Officials push to keep U.S. funds

Westland and other cities could be hurt by a federal proposal to dismantle a department that provides money for such programs as low-income housing and senior citizens centers, local officials fear. But federal officials have a different view.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

Local government officials fear that programs helping low-income families, senior citizens, battered women and the disabled could be threatened by a federal proposal to eliminate the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Some U.S. legislators, however, say the plan would dismantle an outdated, bureaucratic giant and allow money to be shifted directly to states and local communities, empowering them to do a better job.

On a bus tour last week through Westland, Livonia, Canton Township, Redford and Dearborn Heights, representatives of U.S. Sen. Spencer Abraham, R-Mich., and Gov. John Engler accepted an invitation to see programs and services that local officials fear could be threatened.

Abraham is a co-sponsor of the still-pending Federal Housing Reform and Local Empowerment Act, aimed at abolishing HUD.

As hosts, local officials pointed out low-income neighborhoods, senior citizens centers, once-ailing commercial areas and a battered women's shelter, among other places, that have been aided by the federal dollars.

Specifically, the tour focused on programs and services that depend on Community Development Block Grant monies. Local officials are hoping to sway federal opinion on programs that they say work.

"The federal dollars are very, very important," said Jay Gilbert, West-

Long-time company blocks off the future

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
SPECIAL WRITER

After nearly 50 years, one of the community's oldest businesses, National Block Co. and Ready-Mix Inc., is looking to the future.

Unlike many businesses, the Westland concrete and masonry products supplier is in the process of expansion.

Downsizing is not even in their vocabulary.

Company president Marty Eisenstein and vice president Jim Gendron said they are committed to continually reinvesting in the plant and equipment.

Next spring, a $2.7 million state-of-the-art block manufacturing facility will be unveiled on the Ford Road west of Hix, on the city's western edge.

"This is very rare. You don't see many new block manufacturing facilities put up but Jim and I are young guys with an eye on the future," said the 42-year-old Eisenstein who lives in Plymouth with his wife and two children.

"The old method uses kilns. The new recaptures and reuses steam in a curing room kept at 130 degrees, 100 percent humidity, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year," Eisenstein said.

"The new robotic transportation system, that moves the product once the machine is through stamping out the block, makes the fork lift obsolete."

The new Internal Revenue Service building in Detroit, the African-American Museum, several Target and Home Depot stores, and the soon-to-open Summit on the Park community and cultural center in Canton Township are some of the structures built with their concrete products.

The recent acquisition of Karber Custom Block in St. Johns will enable the Westland-based company to compete in the specialty stone market.

A Troy church is currently under construction using their white rock face block.

Man charged with photographing niece nude

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A former Westland man, accused of taking nude photographs of his 14-year-old niece, has been arraigned on two counts of engaging in child sexually abusive activity.

Michael Dobby, 31, is also accused of making a videotape in which the girl was partially undressed, Westland police Sgt. Terry Donohue said. The activity allegedly occurred at Dobby's former residence at Westland Woods Apartments on Wildwood north of Ford. The photos and videotape were made during a several month period that ended in April, Donohue said.

The materials were found during an April 27 drug raid at Dobby's apartment. He was arrested on marijuana charges and spent several months in jail.

On the heels of his recent release from jail, Dobby was arraigned Thursday in Westland 18th District Court on two counts of engaging in child sexually abusive activity.

A not-guilty plea was entered for him in court, and he was jailed in lieu of a $25,000 cash bond set by 18th District Judge C. Charles Bokos.

Dobby, an unemployed laborer, is scheduled for a preliminary examination on Thursday. The hearing will determine whether there is enough evidence for the defendant to be ordered to stand trial in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Dobby's niece knew at times that she was being photographed, but other times she didn't, Donohue said. But the issue of whether she knew is irrelevant under state law, which makes such acts a felony.

Dobby could face 20 years in prison if convicted as charged. He also could face fines of up to $20,000.

Halloween event coming

For those who had trouble getting through the Labor Day weekend, the city of Westland recreation department is already promoting its third annual Halloween family run/walk on Saturday, Oct. 28. Proceeds from the event will be donated to the recreation advisory council's college scholarship fund.

The event will start at 3 p.m. at Bailey Recreation Center, on the south side of Ford between Wayne Road and Newburgh. Pre-registration fee is $14 for adults and $6 for children (12 and under). After Oct. 21, the fee is $16 and $10, respectively. There will be a five-mile run, a one-mile run and walk, the department said. Runners and walkers are encouraged to wear costumes. There will be trophies, prizes and refreshments.

PLACES & FACES

Entry forms are available at Bailey Center. For information, call 722-7620.

Town Hall session

Mayor Robert Thomas will hold his monthly Town Hall meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 14, in the newly expanded Nankin Mill, on Ann Arbor Trail east of Farmington Road. The county recently completed a major addition to the mill. The Town Hall series was initiated by the mayor to allow residents to question him and department heads on city matters. The next session will be at 7 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 14, in the Westland Center auditorium.

Golf benefit planned

The Friends of the Helen C. Brown Westland Historical Museum will hold their annual golf benefit Saturday, Sept. 23, to raise money for museum improvements. The event will be at the nine-hole Westland Municipal Golf Course, on Merriman south of Cherry Hill. Tee-off time is 9 a.m. with trophies to be awarded to golfers getting closest to the pin, for the longest drive and for being on the winning team.

There will be prizes and gifts for participants. Persons are urged to call the golf course office at 721-6660 to reserve tee-off time. Tickets are $25 and available from City Council President Thomas Brown and council liaison Joseph Benyo at 695-1699 or 467-3183, respectively.

land's community development director.

Westland, alone, received $1,318,000 in the latest CDBG allocation, compared to $1,175,000 for Redford, $563,000 for Livonia, $492,000 for Canton Township.

"The goal isn't to cut out the programs," Laurie Bink, Abraham's aide, told local officials. "The goal is to cut the bureaucracy in getting the money to you."

Local officials, however, say they are concerned that the proposal isn't specific on how the revamped program would be run. Moreover, they have grown to trust the federal program, but they are wary of letting state and local governments handle it.

H. Shane, Livonia's assistant planning director, is among those who fear that communities could lose the flexibility that exists in using CDBG dollars. Stops on the Aug. 28 bus tour included:

■ The Redford Community Center, a converted elementary school that provides such services as lunch for eligible senior citizens, a camp for low-income children and after-school computer accessibility for students. Rochelle Katz, director of housing and community development, said CDBG funds assist the center.

■ Coventry Place, a Redford senior citizens housing complex for which CDBG dollars were used to buy the land. The property was sold to Volunteers of America, which spearheaded the 59-unit complex.

■ Westland's Friendship Center, lauded by Bink as "the best" senior citizens center she had ever seen. The center, which provides meals for homebound seniors, recreation, legal advice and other services, was praised for its use of volunteers, but it still depends on CDBG monies to pay for its paid staff.

■ The Carver subdivision, near Van Born and Middlebelt in Westland, where officials want to use CDBG dollars to rehabilitate a neighborhood plagued by boarded-up houses and drug and gang problems.

■ Westland's Norwayne neighborhood, where CDBG loans for low-income housing improvements would likely be halted if cuts were made in the federal program.

■ Canton Commons Apartments, a 450-unit, federally subsidized housing complex where CDBG funds have been approved for a softball field. A Salvation Army summer day camp also is aided by CDBG funds, another attempt by local officials to improve conditions. The complex has had its share of gang problems, said Mike Ager, the township's manager of resource development. A police officer also was assigned to the complex, with assistance from a community reclamation grant.

■ First Step, a shelter that helps abused women and their children in 35 communities.

■ Various Livonia neighborhoods, such as one northwest of Plymouth and Inkster, where homes and streets are being improved on an ongoing basis to spruce up aging neighborhood.

Also on the tour, delegates saw a Redford home that was made accessible for two handicapped children with use of CDBG monies.

Bink and another Abraham aide, Anthony Spearman-Leach, told local officials they were impressed by the tour, but said there are misconceptions about what Abraham and others want to achieve.

"We're committed to senior citizens and low-income housing," Spearman-Leach said at one point during the tour. Statements suggesting the contrary "are absolutely not true."

Abraham has said the bill, through vouchers and block grants, would give states and local governments the power to design their own programs, rather than having them depend on HUD, which he said is outdated.

Spearman-Leach said HUD cuts would streamline programs and save taxpayer dollars.

In a statement about the proposed changes, Abraham said, "I believe this legislation will help Detroit and other urban areas of my state by moving the resources and regulations out of Washington and returning authority and responsibility to local governments and families."

Last week's bus tour showed that Abraham, and others supporting the changes, have far to go in convincing local officials.

fire rating. This won't burn. Add to that the structural integrity and the sound proofing factor and the decorative (rock surface block) is pleasing to the eye," said Gendron, 32, who lives with his wife and two children in Canton Township.

Eisenstein grew up in the business. The company was started by Eisenstein's father, cousins and close friends after World War II.

George Eisenstein, Joe Kovar, and George and Harry Valek put plenty of hard labor into the block making company they began in the backyard of Harry's Canton Township home on Cherry Hill and Palmer roads in 1946.

Since housing construction had virtually stopped during the war, the timing of this new venture was perfect.

By 1952 they'd outgrown the original facility. In the middle of a Westland farmer's field, the four veterans built their first plant, moving production to its present 13-acre site on Ford Road in 1952, and introducing the highly perishable commodity known as Ready-Mix to the construction industry.

They were all from the same ethnic background, all Czechoslovakian. The idea was suggested by a Canton farmer who was making them for his own use.

"Back then it was all hard labor. All the blocks were moved by hand. The early equipment required them to hand tamp the mix into forms," said the younger Eisenstein who joined the company in 1975 after graduating from Michigan State University with a business administration degree.

All of the founders eventually sold their shares in the company.

George Eisenstein sold his interest to Marty in 1990 and has since retired. Gendron, now vice president and partner, joined the company in 1988 several years after graduating from Wayne State University with a degree in sociology.

"The company went from a backyard operation run entirely by the four owners manufacturing and delivering the block themselves to the 50 employees we have today," Eisenstein said.

The turning point or major growth spurt for the company came in the late 1960s and early 1970's with the construction and expansion of the Westland Shopping Center.

Community involvement through the years also played a part in the company's success. Donations of blocks and Ready-Mix led to a solid image in the area. One of the most recent was donating all the concrete for Habitat for Humanity's home building project in Detroit.

"The Westland Shopping Center project required necessary equipment to service the job. That gave them the stepping stone.

"It's been a growth period since then. There was a lull in '89-'90 but we tightened up. We've got a great crew of people working for us, young, energetic, and a good corps of truck drivers," said Eisenstein.

Sales for 1994 were $12 million. An estimate of $13 million in sales is projected for this year.

New housing in the Canton Township and Plymouth area is expected to keep business booming through the end of this century. With the acquisition of the Karber Block Co., the sky's the limit.

"Our customer base is the little contractor to the major builder. We're always looking for new designs of block, new sizes and textures. We see the I-275 corridor as an area of major growth, and Detroit has great potential," Eisenstein said.

"You have to plan for the next 25 years. Our new plant has the capability to handle just about anything."

Man ordered to trial on sex assault charge

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

An Ypsilanti man has been ordered to stand trial on charges of sexually assaulting a 23-year-old woman inside a laundry room at The Landings, a Westland apartment complex on Warren Road near Central City Parkway.

Anthony Dwayne Webb, 27, was ordered Thursday by Westland 18th District Judge Gail McKnight to stand trial for assault with intent to commit criminal sexual conduct involving penetration.

The ruling followed the woman's testimony that Webb attacked her on July 21. The woman's 2 1/2-year-old daughter was with her at the time.

The woman was in the laundry room, which is below ground level, when she noticed a stranger outside of the window, Westland police Sgt. Terry Donohue said.

The woman reported that the man was masturbating when she saw him.

The man then climbed through the window and, while perched on a ledge, tried to force her to perform oral sex on him, Donohue said.

