Officials fear end of bus service

By Darrell Clem

Bus servicé could be shut down soon for hundreds of area handlcapped people and elderly people who depend on the financially troubled Nankin Transit system, but county and state lawmakers have vowed to try to rescue the program. _

The Nankin Transit Commission could be forced to halt its service as early as Sept. 2 because operating money from SMART - the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation - is scheduled to be dropped.

Nankin Transit provides 9,000 rides a month for nearly 1,000 people in Westland, Garden City, Canton Township, Inkster and Wayne.

In hopes of rescuing the program, county and state lawmakers called an emergency meeting Friday in Westland to discuss ways of replacing the $375,000 that Nankin Transit receives from SMART.

They also were planning to meet Tuesday with the Nankin Transit Commission.

Minister answers fire call

A Westland minister delivering his Sunday morning sermon was interrupted after a passerby walked into the church and told him that his house was on fire.

The Rev. Bruce Rhodes and his family were in the Westland Light and Life Free Methodist Church on Warren, near Farmington Road, when a faulty fan sparked a fire that damaged their nearby ranch-style

"He was preaching at the time the house caught-fire," Westland fire marshal Robert Perry said.

The one-story Rhodes residence at 7707 Farmington, behind the church, received an estimated $20,000 in damages during the fire that erupted between 11:30 a.m. and noon Sunday, Perry said.

"There was a lot of smoke damage," he said.

A faulty fan had been placed in a hallway to circulate cooler air through the house, but it malfunctioned and started the fire that was seen by a passerby who went into the church to warn Rhodes, Perry said.

Westland direlighters were called to the scene. They used 400 gallons of water to extinguish the flames, Perry said.

March against abortion

John Wofford of Canton Township and his grandmother, Dolores Jonasz of Westland, marched Monday morning outside the Women's Advisory Center on Six Mile near Inkster Road just west of Redford. The clinic,which performs legal abortions, has been the target of an increasing number of protests by pro-life groups. Pro-life activists, including Redford residents, regularly place themselves near the entrance in an attempt to persuade women against having an abor-

Recall group to move on petition drive

By Darrell Clem staff writer

A recall committee seeking to oust three Wayne-Westland school board members has learned it needs to collect only 4,420 signatures from school district voters to call for a special recall election.

Recall' chairman Steven, Lind quoted the figures Monday, and the county elections office confirmed them Tuesday.

The figures boosted the enthusiasm of recall organizers, who had expected to have to collect as many as 15,000 signatures for a special election.

-"We were very pleased," Lind

The petition, drive for the 4,420 signatures - which represents 25 percent of the district's registered voters who voted in the last gubernatorial election - could begin as early as this month, he said.

Prior to starting the petition drive, recall organizers must decide on ballot language for a special election and submit it for approval to the -- to Chorbagian. Wayne County Elections sion. The recall committee is expected to decide the language by Monday, Lind said.

The recall group hopes to oust board members Kathleen Chorbagian, Andrew Spisak and Leonard Posey by charging that they misrepresented voters.

IN OTHER developments, Lind refuted allegations by Chorbagian that she received a telephone call from a recall committee member

Meanwhile, Lind said again Monday that the recall committee will . not try to oust board member Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek. The effort also will not be aimed at newly elected board members Laurel Raisanen, Vicki Welty and Fred Warmbier.

Kozorosky-Wiacek voted board president

staff writer

Wayne-Westland school board member Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek became the board's new president Monday night, amid promises she would strive to avoid another district financial crisis, and try to heal the board's wounded image.

The seven member board voted unanimously to elect Kozorosky-Wiacek as president in a board shake-up that also saw three new board members sworn in.

Immediately after assuming the helm, Kozorosky-Wiacek said her goals include:

 Monitoring district finances toavoid another money crisis that earlier had threatened sweeping budget

Improving communication among board members - old and new — in an attempt to heal wounds and ensure that all members "can have a voice" in district issues.

KOZOROSKY-WLACEK, ENTER-ING her seventh year on the board, will serve as board president for a one-year term. She replaces former president Mathew McCusker, who was among three incumbents defeated in the June 10 election.

Kozorosky-Wiacek was named president in the first action Monday by the revamped board, which also includes veterans Kathleen Chorbaglan, Andrew Spisak and Leonard Posey, and newly elected board members Vicki Welty, Laurel Raisanen and Fred Warmbier.

Warmbier returned after a six year absence from the board. He served four consecutive four-year sion can be held. Board members terms ending in 1985.

In the election of officers Monday, Welty was named as vice president, Posey as secretary and Raisanen as treasurer.

In her acceptance speech, Welty şaid she wanted to change the "three r's" to include receptiveness to the community, responsiveness to leadership and district employees; and responsiveness to the district's stu-

Raisanen was sworn in Monday night by Westland Mayor Robert Thomas. Welty and Warmbier were sworn in by Bryan Amann, Wayne County commissioner.

Amann, alluding to recent board clashes, urged district residents to "try to not keep score," but to "let the issues be decided by their merit and not by preconceived alliances" among board members.

· Among their first actions Monday, the board tabled a motion to retain the law firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone until a study sesalso decided to retain attorney John Ryan and the law firm of Collins, Blaha and Slatkin through the end of the year.

The board also tabled a decision. on whether to retain the auditing firm of Plante-Moran. The administration had recommended the firm, but board members Raisanen and Welty wanted to seek bids from other firms. The board decided to schedule a study session.

A serious water shortage has prompted Westland city officials to demand that residents curb their water use until the problem subsides.

City officials blamed the shortage on a lack of rain as of Monday afterпооп. They also cited heavy usage among residents and businesses using lawn sprinklers to keep their grass wet.

The shortage has left some residents of high-rise apartments without enough water pressure for routine matters.

Loss of funding threatens service

"WE'RE WORKING very, very hard to allevlate the problem," commission chairman Tom Kelly said Monday.

As a stopgap measure, officials plan to seek money to provide bus service through next June. By then, they hope to pull away from SMART and find some other source of state ald, Kelly said.

Ceremony to honor MIAs, Gulf war vets

staff writer

Desert Storm veterans won't be the only ones honored this July 4 at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

The 2 p.m. ceremony, expected to draw at least 500, is also dedicated to the 72 people from Michigan listed as missing in action, including Army Sgt. Refugio "Tom" Teran, who attended Wayne Memorial High School and disappeared in the early. 1970s during the Vietnam War.

It's probably long overdue," said White Chapel president David Krall, of the MIA dedication. "We're trying to be sensitive to the fact that there are others deserving a tribute besides the ones from Desert Storm."

While the cemetery has already dedicated a plaque to the MIAs and prisoners of war, it hadn't yet held the formal ceremony Krall wanted to. And so when President George Bush called out to everyone to honor Desert Storm vets this July 4, the president of White Chapel in Troy saw no reason why both groups couldn't be recognized the same day.

An address by a U.S. representative and a military flyover of an F-16 aircraft will highlight the ceremony, during which two separate granite monuments will be unveiled.

AND THOUGH it was easy to get the names of the 379 American soldiers killed in Operation Desert Storm — as well as the 12 Michigan personnel who died there - Krall's homework was much tougher for the MIA portion of the program.

After much checking Krall found the most complete list of Michigan MIAs from the Prisoner of War Committee of Michigan, based in Union Lake. That list, however, does not specify what service branch the missing are with or from where they disappeared.

The roster, which contains Dix's name, lists all state military personnel missing from 1964 to 1972 in southeast Asia.

However, he said, "it was impossible to get a list of the Korean War MIAs because of the way the list is compiled by the National Archives." Countless phone interviews with archives officials ended in frustration after Krall learned he'd have to cross check a computer tape list of 8,000 names with several other lists, none of which were easy to access. Plus those lists didn't mention if bodies had been recovered or not. "As for how many Korean War MIAs there are from Michigan, I don't know. I feel bad we couldn't get the information."

A recent report says there still are more than 8,000 MIAs from Korea, and at least 400 unsolved POW cases, where prisoners were known to be alive at the end of the Korean War, said Krall.

THOSE ATTENDING the July 4 ceremony will notice two existing monuments in the 220-acre gardens site, one of which is registered with the state historical society.

The first is the so-called polar bear monument, made out of white Georgia marble. The statue, dedicated in 1930 — five years after the cemetery was founded - is a lifesize replica of a polar bear.

·Wayne-Westland students attending the Cherry Hill Alternative Education Center showed improved grades and more enthusiasm about school after they recently participated in a work program at Greenfield Village.

Five students spent their Tuesday and Thursday mornings working at the Henry Ford Museum and Greenfield Village as part of a program aimed at helping students who have been placed in the Cherry Hill school because of behaviorial problems.

. The three-month program showed so much promise that Cherry Hill coordinators plan to continue it.

The students spent several hours a week at Greenfield Village, workingunder the supervision of "mentors" employed full-time in occupations such as photography and the performing arts. The Wayne Civitans provided transportation for the

"This really made school a lot more fun for them," said Carolyn Colburn, a Cherry Hill alternative program coordinator.

Greenfield Village workers served as role models for the Cherry Hill students, who learned firsthand about occupations that they might consider entering in adult life.

"IT MADE school more relevant to the working world," said Lynn Kleiman, Cherry Hill student assistance coordinator.

More important, Raleigh said, "I learned you can't always have everything just the way you want it to be. I learned how to work with people, and I learned how to be more open with people and with myself."

Some days, Raleigh would encounter as many as 1,500 students in a single day.

'Trash lady' has nature for work to help environment

By Alice Collins staff writer

Some call her Ms. Compost and others refer to her as the trash lady. "But that's fine with me," said

Heidi Wayco, who lives in western Wayne County. "There's a supervisor here who refers to me as Mother Nature. I like Wayco's official title sounds a lot like her nicknames. She's solid waste management coordinator for an Oakland County community, a job. she carries out with the same enthuslasm and intensity that's driven her since she was a child growing up in Sandusky, a small town about one hour north of Port Huron in Michigan's Thumb.

Wayco's turned her education - a bachelor's degree in journalism/public relations — and her love and concern_for the environment into "a very rewarding job. I'm one of the lucky ones to be able to do that:

I grew up in nature, it's in my blood.

The farmlands, fields, streams and woods are where I played. I'd go get crayiish out of the creek, ice skate on the creek in winter, climb trees and make forts in the woods. Ihave an enormous respect for Mother Nature."

Wayco practices at home what she preaches at work. She lives in Livonia where she's been "dragging my stuff to the recycling center for years. But Livonia's getting up and running with curbside recycling on July 15 and I can't walt."

"It's been a year since I banned paper towels and napkins from my household and I've survived. Buy a bag of rags. You'd be surprised how long they last."

WHEN SHE WAS A junior in high school in Sandusky serving as president of her class and in charge of make a paper cup than a Styrofoam this committee and that, she was alcup. dent of her class and in charge of ready running like a jet engine on the way to her (uture.

to work for a public relations firm and was in a hurry to get there. "I went to Madonna University (in Livonia) where I was able to cram four years into two years and nine months."

When she graduated in the spring of 1987, Wayco did get into public relations. "Then I discovered there were so many things I could do with my degree.'

She decided to move on. Her motto is, "We have 24 hours a day, let's get to work. Let's not waste any time."

Her relationship with her current Southfield post began in the spring of 1989 when she was contracted for three months to coordinate the city's Rouge River cleanup participation.

That allowed her to live by her "After doing the Rouge job, I kept my finger on the pulse of what was happening in Southfield. I knew the city was to be in the forefront of solid waste issues. So I kept in touch. I let them know I was interested."

SO WHEN SOUTHFIELD launched curbside recycling last July and began expanding its environmental programs, Wayco got the new position of coordinator.

"I jumped on a moving treadmill and believe me, I'm so glad to be Because recycling is a new and developing industry it's in constant change. "And by being on the cutting edge, Southfield is also somewhat of a guinea pig

"For instance," she said; launching into a favorite subject, "let's consider Styrofoam. Many switched to paper cups from Styrofoam because they thought it was best for the environment. But we now know that Styrofoam is better. It takes more energy and creates more pollution to time will begin to breakdown in a two photographers in town."

She decided then that she wanted landfill increasing the leacheate problem."

> Leacheate are liquid materials that seep into and pollute ground water. Styrofoam, on the other hand, doesn't break down in landfills.

County lagging in toxic cleanup

By Wayne Peal staff writer

Metro Detroit - including Wayne and Oakland countles lags behind other parts of the state in cleaning toxic waste sites, according to a new report.

Southeast Michigan has the worst cleanup rate of any region in the state with Wayne County making less cleanup progress than any other county, according to a recently released report from the Public Interst Research Group in Michigan (PIRGIM).

"I wouldn't say there's been no progress, but there's been very slow progress," said PIRGIM spokesman Andy Buchsbaum, who helped compile the report.

southeast Michigan has apparently been shortchanged in terms of state financing.

State money has been targeted for 18.6 percent of the southeast Michigan sites, and only for 7.7 percent of those in Wayne County, the report said. Elsewhere, state money has been used for cleanups at 31 percent of all toxic waste

There has been no cleanup work on more than half of Wayne County's 52 toxic waste sites, Buchsbaum said, with progress also slow in Oakland and Macomb counties.

"THEY DO have more sites than many other counties, but Kent" County has the most sites of any county and progress there has been much more rapid," Buchsbaum said. "What's significant here (in southeast Michigan) is that nowhere else to do have such a concentration of countles with so many sites."

It was the first report of its kind compiled by PIRGIM, a public advocacy group based in Ann Arbor.

Though the new state "polluters-pay" law should provide more cleanup money, PIRGIM officials said taxpayers still bear the brunt of cleanup project financing. Among its findings:

• Only 22 of Wayne County's 52 worst toxic waste sites have had no cleanup of any kind, and only one site is ready for full cleanup. In contrast, seven of Kent County's 48 sites are already being cleaned, paid for by polluters. • A mere 4.4 percent of the state's 748 most dangerous sites are being cleaned or are ready for Part of the problem is that full cleanup. There has been no ac-with action at 33 county sites to be tion of any kind on 209 sites: "One of the problems is that the DNR is overworked, especially in southeastern Michigan," Buchsbaum said.

DNR officials generally declined comment on PIRGIM's findings.

"We agree that Michigan has a number of sites and that polluters pay will be effective, but beyond that we really can't comment on their study," said Frank Reswick, acting DNR director for environmental protection.

As for the DNR being overworked . . .

"It's fair to say our employees have a fair amount of work and they've been doing it efficiently," Reswick said.

The PIRGIM report primarily examined work at the 748 worst sites. Work on the rest of Michigan's 2,800 toxic waste sites will be studied in a follow up report, PIR-GIM officials said.

Rouge classes teaching teachers

By Wayne Peal staff writer

While students enjoy the earlydays of summer vacation, a number of area teachers are going back to school at the University of Michigan-Dearborn.

