Teachers have tentative pact

Details of the tentative agreement weren't disclosed, but the administration said that the teachers' union pay raises will be within the "parameters" of the board's offer of 3 percent this year and 5 percent next year.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A tentative contract settlement has been reached by Wayne-Westland teacher union leaders and school officials, virtually erasing fears of a strike.

Bargaining teams have refused to divulge details until today, when the proposed pact will be made public after it's revealed to the school board during a special closed session.

But the school administration has confirmed that the tentative agreement comes within the "parameters" of the board's latest proposal, which offered teachers a 3-percent salary increase this year and a 5-percent raise next year.

The agreement was reached about midnight Thursday, after a long day of talks.

Copies of the tentative agreement will be submitted Wednesday to the 999 members of the Wayne-Westland Education Association, union president William Reece said Friday. The union has called a meeting Wednesday to answer questions.

The teachers union is expected to ratify the contract during a meeting next Monday, Sept. 28, — the same day the board is expected to approve the pact during a business session.

The sudden breakthrough in negotiations came after union leaders had earlier scoffed at the proposed raises of 3 percent this year and 5 percent next.

Robert Kowalczyk, the WWEA's executive director, had earlier called the offer "unacceptable." Union leaders had demanded an 8-percent raise this year, alone.

Reece, when asked what swayed union leaders, said Friday, "We have no comment at this time."

Rape trial ordered

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A 28-year-old Inkster man charged with twice raping a 31-year-old Westland woman has been ordered to stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

The ruling against Rodney Jerome Robinson came after testimony that implicated him in the rape of a Birchwood Street woman emerged Friday during a hearing in Westland's 18th District Court.

The hearing came one week after Robinson appeared in district court amid charges he also raped a 33-year-old Westchester Street woman. He has been ordered to stand trial for that rape, too.

Robinson has been accused of raping the two women during the last 11 months. The Birchwood woman reported she was raped on Oct. 1, 1991, and on May 12, and the Westchester woman on June 22.

Woman with CP peddles to world record

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

To win a gold medal on the Barcelona Olympic track would have been enough. But to set a world record?

Erika Benjamin, a 27-year-old Westland resident with cerebral palsy, did both during the Paralympics, an event for disabled people, in Barcelona, Spain.

She completed the 5,000-meter bicycle race in 8 minutes and 38 seconds, demolishing the prior world record of 9 minutes and 48 seconds.

Benjamin, who works as a dish washer at Douglas Food Service in Garden City, talked about her Olympic achievement Thursday, one day after returning from Barcelona.

"I was shocked after the race," the John Glenn High School graduate said in an interview outside her Westland apartment. "I couldn't believe it when they told me that I broke the world record."

But she did, by a full minute and 10 seconds. She was so overcome with emotion that she cried on the spot.

■ 'I was shocked after the race. I couldn't believe it when they told me that I broke the world record.'

Erika Benjamin

"Wouldn't you?" she asked.

Never mind that her victory didn't come with a cash award.

"This is all I need," she said, holding the gold medal. "It was a big moment in my life."

Benjamin wanted to thank her friends, such as Dave Gordon, and her coaches — John Mills, John Waterman and Maureen Finch — who have helped her attain her dream.

Some of her helpers had predicted she would set a world record, she said, then added with a giggle, "They didn't know I was going to demolish it."

Mills said he's proud of Benjamin.

"She's super. She is so dedicated, and she has devoted so much of her life to her training," he said. "She works hard. She has found her niche, which she has been looking for for a long time."

Early on, Benjamin had been involved in track and field, but a knee injury erased her hopes of pursuing that sport. She turned to cycling, and she now refers to her bright red, 12-speed bike as "my baby."

In Barcelona, Benjamin competed against cyclists from the United States, Canada, Spain and Korea in the Paralympics, held every four years in conjunction with the Olympics.

Even before Barcelona, Benjamin had already become the U.S. champion at 3,000 meters.

After setting the world record, Benjamin said she spent the evening with friends. They had dinner and talked about the day's events. Two people she knows also competed in the games.

Study group takes a hard look at metal videos

BY LEONARD POGER
EDITOR

Eight adults, mostly professionals over 40, watched nearly an hour of heavy and death metal videos at the city of Westland's cable-TV studio Wednesday night.

With a handful of others in the audience, the newly formed ad hoc study committee, holding its first session, had its first viewing of the metal bands doing their thing.

Clearly, the committee which includes three city council members, three attorneys and a district court judge, isn't the targeted market audience for the program, first seen on the city's Public Access Channel 18 in late July.

After watching the tapes, the committee heard opinions from several people in the audience, including Maurice Ste-

For parade fans

Parade-watchers won't have to wait for the annual Michigan Thanksgiving Day parade to enjoy high school bands, cheerleaders and decorated floats. One parade is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 4, with two planned for Friday, Oct. 9.

The first will be at 10 a.m. by the Westland Youth Athletic Association's Meteors Football Boosters Club for its season opening. The parade will start from the Venoy-Palmer intersection, move west on Palmer to Wildwood and south to Wayne Memorial High School's football field.

On Oct. 9, Lutheran High School Westland will start its parade at 6 p.m. from Farmington Road and Cowan, proceeding a short distance to the school's field. Thirty minutes later, John Glenn High School will hold its annual homecoming parade, starting at 6:30 p.m., at the Kmart parking lot, Wayne Road and Cherry Hill, proceeding north to Marquette and west to the school's field.

PLACES & FACES

TV football

Football fans don't have to wait for the Detroit Lions, Michigan State University, or the University of Michigan to be on TV to watch their favorite sport on the tube. Continental Cablevision has announced its schedule for high school football game coverage. The games will be seen on Channel 11 for cable subscribers. This Friday's John Glenn-Stevenson game will be shown on Sept. 28 and Sept. 30. The John Glenn-North Farmington game of Oct. 9 will be shown Oct. 12 and Oct. 14. The cross-town rivalry between Wayne Memorial and John Glenn will be taped Oct. 30 and aired Nov. 2 and 4. Continental said it will cover local schools that advance to the state playoffs.

Restaurant planned

Westland Center, which has seen several of its tenants close or relocate within the center, will soon get a new restaurant-tavern. The City Council is being asked at tonight's business meeting to approve a liquor-by-the-glass license for Jonathan B. Pub. Barring any problems, the business will be located in what was formerly the Big Boy restaurant. In other shopping news, Glamour Shots, a high-fashion photography studio, is ready to open soon in the Kohl's court.

Benjamin said she also made some new friends in Barcelona, where she spent 2½ weeks.

"I didn't want to come back," she said.

Though her life may be returning to normal now, Benjamin never loses sight of the next challenge. She'd like to return to the next Paralympics.

Who knows? She might even break her own world record.

Regardless of the settlement, the salary increase will come on top of a 2-percent raise that teachers already received this year. That increase had been negotiated and approved in February, 1991.

Teacher union leaders, however, had tried to distance themselves from the 2-percent increase, saying it shouldn't be considered during the latest contract talks.

Some school board members disagreed.

"It's there, and it's new money this year, no matter how you cut it," board member Fred Warmbier said Friday.

School board president Leonard Posey last week stressed that the board had refused to budge on its latest offer. Under that plan, teachers who have a master's degree and who are at the top of the salary schedule would be earning $55,395 by the end of the contract.

Superintendent Larry Thomas also had insisted on a nine-point educational improvement plan calling for smoke-free schools, more elementary parent-teacher conferences and an additional work day for teachers, among other measures. Those proposals remain intact in the tentative agreement.

In reaching an agreement Thursday night, it appears the WWEA leaders had received at least some pressure from the union ranks to settle with school officials. School board member Vicki Welty said she knew of several teachers who had approached their building-level union representatives to show support for the contract offer.

Welty commended teachers for staying on the job and behaving as professionals while contract talks continued past the initial Aug. 10 deadline.

"There has been no tension in this district," Welty said.

Although the school board isn't expected to receive specific details of the contract offer until today, some members have already indicated they won't support it.

"I didn't agree with the parameters to begin with, and I didn't like the rush-rush job," Warmbier said of the contract talks.

Teachers and administrators have "gone way off the bandwagon" on salary increases, far outpacing the private sector, Warmbier said.

Moreover, Warmbier said, teacher salaries have increased dramatically while progress has remained elusive in trying to boost student scores on state achievement tests.

A majority of the seven board members would have to support the contract for it to be approved. At least four members had shown support for the board's latest offer.

Both women have testified that they were raped after someone broke into their homes, near Palmer and Henry Ruff roads, between 4 a.m. and 6 a.m.

Sgt. Mark Stobbe has testified that Robinson made statements about the Birchwood rapes in jail, after the defendant was arrested and arraigned in the Westchester rape.

Robinson faces seven counts of first-degree criminal sexual conduct and three counts of breaking and entering. Pleas of not guilty have been entered on his behalf.

He remains jailed on a $50,000 cash bond and could face up to life in prison if convicted.

The Birchwood Street woman testified Friday that she was twice raped when a man broke into her house, covered her face with a quilt and forced her to engage in oral sex and intercourse.

Like the other woman, she testified that she couldn't identify Robinson, who police said was arrested after he was seen prowling around the Birchwood residence a third time.

He was linked to the Westchester rape after his fingerprints were found at that house, police have said. The Westchester woman's 11-year-old daughter was in the darkened room during that rape, and stood quietly in a corner.

Both women have testified that they were asleep when an intruder came into their houses.

"It's been a long time coming," the Birchwood street woman said Friday, after Robinson was bound over for trial. "I was expecting him to be bound over."

The first time she was raped, the attacker entered a side door that had been left ajar, she said. The second time, the intruder came through a sliding glass door after he managed to unhinge a wooden stick protecting the door.

Robinson is scheduled to be arraigned Thursday in Recorder's Court on the Westchester case. He is expected to be arraigned a week later in the Birchwood attack.

bila, whose complaint to the city council last month prompted the council to form the panel. The committee will study the need of setting community standards for the access channel.

Most people said they had no problem with the disputed segment.

Stebila told the cable committee Wednesday that he objects only to a short segment of the video tapes because, among other things, it showed Christ wearing a gas mask while being crucified.

He said he hopes that the council committee can set standards for the community so that something obscene will not be shown on the access channel.

He noted that even MTV, a cable channel that specializes in videos for young adults and teens, blacks out or deletes objectionable material in its programming.

The city's current requirements for public access programming and content cover four pages. On the issue raised by Stebila, the policy prohibits "offensive material that has been held to be obscene by a court of competent jurisdiction or community standards" and "material that is slanderous and libelous."

In the audience for the committee's first meeting was the Rev. Neil Cowling, pastor of Kirk Our Savior Presbyterian Church, who commented that he found the video "boring," noting that his musical tastes run to WQRS-FM, a 24-hour classical musical radio station.

The crucifixion scene "didn't particularly bother me," Cowling said, but admitted that it may bother others.

On the video showing the Scum Dogs band, Cowling said he didn't know whether to be "repulsed or to laugh."

Anatol Zolkewsky told the committee that he felt the one-hour video tape "was tame and saw nothing controversial." But he hopes that the committee will develop community standards that aren't too long or detailed.

Paul Phelps, program director for Plymouth-Salem High school radio station, said the city should follow Federal Communications Commission guidelines which are applied to radio programming.

Phelps added that he felt there was nothing demonic or obscene in the lyrics in dispute. But he added it would be good to have guidelines.

Another resident said he feels the video was "repulsive" but the lyrics do make sense. He urged the committee to avoid getting involved in censorship, citing the free speech provisions in the U.S. Constitution.

Committee chairman Angela Plakas, who is also the city of Westland attorney, projected that the panel will take two to three months to review the issue raised by Stebila, receive written comments from interested people and court opinions and then make a recommendation to the city council.

Then, he said, the council may hold a public hearing to allow residents to make their case directly to the decision makers.

Others on the committee are council members Kenneth Mehl, a General Motors engineer, Sandra Cicirelli, an attorney in private practice, and Glenn Anderson, a real estate salesman; District Judge Gail McKnight, Jo Johnson, chairwoman of the city's cable communications commission, and Diane Abbott, the city's cable-TV contractor who oversees the access channel.

Plakas said the committee will probably meet every three weeks. Future meeting notices will be available through the city clerk's office in city Hall.

Veterans keep memory alive for POWs, MIAs

Westland veteran and civic leaders made sure Friday afternoon that the community doesn't forget the American servicemen who remain listed as prisoners of war or missing in action.

The Westland chapter of the Vietnam Veterans of America and VFW Post 9885, joined by other military units, co- sponsored the annual ceremony held at the Westland Vietnam War Memorial, on the east side of Westland City Hall.

The ceremony was part of a national recognition program with the Vietnam Veterans of America planning the proceedings.

Michael Russell, an aide to U.S. Rep. William Ford, D-Ypsilanti Township, relayed comments from the congressman which were read into the Congressional Record earlier in the week.

"Families of our missing men carry the heaviest burden of all those families who suffered the loss of a loved one in war — the burden of never knowing what became of their son, husband or father," said Russell, speaking for Ford.

The statement from Ford, who has represented Westland since he was elected to the House in late 1964, stressed that national attention for the POW/MIA issue "has been too long in coming."

There are still 2,300 Americans who served in Vietnam unaccounted for, Ford's statement said.

Ford promised he would continue to "work toward the fullest possible accounting of American POW/MIAs," and added that he is a cosponsor of three bills which deal with that problem.

