Ex-cellmate: Man talked of killing

Nearly a year has passed since Frederick Morris of Canton Township was charged with murder in the killing of his former boss, Charles Piper of Westland. The charges in the case — if proven — could put Morris in prison for the rest of his life.

By DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A man who once shared a jail cell with Frederick Morris claims that the Canton Township man talked about killing his former boss, Charles W. Piper of Westland, a prosecutor said Wednesday.

Bradley Topham is prepared to testify today as the murder trial of Morris, 34, enters its fourth day, said assistant Wayne County prosecutor Michael Reynolds. Topham told his story in a pre-trial hearing at which Recorder's Court Judge David Kerwin ruled Topham could testify as a witness for the prosecution, Reynolds said.

Morris is accused of killing Piper, 53, on the evening of Jan. 5, 1992, at Piper's business, Chuck's Cycle Service, in Wayne. Piper, shot in the face and at the base of his skull, was found lying face up on his shop floor about 5:30 p.m.

Following an investigation, Wayne police arrested Morris and charged him with first-degree murder, felony murder, armed robbery and a felony firearms violation. He is accused of killing Piper and stealing a cash box containing about $3,000.

Morris has pleaded not guilty. His trial began Monday before Kerwin.

Topham and Morris shared a cell in Ottawa County after Piper's killing, where Morris was jailed in a case unrelated to Piper's death, Reynolds said.

But defense attorney Donald Johnson said Wednesday he will try to refute Topham's claims by suggesting that he is testifying against Morris to benefit himself. Topham, a habitual offender for such crimes as armed robbery, has already succeeded in getting some charges against him either reduced or dropped, Johnson said.

Morris could face life without a chance for parole in prison if convicted.

Morris and Piper had argued fre-

Event opens students' job doors

Local students received a peek into their futures when they toured vocational/technical and career center open houses held last week by the Wayne-Westland and Livonia school districts.

The events were held to give teens and parents more information on the options available at the two centers. The Wayne-Westland center is on Marquette near Carlson, while the Livonia center is on Newburgh north of Joy. For more on Livonia center's open house, turn to Page 3A.

Engler's tax plan opposed

By MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

If passed, Gov. John Engler's plan to cut property taxes by 20 percent over three years would do "irreparable harm" to the Livonia school district, the Board of Education said in adopting a resolution opposing the plan.

School Superintendent Joseph Marinelli had told trustees, who represent the northern section of Westland, that the district may lose $50 million, or up to half its current budget, over the next three years if Engler's plan to cut property taxes statewide is approved by the Michigan Legislature.

The trustees are as opposed to Engler's plan as they were to Proposal C, an Engler-backed property tax cut plan defeated by voters last November.

"We are vehemently opposed to any form of school property tax reform that does not guarantee, dollar-for-dollar, replacement for lost revenues from state sources," the trustees said. Any further loss of money will "seriously damage the educational welfare of our children" and will impact negatively on local real estate values, the trustees said.

Engler's plan would reduce assessments from the current 50 percent of market value to 40 percent over three years.

Out-of-formula districts such as Livonia will have lost revenue restored only if lawmakers keep a promise to restore it. That promise, added to the plan in the Senate, has no money behind it.

"While the Legislature has added language that addresses replacement revenues, we remain seriously concerned that these revenues may never

Clinton tax plan gets angry response

By CASEY HANS
STAFF WRITER

Everybody's preparing to take a hit, but nobody knows exactly how much the recent tax increase proposals from the White House will eventually affect their families.

While most residents are concerned, some are downright angry.

The U.S. Congress is expected to move ahead in implementing President Bill Clinton's plan, which calls for tax increases for couples who have a taxable income of more than $140,000 per year and singles more than $115,000, plus other tax impacts on taxpayers who make as low as $30,000.

Clinton made the proposals during his economic State of the Union address to Congress Feb. 17. He offered a four-year proposal to cut the deficit by about $500 billion and included plans for both new taxes and spending cuts.

Kirk Najarian, owner of Najarian Electronics in Redford, said he worries about the future of small businesses that may have to shoulder additional taxes and costs, including the cost of a nationalized health care plan.

"He's punishing achievement, and that's not right," said Najarian, a Redford resident who was recently married and who is a former township trustee. He said he earns in the $30,000 to $60,000 range.

"All the speech was, was class warfare — beat up on the rich. Those people with that expendable income . . . are floating the economy and helping businesses like mine. If we put more of a burden on them, they aren't going to have the money to spend."

Najarian said he was also concerned Clinton's plan would "ruin the economy" and that increased taxes won't be applied to reduce the deficit. Other residents in the Observer & Eccentric area echoed his concerns.

Farmington resident and local salesman David Merrill expects a new gas tax to hit his one-income family hard, and said any increase would also eat into disposable income.

"I'm looking for three-four times a month I can't take my wife out — that's what it will mean to me," he said. Merrill, who voted for George Bush, said Clinton "has all good intentions, but he's way off in left field."

Wayne County commissioner Bryan Amann of District 11, which includes Canton Township, said he is hearing skepticism from his constituents about the proposals.

"Clinton has raised expectations so high," he said, "people are skeptical. And they have every reason to be because of past performance" by a Conquently, and one worker at Chuck's Cycle Service told prosecutors that he overheard Piper fire Morris during the summer of 1991, Reynolds said.

That differed from testimony on Tuesday in which Morris' girlfriend, Sharon Broughton, said Morris quit his job because he had been offered a better one.

Reynolds also suggested that Morris needed money and that he was upset over a lawsuit that Broughton had filed against him and Piper. In the still-pending suit, Broughton claims that her 12-year-old son, Frank, suffered burns on his face and body three years ago when he accompanied Morris to Chuck's Cycle Service. Broughton claims that flames burst from a motorcycle carburetor and burned her son.

On Wednesday, Reynolds suggested that Morris had been upset with Piper for refusing to settle the case out of court.

Piper's body was found after he failed to come home from work, and Wayne police were contacted by his fiancée, Sharon Piper. The two had the same last name but were not yet married.

Testimony has indicated that Morris got a pistol from an acquaintance, Robert Sikes.

Piper's body was found after he failed to come home from work, and Wayne police were contacted by his fiancée, Sharon Piper. The two had the same last name but were not yet married.

Authorities are trying to link the bullets from Piper's body with other bullets that Sikes fired from the gun into a pile of brush at his Sumpter Township home. In court Monday, forensic expert John Stanton of the Michigan State Police post in Northville indicated that the same gun "could" have fired the bullets.

However, Johnson said the bullets fired at Sikes' residence were badly disfigured because of the brush they struck — and that prosecutors can't prove they were fired from the same gun that killed Piper.

On Monday, Reynolds said Morris told conflicting stories about leaving town on the same day Piper was killed. Morris told some people he was going to northern Michigan, but told others he planned a trip to Kentucky, Reynolds said.

On Wednesday, testimony indicated that Morris' fingerprints were found on a wine glass at a cottage in Gaylord. The cottage belongs to Charles and Anna Gowan, friends of Morris' girlfriend.

Both the Gowans said they hardly know Morris and that they never knew of him to visit their cottage.

Reynolds also indicated that a 1983 Jimmy truck that belonged to the Gowans had been used at the cottage in their absence. Charles Gowan testified that he noticed his truck had been moved, though he said Morris had never been given the keys.

When asked by Reynolds why Morris' fingerprints would be on the wine glass inside the cottage, Gowan replied, "The only way it would be is if he was in there, I guess."

The trial will be interrupted Friday as Judge Kerwin attends to other court business, but it will continue on Monday.

materialize, or that they will be inadequately distributed and thereby create insurmountable losses for this district," the trustees said.

Jack Kirksey, former Livonia lawmaker and the district's spokesman for legislative matters, called Engler's plan a "fast-track" proposal that the district must reject outright until it knows for sure money lost will be replaced.

"They alluded to a funding mechanism to replace lost funds, but there's no evidence of the source of these funds," Kirksey said.

Marinelli estimated Engler's plan would cost Livonia schools $6.9 million in the first year, $17.5 million the second year, and $26 million the third year.

Engler's plan is one of five major property tax cut and/or school finance reform proposals now being aired by state leaders and school officials.

School officials support one of the five plans — the O/K proposal, named after its architects Olmstead and Kearney. That plan would require the state to pay 50 percent of school costs, plus money from the state lottery. District tax rates would gradually fall to 30 mills.

(One mill is $1 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.)

The district already has lost $12 million in state revenues in the past two years, the trustees said. This loss has led to cuts in programs and the layoff of 102 employees, they said.

"We've done nothing but taken hits over funding," said trustee Richard McKnight. "The only thing they haven't done is haul teachers out of the building, like was done at Lafayette Clinic."

"If you think there's any way we'll get the 20 percent lost in school property taxes, you're whistling 'Dixie.' It looks like they're doing something for taxpayers, but it's a boondoggle."

City man bound over in sex assault on boy

BY BILL COUTANT
STAFF WRITER

According to his attorney, Gerald Joseph Bauer Jr. is the victim of an ugly lie.

It concerns charges of sexual abuse against Bauer brought by an 11-year-old boy distraught over the recent loss of his grandparents and his parents' ongoing marital difficulties, defense attorney David Gorceya.

But Pamela Maas, assistant prosecutor and unit coordinator for child sexual assault for Oakland County, said the Farmington Hills boy came forward because "he didn't want to feel bad anymore."

Judge Fred Harris, in a preliminary exam Monday, found the boy's testimony sufficient to bind Bauer, 31, over for trial in circuit court on one count of first degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts of second degree CSC.

Bauer, a Westland resident and teacher at St. Paul's Elementary School in Northville, will be arraigned before Judge Denise Langford-Morris on March 8. He has taken a paid leave from the school.

Gorceya, the Southfield attorney representing Bauer, painted a picture of a man who knew the alleged victim's family as a friend for several years and became a convenient scapegoat for the child's frustrations.

"It's a question of (the boy's) credibility," Gorceya said after his client's exam in 47th District Court in Farmington. "If there was something occurring before, why did he (alleged victim) wait until now to come forward?"

Gorceya produced a hand-made card from Bauer's 6th-grade students supporting him in his court battle.

"He's been around students of (the boy's) age for a long time," Gorceya said.

Maas said although Bauer had not been implicated in any similar incidents, the boy had mentioned during Monday's testimony that there were other occasions of sexual abuse by Bauer.

"The court found the child's testimony credible," Maas said.

Day in court: Gerald Joseph Bauer Jr. appears at his preliminary examination Monday at 47th District Court in Farmington.

"There was some testimony to indicate that there had been other assaults before the one in January. It had made him feel uncomfortable. And he didn't want to feel bad any more."

Bauer was arraigned on Feb. 12 for the alleged assault. At the time of the alleged incident on Jan. 15, Bauer had been visiting relatives in Farmington Hills.

Maas stipulated and Gorceya agreed to ask that the boy's testimony be given in closed court over concerns that he would be intimidated by television cameras and a crowded court room. Judge Harris concurred.

"He is pretty young," Harris said. "In some cases, I'll hear testimony like that in my chambers."

Bauer, who is married with no children, remains free on bond.

Getting ready for job market

Prospective students get a look into career futures

Getting a good job is a top priority for today's students and two places to be trained are the Livonia school district's Career/Technical Center or the Wayne-Westland district's Ford Vocational/Technical Center.

The two centers opened their doors on separate nights last week to prospective students to acquaint them with the variety of skills taught there.

The annual open house traditionally draws students from the Livonia district's three high schools as well as their parents.

Before fanning out throughout the building, on Newburgh north of Joy, to visit various classrooms, the students and parents listened to Robert Morris speak on the current and future job market.

At the center, students can take courses in business, construction, electronics, manufacturing, marketing, medical, transportation, visual image and design technologies.

At the Ford center, on Marquette near Carlson, crowds jammed the entrance five to 10 minutes before the 6:30 p.m. open house start.

Prospective students and their parents toured classrooms and displays for classes in accounting, computers, automated manufacturing and machining, auto technology, building trades, child care, culinary arts, and data processing.

The Ford center also offers classes in desktop publishing, graphic design, health occupations, heating/air conditioning/refrigeration, industrial electronics, landscaping technologies/greenhouse management, media production, medical assisting, printing technology, welding, cosmetology, auto body repair and building maintenance services.

Pedestrian hit by truck, killed

BY DARRELL CLEM

A Westland woman may have been walking home when she was struck by a motorist and killed Friday in the city's southeast end, police said.

Sharon Ann Mullins, 49, was about a mile from her Powers Street residence when she was killed at 2:39 a.m. Friday while walking west on Van Born, just west of Inkster Road.

Mullins was hit by a westbound Ford Ranger being driven by a 24-year-old Wayne man, who apparently had been drinking at the time, Westland police officer James Dexter said.

Westland police were awaiting results of a blood-alcohol test to determine if the driver was drunk, and it wasn't known Tuesday if he would be charged, Dexter said.

Mullins was walking "in the roadway" when she was hit, Dexter said.

The driver, who stopped at the scene, didn't appear to be speeding at the time, based on the eyewitness account of a Wayne County sheriff's deputy who was patrolling the area, Dexter said.

The speed limit on Van Born is 45 miles per hour. The deputy estimated the man was driving no faster than 40, Dexter said.

Police removed a headlight from the driver's vehicle and checked it to see if it had been illuminated during the night accident, Dexter said. The test showed that the driver's lights "were on," he said.

Police weren't immediately able to identify Mullins, who suffered multiple injuries. But her identity was learned the next evening after relatives notified the Westland Police Department and reported that she was missing, Dexter said.

The description provided by family members matched that of the woman who was struck and killed, and Mullins' identity was confirmed at the county medical examiner's office on the evening after the accident, Dexter said.

Earning for learning

Students find reading has value

BY MARY LOU SONG
STAFF WRITER

■ P.D. GRAHAM

For students at P. D. Graham Elementary School in Westland, it pays to read — literally.

About 370 students participate in the "Accelerated Reader Program," which awards students points for reading. Through the program, students read a book, take a test on a computer and earn points for their scores. The points can be spent as money in the school bookstore.

"The children love it, they hover at it," said Cheryl Dell, a learning consultant. "You'd think we were giving away candy."

The program is relatively new, but principal Sigvard Dietrich said he knows of a few schools in Michigan which are also using the program.

Dell came across the concept last spring in a magazine published by Advantage Learning Systems Inc. The Wisconsin company develops the computer tests. After the PTA made funds available to the school to purchase books, the faculty decided to start the program.

The majority of the program's expense is in the books. According to Dell, about 600 new books have been added to the school's library specifically for the program. As the reading list expands, more books will be needed.

Luckily, the school did not need to purchase new computers to accommodate the program. Students have access to two computers in the library to take their tests.

"The computers go on in the morning and they go off in the afternoon," Dell said.

The program is aimed at third-through sixth-graders. But a few first- and second-graders are also participating. Besides points for the bookstore, children have other incentives for reading and scoring well on the tests.

The class that earns the most points will win a pizza party at the end of the year. Students that earn a 100 percent on a test join the 100 Percent Club.

Dell said the aim of the program is to encourage children to read and to improve a child's reading comprehension.

"It increases a child's critical thinking and problem solving skills," Dell said. "As they are reading, they are needing to comprehend."

Books range in reading levels and are assigned varying readability points. But the reading list is teeming with children's classics like "Charlotte's Web" and "Cricket in Time Square." Series of expository books are also available.

Dell said the program has been a success.

A parent recently told Dell until the program, her child only read comic books.

"The child becomes accelerated because he or she is using the program," Dell said. "It gets what we want — children reading more and better books."

gress that has not addressed the deficit issue.

Canton resident and self-employed businessman Richard Reome spends a lot of time on the road.

"It's going to increase my cost of doing business," he said. "This doesn't seem to be the way to increase the business climate and revitalize things."

Reome, who is in the office products industry, said he sees the effects of a down economy when he calls on businesses. "I'm hearing mostly negative reactions," he added. "I'm seeing a lot of businesses just plain closed up."

Financial counselors said it's tough to determine individual impact until Clinton's plan goes through Congress.

The median income is $44,035 in suburban Wayne County — well above Clinton's $30,000 line of impact. Experts agreed everyone is expected to feel the proposed energy tax if it becomes a reality. Not only would consumers pay at the gas tank and in heating bills, but also in consumer goods because the increased cost of energy to manufacturers may be passed on in price increases.

"My clients are telling me they don't want to pay more taxes unless it goes for deficit reduction," said Tom Hogan, a Livonia financial planner, most of whose clients earn in the $50,000 to $100,000 range, although some earn less. He believes the tax increases will hit those making under $50,000 the hardest.

"The federal government is like your own family budget — the only way to get out of debt is to stop spending," he added. "I think what we should do is not raise taxes, but cut the budget across the board with no sacred cows."

Opinion in the 13th Congressional district is apparently leaning in the same direction. Mike Russell, press secretary to Congressman William D. Ford, D-Ypsilanti Township, said his office received 110 calls on the day after the address, with 70 speaking against the Clinton plan and 40 for it. The district represents residents of Washtenaw and Wayne counties and includes Garden City, Westland, Plymouth, Canton and part of Livonia.

But Russell said the response was not particularly strong. "We didn't have very many calls, considering the magnitude of the issue," he added. "We've had a much larger response on other issues."

Richard Parker of Garden City is one who is concerned. He and his wife live on his $21,000-per-year retirement benefit from Ford Motor and get along fine. He wants to know why government officials can't do with less.

There is some spirited talk around the Buech dinner table in Livonia these days.

Much of it surrounds President Bill Clinton's economic proposals and the future of the country. Represented are the staunch conservative views of Joan Buech, tempered by a more moderate view from her husband, Fred. Joan's mother, Ruth Huse, arrived for a visit the day of Clinton's address, so also has added her opinion to the family forum.

Joan Buech, called Clinton's plan a "shell game."

"The government little by little takes away our freedoms. To say that taxation is contribution — that's putting it mildly," she said. "I'm angry, I'm incensed about it. Until he tells me what these cuts mean, it means nothing. It means diddly squat."

Unlike some Wayne County residents who might support Clinton but oppose his plan, or others who want to give his ideas a chance, both Buech and Huse are vehemently opposed to Clinton and what he stands for and they make no apologies for it.

"It was hard for me to believe in him — you had heard him so many times before," said Huse, a senior who lives in Illinois, about 50 miles south of Chicago with her retired husband. "What bothers me the most is to think that daily living will cost more."

She said a straight tax on everybody would be the fairest way to approach the federal deficit. "They shouldn't pit one group against another," she added. "To me, if they've had the incentive to get ahead, I don't think they should pay more for it."

The Buechs live in the Six Mile/Levan area with their 17-year-old daughter Linda and 14-year-old son Patrick, and survive solely on Fred's salary from Ford Motor Credit. Linda will be going to college next year, and Joan Buech said she is already planning on a family austerity program in light of the recent proposal.

"We will definitely have to cut down the thermostat more," she said. "There will be less going to the store — because this will also impact buying consumer goods too. I've told them we're going to be penny pinching."

Joan and her mother have always stayed involved with politics, calling their elected representatives and voicing their opinions. This time was no exception. "It seems more and more people have become involved in politics lately," Buech added. "If nothing else happens in this mess, maybe it's getting people involved."

Madonna University plans dinner auction

Going once, going twice . . .

A long list of vacation trips, cruises, jewelry and other items will be sold to the highest bidders at the Madonna University "Around the World Scholarship Dinner Auction" Saturday, April 17, in Livonia's Laurel Manor.

Northwest Airlines, which for the fourth year is sponsoring the event, has donated six sets of round trip tickets to a variety of destinations. Up for bid will be airfare to London, Anchorage, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New Orleans and Honolulu.

The evening features a live and silent auction of more than 700 items, open bar and waited dinner. Cost is $60 per person. A special guest appearance wig be made by Terri Sue Liford, Miss Michigan 1992.

Additional gifts include autographed sports items, getaway weekends, tickets to sporting and theater events, art, crystal and more.

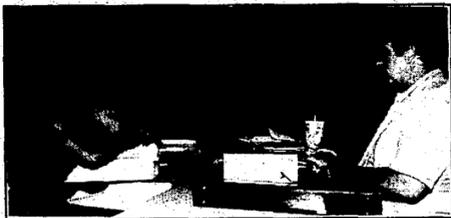

A variety of jewelry will be highlighted, including a Berndt Munsteiner fantasy cut stone courtesy of another auction sponsor, DuQuet Jewelers.

One lucky winner will drive away in a 1993 Don Massey Cadillac Sedan DeVille — only 600 tickets being sold at a cost of $200 each will be sold.

BRIAN GLADWISH

Services for Mr. Gladwish, 52, of Westland were held Feb. 19 from the R. G. and G. R. Harris Funeral Home, Garden City. The Rev. Fred Klutner of St. Kevin Catholic Church officiated.

Mr. Gladwish died Feb. 15 in Garden City Hospital's emergency room following a lengthy illness.

Born March 19, 1940, in Canada, he was a computer analyst for Blue Cross Insurance. He was a graduate of University of Windsor, member of the Knights of Columbus-Immaculate Conception Council, Amaya Alhambra and a clown known as "Freeway" with the group, Wolverine Riders and a Boy Scout leader in Garden City.

and Livonia. A Westland resident for 1 1/2 years, he previously lived in Garden City and Livonia.

Survivors are wife, Nancy; sons, Ray of Westland, Raymond Cronkrite of Westland, Joseph of Westland and Richard Cronkrite of Howell; daughters, Helen Paul of Oak Park and Laura Harrison of Detroit; three grandchildren and one sister.

SARANA RHODA PONDER

Services for Mrs. Ponder, 80, a longtime Garden City resident who moved to Dunnellon, Fla., were held Feb. 16 from the R. G. and G. R. Harris Funeral Home, Garden City with burial in Cadillac Memorial Gardens West, Westland. Rev. Jonathan Allen of Community Baptist Church, Garden City, officiated.

Mrs. Ponder died Feb. 12 in Williston Memorial Hospital, Florida. Born April 16, 1912, in Jasper, Ark., she was a retired Michigan Bell Telephone Co. baker and a former member of Community Baptist Church. She lived in Garden City for 25 years before moving to Florida 25 years ago.

Survivors are husband, William; daughters, Iva Mae Schebor of Garden City, Audrey Thiede of North Carolina and Billie Grabowski of Indian River, Mich.; sons, Fred of Canton Township and Jim of Northville; 12 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren and two sisters.

Optometrist was pioneer in area

One of the area's first optometrists, Dr. George Marston, died Saturday at age 75 in Botsford Hospital, Farmington Hills.

Born in Detroit, Dr. Marston graduated from the Northern Illinois College of Optometry in 1939 and became the first optometrist to practice in Livonia when he opened his practice on Aug. 15, 1940, on Plymouth Road. He practiced there for more than 50 years, the last 12 with daughter Carol.

A member of a suburban Rotary Club, "Doc Marston" had more than 44 years of perfect attendance. He recently was honored for his lifetime contributions when the club's newly established endowment fund was named after him — the George M. Marston Fellowship.

Marston was an active member of numerous professional organizations. He was a past president of the Wayne County Society of Optometrists and was named a Key Person of the Michigan Optometric Association.

He was instrumental in the establishment of the Optometric Institute and Clinic of Detroit, and of the College of Optometry at Ferris State University where he coordinated fund-raising efforts for the MOA Gold Room — a reading and reference room at Ferris.

