Karen Stewart Percz of Westland testified that her ex-boyfriend, William Joseph Layack, had help fleeing southeast Michigan after he abducted her June 27 in Redford Township, where they met for dinner.

After Lavack forced her into a

Trans Am and handcuffed her to a. glove box handle, he drove to his hometown of Lincoln Park and made arrangements by phone to pick up his. 1987 Chevy Caprice near a local drugstore, Perez testified Monday.

Perez, 27, quoted Lavack, 30, as telling an unidentified friend by phone. "Put the ammo, the gun and the gas mask in the car."

Lavack also spoke in codes such as "condition red," which meant the abduction had occurred, and "condition yellow," which meant that someone was to "snatch" Perez's then-flance, Tony, she testified.

abducted "so I could watch him (Lavack) put a bullet in (Perez's) head," Karen Perez testified during a preliminary hearing in Redford 17th District Court.

Layack picked up his Caprice, but he and Karen Perez never saw her fiance (now her husband) before they left southeast Michigan for a nearly 450-mile trail of terror to the Upper Peninsula, she said.

Lavack hasn't said whom he called; therefore, no charges against a potential accomplice have been possible, said Westland police Sgt. Terry Do-Tony Perez of Westland was to be nonue. But Perez's testimony indicated for the first time that Lavack may have had help.

Millage decision Monday

BY DARRELL CLEM

Snubbing $1.3 million in budget cuts, Wayne-Westland school board members are expected to decide Monday whether to seek a 3-mill school tax increase to avoid slashing prograins and services.

The board will meet at 7 p.m. Mouday at district offices on Marquette, between Carlson and Newburgh.

Some board members indicated during a special session Monday that they can't support any of three budget-cutting options reluctantly submitted by Superintendent Larry Thomas administration "I would go for a millage," board

President Mathew McCusker said, though he voiced concern that a new state law limits the board to seeking a 3 mill increase for only the next two

"You know me, I'd go for a hell of a lot more than 3 mills," McCusker

Homcowners now paying 6 mills, or $6 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation, would pay $9 per $1,000 if the board seeks a 3-mill tax increase and if voters approve it.

The owner of a $70,000 house would pay about $105 more a year.

Board mem . Laurel Raisonen stressed that the money would have to be carmarked for specific programs - and not for employee salary increases. District residents have retaliated in past millage elections because they feared the money would be used for raises.

Raisanen suggested the board consider increasing the pay-to-play fees for students involved in sports and other extracurricular activities. But the board has rejected that plan, fearing that students simply wouldn't participate.

Some board members said the pain of budget cuts would need to be shared by a majority of students, not just those who ride buses. One budget-cutting option calls for eliminating transportation at elementary and sccondary schools.

Outside hire raises officials' ire

BY DARREL CLEM

In a 4-3 vote, the Wayne-Westland school board has hired a Sault Ste. Marie woman for an administrative post that some officials said should be filled from within the district.

The board appointed Ruth Wallace as the district's executive director of employee services. Wallace, who comes from a similar position in Sault Ste. Marie, will be pald $59,524 a year.

She replaces Dan Slee, who was promoted to assistant superintendent of employee services after Bill Taylor retired earlier this

Board members Patricia

Brown, Debra Fowlkes and Francis "Bud" Winter opposed hiring Wallace, saying earlier that they believed the job should have gone to a district employee. But a board majority composed of Laurel Raisanen, Vicki Welty, Richard LoBlanc and President Mathew McCusker voted to approvo Wallace, who was Superintendent Larry Thomas, choice.

The board voted unanimouslyon three less controversial appointments:

"I was just infuriated with the timing of this," Brown said. "I think it's just appalling.'

But some board members said Baracy is overworked and needs assistance. LeBlanc, calling Baracy's workload "excessive and overwhelming," voiced support for the post, along with Raisanen,

Other budget-trimming options would slash spending for adult education, security officers in high school parking lots, building supplies, administrative posttions, library clerks and secretarles, among other areas.

"I don't intend to approve any of these," board member Patricia Brown said, referring to the specific budget-cutting plans.

Brown noted that a five-year curriculum-improvement plan would be gutted by the cuts -- an assessment supported by Jano Kuckel, assistant superintendent of instruction.

These are critical times for our instructional program," Kuckel said. "Every year our kids seem to get further and further behind. I don't know the answer. . . . Every. year our kids lose; they can never make up."

Board member Richard Le-Blanc said he also wouldn't support any of Thomas' budget-cutting options, singling out library clerks as one area he would refuse McCusker called for "equal autfering" if budget cuts become necessary.

A 3-mill tax increase would generate about $2 million and eliminate the need for drastic cuts. The new 9-mill rate would still be far below the 37-mill rate that immediately preceded the March passage of Proposal A. which slashed property taxes and raised the sales tax from 4 cents to 6 cents.

Thomas may revise some of the budget-cutting options before Monday, when the board is expected to decide the perplexing fix nancial issues.

"We are dealt the cards that the state of Michigan gives us," Thomas said; referring to the unexpected cut in state aid that caused the impending shortfall. 'We don't create those cards."

Perez licked the tape to moisten it so that she could speak. She was sweating and the grenade was slipping, she told Lavack, who then removed the explosive from her bra, she said.

Hooked on classics: Henry Clemens calls his 1956 DeSoto (left) his most valuable possession. That's saying a lot, considering the hundreds of items he has collected from the 1950s and earlier years. Take the basement wall below for example, filled with posters, pictures and other memorabilia from his favorite decade, the 1950s, when, he said, "a man could still get a loan on a handshake,'

'50s Forever

House is mansion of memories

BY DARRELL CLEM

A 1956 DeSoto; old butter churns, a 1950s glider swing, a 10foot windmill, a hand-built pond, a mill house and a water wheel Henry Clemens' back yard.

But the last 31/2 decades aren't 'thing taken seriously." completely forgotten until the door opens to Clemens' self-described "mansion of memories" in Westland's southeast corner.

Only then does the past, especially the 1950s, overcome the present. "Watch your step . . . back in time," reads a sign at the top of the basement stairs.

"Why Do Fools Fall In Love" plays in the background as Clemens, 44, points out hundreds of relies from an era when he says "a man could get a loan on a handshake.'

He has 150 televisions dating. linck to 1946, A daytime soap opera slowly lights one black-andwhite screen when he opens the double doors of a 1950s set and

"In the 1950s, you were doing pretty good if you had the big console with the doors," he says.

The sense of yesteryear is everywhere in the two story, 1930s formhouse where Clemens lives alone. An auto body technician who's now restoring a 1959 Ford, the 16-year Westland resident would like to turn his home into a intiseum someday.

He explains his fascination with the past by saying, "I think I was born 20 years too late."

But he wasn't born too late to begin collecting TVs, radios, phonographs, farm utensils, newspapers, books, posters, records, toys, telephones, lamps, a juke box and spark feelings of nostalgia in many other treasures from a time when he says "love and dedication and respect were still some-

as his most valuable possession.

"It has outlasted women, mar-riage, you name it," he says. This month marks the 23rd year he has had the car.

His parents, now dead, might have had a clue long ago that their only child was fascinated with the past. When he was 13, he hauled a 1940s Admiral console radio home in his wagon. He still has the radio and the wagon.

Clemens' collection spans nearly 100 years, starting with butter churns and farm implements from the 1850s. On one wall, a 1935 newspaper advertises a Frigidaire for 95 cents a week.

For effect, Clemens has connected a videocassette recorder to an old black-and-white TV, and he says he likes to watch classic movies or TV shows on the set.

A few items in Clemens' home are deceiving. One AM radio, for example, looks like an old telephone. Speaking of telephones, he has a 1950s pay phone in his basement, and it still works.

Amid posters of Marilyn Monroe. James Dean and others. Clemens has a trash can that was salvaged from the old Jolly Roger drive-in theater on Van Born Road west of Telegraph, Nearby, a jukebox is filled with old 45s like "Hello, Mary Lou" by Ricky Nelson and "Rock Around the Clock" by Bill Haley and the Comets.

Clemens says his collection isn't worth as much as it might seem, in dollar terms.

"I don't pay a lot for the TVs and radios," he says, "Most of them aren't worth that much. But TVs fascinate me. I don't think they get as much recognition as they should. They're a big part of American history."

Memories mean a lot to Clemens, and he knows that good memories aren't limited to the

"We are making memories each and every day of our lives," he said. "All we can hope for is to not make too many wrong decisions, or step on too many others along the way, If we are sensitive, caring, kind and conscious, at the end our memories will tell us that we've done our best."

Ukraine team shows locals some miracles on ice

BY LARRY PALADINO STAIL WRITER

Invincibles, ces Ukrainiens." Une machine de hockey.

Une belle machine de hockey." Rven if you can't read French,... you probably can figure out what French-Canadian newspapera have said about the Druzhba 78 bookey team from the Ukraine: It's a beautiful, invincible machine.

Well, that machine - considered by experts to be the best midget (age' 17 and under) team in the world - has been in Southfield since Aug. 7 and will stick around through Friday.

Young players from Southfield, West Bloomfield, Birmingham, Livonia and other area suburbs are flocking to the Southfield Arena to learn from Ceach Ivan Pravilov's team, dubbed "Ukrainian Magicians on Ice" and "Harlem Globetrotters of amateur hockey" by journalists.

r Pravilov'a Unique Hockey School concluded a one week camp Friday and began a second week-long camp today, in conjunction with the camp is the International Midget Hockey Pestival, featuring games between Druzhba 78 and top midget teams from southeastern Michigan and Ontario. Included was a game Friday night against an all-star team featuring mostly Southfield players and coached by former Detroit Red Wings Lee Norwood and Robert Picard.

Spearheading the visit is Brian Peldman, a 22-year-old Southfield native, now a West Bloomfield resident, whose Unique Productions marketing company is promoting the team and organizing much of its itinerary.

With Brian, it's easy for us, Pravilov said. "Everything is very good here.

Druzhba is Ukranian for 'friendship' and the 78 stands for the year the players were born. The team's motto is We will always may for you and give you joy with our play." Its record is 189-8. and it never has lost a tournament or ever lost to the same team.twice.

1986 by scouring 166 elementary schools in Kharkiv in the eastern Ukraine to find potential 8-yearold players. Most didn't even the best way of honing skills know how to skate, and their against top competition. There coach was a teacher who didn't have a hockey background.

They've been together ever since, under the guidance of Praviloy, considered a coaching genius who has devoted his life to their training since switching to hockey after an injury ruined his soccer career at age 22.

"I've always had only one goal with any team, to give completely to the boys all I know and to improve their skills," he said; through one of his players who speaks English, defenseman Denis Shiryaev. "I want to double their skills."

There are 16 players and three students under his tutelage. Ten of them, according to the experts, have skills that could get them into the National Hockey League.

"I tell them, the boys who deserve it will play (in the NHL)," the 31-year-old Pravilov said, following a grueling camp session for some 30 local players in full gear. "The players who work the hardest will play in the National Hockey League. I want all of them to play. Although Pravilov speaks little English, he seems to have no trouble communicating with his young American campers. "The terms used in hockey are easy," Praviloy said. "I learn the main words and my boys who know the language better help me communicate." Pravilov uses several of his Druzhba players during his on-ice sessions. A number of parents watched from the stands and along the boards as their sons, and one daughter, did various drills. Included were sprints that featured spins at full speed. Many players wound up sprawled on the ice during the maneuvers, but popped back up quickly to continue to the other end of the arena.

Besides camp instruction, local kids might learn plenty simply by watching Druzhba 78 in its exhibition games. The team usually skates at full speed all the time, with precision passing in the process. It regularly beats teams by lopsided scores.

Southfield is the third and final Pravilor formed the team in site of Pravilor's camps this year. This is the sixth time Druzhba has visited North America, tours it finds necessary because they're are few quality teams in the Ukraine (which only has eight ico arenas countrywide).

The team has traveled to almost every hockey-playing country and competed against the best in compiling its phenominal record. It was crowned USSR champion in 1990, Ukrainian champion in 1990 and 1991. And in 1992 it won the World Pee Wee championship in Quebec City, featuring 104 of the best teams in Europe and North America. Afterward, Alex Leger, chairman of that event, said Druzhba was the best team in the 33-year history of that tournament.

Although the team stayed at a nearby Knights Inn for its Southfield visit, often players stay as guests in various homes. Feldman was able to arrange for numerous restaurants to help out by hosting players for dinner.

After leaving Southfield, the team is scheduled to go to Long Island, N.Y., to relax for a few days before returning home.

In November the squad will return for a series of tournaments in Canada. It raises money for the trips through the camps, game ticket revenues and souvenir Listen up: Coach Ivan Pravilov speaks very little English, but he has little trouble getting the attention of hockey campers — and then getting them to follow his instructions on the ice.

If all the days his players were in North American over the last eight years were added together, Pravilov said, it would add up to a year. Is he anxious to get home?

"For the boys, they don't want to go home because it's interesting here," he said. "But I want to go home. I've been doing this for eight years."

He expects to be doing it at least for the next four more. That would take Druzhba to the 1998 Winter Olympics in Japan when it is anticipated the team - perhaps with only a few older players added - will be a squad of 20. year olds who will be the Ukraine's first Olympic hockey representative.

"For us it's too far away to guess what will happen in four years," Pravilov said. "I just want us to play better and improve our skills. If our country needs us, we will stay together and be there when the time comes." For more information on the team and camp, call Unique Productions at 1-800-488-8777.

Home school battle

Charter academy application tests law

BY TIM RICHARD

A rural school district in Ionia County has ignited a legal battle over its affort to claim $5,000 perstudent in state aid for a charter academy with fundamentalist religious overtones.

Berlin school district is using Michigan's new charter academy law, lauded by Gov. John Engler, to set up a "Noah Webster Academy." The twin problems:

If the Webster academy uses a computer network for home teaching statewide, will Berlin be eligible for state aid for 1,300 pupils its teachers never see? That question is on the desk of Attorney General Frank Kelley.

May Nosh Webster Academy; as a public school, teach the religious doctrine of creationism in its science curriculum? That would depart from the State Board of Education's standard of evolution in the core science curriculum. The new law states charter academies may not have church assiliations

Cropsey attacks

"I'm distressed at the letter the Department of Education sent to the attorney general," said state. Rep. Alan Cropsey, R-Dewitt, whose House district includes Berlin schools.

Cropsey berated the State Board of Education last week for the department's "stifling" of educational diversity, "having the dubious reputation as being one of the three worst states for parents to educate their children at home," seeking "confrontation" instead of cooperation with home teaching and being "negative" toward academies.

"You might as well work with the Department of Education in Moscow as the Department of Education in Michigan," said Cropsey. The lawmaker said his four children are taught at home rather than in public schools.

Cropsey did his undergraduate work at the church-related Bob Jones University, described by World Book Encyclopedia as "the largest fundamentalist school in the world."

In past years, Cropsey has urged public school teaching of creationism, the fundamentalist doctrine that the Bible is literally true and the earth was created in six days 6,000 years ago rather than evolving over 4.6 billion years.

The U.S. Supreme Court has struck down a Louisiana law requiring the teaching of the biblical version.

Several news reports from The (charter) movement tries to Cropsey berated the State Lansing and Detroit newspapers oard of Education last week for say the Webster academy planned to department's "stifling" of ed-to teach creationism.

Home non-public

State board treasurer Dorothy Beardmore, R-Rochester, was first to reply: "The word came from the attorney general in 1985 or '86 — not at our request—that home schools are non-public schools." Under that interpretation, Beardmore said, an academy serving homeschoolers would have to be considered non-public and ineligible for state funds.

"Each home should be classified as a private school," said board member Barbara Roberts Mason, D-Lansing.

