Board deadlocks on Headlee petition

Michigan voters will have to let the court decide whether they can vote on the Headlee 20percent property tax cut initiative.

The state Board of Canvassers deadlocked 2-2 Wednesday on whether to accept the staff report that the petition drive was 7,000 signatures short. Members are Republicans Jim Alexander, a Birmingham attorney and Oakland GOP chair, and Gail Torreano, a Senate staff member; and Democrats Mike Pyne, a UAW official from Lansing, and Bernice Shields of Detroit.

The two Democrats, Pyne and Shields, voted to accept the staff report and the two Republicans, Alexander and Torreano voted against accepting. "The Democrats have disenfranchised thouwithin two weeks," said Richard Headlee, chair- cess usually takes two months," publicist Bill man of Taxpayers United and a Farmington Hills

He complained that Secretary of State Richard Austin's staff allowed the Michigan Education Association to prove people aren't voters.

"They won't let us prove people are voters," Headlee said.

He said the election staff would not allow TU to submit affidavits from city and township clerksverifying that signers were indeed registered voters. "Taxpayers United took six months last year to collect 224,000 petition signatures for the Headlee tax cut initiative. TU needed 191,726 signatures. The Secretary of State staff used a sampling method to determine that only 184,390 were valid.

Earlier Wednesday, the state Senate did not vote on this resolution urging the canvassers to place Headlee II on the ballot.

Gov. John Engler last week issued a statement urging the canvassers to "move swiftly" in certifying the proposal.

IF APPROVED by voters, the Headlee initiative would create a new state law that will:

Abuse went on in shroud ofsience

An embattled Westland minister and his wife were suspected of abusing their children for at least six years before their arrest, and friends and associates who knew about it conceded this week that they didn't notify police.

"These children wouldn't have had to go through this if someone had come forward," Westland police Sgt. Laura Moore said.

Information about the couple unfolded this week as former friends and associates broke their silence and began speaking out against Michael Enersen, 36, minister of Westland Full Gospel Church, and his wife, Carol, 33. Both have admitted in court that they abused their children.

Friends fear for minister's kids

The Michael and Carol Enerson case continues to rock the Westland Full Gospel Church, on Palmer between Wildwood and Venoy, two weeks after the couple pleaded guilty in Detroit Recorder's Court to child abuse charges that stemmed from allegations the children had been bitten and severely beaten with a wooden paddle.

The Enersens remain free on a $1,000 bond pending sentencing May 31.

Authorities also said one child, the 13-year-old boy, had suffered malnutrition and has gained 25 pounds since he was removed from the Enersen home, next to the church. Howard Drewitz, a former administrator of Dearborn's Fairlane Christian School, confirmed Thursday that friends of the Enersens voiced concerns to him about six years ago that the children had been abused.

The two oldest children, born to Michael Enersen during a previous marriage, attended Fairlane at the time. (Enersen's former wife, Cheryl, died of congestive heart failure in 1978 at age 19. He married Carol about a year later, and they had four children.)

A grandmother of two Westland teenagers abused by their stepmother and their father, a local minister, vowed Tuesday to try to win custedy of the children she saw May 2 for the first time in 12 years.

Maternal grandmother Nancy Esparza of Detroit voiced outrage that her 16-year-old granddaughter, and her 13-year-old grandson had been severely beaten and bitten by their father, Michael Enersen, minister of Westland Full Gospel Church, and their stepmother, Westland Mayor Robert Thomas, saying the controversy over the firing of local cable television director Dennis Fassett has subsided, hopes to hire Fassett's successor by July 1.

Thomas and city council members plan to discuss contract terms for the vacant post during a special session scheduled for Monday. The mayor said the city could begin advertising the job as early as Tues-

Fassett, amid criticism from the mayor, some city council members and the cable commission, was ousted in February as the city's cable TV community relations consultant.

Since then, Fassett's former employees have kept the station operating under a temporary contract that expires June 30.

On Monday, Thomas and cable commission 'member Albert "Ed" Turner commended the cable station's workers.

"I think everything is running very, very smoothly," Turner said.

As Thomas propares to hire Fassell's successor by July 1, several people already have contacted him and placed their names in the pool of candidates. More applicants are expected to seek the post after the city begins officially advertising it.

Among those who have applied for the position is Drew Ramsey, an award-winning city of Southfield cable specialist whom Thomas Introduced to the city council as his handpicked choice after Fassett's firing.

THOUGH SOME city council members appeared impressed by Ramsey's qualifications, they balked at a plan to immediately hire him, telling the mayor they wanted Fassett's post advertised so they could attact a wider field of candidates.

Thomas had hoped to hire Ramsey, who is black, in part because the mayor has pledged to try to increase minority representation in local government.

"We need to hire some minorities in the city, and I was delighted to have a minority candidate come forward," Thomas said Monday, "And he was very qualified. There's no doubt about that."

However, Thomas said he would: be willing to change his recommendation if a more qualified candidate applies for the cable post.

Thomas has authority to recommend a cable director, but the counfeil must approve the contract.

Therefore, both the mayor and a majority of council members will have to agree on the next cable chief before the position will be filled and a contract signed.

Thomas held out hope that local cable programming will be dramatically improved once the issue is set-

"By next year, I think we'll see some real improvements," he said.

DREWITZ DID not notify police of the potential child abuse. Instead, he called the Enersens to his office for a conference.

"We felt from the viewpoint of the school that there were some problems," Drewitz said.

However, the Enersens denied they had abused the children, and Drewitz said school officials had no proof. Shortly after the conference with Drewitz, the Enerse's removed their children from the school and began teaching them at home.

Laura Moore, Westland police sergeant, indicated that Drewitz, by law, should have notified authorities of the child abuse allegations.

In another development, child abuse prosecutor Maria Oxholm and a Department of Social Services official, who demanded she not be identifled, confirmed that proceedings pending in probate court could result in the Enersens losing their remaining four children. The two oldest children were taken from their custody March 11.

FORMER ASSOCIATES appeared deeply concerned about the children still in the Enersens' custody.

Full Gospel Church, said Enersen "is say. I'm concerned about the klds. especially the young ones who are still in the home."

Story, now a minister in Houston, said he had told Enersen on one occasion to calm down as he disciplined his oldest son..

"I did see him grab (the son) by the throat and lift him up with his feet kicking and his face turning red," Story said. "I told him to put him down."

Story never notified authorities of the potential of child abuse.

"It's one of those things you don't want to believe," he said.

MEANWHILE, Barbara Kaczor, who knew the Enersens before they switched from the Brightmoor Tabernacle in Southfield to Westland Full Gospel Church about five years ago, confirmed that she and one of her friends had confronted the Enersens about the abuse and also had made it known to the Fairlane Christian School.

"I blame myself for not making a bigger stink then," Kaczor said "But tracted court battle and its accom-I figured they (school officials) would handle it.

Kaczor also has written to Bill Minister Anthony Story, Michael Leach, leader of the Michigan Dis-

Enersen's predecessor at Westland trict of the Assemblies of God, the denomination to which the Enersens given to rages. I don't know what to' belong Kaczor wants to raise concerns about Enersen remaining at the pulpit, she said.

"If you can't take care of your own house, how are you going to take care of the house of God?" she asked,

Kaczor and several other Assemblies of God members have voiced concerns that Enersen could cast a shadow on the entire religious district.

IN OTHER developments, religjous radio station WMUZ aired a program on Friday in which the Enersen case was discussed with panel members, including Sgt. Moore. The program prompted calls from supporters and critics of the Enersens, WMUZ announcer Al Kresta said.

Several church members appeared "very troubled" because "they think we're airing dirty linen," Kresta said.

But Kresta said the Enersen case warrants open discussion, especially in light of the minister's address to his congregation in which he said he admitted guilt only to avoid a propanying legal fees.

"I think that's lousy in light of the evidence," Kresta said.

The Enersens could have sought a public defender to avoid court costs, Kresta sald.

Esparza sald she became distressed 12 years ago when Michael Enersen severed her ties to her grandchildren shortly after her daughter died.

"I was told that because Michael had remarried that the bloodline of the children had changed," she said.

Though Esparza described Enersen's discipline as strict, she still appeared shocked that he would abuse his children and allow his wife to do the same.

I just could not believe that Michael-could-do such a thing to hischildren," she said. "He was always a strict parent, but he was a loving strict parent."

WESTLAND POLICE Sgt. Laura Moore, who investigated the case, said authorities found human bite marks and bruises on the children. The 16-year-old girl had been so severely beaten with a wooden paddle that her buttocks were seeping blood, police said.

The boy had suffered from malnutrition and has gained about 25 pounds since he was removed from the Enersen home, Moore and Esparza have sald.

Despite his admission of guilt to child abuse, Michael Enerson has remained as minister at Westland Full Gospel Church on Palmer, between Wildwood and Venoy. Current congregation members have volced widespread support for him and his wife, saying charges against them have been overblown.

The church, affillated with the worldwide Assemblies of God, has some 700 members.

Lincoln Elementary School students in Westland had their Biosphere III project expand from a building activity into one for which the rest of the school district was

The project, based on a real-life development in Arizona, was geared to teaching fifth and sixth graders in the Norwayne school about the balance of nature on earth, which teachers said is Biosphere I.

"We also wanted a project in which all levels of pupils could participate."

Initially, the project which occupies the entire Lincoln School gym, was to be up for two days and one night last week to allow parents to observe the completed biosphere.

Bozek said the Lincoln School project has a much lower price tag: $750 in two grants from the Wayne County Regional Educational Ser-vices Agency and Detroit Edison

In a summary of the project, students said that the Biosphere III project "taught us all many wonderful things about this place we call home — the earth. We have discovered how it works, what keeps it working, why it is important to preserve it and many of the secrets it still has waiting to be discovered by the generations of tomorrow."

The pupils also listed scores of things they learned in the past five months while working on the project, such as how to organize information, which organizations to contact to obtain data, how to build ideas, making of puppets for plays, Latin, math ratios, biological systems, food chains and life cycles, nutrition, -- and -- how

Schools optimistic about parental consent waiver

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Wayne-Westland school officials appeared optimistic Friday that they will avoid being-forced to tell young girls how to bypass the state's parental consent law and get a court waiver for an abortion.

The state Senate has decided school districts should not be forced to tell minors how to get the probate court waiver, and Wayne-Westland Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said he has heard strong indications that the state House will follow suit.

"I sure hope so," he said. "We've got enough to handle without being involved in that business. We're not supposed to be talking about the abortion business."

The controversial bill has drawn both praise and criticism from parents and school officials who have lined up on opposing sides in the abortion debate.

Some pro-choice advocates have said school districts should tell minors how to get a court waiver for an specifically, how to get a probate abortion because many teenagers do not feel comfortable talking with their parents about such issues.

Others, however, believe the sole decision on whether minors receive abortions should come from their parents.

JAMES PRATT, president of the Wayne-Westland Area PTA Council, has said he favors having minors taught about the probate court walver because "young girls, like all women, should have the choice over what happens to their bodies."

The Wayne-Westland district has received several telephone calls from parents - some of whom support the parental consent measure and some of whom oppose it, O'Neill court waiver to bypass it.

Local school officials have been trying to decide how to comply with the portion of the bill that says districts must inform students in grades six through 12 about the parental consent legislation and, sue.

DISTRICTS WOULD be required to give students notices that list the address and telephone number of the probate court serving their communities. The notice requirement has been included as part of the Parental Rights Restoration Act.

The act demands parental consent for abortions on unemancipated minors, defined as a person younger than 18 who either is not married, is not on active duty in the armed services, or has not been declared to have the rights and responsibilities of an adult by a court. O'Neill commended the Senate's decision to remove the requirement that school districts tell minors how to seek a probate court waiver, and he held out hope the House will make Benton's vehicle was hit virtually head on by the pickup truck, he said. Hissong said he would not know what charges would be filed against the pickup truck driver until he learned whether Benton would survive the crash.

ANOTHER SOUTHBOUND Wayne Road motorist, 31-year-old Brad Jennings of Westland, also was struck by the truck driver, though Jennings apparently received only minor injuries and declined to receive treatment at a hospital.

The truck driver was injured and -listed in fair condition at Garden City Hospital, Hissong said.

The crash disrupted traffic for about 45 minutes Tuesday morning, causing a temporary lane closing that prompted a traffic bottleneck during the morning rush hour.

THE PICKUP truck tipped over on its passenger side after the driver lost control and began skidding toward oncoming traffic, Hissong

Though the officer had not yet determined the truck driver's exact: speed, he did say it was "excessive." Alcohol was not thought to be a contributing factor in the crash, but Hissong said the truck driver apparently had been taking some type of medication.

"It appears to be prescribed medication," he said.

"In recent years, we've been cooperating with the Environmental Protection Agency and the DNR by peribdically examining the property,' said Superintendent Joseph Marinelli. "On April 19 we got a letter from the DNR, telling us to take additional precautions to safeguard people until the site is investigated.'

NEW RULES regarding access to the Cooper grounds have been set. They include:

• Banning students, staff, parents and visitors from grassy areas.

• Limiting students to playing on asphalt, with the asphalt surrounded by a fence. • The posting of "no trespassing"

The DNR will oversee the work done by the district's consultant, Clayton Engineering. Soil is eroding on the site, and chil-

The Livonia school district bought the site in 1965 and the new Cooper school opened in 1966. It replaced an older building on the southeast corner of Middlebelt and Ann Arbor Trail, which has been vacant for most of the past 26 years.

CAPPING, IF required, may not be complete by September, when school reopens. Students will continue to play on the asphalt in the fenced-in areas until capping, if needed, is complete, Scarpelli said.

"That's a pretty big move, putting kids in a fenced-in area," she said. "But it's a precautionary thing.

"Parents are concerned that the school might not open in the fall. I don't foresee the school closing, but I can't rule it out. I don't think parents' concerns will be alleviated until the investigation is done in the next few weeks."

If the site is capped, the district must come up with a long-term plan for maintaining it, to take care of additional erosion, Scarpelli said.

"No matter what they do, over the years, they'll have erosion."

Representatives of the district, the DNR, the Michigan Department of Health, Clayton Engineering and the district's attorney walked the site last week.

Tests done on air and ground water quality at the site gave good readings, Marinelli said

What if a child loves to read . . . but happens to be blind?

Until recently, most were simply out of luck. Of the few children's books available in Braille, prohibitive costs of up to $100 each made them financially out of reach to the majorily.

But thanks to the creative brainstorm of a Livonia woman who founded a specialized non-profit publishing company, the situation has changed considerably.

In 1985, Debra Bonde launched nation. The first year, she produced 215 books, priced at some $10 each or half the cost of production. The difference was met by public contri-

ONCE BONDE LAUNCHED Secdlings, the first order of business was upgrading primitive printing equipment, according to Mary Cowper of Southfield, one of organization's earliest board members.

Working from the basement of her home. Bonde was using a computer printer adapted for Braille and built by her father.

"In the beginning, each page had to be transcribed by hand, one dot at a time, on a slate and stylus. One mistake, and you had to start the page over," said Cowper, who originally volunteered as a Braille transcriber.

In short order, she found herself raising funds essential in purchasing new computer equipment and, perhaps more important, to subsidize the cost of books.

"It's the affordability factor, keeping prices where children can afford them. They have nowhere else to buy books."

The success of Seedlings fund-raising, according to Troy accountant Mark Bosscher, can be measured by annual printings, up from 1,900 books in 1987 when he joined the board to 5,000 last year, including 125 different titles. Each book represents a contribution of at least $10. _ "This is obviously a very good cause," he said. In March, Seedlings moved into a new office at the site of the former

'Schools of choice' bills advance in state Senate

By Tim Richard stall writer

Two bills promoting "schools of choice" for families moved forward this week in the Michigan Senate. though mostly with Republican Test votes showed Democrats dislike the idea. The bills could be in trouble in the Democrat-run House.

"An entrenched educational establishment is opposing the bill. That's not reason (for senators) to oppose it. The first bill is sponsored by Sen-It's reason to support it," said Sen. Dan DeGrow, R-Port Huron, GOP point man on educational money

Countered Sen. Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills: "The basic, fundamental, bedrock Republicans in my district would leave this up to the people of the school district."

THE BILLS - advanced to third reading Tuesday - would promote parental choice of schools for children. They are:

• Senate Bill 158 - requiring local districts to establish schools of choice planning committees by Oct. 1. Parents, teachers and principals all would be involved. The plan would cover informing parents of their options and transporting children from low-income families. Students transferring for athletic reasons would be ineligible to compete in interscholastic sports for one

The Senate passed SB 158 on Wedensday on a 21-12 vote. Area senators voted along party lines, Republicans for, Democrats against. Faust and Hart had excused ab-

IN A KEY TEST vote, senators rejected an amendment by freshman Sen. Jim Berryman, D-Adrian, to make the program optional for local districts. DeGrow argued it down: "By making it optional, you don't even need a amendment in the ISD pilot plan bill, seeking to give any one school district in a county a veto power.

"Alls it does is say you cannot apply for a grant unless all the boards within your ISD support it," he said. That amendment was shouted down in a voice vote. Sen. Joe Conroy, D-Flint, supportinmg the Berryman amendments, twitted Republicans on the busing is-

"In this bill, you require mandatory use of buses. Just 15 or 20 years ago, the former prosecutor of Oakland County (L. Brooks Patterson) was talking about 'forced busing.' Boy, how times change!"

THE SENATE also shot down, 8 to 16, an amendment by conservative Doug Carl, R-Utica, to tie it to his proposed state constitutional amendment allowing government aid to non-public schools.

"It's inappropriate," objected De-Grow, to tie a constitutional amendment to a pilot program.

And Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, said the Carl amendment "would kill a fundamental tenet . . .

Mayapples provide protection for moths ty many of the basic principles of nature. Animal camouflage, habitat preference, succession, and territory are just some of those principles. A basic knowledge of these principles is very helpful when observing the natural world.

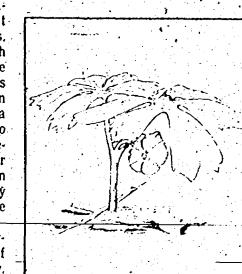

they are basic. Most of these principles are manifest in many different ways in various plants and animals. For instance, numerous research projects have illustrated the unique ways in which camouflage is achieved. Crab spiders that rely on quickness and patience, and not a web for catching food, are able to change from white to yellow, depending on the color of the flower they are on. Frogs typically found on the forest floor are not green, they are brown and black — to match the dried leaves they hide among.

Last spring I discovered an interesting way a moth protects itself from predators during the day. While examining the spring wild flower mayapple, I was surprised to see several moths resting on the downward facing flower. It took me by surprise, because I did not notice them at first. Their creamy white coloration blended in perfectly with the shaded white petals of the blossom. Though the blossom is only two when viewed from above. In combi-

CITY OF GARDEN CITY NOTICE OF A PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING TAXES

The Mayor and Council of the City of Garden City will hold a hearing on the proposal to increase property taxes. The Public Hearing-will be conducted at 6:50 P.M. on May 20, 1991, in the City Council Chambers of the City Hall, 6000 Middlebelt Road, Garden City, Michigan.

