Observer names general manager

Steven K. Pope

Steven K. Pope, a newspaper veteran of 21 years, has been appointed general manager of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

The appointment was announced Friday by Richard Aginian, president of the Suburban Communications Corp., parent company of the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

From 1988-93, Pope served simultaneously as corporate vice president of Media News Groups and as vice president of circulation and production of the Houston Post. Media News Groups is a Houston-based publisher of 80 daily and weekly newspapers throughout the United States.

He previously held senior-level circulation management positions with daily newspapers in Santa Fe, Long Beach, Tucson, and Denver.

Pope currently is a newspaper consultant who has been serving as associate publisher of Metro Times, a Detroit-based weekly alternative newspaper.

"I'm extremely pleased that Steve will be joining us," said Aginian. "He emerged as our top candidate after a long and intense national search and has an outstanding record in newspaper operations."

When Pope assumes his position on Jan. 3, he will be responsible for the individual Observer and Eccentric publishing groups, as well as the central marketing, business, production, human resources, and computer operations of O&E Newspapers.

Pope succeeds Richard M. Brady, who has served as interim general manager since March. Brady will return to his post as corporate vice president of sales and marketing for Suburban Communications.

"Dick Brady has been wearing two hats for 10 months," said Aginian. "He agreed to serve as interim general manager until we found the right person for the permanent position. But Dick didn't think or act like a substitute. He brought his experience as a newspaperman to bear on the reorganization strategy that the O&E undertook last year."

Aginian credited Brady with building momentum for the strategy to "bring the O&E Newspapers closer to their readers and advertisers." He furthered the goal of distinguishing the Observer Group and the Eccentric Group from each other so that each would meet the needs of its respective market.

Aginian said Pope will continue to implement the community growth strategy developed last year.

Pope and wife Carolyn will relocate to a community within the O&E Newspaper market shortly after assuming his new responsibilities. The Popes have two daughters, Brandie, 13, and Susan, 10.

Fire chief leaving; Reddy next in line

Westland's fire chief for the past eight years is leaving Jan. 13 to accept a similar position with Brighton. Michael Reddy, who finished first in the recently completed civil service testing, is expected to succeed him.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Westland Fire Chief Larry Lane confirmed Friday that he has accepted a job to become Brighton's next fire chief.

Lane, 48, said he plans to leave his Westland post on Jan. 13 and begin his new job on Jan. 16.

A 23½-year Westland Fire Department employee, Lane said he is proud of the firefighting "team" that he has helped to build during his eight-year tenure as fire chief.

"I think it's time to let that team take over and see what they can do with the department," he said Friday.

Lane's heir apparent is Michael Reddy, assistant chief for the city's fire suppression division and the overall second-in-command official in the fire department. Reddy, 51, is next in line for the chief's post after receiving the top score on a civil service test.

Lane was selected from four finalists for the Brighton position, the Brighton city manager's office has said, but his hiring won't be official until the Brighton City Council votes to confirm him.

The Brighton council is expected to vote on Lane's hiring during a meeting Thursday.

His salary in Brighton will be about $10,000 less than his $53,431 salary in Westland. But he also is eligible to receive his full pension from Westland, based on 25 years of service.

Although he has worked in Westland for only 23½ years, he received two years of credit for time he served in the military.

Lane oversees a 73-member, full-time department in Westland. He will be in charge of about 45 paid-per-call firefighters in Brighton.

Vandals break into Jefferson school 6 times

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Vandals have broken into Jefferson Elementary School six times in two months, causing hundreds of dollars in damages and stealing small amounts of cash from classrooms, school officials and Westland police confirmed.

Five of the break-ins have occurred since Nov. 19.

Police have no suspects in the rash of break-ins that occurred between the times that students and employees left school on Friday and returned on Monday, according to school and police records.

"We don't have any idea who is doing the break-ins," Jefferson principal Susan Dorenkamp said.

Anyone who may be able to provide tips is being urged to contact the Westland Police Department at 722-9600.

Some of the break-ins occurred just before employees began arriving for work at Jefferson, located at 32150 Dorsey just west of Merriman Road. It is believed that at least one teacher had a near brush with an intruder.

During some incidents, nothing was taken from the school, though rooms were vandalized, according to school officials.

The most recent break-in occurred shortly before 7 a.m. on Monday, Dec. 5, according to police records. Some vandalism was reported, but nothing appeared to be missing from the school.

That incident occurred one week after a Monday, Nov. 28, break-in during which an exterior classroom window was broken, a classroom bookcase was overturned and two overhead calculators were stolen, according to a school administration memo.

Here's a synopsis of other break-ins:

- On Friday, Nov. 25, a break-in occurred shortly after 9 p.m., but classroom supplies and materials remained intact. The school staff and police found one broken window.
- On Monday, Nov. 21, a break-in was reported between 7 a.m. and 7:20 a.m. A window was damaged, $13 was stolen from a teacher's desk, and a gum ball machine was taken from a classroom.
- On Saturday, Nov. 19, an exterior door window was broken out of a sixth-grade room, and $6 was taken from one classroom.
- On Oct. 9, Jefferson school received $850 in vandalism damages during the first of the six break-ins.

Some efforts have been made to improve Jefferson's security system, but the break-ins have continued, district spokesman Gary Dell said. Other measures are being explored to beef up the security system even more, he said.

Man sentenced to prison in girlfriend's death

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Taylor man who brought his girlfriend's body to Westland after he killed her and stuffed her in an oil drum has been sentenced to prison for six to 15 years, a court clerk said.

Bret Greenleaf, 34, was sentenced Thursday by Detroit Recorder's Judge Margie Braxton after being found guilty of voluntary manslaughter during a November bench trial.

Greenleaf had originally been charged with first-degree murder, and he could have faced life in prison. Prosecutors and police officers have voiced shock that he was found guilty only of manslaughter.

Following Braxton's verdict, assistant Wayne County prosecutor Daniel Less said the judge believed the killing "was the result of an argument and that (Greenleaf) didn't mean to do it."

Less said Greenleaf's 30-year-old girlfriend, Tammy Lynn Davis, was smothered to death by the defendant's hand during a fight at 4:30 a.m. April 18. Greenleaf then stuffed the body in a 55-gallon oil drum and drove it in his pickup to a friend's residence on Caseville Court in Westland, Taylor police Commander Stan Cybert said.

Greenleaf was arrested in Westland after a friend helped to alert police, and Davis' body was found in the oil drum.

Less said last month that the judge believed that Davis was killed accidentally during the struggle with Greenleaf, even though the woman's body was then stuffed in the oil drum.

PLACES & FACES

Council to meet

The Westland City Council will hold informal study sessions tonight (Monday) on two controversial topics. One concerns the Westland Chamber of Commerce's request to keep Newburgh between Cherry Hill and Palmer open for 18 months during the widening and railroad underpass construction, scheduled to start next spring. The session will start at 7:15 p.m.

Businesses along that one-mile stretch of Newburgh are concerned that they will suffer major economic losses during the construction. The city administration has insisted that there will be access to all businesses during construction with only the railroad crossing closed to traffic.

The chamber surveyed Newburgh businesses Wednesday and will present the survey's results to the council tonight.

The council will convene at 6:30 tonight to hear the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority and a private developer outline its plan to convert the incinerator to a waste to energy facility and operation. The authority consists of Westland and four neighboring cities.

Both study sessions will be held in City Hall, on Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

Holiday concert

The Schoolcraft College Community Ensemble and Vocal Jazz Ensembles will perform a concert of holiday music at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, at the Schoolcraft/Radcliff Center's community room, on Radcliff south of Ford. A $2 donation will be asked at the door.

Free Santa photos

Free photos with Santa Claus will be offered by Remerica Family Realtors from noon to 5 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 18, for persons who bring a can of food for the Salvation Army's campaign to help low income families. The real estate office is at 33018 Warren Road, west of Venoy. Donations of food will be accepted at the realty office through Dec. 24, said Remerica representative Charlene Mieras.

Police union knocks pact 'stonewalling'

By Darrell Clem
Staff Writer

The Westland City Council is drawing criticism for failing to act on a tentative contract that has been negotiated by bargaining teams for the Westland Police Officers Association and the city administration.

"For some reason it's being stonewalled," WPOA president James Dexter said during a council session last week.

Details of the tentative agreement haven't been disclosed, but Dexter said the WPOA ratified it 63-8 in late October. The union, which represents police officers and dispatchers, has 75 members, but four didn't vote.

The WPOA has been working without a contract since early July.

As weeks pass, WPOA members are becoming increasingly concerned that the council hasn't even scheduled a study session to discuss the contract. Dexter reminded council members that the WPOA could file an unfair labor practice claim.

"If we have to go that route, we can do that," he said during the council meeting.

Council president Thomas Brown indicated that the council is hoping to study several contracts at once, including proposals for the police officers, city firefighters, supervisors, the mayor's directors, and Local 1602 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

"We would hope that we can consider them all because there are budgetary decisions to be considered," Brown said. "We've got to represent all the people. Expenses keep going up, and income keeps going down."

■ As weeks pass, WPOA members are becoming increasingly concerned that the council hasn't even scheduled a study session to discuss the contract, President James Dexter reminded council members that the WPOA could file an unfair labor practice claim.

Brown told Dexter that a study session is expected to be scheduled soon. On Friday, Brown said the council may have to proceed with the session even if tentative agreements aren't reached for all groups.

Even though the council would prefer to consider all the contracts at once, Brown said, "if that's not possible, we'll have to go with what we've got."

City finance director Michael Gorman said recently that negotiations are lagging, in particular, for bargaining teams seeking an agreement for AFSCME Local 1602. That union has been working without a contract for a year.

WPOA members are hoping that their settlement won't stalled by a separate police contract for the Westland Lieutenants and Sergeants Association. Dexter told the council that the lieutenants and sergeants are still covered by a current contract that expires next June.

Lane will replace Brighton Fire Chief Richard Shinske, who resigned in June after heading the department for six years.

Lane has seen many changes in the Westland department during his years of employment. A few of the many highlights:

- The fire marshal's division has been improved and does "a heck of a job," Lane said.
- Firefighters receive more education now than they did years ago, he said.
- Fire equipment has been upgraded, and response time has been aided by a new computerized central dispatch system, Lane said.

Lane was hired as a Westland firefighter in July of 1971, and he became a sergeant/engineer in January, 1979. He moved to the fire suppression division in March, 1982, where he remained until being named fire chief in November of 1986.

Lane and his wife of 24 years, Marge, have two sons, Kurt and Ryan, and a daughter, Stephanie.

A Wayne Memorial High School graduate, Lane received an associate degree from Henry Ford Community College, majoring in fire science. He continued his education at Madonna University and at the University of Michigan, Dearborn.

Vo-Tech Center students honored for designs

Two graphic design students at the William Ford Vocational-Technical Center have won awards for logo designs, instructor Jim Horton has announced.

Aimee Bruckner, a John Glenn High senior, won a competition to design a logo for a new business product, a sauce label for local businesswoman Jan Ricerz. More than 75 students from the vocational-technical center entered the contest. Bruckner, who has a two-year, perfect grade point average as a graphic design student, won $100.

Farra Winters, a Wayne Memorial High senior, won a competition to design a logo for a brochure, sponsored by the Homeless Children and Youth Program of the Detroit Public Schools. She received a gift certificate and a sweatshirt.

Friends of Mill warm up Christmas season

The temperatures were chilly, but the atmosphere was warm when the Friends of the Mill resumed their annual Christmas lighting ceremony.

The group, which was formed seven years ago to raise funds for the Nankin Mill's restoration and improvements, welcomed Santa Claus to the event, which was dropped last winter because of a major construction project at the mill.

The Friends, headed by president Denise Johnson, welcomed Santa and Amyre Makupson, Channel 50 TV news anchorwoman, and about 100 people for the caroling and lighting event.

The caroling was led by Westland area Girl Scouts, who were joined by city and county parks department officials.

Johnson also presented certificates of appreciation to county parks director Hurley Coleman and two of his staffers for their ongoing support.

After the lights were turned on, Santa walked to a nearby tent where he greeted children and heard their Christmas gift requests.

The addition to the mill, on [illegible] east of Farmington Road, is expected to be opened next February.

The mill, opened 130 years to provide water power to nearby farms, was later bought by Ford Motor Co. in the early history of the auto firm to produce parts. It was later sold to the county and used as a nature center.

Local groups and businesses helping the Friends with the Christmas ceremony were Handy Andy's, Leright Restaurant, Nankin Transit Authority and City Council (who provided a van for shuttle service), county parks employees and the Wayne-Ford Civic League.

Livonia trustee Timmons gives support to homework

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Public Schools trustee Kenneth Timmons fears Tyler Elementary parents got the wrong message in June when administrator Kent Gage told them that the Livonia Board of Education discourages homework for elementary students.

"We need to say loud and clear that we support homework and that we are not against it," Timmons said during a recent study session in which trustees debated whether to write a districtwide policy which specifically deals with homework. Right now, rules on homework are made by individual building administrators.

The debate continues at 6:30 tonight in administrative offices at 15125 Farmington Road.

The Livonia district includes the northern section of Westland.

Parents at Tyler, a school north of Seven Mile and east of Farmington Road, triggered the debate last May when, worried that standards are too low for Tyler students, they asked for a meeting with administrators and teachers.

During the meeting which Timmons and other trustees attended, Gage, director of elementary education, said he fields more questions from parents over homework than over any other issue. Some want more given, others want less given, he said.

Then Gage added: the school board discourages homework for elementary students because it believes it's more important for youngsters to be involved after school in family and social activities.

Since then, the trustees asked Gage to review the district's elementary homework policy and to see if other districts have a districtwide policy on such homework.

At Monday's study session, in a five page memo to Superintendent Ken Watson, Gage wrote that a multitude of opinion exists on the value of homework for elementary students, but that little research exists to buttress those opinions.

"There is no evidence that at the elementary level homework affects achievement," Gage wrote.

He also said few districts have a board policy on homework. "Only one district surveyed responds that they have a board policy that directs more than 15 minutes of homework in any grade at the elementary level."

Timmons came to the session armed with articles urging homework for all students.

"Homework has never been more important in your child's education," read one Reader's Digest article.

School administrators nationwide tend to agree that homework enhances education for most students," read a newspaper article.

A third article called homework "an important bridge between home and school."

Timmons said he is not seeking mandatory homework assignments, just a written statement from the board that it supports and even encourages doing of school work at home.

Convalescent center seeks volunteers

Volunteers are needed to staff a new gift shop at the DMC Nursing and Convalescent Center in Dearborn Heights.

Persons 18 years and older will work in a partnership with residents of the convalescent center, a spokeswoman said.

