Clean-up costs have reached $10,000.

Most gang activity has occurred south of Cherry Hill Road, but isolated incidents of businesses being spray-painted with graffiti have been reported as far north as Joy Road — the city's north boundary. Gangs are crossing boundaries of Westland, Garden City, Livonia, Inkster and other cities, challenging rival gangs for territory. Graffiti sprayed on the abandoned Phar-Mor building on Central City Parkway, between Warren and Ford, indicates the presence of a white supremacist gang in Westland.

■ Numerous gangs, such as Latin Counts, Cobras, Incas and West Side Mafia, among others, are known to have penetrated Westland. One group known as the D-Kings claims 650 members in Westland and Canton Township, police said.

Low turnout expected

A low voter turnout is expected Monday when Wayne-Westland school district residents go to the polls to decide whether to increase their school taxes.

Turnout is expected to be similar to what it was in April, when 10,296 voters crushed a tax proposal. That marked a turnout of nearly 16 percent among the district's estimated 65,000 voters.

"That's a small turnout, I'm sorry to say," she said.

About 730 absentee ballots were requested for the election — a number: that also is about normal, Harrington said.

Voters on Monday will decide whether to increase their school tax rate by 6 mills, which would amount to a $6 increase per $1,000 of stateequalized valuation.

In recent literature, school officials noted that the owner of a $70,000 house with a $35,000 SEV would see school taxes increase $237.

But the "actual increase" for that homeowner would seem like $54 if voters consider that the 6-mill plan comes on the heels of a 7.75-mill tax that expired June 30, school officials said.

Although the 6-mill proposal is less than the 7.75 mills that expired, the homeowner would still pay more taxes this year because of property assessments that increased about 13 percent, pushing up taxes. The one-year, 6-mill plan would allow school officials to restore about $7 million in programs ranging from

Woman tells police she was abducted, raped

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Westland police are seeking a rapesuspect after a 25-year-old woman reported that she was abducted for about 10 hours and raped at gunpoint by a man who threatened to shoot her unless she complied. Police have no leads on the case.

Sgt. Michael Terry said, and anyone with possible tips is encouraged to contact the detective bureau at 721-6311.

Junior high students are particularly involved in gangs, and some gang leaders have tried to recruit new members at elementary schools.

The disturbing evidence of gang activity in Westland emerged Monday during a city council study session called by Council president Charles Pickering. Amid the gloom, however, police officials stressed that a proactive stance and good investigative work has solved about 75 percent of gang crimes in Westland.

Some youngsters have been suspended from school for spraypainting graffiti, and some have been forced to appear in 18th District Court for gang-related charges, said police officer Scott Hall, Westland's chief gang investigator.

The police department even has computer files on known gang members.

Hall described gang activity in Westland as "a minor problem," but urged parents to learn about gangs and to be alert to their children's behavior. Seemingly harmless behavior, such as wearing colored bandanas, can signal gang involvement, Hall said.

"Every city around has a gang problem of some kind." Hall said. adding that the police department's early attack on gang activcity," he said.

Said Police Chief Emery Price: 'We're hoping that if we stay on it long enough, it's going to die out." Pickering didn't seem as optimistic, saying increasing problems at John Glenn - the only high school in Westland - point out the need for more intervention. He has suggested-placing a police officer at the school.

One recent John Glenn graduate who attended Monday's meeting said problems escalated dramatically between 1989 and 1992. The former student, who did not want his name used, said swastikas painted on bathroom walls had become common when he attended the school. In-school fights have increased, too, he said. The board already has voted to restore some programs, such as busing for junior high and senior high school students, because o an unexpected boost in state aid of about $2.5 million.

The board had initially cut about $14 million from its $86million budget.

Although local officials welcomed the additional state aid, they have conceded that the state's timing has hurt Wayne-Westland's millage campaign. Fewer people are likely to vote for the tax increase since busing and other key programs, such as elementary expressive arts, have been restored, officials have said.

On Tuesday, campaign co-chair Ted Scott of Westland said that the campaign is continuing. Scott and the other co-chair, Mary Chene of Wayne, accompanied Superintendent Larry Thomas on Monday night to the Wayne Congregational Church to seek millage support.

Efforts also are expected to be launched Monday to call voters and remind them to vote, Scott said.

Picketers say dump outcome-based curriculum

Pounding the pavement: While picketing Eivonia school administrative offices recently, Lisa Morency had her hands full with her daughter's stroller and a sign opposing outcomebased education.

BY MARIE CHESTNEY STAFF WRITER

Twice in the last month, Lisa Morency has stood before the Livonia Board of Education to protest what educators call outcome-based education (OBE) and what Morency calls an "awful curriculum.'

During the last month, she also has picketed board offices, pushing her baby carriage and carrying a sign that urged parents "join, the fight to stop outcome based education.'

What is OBE? And why is Morency, Tom Reed and others picketing against it throughout Michigan and the nation?

"Outcome-based education has become a red flag in the nation, Kathy Kalusek, former PTA president, told the trustees recently after Morency and other OBE opponents spoke.

'Change is never easy and this has generated controversy. Listen to all the speakers, but don't get tied up in extremists.

In a nutshell, the state now uses OBE to define the knowledge, values and attitudes a student should assimilate after being taught various subjects.

To monitor the learning that takes place in the classroom, the state no longer counts physical items such as the number of books used.

Instead, the state now tells districts to monitor what is learned from those books. The state tells districts what "exit goals, or outcomes" it should test for.

Some of these exit goals deal with values and attitudes. And to OBE opponents, that's a recipe for mind control by the state.

'This has little to do with academics," Reed said. "Who judges if kids get the correct values and attitudes? They're getting kids to have a certain mindset for a new world order.

Marlene Bihmeyer, the school district's director of curriculum, disagreed.

'I don't think we can say we have a heavy emphasis on attitudes and that we're forsaking academics," Bihmeyer said. "In our core curriculum, we have 110 subject area exit goals. Only 20 out of the 110 deal with attitudes or value statements. Most are directly related to achievement in that агеа Still, Morency called on trustees to "reject this awful curriculum.'

Why wasn't this rejected by (the district) when it came across your desk?" she asked. "Teachers now must teach this. It's time we stood up for our kids."

Morency and the other picketers handed out, fliers which said: "OBE is the Michigan state curriculum which has to do more with students demonstrating the state's correct values, attitudes and behaviors than with academics.

"It is our responsibility as citizens to take back our schools in order to educate all children to reach their highest potentials academically.

"Otherwise, OBE will continue to dumb down our kids to be human resources with only politically correct attitudes.

OBE opponents attending the Oct. 4 board meeting handed out copies of The New Federalist newspaper, which featured an article titled "How New Age Education Murdered Millions: The Soviet Model for Today's Education Lunacy

The article begins by saying that "public schools now seem much more concerned with creating politically correct behavior in their children than with educating them."

The article continues: "What is going on in America's public schools is actually nothing new. It is Soviet-style brainwashing and collectivism.

The picketers also distributed copies of articles critical of OBE written by Lyndon LaRouche Jr., a political extremist who once stood on the far left but now stands on the far right.

In 1990, Michigan adopted its model curriculum that districts must follow, Bihmeyer said When this became available we examined our own curriculum to see where we were most closely alligned with the state.

We will be helping your efforts instead of ignoring you," he told the estimated 75 persons at the Westland Chamber of Commerce's monthly membership meeting Tuesday.

Responding in a telephone interview, Mayor Robert Thomas said that the city council, on which Pickering has served for six years, has the authority to amend an ordinance which prohibits. banners or balloons on commercial property without a waiver from the city's zoning board of appeals.

On the Friendship Center for seniors, Pickering, currently Westland city council president, also promised to keep the facility open.

"I have no intention of closing a center which I helped build and fund (when he was mayor from 1982-85)," Pickering said.

"No way will it be closed," he stressed.

He added that he wants to expand the senior programs through an outreach effort.

Hickering also criticized a new program of having DARE (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) police officers on bike patrols as part of Thomas' new community policing program.

The officers on bikes are doing public relations for the mayor, Pickering claimed. Instead, the officers should be placed in patrol cars to help the district court collect fines.

Thomas responded that the bike patrol is part of the community policing program designed to for failing to agree to debates which don't meet the mayor's dispute between Mayor The Robert Thomas, seeking his second term Nov. 2, and opponent Charles Pickering heated up a few degrees Tuesday when Thomas skipped the traditional mayoral debate sponsored by the Westland Chamber of Commerce.

Pickering, the council president, did appear and used the opportunity to knock his foe for skipping a candidates forum which didn't comply with Thomas' proposed rules.

'We'll debate any time, any where as long as it is cablecast and the press is present," Pickering said.

As an example, he told the chamber audience that he has accepted an invitation from the city's Advisory Commission on Aging to appear Oct. 20 with Thomas. Pickering described the commission audience as a poten-tial "hostile environment" since the commission is part of the city government of which Thomas is the top administrator.

Pickering and campaign director Dennis LeMaitre held an impromptu press conference Monday morning to criticize Thomas terms. Thomas, in a telephone inter-Tuesday afternoon, disagreed with his opponent, saying that his Sept. 17 letter only proposed terms of upcoming debates, not dictating their terms. He added that he has attended one forum before the Sept. 14 primary which was sponsored by a group led by two Pickering supporters.

The mayor also criticized his opponent for failing to respond to his Sept. 17 proposal until last week, three weeks later.

Not surprisingly, the Pickering committee has a different view.

At the Monday press conference, the candidate and LeMaitre said they will stand by their Oct. 7 which outlined Pickering's position on debate rules, including those for Tuesday's chamber forum.

Basically, LeMaitre said, the candidates shouldn't be in the business or "orchestrating their own debates. It is our belief that debates should be organized by host groups or civic organizations. The candidate's role in the organizational process of a proposed debate should be limited.

Pickering felt the chamber's format of having questions from the audience and screened by a four-person committee was "fair and equitable" although Thomas refused to take part if chamber board members were to screen questions from the audience.

In an Oct. 8 letter from the Thomas campaign committee to the chamber, the mayor insisted that he still has two major objections to Tuesday's proposed for .? mai.

One is that the chamber program isn't open to the general public and that a planned governmental cable TV taping of the debate of a private, restricted forum would be inappropriate.

But Pickering insisted that the planned Oct. 20 Commission on Aging forum is also private and not open to the general public, claiming that Thomaas is using a double standard since he agreed to the commission event but not However, being a twin, attending the same university and having an appreciation for togetherness is not all these eight young adults share. Common interest is yet another. Of the four sets, two are pursuing a major in business and the other two are studying nursing.

Local officials tell state legislators 'leave us alone'

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW

50n three rented buses they came, an army of local officials from Livonia, Plymouth, Redford, Westland and Garden City bent on telling state government officials that they don't like Gov. John Engler's school finance tax plan one bit.

The ringleader was Wayne County' Executive Edward McNamara, who paid for the buses with his office holder's expense fund. What message did he hope to deliver to state officials? "Our whole theme about this trip up here is, 'Leave us alone,' "he said from the back of the bus.

Like all the other local government officials, McNamara said Engler's plan to have an assessment freeze and wipe out state subsidies to local government will ruin local government if enacted.

"What the hell does the state provide?" McNamara asked. "The basic services people want and need come from local government."

Wayne County Commission Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, who rode the bus with McNamara, said she "can't believe the legislature would seriously consider adopting the measures (Engler) is suggesting." But, she added, it's important to let the state representatives know how Engler's plan would affect local government.

Lobbying lawmakers

Once in the capital, the local public servants visited the state public servants. For example, 21 folks from Redford, Plymouth, Livonia and Northville had a meeting with Sen. Bob Geake, R-Northville. "My perspective is, 'Leave us alone,' "said Livonia Councilman Fernon Feenstra. "We pick up the garbage."

Northville Township Supervisor Kåren Baja echoed the sentiments of many of the others when she said local government is hurting already. "We are so bare bones, it's disgusting." Redford trustee Frank Bradley fr: complained to Geake that state government too often compels local government to do things, but doesn't pay for it. "We get mandates for recycling and everything else, and the funds aren't there" he said.

there," he said. Meanwhile, down the street at the Lansing Civic Center, the Michigan Municipal League and the Michigan Association of Counties were having a rally to oppose Engler's plan. With attendance pushing 1,200, the Michigan Townships Association president said, "This meeting hall reminds me of a smelt run up in the U.P."

House OKs court reorganization bill

Outstate Michigan will pick up more clout on the state Court of Appeals, under a reorganization bill that has passed the House of Representatives.

The: state's second highest court has 24 judges elected from three districts.

If the Senate approves the bill, the appellate court will have 28 judges from four districts after the 1994 election.

Net result: Five new judges will come from outside the metropolitan Detroit and Flint areas.

Here is the new lineup: District 1 — Wayne, Monroe and Lenawee counties. It will lose one judge who will retire because of age and will not fill the vacancy in 1994. Eliminated from this district were Livingston, Washtenaw and Jackson counties.

District 2 - Oakland, Macomb, Genesee and Shiawassee counties. No judges will be added or deleted in 1994. Eliminated from the district are the Thumb area and the Lansing area. District 3 Livingston, Washtenaw and 14 counties stretching across southern Michigan. This district will elect four judges in 1994. Top candidate will serve 10 years; second and third, eight years; and fourth highest, six years. District 4 — Eaton, Clinton, Ionia and Ingham and all other counties of northern low-er Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. It will elect one new judge in 1994 for a six year term.

Refer to House Bill 4842 when writing to your state senator. The bill is in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Commission sets hearing on tax levy

The Wayne County Commission will hold a public hearing from 10 a.m. to noon Friday on a. proposed 0:241 mill (about onefourth mill) increase in operating tax millage to be levied in 1993.

The hearing will be in Room 402, 4th Floor, Wayne County Building, 600 Randolph Street, downtown Detroit.

If adopted, the proposed additional millage will increase operating revenues from property taxes 3.25 percent. If the county does not approve the additional millage, the maximum permitted millage rate would generate an increase of 1.29 percent compared to the 1992 levy.

Area lawmakers split on support for clean air bills

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Drivers in southeastern Michigan will detect little or no change in the vehicle inspection system as the nation moves to comply with the federal Clean Air Act.

The state House of Representatives last week passed two watered down I&M (for inspection and maintenance) bills. The House battle followed months of arguments and phone calls fromthe U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

'We are preparing to ask for redesignation from a nonattainment to an attainment area for ozone," said Drew Schmidt, a staff member in the Southeast Michigan Council of Govern-ments. "Meanwhile, the Legislature must supply contingency measures, and one must be an I & M program.

It sure is in a state of flux," said E.J. Buss of the governmental affairs office in the Michigan Department of Transportation.