Without this increase the millage rate for general operations of the City would be a maximum of 15.42 mills. The proposed increase of 0.83 mills will produce $302,112, and amounts to an increase of 5.38 percent. The total number of mills to be levied, ineluding the proposed additional millage rate, would be within the voter approved and previously authorized millage rate.

The City Council has complete authority under State law to establish the number of mills to be levied within its authorized millage rate.

Public comments, oral or written, are welcome at the hearing on the proposed additional millage

Michigan's First Lady. But that — like politics -- is all history, she says. --

Ex-first lady is happy with life — sans politics

By Pat Murphy staff writer

No. Definitely, no. Paula Blanchard says she is flattered when her name is mentioned occasionally as Democrats start musing about possible candidates in upcoming Oakland County

But Michigan's former First Lady says she is not interested.

"My years in politics seem so far away," said Blanchard, who moved out of the governor's residence in June 1987, when her 21-year marriage to then-governor James Blanchard ended in divorce. "I just can't imagine going back to that." Paula Blanchard was mentioned as a possible candidate last month by Oakland County Democratic Chairman Donald Tucker, a Southfield attorney who insists Democrats are surging in Oakland.

A POPULAR NAME like Paula Blanchard would have instant voter recognition, said Tucker, who believes she would be a strong contender for the Michigan Legislature or Oakland County Executive.

"Paula's well known, bright and knowledgeable," said Tucker, "She'd be a great candidate . . . even in a Republican stronghold like Oakland.'

Heartworm Disease And Responsible Pet Ownership

Is Your Dog Safe From Heartworm Disease?

Heartworm disease affects dogs in this area.

Big or small, long bained or short. house pet or kenneled outdoors, your dog. no matter what bried, is susceptible to heartworm disease. And now, this potenwally fatal disease has been found through out the United States and in Canada.

Mesquiters transmit heartworm disgive, so wherever and whenever mosquitoes are present, dogs are at risk, it is the female mosquite that bites and bence spreads the disease. The female mesquito is very tiny and can easily sha through cricks around is adopt's doors or scheens so even ! these that stay indoors can be in

This is a good time to test. The first step toward protecting your dog is to call your veterinarian and arrange for a simple heartworm blood test. Having your dog tested is important because you can't begin a preventive program until you confirm that your dog is free from heartworms. If your dog already has heartworm disease, treatment can be dangerous for him and expensive for you.

Prevention is simple.

If your veterinarian determines that your dog is free of beartworns: he or she will tell you how easy at and enginement presention can be sording to be referinguistic persuse positiproblem and every dog needs to be postered.

Paula Blanchard likes her life — without politics

Public service is an admirable calling," said Blanchard. "But it's a very consuming lifestyle. There's no such thing as privacy."

Paula should know. She saw plenty of politics when she was Mrs. James Blanchard - wife of a U.S. representative who was in Congress for eight years before being elected governor for two terms.

She, too, was suprised when Jim Blanchard - then Mr. Democrat in Michigan - lost to Republican John Engler. "I thought he (Jim Blanchard) would be governor as long as he wanted," she said.

Those times in Washington and Lansing were indeed heady, Paula Blanchard recalled, hobnobbing with politicians and heads of state. "But I like my life the way it is now," she said. "It's very much focused on my career."

Blanchard Joined Casey Communications Management Inc. in May 1989, as an associate vice president. The firm is part of the Shandwick group, possibly the world's largest public relations company with 100 offices worldwide, including one on the seventh floor of the North Park Plaza in Southfield.

Included among her clients are R.L. Polk & Co. in Detroit, G.M. Bus & Truck in Pontiac, McLaren Regional Medical Center in Flint and the Ventures Group Inc. in Hough-

"SOME PEOPLE TIMNK I got this job because I was the First Lady," Blanchard said. "That was certainly a plus. But my whole life has, been involved in communicat-

Paula graduated from Michigan State University in 1966 after which she taught school in Minnasota and Lansing. While living in Washington. D.C., she spent about five years with the Animal Health Institute, a national-trade-association-for manufacturers of veterinary medicine products.

She has completed the coursework for a master's degree in telecommunications from MSU, although she has not completed the thesis.

"I love the company . . . and the professionals here," she said, referring to her 30 coworkers at Casey Communications. "I-really like the challenge associated with my job."

With today's economic uncertainty, many companies - including her clients - are watching the bottom line, she said. "That means a bigger challenge... produce or else."

Blanchard has received one promotion with the firm, something she views as affirmation of her job performance and value to the company.

"The ultimate proof of my ability is performance," she said. "Not just (doing) a good job, but a great job. That's how I answer my critics?

way toward establishing her own professional credentials and removing any public perception - if it's still there — that she is anything less than a hard-driving executive.

IN TWO YEARS, she expects to be with the same firm, although at a notch or two up the ladder. Over the next decade, however, her plans are more flexible.

"I'd like to own my own company," she said. But that depends on a number of factors, including some that are beyond her control. "I'dhave to be ready - personally and professionally - and conditions would have to be right.

"I'm still learning . . . and I've got a ways to go," she said. "But I'm on my way. I've got control."

Control means keeping a balance between her professional and personal life, Blanchard said. That includes maintaining a close relationship with her son, Jay, now a student

She and Jay went to London in 1988, when he graduated from high school, part of a concerted effort to keep close mother-son ties. They're still very close, she said, and do numerous things together.

Over the Easter holiday, for example, they went to a movie, "Guilty By Suspicion."

Reminded that "Guilty By Suspicion" dealt with politics - namely congressional inquiries into alleged un-American activities during the 1950s, Blanchard smiled.

"I LOVE MOVIES and novels about politics" and political intrigue, she said, "I just don't want politics in my life today."

Blanchard said she is happy with a quasi-private life in Birmingham, where she bought a house in-1988. "People still recognize me when I go to dinner or when I'm out riding my brcycle," she said. "But they're nice . . non-intrusive."

Blanchard said her social life is progressing nicely, even though home repairs cut into her free time.

"Yes, I'm dating," she sald. "I'm seeing a businessman who lives in Birmingham, He's a widower with teen age daughters. We get along just fine."

Asked about the likelihood of remarrying, Blanchard said, "I don't need it. I've got my career, my family and social life. Why remarry?"

Paula Blanchard is no newcomer to Oakland County, of course. She was raised in Clarkston and spent what she considers quality time as a youngster in Birmingham.

"My dad, William Parker, managed a paint store on Woodward Avenue," she said. "On Friday nights we'd join him for supper." While in college, the then Paula Parker was a student teacher at Pierce Elementary in Birmingham. In the early-1970s, when Jim ran-for-U.S. Representative in the 18th District, they lived in Pleasant Ridge.

"So I know the area," she said. "And I like it. This is my home."

Varsity jacket policy leaves some kids cold

By Marlo Chestney staff writer

In high schools, the rules for wearing the big, bold school letter given either for scholastic excellence or participation in sports and other after-school activities vary from district to district.

In the Livonia school district, which serves the northern section of Westland, only athletes get to wear the school letter on the school's varsity jacket. Cheerleaders and other students who earn a letter must buy a different jacket on which to put it.

At John Glenn High, which serves most of Westland, there are no limits on who may buy or wear the school jackets. Many students buy the jackets and display their band or academic letters on them, a school administrator said

THE LIVONIA district's varsitysports-only jacket policy makes Livonia Stevenson 10th grador Amy Pachla wish the district would change it.

Amy recently earned a school letter for playing the violin two years in the district's All-City Orchestra. But when she went to a local sporting goods store to buy a varsity jacket on which to put the letter, she was told she couldn't buy one.

"Now the letter sits in its package in her room," said Karen Pachla, Amy's mother.

"They told her she could put it ona windbreaker, but the varsity jacket looks good, has prestige and honor and is a status symbol. The windbreaker they recommended to us is too wimpy.

"The jacket has to have uumph, too 'a' the letter's important. There's a message here that what she did is unimportant."

STUDENTS IN the district's three high schools who earn a letter for participating in after-school activities all have their own distinctive jackets, said Roger Frayer, Stevenson's athletic director,

. Members of each school's marching band, cheerleading and pompon squads all have jackets with colors slightly different from the varsity Frayer suggested students in the All-City Orchestra do the same and get their own jacket, also.

"They should be proud of their letter and want to wear it, but they should have their own jacket," Frayer said.

"It's not a difficult thing to do at all, getting their own jacket. And there are all kinds of stylish jackets in stock colors."

on the athletic field, while other school districts, such as Wayne-Westland, allow students to put all letters they earn on their varsity jacket. Here, Franklin High athletes Kevin Kube (left), Scott Voege and Jim Mattson wear jackets.

Transplant needs high, but few organs available

By Darrell Pressley staff writer

Jackie Coleman was involved in a hit and run accident in 1984, which left her faced with having both legs amputated from the knee down.

However, innovative surgery which involved receiving a bone transplant from an donor, has enabled her to walk today.

Though Coleman is one of many success stories - there are more than 19,000 people in Michigan who are on a waiting list to receive donated organs - residents of Michigan are dying because of the lack of organ donors. Bono, skin and corneas are needed along with other solid organs and tissue, said Luanne Scheppleman, vice president of Hospital and Donor Services at the Michigan Tissue Bank in Lansing.

"There is a dramatic gap between supply and demand," said Scheppleman, who lives in Bloomfield Hills.

PEOPLE ARE now beginning to live longer, which leads to more people being placed on the waiting list, Scheppleman said.

Though it is important for people to become organ donors — it is equally important that the decision to become a donor be discussed with the entire family, Scheppleman said.

After a donor card or tag on the back of the driver's license is signed, it then becomes the legal next of kin's responsibility to decide on the donation.

The wishes of a donor should be discussed, so when the time comes: for an organ to be donated, "a family knows what to do," she said.

Described as a 'decision of a lifetime,' a single tissue donor can save the lives of 70 to 100 people. "Donating is the most beautiful, wonderful thing a person can do," Scheppleman said.

Scheppleman addressed several misconceptions about becoming an organ donor. There are no disfigurements which are a result of donations. And all religious denominations support donations.

PEOPLE CAN donate solid organs up to the age of 65. The average age of a solid organ is about 22 years old. People who are in their 50s or 60s can donate tissue, Scheppleman

In Lansing, the Michigan Tissue Bank provides human tissue allografts for medical and dental transfrom cadaveric donors.

An extensive medical history of a potential donor is evaluated. Donors are screened to exclude those with diseases such as AIDS and hepatitis.

Autopsies are completed when approved by the next-of-kin or medical

In 1989, there were 381 tissue donors. There were 420 tissue donors in

Many people become donors as a result of fatal car accidents, headtrauma or accidental deaths.

When a person considers organ donating, a person should think of all the winners who benefit from their gift, Scheppleman said.

A donor can help burn victims, or help someone walk again, or free -someone from depending on a dialysis machine, she said. "There are positive things that can come out of a person's senseless death."

The Michigan Tissue Bank provides Donor Awareness kits along, with other information on becoming a donor. For more information, call 1-800-468-2929.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON-INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on May 22, 1991, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1991 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.0925 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1991 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1991 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated seven percent (7%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the latest estimate of state equalized valuation of property located within the College District. In the event that state equalized valuation as finalized is for any reason higher than the estimate used for this hearing, the Board of Trustees must hold another public hearing before levying millage on any higher valua-

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy of an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

Hearing postponed for drug trafficker

By Janice Brunson staff writer

A hearing on whether to dismiss new drug charges against former Farmington Hills drug trafficker Arthur Abrams, whose testimony resulted in federal and state indictments of 59 dealers and users, has been postponed until late June.

Abrams, charged with conspiracy to deliver 225 to 649 grams of cocaine and facing an additional 20 to 30 years in jail, is currently serving time at the Western Wayne Correction Facility in Plymouth after probation on lessor drug charges was.

revoked a year ago. Abrams pled guilty in March 1988 to distributing 50 grams of cocaine after agreeing to work as an informant for the Oakland County prosecutor. He was sentenced to five years probation.

The new charges stem from allegations that Abrams continued to use and deal drugs after entering into the agreement, thereby voiding it and subjecting himself to original charges stemming from his arrest in December 1987.

Abrams maintains police knew he used drugs during the lengthy investigation following his arrest, but waited until he had testified in federal and state court against 33 dealers and 26 users before revoking his probation and filing new charges.

"THESE GUYS are trying to bury me in here, after I did so much for them. It's wrong," said Abrams by phone from the prison in Plymouth where he is incarcerated. Following his arrest, Abrams worked with officers from the Southeastern Michigan Conspiracy ~Organization (SEMCO) in Livonia, participating in sting operations and wearing a microphone to tape drug transactions with suppliers and dealers, and calling former customers by phone to sell them drugs.

During this period, Abrams said he was under severe stress and even attempted suicide on one occasion. "I told them (in May 1988) I had a severe drug problem (crack cocaine) and they looked the other way."

SEMCO prosecutor Eric Kaiser said, "I won't dispute that. Most informers used in drug cases are addicts. But it's their responsibility to correct that status. Being an addict doesn't mean you've used today or -dealt today."——

Kaiser said he and the officer in charge of Abrams, Sgt. Ray White who is no longer with SEMCO, knew "at some point in time" that Abrams was continuing to abuse illicit drugs. He was tested once for drug use by the Oakland County Probation Department. Test results proved negative and SEMCO officials continued to utilize Abrams as an informant.

"Certainly he was using drugs," said Abram's attorney, Michael Friedman of Birmingham. "He had a real bad habit. He had a girlfriend who had a real bad habit."

"But there is no hard and fast evidence he was dealing, not commercially dealing," Friedman added.

Oakland County assistant prosecufor Larry Bunting is convinced oth-

"MR, ABRAMS' violated the law after agreeing to work with state police. There is testimony on record that he was still using and dealing drugs. He deserves to be prosecuted. We are entitled to prosecute him.

"In the future people must realize that when they make an agreement to cooperate, they have to follow the law," Bunting said.

The agreement, however, may be invalid, according to defense attorney Friedman.

"It was drafted in such a way, favoring the prosecutor and leaving my client subject to all kinds of charges, that it is not an enforceable contract. It is a violation of fundamental due process," Friedman said.

In addition, Abrams legal counsel at the time of the contract was later charged with possession of illicit drugs, based on testimony provided by Abrams under terms of the agreement. The attorney, Steven Weiss of Oakland County, later pleaded guilty to the charges.

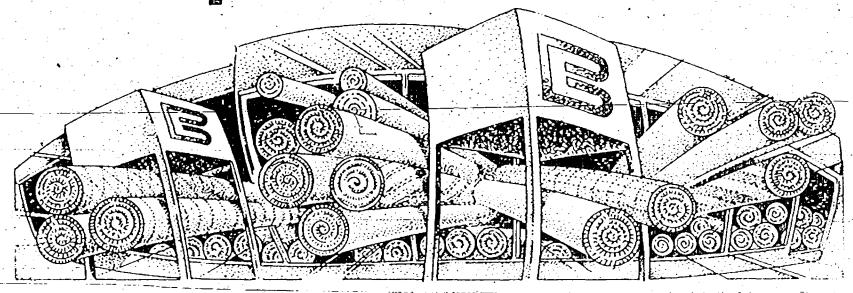

"This is a direct conflict of interest. My client could not have been properly advised, which voids the agreement," Friedman said.

SEMCO prosecutor Kaiser said Abrams broke the law, after being provided protection under the umbrella of the law. He violated a trust. The integrity of the process breaks down if you don't enforce agreements like this."

During his phone call, Abrams said he fears for his life in prison. "There's over 50 people im here because of me. Word gets around."

The hearing for dismissal is scheduled June 26 before Oakland County circuit judge David Breck.

right on target in denying a request from Canton Township residents who wanted to secede from the financially-troubled Wayne-Westland school district to join Plymouth Canton schools.

The county regional educational services agency (formerly the intermediate school board) rejected last week the request from homeowners in the Greenbrook Village subdivision, in the sis for changing boundaries. Palmer-Lilley area, for many good reasons.

Park subdivision, near Palmer and Sheldon. That request will be heard by the county May 30. We hope that proposal is also rejected.

ADMITTEDLY, the oddly-shaped school districts have little relationship to the communities they serve — thanks to the boundaries of farm properties in the late 1800s which later became the basis of current district boundaries.

Ideally, the boundaries should be even with city or township boundaries so that new residents aren't confused about which school system their children would attend and there would be a sense of community unity.

At present, the Wayne-Westland district takes in small parts of Taylor and Romulus as well as AYNE COUNTY school officials were all of Wayne, most of Westland and Inkster and a small corner of Canton Township.

But the affected districts aren't dealing with a clean slate. Subdivisions and institutional political histories have developed over the decades.

Changing school boundaries just because some parents don't like the district they are in isn't a good enough reason.

Standards were developed 25 years ago by the Another request has come from the River county board of education in handling several requests which ultimately led to the dissolution of several school districts.

In those cases, there were overwhelming reasons for having large districts absorb smaller adjoining districts.

IN THE near future, the county should establish standards so that residents who want a change will know them in advance and be able to build a case for boundary changes.

While the recent request from Canton residents was rejected, there may be a need in the near future to straighten out boundaries to eliminate confusion and have municipal and school district limits coincide as much as possible.

Engler flexes tactics with his new policies

I WROTE A column a month ago which tried to sort out whether Gov. John Engler was more like Ronald Reagan (passionate and committed ideologue) or Richard Nixon (hang the ideology; do what you must to get re-elected).

I concluded Engler was more like Reagan - only a flaming conservative ideologue would accept the flak he was taking and carry on with budget cutting.

Well, I was wrong. Just like Nixon and his celebrated conversions (remember the "New Nixon" or even the "Newer Nixon"?). Engler is showing signs of tactical flexibility. Lansing is issuing press releases, but gler's staunch determination that his bought into a freeze on assessment it's clear the new policy is: Do what- administration would be as unlike ever has to be done.

MANY OF ENGLER'S friends think it's about time.

They worried as his overall conservative intent to shrink state spending got characterized as slashing-welfare payments to the poor, cutting property taxes to the rich and being generally callous about people in between. "Mean spirited" became the tag line.

They grew alarmed as Engler the ideologue seemed to develop true originality in angering nominally Republican constituencies.

Local governments - not just Detroit but solid suburban communities in Livingston, Oakland and western Wayne' counties - were alarmed when the governor proposed to slash the property taxes that paid the local bills without saying how the resulting shortfalls would be made up. Ditto for school boards.

The arts community got sore when state spending for the Detroit Institute of Arts and the Detroit Symphony were slashed. Environmentalists were alarmed at plans to break up the Department of Natural Resources and at a trial balloon about turning over management of four state parks to private business.