Some 30 high school and junior high teachers are participating in a four-week Rouge River education project on the UM-D campus.

Though water samples will be taken and analyzed, the project involves nore than just scientific research.

English, government and history teachers are also involved. Teachers from the Livonia, Wayne-Westland, Plymouth/Canton and Garden City public schools are among those partlelpating.

The goal is to return to school next fall with a complete program to help students discuss the heavily polluted river and how local governments are. banding together to provide for its

"The idea is to make students think about the Rouge and its impact on the region," said Robert Crawford, an English and history teacher at Stevenson Junior High, Westland.

Crawford admits he was skeptical at first.

"I SAW it just as a science "project," the Westland resident said. But you come to realize that while a the job of the scientist is to gather data, it's the job of English and social studies to give it meaning."

Water testing began last week and

"Because I teach chemistry, I'm always making the kids aware of what kinds of things they shouldn't be flushing down the drain," he said. The testing, he added, will let students know just what kinds of chemicals are already in the Rouge.

The project, however, requires that teachers be students, top.,

The program is financed through a $562,000 National Science Foundation grant. Though initially begun as a one-year project, the grant money allows the program to continue through 1993.

The NSF decided to support the program because it is based on a "real world problem" that emphasizes "doing".

The program is under the direc-tion of Orion Gelderoos, UM-D prolessor of biological sciences.

SEMCOG boosts regional government

By Tim Richard staff writer

"Regional government" used to be a dirty phrase around the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Last week it became a thinkable idea. To many at a SEMCOG workshop on urban sprawl, regional government became discussable - and E even desirable.

"Start with a regional planning agency with mandatory participation," said spokesmen for eight groups of elected officials, planners, environmentalists and businesspeople.

"A metropolitan council for services of a regional nature could be workable," one group agreed at the end of the day.

"Regional government, with an elected governing body, is perhaps the end result, the ultimate," said

"Everyone agreed we need some kind of change - at a minimum, mandatory regional planning," said still another.

SEMCOG, FOUNDED in 1969, is a voluntary agency in the seven-county region. Some 130 of 230 units of government pay dues. In a deep economic recession, many quit.

For the last year, SEMCOG has been studying "urban sprawl" - the eating up of land by low-density uses ! unjustified by population growth. The region's population is expected to rise 6 percent in the next 20 years. but "business as usual" will require development of 40 percent more land.

Last week's SEMCOG-sponsored session broached the subject SEM-COG leaders had shunned for years. Before the 100 conferces were four options for change that proved almost universally popular:

Mandatory regional planning.

 Mandatory regional authori-• A metropolitan council — appointed policy board. • A metropolitan council elected governing board.

"EVERYONE CONFRONTED with the reality of what we're doing found the possibilities eye-opening, said Marilynn Gosling, an Oakland County commissioner from Bloomfield Hills.

"Metropolitan councils can accomplish things we've talked about,' said Gosling, who co-chairs the yearlong SEMCOG study.

"Rena Cusma knocked everyone's socks off," said John Amberger, SEMCOG executive director. Cusma, the luncheon speaker, is executive officer of the Metropolitan Service District in Portland, Ore. "Rena Cusma got the plan through the Oregon Legislature. We've just introduced the idea here," said Amberger.

The Portland area "Metro" covers three counties. It does urban planning, transportation planning, solid waste disposal and recycling. It also operates the zoo, civic stadium, convention center and performing arts

Amberger said, "Local elected officials are in terrible binds. They must do what's best for their people and also look after the region."

MILTON MACK, a Wayne County probate judge, issued an outright call for new regional governance powers. "Southeast Michigan is now facing its biggest crisis — urban sprawl, said Mack. Yet no local governmental mechanism is in place which could even remotely begin to address the problems caused by sprawl. Local home-rule powers relating to planning and zoning are irrelevant in the regional community known as southeast Michigan." Before appointment to the bench, Mack was SEMCOG chair, a Wayne County commissioner and a city of

"I propose that some of the functions that local government now performs be shared with an agency with regional oversight," Mack said, adding he opposes replacing local government.

The regional agency, he said, should make decisions on land uses of regional impact-"location of major industries, airports, highway extensions, large commercial developments such as a shopping center or mega-mall, major sports facilities, large new subdivisions and the protection of wetlands."

$60 million bond issue aimed at-school buildings

staff writer

The tax rate for Livonia Public Schools won't go up if voters approve an estimated $60 million bond issue for school improvements on Feb. 10, 1992. Instead, the tax rate would not fall as older bond issues are pald off.

. If the current bond issue expired and was not replaced with a new one, taxpayers would get a property tax reduction on the current 1.05 mill debt-retirement levy.

The district includes the northern section of Westland.

"If the bond issue passes, the millage would be kept the same; there will be no change for taxpayers," said Superintendent Joseph Marinelil. "This will be a continuation of the millage for another 25-30 years. As some of the millage falls off, this. Ing.

A planning committee has set standards, such as the size of each school library, they plan to see followed in all buildings housing stu-

But a list of the actual improvements to be done in each school won't be put together until later this summer, after committee members and the district's architectual consultant have inspected each building.

"We should know by the end of July what our needs are in the areas of technology and instruction," said Robert Laundroche, assistant superintendent for business.

THE CONSULTANT, TMP Associates of Bloomfield Hills, is inspecting the mechanical, electrical and structural soundness of each build-

This will be a continuation of the miliage for another 25-30 years. As some of the millage falls off, this will fill the gap."

- Superintendent Joseph Marinelli

We want to maintain equality among buildings."

The amount of the bond issue and the election date could both change when the list of improvements is complete. The Feb. 10 date has been set to meet Wayne County election requirements.

"Sixty million dollars is a ballpark figure," Marinelli sald.

SOME POSSIBLE improvements

• Making each school building barrier-free, to meet state and federal requirements.

- Updating fire alarm systems. • Replacing boilers, piping and
- mechanical and electrical systems. • Making buildings more energy
- Building computer labs in each instructional material center.
- Updating science equipment and art facilities.

"We won't end up with a demonstration district, but just how elaborate it will be we don't know yet,"

One of the top priorities will be to put a bank of computers in each school's instructional media center,

Livonia is luckier than some districts because it doesn't have to start renovations from scratch, said TMP project manager Stepnen Smith.

BUILDINGS HAVE been wellmaintained since built, and there is no backlog of maintenance items, Smith said.

What's needed most, he said, is to replace those systems and parts that have simply gotten old.

"It's not that someone has been sleeping at the switch. But after 30 years, the stuff gets tired and needs to be replaced."

Such costly items as roof replacement and asbestos removal will not be covered by the bond issue. The district has replaced roofs over the years and has its own asbestos-removal team.

No new schools will be built with seeing plenty of kids."

the bond money, Marinelli said. The bond issue also won't include renovations to the Bentley Center, just buildings housing traditional student programs, he said.

THE BOND money would help the district accomplish one of its main goals set forth in its recently approved stragetic plan.

That goal is to update each school building technologically so that graduates can meet the demands of the 21st-century workplace.

As of June 30, 1990, the value of the district's assets was $118.6 milllon. Selling some of the unused buildings or land to raise money for improvements has not been considered because the district might need them for growth, Marinelli sald.

Older residents are selling their houses to families with young children, he said. This growth is taking place all over the district, not just in the northwest area, he said.

"Up and down the streets, we're

Taking a stand Comic doesn't sit down on the job

By Susan Steinmueller staff writer

HERE'S USUALLY a chair on stage, but John Tambarino does justice to the word "stand-up

"I bring a stool and sit my coffee on it and try to sit down and never do," said Tambarino, who kicks into high gear from the very first joke.

"Basically, Fm considered high energy," said the Chicago comedian, who was described in the Chicago Tribune as having "enough energy to take the place of a nuclear power reactor . . . hiply manic."

Tambarino's only prop is the coffee, as he talks to the audience about modern concerns in a conversational way.

"I literally get up there with a cup of coffee and we talk," he said. "My act varies each night . . . I have to "read" the audience. My stuff tends to be more storylike."

The 38-year-old Windy City native said he appeals to "that average middle class guy" who is in the "thirtysomething" age group.

His topics range from his Ital--ian heritage to the problems of the Big Chill generation. Although single, he is not afraid to tackle jokes on parenthood and marriage, admitting that perhaps he can view it with more humor because he is distanced from it.

HE IS ALSO not afraid to tackle sensitive topics. For instance, his material includes the topic of those who have difficulty in becoming parents.

"This couple I know did everything but put chairs on their heads for kids; now they have

John Tambarino is a stand-up comic who works with a chair on stage. It's not there for him to lounge on but rather to rest his only other prop — a coffee cup — on.

twins," he said. "I went to the baptism last week."

The topic is not only fresh, he said, but the humor serves a useful purpose.

"Do you know anybody who will talk about that? That's why I talk about it. The point is, things happen. You are not alone.'

But the way the lines are delivered is important.

"If you slip it in, it's kind of like you are having coffee with your friend, and you know where he is coming from, and he's not trying to offend anybody. He can say things that are a little off the edge that you can't say to some-

Tambarino also pokes fun at himself - for instance, his lack. of knowledge about sports.

"I don't know a darn thing. about sports. You know, there are two million people who break out in a sweat if they are asked what did the Sox do?'."

However, he said he can basically joke about any subject - including sports - because "if you are trying to be a good comedian, it's the same thing as trying to be a good basketball player.

"YOU WORK for the same things; you have the commitment," he said. "There are days you don't feel like doing it but you

Tambarino discovered his flair for comedy as a youth when he was driving around with some friends and started doing improvisations. Now, he travels to various clubs throughout the country, and has also appeared on cable

He admits he would not mind doing a sifcom off television, although it would probably mean moving to Los Angeles. One reason is that that he would not have to travel.

"It kicks doors open for you,"

However, for now he is happy continuing to deliver his high energy act from his home base in Chicago.

John Tambarino will appear at the Mainstreet Comedy Showcase, 314 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor, at 8:30 and 11 p.m. Friday, July 5, and 7, 9 and 11 p.m. Saturday, July 6. For reservations or information call 996-

Separate what?

Video too quickly censored

HE LIVONIA Board of Education has gotten into an unnecessary lawsuit over religion in the classroom.

The lawsuit was filed after parents were unable to resolve differences with the district, which represents the northern section of Westland, over its refusal to allow their daughter to show a video to classmates. At issue was a video of an 8-year-old girl singing in a worship service at church.

The teacher decided showing the video would be inappropriate because some of the girl's classmates might be offended by its religious content. There were references in the song to the function of Jesus Christ as a personal savior. To the teacher, refusal to play the video was petified on the basis of the separation of church and

THE DISTRICT always walks a fine line in determining (censoring) what materials should enter the classroom. At times censorship is justified because material is inappropriate for a particular age. This time, the district walked too fine a line and unnecessarily withheld the video from the classroom.

A fine line exists because very often religious songs and materials are allowed, without a second thought, in our schools. Almost any concert, at elementary or secondary levels, will contain religious music. The classical composers - Mozart, Brahms, Beethoven — were paid church staffers who wrote hymns to be played in worship services. Much of the great classical music is religious music.

The fact that classical music may contain references only to God while a more modern selection mentions Christ's name does not make one selection any more religious than another. The district would be illogical in banning a contemporary Christian artist like Sandy Patti or Amy Grant while allowing selections from Beethoven or Mozart. Logically, the concern should be with religion in general — not specifically with Chris-

And the concern is not mere "entry" of religious materials in the school but use of materials which seek to proselytize or convert anyone to a particular set of religious beliefs, whether Christian, Jewish or Islamic. There is no problem with religious materials in the classroom that are instructional but do not proselytize. There is no problem with materials which are uplifting or entertaining. Other non-religious materials which uplift or entertain but don't instruct are used. The problem exists when any attempt at conversion is introduced. Souls are to be won at church, not at school.

IN THE case at hand, the video of the 8-yearold girl singing in Temple Baptist Church was not a clear attempt to proselytize.

There is no problem with religious materials in the classroom that are instructional but do not proselytize. There is no problem with materials that are uplifting or entertaining. Other nonreligious materials that uplift or entertain but don't instruct are used.

Visually, only for a moment did the video show a church setting. Most of the footage was a close-up of the young girl singing, without an altar, cross or any other symbols visible. No harm present.

Most of the specific words sung by the young lady could not be heard in the video, even while straining the ears it was very difficult to hear the words. In the casual setting of a classroom, other students would not have been influenced by the message of the song.

The song, "I Came to Love You Early," contains a veiled reference to salvation - "you touched my heart." But that reference is so veiled that it has no specific message to a non-Christian. The same words can be heard in countless love songs. Another reference tells how a young person gave Christ "my childish heart of sin" and says Christ "saved me from a lifetime of what might have been." Again, the message is too veiled to suggest that proselytizing is the intent or that conversion could even result from

The Observer did receive a contradictory report that the week before a student appeared before the same class with a menorah to explain its significance to a Jewish family in the observance. of Hanukkah. Nothing wrong with this activity. Likewise, there would have been nothing wrongwith these same students viewing a video of Kelly DeNooyer singing "I Came to Love You Ear-

The district now faces legal expense and time in court - unnecessarily. Better judgment would have saved time and money.

Segregation is strong friend of violent acts

A Les Up

"IT WAS THE beginning of the end for the Olympia.

That's how Farmington Observer editor Tom Baer remembered the murder of Farmington area resident David Jones, whose wife, Cathy, wasa teacher in the local school district.

For you relative newcomers, Olympia was the arena down on Grand River in Detroit where the Red Wings plied their craft and where Gordie Howe became a hockey legend.

For years fans packed the old red barn, as Olympia was affectionately labeled, to cheer on some of the greatest hockey teams the sport has seen. Like most arenas, it also was utilized for numerous other types of gatherings. In short, it was a familiar and comfortable spot for metro Detroiters.

That all changed on a cool night in

AFTER ATTENDING the Olsonite Tennis Classic reception, the mortgage company vice president set off for the parking lot. Cathy waited behind in the lobby. He was shot in the back, robbed of $3. From that moment life for Cathy Jones would never be the same.

In 1980 the Olympia was replaced by a brand new Joe Louis arena. Many observers would tell you that a new arena was built for purely economic reasons. Like many old time sports facilities, the Olympia lacked executive boxes and the other amenities that bring in big bucks for team

But in the back of their minds, ... That is the case with University of

The Jones murder was a terrible blow for a Detroit which was trying to rebuild from the 1967 riots. That's why those who try to brush off the beating of Farmington Hills resident Joanne Was as an isolated incident are underestimating the impact.

metro sports buffs never forgot about the Jones' murder. From the day of his death, the Olympia neighborhood was forever tainted, a place that just wasn't safe in the minds of the people who attended the sports complex.

The Jones murder was a terrible blow for a Detroit which was trying to rebuild from the 1967 riots.

