Lobbying effort upsets judge

Supporters of Caryn Casas, killed while jogging in Hines Park, have been chastised and threatened with possible criminal charges for their lobbying efforts against the murder defendant.

BY DARRELL CLEM
STAFF WRITER

A Detroit judge has lashed out at supporters of slain Westland jogger Caryn Casas for bombarding her courtroom with letters and faxes against Garden City murder defendant Paul Raymond Sadler.

Detroit Recorder's Court Judge

Helen C. Brown also warned that some Casas supporters, accused of threatening and intimidating the court, could face possible criminal charges.

In another dramatic development, Brown said she will ask the U.S. Attorney General's office to investigate the role of Casas's former employer, Ford Motor Co., where the judge said "threats were sent" over telephone and fax lines.

During an Oct. 20 court proceeding, Brown said she had received "a mountain" of faxes from Casas supporters, with the overall theme being "to threaten and intimidate the court into submitting to your will."

Brown also noted that some supporters "threatened to mount a campaign against this court in the next election if the court does not do your bidding."

Christine Byndas, Casas's sister, has said that her sister's supporters intended to lobby against any reduction in bond or charges in Sadler's case.

Casas, 24, was killed about 7 p.m. Sept. 13 while jogging in Hines Park in Westland. Sadler, 42, is charged with second-degree murder, driving drunk/causing a death, and leaving the scene.

Witnesses have testified that Sadler's car veered off of Hines Drive near Merriman and struck Casas.

LeBlanc target of criticism

BY LEONARD FOGER
EDITOR

The relatively quiet Westland city council campaign is heating up with a dispute between challenger Richard LeBlanc and a committee which has questioned several of his votes as a Wayne-Westland school board member.

LeBlanc, in the field of eight candidates seeking four council seats in the Nov. 7 election, feels the criticisms are "ludicrous."

Since three of the issues raised by the Wayne-Westland Citizens' Information Committee have racial overtones, LeBlanc cited the public support he has in the council race of several minority community leaders.

The committee, which questioned LeBlanc's votes at a press conference last week, denied any intention of injecting race in questioning his votes and a proposal to have the school district moved into the Schoolcraft College district.

The committee, which consists mostly of school district employees,

Ex-coach is given probation

BY DARRELL CLEM

Patrick Bennett, former John Glenn High School girls basketball coach, has been placed on probation for two years for a case in which he was accused of having sex with a 16-year-old player.

Bennett, 33, was sentenced Thursday by Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Dalton Robinson after pleading guilty Sept. 14 to a reduced charge of attempted fourth-degree criminal sexual conduct.

The charge carries a maximum sentence of one year in jail, but Bennett was placed on probation under terms of a plea agreement, Westland police Sgt. Michael Terry said.

Bennett's decision to plead to a lesser charge avoided his trial on two counts of third-degree criminal sexual conduct and two counts of obstruction of justice. Bennett could have faced a maximum sentence of 16 years in prison, had he been tried and convicted as originally charged.

He was charged in both Westland was formed earlier this year to fight a planned recall of several school board members.

Committee Chairwoman Elizabeth Potter said that the group, which is made up of a little more than a dozen members, is only raising questions on votes which it feels LeBlanc didn't explain his position.

Of the school board actions in the past year cited by the committee in a three-page statement, three have a racial connection.

But Potter, in a telephone interview, disagreed with that conclusion.

"We're not expressing opinions," Potter said, "only presenting factual information."

Among the issues the committee raised:

- During ongoing school board discussion of school redistricting of attendance boundaries, LeBlanc offered a plan what would have some of the community's low-income and minority students to Wayne Memorial High (instead of John Glenn High).
- He was the only board member to vote against the promotion of a minority woman to Franklin Middle School principal.
- At a recent Westland Chamber of Commerce candidates' forum, LeBlanc proposed that the school district be in the adjoining Schoolcraft College district and pull out of the Wayne County Community College, which the committee said is predominantly black.

The only issue not race-related in the committee statement was that LeBlanc voted in favor of cutting secondary school busing more than a year ago but later said that he didn't know his action would affect so many students.

"A responsible board member would have known that information prior to voting," the committee statement said.

In the same release, the committee devoted one sentence to say it reviewed the records and other information about the eight council candidates and felt that the most qualified were Council members Thomas Brown, David Cox and Charles Pickering and Justine Barns, a former council member and state legislator.

Responding to the committee's criticism of his votes, LeBlanc disagreed with the chairwoman's view that the committee isn't injecting a racial element into the campaign.

In a statement, LeBlanc said:

"I can't expect all people to agree with all the decisions I participate in as one of seven policymakers for the school district. However, I believe that informed people will be able to distinguish between the nonsense this group is promoting and the decisions I have supported for the betterment of the school district on an at-large basis."

LeBlanc cited the support he has of several minority persons in the council campaign, namely school board colleague Debra Fowlkes, William Anderson, former Nankin Township trustee and Westland city councilman, John Franklin, Westland Housing Commission chairman and Westland Democratic Club chairman, Clarence Cox and Bea Morgan.

Franklin told the Observer that he investigated the issues raised by the committee and found that its "statements are in variance with the facts."

LeBlanc concluded that the committee's "untrue statements are typical of the political falsehoods Westland residents have become accustomed to seeing in the final days before elections.

"It is blatantly obvious the malcontent leaders (of the committee) will go to any lengths to deceive voters in their attempt to discredit my candidacy. These ridiculous claims should be rejected for the vicious lies they are."

Abandoned houses razed

Seven abandoned houses have been torn down in Westland's far southeast corner, and the state has picked up the tab.

The city received a $67,000 grant from the Michigan Department of Commerce for the purpose of demolishing the abandoned houses, said Robert Fritz, Westland building director.

The city had already paid Capital Wrecking Co. to do the work, but the state has reimbursed the money. The council recently approved a budget amendment reflecting the grant.

