Racial violence erupts at teen hangout

By Darrell Clem staff writer

A group of black youths beat and kicked a 35-year-old white man after he tried to stop them from attacking a white teenager during a melee in a crowd of nearly 200 people at the Burger King on Wayne Road, just north of Cherry Hill, Westland police said.

A police report indicated racial tensions preceded the fight that erupted about 10 p.m. Friday in Burger King's parking lot a popular teen hangout that had become crowded after John Glenn High School's homecoming football game against Plymouth Salem.

Westland police described the scene as "generally chaotic" after they were-sommoned to investigate reports of an altercaTwo arrests made, one man injured tion. Most in the crowd appeared to be juveniles, police said.

A 17-year-old black man from Inkster was arrested and charged with possession of a dangerous weapon and disorderly conduct after police found a metal pipe that he had tried to conceal in a car. A 17-year-old white man from Westland also was arrested for disorderly conduct.

SEVERAL POLICE cars responded to the scene Friday. Officers saw scores of youngsters running away, although a large crowd remained gathered in the parking lot.

A 35-year-old white man, bleeding badly from his left ear, told police he was trying to stop a group of black teens from beating on a write teen when the black teens jumped him. The man had gone to Burger King to pick up his teenage daughter.

The man, who was not identified, said he was attacked when he tried to help a 14year-old white male who had been punched in the face and pushed to the ground by the

The man said the black youths then turned on him. A group of Burger King workers backed up his story and told police that they saw the black youngsters kicking the man in the head as he lay on the ground.

Witnesses told police that the black youths had been "fighting and pushing everybody around." The number of black and white people in the crowd was unknown.

The 35-year-old man refused medical treatment, even though police summoned rescue personnel to the scene. He may have sought treatment on his own.

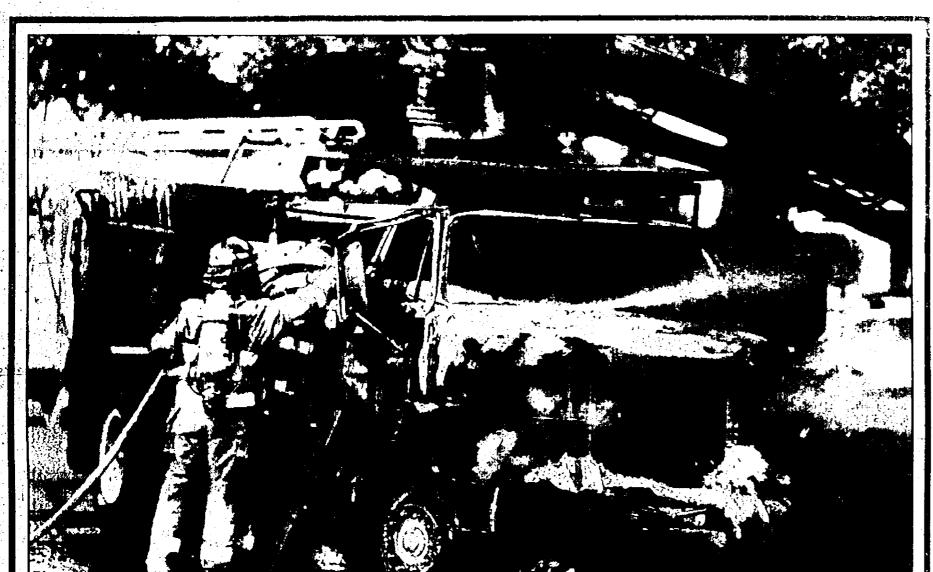

THE MAN told police he didn't want to become involved in the investigation, saying he feared for his safety.

When police arrived, they saw "scores of kids jumping the wall (behind Burger King) and running from the scene." The remaining crowd dispersed after police made the two. arrests. Some youngsters yelled obscenities

Although some observers had indicated that some youths had guns and knives, no gunshots or knife wounds were reported.

The two teens arrested on misdemeanor charges each could face up to 90 days in fall and a $500 fine. They are expected to appear in 18th District Court this month.

Detective Sgt. Russell Nowaczck said an investigation was continuing this week.

Amid accusations of nepotism, Wayne-Westland school board member Andrew Spisak's wife has been hired for a job monitoring students at John Glenn High School.

Lee Spisak started her $10.28-anhour job last week, even though her name won't be submitted for approval to the school board until Oct. 21.

A majority of school board members already has raised concerns about the hiring. And some laid-off district employees, saying they have been treated unfairly, criticized school officials for bringing in a new

"I think it's discrimination," said Grace Collier, whose lavoff from the special education Tinkham Center began Tuesday. "You just don't do this to people."

Superintendent Dennis O'Neill defended the hiring, which has stirred controversy and appears certain to face board opposition. Lee Spisak was the top applicant and that justified hiring her, even though she is married to a board member, O'Neill

Enrollment has jumped in the Livonia school district, signaling a possible reversal of a trend whichsaw the district's headcount drop more than 50 percent in the past 20

The Livonia district, which includes the northern section of Westland, reported that it now has 16,605 students as of last Friday, 377 more than last year and 17 more than projected. The count was taken on the traditional "4th Friday" of the school year.

"We know that there's a minibaby boom coming through," said Charles Ritter, assistant operations director. "It's now starting to hit. . . A lot of young families are moving into Livonia these days."

to begin gathering water, soil samples

By Ryan Tutak staff writer

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources said a plan to investigate toxins found on Cooper School grounds in Westland is "very good" and requested only minor changes Friday.

The Livonia School District, which serves the northern section of Westland, must submit a revised plan for sampling water and soil on the

Barring complications, the state will approve the plan before November. The district could then seek bids from contractors for the investigation, which could start this winter.

THE INVESTIGATION will yield levels of toxic contamination and determine if the grounds need cleaning up.

Cooper Elementary was built on a former landfill on the south side of Ann Arbor Trail between Inkster Road and Middlebelt in 1967. Soil tests on the site this year showed levels of PCBs, lead, cadmium, mercury, arsenic, DDT and cyanide.

After the tests, the school board-moved most of the 350 Cooper students to the former Whittler Middle School across the street. Cooper will stay closed until after the investigation and any cleanup. In a letter Friday, DNR representative Mary Vanderlaan, said:

"Overall the work plan is very good and should provide the information needed to determine those areas that need a more in-depth investigation. . .

The revisions requested are mainly "language changes and minor additions to the work to be performed," Vanderlaan said.

A 31-year-old Westland woman is expected to remain paralyzed from the waist down after a head on collision in which her 6-year-old son received severe head injuries, Westland police sald Tuesday,

Kathleen MacDougall, who received a broken back, broken ribs and a punctured lung, remained in serious condition Tuesday at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor six days after her pickup trück slammed headlong into a Jeep in the city's south end.

Her son, Chase, was treated for severe head injuries at the U-M hospital, but he was released Monday, a hospital spokeswoman said.

MacDougall, driving a 1989 Dodge Dakota pickup, was heading eastbound on Van Born near Admiral, when-she swerved into the lane of oncoming traffic at 5:33 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 25, police said.

She swerved across the center line after she came up behind a vehicle -- driven by a Romulus man that had stopped in preparation to turn left into a private drive, police said.

MacDougall's truck then slammed headlong into a westbound 1978 Jeep driven by 30-year-old Mark Alan Wyatt of Inkster who was treated and released at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne:

Both the Jeep — which landed in a deep roadside ditch - and the pick: up received extensive damage during the crash that occurred on wetroads. A police investigation showed the driver of the vehicle in front of MacDougall was using his turn sig-

An investigation revealed that nelther MacDougall nor Wyatt appeared to be speeding. Westland police officer Gary Sikorski sald

Mayor backs Pickering, Anderson

By Darrell Clem staff writer

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas confirmed Monday that he supports the campaigns of city council hopeful Glenn Anderson and incumbent Charles Pickering, and he strongly indicated that incumbent Thomas Artley will be added to his list.

They are among eight candidates: competing for four seats in the Nov. 5 general election. Others include incumbent Thomas Brown, former council member William Ziemba and challengers Sharon Scott, Dorothy Smith and David Cox.

Thomas commended Pickering's council performance and four-year stint as mayor in 1982-85. Among the field of council candidates, the mayor said, "I don't think you could find anybody better."

Thomas also lauded Anderson's "new ideas" and said Anderson would provide "a breath of fresh air" to the seven-member council. Thomas, in his second year as mayor, said Anderson had worked on his mayoral campaign.

Anderson "will not be a rubberstamp for me, but he will listen and be fair and represent the people hon8 compete for 4 council spots

Thomas appeared to be leaning toward an endorsement of Artley on Monday afternoon, though he planned to talk with Artley before reaching a decision. The mayor was attending a conference in Grand Rapids on Tuesday and could not be son, a Ford employee and licensed reached for comment.

HOWEVER, HE said Monday he expects to make "a full endorsement" of Artley.

"We've had a few rocky roads, but-I'll work some of those out with him." the mayor said.

Thomas doesn't plan to endorse a candidate for the fourth council seat. In the Sept. 10 primary, the top. four vote-getters were Pickering, Brown, Artley and Scott, a former. school board member. But Scott's fourth-place finish outpaced Anderson by only 43 votes, 1,778 to 1,735.

On Monday, Anderson expressed hope that the mayor's endorsement: will increase his chances of a topfour finish on Nov. 5.

"I certainly would hope that it would be a boost," he said. "I think endorsements are always important, but the best endorsement of all is the one that really counts - and that's the voters on election day.

"We're trying to run a real strong campaign, and I think it will be a successful campaign," said Ander-Realtor.

SCOTT CONCEDED that Thomas' support could help Anderson, but she added that she has received her own powerful endorsements, namely from state Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland.

"I do have some endorsements that carry some clout," she said. "I want to keep that fourth spot. I think it's going to be a very close race. It's going to take a lot of hard work." Though the council campaign has remained low-keyed since the primary, both Scott and Anderson predicted it will heat up between now and Nov. 5. And though Ziemba, Smith and Cox were the bottom three vote-getters in the primary, they have continued to campaign in hopes of improving their earlier

"I think everybody's just getting their act together." Scott said. "I just hope this election doesn't turn into a mud-slinging contest." Election officials are hoping for a better turnout than was recorded in the primary, when fewer than 9 percent of the city's 49,390 registered voters went to the polls. City clerk Diane Fritz called the turnout

"depressing."

IN THE primary, Pickering fin-ished first, followed by Brown, Artley, Scott, Anderson, Ziemba, Smith and Cox. Two other candidates, Don Mead and Bhagwan Dashairya, received the least votes and were, eliminated in the primary.

Council members have stressed that the primary rankings could change on Nov. 5, based on last-minute campaign tactics and the potential for a higher turnout.

Campaign winners will join council holdovers Kenneth Mehl, Sandra Cicirelli and Terri Reighard-Johnson. Council member Ben DeHart, whose seat is up for grabs, cited health reasons in deciding not to seek re-election. That means the council will have at least one new

Man admits assault of wife's companion

By Darrell Clem staff writer

A Westland man accused of trying to kill his wife's male companion, amid a marital breakup, has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge.

Donald Gibbs, 40, has admitted a charge of assault with intent to commit great bodily harm in an attack on 29-year-old Martin Gedert of Detroit about 2:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 3, in Westland.

Gibbs is scheduled for sentencing on Oct. 30 before Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Dominick Carnovale. He could face up to 10 years in prison, a court clerk said Monday.

maximum penalty of life in prison. He also had faced a mandatory two-year term for a felony firearms charge.

But the earlier charges have been dropped in return for Gibbs' guilty plea on the reduced charge, according to Recorder's Court. -

Police have said Gibbs became angry when he found Gedert at the Gibbs home on Glen Street. Gibbs chased Gedert from the house and then followed him down the street, threatening him and then firing a single shot that struck Gedert in the left thigh, police said.

SOON AFTER, Gibbs fled in his car as Gedert limped down the street and sought help from a neighbor. He underwent surgery at Annapolis Hospital, where doctors removed a single slug from his leg.

Police apprehended Gibbs a few moments later near the intersection of Palmer and Ackley, in the city's south end. The gun was found beneath the seat of his car, police said.

Though Gedert was injured, he later decided he didn't want to pursue the matter in criminal court, said Detective Sgt. Russell Nowaczck of the Westland Police Department. Under the plea, it's possible Gibbs may not receive a fail sentence, though he is expected to at ... least be placed on probation, Nowaczck said. Despite the charges being reduced, police appeared pleased that the case against Gibbs wasn't dropped altogether. "This really is a good plea for him and for us,"

Nowaczck said.

Man gets 18 months in drug case

By Bill Casper staff writer

A 43-year-old Redford Township man who pleaded guilty to drug trafficking charges has been sentenced to 18 months in a federal prison. The sentence for Freddy D. Brackenrich was handed down Sept. 19 by federal Judge Bernard A. Friedman. He and son Danny of Westland both pleaded guilty May 9 to conspiracy to distribute marijuana and the distribution of marijuana within 1,000 feet of a school zone, a violation of the federal safe school zone act.

They were caught in a police drug sting in which they sold marijuana to Redford undercover officers.

Friedman had previously sentenced the younger Brackenrich to seven months in a halfway house, despite the objections of assistant U.S. attorney Michael J. Stern, who prosecuted the case.

"We argued for a prison term for him, but he is out and free to go to work," Stern said. "The judge departed from the federal sentencing guidelines that called for a prison term of 18 to 24 months for him."

THE FEDERAL sentencing guidelines are based on several elements, including the amount of drugs involved and the defendant's past criminal record, he

Both Danny Brackenrich and his father have substantial criminal records, Stern said.

The younger Brackenrich was selling marijuana within 1,000 feet of Thurston while he was on parole for a previous arson conviction after he burned down a trailer home, Stern said.

Friedman sentenced the younger Brackenrich Aug. 20 to a 12-month halfway house term but gave him credit for five months of time served while he awaited sentencing, Stern said.

The maximum penalty upon conviction of the federal safe school zone act is 10 years in prison, he said.

THE PROSECUTION of the two was undertaken in conjunction with the Redford police, Stern said. U.S. attorney Stephen J. Markman commended the:

work of Redford officers involved in the investigation. The men were arrested Feb. 5 after the younger Brackenrich, 25 at the time, sold some marijuana in the company of his father to a Redford undercover officer in the parking lot of the South Redford School District's Shear Elementary School, located near Thurston, police Undergover police had made a series of marijuana purchases from the men over about a month's time, including the one near Thurston, an officer said.

The police investigation was aided by some Thurston students who were previously arrested by Redford undercover officers on marijuana possession charges, the officer said.

The older Brackenrich also was fined the amount of money he received for the marijuana sales to undercover officers.

That amount exceeded $1,300 for the sales of several small amounts of marijuana, totaling more than a half pound, Stern said.

_ivonia schools want public's ideas

By Marie Chestney staff writer

Got an idea on how to get more parents involved in the Livonia school district, which includes the northern section of Westland? Or how to make students more aware of other cultures? Or how to build a youngster's self esteem?

If so, the district wants you to join one of 13 action planning teams which soon will be meeting to help chart the course the district will be taking in the years ahead.

Team members will carry on the task begun last year when school officials, parents and community leaders put together the district's strategic plan, or "road map for the futee came up with 13 goals the district should pursue in the years ahead to prepare students for the workplace of the 21st century. Now, in the next phase of the planning process, it's up to members of the 13 action planning committees to find the best ways each goal, or strategy, can be achieved. "The strategic plan is the result of over a year's work involving a large number of dedicated people who are forging a planning instrument to guide the (district) into the 21st Century," said Superintendent Joseph Marinelli. "To make this process a success will require further input and work from many other people.

"Now that we have set our goals, we must decide how to accomplish them. If we had the answers, we A 25-MEMBER planning commit-, wouldn't need the action teams.'

Most of the teams will begin meeting in late October, they should have their report finished by early March.

The reports will first be reviewed by the team which put the 13 goals together, and then sent to the school board for review and adoption.

"We need a good cross-section of people on the teams, and a good balance between staff and experts and members of the community," Marl-nelli sald. "We want people who have a vested interest in the outcome of the district's students."

THE DISTRICT'S strategic plan is not cast in stone, and will be updated annually. But district officials will use it as a guide as they make decisions in the years ahead.

Residents interested in serving on one of the teams can pick up an application form in district offices at. 15125 Farmington Road.

This week's question:

Do you think that health care workers infected with the AIDS virus should be required to tell their patients?