The victim fought her attacker, who pulled out some of her hair, the sergeant said. However, the woman was able to get close enough to a next-door apartment to bang on the door, at which time the assailant fled, Donohue said.

No one from the apartment came to the door, and the woman remained in the laundry room until she believed her attacker was gone, Donohue said. She then notified another neighbor.

Police arrested Webb about three weeks later after the victim saw him near a pond at The Landings and notified the Westland Police Department, Donohue said.

A not-guilty plea was entered for him in 18th District Court.

Webb remains jailed in lieu of a $50,000 cash bond as he awaits an arraignment Sept. 14 in Detroit Recorder's Court, where the case will be handled. He could face 10 years in prison if convicted.

After-school program planned for students

An after-school recreation program for youngsters between 7 and 15 will start this week at the Salvation Army's Community Center, 2300 Vandy south of Palmer.

Capt. Mark Welch said the program for students between 7 and 11 will be held from 4-5:30 p.m. Tuesdays and Thursdays and for 12 to 15 year-olds from 3-5:30 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

The program will include basketball, volleyball, floor hockey, ping pong and foosball.

A new program called Dorsey

Young Friends is being developed this fall by the Salvation Army Corps and the Western Wayne County YWCA to provide life skills training "through a positive atmosphere and weekly educational programs. The programs are directed toward young people in the Norwayne area to encourage and give them the belief that they, too, can succeed in life," Welch said.

For information on any Salvation Army programs or activities, persons may contact the community center at 722-3660.

An Ypsilanti man, accused of fracturing his 9-week-old baby's skull while babysitting her at a Westland apartment, has been scheduled for trial Nov. 30 in Detroit Recorder's Court.

Hugh Arthur Willett, 27, could face a maximum sentence of 15 years in prison if convicted of first-degree child abuse.

The baby girl suffered a skull fracture on the night of Jan. 2 at Forest Lane Apartments, 6200 N. Wayne Road, Westland police Sgt. Michael Terry has said.

The infant spent several weeks in a hospital. Specific details about how the child was injured haven't been disclosed.

The father doesn't live with the baby and her mother, but he would sometimes babysit, Terry said. The baby was in the suspect's care on the night it suffered the skull fracture, police said.

A police investigation determined that the mother had phoned home at one point and was told by the suspect that "the child wouldn't stop crying," Terry has said.

When the mother came home, she picked up the baby and noticed that she "appeared to be in pain," Terry said.

After being taken to Oakwood Hospital/Annapolis Center-Wayne, the infant was moved to the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor, where she was placed in an intensive care unit.

Willett was ordered to stand trial July 27 after he waived a preliminary hearing before Westland 18th District Judge Gail McKnight.

Pending trial, he is free on a personal bond, but he has been ordered to stay away from the child.

Short orders?

Newest 'restaurant' is open for only one hour

BY LEONARD POGER
EDITOR

Westland's newest "business" stayed open for only one hour, but its two partners are happy.

Julien Liss, 8 1/2, of Westland, and a cousin, Gavin Partridge, 9, of Belleville, operated "The Popper Restaurant" from the basement of Julien's house for one hour on a recent Thursday noontime and divided the $30.10 profit.

But Julien's mother, Elaine Liss, and grandmother, Lucille Liss, provided most of the labor and didn't charge for their services.

Elaine admitted that that only charges to the business was the food — hot dogs, hamburgers, soda pop, pop corn, potato chips and ice cream.

The "restaurant," located in the basement of the Liss home on Rustic Lane, north of Palmer and east of Merriman, was filled to its 15-person capacity by friends or relatives who were given advance invitations.

Julien, an Elliott Elementary School fourth-grader, said he conceived the business idea about a year ago. His mother said he plans to rake leaves in an ongoing effort to save money for a car.

"The boys were happy about the profit," she said.

Liss said she and her mother bought the food from a nearby Farmer Jack Supermarket for $10 two days before the restaurant's opening and prepared it for the partners.

"We were the cooks while Julien and Gavin were the waiters."

The menus were printed at Normandy Apartments, a Dearborn senior citizens complex managed by Elaine Liss, with the food representing relative bargains.

Hamburgers were 75 cents, hot dogs 50 cents, munchies 25 cents and soft drinks 25 cents.

The only complaint came from a young girl who muttered to a friend that "there are too many boys at my table."

There was no indication whether the business venture will be repeated next year.

Taking an order: Restaurant "partner" Julien Liss takes a lunch order from one of his customers at a recent business enterprise.

Serving lunch: Elaine Liss, one of the two cooks for the one-hour restaurant operation, also doubled as a waitress.

Fall sports programs are offered by YMCA

Fall programs in soccer, swimming, basketball and street hockey are being offered by the Wayne-Westland Family YMCA, which serves Garden City and Canton Township, with registrations held this month.

Persons may sign up for any of the activities at the Y's main office, 827 S. Wayne Road, south of Cherry Hill, during weekdays.

The new street hockey league will have teams playing Tuesdays and Thursdays from Sept. 11 through Oct. 28. The new program is for boys and girls between 5 and 13. Fee is $10 for members and $25 for program members plus a $15 program fee.

There will be one practice and one game per week, the Y said.

The league is co-sponsored by the National Hockey League and Nike sports equipment company.

Soccer will be offered for boys and girls between 5 and 14 with the season to start Sept. 7 and continue through Oct. 28. Players will learn the basic movement skills and learn without the emphasis on winning at all costs, a Y spokeswoman said. There will be one practice and one game per week.

Fee is $25 for members and $40 for program members plus a $15 program fee.

Basketball teams will be formed for boys and girls in the third through ninth grades. Session dates are Oct. 30-Dec. 23 and Jan. 10-March 4. Like the other sports, the Y says it will emphasize learning new skills and having fun with scores and outcomes of games downplayed.

Fees are $25 for Y members and $40 for program members plus a $15 program fee.

The Stingray swimming team will have a parents' informational meeting at 7 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 7, at the Y.

The swimming season will start Sept. 25 and continue into next March.

Meets are held Saturdays against other Y teams with members required to be at two practices a week. Practice times are 5-6 p.m. weekdays for swimmers between 6 and 10 and 6-7 p.m. the same days for those between 11 and 18.

A youth membership is required for team members plus the team fee of $19 a month. Financial help is available.

During the free trial period to be held Sept. 18-22, youngsters who can swim a pool length are welcome to seek a spot on the team.

In other Y activities, informational meetings on Y-Indian Guide programs will be held at 2 p.m., Sunday, Sept. 17, at St. John Episcopal Church, just north of the Y, and at 7 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 13, at the Canton Township Library, on Canton Center Road near Cherry Hill.

The program allows parents and children to spend special time together on a one-to-one basis.

For information on any Y program, persons may call 721-7044.

Open house is scheduled to mark fall season for 'Y'

Registration is open this week and next for the programs and activities which will start

Monday, Sept. 11.

Sixteen-page brochures listing all programs and schedules are available at the Y's activities center.

The Y is planning various programs for preschoolers, swimmers, aquatics, gymnastics, T-ball, preschool ballet and karate.

The 6-8:30 p.m. program will include swimming, games, crafts, movies and family fun, a Y spokeswoman said.

With school now in session for the new term, the Y reminds youngsters and parents that the organization's Halloween haunted house will open in six weeks and continue through Oct. 31. As in past years, there will be less-frightening "Friendly Monsters" scheduled the three Saturdays before Halloween, Oct. 14, 21 and 28.

For information on any Y program, persons may call 721-7044.

Plymouth festival booth locations uncertain

BY KEVIN BROWN
STAFF WRITER

Plymouth Fall Festival starts a week from Friday, and some organizers say they're still waiting to be told where to set up food booths, due to some streetscape delays.

Because the laying of brick pavers has been slow, work on the Main Street portion of the downtown streetscape is behind schedule — and it's not certain that booths will be able to set up on Main, said Joe Bida, festival publicity coordinator.

"If Main Street isn't ready, we'll probably go to Ann Arbor Trill and Forest," Bida said.

Yet, Downtown Development Authority Director Steve Guile said both Main and Penniman will be ready for Fall Festival booths starting Sept. 8.

Crews on Wednesday were to begin laying a base course of asphalt, Guile said, to smooth ruts and prepare the streets for a final paving.

"There will be temporary power for the fall festival on the island on Main Street," he added.

Food booths around Kellogg Park at fall festival time are a tradition for festival goers. And for many local organizations and service clubs, food sales provide the bulk of money to conduct community activities year-round.

Some who run various groups' booths said they're not troubled by the uncertainty as to where they'll be setting up on downtown streets. "I have a feeling that the asphalt is going to be down and the downtown is going to be the most beautiful place in metro Detroit," said Harry Roebuck of the Plymouth Optimist Club, which is slated to sell balloons, kids toys and novelties at its booth.

"It's not a big deal, as long as the people show up," said Jack Farrow of the Plymouth-Canton schools I Care Committee, which will sell computer software at its booth.

"I'd say I'm not real concerned," said Kim Krizanek, who'll run the New Morning School booth. "They usually try to help us out if there's a problem."

At least one booth operator is expressing concern over the uncertainty. "Oh, definitely we're concerned; I don't know if they'll be ready," said Joanne McCarthy of the Plymouth YMCA, which will sell sandwiches, beverages and bags of ice at its booth.

But most booth operators contacted by the Observer said they're not worried. "I'm sure they're going to try and solve the problem," said Gene Kafila of the Plymouth Canton Civitan Club.

"Of course, if it affects the crowd, it's obviously going to have an effect," he said.

We've cut back on our ordering a little bit, just to ensure we're not going to be caught with product that's not returnable," he said, adding, "The weather is a bigger factor than anything else."

Alexander Zonjic will headline benefit for hospital

Jazz flutist Alexander Zonjic and his ensemble will give an encore performance as the headliner for St. Mary Hospital's third annual benefit "Hollywood Nights III" to be held Thursday, Oct. 19, at Laurel Manor banquet and conference center in Livonia.

As a fund-raising effort to support this cause, the Livonia Observer is offering a full page in the newspaper to promote "Hollywood Nights III" with the proceeds from 60 percent of each advertisement sold on that page being donated to Project SMILE. Businesses interested in purchasing an advertisement on this page may call Audrey Roof at 953-2164 or Nyree Ardash at 953-2165.

Rouge expected to be open to canoes next year

BY RALPH R. ECHTINAW
STAFF WRITER

Wayne County residents can look forward to canoeing on the Rouge River next summer if all goes well with a project begun this month to clear 40 logjams by mid-October.

Mike Duggan, the chief deputy of county Executive Ed McNamara, has been put in charge of the project.

"We're going to have canoes and fishing on the river as soon as next spring," Duggan said. Using crews comprised of people from parks and public services departments, plus 10 jail inmates from the county's Alternative Workforce, Duggan plans to clear "40 logjams in 40 days" between Newburgh Lake in Livonia and Nankin Lake. Work begins Tuesday, Sept. 5, near the dam at the east end of Newburgh Lake.

"By late October that river will be clean of logjams from Nankin Lake to Newburgh Lake," Duggan said.

Once a person sees how bucolic a canoe ride down the Rouge is, Duggan said, it's hard to believe one is still in Wayne County.

Friends of the Rouge Director Jim Graham agreed. "It's really very pretty there, and I think most people don't think about that," he said. "It doesn't make sense that we have to go 100 miles north to put a canoe in the water."

Beyond next year, Duggan hopes to open the Upper Rouge for canoeing from Wilcox Lake in Plymouth Township to Merriman Road in Westland.

By 1997 all of the combined sewer overflows west of Merriman are expected to be capped.

Newburgh Lake, with tons of sewage in its sediment, is scheduled to be dredged in the winter of 1997-98. Swimming, however, won't be safe for another 10 years, Duggan said.

More than 100 sewage overflow pipes dump waste into the Rouge and its tributaries with every hard rain. In 759 tests on the Rouge from April to October 1994, the water met state standards for full body contact just 20 times.