Talk about trouble! When the long hairs and the moose and goose folk -start-making common cause, it's time to get alarmed.

PART OF THE problem was Enhis predecessor's as possible. Image mongering, ribbon cutting and PR hoopla were out. But that, in turn, made Engler vulnerable to  having his image defied by his acts (slash arts funding) and his opponents ("mean spirited").

Predictably, the governor's poll ratings tumbled: 39-41 percent unfavorable was the last number I saw. People started taking out recall peti-

And when Engler started trying to fulfill a campaign pledge to visit all 83 Michigan counties each year (his scheduler will come to hate him for that), kids started asking him why he was such a nasty fellow.

IT HAD TO CHANGE. I cite three pieces of evidence that change came in the last two weeks:

1. On April 30, Engler agreed with Michigan Council for the Arts chair Leon Cohan to hold a "summit meeting" to resolve differences over public funding for the arts. 2. Engler agreed to quit insisting on a property tax cut this year and levels that was cooked up in the Legislature. With sighs of relief, legislators can claim they actually did something about the rise in property taxes. Engler then argued the freeze was really a cut because it "saved" $400 million in taxes.

3. At the end of last week, big pictures of Engler in a press conference with lots of little kids were splashedall over the Detroit newspapers.

None of these things happened purely by chance. They represent a clear sign that John Engler is well aware of what insistence on strict ideology was doing to him and of his determination to change direction before it got too late. Smart man.

Editorial is criticized

To the editor:

Your recent editorial condemning Wayne-Westland school board member Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek for her independent stance on the 7.75 millage proposal was way off base. You stated that Kozorosky-Wiacek's thinking was illogical and lacked an understanding of the political realities of the situation. In my estimation, nothing could be further from the truth.

Let's take a closer look at the political reality and the logic of this situation. First, the reality, political or otherwise, of the situation is really quite simple. Three times in the past year and a half this Board of Education has gone to the voters with sinular millage proposals. Three times the voters have told them NO. That's the reality of this Second, let's analyze the logic employed by Kozorosky-Wiacek in making her decision. According to your front page article in the same issue as your editorial, she cited a survey, done by the State Board of Education last spring (1990), which indicated that some components of a "split issue" proposal may pass. In particular, that survey said that 54 percent of the voters contacted would pass a millage to keep their children in school a full day.

Your editorial asks the question what would happen if the smaller millages passed? What would happen . . . is that the district would receive $4 million to $6 million more (depending on millage rates passed - dollars they don't have now), students would be bused to school, and there would be sports, clubs, marching band, and other extracurricular activities. While not the ideal situation, that sounds like a pretty good deal compared to the all-or-nothing proposition we will be faced with on June 10. (I can't believe you don't give the people in our community more credit.) Your editorial suggests that they would vote for a smatter millage for extracurricular activities, etc., in place of academics. Who's not logical?

Finally, I believe that Kozorosky-Wiacek is listening to and following the wishes of the majority of the taxpayers of this district (the people the board is supposed to represent). All my neighbors and friends favor a split proposal. What the voters want is a choice — a say in determining where their tax dollars are spent, and Kozorosky-Wiacek's proposal is the logical way to give them that choice.

I will be voting on Monday, June 10, and one thing for sure - I will be voting for a change on our school board. I would encourage all taxpayers to consider a change on the Tax freeze unproductive

To the editor:

Congratulations on your editorial of May 2, wherein you point out the difficulties that we at the local school board level face. The following points seem obvious to me.

• The electorate is demanding better schools.

• The electorate is demanding lower property taxes.

• State legislators address the issue by taking money from the quality schools in order to improve the schools that are in real difficulty. This allows for marginal improvement of poor schools but will certainly destroy the quality of the good schools.

◆ State legislators have always shown a willingness to cut taxes if the cuts affect local governments and school districts, but show little desire to address the state budget limbalance itself.

The one omission from your excellent editorial relates to your endorsement of reducing the percentage assessment of property taxes,

I look for additional perceptive editorials from your newspaper. Thanks for pointing out the fundamental problem that we in the trenches face every time we meet.

Mayor upsets student

To the editor:

I'm an eighth grade student at Stevenson Junior High in Westland. I think that the position Mayor Robert Thomas has taken on the millage election is horrible.

Our mayor is supposed to benefit the community. His saying that he doesn't support the milleage says that he doesn't care about education. He is hurting the children and teens of Westland by telling people they shouldn't vote for the milleage in-

Thomas is going with the majority, we've seen that in the previous millage elections, but the minorities, those students who can't vote, that are getting hurt by his decision. Thomas may win the next election, but he's making the students of our community lose out.

Once again, I think our mayor is wrong in saying he doesn't support a milleage increase and I believe we should vote for the millage which will best benefit the children of our community.

Kelly Schopp, Westland

Budget cuts to hurt pupils

To the editor: 😜

Right now thousands of Wayne-Westland students' educations are being cut short because the school millage was not passed.

In my opinion, the students of Wayne-Westland aren't only being cut short of an education, they're being cut short of a life. Last March, the school millage renewal was turned down again. This set off a chain reaction because of budget

This last year many things happened. First, many good teachers throughout the district were laid off. Other teachers were placed in areas they either hadn't taught before or haven't taught in a long time. Then, pay to play started. That means that if someone wants to play a school—over who should be responsible for a SULTS in the educational lives of sport or be in marching band, they slipping grade — Answer: The stuhave to pay. Most importantly, the dent.

school day at the junior highs and the elementaries were shortened. Even though many-cuts-took-place-thisyear, there are still many more cuts

Some cuts for next year will make the schools even worse. First, there will be no buses next year, increasing the risk of an accident to students and drivers. More teachers will be laid off causing for many classes not to be offered.

The high schools' school day, like the junior highs', will be cut to five hours. Next year, there will be no sports, eliminating college scholarship opportunities for some students. These are just some of the cuts that will take place next year.

These things need to be stopped before it ruins thousands of people's lives. All that has to be done in order for this to happen is for people to vote yes on the next election and support our schools.

Anne Galbraith, Wayne

Schools criticized

To the editor:

I did not vote in the last millage election feeling that I could not really make a difference. When it comes to fighting the bureaucracy in this district, people like me tend to shy away. But now I've learned that I just wasn't mad enough. Sometimes it takes a personal conflict to send a lukewarm voter to the polls.

I've heard a lot of talk about our district's poor MEAP scores. I've seen a steady decline in teaching techniques and teacher performance in the past two decades. I've seen mismanagement of time and money district wide and have heard the administration blame the parents. Then one day it became personal, as someone tried to blame me.

A teacher at Vandenberg School said of my daughter's grades, "I'm not going to take responsibility for what belongs to an 11-year-old. There's no sense talking to you because you're trying to blame me. It boils down to your inadequacy as a

After this conversation, I was amazed by her remark. I pondered

Who should be responsible for recognizing a slipping grade and com--municating to the parents --- Answer: The teacher. Who should take responsibility for correcting the problem?

The answer obviously is the parent; although this proves to be a very difficult task when the teachers shirk the responsibility to communicale with the parent.

This teacher seems to think that the responsibility of communication lies strictly on the shoulders of the parents. Evidently the administration agrees, since they decided to cut out spring conferences.

. What it really boils down to is they must be ashamed of poor MEAP scores reflecting poor educators and can't look us in the face. They won't accept responsibility and want parents to look inadequate. It's really rather humorous, since this 'inadequate'-parent-graduated-among thetop five students in a class of 750 at Wayne High.

It really makes me wonder how many more 'inadequate' parents were educated in this district by these inadequate educators.

Katherine Ruchala,

School cuts are suggested

To the editor:

The bureaucracy of the Wayne-Westland school district has refused for more than six years to be accountable for its spending, honest in its dealings, upright in its character and credible in its statements. So much so that a majority of voters three times have rejected their impassioned pleas for more money to spend unwisely.

School personnel can blame TV, the movies, society and parents for the lack of quality education, but the argument loses its validity because non-government school children live in the same society, watch the same TV and movies, and have the same kind of parents.

The difference is that these nongovernment schools, such as the Catholic schools, the Baptist acadeprivate institutions PRODUCE REtheir students on less than one-third the money spent by the Wayne-West·land school board.

In the past, the voters of the Wayne-Westland school district have been "the envy of the state" in their support of millage for their schools. But 13 months ago and three millages since, the same voters have said emphatically that the school administration must produce results with the money provided. No results no more money.

Several pro-millegry advocates have criticized the Wayhe-Westland Citizens For-Education Committee and its leadership for not suggesting a way out of the crisis. Many suggestions have been offered, but have been quickly discarded for another millage attempt. The only answer this bureaucracy has for any problem is "MORE MONEY."

Just for the record, here is a shopping list of suggestions which need to be considered to cut costs and reduce expenditures.

• Run the school district as a business with an ongoing cost reduction program in operation at all times; freeze all wages and re-open all contracts; move ninth grade classes to the high schools to facilitate building use, to combine athletics and to allow consolidation of elementaries; eliminate and/or reduce all overtime, using manpower more effectively; sell extraneous property and use the money for capital improvements; maximize utilization of buildings and facilities to achieve cost effectiveness, and eliminate courses which do not stress basic academic excellence; improve building utilization and improve scheduling to reduce transportation costs by combining routes, redirecting routes, and filling empty buses; provide a study to eliminate the duplication of services, unnecessary tasks and the waste of manpower thus reducing costs; eliminate the election room and rely on city services; explore the privatization of support services for cost effectiveness; reinstitute sports and other non-academic programs on a "pay for play" basis (e.g. band, music, intramurals, clubs, etc.); split the millage to give the people a choice as a courageous Mayor Robert Thomas mies, the Lutheran highs, and other suggested earlier, and offer a temporary, two- year minimum millage

I was pleased to read your editorial in the April 25 issue of the West Bloomfield Eccentric. "Who's at

Wa read and hear a great deal about the threat of foreign compelition to the economic health of our country. We also are all aware of the runaway costs of health care and. health care insurance. Unfortunately we do not hear very much about the cost to us, the consumers brought about by the proliferation of unreasonable product liability, medical malpractice and personal injury lawsuits.

We constantly hear and read the advertisements of personal injury attorney's who effectively encourage the idea that we can get someone else to pay for what is often our own carelessness. Cartoonist was off base

To the editor:

Arkle Hudkins cartoon in the May 2 edition is a needless affront to the President of the United States.

Bush has a popularity rating superior to that of any president in a long time. He had some very difficult decisions to make relative to the war in the Persian Gulf.

He made the right decisions. His leadership helped to bring the country a notable victory. John Engler has not accomplished anything to make him a superior choice of graduation day speaker.

Hudkins' opinion is certainly one held by a minority of the population. His cartoon on May 2 was a waste of valuable newspaper space.

Column called adolescent

To the editor:

The article by Jack Gladden re: "Fetus police on patrol" trivializes the important issues of the unborn. This is a question of health and life for both mother and child and its appropriate protection. I do not believe a subject of this importance deserves the comic strip treatment, whatever your beliefs.

I wonder if Mr. Gladden would treat a subject of vital importance to men with the same adolescent superficiality.

Perhaps this quality of writing would be considered humorous at the high school level. Even there, however, I believe the teacher would point out the inappropriateness of the treatment of such a serious subject, not to mention the insensitivity of the writer to others pain. I do not believe this type of writing is suitable to an enlightened sub-Rose M. Sutherland

Color tells a lot about stars

By Raymond E. Bullock special writer

A star's color tells us a lot. A red star is like the red part of a gas flame; it isn't very hot. A red star is also very old, nearing the end of its life cycle, As stars age they cool down, swell up and become giants.

Betelgeuse is a supergiant among giants. It is so huge that, if placed where our sun is, it would extend out to the orbit of Jupiter.

The name Betelgeuse is roughly translated as the "armpit of the giant." The giant in question is the mighty hunter Orion (oh RYE yan) and Betelgeuse marks the location of his right, "shoulder." This star is the 11th brightest in the sky and one of the best examples of a red giant type Observe the moon drift through the gathering cluster of planets on the evenings of May 16-18. On the 16th the moon is three degrees below Venus. On the next evening the moon is located midway between Venus and Mars. On the 18th the moon is three degrees below Jupiter. Jupiter passes the southern edge of the 'Beehive" star cluster in the constellation of Cancer the crab on the 18th.

This cluster looks like a swarm of bees when viewed through a pair of binoculars. It is one of the closest and brightest of the star clusters. Galileo, the first person to observe the cluster with a telescope (probably around the year 1610), counted 36 bright stars; observers with better telescopes have counted over 350.

Ikis estimated that this cluster is 525 light years away from us. The light we see tonight left the Beehive in the year 1465, 145 years before Galileo recorded his own observations!

(Obviously the light that reached Galileo's telescope had left the cluster 525 years before his observations in 1610.) The Beehive cluster is a naked eye object, but bright lights in metropolitan areas make seeing is difficult. Having bright Jupiter as a beacon makes locating the Beehlvevery easy.

The moon has passed Jupiter on the evening of the 19th and is four degrees to the left of the star Regulus (REG u lus) on the 20th. Regulus is the "heart" of Leo the llon. Regulus is about 85 light years away. That's much closer than Betelgeuse, but Regulus is not as bright. Regulus is only the 21st brightest star in the sky. It is a bluewhite star and, like the blue part of a gas flame, much hotter than a red star. (Cooler Betelgeuse looks brighter because of its great size.)

SATURN begins retrograde (backward) motion on May 17. It has been drifting eastward through the stars of Capricornus all year, but will now appear to back up and move westward from night to night. Retrograde motion is an optical illusion caused when the faster moving earth passes a slower moving planet as both orbit the sun.

Mars, Pollux and Castor form a straight line on the evening of the 21st. Also note the large triangle formed by Castor, Pollux and bright Venus. In two weeks Venus will be located where Mars Is and Venus will form a line with Pollux and Cas-

The moon is approaching the star Spica (SPY ca) in Virgo on the evening of the 23rd. On the 24th the moon is three degrees directly below Spica. Spica, a blue-white star like Regulus, is the 16th brightest star in the sky. It is about 275 light years away from us. Since it's much farther than Regulus, but appears brighter, it must be a very hot and luminous star.

Jupiter, Mars and Venus are within 20 degrees of each other on the evening of the 25th. Just a little more than three weeks until their spectacular grouping!

The moon is approaching the star Antares on the evening of the 27th. Look toward the southeast about one hour after sunset. Antares is the 15th brightest star in the sky and is also a supergiant like Betelgeuse. It is also the same distance from us, about 520 light years. On the following evening the moon is past Antares.

Venus is four degrees to the left of Pollux on the evening of the 29th. Jupiter is still easy to identify above and to the left of Venus; Mars is still midway between the two, but thedistance is closing. In fact, on the evening of the 30th, the three objects are within 15 degrees of each other.

Have a look at the moon on the evenings of the 30th and 31st. Once again it is in Sagittarius, close to the same position it had at the start of the month, but there is a big difference; at the start of the month Sagittarius was due south, now it is in the south southwest. When the moon passes this way in another month, Sagittarius will be too close to the sun to be visible.

No guarantees

Mr. Coleman can't win son's battles

WOULD BE REMISS If I didn't say something about the Mill Coleman situation at Michigan State,

Just because you throw for more than 7,000 yards, win two state high school titles and are a great student doesn't guarantee you anything when it comes to big-time college football.

MSU has four quarterbacks competing for Dan Enos' lob-and-it-appears-Coleman, a-red-shirtfreshman from Farmington Harrison, is behind Bret Johnson, the transfer from UCLA.

Coleman's father, Mill Sr., expressed concern earlier this month in an article in The Observer that his son is not getting a fair shot. He says the offensive scheme implemented in the recent spring game is not tailored to his son's talents, and that it's better suited for others (Johnson for

Ironically, in 1987 Coleman originally made his mark as a high school transfer student, coming to Harrison from Albion as a sophomore. I'm quite certain that Harrison coach John Herrington "tailored" or altered his offense to suit Coleman's talents, while those who had been groomed for the quarterback job suddenly were shifted to other spots and given reduced roles as back-ups.

I'M SURE THOSE people silently complained, but didn't air their gripes out in the press.-Mill Sr. won't be the first or the last parent of a recruit to feel a bit betrayed. One of my old neighborhood acquaintances, Gary Forystek, slipped through the cracks at Notre Dame, even though he was one of the most heralded prep passers in America after playing. for Bill McCartney at Dearborn Divine Child Forystek was recruited by Ara Parseghian, but quickly fell out of favor after Dan Devine took over. When Forystek finally got his chance in a-The against Pittsburgh, he was crunched on a blindside hit by Hugh Green, suffering a serious shoulder injury. (He was playing behind Joe Montana, among others.)

Another great Observerland quarterback also comes to mind, Rich Hewlett. He ran the option as well as anybody I'd ever seen coming out of Plymouth Satem High.

Hewlett, who was heavily recruited by such schools as Tennessee and Alabama, chose Michigan (where he sat the bench much of his career). When Hewlett signed with U-M, he seemed to fit their mold perfectly as the "next Rick Leach." But Hewlett had one problem. Star wide receiver named Anthony Carter wasn't getting the HEWLETT, however, was a surprise starter (as a true freshman) against Ohio State (1979). During that game, he moved the team effectively before going out with an injured ankle.

He opened the 1980 season as a starter, getting the call against Northwestern. Despite a driving rainstorm, that made it impossible for even Dan Marino to excel, loyal U-M fans got impatient with a lack of offense, booing Hewlett unmercifully every time he threw an incompletion Carter's way.

John Wangler relieved Hewlett in that game (a 17-10 Michigan win) and again the next week in a 29-27 loss at Notre Dame.

Hewlett, because he was an option quarterback trying to make it as a passer, was relegated to the bench the rest of the season, while Wangler was leading the Wolverines to a Roso-Bowl triumph over Washington:

As the story goes, Hewlett red-shirted in 1981, converting to defensive back.

He earned a couple of starts his final two years, but did not become the "Next Charlie Waters" as one U.M assistant Bob Thornbladh predicted he'd become.

But the Hewlett story isn't a sad one. He has since earned a law degree and is a member for a

Another former Observerland quarterback, who I'd mention in the same breath with Coleman and Hewlett, was Livonia Stevenson's Dave

AS FAR AS football goes, Hall was in the wrong place at the wrong time.

U-M went back to the option attack with Steve Smith, and the 6-foot-5 Hall became a backup.

Hall's career, however, wasn't wasted. Be-cause he was such a good athlete, he ultimately earned letters in basketball and track at U-M, but languished on the bench in football (He had? only one start and appeared in one Rose Bowl when Smith got hurt.)

But the story isn't a sad one. Hall went on to graduate school at the University of Texas to obtain his MBA and was invited to the Olympic Trials to compete in the decathlon, only to bow out because of sore knees.

