Schools may scrap millage vote

The Wayne-Westland School District faces major budget cuts this year after learning that it cannot collect money from a planned tax rate increase, proposed for a special election next month. The election may be canceled.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Wayne-Westland School District voters aren't expected to have to decide a tax increase proposal this fall, after all, despite a budget deficit that has now mushroomed to $1.9 million. Superintendent Larry Thomas said he will urge the school board to rescind its decision to seek a 3-mill tax increase in October. He said he will issue the recommendation during a 7 p.m. board meeting today (Monday).

After reviewing new state laws, district attorneys have told administration officials that a tax increase can not be levied for the current school year, Thomas said. The earliest the board could levy a new tax would be during the 1995-96 school year, he said.

Consequently, Thomas will recommend that a tax election be delayed for several months, possibly until March or April, he said Wednesday, following a study session that brought more gloomy financial news to a board already submerged in red ink.

The latest development means that the board will have no choice but to implement $1.9 million in budget cuts.

"There will be cuts," Thomas said, "and there will be no way to bring them back."

School board members already are mulling over the possible closing of some schools next year, though no specific buildings have been targeted. Officials concede that consolidation efforts would stir a public outcry.

"We believe we can close buildings (next year), but the board is going to have to make that decision," Thomas said.

Murder hearing gets a new date

BY DARRELL CLEM

Ricky Alan Amolsch, accused of stabbing his girlfriend to death at her Westland Meadows mobile home, is expected to know Wednesday whether he will have to stand trial for first-degree murder.

Amolsch, 38, has been ordered to appear in Westland 18th District Court at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday for a preliminary examination that will determine whether he will stand trial for the death of Jane Marie Fray, 34.

Fray, stabbed 22 times in the head, neck and chest, was found dead by her mother just before 11 a.m. Aug. 23, Westland Detective Sgt. Donald Haigh said. Fray had struggled with her assailant before she was killed and left with a kitchen knife stuck in her mouth, he said.

Police are expected to present evidence indicating that Amolsch's car was parked at Fray's residence on the morning she was killed in the mobile home park on the northeast corner of Van Born Road and Merriman.

Amolsch, a Wayne resident, was originally scheduled for a preliminary hearing on Thursday morning, but Judge C. Charles Bokos delayed the proceedings until Wednesday at the request of defense attorney Richard Lustig.

At one point in court Thursday, Amolsch turned to face the audience and waved with his right hand. He was ordered to stop by a court security officer who told him to face the judge.

Amolsch, an 18-year employee of General Motors Corp., remains jailed as he awaits the preliminary hearing. Judge Bokos has denied bond.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound defendant will face a mandatory life term in prison if convicted of first degree murder for Fray's stabbing death.

Holiday walker

Alice Spindler was the Westland recreation department's selection to walk about the Mackinac Bridge with Gov. John Engler and thousands of others on the annual Labor Day event. Mrs. Spindler was picked through the department's first participation in the Walk Michigan program, co-sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association and Blue Cross/Blue Shield of Michigan.

Doctoral student

Abu Zakhem of Westland has begun his doctoral studies this month at Purdue University, in West Lafayette, Ind. He is a 1988 graduate of John Glenn High School who received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University last year.

PLACES & FACES

His doctoral studies will be in the philosophy department. He is the son of George and Joanne Zakhem.

Fall recreation

The Westland parks and recreation department is ready for fall. The department has printed its 16-page brochure which lists all its fall programs, aimed at all ages. Copies are available at the Bailey Recreation Center, on Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh. The center is the location for most of the department's activities. For information, call the center, 722-7620.

Student honored

Lisa Miron, a Madonna University junior majoring in general science, was named to the school's dean's list in recognition for superior academic achievement.

Singers, musicians wanted

The Dyer Senior Center is looking for singers and musicians. Specifically, it has openings for members in its kitchen band and senior chorus. The band meets from 10 a.m. to noon Wednesdays, while the chorus convenes from 1:30-3:30 Mondays. Both groups meet in the center, on Marquette between Wayne Road and Newburgh. For information, persons may call program director Mary Browe, 595-2161, or Sylvia Reid, 534-8458.

Earlier in Wednesday's session, board member Vicki Welty raised doubts about whether the board will have the courage to face its worsening money crisis.

"It's going to be painful and hurtful," she said, "and I'm not sure if this board is strong enough to do it."

The board hasn't decided how to slash $1.9 million from its $91.8-million budget. Thomas has asked the board for direction at tonight's meeting. Many services and programs already were eliminated or gutted last year, when $12 million in cuts were made.

The administration has offered five budget-cutting proposals that, in some form, could be implemented in coming weeks. The latest plan, introduced Wednesday, would eliminate all transportation, adult-education evening classes, parking lot security for secondary schools, two administrative posts, and a central office receptionist.

With new laws prohibiting a tax levy this school year, Thomas stressed that there will be no way to avert budget cuts.

Prior to Wednesday, the board had expected to have to slash $1.3 million from its budget, mostly because of a state aid shortfall. But a looming deficit has mushroomed to $1.9 million because of higher-than-expected expenses for special education classes and state-mandated breakfast programs, among other areas.

For example, the board had expected to have to pay $200,000 in special-education dollars to the county, because of a shortfall in county-operated programs. But the county now is demanding $750,000 this year, alone, said Patricia Brand, Wayne-Westland's top finance officer.

Board members discussed the feasibility of dropping out of the county programs, but Brand warned that the district would need even more money to implement its own special-education plan.

Board president Mathew McCusker noted that special education needs have grown as Gov. John Engler's administration has closed institutions, sending former patients into communities and school systems.

McCusker asked whether school districts should consider a lawsuit demanding that the state pay for the programs it mandates.

But Thomas warned that a lawsuit could be tied up in court for years, "and we have to balance our budget now."

To make matters worse, board member Richard LeBlanc said the board has no money put aside for an 8-percent payout that has been approved for building principals, central office employees and cabinet members for July 1, 1995. The payout is intended to compensate for a three-year pay freeze.

LeBlanc voted against the payouts earlier this year and warned his colleagues that money for the payouts might not be available. Moreover, the board hasn't even settled on a contract for the 1,100-member Wayne-Westland Education Association, which represents teachers.

Some board members say they will have little choice but to seriously consider school closings, though public hearings would be held before any decision is made. There could be political ramifications, too, if voters react to closings by ousting board members in elections.

McCusker noted that he was on the board in 1983, when the board decided to close three schools. He and then-board member Sharon Scott survived the issue and won re-election, he said.

"It can be done right," he said, referring to school closings.

Any closings for next school year would coincide with a move to redraw school attendance boundaries. The combined issues are expected to anger many parents and students, who stand to lose their neighborhood schools.

New pact means gains for Livonia's teachers

BY MARIE CHESINEY
STAFF WRITER

Meet Ina Teacher. A hypothetical teacher, Ina represents one of 1,020 Livonia Public Schools' teachers who will meet at Churchill High Wednesday to vote on a three-year contract.

If teachers approve the contract, here's how Ina stands to gain in wages over the next three years:

■ Right now Ina, who has a masters' degree, earns $63,332 a year ($62,582 in salary, $750 in longevity pay for her 17 years of teaching in Livonia). For 186 days of work last year, the number of teachers' work days required by the district, Ina earned about $340 a day.

■ For the 1994-1995 school year, Ina's salary will be frozen. But, because she will have worked another year in the district, her longevity pay for 18 years of service will jump to $900. Therefore, Ina's total pay for the first year of the contract is $63,482.

■ In 1995-1996, she'll get a 3 percent raise and possibly a small bonus. The raise alone would give her an extra $1,877 a year, bringing her new annual pay rate to $64,459. For her 19th year of work, she'd also get $1,050 in longevity pay, bringing her total new salary to $65,509.

■ In 1996-1997, Ina is slated to get up to another 3 percent raise if the district's income increases by at least that amount. If not, the contract would be reopened for the two sides to agree on a raise of less than 3 percent.

If Ina gets the full 3 percent, her new salary would be $66,392. For her 20th year of work in Livonia, she'd get $1,220 in longevity pay. The two would bring her total salary for the third year of the contract to $67,612.

For the 186 days of work the district requires, Ina will earn about $370 a day in the third year of the contract.

Livonia's teachers get annual, step increases for the first 11 or 12 years they work in the district.

Under the tentative contract to be voted on Wednesday, teachers scheduled to get a step increase in 1994-1995 will still get their increase. The rest of the teachers will only get a longevity pay increase, if they are entitled.

For the first 12 years in Livonia, a teacher's base salary hinges on whether the teacher has a bachelor's or master's degree.

Each year, up to their 11th or 12th year, teachers get a contractual step increase.

In 1993-1994, the salary steps for teachers with bachelor's degrees were: first year, $30,981; second year, $33,150; third year, $35,318; fourth year, $37,487; fifth year, $39,656; sixth year, $41,824; seventh year, $43,993; eighth year, $46,162; ninth year, $48,330; 10th year, $50,499; and 11th year, $53,257.

In 1993-1994, the salary steps for teachers with master's degrees were: first year, $33,769; second year, $36,331; third year, $38,894; fourth year, $41,456; fifth year, $44,018; sixth year, $46,580; seventh year, $49,142; eighth year, $51,704; ninth year, $54,266; 10th year, $56,828; 11th year, $59,391; and 12th year, $62,582.

Between their 11th-12th and 15th years of work, Livonia's teachers work at just their maximum salary level plus whatever raise is agreed to in their contract. They get no longevity pay.

Longevity pay kicks in when teachers reach their 10th year with the district; it ends after their 25th year with the district. Teachers eligible for longevity pay also get contractual increases agreed to.

A teacher with 10 years with the district earns an extra $600: 17, $760; 18, $900; 19, $1,050; 20, $1,220; 21, $1,350; 22, $1,500; 23, $1,650; 24, $1,800; and 25, $1,950.

John Rennels, assistant superintendent for personnel, said there are more than 450 Livonia teachers who now receive longevity pay, even after this year's 93 retirements.

Teachers will learn details of the tentative agreement during an informational meeting at 4:15 p.m. tomorrow at Churchill High.

The vote on whether to approve the agreement takes place at 4:15 p.m. Wednesday at Churchill.

First Citizen picks needed

Who will be the Westland First Citizen of 1994?

The community will know in two months when a committee of judges will select a person to be honored for outstanding community service.

The annual award was initiated in 1986 by its co-sponsors, the Westland Observer and the Westland Chamber of Commerce.

The First Citizen will be picked in late October and announced in early November.

As in past years, the First Citizen will be publicly honored at the chamber's monthly membership on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at the Hellenic Cultural Center, on Joy between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

The award was initiated by the Westland Observer eight years ago to honor a person who had made outstanding contributions to the community.

In some cases, the First Citizen was someone who focused on one area, such as education or the handicapped. In others, the award winner was involved in a variety of groups with different aims.

The rules for being nominated are simple: the person must be actively involved in making a difference in the quality of life in the community or a segment of the community. Residency isn't required.

In past years, winners were honored for their work in public safety, city government, public education, recreation, family education, and the business community.

Nominations can be made by any individual or group and be directed to the Westland Observer

Editorial Department, First Citizen Award, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. The fax number is 591-7279.

Nominations should be as detailed as possible, focusing on the impact that the nominee has had on the community or a segment of it.

Deadline for submitting nominations is 5 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 20.

The First Citizen announcement will be published in the Observer in early November to allow friends, relatives, co-workers and others to plan to be at the Nov. 15 recognition luncheon.

Previous First Citizens were, in order, Joseph Benyo, Thomas Brown, Sam Corrado, Linda Pratt, Margaret Harlow, Sharon Scott, Madeleine Schroeder and Susan Power, who was last year's winner.

Power will be automatically invited to serve on this year's judging committee. Three other persons will be named within the next month by the Observer and the chamber.

Local schools make sure students get their shots

Some 600 students got a shot in the arm during the past two weeks.

The shot was part of a three-day clinic held by the Wayne-Westland school district to provide immunizations to students who are entering different buildings for the new school year, mainly seventh and 10th graders. Also involved were incoming kindergartners, students new to the district, and some preschoolers.

The shots were more than just a way to protect youngsters from communicable diseases.

Under state law, the school district may be financially penalized if a specific percentage of eligible students aren't immunized, said Ronald Barratt, district health services director.

He said the penalty would be in the form of an expected state aid payment due the district.

Schools are required to have 90 or more of qualified students given shots this year. The standard increases to 95 percent for the following school year, he said.

The Detroit Public Schools learned the hard way about the financial consequences of not having enough children immunized, having a $1 million state aid payment withheld.

Barratt said the district mailed notices last June to about 2,000 students who would be expected to be in a different school this fall.

With less than a third getting their shots at the school-sponsored clinics, Barratt concluded that most of the others went to their family doctor or another clinic.

He praised Karen Battle of Oakwood Hospital and the health care organization for providing the support for the clinic.