What bill does

Here is what House Bill 5016, the I&M bill covering southeastern Michigan, looks like as it heads to the state Senate:

Cost will be $11 for an enhanced vehicle emissions test. compared to the current $10. (Earlier versions would have required a $30 test every two years.) The program still applies just to Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Unless EPA rules differently, Livingston, Washtenaw, St.

Clair and Monroe counties will stay out.

You will go to your neighborhood service station annually. Earlier versions called for twoyear inspections at a handful of centralized stations - a provision fiercely opposed by service station dealers.

People on Medicaid get their tests free.

If your car or truck flunks, you will have to have repairs up to a $200 limit, depending on need. Current limit is $83.

Once you've spent the limit and our vehicle still fails, said MDOT's Buss, "you can get a waiver that says you really tried." Vehicles need a passing grade or a waiver before owners may purchase new registration plates.

A second bill, HB 4165, brings the western counties of Kent (Grand Rapids), Ottawa and Muskegon into an I & M program.

Western lawmakers blame their air pollution on winds from Chicago and the steel mills of Garv. Ind. "In western Michigan. motors will never be able to attain compliance because they can't control the pollution," complained Rep. Jessie Dalman, R-Holland.

MDOT's Buss said a Lake Michigan ozone study, due next April, will determine the truth of that hypothesis. Meanwhile, said Buss. we have to enforce the (Clean Air) law as written.'

Southeastern Michigan's original goal was to reduce air pollutants 15 percent from 1990 levels by 1996. SEMCOG officials call it 'a moving target" because each year traffic and emissions get worse.

Federal blackmail

If the two regions fail to comply with, EPA's latest-interpretation of the Clean Air Act. the state could lose $500 million in federal. highway aid and be ineligible for smokestack permits for new factories.

That's "federal blackmail," aid Rep. Greg Kaza, R-Rochester Hills.

Kaza also objected to "the multi-million dollar taxpayer subsidy for welfare recipients who need car repairs.

Rep. Deborah Whyman, R-Canton, came within two votes of breaking the tiebar between the two bills. A tiebar is a section that says the southeastern Michigan bill doesn't become law unless the western Michigan bill also becomes law.

How they voted HB 5016, affecting southeastern Michigan, was passed 65 to 36 with nine absent.

Here's how Observer area lawmakers voted:

Yes — Lyn Bankes, R-Livonia, Justine Barns, D-Westland, Jan Dolan, R-Farmington Hills, Richard Young, D-Dearborn Heights. No — Jerry Vorva, R-Plym-outh, Deborah Whyman, R-Can-

Absent - William Keith, D-Garden City

House Bill 4165, affecting the western counties, was adopted 57 to 43 with 10 absent. Here's how area representatives voted:

Real estate sales tax draws fire from agents, local lawmakers it, and real estate agents are strongly opposed.

'It's inequitable. It would be a burden on a small percentage of residents," said Owen Broock, president of the Michigan Association of Realtors.

'We would support a reasonable increase in the income tax, a reasonable increase in the sales tax, or a combination of them." said the president of Max Broock Realty in Bloomfield Hills. "This (transfer tax) focuses on a segment of the public. We support a broad-based tax.'

"I was on a radio talk show last week — you'd be surprised how many people listen at midnight," said Sen. David Honigman, R-West Bloomfield -- "and most callers complained about the real estate transfer tax.'

"Philosophically, I don't like it," said Rep. Deborah Whyman, classes. Some people are forced to R-Canton. "But he (Broock) hurt move through economic necessity their cause by saying they'd accept an income tax increase.

Broock was leadoff witness We mesday as the House Taxaittee in the morning tion: and Senate Finance Committee in the afternoon started hearings a day after receiving the bills that would implement the governor's plan to replace a net $6.3 billion local school property tax cut with $6 billion in state taxes.

Volatile, regressive'

Of all the tax hikes Engler pro-A 4 percent real estate sales tax posed Oct. 5 --- sales tax, small single business tax, 16 mill business property tax, 16 mill tax on second homes, and 50-cents-a-Suburban lawmakers don't like, pack on cigarettes --- the real estate transfer tax so far has drawn the most fire Broock gave the real estate industry's reasons.

🛢 "It's volatile. Home sales are cyclical. You (state government) risk a serious revenue shortfall,"he said, noting that house sales dropped 50 percent in 1981-82, the bottom of the last recession. Treasury officials, he noted, already are modifying downward the proposal's revenue estimates from $700 million to less than $400,000.

■ 'It reduces the seller's equity for reinvestment.'' Example: The owner of a $100,000 house may have only $20,000 equity and an $80,000 mortgage. A 4 percent tax would take $4,000 of his price, reducing his equity to $16,000. "That's a 20 percent hit," he said. "It's regressive. It would weigh more on the lower and middle. classes. Some people are forced to - a job transfer, death of a spouse or divorce.'

In the House committee, Rep. Michael Bennane, D-Detroit, asked if real estate agents won't reap a "windfall" through inflated real estate values with the elimination of the property tax.

"The 'windfall' goes to the homeowner not the real estate industry." Brauck replied. In the House chamber afterwards, Rep. Justine Barns, D-Westland, said a real estate transfer tax would be almost as burdensome as the school property tax it would replace. Take the same $100,000 house; assessed for $50,000, in a district with an average school tax rate of 35 mills. Its school property tax is $1,750. The real estate transfer tax would be $4,000 - the equiv alent of nearly 21/2 years of school property taxes.

In a separate interview with managers of this newspaper, Thomas B. Ricketts, CEO of Standard Federal Bank, the region's biggest mortgage lender, opposed the real estate transfer tax for similar reasons.

Some like it

Nevertheless, two lawmakers from the west side of the state defended Engler's proposal.

"Mayor (Richard) Daley of Chicago and the Wrigley family get a big break on their Michigan homes - on the backs of the income taxpayers of Michigan, said Rep. Dale Shugars, R.Portage.

"Where you don't have a lot of resort property, you have a lot of support for the income tax," said Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, who does have a lot of resort property in his Lake Michigan shoreline district. "Some 73 percent of Saugatuck is owned by out-ofstate money. The manager of 506 condos in New Buffalo told me that 5-3 were owned by out-ofstaters.

Millage stance draws criticism

A school board member pointed out that the Wavne City Council is supporting Monday's millage increase proposal — a sharp contrast with the Westland council. The board member felt that some Westland officials may still be fighting a long-standing grudge between the city and school district.

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

A Wayne-Westland school board trustee has criticized Westland city officials for failing to show support for a school tax proposal that local voters will decide Monday.

Trustee Leonard Posey, noting that the Wayne City Council has publicly endorsed the school tax plan, said Tuesday he's "disappointed" that Westland city leaders haven't taken a stand.

"There still seems to be some people in the city government — elected officials in Westland — who are fighting a years-old grudge between the school district and the city," Posey said during a school board meeting Tuesday.

Posey did not name specific officials on Tuesday, and he declined to name any city officials when contacted at his office on Wednesday morning.

Posey's comments Tuesday came one week after the Wayne City Council voted 5-0, with two members absent, to support a 6-mill school tax increase. School district voters will decide Monday whether they are willing to pay an additional $6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

Posey pointed to what he called "a lack of leadership" in Westland.

School board president Francis "Bud" Winter also commended

Wayne officials for their pro-millage stance, even though the action could be risky as some council members seek re-election.

They believe unequivocally that education is good for their community," Winter said.

School officials stressed that property values and the quality of life_in the Wayne-Westland area are directly related to the school district's success

Although Posey did not single out Westland officials for criticism, one official who has drawn fire in the past is Mayor Robert Thomas, who opposed a school millage plan two years ago.

Thomas sparked controversy for his opposition, but he has since kept a lower profile on school elections.

By contrast, Charles Pickering, Thomas' opponent in the Nov. 2 mayoral race, has made school issues a key part of his mayoral campaign and has called for more cooperation beween the district and the city.

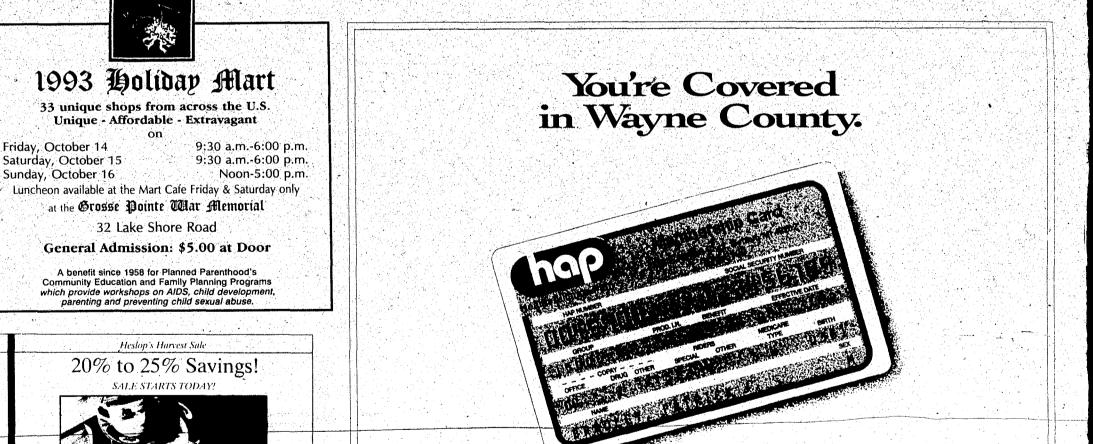

-Posey's comments on Tuesday marked the second time recently that comparisons have been made between Westland and Wayne on school issues.

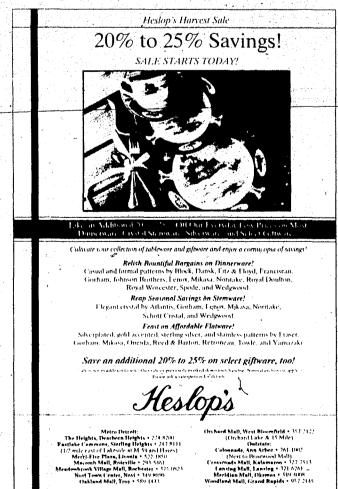

In an ongoing controversy, West-land has declined to help the district pay for a police officer who would be stationed at John Glenn High School, amid concerns about school security.

The city of Wayne, however, has pledged to split the cost of an armed police officer for Wayne Memorial High School.

Pickering has supported efforts in Westland to assist the school district, but has won virtually no support from his council colleagues or the mayor's office.

Mayor Thomas and Westland police Chief Emery Price have said problems at Glehn aren't serious enough to warrant a full-time police officer at the school.

Lawmaker says make criminals pay for lab work used in trials

Courts will be required to charge convicted offenders $150 to pay for laboratory analysis of evidence used in their trials if House Bill 4245 becomes law.

The measure sponsored by state Rep. Jerry Vorva, R-Plymouth, passed the house. last week. Vorva's 20th District includes the northern portion of Livonia.

The bill establishes a separate fund in the state treasury for forensic laboratory charges.

"This is part of my continuing battle to make the people. who run up criminal justice system costs carry a share of thee monetary burden," Vorva said. "This measure requires offenders to pick up part of the expense that honest, hardworking taxpayers have been paying on their behalf."

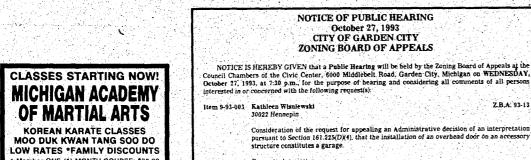

With the rising cost of new technology and equipment, forensic laboratories are becoming more expensive, Vorva said. 'I hope those rising costs will be somewhat deferred from the citizens to the offenders. The money collected by the courts will be used to train technicians and buy equipment.

The Department of State Police estimates that $2 million in revenue would be raised per year based on state forensic work in 50,000 cases annually. Courts would retain as costs 10 percent of the money collected.

The measure now goes to the Sénate for consideration.

'No' on tax Major programs are restored ill there ever be an end to Wayne-Westland school millage elections? If Gov. John Engler has his way on school reform and financing, local school districts will soon be out of the millage business - that is, going to the voters frequently to get approval for a tax increase because of rising costs and/or declines in state financial support.

The current financial problem in the district is based in part on the voters' overwhelming rejection of a tax proposal April 5 and the ongoing confusion in Lansing on what's going to happen with school financing.

Engler has been very visible and vocal on what he wants, but the opposing Democratic Party has its own agenda and ideas on how to reform schools.

But what should the voters do Monday when faced with a 6-mill tax rate increase? Voters, for various reasons, should again reject the tax proposal.

One reason is that the school board, after receiving an unexpected increase in state aid, voted two weeks ago to reinstate several key programs that were cut in the spring, such as secondary busing and elementary libraries. The board made the right decision, but voters have been left with fewer reasons to support a major tax increase

In addition, the board agreed in August to charge fees for students involved in sports and other extracurricular programs.

The board and administration say that without the tax increase numerous educational programs and services will continue to be eliminated or reduced.

But a partial listing of those cutbacks ranging from health clinic employees to elementary lunchroom supervision - clearly aren't compelling enough to justify a major tax increase.

An opportunity for cutting costs was lost earlier this year when the teachers union refused to even consider a pay freeze or reduced salary raises, something done in neighboring school districts facing a money crunch:

At the same time, local property owners are paying a high tax rate of just over 37 mills (or $37 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation), which is some 10 mills less than the previous year.

If Engler's school proposals are enacted into law by the state Legislature this year or next, local tax bills will be substantially lower in the wake of the state abolishing all property taxes for school operations.

The proposal on Monday's ballot is tempting since it is for one year.

But voters have heard that argument before. The community has been generous with its support in recent years, including approval of a major 7.75 mill tax hike ($7.75 per $1,000) just over two years ago.

That proposal was sold on the premise that the increase would be "only" for two years to give the state time to solve the school financing problem

But that didn't happen.

While Michigan is closer to solving the problem now than it was in 1991, voters should still control their educational destiny.

If the pending school reforms fail to benefit the district financially, then the school board will be forced to look at different ways to deliver educational services or alternative ways of controlling expenses.

State needs Vietnamese link

he Vietnam war will end only when the economic casualties stop.

Businessmen like Birmingham's Jack Lynch know that. The local psychologist, entrepreneur and Vietnam veteran epitomizes the growing number who realize that our economic interests are linked to humanitarian concerns.

He returned from Vietnam in September, his second trip since the war in an attempt to build an economic pathway between the two countries

In November, a group of Michigan business executives and government officials will step back to the future in hope of cementing economic ties with the country that most of us have forgotten.

This group will be yet another from the Wolverine state to join a growing number of business executives who are eying Vietnam, our former combat nemesis, as an economic ally.

bits most American's from doing business there.

