Charge dropped in traffic death

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Regina Borders started her senior year at Wayne Memorial High School fearing she could be jailed for her friend's death.

"She was really scared," said her mother, who asked that her name not be used.

But the Westland girl, 17, began putting her life back together Thursday after she was cleared of a negligent homicide charge in the death of 17-year-old Jennifer Lynn Cooley, who died Aug. 15 when she fell from a van Borders was driving.

Borders wept outside an 18th district courtroom Thursday after Judge Thomas Smith dismissed the charge during a preliminary examination.

"She just couldn't believe it. She was glad it was all over," her mother said. "She just started crying."

In dropping the charge, Smith acted on a recommendation from assistant Wayne County prosecutor Charles Grant, who said there wasn't enough evidence of criminal intent against Borders.

Borders was charged after Cooley, a Romulus teen, fell from the sliding door of a van that had been left open as the girls — accompanied by two other friends — were riding on Grand Traverse after an evening of shopping.

Borders told her mother she warned her friends to close the door, shortly before Cooley fell to her death. Borders has said she was afraid to stop the vehicle because she feared for their safety in the Norwayne neighborhood, in West-

'This had me scared to death. Gina had never been in any trouble and had never been one to be wild.'

— Regina Borders' mother

land's south end.

After brief testimony Thursday, Grant made a motion that Smith dismiss the case. In an earlier interview with the Observer, the prosecutor's office had indicated the case was weak.

Borders had told her mother that Cooley — had she been alive — wouldn't have testified against her.

"SHE JUST wished that girl could come back long enough to tell them what happened," Borders' mother said.

Others in the van still remain confused about how Cooley fell out, Westland police have said. The girls had not been drinking alcohol, police said.

"I'm just relieved that it's over," Borders' mother said Friday. "This had me scared to death. Gina had never been in any trouble and had never been one to be wild. She didn't have a (criminal) record or anything."

Though starting her senior year at Wayne Memorial had been agonizing for Borders, her mother said that her friends have shown compassion for her.

Cooley fell from the van as Borders drove east on Grand Traverse, near Centerville, about 9:30 p.m. Aug. 15. Cooley would have been a senior this year at Romulus High School.

COOLEY, an honor roll student and band member, has been described by her friends as a sometimes-quiet girl who liked all types of music and was fun to be around.

Borders has told her mother she will never drive another vehicle unless passengers obey her. The lesson has been a tough one, her mother said.

Trial is ordered in home break-ins

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

An 18-year-old man charged in a series of break-ins at residences in Westland and Livonia will stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

David Corey Clos, a Westland native, was ordered to stand trial after he waived a preliminary examination Thursday in Westland's 18th District Court. He has pleaded not guilty.

If convicted, he faces up to 15 years in prison for three charges of breaking and entering in Westland.

After Thursday's exam, Clos was turned over to Livonia police on a fourth charge of breaking and entering. A plea of not guilty was entered on his behalf during an arraignment Thursday in 16th District Court.

Clos remains in the county jail on a $50,000 cash bond, according to Livonia police.

The latest charges came about two months after Clos fled a halfway house where he had been serving time for previous offenses. He was captured Aug. 24 in Livonia and turned over to Westland police.

POLICE HAVE questioned Clos about a string of 35 break-ins in Westland, Livonia and Redford Township, though he has been charged with only four counts thus far.

Police in the three communities have reported a series of break-ins in a six-week period prior to Clos' arrest. The break-ins occurred at night and indicated a pattern that pointed to a single suspect, Westland police have said.

In Westland, the break-ins occurred in an area bounded by Joy, Warren, Merriman and Middlebelt roads. In each incident, police said entry was made through an unlocked window and occurred while residents were at home.

Manager accused of embezzlement

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

A Westland business manager who said he had been abducted and robbed at knifepoint has been charged with embezzling from a Westland Center video arcade.

Ted Daniel Gainer, 29, of Garden City was arrested and charged Tuesday with one felony count of embezzling money from the Pocket Change arcade. He has pleaded not guilty in Westland's 18th District Court.

Judge Gail McKnight set a preliminary examination for Thursday to determine whether Gainer should stand trial on the charge. If convicted, he could face up to 10 years in prison. Gainer remains in the county jail on a $10,000 bond.

If convicted, Gainer could face up to 10 years in prison. Gainer remains in the county jail on a $10,000 bond.

POLICE BEGAN investigating Gainer's statements about the alleged robbery and abduction after Gainer — his hands rope-tied behind his back and his left shoulder cut — walked to a house on Dixboro Road near Ypsilanti and sought help, saying he had been attacked, Westland police Sgt. Stephen Ryskamp said.

After Michigan State Police were summoned, Gainer told them that he had been abducted by two males as he tried to make a bank deposit earlier that day, after he had left the arcade, Ryskamp said.

HE TOLD POLICE his abductors drove him to Washtenaw County and robbed him at knifepoint. Later Gainer told state police Detective Sgt. Scott Kelley he had not been abducted, Ryskamp said. A younger male who police believe assisted Gainer has not been charged as an accessory.

Westland police and State Police later searched Gainer's brother's Garden City residence and found $5,200, which has since been returned to the Pocket Change arcade, Ryskamp said.

After police arrested Gainer, they later learned that a warrant for his arrest had been issued in Oscoda County, where he also faces one felony charge of embezzlement.

First phase School district submits Cooper cleanup plan to DNR

By Marie Chestney
staff writer

Livonia Public Schools officials expect the Michigan Department of Natural Resources will change the initial Cooper school cleanup work plan.

The plan has been submitted by the district, as required, to the DNR. "They'll go through it with a fine-tooth comb," said Art Howell, director of operations. "It's customary that they'll suggest some changes."

The work plan, put together by Clayton Environmental Consultants of Novi, spells out the steps the district will take in the first phase of the cleanup of the 43 acres on which Cooper Elementary was built.

THE FIRST phase only involves investigation of the site.

The actual cleanup plan comes much later and will depend to a large degree on the kind of toxic contamination found during the investigation.

Cooper school was built atop a landfill near Ann Arbor Trail in Westland in 1962. Soil tests previously done on the site show levels of PCBs, lead, cadmium, mercury, arsenic, DDT and cyanide.

Cooper school will stay closed until the site is cleaned up. Its students now attend Whittier school, a former junior high school across the street from Cooper.

DNR officials will analyze the work plan, change it, approve it and send it back to the district by the end of the month, Howell said.

Once it's approved, the district will hire companies to do the work contained in the 21-page work plan, Howell said.

How long the investigation will take depends on how much can be done during the winter months, when the ground freezes, Howell said.

PHASE I of the work plan calls for 16 soil borings to be drilled to a depth of 40 feet.

More borings made be drilled in Phase II of the investigation, Howell said.

Sometime next week, an eight-foot chain-link fence will go up around the entire Cooper school grounds.

Sign of times: political posters coming down

By Leonard Poger
Editor

If there are fewer political campaign signs close to the road, there is a reason.

Mayor Robert Thomas disclosed last week that he is cracking down on campaign signs illegally erected within the road right-of-way by having city employees collect them and throw them in a dumpster.

In past years, he said, illegally located signs were collected and returned to the candidates.

As of last Thursday, 63 signs have been picked up and destroyed, said Carl Clark, superintendent of the city's water and sewer division, part of the public services department.

The worst offender, he said, is city council challenger Donald Mead with 14 signs disposed of, followed by council president Thomas Brown with 11.

Other are Glenn Anderson and Thomas Artley, nine each; David Cox and William Ziembra, five each; Dorothy Smith, two; Sharon Scott, three; and Charles Pickering, one.

Clark noted that the signs placed within road right-of-ways may not be the fault of the candidates, but of campaign workers.

THE MAYOR said that signs clearly within the right-of-way are those between the sidewalk and road. If there is any doubt of the signs' legality, the DPS has been directed to avoid removing them.

Thomas, a former DPS worker before elected mayor nearly two years ago, admitted that when he was in the public services department illegally-located signs were stored in the rear of the DPS building. Some signs were eventually thrown out.

The mayor said the 10 city council candidates on Tuesday's primary ballot were notified by the city clerk's office of the ordinance which prohibits signs within road right-of-way.

While signs have been removed in past election years, this is the first time, Thomas said, that the signs are being destroyed instead of being stored so candidates can retrieve them.

People complained about the signs being too close to the road because they created a traffic problem, Thomas said. Those persons reported that they couldn't see around corners and observe vehicles.

He said the signs are being destroyed instead of stored and retained for the candidates because without that action "there would be no incentive" for the candidates to keep the signs outside the right-of-ways.

Thomas is insisting that he is having the ordinance enforced "equally across the board."

He added that his administration after the primary will enforce another ordinance provision involving campaign signs: that the signs have to be removed no later than 14 days after the election.

That means the two candidates who fall to be nominated Tuesday will have to take down their signs two weeks after the primary. The eight who are nominated will be allowed to retain their signs.

Thomas said he has received only two complaints about the sign removals: from Ziembra and Andrew Spisak, mayoral assistant for Thomas' predecessor and now a Westland district court officer (see related story).

Charges could stem from Spisak dispute

'Someone else who complained (about removal of yard signs) would not have been prosecuted.'

— Andrew Spisak

To city official Carl Clark, he was bumped several times by Andrew Spisak's stomach in a dispute over removal of campaign signs from Spisak's front yard.

Clark later reported the incident as an assault to the Westland police department, which is expected to complete its investigation late this week.

To Spisak, he doesn't recall any physical contact with the city water and sewer division superintendent on Friday, Aug. 30, but admitted there were a few minutes of arguing.

The incident, which took place in the city public services department building on Marquette east of Newburgh, reportedly was triggered by Spisak getting angry when DPS workers removed political yard signs on his front yard on Harvey St.

The city administration has been cracking down on campaign signs which are placed illegally within road right-of-way.

Spisak, a Wayne-Westland school board member and court officer in the 18th district court and a former Westland mayoral assistant and police officer, insisted there is no clear indication of the right-of-way in front of his home since his front yard "goes right to the shoulder of the road."

SPISAK ADMITTED that he may be singled out by the city administration for the police investigation. He was the assistant for Mayor Charles Griffin, defeated by Robert Thomas nearly two years ago.

"Someone else who complained (about removal of yard signs) would not have been prosecuted," he said.

In a separate interview, Mayor Thomas said the signs are being removed and destroyed without favoritism.

The signs removed from Spisak's front yard were promoting the candidacies of council president Thomas Brown and challenger David Cox.

Officer Michael Terry told the Observer Thursday that the investigation, which will include the interviewing of several DPS employees who witnessed the incident, should be completed in about a week.

It will be up to the Wayne County prosecutor's office to recommend a warrant.

Westland man faces trial in area break-ins

A typical break-in included the taking of a woman's purse that was later discarded in a garbage can or bushes, after money was removed.

Clos had spent six months in a "boot camp" program for previous breaking and entering charges, and had been released to a halfway house when he walked away two months ago, violating his probation, Westland police have said.

A typical break-in included the taking of a woman's purse that was later discarded in a garbage can or bushes, after money was removed.

Cleanup plan submitted

The work plan includes the following:

- A health and safety plan to ensure a safe environment for area residents and students during the investigation.

- Mapping of the site's surface to show animal burrows, footpaths, Rouge River floodplain areas and utilities. Contamination has been found in soil brought to the surface by small animals.

- Reviewing old aerial photos.

- Reviewing meteorological data related to flooding of the site.

- Collecting and analyzing surface water, leachate and Rouge water samples.

- Monitoring outdoor air.
- Analyzing soil samples for pesticides, cyanide and heavy metals.

Investigators expect to learn the history of the site, its geology and hydrogeology and the amount and kind of contaminants contained in the soil.

The results of the initial investigation will determine whether the site needs to be investigated further.

Scholarship pageant seeks entrants

Contestants are wanted for the 25th annual Wayne-Westland Young Woman of the Year program, formerly known as the Junior Miss program.

Wednesday, Sept. 18, is the deadline for high school seniors to apply for the prizes of $2,000 in cash college scholarships.

Entry forms are available at the offices of Wayne Memorial, John Glenn, Churchill, Franklin and Westland Lutheran high schools, said Tony Rosati, program spokesman.

The program will be the night of Saturday, Nov. 9, in the Norman Stockmeyer auditorium at Wayne Memorial High.

THE COMMITTEE is still looking for four former Junior Miss winners to take part in this fall's program, Rosati said.

The four are Linda Wagner, Jennifer Lozano Stewart, Marsha Ring Vafo and Andrea Cooney. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of any of those four may call Rosati at 729-1779.

