

Focus:HOPE exec to launch economic club season

The Canton Economic Club will launch its seventh season at noon Wednesday, Sept. 20 featuring the Rev. William Cunningham, executive director of Focus: HOPE, a civil and human rights organization.

Rev. Cunningham Under his leadership, Focus: HOPE has developed the Food Prescription Program distributing USDA commodities to 52,000 low-income mothers and children each month and Food for Seniors providing a monthly food supplement to 34,000 elderly poor.

Since 1981, Focus:HOPE has been expanding the Industry Mall, which includes four manufacturing companies employing 160 workers and a sequence of three manufacturing technology training programs.

Focus: HOPE's Center for Advanced Technologies, a new national demonstration center that opened in 1993, offers a six-year curriculum combining structured work experience with applied engineering study conducted by a consortium of Michigan universities.

Father Cunningham was recently selected to be a panelist for the U.S. Congressional Office of Technology Assessment — an analytical support agency that will examine how the convergence of communication information and video technologies might affect business in the United States. He also serves as a member of the Michigan's 2000 Committee to achieve the six national education goals.

Tickets for the noon luncheon and program are $15 per person. For reservations call Joan Noricks, executive director of the Canton Community Foundation, at 981-3002.

The economic club meets in the new Summit On the Park Community Center on Summit Parkway (off Canton Center Road south of Cherry Hill in the Canton Township Municipal complex).

Also featured in the 1995-1996 economic club season will be Ricardo Solomon, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners; and Teresa Brooks, director of Dykema Gossett's National/International Health Care Practice.

Ricardo Solomon

Solomon will address the group on Wednesday, Oct. 18.

As chairman of the commission, Solomon has worked with local commissioners to establish a citizens advisory commission soliciting feedback from county residents.

He holds a bachelor's degree in political science from Morehouse College in Atlanta and a master's in business management from Central Michigan University. He is also a certified economic development specialist and a certified international trade specialist.

Before being elected as chairman of the 15-member Wayne County Commission, Solomon served as a commissioner representing the 7th District in Detroit.

On Wednesday, Nov. 15, Brooks will offer an insider's view of the upcoming congressional budget battle on health care.

Teresa Brooks

Brooks has a national reputation as a health care specialist with more than 25 years experience with health-related issues.

She was formerly director of legal affairs and policy development of the Michigan Hospital Association, associate director of federal agency liaison in the Washington office of the American Hospital Association.

Brooks lectures and publishes on a wide variety of health law topics. She was selected by "Crain's Detroit Business" as one of the area's top female business leaders.

The Canton Economic Club, which meets at noon the third Wednesday of every month September-May, is sponsored this year by Rudolph Libbe and the Observer Newspapers.

"Although there will be lots that is new, the Canton Economic Club will continue the tradition of bringing to western Wayne County a variety of recognized leaders in business, industry and government," said Susan Rosiek, managing editor of the Observer Newspapers and president of the Canton Economic Club for the 1995-1996 season.

Season tickets for economic club luncheons are $125 per person and available by calling 981-3002.

Area alumni lead school cleanup effort

BY MARY RODRIQUE
STAFF WRITER

What do actor George C. Scott, Wayne County Executive Edward McNamara, and state Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, have in common?

They are all graduates of Redford High School, and two of them (sans Scott) are doing something to rehabilitate the old Detroit school near Six Mile and Grand River.

"It's a lot of fun, but it's also a great way to give back to the community," said Banks, a veteran lawmaker and class of 1959 alumna.

McNamara established the Redford Alumni board of directors when he marked the 50th anniversary of his graduation from Redford.

An official board of directors with 25 members was established in April 1994. Since then, the group has increased membership to 250, raised $10,000 during its first annual golf outing to benefit the school, obtained free landscaping for the school grounds, participated in a career day, and set up Saturday, Sept. 23 as paint-the-school day.

"We've had a newsletter and done one mailing. The word is spreading," said Dick Harrick, class of '59, and owner of a Livonia insurance agency.

Other local members of the Redford Alumni Board include Mack Carpenter, Jo Griffing of Livonia, Dave Palmer, Julia Foster Belcher and Kenneth Kelsey of Farmington Hills, Megan Miller of Farmington, Gary Bailey of Plymouth, Ned Liddle of Birmingham, Gerald Levin and John Artz of Bloomfield Hills, Jim Garpow of Beverly Hills, Walter Neal of Southfield, and Chuck Childress of Northville.

Also on the board are Livonia businessman and Novi resident Phil Zimmerman, Trlette Lipsy, Ernest Peck, Angellique Madison and Kenneth Davies of Detroit, Don Kleckner of Rochester, and Bruce Berend of Plante & Moran in Southfield.

Harrick came on board a year ago and has worked on various projects.

"If one person tried to do something, it wouldn't work, but a group can do many things together," he said. "We're meeting every week now. We have a lot of people willing to volunteer time or materials."

With 2,400 students today, Redford High is the largest high school, both in terms of student population and size, in the city of Detroit, according to Harrick.

"We're providing the impetus to continue this arrangement long-term. We're trying to get residents and students involved in a partnership," he said.

For the painting project on Sept. 23, Harrick anticipates 300

Redford alum: Megan Miller of Farmington and Livonia business owner Phil Zimmerman are members of the Redford High School Alumni Board which helped to organize a recent golf outing which raised $10,000 for school improvements.

Area lawmakers host senior celebration

Preparations are nearly complete for the first western Wayne County senior citizen celebration day on Saturday, Sept. 16.

The program is from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Burton Manor, 27777 Schoolcraft Road in Livonia. It includes a free breakfast, free lunch, noted speakers, entertainment, and a consumer fair with 45 booths. More than 1,200 seniors are expected to attend.

"The only expense to seniors is a $1 registration fee that can be paid at the door," said state Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford, one of four sponsors along with Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, Jim Ryan, R-Redford, and Deborah Whyman, R-Canton.

"The level of support has been overwhelming, and I look forward to a day totally dedicated to seniors. It's a time to celebrate the immeasurable contributions they make to our community every day."

Secretary of State Candace Miller, and Esther Shapiro, director of Detroit's consumer affairs department, are the keynote speakers. They will answer questions and talk one-on-one with residents. Local elected officials will also be there to discuss senior issues.

Also scheduled to attend are U.S. senators Carl Levin and Spencer Abraham, U.S. Rep. Joe Knollenberg, and state senators R. Robert Geake and Loren Bennett.

"This event is a perfect opportunity for seniors to get the information they need in all areas of services including housing, finance, health care, utility programs, and much more," said

Law. "It's also a chance to bend the ear of several area lawmakers and share their ideas and concerns."

Ryan said organizing this special event could not have been possible without the support of several sponsors and the hard work of a local senior advisory board.

"Major contributors like Ameritech, MichCon, NBD, and Detroit Edison have made the difference in the program's size and scope," said Ryan. "Their participation and financial backing allowed us to accommodate over 1,000 seniors and keep the registration fee affordable. Today's seniors are very active in their community, and this program gives us the ability to pool our resources in an effort to resolve problems unique to older residents."

Whyman said the program's goal is to foster a productive dialogue on improving the quality of life for western Wayne County seniors.

"We want to educate and expose area residents to the many valuable options available to them," Whyman said. "Between the many community programs geared toward seniors, including technological changes and medical advancements, this will be a one-stop source of information."

"I look forward to talking with as many people as possible, and I hope local seniors take time to attend. I am confident it will be worthwhile for residents and the start of an annual event."

For more information, contact Sallie Nyhan at (617) 373-1863.

SC taste fest Sunday

Tickets are still available for the Schoolcraft College fourth annual culinary extravaganza 2-5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 17, in the college's Waterman Center.

All proceeds fund student scholarships.

More than 60 of the finest restaurants and beverage corporations in the Detroit metropolitan area will offer samples to taste or drink.

An expanded wine auction is planned. Entertainment will be provided along with the drawing of raffle prizes and the announcing of who submitted the winning bid for a dinner to be prepared by restaurateur Joe Muer.

Tickets for the event are $40 per person, or two for $75. Raffle tickets are $5 each or three for $10. Both can be purchased by calling Schoolcraft's Institutional Advancement office at (313) 462-4417. Visa, MasterCard, Discover and personal checks are accepted.

Madonna reunion slated

All nursing alumni from Madonna University are invited to attend the Madonna College of Nursing and Health eighth annual alumni reunion, featuring a luncheon and fashion seminar, scheduled Saturday, Sept. 23.

The event will begin at 11 a.m. with an optional motherhouse tour and Mass; a 45-minute social hour will begin at 12:15 p.m.; and the luncheon and fashion seminar will be held 1-3 p.m.

The cost is $18 and friends and family are welcome. For information, call the alumni office at (313) 591-5127.

Madonna is located at I-96 and Levan roads in Livonia.

to 400 student and parent volunteers to join with alumni members to paint 46 classrooms plus hallways and bathrooms in the oldest part of the school.

"I took a driving tour of the neighborhood. The homes were well kept, but the high school was an eyesore," Harrick recalled.

"The school board doesn't have enough funds to make the improvements. We did a landscape improvement project in August and the students and teachers thought it was great. We need to impact on everyone."

According to Harrick, some bathrooms inside the school remain permanently closed. A parent volunteer single-handedly maintains the football field. There are only two lawn mowers for five acres of property. Windows targeted for replacement five years ago are still in place.

"When I went there, we had 25 custodial workers," he said. "Today there are five."

It's not just the outward appearance the alumni group hopes to impact. It's the students themselves. Bankes cites a dropout rate of 50 percent for the freshmen class.

"What good are they to the community dropping out that early?" asked Bankes. "All of our efforts must be toward keeping kids in school."

Bankes spoke to four classes last career day about welfare reform and teen pregnancy.

"I think they want to hear the other side, the Republican perspective," she said. "We had a great debate."

Bankes is working, along with McNamara and others, to make

"I can't emphasize how much support and help is needed. High school might be just a blip in people's lives, but so much of what you learn there stays with you."

'Customers' like middle schools

Providers of a product or service like to brag about how well they are doing in their business or profession. But the true test is whether the consumers of that product or service are satisfied.

That's the situation in the Wayne-Westland school district, where there was a major transition from the traditional junior high schools to middle schools now housing sixth-, seventh- and eighth-graders. Previously, sixth-graders were part of the elementary school program.

Initial reports from students are generally positive.

While adult school leaders debate the need to have a revised curriculum, staff training and parental involvement, the students themselves are more interested in lunch menus, locker assignments and hallway traffic between classes.

The comments from sixth-graders during the first week of school made it clear that they like the atmosphere of a middle school.

The school administration admitted a few glitches, but that shouldn't be unexpected in such a massive change as the one undertaken.

But the key issue to remember is that the new middle school program will help improve the quality of education for those students at a time when businesses as well as federal and state government leaders are clamoring for a higher level of performance from graduates.

The middle school program, recommended within the past school year by then-Superintendent Larry Thomas, should go a long way toward achieving that goal.

Volunteers will be honored

Thousands of people in Westland volunteer for a variety of tasks: coaching Westland Youth Athletic Association teams, helping their churches prepare meals for homeless people, or serving as room parents at their neighborhood schools.

To help honor these unsung heroes, the Westland Chamber of Commerce and Westland Observer are co-sponsoring the 10th annual First Citizen of Westland community service award.

Deadline for submitting nominations is 5 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 25.

Eligible are people who have volunteered their time to help improve the quality of life for the community or a segment of the city.

The Observer strongly urges residents to look around their neighborhood and nominate one or more potential First Citizens for the annual award.

Nominations are to be submitted to the Westland Observer Editorial Department, First Citizen Award, 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia 48150. Our fax number is 591-7279.

Mergers impact local consumers

We've been reading the headlines for weeks now. Disney buys Cap Cities-ABC; Westinghouse buys CBS; Time-Warner, which last year bought Advance-Newhouse Broadcasting, wants to merge with Turner Broadcasting.

Let's not forget the phone companies — Ameritech, Bell Atlantic, et al. — who want to jump into cable and snap up anything else communications-related that doesn't happen to be bolted down.

The summer of media mergers on Wall Street has big implications for Main Street. The changing landscape in corporate America, particularly in the telecommunications and cable television industries, requires consumers to be ever more vigilant.

Decisions about what cable channels your system carries and what kind of phone service you get, at what rate, will ultimately be made hundreds or even thousands of miles away from local communities — in board rooms where local issues are likely to receive short shrift when compared to the bottom line.

Take cable, for example. MetroVision — which had provided service in Livonia, Redford and Farmington Hills through 1994 — is now part of Time-Warner Entertainment, headquartered in New York.

Yes, MetroVision's local staff is still on hand to administer service. But they answer to a different executive suite. In Time-Warner, they are allied with a multimedia conglomerate that carries a heavy amount of debt.

Ameritech, formerly Michigan Bell, keeps a strong regional presence in Southeastern Michigan. But the company is headquartered in Chicago, not exactly a local call if you want to talk to somebody in the front office.

Which is why local cable commissions and the state Public Service Commission, which regulates phone companies, will take on increasingly important roles in the communications revolution. They provide residents the best opportunity to voice their concerns about local service. They are nonpartisan and have more clout, by nature of their collective power, than individuals.

But how many people know who their local cable commissioners are, or when the group meets? And when was the last time anyone called the Public Service Commission (1-800-292-9555) or attended a hearing on phone rates?

People need to abandon the notion that cable television is strictly entertainment, or that the telephone is merely a convenience. Phone lines, remember, are the data transport system on the information superhighway.

Information is power. It would be smart for consumers to recall this as the free-enterprise feeding frenzy among communication companies picks up speed.

Nurseries thanked

Thanks to the help of three local nurseries, the historic Nankin Mill has new greenery to go with its recent renovation and expansion.

The three are Artman's Westland Nursery, 32593 Cherry Hill; Barson's Greenhouse of 6414 Merriman, and Panetta's Landscaping, 8500 Middlebelt, who came to the aid of the Friends of Nankin Mills and the Wayne County Parks Department when funds for adding flowers and plants around the exterior were running low.

