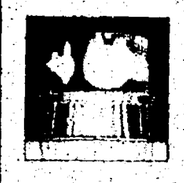
Dad, dispatcher are life-savers



Dakota Bakka, nearly dead when he was found in a swimming pool, is a playful toddler because of rescue efforts that have resulted in his father and a Westland police dispatcher being nominated for a life-saving award.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A 19-month-old Westland boy who had stopped breathing after getting into the family swimming pool is his playful self, thanks to the heroic efforts of his father and a Westland police dispatcher.

"He's like nothing ever happened," his father, Dennis Bakka, said Friday. "He's as lively as he ever was."

During a family barbecue Wednesday evening, no one noticed until it was nearly too late that Dakota Bakka was floating lifelessly in the in-ground pool at the family residence on Avondale, near Venoy.

"I looked over and saw a little kid floating on his back," the father said. "I didn't know who it was at first."

Panic set in as Dennis Bakka realized that it was his only son.

"I don't know how long he had been in there," he said.

The father pulled Dakota from the pool as the mother, Julie Bakka, called 9-1-1 and got Westland police dispatcher Karen Downey on the line.

The mother's cousin, Cindy Stokes, took the phone because Julie Bakka was hysterical.

"I remember my wife being out in the front yard screaming," Dennis Bakka said.

The 33-year-old father had received cardiopulmonary resuscitation training in November, he said, "but I never dreamed I'd have to use it this soon, much less on my own son."

The problem was, he had never been taught any specifics on saving a drowning victim.

With Stokes on the phone, Downey began giving life-saving instructions that Stokes passed on to Dennis Bakka.

Their efforts kept Dakota alive until rescue workers John Adams and William Wright arrived from the Westland Fire Department and took over. The toddler was rushed to Oakwood Hospital/Annapolis Center in Wayne.

Dennis Bakka said his son usually wears a float suit in the back yard, but it had been removed prior to the 7:35 p.m. incident for a diaper change.

Downey, a dispatcher since December, said she had never before received a drowning call. She didn't panic.

"You don't really think. You just react. You're trained, and some part of your mind just kicks in," she said.

Only later did she break down and cry, she said.

"She did a great job," Dennis Bakka said.

Downey and the child's father are being recommended for a life-saving award from the Westland Fire Department, said George Riley, an as-

Storm damage creates problems

City recovers: A lightning bolt downed this huge tree near the John Glenn High School entrance late Thursday afternoon.

Thursday — bad day on three fronts

BY MARK CHMURNY
STAFF WRITER

Trees and power lines were downed Thursday in Westland as severe storms pounded the area. But there were no reports of storm-related deaths or serious injuries, said Patrick Hawker, an assistant Westland fire chief.

"We didn't have anything real serious," he said. "We had a bunch of trees down, but nothing of any real consequence."

Several trees were uprooted or damaged, including one in front of John Glenn High School on Marquette near Cozens.

Thursday brought a triple whammy to western Wayne County.

Mother Nature unleashed two of the miseries — a spiky heat wave with temperatures close to 100 and an early evening storm that blackened the sky and hit it in dented beats and quick outside thunderstorms the rest. A tornado watch was also issued Thursday.

The heat wednesday struck at 5:30 p.m. when a switch lost power in a main building where incoming and outgoing calls are routed, James said. "It was an electrical power problem. The loss of service covered a wide path."

The failure affected the following 261, 421, 422, 425, 427, 458, 513, 522, 933 exchanges.

Power to the switch was restored by 4 p.m. Thursday. But for the rest of the day callers still couldn't get through because everyone wanted to use the phones at once, James said.

"They got a slow dial tone or a voice telling them to call again; the network was doing five times the volume of calls it normally did because of pent-up demand."

Motorist to be tried in child's traffic death

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A 5-year-old girl, killed in a May 24 traffic accident in Westland, would likely be alive today if her mother had strapped her into a child restraint seat, a police officer testified Wednesday.

Under questioning in court, Westland officer Jack McIntosh said he requested that county prosecutors charge both the Inkster mother and the Westland man who is accused of driving into her path on Wayne Road, just south of Ford.

Instead, prosecutors denied charges against the mother, Susan Pierce, and charged only Steven Kemp, 37, who was ordered to stand trial for negligent homicide following a hearing Wednesday in Westland 18th District Court.

Kemp, leaving a gas station on the southwest corner of Wayne and Ford, is accused of pulling in front of Susan Pierce's car while she was driving south on Wayne at 7:25 a.m. May 24.

Pierce, driving a leased 1995 Ford Contour, collided with Kemp's 1987 Honda Civic, and her 5-year-old daughter, Michelle, died after suffering a broken neck and spinal injuries.

Witness Frank Blassic of Wayne testified that Kemp crossed into Pierce's path while trying to turn left to drive north on Wayne. An unidentified driver in a truck had stopped and motioned for Kemp to pull out, Blassic said.

"To me, it looked like he (Kemp) was in a hurry to get across and he thought he could make it, and he didn't make it," Blassic testified.

But defense attorney Marshall Dianer told Judge C. Charles Bokos that Kemp's foot slipped on the clutch and that he accidentally darted into Pierce's path.

Assistant Wayne County prosecutor Kelly Gleason countered that Kemp's statement was "self-serving."

Dianer, calling the girl's death "tragic," also raised questions about whether the passenger-side air bag was properly inflated during the accident. He cited a National Highway Traffic Safety Administration study and a nationwide recall of some Ford Contours for air bags that "might not inflate properly."

Susan Pierce testified that the passenger air bag didn't appear to have

Family Resource Center helps parents and kids

BY DARRELL CLEM

Doris Young needed help when her 14-year-old daughter started talking about suicide.

"I wouldn't have anything if I lost my children," she said.

Young said her daughter became depressed several months ago when an adopted 8-year-old girl was brought into their home.

"She wasn't accepting it," Young said.

Rather than approaching the problem in a productive manner, mother and daughter engaged in arguments that erupted into shouting matches.

"When my daughter started talking about suicide, it really upset me," Young said. "So I figured I'd better get some help."

They turned to the Family Resource Center, based at Lincoln Elementary School in Westland, where they talked about their problems with coordinator Beverly Brooks.

"She was open with us, and she understood us," Young said. "She made us feel wanted.

"And she didn't judge me on my past," said Young, who said she quit using drugs 10 years ago. She doesn't want her children to use drugs.

Through the Family Resource Center, mother and daughter have begun learning to communicate without lashing out at one another. Things aren't perfect at their Wayne home, Young said, but they're getting better.

The 14-year-old is learning to accept the adopted sibling, Young said.

"She sits with her now. She doesn't want anybody messing with her little sister."

Young said her parenting skills have improved.

"I divide my time equally between my children now," she said.

The Family Resource Center, staffed by Brooks and assistant Bonnie Hurst, was launched last year with a grant from the Skillman Foundation. It is aimed at helping families in the Wayne-Westland school district deal with problems and crises.

Brooks describes the center as a "one-stop shopping point" where families can find help for problems such as student truancy, drug abuse, low self-esteem, suicide threats, sexual abuse, AIDS, poor parenting skills and other issues facing today's family.

"My philosophy here is to treat parents like they're a guest in my home," Brooks said. "Some parents are threatened by school authority figures. But I think we are beginning to have people trust us. When that trust is there, I don't think there's anything we can't do."

The Lincoln-based center, at 33800 Grand Traverse in the low-income Norwayne area, has an exhaustive list of agencies to which families can be referred to get the help they need.

"A lot of people just don't know where to go for help," Hurst said. "We get people coming in here in tears. A lot of times it's a crisis situation. But there is help out there. And most of it is free."

The Family Resource Center is only one of two of its kind in Michigan, Brooks said. The other is in Saginaw.

The center's summer hours are 8:30-11:30 a.m. When school is in session, hours are from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

In addition to serving individual families, the center also has sponsored special programs for large groups of parents. Some 400 people attended a "Parent's Day" program earlier this year at Adams Junior High School, where a wide range of sessions offered ways for improving parenting skills.

The center also has offered field trips to such places as the Detroit Zoo, Brooks said.

"We're promoting positive parenting," she said.

Brooks said she hopes the center can help to foster a cooperative relationship among parents, students, the schools and the community at large.

"Schools cannot solve the problems alone, and parents tell us that they cannot do it alone anymore," Brooks said.

Hurst said many local families still aren't aware that help is available through the resource center, but they hope to change that.

The center can be reached at 595-2279. Callers who happen to phone when the staff is out of the office are encouraged to leave a message or to call back.

Man is charged in armed robbery

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

An Inkster man has been charged with armed robbery in a July 1 holdup that occurred at the 7-Eleven on Merriman Road, south of Palmer, in Westland.

Kenneth Williams, 33, is accused of seizing money from a cash register and then forcing two employees and a customer to go into a back room until he fled in a car, Westland police Sgt. Terry Donohue said.

No shots were fired and no injuries reported during the robbery that occurred just before 7 a.m.

A second man who drove the car in which the suspect was riding hasn't been charged. He told police that he didn't know that a robbery was being committed, and he was described by Donohue as "cooperative" during the investigation.

Based on a tip provided by a 7-Eleven employee, Inkster police stopped the car shortly after the robbery occurred, and the driver was initially arrested. He wasn't accompanied by Williams at the time, but he led police to the suspect, Donohue said.

Williams, jailed in lieu of a $250,000 cash bond, was scheduled for a preliminary hearing Thursday morning in Westland 18th District Court. But his attorney was granted a delay after asking that Williams undergo a psychiatric examination to determine whether he is competent to aid in his own defense.

A not-guilty plea has been placed on record for the suspect, who could face a maximum sentence of life in prison if convicted.

In addition to armed robbery, Williams also faces felony firearms and habitual offender charges. He has prior convictions for felonious assault, receiving stolen property and attempted escape, Donohue said.

During the robbery, a man walked in and pretended to be shopping before warning an employee that he had a gun in his coat pocket, Donohue said. No gun was actually revealed.

The employee followed the man's orders to open a cash register, and the man reached into the drawer and seized some money, Donohue said. Police used a surveillance camera videotape to get a photograph of a suspect.

The robber also patted down a female customer, but he didn't take anything from her, Donohue said. A second employee also was inside the store because a shift change was approaching, the detective said.

The robber, before leaving, ordered the employees and the woman into a back room, but one worker managed to jot down a license plate number as the robber was riding away, Donohue said.

James called the power loss to the switch "very unusual." Generally, he said, telephone service goes down when construction crews cut through buried cable.

Throughout Thursday, Ameritech fielded about 3,000 calls from customers.

"It was a mixed bag," James said. "Some were justifiably irate. Some were curious. It was one of those things you can't foresee. We did everything in our power to get service back up. Three thousand is an extremely high number of calls."

