Schools chief starts leave Nov. 4

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Wayne-Westland school Superintendent Dennis O'Neill, blaming his undisclosed health problems on the district's turmoil, will begin a three-month medical leave on Monday, Nov. 4, the Observer learned Friday. O'Neill told board members of his decision during a closed session Thursday night — nine days after he announced plans to retire Aug. 31 amid pressure from a majority of board members. Board members agreed informally — and unanimously — Thursday to approve O'Neill's medical leave, but they couldn't legally vote on it in the closed session. It wasn't immediately known Friday when the official action would come.

A mere week before O'Neill's departure, board members haven't chosen an acting superintendent. But a three-member board committee, including Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, Vicki Welby and Leonard Posey, has been formed to study the issue.

O'Neill said Friday he won't recommend an acting superintendent unless he's asked. However, he indicated the logical choice would be his second-in-command cabinet member, Deputy Superintendent Thomas Svitkovich.

"The deputy superintendent by job description would be the one to assume any (of my) job responsibilities," he said.

TO COMPLICATE matters, Svitkovich also could be leaving the district. He is among two finalists for the job of Gibraltar school superintendent. The Gibraltar school board is expected to announce its decision Tuesday. Acting Superintendent John Lafevre has said the board wants the new superintendent on the job by late January.

On Friday, O'Neill indicated he expects to resume his duties after his medical leave, although that could depend on his doctor's advice. A determining factor could be another physical examination that one board member said O'Neill is expected to undergo near the end of his medical leave.

O'Neill declined Friday to elaborate on his leave, saying he preferred not to discuss conversations he had with board members in closed session.

O'Neill announced his retirement on Oct. 15 in an angry statement in which he lashed out at board members for deciding privately to — in essence — force him to retire.

In a visit to O'Neill's office on Oct. 2, board members Vicki Welby and Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek told him they believed they had the majority vote, with support from members Laurel Raisanen and Fred Warmber, to oust him.

In his Oct. 15 statement, O'Neill spoke of his medical leave.

"THIS EXPERIENCE has triggered a reorganization of my priorities, and living has replaced the Wayne-Westland Community Schools on top of the list," he said. "Unfortunately, the events of the past three months have caused serious medical problems which until now have been under control through medication."

The 56-year-old superintendent did not elaborate on his illness, but added that he has a medical report that "will keep me off the job for at least three months."

O'Neill has been a district employee for 31 years. He replaced former superintendent Timothy Dyer 7½ years ago.

His retirement came in the wake of a series of controversies, including teacher salary increases, approval of a tax rate increase following

HALLOWEEN trick-or-treaters will be able to get their candy and goodies Thursday at one location without worrying about traffic or the weather. That's because Westland Center merchants are sponsoring their annual Halloween project for area youngsters. The trick-or-treating will be held from 5-9 p.m. among participating merchants.

THE NANKIN Order of Eastern Star, Chapter 238, recently observed its 93rd anniversary.

Members earlier this month attended the 125th annual session of the Grand Chapter, OES of Michigan, in Kalamazoo's Wings Stadium.

Some 3,000 delegates and members from 317 chapters in the state were at the session. The organization sponsors educational scholarships, drug abuse prevention programs and support for the Masonic Home, in Alma, Mich.

The state's grand chapter donated just over $189,000 to charities this year, said Susan Dossette, the Nankin chapter's worthy matron.

WESTLAND CONVALESCENT Center, on Warren Road near Central City Parkway, usually receives gifts from local merchants and civic groups.

But the tables were turned recently when the center donated a wheelchair to Art Van Furniture, on Wayne Road near Joy, to make it easier for people to get around the store.

CARLETTE DANCY of Westland received her associate's degree from Northwood Institute, a private business school in Midland, Mich. She was among 466 people getting associate's and bachelor's degrees.

LEONARD KING has been named the Westland Convalescent Center's employee of the month. He is 35, one of 14 children in his family, and has been at the nursing home for one year. A kitchen employee, King has taken business management courses and plans to return to school next year.

MARK ANGLISS of Westland received an associate's degree in automotive service technology from Ferris State University. He also gained "high distinction" from the school in Big Rapids, Mich.

THREE WESTLAND students at Siena Heights College in Adrian, Mich., were named to the school's dean's list. The three are senior Gwendolin Steayens, junior Michael Maczmarek and freshman Lori Golembiewska. Steayens also had a straight-A record during the past semester.

DONNA BERRY of Westland has been named to the Family Service of Detroit and Wayne County board of directors. She is director of institutional research at Madonna University, Livonia. Family Service is a United Way agency that provides counseling services at offices in Livonia, Dearborn, Detroit and Trenton.

DOMINIC CRISCUOLO of Westland was named to Northwood Institute's dean list's for the spring semester. The private business-specialty school is in Midland, Mich. Dominic, a sophomore last year, is the son of Margo Criscuolo of Westland. To make the dean's list, students must have a grade-point average of 3.0 or higher.

She has been released from the Wayne County jail. A $25,000 bond had been set.

Acting on tips from what Gould described as cooperative individuals, police obtained a search warrant and went to Gross' Venoy Pines Apartment in the Venoy-Warren Road area Oct. 21. She wasn't present during the search.

However, police arrested her after she returned to her apartment later that day.

Gross could face one to seven years for possession of marijuana with intent to deliver; one to 20 years for possession of cocaine; and one to 20 years for possession of heroin.

Street light bills burn up residents

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

It was a misunderstanding that required city officials to — well — shed some light on the subject.

A crowd of 250 Westland taxpayers upset about paying more for street light assessments packed the Westland City Council chambers Wednesday night, forcing city officials to postpone a meeting and launch plans to find a larger site.

However, it appears residents had become upset because of the wording of notices sent to 17,000 houses and businesses, city officials said.

Most residents believed the street light assessments marked a significant new tax, when in fact the notices referred to a renewal and a minimal assessment increase, officials said Friday.

"A lot of people didn't understand the notices," city Clerk Diane Fritz said. "They thought it was a new assessment."

Property owners who benefit from street lights pay an annual assessment that generally amounts to $35 or less for smaller residential lots and $50 to $60 for larger properties, said city assessor William Schmidt.

Every few years, the council must vote to continue the assessments and make slight rate adjustments based on increases passed on by Detroit Edison. This year, the city has proposed extending the assessment for five years, with an annual rate increase not to exceed 3 percent, Schmidt said.

MOST PROPERTY owners will pay about $1.50 more a year, he said, but many residents who flocked to Wednesday's public hearing apparently believed they were being socked with a substantial increase.

Because of legal jargon, the notices "made it sound like there was a radical increase and that something was being added to the (city street light) system," Schmidt said.

"It's a minimal increase," he said. Fritz said the confusion was much worse than when the city last held hearings three years ago to continue the longtime street light assessments.

Some 15,000 property owners pay for assessments in special street light districts. Along major roads such as Wayne and Ford, however, the costs are split by some 2,000 property owners and the city, which picks up its share from the general fund, Schmidt said.

On Friday, Fritz was trying to schedule a new meeting for sometime in mid-November. The Observer will announce the time and location when details have been completed.

Man, 18, admits to Glenn shooting

Nov. 5 sentencing set

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

An 18-year-old Inkster man earlier accused of trying to murder a Ypsilanti teenager during a post-basketball game shooting last December at John Glenn High School in Westland has pleaded guilty to a reduced charge.

Mack Arthur Willis' will be sentenced Nov. 5 on a charge of assault with intent to cause great bodily harm. He could face up to 10 years in prison.

Willis also will be sentenced on a felony firearms charge, which carries a mandatory two-year jail term.

Earlier, he could have faced life in prison on a charge of assault with intent to murder, which was reduced in a plea agreement arranged by his attorney, Thaddeus K. Dean, and Wayne County assistant prosecutor Lisa Lindsey.

Willis was charged after he fired a shotgun at 17-year-old Kenneth Daniel Mays of Ypsilanti and wounded

Nankin Mills PTA's haunted house, pasta dinner serve up fun

NANKIN MILLS Elementary School PTA members served up a pasta dinner and lots of scary figures last week for the PTA's third annual "family fun night" Halloween project. About 400 adults and children ate dinner in the multi-purpose room. Many also endured a 90-minute wait in line to enter the art room, which was converted into a Halloween "haunted house."

Fran Niemiec, PTA president, said that serving dinner to 400 people was a record, breaking the previous mark of 340.

The dinner and "haunted Halloween" room were handled by PTA volunteers.

The PTA planned the program as a fun night, not a fund-raiser, although the chapter made a little on the dinner, Niemiec said.

Other major PTA projects coming up this school year are a Santa's shop in December, sixth graders' breakfast and year-end family picnic, both in June.

The school is on Hubbard north of Ann Arbor Trail and is part of the Livonia School District.

three election defeats and the disclosure of a $4.4 million surplus that emerged following earlier predictions the district would be virtually broke on June 30.

In a related development, Kozorosky-Wiacek said the board expects to mail at least 10 letters Monday to professional search teams, of which one will be chosen to assist the board in its search for a new superintendent.

The board plans to interview the teams before choosing one. Board members hope to select a search team by Dec. 2.

"We've got a lot of work ahead of us," Kozorosky-Wiacek said. "The most important thing at this time is the kids and what's best for this district."

him in the face during a clash between nearly 20 youths who had left a basketball game last Dec. 7 at John Glenn High School.

The shooting, which occurred in the school parking lot, was called the first at a Wayne-Westland school district athletic event, Westland police said at the time. However, the clash was not linked to the ballgame, police said.

Willis pleaded guilty Monday in Detroit Recorder's Court, where he had been scheduled for trial. Judge Helen Brown plans to sentence him on Nov. 5.

Although Dean and Lindsey decided to let Willis plead guilty to the lesser charge, they have not agreed on a sentence, Dean said. Pending sentencing, Willis remains in the county jail.

DEAN SAID he's "satisfied" with the plea, even though Willis will face at least two years in prison for the firearms charge.

"He was looking at life in prison before," Dean said.

When the plea agreement was offered to Willis, Dean said, "He had to make a decision, and he did."

Willis had been scheduled for trial last summer, but it was postponed after his attorney suffered a heart attack. Willis was a 17-year-old Wayne Memorial High School student when he shot Mays.

In other developments, the court case of another Inkster teenager involved in the clash is expected to be resolved in juvenile court next month, a court spokeswoman said.

Terrance Carter, 17, was charged with assault after he fired several shots from a handgun and pointed it at another youngster — though the bullets struck no one.

Carter, who was 16 during the clash, was arrested about three months after the incident, when a chrome-plated handgun linking him to the altercation was found near the tennis courts at John Glenn, Westland police have said.

The gun was thought to have been hidden by snow during an initial investigation on the school grounds, police have said. Carter remains free on bond pending his next appearance in juvenile court.

City council candidates square off on issues

Artley urges public safety improvements

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

A 15-year Westland City Council veteran, Thomas Artley has accumulated more years on the council than any other incumbent.

Artley, 53, hopes to retain his council seat by claiming victory in the Nov. 5 election. If he retains his third-place finish in the Sept. 10 primary, he will.

One of eight candidates competing for four council seats, Artley must fight off a strong bid from his challengers, who have stepped up their campaigns since the primary.

Artley, a Ford Motor Co. computer systems project leader, has outlined his top three concerns in response to an inquiry from the Observer. He cited public safety, transportation and traffic and commercial development control.

On public safety, Artley supports computerizing the police and fire departments in an effort to shorten the response time to emergencies.

"As Westland continues to grow, not only must the manpower of the police and fire departments grow, but the equipment and tools that are needed by both departments must be improved," he said.

Artley also called for more neighborhood police patrols and efforts to keep all fire stations open continually.

ON transportation, Artley vowed to work with the Nankin Transit Commission, other government agencies and local communities to save the Nankin Transit bus system that serves handicapped people, the homebound and senior citizens. The system has been threatened with a shutdown when SMART — the Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation — halts subsidies Dec. 31.

For those who depend on the system, he said, "This is often their only means to get groceries, get to the doctor or pharmacy, or provide transportation for their basic essential needs."

On traffic and commercial development control, Artley pledged to work to "reduce our horrendous traffic congestion problems" by improving signs and traffic signals.

Thomas Artley seeks new term

He also vowed to work with city officials and the Westland Chamber of Commerce "to seek solutions to reducing the number of vacancies in strip malls," vacancies he partially blames on uncontrolled development.

Moreover, Artley called for protecting the environment from uncontrolled growth.

Artley has a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Michigan. He has been active in numerous civic organizations.

Anderson: City needs long-term budgeting

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Heavy campaigning could increase Glenn Anderson's chances of winning one of four Westland City Council seats at stake in the Nov. 5 election.

Anderson, 37, finished fifth among eight candidates in the Sept. 10 primary, narrowly missing a coveted top-four spot. But, if his supporters turn out in large numbers on election day, he could advance in the standings.

The top three issues Anderson cites in his campaign are taxes, quality of life, and uncontrolled development, accompanied by traffic congestion.

On taxes, Anderson, a Ford Motor Co. employee and licensed Realtor, said, "Higher property taxes discourage investment by commercial and industrial developers, as well as individual citizens who would consider making Westland their home."

Moreover, Anderson said, some city residents are being forced to sell their homes because they can't afford their taxes.

Anderson said city officials must plan a long-term budget so that overspending won't force the city to seek a tax increase. He also said more development in the city's industrial parks, and the proposed expansion of Westland Center, could boost revenues.

On quality of life, Anderson said crime and drugs threaten the city's neighborhoods. To combat drugs, he pledged support for continuing the anti-drugs programs of DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) and Youth Assistance, and suggested more youth recreational activities.

To address crime, Anderson called for improved relations between the neighborhoods and police department. He suggested neighborhood meetings and a local hotline for reporting crime. Anderson also called for hiring more police officers, and he proposed a noise-control ordinance to improve neighborhoods.

ON development, Anderson noted that as a planning commission member he has not voted to build a single strip mall. Because of "speculative building," strip malls have been left vacant and boarded up, he said, adding that he would discourage more strip malls.

Anderson also said traffic congestion could send shoppers elsewhere. "As a councilman," he said, "I will insist traffic problems be addressed before any future development takes place."