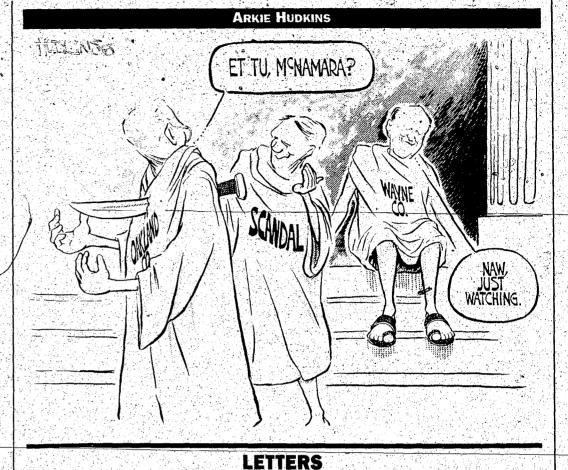

In truth, U.S. business is being left behind while the rest of the world is building relationships with a country that will be one of the fastest-growing economies in the coming years.

While the Japanese, French, British, Germans and Australians are building important relationships, American business interests are forced to stand on the sidelines while our government continues to be mired in the past.

The mission of the Michigan contingent is to develop an economic relationship with the Viet namese people that will be ready for pursuing - once U.S. government officials come to their senses

Vietnam possesses the natural resources, labor pool and agricultural potential that make it an attractive partner.

The U.S. embargo has failed in its basic mis-

'Yes' vote urged

uch has been happening in education lately at the state level that will have a very significant impact on Wayne-Westland Community Schools.

As many of your readers know, it is basically on earthquake with aftershocks to roll on for the next decade — probably longer.

The one key ingredient that must be focused on now — immediately — is the funding plan that has been proposed by Gov. Engler.

In our last fiscal year, which ended last June 30, our budget was based on revenue generated by 47.12 mills. This fisal year, which began July 1, is based on revenue generated by 37.14 mills. The change in mills was caused by the overwhelming defeat of our 6-mill renewal proposal and Headlee Override on April 5.

We are now operating on 9.98 mills less than last year. We are also spending $6.5 million of our fund balance and another $400,00 we transfered to General Fund from our Building and Site Fund. We depleted these reserves to ensure as many programs as possible for our students

All of this funding explanation leads us to what the governor is recommending, especially his basic grant proposal. The basic grant is an amount of money districts get for each student. It will be based on the fiscal year revenues not expenditures. Even with all of the cuts we made, we are spending $6.9 million more than the revenue we have coming in.

His recommendations are also based on no more than a 2-percent increase in revenue for the next fiscal year. Remember, this is the only money we will receive since property taxes have been eliminated as a revenue source for schools. This year, we are receiving $671 less per pupil for a total loss in revenue of $10,978,000 from last year. If this becomes a permanent condition of revenue per pupil (by state law) from here to infinity, we will never be able to offer the programs we had last year. Never!

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 14, 1993.

ext Monday, Oct. 18, is a critical date for persons in the Wayne-Westland School District. Sixteen thousand students who cannot recapture their opportunity to learn and to grow during this school year are counting on your support.

The ballot proposal is a modest one. It is a one-year request to approve 6 operating mills that will allow the restoration of over $6 million dollars in programs and services for students this year.

Despite an elaborate public relations campaign by Gov. John Engler and some members of the state Legislature, please remember that no formal plan has been adopted for financing schools beyond this year:

While the rhetoric from the media coverage is often confusing and contradictory, our local need and our singular message remains crystal clear. We have cut over $13 million dollars from our budget this year. A small improvement in this year's state aid act will only replace approximately $2.5 million dollars of this revenue.

For one year, I ask you not to punish 16,000 students and their families here in Wayne-Westland for the inability of the state to provide funding for local schools in an equitable and timely manner. Ask yourself these two Michigan's government and business leadership must be applauded for looking beyond the blinding emotional issues left over from a war long past and toward a cooperative relationship that will benefit tens of millions on both sides of the Pacific.

November's trip is the first state-sanctioned group from the United States to visit the southeast Asian country. The contingent, led by Commerce Director Arthur Ellis, will visit a country of more than 70 million, 60 percent of whom have been born since 1975, the year Vietnam was unified.

Unfortunately for Michigan, which is in serious need of new business partners, our federal government's antiquated policy of economic embargo against the people of Vietnam prohision — to bring home POWs.

It has only been successful in causing untold suffering among millions of Vietnamese, mostly children who are unable to receive the most basic of health care or even enough food to eat. Approximately 50 percent of children in Vietnam suffer from malnutrition.

Seventy percent of the entire population is infected with malaria, which can lie dormant for years but can strike at any time. In Vietnam, the onset of a malaria attack often means death.

The U.S. embargo has included prohibitions on the sale of medical supplies and badly needed drugs. The country's population has nearly doubled since 1975, yet its ability to deal with that burgeoning population has been crippled because of our foreign policy.

That's scary.

So, what can we do about it?

We are in the process of contacting our elected officials in Lansing and imploring them to:

1. Base the grant on expenditures instead of revenues. (Remember we are spending $6.9 million more than we have coming in.)

2. Consider the highest per pupil revenue over the past three years for the basic grant.

Both of these solutions would have a positive impact on districts statewide because most disticts are depleting their fund balances. There is no guarantee the state will do either but all of our collective voices could make a difference so I'm asking your readers to contact their legislators as well.

What else can we do?

We can increase our revenue by passing the 6 mill proposal on Monday, Oct. 18. If we can get our revenue up, our basic grant will better reflect the programs we offer our students.

The Oct. 18 millage election is a much bigger election that we can ever imagine. I ask that your readers study this letter and the governor's questions:

Do the students in school this year deserve the right to a quality education, as did all those who came before them?

Who is responsible to provide that support this year?

Please remember that although today's students make up only approximately 25 percent of our population, they represent 100 percent of our communities' future.

The governor's new plan will provide state funding for our district for next year in the same amount as it was this year. A millage approval will guarantee us desperately needed additional funds from the state beginning next year. I hope you will support students and vote yes on Oct. 18.

POINTS OF VIEW

Education conservatives wear 'free market' mask

ohn Engler gets his school "reform" doetrine from the Mackinac Center for Public Policy, Midland. President Lawrence Reed describes its approach as "free market" rather than conservative or right wing.

Engler's Oct. 5 address to the Michigan Legislature uses much Mackinac Center verbiage: Both describe public schools as a "Berlin Wall" and "monopoly." They favor "choice" and "charter schools."

Mackinac Center is connected to a group called Teach Michigan Education Fund. The latter's president, Dr. Paul DeWeese, is on Mackinac Center's board of contributors.

Until recently, Teach Michigan was gung ho for a voucher system under which the state would pay every kid's parents a check to spend at any school — public, proprietary or church related.

Vouchers, of course, are specifically prohibited by the Michigan Constitution (Art. VIII Sec. 2). Moreover, our state constitution prohibits state "support of any minister of the gospel or teacher of religion" (Art. I Sec. 4).

To do a voucher system in Michigan would involve massive constitutional amendments. Mackinac Center, Teach Michigan and Engler didn't want to take on that chore. They'd never get the votes. The "parochiaid" referendum in the early 1970s demonstrated that.

Instead; Engler's message is a back door approach to parochiaid and vouchets for private schools. They call it "charter schools." A school district issues a charter to a private group to run, a school within the district's borders.

To self it, Mackinac Center, Teach Michigan and Engler, with a willing assist from Pat Robertson's fundamentalists, have launched a savage attack on public education. Engler used not only "Berlin Wall" but "gulag" and "company store" to describe public schools.

TIM RICHARD

Take Mackinac Center's'1991 volume, "Educational Choice for Michigan." Co-authors Reed and Lawrence Hutchinson blister public schools for turning out functional illiterates. They bash falling test scores from 1965 to 1980 (they rose from 1981 to 1985).

They cite the National Geographic Society's finding that young Americans have "an astonishing lack of awareness of the world around them." They say kids don't know math, science and other basics.

other basics. Mackinac Center identifies four factors separating good schools from bad: Student aptitutde — worth 1.5 years of achievement. School organization — worth.one year. Family background — one year.

Peer group Influence — a half year. At this point, the voucher gang —

At this point, the voucher gang let's scrap this "charter" sugarcoating — makes an enormous leap in logic: Kids aren't learning, therefore we must change the way schools are organized. The key sentence:

"Private schools, almost regardless of their circumstances, tend to be free from excessive central controls by administrators, boards and unions. The main reason appears to be market com petition."

Yippee! Just put the free market to work and presto! Kids will learn math and geography and other good things. Simply implement charter schools with no unions and no bureaucratic certification rules that would keep Lee lacocca from teaching, and everything will be hunky dory.

Sure, I've boiled down 89 pages of ideology and half of Engler's speech into a few paragraphs, but I have tried to do it honestly.

No sale. A slavish devotion to free market ideology won't turn bad schools into good. Adoring the tin god of Competition won't teach kids about theorems, valence charts and continental drift.

Rather, the voucher gang seems to be assuming what it set out to prove that private schools deserve public money — and it's maligning public schools in the process.

We elected Engler as a conservative, but we inaugurated an ideological hard liner.

Is being an "outsider" a really bad thing Mr. Thomas? If I want to work on fund-raising projects such as the DARE program, should I be told to go home? The business community pays about 36 percent of the city's taxes. Do you want outsiders not going to the Westland Mall and other businesses in the city?

Perhaps you should ask all businesses that do not support you to leave. Westland, along with their tax base! What about the policemen and firemen that have been actively campaigning for you, Mr. Thomas, have you been questioning them about their residency? I understand that many of them live outside the city.

ere comes the gravy train! No, not for you and I, but for the education bureaucrats and the unionized teachers.

A chance remark at a recent city council meeting led to the revelation.

that state funding to the Wayne-Westland schools will exceed the figure previously announced by school officials. This unexpected additional state fund ing will allow many program restorations to be made without the need to pass the huge 6-mill school tax increase scheduled for the Monday, Oct. 18, ballot.

Passage of the huge increase would create a vast pool of cash from which the education establishment could extract even greater salary and benefit in creases. Whole new layers of bureaucracy could then be laid down — with fully funded salaries and benefits!

Of course the school board could spend the new tax money on supplies and equipment for the kids, But will the school unions let them? No way! Not a chance! Most board members owe their elective positions to the school unions that helped put them on the board in the first place.

And we already know that if it comes down to pay raises for the unionized teachers or sports, band and busing for the kids, the kids always lose. So far, for the unionized education elites to get and keep their pay raises has been like taking candy from a baby.

So our state legislature has come to the rescue, And not a minute too soon. Lansing has paid a good part of the ransom note the school board sent the parents this summer.

A yes vote on the millage will only create a slush fund for the education bureaucrats and the greedy unions to feast on. We don't owe anyone a slush fund for salary and benefit increases.

So forget the lavish bureaucrats and vote no Oct. 18. Let's get on with the job of again making kids number one in Wayne-Westland.

we give our kids.

Every special interest in Michigan — small business, big business, property owners, second-home owners, senior citizens, teachers' unions — has come out in full cry this week after Gov. John Engler presented his message on education to a special session of the state Legislature.

Most comment so far has been self-interest-?" ed. The message: "Don't tax him. Don't tax me. Tax that fellow behind the tree!"

Fine. There will be plenty of time to debate tax policy. But we need to keep firmly fixed on the main outcome: what our kids learn and how they're prepared for the world of work.

It's here that Engler's message deserves the most praise and the most scrutiny.

To my mind, he gets full marks for his proposed report card for every school building. Including such information as test scores, staffto-pupil ratios, salary levels and percent of budget devoted to actual education, the report card idea offers parents essential information. It shouldn't get lost in the shuffle.

Nor should the governor's proposals to "reform" — by elimination, I suspect — the State Board of Education. For years, some members of the board have meddled, playing patron and micro-manager to various parts of the Department of Education. That's bad.

Worse, the board's power to select the superintendent of public instruction obscures responsibility and dilutes accountability. Let the superintendent be nominated by the governor and confirmed by the Legislature. And if the governor's appointee screws up the schools, blame the governor.

The part of Engler's plan that merits the most careful examination is his passionate belief that education will be improved by providing each child with a portable "foundation grant" and parents with the ability to move their children to better schools. I'm of two minds about this.

PHILIP POWER

Every special interest in Michigan — small business, big business, property owners, secondhome owners, senior citizens, teachers' unions — has come out in full cry this week after Gov. John Engler presented his message on education to a special session of the state Legislature.

Certainly, monopolies do not serve customers well, whether in business or in public services such as schools. Turning kids into customers by allowing them to take their money with them when they chose to attend a different school makes a whole lot of sense in theory.

But will it in practice? I wonder whether this portion of the governor's plan, so ideologically charged, will wind up affecting only a couple of thousand kids.

What may prove more fruitful is the idea of "charter schools" — schools started by any public body to meet a particular need. Imagine one at a Ford-UAW skills center for kids to learn high-tech manufacturing or one emphasizing history at Greenfield Village. Schools for kids with discipline problems have already gotten much support.

In any event, the schools as we know them in Michigan are certain to change. The key is to keep pushing to make that change for better education, not just better economics.

Ocelots remain atop Region 12

It was nerve-racking, at least for a while. Schoolcraft College had never trailed in a match this season until yesterday. For the first 30 minutes of the Ocelots' Region 12 soccer showdown against arch-rival Macomb CC, they played catch-up.

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

It came out of the blue - quite literally. Certainly the looping shot lofted into a clear blue sky by Macomb CC's Ben Craft, from more than 30 yards away, had no chance. It was just a cross, and it would carry much too far for any of his teammates to run un-

But Schoolcraft College keeper Matt Stabile had drifted out from the goal to cut down the angle. And suddenly he could see the ball going over him, behind him — into the net.

It was a different experience for both Stabile and SC. Thirteen previous opponents had scored only five goals against the Ocelots; not once had they trailed this season.

How would they react? "Our kids never put their heads down," answered SC coach Van Dimitriou, "even though they were momentarily shocked."

The Ocelots didn't waver from their game plan. They kept attacking, pressuring, relentlessly, and eventually it paid off in a 5-1 win that just about assures them of another NJCAA Region 12 championship.

"It just seems we wear teams down," was Dimitriou's key to the victory.

Sure, that's a big part of the Ocelots' success. But so is Fadi Bazzi. SC worked and pounded and finally scored twice in the first half to take the initiative away from the Monarchs. Bazzi made certain they never regained it.

Four minutes into the second half, Bazzi sprung Andy Cosenza on a break up the middle with a pass from the right sideline. Cosenza converted to increase SC's lead to 3-1.

The next two Ocelot goals were vintage Bazzi. After Macomb's Todd Schinzing drew his second yellow card (which put him on the sidelines and forced the Monarchs to play one man short), Bazzi drilled a rocket from 25 yards out that got in under the crossbar and over keeper Joseph Pittman.