The summer storm hit about 6 p.m., bringing a bit of relief from the steam of the day. The sky darkened, fingers of lighting spread across the sky, trees rocked and swayed and torrents of water fell.

With the storm came a loss of power, to homes, businesses and street lights.

sistant fire chief.

A committee decides on recipients, "but there's no doubt in my mind they'll be awarded it," Riley said.

Bakka and Downey learned about the award during separate interviews with the Observer.

"I'm grateful," Bakka said.

"I'm flattered," Downey said. "I just did my job to the best of my ability, and it worked out great. But I didn't do it alone. I had a lot of help."

She singled out Stokes for remaining calm on the phone, the father for carrying through on the instructions, co-dispatcher Ellie Florn for getting a rescue crew in motion, and firefighters Adams and Wright for getting Dakota to the hospital.

Downey asked that the public be reminded of the importance of remaining as calm as possible during a 9-1-1 call. Every second can mean the difference between life and death, she said.

Fortunately, Dakota had a life-saving team that pulled him from the brink of death.

Said Riley: "He's a very lucky little boy."

properly inflated.

Pierce, who was driving to a babysitter's residence, conceded on the witness stand that Michelle wasn't restrained. Neither the mother nor her 2¼-year-old son, Alex, who was restrained in the back seat, was seriously injured.

Pierce said she was driving about 40 mph when Kemp pulled in front of her.

"It was so fast that I couldn't swerve out of the way," she said, "and we just hit."

Momentarily losing her composure, the mother tearfully testified that a passing motorist took her to Garden City Hospital, where Michelle was initially taken. The mother saw her daughter for several minutes while she was still alive.

Michelle was then airlifted to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, where the mother saw her again.

"She was already dead then," the mother testified.

Dr. Michael Caplan, a U-M forensic pathologist, testified that it appeared as though Michelle was sitting "very close to the front" of the vehicle when the accident occurred.

A child restraint seat "certainly would have reduced the likelihood" of the girl's death, Caplan said.

McIntosh testified that Michelle apparently hit the windshield of the car. He said his investigation indicated that the air bag was properly deployed, raising the issue of whether Michelle may have been sitting too close to the front of the car to be properly protected by the air bag.

Bokos also called the girl's death "tragic" and said Disner raised "a good argument" on Kemp's behalf.

But he said enough issues were raised that a jury should decide whether Kemp is guilty of negligent homicide, punishable by up to two years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

Kemp will be tried in Detroit Recorder's Court, where he is scheduled to be arraigned in two weeks.

Charter school to open for auto technicians

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

This September, high school juniors can enroll in the first trade charter school in the Detroit area. The students will graduate two years later with high-wage skills critically needed in the automotive repair industry.

For more than 20 years, the MoTech Education Center in Livonia has taken high school graduates and molded them into expert auto mechanics. But the trade has become immensely more technical and computerized at the same time fewer and fewer young adults are choosing this as a career field.

In fact, auto mechanics is now so complex that even the job title has changed to automotive technician. And the shortage of certified technicians has become so acute that auto-related businesses beat the bushes to hire a certified technician.

To ease this shortage, MoTech has taken advantage of an educational trend being pushed by Gov. John Engler — charter schools.

It has asked Central Michigan University to establish the Michigan Automotive Academy at its school at 35155 Industrial Road, just south of the Jeffries Freeway, between Levan and Wayne roads.

The academy, open to any Michigan junior, expects to receive its charter from CMU in July and open its doors to its first group of students Sept. 5.

"We can take up to 200 11th-graders," said Tyla Wells, MoTech executive director. "We would like to see at least 60."

The juniors will leave their home high school behind and their last two years of high school will be spent at the academy. Parents must provide transportation to the school, which starts at 7:30 a.m.

Three divisions

School days are divided into three parts: mornings spent on such core curriculum subjects as English, math, social studies and science; afternoons spent on such auto-related subjects as chassis, electrical systems and engine technology; and after-school hours spent on a mandatory, part-time job at a local business. Between their junior and senior year, students also must take a mandatory auto-related summer job.

"Our core-curriculum subjects are technology-based," said Marshall Pitler, MoTech admissions representative. "In English, they won't be learning about Shakespeare, but how to interact in the technological world."

To unveil Livonia's new charter school, more than 75 Michigan automotive businesses and industries, the Automotive Service Association of Michigan, MoTech, and the Michigan Automotive Academy will host an open house for high school students and their parents 6-9 p.m. Thursday, July 13, at MoTech.

"The auto repair industry has taken on a new sophistication," said James Davis, ASAM board chairman. "An automotive technician needs advanced technical training and computer literacy."

According to the AAA, the nation faces an immediate shortage of more than 60,000 automotive technicians to work on vehicles which have evolved into highly computerized machines.

In addition to mechanical service and repair needs, today's technicians must be able to perform a growing number of accurate diagnostic procedures on automotive computers and components, as well as read and interpret extensive wiring diagrams.

"Even though the automotive industry continues to make dramatic technical breakthroughs in the design of the present-day automobile, the auto repair industry is losing ground in the amount of repair technicians in the field," Davis said.

In a 1995 speech before the National Press Club, U.S. Secretary of Labor Robert Reich said that most of the good-paying jobs created in the last two years require some technical know-how, but not necessarily a college diploma.

"In fact, many men and women whose traditional education ends at high school can earn comfortable middle-class incomes with just a year or two of additional training," Reich said. "Gas station attendants are lucky to make $12,000 a year, but an auto mechanic skilled in computer diagnostics can earn up to $70,000."

Two-tier funding

When Livonia's charter academy opens in September, MoTech will become a two-tier school: the publicly funded academy and the privately funded MoTech Education Center.

The academy will get at least $5,500 from the state for each junior and, in subsequent years, each senior, enrolled. High school graduates who attend the education center will continue to pay $9,100 for a 45-week course, Pitler said.

Students who plan to go to college to study engineering, auto design or other auto-related fields can use the two-year program as a stepping stone, and be able to get a well-paying job to put themselves through college, Pitler said.

The program is designed to prepare students to pass four state motor vehicle certifications, a prerequisite for independent repair work in the state.

The ideal candidate for the charter school, Wells said, is a junior, male or female, who might not want to go to college for four years, who doesn't want a fast-food-type job, and who likes to tinker with cars. "They must have a desire to work in the auto field. We can teach them the rest from ground zero."

The students will use all the training equipment owned by MoTech and now used by the young adults attending the school. Having the equipment on hand cuts the expenses of opening the charter school and makes it financially feasible, Wells said. "We couldn't do this just for $5,500 per student. Plus, the auto industry is providing technical support for this."

Demand unmet

MoTech, Pitler said, can't graduate enough auto technicians to meet the needs of industry.

"For the last 1½ years, with the economy booming, coupled with the new types of vehicles, we can't keep up with employer demand. We needed to find another way to educate and train. Charter schools are the perfect answer. At the very best, students can get at least four certificates by the end of their senior year."

The four certifications are heating and air conditioning, electrical, braking systems and engine repair.

The academy is now hiring instructors to teach such core subjects as English and science.

Internships, entry-level jobs and apprenticeships will be provided by MoTech's network of more than 300 automotive employers. They include dealerships, automotive service franchises and independent auto repair businesses.

During the two years of school, student pay for part-time, after-school jobs is expected to range from $5-$7 per hour, Wells said.

For more information, call MoTech at 522-9510 or 1-800-852-8405.

Businesses welcome new school

Metropolitan Detroit's first trade charter school opens amid a chorus of applause from businesspeople involved in the automotive service industry.

The following are comments made by local business representatives upon learning that a charter school for certified automotive technicians will open in Livonia in September:

■ Ronald Tillett, AM Car Reconditioned Auto Parts Inc., Westland — "The days of the shade tree mechanic have come and gone. With today's electronic controlled vehicles, the average mechanic has no chance."

■ Dave Pherson, Moog Automotive Inc., Redford — "I believe the idea of starting this career in the high school years is fantastic. This will help us to get the high school student started in the process two years earlier and in turn will get them through the training two years earlier and into the field two years earlier. There is a critical shortage of dedicated, qualified technicians to choose from in the market today."

■ Duane Curto, AC-Delco, General Motors Corp., Livonia — "It is very easy to see that the need for automotive technicians is at an all-time high — just look at the classifieds in the newspaper on Sunday. Many shop owners are concerned that there are not enough education programs in place to bring young people into this very rewarding and challenging field."

■ Al Brohowzki, Bill Brown Ford Inc., Livonia — "We are desperately in need of qualified automotive technicians with a good attitude who want to work."

■ Brad Smiles, Aerotek Automotive Engineering Services, Livonia — "There is a clear need to begin specialized training for skilled trades at an earlier age. Students currently graduating from the 12th grade rarely have the necessary skills to employ without further training. The academy would give students a much-needed jumpstart into this competitive industry."

■ W. Jim Clark, Dean Sellers Ford, Troy — "As vehicles become more complex, we have seen the need for highly skilled technicians, the kind the academy will provide."

■ Stanley Shephard, Shephard's Hi-Tech Tune Up, Detroit — "My biggest problem is finding technicians with the skills to diagnose and understand basic driveability problems. Too many mechanics are dropping out because of the fear of increasing technology and equipment updates. We have the latest in diagnostic equipment. The problem is, most mechanics cannot operate these pieces of equipment."

■ Henry Wallace, Snappy and Son Auto Repair, Detroit — "We are certainly anxious to pitch in and help in any way that we can to improve the situation of the shortage of help in auto mechanics."

■ Ray Phillips, Sunshine Honda, Plymouth — "Help. I need qualified, certified technicians now."

■ Michael Cleary, Midas International Corp., Chicago — "Over the past couple years, it has been almost impossible to hire technicians that have any experience."

■ Mike Allison, Roehrig Motorsports Inc., Wixom — "We are involved in auto racing, an appealing draw for young students. Generally, however, these youngsters don't recognize the hard work involved, and lack the high-level skills needed to succeed in the area of automotive mechanics. No job in the 21st century will be exempt from the computer revolution that is taking place."

■ Stephen Clement, Lou LaRiche Chevrolet, Plymouth — "The shortage of qualified technicians has affected our business in a number of ways. First, our cost of doing business is higher. We are constantly running help wanted ads in local newspapers. Plus, as the principle of supply and demand works, the shorter the supply of technicians, the higher the wages that are demanded. This creates businesses bidding against each other for a technician based on scarcity of a commodity, instead of paying for qualifications as it should be."

■ Lori Henneberry, Keehn Stewart Co., Howell — "Because of the shortage of certified technicians, the automotive industry has turned to Keehn Stewart (human resources specialists) more often to fill their technical needs."