"While we may never be able to learn the fate of every missing American, we must keep the memory of those missing men alive," he said in his Congressional Record statement.

During the annual ceremony, a special poem was recited for Staff Sgt. Tom Teran, a Wayne Memorial High School graduate who joined the Army and was reported missing in action 22 years ago.

Also taking part were VFW and auxiliary members as well as state Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, and Mayor Robert Thomas.

District retains Reading Recovery program

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Livonia school district officials gave top grades Monday to a new, costly, one-on-one program that boosts the reading skills of at-risk, struggling first graders.

"People are sometimes suspicious of new programs, but I wholeheartedly support this," said trustee Pat Sari. "The basic reason students drop out of school is because they can't read. If they can't read, they can't do anything in this world. It's the most important job we have, teaching kids to read."

Accolades from the trustees, whose district serves the northern section of Westland, for the Reading Recovery program buoyed elementary personnel who recently came under fire for another pioneering early intervention program launched last year, Student Assistance/Family Education (SAFE).

Much of the trustees' criticism of SAFE involved the philosophical issue of whether the district can afford to fully fund the $1.6 million program during a time of budget cuts.

But the trustees voiced no such doubts Monday about the $445,000 spent last year to put Reading Recovery programs in 16 schools and the $663,000 it will spend this year to have the program in 21 elementaries (Webster excluded).

Even Ken Timmons, the most vocal critic of SAFE, praised the program.

"One-on-one instruction is terribly expensive, but it's money well spent," Timmons said. "We have some way we can measure the success of the program. That's not true with SAFE."

In launching the program last year, Superintendent Joe Marinelli said district officials "took a plunge into something new on behalf of kids."

"They took a bold move at a time when we were cutting funds," Marinelli said. "They know that if kids fall behind in reading, it has a negative impact on their entire school career. The costs we'll avoid down the road has to be factored into today's up-front costs."

The program, which replaced Reading Readiness, is strictly for the worse readers in the first grade.

"It helps those least able to turn their academic life around," said Kent Gage, director of elementary education. "It builds the literacy skills of the lowest 20 percent of the first grade population."

Last year, the program served 101 youngsters. By next June, another 150 youngsters will have spent a half hour daily for 14-16 weeks with a specially trained teacher, Gage said.

The one Reading Recovery teacher at each school can only help four students daily. As the children gain the required reading skills, they are replaced by another student for the one-on-one instruction.

The program is based on the assumption that intensive, high quality help during the early years of schooling is one of the best ways a district can spend money.

The program's founders believe that good readers and good writers develop early; they believe that the longer a child fails in reading, the harder remediation becomes.

Learning Recovery teachers build on each child's strengths.

"The kids learn to build on their successes," said trustee Sue Thompson.

Added Timmons: "Self-esteem only comes after success."

The district's specially trained teachers are now training teachers for programs in Howell, Allen Park and Dearborn. The district has one-half of all Reading Recovery teachers in the state.

"I don't see how this program can do anything but help kids in a tremendous fashion," said trustee James Watters.

Reading Recovery teachers spend part of their day with the first graders and the rest of the day working as a learning specialist.

Man jailed for bond violation

BY DARRELL CLEM

■ Richard Charles Quimby, 34, was jailed Thursday after he appeared in 18th District Court amid allegations he violated his bond by returning to the apartment where the alleged incident occurred. He had been ordered to stay away.

A Westland man accused of showing X-rated movies to two 11-year-old girls and masturbating in front of them has been jailed for a bond violation.

Richard Charles Quimby, 34, was jailed Thursday after he appeared in 18th District Court amid allegations he violated his bond by returning to the apartment where the alleged incident occurred. He had been ordered to stay away.

Judge C. Charles Bokos raised Quimby's bond from $1,000 to $10,000, and Quimby hadn't paid it as of Friday, court administrator David Wiacek said.

Quimby is scheduled to return to court on Thursday for a pretrial hearing on a charge of indecent exposure. If convicted, he could be imprisoned up to one year and fined $500.

A parent of one of the 11-year-old girls contacted Westland police after learning of the incident that police said occurred in June at Quimby's Woodcrest Villa apartment, on Wayne Road between Cowan and Joy.

Police had already received scattered reports that a man at Woodcrest Villa had tried to lure young girls to his residence. But they couldn't file charges until August, when the parent learned of the alleged incident and contacted police.

Quimby was arraigned Aug. 21, with a plea of not guilty entered on his behalf.

Initially, he had remained free after posting $1,000, or 10 percent of a $10,000 bond.

However, Westland police received reports that Quimby had returned to his apartment, despite a court order to stay away, police Sgt. Laura Moore has said. Police notified the court of the alleged violation.

Bokos ordered Quimby to return to court to answer the allegations. The defendant missed his initial bond hearing last Monday, but came to court on Thursday, when Bokos raised his bond.

Does Oakland County profit by Detroit divorce?

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

The federal government has given five Detroit-area counties, including Oakland, a chance to disassociate themselves from Wayne County and the Motor City, at least in a statistical sense.

It goes like this: There are these things called primary metropolitan statistical areas, also known as PMSAs, that are used in commercial atlases and retail guides to give businesses some idea of how likely they'd be to succeed in a given area. PMSAs are also used by the feds as a guide to how much federal tax money will be spent in a given area.

The Detroit PMSA is the 5th largest market in the nation and made up of Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, Livingston, Lapeer, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

The feds are offering Oakland, Macomb, Livingston, Lapeer and St. Clair counties the chance to form a new PMSA that wouldn't include Wayne and Monroe counties.

That means that the new Detroit PMSA would probably comprise only Wayne and Monroe counties.

The pro argument is that businesses looking for places to put stores would find cities in the Oakland metropolitan area more attractive because the negative aspects of Detroit (like crime, unemployment and poverty) would not be included in the statistics.

Reaction sought

The con argument is that economic development in Wayne and Monroe counties would suffer because, without Oakland County boosting up the positives, the Detroit PMSA would rate only 16th nationally. It's also possible that Oakland County wouldn't do as well either because its PMSA would rate 17th in the nation.

The federal office of management and budget issued a letter Sept. 2 asking the U.S. congressmen who represent the Detroit PMSA to solicit opinion about this potential change. The OMB wants an answer before Oct. 17.

But the congressmen seem to be taking their time. Aides to representatives William Broomfield, R-Birmingham, and William Ford, D-Taylor, said those two congressmen aren't doing anything about this issue yet. As of last Friday, Broomfield hadn't even received the OMB letter, his aide said.

Oakland County Executive Dan Murphy opposes the change, as he did in 1983 when a similar offer was made. "I didn't see any value in doing it 10 years ago," he said. "I still don't see how it's going to do anything for us to go our own way."

Nevertheless, the Oakland County statistical information officer, Dave Hay, said he's going to study the pros and cons of breaking away from the Detroit metropolitan area as soon as he sees a copy of the OMB proposal.

Weekend classes turn into a hit

An estimated 700 people decided to take job-related or academic classes on a weekend instead of staying home to watch TV or do housework.

The number of people registering for Schoolcraft College's Radcliff Center first weekend classes were surprising to Edwyanna Dansby, dean of college centers and head of Radcliff Center, on the Garden City/Westland boundary.

"I am very pleased," said Dansby in an apparent understatement of the colleges' first venture into weekend classes, scheduled on on Friday nights, Saturdays and Sunday afternoons.

Dansby pointed out that she doesn't know yet if the 700 persons who registered for the weekend sessions are students new to Schoolcraft or persons who previously took classes earlier in the week and are only switching their schedules.

The weekend program was created for students unavailable for weekday or week-night classes.

The college planned 34 sections and "most are filled," she said. "The others will be filled soon. Also 31 of the (34) sections reached their maximum of 31 students each. We had to add three new sections, mainly in English and math."

Dansby said the Saturday sessions were the most popular.

In reviewing the planning for the weekend sessions, she said the college felt "there was a need."

"We reviewed literature from other colleges and surveyed our own students to determine if there was a need," she said.

Later in the school year, the college will survey weekend students on how they view the new program.

Next fall, the program may be expanded in one or two areas that will lead to associate degrees, Dansby added.

The weekend classes provide from one to five hours of college credits.

The classes are in accounting principles, health care introduction, art appreciation, health education, business math, personal investing, child development, business law, advertising, computer orientation, introduction to computer based systems, software applications for the microcomputer, speech fundamentals, principles of economics, modern English grammar, building writing skills, English composition, business English, introduction to literature, basic and intermediate algebra for college students, medical terminology, keyboarding, micro-word processing and software, survey of American government, human relations, general psychology, testing and statistical process control/process capability.

The current semester ends in late December with the new semester to start Jan. 9. Schedules and registration information on next semester's weekend program will be available later this year.

Teen's trip is mission accomplished

BY CASEY HANS
STAFF WRITER

Karen Magee was one of 1,200 "teen maniacs" to roam the world on religious missions this summer, carrying a Christian message.

She was so influenced by her one-month visit to Nicaragua through the Tulsa, Okla.-based "Teen Mania Ministries" that the 1992 Farmington High School grad said she plans to devote her life to teaching and missionary work.

About 80 teens and young adults aged 13-26 went to the Central American country with the five-year-old ministry group, where they found open hearts, open doors and just generally warm feelings from people who lived there.

Karen said the group touched an estimated 6,500 people during their stay from July 11 to Aug. 11.

A total of 1,200 visited 10 locations around the world.

"The neat thing was everybody had their own religion and we all united as Christians and worked together," said the 19-year-old Farmington resident. "It changed my life."

The students spent most of their days going out into the city and village streets to do Christian-oriented skits with "good versus evil" themes and to minister to people. They also had quiet time to reflect and read their Bibles and were given free time, which they used to take day trips for fun and cultural awareness.

Raised in the Catholic Church, Karen renewed her Christianity about nine months ago joining the born-again movement. It was one of the biggest turning points in her life, giving her not only inner stability but it also drew her out of her shell.

"I had this loneliness and this emptiness inside my heart before," she said. "I even thought about suicide, because I didn't like the way my life was going.

"I'm a very strong person now," she added. "I'm much happier."

The Nicaraguan trip strengthened that. "When I first went there, I wasn't as disciplined," she said. "It changed my life — to share my faith with others."

The teens spent their month visiting with hundreds of local people, using interpreters to help them. They also had a chance to meet with Daniel Ortega, former Sandanista president of the now Democratic country. Karen said she saw only minor crime during her visit there.

Karen first became interested in the Teen Mania Ministries through a friend who visited Albania this year through the same program.

Karen raised $1,700 through her church, car washes and earning her own money by working. "It was well worth it," she added.

Karen is interested in sending help to a Nicaraguan medical clinic in Managua which treated the students while they were visiting. She is seeking all types of basic medical supplies which she will send there. Anyone interested in donating these can call Karen at 477-7620.

Annapolis Hospital offers free prostate screenings this month

Here's a warning for men over 40: You could be at risk for prostate cancer and not even know it — because there usually are no noticeable symptoms.

But as with most types of cancer, the earlier it's detected, the greater the chance for successful treatment, said an Annapolis Hospital spokesperson.

That's why the hospital in Wayne is providing free prostate cancer screenings for men over 40 — to catch prostate cancer in its earliest stages.

The screenings will be offered this month and next for men over 50 and men over 40 who have a family history of prostate cancer, as part of National Prostate Cancer Awareness Week.

Screenings are Tuesday, Sept. 29; Wednesday, Sept. 30, and Thursday, Oct. 1, from 1-4 p.m. each day, at the hospital, on Annapolis, just west of Venoy. For appointments, call 467-2539.

The screening exam consists of a digital rectal examination (DRE), performed by a physician, and the prostate specific antigen test (PSA), a blood test. Studies have shown that the PSA combined with the DRE can detect most cases of prostate cancer early, and using both tests together has been proven to be more successful than either test alone.

Participants will be notified once results from the DRE and PSA have been processed. Men taking part must be over 50 or over 40 with a family history of prostate cancer. They must bring the name, address, and phone number of their personal physician for followup.

Prostate cancer is second only to lung cancer as the leading cause of cancer death in men, the spokesperson said. It is expected to strike about 132,000 men in the U.S. this year, and result in about 34,000 deaths, said the hospital spokesperson.

Currently, African-American men have the highest incidence of prostate cancer in the world, with one in nine developing the disease, versus one in 11 for the general population. Prostate cancer primarily affects men over 65, but physicians recommend that all men over 50 should have a yearly exam.

Stalking bills likely to reach governor before election day

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Four anti-stalking bills are likely to reach Gov. John Engler's desk in time to benefit both sides of the political aisle on election day.

Stalking is defined as "malicious harassment which causes substantial mental suffering or distress." It most often occurs in a husband-wife breakup.

The state House of Representatives last week adopted two bills by Rep. Dianne Byrum, a Democrat from Ingham County. She's in a tough re-election battle against the father of Engler's press secretary.

On the House floor, the bills were pushed by House Judiciary chair Perry Bullard, D-Ann Arbor, who is in a tough campaign for district judge.

House Bill 4532 creates the crime of stalking and provides for a one-year jail term and fine of $1,000. HB 6038 would allow a warrantless arrest of someone violating an anti-stalking court order. They sailed through the House Thursday on 103-0 votes.

But the House held up action on Senate Bill 619, by Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, creating the crime of "aggravated stalking," a five-year felony.