The building is beautiful and we wanted the grounds to look the same; I approached the three longtime retailers for help. All quickly donated a large stock of perennial garden plants.

Their generous donations really helped beautify the grounds. Both Nancy Darga of Wayne County parks and I want to give them our heartfelt thanks.

Nankin Mill on Ann Arbor Trail in Westland is the home of the Wayne County Parks Department. Parts of the mill date to the 1860s. Henry Ford used the mill as one of his "village industries" in the 1920s. The expanded mill will have an interpretive center and meeting rooms which will be open to the public. The Friends of the Mill have helped raise funds for the renovation and restoration of the mill.

Don't merge courts

The proposed legislation to merge Wayne County Circuit Court and Recorder's Court will compromise the efficiency of Wayne County's case flow and result in increased rights for felonious criminals. Therefore, we respectfully urge you to oppose the legislation and maintain local control over crime prevention.

In 1987, Recorder's Court agreed to help Wayne County Circuit Court with criminal cases where both the Wayne County prosecutor and defendants consented. Perhaps due to their specialization in trying criminal cases, statistics of capital cases show that Recorder's Court judges are tougher on crime than Circuit Court judges. As a result, the Circuit Court's five-year backlog has been eliminated. In fact, in 1989 and 1990 the National Center for State Courts recognized the leadership of the Recorder's Court due to its effective case flow management as one of six "Profiles of Success" in the nation.

As a result of the proposed merger, judges will not specialize in criminal or civil law, and Wayne County Circuit Court will return to its five-year backlog. Justice will creep along at a snail's pace, and criminals will be the only winners.

Wayne County's sovereignty is threatened by the proposed merger, which is just another attempt by Lansing politicians to usurp local authority. State government is intruding into the lives and safety of Wayne County residents by interfering in its criminal justice system. The Circuit Court judges, elected by all Wayne County residents, have agreed to the current system to secure efficient and equitable justice for their constituents.

Wrong priorities

Is it too much to hope that our politicians will ever learn to put the most important issues on the top of the list?

We hear all this hue and cry about a new baseball stadium when our public schools are in urgent need of restructuring.

Our roads and overpasses are falling down around us, and we worry about a sports complex.

Compared to the state's population, very few would benefit from a new stadium — built, incidentally, to make the rich richer.

We already pay a large tax on gasoline that is supposed to go into road repair but our roads are atrocious.

Decent roads and top-flight schools would benefit a large majority of our citizens.

Everyone talks about schools and roads but we aren't getting any action.

Somehow we need to shake them up in Lansing and get things moving.

Budget juggling act

School retirees' benefits funded — for now

BY TIM RICHARD
STAFF WRITER

State lawmakers this week are helping school districts pay for retirees' health benefits in fiscal 1995 by dipping into the 1990 budget.

"This resolves it for September (of '95), and that's all," said Rep. Maxine Berman, D-Southfield, a member of the House Appropriations Committee.

"This is a shell game, but there's not even a pea under the shell. School districts and retirees should be worried," Berman said Tuesday before the unanimous committee completed its borrowing act.

Added Rep. Lyn Bankes, R-Redford: "To resolve this, we took money from June of 1996 and put it in the September '95 budget."

The June '96 date was picked because the Supreme Court is expected to resolve the issue of school retirees' health benefits by then, Bankes said.

The money juggling act is contained in House Bill 4084, a one-session measure that appropriates $139.5 million from the '96 school aid fund into the '95 budget. "It's the shortest school aid bill ever," quipped the sponsor, Rep. Glenn Oxender, R-Sturgis.

Without it, Oxender said, Michigan's 660 public school districts would suffer a 47 percent shortfall in their abilities to pay retirees' health benefits.

Panel chair Don Gilmer, R-Augusta, called for swift, bipartisan action in both chambers to waive a waiting rule, give the bill immediate effect and facilitate state aid payments by Sept. 21, one day behind schedule. The unanimous vote Tuesday indicated lawmakers would respond.

The problem arose with the Supreme Court's April 25 decision in the so-called "Musselman case," the short title for the suit by Ann Musselman and seven school retirees against Gov. John Engler, Treasurer Douglas Robertson and the Legislature.

Musselman mandated that the Legislature pre-pay their health benefits at the time of retirement. Engler had done prior to 1990, but in a budget in his first year as governor, made the benefits annual.

In a 6-0 decision, the Court said the state constitution makes such benefits "a contractual obligation . . . which shall not be diminished or impaired." The justices added, "However, because we have no authority to order the governor or the Legislature to appropriate funds, mandamus is denied."

Engler and the Michigan Education Association have petitioned for re-hearings — hence the Legislature's decision to juggle the money into the September budget.

Here, the House Fiscal Agency's impact (in round numbers) on school districts. The number is state aid available without HB 4084; the second figure is with 4084.

Clarkston $1,700,000 and $224,000; Canton $528,500 and $600,000; Livonia $1.7 million and $3.2 million; Redford Union $523,000 and $977,000; Plymouth Canton $1.6 million and $2.8 million; Redford Union $523,000 and $977,000; South Redford $338,000 and $632,000; Wayne-Westland $1.5 million and $2.9 million; Northville $428,000 and $798,000.

KAREN MEIER

A day in court without O.J.

The O.J. Simpson trial is winding down. That's what the experts say, anyway. And the whole proceeding has been so befuddling. But then, courtroom proceedings in general are befuddling — at least to me.

A few years ago I found out just how befuddling. That's when I had my very own courtroom experience. It was quite brief, fleeting really. And most unpleasant.

I was contesting a traffic citation, just like the policeman who issued it said I could. He told me so right there in the parking lot of the doughnut shop, in front of my children and the crowd of early morning doughnut buyers who happened to witness everything from inside the glass-fronted shop.

He pointed to the back of the expensive bit of paper, showing me where the lines were that I needed to fill in to indicate my dissatisfaction with this whole business. I paid very close attention, in spite of the children's commentary: "Look at the lights flashing on the police car, that's cool. That man has a gun on his belt. His hat is scary. I bet that gun is real. Mommy, don't forget I want the red-jelly-inside-frosting-on-top doughnut. I think you're going to be real late for work, Mommy."

The policeman, oblivious to that, tore the tick-

At 99, she recalls exercising right to vote in 1918

Agnes Reingans remembers the first time she voted — in a local election in South Milwaukee. It was a milestone because she was one of the first women to vote in the U.S. before the 19th Amendment was ratified.

BY SUE MASON
STAFF WRITER

Sometimes, Agnes Reingans has a hard time remembering. When you're almost age 99, it's understandable. Sorting out so many years of information and memories can be mind-boggling to say the least.

But the long-time South Milwaukee, Wis., resident and current Livonia resident does remember the year she voted for the very first time and who was president. It was 1918 and Woodrow Wilson was steering the country through World War I.

No, the date isn't wrong. Yes, Reingans voted two years before the 19th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution was ratified, giving women the right to vote. A change in the Wisconsin Constitution allowed her to vote in a local election, a vote that makes her one of the first women to have done so in the entire country.

"I had an aunt who said, 'Finally, I've got the right to vote,' but I didn't pay much attention to it," said Reingans. "We had voting machines and I more or less knew how to work them, but they did explain it to me."

Born and raised in South Milwaukee — "and lived no where else" — Reingans made sure she voted in every election, and with good reason. She spent 52 years as an election worker in the small Wisconsin town and was even the longest serving supervisor of the voting booths.

"I forgot who asked me to come in, but I had friends who worked for the city," Reingans said. "I earned $48-50, and I had to be there at 7 a.m. and work until we cleared. Sometimes, I didn't get home until midnight."

She also became active in the Republican party through a "gentleman friend" and, with his daughter, attended state and national conventions in the 1970s-'80s in Portland, Albuquerque, New Orleans and Dallas.

"He used to get standing ovations," Reingans recalled.

A novel life

In a way, her life reads like a period novel. The oldest of four children, she was just nine years old when her father died suddenly. While helping her mother with the household chores and the care of the younger brothers, she kept up with church activities and school, graduating from St. Mary High School where she was class valedictorian.

She went on to study bookkeep-

Much is being said about the rigorous screening process we put our doctors through.
 But don't worry.
 Some survive.

It's a tall order. And maybe not every doctor is cut out for it. But then if we're going to make things easier for our patients, we must strive to provide quality doctors. So, before any doctors become Blue Care Network doctors, before they ever examine a single patient, they must first meet or surpass some rather lofty standards. Here's what it takes. First, all doctors (personal care physicians and specialists) are reviewed against specific written criteria. (Quality of care is the thing we're measuring here.)

Moreover, an on-site inspection is conducted by specially trained staff and the results are reviewed by Blue Care Network doctors in the area.

Patient satisfaction surveys are conducted by a professional, independent research company. Here, we ask patients to evaluate their doctor's technical skills as well as the basic level of service and care.

Blue Care Network also works with its personal care physicians to ensure that standards are met.

Oh, and one more thing. After meeting all these standards, the doctors who are selected have the pleasure of repeating this process all over again every two years. For as long as they're with us.

Documentary looks at church's founder

"Everywhere you go in New Hampshire, you see a Mary Baker Eddy plaque," points out public television producer Jim Gilmore. "I started wondering 'Who was this lady?'"

The result of his wondering is "Soul of a Woman: The Life and Times of Mary Baker Eddy," which received a Wilbur Award for best film documentary for 1994 from the Religious Public Relations Council.

The one-hour special, produced by New Hampshire Public Television, will be shown on WTV8-Channel 58 in Detroit at 5 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 24.

As the documentary's narrator, Fritz Wetherbee points out that Christian Science Church founder Mary Baker Eddy's life "as she saw it, was a constant sacrifice to her mission, a radical mission of spiritual healing in a scientific age." Eddy herself said, "What I am remains to be proved by the good I do."

Eddy was born in Bow, N.H., in 1821, at a time when women had few legal rights and were not allowed to vote. A daughter of strict Calvinist parents, at an early age she learned to love the Bible, but her youth was marked by frequent illness and frailty.

Widowed by her first husband, separated from her son, and deserted by her second husband, her challenges seemed overwhelming. But as she studied her Bible, hopelessness was replaced with hope and fear with love.

Her health improved and she began writing, healing and teaching. She produced her major work, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," in 1875, and it has gone on to sell eight million copies. She established The First Church of Christ, Scientist, as well as an award-winning international newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor.

Neighborly Rosedale Gardens inspires artist

By Linda Ann Clavin • Special Writer

Watercolorist Eileen Bibby has bicycled through Livonia's oldest neighborhood nearly every day for more than two decades recording its quiet beauty in her mind. Now the 70 year old award-winning artist has captured on paper many of the stately brick homes in Rosedale Gardens, including the first built in 1925, in a one woman show of paintings continuing through Sept. 29 at Livonia City Hall. The exhibit is sponsored by the Livonia Arts Commission.

"Who has done a complete series of paintings on Livonia before?" quizzed Bibby whose work is part of the touring Michigan Water Color Exhibition on display through Oct. 8 at the Lansing Art Gallery.

"No one that I know of. I've enjoyed painting these. I give different times of day, different times of year."

Bibby spent the last two years painting the 43 watercolors and monotypes depicting the Cape Cod and colonials surrounded by flowers and gardens, snow, and autumn leaves from dawn to dusk in all four Michigan seasons. Majestic old trees line the streets in front of the homes where "Santa's Laundry" hangs on a clothesline at Christmastime, and flags fly freely during the Fourth of July.

Piles of unframed paintings lie on the floor of Bibby's studio in various stages of completion. Others which are already framed lean in neat stacks against walls and furniture. "Dorothy's Patio" took a month to complete because of all the detail laid in the brick wall that serves as a background for the rocking horse, flower pots and patio set.

A retired senior industrial designer, Bibby mastered the ability to accurately portray objects from all angles while a student at Wayne State University and Society of Arts and Crafts (now Center for Creative Studies) in Detroit. "Anyone who has an engineering background knows perspective," said Bibby, former president of the Visual Arts Association of Livonia and a long-time member of the Farmington Artists Club, and the Scarab Club in Detroit.

Part of the show is devoted to watercolor monotypes where the image is painted on a plexiglass plate then transferred to paper by hand or through the use of a printing press.

Monotype is not a medium of multiples. Only one print is obtained from this process, hence the name, monotype. Bibby will illustrate this lengthy process by displaying the original drawing for her "Auburndale Garden" monotype, the plate after it's printed, and the final work.

"Monotype comes out in reverse. There's some residue left but not enough for another print," said Bibby who studied the medium with artist Lily Dudgeon of Dearborn.

As Bibby walks through the highly manicured gardens in her backyard, she gives a treasure trove of information on the methods she uses to keep it in shape. Loose straw and snowballs are cut down to the ground at the end of the growing season. She makes it seem so simple, but it's more likely after all these years she knows every petal and plant by heart. That's what ensures the accuracy of painting the botanical beauties, years and years of study.

"There's nothing hostile or threatening in my work. I'm not capable of painting violence," said Bibby.

While most artists have a difficult time parting with their finished work, Bibby enjoys sharing the beauty with others. She hopes Rosedale Gardens' homeowners will see the show and want to purchase the paintings. Prices in the show range from $50 for a small (11 by 11 inch) watercolor monotype to $600 for a 40 by 30 inch watercolor.

"When I've completed the painting it's funny, it isn't mine anymore," Bibby said.

Philharmonic features superstar violinist

BY KEELY WYGONIK
STAFF WRITER

She's only 15, but violinist Tamaki Kawakubo is already a superstar.

"Normally a community orchestra would never get a soloist of this caliber to perform with them because their fees are so high," said Farmington Area Philharmonic founder and music director Karen Nixon Lane.

"I found out that she would be in Lansing on Sept. 23 to perform with the greater Lansing Symphony, and got in touch with her agent."

