conviction on two counts of first-degree murder during a retrial in Detroit Recorder's Court. But a jury apparently didn't believe testimony that Galindo had a memory loss and didn't remember the killings.

Convicted murderer Gary. Joseph Galindo has been found guilty in a retrial for the shotgun killings of his former girlfriend and his stepbrother.

The 46-year-old Westland man showed no emotion as authorities led him from the courtroom after a Detroit Recorder's Court jury returned its verdict Wednesday afternoon.

Galindo, convicted on two counts of first-degree murder, has been ordered to appear before Judge Paul Teranes on June 18 for sentencing. Galindo faces a mandatory term of life in prison.

The jury also returned a guilty verdict on a felony firearms charge. Galindo used a '22-caliber single-shot rifle borrowed from a neighbor to kill his former Garden City girlfriend, Sharon June Sahaydak, and his stepbrother, Arthur Andrew Novack, in March 1989, Westland police said.

Galindo had been convicted of the same charges in September 1989, but he won a retrial by claiming he had an improper defense by his attorney, who later died of a brain tumor.

Galindo killed Novack and Sahaydak late March 10 or early March 11 at a . Norene Street residence owned by Novack's family. Both died of gunshot wounds to the chest.

Westland police found the bodies the morning of March 11 after a friend of Galindo, Rita Cruse, tolephoned them. and said Galindo had told her about the killings.

Some questions were raised, however, after Birtningham psychologist Michael Abramsky testified Monday that Galindo suffered from severe alcoholism and had no memory of the shootings.

Abramsky said he believed Galindo, who also suffered from paranoia, didn't have the ability to plan the killings and indicated Galindo may have unknowingly gone into a rage of anger.

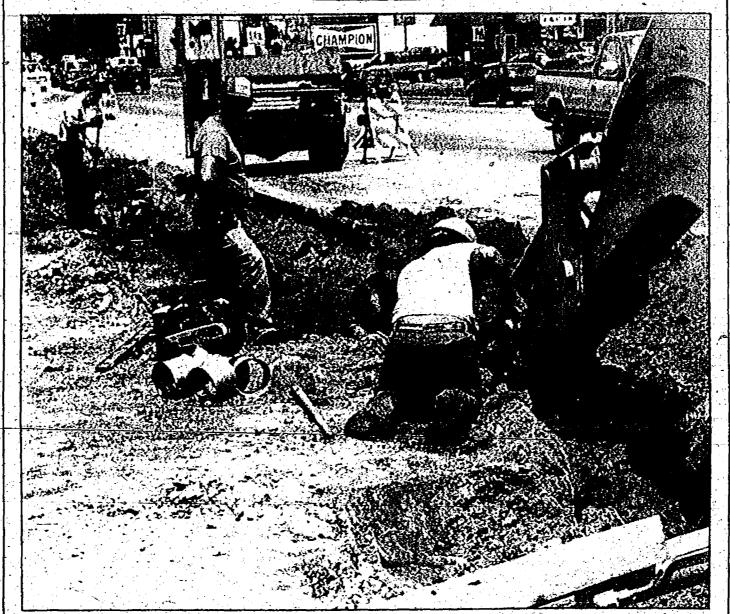

Abramsky, who examined Galindo after the killings, said Galindo lost control prior to the shootings.

"He believed that he lost his memory for '45 minutes to an hour," Ahramsky

Attorneys for murder defendants petition judge to dismiss charges

By DARREL CLEN

Attorneys for two Westland teens accused of a murder conspiracy asked a Detroit Recorder's Court judge Wednesday to dismiss the charges.

Judge Denise Page Hood is expected, to rule on the motion Friday.

The motion came Wednesday as the trial of Ian Bruce Cowen and Gregory Hister - both 16 when charged with murder - continued a second week in Recorder's Court. Cowen, Hister and two other teenagers have been accused of a murder conspiracy in the shooting death of 19year-old Westland resident Everett Earl Bowen Jr. and the wounding of his 20year-old friend, David Wayne Adkins.

In seeking to have the charges dismissed, defense attorneys have claimed there's no evidence linking Cowen and Hister to Bowen's death.

setting up a supposed drug deal with Bowen in order to kill him in revenge for an earlier dispute in which Bowen stabbed Cowen several times in the leg with a screwdriver.

Bowen was killed the night of Nov. 15 behind Adams Junior High School on

Palmer Road in Westland. He was shot in the face and back. Adkins survived a gunshot wound. but a bullet remains lodged in his head.

Cowen and Hister are being tried separately from the two other defendants. Jermaine Stevenson and Jerome Omar Prosecutors have accused the teens of ... curred. Stevenson and Ingram haven't vet been scheduled for trial.

If Hood rules that charges against Cowen and Hister should stand, attorneys could make their closing statements as early as Friday.

Police; fire avoid budget ax

for 18th District Court, trimming $30,547 instead of $67,000. The earlierproposed cuts would have almost crippled the court's ability to handle an increase in serious crime cases, court officials had warned.

The budget ax landed squarely on all other departments, slashing city spending by a half-million dollars for the fiscal year that begins July 1. The reductions arose from fears of a budget crunch that could've forced layoffs of police officers and firelighters.

Salaries of 23 fire and police workers have been paid in recent years from a dwindling city budget surplus. City officials hope the latest plan will protect the jobs, but remain worried that the $2.4-million surplus will dip helow the $2-million mark in the next year.

Fears loomed Monday that deeper budget cuts could become necessary next year, when concerns about layoffs could resurface.

"If we have to bite the bullet next year, then that's what we'll have to do," council President Charles Pickering said. "Hopefully there will be more rev-

Low turnout expected in high-stakes schools vote

Livonia races, 2A

By Darrell Clem Staff Writer

A bitter Wayne-Westland school board race will be decided Monday, as voters choose among eight candidates competing for two seats.

The stakes are high, but voter turnout is expected to

In a crucial task, the next board will be working with new Superintendent Larry Thomas to try to shake the district's ternished image - battered by numerous controversies over taxes, teacher salaries, recall efforts and other stormy issues ... Candidates competing for two seats are incumbent Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek, former board member Mathew McCusker, and board hopefuls John Albrecht, Michael Flemming, Richard LeBlanc, Steven Lind, Kenneth Raupp and Francis "Bud" Winter.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

The school district's elections clerk, Eleanor Harrington, predicted that only 1,800 to 3,000 of the district's 68,000 registered voters will go to the polls Monday. That would represent a turnout of 2.6 percent to 4.4 percent.

That compares to a record turnout of nearly 25 percent last year, when the big draw was a 7.75 mill tax increase proposal that voters narrowly approved. No tax issues appear on Monday's ballot.

On Monday, only one of two board meumbents is seeking re-election, Kozorosky-Wiacek, a seven-year board member, is campaigning for another four-year term, while board veteran Kathleen Chorbagian is stepping down after a decade on the board.

McCusker, ousted in June 1991 from the board, hopes to return, while the remaining six candidates are tying for their first-ever term. Kozorosky-Wiacek's critics have launched a bitter campaign to unseat her, but she has predicted she will survive the attacks and lead the district through the transition to a new superintendent.

One of the harshest attacks against her came from Dennis O'Neill, the superintendent who stepped down under pressure from Kozorosky-Wiacek and three other board members.

O'Nelll accused her of being power-hungry. She dismissed his remarks as "sour grapes."

Several candidates have had political signs torn down recently, as the board race has heated up. And rumors have become widespread.

One rumor claimed that McCusker had quit the race and put his support behind Albrecht, Not so, Albrecht sald.

"I think somebody's trying to hurt (McCusker's) chances," Albrecht said

McCusker recently held a fund-raiser and put up signs - hardly an indication he is quitting the race, Albrecht sald.

Once Monday's race is decided, the winners will join board holdovers Andrew Splack, Laurel Raisanen, Vicki Welty, Leonard Posey and Fred Warm-

Seeing signs: No left turns along parts of Middlebelt

Local police departments report traffic is running smoothly through construction areas along Middle belt Road.

Wayne County began the project to add a middle turn lane to the. three mile length of road May 26 and county police say they've haven't received any complaints or issued any tickets.

Sgt, Peter Brokas, head of the Westland City Police traffic bureau, said that city's stretch of Middlebelt Road has been quiet, despite the fact that southbound drivers cannot turn left during the construction.

"We've had no accidents, or even complaints, yet," Brokas said regarding the project expected to be

It may be bumpy driving on Middlebelt Road, but crews working to put in a middle turn lane on the three-mile stretch between Joy and Ford Roads say the project is running smoothly.

"We started last week and so far everything is good," said Chet Purgiel, a foreman with Peter Basile & Sons, the Livonia company contracted to complete the county road project. "We should be done by mid-September."

This week, crews have been work. ing to move over sewer manholes on the west side of Middlebelt Road so the street can be widened. Once this phase of the project is complete, crews will put in edge drains, level off the construction area and pave the entire expanse of the road.

Neighbors worried about children's safety and worsening traffic conditions won a victory Monday, as the Westland City Council rejected a proposed housing development near Wayne and Hunter. roads.

In a 7-0 vote, the council denied a request from developer Amarjit Chawney to build 44 townhouses on a 4.8 acre site southeast of the Hunter-Wayne intersection, behind the Westland Post Office and the Big Boy restaurant on Wayne.

The council also declined to consider an alternate, on-the-spot request by Chawney to build 32 duplexes, instead of the townhouses. Council President Charles Pickering told Chawney he'd have later council session.

Neighbors attending Monday's meeting lobbied to have Chawney's project rejected, saying they feared more traffic problems would place children in danger.

Traffic already has become a problem near the post office, and many youngsters walk the area near Edison Elementary School on Hunter, Westland resident Doug DeRosa said.

Another resident, Gerald Moore, said the high-density housing posed by townhouses would "wipe out the community structure" in the neighborhood.

Chawney had sought to have the area rezoned from single-family housing to townhouses, then sug-to formally present that request at a gested the duplex development. He questioned whether single-family houses would sell in the area, due to their proximity to the post-office, the Big Boy restaurant and other businesses.

> Chawney said he believed duplexes would be a suitable addition to the neighborhood and told the council, "I'm not trying to upset anything in any way."

The city planning commission and the Mayor Robert Thomas administration had recommended denial of the townhouse proposal. It wasn't immediately known if Chawney would submit a revised proposal for duplexes.

Some council members have indicated they wouldn't approve a duplex plan, either.

At one point, Brown suggested

Earlier, the council had appeared certain that across-the-board cuts could be made without threatening jobs. But finance director Michael Gorman warned Monday that the plan could force the city to trim some positions.

changed her story and said she had meant to say that Hister told her they had to "get someone."

Defense attorneys have said threats to "get someone" don't indicate a murder plot.

When the four teens returned to the apartment on Nov. 15, they talked about the incident in front of several friends, Heaney said, though she couldn't pinpoint who said what. The teens told their friends they regretted what they had done, she said.

On Tuesday, witness Jamie Mason testified that before Bowen's death, she had seen Cowen in possession of what appeared to be a shiny handgun at the apartment. However, that gun didn't match the description of a blue-steel handgun - used to kill Bowen - that was later found a half-mile from Adams

Prosecutors have accused Stevenson of shooting both Bowen and Adkins, though they remain ada ... mant that the other three teens helped plot the shootings. All four defendants, who have pleaded not guilty, could face life in prison if convicted.

The four defendants have been in the Wayne County Jail since their arrests last year.

Law tells clubs: Make women equal

BY TIM RICHARD, STAFF WRITER

What started as a liquor license. bill tutned into a major civil rights and publicity victory for state lawmakers.

State Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, last year introduced a bill to lift the liquor licenses of country clubs discriminating against women golfers on tee times.

'That was absolutely wrong. We have civil rights protection," said Sen. Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, who recast Pollack's measure as a civil rights act.

"We should have the same procedure for rich country club women as for the poor black child," said Dunaskiss, sponsor of Senate Bill subtleties," he added.

"Ethnics had trouble with yacht clubs. They're quasi-public accommodations.

The new law applies to about 500 clubs, he said.

The origin of the problem was country clubs that reserved certain tee-off times and tap rooms for men on the theory that men had to work. But Pollack objected because not all male patrons are workers, and not all females are in the leisure class.

The issue banged around in a conference committee of the House and Senate for a year, Dunaskiss said. "There were a lot of membership for themselves and "B" memberahip for their wives.

Dunaskiss said country clubs were selling classes of membership for particular tee-off times and tap rooms, Husbands could buy an "A"

SB'351 changes this by requiring that memberships "must be equally available to all adults entitled to use the facilities."

Area country clubs pledge compliance

Most spokesmen at country clubs in the Observer & Eccentric area said they do not expect any problems complying with the new law. And those who responded emphasized that they intend to comply with the law.

A representative from Bloomfield Hills Country Club said the club probably would not have to make. Country Club does not seem to be any changes to accommodate House facing any changes, according to , Bill 351. The representative added ' that the club has had women members since 1911 and has no rooms (other than the locker- and restrooms) which exclude members by gender.

TTM SUMMER FUN PROGRAM

TTM has a FUN summer program for handicapped children with special needs. Children from ages five through seventeen will enjoy learning in this unique educational and therapeutic program: Our special education teachers and recreational therapists have developed theme-based curriculum for each of the weeks. Entertaining and functional activities revolve around each theme week. Themes include EARTH / NATURE -- ANIMALS -- FINE ARTS -- MICHIGAN -- HEALTH AND SAFETY.

This ten week program runs from June 15 through August 21. Activities begin at 10:00 a.m. each day and end at 3:00 p.m. with a one-hour lunch period (a prepared lunch is provided by the family). Participants will achieve a measurable success and accomplishment at the end of each day.

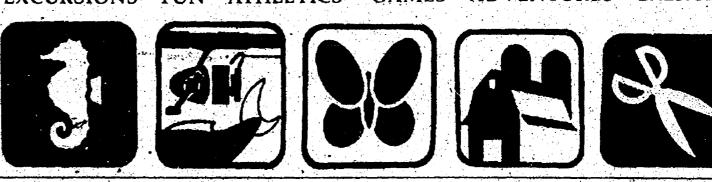

Open to children with special needs. Children who require assistance with feeding and/or toileting are encouraged to attend, but must be accompanied by a helper. Admission qualifications for medical, behavioral, and performance levels are subject to approval by TTM Center Administrator. Physician's prescription is required for insurance approval.