Cropsey: "If a child takes homework home, isn't he still a public school student?"

Mason: "It (homework) is outside the 900 hours and 180 days (of schooling required by state law). This board is in favor of charter academics" except for board co-president Annetta Miller, D-Huntington Woods.

Miller: "We have a constitutional amendment that public dollars not go to private schools. Is not the whole charter school movement an effort to plant public dollars into private schools? skirt the constitution -- I think illegally."

State role limited

Superintendent of public instruction Robert Schiller: "There is nothing this department has done to discourage your school. We have not considered shutting it down. As the law is written, our role is quite limited in terms of intervention.

intervention. "What we have as our domain is for all schools to meet the state assessment program."

"We can look at who teaches (certified teachers) but not at the pupil-teacher ratio," Schiller said, noting that state aid can be deducted where non-certified teachers are employed.

"We do not approve facilities, but if a school site has more than six students, we notify the fire marshal and it's up to them (to inspect the building)."

But Schiller said "the laws are empty" on the questions of teacher-pupil contact time and use of telecommunications courses for home teaching.

"Our road to follow is to get an interpretation from the attorney general. Our letter (to Kelley) was not negative. (Noah Webster Academy) has broken the mold for which we have no precedent," Schiller said.

School teacher travels to great heights for learning

BYM.B. DILLON STARK WALLER

Did you know that Goodsear operates three blimps that average 200 feet in length, 50 feet in width, 60 feet in height, 202,700 cubic feet in volume, and 15,000 pounds?

Or that they're propelled by two 420 horsepower turbo prop engines with maximum speed of 65 mph? Or that the airships' polyester-fabric, helium inflated skins have no internal framework?

Peggy Schneider of Hymouth Township learned this aixt more. after a recent blimp ride over Ann Arbor.

The Fiegel Elementary teacher was treated to the aerial tour after her husband, Ray Schneider, discovered the blimp was in town for a couple of sporting events.

A Ford engineer, Schneider mentioned to a Goodyear representative that he and his wife; would enjoy a flight.

That's all it took to snare an invitation. The couple, along with a few others, were Goodyear's guests, taking off from the Ann Arbor airport on a sunny July day.

was thinking. What are my kids going to want to know?" said

Schneider.

With answers to a list of questions and the exhibitating experience of flying the blimp berself. Schneider says she has enough information to teach a full unit on-

The blimp, which can accommodate a maximum of 10 riders, is launched and landed by a ground crew of 16, each responsible for a rigging line.

Blimps land into the wind, assisted by private, two way radio communication, and a ground crew member who hoists a windsock, said Schneider.

"The blimp goes up at quite a steep angle, and I felt a little queasy at first," said Schnelder. But once I looked out on the horizon, I was fine."

After the airship reached a cruising altitude of 1,200 feet, the pilot let Schneider take the wheel for a few minutes. Her first move was a left turn over State Street. "It was real strange. If you pushed forward on the steering wheel, the thing would go down. If you pulled back, it would go up. "At one point I was pushing.

'I'm a third-grade teacher, so I down, and we were going down, but the altimeter was still going up or staying the same. You have to push a long time to see a change because of the air, currents.

The pilot was "very casual about my driving, but my husband, who was in the back, said it was a lot rougher when I was driving," said Schneider with a laugh.

Schneider plans to "write up a little report that I'll use with my kids to practice expository skills. I'd like to have my kids write the pilot and tell him about the things they thought were interesting.

"Sometimes people think teachers sit around the pool and read books all summer every summer. But it seems that whether I go on a vacation or it's an experience I have, my mind is working a mile a minute; I'm wondering, How can I make this into a lesson plan for my kids?' With blimps, we can talk about air pressure; what makes them fly; careers; just a lot of different,

I know there are other teachers. who do the same thing. Experiences we have in the summer oftentimes work as a springboard for future lesson plans.

CHILDBIRTH: WOMEN HAVE MANY

by David Schindler, M.D.

CHOICES

Enjoying

Today, women have many choices when it comes to childbirth, most of which enable you to play a more active role in the birth of your luby.

These choices include where to have your baby, who will deliver your baby, and how you can participate in the birth of your child.

Where will you have your baby? You can choose to have your baby in a hospital fabor and delivery room; a birthing center, or in your home.

Having a baby at home is the most risky of the birthing options it is too difficult to respond to emergency situations effectively, Also, most physicians will not deliver babies in homes, Birthing centers are facilities where the major emphasis is on natural, non-interventional births. Staff members are trained in helping you have as comfortable a birth experience as possible.

Labor and delivery rooms vary between hospitals -- some have rooms where you labor, deliver, and recover in the same room; others have separate rooms; and others are somewhere in between.

Who will deliver your baby? For high-risk pregnancies, an obstetrician is your best choice.

Obstetricians devote most of their time to delivering babies, and they have the most training and exposure. Family Medical Center-Westland.

in dealing.

with complications. If you have a low-risk pregnancy, your family physician can deliver your baby - and continue to provide total health care for you, the baby, and the whole family. Midwives are registered muses who are trained in delivering babies and providing health care to women. They usually are affiliated with physicians who will back them up during emergencies.

How can you participate?

Whether you choose an obstetrician, family physician, or midwife, you should find out their routine, and what role you'll play in the childbirth. Areas to discuss include routine episiotomics (cutting the tissue between the vaging and anus) when you'll get to hold the baby after delivery, and your participation in the delivery.

While making your choices, keep in mind that the most important goal of all is to keep yourself healthy, and go home with a healthy baby!

Armenian president visits suburbs

HY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAYF WRITER

As part of a seven-day visit to the United States, Armenian President Levon Ter-Petrossian visited Wayne County last Friday as the guest of industrialist Alex Manoogian.

The main purpose of the president's visit is to promote greater understanding and cooperation between the world's leading democracy and Armenia, which has vigorously pursued democratic reforms since its independence in 1991," said Armenian Ambassador Rouben Shugarlan, "With this visit we hope to strengthen the political and economic ties between our two countries to secure the continued success of Armenia's transition to a marketoriented, democratic state.'

Dennis Papazian, director of the Armenian Research Center at the University of Michigan-Dearborn, said Ter-Petrossian chose to visit Wayne County because the philanthropy of Manoogian and the estimated 30,000 area residents of Armenian descent.

"Without Manoogian he may not have come at all, and without the rest of us he may not have come to see Manoogian," Papazian said.

Armenia is a small and ancient country reborn in 1991 with the collapse of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. The 11,000square-mile country (about onefifth as large as Michigan) with a population of about 3.5 million lies in the southernmost area of the former USSR, flanked by Azerhaljan and Turkey.

Throughout the world there are about 7 million Armenians, including almost 1 million in the United States.

The largest Armenian populations in the metro area are in Livonia, Dearborn, Southfield, Birmingham, Bloomfield Town: ship, Bloomfield Hills and West Bloomfield Township, with lesser numbers living in Troy, Novi,

Northville and Farmington Hills, Papazian said,

There are currently four Armenian churches in the area: Armenian Congregation Church in Detroit, St. John's Armenian Church in Southfield, St. Vartan's Armentan Catholic Church in Detroit and St. Sarkis Armenian Church in Dearborn.

Area Americans of Armenian descent in public office include state Rep. John Jamian, R-Bloomfield Hills; state Sen. George Hart, D-Dearborn (whose district includes Garden City, and Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Kaye Tertzag.

Awarded: Michigan Gov. John Engler (at left) presents Armenian President Levon Ter-Petrossian with a mounted letter to commemorate his visit to Wayne County last week.

THE NO POINT/NO FEE MORTGAGE FROM STANDARD FEDERAL BANK.

Buying a home is a wise choice. But that's not the end of it. There are all the expenses after you move in ... from paint, wallpaper and furniture to landscaping. And after paying points and closing costs, you may not have enough money to do the things you'd like to do. That's why Standard Federal Bank offers the No Point/No Ice Mortgage. It's ideal for buyers who can afford the down payment and monthly mortgage payment, but may need help with closing costs. But it's not just for first time buyers. The No Point/No Fee Mortgage also provides people who are moving up with a little extra cash for redecorating and other essentials. Or simply for that vacation next winter - 4 When you apply for your mortgage, you'll be asked to pay a $250 application fee which will be credited back to you at closing? And you won't have to pay the following customary fees:

• Credit Report • $350 Closing Fee

• Recording Fees • Survey Fees (syhere applicable) • Mortgage Title

Insurance Fees . Pest Inspection (where applicable). Plus, the No Point/No Fee Mortgage option is available with a variety of Standard Tederal mortgages, including: • 30-year Conventional Fixed Rate . 15-year Conventional Fixed Rate

* 10-year Conventional Fixed Rate

• 7/23 Balloon Loans 5/25 Balloon Loans.

After you've met with your Real Estate Agent, call or visit a Standard Federal Banking Center and ask about the No Point/No Fee Mortgage: After all, you've got better things to do with your money.

Dowd, 101, never lost 'joy of youth'

BY M.B. DILLON STAFF WRITER

It's not often that people who live to be 101 have large numbers of close friends; they outlive them. But those attending the funeral of Harry J. Dowd -- many of them half his age - were testimony to the fact that the great-greatgrandfather was an exception.

It didn't matter if they were young people working at McDonald's or residents at his senior citizen complex; Dowd befriended thom.

Dowd, who moved to his daughter's Westland home from Saginaw when he was 97, died Aug. 9 ut the age of 101:

He was buried Saturday from McIntyre Funeral Chapel and St. Andrew's Catholic Church in Mt. Olivet Cemetery in Saginaw.

Many Individuals at Dowd's funeral Mass were among those who honored him in 1992 for being the oldest Knights of Columbus member in Michigan.

Dowd was recognized for his 83year association with the philan-

Harry was initiated in 1911 into the Fr. James D. Kenny Council 593 at the age of 18," said Larry Coutz, council building secretary.

The council paid tribute to him at two parties at St. Andrew's. We gave him a commemorative hat and jacket, and a cake with the K. of C. emblem. I know he enjoyed being with the K. of C. He was proud of it.

Dowd's family honored him with 100th birthday parties at Mercy Center in Farmington Hills and at St. Andrew's.

The Rev. George Serour culogized Doyd, recalling that his friend "was life-giving. Visiting with him always made my day," Scrour said. "Despite his age, he was up on current events. He usually knew more about what was going on in the news than I did. And he was child-like," he added. "He never lost the joy of youth."

Dowd was born March 27, 1893, in Almont, Mich. In 1908, he joined Wickes Brothers as a nonthropic Catholic organization, paid apprentice. He worked his which has 70,000 Michigan mem-, way up at the lumber company to machine shop foreman. "He was the friendliest foreman around, said Bernard Forster, a co-worker, "He was very well-liked." Dowd retired in 1958 after 50 years of service. He also worked for the Postal Service and in the hotel industry.

Dowd married the late Ruth Marie Miller Nov. 3, 1915. He was a member of St. Andrew and St. Damian churches and the Industrial Executive Clubs.

Surviving are daughters Ruth Ann Butler (Pierce) of Westland and Kathleen Haley of Redding, Calif.; son Harry J. Dowd (Shirley) of Ironwood; 13 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Memorials may be made in the form of Mass cards or donations to the Michigan Heart Association or the Michigan Parkinson Association Livonia Support

State backs child care backers

Companies and organizations offering child care as a benefit are being encouraged by state lawmakers to enter the sixth annual Michigan Child Care Challenge.

State Rep. Lyn Bankes, R. Livonia, coordinates the Challenge. She said the awards recognize the positive child-care plans provided by Michigan employers. More than 275 organizations have been honored since the program began in 1989.

By highlighting the growing number of employer sponsored child-care programs already operating, we encourage other companies to provide child care benefits to their employees,' said Bankes, whose 19th District includes south and east

"Our goal is to promote the cooperation of business, labor and government in addressing child care and other family-related issues in Michigan."

Nominations will be accepted in five categories:

"New Kid on the Block" -for companies most recently offering child care benefits.

"Best on the Block"

companies that have made special efforts to design child care programs that are unique.

"Grandparent Award" - for companies that have been pioneers in offering employee child care benefits.

"Helping Hands" — for businesses that provide direct financial assistance to their employees or subsidies for on-site cen-

"Innovator" -- for community organizations and individuals who have demonstrated extra effort in providing solutions to the child-care dilemma.

During this past week however, I have seen several flowers that are blue in color. Since there are not as many blue colored flowers, compared to white, yellow and reddish-colored flowers, it's eniovable to view them while they are blooming.

One of the most common bluecolored flowers that easily can be seen on the way to work in the morning, is chicory. This scraggly plant grows in disturbed areas along the roadside and in fields. During the coolness of morning, blossoms of the plant are in bloom. By afternoon these blossoms have wilted. Another common name for this plant of coffee, comes from the belief that it

GOP state ticket draws fire here

BY TIM RICHARD HIALF WHITER ..

Lynn Allen, longtime Oakland County clerk, and 259 other Remublican county officials will do battle with Gov. John Engler at the party's forthcoming state convention.

Engler, seeking a second term as governor, wants Candice Miller as his ticket for secretary of state. Miller, a former township supervisor, is in her first term as Macomb County treasurer.

Countered Allen: "There are 268 county-wide elected officials in Michigan, and 260 support Dan Krueger, Dan Is one heckuva good candidate. He's been Ottawa County clerk for 15 years," Allen told the Oakland Republican convention Thursday in Pontiac.

"Never," added Livingston County clerk David Teggedine, a veteran of 36 years in government, "have I seen a candidate more qualified for the position sought than Dan is for secretary of Krueger, 48, has other credentials: past president of the Michigan Association of County Clerks, county party chair, a record of heading campaigns for Bill Milliken for governor, George Bush for president and Bill Lucas for governor. Oltawa was the only one of Michigan's 83 counties that supported Bill Lucas in 1986.

So why are Engler, Oakland County GOP chief Jim Alexander and the party establishment supporting the relatively green Mil-

Geographical ticket balancing, Miller told the packed auditorium. Engler is from rural central Michigan; Lt. Gov. Connie Binsfeld is from the Lake Michigan shoreline; so is unchallenged attorney general hopeful John Smietanka, former Berrien County prosecutor; so are probably Su-

Griffin and Elizabeth Weaver of the Traverse City area,

"They're all central or westsiders," Miller said. "Our (Macomb) county once was viewed by most as one of the most Democratic counties in the state. I took out a 25 year incumbent. Great weight needs to be given to the governor's preference on this."

Winner at the Aug. 27 GOP state convention in Grand Rapids will challenge 24-year "secretary of state-for-life" Richard Austin, 81 - if Democratic gubernatorial nominee Howard Wolpe wants to keep Austin on the ticket.

Polls reported by Inside Michigan Politics, a political newsletter, say Democratic incumbents Austin and attorney general Frank Kelley may be vulnerable this year.

Last week's Oakland convention overflowed the county auditorium, a turnout that was "close to a record," said Alexander, "We filled 421 of the 545 precinct delegate positions.

In part it was due to hard work by the city and township directors. But there's also an anti-OBE group out there," he said.

The anti-OBE group sees a mortal danger in "outcome-based" education," not only to publicschools which use it but to private schools and home-teachers which don't. The group, which didn't identify itself by name, circulated flyers advertising a rally on the State Capitol steps. Organizers Lainar Alexander, the former Secretary of Education under President George Bush and a 1996 presidential hopeful, was in Livonia Tuesday to campaign on behalf of John Schall, Republican candidate for U.S. Congress in the 13 District.

The district includes Plymouth, Canton, Garden City, Westland and part of Livonia.

