socially correct. Authority figures are held in respect.

Security minded, you are not inclined to jeopardize it by taking big risks. It seems quite possible that you have been under the influence of someone with a stronger personality than your own. As capable as you are, however, you also appear to be dependent on someone else quite often.

Another seeming contradiction appears in your strong need to have approval from others. Yet there is some indication that past experiences have taught you not to care what others think in certain situations. But be assured we all have some of these contradictions in our personalities.

Seemingly, you need some variety in your life. When things become too mundane, I suspect a tad of restlessness sets in.

Are you aware of the intuition I see in your handwriting? If not, you may want to test it in small areas until you gain the confidence to trust it.

There is an aesthetic quality to your handwriting which suggests talent for making things around you attractive. Art aptitude is also a possibility.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful and objective feedback is always welcome.

Class breaks down past conditioning

Through their program, Amato and Lynnan help participants break down their pasts to make them feel good about themselves. It helps them by focusing on self-image (how they see themselves), self-esteem (how they feel about themselves) and self-value (how they know themselves).

IN FOUR-HOUR classes at the Peace Center in Brighton, participants do exercises that help put them in touch with their true feelings.

In one exercise, participants wear a mask to help them feel the sense of being alone. They act out feelings from joy to sorrow and guilt "until they figure out they're learning to feel their own feelings," Amato said.

The classes create a new "family" for the participants. The focus is to help them find new self-understanding so they can become free of their addictions and know that their addictions are escapes from their lives.

ONE THING the twosome does as part of the classes is to videotape how the participants act and talk during the first class. They then play the tape back to them during the 11th week of the program.

"We're not asking to believe us that they will change, but to believe the camera," Amato said. "We hear a lot of 'And I thought I had it so together' from them. It really speaks to the people."

Freeman, who builds custom homes in the Brighton area, was skeptical about the program, but after the third lesson felt he had gotten his money's worth.

'Nothing ever really worked for me; I'd accomplished the material things, but I couldn't make a relationship work even though I tried to make them work.'
— Pat Freeman

"Nothing ever really worked for me; I'd accomplished the material things, but I couldn't make a relationship work even though I tried to make them work," he said.

"Now I behave differently. I'm able to stop and look at a situation and take it for what it is. I slow down and take it easy."

THE CLASSES have "really shifted" Freeman's values to the point that things once important are no longer important. The thing that is now important to him is himself and how he feels about himself, "not a better job, fancier car or bigger house.

"I feel better about myself, but I'm not there yet," he said.

Keck also has noticed a difference in how she looks at things after taking the class, which she gave herself as a birthday present. Things she would have laughed about before, she cries about now, and vice versa.

"I'm not living in the past anymore," she said. "I'm not making such a big deal about small things."

KECK WAS nervous about taking the class but found it was easier to look deep inside herself and share it with strangers than with close family members. She could be "honest" about her feelings.

Now, she has to work at what she learned in the program because at times she "slides back to her old self," she said.

"Moodiness that used to last days will last minutes because I'm aware that it's me."

Chiesa found out about the program from her husband. He took the classes and "came back more enthused and alive than I had ever seen him," she said.

AS FOR HERSELF, she is now more aware when she reacts to a situation, and much more aware of being an example for her children. She has realized that she doesn't always have to be perfect.

"And that's OK," she said. "I want to set an example they can live with. I want them to know that I'm not perfect and I think they think they're not perfect."

Like Keck, she realizes that what she has to work at what she learned in the class.

"You have to apply the tools given; you have to work at it," she said.

RESPONSE TO the class has been terrific even though participants find out about it through word of mouth, Amato and Lynnan said. It also has been endorsed by the Ford Motor Co. and UAW as a recovery program for hourly workers through the Educational Training Assistance Program.

While the program fee is hefty at $595 for 12 weeks, neither Amato nor Lynnan are getting rich from it. The fee covers the cost of the workbook, T-shirt, 48 hours of instruction and graduation certificate.

The Oct. 23-Nov. 1 birthday will experience increased responsibility. For some it may come in the form of a promotion, for others a threat to their security. Exercise and a balanced diet will ward off negative attitudes.

Your sensitivity and awareness will be enhanced this year. You will be able to take advantage of the winds of change, which will serve you well.

The Nov. 11-16 birthday is experiencing once-in-a-lifetime transits — a transformation that equates to a rebirth. It's letting go of the old and beginning anew. The transition for some may be difficult. How you handle it will make the difference.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) — Your ruling planet Jupiter is positioned in a positive cycle for the first nine months of the year. Benefits including travel, adventure or the opportunity to learn or teach others new skills will be on the agenda.

Recognition for your efforts by authority figures is highlighted. Career goals take priorities after the fall of the year. A word to the wise: Due to your generous nature, you may be giving more of yourself than you are able to give.

The Nov. 23-30 birthday will experience more patience and perseverance then usual, which gives you the fortitude to forge ahead. You really seem to have it all together.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) — The focus for the year continues in the area of relationships as you challenge your lifelong concepts and standards. The eclipses in your sign will force you to deal with your identity as the changes you're making within yourself surprise even you.

The Dec. 30-Jan. 6 birthday may experience changes in your life, replacing your rigid structure with a more creative, imaginative person.

Hold the line on investments, "neither a borrower, nor a lender be," until the fall of the year when you will feel a weight lifted from your shoulders. Travel at that time looks very promising.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) — It's important that you set your priorities this year, walking a high wire is not your cup of tea. That is what you will be doing if you go to extremes with self-indulgent actions.

Financial discretion is urged. This is the year to lay a foundation for the future. Don't be discouraged if progress is slow and you feel blocked. Your energy level will require a slower pace. Time to slow down and smell the coffee.

For the Feb. 6-12 birthday, it's time to cut your losses and set new goals for yourself. You will start to change your values as you seek ways of increasing your financial position. If you are a member of the yuppie generation, business matters will require negotiations and compromise!

Reduce your hectic schedule. Relax and ride this out.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) — Influential people continue to come in your sphere, spurring you on. Your creative and inventive skills are in high gear. Personal goals and objectives are basking in a favorable environment. Go for it!

Your vitality and all health-related matters seem to fall under an umbrella of protection. However, it may present some weight problems, so watch your diet.

The fall of the year will focus on casual or personal relationships. The eclipse in July may signal some repressed feeling. Let others know how you feel. Don't hold it in. You will feel better when all is said and done.

Evelyn Button will be offering classes in astrology in mid-January. For more information, call 464-1691.

Progress

Meeting helps strengthen ties between Catholics and Jews

moral perspectives

Rabbi Irwin Groner

On the morning of Thursday, Dec. 6, 1990, I sat with a delegation of 30 Jewish leaders and an equal number of Roman Catholic prelates in the Vatican. We listened to Pope John Paul II affirm the "absolute singularity of God's choice of a particular people, 'his own' people, Israel."

What brought me to that place, sacred to Christendom and to its leader so revered by his followers?

The story begins in 1965, when the Second Vatican Council, under the guidance of Pope Paul VI, issued the proclamation entitled "Nostra Aetate."

This pronouncement in dramatic language said that "the Jews still remain most dear to God because of their fathers, for he does not repent of the calls he issues," and lifted the curse of Jewish collective guilt for the death of Jesus.

THE IMPACT of Nostra Aetate has been enlarged by the Catholic Church in the further clarification of its terms and implications by two subsequent commentaries. Catholic textbooks, especially in the United States, have been revised in keeping with this renewed respect for Judaism.

Modern Catholic scholars are reinterpreting the meaning of New Testament portrayals of the Pharisees, and the Jews of that time. Dialogue groups between Catholics and Jews have grown and developed.

While the purpose of dialogue is often formulated as achieving mutual understanding, after 1,900 years of Christian rejection and teaching of contempt, this description is inadequate.

THE ULTIMATE goal of dialogue is the reconciliation of the Jewish and Christian communities of faith, a goal of the highest magnitude that poses a supreme challenge.

It is from this perspective that world Jewry was asked to participate in an assessment of the accomplishments of the past 25 years.

Anti-Semitism has been condemned by the Church. The charge of deicide against the Jewish people has been disavowed and rejected. Judaism is no longer seen as a precursor of Christianity, but is being recognized as an autonomous religion with its own integrity, history and creativity.

IN THE COURSE of recent months, Vatican representatives met with Jewish leaders in anticipation of the marking of the 25th anniversary of Nostra Aetate. This event was formally recognized on Dec. 5, as Jewish delegates assembled in Rome for meetings with the Holy See's Commission for Religious Relations with the Jews.

Of immediate concern to us is the alarming rise of anti-Semitism in Eastern Europe. We addressed other issues as well: the recognition by the Church of its share of responsibility for the Shoah (Holocaust) and our interest in the transmission of the Church's new policies and principles of respect for Judaism to the masses of its followers.

Most of these proposals were viewed with favor.

The Catholic delegates restated the condemnation of anti-Semitism as "a sin against God and humanity" and affirmed that "one cannot be authentically Christian and engage in anti-Semitism." The Church's unequivocal declaration that anti-Semitism is a sin and must be overcome by the faithful has a very important and far-reaching effect.

The Church reaffirmed its intention to develop a Catholic document on the Shoah, its own scholarly record of what occurred during the Nazi period, dealing also with the historical background of anti-Semitism and its contemporary manifestations.

WITH REGARD to the special problems of anti-Semitism in Eastern and Central Europe, the committee recommended a number of specific projects, including: the translation into vernacular languages and the broad dissemination of all relevant church documents about relations with Judaism; and the inclusion of the teaching of these documents into the curriculum of theological seminaries in order to eliminate all remnants of the teachings of contempt.

It was recommended that the understanding and the good will experienced on the highest rung of meetings between Catholics and Jews be nurtured at the grass roots level of the diocese, the local church, the parish, the parochial school.

Of immediate concern to us is the alarming rise of anti-Semitism in Eastern Europe.

In the course of the discussions, the atmosphere was open and frank. It is, incontrovertible that Catholics and Jews perceive one another and talk to one another in ways that were utterly inconceivable only a generation ago. It is also true that despite occasional obstacles, difficulties, disappointments and frustrations, this process is irreversible.

ON DEC. 6, assembled in the Apostolic Palace of the Vatican, we were introduced to Pope John Paul II by Archbishop Edward Cassidy, who announced that the Vatican is providing substantial financial assistance in the sum of $100,000 to help complete construction of a new convent and Ecumenical Center where the nuns at Auschwitz will be relocated, resolving the tension that this convent had generated.

In his remarks, the pope affirmed God's covenant with the Jewish people and spoke about the continuing history, development and creativity of the Jewish tradition, a recognition that began with Nostra Aetate.

Pope John Paul II declared that "no dialogue between Christians and Jews can overcome the painful and terrible experience of the Shoah."

He urged that those declarations of the Church dealing with "the religious and historical dimensions of the Shoah and of anti-Semitism will be implemented wherever human and religious rights are violated."

BY SUPPORTING these declarations, he ensured the continuing enhancement of Catholic-Jewish relations.

At the conclusion of his presentation, the pope greeted each of the delegates warmly, with more than a perfunctory handshake, enabling each of us to have a personal encounter with him.

What was accomplished at these meetings in Rome? I saw how significant progress was made on the journey of mutual esteem and reciprocal caring that began 25 years ago between Catholics and Jews. May the forces of understanding, trust and reconciliation increase between us.

Musicians reach out to orphans in Romania

By Sue Mason
staff writer

If members of St. Valentine's church choir have their way, they'll have almost $1,500 to donate to help the orphaned Romanian children.

The 55 choir members sold 150 poinsettias in December, collected donations at holiday concerts and other performances and held weekly raffles at choir practices to raise money for the charity.

"People have really been receptive," said Kevin Cushman, minister of music and choir director at the Redford church. "Normally, we have a concert and people will throw in a dollar or two. Now they're throwing in $10-15."

Usually, the choir takes on projects of a more local nature, but got the idea to raise money for the Detroit-based charity from a member.

Moved by stories about Romania's orphans that appeared on television, they decided that the Romanian children would be a worthwhile cause, Cushman said.

"I said 'yeah, it sounds like a good idea,' and everyone else took it and ran with it," he said.

Funds raised will be channeled through Catholic Relief Services for Romanian Children.

The scandal of the Romanian children was thrust into the forefront following the demise of the Ceausescu government last January.

THE COMMUNIST dictator had wanted to increase the country's population to 30 million by the year 2000. As a result, contraception was banned, sex education prohibited, and all women were required to bear five children.

Women also were routinely examined for signs of pregnancy, and a celibacy tax was imposed on those who failed to conceive.

With most incomes at the poverty level, many Romanian families were forced to abandon children to state orphanages because they were unable to provide for them.

After the overthrow of the Ceausescu government, the orphans were found crammed into small rooms, sleeping on urine-soaked mattresses and wearing rags as diapers. Many were sickly because of germs spread by the use of common feeding bowls and spoons.

Adding to the scandal was the discovery of the first epidemic of childhood AIDs in the world. Blood transfusion was used as a common treatment for childhood malnutrition and, with the use of a contaminated blood supply and the re-use of non-sterilized hypodermic needles and other supplies, the virus has been spread throughout the orphanages.

"We treat our animals better than they do their children," Cushman said.

Helping others in need is nothing new for the church. For the last seven years, a second collection on Sundays has been used to feed the homeless in the Detroit area. So far, parishioners have donated some $350,000 that has gone to soup kitchens and St. Vincent de Paul, Cushman said.

AND FUND raising is nothing new for the choir, which two years ago raised the money to travel to Rome to perform for Pope John Paul II.

Cushman anticipates the choir will have between $1,200-1,500 to give to Catholic Relief Services when this round of fund-raising is completed.

As for future projects, Cushman is sure the choir will find another project, probably after the choir's hectic Easter schedule or in the fall.

"We'll find something or continue with the children," he said. "We'd rather give to others than take care of ourselves."

People interested in contributing can send donations to the St. Valentine Choir, 25881 Dow, Redford 48239.

Set up feed station to bring home birds

Timothy Nowicki

Bird feeding and bird watching are two of the fastest growing activities in the United States.

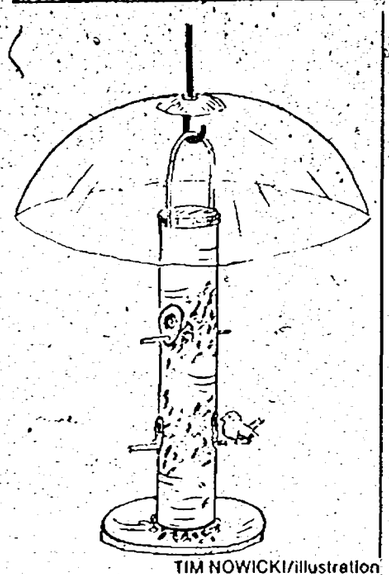
People of all walks of life can enjoy birds. I know businessmen that arrange trips to coincide with peak migration times in various parts of the country. While traveling around town I have seen feeding stations at businesses, as well as many residences.

Establishing a feeding station for birds at a house, business, or retirement facility is a great way to add color, provide movement and action, for a relatively low cost. It is a way of bringing birds into your life all year. Many people who start feeding birds expand their interest by traveling to local birding spots and then to exotic birding locals.

To help people get started in birding or bird feeding, which can lead to an interest in other forms of nature, there are several stores in the area that specialize in birds. In Rochester there is A Birds Eye View; in Troy, Farmington, and Union Lake is Backyard Birds; in Royal Oak and Farmington Hills is Birds Unlimited.

All of these merchants have an array of feeders, from clear plastic tubular models or domed feeders to keep the seed dry and out of the reach of squirrels, to cedar feeders. To fill the feeders, they have an assortment of seeds and seed mixtures that are blended to attract those desirable birds to your yard. If you do not have a place to store your seed all year, most merchants will store your seed for you.

These stores are great places to view what is new on the market. I recently saw a new plastic tubular entrance device for bluebird boxes. It attaches to the entrance hole for the purpose of detering predators. What was also important, was the helpful staff that answered questions about this and other equipment and feeding concerns. At this point the verdict is still out on the benefits of this new entrance device — that information was compliments of the staff.



TIM NOWICKI/illustration

Establishing a feeding station is a way of bringing birds into your life all year.

In addition to feeders and seed, they also have books on birds, field guides for identification, gift items, decorations, shirts, mail boxes, and items dealing with nature in general.

January didn't always begin new year

Raymond E. Bullock

January, the first month of the new year, is the actual start of the decade of the 90's. There will be an eclipse of the sun and moon this month, but the former will not be visible from our area, and the latter will be unimpressive.

The amount of sunlight we receive will increase by 52 minutes this month.

Of the five naked-eye planets, only Mercury is visible in the pre-dawn sky. Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are visible after sunset this month.

For many people today, January is the beginning of a new year. But in primitive Rome the new year started with the first day of spring. Ancient Persians began their year with the first day of autumn. Many other skywatchers divided their year into two parts; at the end of summer's heat and the end of winter's cold.

The custom of celebrating Jan. 1 as New Year's Day goes back to the Roman Julian calendar. The month January was named in honor of their god Janus, the keeper of the gates. He had two faces; one looking back to the past, the other forward to the future.

It was also the Julian calendar that introduced the leap year. Since the earth takes 365 ¼ days to orbit the sun, the calendar is off by one day every four years. Julius Caesar decreed that every fourth year would have 366 days to keep the calendar in line with the seasons.

WHILE THE JULIAN calendar was a vast improvement over other calendars, it too was off by 11 minutes and four seconds each year, which adds up to one day every 128 years.

By the year 1582 the calendar was off by 10 days, so Pope Gregory revised the calendar dropping those 10 days and introducing another correction. The Gregorian calendar was not adopted by everyone at once. It wasn't until another 170 years had passed that England accepted it in 1752. By then it was necessary to drop 11 days from the calendar, much to the objection of a large number of people who started a riot, demanding the return of their 11 days.

Even the Gregorian calendar is off by 28 seconds a year. At that rate the discrepancy will add up to another full day . . . but not for 1,500 years.

January 1991 is also the start of the decade of the '90s. Contrary to what most people thought in December 1989, the year 1990 was not the beginning of the '90s. It was the ending of the decade of the '80s.

The calendar begins with the year 1; we had to complete that year for the calendar to be one year old. Likewise, completing the year 9 did not close out that first decade; the calendar was only nine years old. It wasn't until after year 10 was completed that the first decade came to a close.

THAT SAME LOGIC holds true whether we consider the years 100, 1000, 1900 or 1990; each Dec. 31 of that year was the conclusion of the previous decade. The new decade begins after Dec. 31, 1990; after we have completed the 10th year of the '80s. We are now embarking on the first year of the '90s.

But, back to our current skywatch. Watch Mars pass the Pleiades during the month.

Planets do not actually reverse direction. Retrograde motion is an optical illusion. When the faster orbiting earth passes a slower moving planet, like Mars, the slow planet appears to move backward for a while. Eventually the illusion ends, and the slow planet appears to change direction and go foward again.

Watch the moon pass through the constellation of Scorpius on the mornings of the 11th through the 13th. On the 11th the waning (fading) crescent moon is approaching Antares.

On the 12th it is between Antares and Mercury. If you can see the moon the the morning of the 13th, look five degrees above and to the left of it and you'll see Mercury. This will be the best morning for finding Mercury. It is at maximum elongation (apparent angle) west of the sun on the 14th, but the moon is a natural pointer to Mercury on the 13th.

Knowledge is power in matters of money

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Child to parent: "Our social studies class is thinking about going on an overnight trip to Chicago. It will cost about $150."

Parent to child: "That's nice. Who's going to pay for it?"

Child: "You are."

Adults dismayed by their children's lack of knowledge and disregard for the value of a dollar can do more than fork over or direct their offspring to that proverbial money tree in the back yard.

Teach them — and early on, financial advisers say.

"When do you teach? As soon as they start reasoning," said Phyllis J. Wordhouse, a certified financial planner in Plymouth. "I think they have to understand that money isn't a gift but something you work for."

Helen Alexander, who teaches a personal money management course to eighth graders at Covington Middle School in Birmingham, concurs. "Stop giving them so much."

Added Judy Trepeck, a certified public accountant in Farmington Hills and the mother of four: "Most kids in today's environment don't have a good concept about where money comes from and how far it goes."

A PATTERN of advice emerges.

Give kids regular job assignments around the house and an allowance. Let them physically handle money. Give them some leeway in deciding how to spend money. Develop a partnership in making decisions. Talk family finances together.

Brace yourself — and them — to learn through trial and error.

Wordhouse suggested that very young children get paid in change rather than dollar bills. "At that age, they have so many nickels and dimes to work with. When it's gone, it's gone."

Encourage youngsters to put some coins in a bank for future use, spend some immediately and begin to develop a philosophy of charity, perhaps by dropping some coins into the collection plate at church, she added.

CHILDREN OF all ages must learn to handle money as well as value it, Trepeck said.

"It's not enough for us to say, 'Grandma sent some money for Vehicle exhibits vie for attention of show patrons

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

Let's face it, if all of the automobiles at the North American International Auto Show were lined up diagonally as they are in a grocery market parking lot, the show wouldn't be half as interesting.

Auto makers invest a lot of time and money designing their displays, leaving little to chance. The auto show is, after all, one of the greatest showcases for new products in the world. Why waste such opportunity on a chintzy presentation?

Make no mistake, even on the show floor, the automotive companies are competing, Chevrolet spokesman Dan Hubbard said. "The purpose of an auto show display is to attract people from other areas to the Chevy display."

Automobiles should lead visitors to other automobiles — cars are aligned at different angles to each other and stationary objects, different colors are used to make sure cars stand out, and different models are placed near others to make sure visitors see as many cars as possible.

AND THAT'S just the cars.

Auto makers bring numerous signs, plants, backgrounds with countless colors to accent and contrast, and carpeting in an assortment of patterns colors and depths.

Chevrolet's exhibit, Hubbard said, is the most elaborate Chevy exhibition on the auto show circuit. "We try to have something for everyone."

Some dealers are getting away from the "glitz and entertainment" of previous auto shows, he said, but Chevrolet is bringing along a piano juggler for the Monte Carlo concept car exhibit, magicians and quick change artists for the truck exhibit, and the GEO dancers for the GEO car line.

Chevrolet will also be setting up auto race cars in the front of the display to help draw people into the display, including Dale Earnhardt's championship Lumina NASCAR racer, Tommy Kendall's championship Chevrolet Beretta Trans-Am racer, a show piece Chevy powered Indy-car racer, and a Chevy S-10 pickup, which won its class in the 1990 Pike's Peak Hill Climb.

Current thinking assumes that the glitz and entertainment draws people's attention away from the purpose of the show — the cars. "But that's all theoretical — Chevrolet's theory is if you provide entertainment and glitz, you're going to attract people to your display to see the cars — people like it."

SOME OF THE most popular attractions of auto shows, Hubbard said, are the concept vehicles.

Chevrolet's concept cars include a mid-1990s personal luxury coupe Monte Carlo, after the popular nameplate of yesteryear; a new prototype version of the versatile utility/family Suburban; a concept Crew Cab pickup, the Big Dooley tow vehicle full of luxury and state-of-the art features; a new GEO Tracker with custom treatments; and a new full-size extended cab Sportside pickup.

Hubbard said the display designers scatter the popular concept cars throughout the display to draw people through the display.

Although concept cars are an important draw, the main attractions are still the production cars that are available for purchase. New production vehicles include the Caprice Classic LTZ, a more sporty, full size car; the Cavalier RS convertible, a revamping of the earlier Z24 Cavalier convertible; the Lumina Z34, a 210-horsepower performance coupe; and the new 1991 GEO Storm hatchback.

FORD MOTOR CO. is premiering its new display — the first major overhaul for the company's auto show display since 1983, in a 33,500-square-foot exhibit highlighting 30 new model cars, 19 light trucks, and five concept vehicles, according to Ford spokeswoman Carolyn Brown.

We have tax answers

practically speaking

Your IRS forms have probably already arrived in the mail. And you can be sure your W-2s are on their way. It's time to start thinking about wrapping up another tax year. But if you are like most taxpayers, the more thought you devote to the process, the more questions arise. To help you get started the Farmington Hills-based Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants offers answers to the following common tax questions.

Q. For the past three years, I have come just a few hundred dollars short of being able to itemize my deductions. Is there anything I can do?

A. Try accelerating some of next year's itemized deductions into the current year or postponing some of this year's deductions until next year so that the total will exceed your standard deduction in one year or the other. Then you will be able to itemize once every two years and claim the standard deduction in the other year.

Q. I am a single parent. I pay my mother to care for my son while I work. Can I claim the dependent-care tax credit?

A. Yes, as long as you do not claim your mother as a dependent. But be aware that if your mother comes to your home to care for your children, you must pay Social Security and unemployment taxes based on her salary. You will also need to file payroll tax returns. But if you take your children to your mother's home, she is not considered your household employee and you will not face these employer responsibilities.

Q. What's the rule for deducting consumer interest this year?

A. Borrowing has become more expensive. On your tax return for 1990, you may deduct only 10 percent of the amount you spent for interest on personal loans, car loans, student loans and credit card accounts. For 1991, no deduction for personal interest will be allowed.

Q. My child earns about $2,000 in unearned income. My business partner tells me I no longer need to prepare a separate return to report my child's income. I thought the "Kiddie Tax" required me to do so. Who's right?

Japanese milk PR cow using so-called pay cut auto talk

Dan McCosh

The news that top executives at Japan's Mazda Motors Corp. took a pay cut after suffering the embarassment of a recall recently made a headline story in the Detroit Free Press, which itself slipped in a few editorial comments including calling the move a sublime testimony to Japanese concern for quality.

Auto analysts asked to comment on the move generally made the more astute observation that Mazda's gesture was good public relations, which was more to the point.

IN FACT, the pay cut assumed by Mazda execs, reportedly 5-7 percent of a quarter's salary, is scarcely more than 1 percent of an annual salary. Considering Japanese auto types routinely take more than a third of their compensation in a regular bonus, the cash amount of penance becomes even less and could well be wiped out altogether if the PR move succeeds and sales rise enough to pad the bonuses.

Regardless, Mazda did make the gesture. Safety has become a significant public issue in Japan lately, particularly following a series of television exposes that revealed to the Japanese public that few cars sold in Japan meet U.S. safety standards.

SMALLER, SO-CALLED Japanese minicars, about one-fourth of the Japanese domestic market, are heavily subsidized through differential taxes but are so flimsy they haven't a prayer of ever being exported to the United States.

But even the full-size Japanese products frequently are manufactured and sold in Japan without some key U.S. safety features — a revelation that has prompted a small boom in Japanese sales of cars originally produced for U.S. sale only. Another side effect has been a Nader-style public outcry over car safety.

IN THE midst of this, Mazda managed to pull off an old-fashioned, U.S.-style hidden warranty fiasco. Several thousand cars made with defective parts were sold — and then fixed only when returned to the dealers for repair. The practice in the United States has been declared patently unfair to those consumers who pay for the repairs themselves, unaware the manufacturer is paying off when a customer complains loudly enough.

Curiously, after being caught and chastized by the Japanese Ministry of Trade and Industry for the hidden warranty repair, Mazda only seemed to recall the cars it deemed needed work. U.S. practice is to notify owners of all the cars of a similar model named in a recall, which means that normally fewer than one out of a hundred actually need repair work out of all those "recalled."

THE RESULT is only a handful of cars were actually recalled by Mazda in Japan, which earned them the plaudit of the Detroit Free Press, which duly noted a U.S. recall normally involves "tens of thousands" or more.

One particularly interesting insight into the self-imposed fine was the statement by Mazda's U.S. spokesman that Mazda execs had never taken such a pay cut before. This is particularly surprising since Mazda has been in and out of financial trouble on a number of occasions, including a major bailout by Ford Motor Co. in the mid-1970s — Japanese companies routinely take across-the-board cuts in such times of financial difficulty, as did Chrysler Corp.

Not to question the sincerity of the executives at Mazda, but the notion that their reaction was "good PR" is something of an understatement. I think it will be a long time before the Detroit Free Press runs a page one headline story praising a U.S. auto company that gets caught in a hidden warranty debacle and launches a half-hearted recall for a "sublime" interest in quality.

Answers to some taxing questions

A. The Kiddie Tax does require you to report your child's unearned income. But to make filing easier, the tax law provides that if your child's gross income is between $500 and $5,000, you can now use Form 8814 to indicate that you plan to include your child's gross income on your own return. But there is one factor to keep in mind. When you include your child's income with your own, you increase your adjusted gross income. This may affect your ability to deduct medical and miscellaneous donations.

Q. I work full time as a teacher, but I just started doing some tutoring on the side. How do I report the income I receive?

A. The income you make from tutoring is self-employment income and is reported on Schedule C. You should keep track of your expenses for materials and transportation to and from the second job as these costs are deductible. If you make more than $400 in self-employment income, you must file a Schedule SE and pay self-employment taxes on this income.

Q. I charged a donation to a local charity in December. I didn't pay my bill until January. When do I deduct the donation?

A. You get to deduct the donation in the year you charged it, not the year you pay it.

Q. I know that certain miscellaneous itemized deductions are deductible only in excess of 2 percent of my adjusted gross income. What expenses fit in this category?

A. Miscellaneous itemized deductions include such expenses as union and professional dues, small tools, safety equipment and supplies for your job, fees paid to a tax advisor, lodging costs connected with seeking employment, and investment-related expenses such as safe deposit box rental fees, the cost of producing or collecting income, and IRA custodial fees.

Q. I just reached age 65. Am I entitled to claim a higher standard deduction?

A. Yes. If you use the standard deduction, the law allows you to add $800 to your standard deductions if you are single. If you're married, you may add $650 for each spouse who is age 65 and older.