Marston retired from the U.S. Army as a lieutenant colonel following four years of active duty and 19 years in the Army Reserves. Recently he was active in the Military Order of World Wars and was instrumental in establishing a new chapter in Lansing.

He also was a member of the Fr. Daniel Lord Council of the Knights of Columbus, a member of St. Michael Catholic Church in Livonia, and a member of the church's ushers club.

Funeral services were held in St. Michael Church with burial at Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield. Arrangements were made by Manns-Ferguson Funeral Home, Livonia.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Marston Rotary Foundation, P.O. Box 2421, Livonia 48151.

Survivors include wife Genevieve; sons Blaine and Joseph; daughters Nancy Nowak and Dr. Carol Marston-Foucher, and four grandchildren. He was preceded in death by a brother, Stanley.

Garden writer had local following

BY TOM BAER

Betty Frankel, the longtime newspaper garden writer who died Feb. 21, will be fondly remembered by her many area friends.

"I think many of us may not be able to see flowers without seeing Betty Frankel," said Nancy Bates.

Mrs. Frankel, a victim of cancer at age 69, had been the garden writer for the Detroit Free Press the past 24 years. Before that, she wrote a column on gardening and landscaping for the Observer newspapers.

Her Observer column was very popular, recalled Leonard Poger, an Observer editor who worked with Mrs. Frankel in the late-1960s. "Her columns always generated a lot of phone calls and letters."

Tim Richard, another longtime Observer employee who knew Mrs. Frankel, said of her, "She had a thorough knowledge of her subject, and she always met her deadlines.

"She was a very sweet person," Richard said. "She was easy going and gentle . . . just a very sweet lady."

Mrs. Frankel and husband Richard, owners of R&B Stamp Vending Machine Co., lived in a house on six acres of natural old-growth forest in Farmington Hills.

"She enjoyed living in Farmington," said Richard Frankel. "She was very happy here."

Joe Derek, a naturalist who served on a beautification committee with Mrs. Frankel, said: "She was my gardening idol. For years I collected her articles. I still have them. Her articles were the reason I bought the paper. It was a pleasure to walk with her and learn about wildflowers."

Mrs. Frankel will be remembered for the many classes and talks she gave on gardening and landscaping, her friends said. She was a founder of an Oakland naturalist club.

Survivors, in addition to husband Richard, include: son, Edward of Rancho Cucamonga, Calif.; daughters, Martha Stern of Jerusalem, Israel, and Barbara Wedler of Creve Coeur, Mo.

A memorial service for Mrs. Frankel will be held at 10:45 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, in the auditorium of Harrison High, 29995 W. 12 Mile Road, Farmington Hills.

Spring busting out at Y

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, which serves Garden City and Canton Township, is offering a variety of programs and services for the spring session, to start Monday and continue through April 24.

Scheduled for the April 12-16 week is the spring vacation day camp for school-aged children. The Y will have swimming, games, crafts, fitness exercises and outdoor activities at its facilities on Wayne Road, south of Cherry Hill.

Membership fee for the program, open to youngsters in kindergarten through sixth grade, is $26 for two days; $38.50 for three days and $60 for five days. The fees for non-members are $29 $43.50 and $70, respectively.

Child care services will also be available 7-9 a.m. and 4-6:30 p.m. for no extra charge, the Y said.

The other spring programs include swimming instruction for all ages and skill levels, aerobics, body toning, aquatics, and synchronized swimming.

For elementary school-aged pupils, the Y will sponsor soccer and basketball skills programs.

The Y has finalized its summer camping program, which will start June 21 and continue through Aug. 27. There will be a different theme each week. The camping activities will be held at the Y's facilities.

Brochures listing all schedules and fees are available at the Y, 827 S. Wayne Road, Westland, or by calling 721-7044.

Pilots: Mettetal an asset

BY KEVIN BROWN

STAFF WRITER

Mettetal Airport is a source of wonder to kids and an asset to western Wayne County, the airport's most active pilots stressed in a presentation Monday.

"I know what it means to bring in 500, 600 people for a pancake breakfast on a Sunday, what it means to give scholarships," said Doug Shumard, vice president of the Mettetal chapter of the International Experimental Aircraft Association.

Pilot Bill Kern, who has flown handicapped kids and Boy Scouts for their merit badge program, said getting kids involved at the airport doesn't automatically lead them to aviation.

"But it shows an interesting life awaits if you rise to challenges," Kern said. "There's challenge in the world for them to enjoy."

They were among a half-dozen pilots speaking to a group of about 50 who filled the airport terminal at Joy and Lilley, in a presentation to tout the good things about having a small community airport.

The presentation followed news earlier this month that the state would seek to buy the now private airport, with the federal government providing 90 percent of the cost.

That news sparked outrage from opponents of government operating the airport, as they say federal involvement will lead to expansion.

Some airport opponents also showed for the presentation, telling pilots they didn't want to see runway expansion. They said they also fear that the federal government will condemn surrounding property for clear approaches or expansion.

The pilots said they don't want the airport to expand. "When you're flying a little plane, this is the place to be," said John Bomello of Canton, an airline captain.

He and other pilots stressed that Mettetal was special to them because it did not serve bigger, jet-powered aircraft. They maintained there would never be enough room to expand to serve such larger planes.

"We lose sight of some of the positive things about the airport," said Dan Malone, who runs a flight school and other business operations out of Mettetal.

Kern said two dozen small airports around metro Detroit have closed "in as many years," adding officials have decided "It's time for this stuff (closings) to stop."

Bomello recalled when he used to ride his bike from Redford down the Jeffries freeway before it was finished to Mettetal, for flying lessons.

He recalled the time he noticed a father and son in a car parked at a gas station across from Mettetal watching planes land and take off.

Business flights account for roughly 25 percent of Mettetal's activity, some pilots estimated.

McNamara outlines reforms, vows action

BY SUSAN ROSIEK
STAFF WRITER

A year of innovation and taking chances. That's how Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara described 1993 as he outlined an ambitious agenda for change Wednesday in his state of the county address.

The executive, said Wayne County's world-class problems — crime, poverty, a poor tax and business climate — call for some world-class solutions.

"The way I see it, we have two options. Take action or abandon ship," said McNamara.

The solutions include Metro airport expansion, reforming the county's welfare system by asking the state for control, offering health care to all residents, attacking the crime problem, simplifying the tax structure, reasonable environmental regulations, a rational liability system and a business-friendly climate for employers.

"In the 1990s, skyways will be as important as highways and Wayne County will be ready," said McNamara.

Edward McNamara

"We are ready to begin a $750 million bond sale — the largest public works project in Michigan history — to finance the construction of a new international terminal and two new runways.

"I believe you will see Metro become a major destination for the manufacturers of the world; an asset to manufacturers here; and a source of thousands of new jobs."

McNamara said he intends to seek support from Gov. John Engler and state legislative leaders and will ask them to "cut us some slack and allow us the freedom to experiment."

He was referring in part to his plans for welfare and health care reform, wetlands protection and getting rid of property taxes and replacing them with a sales, or income tax.

McNamara also outlined plans to revitalize the county parks system and step up road repairs.

A new bike path that will stretch from Northville to Dearborn will open this year. This summer more than 60 miles of roads in 42 of 43 communities will be paved, repaved or improved.

Deputy County Executive Michael Duggan said after the speech a new managed health care program for 150,000 of Wayne County's "working poor" will be unveiled in the next few weeks.

Suburban commissioners and suburban government leaders who listened to the speech downtown generally praised McNamara's proposals.

"It's a comprehensive, common-sense approach to problems," said Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, whose district includes Plymouth.

However McCotter and commissioners Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, and Michelle Plawewski, D-Dearborn Heights, said their suburban constituents are more interested in the "nuts and bolts issues" like roads.

Sheriff Robert Ficano of Livonia liked McNamara's "overall positive tone." He also liked the executive's emphasis on safety.

"We have to make sure the crime problem is resolved or else people won't bring their business to Wayne County," said Ficano.

Plymouth City Commissioner Dennis Shrewsbury said he liked McNamara's emphasis on health reform and education.

"I wish everyone in the suburbs understood the concept of paying now or paying later," said Shrewsbury, who called the speech "very gubernatorial."

IMPORTANT

No doubt you're aware of just how important the United Way is to this community. You're aware of the vital services provided by the 145 charities supported by the United Way. But you're probably not aware that we need $5 million more to meet our needs this year. 1.8 million people in Southeastern Michigan are counting on you, and they simply can't afford to go without. That's why we're asking you,

PLEASE join us in an unprecedented effort to raise the needed funds. If you've already given, thank you.

But during this difficult time, please consider giving a little more. If you haven't pledged yet, please

CALL our toll-free hotline.

Unless we raise the necessary funds, many of the charities that we support will be forced to cut back their efforts that help the elderly, the abused, the homeless and the handicapped. So please call

Area cable companies criticize Ameritech's plan

STAFF WRITER

The Baby Bells are clawing their way into the 21st century by offering the Federal Communications Commission a deal they hope cannot be refused. Local cable companies, however, are hoping the FCC will pass over the proposal.

In an attempt to pursue business in all realms of telecommunications, Ameritech executives announced Monday a plan to reorganize their corporate structure and a proposal which would call for full competition in the telecommunications industry.

Ameritech's chairman and chief executive officer William L. Weiss announced that they will open Ameritech's local telephone network to competition in return for the freedom to compete in both its existing and currently prohibited services and the lifting of ceilings on telephone company earnings.

Weiss made the announcement from the Chicago headquarters for Ameritech and the press conference was simultaneously heard by reporters in the Detroit headquarters of Michigan Bell, part of Ameritech.

Ameritech's top executives will submit their proposal to the FCC early next month asking for regulatory reforms that include removing the long-distance restriction on local service providers and the cable TV/telephone cross ownership rules which restrict Ameritech from participating in these markets.

More competition

"We view this proposal as a breakthrough solution for our region that would mark an end to turf battles that have stifled the communications industry, hampered economic expansion and limited the growth of consumer options and services," Weiss said.

"The result would be a fully competitive marketplace wherein the consumer would be the ultimate beneficiary because companies would have to keep prices competitive and quality high in order to succeed."

If regulators find an "even playing field," cable companies may be willing to play ball. If the telephone companies are not required to meet some of the same qualifications as cable companies, then there will be a brawl, local cable operators say.

"The FCC has never been able to come up with a plan that places the same restrictions we face on the telephone companies interested in providing cable service," said Lisa Boland, general manager of Omnicom which services Canton and Plymouth.

Cable concerns

Cable companies are required to operate as franchises and must have studio space. Cable companies also pay a fee for use of telephone poles, a fee phone companies would probably not be assessing themselves.

"The phone companies, like Ameritech, are also much larger and could offset losses in the cable portion of their operations with profits from phone services," Boland said. "Even if this practice were restricted, there would be no way of policing it." Boland is certain that FCC regulators won't fall for a plan that would be too one-sided.

"It isn't really fair that we would have to compete with the phone companies," said Carol Gibson, general manager of MetroVision in Livonia. "They already have all the equipment in place while we had to start from the very beginning and we continue to pay a fee for having our equipment on telephone poles."

Ameritech from page 9

"There is a lot of speculation in the industry about what will happen next," said Gibson. "It's generally a politically safe issue that affects everyone in the congressional district."
Gibson explained that while cable affects most everyone it does not "affect gender, race or religion and therefore does not require an offensive position by government leaders."
Gibson expects the cable lobby to fight the Ameritech proposal.

well as providing greater opportunities for people to work at home saving fuel, reducing pollution and traffic congestion and opening opportunities for the disabled, single parents and people living in remote areas, Weiss said.
This opening of the market would also allow Ameritech to enter into the business of providing entertainment and distributing news.
The technology to provide these services is complicated, but could be readily available.

"We could provide the services our customers want," Weiss said.
Impact on print
Richard Aginian, president of Suburban Communications Corp., the parent company of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, said the Ameritech proposal is just part of the changing world of technology.

Aginian, however, agreed that "We must have a level-playing field."
The O&E, which publishes 12 suburban newspapers in western Wayne and Oakland counties, is experimenting with Voice Information and On-Line computer systems.
"The way we receive communication is all changing. It's dramatic and significant and this is just a small part of it. This (Ameritech) organization recognizes that the market is changing," said Aginian.

If the FCC goes along with the plan or if an agreement can be negotiated which would include opening the local phone network to competition, the system would operate similarly to the current long-distance services. Competing communications companies could establish their own switching center and connect directly to the Ameritech distribution network. The competing company can then provide a dial tone, issue telephone numbers and set rates for local customers choosing that service.

Ameritech provides telecommunications services to about 12 million customers in the Midwest. Its 1992 revenues were $11.2 billion and assets exceed $22 billion.

Details needed
Neither U.S. Rep. William D. Ford nor U.S. Rep. Joe Knollenberg had seen the Ameritech proposal and declined to comment.
Ford, a Democrat, represents Garden City, Westland, Plymouth, Canton and part of Livonia. Knollenberg is a Republican who represents Redford Township, part of Livonia and many communities in southern and north Oakland County.
"The government generally wants to see competition in the industry so we are optimistic," said Robert Hurst, president of Michigan Bell.
Weiss maintains that by opening the opportunities in the area of telecommunications, the consumer will benefit with services once considered science fiction.
Advanced Universal Access, a name given to Ameritech's vision for the telecommunications industry, could result in a transformation of the nation's education and health care system providing greater access to information through the telephone wires, as

How Bell plan affects consumers

The reorganization of the Midwest's largest telecommunications corporation will probably have little effect on the everyday consumer.
The most noticeable change will probably be the phasing out of the Michigan Bell name in lieu of the corporate name — Ameritech.
The restructuring of Ameritech and a proposal which would allow the expansion of the company into all aspects of telecommunications was announced Monday at a teleconference at the Michigan Bell offices in Detroit.
There will be no layoffs or job losses as a result of the restructuring, according to Robert Hurst, president of Michigan Bell.
Ameritech will be reorganized into 12 business units — 11 focusing on specific groups of customers using Ameritech services and one unit that will operate the company's network in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

Variety marks SC schedule

Schoolcraft College is accepting registrations for the following courses beginning next week.
■ Special Events Planning: The four-hour program will be offered from 6-10 p.m. Monday, March 1. The seminar covers how to plan an event for fund-raising, visibility and image building.
■ Pre-retirement planning: The one-day class meets 6-10 p.m. Thursday, March 4. A certified financial planner will help you design your own financial blueprint.
■ Gardening Seminar: A one-day workshop will feature programs on annual flower, perennials, landscape design, landscape renovation, pruning, shade gardens, butterfly-hummingbird gardens, pest management and water gardens. In addition, gardeners will be able to browse through informational displays from more than 20 local garden centers and design firms, shop for books and small items and exchange ideas with other. The one-day seminar is $65 and is slated from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, March 13.
■ Job Hunting Strategies: Sponsored by Schoolcraft's Career Planning and Placement Center, this free two-hour workshop will provide successful strategies for job hunting. Job hunting skills, resume writing and interviewing techniques will be discussed. The one-day workshop from 6-8 p.m. Tuesday, March 30 will be in the Waterman Campus Center. Reservations can be made by calling 462-4421.

The volunteers are Cathie Schneider, Jackie Kaminski, Francis Bauch, Ethel Moore, Margaret Bagley, Flo Pulford, Doug Aubrecht, Kris Sienkiewicz, Keith Kenyon, Gerald Heyer, Palm Haggerty, Vivian Hewitt, Lou Poteau, Mary Jo Heitzman, Boni Morrow, Wallene Poteau, Joanne Nannini, Erica Farris and Diane Kosidlo. Interested persons may contact the agency at 522-4244.

Friendly week

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, which also serves Garden City, is holding a "Friend Week" now through Saturday at the Y, 827 S. Wayne Road. All membership services and most Y programs will be offered. Members may obtain a "Friend Week" contract at the Y's front desk.

Help for seniors

Seniors 60 years and older can get help with outdoor winter chores through the Senior Alliance organization. The agency provides seniors a list of persons who will perform winter jobs at a low cost, said Amy Parrent, Senior Alliance spokeswoman. Once a senior picks a worker, it becomes the senior's responsibility to arrange a work schedule and payment plan. Interested seniors may call 722-2830 for information on the chore referral program. Persons who want to work in the program for a maximum of $6 per hour may also call the same number to get on the referral list.

Roller blading

The City Rollers have a series of instruction programs scheduled this winter and spring at the Joe Louis Arena, Detroit. The Rollers and Kryptonics will present in-line skating 6-9:30 p.m., March 3, 8, 15, and 24 and April 2. Membership fees are $25 a year with a first-timer special fee of $10 to be good for an evening skate and free demo skates. Membership fee will cover free demo skates, organized workouts, free lessons and parking. Interested persons may the group's hotline number of 824-0011.

Benefit planned: Michelle Elswood enjoys programs sponsored by the Easter Seal Society which will hold a telethon next month to raise funds.

5-year-old won't let 2 disabilities slow her down

Michelle Elswood likes swimming, biking and playing in area parks during the summer as well as enjoying meals at fast-food restaurants. She doesn't let two disabilities slow her down.

By MARY LOU SONG
STAFF WRITER

When she is awake, Westland's Michelle Elswood is as rambunctious as any other 5-year-old.

She is infamous for leaving the TV set on while running from room to room. She loves swimming, biking and playing in the park during the summer. Sledding and bowling during the winter.

She also likes eating at McDonald's and Little Caesar's. And having her fingernails painted bright pink by her mom.

Once you meet her and look into those gleaming brown eyes, it's easy to forget that she has disabilities.

"Nothing bothers her," said Connie Elswood, Michelle's mother. "She always wakes up in a good mood. Even when she's running races, it doesn't bother her that she comes in last. She thinks she won."

At six months, Michelle was diagnosed with both cerebral palsy and epilepsy. She has been in therapy since she was 9 months old. On a sleepy afternoon last week, Elswood talked about her daughter. Michelle snoozed, not so quietly, in her mother's arms.

Michelle is a special child, said her mother, but coping with the disabilities has still been challenging for the family.

"You go through stages," Elswood said. "You think you're coping with it and everything's OK. She turns 3 and you think, 'OK, she's getting over it.'"

But then she turns 5 and you realize it's always going to be a battle. You realize she's always going to be a little behind."

Michelle attends school at Roosevelt-McGrath Elementary in the Wayne-Westland school district. Three days a week, she attends regular kindergarten classes. The other two, she attends special education classes with other special needs children.

Elswood would like for Michelle mainstreamed in school when she is ready.

"It's so hard," Elswood said. "I don't want her to fall behind just because she's mainstreamed."

Like many others, Michelle gets help from the Easter Seal Society of Michigan. She attends speech therapy sessions. Last summer she learned how to swim and went on a boating trip.

"I like the programs," the mother said. "For the amount of time that they had, they did an excellent job. All the work that they put into it and all the feedback we got was great."

Elswood said that even at programs with area hospitals, most therapists do not offer feedback to parents.

But Liza Greene, special events coordinator, said that programs and services are aimed at everyone — not only for people like Michelle, but any person who might have a disability at any point in their life.

Disabilities from page 11A

"Any one may need help from Easter Seal at some point," Greene said. "You don't have to have a disability that is unchanging throughout your life. You could go skiing and break a leg."

The Easter Seal Society will soon launch its annual telethon fund-raiser. The telethon will run Saturday and Sunday, March 6-7. Last year the telethon in Michigan raised about $1 million. The goal in 1993 is to surpass that figure.

Greene said that money raised from pledges in each region of Michigan will be used on programs and services in that region. She also said that 94 percent of the group's funds go directly to client care.

The Easter Seal Society offers many programs besides the ones in which Michelle Elswood participated. The Loan Closet is one. Individuals who need wheel chairs or crutches, for example, may borrow the items from the Loan Closet for a small fee.

■ 'Nothing bothers her. She always wakes up in a good mood. Even when she's running races, it doesn't bother her that she comes in last. She thinks she won.'

*Connie Elswood
Michelle's mother.*

The group, founded in 1919, was originally known as the National Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults. But Greene said the name changed along with attitudes.

"We prefer 'people with disabilities,'" Greene said.

The Easter Seal Telethon will be broadcast on WDIV-TV (Channel 4). News anchor Mort Crim and weatherman Chuck Gaidica will host the Michigan event.

LUNCH MENU FOR SENIORS

The senior citizen nutrition program will serve these hot meals for the week of March 1. Meals will be served at three locations: Westland Friendship Center, 1119 N. Newburgh near Marquette; Whittier Center, on Ann Arbor Trail between Inkster Road and Middlebelt, and Kirk of Our Savior Church, on Cherry Hill, between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

Monday
Stuffed pepper/tomato sauce, Italian blend vegetables, roll/margarine, tapioca pudding, milk.

Teacher of the year

N O M I N A T I O N F O R M

Help us find teachers of the year. Livonia Public Schools is searching for its 1993-94 teachers of the year, one for each level: elementary, middle school and high school. A committee of teachers, administrators and residents has been formed to select the designees, to be announced in June. Nominees must possess exemplary personal qualifications, professional skills and records of school/community service. In addition, they should spend at least half of their time teaching in a regular classroom.

The deadline to nominate is Friday, March 12. To nominate a teacher, fill out and return the accompanying form to: Suzanne Steffes, Superintendent's Office, 15125 Farmington Rd., Livonia, MI 48154. Use additional sheet if necessary.

Teacher's name: _____ School: _____
 Grade or subject: _____
 In narrative form, briefly give examples of:

- Personal characteristics of the nominee (integrity, persistence, caring, etc.)
- Excellence in and commitment to the teaching profession (events, quotes, innovations, successes, good warm personal relationship with students and teachers, etc.)
- Related professional experience (participation in efforts to improve the education and social conditions of the community, etc.)

Livonia seeks top teacher nominations

The Livonia school district, which includes the northern section of Westland, will select a teacher of the year at the elementary, middle and high school levels.

In 1983, the district joined the state of Michigan's Teacher of the Year Program and selected a candidate for the statewide recognition program.

During the 1987-88 year, the format was changed to include nominations for both the statewide Teacher of the Year and the Wayne County Intermediate School District/Newsweek WDIV Outstanding Teacher Awards programs.

This change resulted in selecting a teacher at each instructional level (elementary, middle, high school) as candidates for the county program. One of the three finalists was then chosen for the state program.

The district's teachers of the year are selected by a committee made up of teachers, parents and administrators. The committee reviews the nomination and application forms and confidentially selects a teacher representative at each level.

"We are fortunate to have so many master teachers in our district," said Jay Young, community relations director. "This is an opportunity to formally recognize their excellence and to publicly acknowledge and thank them for their contributions to the students and the community."

All teachers, except the 22 previous recipients, are eligible for consideration. Nomination forms are to be returned to Suzanne Steffes in the superintendent's office by Friday, March 12.

Fine wine business: How sweet it is

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

When Kevin McKay started drinking wine, he leaned toward a nice sweet wine — a lambrusco or maybe some Blue Nun.

Seventeen years later, McKay's palate prefers a cabernet sauvignon and his knowledge of wines is much more developed as evidenced by the selected wines offered at his business, McK's Wine Shop, on Inkster Road in Garden City.

