BY DARRELL CLEM

Malfunctioning water meters are being blamed for much of the $1 million in water-billing losses that the city faces each year, prompting plans for a citywide meter-replacement project, city officials say.

Some residents and business owners could see significant increases in their water bills after their meters --some of them 40 to 45 years old - are changed, said Carl Clark, public services department director.

"It will most likely be a substantial increase" in some cases, he said.

'Family' rounion coming

Some 26,000 residential water meters will be replaced, with work expected to begin around the first of the year, Clark said.

First, however, the city will target some 2,400 meters in the commercial and industrial sector, where old meters are expected to be replaced by year's end, he said.

The entire project, which will be bonded, will take three to five years to complete, Clark said.

The first meter replacement round will cost $528,470 for the commercial sector and $428,470 for some 2,000 homes in the residential sector, totaling $956.940. That was the lowest bid and was awarded to SLC Meter Service Inc. in a decision last week by the Westland City Council.

Currently, the city buys 4 billion gallons of water a year from Detroit, but, largely because of malfunction. ing water meters, bills city customers for only 3 billion gallons annually, Clark said.

"We're losing about a billion gallons of water a year," he said, adding

When Lupe and Pat Aguayo moved into Arbor Trail Estates 35 years ago, they didn't think they could afford the $15,990 purchase price.

Now the homes on Gilman, Morritt, and Mackenzie (with two on Ann Arbor Trail) are valued at $107,000 to $110,000, Aquayo said.

She and Cheryl (Browne) Champine reminisced about the early days of the subdivision, one of the community's first, while talking about the neighborhood's first "reunion" picnic to be held all day Sunday in Livonia Rotary Park, on Six Mile between Merriman and

Schools realign staff positions

BY DARRELL CLEM STAFF WRITER

In one of his first major initiatives as Wayne-Westland's new school superintendent, Duane Moore has won sweeping school board approval of a proposal to revamp the district's instructional department.

The plan, which will trim $7,086 annually from the board's general fund, is aimed at placing more emphasis on improving the district's curriculum.

The plan eliminates one position and creates a new one, and it also realigns some administrative duties.

With Moore's plan, board president Francis "Bud" Winter said he believes that the district is "heading in the right direction.'

Moore's plan eliminates a director of instruction position and shifts some of those duties to the executive director for elementary education. The latter post is currently vacant because Carol Johnson chose to become a principal at Vandenberg Elementary School.

The executive director position will be lowered in rank, with the salary dropping from $82,000 to $73,721 for Johnson's successor, who hasn't yet been hired.

Moreover, half of the new salary will be paid from federal Title I dollars, rather than being fully paid with general fund monies. Moore's plan creates a new position of executive director for curriculum development, with a salary of $73,721. That administrator, who also hasn't been hired, will be in charge of implementing a five-year curriculum-development plan across the district.

"The development and implementation of a comprehensive curriculum and staff development plan is one of the highest priorities facing our school district, since it has a direct impact on student learning," Moore said in a written recommendation to realign the instructional department.

The department will continue to be headed by Jano Kuckel, assistant superintendent for instruction. All things considered, the depart-later, "We're losing about $1 million a year."

The project, Clark said, will be the biggest of its kind in the history of Westland, which became a city in 1966.

The city is experiencing a 28percent water loss, Clark said, and he estimated that changing water meters will reduce the loss by 15 to 20 percent. That will help the city recoup much of the money it is losing each year.

Homes and businesses built in more recent years obviously have newer meters and won't be affected by the project.

The first residential area targeted for new meters is the Surrey Heights subdivision, which is between Palmer and Cherry Hill and stretches from the city's west boundary roughly to the CSX railroad tracks, Clark said.

Some 2,000 residences are expected to receive new water meters during that round, expected to begin in early 1996.

The council authorized City Attorney Angelo Plakas to prepare a contract for SLC Meter Service Inc. The council also gave the goahead to Mayor Robert Thomas and City Clerk Diane Fritz to sign the contract.

In another staffing measure, Moore won board approval to hire part-time athletic directors for John Glenn High and Wayne Memorial High. Those duties had been performed by an assistant principal at each school.

Moore said the assistant principals will be busier this coming school year because ninth-graders are being moved to the high schools.

Winter said during a board meeting last week that some 700 ninth-graders will be attending the high schools.

Moore, in his recommendation to hire part-time athletic directors, said, "Due to the increased enrollment at each high school and our desire to have a positive learning climate for all students, it is imperative that we free up the assistant principal from the day-to-day athletic responsibilities and allow the individual to operate full-time in the capacity of assistant principal."

The part-time athletic directors will be employed annually with outside contracts and no fringe benefits. Moore said a retired teacher or administrator would be ideal for the job, which would pay an estimated $20,000 to $25,000 for a 42-week contract.

Moore predicted that other staffing changes and cost-saving measures will offset the cost of adding the part-time athletic di-

Blitz'95: Way to lend a hand

By Mary Rodrique STAFF WRITER

Jackie Troutman has lived a comfortable life in Plymouth Township, raising four children to adulthood, marrying twice. She escaped winter for several years with monthlong vacations in Hawaii. Now she believes it's payback time.

"Anyone lucky enough to be able to put groceries on the table and not have to work, I think we owe something in return," said Troutman.

At 66, she is deeply involved with Habitat for Humanity, an international group of volunhousing for people who might dream of home ownership. Troutman is involved in campaign development and publicity for Blitz '95, the first Habitat project that will result in the construction of several new homes in Detroit.

Supported by multi-denominational and multi-racial leadership and perhaps best identified by the involvement of former President Jimmy Carter, Habitat for Humanity promotes partnerships between businesses and neighborhoods. The goal is to eliminate substandard housing, one house at a time.

Troutman became involved with the organization after a devastating hurricane hit the Hawaiian island of Kauai two years ago, leaving thousands homeless.

"I had spent the month of February in Kauai for five consecutive years. I had friends who were residents of the island," she

"I wound up painting houses. I think people find they have more skills than they realize."

A widow since 1990, Troutman traveled alone to Hawaii. # Phonics, whole language debate resurfaces

By Marie Chestney Staff Writer

John Whaley wants the Livonia Board of Education, which serves the northern section of Westland, to rethink a controversial program - whole language - that it launched five years ago.

In doing so, he has raised questions that have set off a firestorm in other districts: Which teaching methods work best, the new or the old? Which creates better readers, whole language reading instruction or phonics?

Whaley came to Monday's board meeting armed with research which casts a shadow on the whole language approach to teaching reading and writing. The district's recent evaluation of its reading program, discussed publicly in a July 10 board meeting, prompted Whaley's visit.

"I ask that the Board of Education take this tremendous opportunity to utilize the data in the reading evaluation document and the information (he presented) to rethink its position concerning whole language instruction for our children.

Mayor plans call-in show

Mayor Robert Thomas will hold his monthly cable-TV call-in show at 7 p.m. Wednesday, July 26, on Channel 8. Thomas said with an open discussion, viewers may call 427-9003 to question him on city matters.

"If the board wishes to continue on our present path, then you should commit publicly to the support of the program, explaining in brochures distributed directly to each parent the philosophy and practices of the curriculum; such as your strong agreement that it is not necessary for a child to know the letters of the alphabet in order to learn to Whaley made clear his own view that phonics works and whole language doesn't. "There is overwhelming evidence supporting intensive, systematic phonics instruction as the most efficient, cost effective way to teach reading."

Whole language emphasizes a variety of reading strategies; students read novels and other literature rather than textbooks and readers. They keep daily journals. Spelling isn't emphasized until about the third grade.