That's why those who try to brush off the beating of Farmington Hills resident Joanne Was as an isolated incident are underestimating the impact.

IN TRUTH, other violent incidents happened that night. Some victims didn't bother to report it. They went home and vowed never to enter Deh. (.) troit again.

Steve Barnaby

Michigan student Steve Johnson of Plymouth who, along with two friends, found himself in a fight at the fireworks. Although reporting the incident, they, like Ms. Was, found the police less than enthused about helping.

So they just went home.

But we just can't keep writing off. Detroit. We have to face the problems which segregation and economic depravity foster. The division between blacks and whites is wide. Creating an understanding difficult. Those who don't know one another, who are afraid of one another, who resent one another and sometimes hate one another are bound to clash.

This time let's vow to make these most recent incidents a new beginning. Let those in the black and white communities who wish to saveour metro area from the thugs work

Now is the time for unity, for integration and for peace.

But this plan does nothing to improve education, nor does it aid in improving Michigan's economic or social climate. If education really is the key to improving our society, and we believe it is, passage of this plan would only make it more difficult for children to receive a competitive education.

Help available for pregnant

To the editor:

As a prolife activist, I am deeply offended by Jack Gladden's deceitful attack on the pro-life movement.

Mr. Gladden obviously has never witnessed what exactly goes on in or outside this area's abortion mills.

Let's see who is irresponsible.

There are 73 pro-life crisis pregnancy centers in Michigan alone. They are funded privately and staffed by volunteers. They offer a variety of services including housing, clothing, pre-natal care, etc. These services are absolutely free to the women...

Over the years I myself, have housed several women during and after their pregnancies. A dear. friend who sidewalk counsels with me has adopted two biracial children. One is a product of rape. The other was a crack-addicted baby who she was told would be blind and retarded. She is neither. She is a beautiful, bubbly toddler who frequently joins mom at the abortion mills for these outreach missions.

Maybe Jack Gladden can tell us other than killing their pre-born children what exactly the people (Womens Advisory Center of Livonia) who say they are in the business of helping women, actually does to help

 Do they even offer free abortions. to women who can't afford them? I'm not ashamed nor do I regret feelings.

Deepest pain is within

To the editor:

It was suggested to me, by a friend who hunts and fishes, that possibly animals do "not" feel pain. I immediately shared an incident that happened a few weeks earlier when I. had seen a cat at the side of the road who had been hit by a car. I described the pain he must have been in from his injuries.

My friend replied, "How do you know he was in pain?" I recalled that the cat didn't make a sound or try to move, so I said, "I felt his pain" He suggested that maybe only humans can feel an animal's pain, but not the animal itself.

I didn't have a response, but I kept thinking about the concept of pain. Certainly no one could deny that some of the deepest pain experienced by humans is never yerbalized. That outward evidence is not always an accurate mirror of inner

So I say to my friend, Jeff Counts, "Possibly you can deny animals" feelings because you do not co-exist with a four-footer. And it may be easier to hunt and fish if you can ignore the crocodile tears, mourning doves, and the wait of a wounded water buffalo. But I will continue to believe it was the animals who held the patent on "Quiet Resignation."

Drop plan for hotel tax hike

To the editor:
I am the general manager of Embassy Sultes Hotel-Livonia, and deeply concerned that there is a proposal to increase hotel tax from the present taxation to an additional 5 percent. Personally, I think this is ludicrous and represents the epitome of taxation without representation.

There has been a dramatic decrease in hotel occupancy in the last five years. The average occupancy throughout the Detroit Metro area is 49 percent occupancy or less. We presently have one of the highest tax tables in the country. New York City is the only city who leads in hotel

I believe this increase will decrease hotels' ability to compete statewide and nationally. It will have a devastating affect on groups and orientated businesses.

Checkbooks won't replace picket signs

This guest column was written in response to a column by copy editor Jack Gladden which appeared in the June 27 edition of Observer & Eccentric newspapers Lynn Mills is a pro-life ad-

By Lynn Mills guest columnist

I have recently taken a fair amount of heat because myself and agroup of Jesus Christ worshipers used an extreme measure to attempt to save two mothers and two preborn children in an extreme circumstance. I have been criticized by proaborts from coast to coast and by a few pro-lifers. There have been tears shed on my part for the moms, bables and myself.

The bottom line is that whatever I have gone through is nothing compared to the death of the 23-week, pre-born child.

A local reporter asked me if I bit off more than I could chew. The answer is "yes," but if I had to, I would do it again

You can never erase the memory of killing your child through abortion. But groups like Women Exploited By Abortion and Post Abortion Counseling and Education (help) women who regret what they let the abortion profiters do to them and help them dealing with the deadly deed, healing and forgiveness from

BECAUSE WE, the pro-life movement care, we are there to pick up the pieces. We make no money from helping those who suffer from Post

I challenge Jack Gladden and the Obserer & Eccentric to come out to the abortion, mill (incognito, of course) to see first hand what the pro-lifers do. We never call the mothers going in names. We ask them to speak with us and if they don't, we have about five seconds to get the life facts to them via our vocal chords across the black top.

. We do tell the women who go in to ask for proof of malpractice insurance and if they can't prove they have, why not?

It was the pro-aborts that broke this story on a nationwide level, thus exploiting an incident confined to a few motorists. Pro-lifers have taken an unfortunate set of circumstances and used them to expose late term abortions.

IF JACK Gladden and the O&E really cared about women, they would push for informed consent giving women full knowledge of the abortion procedure.

If Jack Gladden and the O&E really cared about women, they would send volunteer reporters in these abortion mills with male urine and expose the clinic workers for pushing abortions where there was no need. If you would see a reporter in unannounced, she would see the unsterile surroundings that women feel forced to have their abortions in.

But then Jack Gladden and the O&E would be forced to deal withthe uncomfortable truth that abortion is not the spiritual cleansing mecca that the National Organization of some Women have been tout-

When as an inner-city administrator and doctoral student in the 1960s, I presumed to openly challenge the practical value of one of my "praticums" at Wayne State University. It's outraged professor demanded my immediate presence in his office to explain why I shouldn't be drummed out of the program.

THIS SUMMER course contained more than 50 graduate students observing some superficial, watereddown, closed-circuit TV instruction given by a suburban teacher to about 15 selected volunteer junior, high school students from the Detroit

Neither the teacher nor the professor had ever taught in the inner city,

THERE EXISTS A sizable credit where many secondary teachers' class loads approximated 200 students in five classes or more.

The few male students selected were riding up and down elevators repeatedly during breaks taking apart the public telephones and trying to jimmy the candy machines in the basement of the education

When I met with the professor and told him precisely what he could do with his doctoral program, he relented and apologized. But that doesn't excuse the issue of this quilt between practitioners and professors that still exists.

In the area of multi-cultural experiences, the gulf between professors. and administrators is even greater. There is a similar gulf between kindergarten-through-12th-grade teachers and administrators who have worked in ghetto schools and those who haven't. Those who haven't tend to resent any efforts their supervisors might initiate to sensitize them to multi-cultural issues.

A CASE IN point was a grievance filed against me (later withdrawn) by some of my principals and directors when in 1988, as the chief executive administrator in charge of instruction in a very fine school district, I imposed a multi-cultural sensitization workshop. They didn't think they needed the workshop, but in truth, we all needed it. Leaders are the ones who should be sensitized before anyone else.

Another case involved a similar overnight seminar I conducted with Monifa Jumanne of Oakland University for 70 Oakland County superintendents, assistant superintendents, directors and principals. A few of the participants wrote post-seminar evaluation statements indicating that they had participated unwilling. ly and didn't like the experience.

3 We still have a long way toward understanding and tolerance.

One avenue that remains relatively unexplored is that of administrator and teacher exchanges between inner-city and suburban schools, and between university professors and inner-city administrators. I'm talking about year-long rather than one-. day or one-week cross-visitations.

Funding for these types of exchanges, field practicums and internships aren't in the budgets of most university departments of education. They would have to be offered by foundations or corporations, and the exchanges would have to be organized and monitored by universities.

This would counter the problem of schools of education being unable to pay more than $30,000 or $40,000 to school administrators who would otherwise have been willing to leave to teach education administration full-time at universities but can't afford to take $40,000 to $50,000 cuts

ORGANIZATIONS THAT serve practicing administrators should develop standards of preparation and practice, then initiate uniform certification standards, including mullicultural issues and awareness/competency standards in cooperation with the various state agencies across the United States.

Administrators themselves must imitiate fundamental changes in the preparation of future colleagues.

Many college programs that grant administrative certification or doctorates in administration have only a couple of faculty members and poor credibility. That credibility gap between practitioners and those in higher education needs to be closed soon or it will stifle the development of the young educational leaders who will run our schools in the year 2000.

John Telford, a Rochester Hills resident, most recently was a senior administrative assistant superintendent for instructional administration in the Rochester School District. He previously was executive director for secondary education in the Plymouth Canton district. He has been controversial for his programs involving diverse religions and al-. ternative history courses.

Caution is the watch word with PMS

NOW I'M NOT making fun of this. Honest, I'm not.

It's just that sometime back, when my wife was having one of "those days," I made some wisecrack about having discovered a new defense for the courtroom.

"I didn't mean to kill him, your honor. It wasn't premeditated. I mean, like, he just said something and it hit me the wrong way and there was this butcher knife there and I picked it up and ... see, I was having a PMS day and . . .

That was my fantasy, snideness and sarcasm included.

Well, now it's happened. Down in Fairfax, Va., a female orthopedic surgeon has beaten the rap on a drunk driving charge by offering, as part of her defense, that she was having a PMS day.

It's a complicated case, but it went something like this:

The woman, who's 42 years old, was stopped by state police for weaving along Dulles Toll Road in Fairfax County. She was given a Breathalyzer test, which she failed (and the frequent inaccuracy of those tests was another part of her defense). The officers who stopped her found prescription drugs in her car which, they determined, she had obtained fraudulently in another

She then began using foul language at the police officers and attempted to kick one of them in the groin. That's where the PMS defense

Her attorneys claimed that PMS caused her to react violently to the officers who had pulled her over. And that's the part of the case that has received the most publicity.

THE COURT found her not guilty the drunk-driving charge, although she still faces charges on the drugs. It's unclear how much the socalled PMS defense influenced the court's ruling in the case, but the fact that it was used at all seems to have produced mixed feelings among feminists, lawyers and medical people.

The prosecutor in the case -awoman - said the defense burts the credibility of women. "I'm sure men are just shaking their heads at this," she said.

And a spokeswoman for the National Women's Law Center worrled that the defense "reinforces the stereotypes that ____ there is a certain time of the month when women become completely irrational and

On the other hand a California attorney - a woman active in women's legal issues - says such a defense should be admissible in court because " . . . for many women, - there's nothing they can do to control

THIS STORY isn't going to be leading the evening news on the tube or making banner headlines in the metro papers, but it's going to be around for awhile.

Frankly I haven't figured out how I feel about it. PMS is no laughing matter, even if it has been the subject of many jokes and wisecracks in the last few years. But as a defense for criminal actions . . . I don'

I do know, though, that I'm going to have to be more careful with my own wisecracks. The next time I say something intended to be completely outrageous and ludicrous, somebody might be listening. And I don't want to read about it in the newspaper.

Essay winners personalize blessings of liberty

Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the government for redress of arievances.

In this, the 200th anniversary of the Bill of Rights, three Observer & Eccentric readers have been named winners in the First Amendment essay competition, Winners are: Erik Pedersen, 10, of Troy; Bernard Cherkasov, 15, Southfield; and Christine Smedley (over 21 category) of Livonia.

Entrants were asked to write what the First Amendment means to them. The two youths were awarded $50 U.S. Savings Bonds, while the adult winner was presented with tickets to the Meadow Brook performance of the "All American Spectacular."

Congratulations to the winners. Following are their prize-winning essays.

Refugee cherishes religious freedom

Following is the First Amendment essay written by Russian immigrant Bernard Cherkasov, 15, of Southfield, who entered in the 13-18-year-old cate-

THINK that this First Amendment is very important to people because it gives people freedom of religion, speech, press, freedom to assemble and to voice complaints.

Thanks to this amendment, Americans can worship in any religion they want. People of some other countries aren't allowed to do so.

I'm personally a Russian refugee. I left the USSR in search for the country where I may worship my Jewish religion and have freedom of speech.

With the freedom of speech, Americans may express their opinions about anything they would like.

According to the right to voice a complaint, people can complain about what they don't like with things that are happening now. This right can help the government to make the country better by getting rid of things that people don't like and getting things that will better people's lives and the country's economy.

People are allowed to assemble in any place, discuss any problems, demonstrate: any wishes and do all this without government interference. People can even tell what they don't like in order to improve it.

According to the First Amendment, Americans have a right to get information they want and the press can freely supply the public with information. The means' of communication are allowed and must supply the nation with free, independent and up-to-date in-, formation on current events.

The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution characterizes the truly democratic society and the first democratic nation of the world.

Americans are very lucky. They take the Bill of Rights for granted. You don't know how we struggled to get to this country. We had to leave our loved ones and everything behind. We came here and could not speak the language, and we had no home or job. But we endured it to obtain this precious freedom: the Bill of Rights.

First Amendment means so much'

The following is the essay written by Erik Pedersen, 10, of Troy who won the competition for entrants 12 years and younger.

F AMERICA didn't have the First Amendment, life . would be a 'tougher because the First Amendment gives as the power and freedom of speechreligion press and peaceful protest.

The First Amendment means so much to me because if there was no First Amendment you wouldn't be able to let your feelings out, and you might not be able to tell the government anything. In the newspaper, people might not be able to read cverything they want or need to know because the government might keep it all a big. secret. Then people might get the wrong ideas from the. articles in the newspaper because they would not be get-

Erik Pedersen ting enough information which would bring fear and ignorance to people from lack of information.

Without freedom of religion you may have to go to the church that the government told you to go to or the one that the person in charge told you to attend, or there might not be any churches and the government might not let people build them.

People wouldn't be able to stand up for what they believed in. So nothing would ever change unless the government changed it. That would get a lot of people mad, but they wouldn't be able to let their feelings out.

For example, if there was no First Amendment, it would almost be like aliens came and controlled everybody's brain and no one could do a thing about it. I wouldn't ever want any person or thing to have the power to control my brain.

The First Amendment lets me be in charge of who I am and what I want to do. That is why the First Amendment means so much to me.

Free speech is 'precious, delicate'

Following is the essay written by Christine Smedley of Livonia who entered in the over 21 category of the Observer & Eccentric First Amendment con-

S A FUTURE problem-solving coach in Livonia, my team of students (from Churchill, Stevenson and Frost) and I recently completed extensive work on the topic of censorship, as it is specifically related to the First Amendment.