Lane learned about Kawakubo's Lansing concert from the symphony's music director, Gustav Meier. "He was my instructor at University of Michigan," said Lane. "We're co-authoring a conducting textbook."

Boston Pops this summer, will be performing Sept. 24 at the Farmington Area Philharmonic's opening Casual Classics Series concert in the Clooney Auditorium at Mercy High School in Farmington Hills.

"We're delighted to be able to bring a young instrumentalist of this caliber to our community," said Lane. "It's a refreshing variety and outstanding soloists in this year's season."

The concert of Italian music on Sept. 24 is titled "Rossini, Paganini and Pines." It will include works from the Italian opera repertoire including Rossini's overture to "L'Italiana in Algeri" and Verdi's Prelude to Act 1 from "La Traviata," as well as Respighi's orchestral favorite, "The Pines of Rome."

Send us a photo of your 'Valentino' house painter

We're looking for "Metro Detroit's sexiest house painter." Send a photo of the painter, fully clothed please! to Keely Wygonik, Entertainment Editor, Observer & Eccentric Newspapers, Inc., 36251 Schoolcraft, Livonia, MI 48150 by noon Thursday, Sept. 21. For more information, call (313) 953-2105.

The Grand Prize winner will be treated to a special evening out with the painter, and four other women chosen randomly by WNIC. The person who picks the sexiest painter will be treated to dinner, flowers, candy, champagne and a round-trip limo ride to a special preview screening of the comedy "Moonlight and Valentino" 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 28 at the Star Theatre John R. in Madison Heights. The winning photo will be published in the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers.

Fifty runner-up will receive passes for two to the Sept. 28 screening of "Moonlight and Valentino," and packages of Moon Garden seeds.

Written by Ellen Simon, Neil Simon's daughter, "Moonlight and Valentino" is the true story of Rebecca Lott (Elizabeth Perkins) whose husband is hit by a car while jogging and killed instantly. In a tragic split second, Rebecca becomes a widow.

Shell-shocked, Rebecca isn't alone for long because with the immediate arrival of her eccentric best friend Sylvie (Whoopi Goldberg), her neurotic younger sister

Lucy (Gwyneth Paltrow) and her overbearing ex-stepmother Alberta (Kathleen Turner) comes a convergence of support and enough emotional baggage for a therapist to need new springs on the old couch.

For Rebecca's birthday, Alberta hires a house painter (Jon Bon Jovi) to "spruce up her siding." This mysterious man helps them discover that letting go of something is sometimes a lot better than holding on to nothing at all. Soccer players, coaches, and parents -- write and tell us why your team needs a pick-me-up movie treat to win tickets to a 7 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 27 screening of "The Big Green" at the AMC Old Orchard Theatre in Farmington Hills.

"Clockers" is different from countless other movies dealing with big city drug trade. It's also much of the same.

Directed by Spike Lee, produced by Martin Scorsese, from a script by Richard Price, the movie could have been a '90s-era 'Goodfellas.' But like the mix of piano music and rap that comes together so noisily near the beginning, it's a collaboration that only occasionally works.

Scorsese was originally supposed to direct but then backed out to make "Casino" with Robert DeNiro instead. Lee came on board but didn't like the focus of Price's original novel, so he changed it from a middle-aged police inspector to a young drug dealer, or "clocker," named Strike.

Strike can get off the street if he performs a hit on a double crosser. Inexplicably, his brother Vincent takes the rap, leaving

REVIEW

Harvey Keitel's Inspector Rocco to put together the pieces and discover the truth.

Rodney (Delroy Lindo) controls the local drug trade like a modern-day Fagin. Despite his cold bloodedness, he treats his tight-knit drug dealers like a family, insisting that his employees stay off of the stuff they peddle. He even gives them haircuts at the corner store that serves as a front.

"What do you see?" he asks his young recruits, hands in front of them in a circle. "Not black, green."

Some clever ideas surface in "Clockers." Flashbacks, filmed in grainy, saturated color, are especially vivid, often showing Vincent at work, a "buffer" between his employers and the gang members who threaten trouble. You can see how it eats away at him.

You'll catch the usual Spike Lee touches. Cameras and characters move on dollies while conversations typically turn to whether you have to be a killer to be a great rapper. In the seeming chaos, Lee provides role models from the mother and policeman who try to separate Strike from the young boy he befriends.

"Clockers" grows false when Lee employs the stylized lighting, fumbling focus, and shaky camera from television crime shows. He seems out of his element.

Also intact are many of the quirky, eccentric touches that screenwriter Price is known for. So Strike loves Lionel trains, slugs Yoo Hoo-style drink called Moo, and has stomach problems that result in a bloody cough.

It's harder to get a handle on Keitel's character, a man driven to clean the streets but who still throws trash out the window while driving.

Some have hailed "Clockers" as Lee's best, but these are usually critics that don't like his films to begin with. For me, a Lee fan, "Clockers" is a stretch that the director misses by nearly a mile.

SCREEN SCENE

Trek's Patrick Stewart recalls his stage actor origins in his turn as a flamboyant interior decorator.

"The Usual Suspects" (USA - 1995). Five guys who meet in a police lineup join for a simple heist. What happens next will keep you guessing in this cleverly scripted caper starring Gabriel Byrne, Kevin Spacey, and Chazz Palminteri.

"The Brothers McMullen" (USA - 1995). For what some people spend on a new car, Edward Burns made this engaging first feature about a young screenwriter and his two brothers in contemporary Long Island.

Burns calls his audience pleaser a "romantic comedy for guys" and what it lacks in acting and production values it more than makes up in charm.

The Large Hungarians — The Large Hungarians

The songs on The Large Hungarians' self-titled cassette are like a witch's brew — a little of this, a little of that to create a new potion. They are mainly pop-rock songs with a little bit of folk, jazz and ska thrown in for good measure.

This is a noble proposition, creating a sound mixture that is definitely your own. The problem is that the Kalamazoo band does not make it work with the exception of a few small parts. It sounds like each member wants to go in a different musical direction, and the struggle leads to a boring middle ground where there are only hints of the potential the band has.

The trombone parts throughout the album are about the only thing that saves the songs from being really uninteresting. Most of the horn parts catch your ear for a little bit to get you into the song before the rest of the music throws you back into the sea of mediocrity.

The Large Hungarians are not a bad band, but the five songs on their self-titled release do not make them sound like a very good band either. They do not make a very good pop band, but there are hints that they might make a good ska band.

Hopefully, as they continue to grow musically, they will see that a difference in style could make them shine. Until then, there doesn't seem to be much hope.

The tape is available through Hungarian Headquarters, 4210 Valley Ridge Dr., No. 8, Kalamazoo, Mich. 49006.

Blues With A Feeling — Little Sonny

Detroit-based harmonica player Aaron Willis, dubbed "Little Sonny" after early influence Sonny Boy Williamson II, had long been out of the shadow of his mentor by the time "Blues With A Feeling — Ann Arbor Blues & Jazz Festival 1972, Vol. 2" was recorded. As vital to the serious blues harmonica fan's record library as his early Enterprise and Stax albums were, this is a revelation to the uninitiated and a reminder to those of us who just plain forgot how amazing this man was. The last time I saw him was probably around '78 or '79, and though I've been sufficiently knocked out by the new recordings, this is a trip down memory lane that's as fun to hear now as then. This is live, without the luxury even of a sound check.

Magic abounds here: The spoken intro to "Going Down Slow" ("In order for a horse to win a race, they say a horse must change his pace. In the meantime he can't win a race if he slows down all the time. He has to change his pace and speed up sometimes. There's a time to run fast, and there's a time to slow down. If you want to last, you better take it slow then move in. You gotta know to do it and when to do it. If you don't, you're in a whole heap of trouble.")

Beyond the meeting of proverb and double-entendre, it's a statement that might serve as the Little Sonny musical credo; the amazing live takes of his staples "The Creeper Returns," "Hot Potatoes" and "Sad Funk" that outdo the already impressive studio versions; the inspired scatting on "A Woman Named Trouble"; and his reinvention of Jimmy Reed's "Honest I Do," which stands as one of the best versions I've heard yet.

Sonny's got a warble to his voice that makes it as instantly recognizable as his harp, and there are very few harmonica players in history who are so distinctive.

Festival and disc producer John Sinclair's liner notes in which, among other things, he called Little Sonny one of his favorite modern bluesmen (an affection I share), are fact-filled and make an enjoyable read, and the interview at the end of the disc with Little Sonny, a man with 40 years of Detroit blues history, is riveting. This is a classy, humble man who just happens to be one of the best harp players of our time that too few folks know anything about.

(Little Sonny plays the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 16, at Gallup Park in Ann Arbor as part of the Ann Arbor Blues and Jazz Festival. For more information, call (313) 991-MUSIC.)

Comedian counters Detroit's image

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

With Trapper's Alley in financial straits, and the death of Deletha Word plastered all over national magazines and newspapers, the city of Detroit could use a few kind words.

Look no further, it's a life-sized Wendy's restaurant girl to the rescue. After a sold-out show at the State Theatre in Detroit last April, comedian Carrot Top calls the city "my new favorite place."

"I had a blast that night," Carrot Top said Monday via telephone from his Charlotte, N.C., home. "That was a good theater. The crowd was crazy. Detroit people are so nice. I felt like Cal Ripken."

He was so impressed by the city that he's considering taping a cable special at the venue. In the meantime, he'll return to the city Wednesday, Sept. 20, to play the other side of town — the Royal Oak Music Theatre.

For those who haven't seen him on MTV, The Tonight Show, Regis and Kathie Lee, Arsenio Hall Show, or Rolling Stone or People magazines, Carrot Top's shtick is trunks filled with bits and pieces of everyday life transformed into gags.

Carrot Top, who looks and acts like a cross between a spastic Raggedy Andy and Howdy Doody, whips his inventions out of the cases like a little kid who's trying to find his favorite toy at the bottom of the toy box. He'll pull out a party horn with an inhaler for asthmatics, a briefcase with a credit card machine attached for O.J. Simpson's lawyers, a fire hydrant for handicapped dogs, or a Dr. Kevoorkian bath toy — a rubber ducky with an electric plug — among other things.

Carrot Top said this show will be different than his April gig at the State.

"Well, I'll be a little older. I have a lot of new stuff. We have some new jokes and some new lights. I always try to update the show with things that have happened in the news. Like for Shannon Faulkner I have a hat with a little Twinkie dangling in the front of it to get her through her regiment better," said the comedian, who was born Scott Thompson.

His funniest new joke, he said, has to do with Hootie and the Blowfish. That's as far as he'll go.

For the Florida-born Carrot Top, rock music and comedy go hand in hand. He incorporates flash pods, loud music and backdrops to top the energy that comes with rock shows.

"That's what I wanted from the beginning. You go to concerts, and the energy is not only on the stage but in the room. It's amazing how people will line up for concerts. At comedy shows it wasn't the same. There wasn't the energy."

In November, Carrot Top will put

Anything goes: Prop happy comedian Carrot Top brings his show to the Royal Oak Music Theatre on Wednesday, Sept. 20.

his energy toward "Chairman of the Board," the first of three movies he has inked to do for Trimark Pictures.

"I'm going to bring my persona, my crazy self. It's going to be exciting. We're gonna have some of the props. I play an inventor in the movie, chairman of a big Sharper Image kind of company."

He's always looked forward to doing movies but felt a little funny about it.

"I never wanted to see myself in a movie. When it finally does hit the movie theater, I'll have to go see it on a Tuesday afternoon at 1 so I'm the only person in there. I'm afraid if (the audience) doesn't laugh. Geez, what if it sucks?" he said.

"I'll probably throw Milk Duds at the screen. I don't like hearing my own voice. I hate that. If I listen to the machine and I hear 'I'm not home right now, I hate that. I sound like a goober.'"

A book is also in the works. "It's going to be about Reba McEntire. She sold so many copies I thought I'll just call it 'Reba.' I'll tell Reba's story in my own words. No, it'll be all my jokes, my props, like a little comic book."

But the key to the all of Carrot Top's media is to have fun — he and the audience.

"It's still fun watching the crowd laughing at it. It's like I get a chance to see it in action. I sit at home and do the jokes. When they get a response, it's neat to see the process from the building stage up to the performance."

Carrot Top performs at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Sept. 20, at the Royal Oak Music Theatre, 318 W. Fourth St., Royal Oak. Tickets are $22.50 in advance for the 21 and older show. For more information, call (810) 546-7610.

Universal Stomp's bassist is having fun

BY CHRISTINA FUOCO
STAFF WRITER

Aaron Ruby of Garden City never thought that his hobby would earn him national recognition.

The bassist's hard rock band Universal Stomp has been given a thumbs up by influential trade magazines CMJ and the Gavin Report following the releases of the EP "Stomping of Jake" and the full-length CD "Full Swing." Both releases are available in most major record stores.

"I had no idea," Ruby said. "... It was just something that I normally did to pass the time, to have fun and get crazy. ... I never expected it would be like this."

Universal Stomp formed in April 1994 with Ruby, guitarist Dave Curry, guitarist Scott Poole, singer Ed McEachern, and drummer Jeff Shankin. (Shankin has since been replaced with Mike Du Fore of Livonia.)

The band marks Ruby's first foray into bass playing.

"The first couple bands I played in were really noisy punk rock bands. I used to play guitar in all those bands. (In Universal Stomp) there wasn't a bassist so I thought, 'I'll play bass for you.'" The 22-year-old said.

A fan of bands like Youth of Today and Corrosion of Conformity, he admits that Universal Stomp's combative music "wasn't anything I was into at all." But after awhile his views changed.

"It was just so much fun to play."

Saturday, Sept. 16, Universal Stomp will play for more than fun. They're playing for a good cause. 10-month-old Richi Kahl of Flat Rock who is in need of a bowel and liver transplant. Local acts Wicked Garden, Past Orange, Dr. Grinch, Downer's Grove, Honor Among Thieves, HMR, Plov, St. Francis Cadets, Euphoria, and Uncle Bastard are also on the bill at the Mosquito Club in Westland.