Anderson has been involved in civic organizations, and, in addition to serving on the planning commission, he served five years on the Westland Civil Service Commission.

Cox stresses priority spending, planning

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Although David Cox placed eighth — or last — among the Westland City Council candidates who survived the Sept. 10 primary, he hopes to make strong gains and capture one of four seats at stake in the Nov. 5 general election.

Cox has focused on long-range planning and priority spending in his campaign. If city officials fail to adequately plan the city's growth, he said at a recent candidates forum, "this city over time will look like we failed to map out a plan."

Cox, 33, a commercial insurance specialist with the Seed-Roberts Agency of Birmingham, again stressed the need for long-range planning in response to an inquiry by the Observer, which asked him to cite the top three concerns of his campaign.

Cox elaborated on the three issues:

Pickering: City must work with schools

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

City councilman Charles Pickering holds the enviable title of front-runner in the Nov. 5 election, after garnering more votes than any other candidate in the Sept. 10 primary.

Far from being smug, however, Pickering summed up his post-primary bid for one of four council seats by saying, "I don't plan to rest on my laurels. I will be campaigning hard."

The 48-year-old Realtor, who served as Westland mayor from 1982 to 1985, cited problems in education and public safety as his top two campaign concerns. As a third issue, Pickering focused on the use of special tax revenues to aid the proposed expansion of Westland Center.

Angry schools union challenges district to binding arbitration

By Darrell Clem
staff writer

Dismayed by slow-paced contract talks, the only Wayne-Westland school union without a pact has challenged the district's administration to agree to binding arbitration proceedings.

Leaders of the 34-member Brotherhood of Specialized Skills (BOSS) have become angered by what they perceive as the administration's refusal to settle a fair contract.

"It's indicative of their contempt for the working people," local BOSS president Chuck Cossin said.

The union, which includes electricians, plumbers, painters, carpenters and bus mechanics, has been working without a contract since June 30, 1989. The workers, whose average salaries are $33,000, are seeking a 17 1/2-percent pay raise over three years, said Charles George, acting BOSS president while Cossin is on leave.

Bill Taylor, the district's associate superintendent for employee services, did not indicate Thursday that the administration has ruled out arbitration hearings, though he appeared doubtful of such a plan.

"This school district has never, as long as I can remember, agreed to binding arbitration on a contract, because we don't believe in having a third party tell us what kind of pay raises to give," Taylor said.

For the last two years of the contract, BOSS members want the 11.5-percent raises that teachers and other employee groups received. Compounded, the raises amounted to an 11.9-percent raise.

FOR THE first year of the contract, BOSS wants a 6-percent raise, which George and other BOSS leaders said they had been promised as parity for earlier concessions they made at a time when some employees received raises.

"I think they're incorrect," Taylor said, adding that some employee groups received the earlier raises only after they made concessions in fringe benefits.

BOSS members have brought their anger into the public spotlight, appearing at recent school board meetings carrying placards. One read: "Bill Taylor got the gold mine. BOSS got the shaft."

BOSS leaders said they are upset because Taylor, like other school employees, received a fair contract, while BOSS members believe they have been mistreated.

In addition to wage disputes, BOSS and school officials are at odds over workman's compensation issues, George said. In the past, the school district has paid the difference between worker's compensation and BOSS members' salaries, so that union members didn't lose money while off the job, he said.

However, the district wants to halt that benefit — a move that BOSS members vehemently oppose, George said. BOSS members say that they work some of the most dangerous jobs in the district.

BOSS VICE president Gary McFadden said the union has requested more meetings with the school administration, in an attempt to keep contract talks moving. However, they hope the district will agree to the binding arbitration.

In their public protest, BOSS members — who have talked about their concerns with some school board members — accused Taylor of telling them that going to the board would only cause a slowdown in negotiations.

"I did tell them that," Taylor confirmed Thursday. "It's divisive, and it questions the credibility of the (negotiating) team."

It remained unclear Friday when the two sides would again meet.

Traveler's tales: around-world sail is a breeze for area man

By Kevin Brown
staff writer

On his sailboat in the middle of the Pacific Ocean last winter, Ross Pobanz heard an alarming sound:

"I could hear the crunching of fiberglass," he recalled, as a whale struck the 45-foot craft. Both craft and crew survived.

Then there was the time a crew member insisted that what looked to be a fog bank in the Pacific was really an island. "I said, no, just keep going," Pobanz said — but changed his mind just in time to avoid running aground.

Despite the occasional close call, Pobanz, 45, wrapped up his second around-the-world sailing trip in August. It took him 2 1/2 years.

The western Wayne County man just turned 25 in 1971 when he went on his first around the world trip. "I got back 3 1/2 years later," an engineering degree from the University of Michigan and in the late '60s worked in the the missiles and space division of Lockheed.

"I really enjoyed my career at Lockheed," he said. "But life is so short, there's just so little time."

SO UNLIKE career people who talk about breaking out of a rut, he really did something.

"If you're going to live life out to the fullest," he explained, "You have to do it. You just pull off whatever you can."

"There's more to life than sitting around making tons of money or getting cancer and dying or getting in traffic jams.

"It's something to do. It's cheap thrills — it's a sense of freedom."

After returning from his first trip, he worked in several jobs before going into business for himself, servicing electronics on computerized machines.

Meanwhile, Pobanz planned a second trip.

His wife Mary "was going to come with me but she's afraid of big crossings (oceans)."

Pobanz advertised in sailing magazines for crew members, and interviewed 75 before hiring 14 who would join up on various legs of the journey.

"I WENT sailing with tons of them the summer beforehand," he explained.

"We left April 19, 1989 when the ice went out in Lake Erie," Pobanz said. The boat was stocked with canned food and had a kitchen where they could bake bread. They also made yogurt and grew bean sprouts on board.

Even though they're sharing an adventure, Pobanz said he and the crew "are not going around in a state of constant exhilaration."

Cox stresses priority spending, planning

• Better planning: Rather than being caught unprepared, the city council must plan such spending measures as maintenance costs, and "put money ahead for it."

By developing a more comprehensive list of needs, city officials will be better able to plan the city's budget on a long-range basis, he said.

• PRIORITY spending: The city's police and fire departments top the list of priorities for spending, Cox said. "We have to protect the citizens."

Again, Cox stressed long-term planning for staffing and other police and fire department needs to address deficiencies.

• Professional expertise: Cox stressed his abilities at advising business clients on financing techniques that limit waste and lessen the risks of adverse legal action. He examines profit and loss potential — which he said are important aspects of an effective city government.

"I do this for a living," Cox said. Cox is active in various civic organizations and is a past member of the Westland Economic Development Corp. and the Tax Increment Finance Authority. He studied law enforcement at Monroe County Community College and insurance law at Michigan State University.

and Livonia — Pickering said city officials must work closely with school officials to push for improvements.

"Although education is not an expressed responsibility of Westland's city government, it has to be a major concern of its elected officials, because quality of education has a direct reflection on the quality of life in our community and its image," he said.

He added later, "The heavy burden of property taxes must be replaced by other fairer funding sources."

• PUBLIC safety: Pickering called for proper staffing and equipping of the police and fire departments, and noted that he has voted to set aside $500,000 for "state-of-the-art equipment" for the departments.

Moreover, Pickering noted that he was an early supporter of the anti-drugs DARE program and Youth Assistance, which he said must continue to draw city support.

Also, TIFA money has boosted the city's general fund and "will allow us to increase manpower and programs for public safety departments," he said.

• TIFA-funded development: Money from the special TIFA revenues will help the city maintain services "without an additional burden to homeowners."

Pickering supports using TIFA money — collected in a special district — to expand Westland Center. However, he said a complete traffic engineering study must be completed before he could vote for final approval on the project.

"The success and growth of the Westland Center area will enhance the retail centers north, south, east and west of the center," he said.

Pickering has a bachelor's degree in parks and recreation administration. He is involved in numerous civic organizations.

For one thing, there's plenty of work to be done. Also, one has to surmount the inevitable sea-sickness.

"If you take drugs for it it only works for a couple of days. Drugs don't work — you have to get it out," he said, adding the feeling eventually passes.

Also, relations between crew members can get testy. Pobanz recalled the time on the first trip when a disagreement led to his partner slugging him.

"And it was a good thing too, it cleared the air."

Among other impressions of his trips, Pobanz offered, "You're always a stranger whenever you come into port."

"(KNOWING) ENGLISH is enough, you can always find someone who speaks it, government officials." Also, he said, "The U.S. is the cheapest place in the world to live."

On this last trip, Pobanz was able to talk with his wife nearly every day by radio-telephone. He was also able to keep tabs on his brother, who lost a bout with cancer. This moved Pobanz to return earlier than planned.

In showing a visitor some of the more than 40 hours of videotapes he made on the trip, Pobanz centers on the leg of the trip that took him through French Polynesia.

Some footage is devoted to a family of four living on a mile-across island. The father "had gone in and put in roads, buildings and mosquito controls," Pobanz said.

For three days, Pobanz also visited Pitcairn Island, legendary refuge for Fletcher Christian and the H.M.S. Bounty crew.

"They still speak Elizabethan English there. When they would speak to outsiders they'd talk with a New Zealand-English accent. But I heard them using their two-way radios, and when they would speak to each other, it was in Elizabethan English. It was very strange."

HE SAID inhabitants of these remote islands are in touch with the world. Kids learn through correspondence courses — "They're very, very complete," Pobanz said — and by listening to shortwave radio. "They know what's going on, they're as well-informed as we are."

Since returning Aug. 6, "I've been spending a lot of time with my brother's family, I'm really glad to be back," he said.

Would he consider another around-the-world trip? "Oh yes!"

Help us make steps in the fight against SIDS

If you knew a healthy, happy baby had died suddenly without reason, you'd want to help. There are over 7,000 babies who die from a cruel, mysterious killer. It's called SIDS: Sudden Infant Death Syndrome.

Perhaps you've heard SIDS referred to as "Crib Death." But maybe you didn't hear that SIDS is the number one cause of death in infants from one week to one year.

babies of all races and religions. And it's not hereditary.

Donations of your time and dollars will make a difference. And we can make bigger steps to fighting SIDS.

Restaurant protest is first test of local police pact

By Wayne Peal
staff writer

Beyond its social significance, the Cracker Barrel Restaurant showdown is the first test of Wayne County's new mutual assistance police pact.

And the pact's survival could depend on how much police assistance is going to cost and who is going to foot the bill.

The Van Buren Township eatery has been in the national spotlight for several weeks as gay rights advocates' continue protesting Atlanta-based Cracker Barrel's policy of firing homosexual workers.

Since the local restaurant's September opening, police from 19 area departments have formed a dividing line between protesters and restaurant patrons.

Like Operation Desert Storm, the effort has proved a tactical success. Despite criticism from some protesters, police are generally credited with keeping a tense situation from boiling over.

But also like Desert Storm, questions linger over who will pay the bills once police and protesters have gone home.

Thus far, all 19 participants — including Livonia, Redford, Westland, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Township, and Canton — remain squarely behind the effort.

"The reaction from our communities has been outstanding," said Dearborn Police Chief Ron Deziel, who is pact coordinator.

Departments send full-time officers, some on overtime pay, under terms of the pact.

"I know we sent nine officers the other weekend," Livonia Mayor Robert Bennett said.

Others also sent equipment. Canton has sent its mobile command truck, according to public safety director John Santomauro.

All support has come at each community's expense.

"Under the mutual aid pact, it's up to the individual communities," Deziel said. "Really, anybody can find themselves in a spot like this. Even a big community like Livonia could have trouble providing adequate police."

But faced with tight budgets — and, in some cases, declining state aid — leaders in some local communities wonder how long they can keep providing assistance.

For Livonia, the request for additional police protection comes at a time when the city is reeling from the loss of about $900,000 in state racetrack dollars.

While that money wasn't directly earmarked for police, Bennett said the city has discussed cutting police operations near Ladbroke Detroit Race Course as a result.

Other communities have also expressed concern.

"We have talked about the whole Cracker Barrel issue," said Dan Gilmartin of the Conference of Western Wayne, an intergovernmental forum for area cities and townships. "We're going to be discussing the issue further with our police chiefs next month. By then, we all might have some idea of cost."

Several officials have said they were frustrated by Cracker Barrel's unwillingness to discuss the issue with them.

"It is frustrating that they don't seem to want to come to the table," said Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano.

Sheriff's deputies have stood ready to transport anyone arrested, from either side, to the county jail.

"We would have been there anyway," Ficano said. But the sheriff added he hasn't yet totaled his department's cost. "I couldn't even say what it was yet," he said.

While county police departments had long helped each other, the current pact grew out of the August 1987 crash of Northwest Airlines Flight 255.

"There had always been mutual assistance," Deziel said. "But after the crash, there were some people who wanted something put in writing."

Not only is the Cracker Barrel picketing the new pact's first test, it's also prompted the biggest police operation in years.

"I can't remember anything like it," Canton's Santomauro said.

Even though community leaders may question the pact, Gilmartin said he was confident it will survive.

"There's always been mutual assistance and there always will be," he said. "I think our communities understand the need."

Ruling says no public money can be used to fight recall

City commissioners may not use city funds to fight a recall, Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has ruled.

In an opinion sought by state Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, Kelley said, "(A) municipality may not use its funds for the purpose of paying expenses incurred by city commissioners in the defense of a recall pe-tion arising out of their performance of their duties as elected officials."

Michigan has many restrictions on use of governmental funds to influence elections, Kelly said, citing:

- His 1979 opinion that township boards may not pay legal fees for a court fight over recall signatures.
- His 1965, 1979 and 1987 opinions that "governmental bodies lack constitutional or statutory authority to expend public tax moneys to influence the outcome of an election."

• A 1940 state Supreme Court decision that the Wayne County board lacked authority to use public funds to secure legislative reapportionment and never should function as "propaganda bureaus."

We all share in blame for David Duke

THERE'S ALWAYS A David Duke around, but nobody usually listens. In Louisiana they're listening these days to the former grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan. Liberals blame Bush. The reality is we're all to blame.

