School buses out, parents' cars in

Some mothers were unhappy campers as they drove their Glenn High students to school. But the teens were warned that they will have to carpool or find another way to get to school in the wake of secondary schools' transportation being eliminated this year.

BY BARBARA WILSON witho STAFF WRITER buses

A parade of cars ranging from Jaguars to pickup trucks gradually made their way to John Glenn High School as parents, students, faculty and administrators began the school year without junior high and secondary buses. The 1993-94 school year began Wednesday at 11:20 a.m. at John Glenn with junior high start times later in the day.

Due to financial problems, school officials eliminated buses for junior high and high school students making it the students' own responsibility to get to the classroom.

Busing was dropped in the wake of voters' rejection of a major property tax increase five months ago. Anothermillage election is scheduled for Monday, Oct. 18.

One mom summed up the feelings of many as she waited in line to deposit her child at Stevenson Junior High School, "I'm not a happy camper."

"It really went pretty well for the first day," said Glenn principal Dennis Connolly.

School counselors Peter Murphy and Bill Solomon, posted outside the school, expected to see quite a show as parents lined up to drop off students, but they were pleasantly surprised.

"We had planned to set up lawn chairs," Murphy said. "We thought it would be much worse."

N. Wayne Road. The program will be shown on Channel 8 for cable-TV subscribers through Friday.

A second candidates' forum — to be cablecast live — is scheduled for this week. The six will be interviewed by local newspaper staff members at the Westland cable studio.

The second forum was agreed to by Diane Abbott, the city's cable manager, after she received a letter from candidates Charles Pickering and Kenneth Mehl.

• In a letter dated Wednesday, the two councilmen said they are declining Abbott's invitation for each candidate to tape a 10-minute video for later viewing.

The two said that "this type of cablecasting is political advertising being paid for at the expense of the taxpayers of our community and we are opposed to air time of this nature."

They also wanted a live debate scheduled for either Wednesday or Thursday without audience participation.

Abbott told the Observer Thursday that she is working out the logistics for the debate but didn't determine which date it would be. Six candidates are campaigning for the two nominations in the Tuesday, Sept. 14, primary. The top two votegetters will advance to the Nov. 2 general election. Among the highlights of the candidates' forum were: Mehl, 12-year councilman running for mayor for the first time, said he wouldn't retain Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek as seniors' resource director, saying that "a change is due and overdue." He added that, if elected, he would keep the seniors' Friendship Center open but expand its service city-wide. Mayor Robert Thomas, seeking a second four-year term, said "I don't have a problem" in mayoral-council relations, pointing out that he has issued only three or four vetoes, compared to 20 like one of his predecessors. "There is always some friction but that is part of the checks and balances." he added.

Scholarship program

A Voice of Democracy scholarship program is again being sponsored this year by Harris-Kehrer VFW Post 3323 and its women's auxiliary. Commander Frank Skrumbellos announced that students may enter their audio-taped essay competition. National winners will receive a $20,000 scholarship and a trip to Washington, D.C. All state winners will spend five days in the capital for the national competition. High school students may write and record a three- to five-minute audio essay expressing their views on "My Commitment to America." The VFW will ultimately award $88,500 in scholarships.

Shower gifts

Residents of the Liberty Park senior citizens' apartment complex recently held a mock "baby shower" to collect gifts for local charities. The residents were responding to a plea from the Red Cross and Salvation Army to help Midwest flood victims. Residents donated food, money, household items, rugs and cleaning fluids.

Schools lose $5 million in aid from Lansing

The Wayne-Westland school district will lose $5 million in state money under the just-approved state aid act.

2A(W)

Figures released as part of the state Legislature conference report indicate that state contributions to the district will drop from $40.9 million in the past school year to $35.8 million for this year, a cut of 11.8 percent.

Wayne-Westland officials have yet to calculate the impact of the legislation, which was approved late Tuesday night.

Early Thursday, before figures were released, school chief fiscal officer Randy Liepa expressed optimism about the legislation. From early reports he believed the legislation would have a positive impact.

School officials are still eyeing all aspects of the legislation and are withholding further opinions until all the information is in.

Recapturing money from richer districts for specially funded programs, such as transportation, will increase 20 percent.

"It's certainly not a cure-all to the district's problems," Liepa sáid.

The new plan will affect adult education by altering the way districts count enrollment, and by funding only 80 percent of the program.

Recapturing money from richer districts for specially funded programs, such as transportation, will increase 20 percent.

Federal insurance contributions, which used to be paid entirely by the state, will be picked up in part by local districts. Low-valuation districts will pay 25 percent of the cost and high-valuation districts will pay 75 percent.

The state will continue to pick up 95 percent of the retirement costs and tax-base sharing was repealed.

Liepa said thad news from Lansing comes just six weeks before an Oct. 18 special election at which the board of education is asking voters to approve a 6-mill property tax increase. If approved, it would mean an additional $180 in property taxes for a homeowner with a $60,000 house. The levy would replace a 7.75-mill levy which expired June 30. State Sen. William Faust, D-Westland, and Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, were excused from the session Tuesday night and didn't vote on the compromise package.

Hero returns from Somalia

BY BARBARA WILSON STAFF WRITER

From the time he was 14 and hunting in the woods, Westland's Nicholas Smith seemed to know when circumstances called for action and was prepared to take action

His parents, Bud and Sharon, were proud of him then and they're proud of him now.

Marine Lance Cpl. Nicholas Smith, 21, is the recipient of the Navy Achievement Medal for bravery for his quick thinking in a Somali marketplace leading to the successful return of his team to its base.

Smith was home on a 14-day leave recently relaxing with his family after a six-month mission that took him to Saudi Arabia, Somalia, Kuwait and resort cities in France and Spain.

We never dreamed he was right in Mogadishu," Sharon Smith said. "We just thought he was part of a peacekeeping mission and wouldn't be in any danger.

Smith, a 1990 graduate of John Glenn High School, was aboard the amphibious assault carrier USS Wasp as 2,200 troops were sent to Somalia to secure the area and strip the Somalis of weapons. His unit landed sometime in March.

"It wasn't as bad when we got there," Smith said. "Most of the weapons had been confiscated. We were seeing more knives and swords and that kind of thing.'

Smith, who also served in Desert Storm, said the Somalia expedition was more tense as sniper fire could come from any corner of the city.

'In Saudi, you could be 18 miles away from the artillery, but Somalia was urban warfare - the most dangerous kind of warfare there is. You were never off your guard," Smith said.

Smith earned the Achievement Medal when his fire team (four men) was on the second level of the Somali marketplace and was scheduled to be relieved. Smith sent a man to the fourth level of the market to make contact with another unit stationed there, but found that the unit had already pulled out.

"I couldn't believe that we had been left there," Smith said. "I made a decision to move back to our base.'

Without a compass, a map or radio, Smith led his team through a two-kilometer maze of Somali streets and sniper fire to make their way back to the base.

"The Navy Achievement Medal is not awarded very often, but in a case like this Nick really stood out," said Sgt. Tim Smith, a Marine recruiter based in Ypsilanti and friend of Smith.

The Westland marine joined the service in 1989 as part of the delayed entry program. After high school graduation, he reported to boot camp and completed training Dec. 20, 1990.

"He wasn't allowed to come home that Christmas and on Christmas Day he received word that he was going to Saudi Arabia on the 26th," Bud Smith said.

Nicholas Smith

"There wasn't much fear about going to Saudi," Smith said. "It just felt like more training."

Smith said his time in the Marines has been educational. He's glad he enlisted, but when his time is up in May 1994 he will not re-enlist.

He hopes to go to school and study law enforcement. "We talked about it when he enlisted and I said I wanted him to follow up on his education at some point," Bud Smith said.

Because of future downsizing of the military, there will be fewer career servicemen and women and fewer options for remaining in the service for any length of time.

Smith said he is anxious to start out in a new field and he will go wherever the job or school takes him. For now, however, he has reported back to Camp Le-Jeune, N.C.

Livonia schools also lose big

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STAFF WRITER

The Livonia school district, which includes the northern section of Westland, will take a big financial hit this year.

School officials found out Wednesday how bad finances will be for the coming year.

The new state cuts come just two months after the Livonia district slashed $8.7 million from its current school year budget.

"It doesn't appear at this time that we'll have to make any deeper cuts than those already made," said Superintendent Joseph Marinelli after an initial analysis of the 135-page state school aid bill. "There won't be any greater cuts, but right now we don't know how much less there will be.'

A major impact of the new state aid act comes from cutbacks in the amount of money the state pays in Social Security contributions for school employees.

Livonia will lose another $2.6 million in those payments, which means the district now will pay $4.5 million of the $6 million bill.

Until now, the state paid all Social Security costs for all districts. It then curtailed payments for more affluent districts such as Livonia.

The district expected the cutback would continue this year and at one time had even feared the worst — that the state would stick Livonia with the total $6 million bill.

"The bill increases the state's Robin Hood tactics by reducing its obligation to FICA. We have to get away from this in this state. It creates instability and unpredictability."

In the new state school aid act lawmakers passed Tuesday, the state will pay less in Social Security costs for districts that are lower on the income scale than affluent Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills.

district voters approved last week will help offset next year's $8.7 million in budget cuts, Marinelli said. That leaves $5.5 million in cuts that have to be made, he said.

The $3.2 million generated by the millage will specifically be used for middle and high school sports and extracurricular activities and for certain elementary programs, Marinelli said. "There's no way the state can owned vehicles applies to everyone: adult education students, school trustees, workmen, construction crews, even tenants who lease school space.

The ban, signed into law by Gov. John Engler this month, comes in the wake of a recent Environmental Protection Agency ruling which classified secondhand smoke a Class A carcinogen.

"The law is clear; we will enforce these new rules to the letter," said John Rennels, assistant superintendent for personnel for Livonia Public Schools which serves the northern section of Westland.

Engler said the new law gives students a "positive, healthy environment in which to learn.

It also, he said, gives nonsmoking adults the chance to be while on school grounds. The law makes using tobacco products on school property a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than $50.

Smoking by adults will be allowed on school grounds (but not in buildings) after 6 p.m. on school days. Adult smoking also will be allowed out-of-doors on school grounds on weekends and holidays. School grounds include outdoor areas, parking lots and stadiums.

The law is so strict it even bans parents from smoking in their own cars on school grounds before 6 p.m.