The shop will be operated with a volunteer sales associate and a resident. This unique painership provides residents with an outlet to display their crafts, additionally, working in the shop gives volunteers and residents the opportunity to meet people and provide a valuable service. Volunteers are asked to provide three to five hours of time to staff the gift shop, which sells items created by residents, as well as other gifts.

The shop will be staffed by a volunteer and a resident at all times and is open seven days a week. Proceeds benefit programs for the residents.

Special programs and facilities are provided so that residents can pursue interests and hobbies on their own or join others in organized group activities.

To volunteer, persons may call administrator Susan Ritzert, 291-6200.

Area boy seeks $100,000 for lung transplant

BY RALPH R. ECHTENAW
STAFF WRITER

Canton Township resident Gregory Unger needs $100,000 for a double lung transplant.

The 14-[illegible] with cystic fibrosis, a genetic disease that attacks the respiratory and digestive systems.

Without a new set of lungs, Greg is not expected to survive [illegible]

Mother Barbara Unger said she is "terrified" about trying to raise the money, "but when it's your child, you do it."

The cost of the operation and [illegible] is expected to be $500,000, but the Unger insurance covers just 80 percent of that. Hence the need to raise $100,000.

JIM JAGDFELD/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

Mike Miller, who coordinates fund-raising campaigns for the Children's Organ Transplant Association, was in Michigan Thursday, Dec. 8, to hold an organizational meeting for the volunteers who will attempt to raise the money for Greg Unger.

COTA, formed in 1986 to assist a transplant candidate in Bloomington, Ind., has since expanded to take in the whole country. A staff of seven helps to plan about 100 capital campaigns per year on behalf of individuals in need of transplants, Miller said.

At present, Greg Unger's campaign is one of about 75 that COTA is sponsoring.

The success rate of COTA-sponsored campaigns, Miller said, is 80-90 percent, because "when a community finds there's a genuine need for one of their own, they do come out for us."

The campaign for Greg Unger began Nov. 18 and has collected more than $7,000, mostly from a bake sale at Botsford Hospital.

Barbara Unger, a unit secretary at Botsford, said she is astonished at the generosity of people who have heretofore been strangers to her.

"I couldn't believe people were coming up to me and handing me a $20 bill and buying a cookie," she said. "It's just incredible. With all the bad things in the world, it's nice to know there are people out there with kind hearts."

Miller said the typical COTA campaign runs 12-16 weeks in length. COTA's participation, however, is minimal after events are set in motion. Success or failure, then, depends on the volunteers.

"It's going to be up to the local people here to take the ball and run with it," Miller said.

Assuming that sufficient money is raised, Greg Unger will travel to St. Louis next summer, where he will receive new lungs and remain for up to a year.

"The transplant is half of Greg's battle," Miller said. "Sustaining his life after the transplant is the other half.

"Life will never be normal for Greg as you or I may know it to be." Even then, Miller said, Greg will have to take anti-rejection medication for the rest of his life, which costs $800 to $1,000 per month.

Greg's condition prevents him from being as active as other boys his age, and he has a reduced schedule at Stevenson Junior High School.

Few of his classmates are aware that Greg has cystic fibrosis, his mother said. "He's a little self-conscious about it."

The campaign organizers are depending on local service organizations to assist in raising the money for Greg's transplant.

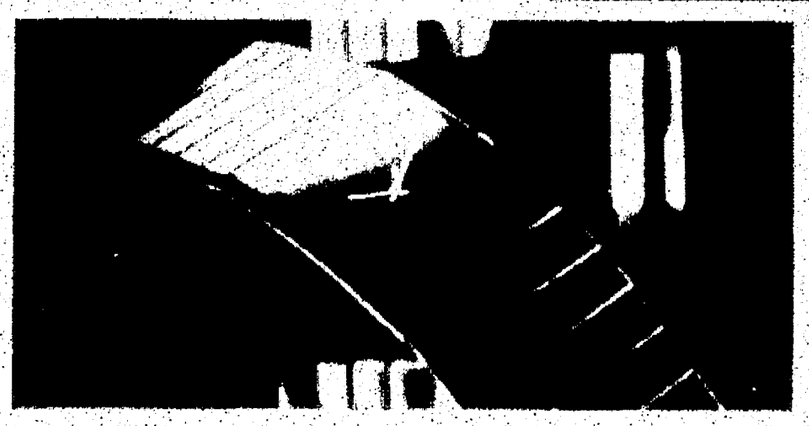

Anyone who would like to help should call Greg's cousin, Larry Tinskey, at (810) 363-5243, or call Tinskey's pager at (810) 916-0984.

Greg's father, Bill Unger, can be reached at (810) 468-3492. Or call Carol at (810) 731-3260.

A bank account has been opened for campaign contributions under the name "COTA for Greg" at the National Bank of Detroit, 45345 Ford Road in Canton. Donations may be sent to any NBD branch.

House to vote on assisted suicide

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

The showdown vote on banning assisted suicide will come this week in the state House of Representatives' lame-duck session.

The Senate Wednesday gave the bill 26-9 approval, as expected. Unlike a 1992 version which expired in mid-November, the new measure, Senate Bill 1311, would be a permanent addition to the criminal code.

"We need to protect the vulnerable from unwittingly becoming victims of assisted suicide," said Sen. Fred Dillingham, R-Fowlerville, sponsor of the new measure, SB 1311.

Backers of the ban want to keep a live law in front of the state Supreme Court as it argues the constitutionality of making the assisting of a suicide a four-year felony. Their avowed target is Jack Kevorkian, the retired West Bloomfield pathologist who already has assisted 21 terminally ill people in ending their lives.

■ 'I am angry especially because this Legislature refuses to give up control over something that is not properly ours. We were elected to serve as senators, not to serve as God. Let the public make their own decisions.'

Lana Pollack
State senator

The Legislature's 1992 ban on assisted suicide was struck down in lower courts for being unconstitutionally adopted.

The Senate shot down amendments by Sen. Jim Berryman, D-Adrian, to regulate assisted suicide. It also rejected an effort by Sen. Lana Pollack, D-Ann Arbor, to place the question before voters.

Here is how area senators voted on passage of SB 1311:

YES — Robert Geake, R-Northville, George Z. Hart, D-Dearborn.

NO — William Faust, D-Westland.

Jack Faxon: "In the last 20 or 30 years, modern medicine has prolonged life. We heard before that there was some God-like vision that came down and said, 'Thou shalt have a respirator.' And there was another vision that came down and said, 'Thou shalt have dialysis.' . . . Whose life is it anyway? Everywhere I go, people think they own their own bodies — in spite of what the Michigan Senate has said."

Pollack: 'I am angry especially because this Legislature refuses to give up control over something that is not properly ours. We were elected to serve as senators, not to serve as God . . . Let the public make their own decisions . . . When my colleagues say that people are only depressed, I say that perhaps if you had no arms, no legs, no sight and the only way to control pain was to dope you into semi-consciousness, you might have a depression that was reality-based."

Dillingham: 'Emotions will drive you in one way on this issue, but I do know we need to protect the the vulnerable from being abused and unwittingly becoming victims of assisted suicide. And you simply cannot legislate that protection without banning the practice entirely." He said Michigan had passed landmark laws on pain management.

On the Berryman amendment, Dillingham quoted the New England Journal of Medicine as saying Oregon faces problems with its law allowing assisted suicide: "This may not satisfy the federal regulations governing prescription drugs. The types of drugs that would be prescribed for this lethal purpose are likely to be those that are regulated under the federal Controlled Substances Act."

Lawmaker office funds voted out of existence

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Michigan legislators will end their practice of maintaining "officeholder expense funds" in a year.

The Legislature also passed a "Doug Cruce law," prohibiting lawmakers who resign in midterm to become lobbyists during their term of office. It was so dubbed because Cruce, R-Troy, left the Senate in spring of 1991 to take a higher-paid job as president of the Michigan Insurance Federation.

"None of the freshmen had OEFs," said Rep. Dan Gustafson, R-Williamston, the freshman who sponsored Hose Bill 4837 to stop them. "Other lawmakers spent down or closed their OEFs."

Under the bill, which passed the Senate overwhelmingly and is on its way to Gov. John Engler's desk, lawmakers may spend whatever is left, give it to a non-profit group, transfer it to a campaign committee (if the OEF contained no corporate money) or use it to retire a debt.

The House concurred 93-0 in Senate amendments. All area lawmakers voted yes except the absent Justine Barns, D-Westland, Penny Crissman, R-Rochester, and Richard Young, D-Dearborn Heights.

Senate majority leader Dick Posthumus, R-Alto, praised the "bi-partisan, bicameral, four-bill legislative ethics package that makes the most comprehensive changes to current lobby and campaign finance law in several years."

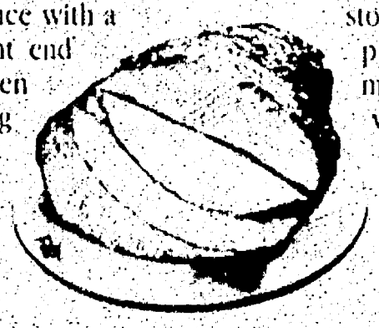

Besides the Gustafson OEF bill, the package contains:

- SB 1319 which lowers to $501 the threshhold at which lobbyists must report spending on trips and gifts to legislators (effective Jan. 1, 1995).
- HB 4371 which bans all cash honoraria for legislators. It is punishable by a fine of up to $1,000 or 90 days in jail (effective Jan. 1, 1995).
- HB 4326, which bans resigning lawmakers from becoming lobbyists or lobbying agents during the term of which to which they were elected (effective Jan. 1, 1995).

Incinerator agency rejects demand to close

A regional incinerator agency is refusing to consider a demand from an environmental group that the incinerator shut down.

Instead, the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority intends to move ahead with its proposed waste-to-energy conversion of the 32-year old facility on Inkster Road in Dearborn Heights.

The Westland City Council is scheduled to hold a study session tonight (Monday) to discuss the conversion with action expected soon. The Garden City Council has scheduled a special meeting Tuesday night to act on the proposal.

The demand for the incinerator's closing came from the Mackinac (Michigan) chapter of the Sierra Club.

"It's about time the (federal) Environmental Protection Agency recognizes that this incinerator poses a public health threat," said Ed McArdle, chairman of the state chapter's southeast Michigan group.

McArdle cited an EPA letter of July 14 to the incinerator authority, which includes Westland, Garden City, Inkster, Dearborn Height and Wayne, that dioxin emission levels may present "an imminent and substantial endangerment to the public health or welfare or the environment."

But J. Erik Schaeffer, executive director of the authority, discounted the Sierra Club's claims, saying that the EPA letter cited by McArdle is quoted out of context.

The letter, Schaeffer said, is part of the EPA's nation-wide information gathering program.

The director stressed that the EPA letter doesn't single out the authority, as implied by the Sierra Club.

Schaeffer said the EPA letter was sent to all similar incinerator agencies to generate a date-base.

The director contends that the incinerator is one of the best operated and maintained solid waste facilities in the country and continues to be run in compliance with its clean air permits.

In responding to the Sierra Club's demand to close, Schaeffer said the authority has re-affirmed its decision to move ahead with the proposed waste-to-energy project, which he said includes new state-of-the-art pollution control equipment. When completed, the facility will be even cleaner, he said.

"The new equipment will satisfy EPA's new, extremely stringent air emissions in all pollutant categories, including dioxins and furans, which will be reduced to negligible levels."

Compared to the alternatives for disposal of solid waste and generating electricity, Schaeffer said the new waste-to-energy facility will generate significantly fewer air emissions than landfilling or burning fossil fuels, Schaeffer said.

"With this in mind, it seems odd that the Sierra Club would be advocating actions that would actually result in increased pollution," he concluded.

Mackinac (Michigan) Chapter of the Sierra Club today called for an immediate shutdown of the Central Wayne County Sanitation Authority incinerator located near the corner of Inkster and Annapolis roads in Dearborn Heights.

McArdle said dioxins are formed by burning chlorinated wastes such as plastics, bleached papers, certain solvents and pesticides and are considered by many scientists to be one of the most toxic substances known.

Because of its location, the communities most affected by incinerators' toxins don't contribute trash to it.

At the Dearborn Heights incinerator, the cities most affected because of the direction of the prevailing winds are in the Downriver region as well as a corner of Detroit and Windsor, Ontario.

McArdle was critical of the incinerator authority's actions in increasing its capacity, applying scrubbers and converting to a waste-to-energy facility. He cited an EPA study that indicates even with the most advanced controls, dioxins are still emitted and the ash residue is even more toxic.

In calling for the incinerator's shutdown, McArdle feels that the member communities will discover the benefits of recycling.

"When they find that recycling is much cheaper and makes so much sense, they will never go back to the expensive and dangerous technology of incineration. They will feel better that they don't have to dump toxins on themselves and their neighbors."

Popular teacher dies; touched many lives

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

For 37 years, with his cheerful smile, boundless energy and love for teaching and the students he taught, Robert Stoner touched the lives of countless Livonia school district residents, both young and old.

Many residents have written notes of condolence this past week to his widow, Nancy Stoner, recalling those moments that made the Frost Middle School teacher special in their lives.

The school serves part of the Westland portion of the district.

Stoner, who joined the district in 1957 and was the second-highest senior teacher in the district, died Nov. 23 at the University of Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor. At 64, he was just months shy of retirement.

"Mr. Stoner was a fine teacher and a thoughtful, caring man," wrote Kathy Ladd, a district teacher.

"He truly made a mark on Paul's life, and he will be missed dearly," wrote Ray and Jody Perez, parents of a student.

"He was always willing to help anybody, and everybody, in their time of need," wrote student Michele Nunn.

Stoner taught both business education and language arts at Frost. But many students got to know him most in his job as director of student activities.

"He was very popular with both the kids and teachers, on activity nights, he always would be there," said Herb Hutchison, retired Frost principal who worked with Stoner at both Frost and the former Whitman Junior High School.

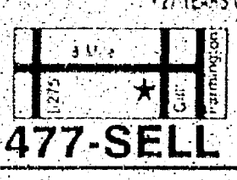

Robert Stoner

Born in 1930 in Rensselaer, Ind., he graduated from both Manchester College in Indiana and Wayne State University.

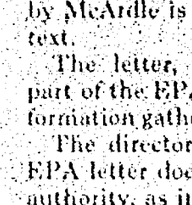

A service was were held at Trinity Church of the Brethren in Redford. Burial was at Glen Eden Memorial Gardens in Livonia. Officiating were the Rev. Theodore Taylor and Dr. Paul Hoffman, president of McPherson College in Kansas.