Researching censorship made all of us acutely aware of the rights we have as free citizens of the United States. We read, we discussed, we saw the movie "Gullty by Suspicion" and we realized the freedoms Americans take for grafited. The movie dealt with the McCarthy hearings in the 50s and was a grim and chilling reminder of just how precious and delicate the threads of free speech can be. It was difficult to believe those events actually occurred in the United States and appalling to think those kinds of events could occur again if we become lax in the defense of our right of free speech.

One of the most devastating effects of censorship is the restriction of free and creative thinking and exchange of new ideas. A mind is a terrible thing to waste and we discovered that is exactly what would happen to all of us if we allow censorship to take hold.

The recent Persian Gulf War brought the priceless qualities of freedom to the surface. Thomas Jefferson once said he would rather have a newspaper and no government, rather than a government and no newspa-

- We all witnessed the latter in Iraq - it was frightening, frustrating and deadly. The Iraqi people were denied the truth, they were restricted from speaking out against their government, they were driven from their homes and they were hunted down and killed by their own government troops.

The pains of cold and sickness, of hunger and homelessness were terrible, of course, but the loss of free speech and freedom was the heaviest blow. We must all be determined to preserve and defend our Bill of Rights every day.

Observer stars lead East to win

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

Plymouth Salem's Scott Niemlec had the kind of senior year most baseball players only read about in fantasy books.

Niemlec was a key member of the Class A championship team, was selected the first-team, all-state catcher and Tuesday was named the most valuable player of the annual high school all-star game.

His storybook season was complete with a clutch, game-winning hit as the East came from behind to beat the West 3-2 in Tiger Stadium. Niemiec's two-out, three-run homer in the top of the ninth inning cleared the 340-foot fence in left field."

"It's been unbelievable," Niemiecsaid after he was called to home plate to accept the MVP award "I was shocked. I was just glad to be here. It turned out great. Everything has been going so well."

With his heroics, Niemiec also. made his friend and Plymouth Canton ace, Scott Kennedy, the winning pitcher. Kennedy held the West hitless and scoreless in the last two inn-

"AS SOON AS he crushed the ball, I knew it was gone," Kennedy said. "Then I had to come in and finish the

"(Getting the all-star decision) just made my whole year. It was quite exciting. It won't really hit me until I think about it some more."

Lutheran Westland pitcher and Japanese exchange student Makoto Iwata made a key contribution for the winners, hurling three innings of shutout ball, and Gary. Devine of Farmington Hills Harrison started in center field for the East.

Niemiec, who started at catcher, played two innings and re-entered for the seventh inning, almost didn't get a chance to bat in the ninth.

He hit a flyout to right in his only other trip and needed two-out singles by Brighton's Ron Hollis and Southgate's Joe Weldenbach for him to get another turn. Plus, Hollis was nearly thrown out at-third on Weidenbach's hit, but the third baseman couldn't make a play.

"It was one-two on (Weldenbach)," Niemiec said. "I knew he'd hit the ball. It was a question of whether he was going to be out or not.

"THE FIRST pitch (from loser Chad Kukla of Essexville-Garber) was a fastball — down low — and I didn't swing. On the next pitch, he grooved one to me and I took it."

Niemiec also made a putout at the plate in the seventh inning to prevent two runs from scoring on Dan Beemer's RBI single that made it 2-

After retiring the side in order in the eighth, Kennedy gave up a leadoff walk in the ninth but ended the game with a flyout and a double.

His first game action came in the third inning when he replaced Devine in center field. Kennedy has: played the outfleld previously in his career but had only pitched for Canton this year.

"It surprised me when (East manager Glynn Conley) called my name," he said. "I wasn't sure he was calling the right guy. It was fun. I enjoyed it. I knew I still was going to throw the last two."

Iwata took over for Ray Ricken, a Detroit Tigers draftee like Kennedy and University of Michigan signee, in the third inning.

He was nervous before taking the mound, because he knew he would be facing some of the state's best hitters and his parents were in the

AND IT WAS no small task for his father (Kazuyoshi) and mother (Shigeko) to reach Detroit. They came from Japan just to see their son play in the all-star game.

"They were here so I wanted to show them a good game," Iwata. said. "I was kind of upset. There was a whole bunch of good players from Michigan, so I felt kind of pressured.'

If he was nervous, it didn't show. Iwata pitched three inpanys — the most of any East player — and he gave up one hit, struck out one and

He retired the side in the third but walked Jason Lecronier, who hit a solo homer off Ricken in the second,

Makoto Iwata, a Japaneese exchange student from Lutheran High Westland, pitched three scoreless innings as the East defeated the on four pitches with two out in the fourth. A popout ended the inning. Iwata allowed a leadoff single by Mike Cochran in the fifth, but he shut down the West with a fielder's choice, a flyout and a groundout.

Iwata returned to Japan with his parents this week, but he still hopes to continue his schooling and baseball career in the United States.

Interpreting his father's answers to questions, Iwata said: "When I was a little kid, he was always coach of me and now I am in all-star game in a different country. So, he is glad to be able to be here and see my Coaches Association All-Star Game at Tiger Stadium. "HE ALWAYS said he wanted me to be in college baseball in the U.S., Iwata's mother was not expected to make the trip, he added. She was hesitant about traveling to a different country and being among strange people, but her friends in Japan encouraged her to see her son play in the game.

so hopefully I can be back here

Devine, a first-team, Class B allstater, made two putouts in center field in the four innings he played and was 0-for-2 at bat, but he was pleased to be part of the all-star

"It's definitely one of my biggest thrills," he said. "The coaches said they'd make sure everybody got in early. I knew I'd get back in, but I didn't think I'd play as much as I did because there was a lot of talent on this team."

West, 3-2, in the Michigan High School

Devine reached base on a fielder's choice in the eighth and got to second with one out on a wild pitch, but he was stranded there:

"It looked pretty good, like we were going to (score)," he said. "At that point, things didn't work out, but we pulled through at the end.'

Wolverine 12

Davis headlines 3-day tournament

By Brad Emons staff writer

The top banana for this weekend's Wolverine XII Soccer Tournament at Schoolcraft College will be Rick Davis, former U.S. National Team captain.

The three-day tourney (Friday through Sunday), sponsored by the Michigan State Youth Soccer Association, will be highlighted by Saturday's Chiquita Challenge, a comprehensive test of soccer skills combining ball control, dribbling, passing and shooting elements into a single training course.

Davis, captain of the U.S. National Team from 1979 through '88, will be on hand from noon to 3 p.m. (Saturday) to supervise the competition and sign autographs for the participants (boys and girls ages 6-14), who will be broken into eight age groups. (Registration forms are available at Soccer Kick and all participating area Meijer food stores).

Davis, a key contributor to the New York Cosmos North American Soccer League franchise during the late '70s and early '80s, isn't the only

The Wolverine 12 has attracted approximately 140 entries including youth teams from such states as Ohio, Missouri, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania: Representatives from across the border in Ontario will also participate.

"LAST YEAR we started rebuilding this tournament and now we have more out-of-state teams, which' is good," said Irene Saucedo Smith, MSYSA chairman. "The under-15 boys should have some of the top teams and be one of the most competitive divisions."

Champions will be crowned Sunday in the following boys age categories: under-11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17 and 19. There will be four separate divisions for girls: under-12, 14, 16 and 19.

Coach Paul Scicluna's Livonia Wolves, fresh from their conquest of the Pike Peak tourney, will be one of the favorites in the under-15 boys division. The Michigan State Cup champions will be challenged by Scott-Gallagher, a team out of St. Louis, Mo.; Team Dayton (Ohio), the Pittsburgh, Pa. Strikers and the-Pennsylvania Forest Rowdies.

Another team to watch is the Livonia Y-Michigan Hawks, coached by Tom Coyne, which features some of the area's top high school players in the under-19 girls division. The state champs will use the Wolverine as a tuneup for a regional tourney later this month Sioux Falls, S.D.

Another attraction will be the under-19 boys division, where state champion Vardar '72, coached by Mike Lupenec, will be favored.

Vardar '72 features several collegiate standouts including former Detroit Country Day star Joel Russell, now playing at Indiana University.

ADMISSION IS FREE for the soccer extravaganza, which will be played at two sites: host Schoolcraft College, off Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile roads in Livonia; and Bicentennial Park in Livonia (Seven Mile and Wayne roads).

Money raised from the event will go to the Olympic Development pro-

Championship matches in all divisions are tentatively scheduled for Sunday at Schoolcraft.

Concessions, provided by the athletic department at Schoolcraft, are also available.

In addition to the Chiquita Chailenge, Uhlsport, a manufacturer of goalle equipment, will stage its own skills challenge (time and date yet to be announced:

Rick Davis, former U.S. National Team captain, will be at Schoolcraft College to conduct the

Caesars 1-up on Walter's

Little Caesars maintained its one-game lead in the Livonia Collegiate. Baseball League race by beating Total Travel twice over the weekend.

Caesars upped its league-leading record to 14.5.1 with a 6.2 victory Sunday at Novi High:

The winners broke open a close game by scoring three times in the top of the seventh inning.

University of Detroit pitcher Eric Stanczak went the distance to record the win. In seven innings, he scattered eight hits and one walk

Scott Nielsen, in relief of starter Chris Schmid, who worked the first four innings, suffered the loss. Jeff Miller and Andy Weighill each collected two hits for Caesars. Miller also knocked in a pair of runs, while Mike Berrios contributed a solo homer.

Schmidt had two hits and an RBI for Total Travel, now 8-11-1.

On Friday, Caesars trimmed Total Travel in a game played at Ford Field, 5-1, as Jeff Bates, the Troy High product and Grand Valley State star, threw a three-hitter, while striking out 11.

Bates gave up a first-inning solo homer to Leo Devine, but held Total Travel in check the rest of the Total Travel starter Brad Ryan, who gave up five runs over five innings, took the loss.

Bates and Kevin Croclata combined for four of Caesars' eight

Earlier in the week, the last place C.P.O.A. Canucks stunned Caesars at Ford Field, 9-7, as Jay Alexander and Shawn Lewenza each had inside-the-park homers.

Mathew Brabant paced a 16-hit Canucks attack, going 3-for-5 with two RBI. Alexander and Lewenza' each added two hits.

Stanczak collected two of Caesars' seven hits.

"Canucks starter Kevin Whitman, the Redford Union High product, threw a complete game, outdueling Caesars starter Bill Bannon and Bates (who was charged with the loss in relief).

WALTER'S 14, HINES PARK 6: Jason Gabel, the Livonia Churchill High product now attending Central Michigan, went 4-for-5, including a three-run homer in the first inning, propelling second place Walter's Appliance to a rout of Hines Park Lincoln/Mercury Sunday at Ford Field.

Walter's (13-6-1) collected 14 hits. Paul Pirronello (Redford Catholic Central and Henry Ford CC) added three hits in four trips to the plate. Joe Brusseau (Bishop Borgess and Madonna University), Jerry Koester (Westland John Glenn High product) and Mark Hribar each added two hits. Hribar, a shortstop from Henry Ford CC, knocked in three runs.

Walter's outfielder Joe Sturtz (North Farmington and Indiana University) collected his first hit since returning from a lengthy wrist injury.

Mike Culver socked a solo homer for

Hines Park, while Jason Dembny added

Bob Bullach, who worked the first 4% innings before giving way to Craig Overaitis (Livonia Franklin and Henry Ford CC), gained the victory.

. Hines Park starter Rob Kowalski (Salem High and Madonna) took the loss. On Friday, Walter's scored 10 times in the opening inning, eventually recording a 11-1 mercy-rule victory

Concealed tops Westland

Concealed Security followed a weekend double-header sweep over Westland Federation' I with a 20-4 rout Monday of North Farmington-West Bloomfield in the Little Caesars Amateur Baseball League.

Concealed, 18-3 overall and second behind Ypsilanti with a 13-2 record in the league, defeated Westland 6-3 and 5-4 Saturday at Capitol Park in Mike Grahl had four hits, including a pair of triples, and drove in three runs to pace Concealed's 18-hit attack against NFWB.

Jermaine Burley, Matt Bonkowski, Randy Gierczak and George Leung had two hits and two RBI apiece. Mark Van Ameyde also had two hits

Eric Miller of Farmington Hills pitched five innings to get the victory at West Bloomfield High School. Jon Sturtz had two of NFWB's seven

IN THE first game with Westland, Mark D'Antonio went the distance, striking out six and walking four, and Matt Fennelly hit a pair of solo homers. Ron Hollis and D'Antonio was 2-for-3.

Jerry Shippe had a two-run single for West-baseball

land. Bobby Arellano was the losing pitcher.

Jim Solak pitched 635 Innings in the second game to earn the victory, and Hollis got credit for a save.

Solak allowed nine hits and three earned runs. He struck out three and walked five. Westland's Steve Ross gave up three first-inning runs but went the distance.

Shandel Currie had two hits, including the game-winning RBI single in the sixth inning that scored Charles Winters. Dan Taylor and Dave Roman had two hits each for Westland, which had only two losses entering the twinbill. Concealed split a double-header with Concealed Security II on Sunday, winning the first game 11-2 and losing the second 6-3.

SOLAK WAS 3-for-3 and scored three runs in the first game. Van Ameyde pitched a complete game, allowing only two hits and one walk. Mark Temple gave up nine bits and suffered the loss.

Errors marred the nightcap with Concealed II committing six and Concealed I four. Team No. II, composed of 17-year-old players, jumped in front 6-0 after two innings.

Dwight Trammel pitched seven innings to get the win, striking out six and walking one. Leung was the loser, giving up six runs (two earned) in 13 innings.

Concealed was an 11-5 winner over Livonia last Thursday. D'Antonio was 3-for-4, and Ed Wolkind and Currie had two hits each. Wolkind also chalked up three RBI.

Miller pitched 4% innings to become the winning pitcher, and Grahl, coming off a shoulder injury, struck out five in two innings. Mike Lang was the losing pitcher.

Concealed I travels to West Virginia for a 30team national tournament, which begins today. The Wayne County ballclub will play Akron, the team that eliminated it from the recent Waterford tournament, in its first game and Lexington, Ky., in the second round.

Mustangs learn valuable lesson

The Livonia Mustangs continue to lead the Washtenaw Amateur Baseball Association's Connie Mack Division (16-18 year-olds), while learning a few tournament lessons in the process.

On Thursday, the Mustangs ran their league record to 10-1 with an 8-1 triumph at Dexter (also affiliated with Ann Arbor Huron).

Lefty Jessie Gerwatwoski threw seven complete innings, allowing just two hits and two walks. He struck out four to pick up the win: Dennis Creedon paced a nine-hit attack for the Mustangs, going 3-for-4. Anthony Ballios added

The Mustangs went 2-5 last weekend in the Ypsilanti Invitational, winning their last two games. In the finale, catcher Jeff Schaffer went 3-for-4 with three RBI and Scott Marinkovich delivered a key bases-loaded triple in the fifth inning, giving the Mustangs a 9-8 triumph over Flint Grossi in a game played at Eastern Michigan University's Oestrike Stadium.