Children with special challenges need a change from school and therapy. However, they also need structure and an environment which allows them to have fun and still maintain the skills they have worked so diligently to achieve. If you need additional information, contact the nearest TTM Center. Call today to reserve space in this exciting summer program. Complete the attached registration form and mail it to the Center of your choice.

DEATH OF THE SALESWAIN.

Right now, you get a new kind of help at Highland. Instead of a salesman who's working for commission—you'll find a Customer Advisor who's working for you.

Honest advice from a Customer Advisor makes electronics and appliance shopping so much easier. And only Highland has it.

The Highland Customer Advisor is a trained professional who earns his or her salary by making you happy—and earns it whether you buy the basic model or the top-of-the-line—or nothing at all.

So there's no percentage in being pushy. No incentive to switch you from one product to another.

No commission. No pressure. No kidding.

You won't believe the difference this makes. Instead of a salesman on your back—you've got an unbiased expert on your side.

Instead of someone who needs to hype—you've got someone who only wants to help. And when you're looking at a large black box full of chips and diodes, with a whole bunch of specifications on the side—honest advice really matters.

We offer more choices, We offer more help.

At Highland, we have a bigger selection than anybody else in town. So there's at least a chance that you'll find yourself staring at a long row of appliances that look the same, but don't cost the same. Don't worry. The Customer Advisor has a highly-trained eye. Feature for feature, dollar for dollar, he can help you decide what's important to you-and what's an unnecessary expense.

Miracle of miracles, he might recommend a less expensive model than you were thinking of.

And here's another shocker. Nobody at Highland is going to try to scare you into buying more warranty than you need. Our Customer Advisors have no reason to recommend more than you need.

Nobody has a lower price. Nobody.

We check our competitors' prices constantly—to make sure we're the lowest. And they check ours. Anybody who wants to can drop a few prices, run a snap survey and say "Look, we're lower!" But you shouldn't assume that that's still true by the time you see it in an ad.

At Highland, we sell more TVs, more audio equipment, more video equipment and so on than anybody else in Detroit. One reason we do that is we sell at a lower price.

If you buy something at Highland and then see it elsewhere for less—we'll give you back the difference. That's a lifetime guarantee. (Details in store.) And if you ever see a competitor advertise a price below ours; we'll give you a price that's lower still.

The best price. And honest advice.

It's a combination you won't find anywhere else but Highland. Our prices are pushy. Our people are not. Come see. Come save.

Residents named to GOP delegation

By Tim Richard Stapp Writer

A mix of old and new faces will' sit in Michigan's 72-seat delegation at the Republican National Convention Aug. 27 in Houston.

Gov. John Engler has attended before, but this time he will head a delegation 100 percent for President George Bush.

Susy Heintz thought of going for fun. "Bobheintz has a frequent flyer ticket, and I was thinking of going and enjoying myself," she said Friday night before the GOP state convention. But when the at-large delegation list came out Saturday, she was there as a delegate. (She refers to husband Bob as if his two names were one.)

Now Engler's Detroit office chief, Heintz was Northville Township clerk when she was elected a district alternate in 1984. In Dallas, she got her picture in USA Today while wearing a Detroit Tigers cap and reading the party platform. Friends accused her of being the only person to read the platform.

Heintz's alternate will be a new face in Michigan politics: Michelle Engler, wife of the governor.

All three candidates for national committeewoman - winner Belsy DeVos of Ada, the outgoing Ronna Romney of Bloomfield Hills and challenger Andrea Fischer of Birmingham - were placed on the atlarge delegate slate.

Laura Reyes Kopack, attorney from Livonia and member of the state Civil Rights Commission, and party patron Max Fisher of Franklin, and Detroit councilman Keith Butler, the only known Republican elected in Detroit, also will attend as at large delegates.

Here are delegates and alternates from area congressional districts:

11th District

"After 26 years. I decided it was my turn," said Livonian Audrey Greenleaf, whose husband, Harry, has been a district chair, a delegate in 1976 and an alternate in '88.

She long has been active in GOP women's groups and is Livonia cochair of Joe Knollenberg's congressional campaign. She was picked - along with Pa-and Judy Riedlinger of Bloomfield Hills - at the new district's Friday night caucus, but the grandmother of two confessed it didn't really hit her until "they sang "The Star-Spangled Banner this morning. This is an important position."

Harry Greenleaf is chair of the old 2nd District, Riedlinger of the that officeholders couldn't be state old 18th District, and everyone acfrom the old 2nd.

Alternates are state Rep. Jan Dolan of Farmington Hills, Marion. Dalton of Bloomfield Township and Southfield City Councilwoman Denise Alexander.

13th District

Delegates were apportioned geographically: attorney Sean Cox of Livonia_from the old Wayne 2nd, Lewis Beaver of Westland from the old 15th District, and David Fantera of Ypsilanti, from the Washtenaw County portion.

"I enjoy politics and enjoy being part of the process," said Cox, who trick Anderson of Fermington Hills has "no political aspirations" of his own. This year he's chairing Thad-Meleus McCotter's bid for Wayne County commissioner.

Four years ago Cox was legal? counsel to the Jack Kemp presidential campaign. He was in the middle, of a legal battle by the Kemp-Robertson faction to change the rules so convention delegates. The Bush quiesced in the deal they cut: two people won the political battle, but delegates from the old 18th and one. Cox's side won the U.S. Circuit. Court of Appeals battle - two years after the convention.

Despite the cut-and-dried nature of the national convention, with Bush assured renomination, Cox is looking forward to Houston.

"It's my first national convention. The Right to Life issue is going to pop up. It's nice to go down and meet folks. And there will be a lot of jockeying for 1996 - Kemp, Quayle, and I imagine Pat Robertson is going to be a presence." Alternates will be Abe Munfakh, a Plymouth Township trustee, Norman Weiser of Wayne and Dorothy, Webster from the Washtenaw County portion.

Summer reading

THURSDAY, JUNE 4, 1992

Wayne-Westland Public Library has finalized its summer reading program, to be held June 23 through July 31. It is open to youngsters between 3 and 12 with personal registration to be held June 15-20 at the library on Wayne Road at Youngsters between 3 and 6 will convene at 10 a.m. Fridays with the Wayne Civitans to entertain them with stories, costumes and prizes. Those between 7 and 12 will meet at 10 a.m. in the Wayne City Hall council chambers, on Wayne Road south of Glen-

The older group will have the following programs scheduled for their benefit: barnyard animals, June 26; animal biology, July 2; China, July 10; 19th century toys, July 17; fighter pilots, July 24, and music, July 31.

The parents of disabled children should call the library at 721-7832 three days before the event to the library staff can make accommodations for their 'youngsters. '

For the total program, about 500 children are expected to take part.

Scout awards

wo Westland Girl-Scouts received the organization's Silver Award, the highest achievement for Cadette scouts between 11 and 14 years of age. The winners were Melissa Marenda and Julie White. They were among 95 girls in the Detroit area who won the Silver Awards, given to those who explore careers, build on their talents and skills, develop leadership and conduct a service project which benefits the community.

Food medal won

rian Henson of Westland, a student at Schoolcraft College's culinary arts department, received a gold medal and best of show in the student category at the Culinary Art Salon Competition held at the Chicago Food Show last month.

Compassion for city leads to cable job

Diane Abbott named interim director of the Westland community relations/cable TV department last yearwhen former cable chief Dennis Fassett's contract was not renewed by city council.

By Barbara Wilson Special Writer

It was in front of a home economics class, and not behind a video camera, that Wayne-Westland native Diane Abbott pictured herself at this point in her Abbott, a mother of three, now finds herself running the Westland community relations/cable TV department, based at the Tonquish Center.

She was named interim director of the department last year when former cable chief Dennis Fassett's contract was not renewed by city council.

She had been office manager for Fassett's crew. Prior to joining the cable operation she helped run a group of medical offices in the area.

A change in management at the medical offices led Abbott to apply for office manager of Fassett's operation. She had no intentions, however, of one day running the show.

"It didn't really dawn on me to go after (the contract) until I was interim director for awhile sid Abbott, 45,

"When I was attending Wayne (Memorial) High I thought I would make a good home ec teacher, this business never entered my mind."

Abbott graduated from high school in 1965, and married right after graduation. She led a typical suburban life for a while, following her husband when he joined the military and-raising their three children. As her children grew she eventually went to work outside the

"I wouldn't trade these times for anything, but I'm proud of what I have accomplished," Abbott said. "I am also very pleased that my children have chosen to go onto college and live on their own before getting married. These are different times."

Abbott knew the cable operation "inside out" as office manager. She set about putting together a two-year independent contractor agreement which was approved unanimously by city council in October.

"I consider their vote to be a real show of confidence in my ability," Abbott said. "I work with the council and the mayor equally as I try to provide the them to know who their leaders are and best service for the community.

"Submitting my bid-for the contract city." was an important decision, but not a for the city and my neighbors made it impossible for me to say no, and now I love what I am doing."

The four original employees of the department stayed on the job during the transition and four more were added after the contract was awarded.

Smooth transition

"The transition was very smooth because I had been interim director, and was very involved in the operation before Dennis left. I knew the business end of the operation and was willing to learn the fechnological end," she said.

She loves working with creative people most of all, and employs a sort of light-touch" management style in order to make the most of their talents,

"This is a real team effort," Abbott said. "Each person's idea carries equal weight here. We get together and pitch ideas and feed off those ideas."

Many ideas pitched at meetings have become part of the 115 hours of original programming prepared by the team.

A new program called "Headliners" features area celebrities such as Ernie Harwell, "Travel the U.S.A." is a program that makes use of travel videos submitted to Abbott by congressional representatives from across the country.

In May, residents will be able to watch live telecasts of city council meetings and popular call-in programs will be expanded to include shows featuring the police chief and other city leaders.

"We are here to provide a service to the residents," Abbott said. "We want take an interest in the affairs of the

Abbott's formula for cable programhard one," she said. "My compassion ming seems to be working as more residents are tuning into the local station.

Viewers more aware

"All of a sudden people seem to care what is on the municipal station, and I consider that a success," Abbott said.

with cable franchise fees. Abbott goes through a city budget process, like all other departments. The budget must be approved by city council.

Abbott and her team are also responsible for producing the city calendar, "The Spirit" newspaper and other public information and promotional materials for the city.

Man hurt in drive-by shooting

By Darrell Clem Staff Writer

A bullet fired from a moving car. in Westland has wounded a 20year-old Inkster man, Westland police said Tuesday.

The drive-by shooting occurred about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday as the man was talking on a public telephone at the intersection of Middlebelt Road and McDonald Street, in the city's far southeast end, police said.

The victim, identified in police reports as Ricky Powell of Inkster, told police that he was shot in the back portion of his right thigh when a bullet was fired from the passing vehicle.

The bullet penstrated Powell's thigh and exited through the front of his leg, but he escaped serious in-

Powell sought help by telephone following the incident, and he was taken to Garden City Hospital. He was treated and released, according to Westland police reports.

Westland police Sgt. Mark Stobbe of the department's detective bureau confirmed Tuesday that the incident remains under investigation. No suspects had yet been fdentified.

Powell said the shot appeared to be fired from a black Monte Carlo with chrome wheels. Although he told police he could see three occupants in the vehicle, he could not provide police with complete descriptions, according to an incident report.

Powell told police that the males yelled obscenities at him before the shot was fired at him.

An 18-year old Westland man, who was near the scene, also witnessed the shooting, police reports said.

Powell's wound indicated that the bullet had been fired from a small-caliber gun, according to police reports, but the exact type of weapon could not be immediately identified. .

Vote Monday

School elections are important

f the usual pattern is followed, voters will stay away from the annual school election polls in droves Monday.

Across the state between 500 and 600 new board of education members are elected annually. Typically only 8-12 percent of registered voters, whose numbers don't include the entire eligible population, will actually vote.

. State law charges school boards with a range of responsibilities from setting curricula and determining what will be taught in schools to handling financial budgets that regularly exceed those of the local municipality.

It's ironic that residents should take so little interest in selecting the officials who will have such a wide ranging impact on their children's future and also the future of the community.

Children need to be taught skills to help them support themselves and make positive contributions. Schools and the quality of programs offered often have a tremendous impact on the value of residential property.

-We urge voters to go to the polls and cast their ballots for the board of education candidates of their choice.

For the two four-year terms on the Wayne-Westland Board of Education, the Observer recommends incumbent board member Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek and newcomer Richard LeBlanc.

The two represent a blend of effectiveness,

Despite low turnouts in past years, local board of education elections are important for students, the community and residential property values.

experience, new ideas and accountability, Kozorosky-Wiacek has honed her leadership skills, serving as board president during the past year, a difficult period with a change in superintend-

LeBlanc, who has grown since he ran for the board last year, is a problem-solver who would be a welcome addition to the board.

In the Livonia Board of Education race, we recommend challengers Katherine Pare and Pamela Guarneri.

Pare has demonstrated her commitment to children and education with her energetic and persistent involvement with the Cooper School.. contamination problem. She is not a one-issue candidate, though, and is well-informed on a number of school issues.

Guarneri, with a background in pediatric health care, will provide valuable insight from her involvement with children. As a parent advocate for her special education child, Guarneri will bring a special perspective to the school board.

Road spending formula unwise

tate senators made a big mistake passing | resurface five miles with two inches of asphalt of Gov. John Engler's "Build Michigan" program.

They threw out the spending formula for state highways that required 90 percent of the revenue for maintenance and 10 percent for new construction — the 1982 Padden amendment.

The new bill is bad because it encourages urban sprawl — the eating up of our farmlands and meadows far faster than our rate of population growth.

As the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments has noted, our region in the next 20 years will develop (despoil?) 40 percent more land for a 6 percent population growth if current trends continue.

But the Senate bill isn't even neutral. It will speed sprawl. Sponsor Doug Carl, R-Utica, said it will help "growth." What growth? Michigan's population grew a mere 30,000 between the two censuses. Our population trend is virtually stagnant.