The bill sat in Bullard's committee since the Senate passed it in May and was reported out only last week. Geake is in a tough battle for Congress.

Geake was unperturbed that the House failed to vote on his bill. "They want the bills to come out together," he said.

Meanwhile, the Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the fourth bill in the package — Geake's SB 1095 would allow civil lawsuits for damages caused by stalking and allow victims to obtain court orders against the stalker.

"This creates the new tort of stalking. It allows exemplary damages, court costs and reasonable attorney fees," Geake told the panel.

"Victims of domestic violence are a big percentage of the victims of stalking," said Kathy Hagenian of Safe House in Ann Arbor. "They have no remedy until the stalker takes action."

"There are 27,000 domestic crimes a year," said Kate Young of the state Department of Social Services. "They often occur when a victim has fled for safety. We think in the long run this bill will save lives."

The Senate Judiciary Committee reported out the bills to the Senate floor on a 3-0 vote. They are likely to be voted on this week.

Voting yes were Republicans William Van Regenmorter of Jenison, Dan DeGrow of Port Huron and Jon Cisky of Saginaw. Missing the vote were Democrats Virgil Smith of Detroit and John Kelly of Grosse Pointe.

"TOMORROW I WILL BE BETTER"

These are admirable words, however they carry a double meaning.

Arthritis is unpredictable in its effect. You may face a flare that seemingly never ends despite all your efforts. At such times believing that in the near future you will move again without impairment helps you through the present stress.

An optimistic view helps because often our drugs do not. Treatments for arthritis are uncertain in their actions, their efficacy, and their hazards. If you add a quantum of optimism to the medication we give, then you will bring out the best in our prescriptions.

Yet saying that tomorrow will be better can deceive others and betray your own best interests. If you tell yourself such a tale to avoid seeking help, then you are only bringing increasing misery both to yourself and to those with whom you share your life.

In most instances you sense when you should be patient with your present ache and suffering. The same understanding knows when you should hesitate no longer and arrange an immediate doctor's appointment. Usually the intensity of the pain, the number of joints involved or impaired, or the continued presence of pain, gives you the basis to look for medical assistance.

Having hope is important, but of equal weight is knowing when continued expectation is just delay.

More Detroit suburban shoppers

When you want to reach Detroit's affluent suburban shoppers, you want to advertise in SPRING.

Because SPRING's audited circulation of 728,609 more than doubles the suburban daily circulation of either The Detroit News (288,960) or Free Press (358,553).

And that's not all.

According to the 1991 Belden study, SPRING reaches more of the affluent suburban shoppers who have more—and spend more.

- 152,700 more suburban buyers of women's fashions than the daily News (78,600 more than the Free Press).
- 145,700 more suburban buyers of men's fashions than The News (64,500 more than the Free Press).
- 115,900 (and 63,600) more suburban buyers of children's clothing.
- 177,100 (and 80,000) more suburban shoppers at malls.

Simply put, one order in SPRING delivers more.

Shouldn't you be advertising in SPRING more?

To get all the facts, call your SPRING representative.

CUSM delights in its brattiness

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine — the name only hints at the brattiness Jim Bob and Fruitbat are capable of.

"It's not a deliberate thing, but we do like to stir up a little trouble now and then," said co-conspirator Jim Bob in a trans-Atlantic telephone interview. "Like putting up a poster of Jimmy Carter with Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine name underneath it in New York (on last year's tour with EMF). His office called up and was quite upset about it.

"Anything that winds people up is a bit fun."

Even if it means attracting litigation as CUSM has regarding the use of lyrics from the Rolling Stones classic "Ruby Tuesday." The courts are still trying to sort that one out.

If attention is the sole desire, the London-based band's skittering, breakneck syncopated cross between pop and shards of punk aptly speaks volumes.

A roiling tenor of cynicism underscores a fair amount CUSM tracks on "1992 — The Love Album," the band's sardonic attempt to herald in the year of a united Europe. Songs. "Is Wrestling Fixed?" and "Suppose You Gave a Funeral and Nobody Came" enshrine moments of melancholy in a mayonnaise jar for public viewing.

But Carter is not all bile. By contrast, "England" speaks to an overall restlessness that pervades amid the stagnation of day-to-day life in the economically strapped land of Churchill.

"Look Mum, No Hands" is a poignant — albeit a rather knee jerk — examination of the insanity of paramilitary violence engulfing Northern Ireland. ("He flies through the air with the greatest of ease/That daring young man in the blue dungarees/Struck down by the G-force of a Semtex surprise/He bucks like a sea horse, keels over and dies.")

"I suppose I should have written it years ago," said Jim Bob. "I decided to write it right before we recorded the album with the latest spate of bombings going on in London — that and what was going on in Yugoslavia at the time.

"It's sad. We haven't gotten anywhere in the last god knows how many years . . . It was sort of a gut reaction to innocent people being killed accidentally through the bombing."

Much of what CUSM performs is an immediate reaction, unedited for profanity and rambling emotion.

Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine performs Thursday, Sept. 24, at St. Andrew's Hall, 431 E. Congress, Detroit. Doors open at 9 p.m. For information, call 961-MELT.

Troublemakers: With names like Jim Bob and Fruitbat, it's no wonder Carter the Unstoppable Sex Machine is associated with stints of brattiness.

Logical switch: As Simon Bonney sees it, going from fronting the avant garde Crime and the City Solution to country music is a natural progression.

Bonney swaps punk for country

To hear Simon Bonney, one would think he's from Texas. But not so for this punker turned country wailer. He's from the Land Down Under and he's putting a '90s spin on the traditionally U.S. musical genre.

BY LARRY O'CONNOR
STAFF WRITER

The mammoth jump from punk to country is one even Bob Beamon wouldn't contemplate. For Simon Bonney, the leap wasn't as daunting as one would perceive.

In fact, the soft-spoken singer/songwriter will tell you in a reflective moment that it's the most natural path for him to have ventured.

The native Australian fronted the European avant garde conglomerate Crime and the City Solution, which earned its spurs at the height of music's most nihilistic and rudimentary phase. A host of members filtered in and out while the band released five critically acclaimed albums in the early to mid-'80s.

One of the knocks on Bonney at the time was his lyrics were a tad too serious for a genre largely beset by irreverence. His direness and willingness to explore the innerdepths of pain and sorrow would later become his biggest attribute in his country solo album "Forever."

"That's one of the things I've really come to like about country. It's music written by older people, people like Merle Haggard who can take pain and express it simply in lyrics," said Bonney, who listened to American country music as a kid working on the farm in Australia. "He's using the music to liberate himself from the pain.

"The tradition of music in America is to use it to talk about experience and pain in your life . . . In England, that doesn't seem to be the case."

So upon leaving England and relocating in Los Angeles, Bonnney found a home in country music and it shows on "Forever."

Bonney's sings in a timeless, plaintive tone, sounding more like he's from Mesquite, Texas, than Melbourne, Australia. His own interpretation of American country comes through in an echoey, desolate landscape created through diverse instrumentation.

This is achieved partly through a looming, atmospheric guitar sound that resonates throughout the release.

Highly regarded guitarist J.D. Foster performs on "Forever" as does a host of equally lauded musicians that includes Jon-Dee Graham, who performs on pedal steel and dobro, and violinist Bronwyn Adams.

"Originally, all through Crime and the City Solution I'd listen to Hank Williams and Patsy Cline," he said. "But I also listened to the instrumentation of Johnny Cash and people like Ry Cooder. They used it an atmospheric way."

Bonney also credits people like Foster, who has worked with Dwight Yoakam and Lucinda Williams and who has a keen interest in musical history. He said working with him has been particularly refreshing, especially compared to his punk compatriots who largely vilified the past.

Lyrically, Bonney has maintained the ability to express woe while disconnecting himself from it for heartfelt analysis.

In the transformation, though, Bonney has connected with rich tradition and has put a '90s spin on it. How much of his musical past — mainly the seemingly European effect of big droning guitars — filters into the fray is debatable.

"I don't know if it's intentional," he said. "I'm not well versed what is correct or what is incorrect in country. I just go for the feel."

Simon Bonney will perform as part of the Second Annual La Casa Music Festival 7:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 25, at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, 651 N. Woodward, at Lone Pine. Also performing will be Mark Germino, David Rodriguez and Greg Trooper. Tickets are $15. For information, call 646-1950.

Change yourself, not your mother

BARBARA SCHIFF

Dear Barbara,

My mother wants to plan my wedding for me. I an 28 and getting married for the first time. My fiance and I both want a small and elegant wedding. We do not want a lot of people we don't know and like. We both think this in the most important day in our lives and we feel we should have the last word on how things are done.

My mother says that is impossible. We have a large family and many close friends whose special gatherings we have attended for years. She says we must return these invitations.

I don't want my wedding to be a pay back party. I don't want to use this most important day of my life to fulfill social obligations. How can I make my mother understand this. I feel so frustrated that she doesn't.

Jennifer

Dear Jennifer,

It is unlikely your mother will change her mind. She is entitled to her point of view although she frustrates you.

You didn't tell me who is paying for your wedding. That is an important detail. If you are paying for it, you can invite or not invite anyone you want. If she is paying for it then she can plan it her way.

It is understandable that in family situations advice like this often seems harsh. When we are infants we control and manipulate our mothers and that is as it should be; otherwise we could not survive. As we grow and mature we come to understand that we can't always get what we want and that we need to be able to respect the rights of others especially if one of the others in paying for the wedding.

Your question says you want to change your mother. It is inappropriate to change others at any age. It is more mature to change yourself and grow yourself.

May I add a word of advice that you haven't asked for? In all likelihood, differences of opinion between you and your husband will surface during the marriage. Are you going to ask how to manipulate him so you can get what you want or are you going to mature and consider his rights?

In a good marriage, many such problems can be resolved with open communication.

However, there are such things as true dilemmas and some problems are not solvable. Those times will put to a severe test the maturity and wisdom of the spouses. Love in not enough; creative problem solving is also needed.

'School Ties' packs punch and avoids being preachy

TICKETS PLEASE

JOHN MONAGHAN

When he's asked to play football for a New England prep school in 1955, David Greene doesn't know what he's getting into. The Scranton-born teenager quickly realizes that he must hide his Jewish background from his rabidly anti-semitic classmates.

From all indications, "School Ties" should have degenerated into a preach fest of social correctness. Thanks to meticulous direction and casting, the movie not only packs a punch; it's also fun to watch.

Light years ahead of his starring role in "Encino Man," Brendan Fraser plays the martyred David with the proper blend of toughness and sensitivity. He immediately fits in with the guys and proves his mettle on the gridiron.

David's success doesn't wear well with Dillon (Matt Damon), an insecure rich kid from a Kennedy-like family who loses his quarterback position and girlfriend (Amy Locane) to the charismatic teenager. Dillon uses newfound information about David's true identity in the nastiest way possible.

Little-known actors give the movie an added realism while Freddie Francis' cinematography focuses on both the beauty and stale tradition of St. Matthew's. The action on the football field is especially well-executed, as is a fight against the stark white tile and steam of the boys' shower.

Director Robert Mandel ("F/X") and screenwriters Dick Wolf and Darryl Ponicsan fortunately don't bore us with sermonizing. "School Ties" works on another level when David, like any kid Jewish or not, is thrust into the world of the rich and privileged.

In "Bob Roberts," playing exclusively at the Maple, a popular folk singer vies for a Pennsylvania senate seat. Adopting and altering the appeal and even album covers of Bob Dylan, he woos right wing voters with his platform as a "rebel conservative."

Tim Robbins, who wowed audiences in Altman's "The Player" earlier this year, stars as Roberts. He also directs the film in a mock-documentary style where the candidate is seen solely through the lens of a British filmmaker.

What starts as a simple profile of Roberts' well-machined campaign soon develops into a stinging look at his overall insincerity. He is seen as shallow and money-grubbing, traits which appeal to his constantly growing stable of fans.

"Bob Roberts" doesn't pick on one political party.

Cases of animal cruelty are multiplying in state

SANDRA ARMBRUSTER

Just last week, this newspaper editorialized on state legislation which, if approved, would make mistreatment of animals a felony. Yes, it would provide for punishment, but more importantly, it would provide for psychiatric help so that the reasons for the mistreatment could be understood and not repeated.

It was coincidence that in the same issue the Westland Observer published a story about a dog, Cleo Bo Jackson, who had died from rat poison. It had taken a week for Patricia Cope-Byrne and her fiance, James Hanson, to recover enough to report the incident to the Observer & Eccentric and offer a $100 reward for information leading to whomever poisoned the dog.

"It's the first time I could talk about it without breaking down," she said.

Anyone who has ever lost a pet can understand the sense of emptiness. Certainly I do. Thursday, I lost my 12-plus-year-old cat, Acorn, to advanced stages of kidney failure. It's still something I can't talk about, despite the support of my co-workers. At least I have the consolation of knowing that his death was a biological process. But for Cleo, death brought senseless days of misery for him and his owners from a cruel act.

While our story was a coincidence, mistreatment of animals is anything but, according to Gary Tiscornia, executive director of the Michigan Humane Society. There were 7,000 rescue runs involving about 10,000 animals handled last year. "It's a very big problem," he said.

While Oakland County does a "very credible" job of handling strays, it's more difficult in Detroit, which sells strays for research, he said. The Humane Society's rescue unit runs from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. 365 days a year, and would like to run 24 hours a day when possible.