Barratt quoted her as saying that a "successful" clinic is one at which to 50 to 75 youngsters appear. In the schools' clinics, the attendance was 280 at the first one in late August, 218 at the second, and 90 at the concluding one last Wednesday morning.

While the district has been offering the free shots annually, it got more strict in the past three years, Barratt said.

Tearful time: Darren Washington, 6, (at right) isn't too happy about getting an immunization shot last week. Who can blame him?

Shrinking back: Megan Krushlin, 1, pulls back from nurse Debbie Frickey as she gets an immunization shot. Providing emotional support are her mother, Mary Krushlin, and sister Dayna, 4. Megan was one of several youngsters taking part in the Wayne-Westland Schools' immunization program.

Foes force plan changes

By DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A developer has revised plans for a controversial subdivision that he wants to build in Westland's far northwest corner, near the Canton Township boundary.

During a Westland City Council study session Tuesday, developer Steven Schafer unveiled preliminary plans to build 123 single-family homes in the Forest Creek Estates subdivision, proposed on the east side of Eckles Road between Joy and Koppnick.

The latest proposal slashes seven houses from an earlier 130-home plan that the council rejected in July, amid praise from Westland and Canton Township residents who oppose development in the area.

Schafer also has agreed to build the homes on 8,400 square foot lots, dropping plans for 7,200 square-foot lots. But he conceded that more trees will have to be cut down under the revised plan, because of the larger lot sizes.

That upset Westland resident Jack Smiley, who asked Schafer during Tuesday's session: "Did you make a concerted effort to make the plan worse to get back at the residents? That's what it looks like."

Schafer denied any vindictiveness in revising his plans, which now meet zoning requirements for the larger lot sizes.

"Anything that I can do to save trees, I typically do," Schafer said, but noted that he has to make the plan financially viable before the land can be developed.

"I can assure you that we'll be building high-quality, single-family homes," Schafer told council members.

The colonial and ranch homes are expected to sell for $140,000 to $190,000, he said. The project, which still requires council approval, could be completed in about two years, he said.

Smiley accused the developer of planning some residential lots in wetlands areas, but Schafer rejected the allegation. "That is certainly not the case," he said.

Smiley repeated his earlier opposition to the loss of trees in the area.

"Westland, as much as any city, needs some open green space," he said.

Canton Township resident Gerald McDermott told Schafer, "Two or three years, you'll be living there, with the potential problems."

Smiley and McDermott were the only opposing citizens to attend Tuesday's meeting, but Smiley said that residents in the area weren't given notice of the session. He said he learned of the meeting early Tuesday.

Hospital plans program on cholesterol education

St. Mary Hospital will offer a cholesterol nutrition education program beginning Tuesday, Sept. 13.

The program will run 7-9 p.m. Tuesdays, Sept. 13, 20 and 27, in the hospital pavilion conference room near the Levan Road entrance in Livonia.

The purpose of the course is to teach how to lower blood cholesterol and still enjoy eating. Students will learn how to budget fat, make wise choices when dining out and prepare heart-healthy meals.

County officials set code of conduct

By Sue Buck
STAFF WRITER

The new Wayne County ethics ordinance will "level the playing field," said commissioner Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, and provide a means for regular scrutiny of the purchasing process and vendors seeking county contracts.

Wayne County commissioners unanimously passed the ethics ordinance Aug. 18 after two months of discussion.

The County Commission approved 1,800 contracts last year, said Amann, who also represents Canton Township. Some 300-500 of the county's 4,800 employees — basically managers or those who have direct contact with purchasing — will be required to twice-yearly provide a list of names of immediate family members and their place of occupation within the previous year.

The ordinance is actually an amendment to the Ethics in Public Contracting ordinance already in existence, said Commissioner Michelle Plawecki, D-Deerborn Heights, who also represents Redford Township.

The 22-page document, approved after 11 drafts, requires department heads to disclose names, occupations and place of employment of their immediate family — defined in this case as spouse, children, parents, sisters and brothers.

"I think it sends a positive message to the community," said Plawecki.

Mao likes it

"We supported the ordinance," said Mike Duggan, deputy county executive, who works for Executive Ed McNamara. "There was no formal method before (to disclose), and it got used politically." Now people will have the name lists to refer to, Duggan said.

The measure was introduced by Commissioner Susan Hubbard, D-Deerborn. Plawecki and Commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township, were among the seven supporting commissioners at the time of introduction.

"We should have done it a long time ago," said Commissioner Kay Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden City. The ordinance will be in effect by Jan. 1, by which time the managers will have compiled name lists.

The county clerk will keep these names on file for three years. They will be available to the public.

The ordinance is "transaction-based" and mirrors the state ordinance on ethics, McCotter said. Perceived conflicts will be judged on a case-by-case basis, taking into account the actual impact and financial gain that would be derived, he said.

An ethics board, which will consider any infractions and make recommendations, is expected to be appointed by January. "It's always better to have a number of people to be objective and get a proper answer," Beard said.

Debarment from competing for county contracts for up to three years is one consequence for vendors found to have misrepresented their interests, along with termination of contract and recovered compensation. County employees face reprimand, suspension with or without pay, and termination.

"If you get debarred by one county, it kills you anywhere (else)," Amann said.

In the annual disclosure statement, a county employee who is a lawyer must also disclose any compensated appointment by a judge, court administrator, magistrate or clerk of the Detroit Recorder's Court to serve as legal counsel, advocate, conservator or public administrator for any party. This includes an individual, corporation, estate, trust, conservatorship, partnership or joint venture.

"If a county employee has received such an appointment within the previous 12 months, he or she shall also disclose and refrain from acting and voting upon individual budgetary matters concerning the appointing court and the matter shall require a two-thirds vote for adoption," the ordinance says.

Schoolcraft offers feast fundraiser

The Schoolcraft College Foundation presents a "feast of the season," with its third annual "Culinary Extravaganza" 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18, in the College's Waterman Center on campus, 18600 Haggerty, Livonia.

Tickets are $40 per person, available by calling (313) 462-4417. Visa, MasterCard, Discover, and personal checks are accepted. All proceeds will fund culinary arts scholarships.

More than 80 of the finest restaurants and beverage corporations in the Detroit metropolitan area will participate.

A new silent wine auction and entertainment by "Signatures" and "Star Trek" will be featured this year.

Raffle prizes include: first prize, two tickets to anywhere in the continental United States on Northwest Airlines; second prize, two tickets on Northwest Airlines to Chicago with a three-night stay at the Chicago Marriott; third prize, a fur coat; and fourth prize, a diamond tennis bracelet. Prizes will be awarded at the event. Raffle tickets are three for $10, and can also be purchased by calling (313) 462-4417.

This year's honorary chairman is Joe Muer, co-chairs are Joyce Costanza of Station 885 in Plymouth and Joyce Green.

Here's the list of participating restaurants and bakeries.

Acadia, American Harvest, Ar-riva, Armandos, Avenue Diner, Boodles, Cafe Cortina, Canteen, Caucus Club, Chez Pierre Or-

Entries sought for scholarship competition

Entry materials are now available for the 54th Westinghouse Science Talent Search, a high school science scholarship competition.

All U.S. high school seniors are eligible to participate. To qualify, students must write a report on an independent research project in science, mathematics or engineering and submit it for judging.

Entries must be received by Science Service by Dec. 1.

Interested parties must request entry materials from Science Service at 1719 N Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, or by phone at (202) 785-2255.

Westinghouse has been the sole sponsor of the competition since 1942.

To date, the corporation has awarded scholarships of nearly $3 million to more than 2,000 young scientists and recommended more than 15,000 semifinalists to colleges and universities.

Search candidates are judged by a board of eight scientists from a variety of disciplines.

Three-hundred semifinalists are selected from a field of nearly 2,000 entries. From this group, 40 finalists receive all-expense-paid trips to Washington, D.C., where they participate in final judging.

Final judging for the present competition takes place March 8-13, 1995.

During the final judging in Washington, the judges place primary emphasis on open-ended questions designed to elicit evidence of the students' scientific creativity.

Westinghouse awards a total of $205,000 in scholarships to the top 40 winners.

First prize is a $40,000 scholarship. The second-place winner receives a $30,000 scholarship, and the third-place scholarship is for $20,000. Three $15,000 and four $10,000 scholarships are also rewarded. The remaining 30 finalists each receive $1,000 scholarships.

To date in the history of the program, five finalists have gone on to win Nobel Prizes and two have won Fields Medals, the Nobel equivalent in mathematics.

Three have earned the National Medal of Science.

Nine Search alumni have won MacArthur Foundation Fellowships.

Officials trying to reduce fees for beautification

BY RALPH R. ECHINAW
STAFF WRITER

Two Wayne County commissioners are trying to change the law so homeowners associations won't have to pay county fees for adding aesthetic appeal to their subdivisions.

A proposed ordinance submitted by commissioners Bryan Amann, D-Wayne, and Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, would stop the Department of Public Services from billing homeowners associations for reviewing plans for the planting of trees and shrubs and for the erection of signs in the right of way.

Amann, who also represents Canton Township, said he recently heard a complaint from Paul Helmstetter, president of the Glangirry II homeowners association, located in Canton Township. The public services department billed the association $807 for reviewing plans for planting of trees in the subdivision, Helmstetter said. "We felt this was improper for the county to charge homeowners associations like this. Eight hundred and seven dollars seems a little excessive."

Said Amann, "My attitude is that the taxpayers have already paid once for this service, and it's inappropriate to double dip them. My big concern is that there have been subdivisions (with the same problem) that have not bothered to call me."

Amann said he has heard similar complaints from the homeowners associations of the Holiday Park and Windsor Park subdivisions in Canton Township. McCotter, who also represents Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Northville Township, cited a similar situation in a subdivision of Northville Township, where residents want to put up wooden street signs.

"It is totally wrong charging residents for services they've already paid for by their taxes," said McCotter in a press release. "And we'll do everything we can to stop it."

Russ Gronewelt, the director of public services, said the fees charged to homeowners associations and others are based on a strict accounting of the costs involved.

Reviewing plans for tree planting might seem like a 10-minute job at first, but officials have to consider how the trees, when full grown, might affect visibility for drivers.

"It's more than reviewing plans," Gronewelt said, and usually involves a visit to the site.

Also, Gronewelt noted, if the public services department has to absorb the cost of reviewing plans submitted by homeowners associations, the money will come out of the funds used for road work.

But we're not talking about a whole lot of money either. Homeowners association permits are "a very small fraction of the permits that our permit section would review in a year," Gronewelt said.

McCotter invites homeowners associations with questions or comments regarding the proposed ordinance to call him at (313) 462-6152.

Amann can be reached by calling 224-0914.

McNamara to explain, defend ballot proposal

BY RALPH R. ECHINAW
STAFF WRITER

Observer-area city and township officials are joining forces, with Downriver city and township officials to question county Executive Edward McNamara about a tax proposal he has placed on the Nov. 8 ballot.

The date, time and place of the public meeting with the Conference of Western Wayne, the Downriver Community Conference and McNamara has yet to be set. A Saturday in late September has been suggested.

The CWW, which includes Redford Township, Livonia, Westland, Garden City, Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton Township, wants more information on McNamara's plan to use a 1-mill, 20-year tax to create an environmental cleanup program and to support county parks.

If approved by voters, the tax would raise about $29 million a year and be distributed in the following manner each year:

- $4 million off the top for environmental cleanup.
- The remaining money would be divided in half.
- One half would be returned to each city and township from which it was taken to be used for parks.
- The other half would be put into the county parks budget, except for $1 million, which would be used for upkeep on Belle Isle.

Deputy county executive Michael Duggan estimates that Observer communities would receive the following amounts of money per year for parks, spending if the proposal passes: Livonia $1.3 million, Westland $527,000, Canton Township $520,000, Plymouth Township $381,000, Redford Township $376,000, Garden City $185,000 and Plymouth $113,000.

Many officials at the CWW meeting Friday said they don't have an opinion on the ballot proposal yet.

"It's a little premature (to be) for or against it," said Wayne Mayor Ken Warfield, who is also running for county commissioner to represent Canton Township. Warfield added that his decision will be based on how many proposed contamination cleanup sites are in western Wayne County.

Canton Township Supervisor Tom Yack doesn't like the idea of taxpayers getting back less money than they pay. "It's like the federal government," he said. "You send money to someone way over there and get a little bit back."

Livonia Mayor Bob Bennett seemed to agree. "I don't want a mill that's going somewhere else," he said.

Symphony, opera team up for concert

The Livonia Symphony Orchestra and the Verdi Opera Theater of Michigan will team up on Sunday, Sept. 18, to present an Inaugural Concert Celebration in the new Italian-American Banquet Center on Five Mile Road, just east of I-275.

