City panel mulls residency rule

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Newly hired Westland city employees would have to live where they work under one of many impending recommendations from a committee studying possible city charter revisions.

Several members of the city charter review committee don't like the idea that some police officers and firefighters live far from their jobs. But any change would have to be placed on the ballot by the city council and approved by voters.

The residency rule would have to be accepted by the Westland City Council — and then approved by Westland voters — before it would become part of the charter.

Some city employees, such as Westland police officers, have already started lobbying against the measure that, in essence, would restore a residency clause abolished 22 years ago.

The proposal would require city employees in all departments to move to Westland within six months of being hired. It would only apply to workers hired after the revision becomes part of the charter, if it does at all.

Some on the nine-member charter committee support the residency clause amid concerns that some police officers and firefighters commute long distances to and from work, committee chairman Kenneth Mehl said.

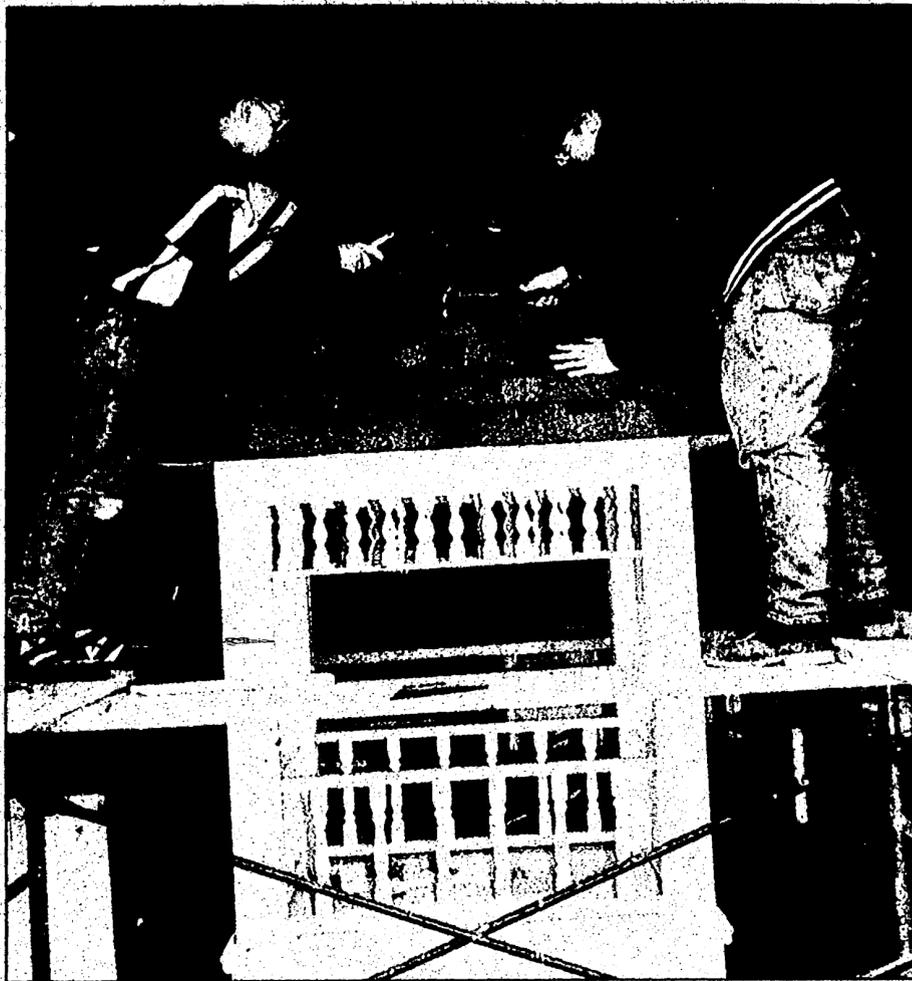

"They (committee members) don't think it's right" that some police officers and firefighters live "an hour or an hour and a half away" from Westland, Mehl said.

Some committee members see a need to reduce the time it takes for non-resident police officers and firefighters to arrive in the city, particularly if they are needed for emergencies.

To make the rule fair to all employee groups, it would apply to workers in all city departments, Mehl said.

History project reaches new heights

School project progressing

The Perrinsville School restoration is nearing completion, thanks in part to students at the William Ford Vocational-Technical Center.

Some 35 students in Bill Fanning's construction technology class worked on the bell since last fall for the historical restoration project.

The school, built in 1859, is being restored with the help of a state grant and the labor of students from the Ford Voc-Tech Center and Churchill High School.

The one-room building is on the north side of Warren Road, just west of Merriman.

After the bell tower is finished in the near future, the Westland Fire Department will help move it from the Ford Voc-Tech Center to the restored school.

Ruth Dale, historian of the committee planning the restoration, said the state grant will be used for two purposes: to replace the missing bell tower and to build an out-house which will also house janitorial supplies.

Dale said when a historical feature of the former school is missing, restoration is based on photo documentation.

Ford Center students worked on the bell tower, using a photo taken in 1907 by Edith Long, a former Perrinsville student, with photographer Richard Ramage making a copy and enlargement.

Using the photo, Ann Arbor architect Quinn Evans designed the specifics of the tower.

Last September, Fanning's class then used the 1907 photo, the current enlargement and the architect's plan to build the tower. Supplies and materials were paid for through the state grant.

Students in the John Glenn High School wood shop class of Tom Nakamoto were an important part of the restoration, building double-wood seater desks patterned after desks at Mill Race Village in Northville. The state grant also paid for the $310 desks.

When the restoration is complete, tours will be arranged for students and adults to show what a local school was like in the late 19th century and early 20th century.

The 139-year-old school had the bell tower removed about 45 years ago when the building and property were bought by a church.

Virginia Braun is chairwoman of the restoration committee, formed five years ago.

The committee received $17,000 from the state for the current work with the city of Westland contributing $20,000.

Officers assist bombing survivors

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Two Westland police officers will never forget the hundreds of mourning Oklahoma City survivors who walked past them to pay respect to dead loved ones killed in the federal building explosion.

Sgt. Jon Handzlik and police officer Brian Sorensen served as honor guards as a seemingly endless line of survivors visited a shrine outside of the bombed building.

"It was so emotional," Handzlik recalls.

Nothing that Sorensen had seen on television had prepared him for the horror of what he saw.

"It's so much worse in person," he said.

Handzlik and Sorensen were among 69 police officers from 27 Michigan departments who formed a mile-long, 32-vehicle convoy earlier this month to deliver money, sympathy letters and stuffed animals to survivors.

Seniors named Merit winners

Two local high school seniors were among the 2,600-some high school seniors named as winners of the coveted college-sponsored Merit Scholarships by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

They are Julie White, a Churchill High School senior, and Daniel Mawby of John Glenn High.

White, who also earned a Merit Scholarship to Albion College, plans to study medicine.

At Churchill, she is first chair trombone in the band, played in the wind ensemble and pit orchestra three years, was on the varsity swim team four years, and served in the Appalachia Service Project for two years.

She was selected to the Interlochen All State Band, was a member of the Livonia Spartan Aquatic Club for five

No holiday parade

Blaming a "breakdown in communications," there will be no traditional Memorial Day parade for the Westland and Wayne communities next Monday, May 29. But there will be a ceremony scheduled for 1 p.m. that day at the Westland Veterans Memorial, in front of City Hall on Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh.

James Webb, member of Westland's Harris-Kehrer VFW Post 3323 and a spokesman for area veterans' groups, said in a statement that "due to a breakdown in communications between the veterans' organizations in both communities," there will be no holiday parade this year.

Post 3323 and the Wolverine Chapter/82nd Airborne Division Association are asking that veterans' groups join with them for the 1 p.m. Monday ceremony.

PLACES & FACES

Plans are under way for a 1996 parade, he said. For more than 30 years, veterans' groups and city officials have taken part in parades, which alternated between Westland and Wayne.

Howard honored

Harry Howard, former Wayne-Westland school superintendent, was recently inducted into the Michigan Education Hall of Fame for his contributions to his profession and the quality of education in the state. Howard served as a teacher and administrator in the district before being promoted to superintendent in mid-1966. He served until mid-1973 when he was named the Ann Arbor school superintendent.

Howard served as president of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and president of Cleary College, a Ypsilanti-based school specializing in business, before retiring several years ago to become an educational consultant. He was nominated by MASA which said "he has positively influenced the lives of thousands of young people."

The induction of Howard and four others was held May 11 in Lansing. The hall of fame was created in 1978 to honor people who have made a "significant contribution to the quality of education provided to students in Michigan schools," said a spokeswoman for the Michigan Congress of School Administrator Associations.

years, National Honor Society three years, and Students Against Drunk Driving for three years, and served as a YMCA lifeguard and swimming instructor. She was a finalist three years in the Michigan Math Prize competition, was in the Livonia Math, Science, Computer program, and participated in Quiz Bowl.

Mawby plans to attend Alma College, which has also awarded him a Merit Scholarship.

He intends to major in biochemistry.

At John Glenn, he is salutatorian of his senior class. He is also a member of the school's National Honor Society chapter and captain of the school's Quiz Bowl team, as well as serving in the ecology club.

The senior was an exchange student in Germany, three-year member of the Glenn German Club, and attended a Michigan Department of Education summer institute participant.

Mawby, who reached the Eagle rank in Boy Scouting several years ago, won other academic honors this year.

He was named an Observer Newspapers' Academic All-Star this spring, was awarded a Dow Foundation scholarship and was in the "Best and Brightest" recognition program sponsored by WXYZ-TV (Channel 7).

Some 115 private and 85 public higher education institutions in 43 states and the District of Columbia offer Merit Scholarship awards for use at the sponsor college or university. College-sponsored awards provide between $250 and $2,000 annually for up to four years of undergraduate study.

This year some 1.1 million students in 19,000 American high schools entered the Merit Scholarship competition by taking the 1993 PSAT/NMSQT exams which served as an initial screen of entrants. In the fall of 1994 some 50,000 students were recognized for their high performance and some 15,000 of them were designated semifinalists. Only semifinalists had the opportunity to advance to finalist standing and compete for Merit Scholarships.

'Parent's Day' programming scheduled on cable channel

Westland cable-TV subscribers will have the opportunity to view the diversity of educational programming available in their local school classrooms through a special "Parent's Day" schedule of programming, scheduled to start Tuesday, May 23.

The programming will be cablecast on Channel 11.

The daylong block of programming will include full-length samples of programs available to local school districts served by Continental Cablevision through "Cable in the Classroom," said Continental spokesman Bill Black.

The project, available free to school districts throughout the country, is run by cable operators in cooperation with networks such as Arts & Entertainment, Nickelodeon, Cable News Network and Discovery, Black said.

"The networks produce thousands of hours of programming each year specifically for in-school educational purposes," said Continental's senior vice president Richard Weigand.

"We view the televised 'Parent's Day' concept as a convenient way to introduce parents to the quality of these offerings."

Continental launched its "Cable in the Classroom" in 1989. The program has since grown to include nearly every major cable operator and more than 25 cable networks, Black said.

Continental has wired more than 3,600 public and private schools in the communities it serves with free cable service, providing access to 625 hours of commercial-free educational programs each month.

The company said it provides schools with free subscriptions to the Cable in the Classroom program guide, technical support, teacher training and curriculum guidance.

"Cable in the Classroom" programming is designed for interactive classroom use, rather than passive viewing, Weigand said. "This is not a commercial, profit-making venture like some other services that parents may have heard about," he said, "With 'Cable in the Classroom,' there are no costs, contracts or viewing requirements imposed on schools, and all programming is commercial free."

Students will be bringing home information about where to tune in for the specially-aired programming, Black said.

In conjunction with the Cable in the Classroom viewing opportunities, the day of programming includes a segment on the national educator awards, which recognize the innovative use of cable television resources in teaching.

DeHart wants to reopen prepaid tuition program

Rep. Eileen DeHart, D-Westland, has co-sponsored legislation to require the state to reopen the Michigan Education Trust for general enrollment at least once a year.

DeHart also testified before the MET Board Wednesday, May 17, to encourage the re-opening of the program.

The legislation (HB 4783), introduced Thursday May 18, culminates the agreement by the Internal Revenue Service with a U.S. Court of Appeals ruling that the MET does not have a federal tax liability. The IRS decision also means the state will receive a $70 million refund in taxes already paid and interest from the federal government.

"Gov. (John) Engler initiated the closing of the MET enrollment over concerns about the program's tax liability," said DeHart, in her first year in the state House. Her district includes most of Westland and the northeast corner of Canton Township.

"However, I think the IRS ruling puts any questions about the tax status of the MET at rest, and obviously it is financially sound. By 2014 when all of the current MET enrollees have finished with college, we will still have $6 million in the account."

The legislation, besides calling for the enrollment to be opened at least once a year, specifies that the cost of a MET contract will not be able to increase faster than the average annual increase of tuition at state colleges and universities.

Westland nursing home celebrates special week

The Westland Convalescent Center, one of the city's oldest nursing homes, observed National Nursing Home Week last week with varied activities for its residents, their relatives and employees.

The nursing home, on Warren Road just east of Central City Parkway, held a Mother's Day ice cream social Saturday afternoon, May 13; a volunteer brunch on Tuesday, May 16; a staff appreciation day Wednesday, May 17; and a family appreciation day Friday, May 19.

During the appreciation days, there was free food along with colorful balloons and other decorations for the special week.

Peggy Ellenwood, the nursing home's business manager, said that the center opened in 1969 with 110 beds and later expanded to its current capacity of 230 beds. She said the occupancy is constantly at 97 to 98 percent.

David Shubow is founder and chairman of the board of the nursing home with Dean Solden the center's chief executive officer.

Judith Caroselli, the center's administrator, has been with the home since 1972, promoted to her current position in 1977. Recently, she won a distinguished service award from the Health Care Association of Michigan.

"Everyday is National Nursing Home Day for our residents," said Caroselli in a press release. "We think that the week is an opportunity to celebrate the contributions made by each staff member on a daily basis to enhance the quality of life of the people whose care have been entrusted to them."

Brown makes it official: He will seek new a term

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Veteran city legislator and former state Rep. Thomas Brown confirmed Thursday that he will seek re-election to the Westland City Council, ending speculation about his intentions.

"I wish to continue to serve the people," Brown said, when asked by the Observer if he had reached a decision about the council race.

Brown, 77, said he wants to remain on the council because the city is deeply involved in several key projects, such as preparing to build a public library, restoring the old Perrinsville School and implementing a paramedic advanced life support system in the fire department.

Brown's candidacy continued to widen the field of council hopefuls. Other confirmed candidates include incumbents Glenn Anderson and David Cox; former state Rep. Justine Barnes; former Councilman Kenneth Mehl; Wayne-Westland school board member Richard LeBlanc; and longtime council hopeful Dorothy Smith.

Councilman Charles Pickering has said he is "leaning" toward running for re-election.

Candidates have until June 20 to file officially for the council race. Others who have picked up petitions from the city clerk's office include:

- Bhagwan Dashairya, an Economic Development Advisory Commission member.

- Joseph Eadeh, planning commission chairman.

- Mildred Evans, a Zoning Board of Appeals member and longtime council observer.

- John Franklin, Westland Democratic Club president and member of the Westland Housing Commission.

- Ed Turner, Westland Cable Commission chairman. Turner also is seeking a June 12 Wayne-Westland school board seat and, if elected, couldn't serve simultaneously on the council.

- David Whitehill, a Westland resident who would be seeking office for the first time.

Four of seven council seats are at stake. The top three vote-getters will receive four-year terms, while the fourth-place finisher will win a two-year term.

Only nine candidates are needed for a primary; if fewer hopefuls actually enter the race, then the seats would be filled in the regular November election.

In becoming the latest to officially confirm his candidacy, Brown is seeking what would be his third four-year term. His first two terms were preceded by a two-year appointed term.

Brown has been involved in government since 1961, when he was a Nankin Township trustee before the city was incorporated. He later served as township treasurer and supervisor.