■ Terry Kozak, Belle Tire, Allen Park — "By entering the field immediately out of high school, this will allow the individual to continue his formal education, strengthen his or her confidence with on-the-job experience working with seasoned technicians in the industry, while also providing financial stability."

■ Brian Boreo, Birmingham Chrysler Plymouth, Troy — "The search for qualified technicians is becoming harder."

■ Helen Thompson, Andre Car Care Center Inc., Detroit — "It is my belief that if the 11th- and 12th-grader could see an economic future, the dropout rate in high schools and colleges would be far less than it is today."

■ John Freudberg, American Transmissions, Royal Oak — "The automotive repair industry is in trouble today. There are not enough trained mechanics for the amount of repair facilities."

School marking system praised

BY MARIE CHESTNEY
STAFF WRITER

Livonia School District parents and teachers give high marks to the recent pilot middle school program that sent report cards home every 10 weeks. In the past, report cards were mailed home every six weeks.

The pilot program took place this past school year in all four middle schools. The 10-week marking period will be permanently launched at Emerson, Frost, Holmes and Riley in September, said Marlene Bihlmeyer, curriculum director for the district, which includes the northern section of Westland.

Local students attend either Frost or Emerson.

The survey showed that parents and teachers are split on the issue of progress reports.

Ninety-nine percent of the parents surveyed believe mandatory progress reports are vital, even if a student is not having problems.

The number of teachers who back progress reports for all students — 67 percent — is considerably less.

School administrators got a glimpse into reaction to the new grading system in surveys recently answered by both middle school parents and teachers.

Under the old system, report cards were sent home six times a year, of every six or seven weeks. But progress reports were optional and sent mainly for students having difficulties.

Under the new system, grades are handed out four times a year, or every 10 weeks. But a five-week progress report is mandatory for all students.

"We will make this permanent in all schools, along with the five-week progress report," Bihlmeyer said. "Parents know what to expect and this is more efficient for the staff."

A similar pilot 10-week marking program has been launched at Churchill High, which serves the northwestern section of Westland.

Results of this test program won't be known until February 1996, Bihlmeyer said.

School board Trustee Susan Clulow said the new system at Churchill High was "working beautifully."

One major goal of the new marking system, with its mandatory-for-all progress reports, is to streamline communication between the school and parents, said Superintendent Ken Watson.

The mandatory progress reports that are mailed (not carried) home will dovetail with the twice-a-year teacher-parent conferences that take place in the four middle schools, he said.

Thirty-three percent of the teachers who answered the survey believe progress reports should be sent home only when students are experiencing some sort of difficulty.

On the other hand, only 1 percent of the parents thought this a good idea.

"Parents thought mandatory reports important, as well as some teachers," Watson said. "And we definitely mail this report home."

Teachers responding to the survey said they believe students overwhelmingly prefer the new 10-week marking period.

Only 15 percent of the middle school teachers surveyed said they prefer the old middle school marking system.

Teen gets probation in slashing

A Garden City teen has been placed on probation for two years for slashing another teen's legs during a fight that erupted after two groups of teens were "staring each other down" while riding on a Westland road.

Earl Louis Gesch, 18, was placed on probation when he was sentenced Wednesday by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Isidore Torres on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Gesch also was ordered to pay fines, court costs and restitution totaling $1,190, according to a court clerk.

Gesch had earlier pleaded guilty to the charge, punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

He was accused of slashing a 19-year-old man on both legs during a 10 p.m. March 25 fight between two groups of teens who had pulled their cars to the side of Joy Road near Middlebelt.

The two groups had earlier been involved in what police described as "a staring contest."

The victim received 24 stitches for leg wounds. Police said the fight ended when Gesch was knocked to the ground and disarmed by others.

Scout day camp has western theme

Girl Scouts from the southeastern Michigan area are coming to explore the "old west" at the annual Girl Scout Summer Day Camp, to be held Monday through Friday.

They will learn about the lives of the early settlers and the American Indians. The camp will be held at the Lions Pavilion at Central City Park in Westland, said camp director Paula Stier.

Several speakers will explain Indian heritage to the scouts.

Harriet Markley will help the girls explore rubbings, drawings and sandstone cuttings. She also will bring her basket and pottery collection.

Wayne Jackson is expected to help with storytelling, song and dance. He is a Tuscarora Native American. With Jackson as guide, the girls will "travel' educationally to the Eastern woodlands and into the Great Plains of the 1800s.

Reginald Pettibone, a Winnebago Native American, will introduce the group to an authentic tepee filled with native clothing and artifacts from the tribes across the country.

The girls will also learn about square dancing from callers Jack and Dorothy King.

Dentist Dan Johnson will discuss how far dentistry has evolved over the years.

"We will have dream catchers, bead rings and a weaving project," said Stier of the Wayne-Westland area Girl Scout Day Camp.

The Girl Scouts will receive T-shirts and badges at the end of the camp week.

The week's menus will reflect a western theme, Stier said.

"Part of our camping experiences was to perform a community service project," Stier added.

Materials to be collected will be donated to the Wayne County Family Center on Michigan Avenue and Merriman in Westland.

The center's staff provided the scouts a "wish list" and the scouts tried to honor their requests, Stier said.

Death penalty amendment is 'narrowest' yet

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

One thing is different about the latest in a 27-year series of efforts to bring the death penalty to Michigan.

"Mine is the narrowest proposal yet," said Rep. Chuck Perricone, R-Kalamazoo, as the House Judiciary Committee opened hearings July 13 on his HJR N, a proposed constitutional amendment.

The freshman lawmaker's plan would allow prosecutors to seek the death penalty in first-degree murder cases under these circumstances: (1) two or more murders, (2) murder committed in a terrorist act "intended to intimidate or coerce a civilian population," or (3) an attempt to influence governmental policy "by assassination or kidnapping."

The panel's meeting was help up for 40 minutes for lack of a quorum. Absentees included Reps. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, and James Ryan, R-Redford.

Perricone has 13 Republican and one Democratic co-sponsors. Committee Democrats revealed their hostility to the proposal.

Perricone said he rejected efforts by many fellow Republicans to include killing of a police or corrections officer. Nor does he want to include "crimes of passion and gas station holdups where it (killing) wasn't intended."

He said arguments over whether execution deters crime and is racist aren't pertinent because "we have an unusually high murder rate" for which execution in some cases is appropriate.

Rep. Alan Cropsey, R-DeWitt, advised Democrats to work on Perricone's compromise because if lawmakers fail to put it on the 1996 ballot, "this could go to the petition process, and if it does, it's not going to be as narrow."

A two-thirds vote of each chamber is needed to put the constitutional amendment on the ballot for voters in 1996. Although Gov. John Engler opposes the death penalty, he has no power to veto the resolution.

Democrats such as Rep. Ted Wallace of Detroit denounced the plan as racist, with blacks being executed in greater proportions than whites.

"I find it revolting," said freshman Rep. Laura Baird, D-Okemos. "It's an immature social impulse to seek revenge."

Said Rep. Mary Schroer, D-Ann Arbor: "It's odd that you (Republicans) trust a jury (in death penalty cases), but for weeks I've heard you don't trust a jury in product liability and malpractice cases." She referred to GOP efforts to limit jury awards in civil suits for non-economic "pain and suffering" damages.

Michigan was the first jurisdiction in the English-speaking world to ban the death penalty after the wrong man was hanged in the 19th century. Voters rejected a death-penalty amendment in 1931. Talk and petition drives revived after the 1967 Detroit riot. Despite poll support of 75-80 percent, however, petition drives have always faltered.

House Judiciary Chair Michael Nye, R-Litchfield, used the hot week and the Appropriations Committee room to give conservatives in his caucus public hearings on controversial proposals. A day earlier the panel had an overflow crowd on proposals to end affirmative action programs in the state.

■ The plan would allow prosecutors to seek the death penalty in first-degree murder cases under these circumstances: (1) two or more murders, (2) murder committed in a terrorist act, or (3) an attempt to influence governmental policy 'by assassination or kidnapping.'

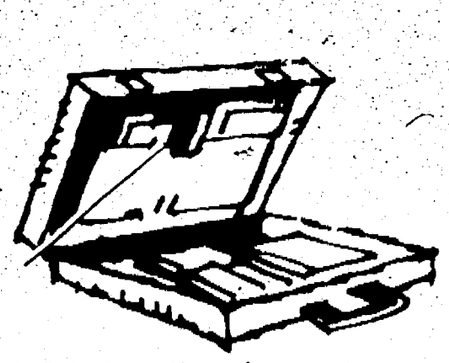
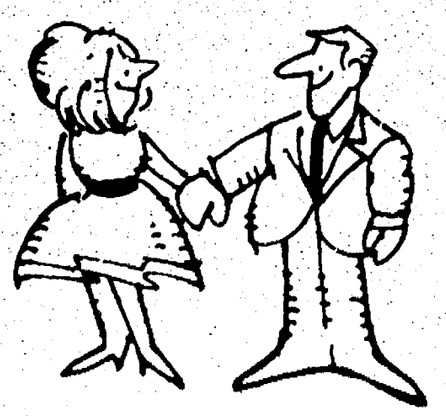
WRITE IT AND REAP!

Writing a classified ad that gets results—whether it be for real estate, employment, the personals, transportation, or merchandise— is easy if you follow the guidelines below.

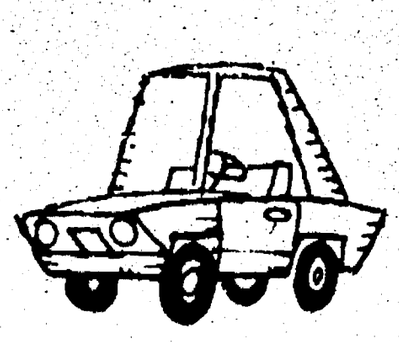
1. Give the reader specific information. Pretend you are someone reading the classifieds. What would you like to know about the item, service or job you are advertising? Be sure to add details such as color, size, condition, brand name, age, features and benefits. Be accurate! Don't embellish your ad with misleading information. Stick to the facts and reap the rewards!



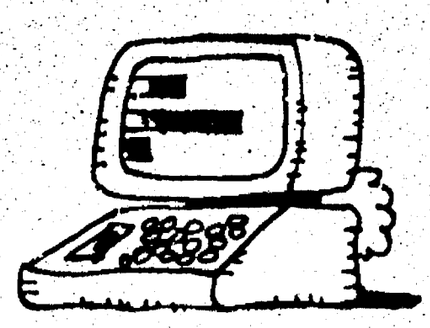
2. Include the price. Don't waste your time or a potential buyer's time. If you advertise the price of the item or service you offer, the people who respond to your ad will be those who are genuinely interested. Surveys show that readers are more interested in those items and services they know are within their price range.