Tad Dennis and Gerwatowski each added two

Mike Higgins, one of four Mustang pitchers, worked % of an inning to gain the victory. Steve McCOOL, a 6-foot-4 right-hander who recently graduated from Livonia Franklin, ran his summer record to 5.0 as the Mustangs trimmed Taylor, 4-2, in the first game Sunday at Ypsilanti-

McCool struck out seven and did not walk a batter in going the distance. He scattered six hits. Ballios knocked in two runs for the Mustangs on a double in the second and a fielders choice in the sixth.

The Mustangs were blanked in the tourney opener Friday at Ypsi, 14-0, by Adrian (five innings, mercy rule).

Mike Berry, who worked the first 31/3 innings, took the loss.

Host Ypsi, leading the tough Little Caesars Amateur Baseball League, routed the mustangs in the second game on Friday at EMU, 11-3. Schaffer collected two hits in a losing cause, while starter Mike Higgins (five innings) absorbed the defeat.

In round No. 3 Saturday at EMU, Quality Con--struction/Salem Elks downed the Mustangs, 5-2, as winning pitcher Jason Riggs allowed only one run on two hits over the first five innings.

Dennis took the loss. Schaffer, who had a big-tourney with a total of

- eight hits, went 2-for-3-

Kramer goes extra miles

By Steve Kowalski staff writer

Jed Kramer, who has qualified for the Junior National Freestyling Wrestling Championships in War-rensburg, Mo., already looks like he's a step ahead of his competition.

Kramer spent three years with the Redford Thurston boys cross country: team and he plans to use his running ability to get in shape for a second consecutive trip to the national meet. Some athletes don't enjoy running, especially in 90 degree heat, but Kramer welcomes it.

"I hated it when I first started (as a sophomore), but I got used to it," said Kramer, who plans to continue his wrestling career this fall at at the junior state meet at Eastern Michigan State University. "It's real Michigan University. Kramer won cool. You can think about stuff and once you're in rhythm, it's real relaxing."

Kramer's training for the national meet, which is held the last week of July, began in earnest late last week. On Saturday, he said he ran 21/2 miles; followed Sunday by a 31/2 mile run at Thurston, and five separate 14 mile runs.

KRAMER ALSO is an avid biker, usually riding his 18-speed blcycle to 4 Kramer recalled. "I had not wresthe Dearborn Salvation Army, where tled since the state (high school) he works during the summer as a meet in February and running track day camp counselor.

"I try to time myself, but once in a while I get stopped at traffic lights," Kramer said, "but I did it in 11 minutes the other day."

He likes working with kids so he's usually in a hurry to get to work,

'It's kind of cool working with the kids," he said. "You have to keep them in line and out of trouble but you can also have them like you."

The children probably couldn't ask for a better role model than Kramer, who graduated 14th in his class with a 3.5 grade point average and also was named the 16th recipient of Thurston's boys athlete of the year.

Kramer was arguably one of the area's best all-around athletes last year, qualifying for the Class B state Tri-River League wrestling champion and last winter kinished third in "I remember telling my friends the Class R meet at 119 pounds ton's all-time leader in wrestlingwins, and followed last spring by set- a little better this time."

wrestling

ting a school record on the track with a time of 9:54.3 in the 3,200meter run.

Still, Kramer was somewhat surprised to take home the athlete of the year trophy after Thurston's honors night.

"I was on 'Cloud Nine' when I got it," Kramer said. "You couldn't get the smile off my face."

Kramer qualified for the wrestling national meet by finishing second in the 132-pound division May 11 three matches before losing in overtime in the final round, and even he was surprised at that since his school prom was held the night before.

Kramer said he came home about 4 a.m. from the prom and awoke at 6:30 a.m. so he could start running and sweat off some of his pounds to make weight for the tournament.

"I WAS DEAD after the first match and couldn't even breathe," was my only conditioning. Plus it was real humid."

Part of Kramer's dedication and talents can be attributed, he said, to his grandfather, Bill Wolf, a former, golden gloves boxer. Wolf, who was a heavy smoker, passed away a few years ago.

"He was like another dad to me," Kramer said. "When he died, I made an oath to never smoke, drink or use drugs. And so far I've kept it."

Kramer's appearance in lastyear's national tournament wasn't so memorable, as he lost both his matches in the 123-pound division, His first loss he attributed to nerves, the second he blamed on his opponent, T.J. Jaworski, now wrestling at Oklahoma State University.

Kramer, who needs a sponsor to tournament in cross country, wres- help pay for his trip to the national tling and track. He was a three-time tournament, also hopes to receive an easier draw.

> (before the second match last year) that 'I feel good about this one,' " he said. "But he definitely was the best wrestler I ever faced. I expect to do

Mark Schankowski had a big day at the plate Saturday as Canton-Plymouth Dairy King swept a Mickey Mantle baseball double-header from host Walled Lake Western, 9-5 two hits.

Schankowski was 5-for-9 overall, including a 3-for-5 performance in the first game. He also had four RBI, three coming on a bases-loaded triple that gave Dairy King a 9-4 lead in the sixth inning.

Ryan Fordham had a two-run single, Brad Paskievitch had two hits and one RBI and winning pitcher Matt Paupore had a run-producing Paupore went the distance, scattered six hits, walked none and struck out one.

Dave Watkins turned in a complete game for Western, but Dairy King (7-5) had seven hits and four walks off him.

CATCHER STEVE Bingham hit a two-run homer for the losers. Drew Nicholas had two hits and Derek Lindsey had two RBI.

In the nightcap, Dairy King rallied from a 2-1 deficit in the seventh in-

Fordham drew a bases-loaded walk to score Dean Rovenelli with the tying run, and Jeff Schlenker's two-out, two-run double scored Ryan Ostach and Adam Gilles with the deciding runs, Schankowski, who made 13 putouts in center field during the two games, and Gilles had two hits each.

STERLING RETIRES

Having served as the information officer for the Huron-Clinton Metroparks for better than 32 years, John K. Sterling will retire in October.

Sterling, a Canton Township resident, began working at the Metroparks as a seasonal recreational employee at Metro Beach in 1955. He was hired on June 8, 1959 to develop and administer the first public information, department.

Sterling graduated from the school of journalism at Michigan State University in 1949, ...

BEST BASS BETS

Ever wondered what the pros use to catch all those tournament bass?

According to profiles of the 46 anglers that qualified for the 1991 Red Man All-American, the favorite lure is a jig. Of the 46 qualiflers, 21 listed the jig as the favorite lure: Nine anglers listed spinnerbalt as the favorite lure followed by worms (7), crankbait (6), and one each for grubs, Gitzits, buzbait and surface lures.

The average age of anglers who qualified for the tournament was 37; with 58 the oldest and 22 the young.

' Texas had the most qualifiers (5) followed by Georgia, Iowa and Alabama with four each. Michigan had one qualifier in Dwight Crowner, 29, of Muliken.

The 1991 Red Man All-American was held June 21-22 in Buffalo, New York, Arvin Smith of Cotter Arkansas won the event with a two-day limit catch of 10 bass that weighed 26-pounds, 6-ounces. He received $100,000 for his effort. Smith fished 5-inch Bobby Garland G-Tall grubs. in 12 to 17 feet of water. Crowner placed 14th with a two-day total of 17-pounds, 7-ounces.

• RECORD CATCH

An 11%-inch 1.44-pound hybrid sunfish taken from Doan's Lake in Allegan County has tled the state record, according to Department of Natural Resources fisheries biolotaken Feb. 25 from Little Bay de Noc fled the current state record and an $1.50-inch smelt taken from Big Bay de Noc on April 27th was a new state record.

The fish was caught by Lloyd T. Jarman on June 1 while stillfishing with a teardrop and redworms.

The Master Angler program, administered by the DNR's Fisherles. Division, rewards anglers with a patch for catching fish which meet the program's established minimum requirements. A complete list of entry weights and current state records appears on the back cover of the 1991 Michigan Fishing Guide, available at local license dealers and DNR offices.

• PUBLIC ACCESS PROTECTION

State Sen. John D. Cherry Jr., D-Clio, is expected to introduce legislation to help protect public access to Michigan's waterways via road endings. The legislation is supported by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, the state's largest conservation organization.

Although public roads that end at waterways are often used to permit public access to the waterways, county road commissions currently have the authority to abandon the roads and allow them to revert to the abutting property owners. Tho property owners can then block pubile access to the waterways. In many instances these road endings are the only access the public has to the waterways. Cherry's legislation would protect public access to Michigan's waterways by preventing county road commissions from abandoning roads that border on or are adjacent to waterways without the permission of the circuit court of the county in which the road is located.

'Too often, local property owners' encroach and even close off those access points," said Thomas L. Washington, MUCC executive director. "This legislation will put an end to an increasingly common conflict without both sides having their day

We'll never have the skills to be a race car driver

I was sliding sideways, well, not straight. It's a stone arch, and the exactly sideways, maybe about 30 course runs between its stone legs. degrees or so off center, at about 70. mph toward the Arch of Doom, when started to contemplate just where this ability to drive at speed comes

The Arch of Doom is a nickhame for what has to be the welrdest obstacle ever put on a race course'-Three River, Quebec, to be more exact, a so-called street course created by walling off the downtown streets, sort of like they do in Detroit, but in Three Rivers they never take them ' down Three Rivers is a pretty small

course runs between its stone legs. "You can't get through it sideways." said John Heinricy, Corvette's chief development engineer, and more than a passable race driver.

This was why Heinricy chose the 30 degree angle, which tooked good to him, but bad to me in the passenger's seat, since it left me staring out the side window at the right-hand leg! of the arch, which was approaching, at an unconscionably high rate of: speed.

TVE HAD several chances to ride . THE ARCH of Doom is some kind with race drivers of Heinricy's caliber, and it always is a little weird, of the turn that exits onto the back . even without the Arch of Doom on the race track. Dan Gurney, for example, has a tendency to giggle, like a little kid, or maybe Frankenstein's assistant, as he carves out paths ofrubber that you would have sworn would have terminated at the outside of the curve, only shortly before you did. Gurney is one of those super-athletes that retains a boyish sense of glee while he pursues his craft, which he does very well. -

I ONCE walched Carroll Shelby's' GLH Omni pass me at the Chrysler. Proving grounds in a position that gave me a good view of the underside of the car - having left the track airborne en route to the next hill. Shelby grins but doesn't giggle.

Bob Bondurant, the archetypical race driving instructor, manages to ? make it look too easy, particularly since he starts his classes with a high-speed tour of the track in a loaded nine-passenger van, which only emphasizes that it is the driver, not the car, that achieves these speeds.

IN FACT, a ride with any of these top-level drivers only underscores the fact that while high speed driving can be studied, and even taught, the world inhabited by the true practitioners of the craft - the pilots of Indy cars, Formula One, and the like - is closed off to drivers like you and the.

Granted, you can train to enter each corner a bit taster, brake a bit later, until the reflexes get a little more honed. But the great ones almost seem to have created a new kind of physics by virtue of their perceptions and reflexes. It is a dance on stage, which is what there is to beappreciated at a major race.

MY OWN bouts with high-speed; driving have provided the sobering experience of just how narrow the line of traction is that keeps a car on the road. At racing speeds, it leaves zero chance for error or chance. At: lesser speeds, the path of control is broadens.

But it is, after all a path with limits, and it doesn't take too much of a change in surface, or an unforescen'. obstacle; for it to become very narrow indeed.

Something to think about as you slide sideways toward the Arch of

Municipal cash safe, state bankers say

HERE IS WHAT the laws currently requires, according to the FIB's Brown:

• The federal government insures deposits up to $100,000, though that is little assurance to most governmental units.

• State law requires that state deposits be secured by a bank's pledge of high quality securities usually federal or other governmental bonds. Public financiers call that "collateralization."

• There is no such requirement for deposits of political subdivisions " - universities, municipalities, townships, school districts. If a bank falls, a local unit could lose deposits in excess of $100,000.

• The state constitution restricts any unit's deposits to 50 percent of the net worth of the financial institution, and only in Michigan financial institutions.

• The treasurer of each political subdivision has a duty of assessing financial institutions prior to making deposits.

BROWN AND the financial people agreed there was a down side to "collateralization" as well as a protection of deposits, as required by 36

Pledging securities limits a bank's liquidity, reduces its earnings and could restrict its ability to serve the community's credit needs.

Pledging also would reduce the city's earnings on deposits. And in the event of bank failure, other depositors could incur greater losses if city depositors had to be paid off first with higher quality securities. "There still is a risk You can't Heikkinen said treasurers aggressively seek out the highest interest rates for deposits. "There is competitive bidding. You give up on the. safety side to get on the yield side," the banking official said.

Several characteristics shared by entrepreneurs who succeed

By Doug Funke staff writer

Undercapitalization is often cited as a leading cause for the failure of start-up businesses.

But the ability to visualize a plan, weigh suggestions, take the plunge, change course when necessary and buckle down to long hours of work separate successful entrepreneurs from the wanna-bes. Successes like Wallace K. Tsuha, who founded Saturn Electronics & Engineering in Rochester Hills, Harold Brode, president and chief executive officer of Broder Brothers in Plymouth, and Richard Rogel, CEO of Preferred Provider Organization of Michigan in Southfield, illustrate:

just those qualities. All three were designated an Entrepreneur of the Year in a statewide search sponsored by the financial services company of Ernst & Young Inc. magazine and Merrill Lynch. Tsuha, 47, a Rochester Hills resident, was selected Minority Entrepreneur of the Year. His company, established in 1985, supplies electronic modules primarily for automotive manufacturers.

Tsuha worked as a manager for TRW Transportation Electronics before going into business for himself.

"IT CERTAINLY was a tough decision," he said. "I had been in the business my entire career. From the technical standpoint, it wasn't tough. From the business (financial)-side, it was. It was difficult to go out and know for six months there would be no income.'

Sales last year at Saturn were some $8 million, Tsuha said. The goal is 50 percent growth per year to $50 million by 1995.

The company now employs 94. Rick Inatome, chairman and CEO at Inacomp, nominated Tsuha for the award. He was impressed with Tsuha's vision - "instant pre-play" — and execution of a business plan.

the profit motive out of ancillary testing. After we set the fee schedule - that's an enormous task with 8,000 procedures - we went to each specialty and asked if they would work at this price.

"Most other managed care operations believe you have to totally control physicians. We believe most doctors are honest and reimbursement systems are incorrect," Rogel said.

Three separate customer service staffs - one for patients, one for doctors and hospitals and the third for bill payers - keep the system running smoothly, Rogel said. He employs 113.

Unisys employees rallied by visit of corporate chief

By Doug Funke staff writer

It isn't every day that a chief executive officer will fly several hundred miles to buck up employees at a manufacturing facility.