Jeff Counts

The Republicans have brought the race issue to their campaigns and elitist, northern, white liberals have so destroyed the Democratic Party that southerners and other former Democrats have been left without a political party. It's no wonder they turn to Bush and Duke.

The reason those folks left the Democratic party is that liberals have made issues out of gender, race and sexual preference. They've spent the last 30 years in Congress passing laws that give minorities extra rights, and in doing so, they've taken the Democratic Party down the tubes.

When Bush calls the Democrats the party of quotas, it sticks for a reason.

WHEN YOU GO down that road of giving one group more rights than another, there's always going to be resentment. Race or gender-based politics are not attempts at making the world better, they're just movements to punish another group.

The Jim Crow laws used in the South after the Civil War to keep blacks down are not much different than civil rights laws used to create minority groups with extra rights. Both sets of laws were and are on the books to punish another group.

David Duke is out to punish blacks, Hispanics and women, and white liberals are out to punish white southerners and anybody who works in a blue collar job.

Just look at the move to limit the terms of politicians. On the surface it sounds like a nice reform movement, but in reality it's an anti-blue collar and anti-southern campaign. That's because in blue collar areas and in the South, voters tend to send the same people back to Congress.

The move is just another liberal plan to punish folks they don't like.

And the folks they're out to punish are Democrats, the same Democrats who are voting for Duke.

INSTEAD OF trying to limit terms and create more minority groups with extra rights, liberals should be worried about rebuilding the Democratic party and convincing white southerners and blue collar voters to come back and vote with their economic interests.

But to do that, the Democrats are going to have to rid themselves of the rights nannies and punishment mentality and go back to economic issues that help the entire population rather than just a few selected minority groups.

There's also a bit of hypocrisy about the stance of northern, white liberals. While deploring racism, they have for more than 100 years practiced a brand of racism against southern white people that has also had an impact on blacks.

The south was kept poor after the Civil War and it wasn't until the 1930s that some states were reconstructed.

Ironically, that's how the KKK got started. It was a way for white southerners to defend themselves from the occupying armies of the North and the carpetbaggers.

And now we've got the KKK rearing its white shrouded head again. Racism is a cause, but liberals and reformers share the blame.

It's about time to get back to our populist roots and out of the rights frenzy that is really a guise for punishing groups of people.

Priorities are confused

To the editor:

Our leadership in this country and its priorities are most confusing. Forty-six years after World War II, we are still defending Germany and Japan with standing armies while they steal our markets. We pacify the Persian Gulf, while women walking their dogs in Central Park are being slashed to death by bums. We seal the border of Saudi Arabia, but cannot close our own to illegal aliens flooding into our southern states.

Official reports show illegal immigration is rising at an unprecedented rate, could be as high as five million this year alone. Massive immigration could destroy our way of life, we could wind up a strife-ridden replica of a third world country.

Past civilizations such as Egypt, Hellenic Greeks and last but not least Rome were plagued by this problem also.

Vision may be a nightmare

To the editor:

The parting comment in your recent "Points of View" column contained in the "Southfield Eccentric," (October 10, 1991) that necessary fiscal and human resources must be sufficient to meet the "vision" of Mental Health Department Director, James K. Haveman, Jr., hit the mark in regard to a vision which may well be a "pipe dream" regarding adequate care of persons with serious mental illness.

Mr. Haveman's "vision statement," enumerated earlier this year, may dissolve into a delusion in the coming months and years, without sound social services and mental health policy to support it, and the dollars to implement it.

As a social worker in the Detroit-Wayne County Community Mental Health system, and a resident of Oakland County, I question how the administration of Governor John Engler, and Mr. Haveman, expects the already under-funded system of mental health care to meet the needs of the many thousands of people recently cut-off from the General Assistance program, many of whom are also recipients of mental health services who will not qualify for the state disability program which replaces it. Many persons will lack the "qualifications" needed to be declared disabled. Many, without an income and a home, will seek hospitalization in a state psychiatric hospital in order to "qualify" in the coming months.

I fear that current policy and budget reductions in the departments of Social Services and Mental Health may well evolve a vision into a hallucination. Thousands will suffer without the basic requisites of food and shelter. This transfer of responsibility, from the Department of Social Services to the mental health system, community- and institutionally-based, will not save taxpayer dollars and can only result in the decimation of the lives of thousands of persons with disabilities already denied the rights of citizenship — a job, a safe place to live and adequate health care.

If not an hallucination, the vision may well be a nightmare.

Homosexuals after rights not big bucks

To the editor:

Having read your manipulative and deceptive editorial entitled, "Gays are after big bucks, not rights," I am convinced I must work harder as a gay/lesbian activist to ensure that opinions such as yours become less and less discernible amid the crescendo of choruses for gay rights.

Contrary to your interpretation of the gay rights movement, it is about civil liberties and inalienable rights, not "big bucks."

We do not want special treatment, but we expect and demand a level playing field for all people regardless of race, religion, national origin, gender and sexual orientation.

Yes, sexual orientation Mr. Counts, not "sexual preference," which implies gay and lesbian folks have a choice in the matter.

Our only choice is whether or not to be silent in the face of discrimination and blatant injustice, which you help to propagate when you suggest we are not a legitimate minority.

YOU CONTENT we draw attention to ourselves for financial gain. That is not our agenda. We march, we protest and we lobby for our lives, the right to own our lives, to be who we are without fear of economic, professional or personal repercussion or reprisal.

Your editorial implies that lesbians and gay men, unlike blacks, women, Hispanics and Asians, can pass within mainstream society if we choose to do so. Thus, you say we do not merit minority status.

Your opinion isn't new, Mr. Counts. People have long said to lesbians and gay men, "If you people wouldn't flaunt your sexuality, you wouldn't have any problems." You tell us to hide, or worse yet, to disguise who we are, suggesting that we not only lie to our families, friends and employers, but to ourselves as well.

The psychological costs of putting up such a facade over a lifetime are too numerous to go into here.

Anyway, Mr. Counts, your position is one that has long been ardently advocated by anti-gay activists.

THE OBJECTION is invalid on several levels. First, not all gay people can hide their sexual orientation; second, the ability to pass has nothing to do with minority group status.

I must give you an "A" for effort, no matter how insidious and deceptive your tactics may be to thwart us in our fight for civil rights. In the midst of widespread economic hardship, how better to set the majority against us than to imply that we are an economic threat?

It is not surprising that someone such as yourself would mount an economically-based attack on us.

Your thinking seems to run along these lines: "Yeah, yeah, uh, if homophobia alone won't work anymore, I'll make heterosexuals feel economically threatened by those homosexuals who think they should be given minority status. If I do that, that'll surely steepen their uphill climb to a level playing field. Yeah, yeah, that's the ticket — cloak homophobia in a new disguise; homophobia shrouded as fiscal responsibility."

Mr. Counts, this attack you have mounted; this smoke and mirrors routine, will not work — not even during this Halloween season. Your readers can see through your masquerade.

A HOBBY TO CONSIDER IF YOU HAVE ARTHRITIS

If you have arthritis, it seems you are always retreating. You have to accept a lesser score, a slow dance, or content yourself with a simpler design or drawing.

You may wonder is there any recreation you could take up in which you might excel? There is such a hobby: napping.

Doctors place great emphasis on the need to keep going with arthritis, but there is a place for rest, even a necessity for it. Retiring to bed earlier, and remaining longer in the morning is not the answer. Such a schedule is actually harmful to your joints as prolonged inactivity creates as much pain and stiffness as overuse.

Napping is the solution. You should, if possible, set aside at least 15 minutes and hopefully as long as an hour so you can sleep during the day. Certainly the fatigue is there, often as much a part of arthritis as painful, swollen joints.

It is the ability to sleep that calls for training, concentration, learning and self control. You need to achieve a state of relaxation difficult to attain during the day. You require an inner discipline that belies your apparent indifference to the goings on around you.

If you can master this craft, you gain control of your arthritis in a way no medicine can equal.

MichCon offers to help needy maintain service

Alfred R. Glancy III, chairman and chief executive officer of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. (MichCon), recently announced that the utility will offer increased involvement with community agencies and greater shutoff protection to help former General Assistance (GA) recipients keep their heat on this winter.

Glancy, speaking at a company forum designed to alert community agencies about the utility's winter help efforts, said that MichCon's newest program, the General Assistance Protection Program (GAPP), would provide guaranteed winter shutoff protection to those who pledge to meet new minimum payment requirements.

"It is unfortunate that additional cuts in the safety net programs designed to help low-income Michigan residents come at a time when people are most vulnerable — at the onset of another cold Midwestern winter," said Glancy.

"MichCon is especially concerned that our customers, fearing they have no other options, will allow their gas service to be discontinued."

The new program, which begins Nov. 1, requires a $50 per month pledge, an agreement to direct the Michigan Home Heating Tax Credit to MichCon, and enrollment in MichCon's conservation program. Interested customers should call their MichCon customer service representative for more information on GAPP enrollment.

In addition to GAPP, MichCon is working with local community agencies to notify customers of the need to enroll in assistance programs designed for all customers. These programs, such as Project HEART, Heat Bank, and the Budget Plan have grown with the generous support of MichCon customers and shareholders to help thousands of needy residents keep the heat on. For customers facing the most severe hardships, such as those in need of overnight shelter, MichCon is also providing funding for a Salvation Army shelter program.

"Anyone can face temporary financial difficulties which can create hardships, particularly when faced with winter heating bills. MichCon is committed to reducing those hardships, and to reduce the overall costs to our customers as much as possible, while we work together to find long-term solutions to our economic problems," Glancy said.

'Car piracy' legislation sparks heated debate

By Tim Richard
staff writer

"Car piracy" would be a specific crime under a package of state Senate bills, but many supporters don't want a mandatory 10-year prison term attached.

The Senate approved, 16-13, a non-record roll call amendment to attach the mandatory minimum penalty to Senate Bill 507.

"I support it. Car hijacking has reached epidemic proportions," said Sen. George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn. "In four days there were 28 carjackings. Watch next weekend's paper." Hart's district includes Garden City.

DEMOCRATIC SENATORS broke into a bitter, intra-party debate over whether the bill is anti-Detroit.

"You cut social services and put (black Detroiters) in prisons," said Sen. Jackie Vaughn III, D-Detroit, opposing mandatory imprisonment as a "death penalty for Detroit. He was joined by Sen. David Holmes, D-Detroit.

"I've never heard anything so profoundly ignorant as the previous speaker (Vaughn)," said Sen. John Kelly, D-Grosse Pointe, sponsor of the bill and supporter of mandatory sentences.

"Forty-eight percent of people don't go downtown any more, and 70 percent of Detroiters are afraid to go out in their neighborhoods.

"Yes, there is a proposed death penalty for the city of Detroit, senator (Vaughn), and you just made it. Yours was one of the most outrageous, immoral statements I've ever heard anyone make."

The mandatory imprisonment amendment was sponsored by Senate Democratic leader Art Miller of Warren. It was the only part of the nine-bill package debated Thursday.

Acting floor leader Robert Geake, R-Northville, halted debate at noon. The bills are due for further action some time this week. The mandatory sentence amendment could still be removed.

JUDICIARY Committee chair William VanRegenmorter, R-Jenison, opposed mandatory sentencing.

"The bill makes it (car piracy) a 15-year felony. The firearm statute applies (two years for use of a gun in any crime). But if we deal with a 10-year mandatory minimum, the prison population will grow much worse," said VanRegenmorter.

He warned senators against falling for the "crime of the month" syndrome. "We have to resist the temptation to put mandatory sentences on a crime that has caught the public attention," he said.

There is no mandatory sentence for crimes of rape, manslaughter or child torture, VanRegenmorter added.

Other bills in the package allow juveniles to be tried as adults without a probate court waiver.

House may vote on assisted-suicide bill

By Tim Richard
staff writer

State representatives this week may try to force a vote on a bill prohibiting assisted suicides.

"The bill is lodged in (Rep.) Perry Bullard's committee," said Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, author of the Senate-passed bill.

Discussion of Senate Bill 32 surfaced Thursday in the wake of news that Dr. Jack Kevoorkian had assisted two more suicides in northern Oakland County.

THE SENATE March 30 passed Dillingham's bill, making assisted suicide a four-year felony, and sent it to the House.

There, Speaker Lewis Dodak, D-Birch Run, referred it to the Judiciary Committee headed by Bullard, D-Ann Arbor.

Bullard never has held hearings and has called the bill "poorly drafted." He wants Senate action on his own "living will" bill.

Bullard and Dillingham are on opposite sides of the abortion issue. Bullard openly scoffs at "so-called Right to Life" groups who back Dillingham's abortion regulation efforts.

DILLINGHAM said Rep. Michael Griffin, D-Jackson, would offer a discharge petition to force the bill out of Bullard's panel. Griffin is a major anti-abortion leader in the House and heads the House panel on congressional redistricting. "Mike Griffin's a lot more important to the speaker than Perry Bullard is," Dillingham told reporters following Thursday's session.

He said the medical profession should "put Kevoorkian's lights out" — lift his medical license.

"He (Kevoorkian) has gone from terminal illness to a chronic condition" in aiding suicides, said Dillingham, a former mortician. "What's next? Mild depression?"

"This guy has gone from 'Dr. Death' to 'Dr. God,'" Dillingham said.

KEVORKIAN, A retired Royal Oak pathologist, stirred up the controversy in mid-1990 when he aided the terminally ill Janet Adkins of Oregon in committing suicide in an Oakland County Park.

Wednesday at dusk, Kevoorkian called Oakland County authorities to report he had aided two more women's suicides in the Bald Mountain State Recreation Area.

They were Sherrie Miller, 43, Roseville, ill with multiple sclerosis, which experts say is rarely fatal; and Marjorie Watts, 58, of rural Berrien County, with a painful hip disorder.

Oakland Prosecutor Richard Thompson charged Kevoorkian with murder in the Adkins case, but a district judge dismissed the case, saying Michigan law doesn't clearly prohibit assisted suicide.

Plymouth Salem coach Ken Johnson responded with a "we'll need it" after well wishers greeted him with "good luck" prior to Saturday's Class A final.