Phonics is the previous way of teaching reading. In that system, all students use the same reading books. They copy sentences from the blackboard. They get spelling lists and have weekly tests. Before whole language came on the scene in the 1980s, phonics was criticized as being too structured.

Marlene Bihlmeyer, director of curriculum, told the Observer that the district's holistic reading instruction includes phonics. "We never said we were going that far to the end of the continuum, where we don't teach these skills. We are in the middle. We use phonics with other strategies to unlock new words. That's the point he is missing.

Bihlmeyer said, however, that the district is "not fully satisfied" with the scores students are getting on the state MEAP exam, which tests whole language skills taught in the classroom.

"We need to go back and work with teachers to make sure they understand the most appropriate things to include in their lessons. We now have a better understanding of the key components; we must make sure our teachers have this same understanding."

Trustee Frank Kokenakes agreed the district needs to provide a "better holistic approach." The program the district now uses has not produced the improvements expected, he said. Superintendent Ken Watson said the district will review the research presented by Whaley. "There is nothing more important we can do than teach reading." Students need a variety of strategies to learn how to read, and these include both whole language and phonics, Bihlmeyer

Teachers lukewarm to whole language approach

By Marie Chestney Staff Writer

In 1990, the Livonia School District adopted a holistic approach to teaching reading, writing, spelling and oral communication skills.

But, according to a recent survev of K-6 teachers, many have not yet made the leap from believing in the new teaching philosophy to actually implementing it in the classroom.

"The belief is there, but teachers have not made the next leap, getting kids to practice complex tasks," said Marlene Bihlmeyer, curriculum director for the district which serves the northern section of Westland.

To determine if the district is achieving the reading goals it had set for itself under the holistic approach, all K-6 teachers took the Theoretical Orientation to Reading Profile (TORP), a test developed by Diane DeFord at Ohio State University.

The test reveals just where teachers stand theoretically on the reading spectrum. Are they more oriented toward teaching phonics? Skills? Or whole language?

"The results would indicate the overwhelming majority of K-6 teachers and principals operate within a skills orientation, rather than a holistic, integrated approach," the survey determined.

"This means that the elementary instructional staff has not made the theoretical, philosophical shift required for a holistic approach for language arts instruction.'

Phonics emphasizes the decoding of words. Skills emphasize word recognition. Whole language, the district's holistic approach, emphasizes developing a sense of story and text. It employs a variety of reading strategies, including phonics and skills.

The reading evaluation and survey is what brought John Whaley to a recent meeting of the Livonia Board of Education. Whaley, who lives on Sunbury, wants the district to rethink its adoption of the holistic program.

And if the program stays, Whaley wants the district to spell out to parents what the holistic philosophy includes.

"The administration has utilized a teacher evaluation instrument entitled TORP to determine the extent to which our teacher population has embraced the whole language profile of beliefs and practices." Whaley said. "Not only do we now have a common understanding of what whole language means to the district, but we also have established an assessment system for the implementation of that program.

Christmas coming in July to help Salvation Army

Christmas is coming six months early in Westland.

To help pay for Salvation Army programs that benefit low-income children and families, a Christmas in July "holiday" is scheduled for 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Hellenic Cultural Center, 36375 Joy Road.

The fund-raiser will benefit the Wayne-Westland area Salvation Army Community Center on Venoy near Dorsey.

Many area residents planning to attend the Christmas party have already made minimum donations of $30. Others who want to help may attend and make donations Tuesday evening.

'We all think about the Salvation Army at Christmas time,' Westland businessman Glenn Shaw said, but added that many off-season programs need funding, too.

The event will include live musical performances, a comedian, a video presentation and a visit from Santa Claus himself. The evening will be capped off with a performance at 9 p.m. by the Fabulous Floyd Brothers, a '50s band. Hors d'oeuvres will be served. Among the suggested tax-deductible donations: For $50, donors can send a child to summer camp.

For $125, a family can attend a week-long family camp. ■ For $200, a child can go to day camp for an entire month. For $500, donors can help pave the way for remedial reading and conflict resolution programs that are in the works at the Salvation Army Community Center. At the top end, a suggested $2,500 donation can help to fund a Family Learning Center that is in the planning stages at the center. Smaller donations will be accepted.

The Salvation Army wants to hire a counselor and an assistant to provide counseling on domestic issues, budget planning, proper nutrition and other issues, in addition to literacy programs and night care for children of working

"It's a big dream," said the center's Capt, Mark Welsh.

The goal, he said, is to start the Family Learning Center in Octo-

A letter that went to some Westland households notes that Christmas in July committee members "are doing more than hosting a party" Tuesday.

"They are attempting to provide a dream for many children and families in our community," the letter reads. "They want to send children who might otherwise never experience it to camp. They want to provide the opportunity for some families to attend a camp together. They want to teach children, and adults, to read. They want to teach youths and children how to resolve conflicts without violence or anger. They want to teach families to be families.' To help low-income families, hose attending Tuesday's party are asked to bring a can (or case) of soup, peanut butter, crackers, cereal, spaghetti sauce, jelly, pork and beans, rice, instant potatoes, canned meat or fruit, boxed macaroni and cheese, juice and powdered milk.

Commission moves to restrict prison film fare

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW STAPP WRITER

Wayne County commissioners voted 14-0 Thursday to restrict movies shown to prisoners at two downtown jails.

Although many of the commissioners would prefer to ban movles at the jails, a 1988 Wayne County Circuit Court order requires that recreation be provided to prisoners, including "movies, chess (and) checkers."

"We are hamstrung by this Circuit Court order which says we have to show movies," said Commissioner Andrew Richner, R-Grosse Pointe, who introduced the the movie-restricting ordinance amendment that was passed Thursday.

Co-sponsoring the amendment were commissioners Thaddeus McCotter, R-Livonia, who also represents Plymouth and Plymouth Township; Bruce Patterson, R-Canton Township; William O'Neil, D-Allen Park; Kenneth Cockrel Jr., D-Detroit; and Robert Blackwell, D-Highland Park.

The amendment says the "Jail Commissary Board shall not purchase nor rent motion pictures or video tapes which may have the effect of inducing or provoking vi-

Students can continue learning during summer

Students on their 10-week summer vacation don't have to take a long break from learning. They can continue honing their reading and math skills so they don't miss a beat in the fall when classes resume.

That's the advice of Patricia McAllister, a Garden City resident who is a longtime learning consultant in the Wayne-Westland school district.

Most of the learning activities involve the youngster and parents, she said, which also has a side benefit of improving communications between them.

"Summer is the time when children are free from school work and have time to play," she said. "This is the time they explore and expand their minds because learning never stops.

"Parents can have a tremendous influence on what their children learn and how much they learn. With busy schedules and most parents working full time, trying to provide learning experiences for children might seem like another time-consuming task.

"However, parents can provide many valuable learning experiences with simple and easy ideas that don't take a lot of time to prepare or do. It isn't the quantity of time put into a child's learning that is most important, it's the quality of what parents do with their children that really makes a difference."

She said that "reading is always the first type of activity that iz effective in maintaining and expanding vocabulary, comprehension, critical thinking and writing sometime in September or Octoskills."

Reading is important

"A story or an informational book can be read to or with children, discussed together, acted out or put to poetry and music.

"Drawing pictures of story characters, problem and resolution or the main ideas of an informational book are excellent activities for developing artistic and critical thinking abilities. Picture books are great for developing oral language and teaching children how to notice details, explaining what's happening and making predictions about the next event. These activities provide fun for the whole family and children learn while they're having fun.