But these aren't normal times for

The manufacturer of electronic processing equipment reported a loss of $436.7 million last year after losing $639.3 million in 1989. The company's credit rating has been downgraded. Unisys has slashed its workforce and suspended payment of both its common and preferred stock dividends.

The stock selling as high as $30.50 per share in 1989 closed at $3.875

But James A. Unruh, CEO at Unisys, is upbeat that an InfoImage check processing/sorting system built at the Plymouth plant will be among a handful of new products to bring the company back to profita-

Unruh and nearly several business customers who have aiready purchased the system spoke to all Plymouth employees last week in a courtyard of the facility.

Afterwards, in a brief interview, Unruh said there are no immediate plans to close the aging Plymouth plant to stop the corporation's financial hemorrhaging.

"PLYMOUTH IS a very big part of our future," Unruh said. "We have an area of imaging technology. It's a new wave of technology we think has great potential.

Unisys reported a loss of 98.2 million on revenues of $2.1 billion for the first three months of this year, said Dean Gulis, director of research for Roney & Co. of Detroit.

That compares with a loss of $3.2 million on revenues of $2.3 billion during the first quarter of 1990.

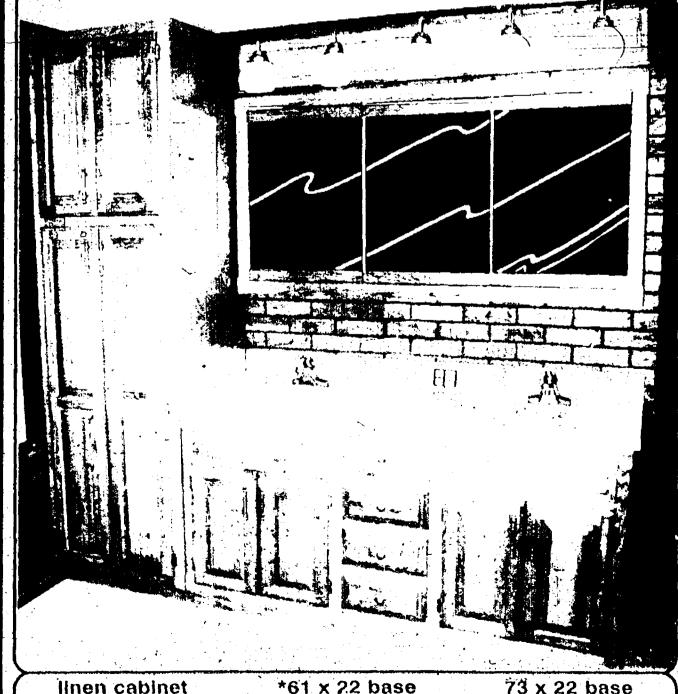

"I think Unisys is going to end up being focused on only a couple of areas when all is said and done," Gulis said. "I think the company will struggle for a few years and shrink."

Calling the last shot --- with no slop

Pool shooter retires at '35'

staff writer.

HERE WAS A TIME when you could find Theresa Podina behind the eight ball. The 66year-old Farmington Hills resident was a mainstay of the Northwest Women's Pool

Not anymore. She has blown the dust off her fingertips and packed away her pool stick. It's time, she says, to let the younger players take over.

"It really was more fun for me when I was younger; now I play my set and come home," she said. "But I enjoy getting out one night a week and chewing the fat with the girls."

THE LEAGUE has been in existence for 35 years; its members calling their shots at neighborhood bars like. the 4820, Tropicana and Ginny's that have long sinceclosed. The members were mostly barmaids who wanted to have some fun and shared an interest in shooting pool.

Podina is the oldest of existing pool league members. Most are in their 20s and 30s and, unlike the early years, most have office or factory jobs.

"We were just a bunch of girls having fun," Podina said of the league's early years. "Back then, some were mothers and it was a night out for them.">-

In many ways the pool league is like a bowling league. There are dues ($5 a week), a 30-week season (September to May), trophles for the first and second place teams and for sinking the eight ball on a break, prize money and an awards banquet.

THE PLAYERS make up the rules, changing them by vote as needed at the start of the season. The rules include calling the shots and pockets, scoring on a good hit and no slop. And "sportsmanship is always the rule," Podina said.

They even had referees for a while, but that didn't work out.

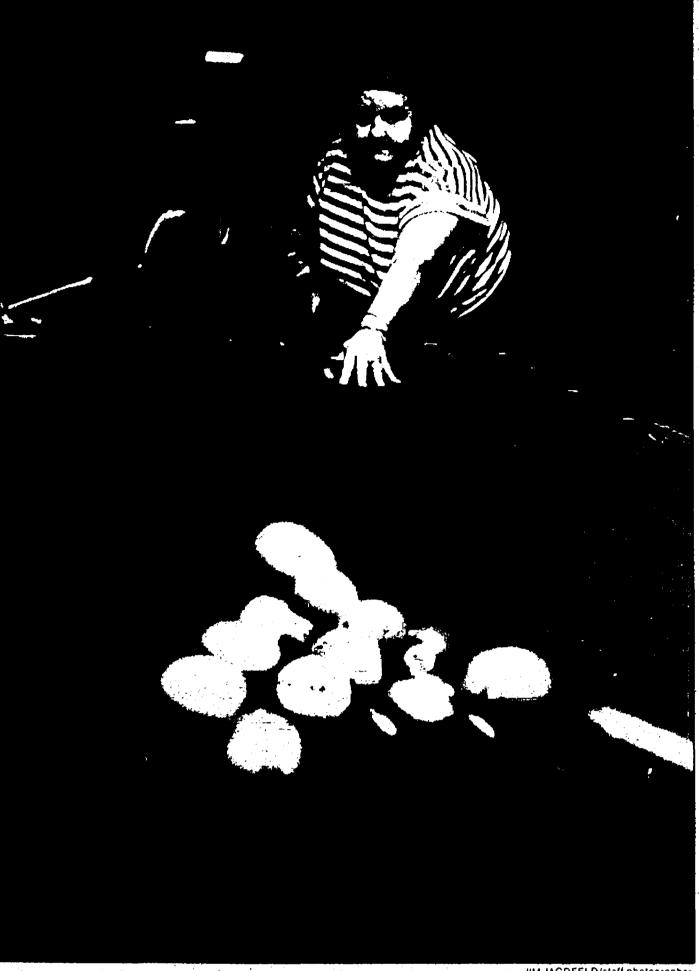

"They'd have a few drinks and not call the games . right," Podina said.

The league has eight to 10 teams of six players each pair. Each team has a "home" bar. These days the bars include the Old Redford Bowl, Old Timer's Bar, Joe Dee's, Mingles, Starters and Deb's.

Teams play each other four times during the season, twice at each other's home bar.

FOR PODINA being a member of a women's pool league was an extension of the job she gave up about seven years ago.

She was a barmaid, working nights "because that's where the money was." She worked in places like the Venice Bar and closed out her career at the Bank Bar on Fenkell in Detroit.

— Theresa Podina.

Like many of the league members, she got out for a night out. The first year of league was for fun; after that there were trophles for the winning teams.

"I always worked in a bar and shot (pool) for the fun of it. This was a fun night out. In fact, I played through three pregnancles and never missed a game."

FELLOW LEAGUE member Alice McGee of Livonia recalls Podina checking herself out of the hospital to play pool.

'We call her our Mother Theresa," she said "She's such a giving person." The league recently honored Podina for her longevity. The party included league members she hadn't seen in years. It also featured a Podina specialty

"She always brought snacks for the teams and so when she asked what she could bring for the party, we had her bring cheese and crackers," McGee said.

"I think that's what they really miss," Podina said of her weekly treats. "Every Wednesday, I'd bring different cheeses, dips and potato chips for both teams."

THROUGH THE years, the shooting has improved immensely, the players are more skilled and they practice more. Now, McGee said, "it's more than just a

"I've seen the league vastly improve and the women vastly improve," she said.

"When I joined I had shot a little. I was ready to quit at the end of the season, but Theresa told me no because I knew how to play and hold a stick."

THERE ARE are other women's leagues now, but when the northwest league was new some bar patrons didn't recognize it for what it was and would challenge the table during the games. "We had customers put their money on the table, not realizing we were playing in a league," Podina said. "We used to get-strange looks when we'd show up to play," McGee said. "It's not like going into the bar to play, it's competition. We shoot banks, kicks, cut and combinations, and most of us have our own sticks."

As much fun as the league play has been for Podina, knee replacement surgery, grandchildren and greatgrandchildren have led her decide to leave the league to younger women like McGee. But she isn't backing away from it completely. ---

"Oh sure, I'll miss it, but I'll get a schedule and if I fee! like it get dressed and go," she said. "I'll play as a substitute at h be just as much fun."

In training: Class helps the owners survive puppyhood

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Jim Lessenberry has a pile of information and doesn't sidestep the issue.

Housebreaking a new dog is perhaps one the most frustrating and misunderstood tasks of pet ownership. Lessenberry is with the Animal Behavior Institute and spoke to a group of new and perspective canine owners June 20 as part of a seminar, "The Three Rs of Puppyhood . . ." at the Michigan Humane Society-West facility in Westland. While paper training pupples consumes a good deal of his discussion, Lessenberry also debunks several myths in order to help people better understand man's best friend. -Lessenberry's areas of speciality include animal learning, blo-medical issues of behavior and child-animal therapy at the Animal Behavior Institute in Pleasant Ridge. "The reason people pay me to shrink their dogs is we don't live with our dogs the same way we did 10 or 15 years ago," Lessenberry said. "Ten or 15 years ago, dogs were appliances in said. We get these pets and force them to live in the house like a little person. We want them to be half-people and half-stuffed animals. That puts a lot of stress on a dog. Fortunately, we're lucky that dogs can put up with a lot from us."

AND LIKEWISE, Patience is the key when housebreaking a puppy. In many cases, the pooch is too young to train. Pupples under sixweeks of age usually don't know when they have to go. They, like Bo Jackson, just do it. Usually, between 6-14 weeks they can predict and this is the prime time to set up a regular elinination routine.

The key is noticing signals pupples give when having to go. Lessenberry said they'll stop whateyer activity and begin seeking out a place to go.

Canines are place learners and they associate certain areas to do their business.

Of course, when the dog last are can usually mean he'il be doing his duty within 30 minutes. Lessenberry suggests taking the pooch outside and show him where to go.

"If you've paper trained the dog, you've trained him to go in the house," Lessenberry said. "Once you pull up the newspapers, do you think he has read the book?

"The best way to train your dog from day one 'is you set the pattern."

Accidents are going to happen. Lessenberry recommends owners not yell, or worse, spank the puppy

"BEAT THE dog and he's just going to wait until you've gone to do it," Lessenberry said. ' Actually, stress can create the need for a dog to urinate. Relieving themselves is a way to al-

And, as Lessenberry added, dogs have the intellectual capability of a two-year-old. They'renot conspiring against their owners when they

"I wish dogs were that smart," Lessenberry piddle in the house.

Perhaps the same could be said for dog owners. Several myths exists when it comes to canines and their behaviors. Some of those are even perpetuated by some dog manuals themselves, which, Lessenberry said, tend to be filled with old wives' tales. Which is why the Michigan Humane Society offers the seminar to new puppy owners. Aside from training, the seminar covers such topics as caging the dog, biting, communicating properly with the animal and understanding normal and abnormal behavior.

One common fallacy is that a breed plays a major role in the dog's temperament. For example, poodles are allegedly nervous and pit bulls are vicious.

Benjamin Queen wanted to get his eight-week-old dog Boo Boo off to a good start, so he brought it to the Michigan Humane Society-Westland puppy class.

Housebreaking hints

- The puppy must first learn to recognize that it is about to eliminate. This is a developmental process and cannot be taught. This usually occurs between 6 and 14 weeks of age.
- A feeding and drinking schedule should be developed to meet both the needs of the puppy and the availability of the family.
- Schedule "potty times" for the puppy to be taken outside. Typically, a young puppy may need eight tribs per day; which can be reduced to four as the dog becomes an adult.
- The puppy must be accompanied on its trips outside. Mild praise combined with physical affection are the best rewards for a dog doing a good job.
- Mistakes Indoors should be interrupted by startling the puppy. Stop the action and then calm the puppy on the way to taking it out side to finish.
- Striking the animal or punishing it with its own waste are inhumane and ineffective.

Writer is oriented toward action

Dear Lorene.

I find graphology fascinaling! I would love to have you analyze me. -I'm seeing a wonderful guy. We get along so well and he makes me very happy! I have an exciting job and love everything about it except the $$! I fust turned 26 a few weeks ago and am a right-handed person. Sometimes a person may have crealive qualities or hidden talents and not even know about them. I hope if you use my handwriting we might discover something!

Please let me know it you choose . me. Thanks!

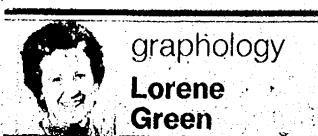

Birmingham

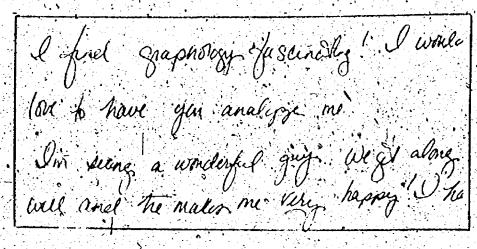

Dear J.C.,

A young woman with a magnetic personality can be seen in this handwriting. You want to live life to the hilt and experience all you can.

Your orientation is toward action, activity and material gain. A demonstrative nature does not allow you to escape notice. Nervous energy may be at work in your make-up, and mood swings are not unknown to

The use of purple ink for your letter and the full lower loops strongly suggest a person with well-developed senses. Good food, a bottle of wine, ambiance and background music would make for a pleasant evening, I think.

An appreciation of cultural expression seems to have you taking an interest in art, music and/or literature. You may even be expressing yourself in some of these areas. Signs of talent can be seen in your handwriting.

YOU DISLIKE waste and extravaganza. And there are some things to which you cling tenaciously.

Early in life you experienced a need to be independent and stand on your own feet. Some resistance to authority figures and traditional values may still be part of your nature.

Seemingly, you have fettisoned much of your early training. However, your past continues to influence

Protection of your interests appear to be a priority of yours. You have a facility with language and can also figure out ways to make it seem right for you to do the things. you want to do and in the way you want to do them. The rationalizing cannot be missed.

YOUR INTELLIGENCE is higher than average. Your inind is often working ahead finding original solutions and solving problems. There is a tad of procrastination here, but once you decide on a course of action, your strong persistence keepsyou working toward the goal.

You are somewhat complex. At times, you may not feel as self-as. sured as the image you project. I don't think you want others to know the real you. In your interpersonal relationships, you are sometimes inconsistent. Although friendly and outgoing most of the time, you can also be distant and less friendly at other times. This may have a way of confusing your peers as to where they stand with you.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspapers, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are helpful And constructive feedback is always welcome.