In endorsing Schall for Congress, Alexander said: "Our children deserve a better future. We all need to know more for the jobs of tomorrow. That is why we need John Schall in Congress. John Schall knows the link between jobs and education."

Schall, of Ann Arbor, was born and raised in Livonia and is a ill the Wayne-Westland school district disputes, particularly those between the board of education and its | change at the top was coming. superintendent, ever end? What seems like an ongoing nielodrama turned a new chapter last week when board members and Superintendent Larry Thomas dropped broad hints that he may be leaving when his contract expires next June 30, if not before...

Board member Vicki Welty came the closest to disclosing that something unusual is coming up, possibly as early as next Monday night's school board meeting. When questioned whether Thomas plans to announce his resignation next Monday night, Welty replied:

"I can't say it's true and I certainly can't say it's not." She added that she's preparing a statement for next Monday's board meeting. which she will be unable to attend.

Thomas himself was more cautious in responding to the resignation reports, saying that no decision has been made as of today (Saturday). I'm looking at all my options."

That immediately gives credence to the surfacing of reports that Thomas, hired by the board in the spring of 1992 to bring about changes in the district, may be leaving within the next 10 months.

Now, it seems the same problems are surfacing after the board's makeup underwent substantial changes in three years.

It's obvious that the current board hasn't learned anything from the experiences of the past few years.

That experience is that when the board and administration are squabbling in public, the rest of the district - building administrators, employees, students and parents - tend to lose confidence in decisions made by the board and/or superintendent.

The latest disputes couldn't come at a worse time - when the board and administration are discussing a tax rate proposal for a special election that may be held in two

At the same time, the district and its teachers' union have yet to settle on a new contract - with or without pay raises - for the school year expected to start Monday, Aug. 29,

If Thomas resigns or is offered a position in another district before his contract expires in June, no one can blame him.

But that doesn't solve a longtime need in Wayne-Westland for the board and its superintendent to share the same vision for educa-

Adopt-a-road. Maybe you've seen the signs along the sides of the interstates and other major highways in Michigan. The sighs proclaim something like. This stretch of road maintained by the Jolly Boys of Farmington Hills through the Adopt-a-Road program."

We're all supposed to think highly of the Jolly Boys (a mythical service club) for earing enough about its surroundings to take on this responsibility.

We hate to spoil this warm feeling that volunteerism always gives, but we have some blunt questions:

Why are they asking for volunteers to help keep the roads elean and maintained?

Isn't that what we pay taxes for? Will our taxes be reduced if many, many miles of Michigan roadways get so "adopted"? We raise these our stions in light of a recent announcement that Wayne County officials have planned an adopt-a-road program medeled after the successful state setup.

Local volunteer groups will be given the chance to keep road idea clean in residential and business areas throughout the year. ### Engler is blasted ov. John Engler prides himself on his coughness, and, indeed, he is In just three years he has been tough enough to destroy the public confidence in the good educational system in the state of Michigan from which most of our citizenry graduated and went on to succeed in life.

He has been tough enough to destroy a reasonable level of public funding for a strong public school system that will have far-reaching consequences not yet apparent to the general public.

He has been tough enough to create a climate where teacher-bashing on radio talk shows is good fodder for filling air time, creating a forum where it is OK to place responsibility for any student's failure on the teachers. The expectation that has been created is that every student, no matter what the innate ability, home life, social maturity, or amount of effort applied, will somehow be able to graduate with the same level of skills.

The governor has been tough enough to pile the problems of society on the backs of the teachers, blaming them for the problems they must cope with but should not own, and then pointing at them as failures.

He has been tough enough to dip his hands into a legitimately carned and relied-upon teachers' retirement fund, creating fear that a secure retirement, after a lifetime of service, will no longer be there.

The governor has been tough enough to destroy teachers' bargaining rights as they affeet working conditions. Walter Reuther and the autoworkers valiantly fought years ago for the right to bargain, and undoubtedly thought that right had been secured. The conditions under which students learn and teachers teach are now off limits at the bargaining table. The recently passed House Bill 5128 will seriously affect school climate, and leaves teachers powerless in that regard;

He has been tough enough to exploit the fears of a citizenry that America may be losing ground in a changing global economy. His tough remedy has been to undermine an experienced, reliable group of workers and a constantly improving educational system. attempting to replace it with inexperience and an unproved system.

Indeed, he has used his good office with its public voice to be tough enough to demoralize a caring, hard-working profession until some of the most dedicated regret having given. what they have to education, and advise their own children to stay out of the profession.

Yes, we have one tough governor, smiling as he irresponsibly slashed and demoralized the educational system from which the successful citizenry of this fair state graduated.

All parents and union members of Mishigan should ask themselves as they go to the polls in November, "Can we stand the kind of bullying toughness that sets out to destroy, divide, demoralize and exploit?

"Or, do we need a climate that will foster cooperation and exchange between a sound, proven educational community and the other elements of society that need to be working to gether in the serious and difficult job of bringing our youth to responsible, well-educated adulthood?"

Think about it. It affects us all, no matter what age group or political persulfatori" Martelle Wellse Garden City teacher

Bonds deserves chance to take one day at a time

asy Does It. It was painted across the front of the white Ford pickup moying steadily north along Orchard Lake Road in West Bloomfield one day last

People familiar with Alcoholics Anonymous recognize it as a catch phrase that denotes the owner of that truck as a recovering alcoholic.

My thoughts immediately switched to Bill Bonds,

Bonds, the opinionated TV anchor man and area resident, had taken the same Orchard Lake Road route, although far less steadily, in his Jaguar a few nights earlier. He was later arrested for his uneven, drunken driving on Commerce Road - near where his daughter had died in an alcohol-related crash 13 years before.

I wondered if Bonds had ever had the courage to paint "Rasy Does It" on his car would he be in the situation

he's in today,

Because treatment for alcoholism, a progressive disease, is just the beginning. For most successful recovering alcoholics, aftercare and regular particlpation in Alcoholics Anonymous is

"Someone who really works with AA realizes the support it takes to rebuild what the disease has destroyed," says Renee Gerger, a clinical social worker with an extensive background in helping chemical dependent people and their families.

Gerger, whose office serves as the help line for the Michigan State Bar Lawyers and Judges, says prominent, high-powered people with alcohol and drug problems may have an added burden in the following areas:

Ego: "They lack humility. You can go to treatment 50,000 times," she says, "but until you see that you are powerless over this disease" there is no real change in behavior.

Enabling: As we've seen in the case of Bonds, police leniency through the years plus knowing that his job was secure, may have kept him from hitting

"Obviously there are economics involved," Gerger says. "The people (those setting the ground rules) didn't really understand alcoholism. If the disease is not arrested it's going to get worse."

Easy Does It: They go right from treatment back into the fray.

"Once you're out of treatment, you really must have the time to integrate the skills that you learn into your life," Gerger says.

But Bonds is not one to give up on. "I have seen people that are so sick that you would say, no chance," Gerger says. "And they have been able to go into recovery and maintain it."

I have never enjoyed watching Bonds on the air. He is supposed to be a presenter of news, yet he consistently crosses the line to inject opinion.

During past discussions of Bonds' style in the newsroom, editor Sandra Armbruster has always defended him.

Nearly 30 years ago he was her instructor of radio and TV news writing at the University of Detroit. "He made just such an impact on my career," Armbruster says. "He was the one who taught me how to conduct a good interview and to phrase a good question. I owe him a lot for that."

"We all go through problems," Armbruster says. "He's not someone to be thrown away because he's an alcohol-

Of this latest bout of alcoholic behavior, she says: "I'm disappointed, but I'm not going to write him off my list."

In fact, Bonds may have his best chance ever. He is reported to be at a clinic that specializes in treating highpowered people. This time, police acted, and it is unclear that Channel 7 will take him back. So, he may have the opportunity he needs to heal.

We sincerely wish you One Day At A Time, Bill.

Opposes invasion

am totally opposed to an invasion of Haiti for the purpose of returning the Communist Aristide to power, restoring "democracy," communism, or anything else to that country.

Even if the cause was "just;" I would oppose it, as American security is not involved. And in this case, the cause is not "just." Who do we think we are attempting to impose a communist dictatorship (in the name of "democracy" of course), upon the people of Haiti? The majority of both Haitians and Americans are outraged at this. How can this administration justify giving the butchers of Red China most favored nation status, while at the same time declaring war on little Haiti, because a military coup, supported by most Haitians, ousted a communist dictator there?

I also object to the UN dictating U.S. foreign policy. The last time I read the U.S. constitution, it said only Congress could declare war. Apparently the UN charter now supersedes the U.S. constitution. The Clinton Administration now thumbs its nose at my representatives, and requests permission to go to war from the UN. If that doesn't outrage you, it sure does me.

If the Clinton Administration invades Haiti without approval from Congress, as required by the U.S. constitution, he should be impeached. This is not the New World Order. He is supposed to be the president of the United States, and as such is subject to the limitations of power imposed by our Constitution. Commander in chief or not, only the Congress can declare: war. Let's hope they don't.

Look at the facts

n an article in the Grand Rapids Press on Aug. 8, some UAW workers at the Livonia Ford Transmission Plant accused the teachers in Livonia of being blackmailers.

Apparently, if the Livonia school board asked for a millage increase or teachers "talked" of striking, those actions constituted "blackmail." Ergo, the teachers were "blackmailers."

This conclusion is not warranted by the history of relations between the Livonia teachers and Livonia Public Schools. The only strike that I remember was in the early 1970s and lasted less than a week. Livonia students have not lost a day of school in more than 20 years due to striking teachers. Furthermore, Livonia has had an outstanding academic record over the last 30 years. My children will attest to that.

The history of millage elections in Livonia does not support the blackmail label either. The last general operating millage election was a 10-mill renewal in 1984. Any new operating millage was long before that, with the exception of a one mill election in 1993 for athletic programs, elementary music and art.

If there have been no millage elections in the last 10 years that affected teacher compensation, where does the insult "blackmailers" come from? It certainly does not come from any reasonable examination of the facts in Livonia's history.

I believe the origin of this attitude about teachers comes directly from the governor's office. The John and his minions have created a very negative feeling toward teachers that is permeating the whole state. Teachers have been criticized for everything from incompetence to not teaching values to being Marxist. Now, it's blackmail. What's next - littering, loitering, molesting, and ax-murdering?

Michael A. O'Toole, Jr. Grand Rapids

Stereotype insulting

find it difficult to understand the stereotype applied to the conservative "Religious Right" as being an intolerant group of radicals and bigots. As a faithful church member speaking for my many Christian friends and family members, this is both insulting and unfair.

The people I associate with are kind.

courteous and charitable to all persons regardless of who they are or where they come from. Conservatives are often targeted as being uncaring or even hypocritical because of our opposition to such things as the proposed "solution" to the alleged health care crisis.

Medical care for all is an admirable goal, but something as important as this cannot be entrusted to the federal bureaucracy that has demonstrated its incompetence in these matters.

Jesus said: "That you do to the least of my brothers, that you do unto me." The religious are among the first to donate to worthy causes and to offer care and assistance to friends and neighbors in need.

Our government's failing and mismanaged social programs have been unable to foster a sense of responsibility, but to criticize the politically correct liberal establishment brings outcries of racism and negativism.

We are, of course, entitled to voice our opinions as taxpayers and concerned members of society.

Mud-slinging diverts focus from state's pressing needs

e associate western Michigan withfruit-growing, fishing and furniture production. Lately it has turned into the site of a mud-slinging festival that contaminates the air.

Even Republicans from the southeastern armpit of the state are to blame, it seems. The mud comes from the 1990 amendments to the federal Clean Air Act.

Here, quickly, is the background: A decade ago, the feds found three countles -- Wayne, Oakland and Macomb --- guilty of having dirty air. Major solution: annual automobile emissions tests (AETs) for $10 before we can buy our vehicle tabe-

Under the 1990 act, the feds found three westem Michigan counties in non-compliance: Kent (Grand Rapids), Ottawa and Muskegon, I suspect their west-side pride is damaged more than their pocketbooks. Now they are in the same category as the money-sucking alums of Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Goy. John Engler, up for re-election, has joined the fray, threatening "aggressive action" against the feds, Echoing the official Grand Repids line, Engler said:

"Michigan is not to blame, West Michigan is being punished for air pollution that area companies and residents did not cause. West Michigan is responsible for only 4 percent of the problem. The lion's share of the problem travels to Michigan from other areas, like Milwaukee, Gary and Chicago.

Engler's campaign manager, Dan Pero, thickened the alluvium by declaring Democratic gubernatorial Howard Wolpe was to blame. As a congressman, Wolpe co-sponsored the Clean Air Act amendments. Pero called Wolpe "a liberal Washington Democrat who is out of touch with Michigan" and a "liberal environmental extremist."

Gary Corbin, Democratic state chair, shoved the mud back in the GOP's face. "Every Republican member of Congress from Michigan cast a vote identical to Wolpe's," said Corbin, pointing to former congressmen Bill Broomfield, R. Lake Orion, Carl Pursell, R-Plymouth, and even west-aiders like Fred Upton, Guy Vander-

Jagt and the late Paul Henry. Looking at a map and aerial photographs, the dispassionate observer must conclude the Grand Rapids gang and Engler-have it wrong. Kent, Ottawa and Muskegon counties can't be blameless for their "non-attainment status" (dirty air).

Why don't Bridgman, St. Joseph and Benton Harbor have dirty air? They're directly in the path of the prevailing southwest winds emanating from the steel mills of Gary, Ind. Why aren't Van Buren, Allegan, Oceana and Mason counties on the dirt list? What about Manistee, Benzie and priatine Leelanau?

Face it: Grand Rapids, Muskegon and environs are in the big time. Engler will accomplish little except full employment for lawyers by fighting their dirty-air status. Moreover, the mud bath takes attention away from genuinely pressing issues: potholed roads, rising tuition rates, weed-grown parks, workplace safety, court funding.

State bar panel suggests overhaul of court system

BY TIM RICHARD STAFF WRITER

Local voters may find themselves voting for "trial judge" by the 21st Century Instead of circult, probate, district and recorder's court judges.

That's the goal of a State Bar of Michigan committee co-chaired by attorneys Robert B. Webster, a former Oakland circuit Judge from Birmingham, and Bruce W. Neckera of Grand Rapids.

And judges are likely to find themselves part of a unified, regional system where workloads can be balanced among counties.

Our courts are simply not positioned for the challenges they will face in the new century," said Jon R. Muth, State Bar president. "If we are to assure the quality delivery of justice to Michigan's citizens, we must be ready with bold, fresh approaches."

Among the 14 members are Martin Doctoroff, Southfield resident and chief judge of the Court of Appeals, and Wendy L. Potts, Birmingham, chair of the State Bar's legislation committee.

4 courts now

Currently Michigan has four trial courts:

Circuit - 56 circuits of one to four counties; 177 judges; handles major civil suits, trials of felony and serious misdemeanor cases, divorce and paternity cases; hears appeals from lower courts (such as drunk driving) and from some state administrative agencies.

Probate - roughly one per county; 108 judges; handles juvenile delinquency, neglect, abuse, adoption, probating of wills, and estates and trusts of deceased persons.

I District - 101 districts, ranging in size from one community to several counties; 260 judges; han-dies small lawsuits, landlordtenant cases, pre-trial examinations in felony cases, misdemeanor trials (up to one year in jail) and garnishments.

I Detroit Recorder's - handles felony trials within Wayne Coun. ty. On a rotating basis, five Wayne circuit judges are assigned to hear felony cases in recorder's court. Because of racial tensions, Detroiters are uncomfortable with being tried before suburban judg-

The Webster-Neckers committee grew out of a 1990 state government report called "Michigan's Courts in the 21st Century.' The State Bar's goal is to recommend implementing that broad

Lawmakers primed

The Webster-Neckers panel is scheduled to finish by the end of 1994 and place its recommendations before the House and Senate Judiciary committees in 1995.