Nine out of 10 treed cats come down the first day, but the Humane Society will come out when they're up in a tree for longer periods, Tiscornia said.

Cases of poisoning, cruelty and lack of food, shelter or water totaled about 4,000 last year. And in August, despite the cool summer, the society recorded its first animal who died from heat stroke — a Doberman with an internal temperature of 107 degrees.

There are all manners of abuse, from use of battery chargers to having pets placed in barbecue grills. Yes, that's a very gruesome thing to have to think about. But it may motivate you to write to your legislator to urge passage of Senate Bill 1092.

Cruelty is a "non-stop thing," said Sherry Silk, director of operations for the Michigan Humane Society. The numbers are going up each year, and since "judges pay more attention to felonies," there is added impetus to getting the legislation passed.

There are other cases of abuse. She recounted the case of a 5-month-old Great Dane found shivering in a mud puddle at the end of a chain. The Humane Society got a search warrant and had the animal removed.

Sometimes it's a matter of just educating people, Silk said. Other times people are themselves homeless and abandon their animals; unfortunately, some are abandoned while chained to a fence and unable to search for food. Also confounding her is why neighbors don't call discreetly to report the abuse.

"I'm not making this stuff up," Silk said.

Packs of dogs now roam Pontiac, and a recent immunization clinic there drew about 1,000 animals.

The Michigan Humane Society has tried to help out with free food barrels at each of its shelters in Detroit, Westland and Rochester. Information is requested so there is no "scam" involved.

"Don't be cruel to a heart that's true," wrote our cartoonist, Arkie Hudkins, reminding us of an Elvis Presley tune last week. In no way does that trivialize the importance of animal life. At issue here is whether an animal is nothing more than a piece of property, to be disposed of at will, or whether he/she is a loving, giving entity expecting only, in the words of Silk, protection and food.

That's why it's so hard for Cleo's family to understand why he was poisoned a short time ago.

For those of us who have lost our pets, for whatever reason, there will be new friends to come along. But no one, and no thing, can take away our memories. We do insist, however, that the Legislature bring justice to those memories.

Westland police ask anyone with information on Cleo to call the detective bureau at 721-6311.

Going private continues to be a political issue

TIM RICHARD

My first taste of "privatization," the latest Republican code word, was a bitter one.

It came in the 1960s with President Lyndon Johnson's Great Society. A Job Corps camp was near the town where I worked, and one Saturday there was an incident downtown that some folks termed a "riot."

A brother reporter tried to get some information out of the Job Corps information officer and was told to bag it. A private company based in Silver Spring, Md., was operating the camp under contract to Sargent Shriver and the Beltway gang. They didn't have to give the public any information and wouldn't.

In the 1980s, under Democratic Gov. James J. Blanchard, the state payroll fell, because work was being farmed out to private contractors. The AFL-CIO didn't like losing union jobs.

The theory of privatization is simple enough: A governmental service needn't be performed by government employees. The governing body can take competitive bids and award the contract to the lowest bidder. A contractor who performs poorly is out next year.

The 1992 Republican national platform places privatization on a virtual throne.

"Privatization is an important alternative to higher taxes and reduced services. . . .This is especially true of properties now decaying under government control, such as public housing. . . airport operation and management" (pages 74-75).

The national Democratic platform skips privatization, but the Michigan Democratic platform bashes it hard.

"Privatization has become a Republican cure-all. Michigan Democrats don't believe all government services are better handled by private companies. Public employees are accountable to elected leaders and public taxpayers. We believe the people of Michigan deserve public control over programs and services that serve the public interest. We also believe that privatization risks the growth of private monopolies of service provision and huge private for profit public service" (page 5).

(Note: "Profit" is still a dirty word in The Union's party.)

We're going to hear much about privatizing government services in Michigan in the next few years, especially if Gov. John Engler's "Cut & Cap" property tax plan passes and the state has to reimburse local school districts $1.3 billion a year with no tax hikes.

Let me suggest a few broad guidelines when the privatization alternative is discussed:

- Contracting out road maintenance, street sweeping, patching, trash collecting and building maintenance has been done for years. No problem.
- State parks, a public natural resource, shouldn't be privatized. A business has to generate cash flow to earn a profit. State parks are no place for hordes of vending machines, video games and chlorinated pools.
- We need to be extremely careful awarding contracts for social services because those contractors become a strident lobby for more social services. I saw it when Agnes Mansour was running Blanchard's Department of Social Services.
- Education is ripe for all kinds of experimenting through privatization. Public education is absorbing a lot of tax money. Many private and church-related schools would like a cut of it. A jaundiced attitude is in order.
- Where private contractors perform essential services, their records need to be subject to the Freedom of Information Act, just like government records.
- The more privatization we have, the more we will need to require elected officials to list their private assets, business interests and receipt of gifts. Witness the shattering of public confidence in the Western Townships Utilities Authority, where contracts for pals were the order of the day.

Are you a Compulsive Overeater?

	Yes	No
1. Do you eat when you're not hungry?	☐	☐
2. Do you go on eating binges for no apparent reason?	☐	☐
3. Do you have feelings of guilt and remorse after overeating?	☐	☐
4. Do you give too much time and thought to food?	☐	☐
5. Is your weight affecting the way you live your life?	☐	☐
6. Do you use fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting or laxatives to control your weight?	☐	☐
7. Have you tried to diet for a week (or longer), only to fall short of your goal?	☐	☐

If you answer "yes" to three or more of these questions, you may be a compulsive overeater. You are not alone. Millions of Americans suffer from this disease.

Compulsive overeating is a painful, relentless illness that interferes with every aspect of life. It is a disease that gets progressively worse if left untreated.

Weight gain often accompanies this illness. But not always. Many compulsive overeaters maintain normal body weight by strict diets, fasting, strenuous exercise, vomiting, or excessive laxative use. These methods are ineffective and medically dangerous.

Weight is not the problem, and dieting is not the solution. The problem is the disease of compulsive overeating, and the solution is a program of treatment and recovery.

The Eating Disorders Recovery Center (EDRC) of St. Mary Hospital offers an outpatient treatment program that leads to lasting recovery. Our approach is comprehensive. We help our patients make lifestyle changes that give them renewed confidence in themselves and more control over their lives. Gradually, the chronic binge/diet cycle is replaced by a healthy, more satisfying, and more productive way of life. With food in its proper place, weight normalizes.

At EDRC, we work as a team -- psychologist, psychiatrist, physician, nutritionist, and specially trained therapists -- to diagnose and treat eating disorders. This experienced staff provides treatment with understanding and sensitivity.

If compulsive overeating is a problem for you, or someone you love, take the first step toward recovery. Call us today at 591-2936, WE CAN HELP.

DAYS OF Wine

Napa, Sonoma Valleys pick up for grape harvest

BY TESSA DECARLO
NEW YORK TIMES SYNDICATE

The end of summer is bittersweet in many parts of the world, but in California's wine country it's the most exciting time of the year.

The grape harvest, which gets under way in August, hits full tilt by September, with wineries shaking off their summer torpor and rushing to capture the flavor of the new vintage.

There's no better place to observe these annual rites than the Napa and Sonoma valleys, which lie next to one another about an hour north of San Francisco.

While Napa Valley can claim more wineries, more famous names and more glamour, Sonoma Valley has more rural charm, more history and equally wonderful wines.

Sonoma Valley, also known as the Valley of the Moon, includes the historic town of Sonoma, whose beautiful tree-shaded plaza was the site of both the last of old California's Franciscan missions and the 1846 Bear Flag Revolt, which marked the beginning of California's independence from Mexico.

To the north along Highway 12 are the even smaller towns of Kenwood and Glen Ellen.

On the other side of the Mayacamas mountain range the city of Napa is home to the majority of Napa Valley's people, but the vineyards and wineries are farther north, in and between Yountville, Oakville, Rutherford, St. Helena and Calistoga.

Since both places are popular destinations during harvest time, reservations are essential, particularly on weekends.

Events

The Valley of the Moon Vintage Festival, P.O. Box 652, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-996-2109), takes place the weekend of Sept. 26 and 27 in the Sonoma Plaza.

The festival begins with the blessing of the new grapes and includes a parade, wine-tasting and food booths, music, marionettes and other entertainment, and a water fight between rival fire-fighting units. This year a special musical pageant (tickets, $8) will dramatize the town's history.

The Sonoma Valley Shakespeare Festival at Gundlach Bundschu Winery, 2000 Denmark St., Sonoma, includes a performance of "Pericles" (Sept. 26). Tickets cost $15 and performances begin at 6:30 p.m.

The winery encourages audience members to bring a picnic dinner and also sells wine and picnic items. For tickets and more information contact Odyssey Theater, P.O. Box 727, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-996-2145).

Another winery, Buena Vista, 18000 Old Winery Road, will be the setting for the Sonoma Vintage Theater's production of "The Taming of the Shrew" Sept. 27. Tickets, $10, and picnic-table seating in the winery's pretty courtyard encourages alfresco wining and dining before the play begins at 6 p.m.

The gate opens at 5 p.m. and tickets are available at the gate, or they may be ordered from Sonoma Vintage Theater, P.O. Box 312, Sonoma, Calif. 95476, (707-939-1369).

Sightseeing

Most wineries welcome visitors, although some smaller ones require an appointment, and many offer tours. Tastings are usually free on the Sonoma side of the mountains, while Napa wineries often charge a fee of $2 to $5.

A good general introduction to how wine is made is offered by the 45-minute tour at the Robert Mondavi Winery, 7801 St. Helena Highway, Oakville, (707-963-9611). The tour, including wine-tasting, is free, but it's wise to make an appointment.

The Sonoma Plaza would be worth a visit even if there were no wine in the vicinity. Picture-book pretty and surrounded by interesting shops and restaurants, it is central to the historic district and includes a monument marking the spot where the Bear Flag Revolt began. Across the street is a series of charming restorations that make up Sonoma State Historic Park, (707-938-1519).

The Mission San Francisco Solano de Sonoma at the north end of the plaza on the corner of First Street East and East Spain Street was built in 1824, the only California mission established under Mexican rather than Spanish rule. Alongside are the pueblo's barracks, which now house a small museum about Sonoma life in the mission era.

Also on Spain Street are the restored Toscano Hotel and, a short walk from the plaza, the elegant house and grounds of Gen. Mariano Vallejo, the town's Mexican commander. The sites are open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and the admission fee of $2 covers them all.

See Europe by car - your own

BY EVERETT POTTER
SPECIAL WRITER

Some travelers go abroad to buy a new European-made automobile.

They may choose to buy a Volvo or Mercedes-Benz in Europe, drive it while on a vacation and then have it shipped back to the United States. This can be a cost-effective move.

"The biggest savings the consumer will realize is the elimination of the cost of a rental car for their vacation," says Nancy Nelle, manager of Volvo's overseas Delivery Program.

Anyone who has recently rented a car in Europe knows it's common to be charged $400 a week or more for a mid-size car. That price may not even include a country's value-added tax.

In France, for example, the value-added tax on car rentals is 18.6 percent. The rental price is usually higher if the driver requires an automatic transmission.

Secondly, European-made cars are cheaper in Europe. The discounts aren't as big as those of 10 or 15 years ago, when the dollar was strong. But there is an immediate savings.

It can amount to between 10 percent and 15 percent off the U.S. list price for the same automobile.

But buyers who used to go to Munich to purchase a BMW model that was only available in Europe will now find that BMW and most other automakers no longer make different models for each side of the Atlantic.

Still, the idea of buying a car overseas appeals to many drivers, who have romantic images of speeding down the autobahn or crossing the Alps.

Volvo's Overseas Delivery Program is now 30 years old. In 1991, under the plan, 500 cars were sold at discounts of 12 percent to 16 percent off U.S. prices. Those sales are expected to climb in 1992, as the U.S. economy slowly improves.

Here's how Volvo's program works. A buyer goes to a local Volvo dealer to actually purchase a car, such as the popular 240 Wagon with an automatic transmission.

The base price is $22,628 in the United States and $19,070 in Sweden, which means a savings of $3,458. (Californians must add $125 for the car to meet the state's emission-control standards).

That price includes free shipment to the United States from Gothenburg, Sweden, U.S. Customs Duty, home shipment and port-clearance fees.

For further information contact Volvo Cars of North America, Overseas Delivery Program, P.O. Box 913, Rockleigh, N.J. 07647 or call (800) 631-1667.

BMW's European Delivery Program is similar to Volvo's, but the buyer pays duty on the car when it is brought back.

"The best reason to buy a BMW in Munich is to be able to drive your own car under European driving conditions," says Tom McGurn, a spokesman for BMW.

Prices are also lower: The 1992 BMW 318i sedan, the least-expensive model, is $22,900 in the United States and $20,400 in Germany. Local BMW dealers handle the sales.

For further information contact BMW of North America, 300 Chestnut Ridge Road, Woodcliff Lake, N.J. 07675 or call (800) 932-0931.

Mercedes-Benz's European Delivery Program is the most extensive of any European automaker.

Parole reform bill passes by large margin in Senate

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

The sponsor was state Sen. Michael Bouchard, but the parole board reform bill could have been named after serial killer Leslie Williams.

"We accomplished what we wanted with this bill," said Patrick Urban, father of Michelle and Melissa Urban, two of Williams' victims in Livingston County. "We wanted more people on the parole board, and we wanted to inject more accountability, and we've achieved that."