Q. There's no way I'm going to be able to file my return by April 15. What should I do?

A. You can get an extra four months for filing if you complete Form 4868 and file it by April 15. Be sure to include a check for the approximate amount of tax you expect to owe or you'll be subject to a hefty failure-to-pay penalty. This penalty can be avoided by paying at least 90 percent of your actual tax bill. Remember that you get an extension for filing your return, but you do not get an extension for paying the amount you owe.

Q. How long should I keep my tax returns?

A. As long as possible. As a general rule, the IRS cannot assess additional taxes after three years starting from the due date of the return or when it was actually field, whichever is later. But if you fail to report more than 25 percent of your income, the IRS has up to six years to audit you, and there is no time limit if the IRS thinks you committed fraud or failed to file a return. To be on the safe side, it's good idea to hold onto your forms indefinitely.

Youngsters can learn to handle money

Christmas. When you find something you like, let me know.' When they buy something, they should put the money on the counter. They must physically go to the bank and put money in.

"If we don't give them money to touch, feel or spend, we make a mistake because everything they want then becomes a parent's decision," Trepeck said.

As children get older, they should be encouraged to learn for themselves which bank, savings and loan or credit union offers the best return on their deposits, Wordhouse said.

"One of the biggest mistakes parents make . . . is they don't teach children the differences in types of investments — debt (savings accounts and bonds) versus equity (mutual funds, stocks, real estate)," she said.

Fifth or sixth graders aren't too young to be aware of those options, Wordhouse added.

That — among other things — is what Alexander tries to teach students in her personal finance class at Covington.

"We start with a budgeting unit. I have them look at want ads of papers to find a job. We talk about how much taxes will be taken out and prepare a budget. Of course there's a hue and a cry, 'I can't live on that.'

"Then we go on to credit and consumerism, banking — reconcile a checking account, making a deposit, dangers of a credit card, how to get a loan," Alexander said. "We have a stock market unit."

NOTHING BREEDS success like failure, she said.

"It's an excellent lesson. Frustration is the beginning of learning. I just try to bring them to the real world. My famous line is, 'It's not how much money you make, it's what you do with your money.'"

"You learn more from mistakes than successes," Wordhouse said.

The idea that children shouldn't be concerned or burdened with family finances is out of date, advisers agree.

Instead of haranguing children about leaving lights on, show them the electric bill. Talk about the costs of vacation options.

"More and more families are being open about finances," Wordhouse said.

"The one thing I feel I'm successful in is if they go home and discuss things with their parents," Alexander said of her students.

"Their biggest misconception is that they're always going to live like they do now, even when they start out on their own. They don't understand what their parents worked so hard for, or how long it took."

But in addition to the new model and concept cars, Ford's biggest emphasis is on how the cars will be displayed, Brown said.

Cars will be shown against a backdrop featuring a 40-foot-wide artificial rain curtain, changing photo-mural backgrounds and costumed actors.

Gone are the traditional show biz accompaniments and tinsel approach that was such a big part of Ford's previous display — and that is still a part of other displays, Brown said.

Instead, Ford is providing an entertaining, but comfortable environment in which families can learn more about new products like the 1992 Crown Victoria, she said.

Other new cars included in the display are the new 1991 Ford Escort and four-door Ford Explorer models, as well as the F-series Nite, Bronco Nite and Ranger Sport light trucks, Brown said.

IN PLACE OF the turntables and auto show models of old, Ford is going low key, Brown said. Actors, portraying car buying customers in various lifestyles, will dramatize situations in which Ford's new vehicles will be used.

Photo mural backdrops will provide a variety of changing scenes for each display, she said.

The artificial waterfall is not only attractive, but functional. According to John J. Telnack, Ford vice president of design, the sound and sight of water falling is relaxing and the sound of cascading water masks noise and irritating sounds from adjacent exhibits.

Chevrolet's auto show display will feature three new concept vehicles, four high-performance race cars and $750,000 worth of 1991 production cars and trucks, Brown said.

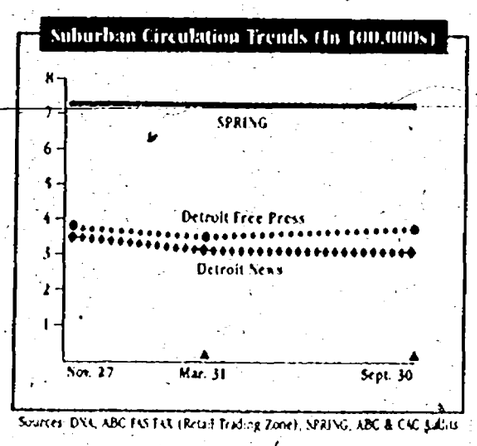
A year after the JOA went into effect, what's the Detroit newspaper situation in 1991?

A little more than a year ago, newspaper advertisers in Detroit got the shock of their lives. The JOA was approved, ad rates soared, and circulation dropped.

Now, a year later, the weekday edition of the Free Press has maintained its circulation. The News is down by 100,000 copies. The DNA is still not making money, and is raising rates again.

Meanwhile, largely because of all of this, a lot of newspaper advertisers are using SPRING.



Sources: DNA, ABC FAS FAX (Retail Trading Zone), SPRING, ABC & CAC 6 mths

SPRING (The Suburban Press RING) is the network of all 50 suburban newspapers published by Adams, Associated, Heritage, and the Observer & Eccentric and Hometown groups.

And we offer advertisers the opportunity to zero in on the customers who have the money to buy what you sell.

SPRING can deliver your newspaper ad to as many as 734,000 affluent Detroit suburban households, about twice as many as the weekday edition of either the News or Free Press . . . and at a lower CPM. With just one rep, one order, one "slick," and one invoice.

And our CPM for Free-Standing Inserts (FSIs) is only $23!

The bottom line is this: a year after the JOA, it is clear that the newspaper situation in Detroit has changed irrevocably.

The newspaper situation in the suburbs is good.

Detroit's suburban market remains strong. And SPRING delivers it.

Her own style

Actress plays role a different way

By Ethel Simmons
staff writer

LYNNE WINTERSTELLER is no Judy Holliday, but she doesn't claim to be.

The tall (5 foot 10), slender actress with russet hair stars as Ella Peterson — a role Holliday made famous on Broadway — in the musical "Bells Are Ringing" at the Birmingham Theatre.

"The show was written exclusively for her," the pretty and charming Wintersteller said.

"I saw the movie (Holliday also starred in the movie version) once. The director asked me to see it."

But when Wintersteller went into rehearsal for the show, and began doing a Holliday-style characterization, the director said that was not what was expected of her. So she developed her own interpretation.

WINTERSTELLER HAS starred on Broadway in "Annie" and has appeared off-Broadway in "Gifts of the Magi," "Nunsense" and "Closer Than Ever."

"I'm known as the off-Broadway queen, I think."

In "Closer Than Ever," with songs by Richard Maltby and David Shire, she played opposite Tyne Daly and Debby Boone. Wintersteller was nominated for the 1990 New York Drama Desk award — given by the critics — for her work in the musical.

"She's my inspiration," Wintersteller said of Daly. "I saw her perform as Mama Rose (in the 'Gypsy' part Ethel Merman made famous), and Tyne made it her own."

THIS HELPED Wintersteller discover the strength to do her own thing as Ella Peterson in "Bells Are Ringing."

"Everybody thinks of Judy Holliday, but the director said, 'No. You have to find parts of you.' On the third day of rehearsal I thought of Tyne Daly who had the courage to make Mama Rose her own."

Wintersteller certainly doesn't bear any resemblance to the blonde, buxom Judy Holliday.

"Because of my height and carriage, I come across as more graceful. I'm not a typical dumb blonde. There's not a real ditzy edge to me" — such as Holliday had.

Wintersteller said she found a helpful edge instead for her character, who works at a telephone answering service and gets involved in the lives of her customers.

She also acknowledges that Holliday had a quirky voice and that hers is quite different. Some critics have been unhappy that she hasn't appeared more like Holliday in the role, she said.

"That's valid — to be zanier."

THE CURRENT production of "Bells Are Ringing" originated at the Goodspeed Opera House in East Haddam, Conn., and is presented jointly, on the local scene, by the Goodspeed and the Birmingham Theatre. The musical runs through Sunday, Jan. 27.

"It has the same production, sets and cast."

Because the Birmingham stage is bigger, the sets look bigger here and the skies at the top are visible. At the Goodspeed, "We never saw them."

METROPOLITAN DETROITERS may remember Wintersteller from her appearance at the Fisher Theatre in the role of Grace Farrell, who is Daddy Warbuck's secretary in the musical "Annie." The show was in Detroit almost a full year.

Raised in Sandusky, Ohio, Wintersteller comes from a family of three boys and three girls.

At 13, she worked in summer theater there. She also spent two summers performing in shows at Cedar Point amusement park in her hometown in the 1970s.

She studied acting at the University of Maryland and worked around the Washington, D.C., area, understudying the actress who originated the role of Grace in "Annie," whom she had understudied in the musical "Charles and Algernon." Both shows are by Charles Straus.

SHE ALSO was understudy on the national tour of "Annie" before moving into the role of Grace on the national tour, then on to Broadway.

"It was a Cinderella story. You don't hit New York that fast. I had an angel on my shoulder."

She thoroughly enjoyed the role of Grace.

"I played off and on in about four different casts for four years. It was a Carole Lombard-type role, with beautiful '30s costumes. She was an elegant lady, and quirky. The charm of 'Annie' was the kids."

WINTERSTELLER IS married to actor Mark McGrath, who played the Pharoah (the Elvis Presley-like character) in "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat" at the Birmingham Theatre about five years ago.

He also did a revival of "Little Me" with Jimmy Coco and was in "Three Musketeers" on Broadway.

David Shire, who wrote the music for "Baby" (with lyrics by Richard Maltby), is developing a one-woman show for Wintersteller.

"David and I respect each other a lot. He has written a lot. He wrote a lot of film songs."

WINTERSTELLER FIRST met Mark McGrath when both were appearing in "Baby."

"We played husband and wife but didn't start our relationship until after the show was over. We've been together seven years and have been married two years. He's from Cincinnati, but we met in New York. We had a lot of things in common."

In "Bells Are Ringing," Lynne Wintersteller is a helpful Ella Peterson instead of a ditzy one.

Good acting and directing help focus intimate drama

Performances of the Meadow Brook Theatre production of "What I Did Last Summer" continue through Sunday, Jan. 27, on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills. For ticket information, call the box office at 377-3300.

A.R. Gurney Jr.'s play "What I Did Last Summer," like his best-known hit "The Dining Room," mocks the hypocrisies and emotional constipation of his own kind — the proper, WASP, boarding school and country club set.

In "Last Summer," Gurney's semi-autobiographical, coming-of-age play, he records his first insights into the foibles of class; insights he learned under the tutelage of a straight-talking woman he met when he was 14 and summering on the Canadian shore of Lake Erie, where all the monied people of Buffalo gathered.

The fine acting and astute directing of Meadow Brook Theatre's "Last Summer" largely overcomes the feeling that Gurney's intimate, six-character play seems a bit awash on the big, broad Meadow Brook stage.

"LAST SUMMER" calls for a set as intimate as the play.

Miles of latticed wood and multi-level decking on the set don't downsize the broad stage and make it the simple and homey playing-space for which the play seems designed.

Despite drawbacks in the set, director Terence Kilburn captures the ideal minimalist staging when he can, with a couple of benches that double as a car and direct focus to the characters and the role of imagination in theater.

IN "Last Summer" the main character, Charlie, is an insolent, big-mouthed 14-year-old, energetically played by John Seibert.

When teenagers grow critical of their parents' worlds, they either rebel with energy and a torrent of words — a rebellion that can be entertaining provided you are not the parent under attack — or they grow sullen and taciturn and their rebellion lacks both animation and the liberating relief of noise and humor.

Kilburn wisely opts for the first rebellious teenager scenario. He has Charlie charge around stage full of agitated adolescent energy and speak his feisty truths in a tone that is naughty rather than nasty.

Seibert strikes just the right balance as a spirited, boyish rebel but never a mean one.

STAR OF the Meadow Brook production, and the audience favorite, is Jeanne Arnold as Anna Trumbull, the part Indian, iconoclastic older woman who opens Charlie's eyes.

Anna has made a career out of championing individualism, ridiculing presumption and living with a passionate disregard for protocol.

"All great teachers are dangerous," she says, "Socrates, Christ and me."

Anna speaks truth about everything from the robber barons of Buffalo to the class conspiracy of grass, which she claims was invented for the English aristocracy to play games on. Arnold takes a sympathetic role and makes it richly her own.

DURING THE 1945 summer of Charlie's temporary defection from hallowed WASP ways, his father is off fighting in the Pacific. His mother, his sister and he are spending the summer at their cottage.

Jane Lowry is sympathetic as Grace, Charlie's harried mother.

Grace may be a bit reserved, excessively careful and proper — all the characteristics that make WASPness the brunt of jokes. But darn it, she is a genuinely nice, caring woman, and she carries off, with grace befitting her name, the war wife challenges of parenting two teenagers alone.

Alexander Webb as Charlie's Canadian buddy shapes his vowels into a believable Canadian accent and voices his resentments against American presumptions.

Shirley Ann Kaladjian as his friend Bonny and Trace Lyn Thomas as his sister Elsie emerge as more than mere foils, giving background to Charlie's story. They are individuals with agendas of their own.

GURNEY'S DIALOGUE thrusts and parries with pointed sarcasm, but his barbs make only flesh wounds. He thankfully refrains from running anyone through.

His play succeeds in being witty, yet kind and gentle. Like the born and bred WASP he is, Gurney spares the audience uncontrolled emotion and indulgent excesses. He keeps his balance, disarms us with humor and succeeds in making his point.

● CONCERT BAND

Leonard B. Smith will conduct the 60-piece Detroit Concert Band in a benefit concert Sunday, Jan. 13, for the Masonic Temple Theatre in Detroit. As a fund-raiser for the 1990 $5 million renovation of the theater, the evening will include champagne and hors d'oeuvres before the performance from 6-7 p.m., with an afterglow following the concert. Proceeds from tickets go toward cost of the restoration. The concert band, directed for 44 years by Leonard B. Smith, will perform a varied program of popular marches saluting several historic composers including Beethoven, Mozart and Sousa. Tickets for the Renovation Celebration are $25 and may be purchased at the Masonic Temple box office and all Ticketmaster outlets. For more information call 832-7100.

● 'HEIDI CHRONICLES'

Stephanie Dunnam from the TV series "Dynasty", stars as Wendy Wasserstein's heroine, Heidi Holland, in the award-winning play "The Heidi Chronicles," Wednesday-Sunday, Jan. 23-27, at the Fisher Theatre in Detroit. The play first opened in 1988 at off-Broadway's Playwrights Horizons and moved to Broadway in 1989, going on to become the most award-winning play of the 1980s. Tickets are available at Ticketmaster outlets, or the Fisher Theatre box office, 872-1000.

● WINTER SERIES

Motor City Theatre Organ Society, Inc., presents its new bi-weekly winter series at the Redford Theatre in Detroit. Films start at 8 p.m., with organ overtures and intermissions played by area organists on the Redford Theatre's vintage 1928 Barton Theatre Pipe Organ. Organ overtures begin at 7:30 p.m. "In Harm's Way" will be presented Friday-Saturday, Jan. 11-12, starring John Wayne, Patricia Neal and Kirk Douglas. Guest organist for the overture and intermission is Evelyn Markey. Tickets for the films are available at the Redford Theatre box office on scheduled movie nights. Tickets are $2.50 each. For Redford Theatre information call 537-1133.

● MULTI-MEDIA

● ISRAELI FILMS

Adat Shalom Synagogue's ninth annual film series will present three significant Israeli films, in an exploration of "A Lens on Israel: a Society Through Its Cinema" at Adat Shalom in Farmington. The four-part series, which begins Sunday, Jan. 13, will feature Eric Goldman, founder and president of Ergo Films, and film critic Dan Greenberg. On Jan. 13, Goldman will introduce the audience to Israeli cinema and illustrate his talk with representative film clips from significant Israeli movies. The series continues with "The Big Dig," "Fictitious Marriage" and "Late Summer Blues," with commentary from Greenberg. "The Big Dig," a folk comedy by Ephraim Kishon, will be shown Sunday, Jan. 20. On Sunday, Feb. 3, the audience will see a view of Israeli society today in "Fictitious Marriage." The series concludes Sunday, Feb. 10, with "Late Summer Blues," a nostalgic look at Israel's age of innocence during the 1960s. Programs begin at 7 p.m. and are followed by coffee and discussion. They are sponsored by the synagogue's Adult Study Commission and are open to the community at no charge. For further information call 851-5100.

● DRAMA-COMEDY

The Village Players of Birmingham presents "Enter a Free Man," a drama-comedy in two acts by Tom Stoppard. Showtimes are Jan. Friday-Sunday, Jan. 25-27, and Friday-Saturday, Feb. 1-2. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Jan. 27 is a Sunday brunch/matinee at 12:30 p.m. Adult tickets are $8, student tickets $6. Brunch/matinee tickets are $18. 'I saw the lights'

Caribbean island an ideal spot for fantasy

By Iris Sanderson Jones
editor

I saw the lights as I walked downhill to the swimming pool at Windjammer Landing. A resort tram will take you up-mountain to your villa or down-mountain to the sea, but I was still in my mainland mode, too impatient too wait, so I took the red hyacinth off the artistically-folded cotton robe, tucked the flower behind my ear, and walked.

Lights climbed up and down the hill around me, following the road that switch-backed between the two-story white villas down the hill to the main complex around the pool. Lights climbed the peninsula across the bay in Castries, capital city of the island of St. Lucia. Far out on the horizon, a tall-masted sailing ship and a modern cruise ship were wrapped in lights against a darkening sea.

I was really into lights by then, so I floated on my back in the long curved swimming pool and counted them: Lights on the terrace bar, lights in the open-sided dining room, lights in the minarets that capped the red roofs and a universe of lights in the sky above, at least two of them moving.

All this stuff about lights was a fantasy, of course, but that's why people come to the windward islands, to spend hot days and warm nights amid white sand, emerald green seas and palm trees.

St. Lucia is a small mountainous island in the eastern Caribbean, with resorts of various kinds tucked into emerald-green coves around its edges. The green slopes rise straight out of the sea without preamble and culminate in rain forest, home of the endangered green parrot.

The only flat land on this 27-by-14-mile island seems to be at Hewanorra airport on the southern tip. The U.S. built an airstrip there during World War II and the St. Lucians built their modern airport on top of it.

One of the ironies of paradise is that you must taxi for two hours across potholed mountain roads to get to your resort, unless you stay south at Club Med, because most resorts are at the north end of the island near Castries. Smaller planes, like the American Eagle and inter-island planes, land right in town at Vigie Airport, but the big planes come in to the south.

The French and the English fought over this island 14 times, their boys dying for empire, so the voices you hear along the road and in the small villages are speaking a French patois and a lilting Caribbean English, sometimes both in the same sentence.

Children in school uniforms carry their books home along the road. Banana workers wave from the back of a truck. Old women sit on the steps of wooden houses set in a tangle of flowers and trees beside the road.

There are cows chewing the grass in a plantation of coconut palms. Colored wooden boats are pulled nose first into a bay. Women carry baskets on their heads. Boys ride bicycles down the road. If you measure wealth by television sets and cars, what you see along the road are poor people. If you measure it by fresh food and water, sunshine and beauty, they are rich.

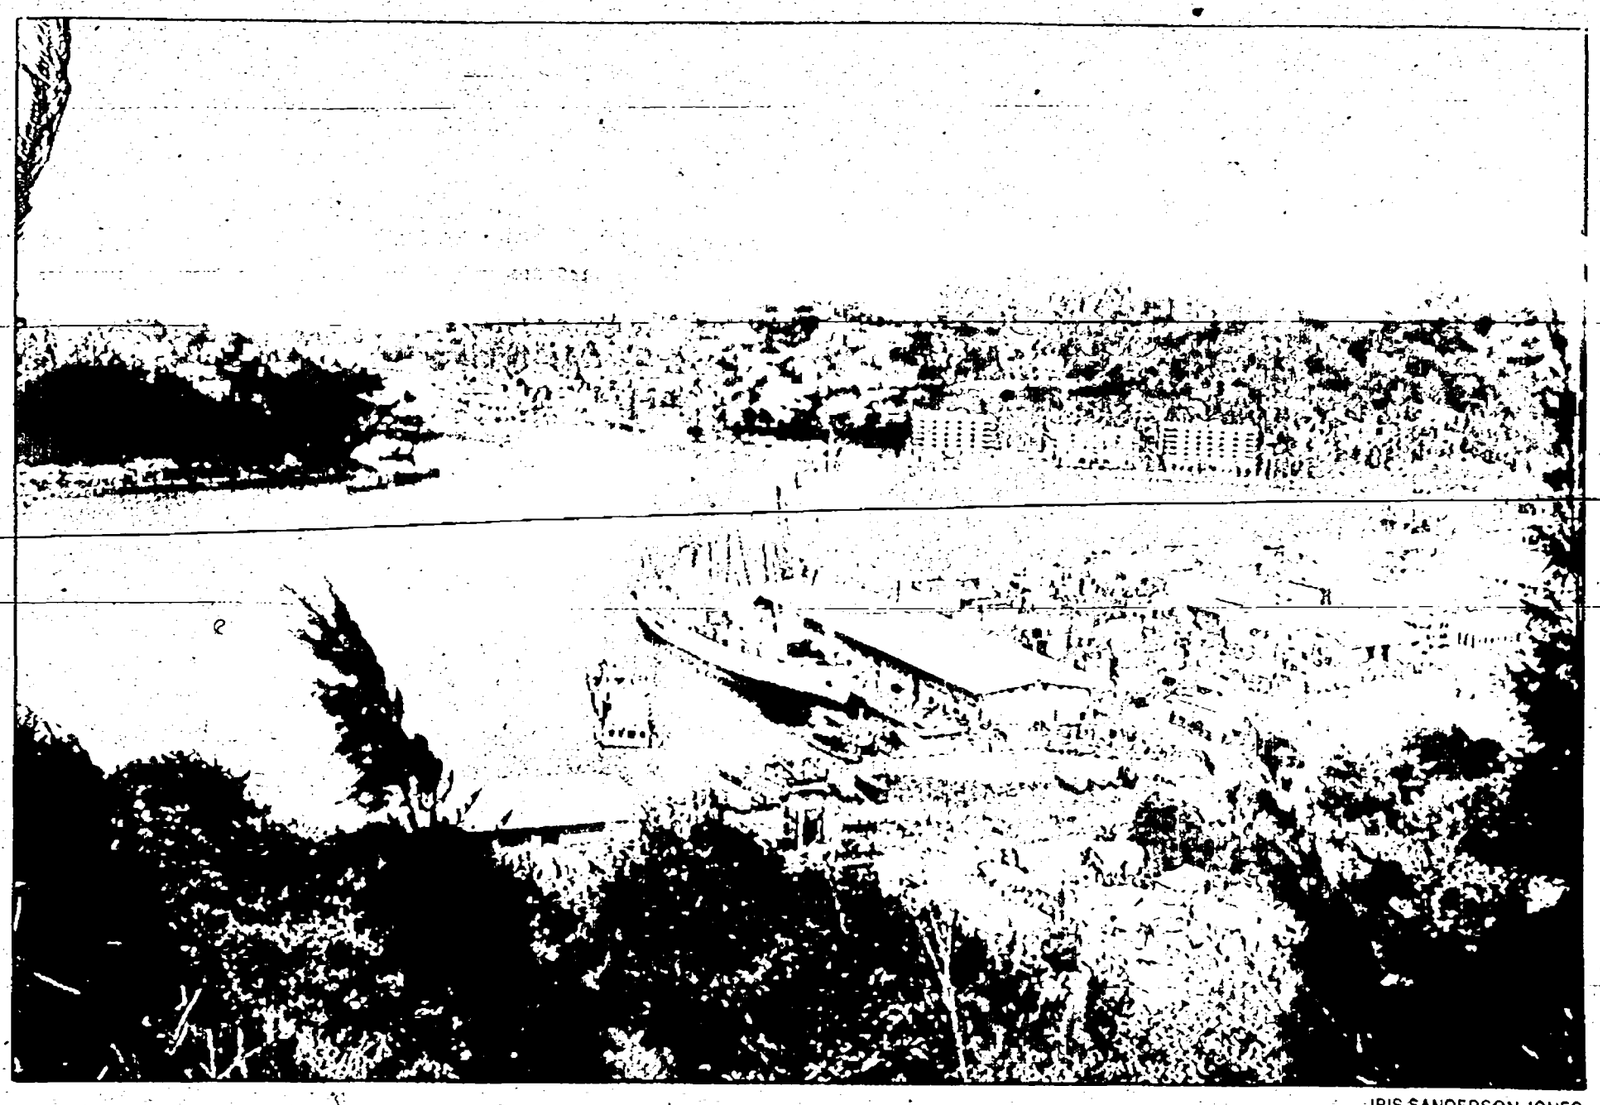
The logistics of island travel make your choice of resort important on St. Lucia. The bus that goes at "no particular time" and arrives "whenever" could be part of the fun if you have the time and inclination. Taxis, available at every resort, cost about $30 from one end of the island to another. Car rentals are available.

Visitors tend to spend most of their time at the resorts, taking taxis to Castries for shopping and restaurants, visiting the colorful market and the historic citadel remains on Morne Fortune, Hill of Good Luck.

They take at least one tour by boat from Castries to the town of Soufriere and the nearby resort of Anse-Chastenet on the southwest coast, where you can tour the few special attractions of the island: The Sulphur Springs at Diamond Falls/Baths; one of the old plantations; and the two cone-shaped Pitons which are the mountain landmarks of St. Lucia. Hikers walk the rain forest in search of the elusive green parrot.

If you really want to experience the fun and laughter of the island,

Please turn to Page 8



IRIS SANDERSON JONES

Here in Castries, capital city of St. Lucia, an island in the eastern Caribbean Sea, tourists tend to spend most of their time at the many resorts, taking taxis to town for shopping and restaurants, visiting the colorful market and the historic citadel remains on Morne Fortune, Hill of Good Luck. One can also walk through the island's rain forest and look for the endangered green parrots.

Lucking out in Puerto Rican town

It never ceases to surprise me. You go to the far corners of the Earth and you meet somebody from Michigan. That's what happened when I sat down at a beautiful table in a lovely pink dining room at the St. Lucien Hotel in St. Lucia.

The deputy general manager, Zolton Csete, sat next to me at the end of the table. We discussed the tasty food, the gorgeous beaches of this eastern Caribbean island and sundry other things before I asked casually, "Where are you from?"

He had a very slight lilt to his voice that I couldn't identify. I soon learned that he was born in Budapest and moved in the 1960s to . . . you guessed it, Michigan. Rochester, Mich.

Csete went to Southfield High School, was on the fencing team under the well-known fencer Istvan Danos, worked at the Hyatt hotels in Dearborn, Chicago, Atlanta and New Orleans before a stint at hotels in the Bahamas and Antigua, and here he is.

Another thing that often surprises me is that travelers often luck out in spite of the horror stories you hear to the contrary. I lucked out in San Juan, Puerto Rico recently when I made an overnight stop en route to St. Lucia.

I knew about the expensive high-rise hotels of Isle Verde and Condado Beach, but I didn't want to pay those prices since I couldn't enjoy the beach anyway. My American Airlines plane flew in at 7:30 p.m. one night and left at 1:25 p.m. the next day for St. Lucia. It wasn't worth a $250 room for an 18-hour stopover.

I found the three El Canario bed and breakfast inns listed in a travel magazine. I didn't know what they would be like, but if worse came to worse I could taxi to one of those expensive hotels couldn't I?

There were three of them: El Canario Inn, 1317 Ashford, (809-722-3861); El Canario by the Sea, 4 Condado (809-722-8640); and El Canario by the Lagoon, 4 Clemenceau (809-722-5058). They were all listed for $50 to $60 a night in the Condado area, which is the popular beach area fairly close to Old San Juan.

If you stay at the El Canario by the Lagoon bed and breakfast in San Juan, Puerto Rico, you'll not only benefit from inexpensive room charges, but be within walking distance of Condado Beach (pictured here), where you can join the sunbathers or take a dip in the warm Caribbean waters.

Iris Jones

The Inn was full all week. El Canario By the Sea was full for the night. So I reserved a room for at El Canario by the Lagoon. I wasn't quite sure where it was or what kind of accommodation I had reserved, but I could always change my mind when I got there.

Sharing a van or limousine is usually cheaper than taking a taxi alone, so I joined a $5 per-person shared limo from the airport and found myself next to a young couple who had also pulled El Canario by the Lagoon out of a hat.

The chauffeur told us what only insiders know, that certain travelers tend to go to each of the three bed and breakfast inns. "Black islanders love to go to the El Canario Inn. El Canario by the Sea is mixed, both islanders and Americans. El Canario by the Lagoon is usually filled with Americans."

I'll say it again. I lucked out. El Canario by the Lagoon is a small multi-story, cream-colored hotel with small balconies, a cheerful lobby, a breakfast room and a creaky elevator to the bedrooms upstairs. If you have ever stayed in small, simple European hotels, you will recognize it.

The rooms were clean, had one or two double beds, a bath and shower, television and a tiny balcony. The people who stay here want moderate room cost and not amenities. There are no bars, dining rooms, room services, etc.

The hotel is a short block from Ashford Avenue and the convention center. From there you can walk Condado Beach along the curve of sand that follows the hotels.

Usually I thoroughly research a destination, but I didn't know I was going through San Juan until the day before I left. Once again, I lucked out. I caught bus No. 7 from the front of the La Concha Hotel, next to the convention center, and paid my 25-cent fare to ride across the Puente Dos Hermanos into the bus station in Old San Juan, the historic old walled city.