Featured at the 4 p.m. program "Favorite Opera Melodies" will be opera singers Irina Lekhtman (mezzo-soprano), Jack Morris (tenor), Dina Valle (baritone) and Valerie Yova (soprano). The LSO, under the direction of Francesco DiBlasi, will open the program with the Overture to the Barber of Seville. Many popular and classical excerpts from operas by Verdi, Puccini and Rossini will be heard. The program will conclude with a special arrangement of Italian songs and an audience sing-a-long.

Tickets to the 4 p.m. program and afterglow are $15 per person. A $25 patron ticket will also include name printed in the concert program.

The concert is sponsored by Alitalia Airlines and Mr. and Mrs.

Smile They call it puppet love

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Wonderland Mall marketing director Kimm-Ella looked over the crowd in center court and proclaimed the site "a sea of strollers."

"This is a good thing," she said with a smile. "When you work on a program and it's well-attended, everybody's happy."

Indeed, the children who came to the mall's Wednesday afternoon programs had a good time, and the parents and grandparents and baby-sitters who brought them out, admitted to enjoying the experience as well.

"The shows have been fun, but watching the children enjoy them is even more fun," said Gwen Roberts, who brought her sons Charlie, 3, and Chad, 5, to see "The Tree That Cried," and "The Dancing Dinosaurs Show."

"I hope the mall people know how much we moms appreciate this free entertainment."

"They know. Summer shows are being set for next year, too."

The Mask Puppet Theater, based in Ann Arbor, appeals to audiences from 4 to 11 years old by mixing laughter, exotic stories and settings with serious questions. In "The Tree That Cried," friendship and loyalty are tested when an oak tree loses his leaves prematurely, causing his best friend, a weasel, to desert him for another tree.

The hand and rod puppet shows use recorded music, sound effects and character voices with puppets half the size of adult humans.

"We write and perform the shows ourselves," said Charlotte Fauman, who with her husband, David, owns and operates The Mask Puppet Theater. "We've performed in malls, churches, schools, recreation centers and businesses, but by far the Wonderland Mall shoppers are the most appreciative. They stop by and tell us how much they enjoyed the show. That's very rewarding."

The puppet theater is growing in popularity due to the appearances of Carol Chicken on the Fox Television Network. Carol can be seen and heard during children's broadcasts telling kids to wear their bicycle helmets and stay away from electric outlets.

For more information call (313) 996-0118.

*Entranced:
Nathan Gimby, 2, enjoys the Wonderland Mall puppet show. He's not alone. Most children do.*

* Including chapters, articles, or portions thereof, as specified in this schedule of fines.

(b) A copy of the schedule, as amended from time to time, shall be posted at the Bureau.

Municipal civil infraction citations shall be issued and served by authorized city officials as follows:

(a) The time for appearance specified in a citation shall be within a reasonable time after the citation is issued.

(b) The place for appearance specified in a citation shall be the district court.

(c) Each citation shall be numbered consecutively and shall be in a form approved by the state civil administrator. The original citation shall be filed with the district court. Copies of the citation shall be retained by the city and issued to the alleged violator as provided by Section 27-8 of the Act.

(d) Citation for municipal civil infraction shall be served by an authorized city official signing the complaint and if the citation contains the following statement immediately above the date and signature of the official: "I declare under the penalties of perjury that the statements above are true to the best of my information, knowledge and belief."

(e) An authorized city official who witnesses a person commit a municipal civil infraction shall prepare and subscribe to each and as completely as possible an original and required copies of a citation.

(f) An authorized city official may issue a citation to a person if:

(1) Based upon investigation, the official has reasonable cause to believe that the person is responsible for a municipal civil infraction, or

(2) Based upon investigation of a complaint by someone who allegedly witnessed the person commit a municipal civil infraction, the official has reasonable cause to believe that the person is responsible for an infraction and if the city attorney approves in writing the issuance of the citation.

(g) Municipal civil infraction citations shall be served by an authorized city official as follows:

(1) Except as provided by Section 41.8(g)(2), an authorized city official shall personally serve a copy of the citation upon the alleged violator.

(2) If the municipal civil infraction involves the use or occupancy of land, a building or other structure, a copy of the citation does not need to be personally served upon the alleged violator, but may be served upon an owner or occupant of the land, building or structure by posting the copy of the land or attaching the copy to the building or structure. In addition, a copy of the citation shall be sent by first-class mail to the owner of the land, building or structure at the owner's last known address as established on the city tax roll.

Section 41.4 Municipal civil infraction citations; content

(a) A municipal ordinance citation shall contain the name and address of the alleged violator, the municipal civil infraction alleged, the place where the alleged violator shall appear in court, the telephone number of the court, and the date and at or by which the appearance shall be made.

(b) Further, the citation shall inform the alleged violator that he or she may do one of the following:

(1) Admit responsibility for the municipal civil infraction by mail, in person or by representation, at or by the time specified for appearance.

(2) Admit responsibility for the municipal civil infraction "with explanation" by mail by the time specified for appearance or, in person or by representation.

(3) Deny responsibility for the municipal civil infraction by doing either of the following:

(A) Appearing in person before a judge or district court magistrate with and the opportunity of being represented by an attorney unless a formal hearing before a judge is requested by the city.

(B) Appearing in court for a formal hearing before a judge, with the opportunity of being represented by an attorney.

(c) The citation shall also inform the alleged violator of all of the following:

(1) That if the alleged violator desires to admit responsibility, the alleged violator must apply to the court in person, by mail, by telephone or by representation within the time specified for appearance and obtain a scheduled date and time to appear for a hearing, unless a hearing date is specified on the citation.

(3) That a hearing shall be an informal hearing unless a formal hearing is requested by the alleged violator or the city.

(4) That as an informal hearing the alleged violator must appear in person before a judge or district court magistrate, without the opportunity of being represented by an attorney.

(5) That as a formal hearing the alleged violator must appear in person before a judge with the opportunity of being represented by an attorney.

(6) The citation shall contain a notice in boldface type that the failure of the alleged violator to appear within the time specified in the citation or at the time scheduled for a hearing or appearance in a misdemeanor and will result in entry of a default judgment against the alleged violator on the municipal civil infraction.

Section 41.5 Municipal ordinance violations bureau

(a) Bureau established. The city hereby establishes a Municipal Ordinance Violations Bureau ("Bureau") as authorized under Section 8395 of the Act to accept admissions of responsibility for municipal civil infractions in response to municipal civil infraction violation notices issued and served by authorized city officials, and to collect and retain civil fines and costs as prescribed by this Code or any ordinance.

(b) Location, supervisor, employees rules and regulations. The Bureau shall be located at the Garden City City Hall, and shall be under the supervision and control of the City Treasurer. The City Treasurer, subject to the approval of the City Council shall adopt rules and regulations for the operation of the Bureau and appoint any necessary qualified city employees to administer the Bureau.

(c) Disposition of citations. The Bureau may dispose only of municipal civil infraction citations for which a fine has been scheduled and for which a municipal civil infraction violation notice (as compared with a citation) has been issued. The fact that a fine has been scheduled for a particular violation shall not entitle any person to dispose of the violation at the Bureau. Nothing in this Chapter shall prevent or restrict the City from issuing a municipal civil infraction citation for any violation or from prosecuting a city violation in a court of competent jurisdiction.

(d) Bureau limited to accepting admissions of responsibility. The scope of the Bureau's authority shall be limited to accepting admissions of responsibility for municipal civil infractions and collecting and retaining civil fines and costs as a result of those admissions. The Bureau shall not accept payment of a fine from any person who does not have admitted the offense or who admits responsibility only with explanation, and in no event shall the Bureau determine, or attempt to determine, the truth or falsity of any fact or matter relating to an alleged violation. No person shall be required to dispose of a municipal civil infraction violation at the Bureau and may have the violation processed before a court of appropriate jurisdiction. The unwillingness of any person to dispose of any violation at the Bureau shall not prejudice the person or in any way diminish the person's rights, privileges and protection accorded by law.

(e) Municipal civil infraction violation notices. Municipal civil infraction violation notices shall be issued and served by authorized city officials under the same circumstances and upon the same persons as provided for citations in Sections 41.4(a) and (b) of this Chapter. In addition to any other information required by this Code or other ordinance, the notice of violation shall indicate the time by which the alleged violator must appear at the Bureau, the methods by which an appearance may be made, the address and telephone number of the Bureau, the hours during which the Bureau is open, the amount of the fine scheduled for the alleged violation and the consequences for failure to appear and pay the required fine within the required time.

(f) Appearance; payment of fines and costs. An alleged violator receiving a municipal civil infraction violation notice shall appear at the Bureau and pay the specified fine and costs at or by the time specified for appearance in the municipal civil infraction violation notice. An appearance may be made by mail, in person or by representation.

(g) Procedure where admission of responsibility not made or fine not paid. If an authorized city official issues and serves a municipal ordinance violation notice and if an admission of responsibility is not made and the civil fine and costs, if any, prescribed by the schedule of fines for the violation are not paid at the Bureau, a municipal civil infraction citation may be filed with the district court and a copy of the citation may be served by first-class mail upon the alleged violator at the alleged violator's last known address. The citation filed with the court does not need to comply in all particulars with the requirements for citation as provided by Sections 8703 and 8704 of the Act, but shall consist of a written complaint containing the allegations stated in the municipal ordinance violation notice and shall fully inform the alleged violator how to respond to the citation.

Section 41.6 Schedule of civil fines established

(a) A schedule of civil fines payable to the Bureau for admission of responsibility by persons served with municipal ordinance violation notices is hereby established. The fines for the violations listed below shall be as follows:

Nature's miscalculations can be amusing, amazing

NATURE TRAILS
TIMOTHY NOWICKI

One of my favorite Gary Larson cartoons is the one where a male deer is jumping over a log. He appears unconcerned about the log and oblivious to the limb overhead that he is about to hit with his antlers.

It's funny to me because we never think of a graceful runner like a deer running into a tree, a limb, or even stepping into a hole. In fact, its amazing how deer and other animals can travel through dense brush and twigs with little difficulty.

That is why when you get a chance to see a miscalculation, or surmise a miscalculation by an animal, it is so noteworthy.

A friend of mine told me a funny story about a white-tailed deer he was watching. He was watching the deer, but the deer was watching him, too. Evidently the deer was uncertain about him because it did not immediately turn and run. Instead, it turned its head toward my friend to keep an eye on him, while it continued to walk forward. Evidently the deer was concentrating so much on my friend that it walked into a tree.

My friend said the deer shook his head, regained his composure and then proceeded through the forest as though nothing had happened. That reminds me of a few circumstances in my life.

In another situation, a patron of the Independence Oaks Nature Center brought in some photographs she had taken earlier this spring of two red-tailed hawks that had fallen to the ground. Each bird had its feet grasping the other's. One bird was upside down on the ground and the other bird was on an angle wedged between a tree and a fence. A very unstable arrangement for such a noble bird.

The patron indicated that there was a noticeable size difference between the two birds. In birds of prey, like the red-tailed hawk, males are smaller than females. I suspect the pair were in the middle of their courtship flight and grabbed hold of each other's feet as many birds of prey do.

When their feet are entangled they have little, if any, flight control. Typically, after falling through the air, before hitting the ground, the two birds release their hold and fly off to continue their courtship.

For some reason, these two birds could not, or did not, release their hold and they both fell to the ground. I can just imagine the first bird was thinking the second bird was going to let go, while the second bird thought the first one was going to let go. As a result, both birds ended up in a compromising position. What a way to start a "marriage."

Most of the time when squirrels jump through the trees from branch to branch they land with extreme accuracy. They seem to know what twigs will hold their weight and how to adjust for the bending of twigs as they land. Even while swinging down and up on a tenuous twig, they seldom seem to lose their balance.

But there are times when the confident squirrel sails through the air only far enough to grab hold with its front feet. Unceremoniously, the squirrel twists and grabs for a branch. Sometimes ending in an upside down position holding on for dear life.

It may seem funny to watch this miscalculation, but it's even more amazing how well the animals recover from such mishaps. It shows their incredible skills and coordination that enable them to survive in the wild.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Plan for busy nights make it now, bake later

I had a job jar, it would be brimming with things to do. I have a tendency to start a project, then finish it days, weeks and sometimes months later.

I am utterly amazed at what can be accomplished when I concentrate on the task at hand. Last week for example, even with the modern day convenience of a self-cleaning oven, I made time to thoroughly clean the stove top and oven.

It would have been easy to flick the switch and set the timer to do the dirty work. But after pulling the stove out from against the wall, and locating three wooden spoons, a thermometer and two attachments to my electric whisk, it was clear: the old workhorse needed more than a compensatory wipe down.

Lifted the top, removed reflector pans from under burners, and for the first time in two years, cleaned all the crud that fell into the bottom drawer. After making a fast jaunt over to the hardware store for oven cleaner, and a pair of rubber gloves, I scrubbed for two hours. Now I have a stove that looks as good as the day I bought it.