In the fall program, contestants will be judged on scholastic achievement, physical fitness, talent, poise/appearance and an evaluation after an interview by a panel of judges.

Eligible are seniors who either live in Westland or Wayne or attend a high school in one of the two cities. There is no entry fee, Rosati said.

Hospital offers ACLS certification

A prep course in Advanced Cardiac Life Support will be offered in October and November by St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

The course is designed to prepare nurses for completion of the ACLS certification course. The class will provide a review of the management of a patient in cardiac emergency.

The six-week course will be from 1-3 p.m. or 4:15-6:15 p.m. Thursdays, Oct. 3 through Nov. 7.

Preregistration is required by Sept. 25. The fee is $45 per person. For information or to register, call 464-4800, Ext. 2313.

Hopefuls vary on tax hike for city library

By Darrell Clem
 staff writer

This is the last in a series of stories about issues in Tuesday's City Council primary.

Most candidates in the Westland City Council primary agree that Westland needs a new library, but not all support higher taxes to pay for it.

Despite concerns that the city has outgrown the current Wayne-Westland library, voters have rejected earlier efforts to pass a tax increase for improved library services.

Many disappointed residents have turned to libraries in other cities, such as Livonia, Garden City and Canton Township, in a move that has forced the Westland City Council to provide financial support for those libraries.

Though the state earlier agreed to provide $2 million for a new library, questions remained about finding additional money to furnish and operate it. Moreover, construction costs could exceed the amount of state aid.

The library controversy has loomed for years, and the latest proposal has centered on possibly building a new Wayne-Westland district library that would be governed by its own board of directors.

Amid the ongoing library debate, the Observer decided to ask the 10 city council candidates whether they would support a new library and a tax increase to help pay for it. Candidates include incumbents Thomas Brown, Thomas Arley and Charles Pickering, former council member William Ziembra, and council hopefuls David Cox, Don Mead, Bhagwan Dashaarya, Glenn Anderson, Dorothy Smith and Sharon Scott.

EIGHT CANDIDATES will be chosen in Tuesday's primary, during which citizens may vote from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. The eight finalists will square off in the Nov. 5 general election for four council seats.

Among the strongest library critics is Smith, who said services provided by the current Wayne-Westland library and surrounding communities are adequate.

"We don't need a new library — not if we're going to be taxed," she said. "Anything that calls for a tax increase, just put me down for an automatic no."

By contrast, Mead said he is in "total favor" of a new library to serve the community and schoolchildren.

"I think it's time has come," Mead said, adding later that he would support a tax increase.

Dashaarya said he does not necessarily oppose a new library, but he would not ask for higher taxes to pay for it. If a new library were built, Dashaarya said other sources of financing should be sought.

Ziembra supports a library, but he said the council should not initiate a proposed tax increase because voters have twice rejected such plans. Ziembra said he would support higher taxes only if it came in the form of a petition drive and referendum demand from local citizens.

SCOTT SAID she strongly supports a new library, though she added that other ways of funding, instead of a tax increase, should be sought.

"I've always thought it's a crying shame for a city of this size to not have a library," Scott said.

Brown said he supports a library, "but I'm not saying that I would vote for a millage (increase) to fund it."

Like some other candidates, Brown said any tax increase should be the result of public demand, though he would rather find money already in the city budget to operate a library.

Arley agreed, and he added that money currently paid for library services in Livonia, Garden City and Canton Township also could be better spent in helping to pay for operating a new Westland library.

Anderson favors a new library, but, barring a citizens-initiated referendum, he wouldn't support a tax increase because "taxpayers have stated emphatically that they're not willing to pay for it."

Anderson said taxes now used to support the current Wayne-Westland library could be diverted to a new library.

PICKERING, TOO, said citizens would have to speak out for a tax increase for library operations, but he does support the concept of a new Wayne-Westland district library with its own governing board. He also said the city council could pay about $500,000 to buy initial supplies for the library.

Cox favors a library, but he said trying to impose a higher tax would be improper unless citizens rally behind the effort.

"I would not be behind a (tax increase proposal)," he said. "It wouldn't come from me on the council."

Brother reports Ruby memorabilia missing

By Ralph Echlinaw
staff writer

West Bloomfield resident Earl Ruby was more chagrined than most people would be to discover that a suitcase containing telegrams signed by his brother had been stolen. But then most people's brother didn't shoot Lee Harvey Oswald, the assassin of President John Kennedy, as Earl's brother Jack did in 1963. Earl is offering a $1,000 reward, no questions asked, for the return of the suitcase. Its contents include the telegrams of congratulations Jack received after shooting Oswald, his dog tags, personal checks and contracts for entertainers who worked at Jack's nightclub in Dallas, Texas.

Earl said signature dealers all over the country have been notified of the theft, making it almost impossible for the thief to sell the memorabilia.

The conspiracy theory about the Kennedy assassination, at least where Jack is concerned, is rubbish, as far as Earl is concerned. He said Jack crossed paths with Oswald purely by chance and shot him on impulse. "(Jack) loved Kennedy," Earl said.

Sing along with Sweet Adelines at open house

Winter may be on the horizon but for those who like to sing it always is spring.

At 7 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 1, in the VFW Hall on I-96 just east of Inkster Road in Redford Township, Spirit of Detroit Chapter of Sweet Adelines International will be looking for new members and is inviting women who like to sing four-part harmony barbershop style to an open house.

It's not necessary to be able to read music; just be able to carry a tune and you'll be whisked away by our sister Sweet Adelines to hours of music and camaraderie.

Spirit of Detroit consists of 80 women from 41 communities in and around Detroit.

Sweet Adelines was founded in 1943 and there now are 634 chapters in 12 different countries.

Choruses are busy year-round, performing a variety of old, new and contemporary music for public and private functions.

Yearly competition is held in 27 regions with the winners in each region going on to international competition. Spirit of Detroit will represent its region at the 1992 international competition in Baltimore, Md.

During the open house on Oct. 1, newcomers will be entertained by the 80-women chorus and refreshments will be served.

Reservations are not essential, but women interested in attending may call 861-0417 or 534-4488 for more information.

The average dog can expect to live 12 years.
Unfortunately, Sammy might have to lower his expectations.

Imagine being only 8 weeks old and already having the best days of your life behind you. That just might be the case with Sammy.

Sammy wasn't picked up on the streets. He wasn't beaten or abused. But he is a victim. A victim of the biggest problem facing the Michigan Humane Society today—animal over-population. As a result, there are more animals without homes than there are homes to give. It's a problem that only threatens to grow larger.

And it will continue to grow without your help. If you have a pet, have him spayed or neutered. If you don't have a pet, please find room in your heart and your home for Sammy or any one of the hundreds of animals at the Michigan Humane Society.

Or you can do the next best thing. You can make a donation, big or small, to the MHS. Your donations enable us to operate low cost spay and neuter clinics. Clinics that last year alone sterilized over 8,000 animals. They help us educate the public and bring us closer to finding a solution to the over-population problem. And most importantly, your contribution helps shelter and care for these animals until that solution can be found.

Just one look at Sammy and you can tell that within this one small puppy is enough love to last a lifetime. With your help, he might one day have a chance to prove it.

The Petite Flower and purveyor of Judy-ism, Judy Tenuta, is returning to the metropolitan area for performances Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13-14, at Chaplin's East in Fraser.

Tenuta homes in on her Judy-ism

Grab the kids, shut the door and act like you're not home. The Petite Flower and purveyor of Judy-ism, Judy Tenuta, is on the evangelical prowl.

You know the story: Men are her "love hogs" and "stud puppets" who worship at her feet in her daisy-strewn altar while she splits her gum at them. Who said religion's not mutually fulfilling?

Tenuta was selected Best Female Comedian at the American Comedy Awards in 1988 and has performed at comedy clubs across the country and on television specials such as the recent "Judy Tenuta: Worship Me, Pigs!" on Showtime.

The Italian born and Chicago raised comedian has now turned author. Her book, "The Power of Judy-ism," features a ton of photos of the Petite Flower and original drawings she has done. The book, due out in October, also features such informative chapters as "Love Slave Diets and Recipes," "Purgatory Dating" and "Where Not to Mate." ("Did you know one of the worst places to mate is in Yoko Ono's hair?")

The accordion-playing wacko comedian will perform Friday and Saturday, Sept. 13-14, at Chaplin's East in Fraser. She took a few minutes to espouse her beliefs as the Giver-Goddess and tells us she is running the country because "George Bush is too damn busy fishing."

Hey, it could happen.

What she looks for in a man:

"I like them to be 3-foot-1, 630 pounds wearing butt floss bathing trunks. He should own a movie studio... That's nice don't you think?"

The pressures involved with being the self-proclaimed "Princess of Panty Shields":

"So many people are envious of me because I am the Princess of Panty Shields. For example, Miss Universe got so mad at me. She was just so jealous. You know, like her body wasn't donated by DuPont, right. We're doing this talk show and she sitting there like a big bucket of Tupperware with a bikini on. She's from Chile, so I kept calling her 'Chili pepper.' She kept saying, (Tenuta mimicking a Spanish accent) 'I'm Miss Universe. I'm Miss Universe.' I said, 'Well, I'm Miss Feminine Protection.'"

Some of the men who want to possess her:

"You know this guy, Lee Iacocca, who owns Chrysler, he's hot for me. Oh, act like you don't know. He comes to pick me up at the Detroit airport in a K-Car. Yeah, like I'm going lay down for that! It wasn't even a stretch."

A date with the Love Goddess:

"You must have roller skates and carry me around on your back and feed me grapes. You must allow me to shave your back while you feed me grapes. In return, you chant my name and give me all your worldly possessions until you become a human speed bump."

Rumors she's given Frankie Yankovic accordion lessons:

"I'm afraid it's not true. My accordion is much different than you think. It is an instrument of love and submission. It is used, actually, almost like the Great Ark of the Covenant. Many of my love slaves during the performance don't think of it as an instrument as much as a holy relic so they ask to touch it. I have waitresses who tell me after shows there are people who want to come backstage and who want to touch my accordion. So I have to pass out plastic gloves. Yeah, I got to keep my squeeze box fresh.

'So many people are envious of me because I am the Princess of Panty Shields. For example, Miss Universe got so mad at me. She was just so jealous.'

'Gun Crazy' is a film noir classic

A rainy night. A boy stands before a gun shop window, admiring the gleaming weapons just beyond reach. Heaving a rock through the glass, he snatches four or five pistols and runs down the street. He trips and a gun goes sliding across the wet pavement in front of a policeman.

The opening shots of "Gun Crazy," playing Tuesday at the Magic Bag Theatre Cafe in Ferndale, only hint at the trouble young Bart will get into as an adult. When he meets up with a female counterpart, the lovers take to the road "Bonnie and Clyde" style in search of big money.

"Gun Crazy," made on a shoe-string budget by Joseph H. Lewis in 1949, is a rarely screened classic of the "film noir" cycle. The series of stylized postwar crime and mystery films reached its zenith with B-movies like "Gun Crazy."

When Bart (John Dall) meets Laurie (Peggy Cummins) at a carnival sideshow, it's love at first sight. She's an English-born sharpshooter, whose barker boyfriend invites anyone in the audience to test her marksmanship. Bart, fresh from four years of reform school and a stint in the Army, takes the challenge.

BART WOULD settle for a job demonstrating guns for Winchester, but Laurie laughs at the $40 a week he'll make. She wants big money, lots of it, and talks Bart into a crime spree that takes them across several states.

Two things make their story so fascinating. First, the love angle. From that first meeting at the carnival, you know they're mad about each other.

"I see the way you look at him," says the jilted boyfriend. "It scares me. It's like you're a couple of wild animals or something."

As lovers on the run, they can never look to others for help. All they have is each other, and throughout the twists and turns — and even murder — they stay together, "like guns and ammunition," according to Bart.

Add to that the amazing visual style, Lewis packs the film with unusual shots, such as a bank robbery filmed in one continuous take with the camera mounted in the backseat of a getaway car. In an inspired bit of improvisation, the director insisted that the actors simply drive toward the bank, not even knowing if a parking spot would be open.

We watch Bart, dressed in cowboy outfit, leave the car while she waits behind the wheel. A policeman rounds the corner and police in front of the bank. What will Laurie do or say? She's as surprised by the outcome as we are.

IT'S THIS type of identification with the characters that makes "Gun Crazy" more powerful than most crime films. The binding of two misfits, perhaps the two straightest shooters in the country, offers considerably more than "Bonnie and Clyde," who are joined solely by their boredom with life. Bart abhors killing. He likes being the best at something and that happens to be shooting guns.