Take that bottle of 1912 Chateau Lafite Rothschild in the display case, for instance. One of the most popular wineries and vintages, McKay said that wine is no longer available. That pushes the price to $3,500 for a single bottle.

If that's too pricey, McKay also has a 1970 Chateau Mouton Rothschild with a Picasso label at $450. "The price doubled after Picasso died," he said.

Someone used to drinking the $8 lambrusco might wonder who spends a month's rent or better on a bottle of wine.

"I have people who make the rounds calling stores to see what is around," said McKay. "If I sell out of the cabinet once or twice a month, I'm happy. There are some I don't like to part with, but this is a business."

About half the customers of expensive wines are buying as an acquisition rather than a beverage, he said.

"The 6-litre bottles of Mum's or Dom Perignon (champagne) are usually for a celebration like an anniversary," McKay said. "The good French wines usually are keepers. Your better red wines from France and California appreciate with age so it's kind of an investment."

McKay has been working at the store, a family business, for the past 17 years. While his brother Ken handles the liquor stock, McKay specializes in wines.

Over the years, he said he has attended probably 100 wine tastings and visited the wine regions from northern Michigan to California's Napa Valley, to Germany, France and Italy.

"I do a lot of reading. I read magazines like the Wine Spectator," McKay said. "I go by word of mouth at tastings. I keep up with the crops and stock up if it's a good year. It's like Dom Perignon. They don't make it every year. It depends on the vintage."

When he first began working at the store, McKay said people were drinking a lot of French wines. Today, he said California wines have come into their own and are taking over the market.

"In France, the California wines used to not be carried, now they are world wide," McKay said. "The oldest California vintage is a Sebastiani cabernet from 1940. Then look at the French wines that go back to the 1700s."

Probably half the store's wine customers ask for suggestions in selecting a wine, he said.

"I ask them if they want white or red, dry or sweet. I love cabernet but all palates are different," McKay said. "To some people it might seem tart to them. I suggest drinking a glass of wine when you are out eating. It enhances the flavor of the food. People advance as they get into it."

The store, which was remodeled three years ago, offers a wide selection of wines at a range of prices as well as beer and liquor.

"The remodeling really helped. Our business has been up when others have been down," McKay said. "The remodeling showed our commitment. You do it before the place runs down."

Melodrama

School debates: no end in sight

The state legislative struggle over trying to cut property taxes and boost state support for local K-12 schools resembles a political soap opera.

One problem is that two distinctly separate value systems are on a collision course. And the sorry part of the melodrama is that the participants don't realize it.

At the same time, Gov. John Engler, whose views on school aid and property taxes were published in last week's Observer, shows that he just doesn't get it when it comes to making public policies on the two related problems.

Until state officials agree on what course is their first choice, local taxpayers and students will have to wait a long time for the problem to be resolved.

The Lansing dispute conjures up a family discussion in which one spouse wants to buy a new car while the other wants to reduce expenses.

On a larger, public policy basis, state leaders are doing the same thing — failing to agree on a single goal.

Over the years, one side wants to improve the state's financial support of public education and narrow the financial gap between rich and poor districts.

At the same time, Gov. John Engler wants to slash local school property taxes to promote economic development.

The reason the twin goals can't be met is that they can't be done at the same time.

What Lansing has to do — and soon — is to pick one goal or the other.

State leaders should work to adopt their first priority, then start work on the other.

If they don't settle on one thing at a time, they are confusing the public, including local school district officials, as well as parents who are being asked regularly to vote for school tax rate increases to provide more revenues.

There will be no progress on the on-going school finance/property tax feuds until our state leaders agreed first on which is the most important: helping low-valuation school districts or cutting taxes.

Another dimension of the problem is that Gov. Engler's published comments on the issues clearly show that he either doesn't understand school finance and the impact state actions have on local school systems, or he is misleading the public.

For example, he blames local assessors for helping local school boards raise revenues through increased property assessments.

But the governor apparently doesn't understand that for in-formula districts, such as Wayne-Westland and Garden City, increased assessments and local revenue doesn't mean a net increase in dollars for the local district, because the state's share is reduced proportionately.

When it comes to higher levels of spending, Engler blames the local school boards for being too generous in approving increases in salaries and fringe benefits for teachers.

If the governor is serious about that part of the school finance problem, he should lead the fight to repeal the 1964 state law which requires local officials to negotiate with teachers' unions.

But in the meantime, the debate on school finance will continue in Lansing for more years because each side of the dispute can't agree on which goal to adopt first.

Make park assets a priority

Michigan's state parks system, once second to none, is slipping. Unless steps are taken soon, some of the state's most beautiful areas — and perhaps its most precious resource — could be unalterably damaged.

The system includes developed parks and rustic recreation areas. In 1980 the state paid 70 percent of their operating cost. Since then, the state has shifted the burden to user fees, now a hefty 80 percent of the budget. The state puts up only $5.6 million of the parks' $28 million budget.

Daily vehicle entrance fees have gone from $2 in 1980 to $3.50; annual permit fees, from $7 to $18; and camping fees, from $2-$6 to $6-$14. Both Republicans and Democrats in the Legislature and the executive office are to blame.

As fees soar, however, visitors get less for their money. The parks division has lost nearly a third of its staff, 25 rustic campsites face closure as they are neglected into oblivion, and many park roads are blocked to winter use because there is no staff to plow them.

There are no statistics, but any visitor can see damage by erosion, off-road vehicles, poachers and vandals.

There is talk of "privatizing" some state parks. Private campgrounds and theme parks are part of the state's recreation picture, but businesses must turn a dollar at every opportunity. Business can't replace government as protector of a natural resource.

Although parks aren't primarily an economic resource, they do generate $100 million to nearby grocers, gas stations, restaurants and tourist attractions.

In 1980 the state paid 70 percent of their operating cost. Since then, the state has shifted the burden to user fees, now a hefty 80 percent of the budget.

A Citizens Committee on Parks, spearheaded by Michigan United Conservation Clubs, is offering a ballot proposal: a one-cent increase in the sales tax for one year. The $700 million revenue would be invested to produce $15 million income annually for the parks. That would be a steep, long-term increase in the parks budget and could restore them to their former glory.

But let us be politically realistic. Other important state obligations — schools come to mind — also are looking at ballot proposals. It's poor policy to earmark special taxes for special funds. It would be far better if our legislators and the governor faced their obligation to protect the natural resources that our state parks embody from the general fund budget.

In 1872 the National Parks Service was created and opened Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming. But land-hungry developers didn't go away. And in 1916 the parks service served notice that its policy would be "to conserve scenery and the national and historic objects and wildlife therein and to provide for the enjoyment of the same in such manner and by such means as will leave them unimpaired for future generations."

Michigan should do as much for its future generations.

What's going on in Lansing

On Feb. 16 I attended a meeting in Lansing and had a chance to witness our tax dollars and elected officials at work. And guess what? (As if you didn't know) nothing's working. If I was the boss (actually I am, after all I do pay taxes and I'm a registered voter) I would fire them all! Why do I say that? You say. Because instead of dealing with the difficult issues, and there are many up there, they are all still involved in the great paper chase, color that paper green please. Especially the Republicans. Forever trying to kneel at Little John's feet for his eternal favor. The biggest war on now involves SB146 which we all know is (Proposal) C minus, the same one that failed at the ballot box. Come on now if the people said they mean No! Read this: no does not mean yes John, no means no and that means C minus or any other proposal you try to pass that will hurt the children of this state! And that also goes for state representatives that originally opposed SB146 but suddenly became weak kneed and started backing off.

A bipartisan proposal (is) currently referred to as the BLT proposal. What is that you say sounds like a sandwich? Well it isn't. It's a property tax plan that is real and effective. It would roll operating mills back to 17 (16 after 1994), all this collected through a newly created school finance authority and other revenues collected by raising the state income tax to 6 percent from 4.6 percent. There are other goodies but I am only going to stick to those you might want to hear. The other carrot on the stick and it's a good one (great with potatoes) is this: The income tax personal exemption would be increased from $2,100 to $3,000 for a $300 million tax cut.

Now all this makes sense to a normal person right? Well you have to remember this is Lansing, folks, not Kansas. The Governor is cracking the whip on his Republican children to fall in line with him against the people of this state. You know, the ones who pay taxes and vote. And guess what else! These children are starting to fall in line behind the governor. Many of their districts voted down Proposal C. I guess they don't know who's the boss. Well it's time we showed them who is! As one of those bosses I felt you should know what is really going on.

How many will die?

Here is a when, how, why, where, what, who for you and me.

When will the shedding of innocent blood stop? What percent of our sons and daughters die for the sake of convenience, career, pride, money, escape from a wrong choice, etc?

How many unborn sisters or brothers or grandsons or nieces will die?

Why is murder legal for the innocent? Why do we never hear of the grieving and sorrow these women and men should feel after the death of their child?

What about the wombs that have been torn or punctured, cervixes that have been damaged, the baby parts still left in the womb, the miscarriages afterwards, and yes, even the deaths of the women caused by abortion?

Where does the baby's body go after the head has been crushed and arms and legs have been dismembered? What does it feel like for a five-month-old unborn baby to have his or her skin burned with salt, saline poisoning, and what does it feel like to the mother undergoing the murder of her child? Does this affect the women, or boyfriends, or husbands, or our society at all?

When will we as a people love our neighbor? When will we not solve a problem with a death of a baby? When will we not hide the truth?

Who will be strong and start to do what is kind and righteous? I suggest, me included, to seek, knock and ask a lot harder of the one who died for all of our sins, Jesus Christ, the Lord of Life for kindness of heart, forgiveness and for truth, for our country is polluted with the blood of our innocent unborn babies.

Lucille A. VanZandt, Ann Arbor

No-fault isn't broken

With a 62 percent vote against Proposal D in last November's election, the voters of Michigan made it abundantly clear that they did not want their current automobile no-fault benefit system changed. So why is the state legislature trying to chip away at our insurance system? (House Bill No. 4156). This bill would lower the amount of personal injury protection (which pays medical bills) from the presently unlimited protection to a maximum of $1 million. Once that $1 million was exceeded, the burden of care would be put upon the Medicaid system, and we all know how overburdened that system already is. We can pay now, toward our insurance premiums, and receive complete care, or we can pay later, into increased taxes to support increased Medicaid costs, and receive substantially less care.

A $1 million cap will increase lawsuits. The intent behind the original no-fault law was to eliminate the need of a lawsuit to receive reasonable and necessary medical care. At $1 million, people will be forced to sue in order to obtain the medical services they need. Increased lawsuits and attorney fees will drive insurance rates much higher within a matter of two or three years.

I am opposed to House Bill 4156, just as I was opposed to Proposal D. We have the finest no-fault system in the country. If it isn't broken, why fix it?

Tax plans ignore state's varying economies

Here is a central fact about Michigan's economy that advocates of school tax plans have failed to grasp:

The price level in the tri-county area of southeastern Michigan is 22 percent higher than the rest of the state.

If you fail to understand that fact, you can do suburban schools a lot of harm in the name of "reform."

A hospital association put together a study of 16 costs a few years ago that showed:

- Home construction in the tri-county area costs 22 percent more than outstate. These costs drive our property tax assessments.

- Public education: 22 percent more.
- Hospital care: 18 percent more.
- Dental care: 19 percent more.
- Residential rent: 44 percent more.

What are the chief costs of public school districts? Salaries and health care.

In addition, we pay 55 percent more for home insurance, 44 percent more for trash collection, 34 percent more for auto repairs, 32 percent more for auto insurance — and so on. The only break we get is to pay 6 percent less for gasoline.

Teachers here must pay those costs, too. Understandably, they want comparable wages.

Most politicians don't grasp that.

Gov. John Engler is pushing a plan to reduce school property taxes 20 percent. The state would reimburse poorer districts, through the school aid formula. But suburban districts in the metropolitan area — mainly out-of-formula — would take the loss on the chin.

I asked Engler about this region's 22 percent cost differential, and the man from Mount Pleasant replied: "That is an excuse, not an answer. And it certainly isn't an explanation. They (suburban school districts) have negotiated the contracts that they're now having difficulty affording."

Engler's advice to these districts:

TIM RICHARD

"Stop giving double-digit pay increases over a period of two or three years."

A snappy answer, but unrealistic. Are we going to tell teachers in (say) Farmington who pay 34 percent more for auto repairs and 44 percent more for rent that they should be content with the wages of Saginaw or Engadine?

I floated the same question past a member of Team 14, the bipartisan group of legislators proposing a $4,700 per pupil "equity" in school resources. She said she had heard the same kind of argument from Detroiters, who want all sorts of compensatory money because of their problems. Again, a snappy answer that failed to address economic reality.

Michigan has two economies. If both Sturgis and Livonia schools have $4,700 cash per pupil, Livonia has only $3,852 in "real" terms, to use Adam Smith's phrase, because of the price differential.

Novi, Northville, Plymouth-Canton, West Bloomfield, South Redford, Bloomfield Hills, Southfield, Troy, Rochester and a few I've skipped will get a royal shaft — the shaft of economic ignorance — under these plans.

We come to the Michigan Education Association plan. You might guess a reform plan espoused by a teachers union would be self-serving, and you would be right.

MEA would consolidate 562 school districts into 14 duchies called "financial districts." But there is a dirty trick here. What happens to the most expensive tri-county area? Wayne County winds up in a district with Monroe, Oakland with Lapeer and Genesee, and Macomb with the farmlands of the Thumb.

Thus, MEA would try to use justifiably higher wage levels in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb to increase wages in the outstate economy. It's the backwards version of Engler's idea of evening out costs.

To be fair, any tax cut and school reform plan must take account of economic reality. Everybody has to pay more for nearly everything in southeastern Michigan. Our school boards must have leeway and tax tools to deal with that reality, not be forced into artificial molds.

Parents will balk over MEAP test design in '97

QUESTION: When I reviewed our MEAP test scores this year, I concluded our school district is going backward.

For years our math and reading scores were in the 89 to 94 percent range on the MEAP test. Now our MEAP math and reading scores are in the 30 and 40 percent range.

Some of the poorer school districts in Michigan have scores of 15 and 20 percent on the MEAP. One poor district had a score of 10 percent in math. My neighbor is desperate. Her son, a "C-plus" student, did not pass the MEAP and may not get a state endorsed diploma. How can a C-plus student not pass a basic skills test? Is it true that failure to pass the test after '97 means a student won't even get a diploma?

ANSWER: The easy out, for me, is to tell you the new MEAP is different than the old MEAP basic skills test. It is no longer a test of basic skills but an essential skills test that measures students' higher level thinking and problem solving skills.

At this point I should drop the subject, because if I attack the test, it will sound like the same old teacher/educator syndrome, making excuses for poor student achievement. But I won't drop the subject because there is something irrational going on!

One school district in this readership area in which I was a central office administrator had MEAP scores in or above the 95 percent range prior to the new MEAP.

Now in 1992-93, their MEAP scores are in the 40 to 50 percent range. That means only 40 to 50 percent passed the 10th grade "essential" math and reading skills sections on the new MEAP.

Yet that same district has about 75 percent of its graduating class accepted each year for college and university admission, and most of their students are in college/universities that require high SAT (Scholastic Aptitude Test) scores.

DOC DOYLE

Quality district

This doesn't add up. How can 75 percent of a quality school district's student population score high enough on a tough college entrance test and yet not pass a 10th grade basic skills (essential skills) test? Something is wrong!

The new MEAP is a product of the leadership in The National Council of Teachers of Math, the National Reading Association (and their state affiliates), college professors and some Michigan teachers. These are professionals who made a tremendous leap of faith that says all kids in a country that advocates a mandatory education system will be higher level thinkers. It's not going to happen.

Sometimes I think these leaders have been in the ivory tower too long, or have been teaching advanced math classes at the high school level too long to remember who shows up for the remedial, slow learner classes.

It is common knowledge that the once nationally respected Department of Research and Evaluation and Testing in the Department of Education has been dismantled. What was left are curriculum people (as I was) who dream of the ideal.

Item difficulty

Someone in Lansing should help those in charge of the MEAP grasp the basic test construction concept of Item Difficulty. That is, if 70 percent of a normal student population misses a specific question, the question is suspect — and needs to be studied and revised.

Has any predictive validity been made? I heard not, so I'll make my prediction.

Prediction: If MEAP scores don't go up, watch for a major change of heart among our legislators who supported the test as a vehicle to mandate a state curriculum.

Picture Representative Jones in a quality, college-bound student school district in Oakland or Wayne County. It is going into 1997 when those students who don't pass the MEAP don't get a diploma. Say that only 50 percent of the student population in one of his quality districts passes the MEAP, meaning 50 percent don't get a diploma.

'Bubble' mentality lacks real world knowledge

While I jog in the evenings, I like to listen to National Public Radio's evening news show, "All Things Considered." It stimulates the mind while the running pumps up the heart.

A while back I listened to a story about a woman who was appointed head of the welfare department in New York City. First thing she did was go out and pretend to be a person in need of welfare. She went to the various offices, filled out all the different forms, got abused and ignored by the assorted bureaucrats.

She learned a lot about what it feels like to need welfare. And she is now changing — big time — the policies and practices of the welfare department she was appointed to run.

The story got me thinking.

First, it demonstrates perfectly why most of the people who run the government and make the laws are badly out of touch with the realities of ordinary folk. They are much too much "in the bubble," all of them. And this fact accounts for much of the disconnect between political and governmental elites and ordinary folks that plagues our politics so badly.

Second, it seems to be that much of the mainstream news media, too, are in the bubble. Often, the only people reporters and editors regard as legitimate news sources are heads of governmental departments, legislators or other "news makers."

Only rarely do reporters — especially ones in Washington or Lansing — ever talk with ordinary people who are on the receiving end of governmental indignities and inefficiencies.

These two factors are important in the rise of talk shows and so forth, "real media" as distinguished from elite media.

They should also be important to community newspapers like this one. If we are doing our job as good community newspapers, we can never allow ourselves to get trapped, by habit or choice, in the bubble.

We ought to be talking with ordinary people in the communities we serve, finding out from them what it's like out there. Were the streets on the west side really plowed after the snowstorm last weekend? What's it really like to be a business owner in search of a building permit? Go into real classrooms and see what real teachers do with real kids.

That's real community journalism. Sometimes we do it, and sometimes we don't. But we must realize why it's so important to do better.

Remember the famous legend of the good emperor of China? Recognizing that he was irredeemably trapped in the bubble by his mandarin's bureaucracy, he regularly donned a disguise and went out into his country. In taverns and inns, by the side of streets and in hovels, he discovered what his government was doing to his subjects and what they felt about it.

Whether true or not, this legend has persisted in China for more than a thousand years, testimony to the power of the myth and the analysis.

There are a lot of office holders and elected officials (not to mention folks who work for this newspaper) who could learn a lot from this story.

Years ago, when Bill Milliken was governor of Michigan, he had a rule for all his top appointees: Get out of Lansing at least one day a week. He learned. And he was a fine governor for our state because of it.

Most in local poll say: 'Cut more, don't raise taxes'

Observer readers offered some strong opinions on President's Bill Clinton's economic plan. Thirty-five callers responded earlier this week on our reader hotline.

Some believe Clinton is moving in the right direction and should be given a chance. However, most callers want to see more spending cuts before any new tax increases are passed.

Here are some of your comments:

■ "I think Bill Clinton's plans are great," said a Livonia woman. "We have to do something get this country back together to help our children and grandchildren in the future. And, if we have to sacrifice then we have to do it." ■ "He's right on target," said a Livonia resident.

"Someone's got to get us out of this mess because we can't continue on the same course we're going."

■ "I'm very much against Clinton's plan," said a Livonia man who is retired and living on a fixed income.

"I'm going to pay over $1,500 more (in taxes), President Bush found if you tax people more they don't have money to buy more cars and clothing. It's a bad, bad plan."

■ "Clinton's plan is ridiculous," said a Plymouth woman.

■ "The plan will cost me more money but it's for the good of the country," said a Canton Township man.

"It's the right start in the right direction."

■ "I don't like the idea he'll increase our taxes," said a Livonia woman. "I do like his planned spending cuts. But he should do the spending cuts first before he decides to raise taxes."

■ "Bill Clinton's plan stinks," said a Livonia man.

"I don't believe they'll cut spending. What they should do is cut for two years and then see if they need to raise taxes. I just don't trust those people in Washington."

■ "I'm against Clinton's plan - it's another example of the Democrats tax and spend policy," said a Redford Township man. "Democrats are the problem because they've controlled Congress for so long."

"The plan's a recipe for economic disaster."

■ "With all the lies Mr. Clinton has engendered I'm not ready to sacrifice until I see some valid cuts in government waste and abuse," said one Plymouth retiree.

■ "I believe in Clinton's plan," said a Redford Township woman.

"The Republicans had 12 years to figure it out."

■ "I'm excited and I'm ready to sacrifice because our nation needs to put itself back on a sound economic basis," said a Redford Township homeowner.

■ "Taxpayers shouldn't have to pay for the mistakes of government," said a Livonia man.

■ "I agree wholeheartedly with Clinton's plan. It sounds better than any of the garbage I've heard in 12 years," said a Garden City woman, who said she likes the plan's focus on providing for future generation.

■ "Before taxes are increased our government must prove it can work together," said one Livonia woman. "They need to cut spending and waste and work together instead of pursuing their own economic interests."

■ A Livonia woman called for a spending freeze.

"Government is too big and spends too much money. Where will it end? Do they want 60 percent of my pay?"

■ Another Livonia woman said she's not ready to go along with Clinton because "it's the same old tax and spend."

"Freeze spending," she said, adding "in my situation he's going to tax us into being a two-income family."

■ A Redford Township woman said "the BTU tax is a clever way to disguise the tax hike because it will show up in all consumer goods. How dare they ask us to sacrifice."

■ "The plan is flawed," said a Plymouth Township man. "How about 10 percent in spending cuts across the board."

■ "Freeze or cut more before raising taxes," said a Redford Township woman.

■ A Livonia man who previously worked for the state of Michigan said "Clinton's stimulus package will actually create very few jobs."

■ A Garden City man said Clinton's plan to cut Medicare "is a farce."

■ "I don't think it's a credible plan - he's misled us," said a Livonia man who lives on Brentwood.

WESTLAND SPORTS SCENE

WLAA to crown champs

It's that championship season in the Western Lakes Activities Association, which will crown champions in three sports this week.

The parade begins at 6 tonight with the finals in girls gymnastics at Westland John Glenn High School.

Plymouth Salem, the No. 1-ranked team in the state, will attempt to win its fourth consecutive title.

Livonia Stevenson (boys swimming) and Livonia Churchill (volleyball) hope to win their third straight WLAA championships.

The swim competition concludes Friday with the finals at 6 p.m. in the Salem pool. The No. 7 Spartans will be challenged by No. 8 Salem and No. 9 Northville.

Churchill will attempt to defend its volleyball crown Saturday on its home court. The one-day tournament begins at 9 a.m. The final is expected to start in the early evening.

The WLAA basketball playoffs begin Friday, too. Walled Lake Central is the defending champ. Salem, Glenn, Canton, Farmington Harrison and North Farmington are among the contenders.

Soccer symposium

There will be something for everybody who likes soccer at the 1993 Coaches Symposium.

The clinic will consist of three Saturday sessions on March 6 and 20 and April 3 at Schoolcraft College 1-3 p.m. each day. There is no fee or charge for admission.