The houses were torn down in the Middlebelt-Van Born Road area at the addresses of 28912 McDonald; 28999 McDonald; 29118 McDonald; 28011 Eaton; 28934 Powers; 29014 Powers; 29041 Powers; and 28999 Richard.

The land has been graded and seeded, Fritz said, and the city owns the land.

The property hasn't yet been auctioned or sold.

Westland Police Chief Emery Price said there had been some trespassing around the abandoned houses, some of which had been stripped of aluminum siding and other materials.

Price also said the houses "were certainly an eyesore."

The money for the demolition came from a child violence prevention state grant program.

Halloween colors 'brighten' local neighborhoods

Local neighborhoods are taking on a colorful black and orange tint, thanks to many families creating colorful Halloween displays on their front lawns.

At the same time, children are planning their outfits for Tuesday's Halloween parades to be held in elementary schools or preschool programs.

One of the more elaborate displays was created by Garden City's Jay and Cheryl Brook, whose front yard and driveway were converted into an intricate "haunted house" at 29004 Sheridan, east of Middlebelt, between Garden and Central.

Mrs. Brook said she has been creating outdoor Halloween displays for 22 years but has been "going big" in the past 10 years.

This year, the Brooks are getting help from their next-door neighbors Tera and Sean Mullett.

The Brook's front yard is filled with traditional ghouls, figures and headstones. On the second floor overhang are several Munster family members looking down on visitors.

Cheryl Brook said the haunted house, which includes a covered driveway, is open to visitors without charge from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily through next Sunday, Nov. 5.

She also gets help from neighborhood children.

"I do get donations which are used to buy more decorations," she said.

The woman said she got started with the Halloween tradition as a youngster when her parents held parties. As an adult, she continued the holiday fun.

"Hopefully, my children will continue the tradition. She and her husband are the parents of two daughters, 21 and 16 and a son, 10, as well as an adopted son, 3, and a daughter, 2.

Getting into the "blue" holiday mood is Tyler Kasprzak, 4-year-old grandson of Westland Deputy Police Chief Robbin Crosby.

When he goes trick-or-treating Tuesday, he will don his grandfather's 20-year-old police uniform which has been cut down to fit him.

The altered uniform was also worn by Tyler's brother, Robbin, who is now 7.

In related Halloween fun, John Glenn High School's theater students, under teacher Sheri Smith, will sponsor a "haunted hallways" project from 6:30-8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the school on Marquette west of Wayne Road.

Admission will help pay for the school's upcoming theater productions. Students will also paint children's faces with Halloween designs.

Halloween time: There were plenty of Halloween figures on the front lawn of Cheryl and Jay Brook, on Sheridan east of Middlebelt, for their annual display.

Family greetings: Several Munster family "members" are awaiting visitors to the Brook "haunted house" on Sheridan east of Middlebelt. The house will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. now through Sunday, Nov. 5.

On patrol? Westland Deputy Police Chief Robbin Crosby had his 20-year-old uniform altered to fit his grandson, Tyler, 4, for a Halloween costume this week.

SMART board offers Kaufman general manager job

BY BETH SUNDRIA JACHMAN
STAFF WRITER

Despite some concerns about his commitment to regional transit, the SMART board voted Thursday to offer the job of general manager to Wayne County Circuit Judge Richard Kaufman.

SMART (Suburban Mobility Authority for Regional Transportation) Board members voted 5-1 to offer the position which pays $96,000 to Kaufman, a Plymouth Township resident.

The motion to offer the job to Kaufman resulted in a round of discussion after Macomb board member William Sowerby first asked for a five minute recess before the vote on the motion presented by board member Cassandra Smith-Gray. When he returned to the board room he insisted the motion be changed so that board members could name who they wanted as general manager rather than voting yes or no to Kaufman.

Sowerby then named SMART employee Paul Majka as his choice, but was in the minority as the rest of the board members named Kaufman as their choice to lead SMART, which is making a financial turnaround and expanding service in communities that in the spring voted in favor of a tax hike to support the service.

Kaufman will have to resign his judgeship and any future outside employment by him will be subject to board approval, under the offer approved by the board. He's expected to start the job in January.

"Outside employment is an issue with me," said James DeSana, mayor of Wyandotte and a board member. He said a majority of the Wayne Transit Authority board, which he's a member of, had voted for Kaufman and he was obligated to vote for him.

"I hope Judge Kaufman is making a total commitment," he said, adding he hoped Kaufman was not coming to try it out, and then go back to his old line of employment.

Kaufman was elected to the bench in 1980. He graduated in 1976 from Wayne State University Law School.

He had been elected by his peers three times as chief judge of the circuit court. He was the youngest jurist ever to serve as chief circuit court judge. He was the first executive chief judge of both the circuit and Recorder's Court. He helped draft the Civil Justice Reform Act and his court was cited as an example of efficiency.

He's credited with consolidating the circuit court into one facility, the City-County Building.

Kaufman was among 10 finalists considered in June 1993 for three federal judgeships in the Eastern Michigan District of Michigan.

Sowerby questioned hiring a new general manager at the salary ceiling of $96,000.

In light of his position as a judge, Kaufman would expect the salary ceiling, interim general manager Michael Duggan said.

After the vote Sowerby made a statement in which he expressed concern about how will Kaufman will work out in the position. He said he's also not certain how Macomb County commissioners will react to the decision.

"I hope this does work. It's vital that this thing does work," Sowerby said, adding that he's not happy with the decision because he felt the general manager should have a transit background.

After the meeting, board chairman Matthew Wirgau, the Oakland County representative, said transit experience was not an issue for most of the board. Public transportation has not met the needs of communities across the country, he said.

"We want to look at new ways to provide service," he said. "To bring in someone who has failed in another part of the country didn't make sense, 'we're unique here,'" Wirgau said, adding he hopes SMART can continue the momentum it's had since voters approved a tax hike.

"Besides Duggan has been a great success, and he doesn't have a transit background," Wirgau said.