There could be rival plans. For example, many judges and lawyers advocate a "domestic relations" court to handle divorce. child support, paternity and juvenile matters - in effect taking parts of the balliwicks of circuit and probate courts.

primed and ready to make state of the art computer systems

Every session, they are bombarded with requests for more judges because of heavy caseloads but rarely are asked to eliminate judges in low-work districts such as Pontiac.

Moreover, the Grand Rapids area is generating strong pressure to end the funding plan under which Detroit and Wayne County pourts are entirely state funded but the outstate courts are in part locally-funded.

Judges swapped

Already there is a swapping of judges between courts. District judges serve by assignment on the circuit bench. Circuit judges regularly are assigned to Court of Appeals panels. Retired judges often do short stints on the bench to reduce backlogs or allow for vacations.

The 1990 state recommendations were to:

"1. Create a unified court system that would merge two or all the existing trial courts (circuit, district and probate) so as to create a single trial court in each judicial circuit.

"2. Adopt a system of regional venue, balancing the inconsistencles in workloads that exist among counties and providing greater managerial flexibility.

"3. Appoint a chief judge in each judicial circuit with authority to administer the operations of each unified circuit. . . .

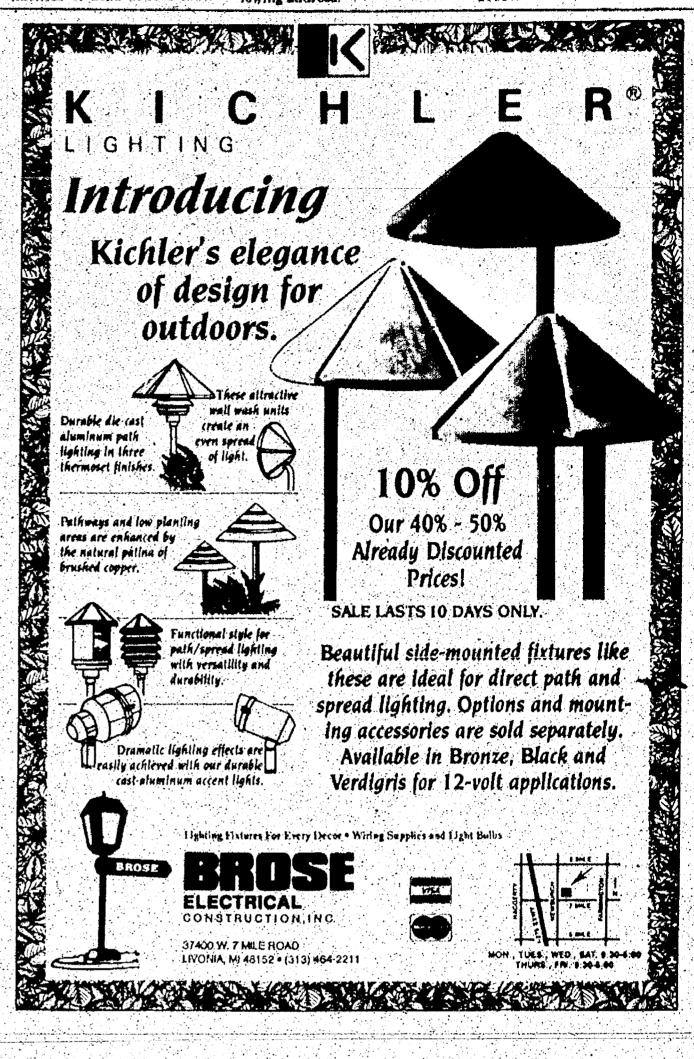

"4. Provide the new system with adequate management re-Lawmakers, however, are sources, including compatible, Johnson takes over for Nick O'Shea, who resigned this summer to become the first coach of the Oakland University women's soccer team.

Johnson played for O'Shea, first at Churchill and then at Schoolcraft, before finishing her playing career at Siena Heights last fall.

Johnson, 22, looks forward to the challenge of taking over for her former coach, O'Shea led the Ocelots to the 1987 National Junior College Athletic Association national championship.

Johnson doesn't have any head coaching experience but has learned a lot coaching with O'Shea in the summer at camps.

"They're going to be hard steps to follow but I'm ready for it," said Johnson, who found out about the appointment on Tuesday and was planning to hold her first practice 24 hours later. "As soon as Nick told me he was resigning, I said Let (athletic director) Ed (Kavanaugh) know, let everyone know I'm interested.' For Pierce, leaving New York was like getting promoted from the minor leagues to the major leagues. Pierce did not have a job. while in New York and lived in less than favorable conditions in a "run-down" apartment. Daye Martin, an assistant coach at Bowling Green and formerly at Henry Ford, coaches in the Cape and was responsible for bringing Pierce there. During his month at the Cape, Pierce stayed with a family in a house and worked mornings at baseball camps before heading to the ballpark.

"I wanted to get out of there (New York)," said Pierce, who batted about .315 for the Broome Rangers in Binghamton, N.Y. before leaving. "They told me they'd get me a job and they didn't. I had to get money from my mom and dad and that set them back."

Pierce would have played a third year with Hines Park Lincoin Mercury this summer in the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League if he had not gotten the opportunities out East, Pierce said there are players in the LCBL comparable to some in the Cape, but the overall talent level doesn't compare.

"The LCBL is a glorified high can't get better when you're playing that kind of competition and 90 percent of college coaches will tell you that, too. Guys like Ed baseball is a plus."

Niemiec's 2nd year

Niemiec, a 1991 Pymouth Canton graduate, played catcher for the Cotuit Ketteleers. The Ketteleers failed to make the playoffs and Niemleo had eight hits in 79 at-bats (for an .101 average), 11 RBI and seven runs scored.

He struck out 16 times and was walked 10 times. Niemiec, who was platooned with another catcher, caught for Jason Bell, who had a 16-2 record for Oklahoma State last year, and Louisiana State standout Brett Laxton.

Niemiec was coming off a big year at U.M, where he led the Wolverines in hitting with a .331. average and had a .970 fielding percentage.

"I was hitting at people a lot, either grounders or line drives and not finding holes. I guess I used all my luck up at school," he said. "I wasn't about to change everything that got me there. I was real enthused how I caught and threw, how I handled myself behind the plate."

TENNIS

Area racquet club advances

The adult women's tennis team at Farmington Tennis Club won the 4.0 state championship Sunday and will compete for a regional title this weekend in Indianapolis.

Farmington will represent Michigan at the Western Tennis Association championships against the winners from Illinois, Indians, Ohio and Wisconsin. The WI'A champ goes to the United States Tennis Association national event later this year in Tucson, Ariz.

The local women - representing the Southeast Michigan District, which includes the entire metro Detroit area - won the four-team, roundrobin state tournament in Lansing.

Farmington defeated Traverse City (Northern Michigan) 3-2, Midland (Northeast Michigan) 4-1, and Kalamazoo (Western Michigan) 4-1. Each team fields two singles players and three doubles teams and must win three points.

The players on the Farmington team are Stacey Cashen, Theresa O'Leary, Janice Ruark, Gail Heist (captain), Denise Phillips, Lisa Glock, Juli Bartler, Cathy Angelocci, Sandy Woolfall, Lealle Burns, Linda Jones and Nan Jacob-

Winning its first area title, Farmington placed first in the Southeast Michigan Tennis Association tournament at the Rochester Hills Tennis and Swim Club Aug. 6-7.

Farmington defeated host Rochester Hills II in the district final, 4-1. In round-robin play, Farmington won Group A with 4-1 wins over Rochester Hills I and Peachtree Tennis Club and a 3-2 win over Dearborn Racquet Club.

Rochester Hills II won Group B over teams from the Birmingham, Wimbledon and Liberty tennis/racquet clubs.

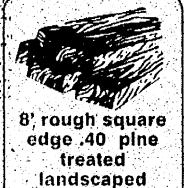

Farmington was undefeated in league play against West Bloomfield Sports Club, Dearborn Racquet Club, Detroit Tennis and Squash Club (Farmington) and Detroit Metropolitan Tennis Club.

all grasp of the play."

Before O'Shea resigned from SC, he signed a big recruiting class that is expected to make up the bulk of the team.

Kavanaugh said Johnson was one of 10 applicants.

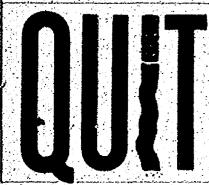

"Nikki's a quality person," Kavanaugh said. "Her enthusiasm is going to bring good vitality to the program and she's got a background of coming out of the program. She's going to be an excellent role model for the girls .

"Nick recruited a good number and we've been getting phone calls constantly from people enrolled at Schoolcraft who are also soccer players. She'll have a good group to work with."

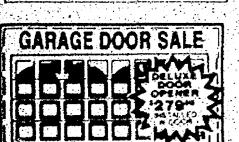

Kayanaugh also announced the hiring of a new cross country coach. Laura Loggins, who recently moved from Wisconsin and took a job in purchasing at Schoolcraft. Loggins also will be an assistant coach of. the women's basketball team, coached by Kavanaugh.

Kavanaugh also hired Paul Purcell to be an assistant men's basketball coach.

Top fishing pros entering Bassmaster

HY BILL PARKER

Art Ferguson is excited about the Michigan Bassmaster Top 100 coming to Lake St. Clair next

Even though he won't be competing in the four-day, procam event, the Rochester Hills native and Livonia resident is excited about the prospect of 100 of the top professionals from across the nation coming to fish his home

The tournament runs Wednesday through Saturday with daily weigh-ins at 3 p.m. Spectators can catch the weigh ins at the picnic area of the North Marina at Metro Beach Metropark in Mount Clemens. There will be 100 boats in the tournament with a pro and an amateur in each boat. Eight of those amateurs hail from the Observer & Eccentric coverage area.

"This is a huge tournament, and I think it's going to open a lot of eyes as to what Michigan has to offer," said Ferguson. "The largemouth fishing is good out there, but the small mouth fishing is just phenomenal. I think everyone will have an opportunity to do very Perguson should know. The local pro always does well when he hits the waters of Lake St. Clair. In the past three years Ferguson has won four tournaments on Lake St. Clair, placed second three times and placed third twice. On top of that, he runs a guide service on the 490 squaremile lake during the summer.

There are a lot of shallow, weedy, sandy areas with plenty of forage. I'd have to say Lake St. Clair probably has the second or third best smallmouth fishery in the nation. About 60 percent of the lake is current influenced which is what small mouth like,"

The bass are there

Ferguson took me out on Lake St. Clair recently to give me a glimpse of what the pros will bo up against. We didn't expect to do real well since we went out the day after a cold front moved through and the morning began without a cloud in the sky. But despite these unfavorable fishing conditions we managed to catch 10 bass (as well as two pike and one shad) in a half day of fishing. The biggest was a 5-pound, 5. ounce smallmouth and our biggest five weighed better than 16 nounds.

We concentrated our efforts on "secondary spots" (he wouldn't show me his favorito holes) and fished mostly over weedlines in 5. to 8 feet of water. We caught most of the bass on pearl Gitzits and chartreuse Rattle-Traps.

The Michigan Bassmaster Top 100 is the first of 15 qualifying events on the $4 million profesworld championship B.A.S.S. Masters Classic, More than a $21,000 fully rigged Ranger Bass Boat for the top professional. and a $19,000 fully rigged Runger. Bass Boat for the amateur champ.

The 100 amateurs were selected through a random draw from national and international entries.

Ferguson decided not to enter the amateur draw and instead worked to help Roland Martin one of the nation's most popular bass anglers and a 17-time Bassmaster Tournament winner - prepare for the Michigan tournament. Martin is also the host of The Roland Martin Fishing Show, which airs locally on the TNN cable station.

A friend and mentor

Ferguson became friends with Martin while guiding him out of sional Bassmaster Tournament Roland Martin's Marina on Flori-Trail that leads to the prestigious da's Lake Okeechobee over the last few winters.

"I consider Roland a great $270,000 will be up for grabs next friend and a mentor," said Ferguweek including $24,000 cash and son. "Roland hasn't fished tournaments for two years so I was kind of helping him get caught up on what's happening, especially with smallmouth, I showed him around for a week during prepractice, and we did a show on Lake St. Clair, which will air after the first of the year.

"When you get to meet a celebrity like Roland Martin, at first you're kind of in awe," said Fer-Ruson. "Now I look at him as a friend, but sometimes I look at him and think, 'Wow! That's my childhood idol sitting there'.'

Although Ferguson won't be fishing when the tournament begins next Wednesday, he'll hardly be sitting still.

"I'll be pretty busy, (Livonia resident) Ed Dietrich and I will be running the camera boat for the Bassmasters TV crew," he said. "Jan's Sport Shop in Goodrich, my local sponsor, will have the exclusive boat display at the weigh in site, and I'll be helping

Steele's starts Series 1-1; Hines Park eliminated

Steele's of Trenton began the Connie Mack World Series with a 12.2 loss Saturday to the Orange County Cards in Farmington,

The team was limited to three hits in the five-inning mercy game. Joel Hildebrand allowed eight runs on nine hits and one, walk in 21/3 innings.

Among the few highlights for Steele's was good defense by infielder Jeff Lance (Redford Thurston).

Steele's rebounded with a 13.5 win over Forest Hills on Sunday. Derric Terry pitched the first 135 innings, but the win went to

For more than 15 years business. es and individuals have spent millions of dollars to reduce the hydrocarbon emis sions which produce azone. As a result, Southeast Michigan has met federal ozone standards for three years. But, if the region violates those standards this summer automobile emissions testing will become more expensive and businesses will be required to spend an additional $55 million annually on emission controls - a cost that would be passed along to consumers

The Clean Air Coalition of Southeast Michigan is a business, industry and government part neighip to improve and maintain the region's air quality. The Coalition identifies as Ozone Action! days those hot symmet days when higher ozono levels are likely. On those days, business and the public ore asked to take no cost and law cost voluntary actions to reduce emissions.

No more wait

Tournament puts local waters on display

The wait is over. The time has come. The Bassmasters have arrived. One hundred of the top-ranked professional bassanglers from across the country and 100 amateurs including eight from the O&E area will battle it out on Lake St. Clair next week in the four-day, pro-am Bassmaster Top They're bringing in the top 100 pros from all over the country," said Livonian Duane Ray, a two-time pro-am competitor. "This is like a pro-am (golf tournament) at the TPC and being able to golf with (Lee) Trevino or (Jack) Nicklaus. This is as big as it gets for bass anglers."

Such notable pros as Roland Martin (17-time Bassmaster tournament winner), Rick Clunn (four-time world champion), Jimmy Houston (two-time B.A.S.S. Angler of the Year), Larry Nixon (leading money winner and fourtime MegaBucks champion) and David Fitts (1993 Masters Classic world champion and reigning B.A.S.S. Angler of the Year) will, all be competing in the tournament, which runs Wednesday, Aug. 24, through Saturday, Aug.

Joining the pros will be local amateurs Greg Babiarz of Farmington Hills, Livonians Duane Ray, John "Randy" Sparkman and Rick Swain, Darrin Beattie of Auburn Hills, Kyle Greene of Bloomfield Hills, Rick Van Tiem of West Bloomfield and Art Wargo of Rochester.

The 100 amateurs were selected through a random draw from national and international entries. Amateurs will compete only against other amateurs and will fish with a different pro each day.