Right now, districts are sending letters outlining the law to all employees and substitute teachers, whether they smoke or not.

Construction crews also are being notified that, after Sept. 1, they must walk off the school grounds if they want to smoke during the school day.

By the time school starts, signs should be up in schools declaring them to be smoke-free.

Administrators admit the new law will be a hardship for some people. "It's difficult to stop something someone is addicted to," Rennels said.

Districts will direct smokers who wish to quit to such organiza? tions as St. Mary Hospital, the American Lung Association or wellness classes.

Teachers now can't smoke in classrooms, but they can smoke in specially-designated areas within the school building. The law takes precedence over all union contracts which spell out those areas.

In Livonia Public Schools, smoking areas will be converted to other uses, Rennels said.

Smoker reaction to the new law generally fall into two categories, he said. There are those who have tried to quit, and maybe now will do so because of the extra pressure, he said.

	WESTLA	ND MAYORAL ELECTION	P The carried and a state is a shorter.	Perchanter and
N	This is a primary electio ov. 2 election. The winne	on and the top two vote-getters will advance to the or will get a four-year term. The primary is Sept. 14.	What would you do as mayor to actives the deciveling surplus?
	Candidate: Kenneth Mehl, 46, has lived in Westland for 24 years	Employment: Senior product engineer, General Motors Powertrain Education: Bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering, Lawrence Tech Civic activities: Current city council member, Westland festival 25th anniversary co-chairman, Dad's Athletic Club, Westland Youth, Boy Scouts, Junior Achievement, adult softball Wayne-Ford Civic League	Mehl, who regularly questions the Thomas administra- tion's spending, said money could be saved in the area of purchasing. The city, like any business, must seek cost-saving measures, he said. Otherwise, "I'm not sure there's a way to generate new funds unless you come up with new programs," he said.	"I'm not sure. I don't see how anybody can (know) unless they have a magic wand." But he did say the cir should seek reasonable contracts with unions that cou help to avert the need for higher taxes.
	Candidate: Doug Noel, 43, has lived in Westland for 30 years	Employment: Tax specialist, Internal Revenue Service Education: Bachelor of arts, Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Ill: Civic activities: Proponent of Westland homeless shelter, involved in aid for flood victims	With a reduced surplus, the city should look at departments that overlap and under-perform, and streamline them "so you don't have workers sitting idle," he said. The city also should seek input from its unions, instead of commanding them, and let them become more involved in the decision-making process.	"You can't predict the future, (but) I will make every effort to make sure that that does not happen. People are strapped right now."
	Candidate: Charles Pickering, 50, has lived in Westland 22 years	Employment: Real estate broker, Remerica Pickering & Associates. Education: Bachelor's degree in-parks and recreation administration, Wayne State University. Civic activities: Mayor 1982-86, current city council member, Westland Chamber of Commerce, Westland Jaycees, Westland festival, Goodfellows, Breakfast Lions, Dad's Athletic Club, Wayne-Westland Junior Miss Inc.	The city should continue to develop its tax base and look at developing a five-year plan, Pickering said. He noted that the surplus has shrunk because of new hires in the police and fire departments, and that the state's decision to slash school property taxes could also have an impact on the city's budget.	 "I certainly don't see a need for an increase in the operating millage," Pickering said. The city has some unknowns, however, such as the effects of the state Headlee Amendment, which rolls back taxes, and changes in the state-equalized valuation of local properties.
	Candidate: Kenneth Raupp, 47, has lived in . Westland his entire life	Employment: Ford Motor Co. test technician, engine development. Education: Attended Wayne County Community College and is working toward degree in electrical engineering. Civic activities: Citizens Against Government Waste, vol- unteer chess instructor at Adams Junior High	"I would privatize all services in the city, and there would be plenty of money," Raupp said. He said the city could realize savings of 50 percent in many areas.	"No. We can go the other way," Raupp said, indicating support for a tax reduction.
	Candidate: Louis Telerico Jr., 27, has lived in Westland since just before he turned 1 year old	Employment: Rüns an electrical construction company Education: John Glenn High School graduate, also attended some classes at Henry Ford Community College and some courses on business management through Garden City Adult Education Civic activities: Donated electrical labor and parts to the Westland Fire House	Telerico said he doesn't believe the shrinking surplus will continue to be a problem because city departments, particularly the police and fire departments, already have most of the new equipment they need.	"That would be something that would have to be looke into," Telerico said, but added that he would first "cut the fat" from the city budget. "There's a lot of dead weight that needs to be addressed." Among the cuts: Halting the police department's bike patrol, which he said is not as pressing as having patrol cars in neigh- borhoods.
	Candidate: Robert Thomas, 42, has lived in Westland for 30 years	Employment: Mayor of Westland Education: 1968 graduate of Wayne Memorial High School Civic activities: Thomas listed none on questionnaire	The current budget is not using any of the city's surplus, which has been projected at $2 million under the current budget, Thomas said. The budget, in fact, is $234 less than it was a year ago. With these moves and with continuing efforts to plan ahead, the city should be able to keep the surplus from dwindling, Thomas said.	Thomas said citizens deserve an honest answer and that "I will go on record" saying he sees no need for a increase in the city operating millage in the next four years. The only possible millage increase, he noted, would be for a library, and he has said the increase should be no more than a half-mill.

Council president Pickering, who was mayor from 1982-85, said he made mistakes in his first term but he had balanced budgets, good programs, and initiated the first Tax Increment Finance Authority program to finance public improvements in his last months in office. After his mayoral defeated in late 1985, "I stayed involved" in city government and gained experience on the city

A second candidates' forum ---- to be cablecast live — is scheduled for this week. The six will be Interviewed by local newspaper staff members at the Westland cable studio.

The problem has been raised by the city's auditing firm for several years. The problem "must be addressed as it is getting worse."

The councilman, whose term expires Dec. 31, claimed he and Pickering were not involved in a recent political flier critical of the mayor

Pickering declined an offer from the governmental cable-TV channel director to have each mayoral candidate make a 10minute tape of their candidacy He preferred a live, unedited group forum.

METRO COMMUNICATIONS

Kenneth Raupp reiterated past statements that city spending is too high and city services should be privatized. He said his program would result in "tremendous tax savings" and provide more local control of city spending. He was also the only candidate at the forum to oppose an independent city library, an issue the mayor and council will be dealing with in upcoming months and next year.

Douglas Noel emphasized his problem-solving and educational background to improve the job skills of city employees, using a "trust and lead" approach. He would also encourage economic development through new businesses sharing space to control costs. On council relations, Noel said he would, if elected, work for a consensus and "work hand-in-hand with the council for the improvement of the city." Candidate Louis Telerico wasn't at the forum, attended by mostly Thomas supporters, based on the applause of the mayor and boos directed to some of his opponents.

On other issues, Pickering said while he would support the continued operation of the seniors' Friendship Center, now funded by federal community development dollars, another source of money should be sought in case the federal dollars aren't provided.

Mehl said the administration, not the council, is responsible for controlling the ongoing loss of water through water system leaks.

Commenting on his lack of experience in city government, Noel pointed out he has lived in Westland 30 years. On specific issues, Noel said a new library is his first priority. He also wants a "real" recycling program; have the city's cable contractor's rates and services reviewed and develop a community theater program.

Raupp said the city's current $30 million budget, municipal employees' salaries and fringe benefits for administrators are too high. "We should cut the waste (out of city government) and have a higher efficiency." He favored a "bare bones" government with the frills and fat eliminated. He also favors a part-time mayor position.

Murder trial to resume

The preliminary examination for Westland resident Robert Miguel, 42, on second-degree murder will resume in 18th District Court at 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

The hearing was ended early by Judge C. Charles Bokos when the medical examiner, a witness for the prosecution, failed to appear.

Miguel was charged with second-degree murder and felony firearm for allegedly gunning down 25-year-old Robert John of Westland outside home on Wayne Road north of Ford on Aug. 21.

III Three shots were fired, with one hitting John in the chest, killing him.

The victim's father. Tommy John, testified Thursday afternoon at the preliminary examination. He said that there had been an argument between the two men earlier in Garden City and then John went to Miguel's house.

Three shots were fired, with one hitting John in the chest, killing him.

Miguel remains in police custody in lieu of a $150,000 cash bond.

After hearing testimony Thursday, the judge will rule if there is enough evidence to bind Miguel over for trial. If convicted of second-degree murder, Miguel could serve up to life in prison. Felony firearm carries a mandatory sentence of at least two years in jail.

about 11:05 a.m. For a short time, there was a bit of a line from the north on Wayne Road, but it was quickly cleared as Westland police officers helped direct traffic into the school parking lots.

The officers will be available for the first two weeks of school, according to Connolly, and they will study the traffic flow during that time.

The mix of students driving and those being dropped off by parents or friends was evenly mixed Wednesday at the high school.

Sophomore Kevin Kossel said his mother is planning to drive him to school every day and she's not very happy about the situation.

Other students said their parents gave them a lift for the first day, but said they would use foot power or would find rides with classmates for the balance of the school year.

Only a few students questioned were participating in a carpool arrangement with neighbors. Newly appointed assistant principal Sherry Downs said she hopes more students will take advantage of carpooling. There is also talk of designing an informational bulletin board for students interested in sharing rides.

The bicycle rack at the high school was a little fuller than usual, but students weren't sure if that was a trend because of the lack of busing or if it was just a nice day so kids decided to bike to school.

Students driving their own cars are required to have a permit which was made available for $3. There are 564 student parking spaces, Connolly said, and there are still student permits available.

"We rationed out the permits making them available first to those students who would have been bused last year," Connolly said.

The junior high school traffic was a little more backed up because none of the students are eligible to drive themselves and the traffic in the afternoon was a little more heavy at all the schools.

"In the afternoon everyone is leaving at the same moment while morning arrivals are staggered," said Gary Dell, the district's associate superintendent for information services. "I think it went as well as we can expect, however."

School officials were scheduled to meet with Westland and city of Wayne traffic police officers last week to study how things worked the first few days of school and to consider some adjustments.

Dell said of specific concern will be the placement of crossing guards at intersections which wouldn't normally be used by students walking to school to ease the flow of traffic through the junior high parking lots.

Parade goes by: Police Sgt. Pete Brokas directs traffic into John Glenn High School Wednesday. The police in Westland and Wayne will monitor traffic flow in and out of the high schools and junior highs during the next two weeks. Busing for the schools has been eliminated because of budget shortfalls.