Duggan, who has served as interim general manager for four years in addition to his job as deputy chief executive officer for Wayne County, said he's relieved to give up his work with SMART.

Youngsters who play basketball have as much reason to protect their teeth as they do to defend against their opponents. According to a recent study by the Illinois Department of Public Health in Springfield, blows to the mouth, teeth, and jaws comprise 33% of the injuries sustained by the basketball players studied who played without mouthguards. By comparison, fewer than 1% of their football-playing counterparts suffered these types of injuries because they wore mouthguards and faceguards. On the basis of these numbers, young sports players are encouraged to wear mouthguards when participating in high-contact sports such as basketball, soccer, wrestling, or field hockey. Those who find commercial mouthguards to be uncomfortable should ask their dentists about fabricating custom-fitted mouthguards. Winning and losing at team sports should not involve tooth loss.

Action group says Bennett bill protects polluters

Capitol capsules:
As soon as Sen. Loren Bennett, R-Canton, introduced his "strong environmental bill — good for business," Clean Water Action denounced it as a "Polluter Protection Act."

Bennett, chair of the Senate Natural Resources Committee, introduced Senate Bill 728 to "encourage Michigan industry and businesses to conduct their own environmental audits and cleanups... by providing them with privilege over the information they collect." It also provides "carefully structured immunity" for companies voluntarily doing their own cleanups.

Arguing the state "never had and never will have the ability to police these practices everywhere at once," Bennett said government should seek cooperation of business.

Clean Water Action, a Lansing-based group, issued a same-day response. Patrick Diehl, its program coordinator, said Bennett's bill would allow businesses to create secret files protected from disclosure even if the state or private parties sue for the information.

"It is a clone of pollution secrecy legislation promoted by big business nationwide," said Diehl. "We support a compromise which would protect businesses who voluntarily audit their practices from enforcement if they fully close the information and correct the problem."

Pesky write-ins

When voting, have you ever written in a fictitious name as a protest against all the candidates? Or your own name as a way to get into the record books?

The state House of Representatives has passed a bill to prohibit the counting of write-in votes unless the candidate had previously filed a notarized declaration of intent. House Bill 4449 now goes to the Senate.

"After a long, exhausting day at the polls, the last thing workers want to do is tabulate votes for Mickey Mouse or some other fictional character," said the sponsor, Rep. Beverly Hammerstrom, R-Temperance. Would-be write-in candidates would have to file declarations of intent before 4 p.m. on the Friday preceding the election.

'Prince of potholes'

Gov. John Engler is taking a lot of heat for "redirecting" $192 million in federal transportation money from local to state projects.

"Not only is this highway robbery," said Jim Little, director of the County Road Association of Michigan, "but local officials won't be able to assess the damage to their road operations" until the Michigan Department of Transportation issues allocation figures. "This is a classic case of robbing Peter to pay Paul. In this instance, Peter was just about broke to begin with."

Three House Democratic leaders dubbed Engler "the prince of potholes." Reps. Curtis Hertel, Carolyn Kilpatrick and Greg Pitonik of Taylor objected that Engler had never consulted — or even notified — the Legislature and his own State Transportation Commission.

FOC bills move

Sen. Robert Geake, R-Northville, said 25 of 40 bills dealing with Friend of the Court operations are ready for full Senate action.

Geake, chair of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on Friend of the Court, said less controversial bills will be moved first. These include measures to facilitate interstate collection of child support from deadbeat parents, extend the statute of limitations for collection, and force parents to pay court costs when they refuse to comply with court orders.

Two bills make it a felony to falsely to accuse a parent of child abuse, a common problem in bitter custody disputes, Geake said. His panel has been working on the project for two years.

No party time

Some 250 student leaders and advisors from three dozen college campuses will descend on Lansing Nov. 10-11 for the third annual Peer Power College Student Leadership Conference. Topics: binge drinking and alcohol misuse on campuses.

Students from Eastern Michigan University, Madonna University, Oakland University, Schoolcraft College, Washtenaw Community College and the University of Michigan are among those who will attend.

Sponsor is the state Liquor Control Commission, chaired by former Sen. Phil Arthurs. School teams will turn ideas into action programs, he said. The conference at the Lansing Holiday Inn will conclude with a mock trial of a date-rape case by Cooley Law School students.

Workers sought to help seniors

If you are interested in helping senior citizens with routine snow removal, household chores or minor home repairs, a program in western Wayne County would like to hear from you.

The Chore Referral Program links seniors with workers who can rake leaves, shovel snow, wash windows, repair faucets, install weatherstripping, do minor roof repairs and other similar tasks.

The Senior Alliance, a non-profit agency serving seniors in western Wayne County, acts as a liaison between seniors and workers. Workers, who are asked to charge the seniors no more than $6 an hour, must provide three references, including two work references.

Workers who meet the requirements will be placed on the Senior Alliance referral list. Once a senior chooses and hires a worker, it is the responsibility of the senior to set up a work schedule and pay the worker.

If you or someone you know would like to join the Senior Alliance Chore Referral Program and help a senior citizen, call (313) 722-2830 for more details.

When you receive 25 awards, there are only two words you can sincerely say:

“Thank You.”

Certainly the judges in the Michigan Press Association's 1995 Better Newspaper Contest deserve our gratitude for such abundant recognition, but without the dedication and effort put forth by our Editorial staff, the judges would have had significantly less excellent work to consider.

Week after week, our writers and photographers are out in their communities covering the news. Our editors spend long hours in front of flickering computer screens checking facts, getting the truth, and writing about the issues that are important to you, our readers. And while our writing staff is looking for the best approach to the news, our photographers match their efforts with creative pictures of civic functions, local athletic contests, parades. . . think for a moment of what your hometown newspapers would be like without pictures. Nor does their work end with the snap of a shutter; hours of darkroom time are necessary to bring you those visual memories of your community.