"Poetry is a time-honored form of writing that develops auditory skills for recognizing words that rhyme, helps develop skill in memorizing, and are lots of fun to recite or create.

"Games that require the use of vocabulary and thinking skills motivate children to read and follow directions, learn to cooperate with others and expand language.

McAllister pointed out that most big stores have book and game areas where the selection of children's activities is quite good.

Parents should explore some of the teachers' stores for activities in reading, math, science and social studies.

"Parents who have a child entering the fourth or seventh grade in the fall need to remember that the Michigan Educational Assessment Program will be given ber. Getting informational books. for the child to read at the library or bookstore will help develop reading and thinking skills for the informational text on the test. This type of text has traditionally been harder for children to read and comprehend.

While on car trips, learning skills can be enhanced with board games which can be played in motel rooms or at homes of other families, she said.

Skills enhanced

In the car, small children can learn a bit of geography and also enhance their reading by picking out vehicles' license plates from other states.

That will also help first-graders who will learn to categorize - a skill important for map reading, McAllister said.

At the same time, youngsters on a family car trip should also read maps of their trip and read all roadside signs, the consultant said.

In boosting their math skills, McAllister suggested that parents and children make up the start and finish of their trip, which helps the youngsters read the map's key and scale to determine mileages.

"They should also keep a record of the car's odometer of the start and finish to predict how long it would take to finish the trip," she said.

Students during the summer should also be encouraged to keep a family journal, letting relatives tell of their day's activities.

If parents also keep a journal, they can read the entries with their children, which helps children make the connection between the written and spoken word, she said.

Books suggested

In summing up, McAllister recommended the following books for quality learning experiences, with most available at libraries or stores:

Grades one through four (informational) "The Popcorn Book," "Flight," "From Seed to Plant," and "Weather Words and What They Mean."

For beginning readers: "Days With Frog and Toad," "Nate the Great," "Something Queer at the Library," "The Five Silly Fishermen," "We're Going on a Bear Hunt," "The Very Best of Friends," "The Twelve Dancing Princesses" and "Tiger Trek"

For grades three through six: "Before the Wright Brothers," "Buffalo Hunt," "Explorers and Mapmakers," "Going Green, A
Kid's Handbook to Saving the Planet," "How to Think Like a Scientist," and "The Furry News, How to Make A Newspaper."

Novels: "Amy's Eyes," "And Now Migual," "Bridge to Tera-bithia," "Cracker Jackson," "Fourth Grade Rate," "Island of the Blue Dolphin," and "Johnny Tremaine."

Poetry for grades one through six: "A Circle of Seasons," "Country Crossing," "Dancing Teepees," "Hail to Mail," "Lord of the Dance, An African Retelling," "Tyrannosaurus Was a Beast" and "Where the Sidewalk Ends.

Duke picnics benefit road group

Duke Realty Investments, the management company for office buildings in Livonia and Southfield, is using company picnics to raise money for the Bight Mile Boulevard Association.

The Eight Mile Boulevard Association is formed by the 13 communitles and three counties along Eight Mile from I-275 on the west to I-94 on the east, plus the Michigan Department of Transportation. The organization was created to make Eight Mile Road function and look butter for the people who live, work and drive along it.

Duke has said it will donate $1 to the Eight Mile Boulevard Association for every employee at the Southfield TechneCenter who shows up at the "tenant employee picnic" Wednesday, July 26, at Eight Mile and Lahser roads.

Duke is challenging its 50 TechneCenter tenants to contribute 25 cents to $1 for each employee attending. The total donation could be as high as $1,000.

Duke Realty will also donate $1 per employee at a similar pienic Tuesday, July 25, at its Seven Mile Crossing office park at Haggerty and Seven Mile in Livonia. About 960 individuals are employed at Seven Mile Crossing, which is owned by Schoolcraft College.

For more information, call the Eight Mile Boulevard Association at (810) 559-8633

Consumers' customers pay less

Consumers Power Co.'s typical residential electric customer pays a monthly bill less than what is charged by approximately 70 percent of the nation's electric utilities, according to a recent survey by state government regulators.

The survey determined that 132 out of 190 electric utilities charged higher rates than did Consumers Power for a typical residential customer using 500 kilowatt-hours per month,

The survey indicated that the rate Consumers Power charged a residential customer per kilowatt-hour, 7.6 cents, is 1.7 cents below the national average of 9.3 cents per kilowatt-hour.

The survey was conducted by the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners, a nonprofit organization comprised of regulatory bodies of the 50

Consumers Power is currently requesting that the Michigan Public Service Commission eliminate the subsidization of residential customer rates by its business customers.

Even with complete elimination of rate subsidization, Consumers Power's typical residen; tial customer would still pay less than what 61 percent of the nation's utilities charge, based upon the most recent NARUC survey data.

Consumers Power Company, the principal subsidiary of CMS Energy Corp., is Michigan's largest natural gas and electric utility serving more than six million of the state's nine and one-half million residents in all 68 Lower. Peninsula counties.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Don't let the dog days get you down

hese are the dog days of summer. Days when it's so hot outside, you could fry .... well, you get the picture. Not being a big fan of central air, the Janes Casa looks like one of those sultry homes in New Orleans with ceiling fans swirling the warm night air through open windows and billowing curtains. Now I know where the saying "Slaving over a hot stove" came from. When it gets this hot, I don't want to cook, and my main philosophy is simply just trying to stay cool. A nice cool, air-conditioned restaurant would be just the ticket but unfortunately, the Visa bill just came in from last month's vacation and I'm already pushing the limit. The fridge is doing everything it can just trying to keep the milk cold and I'm hungry. The grill you say? It's far too hot to eat something hot. It's about all I can do to muster the strength to make it to the pantry.

Kitchen cupboard

Ah, the pantry. We called it a cupboard growing up in Wyandotte. I guess when the top shelf is stocked with the likes of fruit vinegars, exotic mustards, anchovies and Snack Well's, yuppiedom calls it a pantry. Our cupboard in Wyandotte was stocked with Stokley's canned green beans, canned corn, Campbell's Chicken Noodle soup, a box of Creamette macaroni and a jar of peanut butter. Every now and then a large can of Dinty Moore Beef Stew would find its way in, but we knew that was going to be a dinner when momma had an early bingo game to hit. We grew up on meat and potatoes and the only vegetable we ever ate was canned corn. The green beans. were always mixed with cream of something or other soup and topped with canned onion rings and served only during the holidays. Those were some of the best meals I can remember.

Now, back to my dinner. Something filling, something healthy, something I can make a lot of and eat within the next two days. Something I don't have to cook. Something out of a can. My eye slipped away for a moment and landed on that bag of yellow onions, just beginning to poke through the mesh with time green sprouts. "Well, whatever I choose better have a good chop of onion" I said to myself. Let's see, canned pate,

Rhapsody in blue

MBG MARKETING

BY JOAN BORAM SPECIAL WRITER

It's almost impossible not to love a blueberry. They're attractive - one of the very few blue foods that nature provides - and they come with their own protective covering. The silvery sheen on the blueberry's dark blue skin is actually a natural waxy coating. Native Amer icans called these summer sweets "star berries" because of the starshaped calyx on top of each berry. Blueberries are tasty, and they allow you to indulge with a clear conscience. They're londed with vitamin C, they provide some vitamin A, iron, potassium and magnesium. They're a good source of fiber and carbohydrates, they're low in sodium and have no cholesterol. They're low in calories (42 calories per half cup), and very reasonably

And, above all, blueberries are versatile. They can be eaten directly out of their plastic "jewel-box" carton (they don't even drip!), they can be aprinkled on cereal, ice cream or yogurt, used in salads, muffins, pancakes, pies, cakes, and sauces. Our colonial ancestors found wild blueberries waiting for them, and made them the basis for dishes with names like "grunt," "buckle," "slump," and "flummery."