No buses means $4\frac{1}{2}$ mile walk

While some parents have resigned themselves to driving their children to school every day, others are still waging a battle to restore busing to the districts.

Debbie Tapp's daughter attends Stevenson Junior High School, on Palmer near Hix, in the city's southwest corner.

Without a school bus, she'll have to walk 4½ miles along an unlit Newburgh, without sidewalks, to get to school.

Tapp works early and is unable to get her daughter to school and arrive at work on time in the mornings.

"I had to be late to work today to get my daughter to school," Tapp said. She drove her daughter to the first day of school Wednesday, a half-day of classes. In driving her to Stevenson the next day, Tapp was late for work.

Tapp investigated having her daughter transferred to Marshall, south of Cherry Hill and east of Wayne Road, so she could car pool with a friend. School district officials said no.

"I was told that if we parents did our job and approved millages then the schools would be in this trouble," Tapp said. "I said if the school board was more interested in the children than lining their own pockets then we wouldn't have to be asked to approve millages."

Secondary school bus was eliminated by the board in the wake of a millage rate increase being rejected by voters last April 5.

Another tax rate proposal is on the Oct. 18 special election ballot.

Tapp is interested in proposing a plan similar to that adopted in Wyandotte. That district cut classes down to four days a week and restored busing and other programs.

She hopes to work with other parents who have similar problems and urges them to call her during the evenings at 728-4515.

"I'm prepared to get out and hoof it to talk with residents," Tapp said.

Proposed bill will close immunization loopholes

Parents will have fewer alibis for failing to have their children immunized against contagious diseases under a bill in the Michigan House of Representatives.

Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, sponsored the measure aimed at closing a loophole that allowed 1,800 schoolage children to skip their shots last year.

It was reported last week out of the House Public Health Committee chaired by Rep. John Jamian, R-Bloomfield Township.

"Parents who deny youngsters this preventive care without a

Currently, parents may refuse immunization on medical, relig-ious or "other" grounds; about one percent opt out. Bankes' bill would limit exemptions to religious objections and medical reasons verified in writing by a physician.

Women get more toilets with new law

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

New stadiums and theaters will have three women's toilets for every two men's under Michigan's "potty parity" law.

The state Senate last week gave final approval to a compromise that exempts restaurants with less than 150 seats and sent the bill to Gov. John Engler for signing. "At least it didn't take 10 years," said Penny Steele, who started the campaign eight years ago with a series of articles in Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

"When we walked out of that meeting with the Plumbing Board (in 1986), it looked like this would be a sloooow process," she recalfed.

Then a freelance writer, Steele raised the question hidden restrooms in public places in a feature on Wayne County parks. It led to a threepart series in March and April of 1986 on restrooms in stadiums, theaters and malls.

The Plumbing Board listened with apparent sympathy but then took no action to modify the one to one ratio of women's and men's toilets. A long legislative battle followed. Greeted with snickers at first, Steele's series of articles took a serious turn when she unearthed University of Michigan research showing women's infections and cancers were linked to "holding it."

Rep. Jan. Dolan, R-Farmington Hills, took over the project in the late 1980s with bills to raise the ratio and apply it to all building codes.

"That's sort of a textbook way it gets done - catch the eye of someone who will take it on," said Steele. She had hoped for a 2.5 to 1 ratio but called the 3 to 2 ratio an improvement. Steele said theater and mall owners should consider a high ratio "good business. They'd sell more pop if women didn't have to go dry.

"In Las Vegas they've got plenty of restrooms because they want to keep people out on the (gambling) floor, not standing in lines," she said. Today she devotes part of her time to her own business writing service, part to administration and marketing in her husband's firm, Steele Engineering in Farmington Hills.

The Senate last week approved the final version in about an hour.

'We've fiddled with this long enough," said Sen. Joanne

Emmons, R-Big Rapids, who guided the bill through the upper chamber.

Senate voting was delayed when Sen. Joe Conroy, D-Flint, insisted on knowing the precise ratio of men's and women's toilets.

"It's a different number for every kind of restaurant," Emmons finally replied. "Generalized," said Conroy,

"it looks like 60 percent for women and 40 percent for men. It's just marginally more for women to move the line along."

The bill had passed the House twice, but senators raised objections about the impact on veterans' and fraternal lodges. Senators also got a 'grandfather" clause to exempt buildings whose plans are near completion.

The Senate vote was 30 to 3.

YMCA offers parenting class

The Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, which serves Garden City and Canton Township, will soon launch its fall programs for all age groups.

The Y fall season will start Monday, Sept. 13, with brochures listing all program registration fees and schedules. Brochures are available at the Y office, 827 S. Wayne Road, where most of the activities will be held.

A new parenting program will be held Thursday nights, starting Sept. 16. The program is designed for parents of children between 2 and 15,

"The course will focus on the building blocks of self-esteem and what parents can do to foster a positive self-image in their child,' said a Y spokeswoman. "It is common knowledge that a strong, positive self-image is the best inoculation against drugs and alcohol use."

Deborah Ash, of the Y's parenting council, said the program will be held two hours a week for six weeks. Group leader will be Kathy Schmidt, a social worker with 15 years of experience working with children and families.

A new parenting program will be held Thursday nights, starting Sept. 16. The program is designed for parents of children between 2 and 15.

The purpose of the program is to allow parents to learn "active parenting" skills so they can raise responsible, cooperative and cou-rageous children, Ash said.

Topics to be covered are active parenting; instilling courage and skills.

Parents may register anytime before the first class.

Fee is $10 for Y members and $20 for program members.

In the same area, the Y will hold informational meetings during the next two weeks for persons interested in the popular Y-Indian Guide programs. The first will be at 7:30 p.m.

Monday, Sept. 13, in the Canton Township Public Library, 1200 S. Canton Center Road; followed by sessions at the Garden City Maplewood Community Center, 31735 Maplewood, at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 15; and at the Wayne-Westland Y at 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 19. unday, Sept. 19. 55 The programs are designed to involve children between 5 and 10 ^{*}and parents in fun activities on a self-esteem; creative, cooperative scheduled basis. Indian Guides children; and problem-solving are for fathers and sons; Indian Maidens for mothers and daughters; Indian Princesses for fathers and daughters; and Indian Braves for mothers and sons.

> Physical fitness programs for toning.

For preschoolers, the Y is offering parent-tot swim classes with infants as young as six months; accepted.

For elementary school-age chil-dren, the Y will sponsor a soccer program with emphasis on having. fun as well as learning fundamentals and teamwork.

There will be a gymnastics program for children between 6 and 13 and a flag football league, which will start its season on Sat-; urday, Sept. 18, and continue for; seven weeks.

POINTS OF VIEW

Ford holds forth as a real environmentalist hile many congressmen spent their summer breaks politicking, U.S. Rep. Bill Ford, D-Taylor, had different fish to fry. To be exact, it was elusive tiger muskie in Ford Lake near Ypsilanti.

Ford is mostly known to his constituents in the 13th Congressional District as the congressman who helps communities get new post offices; however, he's an avid sportsman who knows how to handle fishing rods and shotguns.

An environmentalist: Congressman William Ford, D-Taylor, sometimes shows his other side as a thoughtful environmentalist, claims columnist Jeff Counts. During a recent interview, there was a gleam in the eye of the pipe-smoking Democrat when talking about his recent days fishing on Ford Lake for that muskie.

"My brother keeps telling me they're out there and I keep trying. He's a better fisherman; he's out there more," he said, when asked if he was successful. "We did get some bass, though."

Just knowing that Ford is a sportsman makes me feel good about having him represent western Wayne County. There are things more important than the national deficit, fishing and hunting.

But there are some serious benefits to having a sportsman in Congress. They have a natural affinity for the environment, the serious environment, not the one concocted by the Sierra Club.

Ford is aware firsthand of the effect of pollution on the Great Lakes. He spends time fishing for lake trout in Lake Michigan off of Leland, near Traverse City.

He even has a recipe for smoked lake trout. "You've got to cut that layer of fat from the belly before you smoke them."

But Ford doesn't limit his angling activities to Michigan; he's also an accomplished east coast fisherman, plying the waters of Chesapeake Bay in search of bluefish.

"You've got to watch for the gulls; that's where you'll find the blues," he said. Ford talks with passion about the bay and its complex region, part freshwater and part saltwater. Also, it's controlled by both Maryland and Virginia.

"They've got a fishing dispute there that makes our Indian fishing dispute seem simple. Virginia has banned commercial fishing for the striper bass, while Maryland hasn't," he said, adding: "Telling some of those folks they can't fish is like telling people in the Upper Peninsula they can't poach deer."

Ford said that upon his return to Washington, D.C., after the August congressional break, he would head to his cottage on the Chesapeake for a weekend of dove hunting.

It's no wonder Michigan doesn't have a dove season. It's been proposed, but rejected.

Anyway, there's another benefit to having a congressman who knows his way around a shotgun. It's gun control. Banning assault rifles is one thing, but even the National Rifle Association was a bit confused about one piece of legislation that Ford said would have banned most of the semiautomatic shotguns in his gun case.

"I could help write legislation to do that without banning shotguns," he said.

Outdoing a Texas congressman: There are always plenty of stories about how one congressman outfoxes another on the House floor, but Ford has one story about telling better fish stories than a Texas congressman.

It seems Ford was with a certain Texan, fishing for steelhead on the Manistee River, when Ford started telling stories about past large catches. The Texan was aware that folks from his state tend to be seen as people who can stretch the size of a fish by more than a couple of inches, perhaps as many as 12.

Anyway, at an appropriate pause in Ford's large fish tale, the Texan said: "You boys from Michigan can sure outdo us Texans on telling those fish stories."

And those stories are the flip side of Bill Ford.

Jeff Counts is the editor of the Plymouth and Canton Observer newspapers, who finds fishing stories more interesting than inside-Washington tales. He can be reached at 459-2700.

Learn from Poletown

here are compelling reasons for retaining Tiger Baseball in Detroit. What is less compelling is virtual unlimited public financing to support a new stadium. I am reminded of the debacle of City of Detroit and site acquisition for the Poletown plant.

I would be willing to support a new stadium with some tax dollars. I would not be willing to enter into a carte blanche arrangement of unknown dimensions.

