Trustee Richard LeBlanc said he admired the decision of the Kalkaska district in northwestern Michigan to shut down early this year, rather than gut school programs.

Barring an alternative proposal, LeBlanc indicated he would favor offering full programs for "as long as possible" next year and then shutting down early, though he conceded the plan would be controversial. LeBlanc lamented the "devagtat-

LeBlanc lamented the "devagtating" effect that program cuts had on the Wayne-Westland district during the last severe budget crunch, during the 1990-91 school year. He singled out a decision that trimmed an hour from the junior high school day.

Saying a 180-day school year is "not a magical number," LeBlanc said he would rather offer an "all-inclusive education" and close the district early instead of eliminating programs.

Board president Leonard Posey indicated he agreed. "I think it's something we need to consider."

But trustee Fred Warmbier opposed the possible shutdown and said Kalkaska — like many districts could have survived if officials had shelled out less money for teacher salary increases.

Chief credits officers as crime rates drop

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Despite some high-profile crimes that commanded headlines and public attention, Westland marked a decline in most major crimes in 1992, newly released state statistics showed.

Crime rates dropped for robberies, assaults, burglaries, murder, larcenies, car thefts and vandalism, the latest report revealed.

Few serious crimes showed an increase, such as rape and other sex offenses, according to the Michigan State Police report.

Police Chief Emery Price attributed the encouraging trend to beefedup patrols in residential and business areas, joint efforts with neighboring police departments and a renewed enthusiasm for fighting crime, particularly among young officers.

"We have a lot of young, eager officers on the streets right now," Price said. The city has hired 38 officers since 1989.

The Westland department has placed more unmarked police cars on city streets. Moreover, the city joined Garden City, Wayne and Inkster in forming a special unit to combat drug sales, residential burglaries, business break-ins, prostitution and other street crimes.

"Everybody has just really dedicated themselves to fighting crime, and I think it shows," Price said. "It's a combination of a lot of efforts on everybody's part."

Lt. Al George, who heads the Westland detective bureau, indicated that the economy also may have contributed to fewer serious crimes.

"I'm sure the economy — if it's improving — could have had an effect," he said. "If people are working, they don't have time to get into trouble. If people are busy, they're not out raising hell."

Westland had no reports of murders in 1992, compared to three last year. But several city residents were killed elsewhere — in such cities as Inkster and Wayne. Several Westland deaths occurred in car accidents.

Among some of the major crime patterns in 1992:

■ Burglaries dropped 21.6 percent — from 928 incidents in 1991 to 727 last year.
■ Robberies dipped slightly from 89

■ Robberies dipped slightly from 89 incidents to 83 — a 6.7-percent decline.

Larcenies dropped 12.6 percent, from 3,469 reports to 3,031.

Rape was among the few crimes that increased, jumping from 45 inci-

Man charged with planning murder

A Westland man has been charged with solication of open murder in what police say is an unusual and bizarre plot to kill his former girlfriend.
Police Wednesday afternoon ar-

Szuba, 44, stood mute and a not guilty plea was entered on his behalf at an arraignment Thursday in 16th District Court.

Judge Robert B. Brzezinski ordered him to the Wayne County Jail in lieu of a $250,000 cash or surety bond.

A preliminary examination on the charge was set for April 20. If convicted, Szuba faces a maximum sentence of life in pris-

Police said the defendant, who is married, was set to pay a police officer working undercover $2.500 to kill his former girlfriend, a 44year-old Mount Pleasant woman.

Witnesses told police the defendant had been seeing the woman while separated from his wife but had since returned to his Sheridan Street home to try and patch up things up.

Szuba told police the girlfriend had emotional problems. She had been harrassing his family since their break-up, he said.

Police were tipped to the defendant's intentions by a concerned co-worker at the GM Delco Chassis Plant on Eckles Road in Livonia.

The man, who said he has worked alongside the defendant for nearly 20 years, told police that the defendant approached him a couple of times the week of Kelly also was ordered to pay the woman $30 to offset expenses she incurred when she had her telephone number changed to try to avoid his calls.

The woman refused to see him or talk to him, prompting Kelly to go to her apartment on March 18, police said. The woman feared him, refused to see him and contacted police.

Westland police Detective Sgt. Russell Nowaczck had contacted Kelly before his arrest and warned him not to bother the woman. But Kelly persisted, resulting in a warrant being issued for his arrest, police said.

Superintendent Larry Thomas has indicated he won't recommend another tax election - for now, at least. Some officials hope the budget dilemma will be resolved in June, if voters approve a state ballot proposal to increase the sales tax and cut property tax-

Thomas has outlined a plan of attack for addressing the $14-million deficit that's expected next year. This week, he will begin a budget analysis with finance officer Randy Liepa and other cabinet officials.

Thomas also has announced two public hearings to give district residents an opportunity to voice their opinions on what should be done. The hearings, both at 7 p.m., will be held on April 21 at Wayne Memorial High School and on April 22 at John Glenn High School.

During a board meeting Tuesday, trustees received some early input from several citizens including former board member Kathleen Chorbagian. She, too, encouraged the board to "go the way of Kalkaska" rather than slash programs.

Chorbagian and trustee Laurel Raisanen engaged in a brief confrontation when Raisanen suggested that many budget problems stem from "the strength of labor." She has been a strong critic of teacher salary increases that some say have far outpaced wage increases in the private sector. But Chorbagian, warning that the board lacks the power to take on the Michigan Education Association, asked, "Would you sacrifice our children to prove a point, to break the back of labor?'

Other board trustees interrupted the Chorbagian-Raisanen exchange. But their opposing views shared by a similarly divided school district citizenry — has set the stage for what is expected to be a set of highly emotional public hearings.

Lorraine Patterson hadn't even started school when her mother laid the foundation for a lifetime of volunteer work with the YWCA and other organizations.

"I would tag along," said Patterson, a Westland resident and Western Wayne County YWCA board member off and on for about 13 years.

"My mother (Gertrude Johnson) was always very active," Patterson said. "Consequently started taking me even before

I was school age."
More than half a century later,
Patterson continues the tradition.
After decades of involvement,
Patterson was presented earlier this year with the YWCA of Western Wayne County Volunteer Award of Meritorious Service.

"She's been a member and volunteer for many, many years and has made many contributions to the organization," according to Corinne Vincent, YWCA executive director.

Patterson is particularly effective at organizing events, Vincent said, specifically recalling a program, "Celebration for Diversity," that Patterson led in the fall of 1991. It featured exhibits illustrating customs of various countries, people wore costumes and food booths were displayed.

"It brought people from different backgrounds in the community together and, like its title, it was celebrating our diversity," Vincent said.

"The reaction from people was,

As a girl in Nashville, Tenn., Patterson became active in the YWCA as a "Girl Reserves." In her teen years, she became a YWCA counselor, which meant she looked after the younger girls in the organization while on field trips and other outings.

When Patterson moved to Michigan in 1944, she maintained her commitment to the organization, "and I've been active ever since." Serving on the YWCA board of directors at various times for about 13 years, Patterson has worked on number of projects, including efforts to acquire new members.

Patterson, a retired Inkster School District principal who taught for 42 years, has also committed her time to a number of other organizations.

"I like to really serve mankind in various ways," she said. "Being brought up in a Christian home, my parents were active in Tennessee and I've been taught to give of yourself to others," said Patterson, an active member of the United Methodist Church.

Since her college days at Tennessee State University more than 50 years ago, she has maintained membership in two sororities, Alpha Kappa Alpha, Inc., a service organization, and the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa, an educational professional serority.

Her high energies also keep her active as a member of the TOP Ladies of Distinction, another service and humanitarian organization. Patterson volunteers for Project Health-O-Rama, as well as the American Cancer Foundation and the American Heart Foundation.

She said she finds time for all her volunteer work through good scheduling.

Patterson's community involvement benefits the YWCA, because she links their different needs and resources, Vincent said.

"I think her heart is with children and I think she sees the YWCA as being a part of her mission."

Mayor says local government still way too fat

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Westland Mayor Robert Thomas, warning that public employees can no longer "feed from the pocketbooks of the American people," pledged to cut government fat and find cheaper ways to provide city services.

"We need to change the attitude of those working in the public sector, from the top all the way down to the bottom," Thomas said Wednesday during his annual State of the City address.

Calling for public-sector sacrifices, Thomas pledged during his speech at the Westland Friendship Center that his administration will continue to seek ways of cutting costs while maintaining city services.

"You start at the top and make some sacrifices there first, and we have done that," he said, outlining what he called his "Vision 2000" for leading Westland into the next century.

Thomas conceded that the city budget rose by $3.5 million in 1990-91, during his first year as mayor.

"Citizens were demanding more services for their tax dollars," he said, citing demands for more police patrols, reduced fire station closings and better street maintenance.

In latter years, Thomas noted that city budgets have declined slightly "every year" and that the newly proposed $29.6-million general operating spending plan marks a $236 reduction from last

Thomas outlined several steps he has taken as mayor to cut spending:

■ In 1990, he eliminated three city positions, including a purchasing agent, a computer director, and an assistant economic development director, and merged those duties with other departments.

This year, his appointed officials accepted a new pay plan that included what he called "major concessions." His directors will receive a 4-percent raise this year but take a pay freeze next year, and they will absorb more healthcare costs.

"We not only cut our staff, we required them to make some of the same sacrifiees that many of our citizens in the private sector have already faced," Thomas said Wednesday.

In his proposed budget, Thomas has recommended to the council that another appointed staff position be cut. He wants to eliminate the economic development director's post and merge it with the planning director's the planning director's.

That wouldn't require a layoff-because planning director George Wilhelmi is retiring. The realigned duties would be handled by Scott Veldhuis, the current economic development director, Thomas said.

Thomas estimated that cuts he has made since becoming mayor new amount to $675,000 now amount to $675,000.

Among other highlights of the mayor's address:

His administration has added 10 new police officers, 11 fire employees, and five dispatchers in his term. He wants to hire three more firefighters this year.

'We will no longer have any of our fire stations closed," he said. The mayor's critics, including some council members, have accused him of falling short on this promise, which he made during his mayoral campaign.