The symposium, sponsored by The Soccer Store and More, is aimed primarily at assisting soccer coaches at all levels, but parents of soccer players and fans are welcome, too.

Clinic participants will have 18 topics (three per session) from which to choose and will best suit their needs. The program will include lectures, demonstrations and technical sessions.

Some of the clinic speakers will be Schoolcraft College women's and Churchill High School girls coach Nick O'Shea, Detroit Rockers player Lars Richter, Schoolcraft men's coach Van Dimitriou and Oakland University men's coach Gary Parsons.

"We'll discuss basic skills and fun games for youth teams (with one topic) to analyzing the contrast between the German and Brazilian styles," O'Shea said.

O'Shea added the purpose is not to tell coaches how to coach but to make them "more knowledgeable about the game."

For more information call The Soccer Store and More at 313-421-7523.

SC volleyball events

Tryouts for the SOVA AAU volleyball teams — girls ages 12, 14, 16 and 18-and-under — will be Sunday, March 14 and 21 at Schoolcraft College.

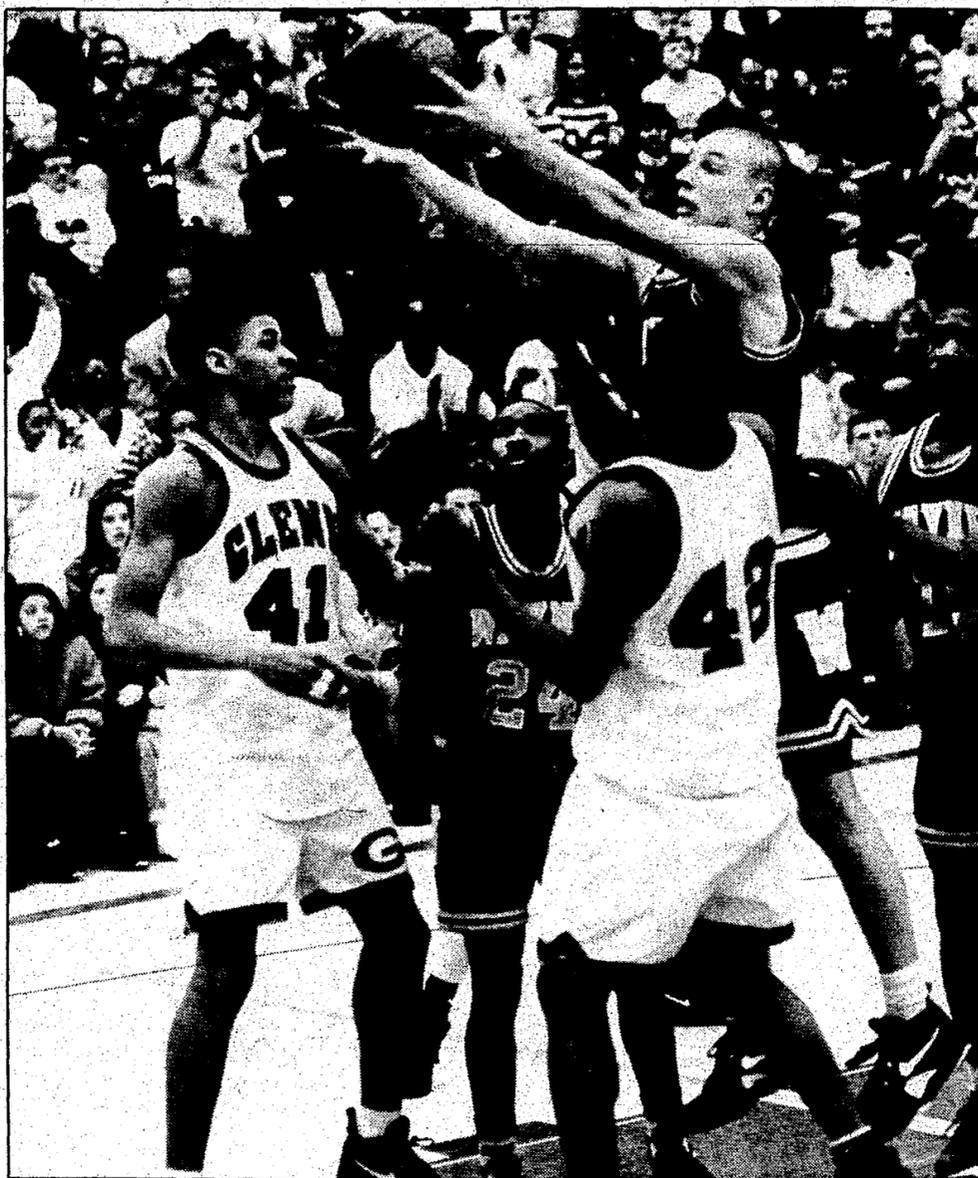

There will be elite, varsity JV levels for each age bracket.

Tryouts and scholarship auditions for the Schoolcraft College 1993 women's volleyball team will begin at 9 a.m. Sunday, March 21.

For more information, call Tom Teeters at 462-4400, Ext. 5252.

Livonia skier 5th

Nicole Gable of Livonia, representing the Bay Race Academy, finished fifth in the women's giant slalom at the Central Division of the U.S. Ski Association Championships held last weekend at the Manitou race hill Sugar Loaf Resort.

My ball: Wayne Memorial's Jeff Hamilton reaches over Guy Rucker (41) and Tony Goins (42) to grab a rebound during Wayne's 11th-straight triumph against rival Westland John Glenn Tuesday night.

Wayne continues mastery of neighborhood foe Glenn

Kevin Claypool's game-high 18 points wasn't enough to prevent Wayne Memorial from beating neighborhood rival Westland John Glenn for the 11th-straight year, 51-48, in a raggedly-played game on Tuesday.

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

The year was 1983. Ronald Reagan was president. The Philadelphia 76ers were the NBA champions. M*A*S*H was the most watched television program. And Westland John Glenn beat Wayne Memorial in boys basketball.

Wayne's 51-48 lackluster victory over the host Rockets Tuesday marked the 11th-consecutive year the Zebras have beaten their intra-district rivals.

Perhaps it's Wayne's dominance over Glenn that took away some of the excitement of the game, but more likely, both teams were looking forward to their "bigger" games later in the week.

The Zebras, who are 15-2 overall, play at Dearborn Fordson tonight with their defense of the Wolverine A Conference championship on the line. Wayne is tied for first place with Belleville.

Glenn (11-6) opens the Western Lakes Activities Association playoffs Friday when it hosts Northville.

Both coaches, however, continued to reiterate the importance of the rivalry after the game.

"This game is important anytime," said Wayne coach Chuck Henry. "Anytime you get two schools in the same district playing each other, it's going to be big. But I didn't make this game a pie in the sky. We need to beat Fordson Thursday."

Unbeaten Reeves stalks 2nd title

BY BILL PARKER
STAFF WRITER

Observerland will be well represented this weekend at the Class A individual regional wrestling tournament at South Lyon. No less than 20 area wrestlers qualified for the regional by placing in the top four of their respective weight classes at Saturday's District 5-A tournament at Walled Lake Western.

Westland John Glenn's Mike Reeves kept his unbeaten record intact as he stormed through the 160-pound bracket. Reeves, 34-0 and the defending state champ at 152, outclassed South Lyons' Jason Brown (29-6) with a 13-4 decision in the championship match. Reeves held a 4-2 lead entering the third period then used a series of takedowns and back points to secure the win. He earned pins in his first two matches (1:41, :30) and recorded a 10-2 decision in the semifinals.

Reeves has his eyes set on a repeat performance at the state meet, March 12-13 at Battle Creek.

"I'm a year older now and the experience helps," said Reeves, who has been wrestling since he was in seventh grade. "I've been there once and I know what it takes to get there again."

"The guys seem a lot stronger at 160 than they were at 152. But I like to eat so I just try to out-technique them. I do what I have to do to win. It's a job."

Reeves leads a group of four regional qualifiers from Glenn. Anthony Underwood placed third at 112, Gerry Simoneau was fourth at 152 and Brian Kolb was fourth at 171.

Garden City's Jason Peterson rolled through the heavyweight division with a pair of pins and a 9-2 decision. Peterson, a district and regional champion last year, wasted little time defending his district crown. Peterson took down Plymouth Salem's Ryan Giuliani (26-14) at the opening whistle and pinned the Rocks wrestler just 32 seconds into the match. Peterson opened the tournament with a pin over Glenn's Shaun Arbogast in 25 seconds and earned a 9-2 decision over Howell's Kevin Matie in the semifinals. Peterson hopes his experience will help in his quest for a state crown.

"Last year I was coming from out of nowhere. I was extremely overwhelmed at state," said Peterson, who stands 37-2 on the year. "I've been there now and I know what it's all about. I've put in a whole lot of work."

Peterson will be joined at the regional meet by teammate Mike Bullard, who placed fourth at 145.

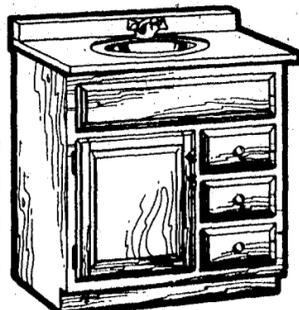

North Farmington senior Dave Orow won the first district championship of his career when he earned a 7-4 decision over Howell's Matt Schroeder (22-9) in the championship match at 125 pounds. With the match tied at 4-4 after two periods, Orow

OU tankers eye Division II title

By CHRIS MCCOSKY
STAFF WRITER

Stop us if you've heard this one before: The Oakland University men's and women's swim teams each won Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships last weekend. . . stop.

Of course you've heard it before. For the men, who outscored their nearest competitor (Ferris State) by 358 points Sunday at Saginaw Valley, it was their 16th straight GLIAC title. For the women, who beat second-place Northern Michigan by 44.5 points, it was their fourth title in five years.

"It would be nice to have more competition," said OU men's coach Pete Hovland. "I wish we'd get more of a challenge. I think we really need it at this time of the season."

What the league meet has become for Oakland is a measuring stick, a final chance to qualify swimmers and gauge its potential for the NCAA Division II Championships, which will take place March 10-13 at the C.T. Brannin Natatorium in Canton, Ohio.

"It was a good meet in a sense that we got three more swimmers qualified," Hovland said. "Those guys are keys to our success at the nationals. We needed them desperately and they came through."

The men, who last won the Division II title in 1980 and have finished either second or third in 11 of the last 12 years, will send 10 swimmers to the nationals.

The women, who are seeking their fourth straight Division II crown, will send 10 swimmers and two divers.

No guarantees for women

Lady Pioneers' coach Tracy Huth, who was voted women's coach of the year in the GLIAC, likes his talent heading into the nationals, but not his numbers.

"Last year we had 13 swimmers and one diver qualify, so from that standpoint, we're down," he said. "We won't have the advantage depth-wise like we've had. But talent-wise, we're at least as strong, if not stronger."

Of the Lady Pioneers' six first-place finishes at the GLIAC meet, four were claimed by freshmen. Debby Nickels won both the 1,650-yard freestyle (17:51.47) and the 400 individual medley (4:45.95). Diver Becki Bach won both the one-meter and three-meter events.

Junior Amy Comerford won the 100 backstroke (57.34) and OU took the 200 freestyle relay (1:36.87).

Of OU's 12 national qualifiers, five are freshmen: Nickels, Bach, Ellen Lessig, Kristen Nagelkirk and Molly Cliffl.

"That's the key," Huth said. "If those people can perform under the gun, we'll be OK."

Also qualifying for nationals were: Comerford, senior Laura Fischer, junior Angie Johnson, sophomore Danni Lentine, sophomore Jodi Parker, senior Beth Surowiec and senior Shannon Taylor.

"There will be four or five teams that should have a chance to win (the nationals) on the last day," Huth said. "Whoever wins will have to swim a great meet."

Huth likes the Lady Pioneers' chances.

"I thought we've been progressing extremely well," he said. "It is a situation where all our swimmers are progressing at the same level. That's a good sign."

Men still 3rd best

Hovland will take two defending champions (seniors Doug Allen and Carl Boyd), six other swimmers who currently rank among the top five in the nation in 10 events, three relay teams that rank No. 1 and two others that rank No. 2 to the Division II nationals.

OU won all 18 swimming events, losing only the two diving events. Freshman Chris Zoltak (Tulsa, Ok.) was named male GLIAC swimmer of the year after he won the 100 butterfly (51.33) and 100 backstroke (51.64).

Other two-event winners for Oakland were junior Sean Peters (100 free in 46.16, 200 free in 1:43.56), sophomore Steve Traube (500 free in 4:41.53 and the 200 butterfly in 1:57.01) and senior Jeff Van Norman (200 breaststroke in 2:10.68 and the 200 individual medley (1:56.80).

Senior Enos Pritchett qualified for nationals and set a GLIAC record with his 20.87 clocking in the 50 free. Peters and senior Jon Stump also gained their qualification at the GLIAC meet.

Here are the 10 swimmers who will represent OU at the nationals:

■ Doug Allen, defending champ and currently ranked No. 5 in the 200 IM. He is also ranked No. 5 in the 400 IM.

■ Carl Boyd, defending champ and currently ranked No. 3 in the 100 backstroke. He is No. 2 in the 200 free and 200 back.

■ Adric Arndt, freshman, No. 4 in the 200 breaststroke, also qualified in the 200 IM, 400 IM and 100 breast.

■ Morgan Bailey, sophomore, No. 1 in 100 free, No. 3 in the 50 free and No. 4 in the 100 back.

■ Eric Newton, sophomore, No. 6 in 1,650 free.

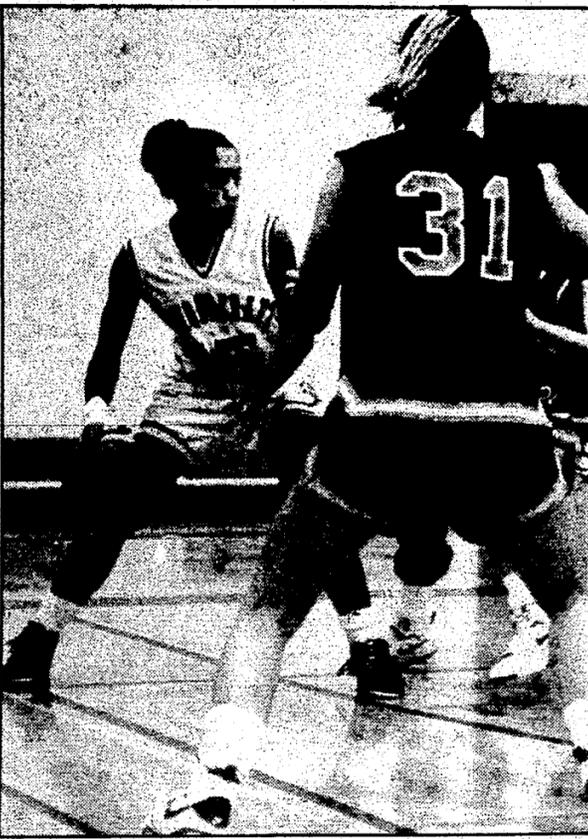

■ Peters, No. 3 in the 100 free, No. 5 in the 50 free.

■ Pritchett, No. 4 in the 50.

■ Stump, No. 2 in the 50, No. 5 in the 100 free.

■ Van Norman, No. 2 in the 100 breaststroke.

■ Zoltak, No. 2 in the 100 back, No. 3 in the 200 back, No. 3 in the 100 butterfly and No. 6 in the 100 free.

Farewell Dana: Dana Hudson (15) played her final game for Schoolcraft Monday night. She scored 17 points in the Ocelots' 72-56 loss at Highland Park. Hudson averaged 18.9 points per game this year, which should rank her among the nation's top 20.

Quick playoff exit ends Lady Ocelots' rollercoaster ride

In a way, it was a fitting ending for the Schoolcraft women's basketball season — a season that put Murphy's Law to the test.

"We should have known we were in for trouble right from the start," said Coach Jack Grenan, after his team's season concluded Monday with a 72-56 loss at Highland Park in the first round of the state tournament.

Grenan and his team showed up at Highland Park Community College only to find a sign that read: "Game moved to high school."

When they got to Highland Park High School, they found all the doors to the gymnasium locked.

"So I go to the receiving door and ring the bell about 10 times," Grenan said. "Finally a guy comes to the door and says, 'Didn't you see the door I left open with a screw driver?'"

There were two more surprises. One, the two teams had to share a locker room. Two, sophomore Michelle Ernst became ill and spent half of the game vomiting.

"Basically, we played them with six and a half players," Grenan said.

And the Ocelots played Highland Park tough, trailing by just six with 1:30 left in the game.

"I thought we played an outstanding game," Grenan said. "Their front line goes 6-1, 6-1 and 6-0 and about 170 pounds. We go 5-11, 5-9, 5-5. But we really hung in."

Sophomore Dana Hudson closed her career with a 17-point effort. She averaged 18.9 points per game and should gain a spot among the NCJAA's top 20 scoring leaders.

Angie Cerne added 11, Becky Piotruchowski and Lori Murphy each scored 10.

Tamika Broomfield scored 17 and Latrice Scott 15 for Highland Park (17-6).

Schoolcraft ended the regular season at home last Saturday with a 75-68 loss to Delta. Hudson scored 23 in that game.

The Ocelots finish 4-10, tied for fifth in the Eastern Conference with Oakland Community College, and 11-13 overall.

"It was a rollercoaster season," Grenan said. "We started out 4-0 and looking for a national ranking. Then we lost our point guard and center to knee injuries and won just one of our first nine league games. But we came on at the end and won three of our last four to make the playoffs."

"I just couldn't ask for any more from seven players. In that respect, the season was satisfying, more than satisfying."

OCC men stay alive

Oakland Community College had better luck at the start of the men's basketball state playoffs Monday than it had at the end of the regular season.

The Raiders, who lost three close games (two in overtime) before winning the finale, held off visiting St. Clair Community College 104-94.

"We lost some close games, but we lost to good teams," OCC coach Lynn Reed said. "So we were not totally disappointed with our play. We just didn't get much luck in some situations."

The Raiders (15-12) boosted a 46-38 halftime lead to 16 points in the second half Monday before Reed emptied his bench and let everyone play.

St. Clair closed the gap to five points with 1½ minutes left, but OCC held on. The Raiders played at Macomb Community College in the second round Wednesday. OCC put six players in double figures, led by Troy Coleman's 20 points. Mark Galbraith and Willie Payne scored 14 apiece, Bill Knight and Craig Martin 12 each, Ray Moreland 11.

The 6-foot-7 Knight (center), Payne (6-3 forward) and Galbraith (6-5 forward) shot high percentages and effectively controlled the boards.

Knight was 5-of-6 from the floor, Payne 5-of-7 and Galbraith 4-of-6. Payne also led the Raiders with 11 rebounds, and Knight grabbed six.

Kevin Woodmore led with eight assists and chipped in seven points. Martin added five assists.

Jon Shafer scored a game-high 29 points for St. Clair.

Delta dusts S'craft men

The Schoolcraft College men's basketball team ended the regular season Saturday with a 118-102 defeat at Delta College.

The Ocelots finished 6-21 overall and 2-14 in the Eastern Conference. They are idle until next Wednesday when they play in the Region 12 national tournament at Macomb Community College.

SC didn't have much of a chance against Delta — a playoff qualifier from the Eastern Conference — trailing 65-44 at halftime.

"It could have been real ugly (in the second half) but the kids fought real hard," Schoolcraft College coach Dave Bogataj said.

Sophomore forward Mohammed Abdrabbah helped the Ocelots stay competitive, scoring 28 of his game-high 42 points in the second half. Abdrabbah was 14-for-23 from the field with four three-pointers.

CC advances 7 to regional mats

STAFF WRITER

Thanks to some gutty performances, the dream of winning a state championship is very much alive for a number of area wrestlers.

A total of 23 area wrestlers, including seven champions, moved a step closer to that coveted goal Saturday in District 7 competition at Troy High. The host Colts led the way with nine regional qualifiers, highlighted by a district title performance from Chris Kretschmer, and Redford Catholic Central followed with seven.

CC's Phil Bache won the 135-pound weight class with an 11-10 win over Troy's Carl Barnes in one of the more physical matches of the day. "I beat him here (in the district) 7-3 last year, so I knew he would be out for revenge," said Bache, who improved to 15-3 after missing part of the season with a knee injury. "The knee slowed me for a while, but it's coming along fine. I still have my No. 1 goal of getting to state."

In addition to Bache's heroics, CC had two others emerge as champions. Bill Lamb moved his season mark to 27-3 with a 10-2 decision over Jerrid Schalk of Ferndale in the finals at 103, and Jason Krueger blanked Lance Sanders of Kimball, 13-0, at 171.

Other CC wrestlers qualifying for Saturday's individual regional tournament at Hazel Park included: Steve Burke (third at 130), Mike Madden (third at 140), Dan Krueger (third at 160) and David Gardner (fourth at 125).

Saad tale: Spartans sunk

The Livonia Stevenson boys basketball team has seen enough of Ali Saad.

Both of them. Dearborn Fordson has a pair of cousins who go by the same name — Ali Saad — and on Tuesday night they combined for 38 points in a 76-65 non-league victory over Stevenson.

One of the Saads scored 22 points, including six three-pointers, and the other Saad scored 16. Fordson led 26-22 after one quarter and 47-37 at halftime, then made 14 of 15 free throws in the second half to seal the win.

Fordson made 21-28 free throws for the game and Stevenson was 7-14. Stevenson, which made as many field goals (14) as Fordson, fell to 5-12 overall. Fordson is 9-8.

"The difference was their free throws," Stevenson assistant coach Tim Newman said. "Their penetration in our zone allowed them to get to the line. The kids played a lot harder than they did last week (against Plymouth Salem)."

The loss spoiled a big effort from Stevenson senior forward Adam Roy, who scored 28 points, including a trio of three-pointers. Junior guard Kevin Szecmbara added 16 points.

CHURCHILL 75, REDFORD UNION 45: It was survival of the fittest Tuesday as both teams deployed full-court pressure from start to finish.

"We've been switching groups of five every four minutes for a few games now to keep everyone fresh," said Churchill coach Tom Lang. "The kids have been working their tails off and it's paying off. We are getting some victories where we weren't earlier in the year."

The Chargers were obviously fresher in the final quarter when they put RU to route with a 23-6 run.

Junior Bill Morris scored 15 to lead Churchill (6-12). Seniors Darrell Wisock and Jason Renkiewicz contributed 13 and 11, respectively.

For RU (2-14), Dar Collins scored 13 and Sheridan Mattson added 11.

CLARENCEVILLE 63, LUTHER WESTLAND 41: Four players scored in double figures Tuesday for host Livonia Clarenceville, an easy winner over Lutheran Westland.

The Trojans, who scored the first 15 points of the game, are 9-7 overall, 6-5 in the Metro Conference.

Senior guard Ryan McEwen led Clarenceville with 16 points, eight in the third quarter. Junior forward Mark Kalaj and junior guard Mark Skrejla scored 14 points each. Junior guard John Kalaj added 11.

Lutheran Westland, which trailed 17-4 after one quarter and 34-17 at halftime, fell to 1-15 overall and 0-11 in the Metro.

The Trojans might have enjoyed a wider margin but only made nine-of-21 free throws.