But on a slick Northville High field, Salem pulled off the shocker, thus far in the state boys soccer tourney, a 1-0 triumph over Livonia Churchill, last year's state runner-up.

"It's the best feeling in the world, nothing beats it," said senior forward John Truskowski, who scored the game-winning goal from Tom Baker with 4:29 remaining. "There's a lot of gratification, especially when it's the game-winner."

It was back on Oct. 7 when Churchill, ranked No. 2 in the state coaches poll and No. 1 in Observerland, man-handled the host Rocks, 3-1.

"And it could have been a lot worse," Johnson reminded. "The last time they just demolished us. They used the wide-open spaces on our big field to go around us. Man for man we don't match up."

BUT ON A narrow, rain-soaked pitch, the Rocks made the most of the conditions.

"This time we had a plan and it worked," Johnson said. "We used an extra defender. We had Brian Kirby back there. I thought we played pretty well in the back. Churchill is a good team, but you can't move the ball as well when it's slick."

With senior sweeper Matt Lee anchoring Salem's five-man defense, the Chargers' intricate passing attack was nullified.

"We just didn't have any intensity," said Churchill coach Mark Mason, whose team finished 16-2-3 overall. "They (Salem) marked our key players so well. And with the smaller field, there was no room left out there."

soccer

Churchill's big offensive gun, senior Michael Gentile, sat the bench during the final 18 minutes with a foot injury.

"He got kicked in the ankle, he tried to go on it but was unable to run," Mason said. "This is disappointing, especially for our seniors. We figured we were better than last year and we had some of the best players, but we just didn't put it together on this particular day."

TRUSKOWSKI, beating the young Churchill defense down the left side, fired a penetrating shot at Churchill keeper Jeff Cassar, who partially blocked the ball but was unable to keep it from trickling past the goal line for the game's only score.

"It's tough to play with two forwards," Johnson said. "But Truskowski and Joe Perron ran 50 miles out there, it seemed. And we played pretty well in at the back with a freshman goalie (Paul Dood). The last few games he's been great. We brought him up early this year and he got the experience."

Salem will take a 14-4-2 record into tonight's regional semifinal matchup against top-ranked Livonia Stevenson (7 tonight at Centennial Educational Park).

Most observers were looking forward to a Stevenson-Churchill matchup after the two teams tied twice by identical 1-1 scores.

"It was the extra defender and our spirit that won it," Johnson said. "The boys wanted it. It's the best game we've played all season. It's the best feeling I've ever had in coaching."

And that's coming from the coach who won the 1987 state Class A girls title.

Spartans eye regional Livonia Stevenson boys soccer coach Walt Barrett stood under an umbrella Saturday, watching the final seconds tick away in the Class A district final at Dearborn.

Stevenson (16-0-3), who had given up eight goals all season, yielded two against Dearborn, but still managed to beat the Pioneers, 4-2, advancing to the Class A-Regional semifinals at 7 tonight against host Plymouth Salem.

Steady rain made field conditions slick, but Dearborn coach Jeff Newton said the wet surface had nothing to do with the outcome.

"Stevenson just played a better game," Newton said. "They have a reputation to live up to. It makes playing them very tough."

The Spartans were knocking at the door early, but failed to capitalize on numerous scoring opportunities.

Senior Travis Roy tallied Stevenson's first goal midway through the first half, taking a pass from junior Adam Pichler and beating Dearborn goalie Matt Monroe.

Less than two minutes later, junior Jeff Thomas weaved through the Pioneer defense and scored, giving Stevenson a 2-0 advantage with 14:11 left in the first half.

The Spartans went up 3-0 late in the opening half when senior Adam Carriere took a pass from Dave Matovski and beat Monroe, who was sprawled on the turf.

"I like the way our offense played in the first half," Barrett said. "They did a real nice job."

Dearborn's Fadi Bazzi scored the first of his two goals just before halftime as the Spartans led 3-1 at intermission. The score resulted on a mix-up between Stevenson defenders Scott Wiggins and Roy, two of the area's best.

"I didn't call him off and we collided," Wiggins said. "We played just terrible on defense today. We gave up eight goals all year and then got out and gave up two today."

Bazzi scored his second goal with 19:15 left in the game, narrowing the Stevenson lead to 3-2.

Senior Todd Krzysnik iced the win late in the second half, tucking the ball past Monroe.

Madonna hits summit, smashes Northwood

By C.J. Rieak

Talk about traveling through unfamiliar waters...

There are a couple of volleyball teams in the NAIA's District 23 doing just that. It's been five years since Northwood Institute has been anywhere but at the district's summit.

Until last Thursday, that is. Now the Northwomen find themselves a step short of the top spot — courtesy of Madonna University.

The Lady Crusaders know what it's like to be close, but not quite good enough — a position they have now relegated to Northwood. Meanwhile, they must adjust to being top dog.

Madonna gained that position in convincing style, sending Northwood down to defeat — its first district loss in five years — in three-straight games, 15-13, 16-14, 15-6 at Madonna.

"I thought we played exceptionally well," said Crusader coach Jerry Abraham. "We played great defense. We kept everything up off the floor and just didn't let them get into their game."

"We never had any breakdowns."

THERE WERE opportunities, however. The first game took 45 minutes to play as the two teams sprawled for every ball and scratched for every point. With the score tied at 13-13, there were four side-outs before another point was scored.

volleyball

Madonna got it, on an Evette Sluder dink that hit the top of the net and spun over for a point. An Elena Oparka kill closed out the game, in the Crusaders' favor.

The second game was much the same. Madonna's biggest lead was three points, but Northwood battled back and led 10-8 before the Crusaders tied it at 10. It was tied at 11 when a Tonia Smith service ace and two kills by Dana Hicks-Finley put Madonna up 14-11.

Northwood rallied, though, tying it at 14 and putting the Crusaders in jeopardy of folding under the pressure. But it didn't happen; the Crusaders scored twice, blocking a pair of Northwood kill attempts to post the 16-14 win.

"They had that hunger," was how Northwood coach Kevin Fagan explained the match. "Tonight, they were hungrier than we were."

IT SHOWED in the third game, certainly. The two teams were each 5-0 in district play coming into the match, and their evenness was evident in the first two games of the match — the biggest lead for either side had been four points.

Not so in game No. 3. The score was tied at 2; after that, Madonna outpointed the Northwomen 10-1 to take a commanding 12-3 advantage. Kristy McFadden closed out the match with a kill in a 15-6 final-game victory.

It was Hicks-Finley, though, who spurred the Crusaders. She finished with 25 kills and 11 digs, and the admiration of the opposing team's coach.

Behind the high-powered attack of middle-hitters Kari Van Deusen and Renea Bonser, Schoolcraft College rolled to its seventh win in eight Eastern Conference matches with a 15-9, 15-3, 15-4 victory at Macomb CC Thursday.

The Ocelots are 25-8 overall. Van Deusen had 17 kills (a .271 kill average) and Bonser added 11. Stephanie Jandasek collected eight kills and Kell Haeger had 31 assists-to-kills.

Rivals Glenn, Wayne victorious

Host Westland John Glenn kept its Class AA playoff hopes alive Friday night, defeating Walled Lake Western in a third place Western Lakes Activities Association crossover game, 13-0.

The Rockets, who have reached the state playoffs five of the last six years, improved to 6-2 overall. (Glenn was running sixth behind Adrian and Plymouth Salem in Region 2 for the fourth and final playoff spot last week).

Walled Lake Western dropped to 4-4 overall.

John Glenn scored on a 39-yard run by senior tailback Tad Quattlander and a 1-yard keeper by senior quarterback Terry Hower in the third quarter.

Glenn, which gained 178 total yards, was led by senior tailback John Ward who rushed for 56 yards on 10 carries. Hower completed 7-of-15 passes for 71 yards.

For Walled Lake Western, which was held to 81 total yards, senior tailback Artie Gilbert had 30 yards on eight carries.

WAYNE 28, MONROE 8: Quarterback Jason Wetmore was back in the lineup Friday after sitting out one game with a bruised collarbone.

The senior hurled a pair of touchdown passes, leading Wayne Memorial (4-4, 3-4) to the Wolverine A League triumph over the visiting Trojans (4-4, 3-4).

Monroe struck first at 9:35 of the second period on a 75-yard run by Weyman Jones. He also added the two-point conversion run. (Jones had 175 yards rushing in 32 carries).

Wayne then scored 28 unanswered points, 20 coming in the second quarter.

Wetmore hit Gary Barnes with a 25-yard TD pass and tied it up (8-8) with a two-point pass to Eric Bates.

Jermaine Ellis then capped a 62-yard, seven-play TD drive with a 4-yard run.

The Zebras made it 20-8 with 2:21 left in the half on Wetmore's 30-yard scoring strike to Greg Carrico.

Brian Foster then stopped Monroe on second down-and-goal at the Wayne 8 when he recovered a Trojan fumble as time expired.

Bruce Calhoun, who led Wayne with 146 yards in 14 carries, scored the Zebras' final eight points on a 27-yard run followed by the two-point conversion.

Wayne outgained Monroe in total yardage, 348-222.

Tim Mate added an interception for the winners, who play host Friday to rival Westland Glenn.

CANTON 9, STEVENSON 7: Senior tailback Steve Hohl rushed for 242 yards on 38 carries Friday, powering Plymouth Canton past host Livonia Stevenson in a WLA crossover game.

Both teams are 3-5 overall. Canton scored on a 31-yard field goal by senior kicker Jeff Nafe in the third quarter and a 1-yard run by quarterback Kevin Shankle.

Stevenson, which was held to 167 total yards, scored early in the first quarter on a 2-yard run by senior tailback Chris Lehti.

The Chiefs had 284 total yards. Shankle completed 4-of-12 passes for 52 yards.

Junior tailback Micah Letzau led Stevenson with 55 yards on three carries.

Senior linebacker Chad Myers was the Spartans' leading tackler.

W.L. CENTRAL 28, CHURCHILL 6: Walled Lake Central broke into the win column for the first time this season at the expense of visiting Livonia Churchill, which lost for the 17th straight time on Friday.

Mark Tataruk, who rushed for 102 yards in 12 carries, scored a pair of second-quarter TDs for the victorious Vikings, who led 28-6 at the half.

David Johnson scored on a first-quarter TD run, while Justin Williams added a second-period scoring dash.

Ryan Kukla, who paced Churchill with 80 yards in 11 carries, scored on a 70-yard run in the second.

Central outgained the Chargers in total yardage, 237-80.

Churchill quarterback Mike Johnson hit 13 of 34 passes for 156 yards (one interception). The Chargers' leading receiver was Jason Renklewicz, who caught three passes for 41 yards.

Despite the sloppy conditions, there were no fumbles.

WALDRON 14, LUTHERAN WESTLAND 12: On Friday, the host Spartans broke a seven-game losing streak by stunning 4-4 Lutheran High Westland.

Waldron won despite being outgained 234-172 in total offense.

David Ackerman, who paced the victorious

Spartans with 85 yards in 17 attempts, opened the scoring with a 35-yard second-quarter TD run.

Waldron opened the second half with an 88-yard kickoff return to make it 14-0.

Lutheran High came back with a 72-yard TD drive, capped by Steve Faith's 1-yard dive. But the two-pointer failed, as the Warriors trailed 14-6 after three quarters.

In the fourth quarter, Faith scored on a 2-yard run. The 67-yard drive was kept alive by quarterback Jason Zielinski's 39-yard run.

The Warriors, who missed the two-pointer, got the ball back on the Waldron 40 after Jason Leimbach blocked a punt that was recovered by Matt Grams, but the potential winning drive was turned over on downs.

LUTHERAN EAST 14, CLARENCEVILLE 8: Junior tailback Carl Holston's 1-yard third-quarter touchdown run did not hold up Friday, as Harper Woods Lutheran East stormed back to win the Metro Conference encounter.

Host Harper Woods Lutheran East won it on junior quarterback Kareem Binton's 10-yard TD keeper and subsequent two-point run.

Livonia Clarenceville drops to 1-7 overall and finishes 1-6 in the Metro.

The Eagles finished 3-4 in the conference and evened their overall record at 4-4.

North nips Stevenson in WLAA

By Dan O'Meara staff writer

North Farmington was a contender but not the favorite Wednesday in the Western Lakes Activities Association girls cross country race at Cass Benton Park.

When it was over, the Raiders were champions, however.

North outran division winners Livonia Stevenson (Lakes) and Walled Lake Western (Western) to capture its first WLAA girls title.

The Raiders put three runners in the top 10 and five in the top 17, finishing with a 45-point total. Stevenson, the defending champion, was second (54) and Western third (92). See statistical summary.

The boys race went according to form with WLW winning its second straight title in a runaway. The Warriors scored 22 points, Farmington Hills Harrison 78 and Lakes Division champ Plymouth Salem 85.

"WE COULDN'T have asked the girls to run a better race," North coach Bill Pinnell Jr. said. "They ran a smart race all the way through. They knew what they had to do and they did it."

North's Emily Shively was the individual winner, finishing 27 seconds ahead of Stevenson's A.J. Koritnik, who had edged Shively in the dual. Keegan Keefover was sixth, Alicia Crossland ninth, Jenny Weh 12th and Lisa Wantuck 17th for the Raiders.

Koritnik was second for the Spartans, Bridget MacKinnon seventh, Stacy Prais 11th, Kelly Prais 14th and Gail Greve 20th.

Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said his girls went out fast and expended a lot of energy early in the race.

"My kids wanted to win so badly they tried to win it from the start of the race on, and you just can't win a cross country race like that," he said. "It was not for a lack of effort."

"After the first mile, we had five of the top 10 places. Five were under 6:20 and one was under six minutes. We were running dead after that and didn't have enough left to finish the race."

THE WARRIORS

, meanwhile, were minus two varsity runners — Jennifer Ray (strained ligaments) and Jody Reimer (foot stress fracture). Plus, Wendy Proos had a dizzy spell on the unusually warm day in late October and might have become dehydrated, according to Bellinger.

Spartans cruise; Lessig sets mark

State-ranked Livonia Stevenson dunked Western Lakes Activities Association Lakes Division rival Plymouth Salem, 124-62, in a girls swim meet Tuesday.