Despite changes in spending

■ Despite changes in spending priorities, the city would maintain a budget surplus of $2.2 million under his proposed budget.

The mayor has proposed a "city hall in the mall" program in which an office would be opened in Westland Center to let citizens pay water and tax bills and obtain other information about city services.

Building extra classrooms hoped to ease crowding

By Marie Chestney Staff Writer

Classroom overcrowding in six southeast Livonia elementaries should be eased temporarily by building up to three extra classrooms at Hayes Elementary on Louise in Westland.

The Livonia Board of Education unanimously decided recently to spend $425,000 from a special maintenance budget to build the classrooms. The rooms will take a year to build and should open in September, 1994.

"This is the most cost effective and least disruptive proposal" to ease the overcrowding, said Superintendent Joseph Marinelli. "There's enough money in this budget to fund additional classrooms at Hayes."

For the financially strapped district, the $425,000 cost of building the extra classrooms or the $1.3 million cost to reopen Jefferson led school officials to consider — and then discard — other options. These included:

Raise class size throughout the district.

Change boundary lines for some elementaries in southeast Livonia.

By building the extra rooms at Hayes, school attendance boundaries in southeast Livonia will be kept intact.

Changing boundaries would have been a less-costly solution. But it also would have been more politically explosive, with families most likely angry at any attempt to transfer students to another school.

Administrators agree building the extra classrooms is only a temporary solution to a long-term

Retirement plan triggers debate

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

An early retirement plan for employees in three Wayne-Westland school unions has sparked a fierce dispute between school board trustees, with opponents being accused of "union-bashing."

But trustees said the heated exchange during Tuesday's board meeting would have been avoided if two absent board members had been present to cast their crucial votes on the controversial issue.

Earlier this year, the board had divided 5-2 on approving an early retirement plan that offers $24,000 bonuses to three unions representing teachers, building administrators and central office

But a glitch occurred Tuesday when the names of 35 employees, who signed up to retire early, were submitted to the board for approval. Two trustees who favored the plan missed the meeting, leaving three other supporters without the fourth vote they needed to approve the names.

"I don't think this is fair to your employees or your administration," Superintendent Larry Thomas told two trustees, Laurel Raisanen and Fred Warmbier, who refused to budge from their opposition.

Board president Leonard Posey leveled severe criticism against his colleagues, particularly during a fiery exchange with Raisanen in which he accused her of "unionbashing" and "employee-bashrespond to his accusations.

"I listened to you, and you'll listen to me," Posey told her.

Earlier this year, Raisanen and Warmbier voted against the early retirement plan that was supported by Posey and trustees Richard LeBlanc, Sharon Felan, Vicki Welty and Francis "Bud" Winter.

But Winter was out of town and Felan couldn't be at Tuesday's meeting, meaning there was no four-vote majority to approve the early retirements.

Administration officials voiced disappointment that neither Raisanen nor Warmbier would switch their votes, forcing the board to postpone what clearly will be approved at a future meet-

Bill Taylor, associate superintendent for employee services, warned that district employees who expected their early retirements to be approved Tuesday could feel betrayed.

"I believe the teachers (and ad-

Vicki Welty, board vice president, also was visibly upset and predicted that at the next meeting, "this will pass as it should have (Tuesday).

Later in the week, Raisanen said she stood by her vote because she believes early retirements interfere with normal employee at-

Raisanen also fears the plan could hurt employee morale.

"Are we sending the message that we want to get rid of the employees?" she asked. "I hope not." Raisanen also voiced concerns that taxpayers view the early retirement "purely as a bonus and a frivolous expense."

Most trustees and administration officials have defended the plan, however. Last year, 78 teachers accepted an early retirement and were replaced by newer educators who are lower on the salary ladder.

Despite a payout of $1.8 million for the $24,000 bonuses, the district this year recouped the money, Taylor said. Savings will continue until the new teachers climb the salary ladder, he said.

and changing Hayes' boundaries

Marinelli won't decide the actual number of classrooms to be built — two or three — until this year's budget is set. The district recently unveiled $12 million in cuts that could take place in the 1993-94 budget.

This authorizes either two or three rooms at Hayes but we could get by with two," Marinelli said.

Overcrowding is most extreme at Hayes and at McKinley on Hillcrest.

McKinley's overcrowding, administrators said, can be relieved by moving the special education center to another school, most likely to Adams on Lyndon.

Kent Gage, director of elementary education, said the center will be moved by September 1993.

Community college presidents cite dangers of ebbing state aid

Michigan's 440,000 community college students will pay higher tuition - perhaps for reduced programs - if state budget trends continue

"We're talking about a threeyear freeze on programs," Schoolcraft College president Richard McDowell warned legislators studying Gov. John Engler's proposed two-year budget.

"There's an issue of access," McDowell said. The educator term "access" means some middle class students may be unable to afford even two-year colleges that pride themselves on being inexpensive and close to home.

Oakland Community College board is considering increasing tuition as much as 10 percent -$4 a credit hour on the current base of $41.

McDowell's Schoolcraft, in northwestern Wayne County, is studying a $3 increase to $43.

Fulton said OCC gets only 24 percent of its operating funds from state aid, 37 percent from leges Association, health care and property taxes and a hefty 39 percent from tuition.

The state's funding formula visualizes the 29 community colleges getting 50 percent from state aid, 25 percent from property taxes and 25 percent from tuition.

Why? What's going awry in Lansing? The presidents blamed:

Flat state aid. The colleges got $233 million (adjusted) this year. Engler's two-year budget, proposes $233 million for fiscal 1993-94 and $233 million for 1994-95.

Property tax caps. Last year the Legislature froze assessments. The new school reform proposal on the June 2 ballot would cap assessment growth but not college costs. It promises a 3 percent boost to kindergarten through 12th grade schools but nothing more to community colleges.

Retirement costs. State budgchancellor Patsy Fulton said her ets have shifted more of these costs to the colleges without providing matching dollars.

Fulton said OCC's costs rose by $4.5 million from $12.7 million in 1991 to $17.1 million.

As employees leave, she said, at least half aren't being replaced. Statewide, said Tom Bernthal of the Michigan Community Col-retirement costs are rising $10.4

million this year. For nearly two decades, the state gave Wayne County Com-munity College a subsidy on top of state aid because voters steadfastly refused to levy a local prop-

Only after the Legislature voted to cut the $7.3 million subsidy did WCCC voters approve a millage. WCCC includes Detroit, the two Redford school districts, Wayne Westland, the east side and downriver suburbs.

Engler wants to use the recovered $7.3 million elsewhere in the state's $8 billion budget. Community college leaders, however, say it should be spread around the two-year colleges.

But Ken LaSalle, WCCC's vice president for administration, asked that his college be given $2.3 million for one year only to cover "transition" costs. "There may be a cash flow problem," he LaSalle said WCCC had cleaned house by reducing the full-time workforce by 100, turning over six officials for prosecution, closing the western campus near I-275, replacing all top administrators, meeting 143 of 144 audit recommendations and freezing salaries for three years.

But LaSalle was criticized by another president, Gerald Welch of Monroe, for claiming all of Wayne County as WCCC's service

Airport police in 'custody battle'

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW Staff Writer

Wayne County Sheriff Robert Ficano will ask the county commission Tuesday to intervene in what he believes is an attack on his authority by county Executive Edward McNamara.

Ficano's chief of staff, Nancy Mouradian, said the sheriff will request "emergency consideration" of methods the commission might use to block the establishment of a Metro Airport police department McNamara.

Mouradian and two others -Deputy Sheriff Anthony Shannon and Deputy Don Cox, president of Local 502 — said they heard that McNamara has ordered an April 19 creation of an airport police force using officers already in the sheriff's department. Currently the airport is policed by 95 sheriff's department officers.

Neither McNamara nor his chief deputy, Michael Duggan, returned the Observer's phone calls last week to comment on the alleged April 19 start-up Airport director Robert Braun has studied the value of force and recommended creation to McNamara, but Executive Department spokeswoman Irma Clark said Friday that McNamara is "not involved" with the issue.

Mouradian believes McNamara is very involved because he wants revenge on Ficano for beating Redford resident Kevin Kelley (whom McNamara heavily supported) in the Democratic primary for sheriff last year.

By wresting the airport officers from Ficano's control, McNamara would ostensibly weaken Ficano's power base.

"I can't help it if Mr. McNamara is a sore loser,' Mouradian said. "I'd just like him to find another object of scorn and leave (Ficano) alone."

To date, the airport director and the sheriff have stressed that the safety of the public is their highest priority. Ficano says that McNamara is the one trying to score political points. Braun says Ficano is swinging his political ax. McNamara isn't saying anything.

Braun says the reason he wants an airport police departbeen interfering with the airport director's lawful authority over the airport deputies.

The deputies themselves are just trying to stay out of the way as Ficano and McNamara slug it out.

"We don't care who we work for as long as we have our jobs. We don't want to be in the midsaid Bob Sheldon, president of Local 3317, representing the department's sergeants and Don Cox, president of Local 502, representing the deputies, said Ficano has verbally threatened to bar the return to the sheriff's department of any officer who joins the airport police force. "I just can't understand why Mr. Ficano is saying, 'I won't permit you to move inand out of this department,'

Cox and Sheldon say the deputies are mainly interested in protecting their jobs and staying out of the ring with McNamara and Ficano.

"They're highly suspicious of all political people," Cox said.

Strong stripes on spring ties

Accessorize. It's a word most women take for granted. We are taught from an early age to coordinate an outfit with scarves, shoes, jewelry and hats. The options are limitless, and we often shop for clothes with a keen awareness of accessories that will complement.

Men, however, are virtually dependent on one accessory — their tie. And how many men buy a suit with a tie in mind? The tie is always the last wardrobe purchase, although it can become the style signature of the man.

For this reason, the sales associates at Barneys New York in the Somerset Collection dedicate a considerable amount of time to their customers' neckwear choices. Since the tie is a form of expression, Barneys trains its associates to get to know the customer as a person, to analyze his lifestyle.

There's more to choosing a tie than color coordination. Experts in men's couture are adept at mixing patterns and textures to achieve just the perfect look.

Ties talk

"A tie is a man's signature," Bryan Gutierrez of Barneys said. "It reflects his taste, his mood." This spring, those discriminating and diverse male shoppers have myriad neckwear options from which to choose.