Brown became Westland's first mayor in 1966, serving a four-year term.

He moved on to the state House of Representatives from 1971 through 1982. He has been on the city council since 1985 and is currently the council president.

Cox introduces proposal for police mini-station

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A police mini-station may be established this summer in Westland's far southeast end, amid complaints from citizens that their neighborhoods don't get the same level of protection as other areas of the city.

City Councilman David Cox introduced the proposal based on complaints that he said are widespread in an L-shaped area that stretches south from Michigan Avenue to Van Horn and east from Merriman to Inkster Road.

The area encompasses the Westland Meadows mobile home park and numerous other residential streets.

On Friday, Cox said the southeast-end residents appear to have "justifiable concerns" about a less-visible police presence.

"Everyone in that area says the same thing," he said. "If everyone says the same thing, then it's not just a rumor."

Cox proposed that a police mini-station, or mobile command unit, be staffed during the summer months by police officers who usually patrol areas around Westland schools.

"It wouldn't disrupt other activities in the police department," he said.

In response to Cox's suggestion, Mayor Robert Thomas said he and Police Chief Emery Price would discuss the feasibility of a summer program.

The mini-station could become a pilot project for a broader proposal from Thomas to establish a community police program, Cox said.

In his "Vision 2000" address in April, Thomas unveiled a proposal to have specific police officers assigned to specific Westland neighborhoods.

The mayor's program would fuel better community relations and would enable residents to get to know the officers assigned to protect their neighborhoods, Thomas has said.

The mayor's community police plan is among several proposals that he said he would like to see implemented before the turn of the century.

A touching presence: Police officers from Michigan, including Westland officer Brian Sorensen and Sgt. Jon Handzlik, took part in ceremonies in Oklahoma City. Michigan officers delivered $70,000 for relief efforts.

Aid from page 1A

Making the 2,300-mile trip in three days, they showed Oklahoma City residents another, more humane, Michigan connection.

The Westland Police Department, alone, raised $3,100 prior to the May 5-7 trip. Donations have continued to come in, reaching the $5,000 mark, Handzlik said.

City employees, students, unions and residents contributed to the Spirit of Oklahoma Disaster Fund, and Police Chief Emery Price said he is appreciative.

Altogether, Michigan agencies making the trek from Lansing to Oklahoma City took along $70,000 in donations in the convoy that was met by Oklahoma officers at the Oklahoma state line.

As the Michigan police cars rolled into the state, their Oklahoma counterparts joined them in the convoy that gradually swelled to 200 vehicles, Handzlik said.

People along the road waved and cheered to show their appreciation, Handzlik said, and Oklahoma's governor and other officials thanked them personally.

Sorensen and Handzlik said the money taken to Oklahoma City will be used for educational scholarships for children who lost parents in the blast.

"Those kids will realize down the road that not only did the nation come to the aid of the people in Oklahoma, but so did Michigan," Handzlik said. "We pulled together and provided the seed money to get this (scholarship program) going."

Sorensen said television news coverage couldn't fully relate the tragedy. He said he saw the only window in a two-block area that wasn't broken during the explosion.

The officers, who were in Oklahoma City for 16 hours, slept briefly on huge mats laid out inside a police and fire training academy. They visited the federal building and actually got to go inside.

"It was unbelievable," Handzlik said.

Michigan officers delivered a proclamation from Gov. John Engler, along with the donations of money, letters and stuffed animals. They also took a Michigan flag that was placed at the bombing site, and they brought home an Oklahoma state flag.

They became honorary members of the Oklahoma City Fire Department.

"We were told that we had a place to hang our hats whenever we are down there," Handzlik said.

On the return trip to Michigan,

Sorensen and Handzlik, like many other officers, dropped out of the convoy to ease the pace of their trip. Tired, they took a break in St. Louis, where they visited the famous arch.

As they were waiting in line, a huge crowd of people learned that Sorensen and Handzlik had been part of the Michigan convoy that helped with relief efforts. Agape, applause erupted.

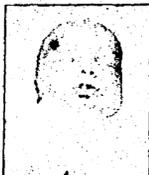

Westland Police Chief Emery Price said he is grateful to all Westland residents who donated to the Oklahoma City effort.

"The thoughts and prayers of the people of Westland and Michigan, for those in Oklahoma, were felt by many," he said. "When we have a common goal and interest, the people of Westland and of Michigan and this country all pull together. This is the thing I choose to focus on at this time of such an unexplainable act."

Why do so many babies get their start in life at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor? Maybe it's the choice of birthing options we give to moms and dads. Not too many other hospitals offer both LDR and LDRP suites. Maybe it's the availability of doctors in Plymouth, Canton, Brighton, Saline and the Ann Arbor area. Maybe it's the family-focused nursing care provided day in and day out. Or the classes to help make even first-time parents feel like experts. Maybe it's the options for pain relief, including labor epidurals and Jacuzzi bath tubs.

If you're considering a new addition, come see for yourself what St. Joe's has to offer. Call now to schedule a tour and receive an information packet.

Mark Engstrom, president of the 75-member Westland Police Officers Association, said a residency rule would diminish the quality of applicants and discriminate against minorities.

"We currently pull applicants from a large pool across the metro area and the state, simply based on our reputation as one of the best departments to work for," Engstrom wrote in a letter to the council, the charter committee and Mayor Robert Thomas. "Many of these applicants have families and homes, and the thought of uprooting and moving at starting pay can be overwhelming and a major reason to not apply."

"I also believe that a residency policy will discriminate against black applicants," Engstrom said.

Noting that African-Americans account for a small fraction of Westland residents, Engstrom said, "With a residency policy, you would only pull a small number of black applicants from the residents. Blacks who live in areas such as Southfield, Detroit and Ann Arbor may not apply" to avoid uprooting their families, he said.

Council president Thomas Brown said the council hasn't yet discussed the residency issue, and he said he has no feel for how his colleagues will react to it.

His letter warned that a residency clause "could be seen as an attempt to eliminate those applicants."

Engstrom also said a residency clause would send a message that crime is "so bad that the police have to live in the city."

"Is this the message that we want to send to the citizens of Westland — that we have problems this bad?" he asked in his letter.

During an interview, he said he doesn't believe crime has escalated to the point that police officers should be required to live in the city.

Even without a residency rule, half of Westland's police officers already live in the city, Engstrom said.

Council president Thomas Brown said the council hasn't yet discussed the residency issue, and he said he has no feel for how his colleagues will react to it.

"We haven't had any discussion, really, on any of the items from the charter committee," he said.

The council is expected to have a full list of charter recommendations in coming weeks, possibly in early June, Brown said. Any charter changes have to be approved by voters.

An Open Letter to the Patients of Dentists Joseph Smulsky and Thomas Varga, PC

"We thank our patients for their patience — we're reopening in Canton."

We are happy to inform you that our Canton office will reopen for business on May 22.

As you know, we have been operating out of our Livonia office since a quick-spreading fire destroyed the interior of our Canton location last September 29. Your patience and understanding during the months since the fire have been greatly appreciated, and we sincerely hope that you find the news of our returning to "business as usual" as pleasing as we do.

Preparations for the office reopening have already begun. Please be aware that if you were a patient at our Canton office before September 1994, we have arranged for your dental records to be returned to the Canton office. If you have joined us as a patient October of 1994, we would be happy to continue seeing you in Livonia; however, if it is more convenient for you, you may schedule future appointments in our Canton office. Simply let one of our staff members know and we will transfer your records.

Appointments can be made by calling our Livonia office at (313) 591-0223 or our Canton office at (313) 453-0940.

Please feel free to stop in our Canton location any time and see our renovated surroundings, and please let your family and friends know about our updated office. We would be delighted to welcome new patients.

Thank you again for your patience and cooperation. As always, if you have any questions about our dental offices, please ask us or one of our staff members. Your dental health is of top priority to us.

Our sincere thanks,

Voters will determine SMART's fate Tuesday

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Whether the SMART bus system is running in Wayne County on Wednesday, May 24, or stopped dead is up to registered voters who choose to cast ballots in Tuesday's special election.

Voters in Livonia, Redford Township, Garden City, Westland and most other suburban Wayne County communities are asked to decide a 0.33-mill property tax for a period of three years.

For the owner of a $100,000 house, the added annual tax would be $16.67.

If the tax is approved, it would generate about $8.2 million per year for the Wayne County Transit Authority, which was formed to put the SMART millage on the ballot.

This revenue would permit SMART to continue service, add new routes and pay its debts, said interim general manager Michael Duggan, who is also the Wayne County deputy executive under Executive Edward McNamara.

Several Wayne County communities have "opted out" of the transit authority, including Detroit, meaning that voters in those communities will not cast ballots Tuesday. They will also not be taxed if the millage passes. It is debatable as to whether they will lose SMART service.

Duggan has said they definitely will. Others, such as Wayne County commissioner Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township, argue that opting out of the transit authority is not the same thing as opting out of SMART.

In the balance: SMART buses like this one may be shifted to other areas of the country by the federal government if voters don't approve a 0.33-mill property tax proposal on the ballot Tuesday.

Observer communities that have opted out are Plymouth, Plymouth-Township and Canton Township.

The property tax proposal is also on the ballot in Macomb County Tuesday and in Oakland County June 6. Communities in Macomb County were not permitted to opt out, but in Oakland County more than half of the cities, townships and villages have quit the transit authority formed there.

SMART has been financially ailing for a number of years. In the most recent fiscal year, SMART's revenues were about $51 million. Of that amount, 16.5 percent came from the federal government, 60.3 percent from the state government and 23.2 percent from fares.

Still, SMART spending has exceeded revenue to the extent that a debt of about $17 million has been accumulated.

Duggan argues that SMART has reduced its spending, improved service, while ably coping with declining revenue. If the millage passes in even one county, he said, the debt will be paid off at the rate of $5 million per year.

Others contend that SMART has been poorly managed, including state Sen. Mat Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, who issued a press release May 18. "The SMART system is strangled by its own maze of inefficiency," he said. "Getting rid of SMART isn't just SMART; it's common sense."

If the millage fails in all three counties, SMART's 700 buses will stop running immediately and may then be reassigned elsewhere by the federal government, which holds the title for most of SMART's equipment, Duggan said. "The federal government already told us point blank, if (the millage) fails they'll take the buses."

Furthermore, Duggan said, there are no plans to try to keep the system alive if the property tax is defeated. "There's no contingency plan for anything," he said.

However, SMART's state subsidy is scheduled to arrive in October, so perhaps "something could be assembled on a scaled-back basis" then, but there is no guarantee. The October state subsidy will also be used to pay off SMART's debt, Duggan said, if the millage fails.

The chief reason Duggan names for saving SMART is to provide transportation for low-income residents to jobs in the suburbs.

The Greater Detroit Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the tax proposal for the same reason.

While Detroit's unemployment rate is double that of the surrounding suburbs, most of the new jobs are in places like Canton Township, Livonia, Farmington Hills, Southfield, Troy and Rochester Hills. And 32 percent of Detroiters have no car, according to the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Currently, SMART has no service to the Chrysler Tech Park in Auburn Hills, Laurel Park Place Mall in Livonia or Twelve Oaks Mall in Novi. And there are no SMART buses on Ford Road or Telegraph.

Routes may be added to these destinations if the proposal passes, but a lot depends on where the proposal passes and whether the desired destination is in a community that has opted out of the transit authority.

Duggan has said that buses won't stop to pick up or drop off passengers in any community that has opted out.

Service to be enhanced if tax passed

If Wayne County voters approve the 0.33-mill property tax for the Wayne County Transit Authority, SMART general manager Michael Duggan said the following new service will be added:

- Weekday and Saturday service on Telegraph Road from Southland north into Oakland County. (This route will stop at Eight Mile Road if the millage fails in Oakland County.)

- Weekday service between Westland, Redford Township and Livonia. One spur will start at Westland Shopping Center and a second will start at Plymouth and Telegraph (Bishop Borgess High School) in Redford Township.

- Connector service will be extended into Romulus 40 hours per week.

- Job express will be added in Southgate, Riverview, Wyandotte and Trenton.

- Route 300 on Grand River will have extended weekday service hours in Redford Township.

- Expanded service is also planned in Oakland County and Macomb County if the millage passes there.

- Also, Duggan promises to double or triple the transit subsidy SMART gives to each community.

- Municipal credit subsidies for Observer communities follow:

- Livonia gets $77,300 now, $154,600 if the millage passes.

- Redford Township gets $41,700 now, $83,400 if the millage passes.

- Westland gets $65,000 now, $130,000 if the millage passes.

- Garden City gets $24,400 now, $48,800 if the millage passes.

- Municipal credits for Canton Township ($43,700), Plymouth Township ($18,100) and Plymouth ($7,300) will be unchanged.

Dentistry in the 90s

by Herbert M. Gardner, D.D.S. & Martha P. Zinderman, R.N., D.D.S

BUILDING A BRIDGE

The fixed restoration known as a "bridge" is used to replace no more than four adjacent front teeth of two side teeth. Just like a highway bridge, a dental bridge must be supported on either side of the gap. Sound teeth used for these supporting roles are called abutments. The span itself, or pontic, is a metal framework (containing artificial teeth) that is attached to the abutments on each end. To lend stability and durability to this arrangement, the abutment teeth are usually fitted with artificial crowns. When an entire dental arch is restored with a single fixed bridge, the restoration is informally referred to as a "roundhouse."

At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we can determine if a crown and/or bridge treatment is indicated, and we will be happy to answer all your questions about the necessary treatment. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where our concern is your comfort and confidence. Our goal is to help preserve your smile for a lifetime. Smiles are our business. We believe and are dedicated to the principles of preventive dentistry. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. Mon., Tues., Thurs. & Fri. 8-5, Wed. 10-9 p.m. We provide dentistry without fear, "twilight sleep intravenous sedation."

Nair named chief of staff at St. Mary Hospital

K.C. Nair, a psychiatrist, will be serving as chief-of-staff for 1995 at St. Mary Hospital in Livonia.

Working closely with Nair will be B. Babu Paidipaty, M.D., as chief-of-staff elect and Martin Daitch, M.D., as secretary-treasurer.

Members-at-large include S. Zampani, M.D., and Conrad Kawel III, M.D.

A staff member at St. Mary since 1972, Nair serves as chairman of the department of behavioral medicine. As such he oversees the mental health unit, chemical dependency unit, day treatment program, and outpatient services in the Center for Counseling Services.

Nair earned his medical degree from the University of Kerala in Trivandrum, India, and did an internship at West Suburban Hospital in Oak Park, Ill. He served his residency at Northville Regional Psychiatric Hospital and the University of Toronto.

He earned a master's in psychiatry and a master's in public health, both at the University of Michigan, and will earn a master's in business administration in May from the University of South Florida.

Nair is board-certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology and is a board examiner. He is a fellow of the American Psychiatric Association and the Royal College of Physicians in Ottawa, Canada. He also is board-certified by the American Board of Medical Quality. His private practice is in Livonia.

Paidipaty, an internist and director of critical care, has been on staff at St. Mary since 1985. A graduate of Guntur Medical College at Andhra University in Andhra Pradesh, India, Paidipaty served his internship and residency in internal medicine at Guntur Medical College and Government

General Hospital in Andhra Pradesh.

He also received medical training in Liverpool, England, New York, Maryland, Washington, D.C., Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. He is a clinical assistant professor in internal medicine at Wayne State University and a diplomate of the American Board of Internal Medicine.

Daitch, obstetrics/gynecology, has been on staff at St. Mary for 35 years. He earned his medical degree from the University of Michigan Medical School and served his residency at Akron (Ohio) General and Detroit Memorial hospitals.

He is past chairman of the department of obstetrics and gynecology at St. Mary Hospital and the U.S. Air Force Hospital in Fairbanks, Alaska. He is board-certified by the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology and his private practice is in Livonia.

U.S. Department of Transportation

Public transit

SMART has many ancestors

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Public transportation in southeastern Michigan is much like the weather. If you don't like it, wait a few minutes and it'll change.