And so it is with a great deal of pride that we say a heartfelt Thank You to the talented journalists who staff our newsrooms.

Children's center doubles as lab for SC students

Schoolcraft College continues to expand with the opening last week of a new children's center.

The center, located off the south parking lot at the Livonia campus on Haggerty between Six and Seven Mile roads, will house day-care and kindergarten programs that had previously been housed in houses along Haggerty Road, as well as in the Liberal Arts building at the Livonia campus and at the Radcliff Center in Garden City.

"The vision, diligence and determination of many at Schoolcraft" resulted in the center, according to Pat Watson, Schoolcraft board chairman. Not only does the center provide child care, but it also serves the purpose of providing practical experience for students of child development, she said.

At a large gathering Oct. 24 to open the center, Richard McDowell, Schoolcraft president, said the center's opening date was picked because it was the college's 34th birthday. The celebration included refreshments prepared by Schoolcraft College's Culinary Arts students and performances by the children from the center.

The 9,000-square-foot facility cost $576,000 for the building and equipment, according to Saundra Florek, dean of marketing and development at Schoolcraft. A lot of equipment was moved from the other buildings, she said.

Work began the first week of April on the center, which has capacity for 84 students, but enrollment will be limited to 70 because of the way the program is set up, Florek said. In fact there's already a waiting list.

Each room at the center has a different theme and kids are separated by age group, including six in the infant room (ages 6 weeks to a year), six in the transitional toddler room (ages 1-2 years), nine in the toddler room (ages 2-3), 34 in the preschool program and 15 in the kindergarten program. The age groupings are approximate as maturity level also is a factor, Florek said.

Special stop: Jacob Thompson, 3, pauses for a moment to show his dad, Larry, the aquarium in his classroom.

The cost is $145 a week or $32 a day for infants, $135 a week or $30 a day for toddlers, $105 a week or $23 a day for preschoolers and $117 a week for kindergartners

This is the first year for the kindergarten program and no part-time kindergartners are being accepted.

Other features of the center include: one-way viewing windows for training students without disrupting children's activities; sensor faucets in the diaper changing areas and in the children's bathrooms, which are miniaturized for children; see-through and "non-pinch" doors to protect children; playground access from each classroom; an indoor playground for bad weather; a tornado shelter and staffing ratios of 1 adult to 3 infants and toddlers and 1 adult to 7 preschoolers.

CHEF LARRY JANES

Fall brings requests for heartier recipes

Fall is upon us. Gone are the days of chilled soups, cold salads, grilled chicken and pickle recipes. They are being replaced with heartier recipe requests. Your wish is my command.

Brian Gariepy, a fifth grader at Gill Elementary School in Farmington Hills called because he needed to interview a chef for a writing assignment. After our interview, Brian asked for my favorite lasagna recipe.

Well Brian, with four boys at home younger than you, I think your mother will appreciate this recipe even more than you and I combined!

SPEEDY LASAGNA

- 2 medium onions, peeled
- 1/4 cup olive oil
- 1/4 teaspoon dried red pepper flakes
- 2 teaspoons dried Italian seasoning
- 1 (28 ounce) can crushed or diced tomatoes
- 1 pound egg noodles such as pappardelle or fettuccine
- 10 ounces ricotta cheese, drained
- 3 tablespoons fresh parsley, chopped

Slice onions into very thin slices. In a skillet large enough to hold the pasta, combine the onions, oil, red pepper, a pinch of salt and the dried Italian seasoning, stirring to coat with the oil.

Cook, uncovered, over very low heat, stirring from time to time, until the onions are tender and glazed, about 10 minutes. Add the canned tomatoes, simmer uncovered, until sauce begins to thicken.

Meanwhile, cook dried pasta in a pot of boiling water following package directions. Drain thoroughly. Add the drained pasta to the sauce. Add the ricotta, in small spoonfuls, toss again and cover. Allow to rest off the heat for 5 minutes. Serve garnished with parsley. Serves 4-6.

Chef's secret: I would brown some ground beef or turkey with some garlic and stir into the sauce for a meatier version, then it would easily serve 6!

Shirley Clark of Plymouth wanted a fall recipe that could carry itself right into Thanksgiving. The thought had never crossed my mind to combine apples with cranberries, but the result was absolutely delicious.

CRANBERRY APPLE PIE

- One pastry for a two crust pie
- 4 cups sliced and peeled tart apples (i.e. Granny Smith)
- 2 cups fresh or frozen cranberries
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons cornstarch
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
- 1 teaspoon fresh grated lemon zest
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Preheat oven to 425 degrees F. In a large bowl, combine apples and cranberries. In a small bowl, combine remaining ingredients except butter. Sprinkle the sugar mixture over the apple mixture and toss to coat. Spoon into a pastry lined pie pan. Dot with butter or margarine and top with remaining pastry. Seal top crust and cut slits in top. Bake at 425 degrees F. for 35-45 minutes or until pie is golden. Serves 8.

Pam Human of West Bloomfield called with a passionate plea for a recipe to help quell the homesickness of an exchange student staying with her family. The student loves chocolate chip peanut butter cookies, and after I faxed her a standard recipe, I found this one. It's so easy, even a kid could make them! I can't imagine anything better with a glass of cold milk.

EASY CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER COOKIES

- 1 package chocolate cake mix (preferably without the pudding)
- 3/4 cup crunchy peanut butter
- 2 eggs
- 2 tablespoons milk
- 1 cup peanut butter chips
- 1/2 cup chopped nuts, optional

Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Grease baking sheets or line them with parchment paper. Combine cake mix, peanut butter, eggs and milk in a large bowl. Mix at low speed with a mixer until blended. Do not overmix. Stir in peanut butter chips and nuts. Drop by spoonfuls onto prepared baking sheet. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 7-9 minutes. Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

BREAD machines

BY ANNIE LEHMANN
SPECIAL WRITER

With the chill of autumn comes a yearning for hearty soups and stews and what better accompaniment than a freshly baked loaf of bread.