"This is the thrill of a lifetime." said Babiarz, a two-time qualifier for the Michigan Bass Federation state fish-off. "They're coming to fish my lake, and I'm looking forward to learning something. They'll learn in two days what it took me two years to learn, I'm elated."

Swain had similar feelings.

This is the biggest thing that has happened to me in a long, long time," he said. "I've never had much luck gambling or with the lottery so when I got picked for this I just couldn't believe it. What I learn from these guys will be invaluable to me."

Monday and Tuesday will be practice days. The tournament runs Wednesday through Saturday. Daily 3 p.m. weigh ins are open to the public and will take place at the picnic site at the North Marina at Metro Beach Metropark in Mount Clemens.

Sparkman, winner of the TNT Top Dog Tournament on Belleville Lake earlier this year, said he "welcomes the challenge of being paired with someone of that caliber" and feels the pros will like what they find on Lake St. Clair.

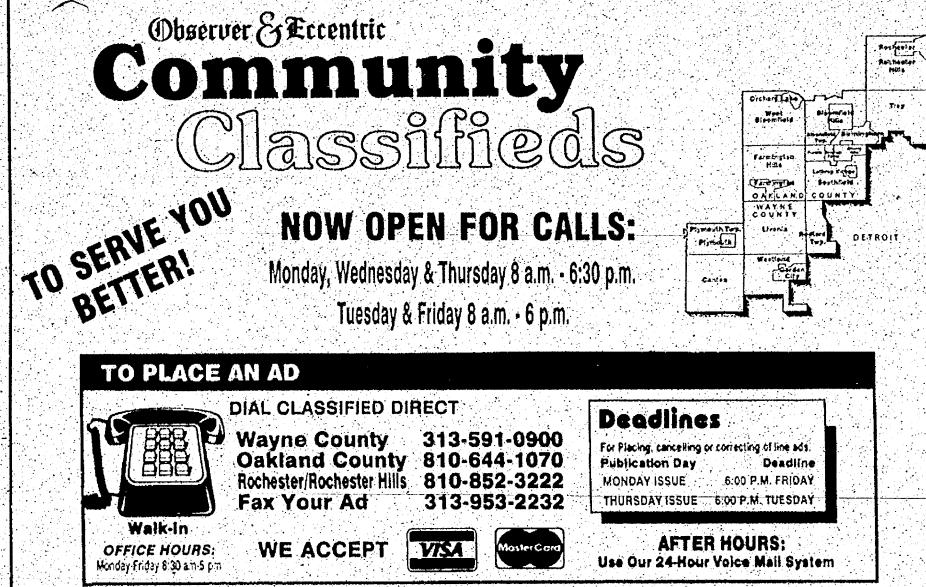

'I think they'll be back," Sparkman said. "The small-mouth quality on St. Clair is phe nomenal. Even a novice can go out there and catch smallmouth. I'm really excited."

The pros will be available for autographs and a short picturetaking session after they weigh in their fish each day.

"If people want to see some hig bass they'll see some real nice ones at the weigh-ins," added Bablarz. "Those southern boys just love to come up here and fish for smallmouths and Lake St. Clair is probably the third best body of water for small mouth bass fishing in the world. Lake Erle is probably number one and Lake Ontario is number two. The Great Lakes are totally unfished for bass, and I think the pros are going to like

Anglers are urged to report their success. Questions and comments are also encouraged. Send information to Outdoors, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, MI. 48009. Fax information to 644-1314 or call Bill Parker Monday evenings at (810) 901-2575.

Paul K, David Olney to play at La Casa

Paul K of the Weathermen used to live in Farmington. He'll be in town this week to perform with David Olney at the La Casa Music Series in Birmingham. The two played together last at La Casa in 1993.

BY MARK E. GALLO SPECIAL WRITER

When Paul K plays La Casa 8:30 p.m. Friday, Aug. 19, it will be both as an internationally recognized rocker, and as the proverbial local boy-makes good. The concert will be at the Birmingham Unitarian Church, 651 N. Woodward at Lone Pine Road, Bloomfield Township. Tickets are $10 in advance or $12 at the door. Call (810) 646-4950. Tickets are also available at It's The Ritz, 193 W. Maple, Birmingham.

"I used to live in Farmington, and I used to deliver the Farmington Observer" said K during a phone interview from his home in Lexington,

The Catholic Central grad's folks still live in the house they raised him in, but K was out of town before his hat hit the ground at commencement.

"I came here to go to college on a. debate scholarship," he said. The University of Kentucky proved to be a short-lived diversion. In short order, Mowing a succession of names and personnel shifts, the Weathermen were born, and music became all that mattered. The Weathermen played Lollapalooza last year. Paul K won't expect you to be impressed. He'll be happy if you've heard of the band at all.

"We're a cult band," he says simply. "There's a certain number of fans who are always going to be at the shows." There's no rancor in his tone. Dealing with reality, you imagine, is one of his strong suits.

"People don't go out much any-more," he said. "They stay home and channel surf, which is cool. That's why specialized things stay alive. Some of the people who come to this show may not see anything else this year. They probably won't go into the city, to St. Andrew's

A solid guitarist, both electric and acoustically, K's vocals remind me of John Wesley Harding's, with a different accent, of course. There are times during a couple of songs on the new Paul K and the Weathermen Silenz disc, "Garden of Forking Paths," when he may remind you of Lou Reed, or even the New York Dolls ("The Tower").

Another powerful influence in the world of Paul K is David Olney. As will be the case this go-round, when K last played an acoustic show in Detroit, it was with Olney at La Casa. He's looking forward to it.

"It was in January 1993. I met (La Casa founder and everything man Dave) Brogen through Olney. That one show we did was great!"

Having done a superb job of covering Olney's "Jerusalem Tomorrow" (also on the new disc), a song that Enimy Lou Harris just released, K gets enthusiastic about the subject.

"I just heard that Linda Ronstadt is doing one of his songs ('Women Across The River'), which is great!"

K comes by his appreciation for Olney, and other of his contemporaries honestly. He's just come backfrom a European tour with some of the cream of that crop. With Olney, he shared an amazing bill with Guy

Clark, Eric Andersen, Alex Chilton and Townes Van Zandt.

"The Who made me want to be a musician," said K. "I listened to the Who, Bob Dylan, Hendrix, stuff like that. There's nothing special about my background. When my friends started listening to Foreigner, Boston, Kansas - I was listening to Led Zeppelin and the Beatles, but around 1975 I just yeered off. I started-listening to the New York Dolls. and the Sex Pistols, when they came ւսթ.՝

Hero fights crime

City crime is at its worst. The police are on strike. The mob is holding the mayor hostage. Only one man has the courage to take a stand.

He's got no superpowers, no money and no name. He's Blankman (Damon Wayans), a self-appointed neighborhood crime stopper who's so broke he fights crime in his underwear.

Columbia Pictures presents the auperhero adventure comedy, "Blankman," opening Friday at tactro Detroit movie theaters. The film also stars David Alan Grier, Robin Givens, Jon Polito and Jason Alexander.

Eccentric inventor Darryl Walker (Wayans) is the one man who thinks he can make a difference. Making the most of his bargain basement budget, he can turn an orthopedic shoe into a lethal beomerang and his grandmother's housecoat into a cape. Armed with an arsenal of homemade crime-fighting gizmos, the mild-mannered Darryl transforms himself into ever-vigilant Blankman.

Joining Blankman in his war on crime is his older brother and rejuctant sidekick, Kevin, played by David Alan Grier — reuniting the comedy team made famous on television's "In Living Color,"

Since no superhero would be complete without his own Lols Lane, Robin Givens is Kimberly Jonz, the ace television reporter who breaks the story of Blankman's escapades and catapults him to fame.

Jason Alexander is Mr. Stone, the sleazy newsman who tries to get the scoop on Blankman. Mayor Harris, played by Christopher Lawford, finds his campaign goals thwarted by the mob's gridlock of graft and corruption. Lynne Thispen portrays the doting grandmother who inspires her boys, Darryl and Kevin, to be heroes.

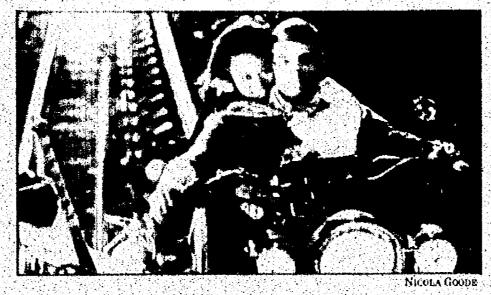

The daring due soon find themselves in a face-to-face showdown with the underworld kingpin Michael Minelli, played by Jon Polito.

Also opening this week:

The Color of Night"—, An erotic thriller about a psychiatrist who becomes romantically entangled with one patient and caught in a deadly mind game with another. Stars Bruce Willis and Jane March. Rated R.

"Wagons East!" — Fed up with a West that's dangerous, dirty and dull, a group of settlers do the unthinkable: they form a wagon train and head back east.

Chicke stopper: Eccentric inventor Darryl Walker (Damon Wayans) transforms himself into the bargain-basement neighborhood crime stopper known as Blankman, and despite, himself, wins the heart of ace television reporter Kimberly Jonz (Robin Givens), in "Blankman," a superhero adventure comedy from Columbia Pictures.

Carmen adopts family

Christine Jackson of Plymouth is the grand prize winner of our "Andre" contest. Slie won four tickets to a screening of the movie, a 4-inch, plush replica of Andre the Seal, and a movie poster.

Nine other lucky readers wan four tickets each to a preview screening of "Andre," the story of a seal who became legend when he adopted a family on their summer vacation.

To win, readers wrote to tell us about an animal who adopted their family.

Here are excepts from Jackson's winning story.

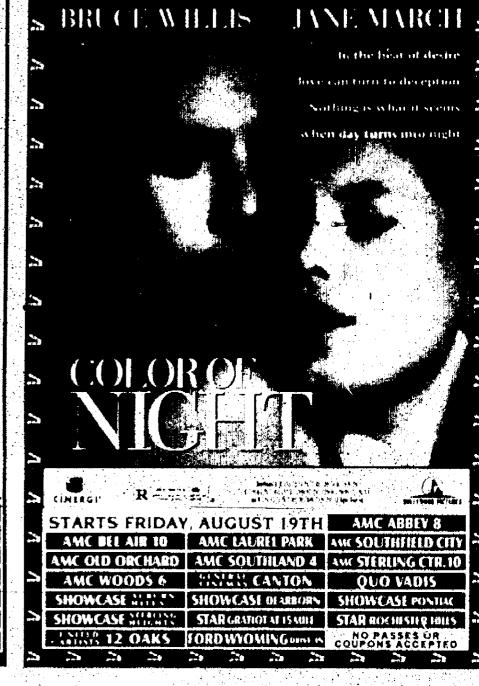

Carmen came into our lives one day a few years ago. I was driving to work in downtown Detroit in the far left express lane of 1-96. I only saw the dog for an instant and I immediately pulled on the shoulder of the expressway. It was during the morning rush hour and she was jogging along facing traffle, apparently unaware of me calling for her to stop. I'm sure that I looked quite amusing as I ran after her but all I could think of was the horror if she deciced to cross four lanes of traffic.

Fortunately for both of us, a man was able to stop ahead of Carmen's path and she ran to him. When I caught up to them, I told him that I would take the dog.

People often comment on how lucky Carmen is to have found a home with us. We smile because we know that we are the lucky ones.

Baseball: Way it was meant to be

ig league baseball is too big for its britches. Salaries ..... too big. Egos ..... too big. Stadiums ... too hig. Ticket prices too big. Everything ... . too big. Too big.

That's just not how it was meant to be. Base. ball was meant to be a lot smaller. A small summery, magical kind of game. The kind of game I played as a kid in the overgrown field in the little town on Michigan's west side. The game where just hitting the ball, any direction, meant greatness. The game with a few simple rules: bring a bat, wear shoes, help trample the tall weeds to make the baseline; don't ask for more than two ghost men to be on your team; don't argue about a ticked ball (it's just a tick, not a strike or ball); and when the ball gets lost in the weeds, go to second.

Now that was baseball a sent of the pants rules, rag-tag teams, lost and found equipment, hot, dry afternoons that sometimes turned into hot, dry evenings, sheer joy in making it to second base and cicadas and crickets our loyal fans.

That kind of baseball magic doesn't exist in the big leagues. That's because those guys chase dollars not dreams.

But that doesn't mean baseball magic can't be found anywhere. I found it: I found a whole team chasing dreams instead of dollars not 15 miles from my overgrown field. The team, a brand new minor league one; is the West Michigan Whitecaps and they play in a brand new place, Old Kent Park just north of Grand Rapids.

The park is perched off to the side of US-131; you can't miss it. Big, tall lights stand like sentinels around the stadium, the ample paved parking lot with its bright white lines shimmer in the summer lieut, and the grass grows green on the field.

It's a beautiful place. It's a small place. It's a beautiful place because it's small. Its capacity is only 5,500, although the night I was there, there were 8,118 of us in seats and on the grassy slopes.

Family affair

Entire families turn out for these games - babies to grandpas. They all come. They can afford. It parking is $1, cheap seats $3, expensive ones $4.50, popcorn $1.

Even big hinks of little towns show up. Like on Aug. 1, Red Flamuel Underwehr Night at the stadium, when 450 people from the Red Flannel Underwear Capital of the World, Codar Springs, bought up a block of seats and sat together behind home plate.

That was the day I went, As the announcer, with his deep, booming voice, introduced the players, he crescendeed and he fortissimoed through each name. The crowd. went wild. They recognized that those guys on the field were there for the sheer love of the game, not for the piles of money or any of the other things that have clouded and muddied the big leagues. These guys get $5,000 total for playing the game five months. They travel to the away games by bus. They live in small apartments near the field of with local families

Crowd pleasing

They play teams from such places at South Bend, Ind., and Cedar Rapids, lowa. They played the Appleton Faxes from Wisconsin that night. One of the Poxes was so full of the joy of playing ball that he back flipped and cartwheeled on the grass during the warmup. An impressed murmus hubbled up from the crowd.

When the warnings and introductions were complete, a man walked out on the field and sang the "Star Spangled Banner" acapella, 8,118 voices rose up in song that August night in that little stadium, and I got goose bumps.

The mayor of the Red Flannel Underwear Capital threw out the first pitch. The crowd roared, and the game was under way. There were homerisms, severe bobbles, ground ruled doubles a three run inning, a very theatrical pitcher's mound conference, and a victory for the home team. The tank cheered and stamped

Earlier on they'd sang "Happy Brithday" to Emily a little girl who turned 12 that day and got to stand on top of the Whitecape diagout in

The crowd applauded when the Inchest Car in the Parking Lan Award was presented. The car's owner received a certificate for a free car wash. Pairs of red flannel underwear were given away

Two kids were chosen for the nose on the bat pin around real fast contest. Henry, the ebulfirst guy with STAFF written on the back of his shirt, got the crowd yelling in unison and doing the wave. Those peddling peanuts, popcorn and cotton candy had front, young faces. They amiled as the did their job

Friendship keeps them together

Seventy-one years ago, teacher Deda Emmons organized Home Science Club at Detroit Northwestern High School. The club disbanded last year, but the remaining members still keep getting together, mostly out of friendship.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

Seventy-one years ago at Northwestern High School in Detroit a' bond was ereated between the girls in Deda Emnions' Home Science Club. Although their numbers. have dwindled over the years, the ties remain as strong as ever as: the August meeting at the Garden City home of Betty Colton Henke

"I like coming, because I like the girls." said Ruth Corbett, 84 of Westland: "We have a lot of fun, This feels like home to me, to be plank a fish, how to make fancy

For the girls, ranging in age from 80 to 88 years old, the camaraderic has lasted through marriages, the births of children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren and death. And to think, it is all based on the formation of a club whose student members served as hostesses for teachers' teas.