You can even understand Laurie, a manipulative femme fatale, who brings poignancy to her lines about being kicked around so much that now she wants to kick back.

In recent months, the film has played to packed houses in major cities, spurred by the discovery of an original release print and by director Martin Scorsese, whose glowing appreciation piece in the New York Times aptly hails "Gun Crazy" as "a masterpiece."

State seeks car phone caller help

Drivers on I-96 and outstate freeways will see new signs advising motorists with cellular car phones to dial 9-1-1 when they spot a highway emergency.

State Police and the Michigan Department of Transportation (M-DOT) are cooperating to enlist car-phone owners as spotters for accidents, stranded motorists and other emergencies.

The new system will replace the 13-year-old "Project BEAR," which is outmoded and a system of emergency phones along I-94 in Detroit.

MOTORISTS making the toll-free call are automatically connected with a local 911 emergency dispatcher in the area roughly south of a line extending from Muskegon to Bay City where cellular facilities now operate.

The first signs to be installed in outstate Michigan are going up along I-96 between Detroit and Grand Rapids.

William Lebel, M-DOT's traffic operations engineer, said the department plans to erect 110 signs at 20-mile intervals along about 1,100 miles of rural freeways in southern Michigan.

State Police have responded to thousands of calls in the Detroit metropolitan area since early 1990 when M-DOT began installing signs saying "Emergency - Car Phone Call 911."

"It's working extremely well," said 1st Lt. Steve Brown, who is in charge of the State Police Operations Section. "Very often we get scores of calls from motorists reporting the same incident - a disabled vehicle or whatever."

ALONG I-96, the cellular phone system will replace Project BEAR (Broad Emergency Assistance Radio), which allowed drivers of vehicles equipped with CB radios to communicate directly with a State Police or volunteer dispatcher at State Police headquarters in East Lansing.

"Project BEAR served the citizens well, but the state's radio transceivers and supporting telephone lines are outdated and limited by their 5-watt design," said Brown. "Certain meteorological factors also caused complications for the system."

Bob Maki, head of M-DOT's freeway operations group, said the effectiveness of cellular phones also will allow M-DOT to terminate the motorist-aid phone system along 13.5 miles of I-94 (Edsel Ford) Freeway in Detroit.

The department began operating the system on an experimental basis late in 1980, installing phones for reporting emergencies every one-third mile along the shoulders of both the eastbound and westbound freeway. The phones put callers in immediate touch with a State Police dispatcher in downtown Detroit.

"The system is outmoded and not as reliable as it should be," said Maki. "Repair parts are no longer available and damage from vandalism, errant vehicles, the environment and other factors requires too much maintenance and repair." Motorists usually had to leave their cars and walk along the freeway shoulder to summon help, posing a safety hazard.

BROWN PRAISED the nearly 300 citizen volunteers who staffed the Project BEAR dispatch center in East Lansing over the years. "They worked night and day, seven days a week," he said. "They deserve the thanks of thousands of motorists who encountered trouble on the freeway."

Requests for assistance included 278 abandoned vehicles, 8,160 motorist assists, 4,472 accidents, 609 fires, 2,727 road hazards, 352 medical emergencies, 135 arrests and 3,057 traffic violations.

Trustee says expansion is key to SC's future

The average student age is 27 - another sign the Haggerty High days are long gone - with 63 percent of all students older than 21.

More surprising figures are posted by college continuing education service programs, short classes and seminars generally aimed at adult students.

College reports show more than half the 12,000 people attending 1990-91 continuing education programs came from outside the college service district.

"Some of it is the type of programs we run," Florek said. "For instance the business program we run (at the Michigan Design Center) in Troy are going to draw people from all over."

With state aid cuts looming, and with the region's industrial base shrinking, financing is a long-term concern for all area community colleges.

In a pioneering move, the college allowed a private developer to build two office buildings on unused college land. The net result, $216,000 in revenue for this year, more than $300,000 a year in coming years.

Expanding Schoolcraft's service district, Burley said, is the key to its future.

"I'd like to see Schoolcraft expand not just in Plymouth/Canton but beyond that," he said. "It's becoming clear that, to continue to thrive, we're going to have to expand our base."

The Michigan Department of Education is already examining areas unserved by community colleges, McDowell said. "There are things that could be done in conjunction with other community colleges." But Burley, looking to the next 30 years, envisions a Livingston County campus, tapping into that growing area.

"We need to look ahead," he said.

Hate laws stretch limits of our psyches

STICKS AND STONES may break my bones, but words can never hurt me.

How many of you grew up on that little ditty?

It isn't quite true, of course. Words can hurt. They can hurt your feelings, bruise your psyche, damage your ego. But, as that children's jingle tries to point out, they cannot injure you in a physical sense. So if somebody calls you a name, that's no reason to punch him out.

I remember once listening to a policeman giving instructions to a group of civilian volunteers who were going to ride along in patrol cars manned by only one officer. The policeman pointed to one of the volunteers and said, "I think you're a stupid-looking SOB."

The man looked shocked. The policeman waved his arm in a sweeping gesture at the whole group. "You're all stupid-looking SOBs," he said. They all looked shocked.

"Now," he said. "You've all been called SOBs and it didn't hurt a bit. So when some drunk calls you that tonight, just be cool. Don't try to smash his face in. Remember, they're just words."

BUT THAT WAS years ago, some time in the early '60s. This is the '90s, and we're much more sensitive today.

That's the only reason I can think of to explain the "cracker incident" down in Punta Gorda, Fla. You may have read about it.

A white police officer broke up an argument between a young woman and a young black man back in June.

After the incident, according to the officer, the black man told him,

Jack Gladden

"I'll shoot you, you white cracker." The policeman then arrested him and charged him with assault. But he also brought charges against him under the Florida Hate Crimes Act because the man called him a "cracker."

The case received national attention since it is believed to be the first time a black person was charged with a racially motivated crime against a white person under the Florida law. Had the charges held up, the assault charge, a first-degree misdemeanor, would have been raised to a felony by calling it a "hate crime."

LAST WEEK prosecutors dropped both charges against the man because of insufficient evidence that an assault occurred. An assistant state attorney said an investigation showed that the man was walking away from the officer when he made the comment, that he was not armed and that he made no threatening move. He added:

"The hate crimes law is an enhancement statute. After looking at it real long and hard, I decided there wasn't an assault. There wasn't a crime to enhance."

On the surface it would seem that common sense prevailed in this case.

But suppose there had been an assault. Suppose the cop had been punched out. Would the damage have been any worse because the assailant called him a "cracker" in the process? Suppose he had called him a "white SOB" instead of a "cracker"? Would that have been a racial slur?

Much of the discussion of this case centered around the term "cracker." Does it have racial overtones? Is it derogatory or just a variation of "good ole boy"?

The black man's court-appointed defense attorney said he didn't think the term qualified as a racial epithet that could kick in the hate crimes law.

"From what I've heard and read," he said, "cracker is not really a racial slur. I think the law is over-broad."

I THINK that's an understatement. What difference do the words make?

Florida is not the only state to have enacted such a law in recent years. In Michigan and several other states they are usually known as Ethnic Intimidation Laws. But those crackers . . . oops, make that good ole boys . . . down in Florida cut right through the highfalutin' language and call it what it is: a Hate Crimes Act.

The intent is to punish someone more severely if he hates the person he beats up than if he just beats him up without hating him. I think that's absurd and I think the "cracker incident" shows the length to which such laws can be stretched.

We should wipe the books clean of all such laws and replace them with "Sticks and stones . . ."

Educational experiments lead to learning

CHANCES ARE WE'LL never know if the all male academies in the Detroit school system will work.

It's too bad. Maybe they would have worked, and maybe not. But thanks to the meddling of the rights nannies from the suburbs, we probably won't get a chance to find out.

We all know the statistics. A black male from Detroit has more of a chance of ending up in jail than in college.

In a sense there's an epidemic of violence. And when there's such an out break, officials need to trample on a few perceived rights to stop it. It's a practical thing.

THE ACADEMIES are an educational experiment, not a system of institutionalized sexism as the rights nannies would have us believe. And if we can't experiment on occasion, we'll never learn anything.

The suburbs have special schools for gifted and talented students, which exclude students. That's discrimination. Those special programs should be extended to all students, not just to an elite few.

I've always been suspicious of such programs, wondering if school officials make sure that the sons and daughters of movers and shakers in a given community aren't included in the programs to help ensure support for millage issues.

But that's another issue. And it's an issue that hasn't attracted the attention of the National Organization for Women or the American Civil Liberties Union. I suspect the reason is that it's easier to tell somebody who lives in the next community how to do things than it is to meddle in your own back yard.

dies hit the mark when it pointed out that everybody cries about rights, but nobody mentions anything about responsibility.

By letting women in the what-were-to-be all male academies, we've given women their rights, but we've failed in our responsibility to give black males a better chance at obtaining an education.

THE ONLY BENEFIT of the debacle is that maybe the public will see NOW and the ACLU for what they are: a bunch of well-intentioned, but arrogant liberals who run around telling other people what to do because they think they're smarter.

They're like the religious folks in the middle ages who argued how many angels fit on the head of a pin, the only difference now is that it's rights.

It's an absurd situation. If things go on like this, we'll have every right possible down pat, but nobody will get a chance to use them because nobody will be able to read.

But maybe that's what NOW and the ACLU are angling for. They're the liberals who know what's good for the rest of us.

If they keep everybody ignorant, then they gain power.

God save us from the reformers.

Help available in this group

To the editor:

The story of Beth Feller's struggle against trichotillomania (Aug. 19) served its purpose as a human interest piece, but missed its opportunity to impart some much-needed information on the nature and scope of this disorder. Although it is little known, compulsive hair pulling is not rare. Over 3 million women suffer from TTM, most in silence and shame because they don't know that their affliction has a name and a treatment. Ms. Feller's triumph over the disorder in the relatively short span of four years is, in fact, atypical of the average TTM experience.

For this reason, I think it is vitally important that the reality of the condition be made known along with Ms. Feller's success.

TTM afflicts women almost exclusively, and the average age of onset is around 13 to 15. The effect at that age is devastating and many sufferers retreat to a self-imposed isolation during this most important time in their social development. They are told that their hair-pulling is just a bad habit and they could stop if they wanted. When they cannot stop, they blame themselves and become overwhelmed by feelings of inadequacy and self-loathing. The impulse to pull simply cannot be controlled, and it is not unusual to find TTM victims who have suffered for more than 20 years.

THE FACT IS that TTM is caused by a chemical imbalance in the brain similar to Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder, and so it is no more possible for a TTM sufferer to stop pulling through will power alone than it is for an alcoholic to just stop drinking. That she was able to reach such a successful outcome on her own makes Ms. Feller's recovery all the more remarkable. Most others need a network of help, understanding and support to achieve the same success. Therefore, even though Ms. Feller's experience with the medical community was less than satisfactory, you should have mentioned that excellent sources of diagnosis and treatment can be found, for example, through the Anxiety Disorders Program at the University of Michigan. Additional information on TTM is available through the OC Foundation, P.O. Box 9573, New Haven, Conn. 06535.

I am trying to establish a TTM support group and information exchange network and would like to hear from other TTM sufferers. They must know that they are not alone and that help is available. I welcome their calls at 522-8907.

Help us make steps in the fight against SIDS

If you knew a healthy, happy baby had died suddenly without reason, you'd want to help. There are over 7,000 babies who die from a cruel, mysterious killer. It's called SIDS: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Perhaps you've heard SIDS referred to as "Crib Death." But maybe you didn't hear that SIDS is the number one cause of death in infants from one week to one year.

TAKE A FEW MINUTES TO GO THROUGH YOUR GARBAGE.

Every week, more than 500,000 trees are used to produce the two-thirds of newspapers that are never recycled.

American consumers and industry use too much aluminum to rebuild our entire commercial sector every three months.

We throw away enough glass bottles and jars to fill the 1,350 foot twin towers of New York's World Trade Center every two weeks.

Each year, enough aluminum is used to supply all the tires on a truck.

The ordinary bag of trash you throw away is slowly becoming a serious problem for everybody.

Not only are we running out of resources to make the products we need, but we're running out of places to put what's left over.

4-H program offers leadership training

Michigan State 4-H Youth Program is looking for volunteers to participate in its Challenge Leader East Region training program which begins Friday, Sept. 13.

The training program is available for those age 16 and older who would like to work with youth.

The training is designed for Scout and Campfire leaders who are seeking supplemental training, junior-high and high school teachers for alternative education classes and those aged 16 and older who have a desire to help youth learn by doing, through outdoor activities such as canoeing, backpacking, winter camping, cross country skiing and other activities.