Is Coleman situation's any different? Hardly.

Let's face it, he's on his own now in the big

Bret Johnson, as I recall, is no slouch. The El Toro, Calif., native was mentioned in the same breath coming out of high school as Todd Marinovich, who recently quit Southern Cal to go to the NFL. (Despite his off-field troubles, Marinovich was a first-round pick of the LA Raiders.)

THIS IS BIG-TIME college football and if MSU coach George Perles was sold on Coleman, Jim Miller or even John Gieselman (the other contenders at QB), he wouldn't have allowed Johnson to transfer to East Lansing.

Yet another MSU quarterback recruit, Randy Vanderbush of Franklin, Ind., has made a successful switch to the defensive backfield. He was selected Defensive MVP for the spring game.

So what are Coleman's options? He can stick it out for a year, patiently wait his turn, change positions, or most importantly keep working toward his degree (following the leads of Hall and Hewlett, who were in similar situations). Coleman could also transfer to another school. Eastern Michigan, I am told, could use a quar-

But then again, I don't recall Coleman serious: ly considering EMU, Central Michigan or Western Michigan coming out of high school. I wonder what kind of reception he'd receive from those coaches if he decided to transfer. The Ivy League

But the important thing is that Mill Jr. only knows what is best for him.

Westland native sizes up Stanley

By Greg Heakes special writer

One of the first things Mike Modano and his Minnesota North Star teammates noticed when they arrived at Edmonton's Northlands Coliseum-were the championship banners.

"There is a lot of tradition here," said Modano of the defending Stanley Cup champion Ollers. "But we didn't let Chicago winning the Presidents Trophy bother us. We just have to approach each game like we did in the last series.'

Indeed. The North Stars amazing playoff run continues through the Campbell Conference finals as they attempt to win their first Stanely Cup in the club's 24-year history.

In the first two rounds they knocked off the league's No. 1 and No. 2 regular season teams, respectively. Nothing intimidates this "Deep down we know we can do it," said the 20-year-old Westland native who attended Franklin High as a ninth grader.

IF MODANO is playing some of the best hockey of his young career, then it couldn't have come at a better time for the North Stars.

"He's a bursting young talent," said North Star coach Bob Gainey of Modano. "He's the kind of inspiration I see when I look into the future of this team."

In 79 regular season games Modano had 28 goals and 64 points. He had an outstanding rookle season in 1989-90, finishing second overall in rookle scoring with 75 points in 80

Last season Modano played forward on différent lines with Shane Churla, Basil McRae, and Gaetan

But make no mistake, the North Stars never entertained thoughts of making the NIIL's first overall draft pick in 1988 into a defensive special-

That was just the club's way of allowing Modano to get the feel of the bigs.

"He's got a lot of talent but he has Clarke. "Gainey has got him using his body and checking more."

DURING THE PLAYOFFS MOdano's linemates have been Brian Propp and Dave Gagner.

"It's been working out," Modano said. "They are both great skaters and they both like to open up the Modano has come a long way since the beginning of the season when his poor play forced Gainey tobench hlm.

"I was struggling," he said. "When I sat out that game I tried to figure out what I was doing wrong.

"Bob (Gainey) is showing confidence in me now, but I have to come through for him," said Modano.

The North Stars always knew Modano could score goals. And he proved that in junior with the Prince Albert Raiders of the Western Hockey League. Modano missed the final hockey

25-games-of-the-1988-89-season-witha broken wrist, but still managed to finish first in team scoring with 105 points.

"It was a culture shock," said Modano of his three seasons in Prince Albert, Saskatchewan. "But I could do it all over again."

THE 6-FOOT-3, 188-pound Modano likes to use his large wing-span to his advantage. Well, like a . . Bobby Smith.

"He's one of the most talented players I've seen come along in a long time," said Smith, a 14-year NHL veteran, who plays on the powerplay with Modano. "He can do what no one else can for us as far as picking the team up with a big rush." Modano did just that Monday night, scoring the first goal on a breakaway in a 7-3 Minnesota victo-

Through the playoffs Modano has shown signs of being the No. 1 center on the North Stars. That distinction currently belongs to Neal Broten. But at 31, Broten is one of the older pivots in the league.

"I can see it down the road that Mike will be our No. 1-center," said North Star defenseman Nell Wilkinson. "I would go as far to say that he , will be one of the great centers in the league."

Modano already has one of the most underrated shots. More than one defenseman has wished he gotten out of the way sooner.

In juniors, Morano once reached into his bag of tricks and scored a goal from the red line. He did it by fooling Medicine Hat Tiger goaltender Mark Fitzpatrick into thinking he was just dumping the puck into the other team's zone on a routine line change.

"It gives the team a lift when you get a surprise goal," said Modano. Now It's the Oilers turn to be surprised.

Opener to test Madonna

By C.J. Rissk stalf writer

The challenge facing Madonna University's baseball team seemingly got tougher when the draw for the NAIA District 23 playoffs was made

Although they finished with the second-best record (in percentage) in the district, the Fighting Crusaders will have to play the first-place team first - Aquinas College. The two squads tangle at noon today at Mount Pleasant High School, while the tournament host - Northwood Institute - plays Spring Arbor College at Central Michigan University.

Tournament matchups were not determined by seeding. After the four qualifiers were decided, it was an open draw. And Madonna drew-Aquinas.

The tough luck of the draw didn't bother Crusader coach Mike George, whose team was 11-6 in district play and 31-16-1 overall. One reason is that Madonna split its two games with Aquinas - which finished 15-5 in the district — this season; another is that the Crusaders bested the Saints 2.1 in a rain-shortened game Sunday.

"IN THE TWO games against them, we played well," said George. "And we just got done playing them Sunday, so it's fresh in our minds that we can beat them."

The pitcher Madonna beat, though, was Rod Rojas - not Tim Sullivan. The 6-foot-4 Sullivan was easily the best pitcher in the district this season, if not the best player. He posted a 10-0 record with a 1.45 earned run average. Aquinas' all-time leader in wins, he beat Madonna 5-3 April 28.

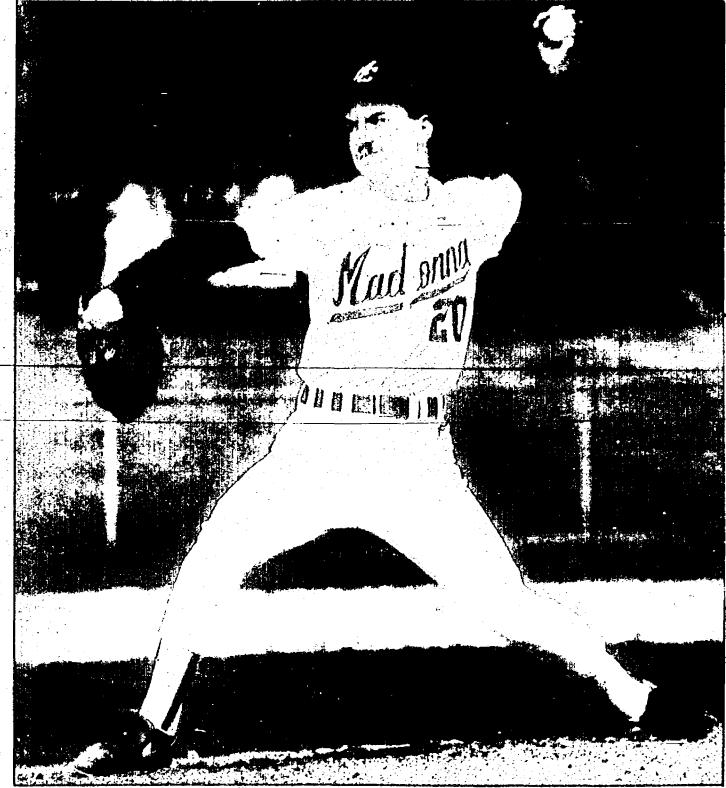

"They're going to throw Sullivan at us," agreed George. On the mound for the Crusaders will be Chris Kloc, who opposed Sullivan in that first meeting and lost. Kloc, from Redford Thurston HS, has also had a superb season, going-6.4 with a 2.13

George has his rotation set. Following Kloc will be Jeremy Krol (Garden City HS), Mike Hocking (Redford Bishop Borgess) and Rich Roy (Livonia Clarenceville).

I definitely have four guys I can go to anytime who can get the job

Thursday's noon openers, the firstwill meet at 3 p.m. One team will be eliminated; the two teams that are 1-1 after the first two rounds will play Friday's first game, with another team being eliminated.

Which will leave two teams. The tournament championship will be .

Mike Hocking, a Redford Bishop Borgess graduate, will take his 5-2 season record to the mound this weekend for Madonna University at the NAIA District 23 playoffs in Mount Pleasant.

Friday or, if necessary, Saturday. At stake is a trip to the four-team NAIA regional championship in Illinois.

"We've got just as good a chance as anybody," said George. Perhaps; buf, as George also said, "I think the IN A DOUBLE-ELIMINATION first game is the most important. tournament, he may need to. After You lose it and right away you're in the loser's bracket — one more (loss) round winners and first-round losers and you're going home. Plus there's the emotional factor --- winning the first game is definitely a psychological advantage."

George is comfortable with his team's chances, based on their performance through the season — even though the Crusaders struggled down third base and John Bonham at the stretch, winning just five-of-13 games (prior to Wednesday's contest with Wayne State).

"I'M REALLY very confident when I take the field with this team," he said. His reason is his belief that pitching and defense will bethe deciding factors. The Crusaders havé both...

"We've corrected some defensive problems and improved immensely during the year," said George. Two changes made prior to the season have proved beneficial: inserting Jeff Pendell (Livonia Churchill) at "Their confidence level is higher," said George of his team. "They're playing in a more relaxed state. They know they won't get pulled if they make an error.

Madonna also struggled at the plate late in the season, but with first baseman Ernie Bowling - .388, 16 homers, 53 runs batted in, 48 runs scored - the Crusaders are always a threat.

"He's one guy who can turn a game around with his bat alone." said George. And, in a tournament like this, one swing of the bat could be decisive.

Crusaders gain district playoffs

It was a bit of a struggle, but - the loss for the Saints. true to form, according to coach Mike George - Madonna University Heights' ty's baseball team reached its season-long goal with three wins in its final five NAIA District 23 games.

Madonna will make its first-eyer appearance in the four-team district playoffs Thursday when it meets Aquinas College at noon at Mount Pleasant High , School. Spring Arbor College plays host Northwood Institute in the other first-round game of the doubleelimination tournament.

The Fighting Crusaders had managed just two wins in eight games before sweeping a non-district doubleheader from Calvin College Friday.

That seemed to help them straighten their course somewhat; on Saturday, the Crusaders split a two-game set at district cellardweller Grand Rapids Baptist, winning 8-1 and losing 8-7, then beat first-place Aquinas in a rain-shortened game Sunday, 2-1 in five inn-

ON MONDAY, it was another split for Madonna against Siena Heights at Capitol Park in Redford. The Crusaders lost the opener 3-0, then won the nightcap 5-3.

The 3-2 finish in district play gave Madonna an 11-6 record. Aquinas took first in the final regular-season-standings with a 15-5 mark; Spring Arbor was 11-7 and Northwood had a 12-9 mark.

Had Siena Heights managed to sweep Madonna Monday, the possibility was strong the Crusaders would not be in the playoffs. The second-game victory assured them they would.

"Our kids have responded well to pressure all year," said George.

Still, the Saints struck first in the pivotal game, getting two runs in the second. But Madonna came bottom half of the frame, with Kevin O'Connor's two-run double the key blow.

Siena Heights tied it with a run in the third, but the Crusaders took the lead for good in the bottom of hits in the game, scored the eventual game winning run.

ERNIE BOWLING'S solo home run leading off the sixth — his 16th of the season, and his 53rd run batted in - clinched the win for Rich Roy, who handcuffed the Saints on two hits. Roy gave up two earned runs, walking three and striking out six, to improve his record to 3-1. Starter Kevin Carleton absorbed

In Monday's opener, Slena hurler Dennis Szczechowski stopped Madonna on four hits in outdueling Madonna's Mike Hocking, who fell to 5-2. Szczechowski walked four and fanned five; Hocking surrendered three runs on nine hits and three walks, striking out four. Jeff Pendell had two hits for the Crusaders.

Sunday's game at Aquinas was played in a driving rainstorm, but 'Madonna had to play to ensure it would get in the minimum number of games to qualify for the district playoffs.

Aguinas struck first on Jim Goerner's ground out in the first inning, but the Crusaders got three of their four hits in the fifth to score two runs and pull out the victory. Pendell-doubled to start the rally; Bill Terski got another two-bagger to drive in Pendell, tying the game.

WITH TWO out, John Bonham battled pitcher Rod Rojas and sliced a single that brought in the winning run. Chris Kloc got the victory, raising his record to 6-4. Kloc gave up one unearned run on four hits and three walks, striking out. four. Rojas took the loss.

Against Baptist Saturday, Lou McKaig had a no-hitter through 6% innings in the opener before the Comets' Gary Hodgkiss dribbled an infield hit down the third-base line. Still, McKaig wasn't that sharp he walked 10 and struck out 11 in, improving to 6-2. Mark St. John was the loser for Baptist.

O'Connor had three hits for Madonna, with Bonham and Bowling each getting two. Bonham also scored three runs, stole two bases and drove in a run.

In the second game, the Crusaders led 7-4 entering the bottom of the seventh and lost. With Mike-Coleman on the mound in relief of right back with three runs in the starter T.C. Raptis, who left after taking a line drive off his pitching hand, the Comets rallied with a walk, stolen base and a run-scoring single by Allen Lindstrom.

Another single, a Pendell error and another walk loaded the bases the third without a hit. A ground and brought in reliever Rob Kowal. out by Mike Wozniak, who had two ski, who allowed an infield hit to Ryan Baker, scoring one run, and Matt Deja's two-run, game-winning single...

Bonham and Pendell each had two hits and an RBI for Madonna; Wozniak and Terski also had two hits apiece and both scored twice. Coleman took the loss; Lindstrom was the winning pitcher.

Madonna moved its overall; record to 31-16-1-

Wayne's Wetmore handcuffs CC

The individual efforts of Wayne Memorial's Jason Wetmore could not be overlooked despite a runner-up finish Saturday in the Redford Union Invitational baseball tourney at Capitol Park.

Welmore pitched a perfect game in a 5-0 first-round win over Redford Catholic Central. He then hurled three scoreless innings of relief in the semifinals, a 6-5 victory over Livonia Stevenson, putting Wayne into the finals against Plymouth Canton (a 3-1 loss in eight innings). (The first two rounds were played under à 3-2 count.):

The 5-foot-9 junior right-hander recorded four strikeouts, six groundouts and 11 popouts or flyouts en 1). route to his perfect game, the first since 1987 when Ron Way, now in the Pittsburgh Pirates minor league chain, struck out 19 of 21 batters. Thirty-nine of Wetmore's 57 pitches were strikeouts.

"Jason's really an infielder, but he pitched last year a little," Wayne coach Jim Chronowski said. "He kept them off-balance and he knew a lot of the hitters because he's played against the CC kids."

. CC starter Brett Walter suffered the defeat. Wayne collected six hits, two by Joe Coughlin. Doug Leverenz's two-run double in the first proved to be the game-winning hit.

In the semifinals, Wetmore came on to put out the fire for starter Ron Hopkins, hurling three scoreless innings. Wetmore fanned three and struck out three to pick up his second win of the day.

Losing pitcher J.J. Rarog, who went the distance, suffered the loss.

Leverenz, Scott Goleniak and Mike Martin each collected two hits for Wayne. Brian Burgess added a key two-run single in the fourth.

Wayne tallied the game-winning run in the sixth when pinch-hitter Jeff Hargis brought home Wetmore from third on a sacrifice fly.

Stevenson, which jumped out to a 4-1 lead, got two hits and three RBI (including a double), from Jon Klebaitis. Todd Bacile added a two-run doubles in the

. In the championship game, Canton edged the Zebras, 3-1, behind Jason Riggs' five-hitter. The senior struck out seven and walked three.

Canton broke the scoreless tie in the top of the eighth, spoiling the two-hit pitching of Coughlin, who struck out six and walked seven.

Coughlin, however, couldn't get out of the eighth, walking Chris James, Jason Riggs and designated Brian Tiell. The Chiefs then scored two runs on a Wayne infield error and added a third on Jason Crain's RBI

Wayne tried to rally in the bottom of the eighth when Wetmore walked and scored on Coughlin's double, but it was too little, too late. CLARENCEVILLE 6, CRANBROOK 5: Livonia farenceville pitcher Ken Bazzy ran his record to 5-0 Tuesda In the visiting Trojans' Metro Conference victory over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook (8-3 overall).

Bazzy, who did not walk a batter while scattering seven hits, outdueled the Cranes' Ken Maister, who allowed five hits-

Dan Hutchinson also homered for the victorious Rocks Sudz collected two doubles in a losing cause.

WYANDOTTE 5, WAYNE 1: Five errors led to Wayne Memorial's undoing Tuesday in a Wolverine A League encounter against the host Bears. Steve Craig, the losing pitcher, deserved a better fate, allowing only four hits over seven innings. He struck out five and walked six. All five Wyandotte runs were unearned.

Keith Lakos, the winning pitcher, went the distance, scattering four hits and four walks. He fanned five. Scott Haidy had two hits for the Bears (6.4 overall), including an RBI double. Joe Coughlin knocked in Wayne's only run in the bottom of Wayne is now 6-9 overall and 2-6 in the league. On Friday, the Zebras split a double-header at Trenton, losing the opener, 8-7, before rallying in the nightcap, 11-10. Jeff Hargis' two-run triple tied it, and Joe Limotte's sacrifice fly won it for the Zebras. Hargis, the winning pitcher in relief of Craig, the starter, collected two hits along with Brian

Chargers pull off upset

By Brad Emons staff writer

Coach Nick O'Shea served a spaghetti dinner Sunday night and his Livonia Churchill girls soccer team burned off plenty of carbohydrates the following day:

The result was a 2-0 upset victory Monday over Plymouth Salem, the state's top-ranked team in Class A.

"It (the spaghetti) gave us a power-boost," said senior Kristy Thurston, who scored the Chargers' second goal with 21:55 left in the first half. "It's called 'team bonding.' It helps when you get everybody together. Everybody kind of laughed when he (O'Shea) stirred the spaghetti with a spatula."

O'Shea may not have enough cooking utensils in his kitchen, but his Chargers sure had the right recipe in beating Salem, a team that had won nine straight and allowed only one goal.

"It's the first time I've ever hadthe team out together beside a banquet," said the Churchill coach, a former professional player. "I did the cooking myself. It was an Irish' spaghetti. Maybe I should have them over more often. The team was pumped up for sure. They were into more than they have been in the

THE CHARGERS were pressured from the opening bell, but refused to Dana Pososki tallied what proved to be the game-winner with 22:41 left in the opening half when she made a rush down the left side while fending off a Salem defender. Taking a pass from Mechelle Brazin, Pososki pulled Salem goalle Jennifer Emmett out of position before nailing a pretty shot with her left foot.