We asked this question at the Westland Post

'f think they should.' - Richard Balsden

'Yes. I just don't think It's right that they should be able to infect us without us knowing it." - Phyllis Seymour

"No, because that doesn't solve the problem. I'm a nurse, so I have strong feelings about the subject. What about the health care workers? We have risks with the patients.

Board member's wife hired amidst layoffs

"You'll have to call the people who hired her," he said, "I didn't have anything to do with it."

Some board members were stunned to learn that Lee Spisak had been hired for the position, which recently became vacant.

"What?!!" board member Vicki Welty shouted, when reached by telephone Monday by the Observer. Once she regained her composure, she added. "I can promise you this is something that the board will look closely at."

Board President, Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek responded by saying, "I don't know anything about it. I am shocked. I have questions I must ask about that appointment."

Board members Laurel Raisanen and Fred Warmbier also appeared upset by Spisak's hiring.

"If we have people laid off, it seems to me that we should be giving them priority in any jobs they can fill," Warmbler said. "Right now I couldn't support this."

COLLIER, THE Tinkham Center worker, said several employees laid off from the center sought the John Glenn job. They are extremely upset that Spisak was chosen over them, she said.

· "It really upset a lot of people to learn that one of the board member's wives got the job," Collier said. She hopes to organize a group to protest the hiring at the Oct. 21 meeting.

"This community has to be aware of what these people (school officials) are doing," she said. Raisanen went so far as to suggest the district needs to develop a policy on nepotism. Taylor said the job was posted in all school buildings in the district.

Collier said Spisak's hiring was especially unfair to the Tinkham Center employees - some of whom have been laid off as the district divests its involvement in the program for the developmentally disabled and chronically mentally ill.

Some Tinkham workers will be kept under a plan to turn the program over to a private agency. Others - some of whom are single heads of households — have lost their jobs, Collier said. "These people are very unhappy," she said.

County cracks down on carjacking

Hoping to bring suburbanites back downtown, Wayne County's criminal justice system is cracking down on cariackings.

Carjackings will be expedited through the county prosecutor's office and Detroit Recorders Court, officials announced Tuesday. Prosecutors will also seek maximum penalties against carjackers.

In addition to the terror inflicted upon victims, carjackings are bleeding the downtown business community dry.

"The public's perception of an in-ability to drive safely in the city has the potential to damage severely the business community and it must be addressed now," Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara said.

Restaurateur Joe Muer estimated business dropped 20 percent this summer in the wake of carjackings and the widely reported beatings that occurred at the city's annual.

THUS FAR, charges are being brought against 81 individuals in 70. carjackings - all in Detroit - chief county Prosecutor John O'Hair said. No one has yet been charged in three suburban Wayne County carjacking incidents, he added.

The crackdown extends to Wayne County only, though officials said they hoped it would spread to Oakland County and other areas where carjackings have been a problem.

A taxing situation

Wayne County plans to offset millage rollback

By Wayne Peal staff writer.

Wayne County intends to keep its tax rate the same, but that means many-homeowners still-will-be paying more in taxes next year.

Wayne County officials held a truth-in-taxation hearing Wednesday to continue levying slightly less than one-half mill in property taxes.

The county would have had to decrease taxes without the hearing. While the county tax rate would remain at 7.9111 mill, property owners would lose out on 0.4168-mill in property tax savings.

The difference translates to $20.68 in additional taxes for a house assessed at $100,000. Total county tax payments on a $100,000 home would be $395.55.

County officials said the additional revenue was necessary to balance the county budget. County officials said rising cost for labor and supplies made the additional millage

What happens is everything we buy costs us more," said Ben Washburn, county director of legislative

The hearing was necessitated by state truth-in-taxation law. The law specifies that any increase in the total value of county property must be offset by a millage rate decrease.

Overall county property tax assessments increased last year, county officials said, but the increase was too small to keep up with inflation.

Levying the additional millage increases county tax revenue by 5.56 percent, county officials said. Counly tax revenue would have increased by 1.2 percent without the additional

State offers diploma 'seal of approval'

With little debate, the Michigan Legislature inserted a plan for "state endorsed" high school diplomas in the school aid bill passed last week.

Beginning with the classes of 1994, graduates can get Lansing's "seal of approval" if they pass any one of a list of standardized tests. There are three categories of tests:

OAKWOOD WOMEN AND CHILDREN'S HEALTH CARE CENTER

"I'm Thirty Eight, In Excellent Health, and Pregnant Again.

This Time Might Not Be So Easy.

That's Why I Chose Oakwood."

Deing an older mom doesn't mean my baby and I are necessarily at risk, but that doesn't mean I should ignore the possibility either. So after talking to my physician, I went to the Oakwood Women and Children's Health Care Center. They're equipped to handle high-risk deliveries, premature infants, and other special-needs babies, and their Neonatal Intensive Care Unit is staffed by highly specialized physicians around the clock. But what's more important is the quality pre-natal care and attention that's available for me and my baby from caring experts able to detect possible risks early, and provide the appropriate care. Having a baby isn't easy at any age, and that quality of care makes us both feel better."

This year, more than 5,000 babies will be delivered at the Oakwood Women and Children's Health Care Center, a Level III perinatal center that's part of the Oakwood health care system, one of the largest health care systems in Michigan, with six hospitals, more than 30 local health care and specialty centers and more than 1,000 physicians. SEMCOG's bias charge angers suburban officials

By Tim Richard staff writer

Many suburban officials are offended at charges that racial bias is "the dominant social factor" behind urban sprawl in the seven-county region.

"It painted us unfairly," an angry Plymouth Town-ship Trustee Abe Munfakh said at the executive committee of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

"Negative ... degrading to the minority population," said-Bloomfield-Township Supervisor Fred Korzon, who in written comments urged SEMCOG to tone down the racial charges.

"The conclusion states that racial discrimination is the prime cause of urban sprawl," said trustee Richard E. Allen on behalf of Northville Township, "I think nearly uncontrolled crime is a more significant factor that seems to be neglected throughout the (report)."

THE REPORT of the Regional Development Initiative task force was intended to be,"provocative," said Gerald McCaffrey, Macomb County school official who chairs SEMCOG.

But while SEMCOG leaders expected controversy over perceived attacks on local home rule, they appeared startled at the furor stirred up by the RDI panel's racial charges.

"There are a multitude of social factors - crime, education, economics — which are factors in fringe de'It painted us unfairly . . . The contention that racial discrimination is the cause of this (sprawl) problem is presumptuous and incorrect.'

velopment and urban abandonment," said a Macomb Gounty board resolution. "To cite only race as the dominant factor' masks many other equally relevant social issues."

Macomb commissioners offered an amendment to cite facial discrimination as "a factor."

The contention that racial discrimination is the cause of this (sprawl) problem is presumptuous and incorrect," said Plymouth Township's Munfakh.

The RDI report addresses urban sprawl - the eating up of 40 percent more land to serve a 6-percent population growth by 2010. It calls "business as usual" wasteful of future taxes and an abandonment of older cities' infrastructure.

WHILE MUNFAKH and the Macomb delegation were ready to do battle last week, the SEMCOG executive committee Friday voted only to "accept" the report and foward it to the General Assembly in December.

There it will be shuffled through the committee structure. Months of debate lie ahead.

Munfakh tried to have the report kicked back to the RDI panel, but McCaffrey ruled the motion out of order. McCaffrey did, however, accept Plymouth Township's resolution, which blamed sprawl on "the degraded quality of life in the urban core and the extremely high cost of supporting an aging infrastructure."

Other RDI recommendations that generated letters of

• Tax base sharing -- RDI calls for municipal tax base sharing (on top of the school tax base sharing enacted last week by the state Legislature).

● Mandatory regional review of major developments - Many see this as intrusion into local home • The meaning of "sprawl" - Livingston County board Chair David Peckens said RDI should recognize. that "many portions of the perimeter counties have real needs for roads, sewers, schools and other services development.

Southfield City Administrator Robert Block: "I believe the cultural, ethnic and economic attitudes of southeastern Michigan's middle class toward race drive the decisions of investment in the metro area. All other issues evolve as a consequence of these attitudes.'

Frank E. Smith, president of the Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce: "Excellent work," except for reservations about tax-sharing. Douglas Winkworth and Robert Bednas of Kirco Realty and Development Ltd., Troy: "As representatives of a private sector, market-oriented view, we also wanted to make it known that we share the concerns of the community regarding urban spraw and the chal-, lenges of regeneration in our mature urban-suburban. centers."

· Karen DeGrendel, Rochester Hills, president of the metropolitan area League of Women Voters: The League supports all recommendations except "concurrency," which it hasn't studied.

Elizabeth Harris and Alice Tomboulian, East Miehigan Environmental Action Council, Bloomfield Township: "EMEAC agrees that the business as usual trend. future' toward more and more urban sprawl is unacceptable because it will severely diminish the quality of life in southeast Michigan. We heartly support the recommendations.

Beth Konrad, public affairs director for NBD Bank: "An ambitious effort . . . a bold statement."

Money issue

School credibility strained

HE WAYNE-Westland school district has 'found" $4.4 million for the past school year that it didn't expect.

About half of that total came from higher than expected state aid revenues with the other half resulting from a conscious effort to spend less than what was budgeted.

Normally, the news would be welcomed by supporters and critics of the school board and administration in the wake of several financial controversies surrounding the district in the past two years.

But these aren't normal times.

The disclosure of the $4.4 million surplus for the school year which ended June 30 was greeted by alarms and criticism from both school critics. and supporters.

The reason is simple.

The perception that most residents have of the district's finances is that things are tight. With the approval of a major tax rate increase on June 10, the administration restored previously cut educational programs.

But now even newly elected Vicki-Welty and administration supporter Leonard Posey, named to a vacancy nearly two years ago, were not only surprised about the surplus, but upset----

While the administration attributed the figures to conservative spending and a boost in state aid, critics angrily accused officials of lying to the public to win support for the June 10 tax rate

THE SURPLUS, which surprised several board members, doesn't include money generated by the 7.75 mill tax rate increase approved by voters nearly four months ago.

The administration said it couldn't have anticipated the surplus when it sought the spring tax increase. Half of the surplus became known only recently, during the required annual audit of district finances by an outside accounting firm,

The just-disclosed financial news - while surprised. good news in normal times - would seem to widen the community-relations and credibility gap that has plagued the district in the past few

There is no evidence to suggest that the administration intentionally misled the community during the spring tax rate campaign by spreading a gloom-and-doom message of what would happen if the voters rejected the tax proposal.

The news of the surplus gives board critics and recall leaders more ammunition.

In addition, school financing is difficult to understand by even those dealing with it on an ongoing basis.

Reality aside, there is the problem of the community's perception.

With several of the administration's key supporters on the board publicly upset about the financial disclosure, it seems that they are joining the critics who questioned why school officials 'slashed educational programs and services a year ago amid claims the district appeared on the brink of financial disaster.

WELTY IS RIGHT in predicting an angry backlash in the community after it learns about the surplus. The preliminary audit report also caught Posey by surprise, although-he refuted claims that the administration intentionally deceived voters.

But he did comment that the administration made a miscalculation.

"It was a big miscalculation. We were off by a lot of money," said Posey, who is usually mildmannered and reserved in his public comments.

· Posey dld applaud the district's "prudent spending" which helped produce the surplus.

Superintendent Dennis O'Neill said last week it's much too early to conclude that the district's improved financial condition would, prompt the board to lower the tax rate to reflect the surplus.

The administration should have known that it had extra money on hand and not have been Whether it's a matter of the district misleading voters during the millage campaign or just incompetence, the community smells blood at being betrayed.

The disclosure of the surplus certainly gives supporters of a campaign to recall three school board members more ammunition.

Harwell keeps giving as broadcasting ends

THE PREPARATION OF POLITICS (AND VICE VERSA)

drop as Ernie Harwell addressed the hundreds gathered in the Renaissance Center banquet room Justhours before the Hall of Famer broadcast his last ballgame from Tiger Stadium Monday night.

Surrounded by fans, friends and family, Harwell hosted an informal ceremony where, assisted by retiring broadcast partner Paul Carey, Wayne Circuit Judge Paul Teranes, Adrian College President Stanley P. Caine and others, he honored 11 journalism students with $3,000 Ernie Harwell Foundation scholarships.

When Harwell was entering college, he found that what he'd earned delivering the newspaper to Margaret Mitchell and at other jobs wasn't going to fill the bill. And financial aid was difficult to come by.

When I was a youngster, I wanted to go to Northwestern University. I just didn't have it, I guess, because I got turned down," said Harwell, an Emory graduate. "I went to school at home, and that was fine. But we've come full circle, and being able to establish this scholarship is sort of a dream come true for me."

ERNIE, YOU do have it. Thousands upon thousands of us know it. And we're holding out hope that the Tiger-and-WJR honchos pulling the strings will save face and do what's necessary to ensure listeners will have you and Paul back next season.

It's a shame Tiger owner Tom Monaghan and president Bo Schembechler couldn't be there for the scholarship presentations, or in the stadium Sunday when their announcers were ushered onto the field for a pre-game tribute. There wasn't a dry eye anywhere, and it showed just publicity business, is dumbfounded about what happened to Harwell. He and other Harwell loyalists in attendance were of one mind when it comes to the Tigers' treatment of Ernie.

"I think he should have been afforded the opportunity to step down under his own wishes. It really doesn't make any logical sense. Let's face it. Baseball is the Tigers' product, and he delivers the message. He's a Hall of Famer, an accomplished author, a great guy and everybody loves him," he said.

"It just seems if you are running a marketing and promotion business, you would want to have Ernie around in some capacity. He's just too valuable, too knowledgeable. He has watched more baseball than anyone alive. I think they misjudged his popularity."

AT LUNCHTIME Monday, John Sagan, James Landenberger and Ed Schneidman, corporate lawyers with the Chicago firm of Mayer, Brown & Platt, told their secretaries they had a 1:30 p.m. meeting and would be back in the morning. They boarded a plane to Detroit and by 4 p.m. were awaiting Ernie at the Ren Cen. "I've been listening to him since I was 9 years old," said Sagan, a Dearborn native. "When I was a kid, we had a cottage in northern Ontario. We had no electricity and no plumbing. But we'd sit and listen to Ernie on the radio. He's been part of my life for 31 years. What better way to say good-bye than to come here? I'd rather be here than doing any acquisition or merger."

Sagan said he can pick up Tiger games on WKZO out of Kalamazoo "but only from my backyard. So on Saturday atternoons, I sit in the old Tiger Stadium seats I have bolted to my garage and listen."

Landenberger, who grew up in Farmington Hills, the same place Harwell calls home; doesn't understand why "the Tigers would get rid of someone so great. He hasn't lost a step. It seems like a crime.'

Former Gov. Jim Blanchard came 'as a sports fan and a friend. I wish Ernie could stay on, obviously, like most people. He's been the voice of the Tigers," he said, adding that Harwell will be honored at a Congressional luncheon in Washington Friday. "Through thick and thin, he's been the glue that's held Michigan sports fans together. He's a baseball legend. I don't think he has been sufficiently appreciated or recognized, and on the other hand, I know he is grateful for the years he's had in baseball and in sports. -"We will not see his like again."

Booing crowd

SEMCOG must seek new power

CTOBER, closing month of baseball sea--son, is also the time when local governments are studying ideas before the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments to halt "urban sprawl." Both events remind us of "Casey at the Bat," E.L. Thayer's poem about the Mudville baseball slugger who with his team behind by two runs, with two out in the ninth inning and two runners on base struck out.

SEMCOG set up a yearlong "Regional Development Initiative." RDI is a study of why we're about to eat up 40 percent more land, with a trivial percent population increase, and what we ought to do about it.

LIKE CASEY, SEMCOG already has two called strikes. Born in the late 1960s, SEMCOGwatched two decades float by without lifting its bat from its shoulders.

Today SEMCOG, a seven-county regional planning agency, stares bewildered as developers seek to fill in wetlands, pave cornfields and turn natural lakeshores into manicured Tuilleries gardens, inhibited only by high interest rates. Here SEMCOG casts scornful looks, like Casey, as not only Detroit is depopulated but inner suburbs are threatened.

What shocked SEMCOG out of its Casey-like lethargy was the Auburn Mills megamall project along I-75 in central Oakland County. The fact that the project was stalled and scaled down was not the result of SEMCOG's clout. In its sole decision, it tamely supported a road designation to allow widening.