The exclusive Calvin Klein Collection features two-toned horizontal stripe silk knit ties in muted earthy colors ($75). We show this tie in two shades of brown, worn with a flaxen-hued linen shirt ($155). Pair these with natural linen pants and suede bucks ($145) and you have a classic, yet elegant, weekend ensemble. The mixing of shades from

The mixing of shades from the same color family is a style-making trend this

For a cutting-edge corporate look, we show a Joseph Abboud woven silk tie in spring's new shades of moss green and wine with a touch of gold and a hint of blue ($72). The Calvin Klein Collection cotton shirt is pinstriped in the same colors and features a soft pointed collar ($170).

But an entire room is filled with neckties at Barneys. For high color and contemporary styling, choose a Hugo Boss or Versace. Fornasetti designs bright, bold graphic ties. For a twist on the classic rep stripe, check out Garrick Anderson's vertical stripes in unusual colors.

If you like tiny knots, opt for ties sewn of ancient silk madder, a soft, supple fabric, like washed silk. Zegna offers exquisite detailing and handwork in unusual fabrics ($98.50).

Not too wide

In case you're wondering if last year's tie is outof-date, the standard width this season is 3% inches. And flowers are passe, except for the occasional sunflower. Stripes are stronger than ever, as are small geometrics, stylized paisleys and fine art-inspired graphics.

If you only associate J. Crew with sweaters and khakis and cotton tees, you're missing a huge menswear department that includes dress shirts, gabardine jackets, linen jackets and trousers, and, of course, great-looking ties.

The Somerset Collection store showcases a wide selection of silk and cotton ties for the young and youthful. We show the weekend staple, a blue chambray button-down collar shirt ($34), with the new bandana paisley tie in sunny yellow ($40). Also shown, a soft-color silk stripe in muted blue and red, great with seer-sucker ($38).

The college set is into patchwork cotton madras ties ($16) and everyone loves the Newport look in cool vibrant colors like pool blue, aloe and cherry. Other hot sellers are the "squiggle" tie and the bright two-way rep stripes with reverse tails. Imagine a green-and-white-stripe tie with a yellow-and-white-stripe tail — fun and attention-grabbing.

Of course, if you're a Michigan sportsman and a Ralph Lauren devotee, you'll want to see the new Polo kayak and fly fisherman ties at the Polo Ralph Lauren Shop, 201 S. Woodward in Birmingham ($67.50). Happy hunting for the tie that fits your lifestyle.

Bunny Hop: Kathie Gornick of Plymouth leads the Easter dance at the monthly senior citizens social in the Westland Mall

Seniors catch dance fever

It may not be the Graystone Ballroom, but senior citizens still flock to Westland Mall's Community Room Dances each month. The draw? Fun, friends and exercise for all who attend.

By Susan DeMaggio Staff Writer

While the walkers walked, the shoppers shopped, and the lunch bunch lunched, the seniors danced at Westland Mall.

Oblivious to all the retail activity above them, area senior citizens two-stepped, waltzed and dipped to the Standards Live! Band renditions of "Blue Skies," "My Blue Heaven" and "Paper Roses."

Once each month, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m., the Westland merchants throw a dance for senior citizens in the lower level community room, complete with band, refreshments and decorations.

Most of the hundred or so seniors who attend are dancers. They are people in their 70s and 80s who could literally dance all night.

"And I do," said Marion Hadley of Detroit with a laugh. "I got a new knee a year ago, and it's working out great. I can dance all night."

Hadley explained that she and many other seniors who love to dance, go dancing four or five nights a week. They travel to community centers, lounges and senior apartment complexes where square dances and ballroom dances are held.

Kathie Gornick of Plymouth and her partner Frank Nagy of Farmington Hills, are a regular Fred Astaire and Ginger Rogers.

"We love Latin numbers," said medals in the Gornick, a former dance instructor.
"But aside from all the fun and County, eh?"

friends, it's basically about exercise. Dancing is good for you. Keeps you young."

Jane Aikins of Redford acts as selfappointed hostess at the dances, urging shy newcomers who watch from the door to come in and sit at a table.

"I love to dance," she said, after a deep breath and an intricate polka. "My husband, George, and I met while dancing at the Graystone Ballroom in Detroit 56 years ago," she said. "He can't dance with me anymore because he's got crippling arthritis, but see him over there in the corner? He brings me to dance with whoever else needs a partner. Now that's real love."

Aikins demonstrated her fancy footwork with Jack O'Callaghan, 85, of Garden City.

"I never drank, never smoked," he boasted. "I'm 85, and I still pitch baseball, play soccer, and dance five nights, a week. I recently won 17 gold medals in the Senior Olympics. Not bad for an Irishman raised in Cork County, eh?"

Two-stepping it: Marion Hadley of Detroit tucked her stuffed bunny into the belt of her dress. She dances with John Tribole of Westland.

Malls invite shoppers to special events

By Susan DeMaggio Staff Writer

A mall's a great, big, public place and you can stop in anytime to purchase what you need. Right?

Wrong! Well, sort of wrong . . .

Hoping to attract shoppers to their stores at slow times of the day, malls are hosting designated shopping times for special groups of people.

This week, Lakeside Mall in Sterling Heights, will debut their "Family Night."

"This series will take place the first Wednesday of every month from 4-9 p.m." said Karen MacDonald, mall marketing director. "The evenings will include notable family entertainment, 99-cent food specials for children under 12, merchandise discounts, food samplings, drawings and mini-seminars."

Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, is also offering a family entertainment series to bring shoppers into the mall on Saturday afternoons.

"We've scheduled events as a follow-up to our Toontown attraction which will be on display through mid-May," said Elaine Kah, marketing director. "Entertainers, special children's exhibits, and sing-alongs will be held to interest families."

At the Somerset Collection in Troy, "Office Parties" are provided for select groups of professionals after work, combining fashion seminars with wine and hors d'oeuvres, beginning at 4:30 or 5:30 p.m.

"We've held these parties for attorneys, advertising account executives,

Area businesses join etching campaign to deter auto theft

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAFF WRITER

Now they're fighting car theft by the numbers, literally,

Aided by the Michigan State Police, the Michigan Auto Theft Prevention Authority and the Alliance for a Safer Greater Detroit, 12 area car dealerships and a glass dealer are offering free VIN etching.

But what's a VIN? It's the Vehicle Identification Number unique to each motorized transportation device sold in the United States

Using acid and equipment supplied by state police, the etchers will put the VIN on every window of your car. (It takes about five minutes).

That might sound like sacrificing aesthetics for a dubious deterrent, but Det. Sgt. Ted Monsette of the state police said that having your windows numbered makes them and the doors virtually useless to thieves.

The VIN-etched glass is traceable. Monsette said, and therefore the people who thieves sell parts to won't buy them. That's not to say some lunatic won't swipe your car for the fancy radio, seats, wheels and tires, but it's a start.

"Our eventual goal is to have every dealer in the Detroit metro area a part of this program," Monsette said.

The dozen dealers on board now include Dick Scott Buick of Plymouth, Lou Lariche Chevrolet of Plymouth, Glassman Olds of Southfield and Bill Fox Chevrolet of Rochester Hills. And all outlets of Henderson Glass are in the program, too.

George Glassman said he's been with the program four months and etched about 50 vehicles. "It serves a worthy purpose," he said. "There's no downside to it. People get hap-

But some car dealers are less zealous regarding VIN etching than others

"I don't know that we offer it to anyone," said Ron Chaudoin, general manager of Lariche Chevrolet, "There's been no requests for it." Like all the dealers in the program, however, Lariche will etch your glass for free if you buy a new car or have work done to your old car. Henderson Glass will do the etching free as well, but doesn't require a qualifying purchase.

Others, like Bill Fox Chevrolet. aren't quite ready to etch. yet. Fox general manager Ken some necessary computer software, but will offer etching free to purchasers of new and used cars when the equipment arrives. "That will be a service to show our gratitude," he said.

Other dealers, like Jim Muir Olds of Sterling Heights and Al Long Ford of Warren, are going 'full hog" on the program, Monsette said, with Long Ford even etching wheels.

Gary Marr, the sales manager of Long Ford, said he offers free VIN etching to everyone who buys a car, has work done or just pulls in for that specific purpose. They've done 60 cars in the two months they've been part of the program. "It's a great idea," Marr said.

Insurance companies agree, with most of them offering discounts on comprehensive coverage for VIN-etched cars. AAA Michigan offers a 5-percent discount. Other companies go as high as 15 percent.

Thelma Castillo, a spokeswoman for the Alliance for a Safer Greater Detroit, said Michigan is the only state in the country where auto theft is becoming less frequent.

Seasonal warning: Fly kites safely

.It's hard to resist the tug of a warm spring breeze on the string of a kite. But it's a safe bet that your kite will soar higher if you avoid tangling with Detroit Edison's utility poles and electric lines.

Detroit Edison offers a few simple rules to help you stay safe while having fun:

■ Select a good level, open space. Wires, poles, trees, large stones, ruts and ditches can cause injury. ■ If a kite becomes lodged in a high tree, utility pole or wire, don't try to get it down. If kites or other objects are caught on Detroit Edison wires or poles, please call the utility at 1-800-477-4747 with the location.

Don't fly kites in threatening weather. If a kite is hit by lightning, its wet string will conduct the electricity. ■ Use lightweight wood for kite frames. ■ Use strong, dry cord for kite string. Don't use kites containing metal or wire parts. Metal and wire serve as conductors when they come in contact with electrical equipment. In addition, exposed nails and pins may injure hands and arms.

■ Be cautious of sudden wind gusts that can knock you off balance. Also, wind gusts can pull the kite cord quickly through your hand, causing burns.

Avoid traffic areas such as streets, highways and railroad rights-of-way.

■ Don't fly kites from rooftops or other elevated structures unless they are protected by enclosures high enough to prevent a fall.

Museum to give away thousands of seedlings

More than 1,000 seedlings will be given out at the seventh annual "Adopt a Tree" program Saturday at the Westland Historical Museum, 857 N. Wayne Road, just south of Marquette.