The first week orientation begins at 7 p.m. Friday and continues through 3 p.m. Sunday. The weekend will be followed with backpacking and canoeing in October, first aid in November and winter camping in February.

Cost for the five weekend is $50. Trainees are responsible for their own meal costs and cross country ski rental.

The east region includes 17 counties in eastern lower Michigan. The training cycle for basic certification is five weekends which includes orientation, backpacking, canoeing, winter activities and first aid.

The training consists of four components: weekends (practical tests), written tests, a written trip plan and activities with youth. The written tests are multiple choice formats in eight subject areas (leadership, campcraft, food and nutrition, map and compass, canoeing, wilderness transportation, edible plants, clothing/miscellaneous).

Most instructors are experienced Challenge leaders who volunteer their time. For more information, call Jo Chadburn at (313) 875-0419, Deby Libby (313) 531-0819 after 6 p.m., Pat Michrina (313) 652-9139.

4 planets visible in September sky

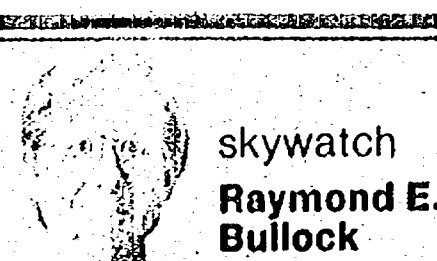

September is the month of such familiar events as the Harvest Moon and the start of autumn. This year in September, Venus is at its brightest and there will be a rare, spectacular conjunction (grouping) between Jupiter, Mercury and the star Regulus.

Four of the five naked-eye planets will be visible in September. Mercury, Venus and Jupiter can be seen in the morning sky, and Saturn can be seen after sunset. Mars is too close to the sun to be seen this month.

The amount of sunlight we receive decreases by one hour and 21 minutes in September.

Look for the waxing crescent moon, 30 minutes after sunset on the evening of the 10th. It will be just a few degrees above the west southwest horizon. The star above the moon is Spica (SPY ka) in Virgo. On the following evening, also just 30 minutes after sunset, the moon will be 10 degrees to the left of Spica.

NOTICE MERCURY on the morning of the 12th. It is already three degrees to the left of Jupiter! Mercury is the fastest moving planet and its position changes very quickly from day to day. Ju-upiter, on the other hand, moves much more slowly; it is still right along side of Regulus.

Venus has been moving retrograde (backward) through the sky during the past few months. The planets generally drift west to east through the stars. Venus has been going from east to west. When the month began, Venus was 10 degrees from Jupiter; by the 12th they are 12 degrees apart. On this day Venus appears to be stationary and tomorrow will resume prograde (forward) motion. Venus will pass Jupiter next month.

Planets don't actually change the direction they are orbiting. Retrograde motion is an optical illusion. Venus is closer to the sun than the earth and, as it passed between the two, it appeared to be moving backward through the stars.

The amount of sunlight we receive decreases by one hour and 21 minutes in September.

The moon is in Scorpius on the evening of the 13th. On the 14th it is located just to the left of Antares (an 'A' R E S), the 'heart' of the scorpion.

The moon is at first quarter phase at 6:01 P.M. on Sept. 15. The moon has completed the first quarter of its orbit around the earth. It is located in Sagittarius and spends the next few nights moving through this constellation.

On the evening of the 16th, look for a star immediately to the left of the moon. This star is named Lambda Sagittarii (LAM da SAG i tar ri). It is the 11th brightest star in Sagittarius, and it was given the name of the 11th letter in the Greek alphabet. It also has a proper name: Kaus Borealis, which means 'the Northern Part of the Bow.' Sagittarius is an archer, but the constellation looks much more like a teapot, with Kaus Borealis marking the top of the lid. The spout is down to the right, and the handle is down to the left.

There is a bright globular star cluster less than one degree above Kaus Borealis. It was first discovered in 1764 by Charles Messier (MESS e yay), who did not know its true nature.

It became item number 28 on a list he was compiling and is known today as M28. It looks like a fuzzy patch of light through binoculars, but it's actually composed of dozens of stars. You won't see it on the evening of the 16th; the moon is right in front of it! But remember this location. Give the moon a few days to get out of the way, and then turn your binoculars toward this part of the sky. Globular star clusters are densely packed, as opposed to an open star cluster like the Pleiades (number 45 on Messier's list) which is spread out.

WHEN ARTHRITIS WON'T RESPOND

There may come a time when your arthritis can't be controlled. No matter how much heat, rest, medication or injections you take, you feel no better the next day.

What then?

The experience of physicians is, that however bleak your position seems, in time you will improve. Attacks of arthritis can be prolonged, but are not unremittent. Often the key is to continue the medical regimen that helped in the past. Increasing medication that previously has not caused side effects seems to work better than starting a new medicine while in the midst of a flare.

At all times joint injection and aspiration need to be undertaken with care to not overuse this therapy. However, when your arthritis reaches an intolerable level of pain and impairment, temporary increase in joint injection therapy often can substantially slow a flare.

The continuation of pain causes your physician to look into the status of your joints. It could be that your problem is the result of irreversible change in one or more joints. If such is the case then surgery, not more or new medicine, is the alternative of choice.

No matter how prolonged your pain and impairment remember that flares end. The body never abandons its responsibility to keep you going in the best way possible.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ON INCREASING PROPERTY TAXES

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on September 18, 1991, at 8:00 o'clock p.m. DST at the Board Room the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft College will hold a public hearing on the levying in 1991 of an estimated additional proposed millage rate of 0.0984 mills for operating purposes pursuant to Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982.

The Board of Trustees has the complete authority to establish that 2.27 mills be levied in 1991 from within its present authorized millage rate.

The maximum additional proposed millage rate would increase revenues for operating purposes from ad valorem property tax levies in 1991 otherwise permitted by Act 5, Public Acts of Michigan, 1982, by an estimated five and eight-tenths percent (5.8%).

The figure for increase in revenue for operating purposes is based on the final state equalized valuation of property located within the College District.

The purpose of the hearing is to receive testimony and discuss the levy on an additional millage rate. Not less than seven (7) days following the public hearing, the Board of Trustees may approve all or any portion of the proposed additional millage rate.

This notice is given by the Board of Trustees.

Patriots surprise Lake Orion, 14-3

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Lake Orion, one of the state's premier football programs during the past few years, is nicknamed the Dragons.

But on Saturday, host Livonia Franklin was breathing fire, scorching the heavily favored visitors for a season-opening 14-3 victory.

"I'm pleasantly surprised," Franklin coach Armand Vigna said of the upset win. "We've come a long way since the last time I talked to you. I think we learned a lot today."

It was only three weeks ago when Vigna expressed grave concern about his interior line.

But the Patriots held their own against the bigger and deeper Dragons, winning the battle in the trenches.

They had 202 total yards to Lake Orion's 198.

"They played great football, and their three linebackers — number 42 (Jason Facione), No. 34 (Aaron Shakarian), No. 35 (Kevin Marinovich) really stood out," Lake Orion coach Mike Berry said. "And No. 34 (Shakarian) hurt us on offense."

SHAKARIAN, a hard-nosed 5-foot-9, 172-pound senior fullback, was a workhorse, gaining 81 yards in 23 carries.

"That's good yardage considering we were up against an eight-man front," Vigna said. "They were stunting like crazy. Our kids kept coming out and said they (Lake Orion) were always in different looks."

Shakarian scored on a 3-yard TD run with 5:19 left in the second quarter, capping a 59-yard, 14-play drive, giving the Patriots a 6-3 lead after Lake Orion's Casey Smith booted a 25-yard field goal with just under a minute left in the opening period.

(Franklin made it 8-3 after Shakarian's TD when holder Eric Mittig took a high snap from center and ran to the corner for the two point conversion.)

football

Franklin kept Lake Orion honest defensively by mixing up the run with the pass.

Junior quarterback David Little, making his first varsity start, was sharp, completing seven of 12 passes for 107 yards.

His 1-yard sneak with 7:51 left in the final quarter put the game out of reach.

"Those passes helped establish our running game," Little said. "It was a good confidence builder for him (Little)."

FRANKLIN'S SECONDARY also played big.

The Patriots picked off four passes, two by Keith Roberts and one each by James Sewruk and Eric Holmes. Franklin also recovered two fumbles.

"We've got some good athletes in that secondary," said Vigna.

Lake Orion junior quarterback Mason Robertson was pressured most of the afternoon, completing just 6 of 19 for 99 yards.

"We were forced to pass more than we wanted to," Robertson said.

"We're a young team, and the frustration set in early, but really credit Franklin."

The victory has to be a confidence builder for the Patriots, who were picked to finish near the bottom of the Western Lakes Division in the tough Western Lakes Activities Association.

"It was a tough hitting game, but I'm so happy," Shakarian said. "Our goal coming in was to win the first game because we haven't done that in five or six years."

"Now this will get us up to go for the city championship with the next two games against Stevenson (Sept. 14) and Churchill (Sept. 17)."

Stevenson blitzes RU

39 unanswered points

By Steve Kowalski
staff writer

Trailing 14-0 late in the first quarter Friday night, the Livonia Stevenson football team decided to keep its game plan — and change its attitude.

"Everyone started to get a little down so we made a new motto: 'Best friends,'" said tailback Chris Lehti. "We tried to be as close as we can and it worked. They (Redford Union) started to get down on themselves and we took advantage of it."

Did they ever. With Lehti leading the way, the Spartans responded with 39 unanswered points for a stunning, 39-14, season-opening win over the visiting Panthers.

Stevenson's game plan was to keep the ball on the ground and the Spartans were glad they stuck to that. After a shaky start, Stevenson switched into high gear and finished with 296 yards rushing on 44 carries, a 6.7 yard average.

All six of Stevenson's touchdowns came on the ground, and Lehti, a 5-foot-10, 180-pounder, led Stevenson with 107 yards on 18 carries and two scores.

He wasn't alone.

SENIOR SLOT BACK Frank Eupizi scored two TDs and gained 32 yards on five carries, and senior fullback Chad Myers scored one TD and gained 35 yards on six carries. Even Ben Boedlheimer, a 5-5, 142-pound senior backup, had fun at running back, scoring on a five-yard run late in the game.

RU had trouble stopping Stevenson's running game and the Panthers had even more trouble holding onto the ball, losing four fumbles — three of which led to Spartans' scores.

Stevenson suffered only one turnover — and coach Jack Reardon was as excited about that as he was with his running game. The Spartans gained 403 yards in total offense and had 17 first downs compared to eight by RU.

"When you don't get interceptions, blocked punts, penalties and turnovers you can win a lot of football games," Reardon said. "It was a great team effort to come back like that when being down so quick. It showed some character that we suspected they had all along."

Lehti ran very, very hard tonight and we saw Chad put some nice blocks. Our two slot backs (Micah Lietzau and Frank Eupizi) played good, and of course you can't do it without line blocking."

Stevenson also got a fine effort from senior quarterback Ryan Furkas, who gained 19 yards on three carries and completed six-of-eight passes for 107 yards.

"RYAN PLAYED very, very, very well, and we expect him to play like that," said Reardon. "He started all last year and the last two games his sophomore year, so this was his 12th varsity start. I wouldn't trade Ryan for anybody."

RU stunned the crowd early, scoring a pair of big-play TDs for a 14-0 lead before the game was nine minutes old. The Panthers capped their first series with a 35-yard TD run off a reverse by senior slot back Steve Bacashihua.

RU's defense recovered a fumble on Stevenson's next possession and the Panthers took advantage of the turnover, scoring on a 38-yard pass from quarterback Brian Theis to wide receiver Paul Nowak.

Brad Van Dike's second point after touchdown gave RU a 14-0 lead with 3:46 remaining in the first quarter.

Theis finished with six completions in 15 attempts for 114 yards, with three of his passes going to Nowak for 96 yards.

"Brian had a very good game and did everything we asked of him," RU coach Shawn McGowan said. "We told the team all week long the only team that's going to beat you is yourselves, if you turn the ball over — and that's what we did. Livonia Stevenson is always a good, solid team and does what it does very well. They're one of the best teams we'll play."

STEVENSON STARTED its comeback with a nine-play, 84-yard drive capped by Eupizi's seven-yard TD run with 10:23 remaining in the first half. RU fumbled a pitch by Theis on its next possession and Stevenson recovered the ball, leading to its next score — a 36-yard TD run by Lehti with 7:57 remaining. Rami Khoury's PAT sent the game into halftime tied at 14.