Bread machines have found a place in the American kitchen, and nowadays it is not uncommon for a family to waken to the smell of freshly baking bread. Even those who hate to cook, can in a matter of a few minutes, put together a dough that will produce a wholesome, tasty and fragrant loaf.

Barbara Norman knows this well having recently written, "What Can I Do With My Bread Machine?" This short informational volume covers a lot of territory with advice on how to buy and best maintain a bread machine; how to create original breads; suggestions about using perishable ingredients such as eggs and milk; alternate uses for breadmakers as well as recipe basics.

This 49-year-old West Bloomfield resident has worked as a lawyer, teacher and guidance counselor. She is an avid antique collector as well as art glass expert and lecturer. In her spare time she experiments with kitchen gadgets and foods and enjoys creating recipes that are delicious as well as easy to prepare.

Her first book, "What Can I Do With My Juicer?" was written after combing stores to find a book on juicing that wasn't written purely from a nutritional perspective. "There was so much I thought you could do with a juicer and ways of using the pulp in interesting ways. For me it was more than just a way to get vitamins. It was a way of making new and interesting foods, and making old favorites taste even better," she said. After the success of her first book Dell, her publisher, asked if she was interested in producing a volume on bread machines. She accepted the project, went out and bought four breadmakers, rolled up her sleeves and got to work.

"I'm an intense worker," she said. "For three months my machines were going around the clock." Her co-workers at Mott High School in Waterford where she works as a guidance counselor, sampled her creations and gave her honest and valuable feedback.

"They were my recipe testers," she said. Norman did several practice runs with each of her recipes and adapted many of them to suit diets. Unlike many cookbook authors who prefer to create recipes from scratch, Norman encourages her readers to use prepackaged mixes that, with a little ingenuity, can be creative as well as tasty. A couple of additions "personalizes" a prepackaged mix according to Norman, "The goal," Norman says, "is to make good bread without it having to be an ordeal."

Her personal favorites are Lemon Poppy Seed Bread, Spinach Feta Cheese Bread as well as focaccia and bagels.

Would she ever consider marketing the breads she has developed and written about? "Never," she says. "I enjoyed writing the book and love bringing breads to family and friends, but it ends there."

The ever ambitious Norman is considering writing a play or TV series. At the same time she is thinking about writing another appliance based cookbook. "It will be my trilogy," she said.

Look for Norman's book at Borders and other local bookstores.

Have a happy, healthy Halloween

BY KELLI BRADY
SPECIAL WRITER

Trick or treating at Halloween can be downright scary. But with some advance planning, the Halloween season can be a little less spooky for parents, according to Dr. Jose Cara, a pediatric endocrinologist at Henry Ford Health System.

Getting control of Halloween treats is a good place to start. If you allow your children to go trick or treating, look over the candy for safety and dietary concerns before allowing them to eat it.

"High-sugar candies like candy bars and candy corn can be substituted by parents with low-sugar treats like raisins, fruit roll-ups, dried fruits, pretzels and low-fat granola bars," said Dr. Cara. Halloween treats can be worked into the child's meal plan or saved and given out for special occasions.

Michigan children need to develop better eating habits. Statistics show that Michigan has more overweight children with higher cholesterol levels than the national average. Both problems are the result of diets too high in fat and calories and too little exercise.

Sweets are high in fat and/or sugar and therefore calories. For example, one ounce of plain milk chocolate contains 150 calories, 2 teaspoons of fat and 3 teaspoons of sugar. Sugar-type candies such as gum drops do not contain fat. However, one ounce does contain nearly 5 teaspoons of sugar.

Ghostly dessert: Halloween Ghost Cake, made with Light Devil's Food Cake Mix, and Lite Whipped topping, is a Heart Smart treat.

Getting control of Halloween treats is a good place to start," said Faye Fitzgerald, a dietitian with the Henry Ford Heart and Vascular Institute.

For parents of a child with diabetes, trick or treating is very scary. In general, it is better for diabetic children to have treats included as part of one of the main meals rather than as free-standing snack, said Dr. Cara.

Both Cara and Fitzgerald suggest that parents start a "spooktacular" tradition for Halloween that reinforces good eating habits by handing out nutritious snacks such as packaged nuts, raisins, pretzels, dried fruit, popcorn or sugarless gum. You can even hand out non-food items such as fun colored pencils, stickers or erasers. Getting neighborhood friends to join in this new tradition also may help children cut down on excess sweets.

"It's a good idea for parents to follow similar Halloween guidelines for non-diabetic siblings and other family members," said Dr. Cara. "This can reduce potential conflicts between siblings or relatives."

Fun treats that meet diabetic guidelines include cupcakes made with low-fat cake mix and sugar-free frosting, low-fat, sugar-free frozen yogurt, angel food cake and popcorn balls. Individual pizzas or a healthy submarine sandwich make a great meal that kids of all ages will enjoy. Fresh cut up veggies, and fruit juice round out the meal and will please parents and kids.

Safety tips

- Always accompany small children. Stop only at well-lit houses in your own neighborhood or go only to homes of people you know.
- Advise older children to travel in groups, never alone. Set a time for returning home and tell them never to accept an invitation to enter a home or apartment.
- Always buy flame-resistant costumes and make sure they're short enough so the kids don't trip on them.
- Apply reflector tape to costumes and treat bags.
- Affix your name, address and phone number to the inside of small children's costumes in case they get lost or separated.
- Avoid buying masks as they can impede a child's vision and breathing. Use makeup instead.
- Falls are the number one cause of Give kids flashlights so they can see and be seen.
- Make sure kids stay on the sidewalk and don't cut across yards. Stress the importance of looking both ways before they dart across the street.
- Warn kids to only accept wrapped or packaged treats and not to eat any treats until they get home and an adult inspects them.