The Spartans won 10 of 12 events, increasing their overall record to 6-1.

Individual double winners for victorious Stevenson: Mandi Falk, 200-yard individual medley (2:17.71) and 100 butterfly (1:01.7); Jamie Anderson, 200 freestyle (2:04.45) and 500 freestyle (5:25.73); and Jennifer Knapp, 50 freestyle (26.11) and 100 breaststroke (1:10.58).

Stevenson's other individual winners were Nancy Watson in the 100 freestyle (3:23), Jill Knapp finished second in the 200 IM but made her state qualifying cut (2:19.71).

The Spartans won all three relay events.

The Knapp sisters, Falk and Jamie Anderson captured the 200 medley (1:59.77). The team of Watson, Anderson and the Knapps took the 200 freestyle relay (4:00).

The freestyle relay, Falk, Watson, Anderson and Lisa Morrison won (3:44.30).

Other winners included Kristin Stackpole in the 100 backstroke (1:06.39) and Katie Williams in diving (2:27.65 points).

LIVONIA CHURCHILL

, despite eight first places, lost Thursday to WLAA Western Division opponent Plymouth Canton, 95-91.

Ellen Lessig broke her own Churchill school record in the 100 freestyle with a time of 54.7. She also captured the 50 freestyle (25.1) and was a part of two winning relay teams.

Jamie Strauch, Sarah Bayley, Kim Gruska and Lessig won the 200 freestyle (1:47.9). Tara Ditchkoff, Liz Sorokac, Strauch and Lessig won the 400 freestyle (3:47.2).

Ditchkoff added firsts in the 200- and 500 freestyles with times of 2:04.3 and 5:22.7, respectively. Sorokac was also a double victor, capturing the 200 IM (2:18.7) and 100 breaststroke (1:14.95).

The Chargers fell to 7-2 overall and 3-1 in the division. Individual winners for Canton, the Western Division leaders, included: Jill Mellis, 100 butterfly (1:03.4); Janet Roberts, 100 backstroke (1:06.0); and Amy Kodrick, diving (238.95).

The foursome of Roberts, Mellis, Kelly Larson and Jeni Cooper won the 200 medley relay (1:58.9).

LIVONIA FRANKLIN

 ran its overall record 4-3 with a 108-78 victory Thursday over visiting Walled Lake Western.

The Patriots took eight of 12 events. Jenny Fisher figured in four first places.

Madonna spikers reach summit in victory

"She was the difference tonight," said Fagan. "She was awesome. Every time there was a situation where we needed a play, we couldn't make it. But she came through for them." It wasn't all Hicks-Finley. Parka had 20 kills, Smith contributed 12 kills and 11 digs and McFadden finished with nine kills. Jenny Sladewski led the defense with 18 digs, Maureen Paulin added 13. And Penny Baker was near-perfect in her setting.

This isn't the end, though; Madonna hasn't won anything yet. The Crusaders, 34-10 overall, still must beat Aquinas College Tuesday, then have to capture the district tournament to reach the NAIA Tournament.

Halloween hints for bowlers

H

ALLOWEEN IS UPON us and here are a few special "tricks" and "treats" just for bowlers:

Treat — any time you carry a strike on a "Brooklyn hit."

Trick — on a solid pocket shot, the whole back row of pins remain standing.

Treat — on a night when nothing goes right, they call your number for the mystery game and you win with a 112 game.

Trick — you expected dry lane conditions and they oil them wall-to-wall and 10-foot tall (or vice versa).

Treat — When you thought you lost the game, then found a mathematical error and it turns out you actually won by two pins.

Trick — You just discovered that your socks don't match.

Treat — It's a "beer frame" and you rolled a strike.

Trick — The ball slips out of your grasp and lands squarely on your big toe.

Treat — Bowling your highest score ever.

Trick — They announce your car in the parking lot with the lights left on and it's raining out.

Treat — Seeing your own name here on the "honor roll" next week.

• Bowlers looking for some tournament action can pick and choose from all kinds of competition both locally or out of town. The largest cash prize, as usual is the Hamtramck Singles, which anyone would think is held in Hamtramck, right? Wrong.

You will have to go to Hazel Park to bowl in the 41st Annual Hamtramck Singles Classic. The tournament starts Oct. 13 and runs through June 30 with a first prize of $50,000.

Entry blanks are at bowling centers all over town or call 548-0070. The DWBA 67th annual city championship will open March 7, 1992. Entry forms are out now.

The tournament will be held just prior to the WIBC 1992 National championships in Lansing, beginning April 2. That's a long way off, but remember, entries close by Jan. 10th.

The 89th Men's state tournament will take place in the Detroit area from Jan. 11 through May 11th. The total prize fund will be about $320,000 and entries and more information can be obtained by calling MNBA secretary Ray Sivers in Lansing at 517-699-3038 from 1 to 5 p.m. Over 3,000 teams are expected to compete in this event.

The Old Timers Bowling Association will hold its 61st annual tournament and dinner Nov. 30 in the Thunderbowl. This event is for men who have been bowling at least 25 years and are age 40 or over.

It is separated into groups for awards. One of the highlights will feature several of the past greats who will be bowling together in competition. Names such as Joe Norris, Billy Golembewski, Bob Strampe, Buzz Fazio, George Howard, Tony Lindemann and Ed Lubanski are expected to be there.

The eighth annual "Make-A-Wish" charity Pro-Am Tournament is scheduled for Oct. 27 and Nov. 3 at Astro Lanes. Many of the top pro bowlers and local celebrities will be on hand.

This is a "No-Tap" event which has been organized by Cora Fiebig. For further information call 399-6739 or 589-9118. The Men's Pro Bowlers tour stop at Taylor Lanes affords an opportunity for local shooters to compete in the "pro-am" part of the event with a chance to bowl with the top stars of the Pro Tour.

The dates are Nov. 26-30. For those that like to say "Have ball, will travel," there is the big money action at the Hoinks Super Classic in Cincinnati, the Peterson Classic in Chicago, and the High Rollers in Las Vegas. The entry forms are available at most bowling centers. I expect to have the results of the Team USA Tournament in this column next week.

An innovation for those that like this type of competition is the newly-formed

Northville spoils Patriots' evening

Northville stormed back in the second half Thursday to beat host Livonia Franklin in a Western Lakes girls basketball encounter, 50-49.

The Mustangs, who trailed 31-22 at intermission, rallied over the final two quarters, outscoring the Patriots, 28-18.

Laura Apligian, who iced the victory with a pair of free throws with 11 seconds left, paced Northville with 14 points. Beth MatLean added 12, eight in the second half, while Karen Pump contributed 11.

Northville is now 12-4 overall and 6-3 in the conference.

Franklin senior guard Dawn Warner, who missed part of the second half with a bruised elbow, led all scorers with 28 points. She also had nine rebounds and five steals before fouling out in the final minute.

Senior guard Patty Shea added 10 points, four assists and four steals.

The Patriots fall to 12-3 and 6-3.

MARIAN 76, LADYWOOD 51: Michele Coughlin pumped in 21 points and had seven steals Thursday, leading Birmingham Marian (11-4, 6-2) to the Catholic League Central Division victory over Livonia Ladywood (9-7, 3-5) in a game played at Redford Catholic Central.

The Mustangs enjoyed a 46-20 halftime lead and never looked back.

Stephanie Storen chipped in with 15 points, nine rebounds and a school-record 12 assists. Tara Walsh added 12 points.

Andrea Putli scored 10 in a losing cause.

W.L. CENTRAL 56, JOHN GLENN 50: On Thursday, Bridgette Norris and Jenny Czach tallied 15 and 13, respectively, leading visiting Walled Lake Central (5-4, 8-6) to the Western Lakes triumph over Westland John Glenn (4-5, 8-7).

Senior forward Cathy Mruk led the Rockets with 11 points. Senior forward Kristi Zimmer and Jennifer Gorecki each added 10. Gorecki also had six assists.

The Rockets made only five of 18 free throws. They were outscored 22-11 in the second quarter.

W.L. WESTERN 49, CHURCHILL 42:

In a rescheduled Western Lakes game on Wednesday, host Walled Lake Western overcame a 32-20 halftime deficit to hand visiting Livonia Churchill its 15th straight defeat.

Western outscored the Chargers 17-4 in the decisive fourth quarter.

Three Churchill players fouled out, including Chrissy Daly, who scored 14 of her team-high 16 points in the opening half. Julie Campau added 13.

Western's Jennifer Gross paced all scorers, with 22.

The Warriors made 17 of 34 free throws, while Churchill hit eight of 18.

WYANDOTTE 45, WAYNE 21: Waverline A League leader Wyandotte Roosevelt (14-0, 9-0) remained unbeaten Thursday with a 24-point victory over visiting Wayne Memorial (5-9, 3-6).

Kim Bailey, a 6-foot-3 senior, led the victorious Bears with 16 points. Guard Lisa Overhold contributed 12.

Letecia Moore scored nine for the Zephyrs.

HARPER WOODS 50, CLARENCEVILLE 27: On Thursday, the host Pioneers (9-6, 6-4) blanketed Livonia Clarenceville (4-11, 2-8) in the opening period en route to the Metro Conference win.

Jenny Ruitzloff carried the victors with a game-high 15 points.

Leandra Hoffman tallied eight for the Trojans. Angie Wakefield contributed five.

LUTH. WESTLAND 60, S'FIELD CHRISTIAN 36: Junior forward Lori MacKay had 23 points and eight rebounds Friday, leading host Lutheran Westland (10-4, 3-2) to a Michigan Independent Athletic Conference victory over Southfield Christian (2-13, 1-4).

Senior guard Lori Gentz added 10 points for the Warriors.

Senior guard Melynia Cole led Southfield Christian with 19 points.

PLY. CHRISTIAN 30, HURON VALLEY 19: Sophomore guard Nancy Kobornik scored 10 points Friday, lifting visiting Plymouth Christian Academy (11-2, 2-1 in the MIAC) over stalling Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (4-8, 0-3).

Sandi Denget, a senior center, scored 10 for the Hawks.

PCA defeated Huron Valley earlier this season by 17, so Huron Valley wanted to keep the game close this time.

"We looked over at each other for almost two minutes," Plymouth Christian Academy coach Dennis Horton said. "I guess they were trying to keep it close. I think that we're pleased that we won, under the conditions that we were dealt. We didn't shoot very well (12 of 51 from the field)."

Stevenson loses front-line battle

By Brad Emons
staff writer

Plymouth Salem won the war in the third quarter, resulting in a 51-36 Western Lakes girls basketball win over Livonia Stevenson.

The host Rocks got 25 points from center Darlie Miller and 15 from 5-10 forward Cyndi Platter en route to their ninth straight win.

Miller, a 6-foot-1 senior, bound for Valparaiso University of Indiana, also blocked eight shots and grabbed 11 rebounds. Platter, a 5-11 junior, added 11 rebounds.

Miller hit 12 of 21 shots from the floor, while Platter made seven of 14.

Meanwhile, Stevenson's inside duo of 5-10 senior Teresa Sarno and 5-11 junior Karen Groulx combined for just 20 points — 11 and 9, respectively. They shot a combined six of 29 from the floor.

Sarno was in early foul trouble, picking up a pair right at the start. She had three personals by halftime as Salem held a 27-16 advantage.

STEVENSON CUT the deficit to girls basketball

ning after a near-standoff in the third quarter, trailing 33-24.

The Spartans then made a run, cutting the deficit to three, 37-34, on a Sarno free throw with 4:01 remaining.

But that's when the fast-breaking Rocks turned it up a notch, outscoring their opponents 14-2 down the stretch. Christy Parimucha's only basket of the game, with 1:40 remaining, gave Salem a commanding nine-point lead, 45-36, putting it out of reach.

"It's these kind of games that you have to be in if you're going to be tourney tough, and I thought we responded well," Salem coach Fred Thomann said. "We had great scoring opportunities during their run, but we just didn't convert. It was a just a matter of going back to making the shots."

Despite some dry spells offensively, Salem's defense remained constant.

Rocks guards Parimucha and Leslie Gotts were able to wear down Stevenson's sophomore point-guard Mo Drabicki, who had an outstanding first-half to keep her team in it.

"We just had to keep the defense going and keep challenging on the other end," Thomann said.

REBOUNDING also played a pivotal part in the final outcome.

"We didn't have to go out and guard their guards," Stevenson coach Chuck Hebestreit said. "The way they shoot from the perimeter, our guards should have sagged in more. But our big people didn't box out. You could tell by the number of second and third shots they had. They controlled the boards to win the game."

Sarno, who did not get a shot off in the first quarter, had just five rebounds on the night.

"Lori Shingledecker, a guard, led us with 11 rebounds, and that tells you something right there," Hebestreit said. "Getting her (Sarno) out hurt us, but we were lucky she was able to play a full game with all the fouls."

"We're still inexperienced, and we're still showing the effects of having only one senior (Sarno). We have to run the play through four times if need be. We have to show more patience."

Black Market members Mitch Purdy, drummer, James Megerian, bassist, Bob Monteone, guitarist, and vocalist Larry Duncan have come up with "Tropical Rock," a collection of work spanning 10 years.

Marketing rock with their reggae

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Four white musicians immersed and inspired by the joyous sounds of Jamaica, Black Market followed their muse with the most sincere intentions.

Theirs was an enthusiastic musical journey into the realm of stripped down, pure roots reggae. Even the people in Kingston embraced them for their eagerness and authenticity when the band performed there in 1982.

But Black Market changed. Some would say they were merely sidetracked.

After the vibrant, undiluted reggae heard on the band's debut album, "Air Freight," in 1983, Black Market countered with a fairly straight-ahead rock'n'roll album "Cool & Deadly" in 1989. Did they betray their original vision, bowing to the commercial demands of radio and the club scene? Perhaps so.

Vocalist Larry Duncan prefers to think of the LP as exorcising the rock demons that lurked within.

"We had to deal with the fact that some people felt we were compromising a little bit," said Duncan in a telephone interview. "But I would say (it) was more in terms of trying to extract that album we all kind of had in us, that rock'n'roll album we had thought about."

"Instead of trying to marry the two, we tried to keep them separate."