Stomping for a cause: Universal Stomp, who released their debut CD "Full Swing" on Novi's Overture Records, play a benefit at the Mosquito Club in Westland on Saturday, Sept. 16, for Richi Kahl, a 10-month-old baby who needs a liver and bowel transplant.

Kahl's surgery will not be covered by insurance. So far the family has raised $200,000 of the $420,000 that's needed. The baby was born with gastrochisis, a rare birth disorder in which the intestines develop outside the body.

"She's had nine surgeries already," said her grandmother Doris Bernes of Taylor. "Her short bowel is too short. She's not getting any of the nutrients that her body needs. That means we have to feed her through a tube and that goes into her chest. She has an other feeding tube through her nose. She's a very, very sick baby."

Her parents, Jeff and Denise Kahl, have two other children, Rebecca, 7, and Rachel, 5. Both are healthy. Ruby said his band was more than happy to help.

"If someone asks us to help out, how could we say no? We're happy if someone asks us for help."

The Mosquito Club is located at 28949 Joy Road, Westland. Tickets for the show are $5 for the all-ages show with proceeds going to the Richi Kahl Transplant Fund. Doors open at 3 p.m.; showtime is 4 p.m. - 2 a.m.

To donate to the Kahls, send a check payable to the Richi Kahl Transplant Fund, to P.O. Box 508, Flat Rock, MI 48134.

"The Black Cloak," to be presented by the Northville Players during the Victorian Festival this weekend, is a show filled with surprises.

Show times are 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15; 1 p.m., 3 p.m., 4:30 p.m. and 8 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 16; and 2 p.m. Sunday, Sept. 17 at the American Legion Hall, corner of Center and Dunlap Streets, downtown Northville. Tickets are $3 adults, $2 for senior citizens and children under 12, and available at the door.

"It's under an hour long," said playwright Brian McGinn. "It's based on a number of Victorian novels. I hope people will find it entertaining."

The plot goes like this. Rosalind has arranged for her brother Henry's girlfriend, Amanda, to visit him on his birthday. But Amanda shows up with unexpected surprises in tow, including a fiancé. And what of Henry? Will he lose the woman he loves and his life because of the secret plot against him? And just who is this mysterious Black Cloak person who has been thwarting local criminals? Will he be able to get to Rosalind in time to save her from the deadly clutches of Dr. Mago?

Nancy Schuster of Livonia plays Bianca, Dr. Mago's assistant. "I'm having fun with the role," she said. "Instead of being nice and sweet, I can let the nasty side out."

Julie Norbach of Northville plays Rosalind. "She's a modern woman in Victorian times. That's why I like her. She's very intelligent."

Craig Hipscher, who plays Henry, is not like his sister at all. "I'm in love with Amanda who has been away at school for years. I'm naive and innocent."

Henry is put to the test in a duel with Dr. Mago over Rosalind's hand.

Audience participation will be encouraged. You can boo and hiss at the villains, and cheer for the hero.

Northville's Seventh annual Victorian Festival, Sept. 15-17, celebrates the art, history and romance of the Victorian era.

Festivities begin with a parade in downtown Northville 6:30 p.m. Friday, Sept. 15. During the next two days, festival goers will enjoy medicine man shows, strolling street entertainers, an art market, antique show, dulcimer players, and home tour. The townspeople will turn out in their finest ruffles, bows, parasols, vintage dresses and tailcoats to celebrate Northville's turn-of-the century heritage.

There aren't any big name stars in "West Side Story," but the audience voted with their feet opening night giving this production a standing ovation.

"West Side Story," a musical by Leonard Bernstein, Stephen Sondheim and Arthur Laurents, is the love story of Tony and Maria. Tony is Polish-American, and a member of the Jets gang. Maria is an recent Puerto Rican immigrant. Her brother Bernardo is a member of the Sharks, a rival gang.

Tony and Maria meet at a school dance and fall in love. But gang rivalry gets in the way of their love.

Marcy Harriell as Maria, and Natasia A. Diaz (Anita) were stand-outs. Harriell, who toured across Europe in this role, was a very believable and sweet Maria. I especially liked her interpretation of the popular "I Feel Pretty." She sings it in her bedroom. A few of her girlfriends are on sitting on the bed. Harriell is silly, and her girlfriends aren't sure whether or not to believe her when she says, "I'm getting married tonight."

REVIEW

Diaz has also performed her role in Europe. She's able to be very serious, sexy, and funny. Her best performances were "America," and "A Boy Like That."

H.R. Greer as Tony, has an OK voice, but he doesn't seem to put as much heart into his role as Harriell and Diaz.

Annette Bergasse, owner and director of Annette & Co. dance studio in Farmington Hills, was very happy. Her son, Joshua was making his professional stage debut in the role of Baby John, a member of the Jets. Bergasse performed very well under what must have been a considerable amount of pressure. He fit right in with the guys and was especially good in "Gee, Officer Krupke."

There's a lot to like about this production, directed by Alan Johnson. The set — an urban landscape with factories, high fence, and hanging laundry, and costumes — blues for the cool Jets, hot pinks for the Sharks — are well done. Choreography by Jerome Robbins is fabulous.

The songs, including "Something's Coming" and "Somewhere" — are familiar and memorable. A traveling orchestra provides excellent accompaniment.

While very enjoyable, I did hear some complaints about the ticket prices — $60 for main floor seating on Friday and Saturday nights, $55 Tuesday-Thursday. It does seem like a lot to pay, but then, this production is scheduled to open on Broadway.

When the curtain falls for the last time, "West Side Story" will continue its tour of 30 U.S. cities including stops in Canada and Japan.

Funny '36' tackles issues of faith

Jewish Ensemble Theatre presents "36" by Norman Lessing in the Aaron Deroy Theatre, Jewish Community Center 6600 West Maple Road, West Bloomfield. Continues through Oct. 1. Show times — 8 p.m. Wednesday-Thursday; 2 & 7 p.m. Sundays; 8:45 p.m. Saturdays. Tickets $11-$22. Call (810) 788-2900 or Ticketmaster (810) 645-6666.

The Jewish Ensemble Theatre's engaging production of Norman Lessing's "36" balances comedy, serious reflection on the place of mystery and mysticism in religion, and satire to make the audience "laugh with," "laugh at," and "think" in equal measure.

Director Evelyn Orbach keeps the three-way comedy/serious/satire tension in admirable balance as the play unravels the story of a reformed temple in Cincinnati.

They're searching for the last of the 36 righteous souls for whom God preserves the world, and they find him in a beefy, big-mouthed electrician named Joe Walski (Jim Porterfield). With no religion and a Catholic wife, Walski's an unlikely candidate for a Jewish saint when he comes to repair the overloaded circuits in the lighting system at the temple where the trio of Chassids spend their days praying, studying, and kibitzing. They hang out at the reformed temple with permission of Manfred Dorfman (Robert Starok), a rabbi so modern his faith has eroded, but not so worldly that he can't revive the power of believing.

The trio of Chassids exemplify the exceptional balance of tone, temperament, and talent that pervades this production. The meddling, yet benevolent trio are led by the gently wise Nachman (Sol Friesler) in flowing white beard, the acerbic, wisecracking Mendel (Robert Grossman), and the callow, smooth-cheeked Pitrik (Daniel Kahn). The play's good-natured satire has teeth enough to bite — but never to draw blood in the hands of the powerhouse six-member cast. The play pokes fun at old-fashioned Chassidic ways, the "creative" logic of rabbinical wisdom, country club synagogues, rabbis who have lost their faith, temples in the entertainment business, rabbis as business administrators rather than spiritual leaders, the subservience of Orthodox women, etc., etc.

In a play about an electrician who "sees the light" and sheds "light" on the mystery of faith, the metaphorical wordplay is reinforced by Mark Allen Berg's lighting design and Melinda Pacha's stunning stained-glass windows set in the marble restraint of the modern temple. Nobody — Jew or gentile, Chassidic or Reformed — escapes the eyes-open vision of Norman Lessing's satire which aims not to exclude, but to include all who struggle to explain the elusive, but unifying power of faith and all who would laugh at themselves in affirmation of their shared humanity.

DINING

Plymouth Landing offers fine dining

BY RENE SKOGLUND
SPECIAL WRITER

The Plymouth Landing, on the outskirts of downtown Plymouth, is fine dining with a casual touch. It's white linen tablecloths with a vase of fresh daisies. It's a place where the dining experience is paramount.

"When you come through those portals, it's like an extension of my own dining room," said owner Jim Plakas, a former mayor of Garden City, and a very personable host. "Everything comes out of the refrigerator so to speak."

And coming out of the Plymouth Landing's kitchen are some wonderful dishes. There's fresh whitefish, sauteed in brown butter, white wine and capers; slow-roasted prime rib; two eight ounce Australian lobster tails, and daily specials, like sauteed lamb steaks or Atlantic salmon with champagne tarragon sauce. Entrees run the price gamut from $10.95 to marketplace, with most falling between $13.95 and $16.95.

Lunch offerings include a variety of soups, salads, sandwiches and beef, chicken, fish and pasta entrees. Then there's the original Black Angus Sliders, two mini patties of Black Angus beef grilled with onions and raised to fine dining status by some great trimmings. Not exactly White Castle! Lunch averages between Plakas loves talking about food. About fish he says, "It's the tender care you give the fish. Once you set it in the cooking vessel you watch it. Once you add the wine you watch it until the spirits evaporate. You can tell from the aroma."

Much of the dining enjoyment at Plymouth Landing comes from its atmosphere. It's housed in the lower level of the Markham Building (circa 1886), Plymouth's oldest commercial building still in use, and once the site of the Daisy Manufacturing Company, maker of the legendary Daisy BB guns. The building's original brick walls and oak beams (some supposedly pockmarked by BB's) make for a warm, intimate setting.

"I like the white tablecloths. There's something about white tablecloths," said Margaret Cartier of Redford. Dave DeMitre of Canton particularly liked the garlic ruskins served with his blackened swordfish. A frequent Plymouth Landing diner, he said, "I'm with Superior Coffee and I'm in a lot of restaurants throughout the country. You can come here casual for fine white tablecloth dining."

"To be successful and be returned to office you have to perform. It's the same here. The customer is the most important person in the world."

WESTLAND SPORTS SCENE

Prep cage tourney

Three top 10-ranked teams will play in the first-ever High School Invitational girls basketball tournament, Friday and Saturday, at Schoolcraft College's Physical Education Building.

Action begins at 6 p.m. Friday when Detroit Murray-Wright takes on Birmingham Marian. The second half of the doubleheader pits Beverly Hills-Detroit Country Day and Traverse City.

The consolation and championship final are set for 8 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

For more information, call Schoolcraft athletic director Ed Kavanaugh at (313) 462-4400, Ext. 6249.

Collegiate notes

The University of Detroit Mercy men's soccer team opened its season Sept. 2 with a 2-1 victory over Oakland University before a crowd of 868 at Rochester High School.

Goalkeeper Kal Kalszewski (Livonia Churchill) was sharp, registering nine saves, including three from point-blank range.

Junior forward Dominio Vella (Churchill) scored what proved to be the game-winning goal from Michael Glese (Farmington).

Meanwhile, junior midfielder Jeff Thomas (Livonia Stevenson) was out with an injury.

Freshman forward Nick Deren (Stevenson) had the lone goal for OU. He also scored twice in a 3-2 loss to Southern Indiana.

Number two singles player Tanya Berner (Livonia Franklin), who was 9-11 a year ago, returns for the UDM women's tennis team along with Laura DiBasso (Stevenson), a senior co-captain. Freshman Jennifer Wlonek (Livonia Ladywood) is also expected to compete for the No. 1 singles spot.

Ferris State senior linebacker Mike Brooks (Churchill) made 13 solo tackles and assisted on three others as the Bulldogs opened its 1995 football season with a 20-13 victory over Ashland (Ohio).

Grand Valley State cross country runner Amy Jo Paszek (Churchill) finished seventh with a time of 20:31 in the GVSU Laker Challenge.

WSU cage clinic

Wayne State University will hold its annual basketball coaches clinic Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Matthaei Building.

The clinic features WSU head men's coach Ron Hammye, who sports an 84-35 record (.710 winning percentage) during the past four years. Other head coaches include Rudy Washington, Drake University; Dan Hipsher, Akron; Garth Pleasant, Michigan Christian; Dean Lockwood, Northwood; and Keith Noftz, assistant at Bowling Green State.

The pre-registration deadline is Wednesday, Sept. 27. The cost is $30 per coach or $90 per staff (limit of four). Registration at the door, 8-9 a.m., is $40 per coach or $100 per staff. Lunch will be provided.

For more information, call (313) 577-7515 or 577-7516.

Youth baseball tryouts

The Michigan Lake Area Rams will conduct interviews and tryouts for the 1996 baseball season during the end of September and the beginning of October (times and locations to be determined).

For more information on the Little Caesars Federation Amateur Travel League team, call the following coaches:

Connie Mack (ages 17-18) - Tom Nestor (313) 291-3932 or Dan Varon (810) 737-9138;

Mickey Mantle (15-16), Pee Wee Reese (11-12) - Dan Varon (810) 737-9138;

Sandy Koufax (13-14) - Romy David (810) 887-2407 or Dan Varon (810) 737-9138;

Willie Mays (9-10) - Doug Proctor (313) 393-1671 or Dan Varon (810) 737-9138.

The Michigan Indiana/Concealed Security 9-and-under travel baseball team will have tryouts for the 1996 season at noon Saturday, Sept. 16, at Massey Field in Plymouth.

Boys with birth dates between Aug. 1, 1996, and July 31, 1997, are eligible. For information call Lou Pirronello at (313) 462-1408.

Recreational courses

Schoolcraft College's Allied-Health Continuing Education Division is accepting registration for the following recreational courses this fall: beginning kayaking, social ballroom dancing, golf club assembly, health enhancement, sailing, think trivia (one-day workshop), western line dancing, open handball, paddleball, racquetball, wallyball, volleyball (men and co-ed), water walking and boater education.