How many of us professional dieters and lovers of leaner cuisine have had it with cheap non-stick cookware that lasted about as long as the omelet it was cooked in? Short of dropping a wad on a set of professional non-stick cookware that has to be pampered and specially cleaned, nothing good at an affordable price was out there. Until now.

You won't believe your eyes (or your checkbook) when cooking with the latest from Berndes Cookware dubbed "GRANIT." This cookware has an extra heavy gauge aluminum base for optimal heat retention and distribution. Couple that with three layers of non-stick surface and stay cool handles and you have a winner. Want more? It comes with optional glass dome lids and sells for under $30. Look for it at The Kitchen Witch in Northville, all Kitchen Glamor stores and Williams-Sonoma.

Dorie Davenport of Birmingham called to compliment me on the catfish story that ran a few weeks back. Dorie claims she never would have tried catfish thinking, like me, that it was a bottom feeder and real "fishy tasting." Now she's a catfish convert, and would like to prepare blackened catfish. Well Dorie, where there's smoke, there's flavor. This dish, compliments of the Catfish Institute, gives plenty of both.

BLACKENED CATFISH

2 tablespoons sweet Hungarian paprika
2½ teaspoons salt
2 teaspoons lemon pepper seasoning
1½ teaspoons garlic powder
1½ teaspoon cayenne pepper
1½ teaspoons dried basil, crushed
1 teaspoon onion powder
1 teaspoon dried thyme
Farm raised catfish fillets
1 cup unsalted butter or margarine, melted
Lemon wedges

Heat a large cast iron skillet or heavy aluminum skillet over very high heat for 10 minutes. In a small bowl, combine spices and seasonings. Mix well. Dip catfish fillets into melted butter and roll in seasoning mixture. Place on waxed paper. Place three fillets at a time in the hot skillet. Cook, uncovered for 2 minutes. Drizzle each fillet with 1 teaspoon melted butter. Flip and continue cooking for 2 minutes.

Remove from pan and continue with remaining fish. Serve with lemon wedges. Serves 6.

BASIC WHEAT COMBO BREAD

One Pound Loaf
1¼ cups wheat flour
1 cup bread flour
1 tablespoon dry milk
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
¾ cup water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1½ teaspoons dry yeast

For One and One-Half Pound Loaf
1¾ cups wheat flour
1½ cups bread flour
1½ tablespoons dry milk
1½ teaspoons salt
1½ tablespoons sugar
1½ cups water
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
2 teaspoons dry yeast

If you are using this recipe to make a prepackaged mix of your own, pack the dry ingredients listed — wheat flour, bread flour, dry milk, salt, and sugar, and do not add the remaining ingredients until ready to bake.

Place all the ingredients in the bread pan in the order recommended by your manufacturer. Program the machine for the wheat bread cycle and bake. When the bread has finished baking, remove the pan from the machine with pot holders or oven mitts. Turn the bread pan upside down and shake the loaf out of the pan. Place bread on a wire rack to cool.

Spinach combined with feta cheese not only makes great appetizers and spinach pies, but also spectacular bread. Spinach Feta Bread can be eaten plain.

SPINACH FETA BREAD

One Pound Loaf
½ cup crumbled feta cheese
2 tablespoons olive oil
¾ teaspoon salt
2¼ cups bread flour
½ cup well drained defrosted spinach (fresh may be used)
2 teaspoons sugar
½ cup water

For One and One-Half Pound Loaf
½ cup crumbled feta cheese
3 tablespoons olive oil
1 teaspoon salt
3½ cups bread flour
¾ cup well drained defrosted spinach (fresh may be used)
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup water
1 egg
¾ teaspoon ground nutmeg
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons dry yeast

Add all the ingredients to the bread pan in the order recommended by the manufacturer. Program the machine for the white bread cycle. When the bread has finished baking, remove the pan from the machine with pot holders or oven mitts. Turn the bread pan upside down and shake the loaf out of the pan. Place bread on a wire rack to cool.

Make your Halloween party ghoulishly delightful

AP — Make your Halloween party ghoulishly delightful and entertaining. Serve "snake" sandwiches, scary-face pizzas, "spider" pretzels and frozen "witches."

The sandwiches can slither across the table for an exciting centerpiece. The pizza faces can be made in advance, or served plain, with vegetable add-ons. The frozen witches need to be frozen at least two hours before the party. The recipes are from "Family Fun" magazine.

Snake Sandwich

Sliced salami or other luncheon meat
Provola or American cheese slices
8 hot-dog buns
Mayonnaise
Carrot strips
Red pepper
Broccoli florets
Radish
Make 5 salami and cheese sandwiches on 5 hot-dog buns with the mayonnaise, reserving 1 bun for later use.

Slice 1/4-inch off either end of each sandwich, then cut the sandwiches into thirds. Arrange the miniature sandwiches in a snake curve on a platter or cutting board.

For the snake's head, halve the remaining hot-dog bun and open it to make the snake's mouth. Wedge two carrot strips "fangs" into the mouth to hold it open. Cut a piece of red pepper into a tongue shape and set it between the fangs. Add broccoli florets for the eyes, radish slits for eyebrows and more red pepper for nostrils. Use the remaining half bun at the tip for a tail. Serve with carrot and celery sticks and chips. Makes 8 servings.

Scary-Face Pizza

1 pita pocket round
1 tablespoon olive oil
1/2 cup shredded mozzarella
1 teaspoon grated Parmesan cheese Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. Position the pita, bowl-side facing up, and prick it with a fork. Spread the olive oil evenly across the top and sprinkle with both cheeses. Choose from the following ingredients to make the pizza yourself or present your guests with bowls of the toppings as options so they can make their own:

Zucchini, cut in small rounds
Onion, green or white, chopped or cut crosswise
Mushrooms, sliced
Green and black olives
Red and green peppers, sliced in curves
Fresh or sun-dried tomatoes, chopped or sliced
Pepperoni slices
Bake the pita in a 375-degree F oven for 10 minutes or until the cheese has melted and the bread begins to get crispy. Makes 1 serving.
Note: For a party, multiply this single-serving recipe by the number of guests you are expecting.