By acknowledging their rock'n'roll influences, Black Market came clean. The challenge as the band marks its 10th year together is finding happy median of two vigorous musical forms.

"TROPICAL ROCK," the group's third re-

'But I would say (it) was more in terms of trying to extract that album we all kind of had in us...'

— Larry Duncan

lease, offers evidence that Black Market can answer the call. The 11-song offering is part retrospective, part introspective to what direction Black Market is headed.

Some numbers date back to 1980 when the drummer Mitch Purdy, bassist James Megerian of Farmington, guitarist Bob Monteone and Duncan formed the outfit to explore the sounds of the Caribbean, perfected by masters such as Bob Marley and Peter Tosh. One song, "Big Bamboo," captures the mood and inspiration of Black Market who recorded the number in Jamaica.

Although "Tropical Rock" is a collection of work spanning 10 years, the hard-edged sound of Black Market is a common thread throughout the package.

"We know we're not a true, roots reggae group," Purdy said. "Even in a major reggae outfit they've always tapped into a little bit more than their own music such as jazz, soul and rock. To us, Jamaican style music has always been a hybrid."

As other reggae outfits have found, the music doesn't lend itself for commercial opportunities. Although the Black Market's first album was highly acclaimed and gigs opening up for Bob Marley's The Wailers, Steel Pulse and Third World followed, the success didn't parlay into radio air play or a record deal.

The hard rock feel of "Cool & Deadly" helped change Black Market fortunes, at least made their music a little less alien to radio programmers and club owners.

"IF THINGS went our way," Duncan said, "we could call the shots and bring it back full circle and play the kind of reggae music we enjoy playing, which is reggae with a rock'n'roll slant to it."

For band members, though, the memories of traveling to Jamaica and performing in Kingston clubs for the first time remain vivid. Purdy recalls being nervous at first, touching down at the airport wondering if they would be accepted.

Understandably, audiences were skeptical of four white guys trying to play reggae. Black Market won them over.

"The thing they were looking for was sincerity," Purdy said. "They don't want someone to bastardize the music for profit and that's not initially what we wanted to do. We got together to play this music because we loved it."

But what would those same people in Kingston say to this reggae turned rock'n'roll turned reggae outfit?

Said Duncan, "I think they would enjoy it."

Black Market will perform three shows in the area — Tuesday, Oct. 29, at Metro Cafe, 326 W. Fourth St., Royal Oak, 542-1990; Wednesday, Oct. 30, at Juke Box, 4616 N. Woodward, Royal Oak, 549-2233; and Sunday, Nov. 3, at The New Wagon Wheel, 2950 16 Mile Road, near Rochester Road, Troy, 689-8194.

It's no parking for Karma

By Larry O'Connor
staff writer

Lick and stick the postage stamps. Park the Karma is well-packaged and ready for delivery to any major record company.

On this night, the cramped stage at the Exit Club is the band's mailbox.

Anyone could decipher that the four-member band buys into the theory that sexuality sells. Lead singer Lori Wyatt moves seductively throughout the performance, swaying her hips and obviously not afraid to use her femininity to draw attention.

First clue? There's the smoking rendition of Nancy Sinatra's '60s tribute to go-go footwear, "These Boots Are Made for Walking," during which Wyatt saunters up and puts her leather-clad foot on display for some sheepish-looking male.

Hasty assessments and rash judgments may be easily made here. But when Wyatt swings her long brown mane back and growls the lyrics to the band's "I Can't Live Without You" ("I want to touch you/I want to love you/I want you to make me scream"), the clear intent is to make men stand in line with polar bears for a shower under icebergs.

"I've gotten some interesting reactions," Wyatt said later. "You get your complaints. I was standing near the stage before one of our shows and some woman handed me a hate letter, saying I was harming the image of women."

"I THINK I'm an artist. I can be anything I want to be."

Who can argue with that? Then again, Park the Karma was born out of debate and division.

The band was formed earlier this year from the remnants of Walk the Dogma. A rift occurred, leaving a majority of Walk the Dogma members to form the Hope Orchestra.

Drummer Kerry Gluckman already had hand-picked guitarist Jake Smith. Smith, in turn, suggested the singing talents of Wyatt.

Bassist Raquel Salaysay recently joined on as a expatriate of the short-lived, all-female outfit The Truncheons. Salaysay doesn't care to talk about The Truncheons.

Park the Karma is very much a separate entity. The band fancies itself as something alternative, but actually owes more to hard-rock sensibilities.

Part of the reason is lead guitarist Smith, who never met a power chord he didn't like. He also cranks up a few windmill swings, a la Peto Townshend, for exclamation points during the live shows.

Smith estimates that he's been in more than 100 bands — he even auditioned for Walk the Dogma four years ago and didn't make the cut.

"I've never been in a band as serious as this before," Smith said.

CERTAINLY, Park the Karma has some serious objectives. The band keeps busy performing live shows in the area and plans to release a self-titled compact disc.

The eight-song offering offers a buoyant collection of scorching hard-rock numbers. A majority of the songs are written by Wyatt, who prefers metaphors to delect the human condition, such as in "Social Napoleons," a sax-infused commentary about posers.

Her vocal style may owe more to the hard-rock style of Chrissie Hynde and Pat Benatar than anything, although Wyatt admits her onstage persona differs greatly from her demure one off stage.

"I'm really mellow," she said. "Then this other self comes out. I'm not obnoxious in real life."

Park the Karma will have a record release party Friday, Nov. 15, at Lili's 21, 2930 Jacob, Hamtramck. Appearing with them will be Twiggy Barbust.

Singer Lori Wyatt and bassist Raquel Salaysay make up the female half of Park the Karma. Their bandmates include drummer Kerry Gluckman and guitarist Jake Smith.

Hey, you can 'beam me up' to these local fanzines

This column has mentioned topics like environmental degradation, Rush Limbaugh and the proliferation of strip malls, but the thing that got readers most riled up was a comment on the lack of fanzines around these days.

None too surprisingly, everyone who was irate about the subject happened to produce a fanzine of their own. So, in the interest of keeping the peace, here's a look at some of the 'zines produced right here in our own backyard.

For those who don't know what the heck we're talking about here, a little review is in order. Fanzines are tiny magazines, usually printed with a dot-matrix printer and a yep for publishing and a little extra time on their hands.

For a full list of fanzines from around the world, write to: Factsheet Five, 6 Arizona St. Rensselaer, N.Y. 12144-4502. While you're waiting for that list, try one of these 'zines:

U2 And Them Some (send $1 to Amy Johnson, 14154 Hubbell, Livonia 48154) — As you may have guessed, this small booklet is dedicated to extolling the virtues of U2. But, since U2 hasn't put out an album in several years, Johnson fills her pages with other tidbits of info like a reader survey (sample question: How many times did you see the movie "Ghost Dad?") and the music from the theme song to "Green Acres." The style is perky stream of consciousness. In Johnson's letter to "Left of Center," she complimented this column, saying "I sort of really enjoyed it." Gee, thanks, I guess.

Protect Yourself — "A Woman's Survival Guide on Campus" (send $1 to Allen Salyer, P.O. Box 1551, Royal Oak 48068) — Kudos to any man who can put out such a serious anti-rape 'zine. This earnest booklet advises women how to avoid rape with a slew of tips and article clippings. Their motto is "Read this. Copy it. Pass it along to a friend. Protect yourself. If it offends you — too bad."

Infantazine (send $1 to 501 Avis Drive, Suite 1, Box 130, Ann Arbor 48104) — Every part of this 'zine is sure to offend someone. It treads the line between funny and disgusting. Their motto is "Something to read." The style is the rantings and ravings of a madman; Sample article title: "How and Why to Hate the Aliens." The troublesome thing is, the author seems to be serious.

Hailing Frequency (U.S. Intrepid, P.O. Box 1094, Dearborn 48121) — This isn't really a fanzine, but it's the newsletter for the local Star Trek club. "Lt. Commander Lorraine Hefner describes the club as an "alternative life style that we hope will lead to peace, caring for humanity, scientific discovery, advances in education and wholesome social interactions." Sentient beings who believe that "Star Trek" is more than just a TV show, but rather a set of guidelines to living one's life should contact the address above.

A few months ago, State Rep. Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, introduced legislation to establish a Michigan Registry of Bothersome Practices. The tongue-in-cheek resolution would allow folks who are bothered by things like junk mail and those little subscription cards that fall out of magazines to get them officially registered with the state. The resolution is currently "in committee" where Bullard guesses "it will most likely never see the light of day again."

But if it does, here are some suggestions of bothersome things for the registry:

(1) Unfunny comic strips like Garfield and Funky Winkerbean. The Hall of Famer in this category is Nancy.

(2) CD maxi singles with seven remixes of the same song. Listening to the same song seven times in a row is not healthy.

(3) The host of food at the movies. It works like this: The "wee junior drink" is 20 bucks, the large drink is $2.50. So, you opt for the good value and end up with the obscenely huge bucket of pop and hungry man, family-size barrel of popcorn. What a bargain.

(4) Infotainment TV shows. I'm hoping that these show peter out from lack of material. After all, there are presumably a limited number of brutal crimes involving strippers.

(5) Local TV News. The hair-dos, the egos, and the lack of any actual news are bothersome enough but the worst part of these shows is their preoccupation with violent crimes. If on a given day, they don't meet their quota of local violent crime, they will show footage of violent crimes that happened in other cities. The other thing is their copycat mentality. A few weeks ago, there was a plane that almost crashed at Metro Airport. It didn't crash or anything, but since the all news crews were already down there, they kept covering the non-event.

Every 15 minutes, or so, they'd break into regular programming to say something like "We're at the scene of the place where that plane almost crashed. The plane is still fine and everyone is still injured."

To beef up this kind of thorough news coverage, they interviewed bystanders who had witnessed that, indeed, the plane did not crash.

If you know of some bothersome practices that you'd like to gripe about, jot 'em down and send them to Left of Center, The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

STREET SENSE

Marriage is a commitment

Dear Barbara,
Wow, you struck a nerve with your last column on abuse, but I want to go back to your latest column. Mike from Birmingham is a good example of the old double standard. Women who supplement sexual intercourse with masturbation are perceived as nymphomaniacs. Boys, on the other hand, are just "meat being boys." I think Mike needs to grow up and realize that masturbation with the help of porno films isn't normal behavior.
Sue from Westland

Until comparatively recently, abuse of women has never been brought to light. Today there are articles and still more on the subject and rightfully so. Having lived with a verbally abusive man for 40 years, I have a question for you. WHY is the male so often like this? Perhaps if one had some insight to HIS problem, one could cope.

Why am I still with him? In my day, perhaps, a matter of pride in not letting the world know that my marriage was divorce, that I had made a mistake, that hell was so uncommon and such a social taboo, that working women (of people I knew) was unheard of (then, the responsibility of financially raising children alone was terrifying).

In my case, I cannot understand his need to blame me, to undermine, to demean and humiliate. I never know at what second he'll "blow up," leaving me shattered and devastated. I'm always on guard. All it has accomplished is for me to withdraw. What has he gained and why has he robbed me of a loving, companionable relationship?

I feel he has and will always betray me in any situation, particularly in front of the children — hence one can't expect much respect from them.
Am I really a woman of low self-esteem?

esteem? Am I a female wimp or nurturer always hoping for something better? (When do I give up?)

Why is this to dominate, to control? What is in the structure of so many males? What do they think they gain — certainly not the respect that they seem to be seeking.
A Lonely Wife

The Cat's Meow

FJ Designs have copied from various churches — mostly stores, churches and schools which have a lot of character and historical significance — from throughout the United States for its Cat's Meow Village, so named for the little black cat painted somewhere on each piece. The latest additions are the Franklin Miller and Franklin Community Church, painted and silk screened on half-inch thick, 4-by-5-inch gazebo of wood. The Franklin pieces are priced at $10.95 each, with a gazebo available for $6 as a companion piece for the Franklin Community Church. They're available exclusively at Concourse Card and Photo in the Bloomfield Plaza, Telegraph and Maple roads, Bloomfield Hills.

Versatile flatware

As silverware, they looked great on a festive dining room table. And they look just as good as jewelry. Old silver plate has found a new life as fashion accessories. Solid handles are transformed into key rings ($15.50) and barrettes ($18), while hollow handles serve as vase pins ($25). They are available at the Apple Wreath, 32626 W. Seven Mile, Livonia.

Keep in Truckin'

There's a new truck on the road and in your child's toy chest... the recycling truck. New from Discovery Toys where children learn to experience the world around them, the recycling truck (from Germany) features durable rubber wheels that will explore all terrains, two recycling containers and a manual dumper at the back for emptying out the bins. In bright primary colors, the recycling truck will give your child hours of fun while using gross motor and life skills.

Barbara

Dear Readers,
The column on Sept. 16, in which I asked you to write in with stories of women who were willing to put themselves in danger resulted in an outpouring of letters. This may illustrate how prevalent abusive relationships are among readers of this column in their lives.

Therefore, for the next few weeks, the letters will be printed without comment. All of the women who wrote deserve to be heard; many of them exposed their deepest fears for the first time in their lives.

I want to make it clear that any letter sent to me is absolutely confidential. This can be accomplished in two ways. One, writers can change the demographic facts in the letter they send so they will not be recognizable, or two, it can be written naturally, which I prefer, and I will change any identifying details so that anonymity can be preserved.

I hope many of you will contribute your personal reactions to the following letters, and when all of them have been published, I will print my personal reactions and yours. I also hope that in the future, readers will continue to express themselves as these women have. The benefit to other readers could be more than my comments.

Barbara

Dear Barbara,
Your Monday, Sept. 16, Eccentric article re: "Luck — Abuse" has prompted this letter...

chef Larry Janes

Pumpkins aren't just for carving

I can remember when pumpkins were big orange balls that had a couple of eyes, a triangular nose, and a toothy grin that stretched from ear to ear.

We spread out newspapers on the basement floor, cut a large circular hole in the top and — yuck! — started the "scooping" of the seeds that never tasted the same when mom baked 'em as when they were bought at the store in 10-cent packages.

After we were covered with "pumpkin guts" to our elbows, we carefully traced the facial design we wanted.