I suggest that any site acquisition/preparation agreement include a limitation on public participation and that overages be covered wholly or very substantially by the developer. To induce the developer to participate in an agreement to take on this risk, the developer must have significant control and incentives.

I propose that the county commit to a fund equal to no more than 110 percent of the agreedto appraised value of the property identified for acquisition including clearing, preparation, highway work or whatever the county commits to. The developer would then be responsible for negotiations and could draw from the fund. Incentives should be included. For example, if the developer under-spends the fund, he would get to keep a significant percentage, e.g., 50 percent. If the fund is entirely depleted before the task is complete, the developer would have to pay an established percent up to one hundred.

My prediction is that in the absence of limitations and controls, the county will be unable to obtain approval of financing to suport a new Tiger Stadium. I would support a carefully crafted plan. I will oppose any other. We must learn from Poletown.

The 10-year-old Westland resident was so impressed by the aircrafts that he wanted something of his own. Wood received free rides during the Make-A-Wish fund-raiser and special event for terminally ill children.

"It felt bumpy," he said. "I steered it too, it was fun." Wood has chronic granuloma-tous disease, which attacks his white blood cells and makes him unable to fight off bacterial and fungal infections.

His mother, Sandra Wood, said the rides made his day.

Later in the afternoon, Joseph Horton brought his 13-year-old daughter, Kara, who has Rett Syndrome, for a ride.

"Make-A-Wish sent us to Florida (Disney World) last year," he said. "And they sent us to Boblo about a month ago. We can't say enough about Make-A-Wish. Everyone else we have to fight."

Before boarding a plane on a recent Sunday afternoon, Horton said he was worried when he took his daughter to Disney World that she wouldn't like the plane ride.

"But she was laughing the whole day," he said. "She likes any kind of motion."

Wood and Horton were among a dozen youngsters with life-threatening and terminal illnesses who rode on planes and helicopters Sunday morning and afternoon at the airfield on Joy at Lilley, Canton Township, during the Annual Fly In for Make-A-Wish Foundation of Michigan. The public was invited to take rides, for a $15 donation with most of the money going to Make-A-Wish. About $1,000 was raised for the organization.

Pilots donated their time, airplanes and fuel. Some of the exorbitant costs of operating the helicopters were paid from the donations.

Health care dilemma Panelists criticize Clinton's plan

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAFF WRITER

10A *****

The panelists at U.S. Rep. Joe Knollenberg's forum on health care Monday had one big thing in common: They don't like President Bill' Clinton's gestating health care plan.

The panel spoke to a crowd of more than 350 business persons and doctors at Glen Oaks golf course in Farmington Hills.

"The federal programs we already have (Medicare, Medicaid, et. al.) are the programs that have messed up the system," said Jack Strayer, the director of federal affairs for the Council for Affordable Health Insurance, represent ing 30 health insurance companies.

"How does it help Americans to provide them health insurance and deny them jobs?" said Nancy McKeague, director of government relations for the Michigan Chamber of Commerce.

"The Clinton Administration does not believe that the marketplace will keep costs down. It's difficult to see where the market is left in 'managed competition,'" said Susan Adelman, a pediatrician and past president of the Michigan State Medical Society.

"Bureaucracy and waste go hand in hand with the federal government and health care," said Karl Albrecht, a vice president with Action Benefits Co. of

Knollenberg keeps cool

Knollenberg, a Republican who often issues press releases des nouncing Clinton Administration policies, emceçi the forum in staid, non-acerbic style, leaving the criticism to his panelists.

Adelman, who was part of a 47member Health Professionals Review Group that critiqued the work of Hillary Clinton's Health Care Task Force, probably knows more than the other three panelists what form the ultimate Clinton plan will take.

Although "it's difficult to see what's going to come out at the end of the grinder," she said, "the system I saw in Washington is a one-payer system."

Adelman anticipates a system where one or several government organizations called "health care alliances" negotiate deals with health care providers to buy insurance. "You then have one regionalized one-care system which is no different from Canada," she said. "The choice will be the choice of health care plans, not doctors."

Government's to blame

Albrecht, the insurance company vice president, said the main cause of rising health care costs is that the federal government doesn't reimburse doctors 100 percent for services provided under Medicare and Medicaid. Doctors and hospitals, he said, make up the difference by overcharging privately insured patients.

"If the federal government doesn't pay its fair share, that's going to show up in all of our premiums," he said.

Neither is Albrecht confident that the Clinton Administration will design a good plan. "They have a tendency to play games, and there's only one Joe (Knollenberg) to protect us up there," he said.

Oxymorons in Washington

McKeague, the chamber of commerce government relations director, said the term "managed competition" in health care is an oxymoron. "Business needs incentives not mandates," she said, and the Clinton Administration only "pretends to be sensitive to the needs of small business."

Strayer, the insurance industry lobbyist, said "the real problem with American health care is American people."

In the current health-care system, Strayer said, patients are like pets who don't know or care how much their medical bills are. The insurance companies are like pet owners who pay the bills. "I think it's time we become a big dog and begin controlling medical costs." he said. To that end, Strayer recommends something called a "medical IRA" that individuals would contribute before-tax income to, then use the savings to pay medical bills. Only after a certain threshold is reached (Strayer suggests $3,000) would traditional insurance kick in and pay the rest.

In essence, it's a $3,000 deductible," but individuals would be permitted to keep the medical IRA money they don't spend.

'Killing small business'

Lois Grant, who works for Realtron of Redford, liked what she heard the panelists say. Increases in the cost of health insurance are "killing small business," she said, but the Clinton plan is a no-win situation.

Rudy Gerhard is a co-owner of Viscount Industries in Farmington Hills. Viscount pays more than $10,000 a month for the health insurance of 28 employees. And if the cost keeps rising? "We either charge for it, or we make less money, or we go out of business," Gerhard said. "I hope somebody can come up with a solution."

Richard Helppie, the president of Superior Consultant Co. of Farmington Hills, joined everyone else in criticizing Clinton's plan. Rather than simplifying the system, Helppie said, the plan will add another layer of bureaucracy. "It's crazy," he said.

Just picked tomatoes luscious summer treat did something the other day that I can remember my dad, and Uncle Pete doing. I walked out to my garden when the grass was still damp from the morning dew, pinched off a seed sprout from the fresh basil, plucked the start of another obnoxious weed, and noticed a perfect red sphere of a tomato hanging singularly from a vine.

This could have been one of those "Kodak moments." It was a beautiful red globe. Beads of morning dew were still clinging to it. Instead of rushing inside for the camera, I opted, instead, to relieve the tomato from its vine.

I held it, observed its beauty and took a bite. I had never before eaten a tomato like an apple, but then never before had I felt the urge to eat a tomato right from the vine. It reminded me of a peach I had savored a few years back. The juices exploded and ran down my arm to my elbow. It was still cool on my palate, tempered from the evening's light breeze.

There was little doubt that if Daniel Webster had not defined the term "luscious" the taste sensation of this singular tomato would have caused him to coin that exact term. It was the best tomato I had ever tasted.

Tomato harvest

I have been receiving conflicting reports about household garden tomato harvests. My head swells when I report my success this year.

Could it be the composting? The mulching? The ever-present weeding? God only knows, but I give reaffirming thanks to whomever for whatever I did. This summer my tomatoes have graced countless bowls of tabbouleh, been sliced razor thin for bruschetta, broiled, breaded and panfried, and simmered into a satiny smooth soup.

I have passed bags to neighbors and the bounty seems to continue. This week I will begin yet another harvest and will freeze a batch hoping they taste as great in January as they have this past summer.

Preserving tomatoes

If you're wondering what to do with your excess tomatoes this summer pay attention. On Aug. 21, Lois Thieleke, O&E columnist, and home economist for the Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service, Oakland County office, and I taught a free class on tomato canning at Kitchen Glamor in Redford Township. Participants also picked the winning tomato sauce in our contest.

Here's a sampling of what I learned from Lois during the class. The first shocker came when I was showing the class a jar of tomatoes canned in a mayonnaise jar. Did you know that mayo jars are a no-no for canning? Use mason jars which are considered generic, and manufactured by Ball, Kerr and Country Harvest. They are made of tempered glass especially for canning. Thielke went on to explain that the lids made for mason jars don't exactly fit mayo jars and there could eventually be problems with the seals if you use them for canning.

The winners of our versatile tomato sauce contest all love to cook. That's where the similarity ends. Each sauce is different. The winning sauce has an Italian flair; the runner up is a spicy barbecue sauce; third place is a chunky sauce with peppers.

BY KEELY WYGONIK Staff Writer

Carmela (Di Domenico) Huneke of Canton, winner of our most versatile tomato sauce contest, is Italian and loves to cook. But, like her grandmother, mother and aunt, she hardly ever measures ingredients.

"My aunt made this sauce every Sunday when I was growing up in Philadelphia," said Huneke whose sauce was picked number one by readers attending our tomato sauce class at Kitchen Glamor in Redford on Aug. 21.

"I knew there were tomatoes, basil and garlic in the sauce, but I didn't know how much. I just kept experimenting and tasting it until the sauce tasted just as good as I remembered it."

Her versatile sauce can be canned or frozen for use later. Huneke uses it to make spaghetti, mostaccioli, lasagna, stuffed shells, eggplant, chicken, and veal Parmesan, ravioli, and meatball sandwiches. "Use fresh garlic, and brown it before you add it to the sauce, but be careful not to burn it," said Huneke who jokes that for her being a good cook is hereditary.

Married to Jon, Huneke works three days a week, but says she spends a lot of time in the kitchen preparing meals for her family, and loves it. She is teaching her children, John and Theresa Falaasco and two stepchildren, Christine and David Huneke, who are in their 20s how to cook.

"I think it's important," she said. "We never had TV dinners while I was growing up," she said. "Fresh tastes better. My kids are spoiled. They like everything fresh." For "the best barbecue sauce you've ever tasted," be sure to try Maryann Yee's recipe. Her barbecue sauce was named our second place winner.

Tasty sauce: Carmela (Di Domenico) Huneke uses her robust Italian tomato sauce to make a variety of dishes including spaghetti, lasagna and stuffed shells.