Stevenson's defense, led by tackle

Brett Magyer (seven first hits and two fumble recoveries), Myers (one fumble recovery, fumble caused) and linebacker Sam Mitchell, suffocated RU's offense in the second half. On offense, the Spartans scored on all four second-half possessions, starting with Eupizi's 10-yard run with 5:58 left in the third quarter.

Stevenson's last three scores came on a three-yard run by Lehti, a 17-yard scamper by Myers and Boedlheimer's five-yard run.

Spartans win

Sarno's 29 stymies Thurston, 59-50

By Neal Zipser
staff writer

Like a good race horse, the Redford Thurston girls paced themselves for a strong finishing kick in Thursday's nonleague basketball game at Livonia Stevenson.

But when the closing stretch came, it was Stevenson which crossed the wire first, holding on for a 59-50 victory.

Thurston rallied several times but failed in its attempt to catch Stevenson, which led the entire game. The Eagles failed to capitalize on Stevenson's second-half foul trouble and converted only 14 of 31 free throw attempts (45 percent). Stevenson also took advantage of its size advantage, getting a game-high 29 points from senior center Teresa Sarno.

The win kept Stevenson undefeated in two games, while Thurston fell to 1-2.

"Our free throw shooting has been a problem so far this season," Eagles coach Mike Schuette said. "If the scouts watch us, they'll know to foul us. All we had to do was make five or six more free throws and we wouldn't have had to foul them late in the game."

Sarno was unstoppable under the basket, after missing her first three shots of the game. The senior also ripped down 10 rebounds.

STEVENSON SET THE tone of the game early by jumping out to a 16-7 lead. Junior forward Karen Groulx scored seven points in the Spartan run and Sarno capped off the rally by a layup off a nice pass on a back-door play from Lori Schlingedecker.

Thurston played without junior Daune Koe-

girls basketball

ster, who missed her second straight game due to illness, and Faith Takala, who has yet to see action this season because of two broken fingers.

But Thurston fought back in the second quarter, making the first of its many comeback attempts. After a Sarno hook gave Stevenson a 27-13 lead, the Eagles scored seven consecutive points. Stevenson held off Thurston to take a 33-24 lead into halftime.

The third quarter began with the frustration Thurston was to expect the entire second half. Yvonne Malewski, one of two freshmen who started for the Eagles, missed two free throws and Stevenson built the lead to 13.

After Sarno left the game with her third foul, senior Carolyn Nagel began another Thurston rally. Nagel scored four of her team-high 18 points and the lead was cut to nine.

"(Nagel) is a good player," Stevenson coach Chuck Hebestreit said. "She shoots well, passes well, runs well and rebounds well. It was like they had a sixth player when she was out there."

SARNO RE-ENTERED the game and scored six straight points. As the third quarter buzzer sounded, Sarno picked up her fourth foul by hacking Nagel on the arm as she released a half-court shot. The foul gave Nagel three free throw attempts, but she could only make one.

With Sarno on the bench, Thurston regained momentum in the final quarter, cutting the margin to 49-44 after two short Nagel jumpers. Sarno returned the lineup and immediately made a hook shot increasing the Spartan lead to seven.

Thurston only managed one free throw in the next three minutes, as Stevenson rebuilt its lead to 54-45. After a layup by Stacey Ostrowski and two Malewski free throws, the lead was cut to 54-49 with 1:23 remaining.

"I didn't think they were that good of a team, but they were scrappy and kept coming back," Hebestreit said.

The Spartans held Thurston to just two free throw attempts the rest of the game and added five of their own — four by Groulx — and held on for the win.

"I didn't think we played great defense in the second half," Hebestreit said. "We gave them too many second shots. We have to do a much better job boxing out. We still have some work to do."

SOME OF THE work Hebestreit would like to see done is more offense from her players other than Sarno (29) and Groulx (11), who combined for 40 of Stevenson's total output.

"We need better balance offensively," Hebestreit said. "If other teams shut down our inside game, Teresa and Karen, then we may be in trouble."

The Spartans did get a strong game from guard Mo Drabicki, who has been pressed into a starting role in her sophomore season. Drabicki scored 13 points, grabbed seven rebounds, dished out six assists and made five steals, while continually breaking Thurston's late full-court press.

"Mo is our press breaker; give her the ball and let her bring it down court," Hebestreit said. "That's not the way we work on it in practice, but that's what happens."

Madonna stops K'zoo

One very positive element emerged from Madonna University's volleyball match against visiting Kalamazoo College Thursday.

It just took an awfully long time to happen.

The Lady Crusaders were on the verge of defeat. The best-of-five match was tied at two games apiece and they trailed the Lady Hornets 11-2 in the decisive fifth game.

That's when they dug down a bit deeper. Sparked by the outside attack of Elena Oparka, a transfer from Schoolcraft College, Madonna rallied to edge Kalamazoo 17-15 and win the match, three games to two.

The Crusaders won the second and third games, 15-7 and 15-8. Kalamazoo won the first and fourth games, 15-12 and 15-9.

"We just really hit the ball well tonight," said Madonna coach Jerry Abraham. "It was a great match."

volleyball

The kids stuck in there and never quit."

Oparka in particular. The 5-foot-9 junior collected six kills in the fifth game to ignite the Crusader comeback; she finished with 18 for the match.

Dana Hicks-Finley led Madonna with 44 kills in the match. Tonia Smith (from Walled Lake Central) had 20 kills and Julie Adams finished with 10.

Abraham also singled out the efforts of setter Penny Baker and defensive specialist Jenny Sladewski (Livonia Stevenson), who had 14 digs.

Madonna, now 4-5 overall, hosts Saginaw Valley State at 7 p.m. Tuesday.

Lady Ocelots roll in 3

All sorts of fun stuff is planned for Schoolcraft College Sunday as the school celebrates its 30th anniversary.

The tennis court will be the site of several of the activities. From noon until 1:15 p.m., there will be a "Say yes to tennis, no to drugs" clinic for adults and juniors. That will be followed by potluck desserts and refreshments.

At 1:30, a water balloon contest will be held. Simultaneously, from noon until 3 p.m., there will be a fast serve contest on the tennis courts.

And one of the major events of the day is a family fun run/walk, which starts at noon. There will be two competitions: a five-kilometer (3.1 miles) cross-country run, and a one mile cross-country run/walk. All participants receive a T-shirt and are eligible for awards and prizes, which include sports bags and shoes. Cost is $10.

There will also be an open house at the school from noon until 4 p.m., so anyone interested is welcome. The day's events are sponsored by the New Balance Corp. and Racquets Unlimited.

Clutch play

Wayne halts Adrian on 2-point try

Wayne Memorial's defense stopped Adrian's attempted two-point conversion in the final minute Friday night and enabled the visiting Zebras to win their football season opener, 20-19.

Mark Arbaugh capped an 18-play, 82-yard drive with a 1-yard quarterback sneak with 47 seconds left to pull Adrian within one, 20-19. Wayne's Jason Bodden and Jermaine Ellis helped preserve the lead, however, stopping Arbaugh at the one-yard line on the attempted two-point conversion.

It wasn't the only big play of the night for the Wayne defense. Earlier in the fourth quarter, Mike Martin intercepted a pass by Arbaugh at the Zebras' goal line, ending a potential Adrian scoring drive.

The Zebras never trailed in the non-conference thriller, despite being outgained; 272-225, in total offense.

Ellis was just as important to Wayne's offense, scoring the Zebras first touchdown on a two-yard run with 3:09 left in the first quarter. Jason Wetmore's extra point was good and Wayne led 7-0.

Adrian pulled to within 7-8 with 9:11 remaining in the first half on a 20-yard pass from Arbaugh to Ryan Vargas. Wetmore's 22-yard pass to Lee Williams with 4:30 left in the second quarter raised Wayne's lead to 13-6, which the Zebras kept at halftime.

Vargas' second score for Adrian — a two-yard run on the first possession of the second half — and an extra point tied the score, 13-13. But John Ballard broke the tie with a three-yard run, capping an 87-yard drive. Wetmore's extra point gave the Zebras a 20-13 lead with 3:05 remaining in the third quarter. Wetmore completed six-of-15 passes for 122 yards, while his counterpart, Arbaugh, finished 8-17 for 123 yards.

DEARBORN 26, CHURCHILL 6: The game really wasn't as lopsided as the final score. But, as Livonia Churchill coach Herb Osterland admitted after Friday's home-opening loss, "We're just a little bit smaller, and we got dominated in the third quarter."

Two short scoring runs by Dave Heir in the third quarter broke open a close game. Dearborn opened the scoring in the first period when a high snap on a Churchill punt resulted in the Pioneers getting touchdown deep in Churchill territory. Mark Lewicki, who led Dearborn with 87 yards rushing on 12 carries, scored from 5 yards out to make it 6-0.

The Chargers bounced back, knotting the score on Ryan Kukla's 22-yard dash in the second quarter. Dearborn took a 13-6 lead into halftime on a 6-yard pass play from Steve Harworth to Dan Rybicki.

The Pioneers' superior size began to wear down Churchill in the second half. Heir capped two third-quarter drives with TD runs of 2 and 4 yards.

Kukla led the Chargers with 59 yards rushing on 11 carries. The team totalled just 62. Jason Renkiewicz completed 12-of-22 passes for 84 yards, but was intercepted three times.

For Dearborn, Harworth was 7-of-15 for 87 yards. The Pioneers had 128 yards rushing and 78 passing.

Trojans lose opener, 17-7

By Brad Emons
staff writer

The wake-up call came too late for Livonia Clarenceville in its football opener Friday night.

Center Line St. Clement controlled the line of scrimmage for nearly 2 1/4 quarters en route to a 17-7 triumph on the Trojans' home field.

The win avenged a 22-0 setback to Clarenceville last year. In that game, Clarenceville rushed for over 300 yards, including 116 by option quarterback Kendrick Harrington.

"We thought he (Harrington) was the reason they beat us last year," St. Clement coach Mike McLeod said.

"This year we were able to take advantage of his absence with some good young football players. We started two sophomores tonight on the offensive line."

With All-Area pick Harrington lost to graduation, the Crusaders knew their chances this time around were a lot better.

The Crusaders took the opening kickoff and marched 65 yards in 14 plays, capped by junior quarterback Phil Doherty's 10-yard strike to 6-foot-4, 210-pound tight end Mike Sakalas. The drive lasted just over eight minutes.

IRONICALLY, Clarenceville had won the opening-game coin toss, but deferred to the second half, enabling St. Clement to receive the kickoff and start on offense.

"Now I'm questioning myself on why I did that," Clarenceville second-year coach Mark Ladd said. "I thought our defense could hold them to start, but we just weren't ready to play in the first half."

"We had some young kids who didn't understand what was happening."

The Trojans had trouble executing their offense in the first two quarters, gaining only a pair of first downs. Junior halfback Carl Holston was also bottled up, limited to 21 yards in five carries.

Just 1:31 into the third quarter, Doherty struck again, this time on a 62-yard pass to sophomore Andy Szymanski, giving the Crusaders 14-0 advantage.

"It was play-action off the inside trap," McLeod said. "We noticed that their linebackers and defensive backs were pinching in quite a bit so we felt it was the right time to do it."

Then, with 6:06 remaining in the third, St. Clement's Eric Addis booted a 30-yard field goal to make it a 17-point advantage.

Meanwhile, the alarm finally went off for the Trojans, who began springing 200-pound junior fullback Tod Soop for big chunks of yardage.

Soop, who led all Clarenceville rushers with 65 yards in 15 carries, scored from the 1 on fourth-and-goal with 10:07 to play in the final period to get the Trojans on the board. (Dan Nunnelly added the extra point.)

AN AROUSED Clarenceville defense forced St. Clement to punt on its next possession.

The Trojans got the ball on their own 44, but went backwards after Dave Horvath, who replaced starting quarterback Rob Sharp in the first half, was sacked by Bernie Waters.

Clarenceville got the ball back one more time, moving it all the way down to the St. Clement 6 before the final bell sounded.

"They (Clarenceville) took advantage of our inexperience on the defensive line," McLeod said. "Their coach called a nice game. They did a nice job against us in the second half. They had us scared."

Ladd, however, wishes he could replay the first 30 minutes.

"The kids got more comfortable with what they were doing in the second half," he said. "The trap (to Soop) was there in the first half, but our quarterback kept turning the wrong way."

"I decided to start Rob (Sharp) because of the way he ran the option in our scrimmage. Dave (Horvath) is the better passer, and we went with him when we got the point where we had to start throwing the ball."