For some odd reason, my pumpkin eyes were always a little crooked and most of the teeth broke as we tried to push out the cut form.

TRY AS WE might, we could never understand why the dome lid always shrunk after being scorched with a candle.

Speaking of the candle, can you remember a special ride to the five and dime just to get a small votive-type candle?

Needless to say, many years passed before I realized that there is more to pumpkins than just jack-o-lanterns.

And it wasn't just a simple old pumpkin that piqued my culinary curiosity. I can remember the first time we tasted persimmon; we thought our mouths would freeze into an eternal pucker.

Why did a fruit that looked so ripe taste so bitter? Ah ha! Persimmons are one of those strange foods, like spinach, that all grown-ups would use to torture children into eating.

I can't ever remember liking pumpkins or persimmons as a kid, just knew that I "had to try" them, as momma also persisted. I'm glad she insisted, because now is the season to really enjoy these unique fall beauties.

THESE TWO autumn favorites now have a permanent place in my cooking repertoire. Variety is my key.

Pumpkins turn into a hearty "stick-to-your-ribs" soup, and creamy smooth casseroles with walnuts.

Persimmons make great jams, jellies, breads and cookie bars.

The persimmon season is relatively short, but since the puree freezes beautifully, it is possible to cook with persimmons all year round. Simply cut the fruit in half, scoop out the pulp, remove the seeds (if any) and mash by hand, or use a processor.

Three persimmons will yield about one cup of puree. Be sure the fruit is very ripe.

It should be almost red and fairly soft, yielding just ever so lightly when squeezed.

Pumpkins are available for a considerably longer period; anyone who has tried the fresh pumpkin puree knows that it has a flavor all it's own.

However, if you find yourself short on time, canned pumpkin is acceptable — but only in the case of a real emergency.

THE SMALLER pie pumpkins make the best eating squash in town. They can be boiled, microwaved, or baked similar to an acorn or Hubbard squash.

If you think a fresh pumpkin pie makes your mouth water, fresh pumpkin, topped with a little butter, a sprinkling of brown sugar, and a sprinkling of cinnamon and nutmeg is almost like heaven.

Pumpkins and persimmons are appearing in just about every grocery and produce market this time of year. Pumpkins will be available until the end of November.

Persimmons will be available until sometime in early December.

Pumpkins and persimmons are as much a part of autumn as falling leaves and frosty mornings.

TRICK or TREAT

Serve up apples and a slice of the future

By Marlon Kucla
"Gundella"
special writer

BEFORE THE arrival of Christian missionaries, the religion of Scotland was Druidism. The tenets of that religion were never written down, but passed generation to generation by Druid priests who had committed them to memory.

Early Celtic people, celebrated the rites of Druidism publicly, and although the original meaning of these rites may have been forgotten, many have survived to this day as folk customs. The observance of Halloween is one example.

CELTS BISECTED the year at Betane (May 1), and Samhuinn (Nov. 1), which marked the beginning of summer and winter. They celebrated these days with festivals that began on the eve before.

Samhuinn (or Samhain), marked the entrance of winter, the season of the earth's death-like decay. Thus, it became a day of remembrance of the dead. It was believed that the souls of the departed were apt to revisit their old homes during this season.

Combine this with the fact that Oct. 31 is one of the four major witches' sabbaths of the year, and it is easy to see the connection between ghosts and witches with Halloween, as we know it today.

Samhuinn is still an extremely popular festival. It is widely celebrated in Scotland and the United States by people who don't know its origin, or believe in ghosts or witches.

In Scotland, apples are associated with Halloween, as strongly as pumpkins are here.

EVEN IN the United States apple cider, candied apples and bobbing for apples are often part of the observance of this special day.

Apples are also frequently given as treats to the little goblins who come begging at the door.

Halloween is, of course, always a popular time for the telling of fortunes. In Scotland apples are used in many ways to foretell the future.

A girl can take several apple seeds, naming each with the name of a prospective suitor and place them near the fire, waiting to see which is the first to pop. That will reveal the name of the one most likely to be in her future.

At the hour of midnight, you can take an apple and go alone into a room with a looking glass. Cut the apple into nine pieces. Standing with your back to the mirror, eat eight pieces, and throw the ninth piece over your left shoulder.

Then turn your head over the same shoulder, and look into the mirror. There, you will see the face of your future mate — or, so the story goes.

IN OLDEN DAYS, a game called "the apple and the candle" was played on Halloween. A small wooden rod was suspended at the end of a cord, and hung from the ceiling. A lighted candle was fastened at one end of the rod, and an apple at the opposite.

The rod was then set twirling. Each person took turns trying to bite the apple, without burning himself or singeing his hair on the candle. Of course, he could not touch either the rod or the apple with his hand.

Nowadays, fire is eliminated from this rite, and the apple alone is hung by a string from the ceiling and swung to and fro, while the participants attempt to catch it in their teeth.

Halloween refreshments always include several apple dishes, since this is the time of year when they are at their best and are most plentiful.

Prize-winning cook shares secrets

Eleanor Froehlich shows off the Recipe Endorsement she received from Better Homes and Gardens magazine.

By Keely Wygonik
staff writer

What is relaxing to one person is sometimes work to another. We all know people who sew beautifully, play a musical instrument, or make things.

Eleanor Froehlich of Rochester whose recipe for Baked Deviled Orange Roughy was featured in the September Issue of Better Homes and Gardens Magazine, makes jewelry, sews, and enjoys attending the symphony and other cultural events. But her favorite pastime is cooking, and entering cooking contests.

"WHEN COOKING is a hobby you don't think of it as work," said Froehlich a retired Birmingham Groves High School English teacher who likes to enter, and frequently wins cooking contests.

"I've always been interested in cooking, ever since I was a young child. My mother didn't like to cook. She was happy to have me take over in the kitchen."

Her talents know no bounds. Froehlich has won prizes for her entrees, salads and desserts. She enjoys cooking ethnic dishes including German, Italian and French.

In 1984, she entered her first cooking contest. "I liked the challenge, you had to create a recipe using three products — an Armour product, a Leroux product, and Silverstone cookware."

She created a Dutch Pancake with spiced apples, bacon and a liqueur syrup topping that was cooked in a Silverstone pan. The entry took first place.

Although cooking contests are for amateurs — rules disqualify professional chefs and people who work in the food industry — it's not an easy thing to do.

Recipes must be original, use the sponsor's product, be made with easily obtainable ingredients, not be too involved, and have wide appeal.

Humor brings Frog's Leap Winery recognition

Most wineries have a "founding" story to tell. None is more humorous than that of Frog's Leap Winery.

The winery's name, a take-off on California's famous Stag's Leap Wine Cellars in the Napa Valley, bespeaks the good humor of owners John Williams, his wife, Julie, and partner, Larry Turley.

Winemaker John Williams details his story back to his family roots in New York State dairy country. As a Cornell University sophomore majoring in agriculture, he ran out of money and accepted a work/study program with an assignment in Hammondsport, N.Y., at the Taylor Wine Co.

"EVERYTHING ABOUT wine was instantly appealing," Williams said. "It was a perfect blend of my agricultural interests, family tradition and history. My work experience caused me to revise my major to an enology/agriculture degree."

In 1975, during his senior year spring break, Williams secured a $69 Greyhound Ameripass and visited California's Napa Valley for the first time.

"The trip out took five days," he recalls. "I planned to camp in Napa's Bothe State Park, but it was full. I noticed an abandoned farmhouse across the road from the park and pitched my tent there for the night."

"Early the next morning, I was awakened by the roar of a motorcycle. My tent flap was ripped open by this six foot, six inch man who queried, 'What the hell are you doing on my property?'"

The property owner was Larry Turley, a San Francisco physician who had owned the parcel for only a week.

"In an attempt to appease his anger, I offered him some wine that I brought with me," Williams said. "I told him my story and this was the Start of a friendship that led eventually to Larry becoming my partner in the winery venture."

FOLLOWING GRADUATION from Cornell, John enrolled in the UC Davis enology program and took his first winemaking position in New York State. After three years, he moved back to California to become a winemaker at Spring Mountain Vineyards.

On the side, Turley and Williams were making homemade wine. "By 1981, Larry wanted to make so much wine, I said, 'Go get a license,'" Williams said. "He did just that, then announced to me that we were 50-50 partners."

The partners raised the start-up capital by selling their motorcycles for $5,000 each. That year, they produced the winery's first 700 cases of wine. In 1988, Williams left Spring Mountain to become full-time winemaker at Frog's Leap Winery.

The humorous "frog" label and motto, "Time's fun when you're having flies" together with the word "ribbit" imprinted on each cork,

WINE SELECTIONS OF THE WEEK

Half of Frog's Leap's 24,000 case production is sauvignon blanc. "We're not in the business of turning sauvignon blanc into a chardonnay-style wine," owner/winemaker John Williams emphasizes. "On the other hand, overtly grassy sauvignon blanc is not my preference."

1990 Frog's Leap Winery Sauvignon Blanc ($12) confirms Williams' remark. Bright, melony fruit with pear accents greet the taster. Crisp, pear-like flavors dominate the palate with just the right touch of varietal grassy nuances. The finish is lengthy and flavorful.

1989 Frog's Leap Winery Zinfandel ($14) is approachable and eminently drinkable. "This is our pizza and 'pasta wine,'" Julie Williams maintains. Ripe blackberry fruit character with well-married oak make this an appealing and balanced red wine.

brought immediate attention to the wines.

While well-placed humor continues to attract consumer enthusiasm, Frog's Leap is seriously engaged in organic grapegrowing in its vineyards. The seven growers used as additional sources of fruit are also practicing organic techniques, where among other specifications, composting has replaced organic fertilizer.

Recently, Frog's Leap Winery was officially recognized as a California Certified Organic Farmer.

DIP FOR APPLE SLICES

- 1/2 lb. cream cheese
- 1/2 cups mayonnaise
- 1/2 cup catsup
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Beat cream cheese and mayonnaise together until fluffy. Add remaining ingredients, and mix well.

Chill. Serve as a dip for unpeeled red apple slices.

FRUIT SLAW

- 3 apples
- 2 bananas
- 1/2 cup French dressing
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 3 cups shredded cabbage

Wash and core the apples, but do not peel. Slice very thin. Slice bananas. Pour French dressing over the apples and bananas, and toss lightly with a fork. Add celery and cabbage. (Red cabbage is especially nice in this salad). Mix well. Makes six servings.

PORK AND APPLE LOAF

(This recipe is said to inspire romance, when shared with your favorite sweetie. But it is also good for putting the whole family in a congenial mood.)

- 1 egg well beaten
- 3/4 cup evaporated milk
- 1 cup uncooked oatmeal

Combine these ingredients and let stand for 1/2 hour. Mix together:

- 1 1/2 lbs. regular bulk pork sausage (such as Bob Evans or Jimmy Dean)
- 1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
- 2 tart apples (coarsely diced)
- 1 medium onion (chopped)

Combine with egg mixture and work in:

- 1/2 teaspoon rosemary
- 1 teaspoon accent (or favorite seasoned salt)
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon regular salt

Use your hands to mix well. Pack tightly into greased loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees, 1 hour, or until done. Serve hot with pork gravy or applesauce, or cold in sandwiches with your favorite mustard.

BUTTERSCOTCH APPLE PIE

Apples, peeled and sliced (enough for a well-filled 9-inch deep dish pie, piled high)

- 1 pkg. butterscotch pudding mix (not instant)
- Pastry for a double crust pie
- 2 tablespoons milk

Place the apples in a bowl with the dry pudding mix. Toss until each apple slice is completely coated with pudding mix.

Put this apple-pudding mixture into a pastry lined pie dish, and cover with top crust. Flute edges, and cut vents in the top crust to allow steam to escape.

Brush top crust with milk, and sprinkle with sugar. Bake 45 minutes, or until done, in a 375 degree Fahrenheit oven.

Pumpkin, persimmon desserts welcome fall

- (serves 10-12)
- Crust: 1 1/2 cups gingersnaps, crushed into crumbs
- 1/4 cup (1/2 stick) butter or margarine
- Filling: 2 - 8 oz. packages cream cheese, room temperature
- 2 cups pumpkin puree
- 3/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 teaspoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon fresh grated nutmeg
- 1/2 teaspoon ground ginger
- 4 eggs

For crust: Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Blend crumbs with melted butter and press into a 9 inch springform pan. Bake 10 minutes. Cool before filling.

For filling: Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine all ingredients in processor or mixer, mix until smooth or creamy. Pour into a prepared crust and bake for 50-55 minutes. Cool, chill at least 4 hours before serving.

PERSIMMON BARS

- (Makes 30, 3 x 1 inch bars)
- 1 cup fresh persimmon puree (3 persimmons)
- 1 1/2 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sugar

- 1 cup pitted dates, chopped fine
- 1/2 cup oil
- 1 1/4 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
- 1 cup chopped walnuts

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter and lightly flour a 10 x 15 inch jelly roll pan. Blend persimmon puree with lemon juice and baking soda. Beat egg in a separate bowl. Stir in sugar, dates and oil. Sift together flour and spices into date mixture. Alternate mixing in with persimmon puree. Do not overmix. Stir in nuts. Spread evenly into prepared pan. Bake until lightly browned, about 25 minutes. Dust with sugar. Cool completely. Cut into bars.

about entering cooking contests is to make good use of the sponsor's product. It's also important to know your recipe, what it's supposed to look like at different cooking stages, and to carefully read the contest rules.

"I'VE BEEN in cook-offs where the ovens were 50 degrees off. Since I knew the recipe, I knew to turn the oven up," she said.

Where do ideas for original recipes come from? "I read and collect cookbooks," said Froehlich.

"And I take what I learn by traveling and try to adapt the recipes to American cooking methods. Dining experiences can be inspirational. If I enjoy something in a restaurant, I'll try to duplicate it at home."

Her winning orange roughy recipe was a variation of a dish she had in a restaurant near Stratford, Ontario.