And, if all that isn't enough, we Michiganians are fortunate to live in the number-one blueberry-producing state. Michigan produces 60 million pounds of blueberries annually. There are many "u-pick" opportunities, if you want to freeze or otherwise preserve the sweet little nuggets, or if you just want a pleasant outing and a couple of blueberry pies.

If handled properly, blueberries will keep fresh longer than any other summer berry. Sort the berries, discarding any that show signs of mold or soft spots, and store them chilled, covered and dry, for up to two weeks. Do not rinse before storing!

"There should be a good crop in 1995," said Margaret Agius, who, with her husband Joseph, owns and operates Sandy Acres Blueberry Farm, in Belleville. "But they're going to be a little later than usual, because we had a late spring. Usually, our U-Pick operation starts around July 4, but this year it's going to be mid-July."

It's always advisable to call before coming out, cautions Agius. For one thing, there are several varieties of blueberries, and there may be a time lapse between their availabili-

Friday, Saturday and Sunday are busy days, and Sandy Acres is closed on Monday, to give the plants, and the Agiuses, a rest. "Tuesday is a good day," Agius said. "We get a lot of retirees on Tuesday."

The average pick is six or seven pounds, but there are those who pick as much as 30 or 40 pounds. These are people who can or freeze the blueberries, and some people make wine," Agius said. "But the average person just wants to make some ples, muffins or jam, and maybe freeze some blueberries for their cereal in January."

Blueberries are so easy to freeze it's a wonder we don't all have a big bagful in our freezer compartment. "You can freeze blueberries with or without sugar," said Chris Venema, Wayne County MSU Cooperative Extension Home Economist, "If using sugar, make a simple syrup of 50 percent water and 50 percent granulated sugar. Heat until the sugar is dissolved and pour the solution over the berries in a freezer container, then freeze.

"To freeze blueberries without sugar, lay washed berries in a single layer on a cookie sheet and quick-freeze in the freezer compartment of your refrigerator, or freezer. When frozen, pack the blueberries in a moisture proof bag." We've all seen dried blueberries in gourmet stores; can't we just dehydrate them like Native Americans

"Not in Michigan," Venema said. To dehydrate successfully, you need a temperature of at least 85 degrees and zero to 10 percent humidity, and 10 percent is really pushing it."

Summer storms have left resi- with a bunch of spoiled meat.

Home economist Sylvia Treitduring the past week and has man of the Michigan State University Extension Service offers some advice as summer storms are likely to recur.

"The best thing to do right away is try to get some indication from the power company on how long the outage is expected to last," Treitman said. "Don't just sit back and watch your food go bad."

If it appears the power is off for the long haul, Treitman sug-Luckily, a friend had some gests calling friends to see if you can move some items into their freezer. If this isn't an option, go out and buy ice to pack into your freezer and into ice chests for refrigerated items. Dry ice works well, but be sure to follow handling directions as it can be dangerous. # At Standard Federal, getting the lowest mortgage rate is a lock.

No matter what mortgage rates do next, you can get the lowest Standard Federal interest rate possible with our unique Rate Lock or Lower feature:

If you're thinking about buying a home, or refinancing your current mortgage, you've probably been keeping an eye on the recent drop in mongage interest rates

You can make interest rate changes work to your advantage with Rate Lock or Lower at Standard Federal When you apply for a mortgage or for refinancing, Rate Lock or Lower not only locks in your interest rate at the time of application to protect your rates from going up-It also guarantees you that if our interest rates have gone down by the time you close, you get the lower rate while your Lock or Lower commitment is in effect. (Rate Lock or Lower not available on certain No Point/No Fee Mortgages )

That's right—you get the rate at the time of application or at the time of closing - whichever is lower.

By getting the lowest rate possible, you could save cash every month over the course of your mortgage. That's why now is the time to talk to Standard Tederal about our unique Rate Lock of Lower opportunity. Give us a call at 1-800/643-9600 or stop by your neighborhood Standard Tederal Banking Center today.

- 12 cup sugar 11/2 cups flour
- W teaspoon salt 2 teaspoons baking powder ¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg 2 teaspoons grated orange
- peel * cup milk
- Heavy cream or frozen yogurt

Pour blueberries into a heavy. nonreactive skillet. Stir in the sugar, and stirring frequently, cook over low heat until the berries begin to bubble.

Meanwhile, prepare the dumpling batter by mixing the flour, salt, baking powder, nutmeg and orange peel in a bowl. Stir in milk. Drop batter by spoonfuls on top of the simmering blueberries to form eight dumplings. Cover the skillet and cook for about 15 minutes, or until dumplings have doubled in size.

Serve the dumplings with the blueberries and top them with cream or frozen yogurt.

remain good one full day after powergoes out if the freezer is half full. If the freezer is full, food should remain frozen two days.

"Big pieces of meat like turkeys and roasts will keep longer, Treitman said. Fish may spoil more quickly.

Generally, you have just half that time in a regular refrigerator freezer, Treitman said.

When power is restored, each food item should be assessed individually. Frozen dinners and other convenience frozen foods should be tossed if they have defrosted at all. Juices can be refrozen, as can margarine and fruits.

Uncooked meats can be refrozen if they are partially frozen in the middle and if they still have ice crystals. Many meats that are still "refrigerator" cold can be cooked and then frozen again, Treitman said.

Fresh produce should be judged on its appearance and smell. Any food that has an odd smell or color should be thrown away without question, Treitman said.

The extension services offers a hot line for anyone with questions about what to keep and what to throw out. "We'll go through items one at a time with the caller," Treitman said. That number is (810) 858-0904.

Native Americans found stars

North America gathered a variety of wild, sapphire-colored berries on a food staple. The Indians called these fruits "star ber-

Europeans arrived in the New World, the native people of

ries" because of the star-shaped calvx on the top of each berry. Today, we know them as blueberries.

The Indians ate them fresh, stewed, and dried and mixed with meat and other foods. Dried blueberries were also used for medicines, dyes and food preservatives. When European colonists arrived, they took to the new fruit immediately. They created pies, cobblers, preserves, syrup and wonderful other desserts.

Wild blueberries are small and tart but hold their shape during cooking. Almost all of the entire wild crop is taken for commercial blueberry muffins and pancake mixes. Although most of us do not have access to wild blueberries, the sweeter, larger cultivated blueberry is available from July to October. The annual North American blueberry harvest starts in mid-spring in Florida and enda season for fresh blueberries is mid-June through September. Ninety-five percent of the world's commercial blueberry crop comes from North America. Fresh blueberries should be plump, firm, uniform in size and a blue color with a silvery coating, relatively free from leaves and stems. Generally blueberries are sold in cardboard containers with cellophane covers. Make sure these containers are not stained or have any evidence of mold. When you get them home, pick them over and remove any berries that are squashed or any that may have some mold. They will keep in this container in the refrigerator up to a week. Fresh blueberries are perishable and need to be

Don't wash blueberries until you're ready to use them. If you must store washed berries, spread them on a towel to dry first. The best method is to wash just before using. To freeze blueberries, make sure they are clean, not washed before freezing Spread blueberries in a single layer on a cookie sheet. Place the cookie sheet in the freezer. When the berries are frozen transfer them to a freezer bag or container and store until you are ready to use. Frozen berries will keep at least a year.