"It was a good foot race to the ball and she (Pososki) made a beautiful shot," Salem coach Ken Johnson

Thurston then stunned the Salem secondary again, breaking behind the defense to score only 46 seconds later on a long, high-bounding pass from Lori Place.

"We had two great goals," O'Shea said, "even though they (Salem) had more of the play up until that point." Salem coach Ken Johnson had nothing but praise for the 7-2-1

"Churchill played the long ball very well," Johnson said. "They hit the shots when they needed them even though I thought we had a lot more chances. When we were attacking, they were doing a good job of packing it in."

soccer

Johnson was referring to Churchill's tight defense, led by sweeper Stephanie Speen, along with Fran Priebe, Christina Garry and Marcy

"WHEN THEY get ahead, they play good defense," Johnson said. "It seemed like we were down there and down there in their end, but their defense was good. They tee the ball well. The cover, well, and they're quick. They've always been good defensively with people like Speen and Priebe."

Salem's high-scoring frontline of high-scoring Erin Harvey, Mandy Drummond and Erin Bagozzi could not beat Churchill goaltender Monia Cervi, who played steady in the nets for 80 minutes.

Churchill was able to protect its two-goal cushion throughout the second half despite a few anxious

"I wasn't really worried that we'd lay back, I was worried that we might panic if Salem got one goal," O'Shea said. "But defensively we marked light when it was 2-0. We were pushing up and it was good to see at that point.

"Defensively we usually play well.

Stevenson rolls, 10-0

Freshman Holly Kimble scored four times Monday, leading Livonia Stevenson to a 10-0 rout of visiting Farmington Harrison in a girls soccer match.

The state-ranked Spartans (10-0-1) led 4-0 at intermission.

Freshman Amy Marcoe added two goals and three assists, while sophomore Michelle Brach contributed two goals and two assits. Other Stevenson goal scorers included juniors Shannon Wilkinson and Ragen Coyne, each tallying a goal and two assists. Netminders Alicia Smith and Karen Groulx hardly worked up a sweat in combining for the shut-

We controlled a lot of the play, but Salem plays hard because they're always running at you."

Salem's new-found perch atop the rankings seemed like a curse.

"Being No. 1 is the kiss of death," Johnson said. "It's a funny game." Maybe we out of sync finishing the plays, but we have no excuses. We didn't play bad, but maybe this is a Godsend for us with the (Livonia) -Stevenson game-coming up. Maybe we got a little too cocky and we need to be knocked down."

IN ALL PROBABILITY, the winner of Monday's Salem at Stevenson game (7 p.m.) will win the Lakes Division crown in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Churchill, meanwhile, needs a win Monday at home against Northville to captured the WLAA's Western Division crown. (The divisional champs meet for the WLAA title on Thursday, May 16.)

"It's a pretty good feeling," said Thurston of the non-divisional win. "We came in with the idea of being as intense as we could be."

It appears that the Chargers have been playing with more intensity since their 2-0 defeat on April 24 to to city rival Stevenson.

Last Friday, the Chargers scored three times in the opening 20 minutes of play to beat host Livonia Franklin (2-5-2) by a 4-1 count.

-- Churchill led 3-0 at halftime on goals by Aimee Cousino (from Place), Pososki (from Melina Garrett) and Thurston (from Pososki). Pososki tallied her second goal of the afternoon in the second half'

(from Cousino) to make it 4-0. Sarah Bauer broke Cervi's shutout bid on a rebound shot late in the game. Lenay Truchan assisted on the

Two days earlier (May 1), Churchill drilled visiting Farmington Harrison, 11-0, as Brazin scored the hat: trick and had one assist.

Other Churchill players getting into the scoring act included: Erin Stacherski, two goals and one assist; Place, two goals, Thurston, one goal and two assists; Pososki, Garrett and' Janice Tomaszewski, one goal each; and Cousino, two assists.

Also on Wednesday, Franklin and Farmington battled to a 2-2 draw as Truchan scored twice, assisted both "times from Patty Shea.

On Monday, Pososki had tro goals and one assist in a 5-1 Churchill triumph at North Farmington. Place added a goal and one assist, while Speen and Danielle Priebe also scored for the Chargers.

Ladywood golfers show no Mercy

Livonia Ladywood lived up to its latest state golf ranking by beating Farmington Hills Mercy in a Catholic League dual meet Monday at Idyl Wyld, 208-241.

Meghan Blake shot a 47 to take medalist honors for the Blazers, now 9-2 overall and rated No. 7 in Class A by the Michigan High School Golf Coaches Association.

Rounding out the Ladywood contingent was Michelle Gossett (50), Lauren Zimmerman (50) and Katie Pinkelman (61)

Kristyn Schulkins paced Mercy with a 54.

"We felt pretty good despite the horrible weather we played in," Ladywood coach Sharon Laskowski said. "We're elated (about the state ranking). It's still early in the season, but we got off to a good start on the second-half. We have four seniors playing and I think they re-dedicated themselves to the second half of the season. They're out to prove they can do it."

LIVONIA STEVENSON, behind Megan Johnson's 42, defeated Plymouth Salem Monday in a Western Lakes Activities Association match, 225-257, at Whispering Willows.

Other scorers for Stovenson (3-2-overall) include Kara Carlsen (55), Wendy Ayres (62) and Michelle Beaty (66).

Megan Andrews shot a 59 to lead Salem, followed by teammates Julie Larsen (61), Liz Koehl (68) and Melissa Solberg

LIVONIA FRANKLIN ran its record to 6-5 overall with a 251-263 triumph over Walled Lake Western Monday at the Links of Pinewood.

Western's Tracy Gorton took medalist honors with a 55.

Three Franklin players each shot 59, including sophomores Nicky Meehan and Nancy Noechel, along with Junior Colleen Hansen. Senior Jenny Mazurek added-a

Richmond nips Pats, Mayle in tourney, 1-0

Livonia Franklin ace hurler Jenny Mayle bounced back from her first loss of the season Saturday, as 4 the Patriots rebounded for a 9.4 Western Lakes Activities Association (Western Division) softball win over visiting Walled Lake Western. Mayle (13-1) struck out seven, walked three and allowed five hits. as Franklin ran its overall mark to 13-2 and 7-0 in the division. Dawn Warner and Wendy Rynkiewicz each had two hits and two RBI for the winners. Beth Hare added a two-run double in the opening inning off losing pitcher Jenny Gross of Western, who allowed six hits, nine walks and three hit-batsmen over six innings.

Dawn Godfrey collected a pair of hits and scored twice for the Warriors.

On Saturday, Franklin was eliminated by host Richmond in an invitational tournament, 1-0, as Beth Moore tossed a three-hitter andstruck out 11, outdueling Mayle in a second found game.

The Class B Blue Devils went on to win the tourney, which included four state-ranked teams, defeating Romeo in the championship, 7-0.

Mayle allowed her only run of the game in the fifth when Richmond strung together a single and double. The senior right-hander allowed five hits, while fanning three. She did not walk a batter.

Mayle pitched a two-hitter and fanned seven in a 7-1 openinground victory over St. Clair Shores Lakeview. Jenny Mascarello led a six-hit Patriot attack, going 3-for-3 with an RBI triple.

JOHN GLENN 7, FARM-INGTON 3: On Monday, visiting Westland John Glenn made its six straight victories with the WLAA-Lakes Division triumph over the Falcons.

Winning pitcher Cathy Mruk scattered nine hits and three walks in going the distance. She outdueled Cory Wojcik, who gave up seven hits over contributed two hits and one RBI aplece for the Rockets, now 10-3 overall and 5-2 in the Lakes, Jenny Massey also scored three times and tripled.

softball

Glenn turned a pair of double-plays. On Saturday, Glenn smashed visiting South Lyon in a double-header, 16-2 and 16-6. Both games were halted after five innings because of the 10-run mercy

Rachwal, a junior shortstop, went 4for 4 and knocked in two runs in the opener. Nikki Nagel and Olack each contributed two hits and three RBI. Olack belted a three-run homer, making things easy for Mruk, the winning pitcher.

The junior allowed three hits and two walks over five innings.

In the second game, Bridget Mussin singled twice, belted a two-run homer and had four RBI. Nikki Wojcik added three hits in three trips, while winning pitcher Jenni Walaszek collected four RBI and two hits, including a three-run

SALEM 13, STEVENSON 1: In a WLAA-Lakes Division game Monday, visiting Plymouth Salem (4-12, 1-6) rolled to the win behind two doubles and four RBI by senior center fielder Missy Holmes.

Andrea Welling added two hits. Jenny Garvey, a sophomore, struck out seven in five innings to gain the win. Niki Italia suffered the loss for Livonia Stevenson.

LUTH. WESTLAND 34, GREENHILLS 2: Winning pitcher Christy Pydyn went 6-for-6, including a grand slam and seven RBI Monday, leading Lutheran High Westland (9-4 overall) to the rout against host Ann Arbor Greenhills (1-7).

Junior shortstop Kristen Strang contributed to the Warriors' 25-hit attack, going 5-for-5 with six RBI. Sophomore center fielder Leslie Turgeon added three hits and five RBI.

Greenhills pitchers issued 18 walks. Lutheran Westland coach Ron Gentz cleared his bench early after his team Karen Olack and Carrie Rachwal scored 14 times in the opening inning.

Glenn nips Wayne as Arbour sets discus, mark

David Arbour set a school record in the discus Tuesday, leading Westland John Glenn to a 65-63 boys track triumph over city rival Wayne.

The host Rockets (6-1) won three of four relays and five individual events.

Arbour's toss of 161 feet, 81/2 inches broke the mark of 159-4 held since 1980 by Bill Dye.

Other Glenn first-place finishers included Bill Griffiths, high jump (5-11); Randy Seach, 400meter dash (51.33); and Jason Nowicki, 800 run Nowicki, Scott Henson, Jeff Tapper and Rob Lulek teamed up to win the 3,200 relay in 9:01.82.

Lamar Ellison, Brandon Buck, Brian Schultz and Ed Jeannin combined for a first in the 400. relay (45.5), while the foursome of Ellison, Jeannin, Juan Peters and Jim Woloskie added a first in the 800 relay (1:33.49) = 1

Allen Buford and James Grady paced the upset-minded Zebras (3-3-1). -Buford-captured the long jump (20-6%), 100 dash (11.14) and 200 dash (23.18). Grady swept the 110- and 300 hurdles in 11.14 and 23.18, respectively. He also teamed up with Joe Dumont, Michael Hooks and Phil Gibson for a first in the 1,600 relay (3:36.32). Other Wayne winners included Joe Ramsey in the shot put (44-11/4). Matt Johnson in the 1,600 boys track run (4:48.8) and Aaron Simpson in the 3,200 run (10:52.51).

"It was a battle," Wayne coach Floyd Carter said. "They (Glenn) beat us in both the speed relays, 400 and 800. They ran well.".

LUTHERAN WESTLAND emerged the victor Tuesday in a five-school meet at Birmingham Country Day.

The Warriors'scored a team-high 129-points to out-distance Southfield Christian (102), the host Yellow Jackets (70), Bloomfield Hills Roeper (29) and Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest (20). Jason Leimbach figured in three firsts for Lutheran Westland, capturing the 110- and 300meter hurdles in 16.4 and 43.9, respectively. He also teamed up with Pat Schaefer, Brian McCormick and Warren Provencal to win the 1,600 relay in 3:41.4.

Other individual first-place finishers for the Warriors included Bill Wargo, long jump (18-314); Matt Grams, high jump (5-10); and Provencal, 400 dash (53.5).

Dave Glelow, Jason Olson, Wargo and Grams captured the 400 relay in 47.1, while the quartet comprised of Mace Mattieson, Chris Duetemeyer, Provencal and McCormick took the 3.200 relay in 9:11.0.

REDFORD CATHOLIC CENTRAL evened its Catholic League Central Division mark at 2-2 with a 91-36 win over Redford Bishop Borgess In a dual meet Monday at Redford Thurston.

First place finishers for the Shamrocks included Joe Suhajda, shot put (40-2), Al Barbarich, discus (125-1); Mike Kasper, long jump (19-2); Jim Waldecker, 110-meter hurdles (16.5); Jim Stebbins, 300 hurdles (44.98); Mike Wakenell, 400. dash (57.3); Eric McKeon, 800 run (2:09.5); Steve Witek, 1,600 run (4:48.0); and Luke Dahl, 3,200 run (10:53,0).

CC went unopposed in winning the 1,600 and 3,200 relays.

Anthony Hood paced Borgess with victories in the 100- and 200 dashes in 11.8 and 24.7, respec-

Hood, Anthony Dixon, Joel Erby and Sabin Duncan captured both the 400- and 800 relays in 47.71 and 1:40.4, respectively.

ReShawn Sumler added a first for Borgess (0-4) in the high jump (6 feet).

Spartans' Wroblewski breaks record

Livonia Stevenson's discus relay trio, led by Debble Wroblewski's toss of 128 feet, 7 inches, set a school record and new meet standard Saturday at the Stafford Relays in Walled Lake.

Wroblewski, Dina Sackleh and Dina Belleper combined for a first place total of 304-11.

The Spartans, who finished third in the meet behind champion Plymouth Canton and second place Milford, also captured the 3,200-meter relay as Carrie Creehan, A.J. Koritnik, Jennifer Plander and Gail Grewe combined for a clocking of 10:21.4.

The same foursome gained a second in the 4kilometer relay (23:15).

Stacy Prais, Grewe, Pfander and Creehan also placed second in the distance medley (13:38.0).

In the shuttle hurdle relay, Stevenson's quartet of Jennifer Nash, Karen Rosinski, Kelli Songuist and Jennifer Turbiak took third in 1:12.5.

girls track

WESTLAND JOHN GLENN captured its seventh dual meet in eight tries Tuesday, an 80-48 triumph over city rival Wayne Memorial.

The Rockets won six individual events and a pair of Glenn's lone double-winner was Lisa Rankey in the shot put (31-6) and discus (98-10). Other firsts were recorded by:-Lynette Conner, long jump (14-5); Dana Nowicki, 800-meter run (2:34.0), Tina Honeycutt, 1,600 run (6:05.6); and Jennifer Caplis, 3,200 run (13:29.4). Nowicki, Honeycutt, Stacey Dechert and Rebecca Berczel combined for a first in the 1,600 relay (4:31.5), while the foursome of Amy Work, Tina Letke, Suzanna Muurineu and Kim Springer captured the 3,200 relay.

Erika Beetz and Quinday Cooper paced the Zebras,

Beetz, the German exchange student, won the highjump (4-10), 100 hurdles (16.1) and 300 hurdles (49.1)." Cooper swept the 100- and 200 dashes in 13.0 and 27.8, respectively.

Cooper, Loleta Cobbs, Brandy Caincross and Nicole Perry teamed up for a first in the 400 relay (54.3)... while the quartet of Tranessa Burroughs, Cooper, Cobbs and Perry took the 800 relay (1:53.4).

Burroughs also added a first in the 400 run (1:05.5).

LUTHERAN WESTLAND out-pointed four other schools Tuesday in a meet at Birmingham Country

The Warriors topped the five-team field with 115 points, followed by Southfield Christian (83), Country

Day (59), Bloomfield Hills Roeper (29) and Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest (24). Individual winners for the Warriors included Jennifer Billand in the shot put (26-944) and discus (90-2); Stephanle McGhee, 100-meter hurdles (20.5) and 300 hurdles (1:00.2), Lori-Lapum, 100 dash (13.2), Sarah Pfeiffer, long jump (14-31/4); Lisa Shafer, 3,200 run (13:15.1); and Michelle Conklin, high jump (4-10).

John Bryngelson, bowler in the Merri Bowl Senfor -House-league-in Livonia, needed a strike for an 800 series recently, and someone jumped up while he wasabout to take his first step. This distracted him enough that he had to sit down, regroup and start over. His shot wasn't quite there and neither was that edge of

There always seems to be some confusion regarding lane courtesy. The rule book extends courtesy only one lane away, with the first consideration to the bowler to the right.

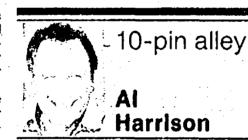

How often have you seen the "Alphonse and Gaston" act where each bowler signals each other to go ahead. This can get rather funny, but it Isn't because it makes the game go along slower than it should.

AT THE OTHER EXTREME, many of the "expert" bowlers will wait until there are six lanes clear on each side before they get up for their turn. To add to the problem, some bowlers will stand on the approach forever, aiming and re-aiming at the pins while everybody else waits in utter frustration.

-And perhaps the worst distraction is the person in the back row of the alley area who let's go with "HEY AL!" just as I am in my delivery. He is usually calling. out to his buddy, another guy named Al, to see if he wants another beer. Meanwhile my concentration is shot down.

It's called bowling etiquette and only common sense and courtesy determine how well it's handled:

Let's call it "Al's rules," to remove any confusion at the approaches. It is generally acceptable to give two clear lands on each side to the active bowler, staying completely off the approach until he or she has completed the delivery. If more than one bowler is ready at the same time, the bowler on the left shall yield to the one of the right and acknowledge this with a nod or hand motion. If the bowler of the left is ready first, then go ahead without delay. All bowlers should keep thier voice down; don't shout, it could spoil the fun for the others.

I REMEMBER a few years ago when a youth league director made an announcement over the P.A. system without realizing that one of the kids was trying for his 12th strike and a perfect game. The annnouncement boomed out just as the young man was in the middle of his approach and he threw a bad ball - no 300

Another distraction to be mentioned is running out the shot. This can really be distracting, because all it takes is to catch sight of something with just the corner of your eye. Just ask Bryngelson.

• Has anybody found out about the pig farm yet? I'm still walting to do this story. One of the local hospitals has a lab where they keep pigs and put old bowling balls in the pin. This is a very funny thing to watch as the pigs have more fun playing with that old ball than the previous owner one did. If you know where that farm is, please write me at the Observer. & Eccentric.

As this column goes to press, Sandy and I are still on our honeymoon. The bowling scores and highlights will be, back again next week as usual.

Nakdimen has been a member of the Redford-Livonia Theatre Guild for 27 years and on its board of directors for 24 years.

As executive director, Nakdimen has encouraged women to excel in positions that are traditionally filled by men. She took on the set construction position for the gulld's production of "1776" and had to learn from. scratch how to use lumber and tools

"I am very careful to see that we present at least one show a season that deals with women's issues," Nakdimen said. "In the past, we have presented 'Steel Magnolias,' 'Nuts' and 'The Club,' which is a feminist musical."