From there, two free trolleys circle Old San Juan in opposite directions every 15 minutes. You can get on and off at will to see the city attractions, historic and otherwise.

It is small discoveries like this that travelers talk about when they meet. Send me your small travel discoveries: Iris Sanderson Jones, 35516 Grand River, Farmington Hills, MI 48335.

Make arrangements before tropical visit

American Airlines flies from Detroit through San Juan, Puerto Rico, to St. Lucia. Midweek high season fares start at about $600. If you leave Detroit early afternoon, you arrive in San Juan at approximately 8 p.m.

You can fly on to St. Lucia aboard an American Eagle commuter plane with 64 seats and arrive at Vigie Airport near Castries just before midnight, or you can stay overnight in San Juan and take a Boeing 707 into Hewanorra Airport at the south end of the island, with an afternoon arrival.

It is a two-hour, $30 taxi ride from Hewanorra to most St. Lucia resorts. There is a $10 departure tax when you leave the island.

You can use U.S. currency or exchange one U.S. dollar for approximately three Eastern Caribbean dollars, the local currency. There are several small guest houses and apartels. Most travelers stay at the various beach resorts along the west coast.

WHEREVER YOU stay in St. Lucia, you develop calf muscles you didn't have when you arrived, because you usually climb steps or trails steeply uphill.

If you stay at LeSport, "the body holiday" spa on 15 hilly seaside acres at the northwest tip of St. Lucia, you climb a long stairway up to the Oasis and Spa with its pools, Moorish arches and red roofs. It specializes in seawater therapy called Thalassotherapy.

Everything you see from the hilltop is included in the all-inclusive rate of $200 to $300 per person per night: rooms in the hotel block, restored in 1989; nouvelle cuisine in the open air dining room; all refreshments and bar drinks; recreation ranging from golf and windsurfing to fencing; therapy in the spa.

A less expensive, all-inclusive hotel just south of LeSport is Club St. Lucia, low buildings set on slight hills along a sand beach. Rates are $130 to $245 a night and are of special interest to families. Couples who marry there plant a tree in their name.

A third all-inclusive hotel is Couples, a franchise of the better-known couples resort in Jamaica. It is for couples only. Nice beach, grounds and other buildings in gradens by the sea. Rates start at $2,000 per couple per week and cover everything.

THE HIGHEST occupancy on the island may be at Hotel St. Lucien, a spread of motel-type buildings south again at a fine strip of sand called Reduit Beach. Room rates are $135 to $185 for two; add $12 each for breakfast or $40 each for breakfast and dinner.

The Royal St. Lucien opened on the same grounds in December, providing an elegant upscale small-suite alternative, at rates of $300 to $400 a day without meals.

One of St. Lucia's least expensive resort hotels, a 300-yard walk from Reduit Beach, is the Islander Hotel, which has several two-story buildings set in gardens around a swimming pool for room rates of about $100 for two. Additional meal plans are available.

WINDJAMMER LANDING, where I stayed, is a different concept. The one-, two- and three-bedroom condominiums wrapped in white stucco and red roofs on the side of a hill by the sea sell for $200,000 and up and rent for $260 to $500 a night in season, meal plans optional.

The Halcyon Beach Club, south again on Choc Beach, has cabana and chalet-type rooms, looking across the bay. You'll find steel bands near the dock and lots of good sand beach for room rates of $120 to $165 a person, meal plans extra.

The best known and one of the longest-running resorts is Cunard's Hotel La Toq, with luxury hotel rooms and suites stacked downhill to the sea at room rates from $230 to $265 per, with meal supplements of $44 a day for breakfast and dinner.

All rates are considerably less after April 15. Ask about weekly packages and check tour packages. For more information, contact your travel agent or call toll-free (800) 456-3984.

Caribbean island an ideal spot spend Friday night at the street party on Gros Islet, a village of small traditional timbered houses north of Castries.

People start gathering about 9 p.m. and soon the local bloods are all there, dancing on the street to the heavy thump of music. You'll find British tourists carrying beer out of the tiny Cocspur Bar.

You will find Veronica and her daughter Delphien selling their hand-made, two-headed cloth dolls on the street. Street vendors sell chicken, conk and shrimp on a stick, fragrant barbecue smoke filling the Friday night streets.

St. Lucia is embroidered around the edges with first-class resorts, but it is still a relatively undeveloped island. If a Hollywood director designed a Caribbean market, he would design it like the Saturday market in Castries: Street and plaza full of people, umbrellas to shade them from the hot sun, old women leaning over piles of bananas and baskets, children running between heaps of colorful fruits.

There are thin old ladies in red scarf hats, fat ladies laughing their great booming laughs as they talk together over produce spread on the street. All will smile at you until you bring the camera up and then they will turn away in anger.

St. Lucia was for centuries run by the plantocracy, plantation owners with names like Chastanet, Barnard and Deveaux, who grew cotton on huge spreads of land like those at Cap Estate at the northern tip of the island. Their descendants are found today in hotel management, banks and as powers behind the throne of island politics.

When I climbed out of the swimming pool at Windjammer Landing and shook the stars out of my eyes I shared good food and wine with the Canadian owners of the resort and asked Allen Chastenet for an insider's guide to the island. Allen was born and raised here and attended school in eastern Canada before returning as part of the hotel business.

A lot of island life is centered around the various resorts, but there are many things you would not experience without an insider like Allen to guide you. I asked him to tell me where he goes off the beaten path.

"A husband and wife run the Bon Appetit on a hill above Castries. It seats about 20 people and you get a good meal for two for $35. Go to Jimmie's at Vigie Cove for fish and green figs, the local specialty. Green figs are really bananas, usually fried.

"There are great views of the sea from the Charthouse in Rodney Bay. The service is slow at the Mortar and Pestle but the Caribbean food is terrific. They also serve good creole food at the Harmony Apartel in Castries."

For more information about St. Lucia, contact your travel agent or call the St. Lucia Tourist Board in New York, (800) 456-3984.

Anne Frank Museum expands

(AP) — The Anne Frank Museum, which includes the cramped attic in which her family hid from the Nazis, will expand to accommodate surging popularity among tourists.

"The space we have now is literally too small for all the visitors," Marie Josee Rijnders, coordinator of the expansion project, said.

The museum is made up of two canal houses that have become the nation's most visited historic landmark.

The young Jewish girl's writings during her time in hiding, "The Diary of Anne Frank," gained her worldwide fame after her death in a Nazi concentration camp.

Officials say a new building will be constructed next to the museum at a cost of $3.2 million and will quadruple the exhibition area.

The expansion is expected to take at least six years to complete.

Officials expect about 640,000 visitors this year, 40,000 more than last year.

An average of almost 2,000 visitors a day jam into the museum to see the cramped attic where the Frank family lived for two years before being captured in 1944 and sent to concentration camps.

Known to readers of Anne Frank's diary as the "annex," the apartment is entered through a door hidden behind a bookcase.

"Anne Frank's house is the most popular historical landmark in the Netherlands," said Amsterdam tourist bureau spokesman Herman ter Balkt. "It's no wonder they're in dire need of more room."

Before the Nazis invaded the Netherlands in 1940, the building on the Prince's Canal housed the spice business of Anne Frank's father, Otto. The house next door was taken over by the private museum foundation to add exhibit space.

The hiding place is the museum's focal point. The rest of the complex is devoted to exhibitions dealing with the ordeal of the Frank family and other Dutch Jews, as well as exhibits detailing other forms of racism.

"The museum shouldn't just refer to the past," Ms. Rijnders said. "Our aim is to combat present day forms of discrimination, anti-semitism and racism."

Plans to add to the museum had initially drawn protests from neighbors and the National Monument Preservation Service, but they were withdrawn when the foundation running the museum limited the expansion to a separate, new building.

The foundation had initially sought to rebuild a house next door into a viewing gallery from which visitors could look out onto the apartment where the Frank family hid. But opponents said the redesign would ruin the authenticity of the hideaway.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT
Holy Spirit, You make me see everything & show me the way to reach my ideals. You give me the Divine Gift to forgive & forget the wrongs that are done to me & You are in all instances of my life with me. I, in this short dialogue, want to thank You for everything & confirm once more that I never want to be separated from You, no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with You, my Loved One, in Your perpetual glory. Amen.

'Heavy' duty Tiger crushes Wayne

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Wayne Memorial fell Tuesday under the weight of Ron "Heavy" Hunter.

The 6-foot-5, 210-pound senior forward from Belleville scored a game-high 21 points, leading the host Tigers to a 66-47 basketball triumph over Wayne in a battle for first place in the Wolverine A League.

With cries of "Heavy" emanating from the stands, Hunter threw his body around the boards with abandon, leading the Tigers to their seventh win in eight games, including their fourth straight in the league without a loss.

"'Heavy' is as good a player as I have," Belleville coach Mike Garland said. "He can play on the perimeter or inside. He's just a hell of a player, a kid who doesn't get the credit he deserves. He's a good athlete and a great person."

Hunter, who is being recruited in football by such colleges as Western Michigan and Central Michigan where is he is being scouted as a wide receiver and linebacker, is often overshadowed by 6-6 teammate Derrick Boles, who recently signed a basketball letter-of-intent with Idaho State.

BUT ON THIS night, Belleville got a "Heavy Duty" effort from Hunter, who helped the Tigers lead from start to finish.

"His mom has called him that ('Heavy') since he was a baby," Garland explained. "That's the way I heard it."

But Hunter offered a slightly different version about his nickname.

"When I was here for (summer) camp in the seventh grade I was out of shape," he said. "And during the scrimmages I was always a heavy breather, but I would still play hard. The name just kind of stuck with me."

Going against the grain of pregame warmup drills, the Tigers did windsprints before the opening tip-off.

The sprints carried over, as Belleville got off to a fast start, opening up a 19-8 first quarter lead.

Wayne, meanwhile, found a lid on the basket, converting just 4-of-17 first-quarter shots and 4-of-10 second-period tries from the field as Belleville enjoyed a 34-19 advantage.

Wayne's top scorer, 6-1 senior Greg Hartman, went scoreless in the first half, going 0-for-5, as Belleville's defense kicked into high gear.

"WE TRY AND build our program on defense," Garland said. "Any good program you look at, a Detroit Southwestern or Cooley, prides itself on defense. We just play straight-up, a man-to-man full-court. We just get in a stance with denial pressure, hoping our opponents go to a one-on-one game."

But the under-sized Zebras outscored Belleville 18-12 in the third period, cutting the deficit to nine, 46-37, as 6-1 junior Rick Barnes tallied 10 of his team-high 14 points during the surge.

Wayne then pulled within seven, 48-41, on two free throws by Hartman with 6:30 to play, but Hunter responded with six consecutive points to dash any hopes of a Wayne comeback.

The loss left Wayne [illegible] defending Wolverine A champs, with a 4-3 overall record and 3-1 in the league.

Hartman, who got untracked in the second half, finished with 12 points. Lee Williams contributed eight, but all of those were chalked up during the first 10 minutes of play.

Wayne was also without Demarco Robinson, the team's top scorer the last two games before Christmas. The 6-3 junior was suspended for missing practice over the holiday break.

BELLEVILLE'S big front line of Hunter, Boles (nine points) and 6-7 junior center Tyrone Hicks (13 points) punished the Zebras inside. The Tigers also gained some timely outside shooting from guard Rod Hill, who flipped in 14 points.

"We wanted to get the ball inside a little more, sure," Garland admitted, "but you have to give Wayne some credit, they did a good job of not letting us get the ball down in there."

The Zebras were successful for the most part, except when dealing with the "Heavy" hitter.

Patriots leave RU on empty

basketball

Redford Union thought most of its problems were over when Livonia Franklin senior Steve McCool picked up two fouls early in the first quarter of Tuesday's non-league boys basketball game.

McCool spent a majority of the opening half on the bench, scoring just four points. But the 6-foot-4 center exploded in the second half, tallying 14 points and leading the Patriots to a 76-55 win.

"It's tough when you get whistled for a couple of fouls so early in the game," McCool said. "The guys on the bench kept me going and let me know that everything was OK and to just go play my game."

McCool, along with junior guard Keith Roberts, contained the RU offense. McCool had two steals, while Roberts forced four turnovers and helped Franklin improve its overall record to 4-2.

One of the Panthers who overcame the Franklin pressure was guard Bill Malecki. The 6-foot-2 junior poured in a game-high 28 points, making 12 field goals and four-of-five free throws.

"We wanted to see what kind of player Malecki was going into the game," Franklin coach Rod Hanna said. "After a while we saw what kind of a player he was and put solid defensive pressure on him. We contained him well in the fourth quarter."

FRANKLIN GUARD Joe Jarvis drew the defensive assignment on Malecki in the fourth quarter and held him to four points.

"Bill has been doing it for us pretty much every night," RU coach Tip Smathers said. "He had an excellent game here tonight, but we just didn't function well as a team."

Roberts sparked the Franklin attack, scoring a team-high 23 points, four assists and three steals. He also tallied a pair of three-pointers.

"Roberts was one of the guys we wanted to stop coming into the game," Smathers said. "We wanted to keep him from hitting the three-pointer, but he ended up hurting us inside. He'd steal the ball and take it in."

Steve Stasevich and Russ Keberly each chipped in 11 points for the Patriots, while guard Dave Roman dished off six assists.

"We had four guys in double figures," Hanna said. "That says a lot for the way we distributed the ball. We played smart offense and found the open man."

FRANKLIN LED the entire game; jumping to a 13-4 lead midway through the opening quarter and a 28-16 advantage with 5:15 remaining in the first half.

"We dug ourselves a hole in the first half," Smathers said. "We had nine turnovers and couldn't get the ball down the court. They had good pressure."

After building a 35-24 halftime lead, the Patriots watched as Malecki hit eight straight points and closed the margin to 53-46 late in the third quarter.

"You have to give Redford Union credit for scouting us well," Hanna said. "They played a zone on us and wouldn't let us run with the ball the way we would have liked to. We were forced into a slower tempo."

That is as close as RU would get, as the Patriots closed out the game with a 23-9 run.

Senior forward Chris Mulka contributed 10 points in the losing cause for RU (2-5).

"Other than our brief comeback in the second half there is not a lot of good things which came out of this game," Smathers said. "We just have to regroup for our league schedule."

CC skiers win event

With five finishers among the top eight, Redford Catholic Central's ski team opened its season successfully Tuesday with a win in a seven-team slalom race at Mount Brighton.

East Lansing placed second to CC, with Brighton third, Howell fourth, Birmingham Groves fifth, Hartland sixth and Birmingham Seaholm seventh.

In the girls' meet, Farmington Hills Mercy skiers placed second and third, but no others cracked the top 15, leaving the Marlins to a third-place team finish. Brighton won, with Seaholm second; Hartland was fourth, Groves placed fifth, Howell took sixth and East Lansing placed seventh.

CC's top finisher was Steve Witek, who took third. Jason Worley was fourth, followed by teammates Mark Tomas in fifth, Peter Lombardi in sixth and Matt McIntosh in eighth. East Lansing's Brian Waldron was the top finisher in the meet, followed by Brighton's Peter Kent.

For the girls, Mercy's Nicole Sinclair placed second and Megan Lombardi was third. The next Marlin was Jenny Busser in 17th; Allison Vigi came in 25th. Groves' Gretchen Kuhn took first.

The second half of this meet, the grand slalom race, will be Thursday at Mount Brighton.

Suggestions for 1991 campaign

Brad Emons

WITH 1990 JUST a fading memory, it's time to look ahead.

What's in store for Observerland teams this calender year?

Without going into much detail, here a few things that I'd like to see come to fruition in 1991.

Catholic Central basketball coach Bernie Holowicki: Stan Heath reincarnated.

Garden City baseball coach Bob Dropp: An athletic director's job and go out a winner.

Bill Pinnell: A happy retirement.

Garden City's brand new gymnasium: I got a sneak peak. It will make us forget the old one.

Churchill hockey coach Rudy Varvari: No game misconducts.

Churchill boys soccer coach Mark Mason: There's more to the job than just coaching.

Redford Union High School: A brand new all-weather track.

RU boys basketball coach Tip Smathers: A 6-foot-10 center who loves to dunk.

RU girls basketball coach Gary Fulks: No more raspy voices.

STEVENSON BOYS SOCCER coach Wally Barrett: Don't worry about Pete Scerri's shadow. (You did a fine job last season.)

Michigan football player Alex Marshall: Return to your old self, instead of the brooding, chip-on-the-shoulder routine you gave me at the Gator Bowl.

U-M tackle Eric Knuth: A starting job next fall at nose guard for the Wolverines.

Michigan State tackle Toby Heaton: A healthy 1991.

Stevenson boys basketball coach Jim McIntyre: Keep pressing.

Franklin basketball player Dawn Warner: Patience, hit the weights and keep plugging.

Borgess football coach Walt Bazylewicz: Age is no barrier, prove it again in 1991.

Westland John Glenn football coach Chuck Gordon: Rumor has it you're going to retire to become a full-time golf pro (during the summer), and work as an NBA referee (during the winter).

Livonian Mike Donnelly: Continued ice time with the "Great One" and the LA Kings.

Sound knees: Tony Boles and Shawn Respert.

UNIVERSITY OF DETROIT guard Dwayne Kelley: More jumpers that go through the hoop.

Minor league pitcher Mike Wilkins: A spot on the Dodgers' 25-man roster.

Wayne-Westland Schools: No more pay-to-play.

Thurston basketball coach Mike Schuette: Another district title. (Any relation to former congressman Bill Schuette?)

MSU's Parish Hickman: Sixth Man of the Year in the Big 10.

Schoolcraft College coach Dave Bogataj: A winning record in the Eastern Conference.

Pitchers Jenny Mayle (Franklin) and Tracy Thompson (Garden City): Keep throwing strikes.

State Class A softball championship: Franklin and Garden City.

State football playoffs: Back to four classes.

State wrestling tournament: Forget the dual meet phase.

Clarenceville football player Kendrick Harrington: Go where they employ the run-and-shoot attack.

RU athletic director Jim Gibbons: A gig at the Comedy Castle.

OOPS DEPARTMENT: In my story (Monday, Jan. 7) I said Churchill is enjoying its best hockey season since since 1985-86 when Ed Shepler and Matt Wiljanen led the Chargers to the regional final.

For the record, Shepler and Wiljanen played on the 1984-85 team, but the 1985-86 club, which captured the school's first district title ever, was led by defensemen Rick Robitaille and Steve Kovich, along with sharpshooter Bill Dorough.

Also for the record, I'll try not to confuse Churchill basketball players Marcus Sarnovsky and Jeremiah Karolak as a I did on Monday's paper. It's not Jeremiah Sarnovsky (as I wrote Monday) or even Marcus Karolak. I'll get it straight next time.

BOWL NEWS: Lou Yeager, Catholic Central grad, was a member of the Air Force Academy football team that beat Ohio State 23-11 in the Liberty Bowl.

Yeager was forced into emergency as the long snapper (we'll forget the first one Lou) and had two tackles in the upset win.

Good to see so many area players appear last month in the California Bowl for Central Michigan University. Among those I spotted in action: Mike Nettle (Livonia Stevenson), Kevin Rich (Redford St. Agatha), Chris Scheffer (Westland John Glenn), Tim Wojcik (Redford Thurston) and Brent Naumcheff (Livonia and Dearborn Divine Child).

Former Westland John Glenn football coach Lloyd Carr, now assistant head coach and defensive coordinator at the University of Michigan, should be in line for a major coaching position soon. Is Syracuse interested?

Mulcahy no 'Flash in pan' for Flashes

By C.J. Risak
staff writer

One of the best ways to challenge an athlete is to tell him he may not be quite good enough. Or his team isn't any good.

Or, as it was with Brian Mulcahy, both.

Nobody told Mulcahy he wasn't good enough — or big enough — to play NCAA Division I hockey. But, although teams like University of Michigan and several other teams in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association showed passing interest, only one NCAA I school offered him a scholarship.

That was Kent State.

Tricky situation, but a good one for the coach of the Golden Flashes, Bill Switaj. Mulcahy, from Livonia Stevenson, was rather small (5-foot-9, 170 pounds), but Switaj said he was willing to take a chance on him — if Mulcahy would do the same.

"If I'd played another year of junior (hockey), I might have gotten to a CCHA team," he said. "But the only one to offer me anything was Kent State. I'm not the biggest guy, but Kent State was willing to take a chance on me, so I was willing to take a chance on them."

IT WAS a gamble for both sides. Mulcahy's size was his shortcoming; KSU's was far greater. The team was rebuilding after it was cancelled for a year by the school's administration prior to the 1988-89 season after a team drinking party to initiate new players resulted in a freshman being hospitalized.

The coach at the time, John Wallin, was replaced by Switaj. The team was almost completely rebuilt; only four players from the 1987-88 squad remain.

It was not an easy situation to come into. Mulcahy knew that. "It hurt out name, and it was hard to recruit," he said. But he came anyway, and now his decision looks super.

Not only is Mulcahy performing well — as a freshman last season, he was second on the team in scoring with 16 goals and 17 assists — but he'll get his chance to play in the CCHA. On Monday, KSU was voted into the conference starting with the 1992-93 season.

college sports

'Sometimes I put a burden on myself. I shouldn't try to do things like a senior. I've got to stay inside my role. I have a lot to learn, and I want to learn more.'

— Brian Mulcahy
Kent State Icer

That will be Mulcahy's senior season. And he's already looking forward to it. "Oh, yeah, I can't wait," he said. "Play against all my old buddies from when I was growing up."

Growing up . . . that's just what Mulcahy and the KSU team have been trying to do — quickly. Maybe too quickly.

"Everybody's trying to play like a senior," said Mulcahy. "We're all growing up together. This'll definitely be a good team. We're not overly talented, but we're hard-working."

AND YET, their youth betrays them at times. Like Dec. 29-30 at Ferris State; the Golden Flashes play 10 games against CCHA foes this season. In four games last season and four thus far this season, they have yet to beat a CCHA squad.

"They took advantage of (our youth)," said Mulcahy of the FSU games, which KSU lost 7-2 and 9-5. "Where we're not sure what to do, they are sure because they've been doing it for a long time together. Especially on specialty teams."

Those losses left the Golden Flashes with a 5-10-1 record and mounting frustration, something Mulcahy wants to avoid. A young, inexperienced team (one senior, four juniors among the 27 roster players) is often impatient. That can lead to problems.

"It's not just myself, it's everyone," he said. "We try to go out there and play like seniors. Sometimes I put a burden on myself. I shouldn't try to do things like a senior. I've got to stay inside my role. I have a lot to learn, and I want to learn more."

BUT MULCAHY wants to learn without pressing. Setting standards for points is one way to cause problems, for example. "No. 1, it limits me. No. 2, if I don't get my points one night, I might try and do too much the next."

There are other ways to win. Mulcahy has one primary goal for this season: "Individually, I'm just hoping I can become consistent. All my friends playing in the CCHA tell me it's easy to get on a roll, but it's hard to stay there.

"Good hockey players are easy to come by. Consistent ones aren't."

A viral illness has prevented Mulcahy from posting numbers like last season's. Still, he's second on the team with seven goals and nine assists in 15 games. And neither his size nor his illness have prevented him from being scrappy; he leads KSU in penalty minutes with 42.

Mulcahy knows what he wants to accomplish: By the time he leaves KSU, he wants the team to be established in the CCHA. He has the determination and the ability to help the Golden Flashes reach that goal. The question is, does he have the patience?

"We're not a CCHA team yet," said Mulcahy. "But we're getting there."

Fyke's triple shot at buzzer lifts outmanned Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft sports

Win some, lose some.

The annual mid-season rebuilding process has begun again for Schoolcraft College's men's basketball team; four players were lost to academics at the semester break, and two others (Tom Sark and Andy Stevens) had to quit the team for financial reasons.

Which means nearly half (six of 13) of the players coach Dave Bogataj had at practices in the fall are gone. He's added two others to the roster: William Dawson, a 5-foot-10 guard from Livonia Franklin, and Dave Ripple, a 6-3 swingman from Plymouth Salem. Both should be eligible by next week.

The Ocelots could have used them Saturday, but they started the new year in style anyway, pulling out a dramatic 97-96 victory at Alpena CC on Mitch Fyke's three-pointer at the buzzer.

What made the victory remarkable was that SC had just three players left on the court when Fyke hit the game-winner. Four others — Scott Meredith, Dave Hamilton, Barry Quayle and Randy Watters — fouled out in the second half.

Alpena got all the help it could ask for from the officials. There were 28 fouls called against SC, 20 against the Lumberjacks. They were 25-of-41 (17-of-30 in the second half) from the line; the Ocelots made 20-of-30.

MEREDITH WAS the first to foul out, with nine minutes left. Hamilton followed with four minutes to play, and when Quayle got his fifth with 1:15 remaining, SC had just four players left. Watters went to the bench with his fifth with :18 left.

That left Kwesi McGill, Jeff Wagner and Fyke on the floor. Scott Olben canned two free throws after Watters' foul to put Alpena up 95-94. A turnover gave the ball back to Alpena, and SC fouled Olben again with :06 to play. He made one of two free throws, increasing the Lumberjack lead to 96-94.

Fyke inbounded the ball to Wagner, who passed back to Fyke. Fyke beat the two men guarding him downcourt and let loose his game-winning shot from about 21 feet.

Four players did all the scoring for SC, which improved to 8-6 overall, 1-2 in the Eastern Conference. McGill led with 30 points, Watters had 28, Fyke finished with 22 and Quayle netted 11 and seven rebounds. Three-point shooting keyed the Ocelot effort: They made their first six and were 11-of-14 for the game.

Alpena (0-3 in the conference, 6-9 overall) got 16 points from both Mike Kollien and Daniel Bridges. Scott McCulloch had 14, Mike Fonger scored 12 and Olben got 11.

Raiders stay unbeaten

OCC sports

Oakland Community College got a late wake-up call from Christmas, but it was early enough to defeat host Delta Community College 82-69 in men's basketball Saturday.

OCC improved to 13-0 overall. They are ranked in the top five in the National Junior College Athletic Association Division II.

OCC was down 16-2 after 4:00 in the first half before Ed Whitaker, Starlin Stevens and Devlin Bell each hit three-pointers to keep the Raiders in the game at 16-11.

Delta led 41-33 at the half before OCC took the lead for good with 12:00 left to play. The Raiders held Delta to 28 second-half points.

Bell led five players in double-figures for OCC with 18 points. Whitaker had 16 points, James Escoe scored 13, Stevens chipped in 12 and Rashe Reviere added 11. Jerry Prieskorn contributed nine points and 12 rebounds.

OCC has six players that average double figures, headed by Reviere at 17.3 points per game. Three players also average nine or more rebounds per game.

John Tyler led Delta with 19 points. Ron Frierson added 18 and Chris Chaffer had 10. Tyler and Frierson each had 12 points in the first half, but were held to seven and six points, respectively, in the second half, thanks mostly to the defense applied by Khari Maxwell and Deshawn Stewart.

OCC hosts Highland Park CC at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Smiley earns GLIAC cage honor

Player of the week honors for women's basketball in the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference went to Melissa Smiley last week.

Smiley, a senior at Ferris State from Westland John Glenn, scored 38 points, grabbed 17 rebounds, dished out seven assists and made six steals in a pair of league wins over Grand Valley State (62-61) and Wayne State (63-59). In the win over WSU, Smiley had career highs of 26 points and six assists.

FSU's success has been startling. The Lady Bulldogs were 2-14 in 1989-90 in GLIAC play; they are 3-0 already this season, 7-6 overall.

Smiley is averaging 13 points and 7.5 rebounds per game . . .

In case you missed it, a pair of Schoolcraft College women's soccer players were chosen to the National Junior College Athletic Association all-tournament team for their performances during SC's third-place finish last November.

Selected were Sarah Hayes, a freshman forward from Plymouth Salem who has shown she knows how to score goals, and Nikki Johnson, a freshman forward from Livonia Churchill . . .

Here's some notes regarding Midwestern Collegiate Conference basketball statistical leaders:

Dwayne Kelley, a sophomore at University of Detroit from Redford Bishop Borgess, ranks eighth in scoring with a 15.1 average, is third in free throw percentage at 87.1 percent and is seventh in assists with a 4.1 average.

Sharon Miller, a senior from Dearborn who played for two seasons at Schoolcraft College before entering U-D, is second in the MCC in scoring with an 18.3 average.

Rocks shine in tourney

By Dan O'Meara
staff writer

wrestling

Of the eight Observerland wrestling teams competing in the Plymouth Salem Invitational, the host Rocks made the best showing Saturday.

Salem finished fifth in the 18-team tournament, which was won by Belleville with 160 points. The top five included Novi (144½), Portage Central (129), Ypsilanti (124) and the Rocks (121½).

Other area teams included, in order of finish, Farmington, Livonia Franklin, Livonia Stevenson, North Farmington, Plymouth Canton, Wayne Memorial and Garden City. (See statistical summary for complete results.)

"We're wrestling all these people with five starters out and doing pretty well," Salem coach Ron Krueger said. "We feel if we can ever field a complete team we're going to have a fairly good team."

The Rocks did as well as they did without Ken Coker, Charlie Apigian, John Moran, Tom Baker and Bob Hansen, each sidelined by injury or illness.

"WITH THEM in the lineup, we would have been a lot better, but the kids who were on the mats did a good job," Krueger said.

Salem had one individual champion in 119-pound Dan Bonnett, who pinned Portage Central's Terry Morrow with one second remaining in the match.

"He pinned everybody all the way through and did a nice job winning it," Krueger said.