Seven minutes later, Bazzi did it again, hammering a shot from 15 yards out that left Pittman no chance.

There was still 32 minutes to go in the match, and there are still five region matches ahead for SC, but it's all academic. The Ocelots will regain their region title and will once again head to the Inter-regional Tournament to try and qualify for the NJCAA Tournament, something they've done just once in Dimitriou's eight previous years as head coach.

Although Bazzi made fast work of the Monarchs in the second half, quickly ruining any comeback hopes, it was during the first half when the Ocelots trailed that they shined best. After the early goal, Macomb tried to concentrate on defense, but it was futile against SC's multiple weapons.

The tying score came in the 31st minute, A Tim Lampi corner kick reached Armando Andoni 15 yards in front of the near post. His dribbler reached Joe Perron, who re-directed it into the net ahead for good. A Tom Kuzak throwball into the net.

Game-winner: Vince Troiani (left) pounds what proved to be the winning goal past Macomb defender Todd Schinzing late in the first half. SC's 5-1 victory cushioned its lead in Region 12.

"We did what we had to do (early)," said Macomb coach Mick Lakatos, whose team could have tied SC for first in the region with a win. The early lead, however, wasn't enough: They're lethal. They're very dangerous up front."

No doubting that. SC, ranked sev-enth in the NJCAA, improved to 13-0-1 overall with the victory.

SATURDAY GAMES (all times 1 n.m. unless noted)

Liv. Churchill at Farm, Harrison, 12:30 p.m. The Hawks (4.0, 5-1), who clinched provestern Division title last week, will be to give coach John Herrington his 199th career victory. Harrison, ranked No. 5 in Class A, has won the division 11 of a possible 12 times. The lastplace Chargers (0-4, 0-6) are looking for their first win in their last 34 games. PICK: Herrington moves closer to No. 200

Seven minutes later, SC went in went to Vince Troiani, who did the rest, using his body to screen off a defender before turning, weaving past a lunging Pittman and punching the ties Association title.

With Birmingham Brother Rice out of the way, Redford Catholic Central is the favorite to win the Catholic League Central Division again. Garden City and Wayne Memorial hope to gain a share of their respective Mega Conference division honors.

As for the playoffs, Glenn, Harrison and CC are the best bets. Livonia Stevenson (with only one loss) is a strong possibility, and Redford Thurston, Garden City and Wayne - each with two losses — still have a chance.

In the prediction contest, it looks as if Dan O'Meara has little chance of catching Brad Emons, who was 13-2 last week and is 73-16 overall. O'Meara went 12-3 and slipped to 67-22.

FRIDAY GAMES (all times 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

W.L. Central at Liv. Stevenson: The Vikings (1-3, 3-3) rebounded from their loss to Farmington with a big win over North Farmington. But can they hang with the surprising Spartans? Stevenson (3-1, 5-1) needs a win to guarantee second place in the Lakes Division and keep its playoff chances afloat. PICK: Good things keep happening for these Spartans, too.

Farmington at Ply. Salem: The host Rocks (2-2, 3-3) were the latest team to receive a beating from mighty John Glenn but can move above .500 with a win this week. Salem is having a good year, considering it began with a lot of inexperi-enced players. The Falcons (1-3, 1-5) are more competitive but still trying to reach the next level. With a lot of young players, who tend to get better as the season goes on, Farmington is capable of winning. PICK: The Rocks grind out another

Taylor Kennedy at Garden City: The Cougars (3-1, 4-2) remain on the heels of Mega White Division leader Edsel Ford of ter brushing off Taylor Truman 27-8. Garden City just missed the playoffs last year and must win its last three to keep those win, 10-9. PICK: An RU win remains as elusive as the mysterious Milford panther.

Red. Thurston at Taylor Center: This Mega Blue Division game is important for both teams, which are tied for third place at 3-2. Both are 4-2 overall and need a win to maintain any playoff hopes. The ball should be in the air a lot since both are good passing teams. Taylor Center's Jason Bartos passed for 263 yards and two TDs in a 27-0 win over Crestwood. The Eagles were 12-0 winners over Mel vindale. PICK: Emons predicts a Taylor Center win: O'Meara calls it Thurston's way, Wayne Memorial at Belleville: The winner gets sole possession of second place in the Mega Red Division and re-mains in title contention, trailing firstplace Fordson by one game. Both teams are 3-1 in the Red and 4-2 overall. The Zebras had a four-game win streak stopped by Wyandotte, 27-22. The Tigers whipped Woodhaven 47-20 and have im proved since losing the season opener to Plymouth Salem. PICK: Emons goes with Belleville, but O'Meara sticks with Wayne.

Hamtramck at Clarenceville: The Hamtramck Cosmos (3-3) are staying in orbit with a 3-1 record in the Metro Con ference East, having defeated Harper Woods 12-7 in their last game. Clarenceville, 2.2 in the Metro West and 2-4 over-all, will try to rebound from a two-overtime loss to Lutheran East, 26-20. If this game ends like it did last year, the Trojans will forget about last week in a hurry; they destroyed Hamtramck 44-0 a year ago. PICK: The Cosmos enjoy a better result this time.

Bishop Borgess vs. Aquinas at Southgate Anderson: The Spartans (0-3, 0-6) remained winless but came close to getting their first win Saturday when they lost 19-18 to Benedictine. Borgess could strike paydirt this week when it plays Catholic Tri-Sectional foe Southgate Aquinas (2-1, 2-4). The Raiders defeated struggling Allen Park Cabrini 19-0. PICK: Emons favors Borgess in the upset; O'Meara will take Aquinas.

مجاملا مرام الداني حاكم أكان

Ply. Canton at Liv. Franklin: The Chiefs (2-2, 3-3) gave Harrison a battle last week before losing 28-21. Canton must win two of its last three games to improve on last year's 4-5 record. Frank-(in (1-3, 1-5) should be a good match for the Chiefs but will have to contain their passing attack. The Patriots, who won 28-0 last year, have fared well but lost to several quality opponents, including Harrison. PICK: The Chiefs display a potent offense.

Westland Glenn at N. Farmington: In past years, this rivalry has produced some bruising battles, but the Raiders (1-3, 1-5) will have their hands full with Glenn. The Rockets (4-0, 6-0) are ranked No. 3 in Class AA and have already clinched the Lakes Division for the sev enth time in nine years. PICK: The Rock ets remain on course.

Lutheran East at Luth. Westland: The host Warriors (1-3, 2-4) got their first Metro Conference West Division victory Saturday, 18-9 over winless Lutheran Northwest. The Metro East's Lutheran East (2-2, 3-3) edged Clarenceville 26-20 in two overtimes. PICK: The East Siders get the nod.

Redford CC at U-D Jesuit, 2 p.m.: The biggest obstacle facing the Shamrocks (2-0, 5-1) this week is a possible letdown after their 17-7 win over Brother Rice in the Boys Bowl. CC is in the driver's seat to win another Central Division title, but it can't take the last-place Cubs (0-2, 3-3) too lightly, PICK: The Shamrocks add a bear to the trophy list.

St. Agatha vs. St. Clement, 7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field: it doesn't get any easier for the Aggles (1-2, 3-3), who lost 40-0 to first-place Waterford Lakes in a Catholic C-Section game. They face another Class D power this week in Center Line St. Clement (2-1, 5-1). Quarterback Mike Dzikowski directs a fine passing at tack for the Crusaders, who whipped Shrine 32-0, PICK: St. Clement wins.

Ocelots swamp Lakeland, 8-1

The warm-ups went about as

 $2B \star$

expected: In other words, Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team had some, but not a lot, of difficulty handling Region 12 foe Lakeland CC Saturday. The Ocelots wore down the home team in the second half, scoring seven times in an 8-1 triumph.

Last Wednesday (Oct. 6), SC blanked non-region foe University of Toledo 5-0 at SC.

The two wins raised the record of the NJCAA's seventh-ranked Ocelots to 12-0.1 overall, 7-0 in the region going into Wednesday's match against the only team with a chance at preventing their capturing a region title — Macomb CC.

SC coach Van Dimitriou was impressed with Lakeland's performance, but still thought his team should have put the game away earlier. "(Lakeland) has good personnel, they just don't have the staying power," said Dimitriou. "And we were relentless going after them.

"Plus we missed some opportunities (in the first half) when we just didn't finish properly. But it was inevitable, really. We got it in gear a little bit later."

Midfielder Andy Cosenza accounted for the only goal in the first half, and it came just five minutes before the break. Fadi Bazzi assisted.

The second half was entirely different. The Ocelots put five goals in the Lakeland net in the first 20 minutes of the half. Bazzi scored three of them; the first two came after SC shots were deflected by Lakeland defenders. Bazzi finished a Cosenza shot in the 52nd minute and a Tim Lampi shot in the 57th minute.

Lampi took a Matt Lee pass and scored in the 63rd minute, and Bazzi made it 5-0 in the 65th minute on a cross from Armando Andoni. Vince Troiani scored in the 70th minute, and Matt Lividini drilled in two goals in a two-minute span (assists by Craig Hauswirth and Troiani) to complete SC's scoring.

Lakeland's only goal came on a penalty kick with two minutes remaining, awarded after SC sweeper Billy•Joker dragged down Lakeland's Paul Robb. Maro Gorgio converted the shot.

In the win over Toledo Oct. 6, the Ocelots scored twice in the first seven minutes, then lost their intensity. Bazzi scored at the five-minute mark on a cross from Troiani and Lividini got the second two minutes later following a steal.

After a halftime talk, the Ocelots recaptured their focus and scored three times. Troiani got the first with an assist from Adam Carriere in the 50th minute; Bill Binkiewicz made it 4-0 in the 83rd minute; and Hauswirth got the final goal in the 85th minute. Joe Perron assisted on the last two goals. Matt Stabile and Gordie Collins split time in goal for the sbutout.

struggling Ocelots

It was that kind of week. Nothing out of the ordinary. Madonna University's volleyball team won all of its matches and moved up in the NAIA's national rankings, and a Fighting Crusader collected top honors as District 23 player of the week — again.

This time it was Kari Van Deusen who cashed in. The 6foot-1 senior middle hitter from Waterford Mott and Schoolcraft College collected 55 kills (with a .465 kill percentage) and 51 digs in 11 games for Madonna, averaging five kills and 4.6 digs per game. She also had seven solo blocks and 28 block assists, with MADONNA wood University. After that came a district victory over Spring Arbor Thursday, then another district win at Tri-State University, 15-10, 15-6, 12-15, 15-4, last Friday.

Martin's 14 kills (.465) led the Crusaders against Tri-State. Mo Paulin (Livonia/Farmington Hills Mercy) had 11 (.333), Van Deusen 10 (.303) and Marci Laurencelle seven (.350). Pilut had 29 assists to kills in three games (9.7 per game); Laura Fisher (Wayne

Game of the week.

Last Saturday, everyone in the state would have stick that tag on the college football contest in East Lansing.

But that was a game without serious ramifications. Really. Both Michigan and Michigan State will end up in a bowl game, somewhere. But neither can win an NCAA title.

This Saturday's tussle — that's something else again. This game could indeed decide an NCAA championship.

It will take place in Big Rapids, and it will pit schools whose smaller-scale rivalry has become as heated in the past decade as U-M vs. MSU.

Ferris State, 5-0-1 overall, hosts 4-1-1 Grand Valley State. Both teams are 4-0-1 in the Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference; Ferris is ranked 10th in the NCAA II, Grand Valley is 12th.

The winner will have the inside track toward an NCAA II playoff berth. Ferris is third and Grand Valley fourth in the Northeast Region poll.

I keep thinking about it," said Erit. Stover, a Westland John Glenn graduate who will be in a pivotal position come Saturday – quarterbacking for Grand Valley. "Anything I do, this comes to mind. It's going to be a big game. People come up to you that you don't even know and ask you about it.

"This game can make or break us. If we don't win, we'll have to win every game and hope they lose."

Not an enviable position. But even though Ferris State — which qualified for the NCAA II playoffs last year thanks in great part to a shocking 23-0 whitewash of Grand Valley in Allendale—has the home field advantage, it won't mean much.

Last year's upset by the Bulldogs wasn't the first in the series. Indeed, the last time Ferris cashed in on its home field advantage against Grand Valley was '984.

Knowing that is a boon to Stover, a junior who spent two years as the starting quarterback at Grand Rapids Junior College before enrolling at Grand Valley in January.

"I think it will help some," he said. "We'll go in there and know what we have to do . . . we just have to play smart. Ferris has that regular-season win streak to think about.

"I think there's more pressure on them." Stover has been dealing with pressure throughout his athletic career, from Glenn's regional final loss to Birmingham Brother Rice in 1990 to his NJCAA bowl games with Grand Rapids, It's been no different at Grand Valley; Stover did not win the starting quarterback job initially. It wasn't until the third game at Northwood University that he took over.

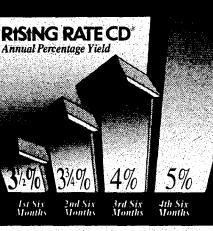

The change has worked wonders. The Lakers are 3-0-1- under Stover's guidance, and he leads the MIFC in passing efficiency. Stover has completed 54 of 108 passes (50 percent) for 808 yards, with nine touchdowns and six interceptions.

Still, he's far from satisfied. He figures he'll have to do better Saturday to beat Ferris. "We're going to have to play smart," Stover said. "We'll have to control the ball and keep their offense off the field.

"For me, personally, I'm going to have to lead the offense because it all starts with the quarterback. That's what coach (Brian Kelly) has been getting on me about — make good decisions.

Van Deusen was the third Crusader in a row to be named district player of the week. Julie Martin, a freshman middle hitter from Livonia Stevenson, was the first; Mazie Pilut, a senior setter from Redford Bishop Borgess, was next.

Madonna started the week with a win over non-district foe NorthMemorial) had 10 assists.

Paulin's 15 digs led the defense; Van Deusen and Julie Wood (Schoolcraft) had 14 apiece.

The win over Tri-State was Madonna's fourth-straight against district competition. The Crusaders were ranked fourth in the NAIA in the latest poll, released Monday.

The Lady Ocelots, forced to forfeit eight match wins earlier this season for using an ineligible player, have not been able to right themselves since. They traveled to the Jefferson College Tournament in Hillsboro, Mo., last weekend and lost their first three matches before rallying to win their final four.

SC is now 9-17 overall, 2-4 in the conference.

"It's not good," admitted SC coach Tom Teeters, "It's still not the right lineup. We don't have enough attack from the outside.

"We just didn't have that much offense (against Henry Ford). If we had more of an offense, I think we would have been more inspired."

At the eight-team Jefferson College Tournament, SC started abysmally, losing all three of its matches Friday. Southwestern Michigan College (Dowagiac) ripped the Ocelots 15-4, 15-2, in both teams' opener; Barton County CC (Great Bend, Kan.) followed with a 16-14, 15-7 triumph; and host Jefferson finished a poor day for SC with a 10-15, 15-6, 15-13 victory.