"We continue to meet because, boat," said Henke, 80, "You just remember all the silly things."

Founded in 1923 by Miss Em-"to have a group of high school great-grandchildren. girls ready at any moment to take complete charge of perving at any and novel ways of entertaining, consider them part of my family. Livingston Community Hospice and to further the spirit of the home." It was disbanded around: 1932 after the high school banned all clubs.

In the carly days, the alumnae numbered more than 100. Today the number has dwindled to 12 active members who meet at homes or restaurants for lunch once a month June through October, since many of the members spend the winters in Florida. Nine were present at the recent meeting on Henke's patio.

"Miss Emmons taught us how to sandwiches for the teas. Teas were big back then," said Henke.

Deda Emmons taught cooking as part of the home economics curriculum at Northwestern, Among the platitudes she instilled in her students wore "a good cook wastes nothing" and "love lightens labor."

Families matter

"A place for everything, and we don't want to lose track of one feverything in its place," recalled ... another, the fun we've had over the Bessie Chiasson, 88, of Livenia, years, we were all in the same, the only surviving member of the founding group. Chiasson believes the fact that they were all having families at the same time kept mons, the club's primary purpose, them together. She has four chiles according to its constitution, was dren, 13 grandchildren and 22

When I go to the hairdressers and say I'm going to a meeting I've attended for the last 71 years, people can't believe it.

"There's been a lot of changes over the years. We experienced a lot together. We lived through the Depression, the different wars and a lot of different presidents. I wish we could go back and do it over." Through the years, club mem-"We kept meeting because we there held white elephant sales to all liked one another; we all were raise funds for the Children's social event," but also "to find new having families," Chiasson said. "I Loukemis Foundation of Michigan, and the Salvation Army,

"We held white elephant sales where people contributed something that they didn't want anymore, then developed into sales of food, cookies and cakes. We made Christmas ornaments and dressed dolls for Goodfellows," said Henke. "It's been a great group of people."

"It's very supportive; I miss it when I'm in Florida," added Bernice Cobane Smith, 80, of Walled Eake, formerly of West Bloomfield.

young people, about the killer disease. "There's no second chance with this disease." Boccomino said. "You can be tested this morning, have sex tonight and get AIDS. You can be a vir gin when you get married and still have AIDS." Boccomina decided to go public about the dis case for Michael and son Tony, age 9 The ques tion was how could Michael live out his life in dignity, if they kept the illness a secret Since then, she has spoken at hundreds of high schools and appeared on several local and nation al television shows to tell her story and talk about what people must do to avoid being infected. Her Aug. 8 speech in Garden City was sponsored by Hospice Services of Western Wayne Inc.

She directed several of her remarks to the lone teenager in the group, felling her that "AIDS is not going to go away when you get married, you have to worry about your kids. You have to talk to

Shared disease

It hasn't been sany for Boccomino, who was infected by her first husband, an 13 drug user whose drug of choice was cocaine. He died almost four years ago; his second wife, whom he also in fected, died two years ago Suprisingly, Boccoming has only infected Michael Her husband Brian and 9 year old son Tony tested negative for the virus. And, yes, she and Brian practice safe wex.

Today's handwriting sample is replete with ornamentation, This suggests a person who crayes attention from others. Often she makes a pretentious display of herself, intended to invite praise and/or flattery. She wants so very I am 27 years much to impress, be admired and receive compliments. She tries to squeeze every bit of drama out of each situation. Center stage is where she wants to be found. Others may see an inflated sense of pride in her,

A high degree of insecurity is usually the underlying cause for. this type of behavior. Her self-esteem is not what she would like to have the world believe. Seemingly, she has experienced or perceives rejection of some sort which causes her to feel inferior. To compensate and feel more worthy in other people's eyes, she has developed this artificial means of showing off her qualities.

Ornamented handwriting can also suggest one who is attracted to eye-catching fashions in clothing. Interior decorating would probably he more on the ornate than plain side also. Our writer has a need to hold onto those things that symbolize security to her. She may not be ready to take big risks.

Overlapping lines tell us she has many irons in the fire at this time, While she likes to be busy and active, she may currently be involved in more than she can comfortably handle.

Inconsistent word spacing alerts us to inconsistencies in dealing with others. Sometimes very friendly, other times less so. can make it difficult for others to in this handwriting.

know where they stand with her.

This young woman can be quite a persuasive talker, A tendency to exaggerate her capabilities, promising more than she can produce, is sometimes seen. When this happens, she can rationalize, offering all sorts of plausiblesounding reasons why it didn't work out.

Strong persistence is pervasive

Boccomino found out a month. inter when the hospital called to tell her she had tested positive for the HIV virus. Retesting turned up the same results.

The reaction was a "big dishelicf"; she and her husband didn't believe nor did they want to belleve it. Brian turned to binge drinking to deal with the fact that he would lose both his wife and son to AIDS.

"We didn't have a marriage then," Boccomino said, "we just lived for our son. We didn't think he would live to be I year old. I've gotten to a plateau where I live for today and my vision is for my

Michael developed full-blown AIDS at age 4 and Boccomino has become his primary caregiver. Brian gave up his own business and went back to being a pipefitter to get the union's medical insurance for his family.

Crippled Children's help pays for a lot of Michael's expenses. and their current policy does reimburse them for a portion of Boccomino's $250 a-month AZT prescription, but when she develops AIDS, she said she will have to divorce her husband to get help with her "outrageous" medical Relatives sued her family because she used her name and as a result it was associated with AIDS. Some people also picketed the school where she did volunteer work, wanting her to wear a mask and gloves.

"People react mostly out of fear not their hearts," she said. "But if you think about there's someone living on every street who is HIV positive. Within five years, each of you will know someone who is HIV, positive. There will be one child in every grade who will have AIDS that they got from their Boccomino pooh-poohs the idea of AIDS as a gay disease. Granted, a lot of gay males were dying of AII)S in the early '80s, but with education, the gay community is no longer getting infected.

However, the group now at risk of AIDS, she said, is women . . . "women who think like I did, I'm not gay and I'm not an IV drug user." With her internal organs, the disease can filter into a woman's body through the thin mem-

And likewise, a man may think because he isn't gay or an IV drug user, he can't get AIDS, but he can get it from a woman, according to Boccomino.

The AIDS ways

The AIDS virus lives on T. cells, high concentrations of which can be found in blood, semen, vaginal fluids and breast milk and can be transmitted in three ways, the most prevalent being sex - vaginal, anal and oral. In the case of oral sex, the person giving it is at a high risk of getting AIDS, Boccomino said.

The virus can't be contracted from saliva; sweat and tears because the concentration of the virus is too low,

"And you can't get it from kissing; I've been kissing my husband for 10 years and he's not infected," Boccomino said. "You would have to take in a quart of saliva at one time to get a high enough concentration and you'd drown before you got AIDS.

"You can wipe away the tears of a child with AIDS and not get it."

The second way is blood to blood - through IV drug uso, ear or body piercing and tattooing without proper sterilization and injectible steroid use, popular among high school athletes, said Boccomino, pointing to a high school wrestling team down unto in the spring of 1995. South where buddies on the wrestling team shared the needle.

During the early '80s, hemophilines were at risk of AIDS because the clotting factor they rely on was made from tainted blood. Most of those hemophiliacs who were infected were men who went on to infect their wives and who in turn passed it on to their chil-

The third way is from mother to child while it is a fetus, while giving birth where a lot of blood is present and through breast milk, which has a lot of Teells.

Boccomino talked of her friends who have been infected and died of AIDS. There's Ruth who dated n guy for a while before they separated. When he turned up sick at a later date, she discovered he was a casual IV drug user. She, too, became ill and died. She was age

Another friend named Shelly at age 19 married an IV drug user. She cleaned up her act when she had a baby. He didn't, so she divorced him. She remarried and discovered she was HIV positive at the birth of her second son. She now is in hospice care.

"She doesn't want any more drugs; she just wants to be home with her family," Boccomino said. "I'd like to go over once a week to give her husband a break; he has juit his job to be with her.

Boccomino had though about naming the names and ages of the people she has come to know in the last seven years who have died as the result of AIDS. She decided not to when she realized her list had 15-16 names on it.

And their ages led her to stress to the hospice workers present that there will be a lot of young people ages 25-35 who will be dying, infected 10 or so years earlier when they were in high school and

She also stressed that caregivers respect their patients' confidentiality, asking who they have and haven't told, and offering their compassion and support.

"Hug them right away and tell them you'll be there to listen; AIDS patients need a lot of paychological help," she said. "And don't judge them. Look, anyone in this room could be infected with AIDS, but you've just been

The groom is a graduate of Belton High School, MIT in Cambridge, Mass., and the University of Colorado in Boulder. He is attending Princeton University for his Ph.D. in physics. He is employed by Martin Marietta.

Ann Pachota served as her sister's maid of honor with bridesmaids Mary Johnston, Frances Pachota, Anna Mary Rizzi and Shari Shink, Jennifer Makowski served as junior bridesmaid.

Lorenzo Rizzi served as his brother's best man with groomsmen Domenie Rizzi, Raymond Rizzi, Eric Aslakson and Dan McLeod.

The couple received guests at the Holiday Inn West in Ann Arbor before leaving on a trip to Hawaii. They are making their home in Princeton, N.J.

Hooks-Haymaker

been though the club was officially dissolved at the annual dinner at the Western Golf & Coontry Club in 1993 and the funds distributed to charitable organizations, they continue to meet monthly.

For Miss Emmons

It takes a bit of dizging to find that the mysterious element binding them together is a grand old gal who died in 1956. When asked. that question, "Miss Emmons," they resounded in chorus. The reasons number into the derens.

"She was a totally delightful teacher, she taught me when you. don't have lemons to use your ingenuity," said Henke,

"Deda holds us together, she was warm, friendly," said Betty. Roemer Schott, 83 of New Baltimore, formerly of Dearborn. "You could cry on her shoulder. Even though she never had children. she always knew just what to say. She called us her girls because she never married and had no children.

Schott joined in 1926 because of her admiration for Miss Emmons.

"She was a marvelous inspiration for girls. She was always neat and always wore a pretty handkerchief. She taught us to wash our hands before we did anything, but she never cooked outside of school. She told us, 'When I go home, I never cook. My sister won't let me into the kitchen. She was the adhesive that made us stay together and as the years have gone by we have formed really close friendships."

Eighty-seven-year-old Edith Ternes Reynold, who taught school in Dearborn and Chicago for 47th years, ended the tributes by saying, "She was a remarkable woman to start a group like this. It's a nice group, almost like fam-

Changing times

The world has changed over the years. When the club, originated seven decades ago, the dues were 10 cents. By 1964, they jumped to $1. The annual alumnae dinner in 1930 cost 75 cents. By 1950, the dinner held at the Botsford Inn was $3.25. A club scrapbook holds all of the handmade invitations for the annual dinners since the Back then you had to make your own fun. You couldn't afford to spend $100 on invitations; you made them. It was a different world back then. You could go anywhere without worrying," said Henke.

Over the years, members gradually dispersed.

"A lot of them we lost to marriage or moving," said Henke, who herself had left the state when husband Al was transferred to Baltimore for a brief time.

. Barbara Hartsough brought her mother-in-law, Evelyn, 84, to the meeting. Lengthy marriages, says Barbara, seem to be another shared attribute among club members. Evelyh Hartsough and Henke are but two whose marriages endured 50 years.

"They're all an inspiration; everybody here stays current on sports, politics and their families," she said. "They're simply all women who have grown older. They're from another generation where there's no talk of divorces."

Longtime area clerk Cairns will be missed

By Tom Haer Stapp Writer

They called him "Mr. Farmington Hills" - and with good rea-

This city functions well today because of the work he did back then," said Bob McConnell, who was a Farmington Township supervisor during part of Floyd Cairns' long reign as clerk.

Mr. Cairns, a lifelong resident of Farmington, Hills, died of congestive heart failure Tuesday at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia. He was 79.-

Dedicated, conscientious, courtly and helpful are a few of the kind words used by former colleagues to describe Mr. Cairns, who was in office 21 years ago when Farmington Township became the city of Farmington Hills.

He was a very dedicated, quiet, conscientious public servant," said McConnell. "He did a lot of good work for the city. I remember that he pulled together all the water and sewer plans for the new city.

He had a terrific memory, and it was really needed. There weren't a lot of records back in those days."

Many mention memory

Another longtime Farmington Hills resident, Kay Briggs, also mentioned Mr. Cairns' great

You could ask him just about anything having to do with the city, and he'd know the answer," said Briggs, who attended Farmington High School with Mr. Cairns more than 60 years ago and served with him on the Farmington Historical Commission,

"Me was a very nice, countly man," added Briggs, "and he was interested in people. Everybody respected him. When he said something, you knew it was right.

Sue Rose, a current employee of the Hills Clerks's Office, was hired by Mr. Cairns. Again, his memory for local facts was mentioned. "He was a great person to work for and he was much respected in the community," Rose said. "He had a terrific memory for things that had happened in the city."

Kelth Deacon, former Hills councilman, served with Mr. Cairns on the city's Economic Development Corporation.

The thing you have to know about Floyd Cairns is that he was like a father to this community," Deacon said. "He knew where every drain and drainpipe and waterway was located in this city not just the present ones, but also the ones that used to be.

"You didn't have to bother looking it up in some book or chart. You just asked Floyd."

Lost first election

Born Nov. 5, 1914 in Farming ton Township, Mr. Cairns was educated in the community's schools. Up until he became clerk in 1956, Mr. Cairna ran a trucking company handed down from his father. His trucks hauled milk from the farms to the Wilson Delry.

One of his customers was the Farmington Township supervisor, who convinced him to run for public office. Despite this encouragement, Mr. Cairns lost to the Incumbent, Harry McCracken, by about 60 votes in 1966.

But Mr. Cairns was appointed clerk when McCracken resigned a few months later. He seemed to grow into the job, a colleague re-

He retired as city clerk at the Floyd A. Calras, whose name end of 1984. The City Hall was named the Floyd A. Calena Munleipal Building a few years later.

Mr. Calena' resume includes a few stints as acting township sumental boards and commissions.

Some of his accomplishments include chairmanship of the Farmington Hills Historical Commission, tenure on the Scheduling Committee of the Oakland County Elections Commission, board member of the Farmington Area. YMCA, and fund-raising chairman for the current YMCA build-

Mr. Cairns, a member of the Walled Lake First Baptist Church, served on the Economic Development Corporation at the time of his death.

'Losing Jessica' is a compelling story

"Losing Jessica," by Robby DeBoer (289 pp., Doubleday,

s you know, in a recent, much publicized legal battle, Robby and Jan DeBoer of Ann Arbor lost the 21/2-year-old child they had raised since birth to the child's natural parents, Cara and Dan Schmidt, of lowa. Known then as Baby Jessica (and since re-named Anna), the little girl has lived with the Schmidts for a little over a year now.

This sometimes surprising, up close and personal account of that battle doesn't clarify everything about this heart-wrenching event, of .. course. But, keeping in mind that every story has (at least) two sides, "Losing Jessica" will certainly help anyone reading it to see the aspiring adoptive parents - and what they tried to do more clearly. And, in a highly readable way, it will answer many questions about the legal system, especially as it relates to this case.

Reading this book is a little like sitting down with a loquacious friend (DeBoer made a speech at her own wedding) who is trying very hard to make sense of something that does not lend itself to logic; a full-fledged nightmare:

She stumbles from time to time. She contradicts herself now and then and, in doing so, confuses. Also, her frequent tendency to note how long and how often she wept during the nightmare threatens somehow to trivialize her emotion, and even to turn this highly dramatic story into melodrama at times.