Scott Martin, the No. 2 seed, was runner-up at 112 for the Rocks, and Jeff Shumate was the consolation winner at 135. Salem also got points from Jeff Coleman, who was fourth at 140; Chad Wilson, seventh at 125; and Phil Haynes, eighth at 171. Josh Viau (145) and Wade Langdon (189) were one match away from placing.

"(Martin) had to wrestle a tough kid in the final, and (top-seeded Brian Paquette of Novi) knew he was in a match," Krueger said.

Shumate was the No. 2 seed but, after losing in the quarterfinals, wrestled better as the day went on, Krueger said. Coleman was seeded fourth at 140 and placed there.

Coker, a heavyweight, had beaten the invitational champ, Mike Bete of Portage Central, in an earlier tournament at Lansing Eastern and would have fared well Saturday, according to Krueger.

MORAN, WHO injured an ankle last Thursday in a dual meet with Temperance Bedford, was 1-1 Saturday but defaulted at 103 after the second round.

"He would have placed; he would have done something," Krueger said.

Bob Hansen (152) was sidelined with mononucleosis, Baker (160) has a knee injury and might not wrestle again this year and Apigian (171) was unable to wrestle after having a cyst removed from his neck.

Apigian, who was the Bedford tournament champion, could have placed among the top two at his weight, according to Krueger.

"Right now, the intensity level in our room is going to increase," he said. "The first half (of the season) was spent just getting ready. Now we're going to start pointing for the league. The tougher the league gets the tougher we have to get to stay in it."

The Rocks are defending champions of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

The only other champion from an Observerland school was Canton's George Young, who scored an 8-6 decision over Belleville's Mike Komaromi to win the 171-pound title.

Other invitational winners were Nick Williams (103), Portage Northern; Kris Kane (125), Riverview; Steve Davis (130), Belleville; Jim Muscato (135), Ypsilanti; Shadi Fahs (140), Portage Central; Mike Gowans (145), Novi; Jason Lovell (152), Jenison; Mike Bahr (160), Ann Arbor Pioneer; and Eric Boersma (189), Portage Central.

Observerland wrestlers taking runner-up honors or consolation titles were Farmington's Jon Duff (125), second; Brian Link (130), third; and Mike Pallo (160) second; Franklin's Pat Poisson (145), third; Wayne's Rich Simoneau (103), second; Stevenson's Doug Carmack (152), third; and Canton's Liam Rentz (140), second.

Additional area wrestlers who placed among the top eight in their respective weights:

Farmington: Dave Monge, 145, sixth; Chris Kresl, 152, fourth; Steve Walter, 171, fifth; Matt Siskosky, 189, sixth; John Lane, 112, eighth; Franklin: Bob Johnson, heavyweight, fifth; Derek Rowland, 103, fifth; Paul White, 160, fourth; Brian Whetstone, 189, fourth; Jesse Shakarian, 119, seventh; Ben Leece, 160, seventh; Wayne: Verlon McLendon, 145, fifth; Stevenson: Bryon Berci, 112, fourth; Ryan Carriere, 130, fourth; Brian Mitchell, 135, fourth; Chris Lehti, 171, sixth; Tony Serena, 160, eighth; North Farmington: Dan Cassidy, 112, fifth; Marcus Brown, 130, fifth; Jared Lawrence, 152, fifth; Aaron Lawrence, 160, sixth; Jeremy Moy, 119 eighth; Rob Chika, 189, seventh; Garden City: Darryl Dzendzel, 125, sixth; Chris Gorak, 135, fifth.

Stevenson pins Chargers in dual

Livonia Stevenson's wrestling team improved to 3-4 overall Tuesday with an easier-than-expected 48-24 victory over city rival Churchill.

"Surprisingly, none of our matches were real close," Stevenson coach Don Berg said. "I didn't think we were going to get that many falls. We face a good (Westland) John Glenn team on Thursday and we hope to even our record then."

Among the Stevenson winners were: Greg Kendall (103 pounds), who pinned Jason Samelko in 49 seconds; Bryon Berci (112), a pin against Scott Gibson in 3:01; Bob Carter (119) a 12-1 decision over Matt Cooper, 12-1; Ryan Carriere (130), a pin against Rob Walakowiak in 1:12; Brian Mitchell (135), who won by default over Jim Stodonoski (had 7-1 lead); Tate Dobbs (145) won by void; Doug Carmack (152), who pinned Rob Karadsheh in 4:54; Tony Sereno (160), who won a 7-1 decision over Mike Shanlinkian; and Chris Lehti (171), who pinned Keith Bowers in 2:57.

Gaining victories for Churchill: Craig Shepley (125), pinned Wayne Krause in 1:26; Chris Brown (140), who pinned Adam Carriere in 3:22; Shawn Donaldson (189), who pinned Erich Kickland in 3:50; and Mike Brooks (heavyweight), who pinned John Hull in 0:31.

REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL split a double-dual meet at Anchor Bay.

The Shamrocks, now 8-6 overall, lost to the host Tars, 30-29, before beating Port Huron, 57-16.

Double winners for the Shamrocks included Mario Scicluna (112 pounds), Rusty Fowler (119), Tom Epperson (125), Jim Whall (152) and Jason Krueger (160).

In action Saturday, CC took four of five matches to finish in second place in a six-team Lansing Sexton tournament.

Grandville, the only team to beat CC, captured the tournament. Adrian finished third.

CC scored wins over Flint Kersley (40-33), Adrian (38-27), Lansing Sexton (40-33) and Flint Northern (54-21).

Scicluna, Fowler, Dan Suhadjda, Jason Krueger, Dan Kelley and Steve Bork won all five of their matches in the tournament.

Pioneer staves off Spartans

basketball

Livonia Stevenson put up a fight, but fell to 1-4 overall Tuesday, losing to powerful Ann Arbor Pioneer in a non-league boys basketball encounter, 83-79.

The Spartans trailed only 59-58 after three quarters and had two possessions to tie the game with a three-point shot in the final minutes, but the host Pioneers held on for the non-conference win.

Matt Grodzicki led four Stevenson players in double figures with 25 points. Paul Rockwood added 15 points and Dave Arney and Colin Stockton contributed 13 apiece.

Pioneer (5-2) also had four players in double figures, led by Jason Wade with 21 points and Ben Wieland with 19.

Pioneer took a 21-17 lead after one quarter, but the Spartans rallied in the second quarter to take a 40-39 halftime lead.

GREENHILLS 60, LUTH. WESTLAND 50: Lutheran Westland made only two-of-26 shots from the field in the second and third quarters Tuesday, as Ann Arbor Greenhills collected its first win of the season.

Lutheran Westland dropped to 1-7 on the season.

Junior guard Paul Hambleton scored 15 points — all coming on three-point shots for Greenhills. Junior forward Keith Buckman added 14 points, with three shots from three-point range.

Warriors senior guard Chris Habitz led all scorers with 28 points and he also grabbed 10 rebounds and passed for three assists.

"I guess you could safely say that the second and third quarters really killed us tonight," Lutheran Westland coach Scott Weimer said. "I was really pleased with our fourth quarter where we cut the lead to nine and had opportunities to cut the lead more. I think Greenhills was just unconscious from the outside tonight. This was the best they've shot all year."

CLARENCEVILLE 62, TRINITY 47: Livonia Clarenceville broke open a tie game Tuesday, outscoring visiting Detroit Trinity Christian, 22-7, in the fourth quarter for the non-conference win.

The win evened Clarenceville's record at 3-3 overall. Trinity Christian fell to 4-6. Clarenceville led, 26-24 at halftime and the score was tied at 40 after three quarters.

"I think we just really put the clamps on them defensively," Clarenceville coach Rob White said. "We did a good job on the boards tonight."

Kendrick Harrington scored six of his team-high 17 points in the fourth quarter for the Trojans. Gary Giguere added 12 points and a team-high 15 rebounds for Clarenceville and Dan Nunnery contributed eight points and 14 rebounds.

John Millard had a game-high 21 points for Trinity and teammate Jason Behake added 12 points.

U-D JESUIT 73, REDFORD CC 53: Redford Catholic Central suffered its second-straight Catholic League Central Division loss Monday to a much-improved University of Detroit Jesuit team.

The Shamrocks, 2-5 overall and 0-2 in the Central Division, trailed 17-12 after one quarter and 39-26 at halftime. The deficit stayed at 13 after three quarters, as the Shamrocks trailed 53-40 entering the last eight minutes.

Junior Bobby Kummer scored 25 points, but no other Shamrock managed double figures. Sophomore Dave Freitas and junior Paul Kuhn shared the point-guard duties, with Freitas scoring six points.

Herman Jenkins led U-D with 26 points and teammate Rashad Roland added 21.

"I hope others would score more and take pressure off Bobby," CC coach Bernie Holowicki said. "He played played well, played strong."

CC transfer Chad Varga, a junior forward, scored eight points in his debut, but the Shamrocks missed sophomore guard Bob Schneider, who is academically ineligible. Schneider, who scored a season-high 16 points in his last game against Redford Bishop Borgess, is eligible to return in two weeks, Holowicki said.

"He's one of our most improved players," Holowicki said. "He's a threat, a scorer, a winner. He's tenacious. You can imagine I wasn't a happy camper this last weekend (knowing Schneider was ineligible)."

NOTRE DAME 58, BORGESS 55: Redford Bishop Borgess limited Harper Woods Notre Dame to two second-half field goals Tuesday, but the visiting Irish held on for a three-point Catholic League Central Division win.

The loss dropped Borgess to 3-4 overall and 1-1 in the Central Division. ND is 1-3 overall and 1-2 in the league.

Borgess couldn't overcome a sluggish first half, falling behind 17-12 after one quarter and 39-23 at halftime. The Spartans made the score respectable, outscoring ND, 19-6, in the fourth quarter.

Lamar Westbrook led Borgess with 21 points and ReShawn Sumler contributed 13. Kevin Riser scored five of his 11 points in the fourth quarter for the Spartans.

Mike Kwietniewski led Notre Dame with 23 points, 11 in the second quarter.

ST. AGATHA 72, ST. FLORIAN 71: Redford St. Agatha rallied behind its senior class Tuesday, taking an early lead and holding on for a thrilling Catholic League C-D Division win over host Hamtramck St. Florian.

Senior Jerod Kresnak scored 16 points and made a three-point bank shot with three seconds left to send the Aggies home winners.

The win leaves St. Agatha unbeaten in two C-D games and at 2-4 overall. St. Florian is winless in two league games, 1-5 overall. Four Aggie players scored in double figures, led by senior center Jeremy McNicol, who scored 19 points before fouling out.

"We played a lot better," Agatha coach Jim Murphy said. "They're looking for each other and not making mistakes. They're doing what I want them to do."

Senior Derwin Henderson had 18 points for the Aggies, while senior teammates Kresnak and Todd Reamer contributed 16 and 11, respectively. Senior Joe Boards led the Aggies with nine rebounds.

Agatha took a 24-16 lead after one quarter and held a narrow, 41-39 lead at halftime. The Aggies outscored Florian, 16-12, in the third quarter to carry a 57-51 lead into the fourth quarter.

Agatha made 12-of-19 free throws and Florian was 17-26 from the charity stripe. Senior center Matt McConico scored a game-high 31 points for Florian.

THURSTON 46, ALLEN PARK 37: Senior guard Justin McEwen scored 13 points and junior guard Jamal Merida added 11 Tuesday as Redford Thurston trimmed visiting Allen Park in a Tri-River League boys basketball game.

Jeremy Courval, who scored eight points, led all rebounders with 16 as the Eagles improved their record 7-1 overall and 5-1 in the Tri-River League. Allen Park is 2-6 and 1-5 in the Tri-River League.

The Eagles got off to a quick start and led, 17-7 after one quarter. Courvall scored six of his eight points in the first quarter and Merida had seven of his 11 in the same eight minutes.

"It was just one of those nights where we scored nine more than they did," Thurston coach Mike Schuette said. "We came out hard on them. We played solid defense, especially in the third quarter."

Thurston outscored Allen Park, 7-3, in the third quarter to turn a 26-19 lead into a 33-22 advantage.

PINCKNEY 63, GARDEN CITY 61: Jeff Kirchner and Eric Kaiser combined to score all of Pinckney's second-quarter points Tuesday, leading the Pirates to a non-conference win at Garden City.

The two teams were tied, 16-16, after one quarter, but Pinckney outscored the Cougars, 20-12, in the second quarter to open up a 36-32 lead. Kirchner, a junior center, scored 11 of his game-high 21 points in the second quarter and Kaiser, a junior forward, had nine of his 16 during the same eight minutes.

The win improved Pinckney to 4-2 overall. Garden City, which changed its defensive strategy in the second half, fell to 1-6.

"It happened all so sudden," Garden City coach Mark Cramton said. "We were in a man-to-man at the time (in the second quarter) and switched to a zone. We tried a triangle and two on Pinckney in the second half and it worked. We were outrebounded, but our defense kept it close."

Senior guard Scott Marihugh and senior forward Nick Mutafis led the Cougars with 14 points each. Marihugh scored eight points in the third quarter when Garden City outscored Pinckney, 16-12, to pull within four, 48-44.

Senior guard Matt Johnson contributed 12 points to the Cougars attack.

Baaki, Brusseau carry CC by Windsor Assumption, 3-2

Sophomore right winger Bill Baaki scored two goals Saturday, leading the Redford Catholic Central hockey team to a 3-2 win over Windsor Assumption at the Redford Ice Arena.

The Shamrocks, 5-3 overall, led 2-0 after one period and the advantage stood up behind the goaltending of freshman Mike Brusseau. CC coach Jack Gumbleton praised Brusseau, who made 26 saves.

"He played very, very well," Gumbleton said. "He kept us in the game."

The Shamrocks, meanwhile, scored on three of their 13 shots. Baaki gave CC a 1-0 lead 24 seconds after the opening faceoff and the Shamrocks led 2-0 on his goal with 4:06 remaining in the first period.

Sophomore center Vic Stesiak added a goal in the second period and the Shamrocks took a 3-1 lead into the third period.

FREEDOM is more than the flag.
It's a basic principle in every American life.

One of our most basic freedoms is freedom of the press. Americans are guaranteed access to all the news—the good right along with the bad.

We here at The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers guard this precious freedom with every edition we publish. We watch and report the actions and decisions of your government—from the county commissions and city councils to township supervisors and schoolboards. If it affects your home, your family, your life, we make every effort to be there—for you.

UNFORTUNATELY, THE WAY TO A MAN'S HEART REALLY IS THROUGH HIS STOMACH.

While your cooking was supposed to help you win someone's heart, it may also help you destroy it.

Because a diet that's too high in fat may increase the risk of heart disease as well as certain kinds of cancer.

Fortunately, you can help reduce your risk simply by eating a low-fat diet containing lots of fruits and vegetables, whole grain foods, lean meats, fish, poultry and low-fat dairy products.

For a free booklet on how to reduce the fat in your diet, call 1-800-EAT- LEAN.

Don't let yourself be counted among the thousands of people every year who literally eat their hearts out.

'A' champs to dock at Stevenson

By Brad Emons
staff writer

When Livonia Stevenson coach Doug Buckler lined up teams for his annual boys swim invitational, he left cupcakes off the menu.

The Spartans will host a very tough meet beginning at 1 p.m. Saturday (diving starts at 9 a.m.). The six-team field features defending state Class A champion and top-ranked Bloomfield Hills Andover.

Also coming to Stevenson are highly touted Grosse Pointe South, Bloomfield Hills Lahser, West Bloomfield and local favorite Plymouth Salem. The host Spartans round out the field.

"It's a unique format, but it should very exciting meet to watch," Buckler said. "It's a fun meet from the standpoint that you're going to be able to look at the whole swim team and see who has the most depth."

The meet format features the standard 12 events, including nine individual and three relay races. There are four races per event, all of which figure in the final team scoring totals.

"THERE'S SIX LANES in the pool and each team can enter only one individual (or relay team) per race," the Stevenson coach said.

If you're looking for standouts, venture no further than Andover's Mark D'Errico, whom Buckler calls "the best all-around simmer in the state."

"D'Errico can swim any event," he said.

The Ravens also feature freestyle aces Sam Kim and Raffi Karapetian.

swimming

"They're are the top-ranked team, no question," Buckler said. "The only team that may be able to beat them is Zeeland, and they're in Class B."

Grosse Pointe South, a top five finisher in last year's Class A meet, will be led by Ted Stedem, a top-notch breaststroker and backstroker. He could also be entered in the 200 individual medley.

As a sophomore in last year's state meet, West Bloomfield's Kamp Purdy went an impressive 1:44.78 last year in the 200 freestyle.

Lahser, meanwhile, will bank on Matt Pawlick in the 100 breaststroke.

SALEM, WHICH captured the 12-school Western Lakes Activities Association Relays last month, lost state champion Ron Orris to graduation (Michigan State), but will rely on sprinters Curt Witthoff and Joe Pawluszka, along with diver Pat McManaman.

The host Spartans, meanwhile, will go with Bryan Morrison in the 200 and 500 freestyles and Aaron Rieder on the 200 IM and 100 backstroke. Taki Caranicolas is another standout. He is scheduled to be entered in the 50 freestyle and 100 butterfly.

Tickets for the meet are $3 at the door. Concessions are also available throughout the afternoon.

Spartans spike Rockets

Livonia Stevenson opened the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association Monday with a four-game volleyball victory over visiting Westland John Glenn.

The Spartans, who placed third at Saturday's Temperance-Bedford Tournament, outlasted the Rockets, 15-5, 15-6, 14-16 and 16-14. They are 6-3-5 overall and 1-0 in the Lakes.

"We served very, very well the first two games and John Glenn couldn't get started," Stevenson coach Lee Cagle said. "Our good serves didn't bother them as much by the third and fourth game and John Glenn played much, much better. It made for a fun home opener."

Sparking the early surge were seniors Sue Bell and Laura Zatorski, who served seven and five aces, respectively. Bell also recorded 12 kills for the night, getting help from sophomore setter Patty Diamond, who had 28 assists and five service aces.

Zatorski also showed her worth setting and playing sound defense, according to Cagle.

"She's a very, very good all-around player," Cagle said. "She's a control factor on defense. Anything not set by Diamond is taken by Zatorski. She stood out defensively."

Junior Alicia Smith also contributed five service aces for Stevenson.

Glenn was led by Nikki Wojcik's eight kills. Jenny Massey and Dana Nowicki had eight and six service aces, respectively.

In the 12-team Bedford tourney, Stevenson won two matches, split three and lost one to place third. The Spartans beat Ida (15-11, 15-5) and Adrian (15-8, 15-6). They split with Monroe St. Mary's (15-7, 14-6), Hanover Horton, 14-16, 15-11; and the host Mules (15-11, 10-15).

volleyball

In the semifinal round, Horton, the state's No. 1-ranked team in Class C, ousted the Spartans 15-11, 15-11.

Bell led Stevenson's charge with 25 kills in 67 attacks and only four errors; Junior middle hitter Teresa Sarno had 17 kills in 39 attacks; senior Colletta Rockwell, 20 kills, 48 attacks; Zatorski, 18 kills, 48 attacks; and Smith, 15 kills, 37 attacks.

Smith had 17 service aces and Bell 16. Sarno collected 11 solo blocks and 16 block assists.

"This team is well-rounded and has a lot of strong individuals," Cagle said. "We're not coming through (in tournaments) with a lot of wins, but we've had a lot of splits and the scores are much closer than in the past. In other years, we'd get a win and a terrible loss.

"This team is more experienced and much more determined. By the end of the season we should be one of the strongest teams in the area, if we aren't already."

JOHN GLENN played in the Walled Lake Tournament last weekend, recording 66 service aces and 62 spike kills in advancing to the tourney's playoffs.

In pool play, the Rockets split with Rochester, 14-16 and 18-16, beat Walled Lake Western, 15-8, 15-10, and lost to Birmingham Marian, 4-15, 12-15. They lost to host Walled Lake Central, 6-15, 15-10 and 1-15.

Kara Beeny topped all servers with 17 aces, while Massey had 14, and Karen Olack 13. Beeny also had 19 kills and Nikki Wojcik 18. Nikki Nagel was the top defender with 15 digs.

REDFORD ST. AGATHA ran its overall record to 4-3 and 3-2 in the A-West Division of the Catholic League with a 15-11, 15-13 triumph Monday over visiting Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

In the opening game, senior Chris Iwan served the final nine points, including four aces.

Iwan and Chaleen Marnon combined for eight blocks in the match.

The Aggies return to action Monday at home against Detroit Benedictine.

CC swimmers sink Grosse Pointe

Redford Catholic Central was sick — in more ways than one Tuesday night.

The Shamrock swimmers were sick of losing to Grosse Pointe South, which had beaten them the past four years. Yet, their biggest assets — Randy Teeters and All-Stater Troy Shumate — were physically sick.

With all of this in mind, CC still defeated South 51-35.

"We were without Troy Shumate, and Randy Teeters had been sick for five days but decided to stick it out," coach Peter Leonhardt said. "It was a total team effort and it came down to the wire. They came through for us and we won the meet."

Mike Hoeflin won the 200-yard freestyle (1:45.60) and the 500 freestyle (4:48.60) to lead the Shamrocks. Both wins were state qualifying times.

"Mike Hoeflin's times were the key," Leonhardt said. "The times he swam today would place at the state championships in March.

ANOTHER KEY was freshman Karl Kozicki's second-place finish in the 100 butterfly to South's best swimmer, Ted Steden. Kozicki was only .07 behind Steden.

Other firsts for CC were: James Leslie, 100 backstroke (57.81); Devon Fekete, 100 breaststroke (1:06.32); Teeters, Fekete John Brogan and Brian Dynda, 200 medley relay (1:44.30); and Alan Afsari, Hoeflein, Brogran and Fekete, 200 free relay (1:32.41).

ALLERGIC RHINITIS

Many people suffer from persistent nasal stuffiness, runny nose, episodic sneezing and nasal itching. These are some of the symptoms seen with "Rhinitis" or swelling of the membrane linings inside the nose. Rhinitis may be due to "allergens", microscopic particles which when inhaled produce these annoying symptoms. Mouth breathing, snoring, constant sniffing, a nasal quality to the speech and a loss of smell and taste may also be related to "Allergic Rhinitis".
Since these symptoms are not considered life threatening they are likely to go untreated, leaving those afflicted very miserable.
We as Allergists, through a carefully detailed medical history, physical examination and selective skin tests help identify whether the "Rhinitis" is indeed due to allergies. Marked long term relief may be provided through a combination of treatments including avoidance, medication and allergy injections known as immunotherapy.

Weight Loss Surprises Researchers

WASHINGTON – A nutrition organization was hopeful that a nutritionally complete "hi-tech" food tablet would help erase world hunger problems, until a study revealed that one of the ingredients could cause significant weight loss.

Researchers in Europe found that an ingredient in the aptly named produce Food Source One actually caused people to lose weight, even though specifically instructed not to alter normal eating patterns, according to one study published in the prestigious British Journal of Nutrition. Researchers in an earlier study had speculated that the weight loss was due to a decrease in intestinal absorption of calories.

While the development of Food Source One, a project of National Dietary Research, would not be used to successfully fulfill its original goal, the discovery has been a windfall for overweight people. A Daytona Beach, Florida woman fighting a weight battle for 12 years used the product on the recommendation of her physician and lost 30 pounds. She stated, "Not only have I lost 30 pounds, but my cholesterol has dropped from 232 to 143. I have two closets full of clothes which have not fit me in two years that I can now wear." In a separate report, a telephone interview revealed that a Wilmington, North Carolina pharmacist lost 14 pounds in 15 days on the product and was never hungry.

Food Source One is available through physicians and pharmacies without a prescription because it is not a drug and contains only natural ingredients already known to be safe. Copies of the referenced style are available free from National Dietary Research, Suite 553, 1377 K St., Washington, DC 20005, however, please include $2 Postage & Handling for each request.

Antique show helps to fund musicmakers

By Linda Ann Chomin
special writer

IF YOU are searching to escape for a day from the gray Michigan doldrums, then circle Jan. 11-12 on your calendar.

That's when the Plymouth Symphony League presents its fifth annual winter antique show to benefit the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra (PSO) in the warmth of the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The show features 25 antique dealers from Grand Rapids to Toledo, specializing in prints; primitives; Victorian, classic country, English country; lamps; estate jewelry, silver, linens and lace; English brass, copper and wood; and European antiques.

"We're real excited about the winter show. We're bringing in three dealers from Grand Rapids," said Peggy Blaisdell of Plymouth, who chairs the antique show dealers.

"I'll be featuring a whole oak booth this time," she said. "A big oak kitchen cupboard, an oak dressing table and a princess dressing table are a few of the items I'll have. Oak is the hottest trend in home decorating right now."

Blaisdell and husband, John, have been antique dealers for five years and collectors for 15. Their antique business is appropriately named, "Blaisdell Antiques."

"I'll have tin cookie cutters; chocolate molds, coffee grinders and kitchen items," Blaisdell said. "Also, children's toys — a chalkboard and a red, riding horse from the 1920s and '30s."

Prices overall at the show will range from about $10 to $2,000, she said.

ANTIQUE SHOW favorites such as Pauline and Jacki Work of Farmington Hills are among the dealers who will display their wares in Plymouth. The Works are well known to area antique jewelry collectors because of their array of estate jewelry and silver.

For the last three years, Brookville Gardens of Plymouth has added a special touch to the show by selling homegrown herbs and wreaths.

"I'll have dried flowrs, potpourri, herb wreaths and teas," said Cindy Brautigan, who owns the wholesale and retail herb business.

The 9-year-old business grows 250 varieties of herbs. It sells live plants in spring to gardeners, fresh-cut herbs to restaurants about town and dried flowers and herbs at shows.

"I also take special orders for the wreaths," Brautigan said, "if they'd rather have a different herb or flower."

Brookville Gardens prices range from "$2 for a scoop of potpourri to $30 for a wreath, 75 cents for tea and $5 for cut flowers."

THE PLYMOUTH Symphony League presents an antique show to benefit the PSO twice a year in fall and in January.

Representing the Plymouth Symphony League on Dec. 1, Linda Hart, league president, awarded a check for $10,000 to help support the PSO's operating budget for the 1990-91 season.

"The Penniman Deli will be running a mini deli, serving sandwiches, hot soups, salads and desserts," Blaisell said.

The Plymouth Symphony League Winter Antique Show hours are 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 11, and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12. General admission is $3.

Arts group will host opera theater revue

By Linda Ann Chomin
special writer

If you swoon over George Gershwin tunes, love the music of Irving Berlin and positively adore the scores of the Broadway shows "Phantom of the Opera" and "Les Miserables," the Livonia Arts Commission has the ticket for you.

For one night only, Friday, Jan. 18, the commission presents the musical revue, "Broadway Babies and Phantoms," by the Michigan Opera Theater in the Livonia Civic Center Library Auditorium, Five Mile and Farmington Road. Show time is 8 p.m.

The fully staged and choreographed revue features "four singers and a piano player," said Mark Vondrak, baritone voice of the Michigan Opera Theatre production.

Along with Vondrak, the company includes tenor Karl Schmidt, mezzo-soprano Chris Jones, soprano Betsy Bronson and accompanist Roger Bingaman.

On the program for this Broadway evening are song medleys by George Gershwin, Irving Berlin and Harold Arlen, plus music from Andrew Lloyd Weber's "Phantom of the Opera," Stephen Sondheim's "Into the Woods" and Schonberg's "Les Miserables."

'Part of the purpose of the arts commission is to bring the arts to the community. We think we're doing this fairly well at ticket prices all of the community can afford.'

— George La Forge arts commissioner

DURING THE production, the Michigan Opera Theater company will sing such universal standards as "That Old Black Magic," "Fascinating Rhythm," "Embraceable You" and the song and dance that Fred Astaire popularized, "Top Hat, White Tie and Tails."

"The show runs about an hour long," Vondrak said. "It'll be a nice, entertaining evening with the audience singing and humming along."

The Michigan Opera Theater was founded 20 years ago by general director David DiChiera. Today, MOT is one of the 10 largest in the country.

The full company is celebrating its 20th anniversary, said Vondrak, who has been with the Michigan Opera Theater for 10 years. MOT's Community Services Department is 12 years old.

"We do a lot of children's shows, traveling and bringing music to the schools," Vondrak said, referring to the programs run by the Michigan Opera Theater's Department of Community Services.

The revue, "Broadway Babies," now in its second year, "is so popular with audiences, its been presented all across the state of Michigan," Vondrak said.

"We did a three-week run at the Marquis Theater in Northville this fall," Vondrak said. "On New Year's eve, we did two shows for 'First Night/Birmingham.'"

TO KEEP the revue fresh, they switch around their sets and choreographing, Vondrak said.

Although the production is aimed mostly at an adult audience, Vondrak said tha the younger audience enjoys the music of "Phantom of the Opera" and "Les Miserables."

The show is being underwritten in large part by the Livonia Arts Commission.

"Part of the purpose of the arts commission is to bring the arts to the community," said Livonia arts commissioner George La Forge. "We think we're doing this fairly well at ticket prices all of the community can afford."

Tickets for "Broadway Babies and Phantoms" are $3. The tickets are a bargain when considering that seats for a Michigan Opera Theater production run on the average from $11 to $57.

Tickets are available at the Livonia Civic Center Library and on the fifth floor of the Livonia City Hall at Community Resources.

There is limited seating for the event.

If Michigan's "Stormy Weather" has you down, get hold of some of "That Old Black Magic" by buying tickets to hear the "Fascinating Rhythm" by the Broadway Babies of the Michigan Opera Theater.

For tickets or information, call 421-2000.

Watch as young artists compete for Livonia Symphony's acclaim

The public is invited to hear a record number of young artists compete in the annual Livonia Symphony Orchestra Young Artists Competition Saturday-Sunday, Jan. 12-13, said Nancy Richards of the LSO.