Actually, the changes — that is, major reorganizations — occur every few years. There are five distinct chapters in transit's history:

1. Pre-1968 — private. Detroit operated its DSR (for Department of Street Railways, so named in the 1920s) in the city and a few miles into the nearby suburbs. The suburbs were served by a disconnected series of private bus companies — Bee Lines, Martin, Great Lakes and the like. Besides being disconnected, much of their equipment was shabby, indicating a less than robust profit picture.

2. SEMTA I. The Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority was designed under the aegis of Metropolitan Fund, a think-tank bankrolled by industrial, utility, labor and civic leaders. Metro Fund also began the regional Transportation and Land Use Study (TALUS), a health council and SEMCOG, the Council of Governments.

SEMTA was a seven-county regional organization, the same as SEMCOG. Under a plan born when George Romney was governor in the mid-1960s, SEMCOG was to provide board members, coordinate employment policies, do long-range planning for and review the budget of SEMTA and other regional organizations.

In fact, what happened was that SEMTA got its 15 board members from gubernatorial appointments, Detroit appointments and SEMCOG appointments. It hatched a $2.3 billion plan for beginning five rail rapid transit lines (called "subways" by its enemies) as well as major bus routes and dial-a-ride service.

In 1976 Detroit Mayor Coleman Young, with regional leaders taking a back seat, presented the plans to President Gerald Ford, who said they were very nice. Ford lost the election, and the political system began to balkanize, a term that comes from the area where the former Yugoslavia has disintegrated.

By 1980 it was clear the U.S. Congress had funded its last rail rapid transit systems, in Atlanta and the San Francisco Bay. Only buses would be in southeastern Michigan's future.

According to the state law creating SEMTA, it was to merge with Detroit's system, now called D-DOT. Negotiations broke down, however, because Detroit was subsidizing its system, the suburbs weren't, and Young wasn't about to let D-DOT marry a pauperized SEMTA.

3. SEMTA II. In the late 1970s, county officials began flexing their political muscles and decided they, not SEMCOG, should run the show, since they had capacity to raise money and SEMCOG didn't.

Then-state Sen. Carl Pursell of Plymouth designed a bill that allowed counties and Detroit to pick most SEMTA board members.

Moving on to Congress, Pursell manipulated a federal "demonstration grant" that gave downtown Detroit an elevated, railed People Mover. It became a victim of its own popularity. Politicians and businesspeople insisted on budget-busting design changes, changes and more changes, resulting in cost overruns.

The People Mover drained several years worth of SEMTA's money for new buses. SEMTA finally gave up and turned the books and keys over to Young's administration. By 1994, new Mayor Dennis Archer had to shut it down for repairs.

4. SMART I. In the mid-1980s, the region's Big Four —

Young, Oakland Executive Dan Murphy, Wayne Executive William Lucas and the chair of the Macomb County board — decided they needed (1) to cooperate generally and (2) forget about a seven-county-Detroit regional system. They designed SMART (for Suburban Mobility Authority — Rapid Transit).

Their goals were to let Detroit operate its system and to tailor suburban operations to a short list of inter-suburban routes in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. Out of it were Washenaw, Monroe, Livingston and St. Clair counties.

SMART was run mostly by deputy Oakland Executive Patrick Nowak and deputy Wayne Executive Michael Duggan. In 1991 Nowak moved on to become state director of transportation.

5. SMART II. Still without local revenue, SMART, now run by Duggan as acting general manager, sought help in 1994 from the participating counties to avoid having to close up shop. Goal was one-third of a mill of property tax. He got fractional help. Facing rebellions in their ranks, the boards of Oakland and Wayne counties set up authorities under which cities and townships could opt out of the system. Many did.

Suburban Wayne communities still in the system will vote May 23 on a tax proposal. Oakland communities still in the system will vote June 6. Macomb voters will face a countywide proposal May 23.

Duggan has business money and is targeting senior citizen riders. He is optimistic. Most politics watchers, listening to anti-tax ruminations, are pessimistic.

If the pessimists are right and voters reject local tax money, SMART will close up shop very soon. Public transportation in the suburbs will be in worse shape than it was in 1967 under the limping private companies.

Rivers adds electronic mail address

U.S. Rep. Lynn Rivers, D-Ann Arbor, has added an electronic mail address to the means by which constituents may contact her.

The 13th District, which Rivers represents, includes Canton and Plymouth townships, Plymouth, Westland, Garden City and the southwest quadrant of Livonia.

The email address is RIVERS@HR.HOUSE.GOV. Rivers has also announced the pending creation of a site on the House Gopher. This will enable those with Internet access to see position papers, Rivers' biography, office address and more. This should be available by June, a press release said.

Letters to Rivers may also be sent via regular mail at the following address: 1116 Longworth House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

To phone Rivers' office in Washington, call (202) 225-6281. To call the district offices, call (313) 741-4210 or (313) 722-1411.

Home buying made easier for cash poor disabled folks

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

A new partnership between the federal government and an Oakland County-based social service agency is making it possible for low-income people with physical and developmental disabilities to buy homes.

The Oakland Livingston Human Service Agency has created an affiliate called "Venture Inc." that works with social service agencies in six counties, the Federal National Mortgage Association (FannieMae) and the National Bank of Detroit to arrange mortgages for people who cannot otherwise qualify.

The "Special Needs Housing Program" is the first of its kind in the nation and was recently profiled on the Cable News Network.

FannieMae has agreed to purchase $2.5 million in mortgages for people with disabilities through January 1996.

FannieMae likewise modified its standard underwriting criteria so low-income special needs people can qualify. Specifically, FannieMae waived requirements that borrowers must put up a 3 percent down payment and Social Security disability payments may not be included in calculations to determine if a borrower can sustain payments.

Although a borrower under the Special Needs program may still pay his or her own down payment, most participants are expected to benefit from loans or donations for their down payments.

To qualify for a loan, an applicant must be certifiably disabled, physically or developmentally, by the Social Security Administration. However, individuals with mental illnesses do not qualify.

Applicants in Oakland County should call Patricia Dudek, director of Living Opportunities, at (810) 649-6270.

Applicants in Wayne County must call Janice Arps at Wayne Community Living Services, (313) 722-7055.

Venture president Diana Stahl reports that the waiting list in Wayne County has more than 100 names on it.

The first new homeowner in Wayne County is Mary Lord, who bought a house in Detroit that was rehabilitated by All Saints Church, of which she is a member. The down payment comprised money collected from church members, Lord's savings and donations from friends, Stahl said.

In Oakland County, Betty Gager was able to buy a condominium in Royal Oak with the help of the Jewish Association for Residential Care and developer Bernard Glickerman, owner of Crosswinds Communities, who donated the down payment and closing cost of $5,000, Stahl said.

The waiting list in Oakland County has just 12 names on it, Dudek said, giving new applicants there a better chance to get a house.

Applicants should know, Dudek said, that no one is giving them anything. "Some of them don't understand that we're not going to give them money or buy them a house," she said. "There's no money here at all."

Demand has been so strong for the service that publicity is desired only for its potential to attract donors.

In other words, they need people to donate money for down payments and they need people to make loans for down payments.

"We don't have the capacity to respond to the demand," Dudek said. "We're looking for investors."

Munsell to lead hospice group

Carol Munsell, director of clinical services at Angela Hospice in Livonia, has been elected president of the Michigan Hospice Organization.

Munsell, an MHO board member for three years, assumes her new position after a successful tenure as vice president.

"I believe the MHO has many issues to address this coming year, including health care reform and a variety of legislative issues," said Munsell.

The organization was designed to promote quality hospice care in Michigan. It acts as an advocate for hospice and as an educational resource for developing hospices.

As president, Munsell will preside over all meetings of the board and executive officers, act as a member of all standing committees, and perform all other duties assigned by the board.

"We need to be proactive to meet and educate the member programs throughout Michigan," said Munsell.

Along with her new position with the MHO and current responsibilities at Angela Hospice, Munsell also teaches hospice management in the bachelor of science in hospice program at Madonna University in Livonia.

Sister Mary Giovanni, Angela Hospice president, recognizes the dedication Munsell has made to hospice. "Carol has been active in providing hospice care since 1984. Her contributions to Angela Hospice and the state of Michigan have not gone unnoticed."

Adelines celebrate 50th anniversary

The Spirit of Detroit Sweet Adeline Chorus, whose 90 members hail from 41 communities in western Wayne County and beyond, commemorated the 50th anniversary of the Sweet Adelines in a big way.

The women's barbershop chorus took first in regional competition last week in London, Ontario, outperforming 21 choruses from Michigan and Ontario. Spirit of Detroit is now eligible for international competition in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., in October 1996.

The win keeps Spirit of Detroit's streak alive. Spirit of Detroit has placed first in the last four regional competitions for which it has been eligible to participate. It has represented this region in international competitions in Miami in 1989, Baltimore in 1992, and Reno in 1994, when it competed with choruses from all over the world.

The Great Lakes Chorus of Sterling Heights placed second in last week's competition, while the Thumb-Area Chorus from Davison took third.

Spirit of Detroit's director LeAnn K. Hazlett of Swanton, Ohio won the Novice Director's Trophy. Hazlett sings lead in the International Sweet Adeline champion quartet, Swing Street.

Barbershop fans are invited to a free, outdoor concert the Sweet Adelines will present at 8 p.m. Thursday, June 15, at Heritage Park on Farmington Road just north of 10 Mile in Farmington. The performance is part of the city's Thursday night Summer Music Series. Concert-goers are encouraged to pack a cooler and enjoy a picnic dinner on a blanket or lawn chair.

Singing and non-singing visitors to Spirit of Detroit's Tuesday evening rehearsals are both encouraged and welcomed. The weekly rehearsals are at the VFW Hall at I-96 and Inkster in Redford Township. For more information, call (313) 534-4468, or (810) 553-9435.

"There is an abundance of good music and fellowship for you to enjoy, whether you sit back and listen with the audience, or try your hand at singing on the risers with the chorus," said chorus member Elizabeth Tallent.

"We have women who have done some professional work in music, and we have everything in between, including people who can't read a note of music. You don't have to know how to read music; all you need to have is the voice to sing; the desire to sing; and the ability to stay on pitch and hold your part in a chorus," she said. "That's all there is to it, and that's why Sweet Adelines International is the greatest hobby organization in the world."

Sweet Adelines range in age from 16-80.

Sweet Adelines was organized in 1945 in Tulsa, Okla. It's committed to advancing the musical art form of barbershop harmony through education and performance. The organization now boasts a membership of more than 32,000 women from the United States, Canada, the United Kingdom, Sweden, the Netherlands, Germany, Australia, Japan and New Zealand.

Among the newly crowned vocalists are board member Mary Thompson, Linda Clements and Ann Lemon.

Other newly installed officers include Laura Loacano, treasurer; and board members Liz Potter, Sandy Pastor, Nora Conn, and Faith Massey. Harriet McAvoy is president, Alice LaVigne vice president, Mary Lou Howlett corresponding secretary, and Susan Willis recording secretary. Retiring board members are Ruth Pencak, Maureen Maher and Pam Lauer.

When we ask you to give the gift of a lifetime, we're not exaggerating.

Some of them have been abused. Others have been abandoned. But they're all victims of the biggest problem facing the Michigan Humane Society: Pet overpopulation.

More than 54,000 animals find their way into our shelters each year. And while we're here to help them all, the painful truth is, we can't do it alone. Which is why we urge you to make a donation to the Michigan Humane Society this holiday.

By doing so, you'll help provide these animals with food, shelter and the best medical care possible. Your contributions will also afford them something equally important: the opportunity to find a new home.

Please give generously. Because without your help, a lot of wonderful animals will never enjoy the most priceless gift of all: Life.

The Reading and Language Arts Centers will offer small group classes in phonics to individuals in kindergarten through the fourth grade this summer. Classes are designed to enhance language skills or overcome speech difficulties. The fee is $98. Area classes will meet Mondays, June 12 to Aug. 7, at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer. A class for kindergartners meets 3-3:30 p.m. A class for first- and second-graders meets 4-4:50 p.m. A class for third- and fourth-graders meets 5-5:50 p.m. For more information about the course, call (810) 645-9690. To register, call (313) 455-6620.

New language arts plan approved

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Public school English teachers will be trained in a new system that unifies the language arts skills of reading, writing, listening, speaking and literature after a divided State Board of Education approved the plan 6-2.

"We are the leader in the country. We should finish it, not drop it," said board member Kathleen Straus, D-Detroit. "This third year (of a three-year project) is for professional development. It's an expensive project, and it's worth it."

The board acted Wednesday after suburban and outstate teachers pleaded with members to keep the project and retain University of Michigan Professor Karen Wixson as co-director. The board left open a decision on Wixson, who irritated some members by suggesting they didn't support the project. But the board dropped the U-M as "fiscal agent" to handle the money.

What the board approved was an application for a $518,000 federal grant for the third year. In the first and second years, the department and pilot project managers have drafted, polished and tested content standards and grade-level benchmarks. Cost was $844,000.

"For many years, we've had separate curricula for reading, writing, listening, speaking and literature," said Sheila Potter, state Department of Education co-director.

Opposing the application were two appointees of Gov. John Engler — Gary Wolfram, R-Hillsdale, a libertarian college professor who dislikes most government and once advocated selling off state parks; and Ruth Braun, R-Saginaw, a new appointee.

"It's not what I want," said Wolfram, without saying what he wanted, "and it won't be much improved by another $500,000."

Braun did not speak. Supporting it, besides Straus, were board president W. Clark Durant, R-Grosse Pointe; Dorothy Beardmore, R-Rochester Hills; Sharon Wise, R-Owaso; Marilyn Lundy, R-Detroit; and Barbara Roberts Mason, D-Lansing.

Educational traditionalists are cool to teaching writing until after spelling drills are mastered; to considering listening and speaking as "language arts," although reformers insist they're more frequently used than reading and writing; and to teaching reasoning and information processing instead of rote memorizing.

None of those arguments was made, however, in the board's two-hour discussion. Durant asked whether the grant, if received, had to be spent, hinting he may resist the project at a future point. "I want to talk with others on the evaluation," he said.

U-M's Karen Wixson was stoutly defended by a parade of teachers and administrators for getting groups to cooperate that never had worked together.

"She's the cement that holds it together," said Charles Peters, a West Bloomfield resident who directed pilot programs in the Southfield, Waterford, Monroe and Hillsdale school districts. "She was the bridge to get groups to work together."

Among the cooperating groups: Michigan Reading Association, Michigan Association of Speech Communicators, Michigan Council of Teachers of English, business and labor union representatives.

Jennifer Lewis, a teacher and parent who worked on the Southfield pilot, said, "The very best teachers, scholars, educators and parents have been choreographed together" by Wixson's leadership.

Ann Goye, University of Michigan teacher educator, warned, "Don't ever sign a blank check. This (effort to dump Wixson) sounds like a blank check."

"Our best have gotten better," said Judy Kelly, a Trenton teacher. "No longer do we have a system that was dished out. It (the new project) was something they (teachers) had ownership in."

"It's totally illogical to remove the leadership," said Adrian College Professor Richard Koch. "The project is excellent. Allow us to complete the third year of the project."

Constance Weaver, a Western Michigan University specialist in English education, said she said the new, integrated approach is like teaching swimming in the water, "where you refine your strokes." The old method is like having learners kick and wave their arms outside of the pool, requiring them to perfect their motions before letting them get wet, she said.

"Teaching grammar in isolation doesn't help," Weaver said. "It saves a great deal of time to teach reading and writing together."

In other matters, the State Board of Education:

■ Heard Dorothy Beardmore, a second term veteran and political moderate, chastise Durant, whom Engler boosted into the presidency, for presenting his own views publicly as the eight-member board's. "Occasionally the board president serves as spokesperson for the board. It is not the privilege of the president to present his or her own views as the board's," said Beardmore. Durant didn't reply.

■ Approved Oakland University's proposal to offer a minor program in teaching dance at elementary and secondary levels. The program would require 28 semester hours.