St. Clement rolled up 237 yards total offense. Doherty connected on five of 10 passes for 98 yards (and two TDs), while junior Raymond Henke was the game's leading rusher, adding 76 yards on 15 carries.

CLARENCEVILLE was held to 142 yards total offense, but made 10 first downs.

"We gave up the big play in the third quarter which really hurt us, but we didn't quit," Ladd said. "We sure as hell tried our best. It's only one game. We'll get better."

Loosen up for new start

BOWLERS BEWARE! The beginning of the regular season can have a few pitfalls. Most experienced players know if you start the season after a long summer layoff, you could be in for a painful elbow, wrist, shoulder, thumb or back if you tend to overdo it.

For the first few weeks at least, all bowlers should warmup with a few mild stretching exercises before bowling. This will help prevent soreness in the muscles and back. Suggested: rotate the shoulders and stretch the arms out as far as possible, bend the back in all directions and flex the knees and hips.

Try not to overwork on 12's. There is always a tendency for some bowlers to throw too hard, and this is especially true at the start of the season. The old truism, "Let the ball do the work," is a good point to use.

The weight of the ball at the backswing will usually provide enough power and speed without having to "muscle" the ball. Pay particular attention to the thumb and fingers at this time as well.

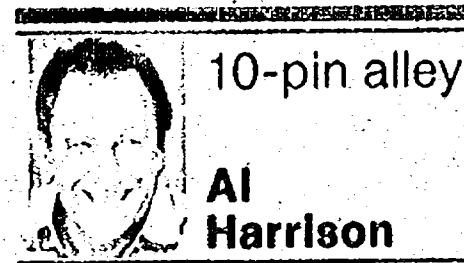

It is very easy to acquire an unwanted blister or sore from the holes. It might just be worth a trip to the pro shop at this time to re-check the fit of your ball. There can be slight physical changes that can happen without realizing it, which could actually change the way your ball fits your hand.

Most pro shops will be glad to provide this service to any bowler as a courtesy. This is also a good time to check out the equipment and personal supplies.

The shoes are the main object of attention, and it is most important to see that they are in good shape. See if the sliding sole is soft; it may be necessary to go over it with a wire brush or steel wool. Check out the laces. If worn, replace now rather than when you are in a hurry to bowl.

Check the overall condition of the shoes, and if necessary, replace.

Next in order of importance after the ball, the shoes are vital to your game. Perhaps more so than in any other sport, the ability of the shoes to perform properly has more effect on the success of the player. If you do, have to buy new shoes,

10-pin alley

remember to put comfort and performance ahead of vanity.

Better to have ugly shoes that perform well than great looking ones that are not comfortable or do not slide properly.

Other items to "gear up" with and carry along in the bag: extra pair of shoe laces; small towel; "Nu-skin" kit; rosin bag or other grip aids; "easy-slide" or similar product if you have a tendency to stick on the approach; small wire brush (or steel wool) to clean the shoe bottoms. Do not use talcum powder on the approaches under any circumstances.

Have I forgotten anything?
Or better yet, have you forgotten anything? Hope not, and good luck on the lanes this season!

• It looks like the "Patriot" bowling ball will become a popular item on the local lanes. Bob Chamberlain just rolled a 300 game with it, a week after Lou Ivanek did the trick with the same style ball in the All-Stars.

• Watch for the upcoming 2nd-annual "Tall-Waggers Bowl." This is a fundraiser for the Michigan Humane Society based in Westland. Registration forms and pledge sheets will be out on Sept. 21, and they will have a lot of fun and prizes. Everyone is welcome, even non-bowlers. This will be a nine-pin "no-lap" event to raise money for the Cruelty Investigation/Rescue Division. The date is Nov. 9 at Woodland Lanes in Livonia.

For details, call Laura Zain, event coordinator, at 261-3077.

• The "Support Team USA Bowling Program" will consist of a tournament at 2 p.m. on Oct. 26 at Satellite Bowl. Amateur bowlers will pair with members of

"Team USA" and the members of the Detroit area's "All-City Teams." For a $35 entry fee participants will receive a new bowling bag, courtesy of Brunswick and be eligible for the cash prizes.

All proceeds from the tournament will benefit the Team USA which represents the United States in international competition. For more information, call 773-6350.

The junior covered the flat 5,000-meter course in 17:50.

"It's his first year and it's a good time for this time of year," Glenn coach Jess Shough said. "I was pleased with it."

Wayne's Aaron Simpson finished second in 18:29.

10th, 22:12.

Other Wayne finishers included Marty Collyer, fifth, 18:55; Mike Burge, seventh, 19:52; and Jeremy Treppa, ninth, 21:13.

In the girls meet, Glenn won by forfeit, 15-50, as Tina Moore was the individual winner 24:59.

LUTHERAN HIGH WESTLAND, meanwhile, captured a double-dual Wednesday, defeating Harper Woods Lutheran East (21-40) and Detroit Country

East's James Davis was first overall in 19:09.

Doug Johnson and Kyle Kopper finished second and third, respectively, for the Warriors, with times of 19:09 and 19:16.

Westland honors Whalers

A banner was presented recently to the Westland Whalers, a Little Caesars Mite B Division (6-7 year-olds) hockey team, to hang on the rafters of the Westland Ice Arena, marking the city's 25th anniversary. The Whalers, coached by Dave Zarem, finished 29-1-1 overall with six straight playoff wins.

Warriors booted by Shrine

Lutheran High Westland made its varsity debut Friday in boys soccer, losing 2-1 to visiting Royal Oak Shrine.

"I was real pleased since it was our first game together and a new program," Lutheran Westland coach Rich Block said. "I'm proud of the effort. It was a respectable showing."

Matt Purdy tallied the Warriors' first goal before the Knights answered with a pair themselves, all coming in the first half.

A.A. HURON 5, FRANKLIN 0: Livonia Franklin senior goalie Brian Spiller made 13 saves, but Ann Arbor Huron beat him five times Thursday in the semifinals of the Springfield Christian Invitational in Clarkston.

"If we played the way we did for the last 15 minutes, we would have had a chance, but we didn't show up for the first 65 minutes," Franklin coach Franz Lamarre said. "Not to discredit the other team, they played a very good game. They had good runs and we were caught watching them play. We do have a lot of good players, but unfortunately today you couldn't tell."

Franklin is 1-1 overall.

Late rally lifts Ladywood cagers

Livonia Ladywood stormed back in the final five minutes to gain a 47-42 girls basketball triumph at Dearborn Fordson.

The Blazers (2-0) trailed 34-29 after three quarters before putting on a late spurt.

Janet Davis nailed a three-pointer to tie the game at 38-all and Ladywood, using a press to cause turnovers, went on an 8-0 tear to put the game away.

"It was a well-played game and we were happy to get out of there with a win," Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh said.

Junior guard Mary Jo Kelly led a balanced attack with a game-high 13 points. Junior guard Tracy Prybylski added nine, while Janet Davis and Allison Brenny contributed eight apiece.

Ladywood pulled out the win despite hitting only 12 of 25 free throws.

Nada Nassar led Fordson with 12 points, but was held scoreless in the final period.

FRANKLIN 54, DEARBORN 38: Despite being out-sized, Livonia Franklin (2-0) out-rebounded the visiting Pioneers 35-27 on the boards.

"Dearborn is mammoth, but our forwards boxed out well and our guards did a good job of picking up the other rebounds," said Franklin coach Dan Freeman, whose team jumped out to a 19-7 first-quarter and never looked back.

Senior guard Dawn Warner paced the victorious Patriots with a game-high 26 points to go along with seven rebounds. She hit 8-of-9 free throws to run her streak to 13 on the year.

Senior guard Patty Shea chipped in with 13 points and grabbed a team-high 11 rebounds.

Lisa Wilmoth and Julie Bell, a pair of senior forwards, tallied 12 and 11, respectively, for Dearborn (1-1).

WAYNE 43, ROMULUS 37: Coach Chuck Henry earned his first win as girls coach Thursday, as the host Zebras won their tournament opener against the Eagles (0-2).

Grosse Ile won the opener of the double-header, blitzing Taylor Center, 55-17, to set up Saturday's championship final at Memorial. (Results of that game will appear in Thursday's Observer.)

Junior guard Maggie Colligan paced Wayne with 15 points, while junior forward Lateefa Moore contributed 12.

Letika Brown of Romulus led all scorers with 22, but the Eagles lost the game at the free throw line, making just three of 24.

Wayne overcame a four-point third-quarter deficit, outscoring the Eagles 16-6 in the decisive final period.

"We were able to get a lot of turnovers from our press and convert some layups," Henry said.

EDSEL FORD 40, CHURCHILL 29: On Thursday, host Livonia Churchill (0-3) got as close as four points in the second half, but couldn't get over the hump against Dearborn Edsel Ford (1-1).

Melissa Foster, notched 13 points to lead the winners.

Game-high scoring honors went to Churchill junior guard Chrissy Daly, who tossed in 15, but no other Chargers scored in double figures.

"We played really good defense, but certain parts of our defense broke down as far as allowing second shots," Churchill coach Don Albertson said.

ALLEN PARK 61, CLARENCEVILLE 10: It wasn't on Livonia Clarenceville's schedule, but the Trojans opened their season anyway on Thursday, falling to the Jaguars (1-2).

Allen Park senior guards Carolyn McComb and Angie Cerne tallied 17 and 15 points, respectively, spoiling the debut of Clarenceville coach Bob Wolf.

Stevenson golfers card big victory

Livonia Stevenson's Mark Peterson and Mark Magnusson each shot 1-over 37s Friday, leading the Spartans to a 199-219 boys golf victory over Redford Union at Glenhurst. Ryan Fawkes added a 41, while Doug Gulau and Ryan Gusick each carded 42 for Stevenson, now 2-2 overall.

WAYNE MEMORIAL fell Thursday to Garden City at Westland Municipal Golf Course, 244-249.

GC's Nathan Franckowiak led the victorious Cougars with a 43.

Brad Sinclair shot 44 to pace Wayne, followed by teammates Tim Hochling (46), Matt Holland (51) and Bruce Kendrick (51).

Get kids involved in cooking

Ah! Tranquility has once again returned to the Janes Gang home. Gone are the "what are we gonna do today?" questions that seem to be the reason for being for kids bored with summer vacation. The old school routine has returned.

Unfortunately, some parents look at the preparation of school breakfasts, lunches, and even dinner, as a chore that should be done as quickly, and as cheaply as possible. For those parents (and even for parents who like to cook), I suggest getting the kids involved in the planning and preparation of food.

The foods children eat affect their growth, development, behavior and ability to learn. How children eat is equally important. Early experiences with food lay the foundation for lifelong eating habits.

Children learn the most by being actively involved. At home, and at school, children should be encouraged to be interested in food, and involved in its preparation. Creating something beautiful and tasty is a very rewarding experience.

Yet many children eat foods that come in boxes, packages, bags, bottles and out of vending machines, foods that have been designed for eating on the run. Such poor dietary habits, encouraged by misleading advertising, can undermine our children's health.

So forget the formulated, fabricated fake foods, and spend some time with your kids, showing them how to plan, shop, prepare and enjoy their meals. Make it a family affair.

Start with the youngest, who can help stir and measure, and involve the older children too. Weave in tales of how food was prepared "way back then." There's little doubt that good eating habits are not naturally acquired, they must be learned.

There are many things children can learn through working with food. First off, they gain an awareness of nutrition. Dairy products help bones grow; meat, fish and poultry provide the protein that gives us energy to play. What's more, working with parents in the kitchen helps children develop socially and emotionally.

Food comforts, food nourishes. Food is an excellent vehicle for communication among humans. Learning to cook helps us develop a sense of independence. It forces us to hone our language skills and our ability to think conceptually.

Cooking offers a bouquet of sensual experiences: Squeezing the oranges, melting the butter, popping the corn, freezing the ice cream, noticing the bitter taste, feeling the smooth skin on the eggplant.

Kids also can learn a great deal about science through cooking. What effect does food have on how we look, feel and behave? What is an egg and why (or why doesn't) it hatch?

The preparation of food teaches us the value of making mistakes. If the results are not as the recipe described, we should review the process to find out why!

Food can awaken the artist or the creative genius in everyone. Colors, shapes and textures can inspire creative expressions. Even mathematics are involved with measuring, timing, division of portions and setting the table. These tasks all take mathematical skills that most adults take for granted.

The list can go on and on. Geography, transportation, reproduction, spelling, you name it and you can learn it through food.

You can make creative food experiences simple enough for a 2-year-old, and stimulating enough for a teenager. All it takes is a little patience and a lot of love.