An "agreement to adopt" will be provided to residents wishing to obtain any two seedlings of their choice, at no cost. The seedlings will be for trees and shrubs such as mountain ash, scotch pine, black hills spruce, red maple and white-flowering dogwood, among others.

Information on planting the trees and shrubs will also be given out to those adopting a tree.

For more information, please call 467-3183.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

CITY OF GARDEN CITY

An ordinance to repeal Chapter 183 of Title XV of the Code of the City of Garden City entitled "Heating Code" is being considered by the Mayor and Council. A Public Hearing has been scheduled for April 19, 1993, at 7:05 P.M., in the Council Chambers of the Civic Center Complex located at 6000 Middlebelt.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE
An ordinance to repeal Chapter 163 of Title XV of the Code of the City of Garden City entitled Heating

That Chapter 163 of Title XV of the Code of the City of Garden City entitled Heating Code be repealed since all work previously covered by this Chapter is now governed by Chapter 159, Mechanical Code.

An ordinance to amend the Code of the City of Garden City by adding a new section prohibiting vicious and dangerous dogs and to also amend section 90.99, the penalty provision of said Chapter of the Code is being considered by the Mayor and Council. A Public Hearing has been considered by the Mayor and Council. A Public Hearing has been scheduled for April 19, 1993, at 7:25 P.M., in the Council Chambers of the Civic Center Complex located at 6000 Middlebelt.

PROPOSED ORDINANCE

An ordinance to amend the Code of the City of Garden City by adding a new section which new section shall be designated as section 90.25 of Chapter 90 of Title IX of said Code, and to also amend section 90.99, the penalty provision of said Chapter of the Code.

THE CITY OF GARDEN CITY HEREBY ORDAINS:

Section 90.25 - Prohibition - Vicious/Dangerous Dogs - It shall be unlawful and punishable as set forth in this chapter for any person to keep or harbor any vicious or dangerous dog anywhere within the City. A vicious/dangerous dog is defined as any dog that has without provocation attacked or bitten any person engaged in a lawful activity, and any dog that has attempted to bite or attack any person engaged in a lawful activity, and any dog that has on more than one occasion bitten, seriously, injured, or killed another domestic animal within an eighteen (18) month period. A dog shall be deemed to be attempting to attack if it is restrained by a leash, fence or other means, and it is clear from the dog's excited actions that only the presence of the leash, fence or other means of restraint is preventing the dog from making an immediate attack.

Section 90.99 - Penalty - Any person violating any of the provisions of this chapter shall opon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than Five Hundred ($500.00) Dollars and costs of prosecution or by imprisonment for not more than ninety (90) days of both such fine and imprisonment. Upon a finding that a dog is victors/dangerous, the Court may, in addition to the penalties set forth herein cause said dog to be hile I'm not well-acquainted with former Detroit Lion Lem Barney, he and I have many mutual acquaintances. My name and his have appeared together on the stationery of various egalitarian boards and I feel a personal affinity for his athletic background, his support of lib eral humanitarian causes and his graceful bearing in the unforgiving floodlights of media attention and crowd pressure.

Lem Barney deserves support, second chance

I was an NCAA All-American sprinter who outran Olympic champions in faster time than they won Olym pic gold, went undefeated representing the United States in Europe on the national team and ultimately was relegat ed to various athletic halls of fame.

Thus I speak as a man who has been tested in brutally competitive crucibles wherein many others have melted away. I also speak as a former coach of high school athletes who later gained collegiate All-America status while sometime ignoring training rules regarding the use of intoxicatives - both legal and illegal.

During my days as an executive educator, I was denounced as a troublemaker by some community groups and officials - and by many in the media - not only for espousing multiculturalism but also for advocating the decriminalization of drug use.

I come from a prodigiously substance-abusing Celtic family, prominently featuring my alcoholic ex-fighter father (a legendary liberal humanitarian in his time). I also confess that during my more boisterous days I didn't decline a few straight-up hits of Jack Daniels and roach clip now and then even when I was an international athlete. And, yes I did inhale.

So it is with multiple sorrows that I note Lem Barney's recent arrest for allegedly using illegal substances and his subsequent hospitalization for depression. He was one of the National Football League's greatest cornerbacks and countless people idolize and emulate

If he's guilty, I can't excuse him. What I can do is empathize - particularly since the pontificating media and the pious general public judge their "fallen heroes" by a far tougher yardstick than they reserve for themselves and their own various vices.

How many of us have never yielded to the blandishments of nicotine or marijuana use, or to overindulgence in alcohol, or to philandering, or to glutto-ny or to any other form of fleshly weakness? Our behaving in these ways doesn't make them right, but it makes us human.

As a humanly flawed being like the rest of us, Lem Barney deserves the same second chance that we all do, Bear in mind that he isn't accused of selling drugs, as did - for example his old antagonist Bob Hayes, the peer less sprinter who became the Dallas Cowboys' premier wide receiver.

This distinction between being accused of using rather than of selling is a significant one. Recognizing that the role models of our younger years are prey to the same addictive predilections as you or I is a big step toward maturation.

It's time to grow up and stop blindly ascribing superhuman characteristics to people just because they've done superhuman deeds on an athletic field.

To expect Lem Barney to behave superhumanly off the gridiron is perhaps doubly unfair to him, if only because often he has actually met such expecta-

This affable ex-superstar has contributed much to our community in the past. What he needs most from us now is sympathetic support in his very unsuper-but very human-struggle.

Dirt farmers become victims of cultural diversity

ity the poor redneck in these days of cultural diversity. In Birmingham the schools are spending as much time teaching kids about homosexuality as they are making sure the kids learn math. But of course it certainly changes the equation of things.

And while we're making sure our kids are taught not to slight anyone. the country folk in Canton Township are being insulted by public officials and the public in general.

The reason is that wannabe upper middle class people talk a good game about respecting the rural way of life, but when it comes to smelling the pig excrement, it's a different matter.

Country ducks are more to their taste Farms are real places, not historical re-creations like the Firestone Farm at Greenfield Village. In other words, old junk sitting around farms is quaint, while new junk is an eyesore. The question is at what point does junk turn into an antique?

Chances are those old hayrakes and broken plows had about as much quaintness about them in the 19th century as a 1973 Chevy sitting up on cider blocks has now.

The clash between the subdivision people and the rural folks came to a head recently in Canton Township when tax assessments went up on farms as much as 300 percent.

Granted, these folks haven't had a tax increase in 12 years, but it certainly was a shock for the farm people.

And while Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack, and others, treated their concerns seriously, privately others in the township have groused that many of these folks really aren't farm ers and they've got too much junk in their back yards.

Pardon the sociologist in me breaking out, but the problem is that city folks have this stereotype of farmers based on watching too many episodes of the Waltons or seeing that painting, 'American Gothic.

Farming is math. You can't raise corn for $2.50 a bushel that costs $3 to

But farming is more than just making money; it's usually a family tradition. And that's where the junk comes

My own family's farm in Arkansas is of that variety. No, there isn't a car seat in the front yard; they're upscale rednecks. But there is the foundation of the house my great grandfather built, and behind it a falling down barn that my grandfather worked on as a kid. It's top blew down in a storm and nobody has had the heart to demolish

Nearby these's the rusting hulk of a 1963 Dodge still painted with victory slogans from a long forgotten football game.

A six-foot-long rusty tool box once used in Little Rock's railroad yards now serves as a barbecue and the tumbled down corral is a reminder of past hog killings

This collection from the past sits next to a modern ranch home. The place is nothing special, but it's special to me. And it makes me appreciate the farm homes in western Canton.

All people have their sense of aesthetics usually based on their education and background. If we are to take cultural diversity seriously, schools should be teaching students about respecting the cultural backgrounds of Michigan's rednecks, the dirt farmer, as he is called here.

But instead our children learn about daddy's special roommate. No wonder folks feel free to tax farmers off their land and insult them on top of it.

Be creative; use up those leftover eggs

sn't it enough that egg prices mysteriously rise 15 to 20 percent this time of year? Add to that the cost of Peter Rabbit's trendy Easter egg dye and coloring kit.

Then consider the grocery store bagger wearing headphones and a "Party Naked" sweatshirt who "inadvertently" placed the four dozen delicate ovals underneath the 6-pound pork roast.

Now you're faced with the monumental task of having to incorporate 40 or so of the hard-cooked eggs into the next three days worth of family

You could start by making enough egg salad to serve the 5th Battalion of the National Guard.

You could make a surprise meat loaf and insert the hard-cooked devils in the center, then call it a pate and invite all the hoity-toity folks you know for "hors d'oeuvres."

If worst comes to worst, toss them all in the food processor, shells and all, and make a $6-perpound garden fertilizer!

Creative leftovers

Or, you can read on. First off, rest assured there are many recipes that can be made with leftover hard-cooked Easter eggs.

The secret is creativity. They can be mashed and stirred into cream sauces. Give Swedish meatballs and stroganoff a subtle richness by stirring in 1/2 cup of mashed hard-cooked egg just before serving.

Hard-cooked eggs can easily be adapted into salads and salad dressings. The classic Cobb salad is a perfect example. Wake up the flavor of a basic "ranch" style dressing with 1/2 cup of mashed hard-cookers.

Even those folks concerned about cholesterol can utilize just the whites in these recipes, placing the hard-cooked yolks outside for the birds and squirrels to enjoy.

Now, for a little disheartening news. To be on the safe side, I called Lois Thielke, extension home economist for the Oakland County Cooperative Extension Service, and a frequent writer for the Observer & Eccentric.

I needed some info on just how long you and I can safely tolerate the colorful creations before turning them into garden fodder or risk food poi-

Safety concerns

Lois quoted the most recent press release from the food service folks at Michigan State University - "Decorated hard-cooked eggs should be consumed within two to three days after cooking, when refrigerated.

"When used for coloring, decorating, hunting and displaying, total time out of refrigeration should not exceed two hours."

When I think of all those years the eggs sat in the baskets, grabbing an occasional bite, doused with an ample supply of high-blood-pressurized salt, according to Michigan State University, it's a wonder I'm still sitting here writing this! (By the way, if you have questions regarding food safety, you can call Oakland County's Cooperative Extension Food Hotline at 858-0904).