Blueberries contain a fair

Long before early October in Michigan. Prime amount of iron plus potassium, and vitamine A and C. They are high in fiber and a excellent natural laxative for many people. One cup of blueberries contains about 90 calories. Blueberries sometimes change color when cooked. They can turn red when they come in contact with acids such as lemon juice, vinegar, and yogurt. If the batter contains a large amount of baking soda, blueberries can turn greenish-blue. These color changes do not affect the flavor of the berries. Using hard frozen berries in batters will reduce color streak-

When making pancakes and wattles, add the fresh blueberries as soon as the batter is poured on the griddle. If you are using frozen blueberries, make sure they are heated through before serving.

When making a blueberry ple that you don't want to cook over in the oven, and want to keep the berries nice and plump, cook half the filling first. Bake the pastry. cook half the ple filling on the top of the stove, when thickened, add the uncooked berries to the filling and pour into the baked pie crustand chill.

Fresh uncooked blueberries are good raw, just wash and eat, they do not need augar unless they are very tart.

THANKS FOR DOING YOUR PART SO WELL.

Detroit Edison employees want to thank our customers in Southeastern Michigan for both your cooperation and your kindness toward our crews as they worked to restore power in your neighborhoods.

We've heard countless stories of offers of cold drinks to cool us down and hot coffee to keep us going. And, perhaps best of all, the words of encouragement that served so well to boost us.

It was a combination of severe weather conditions over four days that caused all the problems: record-breaking heat, oppressive humidity, three severe thunderstorms with winds between 60 and 80 mph., hail, and approximately 11,000 lightning strikes.

And, as usual, such a forceful display by mother nature took its toll. Trees were uprooted or simply blown over. Electrical lines were ripped from poles and buildings. And 95 percent of Southeastern Michigan experienced severe weather.

For so many, it was an uncertain, difficult time. Nearly 7,400 Detroit Edison line crews, out-of-state utility contractors and office employees worked nonstop to guard downed wires, answer customer calls, clear fallen trees and restore power.

Fortunately, thanks to your patience and understanding in such uncomfortable, inconvenient conditions, we made it through this crisis safely and soundly.

Your thoughtfulness is greatly appreciated by all of us, and we wanted to make sure you knew it.

Detroit Edison remains committed to bringing

Bobby Jones open set for Aug. 3-5

In honor of golf's greatest amateur champion, Robert Tyre Jones Jr., and to benefit syringomyelia research, more than 80 golfers named Bobby Jones will participate in the 17th annual Bobby Jones Open Aug. 3-5 at the Radisson on the Lake and Huron Golf Club, Eastern Michigan University in Ypsilanti.

Syringomyelia is a rare and crippling spinal, nerve disease that ultimately claimed Bobby Jones' life. Robert Tyre Jones Jr. died in 1971 at the age of 69, following a 24-year battle with the discase.

More than $75,000 has been raised and contributed to charities supported by the event: William Beaumont Hospital, American Syringomyelia Alliance Project, and the Robert T. Jones Jr. Memorial Scholarship Fund.

to help fight syringomyelia.

"Anyone with the name Bob Jones had to have been asked about their golf game countless times. That's why I originally felt there was interest in the golf tournament." said tournament organizer Robert A. "Computer" Jones.

Because of the confusion created at the annual tournament with everyone being named Bobby Jones, each golfer uses a nickname, usually related to his or her fyou ask a Blue Fish devotee to describe her fascination with the artful line of clothing de-signs, she will express her feelings for her favorite piece in terms like magical, childlike, comfortable, fun, free and whimsical. What more could you ask of an organic cotton jumper or a long vest layered over a vagabond pant?

One fish, two fish fans dig Blue Fish

Blue Fish creator Jennifer Barclay, 28, a design school dropout, was tie-dying and handpainting T-shirts in her parents' garage just 10 years ago when she conceived the idea for her clothing line. Her parents told her to follow her heart. She did, and she shares that advice through the marketing of her unique clothes. Barclay is especially proud of the avnergy and communication that her designs promote. People always recognize a Blue Fish piece and it's a conversation starter. If you wear Blue Fish, be prepared for people to stop you on the street and comment on your outfit. Bryna Frank of Bloomfield Hills knows the feeling. "I love being stopped." says the Blue Fish cultist.

"I feel arty and unusual, yet I always look dressed. I could have a Blue Fish trunk show at my house, I have so many pieces."

Schooled in pairs

Frank was one of many fans who stopped by the Hannah Rose boutique in Bloomfield Plaza to ogle the fall and winter collections. Those who came in wearing designs from past seasons quickly realized that the new colors and shapes easily coordinated with their old pieces, an added bonus of the line.

Representative Julie George pointed out that anyone can wear Blue Fish - old, young, blg, little. "It's all about attitude and doing your own thing," she said. "It's for those who like to be different and comfortable." Fall's gypsy colors and laid back styles are inspired by the Bloomsbury literary group, Remember Vanessa Bell and Virginia Woolf? This season's hand-painted symbols include flowers and herbs, birds, artists' tools, autumn leaves and village houses. Another hallmark of Blue Fish is the vintage and handmade buttons that adorn jackets, vests and dresses. Further individualize with colorful fabric strips called Ripples, that gather up fabric to create unlimited looks. Hike up a skirt or cinch in a waistline. Sales of the Blue Fish label have increased from $4 million in 1992 to $8 million last year. Essentially, the company sells the clothes as fast as it can make them.

Fish tales

This fall, look for thermal knits, cotton jersles, lycra, even chenille robes. "Wonderful, easy, fun, aummed up Caren Rapp, a teacher from Bloomfield Township. "Perfect for the classroom." "Timeless status symbols," added Holly

Pharmer of Milford. "In 10 years, I'll be able to tell people, 'this is my Blue Pish from '95." If you believe in the magic of clothing, as does Jennifor Barclay, you bolieve in her vision of Blue Fish - always evolving, constantly changing, open to inspiration. It's about the artistry of life. In addition to Hannah Rose, find Blue Fish at Nelman Marcus in the Somerset Collection, Troy, and Basic Goods in Birmingham. The new Blue Fish children's line will be available at Kiddlywinks in Birmingham.

New boutique owner shares retail plans

While many are getting out of the flercely competitive retail fashion world, here's a profile of a guy who's just jumped in. His plan? Stock what the customer wants with lots of service.

BY SUSAN DEMAGGIO

There's no escaping destiny. Retailer Jeffrey Axt is proof.

Though bent on a career in General Motora corporate world, the experiences of one summer led him to leave it all behind and go to work for himself as owner of a women's high fashion boutique. Like his father and grandfather before him, he operates a clothing store in downtown Detroit. Retailing is apparently in his blood.

"I never thought I'd be doing this," said Axt, 35, of Troy as he welcomed customers at his BIZ'R Collection on the second floor of the New Center Building on West Grand Boulevard in Detroit, "I had a great job at GM as a company labor representative, I got to travel and see different parts of the country. But when I heard this store was for sale, I hired a lawyer and went after it. My aunt, Lillian Karamanian, owned it and she wanted to retire.

"I had just returned from GM's two-week vacation which I spent boating around Charlevoix. The guys with all the big boats owned businesses. I met the man who owns Kilwin's Chocolates for example. It was obvious to me that if I wanted a similar lifestyle, I'd better be in business for myself. Own something."

So Axt put all his energies into his new "baby." He changed the name from Biz'R to BIZ'R Collection, remodeled the shop for the '90s, and filled it with upscale, unique fashions for women in a wide range of sizes, 6-24. That's been the key to his success.