3. Avoid abbreviations. Don't make a potential customer work too hard! Although you may be tempted to cut down on the cost of your ad by using abbreviations, surveys indicate that many people don't understand such abbreviations as EIK (eat-in kitchen) or WSW (white side wall) tires and won't take the time to figure them out. A confused reader is a disinterested reader. Get the most for your money and use complete words.



4. Include phone number and specify hours. Be sure to let potential customers know when and where to call. Surveys show that even if a person is very interested in your item or service, he or she will not call back after the first attempt. Stay near the phone during the hours you indicate you will be available. Don't risk missing a sale!



5. Run on consecutive days. Your ad will not get results if people don't see it! Therefore, it is important to set up a consistent and consecutive ad schedule with your telephone salesperson or outside sales representative.

Governor's veto cuts court funding

Capitol capsules:

Gov. John Engler heated up the debate over trial court reorganization by vetoing $25 million in aid to outstate courts, much to the disappointment of western Michigan politicos.

"The governor's veto is unfortunate . . . We want immediate action on restructuring," said Tim McGuire, executive director of the Michigan Association of Counties. MAC has a suit before the state Supreme Court that would force the state to pay core costs of trial courts in the 82 outstate counties.

In 1980 the Legislature took the first step by picking up the costs of Wayne County and Detroit courts but never took the second step until this year when lawmakers voted an extra $25 million for courts.

But Engler vetoed that line item, saying he wants "major near-term decisions" on trial court reorganization as well as on "the appropriate number, location and jurisdiction of trial judges. Until these decisions are made, I cannot support additional funds for local courts."

While Engler has yet to be specific on what kind of court reorganization he favors, leaders of the State Bar are proposing a single "trial court" to replace circuit, Detroit Recorder's, probate and district courts. A joint legislative committee is studying restructuring.

But Engler praised the Legislature for voting a separate lump-sum budget for the judiciary instead of a series of line items.

Indian aid saved

Engler didn't veto the Indian tuition waiver program, as he had threatened, but announced he doesn't want it in next year's budget.

"A veto would merely deprive public colleges and universities of reimbursements for waivers granted in prior years," he said. "I will not support further appropriations to reimburse (universities and colleges) for tuition waived for Native American students (in the future)."

A foe of special line items and complex budgets, the governor wants all aid programs lumped into a single account. For example, Engler vetoed a $250,000 line item for the Nursing Opportunity Program "because it is a new program that focuses financial aid on a subset of students and a single occupation rather than providing funds for all students that are in need."

Jeff Parker, head of the Bay Mills Indian Community and chair of the Michigan Inter-Tribal Council, asked Engler to reconsider because "we have a unique historical relationship with the state as a result of treaties. The tuition waiver is the result of a 1934 agreement giving Native American land to form the state of Michigan in exchange for certain rights . . . including tuition."

The higher education budget provides a 3 percent cost-of-living hike for all 15 universities and a handful of special adjustments.

Double-bunking

Prison double-bunking will continue at a state prison in Plymouth Township under the Corrections Department budget bill, which Engler signed.

It provides full-year funding for 471 new double-bunked beds, including 275 at the Western Wayne Correctional Facility.

The $1.3 billion corrections bill also provides $4 million for minimum security facilities and increases the county jail reimbursement program by $5.8 million to $14 million.

AN UNHEALTHY COMBINATION
Aside from all the other unhealthful effects caused by smoking and drinking excessively, each of these bad habits has been associated with a number of oral cancers, including those of the mouth, throat, esophagus, larynx, and tongue. To make matters worse, when smoking and drinking are combined, it leads to an effect whereby the alcohol seems to multiply smoking's risk of causing cancer. To begin with, smoking a pack of cigarettes each day increases the smoker's risk for developing oral cancer by 52 percent over the non-smoking teetotaler's risk. When the smoker drinks one drink per day, the cancer risk rises 400 percent. Those who both smoke more than two packs a day and drink more than two drinks a day expose themselves to a risk for oral cancer that is 15 times greater.
These are more reasons to quit smoking if you have not done so already. At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we will assess your oral health needs, consider your preferences, and then discuss and help you select the options that will meet all the necessary goals. We're located at 19171 Herriman Road, where your optimum health is always our main concern. Smiles are our business. Please call 478-2110 to schedule a convenient appointment. Type O blood supply low here

The supply of type O negative blood is low at the Southeastern Michigan Blood Services Region of the American Red Cross, according to agency officials.

Local blood needs are being supplemented by importing blood from other Red Cross regions in the country that collect more than they need.

However, the number of donations is down across the country, making it more important that southeast Michigan meet its own needs.

To avoid an all-out emergency appeal, the Red Cross is seeking organizations to sponsor blood drives and asking those that have drives scheduled to increase recruitment efforts.

Blood donors must be at least 17 years of age, weigh more than 110 pounds and be in good general health.

The donation process takes a little more than an hour.

To make an appointment, call (800) 448-3543.

For information on sponsoring a blood drive, call (313) 494-2746.

Committee plans hospital gala

Fund-raiser: A committee comprised of local residents is spending the summer planning "Motown Magic," set for this fall at the Crowne Plaza Holiday Inn at Detroit Metropolitan Airport. The committee includes (from left) Joyce Pappas of Garden City, Debbie Ley of Plymouth Township, Bob Stevenson of Ann Arbor, Denise Esley of Livonia and Margaret Woodruff of Livonia. The Saturday, Oct. 14, event will feature the Contours, a Motown music group. Tickets for the fund-raiser are $100 per person which includes "cruising" the drive-in through five food stations and dancing to the music of Motown artists. Guests will top off the evening with a late-night coney. Funds raised will be used to renovate the Garden City Hospital emergency service facility. Hospital officials say the expansion is needed to meet an ever-increasing demand for emergency services. Corporations and businesses are asked to join the fund-raising effort and be recognized as a platinum ($750 and more), gold ($500) or silver ($250) record sponsors. Individuals will be recognized as musical note sponsors with donation of $100 (whole note), $50 (half note) or $25 (quarter note). For ticket or sponsor information, call the hospital's Development Department at 458-4331.

Service dogs bill signed

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Rep. Penny Crissman won Gov. John Engler's signature on a bill to allow guide and service dogs to enter both private and public buildings during their training.

"Introducing guide and service dogs to a variety of situations during their training is crucial to proper socialization," said Crissman, R-Rochester."

Her House Bill 4052 will take effect Jan. 1.

"Its passage gives us legitimate reason backed by lawful support to bring these animals into public facilities during their training," said Bill Hansen, president of Rochester Leader Dogs for the Blind. The bill was also supported by Paws with a Cause, the Michigan Humane Society and the Michigan Association of Doctors of Veterinary Medicine.

The new law will require that training dogs must be at least a year old and wear a harness with a blaze orange leash and collar, along with a hearing-ear cape or backpack. Instructors must carry picture identification.

Persons refusing to admit dogs and trainers may be charged with a misdemeanor that could cost them $100 and 90 days in jail.

Heir bill advances

An Oakland County missing heir problem will be taken up by the state House when it returns to Lansing in September.

The House Judiciary Committee on July 13 unanimously approved a bill by Sen. Mat Dunaskiss to shorten from 10 years to five the waiting time for distributing an estate when one heir is a "disappeared person."

Dunaskiss, R-Lake Orion, won Senate passage on behalf of Laura Walker, an Independence Township homemaker and mother of four. Her father died in 1982, leaving an estate to her and two brothers, but one brother dropped out of sight in 1988.

"My parents gave up on him. We have not seen Clifford since 1981," Walker told the House panel. The family learned he had spent six months in jail for being AWOL from the military. The Social Security Administration has no record of him since 1988, the year he got a Texas driver's license.

Walker said the family suspects Clifford was involved in drugs or importing illegal aliens. Meanwhile, attorneys' fees have mounted, she said.

Subpoena bill OK'd

Gov. John Engler has signed Senate Bill 85, giving county prosecutors the power to issue investigative subpoenas.

The controversial bill had been opposed by both liberals and conservatives, who feared it granted grand jury powers too loosely.

Ed McNamara turns 'bulldog' loose on Rouge

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara likes to reminisce about how he and his childhood buddies swam in the Rouge River during the 1930s and kept an eye out for the cops whose job it was to keep small boys out of the river.

The Rouge wasn't entirely safe for swimming then, and it's less so now, but McNamara hopes to change that.

"Someday soon the Rouge will be ready for swimming again, and I plan on doing the first cannonball off the dock," he said two years ago in his State of the County speech.

The annual Friends of the Rouge volunteer cleanup, going on its 11th year, has raised awareness and pulled tons of debris from the river and its tributaries.

And the federal government's Rouge River National Wet Weather Demonstration Project, a $1 billion-plus, 20-year endeavor begun two years ago, could make the annual cleanup look small-time if Congress doesn't cut funding.

"Most people have never known the Rouge as a place for recreation," McNamara said in 1993. "They have only known it as a sewer. But with the help of the federal government the Rouge will once again be a place for boating, swimming and fishing."

Now McNamara has added his 16-inch gun to the campaign in the form of Deputy Executive Michael Duggan, who will take on the Rouge as his next big project.

■ 'Most people have never known the Rouge as a place for recreation. They have only known it as a sewer. But with the help of the federal government the Rouge will once again be a place for boating, swimming and fishing.'

Ed McNamara
County executive

Duggan is chiefly responsible for getting voters in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties to approve a property tax for the SMART bus system earlier this year. He has a reputation for finishing what he starts, often against the odds.

"He's such a bulldog," said Jim Graham, director of Friends of the Rouge. "When he concentrates his efforts, things happen."

Duggan said the particulars of his Rouge project haven't been set yet, but he has gotten a feel for the river environment by canoeing the Rouge with deputy parks director Dan Navarre.

"You feel like you could be in the jungle somewhere," Duggan said of his trip. "It looked like (a scene from) 'The African Queen.' Our biggest problem was climbing over the poison ivy."

Said Graham: "It's really very pretty there, and I think most people don't think about that. It doesn't make sense that we have to go 100 miles north to put a canoe in the water."

Although Duggan and Navarre put their canoe in the Rouge, the practice is not recommended for the general public. With more than 100 sewage overflow pipes still dumping waste into the river with every hard rain, the Rouge is still plenty polluted. In 759 tests on the Rouge from April to October 1994, the water met state standards for full body contact just 20 times.

Construction of 11 basins to catch the overflow from combined sewer systems is expected to be completed by the end of 1998, reducing sewage in the river by 33 percent. But that's the Wet Weather Demonstration Project.

Duggan's efforts are less ambitious. "I don't see taxes or new fees (to pay for it). We're going on the assumption that we're going to be creative within existing resources. We might take prisoners from the Hamtramck jail and have them clean the river."

Cleanup efforts will likely be restricted to portions of the river west of Merriman Road, Duggan said, adding that there are 50 logjams to be cleared.