Nakdimen created the set decoration for the guild's production of "It's Only A Play" by Terrance McNally, which will be presented tomorrow and Saturday at the Theatre Guild of Redford-Livonia.

THE AWARD, sponsored by the college's Focus on Women program, was presented to Nakdimen at a special luncheon during Women's Resource Week at Henry Ford Community College.

Nakdimen works as personnel/ payroll and affirmative action coordinator at HFCC on Evergreen in > AN AFFIRMATIVE action coordinator, Nakdimen developed the college's affirmative action plan in cooperation with its affirmative action committee. The plan was implemented in spring 1990. Since then, the college has made improvements in its employee selection procedures, Nakdimen sald.

"HFCC has made significant progress in increasing the number of jobs for women and minorities in the area of administration, faculty and support staff," Nakdimen said.

Community colleges across the state are required to have affirmative action plans by the 1989 Michigan Community College Appropriations Act. In accordance with the act, HFCC's affirmative action plan -was approved by the Michlgan Civil Rights Commission and is on file in Lansing.

ensures campuswide equal opportunity," Nakdimen said.

NAKDIMEN, WIIO has worked at HFCC for 26 years, became affirmative action coordinator in January 1989. The major focus of her work recently has been on the college's new discrimination and harassment complaint procedure.

Nakdimen developed this procedure in cooperation with the affirmative action committee and the professional problems committee at HFCC. She has presented it to the HFCC Board of Trustees for review and certification.

"Affirmative action is one of the most difficult positions at any institution because it is a very sensitiveissue," Nakdimen said. "The viewpoints on affirmative action are varied so it is difficult to please everyone."

Although her first year as affirmalive action coordinator has been challenging, Nakdimen was for-

"HFCC's affirmative action plans tunate to have encouragement from college employees, she said.

> "I HAVE RECEIVED a great deal of support and assistance from the women and men on campus. My job has been easier due to the strong motivation of the members of the affirmative action committee and selection committees."

Nakdimen also tries to provide positive encouragement to students.

"I have tried very hard to be a mentor for students who have worked for me over the years. It has been a real reward to see these students graduate, get a stable job and improve their lives."

NAKDIMEN HAS four children. Her oldest daughter, Davin Torre, is the principal violist with the Flint Symphony and the conductor of the Flint Youth Symphony.

Her daughter, Melissa Pierson, Is a violinist with the Jacksonville Symphony.

Old houses, rural women in fictional documentary

By Cathle Breidenbach special writer

LOOMFIELD HILLS filmmaker Cynthia Greig is finishing up production on her experimental film with the working title, "Her Story."

She plans to release the 20-minute film in December and show it at independent theaters, local libraries and schools, as well as to historical societies and women's groups.

Her fictional documentary - a seeming contradiction in terms uses authentic and historical elements in a fictional combination. The film will juxtapose readings from the journals of rural women with film footage of five old, abandoned houses on Michigan's Leelanau Peninsula. Greig will season images of the houses with a few still photographs of women, using mostly old tintypes she found in flea markets.

"Image and text will interact," Greig explains, of her experimental format, but scenes from the weather-worn, now-silent houses won't necessarily illustrate events described in the journals or have any historical ties to the anonymous women whose photos will bring human faces to the readings. When she mixes film of the houses, seplatinted photographs and journal readings, she hopes to illuminate truths about women's lives through fiction.

THE HOUSES haunted with memories of their now-gone families are The women who wrote about their lives are real, as are their stories of rural isolation, poverty, hardships and long days filled with physical work. The overlaying of journals and unrelated images will create an evocative, celluloid poetry, presenting houses as metaphors for wom-

"Throughout history, women have been the primary caretakers of the home and family," Greig said, and the recurrent themes of houses and making homes in them runs like warp threads through the more than 100 journals she read to select the 15 she will use in the film. All the journals were written between the mid 1800s and the late 1930s. She considered using narratives but rejected them because they "looked at lives as history and tended to sum it all up." Diaries, in contrast, have a present quality that appealed to her. "They are evolving stories."

From the journals, she says, "I saw women played a big role as wives, mothers and income earners for the family. They raised chickens and geese. They were responsible for the family garden and helped in the fields. Many did mending, made butter or sold seed corn to raise mon-

"It's important to include texts to show that women played a larger role than we traditionally see," Greig said. In her film, the 31-yearold filmmaker aims to give voices to the ordinary women whose storieshistory often ignores.

With a fine arts degree in printmaking from Washington University and a master's degree in art history from the University of Iowa, the Kingswood graduate began her career as a visual artist. She did an internship at a museum in Worcester, Mass., and worked as curator for Artrain before going for her master's at the University of Iowa. There she took her first film class when she needed to escape from the preoccupation of writing her master's thesis on Dada performances in Paris.

AS A PRINTMAKER she was frustrated because in visual art she couldn't use her considerable language talents. In film, she found a composite art form that demands "a connection between text and image." She says, "Film is the perfect medium for me.'

As testimony to her verbal talents

'I chose to shoot when colors were muted and silent, when the leaves has burned to softer hues.

- Cynthia Greig

she admits, "I'm a good grant writer." That skill helped her win grant money to fund the film from the Michigan Council for the Arts and from the National Endowment for the Arts Regional Center for New Television in Chicago.

During each season of the past year, Greig and cinematographer Joel Santaquilani rented equipment and traveled north to photograph the Leelanau Peninsula houses she had chosen. Greig timed shoots carefully so the footage reflects the houses in mellow moods because her vision is to create what she calls a "soft film." In the flamboyant autumn, she says, "I chose to shoot when colors were muted and silent, when the leaves has burned to softer hues."

This month, Cynthia Greig will return to northern Michigan to audition women who will read the journal entries in the film. To get volunteer readers, Greig ran a press release in a publication that goes to almost every house in Leelanau

The mail brought interest from numerous women. Some loved old houses; some wanted to add their voices to a work telling women's stories; others spoke of personal, family experiences that gave them empathy they felt could add to the readings.

Greig conducted preliminary auditions over the phone. She was searching for varied voices, 12 to 15, but they all needed to express a genuine quality. She wanted voices with "distinctive meters," but most of all, Greig was listening for voices that she described as "having escaped from time."

Good voices blend in a musical fairy tale

Performances of the Plymouth Theatre Guild production of "Once Upon a Mattaress" continue through Saturday, May 18, at the Water Tower-Theatre on the. campus of Northville Regional Hospital. Interpreters for the hearing impaired will be provided Friday, May 17. For ticket information call 349-7110.

By Bob Welbel special writer

Colorful costumes, a strong-voiced cast of 30 and dandy leads combine for a joyous evening of musical comedy in Plymouth Theatre Guild's "Once Upon A Mattress."

The show is loosely based on Hans Christian Anderson's "The Princess and the Pea." As in all good fairy tales, the plot is capricious, yet somehow elegant.

It's about an imperious queen who is most possessive of her son. He longs to be married. Alas, she only will approve of a princess with "true royal blood." Her tests, of course, are so demanding that all the young ladies-in-waiting fail.

When Princess Winnifred (they call me "Fred") appears, the queen has her sleep on 20 mattresses, into which she has put a pea. Only a.blue blood would remain awake because of the pea, she reasons. All's fair in rigged tests, so members of the driac queen. Michael Shulman, is court conspire to make sure the princess passes the sensitivity test. You see, they cannot be married until the prince says, "I do."

LINDA PICCOLI brings equal measures of comic timing, stage prescence and a fine voice to her role as the domineering, hyponchon-most amusing as her muted king. who cavorts, chasing young damsels and doing pantomime and charades in lieu of talking.

Daryl Ziegelman plays their son, Prince Dauntless the Drab, with a delightful naivete. The object of his affection, Princess Winnifred the Woebegone, is charming, earthy and bemused in the capable hands of Karen Groves. She wisely doesn't try to imitate the yuks of a Carol Burnett (who did the role on Broadway).

Tani Ann Mough (Lady Larkin) and Steve Walker (Sir Studley) make a fine pair in a more conventional romance. Adam Dodt scores as the Court Jester. And Jeff Hammonds keeps the story rolling along as a minstrel.

Director/choreographer Rob James Morisi has fashioned a fairly well-paced show. Longish scene changes, however, tend to rob the show of momentum from time to

The set itself is well conceived and includes a proscenium mask that effectively frames the set. More detailing, however, would have given it an even better castle look.

PTG has installed a new sound system in the Water Tower Theatre, which seems to have helped the echo situation. Performers who speak quickly and don't enunciate clearly, however, still can be a problem. Sitting down front is recommended. 'Once Upon A Mattress" is blessed with many fine voices, however. When they join together in a cast number, they fill the whole theater.

St. Bede's 'lolanthe' is top-flight G&S production

Planers production of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Iolanthe" continue through Saturday, May 11, at the Southfield High School Auditorium in Southfield. For ticket information, call 557-6527 or 557-7245.

By Mary Jane Doerr special writer

The great-granddaddy of modern stage directing, W.S. Gilbert, may have done us a disservice with his stage books outlining the staging of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. It has provided many companies with the classical staging for each show, sometimes eliminating the need for inventiveness.

St. Bede Players have a stunning Together their duet "None Shall Part

Performances of the St. Bede production of probably the most elegant score of the Savoy opera masters, "Iolanthe" (pronounced 1-o-lanthe) Costumer Ruthann Logsdon Zaroff has an eye for color. Her bright costumes enhance two striking sets by John W. LaCroix Jr., and provide a brilliant setting for some quality voices, under the fine leadership of musical director-conductor

> Joseph Gamache. In the lead as Phyllis, Jenny Lee Head, now a student at the University of Michigan, is not only elegantly costumed in a fabulous green velyet dress, but her voice is wonderful to listen to. She plays the role straight, which is how it should be done, with enough egotism to add some humor.

> Her counterpoint Strephon is tenor Mitch Gillett, another lovely voice.

DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

Us from Each Other" is beautiful, like all the love duets in the G&S repertoire.

"IOLATHANE" is a satire of the fairles and the peers, another Fairyland and the English Parliament, who meet in Arcadia. Iolanthe (Ruthann Logsdon Zaroff) married a mortal 25 years before the story begins and has been banished to live with the frogs in a stream by the Fairy Queen (Sara Zivian Zwicki). These thunder-and-lightning stage effects make the queen a cross between Queen of the Night ("The Magic Flute") and Brunnhilde ("The

Her son, Stephon, is a half breed - half fairy and half mortal - a situation that has certain complications. When he disappears, only half of him disappears. He loves Phyllis who is a ward of the court of Chan-

G&S veteran of "patter" song George Bloomfield is the Lord Chancellor, more loveable each time he takes on a role. Certainly no one can sing faster, and in this role he has three songs to deliver. His "Love, Unrequited, Robs Me of Me Rest" was the fastest yet.

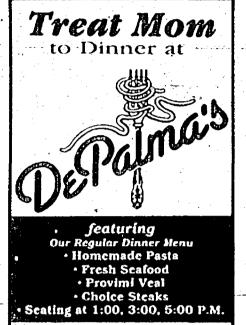

Gilbert's libretto in "Iolanthe" is satirical about the House of Lords and the political situation of 1882 when the operetta was premiered. The targets of the lines, especially those of the Fairy Queen's, have long since been forgotten. The humor then has to be in the way the lines are delivered and expounded upon in the stage antics.

Sometimes the Sullivan melodies and Gilbert's caustic lyric work off of each other. Thomas Petiet captures this humor in the "patriotic" song "When Britian Really Ruled the Waves" with its biting words. David Reynolds as Lord Tolloller and Douglas Rogez as Private Willis provide some lovely singing as well as more moments of humor.

Senate bill would prohibit residency rules

By Tim filchard

staff writer

State Sen. David Honigman is challenging some political Goliaths - Detroit, rural townships and unions - with a bill prohibiting residency rules for governmental employees. His Senate Bill 271 moved forward in the state Senate this week. though with little prospect of House

"What private employer would require residency in a certain city? Only government would be so stupld!" sald Honigman, R-West Bloom-

Detroit even requires applicants to be city residents. Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit, said a residency requirement "allows local units to have some ability to have some response time."

Sen. Jack Welborn, R-Kalamazoo, a former rural township supervisor and a 30-year volunteer fireman, also fought the bill. He offered an amendment allowing local units to impose a "response time requirement" on employees, without regard to whether they live in or out of a community.

Honigman called the amendment unnecessary because the bill exempts volunteer fire departments, and most local units have mutual aid. pacts for major fire and police emergencies.

Welborn's amendment lost, 13 yes to 15 no, in a hasty, unrecorded vote.

"GOVERNMENT should not tell people where to live," said Honigman, who produced the bill in the Labor Committee he chairs. "We. have dozens of Berlin Walls in Michi-

He said residency requirements are "oppressive, offensive" and an assault on personal liberty. His examples:

• A female police officer and a male firefighter can't marry because they work for different cities with residency rules. • Parents employed in cities with residency rules can't send their children to schools of their choice because they can't move into the district.

• Husbands and wives can't sleep. together because residency rules say one employed in a particular city must spend the night in that city before going on duty next day.

• Residency rules enable blackrun cities to exclude whites from employment, and white-run cities to exclude blacks.

SEN. CHRIS Dingell, D-Trenton, sought an amendment to allow unions to bargain collectively for residency rules. Honigman called it "even worse, more oppressive and offensive" than. a city-imposed rule. "It (union con-...

Computers are creating an automotive wonderland the marvels of computers, I was cess today can end up in the hands of more or less flabbergasted a few months ago when I was invited to look at a new computer system bought by a guy whose Interest was in designing a better rowboat.

What startled me was recognizing the system as being pretty much the same as one developed about eight years ago from scratch to win back the America's Cup. That first system set back Chrysler, among others, $10 million in paid and donated research to develop, and here it was, sitting on the guy's dining room table, at a retail price of about $7,000.

OK, so it's just another story about how cheap these things are getting. But it also illustrates how quickly an

If you are wondering about cars, a month or so ago I talked to a hobbylst-engineer type who already is saving to buy a similar system to design his own sports car. He has to buy new drapes for his wife first, though.

Both computer systems are derivatives of something called computer-aided design (CAD), which has had a profound effect on how cars are designed in the past several decades.

Essentially, CAD systems store all the elements of information needed to design a component, or even an entire automobile, in a data base that feeds individual terminals. A designer sits at a terminal, and can actually sketch out a drawing on his screen. Then, the dimensions and even the physical characteristics of what has been drawn come to life, and the computer can actually carve 'a' full-scale model, or even a set of production molds, using the picture on the screen.

More and more, the data and computer systems operated by the world's auto companies are becoming the essence of what a car is all about. The data bases store everything, from new designs to repair parts. They interact on a worldwide scale, so that a designer in Germany can quickly tap into the thoughts of a guy in Dearborn.

. IN A curious way, the reliance on these data bases to produce cars is changing the role of the corporations themselves. The huge pool of capital formerly represented by the investment in machine tools and stamping presses is being supplanted by the experience stored in these computother major auto companies in increasing its use of these systems to speed products to market. Ultimately, the winner is the one that will dominate the world auto business.

It was, of course, a multi-billion dollar effort that took years to develop. Ford is in a race with all the zine.

Then I remembered the guy at his kitchen table. I figure it's about three years before some other guy, maybe in his living room, will be able to duplicate what Ford is doing today with computer design - the intellectual equivalent of having your own assembly line in your ga-

Awrey pastry to disappear from local stores

By Doug Funke staff writer

Cookles, cakes and other sweets produced by Awrey Bakery will be available in only one retail location the company's thrift store in Livonia - after Saturday.

Plans announced by Awrey in March to freeze pastry as it came off the line, then wholesale to an independent distributor for delivery to 800 retail outlets in Michigan never materialized.

"In exploring the economics of the whole program, it wasn't feasible for the distributor, retailer or us," said-Rick Pedi, Awrey president.

No additional job losses beyond the 95 announced in March will result from plans to cease retail operations, said Betty Jean Awrey, spokeswoman for the familyowned company. More than 400 will continue to work at the bakery.

Upwards of 80 percent of Awrey's sales in recent years has been to national chains in the hospitality industry. Major customers include Marriott Foodservice Management Corp. and American Airlines.

AWREY HAS been looking for ways to streamline its production process and better incorporate its local business into an expanding national line. A distribution change was a big part of that strategy.

"Our primary objective was to merge production systems," Pedi said. "It's a bittersweet decision. Obviously. it is difficult to leave behind our retail tradition, but the narket has changed.

"Our national foodservice and contract manufacturing businesses have evolved to the point where they represent a majority of our overall business. We are now ready to focus all of our efforts and resources on these

Only products Awrey bakes for foodservice clients will be available in the thrift store The keepers include Long John Coffee Cake and Date Nut Bars. Sugar cookes, oatmeal cookies and fruit coffee cakes will be discontinued.

AWREY IS checking into the possibility of selling its nost popular products in in-store sections of retailers'

Pedi declined to comment on specifics under consid-∌ration.

Gilbert Borman, spokesman for A&P/Farmer Jack, said that while displaying Awrey brands in-store wouldn't be consistent with that company's practice of paking-from-scratch-internally, he wouldn't speculate on what the future might hold.

"I know there's a demand for Awrey products. It's a zood name in the marketplace," Borman said. "We've only done business with them for 60 years. There's a strong relationship there."

Veri-Best of Ferndale has been producing, marketing and distributing bread and bun products with the Awrey label since November after acquiring licensing rights.

"The company is profitable, and has been for 15 or 20 years and today (Monday) as we speak," Pedi said. He declined to reveal sales or income figures, but Crain's Detroit Business reported 1989 sales of $53 million.

Out primary objective was to merge production systems. It's a bittersweet decision. Obviously, it is difficult to leave behind our retail tradition, but the market has changed.'

Quality is more than the sum of the parts.

That's the philosophy of John J. Knappenberger, a Birmingham resident who's president of the American Society for Quality Control.

"Quality used to be defined in most peoples' minds as form, fit and function - meeting the customer's expectation," he said. "The whole idea now is total quality management, focusing on a total company approach - everybody - not only satisfying customers but delighting

Quality involves first establishing a mind set, then a process, Knappenberger said.

"It's a strategic issue. Everybody in a company is an external and internal customer. We're all customers and suppliers. Quality is an enabler for a company. To be very good at what you do, you shouldn't be able to dissect it (quality) out."

That's why Knappenberger prefers the word quality to the term quality control.

HE ILLUSTRATES some of his points with stories.

"Take a restaurant dinner. If you're satisfied and pay a fair price, by the old definition, it was good quality. By the new definition, it must not only satisfy you, but you must go out and tell your friends.

"The whole issue in quality is not to just satisfy the customer, but take it one, two or three steps beyond to delight. That's the best sales market to future business."

