Voters reject school tax again

Voters rejected Monday's school tax proposal by only a slightly smaller margin than a plan that was defeated six months ago. One school board member said there isn't support for a third millage election.

By DARRELL CLEM

Wayne Westland voters' crushing defeat of a school tax increase on Monday won't be followed by another ballot proposal, officials say.

Rapid-fire changes in the state's system of financing schools would allow for one more local millage election by Dec. 5, but voters spoke loudly Monday and school officials apparently listened.

Superintendent Larry Thomas will not recommend another tax proposal, district spokesman Gary Dell' said, and school board members have indicated they will accept defeat.

"I have a very good feeling that there would not be enough support from the board for another millage election," board member Richard Le-Blanc said.

Voters turned down a 6-mill tax proposal by a 3-to-2 margin Monday, rejecting the plan 60.5 percent to 39.5 percent. The plan gained slightly more support this time than the 63-to-37 percent defeat of a similar plan April 5.

The tax increase would have allowed officials to restore $7 million in programs, such as elementary instrumental music, junior high athletics and school building repairs.

Nearly, 17 percent of the school district's 65,000 voters went to the polls Monday, casting 6,669 votes against the tax plan and 4,346 for it, unofficient of the school o cial totals showed.

The 11,015 turnout was slightly higher than the 10,296 voters who cast ballots in April.

Monday's proposal passed in eight precincts but was defeated in 16. Former school board member Sharon Felan, among 120 supporters at election night headquarters on Mar-

Behind them are the store's Good Neighbors volunteers.

Youth program receives gift

The Westland Youth Assistance program, begun just eight months ago, is busier than expected.

The city program's director said that it had expected to have 100 youngsters between 7 and 16 referred to it for free, confidential counseling, but it soon reached 125.

Program director Ronaele Bowman added that it planned to have three Project Impact classes during her first year to help youths in the program develop decision-making skills. Now, there are three classes running simultaneously.

But help is on the way.

The youths are matched with a mentor, who meets weekly with the boy or girl to set positive goals.

The director said while the local Westland Lions Club and Kiwanis Club have donated to the program, the Target store support is by far the largest.

Politics spices meeting

By LEONARD POGER EDITOR

With about two weeks left before the Nov. 2 election, mayoral campaign issues dominated the Westland city council meeting Monday night.

In the center of the dispute were Mayor Robert Thomas, seeking a second four-year term, and City Council president Charles Pickering. At different times during Monday's

At different times during Monday's council session, residents criticized Pickering's latest campaign flier, one councilman questioned the administration on a cable-TV program paid for by the Thomas campaign committee and another suggested city hall connections were behind a fire-hydrant removal.

From the audience, five residents were critical of Pickering, mainly because of what they believed were personal attacks on the mayor published in Pickering's campaign literature.

"Don't throw stones unless you live in a glass house," one woman told Pickering:

On another issue, Pickering declined to identify municipal husbandwife teams who have a combined income of more than $100,000, also cited in a recent flier, but admitted "there are at least two."

Councilman Kenneth Mehl, who was defeated in the mayoral Sept. 14 primary, questioned the administration about a Parkwood street fire hydrant removed at the request of the homeowner who, he claimed, is a relative of deputy mayor George Gillies.

Public Services Director Carl Clark said he had no knowledge of the hydrant removal, but promised that "if it needs to be replaced, we will replace it."

Mehl also claimed that the Westland Friendship Senior Center is being used for political purposes, based on the number of local phone

The councilman reported that in the July-through-September period, there were an average of 1,283 local calls per month, nearly 500 more than the average in the previous year when there wasn't a city election.

"You have to be stupid not to realize what's going on," Mehl said.

He also suggested the telephone usage from other departments' phones should be checked.

Senior Resources Director Sylvia Kozorosky-Wiacek didn't have a public response during the council ses-

But Mayor Thomas called Mehl's comments "foolishness" and commented that he didn't have to debate someone who lost in the mayoral primary.

A Westland man said he "always knew he would win" the state Lottery Commission's Cash 5 top prize of $100,000. The 36-year-old mechanic who requested anonymity said he jumped up and down, screamed and starting shaking when he realized that he won. A regular Lotto ticket buyer, the man bought the winning ticket at Big Ben Party Store on Ford Road, Westland. He said he developed a system for picking his own numbers by looking at which numbers seemed to come in most often.

Long-term care

An informational meeting on long-term care is planned by the Westland Convalescent Center, on Warren Road between Wayne Road and Central City Parkway, for 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 27. The center plans to have health care professionals discuss long-term care in a patient's home as well as a nursing home. Persons planning to attend should register in advance by calling 728-6100.

First Citizen

There's still time to nominate someone for the annual Westland First Citizen community service award. Persons may have served in a volunteer position and have an impact on the community or a segment of the community. Deadline is 5 p.m., Wednesday, Oct. 27. Send nominations to the Westland Observer editorial department, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150, or use our fax machine, 591-7279.

Timing a factor

The board restored some programs after learning that the district would receive an unexpected boost in state aid of as much as $3 million for this year. Word of the state's funding, however, came on the eve of the election.

The board decided to restore some programs to avoid the perception that the district was "hiding" money prior to Monday's election, but officials conceded the decision left voters with fewer reasons to support a tax hike.

'You're damned if you do, and you're damned if you don't.' board president, Francis "Bud" Winter said Monday.

LeBlanc said he believes some voters opposed the tax because of uncertainty about state-level

"There may be a sentiment out there that we're going to be rescued by the state," he said. "I don't necessarily believe that."

Superintendent Thomas, addressing the crowd, called on citizens to voice their anger and frustration about education funding to their state legislators. Thomas has been in Lansing two times in as many weeks to address lawmakers.

"I don't believe in sitting down and giving up," Thomas said Monday, adding later, "We're going to continue fighting up in Lansing,"

The state has abolished property taxes for schools, and several alternate funding proposals have emerged. Of particular concern to Wayne-Westland officials is a plan to link future funding to school districts' current tax rates.

School board president proposes advisory panel

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Amid the rubble of Monday's millage defeat, Wayne-Westland's school board president wants to form a community-based blue ribbon advisory panel to help the board chart a new direction for the 16,500-student district.

The 6-mill tax proposal that failed by a 3-to-2 margin is expected to be the district's last millage election, due to state-level measures to reform education financing. Most districts won't be allowed to seek property tax in-

Board president Francis "Bud" Winter called for a blue ribbon panel of district employees and community representatives to be formed by the first of the year.

We need to pull together. We don't need to be going in opposite directions," he said.

Winter's plan emerged as board trustees voiced frustration over Monday's defeat. Trustee Patricia Brown read from a prepared statement that was highly critical.

pizzeria, located near the Westland-Garden City boundary on the north side of Ford near Schuman. In another robbery, a Westland woman told police that she was robbed of $150 Tuesday morning while she was walking in the parking lot of the Target store on Warren Road, west of Wayne Road, police

The woman, 35, was not injured, but she said her assailant threatened to kill her with what she believed was a gun, which was held against her lower back, police reports said. The Hungry Howie's robbery occurred about 9:30 p.m. Sunday when a lone male walked inside, ordered a pizza and then revealed what was believed to be a "long gun" wrapped in plastic, Detective Sgt. Donald Haigh said.

The bandit demanded money from the manager. who was working alone at the time, Haigh said. The manager, a 29-year-old male, complied and gave money from the cash register to the suspect, Haigh

The suspect forced the manager to lie on the floor while he escaped, and the manager phoned Westland police after the bandit had left, Haigh said.

The suspect was described as a white male, 5-foot-9, 160 pounds, thin, with dark, graying hair. He is believed to be 40 to 50 years old. The alleged incident at Target occurred about 11:10 a.m. Tuesday when a 35-year-old Westland

Police searched the area around Target but did not find a suspect. The incident remains under investigation, Stobbe said.

Heart recipient returns

By DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Four months after she received a life-saving heart transplant, Tina Bertschinger has donned her Westland police uniform and returned to the street to

The 28-year-old police officer has made remarkable progress since doctors removed a peach-size, malignant tumor from her old heart, ridding her body of cancer before giving her a new heart on June

"I couldn't wait to get back to work," Bertschinger said last week, sitting in the lobby of the Westland police station. "It feels nice to be back in the uni-

Some friends and colleagues feared that she might be placing herself at risk by returning to work so soon. Some worried that her new heart might be too

But Bertschinger said she's better than ever and would have no problem chasing down a criminal. Her doctor allowed her to return to work with no restrictions.

"I don't want to be babied," she said. Bertschinger, a Westland resident formerly of Garden City, had been a Westland police officer only three months in March when she began coughing incessantly and having difficulty breathing. Then she learned that she had the heart tumor.

Doctors at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac removed the tumor, and Bertschinger went to a Pittsburgh hospital to await a heart donor. She didn't know if she would live long enough to receive the tude that amazed family and friends.

Her new heart came through June 8, and Bertschinger's determination to return quickly to her normal life has again stunned those who know her. Her colleagues are now joking with her. "Tina likes to show off her scars," one police officer said, walking by as Bertschinger was being interviewed in the police station lobby. Bertschinger has had several biopsies since her transplant, and all indications are that her body has been rid of cancer and that her body is adapting to her new heart.

She still has to take medications to control her blood pressure and to boost her immune system, but she has had no life-threatening complications since her surgery. She has been lifting weights and walking to strengthen her body.

For now, Bertschinger is staying with her parents, but one of the next steps to her recovery will be to seek a place of her own, she said.

Ironically, she was ready to sign a mortgage for a house of her own on the morning that doctors discovered her heart tumor and ordered her to immediately have surgery

When asked what she would like to do in the future, Bertschinger said she would like to work in a canine unit if the police department starts one. She has three pet dogs of her own.

"If they ever start one, I'd be, like, 'I'm your person.' I'd be in line," she said. "Right now I'm glad to be back to work. I really wanted this job. Now I just want to do my job and live happily ever after."

2 teenagers ordered to trial in robbery at restaurant

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

Two teenagers charged with robbing three youngsters at knifepoint inside a Westland fast-food restaurant have been ordered to stand trial.

Police have accused 17-year-old Stanley Thomas Killebrew of Wayne of holding a knife to one teenager's throat while former Westland resident Justin Hicks, 17, searched the youngsters' walters and found $3.

Both defendants have pleaded not guilty to charges of armed robbery and assault with intent to rob - charges that stem from an Oct. 3 incident at the Taco Bell. on Wayne Road, south of Palmer.

Killebrew and Hicks appeared in Westland's 18th District Court last week for a preliminary hearing to determine if they should stand trial on the charges. The teens voluntarily waived the hearing, in a move that automatically sent the case to Detroit Recorder's Court for trial.

Because both defendants are

17, they will be tried as adults and could face life in prison if convicted. Both have been released from custody after posting

The incident happened Oct. 3, just after midnight, when three teens sitting at a Taco Bell table were approached by four other teens, including Killebrew and Hicks, said Detective Sgt. Donald Killebrew has been charged with holding a knife to one victim's throat while Hicks rummaged through the youngsters' wallets. No one besides Hicks and Killebrew has been charged.

Killebrew and Hicks were arrested shortly after the incident when Westland police saw them walking toward the Dunkin' Donuts store on Wayne Road, north of Palmer. They matched the descriptions provided by the victims, Haigh said.

Both defendants were released from custody after a bond company - where Hicks' father works - arranged for their release, according to statements in court last week. Both had been placed on a $10,000 cash or surety bond.

Hicks, formerly of Westland, is now staying with his father, George Zeabari, in Detroit.

In court, Zeabari told Judge McKnight that the bond company now would like to withdraw its involvement with Killebrew, who posted $1,000 of the $10,000 and was to let the bond company hold onto a car title as security for the rest of the money

Zeabari and Killebrew's attorney, William Necker, were at odds over whether Killebrew has met the conditions set by the bond company.

McKnight did not rule on the bond issue, which she said will be decided when the defendants appear in Recorder's Court on Oct. 28 for a pretrial arraignment.

At that time, Killebrew's bond could be continued, or a judge could cease his ties to the bond company. If that happens, he could be returned to jail to await

Real estate tax is part of Engler plan

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Homeowners won't be entirely off the school property tax hook under Gov. John Engler's reform program.

They could choose between (1) a 4 percent real estate transfer tax when they sell their homes and (2) a 16-mill tax for three years.

"The state transfer tax is a better alternative than a personal income tax increase," said Engler's detailed message to the Legislature. "Property owners who benefit from the tax cut of Senate Bill 1 will be responsible for paying the new tax only when they sell their

"In contrast, an increase in the personal income tax would apply to Michigan families who may not own property — that is, renters. The tax would raise an estimated $479 million of the $6 billion in new state taxes Engler seeks to replace the abolished school property

Realtors vehemently oppose the plan, contending it's too narrowly focused, will eat big hunks of homeowners' equity and will dampen young couple's efforts toward the Great

"I've never heard of a sale being lost because of the Realtor's commission," Engler replied. "They charge 7 or 8 percent commis-

The sales tax on a $100,000 house would be $4,000, the equivalent of 80 mills in property tax on a house assessed at $50,000.

Wealth increased

But a homeowner would have the option of paying 16 mills in property taxes for three years — a total of 48 mills — and escaping the transfer tax.

Engler and state treasurer Doug Roberts say that's a good alternative if you plan to own your house three years or more. Average turnover time in Michigan, Realtors estimate, is

"People who benefitted from the tex cut (Senate Bill 1, which eliminated school property taxes for operations) are property owners," said Roberts. "They are all wealthier because of tax capitalization (the tendency for an item's value to rise when a tax on it is cut). More people can afford to buy my house."

Roberts was asked: Isn't this a tax on mobility - an impediment to people who move to take a better job, who get transferred, or who break up housekeeping because of death or divorce?

"That's a fair argument," he said. "I would urge them to pay the property tax of 16 mills for three years. It's a better deal.

The transfer tax also would be paid by nonresidents of Michigan who buy resort property, Roberts said. "How is it fairer to Michigan taxpayers to let Chicago people off the hook. The income tax is not fair (as an alternative) to renters and to Michigan people."

Realtors object

Owen Broock, president of the Michigan Association of Realtors, attacked the real estate transfer tax last week in testimony before House and Senate finance committees. The president of Max Broock Realty in Bloomfield Hills argued the 4 percent transfer tax is:

■ Volatile — the base (housing sales) drops off by half in a recession. ■ Punishing to young owners with small equities. To the owner of a $100,000 house with a $20,000 equity, the $4,000 tax would gobble up 20 percent of their equity.

■ Regressive — hitting lower income people who are forced to move due to economic necessity, death or divorce.

Schools denounce Engler reform plan

BY MARIE CHESTNEY

After the dust settled and they took a look at the details, administrators found plenty of badnews for Livonia Public Schools in the school-finance reform plan recently proposed by Gov. John Engler.

Superintendent Joseph Marinelli and the Livonia Board of Education. Monday spotlighted both the good and the bad of the

Because the bad far outweighs the good, the trustees have urged area lawmakers not to vote for Engler's plan until several changes beneficial to Livonia are A potential $1.5-million loss made.

The plan, if approved, would give Livonia schools an extra $1 million next year, or a 1-percent increase in its approximate $100 million budget.

At the same time, the plan could hit the district with Josses of more than $9 million, Marinelli

"We're a vulnerable district if we can't change the governor's proposal," he said.

Losses could come as follows: A potential $5-million loss because revenues from P.A. 198 are not included in the foundation from borrowing costs.

■ A potential $2.8-million loss to make up money the state took from the teacher's retirement

"We must vigorously oppose many of these proposals," Mari-nelli said. "The 1 percent extra in revenue will actually mean a reduction in programs and services for Livonia: Opportunities forspecial programs in our district will be significantly diminished."

Marinelli cited the following flaws in Engler's plan: A loss of financial and local

and the years thereafter.

Won't allow many districts, including Livonia, to raise local taxes to pay for programs.

"Every district should be authorized to seek additional taxrevenues with voter approval to supplement the foundation grant," Marinelli said.

Retains an equity gap between ■ A basic foundation grant that is districts, with some districts get-not adjusted for the costs of doing ting $4,500 while others get as much as $10,000.

■ Changes the way funds are distributed to districts. This means Livonia must borrow money to pay its bills (and also pay interest) until the money from the state comes in. In the past, Livonia has earned interest from property tax money it had stashed in the bank.

Charter schools that won't have to operate under the same rules as public schools.

They won't have to operate by the same rules; they'll have more freedom to innovate," Marinelli said.

LIVONIA PUBLIC SCHOOLS ANNUAL FINANCIAL STATEMENT JUNE 30, 1993

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE LIVONIA PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Michigan law requires that each year the school district must publish a financial statement which is a composite of our annual audit. In compliance with the law this information is offered to our citizens in an effort to keep our community fully informed of our fiscal operations and our use of the public's resources.

effort has been made by the Board of Education an control expenditures so that all available dollars may be earmarked for the education of children.

The Board of Education has struggled to maintain the fine opportunities that have been available to the students in the Livonia Public School District. This has been very difficult because of the reductions in State support given to the Livonia Public Schools. Even though the report focuses primarily on the financial activities of the district, we must never lose lose sight of the fact that these dollars ultimately translate into educational opportunities for students.

The accompanying figures cover the full scope of the fiscal operations of the school district for the school year 1992-93. An audit report is available for review by any interested citizen. If you have questions concerning any part of the attached report, or you would care to see a copy of the audit, please feel free to contact the Finance Office of the Livonia Public Schools, telephone 523-9118.

Madonna program helps kids read

BY MARY RODRIQUE' STAFF WRITER

The most recent Michigan Education Assessment Program test scores for fourth graders show that 41 percent of students are not reading at grade level. Just as dismal, a mere 3 percent have advanced reading skills.

That bothers Sister Duane Rydel, new director of the reading center at Madonna University in Livonia.

She works with Sister Mary Martina, the backbone of the center since its inception 40 years ago. The duo is committed to improving reading and study skills for first through 12th graders who might be slipping through the cracks in a large classroom set-

Using Madonna student teachers as one-on-one tutors, children in the program learn to overcome their trouble spots in learning. To date, 6.116 students from 20 different school districts have been helped. They've come from Bloomfield Hills, Farmington, Garden City, Plymouth-Canton, Redford and dozens of other

"My son was about 8 or 9 when e was tested in the schools and diagnosed as learning disabled," said Mary Bergeski.

"I learned about the (lab) while in classes here at Madonna. I was just finishing my degree at the time. He responded very well to instruction. He got a lot of reinforcement," said Bergeski.

He came for nine or 10 years. It helped him through high school. He's 22 and self-sufficient today.

Bergeski is a secretary in the learning center, tucked away in Madonna's administration building on the campus at Schoolcraft and Levan. Her personal experience is an added bonus for parents bringing children into the center for the first time.

Parents of the younger children are looking for reassurance. I highly recommend it as a parent. I'm in a position to see how overnight miracle. It takes time. We see a lot of positive results."

Students come one afternoon per week for a 12-week session. which runs simultaneously with the Madonna semester. Programs are tailor-made to suit the individual needs of the students. Likewise, student teachers work in tandem with a supervisor, Faye Craigie for grades seven through 12, Marilyn Nagy for the primary

The supervisors help the student teachers with lesson plans. Each student teacher is assigned to just one learning center pupil. The student teachers' job performance is graded by their supervisors, thus they get course credit.

"The center has a dual function,' said Sister Martina. "It helps children in the surrounding communities and it helps our student teachers.'

Tuition fees for the winter term, which begins the week of Jan. 24, are $17 per hour plus materials and registration fees.