Momma's methods

Momma would always prepare more eggs than necessary for the family Easter baskets. Good Friday was always noted as "egg salad day," when we would chow down on sandwiches made with the eggs that cracked during boiling.

Leftover hard-cooked eggs would be braided into sweetened bread or finely mashed and mixed with bread crumbs to make a tasty coating for salmon

I remember one year Momma mixed some mashed hard-cooked eggs with a little Miracle Whip and grated cheese and placed it between egg-dipped French toast slices for a hearty, appetizing lunch.

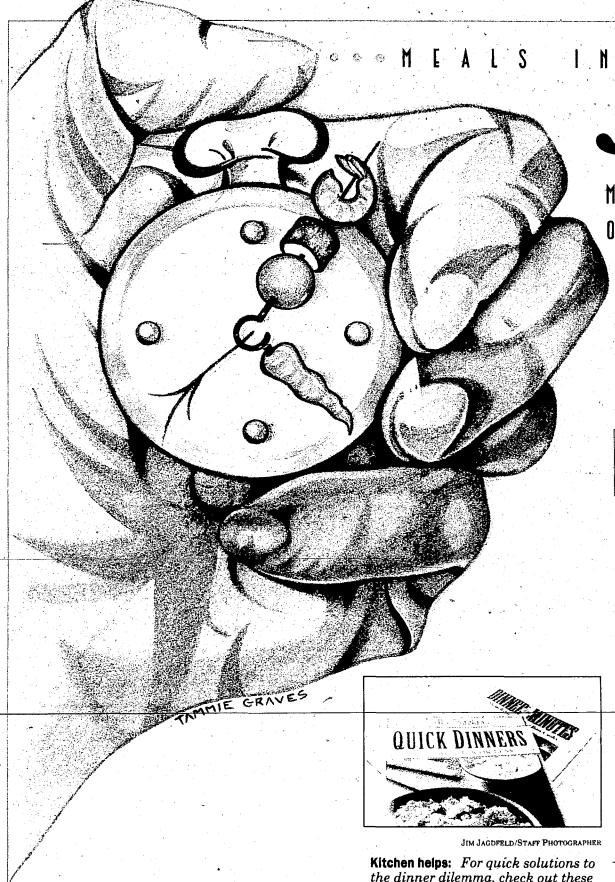

One year, when Dad was temporarily laid-off and money was scarce, mashed hard-cooked eggs were stirred into a chicken broth and rice soup for added protein.

Health conscious consumers can even buy "smart eggs" that are supposedly lower in cholesterol than their regular counterparts, and can be used the same way as regular eggs.

As mentioned earlier, anyone with a garden can benefit from the egg shells being tossed into the soil or compost heap.

If you're looking for tasty ways to use those leftover eggs, try some of the great Janes family-tested recipes inside. Bon Appetit.

■ On your mark, get set, go. You can have dinner on the table in 30 minutes or less. Three new cookbooks show you how.

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

'Nobody has time to cook after work." Wrong! with a well-stocked pantry, and a little planning, you can get dinner on the table in 30 minutes or less. Paula Hamilton, Linda Gassenheimer and Mary Bartz, manager of the Betty Crocker Kitchens, made a believer out of me.

I've been following the advice they offer in three newly published cookbooks for the past week with appetizing results. And as an added bonus, I'm saving money and losing weight. Too many carryouts make your budget and belly bulge.

By limiting recipes to five ingredients, not including salt and pepper, and cooking over high heat, Hamilton, author of "The 5 In 10 Cookbook" (Hearst Books, $15), cut her cooking time to 10 minutes

Hamilton is the food editor of the Oakland Tribune, and lives in Oakland, Calif. She's also married, and the mother of two children ages 9 and 11.

"Less is more," she said in a telephone interview. "Less ingredients, less pots and pans, less cleaning up. I put more energy into the dinner conversation, instead of dinner preparation. You need to be

Winner Dinner, submitted by Alice Witt of Troy, will warm and transport your taste buds south of the border, where the sun always shines.

Many chicken recipes have crossed my desk since I began writing this column, but every now and then I receive one that really catches my eye. That was the case with Chicken Mexicana, a one-dish dinner that is covered with a layer of cornbread and bursting with flavor. It is a makeahead meal that is always a boon, as it seems so often that the pace of life increases in direct proportion to the rising of the outside temperature.

Witt is married to Jim and the mother of three children, two of whom are off at college. She loves to cook and finds great satisfaction in being a homemaker. An active member of Troy Baptist Church, Witt previously served on the church's Mission Board for six years. She is in the third year of a five-year international Bible study program that meets once a week and requires at least 11/2 hours of intense Bible study every day. As is the nature with recipes, Chicken Mexicana was given to her by a friend who served it at a Christmas party Witt attended. Everyone loved it, and I think your family will as well.

Thank you, Alice Witt, for sharing your recipes with us, and congratulations on being selected this week's

Winner Dinner Winner. Submit recipes to be considered for publication in this column, or elsewhere, to: Winner Dinner Winner. P.O. Box 3503, Birmingham 48012. #### FROSTY STRAWBERRY SQUARES

Crust: 1 cup flour

- 1/4 cup brown sugar
- 1/2 cup chopped walnuts
- 1/2 cup melted margarine Filling:
- 2 egg whites
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 cups sliced strawberries 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 cup whipping cream Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. In a medium size bowl, combine flour, brown sugar, nuts and margarine. Bake in a 9 by 13 by 2-inch pan for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally. In large mixing bowl, combine egg whites, sugar, berries and lemon juice. Beat on high speed for 10 minutes. In small bowl, whip 1 cup of whipping cream and fold it into the strawberry mixture. Remove onethird of the crumb mixture and set it aside for garnish. Shake the remaining crumbs so that they are evenly distributed in the pan. Spoon the strawberry mixture over the crumbs. Top with the remaining crumbs. Freeze for six hours before serving.

Meals from page 1B

One of Hamilton's secrets is a pantry stocked with "convenient" basic ingredients. (See story in-

The right equipment is important too. Sharpen your knives - a dull one will slow you down and use the right one for the job. As an example, Hamilton says it's much faster to chop or slice an onion with a large, sharp chef's knife than with a tiny paring knife.

She uses her microwave as a tool - to heat vegetables, melt butter and chocolate - and finishes the job with other appliances. "I like the smell of cooking. It's very nurturing for the family, she said.

Putting her kids to work also saves time. "I was shocked to learn that many kids aren't allowed in the kitchen," she said. "If you don't let them help they will want your attention. Kids are interested in food. They can mix salad dressings. My son, Jeff, who is 9, peels and deveins shrimp.

What good is your food processor if it's hidden away in a kitchen cupboard or the basement? Put it where you can use it, recommends Gassenheimer, author of "Dinner in Minutes" (Chapters Publishing, $29.95 hardcover, $19.95 paperback).

"Clear the kitchen so you can kind of hit it running when you come home from work," she said during a telephone interview. 'Starting with a clean sink can shave as much as 10 to 15 minutes from preparations.

Gassenheimer is executive director of Gardner's Markets, a chain of supermarkets in Miami. 'Dinner in Minutes" recipes originated in Gassenheimer's nationally syndicated Miami Herald column, also called "Dinner in "The recipes are easy. They use ingredients you have on hand, or that are easy to buy, with equipment you have on hand," said Bartz. "These are practical, service-oriented recipes. They're affordable, fresh, fast, flavorful and nutritious.'

- 4 slices bacon, chopped
- 1 cup sour cream ½ small onion, chopped fine
- 1 tablespoon milk dash salt and pepper
- 1 cup shredded-cheddar cheese

Toss breadcrumbs with margarine; sprinkle onto the bottom of an 8 by 8 or similar square or round baking dish. Laver egg slices over bread crumb mixture.

Cook bacon until crisp; drain. Mix bacon with sour cream, onion, milk, salt and pepper. Pour over hard-cooked eggs, top with shredded cheese. Bake at 350 degrees F., uncovered for 15 minutes. Great with biscuits!

an to save

Here are some tips for planning meals, shopping and dinner preparation from Linda Gassenheimer, author of "Dinner in Minutes: Memorable Meals for Busy Cooks," (Chapters Publish-

■ Make a list of about four meals in advance. Buy fresh ingredients that will keep at least four days in the refrigerator to go along with the staples you already have on hand. ■ Shopping at the end of the day when stores are crowded is tiring, especially if you have to go home and cook too. Keep a cooler in the trunk of your car so that you can shop before work or at lunch.

Let your supermarket help you. Supermarket services available can include precut vegetables, and fruit, prewashed salads and meats and poultry cut for stirfrying. Some markets will shell shrimp for you.

■ Keep pasta, pizza shells and bottled or frozen sauces on hand for emergency dinners.

■ Freeze good-quality, freshly grated Parmesan cheese. It can be measured without defrosting and will quickly reach room tempera-

■ The quickest way to cook rice is to prepare it like pasta in a lot of boiling water. It turns out perfect and fluffy and takes only 10 minutes, or half the normal time.

■ Replace vegetable peelers often. Like knives, they need to be sharp to work efficiently. If you still have one from five years ago, invest in a new one.

■ If you keep two or three chopping boards available, you won't have to stop and wash a board while cooking. I prefer those that are dish-water safe. I also like a medium-size one that can easily be moved around so I can chop all my vegetables on it and carry it to the stove.

■ You really only need three sharp knives on hand. For most cutting tasks, a 13-inch and an 8inch are sufficient. Additionally, a stainless-steel serrated knife is perfect for cutting fruit or toma-

CREAM OF BROCCOLI SOUP

- 1 package (1 pound) frozen broccoli
- 2 cans (14½ ounces each) chicken broth
- 1 teaspoon lemon zest (grated outer rind of lemon)
- 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese (about 4 ounces)

Place the broccoli and chicken broth in a nonreactive, medium saucepan. Bring to boil over high heat. Reduce the heat to medium and simmer, partially covered, until the broccoli is tender, about 5 minutes. Puree the mixture in a blender or food processor until smooth. Return the broccoli mixture to the saucepan. Stir in the milk and lemon zest and heat through. Ladle the hot soup into serving bowls and garnish with a generous sprinkling of cheese. Pass the remaining cheese on the side. Serves 4 to 6.