Set to begin at 8:30 a.m. each day in Madonna College's Kresge Auditorium in Livonia, the competition will award two first prizes of $1,000 each in vocal and instrumental categories and $500 each in second prizes in the same categories.

In addition to area middle and high school students, the 46 competitors will include musicians who have studied or are studying at Wayne State University, the University of Michigan, Oakland University, Michigan State University, Columbia University, Oakland Community College, Cleveland Institute of Music, Indiana University, Juilliard School of Music, Eastern Michigan University, Western Michigan University and the Rimsky-Korsakov State Conservatory in Leningrad.

In addition to 16 scheduled vocalists, young people will perform on the violin, viola, flute, piano, oboe, double bass, euphonium, saxophone, cello, clarinet and trombone.

Judging the competitors will be Dr. Janice Fulbright, professor of voice at Wayne State; Tomoko Mack-Brozozowski, Schoolcraft College music faculty; and Francesco DiBlasi, LSO conductor and music director.

The four winners, in addition to receiving prize money, will be invited to perform this year with the LSO.

Funding for the event is provided by the Women's Association of the Livonia Symphony, Livonia Symphony Society, Nelda DiBlasi Memorial Vocal Fund and private individuals.

Madonna College is at Levan and Schoolcraft.

Historical reminders are plentiful along our roadsides

Bob Sklar

OUR ROADSIDES yield a wealth of local history:

• For more than 100 years, descendants of slaves who fled the South before the Civil War lived on the land now called Freedom Acres in Farmington Hills.

Aaron and Ellen Wilson came from Freemont, Va., to Farmington Township on the Underground Railroad in the early 1850s. They went on to Canada to secure freedom.

"After the war, they returned to Farmington, where people had been so friendly, to make their home," a city historic marker along 11 Mile relates.

Four generations were respected community members as the only black family in Farmington Township. Grandson Claude, a Detroit United Railway worker, became Oakland County's first black deputy sheriff. Wellington Hullm, Claude's cousin, is remembered as the beloved operator of Pete's TV & Repair Service.

• In 1819, Chief Tonquish was killed in a futile bid to save his son's life in an uprising with pioneers in what's now Westland.

A series of clashes between the Potawatomi Indians and new settlers culminated in the death of a white man. Angry settlers pursued the Indians along the Rouge to where it branches into what's now Tonquish Creek.

There, the chief and his son were killed. Their deaths marked the end of significant Indian battles in southeast Michigan.

The episode "reflected many of the tensions and conflicts between Indians and settlers over such matters as food and territory, which occurred during the westward movement in America," reads a state historic marker on Wayne Road.

• Marcus Swift, the first white man to settle within the borders of Garden City, built a log cabin in a densely wooded area overlooking the Rouge. The year was 1825.

In 1827, Swift, who came from Palmyra, N.Y. was elected the first supervisor of Bucklin Township, which included what became Redford, Dearborn, Livonia and Nankin townships.

A year later, Gov. Lewis Cass named Swift justice of the peace for the township.

"He was also a Methodist a circuit rider and a vociferous opponent of slavery," a state historic marker near Warren and Merriman roads tells us.

Before he died in 1865 at age 72, Swift said, "The great principles for which I have labored and fought, amid reverses and persecutions, are now the ruling sentiments of the people. I have lived in a glorious age, and my eyes have seen the powers of darkness give way before the coming of the reign of liberty."

• An organization later known as the Newburgh Union Cemetery Society was formed in 1832 to establish and maintain a cemetery, the first in what became Livonia Township.

The burial grounds, on Ann Arbor Trail, grew around the grave of Salmon Kingsley, a Revolutionary War veteran who died in 1827.

"In the century that followed, three other Revolutionary War veterans, more than 50 Civil War veterans and other early residents were buried here in these grounds, a treasured reminder of the pioneer era," offers a state historic marker.

• It's called Old Village. And it's one of the oldest parts of Plymouth, a 165-year-old town and one of the first settlements in western Wayne County.

The town developed around two major Indian trails, the old Ridge Road (Potawatomi Trail) and Ann Arbor Trail.

Old Village grew up near the historic Plymouth (Wilcox) Mill site at Wilcox Road and Edward Hines Drive. The mill site dates back to at least 1850.

The 150-year-old, Greek Revival-style farmhouse atop a rise on Hardenberg just west of the mill was originally the miller's residence.

Incidentally, Old Village, which dates to pre-Civil War days, was once called Lower Town because it sits lower geographically than downtown Plymouth.

Checking out the bookshelf of local authors

Victoria Diaz

What's going on with some area writers as the New Year begins:

● Looking over his shoulder, we see that Elmore "Dutch" Leonard has completed Page 14 of a not-yet-titled thriller, to be published some time next year. When he takes a break at his at-home office in Birmingham, he looks forward to later this month when he'll travel to Florida to work with a film crew from the British Broadcasting Co. that's putting together a documentary on Detroit's best-known crime writer.

His book for 1991, "Maximum Bob," will be brought out in August. Set mainly in Palm Beach County, Fla., the suspense tale, according to Leonard, focuses on a "a judge who's made enemies." Unfortunately for the judge, Leonard adds, "it looks like someone is trying to kill him."

Leonard's "Killshot," published in 1988, has recently been optioned by 20th Century Fox.

● Livonia's S.K. Wolf, just returned from a holiday visit with grandchildren in Minnesota, expects to be off soon for the Soviet Union, where she'll soak up atmosphere and conduct research for her thriller-in-progress, "Blowback." (That's an espionage term, by the way. "If you read the book, you'll know what it means," says Wolf.)

Her latest, "MacKinnon's Machine," will make its first appearance on bookshelves in April. A Book-of-the-Month Club selection, and a Reader's Digest Condensed Book, the spy novel centers on a former military official who is hired to train a strike force to assassinate Libya's Moammar Kadafy, only to find that Kadafy is not the intended target after all.

● If you're a night-time, cross-counry skier, and you meet up with a tall, rangy fellow-skier wearing an intense look of concentration and muttering a bit now and then, it may be Thomas Sullivan, working out some story ideas.

"That's when I talk to the universe," says the author of last year's "Born Burning," a horror tale.

The Lathrup Village author has just finished "Drummers on Glass," a novel he calls "a deranged love story." E.P. Dutton will bring out the book sometime this year, although a specific publication date has not been set yet.

In the meantime, he's started work on a novel about divorce and contemporary relationships, "H.E.R.S. & H.I.M.S."

Incidentally, you could have caught a glimpse of Sullivan in the film, "Presumed Innocent." He had a "walk-on" part as a bartender in a quick scene with star Harrison Ford.

● William Kienzle, recovering from recent shoulder surgery, doesn't seem to have been slowed or hindered much by the ordeal. He's just wrapped up work on another Father Koesler mystery, "Chameleon" (publication date: April), and is already into his next, "Body Count." Ballantine is planning a major promotional campaign later this year for the paperback release of the former priest's "Masquerade," published in hardcover last year.

"'Chameleon' addressed the problems of today's church," says Kienzle from his West Bloomfield at-home office. "Catholics in the city, the understaffed churches and schools, things like that. And, yes, it's definitely set in Detroit."

● Bettie Cannon, another West Bloomfield author-in-residence, is looking forward to the publication of her second young adult novel, "Begin the World Again." Her first was "A Bellsong for Sarah Raines," published in 1987 by Scribner's.

"Begin the World Again" is set both in a Midwestern farm commune and a suburban community of the '70s, and is scheduled for a March publication date.

● Prolific romance writer, Ruth Ryan Langan, just completed her 27th novel, "Highland Heart," the fourth in a series of historical romances set in sixteenth-century Scotland. The first in the Harlequin series, "Highland Barbarian," came out last summer; the second, "Highland Heather," is scheduled for a February release. "Highland Fire" will appear in bookstores this summer.

Langan's "Christmas at Bitter Creek" set in the American West, was brought out by Harlequin during the holiday season.

In spare moments, Langan is collaborating on a couple of original screenplays.

"I write six days a week, eight hours a day," says the Farmington Hills novelist.

No doubt.

Read the messages your houseplants send you down to earth

Marty Figley

Good garden tip: Fertilize houseplants with a liquid fertilizer when they begin to show new growth. Turn them so that all sides will benefit from winter light and pinch back wayward branching to keep them in shape.

If your houseplants aren't "up to snuff," they may need some extra TLC. In the following weeks, we will attempt to help you learn how to watch their "body language," which is their way of saying, "I need help!"

First, like people, plants need light, water, nutrients and air, so let's examine some of the messages plants may be sending when these conditions aren't met in the proper way.

Watering is often misunderstood: when to water and how much. Symptoms of underwatered plants are wilting, drooping, cupped or curling leaves and browning at edges and tips of leaves.

Sometimes a lot of the green leaves drop. (Don't confuse this with a newly placed plant such as a Ficus that will drop some leaves before settling in.) Finally, the roots are brown and withered.

WHAT TO do? Water more thoroughly and more often; occasionally soak the complete pot in water for several hours.

The roots of overwatered plants can suffocate, thereby impairing the whole system. Look for these symptoms: the whole plant wilts; it becomes stunted and stops growing; lower leaves turn yellow and drop, some develop black or brown spots; and the stem and roots turn brown and mushy and decay.

Solution: Place the plant in a warm area to encourage evaporation, reduce watering times. Be aware of the seasons when the growth is slower. Finally, don't water when the soil feels moist and the plant seems to be wilting.

It is best to avoid getting water on the leaves (except when misting specific ones), since a salty residue can be left. Gently wipe the residue off with a moist cloth.

EDEMA RESULTS when there is too much water in the soil. Edema looks like a disease. When the leaf and stems become swollen, the cells burst, causing blisters. When they heal over they have a corky look.

The best way to avoid this is less water and good air circulation.

Proper light conditions are necessary for success with house plants. When a plant has insufficient light, it may grow tall and spindly looking, and have smaller than normal, curled or cupped leaves that may turn yellow and drop.

Leaves that are normally variegated lose this feature. Plants quit flowering or the blooms are smaller; the plant may grow smaller than it should or not at all.

Too much light can cause a plant to look as though it needs water. Sometimes, those branches closest to the light overdose will die back and wilt.

If a plant is sun-scorched, it will die, and develop bleached or transparent spots or brown or scorched areas on the leaves facing the light. If any of these problems exist, it may be necessary to relocate your plants.

To check the light levels in your home, hold your hand one foot above the selected area. If you see a faint shadow, this is medium light. The more distinct the shadow, the higher the light.

If plants with like needs are grouped, caring for them will be easier. I predict fewer problems will result.

MASTER GARDENER classes begin in county extension centers in January.

Classes will start in Oakland County at 6-10 p.m. Monday, Jan. 28. The $100 fee includes refreshments. Call 838-0887.

Wayne County will have two classes: 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 2, at 640 Temple, Detroit, and 6-10 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 6, in Wayne (494-3005).

Center Galleries shows paintings

The Center Galleries announces the opening of Kadaj, Parks, Sigler, a three-person exhibition of painting by Lila Kadaj, Valerie Parks and Hollis Sigler.

Detroiters Kadaj and Parks are joined by Chicagoan Sigler in this display of colorful and emotional paintings that candidly explores the personal, yet universal needs and desires that often set an individual at odds with roles imposed by society and culture.

The opening reception to meet the artists will be 4:30-7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 25. Kadaj, Parks, Sigler will be on view in the Center Galleries from Jan. 25 to March 1.

The Center Galleries are at Woodward and Kirby in the Park Shelton Building, Detroit. Admission is free.

Gallery hours are: Tuesday-Friday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Paid parking is available inside the Park Shelton, and free parking is available in the Center for Creative Studies parking lots.

In a simplified but colorful style, Parks presents images based on childhood paper cut-out dolls to comment on the roles we learn to play early on and often continue to play in later life.

Sigler's brightly hued scenes of domestic interiors (kitchens and bathroom counters, for example) reveal moods of quiet desperation ironically enclosed by the artist's own boldly decorated frames.

Kadaj's claustrophobic, thickly painted figure-studies and self-portraits reveal the human personality both undergoing stress and experiencing liberation.

The Center for Creative Studies-College of Art and Design and The Center Galleries are suppported in part by the Michigan Council for the Arts. More money for this exhibition was provided by the Jacqueline Feigenson Memorial Fund.

Dance troupe takes to stage

People Dancing-Whitley Setrakian and Dancers will present "A Lot of Talk" Thursday-Sunday, Jan. 10-13, at the Performance Network, 408 W. Washington, Ann Arbor.

Show time is 8 p.m. Thursday-Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday.

The concert features several premieres, completion of a work in progress ("Mother and Child Were Saved") and by popular demand a repeat performance of Setrakian's solo "Jester," newly costumed by Patricia Bova.

The concert features several premieres, completion of a work in progress . . . and by popular demand a repeat performance . . .

"A Lot of Talk" would seem to be an odd name for a dance concert. But Setrakian's work is well known for its use of text. This concert dives even further into the realm of story dance in which words and movement frolic in mesmerizing symbiosis.

Tickets are $10 general admission and $8 for students and seniors. Tickets are available in advance at the Michigan Theater Box Office, 603 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor. To charge tickets, call the box office: 668-8397. To reserve tickets at the Performance Network, call 663-0681.

Movements II and III of "Mother and Child Were Saved" have developed into a haunting duet for dancers Terri Sarris and Laurie Zabele, followed by a vital explosion of runs, falls and catches.

Stephen Rush's score, funded by a grant from the Arts Foundation of Michigan, reveals an undercurrent of primal energy in the recorded text, taken from the memoirs of the Frisian midwife Katharina Schrader. In the role of Schrader, People Dancing features VeltaJean Olson, her first appearance with the company.

WHITLEY SETRAKIAN[illegible] Life With Potte[illegible] of the repertory of Detroit's Theatre Grottesco. Through special arrangement, People Dancing will perform the work, which like Setrakian's 1985 work "Fond du Lac," explores Victorian America's obsession with photographic imagery and the repressed passions that seethe behind each family tintype.

"Chicago" is a new, text based work. Movement is minimal. The true story, which takes place in a Chicago cemetery, is illustrated by only the most basic and delicate of actions.

"Jester," based on the Fool from Shakespeare's Twelfth Night, ferrets out the tragic elements on any comedy, dramatic or real life. Setrakian speaks directly to the audience: "If Feste were alive today, what would he be like? What would he be?" The answer is delivered in text (snippets of the Fool's actual lines and Setrakian's observations on his character) and dance that merges gesture with kinetic impulse.

Other premieres and works from the company's repertory willl round out the concert along with Setrakian's performance of O.J. Anderson's comic solo, "My Girl."

People Dancing also will perform at Detroit's Attic The[illegible] p.m. [illegible]27-28.

Whitley Setrakian and Dancers will take to the stage in Ann Arbor.

"I REDUCED MY MONTHLY MORTGAGE PAYMENTS BY $437, THANKS TO CHASE."

If you took out a fixed or adjustable rate mortgage several years ago, now may be the right time to refinance with a mortgage from Chase. That's because interest rates are currently very favorable. And Chase has a variety of flexible financing options that help you take advantage of these rates.

Switch to a Chase Financing Program now. On a $100,000 fixed rate mortgage, you could reduce your monthly mortgage payments by as much as $437 a month by changing to a Chase mortgage at competitive rates. Since Chase doesn't require a tax or insurance escrow account, you'll also save on upfront costs. And with our low closing costs you might save even more.

You also have the option to refinance your mortgage for more than your present loan balance. This option lets you borrow your closing costs, so you pay no out-of-pocket expenses. The equity you've built up in your home can also be used to fund your child's education, make home improvements, finance a vacation home and more.

Let a Chase Personal Financial Consultant show you all the benefits of refinancing. A Chase Personal Financial Consultant will work closely with you to help design a financing plan to meet your needs. And since our expert Consultants have the authority to approve loans, you'll receive a quick loan decision in 72 hours or less.

Discover how much you could save when you refinance now with a Chase mortgage. Simply call your local office below.

If your borrowing needs are up to $1 million or more, talk to a Chase Personal Financial Consultant.

Chase Personal Financial Services

CHASE

As an example, assume a $100,000 fixed rate loan with a 30-year term at an interest rate of 11.5% and two points (APR 11.95%) and a monthly payment of $1,086. Refinancing this fixed rate loan after two years to a fixed rate loan at an interest rate of 10.00% and one point (APR 10.18%) with 360 equal monthly payments of $1,419 would result in a $437 reduction in your monthly payment. These interest rates may or may not be in effect at the time you loan is approved. 4235

● YOUTH ORCHESTRA

Young string players, ages 8-22, may audition for the Livonia Youth Philharmonic of Michigan.

There are three levels of orchestras open to all Detroit area students: junior and advanced string orchestras, conducted by Andrew Swell and the philharmonic orchestra, conducted by Attila Farkas.

Orchestra placement is based on audition, and on openings for violin, viola, cello, bass, french horn, bassoon and tympani.

Rehearsals are 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at Bentley Center, Livonia. Auditions are at 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturday, Jan. 12 at Bentley Center. Call 453-8887.

● ON THE AIR

Nancy Richard, chairwoman of the Livonia Symphony Orchestra's Young Artist competition, is the next guest host on WQRS' "Guess Who's Playing the Classics?" program, 9-10 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 31.

She has chaired eight of the competition's 13-year run. The competition is open to middle and senior high students and students previously or currently enrolled in either a degree program or private study with college, university or conservatory affiliation.

Richard serves on the LSO's board of directors and is responsible for publicity. She studied violin for 10 years and spent part of one summer at Interlochen Arts Academy.

Before moving to Livonia, Richard was on the staff of the news bureau at Kalamazoo College. Before that, she was women's editor of the Daily Newspapers in St. Joseph and Benton Harbor.

For a time after moving to Livonia, Richard did public relations work for Clarenceville schools.

● ART AUCTION

The Nov. 18 auction of art donated by Florence and S. Brooks Barron of Southfield to benefit the Meadow Brook Art Gallery on the Oakland University campus in Rochester Hills grossed $32,495.

More than 230 people attended the event held at new Erhard BMW showroom in Bloomfield Township; 34 of the 50 pieces in the auction were sold.

Leslie Hindman of Chicago donated her services as auctioneer. Erhard Dahm, owner of Erhard BMW, donated the space and underwrote part of the expenses.

Elliott Trumbull of the auction committee said that Kiichi Usui Meadow Brook Gallery director was pleased with the outcome and that proceeds would help fund many gallery projects.

● CHAMBER MUSIC

The Cleveland Quartet brings its talent and matched set of Stradivarius instruments to Detroit's Orchestra Hall at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 23.

Performing on strings once owned by the legendary Paganini, the quartet will present works by Mozart, Prokofiev and Dvorak.

The group marks the second half of the Chamber Music Society of Detroit's 47th season.

Upcoming concerts include the Beaux Arts Trio March 12, the Talich String Quartet March 19, the Tokyo String Quartet April 3, pianist Helen Grimaud April 9 and the Kronos Quartet April 19.

Call 833-3700 for ticket information.

● DSO EVENTS

"Overtures," a group of metro Detroit professionals organized to support development of younger audiences for Detroit Symphony Orchestra concerts, holds its third event of the season Friday, Jan. 18.

At 8 p.m. at Orchestra Hall, concertgoers will hear music director Neeme Jarvi and the DSO perform Martinu's Suite No. 1 from Spalicek and Rimsky-Korsakov's Scheherazade as well as Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto No. 5 with pianist Lorin Hollander.

At 10:30 p.m., the location shifts to Opus One, where desserts will command center stage.

Tickets for Overtures events are $35 each.

Associate conductor Leslie B. Dunner leads the DSO in two subscription concerts at 10:45 a.m. Friday, Jan. 11 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12 at Orchestra hall.

Violinist Elmar Oliveira joins Dunner and the DSO for performances of Joachim's Violin Concerto in D minor. The program includes Kay's A Short Overture and Dvorak's Symphony No. 7 in D minor.

Conductor James DePreist leads the DSO in performances of Bortz' Sinfonia No. 1 and Beethoven's Symphony No. 4 at 8 p.m. Friday, Jan. 4 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan 5 at Orchestra Hall.

Featured soloists are flutist Jean-Pierre Rampal, performing Mozart's Andante for Flute and Orchestra and Rondo for Flute and Orchestra, and DSO principal flutist Ervin Monroe, who joins Rampal in performing Cimarosa's Concertante for Two Flutes and Orchestra.

For tickets, call 833-3700.

● ARTS GRANTS

Arts Midwest offers a number of grants for the region's artists.

Application deadlines are: visual arts fellowships, March 29; jazz masters, Feb. 15; meet the composer, May 1.

For details, write Arts Midwest, Suite 310, 528 Hennepin Ave., Minneapolis, MN 55403 or call 612-341-0755.

ASCAP Foundation offers grants to young composers. The program is open to citizens or permanent residents of the U.S. who have note reached their 30th birthday by March 15.

Write Frances Richard, director, ASCAP Foundation Grants to Young Composers, ASCAP Building, One Lincoln Plaza, New York, NY 10023.

Shifting Foundation awards individual grants to artists who have distinguished themselves or shown promise in the fields of contemporary music, literature, visual or multi-media art forms.

The foundation is interested in supporting artists who seek new artistic ground, find ways of surveying old ground or reinvent traditions.

Write Sonnenschein, Carlin, Nath & Rosenthal, 8000 Sears Tower, Chicago, IL 60606. Attn: Daniel R. Swett.

Theatre Communications Group has announced the National Endowment for the Arts/TCG fellowship programs in theater directing and design.

Designed for early career experience, the program provides stipends of $15,000 over a 10-month period to six young artists in each category, while they work with senior artists.

Write TCG/NEA Director/Design Fellows Program, Theatre Communications Group, 355 Lexington Ave., New York, NY 10017.

Application deadlines are: director fellowship, Jan. 31; design fellowship, March 1.

● WRITING CONTESTS

The Nimrod Literary Contest seeks entries for the Nimrod/Ruth G. Hardman Awards. The Katherine Ann Porter Prize for Fiction and the Pablo Neruda Prize for Poetry.

Submit entries by April 15. Awards are $1,000 for first place and $500 for second place.

For a prospectus and guidelines, write Nimrod Contest Information, The Arts and Humanities Council of Tulsa, 2210 S. Main, Tulsa, OK 74114.

Lyman Briggs School at Michigan State University will host the Clarion Workshop in Science Fiction and Fantasy Writing June 23 to Aug. 3.

Writers in residence include Tim Powers, Karen Fowler, Ellen Kushner, Tom Disch, Kate Wilhelm and Damon Knight.

Editors in residence include Gardner Dozois and Gordon Van Gelder.

The application deadline is April 15. Write: David E. Wright, Clarion '91 c/o Mark Sheridan, Lyman Briggs School, E-28 Holmes Hall, MSU, East Lansing, MI 48824.

● AT MADONNA

"Introduction to Hammer Dulcimer" will be offered 7-9 p.m. Thursdays, Jan. 24 to April 11, at Madonna College, Livonia. Traditional music, from folk to Baroque to modern, will be featured.

Charlene Berry, a scholar-performer and musician, will teach performance practice, repertory and uses of the hammer dulcimer in concert, church, classroom and social settings. Participants may take class for continuing education credits. The fee is $75. Call Berry, 591-5017.

Advanced oil painting will be offered 10 a.m. to noon Tuesdays, Jan. 15 to March 26, in Room 177.

The class will focus on more complicated compositions and techniques in oil painting. The fee is $60. Call Sister Angeline, 591-5187.

Madonna College is at I-96 and Levan Road.

Monte Nagler, award-winning photographer, will display his work in the Exhibit Gallery, Library Wing.

Nagler, a world traveler who once studied with Ansel Adams, says "cameras don't make photographs, people do!"

Though all his images show meticulous care technically and are printed and mounted to archival standards, Nagler believes that technique is second to content, and that it is a photographer's greatest gift to share sights and feelings.

His work is found in collections coast to coast, including the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Booklyn Museum.

He recently received the Artist-In-Residence award from the Farmington Area Arts Commission and was honored by the state House and Senate for his contributions to fine art photography in the state.

A photography columnist for the Observer/Eccentric Newspapers. Nagler also teaches classes at the Birmingham Community House and Farmington/Farmington Hills Community Center, as well as conducting seminars for Cranbrook P.M.

His work may be viewed from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. weekdays and 1-4 p.m. weekends through Jan. 29.

● MUSIC FORUM

The University of Michigan School of Music will host the 46th annual Midwestern Conference on School Vocal and Instrumental Music Jan. 17-19.

The primary purpose is to provide clinics, lectures, demonstrations and concerts for public school music teachers.

The event is sponsored by the American String Teachers Association, the Michigan Music Educators Association, the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association and the University of Michigan School of Music.

More than 70 clinicians and guest speakers from Michigan and throughout the United States will make presentations.

The opening concert will feature the Michigan State university Wind Symphony Band. High school and college ensembles will present free concerts throughout the event.

For details, call the U-M School of Music hotline: 763-4726.

● VAAL CLASSES

Visual Art Association of Livonia winter classes begin Jan. 28.

Classes are held weekdays and Saturdays in Room 24 of the Jefferson Center, 9501 Henry Ruff, Livonia.

Classes are offered in watercolor, monotypes, oil portraits, and drawing and sketching/all media. Workshops focus on all-media, mastering color, watercolor, and composition-how it works.

For registration and fees, call 464-6772. VAAL members receive reduced tuition and exhibit entry fees and a newsletter.

VAAL is dedicated to advancing the knowledge and appreciation of the creative arts by offering studio classes and twice-yearly exhibits, all open to the public.

The teaching staff includes area art professionals.

VAAL is supported by the Livonia Arts Commission, the city of Livonia and the Livonia Cultural League.

● ART AWARDS

The Arts Foundation of Michigan announces that nominations are open for its annual 1991 Michigan Arts and Patrons Awards. This marks the 16th year the foundation will honor Michigan artists by awarding cash prizes.

The arts awards are given annually to Michigan artists in recognition of outstanding achievement in varying fields. Three artists will receive $5,000.

Patron awards are bestowed upon individuals for outstanding service in support of the arts. Patrons receive a commemorative plaque of Pewabic Pottery.

Winners are recognized at the foundation's annual Michigan Arts Award ceremony in May. The deadline to submit nominations is Jan. 16. All nominees must live in Michigan.

The foundation has honored 80 artists and 39 patrons since the awards were established in 1976.

The foundation was established in 1966 as a non-profit organization that encourages and supports excellence in the arts through a variety of granting programs.

For nominating forms, write or call the Arts Foundation of Michigan, 1352 David Whitney Building, Detroit, MI 48226 or call 964-2244.

● CRAFT FAIR

Henry Ruff School PTA in Garden City is taking applications for its spring craft fair on March 16. Table cost is $15. Call Debra Szypula at 427-9099 or contact the school.

● ENTRIES SOUGHT

Birmingham-Bloomfield Art Association seeks entries for the "Michigan Fine Arts Competition." Juror is Al Loving. For entry forms and information, call 644-0866. Entry deadline is Jan. 25.

American Welding Society presents a chance for metalworking artists to display and sell original artwork at the International Welding Exposition in April at Cobo Hall, Detroit.

A York Properties Community

Yes, they do build 'em, like they used to.

Maybe not along the same lines as this historic centerpiece in Mill Race Village, but with equal care and quality.

And when it comes to telling a prestige audience about your current homes for sale, there is no better place than The Observer & Eccentric's Creative Living Real Estate section.

Here is a newspaper section that regularly features the largest selection of suburban real estate ads in Southeastern Michigan.

Published twice each week on Monday and Thursday for an audience of more than 350,000 adult readers in 24 affluent communities, this popular section has been tailored for our satisfied Realtors who continue to be pleased with the results they receive.

THE NORTH AMERICAN INTERNATIONAL AUTO SHOW

JANUARY 12 thru 20, 1991

Detroit's North American International Auto Show, which will include more than 40 of the world's auto manufacturers displaying over 750 cars and light trucks.

Charity bash to usher in auto fest

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

HELLO. THIS is Robin Leach, coming to you live from Detroit City, the auto-mo-tive capital of the world; domicile of the two-time defending world champion Detroit Pistons, birthplace of Motown and the home of the North American International Auto Show.

"It's bigger, it's better, it's more spectacular than last year with more concept cars, more new model introductions, more displays and more stars than ever before."

And on Friday, Jan. 11, it will be black ties and formal gowns when business, financial and government leaders join with automotive industry executives during the North American International Auto Show Charity Preview.

The preview, in the Cobo Conference & Exhibition Center, will be hosted by Leach, host of the popular television show "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous," and native Detroit songstress Anita Baker, who will perform as well as assist Leach in showcasing the sleekest and fastest cars due in the showrooms.

The co-hosts also will talk with industry leaders as they unveil the latest models and most significant concept vehicles in the world.

TICKETS ARE limited, but that doesn't mean everyone can't get into the action.

The black-tie preview will be televised live in a two-hour special presentation, anchored by Detroit radio personality J.P. McCarthy, on WKBD Channel 50, 7-9 p.m., station general manager Duane Kell said.

In addition to the preview, Channel 50 will run two-minute hourly updates from the auto show between 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12. Throughout the week, the station will run two live updates per night during prime time from the floor of Cobo Center, he said.

Local broadcasts will continue with a one-hour, prime-time special "J.P. at the Auto Show," hosted by J.P. McCarthy, at 10 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12. The program will be taped during opening day and include interviews with key auto executives.

The auto show also will receive national exposure, Kell said.

Highlights of the preview are being edited for a syndicated television program being sold to more than 200 independent stations for broadcast Jan. 19-31, Kell said. The syndicated show is being produced by Robin Leach's production company.