The Senate last week gave 32-4 approval of a joint House-Senate conference report that goes back to the House for approval.

It expands the parole board from seven members to 10; removes them from civil service and makes them appointees of the corrections director effective Oct. 1; sets tougher standards for parole; and requires convicts serving life terms to serve lengthy minimum sentences before being eligible for parole.

"A first step," said Bouchard, R-Birmingham, a former police officer. The first-term senator is preparing a separate bill to make the parole board follow the Open Meetings Act. The Legislature in 1987 allowed it to hold closed meetings.

How they voted

Supporting the measure were Sens. Bouchard, Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, Jack Faxon, D-Farmington Hills, Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn, and David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield.

Missing the vote was William Faust, D-Westland.

Opposed were Jackie Vaughn III and David Holmes, both Detroit Democrats. "It cost more to incarcerate a person than to send them to Harvard, but now we are increasing that, we are keeping them longer," said Vaughn, pleading for senators to show "humanity."

Replied Bouchard: "It is actually more expensive to recycle those career criminals back (into society) than if they were kept there." Pointing to the balcony to the Urbans and survivors of Cynthia Jones and Kami Villaneuva, Bouchard said, "It says crime doesn't pay. Victims do."

Sen. Virgil Smith, D-Detroit, supported the bill but said Williams "was a white man, and that's why he was released time and time and time again."

"I don't care whether they are African-American or white or green," replied Bouchard. "If they have committed a violent crime and there's a propensity for them to do that again, they should not get out."

Bouchard cited the cases of Tyrone Green, "who was paroled for a violent offense and on the same day committed two murders of two African-Americans and fled the state. Or Darine Page, who was paroled for armed robbery and while in the (Wayne) county jail murdered Sergeant Dickinson."

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Try new techniques, simplify your cooking

I have been cooking for many more years than I like to contemplate. One thing that sets me apart from other cooks is that cooking is my form of expression.

It is not something I have to do, but instead is something I enjoy doing.

A few weeks back, guests were invited over for dinner and the comment was made that "I must have been cooking all day" to put out such a feast. Hardly.

As a matter of fact, I actually didn't know what I would prepare until I went to the grocery store at two in the afternoon knowing darn well that dinner had to be on the table no later than six.

Find shortcuts

It never fails to amaze me that people fret over what and how they cook. I am completely at ease trying new techniques, new recipes and new ideas. I am always looking for shortcuts and ways to simplify recipes. If I can get by using one pot, one spoon, one dish and just a fork, all the better.

I am pretty much bored, also, with the word gourmet. At the moment, "gourmet" is a very in word. In itself, the word translates to using every pot, every inch of counterspace and in my estimation, at least two dishwasher loads to describe.

Yesterday, I made salsa with the abundance of tomatoes ripening from my garden. If I would have followed Diana Kennedy's "The Art of Mexican Cooking," I would have chopped, measured, diced, minced, stirred and whirled myself into a culinary frenzy.

Even Jeff Smith, the Frugal Gourmet, would also have had me blanching, seeding, roasting, peeling and using every bowl and pan amongst my kitchen repertoire.

Instead I chose to use their recipes as an outline, only to make sure I used the correct balance of ingredients.

I wasn't about to measure out two pounds of tomatoes. Nor was I even interested in roasting the peppers to remove what was purportedly a bitter skin.

Yes, I made salsa and I made it using only one knife, one cutting board and one Pyrex bowl.

Don't get me wrong here folks, there is a place and a time for spending hours in the kitchen making a mushroom demi glace or homemade phyllo dough but why, I ask does it entail knowing the correct humidity of how the moon is in relation to the planetary system.

I have made what I could call gourmet French toast using a $4 non-stick skillet and Wonder Bread. Yes, I could have used a sourdough baguette, brown eggs at room temperature and a precise mixture of butter and olive oil, but there comes a time when simplicity is the best healer.

Easier methods

When I choose to eat, I want to eat — now! No additional amount of precise dicing and skimming will satiate my hunger any more.

I have, on many occasions, stirred in many a tiny can of mushroom sauce into a homemade gravy made with institutional soup base for a simply delicious pot of mashed potatoes and gravy.

I have ventured to the fish market for a perfect tiny rainbow trout only to dust it with a minor sprinkling of flour, a bit of melted Weight Watcher's margarine in a skillet and a splash of bottled lemon juice.

Good cooks have to know that there are often easier ways to do things than the traditional methods of haute cuisine.

Time savers

I can't afford haute cuisine simply because, as I am sure you will agree, much of the time I simply don't have the time.

Point in fact; yesterday I visited my local produce store. The stock by was unloading a fresh case of Michigan sweet corn and I just couldn't resist.

Knowing that the corn would have enjoyed being shucked and plopped into lightly salted boiling water, I opted instead to break off the rigid stem and simply remove about 10 of the outer leaves.

I threw the corn into the microwave and pressed a few buttons and within minutes, thoroughly enjoyed an afternoon respite of fresh steamed corn on the cob. It was so good it didn't need butter.

So what follows, dear readers, are only the recipes I have tested and found worthy. If you follow directions and possess a grain of common sense, you too will enjoy them.

If, on the other hand, you are jaded with the likes of Fanny, Irma, Betty and Larousse, you might choose to spend the afternoon toiling over a hot stove.

Food nourishes, strengthens family

■ Two local Italian families, the Del Signores of Fonte D'Amore restaurant in Livonia, and Tonons of Cafe Cortina in Farmington Hills keep their heritage alive through food. They say Italians have a romance with food, for them cooking is an art.

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

Juggling business and family responsibilities is never easy, but early in their marriage, Lina and John Del Signore of Livonia, set priorities — family, friends and business.

Every Tuesday and Sunday, the family which has grown from six to 10 with the marriages of three of their four children, and arrival of grandson Giovanni, gets together for dinner. No business is discussed at the table even though the family works side by side in many businesses.

"We listen to our children and respect their opinions," said Lina Del Signore. "Food brings the family together."

The Del Signores operate Fonte D'Amore, a restaurant in Livonia, Tavern on the Green, a restaurant at the Fox Creek Golf Course in Livonia, Laurel Manor, a banquet hall, Giovanni Espresso Bar at Laurel Manor in Livonia, Laurel Chapel Center, a one-stop bridal shop in Livonia, and Lina's Bridal in Plymouth.

They've been married for 25 years. Their first venture, Fonte D'Amore opened in 1962, is named after a small city near Rome where they met.

Cooking is very much a part of the family's history. "My grandfather used to cook for our village," said John De Signore. "Whenever they needed a cook for a wedding or other occasion, they called him. Lina's father cooked, too."

"Our first love is good food," said Lina Del Signore. "I get excited everytime I talk about cooking. I started collecting recipes when I was eight years old, and still have them. Whenever I tasted something I liked, I would ask my relative for the recipe.

The Del Signores aren't the only local family to keep their Italian heritage alive through food. Rina and Adriano Tonon at Cafe Cortina in Farmington Hills have a lot in common with them.

Cafe Cortina Cucina Rustica — the rustic kitchen, is named after the town in Italy where Adriano was born. Adriano was a baker in Italy and Rina's family had an Italian restaurant in Detroit while she was growing up.

Maintaining ties to Italy is important to both families who still have close relatives living there. On the day of the interview for this story, John and Lina Del Signore were packing for a trip to Italy to visit their relatives. Their children have accompanied them on previous trips.

Adriano Tonon just returned from Italy with his son, Giancarlo, 8. Another son, Adrian, 20 who attends Michigan State University, has also visited Italy to meet his relatives.

"We send our children to Italy to keep up the language and ties to the family," said Rina.

Both restaurants serve dishes that were passed on to them by their parents and grandparents. Fonte D'Amore recently changed their menu to include more dishes from the Abruzzo region where John and Rina were born.

At Cafe Cortina, the new menu features dishes from northern Italy, where Adriano is from, with a touch of south where Rina's family is from.

"They say the Italians have a romance with food, and cooking is our art," said Rina Tonon.

In Italy, as in the U.S. more women are working, and there is less time to cook. Both Lina and Rina said Italians today are eating less meat, and more vegetables and pasta.

But it wasn't always that way. Rina, said she remembers huge Sunday dinners with lots of courses, at least two meats, to be shared with aunts, uncles and cousins. "There were always 18 or 20 of us," she said.

"On Sundays we'd wake up to the smell of garlic and onions frying in olive oil because the family was getting together for the afternoon. We would start eating at noon, and finish at 4 p.m. Then as now, we would eat our salad last."

Like the Del Signores, the Tonons say they treasure the time they gather with their family, and while the feasts might not be as lavish, they're always made with the freshest ingredients and cooked with love.

Innovative Tuscan wines challenge tradition

FOCUS ON WINE

ELEANOR & RAY HEALD

Trained in Italy, France and California, winemakers from Italy's Tuscany region are in a race to create new, artistically styled wines using transplanted French varietals or redesigned blends of classic Italian grapes. Consequently, Tuscany is considered by many to be Italy's most innovative wine region, attracting international attention to its designer vino da tavolas known as Super Tuscans.

Super Tuscans are usually aged in small French barrels. The reds are produced either from a 100 percent Italian varietal of heritage, or blended with cabernet sauvignon, cabernet franc or merlot. The white wines generally include a majority of the non-traditional varietals such as chardonnay and sauvignon blanc.

At the La Selva Estate, in the Tuscan region of Montepulciano, Avignonesi grows non-traditional varieties including chardonnay, sauvignon blanc, riesling, merlot, cabernet sauvignon and pinot noir.

"It is our intention to follow tradition as long as we can produce interesting, well-priced wines that can be showcased in the great restaurants of the world," said Avignonesi's manager, Alberto Falvo.

"We have departed with tradition because it offered us a challenge. Tuscany is not renowned for white wines, so it is important for us to demonstrate that we can grow grapes prized in other regions and make world-class wines."

While this is true, it remains a fact that the Super Tuscans are very pricey. The better buys (if you can say this about anything Italian these days) are the traditional wines. From Tuscany, you should sample more than chianti.

We're giving prices as a guideline, but do investigate because some shops have good deals currently. From Avignonesi at just under $20, we recommend the 1988 Vino Nobile de Montepulciano and 1990 Rosso de Montepulciano ($14). The latter is the younger sibling of the Vino Nobile, produced from younger vines.

Bottle aging will not however transform it into a Vino Nobile. It's delicious now and ready to drink.

At around $9, Castello Banfi's 1989 Centine Rosso di Montalcino, commonly referred to as a "Baby Brunello" is atop the best buy list. In the $8 price category, Bolla wines are consistently boell made and flavorful.

Italy's Piedmont region remains fairly traditional. Here the great Barolos and Barbarescos produced from the nebbiolo grape are expensive, but generally excellent. Still available from the exceptional 1985 vintage is B.D. Vaira Barolo, Bricco delle Viole Vineyard ($34) with explosive, powerful palate fruit and rich finish.

Spanna and Gattinara, also produced from the nebbiolo grape, are better priced.

The good news from the Piedmont is that mainstay wines like Dolcetto and Barbera have been highly stylized by individual producers and provide interesting taste comparisons. To illustrate, we suggest pairing the 1991 Cordero di Montezemolo Dolcetto d'Alba ($13.50) and the 1991 Pio Cesare Dolcetto d'Alba ($18). The Montezemolo has a soft palate impression with the imprint of blackcherry flavors while the Pio Cesare showcases intense berry fruit with palate richness and is a much bigger wine overall.

Two Barberas provide contrast potential. The 1987 B.D. Vaira Barbara d'Alba Riserva ($28) sports intense, generous blackcherry, chocolate, coffee and spice flavors with broad but straightforward palate softness. On the other hand, the 1989 (an excellent vintage) Pio Cesare Barbara d'Alba ($17) is rich and robust with palate heft and intense blackcherry fruit lasting through a generous, complex finish. It's great now, but is a wine with cellaring potential from five to eight years.

To make the best food harmonies with Italian wines, there's one element to remember. Lighter red wines are knocked out by rich tomato sauces. Match styles with heftier palate impressions and rich tomato sauces or red meat dishes. To illustrate this, pair the 1990 Ruffino Aziano (a single-vineyard chianti classics) with veal, roast chicken, lightly spiced pastas and medium to rich cheeses then graciously accept the applause of those around your dinner table.

Gourmet dishes simply delicious

See Larry Janes column on Taste front.

SIMPLE SALSA

4 large tomatoes, chopped
1 medium onion, chopped
1 can chopped green chiles
2 Tablespoons Jalapeno pepper, chopped
a healthy jolt of powdered cumin (about 1 Tablespoon)
a little olive oil (about 2 Tablespoons)
salt and pepper to taste

Combine all ingredients in a glass or non-reactive bowl. Mix well. Always better the next day.

GOURMET GRAVY

2 Tablespoons beef soup base
1 cup warm water
1 cup dry red wine
3 Tablespoons flour
¼ cup milk
1 small can mushroom sauce
pepper to taste

Dissolve the soup base in the warm water and wine. Heat until just about boiling. Stir flour into milk. Whisk into simmering broth, stirring constantly until thickened, about 3-4 minutes. Allow to cook for 3 more minutes. Add mushroom sauce and pepper to taste.

SHRIMPS PROVENCAL

1 pound shrimp, cleaned and deveined
¼ cup flour
2 Tablespoons butter or margarine
1 clove garlic, chopped fine
1 cup dry white wine

Dust the shrimps with the flour. Heat butter or margarine in skillet until bubbly. Add garlic and shrimps. Toss, over medium heat, until shrimps are opaque and cooked. Add wine, stirring until sauce thickens. Serve with pasta or rice.