Classes began Tuesday (through Oct. 25). For more information on course dates and fees, call Continuing Education Services at (313) 462-4413.

Wayne pulls away from Glenn

Wayne Memorial is off to one of its best starts ever in girls basketball. The Zebras beat Taylor Center on Saturday and rival John Glenn on Tuesday.

BY NEAL ZIPSER
STAFF WRITER

Wayne Memorial's duo of junior guard Yolanda Holt and senior forward Rica Barge seem ready for the Mega Conference Red Division season to start.

On Tuesday, the victim was visiting Westland John Glenn. Holt's 21 points and Barge's 18 led the Zebras to a 60-32 nonconference girls basketball victory and to a perfect 4-0 start.

"I can't remember if a Wayne girls team has ever started 4-0," coach Chuck Henry said.

Henry admitted the schedule will get tougher when the Zebras open their Mega Red season tonight at home against Dearborn Fordson.

"I'll know a lot more about this team after Thursday's game," Henry said. "Fordson is a team that will find and exploit your weaknesses and has traditionally been a good team."

Holt and Barge, the early season leaders, combined for 11 points in a 17-4 spurt to begin the fourth quarter and help Wayne pull away.

Henry expects the pair to lead the Zebras throughout the season.

"There's no doubt about it," Henry said. "They are our two most experienced players and, at this time, they are our most talented players. We want the other players to get better as the season progresses."

The Rockets, now 0-3 under new coach Andy Denison, weren't pushovers for the first three quarters.

The lead switched hands seven times in the first quarter before Wayne clung to a 14-13 advantage.

Glenn's Rochelle Harris later nailed a jumper to pull the Rockets to within one at 18-17, but that was to be Glenn's last points in the final 4:35 of the half.

Defensive whiz: Yolanda Holt (right) of Wayne applies the pressure to Westland John Glenn passer Katy Duncan during Tuesday's city clash.

"I'll know a lot more about this team after Thursday's game. Fordson is a team that will find and exploit your weaknesses."

Chuck Henry

The Rockets were scoreless in their next 14 possessions (seven turnovers, seven missed shots), as Wayne ripped off an 11-0 run to end the half.

Glenn battled Wayne in the third quarter as each team scored nine, but the Zebras dominated the final quarter, outscoring the Rockets 22-6.

"It can't be the youth because we are mostly seniors," Denison said. "We had a lot of mental letdowns and missed way too many easy shots. But I don't want to take anything away from Wayne, which has a very good team."

Senior Nykiya Lee led Glenn with eight points. Sophomore center Natalie Garrison added eight points for Wayne.

The Rockets shot miserably, making only 16 percent of their shots from the floor (nine of 55), compared to Wayne's 39 percent (24 of 61).

Glenn also struggled taking care of the ball, committing 20 of its 29 turnovers combined in the second and fourth quarters.

"I think we've improved from our first two games, but the whole game isn't there yet," Denison said. "I hope we can get it together in the next five games."

Wayne held a 47-40 advantage on the boards, led by Holt's 15 rebounds. Freshman forward Tonya Crawford added 13 boards (10 offensive) and Barge chipped in with seven.

"I don't think they shot well from the outside, but they killed us on the boards," Denison said.

Henry would have liked to see his players make more than 12 of 24 free throws, but is satisfied with their progress.

"I am seeing improvement and more confidence in the team," Henry said. "It should be an exciting season."

Spartan girls impressive at S'craft race

BY BRAD EMONS

Just how good is the Livonia Stevenson girls cross country team?

The talent-laden Spartans, fourth in last year's state Class A meet, gave a sneak preview Saturday at the annual High School Invitational meet held at Schoolcraft College.

Placing seven of the top 15, the Spartans unseated defending champion Novi for first place, scoring 32 points to the Wildcats' 47. See statistical summary.

"Our goal was to get all seven girls in the top 20, but we'll take that,"

CROSS COUNTRY

Stevenson coach Paul Holmberg said. "In our first time trial, we had 13 kids faster than our fifth kid a year ago. That was the same time of the year on the same course."

Stevenson sophomore Kelly Travis defended her individual title, covering the 3.1-mile loop in 19 minutes, 58 seconds. Travis was 45 seconds ahead of second place finisher Katie Zimmerman of Novi and 54 seconds ahead of third-place finisher Erin Leonard of Ann Arbor Pioneer.

The redesigned Schoolcraft course, however, was longer than the normal 5,000 meters.

"Kelly (Travis) was around 6:05 for the first mile and normally she goes about 5:45 at Cass Benton (Park)," Holmberg said. "The course was not that difficult, but it was a nice, fair course. It was definitely longer."

Rounding out the strong Stevenson contingent was sophomore Kelly McNeillance, who was fourth (21:58); senior Jeannette Stojcevski, fifth (21:18); freshman Kim McNeillance, ninth (21:40); senior Laura Pilon, 13th (21:57); junior Jessica Cyburt, 14th (22:02); and sophomore Della Dumitrescu, 16th (22:07).

"Kelly (McNeillance) has been hurt three times in the last month and her training has been behind, so for her to finish fourth today is a good performance," Holmberg said. "And she will get better."

Kim McNeillance, a freshman, was also impressive in her Stevenson debut.

"She can run with anybody," Holmberg said.

Churchill staves off late Patriot bid, 2-1

BY BRAD EMONS

Chad Campau knew the tide was turning, but the first year Livonia Churchill boys soccer coach felt nearly helpless on the sideline.

City rival Franklin mounted a furious second-half attack Monday, but the host Chargers held on for a 2-1 victory.

Churchill jumped out to a 2-0 half-time advantage, but the Patriots came storming back. They got a big boost after Rob Vega's header beat Charger goalkeeper Bryan Strazemski off a corner kick from Eric Bowman.

Franklin continued to apply the pressure, but came up short.

"Once they (Franklin) scored their goal, it opened things up," Campau said. "You can't call timeout like basketball. I just sent some guys in to calm things down."

What Campau did was protect the lead by having sophomore David George and senior Jason Bloink mark Bowman and Vega.

"I told George when he went back in (after a yellow card) to mark Bowman no matter what," Campau said. "We tried to play more defense."

"We concentrated from the start marking Bowman and Vega, because if you don't, they'll kill you. They're both non-stop. That's where their of-

Churchill, however, got its offense cranking early, scoring twice during the first 25 minutes.

Sophomore forward Rob Bartoletti notched both goals, the first coming on a header off a corner kick from Cory Bercac, and the second on a rattle-dassle play from Brian Zawialak.

"We made one or two mental mistakes in the beginning," Franklin first-year coach Dave Hebestreit said. "I'm happy with the way we played other than the first 15 minutes."

"I'm biased, but for 60 to 70 minutes I thought we took it to them."

Both coaches said they were trying to get away from the kickball style of play.

"We've been working to keep the ball on the ground, putting the ball on the feet instead of kickball," Campau said. "On our second goal we played the ball on the ground all the way through, and I hope they can see that it works."

Hebestreit also is pressing for the control game.

"We had possession of the ball in the first half, but we had trouble moving forward and we made some adjustments at halftime," he said.

"We did a much better job funneling our energy the last 70 minutes."

With the win, Churchill improved to 3-0-1 overall and 2-0 in the Western Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association. (The Chargers met state ranked Plymouth Salem on Wednesday.)

"We held Franklin off and I'm proud of them," Campau said.

Franklin, meanwhile, had its five-game winning streak snapped. The Patriots are 1-1 in the division and 6-2 overall.

Despite the loss, Hebestreit remained upbeat.

"It was a nice effort from everyone," he said. "Maybe we'll get another chance at them in districts."

GIRLS' BASKETBALL

Chargers rip C'ville; Franklin stalls Edsel

Livonia Churchill broke away in the second half to earn its first girls basketball win of the season, posting a 52-9 triumph Tuesday at Livonia Clarenceville.

The Chargers are now 1-3 overall, while Clarenceville dips to 0-4.

Junior forward Beth Cadovitch came off the bench to score a game-high 14 points for the Chargers, who led 16-5 at intermission.

Junior forward Jessie Jenkins added 13 points and 11 rebounds. Val Bennett also contributed eight points in a reserve role.

Cairns combined for eight of Clarenceville's nine points.

"They (Clarenceville) played well in the first half," Churchill coach Dave Balog said. "In the second half we played well. We were sluggish in the first half and not in sync."

FRANKLIN 57, EDSSEL FORD 45: Senior guard Tracy Rynkiewicz continued her hot shooting with a game-high 27 points, lifting Livonia Franklin (4-0 overall) to the nonleague win over visiting Dearborn Edsel Ford (2-1).

given added incentive when Ann Arbor Pioneer, second a year ago in the state Class A meet, was a late entry.

Pioneer, however, was a distant fourth in the team standings.

"It got me pumped up because we run in the regional with them," Holmberg said. "It was a gauge, win or lose. They (Pioneer) held out their top top kids, but I don't think that would have made a difference today."

Novi, however, is a quality team. The Wildcats took third in last year's state meet.

"Troy Athens (state champion) is considered the best and to say we're in the top five is stepping out on a limb because we have the toughest regional to come out of," Holmberg said. "I've said realistically there are a lot of good teams around the state."

But Holmberg likes what he sees so far.

"We're 10 deep right now and beauty is that they all encourage and help one another," he Central's top five finishers included Rob Donovan (fourth), Jim Jahnke (fifth), Rich Jahnke (11th), Steve Adams (18th) and Nate Stoll (29th).

Stevenson was led by sophomore Rob Block, who has recovered from a broken leg suffered in a summer skateboarding accident. He finished seventh in 18:01.

Other Spartan finishers include Steve Warner (ninth), Scott Kwiatkowski (12th) and Mike Felczak (22nd).

Central led the way with 67 points, edging Trenton (71), Livonia Stevenson (82) and Novi (91). Western, led by individual winner Jason Aspinall (17:17), was fifth with 118.

Warriors win meet

Brad Polkinghorne and Sam Patterson finished one-two Tuesday, pacing Lutheran High Westland to a tri-meet boys cross country victory at Hines Park.

The victorious Warriors, now 5-0 overall, scored 20 points, followed by Ann Arbor Greenhills with 35 and Plymouth Christian Academy with 81.

Polkinghorne and Patterson were clocked in 17:59 and 18:02, respectively, in the 5,000-meter race.

Other finishers for the Warriors included Andy Ebendick, fourth (18:26); Jason Collins, fifth (18:39); and Phil Kimmel, eighth (18:41).

Mercy tops Blazers Defending Catholic League champion Farmington Hills Mercy began its dual-meet season Tuesday with a 22-35 win over Livonia Ladywood at Cass Benton Woods.

Mercy was led by Betsy Gignac in first place (21:01) and Jackie Segue in second (21:20).

Ladywood's top runners included Shannon Swish, third (22:04); Anne Figurski, fifth (22:28); and Lindsay Soter, sixth (22:29).

Gap widens for prognosticators

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Oops!
Your friendly prognosticator got caught looking ahead when he did last week's prep football schedule.

Instead of Garden City playing Southgate and Redford Thurston playing Gibraltar Carlson, yours truly leap-frogged a week and listed the wrong games in last week's prediction column.

Well, we're back on schedule with the correct games this week. The picks will carry over on the Garden City-Dearborn and Thurston-Dearborn Heights Crestwood matchups.

Throwing out the two picks from last week, yours truly continued to roll, picking 12 of 13 games correctly to increase his season mark to 26-3 overall.

The unlucky Irishman, Dan O'Meara, isn't quite at the desperate point yet, but after a 9-4 week, he's now 20-9; six games off the pace.

O'Meara, like Lou Holtz, promises to rebound in the coming weeks.

The knockout punch is far from being delivered.

Here is a brief look at this week's action.

FRIDAY'S GAMES (all 7:30 p.m. starts)

G.P. Liggitt at Clarenceville: The Trojans (1-1, 1-0) got off to a good Metro Conference start by dumping Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook. Liggitt (0-2, 0-1) lost to a vastly improved Harper Woods team, 34-12. PICKS: Too bad Aaron Krickstein can't play football for Liggitt. Clarenceville serves an ace.

W.L. Western at Liv. Churchill: Western (1-1) raised a few eyebrows after taking highly ranked Westland John Glenn to the limit before losing 13-9. The Warriors also have a potent field goal kicker in Pat Gibson, who nailed a 52-yarder last week. As for Churchill (0-2), the Chargers have been outscored 79-0 in two games. PICKS: Western gets an early Western Division win.

Liv. Franklin at Northville: Both teams are 1-1 and coming off victories. Franklin's defense is solid, while the Mustangs rely on the running of senior Anell Kersey, who had 129 yards in last week's win.

GRID PICKS

over Plymouth Salem. Can the Patriots, who haven't beaten Northville in years, break the Mustang jinx? PICKS: Emons and O'Meara stick with Northville.

Ply. Salem at Westland John Glenn: The Rocks (0-2) are reeling after two blowouts suffered against state-ranked Belleville (42-0) and Northville (31-7). Salem hasn't beaten the Rockets since 1991 when Leon Hister was the breakaway threat. Glenn (2-0), which relies on good defense, may not need any fourth-quarter magic in this one. PICKS: The Rockets spiral to another victory.

F.H. Harrison at Ply. Canton: The only time Canton (1-1) has ever beaten Harrison was 1992. The Chiefs are led by quarterback Rob Johnson, who had a big game against Walled Lake Central. The Hawks (1-1) rebounded nicely from their opening-day loss to Birmingham Brother Rice by pounding city rival North Farmington, 37-7, as Jason Granger averaged 11 yards per carry. PICKS: The Hawks soar once again.

N. Farmington at W.L. Central: It's the Lakes Division opener for both teams. North (1-1) couldn't stop Harrison tailback Jason Granger last week, while Central (1-1) had its problems with Canton quarterback Rob Johnson in a 22-13 loss. PICKS: It's a tough call; the coin flip says Central.