Graham agreed. The Friends of the Rouge, he said, "can only get to a fraction of them. There are so many that are not easily accessible for volunteers."

Wayne County Public Works Director Vyto Kaunelis said that the separation of combined storm and sanitary sewers in Livonia, Westland and Plymouth Township makes a significant cleanup possible between Newburgh Lake and Merriman Road.

Duggan envisions a day when full body contact with the Rouge River won't be reason enough to visit the hospital emergency room.

"Within 10 years we can put a beach on Newburgh Lake and have swimming," he said. "It's possible that by 1998 we'll stock that lake with fish and you'll be able to eat the fish you catch."

Grilled veggies

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Try grilled vegetables; they're sweet as candy

Americans are beginning to discover that vegetables, like beef, chicken and fish, take on a completely different character when cooked over wood or coals. The natural sugars in some vegetables, such as onions, garlic and bell peppers, caramelize when grilled, imparting a depth and richness that no amount of sauteeing could ever achieve.

Other vegetables, such as eggplant, acquire the same woodsy smokiness as a great grilled steak. And Portabellos, those giant mushrooms, taste like the finest filet when grilled and doused with a little Italian vinaigrette.

Methods vary, but almost any vegetable can be cooked on the grill. There are a few guidelines.

Cooking guidelines

Vegetables have no natural fat. They must be either marinated in an oil based mixture or brushed with oil, not butter which has a tendency to burn, so they won't stick to the grill.

To ensure even, thorough cooking, the grill chef must frequently turn the vegetables and carefully regulate the heat of the coals.

Finally, vegetables have a tendency to absorb off flavors, so the grill rack should be as clean as possible, and the coals free of chemical starters before beginning.

Several basic grilling techniques are all that is needed to bring out the full flavor of vegetables. Larger vegetables can be sliced or cut into chunks. These chunks are easily handled when threaded onto a wooden skewer that has been soaked in water for at least one hour to prevent burning. Some vegetables, like broccoli, cauliflower, and potatoes require some form of precooking or they will dry out and burn on the outside before softening within. Of course, anytime you cook any vegetable in foil, it will cook perfectly on the grill, barring of course, any overcooking. Broccoli and cauliflower florets, will cook perfectly when brushed with herb infused oil if you blanch them first in boiling water for 2 minutes.

Vegetable wrappers

Natural vegetable wrappers such as corn husks help keep vegetables moist and tender. Purists might wish to remove as much of the silk from cobs as possible, but yours truly simply fills a bucket of water and soaks the corn for at least an hour. Onto a covered grill it goes, only to be turned about every 10-15 minutes until the kernels are tender.

Smaller loose vegetables such as green beans, pea pods and green onions can also be grilled. You can wrap them in foil, but personal experience suggests wrapping them in corn husks purchased from a Mexican grocery store, and then soaking for an hour before cooking. I'm not a big fan of wrapping my vegetables in foil because it has a tendency to steam the vegetables rather than grill them. A good grill rack with small holes allows me to "stir grill" smaller vegetables.

When it comes to grilling vegetables, I rely a lot on my handy dandy grill baking sheet. This large square of heavy metal has smaller holes drilled throughout the surface. It can be placed on any grill, and is especially helpful in keeping smaller vegetables from falling through the grates. They're available all over town wherever good cookware is sold. A word of advice: you get what you pay for. Cheaper grill racks will warp when heated and not lie flat on the racks. Expect to pay about $15 for a good grilling rack, but with minimal care and careful storage, it should last for years to come.

For dousing vegetables or brushing on great taste, you can't beat a basic Italian vinaigrette or salad dressing. Bottled is acceptable, but homemade is even better. Herbed infused oils offer a richness that can't be duplicated. Being on a healthy eating regimen, my grilled vegetables are basted with a good balsamic vinegar. Sometimes I'll add a few chopped fresh herbs from the garden, but for the most part, I rely on the flavor and taste of a great vinegar.

There are many vinegars out there, in addition to balsamic, that would be outstanding on grilled vegetables. Invest in a cheap spray bottle for uniform coverage; however, they have been known to plug when using vinaigrettes with herbs and spices. A natural hair small paint brush (not plastic) also works well as a baster.

HENRY FORD MUSEUM & GREENFIELD VILLAGE

Summertime sweet: Greenfield Village pastry chef Tom Preniczky and Nancy Brinkerhoff of Westland with "Poor Man's Lemon Pie" inside the George Matthew Adams House.

Pastry chef sweet on old-fashioned recipe

BY RENEE SKOGLUND
SPECIAL WRITER

Greenfield Village pastry chef Tom Preniczky of Westland, hopes to satisfy a lot of sweet tooth as well as a bit of curiosity at the Village's "A Taste of History" weekend July 22-23. He and his staff are preparing over 15,000 sample-size servings of sweets once baked in wood-fired stoves and hearth ovens a century or two ago.

All of the fonds offered at the event were selected for their historical significance and practicality.

"We don't alter the recipes a whole lot. We want to give people the historical experience, but we must make sure we give them good quality."

Given Preniczky's credentials, quality is assured. He's a graduate of Schoolcraft College's culinary arts program, and has plied his sweet trade at such notable establishments as the former Chez Raphael in Novi, Les Auteurs in Royal Oak, and the Hyatt Regency in Chicago. At Greenfield Village in Dearborn, where he's worked for the last three years, he oversees both the Henry Ford Museum and Village kitchens.

"It's been a nice place to work. Never a dull day," he said adding that "A Taste of History" draws in quite a few visitors. "It's really getting to be a popular weekend, especially if we have nice days."

During "A Taste of History," culinary demonstrations representing America's cultural and ethnic heritage will take place throughout the Village.

"I guess the old saying, 'you are what you eat,' is appropriate," said Diane Thomas, Greenfield Village spokeswoman. "You can discover how people used the resources available to put food on the table. You can see how people brought their ethnic traditions to the table."

Preniczky will be making "Poor Man's Lemon Pie" in the George Matthew Adams House, once a Baptist parsonage in the mid-1800s. Back then, when lemons were in short supply, inventive cooks substituted vinegar. But Preniczky said there's no need to pucker your lips.

"We use apple cider vinegar, sugar, and a little lemon. You really can't taste a strong vinegar flavor," he said. "It's mostly the cider and lemon. Just a small hint of vinegar."

Besides the pie, which is part of an old-fashioned church picnic menu at the Adams House, Preniczky and his sweet-loving crew will prepare huge amounts of Indian pudding, rice corn bread, Irish apple cake, and German pepper nuts.

When asked if he ever overdoses on sweets, Preniczky chuckled before answering.

"No," he finally said. "But that's a fun question. I just do a little taste test to test the quality of things. Really, my job involves checking the quality and overseeing the production."

Besides the fabulous sweets produced in Preniczky's kitchens, sample-size portions of soups, stews, meat pies and vegetable dishes will be served in a tasting tent on the Village Green. Food samples cost 25 to 75 cents. Tickets are sold at the tent.

In addition to food sampling, "A Taste of History" offers lots of family activities including potato sack races, pie eating contests and an edible auction.

BEAULIEU VINEYARD

First release: 1990 Tapestry is the first release in Beaulieu Vineyard's new Signet Collection wines.

Beaulieu Vineyard is back on the fast track

FOCUS ON WINE
BY RAY & ELEANOR HEALD

According to recent statistics reported by Gomberg, Fredrikson and Associates, wine industry analysts, table wine sales reached a record $2.6 billion last year. Fueled by strong consumer demand for premium varietal wines, California table wine sales grew five percent, turning in the strongest performance in more than a decade.

The growing popularity of red wines and robust chardonnays were the key trends contributing to strong growth and revitalization for some California producers - Napa Valley's Beaulieu Vineyard is one of them. New releases from this legendary winery are turning heads. They turned ours too.

In late winter, the 1990 Georges de Latour Private Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon was released. As a fabled 100 percent Cabernet Sauvignon wine, it has always carried a hefty price tag. This bottling was no exception at $40, however the wine underwent substantial refinements. The addition of merlot as a blending varietal and aging in 50 percent French oak made this a stunning wine.

Beaulieu winemaker Joel Aiken related some history about the Georges de Latour Private Reserve, a wine we had presumed was always 100 percent Cabernet and always aged in 100 percent American oak.

"When we did some research, we found out that

Toss some vegetables on the grill

See related Taste Buds column on Taste front.

GRILLED VEGETABLES WITH OREGANO OIL

½ cup olive oil
1 medium clove garlic, minced fine
1 tablespoon minced oregano or 1 teaspoon dried and crushed
1 medium eggplant, sliced ½-inch thick
1 large zucchini, sliced diagonally ½-inch thick
1 large red or green pepper, cut into strips ½-inch wide
1 large red onion, cut into ¼-inch thick slices
2 teaspoons balsamic vinegar

Combine olive oil, garlic and oregano in a bowl and mix well. Preheat the grill. Brush the vegetables lightly with some of the oil mixture. Place on the grill and sprinkle with little salt and pepper. Cover grill and cook vegetables, turning frequently and brushing with the oil mixture until tender, about 10-12 minutes. Transfer vegetables to a platter and sprinkle with balsamic vinegar. Serves 4.

GRILLED LEMON BROCCOLI WITH GARLIC OIL

2 medium cloves garlic, minced fine
½ cup olive oil
1 bunch broccoli, cut into spears
1 large lemon, cut into 8 thin slices
1 teaspoon juice from the lemon
Salt and fresh ground pepper to taste

Mix the garlic and the oil in a small bowl, set aside. Bring 4 quarts of water to a boil with 2 teaspoons salt. Add broccoli and blanch for about 2 minutes. Drain and refresh under cold water.

Heat grill. Brush broccoli with some of the garlic oil. Place broccoli on a grill rack and cook, turning occasionally while brushing with the oil for 10 minutes. Brush lemon slices with the oil and cook over the grill for about 1 minute on each side. Transfer broccoli and lemon slices to a serving platter. Drizzle with lemon juice and remaining garlic oil. Season with a pinch of salt and good crackling of fresh ground pepper. Serves 4.

VEGETABLES IN FOIL

8 ounces green beans, trimmed (about 1 cup)
1 yellow pepper, sliced thin, lengthwise
1 small red pepper, sliced thin, lengthwise
1 large leek, rinsed and sliced crosswise (or 1 bunch green onions)
8 teaspoons olive oil
8 teaspoons red or white wine
2 teaspoons minced marjoram or ¾ teaspoon dried
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut four 24 by 12-inch pieces of foil. Fold each piece in half to make four 12 by 12-inch sheets. Center a portion of each vegetable on each sheet. Drizzle each sheet with 2 teaspoons oil and 2 teaspoons wine. Season each sheet with a pinch of marjoram, salt and pepper. Bring the four corners of each piece of foil together and crimp to make a sealed packet. Preheat grill. Cook vegetables until tender, about 15-20 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

the very first Private Reserves (made by legendary Andre Tchelistcheff) did have some merlot and were aged in French oak," he said.