Now SEMCOG, like Casey, is casting scornful glares at the booing crowd, pounding its bat upon the plate and suggesting ways to stop urban sprawl.

SEVERAL RDI proposals are things SEMCOG can do nothing about: reduced reliance on the property tax so rural townships won't make crazy development decisions just to get tax base; tougher anti-discrimination -programs; public

What-SEMCOG can do is seek the powers it should have had the last 23 years:

- Mandatory membership, rather than fawning over misbehaving members who can pull out their dues.
- "A mandatory regional review process" for projects with a multi-community impact."
- Mandate that roads, freeway ramps, sewer lines and public safety equipment be in place before development starts. It could insist that developers, not local treasuries, pay the true costs.

Will SEMCOG delegates be able to rescue Mudville from defeat by using the powers needed to halt urban sprawl?

And now the pitcher holds the ball, and now he lets it ao.

And now the air is shattered by the force of SEMCOG's blow! . . .

Even rights to free speech have their legal limitations

Let's keep campaigns above board

To the editor:

This time let's hope that the (Westland city council) campaigning will be above board, and that the candidates and their supporters practice ethics and stick to the issues. For too many years, residents and voters have been subjected to negative campaigns and dirty tricks. We should not have to tolerate last minute literature full of false statements, innuendos and attacks on the candidates and their families.

Every candidate has good qualities and is required to work hard to get elected and to fulfill their elected office. Campaigning is time consuming and expensive. Tearing down candidates signs and character is deplorable. To distribute literature without a disclaimer or signature is cowardly and unethical.

Further, I suggest that each candidate and their committees should send copies of all distributed literature and materials to the local newspapers for their information and

O'Neill pay is criticized

To the editor:

During the past millage elections in the Wayne-Westland Community Schools, the WaynerWestland Citizens for Education Committee had O'Neill received in excess of $115,000 per year in cash, plus perks and fringe benefits.

The following information was received from Dr. O'Neill on May 1, 1989, under the Michigan Freedom of Information Act (MFOIA) and was used as the source of the statement:

The contract, dated Sept. 9, 1986, was extended/amended on Aug. 8. 1988, and expires Aug. 31, 1992. It states very clearly that the "previous annual base salary of $81,249 shall be increased by 4 percent effective Sept. 1, 1988, and each Sept. 1 thereafter."

In addition, each Sept. 1 thereafter the superintendent shall receive a merit increase of 3 percent above the previous year's annual base salary. Since 1988 the superintendent's base salary has increased 28 percent while student programs were cut, teachers were laid off, and expensive millage elections were conduct-

Besides the base salary to be paid in cash, the contract calls for an annual allowance of 9 percent of the base salary for car purchase and opcrational expenses, $300 per month for general expenses to be retained by him if not spent, $2,000 per year for a doctoral degree and $1,500 stistated that Superintendent Dennis pend upon the completion of 25

The only thing that school officials, the Save Our Schools Committee, and our other critics were doing was to smoke screen the facts just to pass the millage. Their methods were direct violations of the attorney general's opinions and state election laws. So flagrant were these misuses of students, funds, equipment, and personnel that this Committee filed 17 formal charges with the Elections Commission and the attorney general's office.

New MEAP tests teach thinking concepts

QUESTION: The MEAP (Michi- assess whether the child is a good gan Educational Assessment Test) in __reader in the fourth; seventh and reading and math is now being given to my seventh grade son. It is my understanding the MEAP scores were lower last year than in previous years. Why is this? And why is mandate that stodents must achleve minimum scores on the MEAP test to get an endorsement on their diplomas in 1994 and in 1997 to graduate?

ANSWER: The MEAP test, historically a relatively easy, minimal basic-skills test, has suddenly become a "bear" of a test, Affluent school districts that had 95 percent of their children successfully master the old. MEAP test last year had about 50 to _-60 percent of their children passing: the new MEAP.

The new MEAP test is entirely different and as challenging a test as I've seen since I began in education more than 30 years ago. Instead of students identifying iso-

10th grades when the test is administered.

New MEAP reading passages are much longer and more in depth than the former reading selections used in Governor John Engler trying to the old MEAP test. The new MEAP determines whether students have the skills all good readers and good test takers have .-

Those skills include reviewing the questions to be asked first before reading the passage so as to be alert to what to look for during the reading, using major heading and subheadings as reference points; scanning, and re-reading areas missed.

WHAT IS MOST interesting is that, for years, many administrators and some teachers claimed that the old MEAP did not test what they taught.

Teachers often said we teach longer reading passages for a broader lated basic skills, the new test will understanding than just isolated word recognition skills. Now the new MEAP has taken longer reading passages right out of familiar textbooks and reading anthologies that are used in today's classrooms, and yet scores have gone down. Doesn't add

Now the cry is that the state is assessing these higher-level thinking skills differently from methods used in most classrooms. Guess it depends on whom you listen to.

The new MEAP math test is a killer. Districts that had 95 to 100 percent of their children mastering the old MEAP test can look at 40 to 50 percent of the new test this year.

just a different math test requiring skills different from those currently taught in the classroom. I believe it is the latter.

The test requires children to have more than computation skills, it requires teaching higher level thinking and problem solving skills.

LET'S LOOK at the fourth grade math MEAP test, Previously fourth grade children added and subtracted columns of numbers and selected an answer. The new MEAP will present some math problems where the child does not use paper and pencil.

They will be asked to do such things as look at a several numbers and estimate the correct answer. Four choices are given and none isthe right answer. The test didn't ask for the right answer, ask the children to think and estimate.

Fourth graders will study graphs, tables or, say, grids of 100 blocks, 57 blocks and 12 blocks. They'll be

This may be an unfair math test or asked to think, respond and select an -appropriate-answer. No more 100 plus 57 plus 12 in a neat, vertical col-

> Math is more often a textbook driven course, moving from one page to the next with little or no time spent on developing higherlevel thinking skills. Math teachers, like most teachers, instruct the way they were taught, and those methods may not fit the expectations of the new MEAP test.

Curriculum leaders have the responsibility to bring teachers together in a mutually agreed to planning format, then establish priorities together and move forward.

YOU ASK, why is Engler going to use the MEAP test as a measure of successful high school completion. I don't know for sure, but I do know that requiring successful passage of a state mandated competency test is a clever way of establishing a statewide and possibly controlled curriculum to ensure quality.

Depending on your view, it could be a big brother scenario, or it could be an indirect method to pressure some school districts to raise their expectations (which may be far too low) from the perspective of a governor who says education is his number one priority.

Carrying Engler's concept to the extreme, we could have students in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills (where about 85 percent of the students go on to college) not achieving the minimal score on the MEAP test, and therefore not receiving a State of Michigan endorsement on their diplomas. They would still, however, have SAT and AACT scores (and grades) that get them into most universities.

It's going to be interesting to say the least.

The French couldn't deal with the fierce Iroquois who lived in upstate New York and blocked the St. Lawrence River route. So their fur traders took the northern river route from Quebec to the upper Great Lakes through Huron territory.

The Jesuits and other missionaries thought the Hurons were good pickin's for baptism and worked diligently at it for a few decades.

BY MOST accounts, the Hurons were peaceful agrarians.

Oh, they would roast and torture their enemies the way their enemies roasted, and tortured them. And James Fenimore Cooper made the Huron chief, Magua, the villain of "The Last of the Mohicans." But we're speaking comparatively here.

The Hurons had a falling out with the Iroquois confederation; by all accounts the fiercest group east of the Mississippi.

"Supplied by the Dutch with guns and gunpowder, as well as other implements of war, the Iroquois suddenly descended upon Huronia in 1642. They slaughtered the entire population of the first town they attacked," says Willis F. Dunbar's history of Michigan.

The surprise attacks continued for several years. Disease also took its toll. Wrote Fred Landon in "Lake Huron:"

Doug Cumming of Farmington Hills won the championship flight at the O&E Golf Tournament.

By Steve Kowaleki staff writer -

Doug Cumming, who has missed the last four O&E Men's Golf Tournaments, made a successful return, appearance last weekend at Livonia's Fox Creek and Whispering Willows' golf courses.

Thursday, October 3, 1991 O&E

Cumming, the runner-up in the 1986 O&E Championship Flight, won the 1991 36-hole tournament with a 7-over par 149. Cumming, a Livonia native and Farmington Hills resident, finished with a 75 Saturday at . Fox Creek and followed with Sunday's round of 74 at Whispering Wil-

Cumming has been unable to play the last four O&E tournaments because of other commitments on the Michigan Publinx amateur circuit, but he's always happy to return to play in his hometown.

'This was the first tournament I ever played in as a kid," said the 37year-old Cumming, who won the O&E. First Flight in the late 1970s. "It's been a frustrating year for me, but this tournament is a little more relaxed. It's not the greatest field in the state, but you have to play good golf to beat people here."

Cumming played well enough to edge long-time friend and nemesis, Gary Cauzillo of Redford by three strokes. Troy's Joe Borkowski came in third place (75-79/154), followed by Plymouth's Leo Martin (76-80/ 156) and Farmington Hills' Mike Zonder (78-78/156), who tied for

This was the first time Fox Creek Golf Course was used as one of the venues for the two-round tournament and the four-year-old course proved to play tougher than Whispering Willows. The 43 players who finished the Championship Flight averaged 83.27 strokes at Fox Creek and 82.44 strokes at Whispering Willows.

Fox Creek has probably got a better layout but it's just too hard," said Cauzillo, the 1989 O&E Championship Flight winner. "The greens are like cement and it's not fair because you can't stop the ball -

Paul Worley, assistant golf pro at Whispering Willows, said Fox Creek's playing surfaces were harder because a break in the watering system in recent weeks.

Mark Agabashian, a 38-year-old Livonian, was one of the few to stay within striking distance of Cumming on the first day, carding a 76. Agabashian's fortunes reversed, however, on Sunday as he finished bogey, bogey, double bogey and came home with an 81 to take sixth place at 157.

"I was hitting the ball pretty good until we had a long wait on the par-3 15," said Agabashian, an O&E veteran player. "Then I started slapping the ball around and on two of the last three holes found sand."

Worley said the O&E's four flights drew 130 entrees, down from 145 a year ago. The Championship Flight had 57 entrees this season, which was an increase over last year's count of 51.

A total of $1,450 in gift certificates were distributed to the winners and some of the runners-up in each

"It's been a stronger field this year than it has been," Worley said.

FIRST FLIGHT

Westland's Murray Brooks, a veteran of several O&E Championship Flights, entered the First Flight and it paid off. Brooks won with a two-day total of 156, six strokes better than second place Jeff Truax, of Livonia.

"It was kind of a surprise, I just went out and tried to have a nice weekend," Brooks said. "I drove the ball good and putted good."

What does Brooks plan to do with the $175 gift certificate he won?

"I'll probably get something for my wife, she deserves it for all the golfing I do," Brooks sald. Truax, who won the First Flight in '87, shot an 84 at Fox Creek and a 78 at Whispering Willows. "It was smart getting Fox Creek (as a venue) because it gives it a little more of a challenge," Truax said. "Fox Creek played long and the greens is what the course is all about. It has tough greens, lough pin positions."

SECOND/THIRD FLIGHTS

Fred Emory, of Canton, won the second flight with a 91-86 for a 177 total, one shot better than Chas Henry (89-89). Farmington Hills' Robert Taylor, an

Buffington pedals toward biking goal

Bý C.J. Risak staff writer.

What John Buffington brought home with him from Johnstown, N.Y., was news that must have elated his wife, Beth, and their three daughters.

John had finished second in his Race Across America (RAAM) qualifier, biking 515 miles in 35 hours, six minutes. His finish got him a berth in next August's Race 'Across America — a 3,000-mile test of mental and physical endurance, a challenge only 35 riders qualified for last year.

Isn't that great news? Now, says John, the 10,000 miles he put into training for the qualifier during the last year will have to be doubled, at least.

Which means his family will see even less of him - unless they expand their current role as his pit

Buffington, a Livonia resident, has managed to combine work and. workouts. He pedals the 23 miles to his place of business, the Sports Authority in Madison Heights, where he serves as a store manager. And . he pedals the 23 miles back at the end of his work day.

"THE ONLY way I can accomplish my dream is like this," said the 38-year-old Buffington.

His dream? "I want to win the Race Across America," he said bluntly.

He cuts no deals for himself in this pursuit. In last year's RAAM, there were seven rookies among the 35 riders; the race started in Irvine, Calif., and ended more than 8,000 miles later in Savannah, Ga. The winning rider set a new RAAM record, finishing in eight days, 16

Considering this is his first RAAM, one might think Buffington Would settle for earning a bye from re-qualifying. (A rider must finish-within 48 hours of the winner to get a bye.) Indeed, just finishing the race might seem an attractive cause I can compete with people 25 goal. Any rider who falls more than and younger and still win," he said. 48 hours bening the leader must quit, immediately.

Buffington dismisses any and all potential excuses. "I want to win it." he said. "This is too expensive to mess around with, to go in with an attitude like, 'Let's see how I can do.' "

BUFFINGTON FIGURES competing in next year's RAAM could cost as much as $20,000. He has no sponsors at present to help defray the costs. "Right now, I'm a basement operation," he said. Asking several other people to take time off-work to assist him during next summer's race leaves no room for halfway measures. It's all or noth-

He knows it puts extra pressure on him, but Buffington has faced such challenges. He did at last weekend's qualifier, the final one

Thirty-one riders started the race, which circled a 42-mile loop; mountainous conditions (Johnstown is located at the base of the Adirondack Mountains) and inclement weather (rain, sleet, hail, 50 mph head winds and 20-degree temperatures) whittled the field-down to

To qualify for RAAM, Buffington had to finish within 15 percent of the winner's time. Edward Kross of Framingham, Mass., won in 33 hours, 50 minutes; Buffington's time had to be about 39 hours. He beat that by three hours.

WINNING THE qualifier didn't enter into Buffington's plans. "All I wanted to do was qualify," he said. "One step at a time. Winning will come later. Everything I did this year, everything I trained for, was focused on this point."

Buffington has "always enjoyed riding," but he didn't start training for ultra-marathoning until four years ago. He started with 200- and 300-mile races and timed events, like the 24-hour endurance race in Grand Rapids. His reason? "Be-

In ultra-marathoning, condition ing and endurance are key ingredients, not necessarily exceptional talent, "A big part of it is mental, too," noted Buffington.

It must be. In the Johnstown qualifier, Buffington rode for nearly 34 of the 35 hours, six minutes it took him to complete the course.

And what did it get him? An opportunity to compete with approximately 35 other masochists in a race more than five times longer. Typically, Buffington is looking forward to the increased training. And just as typically, he still says, "I just love to get on my bike."

staff writer What's happening at Schoolcraft College this weekend is unlike anything that's happened in this part of the country before.

Eight of the nation's best junior college volleyball teams will gather for a round-robin tournament. There will be a total of 28 best-of-threegames matches, starting at 1 p.m. Friday and concluding at about 7p.m. Saturday. Each team will play seven matches; the team with the best overall record wins.

Among those in the tournament are defending NJCAA champion Miami-Dade Wolfson. Others of note: Kankakee Community College (Kankakee, Ill.) and Lee College (Baytown; Texas). Combined with the host team, that makes four teams unbeaten against JC competition.

Want more? Belleville Area College (Belleville, III.) is 10-2; Mott CC (Flint) is 16-3. With Eigh (Eigh, III.) College and Lake Michigan CC, the makings of one of the nation's best tournaments are here.

Is there one that can match it? "Not this side of the Mississippi," said SC coach Tom Teeters, who with considerable aid from several assistant coaches and SC athletic director Marty Nowak - pleced the tournament together.

JEFFERSON COLLEGE (Hillboro, Mo.) hosts a tournament with similar credentials; indeed, Teeters admits his tournament is modeled after Jefferson's, which SC has played in previously and will play in again next week.

"I sent their coach a note saying,

volleyball

SC hosts quality tournament

'Does this format look familiar?'?' Teeters joked. But not all the competitors at this season's Jefferson tournament are as tough as they have been in the past.

So the winner of the SC tournament may very well reign at the NJCAA Tournament in November.