Yes, I know that I still need to vacuum the coils under the refrigerator, get the smelly potatoes out from underneath the sink and remove what's growing in one of my vegetable crispers. But for now, I will be happy with a clean stove.

The list goes on, from weeding the garden to reorganizing my pantry. I am totally away of my mom, who to this day removes and dusts everything in her kitchen cabinets twice a year, whether they need it or not.

Headstart meals

Speaking of things to do. It really does pay to set aside an afternoon for cooking a batch of meals to enjoy this week, and to freeze for later. Life is complicated enough without having to worry about what you'll make for dinner tonight.

Yesterday, after opening the door to a lower kitchen cabinet, and having 18 pieces of Pyrex slide out, I thought it was time to locate some recipes, use up what's left in the pantry, and freezer it before the next major grocery shopping trip.

With school starting, fall and winter clothes to clean and unpack, and other fall chores that must be done, there just isn't enough time left on some days to cook dinner. Making something ahead of time that you can reheat with minimal fuss has graduated from the olden days when calorie-laden cooked sausage, egg and cheese casseroles (otherwise known as frittatas) were de rigueur.

Here are some ideas for good meals that the entire family will appreciate, and the chef will enjoy making.

For example, at my house, tonight's leftover mashed potatoes will be mixed with some finely chopped grilled vegetables, an egg or two, and a sprinkling of Mrs. Dash's seasoning for tomorrow night's potato pancakes.

Yesterday's meatballs were mashed and mixed with some cottage cheese, Parmesan cheese, chopped tomatoes, stuffed into a hollowed-out giant zucchini, and baked for today's lunch.

Thank goodness for leftovers, but what is made up today can still taste as good tomorrow or even the day after with a little know-how.

Rules to remember

First off, remember that one major rule that each restaurateur goes to bed with every night: keep hot foods hot and cold foods cold.

Anything that makes its way into a glass or dish for use at a later date should be refrigerated immediately. Germs and bacteria love to congregate in room-temperature foods.

Herbs have a tendency to overpower a dish that is made well in advance, especially after being frozen. Sauces, gravies, stuffings, and purees should be made as naturally as possible with the addition of herbs just before cooking for optimum results.

When refrigerating or freezing, take extra caution in covering the food to reduce contamination. Foods high in acid (tomatoes, lemon juice, and vinegar) should never be covered with plain foil as the caustic properties of the acid will eat away at the foil.

For best results, cover the food first with plastic wrap and then foil or freezer wrap. Be extra cautious of foil containers that you will be storing and serving food in as some will prove disastrous to any high-acid food.

FOOD PYRAMID

Climb up to make healthy food choices

Seize the new food pyramid to make healthy choices from all of the food groups - breads, vegetables, fruits, dairy, protein and fats. For good health you need them all.

BY BARBARA WILSON
SPECIAL WRITER

The United States is finally catching up with most every other country in the world by throwing out the old "four basic food groups" when talking about diet and nutrition. Now, the pyramid is in with a whole new set of rules to make us healthier.

The Human Nutrition Information Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture has adopted the new Food Guide Pyramid as a means for measuring a better diet.

"As well-intentioned as the basic four was, it created generations of fat Americans," said Jacquelyn Bowman Cutright, an educator in the area of world food issues, and author of a new cookbook utilizing the pyramid called "Break the Habit Cookbook." (Cross Border Productions, $16.95).

The pyramid groups foods differently and lists the daily serving requirements for an adult as: 6 to 11 servings of bread, pasta, cereal and rice; 2 to 5 servings of fruit and vegetables; and 2 to 3 servings each of protein and dairy products. Use fats, oils and sweets, which are listed in the small tip of the pyramid, sparingly.

"It may seem overwhelming when you think of 11 servings of something each day, but when you learn some recipes that incorporate the requirements, it's not that difficult," said Cutright, a resident of Hazel Park.

Cutright is familiar with the food pyramid because it is loosely employed by most other countries and she has discussed the plan, higher in breads and pastas than the original guidelines, with her classes.

The pyramid isn't designed to be a diet, but Cutright said if followed closely most people will naturally lose weight.

Dietitians have been telling Americans to eat well-balanced meals and the weight will come off without limiting your menu. "I lost weight this way without even trying," Cutright said. "And the meals are filling and good."

As a busy mom, Cutright said she uses the one-dish meals featured in her cookbook frequently. Her family enjoys them and they are easy to prepare. Many recipes can be prepared in 30 minutes or less.

"There are real advantages to us becoming cooks again," Cutright said. "It is Even a busy schedule doesn't keep Jo Ann Marsh of Southfield from making her family a "good tasting and good looking" supper.

A fine arts teacher for Bloomfield Hills West Hills Middle School, Marsh believes that presentation is just as important as taste when it comes to serving food. "Not only does the food have to look and be appetizing, but it should be served on a table that has been attractively set."

Her husband, Tom, Labor Relations Director for the City of Southfield, and sons, Matthew Rooks, 16 and Douglas Marsh, 13, have come to appreciate the "little touches" that Marsh adds to the table. They include either placemats or a table cloth, cloth napkins, and always, fresh flowers, sometimes in favorite containers handed down by family members. "When I use these, we usually have a family history discussion," Marsh said.

In addition to pleasing the eye, Marsh said she tries to make meals that are pleasing to the palate. "And they have to be fast and easy, because I don't have a lot of time to spend in the kitchen," said Marsh, who is also the adviser for the school's yearbook staff and art club, a calling rapher, and party decor consultant. She's also finds time to support her sons in their various activities, and to visit her 94-year-old Aunt Bea.

"I like to make casseroles and one-pot meals, especially in Crock Pots," she said. "No matter what I make, I usually have to double the recipe to meet the appetite demands of two teenage boys."

One of the family's favorite suppers is Crab and Rice Primavera.

"I like this recipe because it's made in one pot on top of the stove. Also, it's fast and easy," said

Marsh. And, according to the men in her life, it is really good.

No matter what the main course is, she always adds a green salad with lots of vegetables and rolls or bread. She combines iceberg and romaine lettuce because her family likes the different textures and flavors.

Dessert usually doesn't immediately follow the meal but is served later in the evening. Unless it's Buried Treasure, which is a favorite treat that can't wait.

Marsh often skips dessert. Tom usually chooses fresh fruit, and the boys regularly have ice cream and chocolate chip cookies, which are freshly baked by Doug from a commercial mix.

"While food and presentation is important to us, our most favorite supper is when we're all together as a family," said Marsh. "While we might not be able to accomplish this during the week - especially with everybody's busy schedules - we always try to have meals together on the weekends."

healthier to eat at home, and it is a great cost savings for families."

Her favorite item in the cookbook is the Rice and Seafood Toss which she calls a poor man's version of paella.

"I eliminated the saffron which is very expensive," she said. "We fix it for Thanksgiving as a nice other flavor with the turkey."

When collecting the recipes, Cutright said she kept two things in mind: keep the ingredients list short and keep the ingredients familiar.

"You won't have to go searching through specialty stores to find any of the ingredients in this cookbook," she said.

The Break The Habit Cookbook is available at Border's Music and Books in Birmingham and Jacobson's in Birmingham, Rochester and Grosse Pointe.

Cutright will be at Jacobson's in Birmingham, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 15, and at the Rochester Jacobson's 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 27.

RICE AND SEAFOOD TOSS

- 2 tablespoons oil
 - 2 cloves dried garlic
 - 2 dozen steamed clams, scrubbed
 - 1 pound shrimp in shells
 - 2 whole cooked lobsters
 - 8 cups clam broth and chicken bouillon combined
 - 1 large onion, diced
 - 4 cups whole grain rice
- Pour oil and garlic into bottom of a (4 quart) saucepan or wok. Add clams. Steam until open. Remove from broth and set aside.
- Turn shrimp into clam broth and cook until shells turn pink. Remove from broth. When cool, remove shrimp from shells. Set aside.
- Remove the lobster meat from the body of the lobsters, leaving the tails and claws for garnish. Add enough chicken bouillon to the clam broth to make 8 cups liquid. Stir in onions and rice.
- Bring to a boil and simmer until done. Remove half of the clams from the shells and toss with shrimp, lobster meat, and rice.

Garnish with remaining clams in shells and lobster claws and tails. Serves 8.

SPINACH AND SAUSAGE RIGATONI

- 1 pound rigatoni
 - Oil
 - 1 large red onion, peeled and chopped
 - 1 1/2 pounds Italian sausage, cut into pieces
 - 1 jar (32 ounces) marinara sauce
 - 1 carton (12 ounces) small curd cottage cheese
 - 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
 - 3 eggs
 - 2 pounds fresh spinach, trimmed, steamed and drained
- Cook rigatoni according to package directions. Drain and set aside. Cover bottom of a (10-inch) skillet with oil over moderate heat. Add onion and sausage, stirring until sausage is brown. Add marinara sauce and simmer for 30 minutes, or until sausage is tender. Set aside.
- Combine cottage cheese, Parmesan cheese and eggs. Stir into spinach. Combine rigatoni, sauce and spinach mixture. Turn into a 13-by-9-inch baking dish. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 30 minutes or until brown and heated through. Serves 8 to 10.

BLUEBERRY PEACH QUICK CAKE

- 1 package (8 ounces) blueberry muffin mix
 - 1 cup blueberries
 - 1 can (16 ounces) peach slices, drained
 - 1/2 cup brown sugar
- Prepare muffin mix according to package directions. Turn into a greased 9-inch square baking dish. Arrange blueberries and peaches over batter. Sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven 20 minutes or until cake is done.

MARINATED VEGETABLE SALAD

- 1/2 head cauliflower, trimmed and cut into florets

- 1/2 bunch broccoli, trimmed and cut into florets
- 1/2 yellow squash, trimmed and sliced thin
- 1/2 package (1 pint) cherry tomatoes, cleaned and trimmed
- 1 bunch green onions, trimmed and sliced on the diagonal
- Bottled Italian dressing
- Grated Parmesan cheese to taste
- Salt and pepper to taste

Marinate cauliflower, broccoli, squash, tomatoes and onion in enough Italian dressing to coat vegetables. Refrigerate until chilled and flavors are married (about 6 hours). Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese and salt and pepper to taste. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The acidity of different varieties of tomatoes varies greatly, therefore, the United States Department of Agriculture now recommends adding bottled lemon juice to assure a safe product.

"The addition of two tablespoons per quart or one tablespoon per pint of bottled lemon juice is an important safeguard, but it doesn't eliminate the need for following other safe canning procedures as well," said Sylvia Trelman, home economist for the Michigan State University Extension - Oakland County.

Processing times for canning tomatoes need to be followed carefully, advises Sylvia. If you haven't canned for several years, it is advised that you get updated canning information.

Start dinnertimes early by preparing casseroles

See Larry Janes' Taste buds column on Taste front.

This special casserole is great all by itself but can easily accommodate the addition of some cooked leftover chicken, ham, turkey or shrimps cut into chunkal

FRIED RICE CASSEROLE

- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 bunch green onions or one small onion, chopped
- 1 cup, more or less celery, chopped
- 2-3 cups cooked rice
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- ¼ cup blanched almonds or walnuts, toasted lightly

Sauté onions and celery in oil but do not allow to brown. Stir in rice and soy sauce and mix well. Pour into a lightly greased casserole and cover and refrigerate until ready to bake.

Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Remove cover and sprinkle with toasted nuts, if desired. Serves 4-6.

Chef's secret: As an extender, I stir in a chopped drained corn or some leftover cooked vegetables and a few tablespoons of shredded cheese!

Here's a takeoff of the old standard tuna casserole. It tastes even better when made a day or two ahead!

CLASSIC TUNA AND CHEESE CASSEROLE

- 6 slices bread (white, whole wheat or grain)
- 2 (6-ounce cans good tuna, drained and flaked or better yet, 12-ounce tuna steak, precooked)
- 8 ounces of your favorite cheese (cheddar, Monterey Jack, etc.)
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- Salt and pepper to taste

- 3 eggs, beaten
- 2 cups milk (regular, skim or 2 percent)

Break the bread into pieces the size of a quarter. Shred or crumble cheese into small bits. Arrange tuna, bread and cheese in several layers in a lightly greased casserole dish.

Pour butter or margarine over the top. Beat eggs with mustard and salt and milk. Mix well. Pour over casserole and cover and refrigerate until ready to use. To bake, place in a preheated 350-degree oven and bake for 1 hour, covered. Remove foil and bake for 10 minutes more. Serves 6.

Chef's secret: I love to top this with crushed potato chips, tortilla chips or canned onion rings!

Here's something the whole family will love. If the kids don't like mushrooms or green pepper, substitute with their favorite chopped vegetable such as broccoli, carrots, pea pods or celery!