Stoner also taught music, was a talented tenor, and was well-known among local musicians. For 25 years, he directed music at Trinity Church of the Brethren.

Engler backs Heintz for party chair

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

The press rumor mill was correct: Susan Heintz is on her way to becoming Michigan Republican chair.

Gov. John Engler confirmed to the GOP State Committee in Grayling that he would support Heintz's bid to the top party job.

"It's a dream come true to me," said Heintz, 46, of Novi, who now heads Engler's Detroit office. She currently is chairing the inaugural committee for her boss' second term.

Did she seek the job, or did he ask her?

"It's something we both felt would be a perfect fit," she replied. "The governor felt I was best for the job."

Heintz is known for governmental rather than party work. She's a former Northville Township trustee, clerk and supervisor; former Wayne County commissioner; former Rouge Watershed Council chair, and former board member of SEMTA, the regional transportation authority.

"I love this work in the Republican Party. It has been real supportive for me. I was a precinct delegate and secretary of the old 2nd Congressional District (in Carl Pursell's days as U.S. representative).

"I have a proven track record within the party. I'm a proven fundraiser. I had two for John Engler in Detroit when he was Senate majority leader. I've worked with candidates.

■ 'I have a proven track record within the party. I'm a proven fund-raiser. I had two for John Engler in Detroit when he was Senate majority leader. I've worked with candidates.'

Susan Heintz
Probable GOP state chair

"I had an excellent reception (in Grayling). I haven't had a single person not say they wouldn't support me."

Even from the Religious Right, which quizzes even secretary of state candidates for their views on abortion?

"I met with many from the Religious Right. They were happy with my views," she said.

The election is up to delegates to the Republican State Convention in Detroit, Feb. 2-3. Engler's decision to back her now — prior to local district conventions — will head off the likelihood of other candidates getting into the race.

If and when elected, Heintz will succeed David Doyle, 36, retiring after two two-year terms. Engler spokesman John Truscott said the governor had discussed his pick with top GOP leaders, and there should be no problem at the state convention.

Doyle said his decision not to seek a third term was difficult. He announced no plans, but there is speculation he may become Engler's chief of staff, replacing Dan Pero, who is leaving to work on the presidential campaign of former Tennessee Gov. Lamar Alexander.

Truscott said Engler told his staff he has picked a new chief of staff but isn't ready yet to say who it will be.

Heintz said she will be a full-time party chair, like Doyle, working from the party's suite of offices in Lansing Township.

Heintz said she has two goals:

■ Taking over the district of Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, who died suddenly Nov. 28 after winning his 21st House term with nearly 70 percent of the vote. Heintz's prospectus: "We always do well in special elections. We're not going to let anything go."

■ Capturing U.S. Sen. Carl Levin's seat in 1996. Democrat Levin hasn't announced whether he'll seek a fourth term.

Some Republican chairs have moved up the political ladder while others have sunk into obscurity.

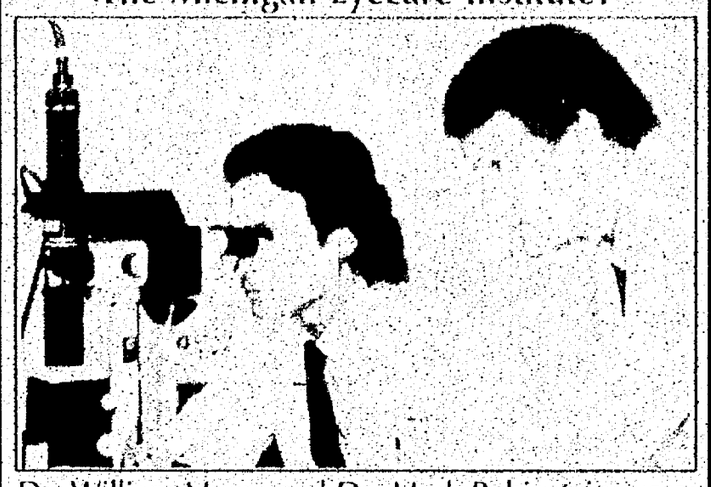

First woman to lead the GOP was Elly Peterson, of Charlotte, in Gov. George Romney's days in the 1960s. She was drafted for a U.S. Senate campaign and lost.

Peterson was succeeded by William McLaughlin, of Northville, who had been her executive director. McLaughlin led the GOP during Gov. William Milliken's early years and went on to direct the state Commerce Department.

Following McLaughlin was former state Rep. Mel Larsen of northern Oakland County. He ran for secretary of state and was swamped.

When Richard Headlee was nominated for governor in 1982, he turned the party sharply conservative and brought in E. Spencer Abraham as chair. Abraham is Michigan's new U.S. senator.

Doyle had been the GOP's executive director under Abraham and moved up to chair in 1991 following Engler's gubernatorial victory. Under his watch, the GOP re-elected Engler, took over a U.S. Senate seat, won the secretary of state post after 40 years, took control of the state House after 28 years, gained one congressional seat, and dominated state education board elections.

Curl up with the best new cookbooks

It never ceases to amaze me that there are people who have time to write cookbooks. What amazes me even more is that many of these books get published.

Publishers spend megabucks to make sure foodies like me get a copy, and hope for a positive review. Since the first of the year, I have received well over 100 different cookbooks. I can name the best simply by counting the fingers on one hand.

Even if it was the last cookbook on earth, I would see no reason whatsoever to shell out $20 for a 155 page cookbook entitled "In the Kitchen with Bob" who is, as he proclaims, "the host of QVC's enormously popular cooking show."

I watch television and I've never heard of QVC, let alone someone by the name of Bob Bowersox.

Then there are respected cookbook authors like James McNair who also penned a 159 page cookbook that sells for $24.95. His tome, entitled "James McNair Cooks Italian," has a recipe calling for five cups of "fresh young herb leaves or sprigs such as basil, borage, lemon balm, burnet and arugula in addition to one cup of pesticide-free edible flowers such as daylily petals."

I ask you dear readers, where in metro Detroit can you find borage and burnet, or a cup of pesticide free daylily petals? Since McNair's cookbook also includes dramatic photographs of the prepared recipes, I figure there are about 100 recipes in his book, so to see James McNair cook Italian, it's costing you a quarter a recipe.

I've gotten much better recipes, from the buck I send to an anonymous P.O. box in the back of "Bon Appetit" magazine. But enough of the negative, there were a few books that did cross my desk that have earned a respected slot on my shelves.

Homemade treats

If you cook and like to give out homemade delicacies, especially during the holidays, you must pick up "Homemade in the Kitchen" by Barry Bluestein and Kevin Morrissey (Viking Books, $24.95). This turn-of-the-century cookbook for the 1990s is a source book for discovering the kitchen arts of past generations.

With this book you will learn how to bottle Victorian catsups from scratch, how to bottle delectable cordials without a basement distillery, and how to transform a humble bottle of vinegar into a coveted addition to the pantry or gift basket.

When you call or write me with food questions, I have an arsenal of "how to" cookbooks within arm's reach that never go out of style. This year's top informational cookbooks are shared by four writers who leave little to question. Maria Josefa Lluria De O'Higgins', "A Taste of Old Cuba" (Harper/Collins $25) contains more than 150 authentic and traditional Cuban dishes. Filled with stories and interesting anecdotes, this topped my list of the best ethnic books. I love paella and the recipe from the book is nothing short of stellar.

Great reads

Irena Chalmers, culinary humorist and cookbook curmudgeon has a great read with her "Great Food Almanac" (Collins Publishers $25). This is a book for folks who like to read and enjoy a feast of facts from A to Z all with regards to the world of food. Chock full of hot lines, informational sources, mail order goodies and the type of information one would share on a bar stool, it's just plain fun to read. The recipe for Tapenade (black olive caviar) is to die for.

The folks at Pillsbury have put together a great book entitled "Healthy Baking" (Viking Press $22.95) that includes fresh approaches to more than 200 favorite recipes. In addition to an exorbitant nutritional breakdown of each recipe, I even found a healthy grain bread that you can make in your bread machine, that tastes good to boot!

A little closer to home, the folks at HP Books have discovered the expertise of Toula Pateadis from Kitchen Glamor fame and printed up her Pressure Cooker Cookbook (HP Books $12) If you own a pressure cooker or anticipate a future purchase this is the authoritative source on everything you can make in a pressure cooker. Try the South of the Border Black Bean Soup, a James Gang favorite recipe, which cooks in 45 minutes from start to finish with a pressure cooker.

CAVIAR

■ Though often thought of as an expensive food for the wealthy, this delicacy can be found at more affordable prices. An ounce of caviar is enought to give a good sampling to four people.

BY ELEANOR AND RAY HEALD
SPECIAL WRITERS

If you have the idea that caviar is always an expensive food for the wealthy, associated with status and luxury celebrations or trendy restaurants, read on. Here's everything you need to know about this delicacy that has its special niche in the world of gastronomy. You may find prices more affordable than you thought. An ounce of caviar gives four people a good sampling.

Worldwide, caviar is garnering more advocates. This interest is occurring at a time when the traditional source, the prized eggs of the Caspian Sea sturgeon may be endangered. Only 15 years ago, the Soviet Union was exporting 2,000 tons of fish roe annually. Last year, it dropped to 190 tons of Caspian Sea caviar.

The Soviet Union's collapse gave rise to poachers in the Caspian Sea, home to 90 percent of the world's sturgeon and 95 percent of the world's supply of black caviar. Under governance by the former Soviet Union, strict fishing quotas during sturgeon spawning season were enforced. Netting was forbidden.

Without controls, widespread poaching and netting by newly independent fishermen from Zerbaijan, Kazakhistan and Turkmenistan became commonplace. Sturgeon, which mature between 5 and 20 years old, were caught before they returned to spawning rivers. It was not a good time to be a sturgeon because it seemed that new, weak governments were doing little to stop abuses until rules were again enforced about six months ago.

Poachers lacked skills to process caviar properly. It was imported after poor handling and some was inedible. Immature roe that American caviar: Carolyn Collins with a sampling of her Great Lakes fresh water caviars. Collins started her company in 1983.

HOW TO SERVE CAVIAR

Place caviar in a small glass bowl set inside a larger bowl filled with crushed ice and serve from a non-metal spoon. Any metal, including silver, will impart a metallic flavor to the berries.

Serve with a glass of delicate style Brut champagne such as Taitlinger Brut La Francaise or a 1.5 oz. pour of ice-chilled premium vodka such as Stolichnaya or Tanqueray Sterling. The best Russian caviar should be eaten without any accompaniment of sour cream, chopped eggs or onions. Dressing up less-prized caviars can enhance enjoyment. The following are only a few suggestions:

- Create shaped toasts and place golden-colored salmon caviar on one half and black caviar on the other.
- Carve out small baby red potatoes with a melon baller. Fill with sour cream and top with caviar.
- Top mini-size potato pancakes with sour cream and caviar.
- Top broiled oysters or clams with caviar before serving.

BY MARY QUINLEY
SPECIAL WRITER

There's a whole lot of giggling going on in this Livonia kitchen. But don't be fooled. Some serious dinner preparations are in the making: one dozen breaded pork chops, a tossed salad, mashed potatoes (the real ones!), corn and applesauce.

Thirteen-year-old Margaret Day, an honors student, takes charge when mom and dad, Pat and Bob Day, are working. Her two sisters, Kathy, 11 years old and also an honor roll student and 8-year-old Stephanie provide important roles as assistant chefs. The three girls attend St. Michael's School in Livonia.

"I usually brown the pork chops and Kathy and Stephanie do the breading," said Margaret.

The three-step assembly line breading process begins on the kitchen table. Stephanie, with streaks of powder-white through her bangs and sticky flour-caked fingers enjoys her "hands-on" assignment. She shakes the plastic bag with the pork chop in it until the flour coating smothers the meat.

"I help because it would take Margaret a really long time. Besides it's fun and (the pork chops) taste good," said Stephanie.

Step number two, dipping the floured pork chop into an egg and milk mixture is meticulously done by Kathy. Next the chops are coated with cracker crumbs. Kathy also peels the potatoes.

Margaret adds oil to the frying pan, heats it and browns the chops before baking them in the oven.

Other favorite meals the family prepares?

"I like to make tuna burgers," said Margaret.

Everyone enjoys the combination of tuna, American cheese, boiled eggs, celery, mayonnaise and pickled relish baked on a bun.

Who appreciates the dinner the most?

"Probably mom," says Margaret.

The girls have helped in the kitchen since final or second grade flooded the market and was being sold as premium caviar last year and earlier this year is not likely this holiday season. "This is especially true if you purchase from a reputable merchant," Farmington Hills caviar broker Larry Nagle said. His Russian Caviar Company, which began in 1991 with local distribution of about 300 cans, has now gone national distributing fresh and pasteurized Russian caviar through beverage distributors. Sales are up 30 percent over last year.

Russian Caviar Co.'s caviars can be purchased at Cloverleaf Market in Southfield and Shopping Center Market in West Bloomfield. Cloverleaf sells the Beluga at $38 an ounce and Osetra at $26 an ounce. Pasteurized is $31 for 3.25oz. "We guarantee satisfaction with these caviars," Cloverleaf's Paul Lutfy said.

These remarks were echoed by caviar fanatic and industry watchdog Bruce Sobol, co-owner with his brother Eric of Manhattan's Caviarteria. "Dozens of little companies pop up each year and then disappear," he said. "Caviarteria has been around since the 1940s when my father founded the company. Our image depends on the highest quality and service."

When Sobol learns about a new company, his vigilante instincts are aroused and he has an employee purchase some of the caviar so he can taste it. "The sale of inferior caviar hurts all premium caviar sales," he said.

Caviarteria is America's largest caviar-selling operation with a booming mail-order business. "There were some problems after the Soviet Union breakup," Sobol said. "During the last year, much of what papers and magazines reported about pollution was a scare tactic. With fishing laws enforced again, we now have more opportunities to choose the best caviar. We can ask processors to do thing sour way. We shop around and sometimes get lower prices than before the breakup of the Soviet Union."

For nearly 70 years, the Petrossian family has been selecting caviar directly from the fisheries on the Caspian Sea. Petrossian is the largest buyer and importer of Russian caviar to France, the United States and Canada. Locally, Merchant of Vino is the exclusive broker.

The Merchant's John Jonna quoted the following prices per ounce for Petrossian: $65 for Beluga, $38 for Osetra and $28 for Sevruga sold only at the Birmingham and Southfield locations. American sturgeon caviar from an east coast supplier is also available for $12 to $35 an ounce and East Russian caviar for $20 to $49 an ounce.

Understanding Russian caviar

Basically, there are three species of prized sturgeon in the Caspian Sea. Because you like caviar from one, does not mean that you will like all of them.