ST. FLORIAN 66, ST. AGATHA 51: The effort was consistent, the execution was not. And for underdog Redford St. Agatha, that spelled a 66-51 defeat to top-seeded Hamtramck St. Florian in the Catholic League C-D semifinals Tuesday night.

"We played a good game, much better than we played against them earlier in the season," said Agatha coach Jim Murphy. "But they just overpowered us in the second half."

Florian, 11-0 in the league and 14-2 overall, took advantage of 33 Aggie turnovers. Mike DiCiccio led Florian with 25 points, including four 3-pointers. Tyree Jackson added 15.

Florian and Mount Clemens Cardinal Mooney will battle for the C-D title Sunday at U-D Mercy's Calihan Hall.

For St. Agatha (4-12), Shelton Ricks scored 19 points. Eric Sanders added 14 and Paul Parsell 13. The Aggies lost the services of starter Jay Williams in the second quarter. He injured his ankle.

took control in the final two minutes and scored an escape and a take down to secure the win.

Orow, who stands 32-4 on the season, earned a technical fall over Novi's Tim O'Sullivan in the semifinals.

"I lost in the districts last year so this really feels great," Orow said. "Last year I didn't motivate myself enough. This year I'm not letting anything stop me. I trained real hard over the summer. I'm not psyching myself out any more."

Raider Jared Lawrence will join Orow at the regional meet after finishing third at 160.

Plymouth Cantons' Nick Spano was the only other Observerland wrestler to capture a district championship. Spano opened the tournament with a pin over Garden City's Tim Sayn in 4:43, then stuck Livonia Stevenson's Jeff Kosola in 1:45. He earned a default victory over South Lyon's Mike Muccino in the semifinals and edged Walled Lake Central's Frank Lovio (32-4), 6-5 in the finals.

Livonia Stevenson and Plymouth Salem will each send three wrestlers to the regional. Spartan Chris Mullett was second at 145, Scott Goldman placed third at 140 and Craig Martin suffered his first loss of the season when he dropped an 8-3 decision to Howell's Jason Steinacker in the championship match at 189.

"I've come a long way since finishing third at the league meet last year," said the Stevenson sophomore, who sports a 30-1 personal record. "I owe it all to our assistant coach Jim Carlin. He works with me himself and he brings people in to work with me. I owe it all to him."

Westland John Glenn's Mike Reeves kept his unbeaten record intact as he stormed through the 160-pound bracket. Reeves, 34-0 and the defending state champ at 152, outclassed South Lyons' Jason Brown (29-6) with a 13-4 decision in the championship match.

Stevenson coach Don Berg was pleased with the success of his wrestlers.

"We've got three qualifiers, they're all sophomores and they're all captains," he said. "I'm real happy for the guys."

For Salem, heavyweight Ryan Giuliani placed second, Scott Hughes placed third at 103 and Phil Mitchell was fourth at 130.

Other Observerland regional qualifiers include: Livonia Churchill's Scott Doer and Ali Ramlawi, third at 145 and fourth at 171, respectively; Harrison's Brian Atkinson and David Gloetzer, fourth at 103 and 189, respectively; and Franklin's Adam Hill, third at 130.

Wayne wins from page 1B

"It's good for the school district and the kids to have a good, healthy rivalry like we have," said Glenn coach Mike Schuette, who coached Wayne's junior varsity team for two years — one year under Henry.

The Zebras used strong free-throw shooting and rebounding to pull away from the Rockets after entering the fourth quarter tied 33-33. Wayne converted seven-of-eight free throws and outbounded the taller Glenn squad 10-5.

Still, Wayne had to fend off senior guard Kevin Claypool who erupted for 16 of his game-high 18 points in the second half and kept the Rockets within striking range with several spectacular driving layups.

"Basketball has a way of creating heroes, and he was doing a good job with his dribble penetration," Henry said.

"Kevin is playing better and better each game and is showing good poise," Schuette said.

After a Claypool foul shot gave Glenn a 40-38 lead with 5:14 left, Wayne went ahead for good when Antonio Dodd nailed a triple and Courtney Howard scored on a break-away layup. A baseline jumper by Jason Overton gave Wayne a 45-40 lead.

A Claypool banker cut the lead to three, but Andre Graves' two free throws extended Wayne's lead back to five. Claypool narrowed the margin again with a layup, but Overton countered with a layup to put the game out of reach with :27 remaining.

Two free throws by Bill Romej gave Wayne a 51-44 lead. The Rockets scored two quick baskets in the final 10 seconds for the final points.

Romej led a balanced Wayne attack with 12 points. Ten of 11 Zebras who played scored. John Miller and Ken Taylor added 11 and nine points, respectively, for Glenn.

Glenn held Wayne scoreless for the game's first five minutes but could only build a 4-0 lead. After Henry inserted five new players into the game, the Rockets took the lead behind consecutive three-pointers by Romej.

The second and third quarters saw both teams sharing the lead. In the two quarters alone, there were nine ties and seven lead changes.

The Zebras were able to pull out the win despite shooting only 29 percent from the field (18-of-62). Glenn converted 42 percent of its shots from the floor (21-of-49) and from the foul line (three-of-seven).

"We shot seven-of-34 in the first half and not too much better in the second half," Henry said. "When you shoot that poorly, you force your defense to play well. We'll have to work on our offensive execution for Thursday."

Graves, a junior guard, returned to the Zebras' lineup after missing Friday's 76-67 loss to Belleville when he suffered a hip injury in a car accident the day before. Graves was in obvious pain after the game.

"It hurt out there but I was able to play through it," Graves said. "The game means a lot. It means the city championship."

Glenn's leading scorer, junior forward Tony Goins, also played somewhat hampered, as the forward is recovering from a week-long virus. Goins was held to four points.

"We were close in every category but were outbounded (36-31)," Schuette said. "They are well-coached and always had five people going after the ball. I thought both teams were patient on offense, and it was nice to see the score low."

Lefty Byrd TKOs Darnell in 9th round

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Left-handed super middleweight boxer Steve Darnell received a taste of his own medicine Saturday night in Fargo, N.D., facing another southpaw for the first time as a professional.

Darnell, who grew up in Livonia and lives in Westland, probably could have used another taste of medicine after the fight for his aching head.

A stubborn Darnell took all he could handle from Antoine Byrd, a lefty from Cleveland, before losing on a ninth-round TKO.

Darnell, 26-3-2 as a professional, agreed with the decision to stop the fight and now knows how tough it is to face left-handers. Byrd, the former United States Boxing Association champion who lost the International Boxing Federation world title to Lindell Holmes, is 22-4.

Darnell and interim manager Bradd Lally agreed to fight Byrd late last week after an earlier bout against Steve Collins, scheduled for Feb. 20 in London, England, was canceled.

Darnell had been training to fight against Collins, a right-hander, so the transition was difficult.

"Now I know why I've got an advantage," said Darnell, who required four stitches to close a cut below his eye. "I never thought it was a big deal, but now, after facing a lefty, I see why there's all those complaints. I didn't lose to a bum, but the bottom line is if he would have been right handed,

I would have done much better."

The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds and Lally said he was ready to stop it after the seventh. But Darnell persevered and fought perhaps his strongest round in the eighth, hurting Byrd near his own corner, before tiring again in the ninth and getting TKO'd.

"There's been questions before about his heart but he fought a hell of a fight," Lally said. "He showed me he can hang with a world-class boxer. Steve took a fight on a short notice and he took a lot of punishment."

Lally said he was glad the fight finally ended because he was worried Darnell would get seriously hurt.

"It's not the first shot you're hit with that hurts, it's the one you don't see coming — when you're hurt," Lally said. "I could never live with one of my fighters getting hurt."

Darnell, who went into retirement for four years before returning last year, said he must get stronger to win as a super middleweight.

"My boxing skills are still there, I just have to get on the weights for more bulk," he said.

Darnell would like to get back into the ring within a few months and he wants Lally, who also trains and manages his brother Brett Lally, in his corner again.

"I really enjoyed Bradd, he's an excellent cornerman," Darnell said. "He tells what you're doing wrong, looks you in the eye, motivates you and knows what's going on."

Churchill spikers heat up

Perhaps after the season, the Livonia Churchill volleyball team will send a thank-you note to Livonia Franklin. It seems that Franklin's upset victory against the Chargers on Feb. 15 sounded a wake-up call.

"We've played much better since then," said Churchill coach Mike Hughes.

Certainly Plymouth Salem and Walled Lake Central will attest to that. The Chargers bopped Salem, 15-1, 6-15, 15-7, 16-14 last Thursday. Salem was in third place overall in the Western Lakes. Then they beat Central, 15-10, 3-15, 16-14, 12-15, 15-9 last Monday. Central had been tied for first with Livonia Stevenson.

Last weekend, the Chargers defeated Grosse Pointe South, Grosse Pointe North and Carlton Airport in taking second at the Temperance-Bedford tournament. Burton Atherton beat Churchill in the finals, 15-12, 13-15, 15-10.

Junior setter Aimee Cousino triggered Churchill's success against Central. She made just two bad sets in five games. The beneficiary of those passes were Andrea Zawislak (10 kills) and Krista Leidlaw.

Hughes also praised the efforts of Chrissy Daly (serving) and Nancy Granzow (passing and defense).

Churchill is now 8-3 in the Western Lakes, 22-14 overall

Spartans out-ranked

Livonia Stevenson lost in the quarterfinals Saturday at the 15-team South Haven Invitational, which featured 11 state-ranked teams.

Comstock, the No. 1-rated team in Class B, bounced the Spartans, 15-7, 15-6.

"Comstock had two very good hitters and played good enough defense to get the ball to those girls," Stevenson coach Lee Cagle said.

In pool play, Stevenson beat South Haven (15-4, 15-10) and Bay City Center (15-8, 15-12), while losing to Portage Northern, the state's top-ranked team in Class A (15-3, 15-9), while splitting with St. Joseph (11-15, 15-4).

Julie Martin led Stevenson with 45 kills on the day. Karen Groulx contributed 13, while setter Patty Diamond had 63 assists and seven kills.

"We missed a lot of serves (29) on the day and we were not passing well, we got aced quite often," Cagle said. "Our passing let us down and forced us to become an outside hitting team, and we're just an average team then."

"You can't be average against teams like Portage Northern and Comstock because they're just going to whomp on you. I wish we could have passed better and stayed in the tournament."

On Tuesday, Stevenson topped Livonia Franklin, 15-6, 15-10, 15-6, in a Western Lakes match.

Groulx (13 kills) and Martin (10) led the Spartans' attack.

Stevenson is 10-1 in league play, 36-7-2 overall.

Pats spike Western

Livonia Franklin gained an 8-15, 13-15, 15-6, 15-7, 15-7 victory last week at Walled Lake Western as sophomore Andrea Greer served 10 straight points in Game No. 4 to erase a 7-0 deficit.

Greer had 18 digs and seven kills on the night (.421 hitting percentage).

Junior Tenay Truchan led Franklin with 24 kills and 29 digs.

She made good on 18 of 19 serves. Junior Sonja Hluschenko contributed 19 assists, while senior Nancy Noechel collected seven kills and 17 digs.

Wayne stalls Tractors

Wayne Memorial evened its Wayne A mark to 6-6 with a 15-4, 7-15, 15-2 triumph against Dearborn Fordson Monday.

Chris Vasely (six aces) and Maureen Wilson (four) were strong from the service line. Lateefa Moore (five kills), Kim Morrow (four) and Dawn Corwin (three) were the team's leading hitters.

Blazers rule Friendship match

The Livonia Ladywood volleyball team won the Operation Friendship championship Monday, 15-9, 15-7 over Detroit Cass Tech at Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher.

The Blazers, who won the Catholic League crown four days earlier with a victory over Dearborn Divine Child, improved to 28-6-2 overall. Cass Tech was the Detroit Public School League champion.

Liz Gunn led Ladywood with eight kills. Anne Foglits had six kills, Mary Jo Kelly five and Andrea Putti and Tara Overaitis had four each.

CC, Rice icers tie

Redford Catholic Central and Birmingham Brother Rice played to a 1-1 tie Saturday in a Michigan Metro Hockey League game at Redford Ice Arena.

The Shamrocks, who are 12-5-4 overall, had 24 shots on goal to Rice's 16. The game was unlike the first matchup between the two teams, Feb. 5, when CC beat Rice 3-0 despite being outshot 38-13.

After a scoreless first period, CC took a 1-0 lead at 5:38 of the second period on a goal by Jeff Lachapelle, assisted by Jason Ballinger. Rice tied the score at 10:31 with a power play goal by Tim Karrumi, with assists to Josh Fryer and Matt Riker.

The Shamrocks tried to break the tie in the second period but Chris Gonzalez hit the goal post on a breakaway and Jon Heady hit the side of the net on a good opportunity, according to coach Jack Gumbleton.

The third period didn't feature much offense with CC taking only five shots on goal and Rice two.

Colorful patches of cloth, stitched together with tender, loving care, brought pioneer women together and offered them comfort on the lonely plains of America.

Trinity House Theatre offers a glimpse of what it must have been like to live on the frontier during their presentation of "Quilters," by Barbara Damashek and Molly Newman.

"Quilting was one shared experience that joined the lives of many of our ancestors who settled the plains and hills of the frontier," said Sarah Hedeon, artistic director of Trinity House Theatre.

It is the focal point of "Quilters." Stories in the play unfold around 16 blocks of a legacy quilt being stitched by a mother, Sarah, for her seven daughters.

Michael Flores of Bloomfield Hills quilted all the quilt blocks used in the play, and the legacy quilt that the play is built around.

Hedeon portrays Dana, one of Sarah's daughters. As each block in the quilt unfolds, the audience experiences through drama, the lives of hundreds of characters, mostly women.

"One block is a story about a fire that destroys someone's log cabin," said Hedeon. "Each story is built around a traditional quilt block. For example, the Double Wedding Ring quilt pattern is the story of a young woman's quest to find a husband."

Music and dance are woven throughout the dramatic and often comedic stories that tie us to our American heritage.

Such themes as childbirth, baptism, marriage, parenting and schooling are addressed. Using both narrative and interactive scene work, the play touches many aspects of the lifestyle of the pioneers.

"One of the most interesting stories is Secret Drawer. It's the story of a woman who learns she's pregnant for the 14th time, and goes to her doctor for help," said Hedeon. "Some of the stories are very funny. Several blocks show what childhood on the prairie was like."

"Quilters" is directed by Laura Gumina, with musical direction by Dianne Lord. Hedeon said she figured the show will be a hit with women, since there are many stories that mothers and daughters can relate to, but what surprised her was the number of men who saw the show during rehearsal and said they really enjoyed it.

In the spirit of the show, there will be a display of quilts, fashioned from traditional designs, in the theater for the audience to enjoy, and a silent auction of the legacy quilt used in the play.

Tickets are $9 and $10. There will be two performances, April 2 and 3, at the Livonia Civic Center Library auditorium.

LSO presents enjoyable, upbeat concert

The LSO's concert Series B and C continues March 26-27 with the Michigan Ballet Company and "Peter and the Wolf" at the Livonia Civic Center Library Auditorium. For ticket information, call the LSO office noon to 4 p.m. Mondays and Wednesdays at 421-1111 or the 24-hour hotline, 458-6575.

The second Series B chamber style concert this season by the Livonia Symphony Orchestra featuring guest guitarist James Lentini on Feb. 19, was an enjoyable intimate evening of music with an upbeat theme.

The scaled-down orchestra under conductor/music director Francesco DiBlasi opened with the Overture to Beethoven's only ballet, "Die Geschöpfe des Prometheus" (The Creatures of Prometheus). A definite plus to this series is the addition of DiBlasi's informative commentary between selections.

Gracefulness and charm filled the LSO's second selection, the first movement of Schubert's "Symphony No. 5 in B flat major."

Kristen Williams, oboe; Colin Lord, clarinet; James Poe, bassoon and Carl Karoup, horn were featured in the nearly flawless "Symphony Concertante" by Mozart. Beforehand, DiBlasi kidded the audience that this was his arrangement of the work, and as such had very few repetitions.

The piece was light and airy. If you closed your eyes you might have imagined you were listening to a European band concert.

After intermission, Lentini took center stage for the premier professional performance of his "Concerto for Guitar and Strings (1981)." The contemporary piece in three movements had an underlying classical flavor which showcased Lentini's proficient guitar work — his hands flying across the fret work. The guitar and violin strings sang dark and sweet in the second movement.

Assistant professor of composition, and director of the electronic studio at Wayne State University in Detroit, Lentini evidenced that he has performed extensively as a recitalist and soloist.

He completed the concerto while studying at Wayne State University. It was performed as a work-in-progress in 1981, and then set aside until 1992 when he made minor revisions to the orchestrations.

Lentini holds degrees from Wayne State University and Michigan State University, and a doctorate in composition from the University of Southern California. His compositions include works written for orchestra, chamber ensembles, voices, electronic and solo instruments. He won first prize in the Atwater-Kent Composition Contest for his "Music for Brass" in 1985, and the McHugh Composition Prize for "A Distant Place" in 1988.

After a toe-tapping rendition of Joplin's "Cascades" featuring orchestra members Williams, Lord, Poe, Karoub and flutist, Teri Sankovich, Lentini returned to the stage for solo performances of "Here's That Rainy Day" by Van Hensen, and a soulful Gershwin's "A Foggy Day."

The concert ended on a rousing note with dramatic music from Rossini's "Guillaume Tell," (William Tell) ballet.

Concert, plays focus on children

Folklorist and children's recording artist Ella Jenkins will appear as part of the "Saturday Fun for Kids" series 11 a.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, at Oakland University's Meadow Brook Theatre in Rochester Hills.

Seating is reserved. Tickets are $6 each and available by calling 377-3300. The concert will last about one hour, and is not recommended for children under the age of 3. Doors open at 10:30 a.m.

A regular guest on "Mister Rogers' Neighborhood," Jenkins has been praised throughout her 35 years as a performer for her emphasis on active participation and multi-cultural education. She knows songs, chants, rhythms, games and dances from many lands, and encourages audience participation at her concerts.

She has performed for children on all seven continents, including Antarctica. In 1988, she traveled to Hong Kong and the People's Republic of China as part of an exchange program of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts.

In 1989, she traveled to the Soviet Union and performed for the children of Moscow and Kiev.

Jenkins spends as much as 200 days a year on the road. Only half that time is spent performing; the other half is spent holding workshops at universities and children's agencies.

To each performance she carries a bag of small portable instruments, including maracas, clave sticks, castanets and harmonicas.

"Saturday Fun for Kids" series also includes an April 3 presentation of "Hansel and Gretel" by the International Puppet Place.

Here are some other children's events in the area.

Talented cast in opera 'Wonderglass'

Donald Baker, principal oboist with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, will be the soloist at the next American Artists Series concert, 3 p.m. Sunday, March 28, at Kingswood Auditorium, Cranbrook campus, 500 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills. Tickets $12.50. For information, call 851-5044.

By ISABELLE JOHNSTON SMITH
SPECIAL WRITER

A near-capacity audience of over 350 hardy souls braved snow, sleet and cold Sunday, Feb. 21, to witness the American Artists Series world premier production of singer, composer, librettist Susan Botti's work-in-progress chamber opera, "Wonderglass," at Kingswood Auditorium on the Cranbrook campus in Bloomfield Hills.

"Wonderglass" is based on the whimsical improvised stories gentle Oxford Don Charles Dodgson (Lewis Carroll) related to the three children of his Dean (among them his favorite, Alice) to while away their lazy weekend afternoons picnicking on the banks of the Thames River in the 1860s. However, Botti's 20th century evocations of the "Queen of Hearts," the "Mad Hatter," "March Hare," "Mock Turtle," the "Ugly Duchess" and Cook rely more on sharp wit and biting satire — and musical references to jazz, show tunes, choral reading, recitative, scat, folk and ethnic idioms.

Full of dissonances, minor keys, unresolved chords, atonalities, complicated rhythms, harmonic 4th and 7ths, and sudden strong, dramatic shifts in scale, dynamics and tempo, this is a sophisticated, but fairly melodic-wonderland, indeed.

When 9-year-old Carly Baruh's "Alice" asks — "would you tell me please where I ought to go from here? and the Cheshire Cat answers — "that depends a good deal on where you want to get," Botti is summing up her concept for "Wonderglass" — a concept which explores the boundaries of the 20th century imagination using Lewis' 19th century characters and dialogue as vehicles.

What results is a work full of irony, wit, humor and (sometimes) tenderness. Notable among the songs are: "Which Way?," "How I Love to Play Croquet," "Soup, Beautiful Soup," "The Mad Duchess' Aria," "Off with their Heads," "The Jabberwock," and the folk tune-like conclusion "The Old Man at the Gate." Albeit most of these are not immediately "hummable."

The two short films of Dodgson's (Carroll's) 19th century photos by California filmmaker Phil Denslow, which were used as a prologue and near the end, also added immeasurably to the production.

As the narrator intoned at the conclusion — "Mark this day with a white stone!" and a red letter! And bravo! This was, in fact, a "brillig" afternoon.

Isabelle Johnston Smith of Birmingham, a former professional singer, serves on the Detroit Symphony Orchestra Hall Volunteer Council Board of directors, and on the boards of other area arts organizations.

"You might see six, eight, 10 resurfacing jobs in the metro area, some bridgework done on a central program."

"The whole program is a little sketchy," he added.
Curt Hacias, president of the Construction Association of Michigan, agreed that he doesn't know yet exactly what to expect.

"Our membership is poised and ready to go on a moment's notice," he said. "There won't be a lack of bidders for work: It's a bright light, no question about it. Any time there's an infusion of dollars, private dollars or federal dollars, it certainly will help."

Thomas H. Landry, president of A.J. Etkin in Farmington Hills, believes that road specialists rather than building contractors like himself stand to benefit most in the short term.

Environmentally friendly?

Ed Cicero, vice president for operations at Millgard Environmental in Livonia, said his pollution remediation firm probably won't get an immediate boost from a federal spending stimulus. But he found reason for hope in the tone of Clinton's address.

"If he means what he said in his speech, I think environmental might pick up and big," Cicero said.

"There will be cuts in payments to providers: doctors, hospitals and labs as a way of controlling health care costs. These cuts are only a stop-gap until we reform the whole health care system."

Michael Killian, director of marketing and public affairs for Beaumont Hospitals, was waiting to get a handle on specific numbers from finance personnel before gauging an impact.

But he had a preliminary thought.
"Cutting payments to providers in order to save money certainly is a strategy, but it will work only if the demand for services is likewise-controlled," Killian said. "As long as we address reducing payments without addressing demand, it will only lead to more escalation."

Wayne George, chief financial officer for St. Mary Hospital in Livonia, figures that the impact can only be bad for health-care institutions.
"I'm not ready to say what the ramifications are until I see specifics. It won't be positive," he said.

"As we restructure American military forces to meet the new threats of the post-Cold War world, we can responsibly reduce our defense budget."
Defense spending cuts probably will go beyond military personnel and include equipment and supplies, defense contractors here suspect.
LOC Performance in Plymouth currently employs about 130 who make parts for tanks and trucks. Ninety-five percent of its business is defense-related, said Rodger Vojcek, vice president. The firm already has reduced its work force by nearly two dozen the last eight months due to previous defense cuts, and Vojcek isn't optimistic about what he hears through the grapevine about more potential cuts.
"We're bracing for the worst. That way, you have less surprises," Vojcek said. "Truth to tell, we just don't know what it's going to turn into."
The automotive division of Rockwell International, with headquarters and a technical center in Troy, currently employs 900. Some 40 active contracts are now in effect with that division, Defense Department spokesman reported. A dollar figure wasn't available.