GRECO CASSEROLE

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 green pepper, chopped
- 1 cup mushrooms, sliced
- 2 cups shell macaroni
- 3 cups tomato sauce
- 15-ounce (approximately) can cream styled corn
- ½ cup grated cheese (any kind will do)

Sauté onion and green pepper in a little oil until glossy. Add ground beef or turkey and cook. Drain grease from meat.

Stir in mushrooms and remove from heat. Precook shell macaroni until properly cooked. Drain and toss with meat mixture. Stir in tomato sauce and can of cream-style corn. Pour into a lightly greased casserole and refrigerate until ready to cook.

When ready to bake, spread grated cheese on top and bake at 300 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 6.

KEELY WYGONIK

Every once in a while I get a call from a reader looking for a good pierogi recipe. The good cooks at Holy Transfiguration Orthodox Church in Livonia were kind enough to share one of theirs. I haven't tried it yet, but I plan to now that the days are getting cooler.

If you've got a good casserole or quick supper recipe, please send it to me. I'm looking for cooks, ideas and recipes to feature in a story that will run on the front of Taste on Oct. 31. Few of us have time to cook, but we all have to eat. What's your secret for getting dinner on the table in a hurry?

Send recipes to Keely Wygonik: Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150. Or call me at 1-313-953-2105.

Holy Transfiguration Orthodox Church, 36075 W. Seven Mile, west of Farmington Road in Livonia, is having a Fall Fest noon to 6 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 18.

There will be lots of ethnic foods for sale including stuffed cabbage, pierogi, kielbasa with sauerkraut, beet soup, spinach pies, breads and pastries.

Here's their recipe.

POTATO CHEESE FILLING

- 7 pounds of potatoes (Idaho)
- ¾ pound of onions
- 1 pound Velveeta cheese
- 1 pound shredded cheddar cheese
- Salt and white pepper to taste.

Peel and cut up potatoes. Boil potatoes. Peel and chop onions, melt butter and sauté onions. Do not burn. When potatoes are boiled, drain (save 1½ cup water for dough). Mash potatoes. Mix and add onions and cheese. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Cool potatoes. When cool, form into a ball, the size of a large walnut and place on a tray. Put filled trays in refrigerator. Make dough and add one ball per each circle of dough.

PIEROGI DOUGH

- 5 cups flour
- 3 eggs
- 1 ¼ cup of potato water
- 2 tablespoons of sour cream
- Pinch of salt

Combine flour and salt. Combine eggs and sour cream. Beat well. Add potato water. Knead until dough does not stick to hands. Let rest 15 minutes. Cover with plain cloth. Take a small amount of dough and roll out to desired thickness. Cut circles and fill. Pinch edges. Drop in boiling water. Remove when pierogi rises to the top. You can fry these with a little butter and onion or just coat with a little oil. Makes 10 to 12 dozen.

Keely Wygonik is editor of the Taste section.

Marsh family shares favorite dinner entree

See related Super Supper feature on Taste front.

CRAB AND RICE PRIMAVERA

- 3 cups Birds Eye Farm Fresh broccoli, green beans, pearl onions and red peppers
- ½ cup water
- 2 ½ cups milk
- 1 ½ pounds crabmeat or imitation crabmeat
- 4 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons garlic powder
- 1 ½ teaspoons dried basil
- 3 cups original Minute Rice
- 1 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Bring vegetables and water to a boil in large saucepan, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat, cover and simmer three minutes. Add milk, crabmeat, butter (margarine), garlic powder and basil. Bring to full boil. Stir in rice and cheese. Cover; remove from heat. Let stand five minutes. Fluff with fork. Makes 8 servings.

BURNED TREASURES

- 1 package (4-serving size) instant pudding, any flavor
 - 2 cups cold milk
 - 2 tablespoons of "treasures" such as chopped candy bars, peanut butter, chocolate chips, miniature marshmallows, fruits, nuts
- Make pudding according to directions. Put two tablespoons treasures on the bottom of each serving dish. Gently spoon or puddle over the treasures.

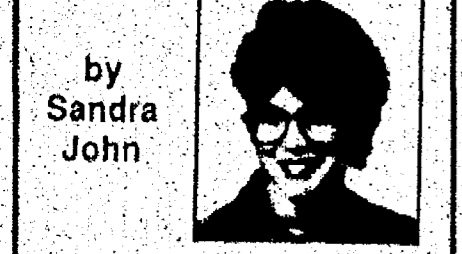

Feel good

"Eat this. Don't eat that." These are the food messages bombarding Americans everyday. Such messages can contribute to a sense of guilt about what you eat. But according to Brenda L. Thomas, registered dietitian and staff nutritionist for Total Cereals, it's important to feel good about your food choices.

In fact, she recommends that we begin by giving up the guilt about the following.

- A sweet tooth. Go ahead and satisfy it without adding large amounts of fat to your diet. Frozen yogurt, fresh fruit, angel food cake, ginger cookies and hot chocolate made with low-fat milk are some delicious options.
- Between meal snacks. Keep plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables around for easy snacking.
- Eat out. Make wise food choices, such as meat or fish that has been grilled or baked, not fried. With pasta, choose red sauce, not cream sauce.

YOUR HEALTH

VITAMINS DEFINED

Vitamins, in and of themselves, do not supply energy. However, they do aid in the conversion of foods into energy. There are also many other good reasons to take vitamins. These organic substances are necessary to regulate the functioning of cells. They are essential to life and lend themselves to countless biological processes. These include promoting good vision, forming normal blood cells, creating strong bones and teeth, and ensuring the proper function of the heart and nervous system. Although the body does synthesize some vitamin K, D, and B12 (as well as converts beta carotene into vitamin A), the body cannot manufacture vitamins. Thus they must be consumed in order that they may go about their important business.

September is National Rice Month! The month is dedicated to helping focus attention on the importance of rice to the American diet and to salute the entire US rice industry. At the GOOD FOOD CO., we are committed to offering the lowest prices possible for the highest quality natural foods and supplements. Our case-stack displays have some of the lowest prices around! If you have any questions, please feel free to call us at 981-8100. We are conveniently located at 42615 Ford Rd. We are open for business Monday through Saturday from 9:00 to 9:00 and Sunday from 10:00 to 6:00.

P.S. The Body may store fat-soluble vitamins (A, D, E, K) for months, but stores water-soluble vitamins (B's and C) for only a few weeks.

LINDA BACHRACK

Cuffs and collars soften up styles

Pretty. Graceful. Feminine. Soft. These are adjectives that have been missing for so long in the fashion world. The new glamour is not about crinolines or skin-tight skirts or Marilyn Monroe's sex kitten appeal. Rather, it is about softening up simple silhouettes.

It's about rich browns, not harsh blacks. It's about lush velvets and downy mohair. It's about A-line shapes and curvy jackets.

Just when you thought your daughter would never wear anything but faded jeans, she opts for a streamlined jumper or a bias-cut dress. The look is unadorned and sophisticated, but the textures and the lines are pretty and feminine.

Add an accessory

The real beauty of the new chic, polished suits and dresses is their ability to be enhanced by wonderful accessories. You embellish your outfit according to your taste in scarves and shawls. Wrap and layer to your heart's content. The selection is endless, from chenille mufflers to faux fur stoles to feather boas.

At a recent fashion show, Hudson's models added marabou collars, cuffs and stoles to tailored business suits. Bright fuchsia and purple capes revved up classic day dresses, with wool plaid scarves. Fringed shawls swept over leggings and trousers. Patricia Underwood designs her fall/winter hat and scarf collection in a layer of colors and innovative textures.

Shades of burgundy, heather and chocolate color her malleable hats in cashmere, chenille, mohair and faux fur. Knitwear, scarves and a gossamer shawl complement the hats. Underwood's distinctive accessories will be presented at a trunk show on October 21 and 22 at Scott Gregory in Applegate Square, Southfield where she's knotted around cowl-necked sweaters over leggings and trousers.

Caped crusaders

At Robert Mann Furs, also in Applegate Square, the exquisite scarves could dress your piano or sofa as gracefully as they drape your body. A flocked black velvet on chiffon adds elegance to the simplest slip dress ($300), while a fringed black and taupe design in the same fabrication takes an unadorned jacket uptown ($180). A chenille oblong scarf in muted coppers, emeralds and sapphire, glistens with jet beads. Put on the Ritz in a cashmere cape-style one-button jacket with nutria collar and cuffs ($960).

These are but a few of the accessories that Robert Mann displays to enhance his knitwear, wool coats, shearlings and furs. Look for cashmere scarves ($120), Italian wool capes ($215) and merino wool shawls ($245). To change the entire look of an outfit, try adding a giant square wool challis scarf scattered with autumn leaves and flowers. These gorgeous works of art by Saldarini are available at Herah's on The Boardwalk in West Bloomfield ($180-$250). Adrienne Landau's black silk velvet cape with lace fringe will grab your attention at Nelman Marcus, the Somerset Collection, Troy ($475). Its allure is not limited to evening wear. It's stunning with tailored her-ringbone pants and a fitted jacket. More capes from Malo—they're heathered cashmere in two shades of brown ($1,420). For pure fun, grab Andrea Jovine's red wrap with zig-zag trim ($202). She throws it over a black ribbed turtleneck and kill.

No need to buy a scarf-tying video. Keep it simple. Just toss a fringed shawl over your shoulder, circle layers of cashmere around your neck or let a cape fall casually across your back. You're wrapped and ready to go.

Designs are fit to be tied

■ You can tell a lot about a man from the tie he wears, or doesn't wear. And that's just the way contemporary designers want it.

Benny's car ran out of gas on a desert highway. He began to walk, but soon was crawling, dizzy with thirst. Finally a car stopped. "Water! Water!" gasped Benny.

"Gee, I'm all out," said the driver, "but I've got some beautiful ties for sale. Like to buy one?"

"Water, Water!" gasped Benny.

"Look, there's a restaurant five miles ahead. You'll be OK," said the tie salesman, and he drove off. Benny crawled to the restaurant and collapsed at the maitre d's feet.

"Water, Water!" gasped Benny.

"Sorry," replied the maitre d'. "You can't come in without a tie!"

Jacobson's men's shop has a new attitude

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Last year, during its 125th anniversary, Jacobson's took a long hard look at itself. If the Michigan-based upscale department store was going to survive another 125 years, some changes would have to be made.

With Nordstrom's and Parisian's poised to enter the home field as direct competitors, Jacobson's decided it would need to find its niche and fight hard to keep it. As vice-president of the Men's Division (which makes up about 16-percent of Jacobson's sales,) it became Jeffrey Senn's job to attract new, younger, and more contemporary shoppers to the very traditional Jacobson's Men's Store.

"We saw that the world is changing very quickly and guys are more in tune with what's happening all around them and not just in the Midwest," Senn said. "They travel. They read magazines, watch movies. They think, I'd like to look like that, or I'd like to have that item. To attract their business, Jacobson's needed to bring in new designers and give more prominence to the men's contemporary collection."

The trend toward more casual dressing at work also dictated that Jacobson's expand its men's clothing departments.

"These clothes are really more an attitude than an age," Senn explained. "If a guy is 50-something, hip, travels around, he'll like what he sees in the new contemporary collection." Must-have items for the contemporary man include 3-button, unconstructed jackets that may or may not be worn with a shirt and tie. These have great drapability and mix well with denim. Designer adds sass to career clothes

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Ab, it's the life. Cynthia Steffe rises early each morning, grabs a no fat breakfast and heads out the door of her New York apartment to work out at the health club.

Next she heads over to her Seventh Avenue design house where she is building an international reputation for clothing that offers "luxury without excess."

Between meetings with staff, consultations with suppliers, and garment inspections at various stages of production, Steffe sketches and gives interviews to publications like

"Harper's Bazaar," "Savvy" and "People Weekly."

"Oh it's not as glamorous as it appears," she said over orange juice and English muffins at The Townsend Hotel in Birmingham recently. "It's actually a very long day, usually 10 or 12 hours. My job is very heavy on administration with 30 employees to supervise. Then, I continue to sketch and design through the evening, sometimes until 10 p.m."

Steffe is a calm contrast to the whirling world of high fashion where a new product must be presented every five months and competition is ferocious for the dwindling fashion dollar. As she explains, her attitude comes from a solid Midwest upbringing in Boyden, Iowa. She is one of five daughters who learned to sew with her chin on mom's sewing machine.

"My mother made most of our clothes and my dad had quite a bit of farmland," she said. "He also invented things and I guess I got my drawing ability from watching him sketch school. When we took vacations to any big city, I'd say, 'This is for me!'

After high school Steffe headed to New York and the Parsons School of Design. She modeled to pay her tuition and quickly singled herself out among her peers. She received two awards that brought her to the attention of designer Donna Karan. She was named "Student Designer of the Year," and was presented with the Donna Karan Gold Thimble Award.