Spider Pretzels

2 teaspoons smooth peanut butter
2 round crackers

8 small pretzel sticks
2 raisins

With the peanut butter and the crackers, make a cracker sandwich. Insert eight pretzel "legs" into the filling. With a dab of peanut butter, set two raisin eyes on top of the cracker. Makes 1 serving.

Frozen Witches

Tube of chocolate decorating gel
8 chocolate sugar cones
8 thin, round chocolate wafers
1 pint pistachio ice cream
Black shoestring licorice
Chocolate chips
Candy corn

For each dessert, squeeze a ring of decorating gel around the edge of the cone and attach the cone to a chocolate wafer "rim," then set it aside.

Using an ice-cream scoop, drop individual "heads" of ice cream onto a cookie sheet lined with waxed paper.

Cut pieces of licorice to make hair and a mouth and arrange them in place on the ice-cream face. Add chocolate chip eyes and a candy-corn nose. Top each scoop with a cone hat (flatten the ice cream slightly so the hat doesn't fall off). Freeze for at least two hours or until the hats are set in place. Makes 8 servings.

Note: To avoid meltdown, make these desserts in batches of four.

There's no trick to these easy treats

AP — "Spider web" brownies, chocolate marshmallow "spiders" and decorated popcorn balls are sweet treats for a Halloween party. Each recipe is quick and easy to make. The popcorn balls make festive party favors.

Spider Web Brownies

4 squares unsweetened baking chocolate
1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine or butter
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1 cup coarsely chopped nuts (optional)
7-ounce jar marshmallow creme
1 square semisweet baking chocolate, melted

Heat oven to 350 degrees F (325 degrees F for glass dish). Line a 13-by-9-inch baking pan with foil extending over edges to form handles. Grease foil.

Melt chocolate and margarine in large microwave-safe bowl on high (100 percent power) for 2 minutes or until margarine is melted. Stir until chocolate is completely melted.

Stir sugar into chocolate until well blended. Mix in eggs and vanilla. Stir in flour and nuts until well blended. Spread in prepared pan.

Bake in a 350-degree F oven for 30 to 35 minutes or until toothpick inserted in center comes out with fudgy crumbs. Do not overbake. Immediately drop marshmallow creme by spoonfuls over hot brownies. Spread evenly over top of brownies. Cool in pan. Lift out of pan onto cutting board. Remove foil. Place on serving tray. Drizzle melted chocolate over marshmallow creme to create spider web design. Cut into squares. Makes 24 brownies.

Tip: To melt the semisweet baking chocolate: Place 1 square semisweet chocolate in zipper-style plastic sandwich-size bag. Close bag tightly. In a microwave oven, cook on high (100 percent power) about 1 minute or until chocolate is melted. Fold down top of bag tightly and snip a tiny piece off one corner, about 1/4 inch. Holding top of bag tightly, drizzle chocolate through opening over marshmallow creme.

Chocolate Marshmallow Spiders

8 squares semisweet baking chocolate
2 cups miniature marshmallows
Black or red string licorice
Assorted candies

In microwave oven, melt chocolate in large microwave-safe bowl on high (100 percent power) for 2 minutes, stirring halfway through heating time. Stir until completely melted.

Add marshmallows; mix lightly until completely coated. Drop by spoonfuls onto wax paper-lined tray. Decorate with pieces of string licorice to create spiders. Use additional miniature marshmallows and candies to make eyes. Refrigerate until chocolate is firm. Makes 2 dozen cookies.

Popcorn Jack-o-Lanterns

1/4 cup (1/2 stick) margarine or butter
10 1/2-ounce bag miniature marshmallows
One 4-serving size package orange flavor gelatin
3 quarts (12 cups) popped popcorn
Green gumdrop spearmint leaves, cut in half
1 square semisweet baking chocolate, melted

In microwave oven, cook margarine and marshmallows in a large microwave-safe bowl on high (100 percent power) 1 1/2 to 2 minutes, or until marshmallows are puffed. Stir in gelatin until well mixed.

Pour marshmallow mixture over popcorn in large bowl. Mix lightly until well coated. Shape into 12 balls with lightly greased or wet hands. Top with spearmint leaf halves to create stems. Decorate with melted chocolate to make jack-o'-lantern faces, if desired. Makes 12 popcorn balls.

Urbats lifts Stevenson, 5-0

BY DAN O'MEARA
STAFF WRITER

It was a David-and-Goliath kind of contest Friday, but there was no upset this time.

Livonia Stevenson, a giant in boys high school soccer, KOed underdog North Farmington to win a Class A district championship at Farmington Harrison, 5-0.

The Spartans (17-0-2) won their fourth such title in five seasons under coach Walt Barrett, who is 7-of-9 including a stint at Southfield High.

Stevenson will face crosstown rival Livonia Franklin in the Plymouth Canton regional tournament at 5 p.m. Wednesday.

Barrett's ballclub needed two goals in the final 10 minutes to rally and beat the Patriots in mid-September, 3-2.

SOCCER

"We're looking forward to playing them again," Barrett said. "Obviously, they're on a roll, and they're going to be tough. You have to remember, last year we didn't get out of the district."

Senior Jeff Urbats scored the first two goals Friday and finished with a hat trick for the Spartans, who led 3-0 at halftime.

Steve Williford and Matt Quinter assisted on the first two goals, and Pete Lechowicz notched the team's third in the 17th minute.

Mike Minicilli delivered a hard cross from the right corner, and Lechowicz was there to punch it home at the end of a rush.

"We came out to win the game

In the first half and make it a little easier," Barrett said. "You want to get the lead — and it doesn't matter who the opponent is. It's a playoff game; you want to get on the board."

"We played a quick, crisp, passing game. We worked some good combinations and kept the ball on the ground against a strong wind (early in the game)."