PORK MEDALLIONS WITH APRICOT GLAZE

- 1½ pork tenderloins (about 1 pound)
- Salt and freshly ground pepper
- 1 small garlic clove 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup port
- 2 tablespoons apricot jam.

Cut the pork tenderloins into 8 medallions about 34-inch thick. Season with salt and pepper. Mince the garlic. Heat the oil in a large frying pan over high heat. When the oil is hot, add the pork medallions and cook, turning once, until the pork is nicely browned outside with no trace of pink in the center, about 6 minutes total cooking time. Remove the pork to a platter.

Add the garlic to the pan and cook, stirring, for 30 seconds. Whisk in the port and apricot jam and boil over high heat, stirring, another minute or so. Return the pork and any accumulated juices to the pan and heat through. Serve immediately. Serves 3 to 4.

BALSAMIC STEAK

11/4 pounds skirt, flank or lean

Stock up on essential groceries

Stock up on staples and you won't have to worry about what to cook for dinner after a rough day. Paula Hamilton, author of "The 5 in 10 Cookbook," stocks her cupboard with dried pastas, quick-cooking rice, canned broths, a variety of tomatoes, beans, and vegetables like creamed-style corn, pitted olives, salmon, sardines and herb blends.

In the freezer she keeps a variety of frozen vegetables and fresh pasta. "It allows you to come home and be spontaneous," she Hamilton shops for meat on the day she plans to cook it. "Defrost-ing takes time," she said.

For more specific ideas, Linda Gassenheimer, author of "Dinner in Minutes," suggests the follow-

Basics - All purpose unbleached flour, cornstarch, brown sugar, sugar, confectioners' sugar, baking powder, unsweetened cocoa powder, raisins, tea, coffee, cornmeal, salt, black peppercorns.

Frequently used spices - bay leaf, thyme, ground cumin, ground cinnamon, rosemary, oregano, whole or ground nutmeg.

Dry goods - Long-grain white rice, white basmati rice, Arborio rice. Valencia-style rice, dried linguine or fettuccini, orzo, penne.

Tips for planning dinners

Here are some meal-planning pointers and serving ideas from Betty Crocker's Quick Dinners: In 30 Minutes or Less," (Prentice Hall, $8).

■ Plan for leftovers to make a second meal quick and easy.

■ When possible, make double portions of favorite dishes and freeze or refrigerate half for later.

Try roasting two types of meat at the same time, for example chicken and beef. Serve one hot that night and save the other to serve hot or cold the next day.

■ Keep store-bought frozen chopped onion on hand, or make your own. Place peeled, chopped onion in boiling water about 11/2 minutes. Chill immediately in ice water. Drain, package and freeze.

■ If you forget to chill canned fruits or vegetables, give them a quick chill in the freezer for 20 minutes.

■ When you cook pasta, double the amount. Toss half with olive oil, cover and refrigerate. You'll have the beginnings of a pasta salad the next night.

Perk up salads with unusual greens

Out-of-the-ordinary greens transform a ho-hum salad into a menu star. You may find some of the following greens sold individually, but you're also likely to find them pre-mixed and packaged, so you don't have to stock up on several kinds. Just open the package, toss with a little dressing, and serve.

Arugula (ah-ROO-guh-lah): If you like horseradish, you'll like arugula. A member of the mustard family, arugula tastes spicy and peppery. Toss the smooth, small, dark-green leaves with tomatoes, olives, peppers and olive oil for a Mediterranean salad.

Skating season's over, but recycling isn't. What looks like a lone ice skate to us is spring digs to nesting birds. This hostel, fashioned from an outgrown skate and recycled material, has an entry suitable for bluebirds, house finches and sparrows. It's adorned with a tin roof, a wire hanger, and, for looks, an old skating muffler.

Your generation

You don't have to show an ID to get into My Generation Jewelry, but the store's set up for folks under 35, thank you. Owners Joe Domenick and Bruce Guastella came up with the novel concept after doing a market survey at a previous store. Last fall, the two opened My Generation Jewelry for the 20- to 30-something crowd.

Besides carrying modest-priced fine jewelry, the proprietors tune in rock music and decorate with poster art, all with a young clientele in mind. So much for marketing. Joe Domenick says the parents of many young customers come in for their own jewelry and for repairs.

Hot items include 10-karat motion rings, 14karat Tasmanian Devil charms, and Mickey Mouse rings. My Generation Jewelry is in Coventry Commons Shopping Center, Canton.

STREET SOUNDS

Duran Duran — Duran Duran

"Destroyed by MTV, I hate to bite the hand that feeds me so much information" — so starts Duran Duran's ninth album, 'Duran Duran.' With burning lyrics like that, you can't help but be drawn into the album. There are three problems, however. After the first three tracks, the above-mentioned Too Much Information," along with the romantic "Ordinary World" and the danceable "Love Voodoo," the former teen heartthrobs turn house with hip-hop and techno beats. Not that that's all bad, but it gets a little tiresome. The group tries to rescue the album with "Breath After Breath," performed with Brazilian composer Milton Nascimento and Vinnie Colaiuta to no avail. (Steve Ferrone, a drummer in Eric Clapton's band, also appears on the album.)

The second problem is many of the "Duranie" generation remember the group's debut album, 'Duran Duran," released in 1981. To ease the confusion, Capitol Records has nicknamed the album "The Wedding Album" because of the wedding pictures on the cover. The third problem occurs while watching the video of the first single, "Ordinary World," over-played on MTV. It makes me wonder if Simon LeBon, Nick Rhodes, John Taylor and Warren Cuccurullo are masochists or how seriously "destroyed" the quartet was by the music channel. - Christina Fuoco

Discipline pushes for 'Profit'

■ They know there's interest in their music in Norway, but for Discipline the goal at present is to fan the flames of support in the metro Detroit area. One way, the group hopes, is with the release of "Push & Profit."

Street

The Royal Oakbased Discipline has no intention of dwelling on the past, and the fivepiece band hopes with its debut release, "Push & Profit," things will accelerate in the future.

"One of the problems we are having and we feel we might run into is because the music is so long, (the songs) are not standard pop form and not standard post-punk form, and it doesn't really fit in anywhere, and we are just trying to find an audience that crosses boundaries, said front man Matthew Parmenter.

'It's our alternative to alternative," added bassist Mathew Kennedy.

The eight-track release is a flowing array of mature, electric, orchestrated sound. With the average song length at seven minutes, the band knows its material may be difficult to plug in this era of simplicity.

It will take a while to convince radio stations that's it's OK to play a seven-minute song ... . It will take someone to break that, "said keyboardist David Krofchok. "I think we raise enough eyebrows that if the right people hear it . . . I think we Regardless if Discipline has "a shot" in the Detroit area or not, the band recently returned from performing in Norway, where the members were surprised by the crowd's reactions to their material.

"One gig that we played was a club called Alaska. It wasn't very well attended, but the audience was very, very loud, and they had us come out and sing again, and I even tually said I couldn't do it because I lost my voice," Parmenter said.

They were loving the music, Krofchok said. "We had people up on the stage talking afterwards for what seemed to be a good hour, talking about how much they liked this and that.

The band landed the opportunity to play when a Norwegian college student, Pal Bevrfjord, approached the band after a local show. Bevrfjord was impressed with the band's unique live performance style and was interested in having them play in his home country.

After returning to Norway with a cassette of Discipline's music, he persuaded members of his school's concert committee to sponsor a brief tour. The college, which is located outside of Oslo, picked up the band's airfare and room and board. Beyrfiord was able to schedule three shows spread out over a two-week period in March.

Besides the Alaska club show, Discipline played an acoustic set in a campus tavern and days later played in a campus amphitheater.

"There were a lot of students there, and we actually had students stage diving, and if you heard our music, it's kind of weird," Parmenter said.

"We had one drunk that no one would catch," said Jon Preston Bouda with a laugh.

Before they returned home, Bevrfjord expressed interest in bringing the band back next year, but for now Discipline is pooling its energies to raise awareness about the band at home.

'Push & Profit" should accomplish just that. The release was recorded at Tempermill studios in Ferndale during January. It provided the band the ability to polish its

"I think most of it comes from playing live, because you really learn to work together as a unit," Parmenter said. "If something goes wrong, it's kind of interesting how you will get out of it, and when we had the opportunity to record in the studio, it just came off as part of our unity.

"We've done plenty of recordings in the one-take-live feel, but one of the things is we wanted to go back into the studio and get a more polished sound. But when we are live I think we do have a polished sound, but it's different.'

"It's a different energy," said drummer Paul Dzendzel. "You are in front of people playing instead of each other in a studio.

The band members are realistic about their future, while concentrating on their current efforts.

The trip was a good thing, but it was fairly one-dimensional. It doesn't get to the root of the reason why we went (to Norway), because it has to do with the music," Parmenter said. "The trip was great and it said a lot about us, but it's time to move on.

Discipline will perform at The Ritz, 17580 Frazho, Roseville, Wednesday, April 14. Call 778-8150 for more information. The band also will play Friday, April 30, at Lili's, 2930 Jacob, Hamtramck; Wednesday, May 5, at The Ritz in Roseville; and Friday, May 14, at I-Rock nightclub, 16350 Harper (881-ROCK).

Green Jello is the loosely termed hard rock "band" behind the genius video "Three Little Pigs." A twist on the original tale, the video, made of Claymation and animation, features one pig who's a musician wannabe, a second pig who spends his time lounging on a beach, and the third who is the brainy child of musician "Pig Nugent." The wolf wears shades

I watch a lot of daytime TV and to me this sounds like the behavior one has when they have been sexually or physically abused, low self-esteem and anger. It troubles me that she is so confused and that she was abused as a youngster. Can you shed any light on this?

Dear Grandma,

Your concern for your granddaughter is understandable. As you describe her, she is in trouble and in need of counseling.

However, you are jumping to conclusions by thinking that she must have been abused for her to behave in this way. There are many different environmental and genetic circumstances that could lead to this. One of them is abuse and there are many others.

I do not know the extent of your influence on your granddaughter or what the relationship is between you, she and her parents. If you are in a position to recommend counseling, that is what your granddaughter needs.