Our US and M routes are an embarrassment. especially if you drive in from Indiana or Ohio. Consider the case of Plymouth Road through the commercial and industrial core of Livonia. It should be rebuilt. Instead, the state will

> Our existing highways are going to potholes - yet the upper chamber in Lansing wants to drain existing revenue for "growth" construc-

There are other and better things the Senate could have done:

- SB 803 is part of a package containing a bond issue but no fuel tax increase. Instead of mortgaging the future, the state should raise the fuel tax and, if it's still hell-bent on subsidizing sprawl, use some of the new revenue to pay for new construction. It shouldn't rob existing revenue.
- It should work out a method of assessing developers for new interchanges, lanes and sound barriers. Let those who benefit from sprawl pay for sprawl.

Michigan can't do good roads on the cheap. Our state spends $219 per person on highways, 40.5 percent less than the national average of nearly $308, according to the Federal Highway Administration.

We can afford to do better by the roads we

Reader objects to Pare

he Observer's endorsement of Katherine Pare for Livonia School Board seems questionable for two reasons:

First, according to the Observer, Ms. Pare is not a single issue candidate. Ms. Pare's involvement with the board evolved solely with the Cooper issue. Ms. Pare, whose only involvement on the district prior to the Cooper issue was as a PTA member, admitted during a recent interview she had not bothered to exercise her civic duty to vote in the last several school elections. When recently questioned about a millage issue, she was not able to give an answer stating she needed more information. Where does Ms. Pare feel her qualifications to run a school district come from, if she needs more information before making a decision on a basic millage question?

The Observer also feels that, Ms. Pare, because of her involvement with the Cooper issue, is committed to our children's welfare. Unfortunately, while Ms. Pare was condemning the district for building a school on soil that was not then known to be contaminated, she was willfully and knowingly poisoning our atmosphere and children with the smoke from her continuous cigarette use. With little regard to the cancers and learning disabilities caused by the toxins in her second-hand smoke, Ms. Pare defended her dangerous actions as "her right."

Political activism by citizens is essential to make policy agendas and change. However, total civic responsibility, not just when it affects you, and knowing that your behavior must not contradict the changes you demand from others is also essential. Ms. Pare's political hypocrisy is an attitude this country's voters are desper-

Seek real story behind census

lot of the usual hand wringing accompanied the Census Bureau's recent release of the Michigan figures.

The rich are getting richer while the poor are getting poorer. Median income in Oakland County, for example, rose a bit over the past decade, while inflation-adjusted incomes for Michigan residents overall fell nearly four percent. Bloomfield Hills families gained 30 percent; Detroit families lost 20 percent.

The big cause was the restructuring of Michigan's economy away from good-paying jobs in heavy manufacturing. We lost nearly 10 percent of all manufacturing jobs over the last 10 years (Detroit lost 30 percent). Worse, the service jobs that replaced them neither paid as well nor had good benefits.

Poverty in Michigan is increasingly concentrated in households headed by females with children. Nearly half such families with minor children are below the poverty level - twothirds if children are under 5.

Enter at this point, of course, Vice President Dan Quayle and Murphy Brown and the persistent political quacking about "traditional family values."

The main political move today seems to bemoan at length the decline of the traditional two-parent family. Fair enough. But have you noticed that most of those quickest to point the finger of blame never propose much beyond benign and noisy neglect to help out?

(This discussion forcefully reminds me of the comment made to folks who are so anxious to outlaw abortion in order to protect the unborn child: You guys are evidently more interested in the fetus before birth than in the kind of life the child will lead after it's out of of the womb.)

The big story about the consus data - and one which the big city media of course missed. - is the growth and prosperity of the suburbs regardless of the race or ethnicity of suburban-

Nationally, nearly half of Americans now live in suburbs. In Michigan, the communities showing population and income gains were nearly all suburban: Oakland County, Western Wayne County, Livingston County and communities around Lansing.

PHILIP POWER

Many of these communities are still largely white; indeed, the suburbs around Detroit are still among the nation's least integrated.

But change is coming. After all, an interest in finding a good place to raise kids, attend decent schools and live in quiet, safe neighborhoods is not cancasians. Minorities of all king blacks, Asians, Chaldeans - are making the move to the suburbs quietly and without big media notice.

It was not always thus.

Twenty years ago, some suburban newspapers were running alarmist stories about neighbors protesting when black families moved in.

I remember a long meeting with my staff to talk over what to do. We decided that the race of those moving to the suburbs was irrelevant to the news. Most media now follow suit.

And, today, suburbs like Southfield are actively marketing their ethnic diversity. The population of Southfield's schools - more than half black, 10 percent Chaldean, two percent. Asian and the rest white - is featured in promotional brochures and videos designed to attract families and teachers of varied racial backgrounds.

It's a big story hidden in the census numbers: from alarmist news stories to promotional videas. It shouldn't be overlooked amid all the hand wringing.

Seniors wait while attitudes differ on housing

f a measure of society is the way it treats its elderly, Birmingham and the Bloomfields have a way to go.

As in all our Observer & Eccentric communities, the area has extensive. programming and meals-on-wheels ser vices for senior citizens. But it has failed to provide them with subsidized and/or assisted housing to allow them to stay in the hometowns they may have lived in for most of their lives.

Birmingham has yet to put a shovel in the ground on its long-awaited court-ordered senior housing, placing blame for the delay on federal regula-

Bloomfield Township several years back refused to allow a private developer teamed up with St. Luke's Episcopal Church Home to build a retirement center at South Boulevard and Squirrel Road. Residents of surrounding subdivisions said they didn't want it.

West Bloomfield Township bypassed another important opportunity earlier this week when it voted to sell its former town hall on Orchard Lake Road in the heart of the township to be developed as yet another office building.

No matter that West Bloomfield has the highest office vacancy rate in metro-Detroit, according to the most recent Cushman & Wakefield real estate market report. Nearly a quarter of its office space is vacant. Plus West Bloomfield's average lease rate is the lowest for all suburban markets at $15.80 per square foot.

By the time the issue got to the West Bloomfield Township Board, a committee of dubious representation had already nixed senior citizen housing as not suitable to the structure of oldtown hall. That apparently outweighed the easy access to transportation and shopping it would allow seniors.

It's not that West Bloomfield has no senior housing. But the majority of township residents don't qualify to live in the excellent complex the Jewish community is expanding adjacent to the Jewish Community Center.

dust as West Bloomfield is busy east ing the way for still another office building, Redford Township is announcing its second major senior citizens housing complex.

Ninety units will go up along School craft Road between Beech and Inkster, Unlike the federally-subsidized housing Redford has now, the new units are due to be developed privately.

However, the Redford Township Board has on its agenda the idea of purchasing the center in order to keep rents as low as possible.

Birmingham and the Bloomfields are pretty much alone in our Observer. & Eccentric coverage area in not offering seniors an opportunity to remain in their community, - unless they can afford and are well enough to remain in a. home of their own:

For even where extensive senior housing exists, it isn't enough. Bobbie McManus, of the Older Persons Council serving Rochester, Rochester Hills and Oakland Township, says the area's six complexes which offer subsidized housing all have long waiting lists.

"Our population is rapidly aging. We've got to plan for it," she said. Apparently, in Birmingham and the Bloomfields, that message is falling on prematurely deaf ears.

Hope, not hype, should guide choice in education

n the Great Depression, the people in charge of the Toledo public schools had a bright idea: They opened a vocational high school forstudents who weren't likely to go to

Years later, in the 1940s, the school's counselors told one eighth-grade boy that this school was just the place for him. Since his family didn't have the money to send him to college, an academic education would be wasted on him, they said. But with a vocational education, he would be able to go out. and get a job.

The young man was unsure, but he listened as the counselors hyped the school. All the latest workplace technology would be available, and students would learn an up-to-date trade, they said. Finally, he agreed to sign up.

As soon as the new school year started, he realized his mistake. This was a boy who loved history and geography.

Yet he spent his school day shaping sheet metal into air vents. What he was learning wasn't interesting or terribly useful, and he wanted out, fast. Sorry, the counselors said, once you're in you have to stay at least a year.

You may have guessed by now that this once-young man is my father. Over the years, I've heard the tale of his lost year in high school countless times, and there's always been a streak of bitterness in his voice when he tells it.

His aspirations, however yague they may have been, were undercut by the encouragement to attend the vocation al school. Worse, the counselors' pitches played on the insecurity and self-doubt that were inevitable in a youth of my father's background. No one in his family had ever been to college, or had even thought of college as a real option.

Eventually, after driving a truck and working in a factory, he proved the counselors wrong by putting himself through college and earning his living as a technical editor for a major corpo-

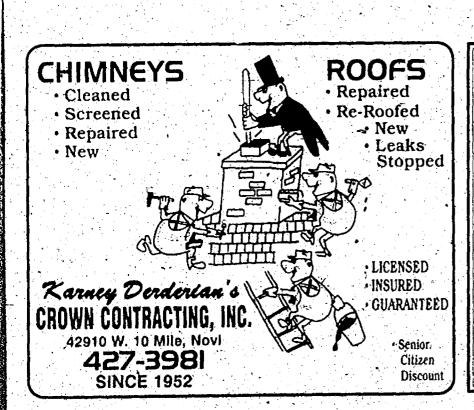

My reason for relating this bit of family lore is that it illustrates so well why we should reject the idea, expressed on these pages and elsewhere, that the way to reform our foundering schools is to create a two-tier educational system that prepares some kids for college and others for work.

The danger is that before they're old enough to know what's hitting them. many, if not most, teenagers will be steered into a vocational program and deprived of a true education. Inevitably, teens whose speech and dress reveal a blue-collar background will be the ones most often guided onto the work track, and most of them will be locked in for life. Yes, this is the way they do it in Europe, but in America we're notsupposed to have a class system.

-What's more, the argument that intensive vocational education will improve the nation's workforce (once ___ again, helping America to compete in a global economy) is spurious. Anyone who can conjugate foreign verbs, do long division and learn the names of plants and bugs can learn to do just about any task in the workplace. But a high school student who is taught only how to do a job may never get another chance to learn about the complex and wonderful world he or she is living in.

Rather than embracing a two-tier educational system, and the two-tier society such system will perpetuate, we ought to try something altogether new by offering every child in America a first-rate, well-rounded education.

The Senate passed the bill 24-13 after a short, intense battle and sent it to the House. It would make Michigan part of a 41-state Nonresident Violater Compact. There are currently of the compact that share traffic ticket information.

"Under this legislation, we give (Southern) states license to bilk," objected Sen. Jack Faxon, D. Farmington Hills.

Faxon said Michigan drivers could be stopped in other states' speed traps, have their court' hearings delayed, wind up paying fines and be punished in their own state by points, suspension or loss of a driver's license.

"All this does is give our Secretary of State the right to enforce their laws, Faxon said.

But sponsor Vern Ehlers, R. Grand Rapids, replied, "There are a few speed traps in other states -- very few."

Koester leads Hawks

Westland John Glenn product Jerry Koester, a right fielder for Henry Ford Community College, earned All-Michigan Community College Athletic Association honors this season.

He led the 33-8 Eastern Conference champion Hawks with a .454 batting average (50 hits in 110 atbats). Koester, who is leaning toward Jacksonville State (Ala.), also led Henry Ford in runs scored (39) and stolen bases (16).

Center fielder Craig Overaftis (Livonia Franklin) hit .430 to earn All-Conference honors. He signed last week with Madonna University.

Another former Patriot, Dave Roman, played solid defense at shortstop, while hitting .240. He also threw a pair of one-hitters and had 15 strikeouts with a 0.00 earned run average.

Redford Catholic Central product Steve Ross, a right-handed pitcher, finished the year with a 5-1 record. He struck out 30 in 35 innings with a 2.37

Another Hawk standout was second baseman Paul Pirronello (CC), who batted .291 with a team-leading 30 RBI. He is going to University of Detroit-Mercy.

Other area players included first baseman Lee Tappy (Redford Union), who batted .302; Adam Marano (Garden City), who went 3-0 as a pitcher in six games; Chris White (North Farmington), a third baseman/shortstop; and designated runner John Keblaitis (Livonia Stevenson).

HFCC will hold open tryouts at 1 p.m. Tuesday, June 16 (some scholarship money still available). For more information, call head coach Stu Rose at

Shamrocks' relay quartet sings

Redford CC's 3,200-meter team came home with a state championship in the Class A boys meet. Livonia Stevenson's Teresa Sarno will compete in a quad-state meet in Indianapolis after a second in the discus,

By C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

One change made a big difference for Redford Catholic Central's track team.

Coach Tony Magni switched Eric McKeon, his top 400-meter runner, from second to third in the lineup of the Shamrocks' 3,200 relay. It worked to perfection: The CC quartet raced home with the gold, winning the relay at the Class A state meet Saturday at Houseman Field in Grand Rapids.

There were some others who posted excellent performances Saturday. Westland John Glenn's Brandon Buck placed seventh in the long jump, and CC's McKeon took sixth in the 400 while teammate Marc Eden was eighth in the 110 hurdles.

In the Class C boys meet at the Byron Center HS in Grand Rapids, Warren Provencal of Lutheran Westland powered his way to a second in the 400. and the Warriors' 1,600 relay team finished fourth.

At the Class A girls state final at Houseman Field, Teresa Sarno of Livonia Stevenson had a superb day, placing second in the discus and third in the shot put, while Wayne Memorial's Tranessa Burroughs was seventh in the 300 intermediate hurdles.

For CC, the victory in the 3,200 was the first win at the state meet in Magni's tenure as coach.

Magni changed the lineup, he said, because he "knew my first man wouldn't be first at the end of his leg and McKeon has a tendancy to go out too hard." So he switched Brandon Dalziel from third to second.

"I knew Dalziel would do it more gradually," Magni said. "He wouldn't try and do it all by himself.

"Both responded (to the change) very well. Steve Witek, our anchor, said if we're within five yards of first either way, we'll win."

They did, in 7:58.00.

McKeon placed sixth in the 400 with a 50.34. Eden was eighth in the 110 hurdles in 15.63, but didn't score in the 300 intermediate hurdles after he was impeded by a hurdle knocked into his lane by another competitor and failed to qualify for the final.