THE AUTO show was previewed in daily segments on the syndicated television show "Preview: The First of the New," shown locally at 7:30 p.m. Monday-Friday on Channel 50 for the week before the auto show, Kell said.

Leach, in town for some preliminary planning recently, said the North American International Auto Show is the pre-eminent showcase for automobiles. "I travel the world as a living and have seen the best events in the world.

"If the Cannes film festival in Cannes, France, represents the best the film world has to offer, and the Oscars and Emmys showcase the biggest and flashiest that Hollywood has to offer, it is only natural that Detroit would host the most important auto event of the year.

"And the North American International Auto Show, with all the activity we have planned will make the show extraordinarily spectacular this year," Leach said. "The charity preview is an event that deserves to have attention in Detroit and the rest of the country," Leach said. "It's important."

"The automotive industry remains one of the most influential industries in the world and deserves a grandiose presentation," Leach said. "But the one thing we didn't lose sight of is the North American International Auto Show is uniquely Detroit."

SAM RIDDLE, producer of the two-hour special and the syndicated show, said that in addition to Leach and Baker, other Detroit celebrities will be featured at the preview, including super model Bobbie Brown, who will highlight glamour and fashion at this year's auto show; standup comedian and television star of NBC's "A Different World," Sinbad, who will provide the mirth and merriment; and the rhythm and blues musical entourage, En Vogue.

And that's not all, Riddle said.

More than 20 top Ford-supported race car drivers are expected to greet guests at the charity preview.

And most importantly, the charity preview is for a good cause, Riddle said.

Children's charities to benefit from the preview are; Boy's and Girl's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit; Easter Seals Society of Wayne and Macomb Counties; Barat Human Services, Detroit; Children's Center; Detroit Institute for Children; March of Dimes; and Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center.

Single tickets to the preview bash also are available. Tickets are $75 for one and $150 per couple. All proceeds from each ticket sale go to the agency selected by the purchaser.

From Detroit, hoping you obtain all your champagne wishes and caviar dreams, this is Robin Leach.

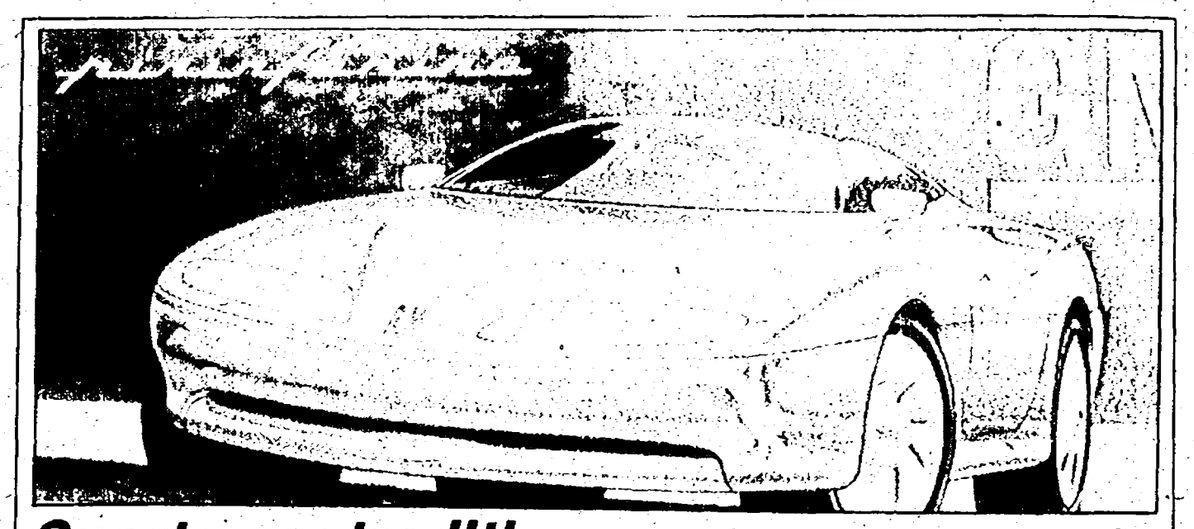
Ford racers will gather

More than 20 top Ford-supported race car drivers will attend the North American International Auto Show's charity preview Friday, Jan. 11.

The drivers will be in Detroit to participate in the fifth annual Ford Motorsport Drivers Seminar.

Expected to be on hand are NASCAR's Bill Elliott, Mark Martin, Geoff Bodine, Morgan Shepard and Davey Allison; NHRA's Bob Glidden; IMSA's Dorsey Schroeder and Robby Gordon; and HDRA/SCORE's Paul and Dave Simon, Manny Esquerra and Dave Ashley.

Ford sponsors the two-day drivers seminar to share information about the company, its product line and its efforts and strategies in professional racing.



Sports car tradition

The North American International Auto Show offers a peek at Pininfarina's newest concept car, created in the American sports car tradition. Based on GM's six-cylinder Lotus Omega, the Italian vehicle was designed as a top-performance coupe.

EXPECT RICHER hues and snappier finishes in the '90s. Carmakers are eyeing colors designed to target niche buyers and differentiate similar vehicle models.

That's the word from the Detroit Auto Dealers Association.

Black will continue representing a high-tech statement. Jewel tones are seen for conservative full-size and luxury cars. Somber hues and grays will give way to rich ruby, sapphire and emerald finishes.

Hot magentas, teals, yellows and other "surfer bright" colors will give entry-level/compact, sport and utility vehicles an identity in some regional markets.

Nostalgia buffs can choose from pastel aqua, purples and pinks.

"The wider range of colors will let car buyers more easily express who they are or who they'd like to be," says Robert Daily, DuPont Automotive Product Finishes Division color marketing manager.

At Chrysler, '91 models will sport such new hues as electric blue, aqua, turquoise and new shades of red. Green will make a comeback.

Automotive color trends are just some of the new car insights you'll find at the 1991 North American International Auto Show Jan. 12-20 at Detroit's Cobo Conference & Exhibition Center.

YOU'LL ALSO have a chance to see 30 worldwide and North American introductions, including 10 new production models. Twenty concept cars will showcase advanced technologies in design, safety and environmental responsibility.

International automotive stylists, including Pininfarina and Bertone of Italy and ASC Inc. and Industrial Design Research of the U.S., will showcase their latest innovations.

Michelin Tire and the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit will have a cooperative exhibit unveiling advanced fitments and vehicle designs.

To get in the spirit of the auto show, a truly world-class event in size, scope and stature, we invite you to sample the fare through this special promotional section. It's chock-full of facts and photos about what's brewing for new car buyers!

Spectacle opens to public Saturday

DETROIT'S NORTH American International Auto Show (NAIAS) is quickly approaching, with the public opening Saturday, Jan. 12.

R. Thibodeau

Ask NAIAS co-chairman Robert Thibodeau, president of Bob Thibodeau Ford in Center Line, about the city's emergence as host to one of the world's most influential auto shows (more than 40 of the world's leading auto manufacturers will display 700 cars and light trucks). He'll be quick to point out NAIAS's outstanding growth over the last two years.

The automotive world will be subject to various events, ranging from nationally syndicated television coverage to inauguration of Industry Trade Days, according to the Detroit Auto Dealers Association (DADA), show organizers.

To further the motor city's standing as a major show venue, many worldwide and North American introductions are set to take place at NAIAS.

In addition to new production models, auto companies have committed concept vehicles to showcase proprietary advanced technologies in areas such as design, safety and environmental responsibility.

NAIAS is anticipating more than 10 production and 20 concept car introductions to take place at the show.

BEFORE THE show's public opening will be inauguration of Industry Trade Days Thursday-Friday, Jan. 10-11.

Industry Trade Days will provide worldwide automotive suppliers with the opportunity to see NAIAS in full operation for a day and a half before the show is opened to the general public, said show co-chairman Gordon Stewart, president of Gordon Chevrolet in Woodhaven and Stewart Chevrolet in Garden City.

Gov. John Engler has agreed to be speaker for the opening of Industry Trade Days.

"I think it is fair of me to characterize Gov. Engler as pro-business. He has a long history of being pro-business in a variety of ways, and we welcome his participation in this business event," Stewart said.

"Every company in Michigan will have an interest in what Gov. Engler has to say, and again, I think it is fair of me to say that Gov. John Engler is interested in every business in Michigan."

Industry Trade Days is designed to give industry professionals from all facets of the business the chance to gather for two days of intensive automotive-related discussions, inspections, comparisons and conversations.

"We believe there are many suppliers out there who recognize what our show offers and how it can be used to support their business objectives," Stewart said.

"In effect, what we're saying to automotive suppliers through Industry Trade Days is that NAIAS is here to help you market your business, it's yours for a day and a half, take advantage of it."

AFTER THE closing of Industry Trade Days, the black-tie charity preview will take place Friday, Jan. 11.

Last year's charity preview raised in excess of $600,000. "We hope to exceed that amount this year. We anticipate more than 8,500 in formal attire," Thibodeau said.

One of the largest single-night, black-tie fund raisers in the country, the charity preview will benefit seven children's charities: Assistance League to the Northeast Guidance Center, Barat Human Services, Boys and Girls Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit, Children's Center, Detroit Institute for Children, Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults and March of Dimes.

The night's festivities will be broadcast live on local station WKBD-TV 50. The broadcast will be emceed by television's host of "Lifestyles of the Rich and Famous," Robin Leach, and Detroit radio personality J.P. McCarthy of WJR-AM.

Also featured in the star-studded cast of celebrities at the charity preview will be pop/soul singer Anita Baker, comedian Sinbad from the television comedy "A Different World," super-model Bobbie Brown and the musical group En Vogue.

WKBD-TV 50 will provide the NAIAS with local and national television coverage. The live two-hour local broadcast of the charity preview will be edited and syndicated nationwide.

J.P. McCarthy will host a locally televised, one-hour, prime-time special, "J.P. At The Auto Show," scheduled to air on the show's opening night, at 10 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 12. He will take an in-depth look at the show and interview a number of top automotive executives.

Other scheduled coverage includes the nationally syndicated "Preview: The First Look at the New," which will air a number of auto show segments.

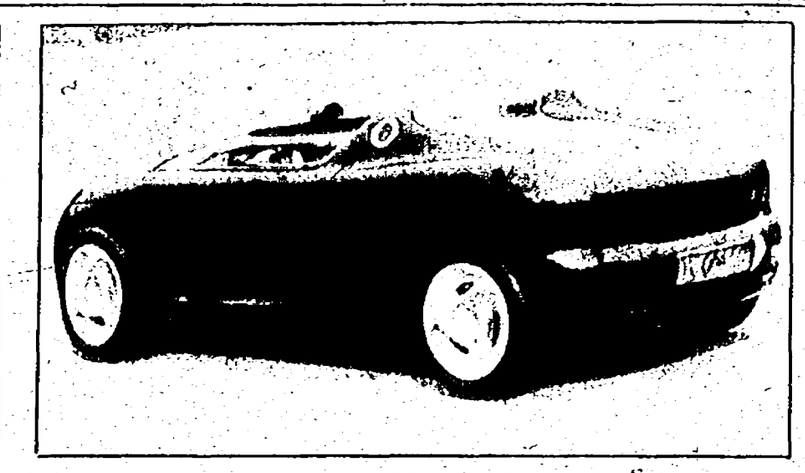
The Ford Ghia Zag, based on the same modular configuration as its sister car, the Ghia Zig, provides a more utilitarian vehicle with its large carrying capacity and removable rear seats.



The Ford Ghia Zig is a sports car with two forward-positioned seats and a steeply raked windshield. It's built atop a common modular configuration that can be modified for other cars.

Ford will unveil 2 Ghia concept cars

INSIDE FORD, two new concept cars are known informally as "Zig" and "Zag." And while those names may, on the surface, suggest aimlessness, in reality these two concept cars represent a clear look at the next generation of automotive design.

Visitors to the North American International Auto Show will have the first chance in the U.S to see these futuristic products. Both are super-compact, multi-purpose leisure vehicles named for the Ghia Design Studio in Italy in which they were conceived.

"Ghia Zig" is a two-seater sports car that provides a modern interpretation of the classic sports racing cars of the 1950s and '60s. The foward position and steep rake of the windshield deflects air over the heads of occupants. Rally-type seats are trimmed in a bright blue stretch fabric with high-contrast color inserts. Other features of the interior include a removable compact disc player and large door bins. Access to the luggage space behind the seats comes through a roller-type door.

"Ghia Zag" has removable rear seats and a front passenger seat that slides foward to increase cargo capacity. The horizontally split tailgate wraps around the rear quarter panels to improve access to the cargo area. A retractable roof-mounting system allows large items to be carried outside the cabin. Special attachments in the rear cargo area are provided for secure storage of a range of leisure or work accessories.

Based on a common modular configuration, both vehicles were designed for use with Ford or Europe's Fiesta engines. A design goal was to reduce package size to a minimum.

Both models share common lower body sides and door panels, as well as many of the basic interior design features. Both also have fiber optic lighting systems, which incorporate rows of miniaturized lenses molded into slots above the bumpers.

Manufacturers, dealers trade ideas

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

GETTING AUTOMOTIVE suppliers in the loop: that's what automobile manufacturers and dealers hope to accomplish with the North American International Auto Show's Industry Trade Days.

Industry Trade Days, a two-day program running Thursday-Friday, Jan. 10-11, is designed to give auto suppliers worldwide a chance to be more involved in the largest auto show in North America, said Daniel Hayes, Detroit Auto Dealers Association executive vice president.

The schedule allows supplier companies to conduct a variety of specialized business functions: private showings of new capabilities and products for customers and prospects, a focus for company sales and marketing meetings, a location for professional association meetings.

"We're talking about two basic things. First, it will allow the suppliers to see the show without the enormous crowds," Hayes said.

In an unrushed atmosphere, suppliers will be able to see the finished products they had a part in making, and perhaps take pride in their accomplishments.

Second, it will give the auto suppliers an opportunity to communicate with the original equipment manufacturers. There are no formal sessions between the auto manufacturers and the suppliers.

The intent of the trade days is to give the suppliers and manufacturers an "opportunity" to get together, Hayes said.

"Basically, we're offering a place where everyone will be, but there isn't an organized (other than an auto dealers-sponsored dinner party) session," he said. "I imagine there will be a lot of inviting, a lot of meeting going on that people will set up, but we're not doing it."

"We don't know all the answers yet. This is our first attempt at something like this," he said, adding that show sponsors will get together afterward to evaluate how it went and talk to suppliers.

TRADE DAYS is unlike any other event in the world. There have been similar events at European auto shows, but these have been organized by the suppliers themselves. Auto shows in Europe, Hayes said, are sponsored by the manufacturers, not dealers.

G. Stewart

For many years, automobile manufacturers have been striving to get dealers "into the loop" so they'll be more involved in the sales of cars, said auto show co-chairman Gordon Stewart, owner of Gordon Chevrolet in Garden City.

"Industry Trade Days is a very big concept in Europe," Stewart said. "They're used to help the auto supplier industry get a better footing."

Automobile manufacturers have been cultivating a better relationship with auto dealers for several years. But auto suppliers, the tens of thousands of small companies that sell the auto companies everything from the electronic sensors that activate air bags to the little rubber stoppers used to plug rust treatment holes, have been left out of the loop.

These suppliers, for whom quality must be as great a concern as it is for the auto companies themselves, need to be brought into the fold to see what's important and where they can improve, Stewart said.

"This provides them with an opportunity to establish better communication with their customer, the auto industry."

THE AUTO show also provides the ideal forum for making announcements about new products or directions. Media from all over the world attend the auto show, Stewart said.

Paul Boudreau, public affairs director for Allied Signal, automotive sector, in Southfield, said anything that encourages a better relationship between the suppliers and the original equipment manufacturers is welcome.

Auto suppliers are always interested in establishing closer ties with their customers. "And as we move into the future, there is going to be a need for us to be partners," Boudreau said.

He said auto suppliers and automotive companies have already established a close working relationship over the past decade. "But more and more, the suppliers and the (auto makers) must work together to get the cost and quality we're after."

Allied Signal serves seven automotive core businesses: braking systems for passenger cars and trucks, braking systems for medium and heavy trucks, friction materials, filters, spark plugs, charge air systems and safety restraints.

Allied Signal markets its products under the Bendix, Fram, Autolite and Garrett brand names.

MANY AUTO suppliers attended the auto shows regardless of whether there were Industry Trade Days or not, but the lack of a forum for the industry limited its usefulness. The auto show's "primary reason for being has been to show cars," Boudreau said.

"I think the issue is what will people do with the opportunity."

What specific opportunities the Industry Trade Days may provide, Boudreau said he is not sure. Since this is the first North American Industry Trade Days associated with an auto show, attendees will have to see what opportunities it may provide.

Boudreau added that auto suppliers, once Industry Trade Days is over, will probably suggest ways to improve the event.

Industry Trade Days, as he understands it, will also give auto suppliers access to auto dealers. "We haven't had a lot of that."

There are several reasons suppliers would be interested in a closer relationship with dealers, Boudreau said. For one, the auto dealers need information about the products auto suppliers offer as options.

"What's anti-lock brakes? How do they work?" he said. Dealers have to know what the options are if they are going to sell them, he said.

TIMOTHY HEALEY, sales and marketing director for the Auburn Hills-based Ervin Automotive Products, a division of Takata Inc., said his company has several reasons for attending Industry Trade Days.

First and foremost, Ervin Automotive is assembling two teams of its engineering and marketing personnel to evaluate competitors' products. The teams, with marketing and engineering members, will have an opportunity to see what's going on in the world.

Ervin Automotive supplies interior trim products like shifter boots, visors, storage compartments, consoles and arm rests.

The trade days is an ideal time for closer inspection, because the automotive suppliers won't have to compete with the crowds of the general public.

"We've been associated with the auto show for a number of years, but this will allow us to put a little more quality time in," Healey said.

The second reason Ervin Automotive is interested in going to the Industry Trade Days is to promote a joint venture the company is working on with American Sunroof Corp., the downriver automotive supplier and concept car manufacturer owned by Heinz Prechter.

Representatives from the two companies will be in attendance to present news of the venture to the world media, and also to meet with various industry representatives to explain the venture.

The automotive supply market, Healey said, is truly a global industry.

Saturn

GM eager to showcase its new, sporty small-car line

By Gerald Frawley
staff writer

ONE OF the biggest events at the North American International Auto Show has always been introduction of new cars for the upcoming year.

This will be the first year for the new Saturn line, General Motors' newest line of small, sporty automobiles featuring world-class quality designed to compete directly with the Japanese imports.

With new design characteristics, a manufacturing processes that includes state-of-the-art assembly, a greater emphasis on a management/labor team approach and a new marketing strategy aimed straight at the heart of the import car market, GM execs hope Saturn makes a big impact.

Saturn spokesman Donald Haberek said despite this being Saturn's first year at the auto show, its display will be very restrained.

"There will probably be 10 or 11 vehicles (of four models) in a variety of colors, enough so people can get a good idea of what we're offering," he said.

Knowledgeable people will be on hand to answer questions.

The basic plan for the surrounding display is to emphasize the people who build the car, the process and perhaps a little of history behind the new line.

"It will reflect the type of company and the type of people involved in the Saturn. It will be very professional," Haberek said. "We want to focus on the car and the people rather than the flash and trash."

KAREN TIBUS, president of Saturn of Plymouth, said she hasn't seen a new product generate this much excitement in 18 years of automotive retailing.

"I have a customer who's getting a car Friday who says he is getting a lot of interest from co-workers," Tibus said. "He said he's getting more attention for buying a Saturn than he would if he were buying a Lamborghini."

Of the 23 cars she received through early December, Tibus sold 21 and could have sold the other two, but she wanted to keep several on hand for test drives."

Tibus said she also has 35 deposits for cars on order. "I don't think we'll have any problems selling 150 to 200 cars a month."

Tibus said current car production hasn't met with the demand and many buyers are left waiting, but customers have been understanding. It is far better that Saturn moves slowly and turns out high-quality cars than rushing imperfect ones to market.

"People would rather wait and get quality," She said.

In fact, the wait for the car may be creating more interest and adding to the cars appeal by making it more exclusive.

"People love it. They come in, test drive it, and buy it," Tibus said.

ALTHOUGH THE dealership isn't open on Saturday, Tibus said she recently stopped in the office to catch up on a little paperwork. "I wasn't here long, but there must have been at least 100 people who stopped by," Tibus said.

Tibus said several aspects of the new car line are readily apparent to the customers, most notably the car's spirit, its interior room and its serviceability.

"Somewhere along the line, people got the idea the Saturn's would be sluggish," Tibus said. "Now after they drive it, they're impressed with its pep."

And although the car is being marketed as a small car, customers are also impressed with the car's roomy interior.

Several buyers, she said, have also pointed out the car's "service friendliness." Sparkplugs are easily replaced, oil and air filters are accessible, and fluid levels are easily measured because they are in clear containers.

Surprisingly, Tibus said, few customers have mentioned the new line's affordability.

SATURN'S INITIAL line consists of three basic cars: the SL/SL1 sedan, the basic four-door model, the SL2 sedan, the luxury four-door touring sedan, and the SL two-door sports coupe. Prices range from $8,200 to $13,500.

Saturn Corp.'s 4 million-square-foot manufacturing and assembly complex in Spring Hill, Tenn., is still turning out less than 100 cars per day, limiting those available for sale, according to published reports.

It has been a long time since one of the Big Three auto makers has introduced an entire new line of cars. But General Motors, after more than eight years of research, development and planning, is premiering its new Saturn SL1 (center), SL2 (right) and SC (left) at the North American International Auto Show.

Production is expected to increase significantly after the first of the year.

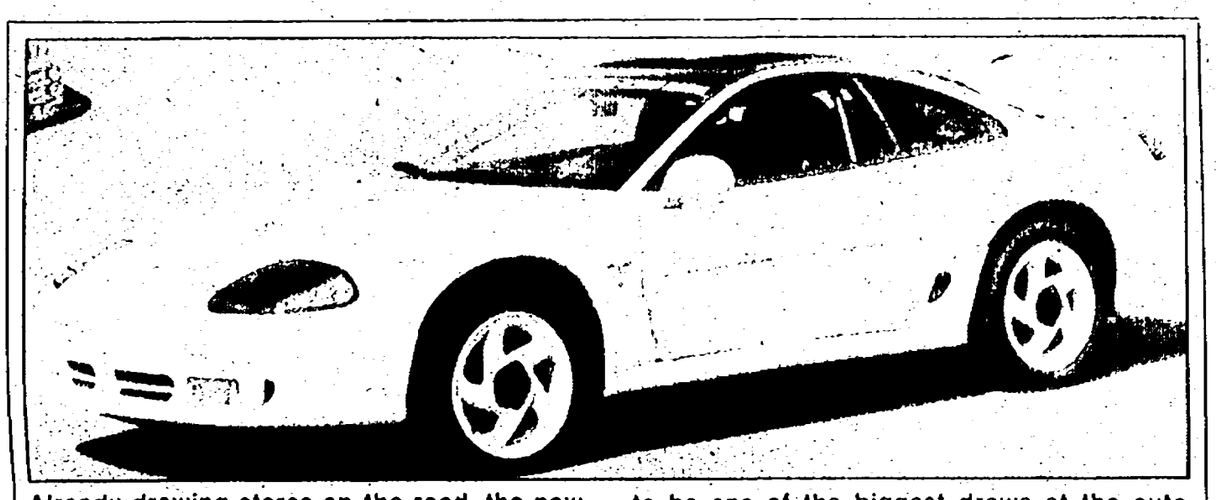
According to Donald Hudler, Saturn vice president for sales, service and marketing, the success of Saturn will depend largely on the partnership that's been established between General Motors, Saturn management, suppliers, workers and dealers.

Saturn dealers are playing a larger role in the manufacturing and marketing of automobiles. Dealers were involved in the development of dealership systems, the advertising and marketing strategy, and even in selecting other dealers, Hudler said.

Four Saturn dealerships have been granted in the Detroit are, including Saturn of Plymouth, Saturn of Troy, Saturn of Warren and Saturn of Clarkston.

Haberek said Saturn franchisees were chosen primarily because of their track records in customer service. "Essentially, these are people who are really interested in providing the ultimate in customer satisfaction," Haberek said.

Emphasis on customer service is part of the Saturn market-area approach, he said. Instead of having traditional full-service dealers, Saturn dealers will have more autonomy in tailoring their sales and service facilities to handle the various ways car buyers select, purchase and service their cars.



Already drawing stares on the road, the new Dodge Stealth, designed to compete with the serious street machines of the world, is sure to be one of the biggest draws at the auto show.

Dodge Stealth pace car jumps gun

A LIMITED edition, 1991 Dodge Stealth will circle the brickyard at Indianapolis Raceway Park in May as official pace car of the world's most famous 500-mile race. But the public will have the chance to view the pace car at the North American International Auto Show.

The pearlescent yellow Stealth will be the first car to represent Dodge in the Indy spotlight since 1971, when a Dodge Challenger paced the field.

Except for fire and other safety equipment, very few modifications will be made to the Stealth. Because Indianapolis pace cars are traditionally open air, the Stealth's roof will be partially cut away to resemble, in the words of a Chrysler spokesman, a "quasi-convertible."

The 300 hp, 3.0-liter, 24-valve, twin turbocharged V6 engine that powers the top-of-the-line Stealth R/T Turbo will remain stock.

And with almost every technological wonder available, the R/T Turbo's standard all-wheel drive, speed-sensitive, four-wheel steering and four-wheel, anti-lock brakes will be ready for any type of weather or track conditions at the race.

IN STREET trim, the 2+2 sports car is filled to the brim with interior creature comforts. Air conditioning, cruise control, power windows and door locks, and a 100-watt, six-speaker AM/FM stereo cassette system are a few of the R/T Turbo's standard features. The only options for the R/T Turbo are a CD player and leather seats.

The rest of the line, no less exciting but lower in price than the R/T Turbo, includes the base Stealth, Stealth ES and Stealth R/T. These models house a normally aspirated, 3.0-liter V6, ranging from the 164-hp version in the base, to the DOHC, 222-horsepower variant in the ES and R/T. A driver's-side air bag is standard equipment. Prices for the Stealth run from $16,000 to $30,000.

The Stealth is the result of a collaborative effort between Chrysler and Mitsubishi. Chrysler's design office styled the Stealth, which traces its heritage back to the 1988 showstopping Dodge Intrepid concept vehicle. Mitsubishi's version is called the 3000GT. It emcompasses the same technological features as the Stealth.

A limited-edition Dodge Stealth pace car replica is expected to arrive on dealer floors this spring.

GM's Impact, an electric concept car, is expected to appear sometime in the not-too-far-off future.

Future cars

A barometer of public sentiment

By Dan McCosh
special writer

CONCEPT CARS fit neatly into the American dream of the future, when everybody will be wearing strange clothes, living in oddly shaped houses and, of course, driving weird cars.

It is a dream carried forth by a series of so-called "future cars" that mainly date back to the early 1960s, when the idea of a three-wheeled vehicle powered by a jet engine seemed just around the corner, after a few bugs were worked out.

In fact, auto styling and auto technology seems to work in a series of closed loops, with trends repeating themselves as relentlessly as the shift from wide to narrow ties.

In the early days of the industry, a "concept car" was a ridiculous notion, since every bona fide concept was being tried out and marketed in a mad scramble between the hundreds of companies trying to get a foothold in a booming industry. There was no time to fool around with future fantasy.

But when the post-World War II era seemed to offer stability, serenity and a touch of boredom, the automakers began to attempt to create their own vision of the future.

The result was a series of styling exercises considered so wild and crazy, they had to represent the future of automotive styling. This was a logical outcome of the mid-1950s fin car era, when everyday cars were getting even wilder and crazier.

TODAY, THERE is more attention paid to concept cars than ever before. One reason is that auto stylists are still feeling the pulse of public interest, anticipating a change that could be as dramatic as the sudden adoption of the so-called "aero look" that altered the industry at the beginning of the last decade.

Today's concept cars are, in fact, much closer to production cars than in the past, and frequently provide at least a broad-brush look at where contemporary car design is headed.

At this year's North American International Auto Show, more than 25 futuristic design exercises will be on the show floor, probably the largest single collection of such artful fiberglass of any show in the world.

The large number of concept cars makes NAIAS something of a forum for world design. All the domestic manufacturers will participate, along with Pininfarina, Bertone, Mercedes Benz, Mitsubishi, Nissan and Toyota.

Few of these show cars even run, and most that do barely crawl around under their own power.

Regardless, they are among the most expensive cars at the show, with a full-powered, high-tech exercise costing in excess of $25 million, while even a minor styling tweak running up a $100,000 bill.

Concept cars have, in fact, created a minor local industry with a few highly skilled prototype shops specializing in the creation of these design exercises.

ONE OF the largest is Special Projects in Plymouth, founded eight years ago by auto designer Ken Yanez. Special Projects specializes in producing the one-off fiberglass bodies that clad the show cars.

Some of their work is a joint effort with ASC Corp. in Southgate, another custom prototype operation that also has a joint venture with Metalcrafters, a California-based custom bodybuilder.

The cars start out as a design exercise on paper, or more likely on a special design computer that allows a designer to build up shapes in three dimensions. The computer, in turn, guides a milling machine to reproduce the designer's vision in three-dimensional clay. Often a three-eighths-size model is built first, to test the design, followed by a full-size clay.

"We take molds off the clay model, then develop the fiberglass

Chrysler to show designs

THE NORTH American International Auto Show will showcase the latest efforts from Chrysler's design and engineering staff: the Chrysler 300, Dodge Neon and Jeep Wagoneer 2000.