'Keeper' examines bizarre trial

By John Monaghan Special Writer

Known collectively as the "Ward boys," the four elderly bachelor brothers milk the cows, feed the turkeys and live in a squalor not unlike their livestock. On cold nights, they sleep in the same room and often in the same

The townspeople don't get too close: "You leave them alone, they leave you alone," says one of the Wards' neighbors in rural New York. "If you're in a restaurant, you don't just plop your ass down next to 'em; you might even move down a seat or two.'

But when one of the brothers ends up dead one morning and the police say they have Delbert Ward's signed confession of murder, the neighbors are up in arms. They raise bail money and find a lawyer who can prove that Delbert, nearly illiterate, didn't know what he was putting his name to.

It's the district attorney's job to prove that Delbert, tired of hearing the cries of the terminally sick MOVIES brother, put his hand over William's mouth and suffocated him.

The documentary account of the trial and the men who went from outcast farmers to fullblown media figures make up "Brother's Keeper." The amazing new film, playing this weekend at the Detroit Film Theatre, is the most exciting documentary to hit area screens since "Roger and

Not that the two have all that much in common. Michael Moore's personalized account of GM's pulling out of Flint was as much about himself as it was about Roger Smith. Here, filmmakers Joe Berlinger and Bruce Sinofsky try to stay out of the camera range, though they can be heard asking usually intelligent

Oh, occasionally they'll stumble into a "how did it feel when you knew your brother was dead?," but many of their questions are sincere and compelling. And though they've been criticized for further corrupting the rusticity of their simple subjects by filming, they try to remain objective and, by all accounts, accu-

The brothers, Lyman, Delbert and Roscoe, live on the family farm left to them by their mother, who died some 30 years ago. It hasn't been cleaned since. Cats roam the place and dirty clothes lie in piles. A new television set, their main link with the outside world, is simply stacked atop the one that broke.

By following Delbert over the span of a year in preparation for the trial, we see a man changing. Local ladies put on a fund-raising dinner for him, dance with him, and pack the courtroom during the trial. A lighted sign outside a local restaurant keeps drivers updated on trial results while just below it reads "Pork and Ham Dinners $3.99."

And while it is sometimes hard to tell "the boys" apart beneath their shaggy gray beards and baseball caps (and harder yet to understand what the heck they're saying), the movie paints vivid portraits of all three. Perhaps the most unforgettable sequence shows brother Lyman (by his own account "the nervous one") shaking, almost dying of fright on the witness stand.

Long after the jurors read the verdict the lingering question remains: Did Delbert really slay his brother? Ultimately, this grows less important than the question of whether or not the justice system is suited to handle a case as delicate and extraordinary as this.

Spartans' Groulx stars

ivonia Stevenson, sparked by goalie Karen Groulx, pulled off a 2-0 girls soccer victory over visiting Plymouth Salem in a battle of perennial state powers.

Groulx made 12 saves for the young Spartans, now 2-0 overall.

"Karen played an absolutely tremendous game," Stevenson coach Mary Kay Hussey said. She made five very major saves, game-securing

Sophomore Laura Fedrigo had a goal and an assist for the winners. Sophomore Rola Khoury also scored, while sophomore Misty Heath contributed an aggist Livonia Franklin evened its overall season record at 1-1 with a wild 6-5 victory Wednesday at North Farmington.

Freshman Sarah Quellette paced the Patriots with three goals. Lisa DeShano tallied the gamewinner with 10 minutes to play.

DeShano, Lesley McDougall and Lenay Truchan each had a goal and two assists. Ali Lord led North with three goals.

Chargers, Northville deadlock

The high school girls soccer season kicked off last week with two Western Lakes Activities Association rivals meeting in an early showdown. Livonia Churchill and Northville tied.

By BRAD EMONS

Something gained, nothing lost.

That was the story Wednesday as two of the state's top girls soccer teams, Livonia Churchill and Northville, battled to a 1-1 draw in a season-opening showdown. It was the third straight tie between the two schools over the past two seasons.

But more importantly, coaches Nick O'Shea (Churchill) and Bobby Paul (Northville) learned a great deal about their young teams on a mild spring evening at Churchill.

"Overall I'm pleased," O'Shea said. "We had quite a few chances. I was more excited than worried about the way we played.'

Northville, which had only two outdoor practices coming into the match, needed a sliding save by keeper Jessica Jones with 36 seconds left to preserve the tie.

Churchill's Kerri Verardi appeared to have a clear shot into the net, but Jones quickly cut down the angle and gobbled up the ball.

"It was definitely a game of momentum swings," Paul said. "They had it in the beginning, we kind of had it in the middle, and they had it at the end again.

"Nick plays a unique style of soccer. It's not our forte. It's a highpressure, long-ball game. But we were ready for it. We practiced against it."

Churchill's Andrea Zawislak struck first with 26:56 left in the first half, but Northville's Krista Howe answered with a goal with 4:23 to go.

During the opening half, Churchill goalie Sarah Fabirkiewicz stopped Renee Androsian on a breakaway, while Jones denied Aimee Cousino from point-blank range off a corner kick from Zawislak.

"Jessica is the Michigan representative for her ODP (Olympic Development) team, " Paul said. "As she gets tested more, she will continue shine again.'

Churchill, meanwhile, also has an outstanding talent in Cousino, a junior midfielder. She headed Friday for Europe to compete with the Region II Under-18 ODP squad.

"She won't miss anything with us," O'Shea said. "I love my players getting a chance to play against quality competition. It makes her better playing against better players."

Northville's Katie Kohl had the unenviable task of keeping Cousino in check.

"She a tough assignment," Paul said. "I was proud of the way she played and also with the play of Angie Snyder.'

Snyder's job was to stop speedy Churchill freshman winger Marie Spaccarotella.

"We knew she (Spaccarotella) scored three goals in a scrimmage against Brighton and Angie did a phenomenal job of shutting her down," Paul said.

Churchill made several offensive charges in the second half, but couldn't score the go-ahead goal.

'We had six or seven shots go over the top, obviously we need more shooting practice," O'Shea said. "But we were aggressive and had some good runners going through.' O'Shea also experimented with his lineup, moving veteran defender Danielle Priebe to midfield. "My only disappointment is that we couldn't keep her up," the Churchill coach said. "We didn't play well for about an eight-minute span and that's when they scored.

"But Danielle is an outstanding player and we'll be much better off if we can get her up. If we can afford to do that, we'll do it again."

Up and away: Churchill's Janice Tomaszewski (right) and Northville's Heather Huizing try and zero in during Wednesday's Western Lakes Activities Association soccer battle.

hio State escapes Madonna

One thing is imperative when playing baseball for Madonna University coach Mike George: You can't afford to get down.

He wouldn't let you, anyway.

George is the kind of coach who believes every possible date should be filled. Combine, his attitude with Michigan weather, and you get a season that lasts a little more than a month with double-headers six days a week (at least).

That's why letdowns can't be allowed. Get down for a moment, and you're mired in a six-game losing streak (in just a three-day span).

George is well aware of this. Which is why he searches for something positive in every outing.

Example: Last Wednesday and Thursday, Madonna played three games — one at Ohio State Wednesday, and a double-header at home against Northwood University Thursday. The Crusaders lost two of those three. Was George unhappy?

"Not at all," he answered. "The guys did a good job, they just couldn't finish it. The guys have done a good job all year, really. The record doesn't necessarily show it.'

Maybe it's not quite as good as George would like, but the record's not bad: 15-8 overall, 3-1 in NAIA

The 11-10 loss in 10 innings Wednesday at Ohio State had George's juices flowing. "We had our chances to win the ball game," said. "One base hit here, one base hit there, and it's a different ball game.

"It was a thrill. It was fun going down there. I'll tell you, I think we earned their respect.'

Madonna led 6-0 going into the bottom of the fourth and was still clinging to a 10-7 advantage entering the bottom of the ninth. But with one out, the Buckeyes' Todd Jones clubbed a game-tying three-run homer off Madonna reliever T.C. Raptis to force extra innings.

In the 10th, OSU's Bill Marsh singled, stole second and scored the game-winner on Mike Repasky's base

The Crusaders collected 18 hits in the game, but left 10 men on base and managed to score just once after loading the bases with none out in the seventh. Madonna's assault was led by

Craig Overaitis (Livonia Franklin), who was 4-for-4 with two runs batted in, and Bill Terski, who had three hits and four RBI. Jim Solak had three hits, and Jeff Pendell (Livonia Churchill). Jeff Miller and Rich Roy (Livonia Clarenceville) contributed two hits apiece. with Pendell and Miller each scoring twice. Joe Brusseau (Redford Bishop Borgess) added a hit and two RBI.

Jeff Kugelman (Plymouth Canton) started and lasted six innings, giving up five runs on seven hits and three walks, striking out four. Raptis relieved and took the loss, surrendering six runs on six hits and a walk in 31/2 innings.

Overaitis powered Madonna past Northwood in Thursday's first game, slamming a pair of two-run homers in the 7-2 triumph at Madonna University Park. The Crusaders scored three times in the first, two coming home on Shaun Hayward's double. Hayward was plated by Terski, who singled. Hayward, Brusseau, Pendell and Overaitis each had two hits in the game. Overaitis homered in the third and fifth innings. Sophomore righthander Ryan Gra-betz was the beneficiary for Madonna. He went the distance to improve to 2-0, stopping the Northmen on three hits and two walks, striking out five. Rick Bush took the loss, allowing seven runs on 10 hits and two walks.

In Thursday's second game against Northwood, the Crusaders couldn't get their offense in gear against senior righthander Ron Roth and it cost them a 3-2 defeat.

Roth held Madonna at bay, allowing six hits and three walks, striking out four. The only runs scored against him came in the fourth. Pendell was hit by a pitch and Miller slugged a two-run homer.

Rough opener

Trenton staves off Wayne Memorial bid, 7-6

Trenton spoiled Wayne Memorial's baseball opener Wednesday, pulling out a a 7-6 Wolverine A League triumph.