It is also hoped that by 1998 the Lower Rouge, flowing through Canton and Westland, will be opened for canoeing.

"We only go as fast as the combined sewer overflows are cleaned up," Duggan said.

County Commission Vice Chair Kay Beard, D-Westland, who also represents Garden City, is pleased with the project.

"I'm delighted," she said. "It's a project that is going to be a wonderful recreation asset. (The Rouge) is a resource we really need to take advantage of."

Graham is also glad that Duggan is helping. The Friends' annual cleanup effort pulls tons of debris from the river every year, but can't get it all.

"We can only get to a fraction of (the logjams)," Graham said. "There are so many that are not easily accessible for volunteers."

Also chipping in is the federal government's Rouge River National Wet Weather Demonstration Project, a $1 billion-plus, 20-year endeavor begun two years ago.

Much of that money is going for the construction of 11 basins to catch the overflow from combined sewer systems.

The last basin is expected to be completed by the end of 1998, reducing sewage in the river by 33 percent.

"Most people have never known the Rouge as a place for recreation," McNamara said.

DAN NAVARRÉ

Jammed: This Rouge River logjam and 39 others between Newburgh and Nankin lakes will be cleared by mid October if all goes well with a new project headed by deputy county executive Mike Duggan. The river is expected to be open for canoeing next summer.

SMOOTHING THE ROUGH EDGES
When teeth sustain minor fractures and chips, the best way to repair them may be to simply smooth their rough edges. Cosmetic contouring usually calls for a minimal amount of tooth reduction without the need for an anesthetic. However, in the event that a smile line would suffer by having a tooth shortened, contouring would not be appropriate. Because the aging process naturally flattens the smile line and reduces the vertical dimension of the mouth, the dentist would not want to contribute to an aged appearance by grinding down any teeth. Instead, it would be a better idea to fix the chip or fracture with bonding, rather than reduce the tooth height with contouring.
At LIVONIA VILLAGE DENTAL ASSOCIATES, we can advise what would be best for your situation. Our friendly caring team provides the excellent dental care you deserve. We're located at 19171 Merriman Road, where we provide gentle and safe dentistry for the entire family. # Supreme court: State has no duty to fund courts

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

One burner on the court reform stove was turned off Aug. 23 when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled against local governments that had sued for state funding of their trial courts.

But other burners are still generating heat in favor of state funding — heavy workloads in some courts, the outstate versus Detroit brawl, and a governor who holds tight purse strings.

"We lost all clout," said Douglas Van Essen, the Grand Rapids attorney who handled the appeal for the plaintiffs — the Michigan Association of Counties. His was the most pessimistic reaction to the high court ruling.

"We may end up doing it (state funding) anyway," said Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, who serves on both the Judiciary and Appropriations committees. "There is a lot of interest in state-funded courts."

At issue is the way state government picks up 30 percent of the tab for Wayne County trial courts versus 20 percent for the other 82 counties.

has used veto threats to block creation of new judgeships in Oakland County, the Farmington district, and the northwestern Wayne County 35th District Court until there's court reorganization.

The best known plan is one backed by State Bar leaders: a single "trial court" with state funding and new districts to replace circuit, recorders, probate and district courts.

Geake said a GOP Senate task force would issue a court reform recommendation before the party's Mackinac Island conference Sept. 22.

Attorney Thomas Kienbaum predicted "a showdown" on state funding despite the Supreme Court decision. "What if counties decide not to fund a court and shut it down? Is the Supreme Court saying, 'We can't enforce that either?'" said Kienbaum, president-elect of the State Bar of Michigan.

Kienbaum fears outstate counties and local units could get sore at Wayne's favored treatment and cut out funds for their local courts.

ern Wayne counties say their areas are better off without state funding and its Siamese twin, state control.

State Rep. Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, said the local 35th District Court is a money-maker that communities in Northville, Plymouth and Canton don't want to surrender to state aid and control.

"It makes a $1.3 million profit. The locals use that money," said Law.

Statewide, district courts in a recent year spent $150 million and collected $125 million in fines and fees, recovering 83 percent of their costs. Other district courts broke even, while others ran at a loss.

Said Law, a member of the House Judiciary Committee and former township official: "Show me a district court that isn't in the black, and I'll show you one that isn't well managed."

In other courts, however, the situation is different. Circuit courts (the state's general trial courts) generate revenue to cover only 11 percent of their costs. Probate courts cover only 7 percent of their costs.

"Right now, I'm sharing all my school tax money (under Proposal

A) with the rest of the state," said Law. "I don't want to share my court money, too."

Law agreed with the high court and rejected the argument that the state has a duty to fund all lower courts. "It's just a statutory thing. (The state) hasn't fully funded revenue sharing or (aid to cities with) horse racing tracks. (The high court ruling) doesn't surprise me."

Trial courts cost a total of about $509 million a year to run. A full state takeover of funding would run an estimated $250 million, perhaps more.

It started in '80

The argument started almost as soon as the Legislature in 1980 passed a law heavily funding Wayne County and Detroit courts. The stated intention was to phase in state funding for the Wayne suburbs and the other 82 counties over five years. In the deep recession that followed, state funding never advanced.

In 1988 angry outstate politicians — 76 counties, 46 cities, 11 townships and one village — filed suit against state government in the Court of Claims. Van Essen's clients won partial victories in the Court of Claims (Ingham Circuit Court) and the Court of Appeals. But last week the Supreme Court reversed them.

"The Legislature did not intend to create a judicially enforceable private cause of action for money judgment against the state," wrote Justice Dorothy Comstock Riley in a 7-0 opinion.

"Moreover, the Michigan Constitution does not require the state to fund the entire cost of trial court operations . . ."

"While strong arguments can be made that state funding would be a more desirable system of court financing, it is for the Legislature to determine whether to adopt such a system . . ."

"Despite the fact that the courts have always been regarded as part of state government, they have operated historically on local funds and resources . . . Local financing of the courts does not violate the uniformity of taxation provision (of the state constitution) . . . The uniformity must be coextensive with the territory to which it applies (court districts). Thus, it is only necessary that a county or city tax be uniform through that county or city."

Law punishes teens who buy booze

A new law went into effect Sept. 1 penalizing minors who attempt to purchase alcohol.

"We view this as a major victory," said Associated Food Dealers of Michigan director Joe Sarafa in a press release. "In the past, there was no deterrent for minors; all responsibility for their actions lay with the retail establishment and its employees. That responsibility is now shared by the seller and the minor who will both be prosecuted if the minor is caught purchasing alcoholic beverages."

For the first offense, the minor will be fined up to $100 and may be ordered to perform community service and, at his or her own expense, undergo substance abuse screening.

For the second offense, the fine is raised to $200 and the minor's driver's license will be suspended for 90-180 days. Substance abuse screening may also be ordered in addition to community service and substance abuse prevention or treatment and rehabilitation.

Three-time offenders may be fined up to $500 and have their driver's license suspended for 180 days to one year. They may also be required to perform community service and participate in substance abuse screening, prevention and treatment.

The bill does not relax current penalty sanctions against retailers who sell or furnish alcoholic beverages to minors.

"Prior to this law, courts placed the entire burden of enforcement on the retailer," Sarafa said. "With little chance of punishment, minors who wanted to purchase alcohol would go from store to store until they were able to buy the products they desired."

Founded in 1916, the Associated Food Dealers of Michigan is the voice of Michigan's food and beverage industry, representing more than 2,700 retailers, wholesalers, distributors and manufacturers throughout the state.

TASTE BUDS

CHEF LARRY JANES

Don't sweat over pie make yours a cool one

With the unusually hot weather we've been sweating over lately, I can't imagine why anyone would choose to spend an afternoon in the kitchen baking pies. For a refreshing alternative, try refrigerator or freezer pies, which can take just minutes to prepare.

Contrary to popular belief, today's prepackaged pie shells aren't really as bad as momma once said. Let's face it, on a humid day, who wants to make a pie shell anyway?

In all honesty though, you can make a wonderful crust in minutes with a food processor and package of Oreos or other store-bought cookies. Of course, if you subscribe to the "eat one, use one" theory of baking, it can get a bit fattening, especially when coupled with the tablespoon or two of butter, margarine, flavored liqueur, coconut or chopped nuts that's needed to hold the cookie crust together. Even dieters can produce elegant mouth-watering crusts with graham crackers or fat free cookies.

Cookie crusts

Making a cool pie crust can be as basic or as elegant as the baker chooses. Most of the time, crushed cream-filled cookies can be pressed into a pie pan with minimal bother.

With the addition of chopped fruit, shaved chocolate, pre-toasted and finely ground nuts, a simple Oreo crust can take on an added dimension. Further upgrades include brushing the crusts with melted chocolate chips, or a healthy dousing of Bailey's, Amaretto or any coffee-flavored liqueur. As a matter of fact, when testing the recipes for this column, I discovered that brushing bottom crusts with melted chocolate and then chilling creates a perfect barrier against melting ice cream, pudding or mousse. Bottom crusts brushed with chocolate and chilled didn't get soggy after filling was added.

Fabulous fillings

As far as fillings are concerned, the simple addition of ice cream or more complex mixtures of egg whites, gelatin and whipped cream tend to top the charts as favorites. A simple crust can be filled with softened ice cream, drizzled with fudge or chocolate sauce and garnished with cherries. More complex fillings can be made with prepackaged puddings and basic mousse recipes. Add liqueur, flavorings, chopped fruit, nuts or other confections such as coconut, sprinkles and candy.

For optimum results, remove just enough ice cream from the freezer and allow it to soften in a bowl rather than removing the entire half-gallon carton. Once ice cream has softened, it has a tendency to crystallize when refrozen, so allow the ice cream to sit just long enough so that you can stir it. The ice cream should resemble soft serve ice cream.

Again, people concerned about their fat intake will probably want to substitute fat-free ice cream, frozen yogurt or sherbet. Sorbets are made with water and, best enjoyed by themselves. Mousse pies or chilled pies made with eggs require a bit more energy during the initial production stage but are well worth the effort.

Having a good mixer is tantamount to having a spectacular chilled pie. Make sure the gelatin and sugars are well dissolved and incorporated. Follow recipe directions. You will get a higher yield of whipped cream when the whipping cream is well chilled, and bowls and beaters are also placed in the freezer for an hour or so before beating begins.

Lighter mousse or chilled pies have a tendency to pick up refrigerator or freezer tastes easily, so be sure not to store them too close to last night's garlic-laden pasta primavera in the refrigerator or that frozen walleye buried in the freezer.

If you're looking to serve a crowd, think about preparing one of my cool pie recipes in a springform pan. The recipes can easily be doubled or tripled, and you can line up ladyfingers, vanilla wafers, gingersnaps or whatever cookie you choose around the inside perimeter of the pan. When the filling is added and well chilled or frozen, simply spring open the pan and you have a glorious dessert that looks as good as it tastes!

MAKING PREPARATIONS
Fall Harvest Fest

ART EMANUELE/STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

It's sweltering hot outside, over 90 degrees F., on a sunny, humid July afternoon, and baklava is baking in the oven at Holy Transfiguration Orthodox Church in Livonia.

At a huge wooden table in the center of the hot kitchen, barely cooled by a fan, parishioners Anna Smerechnak, Elaine Petouhoff, Helen Hall, Anne Hyrila, and Luba Smerechnak are laughing, and busily mixing dough for pierogi. A pot of freshly made beet soup is warming on the stove.

"How can you stand to cook in this heat?" I ask the women who are preparing food to be served at Holy Transfiguration's second annual Fall Fest on Sept. 10.

"It's like taking a sauna bath while we're cooking," they laugh. "It's good for your skin, it smooths out the wrinkles."

No one wanted to take credit for their part in this festival. "Our volunteers are so faithful, they're a joy to work with," said church pastor the Rev. Michael Matsko. "We started out five years ago with about 25 families. Now we're about 90, and still growing."