Store helps readers soar to new heights

By Greg Kowalski staff writer

Akkadian is a dead Middle Eastern language that is of almost no interest to anyone today. So what demand, could there be for a book of Akkadian grammar, especially when it's written in German?

sellers at 24325 W. McNichols in Detroit, can answer that question. There is a deniand, even when the book is

Their store specializes in obscure yet important books. related to hiblical and Middle Eastern studies. Dove is not a typical bookstore. It does not have racks of best selfers nor is it a comfortable store specializing in used . books where you can sit all day and find dusty treasures, although you are welcome to browse, sit and talk at your

It is a one-room store lined with critical texts ranging from established classics to what some would call blasphemous works.

Here you will find Strong's "Concordance" of the Bible, which lists every word in the Bible, including "and," "but" and "for" (imagine how many times they appear) and where they can be found.

Here also you will find Jane Schaberg's "The Illegitimacy of Jesus," an extremely controversial, yet documented work, that claims that Jesus was a product of a rape and who was blessed by God after the fact and chosen as the savior because of his bottom-of-the-barrel social status.

"WE'RE NOT AN average religious book store," said

Ball, adding that "we have something for everyone." Looking for a book on how to read hieroglyphics? How about one on synoptic studies (an examination of the inconsistencies in the first three gospels)? Try one on gnosticism (an intuitive knowledge in spiritual matters). Dove has them all, along with books on a wide range of ancient history, philosophy and theology.

Ball founded Dove Booksellers in 1985 because "I hada problem getting the books I wanted." Many are so obscure that there is a minuscule demand for them. So most bookstores don't carry them.

Even Christian bookstores rarely carry the more spe-Jeffrey Ball and John Marine, owners of Dove Book- cialized titles. Marine, in fact, used to work in a Christian bookstore but found the experience frustrating.

"Most Christian bookstores are restrictive; they had nothing from the Jewish or Islamic perspective," he said. They are top-heavy on spirituality. It wasn't an atmosphere conducive to do my own research."

So when he discovered Dove, Marine became a frequent shopper and later a partner. At that time, Dove was renting space in a used book store in Berkley. "We were sharing space with romance novels and biographies of Lee Iacocca," Ball recalled.

ABOUT TWO years ago, Ball and Marine opened their own store in Detroit, near Ball's home.

Business has been steady, but Ball and Marine admit theirs is not the most lucrative field. Books sell from $5 to $75 and customers range from individuals to universities to ministries overseas. More than 90 percent of their business is mail order.

Although the demand for theological books is limited, the subject has a seemingly timeless fascination.

"What is the validity of any study of history?" Ball asked. "There is a need in humans to understand themselves."

Marine agreed, adding that theological studies are un-

"You can't study Medieval history without knowing theology," he noted,

It may seem contrary to our Western perspective, but

America just fought a holy war with Iraq, said Ball. "We require students to study American history; we should also have them study Middle Eastern history,"

BIBLICAL STUDIES also help give an insight into civilization's earlier days and make real the events and people that often are mysterious and ancient. And you don't have to be religious to appreciate the study.

fered a biblical and theological lecture series, featuring such topics as "Albert Schweitzer and the Quest for Historical Jesus," "Feminist Biblical Commentaries: 1891-1991" and "The Many Faces of Biblical Text: Multiple Readings of a Bible Story."

The topics may seem obscure, but they are not dull. In fact, one speaker requested a limited attendance to avoid possible conflict.

As Ball says, "We're trying to generate a little theological excitement in this area.

Might isn't really what makes this country great

So you are an American, and so am I, and this is our national birthday? Just what does all of that mean, anyway? The answer will no doubt depend on the American you choose to ask.

There are a number of things which we can celebrate, but most of them will not be the theme of this week's parades. Unfortunately, greatness has come to be defined by what sells with gusto. So much of what really makes us great, so much those who gave us the Declaration of Independence, to challenge the accepted ways for ways of living that will enhance the lives of more people. As in the colonial days, some of these are fidiculed and even jailed, but they continue to speak.

Perhaps our grandchildren will celebrate them. Yesterday's villains have a way of becoming tomorrow's heroes. Yes, they help us to look to the stars as we celebrate our birth.

Some among us have come to a new and refreshing look at the Native American, the red man and red woman who were here before us. Some have even been able to admit to the injustice foisted upon them in the name of our own freedom. The admission of wrong does not destroy greatness. In fact, it is one signpost on the road to greatness.

With the graying of America we are, even if all too slowly, learning to appreciate the contributions of those who have been around the block a few more times than ourselves. History continues to show that those societies that invest in the true welfare of their children and their elderly are the ones that go down as great.

THIS MAY be a dangerous birthday in that the past few months, since the war in the Persian Gulf, we have acted as though it is our might that makes us great. The process seems akin to a parent who has a party to celebrate having disciplined a child. Even when such actions may in the minds of some seem to be necessary, they are hardly appropriate material for party and celebration.

The victory parades are still being marched. The agony of war continues in that part of the world with as much-gusto-as-the accolades we shower upon ourselves in this part of the world. Would it be too far off the mark of patriotism to suggest that we begin to reflect on other things for our greatness and mourn, rather than celebrate, the bombings thought-by-

Drains Run Slow?

The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must emain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel in the gook ets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind. In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

12 PACK 12-OZ. CANS PEPSI COLA.

Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes... and KBEP them clean with Plumb Clean, its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That is what allows it to liquefy even years of bulld-up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, we stand behind Plumb Clean with a money-back guaranteel

Saves Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, it would take over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.

Safe Too. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes. When used as directed, it is 100% safe for poople, and of course, all plumbing.

Couple shapes dream house

By Janice Tigar-Kramer special writer

OU COULD say Rich and Stephanie Skaggs left the past behind three years ago when they built their ranch-style house in Camborne subdivision.

Married 33 years, the Livonia couple decided to sell everything that filled their old house, a ranch they built 27 years ago in Burton Hollow.

"This was the last house we'd build, so I thought, 'Go for it' " said Rich, a government worker for the past 32 years.

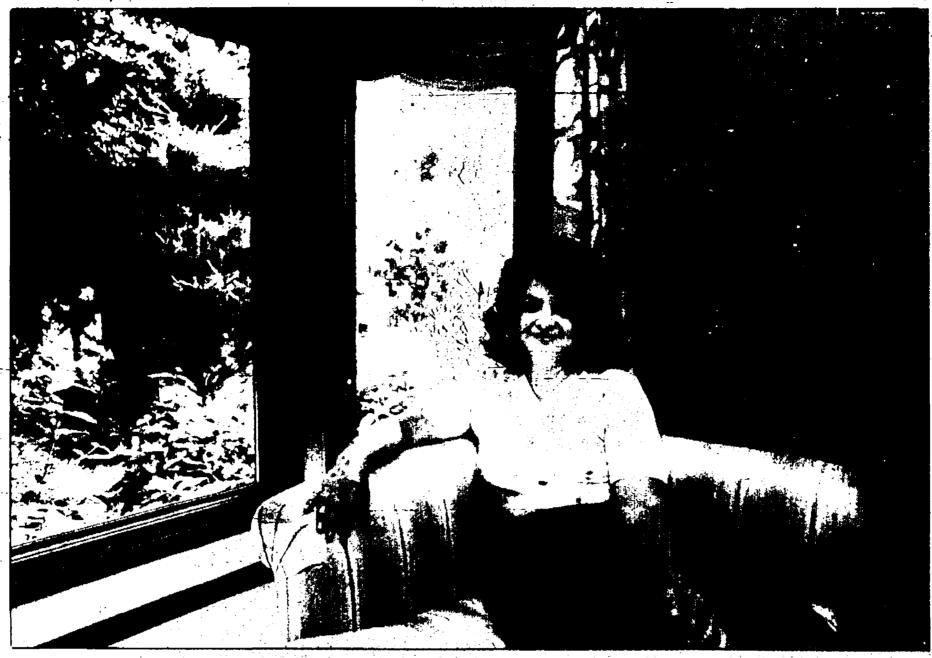

BEING MORE practical. Stephanie had second thoughts, but not before a two-day moving sale nearly emptied their house of everything, including dishes and wastebaskets. They kept only some crystal and collectibles given to them by Stephanle's mother and a bedroom set, which they reused in a spare room.

What we didn't sell we donated," Stephanie said "It was a bold decision."

Moving obviously was easier, but Stephanie, an office manager in Redford Township, then faced the job of selecting furnishings and window treatments for the new, expansive windows overlooking a large, wooded lot.

THOUGH RICH left most of the decision-making to Stephanie, having "carte blanche" doesn't make the job of furnishing a sevenroom house any easier, Stephanie said. We ruled out ultra-modern furniture, but there was still much

Antique quilts, coverlets exhibited

In conjunction with the Farmington/Farmington Hills Founders Festival Civil War Encampment, antique quilts and coverlets will be displayed Friday-Saturday, July 6-7, at the Spicer House in Heritage Park, Farmington Road, north of 10 Mile.

There is no admission charge elther to the park or to the show, "Quilts and Coverlets: 1850-1930." Show hours will be noon to 4 p.m. each day.

Sponsored by the Farmington Hills Historical Commission and the Friends of Heritage Park, the show will feature folk art displays of items our grandparents, and greatgrandparents, used to cover their Co-chairwomen for the event are Barbara McCann of Friends of Heritage Park and Sherrie Stewart of the historical commission.

Among the items on display will be a Barber family basket-pattern quilt of ecru and green, made in Farmington Township circa 1930; a Dove family quilt of spool pattern on an ecru background, dating from the 1890s and quilted in Farmington Township; and a blue-and-white woven coverlet dated 1869 from Florrisant County, Iowa.

ANOTHER UNUSUAL covering is an all-cotton spread made in a Kentucky plantation in 1850 from cotton grown on the grounds then loomed on spinning wheels of the plantation. It was designed and hand-embroidered by the daughter of the household. Each of the four corners; conlaining cut work, are embroidered with a different design.

Also displayed will be a "crazy quilt" with patches of velvets and satins, made from party dresses of girls in southern Indiana with elaborate embroidery stitches.

This quilt is comparable to one hanging in the Mellon National Gallery of Art in Washington.

The quilt was sewn circa 1885 by girlhood friends of the bride. It was given as a wedding present.

"This show is a gift of the Friends of Heritage Park and the historical commission to the community in celebration of our American heritage on the Fourth of July weekend," Sherrie Stewart said.

Redford author unveils newest children's novel

Redford Township author Jessica Hatchigan manages to stay busy,

"Dinosaurs Aren't Forever," her fourth book in six years and second novel for readers 8-12, is out this month from Avon Camelot.

A previous novel for intermediate readers, "Count Dracula, Me and Norma D.," was published four years ago. Fans will be glad to hear "Dinosaurs Aren't Forever" marks the return of the inimitable Molly Harter, the resourceful heroine of that highly popular story.

Before writing novels for readers 8-12, Hatchigan established her popularity with young adult readers, with the 1985 publication of "Meadow Wind," a Silhouette teen romance candidly informed Hatchigan, after partially set on the grounds of Henry Ford's Fair Lane estate. A year later, Silhouette brought out "Free Spirit" and "A Dash of Pepper."

Effective cropping may enhance photos

Years ago, I remember seeing a mattress tag that spelled out in no uncertain terms, "do not remove under penalty of law,"

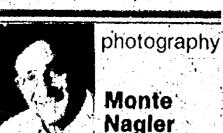

How ridiculous, I thought, yet I bet there are people who wouldn't think of snipping off that sacred tag.

In numerous photography judgings and critiques over the years, I've noticed a similar reverence. That is, people hesitate altering the size of their finished prints and slides.

They feel either they can't cut down that 8 by 10 enlargement or they're not aware of the improvements that can be made by slight

Yes, cropping your photograph when needed can dramatically improve the impact and strength of your final image,

I've seen many a gorgeous, wellcomposed and well-executed print that suffers, for example; only from that distracting bright patch of sky in the upper corner. Cropping just a half inch or so off the top of the shot, eliminating the "hot spot," will make a noticeable improvement in your shot.

HOW ABOUT your special sunset picture that has just too much sky and too much foreground? Cropping some off top and bottom will produce a much more striking panorama sunset. Or your favorite zoo shot of the giraffe stretching his neck upward to teach the berries on the branch. Worldn't a vertical crop en-hance this pleture? You bet.

A cropped print may preclude you from using pre-cut mats available in many stores. But for just a couple dollars more, any frame shop can custom tailor mats to your cropped

Slides can be cropped, too. In fact, a slide presentation can be made much more interesting by cropping some of the images for greater variety of size slides. Your local photo dealer stocks Gepe brand slide mounts, easy to assemble and available in many pre-cropped shapes.

In discussing cropping, I am not? suggesting photographing the whole scene and then deciding later what. parts to crop out. I believe in cropping through the camera to obtain the best possible negative or slide. Then, if necessary, crop to enhance your .. photograph/

Cropping can dramatically improve your pictures. Just think, if you begin to crop your photographs, you might just trim off that mattress

German stein loses value without pewter lid

Copley News Service

The missing lid diminishes the value of this stein.

Q: This stein is marked with a picture of a castle and "Mettlach VB." Under that mark is the number 2122.

Could you please let me know if it has any value? I have been curious about if for a long time.

·A: Your stein was made in Mettlach, Germany, by Villeroy & Boch during the late 1800s. Originally, it had a pewter lld with a porcelain insert.

In its original condition, it would be worth about $3,500. It's impossible to assess the diminished value due to the missing lid; you are at the mercy of any potential buyer.

Q: My doll looks just like a newborn baby and has the attached mark on her back. Can you tell me anything about who made her and If she is valuable?

A: "Baby Betty" was a trademark used by the Butler Bros. on dolls_manufactured by Armand Marsellles in Koppelsdorf, Germany. The first Baby Bettys were imported in 1912.

In good condition, your doll. would cost $500 to $600.

A: I have read that old Coca-Cola trays marked "Vienna Art Plates" were worth several hundred dollars. What about similar trays not marked Coca-Cola?

A: The Coca-Cola trays sell for $400 or $500 and the trays without that logo sell for about one-tenth as much.

Such is the power of fame!

Q: We discovered a bound volume of Harper's Weekly (January to June 1863) in the attic of an old home we acquired.

It is in good condition except' that it is dried out and the pages are brittle. There are pictures and articles about the Civil War.

I am sure that this is valuable. What can you tell me about it?

A: Your bound Harper's Weekly is worth about $250 to $350 because of the Civil War material. That's about twice the value of a similar bound volume published before or after the Civil War.

Q: Can you tell my anything about a hand-painted hat-pin holder that is marked Nippon?

It is decorated with lilacs against a pale green background and trimmed with gold. It is 3 inches in diameter and 51/2 inches tall.