In a 4 quart pot put 1 tablespoon cooking oil, heat. Chop 4 cloves of garlic and saute until brown, then add:

- 4 pounds cut tomatoes (pureed in blender)
- 3 cups water (add more if needed)
- 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 bay leaves
- 2 tablespoons fresh basil or 2 teaspoons dried
- 1/4 teaspoon dried oregano or 1 teaspoon fresh
- 1 (12 oz.) can tomato paste
- 4 whole cloves
- 1 1/4 teaspoons salt (to taste)
- 1 teaspoon pepper (to taste)
- 1 tablespoon fresh parsley or 1 teaspoon dried
- 2 teaspoons garlic salt

Cover and cook slowly 1 1/2 hours, stir occasionally.

Mayo jars, if allowed to bang together in the hot water bath during the canning process, might explode.

By the way, did you know that you can freeze tomatoes, sauces and purees in mason jars? I didn't but again, Lois gave her blessing as long as they were are filled to the top and there is enough room for the contents to expand while freezing.

Here's an easier, more convenient way to skin tomatoes. Core the tomatoes, place on a baking sheet and freeze. I tried this at home the next day and it worked! The skins popped off like magic!

When processing tomatoes in a hot water bath, Lois said it's necessary to keep the water boiling just to the point where it "cracks" the surface. Too rapid a boil causes the product to literally boil out of the jar and will ruin an otherwise perfectly good seal.

Lastly, I learned that the screw type rings should be removed after the jars cool and that it was not necessary to keep the rings on during storage.

So whomever said that "you can't teach an old dog new tricks" probably never took a class from a source as knowledgeable as Lois Thielke. If you too are interested in canning, it might behoove you to call the Cooperative Extension Service Food and Nutrition Hotline, 858-0904, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Chefs perform culinary magic for charity

BY JOAN BORAM SPECIAL WRITER

Too many cooks may spoil the broth, but the more cooks the tastier at Culinary Extravaganza II, to be held 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 19 at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia. Tickets are $35 each. Call 462-4417.

Over 60 of the finest restaurants and beverage corporations in the metro Detroit area will offer tastes of their finest gourmet appetizers, entrees, desserts, wines and liqueurs.

"The extravaganza is one of the highest caliber fund-raisers of its kind in the state," said Chef Jeffrey Gabriel, chef instructor and manager of Schoolcraft's culinary arts program. "The guest chefs are very aware of the caliber of the faculty here, and many of them are graduates of our program. They put on a real show, brining their most outstanding dishes. And, all proceeds go to fund culinary arts scholarships, so you could say it's also a very practical involvement — they could someday be hiring one of the scholarship recipients."

Imagine the hullabaloo as 60 guest chefs appear at the door, weighed down by ingredients, serving dishes, and heaven knows what else. Instructors and students volunteer to help them find their space, and generally fetch, tote and carry.

"The students volunteer for two reasons," said Gabriel. "One, most of our students have a deep passion to be involved with quality food preparation. Volunteering for the Extravaganza provides them the opportunity to observe the finest chefs in the area at work, and thus to learn from them.

"And two, students get scholarship credits for volunteer time."

You're probably wondering, where did they get the 60 chefs. "We asked them," said Extravaganza co-chairman Betty Jean Awrey. "We look at lists of restaurants in local publications and we draw on par personal dining experiences. It helps that Joe Muer Mis honorary chairman, and a lot of people do it for Tro Joe."

Chefs from the Schoolcraft Culinary Arta Department will prepare a smoked marinated salmon with fresh artichokes and sugar snap peas, presented in bite-sized cream puff shells. Naturally, the salmon will be smoked by the school's charcuterie class, which will also present a selection of pates and terrines. Pastry Chef Joseph Decker will preSANDY GREMAN, SCHOOLCRAFT COLLEOR

THE BEST BARBECUE SAUCE YOU'VE EVER TASTED

- 10 very ripe, very large tomatoes (skin and seeds removed) or 2 quarts canned tomatoes
- 1/2 cup brown sugar
- 14 cup honey
- 1/4 cup Chinese rice vinegar 3 cloves gariic
- 1 tablespoon freshly grated ginger 1 tablespoon Chinese chili
- sauce 1 tablespoon Worcestershire
- sauce 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Use blender or food processor to puree tomatoes, strain to remove remaining seeds.

Combine all ingredients in a pot over low heat. Stir until it begins to bubble. Continue cooking until sauce is thick and coats the back of a spoon - about 30-45 minutes. Cool and store in refrigerator in a jar until needed. (May be canned at this time).

Add salt and pepper to taste. Recipe submitted by Maryann

Yee, West Bloomfield, 2nd place contest winner.

TANGY TOMATO SAUCE WITH

TRIPLE PEPPERS

- Virgin olive oil 1 large onion, diced 1 large green pepper, diced
- 1 large sweet red pepper, diced
- 1 large yellow/orange pepper. diced
- 3 quarts fresh Italian Roma to-`matoes
- 6 ounce can tomato paste (plus 2 cans water) 3 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon freshly ground
- pepper/coarse ground cup fresh basil, coarsely
- chopped
- 1 cup Italian parsley, chopped 1 head garlic, peeled,
- trimmed, and then minced 3 large whole carrots, peeled and trimmed

Fill one large pot with water. Cover. Put on high heat and bring to a boil. When water boils, drop all of the tomatoes in water. Keep heat on high and leave tomatoes in water for 30 seconds. Immediately drain and immerse in cold water bath. Gently lift skins off tomatoes and gently pull out stem with fingers. Cut tomatoes into quarters, then across into quarters. Set aside.

Meanwhile, put another large 6-8 quart pot on high heat. When pan is hot, pour in enough olive oil to lightly cover bottom of pan

Reduce heat to medium-high and saute onions for 5 minutes, stirring as needed. Add all of the chopped peppers to onion mixture and continue to cook, stirring occasionally, until all vegetables are limp and transparent. Be sure to add more oil if needed, to keep mixture in pan from sticking.

Add tomatoes to onion-pepper mixture. Add salt and pepper, tomato paste with can of water, 1/2 of the basil, parsley and garlic. Stir to mix. Bring to a boil. Skim foam from top of pan. Add whole carrots. Adjust heat so sauce simmers gently. Cook, covered, with lid slightly ajar. Stir occasionally.

Sauce is finished when carrots are easily pierced with a fork, (approximately 3 hours). At that time, remove carrots from pot and throw them away. Store in refrigerator or freeze.

Variations: For a spicy sauce, add 1 green cavenne pepper or 3 small jalepeno peppers, minced. Remove seeds.

Serve sauce on top of pasta, Italian sausage sandwiches, or as an appetizer with bread.

To make salsa mix 2 cups of sauce with two chopped scallions and 2 minced jalepenos.

Loire Valley produces flavorful wines

Loire Valley, France tionately and correctly called "The Garden of France." This is the region of crisp white wines produced from sauvignon blanc grapes, delicious, juicy reds predominantly made from cabernet franc and refreshing sparkling wines from chenin blanc.

This is the magical land where medieval knights constructed fortresses, where the 15th and 16th century French kings built incredible pleasure castles, and where the 17th and 18th century nobility built chateaux. Today, residents go about their daily life and take the tourists meandering through their medieval village, or awing at the magnitude of a chateau, as a matter of course.

Vast farms abound. Each property, whether it's sufficiently large to be referred to as an estate or a small, local vigneron (grapegrower) produces wines generally uncluttered by wood. If coopetage is used, it's old, neutral, and sim-

These are not ponderous wines or wines for extended cellaring. They are wines for pleasurable drinking. Sauvignons (as they are called, leaving off the blanc) match perfectly with the local goat cheese which can be purchased a day or two old, weeks

Cabernet franc pairs marvelously with roasted goat or leg of lamb, served at one of the local ferme-auberge (local farms with lodging and a small restaurant). If you like very fruity red wines, then Gamay fills the bill.

Let's take a closer look at the Loire Valley in west-central France that takes its name from the Loire River which flows east to west for nearly 350 miles before emptying into the Atlantic Ocean west of the city of Nantes.

Starting in the east is Pouillysur-Loire and Sancerre, each with a unique style of sauvignon blanc. From Pouilly sur Loire the wines are labeled Pouilly Fume (not to be confused with Pouilly-Fuisse from the Burgundy region). Just across the river to the west is Sancerre with a different soil profile and terrain lending a minerally, crispness to sauvignon blanc.

Travelling west, one enters the Loire Valley's Touraine region, roughly following the Loire River east of the city of Tours (about 3.5 hours by car, southwest of Paris). Here chenin blanc produces its most famous wines Vouvray and Montlouis. Vouvray is versatile and is made dry, semi-dry, sweet or sparkling.

A trip along the Loire west of Tours brings one to the heart of the Loire's red wines in Bourgueil and Chinon. These reds are made from the cabernet franc grape and are bigger, more earthy wines for heartier meat preparations --beef stews and game in particular. Chinon is generally lighter than a Bourgueil and can be drunk young or mature. It's a lively pairing for roast chicken, red meats or tangy cheeses.

Anjou (where half the production is rose wine from cabernet franc) and Saumur (with its crisp chenin blanc sparkling wines) are the Touraine's western neighbors. Besides rose, the Anjou region is famed for white wines from subre-Savennieres wines are gions. crisp, but Coteaux du Lavon makes sweet finesseful dessert wines often rivaling a fine sauternes.

Between the city of Angers and the mouth of the Loire at the Atlantic is Muscadet. The grape varietal melon de Bourgogne reigns supreme for production of a crisp, white wine perfectly suited for the broad spectrum of fruits de mer (shellfish) from the Atlantic. It's the perfect complement for oysters on the half shell.

MUSIC NOTES

With shows in cities that border their home country of Canada, the Barenaked Ladies hope their phenomenal popularity will leak over into ⁴the United States.

'Our album ("Gordon") has gone seven times platinum in Canada," said vocalist/guitarist/ banjo player Ed Robertson laughing. "It's the sixth-highest selling record of all time in Canada.' 'In the U.S., it's certified quadruple cardboard

. certified linoleum," joked Robertson. The group hopes to replicate the popularity Canadian that is — of the album and its hits "Enid" and "Be My Yoko Ono" with its new album which the Ladies will soon be recording. "It's a little spicier; we're already performing some songelive. It's more moody but more melodic.

The group will perform at the State Theatre on Friday, Sept. 10.

Elton John recently stopped by some smaller area venues to check out possible sites for a multinight stint. His tour is slated to start the end of the month and last until early November. Tour dates will be announced soon.