This recipe is equally as good with chicken strips and scallops. Also, institutional soup bases are the latest "in" ingredient for busy cooks. Available at most upscale grocery stores and gourmet shops. They make fast gravies, sauces and bastes.

Rice salad perfect for tailgate picnics

See related wine story. Make the salad the day before the picnic and chill it thoroughly overnight.

RICE SALAD

Zest of one lemon, finely chopped
Juice of one lemon
2 cups diced raw fennel or celery
1 3-ounce jar non-pareil capers
1 cup frozen peas, thawed
2 6-ounce jars marinated artichokes and marinade
1 8-ounce jar roasted red and yellow peppers, sliced
5 cups cooked rice (well cooled)
Salt and pepper to taste
¼ cup light virgin olive oil

Combine ingredients in order and mix well. Serves 8.

Handy tips save time in kitchen

Here's a couple of handy tips. To keep fruits and vegetables fresher longer in your refrigerator, line the vegetable bin with paper towels or dry sponges to absorb excess moisture.

Cooking cauliflower with a little milk can help them keep their bright white color.

When seasoning ground beef or turkey for loaves or burgers, lightly mix in the seasonings with two forks and gently shape. Too much handling toughens the meat.

Let roasted meats and poultry rest at room temperature for 15 minutes before carving to allow the meat to firm up and re-absorb it's juices.

To make sweeter onion rings, soak freshly sliced onion in milk before battering and frying.

When making meringue, make sure the eggs are room temperature and add a pinch of baking powder before beating.

Make a rich vegetable stock from carrots, celery, onions, parsnips, zucchini, tomatoes and seasonings. Freeze for delicious autumn soups.

New chili champ to represent state

KEELY WYGONIK

Thirty-nine cooks competed in the 14th annual Michigan State Chili Cookoff on Sept. 13 at the Lark Restaurant in West Bloomfield.

Last year's winner, Paul Husek of Farmington Hills, came in second. The winner was Joe Janes of Wyandotte. He will represent Michigan in the 26th World Cookoff to be held Nov. 8 at Rawhide, the 1880s western town in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Event proceeds were used to award ten $1,000 scholarships to culinary arts students in Michigan.

Also participating in the cookoff were Jim Admaski, Redford, 1979 Michigan State Winner, Shawn Booth, Garden City, 1990 Saline Regional Winner; Kathleen Cummins, Charlie Robertson, Nick Roncone and Mike Maiman, Birmingham; Mike Ford and Ed Pitt, Farmington Hill; Marilyn Fredrick, Redford, 1991 Saline Regional Winner, 1990 Ontario Winner, Ken Horn and Walt Hunter, Plymouth; Robert T. Jones, Westland; Bud Pickett, West Bloomfield, and Gary Ray, Livonia.

Here's the winning recipe.

1 28-ounce can crushed tomatoes
1 28-ounce can tomato sauce
1 8-ounce can rotell - (blender)
2 4-ounce cans green chilis - (blender)
1 16-ounce can chicken broth
1 teaspoon hot chili powder
1 bulb garlic
1 green pepper (blender)
4 onions, Spanish
8 teaspoons chili powder, level
5 teaspoons cumin, level
salt and pepper
garlic, granular

Marinate steak in chili powder, cumin, salt, pepper, and granular garlic.

Marinate ground round and pork as above.

Cut onions and garlic (crush). Put some oil in pan add garlic, blended items, tomatoes, tomato sauce, onions, rest of spices. Bring to high boil then take pan off stove.

In fry pan, add a little chicken broth and cook part of meat until broth is gone, continue until meat is finished. Add meat to other pan. Put pan on stove with all ingredients bring to a boil. Then reduce heat and simmer 2½ hours. Adjust seasonings to taste.

Southwest dinner features pork chops

AP — No time to broil pork? Cooking pork by direct heat in a pan takes about half the time it takes to broil the same piece of meat. Just be sure to choose steaks and chops that are not much more than 1-inch thick.

Place the meat in a heavy skillet. If the meat is extremely lean, brush the pan with a little oil to prevent sticking. Cook over medium-high heat, turning occasionally and removing any fat from the pan as it accumulates during cooking. Frequent turning is recommended for even doneness and browning.

PUERCO ADOBO

One 12-ounce jar jalapeno peppers, undrained
4 teaspoons oregano
2 cloves garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons ground cumin
4 tablespoons cider vinegar
4 boneless pork loin chops (4 ounces each), about 1-inch thick
1 teaspoon oil

For marinade, combine peppers, oregano, garlic, cumin and vinegar in a blender container. Puree. Marinate chops in this mixture for 4 to 24 hours. Heat oil in large skillet; panbroil chops 5 minutes on each side. Test for doneness. Makes 4 servings.

To test for doneness: Gentle pressure with a fingertip on the surface of the meat can reflect the degree of doneness: soft-to-the-touch meat is rare, some resistance indicates medium and firm-to-the-touch is well done.

SOUTHWESTERN MUFFINS

1 cup flour
1 cup cornmeal
2 tablespoons sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
⅛ teaspoon cumin
¾ teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
4 tablespoons vegetable oil
One 8-ounce can corn kernels with red pepper, drained

Stir together the flour, cornmeal, sugar, baking powder, cumin and salt. Blend the eggs with the milk, vegetable oil and corn kernels. Combine flour mixture with the egg mixture, stirring just until moistened. Spoon batter into greased muffin pans, filling two-thirds full. Bake in a preheated 425-degree F oven for 12 to 14 minutes. Makes 12 muffins.

PEPPERED CARROT SALAD

4 large carrots
1 tablespoon olive oil
2 tablespoons white-wine vinegar
½ teaspoon cracked black pepper
⅛ teaspoon nutmeg
Salt to taste

Peel the carrots, cut into thin slices. Boil in 1 quart water about 2 minutes, until crisp-tender. Toss carrot sticks gently with 1 tablespoon olive oil, white-wine vinegar, cracked black pepper, nutmeg and salt. Cover and refrigerate overnight, if desired. Serve cool or at room temperature. Makes 4 servings.

Payne-Biggs rematch

Livonia heavyweight Craig Payne (5-1-1) will take on Philadelphia native and 1984 Olympic gold medalist Tyrell Biggs (23-4), beginning at 8 p.m. Tuesday as part of the Budweiser Fight Night at the Palace series, presented by Metro 25 Tires.

The bout is a rematch of the '84 Olympic Trials finals when Biggs won a controversial 3-2 decision to make the U.S. squad. As amateurs, Biggs holds a 3-2 series edge against Payne, a former National Golden Gloves champion.

Craig Payne

Biggs rang up a 15-0 pro record before losing on a devastating knockout to former heavyweight champion Mike Tyson in October of '87.

Payne, who owns amateur wins against three-time Olympic gold medalist Teofilo Stevenson of Cuba and Tyson, most recently scored a knockout (June 19) against Canadian heavyweight champion Conroy Nelson, bouncing back from a loss to Ohioan Ty Evans on a previous Palace card.

Evans will also appear on the Palace card along with Texan junior middleweight Stephen Martinez, Dearborn's Tarick Salmaci, Monroe's Bronco McKart and Detroit's Terry Pitts.

Tickets are available for $20, $15 and $10 (general admission) at all Ticketmaster outlets including Hudson's, Harmony House and Great Stuff stores. Tickets can also be charged by phone to American Express, Visa or MasterCard by calling 645-6666.

For more information, call the Palace Box Office at 377-0100.

Hawks win title

The Michigan Hawks, an under-16 girls soccer team, beat Livonia Youth Soccer Club United, 2-1, to win its division recently at the Troy Classic VII Tournament.

The Hawks, coached by Paul Scicluna and Ken Hamman, also defeated the Troy Chargers in a semi-final match, 3-1. They added wins against the BSFC Blazers of Birmingham, the Rochester Hills Rockers and the Guelph, Ontario Royals in pool play.

Patriots shave Harrison in OT

Livonia Franklin came through in overtime to beat perennial state football power Harrison, 3-0, to remain unbeaten. Veteran Patriots coach Armand Vigna had his head shaved to celebrate the win.

STAFF WRITER

Dave Little had prepared too thoroughly for just the precise moment, and he wasn't about to let it slip away unfulfilled.

His 20-yard field goal in overtime Saturday boosted Livonia Franklin's football record to 3-0 with a monumental victory over visiting Farmington Hills Harrison.

"All summer long, me and (holder) Josh Reynolds dreamed about it and practiced it — a last-second field goal against Harrison," Little said.

"When it came down to that, he looked at me and I looked at him, and we knew we weren't going to miss it."

The defeat of four-time Western Lakes Activities Association champion Harrison (2-1) was historic, ending a 19-game regular season win streak.

The Hawks, the defending league champs, have lost only three Western Division games since the WLAA was organized in 1982, and Franklin now has two of those victories — the last coming in 1985.

"We had pinned our season on it," said Franklin coach Armand Vigna, who kept a pledge to his players and allowed them to shave his head after the game.

"We set two goals — to beat Harrison and make the playoffs. Now we're going to have an intermediate goal. Let's try and win the division and, if we do that, we'll go for the championship. If do all of that, the playoffs will take care of themselves."

Franklin won the coin toss and chose to play defense first in overtime. A sack, an incomplete pass and a short run led to a missed 30-yard field goal by Brock Gove.

The Patriots gained 7 yards on two running plays before Little, who also plays quarterback and is the team's emotional leader, kicked his game-winner on third down.

"We have a lot of confidence in ourselves," said Little, sizing up the significance of the victory, "and it's a great boost to make the playoffs and go all the way — and we believe we will."

Neither team could do much offensively for four quarters.

The Patriots outgained Harrison 144-133. John Glenn (21 carries) gained 71 of Franklin's 84 rushing yards and Little completed four of 12 passes for 60 yards.

Harrison rushed for 72 of its 109 rushing total in the last quarter, especially late, when the Patriots were playing a little loose. Fullback Nick Williams got most of those late yards, finishing with 80 on 12 carries.

Quarterback Jeff Cislo, who didn't start the game after injuring a shoulder in the previous game, entered early in the first quarter when Harrison had trouble running wide and ended up three of 14 for 21 yards.

"I thought our kids played hard and well on defense; we just couldn't get anything going offensively," Harrison coach John Herrington said. "They overpowered us pretty much at the line of scrimmage.

"They stopped us early on the outside, and their pass rush was a little too strong. We hoped to catch them on first down in overtime with a pass, but the pass rush got us again."

Harrison's best scoring chance came late in the first half when a Cislo pass from field-goal formation was broken up by Clemente Herrera near the goal line.

"I told my kids, in as many years as I've been here (28, the last 18 as head coach), I can never remember our defense handling a first-class program's offense the way we did today," Vigna said.

The Patriots had bad field position in the first half, but let several opportunities get away in the second.

Dennis Madden's interception and a short punt gave Franklin the ball at the 50 and Harrison 39, but the Patriots had to punt each time.

C'ville coach elated with '1st victory'

Russ McKenzie took over the reins of the Livonia Clarenceville football program after Mark Ladd resigned last season and guided the Trojans to one win in their final five games.

But McKenzie considered Fridays' 25-0 romp of visiting Lutheran Westland his first victory as the school's head coach.

"Last season, it wasn't my team," an ecstatic McKenzie said. "This is my team and I'm viewing this as my first win. This is a proud moment for me. It feels great."

The Trojans played a near-flawless game and dominated from start to finish, scoring one touchdown in every quarter. Clarenceville held a 19-4 advantage in first downs and outgained Westland 426-124 in total yardage.

"We lost the game on the line," Warriors coach Dennis Tuomi said. "You have to give them credit. They executed well and played with more intensity than we did."

Clarenceville improved to 1-2 and 1-1 in the Metro Conference's West Division. The Warriors are 1-2 overall and 0-2 in the Metro.

Clarenceville took the opening kickoff and marched 66 yards in seven plays — all rushes — to score the only points it would need.

After a 14-yard run by senior tailback Carl Holston and a 12-yard run sprint by Mark Juncaj, the Trojans faced a fourth-and-5 at the Warriors' 36-yard line. Senior quarterback Ryan McEwen kept the ball on a bootleg and scampered over his left end into the end zone. The two-point conversion failed.

Breaking free: Mark Juncaj (right) of Livonia Clarenceville turns the corner against Lutheran High Westland's Matt Russian during Friday's Metro Conference encounter. Clarenceville earned its first victory of the season against the Warriors, 25-0. Both teams are 1-2 overall.

On Clarenceville's next possession, McEwen connected on a 23-yard pass with Mark Kaljevic and a 20-yarder with David Horvath to set up the Trojans' second score.

The 11-play, 85-yard drive was capped on a Holston 8-yard touchdown run. The conversion again failed and the Trojans led 12-0.

"Ball control is my game," McKenzie said. "I thought our offensive line and our three running backs, along with our quarterback, all played well tonight."

McEwen completed three passes for 102 yards and gained 46 yards on four carries. Holston rushed 19 times for 142 yards and Juncaj had 86 yards on eight carries.

"We knew they had a stingy defense," McKenzie added. "They constantly change their defense. They never show you the same defense twice. I thought we did a good job recognizing and picking up their defenses."