Saturday was better for the Ocelots. They topped Johnson County CC (Overland Park, Kan.) 15-7, 15-8; Illinois Central College (East Peoria) 15-8, 7-15, 15-10; Miami-Dade South 15-8, 15-4; and Lake Michigan 15-2, 15-7.

As far as first-year Livonia Ladywood swimming coach Randy Ferguson knows, Saturday's championship at the Marine City Relays was the first in the program's four years.

Ladywood won with 148 points, 10 better than second-place St. Clair Shores. Ferguson said the 12 Blazers' seniors, who were part of the first Ladywood team in 1990-91, deserve credit.

Chargers clinch Churchill stops Pats for division title

BY BRAD EMONS

The rematch is set with the estern Lakes Activities Association boys soccer championship at stake on Oct. 20

Livonia Churchill wrapped up the Western Division title Wednesday night with a hardfought 1-0 victory over city rival Franklin.

The Chargers, who finished 3-0-2 in divisional play, get another crack this Wednesday against Lakes Division champion Livonia Stevenson. (Game time is 7 p.m. at Stevenson).

"We can't wait, our guys are looking forward to it," said Churchill first-year coach John Boots, whose team tied the Spartans 1-1 on Oct. 4: "I think Stevenson will be just as positive as we are. It may not be pretty, but it will be a typical high school match. It will be intense.'

Churchill earned the divisional crown on a goal by Charlie Roberts with only 10:46 left off an indirect free kick. He beat Franklin goalkeeper Scott Simpson from only 10 yards out. Goran Rauker started the play with a touch pass and Roberts found room just outside a wall of Franklin players to score the game's lone goal. Churchill was awarded the free kick when Franklin defender Adam DeShano was called for a dangerous foul.

"He got pushed and fell on top of the ball," Franklin firstyear coach Mary Kay Hussey. "It was a good call. They had to call something. In fact, it was the best-called game we've had all year.'

Had the Patriots connected on any of their three golden scoring chances in the opening seven minutes, they may have won the divisional crown.

Franklin needed a win and got the help it needed when Northville lost to Plymouth Canton, 4-1.

With the loss, the Patriots tumbled all the way down to fifth place. The final standings read: 1. Churchill, 3-0-2; 2. Plymouth Canton, 3-2-0; 3. Northville, 2-1-2; 4. Walled Lake Western, 2-2-1; 5. Franklin, 2-2-1; 6. Farmington Harrison, 0-5-0.

"I thought we played very, very well, the best gameplayed all season," said Hussey, whose team is 6-5-2 overall. "We had a bunch of good chances all game long, but we just didn't finish inside of 18 yards.

"But Churchill is a good team, very disciplined. They're very fast.'

Sophomore goalie Brian Stramecki sparkled for the Chargers. He robbed Marty Smith early in the game.

"He came up big and set the tone, it gave us confidence,' said Boots, whose team is 9-2-4 overall. "That team (Franklin) has more heart than any we've played this year. They just keep coming. I'm real'impressed." Churchill was able to hold Franklin's two dangerous offensive threats, Victor Rodopoulos and Jason Buelow, in check for the most part. 'Those are two great players," Boots said. "We put Kevin Callaway, our best marking back, on Victor, but he still had the ball in dangerous situations."

RU girls rule Franklin Relays

The Redford Union girls cross country team captured Saturday's Franklin Relays, held at Nankin Mills in Hines Park.

The Panthers won the mile course with a combined time of 46 minutes, eight seconds. Westland John Glenn came in second place (47:44), followed, by Livonia Churchill (48:11) and Livonia Franklin (50:56).

The Rockets' Shannon Porter and RU's Kelly Lyons tied for the fastest quarter-mile time (2:59). Churchill's Tracey Parker turned in the fastest mile time (6:08) with RU's Kelly Kohler taking second (6:22). The best two-mile time came from RU's Michelle Biknell and Glenn's Michelle Moiltor, both of whom finished in 13:42

Glenn's Gretchen Schroeder posted a 3:01 leadoff half-mile leg, while teammate Tina Moore recorded the third fastest mile (6:30).

Shamrocks win division

Redford Catholic Central

clinched its 15th-straight Catholic League Central Division championship Monday with a 25-30 victory over Warren DeLaSalle at Cass Benton Park.

The Shamrocks are 5-0 overall. 4-0 in the Central Division. They have not lost a Central Division dual meet since 1990.

CC ran without Mark Leo, who coach Tony Magni is hoping to save for Saturday's Sturgis Invitational.

"This was good for us, because the kids know they can win without Mark and hopefully we'll be better when he gets back," Magni said. "There was no use taking a chance on him in duals. We'd rather have him in the Catholic League and regional.' DeLaSalle's Phil Sobeck had the best time on the course (16:26). But the Shamrocks' Joe Leo took second place (16:38) and teammates Phil Camilleri (17:16). Matt Scrozynski (17:17) and Bri an Smith (17:18) placed fourth through fifth, respectively.

Jeremy Short was eighth

(17:23), Mike Danic 11th (17:32) and Derrick Faunce 13th (17:56). Warriors lose dual Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook, behind the first place finish of Nicholas Iles (16:05), defeated Lutheran High Westland in a Metro Conference dual meet Tuesday at Hines Park, 19-36. Brad Polkinghorne led the Warriors (4-1) with a second place time of 17:32. Cranbrook took five of the first six spots. Rounding out Lutheran Westland's contingent was Jon Schmoll, seventh (18:11); Sam Patterson, eighth (18:23); Kyle Kopper, ninth (18:24); and Phil Kimmel, 10th (18:56).

Falcons top Ladywood

On Tuesday, Dearborn Divine Child (4-0) outpaced Livonia Ladywood (3-2) in a Central Division dual meet at Cass Benton, 15-48.

Junior Sarah Dixon and sophomore Julie Browne finished sixth and eighth, respectively, in 22:21 and 22:52

Walos sparks Shamrocks' victories

Rich Walos continues to carry the scoring load for the stateranked Redford Catholic Central's boys soccer team.

The senior All-Area forward had three goals Monday, including a penalty shot, as the No. 9 Shamrocks (9-2-3 everall) downed host Mount Clemens Chippeway Valley, 3-1.

Walos now has 14 goals and 12 assists on the season.

Dan Mulvihill and Adam Borchert drew assists in the non-league win. Matt McGivney was the winning goaltender. On Saturday, CC traveled to Toledo St. Francis and game away with a 4-1 triumph as Walos and Jamie Heitert each had a goal and two assists. Mulvihill and Matt Kopmeyer also scored for the winners.

Mike Kokoszka, Jeremy Podolak and McGivney shared time in goal.

Up next for the Shamrocks is Central Division showdown Saturday against host Warren De-LaSalle (1 p.m. start). CC is 5-0-3 in the division, while the Pilots are 6-1-1.

STEVENSON 1, CANTON 0: Jeff Urbats scored the game's only goal 18 minutes into the second half Monday, giving state-ranked Livonia Stevenson (9-1-3) Western Lakes crossover victory the over visiting Plymouth Canton (6-8-1). Nick Deren assisted on Urbats' goal for the No. 5 Spartans.

Mo Lanspeary sparkled in the Stevenson goalie

Coach Walt Barrett believes he has the best one-two punch, and maybe even three-four punch, among keepers.

Jim Grewe was in goal in a.2-2 tie against Country Day, while Aaron Racey shut out Walled Lake Western during his stint in a 4-1 win. Forward Joe Dapkus is also talented enough to play goal. FRANKLIN 2, FARMINGTON 0; On Monday; Livonia Franklin (6-4-2) beat the visiting Falcons for the second time this year in a WLAA crossover. Mick Schmidt scored on a throw-in from Dave Binkiewicz with nine minutes remaining to give Franklin the vic-

Victor Rodopoulos scord on a rebound off a shot from teammate Corey Berzac to close out the scoring with four minutes to play.

Franklin goalie Scott Simpson, with help from Jason Buelow and sweeper. back Dan Kulick, posted the shutout. CHURCHILL 10, HARRISON 0: Charlie Roberts had the hat trick as Livonia Churchill ran its overall record to 8-2-4 with a WLAA-Western Division victory Monday at Farmington Harrison (stopped because of the mercy rule). Mark Harper added two goals for the winners. Goalies Brian Stramecki and Mark Zathey also scored for Churchill.

The win increased Churchill's divisional mark to 3-0-1 human appeal that non-Catholics will appreciate as well. Each scene creates tension and defines the characters which furthers the story.

Director Judie Rosati finds the delicate balance necessary to plant tension or laughter within the audience, all the while maintaining a brisk pace - a difficult task when directing a conflict and warmth between a priest comfortable in his knowledge that he is beloved by his parish, and a young seminarian whose ideals clash with impatience to change the values of the people.

Father Tim Farley is performed with excellence by Ralph Rosati. Rosati's expressions often tell more of the story than the script, an important element in getting to know and believe in a character.

Early in the show, Father Farley is listening to and revising his taperecorded sermon. As he reminisces about his early street corner sermons, the recorded words "I haven't been as close to Christ since" trouble the Father.

Rosati's troubled expression in this scene sets up the rest of the show as it indicates that Father Farley is no

Humor also abounds in "Mass Appeal." As young Mark Dolson has become a deacon, he is told by Father Farley to step into the "rehearsal pulpit" for a few pointers.

In one scene, Mark, played with humor and intelligence by Kirk Hanley, speaks of his Catholic upbringing. His second grade teacher had read "The Gospel According to Peanuts" to the class. Hanley's dry interpretation of the character is enjoyed as he believed that "Jesus was a beagle.'

Hanley's performance is terrific. At times, however, Hanley's technique of facing the audience full front too often, rather than relating to his fellow. actor, detracts from the communication between the two characters. It does work to the play's advantage days Simply put, "Demolition Man" is the best time I've had at a truly bad movie this year.

It's 2032. An earthquake has finally leveled Southern California and paved the way for the peaceful, but dull megalopolis of San Angeles. Murder has been wiped out, along with everything else deemed bad for you — cigarettes, caffeine, alcohol, salt, and even Police officers now shrink from violence, which makes it all the more difficult to deal with Simon Phoenix (the ever-watchable Wesley Snipes), a super-villain literally put on ice in the 1990s who escapes the deep freeze.

Only one man can stop him -Stallone's John Spartan, the hotheaded LA cop who put Phoenix . away in the first place. The prison system froze him when his apparent carelessness led to the deaths of hostages, and now, 40 years lat-er, they put him back in uniform.

REVIEWS

This big budget battle of good and evil eventually leads underground, where free-thinking radicals cling to old-fashioned all-American vices like hamburgers and muscle cars. If this isn't strange enough, Stallone falls for the female officer (Sandra Bullock) you just know will turn out to be his daughter in the inevitable "Demolition Man" sequel. (While Stallone does his most convincing acting while encased in a large block of ice, Snipes has great time playing the bad guy. Outfitted with blond hair, a blue eye, and attitude to spare, he energizes the movie and makes you forget how shakey this roller coaster really is.

Take the running gag about profanity, which has also been outlawed in the future. Whenever you swear, an omnipresent machine issues a ticket and a verbal warning. After while, as the action grows more and more intense, characters can cuss a blue streak without consequence.

But "Demolition Man" isn't about logic or even about the forseeable future. Like most science fiction, it's a reaction to events today, specifically about our fear not only of police brutality; but also our fear of a world without it.

serious social discussion Any ends here in a flurry of explosions and car chases

To his credit, first-time director Marco Brambilla stages some excellent fight scenes, pitting Snipes' convincing martial arts moves against Stallone's still-im-pressive bulk. Moreover, this former TV commercial director has managed to work in product endorsements in the cleverest and most shameless ways possible.

Imagine the feeding frenzy among ad execs when it was announced that old TV advertising jingles would now become the stuff of oldies' stations circa 2032. The Jolly Green Giant and Oscar Meyer wieners are just two of the big winners.

And we can only guess the price tag paid by Taco Bell to become the one restaurant which, according to the movie, came out on top after the "food franchise wars" of the early 21st century. Now all restaurants are called Taco Bell. Most critics will crucify "Demolition Man" and they'll be justi-

."It was a Saturday morning at the Hollywood Presbyterian Church, an open casting call for the part of Elly May," recalls Spheeris. "Over 250 girls showed up to read; some were ideal for the role, and some were obviously inappropriate. But what I got that day was proof that everybody loves the Clampetts. Everybody wanted to be part of the 'Beverly-Hillbillies' spirit.'

For Tomlin, who plays the impossibly efficient Jane Hathaway, the same discovery came a little later. "We'd be filming on Sunset Boulevard in the Clampett's jalopy," the actress recalled, "and you could see the affection on people's faces as they watched us drive by. Factory brings supplier closer to Ford

Auto makers and their suppliers continue to forge new relationships. Each wants to squeeze the best return on the dollar without antagonizing the other or breaking the business bond. Here's why one national supplier set up a small operation here.

BY DOUG FUNKE STAFF WRITER

Drivers of Ford series F trucks built during the past year and Ford Escorts that have come off the line since August don't have to look far to give a big thumbs up or point the finger of blame

That's because audio speakers on those models received a final assembly attachment and one more quality control test at a small Livonia facto-

International Jensen, a publicly owned company headquartered in Illinois, opened a value-add facility here in August of 1992 to get closer to its automotive base. Previously, entire speaker systems were assembled and tested in Lumberton, N.C., then shipped directly to Ford plants in Wayne for installation.

Things have gone reasonably well since the detour, said Dick Heinisch, Jensen's Livonia plant manager.

"This operation is an experiment . to see if we can satisfy our customers and respond to their needs quicker," he said. "The success we have is very tight control over inventory Since August, when final assembly of Escort speaker parts was moved here, production/shipping jobs in the Livonia facility have increased to 22 from eight.

Workers now put finishing touches - brackets, grilles, flanges — on about 110,000 speakers every week, double the production before the Escort piecework arrived. The potential exists for even more work and upwards of 10 more jobs in Livonia if the plant completes a long application process and wins Q1 status from Ford to supply speakers for a new minivan. "Our documentation is this high," said Heinisch, holding his hand three feet above the floor. "It's detailed, and subjective as well. It's something we've worked on for a year now

Jensen established a sales office in the metro area in 1986 and moved to Bingham Farms a year later. Previously, independent sales reps cultivated clients for the firm, Heinisch said.

"Our competitors are American and Japanese companies," said Jim Ross, vice president of sales and marketing for original equipment manufacturing at Jensen

"What's unique about us is we make our own components - magnets in Dallas, speaker cones in Lumberton, bracket housing in Punxsutawney, Pa.," he said

Credit unions Members to celebrate power of partnership through the door, I work for you. We've made changes on the basis of what one member had to say when he walks through the door,' said Jeffries, also chairman of the dustry continues to grow slowly but steadily — credit unions.