Comment sought on mental health money

Ten foundations have joined with the Department of Mental Health and the Michigan Association of Community Mental Health Boards to develop a new way to distribute $1 billion in state and federal money to the 54 community mental health boards in Michigan.

Six regional workshops are scheduled to solicit comments from health care providers, government officials, educational workers, health agencies and advocates for the mentally ill.

The workshop in this area begins at 9 a.m. Tuesday, May 30, in the Ward Conference Center, Terrace Room, at the University of Detroit-Mercy.

The study is being conducted by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

In 1993, $898 million, or 69 percent of the Department of Mental Health budget provided for community programs and 28 percent for state hospitals.

In 1994 the department continued to shift to community support with $992.8 million budgeted for community based programs.

The results of this study will be recommended to the Michigan Department of Mental Health by July 1.

Among the foundations supporting this study are Community Foundation for Southeastern Michigan and the Metro Health Foundation, both of Detroit.

GOLF CAN BE A REAL CHALLENGE.

See some of the greatest players in the game today from all three professional tours go head-to-head in an exciting Skins Game at the First of America Challenge on Memorial Day at the Golden Fox in Plymouth. In last year's Challenge, Michelle McGann sank a birdie putt on the final hole to win the Challenge. She returns this year to face the challenge of some of the best from the LPGA, PGA and Senior PGA Tours.

Nancy Lopez, a member of the LPGA Hall of Fame and perhaps the finest women's player in history, leads the Challenge from the LPGA. Peter Jacobsen, the hottest player currently on the men's PGA Tour with two victories already this year, will represent his tour in the Challenge and also perform his entertaining clinic during the lunch break.

From the Senior PGA tour, Dave Stockton, who has been the leading money winner for the past two seasons and won last year's Senior Players Championship in Dearborn, will lead the Challenge. Joining Dave from the Senior Tour will be Jim Colbert, who has compiled eight regular Tour championships and nine Senior Tour championships including the 1993 Senior Players Championship.

If you're looking for something special to do on Memorial Day, this is your chance to bring your entire family out to enjoy an entertaining day on the golf course watching the game's great players. Advance tickets are available at all Detroit and Ann Arbor area First of America offices or at the Golden Fox for just $5. Children 12 and under are free. Tickets at the gate will be $10. A portion of the proceeds will go to support the Michigan Special Olympics.

Enter The Challenge Sweepstakes to win free pro-am spots and a chance to play with the tour pros and other great golf prizes. Get free swing tips from the instructors from the Colbert-Ballard Golf Learning Centers.

S'craft candidates square off in League forum

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

The five candidates for four seats on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees duelled Thursday at a Livonia League of Women Voters forum at city hall.

While the four incumbents continually emphasized how good the college already is, challenger Brian Broderick reiterated his ideas to make Schoolcraft better.

Broderick, a Plymouth attorney, is running against incumbents Mary Breen of Plymouth Township, Harry Greenleaf of Livonia and Steve Ragan of Plymouth, for three six-year terms expiring June 30, 2001.

Trustee Carol Strom of Livonia, who was appointed in February 1994 to fill a vacancy, is running unopposed for a two-year term expiring June 30, 1997.

The election is June 12. The Schoolcraft College District includes the K-12 school districts of Livonia, Clarenceville, Garden City, Plymouth-Canton and Northville.

"I will work to maintain what we have, which is the highest possible standard at the lowest possible cost," said Breen, 61, a retired teacher and assistant principal who joined the Schoolcraft board in 1983.

"Schoolcraft is an invaluable resource to our community," said Ragan, 29, who has been a board member since February 1991 and chairman since July 1993. "And Schoolcraft College didn't get that way by accident or chance." "Schoolcraft College is a fine example of what a community college should be," said Strom, 59, who was on the Livonia Board of Education for 16 years, including a term as president.

Greenleaf, 57, is the longest-serving Schoolcraft board member, having been elected in 1977. He emphasized Schoolcraft's sound financial condition, absence of debt, and his philosophy of trusteeship. "We should maintain the stability of the college so it can serve future generations," he said.

Broderick, 28, twice stated his three-goal plan for Schoolcraft's future. He wants to, No. 1, "develop alternative funding sources," No. 2, "expand information technologies (to put the college) in a position to lead the community in this area," and No. 3, get the college more active in sponsoring and participating in community events.

"Reach out more to the communities," he said. "It's important that the college sell itself to everyone in the district."

Of the four incumbents, only Ragan mentioned anything he would like to see Schoolcraft do that it isn't doing now.

When moderator Anne Marie Graham asked the candidates what "positive change" they would emphasize for the college, Ragan said he would like to see the college do more with computer technology.

While Breen answered, "We need to stay focused. We are there to meet the needs of the community whatever those needs may be."

The candidates were next asked what programs they would eliminate, if that were necessary. This time only Broderick suggested anything in particular. The incumbents said no cuts are anticipated. Broderick suggested that one-year certification programs may be vulnerable in such a situation.

The candidates were also asked if they would favor admitting Redford Township school districts into the Schoolcraft district.

Greenleaf noted that Redford school districts chose not to join Schoolcraft in 1961 when the college was formed.

Said Strom: "If Redford Township were interested, I'm sure we'd consider it." Ragan, Breen and Broderick were more emphatic.

Ragan alluded to the performance of Wayne County Community College when he said, "There is not adequate community college service to those communities."

He said he would give "strong support" to an effort on the part of a Redford Township school district to join Schoolcraft.

Breen said, "We would be more than happy to accept them."

Broderick said, "Schoolcraft College should welcome them."

Drivers urged to slow down

The steady increase in Michigan road construction in recent years, coupled with a significant rise in work zone traffic accidents, has state and transportation industry officials urging motorists to slow down in work zones.

A coalition of transportation, law enforcement, contractors and other groups recently launched the annual "Give 'em a Brake" campaign aimed at drivers who disregard the orange signs, cones and barrels that dot Michigan roads each year.

"I can't help but notice how much faster people are driving these days, both in and outside of work zones," said Michigan Department of Transportation Director Patrick Nowak. "Faster speeds and motorist disregard for safety may be contributing to a marked increase in the number of accidents, injuries, and deaths in work zones."

The Michigan State Police recorded nearly 6,000 accidents in work zones statewide last year, up 11 percent from 1993.

There were 2,344 injuries and 27 fatalities.

Two of the deaths involved workers.

"It only takes a split second to lose control, to lose your concentration, to make a move that will result in a traffic crash," said Michigan Secretary of State Candice Miller. "It's all too common to see motorists traveling 65, 70, or 75 miles an hour through construction zones. Drivers need to be courteous to one another and drive Michigan safely."

Michigan Road Builders Association President Robert Thompson, who is chief executive officer of Thompson-McCully Co. of Belleville, noted motorists save very little time when speeding through road work.

"Here's a fact more motorists should pay attention to," Thompson said. "It takes less than a minute more to drive 45 rather than 65 miles per hour through a two-mile construction zone. We're talking in terms of 52 seconds saved, vs. the eight hours or so our workers spend daily in the construction zone."

Maps pinpointing construction zones across the state can be found at the department of transportation's 13 welcome centers, or by calling an M-DOT district office. In the Detroit area, call (810) 569-3993.

ACLU head gives heart, perspective to area liberals

Pay attention to local school board elections.

That was the message last week from Ira Glasser, longtime national director of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"The Christian Coalition is eight degrees of sophistication beyond the Moral Majority," he said. "It is organized politically and they all start with local office."

If you allow these "stealth candidates" in, he said, "you not only create problems in the schools but political careers start. They're very good at it," said Glasser who spoke to 300-person gathered at the Birmingham Temple in Farmington Hills last Monday night.

It was obvious from the attentive, supportive, mainly over 60-something audience, that Glasser was preaching to the choir on "Confronting the Radical Right in America."

As the religious right readies its agenda for the second 100 days, the New York Times last Tuesday reported Glasser sent letters to President Clinton, all members of Congress and the 50 governors calling the Christian Coalition's plans an assault on constitutional freedoms.

But from this local lectern, he delivered a mild-mannered and upbeat history lesson, designed to provide perspective on why the radical right is "playing so well right now."

Look to the economy, he said. "A large number of people believe their children will be less well off than they are." It takes optimism to hand out rights.

Today, "we have a meanness of spirit. They're doing everything right and the American dream isn't working. And the Republicans are telling them — be angry."

"It's an engine of anger waiting to be attached."

In fact, Glasser said, "The odds are far better today than the day the ACLU was organized. There is no way even this court and this Congress can roll back anything except marginally."

"What counts is what people who demand their rights do. Not what the other side does."

He cautioned his audience not to lose heart over setbacks. That's where the perspective comes in.

For the most part, the Bill of Rights provided no shelter for 130 years, Glasser recited. "There was rigid discrimination on the basis of sex, religion, race; separation of church and state existed only in civics classes; constitutional litigation was too expensive."

That began to change in the '20s with the formation of the ACLU, NAACP and labor unions. "Without organizations to finance and bring attorneys in, individuals couldn't have done it," Glasser said.

Slowly, he said, an edifice of legal rights began to build. Following World War II, things began to move fast. "We had fought a war abroad against racism. We couldn't ignore it here any longer."

Jackie Robinson breaking the color line in baseball (1947) and Brown v. Board of Education (1954) striking down school segregation were key. And "a virtual explosion of rights supported by the Warren Court" burst from 1954 to 1973 when Rowe v. Wade legalized abortion.

But rights, Glasser reminded, equals limitations on power. "People don't like to give up power." So this rights explosion "got a lot of people mad."

People like Pat Buchanan, Glasser says, want to "take back the country — not your country, his. They feel their country was stolen."

"The galvanizing decision was the abortion decision. We celebrated and they organized."

Walkers to raise money for epilepsy

The Epilepsy Center of Michigan is looking for fun and fitness buffs to participate in the 1995 Summer Stroll for Epilepsy, the national fund-raising event benefiting people with seizure disorders.

On Saturday, June 3, walkers in metro Detroit will kick off the Epilepsy Center's fourth annual stroll at the Troy Farm and Nature Center and the University of Michigan-Dearborn. A third stroll will take place June 20 in Grand Rapids.

Registration for the Troy and Dearborn sites starts at 9 a.m. and the stroll begins at 10 a.m. The Troy Farm and Nature Center is located on Coolidge Highway, between Square Lake Road and South Boulevard. The campus of the University of Michigan-Dearborn is located on Evergreen between Michigan Ave. and Ford.

There's still time to register to win prizes from official summer stroll T-shirts, baseball caps, sweatshirts, duffel bags to portable compact disc players and televisions.

Team prizes for groups of five or more walkers will also be awarded for the following: most money raised, highest team average, most creative name, most unique uniform, and largest team. Team members are also eligible for individual prizes. Participants raising $500 will be entered in a special raffle to win additional prizes. The grand prize winner will receive a made in Michigan adventure for two.

For more information on walking or volunteering, call the center's summer stroll hotline at 810-351-7979.

Chuck Gaidica, weathercaster at Detroit's WDIV-TV (channel 4) and host of Michigan Lottery's "megabucks giveaway" show is the stroll's honorary chairperson for 1995.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Make rice a part of your healthful diet

Rice is the staple food for more than half the world's population, and consumption is booming in the United States. We eat close to 21 pounds of rice a year, more than double the amount we ate just a few years ago.

There has also been a huge increase in multi-cultural immigration in the same period, so the figures may be deceptive. It could be that some of us are eating far more, and others considerably less than the calculated average. Our bowls are relatively empty though, in comparison with those of Asians, who eat as much as 300 pounds of rice per person per year.

As we are coaxed, prodded and nagged to eat healthier diets, some people are predicting a rise in rice consumption that will undoubtedly parallel our passion for pasta.

Rice is just about as healthy as any single food can be. It is rich in complex carbohydrates, low in fat and packed with vitamins, minerals, amino acids and fiber, not to mention that it's very inexpensive.

Varieties

Long grain rice is four to five times as long as it is wide. When cooked, the grains tend to stay separated and are light and fluffy. It is by far the best all purpose rice available.

Short grain rice is almost round in shape. The grains are softer than the medium or long grain rice and tend to stick together when cooked. That is the reason short grain rice is best suited for making sushi and rice pudding.

Arborio rice from Italy's Po Valley is a superior variety used for making risotto. It is a short, shiny, pearly smooth rice that gradually absorbs hot broth when partially stirred for about 45 minutes.

Basmati rice is a fragrant rice from India and Pakistan. It is now grown in Texas and is gaining converts every day. It is long, tender and carries a distinctively nutty taste that makes it a perfect choice for curries and pilafs.

Brown rice is the unpolished grain and retains its valuable bran layer. A storehouse of great nutrition, it contains both soluble and insoluble fiber and loads of Vitamin E, which is believed to strengthen the immune system. Brown rice takes longer to cook than white rice, but its dense, nutty flavor is worth the wait.

Converted (parboiled) rice has been steamed and dried prior to removal of the hull and bran. The result is a fluffy rice with grains that do not stick together. Unfortunately, during the conversion process, many nutrients are lost and must be replaced with other foods and vegetables.

Wild rice really isn't rice at all; it's a marsh grass that, when overcooked, pops. Methods of cooking rice not only vary with the different types of rice but with the expectations of the cook and the individual preferences of the rice eaters.

First off, let's kill an old wives tale that all rice should be washed, soaked or rinsed before cooking. Soaking or rinsing rice was once done, but that was way back before modern packaging and processing, and the task was done simply for cleaning. If it seems that rinsed rice cooks faster than regular rice, it does; but mainly because the rice absorbs some of the rinsing and soaking water.

Momma always has and still continues to cook her rice via the boiling water method. Like pasta, the rice is dumped in plenty of boiling hot water, cooked until tender and then drained through a fine sieve. Unfortunately, most of the nutrients go down the drain. I personally prefer to use the covered pot method.

First, I heat a tiny amount of oil (about 1-2 teaspoons) in the bottom of a heavy saucepan. The rice is added to the hot oil and stirred for about 3-4 minutes. Then I add just enough water to cover the rice by 1/2 inch. I bring the water and rice to a boil, cover the pot and lower the heat to a simmer. Usually about 20 minutes is sufficient.

The basic rule of thumb is 1 cup raw rice to 2 cups water for moist, soft rice. Again, personal preference dictates a desire for firmer rice so I measured and came up with 1 cup rice to 1 3/4 cups water.

Chefs meet: Schoolcraft College's culinary arts department has developed a reputation for excellence based in part on the reputations of the five full-time faculty members. They are (from left) Kevin Gawronski, Leopold Schaeffl, Joe Decker, Dan Hugelier and Jeffrey Gabriel.

BY BRIAN LYSAGHT
SPECIAL WRITER

Susan Todoroff is changing careers. The 33-year-old Dearborn resident has an undergraduate degree and significant work experience in public relations.

"I worked in that field for a long time, and I decided I really want to do something for a living that I love. And I really love cooking," Todoroff said. She enrolled in Schoolcraft College's culinary arts program, where she is a first-year student.

"I've heard it's one of the best schools in the country," she said.

The school's reputation is glowing and growing. About 70 new students per year are accepted, and there is a waiting list.

The five full-time faculty members are all certified master chefs, a title attained by experienced chefs who pass a rigorous 10-day testing program at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, NY. There are nine CMCs in Michigan, and 62 in the country.

The goal of the two-year Schoolcraft program, said Chef Jeffrey Gabriel, is to train students to be more than just employable in the restaurant industry.

"We want the students to go out there when they get a job in the industry, we want them to shine," Gabriel said.

That apparently happened in Shawn Loving's case. The 24-year-old native of Detroit's east side earned a culinary arts degree at Schoolcraft and, after stints at Franklin Hills Country Club and Les Auteurs, took a job three years ago at EPCOT Center in Orlando, Fla. He oversees a 14-person kitchen staff.

Loving said he got "everything he needed" to succeed in at Schoolcraft.

"The hands-on tutoring you get there is just phenomenal," said Loving, who has wanted to be a chef since age 14.

"It's very difficult to attend that school and not be motivated," he added.