Ultimately, though, "Losing Jessica" is a genuinely moving, quietly compelling story of this "venture into a dark place . . . full of pain."

"How was it possible that so many professional people could have been wrong?" DeBoer asks at one point.

Good question.

It should be stressed at the outset that this book is not simply a single-noted, unrelieved cry of pain. Everyday life with "Jessi," who seems to have been a remarkably uncomplicated child; was apparently an ongoing, pleasure-filled adxenture for the DeBoers. We watch as she grows, going with her to birthday parties, on Ann Arbor shopping trips with "Momma," exploring her neighborhood at Halloween, experiencing Christmas, growing attached to a special consin, forming a relationship with a playful uncle, visiting with adoring grandparents, carousing pround with Dutchy, the golden retriever, and other close friends.

But, for the Deboers (almost from the start), a darkness lingered at the edges of the fun. With time, it seemed to creep into more and more cornors, and finally to touch almost every aspect of their lives, until dessica herself seemed, in a sense, the only light left.

For instance, though DeBoer does not really dwell on it here, the Ann Arbor couple came, early on, to be in rather desperate financial circumstances. (This may surprise many of us who sawthem, in all the brouheha, as not particularly affluent, but certainly not desperate. Legal hills mounted at an alarming rate, forcing Jan

DeBoer, a printer, to take on two jobs. Eventually, Robby sewed curtains at home to help out. Jan was injured in an auto accident, Jessica needed minor surgery Medical hills enfered in. On the way to lowa for yet another legal proceeding, their car broke down, and left them stranded just outside Moline, Ill.

The mechanic said he could repair the engine for $3,000, or he would give us $400." DeBoer writes. "We had just made the last payment We took the $400."

Friends and family later chipped in, enabling the struggling couple to buy a used car. Another surprise in this book: a number of letters Cara Schmidt wrote to her infant daughter shortly after Jessica's birth. I'm not sure I ever heard Cara Schmidt utter a word during this entire controversy and, from that, I drew a mistaken conclusion that she was a rather emotionless woman who didn't have much to say, or if she did, couldn't think of how to say it. The letlers, however, are strikingly articulate. One hopes that someday this rather shadowy woman will write her account of these events, also

Michigan's largest children's art show will be on display at the Plymouth Cultural Center

Art from outer space along with cartoon favorites like Kit the Cat and the Lion King spring to life in the fourth annual Children's Art Show Aug. 28 at the Plymouth Cultural Center. This is the largest exhibit of children's art in Michigan featuring more than 350 artworks by students ranging in age from 3 to 16.

By LINDA ANN CHOMIN

Yvonne Lorenz of Plymouth believes strongly in raising her children Katie, 10, and Joey, 8, to be well rounded. For the last two summers the Lorenz children have attended weeklong art camps run by D & M Art Studio and the city of Plymouth Parks and Recreation Department.

They along with 165 other budding artists from the summer camps will exhibit more than 350 artworks in a wide spectrum of mediums from painting, drawing and clay to scratchboard, sand and animation cels in "Art from Outer Space" 3-5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 28, in the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. The public is invited. A reception sponsored by the city of Plymouth Parks and Recreation along with the viewing of art, and a secret mural is free.

"It's a terrific self confidence builder to have their work in an art show and have people come and see it: That's just on excellent and to the week," said Lorenz, who worked as a teacher's aide during her children's camp session to help defray the costs. .

The kids have a great time. Both. of my kids love to draw, love to paint, but Joey plays sports as well. They need sports for the physical exercise. They learn to cooperate and work together as a team with others, In the art camps, they get an

Teaching techniques

As one recent session proved creativity exhibits itself in a multituda of ways. During a daylong camp featuring painting and drawing, art camp director Sharon Dillenbeck set up still life, one unit on soccer, one on baseball. In another, students created miniature paintings so they would understand the technique of pointil lism used by French Impressionists Seurat and Bonnard.

Throughout the camp, visiting artists Susan Argicult of Livonia, Hugh Burley of Ann Arbor, and Roy Rinke of Plymouth taught marbling, oil painting and colored

We stay away from cut and paste. I teach presentation, marketing. I encourage kills to do it. With the preschool and early grades, it's not the results that are important. They love doing it. They love what they do. They should have fun doing it. There shouldn't be ony guidelines around it. All children's art has merit. It gets out the good and bad from inside thera," said Dilcamps.

Bach child exhibiting in the show will receive a fine art medallion. Because it's an exhibition not a competition, I want everyone to feel good about themselves.

- "The work you're going to see has more technique, how to use paints and pencil in different ways. The show this year is bigger. We got the children more ins volved in the show itself by doing the mural. I wanted them to undecatand it was their show.'

Mural is theme

A brightly colored mural done in tempera focuses on this year's theme. The 15 by 10 foot work features 50 panels created by individual art camp sessions under the direction of student aide Kerry loconelli. Since each session worked on only one panel, the mural is a secret until all pieces are assembled for the show.

Lorenz says the mural is one more medium, students have the opportunity to learn.

They get a chance to try all different types of media. It's much more extensive than what they learn in school as far as techniques. What they learn here they practice at home. The foil pieces, they wouldn't have known how to do, but they learn it here and take it home: They learn just because thuy can't draw, they can be sucessful in other media."

Redford Township resident, Linda Jackson agrees with her. This is the first art camp attended by her 10-year-old daughter.

This allows Kelly to develop her talents beyond the classroom, beyond what's available at other camps. Sharon's so professional and teaches them self esteem. It allows Kelly to be her own person and not just a participant in group activities. She has something to show for it and be proud. of, said Jackson, principal of Our Lady of Victory school in Northville.

Jackson is most enthusiastic about the art show at the end of the camp and the opportunity it. affords students.

It's an exciting privilege for the kids to have their artwork in the show.

Working on animation cels during a recent camp seasion, students sat quietly, intent on capturing the likenees of their favor-Ite cartoon characters. Katie Lorenz was doing a line drawing of Kit the Cat which she will then transfer onto a cel.

Young artists

"At school for the whole year you get to do maybe 25 projects at . school. My favorito part of tho camp is painting, and the art show at the end. It's fun," said Katio, atressing that while sho doesn't plan on making a career out of art, she likes it as a hobby.

This is also Matt Reuter's second year in the art camp. The 10year old was in the midst of drawing Marvin the Martian.

"I like how creative it is, It's really fun because you never know what's going to happen tomorrow," said Reuter of Canton zion of Idvonia. Township.

Nine year-old Cary Kin, also of Canton, was enjoying the art camp for the very first time.

"My favorite is all, every single one: They're fun," said Kin as he drew Dizzy from Tiny Teens Adventures.

If you missed the summer camps, in fall the art sessions continue in the form of classes at the Plymouth Cultural Center, Westland Bailey Center, Plymouth Canton elementary schools, D & M Art Studio and through the Canton Parks and Recreation Department.

Associate director Janie Tucci helped Dillenbeck teach the camp sessions with additional help ties.

The viewer is invited to explore mysteries of the mind, Is the book with its ideas "safe" in the cage, or should it be "free"? What is the key to finding a way out of the surrounding writing?

"Perfect Idea" will be reproduced on a limited edition fine art poster, sales of which will benefit programs at the non-profit PCCA, Second prize ($500) went to Pi Benio of Adrian and third prize ($250) to Robert Bielat of Ferndale. Honorable mention awards: ($100 each) went to Allen Berke of Madison Heights and Carole Zak of Rochester.

Benio's piece, "Hejira," fentures a paper human figure, torn ... "Daughter," a mixed media resemble the tops of caltails, and border, while a portrait suggesting Sparage's "Broken Spell" is a derwrote the exhibit invitation.

Bones & Stones 1" is Bielat's work. Components of the mixed media wall piece include an apparent vertebrae, a smooth stone; hooks and pieces of wood. The items are arranged on a wire screen. It is "bare bones" but also has a strong beauty with its symmetry.

Berke, who teaches at Wayne State University and the Birmingham Bloomfield Art Association, presents an untitled oil work that represents Michigan's autohistory. A faceless assembly line of cara turns into a variety of workers in the foreground, the rugged workers taking on the strength of auto components. A figure suggesting Walter Reuther is at the side. Berke exhibited at the Xochipilli Gallery in Birmingham recently and at the Helen DeRoy show at Oakland Community College last year.

in places as though it were a co. work by Zak, comments on the coon from which something had role of women. The piece features, an oil painting upon which a emerged. The figure reclines on a acrylic and antique prints. Porpile of bristly teasels, which traits of different men line the dancing and lines overlapping tries. Consumers Power un-mother and daughter is repeated in the center, all on a quiltlike design. The message is that women have been kept in place without change, but a crack in the center hints that this pattern may be broken. Zak's work may be seen at the David Klein Gallery in Birmingham.

Variety:

Among the other local artists are Joseph Bernard and Dale Sparage of Bloomfield Hills, Peter Gilleran and Sally Kaplan of Birmingham, Shirley Parish of Lathrup Village and Marian Mudie and James Pujdowski of Redford.

Bernard's "Bottom of the Hour" is an acrylic and collage on wood. Its elements include film strips and what look like seeds, arranged within a series of rectangles. Sections of the work almost look as though they are in a sortof gel. The feeling is that of a moment holding still.

"Street Crowd" by Gilleran is pointillist style plays, colors haunting, charcoal on paper piece in which a veil hangs loose over a flat figure. As the vell moves, slightly, it is as if the figure is ; moving it with a feeble breath.

Bright and brooding hues converge in two oil paintings, "Marian" by Mudie and "Excursion" by Pujdowski, a portrait and a scene of swans respectively. In "Excursion," bands of color are angled or placed almost vertically or horizontally to create a sense of flowing movement.

Kaplan's "Her First Steps . . "consists of bronze figures standing on the wall. They turn things around as the viewer turns a head to examine them. Color is strong in Parish's oil painting, "Eternity

Livonia artist colors Artrain

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN

Artrain rolls into town sporting the murals of Livonia resident Glenn Dorshimer Aug. 18-21 at Ypsilanti's Heritage Festival:

Dorshinier, a product designer/ industrial engineer, locuses on the history of transportation since the 19th century in the 660 feet of brightly colored murals. Purple, blue and hot pink color the art designed and executed by: Dorshimer on the train's exterior, Imagery includes an offshore racer looking harried as he races his boat toward a train of the future. The futuris- tic train was influenced by Raymond Lowery, the father of industrial design in America, said Dorshimer, and the Broadway Limited S-1 locomotive of the Chicago New York line of Dorshimer's father inspired his own personal romance with transportation. Robert Dorshimer, chief engineer for Oldsmobile and later vice president of engineering for the Buick-Oldsmobile-Cadillao group, dedicated his life to the train at (313) 747-8300.

advancement of the automobile. He died in 1986,

Attrain, America's Museum in Motion, is presently featuring an exhibition entitled, "The Romance of Transportation: Vehicle and Voyage in North American Art" Curated by Dr. Ellen Plummer of the University of Michigan Museum of Art, the exhibition explores artists' fascination with vehicle and voyage through paintings, sculptures, photographs and prints. Works by world-tenowned artists such as Thomas Hart Benton, Dorothea Lange, Richard Estes, Claes Oldenburg, Andy Warhol and Detroit's Tyree Guyton are featured. The art is on loan from the Detroit Institute of Arts, University of Michigan Museum of Art. I hope your sunflower has grown even taller and has a larger seed head than you anticipated!

A great big THANK YOU to Bordine's Better Blooms of Roehester and Clarkston and Plymouth Nursery of Plymouth for their generous prize donations. First prize will be a $50 gift certificate from Bordine's. Two runners up will each receive a $25 gift certificate from Plymouth Nursery,

Sunflower tips

After the seedhead of the sunflower has formed, you will need to make a decision about whether to share these delicious tidbits with the birds or save them for a family treat. If you want the animals to eat the seeds, just leave the head on the stalk and enjoy their antics while they have a feast. Information follows on how to save the seeds to provide food for the animals in the winter or for your own consumption.

The National Garden Bureau

As you cut the heads can be harvested when twothirds of the seeds are mature. Covered seedheads are ready to harvest when the back of the head is brown and no traces of green immediately in warm water with

Harvest time

Put a cloth on the ground to eatch the seeds if the head hasn't been covered. Cut the stalk, leaving about a 2-foot stem, then hang it in a watm, well-ventilated area. When the backs are entirely brown and papery, remove the sceds by brushing them out with your hands or a stiff brush. Don't wash them, or they may mold or

Store the harvested seeds in the refrigerator in an air-tight container for several months. Roasted seeds will provide a nutritious and yummy snack.

The recipe is easy, Just toss unwashed seeds in a touch of vegetable oil and salt them lightly, then spread them out in a shallow pan. Roast at 250 degrees until they are crisp and brown, about 30-45 minutes. Don't let them burn!

Cover the flowers with a black plastic bag and place them in a dark area in a cool location for several hours to condition thom, then arrange as you wish. Dried sunflowers also make interesting arrangements.

Contest rules

Here are the rules for entering the High Hopes Sunflower Contest. You may submit your entry from now until the deadline. The winner will be the person who grows the tallest sunflower in the 1994 season, through Sept. 1.

Measurement must be taken from soil level to the base of the head where the stem attaches to the flower.

Participants must submit entries as follows, postmarked by 5 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 1; On a plain piece of paper, clearly print or type your name and address, your telephone number (including area code), and the best time of The NGB also reminds us that day to call if we wish to measure your entry and/or take photos. besides the popular yellow. First prize is the Kid's Discovery Kit, a huge collection of child-sized projects that includes all the materials necessary to make a bug hox, nature prints puzzle, sand painting and a worm house, and a hardcover book packed with more than 50 nature projects to fill four seasons of fun.

Just cut the tallest sunflower from your garden and bring it in. The tallest sunflower, takes home the prize. The fun starts at 10:30 a.m.

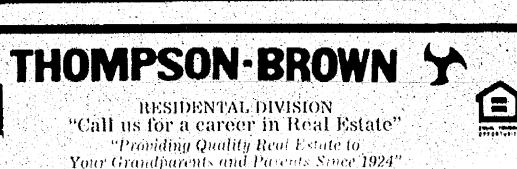

Youngstern who planted sunflower speds at McFarland's in June are also invited back with their sunflower to measure them up against the competition. In addition to the tallest, prizes will be given for the largest and bestlooking sunflowers.

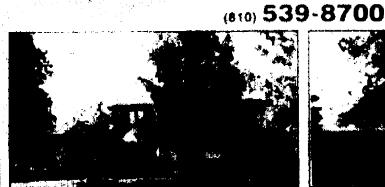

If children don't have a sunflower to enter, don't worry. They can help master gardener Betti Pool judge the entries. Children will also idem to make Natore's Birdfeeder, a and natural homemade way to find backyard birds.

So, make a sun-Some your funflower.

M SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

For the second consecutive year, Farmingtonbased Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors gave scholarships to local studenta enrolled in real estate related courses.

Scholarships runging from $200 to $500 went to: Amy L. Pulk, Redford; Neil Lokey, Northville; Carol Hainline and Shari Bajorek, both of Livonia; Stacey Cornwell, Farmington; Aashish Shah, Kevin Sturgill and Jennifer Marie Weigard, all of Canton, Christian Pomodoro, Farmington Hills: Jonathan DeKiere, Plymouth, and Roger B. Wilson Commerce.

Curtis Shinsky, WWOCAR president, said in just two years the number of program applicants and scholarship awards have tripled.