J.J. Putz worked all seven innings for visiting Trenton (2-2), allowing nine hits and three walks. Wayne jumped out to a 5-0 first-inning advantage on a two-run double by Dave Hemry, a two-run double by Phil Snow and an RBI triple by The Trojans, however, pecked away, scoring one run each in the second and third innings. They added three in the fifth, one in the sixth and one in the seventh. Trailing 7-5 entering the bottom of the seventh, Wayne pulled to within one run on a double by

Jason Overton and a triple by Jeff Tapp, but Putz got the final out on a strikeout. Hemry, a senior right-hander, worked the first three innings for Wayne. He allowed four hits and two earned runs. Tadd Kempainen, charged with the loss, went 21/2 innings, allowing four earned runs on three hits.

and Snow allowed one run in the seventh.

Snow collected three of Wayne's nine hits. He went 3-for-3 with a double and two RBI. Chris Moore also had two hits.

Rob Olszewski, who reached base safely four times for Trenton, went 2-for-2, including a double, with two RBI. Glenn Pendell also collected

■ W.L. WESTERN 7, STEVENSON 1: Walled Lake Western spoiled Mike Keller's debut Wednesday as Livonia Steven-

Winning pitcher Andy Nicholas, who worked the first five innings, combined with reliever Dave Watkins for the visiting Warriors.

J.J. Rarog, who started for Stevenson, took the loss. In 244 innings, Rarog gave up five hits and five earned runs. Junior Chris Chichila finished up, allowing two doubles and two earned runs in 4% innings.

Bob Drummond, who knocked in Stevenson's only run, went 2-for-8 along with teammate Chris Kondogiani.

Zach Budden led Western with two hits, including a dou-'We did a pretty good job defensively, we didn't have any

Jeremy Cox pitched to one batter in the sixth errors, but it was more mental mistakes," Keller said. "We just didn't get the bats going at the right time.'

> REDFORD CC 9-10, U-D JESUIT 0-1: The Shamrocks opened the Catholic League Central Division Wednesday in impressive fashion at the University of Detroit-Jesuit.

> The Shamrocks won the first game 9-0 and the second game was suspended after five innings because of darkness > with CC ahead 10-1. Senior right-hander Brian Paluk won the first game with complete-game two-hitter. Paluk struck out nine and walked three.

> The Shamrocks gave Paluk an early 6-0 lead with four runs in the first and two in the second. Mike Brusseau was 2-for-4 with two runs scored. Brian Hicks had two hits, a sacrifice fly and two RBI. Juan Sanchez had three RBI on a single and sacrifice fly and Jerry Nozewski doubled.

> Left hander Dave Susalla allowed three hits and struck out eight with two walks before the nightcap was halted. The Shamrocks benefitted from 14 U-D walks and Aaron Bables and Paluk collected two hits each. Paluk had three RBI and Babicz added two RBI.

Justice scored two runs and drove in a pair with a double. The Shamrocks started the season on Tuesday with an 11-1 victory over Bloomfield Hills Labser.

Lady Crusaders sweep pair

Maybe the corner has been turned.

Couldn't have come too soon, either, for Madonna University's softball team. The Lady Crusaders were burdened with a six-game losing streak entering Wednesday's double-header against NAIA District 23 foe Tri-State University. The last two in that streak had come against Northwood University. which swept Madonna's district-opening games Tuesday, 6-2 and 7-6.

That magnified the importance of the Tri-State twin bill. A split wouldn't be enough; the Crusaders would have been saddled with a 1-3 district record, with all four games at home.

worries. Madonna bounced back from first-inning MADONNA deficits in each game to beat Tri-State twice, 5-2 and 14-9, at Massey Field in Plymouth.

Dawn Terrasi allowed just one earned run on five hits and a walk (with four strikeouts) in the opener. Tri-State bunched three of their hits with an error to score twice in the first.

Madonna tied it in the second on a two-run double by Lynda Weichel, scoring Jill Burt and Holly Jondro, who reached base on singles. The Crusaders went in front in the third, the two-run rally starting with a double by Michelle Birchmeier (Redford Thurston). Birchmeier scored when Tracy Parenti reached base on an error.

An error on Weichel's grounder brought home the second run in the third. Geralyn Kepshire's sacrifice fly supplied an insurance run in the fifth. Jondro led Madonna's six-hit attack with Coach Dave Racer was happier with his team's overall play in the second game. "In the second game, they showed a bit more aggressiveness," he said. They've all been waiting for the other person to come through, and the other person hasn't gotten the job done."

Another annoyance: the first inning woes. According to Racer, opponents have scored in the opening inning in four of Madonna's last six games.

Tri-State did it again in the second game, getting two runs in the first and rocking Crusaders starter Kristen Wasil (Garden City) for nine runs on nine hits. But it wasn't enough; Madonna collected 13 hits and took advantage of seven Tri-State errors to score 14 times.

Burt led the attack, going 4for-4 with two runs batted in and three runs scored. Jondro had three hits, four RBI and scored twice, and Mandy and Megan Armstrong each had two hits and two runs scored.

The two wins lifted Madonna's record to 7-15 overall, 2-2 in the district, with an important double-header against Aquinas College at 3:30 p.m. today at Massey Field. Aquinas is led by pitcher Jodi Browski, the district's most valuable player last

HARRISON

A bowling tradition has come to an end, but a new one is about to begin. For many years, the Bowling Proprietors Association has sponsored a Champion of Champions tournament. This event will no longer take place.

However, a tournament under a new format called the Team Challenge will be held.

The new event is sponsored by the Bowling Centers Association (BCA) and offers a better arrangement for all league bowlers in the metro Detroit area. Under the old system, only the top three teams from each league were eligi ble, failing to cash in unless they advanced to the finals. The new system allows any team from any league within the BCA houses to enter, no matter what place the the team finishes in its league standings. Each team may be comprised of players from different teams as long as they are from the same league.

Participants must have bowled at least 36 games in the current season. Entry fee is $12 per person ($60 per team), with prizes going to the top three teams. The champion from each center advances to the finals and a chance at the $5,000 top prize.

The tournament is open to all current adult league bowlers in sanctioned or non-sanctioned leagues. Handicap will be 90 percent of the difference between team average and 1,050. Any team entering over 1,050 will be minus 90 percent

Members of the PBA or LPBT are not eligible. Check with your bowling center for the squad times, which are posted or on the counter

This is a tournament worth shooting for. You no longer have to be a league champion to participate and there is the multiple-entry; an unlimited number of teams or combinations from your league

Each in-house winner will also get recognition, with a 10-year plaque to be displayed. If you have any questions, call your local BCA center or just ask at the counter.

Big bucks for Team Challenge

■ The Western-Wayne Youth Traveling Classic League will be having its 10th annual awards banquet, April 25 at the Plymouth Elks No. 1780, from noon to 5 p.m. For information about the league, call 459-5380.

Donna Urton obtained perfection with a 300 game in the Wonderland Classic trio league at Wonderland Lanes in Livonia. Along with her 300, she rolled up a 760 series with the help of a 214 and 246. This was both her first ever 300 game and 700 series.

Double victors lift Franklin

A trio of Livonia Franklin runners figured into three firstplace finishes Wednesday to help defeat host Walled Lake Central, 93-43.

It was the season opener for the victorious Patriots.

Lee Devers won the 1.600-meter run in 4:57.7 and the 3,200 run in 10:42.1. He also led off the victorious 3,200 relay team including Dave Babb, Dennis Hall and Mark Derrick, finishing in 9:09.4.

Steve McInally captured the 110 hurdles (17.3) and the 300 hurdles (44.2). He also contributed to the winning 1,600 relay quartet including Dave Erickson, Darrel Harrison and Jamie Sewruk (3:51.7).

P.J. Curtis took the 100 dash (12.2) and 200 dash (24.8). He also anchored the 400 relay team with Harrison, Mike Gehrke and Ron Troia (48.8).

Other Franklin winners included: Kurt Godfrey, discus (104 feet, 2 inches); John Moor, pole vault (10-0); Sewruk, 400 run (55.4); and Derrick, 800 run (2:15.3). Salem outruns Chargers drak won the 100 dash in 11.6 and 200 dash in 24.1, but the Chargers lost Wednesday to host Plymouth Salem, 87-49.

Livonia Churchill's Derek Ba-

Other Churchill winners included: Aaron Dusso, shot put (48-3) and discus (133-4); Darrell Wiacek, high jump (5-3); Greg Koehler, pole vault (11-6).

Derek Cudini won three events for Salem: 100 dash (11.6), 200 dash (24.1) and he led off the 3,200 relay team.

Canton defeats Rockets

Chris Vanderburgh figured in two wins, but Westland John Glenn (0-2) fell Wednesday to visiting Plymouth Canton, 76-56.

Vanderburgh captured the high jump (6-2) and anchored the victorious 1,600 relay team which also included Jason Crosby, Shamar Lott and Bob Lulek. The team outlasted Salem by a second, finishing in 3:39.

Other Glenn winners included:

Harrison defeats Stevenson

Scott Creehan, Matt Syverson and Don MacKenzie each won two events Wednesday for host Livonia Stevenson, but the Spartans (1-1) lost to Farmington Harrison, 87-49.

Creehan finished first in the 800 run (2:11) and the 1,600 run (4:46.0). Syverson won the long jump (19-101/2) and the high jump (5-10). Mackenzie captured the 100 hurdles (15.6) and 200 dash

Other Stevenson winners included Cliff Mickelson in the pole vault (10-6), along with 1,600 relay team of Jeff Buckler, Ned Snow, Tony D'Aristotle and Eric Bohn (4:00.94).

Fischer, Smith spark Patriots' win

Erin Fischer and Carrie Smith each figured in two wins as Livonia Franklin gained a seasonopening 88-36 girls track triumph Wednesday over visiting Walled Lake Central.

Fischer took the 100-meter dash in 14.1 and the 200 (31.4). She also led off the victorious 800 relay team, which included Sue Barone, Jessica Brothers and Smith (2:07.28). Franklin won both hurdle events: Dawn Derda in the 100

(19.8) and Mary Brumwell in the 300 (62.3). Other Franklin winners include: Tracy Morency, discus (79-8%); Cindy Foreman, high jump (3-11); Leah Morski, long jump (14-3); Dawn Hunt, 400 run (1:16.10); Sarah Brady, 1,600 run (6:08); Lee-Ann Harrigan, 3,200