Kelli Lewton, who owns Two Unique Catering in Birmingham, said her Schoolcraft experience was a "catalyst" for her career.

"It's innate ability, but I think school refines it and shows you how to use it," Lewton said. She traveled to Singapore as a member of a Schoolcraft culinary team. The school's culinary arts team has won several international, national and state competitions.

Gabriel said most of the students work at restaurants. Class size is small - 12 students maximum in the cooking laboratories where Gabriel said 70 percent of instruction takes place. About 140 students interested in enrolling are directed to an introductory class. It can take a year for students to get in.

The program covers food preparation, baking, pastry, butchery, ice carving along with management and cost functions.

The school in Livonia was established in 1966 by Herman Breithaupt, who headed the Detroit Public Schools' culinary arts program. An early backer was the late Ralph Lorenz of Plymouth, who needed qualified kitchen staff for his Mayflower Hotel. The program got a boost in 1982 with the construction of a 12,500-foot Waterman Center addition that included a new kitchen, demonstration lab and restaurant. The American Harvest restaurant is operated by students and is open for lunch Tuesday through Friday during the school year.

Gabriel took over in the mid-1980s, and the curriculum became more specialized, with its emphasis on refined cooking skills and the fundamentals of running a food service business.

Gabriel said he has encouraged the faculty to seek master-chef status. The most recent faculty member to be certified is Kevin Gawronski, a 1972 graduate of the program.

The graduate list includes Brian Polcyn from Pike Street restaurant in Pontiac; Tom MacKinnon from MacKinnon's in Northville; and Luciano DelSignore from Fonte D'Amore in Livonia.

But Gabriel said the business is tough - hours are long and the pay can be low, to start anyway. That's why, he said, he likes to see a positive attitude from students.

"There's going to be first jobs where there's not a lot of money to be made. There's a lot of dues to be paid."

Instructor passes test

Kevin Gawronski made it unanimous.

Now, all five professors at Schoolcraft College's Culinary Arts program have attained the title of certified master chef. Each passed the rigorous and comprehensive testing program offered by the Culinary Institute of America. Only nine Michigan chefs have been certified.

Gawronski, 43, of West Bloomfield, has been an instructor and associate professor at Schoolcraft for 13 years. Before that, he worked at Travis Pointa Country Club in Ann Arbor and the old London Chop House.

He's also a 1972 graduate of the Schoolcraft program.

What does the new title mean?

"It means there are more demands on my time," he joked. He said the calls have increased from restaurateur's seeking his counsel and cooking event organizers.

Gawronski underwent the 10-day certification program at the Culinary Institute of America in Hyde Park, NY. He was tested on topics such as sanitation, supervision, management, menu development and wine and spirits. As part of the process, he had to prepare a meal representing regional New England cooking from a mystery basket of foods.

"You had to be very familiar with all regional cooking in all parts of America," Gawronski said.

He had to know about nutritional value, international cooking, classical methods and Oriental cooking. He passed on his second try at certification, and recalled preparing a celebratory dinner when chef Milos Cihelka won master chef certification.

"It's kind of been in the back of my mind and I've been surrounded by master chefs for the last several years," Gawronski said, referring to instructor colleagues, Jeffrey Gabriel, Joseph Decker, Daniel Hugelier and Leopold Schaeffl. They offered encouragement, he said.

Gawronski teaches a hot foods class to second-year students at Schoolcraft. He said he is especially interested in reading and traveling to learn more about the foods he prepares.

"What interests me is the story in cooking - how a food developed, where it developed, when it developed and under what conditions it developed."

Gawronski and three partners owned a Cucina di Pasta, an upscale take-out food business in Novi in the mid-1980s.

Winning cake: Eleanor Froehlich's Gingerbread Breakfast Cake, the $1,000 first prize winner in Kretschmer Wheat Germ's recipe contest.

Retired English teacher gets 'A' for cake

A Rochester woman's recipe won a first prize in the second annual Kretschmer Wheat Germ "Healthy Eating Made Easy and Delicious" recipe contest.

Eleanor Froehlich's gingerbread breakfast cake was voted the best recipe in the bread category. The cake includes low-fat buttermilk, wheat germ, brown sugar and pumpkin pie spice.

Froehlich said she began using wheat germ to liven up breakfast cereals in the 1940s. "When my husband and I were first married, we thought most cereals were pretty bland," said Froehlich, a retired Birmingham Groves High School English teacher.

She said that though the recipe is not a now one, she has made it healthier by reducing sugar and substituting smaller amounts of vegetable oil for butter. Applesauce and buttermilk are included to maximize tenderness, and the cake is topped with applesauce or vanilla nonfat yogurt.

Froehlich is a cookbook collector who regularly enters recipe contests and not infrequently wins. She won an Entenmann's Bakery contest last year for a recipe that included using cookies for a pie crust.

"I've been cooking for many, many years. Collecting cookbooks is a hobby of mine," she said.

"My main passion is traveling," she added.

Wholesome rice cooks up in so many different ways

See Chef, Larry James' Taste Buds column on Taste front.

Here's a recipe that could rest solely on its laurels for a nutritious vegetarian meal — leave out the cashews if you're dieting and stir in 1 cup frozen peas during the last 10 minutes of simmering.

BROWN RICE WITH GARLIC AND CASHEWS

- 4 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 cups brown rice (uncooked)
- 4 1/2 cups water
- Pinch salt (optional)
- 2 cloves garlic, cut into thin slivers
- 1 cup unsalted cashews

Heat 1 1/2 tablespoons oil in a large saucepan over medium high heat. Add the rice and saute, stirring for 2-3 minutes. Add the water and 2 teaspoons salt, and heat to boiling, stirring well.

Cook, covered, over medium low heat until the water is absorbed and the rice is tender, about 45 minutes. Just before the rice is cooked, heat the remaining 2 1/2 tablespoons of oil in a small heavy skillet over low heat. Add the garlic and saute gently until barely golden, about 3 minutes. Stir in the cashews and cook 2 minutes more.

Sprinkle with a pinch of salt, if desired. Pour the cashew, garlic and oil mixture over the cooked rice. Toss with a fork or chopstick and spoon into a serving dish. Serves 6. If you love curry, you'll really enjoy this recipe!

PILAF WITH CURRY, RAISINS AND ALMONDS

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 or 2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1 teaspoon ground turmeric (optional)
- 1 cup Basmati rice
- 1/2 cup raisins
- 1 1/4 cups unsalted chicken broth
- 2 tablespoons slivered almonds

Melt the butter or margarine in a large saucepan over medium heat. When hot, saute the onion until golden, about 5 minutes.

Stir in the curry, turmeric, rice and raisins. Saute 2 minutes more. Add the chicken broth and heat to boiling, stirring once.

Cover and cook over low heat until the broth is absorbed and the rice is tender, about 15 minutes. Allow to stand uncovered for 5 minutes off the heat.

Meanwhile toast the almonds on a dry baking sheet in a 350 degree for 5-7 minutes or until fragrant.

Sprinkle over pilaf and toss to mix. Makes 4 servings. From momma's files: her personal favorite!

OLD-FASHIONED RICE PUDDING

- 1/2 cup white rice
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg or cinnamon
- 2 quarts milk
- 3/4 cup raisins
- Heavy Cream (optional)

Heat the oven to 325 degrees F. Combine the rice, sugar, salt and nutmeg or cinnamon in a large shallow 2 1/2 quart baking dish.

Stir in 1 quart of the milk until thoroughly blended. Place the baking dish on the center rack of the oven.

Gradually stir in the remaining quart of milk and bake for 2 1/2 hours, uncovered, stirring only once after the first 30 minutes of cooking time.

After 1 hour of baking, stir the brown edges into the pudding once or twice. Stir in raisins after 2 hours of cooking and then bake, undisturbed for the final 30 minutes so that a top crust can form. Remove to a wire rack. Cool slightly. Serve warm or chilled with cream, if desired. Makes 8-10 servings.

Oops! Muffin recipe correction

There was an error in the Sour Cream Coffee Cake Muffin recipe from Sunshine Treats that appeared in the May 15 issue of Taste. Here is the corrected recipe.

SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE MUFFINS

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 3 eggs

- 1 1/2 cups sour cream
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 2 cups all purpose flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 cup walnuts (optional)
- 1/2 cup chocolate chips (optional)

- Topping:
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 6 tablespoons brown sugar

Preheat oven to 400 degrees F. Blend butter, sugar, eggs, sour cream, and vanilla. Add remaining dry ingredients and blend well.

To make topping, blend cinnamon and brown sugar together.

Divide batter into paper-lined muffin pans until half-full. Put 1 teaspoon of topping on each muffin. Bake 25-30 minutes.

MUSHROOM AND VEGETABLE COUSCOUS

- 1/4 cup diced onions
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 cup celery, peeled, diced
- 1 cup assorted mushrooms, diced
- 1/4 cup leeks, diced
- 1/4 cup carrots, small dice
- 1/4 cup tomatoes, small dice
- 1 teaspoon olive oil
- 1 cup couscous
- 1 sprig fresh thyme
- 1 Bay leaf
- 2 cups chicken broth, hot
- Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
- Few drops of balsamic vinegar.

Heat a skillet and saute all of the vegetables in olive oil until they are tender but not brown.

See related Master Chef story on Taste front. Recipes were submitted by Certified Master Chef Jeffrey Gabriel, Schoolcraft College, Livonia.

Add the couscous and remove the pan from the heat.

Place the thyme and Bay leaf in the center and pour the hot chicken broth over the top. Cover and let stand 7 minutes.

Fluff with a fork, add vinegar, season with salt and pepper to taste, and serve. Yield 6 to 8 portions.

SEARED TUNA WITH RED PEPPER FETTUCCINI, PESTO, VEGETABLES AND ASIAGO CHEESE

- 2 pound Yellow fin tuna steaks (cut into 3 or 4 pieces)
- Olive oil (as needed)
- Cracked black pepper and salt (as needed)
- 1 1/2 pounds red pepper Fettuccini
- 1/2 cup Scallions, white part only, sliced
- 2 cups zucchini, cut into batonettes
- 1 cup sun dried tomatoes, soaked, and cut into strips
- 1/2 cup Imported Italian olives, pitted and sliced
- 1 cup Cremini mushrooms, sliced
- 6 Anchovy filets, diced

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Spray a 9 by 9-inch baking pan with non-stick cooking spray or grease lightly.

In large bowl, combine dry ingredients; mix well. Add combined buttermilk, molasses, applesauce, oil and egg whites; mix by hand just until dry ingredients are moistened. (Do not overmix). Pour into prepared pan. Bake 45

- 1 teaspoon Capers
- 1 cup Pesto
- 1/2 cup sliced scallions, green tops
- Grated Asiago cheese (as needed)
- Coat the tuna steaks with oil and season them with salt and pepper. Heat a skillet and sear the tuna on both sides, keeping them medium rare.
- Remove and set aside. Add the scallions, zucchini, and mushrooms and saute for two minutes.
- Add the sun dried tomatoes, olives, capers, and anchovies, quickly toss and set aside in a large bowl.
- Cook the fettuccini al-dente and drain.
- Slice the tuna in small strips and toss it with the vegetables, pasta and pesto.
- Garnish the top with scallions and grated Asiago cheese. Serves 4.

to 50 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Serve warm with additional applesauce or yogurt, if desired. Makes 9 servings.

Satisfy kids with healthful snacks

BY SUSAN TAMAN LEVY
AP NEWSFEATURES

Providing healthy snacks as supplements to meals can help ensure that children receive the nutrition they require for normal development.

That's because children generally need more calories per pound of body weight than adults for proper nutrition.

Healthy snacks provide vitamins, minerals and energy in the form of calories, without too much fat or sugar. These foods should be available to children after school to help satisfy their need for additional energy and nutrients.

In contrast, treat foods are high-fat, low-nutrition snacks that can be permitted occasionally but need to be monitored by adults.

It's best to avoid products that are high in sugar because they provide calories without enough nutrients. Avoid a snack where the first few ingredients include sugars, such as corn syrup or fructose. Also avoid high-fat foods, those that generally get more than 30 calories per 100 calories from fat.

It can be important to select healthy snacks that have appeal to children. Low-fat yogurts, for example, are being marketed to children by using mix-ins such as sprinkles or granola.

The small amount of added sugar that these yogurt products contain is balanced out by the vitamins and minerals they provide.

Low-fat frozen yogurt, or ice milk, can be a better alternative for children than ice cream, which usually is high in fat content.

Children can even make yogurt shakes with low-fat fruit or vanilla yogurt paired with fresh fruit and a little milk.

Other healthy snacks with child appeal include vegetables such as carrots or string beans paired with a low-fat yogurt dip.

Chocolate pudding is preferable over gelatin because it is a dairy product and contains such nutrients as calcium and protein that gelatin does not.

Peanut butter is a high-fat food but may be a better selection than cheese to top off a cracker. The fat in peanut butter is unsaturated — it remains a liquid at room temperature — and is healthier for the heart.

Other items that make nutritious after-school snacks are fresh or canned fruit, low-fat microwave or air-popped popcorn, and sandwiches cut in quarters and filled with such foods as chick peas or turkey breast.

Making healthier food choices within a food category can also be important for children. For example, treat foods such as pretzels, or baked tortilla chips with salsa, are healthier alternatives to potato chips.

Cookies are also generally considered treat foods. And while processed fat-free cookies seem to be a good choice, parents should be aware that the fat removed tends to be replaced with a lot of sugar.

Another alternative can be fortified and flavored breakfast mixes that are added to a glass of milk. These sweet drinks are enriched with vitamins and minerals and the flavors may coax children to select milk instead of soda.

Parents cannot keep double standards, and setting a good example can be key in getting children to eat right.

Susan Taman Levy is a registered dietitian at New York University Medical Center.

Who says you can't find romance at work?

Just bring along a copy of the personals. During the time it took for a coffee break, I had placed my ad and recorded a voice greeting that described me perfectly. I know what it's like being busy, not having the time — or desire — to go out to the bars every night. But this? Well, take my word for it, this works.

Nonstick cooking spray is a low-cal friend

AP — Nonstick cooking spray bypasses the mess of greasing pans. Even better is its low fat content — only 0.8 grams of fat in a 1/4-second spray.

What makes this spray work like magic? Vegetable oils and lecithin (from soybeans) prevent sticking. Alcohol helps the spray action but evaporates on contact.

For the aerosol propellant, cooking sprays rely on natural hydrocarbons rather than the chlorofluorocarbons that may be harmful to the ozone layer. You can also buy nonaerosol pump bottles.

These tips may help you think of new ways to use nonstick spray:

- Think of a 1/4-second spray as replacing a tablespoon of butter, margarine, shortening or cooking oil.
- Hold pans over your sink or garbage when spraying, so you don't make your floor or counter slippery.
- Spray cooking spray only onto cold baking pans or skillets. It can burn or smoke if sprayed onto hot surfaces.
- Use cooking spray instead of oil for stir-frying over medium heat. High heat will cause the spray to smoke.

- Avoid spraying waffle irons. Buildup can cause foods to stick.
- Spray scissors before snipping dried fruit to prevent sticking.
- Ease cleanup by spraying your barbecue grill rack before using.
- Keep pasta water from bubbling over by spraying the pan first.
- Spritz popped popcorn with butter-flavored spray for a buttery flavor without the calories.

Dig into fresh produce from farmers' markets

Just in time for summer's fresh vegetable harvest, Land O'Lakes is offering consumers its Farmers' Market Map with accompanying recipes.

The map includes farmers' markets in the Northeast, Sunbelt, West and Midwest. Each region's most popular vegetables are highlighted. Specific farmers' market locations, dates and hours of operation are listed on the reverse side.

Call Land O'Lakes toll-free at 1-800-782-9602 for a copy of the map, or send your name and address of a postcard to Land O'Lakes Light Butter, "Farmers' Market Map & Recipes," P.O. Box 26341, Shoreview, MN 55126-0341. Offer good while supplies last.