Beluga is the most touted and therefore the most expensive. It is harvested from sturgeon averaging 800 to 900 pounds. These are the largest eggs with the most delicate flavors.

Osetra is characterized by gray-brown eggs with a golden tinge and a strong, almost nutty flavor. It comes from 250 to 600 pound sturgeons.

Sevruga with the smallest eggs is the least expensive. Gray to black in color with a strong flavor, it comes from sturgeon that mature in five years.

The important term uniting all top quality caviar is the word Malossol. This is the light treatment with salt allowing caviar flavors to perk the palate while retaining freshness for up to three months. "All fresh caviars are Malossol," Sobol said. He also suggested the best tasting order for the uninitiated is Beluga, Sevruga, then Osetra.

American Caviar

There's no bigger proponent of American caviar than Carolyn Collins of Chicago-based Carolyn Collins Caviar Co. Her company, founded in 1983, has attracted the attention of such clients as the Ritz-Carlton where we caught up with her. Mail orders for her caviars are brisk.

Collins, a sports fishing enthusiast, created an original technique to make her salmon and trout roes and has scoured the Great Lakes to find whitefish and sturgeon suppliers. She has gone beyond traditional caviar and designed flavored ones which she calls "expanded concepts." In this vein, she's created Caviar Peppar and Citron, infused with Absolut Peppar and Citron. There's also Ginger, Midori, Grand Passion (all $3.30 an ounce) and Wasabi Tobikko ($4.50 an ounce). Kosher caviars are also available.

When we conducted a small caviar tasting, including those produced by Carolyn Collins, people who were not caviar connoisseurs preferred the infused. Caviar aficionados liked the Collins fresh water salmon ($5.10 an ounce), farm raised trout ($5.10 an ounce) and American hackleback sturgeon ($9.35 an ounce).

Serving caviar

Place caviar in a small glass bowl set inside a larger bowl filled with crushed ice and serve from a non-metal spoon. Any metal, including silver, will impart a metallic flavor to the berries.

Serve with a glass of delicate style Brut champagne such as Taittinger Brut La Francaise or a 1.5 oz. pour of ice-chilled premium vodka such as Stolichnaya or Tanqueray Sterling.

The best Russian caviar should be eaten without any accompaniment of sour cream, chopped eggs or onions. Dressing up less-prized caviars can enhance enjoyment. The following are only a few suggestions:

- Create shaped toasts and place golden-colored salmon caviar on one half and black caviar on the other.
- Carve out small baby red potatoes with a melon baller. Fill with sour cream and top with caviar.
- Top mini-size potato pancakes with sour cream and caviar.
- Top broiled oysters or clams with caviar before serving.

Mail ordering caviar

The following sources guarantee blue-ice 24-hour Federal Express delivery. Prices quoted in company catalogs can change with the market.

- Russian and American Caviars: Caviarteria, 1-(800)4-CAVIAR, Petrossian, 1-(800)828-9241
- American Fresh Water Caviars only: — Carolyn Collins, (312) 226-0342. For $6, Collins also sells a great cookbook using caviar in recipes.

For the quality, Caviarteria's Russian caviar prices are reasonable. The cost of $45 an ounce for vacuum packed in glass Prime Beluga (that keeps four months when refrigerated unopened) plus a shipping charge of $5 for any quantity beat the competition.

HOMEMADE COFFEE LIQUEUR

2 cups strong ground fresh coffee beans (French roast)
3 cups boiling water
1¼ cups granulated sugar
½ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
1 teaspoon glycerin
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
3 cups vodka

Put the coffee grounds and the boiling water into a bowl and mix thoroughly. Line a fine mesh sieve with a coffee filter and strain immediately into a four cup glass measuring cup. Combine the coffee liquid and the sugars in a medium saucepan.

Heat for 5 minutes over low heat, stirring constantly, just until the mixture begins to steam. (Do not boil). Remove the pan from the heat and allow to cool. Stir in the glycerin, vanilla and vodka. Using a funnel, divide the liqueur between two 20 ounce decanters. The coffee liqueur should be ready to drink in 3-4 days and has a shelf life of 2-3 months.

Yield: 5 cups. Recipe from "Homemade In The Kitchen" by Barry Bluestein and Kevin Morrissey, (Viking Studio Books). Glycerin is available at drug stores and gourmet shops.

TAPENADE

1 cup Greek Kalamata Olives, pitted,
2 (2-ounce cans anchovy fillets, with their oil)
3½-ounce can tuna, drained
½ cup capers, drained
1 teaspoon mustard
1 cup light olive oil
Juice of ½ lemon
2 tablespoons brandy (optional)

Combine olives, anchovies, tuna, capers and mustard in a food processor and process until a puree is formed. With the motor running, add the oil slowly, then add the lemon juice and the brandy. Spoon into a container. Cover and chill for at least 4 hours. Makes ½ cup.

Chef's Note: When I made this, I omitted the anchovy and tuna and it was magnificent!

Recipe from "The Great Food Almanac" by Irena Chalmers, (Collins Publishers).

GUACAMOLE CUBANO

1 large ripe pineapple
4 small avocados
¼ cup Spanish olive oil ¼ cup fresh squeezed lime juice
Dash salt
¼ cup red onion, chopped fine

Slice the pineapple lengthwise in quarters. Peel and remove the core. Cut meat into small cubes and place in a salad bowl. Cut the avocados in half and remove the pits. Carefully remove the skin and cut the avocados into bite sized pieces. Add to pineapple. Whisk together the oil, lime juice and salt and pour it over the fruit. Add the onion and toss gently, being careful not to mash the avocado. Serves 4-6.

Contests

Ice festivals feature cooking

Enter your gingerbread house or decorated cake in contests sponsored by the 13th Annual Plymouth International Ice Sculpture Spectacular.

Churches and castles is this year's Gingerbread House Contest theme. There are four categories — small gingerbread house (15 inches in diameter or less) and large gingerbread house (larger than 15 inches in diameter), Baker's Delight (for culinary students, bakeries or restaurants), and Kid's Creations for ages 10 and under.

Call (313) 455-0052 for information about the gingerbread house contest. Call (313) 261-3680 or (313) 459-6969 for details about the cake contest.

A $25 cash prize from the Westchester Square Mall and Days Gone By stores will be awarded to the first place winner in each category. Second and third place winners will receive ribbons. The houses will be on display in the Westchester Square Mall on Forst Avenue, throughout the Plymouth International Ice Sculpture Spectacular taking place Jan. 11-16, 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Houses must be delivered to Day Gone By on Monday, Jan. 9 between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. There is a $1 entry fee for adults, and $1 for children.

"Salute to the the Sunday Funnies," is the theme of the decorated cake contest. Categories are beginner, advanced (two or more years of experience), junior college culinary student, professional, and youth or teen (under 18 years of age). The registration fee is $10 for adults, $5 for youths and teens.

either setting the table, peeling potatoes or making the salad. It's really nice to come home and the dinner is all prepared and ready to eat," said Pat.

Pat adds that her son Brian "loves to cook" but the 10th grade wrestler, an honor-roll student at Catholic Central High School keeps busy at school.

Kitchen duties are a family affair in the Day household. On a recent Saturday afternoon homemade cranberry sauce gently bubbled in a pot as dad supervised. The family is divided on this one — some like it a lot and the rest of the crew won't touch it.

Homework, basketball, Girl Scouts, church choir and Polish dancing keep the three sisters occupied with outside-the-kitchen activities. But in the kitchen they combine their talents with some laughter. Dinner's ready!

Look for Super Supper on the second Monday of every month in Taste.

Holiday bread: Maple Pumpkin Bread is low in fat and contains a healthy amount of fiber.

Make this year's holidays healthy

The holiday season is the season of plenty — plenty of good cheer, plenty of celebration, plenty of family visits, plenty of gifts, plenty of food. What would make the season even better would be plenty of good nutrition.

Holiday foods have not traditionally been known for their wholesome quality. They include many treats — cookies, cakes, eggnog and others — that are high in fat and sugar and low in vitamins, minerals and dietary fiber. Rich sauces, gravies and frostings also add lots of fat but few nutrients.

It is possible, however, to make some easy changes to traditional holiday foods that can make them festive, delicious and more healthful.

When you begin your holiday baking, consider using whole grains in cookies, cakes and other sweet treats. This will go a long way toward increasing their dietary fiber content, as well as their vitamins and minerals. Use only three-quarters as much fat (butter, shortening, margarine, etc.) as usual and try adding one or two of your favorite dried fruits for flavor.

Fruits and vegetables are essential sources of sound nutrition, and no holiday meal or buffet is complete without them. Cranberry sweet potatoes, baked apples with raisins or a fresh fruit ambrosiaadd colors, textures and tastes that are right in keeping with the season. Vegetable hors d'oeuvres, such as stuffed mushrooms, marinated artichoke hearts and roasted peppers, can be elegant party treats.

Holiday dinners can feature nutritious foods for every course. Start with an apple-walnut-celery-raisin Waldorf salad dressed with plain low-fat yogurt, served on a bed of watercress and garnished with orange slices. Follow it with a vegetable-barley soup or acorn squash soup. With your roast turkey, serve stuffing made with whole grain bread or brown rice and finish the meal with low-fat frozen vanilla yogurt topped with hot cranberry-cinnamon sauce.

When making your holiday breads, try this delicious Maple Pumpkin Bread recipe. In addition to the goodness of beta-carotene-rich pumpkin, the low-fat yogurt or skim milk and the limited amount of oil keeps fat to a minimum. Whole wheat flour and wheat bran in this recipe add a healthy amount of fiber.

MAPLE-PUMPKIN BREAD

1½ cups whole wheat flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup wheat bran
2 eggs
1 cup plain low-fat yogurt (or skim milk)
½ cup maple syrup
2 tablespoons oil
1 cup mashed cooked pumpkin (or canned)

Sift the flour, baking powder and cinnamon into a large bowl. Stir in the bran (and any bran remaining in the sifter). In a medium bowl, mix the remaining ingredients, then quickly stir them into the dry ingredients just until blended.

Spoon the batter into a lightly oiled 5 by 9-inch loaf pan. Bake at 350 degrees until a knife inserted into the middle comes out clean, about 50-60 minutes.

Each of the 12 slices contains 4 grams of fat and 157 calories.

Recipe from the American Institute for Cancer Research.

You can bake a magical pumpkin

AP — Just like Cinderella's fairy godmother, you can magically turn pumpkin into something fantastic — a nutritious and scrumptious brownie. Pumpkin moistens and tenderizes these blond brownies, reducingthe need for fat. Egg whites also pinch-hit for a whole egg, while cocoa stands in for melted chocolate. When you've got the bars baked and cut, wave your knife and watch. Your brownies will disappear like magic, too.

CHOCOLATE PUMPKIN BROWNIES

⅔ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup canned pumpkin
1 whole egg
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon unsweetened cocoa powder
¼ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground nutmeg
⅓ cup miniature semisweet chocolate pieces
Nonstick spray coating

In a large mixing bowl combine brown sugar, pumpkin, egg, egg whites and oil. Beat with an electric mixer on medium speed until blended. Add flour, baking powder, cocoa powder, cinnamon, allspice, salt and nutmeg. Beat on low speed until smooth. Stir in chocolate pieces.

Spray an 11- by 7- by 1½-inch baking pan with nonstick coating. Pour batter into pan; spread evenly. Bake in a 350-degree F oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until a toothpick inserted near the centercomes out clean. Cool in the pan on a wire rack. Cut into 2 inch squares. Makes 15 squares.

Day family shares pork chop recipe

BREADED PORK CHOPS

12 boneless pork chops
1 cup flour
1½ teaspoons seasoning salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs
1 tablespoon milk
2 cups cracker crumbs
Vegetable oil

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Combine flour, salt and pepper in a plastic bag large enough to hold one pork chop for shaking. Set aside.

Beat eggs and milk together. Set aside.

Dip dry pork chop into bag with the flour mixture. Shake until chop is completely covered with flour. Take chop out of bag and gently shake off excess flour.

Dip chop into egg mixture then into cracker crumbs.

In large skillet, brown pork chops in just enough oil to cover bottom of pan. Remove from pan. Place chops on a rack in a casserole dish or on sliced onions or celery to prevent sticking. Cover with foil. Bake one hour. Serves 6.

New cookbook features quick baked desserts

BY KELLY WYGONIS
Staff Writer

Who has time to bake desserts? You can, if you plan ahead, said Elinor Klivans, author of "Bake and Freeze Desserts: 120 Do-Ahead Cakes, Pies, Cookies, Brownies, Bars, Ice Creams, Terrines, and Sorbets (William Morrow & Co. Oct. 20, 1994, $25).

This newly published cookbook fits the needs of today's busy cooks. Klivans shows you how to make luscious desserts weeks in advance.

As a busy mother, cooking teacher and restaurant pastry chef, Klivans has transformed her kitchen into the hardest working pastry assistant imaginable. She is the only pastry chef at a restaurant in Maine, where she is well known for her great desserts.

It dawned on me that if I were ever to have time off, I needed to stockpile a variety of desserts, not just a few basic mixtures, freeze them ahead of time, and have them ready and waiting to serve," said Klivans.

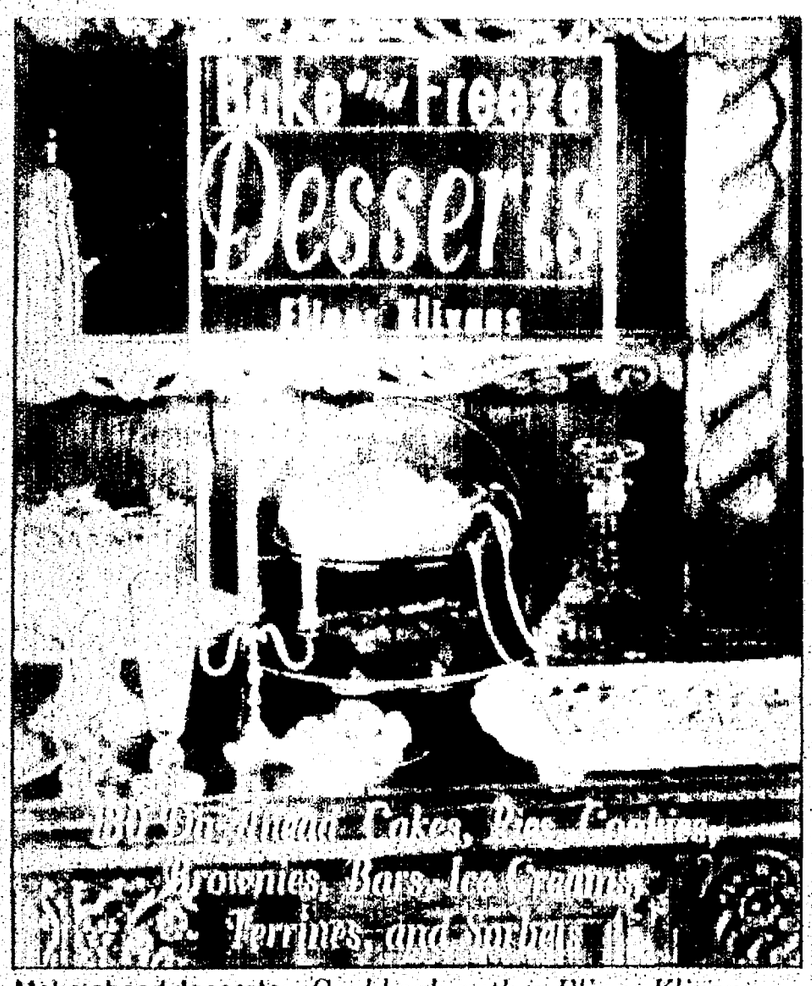

The results: A freezer stocked with everything from separate pastry components to be assembled later, to entire, show-stopping desserts. Klivans shares her recipes and tips in her cookbook.