"Our greatest source of advertising are the parents them-selves," said Sister Martina. "Parents are extremely satisfied when they see results.

with students in the lower grades is poor word recognition skills.

"It reflects the way reading is taught today," she said. "In the past few years, the practice has been to give a book to the child immediately. There isn't an at-tempt to help the child decode. They have poor auditory skills. Sound and visual symbols are especially important in the early

How long the child stays with the program depends on the problem and the student's ability. Some come for a few terms. Some skip a term and then return for reinforcement.

The biggest problem for high school students is often study and organizational skills, she said.

Reading is the mother of all learning," said Sister Rydel, who came to the learning center in August after working as an administrator at Ladywood High School and before that as principal at St. Michael's School, both in Livonia

"Reading is the basic tool. Even among college students there is a certain degree of difficulty in comprehension skills."

In addition to preparing stu-

She says the biggest problem - dent teachers and helping young sters, the learning center also serves as a tutoring center for college students. Coming soon, Sister Rydel is developing a new program for average to above average readers.

A questionnaire posed to parents to determine interest in the proposed Saturday reading enrichment program drew 149 responses, better than she had hoped.

'Research shows a strong correlation between reading and writing. Readers are good writers and writers are good readers," she said.

The program would introduce children to language through a different approach to literature. Drama would come alive through puppetry, for example.

"Interest and motivation are tied to learning," she said.

Applications for individualized tutoring programs offered through the learning center at Madonna are now being taken. The 12-week term runs from Jan. 24 through April 22. Parents are encouraged to apply soon.

For more information, call the learning center at 591-5180.

Staff wars

Wayne County government fights itself

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW. STAFF WRITER

Tempers are expected to heat up considera bly as the Wayne County commissioners and Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara hash out the 1994 budget

We've had the same fight for seven years and that's the budget," said David Katz, McNamara's chief of staff.

Even though 13 of the 15 commissioners are

Democrats, and McNamara and all his people are Democrats, the two sides have more often than not acted as if they are mortal enemies.

Commissioners have complained that McNamara's staff is packed with extra people through surres its us means.

McNamara staff complain that certain commissioners distribute political pork to their supporter by hiring them as "ghost employees.

During the budget deficit negotiations between "the third floor" (McNamara) and "the fourth floor" (commission) of the downtown county building, Hubbard issued a series of documents fueling the budget battle.

The Observer asked McNamara's chief of staff, David Katz, to supply similar data on the commission.

Following are reports on information provided by both sides

Commission

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAFF WRITER

The Wayne County Commission's personal budget has risen from about $3.3 million in 1986 to about $6.1 million today.

Most of that increase was in ersonnel. That particular line item rose more than 80 percent from about $2.1 million in 1986 to about $3.8 million today.

Upon request, David Katz, he chief of staff for county Executive Edward McNamara reluctantly provided the Observer with the names and salaries of commission staffers for 1992 and part of 1993. "To come here and throw mud at these folks is not in my best interest," Katz said.

Commission financial adviser Jim Smith said the salaries Katz provided are reason ably accurate, but some of the individuals were assigned to the wrong commissioner or department.

Katz claims that the commission had 51 employees in 1985 and has 133 today. His

Some county commissioners have criticized Executive Edward McNamara for having a large staff that performs as many political services for McNamara as it does tangible services for taxpavers.

Last July when McNamara sent layoff notices (that were later withdrawn) to more than 200 county employees, commissioner Susan Hubbard, D-Dearborn, retaliated by issuing a list of McNamara's office staff.

Her intent, Hubbard say to show that McNamara hadn't recommended anyone from his own staff for lavoff.

Hubbard's list includes 38 names and annual salaries ranging from about $14,000 for a secretary to almost $99,000 for McNamara's chief deputies, Michael Duggan and David Katz.

A McNamara staffer studied Hubbard's list and concluded" that two people on the list no longer work for Wayne County, six are no longer, or have never been, on McNamara's staff and one is on a leave of absence.

Katz said the number of McNamara's staffers tends to fluctuate between 30 and 34 peo-

Using Hubbard's figures, the 38 annual salaries add up to more than $1.8 million. The top 10 salaries on McNamara's staff are $66,000 and up. They account for $818,000 of the total.

Using the staffer's amended list, 29 annual salaries add up to $1.3 million. The top 10 salaries on the staff are $55,000 and up. They account for $723,000 of the total.

Nancy Mouradian, spokeswoman for Sheriff Robert Ficano, laughed when told there were just 38 names on Hubbard's list of McNamara's staff. Between overt and covert staff members, she said, there are at least 100 county employees working for McNamara in a political sense.

County commissioner Bryan Amann, D-Wayne who used to be a member of McNamara's staff, said Mouradian is exaggerating. "Nancy would include every department head and their deputies," he said.

Among the press releases Hubbard issued in July was a sheet entitled "Duggan/McNamara Relatives and Friends on Wayne County Payroll.

Although the implication would seem to be that McNamara hires family members and friends for jobs they are ill suited for, Hubbard makes no such claim openly and lists only two McNamara relatives in county employ:

■ McNamara's daughter-in-law, Sharon McNamara, who earns a $25,000 salary at Metro Airport.

McNamara's nephew, Paul Feys, who earns a $60,000 salary at Metro.

McNamara's chief of staff, Katz, said Sharon McNamara was in Wayne County's employ before she married into the family. Feys, Katz said, has all the necessary credentials and licenses that qualify

Others on Hubbard's list include:

■ The brother of commissioner Bryan Amann, Daniel, who works at the airport.

■ The wife of McNamara's chief of staff, Patricia Leonard, who works in the prosecutor's office. (Leonard, however, had that job before she married Katz.)

More complaints

Commissioners also complain that McNamara plays a game where county employees who work in his office are charged to other departments. In this way, they say, McNamara can have more staff members than his office budget alone could pay for.

Of the 38 McNamara staffers Hubbard lists, 19 are charged to other departments; six to public works, four to Metro Airport, two to public services, three to accounting, and one each to health and human services, maintenance, mental health and the alternative workforce.

Katz said there are no sleight of hand accounting gimmicks at work here. McNamara is merely using a payroll system adopted in the 1980s by former county executive William Lucas. All the aforementioned departments are under McNamara's domain, Katz argues, so it's appropriate to charge some of the staff salaries to them.

Using himself as an example, Katz said his work involves any number of departments and divisions in county government. To divide his salary and charge a bit of it to this department and a bit of it to that department would be a waste of time, he said.

Moonlighting

Other sources have complained anonymously that McNamara too often orders staffers to work on political projects that shouldn't be part of their job de-

Earlier this year, for instance, staffers were allegedly told to solicit petition signatures in Jackson, Mich in connection with a forthcoming special election for the state House there.

Furthermore, one of McNamara's assistant county executives, Freeman Hendricks, has long been on a leave of absence to act as campaign manager for Detroit mayoral candidate Dennis Archer.

Amann said that 25 of McNamara's staff members serve the boss in a political capacity as well as administratively. "These people are political appointees," he said. "They're supposed to do their taxpayer-paid job 40 hours a week and their political duties on the weekend. The key is to not let (political duties) interfere with the official business of your position. McNamara takes precautions more than

Take a color walk in nature preserve

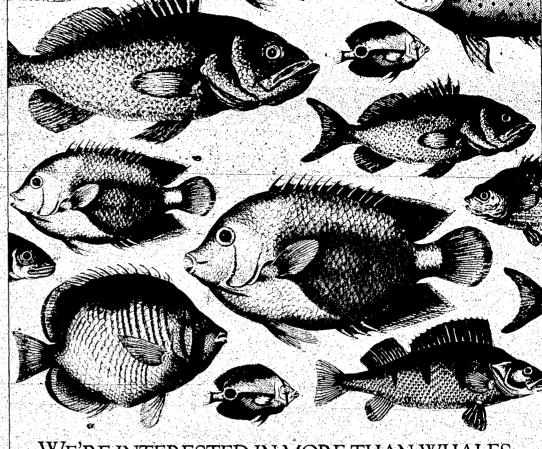

Visitors to Westland Mall take note. There is a nature preserve across the street from Hudsons owned by Wayne County and just waiting for your visit.

The Holliday Nature Preserve Association in Westland has a variety of activities on tap.

On Saturday, Oct. 23 at noon, a fall color walk will be conducted by Bill Craig. Enter at the Newburgh entrance. Meet in the parking lot. The following Saturday, Oct. 30; at 10 a.m., a work project is slated to tidy up all the logs from the Rouge Rescue. Meet at the Joy Road entrance.

On Saturday, Nov. 6, Bill Craig will lead an interesting talk called "Winter Preparations: Some Animals Stay." Meet at the Ellsworth Trail, on the south side of Hines Drive across from Nankin Mills.

On Wednesday, Nov. 10, at 7 p.m., a Holiday Nature Preserve Association general meeting is slated at the Livonia Civic Center Library, Farmington Road at Five Mile. The public is welcome.

At Providence Hospital. we've recognized women long before they won the vote. Since 1844 when Providence opened its first hospital and began caring for single and widowed mothers and their infants, we've been listening to what women need and want from healthcare professionals. And we've learned a lot. We've learned that women want not only the best medical staff and equipment in a hospital, but also quality care. Women want to be listened to and respected by medical proery) rooms and a freestanding family birthing center.

At Providence, we are proud of our ability to provide an outstanding level of care for all the families we serve. Our specialists in maternal-fetal medicine assist high-risk mothers through pregnancy, labor and delivery. Our neonatologists care for ill or premature newborns combining love with the wonders of medical technology.

Many women take their health for granted. Our experience has shown that women are so busy taking care of others, they sometimes neglect themselves. Pregnancy is often the first time an adult woman chooses a doctor and a hospital. And for many, the choice is Providence. In fact, our obstetrical program is one of the largest in Michigan with nearly 4,500 babies born each

Providence is popular among expectant mothers for many reasons, one of which is our extensive range of birthing options including comfortable LDR (labor, delivery, recovthrough all of life's stages from birth to menopause and beyond. And Providence physicians are dedicated to provid ing that care. They specialize not only in obstetrics, but also in gynecology, family medicine, internal medicine and general surgery. Commission from page 9A rigures for 1992, as amended by smith show the commission with 165 people on the payroll, many of hem part time or contractual. All told, excluding fringe benefits; these 165 people were paid about $2.6 million.

Office budgets

Fifty seven of these people were part of the commission staff and not paid with money from any commissioner's office budget. For the most part, these are full-time support people who work for the commission as a whole. Others are part time or contractual employees. Altogether, they were aid about $1.4 million in 1992.

The highest paid commission staff members can be found in this group. Eight of these people are paid annual salaries between $60,000 and $87,000. Together they make $574,000, rivaling the pay given to McNamara's top staffers.

The other 108 staff members worked for the specific commissioners who hired them. The composition of this group is diverse, from five student interns who were paid by commissioner Otis Mathis, D.Detroit, to the fulltime secretary of commissioner William O'Neil, D-Allen Park. These 108 people were paid about $1.2 million from the office budgets of all 15 commissioners.

According to current commission rules, each commissioner gets a base of $65,000 a year for an office budget. Commissioners who chair committees get an additional $10,000 to $25,000.

The commissioner with the highest staff salary is Chairman Arthur Blackwell: He paid 16 staff members about $135,000 in

The commission payroll covering Jan. 1 to May 23 of this year shows Blackwell with 11 staff members, seven of whom do not also appear on his 1992 payroll.

Commissioner Jackie Currie, D-Detroit, chairwoman of the public services committee, paid about $67,000 from her office budget to 16 people in 1992.

Commissioner George Cushing-berry paid about $64,000 from his office budget to 16 people in 1992." As of May 23, 1993, Cushingberry had 10 people on his payroll, only three of whom were on his 1992 payroll.

In August, the Observer gave copies of Katz's commission staff' figures to commissioners Kay Beard, D. Westland, Michelle Plawecki, D-Dearborn Heights, Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, and Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia

Beard also represents Garden City. Plawecki also represents: Redford and Livonia east of Middlebelt. Amann also represents Canton, and McCotter also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

It is unfortunate and discouraging that others have not been able to be more frugal with taxpayers' money," Plawecki said in a written statement. "Unfor-tunately, the problem of bloated budgets and overspending is not confined to the (commission). It exists in the executive branch as

Said Amann, "What we spend on ourselves has very little relevance to public service. We ought to try to spend less on politicians and more on pot holes.

Said McCotter, "I don't think we need to spend all that money on staff. I'm disappointed with excessive expenditures and the growth of government in Wayne County."

And your staff?

Beard, who has been on the commission since 1978, employs two people on her staff, paying them about $60,000, but only one of them gets paid out of Beard's office budget. Beard had no comment on the commission staff as a

Cities want to keep state subsidy

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

"Not enough," counties and local government officials are saying about Gov. John Engler's tax

The governor wants to replace their $670 million cut of state taxes with local property taxing authority - two mills for counties, six for cities, three for townships, two for villages.

"Of 273 cities, 57 would not be made whole. Of 253 villages, 185 would not be made whole," said John Niemala, an official of the Michigan Municipal League.

Villages, in particular, would be hurt badly, said Niemala, suggesting they be given the power to levy three mills instead of the two proposed by Engler.

Local spokesmen voiced their complaints Tuesday to the special Senate committee studying Engler's school tax reform proposals. No votes were taken.

Among the members are David Honigman, R-West Blocomfield, and Robert Geake, R-Northville. Geake was appointed this week to replace Senate majority floor leader Phil Arthurhultz, R-Whi-

'Nothing in the governor's proposal is etched in stone. Nothing is final," Sen. Harry Gast, R-St. Joseph, assured them.

City complaints

Marc Puckett, Flint's finance director, said six mills would leave one of Michigan's largest rust belt cities $4 million short.

In addition, he said, Flint's property base is shrinking by 2 percent a year while state revenue sharing was rising.

We propose that state revenue sharing be protected and some alternative method found for schools," Puckett said.

The property tax increases proposed by Engler would come from eight mills of the constitutional 15-mill "winter" tax no longer used by school districts. The schools' share was eliminated when the Legislature passed Senate Bill 1, wiping out nearly $7. billion in local school property taxes.

Of that 15 mills, counties get an average of five; Engler's plan would give them seven; townships get up to two mills; Engler's plan would give them four.

Cities and villages get nothing from those 15 mills because their rates are set by their voter-approved charters. Engler's plan would give them six and two mills, respectively, over and above their charter limitations.

Must be voted

There's a catch in the Engler plan that counties don't like: Their boards would have to cast a yes vote to levy those additional taxes.

"They should be automatically levied by the counties, unless county boards vote to levy less, said Philip Bareham, representing the Michigan Association of Engler says local boards should look voters in the eye and vot taxes they think are needed.

Local officials had two other problems with Engler's plan: ■ The freeze — The inflationary growth in property values would be delayed for an extra year. County tax rates would be based on assessments of 15 months earlier - costing counties $40 million in lost revenue, said Bare-ham, His complaint was seconded by Gene Thornton of the Michigan Townships Association.

Delinquent taxes — Counties charge property owners who pay late a 4-percent fee. SB 1 eliminates 65 percent of all current state property taxes and thus 65 percent of delinquency fees.

State lands - In northern counties, local tax bases shrink as the state Department of Natural Resources uses oil and gas taxes to acquire more forest land, taking it off the tax rolls.

"Seventy percent of our county is owned by the state or federal governments," said Crawford county treasurer Joe Wakeley. 'Maybe the state should divest some of that property if it can't pay taxes on them.'

Thornton of the townships association went further, asking that townships be given veto power over state land purchases. That could prevent any expansion of state parks, state forests, hiking trails, boat launches or historical get," said Gast, whose regular Senate job is chairing the Appropriations Committee. "The push out there is for the state to acquire more.

Engler's revenue-sharing program is embodied in three Senate bills, 888, 892 and one yet to be introduced. The identical House Bills are 5112 to 5114. Refer to those bill numbers when writing to your legislator, State Capital, Lansing 48913.

PartiGiant no mere party store

■ PartiGiant carries 17,000 party accessories in its 23,000-square foot building on Warren Road west of Wayne Road.

Timing and location are everything. a Detroit-area party goods business found out this month.

PartiGiant was looking for a Westland site for its fifth store in the summer when the Highland Superstore in the WestRidge plaza

Fortunately, results of demographic research were available through PartiGiant's parent company, F&M Distributors, a discount health and beauty aids retailer. F&M operates a store in the same strip mall, which is on the south side of Warren Road between Wayne Road and Central City Park-

Within months, PartiGiant renovated the 23,000-square-foot site of the former electronics and appliance retailer and opened for business Friday morning.

The other PartiGiants are in Taylor, Farmington Hills, Rochester and Roseville.

The store carries 17,000 party accessories, including balloons, madefor-PartyGiant hors d'oeuvres and gourmet popcorn and pretzels.

The timing proved helpful for another reason. Halloween is just 10 days away and is one of the company's two busiest periods, which is nearing its second anniversary.

Janene Parker, PartiGiant's store operations director, said the peak sales period is "a tie for first" between Halloween and graduation. Weddings and baby showers also generate a lot of business.

Ghostbuster to give lecture in Birmingham

BY GREG KOWALSKI STAFF WRITER

Linda Newman is a third-generation astrologer who specializes in Astarian studies, Rosicurcian beliefs, experiential shamanism, spiritualism, tarot, Qaballah and metaphysical research in human potential

And she believes in ghosts, or at least the form of energy that some people call ghosts.

Working out of her office on Maple in Birmingham, she writes newspaper columns, prepares astrological charts, schedules lectures and teaches those metaphysical studies listed above to community groups.

She also will send an occasional ghost packing to the other side of eternity.

"Some are pretty horrible," said Newman. But it's not like what you can see in a movie, although the plots could give Stephen King the creeps.

Take the case of the woman who lived on a Washington, Mich., area farm about 100 years ago. She fell on a manure fork, which is something like a hay pitchfork, but with longer tines. She managed to crawl back into the house, impaled, where she

A while later one of her sons came home. But he was an alcoholic and fearing he would be blamed for the accident, took his mother's body out back, put her body in a pit and covered her with lime to destroy the body before burying her. He then wrote a note signed by her saying she was sick of Michigan and was leaving for-

"No one even looked for her and she was buried without even a prayer," said Newman.

That was the problem

Skip ahead a hundred years, The owner of the farm contacted Newman because she kept feeling the presence of a woman leaning over her.

Newman belongs to a group called Spirit, which has about 12 members who investigate psychic occurrences and helps free troubled spirits.

She and the other members of the 12-person Spirit organization visited the site. One of the members was a voice medium who was able to piece together details of what had happened a century before. They later confirmed through records that a woman who had lived there did disappear 100 years earlier.

The group prayed over the site and the spirit departed, having been given a proper sendoff.

"But the (farm owner) got mad that we sent her spirit away," said

She avoids police investigations of grilly crimes because they can affect her.

After becoming involved in one gruesome case, she recalled, "I started seeing bits of people's baies in my dreams.

But such ghastly images are offset by the gentler cases.

Take the case of the couple who had an infant child who slept in a separate bedroom. The parents had an intercom connected to the child's room so they could hear if there were any problems at night.

"They would hear a couple talking about the baby, what a beautiful baby it is," said Newman. "Then they would say, be quiet, she will wake up." And they would hear the baby awaken.

As it turned out, years before another couple lived in the house. The husband died in the basement. After he died a cold spot remained on the stairs

The wife, however, was still alive, but suffered from Alzheimer's disease.