Neither Michael Pennington, a local Rockwell spokesman, nor Joy Sabol, a spokeswoman at the corporate level, would speculate on how Clinton's plan would impact their company.

"There's no more talk (here) than at any other business what the president might do," Pennington said.

The automotive division accounted for 22 percent of all corporate business with sales of $2.4 billion during the last budget year, Sabol said. Corporate-wide, Department of Defense work produced revenue of $2.9 billion.

Balance from NEXT PAGE

money to run their business — they make commercial or consumer loans at higher interest rates.

By contrast, "equity assets" imply ownership of an asset. One can own many things that can increase in value: real estate, pieces of companies (stocks), a personal business, gold. The hope and expectation are that the asset will go up in value, but it may also go down. With equity investments, there are no guarantees.

The distinction is important. In general, the equity assets provide significantly greater long-term rates of return but at the expense of short-term stability. The debt-based assets are more stable but at the expense of average returns.

Table I shows the long-term rates of return of specific debt-based and equity-based assets. The difference between the two categories is substantial. For example, over a 15-year-period, the 5-percent bond rate would double your money; the 10-percent rate provided historically by stocks would result in a quadrupling of your money. The difference becomes even more dramatic over longer time periods.

Everybody should have assets in both categories; some in the debt-based area and some in the equity-based assets. The single most important question in asset allocation is the balance between the two.

Generally, conservative investors such as retirees should have a greater proportion of assets in the debt-based area for greater stability. But they should still retain some equity assets to provide for growth and inflation protection.

Those who are accumulating money for a number of years to achieve a long-term goal should have the majority of their money in equity assets. But even the most aggressive investor should have an emergency reserve and some other debt-based assets to balance the portfolio.

The percentage of assets in these two areas will shift over time. For example, a couple in their 30s and 40s may have 70 percent of their assets in the equity-based area for more rapid growth. As they move through their 50s, they might choose a good time to liquidate some of the equity assets to lock in past profits. By the time they reach 60, they might have perhaps one-half of their assets in the debt-based and one-half in equity-based assets. As they move toward retirement at 65, they might further reduce their equity exposure by shifting 70 percent of their total portfolio into the debt-based assets, while keeping 30 percent in stocks, real estate and other equity-based assets. (See Table II)

SUBURBAN BUSINESS LEADERS

David C. Mully has been promoted to branch manager of the newly opened Novi office of Charter Financial Corp., a Livonia-based residential mortgage lender. Mully will be responsible for the development of mortgage business in southern Oakland County and surrounding communities.

Mully

Betty Jean Hebel was elected to the board of directors of Bonal International Inc. Hebel is the regional sales manager for Bonal Technologies and an adjunct assistant professor in the management and marketing department of the school of business at Madonna University in Livonia. She joined the company in 1990.

Hebel

J. Anthony (Tony) Paulus was named head of Greenhills School in Ann Arbor effective July 1, 1993. Paulus succeeds David McDowell, who has served as head of the school since 1983. Paulus has more than 20 years' experience as a teacher and administrator in independent schools.

Paulus

Leonard A. Walle was named director of marketing with Flint Ink Corp. He has worked for Flint Ink for more than 20 years. He has held positions in research, product management and sales. In his new position, he will direct marketing strategy for the corporation.

Walle

Business braces for Clinton's specifics

■ It's apprehension on the part of some, anticipation on the part of other business owners and managers as they gauge their economic future.

By DOUG FUNKE
STAFF WRITER

Some businesses would appear to fare better than others when it comes to applying President Bill Clinton's proposed economic recovery plan.

Apparent winners include building contractors and community colleges. Potential losers include defense contractors and hospitals.

But appearances can sometimes be deceiving. Expectations can be buoyed or dashed depending on how the details eventually shake out, business leaders said. They responded to the following Clinton excerpts:

"We must create a new unified worker training system, so that workers receive training regardless of why they lost their jobs," Clinton said in his economic address. "We will offer people on welfare the education, training... they need to get back on their feet."

That was good news to Gordon May, executive director of Oakland Community College Pontiac Center, and Bruce Sweet, director of business and industrial services at Schoolcraft College in Livonia.

Both are involved in job training and retraining programs.

SHARON LEMIEUX/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Building boost: Mason Kevin Buford is hoping President Bill Clinton's call for increased spending in construction will materialize in added jobs for his company.

THE PRESIDENT'S PLAN Impact on business

see what their needs are over the next five years.

"We have two job developers and their job is to meet with businesses to see what kinds of jobs they have available," May said. "We train them, then it's incumbent on the employer to employ them."

"To create jobs and guarantee a strong recovery, I call on Congress to enact an immediate jobs package of over $30 billion. We will put people to work right now and create half a million jobs, jobs that will rebuild our highways and airports, renovate housing..."

There's a wide-range of opinion on what this proposal will mean locally.

Drop in the bucket?

"I don't see the proposals the president made will make a tremendous impact on the building trades," said Fred Capaldi, a Rochester residential builder and president of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

His reasoning — if it cost upwards of $20 million just to put in water and sewer lines for the redeveloped Victoria Park Subdivision in Detroit, how far will the money go?

"The amount of money needed to be spent in the inner cities would be a tremendous amount," Capaldi said. "I don't know if the federal government is up to that."

Joe Malloure, president of C.A. Hull, a Walled Lake contractor and president of the Michigan Road Builders Association, projects that Michigan will receive only $76 million under Clinton's plan.

"You're not going to see the state all torn up over $76 million," he said.

Balance key in asset allocation

Second of three parts

BY DANIEL BOYCE
and ALAN FERRARA
SPECIAL WRITERS

Last week we discussed the importance of maintaining adequate liquidity (accessibility) and diversifying investments into several different categories. Before we proceed with the discussion of asset allocation, it is important to define the categories among which investments can be allocated.

A broad distinction must first be made between interest-bearing assets (debt-based assets) and ownership assets (equity assets). Within the two broad categories, there are several sub-categories. The debt-based assets contain three sub-categories: cash equivalents, guaranteed contracts and bonds. Equity-based assets include the sub-categories of stocks, real estate, tangibles and other. Some definitions of each:

■ Cash equivalents: Interest-bearing assets with ready accessibility. They include savings accounts, money market funds, Treasury bills, short-term savings goals, and for defensive investing when nothing else looks attractive.

■ Guaranteed contracts: Higher interest rates, but with some restriction on accessibility. They include retirement plan and 401(k) plan guaranteed accounts, deferred annuities, and long-term certificates of deposit. These assets provide moderate rates of return and provide an anchor to any portfolio. They never decline in value. Frequently, tax deferral is an added benefit of investments in this category.

■ Bonds: A fixed interest rate is locked in for a long period of time. They include assets such as municipal bonds, treasury notes and bonds, and bond mutual funds. They primarily are held for steady income. Bonds may be liquidated prior to maturity by selling the bonds to another investor, but the sale price may be higher or lower than the original purchase price (prices will tend to vary with interest rate moves).

■ Stocks: Represents ownership in companies. They include stock options, stock mutual funds and foreign stocks. These offer growth and liquidity but will have significantly greater fluctuations in value in the short term. As a result, the investment time horizon should ideally be five years or longer, though they may be sold sooner if conditions change.

■ Investment real estate: includes investment property, partnerships, real estate investment trusts but does not include personal residence. Real estate is an illiquid asset that typically provides some income along with potential appreciation (growth).

■ Tangibles: These assets tend to do well in inflationary times, but they can be highly volatile. They include precious metals and collectibles (coins, stamps, oriental carpets, artwork). They tend to increase in value when bonds and stocks are not performing well and can therefore help stabilize a portfolio.

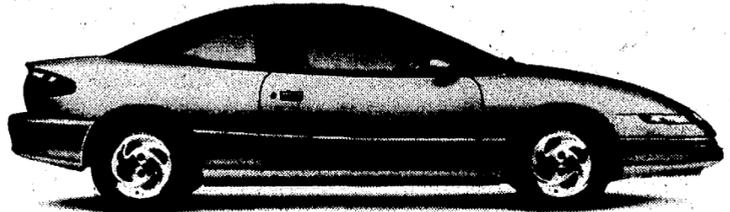

■ Other: Includes private businesses and exotic investments. This is a catch-all category and is always optional in a portfolio.

Next we'll examine a useful framework for our asset allocation model. It is helpful to divide a portfolio into the debt-based assets and the equity assets. Interest bearing assets are debt-based because the money is in effect being loaned to various organizations — the bank (savings or CDs), the U.S. government (Treasury bills or bonds), a corporation (corporate bonds) or other entity. The borrowing organization then uses this money to maintain a business or other equity asset.

For example, when you open a savings account, you are lending your money to the bank. In return, the bank agrees to pay you a specified rate of interest for the use of your money. They use your

FAMILY LIFE

EARTHA DEVAMPERT

What you do keeps parents coming back

What keeps parents coming? That's a subject I addressed in an article published by the National Association for the Education of Young Children in May 1992. And what was said then is still applicable today.

The first thing that keeps parents coming back is being reliable. Parents need a provider who is dependable. This means you should:

- (1) Do what you say you're going to do;
- (2) Do it when you say you will;
- (3) Do what it takes to organize before it's time to open your doors to the families.

But there's more. You also have to be credible. Quality is worth paying for if parents have peace of mind knowing you provide a viable, productive and safe program in a peaceful, loving environment.

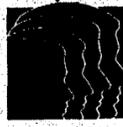

Parents and children can sense sincerity and readily draw conclusions about you as a professional person and your business program. When parents chose to use your services, it is most likely that they are choosing you the person rather than your big slide, although the equipment is very important.

A feeling of trust and confidentiality is important. Such is the nature of credibility.

A new start?

Family programs gladly 'heed' the call

The call to action was issued in President Bill Clinton's State of the Union address. Programs like Head Start and Women, Infants and Children are on his list for increased funding, much to the delight of those who administer the programs.

BY DOUG FUNKE and CASEY HANS
STAFF WRITERS

President Clinton's call for expanding the Women, Infants and Children's (WIC) nutrition program and reaching more children in the Head Start preschool program drew praise from caregivers involved at the local level.

While they weren't sure of exactly what direction the "improvements" would take, they see a need for more involvement.

Some 7,100 WIC clients are currently served in Wayne County community. We never turn anyone away, but it may take time to get an appointment."

The food coupons, exchanged at area markets, average about $50 monthly per person who qualifies and are administered through the county health departments.

Even communities perceived as affluent are touched.

"I'm not surprised," Nelms said of the WIC needs in wealthy Wayne communities like Plymouth Township, Canton and Livonia. "Health needs of people" span the whole geographic area.

Specific numbers weren't available by community.

Nelms, a 15-year veteran of WIC, notes the program's results.

"We've seen babies born to moms on the WIC program with (appropriate) birth weight increases, and we've seen children with iron deficiency anemia decline."

The out-Wayne County Head Start program currently serves about 2,800 children outside of the city of Detroit, said Patricia Horne-McGee, associate director. Head Start includes education, immunization and nutrition services for children in underprivileged families.

Sometimes, there is a waiting list at the beginning of the school year, but children on that list usually eventually are admitted due to family moves and other dropouts, she said.

Programs in all areas

"We tell people we have participants in Dearborn and Livonia, and people around the state say, 'Not really?' Yes, there are pockets of poor within all of our cities."

Horne-McGee and her staff are in the process of assessing needs to possibly expand Head Start to several school districts that don't have it currently — Crestwood, Southgate and Allen Park — and measuring whether those that do are fully covered.

"Head Start impacts on the family. It changes direction on self-sufficiency and moving toward self-sufficiency," Horne-McGee said.

Expanding the program will carry a higher cost to local communities that are expected to provide 20 percent of the budget, Horne-McGee said. Most provide in-kind services like classroom space, she said.

Tax help

In another area mentioned by the president, the working poor would stand to benefit from Clinton's call to expand the earned income tax credit. The figure being banded about — raising the ceiling from the current $22,370 to $30,000.

"Definitely more people would be eligible and I'm going to make an assumption dollars would increase as well," said Elyc Maccani, public affairs specialist in the Detroit IRS office.

unities outside of Detroit, said Carrie Nelms, county WIC coordinator. Pregnant and nursing women plus children under 5 years of age at medical or nutritional risk now receive food coupons to supplement their diets.

"We think we could serve another 1,000 people — but that would mean an additional allocation of federal money," Nelms said. "We are over-located now, 500 over."

Growth Works mends families' fractured lives

BY JAMES RADEBAUGH
STAFF WRITER

Fractured families, materialism and a hectic pace of life are taking a toll on the young people.

So say several adults who were honored this month by Growth Works Inc. for their efforts on behalf of troubled teens.

"I think the pressures are getting worse, I don't know why," said Rita Lowenstein, who volunteers as a mentor for teens involved with Growth Works.

Lowenstein and her husband Glenn got involved with Growth Works five years ago when their son got into trouble with drugs and alcohol. Though she's completing requirements for a law degree and Glenn is a top-level business executive, they've found time to give back to an organization that helped when their family was in crisis.

Each week, Lowenstein meets for an hour with a young person enrolled in Growth Works' Youth Assistance program. She's there to listen, to bolster self-esteem and to guide the young person toward more responsible behavior. The program is for first-time offenders who are sent to Growth Works as an alternative to the courts. Some, but not all, are chemically dependent.

Lowenstein believes the pressures of early sex, drug use, the need to wear the right clothes and old-fashioned pressures such as school work have combined to make being a teen tougher today than ever.

Jim Young, who, like the Lowensteins, is a Canton resident, also is a Youth Assistance mentor. He says too much comes too easily to young people today, while at the same time kids have less, and less contact with adults.

"Kids are really like on an island more than at any time in the history of man," he said.

Nic Cooper, a counselor in the Plymouth-Canton Schools, blames advertising for bombarding kids with the message that drinking provides all the things adolescents want: friends, good times, acceptance. He said that use of alcohol and marijuana are as strong as ever among teens and that use of inhalants is growing.

Like others, Cooper thinks the Just Say No push of the past 12 years has been largely ineffective in steering young people away from drugs.

Cooper said that while the Just Say No message is as fine as far as it goes, it is a simplistic solution to a complex problem. What's needed, he said, are programs that identify and treat young people with chemical dependencies.

Cooper, in conjunction with Growth Works, ran such a program from 1977-87 for the Plymouth-Canton Schools. The program, Learning Options, was discontinued in a cost-cutting effort.

"That's the kind of thing that was lost during the Reagan years," he said.

"We find ourselves with fewer options, and that's kind of sad."

Growth Works, located in Plymouth, provides children and adults with a variety of services ranging from drug counseling to job placement. The non-profit organization was founded in 1971 and now employs seven full-time staff members and nearly 50 volunteers. It receives funding from United Way, local governments and its own fundraisers.

Cooper, Young and the Lowensteins were honored earlier this month at Growth Works' annual award dinner. Carol Haas and Madelon Hudson were also honored. Haas is a nurse in the Wayne-Westland Schools and a two-year Growth Works volunteer. Hudson, a Plymouth resident, serves one day a week as a volunteer secretary.

of it. Club members aided the push for Prohibition and for women's suffrage, they helped out during two world wars, and, on a local note, they helped build the Plymouth Library and develop Kellogg Park.

Writer's restless nature requires a variety of activities

GRAPHOLOGY PROFILES

LORENE GREEN

Dear Ms. Green, I will be 48 years old tomorrow. I am left handed. I wonder if left-handed people write any differently than right-handers, I mean does their handwriting differ in appearance. We all know lefties write upside-down. It certainly is true of me! In many ways my handwriting has changed over the years — is that typical?

I will be interested in reading what you have to say about my personality after seeing my handwriting. I guess we all are interested in what others think of us, but it will be interesting to see if what you perceive is what I think I am like! Thanks for reading this for me.

B.M., Plymouth

One of the most common differences between left and right handers is that left handers usually cross their T's from right to left. Most mature adults change their handwriting as they mature and develop personality changes.

Today's writer is a gregarious woman who enjoys people from all walks of life. Her restless nature requires constant variety in her activities. Her interests are often short and fleeting. She is not above a little social climbing to mix with people who have special appeal for her.

This is an independent person, one to whom freedom is paramount. A routine existence holds little attraction for her.

When she wrote this letter to me she was very busy. She has so many irons in the fire that her energies are being scattered. She might find it helpful to sort out her priorities and extricate herself from some of this involvement.

This is a person of intelligence and refinement. Seemingly she thinks of herself as being somewhat different, possibly marching to a different drummer. At times she may also feel that she is in possession of special insights.

She comprehends quickly and can take a direct route to problem solving. She is able to cut away unnecessary steps and move right to the heart of a problem. Creativity is freely expressed. A good memory is another asset.

Heavy pressure suggests her purposeful drive. However, her fleeting interest in so many things may interfere with her concentration on a prolonged endeavor. On the job, she wants good equipment to facilitate her work.

She is not reluctant to take a risk to get what she wants from life. Material interests are strong. I doubt if we'll ever hear her say, "but this is the way we have always done things."

Sensitivity rides on the loops of her small T's and D's. Often she anticipates criticism when none is intended. She enjoys praise.

Her inflated lower loops suggest many things . . . fantasy and vivid imagination are among them. Other interpretations are incorporated throughout the analysis. She tends to distort what she sees and hears without realizing it. This prevents her from basing her judgments solely on facts.

their hand writing differs in appearance. I know that we lefties write upside-down certainly is true of me! In many ways my writing has changed over the years — is that typical? It is true in other ways, but I suppose hand writing changes as we age and

She is somewhat self-involved. Currently something is causing her to entertain negative thoughts that verge on depression. Without samples of handwriting done at other times, I cannot be certain if this is temporary or not. With her love of nature, physical exercise out in the beauty of nature could go a long way toward lifting her spirits.

Although emotional by nature, she keeps her feelings somewhat controlled in social interaction.

If you would like to have your handwriting analyzed in this newspaper, write to Lorene C. Green, a certified graphologist, at 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Please use a full sheet of white, unlined paper, writing in the first person singular. Age, handedness and full signature are all helpful. Objective feedback is always welcome. Time does not allow Lorene Green to mail out personal replies.

"We rarely track proposals," Maccani added. "This is Bill Clinton talking. It's still going through Ways and Means and Senate Finance (committees). It's subject to the normal battering."

The maximum credit this year is $2,151 for one child, $2,211 for two or more.

tion because it's a direct offset of tax due.

Some 359,000 families in Michigan received earned income benefits totalling $273.4 million in the 1991 filing year, Maccani said.

"We estimate in the state of Michigan, that 50,000 more families could be eligible (now) for the credit, but they're not aware of it or don't file for it.

"The credit is available to any-one filing joint, head of household or single as long as you had a job and earned income and had a child live with you at least half a year," Maccani said.

"It's aimed at lower-income families with children. It's designed to help them out and put more money in their pockets.

"I don't think we've ever seen a profile. I believe there would be a lot of single parents and a lot of families. This is just a personal opinion, with the large number of single families in the country now."

Other potential beneficiaries — senior citizens raising their grandchildren.

Family issues from page 1C

You also need to be attractive. Appearance may be deceiving, but many times people draw a lot of conclusions about you and the quality of services that will be offered on the basis of what they see. Anything the parents and children can see, feel, touch, hear and even smell concerning the physical environment can shape opinions.

Put your best foot forward and make a special effort to present a first class image — not only in the physical environment but yourself as well. It's not at frivolous expense, it's an investment. What can you lose? Hopefully not a potential customer.

As a provider you also have to be responsive. To be responsive is to be accessible, available to the children as well as to the parents. Take care of minor concerns or complaints before they get out of hand. Be available at designated times to discuss various issues with parents. Don't be too busy to listen or be "tuned in" to certain situations.

To be responsive also means having the ability to know when to and how to act upon a certain issue in a timely manner.

Be empathetic. Everyone wants to feel special. Each family has its own unique personality and needs. That's what makes a family day care home truly wonderful. Why? Because each family represents a branch on your family day care business tree.

So be patient with the families and empathetic. Treat each family as a special part of the tree.

Help accommodate their various needs as much as possible. Try to put yourself in their shoes and experience their points of view.

After all be happy. You chose them . . . they chose you.

If you have a question or comment for Eartha DeYampert, call her at 953-2047, mail box number 1883, on a Touch-Tone phone, or write her at The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Classes available for lupus patients

The Michigan Lupus Foundation will offer a five-week patient education series about the disease, beginning Thursday, March 4.

The workshops are designed for lupus patients, their families and friends. It will be at 7:30-9:15 p.m. Thursdays at St. Alfred Parish, 9500 Banner, Taylor.

Dr. Luis Torregrosa, a rheumatologist will be the physician speaker. He will discuss diagnostic tests, treatment, variables of lupus and self-monitoring.

Other speakers will be Virginia Ladd, discussing what lupus is, and Peg O'Flynn, who will lead discussions on the emotional reactions to chronic illness, with suggestions on how the patient and family can cope. All material will be presented in easy-to-understand terms.

Lupus is a chronic, inflammatory autoimmune disease in which the body's defense system that is meant to protect malfunctions produces antibodies directed at the body. The cause and cure are currently not known.

The symptoms include joint pain, low-grade fever, chest pain, unusual swelling and sometimes a sun-sensitive rash.

Advance registration is required and can be completed by contacting the Michigan Lupus Foundation at 26202 Harper Ave., St. Clair Shores 48081, or by calling 775-8330.

Kast and Hodak star at Northville Town Hall series

Tickets are still available for the remaining two lectures of the Northville Town Hall Series, now in its 32nd season. The series is held at the Holiday Inn-West, 17123 N. Laurel Park Drive, Livonia. The Monday, March 8, guest speaker will be ABC News correspondent Shielah Kast, while local TV notable Jerry Hodak will be the Monday, April 12, guest speaker. Kast has covered a wide range of beats for ABC News, moving to Congressional beat in 1989 after a four-year White House stint. A former financial reporter with the Washington Star, she authored a book, "Cut Your Own Taxes," a how-to-book covering the 1981 and '82 tax law changes. A native of Indianapolis, Ind., she is a graduate of the Catholic University of America and attended the Catholic University Law School. Hodak is a veteran reporter and weathercaster. A local Emmy winner, he received the Michigan Non-Profit Homes Association Award for his series on Medicare costs, a special mention award for his medical story on a cancer pump and a 1983 public service award from the Michigan Cancer Foundation. A graduate of Wayne State University, he got his start at WDET-FM on campus. He joined WXYZ-TV in 1977 and moved to WJBK-TV in 1992. Proceeds from the series' benefits charities in Northville, Novi, Plymouth, Livonia and South Lyons through the organization's Board of Awards. The 1993-94 Town Hall series lineup will be announced and tickets will go on sale at the April gathering. In addition to the Town Hall lectures, there are luncheons at noon at the Holiday Inn available for season ticket-holders. For more information on the Town Hall program, call Carmen Kuckenbecker at 349-7227 or write to Northville Town Hall, P.O. Box 93, Northville 48167.