Wayne at Monroe: Last year it was no contest, as the Trojans (2-0, 1-0) romped to a 34-22 victory over Wayne. Monroe, led by All-State tackle Eric Wilson, beat Dearborn Fordson last week, 28-20. The Zebras (0-2, 0-1), with a slew of game-breakers, are capable of springing an upset if the defense comes to play. PICKS: It's no shock; Monroe wins.

Dearborn at Garden City: The Pioneers (2-0, 1-0) own a pair of 35-0 victories thus far. They also have an outstanding quarterback in Kevin Kruger, a three-year starter. The Cougars (0-2, 0-1), stayed close with Southgate last week until the final minute. PICKS: Both stay with our original pick. It's Dearborn all the way.

Taylor Kennedy at Redford Union (Kraft Field): This Mega Conference-White Division encounter pits two teams who are struggling. Kennedy (0-2, 0-1) was blanked last week by state-ranked Dearborn, 35-0, while RU (0-2, 0-1) was bombed by Dearborn Edsel Ford, 47-8. PICKS: Kennedy breaks the ice.

Red. Thurston at D.H. Crestwood:

Crestwood (1-1, 0-1) lost a toughie last week to defending Mega-Blue and playoff qualifier Allen Park, 18-7. Coach Floyd Carter's team is improved. Meanwhile, Thurston (0-2, 0-1) is showing its inexperience after getting hard-hit by graduation. PICKS: Crestwood has the upper hand.

SATURDAY'S GAMES (all games at 1 p.m. unless noted)

Liv. Stevenson at Farmington: The Spartans (1-1) got caught flat last week by city rival Livonia Franklin, losing 15-14, as junior tailback Gade Clark was held to 41 yards. Farmington (1-1) rebounded from its season-opening 28-13 loss to Waterford Mott by routing Churchill, 34-0, as senior tailback Jake Siskosky had 145 yards in 22 carries. PICKS: Stevenson won last year, 7-0, but both like the Falcons this time around.

Luth. Westland at B.H. Cranbrook: The Warriors (1-1, 1-0) whipped up on Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest, 41-6, to earn their first Metro Conference win. Junior Albert Cook had a big day with 11 tackles and two touchdowns, including a 93-yard interception return. The Cranes (0-2, 0-1) have that laced look about them after suffering lopsided decisions to Detroit Renaissance and Clarenceville. PICKS: Lutheran Westland stays unbeaten in the Metro.

Redford CC vs. Warren DeLaSalle (7:30 p.m. at Clarenceville): The Shamrocks (2-0) looked much crisper offensively in last week's 35-8 dismantling of Ann Arbor Pioneer. Preseason state-ranked DeLaSalle, stunned in its season opener by Toledo St. John's, came back last week to beat Lansing Eastern, 31-14. DeLaSalle won last year's meeting, 14-5. PICKS: CC rider all the way.

St. Agatha vs. Marine City Cardinal Mooney (7:30 p.m. at RU's Kraft Field): The Aggies (2-0) are off to an impressive start. They're 27-8 victory over Pickford may just put them back in the state Class D rankings. D-Section champ Cardinal Mooney (1-1) was preseason state-ranked and expected to be a contender in Class D, but Royal Oak Shrine handed the Cardinals a humbling 17-0 defeat. PICKS: Agatha makes it three straight.

Bishop Borgessa vs. A.A. Gabriel Richard (7:30 p.m. at Garden City Jr. High): The Spartans (1-1) were sent back down to earth last Saturday by Camden-Frontier, falling 42-14. Richard is 1-10 dating back to 1993. They have been beaten by Tekonsha and Madison Heights Lamphere. PICKS: Who do you like? Emons takes Little Richard. O'Meara thinks it's a good pick.

Big day for Wiemer, Warriors; Clarenceville bolts past Cranes

It was a memorable afternoon of football for Scott Wiemer.

On Saturday, Wiemer earned his first victory as Lutheran Westland football coach as the Warriors opened Metro Conference play with a 41-8 victory over visiting Rochester Hills Lutheran Northwest.

And the native Nebraskan also was pleased with his beloved Cornhuskers, who rolled earlier in the afternoon to a 50-10 triumph over Michigan State in East Lansing.

Wiemer taped the Nebraska-MSU game, but also liked what he saw on film from his Warriors.

Junior Albert Cook, a standout on defense with 11 tackles, got Lutheran Westland off and running with a 93-yard pass interception return for a touchdown. (Mat Baltz added the two-point run.)

In the second quarter, Northwest cut the deficit to 8-6 on Vince Deagler's 1-yard TD run.

But the Warriors went on to score 33 unanswered points.

Quarterback Kris Skov, who was five for seven passing for 72 yards, hooked up with junior right end Joe Pruchnik on a 19-yard TD pass to give the Warriors a 14-6 halftime lead.

Baltz added a 2-yard TD run in the third quarter. (Baltz also had two interceptions, including a 30-yard return to set up a score.)

In the final period, Cook, who led the Warriors with 87 yards in nine carries, bolted in from 7 yards out and backup QB Luke Horton capped the scoring with a 30-yard TD pass to Pruchnik. (Scott Lee ran for two.)

Lutheran Westland outgained Northwest 244-109 in total offense.

CLARENCEVILLE 32, CRANBROOK 14: Despite gaining only 70 yards on the ground, Livonia Clarenceville came up with enough big plays to earn its first Metro Conference win at the expense of host Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook.

"We found a way to win," Clarenceville second-year coach Chuck Donaldson said. "We've got to get a run game established. We have to move the ball and take time off the clock." Clarenceville led 14-0 at intermission on Chris Lekner's 3-yard TD run in the opening quarter followed by Donahue Fulton's 35-yard run in the second period. (Quarterback Rob Ashton added the two-pointers.)

In the third quarter, Cranbrook responded with a touchdown to cut the deficit to 14-7.

Ashton then connected on an 80-yard touchdown pass with John Rose to make it 20-7.

Cranbrook came back with another score, slicing the deficit to 20-14, but Clarenceville put it away with 12 unanswered points.

Defensive end Juan Puentes blocked a Cranes punt and Jeremiah Watts recovered in the end zone near the end of the third quarter.

In the final period, Ashton and Rose teamed up again on a 50-yard scoring play.

Clarenceville outgained Cranbrook in total offense, 220-74.

The defense was led by linebacker Jason Dillaha, who made nine tackles. Defensive end Jim Vallmont contributed seven tackles and one sack. Puentes and Rose each added six tackles and a sack.

Defensive back Craig Rose picked off two passes.

"Overall the defense played pretty well," said Donaldson, whose team is 1-1 overall and 1-0 in the Metro. Cranbrook is winless in two games.

Boinik 300: Knight in shining armor

TEN-PIN ALLEY

AL HARRISON

Whenever a youngster moves up from the youth leagues to adult competition, you would expect him or her to be in awe or perhaps gun-shy with the change over to a more serious level of competitive bowling.

You certainly would not expect the kid to go out and throw a 300 in his very first game in the adult leagues.

That is exactly what happened to Rick Boinik, who had spent several years in the Sunday Youth League (SYL), a youth traveling league which bowls at a different locale each Sunday morning throughout in the western suburbs.

Boinik learned his lessons well, as the SYL, like most youth programs, has excellent coaching and can bring out the best in the kids.

The perfect game took place Sept. 6 in the Wednesday Knights League at Country Lanes in Farmington Hills. I would hope that his teammates don't expect that from him every time.

Good luck, Rick, you already have made your presence known.

Super Bowl in Canton had two bowlers in "Super Tuesday" each fire 300's to begin the new season, one from Todd Spitz and another from Ed Schiller.

Congratulations are in order for Livonia Stevenson High product Stacey Szalony.

She recently bowled her way into an awards weekend at this year's Y.A.B.A. Michigan State Tournament.

Szalony placed first in the Class A Female Singles division, 3rd in the Class A Female Doubles division and fifth in the Class A Female "All-Events." Stacey bowls out of Oak Lanes in Westland and she has received excellent coaching from PBA bowlers Randy Smith and Ron Baase.

Szalony is a freshman at Central Michigan University.

McCausland leads Madonna past OU

BY BRAD EMONS
STAFF WRITER

Madonna University came up with a rousing 6-15, 15-10, 16-14, 15-11 women's volleyball victory Tuesday at home over Oakland University, snapping the Pioneers' four-game winning streak.

The Lady Crusaders, ranked No. 16 in the latest National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics poll, received a huge performance from junior Kelly McCausland, a middle-hitter from Redford Union. The 5-foot-11 junior finished with 18 kills and 16 digs.

"We passed the ball and attacked the ball all over the net antenna to antenna," said Madonna coach Jerry Abraham, whose team is 7-5 overall. "And Kelly was unstoppable. After losing that first game we woke up and played ball."

Junior Julie Martin (Livonia Stevensop) added 16 kills, while junior Heather Steinhelper (Clarkston) added 11 kills and 10 digs.

Setter Meg Paris, a transfer from Flint Mott, had 46 assists and six ace serves.

Other Lady Crusaders contributing to the win included Erin Comment and Karin dig; Nicole Scharrer and Karin Slaung (five kills each); and Jennifer Russell (seven digs).

"Russell did a tremendous job coming in as an outside-hitter," Abraham said. "She's a freshman and that was her first big performance."

In last weekend's six-team Madonna Invitational, Huntington College (Ind.) came away with the title, beating Georgetown (Ky.) in a tiebreaker. Both teams had 4-1 records in the round-robin format. Madonna, which finished third at 3-2, downed St. Francis (Ill.), ranked No. 7 in the NAIA, in five games (13-15, 15-17, 17-15, 15-0, 15-2).

VOLLEYBALL

The match lasted three hours and 10 minutes.

Paris, who had 61 assists, was voted to the all-tourney team. She is averaging 10.5 assists per game.

Slaung was Madonna's top attacker with 19 kills, while McCausland added 18. Steinhelper contributed 14, while Jaclyn Deane (Livonia Franklin) and Comment added six aplece.

Erin Gregorie, who suffered a shoulder injury in a collision with McCausland during the Oakland match, led Madonna against St. Francis with 26 digs. McCausland added 19, while Comment and Paris had 16 and 11, respectively.

"The St. Francis match was one of the best ever played here," Abraham said. "We were consistent throughout and our defense was better than it has been. It showed the girls what they're capable of, if they play at that level."

Madonna also defeated last year's Region champ and NAIA qualifier Mount St. Joseph of Ohio, 15-3, 8-15, 15-13, 15-7, as Paris recorded 43 assists. Top attackers included McCausland (12 kills), Martin (11), Comment (8) and Slaung (7).

Madonna registered a season-high 33 kills in a 15-1, 15-1, 15-11 win over Trinity (Ill.), but the Lady Crusaders fell to Huntington in five games and Georgetown in three.

"St. Francis beat us twice last year, and I think it took something out of us because we came up flat the next day against Georgetown," said Abraham, whose team also defeated NALA foe Siena Heights, Thursday on the road, 15-6, 15-12, 15-13.

Lady Ocelots 3rd

Schoolcraft College captured three of five matches to finish tied for third in last weekend's 10-team Lake Michigan Tournament.

The Lady Ocelots were eliminated by eventual champion Illinois Central, 17-15, 15-12.

In pool play, Schoolcraft downed Oakland CC (15-3, 15-2), Owens Tech. of Ohio (15-1, 15-8) and Lake Michigan (15-3, 15-7). They also fell to Kellogg CC (15-10, 7-15, 15-5).

Setter Andrea Greer (Livonia Franklin) stood out for Schoolcraft with 88 assists.

Defensively, Hermine Angeles (Madison Heights Lamphere) and Julie Schmidt (Millford) recorded 64 and 34 digs, respectively.

Jamie Clark (Livonia Church Hill) was SC's top hitter with 23 kills. Michelle MacRae (Midland) added 22 kills and seven ace serves. Tracy Sledz (Livonia Clarenceville) contributed 18 kills.

Stacy Sallus (Warren Woods Tower) was SC's top blocker with six solo and 10 assists. Sarah Farklewick (Churchill) added three solo and nine assists.

"The next thing we need to develop is a third middle blocker to make our lineup work," SC coach Tom Teeters said. "Another area we need improving is serving."

Teeters, however, believes his team can compete for Eastern Conference and NJCAA Region 12 honors.

"We have possibilities," he said. "Eight teams have a chance. Right now (Flint) Mott and Southwestern are the two favorites."

Brother Rice boots Catholic Central, 3-2

BY STEVE KOWALSKI
STAFF WRITER

Birmingham Brother Rice junior defender Shawn Wilson earned the nickname "Terminator" from his teammates for the way he eliminates opposing teams' scoring chances.

Maybe he'll start calling Wilson the "Energizer" after he helped Rice stay alive in the Catholic League Central Division boys soccer race with the winning goal in Tuesday's 3-2 comeback victory over host Redford Catholic Central.

Rice lost its first Central Division game last Friday to Warren DeLaSalle, 1-0 on a penalty kick, and another loss to a title contender would have been devastating. The Warriors, 4-1-2 overall, won the Catholic League playoffs last year, but have yet to win a Central Division title since coach Jay Louis-Priscott took over in 1989.

Junior Mike Koval was the winning goalkeeper.

"This was a very important win for us, we didn't want a tie, we wanted to come away with a victory," Louis-Priscott said. "I was impressed with the way we played in the second half. We had our minds made up we were going to score."

After a 1-1 halftime tie, CC's Dan Mulvihill timed a crossing pass from teammate Tony Moucoullis perfectly and scored with 15:55 remaining to put the Shamrocks ahead 2-1.

But Rice scored twice on scrambles in front of the net within a two-minute span to overtake the Shamrocks.

Senior forward Chris Wilk tied the score at 2-2, kicking a loose ball past CC senior goalkeeper Travis Miller with about 13:00 remaining. The goal followed a corner kick, which wasn't cleared in front of the CC net.