Scholarship recipients, who must be nominated by a WWOCAR member, attended a reception Aug. 4 in Farmington. To select winners, WWOCAR looked at class content, the course's relevancy to the student's curriculum, the nominee's GPA, the course's cost and a student essay.

M ON SALES TEAM

Molly Macdonald of Bloomfield Hills was pro moted to the sales team of The Crossings of Oakland, a Robertson Brothers Group Development in Oakland Township, She's worked in Rebertson's main office for two years.

In her new position, she'll concentrate on sales at Bridlewood Village, the development's newest phase of homes.

E SELLING YOUR OWN

An upcoming real estate seminar may answer some important questions for homeowners think ing about selling their own home.

The session, sponsored by Philip Lang of Red Carpet Keim-Superior Inc. in Lathrup Village, will run 7-9 p.m. Monday, Aug. 22, in the Southfield Public Library's Marcotte Room, 26000 Evergreen. Southfield.

Homeowners will learn proper home-selling procedures and how to avoid mistakes and aggravation during the home-selling process; Lang will discuss the major do's and don'ts of selling on your own and answer homeowner questions. Standard Federal will supply current information about the mortgage market.

Realtor board hones professional edge

By Janick Tidar Kramer Special Writer

The Western Wayne Oakland County Association of Realtors. (WWOCAR) is gearing up for a chatlenge facing Realtor boards around. the state Jan. 1.

That's when Board of Choice - a big change for the real estate industry - starts in Michigan. The change won't directly affect home buyers and sellers, but it will save brokers and sales agents hefty dues and application fees paid to local, state and national Realtor associations.

The open board policy allows agents to join any real estate board in Michigan to access (for additional fees) any Multiple Listing Service file in the state. Now, some agents join four or five boards, mainly to get the area's home listings.

Board of Choice starts nationwide in January 1996. At the urging of its membership, Lansing based Michigan Association of Realtors decided to kick in the open board policy a year earlier.

Q. I live on the

dominium complex

in northern Michigan. The people

underneath our

unit have a big

family and, unfortunately, they repeatedly slam

doors, doorwalls

and the front door

so, at times, our

unit rattles.

m'Being the largest (Realtor) board in the state, we've always stressed service to our members. Our focus won't change.'

> Art Mullen, Jr. WWOCAR executive VP

"Reing the largest (Realtor) board in the state, we've always stressed service to our menibers. Our focus won't change," said Art Mullen Jr., WWOCAR executive vice president and a member of the Michigan Association of Realtora Board of Choice study groun.

"We're excited about the change." said Marta Saint-James, director of education for Farmington-based WWOCAR. "We'll still share information and ideas with other boards, but differently. As Lee Iacocca said, The competition is good and we have to be better."

Saint-James already is beefing up her board's continuing education curriculum, which includes classes for Realtor designations, and specialized courses for attorneys, tax consultants, mortgage lenders, appraisers and other professionals. Last spring, her fair housing awareness seminar drew more than 125 attendees.

Kathleen Redilla, WWOCAR's education marketing administrator, was hired this year to market its more than 125 courses to real estate industry employees. The association also offers legal counsel to members, an on-site print shop and Realtor's store.

"This change means members will. have the freedom to decide what board to join based on its service level and what they want to pay," said Dan Dresaman, Michigan Association of Realtors executive vice president.

"Some of the charters granted to Realtor boards are based on market areas in existence 50 to 75 years ago. Over the years, market boundaries have changed, Board of Choice will allow natural market areas to be formed," he said.

WWOCAR's charter, granted in 1920, is bounded by Napier Road to the west; Woodward to the east; Van Born and Belleville Street to the south, and the lakes area and 14 Mile to Inketer Road on the north.

Still, their 2,700 members regularly sell homes outside the charter. "(Board of Choice) is a reflection of what's going on in the business world. Wo'll have a much leaner, meaner, market driven association that offers better services at a better cost for members. That means a better-educated, more professional Realtor. said Dressman.

Don't let annoyances fester; deed can address B&Bs

MEISNER

I do not know how to go about telling them so that we won't have any conflicts. The other problem is that they repeatedly have a "gang" there. They are not necessarily rowdy or noisy at night, but over the weekend, they sometimes sleep 17 in their place. Is there a fire law. about how many can occupy a dwelling unit at one time?

A. I presume that you live in a condominium complex, but even if you do not, the bylaws of your association should cover issues concerning excessive noise and creating an annoyance to your neighbors.

Even though those clauses are somewhat ambiguous in nature, they are many times enforceable, depending upon the facts of your case.

As to the number of occupants in a unit, there may well be various health and safety hazards in the municipality in which you reside, as well as in the condominium or association by-

Again, sleeping 17 in one unit of 1,100 square feet as you indicated would seem to be, per se, unreason. able. I would have the association write them a letter requesting their cooperation and compliance.

You may also inquire of the municipality as to the fire laws. Sitting back and doing nothing may result in the problem getting worse.

Q. We live in a homeowners association in a rural area where there is a deed restriction restricting the use of the property to residential purposes of one family.

One of the association members wants to open a bed and breakfast. Is that, in your opinion, a violation of the restriction? The people who own the home plan to operate the bed and breakfast while they are using the property as their primary residence.

A. Assuming the deed restriction is unambiguous, it would be my opinion that the restriction would preclude the home's use as a bed and breakfast, since it was presumably the intent of the covenant to prohibit use other than for a single-family residence.

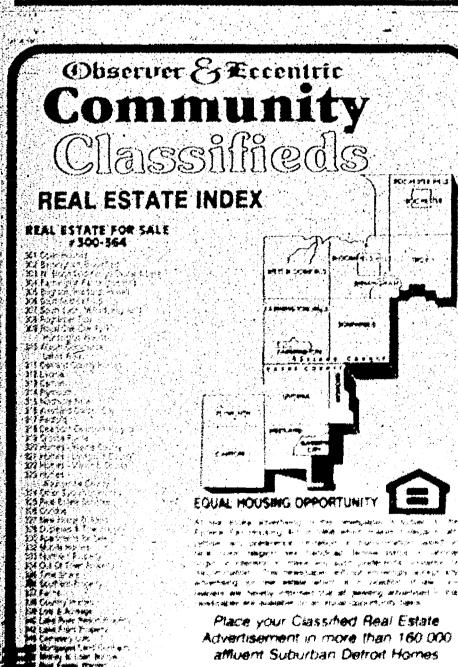

Obviously, operating a bed and breakfast creates more than a singlefamily residence and the association should consider its legal alternatives, including injunctive relief.

There is a recent Illinois case that conforms with the analysis, although it is not necessarily binding here in Michigan.

Time Never You can place an Runs Out!

NOW...

Observer & Eccentric classified ad 24 hours a day!

Here's how it works:

First, you must have a icuch-tone telephone. Then, all you do is call us - remember, it doesn't make any difference if we're not here - to place an ad, cancel one or change something on one you've placed earlier.

Let's say it's eight o'clock at night and you've fust realized that the cupid on the clock you're selling plays a tin whistle. It's a good belling point, so you punch up our classified number and wait for the operator to guide you through the steps for changing your ad. Have in mind the exact information you want to give us, speak clearly and a bit slower than you usually do. And that's it,

If it's after 5:00 p.m. on Tuesday, your changes will be made for the next Monday paper. Or, if it's after 5:00 p.m. on a Friday or the weekend. your changes will hit the Thursday papers.

Pretty neat, huh? Of course, our Classified Ad Takers are here every Monday throught Friday from 8:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. But now, if you miss them, you can still do something about your ad - at your convenience.

Carriage Park: Buyers in the second phase at Carriage Park can choose from among three basic floor plans.

Carriage Park moves into Phase II

A residential construction company that has built a 30-year reputation in Washtenaw County is about to embark on the second phase of a condominium development in Canton.

BY DOUG FUNKE

Bob Guenther, a second-generation builder/developer in Ann Arbor, has come east to Canton.

He's about to start his second phase at Carriage Park, 28 twostory condominiums off Canton feet, features a small dining Center Road just south of Ford. Only a couple units remain from the initial phase of 59 where the first resident moved in nearly two. years ago.

"We've never built in this area before," Guenther said. "We came out here looking at what other builders were doing.

"Canton in the last three years" is a hot area where people want to live," he added, "Canton is very desirable. It has a great school system. It's on the fringe of the metro area. You've got great freeway access regardless of where you want

"We're still in the affordable range here," Guenther said.

Carriage Park offers three models with starting prices ranging from $123,900 to $132,900. All have two bedrooms, an upstairs loft and 2 baths.

All of the units also will have a Developers usually head west sireplace, air conditioning, firstand north in search of new business. Iloor laundry, cathedral ceilings, upper-level bridge, two-car garage, basement, patio, plus range, dishwasher, and double sink in the Bradley and Dartmore contain separate tidi and shower.

Units in the second phase will be clustered in groups of six or four to a building.

The property tax rate for a residence in Canton within the boundaries of the Plymouth-Canton Schools is about $31 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation, half of market value.

That means the owner of a $124,000 condo in Carriage Park would pay about $1,900 per year for township, county and school services.

even more popular on the Internet because it EMORY can be sent al-DANIELS most anywhere - in the world.

E-mail is popular because the user can send messages to others throughout the nation and world -- free of charge. It is extremely fast, arriving at its destination within minutes, usually within seconds. And delivery is guaranteed. If the mail does not arrive, the sender gets a message that the attempt to mail "failed." If the user does not received a "failed" message, he knows the message was received.

E-mail is especially popular for parents and grandparents to communicate with sons and daughters, grandsons, grand daughters. O&E On-Line has several grandparents and even more parents who signed up for the Internetservice so they could communicate via e-mail with family members. Businesses also love e-mail via the Internet because it provides a quick, secure means of communicating with offices in

One of the other cities, states, and nations. most popular One of O&E Online's business features, by far, customers uses the Internet to send e-mail messages to employees in seven branch offices in metro Detroit.

O&F On Line has a very power-And e-mail is ful "Post Office" called "Pine" that handles e-mail for the user. Pine is one of the most popular email softwares for use on the Internet. When you sign onto O&E Online and go to the main menu, type "M" for "Mail" to access

One handy feature is its Address Book which collects e-mail addresses and automatically posts them onto the outgoing message to ensure the correct email address is used. Some e-mail addresses are long and must be typed exactly to be sent. With Pine, you need type the correct address only once.

At the Pine Main Menu, to enter a new address typo "A" for "Address Book." Tell Pine you want to add an address by typing "A" again, this time for "add." Pine will ask for the person's full name - last name, then first name. Hit RETURN. Pine will ask you for a nickname so when you address a message in the future you need only type that nickname, not the entire address. I entered my own e-mail address, using the nickname "self." (Sometimes you will want to test delivery by sending yourself a message).

After inputting a nickname Pine will ask for the e-mail address. Enter it. Pine saves the address in an alphabetical list in the address book. To start building your Address Book, enter "emory@oeonline" and use "emory" as a nickname to input my email address in your Address Book. Easy, right?

Now type "M" to return to Pine Main Menu. Sending an e-mail message is as easy as typing "C" for "Compose a Message." Do it by typing "C" now. To the right of "To:" type the nickname "emory" and type RETURN (or ENTER). My e-mail address appears. By "From:" type your real name and hit RETURN. For now skip "attach" and "CC" by hitting RE-TURN twice until the cursor ends area." Type ine a message, something like, "I love the O&E Online with full Internet access because it makes sending e-mail so easy and so much fun."

E-mail is especially popular for parents and grandparents to communicate with sons and daughters. grandsons, granddaughters.

To send your message, select! Control X. When the message "Do you wish to send now?" and pears, answer "yes." Within seconds your message will be in my mail-box. That's It! To assure you. arrived, I will send a brief (and polite) response.

When you first access the Pine Main Menu, Pine flashes at you as message telling how many messages you have from others waiting to be read. To view any read or unread message, type "l" and a listing of messages appears. Move the up and down arrow keys to select whatever message you wish to read or re-read. Then hit RE-TURN and that message appears on your screen.

A final note today on e mail. The addressing construction method used by O&E On-Line is to begin with the user's first name (emory) or nickname, then the at (@) sign, followed by "oconline" (without the quotes) and finally ".com". The ".com" extension is used because we are a commercial site. Other common mail extensions are ",edu" for educational institutions and ",gov" for governmental institutions.

You now have mastered some of the basics of e-mail. Pine does has many other features, some quite advanced. We'll look at at those options next week.

Direct questions or comments to Emory Daniels by e-mail at emory@oeonline.com, at voice mail at 953-2047 then dial 1910, or fax number 591-7279. To sign up for O&E On-Line, dial (313)591-0903 or (810)901-4711, at "log-in" prompt enter "new" and at "key" prompt enter GL6NY2

Turnaround expert takes TWA post

By Doug Funke Starr Writer

Robert A. Peiser, a Bloomfield Hills resident who's had two previous employment stints with TWA, has joined the airline a third time as executive vice president and chief financial officer.

Peiser, 46, said he plans to maintain bis residency here and commute to St. Louis where the publicly owned, financially troubled airline is headquartered.

This is an opportunity to go back to a company I've been in-volved with my whole life," Peiser said. "It's an emotional attraction as much as anything else."

TWA, which emerged from Chapter 11 (reorganizing) bankruptcy proceedings last November, reported an operating loss for the year of $281.2 million on sales of $3.1 billion.

Operating losses each of the previous three years starting with 1992 were $404.6 million, $353.5 million and $162 million, the company reported. The most recent operating profit, $24,3 million, occurred in 1989.

"A primary role of mine is to restructure debt," Pelser said. "Another role is effective cost savings to the company. We're in the middle of negotiating with three unions now. We expect to get additional savings."

Peiser said he worked on leasing and pension matters during his first tour of duty with TWA after earning an MBA from Harvard in 1972. He left to become treasurer at Hertz.

Peiser was chief financial officer during his second five-year hitch starting in 1982. He said he departed the second time because he didn't feel comfortable working with new ownership.

Peiser most recently served as a consultant with the firm of Bahadur, Balan & Kazerski in Southfield, turnaround specialists.

He also has served as chief financial officer with Allnet Communication, a long distance telephone network in Birmingham, and Borman's, the Farmer Jack supermarket chain.

Pelser also served as president and CFO of Orange-Co., a Floridabased, juice-processing firm. There, he engineered a financial turnaround from a $15 million loss to a $12 million profit.

"I'm attracted to challenges," Peiser said, "There's a total new management team here now. The president's new. I am new, the marketing guy, counsel, the planning guy. I am nothing short of astounded by the degree of cooperation between employees and management."

The company's 25,000 employces now own about 45 percent of the stock for past compensation concessions, Peiser said. The stock is traded on the American Stock Exchange.

"We look forward to the contributions Bob Peiser will make as a member of our new management," said Jeffrey H. Erickson, TWA's president and chief executive officer.

"He brings a unique combination of a 10-year history at TWA and considerable management experience outside the airline industry. His exemplary record at bringing financial stability to companies speaks for itself."

Peiser is married to Kathleen and father to Karyn, Brian, Craig and Scott.

M LIFE POLICIES SOLD

Alexander Hamilton Life Insur ance Co. of America, headquartered in Farmington Hills, has sold off its entire whole life business -- some 24,000 policies with a face insurance value of $880 million -- to Franklin Life of Springfield, Ill.

Those policy owners will continue to pay the same premiums and retain coverage for the stated amounts, said Jim Ponder, director of marketing for Alexander Hamilton.

"These were older, whole life policies . . . and some term policies . . . from 30 to as little as eight years old," Ponder said.

In recent years, we were kind of breaking even on these policies. They were a service drain. We didn't have critical mass, enough policies. That led to the decision to sell to a company in that (whole life) line of business," he said.