Especially helpful are her tips for labeling desserts, defrosting them, and storing them. There's a chart that tells you how long nuts and desserts — baked and unbaked — can be kept in the freezer.

Here are a few of her tips for freezing desserts:

- Cool desserts before freezing them.
- Keep freezer temperature as close to 0 degrees F. as possible.
- Label desserts with date and contents.
- Store desserts inside the freezer, not on door shelves.

This was one of my favorite recipes from the book.

Make ahead desserts: Cookbook author Elinor Klivans shows you how to bake desserts in advance to enjoy later in her new book.

Cranberry-pear Crunch

Cranberry-Pear Filling
5 cups peeled and cored pears (about 6 medium pears)
¾ cup plus 1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon unsalted butter, melted
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
1½ cups cranberries, fresh or frozen
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon

Almond Crumb Topping
1 cup unbleached all-purpose flour
1 cup (packed) light brown sugar
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
6 ounces (1½ sticks) cold unsalted butter, cut into 12 pieces
1 cup sliced or slivered blanched almonds, toasted and cooled
Vanilla ice cream for serving with the crunch

To prepare the filling: Cut peeled pears into chunks about 1-inch in size. Put the pears into a 2¼-quart baking container. Use a 10-inch layer pan with 2-inch high sides or a shallow baking dish that is safe to transfer from freezer to oven.

Mix in ¼ cup of the sugar, the melted butter and lemon juice. Taste the filling and add up to 1 tablespoon more sugar. Mix in the cranberries and cinnamon and stir the mixture to coat the pears evenly with cinnamon. Wipe the edges of the baking dish clean.

Mix the topping: Put the flour, brown sugar, and cinnamon in a large bowl and stir together. Add the butter pieces and with an electric mixer, pastry blender or your fingertips mix together just until coarse crumbs form, about ⅛ to ¾-inch in size. Use a spoon to stir in the cooled, toasted almonds. Sprinkle the crumbs over the pear mixture.

To freeze: Wrap the crunch tightly with plastic wrap then heavy aluminum foil, gently pressing the foil against the crunch. Freeze up to one month.

To bake and serve: Uncover the frozen crunch. Position a rack in the middle of the oven. Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Bake the frozen crunch 50 to 55 minutes, until the filling just begins to bubble and the crumb topping is a golden color.

Or defrost the crunch in the refrigerator and bake, uncovered, at 325 degrees F. for 40 to 45 minutes. Let the crunch cool about 15 minutes before serving.

Spoon the warm crunch onto individual plates and serve with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

Cook up holiday traditions

Whether it's going sledding with friends after a fresh snowfall, baking holiday cookies with kids or sending greeting cards to loved ones, winter is a time for traditions.

According to cookbook author Melanie Barnard, the holiday season is also the perfect time to create new opportunities to celebrate with family and friends.

Here are some creative winter occasions worth celebrating:

- For a delicious, easy-to-make snack, spread pesto sauce on Italian bread and top with two tomato slices and two slices of sharp cheddar cheese. Broil 2 to 3 minutes until cheese melts and serve warm.
- End the night relaxing in front of the fire with a hot cup of apple cider or hot chocolate and few of your favorite holiday cookies.
- Invite loved ones over on New Year's Day to reminisce about the old and welcome in the new. Ask each person to bring a favorite photo or memory of the previous year. Spend time sharing stories and remembering all the events and occasions that made this past year special.
- Serve a variety of "new" dishes and ask everyone to bring one of their childhood favorites such as Mom's tuna casserole, meat loaf, peanut butter and jelly sandwiches without the crusts or homemade macaroni and cheese. Share and exchange old recipes and create new favorites.

Turn pumpkin into a brownie

AP — Just like Cinderella's fairy godmother, you can magically turn pumpkin into something fantastic — a nutritious and scrumptious brownie. Pumpkin moistens and tenderizes the blond brownies, reducing the need for fat. Egg whites also pinch-hit for a whole egg, while cocoa stands in for melted chocolate. When you've got the bars baked and cut, wave your knife and watch. Your brownies will disappear like magic, too.

Chocolate Pumpkin Brownies

½ cup packed brown sugar
½ cup canned pumpkin
1 egg white
2 egg whites
2 tablespoons cooking oil
1 cup all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon unsweetened cocoa powder
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon ground allspice
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ cup semisweet chocolate pieces

Spray an 11- by 7- by 1½-inch baking pan with nonstick coating. In a large mixing bowl combine brown sugar, pumpkin, egg white and oil. Beat with an electric mixer on medium speed until blended. Add flour, baking powder, cocoa powder, cinnamon, allspice, salt and nutmeg. Beat on low speed until smooth. Stir in chocolate pieces.

Spread batter into pan; spread evenly. Bake in a 350 degree F oven for 15 to 20 minutes or until a toothpick inserted near the center comes out clean. Cool in the pan on a wire rack. Cut into 2-inch squares. Makes 15 squares.

Breakfasts

Try these to liven it up

Are you looking for breakfast ideas that are satisfying and low in calories? Here are some ideas from Quaker Oats:

- Top cereals with fruit and a dash of cinnamon. Use skim milk instead of whole milk.
- Sip on a smoothie. Blend low-fat yogurt, berries and fruit juice in a blender or food processor until smooth.
- Instead of pastry and doughnuts, eat for a whole wheat bagel or fat free muffin.
- Spread toast with fruit spread instead of margarine and save 5 grams of fat (about 45 fat calories) for each teaspoon you use.

Have holiday fun with your outfits

Is there any other time of year when you can make a fashion statement wearing blinking Christmas tree earrings or a faux diamond and emerald wreath? How often do you leave the house sporting a necklace of flashing lights? 'Tis the season to shine! Instead of splurging on a new Christmas ensemble, why not add some fun to last year's garb with some glitzy, and yes, maybe even gaudy, holiday accessories.

M.J. Burns, fashion director for Hudson's department stores shares her top five accessory picks for this holiday season. Burns says your outfit is not complete without a social wrap, preferably in velvet; a scarf with a holiday motif; rhinestone pins on shoulders, lapels, hats, belts and bags; a glamorous hair accessory; and an embellished belt. Hudson's covers your bare shoulders with a black velvet stole. Also look for fringed and tasseled wraps $40-$60.

At Nelman Marcus in the Somerset Collection, Troy I ogled a flocked velvet and chiffon evening scarf in muted colors of green, burgundy, black or brown $75. Faux leopard fur chases away the chill on New Year's Eve. Jacobson's velvet-lined fur wrap is $165. For a more casual, yet elegant topper, opt for a soft wool winter wonderland scarf by Berek at Jacobson's. The huge 12x64 inch shawl depicts a sleigh ride through the snow, $298. And at Hannah Rose in the Bloomfield Plaza, sensuous chenille boas take you to the gala in high style $27.

Symbols of the season

Holiday motif scarves add a festive touch to a cashmere sweater or traditional red blazer. Hudson's displays a large selection from $18-$55. Guys get in the spirit with silk neckwear from Robert Talbott and Tommy Hilfiger at Jacobson's. Look for jolly St. Nick, $49, and a jaunty poinsettia plaid $32.

Barbara McGraw of Lyon Township spent some time last week shopping for "Grandma's pretties" with her grandson, Joel. "It's fun to make an outfit look like Christmas with a few dazzling accessories," she admitted while purchasing earrings and a necklace at Hudson's. At M.J.'s suggestion, I bypassed most of the holiday jewels and focused on glittery pins. Hudson's Eisenberg Ice rhinestone pins sparkle in the shapes of trees, sleighs and wreaths $18. Carolee fashions limited edition, crystal holiday pins. The snowman and the champagne flute are eye-catchers $95 at Jacobson's.

Crowning glories

Hair embellishments are all the rage. I spied gold and silver deco barrettes in vintage tin advertising boxes at Hudson's $16. Also, beaded headbands $10, giant plaid bows $15, and velvet, chiffon and satin scrunchies $6-$13. At Hannah Rose, a gold filigree barrette with rhinestone center $14 dresses up any holiday do. "A velvet headband is the perfect gift for my sister," said shopper Jean Stewart of Livonia.

To cinch the waist of that taffeta skirt or the black palazzo pants, Hudson's recommends a gold-beaded velvet cummerbund, $28, a black velvet belt with rhinestone buckle, $24 or a gold and silver woven leather belt, $25. Also look for soutache ribbon trims.

And for a final festive holiday touch, paint your lips in creamy "Red Hot" from M.A.C. at the Somerset Collection.

In Jean Shepherd's poignant holiday film, "A Christmas Story," Ralphie's visit to Santa to ask for a Red Rider BB gun is a humorous romp through the classic mall visit with the Big Guy.

For many children, The Visit doesn't always go as idyllically as mom or dad envisioned.

Frances Edison has been assisting Santa for the past four holiday seasons. This year she's at Northland Mall in Southfield boosting little ones onto His lap and keeping the waiting line straight and short.

"Some babies really cry when they come face to face with this big man in a long white beard," she said. "If Santa Claus and I can't calm them down, I suggest the mother bring them back later. This usually happens to children from infants through 2 years, or toddlers who missed their nap."

Edison said kids over three can usually handle the event. They bring in their letters to Santa, are prepared to enumerate their wishes, and even hug the Big Guy when it's time to snap the picture.

New home shopping show features local stores

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

Home shopping really comes home when The Michigan Shopping Network debuts, at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, Dec. 13, in five markets.

Television viewers in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bingham Farms, Franklin and Bloomfield Township can tune into Booth Communications Cable Channel 3 to watch a new half-hour program showcasing merchandise available from Michigan retailers.

Producer and host Michelle Wosniak of St. Clair Shores, said she came up with the idea after watching QVC home shopping shows and wondering how to make this new form of retail advertising work for local business owners.

"I own L'Vogue Boutique on Mack Avenue in Grosse Pointe," she explained. "And I also used to have my own craft show on cable. Combining these experiences makes me a natural to offer the Michigan Shopping Network."

Wozniak said five minutes of air time on the Michigan Shopping Network costs a retailer $1,300 or more. She guarantees no competitors will be featured during the 30-minute broadcast. A retailer can offer one or more products during their five-minute segment. A logo box appears on

Marketing Director

Jennifer McMillan of Troy has joined Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield as Marketing Director. Previously, McMillan was an account executive for Sarah Wolk Associates of Birmingham. She is a 1989 graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in advertising. Tel-Twelve is at the corner of Telegraph and 12 Mile Roads. It is owned and managed by Ramco-Gershenson, Inc. of Southfield.

Chiropractor Cares

Correct Care Chiropractic, 26146 W. Six Mile, Redford, hosts a canned food drive for area needy through Dec. 24. Clients bringing in three or more items for the poor receive a gift certificate for $5 off their next office visit. For more information, call (313) 537-8100.

Classic plastic

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Michigan now sells Coca-Cola classic, Diet Coke, caffeine free Coke, and cherry Coke in a 20-ounce plastic bottle designed in the shape of the old trademark glass bottle. Called "the 20-ounce Contour Bottle," a company spokesman said the debut of the plastic "bottle" was test marketed to rave reviews and sales.

The genuine Coca-Cola bottle is world renown. In a BBC-TV documentary devoted to it, London based design expert Stephen Bayley described the bottle as "the most familiar design in the history of consumer goods." In May 1950, Coca-Cola in the contour bottle became the first product to be featured on the cover of Time magazine. The bottle's birthplace was Terre Haute, Ind., site of the Root Glass Co. The town recently dedicated a historical marker memorializing the origin of this famous package.

Luggage Corp grows

Miami-based Bentley's Luggage Co. opened four new stores in metro Detroit following the success of its first Michigan store at the Somerset Collection in Troy. Bentley's is located at Briarwood in Ann Arbor; Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn; Lakeside in Sterling Heights and Twelve Oaks in Novi. The company specializes in luggage, business cases, small leather goods, and unique travel gifts.

Poinsettia Tree

Southland Mall's holiday decor features a 25-foot high poinsettia tree on top of the West Coast fountain in front of Olgas. A steel frame is designed to act as a ladder for the installation crew. Each pit of flowers has its own watering tube. It took 80 hours to assemble the tree. The sculpture serves as a backdrop to holiday concerts performed by local choir groups. On Tuesday, Dec. 13, Image Workshop of Trenton performs 5-8 p.m.

Merchandise Manager

Alan Soffer of Troy has been promoted to Merchandise Manager of Sidney Krandall & Sons Jewellers of Troy. Soifer will supervise and coordinate manufacturing job processing. He will also develop and implement customer service program initiatives. Recognized nationally as an expert appraiser, Soifer has been commisssined to speak by the Smithsonian on several occasions. Prior to joining Suidney Krandall & Sons in 1993, Soifer was a gemologist, buyer and appraiser for a New York jewelry firm.

Beauty draws crowds

Hudson's reports more than 100,000 people have turned out to see the animated Beauty and the Beast holiday display at Hudson's in the Summit Place mall in Waterford since early November. Classrooms and scouts troops are welcome to tour the 15-minute walk-through exhibit. It will remain on display through the end of December.

Jacobson's heads to Boca Raton

As part of Jacobson's expansion plan, the company has announced it will open a new two-story store at Mizner Park in Boca Raton, Fla. The 80,000-square-foot store is scheduled to open in late fall 1995. The store will be the 11th in Florida for the Jackson, Mich.-based upscale retailer.