"She thought she still lived said Newman: "In her mind she'd go back to the house where his spirit was still waiting.' Eighteen months after Newman and her group figured out what was happening, the woman died. The voices disappeared. "He wasn't there out of fear," Newman said of the man's spirit. 'He waited for her. He loved her so much. It was a beautiful love story. Some cases are tougher to crack, such as the haunted sump pump at a Bloomfield Hills house. It turned itself on every Tuesday and Thursday during the spring. Newman said she thinks there must have been a devoted handyman there at one

Not all occurrences prove so baffling, or so spooky. The garage door that kept opening by itself was traced to a neighbor's TV remote control box. And the man who kept finding his sod rolled up in the morning was probably victimized by raccoons, Newman

"We go through 90 cases before we have a real one," said New-man. "Once in a while we get a real one. But it's seldom:'

The Spirit group does not accept any money for routing out-spirits. "It wouldn't be right," she

Such dabblings in the out-ofthe-ordinary does have its skeptics, but they don't bother New-

"We do get people who don't want to believe, but I don't need to prove myself. I don't need their validation," she said.

Some people have no sensitivity to psychic energy, she said. There are levels of sensitivity. After the death of a loved one, a person may dream about them. That's a contact with the spirit of the dead.

Much of Newman's dealings in the psychic world deal with death. She does hospice counseling and has a positive attitude toward "There is a lot of beauty on the other side," she said. Death should not be feared."

In fact, fear is the only thing that can hurt you, she said. "Evil is another kind of fear. Nothing can hurt you if you're not afraid.'

But one thing does disturb Newman: the Ouija board. "It's like an 800 line to whatever is out there. This is not a toy. This opens doors," she said.

No spirit can hurt you, she said, "but they can put you into a fear mode" and make you susceptible to danger.

You can learn more about the spirit world at Newman's lecture t 7:30 p.m. Monday, Oct. 25, at The Community House in Birmingham. Admission is $14.

Vorva faces off with educator over reform

(AP) — An educator's criticism of Gov. John Engler's school plan, plus his suggestion that the Legislature was only tinkering with the issue, triggered a hot response Oct. 14 from a lawmaker.

"Sir, you are the south end of a horse running north," Rep. Jerry Vorva told Richard Wilson, the executive director of the In-Formula School District Caucus. Vorva, R-Plymouth, represents the northern portion of Livonia.

Vorva took exception to Wilson's statement that the charter schools proposed by Engler would let "ill-prepared, incompetent and narrow-agenda adults" teach by loosening state certification standards. Vorva said he graduated from college with honors, worked 10 years as a police officer and six more as a production scheduler for a major corporation, sold real estate and served on a city council before coming to the legislature. Despite that experience, Vorva said Wilson wouldn't find him qualified to teach in a charter school and apparently doesn't believe he and other lawmakers should be changing the school

'We're not going to listen to people like you who say things won't get better unless we get more and more and more and more money and then it's not adequate," Vorva said. "Quite frankly, I think this change is not going to destroy what's there."

Wilson held his ground, telling Vorva that despite all the credentials he or other lawmakers had, "it doesn't necessarily qualify you to be an expert in how schools op-

"You are dealing with the future of the children of this state, Wilson said. "Do we throw out the whole structure of our public schools? That's what this pro-

Earlier, Wilson told the House Education Committee that educators welcome change, but it "must be in the best interest of all of our children and youth, not those that are offered for political reasons, narrow agendas or out of desire to

Mayor Thomas merits 2nd term

Westland voters have a tradition of limiting terms of office and keeping their mayors on a short leash. Moreover, the mayoral nominees who finished second in the past three primaries have gone on to win the November general elec-

But there may be a change on Tuesday, Nov. 2, when Mayor Robert Thomas faces a challenge by city council president Charles Pickering. Thomas, in his first four-year term, had nearly 60 percent of the vote in the Sept. 14 primary — the biggest margin of nomination in recent mayoral primaries.

At the same time, voters will be electing four ouncil members from a field of seven

On balance, Mayor Thomas should be returned to a second term, based on his record which, while not perfect, shows that he can administer a city, identify problems and make decisions.

His strong point is that he is an effective communicator in relating the city's problems and progress to residents. While his primary election foes were upset about his over-reliance on the cable-TV system's governmental channel, Thomas is using the channel to do exactly what it was designed for - inform residents about city programs and events. The council has just as much opportunity to utilize it, but

A former public services department employee and union president, Thomas has focused his administration to provide a higher level of basic city services, which residents want for their tax dollar down to its last two weeks, Pickering's literature is becoming mean-spirited and nasty something that's out of character for the usually mild-mannered council president.

Mayor Thomas has gained popularity on the basis of his concentration on basic city services, such as police, fire and road maintenance. In the primary, he gained a record 58 percent of the vote, outpolling his closest challenger by a 3-1 margin.

Thomas should be re-elected for his focus on maintaining or improving basic city services fire and police protection, street and road maintenance.

Under his administration, he found a way to build a new, independent library without using city-wide funds. Instead he proposes to use unspent dollars from the Tax Increment Finance Authority, created under Pickering's administration when he was mayor from 1982-85.

In his first term, Thomas stumbled on several issues — such as a premature attempt three years ago to fire the golf course manager — but some of those actions can be attributed to a lack of political maturity.

A major factor is that he displays a sense of political insecurity in dealing with council members; most of whom support his opponent.

If re-elected Nov. 2, Thomas should gain a boost in his political self-confidence and be a better mayor in his second term.

History rewritten?

s a former city councilman, it disturbs me when I witness current city officials who are candidates for office (distort) their records. I have watched and read accounts of the recent mayoral debates and was astonished to hear some of the statements made by incumbent Councilmen Charles Pickering and Kenneth Mehl.

In particular, (mayoral nominee) Pickering is attempting to rewrite the history books in an attempt to erase the fact that he was the least effective and most controversial mayor in recent history. His recollection of his stint in office is quite different than I remember.

I laughed while watching the debates at the list of things Pickering took credit for. In his quest to "change his spots," Pickering forgets that headlines from the local papers at that time have documented his poor performance and would/will back up statements that are made in this letter.

What prompted me to write was the fact that Pickering took full credit for the construction of the Senior Friendship Center. Nothing could be further from the truth.

As council president at the time, I had the privilege of serving on a committee ti gated and recommended renovation plans of the center to the mayor and council. Senior citizens, residents, council members and the administration were part of this team. As mayor, Pickering fought every proposal tooth and nail. He was against any expansion of the Friendship Center and the programs and services contained within. If it wasn't for dedicated individuals like Frank Moore, Jack Hickey, Howard Waldrop, Margaret Luchewski, Sylvia Kozorosky, Bob Wagner, Gene Hudson, myself and many others who recognized the need for increased services and who pushed these proposals, Pickering would have done nothing.

Don't believe me, here are some excerpts from a Westland newspaper of Dec. 8, 1983, entitled "Official push, council directs mayor to act on senior center expansion.

"The resolution, presented by Councilman Robert Wagner, was the result of a lack of progress on the part of the mayor to begin work on the expansion as approved five months ago. It's been five months, and not one thing has been done. The mayor has expressed concerns about the expansion.'

Pickering was quoted as saying: "I don't think this is the way to go.'

So despite Pickering's attempts during the debates to rewrite Westland's history, Westland residents know the truth and won't be fooled by his distortion of the facts Thomas C. Artley, Westland ayoral nominee Charles Pickering said at a Sept. 8 candidates' forum, carried on Channel 8, that he would, if elected, change the leadership at the Friendship Center.

leader that has proven herself for many years? Professionally, one does not build up one's " own merits by threatening or running someone else down. If thousands of local seniors believed that the job of director was not being done properly, we would be in front of the council protesting by the hundreds.

We don't need Pickering to blatantly announce that if he is elected he will change the leadership at the Friendship Center.

Why tax real estate sales at all? Both the 4 percent transaction tax and the alternative 16 mills for three years are bad ideas.

We're getting a nearly $7 billion cut in school property taxes. We know we're going to have to make up most or all of it. So let everybody prepare to pay. A personal income tax increase would nick earnings. A sales tax would nick consumption of everything but food and prescription drugs. A hike in the single business tax will fall on the value added of Michigan corporations.

Even the little lamented school property tax was fairer because it fell on virtually everyone. We would rather see part of the property tax restored outright than to focus only on those who sell their homes and gimmicks like the 16mills-for-three-years tax.

The Legislature should dump the real estate transfer tax as quickly as possible.

This editorial on a proposed real estate tax is the first in a series, "Target: Education", which will appear periodically in this newspaper.

POINTS OF VIEW

Support school reform

e are asking the citizens of the Wayne-Westland school district to join us and speak up for Michigan children as our legislators re-create the state's public school system.

We believe state lawmakers and Gov. John Engler can create the best public school system in the nation, but only if it is based on five principles. Those principles must result in a new system that provides a better education for our children and is more fair and accountable to taxpayers.

The system must:

■ Put children first. It must promote equal educational opportunities, focus on at-risk children, improve the performance of all students and offer early childhood education.

Cut and control costs. The public deserves better managed and more efficient schools. We need real penalties for illegal strikes and help in controlling health care costs.

■ Provide stable, adequate, predictable and more equal funding. The new system must replace all revenues lost in the property tax cut. The new system must provide a basic grant for all students, offer local funding options, end the reliance on local millages, and be funded with a variety of revenues.

Improve and promote excellence.
The new system must do a better job of involving parents and community members. The state must evaluate schools' technology and infrastructure needs and help fund and promote local improvement.

Support local control. Communities must be allowed to shape their local education programs through locally elected schools boards accountable to the community.

Please join us and speak up for our children and education in Michigan. Write and telephone your legislator and Gov. Engler and tell them to support these five principles to make Michigan the best school system in the perion.

Tax loss irks voter am fuming over the defeat of the Wayne-Westland schools' Oct. 18 millage proposal. I can't believe the residents and the politicians of our community don't give a damn about our children (our leaders of tomorrow) and the value of their homes and community.

The millage was asking for a small amount of money for a period of one year! Was it too much to ask individuals to invest in this plan? I guess so! But the same individuals will go out and spend money on cigarettes, liquor or unnecessary items.

It seems like our Westland residents have their priorities in the wrong order. Is this their way of getting even with the Westland and state politicians? Who are they really hurting? The kids are getting hurt by this, not the people that raise our home taxes, etc.

Once again the lack of support of our dearly elected political officials did not help this millage. Yet, they say how our community is growing and is such a good place to live. It might be good for the senior citizens (who in general don't support the millages), but what about the young families with children? Would you move into a community that used to have one of the state's top school systems, but is now rated near the bottom? I think not.

Who's going to tell our children that if we don't do something soon to correct our school financial problems, the high schools will lose their accreditation and the students will not be able to apply for their college of choice? But who cares? The residents that don't have children in the school system say they did their job, they put their kids through school, let someone else worry about it! If everyone continues to have that attitude, not only will our school system will be in trouble, but so will the rest of the country. Everyone should have a commitment to support the children, it's the future.

So what's next? What's the school board, the city council or the mayor going to do now? Someone or some group had better get off their ivory tower and address this problem. Perhaps we should just close down our school system in Westland. That would really save the taxpayers money and they can spend it on something more important!

Ed Spontack, Westland

would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who voted for me in the primary election and also to thank the many people who helped me in this campaigm. Although we were not successful this time, we must continue to exercise our right to vote.

The general election is getting close and I would ask all citizens to once again look at the candidates and what they are saying. If everyone would take the time to analyze what is being said, a very easy conclusion can be made!

A change is necessary in the mayor's office. One individual cannot be allowed to run this city like a dictator. He should not be allowed to threaten business people, citizens and employees. Furthermore, to outright lie to the senior citizens that if he is not re-elected the senior center would close is an absolute lie.

In addition, to have uniformed police officers go to people's homes and say the DARE program would cease to exist if Bob Thomas is not re-elected is also an absolute lie. The fact is the majority of the so-called facts stated by Bob Thomas are not true.

He has taken credit for things that happened in 1988, well before he even ran for office. The truth is, he has not proposed one thing to benefit us, the taxpayers. The mayor has stated he doesn't need business people, bankers or influential people.

How do you think he got the campaign war chest he's got? And why pray tell do the mayor and some of his directors carry concealed weapons? I thought Westland was a safe place to live! Is this the kind of person you want as mayor?

I would hope that all of my supporters will support Chuck Pickering for mayor. I believe if everyone reads and listens to what is being said, Chuck Pickering can and will do a much better job than Bob Thomas. Everyone who will be voting Nov. 2 should ask if they want the truth told to them or the double talk we have been getting.

I believe we want the truth and Chuck Pickering will give us that. We are on a collision course that is very detrimental to all of us. We need to change that course and vote for Charles Pickering for mayor.

Kenneth Mehl, city councilman

e are writing to tell Westland about a man they may only know as a local businessman, councilman or community volunteer. We know him as those people, but much more — Charles Pickering is our Ever since we can remember we have lived in Westland and he has been involved in the community. Dad has always believed that our family should not only live in our community, but get involved.

The organizations dad has chosen to be involved have always included us in some way. The one organization that stands out in our minds is the Junior Miss Scholarship Program. We were involved for many years before we had the opportunity to be contestants. What was most important was not that we win, but we had fun, gained new experiences, and friendships.

Dad has always unselfishly given to the community and to the family. He has always made sure we came first. While dad has continued to be involved with one community activity or another he always made time for his family. He makes a point to be at every important event in our lives. We love him for that.

Both of us have chosen to live and raise our families in the city that dad loves so dearly. In fact, on our parents' 25th Anniversary, dad was elated to realize the city of Westland was also celebrating its 25th Anniversary.

You see everything our dad has ever done has always involved the family and the city in some way. What better an opportunity to serve the people of Westland than to be their mayor.

Terri Pickering-Saenz and Leigh Pickering-Hammontree, Westland

Business view

y name is Andrew Johnson and I'm the marketing director for the Westland Chamber of Commerce. My service to the community is accomplished through maintaining a healthy business climate in order to sustain and provide jobs.

In response to the slander of Westland business owners as "outsiders" (Sept. 9 Observer), I live in a small one-bedroom apartment in Plymouth ... am I an outsider? I spent the last five months, nearly five days a week, on the streets of Westland talking with the owners of local businesses. My stepfather recently retired from Wayne-Westland Schools after 20 years with the mentally challenged. is he an outsider?

In clear, understandable language, let me expose what I feel is the real message (Mayor) Robert Thomas is sending to the business community. In the Oct. 11 Observer Robert Thomas contended that "he was mistreated during his 1989 mayoral campaign when he was told to come to a chamber meeting prepared to make a campaign speech, only to learn after his arrival that a debate had been set up between him and his incumbent opponent Charles 'Trav' Griffin.' "That was 1989... this is 1993. Why is Robert Thomas concerned about this?

This is a democracy and as a political figure he is subject to opposition our country was built on this premise. But just in case there is a feeble attempt to twist the truth, let's set the record straight with more than just words, something you can see and touch. There is a letter on file with the Chamber of Commerce dated Sept. 14, 1989. The letter was sent to then-Mayor Charles Griffin and Robert Thomas.

The letter clearly states, "We will ask that you limit your address to our members from eight-10 minutes with a question and answer period following." Thomas and Griffin were treated equally. Thomas is in a position that holds him accountable to the entire city. This is a tremendous responsibility. Issues concerning the school district, community activities, property taxes, etc. are of relevant concern. I

It's amazing that a mayor can't let go of the notion of being mistreated after four years (Oct. 11 Observer). Finally, the citizens of Westland can see for themselves the adolescent grudge the business community has had to put up with for the past four years.

One of Westland's largest businesses has threatened to move out of Westland, taking its tax base and jobs with it. The problem, lack of city response to theft and vandalism to their building over the past six years. I hope the requests for help from this business weren't ignored, because if they move, the community will be left with a large vacant building already vandalized, just waiting for riffraff or gangs to move in:

Andrew Johnson, Plymouth

Control issue may squelch { governor's school fund plan { tripped to the core, Gov. John Engler's plan for school funding seeks to replace a patchwork of locally voted taxes for education with a state-funded "one size fits all" system.

Here's how:

In the governor's plan, all districts would receive a minimum of $4,500 per pupil in state aid. Districts now spending between $4,500 and $5,500 would get a 2 percent increase next year, while those spending up to $6,500 would get a 1 percent increase.

School districts spending more than $6,500 per pupil — 35 in all — would get $6,500 from the state and be allowed the local option of voting additional property taxes.

A fair number of readers have called this newspaper and complained bitterly about the governor's plan "destroying local control of our schools."

There's some justice in this charge. One of the first things families with children do when they consider buying a new home is look at the quality of the local school system. In general — and there are many exceptions — the more local voters have been willing to tax themselves in school millages, the better their schools are.

So people shopping for a house can express their economic and educational choices by choosing a home in one district (with one tax level) but not another (with another tax level). What's wrong with that?

More to the point, what's wrong with the idea of asking people if they're willing to pony up their tax money to support good schools for their kids? You pays your money and you makes your

You can't do that under the governor's proposal, unless you live in the top-spending 35 districts.

I suspect there are a lot of people outside the top 35 districts who care about their schools and the education of their kids and who like the idea of being given a choice in the matter of voting for or against school millages. And I hope there will be a big movement in the Legislature to give more districts their own voices.

More than that, though, Engler's "one size fits all" plan ignores the reality that there are really three different economies in Michigan, each with differing price and cost-of-living levels:

PHILIP POWER

■ One of the first things families with children do when they consider buying a new home is look at the quality of the local school system. In general — and there are many exceptions — the more local voters have been willing to tax themselves in school millages, the better their schools are.

- The suburbs around Detroit, where costs of everything are nearly a quarter higher than they are in the rest of the state.
- Outstate cities like Lansing and Kalamazoo, where prices are in the middle.
- Rural areas like the Thumb and the UP, where everything costs less.

One way to address this reality and yet bring up spending in really poor districts is for the state to give all districts a per-pupil base grant below which no district is allowed to sink, and allow all districts to vote for local enrichment.

This improves the life of the poor but doesn't damage the rich — not a bad combination.

RK SURGERY

INFORMATION BULLETIN

RK Surgery is short for Refractive Surgery. It is a surgery for myopia or nearsighted people to potentially eliminate the need of eye glasses or contact lenses. It is performed in an office outpatient setting without the use of laser. Laser Refractive Surgery is performed with an Excimer Laser and is called Photo Refractive Keratoplasty and is also performed as an outpatient.

The Michigan Eyecare Institute feels this is a wonderful procedure for thousands of people but not all people are candidates.

The doctors at the Michigan Eyecare Institute have had more years of experience with RK Surgery and Excimer Laser Surgery than any other doctors in the midwest. Dr. Myers is the first doctor currently practicing in Michigan to have performed the procedures. Dr. Myers and Dr. Rubinstein are the first doctors in Michigan to have performed any type of surgery with Excimer Laser.

The Michigan Eyecare Institute recommends if you are contemplating Refractive Surgery to investigate how many years the doctor you are electing to perform the procedure has been doing it and how many patients they have performed it on. Also you may ask how many lectures and papers they have written concerning their data, results and methods.

The doctors of the Michigan Eyecare Institute have lectured internationally about Refractive Surgery and Excimer Laser Surgery and have taught the procedures to other ophthalmologists for 15 years and welcome you to visit their offices for a consultation or free evaluation as to whether you or your family members or friends are a candidate for the procedure.

Please cut this bulletin out and use it for a reference if you are contemplating Refractive Surgery. The Michigan Eyecare Institute has 4 offices in Southeastern Michigan. Call 1-800-676-EYES for further information.

The moon will be at first quarter phase at 4:52 a.m. on Oct. 22. Located within the constellation of Capricornus, it will have completed the first quarter of its orbit around the earth. It will be setting before midnight on the 21st, so its light will not interfere with the Orionid shower on the 22nd.