Buck, a senior at John Glenn, leapt 20-10 to finish seventh, far off his best of 22-10 but, considering the soggy conditions, a fair performance.

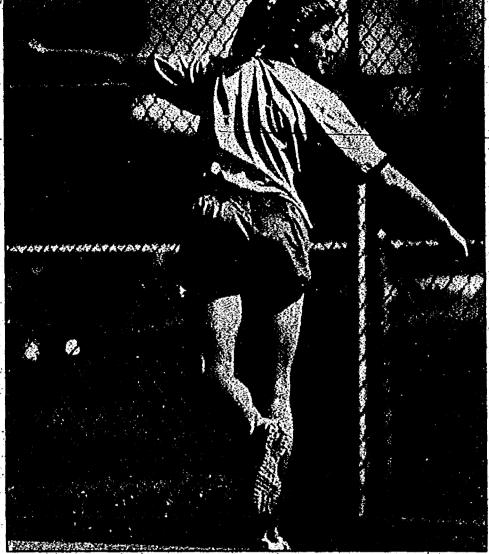

Provencal capped a strong season with his best career effort in the 400 -49.5. The Lutheran Westland senior was also first in the Class C regional and won the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference. His improvement from his junior season was marked: Provencal tied for sixth at the Class C final last year in 51.6.

"As he matures, he'll get faster," said his coach, Mike Unger. "I'm not sure the 400 will be his best race as he gets older. He may be better in the 800."

The Warrior relay team of Provencal, Mace Mattison, Jeff Lichtner and Jason Leimbach raced to a fourth in the 1,600 in 3:32.00.

In the girls final, Sarno was a standout. The Stevenson senior got off to a strong start by placing third in her first event, the shot put, with an effort of 38feet, 4-inches.

"She believes the discus is her best event," explained Spartan coach Paul Holmberg. "We were hoping she'd do well (in the shot) to get her going for the discus. We thought any kind of positive more than 130 feet, performance would get her going."

Discus toss: Stevenson's Teresa Sarno finished second in the discus and third in the shot put at the state Class A meet.

It did. Sarno heaved the discus 130-9 and was within a foot of the leader, Katia Pettinew of Lansing Eastern, until Pettinew-uncorked a title-winning toss of 144-9 on her last throw.

Sarno's shot out effort was the second best of her career, and her discus was only the second time she'd tossed the state's team which will compete in the Quad-State meet in Indianapolis June 13. Track teams (three in each event) consisting of all seniors from Ohio, Illinois and Indiana will compete. Sarno will vie in both the shot and discus.

Her performance earned her a spot on diate hurdles.

Glenn catches fire, grabs district title

By Dan O'Meara STAFF WRITER

At one point, Westland John Glenn coach Norm Hoenes feared the Rockets were headed for a loooong baseball season.

And he was right, but not in the way he first thought. Glenn extended its season for at least another week by winning the district tournament at Ann Arbor Pioneer High School with a 12-5 victory Monday over Belleville.

The Tigers had beaten defending state champion Plymouth Salem 3-2 in eight innings, and Glenn eliminated the host Pioneers 6-1 in the first round.

When his team started with an uncharacteristic 3-6 record. Hoenesfigured it was going to be a bad year - a rarity for Glenn.

But the Rockets have won 12 of their last 13 games and have survived to become one of 16 teams still alive in the Class A tourna-

Peaking down stretch

"We were just happy to be here after we got off to such an awful start." Hoenes said. "But the last half of the season we've been playing as well as all the good clubs we've had."

The unranked Rockets (15-7) will play No. 1 Redford Catholic Central (22-3) at noon Saturday in the regional tournament at Temperance Bedford, Lincoln Park and Taylor Kennedy meet in the first game at 10 a.m.

'We really are peaking at the . right time," Hoenes said. "I'm real confident with this team. They're playing so much better.

'We started playing defense, and of the season. The kids sucked it up and decided they didn't want to be bad anymore."

The Besco brothers -- sophomore twins Derek and Brian played important roles in the championship game.

Batting in the clean-up spot, Derek drove in four runs with a double and a home run, and Brian pitched 3% innings of solid relief. though the win went to starter Chris Kirkey.

Rockets start early

The Rockets got to Belleville starter and loser Chuck Coleman for four runs in the first inning with a mix of hits, errors, walks and fielder's choices. Aaron Scheffer and Kirkey had RBI singles.

Derek Besco's two-run double off the center-field fence chased Coleman in the second inning and gave Glenn a 6-1 lead.

But Kirkey got in trouble in fourth and Belleville (18-8-1) closed to 6-5 when Coleman ripped a bases-loaded double off Brian Besco, who was pitching to his second batter.

"I was a little worried there because in the first game we scored early and sat on it," Hoenes said. "I thought here we go again. But when (John) Ward hit his double off the wall, that broke their back. Everybody relaxed and took their cuts after that,"

Besco finished strong, allowing only one other hit while striking out five and walking two.

Meanwhile, the Rockets fought back with a six-run fifth to seal the we didn't do that at the beginning - win. After a leadoff triple by Martin Potter and walks to Greg Tamas and Jamie Murphy, Ward cleared the bases with a double and Derek Besco followed with a tworun homer. Mike Bint added an RBI single.

Tamas and Scheffer also had two hits. Tamas, who also walked three times, and Jamie Murphy scored three run each.

Pioneer ousted

In the Pioneer game, Glenn scored five times in the first inning and gave Scheffer a good situation in which to work. He scattered five hits, fanned eight and walked two. After starting the year 0-3, he is 5-4 with a 1.97 earned run average.

"He's one of the best around right now," Hoenes said, adding Glenn has good pitchers and that was never a concern this year.

"A lot of it is because we're playing better defense, and (knowing that) his head is in the game more now.-He's got more confidence in the team. If he gets in a little trouble, he plays over it."

Scheffer elso helped his cause with two hits and an RBI; but the big blow came from the bat of Bint, who crushed a three-run homer. He also had two hits.

Hoenes was asked if he found it ironic that Glenn, with the state's No. 1-ranked team last year, didn't win the district but did this year with a team labeled en underdog. "Last year we had four teams" with over 100 wins between them (in the district)," he said. "I thought the team that won would win the state. It turned out I was right, but I kinda thought it would be us."

Maybe this will be Glenn's year.

Deja Vu: CC meets Glenn

By Steve Kowalski Stapp Writer

When Brian Hicks transferred to Redford Catholic Central last fall. most everyone he passed in the . hallways was a stranger.

Hicks still doesn't know most of his classmates but he has become a popular face around CC -leven though he's usually wearing a catcher's mask on the baseball diamond

"I didn't know anyone and no one knew me," said Hicks, a Garden , City resident, referring to the first few months of his junior year at CC after transferring from Dearborn Fairlane Christian. "But since the season started I've gotten a little more recognition around school. A lot of people I don't even know are . saying, When are you going to hit another home run?' I don't know what to say.'

Hicks will have another chance to add to his team-leading nine home runs when the Shamrocks play in Saturday's Class A regional at Temperance-Bedford. CC (23-3 overall) meets Westland John Glenn (15-7) at noon in a regional semifinal; Lincoln Park plays Taylor Kennedy at 10 a.m. in the other semifinal with the championship scheduled for 2 p.m.

Besides leading the Shamrocks in homers, Hicks also has the team lead with 30 RBI and is hitting .418, which is second behind Scott Kapla's .463 average.

What makes Hicks' accomplishments all the more impressive is he started the season without a hit in eight at bats.

Hicks and current CC third baseman Eric Justice played two years on the Fairlane Christian varsity team before transferring to CC last summer. A veteran of several Little Caesars' travel teams in Garden City, Hicks had to prove himself all over again to CC coach John Salter. And Salter is a hard sell.

"In the past I've had kids transfer in who were supposedly good players but they didn't pan out so ting excited," Salter said, "Indoors, " whom now pitches in the Pigers or-Brian was hitting the ball well off the pitching machine, but then again sometimes you look good indoors and don't hit so well outside.

. "He started the season 0 for eight and struck out a few times and I said, 'Oh, man, he's struggling.' But he kept telling me, 'Coach, I've hit well everywhere I played.' He must have went 10 for 14 after that and he's batted third or fourth the rest of the way."

Hicks and CC ace right-handed pitcher Scott Kapla make up one of the strongest batteries in the state.

Kapla, headed to Eastern Michigan on a baseball scholarship, is 9-1 with a 1.24 earned run averaged and 75 strikeouts in 67 innings. If Hicks continues his improvement, he'll also draw much attention from scouts next year. . ...

"If I work hard I can write my own ticket, being a left-handed hitting catcher," said Hicks, who beefed up to 6-foot-1 190 pounds over the winter months. "I've never doubted my own ability but I've been surprised with the long ball. Usually I'm an opposite field hitter but I've been pulling the ball more this year."

Recalling 1987 Classic

CC and Glenn last met in 1987 when the Shamrocks held on for a 9.8 win in a Class A district final. The Shamrocks, who went on to win the state championship, enjoyed a 9-0 lead after five innings before Chris Scheffer's three-run homer highlighted a furious Rockets come-

I've always been hesitant about get- right hander Doug Martin, each of ganization; and Glenn had righties Bill Barber (who was a Division I prospect) and Clint Straub (currently with the University of De-(roit Mercy).

"It was a great game," Hoenes said, "We got to the Final Four in 86 and I said to the players, This is our chance. Whoever wins this district will be state champ.' Both had real good teams. We got behind early and never quite caught them."

CC is hitting .326 as a team, by far the team's best average in recent years, according to Salter. Among those hitting above .300 are seniors Dan Gusoff (.338) and Paul Kuhn (.333) and juniors Aaron Rumberger (.319) and Aaron Babicz (.300).

The Shamrocks will likely go with Kapla on the mound and No. 2 man Dan Gusoff is also capable (5-0, 2.02 ERA) should Kapla get in

The Rockets began the season with a 2-5 record but have won 11 of their last 12. Ace pitcher Aaron Scheffer, who started 0-3, brings a 5.4 record into the game with a 1.97

The Rockets, who are hitting .296 as a team, have a dangerous leadoff man in senior Greg Tamas (:387, 10 stolen bases) and another threat is senior John Ward (.355, 15 stolen

"I think Scheffer, right now, is one of the best pitchers in the state," Hoenes said. "We just played so bad behind him (early in the season), we couldn't pick up a ground ball, and it was a waste of good pitching. If I'm going to throw my best, then I've got a pretty good

Shamrocks win A-B title We've been a hitting team, pounding the

By Steve Kowalski Staff Writer

Redford Catholic Central senior Scott Kapla threw strikes Wednesday afternoon at Tiger Stadium, even from center field.

Kapla, CC's ace pitcher, played the last four innings of the Catholic League A-B Division championship game in the outfield - and it paid off. His throw from center field with no outs in the top of the seventh finning nailed Warren DeLaSalle's Jim Kerr at third base and the Shamrocks went on to win the championship 3-2.

Kerr had stolen second base, and after the throw from CC catcher-Brian Hicks sailed into center field. he headed for third base: Kapla picked up the ball and threw a dart to third baseman Eric Justice, who made the tag and kept the score tied

"I just got through pitching (the first three innings) and my arm felt real loose," Kapla said. "I was kind of hoping the guy woud run and my eyes lit up. I was just taking care of business.' Senior Dan Gusoff, who relieved Kapla on the mound from the fourth inning on, retired the next two batters on strikeouts and the Shamrocks scored in the bottom of the seventh to take home their second A-B trophy in the last three years. CC is 24-3 overall, while the Pilots are 24-7.

ball all year.'

— CC coach John Salter

Kapla also contributed a sacrifice fly in the bottom of the seventh that was instrumental in scoring the winning run.

Pat Casey started the seventh inning with a bunt single. Senior Bob Kummer, running for Casey, stole second base and went to third on Kapla's sacrifice fly to the warning track in left field.

With one out and the infield drawn in, Paul Kuhn followed Kapla's fly ball with a single up the middle to score Kummer with the winning run.

The run was typical of the kind CC scored off DeLaSalle pitcher Bryan Gorak (6-3) who allowed only four hits, struck out 10 and walked

The Shamrocks stole four bases off DeLaSalle, which lost for the fourth time in five meetings with

"We've been a hitting team, pounding the ball all year," said CC coach John Salter. "Today we had to change up. Our coaches (Al Moran and Ed Hamacher) noticed Gorak doesn't have a great move to first base. Sometimes you've got to make things happen instead of waiting for base hits."

Gusoff earned the win for the Shamrocks to stay undefeated in six pitching decisions. He allowed an unearned run in the fifth when DeLaSalle went ahead 2-1 but surrendered only two hits, retiring six of the last seven Pilot batters.

The Shamrocks tied the score without the benefit of a hit in the sixth. After leadoff batter Aaron Rumberger walked, pinch runner Matt Roney stole second base, then third, then came home when the throw to third went into left field.

Gusoff's effort allowed Kapla to get-some rest before Saturday's Class A regional semifinal against Westland John Glenn at Temperance Bedford. Kapla allowed two hits in three innings, including a leadoff triple in the second, but the Phots were unable to bring that potential run home.

DeLaSalle scored an unearned run in the third off Kapla after a walk and a fly ball to left field that was dropped.

CC tied the score at 1-1 in the bottom of the third after loading the bases with leadoff walk to Casey, a single by Kapla and a walk to Hicks. Casey came home on a groundout by Rumberger.

Catholic Central 4th, betters state ranking

Redford Catholie Central tennis far as the Semifinal round. coach Bob Miller anticipated finishing in the top 10 at Saturday's Class A state meet.

So coming in a fourth-place tie with Birmingham Brother Rice, Grosse Pointe South and Kalamazoo Loy Norrix was all the more satisfying.

The Shamrocks, Rice, South and Loy Norrix finished with 14 points each. Okemos won the championship with 29 points, followed by Ann Arbor Pioneer (26) and Bloomfield Hills Lahser (19). Livonia Stevenson earned one point to tie for 22nd place.

"We were ranked between seven and 10 all year so for us to perform at that level was a step up," Miller said. "The three teams ahead were clearly better so we're very pleased to be a step shead of the rest of the group.