Club

Not bad for an organization that started out as the Plymouth Ladies Literary Society. "The camaraderie is wonderful," explained current president Grace Rix. "For me it's been nice, busy but nice."

One of the more noteworthy of the club's recent projects has been a scholarship program that in the past 10 years has helped fund the education of more than 150 young men and women. The club holds two or three fund-raisers a year and usually gives about $2,500 each year to local service organizations, Rix said.

The club currently has about 140 members, of whom 40 have been members for more than 40 years. But, Rix cautioned, she doesn't want people to get the idea that the Woman's Club of Plymouth is an artifact of the past. New members are always joining, she said.

Looking back: The Woman's Club of Plymouth will celebrate its 100th anniversary March 4. At a luncheon in October, club members Grace Rix, Mary Childs, Dorothy Lent and Betty Koch dressed in 1893 costume.

Metro Detroit: the newspaper readership story

Detroit is a "city of suburbs."

As the graph shows, suburbanites comprise more than 72% of Detroit's metro population.

In fact, the suburbs account for 85% of metro Detroit's twice the audited suburban circulation (707,214) of the daily Detroit News (274,510) or Free Press (348,698).

And the 1991 Belden newspaper survey proves that suburbanites read their SPRING newspapers.

SPRING delivers more total suburban readers (927,400) than the daily edition of The News (743,000) or Free Press (856,000).

SPRING delivers more suburban buyers of women's fashions, men's fashions, new cars & trucks, boats, jewelry, and airline tickets.

The same research study shows that 416,000 (56%) of 35% of the people reached by the DNA daily "combo" read both

The Detroit News' suburban readers also read the Free Press.

So Free Press advertisers add only 17% more reach by buying the News-Free Press daily "combo."

Ministry offers wives of non-Christians 'promise'

By SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Eleanore Oosterveen can remember when she "felt lonesome in the crowd." A born-again Christian, she wanted to participate in church activities but found herself feeling "left out" because activities were geared for families, senior citizens or youth.

She had a family, but hers was different. She practiced her faith without her husband, a non-Christian.

That was then. Now she doesn't feel so alone. She has Wives of Promise, a ministry for women married to non-Christian men or men belonging to different religious denominations.

Oosterveen is the founder of Wives of Promise. She started in 1980 after a lot of prayer and arguing with God.

"I wanted to be a part of church activities; I wanted to feel like I belonged," she said. "I prayed about it for a long time and felt that God talked to me, telling me to do something. I argued with God for three months before I decided to do something."

something."

Wives of Promise got its start at the Zion Evangelist Temple in Clawson and the group met there for 12 years. Two years ago, "when the Lord spoke to us," Wives of Promise incorporated as a non-profit group.

The change is an indication, according to Oosterveen, that the group isn't a ministry of a particular church.

Word of mouth

By word of mouth and small blurbs on the radio and in newspapers, the ministry has slowly grown in size. Women come from throughout the tri-county area; Livonia, Farmington and St. Clair Shores are among the cities represented. They also come from as far away as Flint to participate.

There isn't an official membership, although 94 women showed up for Wives of Promise's Christmas lunch. Other meetings may have 16-30 women in attendance; more tend to turn out when there's a lunch, Oosterveen said.

"Because of the nature of the ministry, husbands may object," she said. "There's such a need. When I'm in church, I see how many women are there and they're there alone. I understand their need to share their faith."

Those attending have discovered that Wives of Promise is more than a social event. The meetings include a service with songs of praise and worship, as well as a guest speaker and fellowship.

"I feel it's important for women to get to know one another," Oosterveen said. "This isn't a place to come and have a pity party; it's a place to come to bond."

Wives of Promise meets twice a month — at 9:30 a.m. the first Monday of the month and 7 p.m. the third Monday. Meetings generally run three hours, sometimes longer because "the women want to stay and talk." There is a different topic and different speaker at each meeting and offerings are accepted to support the ministry.

"This is strictly supported by people who share one vision," Oosterveen said. "We're dedicated to have the marriage restored and the marriage held together."

Hard adjustment

Oosterveen's husband was an agnostic at the time she founded Wives of Promise. While he has yet to commit himself to God, she knows he now believes there's a God and that one day he will join in her faith. She has also encountered women married to Islamic men, as well as Buddhists or Shintoists. The differences are a hard adjustment, she said.

"So often we look at ourselves and see we're with Christ and understand God, so why can't they be with Christ and understand God," she said. "We try to have the women see the men's point of view."

"Quite often women don't understand where men are coming from; it's because she has changed and given herself to God. He wants to know what's happened to his fan partner."

Members are encouraged not to get angry with their husbands when they don't understand, rather consider where their husbands are at. The Lord, she tells the women, "wants us to live in peace."

"We want them to understand and reach out and take the grace God gives us to have the best marriage we can have," she said. "We have to trust totally in God and his wisdom and his understanding of our situation."

Wives of Promise continues to meet at Zion Evangelist Temple, 700 Elmwood, between 14 Mile and 15 Mile, west of Rochester Road, but Oosterveen has dreams of establishing chapters throughout the metro area and beyond, making Wives of Promise an international ministry.

"The need is so great for these women to find peace, joy and fellowship," she said.

MORAL PERSPECTIVES

REV. KATE THORESEN

The kids bounced through the doors of the room where the inner city youth club met. They had just gotten their report cards. Proudly, several of the fourth and fifth graders told the teachers all about their good grades.

But one fourth grader silently stormed into the excited setting. His gray woolen hat was pulled over his forehead almost to his eyebrows. His lower lip stuck out as his chin was set in anger. He kept his coat on and sat with a thud at the tables. He was mad.

One of the helpers sat next to him. Fortunately, he was still young enough that he would accept a hug and let the helper sit close to him. Pretty soon the bottom lip started to quiver and tears welled up.

"You wanna tell me what's happening?" the helper gently asked. He nodded. Then the words tumbled out.

"Everybody ALWAYS gets better grades than me! Sometimes they even call me a dummy."

The teacher let the impact of his hurt feelings and bruised ego affect her. She tried to imagine how she would feel in such a situation and remembered the positive effect of encouraging and comforting words that others shared with her in similar circumstances. Then a thought occurred and she said to her young friend, "Hey, in God's sight you are ALWAYS A-plus."

The issue here is not to question our grading system. It is important. We need to have measures of excellence and to recognize achievement in education. Most of us would agree on that. The question here has to do with the budding self-concept of children.

How can we intentionally foster positive feelings of self-worth in a variety of settings? This is a crucial moral issue because of the relationship between violent actions and low regard of the worth of oneself or of others. Would teenagers kill another kid just for a $400 jacket if they carried within themselves positive, affirming images of their own unique importance — and the unique importance of other individuals?

Human life has become cheap in the minds of many discouraged youth and adults.

Consider the worth of every human being. For a while scientists stated that if you extracted all the chemical elements of the human body and sold them, they would bring around 98 cents on the market.

But new discoveries have taken place. Scientist have found that the body contains rare elements like the wonder drug interferon which is worth several thousands of dollars an ounce. They have also estimated that there is enough atomic power in every pound of our body to create 11 million kilowatts of energy! The average person, therefore, really has the chemical and atomic worth of some $58 billion — give or take our current market!

When you look in the mirror in the morning, do you see this incredible $58 billion wonder? Most of us don't. But what would happen if we did start to view ourselves with this kind of intrinsic worth? And what would our attitudes be toward other human beings, if we saw them as unique one-of-a-kind billion dollar designs?

And, if the human body is worth this much, how much more is the treasure housed in the body — that the human soul and spirit that is ALWAYS A-plus in God's sight?

It is imperative for the health of the children in metropolitan Detroit that caring adults guard their dignity and basic sense of self-worth. They can do this through one-on-one interaction, positive reinforcement, avoiding demeaning labels.

Teach children to value themselves and others for their own unique abilities. Share affirmations for excellent achieved, but also encouragement for good solid efforts that may not measure up to others. Foster a sense of self-acceptance. One does not have to be gifted in all areas, nor interested or involved in all activities in order to be a person worthy of respect.

It is a good preventive medicine and a safeguard for the growing well-being of a city. This basic foundation that shapes a person's sense of self-worth may deter acts of violence and aggression and inhuman treatment of others later on in life.

Some labels can harm. But positive labels can heal and encourage us to soar to new heights and to care for the well being of others. After all, we are $58 billion works of art by a Creator who shapes our spirits for a unique destiny here and now!

Prayer the '90s way means the rosary on cassette tape

The ancient Catholic tradition of praying the rosary has met the age of consumer technology.

A foursome of Michigan Catholics has produced a cassette tape that mixes recitations of the rosary with traditional and contemporary music. "The Joyful Mysteries in Meditation and Song" is meant to help Catholics keep their place while repeating the prayers, said Bill Gildenstern, one of the producers. It also offers opportunities to meditate during moments of inspirational music.

Gildenstern, a lay minister, came up with the idea while commuting between Detroit and his home in Saginaw, he said in a press release. He took comfort in saying the rosary during the long drive but found that he kept getting lost (in the prayers, not on the road).

"I thought, wouldn't it be neat if I had a tape to keep me on track," he said.

The cassette includes renditions of the traditional pieces "Ave Maria" and "The Nativity" and original compositions by Gildenstern and his partner, John Gialer. Their aim is to appeal to the young Def Leppard fan as much as to the 75-year-old Sinatra fan.

How well they succeeded is a matter of taste, although the quality of the recording and the musicianship is more than respectable.

Gildenstern, formerly an owner of an advertising agency, and Gialer, a Troy resident who writes advertising jingles for auto dealerships, were joined in the project by their respective wives, Kelly and Debra.

To order a cassette, send $11.85 to: The Rosary Tapes/Joyful Mysteries, P.O. Box 6037, Saginaw, MI 48608-6037.

Raccoons venture out in search of extra food

TIMOTHY NOWICKI

NATURE TRAILS
Winter is hard on animals. This is particularly true if animals have not properly prepared themselves for winter during autumn. If the winter is severe, the animal most likely won't survive.

During the last couple weeks there has been a young raccoon at the bird feeders of the Independence Oaks Nature Center where I work. Raccoons, skunks and opossum do not hibernate like some winter residents, but they do remain dormant during most of the winter. When temperatures rise and the sun shines, it's not unusual to see one of these animals roaming the neighborhood in search of food.

Last fall, the animals ate extra amounts of food to add fat, which is what they use as a source of energy during their winter dormancy. If the animal has a chance during warm winter days to add to that fall fat reserve, they will take the opportunity. As the winter progresses the fat reserve is depleted and any opportunity to supplement that dwindling reserve is welcomed.

In the case of the young raccoon coming to the feeders, I suspect it never really developed an adequate fall fat reserve. This raccoon was probably orphaned last summer when its mother died of distemper. Oakland County has seen a high incidence of this disease during the last two years.

When the mother died, the young were left to fend for themselves. Those young that learned to avoid the fox and stray dog survived, if they knew what to eat and could find enough of it. I suspect that this young raccoon did not find enough food to put on a good fat reserve, but it should feel lucky to be alive.

It's possible the young raccoon did put on an average amount of fat to see it through winter, but because the mother died and other litter mates died, it would not have had any companions to huddle with in a tree hollow.

Without any companions to share body heat, the young raccoon lost more heat and thus had to use more fat energy to stay alive.

Depleting the fat supply before spring can cause the animal to search for food during winter when other hungry predators are also searching for food. Hibernating animals that do not have enough fat may not survive either.

You May Not Be Getting Any Younger. But It's Easy To Feel Like You Are.

With regular exercise, you can strengthen your heart and lungs, feel better—maybe even live longer. You can maintain the active, independent lifestyle that means so much to you. And best of all, it doesn't matter if you've never been very active before—as long as you start now! Check with your doctor first. Then, just choose an activity you enjoy. Stick with it. And start feeling like you haven't felt in ages.

Livonia Artists Club to show member work

Their show is judged, not juried. "We don't eliminate anyone," said Livonia artist Yvette Goldberg, co-chairing Livonia Artists Club's spring fine art show and sale in April at the Livonia Civic Center Library. "Our club is a little more relaxed than some of the others. What our judge does is award prizes."

The 32nd annual event will run 1-5 p.m. Saturday and Sunday, April 3-4, in the Atrium of the library, Farmington Road and Five Mile. The mixed media show averages 125 framed pieces plus some unframed works.

The 47-member club will showcase the best of its membership. Framed artwork will be done in oil, watercolor, pastel, acrylic, collage, monoprint, pencil, and pen and ink. Prices will range from $100 to $600. The club keeps 10 percent of each sale.

Unframed works, some selling for less than $100, will be set up in the Michigan Room just off the Atrium. Free refreshments will be served in that room.

"There's no dominant theme," said Farmington Hills artist Lorraine Whitacre, club president. "You'll find portraits, landscapes, florals, still life and abstracts at the show. We've got a nice variety of artistic styles."

The judge, Oak Park artist Rhea Schaefer, will award Best of Show, first, second and third place and a few honorable mentions. Cash prizes will range from $10 for honorable mention to $50 for Best of Show.

Schaefer also will present the Grumbacher Award for best use of color. The winner earns an engraved award.

Schaefer, a Chicago Academy of Fine Arts graduate, teaches drawing and watercolor. She works in a variety of media, including egg tempera on canvas. She does portrait commissions, graphic design and photography.

Varied skill levels

Livonia Artists Club members range from professional to beginner. They come from around Observerland. Many belong to the Visual Arts Association of Livonia or the Farmington Artists Club. Camaraderie, inspiration, reinforcement and criticism make up their collective palette.

The club meets at 7:30 p.m. the third Monday of each month in the Livonia Civic Center Library. Dues are $15 a year.

Meetings typically include a group critique, a guest demonstrator or an instructional video. The informal sessions are a great way to overcome insecurity or uncertainty. Credentials aren't what's important; desire is.

"We're a real friendly group," Whitacre said. "We learn from each other — discussing ideas, sharing experiences. We talk about new paints, new colors, new techniques and new classes in an atmosphere of mutual support and mutual criticism."

"The contacts you make with other artists you just can't make when working in your studio alone," said Redford Township artist Ruthann Platt, co-chairing the show with Goldberg. "It's just good to get together to mingle and talk over what we do and where to show."

'Real dedication to art'

Livonia artist Al Weber brushes abstract elements into his realistic watercolors of classic cars, live models, flowers, landscapes and animals. His work has appeared in shows or galleries internationally as well as locally. Five Weber watercolors are on exhibit in the IRS Data Center in Detroit.

A Livonia Artists Club group critique leader, Weber says "we stay in this club and keep it going because it's a small group. It's less formal, less concerned about rules, yet the quality of the work is pretty good. Some members exhibit nationally. We have a good interchange of ideas. There's a real dedication to art."

Whitacre also creates abstract art but "right now," she said, "I'm on a kick of modern realistic tropical flowers. My son lives in Hawaii and he sends me flowers, so I paint them."

Goldberg works in collage and watercolor. For her, the club provides an escape. "I get to be with artist friends, which gives another dimension to my life. We're always learning from and encouraging one another. I work full-time and can't take formal art classes."

Platt paints floral gardens in watercolor. "I do drawings based on actual flowers, then pull a garden setting from my imagination."

One painting she'll have in the spring show is a large (18- by 23-inch) closeup of a rose she's doing as part of a three-piece commission. "A large closeup is kind of unusual for me. I usually do a garden scene with many flowers. So this is a departure."

For Platt, art is something she feels she has to do. "It's a mental thing. Just the act of mixing paint, applying it to water and seeing what happens on paper is always a surprise. Watercolor runs and drips on its own. It's never the same twice. It's kind of an adventure."

Quilter sews up crafter's award

The handiwork of Livonia's Kathleen Mayo made the pages of "Blue Ribbon Quilt" magazine and earned an honorable mention in a nationwide quilting contest. For Mayo, the challenge is creating the design.

BY JANICE TIGAR-KRAMER
SPECIAL WRITER

Few people outside Kathleen Mayo's family ever got a look at her handmade quilts — until recently. Her latest one, a Victorian design of children's silhouettes, can be seen in the current issue of "Blue Ribbon Quilt," an annual magazine that announces the winners of Quilter's Challenge.

More comfortable quilting than talking about her work, Mayo of Livonia says, "I'm thrilled the judges liked my design," which earned $200, an honorable mention and a five-page spread in the magazine.

"This entry was different because of the silhouette design," said Sandra Hatch, editor of "Blue Ribbon Quilts" and a contest judge. "Sometimes, we find new designers through the contest and often the people we recognize are encouraged enough to send us more of their work. But the fun of the competition is recognizing people whose work sometimes isn't seen by others."

This year, more than 300 crafters entered Quilter's Challenge, which is sponsored by three quilt magazines. The contest's theme was optional, but quilters were required to submit an original design using at least two fabrics contained in the contest kit and no more than two of their own choice. Points were awarded for design, workmanship and use of fabric.

From start to finish, Mayo spent about 200 hours designing her winning pattern, deciding how to use the contest fabrics with her own choices and making the 30- by 33-inch appliqued block, which required hand and machine stitching.

Her entry, called "Sharing Victoria Elizabeth," shows the full silhouettes of two girls in ruffled dresses sharing a doll. From the kit, Mayo used a green print and mauve stripe for background, a black floral print for ribbon garland and a peach check for bows. Her own fabric choices included a small black print for the girls, solid pink for background and rose backing. She finished the piece with a black self-made binding and flowers embroidered with gold metallic thread.

"I've never used black before, so when I opened the contest kit I thought, 'What'll I do?'" said Mayo.

Stone Age cave paintings 'early cinema'

BY LINDA ANN CHOMEN
SPECIAL WRITER

Artist/filmmaker Charles Aimone captures the romance of France's Lascaux cave art in an exhibition of work patterned after the prehistoric paintings.

The show continues through Feb. 28 at Atrium Gallery, 109 N. Center at Main, Northville.

Through his acrylics on canvas, Aimone strives to prove the Old Stone Age paintings primarily of animals have been incorrectly theorized as possessing magical and religious connotations.

"This was early cinema," he said in an interview at his Plymouth studio. "They invented cinema with the paintings coming alive in candlelight. The paintings were showing the way of life and what it meant to become an adult. This was (where) a group of children were brought in. We know this because we can see the footprints.

"They were meant to be an uplift, very positive and supporting, giving confidence to a new generation. With the glaciers, there was a challenge to gather food when their whole world was freezing over. With everything gray, they brought the colors to the walls and they brought that positive message to the walls."

Aimone rendered near-exact reproductions from photographs, slides and film. To produce the effect that they have been painted on stone walls, he builds up the color and texture in layers.

"You have to have a feel for this particular time in history," he said. "The ground is an abstract made to give the texture of a cave wall. By studying the techniques of the cave Livonia resident Jane Soltesz brings her Noah's Ark collection to four showcases on the first floor of the Livonia Civic Center Library, Farmington Road and Five Mile, through Sunday, Feb. 28.

Soltesz started collecting the pewter, ceramic, wood and plastic pieces 20 years ago. Many were children's toys.

"Back in Victorian times, children were not able to play with toys on Sunday except for Noah's Ark," she said. "It's kind of fascinating. They're still searching for the ark. It's buried in ice and snow. 5,000 years is a long time."

In the library's first-floor window display area, Observerland artists Susan Argiroff, Sharon Lee Dillenbeck, Julie Giordano, Carol Lynn McCreey and Norma McQueen are showing watercolors, acrylics, oils, charcoals and marbling through Sunday as part of their "Women of Artistry" exhibit.

Library hours are 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday-Thursday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Friday-Saturday and 1-4 p.m. Sunday.

HOSPITAL BENEFIT

Hawthorn Center, a children's psychiatric hospital in Northville, will benefit from a juried craft show 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, in the Northville Community Center, 303 W. Main, one block west of Center (Sheldon) Road.

Hawthorn Center Association, a nonprofit group of past and present employees, will host the third annual show to aid emotionally impaired children and their families. Dealers will come from Michigan, Ohio and Canada.

Admission is $1.50 (seniors $1, children younger than 12 free). Proceeds will go into the association's general fund to support educational scholarships for needy children and educational programs in the area of child welfare and to help cover general hospital expenses.

paintings. I found there's a commonality. They had to look at the wall and get a feel for it, to fit over that texture.

"This is man looking at his landscape, learning about the animal," he added. "It meant whether he would eat and live. It's a composite like Mark Rothko paintings. He built up sheets of paints."

Chinese brushwork outlines Aimone's "Horse," painted after the Lascaux "Chinese Horse." Reddish brown washes fill in the body, providing strong contrast to the calligraphy-like lines.

Aimone studied art with Clifton McChesny at Michigan State University. He pursued graduate studies at the University of Michigan with Guy Palazzola and postgraduate studies at the University of Saskatchewan with Otto Rogers.

Currently an instructor in the film department at Center for Creative Studies in Detroit, Aimone created the paintings for use in his film "Changing of the Gods," a work in progress.

"The film's about the Shaman, who's painted these to give a story a visual," Aimone said. "The paintings were trying to show the meaning of life. They were a way to demystify, not mystify it."

Discovered in 1940, the cave of Lascaux houses thousands of abstract paintings and engravings of bulls, cows, horses, ibexes, deer and even a woolly mammoth. Carbon-14 analysis of charcoal found in lamps, and bone in the strata of the paintings, places the art around 13,000 B.C.

"The bull represented both the man and woman, trying to show the inner relationship between men and women and show that it extends out into the animal kingdom," Aimone said.

"The bull can be traced back to very early pottery. The bull symbolized the turbulent nature between men and women."

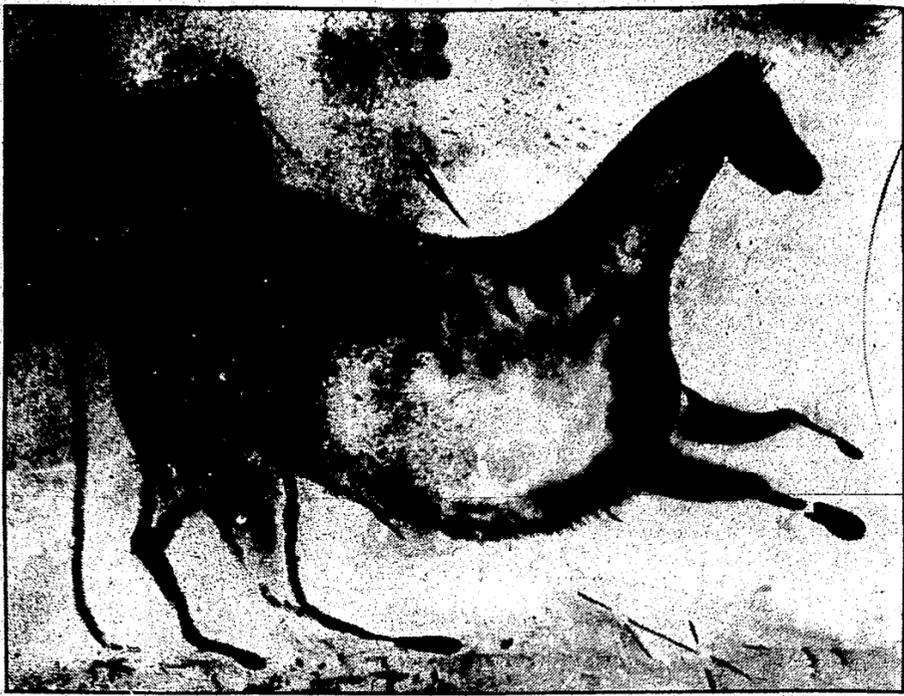

Pigments found at Lascaux include ochre, haematite, black and gray magnetite, raw sienna and raw umber. As the wall paintings cover areas 10-13 feet above floor level, it is thought the artists employed a type of scaffolding to execute the work.