"In 1938, when Tchelistcheff first came to Beaulieu, the 1936 vintage was still in barrel. Those 60 barrels were all French oak. Beaulieu didn't switch to American oak until 1939, when the onset of World War II made it impossible to obtain French oak.

"Back then, American oak was basically whiskey barrels, bent over steam and not charred. American oak became an established tradition over a period of years. Merlot has been added for a touch of softness, not to impose any of its own character on the wine."

Aiken also pointed out that using tightly grained French oak mellows cabernet's natural tannin structure. A medium-heavy toast level specified for coopering helps reduce tannin levels and offers flavor subtleties.

Also sporting refinements in label design, this wine indeed honors an ages-old tradition and brings the wine to fast-track competition in the ultra-premium cabernet sauvignon market segment.

Fast on the heels of the refined Private Reserve, came Beaulieu's introduction of a Signet Collection and its inaugural release, the 1990 Tapestry, a red Bordeaux varietal blend and a new competitor in the Meritage category.

Aiken said the Signet Collection wines give Beaulieu's winemaking team freedom to experiment with different varietals. In her song, Carole King defined the Tapestry of life as "... an everlasting vision of an everchanging view," Aiken said. "This describes our directional plan."

The 1990 Beaulieu Tapestry, $20, is 40 percent cabernet sauvignon, 32 percent merlot and 28 percent cabernet franc with blackberry, currant, black cherry, black raspberry and fine tobacco aromas. With 20 months, French oak aging, it's rich and finesseful, structured for cellaring.

Other wines, not yet released, but planned for the Signet Collection are Maestro Pinot Noir, a tribute to Andre Tchelistcheff; a Napa Valley Zinfandel; and Rhone varietal blends. Watch for them. Beaulieu is a winery back on the fast track of premium wine production in California's Napa Valley.

Old-fashioned recipes offer a 'Taste of History'

See related Taste of History story on Taste front.

POOR MAN'S LEMON PIE

1 cup sugar
1½ cups water
3 tablespoons cornstarch, dissolved in ½ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
3 eggs, separated, yolks slightly beaten
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
⅛ tablespoon salt (less than ½ teaspoon)
1 teaspoon lemon juice
9 tablespoons sugar
Unbaked 8 or 9 inch pastry shell

Preheat oven to 325 degrees F. Mix one cup sugar and water and bring to a boil. Stir in dissolved cornstarch/water mixture. Boil until clear and thick. Remove from heat.

Add butter, beaten yolks, vinegar, lemon juice and salt. Stir well and pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake ½ hour.

■ The recipe for Smothered Pork Chops represents a recipe Grace Mattox of Georgia may have prepared for her family during the Great Depression. Her home, the Mattox House, has been moved to Greenfield Village.

Beat egg whites until foamy, then slowly add 9 tablespoons of sugar, one tablespoon at a time. Beat until stiff. Spread meringue over pie. Bake an additional 15 minutes until top is golden brown. Cool. Store in refrigerator.

Recipe from Chef Tom Preniczky, Henry Ford Museum, Greenfield Village.

SMOTHERED PORK CHOPS

6 (1-inch thick) center-cut pork chops
2 tablespoons bacon drippings (or substitute your choice of oil)
1 lemon, thinly sliced
2 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
1 small green and/or red bell pepper, cored and sliced into rings
4 large ripe tomatoes, peeled, seeded, and coarsely chopped
1 cup water
2 tablespoons distilled white vinegar
Pinch of ground cloves, allspice, cinnamon, celery seed, cayenne pepper
2 tablespoons sugar
Salt and freshly ground pepper, to taste

Brown the pork chops in bacon drippings in a heavy skillet. Add lemon and onion and bell pepper slices, and continue to saute. Mix tomatoes, water, vinegar, spices, sugar, salt and pepper in a small bowl until they are a thick sauce. Pour over pork chops. Cover skillet and simmer the pork chops over medium heat for 45 minutes, or until they are tender and the tomato mixture has turned into a gravylike sauce.

Smothered pork chops are usually served with rice, so that the sauce from the chops can become the gravy for the rice.

Adapted from a Grace Mattox recipe. The Mattox house from Georgia was lived in from the late 1870s to early 1940s by three generations of one African American family. Smothered Pork Chops represents a recipe Grace may have prepared for her family during the Great Depression. The Mattox House was moved to Greenfield Village.

BEATEN BISCUITS OR MARYLAND BISCUITS

¾ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
3 cups sifted flour
⅓ cup butter or other shortening
½ cup milk

Sift sugar and salt with flour, blend in shortening and just enough milk to make a very stiff dough. Knead on floured board until dough becomes soft and pliable.

Run dough through a meat grinder or a biscuit machine using a coarse knife or beat steadily with a wooden potato masher for 30 minutes, or until dough blisters, keeping edges turned in.

Roll to ⅓-inch thickness, cut with a biscuit cutter (or round cookie cutter), prick with a fork and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 30 minutes. The biscuits should be a very delicate ivory color. makes about 1½-dozen biscuits.

Adapted from "Mrs. Owens' Cook Book," 1884 and "U.S. Regional Cookbook," 1947. This recipe is typical of foods prepared in tidewater Maryland in the 1860s.

SHOPPING CENTERED

LINDA BACHRACK

Now is best time to buy sun styles

How nice to receive an unexpected midsummer invitation for sunset cocktails, a luncheon in the garden, or even a backyard barbecue. But what to wear?

Had the event been long anticipated, you could have picked the perfect party dress back in April, when summer fashions were fresh and new. Don't despair. Your wardrobe is probably ready for a boost right now, and the sale racks are brimming with pretty, summer season sensations that will wow all the guests at that alfresco soiree.

So hit the mall on a hot Saturday afternoon and look for the big SALE signs. Sometimes it's fun to discover that designer-label bargain that just didn't look quite so smashing on anyone else last spring. It was right there waiting for you all along.

I perused the markdowns at Hudson's and Saks Fifth Avenue at Fairlane Town Center in Dearborn and Neiman Marcus in the Somerset Collection, Troy, looking for summer's most popular trends. My shopping list included a pastel linen suit, preferably with Chanel lines; a chiffon floral-print dress; flowing pants with a long sleeveless vest; a short satin and Lycra dress; a big straw hat and a billowy chiffon scarf.

Neiman's third-floor suit department yielded just the Chanel-inspired suit I was looking for — a Rickie Freeman powder blue linen blend with a double-breasted jacket and tiny gold knotted buttons ($289).

If you prefer the practicality of a dress and jacket, I found a very feminine pink linen chemise by Constance Saunders. The white-collared jacket featured pearl buttons and a silk flower ($308). Both ensembles take you beautifully to a garden wedding or afternoon reception.

Long, flowing and flowery dresses are summer staples and there are plenty of them left on the rack. Saks has a daisy-print skirt ($55.90) and tie-back peplum top ($35.90) that could be mistaken for a dress. It's a Private Label outfit in pale yellows and golds. Also, check out the flirty floral chiffons at Ann Taylor and Laura Ashley in the Somerset Collection. Most have fitted bodices and bell-shaped skirts.

If you're looking for a more sophisticated summer evening dress, Hudson's has a pale pink crepe chemise with flounced hem and sheer draped collar by DW3 ($158) and a Datiani empire-waist crepe and georgette dress with a shirred bodice and deep slit in taupe, aqua or peach ($168).

Back to Saks for the palazzo pants and sleeveless vest. Kristinn Steinarr designs this duo in black and white mini-dots for the pants and an ecru long vest with black satin buttons ($137.90). Looks a little like an updated tuxedo with pizazz. Add Oscar de la Renta's black straw hat adorned with cotton pique bows ($39.90). Finally, the short satin and Lycra dress for dancing under the stars. Though it may look a little prom-like, the satin/Lycra combination is a hot new trend for summer. A halter neckline or spaghetti straps accent the form-fitting bodice, while the mini-skirt is full and swingy. Shown in electric blue, this sexy special-occasion dress is available at Hudson's. Look for similar styles at Saks and Neiman's.

And to wrap up your summer party frock? Toss a large square silk chiffon scarf over your shoulders ($100 at Saks). You'll be the belle of the backyard ball.

Linda Bachrack invites local retailers and shoppers to present ideas for this column, as well as details about and photos of special merchandise worthy of featuring. To participate, call her at (313) 953-2047, mailbox 1699, or fax (810) 644-1314.

Shop caters to folks fighting addictions

Ever need words of encouragement? The proprietors of a new shop insist that sooner or later everyone does for one reason or another. They hope to be able to help.

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

Jon Lightfoot and Annette Lewis opened The One Stop Serenity Shop in Plymouth with two thoughts in mind.

First, they wanted to help customers celebrate their triumphs over addictive behaviors; and second, they hoped to renew the strength needed on a daily basis to maintain recovery.

Lightfoot, 22, knows that battling an addiction is never easy. The Plymouth native is a recovering alcoholic. He and Lewis started the shop to educate and service the local community.

The store is patterned after similar stores in California that cater to the needs of people in recovery. To launch the store, the pair invested half of the profits from their year-old Wellington Fragrance Company, marketing incense at the Countryside Craft Mall as well as the Gibraltar Trade Center.

Most of The One Stop Serenity Shop's merchandise is aimed at people taking part in the 12 Step Programs of groups that include Alcoholics Anonymous, Narcotics Anonymous, and Al-Anon. The shop also carries items for those trying to quit smoking. Customers will find motivational materials like books, tapes, literature, t-shirts, posters, coffee mugs, and greeting cards lining the shelves.

And the store tries to help those affected by addictions. Family and friends of people in recovery, as well as those still drowning in their addiction, can find a friendly ear here.

"When my drinking was out of control, my mom and dad had nowhere to go when they needed help," Lightfoot said. "The One Stop Serenity Shop is not behind closed doors. We're here to help the community. If people have a family member or friend with a problem they can come in, talk, get literature. We'll steer them in the right direction."

Lightfoot said he began drinking at age 15. In the years that followed, he lost two close friends in drinking and driving accidents. While living in California, he faced the decision about the road his own life would take. He sought treatment. Afterward, Lightfoot decided to dedicate part of his life toward helping others recovering from addictions.

"If even one life is saved by the efforts of The One Stop Serenity Shop,

Fash Bash celebrates art and fashion

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO
STAFF WRITER

If fashion is indeed art, then it's fitting that Hudson's annual Fash Bash benefits the Detroit Institute of Arts each year.

Combining the latest looks for the fall/winter season with music, dance and theatrical sets, Hudson's elevates the fashion show itself to an artform — this year for the 26th time, at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 2, at the Fox Theater in Detroit.