Festival proceeds go toward a fund that was established to build a new church on the seven acre site. Holy Transfiguration was founded as a mission parish of St. Peter & Paul Orthodox Church on Gilbert Street in Detroit.

"They purchased the property out here to serve parishioners who relocated from Detroit," said Matsko. "We're a Heinz 57. We have parishioners of all nationalities - Russian, Serbian, Macedonian, Ukrainian, Romanian, and even Irish."

The current church building, at 36075 W. Seven Mile Road, built in 1959 doubles as an activities hall. It was formerly the United Church of Christ.

Leonard and Elaine Petouhoff who have lived in Livonia for 22 years are longtime parishioners.

"Every Sunday we'd get the kids together and drive to church. It was tough in the winter. Now we just go here."

The Petouhoffs helped organize the first festival last year, and also help with the cooking. Planning for this year's festival began right after last year's, which drew over 800 people.

All summer, the women meet at the church, sometimes three times a week, 12 hours at a time, to make cabbage rolls, sauerkraut, pierogi, baklava, bread, beet soup, and other dishes that will be sold at the festival. This year they added shish kebab with rice and pita bread to the menu, which includes hot dogs and sausage.

"Everybody has a favorite recipe, and that's what we use," said Elaine Petouhoff. "It's a lot of fun. Once you do it, and it's a success, the second time becomes easier, because the doubt goes away," adds her husband Leonard.

Before organizing the festival at Holy Transfiguration, Leonard and Elaine went to a lot of festivals to get ideas. "I looked in the trash cans to see what people were throwing away," said Leonard. "That's when I got the idea to serve our dinners in carry-out foam containers so people could take what they didn't eat home."

On this hot day, Anne Hyrila of Plymouth is in the kitchen helping. Homemade kiefles are her specialty. Sisters Anna and Luba Smerechnak of Detroit are also lending a hand. "I dabble in everything," said Anna. "I wash dishes, and roll pierogi dough." Her sister made the beet soup that everyone is sampling at lunch.

"Elaine is the supreme boss, she keeps us going," someone teases over lunch. Elaine is quick to add, "There are so many that I help, and work so hard. I can't take credit."

Festival highlights include a bake sale with homemade goodies including sweet bread, entertainment and dancing, crafts, games and pony rides for children, and free golf lessons - bring your own club.

Gallo Sonoma varietals are a good value

Chardonnays are great with grilled poultry, seafood, curry dishes and grilled vegetables. Stellar chardonnay examples are: 1993 Belvedere $12, 1993 Ferrari-Carano $21, 1993 Hess Collection $14.50, 1993 Joseph Phelps, Carneros $17, 1993 Matanzas Creek Winery $23 - like a fine white Burgundy.

Light and medium-body reds are perfect for fall picnics, taggates and harvest-time barbecues. Try: 1994 Fetzer Gamay Beaujolais $7, 1994 Rosemount, Australia Shiraz $10.

Emerging varietal for picnic pickings: 1994 R.H. Phillips EXP Viognier $10, 1994 Sobon Estate Viognier $16.50.

Good wines from Washington State: 1993 Hedges Fume-Chardonnay blend $7, 1993 Hedges Cabernet/Merlot blend $9.50, 1991 Hedges Red Mountain Reserve $25, 1993 Columbia Crest Chardonnay $8.

Best buys under $10: 1994 Hickory Ridge Chardonnay $5, 1994 Napa Ridge Chardonnay $7.50, 1993 Chateau Souverain Zinfandel $9.50, 1993 Z-Moore Quaff $9, 1993 Shenandoah Special Reserve Zinfandel $8.50.

If you've been in a wine shop lately, you probably noticed Gallo Sonoma varietals, well-priced just over $10. If you're old enough to remember Hearty Burgundy, the Gallo wine that beat the socks off every red in its price category years ago, you may ask, "How good are these Gallo Sonoma wines?" Our reply is very good! Gallo 1993 Sonoma Chardonnay ($11), has attractive aromas with solid fruit and oak accents. It finishes balanced and creamy.

Zinfandel lovers alert! Gallo 1992 Sonoma Zinfandel ($14) is dynamite with berry aromas and rich fruit flavors. To paraphrase an auto ad, "this is not your father's Gallo!"

The interesting part is that the scene for all this was set in 1938, when the Gallo brothers purchased their first Sonoma County grapes in Dry Creek Valley that is today, home to a number of stellar wineries. Since 1947, Gallo has been quietly making wine in Sonoma County at its Frei Brothers Winery facility. The wine went into Gallo blends made in Modesto, Calif. Since the 1940s, Gallo has also been slowly acquiring prime benchland vineyards in Sonoma County. Today, Gallo owns more than 2,000 acres in three premier winegrowing appellations: Russian River Valley, Dry Creek Valley and Alexander Valley. Now, Gallo is the largest vineyard owner on California's North Coast which includes Napa, Sonoma and Mendocino Counties. We bet you had no idea!

Summer has left us with some odd bins items to talk about. Joe Borrello, Michigan wine aficionado has written the newly published "Wineries of the Great Lakes" guidebook, (published by Spradlin & Associates, Lapeer, Mich.,

To make dough: Combine water, egg, sour cream and salt. Add flour. Knead until dough does not stick to hands. Let rest for 15 minutes.
Take small amount of dough and roll out to desired thickness. Cut into circle and fill with potato filling. Pinch edges and drop in boiling water. Remove when pierogi rises to the top.

$15). Borrello briefly discusses each of over 130 wineries in the region from Wisconsin's Door peninsula across Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Ontario and into New York's Finger Lakes region. If you're planning a fall color tour and would like to stop at a winery, this soft-cover edition, available at Borders and other area bookstores, gives you everything you need to know in advance of your visit.

If you've experienced a corked bottle of wine, the musty, awful smell that develops from a poorly manufactured cork, relief is on the way. The first steps to solve the problem were taken by St. Francis Winery in Sonoma Valley's city of Kenwood. Several years ago, the winery changed from natural corks to a synthetic material trade-named Cellukork. St. Francis did extensive experiments before making the change. Wines aged just fine, but consumers and restaurant wait personnel complained that they could not get the closure out of the bottle with conventional corkscrews.

The inventive society that we has come up with a product that's superior to Cellukork. It's trade named SupremeCork. Again, St. Francis took a wine problem by the proverbial neck and has changed to the new synthetic. You can be one of the first to open a bottle of wine with this new cork if you purchase 1994 St. Francis Chardonnay ($12). Hopefully, this yellow-tan cork will not be the whole attraction, the wine is terrific and an excellent value!

When something's good, word travels fast and Murphy-Goode Winery in California's Alexander Valley was swift to act. The 1994 Murphy-Good Pinot Blanc ($12.50) has a purple SupremeCork closure. "Now, I am able to guarantee the quality of every bottle of our Pinot Blanc," said winemaker Christina Benz. If you don't know pinot blanc and you-like chardonnay, try this one. It was 100 percent barrel fermented in a combination of 36 percent new French and air-dried American oak. The wine's interplay of fruit and oak is very harmonious. It's Wine Shootout time again!

Don't miss the area's best tasting of the year, 7-9 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 12 at Glen Oaks (13 Mile, between Orchard Lake and Middlebelt). Rochester Hills Ye Olde Wine Shoppe owner Dennis Walsh has an imposing list of wines this year and a light buffet to accompany. All for $17.50 per person. Call (810) 852-5533 for reservations.
Go ahead — Pamper your palate 7:30-9:30 p.m. Mondays, Sept. 18 through October 9 at the "Great Wines of the World" seminar at the Townsend Hotel in Birmingham. For reservations, call (810) 644-3443.

LINDA BACHRACK

Add a chic pillow for instant design

When it comes to pillow talk, the folks at Drexel Heritage have the last word. In their glossy home design book, "Moments," the accent pillow is described as a "versatile animal."

"It can assume a sofa's stripes, an armchair's florals, or stand alone in bold, beautiful contrast. Accent pillows are the icing, but they can also be the cake, bringing style, sophistication and comfort to even the most reserved seats in the house."

A few plump decorative pillows can change the entire look of a room. Layered on a bed, propped in the curve of a chair or scattered across a sofa-back, a bevy of downy-soft pillows give your tired furnishings a new personality.

Mix and match

A tip from the Drexel Heritage designers: Vary pillow sizes, shapes and even fabrics for a rich multi-layered effect. See the Drexel Heritage line of accent pillows including elegant tapestries and exotic animal prints, at Gorman's in Troy, Novi and Southfield. If you're searching for one accent pillow that makes a statement on its own, hurry over to The Print Gallery, 29203 Northwestern Hwy. in Southfield, where owner Diane DeCillis features fine art pillows by artist Barbara A. Wood. Wood's famous images of women are reproduced on corded canvas pillows. Her coveted designs include "Tea Time," "Pearl," "Solitaire," and "Tulips," ($35-$55.)

"I can't keep these exquisite pillows," says DeCillis. "They're selling faster than I can get them in." Definitely worth a look.

The Print Gallery also offers artful pillows from the old masters, including Botticelli, Michelangelo, Monet, Renoir and Van Gogh. More abstract images by Klee and Picasso are soon to arrive ($40).

Rustic charms

At the Eddie Bauer Home Store in Twelve Oaks, in Novi, pillows are tossed on beds and sofas to enhance the casual mountain lodge mood of the furnishings. Look for woven Kilims ($59) velvety corduroys ($22) and madras patchwork plaids ($22) that enliven ever-popular denim upholstery.

New colors and textures for fall at The Bombay Company in Twelve Oaks include throw pillows with names like Mambo, Trevi and Loden Feather. The designs are richly patterned with leaves and swirls, plumes and flowers and thistles. The pillows are edged in lush gold cording or thick fringe with tassels. Colors are warm and autumn-like, from subtle mochas to rich burgundies ($25-$35). Nothing is more inviting than a bed layered with coordinating dust ruffles, sheets and comforters. A toss of pillows finishes the composition, brings new pattern interest, and gives the room a decorator look. The Liz at Home system of bed design helps you define a style by offering a wardrobe of bedroom and bath fashions with mix and match versatility. It's the details that count, like the perfect accent pillows that pull together the entire look.

The Liz at Home patterns include florals, plaids and dots in pure whites, geranium, cornflower blue, clover and daffodil. Pillows are available in tied squares, rounds and neckrolls ($31.99-$39.99). Available at Hudson's.

Clerk insists no sale too small

■ It's been a while since we've received any reader testimonials to excellent customer service for this monthly feature series, so we're delighted to print this new one from Laurel Sherman of West Bloomfield.

"After phoning four Ann Taylor stores without success, I came in contact with Linda Kelly at the Fairlane Town Center Store in Dearborn. I was looking for a pair of ivory chenille socks that had been featured in their latest folio. Linda located a pair for me.

I explained that I did not live near the Fairlane store, but I needed the socks quickly for a gift. Linda felt that I would not receive the socks in time if she sent them, and she proceeded to inquire about where I worked.

Surprisingly, she did not live far from my place of employment and Simply super: The Ann Taylor stores have a winner in associate Linda Kelly who volunteered to make an office call to help a customer.

We're seeking super salespersons

We're shopping for shopping stories about extra special sales people. If you've had a recent shopping experience where a sales associate went above and beyond the call of duty to provide customer service, Malls & Mainstreets wants to hear about it!

Drop us a few lines describing the shopping situation and don't forget to name the store and shopping center involved. Those accounts published on the Malls & Mainstreets pages each month will win an Observer & Eccentric shopping tote for the sales associate and the shopper!

As an added bonus, those nominated have told us they've been featured in their company newsletters and received gift certificates or merchandise for the notoriety. It's a nice way to say thank you to a business person who goes that extra mile to assist and make life easier.

Collegiate sportswear sales take the field

BY LINDA ANN CHOMIN
STAFF WRITER

The first hurrah of the college sports season echoed loudly over the gridiron in Ann Arbor a few Saturdays ago as the University of Michigan Wolverines beat Virginia 18-17. After the game, alumni, students and parents rushed the M-Den at Laurel Park Place in Livonia.