"The business tripled. I was approached by the landlords about taking over the shoe store down the ai-

Was it hard for you to read the previous sentence (do you have trouble reading these simple words)? Unfortunately, many children find it just as hard reading normal text.

Children with learning problems struggle with everyday tasks such as reading, concentrating, and remembering because their basic learning skills are not automatic.

We all learn to read on a conscious level. We start by having to think about the sound a letter makes. Next we learn to blend sounds to form words. And then we learn the meaning of these words: Each skill requires a conscious effort, and reading cannot become automatic (subconscious) until these skills are established. And if reading is not automatic, children have to work especially hard to get information in, so their comprehension and understanding suffer.

According to Dr. John Jacobi, a locally known expert on vision and learning. having 20-20 cycsight means that a child can see clearly, but does not mean that the child can process or use what he or she sees. There could be a visual processing problem that affect the child's daility to learn.

Symptoms of a visual processing problem include

- · letter reversals
- · avoidance of reading Prior cycland condination

- lack of concentration
- · inability to sit still
- * slow work careless errors froubles copying

Children who struggle with learning have even more at stake than just slow and choppy reading. Also at risk may be their self-esteem behavior, success in school, and even future employment

The Vision Improvement Program (VIP) can help the child place basic learning and visual processing skills into the subconscious level where they belong. Then the child will not put his or her energy into processing the material, but into understanding it.

VIP was developed by a team of visual, psychological, and educational professionals. The program attacks the causes of learning problems.

The 10-week program produces dramatic results, with an average improvement of 3.1 years in the child's ability to comprehend, stay on task, work faster, and handle more complex tasks. Outstanding results are the norm because it is an intense, one-on-one program with a highly trained therapist who specializes the program to meet each child's specific learning needs.

To identify a child who could benefit from this program, a comprehensive screening consisting of 18 different tests is provided without charge to children ages 6 to 15. If the results reveal a problem processing visual information, the program can begin immediately to help head toward a more successful. future and a better self-esteem.

To help a child who has a problem tearning, call Suburban Optometric at 525-8170 to schedule his or her free screening.

sing an 8-iron, Scott Letcher of Livonia, 57, scored his first ace in 50 years on the 146yard, No. 8 hole Wednesday at Kensington Golf Course. He shot an 87 for 18 holes. On July 15, Livonian Charles Fatute aced the 125-yard, No. 4 hole at Idyl Wyld Golf Course. He used an 8-iron. It was his first hole-in-one in 45 years. Patute shot a 43 for nine holes.

Blazers win ilitch

oached by Livonia Stevenson's Walt Barrett, the Birmingham Blazers captured the boys under-15 first division in the Little: Caesars Premier Soccer League.

The 1994 Michigan State Youth Soccer Association Cup champions also finished second in the under-16 state tourney.

Ryan Mack was the team's league scorer, while leff Beeler was the team's MVP in the State Cup. Other members include Paul Yeskey, Paul Kanczuzewski, John Irimescu, Mike Healy, Nick Lardo, Jason Hoffmeyer, Erik Nelson, Chris Kogut. Joe Tyler, Scott LeMay, Brian Murphy, Zach Kadro, Scott Johnson and Miles Olson.

Eight Blazers are also members of the state Olympic Development pool including '79 players Mack, Hoffman, Healy and Johnson; along with '80 players Beeler, Kogut, Murphy and Nelson.

All-Star football game

ivonia Stevenson's Jim Townsend and Redford Catholic Central's Brad Rainko will play for the East squad this Saturday in the 15th annual Michigan High School Pootball Coaches Association All-Star game, beginning at 1:35 p.m. at Spartan Stadium in East Lansing.

Tickets, available at the gate, are $6 a person. Townsend, a 6-foot-4, 255-pound tackle, helped Stevenson to an 8-3 record and a post-season Class AA playoff berth, and is headed this fall for Aima College.

Rainko, a 6-3, 215-pound tight end, is bound for Michigan State.

Other players from Observerland include Torrey Thomas, a 6-1, 205-pound linebacker from Redford Bishop Borgess; and Kevin Bryant, a 6-foot, 170-pound wide receiver from Farmington Hills

Marauders

Livonia

It could have all ended for the Marauders Friday night. They could have wrapped up the Great Lakes Men's Soccer League title with a victory on their home field over Flint Bud Light. Instead, they chose a more difficult route.

It seemed beyond comprehension, to one and all of the Marauders.

A record that had been unblemished in Great Lakes Men's Soccer League play was gone. Adding to the frustration, what made the situation even more befuddling. There was hardly any struggle involved.

The Marauders simply did not put up much of a fight. They allowed Plint Bud Light to take, first - the lead; second - control; and third - the game.

The final score was 3-0, in a match played Priday evening at Livonia's Jaycee Park. All three goals came in the second half, the first two on rebounds and the last after a quick centering pass.

Doug Comsigny netted the first 12 minutes into the second half, after a direct kick from the corner at the Marauders' end of the field. Marauder keeper Kal Kaliszewski punched the direct kick out, but Comaigny was there to drill home the rebound.

Josh Landefeld popped in the second Bud Light goal nine minutes later, again on a rebound after Kallazewski made the initial stop. With less than 15 minutes remaining in the match, Demon Rensing finished the scoring, converting a quick pass from the corner.

The team that had carried a 7-0 mark onto the field hardly looked the part leaving it. The win pushed Bud Light's record to 6-1-2.

"It was ugly," admitted Dan O'Shea, a Livonia Franklin and Oakland University graduate who coaches the Marauders. Much of the blame fell on O'Shea's switching to a new sone defensive system prior to the metch.

Still, the game was scoreless at the half and, with 25 minutes left in the second half, the Marauders had a chance to tie it at 1-apiece when Rob Ludwig was hauled down in the penalty area by a Bud Light defender. But Paul Kaliasewski's penalty kick sailed high and wide to the right, missing everything.

It wasn't a change in defensive strategy that caused that miss. Still, as O'Shea explained: "Not everything can be blamed on the switch, but it does take everyone's mind off what they're supposed to be doing on offense. They start thinking too much, instead of playing.

"I think you can attribute more of (the loss) to the switch than it seems." And whatever problems the change did create earlier in the match were doubled when, less than two minutes after Paul Kaliszewski's missed penalty kick. Bud Light's Landefeld scored to make it

The loss certainly made things much more difficult for the Maraud. era. They came in thinking they had the regular-season title just about wrapped up. Now, depending on the outcome of their return match with Bud Light yesterday in Flint, they may have to play (and win) Wednesday before opening the playoffs at Jaycee Park at 7 p.m. Friday against. an opponent to be determined.

Late rally keeps Hines alive in LCBL

BY BRAD EMONS STAFF WRITER

There was only one thing certain after Priday's Livonia Collewould not be leaving anytime ed RBI singles.

First place in the LCBL race was still unresolved after Hines Park Lincoln-Mercury scored sevan runs in the top of the seventh inning to stun Decision Consultante Inc., 8-3.

Decision, with only one regular sesson game remaining (Sunday vs. Michigan Honig's) is 20.7, while Hines Park, with makeups on Saturday and Tuesday, along with a twin bill Sunday, is still alive for first at 17-7.

"That's why this game was importent," Decision manager Mike George said. "If we both tie, they (Hines Park) win the series 4-3."