The bright "star" below and to the left of the moon in the southeast on the evening of the 23rd will be Saturn. Saturn has been described as having a golden yel-low color, and its beautiful system of rings is easily visible in a small telescope.

naked-eye! (Not that there would Saturn has at least 18 moons be anyone looking for it; everyone Ita largest moon, named Titan, can be seen in a small telescope; look for a little "star" to the west of Saturn on Oct. 23. (This moon will be visible on the west side of Saturn from the 22nd through 28th of October and will be aligned with the plane of Saturn's ring system.)

Titan, the second largest moon in the solar system, is actually bigger than the planets Mercury and Pluto! It is the only moon to have a substantial atmosphere (mostly nitrogen gas).

Saturn will be stationary on Oct. 28. The planet has been drifting slowly westward through the sky since June 11 when it began retrograde (backward) motion. After today Saturn will resume direct (forward) motion through Capricornus, but very slowly. (Planets don't physically reverse their orbits; retrograde motion is an optical illusion.)

Notice Venus in the south southeast on the morning of the 29th. It will be a little closer to the horizon than it was at the start of this month, but notice how far it has moved from Regulus. (Regulus will be quite high in the southeast.) The motion of Venus is very apparent because of its high velocity around the sun, unlike Saturn's slow plodding. The star to the left of the moon on the evening of the 29th will be Mesarthim (me SAR tim). Also known as Gamma Arietis (air ee AY tis), it is the third brightest star in the constellation of Aries, so it was given the third letter of the Greek alphabet. This was one of the first double stars to be discovered, and it was done by accident. English physicist Robert Hooke was tracking a comet across the sky in 1664 when he made the discovery. The dim, insignificant constellation of Aries was extremely important two thousand years ago. When the zodiac was being mapped out, the vernal equinox (beginning of spring) occurred when the sun crossed the celestial equatór in Aries, so Aries was used to mark the starting point of the zodiac. Today the equinox occurs in Pisces, and soon will move into Aquarius.

Full moon will be at 8:38 a.m. on Oct. 39. This is the full moon that follows the Harvest Moon, and it is called the Hunters Moon because its light aided hunters who were out after sun-

Daylight Saving Time comes to an end at 2 a.m. on Oct. 31. Clocks will need to be turned back one hour, giving us an extra hour. Although the sky will begin to brighten an hour earlier in the morning, and darkness will occur an hour earlier in the evening, daylight time has no astronomical significance whatsoever.

CC golfers 16th

edford Catholic Central's golf team finished 16th out of 24 teams at last weekend's Class A boys meet at Michigan State University's Forest Akers Golf Course.

The Shamrocks' top four players totaled 331 strokes on Friday, the first day of play. To qualify for Saturday's round, the Shamrocks needed to score 320 or less. East Lansing won the meet with 617 strokes over two days and Clarkston was second at 625.

Junior Bob Beckman led CC with 81. Sophomore Chris Misiak had 82 and sophomores Brandon DiPaola and Brian Karabelski each had 84. Senior Dan Kuhn finished with 85

North Farmington junior Drew Sopha tied for 16th place individually with an 8-over par 79.

Stevenson stops Churchill, wears WLAA crown

■ Livonia Stevenson captured the Western Lakes soccer championship outright by defeating city nemesis Livonia Churchill, 3-1.

By BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

There was something distinctly different about this Western year's Lakes Activities Association boys soccer championship than the previous two

It didn't end in a draw.

vonia Stevenson is the undisputed king of the WLAA after Wednesday's 3-1 home-field triumph over city rival Churchill.

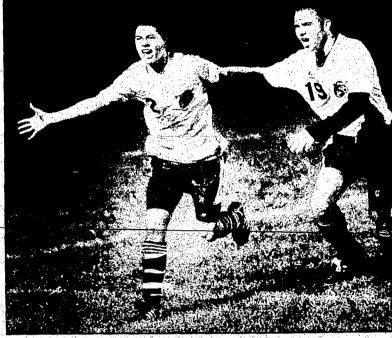

The state-ranked Spartans, who enter Monday's tough district opener at Redford Catholic Central, are 12-1-3 overall.

"We're happy we're not kissing our sister tonight," said Stevenson fourth-year coach Walt Barrett, who earned his first outright WLAA crown. "It feels good. It's very rewarding to win this kind of game. Franklin and Farmington tied in last year's WLAA title matchup, 3-3. In 1991, Stevenson and Churchill deadlocked 1-1.

On Oct. 13, Stevenson and Churchill fought to a 1-1 draw, but on this misty and damp night, the Spartans made good on their scoring chances, played solid defense and received clutch goaltending from keepers Mo Lanspeary and Jim Grewe.

"They (Stevenson) played their game very effectively," Churchill first-year coach John Boots said. "It's hard to win when you can't score. All the sudden we started playing their game. Our game is not in the air, we wanted to keep the ball on the floor as much as possible.

'They made it a track meet. That's the way they like it.'

Stevenson's junior striker Nick Deren notched his 20th goal of the season from Dan Colisimo with 28:20 left in the first half to push the Spartans ahead. 1-0.

ford then sliced and diced his way through the Churchill defense for a goal only seven minutes into the second half to put Stevenson up 2-0.

"It's the best game I've seen Williford play this year," Boots said. "He just dominated the midfield, and we just couldn't contain him.

Sophomore Jim Grewe entered and immediately made a big save, but Churchill was awarded a penalty shot with 29 minutes to go.

Mark Stackpoole took the first shot, but was stopped by Grewe. Churchill, however, was awarded another shot as Grewe was caught moving before the attempt.

Charlie Roberts then drilled a shot into the net to pull the Chargers to within one, 2-1.

But even after the score, Barrett thought his team had a psychological edge.

"When he (Grewe) stoned that first penalty kick, I definitely thought it was a momentum shifter," Barrett said. "Mo and Jim are fairly equal, we've used both all year. I think our goalie depth paid off. There's no problem with either one because they're both number one type of goal-

With just over 17 minutes to play, Stevenson's Scott Sersen put it away with a penalty kick.

"The last 25 minutes we just lost our composure," said Boots, whose team finished the regular season at 11-3-4 overall. "We've given up only one goal the last three weeks and that was to Stevenson. Jim and Mo did a great job against us. Both came up with a key save. We weren't as effective offensively as we have been.

Stevenson's defense tried to prevent the speedy Chargers from crossing the ball. Barrett thought that mission was accomplished.

"Any time you only give up one goal to a team like Churchill, and it was on a penalty kick, it says everyins ahead, 1-0. With 32 minutes to go, Stevenson's thing," Barrett said. "You have to Sophomore midfielder Steve Willistarting goalie Mo Lanspeary left the think highly of the defensive effort."

Big weekend

Western Lakes matchups key

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

The post-season playoff picture is becoming a little clearer as the eighth weekend of high school football approaches.

Two Western Lakes Activities ssociation matchups Friday night - Farmington Harrison at Westland John Glenn (for the championship) and Northville at Livonia Stevenson (second-place crossover) - should uncloud matters considerably.

Redford Catholic Central, meanwhile, is fighting for a Class AA spot in Region III. Unbeaten Rochester and Rochester Adams have good shots, along with oncebeaten Dearborn Fordson and Detroit Henry Ford.

In Class BB Region IV. Redford Thurston remains a longshot. The Eagles, in fact, need a miracle to move up in the standings.

The grid prediction race was widened again last week as yours truly went 11-3 to up his overall to 84-19. His opponent, Dan O'Meara, lost ground again after going 10 for 14. The unlucky Irishman is 77-26, seven games off the pace with only two weeks

Here is a look at this weekend's

FRIDAY'S GAMES (ail 7:30 p.m. unless noted)

Lutheran Westland at Harper Woods (4 p.m.): This Metro Conference crossois a rematch from Sept. 10 when Harper Woods (4-3) prevailed 12-6 in overtime. Both teams lost tough games last week, Lutheran Westland (2-5) fell to Harper Woods Lutheran East in overtime, while the Ploneers gave first-place Mount losing, 21-13, PICKS: Both agree its Harper Woods again.

Clarenceville at Lutheran East (7 p.m.): This is another another rematch from Oct, 8 when East (4-3) won in double overtime, 26-20. Clarenceville (3-4) had an awful time stopping the Matt Geriing-to-Billy Green passing combination, but the Trolans counter with Luvic Lucaito-Mark Kalaj passing threat. PICKS: Emons like Clarencoville, but O'Meara sticks with his East side chums.

GRID PICKS

Farm. Harrison at Westland Glenn: Guess what? Yet another rematch on the horizon, but the stakes are even higher this time. Glenn (7-0) won the first en-counter, 24-19, at Harrison. The Rockets be without returner/safety Matt Howton (broken collarbone). He was a key factor the first time out. Harrison (6-1), led by looking to avenge the first setback. PICKS: Emons rides with the Rockets, but O'Meara says coach John Hemington wins No. 200 at Hamson.

Northville at Liv. Stevenson: The second best matchup of the night pitting the Lakes Division runnerup Spartans (6-1) against the Western Division runnerup Northville (6-1). The Mustangs have a potent running attack, led by sophomore speedster Aneil Kersey and senior fullback Bryan Kelley. Stevenson, the comeback kids, must stop Northville's ground attack to have a chance. Stevenson also needs this win worse than Northville to ake the state playoffs. PICKS: Northville wins the consolation prize.

Ply. Canton at W.L. Central: The Chiefs (4-3) beat Livonia Franklin as quarterback Brett Elledge and tailback Lenny Gardner carried the load. Central (3-4) is fighting a four-game losing streak, but gave Stevenson a run before losing last week, 33-22, as backup fullback Chad Stoddard rushed for 207 yards. PICKS: Hail to the Canton Chiefs rings out.

W.L. Western at Ply. Salem: Western (3-4) has not looked good since being squashed by Northville and Farmington The Rocks (4-3) have been rocky at times, but find a way to beat teams of their caliber. This game will give good Indication which division (Lakes or Western) is better. PICKS: Salem uses witchcraft to burn Western at the stake. Dbn. Fordson at Wayne Memorial: Fordson (6-1, 5-0) can wrap up the Mega-Red Division title outright with a victory, but the Tractors haven't exactly been blowing teams away as evidenced by last week's 12-7 squeaker over last place Woodhaven. Wayne (4-3, 3-2) can play spoiler, but the Zebras are fighting a two game losing skid. PICKS: The Tractors

Garden City at Redford Union (Kraft Field): Both of these Mega-White Division teams have hit the skids, GC (4-3, 3-2) is trying to rebound from last week's 18-7 loss to Taylor Kennedy, while RU (0 7, 0-5) is hoping this will be its night. Maybe the passing combo of Brian Berryman-to-Greg Knight will break the ice. PICKS: The Cougars keep RU winless

SATURDAY'S GAMES (all 1 p.m. unless noted

Liv. Franklin at N. Farmington: Both teams are 1-6. Franklin can move the ball under the direction of quarterback Greg Maple, who is complemented by the running attack of Jesse Shakarian and Ron Troia. North, meanwhile, played a whale of a defensive game last week against state-ranked Glenn before losing, 14-0. Watch Scot Lord and Ryan McGlinch on defense PICKS: Emons votes for North. but O'Meara casts his lot with the Patri-

Liv. Churchill at Farmington: If Churchill (0-7) is going to break its 34game losing streak, this is the game. The Chargers fell victim last year to the Falcons (1-6) down the stretch, after having control most of the game, Farmingt has the home field advantage. PICKS: The Falcons swoop past Sir Winston.

D.H. Annapolis at Red. Thurston: The Cougars (0-7, 0-6) are the absolute worst among 20 teams in the Mega Confer-Thurston (5-2, 4-2) has a slim chance of making the playoffs in Class BB, but the Eagles won't get any bonus points from winless Annapolis. PICKS: It's a happy homecoming for the Eagles.

Bishop Borgess vs. Allen Pk. Cabrini (1:30 p.m. at Garden City Junior High): The Spartans (1-6, 1-3) snapped a two-year drought by beating Southgate Aquinas last week, 20-6. It was also Craig James' first victory as head coach. Cabrini, coached by former Notre Dame quarterback Terry Andrysiak, is 1-6 overall and 0-4 in the Tri-Sectional. PICKS: Borgess wins its second straight.

St. Agatha vs. Det. East Catholic (7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field): The Aggles (3-4, 1-3) have been Dow Jones kind of team this year — up and down. They gave Center Line St. Clement a tussic last week before losing 21-15. East Cath-(5-2, 2-2), rated No. 7 in Class DD, is fighting for a playoff spot in Region IV. PICKS: It won't be easy, but East Catholic stays in the playoff hunt.

SUNDAY'S GAME

Redford CC at Harper Wds. Notre Dame (2:30 p.m.): The state-ranked Shamrocks (6-1, 3-0) already have a spot wrapped up in the Prep Bowl, while these Fighting Irish (4-3, 1-2) lost last week to Country Day, 26-6. Only Lou Holtz, Jeff Burds, Bryant Young and Rudy could pull this one out of the hat for Notre Dame. PICKS: CC wins under the tamished dome, Why Isn't O'Meara backing his

Badgers ride Observerland talent to prominence

BY C.J. RISAK STAFF WRITER

If there are doubters regarding Livonia's pre-eminence as a soccer talent pool, all one need point to is . . . is . . .

Wisconsins

True enough: Even though other NCAA Division I programs like Florida International (Livonia Churchill's Jeff Cassar) and University of Detroit-Mercy (Scott Wiggins and Kal-Kaliszewski, also from Churchill) are reaping the benefits of Livonia's soccer strength, none can point to such a superb record so influenced by local stars.

Mike Gentile and Scott Lamphear, both Churchill grads, are key starters for the Badgers. Travis Roy, from Livonia Stevenson, is Wisconsin's leading scorer.

All three are sophomores. They weren't the first local players to take their talent west. Jeff Gold, a redshirt junior from Plymouth (Salem HS), started at midfield until breaking his foot in the first game of the season. An all-Big Ten pick in '92 when he scored 12 points. Gold returned to action Friday against Indiana.

So how good are they? One need only look at the Badgers' record: 9-1-4 overall, 2-1-1 in the Big Ten, ranked 14th in the nation. And that's after their worst game of the season, a 5-1 loss to Indi-

Defender turned scorer

That loss hurt as much as the earlier wins helped. "I think we showed at the start of the year how good we were when we beat two California teams (St. Mary's and California) 8-0 and 5-0," said Roy. "I think that's when we were playing our best."

So what happened against Indiana? "Our team gave up basically," Roy said bluntly. "Not everyone But we just didn't play well. (The Indiana) coach even thought we played lousy."

Roy hasn't done so poorly, although he is far from satisfied. He has 10 goals and two assists, including Wisconsin's only goal against Indiana. He leads the Badgers in goals and points (22).

"He's just a machine," said Lamphear of Roy. "He scores all the time. It wasn't that way at Stevenson, where he played sweeper much of the time. But Stevenson coach Walt Barrett knew of his offensive potential, turning him loose to charge through opposing

"Trävis Roy was probably the most feared player Stevenson ever had, not only because he could score goals, but because he could intimidate," said Barrett.

His Wisconsin coach, Jim Launder, was informed of Roy's offensive talents by an acquaintance in the Olympic Develop-ment Program — Oakland University coach Gary Parsons, who put Roy on offense during an ODP camp after several other forwards were injured.

"We recruited him as a forward," said Launder, something other NCAA I schools did not do, which worked in his favor. "(Roy) liked the idea, too, so it was a good situation.'

Indeed it has been. Roy had eight goals and five assists as a freshman. "He's still going to get better," Launder predicted. "He's a smart player and he'll learn even more.

Churchill connection

Gentile and Lamphear, teammates at Churchill and roommates at Wisconsin, have also been quick-learners. Gentile was all-Big Ten as a freshman: Lamphear was hoping to earn a position as a marking defender, but outdid himself and has been the starting sweeper.

"(Gentile) is just an excellent all-around player," said Launder. 'He's playing kind of a 'tweener position, both defender and midfielder. But he's very smart and can handle both."

Lamphear "anchors our defense," said Launder, "and he has two game-winning goals." Indeed he does, the latest coming against Michigan State in Sunday's 2-1 win, when he hammered a 22-yard shot into the upper corner. Is he starting to blossom offensively?

Could he be another Travis Roy a sweeper-turned-scorer? "I don't know about this year, Lamphear said with more than a hint of sarcasm (by his count, he scored five goals in his Churchill career). "Maybe next year I'll give him a run."

Launder is pleased with Lamphear as is. "He's a tough, hard man, he covers well, and he's a good tackler," the Badgers

Jeff Gold

Though Wisconsin ranks among the NCAA's elite, Launder figures the Indiana game might have signaled a bit of a slump, "We're in a bit of a lull," he said. "We've got to lift our game rightnow If we do, we can make a Gold should help. "He's a very good player, and a great 'big goal' scorer." Launder added. "He's an explosive kind of player who does the unexpected. He'll help us liven it up once we get used to having him back."

CC's Taylor runs wild; Borgess earns 1st win

Redford Catholic Central wrapped up the Catholic League Central Division title with a lopelded 41-0 Saturday at the University of Detroit.

The Shamrocks completed the rout without gaining a yard through the air. The Cubs couldn't stop the CC ground attack, however, as the Shamrocks rushed for 321 yards.
CC improved to 6-1 overall and 3-0 in the league. U-D is 3-4 and 0-3, Fred Taylor scored the first of his three touchdowns just 3:37 into the game when he trotted 65 yards into the end zone. Adam Borchert converted the first of his five extra points.

Just 3:26 later, Taylor scored on a 1-yard dive to make it 14-0. The run was set up by a 53-yard punt return by Dan Wrobleski to the U-D 14. Wrobleski then intercepted a Cubs pass and returned it 15 yards to set up CC's third score, a 38-yard run by John Spolsky for a 20-0 advantage. Taylor finished with 135 yards on only five carries. For the season, Taylor yards on 11 carries, including 11 touchdowns.

CC scored 14 points in a span of 39 seconds early in the second quarter. The first TD came on a 57-yard run by Taylor. Spolsky's 20-yard jaunt made it 34-0 with 8:48 remaining before halftime.

After Joe Walsh recovered a fumble at the U-D 20, Craig Wasen scored on a 10-yard run with 1:37 left in the third quarter. Jim Adamy later intercepted a U-D Wasen gained 92 yards on 16 carries, while Spolsky rambled for 60 yards on only three carries.

The CC defense limited the Cubs to 109 yards and only five first downs. The Shamrocks moved the chains 13 times.

BORGESS 20, AQUINAS 6: It took a little longer than Craig James expected, but the first-year football coach at Redford Bishop Borgess isn't complaining about his first win in 16 tries at the school.

With the win, Borgess is 1-6 overall and 1-4 in the Catholic League Tri-Sectional division. Southgate Aquinas slipped to 2-5 overall and

'I'm happy for the team; they never stopped n mappy for the team; they never stoppen working." James said. "The team was skyligh. They acted like it was the Super Bowl. The coaches and, myself are only in it for the players and we're happy for them."

Moore. "Usually my forehand is my strength, but today it was my backhand," said Clanton, a junior with only two losses all season. "The key to beating her (Moore) was to keep moving her around."

Moore had the first set tied at 5-5, but Clanton regrouped and won eight of the next nine games. "She (Moore) was getting a lot of balls back and they were good balls," Clanton said. Clanton, however, was disappointed that she didn't get a chance for a rematch with Clack. 'Rachel was kind of upset because she wanted the opportunity to beat her, which she was capa-ble of doing," Geelhood said. Clanton's career record against the Salem junior ace is 2-2.