"We'll present six segments of fashion, showing everything from ballroom to business casual," said M.J. Burns, of Hudson's Fashion Office. Burns and a team of staffers prepare for Fash Bash almost a year ahead of the production.

There are two new elements to the '95 production; a 5,000 balloon drop sponsored by Jules Schubot Jewellers (inside one ballon, a one carat diamond valued at $5,000) and a commemorative pin representing Rodin's Thinker by artist Bonnie Kondor. The pin will sell for $35 at Fash Bash and the DIA Museum Stores located in Twelve Oaks, the Somerset Collection and the museum gift shop.

According to Burns, fashion followers will see "spring silhouettes refined for more comfort and wearability." Lower heels replace the stiletto, the fitted glamour suit is still strong, but in menswear fabrics like tweeds and grey flannel. Dresses are back bigtime in the form of sleeveless sheaths topped by jackets or coats. The winter coat comes in three styles — the bathrobe wrap, the chesterfield, the pea coat.

Burns said men will appreciate the classics this fall like pinstriped business suits as well as business casual separates including vests, polo shirts and shirts with banded collars. Look for "urban rustics" — colors that are rich and pulled from nature.

Also, the neon colors popular last year have been replaced with the "techno brights" — Taxi Yellow, Superman Blue and Lipstick Red.

MALLS & MAINSTREETS

then the store will be a success," he insisted. "We're a way for people to celebrate their recovery. We have all kinds of merchandise here. You can apply the 12 Step Program to anything — overeating, controlling emotions like grief, or anyone working on self-esteem. Everyone can benefit from a 12 Step Program."

Lightfoot attends AA meetings weekly despite the fact he's been in recovery nearly five years. He designed a line of inspirational T-shirts for the shop. Ten different images ranging from angels to a guy hanging from a rope above an alligator pit spout sayings like "Sometimes, all we can do is hang on!"

Lightfoot met customer and friend, Michael Miller, 21, while both were students at Plymouth Salem High School. Both took the road to alcoholism and drug addiction. A drinker from the age of 11, Miller said he "drank because of peer pressure and to get away from my problems." Today he's into the martial arts instead, having left behind the bottle 5½ years ago. He recently visited the shop.

"This really is a specialty shop," Miller said. "It's a positive way to reinforce recovery," he said.

Co-owner Annette Lewis graduated from John Glenn High School in Westland. She talked about the need to send works of encouragement to loved ones fighting addictive behaviors.

"Our books, tapes, posters and T-shirts send a positive kind of note. A card or coin (marking the anniversary of time spent in recovery) is a perfect way to let someone know you're proud of them," she said.

Customer Michele Marsh, 20, of Canton Township especially liked the coins. A member of Al-Anon for the last 2½ years, she deals daily with her father's and brother's alcoholism.

"It's taking it one day at a time," she said. "When it gets to where I can't take it anymore, I just get out and come some place like here. It's nice to be able to come to a store like this in the middle of the community. The coins are a nice way of seeing your growth."

The One Stop Serenity Shop is at 470 Forest Ave. Downtown Plymouth. It's open daily from 10 a.m. For more information call (313) 459-9030.

Fash Bash's entertainers will be Motown's Contours (remember, Do You Love Me? Can You Do It? First I Look at the Purse); The Ballet of the Dolls from Minneapolis; Pan Dimensions, a three-piece Afro-Caribbean band; and Soprano Maria Jette of the Ex Machina Baroque Opera Company.

Before the show, a live auction pre-party benefit for the DIA is held at the State Theatre next door to the Fox, beginning at 5 p.m. After the Bash, the State Theater reopens for dancing with a cash bar from 9 p.m.

Tickets, (the event is always a sell-out) are priced the same as last year: $150 Gold Patron, preferred seating; $100 Silver Patron; and $35 Sponsor, premium main floor and mezzanine seating; and $25 Guest, balcony seats only. They are available at the Detroit Institute of Arts Ticket Office at (313) 833-2323; Ticketmaster; and the Fox Theater. Fash Bash hotline (313) 833-1148.

Has your Mom had a mammogram?

The risk of breast cancer increases with age. It is one of the leading causes of death among women 65 and older. Early detection through regular mammograms could prevent many of these deaths. Yet as women get older, they are less likely to get mammograms. Has your Mom had a mammogram? If not, encourage her to get one. It might be your chance to give her good advice.

Call us. We can tell you everything you need to know about mammograms. Free.

Urban parks not forgotten in the business rush

Antony to the Roman crowd:
"He hath left you all his walks,
His private arbors and new-planted orchards
On this side Tiber; he hath left them you,
And to your heirs for ever; common pleasures,
To walk abroad and recreate yourselves.
Here was a Caesar!"
Shakespeare, Julius Caesar Act III

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

Ancient Rome and Renaissance England better understood the need for urban recreation than does modern Michigan, say Joey Spano and her friends.

"One of our highest environmental risks has turned out to be the degradation of our urban environment — lack of open space, diminishing recreational opportunities, decaying parks and community centers," said Spano, a member of the state Natural Resources Commission and chair of the urban recreation task force.

"It's been a battle. People tend to vote in parks and recreation money last, but recreation programs are the first to go (in a budget crunch). I'm talking about kids in suburbia as well as Detroit. We've got kids here drinking in third grade."

Appointed by Gov. John Engler in 1991, Spano is the first parks and rec professional ever to serve on the Natural Resources Commission, a body generally populated by old-time hunters and anglers and a few environmentalists.

Since 1982 Spano has directed the West Bloomfield Township parks and recreation program and soon will shift jobs to work in community education for her local school district. That will give her a chance to practice what her task force preached: cooperation between general government, school districts and the state in providing urban recreation. Key tools: taking inventories of what's available, making joint use of facilities, promoting their use.

Many natural resources fans knock Engler for his Caesar-like emphasis on business growth. Not Joey Spano, though she's apolitical. "Obviously, there's an interest in the governor's office," she said.

She recalled the aggressive way Engler interviewed her for the NRC post four years ago. "He asked me tough questions. He was right in my face." She counts him a fan of revitalized urban recreation.

■ 'One of our highest environmental risks has turned out to be the degradation of our urban environment — lack of open space, diminishing recreational opportunities, decaying parks and community centers.'

Joey Spano
state Natural Resources Commission

Her task force had support from Eric Reickel, former county parks chief in Oakland and Wayne, now in Lansing; as well as mayors and city managers in Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids; and many professionals.

"I want to get (Department of Natural Resources) staff and resources assigned (to urban recreation)," Spano said, noting the DNR already has appointed longtime employee Ron Spitler as urban fisheries biologist. And there is renewed talk of connecting existing open space on the Detroit River front in a single, long path.

Spano praised Detroit Mayor Dennis Archer and his parks director, Ernest Burkeen, for reopening recreation centers, particularly in the Seven Mile-Dequindre area of northeast Detroit, where she grew up and learned sports.

She has her own accomplishments. "When I came here in 1982, we had 57 acres of parks. Today, we have more than 400 acres, with a millage, state and federal grants," she said. "But it's been a battle."

Spano's urban task force isn't looking for vast sums of new money or land. "We're not trying to reinvent the wheel and acquire great acreages. We have to make the best use of very limited dollars. We (the state) own two-thirds of the Upper Peninsula now. How much more land do we need?"

After 18 months of work and public hearings, her task force on June 19 recommended:

■ A state DNR inventory of park facilities and needs in urban areas, with an eye out for "regional" parks that serve multiple communities.

■ DNR cooperation with urban governments, police and parks professionals to assure safety in parks.

■ Environmental programs for urban and suburban kids. "We need to teach youth respect for natural resources — give them positive experiences in camping, fishing, walking through a woods. Our natural resources are second to none in the world. Can they (kids) experience it instead of seeing it on video?"

■ State help to cities, townships and schools in recycling tax-reverted land, abandoned sites, empty school buildings and other surplus properties for parks and recreation.

■ Aggressive promotion of the benefits of parks and recreation. "That sounds self-serving," she said, "but if we don't get out and beat the drums, nobody's going to do it for us. We need quality recreation for families."

She paused.

"If I could do anything in my four years (on NRC), it would be this and the Rails-to-Trails plan. I've been the most vocal proponent of Rails-to-Trails. But we now have a group called TART — Taxpayers Against Rails-to-Trails. Their attitude seems 'NIMBY: not in my back yard. I don't want to see people.'

"We feel we have to justify the importance of parks and recreation in our society. Many times public officials forget that parks enhance the quality of life and relieve social programs."

WESTLAND SPORTS SCENE

Return of the King

Eddie Feigner, the still-reigning king of the softball world, makes a return trip to the area Saturday when he and his four-man team, known as the King and his Court, come to Westland John Glenn for a game to benefit the Rockets' softball team at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

The game will be played on the John Glenn football field. Cost is $5 for adults and $2.50 for children 14 and under.

This will Feigner's first trip through this part of Observerland in five years, and it marks the 50th year of Feigner's "road trip."

In that span, the 70-year-old master of trickery has pitched over 11,000 games and shows, has recorded more than 138,000 strikeouts (10,000 while blindfolded) and has won more than 8,000 games.

He manages this with just three teammates, while competing against a nine-player team.

Livonia rules Oscoda

A group of 12-under baseball players from Livonia went up to Oscoda last weekend and came home with five victories and the Oscoda Bronco Tournament title.

Livonia, coached by Butch Conz and Tim Smith, won their games by scores of 15-6, 6-4, 11-9, 14-5 and 13-5 in the championship game.

Mark Willoughby was named tournament Most Valuable Player. He was the winning pitcher in the championship game and, offensively was 12-for-17 with 11 runs scored, 10 stolen bases and 6 RBI.

The rest of the team: Eddie Conz, Andy Danyluk, LeAnne Long, Eric Mancini, Billy Marsack, Brian Mecham, Dave Moran, Brandon Obenour, Jason Rowe, Chad Rutherford and Josh Smith.

Hoop skills clinic

Tim Newman, basketball coach at Livonia Stevenson, will be running a basketball skills clinic at the high school for boys and girls in grades 2-9 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays from July 24 through Aug. 6.

Players in grades 2-6 will meet from 8-10 a.m. Players in grades 7-9 will meet from 10-noon. The cost is $25 for Livonia residents, $27 for non-residents. To register, call Livonia Community Ed at 523-9277 or sign-up at the door.

More hoops

The Livonia Family YMCA will sponsor basketball clinics Monday, Wednesday and Friday Aug. 14-18. Players ages 9-12 will play from 8-10 a.m.; ages 6-8 from 11 a.m.-1 p.m. The clinics will be run by Bob Olson. The cost is $35 and includes a T-shirt. Call the Y at 261-2161.