He offered an example involving the baking of bread. Some manufacturers anxious to stand out from the pack, may get the idea that icing the product is the way to go. So quality control and marketing efforts are geared toward the end part of the

All wrong, Knappenberger said. "It looks good, but when you cut it, it's the same old stuff. Good quality companies today are defining quality as yeast. You know it's there in the bread, but you can't really taste

Then there are the sports meta-. phors that apply across the board. "Baseball teams are buying superstars, but whatever sport, you need total team involvement to win," he said.

Empowering workers at all levelsto solve problems rather than mandating procedures from on high is the best way to get everyone on the quality bandwagon, Knappenberger said. An experience of the ASQC illustrates his point.

ed working hours to accommodate clients on both coasts, but also received permission to devise a staffing schedule that would please everyone.

"People don't understand how actions way upstream can affect customers," he said of pronouncements. Words used in dealing with people reflect a mind set and probably behavior patterns as well, Knappenberger said. He was stunned = and delighted - recently to hear himself referred to as a customer rather than a passenger on an airline flight.

On another occasion, he suggested that a public official would enjoy better relations with his constituents by referring to them as customers rather than taxpayers.

"THE WAY we treat people is what we can expect from people. That's part of quality," he said.

Knappenberger, 44, until recently was vice president of quality for TRW automotive operations. He -- Phone operators not only suggest---learned about the ASQC in the mid-1970s when directed to join by his boss and became active several years later as he progressed through management training.

"The more I looked at it, the more I saw quality touched everything," he said.

The ASQC was founded in 1946 to bring standards required by the war Milwaukee.

Customers like these dealers

By Darrell Pressley staff writer

Two area car dealerships recently won top honors for sales, service and customer satisfaction - Bob Jeannotte Pontiae and Fox Hills Chrysler Plymouth, both of Plymouth.

Bob Jeannotte Pontiac received a No. 1 rating in March for 1990 by the Pontiac Division.

The rating, which is based on customer responses, is a combination of service, sales and overall dealership satisfaction, said Russ Baltazar, sales manager for Jeannotte. Ponti-

The Customer Satisfaction Index is a questionnaire customers fill out after buying a new car. Jeannotte Pontlac, a Master Level One dealership, scored 92.4 percent by customer response in 1990 among Pontiac dealers in Michigan.

One of the main factors in the rating is customer satisfaction, said Reg Harris, manager of media relations for Pontiac Division.

"If the customer isn't satisfied he won't come back to the dealership. And may not buy a Pontiac."

The rating gives the dealership a gauge of how it is treating customers, Baltazar said.

At one time, the foreign car industry and consumers felt American car dealers could not compete with them. Foreign cars were so much better; their packaging was so much better, Baltazar said,

"We got basically tired of hearing that," he said.

So Jeannotte went on a mission two years ago to change that perception by starting from the ground floor - meeting and greeting people, Baltazar said.

After the customer buys the car, the salesperson makes a follow-up call, and the customer later receives a second call from Bob Jeannotte's personal secretary, Baltazar said.

"It's a team concept — it starts.

with our cashier all the way up to Mr. Jeannotte."

FOX HILLS Chrysler Plymouth won an Award of Excellence-forsales, service, facility, customer relations and community involvement among the 5,000 dealerships nationally, said Tom Jakobowski, a Chrysler Corp. spokesman.

"This award is earned by the top 10 percent of dealerships nationally," Jakobowski said. In its nine-year existence, Fox-Hills-Plymouth-hasreceived this award seven times.

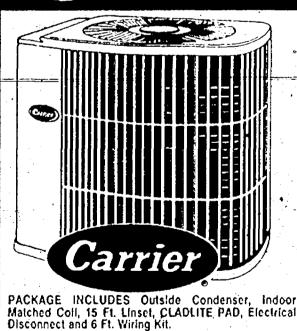

Jim Schebil, owner of Fox Hills Chrysler, said while he is proud of the award, taking care of the customers' transportation needs is what really is important.

Providing a customer with a car, making sure that parts are available and that any problems with the car are fixed quickly are just a few keys to their success, Schebil said.

"Awards are nice, but customers are better," he said.

Major buy demands close look

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

There's only thing worse than buying a car and finding out you're stuck with a $15,000 lemon.

Buying a house and finding out you're stuck with a $150,000 lemon. Home buyers should always remember the first rule of consumers:

caveat emptor - let the buyer beware. Or more appropriately, perhaps, let the buyen be aware.' Home inspection companies and real estate attorneys are hesitant about labeling homes as lemons they don't tell people to buy or not buy a house. Home inspectors say anything made by man can be fixed by man - it's just a question of how much money you're willing to spend to fix the problem. Janet Compo of Americamp Home Inspectors Inc. in Farmington Hills said it is penny wise and dollar foolish to not hire a home inspector when purchasing a home. A home inspection cost is negligible when compared to the overall investment in a home.

Compo said complex problems are beyond the scope of most home buyers, but there are still certain things homeowners can look for in the initial stages of house hunting to help trim the possibilities. "One of the most obvious things to look for is the conditions in the basement," Compo said.

DAMP SPOTS, a musty odor or standing water - particularly near the base of basement walls - may not necessarily be expensive to repair, she said, but home buyers should be aware of them. Some water seepage problems may require light interior work or regrading outside, which is also relatively inexpensive, she said, but severe scepage. may require extensive digging and foundation work.

Home buyers should also view the grading around the home, she said. Grading that directs water toward the home should be altered to avoid future problems.

The roof also warrants buyer attention, Compo said.

"If it has three layers of shingles, the next time the roof needs repairing will mean removing the existing layers," she said. Also check areas around roof pipes, chimneys and roof flashing scaled. . Homeowners should also check wiring - are plugs three-pronged and polarized? - and plumbing old galvanized piping should be replaced with copper or high grade plastic.

GROSSE POINTE real estate attorney Ronald Barrows said homeowners should never assume the obvious. "Many disputes can be avoided if home buyers ask themselves the right questions before buying."

· Barrows said too often people buy homes without considering the obvious and sign purchase agreements thinking that any problems can be resolved before the home closing. 'That's not the case.'

Barrows said it is wise to retain an attorney before the purchase agreement is signed. "By statute, (real estate agents) are employed by the seller."

Barrows sald real estate agents are not out to cheat home buyers problems arise out of lack of knowledge. "There's no intent to do anything wrong, they just don't know and don't know they don't know."

One of the problems he encounters most often, Barrows said, is a home location relative to potential headaches that may not be immediately evident: "Is the property located near an airport, sanitation facility (landfill or wastewater treatment plant) or near a gas station?"

Environmental issues like these, as well as standing pools or large areas of plant life, could indicate expensive cleanup or health problems later, he said.

Special feeling

Everyone wins in these games

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Wayne County Special Olympics Summer Games usually start with a spark, a blaring trumpet, a rousing cheer and a loud bang. And, as always, the annual event finishes with a big hug.

On Friday, Gene Cowger of Wayne-Westland contingent provided the spark as the Special Olympics torch lighter; the Livonia Franklin Marching Band furnished the trumpet, along with a few other musical instruments; a cheer was supplied by parents, teachers and volunteers and the bang came from the guy holding the starter's pistol.

The hugs? Well, those come from everyone involved.

Some 1,100 athletes who are mentally impaired participated in the track and field and swimming events at Livonia Franklin High School. Gymnastics, walking and weight lifting events took place April 27 at the school with 400 athletes participating.

Friday's opening ceremonies included David Hatty of Redford Union receiving an award as "1991 Wayne County Special Olympics Inspirational Athlete."

Sometimes a hug didn't take the form of an embrace. Perhaps it was just a few words of encouragement from a volunteer such as Aaron Ingold.

"Are you ready?," Ingold turns to ask one pecial Olympian as they walk out unto the track at Franklin High. "Did you stretch

The athlete looks a bit pensive and confides in Ingold that he's afraid he's going to fall down while running the 50 meters. The Ingold assures him everything will be fine.

AS THE runners approach the starting line, the athlete turns his head back to Ingold once again. He looks pensive.

"You're not going to fall," Ingold tells him. "You're going to do all right."

A starter's gun crackles in the mid-morning air to interrupt the moment. The athlete gallantly runs the 50-meter dash and finishes sixth. He didn't fall down.

At this moment, the Special Olympian Oath of "Let me win. But if I cannot win. Let me be brave in the attempt" rings particularly

Not that raw competitiveness is devoid from these events, especially in the high jump where the Burger Center in Garden City fields an excellent team. Volunteers lift the bar an inch at a time, making each jump more difficult.

But Special Olympians Larry Copeland and Shawn McAllister are fearless. Both clear the bar at 4-feet, 6-inches. The suspense mounts as volunteers began to clap as both compete to clear 4-feet-7.

McAllister hurdles over the obstacle, drawing a rousing applause. Then Copeland misses his first and second attempt.

Burger Center teacher Suzan Samaan takes Copeland aside for a brief pep talk. On his third try, Copeland clears the bar. Both receive first-place medals.

As people run up to congratulate Copeland and McAllister, Bonnie Bacon, 27, from Redford Union is a solitary figure before the standing jump event at the other end of the

She waits patiently as several other Special Olympians complete their jump, fumbling with a Popsicle stick.

Finally, Bacon's turn comes. She leaps and volunteers promptly mark off 172 centimeters with a golf tee, good enough for second

In terms of enthusiasm, though, Thomas Watt from ARC Northwest is tough to beat. Half-way through his run in the 50 meters, Watt thrusts his arms outward in victory and jumps right into the arms of volunteer Sarah Deminski at the finish line.

"I was so surprised, I forgot to mark down what place he finished in," Deminski says.

Abortion rights still top NOW's agenda

By Barbara S. Cassani special writer

One of the major issues that Michigan NOW continues to address is that of reproductive freedom and personal choice in the escalating battle over abortion rights. Keeping abortion safe, legal and available to women of all ages has been an on-going vigil for the organization. The MINOW Conference took place this past weekend at the Van Dyke Place Hotel in Warren.

"We want to stress that NOW is an organization of women, but not just for women," said Jo Isgro of Livonia and president of Western Wayne County MINOW. chapter. "NOW works on many issues that involve the rights of women, men, children, animals and the envi-

"We're not just focused on 'women's' issues - it's more a matter of 'do the right thing' - fighting for and preserving basic human rights."

Keeping abortion safe, legal and available consumes a big part of the organization's efforts. This campaign has gained more momentum since the Parental Consent Law recently went into effect on April 1. The Parental Consent Law governs a minor's access to abortion and states that she must have at least one parent's consent in order to petition the court, in what is termed "judicial bypass," for a waiver. This new legislation compounds, MINOW feels, the on-going problem of teenage pregnancy which has risen substantially in recent years.

Indeed, the Michigan Department of Health statistics cites 53.2 percent of teenagers in the 15-19 year age group, in 1991, who engage in sexual activity. This is a 6.1 percent rise from the 47.1 percent figure cited in

I am a 54-year-old right-handed female who enjoys your column weekly. It is very interesting to me on how you analyze people's handwriting.

Could you be so kind as to tell me what you see in my writing? Thank you so much.

Dear A.C.,

In this sample of your handwriting I see a restless, searching woman. Your orientation is toward lots of activity, material success and pleasure. You appear to have a fleeting interest in too many things.

In your interpersonal relationships: you can be quite friendly. At other times, however, you are less friend, ly. This has a way of confusing others as to where they stand with you.

Rarely are you at a loss for words. A vivid imagination and a sense of drama probably furnish the abilityto be scintillating at times. I can almost visualize you entertaining others with your stories.

Sometimes you my distort what you observe and hear without realizing it. You tend to interpret what happens from the viewpoint of your own values and attitudes. You want to accomplish things on a grand scale to call attention to yourself and make you feel more important.

It appears that someone in the position of authority made you feel inferior in the past. Your need to be ever-busy may be your way of trying to free yourself of this situation or person.

Feelings run deep with you. A long memory for hurts does not make it easy for you to forgive and forget.

Consent law major concern for state NOW

These socio-economic factors also provide the link to burgeoning Aid to Families with Dependent Children budgets as studies conducted recently showed that more than half of AFDC's budgets were expended on families in which the mother was a teenager.

But teenage pregnancy costs more than taxpayers dollars - there are severe health risks that take their toll on both teenage mother and in-

PREGNANT TEENAGERS risk more pre-natal and delivery complications and suffer a higher infant mortality rate than women aged 19-35. Nationwide, teenagers account for at least 18 percent of all lowbitth weight bables who suffer a higher incidence of handicaps, including mental retardation, birth defects, hearing and visual impairment, autism, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, learning disabilities, lung problems and speech impediments, according to the National Center for-Health Statistics.

Also, children born to teenage mothers are at greater risk of hospitalization by age 5 because of a gastrointestinal infection or accident. With these type of risks, the ensuing costs to provide adequate care to these children also rises, making the cost of social services and other community support systems a major financial drain on state and local aid

And, with the recent cuts in all social services, notably the AFDC programs, recently enacted by the Engler administration, the management of teenage pregnancy becomes more than just a moral question, it becomes a complicated, intricately. woven social and economic question that increasingly becomes harder to answer.

Since the Parental Consent Law went into effect, local MINOW chapters have stepped up their efforts in Fevoking it. The parental consent law necessitates communication between a young woman and her parnents-of the law (ccl_cannot be mandated by law. They disagree their homes.

ishes the girl who doesn't have good communication with her parents, or simply is afraid to hurt them with the news of her pregnancy."

Isgro goes on to relate the story of aleko mananaki kala alemen na na kala alemen alema alema

Becky Bell, the Indiana teenager who, because of Indiana's parental consent law, sought an illegal abortion and died of the infection that re-

"We have circulated 'Becky Bell' bracelets throughout our chapters and have asked members to wear them until the parental consent laws are rescinded," Isgro said. "We have written to the Bell's and have invited them to speak, which they did at U-M earlier this year in a candlelight ceremony in memory of Becky. We've also written to 'Sixty Minutes' and thanked them, on behalf of MI-NOW, for running Becky's story."

Since then, the Bells have been speaking throughout the country against parental consent laws. Stark remembers that it was the issue of restricting abortion rights with the Supreme Court's Webster decision in 1989 that re-involved her in feminist.

her own teenage daughter to the march on Washington D.C. to rally for Pro-Choice.

"That trip with my daughter was very inspirational to me - it made me realize that I had to do something — I had to get active on this issue. We had come to take this right (reproductive choice) for granted and now it's being taken away - it's a non-negotiable woman's right that has to be protected."

MINOW chapters are also fighting the Barental Consent Law in another. way by developing a group of volunteers called PAALS (Patient Advocates and Liaisons). A pregnant teenager may request a PAALS volunteer who will go through the entire judicial bypass process with her. PAALS also serve as liaisons between a teenager and her attornéy.

WHAT EVERYMAN KNOWABOUT IMPOTENCE.

IT'S TREATABLE.

The real tragedy of impotence is letting it go untreated. even one more day. Stop denying yourself and your sexual partner an important part of your life. Impotence can be treated in almost every case. The STAR program developed by Grace Hospital:

provides complete diagnosis and treatment of male impotence. This confidential program is directed first at determining the cause of the problem. Diseases such as diabetes, cancer, multiple sclerosis and problems with prostate, heart and high blood pressure are common causes. There are many others. Injuries to the spinal cord, and low hormone levels can also cause crection failure. So, too, can 🕓 fatigue, alcohol, drugs, smoking, stress and depression. Medicines used to treat such things as depression, high blood pressure and ulcers can be part of the problem. Age alone is not a cause of impotènce. And, ves, some impotence problems are psychologically based; even organic impotence has an important psychological component that requires identification and treatment. An accurate diagnosis is the key to effective treatment. Sometimes, only a change in medication is needed. More serious problems may require surgery. But help is available. Complete, confidential and supportive. Call today and talk to one of our professionals.

Power of prayer source of strength

By Julie Brown staff writer

THEN IT comes to the power of prayer, Bruce Dishnow is a believer. "We need to become signers of the declaration of dependence, dependence on God," said Dishnow, director of Campus Crusade for . Christ at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

The first step is to humble ourselves and pray.

Dishnow lives in Ann Arbor with his wife and four children. He spoke during the Canton-Plymouth prayer breakfast Thursday, May 2, at Fellows Creek Golf Club in Canton. The get-together was held to recognize National Day of Prayer.

Dishnow told a story of his daughwho came home from grade school one day and described her teacher's reluctance to mention God in the classroom. He spoke with the teacher, and discovered she and her colleagues were under pressure to refrain from discussing God.

"I felt more sorry for her."

IN THE LAST 30 to 50 years, the "slippery slope" has led downhill, he said. The quality of family life has deteriorated, and many young people don't know of the nation's religious heritage.

"There we go again, signing the declaration of independence from God. We are paying for that," Dishnow said. For many, religion is no longer recognized as a positive force in everyday life.

In 1940 or thereabouts, major problems in school included talking, gum chewing, running in halls, littering and wearing inappropriate clothing. In 1991, drug and alcohol abuse, pregnancy, teen suicide, rape, robbery and assault have replaced those as major problems.

"One generation in time," Dishnow said. "That's where the slippery slope is taking us.'

The situation's grim but not hopeless. It's essential to become a mature, informed activist, he said. One grand illusion "is the myth of human self-sufficiency."

Praying - for marriage, children, work, government leaders and an eternal relationship with God - is important." Prayer's vital and yet can be difficult.

"It's because it goes against our inner foolishness of pride. God is opposed to pride."

The National Day of Prayer observance attracted many people from the Canton-Plymouth community.

HE NOTICED an increased interest in prayer during the recent Persian Gulf war. "Prayer became a national pastime. We don't see that during other times.".

It's important to think about what it takes to enter heaven, he said. A lifetime of accomplishments isn't what matters most to God.

"Heaven is a gift to be accepted, because of what Jesus Christ has done. We have great hope, great hope, because we've got a great God who has given us great promises."

About 115 people came to the breakfast, the first such National-Day of Prayer observance in the Canton-Plymouth community. The morning included a musical performance by the Geneva Ensemble of Geneva Presbyterian Church in Representatives from a number of area churches participated. The Rev. George Charnley, pastor of St. John Neumann Catholic Church in Canton, gave the invocation. The Rev. Dr. Jerry Yarnell, pastor of St. Michael Lutheran Church in Canton, gave the benediction and led the extended prayer time after the breakfast.

The national observance has been held for 40 years. In 1988, following congressional action, President Ronald Reagan signed a bill designating the first-Thursday of every-May as National Day of Prayer.

The idea for the local observance originated with Claudia Garrett of Canton, a St. Michael Lutheran Church member.

"I thought we needed to educate our people," Garrett said. She was pleased with the turnout, and hopes the event will be held each year, alternating between a Canton site and a Plymouth one.

Garrett enjoyed Dishnow's speech.

"I thought he was excellent. He hit a lot of nails on the head." The National Day of Prayer program provides an opportunity to draw people from all walks of life. and different denominations, she said. Church representatives helped with planning, with Canton Community Foundation leaders helping to coordinate the event.