Jacobson's also plans to open a 120,000-square-foot store in Kansas City in the fall of 1995. Last month, Jacobson's opened at 160,000-square-foot store in Louisville, Kentucky.

Candle Shoppe Opens

The Gypsy's Light is open at 256 S. Eaton in Birmingham. Shop owner Beverly Pierson of Royal Oak said her store carries a full-line of candle and candle accessories plus gourmet coffee, teas and incense and jewelry. The Gypsy's Light is located across from Norman's Eaton Street Station. Inquiries welcome at (810) 642-4010.

Designers on Board

Mike Romatowski (left) and Chris O'Brien of Nostalgic Whimsy in Ann Arbor, have been named to the National Advsiory Board of American Fastsigns, Inc. of Dallas, Texas. Nominations for the first-ever eight member board to the sign industry, were submitted from 200 locations nationwide. The selection of participants was based on a cumulative body of work and unique design application. The Advisory Board will work with the company's natinal advertising council.

The duo's work is best known locally at Lakeside, Twelve Oaks and Briarwood malls where the team has created backdrops for promotions, special events and holiday decor. Other projects include The Children's Shakespearean Festival, Disney's Toontown Tour, Sesame Street Productions and World Cup Soccer.

Native Art Show

Native West of Plymouth hosts their fifth annual Art and Jewelry Festival Dec. 16-18 during regular business hours. Cherokee artist Bill Rabbitt will exhibit his paintings. There will also be a trunk show of silver and turquoise jewelry. The gallery is at 863 W. Ann Arbor Trail in Plymouth. Inquiries are welcome at (810) 455-8838.

High fiber-low fat breakfast will help Toys for Tots program

What do Weight Watchers, the Detroit Bagel Factory, The Coffee Beanery, WNIC's Breakfast Club and a few local malls have in common?

All are teaming up for "Start Your Day The Low-Fat, High-Fiber Way," a weeklong event that kicks off Weight Watchers' 1995 Fat & Fiber Plan while benefiting Toys For Tots.

WNIC-FM and Breakfast Club personalities, Jim Harper, Dave Lockhart, Stacey DuFord and Linda Lanci will be broadcasting live this week from various metro-Detroit locations; Tuesday, Dec. 13, at Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi, Thursday, Dec. 15, at the Novi Hilton, and Friday, Dec. 16, at Northland Mall in Southfield. Shoppers are invited to stop by any time between 6 a.m. and 10 a.m. to donate a new, unwrapped toy for a needy family and enjoy a free, low fat, high fiber breakfast with the gang.

This fun breakfast includes a natural whole-wheat bagel courtesy of the Detroit Bagel Factory, a cup of Beanery Blend coffee from The Coffee Beanery, Ltd., and a special join-for-half-off offer from Weight Watchers.

"For good health, adults daily fat intake should not exceed 30 percent," said Darlene Zimmerman, a registered dietitian and nutritionist for Weight Watchers. "Foods high in fiber tend to be healthier because they're low in calories and fat, and they contain essential vitamins and minerals."

Florine Mark, president and chief executive officer of The WW Group, will make a special appearance as Mrs. Claus, Tuesday, Dec. 13, at 9 a.m. at Twelve Oaks Mall. Marks will drop off toys, courtesy of Weight Watchers employees. For more information, call (800) 487-4777.

The Detroit Bagel Factory has been in the business of providing, low-fat, healthy bagels and deli items for 35 years. Over 150 employees work in their bakeries located in Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township, Farmington Hills, Livonia, Oak Park, Rochester, Southfield, and West Bloomfield.

Santa from Previous Page

"Lots of them want to know where Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer is," Edison continued. "I tell them he's at the North Pole with Dancer getting ready for the Big Day. If they look nervous, I rub their hand, tell them what to expect, and let them know Santa is a friend."

At Tel-Twelve Mall in Southfield, Santa Claus said his young visitors never cease to amaze him and this year he's dealt with several unusual issues.

"When I've asked a few children what they want for Christmas, they've asked me to give all their toys to the poorer children," Santa said, his eyes beginning to water. "I've been so touched. This is so sweet.

"Then there are the little Jewish children who want to come see me," he continued. "They tell me they don't believe in Christmas. They believe in Hanukkah. I tell them that's great because Santa is all about Giving, and so are both Christmas and Hanukkah."

Santa said he gets a kick out of the children's reactions to The Big Question: Have you been good this year?

"Most all of them answer, 'Yes,' and then turn back to look at mom or dad's face. Their parents are usually shaking their heads, 'No,' so I tell them that's OK, Santa Claus knows it's hard to be good all the time — especially for little boys."

In looking back on a 40-year career as Santa Claus, Tel-Twelve's Man in the Red Flannel Suit said one thing has never changed through the years.

"The children always ask me, 'Are you the REAL Santa?'" he said. "Childhood is so very short and it's such a magical time. I assure them that Santa is indeed real and they can believe in Him."

"But you know, the real wonders of the world are the children. Take it from me, each one is an individual. Each one has his or her own personality. Bless them one and all."

Aaron Jones, 4, of Detroit, walked away from Santa waving good-bye with all his might.

"I told Santa I wanted a motorcycle bike, a boom box, and a toy rocketship," he said, adding, "and I've been good all year."

Shanier Turner, 3, of Detroit, asked Santa for a television set for her bedroom so she can watch cartoons in the morning.

"Ho Ho Ho," Santa laughed. "That's a big order to fill."

In a quick survey of Letters To Santa received at the North Pole so far this year, Barbie, and the Power Rangers, top the lists of most children. Other oft mentioned delights include Creepy Crawlers Workshop, Stretch Armstrong, computers and roller blades.

show on cable. Combining these experiences makes me a natural to offer the Michigan Shopping Network."

Wozniak said five minutes of air time on the Michigan Shopping Network costs a retailer $1,300 or more. She guarantees no competitors will be featured during the 30-minute broadcast. A retailer can offer one or more products during their five-minute segment. A logo box appears on the screen with each product revealing the price, store location, phone number for ordering, and brief merchandise description.

Wozniak chats about the product while it is displayed or presented by professional models. Each presentation is peppered with "Look at this!" and "Call now!" The first show features a Farmington Hills cosmetic company, Kouster Jewellers in Grosse Pointe, Young Clothes of Grosse Pointe Farms, and Wozniak's own dress shop.

After Tuesday's broadcast, the show moves to a new area and where it is repeated [illegible].

"Michigan Shopping Network reaches 23,000 viewers in six of the most affluent cities in the United States with an average disposable income of [illegible]," Wozniak said.

"From clothing, jewelry, automobiles and homes to computers, antiques, brokerage firms or medical services, shoppers can order directly from the retailers themselves. Consumers will also help contribute to a stronger area economy by purchasing from area retailers, not sending money to who-knows-where with other home-shopping channels."

Wozniak grew up in Hamtramck. She graduated from St. Florian High School and then went on to Wayne State University in Detroit to earn a degree in psychology. She calls herself an entrepreneur and bubbles with excitement when talking about her latest project.

"Watching the Michigan Shopping Network, consumers become king and retailers are the jewels," she said.

If the show's a hit by January, Wozniak hopes to broadcast the show to the five Grosse Pointes.

Richard Aginian, president of Suburban Communications Corp., which publishes the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers in metro-Detroit, called the Michigan Shopping Network "an interesting concept." He said local retailers need a good advertising mix to get their message out to shoppers.

"Local [illegible] is an important part of an advertiser's electronic message just as local newspapers are to the printed message," he said from his office in Livonia.

Toys will be given to poor children who would otherwise not get any Christmas presents.*

U-M economists predict slow growth

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

University of Michigan economists confessed their forecasts of job and income growth were low in 1994 but continued their caution by predicting slower growth in 1995-6.

"The recovery was a good deal stronger than we had forecast," economic researcher George Fulton told U-M's 42nd annual seminar in quantitative economics.

A year ago, Fulton and associates had predicted 1.1 percent growth in wages and salaries; 1994 saw a 2.8 percent growth. They forecast a 4.7 percent growth in personal incomes of Michiganians; the actual will be a hefty 8.2 percent.

Fulton, Joan Crary and Professor Paul Hymans predicted personal income growth rates of 6.4 and 5.1 percent for the two years ahead and state revenue growth rate increases of 1.3 and 5 percent in the coming two years.

State treasurer Doug Roberts, in the audience, said afterwards that "I think he's low on his '95 forecast of revenue." A Ph.D. in economics from Michigan State University, Roberts said Fulton should have factored in a federal income tax cut as helping the national and state economies.

"I think there's an 85 percent chance Congress will pass a tax cut, and a 50 percent chance (President Bill) Clinton will sign it," Roberts said in a brief interview in the corridor outside the Rackham Building auditorium in Ann Arbor.

"That will pump $30 billion to $40 billion into the economy," Roberts said. But 1995 could be a problem year if congressional tax-cutting bumps into the effects of the Federal Reserve Board's efforts to cool inflation.

As state treasurer, Roberts is responsible for forecasting the economy and revenue for Gov. John Engler. Though disagreeing with Fulton's numbers, he concurred that the state's 1995-6 economic performance won't match this year's.

"If you could look at economic performance charts over 20 years and pick one year in which to run for re-election, 1994 would be the year," said Roberts, whose boss won a second term as governor with 700,000 votes to spare.

The U-M economists were low on their 1994 income forecast because (1) national forecasters had under-guessed motor vehicle sales and (2) manufacturers resorted to record overtime hours, thus pumping up personal income more than job growth, Fulton said.

Within the labor market, Michigan is seeing a "bi-polar" performance -- big jumps in executive, managerial and professional jobs and pay at the top and in service jobs at the bottom, Fulton said.

While those numbers are good, Fulton said, "Another measure of success is to broaden the base of the middle class."

Fulton predicted little growth in governmental employment, particularly with the closing for K.I. Sawyer Air Force Base in the Upper Peninsula. "There's not much action at any level of government," he said.

Voter passage of Proposal A has shaken up the state revenue picture, he said. New state tax hikes are dedicated to the school aid fund, leading him to predict roughly 5 percent drops in general fund revenue of $468 million in each of the two years ahead.

In other papers delivered at the seminar:

- Real gross domestic product, which grew almost 4 percent this year, will slip to 2.4 and 2.1 percent in the next two years, Hymans said. He saw "hesitation" in industrial orders and consumer sentiment. Clinton's higher tax rates for upper incomes, along with budget restraint, will help slow the economy.
- Vehicle sales will stay close to the current 15 million level the next two years.
- Housing starts will slip from this year's 1.4 million to 1.2 million by the end of 1995.
- "A persistent strength in consumer confidence" was reported by Richard T. Curtin, U-M director of consumer surveys.

Lady Ocelots triumph

Schoolcraft College opened its Eastern Conference women's cage schedule with a 70-57 victory, but it took a strong second-half effort to do it Wednesday at SC.

SC, trailing 30-22 at halftime, rolled in the second half, outscoring the Lady Jacks 48-27. Dawn Newlin's 22 points led the Ocelots; Amy Pietila netted 17 and Shelly Sockow (from Plymouth Salem) had 16, with Leandra Hoffman (Livonia Clarenceville) contributing nine.

Alpena got 18 from Kaci Hockwater and 16 from Jodi Harbsan.

The win lifted SC to 5-2, 1-0 in the conference; Alpena is 0-1 in the conference.

On Dec. 4, SC edged the Aquinas College junior varsity 72-71 in Grand Rapids. Sockow led the Ocelots with 24 points; Newlin had 20, with eight assists, seven rebounds and three steals. Pietila scored 10. Aquinas (2-3) got 21 points from Fran Ladanyi.

Alpena stops Ocelots

Poor free throw shooting compounded by worse rebounding should have doomed the Schoolcraft College men's basketball team in a loss Wednesday against visiting Alpena CC, 87-74.

It was SC's seventh loss in eight games.

It was also their league opener, so they are 0-1 in the Eastern Conference. Alpena is 2-4 and 1-0.

Schoolcraft trailed 37-36 at the half, but couldn't keep pace with the Lumberjacks. The Ocelots made just 13-of-30 free throws (43.3 percent); Alpena was 22-of-32 (68.8 percent). SC also managed to grab just 24 rebounds; the Jacks counted 27 offensive boards among its 42 rebounds.

The Ocelots were led by Tony Maciejewski's 21 points and eight rebounds. Eric Powell had 13 points and six boards. Alpena got 18 points from Doran Parker and 13 from Demetrius Flowers (Redford Bishop Borgess).

OU tops Lady Crusaders

It stayed close for most of the first half, anyway. But Madonna University's women's basketball team couldn't sustain its effort any longer Wednesday at Oakland University, a perennial powerhouse in the NCAA II's Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference. The Lady Pioneers scored the first 10 points of the second half and went on to post a 93-63 non-league win.

The loss left Madonna at 3-7. OU improved to 4-1.

The Lady Crusaders led by as many as nine points in the first half and were up 20-12 with 10:32 left, but OU rallied, outscoring them 25-9 to take a 37-29 lead into the intermission.

The Pioneers kept up the onslaught at the start of the second half, extending their lead to 62-36 with nine minutes to play.

Francine Williams and Stephanie Crelley led the Crusaders with 13 points apiece. Williams, who scored 11 of her points in the first half, also had five rebounds and three steals. Dawn Pele came off the bench to score 12.

OU got 20 points from Heather Bateman, 16 from Cyndi Platter (Plymouth Salem).

Madonna men falter

Missouri Baptist ended Madonna University's three-game road swing through the Show-Me state with a 112-59 men's basketball win Wednesday in St. Louis.

Poor shooting plagued the Crusaders (1-6), who trailed 58-19 at the half.

They made just 9-of-36 floor shots (25 percent). For the game they hit 24-of-84 (28.6 percent); Baptist made 45-of-86 (52.3 percent) and outrebounded Madonna 64-39.

Jualonni Dimes was the only bright spot for the Crusaders, netting 25 points and six rebounds. Brandon Slone (Plymouth Salem) was next high-cat scorer with eight.

Baptist was led by Byron Wynne's 20 points; he also had 12 rebounds.

SC honors players

When a team goes 15-2, those who come away with awards know they're something special.

For Schoolcraft College's men's soccer team, the biggest winners were Fadi Bazzi and Tim McCarley.

Bazzi, a sophomore forward, was named to the NJCAA's All-America second team. At the team banquet Nov. 30, he was also presented with the top scorer award — an honor he has won two straight years. Bazzi scored 27 goals this season, his two-year total of 53 makes him SC's all time leader in goals scored.

McCarley, a sophomore defender from Livonia Stevenson, claimed the most valuable player award.

Other award winners were stopper Eric Stoeckl ein (Plymouth Canton), most improved, Chris Hayes (Canton), best midfielder, and Tom Kuzak, best defender.