"I lost to her a couple of weeks ago because I was nervous, and I was shaky," Clanton said.

At No. 2 singles, sophomore Danielle Geelhood of Central beat North Farmington junior Allison Walkon in the finals, 6-1, 6-2. (Geelhood's only loss of the sea-son came against Bloomfield Hills' Lahser's Lisa Powers at the regional).

Becky Clanton, Rachel's ninthgrade sister, took the No. 3 singles crown with a 6-2, 6-3 victory over North's pesky freshman Lauren

Jones in a match that ended in darkness

Farmington's Korin Szopo broke Central's domination in singles when she topped Central's top seed, Nevada Breniser, for the No. 4 title, 6-4, 6-2.

At No. 1 doubles, Farmington Harrison's top-seeded duo of Amy Tobe, a senior, and Sara Kloosternan, a freshman, completed a 14-0 WLAA campaign by defeating Farmington's Devon Woodruff and Lealie Britt, 6-1, 3-6, 6-3.

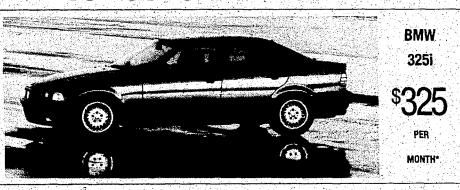

Plymouth Salem's Katie Sullivan and Julie Coyle also won a three-setter to capture the No. 2 flight against Farmington's Lauren Tucker and Krissy Mahon, 4-6, 7-5, 6-4,

At No. 3 doubles, junior Erica Schweitzer and senior Chean Chau scored a 6-2, 6-4 triumph over Northville's Julie Weix and Chrissy Kapusky.

In the biggest surprise of the doubles draw, unseeded Erica Brown and Heidi Walkon claimed the No. 4 flight with a 6-3, 6-1 win over Central's Sarah Leonhardtand Jody Main. Brown and Walkon pulled off a 6-3, 6-4 secondround upset over Northville's topseeded duo of Abby Semeyn and Jennifer Moak.

But the day belonged to Central, which completed an unbeat-en dual meet season (12-0 overall) and a second-place regional finish to go along with a Western Lakes.

St. Joe Hospital rings in a new phone exchar in Ann Arbor? Well, come Tuesday, Oct. 26, the medical center will change the first three numbers of its phone lines: from 572 to 712.

The switch will take place at 12:01 a.m. and is in response to technological advances in telecommunications that will enable the hospital to interact more effectively with other Catherine McAuley Health System units and facilities.

The last four digits of every seven-digit phone number will remain the same. For example, St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's main number of 572-3456 will become 712-3456. After the change, people who call a hospital number with a 572 exchange will hear a recording indicating the new number. The recording will continue for at least one year until Ameri-

The new exchange will affect all buildings on the East Huron River Drive campus, including St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, McAuley Cancer Care Center, 5305 Buuildingand Education Center, Ambulatory Surgery Facility, most 572 numbers in the Reichert Health Building (physicians with a 434 exchange will not he affected), Materials Handling/Purchasing, Center for Mental Health, and Chemical Dependency and the Senior Health Building.

Other SJMH facilities not located directly on the East Huron River Drive campus that will change to the 712 prefix are Clark Professional Office Plaza, 3145 Clark Road, Washtenaw Medical Arts Building, 3075 Clark Road, and McAuley

Outpatient Mental Health and Chemical Dependency Services, 2006 Hogback

Phone numbers for Saline Community Hospital, McPherson Hospital in Howell as well as facilities in Plymouth and Canton will not change.

There are 10,000 available phone numbers in each three-digit exchange. SJMH has used approximately 4,000 numbers. in the 572 exchange, with less than 200 left to be assigned to SJMH offices. The remaining 6,000 572 numbers have already been distributed to other Ypsilanti businesses and residences.

"With the addition of new ambulatory facilities plus the need for data transmission capacity, there will not be enough 572 numbers to meet our needs," said executive officer. "We debated about simply adding a second exchange but were concerned that other businesses and homeowners would have the same exchange already, which would lessen the amount of numbers we could use.

Under our new arrangement with Ameritech, we will reserve all 10,000 numbers in the 712 exchange. This will enable us to meet all future telecommunications needs."

For a few months, some phone numbers to select areas, such as the Emergency and Trauma Center, Surgery, Mental Health/Chemical Dependency crisis hot lines, the main hospital number, Patient Financial Services and others also will be equipped to automatically forthe new 712 number, preventing confusion for people in emergency situations who need immediate assistance.

'This change will affect our patients, the community, businesses and many others, and we hope to minimize any confusion as we prepare for our future telecommunication needs," Faja said We appreciate people's patience during the changeover

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is a unit of Catherine McAuley Health System, a not-for-profit health care provider based in Ann Arbor. Other CMHS units include McPherson Hospital in Howell, Saline Community Hospital and outpatient facilities in Washtenaw, Livingston and western Wayne counties.

Redford supermarket plans bone marrow benefit

Look for announcements of upcoming plays and concerts in two new calendars — "On Stage" and "Classics," We'll continue featuring restaurants on the second and fourth Thursday of the month in our "Memorable Meals" column.

Rachel Churches of Redford is going to see the movie "Rudy" on Sunday for the third time. Her son, Joe, 29 appears in the film as one of the linemen for Notre Dame.

He's a graduate of St. Agatha High School in Redford, and teaches industrial arts in Eau Claire, Mich. Churches and his four brothers all played football at St. Agatha's.

"He's in seven or nine scenes of the movie," said Rachel. "They were looking for big guys and asked him to audition. He got the part. Some of his friends are in the movie, too. It's really a wonderful story."

Here are some upcoming events to put on your calendar.

Take a 'Black Coffee' mystery break

■ Eric Tavares keeps everyone guessing whodunit in Agatha. Christie's "Black Coffee" opening Oct. 28 at Meadow Brook Theatre.

BY KEELY WYGONIK STAFF WRITER

Spend an evening guessing who dunit at Meadow Brook Theatre's presentation of Agatha Christie's

"Black Coffee" opening Oct. 28 at the theater on the campus of Oakland University

'It's a wonderfully entertaining Agatha Christie thriller," said director Terence Kilburn who is also artistic director of the theater. "The characters are colorful and eccentric."

For Kilburn the play presented a special challenge — "It hasn't been done on TV and it's not very familiar," he said. "It's the first play she wrote. The others were adapted by other writers. It shows what a forward thinker she was."

The mystery unfolds as Sir Claud Amory, a wealthy physicist who has produced a formula for the atomic bomb, is murdered. Someone poisoned his cup of black coffee.

"In the 1930s the idea of an atomic bomb was almost science fiction," said Kilburn. "No one had any idea that it was close to reality. It was rather clever of her to be thinking of that."

Detective Hercule Poirot must sort through a long list of suspects including filted family members, mistreated servants and a blackmailer to discover the culprit.

"Since we know who the criminal is, having interesting characters makes this show fun for us to do," said Kilburn.

"We have a lot of Agatha Christie fans. The shows always sell out, we've scheduled extra matinees anticipating the demand."

JIM RIDER/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Kilburn said he is a great admirer of Christine and, of how her plays have been presented. "We're trying to be as authentic as possible to make her story come to life, and create an English atmosphere:

"There's a special dimension to a mystery play. You have to find ways of casting suspicion on as many characters as possible to keep the audience intrigued."

The task is in the able hands of Eric Tavares as the legendary sleuth Hercule Poirot.

"A lot of people think Poirot is French, he's Belgian," said Tavares who first performed at Meadow Brook 20 years ago as Count Dracula. "In some ways I think it's easier to do Shakespeare than Agatha Christie. Poirot is the catalyst. He asks the questions."

Tavares, who now makes his home in Florida, said he enjoys coming to Michigan to perform at Meadow Brook. "I miss the seasons," he said. "I love being here during cold weather. When you're cold you can always get warm, but when you're warm you can't always get cold. I go from my air conditioned house, to an air conditioned car to an air conditioned theater."

Of the show he says it will keep the audience guessing, "Each character is a fascinating individual," he said.

In addition to Tavares, cast members include — Yolanda Lloyd Delgado as prime suspect Lucia Amory and Paul Hopper as the mysterious Dr. Carelli.

David Duchene portrays Johnson and Dr. Graham; Tamara Evans, Barbara Amory; Bill MacKenzie, Tredwell; Thomas D. Mahard, SirClaud Amory; Joseph Reed, Inspector Japp; Lance A. Retallic, Richard Amory; and Alexander Webb, Edward Raynor.

"Eric I think is ideally suited for the role," said Kilburn. "He has a very strong presence on stage and has developed a following over the years. He's a very entertaining ac-

'Lend Me A Tenor' needs brush up to shine

One thing I like about Farmington Players — it's truly a family affair. Look in any program and you'll see a whole passel of McSweeneys, Gilkes and Rosatis trodding the boards, manning the light booth, gathering coffee. I guess it's true what they say — the family that does plays together stays together.

Happily, nepotism works once again at the Barn, where Marc Rosati does a fine turn as Max, the nebbish with great vocal chords, in Ken

Ludwig's popular comedy "Lend Me a Tenor."

Poor Max — his girlfriend wants an affair (but not with him); his boss is a raving lunatic, and the world's greatest tenor has just dropped dead on him

Mix this fiasco with a jealous Italian wife, a slutty soprano, a domineering opera patron and a stunning Art Deco set with six doors, and you've got a recipe for rollicking farce.

Farce, alas, is a bit like a jigsaw puzzle. You've got to have all the right pieces, but the pieces also have to fit together. That's why this production provides a mildly amusing evening rather than the hoped for laugh riot.

Many of the pieces are quite good. Rosati provides just the right combination of swagger and insecurity for Max. Beth Cole and Diana Sovel make a fine pair of ingenues, alLEND ME A TENOR though their personalities suggest that the play might have been better served had they switched roles.

Cole, who plays Max's anxious girl friend Maggie, seems better suited for the aggressively ambitious part of Diana. Sovel, on the other hand, is a bit too cool as the sexy singer, but would have made a nice girl-next-door.

Saunders is properly blustery, and Ron Metayer is a likeable and funny Tito Merelli, the great opera star who may or may not be dead.

Some nice surprises in the minor roles are Helen DeJiulio as a rather Wagnerian opera patron and Frank-Ginis as an extremely annoying bellhop.

So, the pieces to the puzzle are all here, but they don't quite fit.

But, hey, the show runs for four weeks and director Sharlan Douglas can probably fix most of this in one brush-up rehearsal.

The Lionel Bart musical, based on Charles Dickens' "Oliver Twist," recreates the grimier side of Victorian London, a world of grinding poverty and crime. Yet the wonderful score and broad comedy effectively lighten the mood, as does the tale's old-fashioned morality where virtue triumphs and the bad guys get their comeuppance.

and hungry on the streets, he is befriended by the Artful Dodger (Steve Thompson) and introduced to Fagin (Henry Traurig) and his band of child pickpockets.

As Oliver, 12-year-old Lanoham has a stylish, flawless delivery. His angelic face radiates purity, and his voice is impressively sweet and clear though thin on the plaintive "Where Is Love?"

Traurig is a wonderful Fagin, striking a good balance between broad comedy and menacing nastiness. Songs like "Pick a Pocket or Two" make him an endearingly harmless old coot. Though he masterminds a theft ring and must keep the children scared into loyalty, it is abundantly clear that Fagin treats his young charges better than those who pretend to righteousness.

Maggie Clennon is outstanding as Nancy, the fallen woman with a good heart who befriends young Oliver at the risk of her own life. In addition to her strong vocal skills, Clennon makes her character fully dimensional. Her torchsong solo "As Long As He Needs Me" is sung with heartwrenching emotion, a very wel has ever gone before, Touchstone Pictures' stopmotion animated musical fantasy, Tim Burton's "The Nightmare Before Christcombines the power, enchantment and artistry of stopmotion animation with state-of-the-art technology to create a unique and entertaining moviegoing experience.

Amazing animation in 'The Night Before Christmas'

Opening Friday at metro Detroit movie theaters, this delightful film creates a magical realm where fantastic characters come convincingly to life and set into "stop-motion" a charming and fanciful tale that will capture the imaginations and hearts of moviegoers of all ages.

In much the same way that Touchstone Pictures' "Who Touchstone Pictures' Famed Roger Rabbit" revitalized the process of combining live-action and animation, "The Nightmare Before Christmas' brings a new sense of excitement, discovery and wonder to the specialized art of stop-motion animation. The film expands the boundaries of ing elements of traditional frameby-frame animation with the realism of actual three-dimensional sets built and lit as live-action.

Set in a world where every holiday has its own special land, "The Nightmare Before Christmas" follows the misguided passion of Jack Skellington, Halloweentown's beloved Pumpkin King, who oversees the creation of all the ghoulish delights, frights and surprises that this holiday traditionally exports to the "real Bored with the same annual routine, Jack finds a new purpose in life when he accidentally stumbles upon the entryway to Christ mastown and becomes instantly enraptured with the bright colors, toys, decorations and warm spirit that he discovers there.

He returns home obsessed with bringing Christmas under his control and enlists his loyal townspeople to help him become a substitute Santa and create a "new and improved" version of the holiday. But even the best laid plans of mice and skeleton men can go seriously astray as Jack discovers all too soon.

PREVIEW

Produced by Tim Burton, who conceived the project nearly 12 years ago when he was animator at The Walt Disney Studios, "Nightmare" has finally been brought to the big screen by director Henry Selick, a leading creative force in stop-motion and other experimental forms of animation.

Since no one had ever undertaken a stop-motion animation project on such a massive scale before, a special studio had to be created expressly for the needs of the production: During the course of the two years of actual production, more than 120 animators, artists, camera operators and technicians worked on the film, and at the peak of production, 20 individual stages were simulta-neously used for filming purposes.

"To me, Halloween has always been the most fun night of the year," Burton said. "It's a night where rules are dropped and you can be somebody else or anything at all. It's where fantasy rules. It's captures the whole flavor of the old show perfectly.

I have to agree. Despite the critical drubbing it has received, the movie is an admittedly mindless, but often funny tribute to the popular 1960s television show.

You get bewildered hillbillies eating at the pool table, passing pots of hoggowls with cue sticks; Granny mixing up a batch of her "medicine"; Ellie May surrounded by tame bears and raccoons; and horse-faced Jane Hathaway flirting shamelessly with the rockheaded Jethro.

About the only cherished element that doesn't make the transformation is the incidental music, ethereal guitar strums that usually accompanied shots of the luxurious home or its "cee-ment pond.

Director Penelope Spheeris knows what audiences want from the these big-screen TV shows, as she proved last year with the monster hit "Wayne's World.

REVIEW

She delivers often idiotic, occasionally hilarious vignettes woven together in the flimsiest of plots.

For the two or three readers unfamiliar with either the series or its theme song, Jed Clampet becomes wealthy overnight when he discovers oil on his Arkansas acreage. He moves his family out to Beverly Hills, California in the hopes of getting hitched and turning his tomboy daughter Ellie May into a lady.

One of the funniest bits occurs upon their arrival on the West Coast, where impatient drivers flip their middle finger at the slow-moving jalopy. The naive Hillbillies, who think they're being welcomed, start flipping people off whenever they want to say "howdy."

Despite these occasional forays into off-color humor, the Hillbillies are still rooted firmly in the values (and even culture) of the 1960s. Any relevance to the '90s is purely coincidental.

Jethro used to turn the jalopy into a "double-naut" spy car; now he adds big tires and makes it a monster truck. Ms. Hathaway is no stranger to computer dating. She just has a more complex da-

But Rudy Ruettiger, smalltown boy from the Midwest, shows enough grit, spirit and will to thrill a nation hungering for real-life heroes in "Rudy," a stirring drama now playing at metro Detroit movie theaters

Starring Sean Astin in the title role, Ned Beatty, Charles S. Dutton, Jason Miller, Lili Taylor and Robert Prosky, "Rudy" is a TriStar Pictures release.

It begins in Joliet, Illinois, in 1960. Rudy is a young boy growing up in a large Catholic working class family in which the University of Notre Dame is revered and every Fighting Irish football win is a victory for the family.

Rudy's father, however, discourages him from evry aspiring to a school like Notre Dame. Daniel Ruettiger (Ned Beatty) knows that his people are workers, salt-of-the-earth types, and that Notre Dame is for rich kids, smart kids, great athletes - kids in a different league. He also knows that if you chase after unrealistic and unattainable dreams, you're going to get hurt, and Daniel wants to protect his son from disappointment.

Throughout his childhood, however, Rudy insists he's going to play football for Notre Dame, and every time he does his brothers and others deride him. His grades are terrible, he's small, and the bout that can be said about his athletic abilities is that he tries hard.

Rudy graduates from high school, and goes to work at the steel mill with his father and two brothers. One day his best friend is killed in an industrial accident, and the grief-stricken Rudy is shocked into action. He knows that if he doesn't move immediately to make his dream come true, he never will, and a part of him will die surely as his friend

All his life Rudy listened to and believed his father, brothers, teachers, his fiance - all those closet to him when they told him what he could and couldn't do. From this day on, he's going to listen to what his heart has to tell him instead.

EARTHA DEYAMPERT

Is Halloweenboo, hurray?

he spirit of Halloween, is it a friend or foe? What does Halloween represent to young children? To adults? Halloween as most of us know it is a traditionally observed date that falls on every Oct. 31, when children, youth and adults put on a different face or look, mask and costumes then parade around looking for treats, as children do, or celebrate in a party-like environment.

It's supposed to be a day where one can dress up and portray his or her favorite or least favored person or character, good or bad. Furthermore, it can be viewed as a day or night of deception, all in fun.

As each year passes and Oct. 31 comes around on the calendar, the hype of Halloween is lessened. It certainly has taken a nosedive since I was a child. In fact, it's changed significantly since my older son of 17 years paraded around in his Superman costume,

My parents came to Michigan, migrating from the deep South in the mid-1940s and found Halloween in the north to be "get with it or get pranked." After scraping tons of eggs from their windows and front door, they got on the bandwagon of happy haunters. "

To this day, children, usually older, more daring youngsters will occasionally pull a prank on Halloween, some more ill-willed and vengeful than others. But as it goes, children, supervised by adults, are too excited by the receiving of goodies and being out on the town, to care about eggs and pranks. Anyway, it's too messy, and heaven forbid that it get on that new Ninja or Barney costume.

Tomake what could be a long, drawn-out review of Halloween short, I would like to give some food for thought regarding what Halloween may really represent in the manner by which we traditionally celebrate it. What are we really saying to children through scary costumes, painted faces and ghostly antics?

Halloween seems to be a celebration of mixed messages, which in turn symbolizes possible deception, and creates a note of good vs. bad. With children, the selection of costume choice is important, since it gives signals as to good or bad character and role modeling.

The mixed messages Halloween sends are significant when looked at closely. For example, giving sweet tasty treats in abundance is a surefire contradiction of the healthful habits we teach children. Come on, folks, let's be honest. The goodies your children so happily haul home in a trick or treat bag, draped over their shoulder, can last until the end of December, two months of promoting tooth decay. Mixed messages here: it's OK to have tons of candy and caramel corn stored in the kitchen cabinet, but you're not supposed to eat it.

What about the mixed message sent on accepting items from strangers just because it's Halloween? In the fairy tale of "Hansel and Gretel," the children were enticed to eat of the sweet gingerbread house, but while they ate, someone else, in this case an adult of bad character, had plans to deceive the trusting children. Again, what looks good and sometimes tastes good may not be good for us.