Primarily self-taught, Froehlich attends cooking classes, and watches cooking videos. She encourages novice cooks to keep trying, and not give up. "I learn through my own cooking. My garbage can and I have a lot of secrets," she said. Her advice to beginning cooks is:

"START WITH an easy recipe and read it thoroughly. Measure everything out, and put it on the kitchen counter in the order that it's to be used. That way you don't have to worry about starting a recipe and not being able to finish it because you're missing an ingredient.

"Once you get good results you'll want to start experimenting by changing recipes around."

Simply elegant steak roll

Spanish Steak Roll with vegetables is a prize-winning recipe

The grand prize winner in the National Beef Cook-Off is entitled "Spanish Steak Roll with Sauteed Vegetables." The recipe, by Sandy Collins of Wheat Ridge, Colo., reflects the new American cuisine with a simple range-top version of a beef roll-up served with a colorful fresh vegetable melange.

For copies of the 1991 prize-winning National Beef Cook-Off recipes, send a self-addressed, business-size, stamped envelope to National Beef Cook-Off, 444 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Ill. 60611-9909.

SPANISH STEAK ROLL WITH SAUTEED VEGETABLES
Preparation time: 20 minutes
Cooking time: 9 to 11 minutes

1 1/2-pound boneless beef top sirloin steak, cut 3/4 to 1 inch thick
1 teaspoon garlic powder, divided
1/4 teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
2 teaspoons vegetable oil, divided
1 teaspoon butter
3/4 teaspoon salt, divided
1 each red and green bell pepper, cut lengthwise into thin strips
1 small white onion, thinly sliced

1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon dairy sour cream
1 can (4 ounces) chopped green chilies, drained
Lemon slices
Cilantro sprigs

Pound boneless beef top sirloin steak to about 1/4-inch thickness. Sprinkle with 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder and pepper. Heat 1 teaspoon oil and butter in 12-inch heavy frying pan or griddle over medium-high heat until hot. Pan fry steak 5 to 7 minutes for medium-rare (150 degrees F) or to desired doneness, turning once. Remove steak to heated platter; sprinkle with 1/2 teaspoon salt. Keep warm.

Add red and green peppers, onion, mushrooms and walnuts. Cook 2 minutes, stirring frequently. Add remaining 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder, 1/4 teaspoon salt and chili powder; continue cooking 2 minutes, stirring frequently. Spread steak with sour cream; top with chilies. Starting at long side, roll up steak jelly-roll fashion; secure with 6 wooden picks. Spoon vegetables around steak roll; garnish with lemon slices and cilantro sprigs. To serve, carve steak roll between wooden picks; remove and discard wooden picks. 6 servings.

Nutrient data per serving of steak roll and sauteed vegetables: 232 calories; 12 g fat; 468 mg sodium; 72 mg cholesterol.

Chief chili ready to try again

Chili champ Paul Huyck of Farmington Hills said he had a "sensational" time at the World Cookoff Oct. 20 at the abandoned Tropico Gold Mine in California.

He didn't make the finals, but he's not discouraged. "What a party!" he said. "It was incredible. There were 87 cooks, most of them had competed in the world cookoff before. I was one of three people who were there for the first time. I definitely plan to try to requalify." Huyck said he learned a lot and talked to other cooks.

PAT WILHITE, office manager at the Lark restaurant in West Bloomfield, was one of the 111 World Cookoff judges. She'll be home on Monday.

Christmas is coming, and Ursula Rymarz of Livonia is already thinking about cookies. She's planning to make a variety of cookies for a family party on Dec. 7, and wanted to know how to keep them fresh.

Lois Thieleke, home economist for the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service, said cookies can be frozen in air-tight containers. It's very important to make sure the cookies are dry, and completely cooled before you freeze them.

If you put the cookies in plastic freezer bags, get as much of the air out of the bag as possible. Air creates moisture. Don't freeze frosted cookies. Freeze the cookies, and frost them closer to the time you'll be serving them.

A reader called and wanted to know how long eggs and canned tidbits

chicken broth keep in the refrigerator. Thieleke said it's best to store eggs in the carton on the bottom of the refrigerator. They'll keep up to eight weeks. Eggs stored in egg keepers on the inside of the refrigerator door will keep one to one and a half weeks.

The American Egg Board has a new booklet on the care and handling of eggs. Send a self-addressed, stamped, legal-size envelope to The Incredible Edible Egg Number 33, P.O. Box 733, Park Ridge Ill. 60068. If you open a can of chicken broth and use only part of it, pour the rest in another container. It will keep in the refrigerator for three to four days. Better yet, pour it in an ice cube tray and freeze it. When it's frozen, put the cubes in a plastic freezer bag, and you'll never waste another can of chicken broth again.

Marleen Allen of Redford is looking for a starter for sourdough. I looked all over, I'm still looking, and can't find one. If you've got a recipe for sourdough starter, please call — Keely Wygonik, Taste editor, 953-2105.

All's fare in air travel

Joe Hallissey, the dean of Detroit-area travel agents, calls it Creativity versus Insanity. We were at the fall meeting of the American Society of Travel Agents (ASTA) at the Hilton hotel in Windsor and the subject of the evening was air travel.

You have seen the insanity in action in newspaper advertisements: discount prices in big letters for one-way tickets that can only be bought on a round-trip basis, coupons, and a hundred other ways to fill airplane seats in a super-competitive travel world.

You, the consumer, tell the airline that price is your first priority, so they twist and turn to satisfy that need and still make a buck.

When you have problems with the side effects of discount pricing, you complain to your travel agent, who has no control over the process and must be a combined business genius and wizard to keep up with changing fare structures and stay in business.

IF YOU'RE confused about air fares, you're not the only one. I know many of the national public relations directors of the airlines; the standing joke among them is that they don't know what the fare is until they read it in the newspaper.

Hallissey, of Hallissey Travel Service Inc., is a former national president of ASTA, the organization that includes both active members, who are travel agents, and allied members, who are representatives of cruise lines, airlines, hotels, convention bureaus, etc.

Chapter Chairman Carlene Howe of Hudson's Travel Service introduced the airline panel to the group so they could bring us up to date. Alitalia has new $700 round-trip fares from Detroit to Rome via Chicago. Mexicana Airlines celebrates its 70th birthday this year as the oldest commercial airline in North America.

Northwest will complete its merger with Midway this month and starts working with Carnival Cruise Lines on trips out of Detroit in November. KLM starts twice a week non-stops from Detroit to Amsterdam in January.

American Airlines will start a Chicago to Berlin flight in April 1992. Delta celebrates the 20th anniversary of Walt Disney World with a new non-stop to Orlando leaving Detroit at 11:55 a.m.

TWA had business saver coupons for sale for a few days, so business travelers could fly round trip anywhere in the US for a maximum of $500. If you blinked you missed that one.

THE QUESTION period was particularly active at this meeting. Why do you keep advertising one-way fares? Allan Alkin for American Airlines: "Somebody cast the first stone and you have to match it." Carolina Miranda of USAir: "We advertised round-trip fares and they looked expensive against other one-way ads so we changed back." Rodney Johnson, Northwest: "Price is what gets the attention of the customer. We're all trying to get bodies on the airplane."

Are non-refundable fares refundable? USAir announced in August that they will let you retain the ticket for one year and apply it to future travel, with certain conditions and a minimum $75 service charge.

The general message: if it is absolutely essential that you change a non-refundable fare, you will get further by going through your travel agent than by going directly to the airline.

What about bereavement fares? Most airlines have them but make no mistake about this: they will expect you to deliver documentation about the hospital, funeral home etc. Don't kill Aunt Milly off just to get a refund, it won't work.

If I have any message for you in the middle of all this, it is to find a good travel agent, let him get to know you, let him help you. I've said it a hundred times: a travel agent is your best friend and he/she doesn't cost you a cent.

Pearl Harbor braces for anniversary

By Micky Jones
special writer

I was riding my bike down Glehn Avenue when a neighbor stopped me with news of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. Most mature men and women can remember exactly where they were and what they were doing when they heard the news on Dec. 7, 1941.

To commemorate the 50th anniversary of what President Franklin Roosevelt called "the day that will live in infamy," the National Park Service and the U.S. Navy have scheduled four days of special events in Honolulu for Dec. 4 through 7.

Sheraton Waikiki Hotel will be the headquarters for a convention of some 2,000 members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association during that time.

Most of the special activities will take place at the U.S.S. Arizona Memorial Visitors Center in Pearl Harbor. The navy is preparing to handle as many as 25,000 visitors, expected to converge on the site during the four-day remembrance program. Free shuttle buses will carry visitors to the center from the parking lot of Aloha Stadium.

Participants and guests are expected to include President George Bush, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney, several governors, senators and hundreds of members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association. Specially honored will be the 50 surviving men who were actually on the Arizona when it sank, taking 1,177 crew mates to a watery grave.

MORE THAN 1,100 bodies remain entombed in the sunken battleship which lies beneath the glistening white memorial structure that was completed in 1962.

Half of the 2,403 people killed on the island of Oahu on that fateful day were on the U.S.S. Arizona. There were only 68 civilian casualties.

The Japanese attack was concentrated on the ships and planes in Pearl Harbor but six other military bases on Oahu were also bombed and suffered casualties during the early morning attack.

The National Park Service has planned special programs for each of the four days of the commemoration. The U.S.S. Arizona Memorial, which is about one-quarter mile offshore from the visitor center, will extend special consideration to U.S.S. Arizona and Pearl Harbor survivors and to the relatives of those who perished.

All programs will be free and will include several band concerts, guest speakers and a special dawn memorial service on Saturday, Dec. 7.

Two-thirds of the 150 seats on each Arizona Memorial shuttle boat will be reserved for survivors and relatives of victims so the general public may encounter extended waits for trips to the memorial and may not be able to visit on a particular day due to heavy visitation.

Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney will be the keynote speaker at a ceremony at the National Cemetery of the Pacific high on a hill overlooking downtown Honolulu.

THE CEMETERY, in Punchbowl Crater, contains the graves of thousands of servicemen and civilians who lost their lives in the Pacific area during World War II. Among the endless rows of granite headstones is that of Ernie Pyle, veteran of World War I and probable the best-known war correspondent of World War II. Nearby is a huge memorial structure containing maps and murals illustrating the major battles of the Pacific theater.

The U.S. Army Museum at Fort DeRussy is on Waikiki Beach between the Hilton Hawaiian Village Hotel and the Outrigger Reef Hotel. It contains weapons, artifacts and displays depicting military history from early Hawaiian warfare through to Vietnam.

The museum is housed in Battery Randolph, one of six Oahu coastal fortifications built between 1908 and 1915. It is open daily except Monday and the admission charge is right; it's free.

On a recent visit to Honolulu, I was invited to tour Pearl Harbor on an exclusive VIP launch operated by the U.S. Navy. Nicknamed "the Admiral's Tour," it utilizes a 31-passenger launch for a harbor tour including Ford Island, shipyards, the submarine base and a stop at the U.S.S. Arizona Memorial.

The two-hour VIP tour program starts at 9:15 a.m. on a small dock near Aloha Stadium every Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. The tour is available to active and retired officers of all services having the rank of Captain or higher, their immediate families, survivors of qualified officers as well as governors, senators, congressmen and their families.

CIVIC OFFICIALS, leaders of industry and commerce, the media and heads of major organizations such as the YMCA and the Red Cross also qualify for the V.I.P. tours on a space available basis. Qualifying individuals can make reservations by calling Petty Officer Green at (808) 471-9727.

Anyone planning to be in Honolulu during Pearl Harbor week this year should make hotel and rental car reservations immediately since both will be in short supply during the commemoration.

For information on the Pearl Harbor commemorative activities, contact National Park Service, USS Arizona Memorial, 1 Arizona Memorial Place, Honolulu, Hawaii 96818 or telephone (808) 422-2771.

The U.S.S. Arizona Memorial is in Pearl Harbor above the sunken battleship.

Day lives in infamy for many

"After exhaustive search it has been found impossible to locate your son Lowell Earl Valley, fireman second class, United States Navy, and he has been officially declared to have lost his life in the service of his country as of Dec. 7, 1941. The department expresses to you its sincere sympathy."

That is the telegram received by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Valley when their son died at Pearl Harbor. Lowell Valley of the USS Oklahoma, was the first citizen of Ontonagon, Mich., to lose his life in WWII.

We received that information from Lowell's sister Lillian Caseday, who now lives in Niles, Ill., and apparently read our request for information about Midwesterners who had been at Pearl Harbor when the Japanese bombs struck on Dec. 7, 1941.

HERE IS a letter from veteran Robert P. Boys, whose son Terry R. Boys still lives in Bloomfield Hills:

"As a former resident of Farmington Hills on Wayburn West, I thought I would drop you a line. We left Farmington Hills 10 years ago and now live in Florida.

I was on board the USS Maryland on Dec. 7 as 5th Division Topside Gunners Mate. We have been back to Hawaii several times and we have visited the Arizona Memorial. We would love to go for the services this year but don't think we can make it."

Janet E. Dufty, Caseville, Mich.

"At the time Pearl was bombed we lived in Naval housing on Pearl. Luckily my Dad (being stationed at Pearl) was out on sea duty to the Philippine Islands on that fateful day, was returned to us safely, and was able many years later to retire, completing his Navy career.

"I remember the day vividly, watching the planes, bombs and bullet streaks in the air. My brother was only three weeks old at the time, being a colicky baby at night, he and Mom were still sleeping. I awoke Mom, insisting she come to my bedroom window and take a look at the activity. To this day I can see and hear her saying, 'My God, it's the Japs.'"

R.L. MITTELSTADT, Howell, Mich.

"On Dec. 7, 1941, I was a crew member of the USS Maryland BB46. I enlisted in the U.S. Navy in October of 1938 and retired in February of 1959."

More Detroit suburban homeowners

The SPRING Newspapers' circulation more than doubles the daily suburban circulation of either The Detroit News or Free Press.

In fact, SPRING's suburban circulation is greater than the two metro dailies' combined.

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

▶ 182,800 more suburban homeowners than the daily News (88,500 more than the Free Press).

▶ 171,000 more suburban Do-It-Yourselfers than The News (89,400 more than the Free Press).

▶ 100,600 (and 52,800) more suburban linen and bedding buyers.

▶ 64,400 (and 31,000) more suburban buyers of major appliances.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more.

Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?