CC's three doubles teams led the way after advancing at least as

The most success was found by the No. 2 doubles team of Chip Shade and Dave Lombardi, who lost in the finals to Okenios' Andy Dahlwal and Martin Gelbke, 6-2, 3.6, 6.3.

Shade and Lombardi, who finished 18-2 for the season, won three matches to reach the finals. They beat East Lansing's Denver Hagan and Bill Burke, 6-3, 6-4; Holland's Wade Eldean and Dana Schwartz, 6-4, 6-1; and Ploneer's David Park and Kevin Lochner,

The No. 1 doubles team of Chris Matson and Dave Gallagher, who finished 13-5 overall, won two matches before losing in the semifinals.

They beat Lahser's Cory Schoebel and Steve Hawkey, 6-3, 6-2 and Holland's Karsten Coskuil and Kyle Van Eenenaam, 6-1, 6-0. Okemos' doubles team of Andrew pair from CC, 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, in the semifinal.

. The No. 3 doubles of Orin Mazzoni and Matt Gorman also lost in the semifinal of their flight, 0-6, 2 6, to Pioneer's Oliver Wreford and Drew Denzin.

The CC pair (16-3 overall) won earlier matches over Birmingham Groves' Brad Richettini and David Hitsky, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0, and Holland's Andy Van Eden and Chris Boulton, 3-6, 6-0, 6-0.

CC was a regional winner in all doubles and singles flights. All -doubles players this year for CC were seniors and Miller was glad he left them in the doubles flights instead of moving them around the lineup.

"It's especially nice-for all the seniors to make the semifinals," Miller said. "We had an up-anddown season because our singles players were a little less strong Perry and Scott Grow defeated the than last year. We could have moved some of our doubles players to singles but it ended up paying off playing the players where .they best fit."

> CC's Nos. 1, 3 and 4 singles. players each won a match. No. 1 Chris Alonte, who received a bye in the first round, beat Grand Blanc's Rory McKinney, 6-2, 6-1, in the second round.

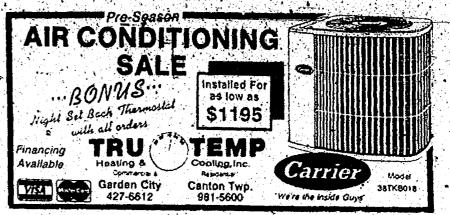

No. 3. Mike Shava defeated Rich Schaafstna of Grand Rapids Christian, 6-2, 6-0, and No. 4 Jeff. Haithcock defeated Grosse Pointe South's Todd Scallen, 6-3, 6-2.

Haithcock's final record is 9.9. while Alonte and Shaya each finished 7-11.

Stevenson's lone point came from its No. 1 doubles team of Kit Mastroberto and Matt Gerlach. The pair, second at the regional, heat Battle Creek Central's Corey Davis and Chris Somers, 7-5, 6-4:

Chargers primed for 3rd exam vs. Canton

By Brad Emons Staff Writer

Maybe the third time will be a charm for coach Dana Hardwidge and her Livonia Churchill softball

The Chargers (17-5) take on nemesis Plymouth Canton (29-3) in the Class A regional semifinals, beginning at 10 a.m. Saturday at . Temperance-Bedford.

Churchill is 0-2 against its divisional Western Lakes rival this spring. Canton relies on fireballer Kelly Holmes, a junior with three no-hitters this season.

"We played them on the fourth and ninth games of the year and we haven't seen them now for 11 games," Hardwidge said. "The first time we lost 5-0 and made a number of errors and we were in awe of her (Holmes). The second time we lost 8-6 and it was a downpour. There were a lot of passed balls and wild pitches because of the conditions.'

Churchill lost the second go around after leading 5.3 with two outsin the seventh inning.

"I hope we can give them a game," Hardwidge said, "I think we have a shot at them, but they're tough. And Holmes is tough."

Churchill relies on sophomore pitcher Karen Jose (16-4), hard-hitting senior shortstop Vicki Lucas (seven homers) and junior catcher Chrissy Daly, who had two hits in a 15-1 district clinching win last weekend over Farmington.

But other Chargers have emerged during the season, including senior first baseman Trudi Luczak, who is hitting 354 after sitting out two. years because of knee surgery. She had three hits in a 6-1 victory over Farmington Harrison in the district semifinals,

"She's really contributed and has done a nice job defensively," said the Churchill coath.

Left fielder Carla Karoub, a sophomore, has come on during the second half and is hitting .340.

Kim Jose, a senior third basemah, is one of the team's inspira-

She is one of our captains and has been a nice leader," Hardwidge said, "She's always positive,"

Sophomore Angie Cerne, with good range and mobility, plays second base and bats second in the lineup.

The other outfielders are junior Stacey Rields, an experienced player with a strong arm in center, and freshman Mary Daly, who had two hits in the district final. She plays right.

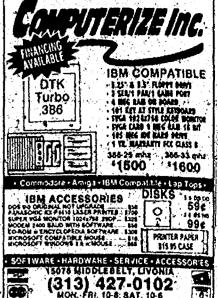

Junior Kelly Szymanski, a lefthanded hitter, is the DH.

"I think we're a -better hitting team than we was earlier in the year," Hardwidge said. "And their confidence has grown throughout the season.

Chiefs' pitcher Holmes dominates district

By Dan O'Meara Staff Writer

Kelly Holmes was chased across the softball diamond Monday before her Plymouth Canton teammates managed to hit her with what remained in the Gatorade bucket.

Thus, it was left for the Chiefs to do in the post-game celebration what Belleville batters could not in the championship game of the district tournament at Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The Tigers not only failed to chuse Holmes from the mound but couldn't hit any of her pitches, either. Holmes tossed her third nohitter of the season in leading Canton to an 8-0 victory and its first district title.

The Chiefs (29-3) will play Livonia Churchill (17.5) at noon Saturday in the regional tournament at .Temperance Bedford. Garden City and Trenton meet in the first game oneer in the first game, and raised

The win over Belleville was a long time coming for Holmes and the Chiefs, who were eliminated by the Tigers in district games the last two years, 8-2 in 21 innings and 10-0. Holmes (20-2) was the loser in both

"The whole season we've been waiting for Belleville," Holmes said. "This year we were hoping to play them.

"We set a lot of goals this year and so far we've attained all of them. This was the most important goal and, hopefully, we'll keep on going."

Holmes didn't allow more than one baserunner in any inning this. time while striking out nine and walking four. The Tigers hit only two balls out of the infield.

She had 21 strikeouts Monday, including 12 In the 2-1 win over Pi-her season total to 250. Holmes is two shy of 600 career strikeouts.

"I definitely didn't expect (the no hitter)." she said. "Last year it. was 0.0 going into the fifth inning, and then they just attacked the ball. This year it was the other way around.'

The Chiefs supported Holmes with 13 hits, and the first twohitters in the Canton order swung the mightiest bats. Dani Mortiere and Kate Strahan were among The players with two hits, and each had a double and a triple.

"For Dani to have a bad first game (0-for-4) and come back and crush the ball like she did shows the way she plays the game," Canton assistant coach Larry Bober said.

Canton left six runners stranded in three previous innings (including the bases full in the second) before ending the scoreless deadlock with two runs in the fifth.

Mortiere started the inning with a triple. Kate Strahan hit an RBI sacrifice fly and Sarah Schimmelpfenneg tripled and scored on Remee Dory's single.

"This is a unique team," Canton coach Jim Arnold said. "This team doesn't get going until the fourth inning. They're just slow starters. But once they get going, you can't stop them.

The Chiefs finished off Belleville (16-13) with six runs in the sixth. Mortiere and Strahan had RBI doubles, Dory and Nicole Sequin had single RBI and Julie Nicastri capped the rally with a two-run sin-

Dory, Sequin and Michelle' Metzger also had two hits apiece. Mortiere, who leads the Chiefs with a .422 batting average, and Schimmelpfenneg scored two runs each.

Lutheran Westland, Trojans ousted in 'C'

The softball seasons for Lutheran Westland and Livonia Clarenceville ended with losses Monday during Class C district action.

Lutheran Westland, which finished its best season in recent years at 16-4 overall, lost to Redford St. Agatha 9-6 in a district semifinal at Erie Mason, Clarenceville lost to Royal Oak Shrine 13-2 in a district semifinal called after five innings because of the mercy rule at Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

St. Agatha's starting pitcher Laura Williams enjoyed a 7-0 lead after three innings and pitched 31/s innings of no-hit ball. She finished with a six-hitter, five strikeouts and three walks.

Enjoy 'Music in the Park' in Plymouth

The Plymouth Community Arts Council will sponsor a "Music in the Park" concert series, with performances noon to 1 p.m. Wednesdays, June 17 through Aug. 19. The Plymouth Community Band will also present. free concerts in the park.

The sound of music will again fill the air this summet at Kellogg Park in downtown Plymouth.

The Plymouth Community Arts Council will sponsor a "Music in the Park" concert series, with performances noon to 1 p.m. Wednesdays, June 17 through Aug. 19.

"It's just a really nice way to introduce the community to a lot of differentkinds of music," said Nancy Pilon, a PCAC volunteer who is coordinating the series.

Concerts have been offered for a number of years, and attracted between 400 and 800 music-lovers- each week last summer. Many parents bring their children, and those of all ages enjoy hearing a variety of music. Pilon said.

The Plymouth Community Band will also present free concerts in the park, at Ann Arbor Trail and Main in downtown Plymouth. Those performances, which in previous years have drawn some 500 people each week, will be 8 p.m. Thursdays, June 25 through July 30.

"We play a variety of music," said Carl Battishill, Plymouth Community Band director. The band will present light classics, show tunes, marches and such novelty numbers as "The Waltzing Cat" and "The-Irish Washerwoni-

"Those are all relatively humorous kinds of pieces," he said of the novelty selections.

The usual array of guest soloists will perform with the band, including George Cavender, retired University of and Carter Eggers, a trumpeter and professor at Eastern Michigan University.

Rachel Folland and Catherine Shasko, winners of Community Band scholarships, will also perform.

The evening concert series has been offered each summer since 1960, said Battishill, band director at West Bloomfield High School.

"People really enjoy doing this. It's a good summer activity.

Some 40 to 50 regulars play with the band during the school year, and that increases to 60 or more in the summer. Musicians find playing with the band fits in nicely with vacation schedules, Battishill said.

The noontime Wednesday series, sponsored by the Plymouth Community Arts Council, will feature a variety of area musicians, including:

• June 17 - Edinborough, Saxophone Quartet, with music ranging from popular to classical, from folk to • June 24 - Chautauqua Express, a children's show including instrumental performances, storytelling and handson participation; • July 1 - Amadeus Horn Quartet, will present music ranging from classical to ragtime; . • July 8 - Marc Thomas, a children's singer and songwriter, in a per-Tormance featuring original and tradi-

• July 22 - Onita Jackie Sanders, Michigan Murching Band conductor, singer and harpist, performing music from classical, pop folk, blues, Broadway and jazz styles;

Music in park: Guy Sferlazza, known professionally as Guy Louis, will bring his Chautauqua Express children's show to Plymouth's Kellogg Park noon Wednesday, June 24.

- Society, presenting a program of traditional folk and dance music:
- Aug. 5 The Steve Wood Trio, in a program of traditional and original jazz compositions; • Aug. 12 - Encore, a vocal ensem-
- ble of performers with experience ranging from musical comedy to opera;
- Aug. 19 Just Me & the Boys, in a performance featuring bluegrass, Irish, old-time, French Canadian and folk music.

Musical additions

Three newcomers will be featured this year in the PCAC series. The Encore ensemble includes performers from the Michigan Opera Theatre who will present music from "Les Miserables' and "Phantom of the Opera."

They have beautiful voices," said

• July 29 - Silver Strings Dulcimer Pilon, a Plymouth Township resident.

Another addition is the Amadeus 'Horn Quartet. "They're going to do ragtime, which is something we haven't had a lot of in the past.".

Children's musician Marc Thomas is another newcomer to the PCAC series, and organizers are looking forward to having him participate.

Business sponsorships help to support the concert series, which is offered free of charge. A total of 10 local businesses are assisting this year, Pilon said. Cooperation from city of Plymouth officials also helps to keep things running smoothly.

Staffers from the Penniman Deli will be in Kellogg Park to sell refreshments during the noontime concerts. For information on the series, call 455-5260.

PCAC concerts are canceled if it rains,

On stage: Nancy Lipschultz and Dan Welcher of Westland appear in Larry Kramer's "The Normal Heart."

Last October, Awrey's son, Tom, was placed in charge of day-to-day operations and retail sales were resumed in the metro area.

"We had two bright young men, hard-working, intelligent, who made a master plan for the company to streamline," Bob Awrey said. "They had great ideas to expand." The only problem was we closed too much sales volume without adequate replacement.

The way we were losing money and sales were off, there was considerable concern (about survival). When management changed, there was a groundswell of support. It was remarkable to experience," Awrey said.

Reverse mortgages appeal to few individuals, banks

They're called home equity condersion mortgages — or more simply, reverse mortgages. The loans, backed by the Federal Housing Administration, enable homeowners who are at least 62 years of age to tap into their equity to supplement

A borrower can choose from among five distribution plans. Unlike a traditional home equity loan, where monthly repayments begin immediately, a reverse mortgage is repaid in one lump sum after the owner or his estate sells the proper-

And applicants don't have to qualify as to income or assets.

But few doors are open to prospective borrowers.

Just one lender, Reverse Mortgage Co., a subsidiary of Unity Mortgage Corp. based in Georgia, offers the FHA insured reverse mortgage in metro Detroit.

That office opened in Southfield last month.

"The individual the program is geared for is an older adult who finds himself in a house-rich, cashpoor situation," said Brigit Green, branch manager for Reverse Mortgage Co. "Most likely, they're living on a fixed income supply that's not keeping up with the cost of living."

The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development established a pilot program nearly three years ago to insure some 25,000 home equity conversion mortgages around the country.

Basic requirements

Applicants must own their homes free and clear or nearly so and actually live there, Green said.

A formula taking into account an applicant's age, the value of the house and prevailing treasury bill interest rates determines how much someone can borrow.