Bazzi was also named to the NJCAA's all-mid west first team, with Hayes and Kuzak making the second team. Named to the all-region first team were Bazzi, keeper Arie Mechlewicz, Hayes and Kuzak. All-Region second-team selections were McCarley and Mo Hijazi.

Rockets elude Ypsilanti, 63-60

Highly-regarded Westland John Glenn struggled down to the stretch, but gained a season-opening 63-60 victory over Ypsilanti. Guy Rucker led Glenn with 23 points, 13 rebounds and six blocks.

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

With four seconds left in Friday's game against visiting Ypsilanti, Westland John Glenn coach Mike Schuette had flashbacks of last season.

Schuette remembered when Rex Stanczak brought his South Lyon team to Glenn, and saw his Rockets blow a 16-point fourth quarter lead only to lose on a half-court shot at the buzzer.

Stanczak, now the coach of Ypsilanti, had his team rally from an 11-point fourth-quarter deficit Friday and trail by a mere three points with a chance to send the game into overtime.

The deja vu didn't last long as Eugene Brooks' desperation 35-footer clanged off the back of the rim, preserving the Rockets' 63-60 non-league victory.

"At least this time I knew the shot would only have tied the game if it went in," Schuette said.

"We thought that because they were up by three, they might try to foul us," Stanczak said. "When they didn't, we got the ball in our best shooter's hands. I thought from where I was the ball might go in. I thought I might get lucky here again."

The Braves (0-2), had battled back from a 57-46 deficit with five minutes remaining to take a 60-59 lead with a 14-2 run. The layup by Jason Lamar which put Ypsilanti ahead with 1:44 left, would be the last points the Braves would score.

Glenn, meanwhile, committed six straight turnovers and missed two one-and-one opportunities at the free-throw line.

Senior Brent Washington, who played sparingly due to an injured knee, turned the tide of the game when he stole the ball at half court and fed Savon Hubbard who converted a reverse layup to give the Rockets the lead.

Hubbard (eight points, nine assists) later added two free throws to provide the final cushion.

The less-than-overwhelming win may have dampened some of the preseason hype about Glenn being one of the top teams in the state. But the hype centered around Guy Rucker, Glenn's 6-foot-11 big man, may have been understated.

The hype failed to mention his outside game which sparked the Rockets to their early lead, and served as a warning to future Western Lakes Activities Association foes.

Rucker started the game's scoring with a 19-foot jumper from the corner. After hitting another jumper, Rucker then nailed a triple. He made five of his first six shots, but eventually cooled down. He finished making nine-of-20 shots.

"I've been working on my outside shot over the off-season," Rucker said. "At first I wasn't going to use it, but coach told me if I has the shot to take it. When I started missing, I knew what my problem was; I was rushing the shot."

Rucker poured in a game-high 23 points, ripped down 13 rebounds and blocked six shots. He failed to score in the fourth quarter, however, when the Braves made their comeback.

"We started the game by playing behind him and trying to put two people on him, but we discovered two problems," Stanczak said. "The first problem was that the two people we put on him weren't big enough. Then we found out pretty quick that he has improved from the outside."

All 11 Ypsilanti players scored, led by Steve Patton's 12 and Brooks' 11. Junior guard Albert Jones added 11 for the Rockets.

The Rockets opened up a 16-7 lead by the end of the first quarter and extened the margin to 33-23 at halftime when De'Korey Albright nailed a 3-pointer at the horn.

Ypsilanti opened the second half strong and eventually went ahead 42-41 on a jumper by Dion Ferrell. The Rockets countered with a 7-0 run, capped by a three-point play by Jones.

"I think our kids stepped it up," Stanczak said. "During the timeout, I told them it was gut-check time. We went to a full-court press. Basketball is a game of runs and we just got our run going."

Spartans smother Patriots

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

It's been 11 years since Livonia Franklin beat city rival Stevenson in hockey.

And after the way Stevenson roared away to a convincing 8-1 victory Friday at Edgar Arena, it appears the Spartans' mastery over the Patriots is not in jeopardy any time soon.

Stevenson, which improved to 3-2 overall and 2-0 in the Suburban High School League, outshot the Patriots by an average margin of 5-1. Spartan netminder Jordan McCormick faced only 11 shots.

Jason Baylis led the scoring parade with two goals.

Brian Calka, Kevin Berger, Nathan Caladalo, Mike Schmidt, Kyle McNeilance and Ryan Zalewski each contributed one goal.

Berger also collected three assists, while McNeilance and defenseman Andy Perry each contributed two. Brian Tarsin, Ted Marolla, Calka, Jeff Blazok and Scott Brevik chipped in with one apiece.

"The kids passed the puck well," Stevenson first-year coach Mike Harris said. "And when you do that, you get scoring opportunities and fortunately we were able to capitalize."

The Spartans scored a pair of power-play goals in the opening period to lead 3-0.

"We lost a tough game Wednesday (4-2 to Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook) and the kids came ready, focused and determined," Harris said. "It was a real good, solid effort."

The Spartans led 4-1 after two periods without drawing a penalty.

"We're trying to maintain better self control," Harris said. "Needless penalties cost us the other night. It was getting to the point where we were getting out of control."

Franklin's lone highlight was Greg Job's short-handed goal with four seconds left in the second period.

"We knew coming in that Franklin had improved immensely and we weren't taking anybody for granted," Harris said. "And Job is one of the best ninth-graders in the state. There are no ninth-graders on our team, but he'd be on our team if we had him."

Franklin coach Terry Jobbitt, whose team only a week earlier played Livonia Churchill tough in a 3-2 loss, called Stevenson a "very good hockey team."

"We were beaten by a much better team," he said. "We struggled all over the ice. We played hard, but we just didn't play smart.

"But we'll come back and give them a better game the next time."

Franklin goaltenders Brendon Frazier and Pete Stasevich got peppered with combined total of 50 shots.

Frazier left in the second period with an upset stomach.

"I didn't pull him because he wasn't doing the job," Jobbitt said. "I thought he and Pete did a good job by the percentages."

The loss leaves Franklin with a 2-3 overall record. The Patriots are 1-1 in the SHSHL.

■ CHURCHILL 12, LAHSER 1: Dave Higham and Mark Bugnell each tallied two goals and two assists Wednesday, leading unbeaten Livonia Churchill (4-0, 3-0) to a Suburban High School victory over winless Bloomfield Hills Lahser in a game played at Edgar Arena.

Kyle Dawley added two goals for the Chargers, who outscored the Knights 8-1 in the second period.

Other Churchill goal scorers: Clint Robert, Jason Lee, Kevin Samelko, Pat Nicholl Steve Webb and Jason Hendrian.

Chris Kiehler was the Chargers' assist leader with three.

■ CRANBROOK 4, STEVENSON 2: In a non-league Wednesday, host Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook prevailed behind Matt Quarfoot's two goals.

David Wilson's empty-netter in the final minute put the game away for the Cranes.

Ted Marolla tallied Stevenson's first goal from Mike Schmidt. Marolla then assisted on Jason Baylis' goal.

Goalie Jordan McCormack made 27 saves.

Gentile receives All-America recognition

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

John Gentile knows all too well what it's like to be stuck at a train crossing with no detours available.

Injuries limited the Oakland University soccer standout to only two games in 1993 because of a severe groin pull and 11 games in 1992 (torn quadriceps muscle in his right leg).

Gentile

But the fifth year medical red-shirt from Livonia Churchill came back strong this fall, helping propel the Pioneers to the NCAA Division II championship final which ended in a 3-0 overtime loss to host University of Tampa (Fla.).

Gentile was recently voted second team All-America by the National Soccer Coaches Association of America. Teammate Mali Walton (Flint Northern) was named to the first team.

SOCCER

OU pair honored

It's the third time in 10 years that Oakland placed two on the All-America squad. In 1992, Walton and Derek Williford (Livonia Stevenson) each made the second team.

"It was a nice way to go out even though I would have loved to go out with a win," Gentile said of the OT finale. "But those were probably the first two games I really enjoyed, especially in the semifinal (a 6-4 overtime win over Seattle Pacific).

Gentile moved from center midfield to the sweeper back position against highly-touted Tampa.

"They really came at us with a lot of great players and attacked us outside and wide," Gentile said. "I was able to smile at them and I had a good time. Tampa is a very talented team with a lot of foreign players."

This season, Gentile helped solidify the Pioneers' midfield.

He wound up with six goals and 10 assists, upping his career totals to 25 goals and 30 assists (80 total points).

Talented distributor

"John brings many things to the table," said OU coach Gary Parsons, whose team finished 18-2-2 overall. "His long distribution of the ball is better than anybody we have on the team. He has great vision and is able to put the ball behind the defense with one pass.

"He's also a good defender, as well, because he's able to make the tackles when you don't have the ball."

The 5 foot-10, 180-pound Gentile is the team's quiet leader.

"He's even tempered and doesn't say much, but he allows his game to do the talking," Parsons said. "This year, being a senior, we tried to get him to be a little more vocal."

The three-year captain carried the leadership torch along with five other seniors.

"We had some young guys on the team that needed direction, but it was just not me," he said. "The six seniors tried to be stay as positive as we could and lead by example."

Groin pull painful

Gentile tried to remain positive during his nearly two-year hiatus, but it was difficult.

"Not being able to play was incredibly the hardest thing I've ever had to do," he said. "I just tried to rehab, but actually I tried to stay away. I just couldn't be around the guys that much, even in practice."

The groin injury, suffered during the summer months of 1993, took its toll. Gentile was not completely healthy when he tried to come back that fall. He wound up aggravating the injury.

"The total process took nine months," Gentile said. "I weakened my hamstring, so I had it wrapped

Warriors, Stevenson open with victories

BASKETBALL

Lutheran High Westland put on a strong second-half spurt to gain a season-opening 52-42 boys basketball victory Friday over visiting Dearborn Heights Annapolis.

Sophomore Joe Pruchnik led the victorious Warriors with 16 points and 12 rebounds. Senior guard Chris Pierman contributed 15 points.

Junior center George Thompson paced Annapolis (0-2) with a game-high 18 points.

Lutheran Westland trailed 19-18 at intermission and by as many as six in the third quarter before rallying behind a full-court press.

The Warriors outscored the Cougars 21-17 in the third and 13-6 in the decisive fourth period.

"For the most part I'm very pleased, especially with the younger players," Lutheran Westland coach Scott Wiemer said.

■ STEVENSON 47, FORDSON 42: A 19-13 run in the opening quarter Friday carried host Livonia Stevenson to a season-opening victory over Dearborn Fordson.

Junior guard Jeff Urbata paced a balanced Stevenson scoring attack with 13 points. Serbian exchange student Niko Jovicevic added 12 points, while junior center Jim Halow and Ryan Donaldson each contributed eight points.

Matt Sulejman led Fordson (1-1) and all scorers with 15 points. Ray Mroyeh added 10.

"It was a typical first game," Stevenson assistant coach Tim Newman said. "They swarmed us defensively. We played a good zone and hustled. It was not pretty, but we played hard. It was a good start for a young ballclub."

■ REDFORD CC 85, GALLAGHER 65: Senior Mike Ridley poured in a game-high 28 points and junior Justin Hoener added 21 as Redford Catholic Central (2-0) earned the victory over visiting Harper Woods Bishop Gallagher (1-1).

CC put it away by outscoring the Lancers 26-16 in the final period.

Chris Misiak added 10 points for the Shamrocks.

Ray Curry and Al Smith notched 19 and 11, respectively, for Gallagher.

■ FINNEY 72, WAYNE 70: Jermaine Jackson, a 6-foot-4 guard who recently signed with the University of Detroit, scored 24 points Friday to lead visiting Detroit Finney (2-0) to the non-league triumph at Wayne Memorial (1-1).

Terrell Riggs and Omaker King added 15 and 12, respectively, for the Highlanders.

Lorenzo Guess, a sophomore forward, led Wayne with 21 points and 14 rebounds.

Richard Johnson added 12 points and 12 rebounds, while Richard Rashad, who pulled Wayne to within two on a hoop with 10 seconds remaining, added 12 points. Jameel Wooden tallied 10 points.

"We should have won," Wayne coach Chuck Henry said. "We missed 16 of 32 layups. Things were happening quick out there, though."

■ DEARBORN 66, FRANKLIN 46: Thirty-five turnovers haunted Livonia Franklin in a season-opening loss Friday to the host Pioneers (2-0).

Kevin Kruger led a balanced Dearborn scoring attack with 14 points.

Franklin senior guard Mike Auburchon led all scorers with a game-high 22 points, including six 3-pointers.

"They pressed us full court and we made half of our turnovers off that," Franklin coach Larry Jackson said.

■ INTER-CITY 58, C'VILLE 50: Livonia Clarenceville couldn't overcome a 30-15 halftime deficit Friday as host Allen Park Inter-City Baptist earned the non-league victory.

Bill Lyons and Scott Barnhard scored 15 and 12, respectively, in a losing cause.

Youth rolls classic 300 game at Wonderland Lanes

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

For 21-year-old Jeremy Weiss of Farmington Hills, this season is his first taste of bowling in adult leagues.

He had been a member of the Sunday Youth Classic Traveling League over the past five years. Now a member of the Suburban Proprietors Traveling league, Weiss has accomplished every bowler's goal, a perfect game.

It was just last week at Wonderland Lanes in Livonia, where he strung up a 12-bagger for his first 300 game, raising his average to 190. Weiss works at Country Lanes and it is the Country Lanes team that he bowls for in the travel league.

Nice things always happen to nice people, and Weiss is an example of that, as he twice won the Coaches Award in the SYC, an honor based on congeniality, and had also been elected president of the Classic I SYC Division. This young man can be proud of his accomplishments on the lanes as well as off the lanes.

■ While on the subject of youth bowlers, a news item came up from YABA that a young lady in Williamsport Pa. set three all-time records for girls bowling in one day while in a Thanksgiving Day Tournament. Kelle Renninger, a 17-year old, rolled 838 on games of 300-300 and 238. She had 29 straight strikes, also a record.

The 838 broke a record of 825 set only last September in Oklahoma. OK now, YABA Bowlers, you have to raise your sights a little to get into the national record books. Kelle's back-to-back 300's is also tops in the records.

The Turbo Grips All-Star Traveling Classic came to Super Bowl in Canton, and some of our local bowlers came up with many big scores. Tim Saunders of Redford rolled a 279-203-256=738, Ray Krauter of Westland had a 245, Rick Eiermann of Garden City, 256.

Eiermann also won the Steve Cruchon 5th Annual Memorial tournament in doubles competition with his partner Rick Strobl of the Bowler's Digest. Eiermann's 739 and Strobl's 665, plus 33 pins added on for a 1,437 total and first prize.