Dorm form: Cut above the norm

A do-it-yourselfer, some two-by-fours, fabric, secondhand furniture and a dash of imagination can transform a dreary cinder block college dorm room into a "Home Sweet Home" away from home.

BY JANICE TIGAR-KRAMER Special Writer

When Nicki Yuskowatz walked into her dorm four years ago at Central Michigan University, one word came to mind: institution. The cinder block walls, cold tile floors and heavy, room darkening drapes in her suite and 22 others on her floor in Herrig Hall weren't exactly the student's notion of warm and inviting decor.

'Right off, I thought, 'If I'm going to live here, it's going to be nice, like home,' " said Yuskowatz, a Farmington Hills resident and 1992

Central Michigan graduate. For starters, Yuskowatz and her three roommates decided who could contribute the things that are essential to dorm life these days a TV, stereo, VCR, portable refrigerator and vacuum. From there, they shopped local garage sales to harvest a sofa, chair and lamps to fill the three-room suite.

STREET STYLES

(Students say lamps are a musthave to replace fluorescent lights that sometimes buzz and always produce yellow glare).

They applied mauve floral contact paper on a half wall above the cinder block and ran matching border from the living room to the two bedrooms. They bought plush blue carpeting at a remnant sale and hung dance posters and a vine wreath. Inexpensive floral throws from Penney's covered a secondhand velour love seat and chair. One roommate splurged on a new entertainment center. Total cost: About $200.

'You need a plan; decide what you need and how to arrange your bedroom and living room so that your things are available to you," said Yuskowatz, whose suite won third place last year in a campuswide decorating contest.

These roommates happened to have similar taste, but that's not always the case. If you like modern and your roomies want a cowboy western motif, compromise in the living room and do your own thing in the bedroom, they suggest.

You generally can't paint dorm walls or put holes in cinder block (though students say toothpaste fills holes nicely), but don't overlook the decorating power of fabrics and contact paper.

there are style choices galore: Art Deco, graphics, geometrics and traditional prints in a range of colors. You'll probably have to remove it when you leave or have it approved by the next resident.

'Men decorate the main living area like a den; women decorate it like a living room," said Mike Thimsen, a 1991 Central Michigan graduate and a resident assistant at coed Tate Hall for two years. "Most guys set up their room around a stereo system and Nintendo. Women decorate with color and seem to change everything twice a year."

Thimsen, a Birmingham resident, said aquariums frequently turn up in men's rooms as do plants, sports and rock music posters. Women, on the other hand, opt for antiques, mementos from home and plush floor coverings "that actually fit and match the room.'

Most students who live in residence halls turn to fathers or other do-it-yourselfers to construct a bedroom loft from two-by-fours. It raises the mattress off the floor, allowing room underneath for the school-issued desk and dresser. Best of all, it creates more living area.

Most universities issue guidelines for loft building and do a room check in the fall to make sure they measure up. In Mt. Pleasant, East Lansing and other college towns, some lumber companies sell loft kits: some will even install.

You can reuse the loft each year you're in the dorm and usually sell it to the next resident for a profit, said Yuskowatz. After three years, hers sold for $80. An interior design major at Michigan State said her stylish loft with built-in storage sold for $350.

Roger Serr, assistant director of residence life at Michigan State, said dorm life isn't so bad. Some newer halls even have basic cable TV service.

"First year students usually walk in the dorm and say, 'How will I survive this?' " he said. "Six weeks down the line they've done a lot to personalize the room. I've seen engineering students build a stereo, TV and phone into their loft.'

College towns are great places for yard sales because sellers know students will snap up almost any furnishings that are in moderately good shape. Secondhand sofas sell as $30 to $50 at carpeting can be found for a few dollars

"Gift," the first feature film from Jane's Addiction and Porno For Pyros frontman Perry Farrell, has been released on home video. This fall it will be released at selected theaters which so far includes Los Angeles, New York, San Francisco and Chicago. Press materials for the film, co-directed by Farrell and filmmaker Casey Niccoli, describe it as a "tragic, comic love story" that incorporates death, memory, drug addiction, joys of the human anatomy, racism, police and the medical profession.

'Gift' blends fact with fiction and reality with fantasy, taking its audience on a journey into the depths of a netherworld in which drugs are a way of life and death looms around every corner in a search for constant euphoria.'

The film includes the songs "Stop," "Classic irl," "Ain't No Right," "Of Course," "Three Girl.' Days," "Been Caught Stealing," "Lady Bus Driver," "Pink Handle" and "Ants." The film has special appearances by Ice-T. (who sings a duet with Farrell) and Terri Nunn.

Something Wild will soon be playing Russia. The band won the two-month-long contest, sponsored by WRIF and Stoli vodka. Details are sketchy about when the group will begin its tour. The band beat out semi-finalists Heaven's Wish and the Jes Gru.

The debut film from David Lynch's 25-year-old daughter Jennifer would have made a great short story. A distinguished surgeon, obsessed with a beautiful but unattainable young model, removes her legs, then her arms, so. that she will grow completely dependent on him.

Julian Sands plays the doc. Sherilyn Fenn the amputee, and I'm not sure who comes off worse. Sands, with his long blond hair, hollow cheekbones and wild eyes, has made a career out of obsessive nuts ("Gothic," "Impromptu"), so much so that he has started to parody himself.

Fenn, whose career launched in "Twin Peaks," plods through one awkward scene after another. Mounted on a throne in the doctor's mansion, arms and legs hidden like some old vaudeville gag, she's completely unconvincing as the selfish model turned real-life Venus De Milo.

The movie focuses primarily on the couple, though Art Garfunkel pops in now and again to ring the doorbell and peer through the glass. He plays the doc's shrink, but he's more like a clown-haired Jiminy Cricket, warning about growing too obsessed with a woman that doesn't care for him.

David Lynch has made a career out of creepy compositions and perverse relationships. Surprisingly, and I suppose to her credit, writer/director Jennifer doesn't swipe too many of his camera tricks although she does rely heavily on wide angle shots and exaggerated sound effects, includ-

Even now, one hears schizophrenic incorrectly used as an adjective to describe someone with a split personality. The symptoms of schizophrenia do not include split personality. but are hallucinations (perception of objects or events that are not real), delusions (false beliefs), biwhich no sense can be made. Imagine being continuously bombarded by discordant sounds of . cymbals and drums. Under these circumstances, even the simplest of tasks, like dressing or undressing, becomes insurmountable.

Another misconception, which has been disproven, is that of the schizophrenigenic mother, that is, a mother who causes schizophrenia. The cause of schizophrenia has not yet been pinpointed, however, it is clear that parents' behavior is not the blame. Presently, schizophrenia is understood as a collection of diseases with genetic, hormonal, and possibly viral, precursors.

It wasn't just the suits that got the Detroit-based band into the world-renowned New Music Seminar this summer, it was Black Mali's highly touted sound. During the seminar, in which bands are chosen to play for industry executives, the group did a showcase at the Lion's Den in the city's West Village.

"We did pretty well. It was a warm crowd. We got an encore. The bar was thrilled with our presence." said guitarist Ted Canaday.

Manager J.P. Donahue said being at NMS helped begin the new mission of the band, which also includes Joe Canaday, Geoff Coman and Brian Smith.

"We want to create a national buzz," said Donahue with the beginnings of a grin. "We're ready to dish out our music.

That starts with college towns. "In college towns, people are a lot more receptive to the band," Canaday said.

Like most fledgling bands, college towns are where they've gotten their most high-profile gigs. Last year, the group played East Lansing with Eek-A-Mouse, Baseboad, fIREHOSE and the Beastie Boys. Groovin' with those four thrilled Sanders.

"Playing with the Beastie Boys was a rush," he said.

These days, Black Mali is play ing in support of its debut CD, eponymously named on its own Ilam Temple Records. The album, produced by band member Canaday and the Tempermill Studio's Dave Feeny, contains half studio tracks. The other half was recorded live at Leveleleven in Detroit.

"It's an unspecified location . . a meeting place," Sanders said.

The nine songs — which in-clude "Recipee for a Sucka", "Aquafunk," "Head Booty" and "I'm Your Man" - were recorded within a week's time.

"We've all had experiences in the studio," Sanders said. "Recording, it's like playing a show. We were pumped up to do it. In a show you can't play it a couple times if you screw up.

Black Mali performs Wednesday, Sept. 8, at the Blind Pig, Ann Arbor, with Mind Bomb (996-8555); and Friday, Sept. 10, at Finney's Pub, 3965 Woodward, Detroit (831-8070). The group will also perform Saturday, Sept. 11. at the Dally in the Alley, an allday arts and music celebration in the alley between Forest and Hancock, and Second and Third, in Detroit near the Wayne State University Campus. Sinking into the perfect chair hen you ask a friend to take off her shoes and sit a spell, the phrase implies a long, relaxing visit curled in your coziest, most comfortable chair or sprawled on your overstuffed sofa. So what is the best seat in your house — the one you offer for serious tete-a-tetes?

The favorite in my house is a generous wing chair dressed in an English floral linen fabric in soft shades of rose and aqua. The matching ottoman supports feet and legs, and also serves as a resting place for the newspaper and a couple of magazines. You know a chair is snuggly when its primary occupant is Mo the cat, an expert on the nuances of comfort.

If you're in the mood or the market for stylish seating, indulge your tastes at Expressions Custom Furniture, 950 S. Woodward in Birmingham. Expressions' creative concept allows you to design an upholstered piece any way you want it. Just visit their showroom, select a frame style, choose from hundreds of fabrics and your personal creation will be hand-crafted and delivered to your home within 45 days.

Whether you envision a romantic damaskcovered down sofa or a casual pueblo chair dressed in an abstract Navajo print, the folks at Expressions can indulge your every whim. You're limited only by your imagination. "Our hottest seller right now is the saddle leather pull-up couch," says design consultant Dana Blake. "The rugged, distressed look of the butter-soft leather appeals to the naturalist, not the purist."

Their comfiest, coziest chair is a wide, overstuffed style with fat rolled arms, deep cushions and bun feet. Filled with a down-like luxury coil, you get the sumptuous feel of down without its maintenance problems.