Normally, borrowers can tap a other personal finance options.

third to half of appraised value with an FHA mandated maximum of $101,250 for Oakland County properties and $85,150 in Wayne County, Green said.

"The borrower's age is the most important element," she said. "The older the borrower, generally the more equity you can tap into.'

Interest accrues on the outstanding balance based on the rate of one-year treasury bills at closing. As of Tuesday, it was 5.87 percent not to rise more than 2 percent a year or 5 percent over the life of the mortgage.

Borrowers don't include mortgage proceeds as income and don't deduct accrued mortgage interest on annual tax returns, Green said.

The FHA charges mortgage insurance - 2 percent of the appraised home value up front that can be rolled into the mortgage and one half percent annually on the. outstanding balance.

Reverse Mortgage Co. charges a 2 percent origination fee and traditional closing costs like survey, title insurance, appraisal and credit re-

Why no action?

Lack of knowledge about the program and a hesitation to make a major financial move deter many prospective borrowers, Green said.

"We think it's a loan that incorporates more risk than we're willing to take," said Al Marshall, manager of business development for First Federal of Michigan.

Group offers special care to caregivers

By Sue Mason Staff Writer

Never in her wildest dreams did Missy Poppenger expect to be doing those things for her 25-year-old son that she did for him when he was an infant.

Never in her wildest dreams did she think she would join a growing number of people - husbands, wives, parents and children - who must care for an invalid relative.

She may never have dreamed it, but it happened to the Livonia resident. It happened when her oldest son suffered a massive stroke, followed by a brain hemorrhage and two brain surgeries, more than three

For three months, she literally lived at University of Michigan Hospital so she could be close to her son. Her life and that of her family was turned upside Poppenger knew what she should do; it was advice she has offered many times to participants in grief support classes she facilitates through the R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home. She did the opposite.

"In grief support, I tell them not to make any decisions the first year, but when it happened to me, I. pulled out of everything," she said. "I went from being active in the community to caring for a-22-yearold male. I shut my whole life down for 11/2 years and I see other people doing it because they don't want to ask for help.'

That may partially explain why Poppenger and Kathy Clark, director of senior citizen program for the city of Livonia, are putting their all into a new support group for caregivers, young and old alike.

Out of whack

The idea for the group surfaced at an "Issues of Aging" program that Poppenger does at the Livonia Senior Center once a month. The speaker a few . months ago focused on those things that can cause a family structure to get out of whack.

What found talking to participants after the speech was a roomful of caregivers with no place "to go to let off ateam.'

Clark and Poppenger decided to put the "Issues" program on hold for six months and focus their energies on the caregivers support group. It met for the first time in May and with very little publicity four people showed up.

One participant was a woman who has provided long-term care for husband. She complained that people would call and ask how her husband was, but never inquired about her state of health.

"It's terrible to say, but a majority of the human race doesn't know how to take care of themselves." said Poppenger. "People need to learn how to give people permission to help them. They need to let others know how they feel.'

The group meets on the second Tuesday of the month in the lounge of the Livonia Senior Center, Five Mile and Farmington roads. To accommodate caregivers, two meetings are offered at 1 and 2 p.m. They last about 11/4 hours.

The first participants have expressed an interest in wanting the group to be a support group to on another and be able to get information they can "trust and rely on."

According to Poppenger, there's and interest in being able to discuss problems and solve them as well as have access to medical professionals who can be questioned about losses and experiences.

"These people struggle with the issues of caring of a family member and their new role," Poppenger said. "I know. It was difficult for me to suddenly have to do personal care for a 22-year-old male that I did when he was an infant. It was hard for me and it was hard for him to give me that permission.

"When they're put into this new role, it can lower their self-esteem. The whole family structure is changed by it."

For men and women

Poppenger stresses that even though the group meets at a senior center, it is meant for caregivers of all ages and for both men and women. She doesn't want "anyone to stay away because of the location."

And she also hopes participants will be able to say what they're going through. It is, she admits, a big decision for them to let people into their space.

Poppenger has a lot of experience with support groups through her position as community service representative for R.G. and G.R. Harris Funeral Home. She also is a certified death educator, only one of eight such people in the state, and serves as adjunct counselor and coordinator with grief specialist Dr. John Canine.

"For anyone in the role of a caregiver, it can be a horrible experience," she said. "Your life is turned every which way. They need a lot of backup support from people who can give them good resource information and lift them up.

"I hope people will come and see about this group. Only they can determine if it's right for them. If it's not right, we can find something that is."

The next meetings of the Caregiver Support Group will be at 1 and 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 9, at the Livonia Senior Center, Formington and Five Mile Road. For more information, call Kathy Clark at 522-2710.

Whether it is an act of anger or an act of revenge, the simple fact is that teenagers are killing themselves in ever increasing numbers. Suicide now ranks as the third leading cause of death among young people 15-24 years of age and the why of it is something that has experts stymied.

By Sue Mason Staff Writer

Suicide. It's a tragic end to life that. leaves family and friends to deal with the shattered dreams and hopes. It leaves more questions to be answered than those that the victim felt it answered.

It knows no social, ethnic or economic boundaries. It can rear its ugly head in the perfect family as quickly as it does in the dysfunctional home. It can snuff out the lives of the young as easily as it does the very old.

But it is the lower end of the age spectrum that has professionals worried. Suicide currently ranks as the third leading cause of death among young people 15-24 years of age, trailing only accidents and homicide.

The suicide rate among young people has tripled since the 1950s. In 1988, there were 13.2 suicides per 100,000 people age 15-24, according to figures compiled by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services' Center for Health Statistics. And it's estimated that more than 5,000 teenagers and young adults took their own lives and 50 times that number made serious attempts last year. -

Why young people are taking their lives in ever increasing numbers is something experts have yet to sort out. although many see the breakdown in the nuclear family - divorce, remarriage, single parent families - leading to the emotional isolation that is a key factor in teen suicide.

"Kids are living in a much more stressful society today, kids aren't kids anymore," said John Farrar, director of the Livonia Counseling Center. "I call it the adulteration of the child. There are tasks performed at every level of development and it messes up the kids when you mess up those tasks."

Farrar has spent many an hour addressing the needs of "at risk" young people. He knows a lot about fixing the potholes in their lives. He knows that to understand you have to look at what has happened to them personally."

Unhappy victim

The suicide victim usually suffersfrom a great depression and is very unhappy, making him unable to perceive any other options. He thinks nobody

The act is an act of anger. The victim is "really mad" at someone and determines that if he kills himself, the person who treated him poorly will feel bad, Farrar said.

"It's an act of revenge against that person and the teen knows that person will feel bad," karrar said. "But he ers and sisters and his friends will feel. When a person kills himself he may get back at that person, but doesn't realize that the others don't deserve to be hurt." The dilemma that has faced society doesn't see how his parents, his broth-has been twofold. The first has been identifying potential suicide victims; the second has been how to reach them, how to let them know that they are not alone, that there are others in the same

In the past, schools and communities_ have attempted to work with problem youths, but those efforts weren't suicide specific.

In a school setting, social workers were available to work with troubled students although their availability was limited in most cases to one day a week. The effort, at best, was like using a Band-Aid when a pressure dressing was needed. Students had little chance to develop a rapport with the social work-

Changing attitudes

But attitudes began changing about 10 years ago.

"People started talking about a better delivery to students, something that was a service to the kids and the parents," Farrar said. "The singular goal was to figure ways of meeting the kids' needs on a personal level."

School officials came to a realization that had hit industry a few years earlier - personal problems affect work, whether it's a student in school or a factory worker. Industry's response were workplace-based employee assistance programs. School districts decided to "borrow" the idea.

Armed with a state grant, Farrar helped set up a pilot Student Assistance Program (SAP) for the Livonia, Wayne-Westland and Northville school districts. A SAP counselor was housed at Franklin High School in Westland to work with students on a personal issues

The idea was to let students know that there was someone they could go to within the confines of the school who was there to help not hand out discipline or grades.

It was one person working with the students on a personal issues basis, "functioning as a school counselor should," Farrar said.

"The SAP counseler is the nice guy, the person to talk to," Farrar said. "The factors that are causing the problems can't be altered, but what we've set up is the notion that there's some place to go with your problems."

There's signals

Most potential suicide victims give out signals about their intentions. It may be as simple as giving away. a prized possession. What the SAP has done is provide a place where that teen or a friend can go to get help. The issue of suicide also is best served if the students know about it or have a minimal amount of knowledge about-it, he add-

Survivors try to comprehend the why

By LARRY O'CONNOR

In many ways, Survivors of Suicide (SOS) reveals all the trappings of a support group meeting.

A facilitator prompts them as each person tells a story while others listen, quietly reliving their own tragedies. A box of tissues sits in the middle of the floor to dab away the tears.

But, in this case, the tears never flow easily.

"What people don't understand is that it's a physical pain that is with you," said Barbara, whose 16year old son committed suicide in October. Suicide is never understood, especially by those closest to the victims who have been left grapple with the whys. Those who come to the weekly SOS meetings Mondays at Westland Convalescent Center have learned not to expect answers. Rather, the setting offers a release on the inner valve of pain, anger and personal torment. Their audience doesn't lead a cheer of support or even ned in affirmation. They just listen,

In many cases, it is more than family and friends are willing to do as the stigma of suicide is still quite pervasive in today's society.

Survivora of aulcide often speak about others around them who remain hushed, some who seemingly refuse to acknowledge the death. Others are afraid to even broach the subject.

Time to grieve

Then there are those who are under the misconception the grief process should only last 12 weeks. Such isolation only adds to the angulah.

"A few months after the death the intenseness is gone; people go back to the normal things of living. They get through their Jobs," said Mary Leonhardi, a counselor who facilitates the SOS meeting. "They save it up. They save those feelings up for where it's understood."

808 was started by psychiatrist Bruce Danto in 1974 as a place for relatives and friends of suicide victims to be accepted. The group in Westland has been meeting since 1978, originally starting out in Canton.

On this night, three women sit somberly in a room off the corridor in the Westland nursing facility. Each gives an introduction.

Although they express similar feelings, their stories are markedly singular. If there is a source of strength, it comes from a woman wearing a red sweater.

Mary, who lives in Livonia, calmly recounts how her 23-year-old son took his life six years ago.

Like many suicides, there were few signs. He was depressed after graduating from the University of Michigan-Dearborn as his ensuing job hunt produced few results.

But all that seemed to dissolve once he had moved to Texas and was working as an accountant.

Things seemed to be going well. Mary and her husband received a phone call from him Feb. 8, 1985, saying he had passed three parts of the CPA exam. On March 5, they got another call that he was dead,

In the shock, Mary said she got through the funeral and went to Texas to take care of some of her son's personal and financial matters. She found he had a good job and had plenty of money in the bank, leading to even more questions than answers.

"Then, suddenly, I guess the shock wore off." Mary said. "I fell apart, I didn't want to live anymore I felt so badi"

What followed was two-years of personal torment, questioning her role as a mother, wondering if she pushed her son too hard to succeed. Fortunately, she had the support of both her family and four other children.

See SURVIVORS, 2C

Suicide victims leave a trail of clues

While a teenager's suicide always comes as a shock, the victim typically drops numerous clues before committing the fatal act. The trouble is that family members and friends often fail to detest the signs, or if they do, disregard them.

But there are things to watch for.

Suicidal people sometimes communicate in subtle or indirect messages about their intentions. Verbal clues might include statements like "I might as well be dead," or "You won't. have to worry about me much longer."

The widely held belief that people who say they are going to kill themselves never do is a myth, according to experts. A young person who talks about wanting to die is likely to attempt

Another suicidal signal is preparation for death, which for a teenager may entail giving away prized possessions. Sudden changes in mood or behavior that last a long time shouldalso be suspect.

Other clues may be uncommunicativeness. irritability, fatigue, changes in eating and sleeping habits, reckless and abusive behavior, loss of interest in school, friends and other activities, death.

In some cases, the most ominous sign of suicidal intent is the sudden peace of mind after a long period of troubling behavior. Such a mood. change could indicate that the person has finally resolved to commit suicide and, as a result, has achieved some kind of tranquility.

According to experts, the most common response to a suicidal young person is not to take them seriously. Too often the signals are dismissed because the teen doesn't seem to be unhappy or the type to commit suicide. And don't dismiss the distress signals as adolescent melodrama, overreaction or attempts to get back at

And the experts agree that people who have made suicidal comments or display evidence of severe depression (either directly or by acting out) should be asked if they're comtemplating suicide and, if they are, what, if any, plans have been made.

If the person has a definite plan, if the means are easily available, if the method is a lethal one, and the time is set, the risk of attempted suicide preoccupation with death and a lessened fear of is very high. Consequently, it is vital not to miscalculate the danger by failing to probe for de-

Rather than implanting the idea of suicide, as some may think, such questions can relieve young people by letting them know they are being taken seriously. Open dialogue also gives disturbed youngsters are opportunity to talk about their suicidal feelings and impulses.

But there are guidelines for the questioning. Don't tell the young person that suicide is wrong or sinful, that they should be grateful for what they have since many others of their age are worse off, or that everything is basically all right.

If the young person believed all that, he or she would not be suicidal in the first place. Such statements only add to a troubled teen's feelings of hopelessness and worthlessness and reinforce their belief that no one understands them.

And by the same token, people talking with teens contemplating suicide should not attempt to analyze their behavior or try to shock or challenge them out of the idea. The danger here is that the teen may decide to accept the challenge.

'How do I look?'

Just for Mom: Four-year-old Susanne Lambert got more for lunch than food, at Hudson's recent Mother's Nature Day at Meadow Brook Hall in Rochester. Susanne was among 5,000 people to be entertained by magicians and listen to the St. Michael's School Choir from Toronto, Ont. While savoring her lunch, the Livonia youngster was crowned by one of the many clowns entertaining the crowd.

While most school districts have SAPs in place, the Livonia Public Schools have gone one step further. The district has decided to address the root of personal issues, most of which have their origins in childhood. The district has expanded the SAP with the creation of a SAFE (Student Assisted_Family Education) program in the elementary schools.