■ As we get ready to close out this year, look for big happenings in bowling during 1995. It will be the 100th anniversary year for the ABC, and the U.S. Open in Troy will have the televised finals in Joe Louis Arena. There will be lot's of good things going on in '95, more about that later.

every game. It was not too bad this year.

"The only major problem coming back was my physical fitness. I was able to build the muscles through rehab, but I had to build back my cardiovascular system."

Confidence builder

Gentile knew he and his teammates had arrived when they defeated Gannon (Pa.) early in the season in a battle of nationally-ranked teams, 4-0.

"I think we knew at that point we realized the quality of team we could be," he said.

Gentile, however, has been a quality player for years.

He was an all-stater at Churchill, played in the Olympic Development program and was a member of the gold-medal winning North squad at the 1991 U.S. Olympic Sports Festival.

The Churchill product is also talented in the classroom.

He carries a 3.4 grade-point average and plans to graduate this April with a degree in mechanical engineering. (He was an Academic All-America two years ago.)

Gentile spent the past two summers working at Ford Motor Co., one summer at the Livonia Transmission Plant and the other in product design in Sterling Heights.

He will likely have to make a decision in the near future as to whether he would like to pursue a professional soccer career.

Professional soccer?

"Detroit may be getting an APSL (American Professional Soccer League) this spring, or if John can do it, wait until 1996 to play in the Major Soccer League," Parsons said. "He's probably more suited to the outdoor game.

"Either way, he'll have a good degree and a good education to fall back on. He's in a great situation."

That decision, according to Gentile, won't be easy. The Detroit Rockers, a pro indoor team, has also expressed interest.

"I'm up in the air right now," Gentile said. "I'd like to play professional, but I'd also like the steady income.

"I haven't played real indoor soccer for three or four years, but I think I'd enjoy it."

Parsons, meanwhile, knows he has a big hole to fill on next year's team.

"I thought last year when we got beat in the regional final in overtime that one more good player could have helped us get over the hump," the OU coach said. "We'll definitely miss John's abilities. He's one of the big reasons we got to the finals . . . he's someone you can learn from. He had the ultimate respect of all the players."

The crossing gate is now wide open for Gentile.

Spartan is best among stars

By Brad Emons
Staff Writer

Anne Aristeo knows no peer when it comes to high school girls swimming in Observerland.

The sophomore sensation from Livonia Stevenson, who competed in the U.S. Open last weekend in Buffalo, N.Y., ranks among the top prep swimmers nationally.

She won a pair of individual state titles this season and led the area in several events.

Anne Aristeo
Stevenson

Aristeo was one of the reasons Stevenson was so dominant, winning a Western Lakes Activities Association team championship and a sixth-place finish in Class A.

But coach Greg Phill's Spartans were far from a one-woman show.

They landed two others on the first team and three on the second team. They also captured two of three first-team relay spots.

Introducing the 1994 All-Observer girls swim team as selected by area coaches.

FIRST-TEAM INDIVIDUALS

Tina Caranicolas, 200 free, Liv. Stevenson: The junior posted a season best time of 1:58.03 in the 200 freestyle (second best in the area). She also clocked the second best area time in the 500 freestyle (5:13.25).

Caranicolas was a Western Lakes Activities Association champ in both events, as well as the Salem Invitational.

She was unbeaten in dual meets.

"Although injured this year, we look forward to Tina coming back next season and being a major part of our team's success," Stevenson coach Greg Phill said.

Anne Aristeo, 200 IM, Liv. Stevenson: The sophomore is without a doubt the premier swimmer in the area. She led the area with best times in seven individual events. Aristeo never lost an individual race in 1994.

She capped an outstanding season by winning Class A titles in the 200 individual medley (2:04.39) and 500 freestyle (4:52.56). Aristeo was also WLAA champ in the 100 backstroke and 100 freestyle, and Salem Invitational champ in the 100 butterfly and 200 IM.

She hold WLAA records in the 100 freestyle (51.57) and 100 backstroke (57.97). The 10th-grader already owns school records in the 200 freestyle, 200 IM, 100 freestyle, 500 freestyle and 100 backstroke.

Aristeo has All-American status in the 200 IM and the 100 and 500 free.

"Anne is simply the finest swimmer I've ever worked with," Phill said. "I can't wait until next year."

Cheri Farber, 50 free, N. Farmington: The ninth-grader clocked a 25.34 at the state Class A meet, second best in Observerland. She was also WLAA champion in the 50 freestyle.

Voted North's most valuable swimmer, Farber also went 1:03.26 in the 100 backstroke; 1:02.54 in the 100 butterfly (at the Oakland County Meet); 2:21.07 in the 200 IM; 57.2 in the 100 freestyle; and 2:04.03 in the 200 freestyle.

Molly Johnson, diving, F.H. Mercy: The senior set a school record with a six-dive performance (248.2 points) in a dual meet against Birmingham Seaholm.

She lost only one dual all season (vs. Ann Arbor Pioneer).

Johnson also won the Catholic League with a total of 395.6.

She added a fifth in the Oakland County Meet (334.05), eighth in the Class A regional and was 20th overall in the state.

"We not only will miss Molly's high scores on the boards, but more importantly, we will miss her leadership and coaching of the young divers," Mercy coach Greg Patrell said.

Kelly Carlisle, 100 fly, Liv. Stevenson: Carlisle, a junior, was a state qualifier in the 100 butterfly and 200 IM, posting personal bests of 1:00.98 and 2:16.53, respectively.

She won the WLAA in both the 100 butterfly and 200 IM.

Carlisle was also a member of Stevenson's second place 200 medley relay team at the state Class A meet.

"Kelly spent much of the season injured, but is very determined and will be back for a fine senior year," Phill said.

Jaime Strauch, 100 free, Liv. Churchill: The senior has been Churchill's team MVP the past three years and has finished in the top three in Observerland in the 100 freestyle the past four years.

The Chargers' team captain was second overall in the area in the 100 freestyle with a time of 54.42.

Strauch finished third in the WLAA in both the 200 and 500 freestyles.

"Jaime is one of the hardest working, most dedicated and motivated swimmers I've ever coached," Churchill coach Ken Stark said. "She always looks for a challenge and knows what it takes to succeed."

Kristie Cordts, 500 free, F.H. Mercy: The sophomore finished 12th in the 500 freestyle at the state meet with a time of 5:24.89 after posting a 5:20.07 in the preliminaries.

Cordts finished first in the 200 freestyle and third in the 500 at the Catholic League meet.

In the East Lansing Invitational, Cordts took third in the 200 and was second in the 500.

"Kristie's year-round swimming background and her tenacity as a workout swimmer make the 500 (freestyle) a perfect event," Patrell said. "Her ability to pace her races correctly has allowed Kristie to begin the process of becoming one of the future forces in Michigan high school swimming."

Adrienne Turri, 100 back, Westland Glenn: The freshman recorded one of the area's best performances at the state Class A meet with a fourth-place finish in 59.32. She also qualified in the 50 freestyle.

At the WLAA meet, Turri took second in the 100 backstroke and third in the 100 butterfly.

"She was the only freshman in the (state) finals of the backstroke, and I thought that was a nice reward for her," Glenn coach Ron Staples said. "She is very sound on her stroke technique. Her first stroke is as good as anyone in the state.

We have set goals for her to be the state champ before she graduates."

Bethany Budde, 100 breast stroke, F.H. Mercy: The junior finished sixth at the state meet in the 100 breast stroke with a time of 1:07.79 (after going 1:07.5 in the prelims).

She also took a fourth in Class A in the 200 IM with a time of 2:12.6 (after going 2:12.3 in the prelims).

In the Catholic League meet, Budde took first in both events (200 IM and 100 breast stroke).

At the Oakland County meet, she was second in the 100 breast stroke and sixth in the 200 IM.

"The big surprise of the season was Bethany's fourth place finish at the state," Patrell said. "Her philosophy is to go out and race in all her events and that has helped her gain success. She's a great kid who has a promising senior year ahead."

FIRST-TEAM RELAYS

Julie Gallagher, Becky Noechel, Kelly Carlisle and Anne Aristeo, 200 medley, Liv. Stevenson: This Spartan relay quartet, which will receive All-American consideration, did not lose a race all year until the state finals when they settled for second (1:51.23).

All four swimmers will be back next year. Gallagher and Carlisle are juniors, while Aristeo is a sophomore. Noechel is only a freshman.

Cheri Farber, Becky Ashburn, Stephanie Cohen and Amy Finkel, 200 freestyle, N. Farmington: This Raider foursome took 13th at the state meet, fifth in Oakland County and second in the WLAA. They posted a season best of 1:42.39 to lead Observerland.

They also set both varsity and pool records.

Ashburn is a senior, Cohen and Finkel, next year's captains, are juniors. Farber is just a freshman.

Tina Caranicolas, Marla McKenzie, Anne Aristeo and Julie Gallagher, 400 freestyle, Liv. Stevenson: This quartet finished first in the WLAA and fifth in Class A. Their season best was a 3:39.59.

"With every swimmer coming back for another year, we could be tough in 1995," Phill said.

SECOND-TEAM INDIVIDUALS

Lisa Richardson, 200 free, F.H. Harrison: The sophomore was Harrison's fastest swimmer in nine events. She was a state qualifier in both the 200 freestyle (2:00.29) and 100 freestyle (55.12), the latter of which is a Hawks varsity record.

Richardson was also a member of Harrison's record-setting 200 freestyle relay squad (1:47.01).

"Lisa is such an outstanding swimmer that she brought the whole team up to a higher level of performance," Harrison coach Mark Holdridge said.

Julie Gallagher, 200 IM, Liv. Stevenson: The junior was a state qualifier in both the 200 IM (2:16.34) and 100 backstroke (1:02.3).

She also led off Stevenson's 200 medley relay team that took second in the state and anchored the Spartans' fifth-place 400 freestyle relay.

"Julie's a very hard worker who has just begun to realize her potential," Phill said.

Kellyann Williams, 50 free, Ply. Salem: Williams, a sophomore, took fifth in the WLAA Championships (25.98) and eighth in the Michigan High School Swim Coaches Association Invitational (25.6), the latter time her season best.

The state qualifier carries a 3.0 grade-point average.

"Kellyann is proving to be one of the fastest sprinters in the area," Salem coach Chuck Olson said. "With more experience, she could be a force at the state level the next two years."

Zoe Yockey, diving, Ply. Salem: The junior posted Observerland's best six-dive effort with a point total of 265.05 (a Salem varsity mark).

At the WLAA Championships, Yockey won the meet with a score of 409.0.

Voted Most Improved for 1994, Yockey also carries a 3.8 GPA.

"Zoe's a tough competitor in practice and meets," Olson said. "She's always helped her teammates and opponents."

Becky Noechel, 100 butterfly, Liv. Stevenson: Now set a freshman, qualified for the state meet in four events in placing the 100 butterfly (1:01.59, 200 IM, 500 freestyle and 100 breast stroke.

She was the breast stroke leg on Stevenson's 200 medley relay team that gained second in the state.

"Becky had a terrific freshman year," Phill said. "She works very hard and will be a real impact swimmer as a sophomore."

Amy Finkel, 100 freestyle, N. Farmington: The junior posted individual state cuts of 55.54 in the 100 freestyle and 25.52 in the 50 freestyle.

She earned seconds at the WLAA meet in the 50 freestyle, 200 medley and freestyle relays. Finkel added a fifth in the 100 freestyle at the WLAA Championships.

She was second in points this season after leading the team in 1993 (where she earned team MVP honors). She's been elected captain for 1995.

Heather Yagiela, 500 free, F.H. Mercy: Yagiela, a senior, won the Catholic League 500 freestyle and qualified for the state Class A meet with a personal best of 5:23.21.

Yagiela has also been nominated for the Catholic League's Scholar-Athlete Award.

"Heather swam with so much confidence this year and was the team leader of the distance corps," Patrell said. "Her ability to smile during the hardest workouts helped to keep everybody focused toward our common goal.

"Mercy swimming will miss her."

Yvonne Lynn, 100 backstroke, Ply. Salem: The sophomore finished third in the 100 backstroke (1:03.38) at the WLAA Championships and clocked a personal best of 1:02.39 at state meet.

The Rocks' team MVP was also a member of Salem's state-qualifying 200 medley relay team.

"Yvonne is one of the hardest trainers in the pool and weight room," Olson said of Lynn, who also carries a 3.0 GPA. "She consistently swam fast every meet, no matter what the event. She's a great team person in support and accomplishments."

Meagan Wegmueller, 100 breast stroke, F.H. Mercy: A junior, Wegmueller recorded a personal best of 1:11.02 in the 100 breast stroke, good enough to qualify for the state meet.

The Marlins' captain was also second in the Catholic League meet.

"Meg's desire to swim fast is an important aspect of her success," Patrell said. "But her leadership and concern for other Mercy swimmers is also commendable. 'Meg Weg' (her nickname) loves the breast stroke and her goal for next year is a top-12 finish at the state meet."

Beth DeWolf, 100 breast stroke, Liv. Stevenson: DeWolf, a senior, was a state qualifier in the 100 breast stroke (1:11.02) and 200 IM (2:18.52).

She was third in both events at the WLAA meet.

"Beth is the type of girl a coach dreams of because she is very hard working and very committed," Phill said. "Stevenson will miss Beth DeWolf.

SECOND-TEAM RELAYS

Cheri Farber, Amy Finkel, Becky Ashburn and Stephanie Cohen, 200 medley, N. Farmington: This quartet only swam together on three occasions before qualifying for the state meet.

They placed 11th (1:53.78) in Class A, the first North team to make the finals in four years. They also took a second in the WLAA meet.

Caroline Kenna, Emily Szurek, Katy Runyan and Jennifer MacDonald, 200 freestyle, F.H. Mercy: This Marlin foursome dropped from 1:44.29 to 1:43.52 at the state meet, 21st best overall.

They added a sixth at Oakland County and were Catholic League champs.

Runyan, Mercy's co-captain, is a senior. Kenna is a sophomore, while Szurek and MacDonald are freshmen.

Jennifer MacDonald, Katie Scallen, Bethany Budde and Kristie Cordts, 400 freestyle, F.H. Mercy: These Mercy gals saved their best for last, clocking a 3:49.93 at the state meet.

They went 3:51.51 to finish sixth in Oakland County.

Scallen, a co-captain, is a senior. Budde is a junior, while Cordts is a sophomore. MacDonald is a freshman.

"This relay honor is exciting for our senior Katie Scallen," Olson said. "And with three of our four back next year, we [illegible] in the low 3:40's.