"Even though we played a better team today, I thought we played far better than we did two nights ago."

The Spartans defeated host Harrison 4-0 in the first round Wednesday.

Stevenson controlled the ball in the North end for most of the game.

When the Raiders (7-9-1) did get out, they were unable to maintain the offensive. North's best scoring chance was a header that went wide of the net late in the second half.

"I thought my kids played well but had trouble with the water (covering parts of the field) in the first half," North coach Ron Meteyer said.

"(Stevenson) only had two more in the second half when they had the wind with them. The fact we pulled together and played a pretty good second half spoke well for our character."

Urbats scored his third goal in the 54th minute off a corner kick by Scott Sersen. The ball caromed over the top of a crowd, and Urbats tapped it in on the backside.

Madonna loses game; NAA Sectional next

Hopefully, Madonna University's soccer team will be able to recover by Tuesday.

That's when the Fighting Crusaders will host their NAA Sectional playoff semifinal. Madonna, the second seed, will play third-seed Sue Bennett College at 7 p.m. at Livonia Clarenceville. Admission is $3.

The sectional's first seed, Transylvania College (Pa.), will host fourth-seeded Brescia College (Ky.). The highest remaining seed from the semifinals will host the sectional final Saturday.

Madonna will need the time to recover. Thursday the Crusaders hosted Aquinas College at Ladywood HS — and lost, 4-2.

"We were missing three starters," said Madonna coach Pete Alexander. "I only had two subs."

"Still, we had enough to beat them. We had some mental breakdowns, and after they got ahead by four goals I think we kind of gave up."

The Crusaders trailed 1-0 at the half, then allowed three consecutive goals by the Saints. Christian Emert and Jason Stempien scored for Madonna to narrow the gap somewhat — but not enough.

The Crusaders' final regular-season record is 8-9.

Bellovich knows his softball, bowling

AL HARRISON

Life begins at 40. Or is it 50? Let's try 60 and see what Mike Bellovich has done lately. Mike bowls in the Wednesday Senior Men's Classic League at Mayflower Lanes in Redford. He missed the first six weeks of bowling because his softball team, "Cornwall Plumbing" in the over-60 division traveled to Palm Springs, Calif., to compete in the N.A.S.C.S. National World Series.

Bellovich, who is a third baseman, helped his team to a third-place finish for the second year in a row, finishing behind two California teams in both instances. This senior softball World Series took place in the first week of October and Mike is back out on the bowling lanes. In his second week back he rolled a 279 game, his highest ever as he struck out the first nine strikes, left a spare/strike in the 10th frame, a very solid game from our 60-plus years young bowler-ballplayer.

Next year the softball team won't have to travel very far, as the N.A.S.C.S. World Series will take place in Canton. Aleta Sill has earned her share of accolades throughout her great career, now she has added another gem to her list as she has just been elected to the WIBC (Women's International Bowling Congress) Hall of Fame.

The 33-year-old Sill owns four WIBC titles in addition to capturing the Queens in 1983 and 1985. In 1984, she was the Queens runner-up and took all events in 1982 and 1985, singles in 1983 and team event in 1995. Winner of 23 pro titles, Sill was named Bowling Writers Association of America Bowler of the Year in 1985 and 1985 and LPBT Player of the Year in 1984. The former Westland resident was a five-time Woman Bowler All-American.

She set a record with her $126,355 in 1994 earnings. That helped her to the career earnings lead with nearly $700,000. Sill was named United Foundation Sportswoman of the Year in 1982 and 10 years later earned induction into the Michigan Women's Bowling Hall of Fame. She is currently continuing her career on the LPBT and will be one of the favorites to win when the lady pros compete next week at Super Bowl in Canton. Aleta Sill will be awarded her honors at the ceremonies during the WIBC annual meeting April 22 in Buffalo, N.Y.

MOVIES

Murphy's 'Vampire' is toothless

TICKETS PLEASE

JOHN MONAGHAN

On a dark and foggy night, a freighter rolls over fishing boats and crashes into the docks at a New York City shipyard.

What's a nice opening like you doing in a movie like this? You'll want to ask after sitting through the rest of "Vampire in Brooklyn," a toothless Eddie Murphy horror comedy that makes "Blacula" look like "Schindler's List."

As about the 70th actor to don the red-lined cape and fangs, Murphy brings little fresh blood to Bram Stoker's creation. His Maximilian is an African-born bloodsucker in search of the only woman in America who has vampire blood flowing through her veins.

She is Rita (Angela Bassett), a police woman whose only hint at a dark side comes through her macabre paintings. Sharp-dressing Max's job is to woo her because, as we all know, a vampire can't do his dirty work unless he is invited.

Bassett, so robust in the current "Strange Days," looks surprisingly stinky in her part. Nothing looks good, thanks to cinematography that's overly murky and dark, even by vampire movie standards.

Chapman is a trademark of director Wes Craven, creator of the popular "Nightmare on Elm Street" movies, though usually he delivers a clever twist or two. You'd think a veteran like Craven would give us something new, especially in the wake of "Interview with the Vampire."

This is supposed to be Eddie Murphy's comeback, but only one sequence recalls his talent for mimicking, done so well in movies like "Trading Places" or "Coming to America." His impersonation of a Bible-thumping preacher has some funny moments, but it's directed clumsily and goes on far too long.

Murphy in fact spends much of his time as a straight man to Ka-deem Hardison as the slave ghoul Julius. As the movie drags on, he starts to decompose, losing an ear here, an arm there, replacing what he can with parts from department store mannequins.

As a horror comedy, "Vampire in Brooklyn" is equally inept in both categories. The jokes come across gross instead of funny and the delivery, especially Murphy's, is uninspired. Even his mummy-like coffin looks tacky and garish.

The only spine-chilling part came at the end, when sporadic audience applause at a preview screening proved my innermost fear: the makers of "Vampire in Brooklyn" might actually be rewarded for their efforts. Now that's scary.