Decision burier Dan Pydyn. who won the first game Priday in relief against Hines Park, took a 3-1 lead into the seventh, but then the roof coved in

Caesars slips into playoffs

Lefty Dave Susalla pitched Little Caesars into the Livonia Collegiate Baseball League playoffa by handcuffing Dearborn Adray on a three-hitter Friday at Ford Field, 1.0.

Susalla, who prepped at Redford Catholic Central and played last year as a freshman at the University of Detroit Mercy, struck out seven and got out of a bases loaded jam in the fifth inning when Adray collected all three hits.

He outdueled Adray's Ted Riethal, who scattered six hits over six innings in suffering the Caesars scored its lone run in the sixth when Scott Kapla (Redford CC/Eastern Michigan) brought J.R. Taylor home with a triple.

The win gives Caesars an 8-18 league record and also clinched the fourth and final playoff spot.

On Thursday, Caesars got another strong pitching performance from Craig Sower, who held Michigan Honig's without a hit through four innings en route to a 10-2 triumph at Ford Field. Andy Hood broke up the no hit bld in the fifth.

Sower gave up a pair of runs in the seventh and finished with a three-hitter.

Mike Fenech, who plays at Siena Heights University, led Caesars' offensive attack with three hits and five RBI. Mike Marsella, formerly of Plymouth Salem, went 2-for-2, while Madonna University's Kevin Foley added a two-run single.

Honig's starter Brian Reynolds took the loss.

Michigan, which has locked up third place, fell to 14-11.

DECISION CONSULTANTS 10, HOME'S 1: Pitcher Mike Borkowski (EMU) fanned 10 and scattered six hits and five walks Wednesday, leading Decision Consultants to a lopeided win over Michigan Honig's at Ford Field

Entry is free; all those who make the spare will be eligible for a drawing at 4 p.m. Sunday for a trip for two to Las Vegas.

"This Expo will be the largest one yet," said Rick Strobl, event spokesperson. "There will be more exhibitors, more bargains and more celebrities.'

Those who have attended the Expo in the past are well aware of the bargains. There will be specials on accessories, sportswear, shoes and other items, such as all types of wrist support - these items are getting to be an important part of a bowler's arsenal.

Are you confused about the different kinds of equipment? Reactive resin balls vs. regular urethane or ceramic core weight blocks and the latest in high-tech design? Are these for you?

The Expo is where you can talk to the experts, the people who can offer the right kind of advice. For bowling newcomers, the Expo also offers an opportunity to find the kinds of leagues that would most interest you. Representatives from several bowling centers will be on hand to offer information.

Bowling Expo '95, a cooperative effort between the Bowling Centers Association, the Greater Detroit Bowling Association and the Detroit Women's Bowling Association, has proven successful every year. The Gibraltar Trade Center-North features more than seven football fields of space under its roof and 60 acres of parking.

Admission to the Trade Center is a per-vehicle charge. In addition to the Bowling Expo, there will be many other small businesses selling all sorts of items, from arts and crafts to sporting.

It's easy to get to: Take 1-94 north to the North River Road exit (No. 237) and go west onequarter mile. Anyone interested in displaying at the Expo can call show director Jan Sullivan at (810) 465-6440.

Lasers lose 3 of 4

The Livonia Lasers lost a double-header Thursday to the Farmington Hornets, 15-7 and 11-9, in an Incredible Girls Fast-pitch Softball League game at Franklin High School.

Jami Grigal tripled twice, while Lori Jendrusik, Margaret Schultz and Kim Rowland added two hits apiece in a losing cause in the opener.

Jendrusik was the losing pitcher. She gave up seven hits and nine walks.

In the second game, the Lasers fell to 1-11 despite Melissa Wolvin's 3-for-3 effort at the plate. Randi Wolfe, the losing pitcher, gave up five hits and nine walks in three innings. Earlier in the week, the Lasers and Plymouth Lightning battled to a draw in a dou-

M SPITFIRES MISS OUT

On Wednesday, the Livonia Spitfires were eliminated from a spot in the Tri-County Baseball Association (ages 15.16) playoffs by host Hartland, 5.4.

The Spitfires, coached by Glenn Felker, finished the year 8

 Keyed by consecutive hits by: Brian Waldo, Ron Maleyko and Dave Wampler, the Spitfires broke a 1-1 tie in the fifth by scoring three runs. (The Spitfires tallied their other run in the third on a triple by Ryan Davis and a sacrifice fly by Waldo.)

Hartland rallied for three in the sixth and won it in the seventh on a bloop single to end the game despite stellar defensive plays up the middle by Maleyko and John Haas.

The bloop hit pinned the loss on reliever Maleyko, who came on in the sixth after starter Mark Felker gave up just two hits in 51/3 innings.

On July 18, the Spitfires were doused by Holly in a game at Franklin High School, 5-1. Two critical errors led to three unearned Holly runs. . The Spitfires were led offensively by Davis, who went 2-for-2. Matt Downs, the starting pitcher, threw 513 innings for Livonia, striking out seven. Wampler struck out two of the five batters he faced.

'Indian in Cupboard' is thoughtful family fare

BY DAVID GOODMAN AP NEWSFRATURES

In the hot summer months still to come, vacation-weary parents have a choice. You can take the kids to a film like "Mighty Morphin Power Rangers" where they might learn to do a really nasty karate kick while watching something virtually indistinguishable from most television cartoon fare.

But then there is "The Indian in the Cupboard," where kids will learn about values, responsibility and compassion while getting 96 minutes of high entertainment in the bargain.

The grownups will like it, too. It's one of those rare children's movies that will captivate adults because the themes are powerful and the performances top-notch.

The movie starts in the middle of a birthday party for a 9-yearold New York boy named Omri (Hal Scardino). His presents include an old wooden cupboard and a miniature plastic figure of an American Indian.

Later, his mother (Lindsay Crouse) rummages around for a key to fit the lock. It's the last thing her mother gave her before she died.

Before he goes to bed, Omrilocks the little Indian in the cupboard for safe keeping. Then the

Bullock caught in web of 'The Net'

Like all of us, Angela Bennett (played by Sandra Bullock) lives in the age of information. Every trace of her existence is computerized. Everything about her is encoded somewhere on a complex network of information. It's something Angela never though about ... until the day she was deleted.

With the explosion of technological advances in the last few years, "The Net" is a story virtually torn from today's headlines. It takes place in a world in which anything, from ordering a pizza to retrieving records from half-way across the planet, can be accomplished through the vast and complicated map of phone lines and computers known as the Internet; a world in which, with the right knowledge and the right program, a good hacker can log into remote computers and alter any information they choose; flight plans, medical and criminal records, top secret government information, even someone's identi-

Bullock stars in "The Net" opening July 28 in area theaters. It is directed by Academy Award winner Irwin Winkler, who also produces the film with Rob Cowan, Starring with Bullock is celebrated British stage actor Jeremy Northam, popular satirist Dennis Miller, Diane Baker and Ken Howard. The film is from a story by John Brancato and Michael Perris.

Glitch: Sandra Bullock plays computer whiz Angela Bennett who is drawn into a murderous web of corruption and conspiracy when she discovers a strange glitch in a computer program in the new movie "The Net."

Bennett is a well-paid freelancer derous web of corruption and confor Cathedral Systems. She spends her days ironing out bugs in games designed for adolescent boys or tracking down viruses hacked into unsuspecting systems, and her nights "chatting" with other shy cyber-jockeys on the 'net. She's quite happy with her sheltered, if somewhat lonely routine until the very life she'd made for herself pushes her headspiracy.