She began her career as an assistant to Karan, and Louis Dell'Ollo at Anne Klein & Co. Two years later, Steffe landed the premier spot at Spitalnick to design for the Eyan Picone label. While still a student, she met Richard Roberts who worked in the fashion industry's business end. The pair decided to marry and become business partners as well, and in 1988 Steffe left Spitalnick to launch her own label. She sells the Cynthia Steffe Collection in specialty department stores around the world.

Hudson's decided to launch Steffe's bridge, resource collection, Frances & Rita (named for the couple's mother's) at Hudson's in Summit Place, Waterford; Oakland Mall, Troy; and Twelve Oaks, Novi. She came to town recently as the featured designer for Hudson's fall career night.

"The Frances and Rita line is priced from $98 to $240, targeted to career woman who want a little more fashion and detailing in their clothes," Steffe explained. "There is lots of value for the price in these pieces. The clothing is made in New York, just blocks from our office, so we make sure each piece that goes out is perfect." Hudson's spokeswoman Chris Morrieroe said Steffe sold 20 pieces of her fall line in the Summit Place store after just an hour of working with shoppers.

Smart silhouettes: Fall designs by Cynthia Steffe include shorter length shirts with tailored jackets in these outfits from her Frances and Rita line.

Jacobson's from previous page

Henley's, and sweaters that layer well, and voila! you're a man of the 90s.

Michael Hinz manages the Jacobson's Men's Store in downtown Birmingham which produces the highest sales for the chain. Hinz argued that although the casual look sounds easy, it takes some fashion expertise to pull it off because it is a very sophisticated, studied look where you must know how to blend garment textures, colors and patterns.

"That's where Jacobson's comes in," Hinz said. "Our sales associates can offer advice, take merchandise to the home or office, and provide the personal service other stores cannot."

In addition to the traditional man's lines carried by Jacobson's, like Hugo Boss, Burberry's, Hart, Schaffner & Marx, Perry Ellis, Tommy Hilfinger, Nautica and Polo, new designers like Wilko Rodriguez, Tom Tailor, Tommy Bahama, Johnny Cotton, Arnold Zimberg and Linea Dome will be available at most stores. Additionally, Jacobson's will sell men's clothing by Nine Twenty East, Synergy, French Connection, True Grit, Chionicles and Miska Design Resource.

"It's important that our traditional customer knows we're still the Jacobson's that served him well in the past," Senn said. "We're just heading in a new direction, with a new point of view."

Ties from previous page

have got to be a wee bit nervous

Will the necktie become the next exhibit in the museum of extinct fashions?

Not to worry, said Gerald Andersen, director of the Necktie Association of America based in New York City. Neckwear manufacturers see the global shift to casual dressing as merely the opportunity to sell more "relaxed" tie designs.

"Hey, even The Gap is selling ties now," Andersen pointed out during a telephone interview. "By using textured and seasonal fabrics like knits and woven wools, designers can give ties a casual feel that coordinates well with chambray shirts, sweaters and sportswear."

Andersen said more than 100 million ties are sold in the U.S. every year. However, he hinted that sales in 1994 could be flat for the first time in four or five years.

"Most tie manufacturing companies are small, entrepreneurial," he explained. "The top four, in terms of sales, would be 'Superba' in Los Angeles, 'Wimco' in New Orleans, 'Ronda' in New York City and 'Mallory & Church' in Seattle. We have about 100 firms in the association and dozens of suppliers who also belong."

Silk ties command 60 to 65 percent of tie sales, according to Andersen, with 4-inch widths the preferred size. This fall, sports motifs like golf and hunting, are favorites with tie designers, as are universational and statement ties. The spring and summer featured ties festooned with cartoon and television characters and art from museum walls.

Andersen said there is also a renewed interest in clean, elegant, classic designs like houndstooth checks, geometrics and horizontal stripes. Paisley and plaid designs are best worn with sportswear according to the experts.

Mark McClellan of Livonia considers himself an expert on neckwear. So much so, he opened The Tie Man, a neckwear emporium on Five Mile, east of Middlebelt. McClellan's brief history of the tie supports his belief that the tie will never die as an article of men's fashion.

"As far back as the 1600s neckwear was worn as protection," he explained. "As the years went on the tie evolved into a status symbol. By 1860 no well-dressed man was seen without one. In 1880, the Four In Hand Knot became the accepted way to fasten a tie. The knot was adapted from the way coach drivers handled the reins on four-horse carriages."

"The Four In Hand knot was small, but it leaned, so when the Windsor Knot, named after the Duke of Windsor was created, it quickly became a standard. It stays symmetric but it's large. The Shelby Knot evolved as symmetric but smaller, and now the No Knot, from Chicago, is gaining popularity."

First rate

We're looking for super sales people

We're shopping for shopping stories about extra special sales people.

If you've had a recent shopping experience where a sales associate went above and beyond the call of duty to provide excellent customer service, Malls & Mainstreets wants to hear about it! Drop us a few lines describing the shopping situation and don't forget to name the store and shopping center involved.

Those accounts published on the Malls & Mainstreets pages each month will win an Observer & Eccentric canvas shopping bag for the sales associate nominated and the shopper that did the nominating!

Send your story to: More Than You Bargained For, c/o Malls & Mainstreets, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, 806 E. Maple, Birmingham, 48009. Be sure to include your name, address, and daytime phone number.

■ AUCTION TOTALS
Livonia Mall's fifth annual Colebrity Auction to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association raised its grandest total ever - $23,300. The Saturday, Aug. 30 day-long affair offered hundreds of autographed items donated by celebrities to shoppers with the highest bids. 100 percent of the proceeds went to "Jerry's Kids."

Jerry Lewis sent a letter of appreciation to the event's chief organizer, Livonia Mall's marketing director Bill Checks. Over the past five years, the mall raised over $83,000 for the MDA through Checks' dedicated efforts. Checks said he was touched by Lewis's acknowledgement because he does the auction "strictly for the kids." Checks immediately turned the words of praise over to his supporting staff, the Livonia Mall Merchant's Association and all the volunteers "who came to work for free for the kids." Checks singled out two 12-year-old girls who worked all day long at the auction, serving refreshments, running items back and forth, and helping clean up afterwards.

"Tristan Phelps and Alexandria Gendron are to be commended for their part at the auction," Checks said. "These girls worked hard and the community can be proud of them."

■ COFFEE BAR PLANNED
The Jacobson's store on Maple Road in downtown Birmingham will open an espresso bar on the lower level near the Miss J department on Nov. 15. Company spokeswoman Janice Hayes said the new coffee spot will have seating for 40 and serve beverages like cappuccino and espresso, and light sandwiches and salads.

Hayes also said a "menu of Jacobson's services," will also debut in various forms at all stores, enumerating the services available throughout the department store. The menu will appear on signs in elevators, enclosures with purchases, and on tabletops and placemats in the restaurants.

WESTLAND SPORTS SCENE

J&K wins tourney

Winning seven straight games, J&K Transportation of Westland captured the 42-team U.S. Slo-Pitch Softball Association Men's Great Lakes Division B championship over Labor Day weekend in Sturtevant, Wis.

The field included teams from Michigan, Indiana, Wisconsin, Ohio, Kentucky and Illinois. J&K, managed by Larry Quartuccio, now advances to the 32-team USSSA World Series, Sept. 24-25, in Garland, Tex.

J&K, paced by tournament MVP pitcher Scott Nastally, defeated R&D Delivery of Ohio in the finals, 18-10.

Nastally, who recorded an ERA of under seven runs per game, was named to the All-Tournament team along with teammates Wade Evans, Greg Tome, Scott Janack and Al Ferrell.

Mark Lipinski was named All-Tournament Defensive Player.

Rounding out J&K's roster is Marc Friar, John Regan, Chris Scheffer, Larry Scheffer, Mike Deat, Jim Hubbs, Bill Malcolm, Rick Wayne and Mike Simonds.

J&K opened tourney play with an 18-3 victory over Home Run Inn, the Illinois state champs, as Nastally gave up only three hits.

Victories followed over On a Roll from Wisconsin, 9-3; Straight Leap of Kentucky, 12-1; and Worm's of Wisconsin, 12-5.

In the semifinals of the winner's bracket, J&K scored nine times in the bottom of the seventh, including a three-run inside-the-park homer from Simonds, to beat Superior Sports of Livonia, the Leonard J. Anderson Tournament Champs, 17-16.

J&K advanced to the final with a 19-16 win over state champ Michigan Sports of Sterling Heights, 19-16.

J&K plays out of the Michigan Metro circuit at Dearborn Rotunda fields.

Continental advance

Next stop for the Continentals: the Seniors Softball World Series in Orlando, Fla., Oct. 2-9.

The Continentals advanced by winning six straight games at the regional tournament in Penn Hills, Pa., Labor Day weekend. The victims: Maryland (twice), Millers (Mich.), Jersey Shores (N.J.), Unlontown (Pa.) and Akron (Ohio). The team is managed by Southfield's Jim Graham, now in his 40th year of coaching.

Local standouts at the regional were Canton's Harry Handley, who hit .701; Livonia's Carl (Chico) Sencyszyn (588); Troy's Ed Barry (.619); and Southfield's Norm Steel (three pitching wins).

The rest of the team: Harold Clay, Chester Davis, Ralph DePalma, Ben Baird (Birmingham), Barry Kushner (Bloomfield Hills), Len Pecchia, Loren Monroe, Al Peters (Beverly Hills), Jake Ragazzo (Beverly Hills), Rene Brooks, Tom Whalen, John Mollanen (Farmington Hills), Bob Tarnow (Southfield) and Vince Adragna.

This marks the second straight year the Continentals have advanced to the Seniors World Series.

Warriors win opener

Lutheran High Westland opened its 1994 boys cross country season Wednesday with an 18-43 victory over Birmingham-Detroit Country Day in a dual meet at Hines Park.

The Warriors' Brad Polkinghorne was first overall in 5,000-meter race with a time of 17:45.9.

Other Lutheran Westland barriers in the top 10: Phil Kimmel, second, 18:11.8; Jason Collins, third, 18:33.1; Sam Patterson, fifth, 18:38.0; Chris Tierman, seventh, 18:54.5; Jon Schmolli, eighth, 19:06.6; and Andy Evendick, ninth, 19:07.7.

Preseason All-American

Ferris State University junior linebacker Mike Brooks (Livonia Churchill) was recently named a preseason All-American by Street and Smith magazine and the Sporting News.

Brooks led the Bulldogs to a 9-1-2 overall record a year ago. He was selected first-team All-Midwest Football Conference.

He led the MIFC with 185 tackles.

Ferris State carried a 19-game regular season unbeaten streak heading into its season opener last Saturday at home against Ashland.

The Bulldogs are 49-38-3 in nine years under coach Keith Otterbein. Two of his former players, Monty Brown and Ed Phillon, are playing for the NFL's Buffalo Bills.

Spartans block Patriots, 36-15

Livonia Stevenson racked up 494 yards on the ground Friday to beat city rival Franklin, 36-15. The Spartans open Western Lakes play next week against Walled Lake Central, while Franklin takes on Plymouth Canton.

Livonia Stevenson's football team hummed quite a few bars of one of Bruce Springsteen's old hit songs Friday night.

"Baby we were born to run." The host Spartans rolled up 494 yards rushing en route to a 36-15 triumph over city rival Franklin.

It was an impressive offensive ground display by Stevenson, which averaged 12.3 yards per carry in improving to 2-0 on the young season.

Three different Stevenson ball carriers topped the 100-yard mark, but it was the play of the offensive line that pleased veteran coach Jack Reardon more than anything.

"The offensive line is really starting to jell and they're blocking well," he said. "They're in better shape now. They're starting to get their feet and starting to sustain better blocks."

"I also thought our backs ran hard. Physically they're not that big, but they're tough."

Senior Scott Goldman and sophomore Gado Clark, both tailbacks, each ran for 129 yards. Senior slotback Chris Mullett added 103 yards and senior fullback Craig Martin chipped in with 81.

The holes were being created by 6-foot-4, 242-pound senior tackle Jim Townsend; 6-1, 255-pound senior tackle Eric Hine; 6-2, 225-pound junior center Eric Curl; 6-0, 239-pound guard Tony Jankowski; and 5-11, 198-pound Ben Lewis.

"They're big and they're strong, just like we thought," said Franklin first-year coach Rick Lee, whose team fell to state-ranked Sterling Heights Stevenson in its opener a week ago, 31-0. "After the first two weeks I don't think we'll see anybody that big."

"They're very disciplined, just like Sterling Heights Stevenson. And that wins ballgames."

Ironically, Franklin countered with an air attack to stay close for a half.

Franklin's Aaron Smith returned a punt 50 yards to set up the game's first TD.

Senior quarterback Mike Aubuchon, who was 13 of 23 on the night for 167 yards, hurled a 16-yard scoring pass to speedy Adam Hill with 7:53 left in the opening quarter. Smith booted the extra point to make it 7-0.