With the numerous reports of children being harmed by eating tainted candy and biting into fruit with sharp objects placed inside, I wonder about the "goodness" of Halloween. It becomes more of an issue for those trusting young children who go door-to-door looking for candy. For the most part, people are good by nature and practice, caring and often abiding by the rules of Halloween. However, there are some who view this tradition of giving treats as an opportunity to carry out acts of real deception, using children as the target.

When children celebrate Halloween, it would be wise to have them participate in group activities, with friends or classmates in school, day care or in an environment that is more controlled, preplanned and supervised.

However, if you choose to have your child go door-to-door this Halloween, please follow some

- (1) Have them wear costumes that are bright and fit to size.
- (2) Have them wear costumes where the eyes, ears, nose and mouth are exposed.
- Use the buddy system. Stay with a group of friends or relatives.
- Stay away from abandoned houses and areas where there's little or no lighting.
- Don't unwrap or eat candy or other treats be-
- foreinspection. Avoid houses where apples and other fruits are
- Older children trick or treating in small groups should make sure someone wears a watch to keep track of time. Late trick or treaters are more at risk of strangers lurking about, especially when there's no other chil- dren or adults around. When at a house after receiving treats, say thank you and move on to the next stop. Don't dawdle or hang around.

Phonics gives kids start on learning

Reading can open up a world of learning, but when there are problems making the connection, it can be a nightmare. Evelyn Peter-Lawshe has a way to establish that connection by taking kids back to basics phonics.

BY SUE MASON STAFF WRITER

Sharon Taylor admits that when she found Evelyn Peter-Lawshe, she was grabbing at the last hope for her son Mike.

A gifted child with an IQ of 150-170, the grade schooler was learning at a level three to five grades higher than his classmates, but couldn't print a letter or read. And when it came to mathematics, he couldn't do the computations.

"Everything (learning) was by osmosis." Taylor said. "He could take it in, but he couldn't retrieve it. We had to find a way to retrieve the informa-

Peter-Lawshe provided the way. Shetook him back to the basic writing strokes. She taught him how to print and write. Her tutoring twice a week for 212 years - and enrollment in Gibson School in Redford? was what Mike needed.

Mike is dyslexic, and the impairment wasn't identified until his father read an article about it. It listed 25 symptoms; Mike exhibited each and every one. Symptoms that went unnoticed by experts who, even with testing, couldn't figure out what was wrong with him. Symptoms that went unnoticed by school officials who wanted to label him as mentally impaired.

He's 16 now and he's doing wonderfully," said Taylor, a Livonia resident. "He really came into his own with Evelyn's help. Oh, trust me, trust me. It was Evelyn."

Sounds like

Peter-Lawshe is director of the Reading and Language Arts Center, which has offices in Bloomfield Hills and Livonia. The tutoring, done with students young and old alike, is special phonics instruction originally developed for dyslexics. It incorporates all of the senses in learning sounds.

Schools in general use the wholelanguage method to teach children to read and write. They are taught to recognize, write and speak whole words. Phonics focuses on the letters that make up a word, with children learning what each letter looks and

Peter-Lawshe goes one step further, using activities to reinforce the phonics. Cookies, sand trays, sandpaper, whipped cream, and even sidewalk chalk are among the tools she and her tutors use in working with the children.

With the whole-language method, the belief is that children learn if they are immersed in a print-rich environment and exposed to a lot of literature. The learning is implicit; ours is explicit." Peter-Lawshe said: "Ours is a very structured program. It's sequential, systematic, cumulative, integrated and success-oriented."

For younger children, the program starts with the letters C, O, A, D, G, L, H and T and goes on up to letter combinations like "eigh." Through the tutoring, they learn 35-40 words that they can both read and write, words that "set the stage for breaking the code for learning.

For example, youngsters may be asked what sound they make when they open their mouth for the doctor. When they say "ahhh," they are asked to look in a mirror to see the shape of the sound. Then they use their hands to draw their mouth in a sand tray to see how the sound looks and feels

For older children, the tutoring goes back to the Greek and Latin roots of words. According to Peter-Lawshe, if a child is "taught about 100 Greek and Latin roots, he will leave high school with a 32,000-word vocabulary; otherwise he leaves with a 12,000-word vocabulary.'

Peter-Lawshe spent six years tutoring children and adults in her homebeforeopeningherfirstofficein

Taylor would take her son to the former's home twice a week for 21/2 years and Mike would never balk because his tutor was "his lifeline.

"She was the only chance I had," Taylor recalled. "I knew something had to be done to change him or we'd lose him, so I grabbed at the last hope to come down the road. So nothing touched us more than what happened...Hewassorelieved to have Difficulty with language can make school a torturous and stressful experience for students like Mike, who had stress-related stomachaches, headaches and vomiting. According to his mother, up until he started working with Peter-Lawshe. each school day he would beg her not to send him to school.

"My son failed every school year; my son tailed every day of school," she said. "He'd spend 21/2 hours every night doing his homework and it wasn't good enough because he couldn't get the right answers."

Now a student at Livonia Stevenson High School, Mike has blossomed with Peter-Lawshe's help and exposure to the teaching methods of Gibson School. "They (the teachers) bring up the subject and you do the work," Taylor said.

The program Peter-Lawshe follows was developed by Dr. Samuel Orton, a neuropsychologist/surgeon and Dr. Anna Gillingham, an educa tional psychologist, along with classroom teacher Bessie Stillman in the 1930s. Because it was developed privately and not through a university, the Orton-Gillingham plan didn't get much attention, she said.

Not so now. Through referrals Peter-Lawshe has gone from one office with herself and two tutors working one-on-one with the students; to 20 tutors, a second office in Livonia coordinated by Laurie Wagner, and community-based sessions of four to six students with a tutor offered in 13 communities, including Plymouth, Farmington and Novi. She has also begun training public school teachers in the Orton-Gillingham method.

But don't look for her tutors to be teachers. While she prefers they have educational backgrounds, that's not mandatory. In fact, one tutor has a master's degree in library science and some majored in the fine arts.

They are all trained in the program and are required to take 10 hoursofcontinuingeducation to keep abreast of new developments.

Peter-Lawshe also recognizes that some learning problems are notas difficult to overcome as Mike's,

IP: Therapy makes vision 20/20

Clear vision: Through therapy, Dr. John Jacobi helps youngsters improve their learning with better visualization skills.

STAFF WRITER

Did you know that you can have 20/20 eyesight and still have 0/0 vision?

Oddasit may sound, it's true. Eyesight is the basic ability to see; vision is the ability to identify, interpret, comprehend and act on what is seen.

Vision is seeing clearly, singly and comfortably. It's eyes working as a team at a variety of distances. It's gathering, processing and integrating information and understanding and responding to what the

And when there's a problem with the link between eyesight and vision, the result can be learning difficulties. That's where Dr. John Jacobi of Suburban Optometric Associates of Livonia comes in.

Jacobi is among some 100-135 optometrists throughout the country who take care of the "visual aspects of learning." Using the training gleaned from a visual improvement program developed, the optometrists help children correct problems, thereby improving their self-esteem and learning ability.

Visual skills are light years beyond simply discerning whether or not an individual has 20/20 sight, "Jacobisaid." The complex visual areas such as visual memory, visual concentration, eye-hand coordination, visual perception and eye movements must be on-line in order for a child to be successful."

Tuesday evenings, they work with four or five children, doing a battery of 14 tests to check each voungster's mechanical and visual processing skills. The free testing lasts about an hour and when done, there is a consultation with parents as to what can be done to help the child. For some it may be VIP; for others, it may mean behavioral therapy and referrals to other practitioners.

"Mostly, we help parents recognize the symptoms and demonstrate what can be done at the screenings," Jacobi said. "In doing the demonstration, we want to make sure there's enough there to improve to have an impact on.

According to Jacobi, there are 10 behavioral signs that can indicate vision problems:

(1) Unable to sit still, can't stay on a task for any length of time. (2) Very clumsy; poor eye-hand coordination. (3) Alternates use of right and

(10) Makes frequent "careless" errors

Generally, parents recognize there's a problem and bring in their children, usually in the first or second grades, but the age range is 6 to 16, Jacobi said. In fact, VIP helped a 16-year-old who could only read two- and three-letter words. After working with a therapist, he was reading four- and five-letter words and complete sentences.

The therapists meet with the children one-on-one three times a week. They work with the youngsters to address the problem, then try to move it to the subconscious

We make things challenging for the child so that he gains from each accomplishment and parents regain confidence in their child."

But the parents also have to be involved, working with the children 30 minutes a day when they're not in the program. Parents are given techniques to work with the child and "in a way are quizzed to see if they've been working with the child." Jacobi

On the average, VIP can improve a child's visualization skills by 3.1 years, concentration 4.8 years and non-verbal IQ 21 points, according to the doctor. I think this writer could proba bly succeed in almost any field she chose to pursue. A grapholo-gist does not offer advice on selecting a career. She points out one's strengths and weaknesses, then allows the writer to make the decision. One caveat I have is that she check out the current real estate market in this area carefully. It may not be as rewarding as it was 15 years ago.

Today's writer fills the entire page with her neat, legible ence as much of life as she can. She appears to have a strong need to be busily occupied with activity and adventure. Her spirit is ready and interested in helping Currently, however, she appears to be feeling some dissatisfaction in her life. She is ambitious and her aspirations and goals are set at a very high level. In fact, some of them are so lofty they might be considered pie-in-the-sky. Most, however, are within her grasp. Diligence and determination are her hallmarks. She is unafraid of hard work. In situations where she is given approval from superiors as well as subordinates she is most successful.

A very real paradox can also be seen in that she often embarks on a project enthusiastically, but her interest level can subside, if support and/or results are not forthcoming. I realize this is a contradiction to the foregoing statements, but these feelings all live under the same skin and can cause difficulty in arriving at a decision. She may want to consider this before making any career decision.

Celebrities strut their stuff at Angela Hospice benefit

Mark your calendars for the sixth annual "Light Up a Life" benefit and fashion show to be held on Tuesday, Nov. 9, for Angela Hospice Home Care.

The Italian American Club of Livonia is once again sponsoring the event with Jacobson's Laurel Park store as the host.

Ticket holders will be treated to an evening of designer fashions, modeled by local celebrities, samplings from more than 20 of the area's favorite restaurants and exclusive Jacobson's holiday shopping. WJBK-TV 2 anchor and honorary chairman Rich Fisher, WDIV-Channel 4 personality Sarah Bam, WKQI radio personality Colleen Burcar, WDIV meteorologist Paul Gross, Detroit Tigers announcer Rick Rizzs, Livonia Chamber of Commerce executive director Duane Marsh and other local celebrities will be on hand to show off the latest from designers JAX and Segrett's.

Pam Deluca will also be on board to present her new accessories while basketball celebrity turned author Spencer Haywood will autograph his new book, 'The Rise, the Fall, the Recov-

In past years, proceeds from the benefit have supported the vision of Angela Hospice, and on Dec. 5, the public will have the opportunity to see that vision become a reality. The new building will be dedicated on that date.

"It is a very exciting time for the Hospice and the 'Light Up a Life' benefit is just the beginning, of a yearlong celebration in honor of life," said Sister Mary Giovanni, Angela Hospice president and founder.

Festivities will start at 6:30 p.m. and end at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 9, with a raffle that features such prizes as dinner for two with Mr. and Mrs. Mort Crim at Stewart's two round-trip continental United States airfares donated by Northwest Airlines and a $500 Jacobson's gift certificate.

Tickets are $30 and can be ordered by calling Loretta at 473-9464 or Dorothy at 464-7810. Raffle tickets are $1 each and can be bought by calling the Hospice office at 464-7810 or Kathy at 462-

ANNIVERSARIES

Joseph and Mary Wade

Some 225 relatives and friends gathered at Temple Baptist Church in Redford on July 30 to celebrate the 50th wedding anniversary of Joseph and Mary Wade of Livonia.

Both were raised in Detroit from early childhood. He came to the city from Northern Ireland in 1924. She came to the area from New Brunswick, Canada. The couple exchanged vows on July 27, 1943, at Temple Baptist Church in Detroit.

The Wades were guests of honor at a buffet supper, given by their children: Jerry and Sharon Schick of New York, Paul and Linda Wade of Gregory, Mich., and Tom and Sue Wade of Livonia. They also have six grandchil-

Blame and finger pointing won't resolve our problems

As I begin to write this coll feel a umn, sense of sadness. I am aware that the family of Malice Green is still grieving the loss of a loved one. At the same time, the families of Walter Budzyn and Larry Nevers are grieving the inability to reach out and touch the men they love.

I am equally aware that two men who have been at the center of this sad story are attempting to acclimate to prison existence even as I watch these words flash onto my computer screen.

The talk shows and the editorials the letter boxes and the bar chatter around this town have given center stage to the story for longer than many would like to think about. However, while many of us would rather put the Larry Nevers do not have that luxury.

Focusing on who is to blame has really not done much of anything for anybody, except perhaps to raise the illusion of righteousness and polarize portions of a society that can ill afford it, a society that does not have much to feel good about in the midst of lives wasted and lives locked up.

Men dying violent deaths, drugs or no drugs, criminal records or not, is something that should raise feelings of sadness and anger in civilized people. Men leaving loved ones behind, despite their reputation or previous behavior, should be enough to raise a degree of empathy in men and women anywhere. Men going off

> Yes, the day of sentencing was a sad day, and so was the day of judgment and so was the day of the beating. All of those sadnesses are what they are, far removed from the business of placing blame.

It is the place of the courts in this land to determine as best they can the issues of guilt and innocence. It falls to the rest of us to get off the blamemobile and begin to address as a society what we might do to minimize the repetition of these sad kinds of events. As long as we allow poverty to continue, as long as we are content to have our society defined to prison while their families suf- -by two sides of the tracks, so to fer their own grief should be speak, as long as we are more concerned with pointing fingers and determining who is the problem than we are with becoming a part of the solution, we will continue to breed further tragedy. The names will change, but the chapter titles will remain the righteousness do nothing to resame. They will be called violence and killing. They will be calledprison and loss. They will be called grief and pain.

move those sadnesses that perhaps we do not feel deeply enough. If we did feel them, then alled grief and pain. perhaps we could write some new Blame, finger pointing and self-chapter titles to a very old book.

Few things you can wear feel this good.

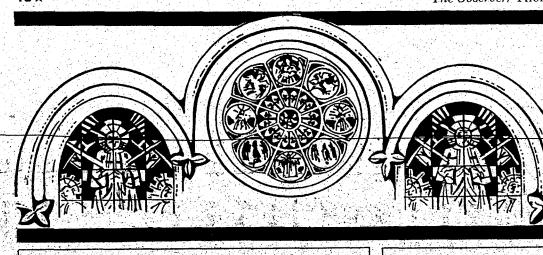

When you wear this pin it means you have chosen to contribute generously to the United Way. It means your money is working hard to help 1.7 million people in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Unemployed people. The elderly. The abused. Troubled youths. Homeless people, too. By contributing to the United Way, you help all of them-and many more-make their lives just a little better. And nothing else feels as good as that except, perhaps, your favorite pair of slippers. So please give generously to the United Way again this year and wear your pin with a grin.

Felician Sisters honor founder

Crisp autumn air, a blue sky and bright sunshine - a heavenly day for a celebration. And celebrate is exactly what the Felician Sisters of Livonia, their friends and families did on Oct. 10.

The celebration was in honor of the beatlfication of Blessed Mary Angela Truszkowska, who founded the order of The Sisters of St. Felix of Cantalice (commonly known as the Felician Sisters) in

The beatification, celebrated by Pope John Paul II in Rome on April 19, is a principal step in the sequence of events leading to canonization (being named a saint) in the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop Walter J. Schoenherr of Detroit was celebrant for the service held at the Provincial House Chapel on the campus of Madon-na University in Livonia, Concelebrating with Schoenherr were 20 other members of the clergy, including Monsignor John Gordon of the Detroit Archdiocese and Monsignor Kevin Britt of Rome, secretary to Cardinal Edmund Szoka (former archbishop of Defroit). Britt was in the Detroit area on family business

Other events of the day, including a reception, a sacred concert of dance and lyrical music provided by the Felician Sisters and a time capsule ceremony, all honored a special woman.

Compassion, selflessness, love and sensitivity were evident characteristics in Sophia Camille Truszkowska at a young age. Born on May 16, 1825, in Kalisz, Poland, she was the eldest of seven Hedwig, the youngest sister in the Truszkowska family, de-scribed Sophia as "that angel of mercy, my second mother.

Truszkowska learned a great deal-from her father, Joseph was a judge in Poland. He shared. his findings with her on the causes of juvenile delinquency. His depictions of ignorance, broken homes, tack of religious training and permissiveness in the 19th century strike a familiar chord to-

Fueled with that information and a burning desire to help, the young Truszkowska gave the money she earned to the poor. A compassionate, pioneering woman for her time, she worked wholeheartedly to seek shelter, education and medical care for the poor, the needy, abandoned children, orphans and elderly women.

After receiving her habit and the name Mary Angela, Truszkowska founded the Felician Sisters in 1855. Under her guidance, the sisters cared for the wounded on both sides during the Crimean War. They even converted one of their convents in Warsaw to a 40-bed hospital.

As first elected superior general of the Felician Sisters, Mother Mary Angela continued to work tirelessly and expanded the ministry of the order to orphanages, homes for delinquent girls and unwed mothers, the elderly and other Polish social centers.

Special guests: Joining in the celebration of the beatification of the founder of the Felician Sisters were Monsignor John Gordon of the Office of the Archbishop (from left), Sister Mary Dennis Glonek, provincial superior, Sister Mary Danatha Suchyta, vicar of the province, and Monsignor Kevin Britt, secretary to Cardinal Edmund Szo-

Poor health forced her to retire in 1869 and she died on Oct. 10.

Began in Poland

The beatification process start ed in Poland in 1933, according to Sister Mary Dennis Glonek, provincial superior of the Livonia Felician Sisters. Sister Glonek has served 49 years as a Felician sister and is in her fifth year of a six-year term as the Livonia pro vincial superior.

"Then in 1939, there was the outbreak of World War II, so it (the beatification process) was halted for a time, she said 'It was not reopened again until 1949, after the war and everything had settled down.

'There were a lot of investigations that had to go on in Poland because that is where Mother lived. Then, in 1962, they worked on the Herocity of Virtues of our Mother Foundress. The present pope, who was a cardinal at that time, announced in 1992 that they accepted the herocity of her virtues. Everyone has virtues, but they had to prove them to a greater extent.

One of the significant events leading to Mother Angela's beatification was the miraculous cure of Lillian Halasinski in Dunkirk, N.Y., on Jan. 4, 1984. Halasinski suffered from severe pain and swelling in her legs, caused by a crippling diabetic neuropathy. She and her family had fervently prayed for healing and for Mary Angela's intercession.

She came home from the doc tor and she was very despondent," Sister Glonek said. "She sat downstairs and saw Mother Mary Angela in the doorway and at that instant she was cured. That's something that never happens. It was an instantaneous thing. A miracle has to be instantaneous and it has to be verified. It took from 1984 all the way to 1992 when the Holy Father accepted it as a miracle because his medical consultants and the theologians said that it was a cure, something that could not happen naturally it was a supernatural occurrence.

Before canonization to sainthood can occur, another miracle must be verified by Rome.

Upon beatification, Blesseds are given a feast day of honor on the church calendar which remains the same after canonization to sainthood.

When she was beatified," said Glonek, the Holy Father announced that Oct. 10 would be her feast day." This first feast day also marked the 94th anniversary of Mary Angela's death and was one of the reasons the Livonia Province chose it to celebrate her beatification.