The four-door Chrysler 300 hopes to conjure memories of the company's luxury performance vehicles of the '60s. The 300's all-black, driver's cockpit, including performance-style seats, instrument cluster and contoured steering wheel, makes a bold styling statement.

The rear compartment, accessible through a hinged back door, contains separate headphones and combination TV/VCR/cellular phone.

With more than a passing nod to the 300's performance heritage, the concept car's engine bay is filled with Chrysler's 8.0-liter, V-10 "Copperhead" engine mated to a four-speed automatic transmission.

According to Chrysler president Robert Lutz, the 300's designers had one purpose: "We want a car that will make everybody run out to the store and look at it."

THE DODGE Neon will likely ensure that auto show passersby will stop and stare a little more at Chrysler's display.

According to Chrysler's vice president-product design, Thomas Gale, the Dodge Neon "addresses recycling and other environmental issues as well as investigates an array of new features in a fun-to-drive package."

Underscoring the concept vehicle's environmentally conscious design, nearly every section on the Neon is made up from, or can be recycled. For example, the wheels are made from recycled aluminum. All interior panels are coded to identify the type of plastic used in the manufacturing process.

To fulfill the promise of fun-in-the-sun cruising, the Neon is equipped with an open-air, sliding sunroof that incorporates a self-stowing rear window.

Technically, the Neon showcases Chrysler's revolutionary External Breathing Direct Injection two-stroke engine. The powerplant provides greater output from a smaller displacement and weighs 40 percent less than a traditional four-stroke engine. The 1.1-liter motor produces more than 100 hp.

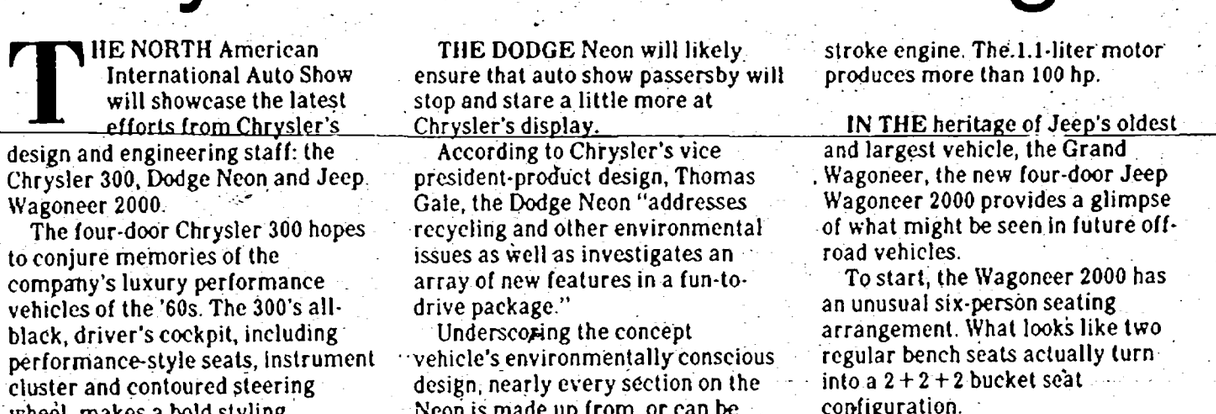
IN THE heritage of Jeep's oldest and largest vehicle, the Grand Wagoneer, the new four-door Jeep Wagoneer 2000 provides a glimpse of what might be seen in future off-road vehicles.

To start, the Wagoneer 2000 has an unusual six-person seating arrangement. What looks like two regular bench seats actually turn into a 2+2+2 bucket seat configuration.

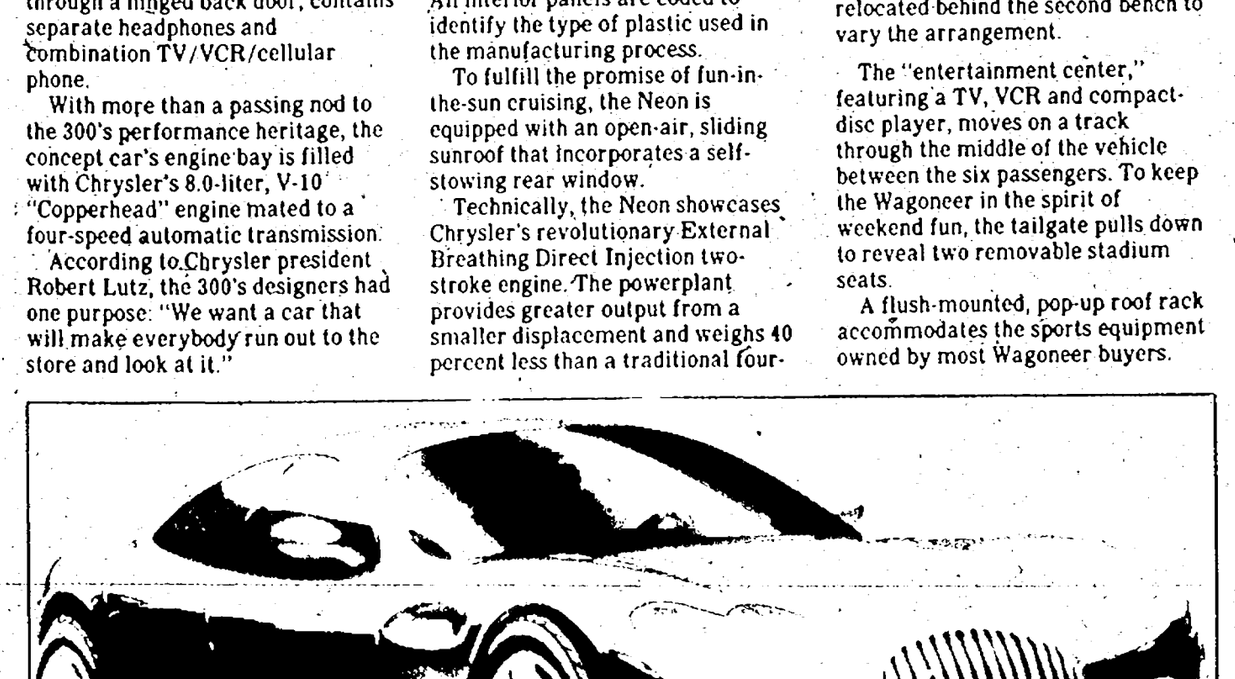
The middle of each bench contains a smaller, center seat, which can be relocated behind the second bench to vary the arrangement.

The "entertainment center," featuring a TV, VCR and compact-disc player, moves on a track through the middle of the vehicle between the six passengers. To keep the Wagoneer in the spirit of weekend fun, the tailgate pulls down to reveal two removable stadium seats.

A flush-mounted, pop-up roof rack accommodates the sports equipment owned by most Wagoneer buyers.



The Chrysler 300 is a four-door concept car with a rear compartment accessible only through rear doors. The luxury performance vehicle sports an eight-liter, V-10 engine.



The Jeep Wagoneer 2000 offers a view of the future of off-road vehicles. It boasts an unusual six-person seating arrangement and a movable entertainment center.

Cadillac quality honored

FOURTEEN INCHES high, weighing in at about 20 pounds and bearing the seal of the President of the United States, the 1990 Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award sits in the offices of Cadillac Motor Car Division, the only automaker to capture the award in its three-year history.

"We're in a fishbowl," said Rosetta Riley, Cadillac customer satisfaction director. "We raised expectations and the world is looking at us. We now know that our processes and systems are right. Our product improvement has been tremendous in the past five years, but still there is lots of work to do in order to get our cars to world class in every respect."

In October, Commerce Secretary Robert A. Mosbacher announced the four winners of the 1990 Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award for excellence in quality management: Cadillac Motor Car Division (Detroit) and IBM Rochester (Rochester, Minn.) in the manufacturing category; Federal Express Corp. (Memphis) in service; and Wallace Co. Inc. (Houston) in small business.

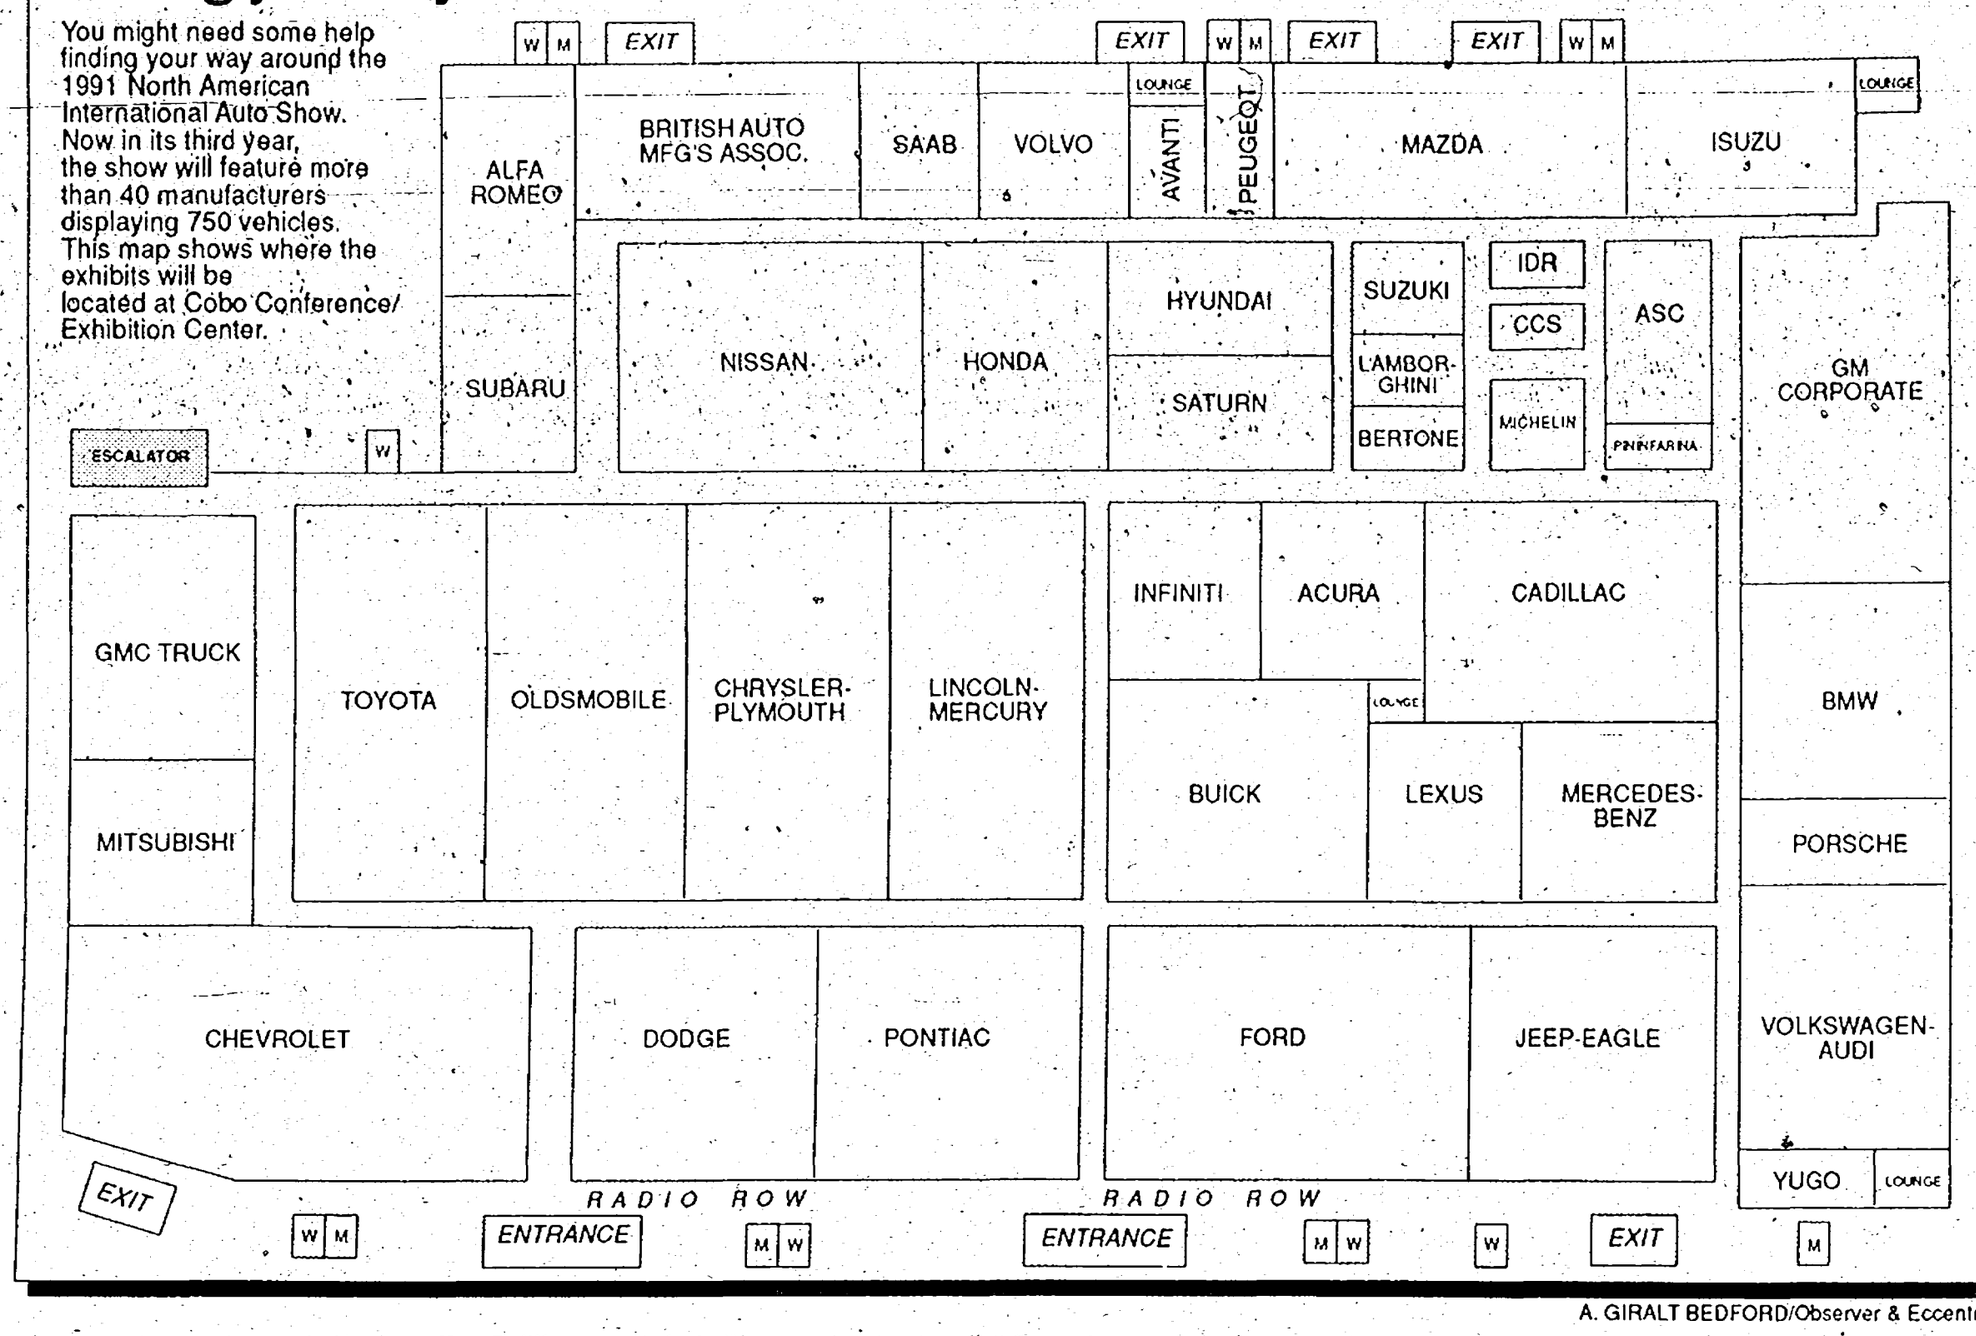
"When President Bush said in this year's State of the Union address, 'Made in the U.S.A. is recognized around the world as the symbol of quality,' he made clear the importance of quality to our economy. Quality is the key to increasing our exports around the world and to a strong economy that assures job growth," Mosbacher said in October.

"The winners of this award have made quality improvement a way of life. Quality is their bottom line, and that kind of can-do attitude makes for world-class products and services."

THE CADILLAC Motor Car Division, headquartered in Detroit, was founded in 1902. It is the flagship division of the General Motors American Automotive Operations. In 1990, sales of nine models are projected to total 305,525 units and generate $7 billion. The company employs 10,000 workers. In the domestic market, accounting for nearly 99 percent of sales, cars are sold through a network of 1,600 franchised dealerships.

Finding your way

You might need some help finding your way around the 1991 North American International Auto Show. Now in its third year, the show will feature more than 40 manufacturers displaying 750 vehicles. This map shows where the exhibits will be located at Cobo Conference/ Exhibition Center.



A. GIRALT BEDFORD/Observer & Eccentric

The Baldrige award, named after the late secretary of Commerce in the Reagan administration, was signed into law in 1987. There can be two winners in each category, but only nine awards have been given since the award's inception. The 1990 competition drew 167,000 application requests but only 97 companies completed them and just six made it to the finals in the manufacturing category.

Dr. Curt Reimann, Malcolm Baldrige National Quality Award program director, said, "The limited number of awards given so far sends a clear signal to everyone involved that the standards are absolute standards and not relative standards."

How Cadillac came to be in the running for the Baldrdige award is really the story of Cadillac's resurgence during the last five years. To John Grettenberger, Cadillac general manager and GM vice president, the award is the "validation of our hard work as a rededication of our goals of quality, customer satisfaction and continuous improvement."

CADILLAC STRUGGLED with the downsizing of its cars in the middle 1980s, the difficult birth of its high tech Detroit-Hamtramck Assembly Center and the residual fallout from the closing of the Fleetwood-Fisher Body and Clark Street assembly sites. "They were very hard years," Grettenberger said. "We had to find new ways of operating our business."

The "new ways" were three critical strategies implemented to transform Cadillac:

- A cultural change where teamwork and employee involvement are considered a competitive advantage.
- A focus on the customer, with customer satisfaction the master plan and quality both the strategy and the solution.
- A more disciplined approach to planning that focuses all employees on the quality objectives.

For the past four years, the independent research firm of J.D. Power and Associates named Cadillac the best domestic nameplate for overall customer satisfaction. Quality improvements have led to a 30 percent reduction in warranty costs over the last four years.

THE STORY of one of Cadillac's nearly 10,000 employees is a real illustration of just how dramatic the changes have been. Bill Howey, who celebrated 26 years with GM, calls "the first 20 years terrible, the last six, terrific, unbelievable."

In 1984, Howey left Fleetwood-Fisher Body for Detroit-Hamtramck to join an assortment of employees from a variety of United Auto Workers locals. While a General Assembly worker in pinstriping, Howey began taking classes in teaching group dynamics, and from there began studying problem-solving processes. Many's the night, he says, that he had what he calls "evening opportunities — homework."

At Detroit-Hamtramck, initially, there was a major cultural barrier. Employees had come in from Fleetwood, Clark Street, the Conner Street Metal Stamping Plant and Livonia Engine. "Things weren't done the way they were done in the old plants," Howey said, "and it took a good 18 months for teams to really get their acts together."

By late 1986, Howey went to Detroit-Hamtramck's final process area as a team leader. The cultural change was becoming apparent by this time; Howey was gaining responsibilities. He calls it like "somebody turning the light on."

NOW TEAM leader for the World Class Quality Council, a plant liaison group composed of high seniority UAW employees, Howey was privy to some of the feedback last year when Cadillac applied for the Baldrige award, secured a site visit but did not capture the trophy.

"The examiners told us we were putting Band-Aids on some of our problems, that there had to be more of a plant-customer connection," Howey said.

"We worked with Rosetta Riley and came up with a program whereby we in the plant began making calls to new owners of Eldorados, Sevilles and Allantes (the Cadillacs built at Detroit-Hamtramck) who had not turned in their Gold Key customer satisfaction surveys after three months of ownership."

The information they learned by talking to the new owners was fed back into the system, Howey said, and "we closed a very important loop."

The loop between employee and customer closed even further when teams of hourly and salaried employes began working the auto show circuit, talking to customers and potential customers in a very positive way.

EDWARD CZAPOR, vice president and group executive-corporate quality and reliability, says a Baldrige Award Selection Team is being created to assess the merits of interested GM business units on their potential application. The corporation is focusing on having a candidate in the Baldrige competition every year.

Czapor also points out that "based on the feedback from our past GM applicants, every organization completing a self-assessment against the Baldrige examination criteria has greatly benefited from the experience."

Dr. B. Joseph White, interim dean of the University of Michigan Business School, and a member of the Baldrige Board of Examiners, predicts this will be an interesting year for Cadillac:

"While winning the Baldrige award is a great honor and achievement for Cadillac, it also raises customer expectations about Cadillac quality. Cadillac now is challenged to meet and exceed these very high customer expectations in their product and service quality."

Concept cars reflect American dream body from the molds," said Bill Clark, special projects vice president.

"Then the interior is modeled and the interior is fitted. Some of the cars use full trim, others don't. Often we have working headlamps and taillamps and an instrument cluster.

"Actually, you don't get too much out of a driveable vehicle, and you can run up a lot of cost. One exception is the PPG pace cars, which lead off major race series, developed with a special body on an existing chassis."

CONSTRUCTION OF a concept car usually is squeezed between the end of a model year and the beginning of the show circuit in January.

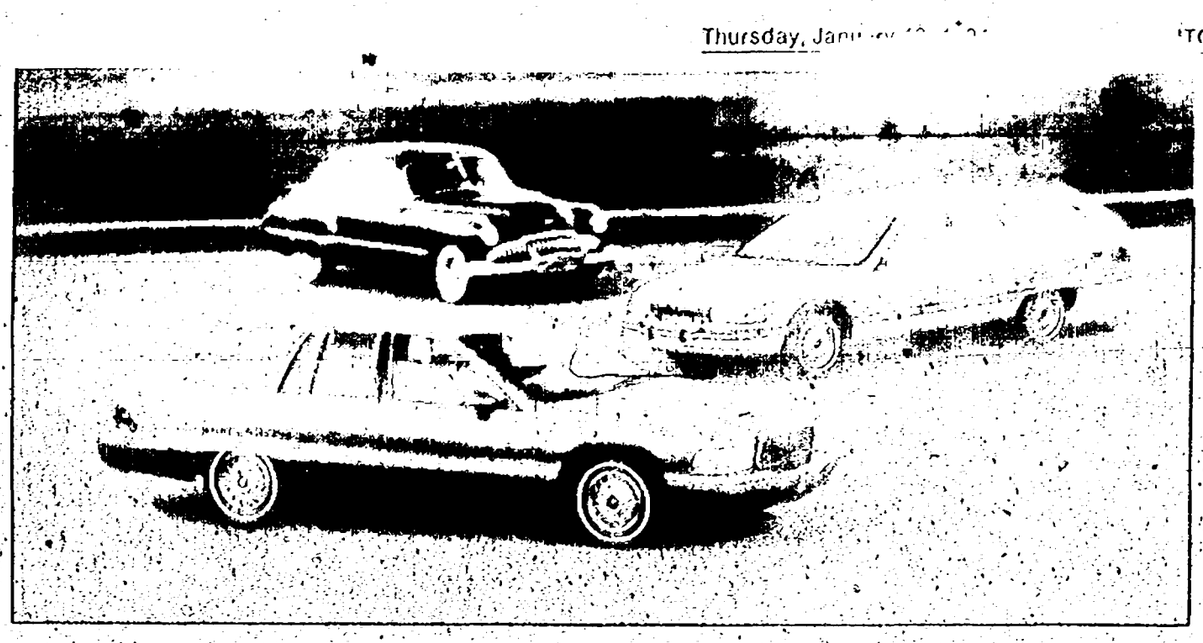
That puts enormous pressure on the companies producing the cars, which normally are completed just as the show is opening. At last year's show, one major display slipped from the pedestal the night before the show opened, but was repaired and reinstalled before the curtain went up.

If the test of a future car is whether you ever see it in the future, most fail the test. Part of the reason is that there are serious problems with some favorite styling concepts.

Bubble tops, for example, are difficult to make without distortion, bring in an enormous amount of heat, and always let the rain in on your head as soon as they are opened.

Regardless, bubble tops remain a styling favorite on concept cars, guaranteeing that that particular vision of the future will never come to pass.

Roadmaster: back at Buick



Left: The Buick Roadmaster name returns for the first time in more than three decades on the 1991 Roadmaster Estate Wagon and 1992 Roadmaster sedan. Representing the previous Roadmasters, produced from 1936 to 1958, is a '49 Roadmaster (background) with its characteristic grille and four ventiports (portholes).

BUICK HAS announced the return of a great name in its heritage — Roadmaster — on a new family of full-size vehicles featuring V-8 engines and rear-wheel drive.

They are the completely redesigned 1991 Roadmaster Estate Wagon and, in spring, the all-new 1992 Roadmaster and Roadmaster Limited sedans.

The return of Roadmaster adds luster to Buick's new lineup, which has already been highlighted by announcements of the completely redesigned 1991 Park Avenue and Park Avenue Ultra and the 1991 Regal sedan.

Buick's reputation as an American quality leader has also been enhanced with announcements by J. D. Power and Associates, an independent research firm, of its 1990 customer survey results.

Buick is the only domestic automaker and one of only two, including both domestics and imports, to place in the "top 10" of all Power customer surveys in the last two years.

Among all individual models sold in the United States, Buick's LeSabre is ranked by buyers in the 1990 Initial Quality Survey as the top domestic car for the second straight year and No. 6 among 120 domestic and imported models. LeSabre is No. 1 among all makes in the full-size segment.

Century is highest domestic and No. 4 overall in the mid-size category, Electra/Park Avenue is highest domestic and No. 8 overall among luxury cars, Regal coupe is No. 2 overall in mid-size specialty cars and Skylark is No. 10 overall among compacts.

IN ADDITION to the new Park Avenue, Park Avenue Ultra, Roadmaster Estate Wagon and Regal sedan, Buick's 1991 line features more powerful engines with electronically controlled automatic transmissions in Reatta coupe and convertible and Riviera, the same powertrain introduced in the 1991 Park Avenue and Park Avenue Ultra.

The advanced 3800 V-6 with tuned port injection, introduced as an exclusive option in the 1990 Regal coupe, is the standard engine in the 1991 Park Avenue, Park Avenue Ultra, Riviera, Reatta and Regal Gran Sport.

This engine, which substantially boosts mid-range torque and delivers 170 hp compared with 165 hp in the regular 3800, continues as optional in other Regals, including the 1991 Regal sedan introduced in June.

It is also fuel efficient, delivering estimated EPA fuel economy ratings of 18 mpg city and 27 highway in the Park Avenue, Riviera and Reatta and 19 city, 28 highway in the Regal.

THE ROADMASTER name returns this fall for the first time since 1958 on the 1991 Roadmaster Estate Wagon, a full-size aerodynamic rear-wheel-drive wagon powered by a fuel-injected 5-liter, V-8 engine. The engine delivers 170 hp, up 30 hp from the 1990 Estate Wagon powerplant. This is the first major redesign since 1978 of the most luxurious wagon offered by General Motors.

Full-size, rear-wheel-drive 1992 Roadmaster and Roadmaster Limited sedans, featuring a 5.7-liter, fuel-injected V-8 as the standard engine, will debut in spring. The engine delivers 180 hp. A new Buick feature debuting as standard on the Roadmaster Limited is a variable effort steering system.

Except for Estate Wagon, these will be the first rear-drive Buicks

Along with coverage provided by WKBD-TV 50, 28 radio stations will broadcast live from "Radio Row" during the public portion of the show.

On Monday-Wednesday, the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association supplied 1991-model cars for news media members to test drive.

AS NAIAS is opened to the public Jan. 12, a group of international designers will continue showcasing their latest innovations in automotive styling.

Participants include U.S.-based ASC Inc. and Industrial Design Research, as well as Pininfarina and Bertone from Italy. Michelin Tire Corp. and the Center for Creative Studies in Detroit will also have a cooperative display showcasing advanced fitments and vehicle designs.

The annual Automotive News World Congress and the Society of Automotive Analysts are scheduled to run concurrently with NAIAS.

For the third consecutive year, the 11,000-square-foot Michelin Media Center will set up shop in rooms 03-45 and 03-46 in Cobo Conference & Exhibition Center and will assist international media representatives in keeping abreast of events throughout the show.

Armed with every participating manufacturers' press kit, the Michelin Media Center will also supply word processors, typewriters, fax machines and telephones to expedite worldwide media coverage.

Sport-utility vehicles: a popular breed

FULL-SIZE, mid-size or mini-size, sport-utility vehicles combine the benefits of a roomy station wagon with the ruggedness of a truck.

So popular have these rough-and-tough wagons become that they account for 32 percent of all new-vehicle sales, with a full two-thirds of SUV buyers opting for four-door models.

Almost every major manufacturer, as well as many of the smaller companies, will have some form of off-road vehicle in their stands at this year's North American International Auto Show.

Most SUVs are equipped with high ground clearance and full- or part-time four-wheel drive. Many are also loaded with all the creature comforts normally found in passenger cars. Air conditioning, cruise-control sophisticated stereo systems and plush seats are as commonplace as oversized tires and automatic locking hubs.

TWO NEW additions to the four-wheel-drive family are scheduled to appear at the 1991 auto show: the Mazda Navajo and Isuzu Rodeo.