Fall back into routines with quick, easy meal

Editor's note:

Betsy's back with her popular Winner Dinner menus. Look for it on the Taste front, every other week.

By Betsy Brethan
staff writer

Welcome back to the beginning of the third year of "Winner Dinners." I hope you and your family enjoyed the summer, and are ready to shift gears and return to life in the fast lane. For ready or not, now that Labor Day has come and gone, the checkered flag has been waved and summer is officially gone.

This week's Winner Dinner, submitted by Mary Kroneman of Birmingham, offers a delicious transitional menu that was selected with the tempo as well as the temperatures common to the next few weeks in mind.

Quick and easy to make, it is a perfect meal for those still warm September evenings that typify summer's end. Featuring a chicken and rice salad, a luscious-colored raspberry gelatin dish and "wacky" chocolate cake, this is one meal that is sure to bring rave reviews from all who partake of it.

A native Michigander, Kroneman has lived in Birmingham for eight years with her husband, Chip, and their two children. She is looking forward to being vice president of the Cranbrook Kingswood Middle School Mothers' Council this year, and is actively involved at her daughter's elementary school as well.

Her volunteer efforts extend to her church where she just completed two years as vice president of the Women's Society at the Kirk of the Hills Presbyterian Church. One day a week, Kroneman works with her husband, a nephrologist (kidney specialist), when he has office visits, greeting his patients, and making sure everyone feels "at home" and comfortable.

In fact, the recipe for Raspberry Dazzle comes from one of her husband's patients, Elita Mermell, who always brings the Kronemans gelatin molds whenever she comes into the office.

Thank you, Mary Kroneman, for sharing your delicious recipes with us, and congratulations on being selected as our Winner Dinner. An apron will soon be sent to you as a token of appreciation for supporting this column.

From the feedback I have been getting, it seems that there is great interest in "heart-smart" menus. If you have a favorite low-cal, low fat meal, I encourage you to send the recipes my way. After all, healthy eating habits begin at home.

Submit recipes to be considered for publication, to Winner Dinner, P.O. Box 3503, Birmingham 48012.

All submissions become the property of the Observer & Eccentric newspapers. Each winner receives an apron with the words "Winner Dinner Winner" on it.

Packing power in kids' first meal

PAULA FITZPATRICK of Garden City isn't fussy about what her three children eat for breakfast.

As long as it's nutritious, they can decide — dry cereal with milk, toast or bagels with cream cheese, oatmeal or a frozen waffle warmed in the toaster, and juice or fruit.

"It isn't fancy around here," Fitzpatrick said. "There isn't time."

Erin Fitzpatrick, 12, is a seventh grader at Garden City Junior High.

Her 9-year-old sister, Michelle, is a fourth grader at Douglas Elementary School in Garden City, and Michael, 5, attends kindergarten at the same school.

While the children eat breakfast, Paula Fitzpatrick plans her day as a Tupperware saleswoman. Husband Michael is a plumber.

THE FITZPATRICKS are on target, experts say.

"You think better, feel better and work better after eating breakfast," said Carmen Bongiovanni, a registered dietitian employed by Botsford General Hospital in Farmington Hills.

Breakfast restores the body's metabolism, and provides energy after hours of fasting, said Bongiovanni of Farmington. People who skip breakfast may overeat later to compensate.

"A glass of orange juice isn't enough," said Gail Posner, a registered dietitian in private practice in Southfield and West Bloomfield.

"TAKE A child's preferences into consideration," said Posner of West Bloomfield, mother of two children, ages 3 and 5. "Try to lead them toward healthy choices."

Posner suggests spreading graham crackers with peanut butter and jelly. Serve them with lowfat milk or juice.

How about cottage cheese with applesauce? Or leftover pizza? Crackers and cheese or pita bread stuffed with a nutritious filling can be eaten on the run.

HEATHER WHITTINGTON, 8, of Canton likes fruited yogurt or leftover tafer tots served with an egg. She's a third grader at Hoben Elementary in Canton.

"We rely on yogurt for breakfast," said Heather's mom,

Chris Whittington. "Sometimes I melt some cheese on toast or serve peanut butter toast."

Heather likes oatmeal. Her siblings prefer cold cereal.

Melanie, 5, is a first grader at Hoben. Daniel, 4, attends Canton Crickets, a preschool program.

While they're having breakfast, their dad, Terry Whittington, arrives home from his job on the midnight shift at Awrey Bakeries in Livonia.

CHRIS WHITTINGTON steers her children toward the less sugared cereal varieties. She absolutely refuses to buy any containing marshmallows.

She also makes batches of trail mix, using dried apricots, cashews, sunflower seeds and pretzel sticks. Melanie likes trail mix with milk or yogurt.

Key components of a balanced breakfast would include fruit or juice, some bread, cereal or pasta, dairy and protein.

Indulge in high-fat foods, such as sausage or doughnuts, or heavily sweetened foods, only occasionally.

"The habits kids develop now, they will have for a lifetime," Posner said.

POSNER SUGGESTS that shoppers read labels. Pick cereals that aren't heavily laden with sugar, honey, corn syrup or fructose. Sweeten with fresh fruit or raisins.

Irene Cameron, coordinator of media relations for United Dairy Industry Association of Michigan, based in Lansing and Farmington Hills, suggests:

- Alternate chunks of cheese on a skewer with fruit.
- Toss one cup of milk in a blender with banana or other fruit. "Let the children do it," said Cameron of Livonia.

CAMERON OFFERS a recipe for breakfast cheese spread, using part-skim ricotta cheese and lemon lowfat yogurt. The spread, used with bread, bagels or rice cakes, can be refrigerated up to five days.

Jan Sproul of Redford and her husband, Steve, an architectural engineer, use novelty to spark the interest of their son Jacob, 5.

He's a kindergartener at Vandenberg Elementary School in Redford. See recipes inside.

Brown Bag Bologna and Salami Sandwich is a flavorful choice for the back-to-school crowd.

Sandwich has pack up and go

Now that school is back in session, millions of children will be toting their lunch to school everyday. Sandwiches are the hands down favorite for the "brown bag" bunch. Knowing safe sandwich preparation is assurance that the pick-and-carry lunch will be eaten and enjoyed.

A safe, fresh lunch begins with the packing. Always prepare sandwiches with clean hands using a clean work surface and utensils. Since children can seldom refrigerate their lunch at school, include something cold in the lunch box such as a cold drink or freezer-pack insert. When possible, pack their lunch the night before and store it in the refrigerator overnight. Thoroughly chilled foods travel better and stay fresh longer.

When planning what to pack, think to your children to determine their likes and dislikes in bag lunches. Bologna is a favorite with the back-to-school crowd. This cooked, smoked sausage is made of finely ground beef and pork and seasoned similar to hot dogs.

All beef bologna, veal bologna and lower fat bolognas are also available. Since bologna is fully cooked, it's convenient to use and has excellent keeping qualities for a take-along lunch.

To add interest to brown bag lunches, introduce different breads and rolls as well as new sandwich fillings. For example, from Brown Bag Bologna and Salami Sandwich.

This Italian inspired sandwich used shredded mozzarella cheese, thinly sliced lettuce, shredded carrot, and Italian dressing with slices of bologna and salami in a Kaiser roll. This hero-type sandwich offers a good flavor combination for back-to-school toting.

BROWN BAG BOLOGNA AND SALAMI SANDWICH

2 ounces sliced bologna
1 ounce sliced salami
1 tablespoon shredded mozzarella cheese
1 Kaiser roll, split
1/4 cup thinly sliced lettuce
1 tablespoon shredded carrot
1 teaspoon bottled Italian salad dressing
2 ripe olives, sliced, if desired
Sprinkle cheese over bottom half of roll. Combine lettuce, carrot and salad dressing; place on cheese. Top with bologna and salami slices and ripe olives, if desired. Close sandwich with roll top. Yield: 1 sandwich.

Nutritious snacks are munch better

Sylvia Trelman, home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, offers several suggestions for healthy snacks.

- Keep low-fat crackers, boxed juices, microwave natural popcorn, fresh and dried fruits and nuts and seeds on hand at work for healthy snacking.

- Use microwaves and slow cookers to make easy one-dish meals instead of buying fast food from restaurants.

- Keep plastic bags of cut vegetables in your refrigerator for easy snacks.
- Stay away from vending machines unless they offer fresh fruit or yogurt.

The Food and Nutrition Hotline sponsored by the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service can answer many food and nutrition questions. Call 858-0904 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday.

Beringer Vineyards and Contadina harmonize

Elegant wine-dining at home prepared in 15 minutes. Sound too good to be true? A current product promotion at local grocery markets and wine outlets links the wines of Beringer Vineyards and Contadina Fresh pastas and sauces to make it all possible.

Generally, we don't bite when we see these marketing gimmicks. Beringer wines — OK, they're consistent top quality. Packaged pasta and sauces? Not for these two purists who make them at home from scratch using authentic Italian recipes.

SINCE THEY were introduced, we've pushed the shopping basket right past the Contadina Fresh pastas and sauces. We've resisted the convenience because we "knew" they wouldn't be at all similar to homemade.

A wise man once said, "don't knock it till you try it." The current promotion caused us to do just that. We were more than pleasantly surprised.

The store displays of Beringer wines attract attention with eye-catching neckhangers. Some stores couple this with cross-merchandising displays in the refrigerated section near the Contadina Fresh pastas and sauces. Whichever you find, do capitalize on the mail-in, $2 off coupons good on the Contadina products and the wines.

Featured wines include Beringer Chenin Blanc, White Zinfandel and Gamay Beaujolais. Since sweet-edged wines (chenin blanc and white zinfandel) don't pair well with red sauce, you need to consider your purchasing choice in advance for a proper food and wine harmony.

A WHITE sauce such as the Contadina Fresh Alfredo Sauce will work with the off-dry chenin and the slightly sweet white zinfandel. If you want to keep it light and white.

We concentrated on the red sauces with various pastas since this is our preference. Following the package directions, we prepared the Angel's

focus on wine

Eleanor and Ray Heald

Hair pasta and sampled it with each of four sauces (Plum Tomato with Basil, Fresh Garden Vegetable, Bolognese and Marinara), heated according to the microwave directions, and a slightly chilled bottle of Beringer Gamay Beaujolais.

The best wine and food harmony was achieved with the Fresh Garden Vegetable and the Bolognese sauces. The first sauce should please any vegetarian. The vegetables are crunchy and the sauce is piquant, enhancing a slightly spicy element in the wine.

The Bolognese meat sauce is richly flavored and sticks to the pasta — a sign of quality. The balance between the wine's fruitiness and the richness of the sauce is a tempting taste treat.

Part two of the taste test consisted of preparing both the Contadina beef and chicken ravioli and sampling each with the same four red sauces evaluated previously with the Angel's Hair pasta. To introduce a note of creativity, we added a bottle of zinfandel to the taste arena.

THE GAMAY Beaujolais stood up to the challenge, but the zinfandel was a clear winner. Again, our preference was the Fresh Garden Vegetable sauce with the chicken ravioli and the Bolognese sauce with the beef ravioli.

Zinfandel served with the Bolognese and beef ravioli enriched the taste experience. The sauce's richness was complexed and the beefy flavor of the ravioli came forward.

What's been discussed so far is an under 15-minute dinner preparation. Buy the pasta and sauce of your choice, prepare according to package directions, open a bottle of wine and you're done.

Grate some Parmesan cheese and assemble a fresh green leaf basil garnish while the pasta is cooking. No more prep time is added, but a note of elegance is.

Elegance is easy with packaged pasta, sauce

To add greater notes of elegance to quick and easy meal ideas, the following recipes have been suggested by Contadina.

TORTELLINI BROCHETTES IN PESTO SAUCE

Makes 12 servings as an appetizer
 1/2 cup (7-oz. container) Contadina Fresh Pesto Sauce
 3 tablespoons olive oil, divided
 1 pkg. (9-oz.) Contadina Fresh Cheese Tortellini (Egg or Spinach) cooked and drained
 1 1/4 cups green pepper, cut into 3/4-inch pieces
 12-15 button mushrooms
 20-24 small cherry or yellow plum tomatoes
 12 wooden skewers
 In small bowl, combine pesto sauce and 2 tablespoons olive oil. Set aside.
 Alternate tortellini, pepper, mushrooms and tomatoes on skewers using 7 to 8 tortellini per brochette. In shallow glass dish, marinate brochettes at room temperature in pesto and olive oil mixture for one hour, turning occasionally.