In April 1963, France's Ministry of Culture closed the cave after the discovery of a green and white disease proliferating on the artwork.

Studies revealed the infestation of green algae was due to visitors carrying it into the area on their feet. The white disease on the decorative art was a development of calcite crystals formed from the carbon dioxide and increased humidity and temperatures created by visitors.

Exhibition hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Saturday and noon to 4 p.m. Sunday.

business. She started quilting 10 years ago after a neighbor showed her some simple quilting done by Livonia kindergartners. "It sounds silly but I thought I'd like to try that," said Mayo, already an accomplished sewer.

In 1989, Mayo's daughter-in-law urged her, at age 60, to enter her quilts in magazine-sponsored competitions. Since then, she has picked up a first or second place or honorable mention in almost every one.

Besides this year's Quilter's Challenge award, Mayo won Fairfield Processing Co.'s 1992 contest for her traditional quilt block, "Star Gazing Silhouettes." The block (about 12 inches square) was sewn together with 19 other winning squares to make a full-size quilt now on loan to quilt shows and fabric stores around the country.

From the start, this self-taught quilter (whose first project was a king-sized bedspread) has used her own designs. She prefers appliques over hand or machine stitching. "I love watching the finished design come together."

Mayo begins every quilt (block size or spreads) with a sketch. Creating the design may take longer if a contest requires the use of specific colors. After fabric pieces are cut, she lays out the design like a puzzle and begins to applique, tie and sew. She uses a sheet for the quilt's backing and finishes each one with a hand-stitched border. Without a quilting frame, Mayo has to spread out big projects on the floor to remove puckers and do finishing work.

Quilting is relaxing for Mayo so she'll often spend weekends working on a single project. Since her workroom is stocked with scraps from other crafts, she rarely members the valuable needs supplies. But when she needs inspiration or a technique to solve a quilting problem, Mayo remembers the valuable advice of her father, now 95: "What you need to get along in this world is a good imagination."

Rate

APR

Our Adjustable Rate Mortgage allows you to enjoy this excellent mortgage rate for the first year of the loan. After the first year, your interest rate can only increase by 2% a year or by 6% over the life of the loan. And you have the option to convert to a fixed rate mortgage under certain conditions.

Typical APR (annual percentage rate) includes interest on loan and other fees, and is based on a $100,000 loan with an 80% loan-to-value ratio. The APR may increase after closing. Loan must be for construction or acquisition of borrower's single family owner-occupied primary residence. Interest rates and terms are subject to change at any time without notice. *Based on a 30-year loan. For 15-year loan, APR is 6.319%.

REAL ESTATE NEWS

Computer programs organize, compare properties

BY GERALD FRAWLEY
STAFF WRITER

"It's definitely a plus," according to Diane Howard, assistant manager at Real Estate One in Plymouth. "I've gone on listings where I've had competition and won because of it."

"A lot of the advantage in it is how the information is put together," she said. "It is very professional looking, and the more professional you look, the better off you're going to be."

"It" is Real Estate One's new computer software designed to assist sellers, buyers and real estate agents.

Called MarketPower, the new service consists of three computer programs aimed at making the job of selling and buying a home easier, said senior vice president Stuart Elsea.

"This system is designed to help organize and compare properties."

The first component, Elsea said, is Sellmore. "What we wanted to do is simplify (the process) and make it easier to understand," Elsea said.

One of the first responsibilities of the real estate agent is to establish an asking price for a home, he said, which begins with an analysis of similar properties and what they sold for.

"If you've ever looked at a multiple listing form (a main tool of real estate agent), you'll know what I'm talking about," he said.

Sellmore produces a comparative property analysis in minutes, he said. "Instead of two hours, it's only 15 minutes for these."

In addition to simple price relations, the comparable market analysis includes graphs, selling and listing prices of similar sold properties, maps, examples of unsold properties, and a graph on the expected days a house is likely to be on the market.

Other features include an analysis on price per square foot, a sales estimate of proceeds and costs, information on the importance of intelligent pricing and tips the real estate agent and seller can use to improve a house's chance for sale.

Selling a home is only half the job; someone has to buy it, Elsea said.

Anyone who's ever bought a home knows it can be overwhelming, he said.

ShowPro, the second component of MarketPower, helps the buyer to organize, he said.

ShowPro begins with a property request profile filled out by the buyer listing basic wants, key amenities, financial profile and any financing comments, he said.

The profile is used to develop a property list with an agent rating, a tour map, individual property analysis, and property analysis

Many features included in Sellmore are in ShowPro.

Finally, there is Easy Flyer, Elsea said. Easy Flyer is a computer program that generates sales fliers used by real estate agents so lookers have something they can take after a home tour.

"Some agents pay printers hundreds of dollars for fliers," he said. "This program lets them do it themselves."

Fliers, which include information like amenities, price, the real estate agent's name and other pertinent information, can be generated with formats provided by the program, or they can be done freehand.

Carol Yost, of Real Estate One in Troy, said MarketPower is a tremendous time saver. "I've been in this business for 20 years and I've never been more excited about a new program."

"With this, the consumer knows from day one the real facts he's dealing with," Yost said.

The computer program also gives much more detail than a typical agent is likely to, she said. "I typically include a cost per square foot analysis," she said, "but a lot of other Realtors don't. This does it automatically."

Condominium maintenance translates to quicker sales

CONDO QUERIES

ROBERT M. MEISNER

I have read recently about difficulty in selling condominiums in many locations. I believe that a good part of this is because many board members are not willing to spend the necessary funds to maintain the condominium project or to otherwise operate the condominium association. How do I get my board to see the light?

There are many in the condominium industry that share your view. The penuriousness on the part of association boards has created a situation where condominiums are not as saleable as single family homes. Much of this stems from the notion that directors are to save money at all costs as opposed to hiring the quality of personnel necessary to assist the board of directors in operating the affairs of the condominium.

Penny pinching in regard to the retention of first class professional management, competent and experienced lawyers, accountants and insurance consultants, it is argued, contributes to this malaise. Show this article to the board of directors and point out to them they are not doing their members or themselves a service by penny pinching.

Our condominium documents were drafted in the mid-'50s. They gave little latitude in regard to terminating the membership of a co-op member when he is in default. The cooperative has been reluctant to spend the money to make the changes. Any suggestions?

I can tell you from experience that it becomes inordinately more expensive for a cooperative to terminate the membership of a tenant member when he or she has violated the cooperative documents if the bylaws and proprietary lease are not explicit on the rights of the cooperative association vis a vis the tenant. It would be much less expensive for the cooperative to have the remedies available in the documents than it would be to have to resort to extended litigation to resolve a problem. Urge your cooperative board members to retain counsel to come up with an up-to-date set of cooperative documents.

PARTY THERE LIVE HERE

Let's face it, some places just seem to attract a certain type of tenant. You know the ones - loud, energetic, popular party animals. Which is fine...unless you have to live next door. At Pilgrim Village, you can enjoy the peace and quiet of our beautiful, spacious apartments with carpet and washer and dryer included free, or take a pleasant stroll around our award-winning landscaped grounds. But if your idea of a party is more than cake and candles, please have it over at that other place. Because our residents actually like to sleep at two in the morning.
 One bedroom from $585.

BUILDING SCENE'S NAMES & PLACES

Bonadeo honored

Professional Builder & Remodeler magazine has named James Bonadeo winner of one of seven professional achievement awards for his involvement in setting Detroit as a Homearama site. It was the first showcase of homes to take place in a major city.

With the opening of Victoria Park on the near east side in June, Detroit saw its first new subdivision developed in some 30 Bonadeo years. The project quickly sold out. When completed, it will have 157 houses ranging in price from $80,000 to $145,000.

Bonadeo is president emeritus of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan, Homearama's main sponsor, and president of the Plymouth building company that bears his name. He was chairman of the Detroit Homearama.

The magazine cited Standard Federal Bank, based in Troy, as another organization key to Victoria Park's success for making construction loans and assuming the end mortgages.

Theater development

Mike Ilitch Jr. will discuss the theater district development plan when he addresses ESD's Construction Activities Committee luncheon beginning at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday, March 9, at the Rackham Memorial Building, Detroit.

Ilitch oversees the human resource center and works on special projects for Little Caesars.

Tickets are $22 for members, $25 for non-members. For information, call 832-5400.

ESD's construction committee was established to foster improvements in the construction industry. Members include design professionals, owners/users, contractors, suppliers and support service providers.

Landscape show

The sixth annual convention of the Metropolitan Detroit Landscape Association will take place March 17 and 18 at the Novi Expo Center, Novi Road at I-96.

It will feature management programs, technical seminars, classroom instruction and pesticide applicator recertification preparation and testing. All education programs except testing are included in the admission price.

Hours are 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. March 17 and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. March 18. Pre-registration is $10 for members, $15 for non-members. For on-site registration, add $5. For information, call 646-4992.

Expansion by DeMattia

A July completion date is scheduled for the 92,000-square-foot expansion of Shuert Industries by R.A. DeMattia, Plymouth.

Shuert is a thermal-former manufacturer of plastics in Sterling Heights. DeMattia is an architecture/engineering, design/build construction and development company.

Argos groundbreaking

The Argos Group/Barton Malow saw ground broken for the 44,000-square-foot addition to a Federal Mogul manufacturing facility in South Carolina.

The Argos Group is a design/build subsidiary of Barton Malow, Southfield.

Masonry seminar

The Masonry Institute of Michigan will sponsor its ninth masonry certification seminar at daylong sessions April 23 and 24 at its offices, 32080 Schoolcraft, Livonia.

The seminar exposes candidates to five areas of instruction: clay and concrete masonry units, mortar, grout, engineering and workmanship. Participants are required to score 70 percent on a test at the end of the seminar to become MIM certified.

The course is aimed toward design professionals, engineers and architects, mason contractors, bricklayers, building officials, inspectors and supplier representatives.

Building code published

A joint effort of the American Concrete Institute, the American Society of Civil Engineers and the Masonry Society has resulted in the publication of building code requirements for masonry structures.

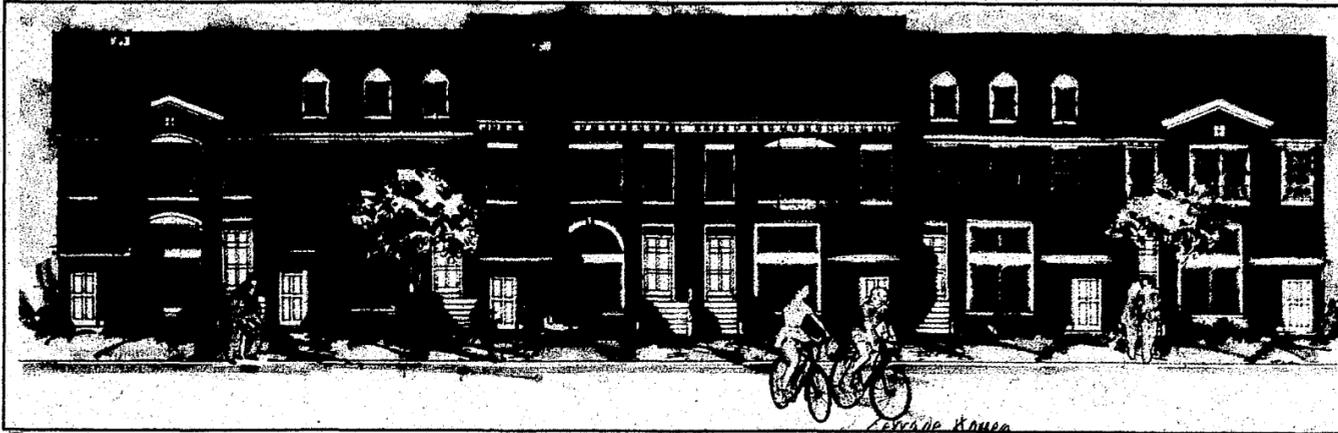

Subjects covered include permits and drawings, quality assurance, materials, placing embedded items, analysis and design, strength and serviceability, flexural and axial loads, shear, details and development of reinforcement, walls, columns, pilasters, beams and lintels, and an empirical design method applicable to buildings meeting specific location and construction criteria.

Copies can be purchased from the American Concrete Institute by calling 532-2600.

Happy housewarming

The Michigan Association of Home Builders has relocated its headquarters to 1627 S. Creyts, Lansing. The toll-free number is 1-800-748-0432.

Information for inclusion in this column should be sent to Marilyn Fitchett, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150.

Housing for older suburbs

■ Builders face new challenges when they look back to older, developed communities for building sites.

BY GERALD FRAWLEY
STAFF WRITER

If society is going to stop paving cornfields for housing development, developers are going to have to turn to established communities and consider redevelopment.

Bernard Gliberman, president of Crosswinds Communities in West Bloomfield, is doing just that with Main Street Square in Royal Oak.

This isn't Gliberman's first encounter with redevelopment; he was part of Victoria Park, last year's Homearama in Detroit. He's also done remodeling projects. Long known for his ability to develop and build top-notch, affordable housing in communities like West Bloomfield, Westland, Ypsilanti and Oakland Township, Gliberman is tackling a new frontier — redevelopment.

This is the most significant redevelopment project he's been involved with.

So far, reaction has been extremely positive, he said. "I can honestly say we have had more interest in this development than anything I can remember."

"The challenge in a redevelopment project is you go into an area that is on its way down and you help turn it around — that's satisfying."

Main Street Square includes 124 units in 12 buildings designed in traditional-style Georgetown architecture.

Located between Main and Washington to the west and east, and Kenilworth and Allenworth to the north and south, the 3.7-acre project is expected to have a base price of between $80,000 and $100,000 per condominium.

Redevelopment is not without its obstacles. For example, land costs are extremely high. You have to be creative (to make it pay off).

Most communities object to high density projects, which make redevelopment more difficult. "But I think when you're talking Royal Oak, it fits in well."

Another hurdle in redevelopment, he said, is working within the constraints of an existing community. Site size, he said, is limited and therefore on-site storage is virtually non-existent.

"That makes scheduling difficult — we'll have to have materials delivered almost on a need basis."

Building within an existing neighborhood will also pose a challenge for the developer who is used to building in an open area. "We're going to have to be good neighbors, no doubt about that."

"(Delivery) trucks will have to be careful not to disturb the people who are already there."

Architect Tom Barton, president of Barton and Associates in Philadelphia, said his goal was to design a development that would fit into an already established community.

"We wanted it to be on a pedestrian scale," he said, explaining that much of Royal Oak was laid out with people in mind. Housing is dense; it is inviting rather than imposing from the street, and sidewalks encourage walking.

"Basically, cute homes in a nice neighborhood," he said. "We wanted to develop a project with a little more of an urban character."

Townhomes like one might find in Philadelphia or Boston were chosen because they maintain an urban feel and density levels.

Density, Barton said, is not always bad. "High density does not necessarily mean a three-story walk-up apartment."

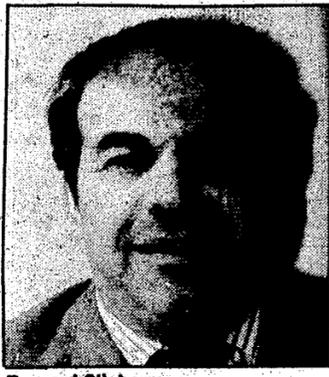

Garages were moved to the back and townhomes were pushed toward the street to eliminate the impression of "a parking deck that you often get in high density projects."

As people walk by and around the finished development, it should seem as though they are walking through part of the project, not isolated from it. "It should be nice from street level."

At the same time, with proper placement of buildings, use of landscape, and project elevations, Main Street Square achieves a strong sense of public and private space.

An interior courtyard for townhome owners is separated from the outside, and green spaces at the fronts of the townhomes are slightly elevated above the sidewalk level. "There will be an obvious separation — if someone is where they aren't supposed to be you won't have any problem identifying it."

Project manager Terry Stamper said Main Street Square is to be the first part of the much-heralded Royal Oak multi-use redevelopment northeast of the I-696 and Woodward Avenue interchange.

The overall project resulted from construction of I-696. During the 1980s, Royal Oak seized the chance and began to purchase and, through condemnation, assemble small parcels into a single large tract.

"That was the hard part," he said. If redevelopment is to succeed, land assembly will have to be done by municipalities who then sell the property to developers.

After years of struggling to amass the necessary land and counter community objections, the economy soured and the project has been on hold.

Now that the economy is picking up again, the project is beginning to pick up as well.

Burton Katzman Development Co. of Birmingham is the lead developer for the entire redevelopment project that will eventually incorporate hotel, office, commercial and residential space.

Burton Katzman executive vice president Laurence Goss said the area has always been planned for residential use — it just needed the right developer.

"This is obviously an integral ingredient in the overall development," he said. "We hope this (Main Street Square) will be a catalyst for the rest of the project."

"We're very excited about this — we think it's a home run," Goss added.

Main Street Square is going to act as a buffer for the project, separating the existing neighborhoods from the office, hotel components to the south. "That's good, sound planning."

The project would not have been possible without the patience and foresight of Royal Oak, Goss added. By assembling the property, the city was making an investment in its future.

If further redevelopment is to succeed, other communities will have to take Royal Oak's lead, he said.

Stamper of Crosswinds Communities said judging by the number of phone calls received from interested buyers, it's possible the entire project could be sold out within a year.

Stamper said a sales office will be open in March, construction should begin in April and the first townhomes could be ready as soon late July.

"This is the perfect project for this area," he said. Royal Oak is centrally located for young professionals who work north in Birmingham, west in Novi, or east in St. Clair Shores.

■ A typical homeowner's policy doesn't cover theft from an unoccupied building, so check with your agent if you plan to be away during construction. A few days' stay in a hotel shouldn't affect your coverage, but an extended stay might. Be prepared for the worst case.

Insurance key ingredient before remodeling begins

So you've hired a contractor, picked out paint and carpet, and set the date for your remodeling work to begin. Remodeling Ideas magazine suggests adding one more item to your "to do" list: Give your insurance agent a call to make sure your homeowner's policy will keep up with your remodeling improvements.

"Contact your agent when you begin to do anything to your home that's going to add value," advises Bill Anderson, a certified property and casualty underwriter and vice president of education for the Independent Insurance Agents of America. By checking your needs before the work begins, you can be sure your project will be insured during construction, as well as after.

Here are some questions to ask your insurance professional, along with a discussion of coverage under a typical homeowner's policy. Check the specifics of your own policy with your agent or insurance company:

■ Do I need to increase my coverage?

If you're making major improvements, the answer to that question is probably "yes." Typical homeowner's insurance is based on the cost of replacing your home if it's destroyed. When you add space, upgrade to luxury finishes, or convert an unfinished area to living space, you make your home more costly to rebuild. As a result, you need to increase the value of your policy.

On the other hand, you may not require increased coverage for changes that are basically cosmetic — freshening up the kitchen with new countertops, flooring, and appliances, for example. To the insurance company, the cost of replacing laminate countertops is the same whether they are brand new or a holdover from the 1950s.

"If there's any question, contact your agent," says Anderson. "It's important that the agent have the opportunity to say either, 'we don't have to worry about that,' or, 'we do.'" You want to be certain that your home remains insured for at least 80 percent of its replacement value, including the value of the improvements. Below that threshold, most policies will not reimburse you for the full replacement cost of your home should it be damaged or destroyed.

■ I'm planning a major renovation that will take months to complete. Do I have to pay for increased coverage from the first day of construction?

Ask your agent if you can buy what's called an "endorsement for a dwelling under construction." This type of policy increases the value of your homeowner's policy from the start of construction, but gives you a credit for a portion of the premium once the work is complete.

■ I'm going to have a lot of building materials stacked out in my yard. Are they covered?

With a typical policy, materials intended for use in your remodeling and stored on your property are covered for the same perils as the rest of your home. Again, check with your agent to be sure.

■ Am I covered for the special extras I'm putting in my home?

Maybe you've commissioned a stained-glass window for the master bath or purchased an antique English brass chandelier for the breakfast room. To protect your investment, purchase separate insurance for such out-of-the-ordinary materials.

The advantage of insuring such items individually is that you, not the insurance company, specify their value. "If they are lost or damaged, the policy says exactly what they are worth, and that's what you are paid," says Anderson. "If you leave them under the homeowner's policy, you are at the mercy of the people adjusting the insurance claim."

The value of antiques and fine arts is especially subject to dispute.

■ I'm moving out during construction. Does my coverage stay put?

A typical homeowner's policy doesn't cover theft from an unoccupied building, so check with your agent if you plan to be away during construction. A few days' stay in a hotel shouldn't affect your coverage, but an extended stay might. Be prepared for the worst case.

In addition to protecting your improvements, you also need to insure yourself against another type of risk — the damage to people or property as a result of your remodeling.

SHAMROCK

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 67'-0" X 78'-6"
LIVING: 3191 square feet
GARAGE: 944 square feet

Formal, informal a lucky blend

Carriage lights on the front facade of the three-car garage give a country estate flavor to the Shamrock, while the wrap-around porch gives it a comfortable, welcoming look. The varied textures of stucco, brick, lap siding and cedar shakes add to the street appeal.

The interior of this 1½-story house offers the same mix of formality and relaxed informality.

An office and a parlor are to the right and left of the vaulted foyer. An office door could be installed to provide direct access from the porch. The bay-windowed parlor is large and richly glassed, but light is muted by the covered porch.

A spacious, skylit family room is at the heart of the home. A second-floor balcony overlooks this vaulted space and the foyer. Stairs can be accessed from both the foyer and the family room.

Utilities, a freezer and pull-down ironing board hide behind pocket doors, adjacent to the nook. The pass-through kitchen has plenty of counter space, a trash compactor, a microwave, double ovens and a cooktop. A skylit dining room is at one end, the nook at the other. The entire space is open to a large family room with a two-sided fireplace and French doors that open onto a deck with an optional hot tub.

The deck and hot tub can also be reached through a set of French doors in the owners' suite. The suite features a private garden tub, nestled into a bay window stacked high with glass block. Other features include an oversized shower, twin vanities, an enclosed toilet, and a large, walk-in closet.

For a study plan of the Shamrock (332-240), send $7.50, including plan name and number, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402.

At The Villas...

BE A PART OF THE EXTRAORDINARY

Inside, the floor plans are free flowing with open rooms, vaulted ceilings, extensive use of glass, entertainment areas, lofts and more. Quality and attention to detail is evident at every turn.

Outside, the style is European design with a Mediterranean blend of brick and cedar. A central waterscape with lighted fountains and walking course complements the impeccable landscaping. For those who prefer the privacy and elegance of a single family home with the maintenance-free advantage of condominium living, The Villas are an ideal choice.

Located near the I-275/Eight Mile Corridor the best of Northville Novi, Farmington Hills and Livonia are moments away from fine shops to restaurants and entertainment. Break away from the ordinary and visit today.