Golfer eyes title

Gary Kraus of Livonia is one of 75 junior golfers to qualify for the state finals of the Independent Insurance Agent Junior Classic Tuesday and Wednesday at the University of Michigan Golf Course in Ann Arbor.

Kraus, 16 and a junior at Livonia Churchill, won his flight shooting 71 at the qualifier at Riverview-Highlands. He was one of 950 golfers to compete in 22 qualifying tournaments across the state.

The 75 finalists will compete for seven berths at the national IIAJC tourney, Aug. 10-15 in Nashville, Tenn.

Hornets win

The Livonia Hornets, 15-16 baseball team, improved their Tri-County League record to 13-5 Wednesday with a 12-5 win over Hi-White (a team from the Highland, White Lake area). Mark Dietrich (3-for-3, 3 RBI) and Brent Wojtyniak (3-for-4, 1 RBI) led the offense. Kevin Marvin pitched the victory, scattering eight hits. None of the runs against him were earned.

Ididaride

The Ann Arbor Ski Club's cyclists have put together a unique weekend of biking from the Adrian College campus, and they're calling it "Ididaride." The weekend includes a pair of rides that start and end at the campus, with distances up to the rider.

Cost is $85 for the weekend, which includes accommodations in a dorm room and five meals. The riding tour will visit Onsted and have a lunch stop at Michigan International Speedway on Saturday, with a live outdoor concert that evening.

For more information, call (313) 971-2748.

YMCA Tennis Classes

The Livonia Family YMCA is offering free tennis classes for beginning and intermediate players on July 20. The junior beginner program will run from 5-6 p.m. with the adult beginner and intermediates going from 6-7. A limited number of players will be accepted so early registration is suggested. Call 261-2161.

Also, the Family Y will offer tennis lessons from July 24 through Aug. 20 in the following age groups: Tots 4-7; youth classes 8-15; adult classes 16 and older. Call 261-2161 to sign up.

Steve Gabrian, a 1977 Livonia Stevenson graduate and basketball player who has been bedridden and battling the effects of brain surgery for more than 10 months, is about to get the get-well greeting of his life.

A bunch of his old high school buddies, spearheaded by Ron Colone and Jim and Lisa Dolmetsch, have organized a golf outing, Gabe's Gang Golf Classic, to raise money for his recovery.

"He is out of the hospital now, but he's been on his back for 10 months," said Jim Dolmetsch. "The doctors say he could remain like he is now, basically paralyzed, or he might be able to someday walk with a cane.

"But his insurance funds have been exhausted. We just hope we can raise some money to get him a wheelchair and a ramp, anything to let him know that we are thinking about him, that we care about him; something that might jumpstart him toward recovery."

The golf outing is set for Aug. 12 at Warren Valley Golf Course (26116 Warren, Dearborn Heights). The shotgun format will begin at 8 a.m. Tickets are $100 per golfer and includes a barbeque ($50 for barbeque only). Hole sponsorship will go for $500.

Gabrian, who accepted a buy-out from IBM, was working for a small computer firm in LaHoya, Calif., when a tumor attacked the stem of his brain. The subsequent surgery left him bedridden.

Dolmetsch said he is confident of getting 144 players for the Gabe's Gang Golf Classic. He also said money will be raised through 50/50 raffles.

To get tickets or for more information, call any of the following members of Gabe's Gang: Colleen Pobur (810-348-1514), Lori Tobis (313-278-3868) or David Katz (313-882-3015).

Anyone wishing to make a donation, checks can be made out to Gabe's Gang, 22361 Peachtree, Novi, 48375.

Finesse rolls in Kentucky

It's been quite a summer for the Finesse under-16 slo-pitch softball team.

On the heels of the Canton NIT championship in June and a second-place finish at the Smokey Baker NIT in Cincinnati July 1-3, the collection of mostly Observerland players swept five straight games to win the Louisville Sports and Recreation NIT last weekend in Kentucky.

In Kentucky, the team posted wins against teams from Cincinnati (7-4), Nashville, Tenn. (4-3), Louisville Beechmont (7-5), Louisville Chevyettes (10-5) and, in the championship game, Owensboro, Ky. (1-0).

Five Finesse players were named to the All-Tournament team, including Kristen Zabalavicius from East Pointe who was named tournament MVP. Zabalavicius hit .462 and, most impressively, allowed just five earned runs in four pitching starts.

The other All-Tournament players were Cassie Entaminger (Canton, Ladywood High School) who led the team with a .556 average, Jenny Kruzel (Ypsilanti) who hit .529 and knocked the winning run in the championship game, Kristy McDonald (Redford Thurston) who hit .385 with a home run, and Jenny Woody (Garden City) who hit .500.

from Ron Mason and he says he's interested," Brusseau said. "All you hear around here is Michigan, but I've always disliked Michigan and liked State. I will love it (wearing MSU green). It's the best feeling in the whole world."

Brusseau led CC to the 1994 Class A state championship, the school's first-ever hockey state title. He was first team all-state and an All-Observer goalie as a senior, recording a 1.35 goals-against average with five shutouts.

But it's hard for high school players to get college hockey scholarships. Just ask current Dallas Stars forward Mike Donnelly, who was not offered a scholarship after scoring more than 50 goals in his senior year at Livonia Franklin during the 1980-81 season.

Donnelly ended up playing a year of junior hockey after high school, then went on to star at MSU.

It sounds like a script Brusseau could like.

"My first goal is to just play, the second is to play well," said Brusseau, 5-foot-8, 175 pounds.

Neither Mason or Barons coach Tim Alexander were available for comments.

Brusseau is expected to battle sophomore-to-be Chad Alban for the starting job. Alban, who played for the Kalamazoo Jr. Wings in high school, played 13 games last year.

MSU finished 25-12-3 overall and lost to the University of Wisconsin in the first round of the NCAA tournament last year. The Spartans were third in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association with a 17-7-3 record.

MSU last won a national championship in 1986 and was runner-up in '87. The Spartans were third in both '89 and '92.

The Spartans lost seven players to graduation, including three on the power play. Their top player, All-American Anson Carter, is expected back for his senior year.

Brusseau had a 3.5 goals-against average and .911 save percentage for the Barons, who finished fourth in the regular season but lost in the final round of the NAJHL playoffs.

Brusseau said the area he improved in mostly was protecting and deflecting rebounds.

"I got better either trying to absorb them or deflect them where I wanted them to go," Brusseau said. "It is a step up from high school, I definitely improved a little on everything."

The Barona played about 60 games, compared to a high school schedule of about 25. Another thing junior hockey taught Brusseau was how to endure long road trips.

"I got pretty good at card games (on the bus)," said Brusseau, who also had a job on an assembly line that paid $5.35 an hour.

Brusseau said his style is a lot like that of Chicago Blackhawks' star Ed Belfour, who likes to use his stick along the ice. It's not the preferred style in the Brusseau home.

"My dad (Norm) and I sit and watch hockey on TV, and he always says me and Belfour are identical, putting the paddle of the stick on the ice opens up too many other areas," Mike said. "But hey, it's working for him."

Goalie school from page 1C

Heights feel guilty about attending last week's Rick Heinz Goalie School at Redford Ice Arena?

Because at age 28, Kliemann is only a kid at heart.

"My wife (Kim) and all my friends think I'm crazy; they're all concerned whether I can stay alive, and me, too," Kliemann said, sitting in a dressing room following a Monday workout with about 20 kids half his age. "But I want to learn more skills. I have a 1½-year-old son who someday I'd like to pass along knowledge to."

The camp came at a good time for Kliemann, who was off from his job at Ford Motor Co. due to a two-week shutdown at the Michigan Truck Plant in Wayne. The first week off, he and his wife vacationed in Petoskey.

"She'd rather have me at home, but fair is fair — one week for her, one for me," said Kliemann, who plays Senior Tier A hockey.

Heinz, who played five years in the National Hockey League, mostly as a backup goaltender with the St. Louis Blues and Vancouver Canucks, welcomes anyone over the age of 7.

It's still growing

Heinz started his goalie schools seven years ago with two camps in his hometown of Toronto, Ont. The number grew to 30 last year and this summer his camps are at 54 sites, five in Michigan.

Heinz has schools in Los Angeles, Las Vegas and as far south as Dallas. He will be back in the Detroit area Aug. 21-28, when his school will be held at the City Sports Center in downtown Detroit.

Heinz said when he was learning to play as a kid, there were no camps specifically for goalies.

Heinz sets up several different stations, including one that specializes in stick-handling, a skill which has become increasingly important over the years to goaltenders.

"Camps were dedicated to shooters; all the goalies were were targets," Heinz said. "They'd put the goalies in the net, bring in shooters and say, 'Stand there and take a blast.' The parents got ripped off.

"Goalie play has improved overall. Look at the NHL; you see guys with 2-point-something goals-against averages."

This is the fifth year Heinz has been in Redford. The regional coordinator is Cheryl Rivard, whose son John is a veteran camper.

Heinz's camp is held 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily. He brings a full-time staff to all the sites and also gets help from local high school standouts. At last week's camp, Redford Catholic Central players former and present Neil Bratcher, Matt Giordano, Nick Kalenlecki, Dan Hunt, Tony Spezia, Jeff Heiner, Bob Beckman and Brad Przylecki were shooters.

"For the little kids, I try to shoot at their pads to give them more confidence," said Przylecki, of Livonia. "Against the big kids, I'm going all out to score."

One of the goalie instructors was Canton resident Stacey Chuhran, 18, one of the top-flight female goalies in the state.

"I know she's good because she use to play for the team my brother Aaron played on," said Ryan Zielinski, 13, a camper from Canton.

Good company

Heinz said three former campers and instructors, Mike Torchia, Rob Dopson and Derek Wilkinson, are now playing in the NHL. Torchia is with the Dallas Stars, Dopson with the Pittsburgh Penguins and Wilkinson with the Tampa Bay Lightning.

Heinz might not ever see or hear again from Kliemann, but the two share a special bond that Heinz doesn't have with most campers.

"Like me, he's bald," said Heinz, lifting his baseball hat above his head.

For information on the next Detroit visit, contact Joe Zielinski at (313) 981-4476. Cost is $325.

Buying a Used Car Can Be Risky.

Blackwell Ford can help minimize the risk you take when purchasing a used vehicle. Every used vehicle sold by Blackwell Ford undergoes extensive reconditioning and safety inspection before it is offered for sale. If the vehicle does not meet our high standards, it will never be displayed on our lot. In the unlikely event that something does go wrong with your vehicle during the first 30 days or 2,000 miles, whichever occurs first, we will stand behind it 100% and repair it free of charge. It's that simple. We offer new car peace of mind with your used vehicle purchase. Stop in today to see our large selection of quality used vehicles, all priced to sell. And please remember...