Instant charm

Slipcovers add versatility and a certain timeless refinement to a cherished old piece or a new one. Slipcovers are enjoying renewed popularity according to Blake. Expressions has a special Cover Stories Collection of fabrics from which to choose. "Natural fabrics are selling well, as are purples, burgundies and jewel tones," she says. Before I left the store, I settled into the Ridem Cowboy denim oversized armchair with a tufted back. The wild west print captures the spirit of America and makes a real style statement when mixed with leather, twig tables and cow hide accessories. Hepplewhite's Fine Interiors and Classic rainwear: Women who love the tailored look of wellcrafted garments shop at Burberrys throughout the world. These pieces, from the 1960s, are part of a Burberrys' retrospective celebrating the company's 150th year.

For Dick Tracy: When the famous cartoon detective stepped off the comic books and into the movies, Burberrys was asked to design his famous yellow raincoat. The raincoat and fedora will be on display at Burberrys in Troy through September.

Burberrys' show is fashion history

It's the raincoat of royalty. It's the uniform of spies, foreign correspondents, aviators and polar explorers. It's simply (and deceptively) the Burberry, the top of the line in outerwear, celebrating more than a century of excellence with a historical clothing exhibit.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO STAFF WRITER

A few weeks ago an enormous crate arrived at Burberrys in Troy from across the waters in merry old England.

Staff members carefully unpacked the contents, their heads reeling from the odor of mothballs filling the stock room as box tops were opened.

"It was pretty thrilling to pull out these incredible antique Burberry outfits from years gone by," said Cynthia Feemster, assistant manager of the six-year-old store in the Somerset Collection. "We delighted in each piece of historical accessory we uncovered, including a WWI RAF (Royal Air Force) Officer's sword and a hat with a gorgeous plume."

Feemster said 15 vintage garments will be displayed in the store Sept. 10-30 for the first time in the United States. The clothing comes from museums and private collections all over Europe.

Two weeks ago a PBS camera crew set up in the store to tape a special program on the history of Burberrys. The documentary will be a tribute to the company that has served heads of state, men of letters, military men and women, film stars, explorers, foreign leaders and the British monarchy.

Dinersty: Just woks in

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO STAFF WRITER

If you want a break from the burgers and fries syndrome, the new Dinersty restaurant is the place to go. The quasi-fast food restaurant has 135 hot entrees to savor in the dining room or take out. Chinatown has come to downtown Plymouth. If business is good, he would like to open more. Kwok bought the old Cloverdale Dairy building at 447 Forest Ave. in downtown Plymouth and spent most of the summer remodeling it to suit his concept of modern dining convenience.

Let it breathe

It all started with the invention of garbardine by draper Thomas Burberry of Basingstoke Hampshire, England in 1856. Burberry was determined to find a waterproof fabric that would let air reach the body, after listening to a local physician berate the rubber-lined macintosh of the day. Though waterproof, he argued, the macintosh was unhealthy and uncomfortable.

Taking a clue from the linen smock-frocks worn by shepherds and farmers, he realized that the ability to keep out the wet depended on the close weave of the fabric combined with a loose style of the garment. After years of experimentation, Burberry produced a superb cloth proofed in the yarn before weaving by a secret process (in which no rubber was used) and then closely woven and proofed again by the same process in one piece. He called the cloth garbardine, after from a line in Shakespeare's The Tempest — "I hid me under the Gaberdine for fear of the storm."

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1993

Garbardine was advertised as "a cloth for all seasons — a garment for all the elements." It was rechristened "the Burberry" by King Edward VII who got accustomed to yelling "Give me my Burberry!" as he bounded out the castle door.

In the trenches

Burberry's most famous creation, the trenchcoat, was designed for British officers fighting in the trenches during WW1. The original features, epulets and belt loops, were for attaching equipment, but they remain on modern raincoats as a stylish feature.

The outdoorsy set quickly became steady Burberry customers and the garment line was expanded to include ark Holowicki, a 28-year-old native Livonian who graduated from Redford Catholic Central, competed in the U.S. Amateur last month in Houston, Texas. Holowicki failed to make the 64-player cut after a 36-hole total of 165 (84-81) but being there was a thrill in itself, he said.

Holowicki makes cut

Holowicki qualified for the U.S. Amateur after tying for third place with a two-round total of 148 (72-76) at the qualifier at the Black River Country Club in Port Huron. More than 5,000 amateurs nationwide tried to qualify this summer and 312 were invited.

"I met (teen golf phenom) Tiger Woods and most of the top college players were there," said Holowicki, who is assistant vice president of First of America Bank in Bloomfield Hills. "I would have loved to win it or done a lot better but you learn from experiences. I just wasn't on my best game.

TAFF WRITEF

Livonia Stevenson avenged last year's season-opening loss with an easy victory over the Panthers on Opening Day in 1993. The Spartans will meet Livonia Franklin this Saturday.

BY STEVE KOWALSKI

When Livonia Stevenson football coach Jack Reardon says his team is young, believe it.

When Redford Union coach Shawn McGowan says Stevenson is good, believe it.

The Spartans, who carry only four seniors and even have a freshman running back (Gade Clark) in the starting lineup, overwhelmed RU, 33-6, in Friday's season opening game at Howard Kraft Field.

The victory avenged last season's season-opening loss to RU, which ended in a 17-14 score after a late Panthers field goal.

RU had better numbers on the sidelines with 46 players but check out these offensive numbers by the Spartans, who dressed 31 players: 453 yards total offense and scoring drives of 76, 54, 54 and 45 yards.

"They're a good, big strong team, there's no doubt about it," said McGowan, whose team was giving up several pounds at most positions. "They always look good and execute extremely well. They're our hardest team to open against.

RU managed only 121 total yards, while committing five turnovers (two fumbles and three interceptions).

Almost half of RU's total offense came on its only score when speedy junior end Greg Knight grabbed a pass from quarterback Mike Bjerke and raced 57 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter.

The Spartans, who average 231 pounds on the offensive line, added to a 13-0 halftime lead with three second-half TDs. Stevenson's first-half scores came on a 10-yard run by Clark and a 7-yard pass to Nick finished with two sacks.

McLaren in the first half. The Spartans got even stronger in the second half, scoring on an &-yard scamper by senior Joe Bracali, a 1-yard dive by Clark and a 12-yard\run by Scott Griggs

The Spartans' offense, quarterbacked by senior Kevin Szczembara, did most of the running behind junior guards Craig Martin (6-foot, 215-pounds) and Ben Lewis (5-11, 185) and junior tackle Tony Jankowski (6-1,237)

"With a lot of juniors we weren't sure if they could sustain their blocks after halftime because they were pooped," Reardon said. "They were tired but they sucked it up and I'm very proud of that. I'm very happy with the way they're progressing."

The Spartans also managed to cut down on their penalties in the second half after receiving nine yellow flags in the first half.

'It was first-half jitters," Reardon said. "You can't win football games with all those penalties.'

Clark, a 5-9, 198-pound running back, had quite a debut with 105 yards on 18 carries. The Spartans' balanced rushing attack also included 78 yards on 14 carries by junior Scott Goldman and 76 yards on nine carries by junior Chris Mullett.

"Clark is a good football player for a ninth grader," Reardon said.

Szczembara completed 6-of-11 passes for 94 yards and one interception (by RU's Matt McClue). Brad Morgan caught three passes for 54 yards.

Morgan also had an interception. as did teammates Goldman and Matt Fisher. Martin and Eric Hine had one fumble recovery each and McLaren Bjerke quarterbacked most of the way but backup Brian Berryman took about 15 snaps after Bjerke suffered an ankle sprain. Bjerke completed 6of-16 passes for 97 vards and Tom Crowley was the leading ground gainer with 27 yards on seven carries.

> "Mike played very well," McGowan said. "It was a gutty performance."

Franklin puts up fight, but falls 21 - 12

BY STEVE KOWALSKI STAFF WRITER

Livonia Franklin's Greg Maple started at quarterback the last game of the 1992 season, but for all intents and purposes, Saturday was his initiation to varsity football.

Franklin lost at home to east-side power Sterling Heights Stevenson, 21-12, but Maple passed his own test. The 6-foot, 160-pound senior completed 11-of-21 passes for 137 yards and one touchdown against the Titans, a Class AA playoff contender. "Some of my throws were 'duckish' but they got there," Maple said. "Coach told me to be calm and if I'm calm everyone else will be.'

Lambert made three extra points, while Franklin missed an extra point attempt, a two-point conversion and a 42-yard field goal in the last two minutes.

"I'm real happy," Franklin coach Jim Karoub said. "For 45 minutes we were in the game. We played a lot of people and they grew up today."

With Stevenson ahead 14-12, Franklin got a chance to take the lead after recovering a fumble at the Titans' 30-yard line. After three runnning plays that netted five yards, Karoub sent placekicker Rod Risner in on fourth down and five.

Risner's line drive barely made it to the goal line, giving possession back other kid (Lambert) has but in practice (against a rush) he made three of six from that range and with the wind at his back all he had to do was get it in the air," Karoub said. "It's real tough to get five yards on fourth down.

The Titans outgained the Patriots, 296-236, in total vardage but each team finished with nine first downs.

Stevenson 7-0 after scoring on a 31vard run by Dennis Sheppard remaining in the first quarter. Franklin cut the lead to 7-6 after Maple scrambled and found John Worden for a six-yard TD pass with 1:11 remaining in the half.

Worden caught five passes for 69 for 109 yards in the first half. "We were getting out-formationed in the first half with them putting eligible receivers in places where we didn't move defensively," Stevenson coach Rick Bye said. Stevenson regained the lead, 14-12, with a 53-yard drive that was capped by Tessmer's nine-yard TD pass to Matt Adams. Troia led the Patriots with 69 yards on 18 carries and Jesse Shakarian picked up 30 yards on six carries.

Carpenter had several long runs and finished with 147 yards on 10 carries.

Matt Lividini gave the Ocelots a 2-0 lead with a goal at the 35-minute mark assisted by Bazzi. Bazzi finally was rewarded for his hard work with a goal, scoring on an "unbelievably hard shot," according to coach Van DiMitriou from 25 yards out for a 3-0 second-half lead.

'It was like a shot out of a rocket," DiMitriou said. "I've never had a kid hit the ball as hard and as accurately as Fadi.'

Dearborn shuts out Livonia Church

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

The result may have been the same, but Livonia Churchill didn't look anything like a football team mired in a long losing streak.

On Friday, the Chargers made visiting Dearborn earn a season-opening 10-0 victory.

The Pioneers controlled play in the second half after gaining a mere 33 yards (to Churchill's 73) during the opening two quarters.