Sales of college-created merchandise — everything from sweatshirts and mugs to Waterford crystal, Cross pens, and 24k gold-plated cufflinks — were booming.

The M-Den, with eight locations in Michigan including five in Ann Arbor, is the official retailer for the University of Michigan Athletic Department. (Not wanting to leave State fans offside, a small area of the store is devoted to green and white wear emblazoned with the Spartan logo.)

At one time when the M-Den was called The Rivalry, the merchandise mix was 50-50, but slower State sales led district manager Mark Hirth to alter the odds 90-10 in favor of Michigan.

"U of M wear is number one nationally as far as sales go. U of M people are crazy. They'll buy anything with an M on it," said Hirth of Farmington Hills.

"The authentic team uniforms are very popular from football to basketball to hockey. But now, people are starting to demand other things with the M on it. That's why we can put out a mail order catalog twice a year, because there are enough customers to support it."

Collegiate wear is big business nowadays for sportswear retailers. Purchases of gift items by parents and grandparents intercept more retail dollars than ever before especially in the fall when students head back to school.

Although Big 10 merchandise is at the top of the heap, smaller institutions of learning score their share of loyal customers as well. At The Basketball Court in downtown Farmington, Central, Eastern and Western Michigan University apparel outsells many of the major players.

"At Christmas we sold more CMU than U of M probably because you can't get them anywhere else," said Becky Thomas co-owner with husband Carl. Both are Central grads. "We try to target the lesser known schools because there are so many graduates and alumni in our area."

and memorabilia? Part of it is school pride, but for many it's bragging rights. It's a way to display their accomplishment — earning a degree, according to Thomas. One of the most popular items last year at the Basketball Court was the Michigan pullover starter jacket. Thomas said she expects this year's rising star to be the laser stitch caps frequently seen on the sidelines at games. She's betting Penn State holds the key to the winning retail game.

At Champ's Sports at Twelve Oaks, in Novi, alumni are number one when it comes to buying collegiate clothing and jerseys, but full size and mini helmets, boxer shorts, and hats sporting Florida State, Texas A & M, and Georgetown imprints also do well ac-ording to spokesman Kirk Grant. "With the jerseys, it's the status thing. It's collegiate wear that's good looking that you see on TV in the championships," he said. "Right now, it's U of M, MSU, Penn State, and North Carolina."

Add to that list Georgia Tech and UNC for the best sellers at Sports Mania in Livonia and Wonderland Malls, according to manager Rich Perrine.

"Everybody's buying sports stuff from little kids to college age to adults and grandparents," he insisted. Paula Masalin, manager of Stadium Blvd. at the Oakland Mall in Troy, (also owned by M-Den) said sales of collegiate merchandise have taken the field edging out pro-items from the camps of the Detroit Lions and Tigers. The store has items split 70-30 in favor of Michigan over Michigan State.

"Fifty percent of the people who buy U of M apparel are fans. We're expecting our best sellers to be Michigan's Nike items because all of the players are wearing Nike uniforms," Masalin said.

But what about customers with dual allegiances? The families with members at rival schools?

"I recommend T-shirts and pennants split diagonally with the Wolverine on one side and the Spartan on the other," she said.

she offered to bring the socks to me at work the following day.

How fortunate for me — first to find the socks and then to get them hand delivered! Linda saved me a great deal of time to say the least. I might add that I am hardly a first time shopper. However, in my experience no one has ever "gone the extra mile" for me. I have never seen Linda; on the day she dropped off the socks I was in the classroom, and I have never spoken to her since. I know, though, what a wonderful person, and valued employee Linda Kelly, must be.

Linda has since been made a store manager and transferred to the Ann Taylor in the Briarwood store in Ann Arbor. An Observer & Eccentric canvas shopping tote is on the way to both Linda and Laurel.

Barker brings little magic to 'Lord of Illusions'

TICKETS PLEASE

JOHN MONAGHAN

You'd think we'd catch on by now.

Whenever a movie character walks alone in a creepy place, the music stops and the action slows. Suddenly, from outside of the frame, a mysterious figure appears out of nowhere and the audience jumps a collective mile.

Such moments happen a good five times in Clive Barker's "Lord of Illusions," which plays not so much like a well-staged magic show as a ride through a creaky carnival spook house. The tricks couldn't be cheesier, but often we're scared just the same.

Scott Bakula, late of TV's "Quantum Leap," plays Harry Demore, a private detective attracted to "the dark side." He has just finished the exorcism of a young boy and now gets mixed up with a cult case involving the world's foremost magicians.

Swann (Kevin O'Connor) sells out glitzy, David Copperfield-style magic spectacles — the kind where scantily-clad dancers circle Baroque sets. He was once the student of Nix (Daniel Van Bergen), whose authentic powers allowed him to levitate, juggle fire, and plant realistic illusions in the heads of both disciples and nonbelievers.

Nix is dead, buried deep, but Swann has good reason to believe that he is ready to stage a comeback. As the friends who helped kill Nix begin to die themselves, Swann must devise a way to protect himself and his wife from what could be the devil.

The remaining cult members sense his coming. Wiping their mouths from a meal of raw animal flesh, the believers tear out their hair, kneel on broken glass, and prepare for the coming of their savior.

You get the sense that Clive Barker is one sick puppy who enjoys coming up with this stuff far more than we do watching it. Movies like this should be fun, but the laughs in "Lord of Illusions" are mostly unintentional since Barker and company are so seriously intent on disturbing us.

Bakula tries hard as the ghost-busting gumshoe, but he doesn't seem tough enough or romantic enough to kick down doors or woo Swann's wife. O'Connor's Swann fares better. Reluctant to use the power he possesses, he walks around in a daze, like he's seen things that no man ever should.

Some of the best horror movies ("Night of the Living Dead," "Texas Chainsaw Massacre") can approach something almost mystical in their low-budget minimalism. Barker's medium-size budget only makes his movie look cheap, with much of the money spent on C-grade computer imaging.

Though "Lord of Illusions" is happily free of sadistic sexual content, the camera rarely turns away from gross-out effects, like tongues being severed or knives penetrating flesh.

The latter happens in one of the movie's few clever scenes, where one of Swann's illusions goes horribly wrong. We watch from the magician's point of view as heavy swords fall from the ceiling as he tries in vain to free himself from the rotating table he's strapped to.

The magic angle is a good one, though Barker fails to even hint at what lies behind the display cases of a magicians' repository where all the secrets are stored. In "Lord of Illusions" the popular writer/director barely gives us the illusion that he knows any more about magic than we do.

'Watch It' offers sharp views of men, women, relationships

BY LEANNE ROGERS
STAFF WRITER

A group of guys sharing a house, spending their time partying and playing elaborate practical jokes on each other. Sounds like a frat house but in the enjoyable 1993 film "Watch It" the guys are all in their mid-thirties and a bit old for their lifestyle.

The title of the film comes from the game of practical jokes that started when several of the men knew each other in college. Nothing is out of bounds. The only rule to the game is that you can't get mad, you can only get even.

The owner of the house is Michael, played by Jon Tenney, a handsome but smarmy womanizer. A new addition to the household is his cousin John, played by Peter Gallagher, a guy who can't seem to settle in a career or even in one place for very long.

Things become a bit tense when John falls in love with his cousin's former girlfriend. With Michael's lack of maturity and some childhood grudges against

Peter Gallagher

John, he naturally can't resist trying to get back together with his ex-girlfriend, played by Suzy Amis. But then John doesn't help his situation by getting scared and being non-committal. A younger friend of the woman, who points out her consistently bad choices in men, accurately refers to the cousins as the Womanizer and the Non-Committer.

There are some pretty hilarious exchanges in the film about men, women, relationships and how to avoid them. One of the roommates — there is one in everyone circle of friends — waxes philosophically about why younger women are so attracted to guys who are jerks. Since he readily puts himself in that category, he describes himself as "human cocaine."

For all the humor, "Watch It" also makes some sharp observations about its characters and the way they approach life. Even at their worst behavior, the men still have some genuine emotion and pathos. Sometimes they just can't help but be immature jerks.

All of the performances are very good including John McGinnis as the philosophical roommate panic-stricken when he falls in love and Lili Taylor as a young woman wiser than her older and better educated friend.

Quirky 'Younger and Younger' lacks depth, whimsy and heart

BY LEANNE ROGERS

Jonathan Younger has a pretty cushy life — sleeping late, getting his newspaper and going out to breakfast, taking long naps and going out dancing. Unfortunately for his harried wife Penelope, that lifestyle leaves her doing all the work hunched over her desk at their storage business.

An inveterate womanizer, Jonathan thinks his life will be even easier after his wife dies of a heart attack. But Jonathan is in for a couple shocks — his wife keeps appearing to him and the business is soon headed down the tubes because he hasn't a clue about running the business. That's the basic scene for the 1995 film "Younger and Younger" — the title referring to the name of the business and to the appearance of Penelope, who looks younger each time she turns up.

Donald Sutherland and Lolita Davidovich, the latter hardly recognizable under heavy makeup early in the film, play the couple who may or may not have actually liked each other when they married some years earlier. Or maybe Jonathan, a transplanted Londoner, married Penelope to get into her family's storage business.

ine emotion. When Penelope dies, Adlon has her death throes spinning like a dervish and convulsing in her wheeled office chair. It isn't funny or sad as the woman's death should be, it's just ridiculous.

The film is full of capable actors like Sutherland and Davidovich, along with Brendan Fraser as their son, Linda Hunt as one of their storage unit tenants and Sally Kellerman as a woman charged with murdering her husband. Unfortunately their efforts are pretty much wasted.

Jonathan eventually starts to feel bad about his wife's death but only after she starts looking young and curvaceous. He has treated her so shabbily when she was alive that it's kind of hard to understand why she still is interested in him or to care about how he feels. And I don't really need to have a lengthy musical interlude sung by Sutherland, who isn't famous for his singing voice.

Adlon's other films like "Sugarbaby" and "Bagdad Cafe" had quirkiness but also whimsy and heart which "Younger and Younger" totally lacks. Watching this film makes it easy to understand why it ended up on video with little or no theatrical release.

Glenn defense stands out, 24-7

Westland John Glenn rallied from a 7-3 halftime deficit to beat Howell in its season football opener, 24-7. The Rockets were tough defensively, holding the Highlanders to just 52 total yards.

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Westland John Glenn Rockets started slowly, but finished with a bang in its season football opener Friday at home.

The Rockets, state Class AA semi-finalists a year ago, scored 21 unanswered points in the second half to douse Howell, 24-7, avenging last year's 32-0 opening-game defeat.

It was the defense that pulled Glenn through.

The Rockets limited Howell, also a Class AA playoff qualifier last year, to a mere 52 yards total offense.

"Our defense held us in there when things were not going well early," Glenn coach Chuck Gordon said. "But they continued to play hard and gave us a chance to win the ball game."

On the opening kickoff the Rockets muffed a designed "pooch" shot. The Highlanders' Kirk Pietila recovered at the Glenn 40-yard line.

Howell took just 4:07 to score on nine plays, capped by Matt Ventura's 6-yard swing pass to Josh Dukes out of the backfield. Kris Pennell added the extra point to make it 7-0.

But Glenn's defense played a stellar game the rest of the night, limiting the Highlanders to a pair of first downs.

Ira Bargon, Jeff Cook and Keith King all had sacks, while Bernie Toby intercepted a pass and blocked a punt, the latter leading to a Glenn TD.

"Howell does a lot of things out of that wishbone formation that you have to be prepared for," Gordon said. "One of the disappointing things is that we forced some turnovers early and didn't take advantage, but at the same time our team kept its poise and continued to play hard."

"And the other thing is that when you're playing the first half, you don't know what to expect. We hung tough when things weren't going well, but we battled back at the end."

The Rockets got a break near the end of the first half when Ventura misfired on a third-down quick kick. Mike Sosnowski recovered at the Howell 26, leading to a 32-yard field goal by Steve Palling just as the half-time clock expired.