Dade Wolfson still boasts plenty of talent. The defending champs (17-0 this season) have two sophomores leading their attack: Sandra Pena, a 6-foot-I middle hitter from the Dominican Republic, and Monica Pinillos, a 5-9 outside hitter from Medellin, Colombia. Two other Colombians and a Brazilian are also on the Kankakee (23-0) is led by sophomore Heather Allamon, a 5-9 5 middle hitter, and freshman Staci Bulger, a 5-8 setter. Lee has a pair of former high school teammates to call upon: sophomores Laurie Hamilton, a 6-0 mlddle hitter, and Lisa Gerdes, a 5-10 middle hitter. Both attended Edna HS in Edna, Texas.

BELLEVILLE WILL count on sophomore Julie VonFeldt, a 5-11 middle hitter, while Elgin will look to sophomores Erica Sebion and Sherri Johnson, a pair of 5-10 middle hitters. Mott's top players: sophomores Amy Miller, a 5-6 setter, and Leslie Gregson, a 5-9 middle hitter.

The Lady Ocelots have been playing extremely well, going 9-0 against JC competition and 12-1 overall. The inside attack provided by sophomores Renea Bonser (5-11 from Livonia Stevenson) and Kari Van Deusen (6-2) has spurred SC. Van Deusen has an attack percentage over .400; Bonser's is over .300.

Sophomore Stephanle Jandasek and freshman Nancy Ehlert, both outside hitters, are also hitting over :300. Freshman Kell Haeger (Livonia Ladywood) and Ehlert have shared setting duties and done well, although Teeters said he was looking for more "variety in sets to our two middle hitters."

HE WOULD also like to get the 5-9 Haeger and the 5-7 Ehlert more involved in the attack. Accomplishing these things, according to Teeters, would better serve his team at this point in the season than winning the tournament.

"The important thing is to play well," he said. "Winning at this point of the season isn't crucial. Finding the right lineups is. That's why you play a tough schedule, to evaluate what you have so you don't get surprised later on."

And yet, a win over Dade Wolfson admittedly would provide a huge lift. "Mlami is an overpowering team," said Teeters. "For us to upset them would be tremendous."

SC plays Dade Wolfson at 7:15

Madonna, University kept its NAIA District 23 record perfect, but it wasn't easy. The Lady Crusaders mounted a comeback effort to edge University of Michigan-Dearborn 15-10, 12-15, 12-15, 15-6, 15-1 Tuesday at Madonna.

Elena Oparka led the attack with 17 kills. Tonia Smith had 16 and Dana Hicks-Finley added 15. Kristy McFadden collected nine. Defensively, the Crusaders got strong efforts from Maureen Paulin with 14 digs, Sue Bell with 12 and Smith with 11.

The win gave Madonna an 18-9 overall record, 3-0 in District 23.

Last weekend, the Crusaders traveled to the Aquinas Tournament and posted a 4-2 match record. They defeated Defiance, University of Windsor, Barratt and Olivet, but lost to Illinois Institute of Technology and Aquinas. Hicks-Finley and Smith were both named to the all-tournament team.

Ocelots struggling Unless Schoolcraft College's women's soccer team can discover some novel way to increase its endurance dramatically, chances for an NJCAA championship may be impossible.

The Lady Ocelots lack players. With only 12 on the roster, there is no room for injury or mishap. It showed again last weekend, in a trip to Long Island, N.Y., to play Suffolk CC and Farmingdale CC on consecutive days. The pattern was the same as previous trips SC made to New York and St. Louis: one win, but not enough endurance for two. The Ocelots toppled Suffolk Saturday 2-1 with a conseback effort. Suffolk scored in the game's first 15 minutes, but Sarah Hayes got the equalizer with 10 minutes left in the first half (Amy Krajewski assisted).

Midway through the second half, SC coach Nick O'Shea sent stopper Lori Place forward in an effort to get the go-ahead goal. It worked; Nikki Johnson scored with 25 minutes left, Place assisting.

"I didn't want to go into over-time," said O'Shea, "so I moved Lori up to center forward and used Becky (Diverno) at stopper. We were going to win it or lose it."

A LOSS MIGHT be preferable to overtime for the Ocelots. Hayes and Shannon Meath are both hobbled with pulled leg muscles; Meath was ineffective the entire weekend, playing just five minutes Sunday against Farmingdale.

With Hayes' injury aggravated Saturday, SC had just nine able-bodied players on the field against Farmingdale. It showed; the Ocelots lost 2-0. Farmingdale, which did not play Saturday, scored in the first half and added an insurance score in the game's final 1:20.

Last Wednesday (Sept. 25), SC started its match with University of Michigan with 10 players and finished it with nine, losing 7.0. Jennifer Whitfield, whose brother Jason died in a motorcycle accident a week earlier, was excused from the game, and Beth Hebestreit left in the second half to attend class.

SC Is now 3-4-2. Best of all, the Ocelots will have 10 days off, which - hopefully - will enable them to recover from their assorted all-

At the NJCAA Tournament, they would have to play three games in four days to capture the championship. With only 12 on the team, injuries are a luxury they can ill-afford.

Friday night football card scarce

By Brad Emons and Dan O'Meara staff writers

> THAT'S HAPPENED to Friday night high school football? Observerland fans have only four to choose from this weekend.

Most of the action takes place on Saturday, nine games to be exact. The feature attraction is 2.p.m. at Detroit Lutheran West when Redford Catholic Central (4.0), the defending Class AA champs, collide with Detrolf St, Martin DePortes (3-1), the defending CO champs, in a battle of the Catholic League's top-rated

A key Catholic League C-D Division (C Section). matchup pits Royal Oak Shrine (2-2) against unbeaten Redford St. Agatha (4-Q), 7:30 p.m. at Redford Union's. Kraft Field.

Another good matchup appears to be the Lakes Division battle in the Western Lakes Activities Association between a pair of 3.1 teams — Westland Glenn at North Farmington.

As far as Friday night action, the most attractive game is Farmington (3-1) at Plymouth Salem (2-2). Is Farmington for real?

The only unbeaten teams left in Observerland are Farmington Harrison, Agatha and CC.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Garden City at Obn. Edsel Ford (4 p.m.): The Cougars (1-3) were flat in their Northwest Suburban opener last week against Woodhaven, suffering a 21-0 loss, Edsel Ford (1-3), the preseason NSL favorite, spoiled Redford Union's night with a 7-0 triumph. PICKS: The . T-Birds and Joel Propps do a number on GC.

Jackson N'west at Redford Union: The Mounties (2-2) are big. averaging 230 pounds up front. After a 2-0 start, Northwest has lost to two qualify opponents, Jackson Lumen Christi and last week to Tecumseh (31-14). Running back Birden Boone has 456 total yards, averaging 7.1 per carry. He had a school record 257 against Hasfell. The defense, however, has given up 211/2 points per game, and that could be just the tonic for RU (2-2). PICKS: RU stays winless on its newly reno-

Belleville at Wayne: The Zebras (2-2) are trying to shap a twogame losing skid after disappointing Wolverine A League losses to Wyandotte and Lincoln Park. The Tigers (1-3) made a respectable showing last week against Wolverine A League leader Dearborn Fordson, falling by only a 12-0 count. PICKS: Wayne puts a Tiger in its tank.

W.L. Central at Lev. Stevenson: The host Spartans (2-2) are also trying to snap a two-game losing skid and erase the sting of last week's 15-7 overtime loss to Farmington. Central (0-4) appears headed for another dreadful season after getting thumped badly by North Farmington last week, 56-12. PICK6: Cast an affirmative vote for Ste-

Farmington at Ply. Salem: Farmington fans are constantly complaining (to this newspaper) about playing second fiddle to city foes Harrison (even though they don't want to play them) and North, Well. this is your chance Falcons (3-1) to prove you're for real against a Salem (2-2) team that woke up last week against Westland Glenn in a big way. PICKS: Leon Hister for Heisman, those two scribes say. Farmington can't break Salem's wishbone.

matchup? Not much other than that Harrison (4-0) is perhaps the state's top team. The fast time Churchitl (0-4) won this matchup was 1983 when John Stoltsladis quarterbacked the Chargers to a shocking 13-12 upset of the Hawks, who at the time were rated No. 1 in the country by USA Today. PICKS: Not even John Stoilsladis could help the Chargers in this one. Fly with the Hawks...

Ply. Canton at Liv. Franklin: The Canton Booster Club was strangely stent this week after their team took a 48-0 bashing from Harrison last Friday night Canton (1-3) may still be stinging from that loss; but not as much as the Patriots (2-2), who squandered a 18-point lead in the last seven minutes against Northville, only to lose in overtime. Franklin's QB David Little is out with a shoulder injury, leaving JV call-up Dennis Madden and senior defensive back Keith Roberts to bark out the signals. PICKS: Canton spoils Franklin's homecoming:

Westland Glenn at N. Farmington: The Raiders (3-1), riding high on a three-game winning streak, could take a major step in clinching the Lakes Division crown with a victory against nemesls Glenn (3-1). Rocket quarterback Terry Hewer needs to find his receivers this week if Glenn wants to make it a three-way deadlock. North has the revenge factor going for them this week. The Raiders haven't beaten Glenn since Scott Setzer ran for 204 yards in 1986. PICKS: North is the undisputed Lakes leader.

Liv. Clarenceville at B.H. Cranbrook; With Georgia on his mind, Clarenceville (0-4) lost head coach Mark Ladd last week. Athletic director Leo Kinsella named Russ McKenzie as Interim cpach. Meanwhile, Cranbrook is a deceiving 1-3, losing close games to Mount Clemens Lutheran North and Erie-Mason, while scoring 23 against Metro Conference kingpin Avondale. The Cranes earned their first win last with a less-than-impressive 7-0 win over Hamtramck. PICKS: The Cranes have that Ichabod look about them, take Cranbrook, Lutheran N'west at Luth. Westland: The Crusaders (2-2) routed Detroit Holy Redeemer last week, 35-0, while Lutheran High Westfand suffered its first defeat against Grosse Pointe University-Liggett. This series has belonged to the Warriors and Indications are that it should stay that way from another year. PICKS: Warriors start another winning streak.

Red Thurston at D.H. Annapolls (1:30 p.m.): Both teams are trying to escape the cellar of the Tri-River League. Thurston (0-4) needs an offensive spark, but where is it going to come from? The Cougars (1-3) own a victory over New Boston Huron (in their opener). They're coming off a 26-12 loss last week to Taylor Truman. PICKS: You could make a case for the Eagles, who are long overdue, but Emons takes Annapolis. O'Meara thinks the time Is now for Thurston.

Redford CC vs. Det. DePorres (2 p.m. at Det. Lutheran West): The two teams split last year, but CC won the return battle in the Catholic League championship by a convincing 31-0 count. De-Porres (3-1), is led by tailback Charles Winters and defensive back? wide receiver Adrian Edwards. The Eagles' only loss occurred in their opener down at Cincinnati Moeller, 21-12. PICKS: CC finds a way to Bishop Borgess vs. Riv. Gab. Richard (7:30 p.m. at Riverview High): In a preseason poll, Borgess (1-3) was picked slightly ahead of Riverview Gabriel Richard (0-4) in the Catholic League's Tri-Sectional circuit. Spartan coach Walt Bazylewicz was practically tongue-tied about his team's performance last week, a 33-8 loss to Oxchard Lake St. Mary. PICKS: Walt should have a little more to say this week after his Spartans edge Richard.

St. Adatha vs. R.O. Shrine (7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Fleid): The unbeaten Aggies (4-0) should be tested in this critical C-Section matchup. Former Tri-Sectional member Shrine (2-2) won last week in its C-Section debut, 34-0 over Dearborn St. Alphonsus. The Aggles, meanwhile, smoked Ann Arbor Gabriel Richard last Sunday, 27-8, Fullback/finebacker:Jim Schwartz leads the Knights. PICKS: Emons says Shrine, the C-Section preseason pick, spoils the Aggles' night. O'Meara sees St. Agatha with a 5-0 record.

Winning ugly

Spartans sloppy, but take victory

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

From a strategic standpoint, too much advantage was no advantage Monday for host Livonia Stevenson in its boys soccer game against Plymouth Canton.

From a bottom-line perspective, the undefeated and top-ranked Spartans (10-0-1) played it right and claimed a: 2-0 victory over their Western Lakes Activities Association opponent.

Stevenson, which got goals from seniors Matt Jacobs and Travis Roy, of the game.

But too many bodies in tight quarters prevented the Spartans, who outshot Canton 20.6, from finishing. on more of their chances, according to Stevenson coach Wally Barrett.

"We're having some difficulty creating offense when we're always in the other team's portion of the field," he said. "Unless our forwards are right on the money, it gets pretty crowded in there.

"WE WON ugly. But some days that's the breaks you get, and it's better than losing ugly.

Stevenson peppered the Canton (8-4-1) goal early in the game with shots by Todd Krzisnik, Roy, Matt

Grodzicki, Jeff Thomas and Dave Matovski. But opposing goalkeeper Ryan Henkel made, some big saves and frustrated the Spartans until Jacobs scored with four minutes left in the first half. Craig Vanraemdowck had an assist on the goal.

"In games like this, your team has a tendency to get frustrated and to dominated the action and kept pres- get red cards," Barrett said. "I was. sure on the Canton defense for most, pleased, even though we weren't having a good game, that we kept our cool."

The Chiefs were on the attack in the second half when, a quick reversal led to a penalty kick for Stevenson after Adam Carriere was tackled on a breakaway. Henkel got a hand on the shot by Roy but couldn't stop it.

"We might have scored one goal, but I knew we weren't going to get two," Canton coach Don Smith. "The klds kept playing hard, but we need a break. We need a goal. When you put one in the goal, it does wonders for the kids' legs.

"I thought we played as hard as we could. We didn't play over our heads; otherwise, we might have gotten them. Maybe that's what we need to do and realize we can beat them." SENIOR MATT Stable got his sixth shutout in goal for the Spartans, and Barrett had praise for senlor defender Scott Wiggins, who marked Canton leading scorer Chris

Hayes.

Stevenson, which was wrongly assumed to have a loss by the coaches voting in the statewide poll, returned to No. 1 in the Class A rankings after Redford Catholic Central lost to Warren DeLaSalle last week.

"It's too early in the season to be of major significance," Barrett said. 'It's a pleasant feeling, but we don't place a high value on it."

Smith was impressed by the Stevenson performance. The Chiefs, who also lost to No. 2 Churchill and tied No. 9 Plymouth Salem, dropped from the top 10 after losing 3-1 Saturday to Ann Arbor Huron.

"They're good; I guess that's why they're No. 1," he said of the Spar-; tans. "They're very quick and physical, and they win the balls in the air.

Churchill slows the ball down and tries to methodically wear you down. Stevenson plays a more wide-open game. They like to send it down; there and go after it."

Churchill runs standing to 10-1-2

Livonia Churchill continued its winning ways in boys soccer, blanking a pair of foes earlier this week.

The state-ranked Chargers ran their overall record to 10-1-2 with a 4-0 triumph Monday at Farmington Harrison in a Western Division match in the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Churchill jumped out to a 2-0 halftime lead on on goals by Dario Rauker (assist Mike Gentile) and Gentile. Senior midfielder Dominic Vella made it 3-0 at the 25-minute mark of the second half. Corky Golden drew the assists. Goran Rauker then closed out the scoring from brother Dario as vision game without a loss. Goalie Kal Kaliszewski, who made four saves, posted the shutout.

Churchill won its fourth straight di-perhaps its best effort of the year, blanking host Rochester, 5-0. The Falcons fell to 6-5 overall.

Gentile and Golden each scored. twice for the winners. Vella also added a goal.

Scott Lamphear contributed two assists, while Gentile and Vince Troiani chipped in with one aplece.

FRANKLIN 3, FARMING-

TON 2: Sophomore center-striker Victor Rodopoulos scored a goal and added two assists Monday, leading host Livonia Franklin (6.5) to the WLAA over the Fal-Franklin trailed 1-0 at halftime, but rallied with three second-half goals -Rodopoulos, Guillermo Cazares (from Rodopoulos and Matt Schmidt) and Bill Binkiewicz (from Rodopoulos).

Both of Farmington's goals were out of the season.

On Saturday, Churchill turned in scored by Franklin players. Mike Giese was credited with the first goal.

> REDFORD - CC -9. U-D JESUIT 0: Rich Walos and Anthony Verino each netted a pair of goals Tuesday, lifting Redford Catholic Central (10-1 overall) to the Catholic League win over University of Detroit-Jesuit in a Central Division match at Bell Creek

Zavagnin and Walos contributed two assists apiece, while Sullivan, Kopmeyer and Verino each had one. Goaliekeeper Tim Bober, subbing for the injured Jeff Sawicki (wrist), made four saves.