A: Nippon is the phonetic Japanese word for Japan. Your hat-pin holder was made between 100 and 1920; it would probably sell for about $75 to $85.

Q: Are old Sarsaparilla bottles collectible? I have a Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla bottle (Albany, N.Y.). It is green, 9 inches tall and

When was this made and how much is it worth?

A: Sarsaparilla bottles are very popular with collectors. Your bottle was made in the mid-19th century and would sell for $75 to $85.

Other Dr. Townsend bottles sell for as much as $100.

Q: Can you tell me anything about a deck of playing cards promoting Coca-Cola? The backs have a picture of a girl swimming in a pool, . A: The cards you describe were distributed in 1959. One deck in mint condition would probably sell for $50 to $60.

um has reduced its hours. It will now be open between 1 and 5 p.m., Wednesday through Sunday, and closed on Monday and Tuesday.

"The reduction in museum hours and review of staff positions are due to the elimination and withdrawal of state arts funding.

"The museum admissions, exhibitions, outreach and public programs are under review, dependent upon the final decision in regard to state arts funding.

"Unfortunately, the Design Michigan program already has been eliminated with great loss to the economy and environment of the state of Michigan," said Roy Slade, president of the academy and director of the Bloomfield Hills museum.

"The threatened reduction or elimination of state arts funding will have further adverse effects upon the museum's ability to serve its public and the state of Michigan."

During the summer months, Greg Wittkopp, curator of collections; will be the senior staff member, working with Slade, in reviewing and reorganizing staff responsibilities and positions.

AMERICANA ART

Americana artist David McCall Johnston of Farmington Hills will display his opaque watercolor paintings in the main gallery of the Scarab Club, 217 Farnsworth, Detroit (behind the Detroit Institute of Arts), July 17-22....

Hours are 11: a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday and 2-6 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free. The show, called "Spirit of America," includes about 40 prints and original watercolors, including a print of his Mount Rushmore painting, which was commissioned for the monument's golden anniversary celebration in Rapid City, S.D., for the Fourth of July.

Mount Rushmore prints will be available at the gallery for $175, with proceeds donated to the Mount Rushmore Preservation Fund.

• WEAVERS SALE

The Mill Race Weavers Guild will sell handwoven items at its Fourth of July sale at Gothic cottage in Mill Race Village, Northville.

The sale will take place from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Thursday, July 4. Admission is free.

The Mill Race Weavers Gulld was established in 1974 and has 30 members. It meets on the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. at Gothic cottage in Mill Race Village.

BOOK SIGNING

Detroit Tigers Hall of Fame broadcaster Ernle Harwell of Farmington Hills will sign copies of his new book, "Ernie Harwell's Diamond Gems," 7-8:30 p.m. Saturday, July 13, at Coopersmith's bookstore at Laurel Park Place, Six Mile and Newburgh, Liyonia.

• RICKERBY PHOTOS

Great moments in recent U.S. history are among the images captured in an exhibit at the Detroit Historical Museum highlighting the work of UPI and Life photographer Arthur B. Rickerby. Titled "The Photographs of Arthur B. Rickerby, the UPI and Life Years, 1941-71," the exhibit will run from July 17 through January.

The 70-piece collection is a nationally traveling exhibition coming directly from the Smithsonian Institution in Washington. It's the first time a retrospective of Rickerby's works are being shown to a national audience.

Some of the photos feature well-known Detroit celebrities and locations, including Alex Karras, Lem-Barney and the Ford Motor Co. Proving Grounds. The photographs also depict significant moments in U. S. history, such as the Japanese surrender aboard the USS Missouri in 1945 and the day President John Kennedy was assassinated in Dallas.

The Detroit Historical Museum is open 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Wednesday through Sunday. It's at 5401 Woodward at Kirby in the University Cultural Center. The exhibit is sponsored by Aetna Life and Casualty.

Buyers spurn options in favor of fixed rate mortgages

By Doug Funke staff writer

Fixed rate mortgages are the financing today's home buyer is seeking, according to a survey of the largest mortgagors serving subur-.

Rates are still well below 10 percent at most institutions.

"You just can't get away from the 30-year mortgage and that old, traditional fixed rate," said Al Marshall, vice president and manager of business development for First Federal of Michigan.

Condo plagued by smoke problems

My husband and I bought a ranch-style condominium. The developer's claim that the units were soundproof proved false. There is a ranch behind us occupied by smokers. When we open our lower cupboards, we smell their smoke.' We can also smell it in one end of the basement.

It would appear that the soundproof issue probably involves a common element for which the association may be responsible, depending on the master deed and other condominium documents. If the association is responsible, the members of the association should make it clear to the board that they expect it to discharge its fiduciary responsibilities to assure that all defects and deficiencies attributable to the developer are pursued.

To the extent that the township was remiss in investigating this unit, it may be relieved of responsibility under governmental Immunity. But the association should elicit the support of the township to put whatever pressure it can upon the developer to remedy the various defects and deficiencles at the site. If the board is unwilling or unable to deal with the problem in an effective fashion and has not documented the fact that the sound conditioning or soundproof problem is not a responsibility of the developer, the co-owners should band together and deal with the board though political or legal redress.

"Fifteen- and 30-year fixed rate mortgage loans are still our bread and butter," said Michael Lubig, vice president and manager of the residential loan department for Standard Federal Bank.

Standard Federal, which issued $1 billion in mortgages in 1990, will be close to $800 million through June of this year, he said. "It will be a record year."

Three of the biggest mortgage. lenders, Standard Federal, Comerica and First Federal, last week offered identical rates for fixed mortgages 914 percent for 15 years, 95% for Standard Federal offered an adjustable rate mortgage at 6% percent initially, First Federal and Comerica, 7 percent.

"RATES, FEES and terms are basically all the same. What you're shopping is service," Lubig said.

About 35 percent of the nearly 5,000 mortgages processed by First Federal this year have been written for 30 years, Marshall said. Another 20 percent of the mortgages have been for 15 years fixed.

Business in ARMs is slow across the board.

The shorter the mortgage commitment, the more favorable the rate. First Federal, for instance, offers fixed rates ranging from 9% for 30 years to 9 percent for 10 years - all with 20 percent down, 2 points (a loan origination fee equal to 2 percent of the amount borrowed) and a $250 application fee.

You don't want to pay two points? Simple enough. Just add 1/4 percent to the rate for any time frame you riod, the higher the payment. To, illustrate, the monthly payment on a 30-year mortgage of $65,000 at 9%, en years, with a balloon payment percent is $558 compared to $689 for the same amount and rate over 15

"The shorter-term loans are becoming much more popular," Marshall said. "If you can afford it, you want 15 years. You pay a hell of a lot less interest.

The difference is nearly $79,000 between a $65,000 mortgage for 15 years at 914 and 30 years at 9%, he

But remember - home mortgage interest is probably the largest deduction for most taxpayers who own

THE 15-YEAR fixed mortgage and the 7-23 balloon - fixed for sevdue at that time, amortized over 30 years at 91/2 percent - are most in demand by Comerica customers, he Different mortgages are better for different living situations. That's why so many options are available.

Ask questions, lenders advise. How long do you expect to stay in the house? What's more important - to own a house free and clear or the mortgage interest deduction? Do you have the temperament to gamble on an adjustable rate?

Do the math or have someone do it

"Each person is different," Krels said. "They should seek competent financial advice. If they don't have a plan, they should have one now.'

Best financing varies with customer

AP— Home buyers who do their homework can get a mortgage suited to their circumstances and save thousands of dollars in interest payments. Here's a few tips from Changing Times magazines:

• 30-Year fixed rate mortgages. With low interest rates, these are the best loans for home buyers who plan to be in the house more than five to seven years and who want the assurance of level payments.

 A 1 percentage point increase on a $100,000 mortgage will cost you roughly $26,600 over 30 years.

• 15 year fixed-rate loans. You pay off this variation on the 30-year fixed-rate mortgage in half the time. Payments are only 15 to 25 percent higher than on a 30-year loan, partly because the principal decreases more quickly and partly because rates are slightly lower.

usual time may not be a good idea, depending on your tax situation. on the shorter-term mortgage could earn more than the after-tax cost of the loan if you invested elsewhere.

• Adjustable rate mortgages. With variable-rate loans, the interest rate, and your payments, rise or fall' based on the movements of a specific index. The most common ARMs Paying off a mortgage in half the are linked to the average yield on Treasury securities. Others use a weekly average of rates on six-Mortgage interest is tax-deductible, month certificates of deposit (CDmaking it one of your cheapest: based ARMs) or the average cost of sources of borrowed money. Ask funds for the Federal Home Loan yourself whether the extra you pay Bank's 11th District bank in San

Changes in the rate, which can be monthly, semiannual, yearly or at three or five-year intervals, are based on the index rate plus a margin of 1 to 3 percentage points. Increases are typically capped at 2 percentage points a year and 5 or 6 points for the life of the loan.

During the past decade, total interest charges on ARMs have typically been lower than those for fixed-rate loans. And their low firstyear "teaser" rates helped buyers who couldn't make larger payments

MAKE THE MOVE NOW!

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- · The selection is excellent.
- · Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move. Now is the right time to buy a home.

NOW is the right time to Buy a Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- · 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- · First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solidfinancial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise investment.
- Equity in your home can be used as collateral; thus providing you with additional financial security.
- Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

Lumber prices are approaching record highs, which will most likely affect the price of new houses.

Bull market hurts real estate firms now

- Estimates of overbuilding in commercial real estate markets range from one year to nearly 10 years, which is a way of saying that in real estate the inventories are unlike those in any other business.

In the automobile industry, a three-months supply might be considered a tough obstacle to overcome, even with rebates, discounts and below-market financing. Still, the time frame is in months, not

But in commercial real estate, the level of inventories and the problem of overleveraging aren't the biggest obstacles to recovery, according to a man who bought and sold hundreds of millions of dollars of buildings.

As big a problem as inventories and overleveraging, says Allen Cymrot, is the poor caliber of some companies trying to market these structures. He asks if they won't compound rather than solve real estate's

"If you solve the problems affecting real estate and still have inefficient real estate companies, it's only a matter of time until the real estate becomes a problem again," says Cymrot, now a real estate strategist.

Early in his career, Cymrot pre-'sided over one of the world's largest real estate companies and was chairman of the National Multi-Housing Council, an owners' organization. Now he advises companies on reducing those inventories.

HE ISN'T COMPLETELY pleased with what he sees, which is a lot of companies that developed their businesses during one of the industry's great bull markets and who haven't the slightest notion of marketing in a weak economy.

"Historically, bull markets have been very poor training grounds for development of sound business principles," says Cymrot. He observes that there is now a proliferation of companies without the needed skills. Cymrot says he heard recently from an executive of a major residential developer who said that for the first time in his company's history they had to reduce the price of their product. "The logical conclusion to that statement is that the company had built its entire operation on a contin-uing bull market," said Cymrot. "His is not an exclusive experience; that methodology was pervasive for

Real estate companies that were founded and grew during this period, he said, practiced techniques that not only are of little value now but are outright impediments to their survival or growth.

Among them: leveraging to the hilt, a practice now dangerous if possible; parrow break-even margins; growth by marketing rather than by superior product; operating with minimal capital; and reliance on joint ventures.

Cymrot gradually removed himself from full-time real estate management in the mid-1980s, convinced that tax law changes would eliminate advantages that the industry relied upon. He formed his own firm, consulted-from offices in Los Altos Hills, Calif., and wrote a book, "Street Smart Real-Estate Invest-

In the future, he said back then, owners would need to operate real estate properties no differently than other businesses. They couldn't simply rely on inflation and tax benefits; they'd have to learn bottom-line effi-

SOME DID, most did not. As a result, he says, real estate companies exist today that cannot provide a clear description of their product, perhaps the most fundamental requirement of any business.

River Pines Condominiums presents the ALL NEW PLANS for 1991

"Without a clear understanding of what a company's product is there can be no business," he says. Without a clear understanding of the product - its need, value, acceptability and function - there can be no philoso-

In business, says Cymrot, philosophy covers everything, including office decorations, dress code, appearance of brochures and sales material, profile of clients, type of products, product statements. The philosophy will be reflected "in the image it projects to vendors, clients, prospects and community."

· Once product and philosophy aredefined, he says, the next step is to develop is a business plan, or summary of everything that a business hopes to accomplish during a period

After that comes a marketing plan, and then a budget, or a money plan.

Those are characteristics of all sound companies, but they are absent in many of the real estate companies that grew up during the days when you could sell almost anything at a profit and take a tax deduction

Those days are gone. Ahead is a mountain of product that nobody seems to want at any price and, says Cymrot, it will take business methods to move it.

Lumber prices worry builders

AP - Lumber prices have smashed through the roof since February, and consumers may soon pay more for new homes.

Prices are at record levels, said Burrle Elmore, editor of Random Lengths, a Eugene, Ore., timber industry newsletter.

A price index devised by Random-Lengths is 58 percent more expensive than it was in February, when costs were at their lowest level this Elmore said he has seen evidence prices for some lumber items may be coming down. But other commodities have not budged. As a result, many lumberyards are not buying, he said.

The reasons for higher prices are rooted in soft lumber prices last winter that forced many American mills to cut back their production.

At the same time, the looming Persian Gulf War prompted lumber distributors to slash their inventories to the bone, Elmore said.

LUMBER SUPPLIES were drying up at the same time the annual spring upsurge in home construction was beginning And Pacific Coast mills kept production low in anticlpation of shrinking timber supplies as a result of the endangered spotted: owl, he said.

The result: "We went from some very low prices during the winter to some record levels right now," he

The Random Lengths price index was at $197 per thousand board feet of lumber on Feb. 1. Today the figure is $311. The previous high was $300 in August 1979.

A lumber bill for a $68,000 home was $6,000 about four months ago. Today, it is closer to $7,000.

Young projects in architecture the built environment. As a result, the spaces designed for clients of Young & Young continue beyond a box-like definition and become more a part of the surroundings.

This is often achieved by allowing a house to expand beyond circumscription. Rooflines sometimes extend beyond more realistic limits necessitating the use of steel for reinforcement. Walls are often dissolved with the generous use of glass. Large overhanging eaves and projecting walls make the dwelling integral with the site. These design elements can be seen in three Young & Young houses.

A Harbor Springs house on Lake Michigan uses indigenous cedar trim on the roofline as it dramatically extends into the landscape. Another, on Gilbert Lake in Bloomfield Township, totally allows for fessor of architectural history exterior-interior integration with glass window walls. In a Bloomfiled Hills house, the exterior supporting walls step down into the surrounding landscape making the structure visually interact with the environment and also serving to physically anchor it to the site.

The house won an M award for

Other work by the Young team includes clustered condominium communities in Hilton Head, Ga., and Charolotte, N.C., and a proposed motor mall in the Detroit downriver community.