Trailing 7-3 at intermission, Glenn offensive line coach Craig Hnatuk cleared the air with his players.

"He set them straight on a couple of things and they came back and played the way they're capable of," Gordon said.

On the second play of the second half, Glenn linebacker Matt Griglio recovered a Howell fumble at the Highlanders' 26.

Five plays later, Glenn senior tailback Jay Jackson, who led all rushers with 93 yards on 19 carries, soared in from 5 yards out to give Glenn a 10-7 advantage (after Palling's first of three straight PATs).

On Howell's next possession, Bernie Toby charged in from right end and blocked Pennell's punt, recovering at the Highlanders' 9.

Sophomore quarterback Justin Berent, who entered the game late in the first half to direct the Glenn attack, then scored on a 2-yard sneak and Glenn was up 17-3.

"You can't scout the kicking game in the preseason, but we wanted to get some pressure on the punter,"

Agatha topples Trojans

Bill Matti's successor as Redford St. Agatha's tailback has some pretty big shoes to fill.

It appears, however, the shoes of the 1,600-yard rusher will fit like slippers on the feet of sophomore Zac Carino.

FOOTBALL

Carino, a transfer from Redford Catholic Central, gained 138 yards on 18 carries Friday, leading the Aggies to a 24-6 non-league victory at Livonia Clarenceville.

What makes Carino's performance so remarkable is that it was his first game as a running back. He was a defensive lineman on CC's freshman squad last season.

"I knew Bill was leaving, and that was one of the reasons I came here," Carino said. "I felt a lot of pressure, and I knew I had to play well. But I don't feel any more pressure after tonight."

Carino also excelled on defense as he collected two big sacks and another tackle for a loss in his first game ever at outside linebacker.

Carino had plenty of help from senior quarterback Mike Wilson. The 6-foot-3, 225-pounder scored on runs of 1 and 2 yards and tossed a 10-yard touchdown pass to junior Mike Simpson.

The Aggies opened the scoring, marching 68 yards in seven plays. Agatha had two breaks go its way — once when Carino recovered his own fumble for a 5-yard gain and another when Wilson completed a 20-yard pass to Simpson on fourth down, just before getting drilled by two Trojans.

The drive was capped when Wilson hit a wide open Simpson on a slant pattern from 10 yards. Wilson got the two-point conversion on a bootleg.

Wilson completed four of 10 passes for 61 yards. In total offense, the Aggies held a 223-141 advantage.

After being outgained in offense by 78 yards in the first quarter, the Touchdown run: St. Agatha's Mike Simpson (with ball) splits Trojan defenders Walter Ragland (No. 33), Donahue Fulton (No. 24) and Chris Lakner (No. 21).

Clarenceville offense showed signs of life in the second quarter. But after driving 71 yards in 11 plays, the Trojans failed to convert on fourth down at the Agatha 9-yard line.

Clarenceville later drove to the Aggies 14, but senior quarterback Rob Ashton was picked off at the goal line by Agatha's Mike Fenbert.

"We played a bend-but-don't-break defense, and they really stepped up when they had to," Agatha coach Gary Tuz said.

Ashton completed only four of 14 passes for 49 yards. Junior Chris Lakner rushed 13 times for 45 yards and Bryan DeCaire gained 37 yards on four runs for the Trojans.

"I was happy with how Rob played, but he still has a lot to learn," Clarenceville coach Chuck Donaldson said. "One thing he's got to learn is to relax and not get so worked up."

The Aggies took advantage of a short kickoff to open the second half, and increased their lead to 14-0 when Wilson scored on a 2-yard sneak. Wilson found Carino in the end zone for the two-point conversion.

The Trojans had another scoring chance when Jim Vallimont recovered a fumbled punt at the Agatha 12. But three plays later they fumbled the ball back to Agatha's Mike Miller.

"We're real young and play with a lot of heart, but there were just a couple of times we couldn't stuff the ball in," Donaldson said.

The Trojans put together a 52-yard drive in nine plays, and closed the margin to 16-6 with 3:48 remaining.

The score came on a 1-yard sneak by Ashton.

Clarenceville's on-side kick attempt failed and Agatha capitalized with a 40-yard scoring drive. Wilson's 1-yard sneak and ensuing pass to Simpson for the conversion ended the scoring.

"I think we still have to learn how to win, and I'm not sure how long that will take," Donaldson said. "They'll have to learn that one big play by the other team doesn't beat you."

Tuz was happy after the game with the play of his team, in particular his underclassmen.

"I've been concerned about our youth, particularly in the skilled positions," Tuz said. "We start two freshmen and two sophomores and have a lot of room for improvement. But I'm very pleased with the win."

Clark runs wild, Spartans blank RU

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Stevenson head football coach Tim Gabel had just wrapped up his first-ever varsity win, 27-0, Friday night over Redford Union at Howard Kraft Field in Redford.

As the Stevenson players headed for the bus, Gabel flagged down a reporter from a distance.

That had to be another first — for a reporter. Usually it's the other way around.

Gabel couldn't wait to talk about the players who made his head-coaching debut a memorable one.

The Spartans, who graduated several standouts from last year's Class AA state playoff team, dominated RU in every category but punting.

RU junior punter Eric Scott lived up to expectations that he might be one of the best in the state, booming six for more than a 40-yard average. The Spartans never allowed Scott to try a field goal or extra point, limiting the Panthers to 96 total yards (55 rushing, 41 passing) and three first downs.

Stevenson senior defensive end Ryan Culloty sacked RU quarterback Joe Bernwanger once for a seven-yard loss and senior defensive back Tom Dumout intercepted a pass.

Another highlight of the night didn't involve scoring — it was a big-time block by senior Rob Drolet that flattened an RU player on a punt return in the third quarter.

"Wins are for the kids, as a coach, you feel losses for weeks," said Gabel, who was an assistant under retired head coach Jack Reardon. "This senior class has been overshadowed by that group (that graduated) their whole careers. They realized in the winter it's their turn. We sent 23 players to the CMU (Central Michigan University) Camp, and it's usually seven or eight. They're in a football mind set."

It looks like Stevenson football is alive and well, both from a public relations and coaching standpoint.

Junior tailback Gade Clark scored on a 54-yard run in the first quarter and led the Spartans with a career-high 198 yards on 19 carries.

Junior tailback Kurt Bearer had 46 yards on five carries, scoring on a 35-yard TD run. Senior quarterback Dean Bacheller (four of seven for 36 yards) threw a 13-yard TD pass to senior split end Jeff Backus and a 4-yard TD pass to junior swing back Matt Allison.

Senior fullback Rodolfo Pacheco, playing in his first game since transferring from Dearborn Divine Child, had 32 yards rushing on seven carries.

"He's a class guy, my victories will come," RU first-year head coach Glenn Scala said, referring to Gabel putting his reserves in midway through the third quarter. "That's a good football team over there. We had a lot of missed assignments, didn't do a good job of tackling. We're leaving here with our heads high."

The Spartans threatened right away, taking their first possession to the Panthers' 36 before a

Stevenson rips Lathrup; Ladywood falls, 73-44

Livonia Stevenson made it two straight on the young girls basketball season with a convincing 48-17 triumph over visiting Southfield-Lathrup.

Senior guard Marie Wilson led a balanced Stevenson attack with nine points, five rebounds and three steals.

Other contributions came from senior forward Jenny Dulz, eight points and seven rebounds; sophomore forward Melissa Backus, seven points; senior center Stacey Nichols, six points and six rebounds; and sophomore guard Carolyn Courtright, six points and four steals.

Stevenson got off to a slow start.

The Spartans led 15-3 at intermission and 28-14 after three quarters before outscoring the Chargers 20-3 in the final period.

"I was disappointed early," Stevenson coach Wayne Henry said. "We were in control, but we didn't finish a lot of plays down the court."

"We could have scored more, but we were in control throughout."

Stevenson made 16 of 29 free throws (55.1 percent).

FRANKLIN 49, SOUTHFIELD 39: Senior guard Tracy Rynkiewicz made 11 of 13 free throws en route to a game-high 27 points Thursday, leading Livonia Franklin (2-0 overall) past the host Blue Jays (0-2).

The Patriots built a 23-12 halftime advantage and never looked back.

Senior forward Kellie Main added eight points for Franklin.

Tara Wakefield scored nine to lead Southfield.

"Overall, it was a great defensive team effort," Franklin coach Gary Warner said. "They worked very hard. We just have to work on our offense now."

As a team, Franklin made 13 of 21 free throws.

FLINT POWERS 73, LADYWOOD 44: Liz Hallman's 14 points lifted state-ranked Flint Powers (2-0 overall) to an easy victory Thursday over visiting Livonia Ladywood (0-1).

The Chargers led 34-21 at intermission.

Senior forward Erin LeSage netted 13 points in a losing cause for the Blazers.

BISHOP FOLEY 71, JOHN GLENN 28: On Thursday, host Madison Heights Bishop Foley spoiled Andy Denison's debut as Westland John Glenn coach with a

Finneran spurs Patriots

Junior Steve Finneran's hat trick sparked Livonia Franklin to an 8-1 victory Thursday over Wayne Memorial in a non-league boys soccer game.

The win pushes Franklin's overall mark to 3-1.

It was the first varsity boys soccer game in Wayne's school history.

Seniors Rob Vega and Joe Kosiba contributed two goals apiece. Freshman Kenny Tomanis added the other.

Senior Rich Banjo collected four assists for the Patriots, who led 4-1 at intermission.

Goalkeeper Jason Wallace, a senior with no soccer experience, made 18 saves.

"I was pleased with the way we played," Wayne coach Larry Brenner said. "There were a lot of butterflies. I thought our defense played well, but we need work at midfield."

STEVENSON 4, A.A. HURON 1: Matt Quinter, a senior midfielder, scored two goals and had two assists Thursday as Livonia Stevenson improved to 2-0 with a non-league win at Ann Arbor Huron.

Jeff Urbata, senior forward, also scored twice for the winners.

Scott Sersen, a senior defender, contributed an assist for Stevenson, which outshot the host River Rats 25-4.

Goalies Jim Grewe and Todd Smith split time in goal for the Spartans.

CHURCHILL 1, ADAMS 1: Senior forward Matt Eckerman's goal with two minutes remaining Thursday gave Livonia Churchill a tie against visiting Rochester Adams.

After a scoreless first half, Adams took the lead early in the second period. As time dwindled, the Chargers (1-0-1) kept pressure on in front of the Adams net.

The ball was kicked to Eckerman about 18 yards out and the senior drilled it into the goal.

"The guys played tough the entire game and I'm happy with the way they never gave up and came back," Churchill coach Chad Campeau said.

REDFORD CC 5, EDSEL FORD 2: Tom Derhake and Tony Mousoulis scored two goals each, leading Redford Catholic Central's boys soccer team to a non-48-11 blitz in the second half. The Rockets shot 40 percent from the field in the opening half and trailed by only six, 23-17.

But Glenn went stone cold in the third quarter, connecting on just one of nine from the floor as the Ventures made a 26-4 scoring run.

Christina Blandford led Foley with 14 points, while Jennifer Daboki added 13.

Senior guard Nykiya Lee scored 13 for Glenn, which shot only 15 percent in the second half. Senior guard Rochelle Harris added eight points.

LUTH. WESTLAND 51, ST. FLORIAN 17: Jenny Twistemeyer scored 13 points and Joy Tieran added 11 Thursday, leading Lutheran High Westland to the consolation game win over Hamtramck St. Florian in the Royal Oak Shrine Tournament.

The Warriors, who led 23-12 at intermission, broke things wide open by outscoring the Lancers 14-0 in the third period.

"We were up 11 at half and I was kind of upset from a couple of nights ago, when we didn't pass well," said Lutheran Westland coach Ron Gents, whose team was beaten 57-27 by Shrine on Tuesday. "We got sloppy in the second quarter and I challenged them at halftime to play defense... and they did. It was fun to watch."