Later in the quarter, Hill, back in punt formation, was forced out at his own 25. The Patriots, who thought they were whistled for illegal procedure, believed it was a dead ball play, but the officials saw otherwise.

Two plays later, Martin bulled in from 2 yards out and Steve Veziina added the extra point to make it 7-7 with 3:07 left in the quarter.

Martin, who fumbled just before diving into the end zone with only 21 seconds remaining in the first quarter (Ryan Bayer recovered), made up for his miscue. He bolted in from his linebacking spot and threw Chad Glaza back into the end zone for a two-point safety, giving the Spartans a 9-7 advantage.

Stevenson then scored on its next possession to open the second quarter.

After Martin's 47-yard TD run was nullified by a clipping penalty, Mike Redington didn't waste his opportunity, reeling off a 23-yard TD run. (Veziina's PAT extended the lead to 16-7.)

Franklin, however, responded quickly, marching 74 yards in only seven plays, capped by Aubuchon's 12-yard TD toss to tight end David Erickson. Aubuchon followed by hitting Brett Kawowski for the two-pointer, cutting the deficit to 16-15.

Bulldozer: Stevenson's Craig Martin (with ball) rumbles for yardage as Franklin's Todd Patzer tries to make the tackle in the first quarter.

Mullett's 46-yard run, along with a Franklin personal foul (late hit), set up Clark's 2-yard TD run with 6:40 left in the half. Stevenson converted the PAT to go ahead 23-15.

With 3:50 to go in the half, Kawowski recovered a fumble when the Spartans couldn't handle a punt at their own 37.

Franklin, however, couldn't cash in.

"I thought we were still in the ballgame at halftime," Lee said. "We made some adjustments defensively. We went more to a 4-3 look. We just had to slow down, read the play and be more patient, especially our inside people. "We ended up chasing people and didn't get any help."

In the second half, Stevenson began to assert itself.

Goldman scored on a 77-yard run early in the third period and Clark capped the scoring with a 73-yard TD jaunt 10:05 left in the fourth.

The Spartans also missed three other chances to score in the final quarter.

Franklin's defense held at the 1; Stevenson fumbled away the ball going in the end zone; and Robert Drolet's 16-yard interception return was called back because of a clip-

Harrison swoops past John Glenn

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

Farmington Hills Harrison's talent at the football skill positions made the difference Friday night when the Hawks defeated host Westland John Glenn 28-10.

Fullback Nick Williams thundered through the Glenn defense for 175 yards and a touchdown, and Kevin Bryant caught two touchdown passes from quarterback Jake Lawson and tailback Jason Granger added 92 yards and a touchdown.

"That's our strength," Harrison coach John Herrington said, "but we're still struggling to find our defense."

The Hawks (1-1) weren't flawless. After driving 67 yards with the opening kickoff to take a 7-0 lead, they lost fumbles on first and second down the next two times.

Their deep receivers on kicks also misplayed a few balls that could have spelled trouble. Glenn's Eric Davey might have returned one such fumble for a TD if not for an inadvertent whistle.

"We took turns looking good and looking bad," Herrington said. "It's a win and a win over John Glenn is good any time, because they're well coached and always play hard."

The Rockets are in the unfamiliar situation of being 0-2 but have played two excellent opponents.

"I think we played much better than we did a week ago, but it probably isn't going to show much playing a team the caliber of Harrison," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said.

"We've got so far to go, but our players are working hard. The thing I'm most proud of is that our attitude is hanging in there. As long as we do that, we've got a chance to get this straightened out."

Williams carried on 12 of 14 plays to start the game, ripping up 65 yards and scoring a 1-yard touchdown to put the Hawks on top right away.

Glenn drove to the Harrison 22 with its first possession and, following the fumbles, had the ball in the Harrison end for much of the first half.

But the Hawks didn't break defensively and give up six. Glenn's Brian Kolb was short on a 38-yard field goal attempt before making good on a 25-yarder to get the Rockets within 7-3.

"You don't get chances like that against Harrison, and you have to take advantage of them," Gordon said. "If we had, our confidence might have gone up and we might have gotten something going. But that's a credit to Harrison's defense, too."

Harrison answered with another scoring drive to lead 14-3 at halftime. Bryant — his two pass receptions went for scores — came back to the ball in the end zone to catch a 7-yard toss and barely beat the Glenn defender on a close play.

The Hawks scored the first two times they had the ball in the third quarter to take a 28-3 lead.

On third down, Bryant beat the Glenn secondary for a 67-yard touchdown pass, and Granger dodged and dashed 20 yards for the last score.

"They present a real dilemma," Gordon said. "They have one guy who can pound it inside, and Granger is a real jet to the outside. They give you both barrels there."

Glenn drove 78 yards with 12 straight running plays on its next possession to make the final tally 28-10 after Jay Jackson's 2-yard run.

Jackson, a Barry Sanders style runner at 5-foot-5 and 160 pounds, led the Rockets with 69 yards on 22 carries. But Harrison outgained Glenn 308-140 on the ground and 399-192 overall.

Glenn quarterback James Hagelthorn completed six of 15 passes for 51 yards, Lawson two of five for 74.

"Offensively, I thought we did very well," Herrington said. "We could power it and do what we wanted there, but we played defense in spurts. We weren't consistent there, and we made some poor decisions on kick returns. So we still have something to work on."

Lutheran Westland upends Class A foe

BY NEAL ZIEMER
STAFF WRITER

The newly created girls basketball matchup between Westland John Glenn and Lutheran Westland may not yet compare to the Michigan-Michigan State rivalry, but the contest between the two schools Thursday had all the makings of a longtime series.

In the first-ever game played between the two schools, which are located just a couple miles apart, the host Warriors pulled off a gritty 60-54 comeback victory.

With the victory, Lutheran improved to 3-1, while the Rockets fell to 0-3.

Because both teams scheduled 19 games one short of a full season — the teams decided to begin the rivalry following a scrimmage a few weeks ago. Both coaches were impressed with the game and are hopeful the series will continue.

"We started out 4-0 last year but added to our schedule teams we've never played before in order to get some better competition and make us a better team," said Lutheran coach Ron Genta.

"Lutheran Westland is a good team and comparable to the teams we face in the Western Lakes Activities Association," said Glenn coach Pat Bennett. "They gave us a good warm-up to the league. This was our best performance of the year, maybe the best over the past three years."

The Warriors used an impressive free throw performance to pull out the win. Lutheran converted 29 of their 43 attempts (67 percent), including 10 of 13 in the fourth quarter. The Rockets made only half of their 12 attempts at the charity stripe.

Rochelle Harris scored a game high 14 points for Glenn.

Center Kelly Klene added 12 points and 11 rebounds. She scored 10 points in the first half but was almost non-existent in the second half because of foul trouble.

Katie Ollinger's 13 points paced the Warriors. Amy Gents and Lauren Horton added 11 and 10 points, respectively.

With the game tied at 48 with 5:33 remaining, Jenny Twietmeyer gave the Warriors the advantage with a pair of free throws. The Rockets took the lead back after a layup by Rosie Schwartz and a free throw by Nykia Lee.

Lutheran took the lead for keeps when Horton pulled off consecutive inside spin moves against Klene.

Saddled with four fouls, Klene proved to be little challenge to Horton.

"Coach told us she had four fouls and to take it right at her," Horton said.

The Warriors extended their lead to 57-51 at the free throw line, but a triple by Katy Duncan cut the margin to three with 14 seconds left. Duncan was then called for a flagrant foul on the ensuing play and Lutheran added three free throws.

The win didn't come without a price, as the Warriors lost Jenny Fruchnik for an indefinite period with a sprained right ankle. The senior center, who had been the team's leading scorer and rebounder coming into the game, went down hard after a driving layup late in the third quarter. She was taken to the hospital.

"It doesn't look good," Genta said. "We will definitely miss her scoring, rebounding and senior leadership on the floor."

The injury occurred with the Warriors trailing by eight. Lutheran then went on a 9-0 run to gain its first lead since the opening quarter.

Several Glenn starters were on the bench with foul problems during the rally.

"Our foul trouble had a lot to do with the loss, but they didn't miss too many of their free throws," Bennett said. "You have to give them credit for hitting their free throws and playing smart down the stretch."

"Our kids got tired and then we hurt ourselves with a lot of unforgotten errors. The girls are still young and they have to learn not to force things."

Upstart Thurston downs Stevenson

By STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

The way Redford Thurston's girls basketball team was shooting Thursday night, Livonia Stevenson might not have had a chance even with Stacey Nichols.

Nichols, the 5-foot-10 junior center who was expected to lead Stevenson in points and rebounds, missed her second straight game because of a broken thumb. Thurston scored from the inside and outside, jumped to a 17-6 lead after one quarter and finished with a 61-47 non-league victory over the Spartans.

Senior guard Yvonne Malewski scored 26 points for the second-straight game, junior guard Heather Wohlfelt contributed 17 points and senior forward Kristi Engle added 13.

The win improved Thurston to 3-1 overall. Stevenson fell for the second straight game and is 1-2 overall.

"It might have made it a lot closer (if Stevenson had Nichols) but I'm not going to concede a defeat," Thurston coach Mike Schuette said. "We came out hot, our shot selection was nice.

BASKETBALL

Wohlfelt, Engle, Jean Heron and Kim Lucas all played real nice and unselfishly."

Thurston led 31-18 at halftime and with Malewski scoring eight points in the third quarter, opened up a 43-31 lead to start the fourth quarter.

Stevenson senior guard Jill VanTiem scored 11 of her team-high 18 points in the second half, including three three-point baskets, to get the Spartans close during stretches of the second half. Stevenson outscored Thurston 9-2 to start the fourth quarter and pull within 45-40.

But Thurston went back ahead 56-43, outscoring the Spartans 11-3 over the next couple of minutes.

"They came back with a spurt and we just turned it around and that's what I liked," Schuette said.

Stevenson coach Wayne Henry is getting used to injuries this season. Starting forward Ann Marie Aquino missed two weeks of preseason practice with an ankle injury and Claire Schrafer recently was pulled from the starting lineup because of a leg injury. Aquino's effectiveness inside the paint might especially be hurt by the absence of Nichols, who is expected to miss at least the next three weeks.

VanTiem and Aquino still led the Spartans with 10 rebounds each.

"We've clicked together, so it's hard right now (without Nichols) but I think we can adjust," Aquino said.

Katie Dawnarowicz played well at point guard. VanTiem had a fine all-around game at shooting guard and Jenny Smith had some strong moves in the paint, but the Spartans are still learning how to play as a team, according to Henry.

"I was very confident some of our girls would step up and they have," Henry said. "Katie did a nice job at the point, Anne Marie is a terror inside and Jill's outside shooting is great. But we don't always have the total understanding and have mental breakdowns. Tonight, when we broke down, they capitalized big time."

Franklin stops Trenton at foul line

It's always better to give than receive, except when you go to the charity line.

Livonia Franklin made 21 of 34 free throws (61.7 percent), including 10 of 15 in the decisive fourth quarter, giving the Patriots a 53-41 non-league girls basketball win Thursday at Trenton.

Franklin outscored the Trojans 20-6 in the final quarter, erasing a 35-33 deficit to improve its overall season record to 3-0.

Junior guard Tracy Rynkiewicz was the top free throw shooter, hitting 82.3 percent. She scored all 14 of her points from the line (in 17 attempts). Rynkiewicz also had eight rebounds and five steals.

Senior center Jaelyn Deane led the victorious Patriots with a game-high 24 points. She also snared nine rebounds.

Senior guard Sarah Camp chipped in with 12 rebounds and five steals, while senior forward Sherri Newland also grabbed nine rebounds.

Trenton, only three of five from the stripe with a pair of players fouling out, got 15 points from senior forward Shelby Adams and 12 from senior guard Nikki Griffin.

LOUISOE 62, RENAISSANCE 54: Melissa Campbell poured in a game-high 27 points Thursday, hitting host Livonia Ladywood (3-0) to the non-league victory over Detroit Renaissance.

Campbell, a senior guard, also had three steals.

Eva Lesage chipped in with nine points, seven rebounds and three steals. Stacy Judd grabbed nine rebounds, while junior point-guard Nicole Hayden gave the Blazers a spark off the bench with six points.

Ladywood shot 75 percent from the free throw line (15-of-20).

"In the third and fourth quarters we had some spurs," Ladywood coach Lisa McPhee said. "We played better defense and executed our offense with more precision. We were able to find the right combination at the end."

Latoja Embrey and Shamika Theofrid scored 12 and 11, respectively, for the Phoenix.

WAYNE 63, ROMULUS 35: Yolanda Holt scored 15 points Thursday, sparking Wayne Memorial (2-0 overall) to the non-league win against the host Eagles (0-3).

Dawn Sakovich and Stacy Jackson chipped in with 13 and 10 points, respectively, for the victorious Zebras.