It was state-ranked CC's seventh shut-

Ladywood bench comes through

Andrea Putti came off the bench to score all 12 of her points in the second half, propelling Livonia Ladywood to a 53-48 girls basketball victory Tuesday at Dearborn Divine Child.

Ladywood is now 7-3 overall and 1-1 in the Catholic League's Central Division. DC fell to 0-2 in the Central. The host Falcons enjoyed a 30-22 halftime lead before the Blazers stormed back with a 36-23 second half. Ladywood missed 11 straight free throws in the first half, but rallied to hit four straight in the final two

"We went full-court man-to-man the whole game, but we had better pressure in the second half," Ladywood coach Ed Kavanaugh said.

Mary Jo Kelly paced the winners with 16 points, including a pair of three-pointers. Sophomore forward Tara Wasiak also contributed 12 of the bench.

On Saturday, Ladywood went on to down host West Bloomfield in a suspended game (from Sept. 3) by a 60-36 margin. Kelly paced the victors with 21 points, while Tracy Prybylski added 15.

Kellie Conover tallied 16 for the Lakers, now 3-6 The game was suspended last month because of a power outage. Ladywood led 12-8 with 3:28 remaining in the first period when play was stopped.

STEVENSON 37, GARDEN CITY 31: In a sluggish non-league battle Tuesday, host Livonia Stevenson (6-1) held the Cougars (3-7) without a field goal in the final period to chalk up the win. Stevenson trailed at intermission, 21-17, but rebounded in the second half, outscoring GC 12-7 in the third period and 8-3 in the decisive fourth. "We used a zone (defense) in the first half and Garden City girls basketball

was able to get a lot of shots off," Stevenson coach Chuck Hebestreit said. "In the second half we went to a man-to-man press and wore them down in the fourth quarter. But Garden City is scrappy team."

Junior forward Karen Groulx paced the Spartans with 10 points. Sophomore guard Mo Drabicki added nine, hitting all three free throws. Senior center Teresa Sarno chipped in with Senior forward Jennifer Horosko of GC paced all scorers with 12. Guard Dawn James added eight, including a pair of three-pointers.

WYANDOTTE 44, WAYNE 28: On Tuesday, the visiting Bears remained unbeaten with the Wolverine A League triumph over the Zebras.

Wyandotte, now 7-0 overall and 2-0 in the league, were led by Lisa Overholt and Lisa Aporff, who tallied 10 and nine points, respectively.

Wayne Memorial, a dismal three of 20 from the free throw line, got 12 points from Zenobia Davis and seven from Jenny

The Zebras, outscored 23-12 in the second half, slipped to 3-4 overall and 1-1 in the Wolverine A#

HARPER WOODS 36, CLARENCEVILLE 13: In a Metro Conference encounter Tuesday, the visiting Pioneers (5-3, 2-1) used Jenny Matthes' game-high 13 points to bounce Livonia Clarenceville (3-5, 1-2).

Junior Bree Lyons notched five of the Trojans' 13 points. "The deciding factor was their (Harper Woods) height," Clarenceville coach Bob Wolf said. "They started a front line" of 6-2, 6-2 and 6-1.

WENTY OF Ireland's most acclaimed traditional singers, musicians, dancers and storytellers ranging in age from 18 to 60 are coming to Detroit on an 18-city tour through the United States and Canada.

Jigs, hornpipes, polkas and reels, as well as the sounds of harps, fiddles, tin whistles, banjos, flutes and ulleann pipes, await Comhaltas Ceoltoiri Eireann concert-goers. The show is set for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, at Mercy College's MacCauley Auditorium, 8200 W. Outer Drive in Detroit.

The concert will offer a glimpse of the real Ireland "and the authentic traditions of the Irish, as practiced in their homes for centuries," said event corchair Dan O'Kennedy of Livonia. "They perform with panache, vitality and professional-

Among the show's headliners will be All-Ireland fiddler Anne O'Connor of Limerick, renowned for her interpretation of Irish airs as well as for her traditional playing of reels and figs." She has to be tops in Ireland." said O'Kennedy.

FIDDLER BRIAN Lavery of Derry currently holds the All-Ireland Senior Fiddle title, one of the most coveted awards in the world of traditional music.

"He's also a first class dancer. He's great," said O'Kennedy.

Dancer Carol Leavy, who hails from Louth, last year was named Senior Ladies World Champion in... Irish dancing.

Other performers include flutist Deirdre Havelin of Antrim; Dublin piper Ivan Goff; concertina player Micheal O Raghallaigh of Meath; flutist Thomas Doorley of Dublin; and singer Gerard McQuaid of Monaghan.

It was founded by a group of farsighted people, who recognized that the traditional expressions of Irish culture were falling into disuse and were being replaced by more modern forms of entertainment," added the Irish-born Devine. With 30 people in the cast, an actor could start to feel a little anonymous in "Inherit the Wind," the Jerome Lawrence and Robert E. Lee dramatization of the 1925 Scopes "monkey trial" in Tennessee.

"Every time you do a role it expands you," said Birmingham Seaholm grad Richard Schrot, 32, who portrays a reporter for Reuters, an international news agency based in Britain, and radio announcer Harry Y. Esterbrook.

"THIS is a study in concentration,

The courtroom drama pits Booth Colman, as Clarence Darrow (renamed Henry Drummond in the play) against the Bible-chanting prosecuting attorney, Williams Jennings Bryan (renamed Matthew Harrison Brady) portrayed by Arthur Beer.

While the two battle over a teacher's right to teach Darwin's theory of evolution, Schrot embellishes the scene - frantically taking notes as a reporter, and after a quick 31/2 minute change, bringing radio in the courtroom for the first time.

"An actor has to know when it's time to draw attention to himself, and when it's time to step back. In the play, I don't say very much, but you see me observing the courtroom scene, meticulously taking notes --this is going to be on the front page.

To prepare for the role, Schrot said he watched reporters covering presidential press conferences on

"There's a tremendous amount of excitement in the courtroom. The son of John and Eileen Schrot of West Bloomfield, Richard is one of 11 children. All but two live in the area. He earned his bachelor of fine arts degree at Wayne State University and received a scholarship to study acting at Illinois State Univer-

After earning a master's degree he went to work in Chicago and performed with the Victory Garden Theatre, Raven Theatre, Absolute Theatre and Illinois Shakespeare Festival.

A year ago, he and his wife, Patty, a who grew up in Walled Lake and has a career in restaurant management, decided to move back to Michigan to be closer to their families. They bought a house in White Lake.

"My wife is very supportive of my career," said Schrot. "There's only one time she got upset with me. I was auditioning for a part in Chicago all day. I lost track of time and didn't think to call her. Finally, I got the part. I was so excited and called her. 'You can't take that part,' she said. Why? 'Because it's our wedding day.' Of course she had a right to be upset, but that was the only time."

SINCE MOVING back to the area, Schrot has not been without work.

"The pickings are slimmer in the Detroit area. I'm not ruling out modeling, industrial films or commercials. I have an agent and I've been getting calls," he said.

"Inherit the Wind" is his first production as an Actor's Equity card holder, (Actor's Equity is the professional actor's union.) Schrot has appeared in other productions at the Meadow Brook Theatre including "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "A Christmas Carol," and "Barefoot in

'Return Engagements' delightfully fun show

Performances of the Birmingham Village Players pro-Huction of "Return, Engageiffents" continue through Oct. 3 Alle playhouse in Birmingham, on the corner of Hunter Boulevard and Chestnut Street, south of Maple For ticket information call the box office at 644-2075 anytime,

"With "Return Engagements," a romantic comedy by Bernard Stade the Birmingham Village Players open their season with a yery, funny, well-acted production that is irresistibly engaging.

The play's six scenes cover a period of 32 years as four couples at different times visit and then revisit a room in a guest house near Stratford, Ontarlo. Their lives eventually interwine as the play humorously examines the inexplicable twists and turns of love.

In the first scene, "Chemistry," Dalsy Lawrence (Cara Bielski) is an aspiring, up-tight actress which checks into the guest house at the flight before her wedding, and finds herself strangely attracted to the clumsy bellboy, Raymond MacKay (Ken Ebaugh). He is the one person who can make her laugh, and Raymond finds her dazzling.

In "Genes," the second scene, aging Polish immigrant Miranda Jab-Jonski (Gail Sahney) longs to have a baby, and for that purpose has carefully selected and hired construction worker Joe Bristol (Steve Tadevic). Although a mutual love develops, pre-existing circumstances interfere.

In "Passing Fancies," Fern and Oliver Edwards (Joyce Clouthier and Paul Hoffmaster) are a sophisticated divorcing couple who spend a last weekend together to utilize their Stratford theater tickets. Each plans to re-marry soon, and, as all this is very civilized and friendly, their newly-intendeds have also become acquainted. The latter, insipid dentist Henry Metcalf (Dennis Wrosch) and bubble-head Dawn Hammond (Diana McClain), turn up at the guest house with a surprise announce-

The second act repeats each of the scenes 20 to 25 years later. The well-constructed play not only has a wealth of witty dialogue but also offers characters so believable that one truly looks forward to the update on their lives.

Bielski is polished and droll as the actress whose career and personal life both see-saw after her night at the guest house, and her comic timing is excellent. Ebaugh is very good with the difficult task of making the bungling Raymond both credible and endearing.

As Miranda, Sahney is wonderful at conveying the character's earthy warmth, extraordinary insight, and self-deprecating humor. She also handles the Polish accent deftly. Tadevic is excellent at giving his character tenderness and depth, and his second act transformation into self-confidence works very well.

Hoffmaster is thoroughly convincing as the acerbic, egotistical Oliver, a columnist overly impressed with his own intellect. Despite a few line problems in the first act last Saturday night, he has a strong comic delivery. Clouthier gives Fern a cloying smugness, a humorous twist for a psychology therapist who never seems to fully understand her own personal life.

Wrosch is amusing as the hopelessly dull dentist who borders on nerdy. McClain's Dawn is the only one of the four-some who grows and matures in the intervening years, and she does an engaging transformation from perky bimbo to confident, capable wife and mother.

If it's a '55 Chevy, too much restoration won't cut it

Normally, even the smell of a dab into fits of nostalgia, so I was wondering why I was left sort of cold by the immaculately restored '55 Chevy, sitting off in the corner to decorate a press event introducing the 1992 models.

Supposedly It was a '55 Chevy like. we dreamed of back then, with a polished, bright yellow paint job the likes of which never came off a Chevrolet assembly line, and the interior of the engine compartment white-glove tidy. Clearly somebody's fantasy of a restoration intended to bring back someone's long-lost youth.

To get me going, or should I say rewound back to the Oak Drive-In of Brylcream is enough to send me : and the grand opening of American. International's "Killer Shrews." there were lots of problems with

> For one thing, it ran. The only guy I knew who had a '55 Chevy had this magic ignition system that generally only worked long enough to pick up four or more guys (girls were out of the question, for reasons which I will clarify later) - just long enough to get us out to the vicinity of Long Lake Road, which was pretty desolate at the time. Then it would guit and we had to push to get the thing started, which on at least one occasion got it going just long enough to skid off the road, take down a mailbox, and bend the steering gear to the point it took two cars full of irate.

parents to get us all home.

Likewise, this alleged '55 Chevy on display was painted all one color:

Nobody had a car all one color. The way you could tell if a guy really owned a car, instead of borrowing one from a relative, or his mother, was because all the chrome pieces painted over the mounting holes with gray primer. This was preparation for a com-lete leaded-out look a la James Dean, the sort of project that never got done, except for the holes and primer.

Close scruting of the gussled-up nostalgia "55 Chevy also revealed that the Chevrolet bow-tle emblem were pried off and a big blotch was. was intact. On our cars this was the first to go. If you were stupid enough not to recognize a Chevy on Wood-

The phony Chevy also lacked a name painted on the right rear fender. This was done for the same reason you pried off the Chevy emblem and spotted the car with primer, Names were a little corny (one I remember was a white '52 Ford called' White Fang), and in some ways were an invitation to graffiti. Like when a guy I knew came out of school and found a row of footprints painted across the hood and roof of his '53 DeSoto that sort led off to nowhere.

But the biggest problem of all with that immaculate restoration was the fact that it looked like new. Better than new, in fact, having been done by the Chevrolet Racing Shop which preps Indy racers.

Nobody ever had a new '55 Chevy. New '55 Chevys were bought by insurance salesmen, who gave them to their wives, who drove them until eventually they landed at Six Mile and Livernois under a row of waving pennants. By then, they had the back seat carved by dog toenalls, and holed rubber floor mats covering the rusted floorboards.

The engine, of course, was a V-8, still solld after all that abuse, and that was reason enough to put gas station wages down and drive one off, headed, for the nearest auto parts store to buy the primer and a few tools to get started making a 55 Chevy look the way it should.

Michael Vallee, president of Fidelity Bank, also was struck by that aspect of Kanter's speech.

Novelist-to-be authors word processing utility

By Doug Funke staff writer

Necessity really was the mother of invention in the latest venture of J. Marshall Robbins, a businessman turned race car driver turned writer turned businessman turned writer turned businessman.

The Bloomfield Hills resident, 49. has developed a computer program, Perfect Key, which he says substantially uncomplicates WordPerfect, a widely used word processing pro-

"I was sitting here (at a computer) working on a second novel." Robbins said. "Cats have to romp. One came in and hit the wall full bore. It' knocked out the cord, and I lost about three hours of work.

"I made up my mind then to get a -word processing program with a 'save' function - WordPerfect," he said. "It's very powerful, but not particularly easy to use or learn."

Robbins said the problem with WordPerfect is it is too complex and takes too long to perform many functions. Perfect Key, he said, reorganizes the keyboard layout, groups related features and essentially eliminates the need to memorize a keyboard layout.

Perfect Key also reduces the keystrokes necessary to peform various functions, he added.

Perfect Key adds a style library that enables users to begin writing letters and envelopes without having to create formats, adds easy to read and understand help screens, and simplifies complex functions like merging and changing initial setttalked with a friend from Inacomp, and he said, 'Marshall, you may have a product here."

THAT WAS a year and a half ago. Robbins worked with Elizabeth Hughes to refine the program. Then they hired a professional programmer to convert their program to machine code.

Robbins-jand Hughes, workingpractically alone, wrote the instructional booklet, designed the template of functions to fit the keyboard, the box in which the product is shipped and promotional brochures.

Robbins packages most of the products himself while Hughes, who has taken a leave of absence from studies at the University of Michigan to work with him, handles publicity.

"That's the thing I'm most proud of - we did it ourselves," said Robbins, who said he's spent more than $50,000 on the venture so far.

They recently found a major distributor, Software Resource of California, referred by WordPerfect.

Its job is to distribute the program to 14,000 stores throughout the country, Software Resource, which placed an initial order of 50, was impressed with Perfect Key.

"THE PRODUCT does have great potential. The packaging is wonderful," said Linda Upcraft, director of marketing. "WordPerfect has such a share of the market that any good product add-on should see good suc-

Robbins and Hughes also have demonstrated an ability to advertise and promote their product, Upcraft.

"Software Resource normally takes a month to get a product eval-uated," Robbins said. "They put us at the top of the list, called us the nextday, and we had a contract within the next week."

Perfect Key, which will list for When you write or use a program $69.95 after an introductory special lot, you know what's important. I of $49.95, is only the most recent chapter of Robbins' life.

He became chairman of the James M. Robbins Trust at age 24 after the death of his parents and brother in an airplane crash. He had graduated with a business degree from U-M just two years earlier.

The assets of the trust included the Jim Robbins Co. a manufacturer of auto parts, and the Jim Robbins Seat Belt Co., at one time the largest producer of seat belts in the world.

ROBBINS RACED in Sports Car Club of America events through the early and middle 1970s, winning rookle-of-the-year honors and a couple of national championships.

He sold most of his father's companies by 1977, then occupied his time managing investments and writing a novel that wasn't pub-

Robbins and a partner established Technosports in the late 1980s to supply specialized products to the racing industry. He sold his interest a couple of years later and was working on a second novel when he got involved with Perfect Key.

"It was not like we sat down and said, 'Jeez, I want to start a new company. What shall I do?' "Robbins said. "It didn't come out of the boardroom where people were sitting around wondering, 'What are we going to do next?'