HURON VALLEY 32, GC UNITED 31: Sara Tacis's put-back basket with only six seconds left gave Westland Valley Lutheran the victory over Garden City United Christian Friday at the Inkster Recreation Center.

Michelle Ruth led the Hawks (1-2 overall) with seven points, while Tacis, Angela Pelligrino and Lori Conger added six each.

GC United's Jennifer McDonald led all scorers with 15 points.

On Thursday, junior forward Sarah Sumner scored 16 points and yanked down 15 rebounds, leading host Plymouth Christian Academy (1-0) past Huron Valley in overtime, 42-39.

Amanda Clark's two free throws opened the OT session and PCA held on with a 7-4 scoring edge.

Lisa Erickson, on PCA's third put-back, was fouled as time expired. She made one of two free throws to knot the score at 35-all at the end of regulation.

Michelle Ruth scored eight points for the Hawks, who made just 31.8 percent from the free throw line (seven of 22). Tacis and Amy Mohacs contributed seven points apiece.

PCA made 13 of 28 foul shots (46.4 percent).

league win over visiting Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The victory moves CC to 2-0 overall. CC led 4-0 at halftime after a pair of goals by Mousoulis and single tallies by Derhake and Lance Bethel.

After Ford pulled to within 4-2 with two goals in the second half, Derhake scored an insurance goal with about 13 minutes remaining.

Dan Mulvihill had two assists and Derhake and Jarod Pordyce assisted on one goal each.

Travis Miller, who recorded the shut-out in a 5-0 victory over Dearborn on Tuesday, allowed no goals in the first half as the CC goalkeeper. Matt Kessler played in net in the second half.

LUTH. WESTLAND 3, FAIRLAKE 0: Sophomore Chris Walls scored on a pair of penalty kicks and sophomore Ben Heiden added another goal Friday as host Lutheran High Westland (2-0 overall) earned the non-league win over Dearborn Heights Fairlane Christian (0-2 overall).

Goalkeeper Adam Danielczyk posted the shutout.

Fairlane was outshot, 19-1.

On Thursday, sophomores forward Chris Broge scored twice Thursday, leading Lutheran Westland to a season-opening 3-1 non-league win at Royal Oak Shrine.

Sophomore midfielder Scott Randall added one goal and one assist, while Woelke and Andrew Sieloff chipped in with one assist each.

The Warriors, who scored all three goals in the first half, outshot Shrine, 18-5.

Coach Rich Block also singled out the play of midfielder Ken Shingdecker and Walls, who played sweeper.

"We had the sun and the wind against us in the second half and I thought our guys did a good job hanging in there, and playing hard with a three-goal lead," Block said.

HURON VALLEY 4, MT. ZION 2: Westland Huron Valley Lutheran, behind Joel Hartley's two goals, opened its season Friday on a winning note, downing Clinton Township Mount Zion Christian.

The Hawks rallied from a 2-0 first-half deficit on goals by Hartley, Curt Guiles and Nick Wianike.

Scott Ohlson assisted twice in the victory, while Jeremy Zahan had the game tying assist.

Goalkeeper Jared Ridenour made four saves.

Titans' QB stings Franklin

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Was that Doug Flutie, or how about Fran Tarkenton?

Whatever the comparison, Sterling Heights Stevenson's scrambling quarterback Mike Morris gave Livonia Franklin fits in its season home opener, leading the Titans to a 21-7 victory.

Morris, a starter in secondary a year ago when Stevenson reached the state Class AA semifinals, was impressive in his first offensive start, hitting 16 of 32 passes for 226 yards.

But the senior was particularly sharp in the first half, throwing for 206 yards on 14 of 28 attempts, many on plays when he was rolling out of the pocket.

"They (Stevenson) are strong up front, but I thought we matched up with them," Franklin second-year coach Rick Lee said. "They wore us down a little bit. He (Morris) was elusive and he came up with some big third down plays."

Despite being outgained 474-64 in total yardage and 19-3 in first downs, Franklin's defense kept the count close until Kyle Komusin's 85-yard touchdown run with 43 seconds left sealed the Patriots' fate.

"Franklin came out and played a game a lot like we had here two years ago," said Stevenson coach Rick Bye, referring to the Titans' 21-12 win in 1993. "We needed a long run at the end to put them away. It was almost an identical game."

"Those Franklin kids are good and they played us tough. They hung in there."

Stevenson controlled the ball for much of the lengthy first quarter.

Ironically, game officials failed to detect that the scoreboard clock had been mistakenly set an additional three minutes (from 12:00 to 15:00) at the outset of the ballgame.

The Titans ran 21 plays during the period to Franklin's six.

Stevenson scored with 1:01 left in the quarter on a 17-yard touchdown pass from Morris to Tim Steele. Ed Speck added the first of his three extra points to make it 7-0.

Then, with 7:07 left in the first half, Morris eluded Franklin's rush and connected with Steele again, this time on an 11-yard scoring pass for a 14-0 advantage.

Franklin, limited to 18 first-half total yards, answered Stevenson's second score when speedy 5-foot-11, 141-pound senior Aaron Smith split the middle, made a couple of fifty moves at midfield, and broke an 86-yard kickoff return for a TD.

Smith converted the extra point to slice the deficit to 14-7.

"That play kept them in there," Bye said. "And that play made things difficult for us the rest of the day."

In the third quarter, Stevenson began to pound the ball on the ground behind its massive line, but couldn't put any more points on the board.

Speck's 34-yard field goal attempt with 3:45 left in the third fell just below the crossbar.

Franklin, meanwhile, had trouble getting any type of offense going, but gained some life with 3:48 left in the game when defender David McMullen tipped a Morris pass and Kevin Biga intercepted the ball at the Patriots' 30.

Anthony Greco then gained 4 yards on a run and McMullen hit tight end Paul Terek with a 9-yard pass for Franklin's third first down of the game.

On first-and-10, McMullen lofted a home run ball to the streaking Smith, who had his defender beat, only to have the pass fall incomplete.

The Patriots were pushed back on the next two plays.

McMullen, who completed only one of seven passes, was sacked on consecutive plays.

Komusin, who wound up with 139 yards in 11 carries, broke it open in the final minute with the 85-yard TD run against a stunting Franklin line.

"To be in the game with three minutes to go is some consolation, that's for sure," said Lee, whose team lost 31-0 to the Titans in last year's opener. "Take away that long run at the end and I don't think they were two touchdowns better than us today, but we're still a step away. Dave's pass (to Smith) was a little underthrown."

"We still need discipline and patience with our offense."

Bye, meanwhile, was just happy to get out of Franklin with a win.

"I think we're on track," he said. "Our quarterback made some big plays and we did what we had to do today. You can't expect to be polished or perfect in your opener, but we have a lot of things to build on. We're getting better and better."

Franklin, which forced three fumbles, but couldn't come up with any, will face another Stevenson team this Saturday at home. The Patriots take on the crosstown rival Spartans from Livonia, who opened their season with a 27-0 triumph at Redford Union.

"Number 20 (Gade Clark) is a strong runner," Lee said. "And even though they (Livonia Stevenson) lost a lot of people, they're still big up front. He (Clark) proved he's a strong runner."

fourth-down pass was batted down.

RU failed to pick up a first down in three plays, but Scott's first punt was fumbled by the Stevenson return man, allowing the Panthers' Paul Horen to fall on the ball at the Spartans' 33.

Stevenson's defense stiffened and Jason Ward's catch on fourth-down and 14 fell shy of the first down by four yards.

The Spartans took over at their own 26 and three plays later, Clark broke through the line of scrimmage and went in untouched for the first score with 3:02 remaining in the first quarter.

Following another RU punt, the Stevenson offense took over at its own 32.

Stevenson capped a 14-play drive with a 13-yard TD pass from Bachelier to Backus with 4:59 left in the first half. Junior Jason Borregard's first of three extra points made the score 13-0.

The Spartans' offensive line of Eric Curl, George Murphy, Kevin Rosinaki, Chris Arsenault and Matt Bartlett improved as the game went on.

"This is exciting, a big rush," said Curl, a standout both ways, according to Gabel.

Bachelier capped a nine-play, 87-yard drive with a 4-yard pass to Allison in the corner of the end zone on fourth and goal from the 4 with 3:43 remaining in the third quarter.

The Spartans scored in a hurry on their next possession, as Bearer rambled 35 yards for a score with 1:00 remaining.

The Spartans start play in the Western Lakes Activities Association at 1 p.m. Saturday at Livonia Franklin, Gabel's alma mater.

"(Franklin assistant coach) Chris Whalen is my neighbor, and (head coach) Rick Lee and Steve Frye are my friends," Gabel said. "I hope they go 8-1 every year."

Gordon said. "It was a tremendous effort by Toby."

Glenn capped the scoring early in the fourth quarter, marching 44 yards in eight plays, capped by Jackson's 1-yard dash.

Highlanders QB Ventura, who completed his first three passes of the game, missed his last six and was picked off twice, once by Toby and the other by Jackson.

"Physically we were man-handled in the second half," Howell coach John Dukes said. "Glenn pretty much plays smashmouth football. We made a couple terrible mistakes here and there, and the way they played, you can't make mistakes. You can't afford to make turnovers against a team like that and expect to win."

"Their defense was sound. We had a tough time. They came real hard on us."

As it turned out, Howell's best play of the evening occurred on the opening kickoff.

"We know Glenn's history for special teams and we didn't want their people getting a chance to make a return," Dukes said. "We wanted to punt out of bounds when we could."

Glenn, with 167 yards total, all on the ground, did not complete a pass in six attempts.

Adrian tops Wayne; Churchill blanked

ROUNDUP

Wayne Memorial came up short in its season football opener Friday at Adrian, losing to the Maples, 28-18.

The Zebras dominated early, taking a 10-0 first-quarter lead on a 57-yard touchdown pass from junior quarterback Lorenzo Guess to senior receiver Richard Buford. Guess added the two-pointer with 4:15 left in the period on a run.

Mark Kennedy, who recovered an Adrian fumble earlier, came up with a sack for two-point safety to make it 10-0 in favor of the Zebras.

With 2:49 left in the second quarter, after a fumbled Wayne punt return, Adrian's Scott Peshke scored on a 3-yard run and Brian McCullough added the first of his four consecutive extra points to cut the deficit to 10-7.

On the second play of the third quarter, Adrian took the lead for keeps when Brad Labadie ran a trap and raced in from 57 yards out.

The Maples scored again less than a minute later after another Wayne fumble. Quarterback Mark Bruggeman hit Ed Herr with a 27-yard pass.

Things got only worse for Wayne at the eight-minute mark when Rufus Tindall blocked a Wayne punt and recovered in the end zone.

"We had some missed assignments and we bottomed out once they went ahead," Wayne coach Chuck Howton said. "Once we got down 18 (points), we got our 'dobbers' down."

Wayne scored in the final period with 8:08 left, marching 69 yards in eight plays capped by Dwayne Jackson's 4-yard TD run. Lorenzo Guess hit twin brother Lavelle with the two-point pass, but the Zebras failed to recover the ensuing onside kick.

Guess, despite heavy pressure, hit seven of 11 passes for 109 yards.

"We had to do some other things when we got down 18, but the bottom line is that we just didn't block for Lorenzo," Howton said.

Defensively, Richard Rashad and Karl Calloway intercepted passes for Wayne.

DEARBORN 35, CHURCHILL 0: Senior Mike Alaweh rushed for 109 yards and three touchdowns Friday to lead the visiting Pioneers over Livonia Churchill.

Alaweh, who had 10 carries, scored on runs of 10, 8 and 7 yards as the Pioneers took leads of 13-0 in the first quarter and 28-0 at halftime.

Dearborn had 199 yards on the ground and 89 through the air, the Chargers 77 and 28, respectively.

Junior Todd Wilson had all but five of Churchill's rushing total on 15 attempts, and junior quarterback Nathan Jerome was 5-of-13 passing with two interceptions.