"As adults we realize that one . thing leads to another, but a third grader doesn't see that," Farrar said. "And a teacher might not be sensitive enough to see a problem that can go on and follow a child through life.

"I have a client who thought she was dumb, but she came from a family with a lot of problems. That image was set back when she was 7-8, now she's attending the University of Michigan."

For the students.

Bill Halvangis, one of the first

SAP coordinators in Livonia, has been providing that safe, comfortable place at Churchill High School in Livonia for six years. Like Farrar. he believes that it "is in the best. interest of the community that students come out of school whole and intact and it's best for the student in the long run."

Halvangis declines to take credit for the success stories that come out of Room G-40. He prefers to give credit where credit is due with the students. He says he is only doing his job, but what he does goes beyond the books, cassette tapes, computer and mismatched couches that clutter the room.

"I can't take ownership for what they do; that's theirs" he said. "What they (the students) do is pull it all together for themselves and that's a personal triumph for them. I prefer to turn it back on them as something they did."

starts when they walk through the doors of Churchill as freshman. Orientation programs introduce them to SAP, among other things. Timelimited groups (classes meeting for one hour a week for 10 weeks) deal with issues like divorce, grief and children of alcoholics, group credit classes bring students together for a specific issue but with leeway to explore and discover. Like Farrar, Halvangis shrugs off the idea of how many students have been stopped from committing suicide as a result of intervention through such school-based programs. As Farrat sees it, like any preventative method, there is no way to prove a negative. You just don't know how many students didn't commit suicide because of intervention.

"It's hard to know how many actions were prevented or stopped because you're talking about family development, but I suspect it's been a lot," Halvangis said.

Reaching out to the students. And even though there are plenty

Finding a haven

SOS became a haven for Mary, a place to express her anguish over and over until the pain hurt just a little less and she could carry on.

"I questioned myself, 'Why would he do this? I was there. I loved him." Mary said. "A lot of people put blame here and there. I don't do that. I tend to put all the blame on myself.

"It took awhile for me to realize it wasn't my fault. I raised four other children and they turned out all right. For whatever reason, it was his decision and it was nobody's

Two years had to pass before Mary came to that realization.

The other day Mary was with her husband, discussing their other sen's upcoming wedding. They began talking about their son who wouldn't be there.

"So here we are yesterday in a restaurant crying," she said. "Even six, years later, a special event brings that all out."

Mary still attends SOS meetings, mainly in the role of a co-leader. Instead of getting entangled in the whys and what ifs, now she said she just misses her son.

Sitting next to Mary, Barbara can't even fathom such a horizon. Her 16-year-old son, the youngest of three children, committed suicide on Oct. 22.

Volunteers honored

Some "warm and caring" people were the center of attention at the fourth annual Volunteer Recognition Dinner for Hospice Services of Western Wayne County Inc. May

Held at the Park Place in Dearborn, the dinner acknowledged the time and talents the volunteers donate to the agency.

Forty-six volunteers and staff members were at the dinner, which included a motivational presentation and staff fashion show. The honorees - who put the "heart" in hospice care — received certificates of appreciation as well as Hospice keepsakes.

Students from the metropolitan Detroit/Pontiac area who interested in attending Interlochen Arts Academy for the 1992-93 academic year can apply for a Skillman Foundation scholarship. Scholarships are awarded annually to minority youth from low-income families on the basis of outstanding academic performance. demonstrated by grades, attendance records, teacher/counselor recommendations and testing results.

"The Skillman Scholars Program nancial worries that usually go is a wonderful way for deserving students in any of the academic or arts areas at Interlochen," said Thomas Bewley, director of admissions for the Interlochen Center for the Arts.

"This program is truly a once-ina lifetime chance for these kids, added admissions counselor Camille Harris: "It allows them to excel in academics and the arts in a topnotch environment without the fialong with it."

The scholarships provide full tuition, room and board and travel expenses totaling $20,000 for awardees in academics or creative writing, visual arts, theater arts, dance or music, including voice.

Students are eligible if entering the school at the high school level for the first time or if they were Skillman Scholars in the preceding academic year. Scholarships are not

His music is his gift from God

By ARLENE FUNKE SPECIAL WRITER

Carey Landry uses music to speak heartfelt messages.

Landry, a composer of contemporary religious songs, will bring. his "gift of God" to local audiences this weekend. He will present a concert Friday at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plym-

"I believe (music) is the way that God reveals himself to me." said Landry, 47, who lives near Indianapolis. "Very simply, it is a gift of God."

Landry, a former Roman Catholic priest, has written many of the hymns used by churches and prayer groups. Two of his wellknown songs include "Abba! Father!" and "Peace Is Flowing Like a River."

The concert, at 7:30 p.m., will be at the church, 1160 Penniman in Plymouth. Tickets are $5 in advance or $6 at the door, and $15 per family.

Landry also will conduct a workshop 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at St. Maurice Church, 32765 Lyndon, Livonia. Advance registration, by noon Friday, is required. The workshop, which costs $4, is geared to music directors, teachers and worship commission members.

Sponsors of the two events are Our Lady of Good Counsel and St. Maurice Catholic churches.

Landry, who plays guitar, was at the forefront of the folk mass era so prevalent two decades ago. He began writing songs in the late 1960s while studying theology at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

"I have always been interested in music, Landry said.

One of his earliest songs, "The Spirit Is A Moving," became an anthem for people who embraced the changes in the Catholic, Church following the Vatican IL Conference in the early 1960s.

The song talks of "doors opening," as the Holy Spirit calls people to serve and bear witness to God's message.

"There was a new spirit in the church," Landry said.

"There is something extremelyprecious about each one," Landry said. "Every song initially has some sort of inspiration.'

Hope and spiritual healing are strong themes of "Peace Is Flowing Like a River." In "Abba! Father!," God is the "potter," molding his people, the "clay."

Landry's composition, "Hail Mary: Gentle Woman;" pays homage to a mother's abiding love, gentleness and wisdom.

"I had my own mother in mind when I wrote about Mary, the mother of Jesus," Landry said.

Although Landry left the priesthood in 1984, he continues through his music - to inspire and comfort. He has traveled throughout North America, Europe and Australia, performing and leading music workshops.

With his wife, Carol Jean Kinghorn, Landry has created a music ministry geared to young children and teens.

"Music can be a powerful inspiration," Landry said. "The text, the words and music combine to reach people in a way that often the spoken words cannot. You can speak to a lot of people at the same time. Even the instrumentals without words provide a background for prayer.'

Friday's concert will encourage audience participation, said Joe Podorsek of Livonia, director of the contemporary choir at. St. Maurice, to be featured in the

His music is his gift from God

By Arlene Funks Special Writer

Carey Landry uses music to speak heartfelt messages.

Landry, a composer of contemporary religious songs, will bring his "gift of God" to local audiences this weekend. He will present a concert Friday at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Plymouth.

"I believe (music) is the way that God reveals kimself to me?" said Landry, 47, who lives near Indianapolis. "Very simply, it is a gift of God."

Landry, a former Roman Catholic priest, has written many of the hymns used by churches and prayer groups. Two of his well-known songs include "Abba! Father!" and "Peace Is Flowing Like a River."

The concert, at 7:30 p.m., will be at the church, 1160 Penniman in Plymouth. Tickets are $5 in advance or $6 at the door, and $15 per family.

Landry also will conduct a workshop 9 a.m. to noon Saturday at St. Maurice Church, 32765 Lyndon, Livonia. Advance registration, by noon Friday, is required. The workshop, which costs $4, is geared to music directors, teachers and worship commission members.

Sponsors of the two events are Our Lady of Good Counsel and St. Maurice Catholic churches.

Landry, who plays guitar, was at the forefront of the folk mass era so prevalent two decades ago. He began writing songs in the late 1960s while studying theology at Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

"I have always been interested in music," Landry said.

One of his earliest songs, "The Spirit Is A-Moving," became an anthem for people who embraced the changes in the Catholic Church following the Vatican II Conference in the early 1960s.

The song talks of "doors opening," as the Holy Spirit calls people to serve and bear witness to God's message.

"There was a new spirit in the church," Landry said.

Landry, who was subsequently

"There is something extremely precious about each one," Landry said. "Every song initially has some sort of inspiration."

Hope and spiritual healing are strong themes of "Peace Is Flowing Like a River." In "Abba! Father!," God is the "potter," molding his people, the "clay."

Landry's composition, "Hail Mary; Gentle Woman," pays homage to a mother's abiding love, gentleness and wisdom.

"I had my own mother in mind when I wrote about Mary, the mother of Jesus," Landry said.

Although Landry left the priesthood in 1984, he continues through his music — to inspire and comfort. He has traveled throughout North America, Europe and Australia, performing and leading music workshops.

With his wife, Carol Jean Kinghorn, Landry has created a music ministry geared to young children and teens.

"Music can be a powerful inspiration," Landry said. "The text, the words and music combine to reach people in a way that often the spoken words cannot. You can speak to a lot of people at the same time. Even the instrumentals without words provide a background for prayer."

Friday's concert will encourage audience participation, said Joe Podorsek of Livonia, director of the contemporary choir at St. Maurice, to be featured in the concert.

"It's a really neat spiritual experience - something they will

The Saturday workshop isgeared to helping choir directors, teachers, prayer groups and song leaders use music more effectively to draw in the audience.

In addition to the guitar, Landry blends other instrumentation, including flute, keyboard and synthesizers, along with singing.

According to Landry, many older Catholics weren't accustomed, until recently, to singing hymns. Music ministers can learn tech-

Meadow flowers brighten landscape

wers were late blooming this year because of the cold temperatures experienced this spring. But now, even they are nearing the end of their blooming season. Trillium are turning laven-

TIMOTHY der, while hepatica and skunk cabbage finished blooming a long time ago. And May apple's short blooming season will soon end.

But those who like to watch flowers should not despair, because when the woodland flowers stop blooming, the meadow flowers begin their display.

Pussytoes are one of the firstmeadow flowers to bloom. The short white clustered blooms resemble the toes of a cat's paw. They also excrete a chemical which prevents other plants from growing too close. Many may pass by this flower because it is not very conspicuous.

In late spring and early-summer, however, a very conspicuous meadow wildflower known as hawkweed blooms. This wildflower - introduced from Europe - has very tall stems emerging from a rosette, or patches of this plant and they cluster of leaves at the base. Some stems may tower up to 2-feet tall. Set on top of the hairy stem is a cluster of daisy-like flowers.

Flowers may be either yellow or orange-red. Sometimes both colors grow together in the same field. Although hawkweed produces a seed on a fluffy "parachute" which can be transported by the wind to suitable soil, it also spreads by underground roots or rhizomes. Spreading by underground rhizomes can produce a dense patch of plants whose leaves block out sunlight and prevent any other plants from growing. Since cattle do not eat the plant, cattlemen call this plant devil's paintbrush.

Years ago it was brought to this country to help cure eye ailments. People would see hawks dive into thought it was drinking the sap from this plant to help improve its eyesight. Actually the hawk was catching mice not drinking the sap. But because hawks have good eyesight, early healers used it to cure human eye problems.

As you drive along highways and pass by areas disturbed by construction, look for patches of the yellow and orange hawkweed, they really brighten up the landscare.

Accent's on fine art at Liberty Fest fair

olor it red, white and blue - the hues of Old Glory on the event's promotional T-shirts. But Canton's first-ever Liberty Fest Fine Arts Show, Saturday-Sunday, June 27-28, will boast a palette of other shades, too.

The accent will be on original Michigan fine art in a potpourri of media: oils, watercolors, acrylics, marbling, jewelry, pastels, photography, clay.

The art show is part of Liberty Fest '92, a brandnew community festival June 26-28 on the grounds of Heritage Park, a newly enlarged, 105-acre recreation complex at 1150 S. Canton Center Road.

Crafts will be sold at the festival but separate from the art show. "Canton has held typical arts and crafts shows before. With this the first year for the festival, we wanted to have an arts event with a little different angle," said Bob Dates, Canton recreation supervi-

Make no mistake: The fine art should measure up, even to the most studied eye. The 50 exhibitors will include top local artists like Jim DeArmond of Plymouth, Sue Argiroff of Livonia, Norma McQueen of Garden City, Sherrie Moore of Canton, Bladen McClelland of Redford Township and Hugh Burley of Ann Arbor.

Co-jurors Sharon Dillenbeck of D & M Art Studios in Plymouth and Julie Giordano of J. Giordano Studie in Northville also will display their work. When jurying, they'll pay special attention to quality.

"I don't want any junk. I want the quality to be very high," says Dillenbeck, a professional artist for 15 years. "I hope everybody realizes we have fine artists close to home. We're going to put Canton on the fine arts map.'

Committed to the arts

A Canton resident, Dillenbeck isn't content with drawing township residents to her studio in Plymouth's Old Village. In cooperation with the Canton Parks and Recreation Department, she has developed township-based fine arts programs for kids and seniors.

In wake of the depressed economy and the bitter controversy over state arts funding, Dillenbeck and Giordano teamed up to organize last fall's very successful Holiday Gallery Tour in Plymouth and Northville.

Dillenbeck anticipates more than 50 artists will pass muster for a booth in one of the two lighted, 36space tents at the Liberty Fest Fine Arts Show.

Artwork will range in price from $5 for an unframed reproduction to $500 up for a framed original. "Artists will be invited to demonstrate their talents in a setting offering a pond or classic cars as a backdrop," Dillenbeck said. "It'll be a real creative environment."

Advanced art students of Dillenbeck and Giordano . will serve up face-painting. "They're teenage studio artists who'll receive a quick lesson in how to facepaint," Dillenbeck said.

"It'a way not only for them to make some money but also do something creative as an artist," Giordano added.

Red carpet treatment

The $50 booth fee includes a hospitality area for artists. It also includes hostesses who will fill in for artists on break.

"We're really going all out. We're going to treat 'em right," said Dillenbeck, who does portraiture and creates realistic impressionism in pencil, watercolor and

Their hope is to "give fine artists an inexpensive opportunity to show their wares and one more place to market their work where the overhead isn't too high," said Glordano, who works in the same media as Dillenbeck.

In her booth at the show, Glordano, a professional artist for eight years, will showcase her portraiture as well as her drawings of antique cars, homes and pets.