Clarenceville threatened again before the half after McEwen hit Juncaj on a 53-yard pass play, but the drive stalled.

Senior Tod Soop's two-yard touchdown run culminated a 10-play, 53-yard drive that took 6:07 and increased the Trojan's lead to 18-0 midway through the third quarter.

The Warriors finally showed some signs of life when Jon Smolka returned the ensuing kickoff to the Clarenceville 43. But two straight penalties forced Westland to punt.

The Trojans needed only seven plays and 2:30 to score their final points. The drive feature runs of 16, 13 and 11 yards by Holston, and runs of 30 and 10 yards by Juncaj.

Juncaj muscled the ball in from 6 yards out to make it 24-0. Miguel DeAndres extra point split the uprights and was the game's final score.

A fumble recovery by Chad Olson at their own 45-yard line gave the Warriors one last opportunity to score. Junior quarterback Jim Hoeft hit Jeff Lichtner over the middle with his only completion of the game. But Lichtner fumbled the ball at Clarenceville's 29 where the Trojans recovered.

Junior tailback Steve Faith led the Warriors offensive attack with 45 yards on 10 carries.

Clarenceville will face Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook this week, the conference favorite, but McKenzie and McEwen are optimistic about the Trojans' chances.

"It should be a barn-burner," McKenzie said.

"I think we will take Cranbrook," said the quarterback.

'Super seniors' eye Canton tournament

Bob Kaump recalled the time he and his age-50-plus teammates took the field for a softball game against younger men in a 35-and-over league.

"There was some chuckling as we walked up," he said. "But the chuckling changed to 'Hey, these guys can play some ball' by the time we got to the middle innings.

"We like playing against younger competition — and if we lose that's OK -- because it gets us ready for our own age bracket."

National Trails, which includes Kaump and many other Observerland players, is one of 103 teams competing this week in the Senior Softball World Series at Canton Softball Center, located on Michigan Avenue, just west of I-275.

Teams from the U.S and Canada will play for championships in six age groups: over-50, 55, 60, 65, 70 and (for the first time) 75.

The opening ceremonies take place Wednesday morning, and the games begin at 10 a.m. Games start at 8 a.m. (until late evening), Thursday through Saturday. The finals are scheduled for 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

The Kids 'N Cubs from Florida, a team of octogenarians who have been the subject of features on national television, are entered in the 75-over bracket.

The team uniform of long white pants, white shirts and black bow ties distinguishes its members. One of its players, former Michigan resident George (Buck) Bakewell, is the oldest in the World Series at 100.

SOFTBALL

Al Moran of Farmington Hills, the second baseman for National Trails and assistant baseball coach at Redford Catholic Central, is one of the many former pros. He was the starting shortstop for the New York Mets in the early 1960s.

"If we don't get hurt, we should do pretty well," Moran said, adding the team has had a lot of recent injuries. "Our chance of winning is just as good as six or seven others. We could play a possible 12 games in four or five days, and that's a lot of games for 50-and-over players."

In its preliminary games, National Trails plays Vancouver at 5:30 p.m. and the Legends at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday. It plays the California Classics at 5 p.m. and the Rhode Island Colts at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

"Some people scoff at this, but those who come out will see pretty good softball because there are very few bad teams in this," said Kaump, a Redford resident who teaches in Farmington.

Other area players on the Trails roster are Bob Delfgauw of Redford; Vaughn Covert, Don Dombey, Chuck Hebestreit and Ken Johnson of Livonia; Milo Karhu of Farmington Hills; Joe Martin, John Fawcett, Paul (Pete) Woodard and Gerry Ratkewicz of Plymouth-Canton; Jim Newman and Don Phillippi of Northville.

David Storvis and John Sprys are former Redford residents. Other players are Joe Gamrat, Dave Puez and Jon Raniszewski. Plymouth's Terry Lockey is the manager and Redford's Bill Hannan a coach.

Hebestreit is the former girls basketball and softball coach at Livonia Stevenson, Johnson is the superintendent of Redford Union Schools and Karhu is a former assistant high school principal at RU. Martin and Fawcett played baseball in the Detroit and Kansas City farm systems.

Phillippi, a former high school and college basketball official, is the pitcher. The starting lineup has Martin (.516) at catcher, Raniszewski (.521) first base, Moran (.445) second, Karhu (.608) shortstop, Woodard (.650) third and Kaump (.627), Delfgauw (.559), Hebestreit (.549) and Covert (.448) in the outfield. Johnson (.539) is the extra batter. Averages reflect 65-game totals.

National Trails is 47-18 and advanced to the SSWS by finishing second in a Mount Clemens qualifying tournament and subsequently won a London (Ontario) qualifier.

"We compete quite well in our (35-plus) league," Kaump said, adding National Trails hasn't played many 50-and-over teams. "It gives us an edge. That's why we're in it.

"A lot of base hits that are taken away from us in the 35-and-over league fall in against the 50-and-over teams."

Wayne County Executive Ed McNamara's office is responsible for bringing the SSWS to this area, and Little Caesars and Northwest Airlines are major sponsors. Little Caesars owner Mike Ilitch will host a welcoming party for all involved Tuesday at the Fox Theatre.

Spartans end Patriots' jinx, 71-23

■ BASKETBALL

Livonia Stevenson's 14-game losing streak against city rival Franklin came to a screeching halt Thursday.

The Spartans scored early and often en route to a 71-23 girls basketball victory over the Patriots.

Not even the ghost of former all-state guard Franklin Dawn Warner, now playing for national power Western Kentucky, could put fear into the unbeaten Spartans (4-0), who raced out to a 22-4 first-quarter advantage.

Senior guard Lori Shingledecker scored her team's first seven points on her way to a game-high 16. She also dished out four assists.

Franklin couldn't recover from the Stevenson's blitzing full-court press. The Patriots committed 22 first-half turnovers and found themselves behind 38-11 at intermission.

"Stevenson is near the top of our league," Franklin first-year coach Mary Jarvis said. "And they're all tall, too.

"We just have to take it from here and learn from this. Other teams are going to throw presses at us again. We can't panic like we did tonight. We just rushed things and were not thinking, then we'd hesitate. Hopefully in the future we'll handle it better."

By the time the evening was over, nine of Stevenson's 11 players had scored.

Junior point-guard Mo Drabicki contributed 12 points, six steals and five assists, while freshman center Stacey Nichols, filling in for the injured Patty Diamond (thumb), added 12 points and nine rebounds.

Julie Martin, a 6-2 senior center, and reserve forward Jill Van Tiem each added eight points.

"We wanted to try to get better rotation on our press and take away certain passes," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said. "At least tonight we were in position. I felt defensively we accomplished something."

Stevenson, shooting 63 percent from the field (34 for 54), scored in all kinds of ways, inside and outside.

"When your pressing and stealing the ball like we did, you're not getting the ball into your big people," Henry said. "Buf when we did set things up in the half-court, I liked the way we got the ball inside.

"And our third goal was to make good defensive slids to take away layups. We did a good job at that, but we have a ways to go in a lot other areas."

The loss drops Franklin to 1-3 overall.

Junior forward Lisa Craven was the only Patriot to score in double figures (10).

"We're rebuilding this year," Jarvis said, who plays four sophomores, two juniors, two seniors and a freshman (Tracy Rynkiewicz). "We're just young. It takes time and experience."

Late goal nips Chargers

Alan Samouelian was the hero Wednesday, leading visiting Plymouth Canton to a 1-0 boys soccer victory over Livonia Churchill.

Canton, rated No. 7 in Class A, improved to 5-2-1 overall and 2-1 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Samouelian broke open the tightly contested game by scoring on a scramble with 47 seconds left to beat Churchill goalkeeper Kal Kaliszewski. Jeff Fliss assisted on the game-winner.

Goalie Ryan Henkel posted the shutout for victorious Canton.

The loss dropped No. 10 ranked Churchill to 3-2-2 overall and 2-1-1 in the division.

■ STEVENSON 3, PIONEER 2: Defending state Class A champion Livonia Stevenson improved to 4-1-2 overall with a non-league win Thursday at Ann Arbor Pioneer.

Adam Pichler notched the game-winning goal, his fifth of the season from Jeff Thomas with only five minutes remaining.

Stevenson led 2-1 at halftime on goals by Pichler, from sophomore Nick Deren; and Deren, from freshman Scott Sersen.

Steve Weller (senior) and Jim Grewe (freshman) split time in the Stevenson goal.

■ SALEM 4, FRANKLIN 1: Ryan Phipps had two goals and one assist Wednesday, leading No. 2 ranked Plymouth Salem (8-0-1) past visiting Livonia Franklin (6-2-1).

Brian Wright and Doug Harriman each added goals for the winners, while Mark MacInnis contributed two assists.

Dave Steinert had the lone Franklin goal on a second-half restart.

"I think it was a very well-played game between both teams," Franklin coach Frantz Lamarre said. "The difference was that Salem was ready for the game, while we came out and watched the first half."

Clarenceville cools off Cook for 49-40 cage victory

Livonia Clarenceville came alive in the second half, outscoring Taylor Baptist Park 25-13 to gain a 49-40 girls basketball win Thursday over the visiting Wildcats in a non-leaguer.

Point-guard Lisa Cook scored 24 of her game-high 31 points in the opening half for Baptist Park (2-1), which enjoyed a 27-24 halftime lead.

But Cook could muster only seven second-half points.

"We pinched on top (of the key) and didn't let her penetrate," said Clarenceville coach Bob Wolf, who switched from a man-to-man to zone defense.

Clarenceville (2-2) countered Cook 's performance with a more balanced attack.

Senior guard Bree Lyons scored 14, including eight in the third quarter when the Trojans outscored Baptist Park, 16-3.

Sophomore center Wendy Roy added 13 points for the winners.

Huron Valley wins

Junior center Rachel Doletzky grabbed 18 rebounds to spark Westland Huron Valley Lutheran (2-2) past host Michigan School of the Deaf (0-4) in a non-leaguer, 38-20.

Senior guard Brenda Mayworm scored 14 points and freshman guard Mamie Vanderburgh added 12 for the victorious Hawks, who led 25-9 at halftime.

Warriors' rally fails

Lutheran High Westland (2-3) couldn't quite overcome a 21-4 deficit Thursday as visiting Flat Rock escaped with a 39-37 victory.

The host Warriors found themselves down 17 points midway through the second period, but mounted a 16-4 run to get back in it at halftime, trailing by only five, 25-20.

Flat Rock scored the game-winning basket with only 17 seconds left. Lutheran Westland tried to tie it, but the rebound fell out of bounds into the Rams' possession with only five seconds remaining.

Senior forward Sarah Pfeiffer scored eight of her team-high 10 points in the second quarter, while senior forward Lori Mackay finished with seven points and 10 rebounds.

John Glenn stopped

Poor free throw shooting (10 for 27) and turnovers led Thursday to host Westland John Glenn's undoing, as the host Rockets fell to Walled Lake Western, 54-42.

It was the Western Lakes Activities Association opener for both teams.

Sophomore guard Erin Vicary led the victorious Warriors (3-3, 1-0) with 17 points. Senior forward Nicole Jacques added 16.

Sophomore center Kelly Klene led John Glenn (0-1, 1-4) with 10 points, while junior guard Michelle Molitor added nine.

Rocks crush Churchill

On Thursday, host Plymouth Salem jumped out to a 26-4 first-quarter lead and went on to pound Livonia Churchill in a WLAA encounter, 65-30.

Cyndi Platter, a 5-10 senior center, scored 10 of her 15 points during the opening period.

Christy Parimucha added a pair of three-pointers during the surge, while Tonya Wheeler and Leslie Gotts each contributed four.

Chrissy Daly, who had all four Churchill points in the opening quarter, finished with a game-high 21.

Stevenson wins pair of golf matches

Livonia Stevenson won a pair of boys golf matches last week to run its overall dual meet record to 3-1.

The Spartans defeated Northville in a Western Lakes match Wednesday at Whispering Willows, 208-213, as Matt Telepo took medalist honors with a 39.

Stevenson's top two scorers were Todd Lensing and Chris Deren, each carding 41s. Mark Peterson, Ryan Gusick and Mark Magnusson each added 42s.

Earlier in the week, Peterson shot a 36 at Edgewood Country Club as Stevenson beat Walled Lake Central, 195-215.

Lensing added a 37, while Magnusson carded a 39.

Ocelots beat familiar foes

Some former Schoolcraft College spikers had it in for the old school Thursday.

After spotting the Ocelots a two-games-to-none lead, University of Michigan-Dearborn came storming back. They won the next two games, but then their rally stalled as SC was able to pull out a victory, 15-1, 15-12, 15-17, 10-15, 15-10 at SC.

"We got off the mark and they slid right in," said SC assistant coach Alisha Love, who filled in most of the match for Tom Teeters, who was ill. "It was an uprising of former Schoolcraft players."

That uprising was led by Kari Domanski and Angie Lankford.

SC, now 5-1 for the season, got nine kills and 17 digs from Julie Wood; six kills and 13 assists-to-kills from Nancy Ehlert; three service aces and eight assists from Tracia Clendenen; and, according to Love, an outstanding defensive showing from Jennifer Damphousse, who had 52 digs.

Madonna trumps Cards

Madonna University, an NAIA school, traveled north Thursday and knocked off Division II Saginaw Valley State University, 15-4, 15-17, 15-6, 13-15, 15-4.