Here are some recipes to try:

ROASTED HONEY CARROTS

1 tablespoon firmly packed brown sugar
2 tablespoons light butter, softened

2 tablespoons honey
4 cups baby carrots, peeled
2 tablespoons water
Salt and pepper to taste

Heat oven to 400 degree F. In a small bowl, stir together brown sugar, butter and honey until smooth; set aside. Place carrots and water in a 13 by 9-inch baking pan. Cover with aluminum foil and bake for 30 to 35 minutes until carrots are fork tender. Increase oven temperature to 450 degrees F. Remove foil, stir in butter mixture. Continue baking 10-15 minutes, stirring occasionally, until carrots are glazed, and just start to brown. Season with salt and pepper. Yield 8 servings.

FARMER'S VEGETABLE MEDLEY

3 cups broccoli flowerets
2 cups cauliflower flowerets
2 medium (1 cup) carrots, sliced 1/2-inch
1/2 small (1/2 cup) red onion, cut into 1/2-inch wedges
3 tablespoons light butter, cut into 6 small pieces

LAND O'LAKES

Vegetable varieties: Celebrate the fresh tastes of summer with Roasted Honey Carrots (clockwise from top), Market Peppers & Pasta, and Farmer's Vegetable Medley.

2 teaspoons finely chopped fresh rosemary or 1/2 teaspoon dried

1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1 bay leaf

1/2 teaspoon finely chopped fresh garlic

Prepare grill; heat until coals are ash white. Meanwhile, place broccoli, cauliflower, carrots and onion in center of a 30 by 16-inch piece heavy-duty, double thickness aluminum foil. Top vegetables with Light Butter and all remaining ingredients. Bring edges of foil up to center; tightly seal top and sides. Place on grill. Cover; grill, turning every 5 minutes until vegetables are crisply tender (15-22 minutes). Remove bay leaf. Stir vegetables just before serving. Yield 6 servings.

Oven directions: Follow directions for grilling except bake at 400 degrees F, stirring after half the time, until vegetables are crisply tender (35-45 minutes).

MARKET PEPPERS & PASTA

8 ounces uncooked dried mostaccioli

No Stick Cooking Spray
1/4 cup thin strips green pepper
1/4 cup thin strips red pepper
1/4 cup thin strips yellow or orange pepper
1/2 teaspoon finely chopped fresh garlic
1/2 cup freshly shredded Parmesan cheese
3 tablespoons fresh parsley
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper

Cook pasta according to package directions. Rinse with hot water; drain. Meanwhile, spray 10-inch nonstick skillet with no stick cooking spray; add pepper strips and garlic. Cook over high heat, stirring constantly, until peppers are crisply tender and just start to brown (3-5 minutes). In large bowl, toss together cooked pasta, peppers and all remaining ingredients until Light Butter is melted. Yield 6 servings.

Cake celebrates Memorial Day

AP — Whether it's a backyard barbecue, porch party or an outdoor picnic, Summer Celebration Chocolate Cake is a sweet dessert for a Memorial Day celebration.

SUMMER CELEBRATION CHOCOLATE CAKE

1 3/4 cups cake flour
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup cocoa
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup buttermilk
1/4 cup vegetable oil
1/4 cup applesauce
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

1/4 cup hot water
Quick Chocolate Frosting (recipe below)

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Spray a 13- by 9- by 2-inch baking pan with vegetable cooking spray.

In a large bowl; stir together flour, sugar, cocoa, baking powder, baking soda and salt. Add buttermilk, oil, applesauce and vanilla, then hot water. Beat on medium speed of electric mixer until well blended. Pour batter into prepared pan. Bake in a 350-degree F oven for 25 to 28 minutes or until wooden pick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool completely in pan or on wire rack. Prepare chocolate icing and frost. Makes 18 servings.

QUICK CHOCOLATE FROSTING

2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
1 1/4 cups powdered sugar
3 tablespoons cocoa
2 to 3 tablespoons boiling water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
In medium bowl, beat butter. Gradually add powdered sugar and cocoa alternately with boiling water and vanilla, beating until smooth and of desired consistency. Makes about 1/4 cup frosting.

Assemble this 'grate' coleslaw recipe

Shredded cabbage makes "grate" slaw because it contains twice the amount of fiber as ordinary lettuce, and it has less than 25 calories per cup. Try it with one of the new fat-free dressings.

CRUNCHY CHINESE SLAW

2 cups Chinese Cabbage (napa or savoy), shredded
1 cup broccoli flowerets, broken in small pieces

1/2 cup canned water chestnuts, drained and chopped
1/2 cup red radishes, thinly sliced
1/4 cup green onions, chopped
1 cup Chinese noodles, divided
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/2 cup light or fat-free slaw dressing

In mixing bowl, combine first five ingredients.

Add 1/4 cup Chinese noodles and mix lightly.

In a small bowl, mix together slaw dressing and ginger; pour over vegetables and toss together. Garnish with remaining 1/4 cup Chinese noodles. Serve immediately. Serves 10.

Swimwear season brings new stars

The word is out on swimwear," says Roslyn Rock of Roslyn's Intimate Apparel, 29831 Northwestern Hwy. in Southfield, "and the message is encouraging." Styles this season are flattering, easy to wear and glamorous.

"Surface interest is crucial in '95," explains Rock. "Look for novelty pairings of panne velvet with metallic mesh, sheers with lycra and textured fabrics. Tropical and floral prints are also strong, especially in shades of hunter green, brown, navy and jade. Wrap skirts, pareos and dresses make stylish cover-ups, says Rock.

She emphasizes the importance of a proper fitting suit. Take the time to go to a shop that specializes in personal service. There isn't a woman in the world who relishes the thought of trying on swimsuits, but Rock is confident that her selection and her years of swimwear sales experience can result in a smiling, satisfied customer.

Rock and her staff are attentive and knowledgeable. They know the suits that flatter certain body types and they gently steer you in the right direction, always at the ready to grab another size so you needn't scramble into your clothes between sets.

Daring duo

Two of this year's standout suits are Gideon Oberon's "Mediterranean," a vibrant tropical print with a shirred chiffon bodice ($123); and a slimming asymmetrical striped suit in black and beige by Gottex ($109). Everything is always 20-percent off at Roslyn's Intimate Apparel.

"Joggers" bounded onto this year's beachwear scene, reflecting the trend toward comfort and versatility. Joggers are one-piece suits with a longer full leg — great for roller blading, bicycling and tennis. They also offer a fashionable option for watching children around the wading pool. Pictured are Sirena's navy jogger with embroidered nautical patch ($66) and Gabar's navy and white jogger with a floral top and stripe waistband ($70). Both are available at Hudson's.

Made to order

If you're hard to fit, or simply prefer a swimsuit that's custom sized to your proportions, make an appointment with the professionals at Beach Bound Ltd., 725 S. Adams in Birmingham. Judy Stone travels all the way from Westland every spring to order her custom computerized swimsuit. "I love my suits," she says. "They fit perfectly and they're more modest than the styles in the department stores. I come here for the fit, style and color of my choice, and the service is great."

A one-hour appointment at Beach Bound consists of a consultation with a designer, the selection of preferred styles, and the taking of complete measurements. The measurements are put into the computer and a pattern is generated. With over 100 fabrics from which to choose, and a wide selection of one and two-piece styles, the customer can have the swimsuit of her dreams. "We do glamorous wide straps or strapless, push-up bras, high-cut and low-cut legs, power linings to trim the tummy and rompers," says Sharon, a beachwear designer.

Any change can be made to flatter your best assets — gathered tops to accentuate bustlines, boy-cut shorts to slim legs, criss-cross straps for added support, a high printed waistband for an attractive bottom line. Your suit is ready in one week and alterations are made on the spot. Coverups, skirts, shorts, and visors can be ordered to match. The options are endless. Suits are priced from $70-$150.

Stay tuned: The area under construction used to be a stock room on the main floor of Sears at the Livonia Mall. By August it will hold the bigger, brighter lingerie department, expanding the selection for the shopper at left.

Livonia Sears retools

After analyzing results of a nationwide consumer survey, Sears leadership decided changes were needed to bring the nation's third-largest retailer into the 21st century.

To that end, the company has reached the mid-point in a $4 billion program to remodel 500 of its 800 stores nationwide. Locally, two of the company's highest-producing stores (at Livonia Mall and Macomb Mall in Roseville) have been

Sparky's Playland set for Livonia Mall

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

The 36,000 square feet of space left vacant at Livonia Mall when Children's Palace closed last year, will soon become a magical place for children when Sparky's Palace in Playland opens in July.

West Bloomfield attorney Jamal Hamood recently got approval from the Livonia City Council to begin construction on a prototype playland for children modeled on the Medieval Age with castles, moats, dragons and mazes.

The Disney-like attraction will be designed around the adventures of a baby dragon (Sparky), named for the sparks (not fire) that he breathes. Sparky and his sister Sparkles will preside over birthday parties, pose for photographs with guests, and welcome visitors to the playland.

The fun center will be open seven days a week. The $5 admission includes boat rides in the moat around the castle, laser tag in a maze filled with animated figures, chariot rides through the park, and karaoke complete with take-home video tapes.

Spark's Palace in Playland will serve pizza, hotdogs and pop. Arrangements can be made for private birthday parties.

"We're delighted to bring such a quality enterprise to the mall," said manager Jeanne Hildebrandt. "It fits right in with the other tenants, keeping Livonia Mall a family center."

Hildebrandt said Sparky's was in the planning stages for three years while Hamood worked with designers and engineers to come up with the featured attractions.

"He wanted to make sure all the elements would be appropriate, safe and interesting to children," she said. "The group traveled to Disney World and several other children's amusement centers to get ideas for Sparky's."

Hildebrandt said the playland is targeted to children ages 2-12.

Pal Sparky: This baby dragon breathes sparks not fire! He will exceed the fun at his playland with sister, Sparkles.

Westland Mall hosts CBS sports on tour

Calling all sports enthusiasts!

You can sink the winning putt, return a few serves, climb behind the wheel of a fast-powered race car, and then throw a touchdown pass at the CBS Sports Challenge National Tour coming to the Westland Shopping Center May 26-28.

Shoppers can compete for CBS Sports Challenge prizes like caps, T-shirts and Woblong disks. There will also be a grand prize drawing for a '95 Chevrolet cavalier coupe and 100 CBS Sports sweatshirts.

The event is part of a national promotions tour sponsored by AT&T, Chevrolet, Goodyear, IBM, Mountain Dew and Pizza Hut. It will be stopping at shopping malls in 29 cities for a sixth season.

This year's tour consists of seven interactive events operational during mall business hours. There is an 18th Hole Golf Game presented by AT&T, where shoppers have three chances to sink the winning putt with one point for each successful stroke. Touchdown Pass, presented by Chevrolet, offers participants the chance to throw touchdown passes over the outstretched hands of a defender for a point per completion.

Checked Flag is a Goodyear racing game where shoppers sit behind the wheel of a fast car simulator to race against the clock and course obstacles with points awarded based on performance.

Match Point is a tennis game presented by IBM giving shoppers four chances to return a serve and score points in a game of "virtual reality." At The Buzzer is basketball game sponsored by Mountain Dew where players attempt to beat the clock with points awarded on the number of shots in an allocated time.

Shoot Out from Pizza Hut, offers participants the chance to sink baskets from five positions before a buz-

MALLS & MAINSTREETS

Sears from Previous Page

Undergoing face lifts since January, expanding their cosmetic and ready-to-wear departments, reclaiming stockrooms and offices to add more retail space, and glamorizing the interiors with marble floors, the latest in merchandise fixtures and lighting.

"It's all part of our softer side advertising campaign," said spokeswoman Linda Blakely from Sears headquarters in Hoffman Estates, Ill., southwest of Chicago. "The changes reflect the wishes of our target customer, the woman — the very busy woman — who research shows is the big decision maker when home and clothing purchases are made."

Blakely said Sears is reconfiguring its stores for "a softer side focus" expanding the women's wear, men's wear, and children's clothing departments as well as increasing the footage of the family shoe department.

At many stores a cosmetics department is premiering with fragrance, skin care and color lines in a very feminine interior. Store aisles will be widened and the way merchandise is displayed will be changed to make all easier to see from the main aisles. Signs throughout the stores will be improved. Watch for bigger, brighter, bolder directions suspended from the ceilings.

"We are a moderate priced department store, and we will remain so," Blakely said. "For example, dress price points begin at $29.99. We are increasing the number of name brands we carry while improving our private labels."

Larry Cassar, manager of the Livonia store, said the Livonia unit opened in 1964. It was remodeled once in the 1980s. It trails the Oakland Mall store and the Roseville store in terms of sales in the Detroit district.

"Our customer is typically between age 45-53, female, with a median income," he said. "She's sure to appreciate the remodeling because it's been planned with her in mind. It's Sears' very latest prototype. We also hope to add special events in the cosmetic department when it's finished. The new Sears promises to be a fun place to shop."

According to Cassar, the store will keep its home furnishings department on premises because it's a flagship unit in terms of square feet. Many smaller Sears stores moved to freestanding stores patterned after the Sears Paint and Hardware stores.

Livonia mall manager Jeanne Hildebrand said whenever a store is remodeled the way Sears is going at it, the whole shopping center benefits from increased traffic.

"I'm elated about the project," she said. "Shoppers will see an updated, bright, cheerful Sears — one of the finest in the area."

A shopper from Redford managed to spend $300 at the store one afternoon last week despite the buzzing of saws and pounding of hammers. She bemoaned the confusion during the construction project, but admitted, "It will be better for both shoppers and employees when it's all done. We just have to get used to where everything's going to be from now on."

The Observer & Eccentric Newspapers
36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150

PLEASE, ONLY ONE POSTCARD PER FAMILY EACH WEEK
Glide through your hometown newspaper Classified sections every Thursday through May 25, where we will print the names of winners we have impartially drawn from those we receive

If you find your name, call 953-2153 by 5 p.m. on Friday and claim your tickets. It's as easy as that!
Plus...during the final week of the contest, we will hold a random drawing of all the names received and 12 grand prize winners will receive a 10-seat sponsor box—so, if you win, you can invite the whole gang!
On May 25, 1995 the final weekly winners and our grand prize winners will be announced.

Head for SHORE'S FREE Home-Buyer Seminar!
Learn how to make your next home purchase a smart purchase!
Our two-hour FREE seminar will answer questions like:
What are the pros and cons of renting versus purchasing?
What constitutes an offer to purchase?
How do I choose a Realtor that's right for me?
What are mortgage qualification procedures?
What kind of financing is available and which is best for me?
How will my credit affect my ability to obtain a mortgage?
All who attend can obtain a FREE pre-qualification certificate. With this certificate in hand, you can go house hunting secure in the amount of mortgage for which you are already qualified! It will give you peace of mind and negotiation leverage with your seller!

Jarvis, Hussey resign

Livonia Franklin athletic director Dan Freeman must fill two varsity coaching vacancies after the resignations recently of Mary Jarvis (girls basketball) and Mary Kay Hussey (boys soccer).

Jarvis, a longtime assistant under Freeman before becoming head coach of the Patriot cagers in 1992, posted a record of 31-37 in three seasons, including one Class A district championship.

Hussey, who resigned two games into the 1995 girls soccer season at Livonia Stevenson because of "health reasons," also submitted her resignation as the Franklin boys coach because of "family considerations," according to Freeman.

Hussey posted a record of 14-4-2 in two years with the Franklin boys. She was 80-24-10 in six seasons as the Stevenson girls coach, including one state Class A championship (1990).

Freeman said he is also seeking a boys junior varsity soccer coach, two assistant football coaches, along with a head pompon coach for the upcoming season.

Interested candidates should submit a letter of interest to: Dan Freeman, Athletic Director, Franklin High School, 31000 Joy Road, Livonia, Mich. 48150.

Flyer icers runner-up

Little Bill's Flyers of Livonia took second place in the Northwest Suburban Spring Hockey League (Pee Wee B Division) after losing to the Warriors, 3-1, in the championship final played May 14 at Canfield Arena in Dearborn Heights.