There are now approximately 2,900 Felician sisters in 12 provinces. There are seven provinces. in the United States; the Livonia Province was the first one founded in 1874. There are currently 320 sisters in the Livonia prov-

Many ministries

The sisters are involved in many area ministries, including education at Madonna University, Ladywood High School and Montessori Center of Our Lady of Livonia, among others.

Health care is a major focus as evidenced in their ministries at t. Mary Hospital, Marywood Nursing Care Center and Marbrook Manor of Livonia. Angela Hospice Home Care and the Senior Clergy Village are also part of the Felician ministries in Livonia

A special event that took place at the Oct: 10 celebration was the Blessed Mary Angela Time Capsule Ceremony. The box was filled with many mementos, including a relic of Mary Angela, booklets, articles, photos, medals, statues and a book written by Sister Mary Janice Ziołkowski, "The Felician Sisters of Livonia, Michigan: First Province in America.'

The time capsule will remain sealed until the 200th anniversary of Blessed Mary Angela's death on Oct. 10, 2099. The ceremony ended with the prayer that, when the time capsule is opened, "the Felician Sisters will still be here meeting the needs of the Church and of the People of

Organ virtuoso Jones performs at Metropolitan

International organ virtuoso Joyce Jones will perform in concert at 8 p.m. Friday, Oct. 22, at the Metropolitan Methodist Church of Detroit. Jones will perform the works of Bach. Vivaldi, Dupre, Langlais, Liszt, Charles Ives, Camil Van Hulse and two of her own hymn compositions. The "Prelude and Fugue on Bach by Franz Liszt and "Variations on America" by lyes will fully exploit the resources of the church's 7,000-pipe organ, which will be visible to the audience on TV monitors. It is the largest church pipe organ in the Midwest.

A reception will follow the program, allowing concert goers to meet Jones

When she plays an encore with a pedal solo she often tells her audience that it is her way of saying thank you to God for showing her the direction for her life. While a piano student in her native Texas, she suffered a badly sprained hand and feared that her life's dream of becoming a concert artist was shattered

However, she began to practice pedals on the organ and discovered a natural flair and coordination for that instrument. By the time her hand was healed, she had become so fascinated that she changed her major to organ.

Jones is the Bowden professor of organ and organist-in-residence at Baylor University, which also named her Outstanding Creative Artist She is a fellow of the American Guild of Organists and holds the doctor of musical arts degree from the University of Tex-

Sculptural showcase might work in Livonia

magine a garden of sculpture - with size, color and spirit — sprouting from the architectural landscape of the Livonia Civic Center complex.

The idea's not so far-fetched.

The site certainly is suitable. What's needed is public support for such a sculptural showcase of scale, design and technique.

Two Redford sculptors, Sergio De Giusti and Todd Erickson, took part in Michigan Outdoor Sculpture Exhibition IV. That invitational of abstract and realistic works by 20 of Michigan's finest sculptors ended a four-month run Oct. 15.

Held in the Southfield Civic Center Plaza, a terrific place to unwind and enjoy fine art, the exhibition provided an eyegrabbing counterpoint to the contemporary architecture around it.

Other invitees included sculptural pacesetters Tom Phardel, David Barr, Mark Chatterly, Russell Thayer and Ray Katz. Caroline Court laid her sparing circular brickwork, "Column," as a permanent fixture in the plaza.

Hosted by the city of Southfield and the Southfield-based Business Consortium for the Arts (BCA), the biennial event spotlights contemporary pieces cast in steel, aluminum, hydrostone, wood, brick, bronze and mixed media.

Bring sculpture to Livonia What about the exhibition running from June to Labor Day in Southfield, then moving the prize winners to Livonia for a September stop in the civic center complex at Farmington Road and Five Mile? Six prizes were awarded this year. To help draw casual viewers to Livonia, the featured sculptors could present a lecture/slide show to explain their works, share their insights and field questions - to, in short, ease the culture

Like De Giusti says, it would be "fantastic for this community. It would be like a ready-made show. Traveling exhibitions are always going from . museum to museum.

Livonia arts commissioner Jack Olds, former Michigan Council for the Arts projects director and a serious artist himself, agrees:

"It would be nice to use our grounds for this type of thing although that's one heck of an enterprise they've got going in Southfield. They've worked hard to get businesses involved.

Curator of the Livonia Civic Center Library Art Gallery, Olds says: "Livonia need some public art. But that means businesses and government working together to get some sculpture in different places around the city.

Having a mini sculptural exhibition could help spur interest in bringing art to public places in Livonia. Such a display might also generate exposure for the outdoor environmental sculpture south of the city hall.

Limited support from the city leadership and seed money from the Livonia Arts Commission could go a long way toward reeling in the key catch for a mini sculptural exhibition: corporate funding to cover the approximate $5,000 cost.

A world-class relief sculptor, De Giusti is known for shrouding figures in haunting sculptural messages. The Italian-born artist describes his work as figurative impressionism, shrouded in elements of moodiness, turmoil and alienation.

De Giusti acknowledges that sculpture often puzzles the casual viewer. "But it can be very educational while generating a whole different awareness of art.

Spotlighting fine sculpture

Marlowe Belanger, now BCA vice-chairwoman and Southfield's cultural arts manager, started the Michigan Outdoor Sculpture Exhibition. BCA board member Lou Redstone, a Southfield architect, artist and author, later embellished it. He patterned it after an international symposium of monumental sculptures in Long Beach.

The idea behind the exhibition is to stimulate Michigan sculptors, to increase public knowledge of public art and to heighten citizen awareness that sculpture and art should be a part of the envi-ronment," Redstone told the Observer.

The vital importance of art in our environment has always been recognized as something that fulfills a need as vital as food and shelter and as something that brings joy and excitement to all people in their daily lives," he added.

Go high tech to pick furniture fabric

■ Special software loaded with furniture and fabric images makes custom furniture decisions easier. Seeing fabric on furniture before buying helps eliminate the dreaded buyer's remorse.

By Janice Tigar-Kramer SPECIAL WRITER

f you've ever bought custom upholstered furniture, you know the frustration of flipping through dinky swatches to find the right fabric.

On a difficulty scale, a fabric search is likened to hunting for wallpaper or finding the right bath ing suit. The big difference: Custom furniture doesn't come cheap and once it's upholstered, it's yours.

So, just how big is the pattern and how will it look wrapped around the leg of a Parson's style chair?

House of Denmark in Livonia takes some guesswork out of fabric selection with a high-tech device that lets you see how a pattern looks on furniture before you sign the dotted line. Not bad, since that luxury generally comes when the deliverer unloads in your driveway.

If you can operate a library's computerized card catalog, you can run the store's new Rowe Show Me Machine, a user-friendly MacIntosh with a mouse. It's loaded with software that lets you see fabrics on a variety of contemporary and traditional furniture from Rowe Furniture Corp. The company offers 467 different fabrics, but not all are available on every piece.

Furniture and fabric are scaled down to fit on the screen, but it's a good way to see overall pattern and color. You can even select a second fabric for accent pillows and play with pattern mixing on the comput-

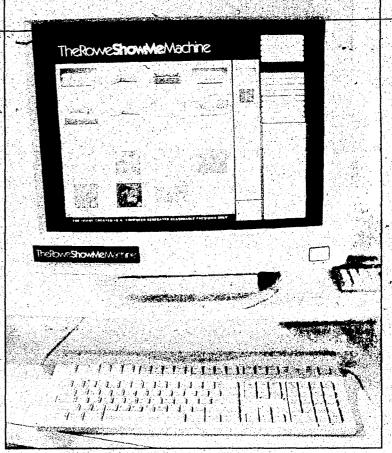

House of Denmark, traditionally a seller of sleek American made and imported Scandinavian furniture, started carrying some Rowe pieces six years ago.

Rowe, a 48-year-old Virginiabased company, makes sofas, sleepers, sectionals, motion chairs and chaises. Sofas are priced from $600 to $900. Unlike other custom furniture makers, their prices are the same for all fabrics and delivery is usually 30 days.

This year, Michigan-based House of Denmark picked the Livonia store as the pilot for an expanded Rowe gallery that covers 30 percent of the store's floor space. It includes 20 vignettes of Rowe upholstery mixed with Scandinavian pieces and cific Coast lighting.

If the expanded Rowe line takes off in Livonia, House of Denmark will open similar galleries in its Rochester and Keego Harbor stores, said Debbie Michetti, House of

Plymouth gallery displays Pueblo pottery

Pottery from the Pueblos of New Mexico and Arizona spice up the exhibition space through Oct. 31 at Native West Gallery, 863 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

The American Southwest art gallery is featuring more than 80 works of clay from the Acoma, Santa Clara, Navajo, Hopi and Jemez Pueblos. The show includes authentic American Indian handbuilt and etched vessels along with handpainted green

"We're very excited to be presenting the pottery. It's all done by hand. The Native Americans are known for their pottery techniques," said Annette Horn, new co-owner of the gallery with husband Ken.

'We're hoping people will come in and enjoy the pieces. We want to bring some of the Native American culture into our customers' lives. It's a nice accessory for decorating to have a little pot on an end table. There's so many different ways you can use them."

Prices for the pottery range from $25 for a small black Santa Clara or miniature Acoma pot to $600 for a handcoiled Santo Domingo vessel with turquoise stones incorporated into the design.

Many of the less expensive works were handpainted on molded green ware while more expensive pots were handbuilt and handpainted by the Pueblo Indians.

Authentic Pueblo Indian hand coiled pottery begins with a pick and shovel as potters search for specific clay from which to craft their wares. Each Pueblo has its own clay source.

After the clay is hauled back to the village and processed, it is manipulated into rope-like pieces, then coiled one atop the other using a gradual building method to prevent the collapse of the pot's walls.

Once built, a corn cob is used on the exterior to score the adjoining

B GOVERNOR TALKS ART

Artist Lily Dudgeon had an opportunity to talk art with Gov. John Engler before the opening of "Watercolor Monotype Exhibit 1993," continuing through Oct. 28 in the Henry Ford Centennial Library Rotunda Hall in Dearborn.

He stopped to see the Livonia and Garden City art instructor's series of photographs focusing on the step-by-step process of monotype printing with watercolors.

'I was excited when he started explaining how much better it was going to be for artists in Michigan and he thought there should be more art in schools," Dudgeon said.

Dudgeon, who studied art at Wayne State Uni versity, teaches watercolor at the Visual Arts As sociation of Livonia, Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association and Garden City Public Schools

She sponsored the Dearborn monotype exhibit, which includes 17 artists this year:

coils before blending them together with the fingers. A gourd is used inside the potto shape out the walls, to push the inside out.

The pot is left to dry untilleather hard. It is then burnished with a stone for smoothness. Pottery is fired in an open pit for about one hour to harden the clay. With the open pit firing method, the temperature fluctuates. The winds blow and change, thus destroying many pots in the process.

Passed down through the centuries, the Pueblo tradition of crafting pottery survived because there was a functional need: ceremonial or domestic, for the product among tribal members. Wedding vases, seed pots, ceremonial bowls used by Shaman or medicine men as well as pots for storing water and corn were crafted for a specific use.

Seed pots were produced in a variety of sizes, all with a tiny hole crafted in the surface for air to circulate

"They would use the seed pot to dry their seeds in fall and literally smash it in spring to get the seeds out," said Horn, pointing to a tiny pin head of a hole barely visible in carvings:

the graphic black and white patterning on the pot. "Black and white was the original Acoma colors. Later, they added the red into it."

Wedding vases play a major role in the traditional American Indian wedding ceremony. A week or two before the mar riage, the future husband's parents make a double spout wedding vase from clay.

During the ceremony, Indian holy water is placed in the wedding vase. The vase is turned around, then given to the bride. She drinks from one turns it around, then it to the groom, who drinks from the other side. The ceremony unites them as one. The couple treasure the vase throughout their married life.

"The braid means they're engaged. Everything in the Native American culture is spiritual, meant to bring good luck, good health, a good harvest. It has spiritual meaning, the mandellas, the dreamcatchers, he wedding vase," Horn said Gallery hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday-Wednesday and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday-Friday and noon to 5 p.m. Sunday.

M SHERRY WASHINGTON GALLERY

To Dec. 30 — Detroit artist Gilda Snowden exhibits paintings in "Abstract Visions." at the gallery in the L.B. King Building, 1274 Library, Detroit. Snowden, who earned three art degrees at Wayne State University, has taught art since 1979. She's now assistant professor of fine art at Center for Creative Studies, College of Art and Design in Detroit. Influenced by the Cass Corridor artists of more than 20 years ago, Snowden is part of the second generation of this movement that emphasized process and materi als and was characterized by a vitality and fascination with surface texture. As an artist, Snowden found greater depth and purpose following the death of her parents in 1987. The message became more personal. First, using charcoal and pastel on paper and later oil on canvas, Snowden developed her signature image: the tornado. The tornado is a symbol of the sudder storm that without warning shatters the equilibrium of the human psyche. Hours: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays, 1-6 p.m. Saturday.

Ford's original PR man shares his memoirs

REVIEW

Ahead of the News," by John E. Sattler (288 $19.95, Whistlestop/SI).

Did you know that the basic design of the Volkswagen Beetle was conceived at Ford Motor Co. during the early 1930s? That TV's Batmobile was originally an experimental car also created by Ford? That Henry Ford II destroyed nearly all of his personal papers before he died? That Ford's side of the story regarding Lee Iacocca's highly publicized dismissal from the auto company has never been told?

Read this memoir, subtitled "A Lifetime of Practical Public Relations Experience," and penned by the man who, in 1945, established Ford Motor Co.'s public relations about all this. You'll also find out, in eye-opening detail, how public relations works to enhance the public image of big business and the powerful people who run

> Born in a railroad flat in Brooklyn in 1919, Sattler says he never heard the term "public relations" until 20 years after his birth.

After making a name for himself in the public relations field during a World War II Army stint, Sattler accepted an offer from Ford at its New York offices at the close of the war. ("I was assigned to the New York office," writes Sattler, "but, in fact, there was no (PR) office . . . I was to establish it - from scratch.") One of the first things he learned on the job was that he couldn't always trust even in-house staff to give him a "straight story."

Sattler would remain with Ford for the next 35 years until his retirement in 1980. He spent 20 years in the New York offices be-

1966. He concluded his career at Ford World Headquarters in Dearborn. (Though his story is almost, relentlessly upbeat, his memories of the "inbred" atmosphere of World Headquarters are less than fond.)

While at Ford Sattler was witness to much of the drama that went on behind the scenes of such events as the death of Henry Ford 1; the introduction - and demise - of the Edsel ("primarily a case of had timing); Ford's financially shaky role in the 1964-65 New York World's Fair, Henry Ford II's troublesome drinking and declining health; and Iacoc ca's departure.

Scenes are sparked with brief, has to do with his life in public moved to Bloomfield Hills in but sometimes up close appearances by such 20th, century celebrities as Eleanor Roosevelt, Babe typos and printing glitches typi-Ruth, 'Hank' Greenberg, Monty Wooley, Walt Disney, Clark Gable, Irving Berlin, various members of the Ford family and a slew of others.

Some picks and pans: This selfpublished book could have used the loving touch of a more ruthless editor. Sattler tends to occasionally repeat himself and also to ramble on at times - indulging, for instance, in writing at length about his homes in Michilength about his homes in Michi. But with all the distracting cal of self-publishers, you'll find this little book of recent history worthwhile, fun and user-friendly. Much of its success can be credit-. ed to Sattler's lively, highly accessible writing style: Reading the book feels a little like sitting down to visit with an old friend who is brimming over with great, sparkling conversation.

Clearly, this is a guy who can tell a story. More than that, he has a good story to tell.

They and six other individuals or organizations will be honored at the ninth annual Governors' Arts Awards Thursday, Oct. 28, at the Detroit Institute of Arts. A reception, dinner and music will be featured along with the awards ceremony

"I'm thrilled," said Fredericks, who will receive the International Achievement Award, "It's a wonderful honor . . . I appreciate it very much.

"I was so surprised, I can't tell you," said Civic Leader Award recipient Redstone founder and chairman of Redstone Architects Inc. of Southfield. To receive an award for something you like to do is really cream on the cake.

Jacobson's will be presented with the Business Honor Roll Award.

We're certainly excited about it (the award)," said Janice Hayes, Jacobson public relations director. "It's a great honor for us.

'We've been very much involved in the arts in the various communities in which we do business in Michigan. In many of our stores we are very much aware of architectural touches and artistic pieces.

Pieces by Fredericks are in sevthem "Freedom of the Human Spirit" in Shain Park and "Siberian Ram" at the Baldwin Public Library.

His sculpture in other communities include "Spirit of Detroit in front of the City County Building, several works at the Cranbrook Educational Community in Bloomfield Hills, "Boy and Bear" at Northland Shopping Center in Southfield, "Gazelle"in the Southfield Civic Center lobby, a cross at Our Lady of Sorrows in Farmington, "Saints and architect/artist Sinners" near the Kresge Library at Oakland University in Rochester and "Angel in the Hand of God" in Crittenton Hospital in Rochester Hills. The Marshall Fredericks Sculpture Gallery is at Saginaw Valley State University.

> "(Art) has been my whole life, 70 years," the artist said.

Redstone, 90, is an artist and author as well as an architect.

One of his exhibits this year was a

He made a brick relief called "Eternal Hope" at the Jewish Community Center in West Bloomfield and a brick mural at First Federal of Michigan in Troy

Redstone also co-chaired Michigan Outdoor Sculpture IV, an exhibit continuing through Oct. 15 at the Southfield Civic Center, on Evergreen between 10 and 11 Mile. This show, which takes place every two years, is organized to encourage business support and participation in the arts, stimulate Michigan's cultural environment, and enchance public awareness and appreciation for outdoor sculpture, he said.

"(Art) is part of the human experience . . . everything else seems secondary," Redstone said. "This , is increasing the spirit of life."

Insurance, transportation, a reception for donors, sculptors and dignitaries, and a kickoff public ceremony represent the hurdles in bringing a mini sculptural exhibition to Livonia. There's little vandalism risk, given the size of the works in a civic center complex where the police are nearby. But weather is always a factor.

The Southfield show's 1993 budget was $17,000. Revenue came from the BCA, a Michigan Council for the Arts and Cultural Affairs grant and the city of Southfield. The BCA and the city also contributed in-kind services. Costs included a $250 expense stipend for each artist. Hundreds of volunteers also assisted.

Juror-awarded prize money totaled $1,800 - $1,000 from the Arts Foundation of Michigan, $500 from BCA and $300 from Redstone Architects of South-

But money isn't what draws the sculptors to Southfield. "We do it for the love of showing together, said De Giusti, a participant in three of the four exhibitions. "We draw inspiration from each Scale is a distinguishing trait of these exhibitions. De Giusti used seven panels to achieve size with his 17-foot, imagery-filled hyrostone relief, "Genesis," The relief competed for exposure alongside larger works, including Erickson's upbeat aluminum commentary on the auto industry, "Memory Vehi-

"Small bronze figures don't look right in a show like this," De Giusti said. "There's nothing wrong with three-foot sculptures but small sculptures get dwarfed. You have to have size. You also have to have the right people behind the scenes. Jay Holland, a widely respected professor of sculpture at Center. for Creative Studies in Detroit, curated the 1993 show and invited the participants.

"The curator is very important," De Giusti said, "Selecting the right kind of people is critical. I trust his judgment. Quality goes down if we don't get the best. We want to avoid an art fair quality." Local elementary-age students no doubt would benefit from a mini sculptural exhibition in Livonia. "For many, this would mark the first time they could see, touch and appreciate such advanced sculpture," Redstone said. By introducing them to fine art at the elementary level, he said, students "would become more demanding about it and it would become part of their lives. You'd lose a lot of them by 12 or 14 if you waited until then.'