In large skillet, saute brochettes, a few at a time, in 1 tablespoon olive oil until golden brown; about 30 seconds each side.

Arrange on platter; spoon remaining sauce over brochettes. Serve immediately.

SPINACH FETTUCCINE WITH SMOKED SALMON IN FOUR CHEESE SAUCE

(A tasty first or main course serving eight)
 1/2 cup whipping cream
 2 3/4 cups (two 12-oz. containers) Contadina Fresh Four Cheese Sauce
 3 pkg. (9-oz. each) Contadina Fresh Spinach Fettuccine
 2 cups (10-oz.) thinly sliced smoked salmon, cut into 1/4-by-4-inch strips

JIM RIDER/staff photographer

Pair Beringer wines with Contadina Fresh pastas and sauces for an elegant meal that's ready in 15 minutes.

2 tablespoons fresh chopped chives
 In medium saucepan, heat cream and four cheese sauce over low heat for 2 minutes or until heated through, stirring constantly. Keep warm. Cook fettuccine according to package directions. Drain. Divide sauce, pasta and salmon evenly between two large bowls. Toss gently. Arrange contents of bowls onto a large serving platter. Garnish with chives. Serve immediately.

Grocery shopping tips cut food costs

AP — A penny saved in the supermarket adds up to more than a penny earned, considering the amount of grocery shopping you do in a month or year. Try these tips to polish your money-saving skills every time you shop.

When buying canned goods, think about how you're going to serve them. If you're adding them to a mixture where shape, uniformity in size, and color do not matter, then use the thinnest form. For example, for tuna sandwiches, you could easily buy the least-expensive tuna and save the more costly chunk white tuna for a showy salad.

LEARN TO compare prices. A store will often take a loss on certain items, such as canned soup, hoping you'll pick up other items that are not on sale.

Buy non-fat dry milk for cooking and baking. Or, for drinking, mix equal parts of regular fluid milk and prepared non-fat dry milk. Remember, non-fat dry milk keeps for months in a cool, dry place. Evaporated milk is another economical choice. Substitute evaporated milk for regular milk in cooking by combining equal amounts of evaporated milk and water.

Compare domestic and imported cheeses for the best value. Wedges or blocks will usually be less expensive than packaged cheeses that are sliced or shredded.

Remember that margarine in a tub costs more than stick margarine, but both will generally cost less than butter. When nothing but butter will do, buy it in pound blocks and quarter it yourself.

CLIP AND save coupons, then remember to take them with you to the grocery store. It helps to have them organized by category in an easy-to-tote container.

Compare the cost of foods by their unit price, such as per ounce or pound. Particularly check foods you use regularly to see if the "large economy size" is the best buy. Sometimes the unit price is posted on the shelves by the product. If not, you can figure the unit price by dividing the price by the number of units (ounces, pounds, or the like) to find the cost per unit.

For example, if milk is $2.19 a gallon, you'd divide that number by four to find the cost per quart. If a quart of milk costs more than 55 cents and you drink a lot of milk, then the gallon size would be the better buy.

Look for specials on meat and poultry. Remember to consider how much waste (bone or fat) is present, when you're looking at the cost per pound. A trimmed piece of meat may cost a few cents more per pound than a bone-in cut, but you'll be buying more meat too.

'90s revive coffeehouse beat of '60s

By John Monghan
special writer

THURSDAY EVENING AT the Java Coffeehouse in Royal Oak. A bearded poet has just finished an earnest reading. He descends from a makeshift window sill stage at the storefront coffeehouse on the outskirts of downtown Royal Oak.

The citizens, evenly distributed between teenagers and "twentysomethings," resume the hum of conversation. Some read the latest issue of Vanity Fair or Interview while taking long drags on cigarettes and sipping cappuccino topped with foamy milk.

That Thursday could be a quaint remembrance of the 1950s, when bleary-eyed beatniks congregated to discuss politics and Sartre well into the night. Or it could be just last week, a sure sign that the beat of the coffeehouse has caught speed with the 1990s.

For Ken Knoppow, originator of the Folktown Coffeehouse Concert Series in Southfield, that spirit never died. In the 1960s, he was a regular at Detroit's Chessmate Coffeehouse and Raven Gallery.

"The old coffeehouses were basically folk clubs, though some had poetry readings and chess, too," he remembers.

A YEAR after the Raven closed in 1980, Knoppow, a lawyer living in Farmington Hills, seeing a gap in the availability of folk music in a coffeehouse setting, started the Folktown series. It begins its 12th season this month at the Southfield Civic Center on Evergreen.

Art lines the walls of the well-equipped Marcotte Room, where pastries, New York Seltzer bottles, and the ubiquitous cups of coffee are sold. Only the clouds of smoke are missing. The state won't allow it.

"Some people come early to socialize," Knoppow pointed out. "But this is mostly a concert hall. They pretty much come and go after the show."

One family, looking for good seats, arrives early with a board game in tow. The shows typically draw around 100 people, though some big names can attract 300, meaning a switch to a larger room in the adjoining parks and recreation building.

The weekly series, which runs through Dec. 7. Some of the performers include Catherine Hall and Mary Devorak on Sept. 21 and Tony Bird on Oct. 12. Knoppow hopes to widen his audience with Voices of Sepherad, music and dance of the Jews of Spain, on Oct. 26.

Knoppow feels his coffeehouse is more popular than ever.

"IT'S THE atmosphere of keeping acoustic music alive," he said. "In the old days, the coffeehouse was a folk music became an alternative to the mainstream.

"It got kind of mainstream for a while, but now it's back to its origins."

Until recently, it was impossible to find a real coffee shop this side of Ann Arbor. The two Espresso Royale locations, which offer art shows and free entertainment along with reasonably priced coffee and cappuccino, have paved the way for a number of similar Ann Arbor establishments. Zingerman's, for instance, will soon open a Kerrytown coffeehouse next to their famous deli.

The Java Coffeehouse in Royal Oak spread the concept to Oakland County when it opened this past May. East Side entrepreneurs Jim Mazzola and Michael Abdallah, both 26, thought Royal Oak needed an alternative to the downtown bars, a relaxed atmosphere where conversation isn't interrupted by the blare of loud music.

And most seem to like the arrangement.

According to Maureen Romanchik of Royal Oak, "It's nice to come to a place where you don't have to drink alcohol."

OTHER PLACES serve coffee downtown. Gayle's Chocolates and The Sweet Shoppe both keep evening hours (Gayle's even has live music some nights), but Java is the only one that's devoted to coffee. And it stays open late, on Fridays and Saturdays until 2 a.m.

Michele McNelis of Farmington Hills, at Java for the first time, admits that the experience didn't quite meet her expectations.

"I was hoping for more of the authentic coffeehouse thing," she said. "You know, beatniks wearing black berets. I like the place but I'm hoping it doesn't turn into an under-21 club."

Indeed, the owners spend much of their evenings urging skateboarders to stop loitering in front of the building. For the majority of teens who do come in, drink coffee, and hang out, the only thing they're disturbing is their sleep. Some say they down between four to seven caffeinated cups a night.

Coffee here costs 75 cents a cup. Cappuccino is $1.50 a cup or $2.50 for a hefty glass. Java also serves fancy Italian sodas and pastries.

Java attracts people from all over. Tracie Stephens, 19, of West Bloomfield stops there at least twice a week, "mostly to meet friends, but I come here alone, too. I read and drink coffee. And the owners aren't always pressuring you to get out."

Unfortunately, this staple of the coffeehouse may soon change.

"With such a low-ticket item as coffee, you have to be busy all the time," said Abdallah. "You need to really keep people engaged and not just sitting around and night"

Mary Kay Abrams (above) catches up on her reading at the Java Coffeehouse, a cause for a smile from coffee sipping owners Jim Mazzola (center photo, left) and Mike Abdallah. And meeting room at the Southfield Civic Center will be transformed into a coffeehouse when Ken Knoppow (below) ushers in the 12th season of the Folktown Coffeehouse Series this weekend.

Young people fill the tables of the Java Coffeehouse in Royal Oak, sampling cold drinks and a variety of coffees.

S mell the Coffee

If you want to capture the coffee house flavor, the Folktown Concert Series begins its 12th season Saturday, Sept. 14, at the Southfield Civic Center on Evergreen. The weekly series opens with Claudia Schmidt and Sally Rogers.

Ticket prices for all shows range from $8-12. For more information, call Ken Knoppow evenings at 855-9848.

And you'll find the Java Coffeehouse at 806 N. Main, Royal Oak. Call 547-9530 for more information.

Sea the sights at Bar Harbor

Maine shore has charm

By Iris Sanderson Jones
special writer

The Atlantic coast of Maine begins at Lubek, across the bridge from Campobello Island, New Brunswick, the Canadian Island where President Franklin Delano Roosevelt spent his childhood summers. It ends at Kittery, a few miles south of Kennebunkport, where President George Bush and his family spend their vacation days.

By road, it is 228 miles from Lubek to Kittery, but if you stay on Highway 1 you miss the tiny seacoast villages found in every cove and at the end of every rocky peninsula.

Follow the shoreline and you will travel 3,478 miles to go that same distance from Lubek to Kittery, which tells you everything you need to know about the perils and pleasures of coastal Maine.

THAT SHORELINE is a meander of rocky peninsulas and river estuaries cluttered with lighthouses, boat harbors, funky seaports, fishing fleets and sailing vessels of every kind.

There are sailboats, fishing boats, motor boats and high masted schooners from Bar Harbor to Rockland and Boothbay Harbor.

You could spend lifetimes exploring all the charms of that wrinkled coast. Here is one of the hundreds of interesting spots accessible from Highway 1 between Eastport and Brunswick, where Highway 1 is swallowed up by Interstate 95.

Bar Harbor is a cheerful, busy tourist town full of tour buses and tour boats.

FOOD'S IN BLOOM-- SEE TASTE BUDS
Every Monday in TASTE

By Iris Sanderson Jones
special writer

Bar Harbor, Maine: Or "bah hah-bur" as they call it here in Maine. Early settlers called the nearby Island Eden; today it is Mount Desert Island, home of the popular Acadia National Park.

It was off-season when I turned off Route 1, looking for just the right accommodation. I didn't want luxury or sophistication, just a place where I could have my morning coffee on a deck overlooking the sea.

I began to get the picture as I approached town. Emery's Cottages on the Shore: No Vacancy. Edgewater Motel and Cottages: No Vacancy.

Down Cottage Street, down Main Street, through the polished signs of tourist shops. Past signs that read No Vacancy, No Vacancy. The price went up as I approached the Golden Anchor. "Sorry, Ma'am, we're full."

It went up again when I walked my sweatshirt and Easy Spirits down the driveway to the casual elegance of the Bar Harbor Inn. "Sorry ma'am, we're completely full."

I LOOKED enviously at a deck on an old Tudor house nearby as I walked back to my car and drove to the Chamber of Commerce. "I didn't expect you to be so busy," I said. "My dream was to have my morning coffee on a porch overlooking the sea."

And that's how I got to a bed-and-breakfast called Ullikana in the Field, that same Tudor house with the very deck that I had seen while walking down the driveway of the Bar Harbor Inn half an hour before.

The room cost $80. Not much sea, but I could see a little patch of water, especially when the wind blew the trees hard enough. I could smell the sea, hear the boat motors, watch the Whale Watching boats come in. And I was just around the corner from the main street of town.

Bar Harbor is a great cheerful clutter of shops, restaurants, sea captain's houses, bed-and-breakfasts, tour boats, fishing boats, people and traffic. If you love to shop, tour and join the lineups for a variety of New England restaurants, you will love Bar Harbor.

OTHERWISE, HAVE lobster-chowder and fried clams at a greasy spoon on Main Street called the Acadian, where the local fishermen eat, order the cheapest and best lobster in town, and go on to Mount Desert Island and the national park.

Bar Harbor is a great cheerful clutter of shops, restaurants, sea captain's houses, bed-and-breakfasts, tour boats, fishing boats, people and traffic.

There was an artists' colony and a cottage colony on the Island in the 19th century; by the turn of the 20th century the "cottages" were owned by people like J. P. Morgan, Joseph Pulitzer and John D. Rockefeller.

Rockefeller built 57 miles of carriage roads on his 15,000 acres before donating his land to the government as Acadia National Park. The Mount Desert Mountains slope down to the rockbound coast for which Maine is famous.

I spent several hours in the park, exploring the old villages, the inns and the 500 varieties of wildflowers. Then I went "home" to my little porch at Ullikana in the Field.

The next morning, I had my coffee in the breakfast room. I had a wonderful deck that almost overlooked the sea, but it was raining.