The $5 jurying fee is purposely low, she said, because "we're just trying to get the show off the ground. We'll recoup our promotional costs, but we don't expect any profit."

A victim of the recession, Glordano closed her twoyear old Northville gallery of Michigan fine art last fall after lease problems and a 30-percent drop in

She calls the Liberty Fest Fine Arts Show a good way to fight the economic downturn.

"Economic times are tough for artists," she said, "It's been a terrible time for most of the artists I've talked to. So we have to do all we can to get our work out there. We can't just sit back and wait for people to come to us."

Lyricism and light playing on the handwoven basketry by Westland artisan Scott Smith draw the viewer across the gallery.

The baskets' sensual curves and contemporary color class these weaving wonders with sculpture as the eye is magnetically drawn through and around the forms.

Crafted from traditional fibers, Smith incorporates handmade paper and burlap into the weaving to decorate the 15 functional baskets on exhibit, with California ceramicist Chris Waldear's plates and bowls, through June 15 at Penniman Showcase of Art and Crafts, 827 Penniman, Plymouth.

"They're all functional, You can use everything I make and they can be cus-

Once woven, Smith paints the baskets with latex house paint in poetic pastels with an emphasis on pink, teal, raspherry, peach, tangerine, aqua, blue and a Southwestern palette of sand col-

The museum's archives boast such resources as, cemetery records, pioneer records, letters, scrapbooks, atlases, maps and displays, she said. To maximize resources and control costs, public libraries and historical societies should work together and not compete, she said.

# PERSONAL THEME

Canton artist Sharon Dillenbeck, owner of D & M Art Studios in Plymouth, will showcase 33 of the paintings in her "The Child and Her Environment" series Aug. 28 to Oct. 31 in the Harvest Room at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

"I have two small kids and my life is wrapped around my children. That comes out on canvas or paper," says Dillenbeck, a professional artist for 15 years who creates realistic impressionism in pencil, watercolor and oil. She also does portraiture.

The series is patterned after her kids in action in everyday situations.

Ford bought the three-story mill in 1918 to manufacture stencils for marking car parts. The county acquired it in 1948. In 1958, it became Nankin Mills Naturé Center under naturalist Mary Ellsworth. In 1967 Nt was designated a historic site. In 1979, the nature center closed after budget cuts in the . parks department.

Necklaces featured

This is the first art show where Cheryl Tash of Westland and Tony Hernandez of Dearborn Heights will exhibit their colorful clay bead necklaces. Tash got the idea for the beads after visiting San Francisco earlier this year.

"There was a fellow there making and selling them. We just wanted to make necklaces for ourselves and started experimenting with the clay beads. Our friends saw the necklaces and asked us to make them and we just ran with it,' Tash said. "We're still exploring all we can do with it."

Tash, an art student at School-Craft Community College in Livonia, plans to continue her studies in art therapy at Wayne State University. She hopes to eventually work with abused children.

Hernandez, a senior at Dearborn Crestwood High School, will attend the University of Michigan in fall to prepare for an advertising career.

"I like the colors a lot. I like to be creative with them," Hernandez

"I think colors have a lot to do with mood. We've also got glow in the dark ones," Tash said.

Add zest to your summer reading

Here comes summer and with it a slew of bright and shiny books, newly published just for you, Here are a half dezen of the best bets to top off your finest summer days:

• "Loves Music, Loves to Dance," by Mary Higgins Clark

(304 pp., Pocket Books, $5.99). in the world, but she's a crack stowhodunit about some attractive people who get themselves into some very ugly trouble when they respond to Personals ads. Clark's ninth work of fiction was atop The New York Times bestseller list for many weeks after its release last vear in hardcover. (pb)

• "Marilyn and Me," by Susan Strasberg (282 pp., Warner Books, $21.95). A fast-moving, highly readable account of the friendship and rivalry between Marilyn Monroe and actress Strasberg, daughter of Actors Studio director Lee Strasberg. During the '50s, Monroe came to live with the Strasberg family in New York City, sharing a room with the young actress at nights and studying with and "leaning on" Lee Strasberg much of the rest of the time. The author paints a picture of Monroe that's a bit different from previous portraits we've seen. Not it a slew of bright and shiny books, newly published" just for you. Here are a half-dozen of the best bets to top off your finest summer days:

• "Loves Music, Loves to Dance," by Mary Higgins Clark

(304 pp., Pocket Books, $5.99). Clark may not be the finest writer. in the world, but she's a crack storyteller, as evidenced in this zippy whodunit about some attractive people- who get themselves into some very ugly trouble when they respond to Personals ads. Clark's ninth work of fiction was atop The New York Times bestseller list for many weeks after its release last year in hardcover. (pb)

• "Marilyn and Me," by Susan Strasberg (282 pp., Warner Books, $21.95). A fast-moving, highly readable account of the friendship and rivalry between Marilyn Monroe and actress Strasberg, daughter of Actors Studio director Lee Strasberg. During the '50s, Monroe came to live with the Strasberg family in New York City, sharing a room with the young actress at nights and Strasberg much of the rest of the time. The author paints a picture of Monroe that's a bit different from previous portraits we've seen. Not Here comes surprisingly in these memoirs, novel have been sold to Universal summer and with Strasberg reveals quite a bit about herself as well.

> • "Private "Lies," by Warren can overtook lines like. "He felt a firing up the passion and posses. soul," reading this sizzling novel about deception and recaptured love among two affluent, middleaged couples could make for an interesting summer afternoon. Set partially in East Africa, "Private Lies's may remind readers a bit of Hemingway's "The Short, Happy Life of Francis Macomber," although Adler is no Hemingway.

• "Stardust, 7-Eleven, Route 57, A & W, and So Forth," by Patricia Lear (161 pp., Knopf, $19). Though the title is long, the stories are short in this collection by first-time author Lear. But though short, their impressions are longlasting. Told in a kind of down-home, conversational style, most are set among the cottonwood trees, Dairy Queens and faux antebellum architecture of the new South, where the characters delight in barbecue sandwiches and Razorback ice_cream and the dogs have wonderful names like Stardust, 7-Eleven, Route 57, A & W and so forth. The final story in the collection. "Powwow," received the studying with and "leaning on" Lee Q. Henry Award for short fiction in Adler (336 pp., Avon, $4.99). If you may get a little syrupy toward its conclusion, but I don't care. Anyblast of heat from that old furnace, body who can perform the magic that Hoffman performs here with sion that had inflamed his youthful, words, anybody who can so often express the inexpressible, is a master. If you believe that we live among miracles, this book is something you absolutely must not miss.

> · Biblioholism: The Literary Addiction," by Tom Raabe (179 pp., Fulcrum Publishing, $8.95). Those of us who suffer from this malady (here defined as "the habitual longing to purchase, read, store, admire and consume books in excess") will find solace in this little tome, plus lots of laughs. But though its final chapter is titled "The Cure," I can personally attest to the fact that reading it will not help advanced

Architects toasted, roasted at Cranbrook

■ Architects honored their own Saturday at Cranbrook and listened to speaker Brendan Gill chastise the profession for pandering to pedestrian tastes.

By Dale Northup Special Writer

What could be a better setting for an architectural awards ceremony than Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills? This educational community originally gave. rise to such design luminaries as the Saarinen family: Eliel, Eero, and Loja; Charles and Ray Eames; Florence Knoll; and Harry Weese, all of whom were responsible for shaping the built environment with which we are familiar today. Their creative enterprise continues to serve as a source of inspiration for the designers of tomorrow.

Eliel Saarinen once said, "Always design a thing by considering it in its next larger context - a chair in a room, a room in a house, a house in an environment, environment in a city plan." So it only seems appropriate that the Detroit lic of all art forms. Rather than handing edict for good design with an awards presentation at Cranbrook on Saturday.

The event dovetailed with the 60th anniversary of the founding of Cranbrook by Detroit newspaper publisher George G. Booth. Birmingham architect Robert Ziegelman, president of AIA Detroit, acknowledged that the primary objective of the awards is to focus public attention on the value of excellence in architecture, which is the most pub-

Basements: knock on wood

By GERALD FRAWLEY STAFF WRITER

Houses are made of wood, and basements are poured concrete and concrete block - that's just the way it is in Michigan.

Well, sometimes.

In recent years, Michigan builders have been experimenting with different types of construction materials, and now a Farmington Hills builder is offering permanent wood foundations.

That's right, wood. You know, the stuff that rots, gets eaten by bugs and generally falls apart. Michigan weather would eat it up and spit it out walls. like a wad of bubble gum on a little league baseball diamond.

Wrong.

Joseph Blostic, president of B. J. Enterprises in Farmington Hills, is building a house with a permanent wood foundation outside of Ann Arbor.

Blostic said he doesn't normally build wood foundation houses - in fact, this is the first and he lan't certain the demand for them will grow in coming years.

A permanent wood foundation is a load-bearing. lumber-framed wall framed with 2-X-6s or 2-X-8s that's sheathed with plywood. It sits on a concrete footing or a bed of gravel or crushed stone. It is constructed much like the standard stud wall.

But there are differences, the most significant. being the need to realst backfill and exterior water blocking techniques are critical.

Wood foundations are also specially treated - crete prices, the two would cost about the same. wood treated for use as an outdoor deck is not guitable for a wood, foundation.

There are some advantages to homes with wood foundation, he said.

"For one, it's dryer," he said. Anyone who has every been in a home with a poured cement or concrete block basement can easily attest to the fact that there is a certain amount of moisture in the air, he said.

A wood foundation is also warmer and insulat-

The real plus for homeowners, he said, is the ease of finishing - both on the interior, and in the case of a walkout basement, on the exterior

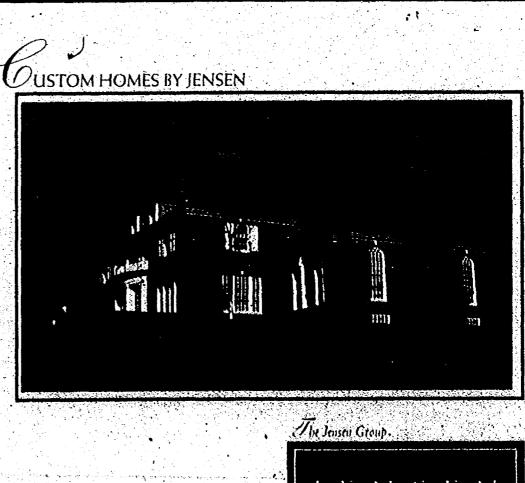

Installing drywall, paneling or other wall coverings is a fairly straightforward job and can be done by the homeowner. "A hammer, some nails, and that's about it."

Installing over concrete walls or cement blocks requires drilling and anchoring and is much more difficult, he said.

Blostic said in addition to the home he is currently building, a second client is considering a wood foundations"People do ask about it, but we don't suggest it on a regular basis."

The drawback to the wood foundation, he said, is it's more difficult for the builder to install and is slightly more costly - at least it was for the first basement he built.

Bloatic said with experience, the cost of installpressure. For that reason, proper fastening and ing a wood foundation would probably fall. As. suming lumber prices remaincomparable to con-

Interiors honored

. Interior architecture awards were presented to Kenneth Neumann/ Joel Smith and Associates for the corporate offices of Great Lakes Gas Transmission, and to Harley, Ellington, Pierce and Yee Associates for a private family chapel in the Midwest. This is the first year that AIA Detroit has conferred awards in the area of interior architecture.

The 25-year award was based on a building that was handsomely built and reflects the formalist style of the 1960s. The jurors admired the simplicity of the plan and the dynamic roof forms. Also takingsimplicity into mind, the jurors gave an honor award to the Chester Street parking structure in Bir-

More noteworthy are the tinted glass cylindrical pavilions housing the stairwells that could be compared to architectural sculpture when lighted at night. The two interior architecture awards were based on timeless qualities and the use of finely crafted materials. These qualities also serve to reinforce the fact that good design can last a very long time.

The honor awards jury was chaired by Portland, Ore., architect Robert Frasca together with two other Portland architects, Robert Thompson and Tom Hacker. Fras-

Gill lashes out

The highlight of the activities at Cranbrook was a talk by keynote speaker Brendan Gil, New Yorker magazine columnist, who discussed the "Disneyization in Architecture." His talk was a rallying cry against the ills that exist in our society, particularly the built environment. ## Weather blamed for housing slip

AP - The housing recovery stalled in April as construction suffered its steepest decline in eight years after helping lead the stillyoung economic revival.

porary setback due to abnormal weather and higher mortgage rates.

The Commerce Department said housing starts plunged 17 percent from the month before to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.12 million units. The drop was the largest since construction fell 26 percent in March 1984.

Most analysts still are forecasting an increase in new single-family homes and apartments this year, but they say the pace of the housing recovery will be far slower than those following previous recessions.

Kent Colton, executive vice president of the National Association of Home Builders, forecast 1.28 million starts this year, up 27 percent from 1991. Starts jumped 70 percent during the year after the 1981-

82 recession, he said. Nobody is anticipating the kind of surge in activity in the course of 1992 that we saw in 1983 when the numbers took off like a rocket,' said Richard Peach, an economist with the Mortgage Bankers Associ-

Analysis had expected a slight drop in construction in April after four sizeable monthly advances, including a 6.9 percent gain in March. But the depth of the fall was unexpected.

Housing construction increased. · 15.8 percent during the first quar-Analysts suggested it was a tem ter, leading the overall economy to a 2 percent annual rate of growth.

The decline in housing starts, the first since September, was widespread. Construction was off 30.5 percent in the Midwest to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 242,000 units.

Starts were down 16.7 percent to a 265,000 rate in the West and 10.7 percent to a 482,000 rate in the South. They fell 8.7 percent in the Northeast, to a 126,000 rate.

Nationally, construction of single-family houses fell 10.6 percent to a 963,000 rate after slipping 2.9 percent a month earlier. It was the, largest since a 13 percent decrease in January 1991.

Analysts said unseasonably warm weather in January and February apparently prompted builders to begin construction then that they otherwise would not have undertak en until spring.

They also noted that Congress was considering a tax credit for some first-time home buyers, leading many builders to boost construction in anticipation of increased demand. The credit was not enacted.