The Warriors broke the tie after bringing Wilson up from near midfield for a re-set play. The initial shot didn't get through to Miller, but the Shamrocks failed to clear the rebound and Wilson was there for the score with about 11:00 remaining.

CC coach Phil LaJoy said the Shamrocks may have paid the price for trying to protect the lead.

"We tried to be sure, safe, and we got caught," he said. "Rice is a quick team, give them credit for their effort. We made mistakes; they were able to capitalize and score."

The late rally was especially surprising since the Shamrocks had three shutouts in their first four games -- all victories.

What bothered LaJoy and assistant Kevin Tuite the most was the Shamrocks could have avoided both late goals if any of their defenders had won 50-50 balls in the box.

"We were just a step off today," CC senior defender Brian Nemes said. "We should have had a head on those. Nothing should land within the box."

The Warriors took the first lead of the game, 1-0, on a goal from Guest assisted by senior defender Pete Kopic midway through the first half. CC forged a 1-1 tie when Moucoullis converted a pass from senior Tom Derhake and scored only 10 seconds before halftime.

STEVENSON 6, M. FARMINGTON 0: Jeff Urbata notched the hat trick as the state's top-ranked team in Class A, Livonia Stevenson, continued to roll Monday with victory over visiting North Farmington.

Stevenson is 4-0 overall and 1-0 in the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association.

Mark Dietrich, Paul Tokarsky and Pete Lechowicz also scored for the Spartans.

Steve Williford contributed two assists.

"It was Williford's first night back and it was nice to have him back and healthy," Barrett said of his senior midfielder. "He put on a clinic. There's no body happier than Urbata because he enjoyed some pin-point assists from Williford."

Goalkeeper Jim Grewe blanked the holders during the first half, while Todd Smith finished up.

"Obviously we played well and they only got a goal in the last 20 seconds on a penalty kick," Barrett said. "I haven't seen this kind of attitude since 1991 (when Stevenson won the state title). The thing is coming together the same way as it did then."

LUTHERAN NORTH 6, LUTH. WESTLAND 1: Lutheran High Westland, rated No. 5 in the latest Class C state rankings, couldn't stand prosperity Monday as Macomb Lutheran North (3-0), rated No. 6 in Class B, posted the lopsided Metro Conference win.

The loss drops the Warriors to 4-1 overall and 0-1 in the Metro.

Chris Walls had the lone Lutheran Westland goal, an unassisted effort during the first half as North enjoyed a 3-1 advantage.

"We came up flat and North took it to us," Lutheran Westland coach Rich Block said. "We had been playing pretty good defense. I guess your going to have games during the season where you're going to have a letdown."

HURON VALLEY 3, ZOE CHRISTIAN 2: Sophomore forward Nick Wisniaske notched a pair of goals Tuesday, leading Westland Huron Valley Lutheran to the win at Warren Zoo Christian.

Senior midfielder Adam Conger added the other for the Hawks, now 2-1 overall and 1-0 in the Red Division of the Michigan Independent Athletic Conference.

Assists went to senior midfielder Scott Ohlsson, junior forward Curt Guiles and sophomore forward Tom Husby.

Sophomore Jared Ridenour and senior Dan Zahn divided the goalkeeping chores.

Lady Ocelots' coach changes strategy for 2-1 win

Nothing inflexible about Schoolcraft women's soccer coach Nikki Johnson. If one tactic doesn't work, she'll try another.

Sitting on some injuries, she decided to play a strictly defensive game Saturday against Meremac of St. Louis at the College of DuPage (Ill.). It didn't work, as Meremac took a 2-1 decision.

OK, Johnson decided Sunday, let's switch gears for Florissant Valley of St. Louis. Bingo -- a 2-1 victory.

"I felt it would be hard for the players to get back and go forward the whole game because of their injuries," Johnson said of her first-game strategy, a 3-5-2 alignment designed to shorten the field for her injury-plagued squad.

Schoolcraft's chances were few but one turned into a goal when Holly Kimble got a cross off and Amy Marcoe put it in. Meremac scored on a breakaway and a rebound to take a 2-0 lead.

"After realizing that all our losses were by one goal (DuPage, 3-2, Monroe, 1-0, and Meremac, 2-1), I decided to take the totally opposite approach," Johnson said.

So despite pulled quads to Susan O'Neill, Misty Heath, Melissa Crain and Stephanie Surma plus ankle injuries to Stacy Miller, Erin Stacherski and Marcol Johnson junked her defensive orientation.

She decided to shadow Flo's main threat, Danielle Wade, with Miller. Johnson also moved Kimble to outside midfielder so she could get the ball wide to Stacherski so she could feed Kimble and Heath.

"She did exactly that and we got the offensive attack we wanted," Johnson said.

Sure did. Kimble, assisted by Marcoe, scored first and then Crain, assisted by Staci Muisenburgh, added one to give Schoolcraft a 2-0 halftime lead that proved just enough to get Johnson's team back on the winning track.

MADONNA (MEN) 4, SPRING ARBOR 3: Freshman Scott Emert (Walled Lake Central) tallied the game-winning goal from Charlie Bell, three minutes into the second overtime, giving Madonna University (2-2-1 overall) an NAIA victory Monday over the Cougars in a match at Schoolcraft College.

Spring Arbor forced overtime with two minutes to play in regulation.

Central Michigan transfer Jason Stempfen tallied a first-half goal as Madonna and the Cougars were deadlocked 1-1.

Emert added the second goal on a penalty kick while Bell, a native of Derby, Ireland, tallied the third.

On Saturday, Madonna traveled to Olivet Nazarene (Ill.) and suffered a 2-0 setback. Both goals came on corner kicks.

Stevenson makes splash

Livonia Stevenson doused Northville in a girls swim meet Thursday at Plymouth Salem High School, 113-73.

The state-ranked Spartans, now 2-0 overall in dual meets, posted a pair of state qualifying times.

Anne Aristeo, Marla McKenzie, Julie Kern and Julie Gallagher made the cut in the 400-yard freestyle relay (3:46.63). Becky Noechel also qualified in the 100 breast stroke (1:10.56).

The 200 medley relay team of Kelly Carlisle, Jordyn Godfroid, Aristeo and Gallagher freed a first (1:57.89). The 200 freestyle relay team of Godfroid, Kern, Marti and Marla McKenzie were also victorious (1:47.7).

Other Stevenson individual firsts were garnered by Aristeo, 50 freestyle (25.11) and 100 freestyle (52.39); Beth Gallagher, diving (216.6 points); and Julie Gallager, 100 backstroke (1:03.74).

LADYWOOD 54, CRANBROOK 26: Erin Worden figured in four first place finishes Tuesday as Livonia Ladywood opened the 1995 dual-meet season with a victory over Bloomfield Hills Cranbrook in a meet at Farmington Hills Mercy.

Worden captured firsts in the 50 and 500 freestyles with times of 27.3 and 5:59.7, respectively. She also teamed up with Melissa McKay, Cathy Hermann and Lena Baclawski to win the 200 medley relay (2:09.1). The foursome of Worden, Stephanie Florence, Danielle Reberge and Tricia Daly also took the 400 freestyle (4:24.2).

Other Ladywood firsts were garnered by Andrea Delle-Monache, 100 freestyle (1:03.2) and McKay in the 100 backstroke (1:14.7).

The 200 freestyle relay team of Hermann, Reberge, Daly and Delle-Monache also won in 2:01.5.

The Blazers return to action at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday against Woodhaven in a dual meet at Mercy.

DID YOU KNOW...

- One in 15 Americans sees a chiropractor at least once a year.
- According to a 1990 study published in the British Medical Journal, chiropractic care is more effective for low-back pain than outpatient hospital care or many types of physical therapy.
- Seventy-five to 80 percent of Americans will suffer lower back pain during their lives.
- On any given day, six million Americans are bedridden because of back pain.
- Chiropractors offer the lowest median cost per visit for therapeutic exercise, massage and ultrasound when compared to medical physicians, physical therapists and podiatrists.
- Chiropractic care is covered by government insurance plans, most state workers' compensation plans and most third-party payers.

Chiropractors worldwide will begin celebrating the centennial...and achievements...of their profession September 17th in Davenport, Iowa, where chiropractic was founded.

Chiropractors have plenty to celebrate. Chiropractic is now the largest non-invasive, drug-free health care profession in the United States. And numerous studies have proven that chiropractors offer the most effective care for back pain.

Today, chiropractic boasts 50,000 doctors, 15 million to 20 million patients, more than 100 state, regional and national professional associations and 18 colleges in the U.S. alone.

Shamrocks return strong contingent

The Redford Catholic Central golf team returns all but one of its players from last year's team that tied for third place in the Class A regional with Birmingham Brother Rice.

The top three teams at each regional advance to the state tournament. Rice earned the trip, winning a tiebreaker against the Shamrocks.

CC was the Catholic League champion in 1994 and coach Phil Heyer believes the Shamrocks are capable of repeating and also advancing to the state meet. CC is undefeated in its only dual meet, beating the University of Detroit-Jesuit, 148-164, at Brae Burn Golf Course.

"One to five, the kids have been together three years," CC coach Phil Heyer said. "Top to bottom, this is the best team I've had. We have real nice balance this year."

The only significant loss to graduation was Bob Beckman, who averaged about 42 and was the Shamrocks' third man.

Returning for his senior year is Brandon DiPaola, who was second at the 1993 regional and the Catholic League champion last year. He failed to qualify for the state meet in '94 despite shooting a 77 in a strong field at the regional.

The most encouraging part of the early season has been junior Mike Pedrys turning in lower scores than DiPaola. Also playing consistently have been seniors Chris Misiak and Chris Hulgrave.

DiPaola led the Shamrocks in their only dual meet with an even-par 35. Pedrys had 37 and Misiak and Hulgrave each carded 38s.

Pedrys was co-medalist at the Pinckney Invitational, where the Shamrocks finished second behind Livonia Churchill, the state's eighth-ranked team. Pedrys' improvement has been noteworthy after averaging 42 last year.

The Shamrocks have been competitive in two other tournaments. They took eighth at the East Lansing Fall Classic, featuring most of the state's top teams, and fifth at the Brighton Invitational.

Another top returnee whose scores should be counted this season is senior Brian Karabelski. The Shamrocks' roster also includes senior Brad Villa, juniors Darrell Kennedy, Ryan Osenmacher, Nick Watta and sophomore Adam Peters.

Bass anglers enjoy tourney success

BILL PARKER

The bright orange and yellow, of the turning maple leaves — nature's first official sign of fall — caught my eye from a distance on a scouting trip late last week in northern Oakland County. With the imminent arrival of autumn comes a smorgasboard of activities for Michigan's outdoor enthusiasts.

Hunting and fall fishing seasons are upon us. I urge all the Observer & Eccentric area readers to call me or write me a letter and report your success or the success of your spouse or hunting/fishing companion. I'm not only looking for reports on a 10-pound walleye or a 12-point buck. Any fish caught or license filled is a trophy to that individual and those stories are just as enjoyable as those of the record-book harvests.

Send in a photo if possible and be sure to include all the details of the trip including location of the outing, date and time of day, as well as surrounding habitat, equipment used and any insight into the technique used. Include your name and phone number so I can make a follow-up call if necessary. My address and phone number are listed at the bottom of this column.

Anglers enjoy success

Several area anglers experienced success recently on the bass tournament circuits at both the national and local levels.

Mary Ashteneau, of Canton, placed 21st in the Bass'n Gals National Qualifier, Aug. 17-18, on Lake Tenkiller in Cookson, Oklahoma.

Flipping Berkley Power Worms into "heavy brush and lay-downs," Ashteneau caught two fish on the first day of competition and four on the second. She had a 3.19-pounder the first day and a 3.14-pounder the second.

"I caught a couple of nice fish, one each day, and that really helped," she said. "It was tough fishing for everybody. There were really no weeds in the lake and that made it tough."

Earlier this year, Ashteneau qualified for the Gambler Boats Classic, Nov. 4-5 in Florida. As of press time, she was the only woman to have qualified and the only member of the Gambler National Team to have qualified.

Westland's Gregory Allan Cullen placed eighth out of 109 amateurs competing in the Bassmaster Top 100, Aug. 23-26, on Lake Minnetonka in Minnesota.

Cullen landed 18 keepers — out of a possible 20 — for a total weight of 31-pounds, 2-ounces. He pocketed $1,200 for his efforts.

Redford's Dave Long teamed up with Leo Benchlich of Detroit to place third in the Oakland Bass Masters Open on Cass Lake on Aug. 27. The two had a total catch that weighed 8.70-pounds. They split $401.10 for placing third.

The tournament attracted 49 teams and 30 teams brought fish to the scale.

Neil Hiesler and Eric Sherman of Livonia placed fourth in the tournament with a total eight of 4.65 pounds. They earned $286.50 for their efforts. Leo and Louis Favaro of Redford finished fifth with 7.38-pounds and earned $229.20. David and Charles Reault of Livonia placed seventh at 6.72-pounds and won $114.60. Canton's Mary Ashteneau and Mike Lewis finished 10th with 5.64-pounds of fish and won two $10 gift certificates.

Local pros compete

Four area bass anglers will compete in the pro division of the $196,000 BASSMASTER Eastern Invitational, today through Saturday on the St. Lawrence River in Clayton, New York.

Heading the list of locals is Kyle Greene of Bloomfield Hills. Greene moves up to the pro division after winning the amateur championship of the BASSMASTER Top 100 held last year on Lake St. Clair. Joining Greene in the pro ranks are Chuck Economou of Lake Orion, Patrick Van Tiem of Plymouth, and Rick Van Tiem of West Bloomfield.

Hunters draw elk permits

Successful applicants for Michigan's September elk hunts have been notified. Of the 23,150 applications, 165 were selected through a lottery-style drawing to participate in one of the two September hunts. Sixty two hunters received a hunter's choice permit, which entitles the holder to shoot either an antlered or an antlerless elk. The remaining 103 hunters must take an antlerless elk.