Survey after survey indicates members are satisfied with their credit unions while the stability and growth of credit unions are the envy of the financial world.

"For over 40 years, credit union members have set aside a day to celebrate their history and philosophy," said Ken Bixby, president/ CEO of the Southfield-based Michigan Credit Union League.

On Thursday, Oct. 21, Michigan Credit Union League will join credit unions around the world in celebrating International Credit Union Day.

This year's theme, "Credit Unions: The Power of Partnership," communicates that members, through credit unions, have the power to strengthen the financial future of their families and communities. Consider that 88million members from 41.777 credit unions appreciate how credit unions work to improve the quality of their lives, Bixby said.

Marty Hansen general manager

"We offer a full package of ser-— from savings, checking, vices holiday savings, certificates of deposit, retirement accounts," said Marty Hansen, general manager of the Bloomfield Hills School Employees Credit Union, which has 2,275 members.

The credit union is open to employees of all schools in the Bloomfield Hills school district, both public and private, and their families.

"We're 36 years old and we still have many charter members, said Hansen, also a chapter chairman of the Oakland County Chapter of Credit Unions.

We are owned by our depositors. We're here for service, not profit. We offer a competitive package for loan service. We help the person - offering financial counseling if needed. We keep in-financial opportunities for consumers such as convenient savings plans, credit cards, home mortgages and low-cost consumer loans

The purpose of International Union Week is to renew Credit. the credit union movement's commitment to the future --- the com-mitment to invest in the needs of their members rather than the highest profit to be made.

To mark the special recognition week, Co-Op Services Credit Union is adding up the money it would've spent on advertising and throwing a party for its 47,000 members in five branch offices, including Westland and Livonia.

"Our members own their credit union. We are there to serve them," said Jim Jeffries, senior vice president of the marketing department for the 40-year-old credit union.

"You can serve in a voluntary capacity on the board of directors. You have a strong say in what goes on. Anytime you walk

Co-Op Services is open to members of Cooperative Services Inc.. a consumer co-op started during the Great Depression.

"Ninety five percent of our members come from a 50-mile radius," said Jeffries, whose office is in Dearborn.

Many credit unions offer memhers extended business hours through membership in Family Service Centers, which has 19 locations open weekdays to 7:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

In Michigan, credit unions serve 3.6 million members and hold over $12 billion in assets. One out of every three people in the state is a member of a credit union. The Michigan Credit Union League, founded in 1934 and based in Southfield, is the primary trade association representing credit unions in Michigan.

A MESSAGE TO MICHIGAN'S SMALL BUSINESSES:

IF YOU'RE THINKING OF SELF-FUNDING YOUR COMPANY'S HEALTH PLAN, THINK TWICE.

At Blue Cross Blue Shield of Michigan, we know there can be advantages to self-funding. In fact, we administer group plans for hundreds of companies that self-fund. But selffunding is not right for everyone. There can be pitfalls, especially for smaller companies.

While large companies often take the risk of. paying their own health insurance claims, small companies may be on thin ice that can crack under the weight of a single catastrophic illness

So-called third party administrators (TPAs) will try to sell you on self-funding-but there's something they may not tell you. Once you self-fund, it can be financially difficult to return to an insured plan. Why? You end up paying claims still coming in under the self-funded plan, as well as premiums and start-up costs for a new plan, all at the same time.

The bottom line? If you're thinking of self-funding, think twice. Remember that self-funders are at risk for all claims. This can work for you or against you. Go over the numbers carefully and talk with your staff and advisors. If you're still interested, and you have at least 100 employees, talk to us.

THERE'S ADDED VALUE IN USING THE BLUES' ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES.

While TPAs may offer lower prices, you must consider the costs they may leave you to pay. With the Blues, stop-loss coverage automatically protects you when your claims dollar limit is reached. We don't cancel people who are higher risks. We guarantee renewability. We won't nickle-and-dime you for expenses beyond basic claims services, as some may do. And most importantly, our unique agreements with hospitals, physicians, and other professional providers bring you savings that TPAs can't match.

Finally, Blues administrative services include everything you need, from I.D. cards and benefit books to cost management and fraud detection. We process claims quickly and accurately. And, of course, there's the comfort of carrying a Blue Cross Blue Shield card, recognized everywhere.

For more information about our administrative services for self-funded plans or other options from Blue Cross Blue Shield and Blue Care Network of Michigan, call your local independent insurance agent or a Blue Cross Blue Shield sales representative.

"If self-funding is right for you, consider the added value of Blues administrative services."

to minimal risk for this Livonia resident. Her two grandmothers were in their 90s and neither they, her mother nor anyone else in her family had ever had breast cancer.

Durand herself was only 31 and had two young daughters. Even so, she conducted breast self maminations fairly regularly.

"I can't say that I was consistent," she said. "I might have skipped a month or two. But I was very conscious of breast exams and I was very conscious of my breasts and watching them

"ButIhad really no reason to think. it might happen to me. It wasn't like I had a parent or a sister or somebody else that there was a reason for watching as close."

Not so, according to the Michigan Cancer Foundation. While the risk of developing breast cancer increases if a first-degree relative has had it, 90 percent of women who get breast cancer have no family history of the disease.

Then one day, some time after Durand's last self-exam, "it just happened that my 3-year-old sat on my lap and leaned back and hit my breast and it felt tender. I rubbed it and I kind of feltalump

Neither she nor her husband, Larry, had never noticed it before and he urged her to go to the doctor to have it checked. Because an ultrasound revealed a solid lump that was well-con-tained and well-defined, it was thought not to be serious.

The surgeon Durand saw next was not alarmed and believed she could wait a month, if she wished, to have the lump removed and biopsied. "My worst fears were that it was cancer," Durand said. "I just had that gut feeling and something just told me that this is something we should take care of and that we shouldn't wait. It's a good thing that I didn't.'

Even after the lump was removed, "the doctor didn't feel that it was any thing to worry about," said Durand. "But the results didn't come back that way.

Durand's worst fears were confirmed with the diagnosis of cancer and like playing Russian roulette?

This year, there will also be a specific day to focus attention on the need for regular mammograms and to encourage millions of American women to receive or make a commitment to receive screening mammography. Tuesday, Oct. 19, has been chosen as the first National Mammography Day.

"I've had a lot of friends who never Durand's two younger sisters now have mammograms regularly because ofher situation.

Admittedly, things were pretty tough for a while.

Oct. 19: A day for women only

By DIANE HANSON SPECIAL WRITER

Take a room of 30 women and try to figure out which 10 will develop breast. cancer. Or, perhaps, get a little more personal. Line up eight women and make one of them a sister, a friend, a mother, a wife or maybe vourself. Now try to figure out which one of those women will develop breast cancer in her lifetime.

A little too close for comfort? A little Awareness of such facts is exactly what a coalition of breast cancer organizations hopes to achieve during October's annual Breast Cancer Awareness Month. This year, in the state of Michigan alone, almost 7,000 women will be diagnosed with breast Early detection of breast cancer by cancer. Nearly 2,000 will die of breast cancer this year.

Nationally, that figure is a staggering 46,000 women's lives snuffed out as a direct result of breast cancer.

This year, to call attention to the benefits of early detection, the coalition is promoting the first National Mammography Day to be held Tuesday, Oct. 19. As part of that day's activities, some area facilities will be offering low-cost mammograms.

"I think this is going to be an annual event," said Rob Schweers, Michigan more women are getting mammograms now than ever before. "we still have a long way to go in educating all women, especially those in low income groups and medically underserved populations who often times have an increased mortality for breast cancer.

Area facilities offering reduced cost. mammograms Oct. 19 include the Farmington Medical Arts X-Ray Clinic in Farmington (471-0675) and the McAuley Health System in Plymouth (454-983O) and Ypsilanti (572-5900). While St. Mary Hospital in Livonia (591-2922) will not be participating, it does have a grant providing free mammograms, year-round for women over 50 with inadequate health insurance. They must also meet certain other criteria ers in small groups, so turns can come around fast. "I can't help it if I'm a little clumsy." It may seem that where there are young children you can expect spills, falls, breaks and so on. But remember, fine and large motor skills are being developed and challenged. Coordination is at work here.

"I can't express my feelings well." Chlidren may bite, scream and kick because they don't have the words to express their feelings. Help by saying to children, "Please use your words," or help by giving them the words.

"I can't reason well." Most young children can't think in terms of right and wrong or cause and effect. Many times little children will just do it! They are basically subjective thinkers rather than being objective. Feelings are foremost.

"I can't outthink you." Because their past experiences are few, young children aren't as capable of making comparisons or seeing beyond the present. They are trusting and become confused when adults send mixed messages. Therefore, "be fair with me because you are the adult."

"I can't succeed if you set me up." Help children to be successful, not to fail, by giving them responsibilities and duties they can be successful at doing. Again, children should be able to trust adults to assess their skill levels and work within them as they relate to individual needs. Techniques and methods of applying learning skills should be in sync with their ability to learn.

On the fashion scene, the look of the '70s with a '90s twist is coming on strong. So it only stands to reason that hairstyles also reflect the shift to a softer, more romantic look.

But don't go get your hair cut in the gypsy shag, so popular back then. Today's shaggy look is more rounded as opposed to the '70s blunt layered style. The crown is longer and there's more free cutting with the revival of the razor cut.

"It's because the '70s look has hit really strong the last few years and people are making more of a statement with their clothing," said stylist Nadwa Yono Breda of Livonia.

Shags can be any length, but more and more this season, the move is to shorter hair. The razor cut reigned until the '70s when it was replaced by the precision scissor cut. Now back in vogue, the razor cut shag has different lengths to the layers.

It fits the head with a very soft, casual whispy look that can be styled many different ways," Breda said. "With the razor cut, they can have longer sideburns and longer hair on the neck.'

Spring and summer styles saw the start of short hair, but it's really in for the fall and winter. Along with the shag, the inverted bob is popular.

"The bob bas gradual layering," Breda said. "It's very dramatic; it's stacked and blended so there's no separation, no lines. Everything is blended."

With a bang: Virginia models an inverted bob with a stacked neck. The bangs are cut short, blunt and heavy in a shorter length giving the classic cut a fresh look.

Barb Isserstedt, client service representative for the department of radiology at the Arbor Health Building in Plymouth, said appointments for Oct. 19 are "almost all filled up." However, appointments for the reduced-cost mammograms are still available at the Washtenaw Medical Arts Building in Ypsilanti.

"The objective of this program is to really try to get women who may not have been having mammograms up to this point, either to come in for a low cost mammogram or to make an appointment to have a mammogram another day," said Isserstedt. "Just to increase awareness among women of the importance of mammography for the early detection of breast cancer."

Schweers emphasized that "if all women followed the screening guidelines set forth by the National Cancer Institute, breast cancer mortality would decrease by 30 percent immediately, even if all the research stopped, even if everything else stopped.

Those guidelines are monthly breast self-examinations for all women beginning in their teenage years at the onset of menstruation, a baseline mammogram by age 40 (younger if there is a history of breast cancer), a mammogram every other year for women ages 40 to 50 and every year for women 50 and older.

Last year, a Canadian study brought up concerns about the danger of radiation from mammography itself.

Odds are . . .

"With the techniques that we use now, the amount of radiation is very minimal," Mizzi said. "You have to try to put it in perspective. I think the odds that are quoted now are that women are at risk of one in eight of developing breast cancer sometime during their lifetime. It has been estimated that the theoretical risk of developing a cancer from the radiation of the mammogram itself is like one in a million. So, to me, Schweers added: "You want to. make sure that wherever you go to get a mammogram that the equipment is accredited by the American College of Radiology. That's the standard. Most places in this area are up to code.

The Cancer Information Service, sponsored by the National Cancer Institute, has a list of all accredited facilities. They also have a list of all facilities registered to participate in the lowcost mammograms on Oct. 19. Individual facilities may also be contacted directly. It's important to have the name of a doctor here the results can be sent.

There are also special programs available through the Oakland County and Wayne County Health Departments for women who cannot afford the low-cost mammography.

"Whatever it takes," said Schweers. "Some people can afford to pay half so they pay half. Some people can't afford to pay any, but no one is turned away from mammography services.

'Right now, the best way to detect breast cancer and to get it in its earliest, most treatable stages is through mammography, a doctor's exam and breast self-examination.'

Now 35, she leads a very active life with her husband and daughters, Andrea, 9, and Kimberly, 6. This fall, she will be starting in the nursing program at Henry Ford Hospital.

Early detection

Dr. Maureen Fleming, an obstetrician/gynecologist, stressed the fact "that breast cancer is a lot more treatable, if it is picked up early." Fleming, on staff at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia and William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, recently opened an office in Canton.

"If we can increase women's awareness of the importance of breast self-exam. I'd be happy,' she said. "I would also like women to understand the recommendations for mammographic screening; a baseline exam some-her last child," Fleming said. "I asked her to go for her first mammogram. She was kind of reluc-tant to do that." The neighbor did get the mam-mogram, probably because "she was afraid that since I lived next door to her I'd get on her case," Fleming said. The early stage of breast cancer was detected and she was treated with a lumpectomy and radiation.

"It really was very fortunate that, by chance, she decided to go in," Fleming said. "A lot of women will have mammogram recommended to them and they just don't follow through.'

Even women who find a lump on self-exam often have difficulty in seeking treatment, according to Fleming A lot know it's something dangerous but experience denial and say, "Oh, it will go away.

Fortunately, Durham found her tumor just this summer by doing a breast self-exam. Yet, even with her history she still experienced denial.

'When I first felt it, I thought, 'Why did I do this? If I wouldn't have done this I wouldn't have felt it and maybe it wouldn't have been there.' I think there is that kind of logic, but it doesn't mean that it will go away."

Durham knew that was the kind of logic that kills women. Once again, because of early detection, the prognosis was good. Durham was thankful for her modified treatment. "I think part of it. too, is that you have to have a positive attitude, a very positive attitude." she said. "You can't let this get you down. You need to go through this and you know you keep telling yourself you're going to lick this.

"Even though the chemotherapy kind of makes you dragged out, it's well worth six months of this versus the rest of your life.'

What advice would these women give to others who have not had a baseline or regular mammograms and don't perform monthly self-examinations?

"Early detection is the key to survival," added Durand. "I know that. I feel like I am alive today because of it.

Even bangs are shrinking as eyebrows become more prominent. Don't look to hide your eyes behind long bangs or cast coy looks from behind lanky, misplaced locks of hair. The in look is bangs that come to an abrupt halt at mid-forehead.