People often need such a reminder of the power of prayer in daily life, Garrett said.

"Oh, definitely. That's why I think this helps make us mindful of where we've come from and where we're going.'

The Geneva Ensemble performs during the prayer breakfast.

Honest reporting: It's what we need

Our recent war highlighted a number of lessons that apply to life in general as well as the battlefield in particular. One such lesson was reiterated in the wake of another recent battle.

This one was fought with golf clubs rather than war machines. The arena was the sandtrap land of the Masters Tournament in Augusta. rather than the sands of the Middle

The lesson that came from the golf in Augusta was, however, akin to the one that came from the Gulf in Arabia: If one would like the public to cheer, then paint the picture in sanitary terms.

A major selling point of the war was the sanitization of it all. Smart bombs, Patriots and lights flashing in the night sky all did well to cover over the horror on the ground. Sortees sounded so much more acceptable than bombing runs. Collateral

APPARENTLY ONE newsman did not study the lesson. When Mitch Albom (Detroit Free Press) reported on the Masters Tournament, he raised the issue of racism in the sands of Augusta. It did not go well with some readers who believed that such reporting tainted the august tournament. One reader suggested that Augusta remains sacred ground.

Some suggested that this sort of thing does not belong in a sports column. Perhaps that is part of the reason why various forms of man's inhumanity to man are allowed and helped to continue. We divide life. into neat compartments. We have sports perspectives and economic perspectives. We consider social perspectives and war perspectives.

Non-sexual love affairs can develop, experts say men and women, believed by some to be bridged only when a sexual relationship develops, may not be so wide after

Men and women can develop "non-sexual love affairs" on the lob and that these associations usually benefit both the couple and the organization, according to a team of University of Michigan School of Business Administrationn research-

Twenty-two percent of the 1,000 managers surveyed reported involvement in non-sexual love relationships, four-times more than the 5percent who reported sexual in-

The research team defined two types of male-female relationships, both deeper emotionally than a platonic affair, a traditional friendship or a mentorship.

. In both types, an intense emotional bond develops, characterized by "mutual respect, support, open communication and the feeling that the two form a couple," said project

HE VAST CHASM between leader Robert Quinn, assistant professor of organizational behavior and human resource management.

What the U-M researchers called an agape (pronounced aw-GAW-pee) or altruistic relationship is more like a deep friendship not defined by gender. The agape couple deeply trust each other, are not bored together; respect each other's strengths, abilities, beliefs and values; and communicate freely.

A STRONG sexual energy distinguishes the "eros relationship" from agape. Men and women in eros relationships "have all the feelings of a romance," Quinn said.

"They feel excitement, infatuation and hear all the bells and whistles of lovers," he said.

Yet in neither relationship do participants engage in sexual activity. Agape couples refrain from sexual intimacy because of other moral commitments - to their marriages, for example, or to a sense of ethics. Eros couples, Quinn said, stay away from sex because of fear - fear of rejection or ruining the relationship or fear of company policies.

Individuals involved in both kinds of relationships experience greater personal payoffs in terms of their job than they would from a casual friendship, said Sharon Lobel, visiting assistant professor at the U-M Business School.

"They are more creative, more motivated; feel more competent, find work is more fun and are more secure," Lobel said. "They help each other reach their work goals, help advance each other's career, offer each other new ideas and balance each other's weaknesses."

The benefits spill over into the organization, resulting in greater productivity and a better product. However, the eros partnership can generate tension and rumors among the couple's co-workers, Quinn noted.

"WHEN CO-WORKERS perceive an intimate relationship, they assume the couple is involved sexually. This can cause reactions because others believe the rewards of the relationship are distributed unevenly

- pillow talk, secrets, constant support at staff meetings - and the others can't compete with the currency being exchanged."

Quinn suspects a turning point in close male-female relationships occurs if the couple discuss their mutual attraction.

Top scholars win acodemic honors

They tackle it all — a tough academic schedule, sports, volunteer work and part-time jobs — and do it with flying colors.

The Observer Academic All-Stars, Class of 1991, are the best and the brightest of local public and parochial schools.

The Observer thanks the schools who nominated students. A note of special thanks to the committee of secondary school principals who selected the students.

Chairing the committee was Robert Schramke, principal at Redford Union High School. Other committee members were Dale Coller, Stevenson High School; Geraldine Kiessel, Garden City High School, Larry Boehms, Troy High School; Gary Faber, West Bloomfield High School, Clayton Graham, Harrison High School; Gerald Ostoin, Plymouth Salem High School and Dennis Connolly, John Glenn High School.

The students are selected based on high school grade point means combined with national test

John A. Richards

JOHN A. RICHARDS - Catholic Central High School

John A. Richards is a senior at Catholic Central High School, where he maintains a 4.0 grade point average. This is the second year he has been named to the Observer All-Star team.

The son of John and Marilyn Richards of Clairview Drive in Dearborn Heights, he plans to attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology and pursue a career in engineering.

He is co-captain of the Quiz Bowlteam at CC and participated in the Michigan Math Competition. He belongs to the computer club and National Honor Society.

His academic honors include the Gabriel Richard Honor Roll and National Merit Scholarship Finalist.

Richards' parents have influenced his academic career by their encouragement and example, he said.

Richards believes everyone owes it to society to use his/her talents and abilities.

"If I, as a human being, can truthfully say that I have used my innate abilities to their highest potential, then I can say that I have fulfilled my obligation to society," Richards wrote.

David Winebrener

DAVID WINEBRENER Churchill High School

David Winebrener has accepted an appointment to the U.S. Air Force Academy where he'll major-in aeronautical engineering.

"For several years, my goals has been to be a pilot," writes Winebrener, a senior at Churchill High School.

Winebrener says he's looking foward to the academic competition, the small class size, the military and leadership training and discipline at the academy.

He was nominated to the Air Force Academy by U.S. Sen. Donald Riegle. His nominations to Annapolis came from Vice President Dan Quayle and U.S. Rep. William D. Ford.

He also has been accepted to the University of Michigan engineering college.

He recently was named a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program and received the Renssaeler Polytechnical Institute Award for Mathematics and Science.

has spent four years on the tennis team, two years on the cross country team and one year on the wrestling team. He's been active in his church youth group, teen choir and teen musical. He's a member of the Spanish Club, Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) Students Against Smoking Committee, Quiz Bowl team, debate club and varsity debate team.

His academic honors include class scholar, Michigan Math Prize Competition and Michigan High School Math Exam.

He says his parents, James and Jean Winebrener, have influenced his academic career the most because "they have always supported me."

Maya Manian

MAYA MANIAN_ Mercy High School

Maya Manian is the daughter of Venkat-and Janaki Manian-of Farmington Hills.

An honor student at the all-girls school in Farmington Hills, Manian plans to attend a major university and major in English. She also plans to pursue a master's degree.

At Mercy, Manian is a member of the French Honor Society, National Honor Society, ski club, Tamil Sangam and science club. She is co-chair of the emergency committee, a math tutor and a member of the school pastoral team.

Her academic honots include a USAA All-American Scholar Award and a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship Program. She also received an International Foreign Language Award and qualified for a Michigan Competitive Scholarship.

Manian credits her mother for having the most influence in her academic career because she "encouraged me to do my best academically and otherwise."

Lynn Biberdorf

LYNN BIBERDORF Plymouth Christian Academy

Lynn Biberdorf of Plymouth has been named to the Observer all-star team for the second year.

A senior at Plymouth Christian Academy in Canton Township, she will attend Northeast Missouri State University and study biology/premed. Afterwards it's medical school and more studies in foreign languages and eventually a career in medical missions.

She was co-captain of the varsity volleyball team at Plymouth Christian where she won the sportsmanship award and was named second team all-conference. She also belongs to the student council, National Honor Society, choir, church youth choir and year-book staff. She plays the piano and is involved in drama.

Biberdorf of Plymouth, Biberdorf has won numerous awards in German at the University of Michigan Festival.

She also has collected honors in math, business, science, English, drama and history. She is a finalist in the National Merit Scholarship program and a semifinalist in the U.S. Presidential Scholar program. She also is a member of the Academic All-State Team.

She credits her German teacher Linda Marlow as having the most influence on her academic career because "she never allowed me to do any less than no

MOT BOOSTERS Michigan Opera Theatre has a new outreach group, dubbed the Bacchantes, announced David DiChiera, general director.

The group's objectives are both to educate and attract younger audiences and help them feel porting opera.

The group is "innovative, full of exciting, fun ideas to infroduce people to opera and provide them with the information to fully enjoy MOT productions," said Sharon Giola, who chairs the Alliance of Volunteers of Michigan Opera The-

The name Bacchantes is based on the mythological tale about the followers of Bacchus, the. Greek god of wine and revelry, who is often associated with theater.

"The intention is to bring the young profession ... al types to the opera and to make them both comfortable with and excited by the prospect," said Rick Carmody, who is co-chairing the "Madama Butterfly" reception and is a steering committee member for the new volunteer gorup.

Some people have an impression that opera isstuffy and inaccessible. That is just not true." The group's first major event has been scheduled in conjunction with the upcoming MOT production of "Madama Butterfly." This event provides the Bacchantes with preferred seating for the Friday, May 17, presentation at the Masonic Temple Theatre and includes a pre-performance reception at the Detroit Art-The reception begins at 5:30 p.m. and the performance is at 8 p.m. The performance is sung in Italian with projected English surtitles.

In keeping with the Oriental theme of the popular opera, Japanese foods and music will set the stage for the event, which will also serve to familiarize patrons with the story and music of Puccini's "Madama Butterfly."

For tickets, call Kurt Howard at 874-7850 weekdays.

Tickets are $25 per person (a $10 rebate may be applied to any art purchase). Contributions to the auction will be accepted 1-6 p.m. now through Thursday, May 16, or by special arrangement.

The Scarab Club, at 217 Farnsworth in Detroit's Cultural Center, was founded in 1910 as a fellowship of the arts. It receives no government financing. The annual art auction is the primary fund-

Sales generated by contributions to this auction will be used to support ongoing programs and continuing restoration of the historic clubhouse. Call Darlene Carroll, executive director, 831-1250.

VISUAL VOICES

The Wayne County Council for the Arts is showing Visual Voices, a collection of works from 15 local artists, through June 16 in the Third Floor Conference Room of the Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph, Detroit.

Featured are paintings, sculpture and photography. Painter and art professor Gilda Snowden curated the exhibition. Works from Wayne County Youth Home residents are shown.

ANTIQUE SHOW

A Spring Antique Show and Sale will take place at Universal Mall at Dequindre and 12 Mile in Warren Thursday-Sunday, May 23-26. Show hours are 10 a.m. to 9 p.in. Thursday through Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

Area residents exhibiting at the show include Ruth Heremann, Mary Haggerty and Gloria Siegert, all of Livonia, and Barbara Rudes of Redford. Among the items offered will be tea leaf ironstone (a popular kitchenware from the 1880s), Depression-era collectibles, early 20th century Michigan postcards, and oak furniture once sold through early mail-order catalogs.

• POEM FOR PEACE

The International Society of Poets is accepting poems for its "World's Largest Poem for Peace."

The document is expected to be longer than several football fields. It will be presented to the Secretary General of the United Nations after the society's Aug. 16-18 National Poetry Symposium in Washington.

The society also will donate 10 cents to the United Nations' International Children's Education Fund on behalf of everyone who shows support for world peace by submitting a poem.

Send one original boem (20 lines or less) to: World's Largest Poem for Peace, P.O. Box 627, Owings Mills, Md. 21117.

For Mother's Day A garden patch of gift ideas

Sunday is Mother's Day. When I lecture, I find a book or a plant is more "wished for" than something fattening!

Other items, which will help Mother in the garden, will make her think about the giver as she uses them. So, for a memorable gift, here are some suggestions: • A set of four small Flower Fairles books, by Cicely Mary Barker, first published in the 1920s (Warne, $5.95 each) will provide quiet moments for reflection. The illustrations of the plants include a fairy representing each one. Accompanying each Flower Fairy is a poem relating to the plant.

Also available is a set of Flower Fairies postcards, lovely enough to be framed (Warne, 30 cards, $7.95).

• One of the prettiest books for recordkeeping. 'An Island Garden Daybook," (Houghton Mifflin, $9.95), includes Celia Thaxter's writings while she gardened on Appledore in New England. The paintings by Childe Hassam are equisited

• "The Unicorn Alphabet" (Dail, $14.95) was inspired by the medieval Unicorn Tapestries.

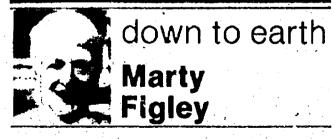

Marianna Mayer has translated the symbolism, lore and mystery of this animal from A to Z, while the pictures by Michael Hauge illustrate the stories splendidly.

ON TO garden helpers:

A 6-foot snake suspended in a tree is sure to frighten birds from the ripening fruit. An owl may deter rodents. ($5.99 each). Perhaps a lifelike, handpainted housecat will do the trick and make a cute ornament, too. ($15.99) Dalen Products Inc. makes these and other scarecrow devices, as well as the Trellis Plus, made of heavy-duty nylon netting, which can be positioned for climbing flowers or vegetables so the vines will be supported as they grow. A good idea if space is limited. A hose end sprayer to water and feed the lawn and flowers (hanging baskets are sometimes difficult) would be a welcome gift. One that you might consider, by Miracle-Gro, is called the No Clog-2 Garden and Lawn Feeder. ($11.95, which includes a pound of plant food). What about Ortho Whirlybird? This lightweight gadget will scatter seeds, fertiliter, etc. in an even pattern throughout the garden ($9.99). OF COURSE, a big bouquet of flowers will please, What about packages of seeds (and the promise to help plant them) to provide enjoyment. as the months roll by? A living plant for the house or garden will bring a smile. In that regard, Cranbrook Garden Auxilary is having its 19th annual spring plant sale 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday, May 15, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Thursday, May 16.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Build up a nest egg for after-purchase expenses

By Doug Funke staff writer

This is a continuing series of buying and selling real estate.

You decide that you want to live the great American dream of home ownership. Before embarking on the quest, know that there's more to buying than coming up with the monthly payment.

Deposit money, down payment, mortgage application fees, points, and closing costs including the escrow account can quickly add up to a mind-boggling sum.

An example. Louise and Chris find a starter home in Livonia. They make an offer of $70,000 and include a check for $2,100 as carnest money to show the seller they're serious about the bid. The seller accepts, so Chris and Louise apply for a mortgage. Application and processing fees vary among institutions. First Federal of Michigan, for instance, charges a non-refundable application fee of $250 and a reservation/commitment fee of $300 when ownership transfers at closing. .

The couple wins approval for a 30year fixed mortgage at 9/5 percent with a cash down payment of 20 percent. The down payment in this case is $14,000, which includes the earnest money.

MANY MORTGAGES today come with points, essentially lending fees, payable at closing. A point equals one percent of the mortgage. First Federal of Michigan charges 2 points on the mortgage terms selected by Louise and Chris. That amounts to $1,120.

Because the couple is making a down payment of less than 30 percent, First Federal of Michigan requires an escrow account at closing to ensure payment of property taxes and homeowners insurance.

. Thirteen months of taxes for a house worth $70,000 in the Livonia school district is $2,091. Add another $300 for a homeowners policy to round out the escrow account.

So here's what Chris and Louise will pay in a few short weeks from the time they make an offer through closing:

 Earnest money when extending purchase offer - $2,100. • Application fee for mortgage

• Balance of down payment for mortgage - $11,900. • Points with mortgage .-$1,120.

• Escrow account - $2,391. • Loan reservation commitment fee - $300.

That's a shade more than $18,000 and doesn't include extras like a home inspection, strongly advised for buyers. Figure on a couple of hundred dollars for that.

Exact application/closing fees will vary and points can be avoided for a higher mortgage rate. But now you get an idea of what you need up front to buy a house, -.

But that's still not all.

YOU HAVE utility connection fees. Michigan Bell charges $42 payable in advance if you've never been a customer. Detroit Edison requires an advance deposit of $25 to $100 if you've never done business with it or another electric or gas utility.

To save everyone a lot of time and disappointment; know what-you canafford and have the cash to nail down a deal.

'Some know, others kind of learn it from a Realtor, some don't know." said Al Marshall, vice president and manager for business development at First Federal of Michigan.

Many financial institutions will pre-qualify buyers before they start their housing search and even guarantee a mortgage rate for a few weeks' - all at no charge.

"The amount of housing dollars shouldn't exceed 28 percent of gross monthly income," Marshall said. That includes principal, interest, taxes and insurance.

ALL INDEBTEDNESS including mortgage, car payments and credit charges shouldn't exceed 36 percent of monthly income, he added.

Another general rule of thumb according to Marshall — buyers should zero in on houses which don't exceed 24 times annual household income.

That means Louise and Chris should have household income of at least $31,100 to buy a $70,000 house.

The biggest mistake most firsttime buyers make is getting too much advice from well-meaning friends, relatives and co-workers, sald Bob Ogg, an agent with The Prudential Great Lakes Realty in Troy,

"It really confuses them," Ogg , said. "They're talking to people not in the field. It could be they're talking to parents who haven't been in the market in 30 years. I always recommend they search out a good agent."

Common elements defined in condominium master deed

I am a member of the board of directors. Recently several of our co-owners have had problems not specifically addressed in our bylaws. In one instance, an exhaust fan in the bathroom was dripping condensation back into the room. The fan is not vented outside but extends into the attic. The association paid for wrapping the exhaust pipe, but now the question has arisen as to who is responsible for the area between the ceiling and the roof. Also, we have a problem with a smoke alarm that is electrically powered that needs replacement. Who is responsible for this — the association or the coowner? The co-owner replaced the smoke alarm with a battery-operated smoke alarm and then informed the association. We want to get the best protection for the complete building. Should we get the electrical smoke alarm fixed and pay for it?

It is difficult to determine the responsibility for these items without reviewing your master deed documents as condominium documents vary from project to project. In most cases, in a traditional condominium, the area between the ceiling and the queries Robert M. Meisner

roof is a common element for which the association is responsible, but that is not always the case. I can tell. you safely that the association should assume responsibility for insuring that the smoke alarms are operating properly to the extent that they affect the entire building. They should not rely on a co-owner to maintain these smoke alarms to the extent that it is within the purview of the responsibility of the associa-

I am wondering if you have any suggestions concerning what senior citizens can do in a social manner at a condominium. The board seems to be somewhat unresponsive to our condominium can be the social interaction between the members of the association. Many condominium associations have social committees. In some communities, additional activities are ofen set up for senior citizens. I am even aware of a condominium where there is a condominium chorus comprised of senior citizens. Frequently the community facility or other condominium building is used for card playing or other recreational activities. I would recommend that each condominium establish a social committee and consider One of the benefits of living in a whether specifically organized activities for senior citizens is appropriate depending on the composition of the condominium.