Steven Hughes of Westland and Guy Mykolaitis of Farmington Hills hit the jackpot for the first hunt, which runs Sept. 12-17, as each hunter received a hunter's choice permit. Robert Gowing of Commerce and James Silva of Garden City received permits to take antlerless elk.

In the drawing for the second hunt, which runs Sept. 18-24, Birmingham's Thomas Hocking and Farmington Hills' Christopher Julvezan received hunter's choice permits.

Unsuccessful applicants from the drawing for the September hunts are automatically entered into the drawing for the upcoming December hunt. If you missed the application deadline for the September hunt you have until tomorrow, Sept. 15, to apply for the December hunt. Applications are available at all hunting and fishing license agents. Successful applicants for the December hunt will be notified by November 1.

Correction

Last week I sent out a call from the Fishing Buddy's Fishing Club, which is looking for members. Unfortunately, I gave the incorrect number to contact Harold Leider for information about the club. The correct number to call is (810) 658-0556.

Leider is interested in hooking up with other anglers in the northern Oakland County area.

Hunters and anglers are urged to report their success. Questions and comments are also encouraged. Send information to Outdoors, 805 E. Maple, Birmingham, MI 48009. Fax information to (810) 644-1314 or call Bill Parker evenings at (810) 901-2573.

Video Ear Inspection Camera Comes to Beltone Hearing Aid Center

Where: Beltone Centers
Day: Monday thru Friday
Date: September 14 thru September 22
Time: 9 am to 5 pm

Call now to schedule your appointment.

THIS EVENT WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK ONLY!

SEEING IS BELIEVING.

FREE VIDEO EAR INSPECTION

You'll SEE...exactly what we SEE
We'll look into your ear canal with our New MEDRx Video Ear Camera. You'll watch the TV screen and we'll explain to you what you're seeing. We'll do a complete inspection of your ear canal and your ear drum. If there is any amount of wax blockage you'll know immediately.
FREE color photo of your ear for you and your doctor's records.

FREE COMPUTERIZED EAR ANALYSIS

Real Ear Analysis
First we'll measure your ear's natural shape, then we'll measure your ability to hear sounds and understanding of speech. We'll utilize all the results and determine what types of help you'll need, if you have measurable hearing loss. The benefits of hearing aids vary by type and degree of hearing loss, noise environment, accuracy of hearing evaluation and proper fit.
Real Ear measurements take the guesswork out of helping you hear better.
FREE demonstration of how new hearing aids might help you.

FREE VIDEO HEARING AID INSPECTION

Preventative Maintenance Checkup
Earwax in the receiver is still one of the most common reasons a hearing aid doesn't work the way it was designed to. We'll inspect your aid with our video camera. You'll see if there is wax buildup or corrosion accumulating in your aid. Service available for ALL hearing aids regardless of where you bought them.
FREE CHECKUP and CLEANING of your present hearing aids.

FREE HEARING AID ANALYSIS

Analyze Your Hearing Aid's Performance
Hearing Aid Analysis ensures you that your current hearing aid is working at its maximum performance. We'll measure the output of your aid and compare it to the sounds they were designed to produce. We'll help determine if you're hearing and understanding as well as you should be.
FREE adjustment to maximize your hearing aid performance.

Hosting visitors: Chris Knight, left, and Sandy Norman, two high-producing agents, see value in open houses.

Not everyone loves open houses

By Doug Funch
STAFF WRITER

Open houses excite some agents. Others tolerate them. Still others don't want to bother.

Sellers typically love open houses because they figure anything to generate traffic and potential sales is a good deal.

Buyers, especially first-timers and those who have lived in the same place for several years but now contemplate a move, can use open houses as educational tools to gauge the market.

"The nice thing about open houses is it's a free way without commitment and no pressure calls for you to learn what you can get for your money," said Chris Knight, an agent with Coldwell Banker Schweitzer in Plymouth.

"You can learn what you want or don't want in a home," he added. The big drawback for agents is the return on time invested. Almost all open houses are held Sunday afternoons.

"I think the reason agents don't want to hold open houses is they look at a national average of one percent success," said Sandy Norman, an agent with Century 21 Town & Country in Birmingham.

Open houses work better with some homes than others, agents say. "They're moderately effective for Feelings run the gamut on open houses. But there's no denying that some buyers and sellers connect and sales result during weekend visitations.

whatever is considered the starter price range for whatever community you're in," Knight said.

"Generally speaking, anything above $300,000 there's weaker turnout," Norman said. "Those buyers immediately gravitate to a representative."

"People looking for less expensive houses are driving around."

Promotion is the key to drawing visitors to open houses.

"Probably the best thing to do is tell everyone you see you're going to do it," said Cecelia Brown, an agent with Prudential Great Lakes Realty in Rochester. "Even if they're not in the market, they may know someone who is."

Brown also sends out fliers to apartment complexes, former clients and other agents.

"You can't be a secret agent and have a secret house," Norman said.

"The most important thing is let people know what's out there with signs," Knight said. "Don't just have one sign at the corner. If you can, put 10 or 12 signs out. In Plymouth, if you put a sign on Sheldon Road, a sign at Main and a sign at Ann Arbor Trail, you'll get a ton of exposure."

Some communities don't allow signs on public property.

"We advertise in newspapers," said Ray Millen, broker/owner of Remerica Gold Key Homes in Redford.

"Don't use shorthand. Tell them exactly where it is. People will follow directions if you get it to 'em right."

Since prospects attending open houses usually go to more than one, it's important to make an impression. A spec sheet isn't enough.

"My brochures have eight to 10 pictures in offset printing," Norman said.

"I also give out certain things of perceived value — a checklist for putting your home on the market, tax information."

It's best that the homeowners aren't around for the showing.

"If they're home, I won't do an open house," Knight said. "The Realtor is a little intimidated. Purchasers aren't comfortable around sellers."

Other suggestions on how sellers and agents can prepare for an open house:

■ Mention the price of the house in ads so unqualified buyers won't waste your time for them.

■ Police the front and back yards. Make sure everything is clean inside, too, especially windows.

■ Eliminate clutter from closets, cabinets and countertops.

■ Adjust the furnace or air conditioning so that the house feels comfortable.

■ Open curtains and shades. Turn on lights.

■ Place small index cards around major appliances and special features of the house noting their age and efficiency.

■ Get rid of all signs of cats and dogs including the animals themselves, leashes, collars and litter boxes.

■ Remove ashtrays and other indications that smokers live there.

"The owner has to go to some lengths to get the house ready," Brown said. "It has to be like the builder's model. You have to be a showplace."

Experienced agents realize that people visit open houses for different reasons.

"Fifty percent are house buyers looking for something," Norman said.

"Fifty percent are going through on a lark. They're curious and just want to see what a house sells for, what X amount of dollars buys."

"You handle those diplomatically. Someday, you may be selling them a house."

A binding arbitration clause favors the builder

REAL ESTATE QUERIES

ROBERT M. MEISNER

Q. Are there any particular clauses in a building contract for new construction that you have found to be particularly disadvantageous to a purchaser that you can alert us to?

A. Space limitations would preclude me from comprehensively answering your question. However, there are certain clauses that I find more frequently included within building contracts for new construction which may be disadvantageous to the purchaser.

One particular clause requires binding arbitration of any dispute regarding the terms and conditions of the purchase agreement or performance by the builder. While that may ostensibly seem to be beneficial to the purchaser, most builders would normally prefer to have a panel of arbitrators deciding their case rather than a jury, which would minimize the leverage that a purchaser then has in trying to resolve a dispute.

Secondly, I frequently find that purchase agreements and building contracts make the building official for the municipality the final arbitrator as to whether there are any defects or deficiencies in the project. Again, while the builder may prefer to have the building inspector make that determination, the building inspector may be applying standards of workmanship and/or code requirements that are minimal in nature and are not reflective of the standard of the industry and/or the expectations of the purchaser based upon the representations made by the builder. A purchaser should not be limited to the opinion of the township building inspector except to the extent that it is necessary to obtain compliance with the code requirements from the city and ultimately a certificate of occupancy permit.

These are two areas where I find that purchasers are put to a disadvantage when they are compelled to sign a building contract. Again, these issues can be resolved prior to the building contract being signed and underscore the need for the purchaser to retain the advice and counsel of a knowledgeable real estate attorney to assist in the negotiation of the building contract.

Q. Can you tell me what the recreational land user's act in Michigan has to do with premises liability since I have read about it in a magazine recently.

A. With regard to vacant land, the recreational land user's act merely holds that there is no cause of action arising for injuries to any person who is on the land of another without paying the owner a valuable consideration for the purpose of any outdoor recreational use.

This act is effective whether the injured party is on the land with permission or not.

The recreational land user's act also protects the owner, tenant or lessee of the premises unless the injuries were caused by the gross negligence or willful and wanton misconduct of the owner, tenant or lessee.

This act also applies to property located within urban areas, even though activities listed in the statute typically are enjoined in rural settings.

Michigan Group Realtors will franchise name

The Michigan Group name will expand via the licensing/franchise route.

Michigan Group Realtors, a six-office organization headquartered in Livonia, has entered into a licensing agreement with Michigan Group Residential Affiliates to grant franchises to select brokerage firms throughout the state.

"We have chosen the route of licensing or franchising as the preferred method of continued growth," said Fred T. Madley, president of the Michigan Group Realtors.

"Our company is now in a position to assure continued service through the turn of the century while allowing our six offices to grow in primary market areas," he said.

John Kavanagh, former regional management services director for the Coldwell Banker affiliate division, who also served as president and CEO for Red Carpet Keim, will head Michigan Group Residential Affiliates.

Kavanagh said he plans to own and operate model/testing offices in Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham, Rochester Hills and Troy by next spring.

He expects to sign 10 franchises by the end of this year and 20 more during 1996. The franchisees would re-affiliate from existing groups or come from the ranks of independents.

"We offer the professional real estate practitioner a recognized name, the RELO relocation and referral network, high-tech computer equipment, a home warranty package and association with Reliance Mortgage Company among the many other benefits," Kavanagh said.

"But more importantly, we can provide the large, medium and small real estate brokerage companies anywhere in the state of Michigan with a successful operating system while concentrating on the real estate market right here in our own state," he said.

Franchisees will pay a start-up fee of $7,500, plus a percentage of gross commissions for affiliation. Michigan Group Residential Affiliates, in turn, will pay a percentage of revenue to Madley's Michigan Group Realtors as a licensing fee.

"The Michigan Group is an organization made up of some of the top people in the industry," Kavanagh said. "The sales associate base is very strong, the management is experienced, capable and professional and the support staff is first-rate throughout."

The Michigan Group Realtors has offices in Plymouth, West Bloomfield, Livonia, Union Lake, Ann Arbor and Brighton.

Electricity takes homeowner into convenient 21st century

Electricity. It accounts for almost four out of every 10 new patents. It boosts our economy more than any other single commodity. During the next five years, new electric appliances will give home owners greater choices than ever for comfort, convenience, safety and environmental protection, according to the Edison Electric Institute and the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association, representing America's electric utilities.

Let's take a look at just a few of the innovative, electric appliances that are becoming available:

Horizontal Axis Washer
This washer cleans clothes by tumbling them, just like your dryer. But the wash tub lies on its side. This way, the machine can clean with up to 66 percent less water. Since less water is needed, less energy is needed to heat it. It also uses about one fourth of the detergent that a standard washer needs. And, it's faster spin speeds mean less drying time.

Microwave Clothes Dryer
The speed of microwave cooking comes to your laundry room. The microwave targets just the water molecules within the fabric, removing moisture faster, more gently, and at a cooler temperature-lessening the chance of shrinkage.

Induction Cooktop
The 21st century way to cook. It uses up to 65% less energy than other cooktops, and offers precise control. It enables the pan to become the heat source, not the cooktop. It's safer, too, with instant on and off features. Save money on energy, and enjoy a cooler kitchen.

Electric Fireplace
Do what the builder didn't install this fireplace virtually anywhere in your house. It provides cozy warmth without a chimney or vent. And, it's non-polluting.

Super Efficient Refrigerator
Whirlpool's new refrigerator uses up to half the energy of today's models. A computer chip tells it when to defrost. And, it's environmentally friendly. You'll save on your electric bill, while helping the environment.

Electric Barbecue Grill
These smokeless grills use no more energy than a hair dryer. They're insulated for energy efficiency and heat retention, sealing in flavor and moisture for terrific taste. And, they emit fewer air pollutants.

Cordless, Electric Riding Mower

Now you can have all the benefits of a cordless, electric lawn mower in a ride-on unit. Its batteries provide enough power to run the vehicle for about two hours on a full charge. A full charge uses about $1 worth of electricity, depending on your electricity rates.

Home Automation System

Program one system to fit your lifestyle, and save on energy costs. Controls heating and cooling temperature settings, lights, appliances and other areas.

Switchable Privacy Glass

Get instant privacy at the flick of a switch. No drapes, no shades. Diffuses harsh, direct sunlight with limitless design possibilities. And, it eliminates about 99 percent of the UV rays that fade carpeting and furniture.

Electric vehicles

You'll charge your electric car in your garage overnight. You'll drive at least 8 miles on one charge, and power up at a recharging station. You'll enjoy little routine maintenance — and the environment will enjoy zero emissions. For more information, call your electric utility's residential marketing department.

GARAGE GARAGE GARAGE

Now is the time to clear out those closets, attics, basements and garages and make some quick cash in the process.

How do you plan a garage sale?

It's easy!

Just follow these simple guidelines:

1. Gather together the items you have for sale. Sort them into appropriate categories and price them fairly.
2. Place a classified advertisement in The Observer & Eccentric by calling one of the numbers below.
3. Hang signs throughout your neighborhood alerting residents to the upcoming sale.
4. Decide what to do with all the money you'll have after your sale!

Or, if you love to bargain-hunt and would rather shop than sell, be sure to look for our special garage sale listings every Monday and Thursday in your hometown newspaper. Observer & Eccentric classifieds make it easy to earn money and save money. Discover for yourself, today!