"Accenting brows, enlarging eyes and highlighting cheek bones, bangs are becoming a cornerstone in fall and winter fashion," Breda said. "The new bang has many different variations, but most often being worn much shorter, fringy or blunt, for a fresher, more gamine look."

That's not to say, that longer bangs won't be found this season. Those that do turn up will be very texturized with the razor cut, giving them a more whispy look.

As for the color, well, that's something Breda knows a lot about. One of the top hair color artists in the metropolitan area, she divides her time between the Ron Daniels Salon in Farmington and working as a training stylist for Joico products.

She also has done several guest spots on local TV talk shows and was one of the official hairdressers for Miss Michigan for the 1992 Miss America pageant.

look while eyebrows step to the forefront. Very high, defined eye-brows — the "plucked" look are the rage this year.

And with a little of this and a little bit of that, those short hairstyles can be dressed up for evening soires. Breda uses an ice gel on wet hair. When it dries, the hair can be fluffed for a fuller look. Using a polisher can give the hair a nice shine and separate strands for a whispy look.

"You can primp up a crown a little bit by teasing . . . yes, we're back to teasing, but it's a lot more softer and more polished look than back then," she said. "The mall hair of the '80s is out completely; everything now is a more feminine, more polished look."

Curls also are still popular, cashing in on the romantic 18th century stylings in clothes blazers with tons of ruffles, for example. The curls are more defined and softer looking and can be done with pin curls or curling irons. Even finger waves are turning up, according to Breda.

Other styles on the rebound are braids and even corn rows, but not used as strongly as in the past. French twists made a comeback the last two years, but again the uplifted look is shifting to another '70s standby — the bun.

"Everything is swept up to the crown area," Breda said. "I love doing up do's because you can really get creative. My mind goes on and on when I do them."

So, if you're looking to update your looks, it's best to look to the past for ideas. That way it will all tie in with the updated stylings for fall and winter 1993.

Archbishop focuses on disabled

Archbishop Adam Maida has issued a call to churches in the Archdiocese of Detroit to bring persons with disabilities into the parish communities.

Maida chose Sunday, Oct. 3; to issue a pastoral letter on living and ministering with the persons with disabilities. The letter, "On Sharing God's Presence," marks. the 15th anniversary of a special pastoral letter on persons with disabilities, issued jointly by the American bishops.

It also comes 10 years after Cardinal Edmund Szoka promulgated an archdiocesan policy on accessibility for persons with disabilities,

"It seems appropriate to take the occasion of these anniversaries to re-affirm our commitment to this dimension of pastoral life here in our church," Maida said. "Again and again, each of us needs to examine our patterns of thinking, acting and speaking. While our country and church have become much more sensitive to persons with disabilities, the true and lasting inner conversion has yet to take place in many of our hearts. A deeper attitudinal change and commitment are needed.

According to Maida, the strength and worth of the human person are not granted by government decree or by the judgment of the community. Over the centuries the Scriptures and the church have consistently proclaimed that every human being is a gift of a loving God.

The archbishop asked parish churches, all parish facilities and archdiocesan buildings formulate a plan to become fully accessible. While state and federal legislation have created standards and expectations of accessibility, the church's "ultimate motivation." should be our interior convic-

'Again, it is not just a question of protecting or assuring rights that have been legislated," he "As a people of faith we are said recognizing God-given rights and equality. Whenever the opportunity for full access for persons with disabilities is denied, the community is diminished."

Full participation

He went on to say that accessibility means much more than doors that will accommodate a wheel chair or ramps for passage. A spirit of accessibility entails doing everything possible to ensure full participation of all parish members in all activities and committees.

Realizing that some parishes will find accessibility easier to achieve than others, Maida pointed out that parishes and schools. with limited means will not be asked to impoverish themselves in a short-term effort to provide total accessibility rather that parishes, schools and Catholic agencies make progress toward accessibility along three lines — atti-tude, accommodation and architecture. According to the archbishop, a fully Christian attitude about disabilities begins with recognizing that people with disabilities are present and active in the church community. It means looking at all people as co-equals who have something to give as well as being in need of receiving.

"Attitude requires moving from a simple acknowledgment of the existence of persons with disabilities to a genuine willingness to serve the total community with respectful and gracious hospitali-ty," Maida said. "Attitude does not deal with capital outlay or brick and mortar; it flows from our minds and hearts."

To assist parishes with the many challenges of attitude, accommodation and architecture Maida has directed the Office of Life and Dignity in the Department of Christian Service to send to all parishes and institutions a copy of the Archdiocesan Accessibility Plan. The plan outlines suggestions for both long- and short-term changes in buildings and, "more importantly, also addresses the necessary conversion of heart.'

Ongoing process

The archbishop acknowledged that making the buildings acces-sible will take years, but has asked that there be at least one totally accessible parish in every vicariate by 1995.

He has asked that the Vicariate Councils assess and prepare an accessibility plan for their buildings and that vicariates that al- rate church for people with ready have one accessible parish disabilities."

cariates, "What we do now will be of continuing importance for years to come as our communities age and our communities welcome persons with disabilities," Maida said. "Once we can recognize the reality of our limitations and our need for the support of the community, we will also grow in our eagerness to welcome all others into full membership and partnership in the life of the community.'

Accommodation refers to those simple things — painting blue lines in the parking lot to delineate handicapped parking or a sign providing accessibility information for persons with disabilities that can be done to make a buildings more accessible:

"These things, while simple in themselves, exhibit a sensitivity to all persons in the parish community," Maida said. "By adopting an auto-to-altar approach to accessibility, parishes are extending to all members of the parish. ommunity an equal opportunity to take part in parish liturgical roles.

Architecture refers to major parish construction or remodeling which takes into consideration the special circumstances of persons with disabilities. Such work will follow the standards provided by the federal Americans With Disabilities Act and the state Handicapper Civil Rights Act, he said.

In closing, Maida quoted from the 1978 challenge of the American bishops: "People with disabilities are not looking for pity. They seek to serve the community and to enjoy their full baptismal rights as members of the church. Our interaction with them can and should be an affirmation of our faith. There can be no sepa-living in a time of widespread cynicism, where very little trust is reposed in leaders of government, business, the academic world and even religion.

It is not easy to call upon the individual citizen to follow the moral preachment when he observes the wrongdoing of those who wear the mantle of authority. The most serious aspect of all this is that the capacity to be shocked by corruption or wrongdoing has been progressively di-- minishing. "If everybody's doing it, then maybe there's nothing wrong with it after all."

In an age of uncertain guideposts and disappearing landmarks, I submit three questions that we ought to ask ourselves before we make a moral decision.

The first is: Can the decision I make stand the test of public knowledge? What if everyone knew what I was going to do? The decision about which I am uncertain, does it need secrecy? Does it require coverup? Could I tell my mother or my child what I did? A golfing friend pointed out that nothing increases your golf score like a witness.

The second question: Will my best self approve the action I am contemplating? Does it satisfy my own highest standard of behavior? Is it compatible with my conscience? Will it leave me with guilt or pride?

The last question: What if everybody did what we are contemplating? What kind of society would it be? Would we like to have our action become a universal law? Is it right to tell a lie? What would happen if all persons told lies whenever it was their advantage to do so? Do you believe that sexual promiscuity can be indulged in without harm? What do you think would become of our homes, our families, our children, our society, if promiscuity and not fidelity became the universally recognized standard?

An instructive story tells how a great sage invited the people of a legendary town to a banquet. He told each guest to bring a flask of wine and informed each that his wine would be poured into a large vat. Each guest thought, "What will my small flask of wine mean? I will bring a flask of water, and no one will know the difference.'

When the guests were assembled at the banquet, the sage summoned his servants to serve the guests with the contents of the barrel and out came water for they had all said, "What will my

Gallery fine art show trailblazer for Canton

ake it from Canton Project Arts activist Elaine Kirchgatter: Canton's first juried gallery showing and sale of fine art, coming up in November, won't be the last.

As she put it: "This show is a sign of what's to come in Canton in terms of artistic cultural experiences. It'll set the tone for future arts programming in our community as we move into Summit on the Park. We want to reinforce that art is a vital part of Canton's culture."

When Summit on the Park opens in Heritage Park in 1995, the multipurpose center will include a fine art gallery.

Project Arts was created last year to develop an enriched environment of cultural artistry within Canton.

The gallery show will be its first test.

The show runs Saturday-Sunday, Nov. 6-7, in the Canton Administration Building, 1150 Canton Center. Admission is free. Artists, patrons and dignitaries will attend a by-invitation reception Nov. 5.

Former president of the Plymouth Community Arts Council, Kirchgatter eagerly awaits the festive weekend.

"It'll be the first major cultural event pertaining to the visual arts within our community," she said. "Our intent is to present what we consider very good art from within our community and from other communities."

The juror is Susan Froelich, coordinator of the wildly popular Ann Arbor Street Art Fair, former Ann Arbor Art Association exhibit gallery director and past executive director of the Plymouth Community Arts Council. She'll jury original Michigan artwork in clay, drawing, jewelry, mixed media, painting, photography, sculpture and textile.

Respected juror

Show chairwoman Sharon Dillenbeck, a professional artist, art teacher and gallery owner, knows Froelich from when both served the Plymouth Community Arts Council.

"She's not a painter, but she certainly knows what's good and what isn't," said Dillenbeck, a Project Arts member. "I've heard her speak to arts groups and she's involved in many of them. Her background should pull in some very good artists."

When evaluating art, Froelich looks for solid technique and a fresh viewpoint. "I'm always looking for someone a little more adventurous, someone technically adept in handling their media and approaching their subject, but who also tries to push the edges and do something others may not normally try."

A professional art administrator, Froelich enjoyed drawing and printmaking most while earning a teaching certificate in art education from Eastern Michigan. She earned a bachelor's degree in art history from the University of Michigan. Her stints as a juror include shows in Ann Arbor, East Lansing and Tulsa.

Primarily in watercolor and oil with some colored pencil and inks, the works run a gamut of styles ranging from realism to impressionism.

"I enjoy painting, having an idea and reproducing an idea. Color's the thing I love most. Color fascinates me," Weidel said. "I used to collect glass for awhile. There's something about glass, the colors the way they reflect."

bor, East Lansing and Tulsa. Because of her strong reputation, Froelich should generate lots of entries in Canton — from experienced to emerging artists.

Local emphasis

Given the gallery show's Canton connection, I'm glad to hear some of Canton's wealth of fine artists have shown their support by submitting works for jurying.

One such artist is Connie Lucas. She didn't seek an application to enter the show until she knew who the juror was.

A stickler for quality, the Michigan Watercolor Society member wanted assurance the juror "was somebody knowledgeable about art and who has the right background to help educate the public to what fine art is."

A professional artist for 25 years, Lucas plans to submit for jurying paintings and perhaps a threedimensional piece. Her themes include war, violence and peace; women's work (sewing, quilting, weaving); and travel.

"Art should speak to every person at their level," Lucas said.

"I want everybody to get something out of every piece I do. I want everybody to learn something from each piece they see and apply what they learn to their lives or the world around them."

Show prizes will include a $250 Jurors Choice Award, a Canton Project Arts Special Award and

Gala art auction to benefit needy kids

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN Special Writer

Art is a vehicle to the soul, a nonverbal form of communication, a sharing of personal feelings and experiences.

Artists (75 alumni, faculty and students of the Wayne State University Fine Art Department) and their works join with the community to help children in need Wednesday-Saturday, Oct. 20-23, at The Somerset Collection in Troy. Artists include Sergio De Giusti of Redford and Dennis Jones of Westland.

I WOMEN IN ARTISTRY

Women of Artistry will showcase their different styles of artwork 1-6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17, in the Marriott Hotel, 30559 Flynn Drive, Romulus, across from Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

The exhibition will feature a new body of work for each artist.

cent and Sarah Fisher Center in Farmington Hills, where more than 700 children, youths and families in crisis receive assistance each year.

Honorary hosts John Kelly and Marilyn Turner of the WXYZ-TV morning show, "Company," will kick off the gala (black-tie optional) reception featuring live and silent auctions 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 23, at the Somerset Collection.

Tickets are $50 and include champagne courtesy of Merchant of VINO, hors d'ouevres by Sebastian's and desserts by the Golden Mushroom. The general public and metro art community are invited to attend. For tickets, call Betty Speyer at the center, 626-7527, Ext. 283.

"The auction and preview exhibition helps let the community know about the center and what we do for children and lets us share the talents of young artists in the community," -said Speyer, director of agency relations at the non-profit center.

ArtShare '93 boasts the works of ceramicist John Glick of Farmington Hills and sculptors Sergio DeGiusti of Redford and Ray Katz of Pontiac, along with large-scale abstract paintings by Dennis Jones of Westland, hand-colored lithographs by William Bostick of Bingham Farms, tapestry by Urban Jupena, associate professor of art and art history at WSU and birdhouses by Andrea Striewski of Farmington Hills, as well as works by the late William Woodward and George Zambrzycki.

DeGuisti and Jupena served as this year's honorary art advisers.

"I believe art work should be donated instead of just sitting around. 1 think the cause is very good, the abused children," said DeGiusti, "and focusing on one particular art department is good because it showcases the institution."

Susan Argiroff of Livonia creates classic and contemporary marhling techniques on paper and cloth. Carol Lynn McCreedy of Westland uses watercolor in a lifelike aproach to her garden paintings. Norma McQueen of Garden City has a style all her own in oil paintings and watercolor.

New Concept will provide jazz entertainment. Refreshments, champagne and hors d'oeuvres will be served.

To attend, call J. Giordano Studio, 348-0282, or D&M Studios, 453-3710.

VIEW SURREALISM

Nelson's Gallery in Livonia kicks off the newexhibition season with "Evolving Concepts: A Decade of Surrealism," a one-person show of paintings by Redford Senior Center painting instructor Carl Angevine. The show continues to Oct. 31.

A reception to meet the awardwinning artist takes place 5:30-9 p.m. Friday, Oct. 15.

Angevine's surrealist style evolved over 40 years of painting. His work creates windows to undiscovered dimensions.

He studied at Center for Creative Studies in Detroit under Sarkisian, Palazzola, Kozlow and Midener.

Nelson's Gallery is at 16376 Middlehelt, between Five and Six Mile, in Terronce Corners. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays and 11 n.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

"I'm most interested in color. It's very good if you can have complementary colors," Weidel said. "If it's a swampy or tropical scene, I'm going to have a lot of green in it and it will have red to balance it."

2D ★

Weidel designs the setups for her still life. One, painted in white, is particularly striking for its yellows, pinks, blues. and a myriad of other colors. White is never really white. I like to paint studies in white because there's so much color in them.'

A smattering of portraits, primarily of the Weidel's two daughters and six grandchildren show influences of her love for not only her family, but impressionism and music.