'Dearborn is an established program, it was only a few years ago that they were in the playoffs, and they are where we need to get some day,' Churchill second-year coach Steve Naumcheff said. "I'm proud of all our kids, especially the defense.

'We just have to get into the end zone. Tonight we came out of the box in the first half like they did in the second half.'

If the Chargers had carried their first-half performance into the final two quarters, they might have kissed their 28-game losing streak (dating back to the 1990 opener) good-bye.

'Churchill played with more intensity today than they have in the past," Dearborn coach Chuck Baughman said. "Their coach really had them going at the starf. They had a lot of people step up. Defensively they kept us off-balance the first half. It seemed like we always had a penalty, or they'd make a play, and we'd end up with a second-and-20 situation.'

Churchill squandered two good scoring chances, one each in the first and second quarters.

The Chargers had the ball firstand-10 at the Dearborn 19, but fell victim to a pair of costly penalties, a sack and ultimately interception (picked off by Gary Sivyer) to stop the threat.

In the second period, Churchill quarterback Eric Kelly hit back-toback passes of 17 and 13 yards to Mike Todino, putting the ball on the Dearborn 24, only to have the drive

With less than a minute left in the first half, Dearborn's Kevin Taylor pounced on a Churchill fumble at the Chargers' 25.

Churchill's defense then dug in, holding the Pioneers to just 5 yards on three plays, but John Muskett came on to boot a 38-yard field goal to end the half.

'The field goal sparked us, it gave us a better feeling and we got a little excited at halftime," Baughman said. Meanwhile, the unexpected threepointer deflated Naumcheff's troops a Coach Greg Phill and his Livonia Stevenson swimmers were pleased to win the girls preseason Western Lakes Activities Association relays for the third straight year Thursday.

But, frankly, the Spartans, with a powerhouse team, already have their sights set on bigger objectives.

This and the league meet are stepping stones to our ulti-mate goal," Phill said. "They give four trophies now and our goal is to bring one home from the state meet this year.'

Stevenson, the favorite also to win a third WLAA championship in November, won five of 10 events at Plymouth Salem and the relays title by 40 points over three-time runnerup Plymouth Canton, 269-229.

The order of finish was North Farmington, Northville, Salem, Livonia Churchill, Farmington, Farmington Hills Harrison, Westland John Glenn and Livonia Franklin. Walled Lake did not participate.

The Spartans were first in the 400-meter medley, 200 breaststroke, 200 backstroke. 200 butterfly and 500 crescendo relavs.

Shamrocks have better idea, clobber Ford in opener, 24-0

By BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

The Observer/ MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 6, 1993

It appears Redford Catholic Central's football team hasn't missed a beat since winning last year's state Class AA football championship.

The Shamrocks started slowly, but finished with a bang in demolishing Detroit Henry Ford in Saturday's season opener at the Pontiac Silverdome, 24-0.

"Everybody on the line is new, we had nine guys on offense starting their first game and eight on defense," CC coach Tom Mach said. "I'm really proud of the way they played.

'In the first half we make mistakes, but that is to be expected. But I'm happy with the way we regrouped in the second half. We pounded it in and played our kind of football."

Senior tailback Fred Taylor certainly picked up where he left off in 1992, rushing for 142 yards in 12 carries.

He opened the scoring with 10:56 left in the second quarter, dashing 82 yards for a touchdown. Taylor, the 5-foot-9, 170-pound senior, broke into the clear and

The Shamrocks added a 43yard field goal from Adam Borchert with 37 seconds left in the quarter to make it 17-0.

In the final quarter, it was a vintage CC scoring drive.

The Shamrocks moved 72 yards in 14⁻plays, consuming 8:31 on the clock, capped by John Spolsky's 2-yard TD run with 1:19 left.

"It's tough when you've got to play both sides of the ball," Hen-ry Ford coach Mike Marshall said. "We started four freshmen. We had six guys who played little league last year. We just got worn down. They (CC) just don't make mistakes.

Howton's happy returns lift Glenn

Westland John Glenn gave its opponents in the Western Lakes Activities Association something to think about after Friday's 44-7 trouncing of visiting Detroit Murray-Wright.

The Rockets, who travel Saturday to meet Farmington Harrison in an early season showdown, erupted to a 37-0 lead by halftime and cruised through the second half for the non-league victory.

Senior Matt Howton was a human highlight film in the opening half.

He returned a punt 40 yards for a touchdown. Then, after the Rockets' defense sacked Pilots quarterback William Messenger in the end zone for a safety, Howton returned the kickoff 70 yards for another score.

Senior quarterback Brian Morrison also looked impressive as he threw for two touchdowns. Morrison's first scoring pass was an 8yard strike to senior Derek Besco and later found senior Bryan Besco on a 40-yard play.

Tariq Horne, a senior tailback, paced the Rockets' offensive attack as he gained 114 yards on 12 carries. Horne also scored on a 45yard scamper.

The last Glenn touchdown occurred on a 5-yard rush by junior tailback Stan Stevenson. Steve Hewer booted five extra points.

Murray-Wright spoiled Glenn's shutout hopes when Messenger scored on a two-yard run late in the fourth.

FOOTBALL I ST. CLEMENT 12. C'VILLE & Limite

Clarencoville's season opener at home Friday turned out to be a heart-breaker against Centerline St. Clement.

The frustration started early for the Trojans after a 95-yard kickoff return off the opening kickoff by Mark Juncaj was nullified by a pen alty.

Clarenceville opened the scoring in the sec ond quarter when senior quarterback Lou Lu caj connected with Mark Kalaj on a 20-yard scoring play to make it 6-0.

Kalaj, a senior split end; caught six passes for a total of 75 yards.

The Crusaders tied it later in the quarter on a 21-yard fumble return, and won the game in the third quarter on a 1-yard quarterback sneak by Mike Dzikowski. Their running attack was led by Tony Caru

Rocks pelt Belleville BY NEAL ZIPSER STAFF WRITER

The Plymouth Salem football team had plenty of excuses not to win its season opener against Belleville Friday.

First, the Rocks were forced to practice the past few weeks wondering if they were even going to have a season because of the failure of a millage vote and continuing budget problems.

If that wasn't enough to think about, Salem players read they didn't have much a chance to beat the Tigers, which had one of the area's most touted quarterbacks in Ralph Truitt.

But the Rocks put all distractions aside and shut down Truitt and his teammates for a 16-7 victory at muddy Centennial Educational Park

"We're tremendously happy with the way we played," Salem coach Tom Moshimer said. "I thought we could win but we knew we'd have to play well and we did. This was one of our best openers ever.

'Nobody thought we'd win. I told the kids before the game and I told them after that reporters don't win games in the newspapers; players win them on the field.

The Rocks received the official word the game was on Thursday when the teachers voted to approve a pay freeze until next year. The announcement ended weeks of speculation.

"I don't know what that did to the team but it was draining," Moshimer said. "The past month was the longest of my life and I'm sure it was long for the players, too. They've been busting their heads every day in 90- to 100-degree heat and not knowing if they'd be able to play. But they hung in there and it showed tonight.'

The announcement had a positive effect on the players, according to Salem junior quarterback Brad Lear.

"I think (the weeks of waiting) pumped us up more," Lear said. "I didn't think we would win because we heard so much this week about them, but we were pumped."

Two touchdown runs by senior fullback Rob Shepley, along with a couple two-point conversions, was all the Rocks needed, thanks to their defense.

Salem held an explosive Belleville attack to 153 yards of total offense and, more importantly, took Truitt out of the game.

Madonna sweeps Florida

The Madonna University women's volleyball team swept through Florida like a hurricane, winning six games and losing none in last week's trip.

"Our chemistry is real good right now and we're playing tough in clutch situations," Madonna coach Jerry Abraham said. "We're passing very well and have had a verv consistent attack."

The Crusaders finished the trip on Friday with a 15-6, 15-8, 16-14 victory over Palm Beach Atlantic and a 15-3, 15-5 win over Clearwater Christian.

Freshman Julie Martin (Livonia Stevenson) led with 19 kills and seven solo blocks in the two matches. Maureen Paulin (Farmington Hills Mercy) added 17 kills and 18 digs; Kari Van Deusen had 19 kills and 14 digs; Julie Wood, eight kills and 16 digs; Mazie Pilut (Redford Bishop Borgess), seven kills, 12 digs and 38 assists, Marci Laurencelle had five kills and Kelly McCausland (Redford Union) seven.

Madonna on Thursday defeated Florida Institute of Technology, 15-11, 15-12, 8-15, 15-3, to move to 4-0 on the trip.

North Florida moved to NCAA Division II this year after finishing among the top 12 last year in the NAIA, according to Abraham. North Florida had to dink the ball more, instead of using power because of Madonna's strong blocking at the net, Abraham said. Paulin had 12 digs and led the Crusaders with 14 kills. Wood contributed 13 kills, followed by Martin with 11, Van Deusen, nine, and McCausland, five.

Pilut led the Crusaders with 49 assists.

Madonna started the week on Tuesday with a double-header victory over host Warner Southern (15-3, 15-2) and Nova (15-2, 15-0, 15-5) in Lake Wales, Fla.

Warriors garner tournament title; Stevenson romps

Lutheran High Westland won its third consecutive Whitmore Lake Girls Basketball Tournament Thursday, pulling away in the final quarter to beat Plymouth Christian Academy, 48-32.

PCA trailed by only two points after three quarters, 25-23, before Lutheran Westland went on a 23-9 run. The Warriors hit 11 of 16 free throws in the final quarter.

Junior center Jenny Pruchnik gave the victorious Warriors (2-0) a lift off the bench, scoring a team-high 13 points. She made four of eight shots from the field and five of six from the free-throw line.

Junior forward Lauren Horton. a transfer from PCA, added 12 points and 12 rebounds.

Karen Reed, a junior, paced the Eagles (1-1) with 13 points.

'We didn't shoot well, but the free-throw line was good to us tonight," said Lutheran High coach Ron Gentz, whose team shot 22 of 41 from the stripe (53.6 percent). "Plymouth Christian is a very scrappy team. They gave us everything we wanted. They kind of ran out of gas and bodies. We played 11 and they went with nine.

The Eagles made only 23.5 percent of its free throws (four of 17). E STEVENSON 53, LATHRUP 27: Livonia Stevenson opened its season Thursday with a 26-point margin of victory over Southfield Lathrup.