"It came out of necessity. If there is ever a classic example of necessity being the mother of invention, it's Hughes said she had no qualms about putting her schooling on hold to work with Robbins on the project. She reasoned that it's not every day that you have the opportunity to build a business from the ground up.

"I FIGURE school will be there next year," she said.

Frank Gofrank, a trustee of the James Robbins Trust, has known Marshall Robbins for more than 30

"He can discipline himself. That's what it takes," Gofrank said. "He has a very creative mind. If anything, Marshall sometimes gets involved in too many things. Some get pushed to the side."

J. Marshall Robbins's energy these days is devoted to building his Perfect Key computer program business during the next several years. After wearing a number of different hats in business, he ultimately wants to get back to writing. "I think there's a special feeling when the words are right. Plus, it's more lasting. What could be more creative?"

Focus. Fast. Flexible. Friendly. The four F's for

That's the prescription for business success presented by Rosabeth Moss Kanter, professor of business administration at Harvard University and editor of the Harvard Bysiness Review.

Kanter delivered the message Tuesday to several hundred business people, administrators, educators and students at the annual Business Forum Luncheon sponsored by Oakland University.

The world we're managing is chaotic, less predictable," she said. "The tools we use change so rapidly. People are now more demanding about what they ought to get out of a job today because they don't know where they'll be tomorrow.

"Customers have more choices, are less loyal and more flexible. They can shop the world literally not only for products, but increasingly for services.

Just when you think you have all factors under control, the whole structure of the game changes."

KANTER'S RESEARCH and personal contacts indicate that organizations that focus on the four-F approach seem to have the best chance of surviving chang-

"Focus is one of today's hottest buzz words when it comes to strategies. We can't afford to spread resources any more over areas we don't understand.

"Organizations are also saying, "We no longer have to do a bunch of unrelated activities just because we have employees coming to work every day.

"It's not enough that people at the top know the focus. Is it transferred into hearts, minds, actions and jobs throughout the organization who have to execute strate-

People at the top can pontificate all they want. Those down the line ultimately make things happen, she said. "Reward systems clearly need to be attuned to focus." She advocated pay for performance, contingent rewards and bonuses. "One of the best tools any organization has for spreading focus is who is recognized, who gets thanked, who are the role models for getting it right?"

FAST AND FLEXIBILITY go hand-in-hand and often result from a team approach to work, Kanter said.

"You need an atmosphere open to experimentation. All innovations are jokes in the beginning. You also have to be able to lean across boundaries of a company. I know of at least two banks that are thinking about eliminating titles for more horizontal collaboration."

Cable guides absorb shoppers

The Suburban Pennysaver, a area — sales, business and composiweekly direct-mail, zoned advertising shopper, is no more — except in Livonia and Walled Lake.

Plans are to expand Suburban Cable Weekly, a cable TV guide included as an insert in some editions of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers and HomeTown Newspapers, to carry ads formerly conveyed by Pennysaver.

All of those publications are owned by Suburban Communications Corp. headquartered in Livonia.

"The purpose is to offer loyal Pennysaver readers cable listings matched to the community and offer cable readers values listed by community businesses," said Audrey Olmstead, general manager of Advertising Systems, Farmington Hills. That SCC subsidiary puts together the cable guide and Pennysaver. Macomb County editions of the Suburban Pennysaver and Suburban Auto Connection were folded Monday. Some 30 Advertising Systems employees in the Mount Clemens

"The reduction in available advertising dollars, combined with metro-Detroit's intensely competitive print media and direct mail climate with no sign of an upturn in the immediate future - have made it impractical for us to continue publication of the Macomb County editions of The Suburban Pennysaver," said Richard D. Other Pennysavers directed to West Side consumers and at least one cable guide published by O&E have been discontinued after failing to meet financial expectations.

Direct mail can be a two-edged sword for advertisers, Olmstead

"We can guarantee it will hit 100 percent of homes, but mailing is expensive," she said. "A blend (cable guide/Pennysaver) will still reach a large number of homes at much less the cost. We did this not only because of the mall expense, but because it makes sense for the reader.

"My short-term goal is to make existing suburban cable weeklies even more successful with the inclusion of community business (ads)," Olmstead said.

Her long-term goal is to launch more Suburban Cable weeklies with listings corresponding to local channels in other O&E communities like Birmingham, Livonia and Red-

A cabbie's day: dirty talk and dial-a-ride

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

Rain or shine, it's always a fare day for a cab driver.

As John Foster wheels his No. 58 Yellow & Red taxl onto Merriman Road on this sultry morning, he is a solitary figure competing with other vehicles on the road leading every place where someone else has to be. He's in a hurry. Then again he's not.

"You're your own boss," said Foster, 27, a former Westland resident. "You meet some interesting people."

That, and sometimes the tips aren't bad either. Foster has been a cab driver for 11/2 years. He heard about the job from a friend, who told him Northwestern Transportation in Livonia was looking for drivers.

For a guy who's installed water beds, put up aluminum siding and worked behind the counter at a 7-Eleven, being behind the wheel of a cab didn't sound too bad. In fact, Foster rather likes his job.

On a given day, Foster transports out-of-town businessmen, seniors, drunks and the odd punk rocker or. two. Most of them have a story to

And Foster has a bartender's ear. Instead of serving a cocktail and

"I'll have seniors who will tell me, 'Oh I can't see as well as I used to' or they tell you about their medical problems," he said. "I'll say something like, 'Oh you're still young' or 'There's more to life than just sitting and doing nothing.' I try to make them happy."

PERHAPS FOSTER doesn't fit the role of the stereotypical surly, cigar chomping hack. Then again, this. Drivers are also charged $5 a day is not the big city teeming with taxis for gas and insurance. Foster puts swooping in to pick up pedestrians the money into a Tupperware bowl linea up on the corner.

Most fares are radioed in to driv-pends on courtesy and regular cus,. tomers. Which is why Tom Peterson, said he looks at an applicant's attitude as well as his driving record.

"If someone has a complaint, they can talk to me personally," said Thompson, who is the general manager of Northwestern Transportation.

On this day, there will be no grievances filed against Foster. His first call doesn't involve shuttling a human, rather he carts office dispatch from one office to another, ironically for a shipping company.

"Why ask," said Foster with a shrug. "It's business for us."

Afterward, a summons for cab number 5-8 crackles over the twoway radio. A fare walts on Warren and Wayne roads. Foster jots down the location and is off.

As Foster turns westbound onto Plymouth Road, the key chain dangles from the ignition with Garfield holding a sinister feline grin and a slogan of "Eat My Dust." Foster notes he's a careful driver.

HE MENTIONS his record was perfect until last October when his taxi veered out to change lanes and was clipped from behind. Nobody was hurt.

"Driving is a common sense" wiping a counter, he steers and lis-thing," he said. "A lot of people don't · have common sense while they're driving.

Walkers hope to harvest tons (of money) for CROP

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

On Sunday, Oct. 6, a few hundred people will gladly heed the call to

In this case, it will be for the eighth annual Livonia CROP Walk for the Hungry, which has raised more than $75,000 in the past for food programs both locally and abroad.

More than 300 people are expected to participate in the 10-kilometer walk that begins 1:30 p.m. at St. Timothy Presbyterian Church, 16700 Newburgh, Livonia.

Seventy-five percent of money raised goes to CROP, a world service organization dedicated to the elimination of global hunger. Twenty-five percent goes to Christian Community Council's "Meals for Shut-ins" program and St. Vincent de Paul Food Depot in Westland.

"In terms of the community, this event is a real opportunity for churches and other organizations to say there is a God that cares for people and for the world," said the Rev. Jim Spilos, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church and coordinator of this year's walk. "We try to show that in a way that is visible."

What is also visible is the increasing number of participants and churches involved in the annual. event. And, as a result, more money has been raised in the most recent CROP walks.

LAST YEAR, contributions totaled $15,210. This year, the goal is $20,000 with organizers looking for 300-350 people to participate.

"Those (goals) are in reach," Spi-

Such gushing optimism couldn't be found a few years ago. The Livonia CROP Walk was suffering from an apparent lack of interest, mainly from a large part of the estimated 60-plus church community in the

After bringing in $11,163 in 1986, the Livonia CROP contributions slumped to $8,941 in 1987 and $9,837 in 1988. Joyce Barton, who is publicity chairwoman for the event, said fallout from the PTL and Jimmy Swaggart scandals might have been part of the problem.

The Rev. Ronald Cary coordinated the CROP walk in 1987, '88 and '89 and complained publicly at the time

CROP walkers got help from the Livonia Police Department while crossing Six Mile Road during last year's fund-raising about the lack of an ecumenical movement in the city.

Things are beginning to change on

This year, 20 churches are scheduled to participate, representing both Protestant and Orthodox denominations. As a result, Spilos said the walk has become one of the largest ecumenical events of the year.

More Catholic churches are involved. Carol Savage, one of the recruitment chairpersons, attributes the problem in the past to a lack of awareness.

Last year, Savage and others began to rectify the situation. They targeted youth groups at Catholic churches in order to get more people involved.

IT'S ALL what we're meant to be doing anyhow," said Savage, who is director of Christian Service at St. Edith Catholic Church. "It's good we can do it together."

Such spirit helps fuel camaraderie during the walk, which extends down Newburgh to Five Mile Road and then up Farmington to Six Mile. Organizers have fond memorles of CROP walks from the past eight

The first Livonia CROP Walk took place in 1984, starting from St. Andrew's Episcopal Church. The first trek for charity covered 10 miles as opposed to 10-kilometers (6.2 miles).

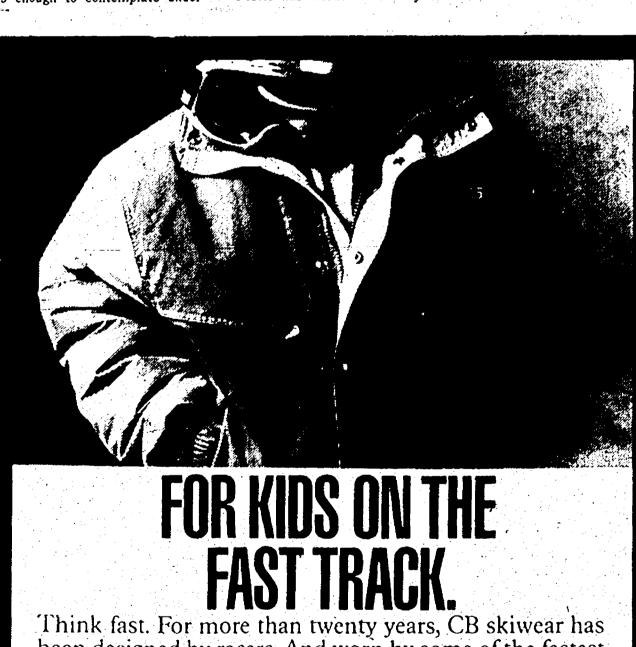

"We had a few stragglers . . . After 6 o'clock, we had to go out looking for them," said Barton, who has been involved with all eight CROP

The day itself is usually a rather joyous occasion, according to Barton. Runners, joggers along with people in strollers, wagons and wheelchairs account for the participants, who have sponsors pledge money for their efforts.

The walk also draws attention from curious residents and passersby, who want to know the purpose. One man who lives on Farmington Road hands out flowers from his garden to walkers as they pass his

Writer is reserved and cautious

Dear Lorene,

Thank you for the opportunity to bave my handwriting analyzed. I am 49 years old and am right handed: I have never been happy with my handwriting and have always envied other people's beautiful penmanship.

Bloomfield Hills

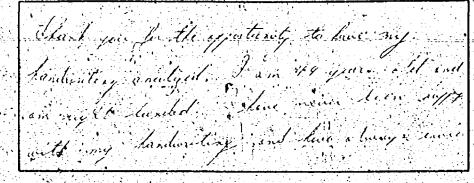

In today's column, we will be examining the handwriting of a woman who is reserved and somewhat cautious. Friendships are not made easily, nor does she like a lot of emotional involvement. She tends to hold others at arm's length.

Our writer is idealistic. Her early life training was rather strict. She thinks in terms of black and white with a limited concept of gray. Quite possibly she did not see her parents unified in their child rearing. Father may have been the strict one. And though well-intentioned, his training did little to promote feelings of good self-esteem.

Still she clings to the security of her past. She takes few risks and sticks with what she knows best. It is difficult for her to accept new ideas or concepts. Her outward behavior conforms to standards which are acceptable to those who mean most to her. She is ever the lady,

Work is performed in a careful manner. She is efficient and neat and uses her time to good advantage. This is not a quitter! Strong determination does not allow her to give up until she has completed her work and met her own inner standards.

Nervous energy helps to keep her

Pervasive in this handwriting is a restlessness. I feel she is either searching for something or trying to get away from a situation. She feels a need to be in control at all times.

Our writer tends to be self critical. Presently, she appears to be dissatisfied with either her work-situation or she might like it to be and it is bothering her.

Discretion is noted in choosing the people she wishes to share her lelsure time. Those with similar interests and values would probably be her first choice. Seemingly, she sometimes experiences aggressive. Reclings toward men. There is a modicum of humor here which could. help her carry it off with a spark of wit, perhaps.

This handwriting carries an optimistic outlook. She is not, however, totally free of shifting moods. These sometimes occur without a great deal of provocation, but I don't see them getting out of control.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at-36251Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white unlined paper, writing in the. first-person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all. helpful. And objective feedback is always welcome.

LCEA observes Sharing Day '91

By Larry O'Connor staff writer

The Livonia Childbirth Education Association has helped couples get through the fears, pain and joys of delivering an estimated 12,000 bables

No totals on dirty diapers ensuing the thousands of child births, though, are given.

Such a figure, though, would probably correspond with the number of questions expectant parents come loaded with to the six week childbirth education classes it offers. And mommasand daddies to be are usually as thirsty for knowledge as a saltine cracker taste lester in a sand

The association was established to answer such concerns. In addition to the six-week sessions, the non-profit and volunteer-based group offers breast-feeding classes and two-week refreshercourses for parents. Courses are offered in Garden City, Redford, Westland and Novi in addition • to Livonia.

Instruction is provided by registered nurses, such as Faye McIntire and Cheryl Marrone, both childbirth educators and mothers themselves. Through their experiences as teachers and moms, the Livonia residents say they have learned one

'There's no right or wrong way to have birth,' said Marrone, who is treasurer of the association and a nurse with a Farmington Hills obstetrician.

CLASSES COVER information on labor and delivery, breathing and relaxation techniques, Caesarean preparation and anesthesia and medications as well as emotional issues such as family adjustment.

Instructors will take time out 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, to play host to "Michigan Sharing Day 1991" at St. Matthew United Methodist Church, 30900 W. Six Mile, Livonia. The program is sponsored by the International Childbirth Education Association, a Minneapolis, Minn-based group that supports family-centered maternity Topics and speakers include "Ten Point Plan on Stress Management" by Jon Motschell, professor at the University of Detroit; "Second Stage Labor:

A Midwifery Perspective" by Patty Brennan, midwife and author, and "Diverse Philosophies" and Preparation of Childbirth Educators in a Hospital Setting" and "The New Professional Role of Labor 'Assistant" by Jane Bentley-Konkel, coordinator of Childbirth Education at Sinal Hospital.

Registration is $20, which includes lunch. Although the workshop has childbirth educators and health-care professionals in mind, the program developed so "consumers" can understand.

"CLIENTS ARE more consumers of the medi-cal services. . . . They're the key participants opposed to the doctors, nurses and staff," said McIntire, vice president of the association and a childbirth educator at Oakwood Hospital. "They're expected to make decisions when they go in to have their bables.'

The decisions involved can be difficult. What hospital to go to, the obstetrician and pediatrician to choose or whether to use a delivery room or birthing room are important factors in giving birth. Even the number of people in the delivery room should be considered, McIntire and Marrone

Courses such as those offered by the association allow couples to explore all options. Topical issues, such as Caesarean childbirth and the use of ; medications during delivery, are discussed.

Previous belief was once a woman had a C-section, all deliveries had to be performed that way. Not so, according to Marrone and McIntire.

"We're seeing a lot of refresher couples who had C-sections and are coming back," McIntire

The philosophy of the association is that the "success" of childbirth experience does not depend on whether medication is used. Instructors. offer information on the different types of medi-, cation and leave it to the expecting parents to decide.

ALSO, INSTRUCTION for breathing and relaxation techniques in the delivery room is given. Things such as massaging the mother's back or simply holding her hand help women cope with the pain.