As a favor to one of her collearnes. Dale Hessman (played by Ray McKinnon). Angela conducts a preliminary analysis of a puzzling "beta" prototype of a new Internet program that peculiarly allows the user access to such highly sensitive databases as the Federal Reserve Board, the IRS, the Atomic Energy Commislong into the middle of a mur- sion, and others. Angela is curious about this seemingly random anomaly. Dale offers to fly down from San Francisco so they can work on it together. Except Dale doesn't make it - his small plane mysteriously crashes into an industrial park that looms up out of nowhere.

After discovering the enigmatic program, Angela's life begins to change. The computers have gone crazy at LAX as she attempts to board a flight for her much-needed and often-delayed vacation in Mexico. On the Mexican beach, she meets Jack Devlin (Jeremy Northam), a charming, wealthy young businessman who seems to share her outlook on the world. But a seemingly positive experience quickly turns negative when Angela is nearly killed for the computer diskette carrying the program. Her keys, passport and all the identification papers are lost. Someone has even checked her out of the hotel and stolen her belongings.

And that's only the beginning. Angela soon learns that using the Internet, someone altered every record of her life.

They have given her a suspicious new name, identity and a falsified police record. With little money, no identification and no. credibility, Angela must search within herself for the strength and resources to fight the seemingly unbeatable forces determined to

'Willy2' weak but should please kids

BY PATRICIA BIBBY AP NEWSPRATURES

"Free Willy 2: The Adventure Home" is a paint-by-numbers film that looks darn good from a distance — but just don't inspect it too closely. What you'll find is a alick, formulaic redux of the original "Free Willy" blockbuster, complete with the heart-stopping air to jump a barrier.

Even with that said, however, this is still a fun aummer ride that will have kids squealing in their seats.

After 1993's box-office bonanza of "Free Willy," it was inevitable that studio execs would look to a sequel to milk more from this "boy-meets-whale-and-finds-hisbest-friend story.

But in the first film, Willy, the giant lovable orca, is set free, So the first challenge was to find a way for Jesse (Jason James Richter), the lost boy looking for his biological mother, to meet up with Willy.

The film's director Dwight Little tackles this straight away. when the wise old whale watcher Randolph (August Schellenberg) recognizes Willy's eerie cry on a high-tech plece of equipment he keeps on his boat.

With that part of the canvas nainted the appropriate shade, Little looks to the next block to color the designated hue. This would be the "coming-of-age" section of the film that has Jesse meeting Nadine (Mary Kate Schellhardt), Randolph's cutieple goddaughter.

Then there's the New Republican "family values" section that intioduces Elvis (Francis Capra). Jesse's hitherto unknown halfbrother from New York. Elvis provides the filmmakers with the chance to show that given a "normal," two-parent environment REVIEW any child can be rehabilitated into a sweet, loving person.

Elvis arrives at the home of Jesse's foster parents, Glen and Annie Greenwood (Michael Madsen and Jayne Atkinson), with a Grand Canyon-size chip on his image of Willy flying through the shoulder. He's a little toughle who lies about anything and everything: His father is Al Pacino; his mother was born on an aircraft carrier at sea; he has bungee jumped in the Alps, etc.

The plot remains essentially the same, pitting man's greed against the whales' rights. This time the enemy isn't crafty marine park owners, it's the oil industry and the tankers it uses to transport crude.

But Little also layers in two other plots. One concerns the question of what defines family - is it biological or is it those with whom you live and love? The other is a first-love story between Jesse and Nadine.

It's as if the filmmakers don't trust one, simple story to hold the interest and attention of their young viewers and instead heap on the extra plots for good mea-

This hop-scotching from one plot to another, however, tends to distract and weaken the original story as each subplot sucks the energy out of the other.

But all is not lost. There are still some tremendously entertaining moments that center primarily on the scenes of whale romping. The shots of the majestic mammals breaching the waves still thrill. And watching Jesse and Nadine swim in with the animals in a gentle cove can't help but draw "ooooohhhha" and "asshhhhs."

OXIVE CONTROLLEY NO Maxima

gets high marks Tick, tick, tick ...

It only happens when you hit about 45 miles an hour. Tick, tick, tick, tick . . . Driver: "Did you hear that?" Passenger: "Nope." Could I be hearing things? There it is again!

"Tick, tick, tick, tick . . . " It's strange to hear anything like a tick, tick, tick in any of the new cars these days. Especially since Nissan promises the 1995 Maxima is the quietest it's ever been.

There it is again — tick, tick, tick, tick. ... What is that sound? Strange. Rythmic. Constant. Mighty annoying, too.

Tick, tick, tick, tick-tick, tick, tick ...

OHHHHH! That's what it is! It's the little red ribbon tied to my door handle making that noise. The ribbon ends are ticking on the side of the car.

You see, Nissan, together with Mothers Against Drunk Driving, sponsors a program around the holidays to give a new meaning to "tie one on." The red ribbons are attached to the test car as part of wheelbase has been extended inch more as well.

drive" effort with MADD.

OK, now that the mystery that was ticking us off is out of the way, let's get to the meat and potatoes of this 1995 Maxima. Quiet is what the new redesign provides minus the red ribbon, of

The new Maxima is still the same overall length and Nissan's "don't drink and 2 inches, due to a smaller engine and suspension. More damping in the engine compartment and in key areas of the car — like soft-mount upper and lower shock absorber mounts — make it whisper-quiet on the inside. You don't even hear the engine running with the windows rolled up tight.

And the ride and handling rival the first Infinitis. The rear struts have been replaced by a multi-link beam suspension package that provides wonderful ride comfort due to minimum camber change during cornering, and softer bushings, springs and shocks.

Because of the new suspension and its compact Maxima. placement, there's a larger rear seat (over an inch more in the interior and the doors leg room) and front and rear open wide for easy access. width as last year's, but the head room is about a half. The trunk area is larger than there. The car tested had a power driver's seat that I had a hard time getting comfortable in. It was difficult to operate because the switches are so far back on the seat you have to open the door to make them work. You have to fiddle around too much because it's not obvious what each of the two buttons do. unless you get out and look at them.

One more concern — this car cries out for a truckrelease latch. It's a shame to have such spacious cargo and have to open the trunk with a

The 3.0-liter dual overhead cam V-6 powerplant is 50-percent lighter than the previous- generation V-6. It's a quiet engine that provides 190 horsepower and has respectable acceleration for an automatic — 0-60 in 8.8 seconds. That's 2 seconds quicker than the Maxima's previous engine.

Its redesign included placing the alternator, airconditioning compressor and power steering pump in strategic areas to reduce the overall size of the engine. This engine is also 80 percent lower in surface roughness and friction.

It's smooth, it's quiet what more do you want?

The new Maxima gets better gas mileage than before, too, with the 5-speed you'll see 22 mpg in the city, 27 on the highway; with the most four-doors; bet you can 4-speed automatic you'll get the Internet at AVANTI1054 @ Exterior changes are evi- fit six bags of clubs back 21 in the city and 28 on the aol.com.

highway.

On the safety side, there are dual air bags up front, anti-lock brakes are standard, three-point belts for all; outboard passengers, childi safety door locks, energyabsorbing steering column, front and rear crumple zones and it meets 1997 federal side impact standards.

With the new Maxima. Nissan hopes to conquest mostly Honda Accord, Toyota Camry and current Altima owners who want to move up, as well as current Maxima owners.

"We've increased the wheelbase, increased roominess and taken it up a notch on the luxury side," said Earl. Hesterberg, vice president and general manager of Nissan Division. "It's a responsible luxury sedan that surpasses the high standards. of the current Maxima."

That's about right. Anne Fracassa is senior editor of Avanti NewsFeatures.