A Vincent van Gogh exhibition at the Detroit Institute of Arts in the 1960s scored big points with Weidel. "Impressionism is my favorite kind of painting, the feeling of light and color," she said. "The color is so wonderful, it creates a mood, an emotional response to it.'

Music strikes a full chord in Weidel's painting and life. The sound of classical and big band music plays softly in the background at all times, especially when painting. "I love music. Music evokes a memory. When I hear a certain piece, I see a picture," Weidel said.

Weidel picked up her first brush in 1960, after receiving an oil painting kit for Christmas from her father, himself an avid painter. She has studied with Elsie Deehan, Robert Ruckevena. Carmen Enriquez and at David Messing's Art Store & More. She also has attended various workshops, her most memorable with Helen Van Dyke.

A combination of classes and memberships in the Palette Guild, Artifacts Art Club and Farmington Artists Club provide stimulation to keep her painting and the opportunity to enter exhibitions. Weidel is vice president of the Palette Guild.

The hardest part of preparing for her first one-person show, she says, was titling her works. "In a way, I don't like to name pictures because everybody sees something else. Children are always very fresh and imaginative in what they see." Lobby hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays

Weidel lets loose to express a spectrum of hues.

ArtShare is the brainchild of Maria Martella, event chairperson. Martella came up with the idea 21/2 years ago because she wanted to do more than fill a wish list of gifts each Christmas for the children.

'I envisioned having some sort of fund-raiser at Somerset. I thought, 'Wouldn't it be nice to combine art with abused children?"," Martella said.

List events in 1994 art fairs guide

It's that time again. It's time for participating artists and craftspersons, vendors, sponsoring organizations and communities throughout the state to submit their application to the Michigan Council for Arts and Cultural Affairs to be included in the 1994 Michigan Art Fairs directory.

Produced by the MCACA, the publication lists art fairs to take place throughout the state during the 1994 calendar year. Application deadline is Nov. 1, 1993. New organizations of renewal organizations need to complete the application form in the back of the 1993 arts fair directory. Application forms won't be mailed out from MCACA. To obtain a copy of the 1993 edition, send a self-addressed, stamped (with a 75-cent stamp or its equivalent), business-size envelope to MCACA, Publications, 1200 Sixth, Suite 1108, Detroit 48226-2461.

"The art fairs listed in the directory truly represent the diversity of Michigan's arts and cultural industry," said Betty Boone, MCACA executive director.

"It's an extremely popular publication and is an excellent resource to use when a person plans their next art purchase, vacation, business trip, entertainment and recreation activities.

The St. Vincent and Sarah Fisher Center is devoted to providing care for abused, neglected or emotionally disturbed children; specialized foster care for children and youths; an adoption programfor special need children; and a full range of services to young women while pregnant and after the birth of the baby.

"The Sarah Fisher Home is non-denominational. It helps all children and is in desperate need of renovation," Martella said.

Best film to use: I prefer slide film. If you've never used it before, now's the time to start. Slides have a greater contrast range than color negative films and will produce more vivid, saturated colors.

For lovers of black and white, fall colors provide an excellent opportunity to obtain full tonal range prints.

No matter what your choice of films, use ones with low ASA numbers. You'll get finer grain and your enlargements will be sharp and crisp

Best days to shoot: Contrary to what you may think, cloudy days are best. Contrast and glare are reduced and colors will appear more vibrant. And don't pass up rainy or foggy days. Moistened autumn leaves after a rain or foggy morning provide good possibilformed by a receding storm also are an excellent backdrop for a stand of brilliant trees. Which lens to use: Remember that wide-angle lenses will give a greater expanse to your shot, while a telephoto will "move you in close" to isolate a particular tree or capture a splash of color in a cluster of fallen leaves. A macro lens or close-up filter will enable you to highlight the texture and details of an individual leaf.

Look for other opportunities: Cider mills, football games, Halloween festivities and patches of pumpkins all offer exciting fall picture possibilities. Keep your eyes open for these and more.

Share growing pains and successes

I invite all readers to let me know about your special successes (and perhaps failures — for how else can we learn?), so that we can share the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham 48009.

Desmond Goodman of Farmington Hills called with his success story. The soil around his home is clay, as it is in many areas, so he tried a new method of growing tomatoes and is very pleased with the result.

"I 'plopped' three bags of blended organic sedge peat on the ground, slit them open and planted two beefstake tomato plants in each," he said. "I bought the peat at Meijer and the 12- to 18-inch plants at Tony's on Warren in Inkster.

Goodman sprayed them periodthem. Send information to me at ically with malathion, and then as the plants matured, fertilized he will try a smaller variety bethem with an Ortho granular tomato fertilizer (5-10-10) about once a month.

In mid-August, the blossoms began to form and the fruit ripened quickly in the southwestern exposure. By the end of August, he had harvested at least a bushel.

"The flavor is great. I never had good luck before with tomatoes.' He has shared his bounty with appreciative neighbors. The tomatoes are growing against a western rail fence with shrubs on the other side. The fence and tomato cages keep the plants upright, although Goodman has decided, that next year, cause the tomatoes and vines are so heavy the plants break.

As well as support for the tomato plants, the fence will be useful when there is a frost warning. He plans to tack a tarp to the top of the rail to cover the plants to prolong the harvest.

REAL ESTATE NEWS Own or rent? Each has its advantages

Before buying a fitnese, the Michi-gan Association of CPAs recommends that you take the time to explore other housing alternatives and to consider how such a purchase will affect you personal financial plan and life--style goals.

Opting to rent

For some people, no matter how low interest rates fall, renting makes the most sense. Choosing to rent frees you from worries about property values declining and from incurring the costs associated with buying or selling a house. Instead of tying up your money in the down payment for a house, you can place it in other investment vehicles that might offer you greater liquidity or a higher return. What's more, because you can simply move when your lease expires. renting also gives you increased flexi bility.

Additionally, renters have the luxury of not bearing the entire financial burden of home repairs. Despite these advantages, renting has no investment value or tax benefit. No matter how much rent you pay, you never build equity in the property - and you can never experience the security that homeownership. often brings.

Homeownership advantages

The tax benefits begin even before you move into your personal resiclence. You can take a tax deduction for the points paid to secure a mortgage on the purchase of your house. Once you move in, you can deduct property taxes and interest paid on your mortgage.

If you put a lot of money into your house to make improvements, such as adding a bedroom or bathroom, you get another tax break. These capital improvement costs are added to the hasis of your house and help to offset the gains you may realize when you sell it.

When you sell your house, you not only have the opportunity to make a profit, you can also shelter that profit from taxes. To defer the capital gains tax, you must sell your principal residence and buy and use a new one of equal or greater value at least two years before or after the date of the .sale.

If you are at least 55 years old; homeownership may open the door to an even bigger tax break when it comes time to sell your house; You are entitled to a one-time exclusion of up to $125,000 of gain ($62,500, if married filing separately) realized on the sale of your principal residence.

To qualify for this exclusion. you must have owned and used the house as your principal residence. To qualify for this exclusion, you must have owned and used the house as your principal residence for a total of three of the previous five years before the sale

Finally, homeowners have the option of borrowing against the equity in their houses. What's more, you can take a tax deduction for the interest on home equity indebtedness of up to $100.000.

Homeownership disadvantages

There's little question that buying and owning a house requires substantial financial resources. You not only need a sizable down payment ally 20 percent of the purchase price you must also set aside money for closing costs, such as bank fees, appraisals, surveys and termite inspections. Once you own your house, you then face the ongoing responsibility, and cost, of maintaining and repairing it.

*7D

Making an investment in a house. also brings the risk of losing money if you are ever forced to sell your house at an amount less than the purchase price. And if you do lose money on the sale of your house, you may not take a tax deduction for the loss.

Despite these disadvantages, CPAs suggest that in most instances homeownership is still a smart investment. As long as real-estate appreciation at least keeps pace with inflation, buying a house will allow you to accumulate wealth and give you the security that comes from knowing you own the roof over your head.

The Farmington Hills-based Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants provided this report.

should do more than Condo board just sue

Our board has CONDO just learned that QUERIES managing our agent (who has since been terminated) charged the association more money for a subcontractor's bill. than was actually incurred by the subcontractor. ROBERT M The procedure MEISNER that the management company would use would be to bill us for the subcontractor and then pay the contractor directly. We then discovered, by accident, that the contractor's bill actually was less than what we were charged by the management company and that there was no basis in his management agreement to do so.

What can we do at this point? You should determine what the difference is between the amount paid by you to the management agent and the amount billed to the management agent by the contractor(s) for the period of time in which the management company was your manager. It would also be appropriate, if you have not already done so, to have a certified audit of the association's books and records. This type of occurrence is one of the items that could be discovered by a certified audit, which is generally recommended by me to my association clients.

To the extent that the managing agent may have committed fraud, you may wish to consider filing a complaint with the Michigan Department of Licensing and Regulation to the extent that the managing agent has a real estate license, as well as pursuing your legal remedies for damages in court I have heard of an island resort in South Carolina called Kiawah, which is similar to some condominium developments in northern Michigan. Do you have any knowledge concerning this development? Kiawah Island is about 21 miles from Charleston and contains a number of condominium projects, single-family houses, golf courses, a hotel and other residential amenities. It is similar in composition to condominium developments in the Leelanaw Peninsula of Michigan and contains a combination of residential communities overlooking the water.

As in the purchase of any other residential property in this situation, you must be fully aware of the conse quences of the purchase of your property, particularly if you don't plan to live in your condominium throughout the year.

That would include checking with the neighboring real estate companies as to what type of return you will get on your investment should you choose to lease your unit.

Also, the same issues that come up in regard to the purchase of any condominium unit apply if you buy into a condominium community here

Of course, if you buy a single-family house, make sure that you have checked to determine what the deed restrictions are with regard to the community development.-

Affordable housing can be a subjective phrase. But three well-known builders have combined to offer what they say is a great deal for buyers in West Bloomfield. Their plan? Quality construction on 100-foot lots with sidewalks, tree-lined streets and a series of interconnected parks.

BY DOUG FUNKE

ut together new houses of 2,100 square feet in West Bloomfield with strict architectural controls at prices starting in the low $200,000s and what have you got?

Spring Meadow, a subdivision developed and built by a partnership in volving Ivanhoe-Huntley of West Bloomfield, S.R. Jacobson Development of Birmingham and MJC West

Ninety lots have been platted in the first phase of the development

"It's unbelievable," said Gary Shaly spaced in front of every house to several vest-pocket parks.

"Each of the parks is different," Shapiro said. "A nature preserve has picnic tables, barbecues, a trail around a pond where people can enjoy nature and a more passive use. English Oaks is a playground with swings and monkey bars. The third one has a quaint gazebo and a picnic table, barbecue and deck. All are geared for interconnected use.'

Each of the partners has built one model at the sales center, but all three can build any model and will do so on a rotation basis. All models offer several exterior elevations and a three- or four-bedroom option,

The partners combined outstanding elements of previous individual models into brand new offerings for Spring Meadow.

The Grand Cypress, constructed by S.R. Jacobson, has all bedrooms including the master suite and a second full bath upstairs. A living room, dining room, kitchen, breakfast area.family room, library, powder room and utility room are on the main floor. The three-bedroom model, 2,400 square feet, carries a basic price of $218,500.

The Turnberry, built by MJC, has the same basic elements and configuration as the Grand Cypress, except it's a little smaller. The 2.150-squar foot, three-bedroom model is priced at $207.500.

The Augusta, erected by Ivanhoe-Huntley, places the master suite on the main floor, two bedrooms and a full bath upstairs. The main level also has a kitchen, breakfast area, dining room/great roomand library. The model, 2,150 square feet, costs $219,500

Stately columns similar to those on the exterior mark the passageways that separate the living room, entry and dining room from each other and from the informal living areas at the back of the home. The shape of the hearth mirrors bay windows in the dining room and living room.

The family room/kitchen is large and bright. In the family room, skylights add to the illumination provided by windows and French doors. Tropical plants thrive in the garden window in front of the sink and the nook is windowed on two sides. Other features in the kitchen include generous counter space, an appliance center, built-in appliances, a pantry and an eating bar.

The sumptuous master suite has a boxed-out sitting bay, ideal for reading, sewing or even a desk. Matching walk-in closets provide abundant storage for clothing. Luxury features in the master bathroom include an oversized shower, twin toilets, a vanity and a raised spa tub flanked by columns. Sliders open onto a private patio, separated from the deck by a privacy wall three-bedroom ranch and a three/four-bedroom colonial — also are available for review on paper.

A small powder room is just a few steps away, across from a large utility room complete with cabinets, a counter and a closet for hanging up freshly ironed clothes.

All houses provide high ceilings, rooms that flow into each other, foyers that open up to the second level, fireplaces and basements.

Three-car garages are offered in the standard cost during early-construction stages, Shapiro said.

The one thing about the subdivision is it's West Bloomfield and Walled Lake schools,' said Michael A. Chirco, MJC president.

'And affordability. We're fortunate enough we bought land at the right price," he added. 'We're offering a house on a 100-foot lot for what some places in West Bloomfield you'd pay for just a lot.'

Architectural requirements include requiring side garage entrances, some brick on all four sides and wood siding. Adjacent houses von't he allowed to have the exact exterior an pearances.

"I think people who buy in subs want to know there's continuity," Chirco said. "They know whether they have the highest price or lowest price, the house will hold it's value.

A large percentage of buyers are parents with children, Shapiro said. "It's a cross section. You have a lot of move-up people, firsttime new buyers, too. We're also getting empty nesters.

The first move-ins could arrive by the end of the year. The property tax rate in Spring Meadow is now $54.66 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation (half of market value). That means the owner of a $220,000 house would pay $6,000 in property taxes per year.

A mandatory annual association fee of $200 will cover maintenance of common areas, parks and snow removal.

'The nice thing about this development is the allure, the beauty of it, starting with the ponds, trees," said Scott Jacobson, president of Jacobson Development. "We're also doing things like offering three-car garages as a standard feature and I don't think, you'll find that at this price point. We came up with a product size in tune with the marketplace." 'I think we hit the right price point," Chirco. said. "For everything you're getting,, it's good value."

CLEANUP CONTRACT

A-series of pilot-scale tests performed at a site on the Manitowoc River in Wisconsin has resulted in the award of a full-scale site remediation contract to Millgard Environmental Corp. in Livonia. The cleanup site is the current headquarters of Wisconsin Fuel and Light, a privately owned utility in Manitowoc. The remediation project is a private action undertaken by the owner, Wisconsin Fuel and Light, which has worked closely with the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources to develop a remediation plan. The owner retained WW Engineering of Grand Rapids to assess the contamination and develop a remediation plan.

Residual coal tar from a former coal-gasification plant has heavily contaminated surrounding soil. Millgard will treat 26,000 cubic yards of shoreline soils to depths of 40 feet in an area that includes a high water table and buried obstructions.