So, too, does soothing music when played during the delivery.

"No matter how much you like heavy metal, it's not going to cut it in the delivery room," McIntire

The Livonia Childbirth Education Association was started in 1975 under the name Lamaze Childbirth Association of Livonia. The group was i started and operated by volunteers. Two years: later, paid personnel took over instruction. The group has eight teachers, all registered nurses.

An estimated 500 couples a year take courses through the association.

For information on the Livonia Childbirth Education Association courses, call 937-0665.

Speaking out

People of faith must learn to work together to solve problems

As World War II began, a pastor, Dietrich Bohhoeffer, saw what was happening and he asked, "Why aren't Christians speaking out?" He concluded that there were two reasons. that people of faith do not speak against evil.

One is that they seek favor from God with as little effort and cost as possible. Today these might be called "consumer Christians."

Consumer-oriented religious people will get as much and as high quality as they can get for the lowest price. They will shop for a church, synagogue or temple. They will make a minimal commitment. They will wait and see what the religious body will offer them. Bonhoeffer called this "cheap grace."

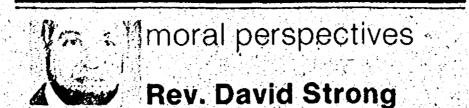

But Bonhoeffer realized there is another reason that religious people, will fail to speak out for good and against evil. It is because they are resigned to the injustices of the world. These are people who have no hope for the world. These are people who do not love the world. These are people who are disinterested in what the next generation will face.

DESPAIR IS in the hearts and minds of many people today. They despair of solving problems. They only hope that they can keep them-selves insulated from the effects of the problems.

One way in which this non-involvement in society is expressed is through an isolation of churches and other religious institutions. The clergy realize more than anyone else. how separate churches are. Some clergy meet in small support groups: The majority do not.

Even more tragic, churches a few blocks from one another will have no contact. They will not speak to the problems of the community. They fail to work together in any effective way. They do not create a force that works for the good of people in any cooperative fashion.

When efforts are made to connect several churches with a community, we are naive about the principles that make cooperative effort effeclive. Several years ago, I read the work of a sociologist who discovered that churches and synagogues will have a powerful impact if they group together to address an issue.

Alone, they are dismissed. Together, they carry impact beyond other such coalitions because they carry a moral message and because it is hard to grasp how many people are truly involved in such efforts.

WE IN DETROIT know that certain groups of pastors have an important political influence in the city. Yet even in these cases how many organize to make a stand? One such positive instance is the way that church leaders and churches fought against casino gambling.

There was much power on the side of the gambling interests. However, the churches were a major force when they organized together to oppose the plan.

Consider how many other significant issues that cooperating churches could address. Racism, a lack of adequate low-income housing, violence, jobs, youth — the list could go on and on.

For someone to say that the church should not get involved in community issues is to me no longer a valid argument. I believe that such talk is simply a symptom either of a body of believers who seek "cheap grace, an inexpensive way into God's favor, or that these are people who have lost hope.

I believe that the theology which of what they already feel deep in Church in Detroit.

Hope for the future must be a collective hope. Nothing is more clear in life today. The churches are still acting as though they have no part in forming the future. By acting in such an isolated way, they make their witness ineffective. Churches certainly realize that they are no longerthe center of attraction in a small village:

We do have a stake in the future. We need to ask ourselves why are we so separate. Why so alienated? Why. will we even in difficult times not seek to cooperate?

It is time that we address this problem. It is time that religious people act for good and resist evil.

Program to focus on needs of sandwich generation

By Julie Brown staff writer

Caring for parents who are getting older can be tough.

Helping members of the "sandwich generation" cope with those demands is the goal of an upcoming program sponsored by Geneva Presbyterian Church in Canton. The "You and Your Aging Parents" series will be held 7-9 p.m. on alternating Sundays, Oct. 27, Nov. 10 and Nov. 24, at the church.

"A lot of people in our church are in that age group," said Tom Hartnett of Canton, elder for adult education at Geneva. Many are in their 40s and coping with the challenges of raising children while also caring for aging parents.

Hartnett has faced that situation: with his parents, who are in their early 80s and living independently in Harper Woods.

"They liked their independence and the freedom," said Hartnett, an attorney with the Wayne County Friend of the Court. He and his siblings looked into assisted living options for their parents.

FOR MANY people, taking care of parents who at one time took care of and raised them is a switch. The role reversal was a change for Hartnett, and that took some getting used to. "We got a lot closer," he said of his relationship with his

The series at the church will begin 7-9 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 27. Speakers will be Sandra Gross and Jan Schultz, social workers who have been instrumental in planning the series, Hartnett said.

Programs such as the one on "You and Your Aging Parents" are helpful for many families, said Gross, a Canton resident and social work supervisor for Renaissance Health Care.

"I think it's extremely important." she said. "It comes up when parents become unable to function in their own home."

Social workers who specialize in home care help family members decide what's the best option. Gross and Schultz plan to present information on community resources available, such as Meals on Wheels, housekeeping help and personal.care assistance.

They'll discuss what happens when assistance put in place by a caregiver is no longer sufficient. The two will cover such options as adult foster care, adult homes for the aged and assisted living facili-

THEY'LL ALSO discuss nursing home placement, including how to go about choosing a nursing home and financial considerations associated with that option.

Gross, a Geneva member, had two grandparents who needed to move into nursing homes. Both are now deceased?

"So, yes, I do have some personal knowledge," she said.

The Sunday, Nov. 10, session will focus on the legal standpoint, including living wills, financial affairs and probate concerns. Hartnett plans to speak, and another attorney may also discuss legal issues that evening.

The Sunday, Nov. 24, session will focus on the religious/moral standpoint and forgiveness. "A lot of people have forgiveness-type issues to work out," Hartnett said.

The series is called: "You and Your Aging Parents," but isn't limited to those caring for their parents. Many people face the demands of caring for aunts, uncles or other family members. They're also welcome to attend the series at Geneva Presbyterian Church, 5835 Sheldon, north of Ford in Canton. Sessions are open to those who aren't members of the church.

There's no charge for the series. Refreshments will be served.

For information, call Geneva Presbyterian Church, 459-0013.

Light, shadows color artwork

Painter freezes dancers' energy with his canvas

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

DRIAN Astrakhan paints dancers, capturing the energy and essence of their art in oil. The Westland artist uses light and shadows to portray the musculature of their highly conditioned bedies in colors ranging from delicate shades of peach, to dark foreboding tones, casting mystery.

"The dancers, their body is their art. Even when they are relaxed, there's an energy about them," Astrakhan said. "The human body is a very dynamic structure. It's endless in its variability."

Astrakhan believes the perfectly conditioned human body is the most beautiful subject matter created in the universe. "I don't want to paint landscapes or still life. They're too static," he said. "I like paintings to have energy, even if it's static energy like in a resting dancer."

Along with dancers, Astrakhan paints canvases of martial artists. Their conditioned bodies challenge an artist's knowledge of anatomy, he said.

"It's a good, legitimate reason to draw the human body. It's never the same twice. It's complex and there's no way to represent it twice the same way," Astrakhan said.

THE PAINTINGS are not busy. There is a quietness, a sensitivity about them. A sparseness of background leaves them uncluttered with mindless matter. There is only the artist and their art.

"I put a lot of effort into my painting," Astrakhan said. "To be fine art, there has to be some caring in it from the artist."

Working out at the barre, an extensively detailed dancer against a dark burgundy, almost black background is spotlighted inside a vertical rectangle. In the bright white light, every muscle is taut, stretched to the ultimate. extended in action.

Astrakhan has been painting oil canvases of dancers for 314 years. He likes to mix colors directly on the canvas. For him, oil paint is the only medium. "What I like about oils is their depth, the intensity of the colors," he said.

There is a mystique about them. The masters all used oils," he added. "You can't mistake an oil for anything Astrakhan likes to work the oils directly. At times, he uses his fingers or paims of his hands to work the paint on canvas. "I like the feel of the oils, their sensualness, their tactile sense. You aren't disconnected from your painting by a brush," Astrakhan said.

UNLIKE THE majority of painters, he shuns working from a photograph. For him, there is one way only to capture the dancer's energy - to work from life.

"I prefer to work from a model that's lit well," Astrakhan said. "Mostly, I use models to get the light - the shadows that one part of the body casts on another.'

In some of the paintings, and parts are obscured, out of focus, shadowy, leading the viewer-away from the face or hands to the muscular strongholds of the body. One such composition depicts an archer practicing Kyudo, the Japanese art of archery.

These are the elements of the painting that I want the viewer to look at," Astrakhan said. "It takes enormous strength and concentration to perform this art correctly. I want them to see the effort, the strain in the abdomen and the arms."

Astrakhan's behind-the-scenes look at dancers, featuring them on point as well as at rest, enchant the viewer. Even when not dancing, their movements endowed with gracefulness, are flowing and lyrical.

Beethoven's Fifth Piano Concerto, a noble and powerful composition, will fill the air with drama as the Livonia Symphony Orchestra opens its 18th season with guest artist Flavio Varani on Saturday, Oct. 5.

Concert time is 8 p.m. in the Churchill High School Auditorium, 8900 Newburgh, Livonia.

Varani, an internationally recognized planist, will perform Ludwig van Beethoven's "Concerto No. 5 in E flat, Op. 73" popularly known as the Emperor Concerto.

Quite honestly, Flavio Varani is one of the best artists around," said conductor Francesco DiBlasi. "The opening concert is going to be a winner."

The 85-member orchestra leads off the season's opening concert with "Overture to Der Freischutz" by Karl von Weber, followed by Varani's guest appearance. The evening concludes with Russian composer Modest Moussorgsky's "Pictures at an Exhibition" with slide presentation by Gordon Draper.

The orchestra decided to open the 1991-92 season with Varani's special appearance in hopes that people would buy season subscriptions.

"I would class the Fifth Piano Concerto as a very heavy concerto," DiBlasi said. "I've specified a ninefoot Steinway for the performance.

VARANI IS artist-in-residence at Oakland University in Rochester Hills where he has been an instructor for 17 years. The Birmingham resident has performed in Poland, Austria, Spain, Italy and the Soviet Union. As a soloist, he appeared with the Brooklyn Philharmonic and has given recitals at Carnegie Hall and Lincoln Center. This year alone, he will perform in France, Germany and South America.

Born in Sao Paulo, Brazil, Varani at age 10 went on tour with the Brazilian National Symphony. At 13, he won the Sao Paulo City Award to study in Paris under Magda Tagliaf-

Nankin Mills — a historical treasure in Westland

BY 1993, Westland hopes to designate its first historic district with Nankin Mills, once a Ford parts plant, as the anchor.

That's the word from Mayor Tom Brown, who chairs the Westland Historical Commission. The area grew around Perrins-ville, settled shortly after Nankin Township's original settlement of Derby Corners, which sprouted on the low road of Michigan Avenue at Wayne Road, now in the city of Wayne.

In its heyday about 1850, Perrinsville flourished as a small commercial center on the high road of Ann Arbor'Trail at Merriman. "On higher ground, Ann Arbor Trail could be traveled year-round by stagecoach between Detroit and Ann Arbor," Brown said.

The coming of the railroad farther south to Wayne contributed to Perrinsville's decline in the late 19th century. The crossroads became part of the new city of Westland in 1966. But its link to the past remains: The Palace Bar contains part of the old stagecoach stop.

SMALL COUNTRY plants improve working conditions because they permit "a more natural life," said Henry Ford I about his 20 rural mills in western Wayne County in the '20s and '30s.

Nankin Mills, at Ann Arbor Trail and Farmington Road in an area once called Plke's Peak, now houses

Wayne County parks system offices, In 1918, Ford, a master improvisor, began to buy 19th-century grist mills as part of a grand plan to build village mill industries along the Rouge, Huron, Raisin and other small rivers.

Ford believed farmers working in an atmosphere of cleanliness and also would include two schoolhouses:

tranquility would restore a proper balance between the industrialized city and rural communities.

DURING THE the slack season, the farmer "could work in the small plants in the farming communities, thus resulting in year-round work, providing the security of farm life. with the increased income afforded. by industry," the Plymouth Historical Museum quotes Ford as saving.

Ford's experiment intrigued American and European planners. But it proved unprofitable.

After World War II, Nankin Mills closed. Nankin Mills gained a new lease on life in 1956, when the Wayne County parks system acquired it.

Westland is in line for a $44,500. state grant to help restore Perrinsville School - if the completion timetable can be moved back. "That money is for materials. We'd have to pay for labor," Brown said.

Brown tells this story about how the Pike's Peak area got its name in the 1890s:

'Some fella went out West and liked it so much, when he came back here, he named the area after Pike's Peak in Colorado. It turned out he had some clout in Washington and got the post office moved from Perrinsville to Pike's Peak."

WESTLAND SET the stage for designating and monitoring historic districts when it named a historic district commission (in effect the historical commission) and adopted a historic district ordinance (which limits exterior renovations but also offers tax incentives).

BEETHOVEN, NEARING total deafness, wrote the Fifth Piano Concerto in 1809, the year Napoleon attacked and conquered Vienna. . .

"For the first time, this was the real heroic concerto. The flat, E flat gave it authority and nobleness. It was meant to be a very noble piece," Varani said. "For the Germans, it was almost folkloric."

"There are forces that propel this piece forward. It's apropos with the liberation of countries all around the world at this time. There's a lot of freedom."

.The Fifth was the last concerto completed by Beethoven. A sixth concerto remained unfinished at the time of his death in Vienna in 1827.

Varani said he's looking forward to performing with the Livonia Sym- . phony Orchestra again. This is his eighth appearance.

"I have played wonderful concerts with the Livonia Symphony. That's why I go back," Varani said. "I have total trust that it's (going to be) a wonderful event." The Livonia Symphony Society is a dancer on point, arching her back while warming up at the barre. The long, lithe figure is singularly chromatic, painted in peaches and brown madder. Virgin canvas surrounds her movement.

Canvas radiates spirit of dancers

Besides the figure, the only other color in the work is a turquoise line, intersecting at an angle just below the center of the painting.

"I didn't want to interfere with the dancer by adding more color," Astrakhan sald.

The painting, elegant in its simplicity, is priced at $500.

Astrakhan works in stretches of time. "I don't like to extend a painting over weeks," he said, "I lose the spontaneity, the energy. I constantly work at bringing real life to a painting, so that it's literally teeming with life."

PENCIL DRAWINGS play a major part in his oil paintings. In Astrakhan's studio, sheets of paper lay scattered on the drawing board. There are a half dozen preliminary sketches of dancers in every pose imaginable.

Garden City to host weekend fine art show

By Linda Ann Chomin special writer

St. David's Episcopal Church, together with the Garden City Fine Arts Association, will hold a fineart show and sale Saturday-Sunday, Oct. 5-6. The church is at 27500 Marquette, Garden City.

Eight artists from Garden City, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights and Canton Township will display watercolors, oil and acrylic painting, pastels, pen and ink sketches, charcoal drawings, colored pencil and 's photography.

"Father Mark (Jenkins) asked me if we would like to display our art. He thought a show-might be something that would get the community involved. And it gives us an opportunity to show our work again," said Barbara Gosney, show chairwoman.

Gosney, known for her lnk sketches of lighthouses and Garden City historical buildings, will show artwork done in colored pencil, acrylic and pen and ink. "Copper Leaves," a graphically designed colored pencil composition, features three autumn leaves with leaf-shaped lines resounding from the outer edges. The work is priced

CANTON ARTIST Donna Enders, who attended Toledo University School of Design, uses oils to paint realistic wildlife scenes.

"This is my first opportunity to expose my art to people in 12 years. It's my first real show," she

Her palette consists of earth tones based on the environment.

"If you just base it (palette) on the colors of the earth-earth tones, the spectrum as it hits the light, you can't go wrong," she said. "If you just take a look around you and base your color on that. Everything is just not one color. It's thousands of colors."

Enders does a lot of research to ensure the environment surrounding her caribou, bear and eagle is accurately portrayed. "Happy Bear" depicts a meadow where a playful grizzly bear rolls on his back to paw a butterfly. The oil painting is priced at $185.

works in watercolor, pastel, charcoal and oil paint. She has taken art classes since 1983 after retiring a year earlier.

"The thing I'm looking forward to about the show is mainly exposure to get your name before the public and to sell enough artwork to buy paint and brushes to do another piece," Peters said. "I enjoy meeting the public and answering any questions they might have about my painting."