The Flyers finished with an overall record of 18-1 and outscored their opponents 102-18.

The coaching staff includes Gordon Butler, Bob Lakin and Don Williams. The team manager is Dianne Lakin.

Collegiate note

Grand Valley State's Amy Jo Paszek (Livonia Churchill) was named to the 1995 Great Lakes Intercollegiate Conference All-Academic women's track team. Paszek, a psychology major, carried a 3.35 grade-point the past year.

Detroit Rockers camps

Former Livonia Stevenson All-Stater and Yale University standout Lara Richters will help direct two different sessions of Detroit Rockers summer soccer camps — 1-3:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, June 19-23 and Aug. 14-18 — at Bicentennial Park in Livonia.

The cost is $109. Also scheduled to make appearances are Rockers goalie Bryan Finnerly, Pato Margetic and Sean Bowers, along with local products Dominic Scicluna, Doug Landefeld and Brian Thiel. For more information, call the Rockers office at (313) 396-7070.

Basketball camps

Bernie Holowicki will hold four different sessions of his annual basketball camps (ages 8-15) — 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. June 19-23, 28-30 (boys) and July 3-8 (girls); also 9 a.m. to noon, July 3-8 (coed shooting camp) — at St. Robert Bellarmine Parish School, W. Chicago and Inkster roads.

The cost for each session (boys and girls camps) are $99. The coed shooting camp is $55. "Crazy George" Schauer, ball-handling and dribbling expert, will make a special appearance on Monday, June 19.

For more information, call (313) 261-3346.

Lutheran High Westland is offering basketball instruction for youngsters in grades 5-8.

The girls camp is Monday through Friday, July 17-21; and the boys camp will be Monday through Friday, Aug. 7-11.

The cost for each camp is $35. For more information, write to: Dan Ramthun, 33300 Cowan Road, Westland, Mich. 48185.

S'craft golf benefit

Former Detroit Piston Bill Lalmbeer, along with ex-Red Wing players Alex Delvecchio and Billy Day, will headline the Schoolcraft College Foundation's 12th annual golf tournament at Washtenaw Country Club.

Fees for the four-person scramble are $175 (8 a.m. tee-off) or $200 (1:30 p.m. tee-off).

The package includes golf, lunch and dinner, clinic with a pro, special tournament bag, greens fees, golf cart, trophies and prizes (including a Shanty Creek package, four TPC-Dearborn tickets, and a signed painting by a Senior PGA Pro. For more information, call (313) 482-4417.

Spartans turn tables, win title

Livonia Stevenson snapped a five-match winless string against city rival Churchill by winning the Western Lakes Activities Association girls soccer championship, 2-0.

BY C.J. RISAK

Take two teams, both deserving a position among the state's top half-dozen, and put them on the field with something of worth at stake and the deciding factor may be no more obtrusive than a crossbar.

Twice Livonia Churchill and Livonia Stevenson have collided on the soccer field. The latest confrontation was last Thursday at Churchill, with the championship of the Western Lakes Activities Association serving as prize.

Considering Stevenson's previous poor performances against the Chargers — a five-match winless streak, including a 2-0 loss earlier this season and two defeats last year — Spartan hopes were not high.

However, fortunes change. In the loss two weeks ago, the Spartans controlled play but failed to put their shots on net. Last Thursday, instead of bouncing balls off the post and out, things bounced their way.

It was Churchill's shots that ricocheted off and out. The breaks went to Stevenson, and so did the WLAA championship, by a 2-0 score.

The two teams remain on an interesting course, however. This week in the Class A state district tournament, Stevenson (now 13-3-1) will host the winner of the Livonia Ladywood-Redford Union match at 6 p.m. Wednesday. Churchill (11-5) will play at the winner of the Farmington-Livonia Franklin match Wednesday.

Should both Churchill and Stevenson win Wednesday, they'll play for the district championship at 6 p.m. Friday at Churchill.

"I don't think the 2-0 loss played a factor," said Stevenson coach Jim Kimble. "Past history played a factor. Beating us 6-0 last year and 1-0 in the districts last year played a factor."

"We've had our offensive troubles this year, but it's finally starting to click. The breaks went our way tonight, that's all."

Two factors in particular made a difference in this match. The first: Who scored first — and Stevenson broke through with 15:24 left in the first half. Jill Schmidt inbounded the ball deep in Churchill's end and regained possession when the ball was deflected. She slipped the ball through to Nicole Tobin, and Tobin's shot from the right side got inside the near post and into the net.

The play was a clear indication of what each team was willing — or, in Churchill's case, unwilling — to do to win. From that point on, the Chargers played well in spurts, but seemed unable to take the extra step. A couple of shots by Marie Spaccarotella came close, but narrowly missed, glancing off the crossbar and goal post.

"They played the exact same game," Churchill coach Nick O'Shea said of Stevenson's strategy — which included first Melanie Siler and then Christine Wilson marking Spaccarotella. "They won the ball in the mid-field more than we did. And they won it more probably because they wanted it more."

"We're not playing good right now. We're not aggressive enough."

Stevenson iced the win with 13:34 left in the match. Anne Pedrigo broke free on the left, but Churchill keeper Crystal Wright got just a piece of her shot, deflecting it off the right post. However, Allison Campbell was there for the Spartans to knock home the rebound and make it 2-0.

And that was all Stevenson keeper Jenny Barker needed to assure the win and break the jinx. Question now is, if these two meet again in Friday's district final, will the momentum stay shifted?

Kimble grinned when asked. "It makes it interesting. I think both teams will have some confidence."

Which means that, between teams amply supplied with talent and confidence, the difference will again be no wider than a crossbar.

Crusaders ousted in Battle Creek

BY C.J. RISAK

Tables can be turned. A tough lesson — which Madonna University's baseball team discovered Thursday at the NAIA Great Lakes Regional in Battle Creek. One day after a trip to the summit, the Fighting Crusaders discovered the other side of the mountain, and how long a drop it can be.

On Wednesday, Madonna trailed Mount Vernon Nazarene (Ohio) 5-1 with two out in the ninth and just one runner aboard, at first base. But it's never over until that final pitch; three straight hitters doubled and a fourth singled, tying the score at 5-5. The Crusaders eventually won the game in 12, 6-5.

On Thursday, Madonna had a 6-1 lead through seven innings over — you guessed it — Mount Vernon. Crusader pitcher Mike Grahl forced a ground out that missed becoming an inning-ending double play by inches. A couple of batters later, Grahl was gone, replaced by Eric Butler.

Alas, Butler was no more fortunate. The first batter he faced deposited the ball over the fence, and that proved to be the game-winning hit — a three-run home run in a 6-5 victory for Mount Vernon.

Combined with a 12-6 loss to St. Francis (Ill.) earlier Thursday, Madonna's stay at the double-elimination regional was over.

"It's a little disappointing, but we had a great year," said Madonna coach Mike George a day after his team completed its 39-25 season. "We came closer to getting to the (NAIA) World Series than we ever came before."

"I stayed with (Grahl) two hitters too long. He gave it all he had, but when that double-play ball just missed, you could see him deflate."

Madonna, which had won both of its games Wednesday, started Thursday poorly. St. Francis, also unbeaten through Wednesday, scored seven runs in the third inning of its game against Madonna and coasted to the 12-6 victory.

Sean Henkel (from Livonia Stevenson) started and took the loss, surrendering eight runs (five earned) in two innings. Dan Pydyn took over in the third and went the final six innings, allowing four runs.

Madonna had two highlights: Craig Petersen's two-run homer in the second that gave the Crusaders a short-lived 2-1 lead; and Aaron Jones' grand-slam homer in the third that rallied them to within 8-6. Petersen, Jones and Dan Taylor each had two hits for Madonna, which committed four errors in the loss.

Things looked better for the Crusaders in their second game Thursday — for a while, anyway. A two-run home run by Jim Solak (from Redford/Dearborn Divine Child) helped stake Grahl to the 5-1 lead.

"All in all, I was very happy with the way the year went," said George afterward.

Stevenson impressive at regional

With perennial state power Ann Arbor Pioneer participating in Friday's Class A Region 5A girls track meet, the real race was for second place.

TRACK

Pioneer, as expected, won its 16th regional in the last 17 years, winning nine of 16 events to finish with 162 points at Redford Union's sun-drenched Howard Kraft Field.

Livonia Stevenson outduoed Western Lakes Activities Association rivals Plymouth Salem and Canton for second place with 61 points. Salem took third (56), followed by defending regional champion Canton (52).

Livonia Ladywood had its best showing in years, taking fifth place (47), and Westland John Glenn was sixth (36).

If the regional is any indication, Wednesday's WLAA meet at Centennial Educational Park in Canton should be one of the more interesting in years.

The top two finishers in each event qualify for the state meet, June 3 at Saginaw High School.

Stevenson qualified seven individuals, led by junior Jeannette Stojcevska, who won the 300-meter

"We haven't had many good days to run, and sprinters and hurdlers, when the weather is warm, they go crazy with times," Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said. "She is extremely well-conditioned. She went out for cross country last fall just to get ready for track and she was one of my top five cross country runners."

The Spartans finished only 5-3 in dual meets, including losses to Salem and John Glenn. Colleen Lesondak, second place in the high jump at last year's Class A meet, won the event (6-6) for the second straight year.

"We're a better big-meet team than a dual-meet team because we have quality kids who score wherever they go," Holmberg said.

Freshman Kelly Travis, for instance, finished second in two events — the 1,600 and 3,200 runs. She also helped the Spartans to a third in the 3,200 relay. Another freshman, Kelly McNellance, added a fourth and qualified for state in the 3,200.

The Indianapolis 500 is still a week away, but the Class A boys regional track meet at Redford Union's Kraft Field had the look of a supersonic speedway.

In one of the most competitive and fastest regionals ever, Belleville scored a team-high 64 points to fend off challenges from Ann Arbor Pioneer (58), Wayne Memorial (52), Romulus (51), Detroit Cody (50) and Ann Arbor Huron (45). See statistical summary.

Just how fast was it? Observerland champ Westland John Glenn was eighth with 34 points. Plymouth Salem and Redford Catholic Central, also two of the area's better teams, were seventh (38 1/2) and ninth (31 1/2), respectively.

The top two finishers in each event automatically qualify for the state meet Saturday, June 3 at Saginaw High School.

However, as an example of the quality of the field — just check out the 3,200-meter run where 14 competitors met the state qualifying cut of 9:50.5.

Canton denies Franklin divisional bid, 5-2

BY BRAD EMONS

Plymouth Canton played spoiler Thursday, denying visiting Livonia Franklin a share of the Western Division baseball title in the Western Lakes Activities Association with a 5-2 triumph.

The Canton victory enabled Farmington Hills Harrison to clinch the division outright with a 7-3 record and earn a berth in the Wednesday's WLAA championship game against Lakes Division champ Plymouth Salem. (Game time is 4 p.m. at Harrison.)

Franklin and Canton, meanwhile, each finished a game back at 6-4.

The Patriots, who beat Harrison twice this season, held a 2-1 lead through 4 1/2 innings before Canton rallied.

The Chiefs, who improved to 16-9 overall with the victory, took the lead for keeps on junior Kurt Richards' two-out, two-run triple in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Ironically, Canton's Mark Biro and Brian Kwitkowski, each of whom scored on the three-bagger, both got reprieves when the third strike got past Franklin catcher Rich Longsdorf.

Canton then put it away with two more runs in the sixth.

Brian Kovach and winning pitcher Anthony Pastor both reached base safely on separate Franklin infield throwing errors, bringing home one run. Scott Patterson then followed with a sacrifice bunt, setting the stage for Brian Dixon's RBI suicide squeeze bunt.

It was the second time Canton had rallied to beat Franklin this season. The Chiefs won the first meeting between the two teams, 5-4.

"We didn't play over our mistakes, but Canton is a fundamentally good ball club," said Franklin coach Jim Karoub, whose team is 17-5 overall. "This is really the second time this has happened against them. It's unfortunate we lose the way we lose.

"We've blocked balls behind the plate all year. It's a tough way to lose because it's a 2-1 ball game until the triple, but we should have been out of the inning."

Senior left-hander Brian Crumley, who gave up nine hits and struck out seven with no walks in six innings, took the loss. His record drops to 6-3.

Pastor, a junior right-hander, scattered seven hits and three walks in seven innings to beat the Patriots for the second time this season.

Canton assistant coach Bill Stafford, a former New York Yankee who pitched in the 1962 World Series, was calling all of Pastor's pitches from the dugout.

"Bill has been doing that the last couple of years," Canton first-year coach Scott Dickey said. "We get along great. He takes care of the pitchers. He's been doing a great job of it (calling the pitches) all year.

"Anthony pitched really well. It just was like the last time he pitched. He had one bad inning, but battled through it."

Franklin got to Pastor in the opening inning, collecting three hits and scoring a pair of runs.

Eric Bowman collected an RBI double, scoring Ray Maleyko, and Tim Miller singled home Bowman for a 2-0 advantage.

Canton cut the lead in half in the third on Kevin Kovachevich's RBI single, scoring Biro.

Biro and sophomore Mike Elsner led Canton with two hits apiece.

"One thing we're doing better right now is not striking out, but we're also more aggressive at the plate," Dickey said. "That's the one thing we've improved on through practice. We're also putting the bunts down."

Franklin had its chances over the final three innings, leaving four runners on base.

In the sixth, Pastor walked Sean Mattson and Pete Stasevich with two outs, but fanned pinch-hitter Ryan Anderson to end the inning.

Harrison hurler Lawson no-hits Chargers

Senior Jake Lawson showed why he's the pitching ace on the Farmington Hills Harrison baseball team Friday.

He hurled a no-hitter and pitched the Hawks to the Western Division championship with a 6-1 victory over host Livonia Churchill.

Lawson, who also has thrown a pair of one-hitters this year, struck out 13 and walked three over seven innings while raising his record to 6-2.

"He started out a little wild, but they weren't hitting him," Harrison coach John Herrington said. "By the third inning, he was getting his curveball over, and he started putting it all together. After that they couldn't touch him."

Harrison plays host to Plymouth Salem in the Western Lakes Activities Association title game at 4 p.m. Wednesday.

The Churchill game was tied 1-1 after Andy Jaskolski walked and scored on an error for the Chargers.

But the Hawks went ahead with a nine-run fourth inning in which C.J. Ghannam hit a two-run single with two outs.

He finished with two hits and two RBI. Mark Cantor also had two hits, including a triple, and one RBI.

Leon Kashawlic pitched four innings and took the loss for Churchill, 3-7 in the division.

On Thursday, Churchill blew a 7-0 lead en route to losing at North Farmington, 12-7.

The Chargers scored six times in their second and once in the third off North starter Eric Pierce, who was knocked out of the game after retiring one batter in the third.

ROUNDUP

The Raiders countered in their third with four runs off Jason Steissner and tied the game with three runs in the fifth. Kashawlic relieved Steissner and allowed five runs in the sixth as North pulled away.

Ron Blackmore and Matt Hughes each had two hits and one RBI for Churchill.

Robert Roth had three hits and two RBI for North, including the big hit — a two-run single to start the sixth-inning rally. Joey Berger went 3-for-4, knocked in one run and stole three bases. Jeff Trosz drove in three runs with a pair of hits.

Senior Dan Tremblay, who relieved Pierce in the third, recorded the victory in his pitching debut.

NORTHVILLE 8, STEVENSON 2: On Thursday, visiting Northville scored five runs in their fifth inning to break open a close game.

Kyle McNeilance started for the Spartans (3-16) but couldn't survive the fifth as he took the defeat.

Chris Mullett had three hits and Todd Smith had two for Stevenson, which outbit Northville 6-5.

On Wednesday, host Farmington Hills Harrison routed the Spartans 10-2.

Smith, Kevin Raycraft and Andy Dattolo collected two hits apiece for Stevenson. Losing pitcher Glenn Pinneo lasted 2 1/2 innings.

Junior Matt Sullivan tossed the complete game, striking out three and walking four.