If the Chargers had a little more time, they might have averted a shutout. The game ended with Churchill on the Dearborn 1-yard line.

Stevenson wins 5th straight relays

By C.J. RISK
STAFF WRITER

Another year, another title. . . Or so it seems to go for Livonia Stevenson's girls swim team. Is there anyone in the Western Lakes Activities Association capable of stopping this Spartan express?

Not at this juncture — meaning in this decade. The season-opening WLAA Relays, hosted by Plymouth Salem Thursday, is a typical example. By the mid-point of the event, coaches from the other 10 teams knew (if indeed they needed convincing prior to the meet) that Stevenson could collect top honors by almost any margin.

"It's been four years, at least (five, to be precise)." Olson pondered the question for a moment longer, then continued. "They had that 'down' period a few years back. And we really enjoyed taking advantage of it."

It's unlikely any WLAA team will be able to reap such pleasure any time soon. The Spartans rolled to a first-place finish in the '95 Relays, sponsored by the Plymouth and Canton Rotary Clubs, scoring 262 points. Northville was second (228). See team standings.

The Spartans won five of the 10 relays, but — as if to prove their dominance — four of their firsts came in the first five events.

Tina Caranicolas, Becky Noechel, Julie Kern and Marti McKenzie combined for a win in the first event, the 400-yard medley relay (4:18.67). Noechel, Heather Dallas, McKenzie and Jordyn Godfroid teamed for a win in the third event, the 200 breaststroke relay (2:14.60).

Two wins in three races, and Stevenson's top swimmer — Anne Aristeo, a double-winner at last year's Class A finals — hadn't even competed yet. "You can put her with any other three swimmers, in any race, and they'll win," Olson said of Aristeo, with little (or no) exaggeration.

Aristeo, a junior, did get in the 200 backstroke relay and was part of a winner, with Julie Gallagher, Tonya Culp and Anne Moore (2:02.17). The Spartans collected their fourth first in the fifth race, the 200 butterfly relay, with Kelly Carlisle, Lynn Knapp, Jenny Marlowe and Marla McKenzie (1:56.60).

No. 5 came in the 400 individual medley relay, and it came with a record-breaking performance from Aristeo, Carlisle, Gallagher and Marlowe (4:18.63; old record, 4:24.29, set by Canton in '92).

The host Rocks had two wins to buoy their third-place finish. Zoe Yockey, the defending WLAA champion in diving, and Laura Berezak combined for a first in the diving relay (4:07.25 points), and Yvonne Lynn, Katie Bonner, Sara Casillas and Kellyann Williams won the 200 medley relay (1:58.77).

Other wins went to Harrison's Lisa Richardson, Julie Kluka, Karina Forberger and Dona Schwalm in the 400 free relay (3:56.33); North Farmington's Stephanie Cohen, Amanda Whitten, Cheri Farber and Amy Finkel in the 200 free relay (1:46.92); and Northville's took the crescendo free relay.

Phill rates Spartans 4th in Class A poll

By BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Livonia Stevenson girls swim coach Greg Phill is trying to keep the preseason hype to a minimum.

Although the Spartans rolled through the Western Lakes Relays Thursday (see related story), it's too early to tell what kind of team Phill will send to state Class A meet this November.

Last year Stevenson took sixth, but Phill admits this team may be a little better.

"We're probably a little deeper," he said. "I'd rank us fourth right now behind Ann Arbor Pioneer, (Birmingham) Seaholm and (Grand Rapids) Forest Hills Central (the defending champs)."

Stevenson returns several standouts including junior Anne Aristeo, a U.S. Olympic Trials qualifier and state champ in the 500-yard freestyle and 200 individual medley.

Other notable returnees include Tina Caranicolas, Julie Gallagher, Kelly Carlisle, Becky Noechel, Lynn Knapp, Heather Dallas, Jordyn Godfroid, Marla McKenzie, Tonya Culp, Anne Moore and Jenny Marlowe.

Two freshmen, Julie Kern and Marti McKenzie, also made their presence immediately known at the WLAA Relays.

"Julie should score at the state meet," Phill said. "Some of her splits were three seconds faster than the state cut."

"And Marti is pretty good, too. Her goal is to qualify for the state. She's a lot like her older sister Michelle, who swam for me here." Stevenson could also get a boost from diver Beth Gallagher, who helped the Spartans take a third in the WLAA meet. Gallagher is on track to break Jenny Sabina's 1993 school record.

"She's been diving really well and she might be the best diver Stevenson has had in awhile," Phill said.

Phill spread out his lineup during Thursday's opening-season meet.

"It's real early and we didn't load up in any event, but I thought we swam really well and we had a couple of surprising drops from other people," he said. "But you put Aristeo on any team and they're going to be good. But we also have others. We swam real well. It's nothing I didn't expect because most of our kids swim year-round."

Work those off-season kinks out

AL HARRISON

The bowling season is suddenly upon us, and perhaps some of us were not quite ready for the new beginning. Sometimes a word to the wise is a handy thing to do, and while I do not claim to know more than anyone else about the sport, I offer some advice for my fellow bowlers. Ray Krauter of Ray's Bowling Pro Shop in Westland Bowl says a common problem for those who put the ball away for the Summer is "It doesn't fit right," when they return. The size and span of the holes did not change at all. Your hand did, said Krauter.

The fact is that it may have just shrunk or atrophied a little from lack of bowling for three months. Ray says to get out and throw a few practice games for a couple of days and see if your hand doesn't just stretch right back to where the ball fits the same as it always did.

For those who gained or lost a lot of weight, you may have to have it plugged and re-drilled to fit properly. If your finger or thumb is just a fraction off, it could affect your release and take a lot of pins off your game. He also suggests that you check the soles of your bowling shoes very carefully if they have been stored with the ball over the summer, as some of the lane oil which gets on the ball could work it's way into the shoes.

If this happens to you, a good working over with a wire brush or Brillo pad will restore the natural finish and your slide will be as you would expect it to be.

Another thing to do is take an inventory of your supplies, if you use bowlers tape, easy slide or other such items.

Krauter does not recommend the use of a resin bag for bowling; there are better "grip" items on the market than resin bags and much less messy to have around.

If the lanes at first seem to be hooking a lot, or not very much, do not panic. They could have been resurfaced over the Summer and have more than the usual amount of oil to begin the season. If you bowl in several different houses, you may choose to have a different ball that works best in each place.

I am not suggesting that you must have a dozen different bowling balls, maybe two or three would suffice, but in many cases, a different ball will seem to work better in different conditions. Unless you are a pro, it may take a while to figure it out.

Physically, if you have not bowled for a while, try a little stretching exercise, before you hit the lanes. Another thing you may want to do is keep a record of your scores. Most bowling centers have those pocket size scorecards on the counter and they are free for the taking.

I have kept them up since I started bowling in 1961 and can tell you exactly how many 200 games, 600 series and 700's I have had.

It's really pretty easy, and if you miss a week or so, the secretary has all your scores for the season. If you want to improve your game, the best way is simply to get out and practice, practice, practice.

Many houses have special rates at certain times which makes the practice sessions more affordable, especially if you happen to be a senior citizen. When you are on practice time, don't be shy about experimenting with a different "line."

That's something you may not want to try during league play, so check with your local bowling center on open play, especially for when they would have any special rates.

I suggest a visit to the local pro shop at the beginning of the season. You may want to have your ball professionally sanded or polished, depending on lane conditions.

At any rate it's a good idea to get to know your pro shop operator. He will give you the best advice. If they do any coaching, he may be just the person to see during practice time.

There is still time to sign up for the Pro-Am at Taylor Lanes in conjunction with the PBA Greater Detroit Open Pro Tournament. It is a chance to bowl with the pros, win some money, and come away with a new ball, the Red Zone from Brunswick.

Squad times are 1, 5:30, 8 and 10:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6th; also, 2:30, 5, 7:30 and 10 p.m. Saturday Oct. 7.

Youth bowling squads (ages 5-21) will meet at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 6.

Hurry up and get in on the action while there are still some spots open, as some of the squads are already full. For further details call (313) 946-9092.

Pontiac Sunfire burns up the road

By Anne Fracassa
Avanti NewsFeatures

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. — The news came suddenly and there wasn't time to get another car. The prospect of traveling hundreds of miles from Detroit to northern Tennessee overnight in a small car like the 1995 Pontiac Sunfire didn't seem too inviting.

After all, the Sunfire is a subcompact. And I'm tall. I like to have room when I'm in a car for more than a couple of hours.

Gomer Pyle would have yelled "shazamm!" if he could have driven a Sunfire instead of an Army jeep. Believe it or not, the Sunfire was a pleasant surprise, surprise, surprise, Sgt. Carter, because it logged an incredible 54 miles per gallon on the freeway, significantly higher than the 32 mpg estimate reported by the Environmental Protection Agency for this car. More on that later.

The Sunfire surprised me so much I actually looked forward nameplate on the rear deck lid and gorgeous styling. It's not too aggressive, however, and can easily be a lady's car.

The Sunfire is powered by a standard 2.2-liter 4-cylinder overhead valve engine outfitted with a smooth shifting 5-speed manual transmission. Driven was the 2-door SE coupe, which is the base model priced at just over $11,000.

It performed well on the trip — which was mostly straight interstate driving. Exiting and entering the highway didn't produce any white knuckles, so it accelerated well, but didn't leave anyone in the dust.

The interior instrumentation is wrapped around the driver — almost to the exclusion of the front passenger. It's got full instrumentation, including a tachometer — sometimes something you only get on those higher-priced sports jobs.

The center console is well planned and includes cupholders, armrest and a side-mounted parking brake. Take out the ashtray, and you've got yet another functional cupholder.

Built in Lordstown, Ohio, and Lansing, Mich. (along with the Chevrolet Cavalier), the Sunfire's rear seating area is nearly non-existent, mostly because taller people tend to flat-out maximize the leg room in front. We jammed a cooler, some snacks, the road atlas and a AAA Trip-Tik (with some bad info), a ton of magazines and the laptop back there and it all seemed comfortable. There are rear heating and air conditioning ducts — also usually found in more expensive cars — for rear passenger comfort.

In the trunk, the two suit bags, a duffel, some toys to bring back for the girls and a few groceries fit nicely. The rear seat folds down, giving you a lot of room. Actually, that's probably the best use for the rear seat — as extra cargo room — and not to carry passengers. Your dog would fit back there, unless he's a German shepherd.

And the glove box: The thing can almost hold a 5-liter box of wine — without the box, though. Pontiac engineers say it's actually 4.9 liters. An average-size ladies purse (not mine, though) could actually fit in there.

Another good thing — the ashtray/lighter area has a little pocket for the lighter to be stored in. You know how annoying it is to hear that little lighter roll around somewhere when you've plugged in the cell phone? Well, this little pocket keeps it secure and out of your way. A nice touch.

Now ... Pontiac engineers say this is impossible. But we don't work for Pontiac so we'll tell you what we found: Our car totaled 54 miles per gallon on flat interstate driving in the neighborhood of 1,100 miles. The test Sunfire was especially fuelish going from Detroit to Dayton ($4 in gas) and from Dayton to Louisville (another $5 in gas).

From Detroit to Clarksville, we had put only $17 in the tank. The ride home cost us $22.75 in gas taking the exact same route.

In all, we paid $39.75 in gas money going from Detroit to Tennessee and back to Detroit.

If we had flown, it would have cost more than $1,000 per person.

Official EPA numbers are 24 city and 36 highway. All I know is the car got great mileage.

The Sunfire comes in four flavors: The base SE coupe, the 4-door SE sedan, the 150-horsepower 2.3-liter Quad 4 GT model and the SE convertible.

All come standard with dual air bags, full instrumentation, a rear folding seat, anti-lock brakes, a stainless steel muffler and tailpipes, 100,000-mile spark plugs, a 15.2-gallon fuel tank and power mirrors.

Smart styling and the decent price make this a great small car. And if the base model is this good, imagine what fun the GT or convertible must be.