"The Cat and The Raven" is a pastel of a cat eating Bumble Bee tuna fish out of a can while a raven. stands preening himself. The scene is created from a real life situation. The work is $145.

Henrietta Orzechowski of Dearborn Heights works from photographs to create realistic portraits of people in oil paint. "I really love to paint. I paint almost every night," she said. "I love to do portraits more than anything else. I like to have people in my pictures."

"Heldi" is a portrait of her 11year-old granddaughter. Heldi's shoulder-length blond hair and brown eyes spring to life as Orzechowski plays on the light and shadows to portray the work in three dimensions. "Heldi" is not for Orzechowski will be the featured artist-of-the-month in November at city hall in Garden City. Her artwork in the October show will be priced between $25 and $125.

JOANNE BLACKER of Garden City paints florals and landscapes in watercolor. She works from photographs taken of flowers in her garden.

Blacker organized the Garden City Fine Arts Association in 1982 and is a past president and charter member. "There are no crafts in this show. They are going to get fine art here," she said.

"I think that everybody is missing the point of a painting. When someone goes to Kmart and buys a picture or to one of those starving artist's sales where the paintings have been done on production, they're missing the artistic originality and technique."

"Irises" by Blacker is a delicate watercolor of lavender-colored irises, outlined with a line brush in black that gives it an Oriental look.

ART EMANUELE/staff photographer

Joanne Blacker of Garden City founded the Garden City Fine Arts Association in 1982. She works in watercolor to produce fiorals and landscapes.

Her work will be priced at $40-$60. Julianne Swistock paints florals, landscapes and still life in oils. She attended the Society of Arts and Crafts (now the Center for Creative Studies) in Detroit.

"I take a brush and put burnt umber. Then I start painting in my trees. I have a retentive memory for focusing on a subject and devel-

NORMA McQUEEN, president of the Garden City Fine Arts-Association and manager of the Art Gallery in Sheridan Square, will exhibit traditional landscapes and "I think this show will be very good exposure for the artists and for the community to see local art," McQueen said. "The local artists are in need of encouragement and support. I feel very strongly about supporting Michigan artists."

Her oil, acrylic and watercolor paintings will range from $50 to $180.

Ray Davison of Garden City will display oil and watercolor paintings of scenery and flowers as well as photographs of trains, lighthouses, farms and barns.

Art show hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday. There is no admission charge.

Number of new books again heading upward

News from the book world:

• According to R.R. Bowker and the Library of Congress, books published in the U.S. during 1990 numbered a little over 44,000 titles, a drop from 1989, when more than 53,000 were published.

Also according to Bowker, this year's output is slightly up. Sources there predict 1991 totals will end up somewhere "in the high fortles."

• On trembling ground: Publisher Harcourt Brace Jovanovich reported a 1991 second quarter net loss of $26.3 million.

• On terra firma: Houghton Mifflin reported a second quarter net income of about $12.4 million, topping last year's $11.5 million.

• On Sep. 15, Salman Rushdle made his first public speech since the Khomeini death threats in February 1989. Surrounded by bodyguards, Rushdie spoke briefly in London at a Writers' Guild awards ceremony where he received a prize for his "Haroun and the Sea of Sto-

• Really, there are copies of "Scarlett" available out there. If vou've not found Alexandra Ripley's sequel to GWTW yet, try Metro News in Bloomfield Hills, Coopersmith's in Livonia or the Birmingham Bookstore. As of a survey I made recently, copies were not in short supply at these stores. I'm sure "Scarlett' is waiting for you at other area stores, too. But do call first.

If you've not been able to get your hands on a copy yet, don't feel bad, though. Neither has Farmington Hills resident Eugene Mitchell, who, along with his brother, Joseph, is Margaret Mitchell's nephew, and closet surviving relative.

"I thing my wife, Virginia, and I are the only people in the United States today who haven't yet seen a copy," he said a few days after publication, adding that the publisher, Warner Books, had promised to send along several books, but they'd not arrived yet.

In the meantime, Mitchell had had a chance to read Darden Asbury Pyron's newly published "Southern Daughter: The Life of Margaret Mitchell" (Oxford University Press) and recommends it highly.

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- · The selection is excellent.
- · Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

Go ahead, make the move. Now is the right time to buy a home.

NOW is the right time to Buy A Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it evenmore attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

YOUR HOME IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT

Purchasing a home is the best way to build a solid financial foundation. A home not only provides you with warmth and comfort, it also serves as a secure investment.

- Today, homes in the area continue to be a wise investment.
- Equity in your home can be used as collateral, thus providing you with additional financial security.
- · Home ownership provides you with a sizable tax advantage because interest paid on mortgages is fully deductible. Property taxes can also be deducted.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Township can limit boating

Our condominium association has a number of lots on a lake in northern Michigan. The township is in process of limiting the number of boat dockings and launchings we can undertake, I understand there has . been some litigation on that Issue. Can the township regulate the number of boat launches in our condomi-

Yes. The Michigan Supreme Court recently decided a case that challenged a township ordinance that Umited the use of lakes within the township by riparian and non-riparian property owners. (Riparlan refers to those adjacent to or living on a body of water.) The majority held that the township has authority under the township ordinance to regulate boat docking and launching by limiting those activities on the basis of lake frontage held by riparian

But what it did say is that the reasonableness of an ordinance, while a question of law, depends upon the particular facts in each case. To determine whether an ordinance is sought to be achieved by the ordireasonable requires an assessment nance requiring a minimal amount of the existence of a rational relationship between the exercise of police power, and the public health, safety, morals or general welfare in a particular manner in a given case. According to the Supreme Court, the reason that the regulation of boat docking, and launching on inland lakes is a reasonable use of the township's police power and is not a zoning ordinace is because it does not regulate the use of land or frontage. but instead regulates an activity. Under the township ordinance act, townships may enact ordinances regulating boat docking and launching on inland lakes as a measure to protect the public health, safety, and welfare of persons and property within the township.

The court said that the objective of lake frontage for dockage through 'a uniform scheme of regulation to lessen the congestion and density of boats docked and launched around the lake is a legitimate use of the township police power under the act. It would appear that your township may well have that right to regulate such activities, but you are advised to consult your attorney to determine whether the facts and circumstances are similar to those that were depicted in the recent state supreme court case.

Buyer's agent concept clarifies Realtor's position

By Doug Funke staff writer

Home buyers: Did you know that agents who take you around house to house legally and ethically represent the seller — even though they may never have met the seller - absent any contract to represent you?

Fred Richter, a Northville Realtor, wants to change that. He gives seminars advising agents to sign representation agreements with buyers before starting their legwork. The purpose is to end confusion about who represents whom and to bring more balance to the negotia-

"Once it catches on, everyone loves it and it works well," Richter said. "It's so much more truthful and so much more natural."

There should be no commission problems with buyer agency because agents involved in transactions now typically split commissions paid by the seller, he said.

"The difference isn't who pays whom or who handles the money," Richter said. "The buyer's agent is able to represent the buyer by having a contract with the buyer."

"IT'S COMING, it's growing and it's going to be used," said David Wood, a lawyer for the Western Wayne Oakland Association of Realtors. The biggest potential for conflict between buyers and agents in a traditional relationship where all agents legally represent the seller centers around exactly what to offer as a purchase price.

And that, of course, is the key part of the deal.

"The only time we're in an uncomfortable position or an uncompromising position is when we're asked what we feel the house is worth and what the seller would accept for the house," said Dennis Wolf, president of Hall & Hunter Realtors of Birmingham.

"We know the seller will take the listing price," he said. "We don't know how much less."

Agents must be fair to both buyers and sellers, Wolf said.

We don't see it a lot now," Wolf said. "Most people aren't aware of it and, in most cases, a buyer feels comfortable enough with the arrangement the way it is.

'As of now, I think it's a very confusing issue," he said. "We need to be more thoroughly educated. It can be good for the industry if everyone is informed and educated.'

Township can limit boating

Our condominium association has a number of lots on a lake in northern Michigan. The township is in process of limiting the number of, hoat dockings and launchings we can undertake. I understand there has been some litigation on that issue. Can the township regulate the number of boat launches in our condomiatum?

Yes. The Michigan Supreme Court. recently decided a case that challenged a township ordinance that limited the use of lakes within the township by riparian and non-riparian property owners. (Riparlan refers. to those adjacent to or living on a body of water.) The majority held that the township has authority under the township ordinance to regulate boat docking and launching by limiting those activities on the basis

But what it did say is that the reasonableness of an ordinance, while a question of law; depends upon the within the township. particular facts in each case. To: determine whether an ordinance is sought to be achieved by the ordireasonable requires an assessment of the existence of a rational relationship between the exercise of police power and the public health, safety, morals or general welfare in a particular manner in a given case.

reason that the regulation of boat docking and launching on inland lakes is a reasonable use of the township's police power and is not a zoning ordinace is because it does not regulate the use of land or frontage but instead regulates an activity. Under the township ordinance act, townships may enact ordinances regulating boat docking and launching on inland lakes as a measure to protect the public health, safety and welfare of persons and property

The court said that the objective nance requiring a minimal amount of lake frontage for dockage through a uniform scheme of regulation to lessen the congestion and density of boats docked and launched around the lake is a legitimate use of the According to the Supreme Court, the township police power under the act.

It would appear that your township. may well have that right to regulate such activities, but you are advised to consult your attorney to determine whether the facts and circumstances are similar to those that were depicted in the recent state supreme court case.

Which way to the beach?

Technology aids builders to provide lake access

By Gerald Frawley staff writer

Sometimes building is a real beach and sometimes a beach is

Twenty years ago, a builder was able to buy lakefront property, fill in wetlands and build homes, Today wetlands regulations prohibit that, leaving lakes and parts of lakes inaccessible. But that doesn't mean developers aren't finding new ways to give access to homeowners.

Access may not mean 100 feet of private frontage with boat docks, but providing a view and limited recreational enjoyment are within the developer's purview.

Builders have found there is a market for more tranquil, lakeside. retreat amenities like a secluded, quiet beach, for example.

- Actually, building a beach isn't unusual. Building a secluded beach without disturbing the surrounding habitat, however, is a neat trick.

. That's what the Herman Frankel Organization did this summer at its Woodcliff on the Lake development in West Bloomfield.

Herman Frankel Organization contracted with the Howell firm of TT&G Excavating because the equipment designed and patented by them creates beaches without disturbing the surrounding area, according to marketing director Lau. didn't begin until nearly two years

"The homeowners love it," Frankel sald. "Even those we didn't think would ever use it, practically live on

FROM THE BEGINNING, the idea was to make the beach small and secluded — a place where people could get away. "For everything that was done, it was important that it would be kept natural," she said. "That was the key factor — It takes so many years for those trees to

she explained, which requires the excavation of a wide path of trees so trucks and excavating materials can move in and out.

After all the work is done, the developer has to clean up and try to make it look as natural as possible

TT&G Excavating, she said, parks its sand trucks (in this case, literally hundreds of feet away) and then runs hoses through the wooded area to the

After laying a Geotextile liner a material developed by DuPont that allows water and air, but not sediment to pass through — water is pumped from the lake to the sand trucks and then carries the sand back to the beach area.

Frankel said that plans date back to the project's beginnings in late 1988, but the permitting process ago. Beach construction began in early July.

But beaches aren't the only way to bring the lake to more people sometimes it takes more.

IVANHOE BUILDING COMPA-NY President Gary Shapiro knew he had a great site on his hands on the north end of Pleasant Lake.

Built atop a bluff overlooking Pleasant Lake, the 38-acre Pointe on Pleasant Lake in West Bloomfield had everything but easy access to the lake for its 42 home sites. His

No matter how stunning your interior decor, if it doesn't match your comfort level, then your Interior designer has failed you. In this house, dark walls are accented by pastel Aztra molding, an Abitibi-Price building product. The line is available in 19 colors, seven of which are pastels, and traditional wood colors.

Interior decor must match home owner's comfort level

(AP) - Competence isn't the only criterion to consider when choosing an interior designer for the home. Compatibility is equally important.

'You are trying to find someone who fits your personality," says educator Jim Avery.

"They, the designers, are going to delve into your personality. If they are so far removed from what you are, it's not going to work."

Avery heads the interior design program at University of Tennessee at Chattanooga.

"For two people to get together on a job, it's like a marriage in a way," says interior designer Jane Harper. "Residential design is personal between client and designer. You have to learn the client's tastes."

'We can take on a huge job, or we can go into the home, make suggestions and let the homeowners do it," said designer Peggy Curtis. One major advantage of letting the designer do it is the availability of resources. "No one can have the resources an interior designer has," Curtis says. "What the designer can give you is experience and sources."

THE DESIGNER tries to use those two things to help clients create spaces that express themselves, in their own homes.

"A really good decorator will incorporate you into your house," says Vicki Hardee, a design firm owner.

An interior designer's knowledge runs the gamut from the technical to the aesthetic, and a designer is as comfortable talking about building codes as periods of

If the decor of a friend's home is appealing, ask who

Letting your fingers walk through the Yellow Pages is a more systematic way of finding a designer, and the process sometimes reveals more than the designer's location and phone number.

"I would find someone who is listed as an ASID or IDS person," said Avery.

Many, but not all, residential designers belong to elther the American Society of Interior Designers or the Interior Design Society. Choosing between a designer associated with a store and an independent designer depends on what the client wants the designer to do. "If you just want advice, get someone in and pay him or her by the hour," says designer Diane Magnuson. Once a prospective designer is pinpointed, arrange for face-to-face contact. Go to the designer's studio or shop, if possible, and ask questions. "A personal interview is important for the designer, too," said Ms. Curtis. "A lot of times the designer knows she can't do the job."

'Designers are going to delve into your personality. '

THE CLIENT CAN tell a lot by looking at the designer's place of business, but the client should also ask to see photographs of the designer's work and should re-

"A discussion of fees should come up first thing," Harper says. And the client should know and be prepared to discuss his or her decorating budget.

"Most of the public don't have any idea of what the designer gets, but it is a common practice to charge a consultation fee." Curtis estimates the consultation fee ranges between $50 and $150 an hour. "A consultation is a good idea if you are not sure about what you want to do," decorator James C. R.

Laney said. "A designer can get you pointed in the right Hardee limits her interior design work to wall decor and accessories, but she charges an initial consulting fee as does the designer who is doing an entire house from floor to ceiling. "The fee is incorporated into the total job if I get the job," she said. The cost of the design job can be figured on a cost-plus basis, on square footage or as a flat fee. "The fees vary according to the job," Harper said. A contract is essential to cementing the designer-client relationship, the experts agree. "It is a security factor for both of them," Curtis says. "The contract really just spells out the scope of the work and has estimated prices," Harper said. The prices are only estimates because the designer cannot control manufacturers' costs and other expenses.

Using an interior designer is somewhat like purchasing an insurance policy, Laney said. Things can go wrong even with a designer on the job, but the designer has many more resources to correct the problem. The designer-client relationship should be a trusting one, and it should be confidential. "We have to order things, and we buy some things sight unseen," said Betty Hill of Total Concepts. "Clients have to trust us. We do know what we are order-

"Interior design should not be a gossipy profession," Lancy said. "It is very confidential. We have the same responsibility to our clients that doctors and lawyers have, It is personal and private."

Keep home fires safe

AP - With the help of an iron fireback, people keep their home's fire burning warmer and safer, reports Better Homes and Gardens Decorating magazine.

These cast-iron plates were commonly used in colonial times - and throughout Europe yet today - to shield rear fireplace walls from intense heat," says Gerald Crowe, part owner of Pennsylvania Firebacks.

From a practical point of view, thebacks contribute to the heating efficiency and maintenance of the fireplace. In addition to protecting the fireplace's rear wall from damaging heat erosion, firebacks also serve as a heat radiator by reflecting a portion of the heat normally lost back into the living area.

From an aesthetic point of view, the protective aspect of firebacks means that homeowners have more fireplace materials to choose from.

"The fireback allows people to line their firebox with something besides common yellow refractory brick," says Don Stoughton, president of The Country Iron Foundry in Paoli, Pa.

Offered in antique replicas as well as modern-day designs, firebacks feature everything from coats of arms to wildlife motifs. A fireback typically weighs between 30 and 65 pounds and costs from $135 to $275.

Before buying a fireback, measure the height and width of the interior. wall of the fireplace to assure proper