'Art, he added, "is "part of the history of every nation, part of the background of human nature. Sculpture goes back to Babyloni. an times and even now we see inspiration in what remains from that time."

Sculpture, more than architecture, typically becomes a build ing's signature. As Redstone put it: "People tend to forget what the building looks like but they remember the art connected with it. We just need to publicize it more. so more people begin to relate to it, to question it, to find out more about it — to value it.'

the Power Center for the Perform or to display these ing Arts will mark the opening of Print Collection of Cape Dorset of today's inuit art . . .

The reception runs 5 7 pm. Friday, Oct. 22, in the lobby of the Power Center for the Performing Arts at the University of Michigan, 121 Fletcher, Ann Arbor.

This year's collection of 34 prints represents the work of 12 Inuit graphic artists from the Cape Dorset community on Baffin Island, Northwest Territories.

The 1993 exhibit in Ann Arbor is dedicated to the memory of Pudlo Pudlat (1916-1992), who has three prints in the exhibit. Many people will remember Pudlo's visit to Ann Arbor in March 1991 and the highly successful comprehensive exhibit of his work at the University of Michigan Museum of Art, in addition to the smaller exhibit of his past prints at the Gallery of Eski-

This is the 12th year the Gallery of Eskimo Art has presented the exhibit in the Power Center for the Performing Arts.

"It is indeed an honor to display these outstanding examples of today's Inuit art and we are delighted to co-host the opening of this exhibit with the Canadian Consul General from Detroit in what has become a fine example of U.S. Canadian cultural cooperation, said Eugene Power, founder and president of the ation: board of trustees of Eskimo Art,

The prints will be on display at the Power Center through Sunday, Nov. 21.

Slides and catalogs of the 1993 collection are available at the Gallery of Eskimo Art in the Exhibition Hall at Domino's Farms in Ann Arbor. Gallery hours are 10 a.n. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday. Wednesday, and Friday and by appointment by calling (313) 665-9663. The gallery also has 1994 Cape Dorset calendars available.

Domino's Farms is on Earhart Road, north of Plymouth Road, east of the interesection of US-23 and M-14. Visitors to the Gallery of Eskimo Art should take the Plymouth Road exit (No. 41), go east on Plymouth Road to Earhart Road, then north to the museum building in the Domino's Farms complex.

Denmark upholstery buyer. Both stores already have some Rowe on the sales floor.

"We've never shown traditional or transitional upholstery with Scandinavian pieces before, but it's doing well,"Michetti said. "For several years, the (decorating) trend has been eclectic. Personally, I like mixing and matching because it creates an individual look."

George Efthemiou, Livonia store manager, thinks Rowe and House of Denmark are "a perfect marriage."

'We wanted to offer customers a broader selection and show how well Scandinavian furniture mixes with other styles," he said. "Scandinavian furniture can seem too firm and sleek for people who like an over-stuffed look."

Most customers look through the store's large hanging samples and use the computer to decide between two or three fabrics, Efthemiou said.

'Computer imaging is a good way to eliminate buyer's remorse. It gives customers a certain comfort level. This kind of technology is available everywhere today, but people are amazed to see it in the furniture industry," he said.

John and Judy Polce of Livonia looked at family room furniture for 10 months before choosing two sofas and a loveseat.
"We'd find a style we liked at one store, but we couldn't find fabric," said Judy Polce, who found both at House of Denmark in July and returned in August to try out her selection on the Ma-

The Polces choose hunter-green upholstery for all three pieces and used the computer to make sure the color wasn't too strong for the room. They'll mix the upholstered pieces with Scandinavian furnishings bought years ago.

Looking at it on the computer. we knew right away we'd like the color in our neutral room. It helps because a tiny swatch can look so different on a large piece of furniture." she said.

Besides computer imaging, an in-store "theater" uses some old technology to give customers another look at fabrics before buy-simple Kodak slide projector transfers the fabric's image to a full-size white sofa. There's some pattern distortion because a onedimensional slide is shown on three-dimensional furniture, but the scale is as real as it is in your living room.

Rowe installed its first "theater" in the Virginia area 15 years ago after surveying 600 recent furniture buyers. The company learned that people felt more comfortable buying life insurance than choosing living room furni-

"The theater and computer imaging takes away what everybody hates about buying furniture. You walk out of the store knowing what your selection's going to look like," said Mark Mosley, Rowe marketing vice president.

Tips to sell your house

Homeowners can play an important role in the timely sale of their property. Whether you're employing the expertise of a real estate sales associate or selling your own home, RE/MAX Realtors advise following these simple and inexpensive steps to help complete the sale faster and at the best possible price:

1. Make the most of that first impression. Never underestimate the importance of outward appearances, especially where your home is concerned. Potential buyers begin their decision-making process early, usually after their first glance of your property. A well-manicured lawn, neatly trimmed shrubs and a clutter-free porch welcome prospects; so does a freshly painted or at least a freshly. scrubbed front door. The fewer the obstacles between prospects and the true appeal of your home, the better.

2. Invest a few hours for future dividends. Here's your chance to clean up in real estate. Clean up in the living room, the bathroom, the bedrooms and the kitchen. If the woodwork is scuffed or the paint is fading, perhaps you might want to consider some minor redecoration. Fresh wallpaper in the kitchen or bath can add charm and value to your property. If appropriate, consider adding a brass kickplate, mailbox and porch light. Pros pects would rather see how great your home really looks than be told how great is could look, "with a little work.'

3. Check faucets and bulbs. Dripping water rattles the nerves, discolors the sinks and suggests the existence of faulty or worn-out plumbing. Burned-out bulbs leave prospects in the dark. Don't let little problems distract prospects from all the strengths your home has to offer.

4. Don't shut out a sale. If cabinets or closet doors stick in your home. you can be sure they will also stick in a prospect's mind. Don't try to explain away sticky situations when you can easily plane or sand them away. A little effort on your part can smooth the way toward a closing.

5. Make your bathrooms sparkle. Bathrooms sell homes, so let themshine. Check and repair damaged or unsightly caulking in the tubs and showers. For added allure, display your best towels, mats and shower

6. Create dream bedrooms. Wake up prospects to the cozy comforts of your bedrooms. For a spacious look, consider getting rid of excess furniture. Colorful bedspreads and fresh curtains can do wonders.

7. Make room for space. Remember, potential buyers are looking for more than just comfortable living space. They're looking for storage space, too. Make sure your attic and basement are clean and free of unnecessary

8. Consider your closets. The better organized a closet, the larger it appears. Take the time to box up those unwanted clothes and donate them to

9. Open up the daytime. Let the sunshine in. Pull back your curtains and drapes so prospects can see how bright and cheery your home really is.

10. Lighten up at night. Turn on the excitement by turning on your lights, both inside and out, when showing your home in the evening. Lights add color and warmth and help make prospects feel welcome:

11. Think safety. Homeowners learn to live with all kinds of self-set booby traps: roller skates on the stairs, exposed extension cords, slippery throw rugs, low-hanging overhead lights and so on. Make your residence as non-perilous as possible for unexpected visitors.

12. Avoid crowd scenes. Potential buyers often feel like intruders when they enter a home filled with people. Rather than giving your house the attention it deserves, they're likely to hurry through it. Keep the company present to a minimum or schedule your visits from friends and family around your home showings.

13. Watch your pets. Dogs and cats are great companions, but not when you're showing your home. Pets have a talent for getting underfoot. Prospects may appreciate your keeping Kitty and Spot outside during show angs more than you think.

14. Think volume. Rock n-roll will never die; but it might kill a real es tate transaction. When it's time to show your home, you're better off. turning down the stereo or television.

15. Relax. Be friendly, but don't try to force conversation. Prospects most times want to view your home with minimal distraction.

16. Don't apologize. No matter how humble your abode, never apologize for its shortcomings. Accentuate the positive. 17. Don't turn your home into a second-hand store. When prospects come to view your home, don't distract them with offers to sell those furnishings you no longer need. You may lose the biggest sale of all. 18. Keep a low profile. Nobody knows your home as well as you do, but your sales associate knows buyers what they want and what they don't want. Your sales associate will have an easier time articulating the virtues of your home if you stay in the background. 19. Defer to experience. When prospects want to talk price, terms or other real estate matters, let them speak to an expert — your real estate sales associate.

20. Help your associate. Your associate will have an easier time selling your home if showings are scheduled through his or her office. You'll anpreciate the results.

RE/MAX has 34,000 full-time real estate associates working out of 2,000 independently owned and operated offices. The RE/MAX Detroit Metro Region — with 26 offices in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties - had a sales volume of nearly $800 million

Here's how to prorate house taxes

ROBERT M.

There is an ongo ing dispute in' northern Michigan among real estate brokers as to how real property taxes in a private sale should be prorated. What is the proper method for prorating taxes?

In a private real property sales transaction, there are typically three methods in which caxes are prorated - due date basis, calendar year basis and fiscal year basis. The parties may agree to apportion the property taxes in any manner and their purchase agreement should clearly state the method agreed upon.

Absent such a written agreement. Michigan statute requires that the seller shall be responsible for the property taxes up to the day before title passes to the buyer, and the buyer is responsible for the remainder of the property taxes.

This is commonly known as the due date method.

The statute seems to be based upon an assumption that taxes are paid in advance, however. The total taxing authority must be consulted to determine whether the property taxes are deemed paid in advance or inacrears. This will determine it the seller is entitled to reimbursement (if paid in advance) or if the purchaser is entitled to reimbursement (if paid in

There are also income tax considerations that must be evaluated in se lecting the best method for prorating taxes. Check with an accountant or

Also consult an experienceo cea estate lawyer to review the purchase agreement before it becomes midnig on the parties.

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

 Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!

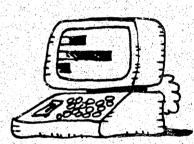

2 include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.

3. Avoid abbreviations, Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as Elk (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.

4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a

5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

Architects specialize in church design

At a time when many firms are feeling the building industry slowdown, Brown Associates has carved a niche for itself. Its architectural work ranges from churches from Birmingham to Livonia and beyond.

Global market a key to economic survival

To survive in the '90s, businesses must plug into the global economy or be left in their competitor's dust. So goes the trend.

"Business must absolutely be global or be shut out of major markets," said Peggy Malnati, a partner in Allison, Hull & Mulnati Inc., an international public relations and marketing communications firm with Midwest offices in Farmington Hills.

AH&M has just added a top Brazilian public relations and advertising agency, Assessoria de Comunicações Ltdá. (ADS), in a move designed to strengthen its international account serVice ca-

The most dramatic change in Catholic church design occurred in the 1960s with Vatican II, a papal-inspired dramatic departure from centuries-old tradition.

Before that, churches were ba sically rows of seating with long aisles. The altar was way to the front. The priest said Mass in Latin with his back to the congregation, Brown said

With Vatican-II, the altar was moved closer to the people. Different acoustics were required. Fanshape seats clustered around the altar. Even Protestant churches became wider. We worked on a Methodist church where all the furniture was moved to the mid-

Teefey notes another change in Catholic church architecture is size and location of the baptismal font, from small and unobtrusive to large enough for full body immersion and prominently located in the nave, near the front

"There is a lot more participation (in Catholic worship) and less observation," Teefey said. 'Culture and religion play an important role in the design.

Brown says that each church project eventually takes on the personality of its priest or minis-

"Many years ago, I designed Clarenceville Methodist Church in Livonia. I first spoke to the minister on the phone. She had a very deep voice. When I met her, I was shocked to find a woman. Woman ministers were rare then

Her name was Elsie Johns and she took over a very small church and built it up. She was a doer. With a building committee, we designed a church fellowship hall, then a sanctuary. A choir room came later. It's a white building. It's sort of a gentle church, a reflection of the minister.

She passed away many years ago, but the church hasn't changed at all I get back there once a year.

Currently, the firm is designing St. Jerome's Catholic Church in Troy. The old parish, on Eight Mile east of Woodward in Detroit, is an ethnic Croatian church trying to maintain its language

Thus, the new church, on 14 acres off Wattles east of Livernois, will maintain a Croatian identity. There will be a 400-seat sanctuary, a hall with dining for 500, and rectory/office to serve a membership scattered throughout the metro area.

The church is a unifyinging," Brown said "Members thing," are very disturbed by the war in the former Yugoslavia. Each committee meeting starts with a group clustered around shortwave radio from Sarajevo. Construction on the $2.5 million church is due to begin next spring. "We can't duplicate the stone but it will have a rugged, rusticated surface and stucco, Brown said.

Added Teefey: "The building will have a strong Mediterranean flavor, fairly traditional outside It will have a terra-cotta metal out. Each building will have a separate identity but be joined to-

Six acres have been set aside as a nature preserve.

Pastor Joe Galic says the church is moving out to where its congregation lives, "We are a small parish and most of the people are gone from here," said Fa- too, kind of Croatian and Medither Galic, ordained in Sarajevo in 1966 and who came to the U.S. the following year. Even scientists are setting their sights beyond borders. RHK Technology Inc. of Rochester Hills has begun delivering an electronic imaging system that helps researchers in physics, chemistry and other sciences visually explore molecules and atoms

The new 3-D imaging system reveals molecular surface features that resemble mountain peaks, deep fissures and Martian-like desert. "Now we can see what has never been visible "said Brad Orr, University of Michigan physics professor.

"In my role as president, I expect to contribute to the organizational structure and procedures that will enable us to realize the objective of bartering agreements among major international corporations," Mercier said.

Metro Trading Association serves as a facilitator for companies looking to exchange goods and services with other companies. Members trade their excess inventory or excess capacity with other members in a debit/credit arrangement, using trade credits instead of cash. At a $10 billion a year pace, barter is one of the fastest-growing businesses in the U.S, according to the MTA.

Southfield firm sells Russian lumber

Eagle Bear Associates, a Southfield company doing business in the former Soviet Union, has signed a $2 million contract to deliver Russian lumber products to a Canadian company.

Because of recent U.S. Gov. ernment plans to limit logging on federal timberlands, this program will provide a partial answer to the lumber shortages that will occur," said William B. Harrington, Eagle Bear positive affect in holding down lumber costs.

Eagle Bear was founded three years ago to focus on business opportunities in the former USSR. Our market is saturated with products here, he said. "Russia has 300 million people, China has I billion. They'll be interested in buying American products.'

Harrington and three other Michigan businessmen are going to Siberia this month to techniques at a state university there. "(Russians) are good in theory but have no hands-on expertise. I'll focus on marketing and sales," Harrington said.

Bolster credit status to boost financial security

By DANIEL BOYCE and ALAN FERRARA SPECIAL WRITERS

Local financial planning experts reviewed the data of the person profiled here and made general recommendations based on the participant's resources and goals. The information is for educational purposes only, references are not intended as discrimination in endorsements by the Observer & Eccutric Newspapers or the advisors.

Rob Forsythe is a marketing manager for a small local manufacturing company. After experiencing severe financial difficulties a few years ago, he has regained a more solid footing and is now ready to move forward.

Rob, age 35 and single, lives in a Southfield apartment and earns about $40,000 per year. Five years ago, he had a brush with bankruptcy, where he ran up balances on his credit cards, a problem that was compounded when he was laid off from his job. A number of bills went unpaid for several months.

Realizing the seriousness of his problem, he contacted his credit card companies to work out reasonable payment schedules, but unfortunately he had already damaged his credit rating as a result of his past habits. His financial picture is more sound now, and he wants to know how to reverse this negative credit history before buying a car next year.

Rob's short-term goals include buying the new automobile next spring for about $20,000 and some furniture within the next year for about $3,000. Within a five-year span, he hopes to buy a modest house

Although it is hard for him to save much the realizes he needs to follow a specific savings plan. Past savings for him occurred as a result of "passive saving strategies" such as banking last years $1000 tax refund.

He has also participated in his employer's 401(k) plan which has unfortunately been discontinued. He asks for a recommended replacement plan that is easy to maintain.

To re-establish his credit rating, he should contact the large credit bureaus to determine what his credit history shows. The pub-now can have a large effect on the now can have a large effect on the lic library should have the names amount available at retirement and address of the major credit. For example, a $2,000 yearly IRA bureaus. These companies may investment invested in a conservative mutual fund averaging an port.

We suggest he place a note in his file at each of the credit bu reaus outlining the circumstances of his past problems and the steps he took to repay his creditors once he was back to work. He should scrupulously pay all of his bills and debts each month on time. Even minor lapses, when combined with a bad credit record, can cause major difficulties with potential lenders.

If he follows these steps, by the time he is ready to buy a house in four or five years, enough of his past record should be expunged so that he will likely quality for a conventional mortgage.

Rob's current credit card debt conly $1.800°) concerns us. We think it is too high, especially since he is at his credit limit. We strongly suggest that he eliminate this debt gradually but steadily over the next one to two years.

Credit card availability for emergencies is fine, but considering his past history, he should not make a regular habit of using them. If Rob has trouble controlling the urge to use the "plastic," he should literally cut up the cards.

We recommend that instead of buying a new car next spring, he consider a newer-model used car. This can reduce the purchase price by thousands of dollars. Since Rob tends to hold his cars for an extended period, this should not have any significant effect on the residual value of the

Because of his credit history a larger down payment on the car may be required. A payroll deduction (automatic deposit) savings plan over the next few months might be an easy and appropriate savings mechanism for this additional cash need. However, the fact that he has made his current auto payments on a timety basis should be a positive for him when he applies for credit to buy his next car. He may actually want to go back to the same source for financing on the new cat.

Rob's goal of starting a modest retirement savings program is an excellent idea. Dollars put away now can have a large effect on the amount available at retirement. For example, a $2,000 yearly IRA ive mutual fund averaging an 8½-percent rate of return would grow to $250,000 by age 65. If Rob waits just 10 years, the same in vestment would not even reach $100,000. Since he is not eligible for any other type of retirement plan, the deductible IRA (starting in 1994) is the first thing he should do for his long term financial security.

If his employer will automatically deposit his paycheck into a bank account he might have $167 per month ($2,000 per year) traps ferred directly to an IRA account. This "forced savings" would be helpful. We would suggest that this money be invested in a growth investment for Rob at his current age. The important point is that he begin a regular savings plan (even for a small amount).

Rob asks. Do I need an estate plan if I have no assets?" We would still suggest a very simple state plan perhaps just a will to assure that at death his assets will go to those beneficiaries he has chosen

Rob has also asked whether it is important for him to have life insurance since he is single. If there are no family members who would suffer financial hardship from lost assistance if he should die prematurely, life insurance may not be an important issue. On the other hand, if there is a tuture need, it may make sense to huy some life insurance coverage

We are more concerned about disability coverage. Rob's coverage with his employer stops after two years of disability. If he were permanently disabled, all of his financial goals would be in danger of going unmet.

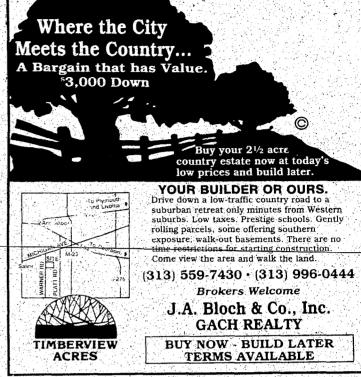

We would suggest that he look into buying a personal disability policy, which pays benefits after the 24 monthly payments his employer plan provides stops. Rob is young and in a low-risk occupational category, so the premium should not be overly burdensome perhaps less than $75 permonth for maximum coverage.

If Rob can continue to be conservative in his spending habits, these fips can help correct the damage to his credit record, put him on a sound financial footing and allow him to meet the goals he has set.