The Hawks were paced by Steve Beattie who had two hits, three stolen bases and two runs scored. Jake Lawson added a two-run triple and Kevin Horton had two hits.

FRANKLIN 12, FARMINGTON 1: Livonia Franklin coach Jim Karoub decided to bring Ryan Anderson up from the junior varsity squad Wednesday to get a closer look at the sophomore hurler.

Anderson struck out five and walked one while scattering five hits to record the win in his varsity debut.

The Patriots (17-4 overall) took control early with eight runs in their first inning off Farmington starter Paul Mitchell, who was able to register only one out.

Anderson also sparked at the plate as he ripped two hits and drove in two runs. Jason Schniers had two hits, two runs scored and one RBI. Tim Miller ended the game with a two-run homer in the fifth off reliever Charlie Jaeger.

Dale Domas had two hits and drive in the Falcons' only run.

SOUTHGATE 4, WAYNE 3: Southgate's Ken Marace tamed Wayne Wednesday as the visiting Titans picked up the victory in the Red Division of the Mega Conference.

Wayne could only muster one run in its final at-bat when Jeff Temple scored on a wild pitch. Temple made the defensive play of the game in the top of the inning when he caught the second out in right field and threw to Aaron Cagnon, who tagged out the runner attempting to score from third base.

Temple had two of Wayne's six hits off Marace, who struck out three and walked three.

The loss went to Al Thomason, who gave up two runs in the first and two in the fourth. Brent Tajiri tossed the final three shutout innings, striking out three without allowing a walk.

The Zebras dropped to 9-10-1 overall and 4-2-1 in the Mega Red.

HURON VALLEY 12, ROEPER 7: Jason Batkoski led Westland Huron Valley Lutheran to a pair of Michigan Independent Athletic Conference victories.

On Thursday, he struck out eight batters in his 6 1/2 innings of work as the Hawks beat visiting Bloomfield Hills Roeper.

Batkoski also ripped a two-run double. More offense was supplied by Ben Husby, who went 2-for-4 with three RBI, and Dave Hartley, who had two hits and one RBI.

On Tuesday, Batkoski belted a two-run homer in the seventh as the Hawks pulled out a thrilling 7-6 victory at Southfield Christian.

Batkoski's heroics came after a single by Hartley, who picked up the victory on the mound with the complete game effort. Batkoski was 3-for-4 with three RBI.

Dan Zahn drove in three runs with a pair of hits and Joe Schmidt chipped in with two hits.

Huron Valley improved to 7-2 overall and 6-2 in the league.

LUTHER WESTLAND 12-12, CRANBROOK 9-11: Tim Donal's bases loaded single in the seventh inning of Friday's nightcap gave host Lutheran Westland the sweep in Metro Conference action.

The Warriors trailed 5-1 before rallying to take a 9-6 lead. Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook came back to take an 11-9 lead with daylight quickly diminishing.

But Westland scored twice in the sixth and had enough time to win the game in its final at-bat.

The Warriors trailed the Cranes 13-4 but committed eight errors. Chris Tiernan, who relieved Jeff Rajna in the fourth inning, recorded the win to improve to 2-0. None out of the five runs he allowed were earned.

Jason Bayush paced the offense by going 3-for-4, with a double, triple and three-run homer in the sixth. He knocked in a total of five runs.

Mat Baltz and Jeff Morris had two hits and two RBI apiece, and Garrett Smulak was 2-for-3 and drove in one run.

Q & A

Q: How do I get started?
A: You are going to be recording your voice greeting, be prepared, speak to the listener, describe yourself in a positive way. Be honest, creative and specific about what you are looking for. Call 1-800-739-3639 option 1, you will be prompted to answer some questions about yourself and the type of person you want to meet. Your voice greeting will be screened for proper content and put on line within 24 hours. An attractive print ad will be transcribed from your voice greeting which will appear in the paper in 7-10 days.

Q: What is an ad number?
A: The 4 digit number at the end of your print ad that allows singles to call and respond to your mailbox.

Q: What is an access code?
A: A confidential 4 digit code that only you know, that allows only you access to your mailbox.

Q: What are messages?
A: Voice greetings from other singles who responded to your ad in the newspaper or through the browse. To listen to your messages for FREE once a day, call 1-800-739-3639 or 1-900-933-1118 anytime, at a charge of $1.98 per minute.

Q: What are system matches?
A: Voice greetings from other advertisers whose matching criteria is the same or similar to yours. You can listen to your system matches instantly by calling 1-900-933-1118.

Q: What is Smart Callback?
A: When creating your mailbox you will be given the option of entering your telephone number for a callback to your number when you have new messages. You decide when and where. Numbers are confidential.

Q: What is Smart Browse?
A: A special feature that allows you to listen and respond to other voice greetings that match the criteria you select. Call 1-900-933-1118, option 2.

Q: What is Profile Match?
A: When you respond to an ad, we will search the voice message database for up to 3 additional voice greetings whose personality profiles are similar to the first ad you chose to respond to.

Q: How do I respond to an ad?
A: Call 1-900-933-1118, option 1, the system will ask you to enter the 4 digit ad number at the end of the print ad. Press 1 to respond, press 2 to go on to the next ad.

Q: How do I cancel or renew an ad?
A: Call customer service at 1-800-273-5877

Q: Who do I call with questions?
A: Call customer service at 1-800-273-5877

Christian Singles Network is available exclusively for single people seeking relationships with others of common faith. We reserve the right to edit or refuse any ad. Please employ discretion and caution; screen respondents carefully. Avoid solitary meetings, and meet only in public places.

TOTALLY CONFIDENTIAL NO OPERATORS TO TALK TO!

With Auto Ad taking, just use your touchtone phone to answer questions about yourself and the type of person you would like to meet. Then record your voice greeting, and we'll transcribe it into a print ad that will appear in the paper.

BROWSE ONLY THE ADS YOU WANT TO HEAR!

With Smart Browse, listen and respond to only those ads that fit the criteria you enter. Call 1-900-933-1118 ($1.98 per minute) and answer the matching questions using your touchtone phone. Now you're ready to browse. Press 2 to skip to the next greeting.

WE'LL MATCH YOU INSTANTLY WITH AREA SINGLES!

Place your voice greeting today and our system will instantly search our database for singles whose personal criteria matches the criteria you enter into our system. You can then immediately pick up matches by calling 1-900-933-1118 ($1.98 per minute which will appear on your monthly phone bill).

WE'LL CALL YOU WHEN YOU HAVE NEW MESSAGES!

If you would like, we'll call and tell you when you have messages. Just choose the Smart Callback option and enter your phone number. Now you'll know when you have messages waiting, and it's completely confidential.

MEET OTHERS JUST LIKE YOU!

Choose Profile Match, when you respond to an ad and you'll have the option of hearing up to three additional voice greetings from your entire local database whose personality profiles match the print ad you responded to.

MAKE THE MOVE NOW!!

THERE'S NO BETTER TIME TO BUY

If you've been thinking about moving from your current residence to the house of your dreams or from an apartment to a starter home, this is the time to do it.

- The selection is excellent.
- Low interest rates are available.
- There are many financing options available.

NOW is the right time to Buy a Home!

Purchasing a home has always been a wise decision, but current market conditions are making it even more attractive to buy now.

EXCELLENT FINANCING IS AVAILABLE NOW

Interest rates are lower, and mortgage lenders are offering a wide variety of financing options. Low interest rates mean you can get more for your money.

- 30-year fixed mortgages are still available as well as many other financing alternatives.
- First time buyers are encouraged to purchase now through financing packages offering small down payments.

'95 Chevy Trucks/Blazer remake leads host of changes

NASHVILLE—The big news for Chevrolet trucks is the redesign of the popular compact sport-utility Blazer, of course. But did you know there's a renamed Tahoe model and several interior refinements to the CK full-size pickup line-up? Yep.

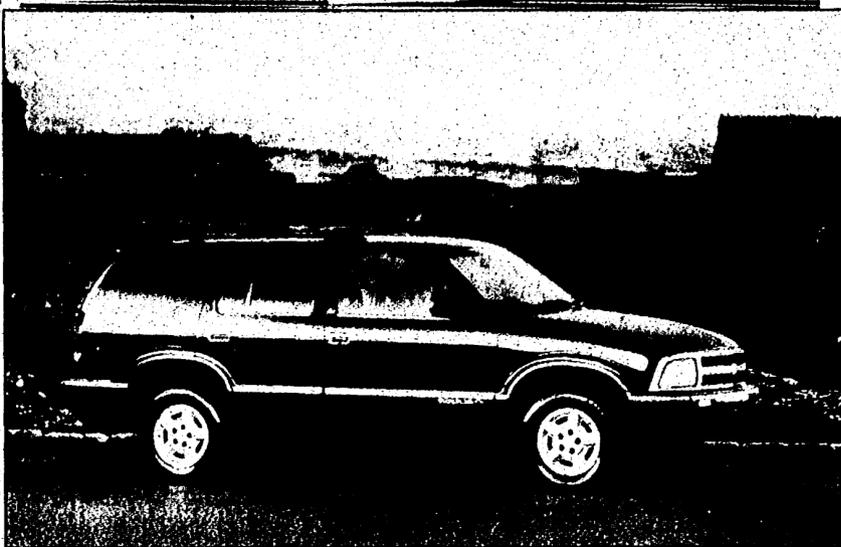

Gone is the S-Blazer designation. Call it just plain Blazer, pardner. And the full-size K-Blazer is now called Tahoe. Less confusing.

Blazer is all-new for 1995 and is offered in two-door and four-door models in two-wheel- or four-wheel-drive. Mid-year you'll see an all-wheel-drive model on four-door LT offerings. There are base and uplevel trims on both the two-door and four-door and an optional LT package is offered on four-door models.

Powered by a 195-horsepower 4.3-liter V-6 with central port fuel injection, this engine pumps out 30 more horses than last year's model. It's mated to a four-speed automatic transmission, but a five-speed will be available mid-year on the two-door models.

The standard equipment list goes on and on: Four-wheel anti-lock brakes, driver's-side air bag, child security locks on four-door models, solar glass, interior lamp delay feature, light-duty wiring harness, floor mats and twin exterior mirrors.

Blazer's chassis is all new and it reflects that with a stiffer body and custom-fit suspension that improves ride and handling. There are five new suspension packages to fit anyone's needs.

On the inside, the Blazer has more room than ever before, providing more head room, shoulder room and front hip room. Instrumentation is easy-to-read analog and controls can easily be reached from the driver's seat, which is fully adjustable.

General Motors' engineers designed the Blazer's cargo space from the inside out, using a washing machine carton then built the truck around it. The result is moving the tire to the underside and increasing cargo capacity. A new rear cargo shade can be opened and closed without climbing into the truck.

Other amenities include cup holders, two 12-volt outlets and Scotchgard seats.

The full-size sport utility started as Blazer, had a baby version called S-Blazer and now it has a name of its own: Tahoe. Right now, the Tahoe is exclusively offered as a two-door model. Early next year, a four-door will be available.

The Tahoe is positioned between the Blazer and the huge Suburban, which makes Chevrolet the only truck manufacturer to offer a sport utility in every segment.

The Tahoe has standard driver's-side air bags, brake/transmission shift interlock, an all-new instrument panel, plush new door panels, contoured seats and new interior and exterior colors.

There are new additions as well. There's an optional console that converts to a mobile work station with a pivoting writing surface, map pocket, tape cassette, removable coin holder, rear-seat cup holders and a latched rear storage drawer.

Standard is a 6.7-liter small-block V-8. Optional is a 6.5-liter EFI in-mated to a standard five-speed manual transmission. Available is a four-speed electronically controlled automatic with overdrive. The transmission fluid ostensibly never needs replacement under normal usage.

The Tahoe can haul up to 7,000 pounds when equipped properly and seats up to six. It's available in both two-wheel- and four-wheel-drive (both have shift-on-the-fly capability).

A real people hauler, the Suburban has a redesigned instrument panel, optional console standard with bucket seats, standard driver's side air bag, new interior colors, brake/transmission shift interlock, optional remote keyless entry, better audio systems availability and contoured seats with power lumbar for the 1995 model year.

On the outside, there's a new exterior color (emerald green metallic), standard seven-lead trailer wiring harness and the never-needs-replacing transmission fluid.

Suburban has three available engines, a 5.7-liter electronically controlled fuel injected V-8 rated at 200 horsepower, a 7.4-liter EFI V-8 with 230 horsepower and a 6.5-liter turbo-diesel V-8 with 190 horsepower. All engines can be mated to two disti-four-speed electronic automatic transmissions.

When Chevrolet introduced its first truck more than 75 years ago, there were 100 cars built for every truck built. This past year, the CK full-size pickup truck was the best-selling vehicle in all of General Motors. Constant refinements and upgrades make the CK even stronger for 1995.

There's a new instrument panel, a leather-wrapped steering wheel, a redesigned console (with bucket seats), contoured seats with power lumbar support, better audio systems, optional remote keyless entry, new interior colors and entry-assist handles. On the outside, there's a new color (emerald green metallic), standard fold-away outside mirrors and optional electric outside mirrors.

Safety refinements include a brake/transmission shift interlock, a standard driver's-side air bag and standard anti-lock brakes.

Four engines are available for 1995: A 4.3-liter EFI V-6 with 160 horsepower, a 5.0-liter EFI V-8 with 175 horsepower, a 5.7-liter EFI V-8 with 200 horsepower and a 7.4-liter EFI V-8 rated at 230 horsepower.

Introduced in 1994, the S-Series pickup was an immediate hit, rounding out Chevrolet's offerings of small, personal pickup trucks. For 1995, the S-Series has standard driver's-side air bag, standard daytime running lights, extended cab ZR2 package availability, an improved 60/40 split bench seat, a revised chassis, a single two-sided key system, remote keyless entry (optional), a seven-lead wiring harness for light-duty trailering, enhancements to both the 2.2-liter and 4.3-liter V-6s and transmission fluid that doesn't need replacing.

There are two trim levels (base and LS) and two special performance packages (Super Sport and ZR2) available.

Available engines include a 2.2-liter MPI in-line four-cylinder with 118 horsepower, a 4.3-liter EFI rated at 155 horses and a 4.3-liter central-port fuel injection with 191 horsepower.

There have been nominal improvements in 1995 on the Lumina minivan, Astro van and Sportvan/Chevy van.

Restyled last in 1994, the Lumina minivan's enhancements include a brake/transmission shift interlock, a dark teal metallic exterior color offering and transmission fluid that never needs replacement.

Front-end restyling has produced a fresher look for the Astro this year. Other refinements include an optional remote keyless entry and availability of the 4.3-liter V-6 and electronic speed control as standard equipment.

On the Sportvan and Chevy van, there have been performance enhancements to the automatic transmission and engines and there are two new exterior colors (light stellar blue metallic and light autumnwood metallic).

Could Your Car Spoil Your Holiday?

Don't let your holiday vacation plans be foiled by something you can prevent. That's the advice from the Car Care Council who reports a national survey (sponsored by Marriott Resorts) showing that nearly half of respondents' vacations had been disappointing. Car trouble led the list of "spoilers."

Some mechanical difficulties cannot be anticipated. When a part such as an alternator fails, for example, it's usually without warning, so preventive measures don't apply. But when the alternator light comes on because a worn drive belt has been overlooked, that situation need not have happened. Most highway breakdowns can be avoided through preventive measures done on one's "home turf."

So before you leave on your vacation trip, find out whether or not your vehicle is up to the task. Use this check list from the Car Care Council to give it a good "physical." After all, if your vehicle doesn't enjoy the trip, you probably won't either.

NOTE: Detailed information on preventive maintenance checks you can make on your own vehicle is available from the Car Care Council in the form of an illustrated pamphlet entitled "HOW TO FIND YOUR WAY UNDER THE HOOD AND AROUND THE CAR." The Council also offers a 30 minute video on that subject, available for $12.95 including shipping and handling.

For your copy of the pamphlet and information on the video, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Car Care Council, Dept. UH., One Grande Lake Drive, Port Clinton, OH 43452.