Stephanie Mit scored a game-high 16 for Romulus.

"Our coach got a lot tougher on us," said Wayne coach Chuck Henry, whose team made 15 of 32 free throws (46.9 percent). "But it always better to give than to take."

WILMINGTON 43, CHURCHILL 28: On Thursday, the host Vikings outscored Livonia Churchill 27-12 in the second half to earn the non-league triumph.

Junior guard Kelly Kautsky led Novi (2-1 overall) with a game-high 24 points.

Senior guard Mary Daly scored seven for the Chargers (0-3).

Churchill made 10 of 20 from the free throw line. Novi was 11 of 21.

"We didn't play well at all," Churchill second-year coach Dave Bates said. "We were never in sync. It was one of those nights you dread to coach. Whatever you did was the wrong thing. They (Novi) played a good second half and we never got it going."

ST. AGATHA 59, CLARENCEVILLE 12: Senior guard Susan Bisher netted 17 points Thursday, leading host Redford St. Agatha (1-2) to the non-league victory over Livonia Clarenceville (1-2).

Senior forward Kelly Vandermiere added 12 points for the Aggies, who led 36-8 at halftime.

Freshman guard Katie Miller also played a fine all-around floor game for Agatha.

Wendy Ross, a senior center, led the Trojans with eight points.

LUDERAN WESTLAND 61, DA 25: Jenny Puschik scored all 19 of her points in the opening half, powering Lutheran High Westland (2-1 overall) to the non-league victory against the host Bluebreaks.

Julie Twistingher and Amy Geritz each contributed nine points for the Warriors, who led 23-14 at intermission.

Jia (0-1) got seven points from Margie Carlson.

Lutheran Westland shot 33 percent from the floor (42 for 127).

LIZGETT 48, HURON VALLEY 23: Grace Pulice Woods University-Lizgett opened up a quick 40-20 in its win over Westland Huron Valley Lutheran in the opening round of the Ann Arbor Greenhill tournament.

Nikki Kightlinger, a point forward, scored 14 points for the Hawks (0-2).

Huron Valley was unable to stop Lizgett's Julie Grant, who scored from the outside and led its en route to her game-high 12-point performance.

A total of only seven free throws were attempted in the game.

Zebras triumph

Wayne clips Taylor Kennedy

FOOTBALL

Stan Stevenson proved his first-week heroics were no fluke as the senior transfer student scored on the first play of overtime Friday to give Wayne Memorial a thrilling 20-14 overtime victory at Taylor Kennedy in a Mega Conference crossover.

After gaining 241 yards on the ground in week one, Stevenson gained 144 yards on 24 carries Friday. His biggest run was his 10-yard rush off right tackle on the Zebras' first play of overtime.

Kennedy had the ball to begin overtime but Richard Rashad picked off his second pass of the game to end the Eagles' scoring threat.

With the win, Wayne improved to 2-0 overall while Kennedy fell to 1-1.

The Zebras scored with 59 seconds left in the first quarter on an 18-yard completion from sophomore quarterback Lorenzo Guess to Aaron Bates. Bates nailed the point after. Guess completed 5-of-16 passes for 75 yards.

After Wayne's defense stopped the Eagles on their ensuing possession, Jim Bohnwagner returned a punt 69 yards for a touchdown. Bates' point after made it 14-0. Kennedy struck twice before the half ended, with Dana Mitchell scoring on runs of 69 and 31 yards. Mitchell gained 160 yards on 18 carries.

CRANBROOK 20, CLARENCEVILLE 19: Livonia Clarenceville came within 10 minutes of pulling a major upset Friday in Metro Conference action, but visiting Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook held on.

After falling behind 14-0 in the first quarter, the Trojans (0-2 overall, 0-1 in the conference) scored 19 unanswered points in the second quarter and clung to a 10-14 lead entering the final quarter.

The Cranes took a one-point lead with just under 10 minutes remaining, and Clarenceville's last minute rally stalled at the Cranbrook 30.

Quarterback Jason Eddleston accounted for all of Cranbrook's points. He fired two touchdown passes to Paul Katz and scored one on the ground.

Junior wide receiver John Rose opened the scoring for Clarenceville, capping an 8-play, 60-yard drive with a 20-yard touchdown run on a reverse.

The Cranes' lead was cut to 14-12 when senior quarterback Jon Pauley scored on a 1-yard dive. Martino Seman's extra point made it a one-point game.

Pauley connected on a 30-yard scoring play to Rose prior to halftime. The extra point failed and Clarenceville went into the locker room with a 19-14 lead.

"It was a hard fought game and certainly no walk in the park for Cranbrook," Clarenceville coach Chuck Doughdson said. "It was a very big improvement from a week ago, but we just didn't have enough time."

Ray Kastl led the Trojans defense; he was in on 14 tackles. Jessie Lyon, Steve Spiez, Steve Parks and Seman were all credited with 12 hits apiece. Lyon and Parks also had an interception.

W.L. CENTRAL 40, CHURCHILL 14: Two touchdowns by Todd Wilson wasn't enough Friday as Livonia Churchill fell to 0-2 with its loss at Walled Lake Central.

Wilson scored on a 90-yard kickoff return and a nine-yard run, but the Chargers could only muster a total of 90 yards of total offense. The Vikings (2-0) gained a total of 222 yards.

Gary Tobias opened the scoring for Central on a 13-yard run. The lead grew to 14-0 after an 11-yard run by Matt Koschke. Jacob Berg converted both extra points.

Wilson's kickoff return made it 14-6 but the Vikings added 14 straight points before halftime. Jeremy Tisdale scored on a nine-yard reception from Vic O'Donnell and Will Winnicki scored on a 31-yard fumble recovery.

Justin Pease's 15-yard scoring run to begin the fourth quarter gave the Vikings a commanding 36-6 lead. The Chargers came back and Wilson scored on a nine-yard carry. George Shanlikian converted the two-point conversion.

The scoring ended on a 52-yard run by Koschke. Koschke gained 123 yards on just 11 carries.

Deren spurs Spartans' win; Churchill, Warriors perfect

Senior forward Nick Deren recorded the hat trick Thursday as Livonia Stevenson belted host North Farmington, 9-1, in Western Lakes Activities Association boys soccer action.

All three of Deren's goals were assisted by senior midfielder Anthony Vetrano. He helped the Spartans (3-0-1 overall) take a commanding 5-0 halftime lead.

Juniors Steve Wilford and Jeff Urbats added two goals apiece for Stevenson. The Spartans' also received one goal from Mike Mincielli and Pete Lechowicz.

Jim Grewe and Todd Smith split time in the nets for Stevenson.

CHURCHILL 3, S.H. STEVENSON 0: Senior forward Charlie Holbert scored twice Friday, leading host Livonia Churchill (3-0 overall) to the non-league triumph over Sterling Heights Stevenson (2-1).

Mike Mancini added the Chargers' other goal on a boot from 25 yards out.

Goalkeeper Brian Stramocki was so sharp.

"We played a pretty good team and this was a good prep for our game (tonight) with Salem," Churchill coach John Bosta said.

LUTH. WESTLAND 7, ST. ALPHONSUS 1: Lutheran Westland improved to 4-0 Friday with its rout of visiting Dearborn St. Alphonsus.

Brian Horvath led the onslaught with three goals. The school now has 12 goals after four games.

Senior Ilich Black and freshmen Brad Washke, Mike Foster and Chris Budge each tallied once. Washke, Black, Chris Walls and Eric Falkenberg each collected an assist.

Alexei Danilovsk made three saves in goal for the Warriors, who led 3-1 at halftime.

The Attackers hit 10-0.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

Items for the Sports Roundup must be submitted by noon Tuesday (for Thursday edition) and noon Friday (for Monday edition). Items run once only.

WYAA VOLLEYBALL
Registration for Westland Youth Athletic Association volleyball (ages 10-16) will be from 8 to 10 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 14 and from 2 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 17 at the WYAA Compound.

For more information, call Tammy Pushter at 421-3753.

HARNESS RACING CLASSES
Schoolcraft College and the Michigan Standard-Bred Breeders Association will sponsor a seven-week harness racing course, from noon to 2:16 p.m. each Saturday, beginning Sept. 17.

The course, now in its 12th year, is designed for both novice and experienced horsemen, and the public.

It features field trips to Camaza Farm in Fowlerville (confirmation and breeding); Cavallo Farm in Ypsilanti (training young horses); Northville Downs (training young horses and dinner); and a horse auction in Adrian.

A class on handicapping, featuring top driver Art Mellin, is scheduled. Also slated to appear is Bob Huff of the U.S. Trotting Association Director.

The course is hosted by MHH/MSBA publicist Dan Conroy with other presentations given by trainer John MacDonell, Dr. Henry Vaupel, DVM, and farm manager Tony Carnacchi.

The cost is $55 (senior adults $32).

To register, contact the Schoolcraft Continuing Education Department, Equine Program, at (313) 462-4448. (Admission to the College is not necessary.)

MORNING HOCKEY CLUB
Suburban Hockey Schools will once again host its Breakfast Club, an instructional class beginning Oct. 10 at four locations: in Southfield Mondays and Wednesdays; at Michigan-Dearborn on Thursdays; at St. Clair Shores Tuesdays; and at Mount Clemens Friday.

The class runs from 7-8:30 a.m. and is open to players of all ability and experience levels. The Wednesday session at Southfield and the Friday session in Mount Clemens are for more advanced players.

Call 730-1330 for more details.

Record-breaker

New team shines in All-Star Bowlerettes

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

They always say records are made to be broken, but it is rare that the same team keeps breaking the same record.

This happened at Cloverlanes on the first night of the new season for the ladies "All-Star Bowlerettes."

They are the same basic team, but with a new sponsor, Furrer's the Goebel Beer team, they are now called "Contour Power Grips."

The new all-time record for a five-member women's team is 3,836 as they pounded the pins with these games: Alota Sill, 267-192-244/633; Jodi Monday, a new member, 250-213-270/748; Kathy Haislip of West Bloomfield, 259-233-235/172; Lisa Bishop, 247-247-258/182 and Carmen Phillips, 193-213-309/616.

Anyone who wants to watch the world's finest women bowlers perform is welcomed to do so. Cloverlanes is located on Schoolcraft Road in Livonia across from the DRC. They start at 8:30 p.m.

The Pro Bowler's Tour will be in the area about a month from now for the Greater Detroit Open at Taylor Lanes.

Many of the Pro-Am adult squads are already filled, and the remaining spots are going fast. There are a lot of Junior Pro-Am spots still available. The youth squad is slated for Friday, Oct. 14, at 9:30 p.m.

That may seem like a conflict with school hours for some, but the people at Taylor Lanes have prepared a letter to give to the schools with an explanation of what this activity is all about; a chance to participate with the touring professional bowlers and take home some nice mementos.

Entry fee is $30.

There will be trophies awarded in each class: seniors, juniors, preps, and beginners. Every youth entrant will receive a free bowling pin which can be autographed by the pros.

Check in time is 3 p.m. For further information or entry blanks, call Taylor Lanes at 948-9092.

Larry Franz and Lee Snow are the two inductees into the Michigan Major Bowling Association Hall of Fame. Franz of Redford Township received 45 points and Farmington Hills resident Snow had 44 points in the halloting.

Franz joined the MMBA in 1973, participating in 212 tournaments. He won two titles, had two second-place finishes, two 300 games and one 299 in MMBA competition.

Snow joined the MMBA in 1974, participating in 178 tournaments.

He has won two titles plus four second-place finishes. He has made the finals 27 times and cashed in 73 of the events. Snow also has served on the MMBA board of directors for 13 years, the last seven as president.

We're the Inside Guy!

A guy, Bill Rudnicki, and a girl — Karen Green, met through his ad in Personal Scene.

He placed a Personal Scene ad just last spring and she summoned the courage to give him a ring.

The call was a first for Karen, it seems, Would this—could this—be the man of her dreams?

"It was worth every penny," she reportedly said. And of course she is right; she and Bill plan to wed!

Yes, in mid-September they'll both say, "I do." Personal Scene newlyweds—it could happen to you!

Rocks' 2nd-half surge knocks out Riverview

A strong start to the second half was what Plymouth Salem needed Thursday at Riverview.

And the Rocks got just that, outscoring the Pirates 19-9 in the third quarter to pull out a 38-27 lead en route to a 44-39 girls basketball victory.

"The whole team contributed," said Salem coach Fred Thomann after his team improved to 2-0.

"We did a good job of getting everyone involved."

And point guard Kelly Lukaskiw was the leader. She scored 10 points, dished out five assists and made six steals. Shelly Silla added 10 points and seven rebounds.

Riverview's Shannon Kulick led all scorers with 17 points. The loss dropped the Class B Pirates to 2-1.

Salem overcame a 10-7 deficit after the first quarter to take a 19-18 lead into the half.