The win improved Madonna to 11-3 overall and gets the Crusaders ready for the NAIA District 23 home opener at 7 p.m. Tuesday against Siena Heights.

Madonna missed 25 serves at inopportune times, according to coach Jerry Abraham, but Elena Oparka had a .461 hitting percentage and a school-record 37 kills. Tonia Smith had 27 kills and Dana Hicks registered 19 kills.

"Offensively we were just super," Abraham said.

Calhoun paces Wayne

■ FOOTBALL

Senior tailback Bruce Calhoun rushed for 176 and two touchdowns, while senior quarterback Tim Mate figured in three other scores Friday as Wayne Memorial earned its first victory of the season with a 35-27 Wolverine A League football triumph over visiting Trenton.

Wayne (1-2 overall) opened up a 15-0 first-quarter lead.

Mate hit junior Jason Overton on a 14-yard TD toss. (Kicker Jim McEwen scored on a fake two-point conversion.) Calhoun then capped a 78-yard drive with a 1-yard run. (McEwen added the extra point.)

At 9:07 of the second period, Trenton answered when quarterback Greg Wheatley, who completed 17 of 29 passes for 179 yards on the night, scored on a 1-yard run.

At 7:22, Mate connected on a 61-yard TD pass to Calhoun. And with just four seconds remaining in the half, Mate scored on a 4-yard run.

After a scoreless third quarter, Calhoun broke loose for a 52-yard touchdown run.

Winless Trenton then answered with a pair of late scores — Wheatley capping a 63-yard, 10-play drive with a 1-yard sneak at 3:19; and Ryan Woodard with a 2-yard run, ending a 52-yard, 13-play drive with 1:35 to go.

But it was too little, too late for the Trojans.

John Glenn orbits to lopsided 41-0 victory

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It was apparent from the opening kickoff that Westland John Glenn would have the upper hand on Farmington.

The Rockets took only 37 seconds to score their first touchdown and added five more before the afternoon was over en route to a 41-0 victory Saturday over the host Falcons in the Lakes Division football opener.

Glenn is 3-0 overall, while Farmington drops to 0-3.

Derek Besco's crunching hit on Farmington kick returner Harvey Hicks set the tone for the ball game.

The ball popped straight up in the air and Glenn's Matt Graca recovered at the Farmington 3-yard line.

"I think our kids were a little intimidated by Glenn," Farmington coach Bernie Call said. "We worked all week on bunching up all our blockers in front of the return man, but we let the first guy down hit him. It was a combination of a blocking breakdown and not protecting the ball.

"You just can't give a team like Glenn the ball on the 3 to start the game."

Junior tailback Joe Paddock, who led all rushers with 98 yards in 12 carries, scored on the game's first play from scrimmage. He added another TD, a 1-yard run on Glenn's next possession, to make it 14-0.

The Rockets added a third TD later in the quarter when Besco scored on a 33-yard sweep. (The score was set up by John Miller's fumble recovery.)

Quarterback Bryan Morrison, who was five of eight on the day for 84 yards, contributed a 6-yard scoring pass to Besco in the third quarter, while Ryan Nastal and Tariq Horne added TD runs of 10 and 1, respectively, to close out the scoring.

Glenn had 10 different players carry for net yardage. The Rockets racked up 304 total yards, including 228 on the ground.

Farmington was held to 56 yards total.

"It's always good to start league play with a win," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said. "I think we have more balance than we've had in the past, and consequently it's harder to defense us, and hopefully we're not as predictable."

Farmington managed six first downs (to Glenn's 10), but couldn't sustain any drives. The Falcons were penalized nine times for 74 yards.

"We've got to get the mistakes out of our system," Call said. "It's typical. We can't find the right people to do the right things at the right times. We just don't make mistakes, we make big mistakes."

The Falcons played their best quarter in the second when they held the Rockets to minus-1 yard total. Linebacker Ryan Lewis had two sacks during the period, but Farmington fans had little else to cheer about.

"Glenn has a good mix of the run and pass. They do everything well," Call said.

Coaching school provided

How would you like to be a bowling coach?

Anyone interested can go to the "Ten Pin University," which is a coaching instructors' school held Sunday, Oct. 11, at Drakeshire Lanes in Farmington Hills and Sunday, Nov. 1 at Bowl One Lanes in Troy.

■ 10-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

Both dates will have a 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. schedule and classes are limited to 48 people. The fee is $16 for either of the one-day schools. The program is aimed at coaching youth bowlers, and certification as Youth Amateur Bowling Association coach goes along with the program.

All coaches, parents or interested parties are encouraged to participate whether involved in YABA or Michigan Bowlers Association Program. For more details, call Ed Wright at 477-5047.

Breaking new ground

The Ladies All-Star Bowlerettes are enjoying their 47th year of competition, but their first season at a new venue — Cloverlanes in Livonia. The opening of the season had a few nice surprises as the Metrostaff team fired a 3,263 series to come within 17 pins of the league's all-time record.

Adding to the excitement, Bev Schiff had the place buzzing with a 300 game. The All-Star Bowlerettes are in action on Monday nights at 8:30 p.m. The league roster is filled with some of the best female bowlers from this area.

Bowlers needed

Bel-Aire Lanes needs bowlers for an after-work league that is held at 5:30 p.m. Thursdays. This is a Trio league, any combination. A good time slot for office workers.

Entries are being taken at Classic Lanes in Rochester Hills for the Best 3-of-4 Tournament being held under the auspices of the Pontiac women's 600 club. First place is $250 and the date of the event is Oct. 11 at 12 noon. For details, call Classis Lanes at 852-9100.

Budding star

Brian Aubuchon, a 15-year-old youth bowler from Rochester Hills won $400 in scholarship money for finishing fourth in a field of 440 in the Michigan State YABA Scholarship Tournament.

Parents, athletes leery of scouting service

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

As a recruiter for Scouting Report of Michigan, Jeff Silverman promised to help high school athletes find a college scholarship.

But for now, two families who paid $650 each to contract with Scouting Report are only interested in finding Silverman — who from all accounts moved to California in June.

Plymouth Township residents Pam and Lee Westerhold said they signed up their daughter, Amy Westerhold, a Canton High basketball player, last Jan. 29 after receiving a Scouting Report brochure in the mail.

A Redford Township resident who asked not to be named said she signed up her son, a baseball player at Thurston High, last February after reading an article about Scouting Report in the Observer.

When interviewed last January by the Observer, Silverman said he helps athletes who sign up with Scouting Report get exposure to every college and university in the country throughout his/her high school career.

Silverman said he would send periodic profiles, complete with statistics and personality traits, and highlight videos. Silverman, 34 at the time of the interview, said he had 28 clients and there's at least "another 1,500 out there."

But the two families said Silverman's correspondence lasted only a couple of months after he received the checks made out in his name and he fell short of his promises.

Silverman worked at a residence on Briarton Street in Farmington Hills but moved to California in June, according to a current resident at the address. A woman at that house, who identified herself as the wife of Silverman's former roommate, told a reporter "if I talk to him (Silverman) I'll tell him you stopped by."

Silverman's mother, a Farmington Hills resident who refused to give her first name, confirmed over the telephone Tuesday night that her son moved to California. She said she did not know his phone number, occupation or whereabouts in California.

"I sort of lost touch with him," she said. "When I talk to him, I'll let him know you called."

Caught off guard

Amy Westerhold is a senior guard for Canton's undefeated girls basketball team. She was a starter last year when the Chiefs advanced to the Class A semifinals before losing to eventual champion Detroit Martin Luther King.

Westerhold signed up with Scouting Report last January but the family hasn't seen or heard from Silverman since March, Pam Westerhold said.

The Westerholds used to be able to call Silverman and at least get an answering machine. Lately, the phone just rings. Now she's thinking of calling the Better Business Bureau.

(Pam Westerhold said she called Michigan Bell which confirmed Silverman's Scouting Report phone number has not been disconnected and has been in service since April, 1991.)

"I was getting suspicious this summer simply because Amy was not getting literature from colleges," Pam Westerhold said. "I thought this is her senior summer, she should get mail now. Getting Amy exposure was our interest. I sent him a schedule two weeks ago and wrote 'We're still waiting; we need the videotape you promised.'"

Pam Westerhold said about three weeks after signing up with Scouting Report, Silverman made a profile of Westerhold. The profile included the player's picture, statistics and personality traits. Silverman sent 50 copies of the profile to the Westerhold home to be proofread, Pam Westerhold said.

"I thought it was too flowery; it wasn't all Amy," Pam Westerhold said. "He said she was an 85-percent free throw shooter, and I don't know where he got that. He wrote that 'there are far too many awards in this young women's life to name here.' That's not true. He said she carried a 3.4 grade-point average when we told him 3.2 or 3.3. And he mentioned she would be 'very helpful to academic underachievers.'"

It also had a typo.

"It looked poor," she said. "I sent it back, circled the error and said 'correct this.' I never got anything back from him."

Pam Westerhold said they left messages on Silverman's answering machine to have him come out and videotape the AAU state championship last March at Canton High School. But he never showed, she said.

Pam Westerhold said Silverman promised her daughter $50 for each friend she convinced to sign up with Scouting Report.

"I'm glad she didn't (give brochures out); you'd just feel bad," Pam Westerhold said. "We'd like our money back; that would be it at this point."

A convincing story

After the Scouting Report story appeared in the Observer, the Redford Township resident thought the service was a good idea but her husband didn't.

"Our first contact (with Silverman) was by phone. I had him come out to the house and that's when my other half (her husband) had a fit," the woman said. "My husband was completely against it. I just figured, well, it's going to work out and tried to prove he was wrong."

So the woman and her mother split the $650 cost to sign up the Thurston athlete, who was a sophomore on the Thurston baseball team.

The woman said Silverman communicated by telephone for two to three months, but he never showed up again in person. No personal profile was made, and Silverman never attended a Thurston baseball game, she said.

"The end of the season came up and I wanted to give him some stats, but I was never able to get a hold of him," she said. "There used to be a recorder on at his home and he'd always call back. I feel like I really got screwed."

Not all believed

Erin Lucas, a junior guard at Livonia Ladywood, talked highly of Silverman in the Observer article: "I talk to Jeff about once a week, and he makes sure my grade point average is up and stays on top of us," she was quoted as saying. "Without this, I could not get as much exposure, writing colleges on my own."

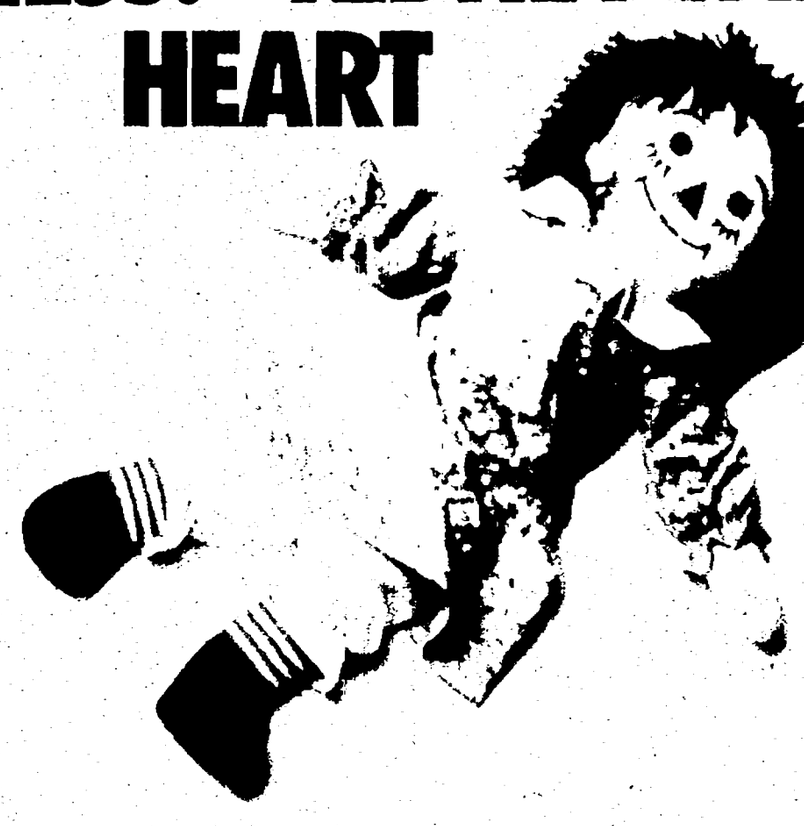
Lucas, who transferred to Ladywood from West Bloomfield High, had a different story to tell Tuesday night.

"He (Silverman) stopped calling me in February," she said.

Lucas said she's almost positive her parents did not pay the full $650 to sign up. Lucas' parents are vacationing in Alaska and were unavailable for comment.

"My dad was sold on it for a while but he decided it wasn't worth it," she said. "He (Silverman) must have broken a few hearts."

BLINDNESS. KIDNEY FAILURE. GANGRENE.
HEART DISEASE.



Just a few of the side effects a diabetic has to live with. Or die with.

Most of us know that diabetics must take daily insulin shots to control their disease. But what many people don't know is that even with the shots, a host of complications can arise. Like blindness. Kidney failure. Gangrene. Heart disease. And nerve damage.

If fact, it's these side effects of diabetes that are so brutal and often life-threatening. So please give to the Juvenile Diabetes Foundation. Because there's only one way to eliminate the complications. Eliminate the disease.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge.