The Navajo is built on the Ford Explorer platform and shares its 4.0-liter, 155-hp V6 engine. Of historical note, this is the first vehicle produced by a domestic manufacturer for a Japanese car company. Standard on Mazda's new SUV are rear-wheel anti-lock brakes, gas-pressurized front and rear shocks and "shift-on-the-fly" four-wheel drive.

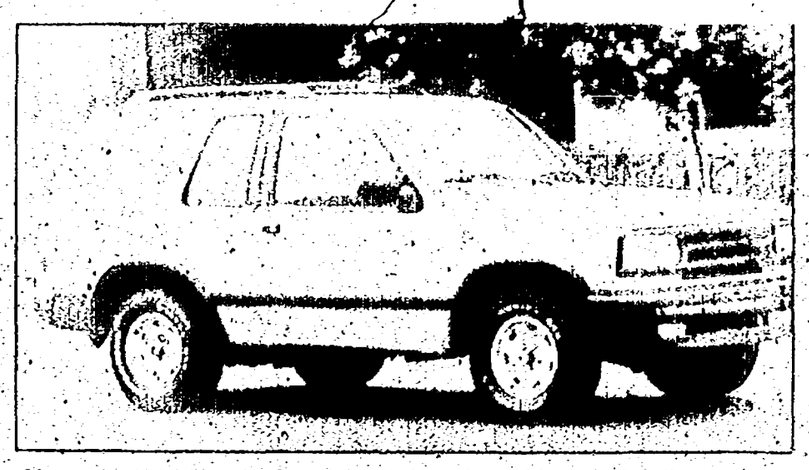
Isuzu's Rodeo joins the popular four-door, mid-size SUV market. Resembling the Nissan Pathfinder and Toyota 4Runner, the Rodeo is one of the lowest-priced SUVs in its class. It can be equipped with a four- or six-cylinder engine.

Oldsmobile is offering its first-ever SUV, the four-door Bravada, introduced at the 1990 show as a '91 model. The Bravada is the only General Motors mid-size SUV triplet (GMC's S-15 Jimmy and Chevrolet's S-10 Blazer being its siblings) equipped with full-time four-wheel drive. It is powered by a 4.3-liter, 160-hp V6 engine and a four-speed automatic transmission.

The full-size SUV market continues to thrive, with Chevy's Blazer and Ford's Bronco leading the charge. Massive engines like GM's 230-hp, 7.4-liter V8, found in its Suburban line, are the industry's largest and are usually powertrains of choice.

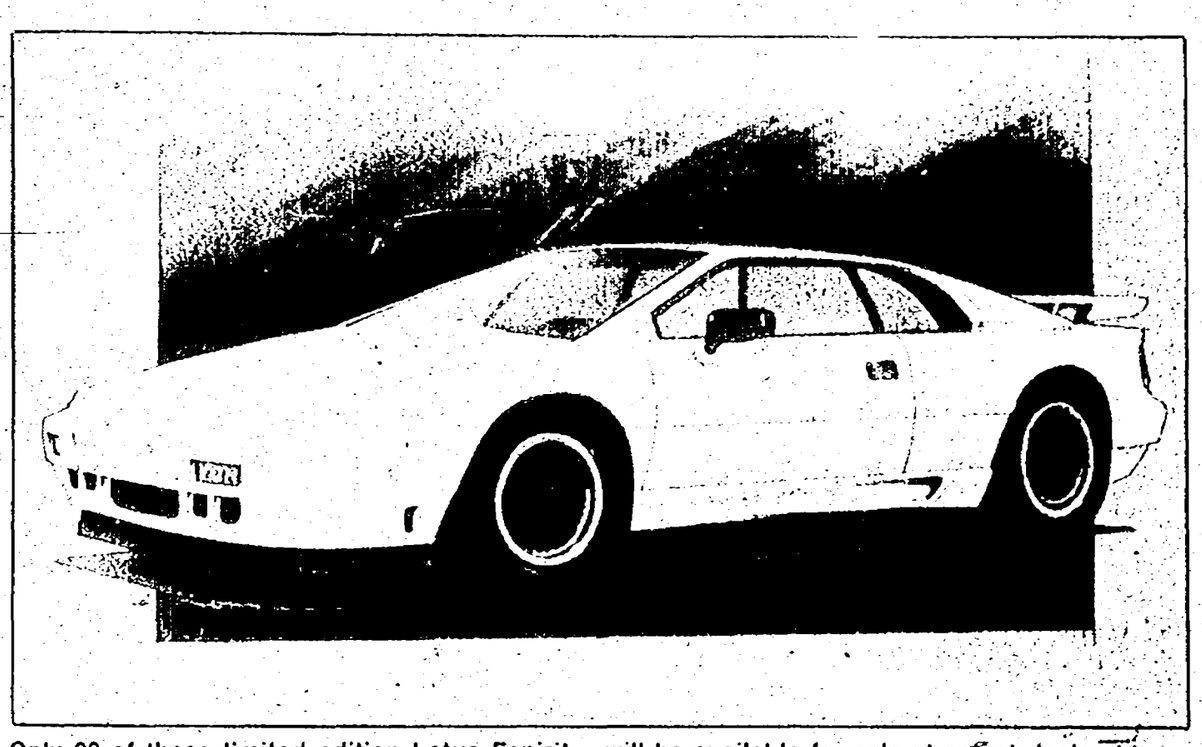
The Dodge Ramcharger, Jeep Grand Wagoneer and the luxurious Range Rover also compete in this market niche.

Interest in SUVs doesn't seem to be waning. Consumers enjoy driving their Jeep Wranglers and Suzuki Sidekicks to work, the mall and on vacation. SUVs offer excellent traction in foul weather, plenty of storage space and a confidence-enhanced feeling for the driver.



Mazda's 1991 Navajo has the distinction of being the first vehicle produced by a domestic auto company (it is built on a Ford Explorer platform) for a Japanese car maker.

Wins bring race car replicas to showrooms



Only 20 of these limited edition Lotus Espirit Turbo SEs, a replica of the Lotus race car used on the SCCA Escort World Challenge Series, will be available for sale at select dealerships for a cool $125,000.

TWENTY LIMITED edition Lotus Esprit Turbo SE race car replicas will be sold through select dealerships, according to company officials. Ten already are spoken for by enthusiastic customers.

The company decided to produce the high-profile replicas to celebrate its victories in four of the first seven races in the SCCA Escort World Challenge Series.

One of the remaining special-issue models may be making an appearance at the North American International Auto Show.

The replicas will incorporate most of the performance, handling and safety modifications found on Esprit race cars. A complete roll cage, racing wheels and tires, racing suspension and handling refinements, modified seating with six-point harnesses; "basics only" instrumentation, a driver's side airbag and monochromatic white exterior make up the package.

To visually distinguish the replicas from an "everyday" Esprit, special decals featuring the green and yellow Lotus race car graphics will be available. Owners have the option of applying the decals.

The company decided to produce the high-profile replicas to celebrate its victories in four of the first seven races in the SCCA Escort World Challenge Series.

IN STREET trim, the Esprit Turbo SE is powered by a 264 hp, turbocharged, 16-valve, 2.2-liter, four-cylinder engine.

The mid-engine design helps the Esprit to perform competitively with some of the fastest "supercars" in the world. The car's zero-to-60 time is 4.7 seconds. Top speed is 165 mph. The race car replica is reported to be a tick faster.

Racing the Esprit was a natural, said Ron Foster, president and CEO of Lotus Cars USA Inc.

"Lotus has a rich racing heritage, perhaps more so than any other automotive marque. The Lotus Esprit Turbo SE is the closest thing to a race car that a customer can take off a showroom floor. Marketing the Esprit on the racetrack just made good business sense."

The Escort World Challenge is a SCCA Pro Racing Series modeled after the European Group A races, which pit strictly regulated, high-performance sports cars against each other on world-class race courses.

Dating back to Lotus' first triumph at the 1956 LeMans 24-hours, the Hethel, England-based company has accumulated 78 Grand Prix wins.

Its return to racing in the United States this year marks the 25th anniversary of Jim Clark's driving a Lotus Type 38 to the company's lone Indianapolis 500 victory.

Retail price for the Esprit Turbo SE replica is about $125,000.

since the 1987 Regal and the first Buicks with a standard V-8 engine since the 1985 Riviera.

Both the wagon and sedan have 5,000-pound towing capacities.

"ROADMASTER WAS a great name for premium Buicks from 1936 until model names were changed for 1959; in fact, I don't know why we left that name on the shelf so long," Mertz said.

"The new Roadmaster Estate Wagon, and the 1992 Roadmaster and Roadmaster Limited sedans, are perfect models to wear that proud name. For those who prefer full-frame vehicles with rear-wheel drive, these models perfectly define Buick's mission of providing contemporary cars that are substantial, distinctive, powerful and mature — premium American motorcars."

Mertz said the return of Roadmaster reflects Buick's responsiveness to the marketplace. All other Buicks have front-wheel drive, which many customers prefer. Roadmaster is a response to a significant group of buyers who prefer either the ride and handling characteristics or the higher towing capability of rear drive, he said.

HIGHLIGHTS OF technical improvements throughout the lineup:

- The electronically controlled automatic transmission, introduced as standard on the 1991 Park Avenue and Park Avenue Ultra in mid-summer, is now also standard on Reatta and Riviera.
- Park Avenue and Park Avenue Ultra are eight inches longer than their predecessors with 3.9 cubic feet of additional trunk volume. They have flush-mounted glass and aerodynamic styling. These new models offer an array of new features including dual automatic climate controls for the driver and passenger (standard in Ultra), "solar control" glass to reduce harmful sun rays; substantial reinforcement of the body structure to virtually eliminate vibration; and oil-life and oil-level monitors to alert the driver on when to add and change oil. Towing capacity is 3,000 pounds, compared with 2,000 previously.
- Roadmaster Estate Wagon features an all-new aerodynamic shape and flush glass and door handles for improved efficiency. The 5-liter, V-8 engine with electronic fuel injection delivers 170 hp. The projected EPA fuel-economy rating is 16 mpg city and 25 highway. "Vista roof," a dark-tinted glass panel positioned midway in the roof, provides an open-air look.
- LaSabre has structural improvements, a new brake/transmission interlock, a new optional anti-lock brake system and revised front struts for improved ride.
- The 2.5-liter Tech 4 engine, standard in the compact Skylark and mid-size Century, has a new dual resonator induction system to reduce noise and engine vibration. The 3300 V-6 engine, optional in Skylark and Century, has reduced idle speed to make it even smoother and quieter.
- Anti-lock brakes are standard on the new Roadmaster Estate Wagon, Park Avenue and Park Avenue Ultra, newly standard on Riviera and continue as standard on Reatta. ABS is a new option on the Skylark Gran Sport coupe and continues as optional on LeSabre, Regal Limited and Regal Gran Sport. It will be standard on the 1992 Roadmaster sedans.
- Supplemental inflatable restraints (air bags) for the driver are now standard on Park Avenue, Park Avenue Ultra and Roadmaster Estate Wagon and continue as standard on Riviera and Reatta. They will be standard on the 1992 Roadmaster sedans.
- The Regal coupe gets an exterior freshening for 1991. Both the coupe and the 1991 Regal sedan include new 15- and 16-inch aluminum wheels, a new standard 55/45 front seat with storage armrest for Custom models and new front bucket seats with center console, standard in Gran Sport. There is a new full analog gauge cluster, standard in Limited and Gran Sport, plus richer woodgrain accents and upgraded door panel trim.
- The steel exterior body panels (except roofs) of most Buicks are galvanized on both sides for increased corrosion resistance.

The 1991 limited edition Oldsmobile Cutlass Calais Quad 442 includes an enhanced Quad 4 engine, a special transaxle, fuel system improvements and anti-lock brakes.

Olds plans special Calais

VISITORS TO the North American International Auto Show will be treated to a sneak preview of a limited edition of Oldsmobile Cutlass Calais Quad 442, which will take to the streets in March.

The new Quad 442, with a special W41 handling and performance package, includes an enhanced Quad 4 engine, a special transaxle with a close ratio 5th gear and a 3.94 final drive ratio, anti-lock brakes and fuel system enhancements.

"This limited edition Cutlass Calais Quad 442 will offer the perfect balance of responsive power, crisp handling and the kind of fuel economy that today's car buyers are demanding," said Larry Lyons, Oldsmobile's general engineering and planning manager.

"It also showcases the potential of the Quad 4 engine and is an indication of the innovative powertrain features made possible with this outstanding double overhead cam four-cylinder," added Lyons.

The name W41 is a derivation of a historic Oldsmobile name and one synonymous with power and innovation. In 1968, Oldsmobile released the W31 option for the F85 and Cutlass Supreme coupe to a world hungry for more powerful engines.

The option gave buyers just that: a potent 325 hp, 350 cubic inch V8 with the choice of a three-speed, or close or wide ratio four-speed transmissions, and the choice of a 3.91 or 4.33 rear axle.

Only 500 were built in 1968. While it continued as an option through the 1970 model year, it is today considered a valuable collector's car.

"In its day, the W31 was an outstanding example of Oldsmobile innovation," Lyons said. "And we expect this new W41 option will continue that rich tradition of Oldsmobile innovation and powertrain excellence."

Mercedes 500E makes U.S. debut

AFICIONADOS OF German-engineered Autobahn cruisers will have the opportunity to gaze at the 1992 Mercedes-Benz 500E as it makes its first U.S. appearance at the North American International Auto Show.

Company officials say that the car will go on sale next September as a 1992 model.

Owners of this newest issue from Germany will be greeted with seemingly endless supplies of horsepower and torque generated by an aluminum block, 5.0-liter, 32-valve, 322 hp V-8 engine. This is the same engine that powers the company's top-of-the-line 500SL roadster. Also borrowed from Mercedes' slick flagship are its 225/55ZR tires and 16-inch wheels, four-wheel anti-lock brakes and four-speed automatic transmission.

Performance specialists from Porsche had a hand in the 500E's four-wheel independent suspension and chassis tuning, and added shock absorber, spring and anti-roll bar upgrades. Zero to 60 acceleration is estimated at about six seconds; top speed should reach an impressive 155 mph.

All of this high-performance equipment is wrapped inside a four-door body lifted directly off the 300 series assembly line.

The interior boasts leather seats, automatic climate control, a 10-speaker stereo and two air bags.

The estimated sticker price: $65,000.

The 1992 Mercedes-Benz 500E, not available until September, sports a 5.0 liter, 32-valve, V-8 engine for plenty of horsepower (322 hp) and torque.

World Congress on tap

The 15th Automotive News World Congress, co-sponsored by Automotive News and the University of Michigan Transportation Research Institute, will be held in conjunction with the North American International Auto Show.

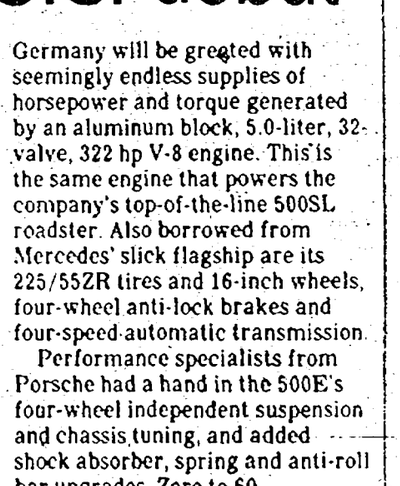
Industry leaders from around the world are expected to attend the event, scheduled for Sunday-Wednesday, Jan. 13-16, at the Westin Hotel in Detroit.

Robert Lutz, Chrysler Motors president, will deliver the keynote address. Joseph Gorman, TRW Inc. chairman, will address the Sunday night opening session.

During the four-day Congress, internationally acclaimed experts and executives from auto manufacturing and supplier businesses will present insights into the global automotive industry of the 1990s.

Sessions are planned for Monday and Tuesday. Also planned are an exclusive morning visit to the auto show and a gala dinner Tuesday evening.

The Automotive News World Congress concludes with a session on Wednesday morning.



Robert Lutz
Chrysler president

Mortgage rates ease, opening door for buyers

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Buyers of houses and condominiums in metro Detroit continue to find fixed-rate mortgages attractive, as rates for 15 and 30-year instruments held in the range of 9⅛-9½ percent for the week of Jan.1.

Mortgage rates are lower now than a year ago, and in some instances, are at their lowest levels in several years.

"I won't say rates have never been better, but they're as low as they have been in the last 10 years," said Michael Lubig, vice president and general manager of the mortgage department for Standard Federal Bank.

Gregory Quick, vice president of secondary marketing for Comerica Mortgage, had a similar observation. "In general, we haven't seen rates at this level since the first part of 1987."

Lower mortgage rates means more house for the money for buyers at the upper end of the spectrum and more people able to enter the market as first time buyers at the lower end.

Refinancing activity also has increased.

SEVERAL FACTORS have resulted in lower mortgage rates.

One was the decision of the Federal Reserve to lower its discount rate in mid-December from 7 to 6½ percent to stave off a recession, said Al Marshall, vice president of business development for First Federal of Michigan.

"Hopefully, they (financial institutions) can pass that savings on to their customers," he said. "The key was the discount rate being reduced and supply and demand, the market being down."

Rates can now fluctuate daily, Quick said. "Most residential mortgages are packaged into securities purchased by investors.

"What's going on in capital markets basically is the belief we're in a recession and we'll continue to be in a recession for a time period in 1991 and that typically ushers in a reduction in demand for money. Consumers zip up their pockets and rates come down," Quick said.

Mortgage lenders and builders are hoping the drop in interest rates will help lookers turn into buyers.

'There's an ample supply of mortgage money now. It's a buyer's market. A lot of mortgage bankers are competing for a smaller piece of the pie."

— Michael Lubig
Standard Federal Bank

MANY BANKING executives, including Daniel B. Smith, vice president and branch manager for Republic Bancorp Mortgage, believe that rates will fall even more.

"With the economy slowing down, people aren't buying big-ticket items. They (Federal Reserve governors) are trying to keep the economy going," Smith said.

'I won't say rates have never been better, but they're as low as they have been in the last 10 years.'

— Michael Lubig
vice president
Standard Federal Bank

"There's an ample supply of mortgage money now," Lubig said. "It's a buyer's market. A lot of mortgage bankers are competing for a smaller piece of the pie."

Fixed-rate mortgages generally are more popular now than adjustable rate mortgages or balloon payments, executives in the business indicated.

During the week of Jan. 1, rates on 15-year mortgages could be had from 9⅛-9¼ percent, 30-year mortgages at 9½ percent. Mortgagees would pay 2 points on those loans, or 2 percent of the amount borrowed, at the time of closing.

ADJUSTABLE RATE mortgages that week were available at 7¼ percent.

The attraction for fixed rates?

"Borrowers know the worst-case scenario," Marshall said. "They know what's going to happen every month for the life of the loan."

Lubig projected that upwards of 90 percent of all first mortgages originated at Standard Federal are of the fixed variety.

"It's essentially consumers wanting to lock in relatively low rates for a long time," Quick said. "That's a case of a lot of people wanting to reduce financial uncertainty."

Loans fixed for a period of years then ballooning to a final payment or refinancing also have niches.

Republic Bancorp's most popular product now is a seven-year balloon at 9⅛ percent on a 30-year amortization schedule, Smith said. After seven years, mortgagees pay off the loan or refinance.

"I'M GETTING a lot of people absolutely sure they're not going to be in the house for seven years so they won't have to refinance," he said.

Comerica Mortgage offers a 5/25 plan at 8⅞ percent annually for five years. A formula determines payments for the final 25 years.

First-time buyers and "anyone who finds himself relocating periodically" would like that option, Quick said.

The general rule of thumb on how much debt lenders believe consumers should handle for housing still holds, Marshall said. That's 28 percent of gross income to service the principal, interest, taxes and insurance on the mortgage, 36 percent of gross income including all other debt.

Builders predict solid year

By Doug Funke
staff writer

Housing starts this year will rise by 9.5 percent from 10,500 to 11,500 if war doesn't break out in the Middle East, according to projections of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

That increase would follow a decline of 15 percent between 1989 and 1990. A record 12,400 single-family permits were pulled in 1989.

"For most of our members, 1991 should be a very, very good year," said James S. Bonadeo, BASM president. "We believe interest rates have opened a window of opportunity for buyers to buy now."

Bonadeo and other BASM officers read prepared statements and responded to questions Tuesday during the association's annual news conference on the state of the local building industry.

"Home building in southeastern Michigan maintained a relatively high level of activity (in 1990), though slightly less than the year before," said Fred Capaldi Jr., BASM secretary.

"IT WAS A solid year for most builders. Average home prices here have increased slightly yet remain a bargain by other market standards — around $114,000." he said. "That suggests a relatively stable economy.

"There is also some evidence that the gap is narrowing between average earned income and average home prices, enabling buyers to better afford new homes. Given the competition in our business and the improved lending rates, there's no better time to buy a new home than now," Capaldi said.

'Builders are getting more requests for skylights, radius corners and tone-on-tone floor surfaces.'

— Bernard Glieberman

The environment, planning process and what buyers are looking for also were discussed by BASM officers.

"Builders are not really indifferent to the environment," said Robert Halperin, a BASM vice president. "We're residents of this world, too, and we know how critical it is to protect the natural ecosystem. Home buyers, too, are demanding more preservation of natural surroundings in the development of land.

"WE WILL OPPOSE unnecessary restrictions in the name of environment that serve only the interests of a few in a community, that make it more costly to purchase a home and that pose no real rewards to nature," Halperin added.

Irvin H. Yackness, BASM executive vice president and lawyer, spoke about the planning process.

"Zoning for low density, large-size lots does limit the amount of land that can be developed. It also drives up home prices to the point where the term 'affordable' does not include lower- and middle-class families.

"Lots must be designated for future residents of all economic means, not just the wealthy," Yackness said. "Master planning must not only involve developers, engineers, environmentalists as well as planners in order to arrive at meaningful solutions for future growth."

Bernard Glieberman, first vice president, talked about what prospects are looking for in a new house.

"INNOVATION IS the name of the game as we try to accommodate a more discerning home buyer. Great rooms continue to be a major feature. We'll see more of fitness rooms and media rooms in custom houses.

"Builders are getting more requests for skylights, radius corners and tone-on-tone floor surfaces. More built-in storage space and plentiful shelving are also important. There are more built-in appliances and entertainment centers.

"As we approach the 21st Century, we're seeing more use of remote controls for appliances, heating and cooling, and security systems," Glieberman said.

Builders have been able to weather the recent economic downturn because they have downsized their own operations.

"Nobody is panicking," Halperin said. "The building industry is a lot like the car industry. Sales are down but there's not a lot of layoffs. Maybe hours will be reduced. I don't think there will be wholesale layoffs.

"THERE'S NOT a lot of spec housing. We don't have a supply of lots like 1979, '80," he said

Capaldi said, "I think Detroit at one time was known strictly as an auto town. When the industry grew sick, everything slowed down. We don't see that now. Different occupations seem to be building, buying houses. We seem to have diversified so we aren't as affected as years ago."

Traffic from would-be buyers has picked up the last couple of months, builders said.

"It seems to me by April or early May, we should have a handle on what will happen for the year," Capaldi said.

Funds for builders will be available either through traditional banking channels or other private sources, Halperin projected. The National Home Builders Association will lobby for fewer restrictions on financial institutions.

"One of the greatest problems facing the industry today is the availability of development funds," Halperin said. "Restrictions placed on banks have curtailed that severely. It will be addressed and funds again may flow back to the system."

Private funding, such as syndications for specific project, is an alternative, Halperin said. "Funds will be available because housing must be built. There is a need."

"There have been very, very few problems with savings and loans in our area," Glieberman said. "Banks in this area . . . have always been conservative. They never went on a limb like on the East and West coasts."

Assuming war does not break out in the Middle East, the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan is predicting a rebound in housing starts after a dip in 1990, which followed the record year of 1989.

New home sales rebound; affordabilty increases

(AP) — Sales of new homes rose 2.8 percent in November, rebounding after an October plunge to levels not seen since the last recession, the government said. But despite the gain, the sales pace remained weak.

Sales totaled a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 506,000, approaching the 507,000 rate posted in September, the departments of Commerce and Housing and Urban Development said in a joint report.

October sales had fallen a revised 3 percent, to 492,000 units, a bit better than the 3.5 percent decline first reported last month. That had been the lowest level since 480,000 units were bought in October 1982, a month before the end of the last recession.

Sales have fallen during eight of the 11 months of 1990 and the November gain was the first advance since last June.

Nevertheless, sales during the first 11 months of 1990 were 16.6 percent below those of the same period of 1989. Sales totaled 676,000 in 1988.

At the November pace, it would take 7.8 months to exhaust the inventory of unsold homes down from 8.3 months in both September and October.

The national housing industry has been in a slump for about two years and weak new home sales portend further sluggishness as builders tend to postpone plans when demand is lacking.

The Commerce Department reported that overall construction spending in November fell 0.6 percent to its lowest level in two years. The decline wiped out the October increase, the first gain in building activity in six months.

THE CONSTRUCTION industry lost 62,000 jobs last month, according to Labor Department statistics. Over the past six months, the industry has seen jobs tumble by about 250,000, the government said.

The median price of a new home in November rose 1.2 percent to $121,500. The median price means half of the homes cost more, half less.

The National Association of Realtors reported earlier that sales of existing homes in November rose 3.0 percent, to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 3.14 million units, following declines of 3.8 percent in October and 9.4 percent in September.

The median existing home price in November was $91,300, the association said.

The South posted the only regional decline in new home sales, off 0.9 percent to 221,000 units.

Sales rose 7.7 percent to 84,000 homes in the Midwest, 7.1 percent to 120,000 units in the West and 1.3 percent to 81,000 in the Northeast.

AT THE SAME time as housing starts are down, falling prices and rising incomes combined with mortgage rates to push up the typical American family's ability to buy an existing home to its highest level in 13 years, a real estate trade group said Thursday.

The National Association of Realtors said its Housing Affordability Index reached 115.6 in November, up from 113.3 in October and the highest since it hit 116.0 in December 1977.

The 115.6 reading means a family earning the national median income of $35,467 had 115.6 percent of the income needed to qualify for conventional financing covering 80 percent of a median-priced home costing $91,300.

The median price of an existing home dropped $1,600 from $92,900 in October, while median incomes rose $114 from $35,353.

The median means half of the houses cost more and half less, or that half of the incomes totaled more and half less.

At the same time, the interest rate inched up from 9.96 percent in October to 9.97 percent in November.

Sponge on the colors

Sponging is one of the quickest and easiest decorative paint techniques.

It involves simply dipping a sponge in paint, then lightly dabbing it onto the desired surface.

According to Decorating magazine, sponging works well on furniture and walls, and offers a variety of effects. By sponging light colors over a dark base, for example, a different look will be achieved than if sponging a dark color over a light base coat.

Likewise, the results will be different when sponging on one color than if sponging on several shades. By using two or more colors, more subtle results can be achieved than if choosing only one shade, especially if the single shade markedly contrasts with the base coat.

Depending on the size of the pores in the sponge selected and spacing used, either a dense or an airy surface can be created. The best bet for a soft, dappled effect is to use a natural sea sponge, not a synthetic, and to choose one with medium-sized holes.

Begin by soaking the sponge in clean water to make it soft and pliable.

As a general rule, the paint is sponged onto a wall that already has been painted the desired base color. A semi-gloss latex can be used both as a base coat and for the sponging, but a solvent-based paint or tint glaze will give a more cloudy effect.

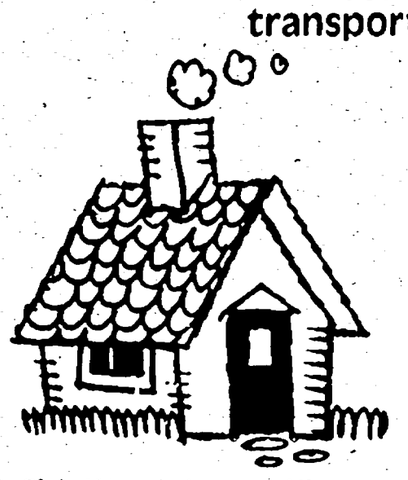
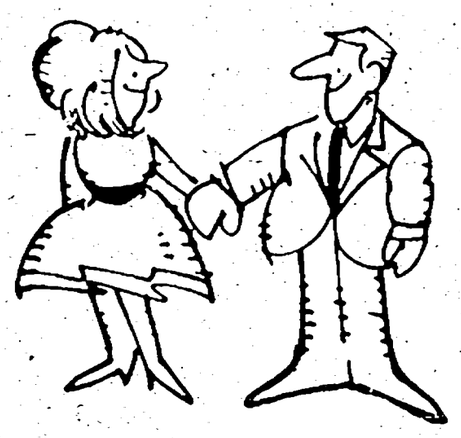
WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

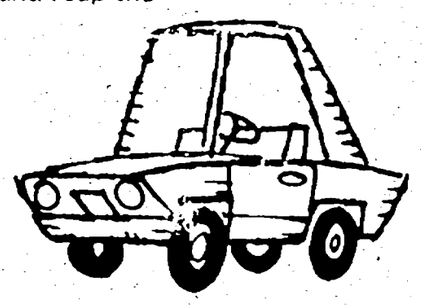


1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

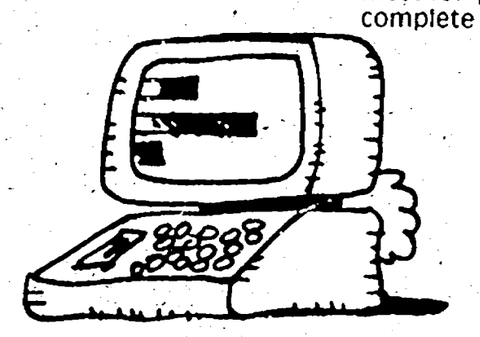
2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.



3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.



4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!



5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.
